This Angel had one of the most beautiful faces I had ever seen. I remembered a time when I was almost off the path. He came to get me and draw my focus away from the evil army coming at the dome.

He was muscular and like a warrior. His hair was as gold, spun like silk and long. His kind eyes were of crystal blue. When he saw that I was studying him, he drew my attention away from himself.

I should note here that all of the Angels of the Lord of Heaven do not like vain attention. Indeed, they are all very modest. This is a pattern. In contrast, I would bet that the enemy's Angels love themselves and are quite vain.

Angel: "What do you think of this?"

Me: "It is amazing. I am blessed so much by this; truly. I have a question for you. You are a special Angel of some sort; perhaps an arch-Angel? You must know all of these children." I begin to burst out crying even as I write.

"You must have been right there when all of that happened to them; what the Lord had showed me. You must have tried to help them before they went Home. You must have been working with their Angels."

Angel: "Erin, this is not important. I am just honored to be entrusted with such an assignment knowing that God is good. He will allow me to stand as a witness one day also.

"What has happened to these children is horrible, but they are blessed here where they reside now. Pray for those who do not reside here and those who experience all types of evil."

Me: "I know, but it is hard to imagine that there will finally be a Judgment Day. I just cannot wait until these children are avenged."

Angel: "Think and pray now for those close to these children; those who have not gone Home yet. Many who have lost their children suffer greatly. They are struggling to understand God. They do not know where their children reside or how wonderful it is here. There is still time for them, but not much."

In the distance, I saw a jeweled hour glass on a type of table. It was massive; about twelve feet high. Each of the ends was left high and represented man. The sands represented us. There seemed to be more sand in the bottom than the top by around 90%.

Me: "How long is this measure?"

I saw digital numbers floating in the air. The numbers were counting backwards from the billions. It looked like an American deficit debt counter I had once seen, but of course it was not.

I did not understand the numbers as I did not recognize them. The numbers were moving faster than I could read them.

Me: "Please, is this very soon? Is this days, weeks or months? When is this?"

Angel: "Just know that the Lord has told you that a few things must occur first. Hold onto this."

I looked over towards Jesus. He was talking and laughing with the children. He looked up and nodded at me to continue to listen.

Angel: "Then, when these occur, time will accelerate. Evil will become more pervasive, but God will shorten the time of trouble."

Me: "The Lord said that I would be here with my friends when the great time of trouble happens. Is this correct?"

Angel: "Yes, but always look to the Lord Jesus, Erin, always. You will experience some trouble prior to His coming, but He will command His Angels concerning you; you and your children. Do not worry. Now it is time to go to Scripture and to know your place here.

"Start with Psalm 45 to know who you are. Psalm 46 is wisdom. Remember who Jacob is, Erin. Now this is a new message for you and one that will now be activated; this is in Psalm 72.

"In Psalm 73, there is a reflection of what you felt today. The Lord wants you to remain pure in heart, even when faced with the likes of evil men.

“Remember to read Psalm 31. This is good to pray and to help others with. Erin, now look back at this season one year ago. Look at this date for a message now to be illuminated for you. This is a gift for you from our Lord.

“Now, when confounded by the enemy, remember your place. There are times now which will come to life. When you are in distress, pray as in Isaiah 33 and Psalm 90. Then listen to God’s answer in Psalm 91.

“Now there are lessons in Job, Esther and Nehemiah. Remember Jeremiah also. The Lord is grieved by the disaster He has brought upon you. Do not be afraid for the Lord God is with you and will save you.

“The Lord has shown you, Erin, what is good. In 1 Peter 5:5, God opposes the proud, but gives grace to the humble. Humble yourselves, therefore, under God’s mighty hand that He may lift you up in due time.

“Cast all of your anxiety onto Him because He cares for you. Continue to read even into 2 Peter. Now is the time.”

Me: “Angel, you are scaring me. Jesus is coming soon? Is this what is happening? It seems that trouble is coming.”

Angel: “Erin, you are not to be concerned with trouble. The Lord will keep you. He will hold your hand as He always has. Now, you are to ready your household and keep the doors shut.”

Me: “So, no technology?”

Angel: “Keep the enemy from gaining access and guard your household for this is wisdom. The Lord Jesus spoke to you about other means to enter. You know that spiders come in during the cold. You can stop them.

“The Holy Spirit will show you and the Angels will protect you. Be in prayer and take heart. Do not entertain evil or gaze upon it. Remove it so that young eyes cannot fix on it, understand?”

Me: “Yes, I believe I do. I will start today. This is wise counsel.”

The Angel walked me over to a gate. It was beautiful. In the distance I saw Jesus laughing and I was smiling. He waved at me and I waved back. Some of the children said goodbye to me and called me by name. The music continued to play. I was overwhelmed.

Me: “Angel, is He coming now? He looks relaxed; not urgent.”

Angel: "He is the Son of God, Erin. He is in control and not worried. He becomes heavyhearted at times, but this place brings Him joy. He brought you here to show you where He enjoys spending time after He sees such horror. It makes His heart glad.

"There is still much you do not understand. Please continue on your course. He will do everything He has promised. He will remove your obstacles and remove you. Please don't worry." He put his hand on my shoulder.

"Remember everything you have seen and been told. You are loved by the King."

Dream over...

I was struck by this. I cried so hard during this that I could barely see. I saw only a small fraction of the evil everywhere. Please continue to pray.

Love and blessings, Erin

Dream 100 – Christmas with Jesus

(Formerly known as Heaven 26)

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You. With tears this morning, I thank You. You are so incredible and so amazing. I can barely contain my deep love and longing to be in Your presence. Who am I that the great I AM would spend time with me? Lord, let not man influence me, but keep me focused completely on You.

You woke me out of my sleep a few days ago and said, 'Erin, read Psalm 121. This is for you.' So I went right to this. It was an amazing blessing right in front of me. I must have read it at least a dozen or more times, but it was illuminated by the Holy Spirit for this time.

The Scriptures say, 'I lift up my eyes to the hills, where does my help come from? My help comes from the Lord, the maker of Heaven and Earth.' I love this part as I realized how fantastic Heaven is. Heaven is first before Earth.

Heaven is greater than Earth. Heaven is where God's Home is. Heaven is our Home. We do not belong here on Earth. We were created to worship Him and for no other purpose as we are His and He is our Father.

Those who look to Him for all things will reside with Jesus in eternity. It is this simple, yet extremely complex. God is in the simple and our way to Him is made complex by the enemy. So God, in His infinite wisdom, takes the hearts of perseverance unto Him.

Even if we are weak, our hearts of love for Jesus grants us the ability to stay in the race of life and finish strong, even when it looks or feels as if we have finished poorly. Who is God to see our very lives, our walk, as a landscape of opportunity to show His goodness through us?

Who are we that He would even care? I know I am no one special. I am merely a willing landscape and an open battle field. The landscape of my life had been obliterated with pain like a nuclear bomb and it has laid everything to waste.

Even the debris was minimal and a once contrived 'self-landscape', built on my own efforts and my own achievements, was removed. The landscape of my life was made a barren desert plain.

I would cry out to God here and all I heard was my own voice echoing from the remnant of my failures. I had nothing and no thing to offer anyone. I thought I had done the best I could, but I did not understand.

After running and looking everywhere for Him, I finally stopped and wept. I yelled at the Lord and said, 'I am done searching. I am done wrestling. If You are who You say You are, speak to me please.'

Well, I waited a very long time and I still had hope. Then, when it was apparent that even the very hills I looked to had no sign of God, I let go of the rest of me. I picked up my life and said, 'I am of no use. I failed Him. I am not worthy of God.' Then I heard the voice of the Lord speak to me.

Jesus: "Erin, here I am. I am here!"

Me: "Is that You, Lord?"

Jesus: "Yes, I am here.

I am crying as I remembered back to journal entries. Then I heard the sweetest sound; Jesus calling me up for a visit in Heaven.

Jesus: "Erin, come up."

I am about 25 years old. I see Him walking towards me with His hands open and ready to give me a hug. I run into His arms. Behind Him, there was a glow I had never seen before.

When I looked, I saw the River of Life, but it was shining like liquid silver. It was shining so bright that the sparkle was hard to look at. When I hugged Him today, I felt something like waves of warm electrical currents.

Me: "Lord, You are different today. You are glowing more brightly than ever."

He was so funny. He stopped and pushed me away from Himself. With His hands bridging our stance by about thirty inches, He smiled and looked down at His robe. Then He looked side to side at each of His shoulders. He shook His head as if He wasn't sure what I was talking about. I smiled and laughed and so did He.

Jesus: "Is this day a different day?"

Me: "Hmm, I am not sure."

I was laughing. When He teased me, it was always endearing. He never made me feel dumb or low. He always treated me in a way which made me feel as a valued and close friend to Him.

Me: "Lord..." I became choked up. Even as I write, tears began to stream. "...I am so honored by Your presence. You, dear Jesus, are always here for me. I am so grateful. This day seems different, Lord. Forgive me as I am not sure why."

Jesus: "Let's hope so as I would never want you to think of Me and Heaven as mundane."

He was smiling and laughing. I noticed something different about Him. He had an unusual glow today.

Me: "Lord, You are brighter to me today. Even the river is brighter. I feel as if I should have brought my sun glasses. Where is the angel with the salve for my eyes?"

Jesus: He was laughing. "Well, if you would like, I can bring the angels in to prepare you for God's glory. Would you like this?"

Me: "Lord, oh yes, I would love to see God today by the Sea. Can we?"

Jesus: "Oh, so My presence is not glory enough?"

He was laughing as I knew He was kidding. I went to hug Him tightly.

Me: "Lord, I love You so much. I can never ever, ever thank You enough for what You have done for all of us."

As I spoke, my head rested on His chest as He was too tall for my head to rest on His shoulder. Tears streamed from my eyes on to His robe. The tears made a stain, but His robe soaked them in and it became dry immediately. It was a miracle fabric.

Me: "Lord, what You have done for me, I cannot even believe. You have done so much. Even if You did nothing more but took me Home, then I would have lived the life of a great earthly King; a true princess."

Jesus: "I feel your gratitude today. It is much greater today. Why?"

Me: "Lord, You had me look back through my journals to one year ago today. I felt so hopeless last Christmas season. A series of dreams with You were almost complete and I thought that perhaps You would be done with me.

"However, even when things became dark, You were my beacon, my hope and my light. You blessed me by Your presence. You saw that I would be in darkness, broke and scared, so You sent help to me. You showed me more and more love. You were relentless."

Jesus: "Erin, this is what love is about. True love grows. Even for your children, you are taken from the beginning at birth and their care is entrusted to you by Me, but does your unconditional love for them ever stop?"

Me: "No. In fact, as they get older, I look for amazing confirmation that their hearts are good and are on You. I also sometimes reward them at times they do not expect. If I reward them without cause, then they do not have their hearts in the game of life. Their hearts seem to be automatic and their acts planned."

Jesus: "Oh, so you, as their mother, search their hearts?"

Me: Laughing. "Yes, I do and, honestly, at times, I do not like what I see, but I continue to love them unconditionally."

Jesus: "This is the love of a Father. It is there from the beginning and it too can grow, but this is different. There is the love which does not come from blood also."

Me: "Lord, my love for You has grown and grown. You knew me from the beginning so, with that knowledge, You know the landscape of my life. You shaped it. You know the beginning from the end. You love me unconditionally. There is nothing hidden with me.

"I did not know You or this love, yet it still grew like a seed. You grew me. This love rises higher and higher. It seems different. Your love is surprising, unexpected and new every day.

"Lord, the love I feel for You constantly grows. It builds and I anticipate You. You are a great mystery too. Today, I thought, 'What will the Lord show me today, if He even calls me up? What if He does not call me up anymore? What if He is not pleased with me?'"

Jesus: He was laughing. "Oh, this is nonsense? This is then a conditional love. If I know your outcome, I have designed the landscape of your life and

I continue to grow you in your faith, then am I really likely to scratch everything and be done with you so easily?

"This sounds like the god of a different world. Erin, I am vested in your life. Did you research Jacob? What is in his name? Does it mean 'straight to God'? Erin what is in a name? What is Hayah?

"You know that these things do not come from you. How can you have mysteries if they have not come directly from God on the Throne? The Holy Spirit directs you and counsels you. Is this not the very voice of God? Be still and you will hear in your heart that it is."

Me: "Oh Lord, please do not think for a moment I do not recognize who I am. I am not capable of such imaginations of You in Heaven or even Heaven itself as it is not possible. It also contradicts much of what others have experienced. If I was trying to be pleasing to others, I would have to be dishonest in what I have seen."

Jesus: "This is good, Erin. What is Heaven like to you?"

Me: "Well, it is Paradise. It is the enhancement of Earth by a thousand times. I was surprised to experience things like the sun, stars and the moon. I realize that those who have been to the City of Gold are correct that there is no need for the sun or lights.

"There is no darkness of night because God and You shine greater than the sun, even illuminating through walls. Your glory fills the Temple, Lord."

Jesus: "So then, those who have seen this are correct, but so are you at the same time. I must chuckle. I showed you shadows created from the sun outside of the City many times."

Me: "Yes. Forgive me as I thought I was seeing a deception as we are taught there are no shadows or shade in Heaven. Lord, thank You that there is. It is so pretty to see the different shades of light on all of these beautiful colors.

"Plus the night sky here is so glorious. To see the colors from the Throne go through out Heaven as the aurora borealis. Wow, it is so beautiful and so amazing. Thank You for not removing that which is good and beautiful."

I had tears streaming down my cheeks. He sat on the rock and His arms were crossed. He watched me as I was standing and describing all that I was thankful for. I was quite animated and He seemed to be drawing pleasure from my descriptions.

He laughed, smiled and was enjoying me. I then became shy as I realized I had become aware of my behavior.

Jesus: "Erin, please do not stop. I love your enthusiasm."

Me: "Lord, sometimes I am afraid of coming to You in bold arrogance. What if I am acting as if I am entitled to You and Your time?"

Jesus: He was nodding and smiling. "I understand your concern, but those who knew Me enjoyed spending time with Me."

Me: "It is hard to believe that the Son of God and the Creator of the universe would enjoy spending time with me. I have nothing to add to You. There is nothing I can say or do to surprise You. You know all things in advance."

Jesus: "Erin, you come here to Me every day. For many years, you thought I was silent and did not know who you were. You did as many think when it comes to Me.

"Instead of looking upward to find Me, looking for ways and evidence to show I am here with you and praying and being counseled by the Holy Spirit, many have allowed the noise of the world to still My voice in them.

"You became aware of your smallness when you compared yourself to others. You became aware of the billions around you instead of Me. When you shared with others at your church, they would see Me in you and operating in your life, but they refused to believe that you could be of any significance to Me.

"In the pulpit, a preacher states that each of you can hear from Me, but then, when one of you finally does hear from Me, your miracle of Me quickly fades. It is not by My hand of withdrawal, but your inability to believe.

"Erin, when you shared your miracles from Me to those who knew you, even though they trusted you, they did not believe that I would use you, remember?"

Me: "Yes, Lord, very vividly. I no longer felt safe to share Your miracles."

Jesus: "There are churches that even examine and register miracles. The miracles of God must fulfill certain rules or they are considered false. I must laugh at this to Myself as I tell you the truth, miracle upon miracle has been sent daily straight from the Throne of God Himself and they fail to recognize the God who sent it."

Me: "Lord, why make this so difficult? Why not do something so huge, everyone believes?"

He gets up off of the rock, takes my hand and walks me over to the tree with fruit. The entire tree was illuminated. I looked down at my hands and robe, but they were not illuminated like the tree.

Jesus: "Erin, what are you looking for?"

He reaches up for two more of the golden pears. They are so wonderful. I was really excited to eat this wonderful fruit again.

Me: I smiled. "Lord, You know. The tree is glowing and I wanted to see if I was too. I do not understand this as there appears to be a glow or halo around everything today."

Jesus: "First, let Me go back to your comment on miracles. Do not worry, Erin, there will come a day, as it is written, when all the kingdoms of the Earth will confess..." He laughed. "...and even these stubborn ones."

"Yes, while it seems very hard to believe that all will eventually be on their knees bowing to Me, by their own faithless tongues they will confess that I am Who I have said I am."

Me: "Lord, can this be soon. I stuck around on Earth hoping to be in the Rapture. Can I at least see this?"

He began to laugh. He took a bite of His pear and I did the same with mine.

Jesus: "Erin, please stay your course. Have you studied the Words I have given you? There is wisdom here."

Me: "Lord, when Your angels meet me at the end as I am going back, they say a lot quickly as if they are in a hurry. I think that sometimes I miss something that they had told me. What if I have missed some of the Words given to me?"

Jesus: "Yes, they are messengers and this is their job, Erin. You have not missed anything. Well..." He laughed. "...perhaps in interpretation."

Me: "Lord, You have given me so much information. How am I to know how to study it. I have no time."

Jesus: "Erin, these were also meant for others. How many Words have been written and saved for a later time? Many of these Words have. Now, the times are coming and it is evident that I am coming for you soon."

“Now go back to the Words I have given you and one in particular. There also are instructions there for right now. Now, do you have something you would like to ask Me?”

Me: “Yes, Lord, my dream last night for one. I have so many questions for You.”

Jesus: “Well then, let’s begin. Here take My hand.”

He takes my hand and we are instantly in the City of Gold. We are in this massive park and garden near God’s Throne. There were trees of all colors here, all alongside the River of Life. Again there was a glow to everything.

Where ever the Lord walked, everything became even brighter and had a reflective quality. It was a sensation for my eyes that I had never experienced before here.

The river was like liquid gold today. The shimmer of brightness was so great that my eyes could only see it as a type of ‘liquid gold’; hard to describe. In summary, these colors were just too intense for my eyes to behold.

Me: “Lord, we must be very close to Your Throne and the Sea of Glass as I can barely see.”

Just then, I felt Jesus turn me towards Him. An angel came up to us and I saw a small container of sorts. I saw Jesus dip His fingers in this. He moved my eyes toward Him, putting His thumbs over my eyes and coating a thick substance, almost like honey, over my eyes. This did not startle me or hurt in any way.

When He moved His thumbs, I could see Him clearly again. He was so beautiful, handsome and perfect; strong and kind. Did I say strong? He did not have a feminine look to Him at all.

If I was to compare Him to an earthly depiction, I would say that the painting by Akiane Kramarik came fairly close. However, the portrayal of His appearance and personality was best captured in the movie, ‘The Passion of the Christ’.

In particular, the scene in the ‘Passion’ where Jesus is showing His mother, Mary, the tall table He had made. Then, in this scene, He lovingly joked around with her. This scene, and the actor’s portrayal and appearance, is the closest comparison I have seen to date.

Nonetheless, this description is still based on earthly things that we can relate to. Truly, without seeing Him in person and being able to capture His all-encompassing love, strength and brilliance, any comparison is simply impossible.

He was smiling as I was studying Him.

Me: "Lord, You are the greatest gift to all of us. You are better than air, water and food."

Jesus: He was laughing. "Yes, but you need these as you cannot live to see Me without them."

Me: "Lord, You are greater as, without You, we would not have those. I am awed by Your presence."

Jesus: "Erin, come."

He took me to a beautiful small green meadow next to the River. There was a small pool that formed on the side of the bank there. The water in this pool was completely calm, like glass, and circular. This is hard to make sense of.

There were beautiful flowers growing around this pool. At the base of the Tree of Life was grass. The grass felt like velvet and was way better than a blanket. The tree was next to the small pool and was one of the most beautiful places I had ever seen in.

I sat near Him on the soft grass next to the pool. In the water, I saw beautiful fish with shimmering scales. One of the fish even looked exactly like the fishing lure I had been given in one of my earlier dreams.

Me: "Lord, that looks just like my fishing lure, but alive."

I sat fascinated watching the live version of my fishing lure. I knew that my fishing lure would be easily worth more than a million dollars on Earth.

Jesus: "Great observation. Which fish is more valuable, Erin?"

I realized that this was a very important question.

Me: "Would the live fish be more important than my jeweled fishing lure replica? The live fish actually swims in the River of Life which, in turn, flows from the very Throne of God."

Jesus: "Hmm, yes, this seems to be the obvious answer, but let's really think about this. Did the valuable lure not intrigue you to have faith that there was something even greater waiting for you here in Heaven?"

"You looked then to the Creator of the lure or, better yet, the one true King who commissioned it for you. I remember that you paused at the sight of this and you could not wait to see who would give you such a gift and why."

Me: "Lord, I knew there was more meaning to all of that. Why wait until now to tell me about this?"

Jesus: "There are two types, and three maybe, who seek more. Let's think about this more. The lure was a priceless work of art and like nothing you have ever seen. What did that do?"

Me: "Forgive me, Lord, as I was first captured by the quality and craftsmanship of the piece. I thought that the piece was amazing, but that, surely, someone left this there by accident as I was clearly not worthy of such a gift.

"I then thought that I would go and try to find the rightful owner of the lure and return it to them. I was then prompted to search for the King who used this lure in order to return it to Him."

Jesus: "Hmm, this is interesting. Yet even though the note attached to the jeweled lure specifically stated that this was a gift for you to take, you still did not accept this. Why?"

"Both types will meet the King, but, if the King chose to give you a gift, then He must have found you worthy to receive it. When the King gives you a gift, accept it. Now why am I rebuking you?"

I was laughing because He smiled with such wisdom. I knew my thinking was wrong, but He knew in advance all things.

Me: "Because of my small thinking, I did not accept my worth in receiving it."

Jesus: "Yes, but more. Now, there is another type. There is a man who would go to the lure and take it even though it was a free gift for him. He would steal it and not care about the Maker or Commissioner. Knowing the value of the lure, he would seek to sell it immediately to make money for himself."

Me: "That is funny. He was given the free gift to begin with."

Jesus: "Yes, but he could not accept this. He saw the value in it and sought to gain only what the sale of it could offer; really, money for earthly gain."

Me: "So this was all a living parable. This is truly remarkable. Here I thought it was related to the invitation to the banquet to start at 6:00pm."

Jesus: He was laughing. "When did it start, Erin? Was it 6:00pm? Right now we must talk about the two types of men taking the lure."

Me: "Oh Lord, I know I was the bad type. I am sorry for my lack."

Jesus: "Oh, so now you know Me so well that your thoughts are now Mine?" He was laughing as He said this. "Erin, no, now listen; the other type is you. Even though you thought like the one, you now accept the lure as yours."

"The other type is one who immediately accepts the valuable Creator and Commissioner of the gift and seeks to give gratitude for such receiving such a gift."

Me: "Oh yes, Lord, my other thought was, 'Oh, if this is for me really, let's see if I do not kiss the feet of the one who gave me this!'"

Jesus: He was laughing. "As I said, there will be two types, but really three. The first type will be those who will come into Heaven and yet still and be in shock. They will seek Me and say, 'Lord, this must be a mistake as I was not worthy of this.'

"The second type will be those who anticipated and danced because they accepted their worthiness."

"The third type will be those who have sold the lure and then sought out the buyer to ask for a return realizing they had just sold their greatest gift."

Me: "Lord, You are speaking of the gateway or door to Heaven are You not?"

Jesus: "Yes. There will, one day, be another group, one who says, 'Hey, I did this and this in Your name. That lure is mine. So and so does not deserve this. How could You make such an error, Lord? Let me tell You how great I am that You and Heaven should be so lucky to contain me.'"

I was laughing so hard. He was calmly stating this while getting comfortable in the grass. He was shaking his head.

Me: "Lord, how horrible; they will be stunned and shocked."

Jesus: "Erin, do you know that the third man who sold the lure will be the one working the hardest to find it after it is too late. See if God does not recognize him who runs and desperately seeks God even after the door has closed.

"It is the other man who will fail to ever make it. So back now to your original statement; maybe you are right that this living fish is more valuable as blessed is the man who sits with Jesus in the City of Gold by still waters in a pasture under a beautiful tree and soaks in His presence."

I immediately burst out in tears and even as I write.

Me: "Lord, I am the most grateful woman in all to the world. You have taken me from dust. I was rejected like dirt. You formed me from dust. You make gold from dust; gold dust.

"Lord, do you realize that dirt has more substance than dust? Dust blows around then settles. Since I have never had a home, I blow like dust. A tree cannot take root in it nor could any living thing."

Jesus: He was laughing. "Erin, I learned something today."

Me: "Oh forgive me, Lord, for even the very words from my mouth are words that You yourself formed. Please forgive me."

Jesus: "Let Me stop you there. No, not every word from your mouth is formed by Me, trust Me on this one. Sometimes your mouth does not speak from divine places." He was laughing.

Me: "You are right. Who was that speaking anyway? Oh, that's right; myself, but with no leading." I was laughing. "I remembered, just yesterday, horrible earthly things coming out of my month. These words were certainly not Godly or Holy Spirit led."

Jesus: He was smiling. "Now, the term 'dust' is interesting. Dust is impossible to shape, but not by the Creator."

Me: "Yes, You have shaped me from so many different things; clay, dust, dirt and smashed grapes. There seems to be a common theme here."

Jesus: "Yes, Erin, this is to humble you and remind you of your beginnings. Now it is Me who determines your end and the result."

Me: "Thank You so much for showing me this fish."

Jesus: "You are welcome my friend, my Bride and the daughter of the King. Now, You had a dream the other night; let's talk about this. What were you shown?"

Me: "Lord, I have had several this week and, as You know, this one was remarkable. I was standing amongst a group of acquaintances. We were discussing a strange large brown bird on the ground. The ground itself was dirt so the bird blended.

"We were noticing and laughing that the bird appeared to be a turkey with no tail. Just then, I noticed this and said, 'Wait, look, this is a bald eagle.' It was flapping around as if it were sick or injured. Then it sat there.

"All of sudden, a strange beast came in from the west. It was like nothing I had ever seen, but quite frightening. It was like a furry dragon, but also like a bear. Whatever this was, it was truly a wild beast. The teeth on this beast looked ferocious.

"The bird was facing to the east. We tried to awaken the eagle as to the presence of this thing that was clearly setting out to devour it. The eagle finally saw the beast as it approached and, right at the last moment, tried to lift off as it attached.

"The wing of this eagle was huge, at least seven feet long, and the beast clipped the left wing. However, the beast got only the tips of the wing, but still managed to break off enough so that the eagle was unable to fully fly.

"The eagle was massive. The commotion of all of us reacting to the attack, along with the size and reaction of the eagle, seemed to distract the beast from completely devouring the eagle on this particular day.

"The beast then appeared to sit down and wait. The beast knew the eagle was wounded, but not mortally, so was biding its time before finishing the eagle's destruction.

"Then I woke up. Lord, I have never seen an eagle sit on the ground like this unless it was eating an animal. Indeed, the eagle was even hard to recognize as being an eagle."

Jesus: "Erin, what are your thoughts on this dream?"

Me: "I believe it is a warning of things to come soon. The beast could have devoured the eagle, but there was so much commotion that the beast only needed to sit back, wait and watch as the eagle suffered."

Jesus: "Why would you have this dream?"

Me: "I am not sure, Lord. Since I know that all of my dreams are from You, what are You trying to show me in this dream?"

Jesus: "Erin, I am showing you that things are not always as they seem. As you already know, anyone who divides God's land will soon be portioned off and sold off to others more worthy.

"Erin, anyone dividing Israel will be divided. Now, the eagle is a mighty bird, very brave and respected even amongst other predators, yet any predator which is weak is still vulnerable to attack by other predators and even prey.

"It is a matter of territory and power; consider the lion and even the wolf. So now, in an earthly sense, what makes a particular land both weak and vulnerable?"

Me: "Well financial distress. However, in the case of America, we would be vulnerable in both the financial sector as well as attacks on our technology."

Jesus: "What do you think this is?"

Me: "Lord, it looks like the eagle is busy looking toward the east. Perhaps we, as a nation, are too wrapped up in eastern politics. I looks as if we are still recovering from something, so we are grounded?"

"However, I am not certain if this is something that is yet to happen to us or if this represents us still trying to recover financially from our recent financial troubles?"

"Regardless, it looks like a beast comes from the west and hits the eagle while it is facing east, thereby catching the eagle off guard."

Jesus: "When examining these dreams, you need to note different things. For example, what was the time of day when this attack occurred?"

Me: "Hmm, based on the shadows in the dream, the attack appeared to occur around 3:00pm or so."

Jesus: "What was the territory like?"

Me: "It looked like the eagle was on ground that was made of reddish brown dirt. I saw junipers, but also it seemed desert like in appearance. It could have been here in the USA; perhaps in central Oregon or the high desert. This may have even been Israel?"

Jesus: "Interesting; so the bird seemed busy enough watching something else that the eagle paid no attention to something coming right at it. However, then, when the beast had the opportunity to devour the bird, instead it sat and watched the show."

Me: "Lord, yes, it could be that something happened to the USA and then we came under attack?"

Jesus: "Now, we were talking about your dream. Do not jump ahead. When you receive these types of dreams, is it best to share this right away or to wait until you receive further instruction and revelation? How much in the Bible was meant for a later time?"

Me: "Most of it?"

Jesus: "There was so much in the Word about My birth, yet, when I finally came as a baby, I was not recognized."

Me: "Lord, why?"

Jesus: "Simple. This was because scholars came up with their own theories. They fixed themselves on looking for a King, but they did not expect a baby. I tell you the truth, there is not one king born who did not begin as a baby from the womb.

"So listen carefully; the prophet Daniel was given the message that a Messiah would come 483 years after the decree to rebuild Jerusalem. After 483 years from this decree being made, then I came as promised. Therefore Daniel was a true prophet.

"However, the Jews were looking for a different type of Messiah. They thought, 'How can this be it? Was Daniel then a false prophet?'

"Erin, there is so much more. There is nothing in the Word of God which will not come to pass. Remember that I love you and I have even spoken Isaiah 42 over you.

"Look, I take hold of your hand. Now, I gave you a strong Scripture this last week of Psalm 121. Again, if you would like to, go to Isaiah 2, Zechariah 14 or even Ezekiel 43."

Me: "Lord, I have never heard You speak so clearly on this. Thank You so much. One of my favorite Scriptures is Isaiah 9:6. I am curious; why now?" He laughed at this. "You have been so subtle or evasive before."

Jesus: "Erin, no I have not. You were required to examine these dreams and wait with faith. They are not some elaborate holy game or riddle to solve. These are gifts. Do you understand this?" He became quite serious here, but still loving and kind.

Me: "Lord, please forgive me. I did not mean to imply that these visits with You are for our entertainment. They have changed my life. I have now seen Heaven. I have come to love You so deeply and I am still trying to understand how You can still love me. I am still learning.

"Lord, You know all things in advance; all things You know. There are no accidents and even my seemingly insignificant dreams are ones that You control.

"I do not understand everything You have shown me, but You have set my sights on things of You and Heaven. This I can describe. I love that Heaven is so much more than our eyes can see. I love Your ways and I look fully to You."

Jesus: "Erin, I know. God has created a new thing with you much the same as the young painter you spoke of. As with her, soon others will not doubt this with you either. Do not worry. It is my job to turn hearts, not yours. Your job is simply to report."

Me: "Lord, why did You not use me to paint instead since I am a painter and illustrator? Would I not have been a natural fit for this too?"

Jesus: Laughing. "Yes, exactly; instead, I used you in a very unnatural way for you: Writing."

Me: "Oh, You are funny, Lord. Thank You for being so gentle with me. I am not a prophet and not clear on world events."

Jesus: "Erin, I can use whom I want at any given time for My purposes. It has, and will, come at a cost to you, but know that it is God who even deposes kings. You have no need to worry.

"Now, I am showing you more. You have been taught not to run ahead of Me. Waiting on Me is wisdom. Do not assume you have understanding until the Holy Spirit gives you knowledge. You must stay meek."

Me: "Lord, I have never seen You like this. You are glowing very bright. Are You coming very soon?"

Jesus: "You must wait on Me, Erin. I told you what must occur first. I told you to continue to live and enjoy each day. Now you can enjoy your wait with Me and see what more I will show you or you can chose to stop and be frozen by a preconceived date.

"I told you I will give you some warning so you may give one more shout out to friends and family prior to My coming, but do not fail to live now."

Me: "Lord, watching is a form of worship too? How can any of us stop this?"

Jesus: "When did I say stop watching? Does a Bride not look forward each day to her Groom's coming? I am speaking of receiving something from Me and not relying on Me to eventually use this for My glory.

"Now, when you have a dream, it is good to share ideas with others. This is what they are meant for. Just know though that all these things will come to pass related to Me as the Scriptures have said.

"Even though I do a new thing and make all things new, I am also the same yesterday, today and tomorrow. I do not change or waiver. Be assured also that you and your friends were called for a time such as this.

"Now pray for understanding. Ask and seek. Knock and the door shall be opened."

Me: "Lord, You said I was coming into more trouble. Help me to understand."

Jesus: "Erin, this is concerning critics of the dreams and my methods, not you personally. I have given you promises. Now, it is important that, when you are given prophecy, you wait on the Holy Spirit. I have left you all with a gift of a direct line with Me. Call it your version of Siri..." He was laughing.

Me: I laughed so hard. "Lord, Siri does not know when you are coming either." We laughed some more as He knew I had jokingly asked Siri this questions.

Jesus: "Ah yes, the wisdom of the ages all wrapped up in an electronic device. Many should take notes."

Me: "Lord, it is Christmas now and I want to thank You for seeing value in us; enough value to not give up on us. Thank You for saving us. Lord, can You take me to the Throne and let me personally thank God?"

He reached over and squeezed my hand. Instantly, we were at the Sea of Glass. I saw the glory of God shining so bright, yet it seemed so far away. I felt Jesus' hand on my shoulder as I knelt.

I looked up at the Throne and I saw crystal, gold and emerald. The light was so great that I saw a halo around the Throne. I began to cry. I heard the voice of God, like thunder, deep and guttural.

God: "Child, come forth."

In fear and trembling, I stayed looking down as I felt Jesus next to me.

Jesus: "Speak, Erin. It is okay."

Me: "My Father in Heaven, the great I AM, thank You for sending Your Son; our Savior."

I heard choirs of angels singing, "Holy, Holy, Holy, Lord God Almighty!" I could not stop my tears.

God: "Child, it is because I love you that I sent Jesus."

Me: "Oh thank You, Father, I have nothing to offer You. All I have is Yours."

I felt a rumble as the Sea rolled. I saw the Throne emanating a rainbow of color and the colors rotated. The Angels continued to sing, "Holy, Holy, Holy". This all caused the very cells in my body to move me forward towards Him.

God: "Erin, you are My daughter and My creation. I am pleased with your offer. Thank You for coming. Do not be afraid. You are loved by the King. Soon you will be Home. Now, rejoice and pray."

The choirs intensified. The choirs of angels were there, along with the children's choir. I heard the Hallelujah chorus and the worship music went right through me. I felt healing in my bones. As I write, I feel the warmth of the Lord's embrace.

I was in tears. I reached for the Lord's hand and rested His hand on my cheek.

Me: "Thank You, Jesus. Thank You and bless You, Lord. I want to do more, but I have nothing. Just to be here in Your presence overwhelms me."

Jesus reached down to bring me up and hug me. I felt electric waves go through my body. When He did this, the ground seemed to shake. He whispered in my ear.

Jesus: "Erin, even if you had been the only one for Me to save, God, our Father, would have still sent Me to save just you. You are loved. Please do not worry.

"Soon I will come for you, but at a time you think not. Do not be afraid. The time is approaching, but it is still a time off. Be encouraged and find joy and love. Thank you for loving Me, Erin, you honor Me with your time."

I was sobbing. I had never been in a more holy presence of God than at that moment and on this very day.

Me: "I love You, Lord."

Jesus: "I love you too, Erin."

Dream over...

Dream 101 – The Key and Mustard Seed

(Formerly known as Heaven 27)

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day. Thank You for loving me. Thank You for all that You provide. You are not a God who sits on the shelf. You are a living breathing Father who longs for fellowship with us. Without You, we would come to nothing.

You are the very breath of life. If You withdraw this, then we are either with You in Heaven or a very dark place. Lord, death itself is not painful as it provides relief from pain. However, coming up to the moment of death can be quite painful as fear for those who do not know You sets in.

Those whom You have prepared a place for are comforted by angels. Those who have not listened to You scramble with every labored breath. Lord, in my heart last night, I was particularly moved by these lost souls.

Here I was, a child of God, experiencing this heart condition. I remember two Christmases where I was alone because of kids visiting relatives. My condition was undiagnosed. It took all of my strength to get to church.

After I going to church alone in the first year without the kids, I instead opted out of going to church in the second year. The reason I did not want to go was the pain of seeing all of the happy families around me.

While I was overjoyed for these happy families when I would look at them, I still went home alone after the service was over. As I went home, my heart would flutter and my breathing became shallower. The pain of being alone and sick was too hard.

Seeing people happy and hopeful left me empty and without hope. The enemy found me in this state and was overjoyed. Lord, I thank You for being my family. I thank You for whispering to me and granting me hope. I was alone and sick, yet You comforted me.

Jesus: "Erin, come up."

I was at the Portal and He was walking towards me with open arms. I ran right into His arms. He was wearing a beautiful purple sash that had an iridescent shimmer to the linen, a color that is simply off of our earthly color spectrum. There is no description and nothing to reference it by.

Jesus: "Erin, why are you crying so much the last few days? What makes you like this?"

He walked over to the tree and pulled down two pears from the same exact spot as the last time we were here. He walks over to me and has me sit down on the rock. He put His hand on my left shoulder and handed me a pear.

He looked at me with a smile and took a bite. I could not help but smile and laugh. Then He walked over and sat next to me.

Jesus: "Is it not nice to know that some things never change? Is it not nice to enjoy a bite from this tree's familiar fruit? Are you not comforted by this?"

Me: "Lord, I never thought of this. You are so brilliant. You know everything in advance and You planned this. You knew that I needed confirmation that You are the same yesterday, today and for eternity. Today, I long for this even more. It is amazing how many parables come from fruit and even a bite of it."

Jesus: He was laughing. "Erin, every day, you grow more and more. The last word you spoke carried wisdom. You gain knowledge from even one bite of fruit. Shall I get you a few more?"

He was sitting next to me and bumped me with the side of His shoulder as He spoke this to me.

Me: "Lord, unfortunately there is not enough fruit on that tree. I will need to bring down an orchard and then only my stomach will contain knowledge. My brain will be lacking oxygen at that point."

He was laughing. He then gave my knee a quick pat.

Jesus: "Come, I have more to show you. You had better stop eating."

He was joking. I stood up and He took my hand. We began to walk down the side of the bank of the River of Life.

Jesus: "Now, Erin, you understand that it is I who grants you wisdom. It is I who puts a new song in you. Inspiration is different from perspiration."

Me: "I do not understand. That is a funny thing to say."

Jesus: "No, it is not. Think of this; what happens when you take a bite of fruit?"

Me: "Well, here the fruit actually restores me. I feel depleted when I first come up here from the world. When You give me a fruit from the tree, my skin glows. I can even focus more clearly. It is wonderful really; amazingly so."

Jesus: "Why do I give you a fruit when you come to see Me?"

Me: "Well, probably to change my mood. However, can I say I just enjoy having You take care of me. I love how You make sure I am settled first and then You go and pick the perfect fruit for me.

"Sometimes You examine it and even check it first by taking a bite. Then, when You realize the fruit is good, You come to bring it to me. Then You sit beside me as a friend, yet You provide like a Husband or Father. You make me feel worthy.

"You take time to get to know me even though You already know everything about me in advance. You are already aware of my comings and goings. You fellowship with me here.

"Here You are, the Savior of the world, yet You love all of us like this." I began to cry. "I want everyone to see You and know You like I do. You are so much more. Lord..."

I could not speak anymore. He stopped and turned to face me. He gave me a big hug and talked to me as He held me.

Jesus: "Erin, I longed to hear you say these things and mean them. I want so much to hear this from each of you. Children say what is on their hearts immediately and with no filter.

"Grownups craft their words and script what they believe I want to hear. Children are always inspired and filled with wonder. It is easier because they are closer to heaven."

Me: "Lord, why is it that, when we come to the age of accountability, things seem to change? Life becomes labored. There is a transition that happens."

Jesus: "Erin, do you know that even I went through this and experienced this? Do you know that, just because I went to the Temple before this transition and spoke at My Father's House, that even I had friends my own age? I saw the struggles they went through.

"Now this is why I speak of inspiration versus perspiration. Inspiration occurs when things are God-breathed. Some of these gifts include wisdom and knowledge. Well one could even argue that knowledge is earned through studies."

Me: "I used to think this, but I believe retention of knowledge still comes from You."

Jesus: "Oh yes, good; this is wisdom. This is the slippery slope also. Why do you believe I went to the Temple before my age of accountability?"

Me: "I am not fully certain."

Jesus: "Because those at the temple were not expecting a child with such knowledge. They listen to what I had to say, yet thought, 'Is this not Joseph's Son? How can He have such knowledge? He is too young to be a scholar.'"

"See, they toiled and worked; perspiring to adhere to the laws. They researched and studied the Torah. They thought they knew everything, but they did not know who was standing right in front of them. Well, actually...a few did; those who My Father breathed this knowledge into."

Me: "Lord, I somewhat understand, but is wisdom God-breathed and knowledge 'man-breathed'?"

Jesus: "Well, yes and no. If God created man from dust, then does dust have knowledge prior to God breathing into it?"

Me: I was laughing. "No, of course not. So You were saying that, even that which we think we have learned on our own, is really what You have breathed into us? Amazing."

Jesus: "Well, not everything. Erin, man has free will. God breathes good into you and all which is good comes from God."

We continued to walk along the riverbank leading into beautiful pastures or meadows with rows of aspens in the distance. It smelled like mountain air.

Me: "But, Lord, why then does God allow bad things? Why? This is one of the reasons I have been in tears the last few days. I still do not see much good in the world around me. Did You breathe the flu into me? I have missed two days of work and I am going to be docked pay."

"I read that a child, a small child, died of cancer and that even others are dying needlessly all over the world. None of this seems like it is Your nature or God's. You are not like this, Lord. Then why not save us and help? Please help me to understand this."

Jesus: "These are good questions. Erin, you are here with Me in high places. Did this come from you? Did your immense brain and scholarship make you so elaborate that you can appear to have knowledge of Biblical mysteries or even prophecies?"

"Do you have plenty of time to research about Me and the history of mankind? You panic when missing a half a day of work, so you must be devastated now? Think about all of this. Was your two days off with rest not good?"

"Do you think God can take care of your deficits because of this or is God not capable? Please do not assume to understand God's mysteries. You cannot. His ways are higher than yours. One day you will know and understand but for now you will need to trust."

Me: "Lord, I am sorry. I spoke foolishly and without wisdom. Please forgive me."

As we continued to walk, He put his arm around me.

Jesus: "Erin, your daughter, when she was ten, said something with great wisdom when you were in anguish. Do you remember?"

Me: "Lord, I don't..."

I chuckled as He just downloaded the memory into my brain. There were so many things all of my children have said which have been so profound that I could never just single out one unless the Lord Himself recalled the memory of it.

Me: "Yes. It was, one night, a week before Christmas, a couple of years ago, as I was sorting bills and legal documents. I was negative in my checking account and our electrical utilities were about to be cut off the very next day.

"I began to look for things to sell. I pulled out one silver compote dish with dents and scratches, along with a quadruple plate platter. I began to look through the Yellow Pages of the phone book to find pawnshops.

"I knew that these two items would not cover the electric bill. I was mad at myself because I had nothing left of any worth to sell. It was impossible. My daughter saw my distress and she came and sat next to me.

"My daughter said, 'Mom, you are worried. Remember, a lot of bad stuff happens first, right before something really great. Jesus loves you, Mom.'

"I hugged her and then went to my room and cried."

Jesus: "Yes, but what happened in the morning, Erin?"

Me: I had tears streaming down my cheeks. "Lord, this is when I dropped to my knees and presented my check book and some change and raised it up to You in Heaven. I asked You to multiply it."

Jesus: "Yes, then what?" He jokingly acted as if I was jogging His memory.

Me: "An envelope with five one hundred dollar bills was mysteriously placed on my front door. It was a miracle."

Jesus: "Interesting. So your daughter; she is a prophet, right?"

Me: I was laughing. "She is approaching her teens. You had better download wisdom right about now."

Jesus: "Erin, here your daughter gave you God inspired words from Heaven, words of comfort, and then she even had the gift of discovering the envelope and presenting the evidence.

"Was this not a great miracle and testimony to faith? Her belief was greater than yours because you only saw trouble, while your daughter saw the light at the end of the dark tunnel. Did the Word not say that your sons and daughters will prophesy?"

Me: "Lord, it is difficult because they are still children. However, You are right. My children have said so many things, even as toddlers, which I know has come directly from Heaven."

Jesus: "Remember, Erin, wisdom, Godly wisdom, comes from the Throne. All that is in the water of the River of Life comes from that which is good. Good things flow from this river. Come."

The Lord walks me over to the river and motions for me to take off my sandals. He puts His feet into the river near a small pool. The little pool has sand at the bottom which looks like crushed pearls and diamonds. I see small sparkling rocks which, on Earth, would completely take someone from poverty to riches.

He motions for me to step into the water. My feet sank into the soft sand. The water began to refresh me straight from my feet up. I reached down to the water knowing how wonderful it tastes and I scooped water into my hands and drank it.

Jesus: "Good, right?"

Me: "Lord, this is so amazing. It is cool water when I drink it, but yet, when my body is in it, the temperature fits my body. It is never too warm or too cold. It is remarkable.

"Lord, I know You are the River of Life. Well, Your Word in Scripture is. I know that it flows from the Throne of God as the river begins at the Throne from the Sea of Glass. I know that God gives life. I know You are like living water and to drink from Your cup is good."

Jesus: "Hmm, yes, but you do not always enjoy drinking from My cup. It is a painful Cup at times."

Me: "Lord, through my tears, I discovered what is good; You. When I cry and I grieve, I search You out for answers. In times of trouble, I know You more. Why?"

Jesus: "Well, there is a parable in the Word about Shepherds and their sheep. A lamb on its own is prey. It has no leading. Certainly no wisdom, as it is young and weak. A lamb in a fold has other sheep and, most importantly, a Shepherd.

"The most important thing for a lamb to have is a Shepherd. Even if the lamb is the last lamb, the Shepherd will care for it. A Shepherd will leave His flock to run after even one lost sheep. This is in the Book of John.

"Erin, what I am speaking of is leading. You were led here. You did not just come uninvited. You had My summons or invitation. I called you in the desert."

Me: "Lord, here I am complaining about affliction and illness and asking You why, yet it is so obvious Your hand is in all things. Even my disobedience is part of Your plan because You knew in advance of it.

"I am grieving for the lost today. I am grieving for those who have lost loved ones and even those who have taken their own lives."

Jesus: "Erin, you said something yesterday in your prayers about being closer to God and knowing Him when things are difficult. Knowing Him is one thing, but trusting Him, and even Me, is another.

"Scholars claim to know Me, yet you are wading here with Me and dipping your feet into the River of Life. Who, then, is now closer to Me? Those who spend time with Me or those who study about Me?

"All you need to do is have faith. As surely as you now stand, I will deliver you, your loved ones and your children here. If you feel led to intercede and pray for others, they too can know Me. This is because you are drinking from the River of Life.

"The water is in you because the good Shepherd has led you here to drink of good water. Now who can argue that Scripture is not good food? Not one who is a citizen here will lose this argument."

He was wading in the water. Little fish were swimming near Him. They were jumping and leaping out of the water in worship to Him.

Jesus: "The disciples were and are My friends. They knew Me well, but, still, they hesitated to stand for Me as only a few really knew Me. They knew Me better when I was removed because they recognized Me as the good Shepherd.

"Imagine, Erin, if you were without Me and even void of the Holy Spirit? You would have to rely fully on memories of Me, but nothing more."

Me: "Lord, I cannot imagine, after knowing You, losing communication with You and being void of the Holy Spirit. Well, this would be frightening. I cannot even imagine it."

Jesus: "Yes. No amount of scholarship of the written Word will help those void of Me."

Me: "Forgive me, Lord, are You speaking now of those left behind in Synagogues, those who have knowledge of the Torah, but devoid of the knowledge of You?"

Jesus: "Erin, do you know that your knowledge has increased?"

Me: "Why do I feel like it has not? Lord, all of this is because You have allowed it. Nothing is given to me that You do not have knowledge of. You know everything. If it is Your Will for me to have wisdom or knowledge, then I know You will grant it. I could use help with my faith though."

Jesus: "Yes, true."

He reached over and took my hand. Instantly, we were on the balcony of the bridal chamber. We were overlooking the Garden and the Throne Room in the Golden City. Again, everything was glowing unusually bright.

The Lord was brighter here in the City. I was having trouble keeping my eyes open because of the glory light. Jesus reached over and put His thumbs over my eyes and the salve allowed me to see more clearly.

Me: "Lord, I love it here. This is so beautiful. I know why You brought me here."

Jesus: He was laughing. "I could say something to make you laugh, but perhaps you know My thoughts now."

Me: "Forgive me, Lord."

Jesus: "It is okay, Erin. I brought you here exactly for the reason you think." He pulled out a mustard seed and the key from His pocket. "Do you remember these?"

Me: "Yes. Faith 'like a mustard seed' and the key. Is this the key to the forestry door by invitation to the banquet or perhaps the bridal chamber?"

Jesus: "Well, let's go to the forestry door."

He reached and squeezed my hand and, instantly, we were there. I was laughing. It felt like years since I had been here, but it was only a few months. I looked around and it was beautiful. I should note that the scenery at the forestry door seemed more like an earthly landscape than a Heavenly landscape.

He motioned for me to put the key in the lock and I did. The door opened and, instantly, we were coming through a door by the Sea of Glass. I saw the bridal chamber to my left and the Throne Room off in the distance before me.

Me: "Wow, this is incredible, Lord. You are amazing."

Jesus: "Now take My hand again."

Immediately, we were now right in front of the bridal chamber door. There was a keyhole. He motioned for me to place my key in the hole and turn it. I did and the door opened.

Me: "Lord, the key I have works for both doors. So here is a question for you; why would we need keys to open doors in Heaven?"

Jesus: He was laughing. "You won't. This is to show you that this key opens both doors. Now, about faith; if you know you reside here in Heaven, why lack faith on Earth?"

Me: "Easy. I am a human and certainly not God. Even though I know where I reside and even though You have shown me the 'Promised Land, I have not entered in yet. I do not know all things in advance like You, Lord.

"You know all of the details and You smile. As for me, I still have to go back to Earth and cling to Your promises, not knowing when they will happen or even when You will come for us.

"As humans, we do not have the capacity to have faith unless You put it there. So I will ask You for faith, like that mustard seed. Since You are able to plant ideas in the heads of men, You can surely put faith the size of a mustard seed into my brain.

"Although, Lord, I do have faith In You that You will do as You promise, I just do not know the time frame for these promises. Lord, even sheep know and sense when the Shepherd will lead them to a fresh pasture."

Jesus: "Hmm, Erin, this is a good and wise argument. Then it is done. Do not doubt. I just granted this to you."

Me: "Lord, I do not feel any different, but You were definite in Your voice, so I believe You. Thank You. I receive this in faith, but can I also ask for wisdom, if You would do this for me? I would love wisdom because, if I had wisdom, then faith can be rationalized by You as an example."

Jesus: "Okay, I will grant you wisdom too. But let's be clear; only Godly wisdom produces Godly faith. Now, since we are back to wisdom and instruction, you have more questions."

Jesus waved for an angel. A beautiful angel came and brought a tray with two crystal and gold goblets. There was also warm flat bread served in a beautiful linen cloth with chain stitching of blue linen and silk. There was the beautiful vessel of wine; the carafe with my initial on it.

The angel put it next to Jesus on a small table carved of acacia. The pedestal of the table was a beautiful woven braid of three strands carved from the wood by a master carver. The wood was solid and carved from inside and out.

The base of the table was hammered silver with beautiful inlays of golden ivy. Each small leaf had a different jewel. There were twelve leaves, or jewels, all represented also in the Ephod. I was fascinated with the craftsmanship as this was truly a piece of art.

Me: "I get so excited when You bring out the elements for communion."

Jesus: "Erin, these are for another time, but this is to show you it is near."

Me: "Lord, it looks like the next few days then?"

Jesus: "Erin, study 'a time' in Scripture. Now, I gave you some Scriptures yesterday to help prepare you. This is good timing. What were these?"

Me: "Oh yes; Exodus 6:6-8, Esther 2:15-18 and Esther 3:12."

Jesus: "I believe you were given a few more in Esther also. Do you remember?"

Me: "Yes. Esther 8:7-10 and 9 to the end of the book."

Jesus: "Why did you stop there?"

Me: "You mean the part about reading the Book of Job as well?"

Jesus: "Erin, there is wisdom here. I do not believe the God of all creation speaks more about wisdom and faith through trial than in any other Book. This is wise information.

"So now, go back also to Job. There are good things there for you, Erin. Now back to Exodus. Let's break this down to what became illuminated to you by the Holy Spirit."

I went to my own notes from the day before. I reviewed them and then went back to visit.

Me: "Okay, I wrote this; Exodus 6:6-8: "I will bring you out from under the yoke of the Egyptians. I will free you from being slaves to them, and I will redeem you with an outstretched arm and with mighty acts of judgment. I will take you as my own people, and I will be your God. I will bring you to the land I swore with uplifted hand to give to Abraham, Isaac and to Jacob. I will give it to you as a possession."

Jesus: "Now, you stopped here. This is good, but, in the next verse, the people did not listen to Moses because they were so discouraged. They saw no way out. At first, they received the message with joy, but then it was quickly gone. Why?"

Me: "I think I know this. Lord. You promise that nothing is impossible. These are strong promises from God. These promises are like winning the lottery, yet never receiving the jackpot.

"The problem with me is, after receiving the Words from You, I am so excited and confident. I even walk here with You, yet down there, on Earth, my situation instead worsens. I feel You left me and I feel, sometimes, as if You have shown me the promised land, yet I cannot enter in.

"Like at a banquet, I am hungry and I see the table and the food. However, I am not yet able to partake yet. Even with communion today, You saw that I was excited, yet I am told 'not yet, but soon'.

"Lord, forgive my impatience, but 'soon' could be another two thousand years away..."

Jesus: Jesus was laughing. "Erin, you have some excellent points with wisdom, but I do not believe anything in the Word lines up with an additional two thousand year wait. I will tell you what I would like you to do. Really examine what I gave you from Esther.

"Remember that the Old Testament confirmed the New Testament and the New Testament references the Old Testament. All is divinely orchestrated and inspired by the Breath of God.

"Now, the Bible is intricate, but it is not perfect as man has tried to impose order and inferences. However, these matters will be small in the great scheme of things to come. Make no mistake though; those who try to impose, modify or manipulate the Word of God will be tried in the Courts and held accountable." He shifted in His seat.

"Erin, to clarify; those who rewrite Scripture to suit the enemy and lead people astray is who I am talking about.

"Now, back to the stories of Esther and Job; all things have patterns which we have seen. There are layers in these Books. Look at the theme. There is an oppressor, there is deliverance from affliction and then there is a reward."

Me: "Lord, in Esther, there are many dates, months and other similar things. Are these a part of the patterns?"

Jesus: "Yes, Erin, read not in part, but in whole. Do not ignore the references to years either. Time frames are important. Patterns repeat."

Me: "Okay, Lord. Please bless me with extra wisdom and understanding."

Jesus: "Erin, if you were a Biblical scholar, you might fail to see what is hidden in plain sight. I have given you much information today. Please do not worry." He could tell I was worried.

Me: "Lord, what if I misuse Scripture or incorrectly write what You have told me. I feel that, even with the Scriptures, I have failed to write down everything You have told me. Lord, I feel that I have even missed key things."

Jesus: "Erin, no you did not and, even if you did, am I not able to direct you back to this? I am capable, right? Remember back to what you said about Me and fruit at the beginning of this day. Am I capable of fulfilling all of your promises or just a few?"

Me: "All, of course."

Jesus: "Yes, so please do not worry. I love you, I will fulfill all My promises and I will remove you in due time. Please remain patient. You are loved."

Me: "I love You, Lord."

Dream 102 – Dry Bones

(Formerly known as Heaven 28)

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You, Lord, for this great day. Thank You for another year with You. Thank You for Your great love and affection. Thank You for all that You have done with us. Thank You for all that You are about to do.

Lord, You are the God of miracles. You are a God who longs for our heads to be turned to the call of Your voice, but, more importantly, You long for our hearts to search for You. You long for us to recognize and seek You out; for You, God, are worthy.

Life is full of changes. Life is a never ending ebb and flow. Lord, I thank You that You never change, yet Your mercies are new every morning. How great are You, God!

Jesus: “Erin, come up.”

He greets me right at the Portal today. With open arms, He is glowing brightly. He is wearing a beautiful white robe with a very deep blue sash. The sash is something like velvet with a golden iridescent to the fabric.

His face is completely without blemishes of any kind. What I mean by this is that there are even no visible pores. His eyes are the very deepest of blues.

Me: “Lord, can You tell me about Your new appearance. I am not use to seeing You this way.”

Jesus: “Erin, look at yourself.”

I looked down at my hands, arms and feet. He laughed and motioned for me to look at my reflection in the River of Life. I ran over to the bank, got on my knees and moved my face over the water. The water was unusually bright.

At first, I was startled as I did not recognize myself. It was me, only flawless. My hair was long and wavy with gold in it. My teeth were white, like snow, as were the whites of my eyes. My eyes were green; deep green, like jasper.

My skin was perfect, all one tone except my lips and cheeks were deep pink. My nose was perfect. Scars that I had received when I played sports as a child were gone. There were no scars on my neck. There were no wrinkles where I smile or at my eyes.

I put my hand to my cheek and I noticed that my hand was perfect too. Indeed, my nails were a perfect length and were opalescent. When I put my hand to my cheeks, they glowed. My face was luminous.

I began to go from utter elation and joy quickly to tears. I looked away and put my hands to my face and began to cry. I felt the Lord remove my hands. He knelt in front of me at the bank of the river and put my chin up so I could gaze upon His beautiful face.

His eyes are so incredible. Tears were streaming down my cheeks. Jesus said nothing, but instead turned me back to the river. He sat beside me and we both had our faces over the water. Both of our reflections from the water were extremely clear.

Jesus: "Why are you unhappy? Are you displeased with your glorified body?"

Me: "Oh Lord no, I am not unhappy at all. I am just moved to tears. The reflection is me, but this is not me. I am old and this reflection is of a youthful woman and certainly not me. I do not feel worthy of a gift from You such as this."

Jesus: "Erin, so are you saying that you can only accept yourself with a dying body, shriveling bones, weathered skin and age as the victor?"

Me: "Oh no, forgive me. I am just not used to this. It is difficult to accept, but I will gladly take this."

Jesus: "Erin, this is your Home. There is no longer death here. Your cells flourish and become vibrant. Your thirst is quenched here. You live here, understand?"

Me: "I am learning. Lord, for all my visits to You, have I always been like this? I never paid much attention. There was the one time, near the City of Gold, where I saw myself as You saw me and the angel collected my tears.

"I knew I was about 25 years old here, but I never paid attention again. You took my focus off myself. Only until You turned my attention to my own reflection did I glance at it."

Jesus: "Interesting. Erin, now you are speaking with layers of meaning."

He began to laugh. Whenever He laughed, the little fish would jump for joy out of the water. The jumping of the fish out of the water caused ripples that jumbled our reflections. He laughed at this.

He reached down with His right finger and placed it into the water. The moment that He did this, the water stilled immediately and became clearer than glass. I laughed with joy at this and He smiled at my reaction.

Me: "Lord, You are so amazing. There are no words to describe You. Your Glory is infinite. Your depth cannot be measured. Our presence is life giving." I began to cry as I realized the magnitude of my place here.

"Lord, I do not count myself worth of such immense affection from You. You love and care for me like no other. You are always gentle, loving and inviting, yet You are strong, wise and Your rebuke full of grace. You are like so many things, but perfected.

"You truly are worthy of all we have. Lord, on Earth, I am old and aging fast. I ache, I am tired and I am poor, yet, in Your presence even momentarily, I am youthful, alive and beautiful again. Here, I am no longer poor, but rich.

"Heaven is truly the fountain of youth. Men, or explorers like Ponce de Leon, searched for this fountain, but could never find this on Earth. Women strive to reverse aging on Earth. Men long to have bodies like young warriors here on Earth.

"Billions of dollars are spent on the pursuit of this, yet, Lord, here it is in Heaven. Everlasting life is here with You and You are the living water.

"You make my heart like that of a child and my countenance like an older learned woman, yet You grant me a body and beauty like that of a young maiden. Who would not want to be here in Heavenly places? Lord. Who are You?"

I was laughing and crying at the same time. He was laughing so hard.

Jesus: "I am the giver of life and I breathe life into your dry bones. Come, I have something you will enjoy and you can call this a grand history lesson. Are you ready?"

He began to bring me to my knees as He spoke.

Me: "I love learning from You. You are an endless adventure. You are the creator of history, 'His-story', Lord."

Jesus: Laughing. "Yes, this is a word with a few layers. I am glad you caught on to this. Erin, do you remember that the Written Word originally was drawings and in pictures. Each stroke of the quill, or even chisel, was that of meaning.

"You have a pen and paper and modern language, yet you must write more in order to say less. You, as a scribe, now must tell a story so that others understand it. You must be clear and concise or people will move on to something else and become bored. Many, many years ago, man had to say more in fewer strokes with multiple meaning."

Me: "Are You referring to Hebrew, Lord?"

Jesus: "Yes, later Hebrew came, wherein these letters and characters are God-breathed. Erin, do you recall that God, My Father, wrote into the mountain with His Own finger?"

Me: "Yes. This was Ephraim, right?"

Jesus: "Yes, you remember. Just as Mount Sinai holds evidence still that the Lord God spoke to His people there, God's Word was first written on tablets. However, God's love is written on the tablet of your heart."

He smiled as we walked awhile. We walked in silence. It was one of the first times I recalled Him holding my hand with neither one of us talking. Personally, I was reveling in the moment. I know He could take me to where He wanted me to go in a blink of eye, yet, instead, He chose to walk with me for a while.

I looked around. The mountains were so massive and steep, yet were very majestic. The mountains here are like Earth, but much greater in beauty. I saw Mansions up there and chuckled to myself, wondering who lived there and that their view must be incredible.

I saw, below the massive mountains, the next level of mountains. These were nearer the valley, but not in the agricultural hills and roaming fields. My Home was in a mountain nearer the hills where the grapes were, but also in the trees.

It was perfect for me as I did not believe my assignment or special interest was planting and harvesting. It did not matter anyway because I knew that God is so powerful that, if He chooses to put this on my heart in Heaven, He will and can do this in an instance.

I chuckled again. He could do anything He chooses with me really. Honestly, whatever He choose for me, I would be fine with it as He is perfect.

Jesus: "Erin..." He was smiling and laughing. "...your thoughts. You are deep in them today."

Me: "Lord, I am just taking in the rarefied air of Heaven. I am observing this beauty. It takes my breath away. I am thinking about all the Mansions You have built for us here and how amazing this is. There are so many different styles and different properties. It is so beautiful.

"I even looked at the exterior of these Homes and I am in awe. You design perfectly for us. You place us in the perfect part of Heaven for us. You even gather us together with friends.

"Some people like Homes high amongst the mountains, others like the valleys and others still like lakes, streams, rivers and even oceans. You do all of this. You are the architect of Heaven."

Jesus: "Oh correction, Erin, God, My Father, made Heaven and Earth. It is I Who provides a place for you."

Me: "Of course, God is the creator or developer of all that we see and You are the architect of our dwelling places." He was laughing.

Jesus: "This is something to pray on. There is no wrong answer here, but a good architect, as you know, takes time to know the dweller. He designs and constructs according to specifications.

"He understands the desires of the dweller and captures this in the blueprints. There is more to this. Who commissioned the building, provided the land and created the dweller? Is this not God Himself?"

Me: I was laughing. "Lord, it reminds me of what came first; the chicken or the egg."

Jesus: He was laughing. "You are funny today and your silence provoked thoughts of wisdom. The God of all creation created both the chicken and the egg, but I would go back to the beginning of the Word to discover this. Let's examine the order of events.

"Did God create first an embryo on the open ground and breathe life into it or did He begin first with man? Then did He, God, leave a small baby in His own image with only the animals and vegetation there to care for it?"

"If God, after bringing forth plants and animals, decided to make man in His own image, what would man look like; a baby or a mere infant? Is God on the Throne an infant?" He was laughing as He said this.

Me: I was laughing too. "It is amazing, really, how God formed all of this. He shaped Heaven and Earth and all living things, even dead ones."

Jesus: "No, correction, Erin, God created all living things. Death was a result of sin. It appears as if sin is flourishing because it is so prevalent on Earth. Where there is sin, there death is also." He became somber.

Me: "Forgive me, Lord, as my mouth sometimes speaks ignorantly with no leading. So it would not make sense for God to start with an egg because there would be no one to take care of the chicks, right?"

"I think the Book of Genesis would have stated something like 'the Lord then created baby birds and helpless baby animals and thousands of angels were brought here to care for them until the Creator, our God, decided to create man so the angels could have a break.'"

Jesus: He was laughing. "That was delightful, but definitely not as written in Genesis. So what is your conclusion to the chicken or the egg first?"

Me: "Well, God created man first in His Image after He created the plants and animals. He would definitely start with animals ready to multiply and birds that can produce eggs. The sun and water grew the seed and produced plants and vegetation. It seems logical that God would start with grown chickens."

Jesus: Laughing again. "Erin, read Genesis again carefully. Look at the order. Much is said in very few words. Is it not said that God said, 'Let there be vegetation, let the Earth sprout vegetation; seed bearing plants, fruit trees of every kind on Earth that bear fruit with seed in it.' And so it was so."

Me: "Oh, You are right, Lord." I was shaking my head.

Jesus: We talked as we walked. "Look, Erin, what is more reasonable? Does God start with this?"

He pointed to the base of a fruit tree. There, at the base of the tree, was a beautiful fruit split in half with seeds pouring out of it. It looked like a pomegranate.

Jesus: "Or this?"

He then pointed to the tree. Knowing I could say nothing about what I saw before me, I came up with my best guess.

Me: "Lord, God created night and day. He created and shaped the sun and moon. If He created such things of such mass and volume, then certainly He can breathe into dirt and speak a full grown tree with fruit bearing seed. There is nothing too difficult for God, Lord."

Jesus: He laughed. "Very wise, Erin. Now I am taking you somewhere. Are you ready?"

Me: "Lord, I was born ready!"

I looked over and smiled at Him. He laughed out loud. He then reached for and squeezed my hand. Instantly, we were at the 'valley of dry bones' in Ezekiel. All around us were red hills. At the center of this were the bones of at least six or seven million people. It was a huge open grave. Tears streamed from my eyes.

Jesus: "Erin, what is wrong?"

Me: "Lord, there is no life here, but only death. It is desolate and empty."

Jesus: "Erin, you said, by your own words, that if God can create both night and day and shape the sun and moon and that if He is the same God who can breathe into dirt and speak a full grown tree with seed-bearing fruit into being, then certainly it is not difficult for God to say to these old dry bones, 'Rise up and live!'" He was laughing.

Me: "Then, Lord, please do as this is too sad. It reminds me of the graves from the Holocaust. It makes me sick and very sad."

Jesus: "Erin, take heart for, surely, as the Lord God heard your cries and breathed life, a new life, into your tired old bones, will He not show divine favor upon those who died with no hope?"

Me: "How can lifeless bones speak? How can they cry from the grave of this valley?"

Jesus: "Really? Do you really ask this? Were you not just moved to tears upon the sight of these?"

Me: "Yes. So help me here with this."

Jesus: He smiled. "There is good news here. There is a God Who can give new life to them. They can, and will, dwell in the land of the living. Has not God called forth His people to the land of the living?"

Immediately, I saw the globe of the Earth. I saw millions of blue lights all over the world. The lights were being collected by the call of a very large 'Angel' with a Shofar. The 'Angel' was like a Shepherd.

I saw a desert land and it was a barren dead land. As the blue lights ascended back into it, the desert began to blossom. I saw streams in the desert, wherein the hot sand then formed into a beautiful pool.

I saw water gushing from a place impossible to gush forth. I saw lush farm lands. I saw grapes on vines and olives on trees. I saw flowers in the desert. I looked down and saw a highway that led to the Holy Land. Some returning walked on the highway to return, but some walked on the sides. It reminded me of a Scripture in Isaiah 35.

I then saw springs even coming out of the ocean. I saw migratory birds flying and landing near here. I saw people, one by one, coming to their land and praising God for bringing them home.

Then I saw the land surrounding this great small land with blue lights. I saw quadrants around this land. These quadrants were colored in shades of red. They consisted of green lights. These green lights were men of envy and hatred. These green lights inserted themselves in the lands who gave up the blue lights.

The outer lands became filled with these green lights as these lands began to multiply and mix with red lights. There were still small remnants of blue lights and some white lights, but most of the world surrounding this land with blue lights were outnumbering the little country.

Me: "Lord, the world is soon to advance against Israel. She will be helpless against them. I see red and green lights advancing. Who are these lights?"

Jesus: "The red and green represent hate and envy. Erin, this has happened before as there is nothing new under the sun, remember? Now there is hope still. Remember John 11, the chapter you speak of in Isaiah 35, as well as Ezekiel 35 and even Jeremiah.

"These prophecies are living now and being fulfilled in your generation. As God has spoken life into written Words, the very Script of His Words, He has also breathed new life in dry bones."

Me: "Lord, there is nothing God cannot do and nothing is impossible with Him."

I became overwhelmed at God's goodness and I began to cry even as I write. I remembered when I have felt alone, old and tired, when I had no hope and lacked resources and I was enslaved in a different way and poor and when I almost lost everything; then God breathed new life into me!

Jesus: "Erin, your thoughts?"

Me: "Lord, You know them. You are so incredible. You breathed life into a tired woman. You heard me calling, crying in the wilderness and You brought me Home to You. I am so very grateful."

Jesus: He smiled. "There is life in bones."

Me: "Lord, God even took a rib from Adam and grew this and shaped it into Eve."

Jesus: "Notice this was not from an egg or even the seed of Adam, but right from his side. God could have taken anything to create her."

Me: "I remember. He did not take the bone from his head, making her head over him. He also did not take the bone from his foot, making her a slave under his foot. Instead, He took the bone from his side.

"Therefore, she was there to assist and love him. She was bone of his bone and flesh of his flesh. The two were created as one. Lord, forgive me. I took us off topic; we were talking about the 'valley of dry bones.'"

Jesus: "Erin, today all of these things are woven together. Look further into the vision Ezekiel had and the story of dry bones. You will see Ephraim there. There is more about the two becoming one here.

"How could you have scripted this; that the two shall become one? Then it is written that they shall be My people and I will be their God. Your vision of lights showed an 'Angel' like a Shepherd. Who is this Shepherd?"

Me: "Lord, this is You! You are the Shepherd!"

Jesus: "Very good, Erin. Now you have learned to study the beginning of creation. You have been shown that, originally, fewer words had more meaning so kings searched for answers. Oh, what is that Scripture?" He was laughing as He pretended to forget to make me laugh as well.

Me: I laughed. "Lord, 'it takes the glory of God to conceal a matter and the honor of kings to search it out.'"

Jesus: "Yes, that one. You were shown that God is so mighty in His power that He spoke things into being; even Me with Mary for My time on Earth." He smiled and then gestured in a way that meant that He too can speak life into being.

"So, if He can do all things and is now fulfilling prophecy straight from the Torah, then what else is He capable of doing? Will He not also bring His lost sheep Home so that they know that the Shepherd loves them?"

"Does this now make the Pages of both the Old Testament and the New Testament come together also as one. Soon their hearts will be no longer divided."

Me: "Oh Lord, how glorious this will be. I am so excited to be here in this time. I am honored to be here with You. I love You so much."

I reached over and hugged Him. I hear Him laughing as He hugs me back and kisses the top of my head.

Jesus: "Now I am revealing more. Understand that these prophets, Ezekiel, Isaiah, Daniel and Jeremiah, foretold much of what is now to come. The other prophets said fewer things, but they had much the same meaning.

"Remember that history is a story with a grand scheme and that all of history is orchestrated by God. Remember that there is an Author, a Director and a Producer."

Me: "Am I an actor with a script?" I was pouting and somewhat joking.

Jesus: Laughing. "No, not always, because you do not always follow the play writer's script."

Me: "Yes. Then when I improvise, I get into trouble and You lead me back. Perhaps I act as if I was the director?"

Jesus: He was laughing. "Yes, there are a lot of directors out there self-producing their life story; or should I say that they think they are."

Me: "Lord, just when I think I have all of this figured out, I realize I am not even close. You are the Author and Finisher. You know all of this in advance and I...well, even the mistakes I make...are part of the story."

Jesus: "Yes, they are history. You are here with Me now. You are alive, your skin glowing and you are youthful. Even your mistakes are history with Me."

Dream 103 – A New Fruit

Received Sunday, January 5, 2014

(Formerly known as Heaven 29)

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day. Thank You for all that I have. Thank You for my children and the blessing of friends. Thank you for Your faithfulness and undying love, even when I run and hide.

Jesus: "Erin, come up."

I was in my glorified body. He still had the same glow as my last visit with Him, although it was not as strong as the way He glowed in the City.

He stood by the Portal and received me into His arms. I stayed with my head on His chest for a while. As I hugged Him, I put my hand up off of His shoulder for a moment to peek at my hand and skin. I heard Him laugh when He saw me do this.

Jesus: "Come with me, Erin."

He was laughing and walking me over to the tree with fruit. He pulled off two fruit that looked like oranges magnified. He took a bite and motioned for me too.

Me: "Thank You."

I proceeded to take a bite of this right through the outer skin. It was a citrus-like fruit that tasted somewhere between an orange and sweeter lemonade. The peel itself was edible.

Me: "This is awesome, Lord; amazing really."

Jesus: He was laughing because I looked at my hands again. "He took my hand and walked to the River of Life. The river current stirred the water, but He bent down and used His finger to still the water. "Now, go ahead and look again."

Me: "Oh Lord, forgive me. I am fascinated about my transformation to my Heavenly body. My body feels alive and I have no wrinkles. There is nothing about my appearance which makes me say, 'Oh I wish my fingers were straighter' or 'I hate those scars'. This is so...' I began to cry even as I write. "...beyond my imagination."

You took every one of my imperfections and made them perfect, but You did not just stop there. You made me into a being who reflects my love to You. I have Your love upon me. Your love makes me new and I am forever changed by Your presence.

"You gave me a physical Mansion here. You gave me a room next to Your Throne, but You did not stop there. You transformed my body; my body which holds my Spirit. You prepared a place for me here and I will be eternally blessed!" I cried.

Jesus: He reached over and hugged me. "Erin, when I said, 'I will go and prepare a place for you', you now understand what I mean. You will be forever transformed."

Me: "Yes, and eternally grateful for this. Now I know why all of us praise You continuously in Heaven. It is in thanks for all You have done."

Jesus: "Erin, you are speaking in past tense here. You mean to say all that I will do? If I said, 'I have prepared a place for you here in Heaven, you will receive a few rewards and you praise Me, then that is it.'

"Well, then, this sounds as if at some point you will be bored. This is a portion of the leaven of the world? This is the seed sewn into you which puts limits on the possibilities of My blessings. This is the enemy."

Me: "Lord, I do not understand what continuous favor feels like. I do not know a blessing like this. Please forgive me for my lack. Help my thinking and remove my lack."

Jesus: "Erin, then it is done and this is good. Now, I realize your place, but it has been that way since the fall of man."

Me: "I know that I have the blessing of my daily life, my daily stability and provision from You and the blessing of consistent things. Then, out of nowhere, You will bless me when I least expect it.

"You bless me this was at least a few times a year in different ways, but I do not understand this kind of Heavenly blessing as this is difficult for my small belief to comprehend."

Jesus: "Walk with Me."

He takes my hand and walks me past the tree, over the hill, past some of the vineyards on my right and toward the overlook. This should not be confused with the 'Balustrade Overlook' in which you can see the Heavens and Earth as this is a different overlook.

All around me was the most amazing beauty and abundance. There were distant mountains, mansions, farms and estates; each with different dwellings. I saw cities, villages and small 'stops'.

I saw lakes, streams, fountains and waterfalls. I saw parks, both wooded and meadows, all covered in flowers. The smell was intoxicating. I saw blue skies, small wispy clouds of white, birds in the air and the sun. The sun was not scorching as on Earth, but rather it was pleasant and life giving.

Me: "Oops, my thoughts, Lord."

I turned for a moment as I became aware that He was studying my thoughts. He had a big smile and was finding my thoughts pleasant.

Jesus: "What is wrong with your thoughts?"

Me: "Oh, I just said the sun is 'life giving' even though it is You, the Son, that gives life."

Jesus: He laughed. "This is a great observation. You are wise now and you are turning your thoughts into layers of meaning. Now, tell Me what this valley means to you."

Me: "Lord, it is beyond anything I ever imagined it would be. I had bad thinking concerning Heaven. The world makes Heaven out to be like a Sci-Fi pictorial. In comparison, this is such a relief and I feel such peace.

"Heaven is the true vision of the Promised Land. It is so much greater than anything on Earth, even back to the Garden as this seems like Eden to me."

Jesus: He smiled. "See, Erin, there is your Home in the distance; your thoughts?"

I could see with new eyes here and, all of a sudden, things in the foreground became clearer to me. My eyes were equipped with features that eye glasses cannot provide; more like binoculars.

Me: "Lord, my eye sight; I can see more clearly. This is miraculous. You have perfected even more." I was in tears. The sobs quickly came as I realized, yet again, that, one day soon, I will wake up every day to this. "Lord, You have turned my tears of sorrow into such joy."

Jesus: "I am so glad you like this. Now I am going to go back to something you said about blessings. Tell Me more."

Me: "Lord, knowing You is my greatest gift, followed by my children and my family. I just have never known daily peace so this is hard to fathom. On Earth, my joy is turned to sorrow as blessings from You seem few and far between."

"However, here in Heaven, my sorrow turns to joy instead and I am rewarded here disproportionately. On Earth, I am punished disproportionately and it is my daily condition."

Jesus: "So this is your Promised Land and, on Earth, there is none?"

Me: "Well, on Earth, the reverse of Heaven is at work. I rent a home here and I do not own property. I have no permanent dwelling for me and my children. If I lose my job, I would be forced to take up stakes and move our tent to another city."

"Then, because I have no assets, I am viewed as 'unstable' by the world. I am a debtor to my situation. I long for this, a place where I can truly rest. Lord, I know that I will forever thank You here."

Jesus: "Hmm, this sounds like a heart condition. Is there nothing I have done for you on Earth that provokes you to praise?"

He knew that He had called me to account for something here. I thought for a moment.

Me: "Lord, forgive me. You have given me many things. I am grateful to You, even on Earth."

I felt awful and put my head down in guilt and shame.

Jesus: "I know your heart, Erin, and it is good. Did it ever occur to you that prayers and praise avails much? What if, in your trials, you praise and worship instead and Your Father in Heaven turns and gives you a grain offering and blessing."

Me: "You are right, Lord. The condition of my heart is stubborn at times."

Jesus: "Erin, stop. Look into what stubborn is. If you were stubborn, you could not have daily communion with Me. Look to the Word for 'stubborn'. Is it not also the spirit of pride, which is also the sin of witchcraft and rebellion?"

"Please also remember that this is in 1 Samuel 15:23. However, pride comes also before destruction and an arrogant spirit before a fall (Proverbs 16:18).

"Erin, if you were stiff necked like Pharaoh I could not have a relationship with you. Your words have meaning, so be careful how you choose them."

Me: "Oh Lord, I have much to learn. Forgive me."

Jesus: "Now this is more like it. Humility is good and this I can work with. Remember to never judge based on the outward appearance. I search hearts. In fact, I probe them. Remember also to be thankful when you experience trials of every kind during your life."

Me: "Lord, when I come before You, I desire to lack nothing. I do not want to be before You with a callous heart. I want so much for You to find nothing in my heart that needs surgery."

Jesus: He was laughing. "Erin, did you look at what I showed you in Ezekiel? Now, was that 37, 35 or both? What was in between that? Oh, hmm..." He was clearly teasing me.

Me: "Lord, Ezekiel 36."

Jesus: "Oh yes; now, what does it say? 'I will give you a new heart and I will put a new spirit in you.' It will no longer be stubborn."

Me: "Lord, was that not meant for the Israelites? Was that not different?"

Jesus: He was laughing. "Erin, if there are layers in the Word, then cannot there also be patterns and are these not also applicable to you today? If it were not so, why even study the Word of God today? Why would the Holy Spirit need to illuminate things for your hearts to absorb?"

"Be careful of those whose dogma will keep you only in historical texts with the Word now being dead to the context of now or in the future. This is foolish. This stems from lack.

"These people need prayers as their hearts are as stone. The Word does not live to them; it is dead. Do not entertain them or argue this. To you, Erin, the Word is living and breathing for today."

Me: "Lord, You became so serious."

Jesus: "A time will come soon when men will judge My Word. They will go back and forth with their earthly knowledge and laws. They will claim to know Me, but they lead hearts astray.

"People who long for more of Me will be on the other side of a wall filled with lies about Me. They will long for Me in their hearts, but they cannot speak this out loud for many will go to the Word and it will be dead as history on a page.

"I have called in the desert. I have said, 'Here is your Promised Land; you are welcome to enter it', yet their hearts are no different than Pharaoh's save but one; they are my people and Pharaoh was not."

Me: "Lord, are You speaking of now or times coming?"

Jesus: "Erin, you have noticed patterns. Now what is Heaven like for you? Oh yes, you said it was like Eden or even greater. Well, this is good here, now obtain wisdom. Go back to the beginning to find the model for Heaven.

"After the fall, death reverses life and all things begin to die. It is slow, but imminent, to all of mankind. So look to the beginning to find the Promised Land. Look to the end to find the future and the Pages in between are Words proclaiming Me.

"These tell of great stories of faith and perseverance. These speak in parables. They are love letters, but the greatest story is that written on your heart; the tablet of your heart."

Me: I am moved to tears even as I write. "Lord, You are so incredible, so divine and so holy. You are worthy, Lord." I reached out and placed my hand on His shoulder. "I have nothing to offer You, Lord, but I ask that Your ways be blessed.

"I request and petition for hearts to be humbled and all come to love the most amazing God. You, God, are far beyond our reach of knowledge, yet just a prayer away from us. You bless according to our needs and sometimes even answer our wants, but only because You know us better than we know ourselves.

"Who can tell me that I would be better on Earth as a human if I owned a home when, Lord, my Home is here with You and my foundation is here with You. Lord, bless You for all You are about to do for all of us." I put my hands up to my face and wept.

Jesus: "Erin, what is wrong?"

Me: "Lord, my dream from a few days ago; I have been restless since this. It was very detailed. Help me, Lord, as I know this time is coming soon. I see the troubled times in different parts of the Bible, but this is horrendous and I cannot speak it. I know this is a time away when it begins, but it is coming.”

Jesus: “Erin, everything that I do is to turn hearts away from trouble. The fall of man is not reversed on Earth, but in Heaven as, here, there is no sin. Hearts are to be refined; remember about silver. Now you have seen what I am after as I look at the heart.

“Pray, Erin, for those whose stubbornness will keep themselves behind a wall or even in a tall tower. These are the hearts that rule with an iron fist like Pharaoh and they are cold.

“Even in their own loss, like when Pharaoh even lost his cherished son, they will still pursue the children of God. This is a pattern which will repeat.

“Now their deceptions will be exposed to those who know Me. They will need to keep faith and remain faithful, but this will be out of humility and not pride.”

Me: “Lord, I am afraid.”

Jesus: “Do not be afraid. Who is in charge and where do you dwell? Ask! Remember that Heaven is a Tabernacle and that praise and worship confounds the enemy and brings about peace.”

Me: “Lord, I would like to pray for those who are right in the middle of trouble every day. Lord, I know You hear their cries, so please, Lord, help them. Please send angels to my brothers and sisters in dark areas of the world where men have removed Your Word and built walls around Your truth.

“Lord, reveal Yourself to them and send someone like Moses in every area of the globe. Then, if these evil men do not release Your people, then send plagues or wonders so they all drop to their knees and recognize You before it is too late for them. From what I can see, people will need to hear from You, Lord. Please do not be silent.”

Jesus: “A man who chooses cruelty over compassion and a stiff neck and hard heart over compassion brings destruction on his family and even a nation. Erin, in Isaiah 61, I come to set free those who have been held captive.

“Do not forget the Passover and the symbolism of My blood as a covenant. When My blood was shed, it was as a Lamb. When you take communion, you remember this. Now wisdom is proved right by her actions and this is the crossroad of choice.”

Me: "Lord, You are different today. You are very clear and direct. Can You help me with my dreams? You have clearly spoken through them. Please help me."

Jesus: "Go ahead, Erin."

Me: "Well, I was attending an event with friends. My daughter had a performance or something like this. It was in the northwest of the USA. I lived in a different region, but I traveled to see this."

"This was in a city with high brick buildings; possibly a university or perhaps Spokane? The event drew huge crowds. I saw our President (BHO in 2014) and the First Lady (MO). However, for some reason, they were there with other officials."

"It was a clear day and late in the afternoon; it seemed to be around 5:30pm Pacific Time. I was telling a group about this prophecy and then warned them of a bomb. I was outside and my daughter was in one of the buildings."

"Just then, as if in slow motion, I saw a bomb in the sky fly by. It was a long bomb; like a missile with a propeller. It was silver in body with a deep blue metallic bezel."

"The bomb hit the heart of the building and debris was flying everywhere. The bomb broke into five separate pieces, but no one was harmed. Everyone began to scream and run because the bomb might detonate, but it did not."

"There was mass panic. People thought BHO was dead. The media scrambled reports and people everywhere panicked, withdrew money, cleaned out stores and began to loot. Everything was shut down and, in the confusion, I lost my kids."

"I finally made it back to the scene to grab my daughter. We headed on foot and got rides to the Canadian border to leave. Instead, we had heard it was false and not wide spread. In my dream, though, I had warned people that this was a lie."

"I had made it back to the bomb scene to look for my sons. Then, in the sky, I saw a yellow and red missile go to the exact same spot as the first bomb."

"This did not make sense because BHO and most of the officials were now gone as it had been three days since the first bomb."

"I had collected all of my kids and began to run. You supernaturally moved us ahead of the blast, but, when it came, the bomb melted the landscape. I could not hear as a strange ping from the missile exploding came into my ears."

Jesus: "Erin, remember that dreams have different layers and meanings. They can represent something that you will not be there for or that you may be there for. These dreams can even warn you in advance so that you do not participate in an event."

"There was also symbolism in this. What did the false reports say about who launched the first bomb?"

Me: "You revealed that they thought this was from Israel. As result, the world turned against our sister. This seemed due to the color of the bomb that did not explode."

Jesus: "Oh, it was not just a matter of paint on the bomb; this was much deeper than that. Yes, so this broke apart in five pieces, but was false. It caused mass panic and was intended for the peacemaker."

"Hmm, this does not seem characteristic of Israel at all. I will let you pray on this. I will reveal more to you on what this means."

Me: "Lord, my daughter seemed to be around 15 years old or close to it, but she is only 12 right now. I had this feeling that this may have been the seventh year of the BHO's term as President, but I am not sure."

"Lord, is this the time? I thought You were coming for us before this? This makes me sad."

Jesus: "Erin, remember to look to Me for revelation. Do not look to the dream, or even the dreamer, look to Me."

Me: "But Lord, You told me you were giving me all my dreams and that all of these dreams come from You."

Jesus: "Yes, Erin, and even in your sleep I instruct You. Remember, it takes the glory of God to conceal a matter and the honor of kings to search it out. Erin, do not worry as times will come. Things will happen as this is written also. Look at Revelation. Now let's go back to the basics."

He reached down, squeezed my hand and we were in the Crystal Conservatory. The choirs were amazing and the worship so incredible. I sat there for a moment and turned to the Lord to speak.

Me: "I love You so much!"

He sat there in front of all these choirs of angels and children. The choir and music was praising Him; "Holy, Holy, Holy, is God Almighty!" I lay prostrate at His feet and worshiped Him. He had His hand on my head and then bent down to whisper to me.

Jesus: "Erin, do not forget to worship. The music, singing and even dancing will make you smile. Your heart will be filled with gladness and I will be well pleased."

Dream over...

My dream of the event with the missile appeared to take place in the late spring or early summer somewhere in the northwest part of the USA.

Dream 104 – God’s Front Door

Received Saturday, January 11, 2014

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day. Thank You for Your great love. When I think of all You have done, Lord, I stand amazed and it brings me to my knees. You are the God of Abraham, Isaac and Jacob, yet You are also my Father and Creator.

You knit my form in my mother’s womb. You have taken special care with me and I am forever Yours. Just a few years ago, I would go through the motions of praying ‘to God’, but I had no real idea to whom I was praying to.

Now, Father, You are alive to me and You live in my heart. I have seen Your face. I have seen the place You have prepared for all of us and I am speechless. I love You as much as I am humanly able, yet You love me even more than this.

Jesus: “Erin, come up.”

Today, I stood at a very large door. It had a stone arch with a huge chiseled keystone in the center, wherein the keystone supported the arch. The door was ancient. It was made of a wood not indigenous to Earth, but it was something like cedar, acacia and olive.

It was carved in geometric patterns by skilled artisans. On Earth, this would be carved by lasers. There were two parts to the door. There was a large door knocker made of bronze, but polished into a deep patina.

The knocker was in the shape of a beautiful lion. The lion had a very kind face; not scary like some are. In the mouth of the lion was a very large ring of gold. The handles to the door were very large and, since the doors were about twelve feet high, the handles were easily eighteen inches high.

The handles were heavily carved in bronze and inlaid in gold. There was a key hole. This made me smile. The keyhole was made of pearl and framed in gold. As I ran my hand over it, I wondered what type of key went in this door. There was a very bright beam of light coming through the key hole.

Me: “Lord, is that You on the other side? Will You let me in?”

I heard nothing. I stood outside a moment and thought about Scriptures pertaining to doors. I thought about my season right now and wondered about things which I had been petitioning in my heart for, but not really seeking Him on. I heard music on the other side of the door and I began to laugh.

Me: "Okay, Lord, I know You are requiring something of me."

I bent over to look inside the keyhole, but It was too bright to see inside. I thought again about things that I had battled on my own and not handed everything to Him. I looked down at the place I stood. I was at the top of a very large scaled set of stairs.

I was at the entrance to a very large estate. My eyes focused and I began to look around me. I realized that this was one of the doors into the actual House of God. My heart pounded. I looked down at what I was wearing.

I was wearing a beautiful gown of linen and silk which went down to my ankles. On my feet were golden leather sandals, similar to espadrilles. There were strands of gold woven over my feet in a crisscross pattern and up my calves.

My bodice of the dress was neatly gathered and woven with blue and gold braided cords. My forearms were woven with the same detail and the weave went across the top of my hands and around my finger. My hair was long and braided.

I reached up and touched the top of my head. While I could not see it, I felt something like a pearl woven into my hair. I also felt a pearl hanging down on my forehead. I was dressed beautifully. Now I wondered to myself, 'What occasion is this?' I then started to think...

Me: 'What if I came early? What if I am late? What if He does not know I am out here?'

I began to laugh. Okay, this is ridiculous. He is God and He sees all, so I know that He knows I am here. I sat down for a moment on the front step. I faced the most incredible scene my eyes had ever seen. I saw the beautiful Garden of God below.

I looked around and saw all the high mountain peaks around me. I began to laugh and then, just as quickly, I started to cry. The tears were brought on when I literally saw 'the cattle on a thousand hills'. Then I went back to laughing and shook my head.

Me: "He really does own the cattle on a thousand hills."

I just petitioned Him this week and used this in my prayer. I saw pastures of green velvet grass. I saw flocks of sheep in the distance. I saw a beautiful lake and the River of Life flowed into it. The lake sparkled like diamonds. I just knew that there must be diamond sand at the bottom.

I saw fountains flowing from distant areas in the Garden. Way past the forested trees and the beautiful path, I saw the Glass Conservatory in the distance. It was beautiful. In the air around me, there was something like a mist. The temperature was cool and crisp, but, miraculously, I was not cold.

I saw a grove of olives at the base of one of the mountains. The grove had paths of stone pavers going through it. It looked like the glorified version of the Mount of Olives in Israel. My eyes had so much to take in that I found myself wanting to share all of this with the Lord. I was becoming excited to see Him.

I turned back to these beautiful double doors. I thought to myself again.

Me: "What if I came to the back door?"

I looked to the sides, but, because this place was so massive, I had no way to see the other doors. I began to look around for the key to let myself in. I stopped and began to laugh.

Me: "Perhaps He placed the key under a pot."

I looked to what was next to the doors. Flanking them were two extremely large stone planters with something like a sculpted box wood tree. These were about as tall as the door. There were beautiful, fragrant white jasmine and something like gardenias trailing from underneath the trees.

The pots themselves were easily four feet square and the stone was something like lapis lazuli and concrete combined; very beautiful. I began to laugh so hard. There was no way I could check under the pots.

As I looked around again, I noticed the stairs dropped down to another landing with pots; and then another. There were very large stone channels about three feet wide flanking the stairs. Water flowed in these channels and the sound was amazing.

The channels were lined with hammered gold sheets or maybe even solid gold, but it made the water appear to be liquid gold. It was incredible. I looked down in the channels and I saw small white fish.

They looked like pearl onions with feathered fins and tails. They had blue eyes. I saw small sea shells in the channels. These were white as snow and looked like a small conch shell with spikes. I reached in and picked up one.

When I pulled it out, I thought I heard the laughter of a child. I turned the shell over to see the little animal inside. It was bright blue and it dripped something like blue Azul ink. The ink dropped on the stone pavers leading up to the door.

Worried that I hurt the little sea shell, I said I was sorry and put it back into the water. I looked around me and I was worried. I looked down and saw the beautiful blue ink on the pavers. It was the color of my robe.

The ink dissolved and disappeared before my very eyes. I was relieved. I was trying to figure out how I was going to explain marking God's entrance with the blue ink of that seashell.

I was shaking my head and becoming a bit impatient. I looked at the door carefully. I must have been there for an hour or more waiting.

Me: I thought. "Hmm, it is not like the Lord to make me wait. Wait, yes, it is exactly like the Lord to make me wait here.

Holy Spirit: Inside my chest. "It takes the glory of God to conceal a matter and the honor of kings to search it out."

Me: "Holy Spirit, is that You?"

Holy Spirit: "Yes, Erin, I am here. Where are you?"

Me: "That is an odd question, Lord?"

Holy Spirit: "Really? Think about this and use your new gift of wisdom."

I was laughing. I looked at the doors again. I laughed so hard that I could barely stand up.

Me: "Oh Lord, I know what You are doing. Oh my goodness, this is Matthew 7:7, is it not?"

I shouted it out. As I was laughing, I picked up my dress, almost like a habit, and I ran up the stairs to the doors. I reached up and used both of my hands to grab the knocker. The knocker was the beautiful ring inside of the mouth of the bronze lion.

I knocked three times and I pressed my cheek on the side of the door. Perhaps I could hear Him walking? I heard music in the distance and it was a full orchestra. I then heard the door begin to open. It was a beautiful Angel there to greet me.

Me: "Hi, I am Erin. I am here to see the Lord."

Angel: "Hmm, wait just a moment..." The door partially closed. I heard two Angels discussing something. Then the door opened. "Yes, He is expecting you."

Me: "I am sorry I was late. I did not know what to do as He usually has me come in a different..." Then I began to look around me.

Angel: "You are right when He was expecting you; not too soon and not too late. Come with me."

We were in an entrance that was beyond human thought. I will try my best, but I am not sure I will be able to describe this. The floor was made of what I recognize as Jerusalem Stone. These pavers were very large, but the depth was greater than that on Earth. They were so perfectly chiseled.

There was a translucent quality to them. I could see into them, but I could not tell the depth. I realized that I was in God's front entry. There were tears streaming from my eyes. As my tears hit the pavers, the tears chimed like a bell.

Each tear had a different tone and note. Each tear illuminated in colors as they hit the stone. I bent down and untied my sandals. Then I shook my head as I realized that my shoes were in the middle of the path.

Me: I talked to myself. "Erin, we are in Heaven. No one, especially God, is going to trip over my shoes."

The pavers tied into a beautiful rug that looked Persian in design. The end tassels were beautiful and were made with linen and silver cords. The rug itself was a combination of colors; deep blue, navy blue and royal blue.

It had beautiful crimson and ivory geometric designs in it. The rug was thick like a Tibetan rug and the softest sheared wool that I have ever felt in my life. I stared at it.

Me: "Wow, this is just God's entry rug. It must have taken many earthly years to weave this? How..."

Angel: "Erin, come."

He was laughing, but he knew I would be there all day. There was a beautiful iron entry light made of faceted crystals and blown glass with the most incredible dripless wax candles. I thought this was funny because God certainly would not need an entry chandelier. Indeed, why would He even need lights?

Yet, as we walked down the hall, I saw tables with lights on them; beautiful lamps no less. Now, I love lamps, but I have never seen anything like these lamps. Fascinating; there were no cords needed for an electrical outlet. This made sense to me.

I saw quality in these lamps, like Chapman, but even much greater than those. They were beautiful. There were six large columns on each side of the corridor. The columns were at least four feet in circumference and made of something like natural uncut stone, perhaps unpolished marble, but very beautiful.

The base of each column had a pedestal and the area between that and the base, the 'die', was overlaid in carved cedar. The base was bronze. Each column was met by arcades, which are arched features that attached each column at the top.

Each column had a capital made of hammered bronze and the frieze or entablature above the capital had beautiful carved bronze pomegranates. I was in wonder as the very pages of my college architectural text books were literally coming alive.

There was so much more though. Between each architrave, there were long drapes of silk in white from the top to the floor. The columns were about thirty feet high and the architrave and above to the cornice-like area to the ceiling were easily another seven feet. The hallway itself was about twenty feet wide.

As I walked, I reached over and touched the silk drapes. The drapes were mysteriously blowing from a hidden wind source and I could not feel a breeze. As my hand touched the silk and linen drapes, a faint damask pattern illuminated, but in a faint blue and almost like iridescence.

In fact, as I walked down the hall, the fabric patterns illuminated. Then, after I walked past, they simply disappeared. The pattern was geometric, but also a type of damask. This is very difficult to describe as I have never seen a pattern like this.

As I walked, I barely caught glimpses of what was on the other side of the curtain arches. The curtains were covering my view. I was lagging behind the Angel. At one point, I even must have been bouncing and skipping like a child.

I then saw one of my favorite things; jasmine tree in large pots. They had small white lights and the fragrance was incredible. I looked back at the front door to see how far we had walked and I smiled as I saw my tears illuminating a winding path down the entry. I had not even realized that I had been crying so much.

Finally, we arrived to a courtyard through arched double-crystal doors made of cedar and acacia. The woodwork was truly incredible. I saw that there were many such doors leading into this area. They were beautiful and stained a deep walnut with amber tones.

The walls on the inside of the Home looked something like 'Earth-Crete', a combination of plaster and a bonding agent, but, instead, this plaster was made of quartz crystals and hand troweled. The walls were smooth and luminescent and the color was light.

I would guess that colors on the walls would compete with the craftsmanship of the things inside; like the floors, rugs, columns and other items. The Angel walked me out to the courtyard. There were beautiful fountains all over. The water came from holes in the floor of the courtyard.

Up above, there were balconies and other rooms. The sounds and smells were Heavenly. There, under a beautiful arched, was a 'Dome of the Rock' type gazebo with a table covered in linen. However, and more excitingly by far; there was Jesus!

I ran through the arches of the fountain. He got up and walked down the platform and stairs to greet me. He was wearing a long tunic and pants; all white linen. He wore a large woven sash of blue and silver thread. His hair was long and wavy.

His tunic sleeves were rolled up. He looked perfectly casual; a 'casual King'. I ran straight to Him as fast as I could and hugged Him. Of course, and as per usual it seems, I still had not stopped crying.

Me: "I was afraid You had shut the doors on me, Lord."

Jesus: He was laughing. "Erin, what did you do this time? Is there something worthy here of having you outside the door to stew?"

Me: I was laughing, but then this turned into tears. "Lord, what if I did something wrong? You know I am not perfect. What if..."

Jesus: He stopped me and was smiling. "Shush, Erin, this is foolish. Have you done something worthy of being thrown out of the Kingdom? Did you not just listen to the Holy Spirit? Did you denounce the Holy Spirit? I think not!

"There is only one such way that you could stand outside the Kingdom. Do you not listen to the voice of the One who loves you? Am I not in you?"

Then, unless you remove the Counselor, your Holy Guide, My Spirit in you, how could this be?"

Me: "Okay, Lord, You have a great point. I was afraid I had missed the appointed time?"

Jesus: "Okay, so, did I say, 'Erin, come up'?" Then He crossed His arms and looked up. "Hmm, I believe I did. So was this not the appointed time?"

Me: "Lord, you did not greet me at the door and the door was not open. I thought You were mad at me."

Jesus: "Interesting. A closed door can sure bring many thoughts. Did you try the handle and just walk in?"

Me: "Lord, no, this would have been rude and I cannot do this. I was not in danger. I was in beautiful clothes by Your invitation and there was no sign saying come in."

Jesus: "Interesting. However, you still looked for a key to unlock the door, did you not?"

He was smiling and teasing me at the same time. He knew exactly what I would do.

Me: "Yes. Finding a key to Your door is fruitless. Everything is so large and heavy outside that I could not move anything to look for a key."

Jesus: He was laughing. "Erin, remember the mustard seed. If you had faith like the size of even one, you could say to the flower pot, 'Move', and it would move."

Me: I was laughing. "Okay, Lord, You have me; I concede."

Jesus: "So, what finally prompted you to tap into the Holy Spirit?"

Me: I was laughing. "I had exhausted my options and I would have been out there for hours."

Jesus: "Okay, so, you only tapped into the Holy Spirit when you were out of options? All these times with Me so far and this is as far as you have come? Oh, Father, help Me; what do I do here?" He was laughing as He raised His arms up to the sky in fake exasperation.

Me: "Oh Lord..." I was laughing so hard that my tears continued to stream. "...forgive me."

Jesus: He was still laughing too. "Come on up here, Erin. Let's talk and have communion."

Me: "Lord, is it time for communion with You? Are You coming?"

Jesus: "Erin, relax and read that Scripture again. What did I say to the disciples? Where are you? We are not in your living room. I am not sitting physically with you there."

He was smiling as He waved for an Angel to pour wine into His glass. He sipped the wine and motioned for the Angel to pour some into my glass.

Me: I was smiling. "Lord, why do You test the wine first before having this poured into my glass? After all, the wine would always be perfect here. Is it not also harvested here in Heaven and watered from the River of Life? Is it not always perfect?"

I was laughing a bit, confident in my thinking that I finally had one on Him.

Jesus: He was laughing. "Erin, it is for you. Do you not enjoy knowing that I am your cup bearer also and not just a King?"

Me: "But, Lord, in Heaven, there is no need for a cup bearer, is there?"

Jesus: He was smiling. "Ah yes, you are thinking of an earthly occupation with deadly consequences. I bear another type of cup, as I did on Earth. This you know as you often drink from this same cup.

"This is to show My love for you, Erin. You must know that I will, and have, drunk from the cup before you do. Then I approve you to drink from your cup, but I sit beside you in this and we drink together."

Me: "Oh Lord, a simple kind gesture with You has so much meaning. This is amazing. You are amazing. So now, are we going to eat the bread of affliction together?"

He had an Angel bring a large bread board with two types of bread. One of the breads was like a pita flat bread and the other bread was like a raised French bread.

Jesus: "Interesting question, Erin. Now, which one would you like? There is oil, olives, and butter also."

Me: "Lord, should You not be eating only the flat one?"

Jesus: He was smiling. "Erin, do you know why I am choosing both?"

Me: "Well, I know; because You taught me that, when the Israelites had to flee quickly to get away from Pharaoh, there was no time to raise the bread. This meant that they needed to have bread with no yeast."

Jesus: "So why call this the bread of affliction?"

Me: "Well, Lord, You gave bread as a symbol of Your body. You took communion with the disciples. It was a foreshadowing of Your afflictions and broken body. We take communion to remember what You did for us."

Jesus: "Very good, Erin, but we are now here. Why conform to this tradition? It is symbolic of the Jews and remembered by the Gentiles, but, here, can we not just eat good bread?"

Me: "I like both types actually, Lord." He started to laugh at this. "After all, You did say, 'I am the bread of life and whoever comes to Me will never be hungry again and whoever believes in Me will never be thirsty.'"

Jesus: "Very good, Erin. So I guess, since you are dining here with Me, we do not need to worry about the types of bread." He continued to eat as more food was served. "Oh, I have a question for you."

Me: "Yes, Lord?"

Jesus: "You quoted Me above with such faith, yet you lack this. Why?"

Me: "Lord, You are right. I expected to be delivered from my trials instantly. I had faith to believe You would do this quickly."

Jesus: "So then, let's discuss you at the front door. Why did it take you so long to just ask, seek and knock? Why was this so difficult?"

Me: "Lord, well, I guess the bright side of this can be found in Revelations 3:20, right? At least if You knocked on my front door, I would let You in without hesitation."

Jesus: "Hmm, this is both interesting and thought provoking. So when I knock at your door, you will let Me in. However, if you need help or you are asking, you will not knock at the door, knowing Scripture says I will open it? Erin, seriously?" He looked hurt for a moment.

Me: "Oh Lord, please forgive me. What is wrong with me that I so quickly forget? I see only the obstacles and I do not look to You. Well, actually I do, but I confess that, when You do not do as I expect, then I grumble or act on my own."

Jesus: "Erin, this is what I look for. There are two types of forward moving. One way of moving forward is for you do on your own, with no one beside you, wherein you move ahead of God.

"Then there is another way of moving forward. This is one which requires a forward move of faith and a step out. Erin, there is a time to wait and pray and then there is a time to act and pray."

Me: "Lord, should I wait and pray or act and pray? I am not always that obedient."

Jesus: "You must wait on the voice of God, Erin. When you hear My voice, then move and move quickly. There is a word for this; 'Kadima'. If the Israelites did not walk and move forward when the Red Sea parted for them, exposing dry ground, then they would have been consumed by Pharaoh and taken back to work as slaves.

"Their courage to move forward and walk on faith with two massive walls of water on either side, possibly ready to consume them, required both faith and courage. You stood at my door, yet you were afraid to even knock."

Me: "Lord, I was not afraid; I simply forgot."

Jesus: "Erin, how long would you have sat outside My door?"

Me: "Oh Lord, if I had not heard from the Holy Spirit, then probably until You came on the clouds."

Jesus: "This is not too far off, but still this is a long time to wait and is unnecessary. This was a good lesson for you, yes?"

Me: "Yes, Lord. I feel like an Israelite right now. Here I saw all these miracles on my behalf, but I can do nothing without You. You are my pillar of light in the desert."

Jesus: "Interesting words. Erin, do you remember that there were two routes to the Promised Land? It was a pillar of cloud by day and fire by night on an indirect course. Why did I not take them on the shortest course?"

Me: "So You could show your miraculous power."

Jesus: "No, there is more than this. It was so they came to realize they were chosen by the King of kings and the Lord of lords. They were children of God, not slaves. They only knew slavery."

Me: "Lord, I did not suffer like they did, but I think like they do. I think like a slave rather than a child of God."

Jesus: "Erin, this is common. Be careful to not stay in the desert longer than necessary because you fail to hear Me. Also, stay clear of naysayers. These were brought by the enemy to thwart your joy and rob you of who you are in Me.

"Erin, you are a daughter of the King and a Bride. You are royalty and belong here in Heaven. Do not be robbed or deceived. Remember, ask, seek and knock. I also saw you looking around outside. You laughed with joy at seeing the cattle on the hills."

Me: "Lord, then You saw me the whole time? This is in the Psalms! Psalm 50 was in my petition."

Jesus: "Erin, are you asking?"

Me: "Yes, Lord, I am."

Jesus: "Then this is granted. Believe it. Now I have more to show you, but this is enough for today. You are loved."

Me: "I love You, Lord. Thank You for dinner."

Jesus: "Oh, this is not over..."

Dream 105 – God’s House & the Mirror

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day with You here. Thank You for all that I have. Thank You for my family and dear friends. Thank You for showing me that You are my pillar, my rock, my door and my key.

I am amazed by Your love. I am so blessed by Your presence and honored to be Your child. Though I am poor in body, I am wealthy in heart. You have forever changed me.

Jesus: “Erin, come up.”

Immediately, I am standing at the top of the stairs overlooking God’s Garden below. I was started as I have been used to coming to Him through the Portal instead.

I must admit that the ‘interior designer’ in me could not wait to see more of the Lord’s Home. The quality of the structure could not even be replicated on Earth. It would take men an impossible amount of time just to design and build the entryway alone.

I had so many questions for Jesus today. It was so beautiful in this valley; peaceful and abundant. It is a place special to God and made especially for Him and no one else.

I smiled as I looked over to my right and left to the hills with cattle on them. If I stand here thinking about the earthly dollar value to place on this property and His Mansion, I can’t help but laugh as there is no dollar value that could be placed on this.

If I really put some thought into the value, there are so many things to take into account. For example, the temperature and conditions are always perfect. The structure itself is way beyond any earthly building ever made. All in all, I surrender as I realize that putting an earthly value on this Mansion would be simply impossible.

It would be similar to trying to put a value on His love for us. While our love has its limits, His love is limitless with no measure. I laughed to myself as I thought about this. I was still smiling as I turned to the front door and noticed that, this time, it was slightly open.

Me: "Hmm, Lord, is this a test?"

I said this to myself although I already know all too well that He hears all of our thoughts. As I look at the door, I wonder if I should simply open the door wider and walk right in. I hesitated for a moment.

Me: "What if He is not ready for me? Well, that is silly as He already said to me, 'Erin, come up.' I need to tap into my new gift of wisdom."

Just as I began to open the door, I decided to stop as I could overhear angels talking. However, as I could also hear the orchestra playing in the background, I just knew He was expecting me.

I decided to try the knocker on the door instead. I pounded the ring in the lion's mouth three times and then stood there waiting. My Heart was pounding and I heard footsteps coming toward me. A large angel greeted me at the door with a smile.

Angel: "You must be Erin?"

Me: "Yes."

Angel: "Come in then. He is waiting for you in the Courtyard."

I was so amazed at His Home that I almost forgot to slip off my sandals as I entered. I removed them and my bare feet touched the warm stone. Tears began to flow again as I thought about my low position as a woman of God. I doubted even belonging there, yet here I am with my feet touching Holy Ground.

I was overwhelmed and became frightened for a moment. I dropped down on my knees and kissed the stone ground in respect for Jesus. I rested my cheek on the ground as tears streamed down my cheeks onto the beautiful floor.

Angel: "Erin, go tell the Lord."

I lay there for quite a few minutes, almost frozen there as I simply did not feel worthy to be here. I was dressed beautifully and, up here, I dine with the King. However, down on Earth, I am in constant oppression by my enemies.

I opened my eyes and I saw two of the most amazing feet in sandals. I felt a hand on my shoulder as Jesus bent down to me. He spoke so compassionately to me that the tears continued.

Jesus: "Erin, what is wrong? Please come up."

I went back up to my knees and He reached down to hug me.

Jesus: "Please tell Me what is wrong. You should be joyful here."

I knew He knew, but I was crying so hard that I could not speak.

Jesus: "Come on, Erin, I have prepared a place for you next to Me. Are you hungry?"

I nodded and He held my hand as we walked down this beautiful entry. I was in the Palace of God and I became overwhelmed again. I saw many things which I just knew had amazing stories behind them. Everything here was designed and decorated with symbolism.

The artwork and the furnishings, all of it, were so welcoming, yet no less the Palace of the highest ranking wealthiest King in all of Heaven and Earth. As we walked, my attention was drawn to something on one of the entry tables. I paused briefly to look again.

Jesus: "Erin, do you see something of interest?"

I was still, quiet, in tears and felt like a small child. He saw that I was looking at. I walked over to the table and picked this particular item up. I became excited and confused both as it was a hand mirror from a dream that I had last week. I was surprised to see it here in His House.

The mirror was gold and heavily engraved. It was unique as the mirror itself was designed in sections. The center of the section was a diamond about seven inches high and three inches wide; just enough to see your reflection. Then around this there were six other sections.

Jesus: "Go ahead, Erin, bring this with you."

I held the mirror in my left hand and Jesus held my right. I began to smile and giggle as we walked by these unusual drapes. They illuminated so brightly when Jesus walked by them. He looked over with a smile and I smiled back, but suddenly felt so shy.

I felt a bit embarrassed that I had broken down at the door of His Home. I was afraid and I did not feel like a worthy guest.

As we neared the doors to the courtyard, I paused again at the walls. I was giggling to myself as I realized that other Heaven travelers had mistaken this as plasma or something you could see through. These were not at all transparent, but I could easily see how this could have been misunderstood.

I could see that the walls appeared to be made up of crushed quartzite, marble dust and some sort of bonding agent. I am not sure how I know this, but I am quite sure it was knowledge from my Holy Spirit. The walls were so beautiful. He laughed when He noticed my thoughts on me 'figuring out' the walls.

Jesus: "Erin, you are my delight."

Me: This warmed my heart. Quietly I replied. "Thank You, Lord."

We then walked out into the beautiful courtyard. Under architraves in another room adjacent to the courtyard, there was a live orchestra of angels. They were behind more of these beautiful flowing sheets or drapes.

There was beautiful greenery and vines with flowers trailing from the balconies above down to the courtyard. There were fountains that formed arches. There was also a water wall in one area which trickled into channeled pools.

This courtyard was about one hundred feet by one hundred feet square. There were arched doors that led into the courtyard. Through these arched doors on one side, I could see out to the most incredible view of Heaven and the City of Gold. It looked similar to landscape paintings by an artist named Maxfield Parish.

We appeared around the time of sunset as the City reflected colors of gold, blue, pink and purple. It was so beautiful. The way I figured it, I had already been crying so much, a few more tears would not hurt.

He walked us under these water arches. I wanted to put my hand in them. He knew that I was curious to do this as He reads every thought we have.

Jesus: "Go ahead, Erin, and see?"

Just as He said that, He put His hand in the water arch and I followed. The water was cool, but not cold. Now here is the impossible part; the water arch neither broke nor splattered on our clothes. This made me giggle. He beamed when He saw me smile.

As He smiled, He assisted me up to the gazebo. He always behaved as a perfect gentleman would; such poise and posture, yet still so much fun to be with.

I laughed at the sight of the gazebo again, which I will explain why later. The gazebo was about ten feet in diameter and there were four columns and two stairs leading up. There was a table with a white linen tablecloth with two chairs waiting for us so that we could dine there. I noticed that more chairs could fit around the table if He desired too.

We sat next to each other facing the fountains and the orchestra. It was one of the most beautiful places I have ever seen. I have seen many courtyards, verandas and private gardens in earthly homes, but nothing even close to this.

I smiled when I thought about why He chose me to describe this. Well, since I have been to some amazing homes and served some wealthy clients with their projects, I have seen enough that I know real quality versus mere pretense.

Jesus: "Erin, your thoughts?"

Me: "Lord, forgive me, but I have so many thoughts about all of this. First, though, I am honored to be your guest here and have never even imagined such a beautiful place in all my travels. Well, in reality, I have not really traveled that much, but I have designed many interiors for all of the different kinds of homes down there.

"Lord, none of the homes on Earth are anything close to this and I have worked on a lot of very expensive earthly mansions in my time and still do. You are truly the King of kings and the Lord of lords, but, even though I was not sure what to expect, I think there may be some people out there who would expect You to not even need a Home.

"What I mean by this is that some people may believe You have no need for a 'dwelling place' as You would sit on Your Throne and all of Heaven would be Your Home. While the City of Gold is where Your Throne is, this Home is just so welcoming and so inviting, but yet uniquely You. How is this even possible?"

He was laughing. I heard a few of the angels laughing quietly at this as well.

Jesus: "So does the Scripture say in my House there are many Rooms or Mansions?"

Me: "Lord, I have read it several different ways, but what I had believed was that Heaven is Your House and that You have prepared Mansions for us where You dwell. However, some believe this means You have built a big apartment complex and each of us will have a room there in Your Building."

Jesus: "This sounds interesting, but modified. Be careful of script such as this. The enemy would love to paint Heaven as a slum and I as the 'slum Lord'. This is not Scriptural. Now you have seen this with your own eyes. Tell Me what you see."

Me: "I see a beautiful, warm palace. Palaces always seem so special as they have vast amounts of marble and ornate gold furniture, yet most of the palaces I have seen are also gaudy as if meant to display wealth like a trophy of a man's power and wealth."

"However, Your Palace is different and, if I did not know You and You were a client I had never met, I would only need to look at the exquisite property. You own cattle on a thousand hills. You own vineyards, lakes and olive groves."

"The grounds are beautiful in a relaxed natural way, yet some areas are groomed and sculpted like the angels had creative license to trim hedges." This made Jesus laugh. "The entrance is not polished slippery marble, but natural stone in an unpolished state."

"The channels of water are lined with hammered gold for effect. This is not to display wealth, but rather to illuminate the water fixture. The door could have also been overlaid in gold, but it would have served no real purpose."

"The beauty of the wood, since You were, and are, a carpenter, makes perfect sense to me. Someone showing off instead would have more marble, gold and ornate scroll work than wood just because they can. I have only to look at Your door knocker with the kind-faced lion to know that a 'kind-faced' Home Owner dwells there."

Jesus: Smiling. "So tell Me more about this 'client King' based on when you first walked in My House?"

Me: "Well, I was greeted by a kind angel. As I walked inside, I could tell that everything I was looking at was priceless. For example, the Jerusalem Stone was hand fit and precisely laid. On Earth, such chiseling could have only come from a machine as each piece was a perfect fit."

"I recognized the pattern on the floor as a Versailles pattern, yet I know Your Home is older than the term for it. The stone was, and is, warm. I believe it is naturally like this as it would be impossible from human sources to warm such thick stone so evenly.

“Therefore, the stone itself simply has to be of Heavenly origins, yet divinely symbolic. As for the walls, I already gave You my best guess in my thoughts. They are incredibly fascinating. If I were a painter like Michelangelo, I would need no prep work on this.

“I could paint directly on this and my painting would have incredible depth. The columns, I believe, must be a model for the Temple, but I am uncertain of this.

“These sheets or curtains are of such complex fibers that the linen and silk actually seem to have fiber optics of some sort that illuminate with our passing body warmth. This is truly amazing true. Then there is this rug and, oh, the furniture!”

He sat and studied me. He nodded His head in agreement and smiled.

Jesus: “You are wise about some of this. I am glad that you observed so well, but you missed a few things. Do you know that I created the blueprint for this Home, but that skilled artisans dedicated their works here in order to honor Me?”

“There are things here even from those on Earth who created things with their whole heart and dedicated back to Me. That beautiful rug is just one of many. Erin, have you ever felt anything finer?”

Me: “No, it is amazing.”

Jesus: “This was made by an entire family over the course of many years on Earth. They had dedicated the rug to Me. They lived as slaves and were paid pennies. They worked so hard and then the rug and their belongings were pillaged.

“The rug was then sold by thieves. However, now where is the rug? It is here, Erin, so that one day they can come and visit and see that their dedication was not forgotten.”

Me: “Lord, this is incredible. So everything that I am seeing here is a replica glorified of things on Earth that slaves made for Your glory?”

Jesus: “Yes and no as some artisans already also dwell here. I searched them out at My request for the commission of certain things. Everything here does have meaning to Me and I know each and every person by name. Their gifts honor Me.

"My House is filled with stories and there is nothing here that is meaningless to Me. It is not made for man's display, but for Me. I will show you more as I know that you will enjoy the different areas based on your gifts."

Me: "Your Home is like a museum."

Jesus: "No, Erin, museums are for public display. This is for Me and My guests." He was laughing. "But, yes, you will get some history lessons here."

Me: "It is also state of the art though as I am seeing things that have no earthly explanation. For example, I see both lamps and chandeliers in Your Home. Lord, why would You need a chandelier?"

Jesus: He was laughing. "Erin, I enjoy lamps. Here, no electrical cords are needed. You will enjoy this."

"Now, we have a matter to address. What is going on with you? Why are you downcast? I even left the front door wide open for you this time. Why did you not just walk in?"

Me: "Lord, I did not want to be rude again or presume. What if I had opened the door and come in boldly and unannounced?"

Jesus: "Erin, I called you up here."

Me: "Forgive me, Lord, as I thought You were testing me."

Jesus: He was laughing. "Yes, I suppose I was, in a way, but you still did not ask for instructions, right?"

Me: "You have me here, Lord. You are right; I did not ask."

Jesus: "Now, why am I taking you through this again? I would like you to spend the next seven earthly days practicing Matthew 7:7. See if I do not open your doors. Erin, do not make things more complex; simply come to Me. Come as you are. Now what happened when the angel greeted you at the door today?"

Me: "I stepped inside and realized that my feet were on holy ground. Your Home is holy ground, Lord."

Jesus: He laughed. "Erin, all of Heaven is holy ground."

Me: "Lord, I am in Your House as a guest. I realize that I am just a small woman of little earthly worth. I do nothing of any value to deserve such clothing or even an invitation to the King's Home."

Jesus: "Okay, this is notable. I understand your thinking and the roots of the births of such thoughts, but I am not just a Groom and King. Erin, I am also your friend. I make it My business to know you. Unlike an earthly king, I spend time to know you.

"The things in My Home are made by people I know and love. An earthly King does not take the time to know the craftsmen. You know this, Erin, as clients that have hired you for a job just want you to do your job at a set date.

"After the job is completed, they are done with you unless, of course, there is a problem." I was laughing as He was right; as always. "With Me, I take time to know you."

Me: "Lord, You know me much longer than this. You already know me. In reality, You are really doing all of this so that I am able to know Your heart."

Jesus: "Very good, Erin, very good. Now have some food."

There were all types of food in front of me. There were foods I did not recognize, but I knew I would love. He designed the menu just for me as I was also here as His guest. He knew what I loved and had everything there ready for me.

Jesus: As we ate. "Erin, you picked up that hand mirror. Tell Me the story on that."

Me: "Well, I had a dream earlier in the week about this mirror. I was living in an area that had to be rebuilt after a disaster. There were large subdivisions and each subdivision was according to class.

"Some subdivisions had high-end homes, some had middle class homes and some had very low end homes. However, the people, regardless of class, seemed to be cooperating with each other.

"The middle class sectors had taken the worse hits and these homes were in the worse shape. I lived in a place called 'Quartz Stone'. These homes were small, but pretty. All of the homes had been pillaged by invaders.

"The pillagers had taken everything of value and, what they did not want, they threw into a community pit, like a dump. This dump was a place where you could dig for things to use. Many of the subdivisions were pillaged.

"I noticed that all of the mirrors were smashed and destroyed. I was digging in this excavation site to find some toys for my kids to play with and I already had quite a pile of Legos for them.

"I then overheard two ladies from the high end sector say, 'You won't believe what I found? I found a small compact mirror.' The other lady said, 'Oh, keep this hidden as it is quite valuable.'

"I was laughing as I continued to dig. I had not seen myself in a mirror for a while. Just then I dug out the very same hand mirror as the one in Your Home, but this one did not have gold on it.

"The mirror was covered in mud. I quickly hid it in order to look at it closer later. I could not believe my find and I was afraid someone would steal my treasure if they saw it. Indeed, I knew they would have."

Jesus: "I went over this with you after the dream, but tell me again what you thought this meant."

Me: "I kept the mirror so I could see myself more clearly and also because of its high value."

Jesus: "Yes, and this is what I said, 'There will be a day when others are unable to see themselves; even when given a mirror they cannot see themselves. When they do, it is a small reflection. They continue to gaze but they cannot find themselves.'

"Erin, you have not seen yourself for some time because you had died to yourself. Erin, this is a great reflection to have. Tell Me more about this mirror."

Me: "It was very large and there were seven sections with a large diamond in the center. The diamond was large enough that I could see my reflection in it unbroken. I thought the mirror was odd."

Jesus: "Now what did I tell you about this mirror?"

Me: "Well, at first I left this detail out of my personal dream as insignificant, but you showed me that there is more to it. When I gaze into the diamond, I can see myself unobstructed."

Jesus: "What was that shape again?"

Me: "Diamond."

Jesus: "Now gaze into that mirror again and show Me what you see."

I began to cry. I saw my glorified face and I was dressed as a princess. I had no makeup as I did not need any here. I was simply flawless in Heaven. I did not even have evidence of a puffy face from crying.

I put the mirror down really quickly as I did not want to appear vain. Jesus laughed so hard at my reaction.

Jesus: "Go ahead, Erin, see what I see. You feel you might need to dig so deep to see what I see. You even go to a burial site to dig deep. Do you not see what I do in you?"

"You are a prize. Now look at Me. Look into My eyes." I turned and His eyes were so beautiful. "Erin, look into them." Just then, I saw my reflection in His eyes.

Me: "I can see myself in Your eyes." I was smiling and laughing.

Jesus: "Good. I can see Myself in your eyes too. There is more to this mirror also, but please do not doubt who you are."

Me: "Lord, You knew I was like this from the beginning. I am trying, but I have been raised by the world views of who I am supposed to be. I am asking for help.

"I asked for wisdom, but only You, Lord, have the ability to change me and my thinking. I am slow, but I just do not want to be like the mirror. James 1:23. Lord, please help me as I so easily forget."

Jesus: "Erin, you are here and you are not double minded. It is okay to express doubt. You have heard correctly when you hear promises and blessings come from My mouth, but you often wonder if this is meant for you or someone else.

"You also wonder if you heard Me correctly. Erin, you did. Now, I want you to feel comfortable coming to My House as I have spent much time in yours. Erin, I have given you the gift of knowing who I am and have answered your calls.

"Now I gave you a calling. You sat in silent tears and waited on Me. Now I will deliver you from these hardships in a way you think not. It will be divine and you will never doubt Me again. Soon your obstacles will be removed."

Me: "Lord, You have shown me wonderful things, but the greatest thing I have been shown is Your love. Your heart is massive, Lord, and I am forever blessed by Your presence."

Jesus: "Oh Erin, wait until you see what I have planned for each of you. I have more to show you." Smiling. "Will you come back?"

Me: "That depends; will You leave the door open for me?" He was laughing so hard at this.

Jesus: "Yes, but next time just come through the open door as this is a lesson in faith, Erin."

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day. Thank You for loving me and my children. Thank You for all that we have. You have blessed me beyond measure. I have much to be thankful for, Lord.

I remember back some time ago that I had a dream of the gift of a tree. The tree had a beautiful branch structure and it was a gift from You. One week ago, I saw a beautiful tree in a shopping area. I laughed because one would only expect a tree as beautiful as this to be in Your Garden, yet, here it was, planted within the asphalt.

I stared at the tree for quite some time. You would later download the image of this ‘shopping mall tree’ to me on occasion. As a matter of fact, You downloaded this image to me several times just last week.

Now I know why You did this. As my birthday is approaching in a few days, there are a couple things I recently noted about this date that I would remember as a child.

First, it is in January and right in the middle of winter. Trees sleep and, in a way, they are a lot like bears in hibernation. It is a time of rest.

Second, it seemed to fall at the very worst time imaginable for a child that loves gifts. My relatives would simply give me gifts at Christmas and then tell me that this was for my birthday too.

As a child, what this always translated to me instead was, ‘I want to forget your birthday when it comes around because I am busy and this is more convenient for me.’

As I got older, this became almost comical. Finally, I requested that no one send me any more gifts for my birthday and that my gifts at Christmas would suffice. This helped to remove the sting of my insignificance and it released them from the burden of remembering me.

The tree that the Lord has shown me is beautiful and the branch structure is good. The tree has not budded yet, yet I know my season and I pray for blossoms.

I love when the Lord makes things blossom. Lord, I thank You today for my friends and loved ones. I thank You for the promise of a winter tree. Lord, I feel like a tree in winter today.

Jesus: "Erin, come up."

I am immediately on the Lord's doorstep and the door is wide open this time. I giggle out loud. Before I walked in, I turned to look over the amazing view from here. There is a mist, almost like a cloud, covering some of the valley.

The time appeared to be at sunrise, but I am uncertain of this. The clouds are about ten shades of the most beautiful of pinks and purples. I could hear the birds chirping.

I looked down the steps and there were tiny plump little sparrows. They were white silver and gold with blue eyes of blue. They appeared to be eating seeds on the ground. I was laughing as I saw them bathing in the beautiful golden water channels which lead from God's Home to the valley.

The thought of a few angels out here throwing out some seed for them made me snicker. I had never seen such peaceful little birds. These were birds with no predator. Oh, how peaceful it would be to soon live near the Garden of God! Surely, these little glorified sparrows were the most blessed sparrows around.

The air around me was cool and crisp, but I was perfectly warm. The smell was amazing, fragrant and pure. I began to cry as I realized what a blessing it was to be here and such an incredible honor.

I heard music coming from inside His House and I laughed. The Lord seemed to be drawing my attention to entering into His House. Just as I began to step over His threshold, He opened the door all the way and greeted me at the door.

Me: "Oh Lord, You startled me."

Jesus: "Did you not expect Me to meet you right at the open door?"

Me: I sensed that there was a deeper meaning to this. "Lord, I am used to greeting You in the courtyard." I was laughing.

Jesus: "Well, if you would like this to be more predictable for you, you can begin again at the door. I will disappear and see you where you expect Me to be instead."

Me: "Lord, no, please, do not disappear. I like having You right at the open door."

Jesus: "Are you certain, Erin? I would not want you to be bored. I do not want to be predictable here." He was laughing and teasing me. "I could send in a large angel if you prefer a butler."

Me: I was laughing and shaking my head. "Lord, please meet me at every open door so I always know it is You who has opened it."

Jesus: "Very good, Erin, there is wisdom in this prayer. Not every open door is opened by Me."

Me: "So, Lord, please be the 'open door opener' every time."

Jesus: "That was funny. I do not believe I have ever been called the 'open door opener' before. Erin, this is officially the first time."

He was laughing and I came right in. I gave Him a hug and removed my sandals.

Jesus: "Erin, I have Mine on so you do not need to remove yours either."

Me: "Oh Lord, I would not even think of not removing them. I love the feel of this stone underfoot. I love walking on this amazing rug. I would not miss this for anything."

"Oh yes, and let's not forget, in God's House, I am on holy ground. Should You not enjoy Your holy ground too?"

For a moment, I became worried that I was too casual with the Lord. Perhaps I went too far this time by teasing Him about taking His shoes off? I was relieved when He started to laugh and smile at my thoughts.

Jesus: "Okay, so, if where I walk is holy; then every step I take is on holy ground. Where are My feet now?"

Me: "Lord, this is a divine trick question. I had better tap into wisdom here. Well, Your feet are touching Your sandals, therefore Your sandals too would be holy. As a matter fact, no matter where You walk, the ground is holy."

Jesus: He was laughing so hard at this. "Then it is settled. Where ever My feet step and where ever My legs walk, this too is holy. This is very good, Erin." He reached over and hugged me. "You honor Me with your feet, Erin."

Me: "Lord, no, it is my feet that are honored to step on places in which Your feet have walked."

I began to step on certain Jerusalem Stones and then on the beautiful entrance rug. He was laughing as He could see my delight in doing this.

Jesus: "Are you ready to come with Me today? Walk with Me then in My footsteps."

Me: "Lord, a friend of mine brought up a question. This beautiful rug that my feet are on is not the exact rug that was on Earth, correct?"

Jesus: "Does this look as if it could be?"

Me: "No, Lord, a rug would not be possible on Earth."

Jesus: "Why? Is nothing impossible?"

Me: "Well of course, but only if divinely so. Is this the rug?"

Jesus: Smiling. "Erin, this is a replica, but not counterfeit, understand?"

Me: "Well, a counterfeit would not be Heavenly and would imply an imposter or a false artifact. This would not be holy."

Jesus: "The people who made the rug on Earth loved my Father God and served Him their whole lives. The idea for the rug was granted to them by God and was divinely inspired and creatively birthed. When the rug was completed, this family dedicated the rug to God.

"Then thieves came to steal and rob this family. The rug was stolen and their looms destroyed. All their works were pillaged. The family became disheartened and had to work in various trades and even during times of harvest to raise enough to begin again.

"They lost everything. Even though they had gone through horrible trails, even becoming slaves; they still did not lose focus on God. They gave their hearts fully to God as a dedication. They had nothing to give, but they gave what they had.

"So this rug is the original inspiration; Heavenly birthed and woven into this piece. This is the rug they wove to God, but perfected and glorified. The sacrifices of their hearts are woven into this fine piece.

"Here, the finest resources are available; the softest wool, the best looms and the purest color. Heaven is alive, Erin, and nothing fades or wears.

"There are no moths here eating threads and creating holes. This is a 'counter holy' issue which does not exist here. Now, any thoughts?"

Me: "Yes Lord. The seamstress, the blacksmith and the vineyard owners all reside here. Did they suffer like this family and are there crafts here?"

Jesus: "Yes, Erin, I will show you this. There was a time of great suffering for all of these people. Heaven consists of many desert walkers like you. All of these people encountered a time in which they thought Heaven had closed to them and God could not hear their prayers.

"For the seamstress and the blacksmith, they came from a time of war and a great separation. They were weary and lacked hope. There were hidden things too. They were robbed for a time and what little they had they gave. God heard their cries. Many blessings were granted on Earth, but none like the promises fulfilled here."

Me: "Lord, I must talk to You about something troubling me. Please forgive me for this as You know, on Earth, I have not realized my dreams. You promised to build a house for me. You have granted me a ministry.

"You have sustained me, but have not delivered me fully from my obstacles. I become discouraged and lose hope when it seems as if You are passing me over.

"When You do bless me, I think, 'Well, this will be stripped by week's end' or 'This is too good to be true'. I live in the desert, but now even my thinking is 'desert thinking'. The desert is full of dead stuff."

He walks me out to His courtyard. The sounds of water are amazing. The trailing blossoming vines are fragrant and cover the walls. He walks me under the water arches. There are two angels there to assist us.

Jesus walks me to my chair, and He motions one of the angels to serve water first to me. He sits right next to me. We are now both sitting while the angels bring food and drink.

Jesus: "Erin, first, you are wrong about the desert. When you walked in the desert, what happened to you? Did you not blossom there? The desert is dry ground, horrible for planting trees and even worse for crops.

"The desert is not the Promised Land. The desert is where dreams are birthed, Erin. However, if you remain in the desert too long, even your dreams become dead thoughts. Erin, consider the desert. Does nothing live there really?"

Me: I was deep in thought. "Come to think of it, yes, Lord, desert plants live in the desert."

Jesus: "Yes. Were desert plants not also created by God to withstand extreme conditions? Consider the temperature? There is extreme heat by day and it is cold at night. Would that plant not need to be a very hardy plant?"

Me: "Yes. They also require very little water since there is no water there."

Jesus: "So let's consider the desert. The things which do grow there grow slowly and they require little living water. However, when they do get it, they store it in reserve as they do not know when the rain will come, if ever, to quench their parched roots.

"They require little as they have found roots in dry places. They are satisfied in their condition."

Me: "Lord, we are not speaking of the actual desert, are we?"

Jesus: "It is interesting. Erin, you are to bloom where you are planted. You are a flower in the desert, but not a desert flower. The desert is not your home.

"The desert is for those who choose dry places. You work best in a well-watered garden. Now, what am I saying?"

Me. "That You took me to the desert so I would appreciate green spaces."

Jesus: He laughed so hard at this. "That is all you received out of what you were just told?"

He motioned for the angel to pour wine into His cup. He tasted it first.

Jesus: "Oh Erin, this is very good wine from Heavenly vineyards from your friends in the valley of Bacca. This was not grown in the desert. Here, drink this."

The angel poured some wine into my cup. It was wonderful and not 'dry' at all. It was fruity and sweet, yet a bit tart. I smiled and laughed.

Me: "Okay, this is certainly not a dry wine."

Jesus: "Erin, God takes you through the desert to speak tenderly to you. He gives you back your vineyards and your dreams. You are inspired there. You pray that God hears your cries and calls you to your Home."

Me: "Lord, the whole Earth is like a desert."

Jesus: "Yes, it is, but there is still hope. Erin, you have blossomed in a desert place. One day, you will walk here in the Promised Land. You will realize your dreams, even those you dismissed long ago.

"You worked so hard at those, but you let them go. You were a slave and now you dwell in a desert place, yet this is only temporary. As I told you before, you will be removed from this place even before I come for all of you. I will build a house for you."

Me: "Oh, no, forgive me, Lord, You would know first when You are to come."

Jesus: He was laughing and smiling. "Now, Erin, take this bread and remember Me."

He took a piece of unleavened bread and one of regular yeast bread. I laughed at that.

Jesus: "Erin, the mist outside; is that not also a 'Chuppah'? Everything in the desert is also about covenant. Do you and I not also dine under a cover of sorts in a beautiful garden? Do you not see the symbolism around you?"

Just then, a small bird from out front flew into the gazebo and landed on the table. The bird was so cute and beautiful and it sat next to my plate. Jesus motioned to the bird that it was okay for it to eat the crumbs of bread at the table.

The sweet little sparrow nibbled at a few crumbs and sat there right next to my plate. The sight of this beautiful scene made me cry.

Jesus: "Erin, I could give you a thousand parables about what you witness here all around you, but do you not think that your parable of the desert is one of the greatest? Have you not blossomed there?"

Me: I was crying. "Lord, You are extremely wise and complex, yet Your Words are few. Each Word You speak bears fruit. How can You not as You are the Word of truth!

"So, Lord, all things are given to us and taken from us because this, too, is good. All of this is birthed from You. The desert is where I was laid bare. This is where I needed to rely fully on only You, Lord, and Your Words.

"I needed to be stripped of that which was a barrier to my relationship with You. I needed to lay myself down and die a thousand deaths to find You. I needed to seek living water. Even the water from desert wells is nothing like water from the River of Life.

"Only You can quench deep thirst, Lord. Even tears cannot quench my thirst as they are filled with salt. My tears even made me rise early in the morning to search for the dew of Your living Word.

"Lord, You gave a barren woman hope in a dry land and I am forever blessed by You. but, Lord, please remove me to a greener place and a peaceful valley so that my blossoms do not wither and my branches bear fruit again.

"Please, Lord, show favor to the one you called in the desert and remove me and my children so that we can be like the little sparrow and eat crumbs from Your table and nest near Your Altar. Oh, to be this little sparrow, Lord; how divine."

Jesus: "Erin, I am pleased as You have given Me your thoughts and your wisdom has become a petition. Now this is granted on Earth as it is in Heaven and this shall be your Gift.

"Your tree will bud, blossom, bear fruit and yield a record harvest. Here and there you will rejoice. Now, you had a dream and this is on your mind. Tell this to Me."

Me: "Oh, thank You, Lord. This was amazingly real for a 'non-Heaven' dream. I have been searching for answers and help."

Jesus: He was smiling. "Good. Before you begin, tell Me how your Matthew 7:7 is going?"

Me: "Well, You know, Lord. I have been asking, seeking and knocking on several things."

I was laughing as I said this. I looked down at the table as the little sparrow began to sing. I laughed again and it seemed the little bird was laughing too.

Jesus: "Interesting that the door, My door, was wide open for you today, correct?"

Me: "Yes, Lord, did You answer all of my seeking? Did you just grant my requests?"

Jesus: "Interesting. Was there an obstacle in front of the open door? I think not. I believe it was free and clear and the door wide open to you. It took you a while to step through it and beyond the threshold, but, when you did, was I not there to greet you with open arms?" He was laughing.

Me: "Lord, how can an open door say so much?"

Jesus: "Well, did you prefer it be closed unto you?" He was laughing again.

Me: "Oh, no, Lord, we went over that. I am thrilled to have it open; thank You."

Jesus: "Remember Kadima, Erin. Now, about the dream?"

Me: "Yes, Lord. I entered into a two story brick building. It was a beautiful home and garden furnishing shop. There were beautiful things there. The building was a reclaimed old building made completely high-tech and modern. There were old antiques and new items both.

"This was a Friday night and the shops in this town, which I did not recognize, were open late and were celebrating with food and music. The shop owner was giving food to customers for free to entice them to shop there.

"I saw that the lady was eating Chinese food from a small three inch square bowl. The little bowl contained noodles, rice, chicken and a tiny eggroll. Off to the side was a tiny fortune cookie. I laughed so hard at the tiny food.

"I was there at the shop with a budget of $300 to purchase a table to sit next to my devotional chair to set my Bibles and journals on. The items in the store were quite expensive and out of my price range.

"As I walked through the store, I noticed a beautiful round table. This table was 33 inches in diameter and the base was bronze and iron with four feet like small ball peens. The table was making the sound of running water. The sound was beautiful, like chimes.

"The table was seven inches thick and hollow. The sound of water seemed to come from within the table. On the top of the table was a beautiful black or deep bronze clock face.

"The clock face was extremely beautiful and had three or four rings. The face was embossed and the script was foreign and not earthly in origin. This was in gold cloisonné, which is black with gold.

"The 'outer ring' of the clock was moving clockwise. I saw a moon, stars and the sun on the opposite end of the ring. The next ring was in the quadrants. Well, this ring was actually in both as there was a sub-ring of seven in total. I saw symbols of olives, vines, grain and water, but I did not recognize the other three sub-rings."

Jesus: "Erin, look at the sub-rings again."

Just then, the Lord showed me three more small wedges.

Me: "Oh, I see the script 'mid-year' on one and 'end-year' on another. I see a flame or picture of the fire?"

Jesus: "Erin, this is the Jubilee calendar and this is the 2nd ring. Now look closer. Come with Me."

We got up and He walked me to this beautiful small pool in the center of the courtyard. Coming out of this was a more advanced version of this table in the shop where I was in my dream. The Lord waved His hand and the sky grew dark with millions of stars and the moon.

The pool surrounding the center reflected one half of the ring I saw. He then froze this in the water. Then He waved His hand again and the sun and stars shined in the sky. He froze this impression in the water on the other side.

Jesus: "Now, Erin, take My hand."

Immediately, we were on an upper balcony. This was actually the roof of His Home with a balcony. The courtyard below us was a hundred feet squared. We were about seventy five feet high and overlooking this massive clock in the center of His courtyard.

Me: "Oh Lord, that is amazing. This is what I saw. What is this?"

Jesus: "You will not fully understand everything. Did you see what I did in the pool?"

Me: "Yes, Lord, You created the outer ring. There are labels too. Then I see a center with words on arcs which come out in columns or arches. What are these?"

Jesus: "Look at the speed of that ring. Do you see this?"

Me: "Well, this one appears in reverse order; counter clockwise. What is all of that writing?"

Jesus: "These are events which have occurred, are occurring or must occur. This is controlled by God and I can do nothing until He moves this. He can accelerate that dial as that dial is not cogged with the other rings. That is God's ring so I do not know how to measure it; only by events. The next ring is the order of months, weeks and days."

Me: "Lord, the one I saw had a center so tiny and which moved so fast, I could barely see it at all."

Jesus: "This is a measure of milliseconds. It moves faster than your eyes can even grasp and much faster than that."

Me: "Lord, I am amazed and sad at the same time. I knew that table and clock in the store was complex, but I just had no idea how complex. It was beautiful."

Jesus: "So, did you purchase it?"

Me: "I saw a tag on it and it had circa from an ancient unknown origin. The price of $420 was highlighted with an orange highlighter. I asked the clerk if that was the final price as I only had $300.

"She said, 'It is on sale. How much do you want to pay?' I was afraid to say too little, but I did not want to give her all the money up front. I said, 'How about half off?' I did this just in case she countered and raised it. I really wanted the table as it was perfect."

Jesus: "So what did she say? 2-10 or $210?"

Me: "The clerk said, 'The price is $210.'"

Jesus: "So it was for sale at $420, but she sold it to you for $210. Very good."

Me: "Lord, there is more to this. Are these dates here; perhaps April 20th or February 10th? Something is here. I am depressed because I was hoping to have the time of Your coming.

"Instead, You show me that You do not know. Clearly You do not, but I believe You somehow do as how can You not?"

Jesus: Smiling. "Erin, read the Scriptures. Let's look at God's Clock again. This is also Enoch's portion, but it is also divinely God's.

"Now notice that the events portion are not controlled by the other parts as those are constant unless God, My Father, changes it. This clock is perfect as all living things are represented here. All things that He has created are here also, so think about this?"

"What earthly clock is also a perfect calendar and an astro-globe? Only God can perfect such things. Time, God's timing, is perfect and divinely a mystery. It is at the center of My house and is a thing of beauty. Angels even guard it."

I looked and there were four angels facing four corners. I laughed as I did not notice them there before.

Me: "Lord, even the angels face compass points."

Jesus: "Very good, Erin. All weights and measures are complex and originate here. The fallen have tried to replicate it, but their attempts failed. This date came and went as all is on God's timing only.

"Now, be assured all events are birth pains and that everything before you are registered. The ground of that gazing pool is Heaven and the beginning was Heaven, then Earth, starting from Genesis.

"Each of the rings rotates at a different speed and all numbers are significant. Remember, growing cycles are 49 days as a burning time is seven days.

"Look at the Jubilee calendar and look again at Enoch. You can assemble such a calendar to recognize it, but it is impossible without a gauge and that gauge is God. He controls that dial with scripts."

Me: "Lord, look, another turn! One of the events highlighted and then faded. What just happened?"

Jesus: "Another event on record was passed."

Me: "Lord, there is more to go then. This makes me sad. It seems too far off. This is discouraging."

Jesus: "Erin, you should have seen the dial just six months ago. It was much slower and there were many more events. Now time has accelerated so be encouraged. This is why you were shown this; to find comfort."

Me: "So, Lord, our measure is those events. Where are these written?"

Jesus: "Erin, You know; go to the Bible. Remember, your earthly gauge is Israel. Now be excited."

Me: "Lord, I am so honored to be shown this. How amazing this is. Could I have that table in real life? I know it cannot exist as the fallen would have one to study."

Jesus: He was laughing. "Erin, they create counterfeits, but they no longer have divine inspiration. That ship sailed and was wrecked."

He was laughing.

Jesus: "I have scheduled more angels around you and your loved ones. We will study this more together. This will bring great comfort. You are loved."

Dream over...

Dream 107 – God’s Timing

Received Sunday, January 26, 2014

(Formerly known as Heaven 33)

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day. Thank You for my children. Thank You for my new family and friends. Thank You for allowing me deep rest during my illness.

Thank You for making it so I am too sick to go out and be busy and labor, but not so sick that I cannot come to You in praise, worship and offering. Thank You, Lord, that You continue to speak with me. Thank You for meeting me here.

Jesus: “Erin, come up.”

Immediately, I am on the Lord’s doorstep. This time, His door was completely open to me and, to my right, was a very large angel.

Me: “Oh, hello.”

Angel: “Hello, Erin, He is waiting inside for you today. I am here to assist you and remove your guess work today.”

Me: I was giggling. “What? The Lord did not want me to wander around His front door today wondering ‘to knock or not to knock’ or ‘to wait or not to wait’.” I was laughing.

Angel: Smiling. “Yes. He knew, even with the open door, that you might need some assistance just walking through. I am here to help you do this.”

Me: “The Lord is so wise.’

Angel: “Even with the door wide open, He knew you would second guess, so He has sent me. Please, Erin, take my hand as the Lord has something special for you today.”

The angel reached out his hand and I took it. I was still laughing at this. The angel walked ahead of me slightly and then opened the door even further open.

He put his hand on my shoulder with his other hand and moved me through the door. I took my sandals off so that my bare feet could feel the floor.

Me: "Does the Lord have even more Homes? Just how big is this one?"

Angel: "Yes, He has a Home in the City as well. This, you have seen. He is near to yours and by the Throne, of course."

The angel was huge; muscular, tall and very much a warrior, yet he was so handsome and with a very kind voice. The angels I have seen are not feminine at all. These are the angels who guard, guide and protect as we are going through, or are about to go into, battle

They also guard God and His Heavenly interests. I have also seen female angels and they are very beautiful. I noticed that they minister and comfort. I saw a female angel once and she dialogued with me with witnesses present. I wondered if the females are scarce because of what the enemy has done to sexualize them on Earth.

The male angels have a beautiful rugged handsome look and most have longer hair with beautiful eyes. They are not 'wimps' and are certainly neither gaunt nor scrawny. Those who have seen angels as 'asexual', neither male nor female, are simply incorrect.

There are many angels who care for the children here as well. These types of angels appear to be female and very much feminine. However, they are always fully robed and modest.

Me: "Well, I know that the Lord sent you. Who am I to argue with one of the angels of the Lord? Since He has called you to help me, then clearly He knew I would hesitate."

I giggled while saying this. I lifted the hem of my robe as I hopped onto these beautiful large Jerusalem Stones.

Me: "I have clients who would love these."

Angel: "So you do not like these for yourself?" He smiled as he said this.

Me: "Oh, I would love these, but I just could never afford such a luxury."

Angel: "Well, you are blessed then. You are the daughter of the King and He has enough to purchase some for you."

Me: I was laughing so hard. "You are right. Thank you for reminding me."

He led me back down the entry and I could see we walked easily a hundred steps or feet past these large columns and beautiful fiber optic damask curtains. I followed just behind the angel, but I was too busy studying my surroundings to talk with him.

I saw that, above the capitals of these columns, were a type of crown. This crown was illuminated and directed my eyes to the ceiling. The ceiling was hand painted. It was so beautiful and intricate that I guessed that it was done by Michael Angelo himself.

As I walked toward the open doors to the courtyard, the story on the ceiling stopped even though it was not over. I realized that, because I had never looked up at the ceiling before, that I had missed one of the most amazing features of His Home.

Me: "Hold just a moment, angel. I will be right back." The angel turned to see where I was going. "Do not worry; the Lord will understand."

I ran back to the front door, but from the inside this time, and it was closed. Thank goodness it was closed with me in here. I giggled to myself. Then I turned to look down at the entry. The angel was standing at the courtyard entrance.

I started at the front door and looked up at the ceiling. I first saw an image of God's hand with His finger extended. The ceiling was in a large 'barrel vault' style.

I began from there and I saw the story of Genesis. The beginning was recorded in this incredible painting. As I walked, I was amazed at how intricate this oil painting was. Not only was it incredibly detailed and perfect, it was made of modern materials, the pigment was perfect and the bonding agents were flawless.

There were no cracks in the plaster. As I walked, the paintings moved and appeared in motion. As I walked forward, Kadima came to my mind and I giggled. The paint was illuminated and seemed to have the breath of life upon the canvas of that ceiling.

The ceiling was literally God-breathed. Wow, to say I was fascinated is an understatement. I looked up and tried to run to see if the painting would move faster if I walked faster. It did not.

I had to stop and walk steadily for this to work. At one point, I tried to step backwards thinking I could make the picture ceiling reverse. I was giggling.

While I was still looking up at the ceiling, I heard the Lord call to me. He was laughing.

Jesus: Talking to the angel. "Well, at least you got her to walk in through the open door."

Angel: "Yes, Lord, but she became distracted when she looked up. There is much to see and she is easily amused." They were laughing at me.

Me: "Oh forgive me, Lord and angel." I still remained walking and looking up. "Lord, this is the first seven days of Creation on Your ceiling and it moves!"

Jesus: He was laughing. "Okay, Erin, what is God doing here on the seventh day?" He looked up with me.

Me: I was laughing. "Well, He appears to be resting as He is not lifting a finger here. Oh Lord, the ceiling is so beautiful. It must have taken many years for this artist to paint this. What an honor! Who did this?"

Jesus: "Erin, there is much for you to learn, but this was painted by a child."

Me: "Impossible!" I stopped myself immediately. "Of course, all things are possible here. Lord, why, when I walked faster, did the motion not move at my pace?"

Jesus: "Oh, you were expecting the story of Creation to move at your pace? You wanted God to even reverse this when you walk backwards. Interesting..."

He and the angels were laughing. I heard angels in the courtyard laughing too. However, there is no sarcasm here in Heaven and all is uplifting. It is impossible to write the tone of such a conversation, but these comments were meant to be joyfully playful, never mean-spirited.

Me: "Oh, this is a parable. Okay, Lord, You got me again. I guess I thought, since this was a story, I could flip pages faster or even go back a few pages. However, Lord, in Your infinite wisdom, in order for me to read what is on the ceiling, I must go back to the front door, the beginning, and start from there.

"I cannot move ahead, but I must walk at a steady pace, allowing the events to unfold before me. I also cannot go backwards. This is a parable of time also."

Jesus: "Very good, Erin. See how much you learn here? There is wisdom beyond the open door. There is even more when you look up." He was smiling as He said this.

Me: "Lord, I looked only at things my feet touched and items at eye level mostly. My eyes looked for things I could understand and describe.

"Why would I need to look up in Your house when all I need to do is look right in front of me to find You?"

He was laughing and nodding His head in agreement.

Jesus: "Very good, Erin. Come with Me or would you like to dine in today?" He was laughing.

Me: "Lord, I will eat where You would take me. I am a guest here."

Jesus: "Yes and no, Erin, for you are much more than a guest."

He reached out His hand and I took it so gladly. Every time, He put His hand out, I felt so welcomed and protected. I was also humbled as I knew that His hand could be withheld just as easily. As I took His hand, the orchestra began to play.

I also heard a chorus of angels and they sounded so beautiful. He led me out to the courtyard. There I saw the amazing pool and clock above it. I saw the four angels guarding it. There were fountains there and the sound of water was wonderful.

The air was fragrant and, today, I smelled jasmine and white ginger. I smelled roses also, although I noticed that Heavenly roses do not have that hint of musty scent that they do on Earth. It was perfect.

He guided me up the stairs into the architecturally perfect gazebo complete with gold capped dome. There was the beautiful table set for dining with the King. There were some beautiful cakes set out, along with other confections. I was a bit surprised as I had never noticed these before.

There was fresh bread as well. I smiled when I saw that there was both leavened and unleavened bread. The angels were pouring water into our cups. The table was set beautifully. I could not believe the craftsmanship in absolutely everything before me.

The linens, the chairs, the plates and the utensils, everything, was like the very best of things on Earth, yet advanced in execution beyond Earth though similar in relationship.

Jesus: "Erin, your thoughts."

He said this as He motioned the angel to seat me. He then sat next to me at the table. Before us was the courtyard with the clock, fountains, flowering vines and beautiful garden elements. Beyond that, we faced the orchestra and choir.

However, even further in front of us, we could see an incredible view of the valley. I also saw a very large building that was the size of Niagara Falls, only it was like a giant God-made falls and aqueduct.

Well, let me back up. There was a giant pool to the right and seven spouts in which water poured out over the side of this massive building. There was so much force that the water formed a mist.

The rainbows created from the sun were so intense they were like, well, like nothing I have ever seen. Off to the right, and in the distance, I could see the City of Gold.

The sun shined upon it and the rainbow effect from this was incredible. What made this even more fascinating was that there were more colors in the rainbow than our earthly spectrum allowed. I could not tell how many though.

Jesus: "Erin, your thoughts."

Me: "Lord, You just read all of them. This is the most beautiful sight in all of creation. I cannot find my breath. Everything God designs is perfect. All things even created by man's hands originate somehow from here, if this is possible."

Jesus: He was smiling. "Here, Erin, have some bread."

He handed me a piece of both and I laughed. As He ate it, I ate too. The bread was amazing too.

Me: "Lord, just look at just a piece of bread and how wonderful even this is. I have never tasted anything like this on Earth. It melts in your mouth and it needs nothing to spread on it. It is perfect just like it is, even with no embellishments or condiments."

Jesus: "Well, this is good too. Things meant to enhance sometimes distract from the true flavor of the bread, right? Sometimes just enjoying the plain bread and what it stands for is far greater than that which we dress it up with."

Me: "Okay, Lord, this too is a parable. Your Word stands on its own and needs no embellishments."

Jesus: He was laughing. "What? Would you not like some honey on your bread? Would this not make it more palatable?"

Me: "No, Lord, just spending time with You. You are the bread of life, Lord. You are perfect on Your own."

Jesus: He was smiling. "But, Erin, I have honey here. There is also herbed oil, sea salt and even butter. Is this not also good?"

Me: "Lord, those make earthly bread so I will want to become a glutton. This would not be good. It is far better that I get my fill just on the bread that You have to offer.

"The only condiment I will take with my bread will be wine, water and some of this beautiful fruit from the tree."

Jesus: "Good, Erin, then also take this wine and remember Me. I will then hand you some fruit and giving you some living water as well. Very good."

Me: "Lord, all things here are good. This table is a King's table and You have even brought dessert." I pointed to the cakes. They were small cakes, almost like petit fours.

Jesus: "Tou have questions today and you had another dream. Tell Me about this."

Just as He said this, the same small sparrow from my last visit flew right on the table and to the right of my plate. She sat there and appeared more interested in hearing what we had to say rather than eating crumbs.

I began to laugh and broke off some of my bread for the sparrow. She ate a little crumb and then flew away to one of the balconies. I could see three baby birds in a nest.

The mother sparrow put the bread forward and each of the birds took a piece of the bread from her. This made my eyes tear up as I saw myself there in Psalm 84.

Me: "Lord, even Your courtyard is like the living Word coming alive and Your House a type of living tabernacle."

Jesus: "Erin, how could you know this? You have not even seen the entire place, just the entry and courtyard. You have only seen a portion of the east end. What do you see before you?"

Me: "I see before me twenty columns. So is this the north side or the south side?"

Jesus: "How many columns did you see in the entry?"

Me: "Six on one side and six on another for twelve in all. Oh, I see twenty columns, but if I double this, there are forty columns. Lord, this is double the size of Your tabernacle. Earth has a smaller replica, but easily by half of this.

"So we are looking south and I come into Your front door from the north. I see the City off to the west and I am looking directly at the East Gates of the City. Is this right?"

Jesus: He was laughing. "I guess, from an earthly compass, you could view things that way. Here, however, there are two compass points. The Throne of God and wherever I walk is where the pointer goes.

"This is funny, Erin, you make Me smile. Now, you speak of architecture and you are gathering relationship to earthly things. Let's change your perspective. Remember the age of Heaven and that God's House was established even before the Earth was formed.

"So what you are experiencing here will often have its opposite on Earth. What you view as having or seeing there has one common problem. Do you know what this is?"

Me: "Yes, Lord, since the fall of man and death, right?"

Jesus: "This is correct, Erin. There is life here. It is okay to reference Heaven based items on earthly standards because this is a common practice.

"However, now that you have seen this, perhaps you will understand that things on Earth were once based on Heavenly principals and all for God's glory by design. Now the counterfeiter resides on Earth as well."

Me: "Lord, is this why I had this strange dream? I was deeply disturbed by it."

Jesus: "Give Me an overview."

Me: "A very wealthy and attractive man was luring people to his estate. It was massive and seemed to be a lure to children as there were amusement parks, candy, sweets and fattening foods.

"There was a recording studio and a stage for large public productions. There were virtual computer gaming rooms and I knew that, if my children would see this place, they would turn away from me and possibly choose this man."

Jesus: "Interesting, tell Me a bit more."

Me: "Well, this man's estate had shops and types of earthly things. He had automobiles, planes and a safe with jewelry in it. There were all kinds of lures. He was trying to tell me that he could take care of me and my children.

"He tried to seduce me with this estate, but, when he took me to his courtyard, it was overgrown with briars and weeds. The smell was a stench, like manure, and there were dry wells. The pool in the center was dry.

"The main courtyard clock seemed to have been destroyed. In its place, I saw something like an LED clock with batteries powering another type of clock.

"The gazebo was standing and the golden dome was the only thing left. The man told me he was renovating the courtyard to be a church. I felt sick to my stomach when I heard him say this."

Jesus: "So, why do you think this dream came?"

Me: "First, the enemy knows about Your beautiful Home and He knows that, here in Heaven, You have prepared a place for us. He has tried to keep Heaven hidden from us. He has sent counterfeits to twist Heaven. He is luring us with things of the world to cloak us from You and the truth."

Jesus: "Very good, Erin. You said that he had a replica of different things from My courtyard. Interesting."

Me: "Lord, did Your gazebo come before the 'Dome of the Rock' in Jerusalem?"

Jesus: "Of course. Erin, the enemy uses the Earth to mock God and Heaven. What was the stench in his courtyard? Keep this in mind and remember that, when he lures many to his house and no matter what he tries to do, he will fail at his attempts to replicate Paradise. His job is to embellish truth."

Me: "Lord, he is the spread that embellishes and enhance the bread."

Jesus: He was laughing. "Yes. This causes many to become gluttons of the bread of lies instead of the bread of life. This is dangerous."

Me: "Lord, they have recreated Your gazebo in Jerusalem too."

Jesus: He was laughing. "Erin, it is only My gazebo. It could be worse and we have spoken about this before. Now, notice their clock and that it even needed batteries. What happens to batteries?"

Me: "The batteries die."

Jesus: "Yes, they do. So they cannot replicate this clock because they are missing the key element. Here, take My hand."

Immediately, we were on the balcony looking over His courtyard. It was so beautiful. I saw the pool with the clock.

The Lord waved His hand. The sky became dark, the moon was full and there were several constellations. It was then like He took a snapshot of this and made the impression stayed on the left side of the clock.

Then He waved His hand again. The sky became light again and there was the sun and some faint stars. It was then like He took a separate snapshot and made this impression stay on the right of the clock.

Then we looked again at the clock once He completed this. It was beautiful and like everything else here; highly advanced.

Jesus: "Now, remember; they do not have the key. They do not have the power over God's ring. Remember that only God has this."

As we stood there, another event illuminated then disappeared.

Me: "Lord, there are still many events left."

Jesus: "It looks discouraging from your view, but let Me download what this clock looked like when you saw it only seven days ago."

Just then I saw it. He then just as quickly removed this visual so that I could easily compare the clock from a week ago to the current clock.

Me: "Lord, there were three things which came and passed; three events. What were these?"

Jesus: "Erin, one of the lost tribes are coming back. Remember, as far as the east."

Me: "So Lord, is our gauge based on the prophecies? Wow."

Jesus: "Erin, My Word is such that you can dig deeply and find treasure there."

Me: "Or you can simply see it hidden right on the surface of the Page too. Lord, You are amazing. What other events occurred?"

Jesus: "Well, there was seven events altogether, but only three that God specifically marked. Now remember that your gauge is Israel. The enemy wants all evidence that the Jews occupied Jerusalem gone.

"Even the city's name bears witness to its origins. This is obvious and in plain sight. Jerusalem; look up the origins of this, but, Erin, 'God will see' and Shem greeted Abraham with bread and wine there.

"Who was Shem, Erin? Noah's son. So, dissect this word to find the roots of Jerusalem. This land is God's. This land was given to God's children."

Me: "Lord, forgive me as I have been sick and under attack this week. Did more division occur?"

Jesus: "The Lord is unearthing evidence of the origin. See, Erin, you must understand that God will not punish on heresay. His judgment will come after physical evidence is brought forth.

"Then, after evidence is uncovered, then the Lord God will expect a just verdict based on physical evidence. This is fair.

"Now, here is the problem; the earthly courts are not just. Erin, you know this and you have lived with the results of an unjust system. I have told you that, very soon, you will be vindicated as justice is God's and vengeance is His.

"Now, this is a matter of a land deal. This angers God. Erin, do you remember walking in My entryway? You walking backwards could not undo history in as much as running faster could not bring the course of history quicker?"

Me: "Yes, I realize my place as there is nothing I can do and that only God can. There are so many Scriptures about this."

Jesus: "Very good. So, now the enemy is trying to erase history and even destroying the evidence. He uses the lure of the world and even deposes and employs kings to execute his agenda. Remember the length of a contract of the enemy?"

"He cannot even keep a contract for nine months. There cannot be a covenant of peace as this would be false. After nine months, there will be an attempted extermination. Erin, you saw this."

Me: "Lord, when will this be?"

Jesus: "It is coming. Remember, history repeats and there are patterns. There is nothing new under the sun or on Earth, but, in Heaven, all things are new."

Me: "Lord, I am scared."

Jesus: "Why? Take comfort that God, My Father, is in control. No man, or even the enemy of God, will be able to speed up this clock."

Me: "Lord, please send more signs. Lord, make these signs so remarkable that there is no mistaken place of origin. Lord, come for us before the time of trouble."

Jesus: "Look at the other rings, Erin. They remain steady. These were set in place by Enoch as appointed by God. None of us know the timing, Erin."

Me: "Lord, thank You for this clarification. Thank You. Could You show me what we are looking for? I cannot read the script on God's clock. What does that mean?"

Jesus: "Erin, this is Heavenly in origin. You cannot understand that which is written."

Me: "Lord, it looks like there are still hundreds of events, yet how can this be? This is discouraging."

Jesus: "Hmm, interesting. So, let's say there are five hundred events left on God's clock. In seven days, three registered events came and went. Now, look at weeks and years.

"Erin, do you really know? Do I? How do we know whether God will change it to have seven events in a day a year from now? We do not know and this too is good."

Me: "Lord, then why do the angels guard it? The enemy cannot calculate what I am seeing if You cannot."

Jesus: "Erin, I can read the clock and so can the enemy."

Me: "Oh, because he originated here, of course. However, he cannot control God's order as God uses no gears on His clock."

Jesus: "Erin, you are gaining wisdom. The angels guard God's clock in order to bring you comfort and this too is good."

Me: "Lord, after this last dream, I was under attack. I need Your help."

Jesus: "Erin, you were not. What signs did you have as warning?"

Me: "None."

Jesus: "Correct. Now, what happened?"

Me: "I had extreme attacks on Tuesday and it was relentless. All was in minutes of the last blow. It was in every area. I thought I had opened the enemy's doors. I was hammered in such a short compact time and all within 36 hours."

Jesus: "Okay, then what?"

Me: "Then three days of blessings, free and clear, with so much supernatural it was hard to believe."

Jesus: "Then why are you sick?"

Me: "Lord, good question. Why am I sick?"

Jesus: He was smiling. "Erin, you are healed. This was allowed because you needed the rest. Was this bad?"

Me: "No, it was a good time. I was too sick to do anything other than rest and sleep, but not so sick that I needed to have hospitalization."

Jesus: "Erin, remember, as these dreams become more involved, you must recognize one day of rest for your body. Just as you give to God what is His, you must also give one day over to God for your rest and renewal.

"By doing this, you honor Him. Remember, in the entry ceiling, what did God do on the seventh day? Did He lift a finger?" He was laughing.

Me: "No, Lord, He rested."

Jesus: "Begin at the beginning. There was much to learn today. The Laws were good and meant to bring life through the Word of God. These were God-breathed.

"Now, the Commandments are still good today. They are commands. Erin, when I came, the enemy decided it was a good time to change direction off of the Word of truth.

"Therefore, many Christians will claim that they are no longer even subject to the Commandments. What they should be referring to is that they are no longer subject to the Rabbinical Laws instead. They have mistakenly put the two as one.

"They are not reading the Bible, but siding with opinions. Do not entertain fools who choose not to read the Word. This is not healthy. Erin, choose life."

Me: "Lord, have I not obeyed?"

Jesus: "You must rest one day, Erin; work six days and then rest one day."

Me: "Forgive me, Lord. I have not always done this."

Jesus: "It is okay, Erin. Remember, the day of rest is meant for your benefit. As I gave you a period of extreme trials, I also gave you a double portion of blessings."

Me: "Lord, You are wise and clever. Even the columns in Your Home are a double portion."

Jesus: He was laughing so hard. "Erin, you delight Me. Yes, you are right. Now, as to God's clock, it is powered by God so take comfort. In comparison, the enemy's clock runs on AAA batteries.

"He who mocks God will be portioned out also. Remember Haman? The enemy will appear to be winning and then they will run in fear after their short-lived victory."

Me: "So, Lord, there is more hidden here. Is the Peace Treaty to last nine months once signed? Will You then come for us? I thought it was right upon signing?"

Jesus: "Erin, go to Scripture now with new eyes. Think of this clock and look at the Old Testament prophets. What is left? Then formulate. Just know that God regulates the timing.

"I do not know when He will send Me for you, but I do know that you will soon be removed out of the desert to the land of trees. You will be in a safe place until the day of My coming."

Me: "Lord, will You invite me back here? This seems so final today."

Jesus: "Oh, did I say such a thing?" He was smiling. "I do not believe this to be true. Would you like to learn more or see more?"

Me: "Oh, yes, please, Lord!" I leapt and He laughed.

Jesus: "Well, very good then; we will spend some more time as God allows." He smiled. "Erin, you did not eat your cake."

Dream 108 – Drinking Deep

Received Saturday, February 1, 2014

(Formerly known as Heaven 34)

Communion...

I received texts from my fourteen year old son that my twelve year old daughter was not on the bus. I quickly phoned the school for details, but they had not seen her either. The school then referred me to the 'Bus Barn' to get more information.

I texted my daughter but received no response. I then phoned the Bus Barn and they promptly searched the buses just in case she had accidentally gotten on the wrong bus. The Bus Barn then phoned her usual bus and the driver said that she had not boarded the bus today.

I then phoned the school again. Twenty minutes had now passed and I was beginning to panic. The school put a page out to her, but received no response. All of her teachers were paged as well. I told my work the situation and then I left.

I was distraught as I just knew that my daughter would never fail to board the bus without letting someone know first. I also knew that she would not go home with a friend without asking. While her brother had done things like this in the past, never her.

I phoned the school again as thirty minutes had now passed. Now everyone was searching the school grounds. All of the teachers, the principal and other employees were looking for her. I was now really starting to panic. I talked to the person at the school...

Me: "When and who calls 911 when this type of thing occurs?"

Woman: "We'll keep look first. In the meantime, drive up here, but first stop at the local market. Sometimes kids go there to get snacks after school, so maybe she stopped there."

Me: "She does not have any money though."

Woman: "Yes, but do you really know? Kids do strange things sometimes."

Me: I became angry at the implication I may not know my daughter that well after all. "Look, you know my son well as he is in your office quite often.

With him, I would not be surprised if something like this happened. However, with her, there is simply no way.”

Woman: “You’re right. We are continuing to look.”

Forty minutes had now gone by. As I searched for her as I drove slower than usual as a result, school buses passed me on the road. I had now put two calls in to the kid’s dad as well.

Me: I blurted out: “Our daughter is missing! No one can seem to find her”

Dad: “Okay, I will come to the school as well.”

Now I was in all out panic. I phoned the school yet again from my cell phone. She had vanished somewhere between the sixth period and the bus. This all seemed out of place on such a beautiful calm sunny winter's day.

My heart was pounding and I was now driving faster than normal to get to the school. I thought about her and I thought about what may have happened. I know that evil men have trolled school parking lots elsewhere in the past.

I suddenly realized that I did not know the phone numbers of any of her friends at this relatively new school. I quickly phoned and texted her again, but still nothing. I continued to panic.

Me: I cried out to the Lord. “Lord, please do not let this be Your Will? Please, Lord!”

Just then, the phone rang and I heard her voice.

Daughter: “Mom, it is me. I was on the bus the entire time. I am already home and safe.”

I broke down in tears. I had kept it together up to that point, but then I simply lost it. I pulled off into the parking lot of a nursery and became a blubbering mess.

Me: “What happened?”

Daughter: “Nothing. I had straightened my hair this morning. Everyone even remarked that I looked like a different girl.”

We both started to laugh. It turns out that both the bus driver and her brother we looking for her normally curly hair. Straight hair for her was extremely rare and she usually did not take the time to straighten this.

I was so relieved. I told her I would phone her back soon and then I proceeded to phone her dad, the school and the Bus Barn. The Bus Barn dispatcher and driver felt terrible about this when I explained she was actually on the bus, but with straight hair.

I ended up comforting everyone and even apologizing for not staying calmer when I panicked at the forty minute marker. However, after I calmly finished making all of the necessary phone calls, I started weeping again uncontrollably for several minutes.

It really hit me that today could have been the worst day of my entire life. Instead, I found myself so relieved that I cried myself all the way back to work. Fortunately, I had no more appointments for the day, so I did not need to worry about my red eyes, smeared makeup and puffy face.

When I got back to my office, I was amazed to find that only one hour had passed from the very first phone call. I am usually the one who remains calm and levelheaded at the scene of an accident with broken bones and gaping wounds.

Usually, I rush to aid without missing a beat and I can keep people calm in a disaster too. I have even had this ability since I was quite young. However, today I learned something new about myself and I was not happy with myself.

For forty five minutes, I had put God on the shelf. Even though there would have been very little I could do as a parent with a missing child, I still reacted as if I could control things that I could not see or understand.

God knew where my daughter was as He always does. After all, she is His too. I became very humble after this experience. Though this situation was resolved in an hour, this still has taken a great toll on me for the last few days and I am exhausted.

Dear Father,

Thank You that my children are here and accounted for. Thank You for the quick response of the school, the bus driver and the Bus Barn. Thank You for keeping my children safe, Lord. Thank You for all You have done for me.

Lord, it has been a difficult week. It has been a week of harsh contrasts; extreme attacks followed by extreme blessings. My spirit has been heavy and I am trying to understand all of this. Not only that, but my dreams have been odd as well.

Last night I dreamed the following...

I was in a large earthly estate in England where I had been invited to dine as an honorary guest. I was invited to come there early so that they could take me for a tour of the estate.

Compared to Heavenly Mansions, this was pale in comparison, but it was still large by earthly standards. The estate had an old feel and was in slight disarray. I suddenly realized that I was not invited for social reasons, but rather for professional reasons. I laughed as I now realized that they had wanted free interior design advice from me.

The dinner was scheduled for 3:00pm, although the invitation said noon. I thought I was there as a guest, but instead I was also to be a server for the dinner in addition to providing free advice.

They took me to the kitchen. There I saw before me a room of the finest china in all of the Earth. There were stacks of Staffordshire, Belleek, Wedgwood, Danica, Pickard, Aynsley, Royal Copenhagen, Spode and some interesting Calico.

I was in complete awe. There must have been at least a million dollars' worth of fine porcelain china sitting there before me. The male owner of the home, and I guess my new client by default, addressed me.

Man: "Erin, there will be a delay with the dinner this afternoon."

Me: I laughed. "Yes, I think there is no room to cook."

Man: "No, look up."

On the ceiling, there was a massive hand-carved wooden chandelier about nine feet in diameter. The chandelier was French in origin, which seemed odd in an English country estate. Then again, I also would not have expected to see Danish or Irish china there either.

Drawing of Chandelier with dishes precariously balanced in reply below...

Then, as if blending into the chandelier, there was a woman sitting on the chandelier. The woman was wearing 'prep-school clothing' and she looked crazed. The chandelier was beginning to pull out of the ceiling. The lathe and plaster ceiling was about to collapse under the weight.

Man: In a British accent, continued to talk calmly to me. "I have served dignitaries from all over the world on the finest china. The ones she is holding up on the chandelier are over $1,800 each in your American dollars."

I looked up and saw a stack of plates that were absolutely breathtaking. I spoke to the woman.

Me: "Miss, when the chandelier falls, you will surely die and all of this china will be destroyed. Your only legacy will be as a mad woman who broke plates and no one will remember you. The plates will be mourned, but your value will be of no consequence. Please come down so you can be redeemed in the eyes of the estate owner."

Man: "This is my daughter whom I love more than all the china in the world. Please help us."

Me: "Sir, call for help now and pray. We need a ladder and a miracle!"

Dream over....

Erin: "Lord, this dream seemed to be extremely significant. I need your help, Lord, and I miss You."

Jesus: "Erin, come up."

This time I was inside the front entry of Jesus' Mansion and the door was closed behind me. I was relieved and smiled. I heard music from the courtyard and I saw that the doors to the courtyard open. There was a breeze and the fabric panels with the beautiful damask lights woven into the pattern were moving in waves.

I went to go open the front door to look out to see if the angel was outside. I opened the door about three inches, but did not see the angel. The wind blew through the crack in the door causing things to move around.

I noticed that it was once again a beautiful day in the valley and that there was a mist and even quite a breeze. I laughed and quickly shut the door. I took off my sandals and felt the warm stones under my feet. I was so glad to be here.

I ran down the hallway to the courtyard. I glanced up briefly to look at the amazing ceiling, but I knew I was running to fast to have the story unfold. I ran out into the courtyard and it was so beautiful and lush. Seriously, this was the ultimate inter courtyard of an estate.

The wonderful blossoming flowers and vines, the sound of the fountains and the music from the orchestra ran through the entire House from all the open windows and doors. This was far beyond any earthly estate and far beyond anything ever conceived by man.

It was so beautiful that tears started to stream down my cheeks. I then noticed that the four angels were still guarding God's Calendar and Clock. I turned to my right and there was the Lord.

I was so excited that I ran to Him as fast as I could. As He walked to the door and entry way to the Garden, He turned towards me and held His arms out to receive me. I ran into His arms for a hug.

Jesus: "Erin, I was expecting to greet you at the door today, but you came running instead. Why?"

Me: I was laughing and crying both. "Lord, I wanted to be with You!"

Jesus: "Oh, I am honored." He was smiling and looked so handsome and calm. "Erin, what is the matter?"

Me: "Lord, there is so much to talk about."

Jesus: "Calm down and do not worry. You are thirsty; come."

He walks me over to a small spring bubbling out of His courtyard. The water was bluish green and cool. He dipped a cup into it and handed me the cup to drink.

Jesus: "Erin, you will love this. Drink deep as you are very thirsty."

I took a drink and it was the most amazing water I had ever had. I was crying. I realized I was so thirsty that I began to gulp this most amazing of waters. It was so refreshing that I can recall only having water once like this on Earth.

I was drinking from a small stream of glaciated water just north of Banff in Alberta Canada. The water was so cold that my hands became numb, but it was amazing.

As I drank from this small wellspring in the courtyard of God's Home, I began to cry even more. My tears mixed with the water. As the water went into me, I felt a warmth and tingle as the water seemed to mix with my blood.

I felt color going into my skin and it glowed like a golden pearl. A shimmer coat enveloped my outer skin and I felt restoration.

Me: "Lord, I had no idea how thirsty I was. Please forgive my gluttony." I continued to drink.

Jesus: "Erin, you are free to drink as much as you like. You are parched and tired. You even ran to Me today. You did not wait for Me to come to you. Instead, you came boldly in.

"This is as I always want you to come to Me when you have a need. The angels thought I would need to retrieve you or send them."

He was laughing as He said this and I saw that the angels were laughing as well. This was always in a good natured way, never cruel or mocking.

Me: "Yes, Lord, they are right. I cannot wait to see more of Your Home, whether You show me here or You wait until I live here in Heaven soon. Today, though, I was not distracted by the sights, but only by the front door.

Jesus: He was laughing. "I thought I would just bypass the door today and bring you right inside My Home."

Me: "I was surprised as I usually have to walk through something." I was smiling.

Jesus: Laughing. "Oh, do you now prefer to be outside the door or inside? Maybe I will need to mix this up a bit to keep you guessing?" The angels were laughing.

Me: "Lord, You already keep us guessing and I do not think that You need to mix things up. I have no clue what You will do from one day to the next. When I look back over the course of my life's events, then it makes perfect sense.

"I see You weaving the tapestry of my life together, but I look forward to the divine peace of Heaven. Things are more predictable here because You work this all together and You reside here."

Jesus: Laughing. "Erin, are you saying that Heaven is predictable? This sounds as if you will become bored." He then addressed the angels. "What do you think; is Heaven boring?"

All of them laughed. I heard the seven angels in the courtyard reply, almost in unison, "Oh no, My Lord!" I thought this was such a cool thing.

Me: "Lord, forgive my expression. What I meant is, I love feeling safe and secure here with You and I love the stability and the life giving atmosphere of Heaven. It is divine here and not dead like on Earth."

Jesus: Smiling. "Erin, I knew what you were speaking of. When you opened the front door, what were you looking for? Why look back when you knew I was here?"

Me: "I guess it is a habit. I saw a door and I wanted to see what was on the other side."

Jesus: "Yes, you do have a habit of looking back. Erin, this was closed door, so why open it?" He seemed more serious as He said this.

Me: "Lord, forgive me as I knew I was already in Your House. I did not have fear opening the door to look outside as this is Your front door, not mine. You have the beautiful valley in front. Why would I be afraid to open Your door? Did I do something wrong? Again, there seems to be much meaning behind a simple 'door'."

Jesus: "When you are here, you are safe and this is true. However, remember that, on Earth, do not open doors behind you and tread old battlefields. Old battlefields contain hidden dangers like minefields. Your steps are weighed and feet can trigger trouble.

"Erin, continue to look ahead and move forward. You were also told this ten years ago to not look back. Remember 'Kadima'. Now, this will be a compact lesson today and you will leave with questions.

"I will discuss this more with you tomorrow, but tonight you need to rest. You drank from the wellspring of life so you are renewed. Rejoice and I will see you again soon."

Me: "But, Lord, this is short. Did I do something wrong?"

Jesus: "No, Erin; you are perfectly 'Erin'! You bring Me joy and all of us laughter. You make me smile. I would like you to release your story, your dream and your visit with your friends. I have given a few of them the interpretation and this is good.

"Then I will meet you again to discuss what happened to you with your daughter. Now drink. Erin, you are loved."

Dream 109 – Cake, China & Changing God’s Clock

Received Sunday, February 2, 2014

(Formerly known as Heaven 35)

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for all that we have. Lord, You have blessed me and my children. You have given me dreams from Heaven; miraculous dreams and visions. I am blessed by Your awesome works. Lord, You are coming soon.

Please bless my friends with Your voice and Your divine presence, along with dreams, visions, miracles and Open Heaven. It would be so amazing for all of us to operate together.

Lord, I could use healing and some miracles too. Please, Lord, find a blessing or two that You could give all of us as a sign that You are here with all of us.

I am still heavy about what happened with my daughter on Thursday. There was such great panic, sorrow and finally joy that my earthly heart would have failed if not for my pacemaker. Thank You, Lord.

I have slept a lot these past few days, even forsaking my household duties. I have never been so relieved to hear the words, ‘Mom, I am okay.’ Thank You for this. I know there were so many layers to this and even a live parable of sorts.

This all reminded me of the joy when the landowner saw his prodigal son come home. The father in Luke 15:24 must have been so happy to see his lost son return.

Here and now, we have so much technology that we are very blessed with. That father in Luke had no technology to locate his son. There will be a time when this could happen again and this You have actually shown me will happen.

I need Your help again, Father. My dream last night was very disturbing...

My children were tucked away in a safe spot, but I needed to visit my parents. They were staying near Portland, Oregon, even though, in this dream, they actually lived in Idaho. I stopped to visit them on my way to a different place.

I was traveling with a small piece of luggage, my laptop, my phone and my tablet. I was in my car and seemed to have enough money to travel. Some event had occurred at night that was forcing all of us to go south and east in a mass exodus. Oddly, my parents seemed to somehow turn this into a type of social event.

Soon I found myself car caravanning with several others. We drove up to a small town that seemed almost deserted when I suddenly realized I had left some of my things back in Portland, which was now north of us.

I quickly said goodbye to my mom and dad, along with their friends. I decided I needed to go back north to get my things, but now needed to borrow my mom's car to do this. I estimated that I would lose about six hours and would barely make it to my final destination on time. My mother was concerned about me traveling at night.

Me: "Could I please have the key to your car?"

Mom: "Yes, but you can keep the key and the car as we will no longer need it."

I was confused by her response, but I knew that time was of essence. I dreaded the backtracking, but I really needed the things I had left behind.

I started to drive back and I realized I had made the journey in record time. It was now dark and the traffic was now going south in the northbound lanes as well. This forced me to drive backwards by using the area between the highway and the guard rail.

This strained my neck, but I finally got back up to their house. I collected all of things I had forgotten and then proceeded back to my car. There were massive parties taking place with the people who stayed behind. They seemed to be celebrating those who left.

Indeed, there were even fireworks and the now drunken people even seemed happy about the event that had taken place. Several of these people had come up to me and told me to hang out with them to watch the stars. As I was putting everything in my car and was getting into it, people were suddenly shouting, "Look! Look up!"

Drawing of swirling stars in reply below...

Up in the sky, I saw several stars and a crescent-shaped moon like a smile. It appeared as if several 'light swirls' were coming down for us. However, these 'swirls' suddenly turned into large types of lighted 'birds' and appeared to take people away.

Then these 'birds' seemed to disappear again. I could somehow see past this deception and realized that these were actually from the enemy. I knew that they were mocking the Rapture and that these were demons.

Dream over...

Lord, I know it is You that is giving me these very odd clear dreams. Please help me with these dreams.

Jesus: "Erin, come up."

Today, I arrived right on the Lord's threshold in His Home. The door was wide open. I was literally right next to the jam of the door and was neither in the door nor out of it. I went inside as I laughed and shook my head.

I faced the beautiful valley and noticed that it was sunset. The entire landscape was pink, gold, purple and fuchsias with even some blue.

I should note here that sunsets and sunrises in Heaven are much longer than those on Earth. These seem to last quite a while in order for us to fully enjoy all of the colors. I absolutely love this!

I marveled at our God's immeasurable wisdom as I now fully stepped into His House. I decided to close the door behind me this time. I smiled as I closed the door.

I took off my sandals and noticed that I was dressed beautifully and always like royalty. I knew that this was not a matter of vanity, but rather of worth. Here, I did not view myself of little worth as I did on Earth, but rather as an heir to Heavenly land.

My silk gown was pale pink with pearls and diamonds and there were woven strands of gold and silver. My skin was perfect and there were no creases or wrinkles. I felt so healthy.

In Heaven, I am around an earthly size of 4 or perhaps even 2. In comparison, right now on Earth, I am around a size 6 or 8 depending on the time of year. Make no mistake though; here in Heaven I am not skin and bones, but rather lean.

I am not muscular like an athlete, but I am very much like I was when I was a ballet dancer. The other difference I noticed was that, here in Heaven, I can enjoy food and live and need not worry about my weight or getting fat.

Now let me rewind a bit. I am about 5'2" in Heaven, which I prefer as I really do not mind being smaller and I never have. That being said, I have also noticed that there are many heights of people in Heaven and that not every woman is a 'size 2 or 4'.

In essence, the women are all perfectly proportioned and healthy, while the men are all strong. Some of the men seem more muscular than others, but this seems to be a personal choice.

Most men appear about the height of Jesus and He is about a foot higher than I am. I have seen some taller men, but I have also seen some that are slightly shorter.

We are all recognizable in Heaven by how we looked on Earth, but we are both glorified and perfected. In addition, the essence and personality of each person is seen and recognized. Some appear to be more serious, some appear laughing and joking and others appear quiet and demure.

However, there is one thing in common with everyone; peace! Each person glows with God's glory and each is welling up with joy and peace. There is comfort and safety here as people serve and are kind.

We are all so thankful to be there with a kindness in the form of Christ's love. In reality, His love is in action in all of us here in Heaven.

Today, I walked down the hall entry slowly as I looked up to the ceiling. I walked at a pace of roughly one minute for each day of Creation as it unfolded above me in this beautiful painting.

I had the biggest grin as I took the seven minutes to walk the full length of this grand entry. Jesus was there to meet me at the doors to the courtyard and He was smiling and laughing.

Jesus: "I knew You would appreciate this. Now, come, let's look at the calendar today."

He walked me over to a stepped area with a small platform. I could see God's ring of events from there. As the ring turned, two more events came and disappeared. I became sad.

Jesus: "Why are you sad, Erin? Seven more events occurred in just the last week alone? Rejoice."

Me: "Lord, there are still hundreds of events left before You come for us."

Jesus: "Erin, you did not see this clock just twenty years ago. You would not believe how much has happened since then. This week there were important proclamations which occurred. This was ground work laid into the next series of events about to unfold."

Me: "Lord, what was the very large event of the two events that I saw just now?"

Jesus: "Erin, you will see it. The news will be your source here."

Me: "Lord, I have been watching all of the events unfold in the news. It is hard to know which ones are 'the events of God'."

Jesus: Laughing. "Erin, God sees all things. What events do you believe are noticeable?"

Me: "Events with destruction, world leaders or alliances perhaps and maybe even some small events too? I cannot get inside God's head though as I am just one small human woman."

Jesus: Smiling. "You are somewhat correct. There are always wars, bombs and destruction. Sometimes these are markers, but sometimes not. Look to the prophecies for your guidelines.

"Also, like I mentioned to you before, things are being unearthed as evidence right now. Look also at land deals and contracts. Israel again is your gauge. Now let's have some dinner. Are you hungry?"

Me: "Yes, Lord. I was thirsty yesterday, but today I am hungry."

He was laughing as He walked me over to His beautiful gazebo with the golden dome. There were two angels serving us and holding our chairs. The Lord was in a beautiful fine white linen tunic and looked comfortable with His sleeves rolled up.

His tunic had a beautiful purple and blue sash with royal blue tasseled ends. The tassels were woven with silver. He was wearing linen white pants and beautiful woven sandals. Immediately, I began to notice the incredible china on His table.

Jesus: Laughing. "I thought you might like this."

Me: "Lord, this was like my dream, except this china before me is at least a thousand times the quality. Do You mind if I look at this?"

The china was delicate, but stout, and had a motif of various birds on it. There were three strands of gold wheat braided on the outer edges of the plate. My china had a replica of the sparrow with silver and gold I had seen here before.

I saw a platter nearby with an eagle, along with another small dish with a beautiful gray dove. I looked over to the Lord's plate. I giggled as He had several different birds on His plate. No one in particular, but His was clearly special.

Each of these pieces reminded me of the Royal Flora Danica plates, only Heavenly. I saw interesting dishes with tree motifs also. They were the most exquisite china I had ever seen.

I could see through them as they had depth and were clearly like nothing on Earth. Surely these had been fired in Heavenly kilns by the finest of craftsmen.

Jesus: "Okay, you are fascinated with these. Tell Me your thoughts, Erin."

Me: "First, Lord, these are amazing and clearly divine in origin."

I picked up one of the plates to see if there was a mark or hallmark under it. There was! I began to laugh.

Me: "Lord, You are so clever. I see Your signet mark in the center surrounded by several different marks. What are these?"

Jesus: "What, are you not hungry? Okay, yes, I knew you would enjoy this. These are marks from the craftsmen here. Some of these craftsmen have even come from periods of time long forgotten.

"Very little is remembered of these craftsmen on Earth, but their work is remembered here in Heaven. This is a collaboration of all of them working together. This too is a craft."

Me: "Lord, they put together such fine tableware for You. Each one of these tells a story and clearly these are priceless."

Jesus: "Yes, they honor Me with their gifts and this brings Me such joy."

Me: "Lord, there is love here in these items, yet there is no pretense. This is a casual dinner, but with formal plates and fit for a King."

Jesus: "Erin, you understand that I do not require such things."

Me: "Lord, I know this. It reminds me of Exodus and the Israelites giving all they had to build the Tabernacle. This seems almost like that." I continued to look around.

Jesus: "Somewhat, Erin, but this is My courtyard. While there are some relationships, these are magnified in the Holy of Holies Structure in the Golden City. This is different."

Me: "Lord, wherever You are, there is the Holy of Holies."

Jesus: He was laughing. "Okay, where My Father's Throne is; this is the Holy of Holies."

Me: "Okay, Your Throne is there too, Lord."

Jesus: He was smiling and nodding. "Okay, we are both correct here. You will understand more when you dwell permanently here. Then you will see everything together. It will all make sense then as to what God has prepared. Now, are you finally hungry?"

Me: "Yes, Lord, I will eat what You are serving."

Jesus waved and the angels and they brought us food, water and wine. Jesus took a sip of the wine first and then waved to the angel to pour some into my cup. He then served me both breads; flat bread and leavened bread. I was smiling.

Me: "Lord, a question; why did You give me the dream with all the china in it?"

Jesus: "I sent interpreters on this for you, Erin. Your friends have wisdom. Not all have responded, but soon they will. Let's wait on this until all is stated. You can be patient, right?"

Me: "Lord, as You know, I am not very good at patience as I get too excited."

Jesus: "There was an observation from this dream that you had left out. Can you tell Me what that is?"

I started to respond with a 'no' when all of a sudden the download came. A big smile formed on my face.

Me: "Oh yes. In the kitchen, there was more china on the outer counters and away from the valuable china."

Jesus: "Hmm, interesting. Tell Me about this."

Me: "I was thinking about this last night. The expensive china was stacked on the island. There was stacks and stacks of this on the island. However, the extremely expensive china, like Flora Danica, was with the daughter on the chandelier."

"In contrast, the perimeter counters, which were not in danger of being broken, contained plates and service pieces that were utilitarian and of little worth."

"They consisted of common china like old ironstone, hotel ware, real Chinese plates and old chunky hearty servant's everyday ware."

"None of the china on the perimeter were ornamental. These were certainly nothing that the guests would eat from, but only the workers."

Jesus: "So you are observing that the dishes on the perimeter were safe from harm and of little value?"

Me: "Yes, from the perspective of an estate appraiser on Earth."

Jesus: "Interesting. Why did you not mention this detail?"

Me: "Because they would not be harmed by the chandelier falling."

Jesus: "Okay, but your friends should know about this too."

Me: "Lord, You know all this. Please tell me what this all means."

Jesus: "What would that do? Erin, it takes the glory of God to conceal a matter and the honor of kings to search it out. What honor is there in never having to search for truth? This honors God. Has your searching allowed you deeper fellowship? Has the Lord not given you more jewels by uncovering more?"

"Erin, one day, you will look back at all you were given, you will see it marked, you will see it even in the Word of God and you will stand amazed. Now, are you enjoying your time with Me?"

Me: "Oh yes, Lord, I love learning from You. Each day is a new discovery. You are not setting out to harm me or confuse me. You always answer my questions. When You will not give me dates, You remind me of Your promises and tell me to be patient."

"However, just please remember that I am human and that I lack understanding. When bad things happen around me, I look for You to comfort me and I look for signs that You are here. I want so much to go to wherever the land of trees is now and safely wait until the day You come for us.

"I am ready to go where You take me, Lord. You have broken me of planning. You have removed my need to make arrangements. I am at the mercy of God's Calendar and Clock.

"Since I cannot read the writing on it, I have no gauge. Israel is a gauge for Your coming, but not for You removing me from the desert. I have no gauge for this? I would like my own clock ring so I can know the timing?"

Jesus: He was laughing so hard. "Let me understand this. You are asking for Your own ring on God's Calendar and Clock. This is funny. I must call upon Enoch as he will enjoy this. Erin, just what would you like on this ring? Come show Me."

He reached for my hand and walked me over to the platform.

Jesus: "Okay, now show Me where you would have it."

Me: I was embarrassed as I realized I was 'selling'. "My Lord, please forgive me."

Jesus: "Erin, there is no foolishness in hopes when the heart is good. Go ahead; this is not a test or a rebuke. Heaven is waiting; go ahead and go boldly."

Me: I sheepishly pointed to just above God's ring. "Okay, Lord, this is my thinking. I am not above God, but I just want a smaller, faster moving ring."

Jesus: He was laughing. "Okay, Erin, go ahead and explain what you mean."

Me: "Then I would be cogged with God's circle and my obstacle would be removed. Oh, You had better cog this with the seasons. I am thinking my obstacles can be removed by March 20th, 2014. Then You can come for us no later than June 6th, 2014.

"This sounds workable to me! Then I can dwell here in the City by July 1st, 2014 at the latest. Oh yes, Lord, I want all of my friends on that ring with me. Yes, this should work.

"Oh yes, put a few gold sparrows on the clock wheel, along with a few bluebirds, doves and what have you. Perfect...done, all finished and it is set!"

I rubbed my hands together and raised my hands into the air.

Jesus: "Okay, here is your ring."

An angel brought a ring out. It was black with gold birds. There were personal events on the ring for Earth.

Jesus: "So, what do you think?"

Me: "Oops, I forgot. Add the time of the creation of the 'New Earth' and all that comes with it too. Great!"

He was laughing and so were the angels.

Jesus: "Wow, Erin, you just changed the course of God's Calendar. You just sped everything up according to your timing, forcing God's timing to come faster. Hmm, oh no, we lost a few souls in the process, but we got this done for you.

"Now there is great relief here in Heaven as I now know the time of My coming. Oh, there will be some extra grumbling as there will be a few less in the bridal party, but I guess they can come later during the Tribulation.

"Hmm, there will be some more estates vacant here in Heaven. Whatever shall we do?" He was smiling and laughing with me as He said this. "Erin, any ideas?"

Me: "Oh Lord, please forgive me. Do not call in Enoch, although I must admit I adore him as he is kind and funny."

Jesus: Laughing. "Erin, I am becoming jealous."

Me: "Oh Lord, You are funny. Okay, point taken. I will wait on the Lord God and His timing as mine is according to what is best for me and my friends and not the Kingdom."

Jesus: "Erin, I love that you are in constant wonder and that you are like a child. I enjoy that you are not afraid to say what is on your mind, even though you cannot hide anything from Me anyway.

"I knew your thoughts in advance, but, for a moment, it was fun to play 'what ifs'. Unfortunately, you discovered quickly that God contains knowledge of both the beginning and the end and that all is planned.

"You cannot possibly reverse or move ahead of God's plans. When you do, and as you saw, this can create dire consequences. Playing God comes with a huge burden. Could you imagine being on that chandelier?"

Me: "No, Lord, I would not want to be up there in that high lofty and unstable position."

Jesus: "Good, Erin, as this is wisdom. Remember Who your solid rock is. Now, how is your daughter?"

Me: "Lord, You mean how her mother is? It was horrible."

Jesus: Chuckling. "Yes, but how was your daughter?"

Me: "As You know, Lord, she was the same and even had the same routine. She was safely cared for on the bus the entire time and arrived home safe and sound."

Jesus: "Good. I knew she would be."

Me: "Lord, You never even had her in harm's way at all. If anything, You had a veil over everyone so that no one could see her and therefore thought she was unaccounted for. Why did You allow this?"

Jesus: "Interesting choice of words, Erin. But first, come and let's finish our food."

He took me back to the gazebo. He motioned for the angel to tend to my chair. I thanked the angel.

Jesus: "Erin, there was more to this. Consider this a sign and training too. You discovered something about yourself. What was this?"

He was fixing His plate with food and asked me if I would like some olives in oil for my bread. I took some for my plate.

Me: "I learned what it was like to have joy and go from that to instant mourning, as in Lamentations 5:15. I also felt the opposite of that, as in Psalm 30:5. Joy comes in the morning when I heard her voice.

"Lord, it reminded me of the utter elation of the saints arriving in Heaven, the Promised Land. They kissed the ground, jumped in the river and embraced loved ones. There were tears.

"Lord, I was so scared and even terrified. At one point, Lord, I thought You had abandoned me. I could not wait for Your lessons and instead I had to act immediately. I waited before I went to You about my lost child."

Jesus: "No, you did not wait at all. Tell Me what you were repeating over and over again."

Me: "I kept repeating, 'No, Lord, please, no, Lord, please.' I was pleading with You over and over again."

Jesus: "Is pleading and petitioning to God not prayer? Erin, you had no time for formal prayer."

Me: "Lord, I counted the minutes because time slowed to me. One minute felt like an eternity when I did not know where she was."

Jesus: "Yes. A lot can happen in just forty minutes; this is true."

Me: "I felt punched in the stomach. I also felt both anger and anguish. I mourned with joy and I have been exhausted ever since."

Jesus: "Erin, the way you love your children is the same way God loves them too. Now you understand why each one is just as important to Him. With your addition of a ring cogged with God's Clock, it benefits you and your friends, but it does nothing for the parents of lost children.

"God's clock gives more time for the lost than yours does. Do you not want more friends in Heaven? Do you not want more children here? Think of the teenagers!"

Me: "Oh Lord, please forgive my selfish desires. How can I say I desire for all to be saved and dwell here if I cannot trust in the very timing of God. You told me once to ask for anything and up to half of the Kingdom. Well, Lord, please bring more to You.

"Please let more people see what You have planned here for us. Lord, I want so much to be removed from my trouble, but not at the expense of souls." I began to cry.

Jesus: "Erin, your time here will intensify. If you are willing to come boldly here, I will share more with you. Please be patient a little longer. There are rewards in your investigations. You honor God with your watching. Now wait with childlike wonder and parental patience.”

Me: “Lord, I am a parent and a child, yet I am neither.”

Jesus: “Funny. Erin, you are here and enjoy our time. I know it is difficult, but soon I will remove your obstacles. I will even do so prior to My coming, so please take heart. You have been given some divine mysteries to solve.”

Me: “Lord, did the events on God’s Clock just happen today or are they happening now?”

Jesus: “Interesting question. See what you can find. Erin, this is for your benefit. Please continue on your course. If you prefer, you can go back to your standard way of existing only three years ago and be active at the church and too busy to come to Me. Which is better?”

Me: “Lord, are You saying church is not good?”

Jesus: “No, of course not. It is about your heart condition. There are battlefields at church and the enemy has done his job of causing the opposites of the fruits to manifest there. This you know. However, not every church has this and many churches are wonderful with God there.

“However, many others are absent of God and these churches are more like mausoleums. Pray, for these are the same people that will take issue with your dreams, visions and relationship with Me.

“Do not worry about these people as they are tools of the blacksmith and should not be your concern. Here, taste this cake. Your birthday was not forgotten.”

He smiled as the angel served me a small beautiful cake with icing and a little sweet jasmine flower made in lavender icing. It had a small diamond in the icing. It was the prettiest little cake I had ever seen.

The cake had been placed on a small golden plate about six inches in diameter. It had small white doves on the edges; ‘Five Doves’. I laughed as I took a bite of the cake.

The cake was like Heaven and so good that I cannot adequately describe the taste. It was buttery and sweet, really like nothing I have ever had in my whole life. I began to cry.

Jesus: “Do you not like it, Erin?”

Me: "Oh Lord, is there nothing imperfect here in Heaven? Well I am not perfect."

Jesus: "Yes, Erin, but you are perfectly Erin and designed by God, hand crafted by the best Artisan Himself!" I was in tears as He said this to me.

Me: "Lord, You love me so much. What an honor this is to be loved like this, even when I try to be God and try to rearrange time."

He handed me a cloth for my tears. He reached over and put His hand under my chin and directed me to look up at Him.

Jesus: "Erin, your dreams will all come true."

Instantly, I saw snapshots of my life now and to come. I also saw eternity. I was in tears as I saw all of the great things He has planned for me...and all of us.

Me: "I love You, Lord."

Jesus: "You are loved by the King. Erin, find joy in this."

Dream over...

Dream 110 – Fresh Oil

Received Sunday, February 9, 2014

(Formerly known as Heaven 36)

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for everything we have. Thank You for my children. Thank You for friends and family. Thank You for making all things new. Lord, thank You for keeping my focus on things which are good.

I realize that I am helpless to come against the things of this world, but, when I remain trusting wholly in You, well I can even scale a mountain. I have been discouraged this week with an unsettled spirit. I have had anxiety and worry.

My sleep, for several nights now, has been broken and I have had a massive amount of dreams. Many have been disturbing, but all have been crystal clear. They have not always been crystal clear in meaning, but rather in visual clarity.

Lord, I know You are speaking to us through these dreams, but I have no idea what the reasons for some of them are as this is a mystery to me.

Jesus: "Erin, come up."

I stood right on His front doorstep today, but, this time, the door was closed again. I looked behind me to see if there was an angel. There was not. Right over me, there was a cloud; very massive and with cool mist.

The mist was shimmering like silver dust and, as the mist fell, it completely hydrated me. I looked at my skin and noticed that the mist left a feeling of dew on me and was glistening. I loved this feeling so I let some more fall on my skin.

I tilted my head back to receive some on my face. It was oil and cool mist. I was laughing as I noticed that it smelled like morning dew and even had a hint of something like citrus.

I turned around to view the amazing valley. The mist was over the olive groves, some of the mountains and one meadow in the valley, but the sun was shining over the rest. When the sun beamed through this mist, it created a rainbow unlike anything I have ever seen. It was like an oil and water based rainbow.

I remember seeing slicks from spilled oil on concrete and it too had an unusual rainbow effect. This was similar to this rainbow, but paled in comparison. Wow, God is just so amazing.

The mist was dewy and quickly absorbed into my skin. I should note that this mist did not leave a giant oil slick on the ground or make things slippery.

I decided I had better get inside so the Lord could talk with me about this. I laughed because this felt like the warm blanket that was dropped over my shoulders when I started these dreams.

As this fell upon me, I felt a warmth and tingle, like a medicinal heat wrap purchased at a store for sore muscles. The mist was cool, but, when it landed, it created healing warmth in me.

I turned and knocked with the door knocker three times. I waited a few moments and then I knocked again. I knew the Lord could read my thoughts. I decided to tap into the Holy Spirit.

Me: "Any suggestions, Holy Spirit?"

Holy Spirit: "Erin, you knocked. Now seek."

Me: "I am. I am calling on You."

Holy Spirit: "Are you knocking and standing or are you really seeking?"

Me: "Okay, then I will try the door."

Just as I reached for the handle, I heard the door unlatch and slightly open. I was laughing. Okay, what is the lesson today? Hmm, I hesitated again as I thought maybe an angel was going to open it all the way, but I heard nothing.

Me: "Okay, Holy Spirit, help me here. What do I do?"

Holy Spirit: "Erin, what are you wearing today?"

I looked down and I was wearing a white dress that fell just below my knees. I had an outer robe of blue and white. The robe had a thick hem woven with silver thread and was heavenly embroidered with symbols.

I had some silk white linen like pants under the dress of almost the same length. I had beautiful silver sandals with ribbons woven up my ankles. I had a beautiful small sash of deep blue around my waist.

Me: "Holy Spirit, this is beautiful, but what am I wearing?"

Holy Spirit: "Erin, you belong in His House. Walk in and seek Him!"

Me: I was giggling at this. "Oh!"

I decided to walk in quietly to see if anyone would notice me. I slowly opened the door and laughed quietly. I slipped off my sandals. At first, I went to leave them at the door, but kept them with me in case I was not supposed to take them off.

The Lord's Home is more welcoming than anywhere I have ever been to on Earth. I could have so much peace and rest here in God's House. This is amazing. Today, I noticed that I could see with even more clarity and that everything around me was crisp and very vivid.

The drapes were moving back and forth as I walked by. I saw this amazing illuminated pattern on them that was truly incredible. Every time I saw these drapes, it made me catch my breath in exhilaration.

I looked up and I saw the moving painting on the ceiling again. I giggled as I was at the part where God is creating animals. Realizing that I was giggling loudly, I put my hand over my mouth.

I must have looked ridiculous to the Lord. Here I was, an invited guest, tiptoeing down His hallway with my sandals dangling from my right hand and my left hand covering my lips. Just as I was thinking this, Jesus appeared at the opening to the courtyard.

Jesus: Laughing. "Erin, what are you doing?"

Me: "Oh, You know, Lord, just..."

He reached out to take my right hand and looked at my sandals. He was smiling.

Me: "Lord, they were so pretty that I wanted to take them with me as I did not know if I was to remove them or not."

Jesus: "Yes, they are quite lovely with your outfit."

He was laughing. I quickly switched and put them in my left hand so that He could take my right hand.

Jesus: "Now, let's discuss the delay today. What was happening with your thoughts?"

Me: "Well, I was surprised to see that Your door was closed, even though You knew I was coming. I thought I knew what to expect, but I had to change my thinking. Lord, why was Your door shut to me today?"

Jesus: "Erin, you are seeking answers. Was the door locked? No, it was not. The door will not always, by appearances, be open. What were your needs and what did you discover?"

Me: "Things do not always happen as I expect. I was not harmed in the process. You required me to knock and then seek, not to knock and then wait. I had to step out a bit in faith, although I must admit I did look around a bit first to see if I had missed anything.

"When I reached for the handle of the door, and without me doing anything, the door opened. You required only my faith that the door would be unlocked and then the door opened on its own."

Jesus: "This is good, Erin. Continue, but come with Me first."

He reached out and took me up to the upper balcony of the courtyard. There was God's Clock and Calendar. He once again drew the sky dark with the moon and stars and set the reflection in one half of the gazing pool below and surrounding the clock.

He then He waved His hand again to set the other side to the daylight image. I gazed upon the large portion of God's ring and noticed that three more events had appeared then disappeared.

Me: "Lord, it looks like much happened last week and is about to happen."

Jesus: "Yes. It was a busy week in Israel as declarations were made by the enemy against her."

Me: "Lord, I have been thinking of the nine month deadline that America put on the peace proposal. Will this be significant?"

Jesus: "Israel is fair, but her enemies are not. Remember the roots and that the goal is in her dominance. The enemy wants slavery and oppression; then genocide. The enemy distorts truth and seeks to erase historical facts. Even you know this, Erin, as the enemy would love your destruction too. So what patterns do you see?"

Me: "Something haunts me, Lord."

Jesus: "That is not good so you must bring this forth."

Me: "In 2009, a Palestinian leader declared that, in eight years, Israel would be wiped off the face of the Earth. This would mean 2017."

Jesus: "Yes, I know of this. It will come to nothing as this is not written. Where is it written that all of God's children in Israel will be wiped out? I do not recall it. This we have seen before and deadly declarations have dire consequences."

"By their admission, they have brought condemnation on themselves. Now, we do know a few things to watch for. Say a nine month proposal deadline leads to a nine month contract. Now, I say this, as this is the enemy's trick; Israel and others negotiate on longer deals, but the enemy has a nine month deadline to break it."

Me: "Lord, this reminds me that You are the opposite and that You operate on a seven year contract."

Jesus: "Oh, yes, the Jubilee calendar; very good, Erin. The enemy is impatient and, in their laws, their nine month commitment is the length of their contract. This is sad, but true and God sees this as trickery. This has come against Israel before and is nothing new. You learned something about Cain and Abel recently. Do you remember?"

Me: "Oh, yes. The argument I read was in Jasher. Cain became inflamed when Abel's sheep grazed upon Cain's land. Abel pointed out to Cain that, since he ate Abel's sheep and wore the wool from them, then why not allow the sheep to graze on his land."

Jesus: "Back up a bit. Remember the heart of Cain to begin with. Cain brought poor offerings to God while Abel brought his finest lambs to God as an offering. So Cain was already angry and jealous of Abel."

"Cain decided to kill Abel and hide his body from God and everyone else. So you see this same pattern operating today. Israel has favor and represents Abel. Israel comes to the aid of the enemy's children, yet not one Jewish child could safely walk in the enemy's city."

Me: "So the enemy walks freely and is safe in Jerusalem, but Jews cannot walk freely in their areas. This is not right and, yes, I see the pattern."

Jesus: "I am just showing you that there is nothing new here."

Me: "So the nine month proposal of peace will come with a nine month contract to be broken?"

Jesus: "Erin, there are patterns. Remember, there is no unknown strategy of the enemy. God's people will be protected. There will be some loss, but God will make do on His promises. He will not be mocked nor will He delay. Please continue to pray as those who divide up God's land will have their land portioned out and divided."

Me: "Lord, You are speaking of America now."

Jesus: "Erin, this too is a pattern, but, please, be at peace. Now come, let's sit together."

Instantly, we were in His gazebo dining. I was laughing as we were instantly there. He took some bread and broke it, offering me a half. I accepted it. Then He offered me some leavened warm bread. The angel poured wine into His cup, He tasted it and He nodded His head.

Jesus: "Erin, this is very good. Oh, here is some oil too. It is freshly pressed from the finest olives in My grove. Here are some fresh olives also for you."

There were several different types served in a funny long dish. Then the angels brought a type of pie or soufflé; an egg dish. They also served me honey with my bread that was amazing.

Me: "Lord, why do we always eat and drink here? I love this and do not want to change this, but I was just curious."

Jesus: "Erin, in My House, you will never hunger nor thirst. What kind of host would I be to not provide a welcoming and secure place for you?"

Me: I was smiling. "I feel so welcome, Lord."

Jesus: "Erin, why did you believe the door would be locked today, really?"

Me: "Because it was closed, Lord, and I thought I had done something wrong perhaps? I had quite a few burdens this week and I was afraid as the seed You have given me is dwindling again. I thought Your favor upon me was gone.

"I have also been continuously hammered at work. When I have these wonderful times with You, I then have to go back down to the dreariness.

Here I see the Promise Land and I want so much to be here, but I know there is more which must occur and some days I feel disheartened.

"When I am here with You, You do not just feed me incredible food when I hunger and You do not just give me water for my thirst; You bring me hope. Lord, sadly I must go back down there.

"I am willing to do this as long as You will have me, but could I just have a portion of my glorified body and be healed on Earth? Could I have just a portion of my wealth here to bring down? I know this is a lull, but I am becoming discouraged. Please, Lord, show Your favor soon and remove my trouble. I am knocking and seeking."

Jesus: "Erin, Who was at the end of the hallway to greet you? I know you had a walk before I met you, but I did meet you before your destination."

Me: "So, Lord, the hallway is my symbol of the lull in activity and escalation of attacks and a parable?"

Jesus: "Possibly, Erin, this is interesting."

Me: "Well, it took seven days of God's creation to get to You" I was laughing.

Jesus: "Okay, point taken. Let's look at all of this as your season right now then. Your walk in the hallway, let's say seven years, as a symbol you work for six years and rest on the seventh year. Then Who is waiting for you?"

Me: "Lord, You are waiting. Please forgive my mood, Lord, I am heavy today."

Jesus: "Then lay down these burdens, Erin."

Just then, the little plump sparrow with silver and gold came to the table and Jesus motioned for her to take the crumbs back to her nest. I giggled as it was so cute.

Jesus: "Tell Me your troubles. I tell you the truth, they will one day be like crumbs; carried off and removed."

Me: "Lord, the usual trouble; worry about providing for my kids, my health and job, when I am to step out in faith or when to wait and when to go for that door handle and when to wait? I become discouraged easily when the enemy gains ground."

Jesus: "Interesting choice of words."

Me: "I had a dream for a friend a couple days ago and I was unable to stop things."

Jesus: "Oh, are you God now? Erin, the timing was no accident. This was a bit disheartening, yes, but a valuable lesson and a good one. Now you keep thinking about a certain part in that dream which disturbed you. Explain this to Me."

Me: "Yes. In the dream, I was hunting down a witch in order to keep her from hurting more people than she already had. I was led to an old brick warehouse and I opened the door. Inside, there were children aged thirteen and under and were mostly girls.

"The inside of this place was pitch-black and the children were covered in black oil. It was horrible. When the light shined on them, the reflection of the oil created a type of halo effect outlining their bodies.

"Whatever the witch had given them to eat or drink made them blind. They could not see the light, so, as they walked, some slipped into rectangular holes in the concrete floor. I told them that the Lord will help them.

"They said a woman came claiming to be sent from the Lord, so they did not want to believe me that You are good."

Jesus: "This is an interesting dream. What, in particular, bothered you?"

Me: "The black oil was so different than this pure clear oil." I pointed to the pressed olive oil.

Jesus: "You picked this up and this is good. So, do you remember some time ago learning about what an olive goes through to get to this state? The olive is pressed. The trials in your life produce the oil in you also. Remember that oil is holy and used for light. Consecrated oil keep the enemy far away and is pure and good.

"Now it is obvious in your dream that this witch got to these children before their age of accountability to consecrate them in unclean crude oil. She too gave them food and water as they were hungry and thirsty.

"This blinded them to who she was and she appeared as a child of light. She blinded them so they could not see who she was and that she had no candle. Some souls were lost, but not many. The light was let in and truth intervened as there was still time.

"Now this is a good message of learning, but also a warning. Now I will leave this for you to uncover as there are layers here."

Me: "Lord, it felt so good to stand in the wonderful divine mist this morning. It was healing."

Jesus: "Oh, you liked that? This is God, Erin. This mist was over Eden also. Not only does it consecrate you, but it heals and nourishes too. Now, do you feel welcome here with what I feed you? Are you nourished and is your thirst quenched?"

Me: I was beginning to cry. "Yes, Lord, always. This is why I would like to stay now."

Jesus: "I understand, but there is still more to discover. You had another dream and this too weighs upon you."

Me: "Yes, Lord, it troubles me."

Jesus: "Go ahead and tell Me."

Me: "I was living in a gray apartment both on the inside and out. There were large windows, each about fourteen high. There was snow outside as a man came to drop something off and then left."

"I am talking to my daughter when I noticed two large cockroaches about two inches long. I was bothered because we do not have these in our area of the country. When I went to kill them, I noticed they were actually deadly scorpions."

"I went after them, but they went into the cracks in the floor. This bothered me greatly knowing that there was a hidden danger there and that my children could be hurt."

Jesus: "First, Erin, do not be afraid. Notice their size and that these can be squished with your foot. They were afraid of you. Yes, I see that you are worried about obstacles. Two are left, correct?"

Me: "Yes, Lord. When will You remove these?"

Jesus: "Erin, what was your dream about the soil?"

Me: "You were instructing me on tilling dirt carefully in rows. You showed me rich soil; dark and soft. I saw sparkling minerals in it. You showed me how to prepare my field and do all that I can as a farmer."

"You showed me to do this as if it were a canvas which would become art. Then You reminded me that inspiration is like the sun and rain."

"Without inspiration, there can be no art and, without sun and rain, there can be no crop. All I can do on my own is prepare with my whole heart. The rest I must trust and have faith in You."

Jesus: "Erin, you are instructing today and I am proud of you. Instead of focusing on these small scorpions, let's focus on your field."

Me: "Lord, You are instructing me in so many ways."

Jesus: "What did the Counselor direct you to do when you were standing on My doorstep?"

Me: "Two things; to knock, seek and the door was opened and as to what I was wearing."

Jesus: "Ah yes, you are dressed similar to the Homeowner. Are you a guest or do you belong here? Hmm, interesting?" He was smiling and laughing.

"If I were a betting man with a wager, which of course you know I am not, I would say you are dressed as if you live here. Hmm..."

Me: "Well, yes, I have this beautiful glorified body, I am wearing this lovely dress and it matches Yours in fabrics and details."

Jesus: "Interesting. So perhaps you are the daughter of the King after all?" He was laughing. "Do I need to review this with you again?"

Me: "Now, Lord, this is hidden in plain sight. Well, not exactly hidden here."

Jesus: "Do not let the enemy rob you, Erin. Your joy has been robbed this week. You are different."

He dipped His finger in olive oil and He dabbed my forehead, my nose and my chin. He began to laugh.

Jesus: "Now cheer up as you have much to look forward to, Kadima! Remember, the enemy does his level best to come in and take your joy and your light. You remember Enoch, Erin, and that he lived in very dark times. He had seen horrible things, yet he chose joy. He is contagious, right?"

Me: "Yes, Lord, like You."

Jesus: "Well, our Father's favor was upon Enoch and His face shined upon him so that joy was there. In comparison, Elijah is more serious."

Me: "Why is Elijah so serious, Lord?"

Jesus: "Until his business is finished, his heart is heavy and it shows. His burden is weighty and there is a harsh contrast. Remember how I felt in the olive grove the night before I was about to be pressed and crushed? This is no different, Erin."

Me: "Lord, I never noticed that You praying in the olive grove had such significance for the olive press. Wow, God is so amazing."

Jesus: "There are many more parables left to be discovered there. So, I would say you are sometimes like Elijah, with your solemn seriousness, and, other times, like Enoch."

Me: I was laughing. "I like Enoch's personality, Lord."

Jesus: "Erin, then this is up to you. Choose joy in the midst of your trouble. Many will be attracted to you when your light, your candle, burns. It will be like a flame of promise. In the process, do not let your flame burn out. Remember fresh oil.

"Remember the nourishment of good news. Look at your feet as beautiful are the feet of those who bring good news. Now give me those pesky scorpions so I can smash them. I suggest a new color on the walls of your gray outlook in the apartment.

"The snow is fresh and God opened the storehouses, as in Job. He is making you white as snow. This is a blessing, Erin. Remember your field. When you come next time, I have more for you to see. Do not worry. The scorpions hide in cracks."

Me: "Lord, they are also bold and roar like lions."

Jesus: He was laughing. "Okay, but lions also rely on God for their meals. They even lose their teeth when they get old and chew on grass, so even they can be humbled. A lion is teachable, but a scorpion is not. There are layers here. Give this to Me.

"I love you, Erin. Remember, you are perfectly 'Erin' and even the angels ask Me when you are coming again."

Me: I was laughing. "Am I the entertainment here?"

Jesus: "Well, yes, you do make us smile and laugh. We enjoy your company, Erin. God loved and found delight in your ring on His clock. All of Heaven even shook with laughter over this."

Me: "I pray I never make Him split that sea. He has so much power."

Jesus: He was laughing. "Erin, you delight God and so do your friends. There is not much that brings Him laughter related to Earth any more. Look at the globe of your map and the lights.

"There are not many lights if you were to swap these and make them cities with populations. Please pray. Pray for your sister, Israel. Oh, also, pray a blessing upon your sister and friend. I will see you soon. Remember the soil and oil. You are loved."

Dream 111 – Healing Rain & the Number 9

Communion

Dear Father,

Despite a difficult week, I choose joy. I thank You for the blessing of You in my life, for my children and family and for my friends and their kind prayers and blessings. I am overjoyed by Your kindness concerning me.

When I faced trouble several times last week, You reminded me about the power of my words. You have taught me to let my words be few and to even not react or respond when people curse me, thereby removing their power over me. Instead of entertaining them or engaging them in a war of words, I disengaged and praised You instead.

Each time I did this, the enemy's power was removed and I continued on my course. I thank You, Jesus, for Your gentle instruction. You are music to my ears and opposite of the sharp sandpaper of the tongues of my enemies.

Blessed are You, Jesus, for sending the Holy Spirit to nourish my heart when words try to break it. I love You, Lord and Your ways are higher.

Jesus: "Erin, come up."

I arrived today in a sitting position looking over the beautiful valley. I was somewhat startled because I have never arrived up here in a sitting position before. The Lord is so wise to do this as the Holy Spirit informed me that He wanted me to take a moment to just breathe deeply and exhale.

As I watched the sunrise in the valley, it was breathtaking as it was like every sunrise and beautiful sky I had ever seen all rolled into this one incredible painting. There was a beautiful foggy mist over half of the valley that provided a nourishing dew.

At times, the sun was breaking through and the beams of light highlighted the olive groves. I saw a sunbeam highlight a meadow pasture with sheep next to the river in the distance as well.

As I looked even closer, I saw a lion sleeping on his back. I laughed as the concept of a gentle lion was foreign to me. I laughed even harder when I saw some young lambs rolling around right next to this massive sleeping lion. I began to cry even as I write.

As I scanned the mountain peaks, I could not believe what an amazing sight this all truly was. I saw beautiful snowy peaks and snow glistened on them like silver and diamonds.

Even though snow can be difficult at times on Earth, I had joy that there was snow here as this meant that He really does have storehouses of snow in Heaven, which is spoken of in Job. My eyes scanned to another lower mountain range and I smiled as I saw many beautiful vineyards.

These jeweled grapes were so impressive that when the beams of light shined on them, the grapes glistened in rainbow colors like a prism from a crystal would reflect. I had never seen this before here and I sat there for some time.

I heard the Holy Spirit tell me to remember to breathe deep and take everything in. I then remembered that it was not just the sights that were amazing in Heaven, but also the sounds. I heard the sweet sounds of the song birds as they sang songs that I recognized.

I saw a large group of little birds, perhaps a thousand of them, flying together in an amazing display making designs in the air. These birds were white with gold so when they would fly through one of the beams of light, you could see something like a long ribbon of gold glistening in the sky.

As I listened, I heard 'Amazing Grace' being sung by these birds and it was amazing, uplifting and not sad at all. I started to laugh as I then heard the 'Revelation Song' by Phillips, Craig, & Dean. Well technically speaking, this song would have actually been a song originating from Heaven throughout the years. The songs were so beautiful.

I began to hear the orchestra in Jesus' House behind me start to play along with the bird's song and I began to hum the Revelation Song with them. I raised my hands in worship as this was truly the ultimate worship experience as every cell in my body was raised up in prayer as if there was no gravity.

I was now standing on a step of His House looking toward the valley and noticed that these beautiful flowing channels of water lined the stairs. When I looked in the water, I saw these small little 'pearl onion' sized fish dancing in the water and leaping out and back in again.

As I worshiped God, I thanked Him with all of my heart as I had never been so thankful to Him before. Up here in Heaven, I now know what it is like to be alive, nourished and healthy. I was young here in Heaven.

As I stood with my arms raised, I felt something like rain fall all over me. I spun around and laughed in the rain with my arms still raised high. Here in Heaven, I was able to raise my arms over my shoulders, but on Earth there is a titanium plate or hinge in my neck and I have such pain and trouble lifting my arms past my shoulders even for worship.

I reveled in this moment to be able to fully worship God with no judgment and no one looking. I had tears pouring down my cheeks as I received the rain on my face. I had my eyes closed for a moment when I felt one of those beams or rays of light over me.

The rain was gone and the sun dried me off quickly. I laughed because I had been soaked and it seemed that I dried in an instant. The rays of light were so warm and I felt something like a rush through my veins. This felt like a warmth inside my body, yet my outer skin still felt cool. I could feel healing in my body while I stood there for some time and prayed.

Me: "Lord, I ask that the healing I feel here would follow me back to Earth and for all of us who love You. You are coming soon for us, so please reverse our death and our declining bodies and give us the miracle of rejuvenation while we wait for You. Lord, a man could have the wealth of the world, but if there is no cure for what ails him then all he has is You.

"Please, Lord, I ask for a miracle. Lord, You placed an ear back on the head of a soldier from the enemy and restored his hearing so please, Father, will You not heal us too. I know I ask for a lot in worldly terms, but this is small to You.

"You move mountains, shake the Earth, open the storehouses of snow, determine placement of stars and give light to day and the moon at night, so please, Lord, will You not send Your healing rain to pour out over Your children while we wait? Lord, who am I to dine with the King when my requests for my friends and my healing are not heard?

"Please, Father, I go back down there and I suffer. Please, Lord, deliver us from our dying bodies. I ask for the miracle of healing and the reversal of death while we wait. Make us youthful again, Lord, and do not allow us to stumble and fall Lord. Do not let it be that the only way we can pick up our mats and follow You is through technology.

"Please, Lord, open Heaven over my friends. We love You and now that I have seen You I am forever changed. I will gladly sacrifice my request for my own healing if You would help all of them. You know me, Lord, as You knit me in my mother's womb and there is nothing hidden in me as I am Yours, Lord."

As I stood worshiping, I felt the Lord's hand on my head and I turned to hug Him. I wept as He held me for some time and I felt this amazing healing warmth as I cried on His shoulder. Without saying a word, He took my hand and led me through the open door into His Home.

Instead of letting me stop to take off my sandals, He took me right into His inner courtyard. I continued to cry as I had not really felt like this before. He walked me over to a beautiful little spring where He drew a cup of water and tasted it. He then smiled and gave me His cup to drink. I eagerly took it as I was so thirsty for His water.

Me: "I am sorry, Lord, but this water is simply the most amazing water and has completely satisfied my thirst."

As He smiled and reached for my hand, we were immediately on a bridge in the back of His Home. There was a massive wall of chiseled stones and cut marble with water flowing out of seven large rectangular holes. The sound of the waterfall was like Niagara Falls and the power and outflow could easily light all of the cities of the west coast of the USA.

He then walked me to His overlook with His hands over my eyes. When He removed His hands from my eyes, He motioned for me to look. Somehow He had now granted me super sight like panoramic binoculars so I could see perfectly.

I now could see Heaven from His vantage point and there were easily a thousand hills. Not only that, but there was also seven valleys surrounding each of these hills. As I continued to look, I could see an ocean, beaches, villages and beautiful estates. Indeed, I could see amazing mansions of so many different styles.

I also saw amazing things in the air as well as the sea and it was all so beautiful. I was still crying as I realized I had only seen the valley of God and His Garden, along with the valley in which I will dwell, but this was almost too much to take in other than to say that He has truly prepared a place for us.

He then turned me in the opposite direction and I was now facing east towards the City of Gold. The city shined bright like the sun, but it was almost too bright to look at. The Lord saw me struggling and simply waved His hand over my eyes so that I could see the walls, gates and the city itself. I could not believe how beautiful the city was and it was truly amazing.

I noticed that the jewels of the Ephod were inlaid in the very foundation of the city. While I knew no attack would come in Heaven, I still felt relief to see that a wall was surrounding this city that could never be breached by the enemy. The people who dwell inside the city are free to go outside and do not have to fear the enemy as they are not prisoners.

During this whole time, the Lord Jesus was holding my hand and I was squeezed His hand in return and smiling. When He squeezed my hand back, we were instantly at His balcony overlooking the Clock and Calendar of God.

He waved His arm and set the moon and stars in the pool surrounding the clock and then He set the sun and the stars of dawn and early evening in the in between portions. Still nothing was said as I noticing that God's ring on the clock had become smaller as many more events had come and gone.

Me: "Lord, there were many events removed from last week and it even seems that time has now accelerated."

Jesus: "Erin, remember that My Father controls the speed. You have gone through a time period where there was a lull in activity or at least what you perceived as a lull in activity. God has a plan in place, but this does not always mean that every week there will be more and more. Sometimes many events will be come and go in a week and then other times it will seem like nothing happened."

Me: "Lord, there seemed to easily be thirty events removed last week. I had no idea there had been that much activity."

Jesus: "Just because you do not read it or see it in the news does not mean it is not an event on God's Calendar."

Me: "Lord, are You coming for us in April?"

Jesus: "Erin, I have told you to watch Israel as this is your gauge."

Me: "Lord, You granted me information one year ago which could be for this year. This year seems insignificant to me, but I am not sure."

Jesus: "Erin, You were shown that earthly calendars cannot be trusted as being accurate as only those calendars appointed by Heaven's ambassadors can be trusted. Remember that Enoch is from Heavenly places and walks with Me. He is a friend of God and even the fallen recognized and mocked him as 'father time'. God inspires man on Earth, but remember that Enoch walked with God and then he was not."

Me: "Yes, I know that Enoch's calendar is a gauge, Lord, but how do we know man has not modified that calendar too?"

Jesus: "Good question. It is best to look and follow the moons and go back in time as necessary to measure it, but this too is lengthy. It is really just best to pray, look to God and watch Israel."

Me: "Or can I just come up here instead?"

Jesus: Laughing. "Yes, Erin, you can. Now, to answer your question about April, there are patterns and you should watch for the proposal and threats. Always remember the enemy's pattern of 9 months."

Me: "Lord, I need Your help with the number 9, but I do remember that this means and end of a contractual agreement in Islamic terms, correct?"

Jesus: "This is interesting, but not to be gauged. God is the gauge and the patterns of the enemy are certainly a gauge also, but let's look instead at Israel. Erin, there have been 27 documented sieges of Israel in the Bible. We can use numbers as you know God's ring on the calendar is the third one and the number of judgments is 9."

Me: "Oh, wow, 3 multiplied by 9 equals 27."

Jesus: "This is a pattern hidden in plain sight. Now, you were told a year ago of the proposal of peace, right?"

Me: "Yes, I remember."

Jesus: "Now let's look at signs in Haggai 1:11 as there are 9 judgments here that were given to Haggai: 'And I called for a drought upon the land, the mountains, the corn, the new wine, the oil, upon that which the ground brings forth, upon men, upon cattle and upon all the labor of the hands.'

"Erin, there were even 9 people stoned, 9 widows, 9 blind and 9 with leprosy and there are patterns with this. Now God My Father is a God of precision and He is righteous and fair. He gives warning, but when all is complete and final after the nine comes, then Judgment follows."

Me: "Lord, but there is also mercy. Lord, please, there is 9 months of pregnancy and even You were in the womb for this time before You came to save us. Were not all of those afflicted also delivered from their afflictions? Did You not also cut down those who harmed them?"

Jesus: "Yes, to all Erin as you are correct. There is hope, but there must be judgment carried out concerning God's Land as it is God's. The entire world is free land, but this one part is completely God's and whoever seeks to divide, portion or even threatens to harm this land will bring judgment upon their own land in return."

Me: "Lord, the USA is finally recovering from the last trouble. If God pours out His full wrath then none of us will escape it. Is all of this coming in April?"

Jesus: "Whether this comes at the end of April or even summer, you should not be fearful, Erin."

Me: "Lord, so is this the time frame? Will You come for us then, Lord? If You do not, is there any way You can take me to Your Courts so that I may appeal to God there? Lord, You are my Kinsman Redeemer and Lawyer, so please plead my case. Please bring judgment on the men involved, but not on our land or provisions."

Jesus: "Erin, your prayers and petitions will be noted, but do not be afraid. God sends judgment, but He also loves and has mercy."

Me: "Yes, Lord, but there were still 9 people who loved You and yet were stoned."

Jesus: "Erin, they dwell here now and received much more for this than you could even imagine. You will not be forgotten and neither will your friends and God's children. Just be clear that good God fearing men die in battle, yet they are never alone. God is there, Erin."

Me: "Lord, will there be casualties?"

Jesus: "Yes, Erin, this is to be expected as their lives were mapped from the beginning. You must grieve for the lost not the found, Erin, as these things must occur. This is part of what you have been shown and you are not the only one who has seen this."

Me: "So, Lord, are we like the modern day Babylon?"

Jesus: "Perhaps, again there are signs in Scripture. Come and let's have communion."

He squeezed my hand and instantly we were at the table at His gazebo. The angels served both leavened and unleavened warmed bread and poured wine in Jesus' cup. Then He took the bread, broke it and handed me one of the halves. Then He tasted the wine and motioned for me to eat the bread.

Jesus: "Someday we will be all together at the banquet and we will partake together. My friends come here and meet with Me and we enjoy communion here. Erin, you will not believe who has sat in your chair next to Me."

Me: I smiled. "Lord, oh my, I never thought of this. In Matthew 26:29, You said, 'I tell you, I will not drink of this fruit of the vine from now on until that day when I drink it anew with you in my Father's Kingdom.' So this is just the banquet, but You have met with others like Peter here in this very spot."

Jesus: "Very good, Erin, to the followers of the laws and traditions this is also a type of Seder, but for now it is communion with My friend, Erin."

Me: I began to cry. "Oh thank You, Lord, I can never thank You enough."

Jesus: "Erin, it pleased Me and My Father how you worshiped Us today. God's light shined upon you and now His radiance is shining on your face."

Me: "Lord, is it possible for You to grant me some of the healing rain or can You send this to my friends directly? Lord, if judgment is soon to occur maybe even this summer and if You do not come we will need supernatural strength to endure this coming trouble. Please, Lord, I have some friends who need Your healing touch."

Jesus: "Erin, do you believe I can?"

Me: "Oh yes as I believe You can do all things. I know You use the meek to silence the lions and even humble them. I know we are all used by You even in desert places to help others with the good news of Your love."

"Please, Lord, I am begging as even the sparrows are granted crumbs of communion bread at Your table and even a dog is given scraps. Please, Lord, then how much more would You give us?"

Jesus: "Erin, then it is done, but remember that faith is as a mustard seed. Your case is a good one so now see what the Lord will do on your behalf. Remember though to forgive your enemies, forgive those closest to you and to hold nothing against yourself."

"Cursing your body will not bring forth a blessing upon even if I made you into a twenty five year old in appearance. Do not divide the blessing by cursing yourself, but rather humble yourself, bless your temple and take in that which is good. Remember that your temple houses the Holy Spirit and therefore is a tabernacle."

"Be careful that those who are praying over you are not also cursing you by their words. A house divided cannot stand and you must offer yourself as a living sacrifice. Erin, prepare your field and I will send the rain."

He smiled and put His hand over my hand.

Me: "Lord, I cannot blossom without Your healing rain and sun."

Jesus: "Erin, there is healing in the beams. As a sign, I will send healing beams and rainbows of promise through these storms. You will have confirmation of this."

Me: "Lord, rain healing down on us and nourish us. Please send the sun to bring warmth and strength. Do not scorch our land. Please, Lord, bless us."

Jesus: "Erin, you will be far removed from the desert and there I will find you and bring you Home."

Me: "Lord, so You are not coming for us in April but there will be judgment?"

Jesus: "Erin, you are persistent, but please just watch for the signs as there is still much more that needs to occur as this is by God's design. Now you have been told you will be safe as well as your children, so this is of great comfort, right?"

Me: "Yes, Lord, but I am sad for my friends. You are including them too, right?"

Jesus: "Erin, they are loved dearly and will be taken care of so please take comfort. This is enough for today, but next time we will discuss what you saw here today as I have much to show you. You are loved, Erin, so please do not worry Erin. Please read about eagles in Isaiah 40:31. I have a special blessing for you in Psalm 103. I will create a miracle if you allow Me to."

Me: "Oh Lord, please, I am ready for You to pour whatever You are led to pour into my vessel as I have nothing to lose, yet everything to gain."

Jesus: He was laughing. "Very good, Erin, now are you ready?"

Me: "Yes, Lord."

He reached over and squeezed my hand.

Dream 112 – Oceans & the Almond Branch

Received Sunday, February 23, 2014

(Formerly known as Heaven 38)

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for a day of divine rest as this is such a blessing. Thank You for my family. I am like a farmer and my children are like my field. Lord, there are days in which I feel I am tending to briars in my field. However, when I clear away the debris, there I find flowers and rich vines.

Thank You for reminding me that I make a difference in their lives. Lord, I am grateful for loved ones. I am grateful for the voice of love when I have had such a difficult week. Lord, I thank You for Your voice. You have called me and I am forever changed by Your goodness.

Lord, please consider me Your field or an orchard. Oh, how I long to produce good fruit. Lord, I do not have much here, but I have everything with You. You are the House I live in wherein Your foundation is holy and the walls You have built encompass me with love.

The roof over my head is Your cover and, even though I own no earthly Home, You have provided a place for me here. Lord, thank You for blessing me. I love You so much.

Jesus: "Erin, come up."

I stood on His front doorstep today and looked over the most amazing valley of God. Spring was in the air and a beautiful mist all around His Home. I could also see that there were sporadic soft downpours of rain over various parts of the landscape.

I could instantly tell it was morning just by the smell alone as there is a unique fragrance that seemed to define this particular time of day. The sky was bathed in a beautiful pink hue and the sun streamed in to highlight various areas throughout the valley.

I saw the olive groves with a ray of light. I saw the pasture by the river where the sheep had been lying next to the sleeping lion. As I looked closer,

I could see that the lion was curled up like a cat and I could not help but smile.

Then my eyes were drawn to a very snowy area on one of the mountains that had a frozen lake. I asked the Holy Spirit to zoom me in. Instantly, my eyes had supernatural telescopic vision as if I were overseeing the area from only about twenty feet away.

I then saw the most amazing sight. There were three white sea lion cubs all sleeping on their backs with their paws facing upward in praising positions and their bellies exposed. It seemed like they even had the biggest grins on their faces and looked completely at peace.

Then my eyes went to the right and there I saw an even more incredible sight. A large polar bear was laying the same way stretched out in praise position, but it must have been twelve feet in length. Happily, the polar bear looked like it had no interest at all in snacking on those cute baby seals.

I began to have tears as I realized that Heaven is a place of complete peace and 'shalom'. As I let it sink in that there will not be any blood stained snow anywhere here, I shook my head in amazement.

As the sun beamed over these areas, I noticed that there were all kinds of different flocks of birds circling in the sky and dancing. These birds perfect flight synchronicity were somehow creating these long ribbons of color.

I began to praise God for this and thanked Him for this Promised Land. I sang, "Holy, Holy, Holy, Lord God Almighty, early in the morning my song shall rise to Thee." Then I lifted my hands in full worship to fully praise Him as I once again realized that all He has created is perfected here in Heaven and that I am safe here under His divine canopy.

I sat down on His front step for some time and started to quietly sing a new song by Hillsong called "Oceans". As I closed my eyes to sing, I could hear the choirs of angels starting to sing harmony for me from inside Jesus' House.

Tears began to fall down my cheeks as I thought of the lyrics to this song and my special season with God:

"You call me out upon the waters, the great unknown where feet may fail. And there I find You in the mystery. In Oceans deep, my faith will stand. And I will call upon Your Name, and keep my eyes above the waves. When oceans rise, my soul will rest in Your embrace, for I am Yours and you are mine."

The sun broke through over me as I thanked God for everything. I was sitting on the Lord's front doorstep worshipping with all my heart when I felt Jesus' hand on my right shoulder. I stood up to hug Him and He held me for some time. He sat me back down next to Him on this beautiful step as I was crying.

Jesus: "Erin, let's stay here for a while. Please do not stop your singing as there is even more to this song. Tell Me what comes next?"

Me: "Lord, I am embarrassed to sing in front of You as I am not a very good..."

Just as He put His finger to my lips, I felt a gentle sting of warmth like an electric charge make some sort of change inside of my throat. In essence, and in earthly terms, my throat felt like it was coated in honey.

Jesus: "Erin, now sing with your new voice."

I was hesitant, but all of a sudden the song coming from my heart welled up in my throat and then the words of 'Oceans' spilled forth:

"Your grace abounds in deepest waters; Your sovereign hand will be my guide where feet may fail and fear surrounds me. You've never failed and You won't start now. So I will call upon Your name and keep my eyes above the waves. When oceans rise, my soul will rest in Your embrace, for I am Yours and You are mine."

I was in complete shock as I was singing acappella with perfect pitch. My tears were streaming with joy as I had always dreamed of having such a beautiful voice.

Me: "Lord, this is amazing. Will I be able to sing like this here?"

Jesus: "Would you like to?"

Me: "Yes, but it is like writing to me as I am not very confident or skilled at it at all."

Jesus: "This is interesting. Look how much I have called you to write. Could I not also enable you to sing?"

Me: "Yes, but can I sing like this on Earth too?"

Jesus: "Well this is not to be your focus, but I can strengthen your muscles so you remember Me when you sing."

Me: "Oh, Lord, You are right. I would think too highly of myself as a singer and I would be more interested in edifying myself on Earth. Then I would become self-aware and far removed from worship to You."

Jesus: "We cannot add more critics to your long list, Erin. As it stands, you are going to have trouble from critics because of Me and we do not need to add voice critics too, right?"

Me: "Yes, critics carry chains and keep us held prisoner by their disbelief in Your miracles."

Jesus: "You are welcome to display your voice in praise and worship anytime, Erin, as this is good. Dedicate all of your gifts to God and He will give you the desires of your heart. Now why did I have you sing the next portions of that beautiful song?"

Me: "Lord, when I sing this, I think of You and God on the Throne calling me outside of my comfort zone into the unknown. You called me out onto the waves of a vast ocean to follow You. The seas have been choppy and the waves high. When my feet have failed me, I have fallen into the deep water.

"At times, I barely see above the waves, as my head goes under. I call out to You and Your hand saves me. Lord, here in Heaven, You placed my feet upon the peaceful shores. Here, I rest in Your arms. Here, I am forever saved by Your presence.

"I am in awe at Your glory and humbled by Your grace. I could work on a thousand hills harvesting grapes in seven thousand valleys and work my fingers to the bone, but I still could never repay You for all that have done for me."

Jesus: He hugged me. "Erin, you are not a slave as I came to set the captives free."

Me: "Yes, Lord, but You have captured my heart and I am a slave to God and Heaven. I was bought for a price, Lord. You purchased me and I am so thankful as I could have been purchased by the blacksmith instead."

Jesus: "No, Erin, his offer could not stand up. Although he requested you and captured you for a time period, I paid the ransom for you and you are Mine as you are a child of God."

Me: "Sometimes on Earth I feel as if I am still a slave to the blacksmith."

Jesus: "Well, he might try to oppress you or make you feel hopeless, but this is his limitation as you are free and are not his slave. You are bound by his words only when they are absorbed by you. Remember your ears are the anvil and hammer.

“Instead, remember to hear My voice as the Holy Spirit is in you. The Holy Spirit resides in the deep waters of your soul, Erin, and the enemy cannot find you there. The Holy Spirit will keep your head above the waves. Now, Erin, there is more troubling you.”

Me: “There is too much to discuss and I need to put this behind me.”

Jesus: “Why would you want your troubles following you from behind? Let’s dismiss them now. Tell Me what is happening?”

Me: “Lord, two old journals were poking out of my journal storage. There was a red journal from the end of 2010 along with a purple journal from the end of 2011. When I first saw them, I wondered why these journals were poking out. Then I felt You call me to read them again so I picked up the red journal first.

“This journal is so pretty, but when I began to read it, I could feel the pain that had been recorded in my pen strokes. I had been in a brutal custody battle at this time and it came without warning when I was suddenly brutally attacked.

“I thought I would lose my children as I had no money to fight. I could not sleep and I could barely eat. I went to various churches for prayer and explained to them what I needed prayer for, but I was then treated as if I somehow deserved to lose my children.

“One church asked me if I had used drugs or alcohol or had an affair. When I told them no, but that it was because of my heart, they simply did not believe me. One pastor said, ‘It is unlikely the courts would take children away from their mother for a reason like this.’ I was discouraged and, as he prayed over me, it felt insincere and doubtful as if I were a liar.

“I stopped asking for prayer from the church after that. I felt alone and in great despair. If I had not come to this desert and I had just stayed where the church and courts knew the real story instead, this would have never happened like this. Justice would have then been served and I would not have had so much grief.”

Jesus: “Erin, why do you think I brought those journals up?”

Me: “I guess so that I could see how far You have carried me?”

Jesus: "This is true, but this is not the whole picture. Erin, you became impatient and wanted your sons back after your surgery. They had been taken and not returned as had been agreed to. Do you remember this?"

"This was a broken contract. However, when you did not hear from God in a 'timely' manner, you acted, but you did not let God lead. Instead, you stepped out to walk on a turbulent ocean on your own, but still expected God to be there."

Me: "So You let me fall? Lord, I lost almost everything and almost lost my children too."

Jesus: "Erin, that little red journal is filled with deep anguish. You cannot even read it without starting to weep. God knew in advance about this season. Now tell Me what happened in your purple journal?"

Me: "I began to see God go before me as I was at the end of myself and there was simply no more of me. I had sleepless nights and my heart felt as if it were failing. I could not breathe and I would gasp for air, but I could not find it.

"I was so grief stricken as no one would hear my case and no one would stand for me. I had no means, but yet I did not qualify for help. I made too much, yet not enough. Every day I waited for the next wave of lies to hit me and I wept like a child.

"Just when I thought that the punishment was finally over, another paper would be filed against me and another wave of attacks would come. I was finally completely emptied as I was but a slave to an unjust system where only money wins."

Jesus: "There is one more thing."

Me: "Yes, after I finally won, I was now completely stripped of all my valuables. I had sold my gold and silver and anything I had of value. I had given everything I had to keep my children. After that, we had no money.

"Yes, I had my kids, but I had no money and we were now bankrupt. Then one last thing happened in May 2012 that was the final blow. It felt so horrible that I felt I would almost drown in my own tears. Do You remember the night of May 25th, 2012, Lord?"

Jesus: "Yes, Erin, the sound of your wailing hit the very ceiling above God's Throne. You were heard. Erin, you had people petitioning for you here who you would never imagine and God heard your cries."

Me: I was crying on Jesus' shoulder. "I was completely drained and alone. On May 28th, 2012, Memorial Day, I simply wished I was dead as even this would have more honor.

"Lord, if I had sinned and had done all the things I had been accused of, but was later vindicated of this unjustly, then I certainly would have understood. But, Lord, why this as this was so wrong? Why had justice not been served here? Lord, why?"

Jesus: "I understand the depth of your pain, Erin, and you felt abandoned and forsaken. You were tired, robbed, left in shame and were humiliated. This is difficult to understand, but this was allowed. Can you understand why?"

Me: "I have to believe it is so I could be made whole again. Lord, how can one simple poor decision affect the lives of so many? If I could only go back, but I cannot."

Jesus: "Why are you going back to a mistake you made as the sole reason for all of this? Am I the punisher? Is God My Father the executioner of His children? No. This is the mistake in your thinking. Come. It is time to come. First you will have refreshments and then we will go to My Father on the Throne."

He squeezed my hand and walked me through His open door. We walked down the entry and this quickly reminded of who I was walking with. Then we went through the entry into His inner courtyard.

He then took me past God's Clock and Calendar to the small wellspring. There He filled a cup of water and first took a sip, then refilled it and gave it to me to drink from the same side. I was still in tears as He did this.

Me: "Oh Lord, I am so sorry. Am I in trouble?"

Jesus: He had the most beautiful loving face. "Erin, do you not know how valuable you are? Do you not see your own great worth? Come here."

He stood to His feet and looked at the gazing pool surrounding God's Clock and Calendar. He waved His arm and set the reflection of the moon and stars in one side of the pool. Then He waved His arm again and set the reflection of the sun in the other side of the pool. He walked me to the night side and there we knelt.

Jesus: "Erin, do you see your reflection here?"

Me: "Yes, Lord, I see my silhouette."

Jesus: "Good, now let's go over to the day side."

There I saw my reflection. I had such a beautiful outfit on with simply amazing adornments. I looked and saw that my glorified face was so beautiful that it was actually difficult to take this all in. I was still crying.

Jesus: "Did you see your reflection?"

Me: "Yes, Lord."

Jesus: "Now come."

He gently squeezed my hand and we were instantly on the balcony above the clock. We looked down and I could still see my reflection in the day side and my silhouette in the night side.

Me: "Oh, Lord, I see that I am still being reflected there."

Jesus: "Erin, you are in My thoughts both day and night. The gift in Psalms 103 is there, but you should also read Ephesians 1:3, Revelation 3:20, Psalm 1:1-6, Jeremiah 29, Isaiah 49, Isaiah 41 and Psalm 8:3.

"Erin, go to Genesis 1:14-18 as there is a deeper meaning here for you that is hidden in plain sight. You are loved by Me and I would have given up my life on Earth just for you alone."

Me: "Then why, Lord, why all of this? Please remove the enemy in our life now and bring us Home here so that we can see You and be free."

Jesus: "Oh, Erin, how I long to be with you, but there is a greater battle occurring in the hearts of man and this is not finished yet. God must complete His good work as it is not for man to try to understand because this is a battle won in hearts. You must be patient a while longer."

Me: "Lord, I see that more events have been removed. May I ask You for clarity? It seems as if I will be an old woman before You finally come for us."

Jesus: He was laughing. "Well, define old? You are certainly wiser, are you not?"

Me: "Yes, but we are all trying to figure out the proper calendar and timing so at least we will know your patterns based on the proper Enoch calendar."

Jesus: "Erin, there are even arguments about the time of the week of Shabbat. This was a sacred time of rest commanded by God and even I observed it, yet a certain church determined that they held more authority than the Word of God on this subject.

"Now, how does this happen? I tell you that all of this was foretold. Look in Daniel 7:25. I will quote this for you as this is important proof when understanding times and the corruption of the times.

"He will speak out against the most High and wear down the saints of the highest One, and he will intend to make alterations in times and law, and they will be given into his hand for a time, times, and half a time."

Me: "Lord, what does this even mean? This seems controversial."

Jesus: "Erin, the enemy is the author of confusion and he tries to rewrite history and confuse. You understand the 'shell game', right? Well, in Heaven there is a seed under every shell. However, on Earth, there is no seed under any of the shells and there is never a winner.

"It is a guessing game of the highest order controlled by your enemy. Now only by Heavenly wisdom are you given revelation so that you have proof about the author of confusion. Therefore pray for revelation as you are on the right course concerning the calendar.

"Now, and as foretold by Daniel, there is a limit to the enemy control of timing. So please know and be confident that God is a God of justice and will fulfill all of His prophecies. Remember that it takes the glory of God to conceal a matter..."

Me: I smiled. "...and the honor of kings to search it out."

Jesus: Laughing. "Now though you must pray for Israel as the enemy is trying to rewrite history using the proof of the fallen and the tribes of their origins as a hidden clue. Do you remember reading about the Jebusites, Canaanites and others?"

"Well, one has only to research even further to see the origins of these to know who the father of this enemy is. You were shown this last year and how they followed the Israelites from Egypt.

"Pray, Erin, and Books removed from the Bible can even help you confirm some of this. These are referenced in Scripture and they are also a pointer to more clues."

Me: "But, Lord, these missing Books are controversial."

Jesus: "And why and who do you think was allowed by God to control all of this? Erin, use these as reference as the fact that they are clearly mentioned in Scripture is not by accident. When an investigative reporter researches, he must research all the evidence and a judge is even legally sworn to do this.

"They must weigh all evidence to grant a fair judgment as this is wisdom like Solomon. Now it is up to a Godly Judge to make known His evidence as a Godly Judge is sworn in by God Himself and will be held accountable by God if all truth is not revealed. There is no deception or corruption here.

"Now why do I say this? This is simple as there is wisdom in research. God reveals and provides revelation when something is applicable. However, there is more to this story, Erin, and the same can be said about your 'case'.

"You only know your side and are accountable to God for your actions, but God sees all sides and knows more of what was hidden from you. Do not worry as there will be justice concerning you and your children and you were not forgotten. Now come with Me as God My Father has something to say to you."

He reached over, gently squeezed my hand and we were immediately at the Sea of Glass. For a moment, I was afraid as I wondered if I was in trouble.

Jesus: "Erin, you must take your thoughts captive and you are not in trouble. I have called you My friend, so please trust Me."

He gently squeezed my hand and there before me was the most amazing glass floor that was a deep blue like a liquid brilliant sapphire yet solid. There were massive archways with columns in the distance and I saw risers of chiseled translucent marble or quartz there. I could not see beyond this as my eyes were not able to behold the sight. Then Jesus put salve in my eyes as He looked at me and smiled.

Jesus: "I have a surprise for you."

Just then, I felt a cover drop over my shoulders and I looked from side to side and there was Enoch and Elijah. Jesus was laughing. I hugged Enoch and noticed that he had long wavy white hair, was wearing layers of clothing and looked ancient as if he were the wisest prophet.

There was wisdom and knowledge in his eyes though I cannot adequately explain this. His skin was tan and golden and has such brilliant blue eyes. His eyebrows were also white and this made me laugh. He had a very trim white beard also.

Enoch had a shofar on a beautiful braided cord strapped on his shoulders that made him look as if he were on a journey or going on one. His face was so kind, yet he seemed younger in age than I did if skin was the only gauge.

Elijah had a cover over his head, but I could still see that his hair was shorter than Enoch's hair and was above shoulder length. He looked more like a Rabbi in white with a type of scarf with fringe and seemed more serious. Elijah's eyes were green and caramel colored, but just as striking as Enoch's eyes.

Elijah had a walking stick like a branch but beautiful. I was chuckling because it looked like a small flower was growing from this 'walking branch'. I chuckled when I noticed that it was a blossoming almond branch.

I should note that, while Elijah is very serious, he is also funny, but with a very dry sense of humor. His personality was very much like one of my Jewish friend's father. As I smiled at Elijah, I wondered if he liked me as it was hard to tell, but I thought yes.

Jesus: "Erin, Elijah likes you. Do not worry." I became embarrassed.

Enoch: "Yes Erin, Elijah is perfectly Elijah."

Elijah did a kind of 'silent chuckle' and cracked a small smile as he gently tapped Enoch on the leg with his walking stick. Enoch smiled at Elijah and then at me and I felt comfortable again.

Elijah: "My apologies, my Lord, oh yes and Erin, there is much to do."

Enoch: "Yes and Elijah worries a lot."

Jesus: "Well right now I need your faithful witness as the King's daughter is feeling battered by ocean waves!"

Jesus smiled, but I remained quiet and felt quite humbled to be in this place and at this moment. I was elated, but the tears came yet again.

Enoch: "Do not cry, Erin. You have come a long way since I first was called to meet you. Elijah told you that you had to die to yourself. Do you remember?"

I then remembered my extreme fast when I was caught up in a vision. In this vision, I had died when my motorcycle went out of control. The last thing I saw was black top as I hit it at a very high speed. I hated motorcycles so this was a stretch to be riding one again even in a vision.

Me: "Yes. The year was 2000 when I had that vision".

Elijah: "Yes. When I first saw you, I became discouraged about you being chosen for this as you were even wearing designer pajamas." He shook his head at the memory.

Jesus: Laughing. "Yes, Elijah has come before the Throne of God a few times when meeting various people God has selected for certain things. Erin, let's put it this way; you were very worldly at this point, so it was difficult for Elijah to imagine God using you for such a task. God rebuked Elijah and then showed him what you would become and how He was going to get you there." I was speechless.

Enoch: He was laughing as he continued the teasing of Elijah. "I knew all along, Erin, and that you were the perfect choice from the very beginning. I saw God's vision."

Elijah: Smiling and shaking his head. "Okay, you two. Yes, I must admit I did not think she would get this far. As you both know, we have seen quite a few chosen not finish so I simply could not see the same vision as you both did."

Jesus: Continuing to kid Elijah. "Elijah, are you still having trust issues after all this time has elapsed?"

Elijah: "Oh Lord, I am still stubborn, but You love this about me, right? At least God appreciates me."

They were all laughing and smiling together and this was truly a priceless moment I wish everyone could have experienced live. I had just observed three 'faithful friends' laughing and truly enjoying each other. Not only that, but I was with my Savior before the very Throne of God and I am and will be forever changed!

Jesus: "Erin, you have a question. Please ask."

Me: "Yes, Lord. Elijah has an almond branch and it is blossoming. What does this mean? When I saw Elijah for the first time back in the year 2000, he had his walking stick, but it was not blossoming back then."

Jesus: "Great observation. Do you know that it has now been exactly fourteen years to the day since you met them back on February 23rd, 2000? Remember that the almond tree is the first to blossom and the last to drop its leaves."

Enoch: "Erin, the almond branch was used for the Temple menorahs."

Elijah: "Look Erin."

Elijah drew my attention to the area near the Throne where I saw a seven branch menorah. This menorah was in an almond branch design cast in gold and had the shape of the lotus-like blossom of the almond branch.

Jesus: "This is a sign, Erin, of the time and season we are in. There has been two seven year periods from the year 2000. This is significant for you."

Me: "I do not understand."

Enoch: "Erin, this is measured on the fifth ring. You can see this."

Me: "Lord, what is my task? What are these dreams going to do to help people? The Jewish people will not even consider a Christian worthy of a message of hope, let alone a female. Seriously, how can I be of any real use as I am not worthy to even stand before any of you?"

"Elijah, I still own those designer pajamas and work in a very superficial profession. I am bankrupt and a woman raising children in a country that has fallen so far from God. How can someone like me make a difference?"

Elijah: Chuckling. "Well, Lord, there goes Erin yet again; questioning Your choice and even God's choice."

Jesus: "Erin, is this true even after all you have been through to get here?"

Me: "Lord, forgive me for my lack, but I need help here as the waves of the ocean crash over me one by one and I cannot see the horizon line. I do not have faith like a mustard seed and perhaps there is something wrong with me. Do I need a sign?"

Enoch: "Erin, we have all been where you are so please do not worry. Your faith and love for God has gotten you here. Very, very few people have ever been where you are standing now. Well, at least on your side of Heaven and from an earthly perspective."

Elijah: "Yes, at least you were invited to dine with Jesus. We were not called up to dine with the King. Well, okay, perhaps Enoch was."

Enoch: "No, I do not remember getting an invitation to dine with You, Lord. Hmm..."

Jesus: Laughing. "Okay you two. Erin, they have both been over to My House and they are joking with you. Now, we are here today to encourage you."

Me: "Lord, I am afraid. Am I about to come into trouble? Where have Enoch and Elijah been for the last year? Am I about to be called Home? Is trouble coming to Israel soon?"

Jesus: "Erin, these questions are good. However, you are now coming into a time of blessings. I know you have been looking back over your trouble, but this was for a purpose as you have been chastised and pressed as an olive from the vine. The dross has been removed now and you will remain like this until you are called Home."

Me: "Lord, will I not be in the rapture?"

Jesus: "Is the Shofar sounding not a call? Please, Erin, have faith. For your sake, I have called witnesses to view the covenant I will now make with you. After this, God My Father will bless you. Erin, are you ready?"

Me: "Yes, Lord."

Jesus: "Erin, I have been with you from the beginning and have sent angels concerning you. You were God's from the beginning and your life has been a series of trials like waves in a tumultuous sea. A few times you went under the water, but each time I was there with you.

"I know that you look at your life as a series of failures and missed opportunities, but I tell you the truth that they all had a purpose as each one drew you closer and closer to the woman you have become. Erin, you are worthy to be used of God.

"You never saw too much joy on Earth as the enemy requested to sift you as wheat. Well, your sifting is now over. I know that you have lost years of your youth as you went through these intense trials, but now your heart is refined and you will now be as a youth.

"You will laugh at the days which have past and will no longer worry about tomorrow, but instead you will dance as you did in your youth. The branches of your life which the stripping locusts had destroyed will now begin to blossom again. By a miracle, you will be like a well-watered tree whose roots will be nourished by the River of Life.

"The enemy coming against you will continue until I come for you, but this will now be as nothing as his schemes will be thwarted again and again. The burdens you have experienced have been a yoke now lifted.

"You will pray for others and your prayers will be answered as I am about to do something that you would not even believe even if you were told. Remember to bless those who curse you so that I will bless those who bless you and remove those who curse you.

"There will be healing for your children also, but also for your friends and family too as they too will be blessed by you through Me. Now your suffering will come to an end and your time remaining will bring you great joy.

"You will still be hated as many of us are, but none as much as Me and by no less than those I had even come to save. However, you will want to pray for Elijah and Enoch and their assignments now as they are ready for the time that is soon to come upon the world.

"Erin, do not worry about tomorrow as you will be carried through the storms and the waves will not overcome you. Now remember what Scriptures were highlighted by light in the Garden of God as these Words will bring you comfort."

Me: "Lord, will I ever see You again?"

Jesus: Laughing. "Yes, Erin, the dreams are certainly not over as this is a special blessing and a covenant I am making with you. Indeed, this is a contract and is binding. Now close your eyes."

I could feel the hands of Jesus, Elijah and Enoch all touching me in blessing. As I dropped to my knees, I felt an earthquake and a deep groaning in my body as every cell within me seemed to be awakened by an electric charge of warmth. Then I heard a voice like thunder and running water from all around me.

God: "Erin, come forth."

Jesus brought me up onto my feet. I was shaking in God's presence, but Jesus was able to calm me simply with the sound of His glorious voice.

Jesus: "It is okay, Erin, it is time to step out in faith and by invitation."

God: "Erin, My blessing is upon you and your enemies will be removed. With you I am well pleased. You bring Me joy and laughter and you are My friend and My child. Your heart is good so do not worry as nothing but your love is required. Soon you will be granted a divine gift from Me that is special to you as a sign that I am pleased. Erin, you are loved."

Tears were streaming down my face as I was so overwhelmed by the Father's blessing. Jesus smiled at me and then lifted me up to hug me.

Jesus: "Erin, My Father's love for you is as wide as the ocean is deep, but even much more so that no one can fathom it. Therefore find joy, Erin, for I love you and I will see you again very soon."

Dream over...

Dream 113 – God’s Numbers

Received Sunday, March 23, 2014

(Formerly known as Heaven 39)

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day, for all that we have and for my children, family and friends as I have been so blessed. Lord, here I am dwelling in the desert yet You found me here and have nourished me in a very dry place. I can never thank You enough for Your love, for using me and providing for me.

I am a worker in ‘the cave of my job’ where my least favorite birds, the crows, feed me. Each paycheck is fed by You bit by bit with just enough for me to remain here and to be sustained.

Lord, thank You for my time away where I was removed from my cave for just a short time. There I had rest apart from all of this and it was a time to be thankful and to be able to think without the squawking sounds of crows and dreams uninterrupted.

This trip was divinely worth it, Lord, and it was my first real vacation in seventeen years. While I pray my next vacation will be with You, I know there is still some time left to go here.

Lord, I had a relatively calm week at work up until the last couple of days and then so much happened in such a short time. I then quickly noticed that there were also personal attacks as I watched the enemy come at me with his usual pattern of relentless attacks.

Lord, as You know, I recently discovered some documents about my main enemy on Earth that reflects just how utterly diabolical he is. These documents confirmed so many of the things that he had hidden in the past that I can barely even grasp the magnitude of this man’s evil.

You have exposed something about this enemy that is so evil even for him that I am struggling to comprehend all of it. My question for You then is ‘why now?’ if You are not about to do something extremely ‘God’ around this all. Lord, after reviewing my enemy’s documents, I simply must lay my burdens down before you and ask for divine protection over my children as he is evil beyond comprehension.

Indeed, Lord, I ask for divine protection over me as well and to not let this enemy ever have another victory over my life. Let every instruction be by Your gentle hands and please, Lord, never give me over again to the enemy's schemes. I also ask for divine protection over those who have no idea about these schemes, especially this man's.

Lord, I ask that You would even expose this man's evil plots as revealed in these documents to this man's wife. Even though this woman is someone who has cursed me greatly over and over and continues to even today, please reveal her husband's plots so that one day she may even have gratitude and apologize for the lies she believed about me from this man whose evil has no bounds.

Lord, please go ahead of us as You are our God. My heart is forever Yours and I am consumed by Your love. The burning desire in me is the passion I have to run after You and therefore I trust that You will go before me. I give this all to You, Lord. I love You.

Jesus: "Erin, come up."

I found myself sitting on one of the steps leading up to the front door of Jesus' Home. I jumped up in excitement as I really needed to see Him today. As I went to turn, I laughed as Jesus was sitting there on a step just above me.

Jesus: "Erin where are you going? Please, there is no hurry and I have come to sit beside you first before we go inside."

He motioned for me to sit back down. As I set next to Him, He reached over to hold my right hand and to put His left arm over my shoulder. I hugged Him and rested my head on His shoulder.

Me: "I missed You so much, Lord."

Jesus: Laughing. "So when had you gone away from Me? Hmm, I believe I was with you on your vacation, was I not?"

Me: I laughed in response. "Yes, Lord, of course You were, but I really meant that I missed these actual visits with You here in Heaven. While You spoke to me continuously during my vacation and I still dreamed, I still missed my time of journaling these visions with You."

Jesus: Laughing. "Did you think I was like a crow squalling and nagging at you about this while you were on vacation?"

Me: "Oh no, Lord, not at all. However, I did wonder at times if I would hear from You again. While You were quiet, I still very much knew that You were there with me still."

Jesus: With a huge smile. "Now Erin, just so I am not confused here, had I not already told you that your vacation would be a time of rest, removal and renewal?"

Me: Laughing. "Oh, You are too funny. I especially needed the renewal, so thank You, Lord."

Jesus: "Erin, then it is time for you to review the definition of 'renewal' as this is a strong word that I had specifically used concerning your time of rest. So, Erin, how do you feel after this vacation?"

Me: "Oh Lord, I felt absolutely fantastic up until late in the day on Wednesday, March 19th, 2014. On this day, the attacks began again and simply have not stopped."

Jesus: "Yes, Erin, while this is true, there is a reason for these attacks. While I am aware of these attacks, just know that these attacks will come to nothing. Now what happened during your time away on vacation?"

Me: "I think You are preparing me for something as my dreams were very unusual, but very clear. I felt a pull to do things in my Spirit as if I was ready to do what You would call me to do at a moment's notice. I felt I was being readied for service."

Jesus: "Very good, Erin, as this is a good place to be. Now please tell Me more."

Me: "I feel refreshed, almost as if a 'fresh fire' has come over me?"

Jesus: "Erin, please explain what you mean by the term 'fresh fire' as this is something you cannot have."

Me: "Lord, I am confused. My heart has a burning desire for You and I feel my love for You is like a flame."

Jesus: "Yes, Erin, you are like a lamp and you shine like a star, but remember that darkness longs to have your wick burn out and your light with it. This is why you were given rest in the first place as your lamp needed fresh oil. Now you are ready and this is by God's design as you are a child of God."

"Now, do not confuse your 'burning desire' with 'consuming fire' as fire is meant to consume the living dead or even the dross. Remember that the dead stalks of the wheat fields are burned up so that the ground underneath can then be tilled and replanted. Look at the examples of fire in My Word and it is of judgment. Erin, what happens after the 'consuming fire' comes?"

Me: "Well, when I was having my time of rest, I saw two different homes with portions that had been completely burned out. I could see that the larger of the two homes was having a proper restoration. However, the smaller home was just too burned and was a total loss and I knew that it would need to be torn down instead. Seeing these two homes made me feel such loss and sorrow. Lord, I avoid fire and I am not even fascinated by it like so many are."

Jesus: "Yes, Erin, I remember why, but do you?"

Me: "Yes, Lord, when I was about eleven years old, my parents were burning candles in the house. This was during the summer time and the rock music in our house was extremely loud. Suddenly a wind gust had come through the window and had blown some feathers out of a vase and over the flames of the candle.

After these feathers had ignited, they spread into a very large fire seemingly within seconds. I was the only one there to witness this so I screamed for my parents to help me. I then grabbed a pan of soapy water to douse the flames and shortly after my parents tried to help as well.

"While we eventually put out this fire, our walls were now badly burned and the smell of the smoke was horrible never went away. Ever since this happened, I have hated fire."

Jesus: "Erin, your fear is valid as fire is not easily controlled and easily consumes everything in its path. As written, My Father will one day consume the entire Earth with fire. Erin, do you understand why?"

Me: I smiled and squeezed His hand. "I think this is because He will reshape it, reform it and most importantly burn away all the old to make everything new again. When You came, Lord, it was to bring us new life. You need only look at me to see that I was but a pile of ashes burning continuously. Lord, You created something in me from absolutely nothing but the remaining ashes."

Jesus: "Very good, Erin, now come with me to the path before I take you to see the Calendar. I have a beautiful place to take you, so let's go." He gently squeezed my hand and we were instantly on the forestry path.

Me: "Oh Lord, I believe I recognize this path. It is so beautiful here! Is this in Heaven as I saw a photo of something similar to this in the Halle Forest of Belgium?"

Jesus: "Very good, Erin. When you saw this path earlier in your dreams similar to the forest in Belgium, you were actually in a special room and a secret place of learning in Heaven, yet not here in Heaven. I know this is very difficult for you to understand, but one day this will all make sense. Now what you are seeing is a type of replica for learning purposes."

I looked around me and the forest floor seemed covered in bluebells. The sun was streaming through silver and white tree trunks and made the bark seem silver and luminous. As my eyes gazed further up the path, it looked like a sea of purple. While the leaves on the trees seemed primarily a 'lime green', they were really every shade of green one could think of.

As we walked down the path, the fragrance was so wonderful and fresh that it smelled like fresh rain, forest, jasmine and grass all mixed perfectly together. This all made my eyes mist up and I was speechless as it was simply one of the most beautiful places I have ever seen.

Me: "Lord, this is so much better than any place on Earth and takes my very breath away."

Jesus: "Erin, just remember that Heaven breathes life and does not remove it as Earth does. Erin, this forest is special to God and is a part of My Father's Garden. However, there are forests just like this on some of your friend's properties here as well. These friends of yours had grown up near the earthly version of this place and have longed to be there again. Naturally, they will be granted the glorified version of this instead similar to what you see here now."

After He spoke, I heard the sounds of mourning doves and some song birds. In the distance across the path, I saw a large peacock walk with its fan spread.

Me: "Lord, since peacocks are already so beautiful on Earth, how can God glorify even these more in Heaven?"

Jesus: "Remember that things on Earth are but remnants of Heavenly things and never vice versa. Now look again."

He reached down into some bluebells and picked up a very large peacock feather. I could not believe my eyes as this feather really was much more beautiful and stunning than on Earth. The entire feather was iridescent and contained every one of my favorite colors.

Jesus: "Erin, look over here now."

In the distance, I saw a beautiful peacock, but this one was completely white. This bird was quite simply one of the most beautiful birds I had ever seen and seemed to pop out in contrast to the blue bells all around it.

Me: "Lord, this is truly incredible. Thank You for this as Heaven is just so full of wonder I find myself wondering how can we even comprehend this. Lord, there is more beauty here in just this one place than all of the Earth combined as is simply Paradise beyond description"

Jesus: "Yes, even God has a sense of humor as look how He even dresses a chicken. Even Solomon was amazed at this."

Me: "Lord, is a peacock a chicken?"

Jesus: Laughing. "Yes, Erin, but a variety of chicken."

Me: "Hmm, I would have thought that a peacock would be closer to a turkey than a chicken...wow!"

As we continued walking, the sounds, smells and beauty were simply amazing. At times I would see something so amazing that I would begin to cry at its beauty.

Jesus: "Erin, do you remember what happens to forests after they burn on Earth?"

Me: "Yes. I went to a forestry management retreat with Project Wild when I was in college and I remember that they talked about the loss of forestry land, animals and birds. These fires were devastating and most were started from lightning strikes.

In essence, I remember that the forest will spring new life again almost immediately after a fire. Indeed, the soil becomes rich with minerals and nutrients, but this still takes a very long time to regrow the forest."

Jesus: "Yes, sometimes fires are good, but this too is difficult to understand."

Me: Laughing. "I know that You are not sending strange fire to us to demonstrate Your power. However, I do love the blanket of warmth that You send us from Your mantel."

Jesus: "Remember that God will not go against His Word and that fire was usually used for judgment by Him in the Bible. Now I brought you here to show you a familiar place."

Just then we walked around a bend and, off to my left, was a beautiful pond with weeping willows and blossoms everywhere. There were also fountains and groomed grass there.

Me: "Wow, Lord, whose amazing Home is this?"

Jesus: "Erin, you are still in God's Garden."

As we walked, we came upon a forestry board with tags labeled with the numbers 1 thru 9.

Me: "Oh wow, Lord, You are amazing! I recognize this and it has been a year, but these seem like new numbers."

Jesus: "Yes, but you must remember that the numbers you received a year ago still have meaning, but perhaps not always on your timing. God speaks in many different ways, but all things have significance and perfect order. Even the smallest of numbers are important. Just look at the number 1, wherein the number 1 is the most important of numbers but yet is rarely taken into account."

Me: "Hmm, the number 1 is the beginning or God, right?"

Jesus: "Yes, 'aleph' or 'alpha' means the beginning and the first is the only as there cannot be two firsts. What is the first commandment, Erin?"

Me: "That we love the Lord God with all of our hearts, souls, minds and strengths."

Jesus: "Yes, but before this declaration was made, the declaration that proceed this was that 'the Lord our God is one Lord!' Erin, there is so much more to this too, but let's now look at the number 2."

Me: "Does the number 2 mean division, Lord?"

Jesus: "It can and you can see this occur by God on the second day of creation. However, the number 2 usually means good versus evil. However, the number 2 can also mean separation. There is more in the Word about the number two, but now please take the number 3 tag from the forestry board."

I reached up and picked up the number 3 tag off of the hook on the forestry board.

Me: "I know this number, Lord! The number 3 means the Trinity, correct?"

Jesus: "Yes, Erin, this is good, but there is even more to the number 3. If you were a math genius, you would find that 3 together make a solid, works as a binding agent and as a measure. The number 3 can also represent time, as in the past, the present and the future. The number 3 can also represent thoughts, words and deeds and this too is important."

Me: "Lord, Your angels always sing Holy, Holy, Holy or 'Holy times the number 3'."

Jesus: He laughed at my observation. "Yes they do and you are correct as the number 3 is a divine number of God. There is also a Scripture that notes that 3 strands of a cord are not easily broken and relates to a marriage contract between a husband and a wife along with God. 3 days is also significant and there is more here too. However, let's have you pick up the number 4. What do you think of with the number 4?"

Me: "Since I am not a numbers person, I would simply say that the number 1 plus the number 3 is equal to the number 4. Then I would note that there are 4 angels guarding God's Clock and Calendar and there are the 4 directions of north, south, east and west. I then think about earth, air, fire and water."

Jesus: "Very good. Now there are also 4 seasons and 4 lunar phases, along with signs of My coming in relation to these as well."

Me: "Lord, may I make an observation?"

Jesus: Smiling. "Yes, Erin, please."

Me: "I saw God's Garden divided into 4 sections or quadrants and each with their own season."

Jesus: "Very good. Yes, Erin, you are correct. Did you notice that there are 4 Cherubim also?"

Me: "Lord, are those 4 large angels guarding the Clock Cherubim?"

Jesus: "Interesting question. What did you see? I will take you back to the courtyard and you can look at these angels again yourself."

He reached down, gently squeezed my hand and we were instantly at the overlook looking down over God's Clock. All 4 of the angels were already looking up at us as we arrived and I began to laugh as they smiled and waved at us.

Me: "No, Lord, these angels cannot be Cherubim as they have the normal beautiful angel faces and not the faces of animals."

Jesus: "Erin, the 4 angels you see here are very significant and of high ranking. However, while the Cherubim were not created in the image of God, they are by the Throne of God awaiting His instructions. The Cherubim will one day announce the judgments and are always related to the Creation.

"In comparison, the 4 angels you see here will report and announce completion as the Calendar finalizes. You may have even noticed that we are drawing nearer every day."

I looked down and what I saw was simply astonishing.

Me: "Lord, those are the Blood moons on the Calendar. Why did I not notice these before?"

Jesus: "Erin, these were there all along and this has not changed. You simply just did not notice these things there before."

Me: "Lord, I cannot read what I am seeing, but it looks like these are the start of the time of the end. Lord, You gave me the number 40 three separate times when I woke up the other day. You said '40 pause, 40 pause, 40'. Is this 40 days, 40 weeks or 40 months?"

Jesus: "Erin, you were given a dream in May 2013 about a newscast on a June 7th. You thought that this date was for the year 2013, yet you did not look at the events which had to occur prior to this June date. You need only to go to Scripture to read that which must occur first.

"The blood moons are a sign and have a particular history for Israel behind them. Have I not said to pray for your sister? Now remember that God has brought His people closer to Him through trials as these are God's chosen people and the entire land of Israel is God's. Watch and see what comes from this as this is wisdom."

Me: "Lord, I am afraid as these blood moons are a clear visible sign that I can actually see. Based on the fact that the next blood moon will be the last on this particular blood moon cycle for around five hundred years, then I must believe that this is the last group for us."

Jesus: Laughing. "Yes, Erin, I think things are accelerating faster than the end still being five hundred years away, don't you? You can see this based on the Clock, right?"

Me: Laughing. "Yes, Lord, and this now relates nicely to me asking you about the number 5."

Jesus: "Erin, the number 5 is a number of multiples and ingredients. Study this and then we will discuss the remaining numbers."

I suddenly looked downcast and Jesus naturally picked up on this immediately.

Jesus: "Erin, what is wrong?"

Me: I sighed. "Lord, this seems like such a serious time and I am not sure about all of this so I feel unsettled."

Jesus: "Please do not worry, Erin, as it is now time to eat some great food."

I looked down as I saw each of the 4 angels laughing to themselves.

Me: "Did I miss something, Lord? What is so funny?"

Jesus: "Erin, you are the one being so serious today. You are acting like you are on a very serious quest. Oh yes, I know, you are hoping for the big reveal after your break."

Me: I was embarrassed because even the angels saw this in me. "Well yes, I was kind of hoping for that. I am sorry, Lord, but You had given me some intense dreams while I was on vacation and I guess I was expecting some major information."

Jesus: Laughing. "Oh so were you not really resting but instead anxiously waiting for something big? Come, Erin, let's discuss this."

He reached down and gently squeezed my hand and we were immediately sitting at His table. He motioned for some angels to serve me water. When the angels poured some water into my glass, I looked over at Jesus and He motioned for me to drink. I must have been thirsty as I quickly drank every drop. He laughed as He motioned for the angels to pour more water into my glass.

Jesus: "Wow, Erin, you sure were thirsty! Who knew? Hmm, oh yes, I did."

He laughed and I laughed with Him.

Me: "Yes, Lord, for twenty one days now I have been thirsty and languishing with neither food nor water."

Jesus: Laughing. "Wow, Erin, I thought you were looking a bit thinner."

Me: "I guess this has more meaning than just thirst for water too, right?"

Jesus: "Yes, Erin, you also hunger and thirst for righteousness."

Me: "Lord, can we go over more with the Clock and the Calendar?"

Jesus: "Okay. However, first let's begin again with the number 1. There is 1 body and 1 Spirit, just as you were called to 1 hope when you were called (Ephesians 4:4). Erin, the number 1 is the only number that can be multiplied and divided by itself and remain unchanged.

"That is, the number 1 multiplied by the number 1 still equals the same number 1. Similarly, the number 1 divided by the number 1 still equals the same number 1.

"Erin, God is the same no matter what as He is the same yesterday, today and tomorrow and does not change. When you, Erin, bring your best for God, it is also called the '1st fruits'. I came as the '1st fruit' of those who have fallen asleep."

Me: "Lord, this really is amazing as there are so many multiple meanings. Who knew that numbers could be so complex?"

Jesus: "Yes, but really 'complexly simple'. Now let's look at the number 2 again. The number 2 means union, division and witnessing, but it can also mean a double portion of blessing. You have noted before that I always sent out My disciples in pairs. The covenant of marriage is 2, yet to have a truly firm marriage, you must have God with your union thus making 3 strands.

"Now with the number 3, there is more here too. There are 3 founding fathers of Israel along with 3 festivals of offerings in Passover, Pentecost and Sukkot. You remembered about the 3 days spent in the belly of the whale, but there was also Esther's extreme 3 day fast and Abraham's 3 day journey. Elijah stretched out over the dying boy 3 times and I was raised from the dead on the 3rd day.

"We then went into detail about the number 4. There are 4 earthly kingdoms in Daniel and there are also 4 tassels on the sash of My garment.

"Then with the number 5 in Numbers, it was said, 'To redeem the 273 firstborn Israelites who exceed the number of Levites, collect 5 shekels for each one.' The number 5 is the number of redemption, divine grace and God's goodness. Erin, you study architecture so review the number 5 there as well. The number 5 is also written about in the Word and this is also for you in Matthew 25. Look at the parable of 5 bags. You should also ask yourself 'why did David pick up 5 smooth stones when only 1 killed Goliath?' And yes, there is that number 1 again."

Me: "Lord, You are so wise and much wiser than even Solomon. You are divine in all Your ways! Who is like You and who is like God? I will walk away today with more wisdom than I can even imagine, but what if I do not write this correctly or I mess up?"

Jesus: "Okay, now I must rebuke you as you are speaking of my friend, Erin, and you are implying that I have made an error. I do not believe the Kingdom of God or His Son is rooted in mistakes as everything is made known from the beginning.

You are not made strong in My weakness, Erin, but I am strong when you are weak. There is nothing new under the sun or Son. Indeed, you were not some divine accident wherein God suddenly woke up one day and said 'oh whoa, who is that and what did I create her for?' or 'I did not anticipate that thing Erin did today. What am I going to do next? I simply cannot keep ahead of that rogue child Erin.' Erin, do you see how ridiculous this sounds?"

Me: I was laughing so hard as He kept a straight face until He too then began to laugh. "Lord, please forgive me as I am obviously somewhat out of sorts today. I have had some very odd dreams the last several weeks and they all have one thing in common; 'the end of days and the Tribulation'. How can I rest when You give me all of that too?"

Jesus: "Erin, as you were given these, you also had some delightful distractions so that you would realize that when you awoke you could find happiness. It was not all gloomy, right?"

"This brings Me to the next number, which is the number 6 and a hard lesson for you. Now what is one of God's practices? He worked 6 days, yet rested on the 7th, correct? However, you work on all 7 days. So who are you to do this, Erin, are you greater than God Himself? No, you are not.

"Now this is also the number for man, wherein the number 6 is on the path to holiness, but without God this comes to nothing. In summary, you need the number 1 to be added to the number 6 in order to get to God's number of 7. I will not give you much more about this number as you know the rest, wherein 666 is the 'god of this world' on Earth and the Antichrist. Notice that he uses three 6's.

"There is more to the number 6, but let's now move on to your favorite number; the number 7. Now, Erin, how many silver bangles are you wearing on your wrist today?"

I looked at my left wrist and there were 7 bangles altogether.

Me: "Lord, how did my bracelets come with me?"

Jesus: "There is a treasure in Psalm 12 here for you about silver and refining and this is one you know. The number 7 is the number of completion, fullness and rest, Erin. The number 7 also relates to Sabbaths and Jubilees, as well as there are seven holy feasts. There are also 7 furnishings in a perfect Tabernacle. There are also the 7 branches of the Menorah."

Me: "But, Lord, the number 7 also relates to a time of punishment. The number 7 multiplied by the number 10 equals the number 70 or 70 years. There are 70 weeks of years as well as 7 rings and 70 '7's."

Jesus: "Erin, we have come full circle back to the Calendar. You are smarter than you think and there is wisdom here."

Me: "Lord, help me then. Why did I have these dreams? Lord, while I was there on vacation, a young boy around 8 years old had died. I asked You if we could have that boy come back to life."

Jesus: "Yes, I remember your request on this, but this boy is here in Heaven now. However, I found such joy that you were ready for anything and I heard your prayer and God on the Throne heard it. Do you remember what you prayed for which made Us both take note?"

Me: "There were several things, Lord, but I knew that You were doing something with this. I was in a plumbing store when I heard it announced on the radio that there was a sudden death of an 8 year old boy. However, it seemed that only I was listening to the radio to hear this and this kept haunting me.

"After a while, I then asked You if You wanted me to sneak into the hospital and pray for this boy. However, by the 3rd day after the boy died, I felt knew that I would be too late. I was ready for You to speak to me to allow me to go do this, but You never did say 'go Erin.'"

Jesus: "Yes, Erin, but what we truly noticed is your readiness. You recognized that God let you hear this on the radio when no one else seemed to and that you stood ready for service. This is what you are asked to do as a believer as you are to be a willing vessel and ready when called to serve.

"I also noted in your prayer that you asked to sneak into the hospital unnoticed. This too was important as most would want a public display and recognition if they were to go in there and raise this young boy to life."

Me: "Lord, could You imagine the uproar here at my desert home if I had been recognized for an act from You like raising a dead boy? I would probably even lose my children over this, so this really would need to be hidden."

Jesus: "Yes, Erin, but despite this risk, you were still willing and able and this is important. Now this was a time for the boy's appointed 'Home-going', but your motives were good and you were willing.

"Now, let's talk about the dreams you had while you were on vacation. You were given these dreams because you and your friends will need to pray as there is a troubling time soon to come.

"You have now noticed that the blood moons are a sign in the Heavens and a marker. The stars are displaying markers also so please do not be afraid if the year 2014 might not seem that significant even though it is."

Me: "While I do not feel that You are coming yet, You did say three times 'Erin, the landscape is about to change.' Lord, when and what does this mean?"

Jesus: "Erin, do not be afraid as you have prepared for this, but instead be excited, take heart and find joy. Remember that you are like a light and a lamp with oil. The only flames you have seen here is by the Throne of God."

Me: "Yes, Lord, but did I not see a fireplace in my Mansion here in Heaven."

Jesus: Laughing. "Yes, but this is for your enjoyment only and is not meant for burning 'refuse'. Indeed, this is not a special fire sent as a 'super power' for you to burn with."

Me: Smiling. "I always thought baptism by fire represented my trials before my growth spiritually."

Jesus: Laughing. "I suppose you are correct, but you have been in the fiery furnace of affliction and this is good. Just remember that this is a tool which the blacksmith uses and is allowed by God to refine you.

"Indeed, this is meant to shape your vessel and make this perfected by God for His use, not for yours as all of this is for His glory not men's. Do you believe that the difference is that now you are you ready for greater service?"

Me: I hesitated for a second. "Yes, Lord, I am ready."

Jesus: Laughing. "Good, Erin, then we will start now. So are you well rested?"

Me: "I think so."

Jesus: "Very good, Erin, remember that you are loved by the King."

Me: "Lord, at Pentecost, some of the people said that they saw tongues of fire descending on their group. What was this really?"

Jesus: "Erin, what happened after the tongues rested on the people?"

Me: "They began to prophecy and they performed many miracles, signs and wonders."

Jesus: "When I return on the Horse with Heaven's armies, what did you see coming out of My mouth as written in My Word?"

Me: "It was Your tongue as a sword coming from Your mouth. This was the Word of truth coming to cut through the darkness."

Jesus: "Good. Okay, so the Holy Spirit came as tongues upon believers. By your very words, you have just confessed and spoken truth. Erin, you can speak the power of life and death from your mouth.

"The tongues were also a sign of your flame of truth and the Holy Spirit is like a flame coming to light the oil within your lamp. This is a baptism from Heaven and is a miracle. This is all to enhance your faith and is a special gift from God..

"Indeed, each of you will shine like a light from the Menorah and point the lost to Heaven. You are being shown the way through the Word of truth."

I pray this helps you with discernment as you must remember that the Lord does not go against His own Word. Indeed, the Lord God is not a double-minded man as a double minded man is unstable in all his ways. Do not be deceived or follow strange doctrine.

Remember that the Lord can create a new thing, but it will still be rooted and grounded solidly in Scripture. I believe that when we see manifestations of strange displays that do not feel right in our Spirit via the Holy Spirit, then it is time to flee and turn away from these strange occurrences.

Much love and blessings...Erin

Dream 114 – Breakfast with Jesus

Received Sunday, March 30, 2014

(Formerly known as Heaven 40)

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day, for Your love, for all that we have, for my children and family and for Your provision. Lord, I need to hear from You as my dreams have been dark and about the times to soon come, about the cruel hearts of men and about discerning between falsehoods and the truth.

I am coming across people who hate me and say that they submit to the Scriptures in the Bible, yet their actions show me that they do not truly search for You. Lord, I too have been there as for years I would read a passage from the Bible and relate it to my daily walk by treating Your Words as almost like a fortune cookie of sorts.

Oh sure, these were nice Words written on holy paper, but I felt they were meant for someone else who actually needed these Words. While I longed and searched for something, I was taught that Jesus no longer spoke or walked with us today which I now know contradicted His Words that said He still does even today.

I longed for evidence of these miracles of Him and I longed to have more to my life as I truly felt in my heart that life on its own apart from God was nothing and that we are but a vapor.

Lord, I am one female and a scribe of sorts. I am not Jewish nor am I affluent to have even any true measure of earthly status. Yes, I know a little about a lot of different things, but I do not believe that I am truly great at anything. Since my primary education is in a field that is far removed from having any Biblical significance, I really feel that this gives me no earthly credentials to even write these dreams.

Not only that but I have nothing here to leave as an earthly inheritance for my children. Other than these dreams, I have no land, no assets and no legacy to give any of them. I am no longer an active church volunteer or community leader and have no interest in man's praise with my career.

In reality, I have had enough published from my interior design career to satisfy anyone in this field and this is no longer a goal of mine. I had grown to be a lover of material things of this world fully, yet when I ate all of these things and devoured all that I could until I was full, I was still empty.

You see, Lord, the world has been my desert place and the Earth has been my testing ground. In Scripture, it seems as if You shortened our life span in average blocks of 40 years. My life was like a desert place until You began to speak to me so I could hear You.

The weekend was almost over and I remembered that I had gone to the movie, 'Noah', on Friday evening, March 28th, 2014. I left very sad as I did this as the last thing I had really wanted to do was go to another movie and then two more of them. However, I knew that the Lord was behind this and wanted me to see three separate movies this weekend, so I continued on my course.

My second movie, 'God's Not Dead', was on Saturday, March 29th, 2014 and I was actually pleased with this movie. So much so that I decided that I will take my children to this one and see it again. As I was leaving the theater after 'God's Not Dead' finished, I saw that the movie, 'Son of God', was playing in 20 minutes.

Since I had not felt that the Lord had been calling me to see this movie, I went out to my car. However, as I sat in my car, the Holy Spirit prompted me to go back in buy to the theater to buy a ticket to this movie.

I proceeded back into the theater as the only real agenda I had for this weekend was to spend time with the Lord and had completely cleared my plate for Him. As I sat in the theater waiting for 'Son of God' to start, I began to think about the movie 'Noah' and became mystified as to why a story as grand as Noah would ever need to be 'Hollywood'-ized?

Seriously, the story of Noah is more than incredible enough simply on its own. If the producers had simply shown nothing but the despicable things that the fallen had done in creating abominations, people, and even teenaged boys, would have been interested. I prayed to the Lord and in the Holy Spirit.

Me: "Why, Lord, why even allow this? Lord, I pray that You call people to read the Bible because they are now curious about Noah. Lord, I ask that You use the Holy Spirit to speak through Your written Word so that the 'last calling' begins. Please do not allow the message of this movie to change people's heart against God and Noah and for the fallen.

"Lord, 'Noah' showed the enemy, the fallen, being kind and gentle before finally being redeemed by God and taken Home. It then showed Noah as a heartless man who was willing to cut down his wife and children in order to eliminate man completely. It then showed that You did not speak to Noah when clearly the Bible showed that Noah was a holy man who walked with God and loved his children.

"Lord, this movie also showed that Adam and Eve were like strange 'light beings' with no hair. My prayer would be that, when those You have called see this movie, that they would question and search for truth and that it might be found by them. Lord, clearly we are at the beginning of the end."

Holy Spirit: "Erin, I am here with you and I have heard you. Do not worry."

I sighed as the 'Son of God' movie started to play. As I sat through this, the third movie, I felt absolutely lukewarm about it. Forgive me, Lord, but because I have seen You and have interacted with You, it was difficult for me to see someone 'playing' Jesus.

I barely made it through this movie. Unlike the movie, 'The Passion of the Christ' from ten years ago, I simply did not feel the Spirit of the Lord upon this movie at all. When I came in to the theater today, it was sunny, warm and windy with no clouds. However, as I left, the sky had now grown very dark with large clouds.

Drawing of blue sky through clouds in reply below...

I then witnessed a scene so incredible as I drove home from the theater that it looked like the Lord Himself had opened up a view to Heaven, even if just for a moment. There was an odd hole in the dark gray clouds and beams of light were streaming down on me from this opening. This was so beautiful, I did my best to draw a quick picture.

As I continued to drive home, I grew very sad as I knew the Lord has been strengthening me the last month for something more. However, I also knew that this would come at a price and that I would need to be willing to leave everything I love to follow Jesus. I just prayed that He would be merciful with me and protect my heart.

I then thought back to all of my Christian friends who now barely communicate with me and, when they do, they would purposely ignore my dreams. By doing so, they would then completely ignore what the Lord has been calling me for in these dreams. I became sad as I drove and started talking to the Lord.

Me: "Lord, what if this was it? What if I am false or I have done evil without knowing it. What if..."

Jesus: I heard His voice clearly talk to me. "Erin, stop and look to your right."

I looked over to my right, which in turn was an area over Hanford just before I turn into my neighborhood, and there was the most beautiful rainbow. I cried for a moment and pulled the car over.

Jesus: "I am with you, Erin."

Later that night, I had a difficult sleep as I had dreams of unclean areas, of bathrooms with overflowing toilets in high-end neighborhoods and of my earthly father. When I finally woke up this morning, I was sore, tired and heavy. I began to praise Jesus and thanked Him for His promises. I asked Him to take me up to visit Him today as I was really missing Him. I took communion and praised Him with all of my heart.

Jesus: "Erin, come up."

Immediately I was sitting next to Him at His table. I was a bit startled and surprised to see Him immediately sitting there and smiling at me. I reached over and embraced Him. In turn, He wrapped His arms around me as my arms and hands wrapped around His chest.

Me: "I am so glad to see You, Lord, but why have You taken me here right away today?"

Jesus: Smiling. "Erin, do not be afraid. I thought we would begin with communion today. Here, take some warm bread."

He opened the cloth and pulled out some flat bread. He then pulled out some French bread as well. I was still laughing at Him having both leavened and unleavened bread when He handed me a piece of both. He then motioned for an angel to bring Him wine and to pour some water into my cup. He then poured wine into His cup.

Jesus: "Erin, take this bread and eat. It really does not matter which of the breads you choose as I think that you would enjoy both right now."

Me: "Lord, this is my favorite time with You. I love sitting and dining with You. Thank You for this."

Jesus: "Erin, you are My friend and My guest too and your place is here in Heaven."

Me: "I know this is true, but this confuses me sometimes as the world seems so dark."

Jesus: "Here, Erin, drink some water, but first take a sip of this."

He took a sip of wine from His cup and then handed it for me to drink from. I took a sip and then He motioned for me to take another sip before handing the cup back to Him.

Me: "Lord, this is wonderful. Where is this wine from?"

Jesus: "This is from the Garden of God and is the spring release."

Me: "Lord, does this have more meaning? The spring wine release on Earth is not usually until May."

Jesus: Smiling. "Erin, is the wine good?"

Me: "Oh yes, Lord, very good. Please forgive me, Lord, for searching everything You do and say with discretion, but I simply do not want to miss anything in Your actions or Your words. It just seems like absolutely everything You do is of great significance."

Jesus: "There is no need for Me to forgive that which is good. Erin, let's just enjoy this day, our communion together and each other. I can see that you are troubled by some things. Please eat because you are hungry and drink because you thirst. However, then you must lay your burdens down as you cannot enjoy your time with Me until you are emptied of these. Then you must allow Me to fill you."

Me: "Lord, are you speaking with food and drink physically now or with Your Holy Spirit?"

Jesus: "Erin, the fast you were just on was a good fast and I heard your prayers during this. I have promised you certain things and I stand fast to My Word that all will be fulfilled. Right now you have burdens, but you must first break the fast or 'breakfast' and then come back to Me. At the same time, please go ahead and send a message to your friends so they can pray for you."

Me: "Lord, You are not doing things as I had expected today. I was hoping for a big message today and I mean something really huge. I feel I am on the brink of something as You have shown me the Tribulation for the last two weeks or so. Please, Lord, help me."

Jesus: "Erin, how do you know I am not about to do something big? It is good for you to always be ready. Now let's look at the three movies you just watched.

"The first of the three movies, 'Noah', showed you what the world would like to think about God, but are incorrect. The second of the three movies, 'Son of God', showed you a Lord which is still not who I am, but rather was a scripted and Hollywood version of Jesus. Now, the last of the three movies, 'God's Not Dead', was a message that I am alive even today, but was clearly the least watched movie of the three movies.

"Now remember who God is from the beginning, Erin, as you are now overwhelmed by your knowledge as you have seen both the good and the bad from these movies. Indeed, while you are struggling to understand all of this, did it ever occur to you that perhaps your burden is not to understand it?

"Erin, you can only convey what you have seen, but you simply cannot make people see who I am if they do not want to know Me in the first place. While some want just words on a paper, others do not believe I am alive in those words. Some do not ask for any more at all simply because when they have asked for more than more is required of them and they are much too comfortable with the world.

"Erin, you are not comfortable in the world any more. Now you understand Enoch and Elijah and how I felt when I walking on Earth, especially right before I was crucified. The darkness of the world is overwhelming to you and you are now burdened by this.

"Erin, you must die to the world yourself and take up your Cross and follow Me. I have not called you to forget your children, but just your earthly father's house and then follow me. You must trust that I will do the rest and that I am requiring nothing of you other than your heart.

"Now, coming to Me empty is good as then I can and will fill you. Erin, you have now drunk from My cup and this is a contract. You are My friend and God My Father loves you and you are in His favor too.

"The enemy hates you and the world hates you too, but it first hated Me and preferred My death. As a result, the Lord God has shortened man's days since the beginning.

"Erin, I am not rebuking you here as I see the worry on your face and the burden on your shoulders. Instead, please let Me carry this for you as My shoulders can take your burdens with ease."

Me: "Oh Lord, I do not feel worthy of all of this. I have taken Your call and would never trade my time with You for anything. Indeed, I would give everything away to follow You and, in reality, I almost have.

Jesus: "Erin, give Me what is most precious to you now; your children. Can you not trust Me with them? Erin, I love them too."

Me: "Oh Lord, I am so sorry. Yes, Father, please take them."

My hand started to shake and I began to cry. As I reached over to touch the sleeve of His robe, He reached over and touched my hand and wrist.

Jesus: "Erin, do you trust Me and that I will do something good here?"

Me: "Oh yes, Lord, of course and my children are the last thing to give to You. Now that I have given You my children, I have now given You everything and You have all of me. Other than Your promises and You, I now cling to nothing else."

Jesus: "Erin, give Me your bills and I will pay these. Give Me your enemies and I will remove them. Give Me your worries and I will speak and comfort you."

The look He was giving to me in His eyes was a love for me that was much deeper than any earthly love could possibly give and was a steadfast, sure and true love.

Me: "Lord, how can I deny giving my whole self to You? How can I deny what You have done? You have forever changed me. You have ruined me for this life. I have just seen heartless men in my dreams, but I deal with them daily on Earth.

"Please, Lord, things are getting worse on Earth and my dreams are becoming so very difficult. Not only that, but my friends are now experiencing the same things and many of us are treated as outcasts and shunned. I still remain silent to so many unless You specifically lead me to do differently."

Jesus: "Erin, all that you have been through, I have been through also. I am with you always, so now you must remain in Me and I will remain in you. Do not be afraid. Are you ready for what comes next? Are you up for the challenge? Are you ready for service?"

"I have sent you friends and they will stand with you. They will all be blessed greatly for what they are helping you to do. You do not understand the harvest yet, but soon you will yield record crops."

Me: "Lord, please bless my friends tenfold for all they have done for me. Please heal those who are sick, alone and hungry. Lord, pour out Your Spirit on us so that we may shine like You do."

Jesus: "Erin, hand your friends to Me and hand Me all of them. I will speak to them this day as they are Mine and the Love I have for them will never be removed. They will be like trees of splendor in the Garden of God and will be oaks of righteousness. All manner of birds will come to rest on their branches and sing praises to God.

"They will be richly blessed, but now must eat and drink as you are thirsty. I love you, Erin. Oh yes, look at Enoch and Elijah at the same crossroads you are in Scripture and you will see yourself at the same spot. Now what comes next?"

Me: Smiling. "I get rid of my designer pajamas?"

Jesus: Laughing. "No, Erin, your designer pajamas will remain an 'Elijah issue' unless those pajamas somehow take My place. If so, then we have a much greater problem."

Me: Laughing. "No, Lord, for my pajamas wear out, but You never do."

Jesus: "Very good, Erin, then there is no issue as this is always a heart issue. Remember that you can never judge a book by its cover as even Solomon was dressed very well. Even so, God blessed Solomon and no earthly king was ever more knowledgeable than Solomon.

"God also made Lucifer beautiful to behold and he was a bright and beautiful star. However, Lucifer fell the hardest and took many with him when he did. Therefore do not be deceived by appearances and remember that only God truly knows someone's heart.

"Now you will be shown much more so continue to write and even about the upcoming Tribulation. I will show you more of Heaven too, but you need to report on that which you have seen during the darkness as well. While the horrors I have shown you are unimaginable, this was no one can then say 'but, Lord, we did not know.'"

Me: "Lord, when I am having these dreams, I am often walking in the dark landscape. Why am I sometimes physically there and sometimes only in the Spirit during the Tribulation?"

Jesus: "Good question, Erin. All I ask of you is to simply write all of these dreams down 'as is', even if you must wake several times during the night to do so. You already know your place is here in Heaven, but one day, so many will apologize to you about their criticism of your dreams, but many will also thank you for these dreams. You will be given detailed interactions when you are given these dreams, but you must remember to write these all down clearly.”

Me: “Okay, Lord, I will pray for the wisdom and the ability to record these dreams just like Ezra.”

Jesus: “Good, Erin, this is a good prayer and has been granted to you. Now rest and eat. You are loved so do not worry, but rather pray as you are blessed, as well as your friends. I am with you and I am here and when you seek Me, there you will find Me. Knock and the door will be opened as I love you, Erin.”

Me: “I love You too, Lord.”

He then hugged me.

Dream 115 – God’s Clock & the Olive Grove

Received Sunday, April 6, 2014

(Formerly known as Heaven 41)

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day, for my children, for their good health, for their hearts to ask and wonder about You and for family and friends. Please, Lord, bless them abundantly, answer their prayers and heal their hearts.

Lord, I have been struggling recently with what all that You have shown me. I know You are coming and feel like You are in fact even at the doorstep, but exactly when I still do not know.

I have had very dark dreams now for three weeks and even longer. I know there is instruction in these dark dreams, but these dreams surely took their toll on me this week. Indeed, the pacemaker technician I recently visited called it tachycardia as I had so many heart skips that it felt like it was non-stop skipping.

As a result of these heart skips and dark dreams, I have been tired all week but have had no time to fully rest or recuperate. Please, Lord, grant me special resilience to continue down this new path You are taking me on, but please also allow me to have some glimmers of Heaven in order to contrast the darkness.

I feel as if the enemy has kept me from You, but I know that You have also allowed this. Please, Lord, make a way when there seems to be no way. I love You.

Jesus: “Erin, come up.”

Today I was lying in soft grass and my cheek was resting in the beautiful soft green grass. I brought myself up to a sitting position and realized I was in God’s olive grove. I looked up to my left and there was Jesus’ Mansion up high on the mountain to my left. I giggled and spoke out loud to Him.

Me: “Lord, where are You? Are You here?”

I was greeted with nothing but silence as I leaned back against the base of this olive tree and looked up. I never considered the olive tree as being very beautiful as, on Earth, they are short, squatty and gnarled.

However, here in Heaven, the olive trees instead all have a 'beautiful twist' to them. The leaves are silver on one side and green on the other. The olives on this particular tree were perfectly ripe and consisted of many different colors.

Some of the olives were burgundy, some were deep purple and others were green. However, each olive seemed to have a golden brush stroke of metallic paint on them. As I looked around, I could see that this grove was simply beautiful and the smells here seemed to have a familiar distant memory as well, but I just could not recall whatever this memory might have been.

I looked back at the Mansion of God and hoped He would come out, but I still did not see Him anywhere. I started to get drowsy as I listened to some little birds fluttering from tree to tree. Their song seemed familiar and I was trying to recall it when I started to laugh so hard.

I laughed as I realized that the birds were singing 'When the Saints go marching in'. Seriously, Lord, You are not only incredibly wise, but also amazingly funny. As I listened, I had a hard time recalling the lyrics, but I just knew that these little birds had the lyrics completely nailed down.

As I rested my head in the soft grass and looked up, I could see that the sun was shining through a beautiful mist. I could also see small glistening rainbows around each of the olives on the branches. I chuckled as it seemed like the metallic interior of each olive must somehow reflect the sun so brightly that they each created a small rainbow.

This was all so beautiful and, as I laid there, my eyes became heavy. As I was almost about to fall asleep, a bunny come over to examine me. As I looked to my side, I saw that, indeed, a small bunny had come over and nestled in the grass right next to my neck. I love small plump bunnies and this one was now nestling in for a nap.

Me: Laughing. "Lord, did You bring me here today to nap?"

My eyes were still open as the song kept going through my head. For just a moment I had drifted off, but I was awakened by the bunny's whiskers tickling my nose.

Me: Laughing. "Well, I guess sleeping was not the plan. Lord, what are the words to this song again?"

As I asked this, the lyrics of the song were instantly downloaded:

'We are traveling in the footsteps of those who've gone before and we'll all be reunited on a new and sunlit shore. Oh when the saints go marching in, oh when the saints go marching in, Lord, I want to be in that number when the saints go marching in.

'And when the sun refuses to shine and when the sun refuses to shine, I want to be in that number when the sun refuses to shine.

'And when the Moon turns red with blood and when the moon turns red with blood, I want to be in that number when the moon turns red with blood.

'Oh when the trumpet sounds its call, oh when the trumpet sounds its call, Lord, I want to be in that number when the trumpet sounds its call.

'Some say this world of trouble is the only one we need, but I'm waiting for that morning when the New World is revealed.

'Oh when the new world is revealed, oh when the new world is revealed, Lord, I want to be in that number when the New World is revealed.

'Oh when the saints go marching in, oh when the saints go marching in, I want to be in that number when the saints go marching in.'

As I sang this tune, I thanked God for my Grandma Mac as she would take us to church when I was little and I remembered this hymn from this time with her there. I then prayed that my Grandma Mac was somewhere here in Heaven and that she had made it.

As I drifted off to sleep yet again, I woke up to Jesus looking down at me with a huge smile on His face. As He smiled at me, I noticed that His hand was on my forehead and that His other hand was on my wrist.

Jesus: Laughing. "Oh good, Erin, you are alive."

I smiled back at him, but I had awoken a bit disoriented as I had expected to wake up in my earthly bed instead. He reached out and gave me a glass of water. As I was quite thirsty, I quickly drank the entire glass.

Me: "Oh, Lord, how long was I asleep? I had forgotten that I can rest and nap in Heaven and I just love this here. I feel bad though as I have no idea how long I slept."

Jesus: "You slept for a while, but it really does not matter for how long as you clearly needed the rest."

Me: "Lord, this was the best sleep I have had in a very long time and I feel refreshed and renewed. Seriously, though, exactly how long was I really asleep here?"

Jesus: "You will laugh at this, Erin. While you slept just three hours in Heavenly terms, this was equivalent in sleep to three days in earthly terms."

Me: "Does this mean that an hour in Heaven is like a day on Earth?"

Jesus: Laughing. "Yes, but only specifically in terms of today and the nap I just gave you here. However, if you wish to use this measure as a gauge for other things, I would caution you not to. After all, Erin, you do not want people on Earth thinking they have three days when they only have three hours or vice versa."

"In reality, Erin, how could you know, especially when sometimes a day can even be like a thousand years and vice versa too. Well, I suppose you will just have to take instruction from Peter here."

Me: Smiling. "You are so wise, Lord, as You knew I would wonder about this and take notice. Based on this Scripture, I am surprised you did not tell me I was asleep for three Heavenly minutes and that this was like three earthly months or even years?"

Jesus: Laughing. "Yes, I just knew you would begin to calculate this, but how can anyone do a calculation if they have no understanding of the intrinsic value of Heavenly time?"

Me: "Yes, Lord, I understand as You are orderly and will not go against Your own Words."

Jesus: "Erin, Peter stated this so that you could understand the hour that we work in. Erin, it is now a very late hour and it is God's wish that no one should perish, yet some still will."

Me: "Lord, it is difficult to take comfort in the lateness of the hour we are in and I cannot help but wonder when You will come for us. After all, children do ask a lot of questions, Lord, as it is what we do. I guess I am just struggling right now and I am having difficulty resting."

Jesus: "Well this is exactly why I brought you here. Now let's take communion."

An angel brought a small short table that looked similar to a tray with legs. Jesus motioned for me to sit next to Him. However, as I sat I became curious to see where the little bunny went.

Jesus: "Erin, they are over there."

I saw a group of brown and white bunnies sleeping in the grass. Some were curled up in a ball and some were on their backs with their bellies up. I laughed so hard at the sight as this was just so incredibly cute. I laughed even harder when I saw one of the bunnies moving its legs while it was sleeping as if it too was dreaming.

Me: "I love this, so thank You. Lord, I noticed that, at odd times in my life, a bunny would appear in odd places. I always thought that this was You showing me that You were with me. It is just so neat to see these bunnies so calm and resting in the sun. Lord, is the one bunny that is moving its legs dreaming about running?"

Jesus: He looked at me and laughed. "Yes, but certainly not from a predator. Now come, Erin, let's break bread together."

He reached over and broke half of the bread He had and then gave me a piece.

Jesus: "Erin, do you know why you came here today?"

Me: "You mean to the olive grove? No, Lord, I do not understand."

Jesus: "Here, Erin, first have a drink and then I will remind you of something."

The angel poured wine into a goblet and Jesus took a sip from it before handing it to me to drink. He then turned the cup to the very spot where He drank from so I that I would drink from that very same spot on His cup."

Me: "Lord, why do You do this?"

Jesus: "Erin, so that you partake from exactly where I partook and so that you would remember that what you are enduring, I too had endured?"

Me: "Lord, how can this be as You are a man and God and I am a woman?"

Jesus: "Yes, but you are still one of God's Creation and the Holy Spirit resides in you. Do you believe there is nothing in your life in which I do not have knowledge? Do you believe if I have sent you the Counselor to dwell inside you, that I have not given the Counselor senses such as ears and even eyes?"

Me: "Oh of course, Lord, as You know all things. When You had me drink from the same spot You drank, I thought it was because You suffered and that I might too have to suffer."

Jesus: "Erin, what is the significance of this olive grove?"

Me: "Well, it is a reminder of You sweating blood before You went to the Cross and were crucified."

Jesus: "Okay, now remember the olive as it is battered off of its branches to a cloth, carried off to be crushed and then pressed to produce oil. There is nothing new with God and therefore this is the same. Now let's look at the timeline because you like having patterns. What do you know of the day before My Crucifixion?"

Me: "You had the last supper and then You came here to pray. The disciples were either sleeping or resting, but you could not sleep. You were later arrested about 1:00am, right?"

Jesus: "Yes, but there is more of significance in a short period of time. I had 6 trials over the course of about 7 hours. This would be unheard of in your world today. Erin, look over the course of your last 7 years and how many large trials you have had with crushing?"

Me: "Oh Lord, it seems like much more, but I will look at this."

Jesus: "Erin, there is no need to. Know the difference between the two of us is that mine was condensed. There are more symbolisms with this block of time than any other in history. Look at the time frame of the Crucifixion up to the point of My death there. Do you see it?"

Me: "Lord, I see You carried Your Cross for about three hours, which was from around 9:00am until noon. Then You were Crucified and hung there for three hours, meaning that You died at around 3:00pm. Therefore in just fifteen hours from the time of the last supper, You were gone."

Jesus: "The Passover meal ended around 11:30pm and the olive grove was two miles."

Me: "Lord, this makes me sad. My stomach and heart have been sick all week. I do not like what I see when I sleep and I do not like reliving what has happened to You."

Jesus: "I understand and I am glad that you know Me enough to hurt over Me. There are very few who can make this connection because they have gone no further than to say 'an innocent man hung on the Cross'."

Me: "Lord, You might have come in the flesh, but You are still God. The world has no idea how remarkable and incredible You are."

Jesus: "Why did I bring you here today, Erin?"

Me: "Lord, am I about to be crushed?"

Jesus: Smiling. "Have you not had enough crushing? Did you need more?"

Me: "No, please, I am okay. I had my stuff to deal with, but, please, no more."

Jesus: "What have these dreams done to you lately?"

Me: "They have broken my heart and I am afraid for those who are stubborn, sleeping spiritually or do not understand the seriousness of the hour that we are in. Lord, people are going to be pressed like olives and trodden as grapes and, when this happens, they will look for answers as all hope will be gone."

Jesus: "Tell Me what dream stands out to you."

Me: "Well there have been many, but I told my children as they have seen me with a heavy and unsettled look about me. I have told them in a very serious tone that no one wants to be here during the Tribulation.

"I showed them the trailer for the movie, 'The Purge', and I told them it will be like this every day. I then showed them the trailer for the movie, "World War Z". As I showed them this, I only felt a little bad as I had no other way to describe what was coming and they needed to be aware in order to minister to their friends."

Jesus: "So which dream stood out?"

Me: "The dream that stood out in particular was the dream about a mandatory curfew. In this dream, I was still outside after curfew as I was taking medicine to someone. At one point, I ran into an underground parking garage, but it was so dark that I could not find my way out.

"This garage seemed like a maze that kept folding into itself. The curfew came with mandatory darkness so there were now no lights. However, before the garage went dark, I saw a young man there with a hooded sweatshirt. I had then lost him in the darkness as no longer had any bearing.

“Even worse, in the part I was playing in this dream, I also had no Holy Spirit gauge or even intuition. I lacked discernment, but I still somehow knew that this person was close. Indeed, I could hear him, but I could not see him.

“Then all of a sudden I felt someone grab me. This person then lit a cigarette lighter by his face and I saw that it was the young man and pure evil. It said to me ‘there is no escape’ and I woke up out of my sleep. Afterwards, I even felt sore as if I had been running as this dream was so scary.”

Jesus: “The person in this dream was not you, Erin, but rather you were representing someone else. Alright, Erin, you then had another dream which stood out just recently.”

Me: “Yes, Lord, I believe You had not raptured us yet, but it seemed like it was just before the rapture. I was in a hilly city near Panama and there had been something which took all the power and the water from the area. There had also been a massive amount of rain which had caused mudslides then followed by a drought and famine.

“People had come from highland areas to a now abandoned remnant of a city where there were mud encrusted concrete sheets. There were car lots in which dried mud was halfway up each tire on the car lot. All gas had been drained from these cars and even though these cars were new, they could not be driven.

“A few families used cars and vans to live in the parking lot. The occupants of the area spoke a strange Hispanic that was not just urban Hispanic, but also a combination of Indian and Spanish both.

“With me was a toddler that I was taking care of. He was dark skinned with black curly hair. He had just learned to walk and he seemed to laugh even though he was weak and hungry and his belly was extended. I was in search of water and I had gone from place to place looking for some, but there was none to be found.

“I had American dollars and I tried to buy clean clothes and water, but every time I heard, ‘no tu money es mal – tu es mal.’ They would then turn away from me. I finally looked down at myself and for the first time I noticed that I had darker skin and a strange rash.

“One man directed me to go to this clay home where children were. As I was arriving there, a woman came out to greet me and told her that I needed help. She replied that there was no help available, so I then asked for help with my boy.

"Just then I noticed some strange gold idols coming from the walls of all of these different clay structures. These idols were shiny as if they had been rubbed or worshiped daily. The idols looked like a very odd combination of a dog, a snake and a bird.

"Just then I heard my toddler say 'Ma' and I looked down as he lost his bowels. I picked him up and started running up and down the street yelling 'help, aqua por favor, aqua por favor.' People turned their backs and I received no help at all. People were cold and it seemed so real. Where was this, Lord?"

Jesus: "Right now it does not matter where. You see that people are dwelling in an area where once others prospered. You noticed that both you and your son were sick and thirsty and there was no relief to be found. This is not uncommon now, but will be even more common very soon. This is when the world becomes even colder than even now."

Me: "Lord, I saw two dreams where cults in Africa and South America blended the Catholic Religion with witchcraft. It was called 'beautiful and godly' and many were told they should follow this. There were blood sacrifices as well."

Jesus: "Yes, this is called 'Santeria'. There are many more born out of each of these cults and this is going to become even worse as many people will attempt to control their own destinations. While this is the 'wide gate', you must remember that it is the 'narrow gate' which leads to God and that very few take it."

Me: "Lord, what are all these dreams about? I have seen the Tribulation from all over the globe. Why now?"

Jesus: "These are given to others as well and yet again confirm the hour that we are now in."

Me: "Lord, forgive me as I do not want to miss any key items, but help me to understand why so many of my dreams are occurring in northern Europe in particular. I have also had quite a few in America and I do not like what I see happening there either as it is too painful to see.

"I wake up hungry because in my dreams there is no food and I wake up thirsty because there is nothing to drink as the water is polluted. These dreams seem so real that I am left wondering how anyone will survive at all.

"Lord, before the veil is lifted, this is so frightening, but when the veil is finally lifted and we are all gone, who can survive? Those who remain will simply die of heart failure. Help me, Lord, to be clear and to be ready. Is there more I can do?"

Jesus: "Erin, you were told a long time ago that nothing is required of you. I only require for you to love God and...well, you know the rest. Then pray as you do have an assignment and you continue to run after Me. This I will bless. Now I did tell you to also prepare your field?"

Me: "Yes, Lord, what is this about? I am not a very patient person so I have continued to say Kadima and look forward because when I look back or even at my current circumstances I become frozen. I become focused on the overwhelming task and the slow process.

"The very thing I have wanted my whole life on Earth was a home of my own, yet now because of the late hour I only look towards my Heavenly Home. Clearly my Heavenly Home is worth waiting for, so now I just want to make good use of my time here on Earth while I wait to get here. What would You have me to do while I wait?"

Jesus: "Prepare your field! Now come with Me, Erin."

He reached down, took my hand and then lifted me to my feet. Instantly we are in His Courtyard in front of God's Clock and Calendar on the Upper Balcony overlooking His inner Courtyard. With a wave of His hand, the stars and moon were set and then with a wave of His other hand, the sun was set on the outer ring.

Jesus: "I would like you to see something. In order to do this, I will illuminate this in your language. Now look."

There before me I saw some harvests listed on the fourth ring. I saw seven main harvests as well as some of the smaller harvests.

Jesus: "Erin, you can find these listed in Deuteronomy 8:8."

I saw wheat, barley, grapes, figs, pomegranates, olives and honey. I saw Pentecost listed, as well as the word 'threshing', which occasionally overlapped 'grains' and 'grape harvests'.

Me: "Oh Lord, I see a measure and that the new wine festival comes on the fiftieth days or seven weeks after Pentecost. Then I see that fourteen weeks after Pentecost is the new olive oil festival. Then I see three separate sections, the first being the spring grain harvest, the second being the summer grape harvest and the third being the autumn oil harvest. Wow, Lord, this is well thought out. Can I have a Calendar like this?"

Jesus: Smiling. "You are funny, Erin. Are you a farmer now that you need such timing?"

Me: "I get excited when I am shown something from here which makes complete sense in comparison to the order on Earth. This is a timing issue, right Lord?"

Jesus: "Erin, you are being shown something from the growing seasons and it is not always a gauge for My timing."

Me: "Lord, forgive me, but never in my whole life have I ever met a human who could match Your knowledge and perfection. Solomon could be given just enough to finally make him weary of this world and all of its meaninglessness. This I know too well and I am certainly no Solomon.

"However, You, Lord, are the Son of God and far from simple. What I am seeing, You have allowed me to read in English, or at least some of it. You have done this for a reason so please help me here as clearly there is something."

Jesus: "Okay, okay, very good, Erin. Yes, I told you to prepare your field, Erin, and you fasted for answers so now I am giving you further instructions. I like that you are forging ahead as this too is good."

Me: "Lord, the key for me is knowing when to rest, wait and pray, but also knowing when to pray, step out and watch. You complete a good work."

Jesus: "Hmm, that is an interesting way to state this. Let's look at Peter when he was both eager and hesitant at the same time. I had asked Peter to step out on the water and walk to Me, but he soon failed to look beyond the waves in order to see Me.

"He lost his focus, looked down at his circumstances and the water consumed him when he lost his sight of Me. I required Peter to step out when he did not know the outcome of his act.

"Now, here is another example. I consistently tell you to prepare your field. So what does this mean exactly?"

Me: "Well, I think I know, but then I am no longer as sure."

Jesus: "There are two farmers and they are each given a rich field by the Landowner. The Landowner said:

“I am giving you everything you need to take care of my field, including equipment, labor, fertilizer, seed and topsoil. Now I am leaving for a season and I will be back for the second season. I am going to the Temple to pray for God to send rain and I am going to give an offering in advance for this record harvest. Please follow instructions as we are planting on faith.’

“One farmer immediately did everything the Landowner requested, but the second farmer said:

“I am going to sit and wait for more instructions, waiting on the Lord in faith to plant my field for me.’

“The Landowner went to the Temple, thanked God for all that he had, thanked God for the two farmers whom he had hired to help with his harvest and he gave an offering to God of double His requirement in the hopes that God would send rain in the drought.

“God heard the cry of the Landowner, sent the rain and gave the Landowner record crops and more than doubled his offering on the first field. When the rains came, the second farmer rushed to throw seed on the ground and quickly covered it with top soil and fertilizer.

“The second farmer had been too lazy and had waited on God to do everything and, as result, he had almost missed the opportunity when the rains came. While this farmer did yield a crop, it barely produced a healthy harvest and was nowhere near that of the first farmer.

“The Landowner was still very happy that the Lord had answered his prayers and received his offering. He then gave the first farmer his share, which was double what he expected, but he then gave the second farmer only a percentage of his yield, which was the bare minimum.

“Nothing needed to be said to the second farmer as it was obvious to the second farmer as to why this was happening. Erin, now explain to me what this is about?”

Me: “Well, God is a good and faithful God even when we are not. God blessed the Landowner for His great faith, but He also blessed the first farmer for stepping out with Him in faith despite the drought and for believing with Him for a miracle. He was faithful and the Landowner trusted him by tithing in advance as an offering to God. This is great faith in action.

“The second farmer believed God for all the miracles too, but did he really? He believed he could just wait on God for more instructions, probably because he did not want to follow his employer’s instructions. Again, I think he was afraid, but perhaps he was not really faithful at all and was simply using this as a crutch to stay immobilized and say 'I am waiting on the Lord.'

"However, the second farmer's obligation was to serve his employer and thereby serve God. The second farmer's obligation was also to believe that, if you have done all you can do, then all the rest is up to God like sending the rain."

Jesus: "Very good, Erin, but there is more here too. Now there is a story like this too that can also be seen in some of the horrors of your dreams as of late. In Second Kings 7, there is a story about lepers and outcasts.

"The Syrians in this story had put a siege on the northern kingdom of Israel. As you know, sieges result in famine. Well, the food stores were now gone and the inhabitants were facing certain death. Indeed, they were now so hungry that they had decided to eat their own children.

"There were also four lepers that had decided that, since they were going to die anyway, they could be crazy and go out to the enemy's camp and beg for food. They basically said 'we have a 50/50 chance to live or die, so we might as well go out and ask.'

"While the lepers were going to ask, King Jehoram was blaming Elisha for the trouble as Elisha had prophesied relief from the famine. Now, when the lepers went out to the enemy camp, there was no enemy there. Do you remember why, Erin?"

Me: "No, Lord, I do not really remember."

Jesus: "When the enemy had heard a noise of the lepers approaching, they had thought that a great army was coming. As a result, they had ran for their lives and left behind food and more.

"Erin, God had prepared the way and the lepers went out on faith with the hope of a better future. God met them there with His supernatural power and all the lepers had to do was enter the abandoned enemy camp and take what they wanted."

Me: "Wow, Lord, I had read this story in the past, but I had really never noticed this before. Lord, all I had seen when reading this was about the fear."

Jesus: "Erin, I have something for each of you and this is waiting for you to take a hold of it. Now there is a time to sit still and wait, but sometimes there is a time to say 'I am not going to sit here any longer. I am going to take a risk instead.'

"Do not allow fear of the unknown, failure, success, responsibility or abandonment to govern you. The key, Erin, is to not lose heart. When you are going through your reasoning for not moving or taking action, make certain that your fear is not steering your course.

"God has not given you the spirit of fear, but of power, love and a sound mind (2 Timothy 1:7). The fear of God is the beginning of all wisdom."

Me: "Lord, are You requiring more of me? Am I to move or go somewhere? Is the landscape about to change? Is this a warning?"

Jesus: "No warning, Erin, just a reminder that you moved ahead of God and that this landed you here in the desert. However, do not let fear keep you here when God says 'now!'"

Me: "Lord, I have not heard this yet. Am I to do more to prepare and to prepare others? Please help me understand."

Jesus: "There are hints here and now I have revealed some more to you. You are learning about this late hour and that you are to prepare your field and household. This is wisdom and it is okay to change your thinking as sometimes you wait on God and sometimes God is waiting on you.

"Erin, do not lose heart as now you have learned that Heaven is a place of order and is also 'complexly simple'. Remember that God's timing is His order or gauge of events that are clogged on His own cog apart from but related to the order of seasons, days, harvests and moons.

"There is more to this, but all is structured and originates in your field guide, the Bible. Yes, Erin, it is all right there in My Word and you can find it.

"Now I will continue you on your course as you are not out of favor and there is more. You are loved, so be blessed and do not fear."

Dream 116 – The Cave, Uriel & the Snow Storm

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day, loving me, my children, my family and friends and my dreams, but most of all thank You for calling me. Lord, all week I have been ill, which as You know is not normal for me.

Forgive me if I have not pressed into You more as I still have a habit of giving into my circumstances whenever You do not immediately answer my prayers. While You answer my cries for help and come immediately in different ways than I expect, You do still always come as You are faithful. Please forgive me for running from You.

I have felt a burden lately and have not even told my friends about this so they could pray for me. You told me to come out of my cave like Elijah. You even sent a friend that had a vision of boats on the water and me being afraid to step out from it in order to encourage me to run to You.

Lord, I want to be like David and even Enoch as they too faced giants, but still always saw You as bigger than their giants. Lord, forgive me as I am more like Elijah running to the desert cave.

Indeed, I am more like Peter with his absolutes that 'I would never betray You' or his fearless desire to walk on water when he sees You, but then that fear makes him lose his footing and he sinks.

Please help me, Lord, as this might be one of the most important game changers for me. Do I have what it takes to deliver both messages of hope and messages of the coming darkness?

Lord, only You know, so today I come to You boldly like Esther as I have questions and I need to be clear. I love You, Lord, and ask that You please find favor in me.

Jesus: "Erin, come up."

My eyes were closed in prayer and when I opened them I was in a dark place and could smell wet dirt. I sat up quickly and began to panic. I could see a very faint light in the distance, but could only stumble towards it in the darkness. I cried out to God.

Me: "Lord, have I been so horrible that You would send me to the dark pit? Father, God on the Throne, I cannot do this anymore as I am not worthy. All of this seems to have no significance to anyone and is like an endless riddle. Lord, I am simply so tired of chasing after You so please just go ahead and forget about me.

"Please wipe my name from Your hand and remove my brick from Your Garden. Please send me home to Earth and let me never wake from my slumber again. Lord, I am too old for this task and I am tired."

I was in this large cave for quite some time and was afraid. The longer I stayed in this cave void of almost all light and with such thick air, the more I wanted to get out. I gingerly searched the ground using my bare feet until I finally found a dirt path. As I started walking along this path, I instinctively knew that I was on the right course.

As I kept moving on this small path, the light ahead began to grow brighter and brighter. I needed to use my hands as my guide in order to keep me from stumbling into a wall. As I turned past this wall, I saw the light at the end of the tunnel and it was a cliché of epic proportion.

I stopped for a moment and noticed that the opening of the cave at the end of the path was around nine feet high and nine feet wide. As I drew closer to the opening, I looked out and saw nothing but miles and miles of desert.

I began to cry as I had really wanted to look out of the cave to see the Garden of God. I felt I was being given a severe 'time-out' as I stood in the hot sun on a ledge at the front of the cave.

It was finally light enough for me to see that I was wearing a white dirty long sleeve t-shirt and some black workout tights. My feet were bare as I had taken off my tennis shoes in order to feel my way in the dark.

Now wait a minute! When I think about this, why would I have taken off my tennis shoes in a dark cave? Why were my shoes off then if I had not removed them? Oh why does it matter that I had my shoes off in a cave when I had them available?

Me: "What a bonehead I am, Lord. See, Lord, this proves that I am dim-sighted and not worthy of Your call."

I sat there on this ledge for a very long time crying off and on. I looked all around and all I could see was miles of red dirt and sagebrush. I then saw hawks flying overhead and could not help but shake my head.

Me: "Oh sure, Lord, now leave me here. Next will come buzzards as they always circle above carcasses."

Sure enough, I then saw buzzards circling overhead.

Me: "Oh sure, go ahead with Your humor when you know I am upset here. I am mad at You, Lord, and need Your help, but all You do is hammer me. You want me to do Your will, but when I do You allow the demons and everything else to pursue me.

"Not only that, but You allow them to attack me, my health, my work, my family and my finances. Lord, You promised me You would deliver me from the desert, but did You mean by death? Now I feel like I will not see the 'Promised Land' on Earth at all now because I am stuck here in the desert with You busy using me to prove a point.

"Lord, I am tired of being a test dummy. Could You not have just given me a nice easy ministry? Perhaps I could have a ministry in which I run a church nursery and craft fairs? I am not sure I signed up for this? Why did You allow me to see Heaven? What if I cause You not to even want me here now? What if..."

I sat and sobbed for some time and now the sun was beginning to set. The sky was very beautiful and the sun was like a glowing red fireball. There were bands of colors and I could see purples, reds, pinks, yellows and blues.

I rested my head on the entrance wall to the cave and the ledge I was on was positioned about one hundred feet off of the ground. I did not really see a path leading out and down to the desert floor. I wondered if I had come in from another route. Then I heard the voice of God.

God: "Erin, what are you doing here?"

Me: I started mockingly looking under rocks. "Lord, I am tired and my enemies still pursue me. I feel like an island and that You do not hear me when I call. You want me to stand on faith, but where is my faith? Maybe I can find it here? See? Help me, Lord, I really need Your help."

God: "Erin, go and stand outside on the ledge."

I saw before me a mighty cloud of sorts, but this I am unsure of. The wind blew so hard that my hair whipped across my eyes. I saw sagebrush pulled from their roots. There was sand and rock digging up the landscape and then it stopped as suddenly as it came.

I dropped to my knees and then I looked for God, but He was not there. Then the entire land shook and it shook so violently. I was on all fours and then I dropped to the ground with my face down. Suddenly, the shaking it stopped. Then the sun in the sky began to cause fire to burn across the landscape and I was terrified. Soon it stopped, but now I was in tears. Then I heard in a quiet whisper.

God: "Erin, what are you doing here?"

Me: "Lord, I have seen what happens and You have shown me what is coming. People will hate me and, Lord, the enemy continues to punish me and I am tired. Lord, now I stand here before You like Elijah, but I am no Elijah. I do not have a mantle, but only a t-shirt to hide my face."

God: "Erin, go back and continue on your course as I am with you always."

Then I felt a small fluttering on my shoulder and it was a small white bird with silver wings. It was a glorified sparrow and it chirped a few times, looked at me and then flew off. I followed its flight and there around the side of the ledge was Jesus. I began to cry and run into His arms and there He held me.

Me: "I am so sorry, Lord, so sorry."

Jesus: "It is okay, Erin, come."

He gently squeezed my hand and we were instantly in a meadow in the Garden of God next to the River of Life. Off to our right were a flock of very fluffy white sheep as well as a few lambs.

The meadow was filled with all kinds of wild flowers and some perennials and the colors were amazing. The scents were beautiful and the fragrances difficult to describe, but nothing was overpowering or offensive.

We walked for some time as I was still rattled by God's display of power after my rant. Up ahead and high up to the right was God's Mansion. It was incredible and cut into the mountain of solid rock. It was like marble or blue stone and it looked like it was quarried directly out of the side of the mountain. It was massive.

Jesus: "Erin, you are not really speaking."

Me: "What can I say, Lord, and what can I do? Just to have this experience with the cave will make people think that I am thinking I am Elijah. Some might even think that I am Elijah, but clearly I am no Elijah."

Jesus: "Erin, why do you think God allowed this? What is your best guess?"

I looked over at Him while we walked and I noticed that He is so much like a friend, yet He is so much more than this. He is handsome, funny, strong, steadfast, endearing and passionate about all of us. His personality is magnetic and just one moment of looking into His eyes and experiencing His smile and You will be forever changed.

I began to have tears well up even though I am not a tearful person on Earth. It takes quite a bit to move me to tears, but when it comes to Jesus and His goodness, His grace and His Mercy, you cannot help but love Him. If you were here, you too would cry at the magnitude of life around Him. Don't even get me started about the power of God.

Me: "Probably because my thoughts were like those of Elijah. Lord, I am so troubled by what I have seen and I cannot go there. People without You dwelling in them as the Holy Spirit or even people who say they are Christians will do desperate things. I have seen unspeakable evil and have been moved to tears. I am depressed like Elijah. Maybe God was giving me a choice to continue or die?"

Jesus: "Erin, why did you run from Me when you were afraid?"

Me: "Because, Lord, my dreams are so dark and You are not there. I have had trouble going back to a daily routine and the enemy has been given permission to ramp up against me. I feel these attacks will not stop until I have nothing physically, financially or emotionally left. I am depressed and tired. After my fast, You have always been faithful, but this time it seems that even more is being required of me."

Jesus: "I am taking you to have some nourishment, so come with Me."

He gently squeezed my hand and we were immediately at His front door. The door was open and one of the most handsome angels I have seen was there by the open door to welcome the Lord.

Jesus: Smiling. "Erin, this is Uriel."

I smiled at Uriel and he smiled back at me. I had a question for the Lord.

Me: "Lord, what type of angel is Uriel?"

Jesus: "Good question, Erin. Uriel, what is your assignment?"

Uriel had tanned skin, a beautiful smile and amazing green eyes. His hair was wavy and a little below shoulder length with white, gold and silver.

Uriel: "I am a protector and guard."

Uriel was extremely muscular and his voice was strong, yet very gentle and modest at the same time. Again, a combination of qualities you rarely see on Earth.

Me: "So you are a protector. I thought I saw you by the clock. However, if you are here, then who is protecting the clock?"

Jesus: "No worries, Erin, the three other angels are still there protecting the clock, along with many more angels. After all we are here in God's House."

Uriel and Jesus then laughed together. Although I could see that Jesus was in full charge of the archangels, I could also see a long and trusted friendship between them. The loyal attitude of Uriel with Jesus coupled with the fact that he was clearly on a similar level as Michael, Gabriel and Raphael made this even more amazing. What an awesome long term assignment Uriel has!

Me: "Lord, do the angels rest?"

Jesus: Laughing. "Erin, are the angels or you greater than God? Think about this; if God worked for six days and then rested on the seventh day, should His Creation not also rest?" He then turned to address the archangel. "Do you observe the Sabbath?"

Uriel: He was smiling and laughing with Jesus. "Of course, Lord."

Jesus: "Let Me ask this next question for you, Erin, because I can see this question written all over your face." He then addressed Uriel again. "So, Uriel, what do angels do for fun?"

Uriel: Laughing. "Well, I hang out with You, Lord."

Jesus: Laughing. "No, really."

Uriel: He became quieter. "I rest to regain my strength. I spend time in worship, but I also enjoy music and love spending time walking in the Garden. The Garden is beautiful, Erin, just wait until you see everything. Indeed, even I still have not seen everything!"

I quietly studied Uriel and could read on his face that he simply loved to serve Jesus and all of Heaven.

Me: "Lord, may I ask one thing of Uriel directly?"

Jesus: "Yes, go ahead."

As we walked down the hall in Jesus' House, we were just coming to His Courtyard when I addressed Uriel.

Me: "Are you afraid of what is coming? Are you still bitter about your friends, the fallen, turning away from God? What will it be like for you to have to fight them in the future?"

Jesus: Laughing as He knew in advance what I would ask. "Erin, this is actually three separate questions. Uriel, please go ahead and answer her."

Uriel: "Well, Erin, I was there at the time of the fall. One of the angels whom you know had a measure of vanity. He began to have the other angels answer to him and he even had angels that were not assigned to him answer to him as well. Many of those he took with him were those who I had trained and cared for."

He looked over at Jesus and He waved for Uriel to continue.

Uriel: Speaking with authority. "He slowly began to have the angels worship him instead of worshiping God. He then divided and persuaded them that he would soon be taking over God's position on the Throne. God then removed him along with a third of the angels that were following him and they went down to govern Earth.

"When this happened, there was wailing as all of Heaven mourned and so did the fallen. When the fallen finally realized that they could not be redeemed and all hope of coming back was exhausted, the fallen decided to do the unthinkable and started teaching things of Heaven to man. In turn, this knowledge made mankind start to destroy itself.

"Erin, I follow orders and I am not afraid of the coming wars because I already know the outcome. Those whom I fight against are no longer from Heaven and they no longer praise God, but instead curse Him. They must be stopped to keep Heaven as 'Heaven'.

"I am not capable of having any fear other than fearing God only. However, since I serve God, I therefore have no fear. I have angels under my command and there are more angels under these angels' command. All of these angels love God and we all serve Him with our whole hearts. So yes, Erin, I will cut down God's enemies at His command."

Jesus: "Erin, did he answer your questions?"

Me: "Oh yes. Thank you, Uriel. It was very nice to meet you." I bent over and whispered in Jesus' ear. "Lord, can I say, 'hope to see you soon'?"

Jesus: Laughing hard. "Uriel, Erin hopes to see you soon." Now all the angels were laughing.

Me: "Lord, did I accidentally say something funny?"

Uriel: "We hope to see you soon too, Miss Erin. You make us laugh, but only in a good way."

Jesus: Still laughing. "Now, Erin, are you ready to dine with the King?"

He pointed for me to sit next to Him at His table. An angel pulled the chair out for me as I sat first and then Jesus. I noticed that the stone gazebo was covered in grape vines and wisteria or something like wisteria and was really beautiful.

I also noticed that my favorite jeweled grapes were on the vines and they were shining like diamonds and creating lights. As always, the table was set beautifully and there was a linen table cloth made of a miracle fabric that could not stain as it rejected any stains. I could hear the little birds chirping and singing above us on the lower balcony.

Me: "Lord, is that flower wisteria?"

He reached up and took a grouping of them to show me. I started to giggle as I could now see that they were actually clusters of miniature lilies and on a vine no less.

Jesus: "What do you think?"

Me: "Wow, Lord, these are amazing."

Jesus: "When you come here to reside permanently, I will give you a couple of clusters to take Home and plant. Here in Heaven, you can then have a field of lilies just from planting one cluster."

Me: "Wow, can I do the same with a cluster of grapes?"

Jesus: "Sure, if you would like."

Me: "Lord, do these grapes light up at night time in Heaven?"

Jesus: "Oh there are plenty of lights from many different sources, but I had not thought about having grapes light up at night. Hmm, well, with the sun, they definitely sparkle. I think this is what you are referring to, right?"

He pointed to the grapes as they sparkled like rainbows and the rainbows were everywhere.

Me: "Yes, Lord, these grapes are so beautiful." As I was speaking He was looking at the grapes.

Jesus: Smiling. "Erin, if glowing grapes are your request, then I will see if we can somehow grant this to you. Certainly if God can speak light into being, then He can certainly provide glowing grapes for you. Is glowing grapes all you require to get you out of your depression?"

Me: "No, Lord, this is not the key."

Jesus: "Remember, Erin, I was sent to remove sin as a living sacrifice."

Me: "Lord, so were You a type of scapegoat?"

Jesus: "'Scapegoat' is an interesting term for you to use. I came as the Lamb of God and I was His, but let's go to Leviticus 16 to see this. So, there were two goats, wherein one goat was a sacrifice and the other goat was sent into the desert or wilderness. This goat is called 'Azazel'."

Me: "Lord, forgive me, but the name 'Azazel' is the name of one of the fallen, correct?"

Jesus: "Interesting observation, Erin. In Leviticus 16:22, the scapegoat bears the iniquities for a land which is cut off. All of the sins were taken upon the goat and it was then sent out into the wilderness."

Me: "So, Azazel was sent by God under the Earth for seventy generations and to be removed around now right? Did he not sin so badly against God that He was sent below?"

Jesus: "Erin, let's go back to your question on 'scapegoat'. There was a time when the Jews would tie a red cloth to the goat's horn. When the goat came back, this red cloth would be removed as a sign and would turn white. This occurred when God accepted the sacrifice. In tradition, there was a period of forty years from AD30-AD70. When the Temple was destroyed, so were the sacrifices."

Me: "Lord, so You atoned for sin during that time of forty years?"

Jesus: "No, Erin, for much longer than forty years as this was but a symbol. I guess in this case I would be an 'Azazel' or a scapegoat for bearing sins."

Me: "Yes and You went to the desert for forty days as well."

Jesus: "Now let's get back to you right now. I asked you to write everything down and record dates and times. Did you do this?"

Me: "Well, kind of..."

Jesus: Smiling. "I know, Erin. Okay, then first tell Me about your storm dream this week. Oh yes, I believe this was on Wednesday."

Me: "Yes Lord, I went to bed on Tuesday and the dream occurred early Wednesday morning on April 9th, 2014."

Jesus: "So tell Me about this dream."

Me: "In this dream, my children were at school and I did not recognize the city I was in, but only knew that it was north of where I usually lived and had more brick buildings. I owned an interior design business and shop.

"It was April, there were light rain clouds above me, trees were beginning to blossom and it was all so pretty. Soon, one of my customers entered into my shop.

"Woman: 'Did you hear about what is coming?'

"Me: 'No. What is coming?'

"The woman turned on a television and there was a news reporter speaking.

"Reporter: 'There is a mandatory evacuation of all schools and businesses. You are to stay in your homes and gather emergency supplies. There is an epic snowstorm approaching that is so severe that no one will survive outside of their homes.'

"I was panicked because my kids were not dressed for a snow storm. I turned to the woman.

"Me: 'It seems like I just put away all of my snow removal equipment and heavy coats.'

"I quickly went home and phoned the schools, wherein they told me that there would be a two hour delay getting my kids home to me. While I waited for them, I started scrambling to get all of my winter supplies back out. I then realized I still had some time after doing this and decided to go to the market to get more supplies."

Jesus: "Why did you not you come to Me with this?"

Me: "Lord, it was a snow storm in the spring and it seemed mild."

Jesus: "Hmm, Erin, 'mandatory evacuation' is not mild. Now, you removed something, a date, from your last dream. Please explain why you removed this date?"

Me: "Lord, I thought I had heard wrong as You do not give me dates and this one seemed to contradict a date that Enoch had given me. I sent the dream off to the Moderators for typing and then I emailed all of them shortly thereafter to ask them to remove the date for now. I told them that I had wanted to go to You about this first, but it started making me question everything."

Jesus: "Yes, I know, but Enoch was correct. Now, explain what you removed as you have not done removed anything from a dream before."

Me: "Yes, Lord, I know."

Jesus: "Do you trust Me, Erin?"

Me: "Yes, Lord, but I also know that You never contradict Yourself either."

Jesus: "Please tell Me why you would run?"

Me: "Because then I would need to doubt my ability to hear the Holy Spirit."

Jesus: Smiling. "Okay then, so please give Me the date that you had removed."

Me: "I had them remove the date 'April 15th' along with the word 'Friday'."

Jesus: "Now why would I give you a date which contradicts another unless it was notable? Erin, is there something significant here?"

Me: "Lord, I do not know. Please help me."

Jesus: "Erin, what does snow represent? Snow represents the removal of sin. Isaiah wrote, 'Though our sins are like scarlet, they shall be white as snow.'"

Me: "Forgive me, Lord, other than the 'scarlet' red moons coming on April 15th, what is coming? Is a snow storm coming?"

Dream over...

This is the end of this part of the dream and is to be continued. This is a bit unusual for a dream to end and later be continued, but it has happened before. So we have to wait a bit, but hopefully for not that long.

Communion

Before I went to bed last night, I asked the Lord to fill me up as I was empty. I awoke several times during my sleep and thought about several things. Each time I focused on these thoughts, I would cry in despair and emptiness. It was a restless sleep.

Then at around 9am, I heard the Lord tell me to get up. I rolled out of bed, but noticed that I was so sore from sleeping in that it seemed as if every muscle and joint aches today.

I took my communion elements, gave my dogs some bones to keep them busy and proceeded to pray. Jesus called me up even before I started in on my written prayer.

Jesus: “Erin, come up.”

Immediately I was back in the cave.

Me: “Oh no, Lord, not here again.”

Well, at least my shoes were on this time. I stood up and felt my way toward the light. When I noticed some familiar rocks from last time, I became more confident with my steps. Since I had been here before, I had more confidence instead of panicking. I saw the tunnel of light grow until it finally became the opening to the cave entrance.

Me: “Maybe the Lord will have me come out the cave and into a new place in the Garden this time?”

I said this out loud hoping that the Holy Spirit would respond, but there was nothing. I ran as quickly as I could toward the opening and was quickly disappointed when I realized it was the same desert scene as last time. I was discouraged.

Me: “Oh Lord, what now? Seriously?”

Lord, after my ridiculously busy week, please grant me Paradise or at least a glimmer. I said this out loud, but still no response. As I went back into the cool of my cave, I noticed that it was now very early morning and right before dawn. I sat down and pouted for what seemed like an eternity.

When I am impatient, this translates to about twenty five minutes. I began to give off a series of sighs and they were the impatient kind. Then I heard a flutter of wings and I peeked out and saw two crows on the cave ledge. The crows seemed to have landed there just to stare at me as if to mock me.

Me: "Oh Lord, You are funny as You know how much I hate crows. I do not care that crows are intelligent or Your creation, I still cannot stand them. Forgive me, Lord, but crows remind me of camcorders with wings and feathers and I am convinced that they are sent from the enemy. Oh yes, and the sound crows make irritate me as well."

The second I finished saying this, the crows began to squawk at me and this time I just knew that they were mocking me.

Me: "Lord, come to think of it, I have never seen a dead crow on the road or even a cute cuddly baby chick crow. Really, I am not even sure if baby crows even exist as I am convinced they would even eat their young. I am sorry, Lord, but sometimes I wonder why You even created crow?"

Then I turned to the crows and started talking 'at them'.

Me: "By the way, as far as I have seen, you do not even exist in Heaven."

Just then, the crows flew off and left behind one last noisy squawk.

Me: "Lord, they are probably going to their friends and family to mock me more. Do they not go to a squawking tree? Sorry, Lord, I am tired, sore and crabby and now I am hungry too."

I let out a sigh as I still have no response. I went back inside the cave in order to sit down and think about the heaviness of the season I have been in and about my recent depression.

Earlier this week I had searched for some of the homes I was raised in on Google Earth. When I found these homes, all of the dark memories that were there came back. The homes were still intact and I could not believe that one of the homes I had lived in was barely the size of my bedroom and living room combined.

An in terms of the neighborhood, well let's just say I would be worried all the time for my children. Even the other house I lived in that was twice the size of the first house was still only around a thousand square feet. This is fine, but not for our family of five. No wonder I spent most of my time outside or at friends. I am so glad my Mom moved us out of these.

I sat there for a while as even more memories came back to me and I cried off and on. As I searched one of the houses, I noticed that an apple tree that I had used to climb on had been removed in order to make way for a parking lot for an apartment building. I had searched for this particular apple tree, but I could not find it. Of all the houses, this house had the best memories as I was only four or five years old at the time.

Me: "Lord, please forgive me for dishonoring my parents, but it makes me both mad and sad when I look back. While I cannot forget all of this, I still can forgive, but I am troubled by what happened at both of these homes.

"Lord, I know there were circumstances based on ages wherein we make certain choices and sometimes we do not care about the outcome because we are so focused on ourselves that we forget that other people are involved and even children, but, Lord, I felt so neglected and unimportant.

"Please forgive me, Lord, as my parents simply did not know You so please bless them despite all of this."

I sat crying when I heard some movement on the ledge. I looked out and the two crows had brought me some berries and I began to laugh.

Me: "Oh Lord, You are priceless and infinite in wisdom."

I went out and thanked God and yes even the crows which I had earlier cursed and sat down to eat berries. I began to laugh when I realized they were huckleberries and tasted so wonderful. I stood to my feet and searched around me and saw a distant forest mountain where the crows must have picked the berries from.

Me: "Well, Lord, now I feel like Noah on the boat waiting for a sign of land or even Jonah in the belly of the whale."

I began to look for a way out of this predicament. I went to the side of the ledge where I saw Jesus before and noticed a narrow ledge on the rocky cliff. I began to scale the side of the wall, but then looked down and realized I was about eighty feet from the ground below.

Once I scaled the wall, I saw a type of path that was about fifteen feet away from me. I tried to climb to this path, but the few times that I went to grasp the ledge like a handle, the rock would instantly give way.

When I had scaled about seven of the fifteen feet, I went for another rock lip for support, but the rock again slipped out from my grip and dropped the eighty feet down to the ground. For a moment I had also lost my footing and when I looked down I became intensely aware of the drop. Right as I began to panic, I could then hear and see buzzards circling above me.

Me: "Seriously, God, You sent buzzards?"

Now I was stuck on this wall with one foot on a semi-solid ledge as my other foot searched for footing. I stopped looking down because I became terrified about how high up I was. I then noticed that there was a jagged outcropping of red rock below and I knew that if I fell I would become so wedged that even the crows could not give me berries. The only bonus was that the buzzards would not be able to pick at my dying carcass either.

I became frustrated as I could not seem to find a place to get my footing. The ledge that my left foot was on was only about six inches wide and six inches deep. My left hand was in a groove in the wall and my right hand was grasping onto another sand stone ledge. Yes, indeed, I was definitely stuck as I had no solid place to put my right foot.

I decided that I had better go back if I can. I turned to look back to see how far I had come and if there was a pattern I could follow to get back there.

Me: "Oh Lord, I should have just stayed in the dumb cave. Holy Spirit, help me here."

Just then, the Holy Spirit downloaded a Scripture: 'The Sovereign Lord is my strength; He makes my feet like that of a deer, He enables me to go on the heights.'

Okay, this may be true, but I have sneakers on this time and I am still having a hard time with this. Hmm, what other Scriptures involve deer?

Me: "Lord, obviously You are instructing me on faith today. Okay, then I have complete faith that You will make a way where there seems to be no way. Please, Lord, my hands are losing their grip and I have nowhere to go. I cannot go down, back or forward, so where else is there?"

I began to panic again and it felt like my heart was pounding out of my chest. I had climbed a fake rock wall before with a safety line and harness, but I was prepared plus there was also a soft mat in that situation so I was never in danger.

Now, however, I was scared as there was nothing more I could do but to rely fully on the Lord. While I have seen Him answer prayers consistently for others, it is usually only '50/50' with. I clearly must lack as right now my 'self' has gotten me into a mess which only prayer can take me out of.

Me: "Lord, please help me. Show me the way, Lord."

I was crying now and I did not think that this was funny anymore. My arms were falling asleep and to make matters worse the sun was rising in the sky and there was sweltering heat of about 100 degrees Fahrenheit. The buzzards were continuing to circle and I decided to come up with my own 'scripture' or 'proverb'.

Me: "Surely when a fool wanders ill prepared, the buzzards will circle and find strength."

I sat there for another block of 'sparrow eternity time', which equates to about twenty five minutes Earth time.

Me: "Okay Lord, You clearly downloaded Scripture from Habakkuk or even Psalm 18 about deer, but now what about this? Hmm, I better take the time to really think about my situation here. Clearly You have allowed me to be out here as a faith lesson and clearly I am failing, so what have I missed?"

"Hmm, let's see. I prayed for help and I know You will not leave me here as I can wake up or even stop writing at any given time, but I also know that I need to finish this dream. So help me then breakdown the Scripture.

"Well, let's see. You enabled me to go on the heights by making my feet like a deer's hooves, right? I then came across the ledge straight across and I looked forward, down and back." Then it hit me. "Oh, wait, I have not looked up yet."

I looked up and there, just a few feet above me and above my head, was Jesus with His hand reaching out for me. He was standing on a very large ledge with a bright face and a beautiful smile.

Jesus: "Erin, My hand is falling asleep waiting for you to grab it. I do not have all day here."

He began to laugh as I shook my head in disbelief. I reached up for His hand and with no effort He brought me up to a secure landing and a high place. Instantly my feet began to have feeling in them again as I reached out and gave Him the biggest hug.

Me: "Thank You, Lord! Were You there the entire time? Why did You not say something?"

Jesus: "That would have been too easy for you, Erin, but we will speak more about this. For now, just take My hand."

I was so relieved to hold His hand that tears began to stream down my cheeks. I was so glad that He did not leave me there to perish that I barely noticed it when He gently squeezed my hand.

Instantly we were on the forestry path. While this path is very beautiful, it was still not in Heaven and was from the beginnings of my dreams.

Me: "Lord, why are we back here on this path again?"

Jesus: "Erin, I have something to show you. Clearly you have several things on your mind that you have never released. These are yokes of affliction and great suffering for you. Do you remember when God Himself told you not to look back to see how far you have come?"

Me: "Yes, Lord."

I suddenly became very quiet as I knew I was guilty of looking back recently.

Jesus: "Erin, I am going to take you to a horrifying place now."

There at the edge of the path was a suspended wooden outhouse door with a moon and star. He reached for the handle and the door opened 'out' towards us. I noticed that it was dark on the other side of this door.

Jesus: "Do not worry, Erin, I have a hold of you."

We appeared to be walking in a dark tunnel, but the Lord shined so brightly it was if His entire body was like a lamp.

Me: I giggled nervously. "Lord, I could have used You to light up the cave."

Jesus: Chuckling. "Perhaps next time you will not have to be in a cave at all. So, why were you there, Erin?"

Me: "I do not know."

Jesus: "I will use your term here: 'Seriously, is this your answer?'"

Me: "Lord, I have faith and believe for others, but I lack faith for myself. I guess I still do not believe You could use someone like me as my past reminds me that I came from nothing and that I have no worth."

Jesus: "Hmm, so you would rather stay in dark caves dwelling on your past and wallowing in this? Erin, this is not good, not good at all."

I should note that the Lord was so loving as He did this. He was not shaming me, but rather giving me a gentle rebuke as it was plain to see that He clearly loved me unconditionally.

As we neared the opening of this dark tunnel, there before us was a scene straight from Ezekiel 37. I saw a massive valley of red dust and jagged rocks forming a bowl. In the middle of the valley were millions and millions of white bones.

The sky was blue and 'there was not a cloud in the sky'. The band of red from the rocks seemed to form a stripe right above this massive bone yard of pure white bones. I was crying at the sight.

Me: "Lord, this reminds me of the Holocaust and it makes me ill."

Jesus: "Erin, this is not a modern historic grave, but rather a symbol of those who are dead and even decaying."

Me: "Lord, I was like these old bones until You blew Your Spirit into them and You blew life into my bones."

Jesus: "Really, Erin, then why have you succumbed to despair, depression and darkness this week? You not only looked down at your feet, but you also looked back at the ledge and how far you had come.

"You made a common mistake and fell for the blacksmith's tool here. You then lost heart and, with you, your heart actually began to skip beats. You realized your place, you panicked, your faith dwindled and then finally your strength. You were too focused on failure and reliving mistakes to look up and see Me holding out My hand for you.

"Erin, it is great that you encourage your friends and your children, but it would be even more convincing if you actually let My Words breathe life into you as well. Do you believe that I love you?"

Me: "Yes, Lord."

Jesus: "Do you believe that I am the God Who saves and your Savior?"

Me: "Yes, of course, Lord."

Jesus: "Do you believe then that I give good gifts to those whom I love, My friends?"

Me: "Yes, Lord."

Jesus: "Then, Erin, when I am handing you gifts, you must receive them for yourself too. The cliff cannot save you, the crows mock you, the buzzards anticipate your death and long to pick the meat off your decaying body and even the sun can strip you of the wellspring of life when you are exposed to its heat, so why put yourself out there exposed to the elements without My help? Who would even want to do this?"

He was being very direct with me, yet still very loving at the same time.

Me: "Lord, I do this all the time. How can I receive that which is good when I have been told my entire life that I do not deserve it? Lord, You know me better than anyone and You were there from the beginning, so please, Lord, help me heal so that I can continue."

Jesus: "Do you believe that I can heal you?"

Me: "Of course."

Jesus: "If you believe I can heal, then can you receive healing if I were to heal you?"

Me: I paused for a moment. "Yes, Lord."

Jesus: "Hmm, you hesitated. Do you believe by faith that I can heal you, Erin?"

Me: "Forgive me, Lord, but I have not been able to receive this because I do not feel worthy."

Jesus: "So are you content in your cave and are you content lying here in a heap of bones on the valley floor? Okay, well, if these bones could talk, they might say, 'do it, Erin.'"

Me: "Lord, please forgive me as I lack faith, cling to fear and am afraid. What if I cannot let You do everything You would like with me? What if I am a barrier to Your Will?"

Jesus: "Erin, you build your own barriers and erect your own stone walls, but you cannot stop God's Will as no man can stop God. Will you allow Me to tear down this barrier that keeps you from realizing all that you have been called to do? You have laid your children at the foot of the Cross, but now, Erin, do you trust Me with You? Can you let go and let God work? Will you receive gifts when I give them?"

Me: "Yes, Lord, I am ready to receive. Please, Lord, breathe life into me. Take me across the waters to You, but please take hold of my hand and keep my eyes looking forward and up. Let me no longer look down or behind me as when I look back it comes with severe pain and memories and I see the birth of failure. When I look down, I feel fear, I realize my footing is unstable and I fall or like Peter I sink."

Jesus: "Then, Erin, focus forward and look up for your Redeemer is here."

I reached over, hugged Him and He held me for some time before kissing me on the top of my head.

Jesus: "Erin, your faith has healed you."

Me: "Thank You, Lord, I will receive Your gifts with my whole heart not knowing where You will lead me, but I will have faith that You will keep me from harm as You are the giver of good gifts."

Jesus: "Excellent, Erin, now let's gather the four angels over the valley walls."

Just then, I saw all four angels standing on each of the points of a compass; north, south, east and west. I noticed that each of the angels had a Shofar. When the angel from the north started to blow his horn, the ground began to shake and the bones began to rattle.

Then the angel to the east began to blow his horn while the angel to the north continued to blow his. The bones then began to come together to form skeletons. Then the angel to the south began to blow his horn and I began to first see flesh form on the bones, then skin and then clothing.

Then the angel from the west blew his horn and a mighty wind came. I saw the Heavens part and a wind blew from the Throne of God into these people and they suddenly became alive. There were at least a million people and I saw Jews and even some Muslims there.

Me: "Oh Lord, this is incredible."

I turned back to look at Jesus, but He was no longer there. When I looked again at the people, I saw Him walking with them as they all bowed to Him. Jesus addressed them.

Jesus: "Please rise up and celebrate!"

They cheered and tried to hug Him as they were dead and now they were alive. The people were hugging each other and were so happy to see Jesus their Messiah. As I stood over this valley, I saw more than a million Jews declaring Christ as their Savior. This was amazing in itself, but then I saw many Muslims coming to confess Jesus as their Lord. To top it off and just as amazing, I saw these Muslims embracing the Jews.

I sat observing this for quite some time and as I did the landscape began to change. I saw water springs coming from the sides of the valley and rivers. I saw people bathing in the rivers and they were all continuously praising God for Jesus. I then heard a choir of angels singing, "Holy, Holy, Holy, Lord God Almighty!"

The sight was incredible and I just had to praise God too. I realized that He had shown me what is to come someday when He takes back His Throne in Jerusalem, but I was unclear about the exact details. As I stood there and worshiped the Lord, I felt His hand squeeze mine and I was instantly moved to the deck of the bridal chamber in Heaven by the Throne.

I looked down and I saw that I was wearing the most amazing gown of white and my hair was very long and braided. I was so excited by this and I ran over to the edge of the balcony to find Jesus. Instead, my guardian angel was there and I was still excited as I had not seen him for quite some time.

Me: "Where is the Lord?"

Guardian angel: "Erin, He is with you so do not worry. I have a gift for you and you can take it with you. However, when you open it, receive it and do not give it away as it is for you this time. It is okay, Erin, every good gift and every perfect gift is from above and comes down from the Father of lights (James 1:17)."

Me: "Thanks be to God for His indescribable Gift of Jesus! I look at my place on the balcony near the Throne and I am overwhelmed."

Guardian angel: "Now take this with you and receive it. Erin, do not forget Psalm 46:5, Psalm 45, Habakkuk, Psalm 18, Ezekiel 37, Haggai, and even the Song of Songs. You are His and He Loves You, so now receive His gifts and do not look back or down. You are loved by the King and this is the beginning."

Dream 118 – The Alpine Meadow & the Tevah

Received Sunday, April 20, 2014

Communion

Lord, today I praise You for Your divine goodness. Thank You for sending Jesus to save us, for rising up and wiping the despair off the faces of Your followers and for the perfect gift of Jesus given to us by God. I accept You as the greatest gift that I have ever been given.

You are our Groom and we are Your Bride. Thank You for this divine courtship of life as my heart is now forever changed. Lord, You saved me from the jaws of death and made my feet so I could scale a wall. When I needed Your help, You were right above me and ready to take hold of my right hand.

Thank You, Lord, for You are good and Your mercy endures forever and ever. God, please be with me and find favor. Though my feet often walk in shifting sands, You place me on solid rock and so there I will stand. When my head drops and I continue to look down, You lift my chin and gaze into my eyes.

I see myself reflected in Your eyes and I see a mystery beyond this place. Your eyes reflect a love for me which I have never known before. Indeed, your love is so deep that everyone would desire it if they just knew of it. Your love has been there since the beginning of time and I wish I had only known earlier.

If I had only known earlier, I probably would still not have believed it. Now that I am older and most of my youth is gone, I now desire to run with You. Now I want to run the race and scale the walls. I once sprung out of bed daily with nary a pain in my bones, but now when I want to run to You I must move slowly.

Oh Lord, if I had only known You like this just twenty years ago, where would I be now? Now I am old and full of years and to imagine that You would desire me as a bride no less is difficult to comprehend. Here I am, like Sarah in her older years, but in Heaven I have youth like Esther.

Lord, please breathe life into my old dry bones. I can hear the Shofar sounds and imagine what I saw in the valley as You assembled Your vast army of those who found You. Well, in actuality, those You chose and sought from the beginning.

Oh, what a joyous and glorious day when You come for Your people. Thank You, Jesus, for all that You have done and for Your divine love.

Jesus: "Erin, come up."

Today I pulled into an area of Heaven I have not seen. It was very high up, almost like an alpine mountain. There were beautiful lakes everywhere and the color of the water was that off of a tropical shore. The water was sea green, yet crystal clear.

The sky was completely blue and was a deep blue like cerulean blue. The alpine mountains had snowy peaks. I noticed that I was in some type of vehicle, although I am not sure how to describe a train with no tracks. This 'train' only had one car and I was in it and we were weaving in and out of the area as I looked down at the Homes.

I saw animals and beautiful conifer trees, as well as cedars and redwoods that reached almost higher than some of the mountain peaks. One of the redwoods had a circumference that matched the circumference of my property at its base.

As we flew around one of the mountain peaks, I saw a meadow that I had recognized as one that I had seen a few times before in my dreams. As I pulled into a platform area, I looked across this meadow and it was a sea of colors. Every mountain flower was represented there and I saw bees buzzing and so many different species of butterfly. The best way I can describe is this is to say that it was like looking at flowers fluttering in the sky.

The vehicle that I was in stopped at the platform and the door opened. The platform was made of some extremely large slabs of blue stone or granite. It was chiseled from a single piece, which would be impossible from earthly standards to machine. The stairs and the entire piece of slab were seamless.

There was a beautiful stone pergola over the platform, but it was masculine in form and not made of wood but all stone. There was a purple carpet made of wool and silk about three inches thick and shimmered with a silver thread that seemed to run through it.

Off in the distance, I saw an incredible waterfall coming out from in between two of the mountain peaks. The water was light green and it literally burst forth. It was jetting into a very large pool or really a small lake and this all was easily a few miles from this platform I was at.

The doors opened and I jumped right onto the platform. It was about 73 degrees Fahrenheit. This surprised me a bit as I was still expecting to experience cool air like a very high elevation on Earth would have.

I stood at the platform looking at this sea of color and tears streamed down my cheeks as I have never seen such a beautiful sight. Each time here, I think it is not possible to see better, but then I do. Now of course nothing is quite like God's Garden as this is the most special of places.

I was wearing a beautiful white gown, but it was shorter and I had some linen pants like pantaloons on underneath. My hair was long, curly and with braids. I felt around 25 years of age as I ran out into the meadow and danced around the flowers for some time.

The flowers were so fragrant, especially for wild flowers and there was no weedy smell. The sun was crystal clear and you can look right at it here in Heaven and not have it blind you like on Earth.

As I was dancing, I heard the sound of humming as the wind was causing the flowers to sing. I laughed as I heard the 'Bittersweet Symphony' again, but in Heaven the song is glorified so I will call it 'Divine Symphony' instead.

After a while, I wondered where Jesus was. I looked around, but I could not find Him. I decided to run like I did when I was younger, so I stopped dancing. I stood, looked around and I set my sights on running to the waterfall. I said out loud, "On your marks, get set, go!"

I ran a full on sprint and as fast as I could run with no holding back. As I ran, my target was still further. I ran, but I could not get closer to what I was running to.

Me: "Oh Lord, what is going on here? I should have made it by now to that waterfall."

I was laughing as I was amazed at how strong my lungs were. The air was life giving and it expanded my lungs with healing capacity. I was not out of breath or lightheaded from my sprint, but felt energized instead. I love this Heavenly body as this is a harsh contrast to my Earthly body that I try to roll out of bed every morning.

My skin was alive and the color was healthy and filled with Heavenly oxygen. I loved the sound the flowers made with the wind. Indeed, the song and fragrance from these flowers were simply amazing. I looked around for the Lord again, but I did not see Him so I decided to lie down and rest.

The grass was fluffy and seemed to respond to my body by giving me extra support exactly in the right places. I imagined this would be like one of those Posturepedic mattresses. I laughed with joy as God is just so incredible.

As I lay down and looked up at the sky, I began to hum praises along with the flowers. A small honey bee landed on my chest and I began to brush it off because I did not want to be stung. Then I laughed because I realized that this bee had no stinger and no need for one. I laughed and looked at it closely in my hand.

Me: "I see that your only job here is to make honey. You have no fear and no stinger. This is just so clever and clearly divine."

The tiny honey bee seemed to be made of spun gold and even looked like it had a yellow diamond embedded into it. While I am sure it's worth is great here in Heaven, if I had just seven of these little bees I could easily buy a home on Earth as the diamond on the bee was several carats. I was laughing at how common things in Heaven are so rare on Earth.

I think I had fallen asleep as the next thing I saw was the Lord sitting across from me as I slept. As I opened my eyes, I could see His amazing smile.

Jesus: “Erin, did you enjoy your rest?” He reached His hand down to me to help me up. “What do you think of this place?”

Me: “Oh Lord, this is breathtakingly beautiful and I love it. I feel so young again here and I am ready to come Home now. May I come Home now?”

Jesus: “Erin, look at your feet and tell Me what you see?”

Me: “Well, my feet are beautiful and perfect here and they run wonderfully fast.”

Jesus: “When you ran fast today, did they take you anywhere?”

Me: “No, Lord, I was unable to run to the waterfall.”

Jesus: Smiling. “Erin, beautiful are the feet of those who bring Good News. Your feet will one day run here, but for now use them for My purposes and run like the wind.”

He was smiling and picked a stem of flowers as we walked.

Me: “Lord, what more can I do?”

Jesus: “It is not for you to ‘do’ anything. Just wait on Me and I will instruct you in the way you should go. As you have learned from your dreams, knowledge will increase as your time grows shorter. Now give Me your hands and I will take your feet. Come.”

He gently squeezed my hand and we were immediately at the pool at the bottom of the waterfall that had been unable to run to on my own. He walked into the pool and stood in about three feet of water.

Jesus: “Erin, sit down.”

I sat on the bank of this small mountain lake. My feet were bare and had Heavenly remnants of shimmering dirt. Yes, I know that my feet really were not dirty as clearly this was meant to be symbolic.

He took my left foot, put it in the pool and washed it with a linen cloth. I began to cry as I remembered another time like this awhile back. I was crying at the magnitude of this moment.

Jesus: “Remember, Erin, do as I am doing as I am giving you an example to follow. Do as I have done to you. However, remember that slaves are not greater than their masters nor are the messengers more important than the One who sends the messages. Now that you know these things, God will bless you for them. Erin, beautiful are the feet who bring Good News. Are you ready to run?”

Me: “Lord, what are You saying? Are You preparing us for something? I believe that I can see it in Your eyes that You are. Lord, I have nothing to lose on Earth and I have no fear of death, but only of living my life like a dead person. I have come this far and, should I perish for Your sake, then I will reside here with You and I will have gained everything and will have only lost myself. I love You.”

Jesus: Smiling. “Then, Erin, be of good cheer and do not fear as you are mine. I have redeemed you so exalt God and minimize yourself. Stay on your course as one day you will be here permanently. However, for now deliver good news and love your neighbor as yourself.”

Me: “Lord, I love You with all of my heart and soul.”

Jesus: “Remember, Erin, the enemy does not bring a message of hope to the lost and you will be mocked by those closest to you. Please take courage and know that I am here to take hold of your hand. Look forward and do not forget to look up. You are loved and I am with you.”

He finished drying my right foot.

Dream 119 –Avenged Sevenfold

Tuesday, April 23, 2014

08-10-2016, 12:30 PM

Dream begins...

I was traveling to a southern city below a river, similar to Portland, Oregon. I lived north of the river. The river seemed to me more of a divide. I was attending an event in the northern part of the city, similar to being near Vancouver, Washington State.

It was an important event and my family was with me. I was doing some shopping when I ran into a couple of former fellow attendees from a very large church I used to go to in Portland. I recognized them, but they barely seemed to recognize me.

I found this interesting, because, when I belonged to this church, many of the members were not very kind to me during some of my very difficult times. I was accused of things I didn't do. I later discovered that several of my closest friends had betrayed me. I really had no desire to run into any of these people.

While the people from my former church started helping me with some of my grocery bags, I was not surprised that they were doing so reluctantly, if not begrudgingly. One of the couples helping me told me that we should go to an event at their church, wherein a band named 'Avenged Seven-Fold' was performing.

I told them I would consider it, but we were looking forward to another event up north. I told my children about this group. I thought it was really strange that a secular rock group was performing at our old Pentecostal Church in Portland. I was planning to go to the other event and my kids and I were joking around about this group 'Avenge Seven-Fold' performing at this quite conservative church.

I began to sing in front of my kids. While I thought the song I was singing was 'Avenge Seven Fold', instead it was actually the lyrics to a song by Skillet, a Christian rock group. The song I was singing was called, "Awake and Alive". My teenagers were laughing because I mistook what lyrics I was singing. They were embarrassed.

As we left the hotel to go to our scheduled event, a doorman told me that we needed to drive this van to our old church so that these guests could see the show. Under a very weak protest, I ended up driving all of us to the southern event, the 'Avenged Seven-Fold' event. However, since this event was during the first service at this church and our other event was after lunch, we could see both events.

We arrived at our old church. There were two events taking place; one was a debate and the other the concert. I was rushed backstage to help serve water to their guest speakers before the main concert 'Avenge Seven-Fold' began. The church was so stodgy that I really had no idea how this was going to work.

Some old friends and church members saw me, but they were not glad to see me at all. This made me feel horrible. When the service began, the guest speakers started giving testimonies on suicide. Todd Burpo Jr. was one of the guest speakers, as well as three other speakers I recognized, but didn't know.

They showed films of victims of suicide right before they had become depressed enough to take their own lives. It was shocking and extremely sad. I was in shock as many from this church believed that suicide was an automatic sentence to hell, yet here they were having public testimonies of suicide. This was quite puzzling to me.

As the service progressed, I carried out my assignment of giving glasses of water to the guest speakers. In other words, I was the water girl.

The guest speakers then began to speak on Heaven, but were not interested in what I had to say about Heaven at all. In fact, they were not even interested in what Todd Burpo Jr. had to say about Heaven either.

After this, I decided to leave and take my kids out of this church before 'Avenge Seven-Fold' even began their concert.

Dream over...

I found this dream quite interesting as it is extremely rare for me to listen to rock music. However, at some point, my son had told me about the rock group 'Avenged Seven-Fold'. My son informed me that, even though 'Avenged Seven-Fold' has a bit of a Biblically themed name for the group, it was actually anything but related to God.

I should also mention that today, April 23rd, 2013, also marks the 69th anniversary of the destruction of Hungarian Jewry. Hitler had begun to deport Jews by train from Hungary on April 29th, 1944. Some 800,000 Jews were sent to their deaths in the Auschwitz-Birkenau death camp. From April 22nd to April 27th, 2013, in Hungary, Jews and Christians, the descendants of the perpetrators and victims, will follow the same historic death marches to commemorate the same path from almost seventy years ago.

April 29th, 2013 may also be interesting as Palestine is trying to force Israel to extend the 'peace' proposal negotiations another nine months. Why nine months? I believe nine months has something to do with the overall length of a bound contract. In their religion, they are allowed to break a binding contract and consider it void after nine months. These are, indeed, interesting times we are living in!

Dream 120 – Faith & the Ocean

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You. I love You, Lord, and I pray every day that I will walk in Your ways. Lord, You have gifted me with a desire to follow You wherever You would take me. Lord, I pray I walk a blameless path. I pray You come into the hearts of my enemies so that they too would see what an amazing God I serve.

You are good and Your mercies are new every morning. Today is a new dawn with You and I can scale a mountain as with You nothing is impossible. Lord, keep me on the path which leads to You always. Keep me holy and apart while living in this world.

Lord, every day I deal with cold people as their hearts are hard and they think nothing of me. Much of the time I feel like collateral damage as I am a blip and of no significance to those who hate me. Please forgive me when I become angry or I become depressed when I have no choice but to be in their presence until one day You remove me.

I give my life for You, Jesus, now and forever. Here on Earth, I serve my earthly master, but in my heart I do this to please only You. Lord, I cannot make myself holy. I can walk in Your ways the best I can every day and it is You who decides whether I am holy and pleasing to You. I cannot act holy and fool God as this is impossible and there is nothing hidden.

Lord, let me not be fooled when someone calls themselves Christian or speaks Scripture as I have learned the hard way that someone claiming to be holy can lead many on to a different road and a very wide highway.

Today it seems many prefer this 'holy highway' with the illusion of it leading to Heaven, but, Lord, You in Your amazing goodness remind us that it is the bumpy, slow and less traveled road which leads to Heaven and very few travel this one.

Lord, I love You so please take my life and make it Yours. Take my family and make them Yours. I dedicate all I have to You. What I have is not perfect, but it is perfectly what You have given me. Lord, I give everything I am to You as You are my joy.

Jesus: "Erin, come up."

I was on a sandy beach and I could hear waves crashing. My clothes were torn and I realized that I must have been there for some time. My muscles ached even though I was in my 25 year old body again. My right cheek was pressed against the sand.

I was wearing a white t-shirt and some cut-off jean shorts. My hair felt dirty from salt water, curly and filled with sand. My skin was sunburned where I had obviously been exposed to the searing sun.

I sat up and looked around and saw that I was on some sort of island sand bar. It was about seventy five feet long and about twenty feet wide. I saw fragments of what looked like a broken up boat and realized that I must have been on it, but I had no recollection of what happened which brought me to be here.

There was no greenery and in fact it looked like low tide. I realized that, come high tide, there would be no sand bar left at all. The sandbar seemed high enough though as it was about seven feet above sea level. The waves were crashing loudly onto the shore.

Me: "Okay Lord, did I abandon my faith altogether? Why am I here?"

I walked over to the boat fragments to see what type of vessel I crashed here on. It looked like a small catamaran and I saw fragments of the sail. There was only one hull on the sandbar and it looked like it was from a sixteen foot Hobie.

Me: "Why would I be on such a thing and in the ocean no less?"

I began to look around to see if there was anything to salvage for me to use. I looked around to see if I could figure out where I was. I could see that this was a tropical area as the sand was white like sugar.

I looked around to see if I could see land, but there was nothing and I was trapped here. The water was clear and deep sea green in color so I knew I was not really in a shallow area and this was but an illusion.

I began to panic as I realized I was by myself on an island sandbar with no resources and this was certainly not Heaven. The sun was high in the sky and seemed around noon based on the shadow off of the broken catamaran and the heat. It was about ninety five degrees Fahrenheit and humid with a slight breeze. However, the humidity made it seem more like a hundred degrees out here.

After an eternity, which for me is about twenty five Earth minutes, I realized I needed water. My surveying and panicking had made me forget I was parched and thirsty. I began to pray.

Me: "Lord, if You are here, and I know You are, please reveal Yourself or at least give me something to drink. Water would be great."

I waited around for a while, but received and heard nothing. It was now around 3:00p.m. or so if I could assume that I was somewhere near the equator in earthly measure.

Me: "How did I get here? I would try my hands at sailing a catamaran on a lake with friends, but the ocean alone with no life vest even? What was I thinking? What could the Lord be showing me? Lord, please, I am thirsty."

I was talking out loud to myself as an audience of one. Once again I am getting discouraged and impatient. I began to search the remnant of this catamaran to see if something was hidden under the debris. I began to dig in the sand a bit and discovered a strap from a daypack.

I dug frantically to get the pack out. When I opened it and discovered a set of car keys with an automatic lock, I pressed it a few times wondering if I would hear a chirp. There was no chirp of course so I had to laugh.

Me: "Lord, You are funny."

I looked further and found a raincoat in a zipper bag, a small flint starter, a mirror and a small compass. I laughed again at this as this was something I carried in the back of my car for emergencies. Well, how is this going to help me if I am dying of thirst? I began to pray.

Me: "Lord, I do not know how I got myself into this mess, but I did. The items I have will not save me here and now I need water. Please help me."

As I lay there in the sand, I took the mirror and looked at myself with it. I loved what I looked like, but obviously my youthful confidence caused this mess and it certainly will not help me get out of this mess.

Me: "Holy Spirit, please grant me wisdom here as the tide is rising and I am going to lay in the sand looking up for my 'Rescuer'. Jesus, I am looking up, so where are You? A little help here please."

I began to panic again as I realized the high tide would soon completely overcome my sandy beach or island very soon. Just then I heard a thud and I looked behind me as a seagull flew over me.

Me: "Oh great, last time it was crows and now it is a giant rat with wings. Hold on, maybe the Lord wants me to cook and eat you."

The seagull looked at me , but then it flew off. I got up to see what the thud sound was. I looked on the other side of the hull and there was a plastic water bottle. I immediately gave thanks and drank the fresh water.

"Thank You, Lord, for Your provision. Next time please send a rescue boat as I am going to need it soon."

The tide was rising and the small island had now become even smaller. I began to prepare the catamaran parts as my only hope of floatation as I had no life vest. Darkness was coming and to make matters worse there was a storm on the horizon.

Me: "So Lord, there is a storm approaching, the waves are beginning to rise, darkness is coming and all I have to use for floatation are remnants of one hull of a catamaran. Did I do something last week that required this lesson? Can I say that I am not at home in the ocean and I would even prefer a lesson like this in the desert cave instead? Please, Lord, help me."

I waited but I heard no words back from Jesus. I put my small day pack around my neck and arm and used some cording to assemble parts not knowing if they were even seaworthy. I then waited for the tides to overcome the small piece of land which was now only about five feet by ten feet.

The hull of the catamaran was bashing up against the sand and soon it would float off if I did not jump on it. Right as I did, the small sandbar was finally completely overtaken by the tides.

However, the hull was slippery and I could barely cling to it. I was praying that the waves would not roll it over on me. I tied the cord around my wrist and waist so that if the waves pulled me off the hull I would not lose the only thing saving my life at that point. The sky was growing increasingly dark and the storm clouds were now collecting overhead.

Me: Crying. "Lord, I have cried out to You and I know that this is more faith training, but You are going too far and I will drown."

The waves and rain seemed to be increasing in intensity. I kept going under the water with each wave and the salt water was coming into my mouth and out of my nose. When I was a kid and my family surfed off the California Coast, I remembered this feeling all too well and it was awful.

While my parents rode the waves with their wetsuits way far out beyond the breakers, my brother and I did nothing but get pounded by the surf. To grownups, these were just small waves, but to small children like us they seemed like ten foot killer waves.

I ate more sand and salt water than I spent actually surfing waves, but needless to say I did not enjoy it much until my little wet suit was off and I was safely in our van. Some of the conditions were grueling and cold.

I suddenly realized as I recalled my surfing adventures that I could actually use some of that knowledge to climb this hill and paddle. It took several attempts at trying to hoist my wet body onto the slippery hull, but I finally did.

Just as I draped my body over the hull to rest, the storm came. The wind blew massive waves over me and at times the hull itself went underwater. The swells on the ocean were at least six feet' high and this was only at the start of the storm.

Me: "Lord, please deliver me now. Please do not forsake me. Please, Lord, I want to wake up from this nightmare. Please, Holy Spirit, help me. There is a Scripture and a promise that says, 'as soon as I call, You will answer my cries.' Please do so now, Lord, as I am afraid."

Jesus: "Erin, I am here. Look."

I peeled my face off of the hull to look out over the ocean. There through the storm I saw Jesus walking on the water.

Me: "Lord, is that really You?"

Jesus: "Erin, You know My voice. Now step out in faith and come to Me."

I quickly untied my hands and waist which attached me to the hull and stepped my left foot out on the water. There was like an invisible road which I could feel with my feet and I began to walk toward Him on the water. I became overly excited about all of this and began to become aware of myself and took my focus off of Him.

I then looked out to the storm and then down at my feet. Then like a bridge falling, I shot right down into the dark cold water. I became disoriented, but I eventually got back up to the surface. My head was barely above the surface and I could not see anything but swells.

Me: Yelling out. "Jesus, please forgive me."

Just then His hand grabbed my wrist and He pulled me out.

He gently squeezed my hand and instantly we were on a beautiful balcony of stone and crystal glass. Below us was an incredible sandy beach with seashells made of pearl. There were palm trees with fruit and tropical plants and the ocean was so crystal clear that I could see to the bottom. The sand was white like sugar and sparkled.

I saw His white horse running up and down the beach and another horse playing in the waves. These horses were the most beautiful I had ever seen and they were chasing each other. I heard the Lord smiling at the sight of His horse. He gave a funny whistle and clapped and the horses quickly stopped to look at Him.

Jesus: "No, go and keep playing." The horses began to chase each other again.

As I was sitting in a chair on the balcony of someone's beautiful beach villa, I noticed that this all was beyond even the 'magazines incredible'. This was truly the beach house of a King. However, I was still somewhat quiet because of what just occurred at the sandbar and I was still in a bit of shock.

Jesus: "Erin, you are quiet. Here, have some water as you are thirsty."

He handed me a glass and I quickly and happily drank it down.

Me: "Lord, what happened? What was all of that for? Why did You allow that instead of bringing me here? Am I lacking more?"

Jesus: Smiling. "First, Erin, you did exactly what I expected and You did not surprise Me."

Me: "Lord, should I not be even more advanced in my faith by now? I was just remembering the reference of Peter last week, so why would I do exactly what I had purposely tried not to do and fall in the water?"

Jesus: "Hmm, I heard a lot of 'I's in your last statement. What do you think landed you on that sandbar to begin with?"

Me: "Obviously I was an unskilled or arrogant captain of this catamaran and I put myself there."

Jesus: "Actually, Erin, God put you there. Why do you think He did this?"

Me: "I have no idea. Did any of my sins from last week cause this?"

Jesus: "Sin is not always the reason you can land in trouble. Erin, you live in a fallen world with the root of sin, but this does not mean this lesson is based on this."

Me: "Oh so this was a lesson. Lord, is my lack of faith a sin?"

Jesus: "Hmm, this is an interesting question you ask. Why do you lack?"

Me: "Lord, I came from lack and I lived most of my life with no hope. I have prayed many times, but You have not always granted my requests. Since You have not answered these in the past, why would it be wise to keep asking over and over?"

Jesus: "Okay, so now you stop asking?"

Me: "No, Lord, I stop believing You will answer."

Jesus: "So now I have never answered your prayers?"

Me: "Oh forgive me, Lord, You answer my basic needs and You are faithful, it is just some of the larger things..."

Jesus: "Hmm, so there is a limit to God's answered prayers? If you are perfect, I can answer big prayers, but since you are not perfect, I can only answer small prayers? So now am I a God who requires a performance and I must be entertained in order to reward prayer? Hmm, this does not sound right at all. Erin, where is the coming from?"

He was smiling at me, but I could tell that He was clearly looking for an honest answer from me. As He did this, He was still kind and loving, but stern.

Me: "Lord, I guess at the point in my life journey I should be without the sin of lack. I feel like I am sinning against You when I doubt and like I am testing You. I catch myself when I pray for signs. I have prayed for certain things, but I have not got my wishes."

Jesus waved at an angel and he brought Him a 'Genie Bottle'. He thanked the angel and they were both smiling.

Jesus: Laughing. "Okay, Erin, rub the bottle and pray."

He laughed some more as He handed the bottle over to me.

Me: "Lord, I know You are not my personal 'Jesus Genie', but You are my Savior. If I had only three wishes, it would be as follows: That I dwell in the House of the Lord forever near His Altar and that my children dwell there too."

Jesus: "Go ahead, Erin, you have one more wish."

Me: I paused and then smiled. "That You would delight in me always."

Jesus: "Now what happens?"

He picked up the bottle, looked inside, shook it and then held it up to the sun.

Jesus: Laughing. "Hmm, interesting. Erin, do not put your faith in worthless idols. I learned something today."

Me: Laughing. "Oh, Lord, You are so funny."

Jesus: "Erin, I granted you those prayers long ago as they were good. Now whatever are you speaking of? Why did you stop asking for certain things?"

Me: "Lord, bigger prayers and miraculous ones which can only come from You."

Jesus: "Ah yes, those which you cannot govern. Please explain."

Me: "Lord, I have not stopped praying for a miracle for those Korean children from the sunken ferry, but now it seems like it is too late and I am so sad for the parents. The vice principal killed himself as a guilt offering to the parents since he had arranged the trip for the kids. It should have been a happy time, yet death and despair seemed the victor. You did not answer my prayers on this one."

Jesus: "Erin, that is not true. Who are you that you alone are sending prayers that God will answer? Your prayers were answered and so were many others. What did you pray for?"

Me: "A miracle, Lord, and I prayed that the children would be saved as these were good children who were very obedient and listened and followed instructions. Only now death was their reward and now despair is their parent's burden to bear."

Jesus: "Erin, who is God, My Father, and Who am I? Do you believe that more than one thousand angels were dispatched to help those children? Do you believe that I am capable to save these children from death even under the depths of the sea?"

"Is there a limit? Where is this written? How do you know there were no Christian servants leading these children Home? Do you believe God's saving grace is multicultural? Do you believe God is capable of speaking other languages; understanding and hearing the cries of these children?"

"Erin, is there nothing God cannot do? Remember that in Revelation He opens doors which no one can shut and closes doors which no one can open. God is in control, Erin, and He is there as I am there with you always. You can spend precious time building a floatation device or you can pray, but which One will ultimately save you?"

Me: "Lord, prayer."

Jesus: "Your lack of faith is not a sin, but do not be surprised if I do not test you here."

Me: "Lord, is it You testing me?"

Jesus: "Here in Heaven as lessons, but your tests are by the enemy on Earth and only as allowed by My Father. However, the enemy prefers trials over testing as the enemy knows that testing produces endurance and would rather avoid this.

"Trials are different from tests in that trials come at the hand of the accuser. The petition for a trial is asked for by the enemy in the Heavenly Courts and is usually granted due to sin, but not always.

"One day you will understand all of this, but for now just be thankful for both as they are producing that which is good and a heart in you that pleases God. Erin, this is why you are to be joyful when tests and trials come."

Me: "Lord, but You said that my enemy had now run his course and I am free."

Jesus: "Yes, but you still have not tested the prison cell door to see if it is unlocked. Instead, you are remaining there even though you have been told to run.

Me: "Lord, a prison cell can also keep the bad guys out."

Jesus: "Yes, but in your case the enemy likes to keep you in fear and locked up as you are 'scary' to him when you are roaming free doing My Will."

Me: "Oh Lord, am I 'scary' when I am free and not locked up to You as well?"

Jesus: Laughing. "You are 'scary' only when you try to sail a catamaran with no leading. You steer your own ship sometimes and have more faith in your own abilities than My capabilities to work your sail.

"Erin let me be your sail, let me steer your boat and let God navigate as He clearly knows the way in which He sends the wind. You are a passenger and a first mate, but you serve the Captain and you are at the mercy of God.

"Now there is much more to discuss. Do you believe that a lack of faith is a sin?"

Me: "I believe that in my case a lack of faith is a long drawn out learned behavior which started from my childhood when I quit believing. Even as a child and a non-believer, I somehow knew that You were the God of Miracles as I had seen the results, but I still did not believe I was worthy. Lord, many people even now do not believe I am worthy or clean enough to be here with You at all?"

Jesus: "Well, Erin, if this is the case, then no one would be worthy to be here. So, what do I require of you?"

Me: "To love You and God with all of my heart and to love my neighbor as myself."

Jesus: "Do I require a fresh shower and clean clothes for you to be in My presence? Holiness is a matter of the heart and a matter of soap. Let's go back to the word 'consecration' to study this. Also, what does the word 'righteous' mean?"

"I tell you the truth, many of those who call themselves clean will not be worthy. They will be unclean as they are only about appearances and not about the heart. Not only would you not measure up to their standards, but neither would I.

"As such, Erin, we are in this together and you are mine as I am mighty to save. Now tell Me what else you have prayed for?"

Me: "A home here on Earth even though I believe this may now be too late for this?"

Jesus: Laughing. "Wait, Erin, did you see something on the Clock that I did not? Angels, did I miss something? Is it almost Time?" He then became more serious.

"Erin, I am close, but there is still more time so please do not limit God because your timeline is not happening according to your prayers. There are things which must occur first so a house for you is still not out of the question.

“Is anything too big for God? Erin, you are to continue to live, laugh, pray and follow Me.”

Me: “I cannot always laugh, Lord, as this is sometimes too hard for me under my circumstances on Earth.”

Jesus: “I understand, but, Erin, please find joy as you have much to be happy about. Do not be anxious for anything even when times become more difficult on Earth. Even then you must still try to find joy so that when others see you, your faith will become a source of comfort.

“Your trials will be used to comfort people who need to hear the Good News. Now I told you I would build a house for you. However, did I not also tell you that I will remove you and your children safely to the trees?”

Me: “Lord, are You speaking of safely moving us on Earth or to here in Heaven? I cannot imagine another physical move before You come as this would surely need to be You supernaturally removing us from this place.

“Lord, these dreams have been time consuming, but such a life saver for me as I have come to know and love You so much. Lord, if You say ‘move’, then I will move, but please provide the circumstances to do this soon if trouble is near.

“I trust You, Lord, as I know with complete certainty that Your love is greater than anything I can even imagine. Indeed, each time with You is better than the last and I can hardly wait until one day I am here with You permanently.”

Jesus: “I look forward to this day too, Erin, and it is written. Try as much as you are able to look for Me when trouble comes. There will be events in which many will believe that God no longer cares.

“However, remember the valley of dry bones, where the breath of life comes from and the silver cord. Now tell Me about your faith and prayers from a few days ago. Did you encounter a mourning dove?”

Me: “Oh yes, Lord, I heard a bang on a window at my office and it had sounded like someone had thrown a baseball full force at it. I got up and went outside to check this out. There was nothing at the front of the building, so I walked to the grassy area of the building and there on the ground was a dying grey mourning dove.

"The dove was lying on its side and seemed to be breathing its last breath. This was breaking my heart and I could not watch it. It looked like its chest cavity was bulging and there was blood in the corner of its beak. I stayed with the dove for a couple of more minutes, but I did not want to watch it die so I went back inside.

"Then I realized I wanted to pray for it so I went back outside and prayed this:

"Lord, You can do all things as You are the God who created the Universe and nothing is too small or too big for You. Please heal this dove.'

"I moved toward the dove as it bird flipped over on its feet. I thought one leg was broken as before it was contorted and the leg was spread out. I quickly ran inside to get my camera as I still believed the bird might die. I came back out and took a couple of photos as evidence that the dove existed and prayed again:

"Lord, You are requiring me to have faith like a mustard seed. You are saying by the Word of God that I can move mountains by faith in God's Name. You are saying nothing is impossible. Well as I sit here, I believe You can so please, Lord, heal this dove. How can I heal the sick on Your behalf if I cannot even believe for the healing of this dove?'

"I prayed in the Spirit and I saw Heaven open and an angel came down. The dove was comforted by my voice, but then when nothing appeared to happen I decided to go back inside. My co-worker was there and asked about the sound as he had heard it to.

"I then took him outside and, just as we rounded the corner, the dove flew off as if nothing had happened. When we later went back to the mirrored window, we could even see an impression on where the dove had hit and feathers were stuck to the window.

"Neither one of us could believe that the dove had survived the impact so I said, 'Thank You, Lord, for healing this dove!'"

Jesus: Laughing. "So, Erin, were you testing Me in this?"

Me: "Wait, Lord, is faith not a form of testing? Faith is something hoped for and the evidence of things not seen. If we see what we pray for happen, then does this not build our faith?"

"If I prayed non-stop and believed yet there was no evidence of answered prayer, then how can I confidently walk? Lord, I sit here and I cannot claim that I know all of You as You are a Divine Mystery, amazing and faithful, but I believe in You with my whole heart."

Jesus: "Erin, your words are good as they come from your heart. You recognize that when you pray if the prayer is good then God will turn and hear your prayer. Sometimes there is evidence manifested, but other times you do not see it yet you must believe in that which is unseen.

"You must trust Me that I hear you, Erin, even when your heart was breaking for this gray dove. After a while, did your impatience not turn the healing of the dove into a fleece? Later that day when you told a bird expert about the dove, they told you that the bird probably flew off to die. So what did I do in response to this?"

Me: "You soon after showed me the same dove looking right at me from a pole."

Jesus: "Yes, and this was a few hours later and the bird was still very much alive. Even so, for a moment you still doubted that your prayer availed much. One minute you believed your prayers should have raised the ferry and saved the children, then the next minute you doubted that your prayers could have healed a dying bird. What did you find out later about the bird's speed of flight at impact?"

Me: Laughing. "I learned that a dove can fly up to 55 mph, which is around some highways' speed limits."

Jesus: Laughing. "This is interesting as an object flying at that rate of speed should have been crushed and died instantly so you witnessed a miracle. You even saw an angel from an Open Heaven and you then later listened to a bird expert confirming the dove should have died? Now, Erin, who created the dove to begin with?"

Me: Saddened. "Lord, am I ever going to believe like a mustard seed? I have come this far and my belief is still horrible and I am mad at myself."

Jesus: "This last statement was the first truth you just spoke about. Now forgive yourself as you are learning that when you pray you must believe for it. Erin, I tell you the truth that this dove will never forget you and it will reside in the Garden of your Heavenly Home someday. Do you believe this?"

Me: I was still down about my unbelief. "Yes Lord, since You said it of course I believe it. Lord, I am so sorry and I need You to please help me here and grant me unshakable faith. I love You so much that I want You to use me and to be pleased with me."

Jesus: "Erin, a Son does what His Father does so I wait on My Father. On Earth, you have been taught to follow your father, except you could not trust your father. Your trials are made more difficult because you are slower to learn about who I am and who My Father is.

"You have stood in Heavenly places and you have seen miracles and now know of them fully. You have also prayed and your prayers have been answered, but just not always as you or the world expects. Your belief is good, but your faith in your receiving is the issue. What did I say about a gift? Did you receive it?"

Me: "The angel gave me the gift, but I have not seen it here. Is it the gift of faith?"

Jesus: "Erin, believe that you receive and have faith in the Lord, but be patient as you still have some time to see these gifts. It is okay to receive good gifts as you are capable to do this and now you can expect something."

Me: "Oh Lord, what is it? I am so excited!"

Jesus: Laughing. "Erin, before I was willing to give you up to half of the Kingdom and now are you more excited for a box and what is in it?"

Me: "Yes, Lord, I am having faith in what I cannot see and this is good, right? Half the Kingdom comes with responsibilities so please keep this, but I would still love to be invited to see it."

Jesus: "Erin, think and pray on this today as I am about to use you, your friends and others. Take heart and keep your eyes on Me. Now, tell Me about your dream from last night as this is important."

Me: "In this dream, I had been invited to a client's home and there were some very young children. This woman was baking and had invited me over for lunch with several other people. I had arrived early and noticed that she had bunches of wilted flowers.

"I asked her if I could help her since the flowers were dying and she pointed me to a large vase with water and said she had not gotten to this yet. As I later arranged the flowers, she expressed doubt to me that they could even be saved so I prayed to myself under my breath.

"The flowers were a collection of small bluebells and bleeding hearts. Immediately the water helped and the dead flowers perked up. She then made some wheat bread from flour that she had ground herself.

"I looked around and saw that her house was lovely and that her children were beautiful and well-behaved. However, a feeling of sorrow overcame me when I remembered that this woman was a Mormon."

Jesus: "Yes, but there is more. Go ahead, Erin."

Me: "Yes, I had an event to go to around noon so I would have to miss lunch, but I helped her set up for the other people coming."

"Me: 'You are the perfect Proverbs woman. You speak kindly to your husband and children and they respect you and treat you with love. You run a beautiful household and you are healthy. You even grind your own wheat, can your own fruits and you even sew. You entertain friends and you have great status amongst the community.'

"Woman: Laughing as if she knew this, but was humble. 'Erin, when you are finished, please come back and you can learn how to grind wheat.'

"I left a stack of my business cards for her luncheon and then I left for my event. When I came back later after my event at the auditorium, she was now preparing for dinner. Her brother came to the door and I knew that he was a builder and also a Mormon."

"Woman: 'Erin, he will show you how to winnow wheat. Please give him your business card. They are right there.'"

"I did not see my business cards at first as they had been copied and on the back side of them was an invitation to an event at their church with my name on it. However, I then noticed that my name was changed to something I did not recognize; either Zarah or Zara. I was so upset that they had tricked others to believe that I was part of their church that I became ill."

"Her brother then took me out in the back and showed me a pitch fork that had six prongs. He began to scoop up grain and toss it and then handed me the pitch fork. I told him that I knew how to separate wheat and that I will winnow from the Lord. He looked disappointed."

Jesus: "What did you think?"

Me: "If I am to witness to them, I will need faith like a mustard seed. How about I just believe You for crows to feed me and seagulls to bring water bottles? Lord, these false religions are all based on a myth about You and Heaven."

Jesus: "Erin, you will know the roots of a person's faith by who they believe I am and what they believe Heaven is. Now you must pray as they have been deceived. Soon every knee will bow and every tongue will confess and there will be mourning and wailing as so many have been misled. Now pray for them to know Me now as you know what is coming."

Me: "Lord, heal me of every part in me which lacks and help me to stand."

Jesus: "Erin, your faith heals you so be encouraged and receive and believe when you pray. When you see Heaven Open in the Spirit while you pray and angels descend, then this too is a sign for you that your prayers reached My Father God. You are loved, Erin, so do not worry. Oh yes, go back to all those Scriptures you were given for food and water and remember who you are."

As I looked over the Heavenly Ocean and saw how beautiful this all was, He reached over and hugged me.

Dream 121 – Four Separate Dreams

First Dream

I was living in a desert place on a hill with no water and my house was lovely. However, money no longer had any value, so all commerce was completed by trading and bartering. I was helping out another family as we had plenty, but we still needed water and money could not buy it.

A poor man came up to me and told me that his milking cow had just given birth to a calf. He then handed me the little calf and asked me to grow it and then use the milk for water.

Me: "Sir, how can I grow the calf for milk if there is no water for the calf to grow?"

He insisted and I took the calf. However, I also had reasoned that this calf was also taking milk from the mother that they needed, but they did not want to butcher the calf.

I smiled and thanked them for their generous gift, but I knew that the little calf would eventually die. Since I already knew this, I lifted the calf up in prayers and offering to the Lord.

As I did this, I noticed that this calf was a perfect little red heifer with no spots or blemishes. The calf even looked at me like it was glad to see me and I felt an instant need to care for it. However, I really did not know how I could care for the calf in a drought stricken land.

Second Dream

I lived somewhere in a town with some very cute shops and a cozy atmosphere. This town had cobblestone streets, shops on the street level and apartments above the shops. The buildings were stucco and brightly colored and there were iron gates and balconies. There were also shutters on each of the windows.

I was visiting this town with my children when I noticed that it was getting near closing time. It was around 6:00pm, so the shops were beginning to close their doors. Right before closing and while people were still shopping, a drug lord in a black car pulled up to the gate of this shopping area.

I heard the people speaking in Spanish or Portuguese to run and hide. Suddenly I was screaming and searching as many of the people were walking right past the gunman. The gunman had targets so the fear was to be in his 'crosshairs'.

I had just seen this cute peaceful village turn incredibly dark in just a matter of seconds. I heard my children calling to me in an upper room just as the gates closed. I told them to close the shutters and to not worry.

Just as the gates closed, I turned to see the gunman in very advanced technical gear and his vehicle turn from a normal car to an extremely high-tech tank with strange tentacles in the front bumper area.

These people were willing to kill everyone just too exact revenge on one person. I stood only feet from them and right in the middle of them. Somehow, they did not see me at all or I would have been dead as well.

I felt at peace as I knew my children were safe and hidden in the upper room, but I knew that this beautiful village would soon be gone. This grieved me so much that I began praying to God in a yell so loud that everyone should have heard it.

Third dream: 'Party #1'

My family had gathered in a very large house and I noticed that there were more mouths than I could possibly feed. I went to a gourmet market for the finest food for my guests and noticed that there was a gourmet restaurant right next to it.

There were so many people at the house that I was truly worried that I would have no time to prepare a good meal that would satisfy everyone. Not only that, but I noticed that even more guests and family were still arriving.

Woman from the restaurant: "You look lost, can I help you?"

I explained my situation to her.

Woman: "You need a caterer. We will be there right away to help you."

All of these caterers started to gather and I noticed that they were wearing white dress shirts and black pants with black aprons. Their sleeves were all rolled up and ready to serve. I agreed to her proposal and gave her the house's address.

However, I was a bit worried as I really did not know if I could afford to feed everyone. I still had other errands to run and when I arrived at the house I saw that even more guests had arrived. However, the caterers were there and were already setup and were now waiting for my approval to serve the guests food.

I went to the service room and I saw that there were amazing foods and drinks to be served. I noticed that the table was way 'overdone' for the type of guests I had and I became worried about the price for all of this. I was also aware that all of this was now so extravagantly laid out that I did not want to appear as a showoff or flashy. I could tell that I was not this kind of person in this dream, but that I would have still wanted to serve like this if money was no object.

The guests were now enjoying the food and celebrating and were complimenting me on my good taste and service. However, I did not feel like I deserved this as I had hired these workers and still did not know if I could even pay their tab.

I mingled for some time and saw that there were people of all ages enjoying the fare. I wandered to the backyard of the house which was under construction and noticed that the rains must have come as there was quite a bit of mud. I also saw that there was a family back there eating and drinking with a toddler who could barely walk.

This couple had obviously drunk too much wine and their feet were wading in a pond of mud water. This mud hole had been dug by the landscape crew, but had no liner or pump installed and the rocks and plants had not been set. However, these people were pretending it was a real pool as they were too drunk to notice they were bathing in mud.

Their little toddler was also playing in the mud when it fell into the pool about thirty inches deep. I ran into the mud hole to remove the toddler and the baby had already inhaled a lot of the mud. To make matters worse, the mud was so slippery that I could not fully grasp the toddler.

Finally I prayed to God and was able to pull the baby out. I took the baby, cleared its air passage and breathed into its mouth to revive it. I took the toddler and he clung to me. The parents were so drunk that they did not notice or care that their baby would have drowned.

I walked inside and shut and locked the door and I told the servers to cut them off and to not allow anyone else to go out there. In the meantime, I kept the toddler with me.

The party continued until the food was gone. The servers then stayed to clean up everything and I was so relieved to have help. I then talked to the main server to square up for the costs of all of this.

Me: "How much do I owe for all of this?"

Woman: "You only pay for the food as the service was free."

The woman handed me the invoice and it read a total of only $156.34. I was amazed as I had this amount of cash on hand. I thought the cost would be much more.

Me: "How can this be so cheap?"

Woman: "No one has parties anymore and we were ready to serve. However, if truth be known, someone had paid in advance knowing you could not afford more than the cost of the food and drinks?"

Me: In shock. "But who paid?"

Woman: "You really do not know?"

Fourth Dream: 'Party #2'

I was in a hilly university town in the USA and it was night time. In this dream, I went to a party to pick some people up before picking up my very young children at a scheduled time. This area of the city had two and three story homes in very tight lots that were maybe at most seven feet apart from each other.

This area seemed a lot like Knob Hill in San Francisco and I had a very hard time finding a place to park as it was street parking only. It was raining and visibility was poor, but I finally found a spot, parked and went in.

I found the group I was looking for in an upper room. We began to leave down a very wide staircase about ten feet across from the third floor to the second. This staircase was about thirty feet high and I was carrying a metal black ladder which I had lent to a friend.

As we were descending the staircase, the ladder slipped from my hands and dropped down the stairs. There was a wall at the base of staircase containing two items. There was a photo display to the left and a mirror to the right with heavily carved ornate frame.

The ladder fell with speed and despite the force of the ladder hitting the wall, nothing was damaged. However, just as we were descending the ladder to see if there was damage to the wall, a glass covering some photos fell wherein the glass covering broke. However, the mirror did not move at all. The home owner soon came to confront me about this.

Me: "I am so sorry for this. I will pay for the glass on the photo piece."

Woman: "No problem. However, you will also have to pay for the damage to the mirror as well."

Me: "But the mirror was not touched. It was fine."

Woman: "No. You had damaged my mirror."

Me: "No, I did not touch your mirror."

Woman: "Well, it does not matter as you damaged the other piece and someone had to pay for the mirror so now that person is you."

I was obviously bothered by this, but I was now late to get my children. My witnesses to all of this had already left the party and the only one that remained was this woman claiming I damaged something that I had not damaged.

This woman then proceeded to stall me and tell me she wanted a certain place to repair it. However, I knew that the place she had told me to take it to would charge double the price.

The woman insisted and, because of my time constraint, I compromised and agreed. When I finally began to measure the pieces to get the repairs done, I realized that my tape measure was in the car. I then went to look for my car, but I could not find it so went back in the house.

Me: "My car has now been stolen because it was left parked in a dangerous part of town at too late an hour and all because of your stalling!"

Woman: "No, I can see your car right there in front of me."

How could this be that my car had been in her driveway the entire time? I decided to come back later to measure, but I needed to get to my children now so I left.

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day and for all that You have done. Thank You for not giving up on me when I would like to give up on myself. Lord, I need help forgiving those who continue to hurt me. How long must I forgive for?

With one of my enemies, I have easily forgiven seventy times seven just as it says in Your Word that I should. How much longer, Lord? Until then, I will continue to forgive this man until You finally deliver me as I can do nothing else.

Lord, sometimes memories are like tiny shards of glass. Even though you brush them off of your skin and move on, some still go into your skin and become painful. Since these are tiny and clear, you cannot see them so they are very difficult to remove.

Lord, You have a reason for everything and You have promised to deliver me to a safe place. You have promised to deliver me soon, so please do so as I am wearing down and I desperately need Your help. Help me, Lord, as You are mighty to save.

Jesus: "Erin, come up."

Immediately I was in a city that I did not recognize other than I knew that this city was not in Heaven. I looked around and I could see that there were abandoned brick buildings everywhere. I saw some script written on the side of one of the buildings and it looked Russian or something like this.

The sky was dark and very gloomy as there had recently been rain. The streets were brick in some areas with some under a coating of asphalt. I could see that a good majority of the buildings had been blown to bits.

I looked down to see what I was wearing and I had a tactical sniper outfit on. I was still me in this dream, but I was completely in character for this war torn landscape and I was dressed like a soldier. I could not tell what was happening, but when I saw what I was wearing I quickly realized I was going to be in the middle of a battle.

Me: "Lord, what are You doing with me? What is this all about? While I am not sure about all of this, I do know that I do not want to be here at all."

Holy Spirit: "Erin, I brought you here for an assignment, so do not be afraid. Allow Me to guide you as you will not be hurt and I will deliver you from this. This assignment is very important."

Me: "Okay, Lord. I am willing and hopefully I am able."

I looked at what I was wearing to see if I had everything I would need to go into battle. Hopefully this did not involve killing as I was not certain if I could do this other than to save children from bad guys.

I had clothing on that was like armor. I had gloves on and extra ammunition strapped like a beauty-pageant ribbon across my chest. I then noticed that I had another strap and reached behind my back to check this and realized that I had a very high-tech sniper rifle or at least what I thought was high-tech. I then noticed a type of scope on the rifle that had what looked like a digital display.

Me: "Okay, if the Lord has me here, there must be some extreme evil. I had better go up to a higher point so that I can see what I am up against and what army I am fighting."

I ducked into a building with a steel door and it was pitch black inside. I had to slowly feel my way up the stairs, but slowly began to see light as I climbed higher. As I approached a window, I instinctively came up to the side to peek out so that I would not be seen by the enemy.

Eventually I climbed the last several flights to the rooftop. However, before I exited the door, I got down on my belly and slowly opened the door from a low position in case there were others out there on the roof.

I could see that there was no one there, so I scrambled quietly behind two very large air ducts and listened for any sounds. In the distance, I saw a war zone and smoldering buildings, but I still could not see signs of life anywhere. I looked out the other direction and I saw a sniper station on the roof, but I could not tell where the sniper was as I could only see his equipment.

As I approached the equipment, I saw a trail of blood leading to another utility area of the building. I carefully followed the trail and came upon a body stretched out. I saw that this body was a young boy perhaps seventeen years old who appeared to be praying.

At first I did not understand the language he was praying in, but then the Lord granted me the ability to know what he was saying. He was praying to Mary and kept saying something like 'mother of God'.

He was clearly dying so I ran over to him, but he quickly tried to get away from me as he did not know if I was an enemy. Based on his reaction, I gathered that I was wearing the clothing of the opposing side.

It was cold here and only about forty degrees Fahrenheit. I was wearing a stocking cap with some sort of barrier on it like a shield. I found this all quite odd as I literally know nothing about military combat other than that I never wanted to be in a situation like this.

The man looked so frightened of me. I put my hands up and I said something in his language. I did not even understand the language as I was speaking, but the Lord granted me supernatural knowledge so I knew what was being said and how to say it.

Me (in another tongue): "I have been sent by Jesus, not His mother, and by God Himself to give you comfort."

Man: He was shaking and scared; so scared. "Who are you? Please do not kill me."

Me: "I am not here to kill you. I was sent by God to show you He loves you."

Man: "God would not send a sniper to lead a sniper home. This is a trick."

Me: "No, it is not a trick. I am here to help you. What is your name?"

Man: "'Kelzi Immanuel'. Snipers do not give out last names."

Me: "Oh, you are David Emanuel. Who gave you that name?"

Man: "My grandmother who raised me."

Me: "You are dying. Do you know Jesus, the One Who sent me? Do you know Him Who loves you?"

Man: "He cannot love me as I am a killer and I have killed innocent people. I am nothing but forgotten and I cannot be forgiven as I even kill children."

Me: "God has sent me just to show you Home. Would you like to go to Heaven? It is Paradise and the angels will take you there."

Man: "This is a trick. I cannot be forgiven."

Me: "Are you willing to accept that Jesus is here with me?"

Just then he began to have shortness of breath and severe pains.

Man: "First you must know that there are others in the buildings, crazy woman of God, and you will need to see them too as I have killed many of them. Those who were praying in the other building will need you as I am their killer."

Me: "God knows this, Kelzi, and He still sent me to you. He told me your grandmother wants you Home with her. Are you ready?"

Man: "Yes, yes, hurry, hurry as I am being hunted like a dog right now. Quietly hurry."

Just then there were old helicopters coming at us and I could hear bombs dropping about a mile away. I could also hear gunfire in the distance, but I still did not know where I was. Kelzi reached out for my hand and I could see this young boy was so scared now.

Man: "Please do not leave me. Please."

Me: "It is okay as Jesus loves you and the angels are ready to take you Home."

As I looked at him, his eyes seemed to be focusing on something which I could not see. His face was black with sniper paint and his eyes were bluer than blue and stood out against the brilliant whites of his eyes. As he kept focusing on what I could not see, I began to cry as a smile came upon his face.

Man: "Jesus, I see You, I see You! I am sorry. Please forgive me!" There was a pause. "Thank You."

I knew by the pause that the Lord was speaking to him and showing him the way Home and this was so beautiful. As his eyes became vacant and his hand went limp in mine, I knew he was now dead and reached over and closed his eyelids and thanked God.

Me: "Okay, Lord, You can beam me up to the ship now. Lord, the bombs are drawing closer and it is time to remove me."

Holy Spirit: "No, Erin, you have the equipment and the enemy is approaching. There is more to do before you are removed from here. Do not think about this, but rather just allow Me to work here."

Me: "Lord, would it not have been more convincing to send someone who actually has been in a war zone or has tactical experience? I am a bit out of my element here. Now, a fashion show in New York City might be closer to my level of experience."

Holy Spirit: "Erin, I can send someone else if you are not capable."

Me: "No, Lord, You have Your reasons and I am willing, but just please empty me completely of myself and grant me supernatural knowledge about this culture or even this war."

Holy Spirit: "Granted. Now go to Kelzi's sniper station and look through the scope, but first take his iPad."

I got up and grabbed Kelzi's iPad and noticed that it had a bunch of coordinates. Next to these coordinates, it had a word which meant 'kills'. At each coordinate, he had tracked his kills.

Me: "Oh, Lord, this kid was a master sniper. How did he even make it to prayers and salvation? Wow!"

Holy Spirit: "Erin, it is lucky for everyone here that your assignment is not judge and jury. Please stick to My Plan and do not judge."

Me: "Forgive me, Lord. Now what do I do?"

Holy Spirit: "Allow Me to work and do not 'try' to do anything as this is wisdom and some could be lost."

Me: "Lord, could angels not do all of this instead? Why use me?"

Holy Spirit: "Erin, there is a battle going on right now and you had asked to be used. Shall I get someone else?"

Just then, I saw a veil over my eyes lift and saw demons of every kind fighting angels from Heaven. They were all around me and the demons were preventing or delaying angels from getting to saints. There were so many over this area alone that if the Lord had not given me a veil I would have been too distracted to focus solely on this boy Kelzi.

Me: "Oh my goodness, Lord, this is frightening."

Holy Spirit: "Erin, please continue. I will put the veil back over your eyes so that you can focus on your assignment. Concentrate now and you may ask questions later."

Me: "Lord, just one quick question. Do all of these people see into the spirit realm?"

Holy Spirit: "Yes, many can."

Me: "How are they able to survive?"

Holy Spirit: "Too many questions, Erin. You will have to wait until later for answers as it is time to move now."

Me: "Yes, Lord."

I heard gunfire drawing closer as the demons must have told the opposing side that I was here. I went to the sniper station and saw a sniper rifle that was even more advanced than my sniper rifle.

I noticed that everything was digital as I looked through the sight. With one of the lenses, I could see human heat through the building about fifty yards from me. I could see a mass of heat in a corner and it looked like several people were there.

I then moved the sight around and heard an alert from the iPad. I looked and saw a snipers setting up at several different locations, as well as moving in on the building across the street. The iPad said some code name and I could read that the foreign script said, 'Black Dog shoot to kill now.'

Holy Spirit: "Erin, the sniper across from you is not one of Mine, but the enemy's. You must remove him now."

Me: "What? Shoot, Lord, seriously?"

Holy Spirit: "Shoot first and ask questions later."

I was shaking as I pointed the rifle and realized that this was the person who shot Kelzi and was on the same side as him. I knew instinctively this was the case as I looked through the sight.

I was alerted by the iPad that I had locked on to the target, but before I could pull the trigger the gun went off. I heard no sound, but I received a vibration alert that I had hit the target. I found this odd as I did not even do anything. I looked through the sight of the rifle and saw that the red heat of the sniper's body was fading and that his body was down.

The iPad alerted me to more movement and had the word, 'NOW'. I still had the other rifle on my back and I knew I needed to get over to the other building. I snapped the digital sight off of Kelzi's sniper rifle and took the iPad and sight with me. Again, this was supernatural as this was certainly not something I would know to do on my own.

I began to run back to the roof door, opened the metal door and stepped into the darkness. I was in a pitch-black stairwell and felt for a switch on the sight that I had taken. I moved the switch and the one sight worked like a flashlight.

This scope had three lenses and a body like a camcorder, but the old-fashioned kind. I am sure the parts had names, but I did not think it mattered much right now. I quickly used the scope to find my way in the dark. I was thanking the Lord for putting the veil back on as I would have been too busy watching that battle instead of doing what I was sent here for.

As I was thinking to myself that I had so many questions for the Lord later, I reached the bottom of the stairs and opened the door slowly. I grabbed the rifle behind me and I moved the strap forward so that the rifle was now in my hands.

I noticed that the sight on the rifle must have been 'first generation' as it was clearly not as advanced as the other rifle I had used. I had a pack that I put the digital scope into, along with the iPad.

As I entered into an alleyway, I looked toward my target building and ran quickly to the edge of the building. There were now bombs going off only about a hundred yards or so away now, as well as helicopters in the air looking for me or the people in the other building or both. As I looked across the street at the building I was going to, I could not figure out how I would get across the street without snipers shooting me first.

Me: "Lord, I could use help here now. Please show me which way to go."

Just then He lifted the veil over my eyes and I saw a double row of angels creating a path for me to the other building. They were fighting demons and I saw an angel I recognized from 'The Path' a long time ago.

He whistled for me to move, so I ran full force to the other building and through the door being held open by another angel. Just as I went through the door, the angels and demons disappeared, but I knew that they were still there.

Me: "God, You are truly amazing and beyond incredible. I am honored by Your amazing love for the lost and so humbled that I would even be able to be used for anything, but especially all of this."

I was now safely inside the building that I knew held the others. I could hear bombs blowing up adjacent buildings in the hope of killing these people, so I began to run through broken glass, office discs, computers and chairs.

All was in disarray and someone had even moved the items to block the stairwell area. Glass had been strategically placed there in order for them to hear the enemy coming. I did not know if they had rifles too or what was going on, but I decided to climb over all this stuff anyway.

I pried open the door to the stairs and just then noticed that I was in my 25-year-old glorified body and could move with ease. I was able to get through a ten-inch crack in the door, but barely.

Once through, I snuck up the stairs to the third floor. The door was already open and I looked down and realized a dead man's body was keeping the door open. I looked through the opening and saw even more dead bodies.

These were young people as young as sixteen to eighteen years old and I saw both girls and boys unarmed. They had all been shot by a sniper through the window and I realized that this must have been bullets from Kelzi's rifle. I saw one body twitching by the window as I looked around the corner of the door and saw even more dead bodies.

Me: "Lord, give me strength."

I ran over to the twitching body by the window and saw that he was just a boy and that he had lost a lot of blood.

Me: In a foreign tongue. "Please wake up."

The boy opened his eyes and he had no energy to even care if I was the enemy.

Me: "I am here to let you know that Jesus sent me to take you Home."

He could not speak as he had been shot in the side of his neck just minutes earlier.

Me: "I will speak for you. Do you know Jesus?" He nodded 'yes'.

Me: "Will you take Him as your Lord and Savior?" He nodded 'yes' again as tears streamed down his cheeks.

He grabbed my wrist to get my attention and motioned towards a closet across the room.

Me: "Are there more there in the closet?" He nodded 'yes' again.

Me: "Okay, I will get to them, but first you. The angels are ready to take you Home to Heaven. Will you accept Jesus as your Lord and Savior before it is too late?"

Holy Spirit: "Erin, this one is Mine now and it is okay."

Me: "The Lord has told me that you are His."

The boy began to cry and whimper as he tried to speak with his mouth but was unable to. Tears were flowing down his cheeks and with a last bit of effort he managed to speak.

Boy: "Spaceeba."

I heard this in another language so do not know the proper spelling, but at least that is what it sounded like. I believe it was a 'thank you'.

Me: "I will see you up there soon too, so do not be afraid as the Lord is with you."

He motioned again towards the closet door before he went to be with the Lord. I quickly got to my feet and began to climb over bodies, desks, computers and glass. I realized midway that shots were coming towards me as I heard some of the bullets whiz by my ears.

Amazingly, and only by divine design, I was not hit by these bullets and was supernaturally protected instead. As I reached the closet, I could hear crying from within.

Me: "Do not be afraid. I am not the enemy. I am here to help you."

Just then, the door opened and inside were four girls and three boys. A few of them were so scared that they had lost their bodily functions and the smell was horrendous.

They looked glad to see me and they were speaking at me all at once. I did not know what they were saying so I held up my hands to quiet them.

One of the girls saw that the boy by the window was dead and began to sob inconsolably.

Me: "Please do not worry or be afraid."

One of the children, seemingly all teens, said, "Are you an angel?"

Me: "No, I am not, but I do come from Heaven and have been assigned by God to let you know He is with You and loves you."

Teen boy: "How can He be with us? He allowed our family, our friends and our parents to be killed.

He allowed my sisters to be raped before they were killed and they were only four and six years old. God does not love us."

Teen girl: "He deserted us and killed us off one by one and now we will be next. Lady, then you will right after."

Me: "You are wrong. God did not kill your family. There is a war which you cannot see occurring now in the spirit realm and God is giving you a chance.

Now, the bombs are getting closer and soon the enemy will find you. Your friend over there is with Jesus and God took him Home. Now, do you want to be here alone with them?"

I pointed to the sky and instantly the spirit realm became visible to them and it was horrific. The teens started screaming as they could see the demons being held back from getting to them by the angels.

Me: "Now, we do not have much time. Jesus is ready to keep you safe in His arms. Are you ready? He has taken your sisters and your friend to Heaven already. Now join them there in Heaven before it is too late for you."

Instantly they knelt to the floor and all of their hands were shaking in fear.

Teens: "We will take Jesus."

Me: "The Lord knows all that you have been through so accepting Him now is good and you will receive a special crown for this. You have each suffered much so if you are holding anything against anyone, you must forgive so that God can forgive you."

Immediately they started confessing and naming offenders.

Teen: "How can I forgive the person who hurt my sisters when they were so little?"

Me: "I understand this more than you know, but you must release both this evil and the person used by the enemy to God so that the accuser can hold nothing against you in Court. You must be free from unforgiveness and let God be a just Judge against your enemy."

Immediately the children confessed even more and it was heartbreaking as their stories were supernaturally downloaded to me. I could temporarily see all of the wretched details and the things done to them in secret.

All of them were confessing without me saying anything.

Teen: "God, please forgive me for pretending to be God."

Then all of them confessed the same.

Holy Spirit: "Erin, tell them I am pleased with them and it is time for them to be Mine forever and ever."

Me (in their language): "The Lord is pleased with you and you are His. He is ready to receive you. Are you ready to meet Him?"

All of them in tears accepted Jesus as I heard the word 'spaceba' or something similar to this, along with the word 'Jesus'. Just then I heard the building collapsing around us as the roof was caving in. The debris fell all around us as I reached over to hug the teens.

We looked up to see a plane firing a missile towards us. As the missile approached, I saw the sky open. After this, they must have died because at that moment Heaven opened to receive these children.

I then was transported on to the rooftop of a distant building. From across the city, I could see an Open Heaven and an epic war all at the same time. I saw that just a few saints were left now and it was a desolate landscape, a place with no hope and completely void of God.

I realized that it must not have been completely void of God as He had sent me there to help them. I had many questions to ask the Lord about this all.

Dream temporarily ends...

At this point, I finished for the night and it would not be until the next that this would continue. In the meantime, I had read what I had written so far to my sons and this was incorporated into the second part of this dream. It started back up immediately in Heaven as follows:

Dream begins...

Immediately I was walking through a Heavenly vineyard and noticed several types of grapes. One vineyard had beautiful white grapes, light green grapes and gold grapes. However, these grapes were not yet ready for harvest as this vineyard was higher up on the mountain.

Down to my right I could see harvesters singing and praising the Lord for these beautiful grapes and their record yield. These grapes were light red and pink. To my left and off to the side I saw them finishing the last pick of some beautiful deep red and burgundy grapes.

There were large baskets and the juiciest of all of the grapes were being carried off for crushing. I saw in the distance a beautiful chateau that was French in style.

The dirt was sparkling, dark and rich and completely unlike some of the desert vineyards here on Earth. In Heaven, the precious mineral content of the ground, combined with Heavenly air of the purest oxygen, made for soil incredibly rich with life.

I should note again as I have previously that Heavenly soil is not dirty. The 'dirt' here truly does not need mulch nor are there rotting organic products there. The food grown here is not from death, but grows purely from living water and soil.

I noticed that I was wearing beautiful sandals with braids of something like leather. Though more comfortable than anything I own on Earth, I still took them off so that my bare feet could rest on the soil. I was wearing a skirt with a white flowing blouse and a type of pouch around my waist.

I ran up the first row where the harvesters were and reached for a bunch of jeweled red and pink grapes. As I put a bunch of the grapes in my pouch, I ran up a row of vines to the burgundy grapes as I had wanted to try out these perfected grapes.

As I ran to those, I looked at the white, light green and golden grapes for a moment and stopped to pick a bunch. However, I hesitated and bypassed them as these grapes were not quite ready yet.

I was laughing with joy as I was now here and safe in Heaven and was so relieved to be here after what I had just come from. I found a bunch of ripe burgundy grapes and picked some and put them in my pouch as well.

One of the grapes accidentally dropped to the ground and I quickly bent down and popped it into my mouth. The grape burst with flavor as I bit into it and it tasted so wonderful. It tasted a bit like an earthly red grape, but really nothing like it at all as it tasted so much better.

I pulled another grape off of the bunch in my pouch as I have only tasted two varieties of grapes in a supermarket and these were clearly different. These grapes were rich and somehow both sour and sweet at the same time.

Well, sour is the wrong word, but nonetheless these grapes make you want to eat more. The grapes on Earth are okay, but I really do not go out of my way to purchase them and nor do my children go out of their way to eat them. Here however if there were just these grapes to eat here, I could easily live off of them. I giggled as I added 'as well as living water too.'

I heard a bunch of harvesters calling to me and they were saying, 'Erin, come to the celebration.' The harvesters were loading up these grapes on a type of high-tech cart that was led by horses. However, even the horses here actually looked like they were as excited to pull in the harvested grapes as the harvesters.

Me: Laughing. "They seem to know me. Now how funny is that?"

I had seen the harvest celebrations when I was here last year and it seemed like so much fun. I noticed that there were angels here too. As the cart continued to move, I waved them on and stopped again to look around me.

I saw waves of color on the mountain and it was breathtakingly beautiful. The smells were so fragrant and I could smell an amazing combination of fresh mowed grass and mountain air with perhaps even a hint of eucalyptus. While I did not see any eucalyptus around, I knew by the smell that they must be close.

I noticed that I must have been on the southern side of the valley, the same side that will one day be my eternal Home. There was a beautiful southern breeze as I sat down in a row of vineyards and looked up. It was so peaceful and I could hear song birds everywhere and they were singing praises to God. I never understood how we could be taught that we would be at the Throne of God without stop always worshiping Him on our knees when this is definitely not the case and certainly was not something I personally was looking forward to.

Me: "God, please forgive me for my thoughts."

I then realized that, simply because of this amazing place that He has prepared for us here, we will constantly be worshiping and thanking Him for all eternity.

Indeed, there will not be one single entity in Heaven that will not be constantly praising and worshiping God for His incredible gift of Jesus as He saved us and God sent Him.

God has shown us the way Home and 'The Path' which leads to Paradise. I was so thankful as I grinned and laid down in the vineyard to rest. I must have drifted off to sleep as I was awakened by something scurrying across my stomach.

I looked down and there was a family of quail all in a row traveling right over me. I laughed and sat up as the little babies were so cute. The quail were silver and gold with a little plume of blue and purple and the parents were even more colorful.

Wow, they can also be glorified in full color here as they have no enemy and no need to be camouflaged in gray and brown to stay hidden anymore. It would have been hard to even recognize them as quail, but I had recognized the sounds they were making.

I stood up on my feet, but did not know how long I had drifted off to sleep. I could still hear the celebration at my friend's vineyard as I turned around to go down a row of grapes.

There I spotted Jesus and saw that He was gleaning the last few burgundy grapes. He had a large pouch like basket over His shoulder and He was taking all of the grapes. I laughed as it is not like any of the grapes are bad here. He waved at me and I ran as fast as I could down the row I was in and over to the place He was harvesting.

Jesus: "Erin, did you have a good rest?"

Me: "Yes! I am so glad the quails woke me up as I would have slept here for a few days at least."

Jesus: He was smiling and jovial. "Yes, I know and that is why I sent them to wake you up. I am glad you woke up when you did as those parents can become quite loud and you would have been startled."

Me: "Wow, Lord, in Heaven, every harvest is a record harvest. How does this not become routine?"

I saw Jesus laughing along with the angels. They obviously knew much more than I do about Heaven.

Me: "Okay, so everything here is perfect so how does it not become boring or like that movie, 'Groundhog Day'?"

Jesus: "Interesting choice of words. Are you worried that things in Heaven will become monotonous after a while?"

Me: "It is okay with me if it does, Lord, and everyday can be the same. I am fine with this, just please do not send me back to that war. I have perspectives now that I did not have before so please forgive me."

Jesus: Laughing. "Hmm, are you negotiating with Me, Erin? Ask any of the harvesters here as well as the vineyard owner if they think that days cannot be interesting unless there is trouble or trials? This does not sound right, does it?"

"Erin, you spent your entire earthly existence praying for peace and rest with no poverty or trouble, but now are you requesting trouble in Heaven in order to shake things up a bit? You are funny, Erin."

Me: "Well, when You put it like that, it certainly sounds horrible, Lord, so please forgive me."

Jesus: "Erin, you were just taken to a war zone and one in which the only winners were the ones saved by Me. However, from an earthly perspective, the winners were the ones with the most kills. Are you requesting this in Heaven?"

He stopped to look right at me and so did the angels. All of them had become so serious that for a split second I was terrified. I suddenly remembered that God could split the ground open and throw me into it with a simple wave of His arm.

Me: "Oh Lord, please forgive me as I speak with ignorance and I do not want anything from Earth up here in heaven."

Jesus: Now laughing. "Erin, you must choose your words carefully as the power of Life or death is spoken through the portal of your mouth. Let your words be few as now I have called you friend."

He was calming and kind and I realized He had just given me the most gentle of rebukes ever.

Jesus: "I know what you have been wondering for some time now: 'With all things perfected here, how will it remain interesting', right?"

As the angels continued to pick the remnant bundles, they smiled and laughed. I could see they had memories and stories about what they had seen and experienced with Jesus over the years.

Me: "Yes, Lord, but please remember that I approach Heavenly things and the mysteries of You with youthful wonder and exuberant ignorance."

Jesus: "Now that is funny and truthful. Very good, Erin." He continued to glean grapes.

Me: "Lord, why are You picking the remnant grapes. Are there not workers for this?"

Jesus: "Oh, am I not capable? Erin, your questions are funny."

Me: "Lord, it seems that the picking of the remnant grapes somehow reminds me of what You took me through in the war zone."

Jesus: "Erin, there is much more to this than you know for the harvest is plentiful, but the laborers are few. Remember this, Erin, that this is not so much a mystery, but rather a fact."

Me: "Lord, I am glad You and the angels are grabbing the remnant grapes as they are too good to be left on the vine."

I reached into my pouch and dropped a grape into my mouth. As I spun around as if performing a pirouette in glee, I realized I was being silly as they all continued to glean.

Jesus: "Erin, in all the times in which you have come up here, have you ever been bored even once?"

Me: "Oh no, Lord, absolutely not."

Jesus: "Do you agree that each time has been new and different?"

Me: "Yes, Lord, always."

Jesus: "I make all things new and there are an infinite number of things to discover here. Every Harvest is new and different here and each one is memorable and each batch of wine is different.

"A fisherman here will still desire to fish for pleasure wherein each catch will be new and different and each day better than the last. There is so much to do here in Heaven that Earth pales in comparison. Erin, do you not know this by now?"

Me: "Of course, Lord, I am sorry. We are taught that perfection on Earth is unattainable, but you can try to purchase it if you have the means. You can even pretend to have it all on Facebook and there you can be anything you claim to be."

Jesus: "Yes, Erin, as Earth is pretense and falsified pretenders of Heavenly ways. Erin, you talked to Me in your car about something several days ago when you were in Bend. Do you remember what you talked to Me about?"

Me: "Yes, Lord, I drove around the butte area I lived in order to take some photos. I did not really know if I would ever be make the trip again and I had not been back there until now to compare it to what I have seen in Heaven.

"I saw the snow covered volcanoes that are the seven peaks on the other side of the wooded valley. The sky was blue and the air was crystal clear and fragrant. The houses were beautiful, but still nothing like here in Heaven.

"I remember thinking that this was a small slice of Heaven on Earth, but I quickly dismissed this when I saw the true colors of this place. Everything had a haze about it like a dull sheen. Yes, there were colors, but now they seemed in gray-scale and not at all crisp and perfect like here in Heaven.

"I cried as I left Bend as I fully realized that Earth was no longer my true home and that it no longer had luster to me. I could not afford this place anyway as only people with money live here.

"Quite simply, I was not qualified for this place and I became a person looking through a storefront window with no money in my pocket and too poor to purchase what I wanted. My door had fully closed there and I was sad about this."

Jesus: "Erin, you understand that many of the people you saw will only know that small piece of pretend heaven, right? As you have seen at the end, money will not be able to save them. They will remember back to a time before and Heaven to them will be their earthly mansions that will quickly also become their tombs.

"Erin, do not envy them, but pray for them instead as they are like infants wandering through the glass shop. These people can barely walk and they drool even. When they see something bright and shiny, they want it and take it.

"See and understand that the glass shop also has a glass ceiling whereby God can see all of this. Blessed be that infant who looks up to see God and asks for His Father to pick him up. Erin, the laborers are few."

Me: "I do not understand, Lord, as I thought You had said there is nothing more for us to do."

Jesus: "Yes, and on your own this is correct, but allow Me to work through you as this is wisdom. Now you have been looking for your Heavenly home on Earth. Have you been successful?"

Me: "No, Lord.

I have searched all over the world online and nothing compares to my Heavenly House or any of my friends' Mansions either. I realized that my Home here in the mountains would be far beyond anything on Earth. I thought I could find one close to show others about Heaven, but I cannot find a similar house anywhere on Earth.

"I then thought I could find a house close to this in Bend, but there was nothing and somehow this made being there much easier. I was there with a different attitude as before I saw everything from a perspective of my own lack.

"However, now I looked at everything from the way You might see me. I was a princess hidden in plain sight and You took the sting of pain away."

He walked over to me and gave me a gentle hug and kissed my forehead.

Jesus: "Now you have let this go and this is good, Erin. What else did your journey teach you?"

Me: "Lord, it also taught me forgiveness as I still had not fully forgiven. I saw the contents of some of the boxes I had left in storage there and I wanted to run from them as these were too painful to look in. I hung on to this after I closed the storage unit door and locked it.

"I then prayed for the Rapture so that I would not need to come back to this storage unit ever again. That night when I got home I was so depressed and the next morning I fell really hard at work and injured myself.

Now, I have been out of work for a few days and it has been very painful, but restful at the same time."

Jesus: "So why do you think that this fall was allowed?"

Me: "Is it to squeeze out my remaining pride and stubbornness like one of those grapes?"

Jesus: "Oh really, and did this work?"

Me: I looked at Him and laughed.

"Yes, I think so, but I am not sure what was more painful; the fall or the people emailing me personally to tell me about my unrepentant sin and how poor I must be at removing the enemy from my life that the fall came."

Jesus: "Yes, this is common as many are well meaning, but act void of My leading. However, you now know and understand it is best to wait on Me and to let your words be few."

Me: "Yes, I have learned that, without Your lead and when I react to someone's situation and base it solely on my own experience, that I cause offense and later find myself being tested on the very same thing I put into motion with my mouth. My words opened the door for the enemy to declare war against me whenever I have a higher position in my mind than I ought to."

Jesus: Laughing. "Okay, Erin, now this is wisdom. Now do not receive that which was not sent from Me. Instead, pray and bless those friends of yours that have no true understanding. Encourage, build them up and intercede for those who are stubborn so that the seasoning and salt enhances them with grace for they too are under a glass ceiling and time is proceeding quickly. Do so with love and do not rush in without leading when all kinds of evil are so close behind you, understand?"

Me: "Yes, I understand that there is no time for fighting. Lord, can I help You glean the grape remnants?"

Jesus: Laughing. "Remember what you ask for, Erin."

He nodded to an angel and he came over to me with a basket to hand to me.

Me: "Hey, I recognize you from the war zone where you held the door open for me. So now you are here harvesting grapes?"

The angel smiled at me and then looked at Jesus.

Jesus: "Erin, let's discuss what you went through."

Meanwhile, I started collecting grapes from the vine and putting them in the basket.

Me: "Lord, why are there so many grapes on these vines and why the hurry?"

Jesus: "The harvesters grabbed what they could carry, but they were anxious to go to the celebration as it was their reward for a good harvest. Now, Erin, why are you still here?"

He smiled and laughed as He stopped to look at me for my answer.

Me: "Lord, I want to be where You are?"

Jesus: "Yes, but you elected to stay and glean. Why?"

Me: "The grapes left here are still good and some are now ready, but just forgotten. Obviously they are not really forgotten because You are here, right?"

Jesus: Laughing and shaking His head. "Yes, Erin."

Me: "Lord, what was that sniper stuff about? Is this real? Is this coming?"

Why was I in tactical gear and not a robe? The children, well really the teens, touched me, but how could they do this?"

Jesus: "So many questions, Erin, but first come with Me."

He had angels take our baskets as He squeezed my hand and we were instantly at my friend's chateau. The harvesters were now there and were smashing grapes with their feet and celebrating. I just knew that these grapes would make incredible wine.

Jesus: "Erin, the wine will taste sweeter when you are all here, but you must remember that this process takes some crushing first. The grape tastes wonderful right off of the vine, but it is even better when they are made into wine for the wedding feast. Now take My hand again.”

He squeezed my hand again and immediately we were in the Golden City. I stood next to Him as we overlooked a massive park with the Throne and Sea of Glass on the right of it.

I noticed that my clothes had turned into a beautiful bridal gown that was truly amazing. I still was not sure if this was to be ‘The Wedding Gown’, but it was nevertheless symbolic of what is to come.

Me: “Oh Lord, I can see so clearly that it is beautiful and fragrant here. The blossoms are amazing and it looks like it is now late spring, but I am not sure. Regardless, this all looks perfect for a wedding.”

Jesus: “Now first I showed you the crushing and now you are here preparing for the wedding. You know that the wine will be served at a wedding banquet. So why do you think that I should you all of this?”

Me: “In order to show me my place here and perhaps my position. Perhaps so that I will know that this is a position of honor not to be treated casually and to not see myself with a higher status than others. In other words, that I should not view myself as being higher than I ought.”

Jesus: “Very good, Erin, for now you understand that you have come to this place at a high cost. You have now traded your earthly ambitions for Heavenly treasures that will have true luster and worth. You are not to get wrapped up in status contests with others as this wastes precious time, understand? Now, why did I dress you as a sniper and take you to a foreign land?”

Me: “First, Lord, please forgive me if I have ever thought higher of myself than I am. Forgive me for being upset at my circumstances. Forgive me for self-reliance and self-pity. Help me, Lord, to be more like You.”

Jesus: “Erin you are forgiven as you were purchased for a high price. The enemy would like you back now as he too knows what is coming. This is why your battles have been so difficult recently as the enemy does not like the message of hope you are giving.”

Me: “Yes, Lord, but this is Your message.”

Jesus: “Yes, but your vessel is being filled by Me and you are an enemy of their enemy, Me, as a result and this is good. Now, the sniper uniform was to show you that wherever I will take you and if you are willing that you will be well-equipped and that only when you stopped to question was there a delay.

“You were shown a place out of your area of expertise or knowledge and instead of getting in your own way you recognized that you were able and willing but not capable to do things you had no knowledge of.

"You were sent to a place foreign to you where you did not even understand the language unless I gave you this knowledge supernaturally. Now when you read this first part to your teenage sons, what happened?"

Me: "Oh Lord, I am sorry to say that they easily had hundreds of times more knowledge than I did."

Jesus: "Yes, they knew about the first sniper rifle, the one you carried, but until you all researched it together you were unaware that the other was actually in production now."

Me: "Yes, Lord, I got chills when we found something close to what I had seen online. My sons told me that some of what I had experienced sounded like a game called, 'Black Ops'. All of a sudden they seemed more interested in the dreams, but I am embarrassed to think that it was a war that got them excited about You."

Jesus: "Let's talk more about what questions your sons had asked you?"

Me: "They asked me why the other sniper, Kelzi's ally, killed Kelzi. Then my other son said, 'Oh, I know. He was going to steal his iPad and steal his kills as he was going to get rewarded for these kills.' Lord, while this all makes complete sense, it just seems so senseless and heartless really."

Jesus: "Agreed, but we will come back to this. What was next?"

Me: "Apparently my older son said the room with the bodies and the teen twitching was like the game to him. They asked me if I saw anyone older in the Tribulation, specifically anyone over the age of twenty. I thought about this question for a while and realized that I had not. Lord, is this because anyone older is killed?"

Jesus: "Erin, what does Scripture say about 'failing hearts'? You saw into the spirit realm and saw what was there. Do you believe that an elderly person is agile enough to dodge bullets, find food or, for that matter, find a doctor?"

Me: I became very sad. "Lord, please forgive my questions up on that roof, as well as my judgments."

Jesus: "Erin, I had you first minister to Kelzi for a reason. If you had ministered first to the teens, you would have held judgment against him and you would have hesitated. Now I showed you that when you are used for My purposes, you must become low and allow Me to increase as you decrease, understand? Now, do you still want to continue?"

He was firm, but extremely loving. As I looked into His eyes, I saw more trouble and epic battles. However, I then saw Kelzi hugging his grandmother near the village in the valley and I lit up and hugged Him.

Me: "Oh thank You, Lord, thank You. I thought I would have rest right away and that I would just come up and dance in the river and nap in the lilies."

Jesus: Laughing. "Oh Erin, you will, you will as this you have seen and is not contingent on your performance. However, when you saw those children, even Kelzi, you felt love, compassion and urgency and you let your words be few and said what I directed you too. There was a great celebration after this that you have not seen yet."

Me: "So this was real? When did this happen? This is in the future, right?"

Jesus: "One day soon you will understand, but now what do I require?"

Me: "To love the Lord God with all of my heart, soul and strength and to love my neighbor as myself. Lord, why was the Tribulation like a battlefield game?"

Jesus: "The saints will be hunted down as the enemy knows what is coming and has a plan. You have seen this."

Me: "Lord, You mean like tracking systems? It will be an unfair advantage and I wonder how any of the saints will make it?"

Jesus: "Erin, the enemy will rely on earthly resources as that is all the enemy has. Heaven has access to both so do not worry about how, but just know that things are in place and all according to plan.

"The enemy operates under the same glass ceiling and just because you do not see it does not mean God cannot as even Heaven can see. The pleading for these teens and others from the families here in Heaven is deafening, but God sees all and hears their cries."

Me: "Help me to do only Your will, Lord, as I never want to get in Your way."

Jesus: Laughing. "You can only get in your own way, sweet Erin, not God's."

Me: "Lord, I have so many more questions. Are the hi-tech helicopters the locusts? They looked like giant flying bugs."

Jesus: "Erin, somewhat, but there is more to this. For now, stay to your path and your course as this is wisdom."

Me: "Lord, a close friend of mine sometimes takes these dreams and removes me completely out of them so that only Your Words remain. Should we do this? I heard some of these dreams with my words removed and Your Words are very strong."

Jesus: Laughing. "Oh, remove the Bride out of the equation? This is very clever and in some circumstances you could glean much from this, but in others you would remove My love story for you. My love story is written on the tablet of your heart, Erin, and your questions come from your heart and I love this about you.

"You fear Me, but you are unafraid of Me because you know how much you are loved by Me. However, there is something to this that might be worth exploring. Do you not realize that everything you say and do is divine inspiration?"

"For better or for worse, all of your questions are human and 'Gentile' in nature." He laughed. "So you even speaking to Me would cause ruffles to feathers even amongst My disciples not that long ago. You witnessed Elijah's eye rolls, right?"

Me: This time we both laughed. "I still feel so unworthy and so humbled by all of this. Thank You, Lord. Please remove me and my children to a safe place soon, Lord, as I know that all of this is coming. I do not want my boys to speak to the enemy with no leading and I would rather hide them than see them hurt. Please, Lord."

Jesus: "I promised to remove you before the time of trouble so do not be afraid as you are loved. These dreams are also loved by a lot of mothers in similar situations as well."

Me: "I love You too and I pray You are able to use me always. Oh yes, and for moms too.

Dream over.

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day and for the signs of Your love and favor despite the difficult time we are having right now. Now instead of listening to the voices of condemnation, we are choosing to take a stand and pray. Please forgive me as I have not asked again for prayers. Lord, now I have become stiff necked as a prideful bird and I have no longer wanted to show my vulnerabilities.

This is the truth and now I am confessing with both my mouth and pen. Lord, on my birthday earlier this year, You told me I would be free soon and that I would no longer suffer shame. You told me that you would remove me from this desert place and even told me the following; 'Erin, you are a flower in the desert, but not a desert flower.'

Please, Lord, You are my advocate and My kinsman redeemer. You are my attorney, so please plead my case in God's Courts. Please, Lord, remove the enemy from my life. Honestly, Lord, it is not even the enemy, but other Christians who hurt my feelings. Wow, there I confessed it.

Please forgive me, Lord, for holding anything against my brothers or sisters in Christ as many of them have been with me from the beginning and are for me. Why then, Lord, have I built these walls of mine? It also seems that even one small email can keep me from going for prayers and encouragement. You have also shown me the resentment of some who are not even in my group. Lord, how can I be called by You when even one small thing starts a fire storm in my heart?

We have all been called for a purpose and all of Your saints have been called for this special time. You have witnessed a hunger in us and a desire to be with You that forsakes all others. This is a time of great anticipation, but also sometimes fear, elation and longing for our eternity in Heaven to begin.

This place has become dark and we are wearing out as we know that Your church is Your Bride. To those who belong to a wonderful church whose foundations are grounded in truth and love, you must hold on to this as this will be a beacon in the coming storm as surely, Lord, You will shine like a diamond to the lost.

To those churches who have cast You aside, Lord, may those believers be gathered unto to You. I became disillusioned with the yokes of well-meaning Christians long ago as everyone wanted to be first and I felt unqualified even from the pews. I even enrolled in graduate seminary thinking that I would find You there. Instead I saw liturgical ceremonies, scripts and less of You.

I have seen You at the bridal chamber in Heaven even though I felt unclean in my walk. I was declared by You as white as snow, but now with my trials I wonder if You will still take me as I am? Can I be loved like a tax-collector? Can I be loved like someone who has blood on their hands from taking a life?

Can You love me if sometimes I doubt my place in Your heart? Can You love me if I make mistakes? Is Your path so narrow that there is no room for my feet? Is there room for anyone's feet?

You have shown me great mysteries and wondrous glory in Heaven and I am in awe at Your majesty and I am in amazement by Your works. However, am I worthy of this and are any of us? Lord, the ocean is deep, dark and scary and the waves are higher than I can even see over.

If I call You, are You really there? If You do not answer my prayers for healing and deliver me to a safe shore, is it because I have been forgotten? Am I out of Your love and favor now? Did I do something wrong? Will You answer me?

Jesus: "Erin, come up."

Immediately I was at Golgotha and the sky was dark and as if in gray-scale. I barely saw light as the sun was filtered out by an eclipse. The moon began to move over the sun and a small sliver of light silhouetted the three crosses.

There were three bodies there; two thieves and Jesus. There was a horrible gale force wind and the dust was kicking up. I heard a great rumble and then the ground shook. I fell to my knees as I heard the voice of God.

God: "Erin, who here was worthy to come to the Throne?"

I was on my knees as the ground continued to shake. I was so terrified that I could barely speak.

Me: "Father God, Jesus was and is worthy as He is the tender shot."

God: "Erin, did the thief ask to be remembered by My Son?"

Me: "Yes, Father."

God: "Where is the thief today?"

Me: "In Paradise with Jesus."

God: "If My Son declared him worthy then he is worthy and accepted. Do not question your worth and do not doubt. My Son chose You, so You are worthy. Erin, I made you and you are loved. Erin, I am well pleased. Now, do you want to remain here at Golgotha or would you come to Me?"

Me: Shaking and crying. "I am sorry, God, please forgive me as I do not want to come to Golgotha again as it hurts too much to see Jesus hanging on the Cross. Please, Lord, remove me."

God: "Please, Erin, stop crucifying yourself and Jesus. Erin, I have not forsaken you. Many who claim to accept Jesus would be the ones keeping these three crosses active. There would be many nails and no Resurrection. So it was then and so it will be again. There is nothing new under the sun and you have been set free.

"You have been forgiven over and over, seventy times seven times even. I am the true Judge and I have the power over life and death. Jesus holds the keys. Would you like to continue? Are you ready to see more? The harvest is plenty, but the workers are few."

Me: "Yes, Lord."

Then an Angel of the Lord appeared before me.

Angel: "Erin, I have been sent by God to take you to see some things. Are you ready?"

Me: "I think so."

The Angel brought me up to my feet and took my hand. Instantly we were in a very arid place like the desert. I could tell it was somewhere in the Middle East and I saw a group of American soldiers playing with the children and handing them candy. I saw some local men of the village hate the soldiers and plotting to kill the soldiers.

The Angel then waved his hand and I saw time lapsing like pressing fast forward on a DVD. Something had happened and I saw the dead bodies of the children lying on the ground. The soldiers were being blamed for killing the children, but they were not the killers.

Instead, the children were being used as shields to hide the enemy as the enemy shot at the soldiers. I heard wailing and mourning as helicopters took the soldiers out of the area. The burdens of the soldiers were so great and the yokes were huge.

Me: "My heart is breaking for those poor soldiers as well as the mothers of those children. This is so horrible. Why am I being shown this?"

Next I was taken to a small African village where there was no water. I saw a mother of two sick children walk for hours to the watering hole to fill her buckets and containers while her sick children remained at the village. She was weak also and after filling her vessels she fell along the path and spilled most of the vessels.

This was so heartbreaking to watch. She was so upset with herself that she was crying. Since she was so close to the village, she carried what she had, but it was only enough for one child. Her children were ages three and five and the five year old was not going to last.

Either way, one child would die and she could not decide which one and who could? She asked others for help and told them if anyone would lend her water, then she would bring them twice as much the next day. However, she was turned away. People wanted to help her, but they needed the water too.

I then saw her give whatever water she had left to her three year old. Afterwards, she held her five year old boy as he began to close his eyes. She rocked him and sang a song asking for the Angels to take him to a land where there was good water and plenty of food.

I watched as the boy's body finally went limp. I then heard this woman's wailing reach the very Throne of God. I heard her ask for forgiveness for her fall along the road as she blamed herself for spilling the vessels of water.

Me: "This is too hard to watch. It was not her fault."

The Angel took my hand. Next we were looking at a vehicle which had gone under water at a flooded river crossing somewhere in South America. I saw an old truck with a baby being held by a girl about nine years old. The truck was suddenly swept away and water began to fill the cab of the truck.

A tree branch went through the cab and pinned the mother so that she could not get out. She yelled at her child to take the baby, get on the roof of the truck and call for help. While the little girl, nine years old, did not want to leave her mom, she knew that soon the water would be too high for her to escape.

The mother yelled again for her to go so the little girl held the baby with one arm and crawled onto the roof of the truck. She was shaking and crying as she screamed for help. Some men were coming to rescue her as she heard her mother talking to her.

Mother: "I love you and I am proud of you. You are so brave. Now, I need you to take care of your sister and walk with God."

I then heard the mother call her daughter something similar to 'Mia' or 'Mea'. Then there was silence as the water had overcome the cab of the truck. The men came too late to save the girl's mom, but both of the children were saved.

I was crying so hard at all of this.

Me: "Angel, please no more."

Angel: "I have more to show you and there is a reason Erin."

Me: "Please tell God that I am sorry for taking Jesus to the Cross over and over again."

Angel: "Erin, it is not about that. Please, allow me to show you more and you will find out that the love and grace of God is sovereign and perfect in all of the trials. Now would you like to continue?"

Me: "Yes."

Angel: "You made a common mistake, Erin, and one that I have witnessed throughout the ages. You do not look up enough and you end up focusing on yourselves and those around you for your gauge instead. Erin, you should only look towards your Creator and God is the Creator of all and He sees everything. Remember to look up. Come."

He took my hand and we were now in Norman, Oklahoma. This was an area where all of my earthly dad's roots are and there are graves here that are filled with my relatives.

I saw a normal day here and it was hot and still with clouds gathering in the distance. The Angel took me to a southern part of the city or at least it looked like it from my vantage point. We were at a small farm with white buildings and I believe corn fields, but I am not certain if this was corn. It seemed like this farm had modern farm equipment.

I saw a father calling his two boys into the house to wash up before supper. I saw the boys' mother cooking in the kitchen of this cute farmhouse when all of a sudden I saw a funnel cloud on the horizon. I heard the father yell for the mother to go to the storm cellar. The father then gathered his sons and they ran for the cellar too.

The tornado came from nowhere as the father carried the younger boy while he held the hand of the nine year old boy. As they got to the cellar, the mother reached for the younger boy. However, just a split second before the father could bring the other boy into the cellar; something impaled the father's arm.

Instantly the boy was swept up into the tornado as the father fell into the cellar with the door slamming shut behind him. In an instant and a blink, one of their children was simply gone. The wailing was almost as deafening as the sound of the tornado and no movie could capture this.

When the tornado passed in a matter of minutes, the family stepped out of the cellar to see that everything was gone. Their entire farm was gone in an instant. The father and mother ran everywhere and called out to their son, but there was no reply and they already knew that they would not hear one.

Me: "Is the son okay?"

Angel: "He has been taken Home, Erin."

Me: "Why are you showing me all of this?"

Angel: "Erin, it is for me to take you to these places, but I do not grant you knowledge. The Lord will show you more. Are you able to continue?"

Me: I was in tears and shock. "Yes, but I do not like it."

The Angel took my hand again and I was taken somewhere in Russia or the Soviet Union. It was winter, but this seemed like another place in time. Some soldiers had arrived at a small cottage of a potato farmer and the soldiers were accusing him of some sort of treason.

The soldiers grabbed the farmer while his young children and his wife begged them to release him. Instead, the farmer was taken outside and shot in the back. The soldiers then made the farmer's wife cook for them.

She was shattered, but to keep her children safe, she did as she was told and instructed her children to be brave. The wicked soldiers then pillaged all they had and took anything of worth as the woman cooked. After they ate, they raped the woman and one of her daughters aged six years old.

I actually had to take a break here to vomit as the sight of this literally made me sick. It took quite a while for me to return to this dream, but the Lord finally said it was time and I obeyed. Back to the dream...

One of the soldiers then took the little four year old girl into the woods. The boy was about five years old and the soldiers had tied him up and gagged him. The soldiers shot the six year old girl.

After some time, they heard another shot from the woods as the mother was shot above the heart. However, she was not dead as the soldiers left, but she was very weak. She dragged herself to the place where her son was tied up and got him free, but now she could barely speak.

The boy held his mom while she gave him instructions to be brave. I saw Angels attending to the scene and they were grieving also. The mother died shortly thereafter, but before she did, she asked the little boy to forgive them and to pray as there is a God. She then took her last breath and died.

Time seemed to fast forward again and now this little boy seemed much older. He went to the floor boards and gathered a pistol and some money hidden from the soldiers. He reluctantly packed some things as he was shaking and crying for his papa and mama.

Me: "How can God watch this and not burn with anger? The other things were accidents except for the first. How can this be allowed to happen?"

Angel: "Erin, you do not know God and His purposes. You are not God, so do not judge Him."

Me: "I am both grieved and angry as those children could have just as easily been mine. This reminds me of that teenager in the closet. Was this recent?"

Angel: "Erin, you cannot judge until you have seen the entire picture. God knows the beginnings from the end and the end from the beginning. Now come."

The Angel reached for my hand and instantly I was in a place twenty years before the time we were just at. It was winter again and in northern Russia or something like this.

I saw a little boy about four years old and he had been abandoned by his parents. He was sickly and the parents left him as they were both uncaring and the father was often drunk and hurt the boy.

Eventually this boy was left in a small town to fend for himself until a man with evil intent took the boy into his house. There, the boy was severely abused even as the man drew him back to health. The little boy became quite bitter and angry.

There were little girls from the village that seemed happy and this angered him greatly and he grew to hate women. The boy's thoughts at night were sometimes hate and other times tears and grief. All the while, the old man continued to abuse the boy.

As this boy turned around twelve years old, he decided that it was time to do something when the old man told him he would kill him while he slept. The old man was also abusing some other boys and giving their parents vodka and money in exchange for this. I then saw unspeakable things that made me want to vomit again.

The twelve year old boy gathered up the other boys and they killed the old man. He later found out that the parents reported the boys for murder, so the twelve year old gathered up the other boys and ran. I saw these boys together for years and they drank at a young age, but they were all dependent on the now older boy. The group eventually joined the army so they could be fed.

Me: "Lord, are these the soldiers? Is this what happened to them to make them be able to do these horrible things?"

Angel: "Erin, now you are beginning to understand the roots of hate and you are not a judge for good reason."

I was grieved, yet I was so thankful that my life was easy in comparison as this was not that long ago.

Instantly I was taken to a death camp in Poland during the time of Nazi rule. I saw a train pulling into the station and Jewish citizens being formed into two long lines. Young men and healthy older men were in one line and the elderly, pregnant women, children, handicapped and women with babies were in another line.

The ones in the healthy line were imprisoned and used as workers. However, the other line was targeted for extermination and immediate death. However, I simply cannot give more details as to go there again would literally make my heart sick. The mothers were singing a song to keep the children calm and I saw blossoming trees as it was spring here.

The Angel showed me an inscription in one of the walls of the prisoner's cells. These words were scratched into the wall, but I could not understand the script. However, when the Angel waved his arm, I could then read it as if it was in English.

Script: "I believe in the sun even when it is not shining. I believe in love even when I do not feel it. I believe in God even when He is silent."

I began to cry.

Me: "Please take me to Jesus. Please, I have questions."

Instantly I was taken up to God's Garden in Heaven. I was in the pasture of God next to the River of Life. My sick stomach was instantly and thankfully healed once I arrived here. I ran over to the river and jumped right in.

The stones, really jewels, at the bottom of the river bed sparkled. The sunlight was spectacular as the stones from the river bed created dancing diamonds of rainbows on the surface of the water.

Me: Crying. "Oh God, forgive my pouting and forgive my rants. Oh Lord, there is none like You and I am forever grateful."

I sat on the river bank and the grass was so soft. I moved the palm of my hand over the blades of grass and they seemed to hum. I listened closer and sure enough they were humming. What is Heaven that even the grass worships and sings to God?

I lifted my hands and praised God for Heaven. I sang several hymns and I noticed that my voice is beautiful here in Heaven if not remarkably so. I felt safe and refreshed again and all of my troubles were now a distant memory. After some time, I finally spoke to the Lord 'in the air'.

Me: "Lord, You have said, 'Be still and know that I am God.' The first time You spoke to me in 1983, that is what You said. I was barely twenty years old. Lord, this was thirty one years ago. Now You have taken me here and I am forever Yours. Please forgive my foolishness."

I felt a hand on my shoulder and it was Jesus. He sat down beside me on the bank of the river.

Jesus: "I am glad you came, Erin."

Me: "Lord, it has been a difficult time, but it is nothing compared to what the Angel showed me. I am so sorry."

Jesus: He reached over and held me. "It is okay, Erin. Do you understand what you were shown and why?"

Me: "Sort of, but not really."

Jesus: "Before I answer you, think about what you were shown. What did you come away with?"

I thought through all of what I had seen for quite some time as the Lord downloaded everything into my memory again.

Me: "I guess at first I was grieved, but then I became angry. Soon after this, I wanted to pronounce judgment. However, now I am just empty and I have nothing, Lord."

Jesus: "Then allow Me, Erin. Who do you believe I am? Do you believe I am a loving Lord? Do you believe God is just? Can you trust My love and God's judgment?"

Me: "I do not understand it as I try to wrap myself around it. I try to contain it, but I am not capable. I cannot see the end from the beginning nor can I see the beginning from the end. I only see my portion and my circle as I am not You, Lord. While Your grace abounds, mine is not like this."

Jesus: "Tell Me then how you felt?"

Me: "At first I wanted to save, then I wanted to kill and even murder and then I was empty."

Jesus: Smiling. "So you wanted to play God, save and then judge without all of His knowledge?"

Me: "Lord, I am not qualified to save, but only point to You My Savior. I am not qualified to judge as I am not God on the Throne nor do I work in His courts. You just took me on a rollercoaster of emotions. I felt terror, grief, anger and mourning. Now it is much better if I simply remain silent."

Jesus: Laughing sympathetically. "Erin, is this new to God? Is any of this new to God?"

Me: "No, of course not."

Jesus: "Those who do not see the unseen cannot judge as there is a glass ceiling over the Earth and there is nothing new under the sun. The enemy lives, but is soon to be removed. Erin, your Savior lives and is never to be removed."

"Your God reigns so do not worry about tomorrow. I will lead you as in Psalm 23: 'God is within you and you will not fail. God will help you at the break of day. I will send signs and help.'

"Now this is enough for today. I will have you go deeper into these stories to find a simple key. You have a friend that knows this. Now when trouble comes, where do you look?"

Me: "I look up, right?"

Jesus: Laughing. "Yes, Erin, but please do not worry as you are loved. Come to Me, those who are weary, and I will give you rest."

Me: "Lord, I am weary."

Jesus: "Rest in Me, Erin, for the battle is God's. Now pray and be still."

He smiled and hugged me.

Dream over...

Dream 124 – God’s Garden for Children

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day, for my children and their health and for my close family and friends whom You have sent to pray and encourage us. I feel peace and healing coming. Thank You also for keeping my middle son from the sickness that is going around in his school right now.

A friend recently reminded me that Your grace is sufficient. This has been repeating in my heart via the Holy Spirit and is now etched there. Thank You, Lord, for sending me this wise counsel.

My dreams the last couple of nights have been about the oncoming deception. In one of these dreams, I saw a pot of boiling water over an open fire. I was then reminded that a frog dropped in boiling water will quickly jump out, but that a frog placed in a cool pot slowly brought to a boil will not even realize it is being cooked.

You have shown me that the coming deception is like this and that the world is currently in a giant pot of water being brought to boil. So many people have no clue what is happening right now, so please help them, Lord.

My other dream last night was of a giant dome. Inside this dome, people could go into these chambers and receive an ‘anti-aging treatment’. People flocked in droves to receive these treatments for eternal youth and many all they had in order to go into these chambers.

This seemed similar to the Nazi death camps where there were two lines. One of these lines was for those who were deemed weak and the other line was for those who were deemed strong. However, the main difference in this particular dream was that everything was white, including the walls, floors, equipment, lab coats and everything else.

In this dream, people were being told that they were being separated according to their spiritual beliefs so that they could play the proper music while they went into these chambers. One of these lines claimed to believe in Jesus, although they seemed ashamed, but also included any Jew.

The other line contained a wide variety of beliefs and excluded those who were either Jewish or had sworn allegiance to Jesus. The people in this line for the 'wide gate' religions then went into these chambers and were granted young, but fake versions, of their glorified bodies.

It was a deception though as their bodies were still dying even though they looked youthful. I saw demons all around these individuals and they were completely surrounded. The only requirement for this new youthful look was to appear and testify for others to come to the chambers.

However, the other line was a totally different story. Anyone who was Jewish or had pleaded their allegiance to Jesus lost their head. All of this looked so real, I became sickened watching this unfold and how clever this deception was.

While my glorified state in Heaven is easily way above this fake version, if I did not know about Heaven or Jesus, I simply would not know what to look for. Regardless, I pray that we are far removed before this happens.

With time passing so quickly, this seemed like it was not that far away. I had some questions about what I had seen. Is this structure being built right now? Was this a type of football stadium in the USA or was this somewhere else?

Lord, I pray this very day that if there is anything more I can do to please make my road a bit easier to walk. Please keep us healthy, protected and far removed from the coming chaos or for that matter the current chaos so I can be free to hear from You more clearly and spread the good news.

Lord, please bless my friends abundantly with supernatural open Heavens over them. Grant all of them supernatural gifts straight from the Throne. I ask that these be used as witnessing tools before the coming deception. Lord, I am requesting You to activate and equip Your saints with the supernatural ability to witness and stand for You just on appearances alone.

Lord, You told me I could ask for up to one half of Your Kingdom. Well, now I am calling in Your request so that we can testify and direct those to the true 'Fountain of Youth', the River of Life in Heaven. Please, Lord, answer my request, petition and prayer this very day, in Jesus' Name.

Jesus: "Erin, come up."

Today I was on a beautiful overlook, but this time it appeared as if I was viewing a different valley than usual. While I could still see the City of God, I could see I was in the northern valley. As I looked down, I could see stripes upon stripes of color bands on the valley floor and acres and acres of tulips and this took my breath away.

Off to the left, I could see something that looked like a massive Japanese Garden, but there were huge trees. I wanted to go there and explore and immediately, just with the mere desire of my heart, I was there. I questioned how this happened, but knew it was God and this is Heaven.

Wow! As I stood in this garden, I noticed that it was not specific to Japanese culture, but very similar. The floor of the garden was soft green velvet moss and there were chiseled stones of pearl to walk on. There around me were giant trees similar to the earthly version of a weeping willow, but there were flowers of every kind of color on them.

Indeed, the trees in this garden looked like they were fountains pouring out flowers. The pearl stones I was walking on came up to a blossoming massive tree and there was a bench that circled the entire base. This bench could easily seat twelve people and I must have been grinning from ear to ear and my heart was racing at the beautiful sight.

To my right, I then saw something like a path through a tunnel of flowering vines that opened up to a small lake. To my left was a miniature village or replica of a village and was made up of little white stones, bricks and wooden buildings. The tiny village had a little street of gold, small street lights and a groomed landscape.

There were details that literally took my breath away as I peeked inside the little buildings and saw furniture. There were beds, bedding, paintings and everything else I could think of and this made me smile and laugh. While this was not Japanese in style, it was truly amazing and was perfectly balanced with the scenery.

As a child, I remembered seeing something like this at the Smithsonian Institute. As I walked further, I smiled as I saw other little villages as well. I could also tell that the flowers here were forever blossoming and that this was not a winter place at all. As I took my sandals off to put my feet into the soft velvet moss, I suddenly heard giggling. However, when I turned and looked around, I could not see anyone there.

I was wearing a beautiful white gown of linen and had beautiful long blonde hair, but this time there was no braids in my hair. I just love my Heavenly state and if I could feel just twenty percent as good as this on Earth like I do here in Heaven, I would be so encouraged.

I decided to make my way to the left along the pearl stepping stones. The breeze was slight so everything seemed to be alive and I realized that this was because all of it was alive. The fragrance was so light and airy that it was perfect, but not intoxicating.

This was so perfectly Heavenly that the scent triggered a distant memory from my past, but I was not certain what that was anymore as this was far too interesting. I saw movement up ahead in one of the little villages and there were baby chicks with feathers and fuzz dyed several different colors. Even these little chicks sang beautifully.

I do not know the species these chicks were, but they were so cute. Then I saw little baby bunnies and kittens, as well as puppies and other baby animals. Tears began to stream down my cheeks as I stepped on these pearl stones as this was truly one of the most beautiful places I had ever seen and was far greater than anything I ever imagined was even possible.

I remembered as a child when my parents would fight violently with breaking things that I would lie in bed and imagine what it would be like to be in another place like Heaven. In my imagination, I remembered that this was exactly it!

As I continued to walk, I saw small pools of light blue. The water was shallow and just perfect for wading and splashing. I saw beautiful butterflies with shimmering colors and dragonflies that made music with their wings.

Me: "Lord, where am I in Heaven? Whose place is this? This was obviously designed by a Master Gardener, but I can see that it is maintained by gardeners so skilled that...well, I simply cannot even describe all of it."

As I walked, I could see acres and acres of this Garden stretch out before me. I saw hedges shaped like animals and an area with something like kites and hot air balloons. I then saw something like fields of Lego structures, but completely state of the art with moving parts and incredible colors.

I saw spinning objects suspended in midair by blow holes in the ground. I saw fountains of water squirting out of the ground and creating archways of light similar to some of the fountains in my Heavenly Home.

I ran up to another overlook with my sandals in my hand with amazing speed. As I reached the top and turned to look, I suddenly realized that the entire valley stretched for miles and miles and miles and were all just like this. Over my shoulder and beyond, I saw God's Mansion and figured out that I was in the northeast part of God's Garden.

Me: "Wow, Lord, where are You? Please join me. I miss You."

I sat down on this overlook with my legs dangling over the ledge. As I loved over this beautiful valley, I realized that this was a perfect place for children and so much better than any place I could have ever seen designed.

There were so many cultures represented in this Garden, but everything was completely perfected so that any child would love to explore. There were gardens, rocks, ponds, waterfalls, wading pools and baby animals and these are only the things that I can describe based on an earthly relationship to something here.

There was more, so much more, and I could see that this place is so amazing, delightful and massive that a child could be here from birth to age eighteen and still never explore all of it. I saw mysterious things too, but again I can only describe things we can understand, or should say things I can draw a picture of as what I saw was beyond words.

I saw rainbows that literally had a starting point and an ending point. Each of these rainbows even held treasures untold at the end. One area had trees illuminated with sparkling lights of every color, along with fireflies and glow worms. However, these 'insects' were not gross, but beautiful and delightful even up close.

Suddenly I wanted to be a child as I missed all of these delights and had to grow up so very quickly. I began to miss what I did not have and remembered that I had always hoped for better. As a little girl, I simply had wanted safety first, but then also happiness, love, joy, laughter and peace.

I wanted fun and friends like every kid, but I also really had wanted parents who loved each other the most of all. In hindsight, I really had wanted Jesus, but I did not know this or Him back then. I just did not know Him and no one told me about Him.

Tears began to fall again as it seems that this is all I do these days. Here in Heaven, the beauty is so majestic that even a 'manly man' on Earth would weep. You just cannot help but be amazed at the beauty here. You cannot believe how quickly humility sets in from all of this!

Seriously, there are trees that are always blossoming and baby animals that remain babies. While certainly not all animals stay babies here, I could not help but think that perhaps it is the child-like desires of our hearts that this is how it will be here. After all, baby animals grow so quickly and innocence leaves so quickly on Earth, but it is not fleeting here in Heaven.

I felt a hand on my shoulder and I looked up to see Jesus. He was laughing as He sat down next to me on the overlook.

Jesus: "So, Erin, are you enjoying this?"

I spun around and hugged Him with a huge smile on my face.

Me: "Lord, is there nothing You will not do to display Your immense love for us? This is all just so incredible."

Jesus: "I knew it was time to bring you back here. Remember those rainbows I gave you right before I took you on that dark journey? Do you understand more now?"

Me: "I had forgotten all the trouble, Lord. When I saw all of this, I realized yet again that I cannot even begin to understand Your ways. I cannot judge nor will I so quickly again, so please forgive me in advance as I am most certain I will be angry and have a human desire to see justice for all that has been done to the children on Earth."

Jesus: "Hmm, yes, this is a good reason for you to remain human and not be God. Your ways focus on what you can see before you only and you relate your own experiences to formulate or inflict judgment. This is not always with good results."

Me: "Yes, I am not to judge. Although You have not removed all of my obstacles, this requires Your divine judgment as mine would not be Godly."

Jesus: Laughing. "Erin, then once and for all let them go and let God. It really is just that simple."

Me: "Yes, Lord, but sometimes simply impossible for me."

Jesus: Laughing. "Okay, so back to your previous dream where you were shown so many things happening to different people where lives were lost, including the lives of children. Do you have an idea of why you were just shown all of this?"

Me: "Well, something that just occurred to me is that all of these people made mistakes which cost lives, but these were accidents though. Some paid with lives lost and others were at the wrong place at the wrong time. As a result, these adults carry heavy burdens and large yokes of guilt.

"Then the last three scenarios seemed unrelated, but the patterns made me angry. Then the final display of the Holocaust simply left me empty and speechless. I quickly went from sympathy and grief for the accidents to rage, anger and certainly wanting justice for the injustice I saw.

"Regardless, this entire show of tragedy still confuses me greatly. Why did You take all of us there through my descriptions? I did not even give all of the details of what I had seen as they were way too graphic to put in writing. Nonetheless, these visuals are in my head and I have to ask You to please remove them."

He turned towards me and showed me such love that I started to weep.

Jesus: "Erin, I understand more than you can know. Sadly, you have seen but a small fragment of atrocities which happen every day on Earth. However, I have been here since the beginning and I have seen it all as God sees all.

"While 'things hidden' is a term for man, just know that there is nothing hidden from God, angels or even the enemy at times as Heaven is above the Earth. While Earth is visible and you have seen it, just remember that no man can see from the lap of God and that no man has seen God.

"Even you, Erin, have not seen the face of God, but only His Throne. Do not listen to anyone who claims to have seen God. Remember how God appeared to man over the course of history as this is a gauge to witness against deception.

"Now understand then what forces are at work as they are forces which you cannot see. Did you know that man also holds yokes and burdens for things done by the unseen enemy without man realizing it? When you remember what occurs in God's Courts, also remember what occurred with Job there.

"There are other things also, but also remember that anyone who claims to be the most humble is clearly not. This too is a gauge and is obvious and in plain sight. Now, you have some yokes you are still carrying like those who were falsely accused and the parents who made difficult choices. It is time to let go of this final burden."

Me: "You are right, Lord. I have forgiven the enemy involved, but I have not forgiven myself for being so stupid and dim-sighted at times. I too have caused my children to be inflicted and they were innocent. I just could not be with them all of the time.

"Lord, if only I had heeded Your warnings before they were born, I could have made different choices. When I see the disabilities of my boys, I blame myself every single time and simply cannot forgive myself. Lord, please help me."

Jesus: "Finally, Erin, you have come clean."

Me: "Lord, I was not trying to hide anything. Please just heal my boys, Lord, and please heal me too. Free us before you take us Home. My daughter is still very much like a child and she is as I have kept her in joy. However, my boys have a memory of what the enemy has done to them and it has been a struggle with them."

Jesus: "Erin, you have nailed yourself on the Cross about this. Do you believe that God does not already know? Do you believe you can work out a better outcome by remaining in your state of judgment against yourself? God has seen all things, Erin, so let Him be the judge and let Me save you."

Me: "Lord, am I unsaved?"

Jesus: Laughing. "Of course you are saved. Erin, this is silly now and I will not have this talk coming from you. Let your words be few now and let Me speak tenderly to you. Do you think I have not seen your beginnings? Do you think I have not seen your mistakes? Do you think I cannot also see what happens in the unseen realm?"

"There is so much more and I have compassion because I can see the entire story. Erin, you are loved. You saw only the tragedy in the lives of all of those people, but you did not see the outcome. You did not see the bad soldiers drop to their knees and sob like babies when an angel of God appeared to them.

"Can I tell you that there is no greater sorrow than when a man who believes he is beyond redemption sees God? There is no measure for the guilt that those men suddenly carried when they realized that God existed and sent an angel to them. They knew that they were clearly guilty of their crimes and that they could no longer hide. Erin, the outcome in this instance will surprise you and you would not believe it.

"Now the whole world has carried the guilt of the Holocaust, but did you know that there were millions of angels sent even here? Do you know that the line of the weakest that you saw almost all reside here now? Sadly, not all of them are here though as many still would not accept their Savior.

"Do you know that very few from the 'stronger' line could ever accept Me? However, there is more, Erin, so much more. Just know that I was sent to be the Savior and that there is, was and has been a need for this from 'The Fall'. Even though this was foretold of in Scripture in advance, I was still not whom they were expecting. They had expected a conquering king instead."

Me: "But, Lord, You are a King!"

Jesus: He was laughing and nudged me. "Yes. If only I had ridden into Jerusalem originally on a white horse as the donkey was unexpected!"

Me: "Well, soon You will be coming on that horse."

Jesus: "Yes, but at first I will not be recognized until every knee finally bows to Me."

Me: "Oh, Lord, they missed out on You and I had almost missed out on You too. Lord, You are so wise and Your ways so much greater that my humanness cannot contain Your vast grace and Your amazing works."

Jesus: "Perhaps this is not your place to. How about you stop trying to figure Me out and just remain who you are as You delight Me?" He nudged me again.

Me: "Lord, You delight me and You are just so wonderful. You love me despite me. Here I wanted to murder those bad soldiers and You had another plan. Who knows what You are up to, but it is always divinely perfect. Please forgive me for my judgments as if I had knowledge. I cannot wait until You restrain the blacksmith."

Jesus: "Oh, Erin, make no mistake, the blacksmith is restrained. You know this as you recently spoke to someone close to you about this. The enemy on Earth is under God's restrictions and as hard as the enemy tries he cannot disobey God. The fallen have been restrained underground as an example to the enemy.

"Now, the lake of fire is a place and when the enemy is cast down there, he will no longer be restricted, but he will be free to do his will there. Now this will be a place of unspeakable horrors and simply unimaginable as earthly atrocities are only a small fraction compared to this.

"While the enemy is allowed and granted some small atrocities here on Earth so that people desire a Savior, Heaven or God, this is not the plan of the enemy as the enemy simply wants to harden hearts away from Me."

Me: "Lord, I get it. The enemy is free to terrorize in his own domain, but on Earth he is not free to do this."

Jesus: "Make no mistake, Erin, either way he is not free. Now let's give him no more time here. Let's look at something special."

He turned my attention back to this beautiful children's Paradise.

Me: "Lord, I want to spend time here too as it is simply wonderful."

Jesus: "You will come here too, Erin. So, why do you think that I showed you all of this today?"

Me: "I do not know."

Jesus: "To show you that the children you saw die now play here. The parents who come here will later get to see their children play here and grow up here. The children will grow to be like others too."

Me: "You mean they will have a chance to have a normal childhood and grow? Then will they be like a twenty five year old for all of eternity?"

Jesus: Laughing. "Yes, Erin, something like this. Did you think there are children who never grow up here? Erin, you get younger here, so can they not grow older here?"

Me: Laughing. "Oh, Lord, this is awesome! My kids were worried that they would miss out on being teenagers and growing. They thought they would instantly be around the age of twenty five years old."

Jesus: "Hmm, that does not sound like Heaven. Would God have them miss out on being a teenager? Does God make 'mistaken years'?"

Me: Laughing. "As You know, Lord, my teenage years were difficult and not very fun."

Jesus: "Hmm, yes, Erin, but You did not have Me or a perfected body and a renewed mind. It will be a blast for them, Erin."

Me: "So You have special things planned for them too?"

Jesus: "There is no lack in Heaven, Erin, and all of it is perfected fun and not sinful. Are you doubting as you are thinking Heaven should be more serious?"

Me: "Oh no Lord, it is just that I am excited because many of us were incorrectly taught that there is no fun here, but only boredom. I am so sorry about this, Lord."

Jesus: Laughing. "I am so glad that those people still have a special place here in Heaven, but they need some reprogramming on the heart of God first. God delights in laughter and especially the laughter of children. Erin, I laugh, but this is not a spiritual gift but rather a reaction birthed from joy and love."

Me: "Hmm, not holy laughter as some churches have?"

Jesus: Smiling. "Well, these churches have certainly taken laughter to the extreme, but with help from others not appointed by Me. Pray, Erin, as the people are in search of Me and more of Me. However, they too can find Me as it is all about the heart. Blessed are those who ask for a heart of Gold."

Me: I began to cry. "Lord, I had no idea what I was asking for when I asked for a heart of Gold. However, I know for sure that I do not have it completely here on Earth, but I can be certain that when we all dwell here with You, we will be perfected and in Your full glory. This has been so difficult at times, but I still would not trade a thing if it meant I would miss even one second of You."

Jesus: "Then, Erin, there are no accidents along the road to find Me. I was there holding your hand the entire time. Angels were there to remind the enemy of his restrictions. When you prayed, God received your prayers. You are loved. Now, there is more to come."

He hugged me and kissed the top of my head.

Note from Erin:

Picture of Erin's Childhood Note in the reply below...

I felt the Lord also wanted me to attach a little poem I hand wrote when I was just eight years old. You can see by what I wrote that I was a 'little adult' already by that time. I recently found this poem when I reached for a box from my storage unit a week before last. You can see that this was a painful little box, but you will also see why the Garden in this dream was so perfect for me.

Death

I roam a castle dark and near,
As though I do now appear,
The death I see is now up here,
As though about to shed a tear,
I scream, I scream,
Because, my dear, oh dear,
she's dead.

Dear mommy,
I hope you like this poem
I did it my self.
Love Erin

Dream 125 – Paradise & Tropical Beaches

08-10-2016, 01:01 PM

Dear Father,

Thank You as You are just so amazing and so intricate in detail and glorious in Your displays. God, how can You be all around me working continuously, yet I cannot see You? How can You be so quiet, yet loud at the same time?

Lord, You are a wonderful mystery and I adore You. Even though I am in great pain right now, You give me millions of reasons to be joyful and You are so incredible. Thank You for my trials as You show me that when You hear my cries, You send help.

Forgive me for complaining and becoming discouraged when the pending method of my delivery from the desert was not as I expected. Lord, I love You so much and even disappointment does nothing to diminish this now.

Jesus: "Erin, come up."

I woke up looking up at a beautiful, sparkling blue sky. I was startled for a moment and felt slightly disoriented at first. As I sat up, I saw that I was on the most beautiful tropical beach I had ever seen. I suddenly realized that I was in a different part of Heaven than I had ever been before.

As I studied the sand, I noticed that it was just like sugar. However, the sand was not like regular sugar, but more like fine baker's sugar. I picked up some sand in my hand and my eyes were allowed to view it 'microscopically'.

As I did, I saw the richest of minerals, including diamonds, crystals and, yes, even a little salt. As sometime happens during these visits, I am not certain how I knew all of this, but somehow I just did.

I reached down to taste some of the salt in my mouth. While the sand did not have a strong flavor, it did have a small hint of sea salt. I noticed that the sand was airy and not at all heavy.

I scanned to my right and there I saw beautiful trees, including a variety of palm trees, mangrove and other tropical trees. There were also beautiful flowers and I saw almost every variety of my favorites including bird of paradise, white ginger, red ginger, golden trumpets, orchids, flaming flowers and paper flowers.

I could also see a multitude of fruit-bearing trees including pomegranate, pineapple, banana, coconut and kiwi. There were many other fruits and flowers which have no earthly counterpart to allow me to describe them, but they were all incredibly colorful.

Tears began to stream down my cheeks again as I noticed that the ocean expanse in front of me was breathtakingly beautiful. I saw dolphins in the distance and noticed that there were several different schools and varieties. These dolphins looked as if they were playing.

As I brought myself up to my feet, I looked down at what I was wearing and began to laugh. While I was still wearing a white gown, it was 'appropriate' for the climate. The robe twisted and went around my neck like a halter dress and was just above my knees. However, I should note that I was still very modestly dressed.

My legs and arms were so beautiful and I had a deep tan with no flaws. My toenails were like opalescent pearls. I laughed when I noticed that on my right ankle was a beautiful golden chain with tiny pearls and gold seashells inlaid with emerald stones. The craftsmanship was beyond Earth.

On my right wrist were the gold replicas of my earthly silver bangles, but glorified and gifted to me by God as these bangles were no longer hammered, dented and scratched. My hair was in a very long thick braid woven with gold strands and pulled forward over my torso. The braid was long and came to my hip area.

My muscle structure was perfected as I was not overly muscular, but perfectly defined. Please forgive me for taking so much time to focus on this, but I felt so wonderful in this state. It once again reminded me of when I was about 25 years old in my best shape, but this was so much better than even my best on Earth.

I ran down to the ocean and the water was like bathwater. The temperature outside was perfect and about 85 degrees Fahrenheit. This was a bit warmer than some areas in Heaven, but still not too warm. While the air was humid, it was still perfect. Again, not heavy, but rather very light and it was very easy to breathe.

The beach was very shallow and the ocean was calm. The water was the color of all my favorite shades of blue and green all mixed together. As I waded out in the water, I began to worry for a moment if I needed to watch for jellyfish or anything poisonous.

Then I began to laugh as I remembered there was nothing poisonous, hidden, scary, dangerous, venomous or deadly in Heaven. Curious, I reached down to scoop up some of the 'ocean' water to taste it. I was delighted as this was a blend of lightly salted yet sweetened water. This was not bitter like sea water on Earth.

I was so glad to see places like this in Heaven. I stood there for some time and I knew that I was truly in Paradise. This peaceful cove was the most beautiful place I have ever seen and the fragrances were simply incredible. Some of the beaches I had been to in Florida had a sulfuric smell or decaying-beach smell to things, but this Heavenly beach had nothing like that at all.

As I waded in the water and began to walk down the beach to my left, I noticed that the ocean was completely calm, the tidal current was soft and the waves were small. While the sun was still warm, it was no longer burning. There was a gentle breeze or a zephyr, which is a west wind.

I walked for some time praising God for what would someday be Home. Strangely, I already felt more at Home and safe in Heaven than I ever did on Earth. As I looked around me and even as I write, the beauty here makes my heart skip as this was all truly breathtaking.

I walked and praised God and thanked Him for this beautiful Paradise that He has prepared for us. How could anyone ever serve another God? If a photo of just this place and the promise of it was hanging on every wall in every earthly household, well, surely every knee would bow and every tongue confess that Jesus is Lord.

Just looking at the earthly version of this should have pointed people to God on the Throne, but, sadly, science explains it away or credit is given to foreign gods. Very few thank God for sending Jesus.

As I walked, I began to hear something like calypso music and I laughed when I realized that even this was praise music. I loved it and it stood to Heavenly reason that eternity should contain the glorified version or magnified of every earthly Paradise. Come to think of it, I will need to use the word "Paradise" sparingly now in reference to earthly places as Paradise is Heaven and Heaven is Paradise.

I walked along the shallow coast for some time and eventually I rounded a point. On the other side, I saw amazing Mansions with one in particular standing out to me. This beautiful Home met the ocean like the ocean was the pool for the house.

There were steps of chiseled marble, honed but not polished, leading right into the ocean. There were tiers leading up to the main Home where the second tier contained large sofas with comfortable cushions.

Picture of Beach House Patio in response below...

I was fascinated by this Home and the square stones led up to where I had been walking. At the base of a large palm tree, I saw large square planters with flowers that were something similar to large pomegranate-like fruits lining the square stepping stones.

There were small fountains coming from the ocean floor that jetted in arched columns over the path of the stones. On the sandy beach surrounding this Home, I saw beautiful seashells. These were big and perfect ones that were the rare types on Earth.

I stepped up on one of the stepping stones. As I looked up toward the House, I saw a table set on one of the upper tiers.

Me: "Holy Spirit, is Jesus up there? Are You there, Lord?"

Just as I spoke His Name, He appeared on the balcony by the table and waved for me to come up. I ran up the steps from the ocean. An angel of the Lord greeted me and took me up the stairs to the terrace where Jesus was. He was standing by the balcony as I ran to Him, hugged Him and then thanked Him.

Jesus: Smiling. "It is so great to see you moving."

He was wearing a white tunic and some pants. His skin was dark and His beard was perfectly groomed. His teeth were white as snow and His eyes were the color of the tropical ocean; sea green, green and blue. He noticed I was studying Him and He laughed.

Me: "Lord, thank You for this. With all of the pain, I was praying You would take me to a beautiful place. This, Lord, is so incredible that I could live here forever."

Jesus: "Oh, this is a good thing, Erin, as you will live here forever."

He was laughing as I realized I had stated the obvious.

Me: "Lord, thank You for showing me this part of Heaven as this is Paradise and truly amazing."

Jesus: "Yes, Erin, but even this is still only a small fraction of what is planned. Now, come, let's have communion."

With His hand on my shoulder, He moved me to the table set behind us. The table was set with beautiful food, breads, fruits, cheeses, fish and other tropical-looking fare. He took out some warm flat bread and tore off a piece to give to me. He then took a piece and placed it into His mouth.

Me: "Lord, thank You for all of this. I am so blessed to be here with You. When I take this bread, I never want to forget what You have done."

Jesus: "While this is good, you should remember that when you sit here with Me that you no longer need to remember My body through bread nor will this wine represent My blood as I am here with you." He reaches over and takes my hand. "Erin, I call you friend."

Me: "I love hearing this, though You must have many more friends."

Jesus: "Yes, Erin, I do up here, but I do not have many down on Earth. Those who claim to love Me go no further to spend time with Me and certainly not enough for Me to call them friend."

Me: "Well, they are missing out as You are even more fascinating than I had ever imagined. You are funny, wise, patient, kind, loving and powerful, yet humble. You are so many things and You never give up on me."

Jesus: Laughing. "Well, good, then it is settled; you can plead My case."

Me: "Oh, I will and I do all the time even when I am in pain, although at times I do grumble."

Jesus: "Yes, you do, but just remember that this will not last long as I have a plan here to bring you closer. I can see in your eyes that you are wearing down and discouraged."

Me: "I am, Lord. Here though every part of my body is alive and I have no pain, but great mobility. I can hardly wait to be here as I want to run up and down the beach and swim with dolphins."

As I said this, a school of dolphins was playing in the water right outside this beach Home. I laughed at the sight and Jesus smiled at my reaction.

Jesus: "What do you think of all that you see around you today?"

Me: "Lord, I thought there would be no ocean and no marine life. I had never seen the ocean before in Heaven, so I never dreamt this even existed."

While I had seen God's Home, the Golden City, a few valleys and even snowy peaks, I never imagined Heaven would contain such a place as this. This is all just so perfect."

Jesus: "Remember that Heaven must be large enough to contain saints from the beginning of creation. This is much larger than you think. Man thinks only in terms of current population. So if you imagine that very few will be coming in comparison, then you go back generations, well then you begin to understand."

Me: "I am not a math whiz, but I bet this is much larger than the Earth because I barely see anyone."

Jesus: "Your purpose here is to see what God has prepared for those who love Him. Your purpose has not been to converse with the dead nor will it be. You have Me and I am alive and well. You have seen those who have gone before you celebrating here. You have even met some who know who you are and one day you will call many here friends, good friends even, but your job now is to spread Good News."

Me: "I know, Lord, I am a travel agent."

Jesus: Laughing. "Funny, Erin. Yes, here you have tickets you are passing out to Paradise. Because of God, I have secured all of the expenses as God has paid the price and arranged for you to come here for a luxury vacation which never has to end because your expense account is huge. So now, Erin, physically stand on a street corner and hand out all expense paid trips to Paradise and tell me how people will react."

He was laughing and I was laughing too at the thought of this. I was shaking my head as I replied.

Me: "Lord, this is what people would say, 'What's the catch?' I will say, 'Only that you would take Jesus as your Lord and Savior.'" Then I became extremely sad. "Lord, people would throw down the tickets or hand them back. They would not do something so simple to get so much."

He handed me some fruit and smiled at me knowing that what I had said was true.

Jesus: "Erin, are you truly surprised?"

Me: "No, Lord, as even my Christian friends who have turned away from me in this season would talk the talk, but would probably not show up on the day scheduled as they would be too busy."

Jesus: "Erin, do not be sad as everything has been planned from the beginning. God, My Father, looks at the heart of a man and calls those to Him. How wonderful for some who come now, right?"

Me: "They are missing out as the Bible does not even describe how wonderful You are. The disciples knew You and they followed You, so You must have been such an amazing man to have them listen to You and drop their nets. Lord, if others saw You like You are here, all would chase after You."

Jesus: Laughing. "Well, 'Travel Agent', continue to write the brochure. Now, are you saying that I am no longer amazing?" He was kidding with me.

Me: "Lord, You are so fun to be with there is no wonder why the children love You so much. Not only that, but You actually enjoy their company and they know it. Most adults do not enjoy the company of children."

Jesus: "Well, you know how I feel about children as you have seen the place God has prepared for them here. They will swim with dolphins and there will be no fear. They will surf and there will be no fear. They will explore exciting places and be filled with wonder. They will come to know the heart of God. They are always loved and safe here."

Me: Tears began to stream down my cheeks. "Lord, 'no fear' is so hard for me to imagine. Just looking around, I understand how our lips will constantly praise You and that our hearts will always be God's. There will never be any doubt as our gratitude will be immense and our humbleness at the sights here will bring tears. There will be no measure to the joy we will have here."

Jesus: "Now you understand what man was created for to begin with. Erin, it was to praise and worship God."

Me: "Lord, I pray I never forget what God has done by sending You to rescue me. I did not even think You knew who I was and where to find me."

Jesus: Laughing. "You will recall what you endured on Earth and will testify to the love of God, but you will no longer have the negative feelings about what happened here. When a woman has labor, it comes with great pain, but when the baby is born, the woman quickly forgets the pain of the labor because the baby has come.

"Here, it is the same. You remember the race and recall certain things, but the pain is now gone. You will enjoy conversing with friends and family to the truth of events as all recollections will be only of clear truth. On Earth, this is all mainly 'recall', which has many flaws.

"As a result, there will be much healing and confirmation and this will be a cause for celebration. It is hard to understand right now, but you will no longer have a family member change your recollection as only the truth will be revealed."

Me: "Oh, wow, this is awesome as there are so many memories I have which I have wanted information on just to close chapters or 'hills' in my race of life."

Jesus: "When I say My recompense will be with Me and is with Me, what do you think of besides money?"

Me: "Well, we are taught compensation for trouble, but now I see it is more."

Jesus: "Money does not heal, but what does heal is you knowing that God agrees with you that you have suffered. My Father sees what you have been through and now He would like to make right all of your wrongs. He will come as I will come and My reward is with Me."

Me: "Lord, is God sending You our recompense?"

Jesus: "Oh good, Erin, you caught this." I had been watching the dolphins and looking around, so He was kidding with me that maybe I did not notice what He said fully. "I was worried." He started to laugh.

Me: "Forgive me, Lord, but I am just so fascinated by all You have done and the beauty here. You have remembered every detail, even down to the fact that You would make right all the wrongs done unto me on Earth.

"Lord, You have called me friend and taken me here. You have prepared a place for me in Paradise." I was crying now. "How could I want anything more? You are all I need." He reached over and put His hand over mine.

Jesus: "Erin, time is drawing near and soon I will be coming and My recompense will be with Me. Many will take the one-way tickets to Paradise, but many will need to see that it is good first. There has been much deception so just know that the beauty here is not contrary to the Word of God and the beginning.

"Indeed, the fruits of the Spirit are alive here, whereas the opposite of these are bad and do not even exist here. So, Erin, if there is no death or decay here and if there is no fear of an enemy, do you think Heaven will be boring?"

Me: "Oh no, Lord, it is not possible."

Jesus: "Then do not allow the enemy to paint a picture of boredom. Did I say to the thief, 'Today you will join Me in Paradise' and then begin to describe it like this: 'So Paradise is a place of blue skies and clouds. You have an instrument and a white robe. You will enjoy sitting on a cloud and strumming an instrument forever and ever, but you will live in harmony with other saints on their clouds'?"

"If I had said this and it were true, would the thief then say in reply, 'Well, Jesus, I am not sure that sounds very fun, but, given the circumstances and that this cross is kind of painful, well okay take me with You.'" He was laughing.

Me: "Lord, I remember as a little girl that I thought Heaven was just full of bright lights and tunnels and pretty much nothing else. All that has been shown to me here simply never occurred to me based on what was being told."

Jesus: "This is why God started in His Word, 'In the beginning...' Now go back to the Garden of Eden, but remember that this garden was just that and was a garden so small in comparison to here in Heaven.

"Therefore, Erin, be encouraged and do not listen to those with no understanding of Heaven and the heart of God. When God created this garden, it was like Paradise and all was good, but remember that Heaven is so much more."

Me: "I am sure the Garden of Eden was amazing too, Lord, but, wow, this is simply incredible. You have prepared such a beautiful place for us. Lord, the ocean here is Your swimming pool and You do not need to worry about the rising tide."

Jesus: "Oh wait, Erin, there is still low tide as what you are seeing right now is high tide."

Just then, He waved His arm and the water, which was once His swimming pool, was replaced with white sand dotted with large seashells. He could tell I wanted to run down there as He knew I love seashells.

Jesus: Laughing. "Go ahead, Erin, go see."

I ran down the stairs. While I probably could have just imagined myself there and I would have instantly been there, running there instead just seemed so perfect.

Jesus somehow effortlessly kept up with my pace and was laughing as I ran out to the stepping stones and on the new white sandy beach. There were seashells of every kind and I saw a purple clear glass one, a few oysters and a massive conch shell. I was beaming with the biggest grin.

Jesus: "Erin, look at the oysters."

Just then I looked down and two of these oysters opened before me. One of the oysters contained a big white pearl about an inch in diameter and the other oyster contained a rare black pearl about one and a half inches in diameter.

Jesus: "Go ahead, Erin, they are for you."

Me: I was delighted. "Lord, but I do not want to hurt the oyster or kill any animals that may be in the shells."

He came up to me and crouched or bent down next to me.

Jesus: "Erin, they do not die here and these oysters will have more pearls very soon, so do not worry. The seashells are vacant because the animals have found a new shell. They are not confined here and have no worry about a predator."

Just then I saw a cute little blue crab scurry right past us. Even the crab seemed to praise Jesus as it walked by us.

Me: "Lord, I never expected to see all of these things in Heaven, yet more beautiful and perfect than on Earth. While these are amazing on Earth, here they are even glorified. I feel at peace now like I will have time to enjoy the beauty here and I can take this all in. Well, there is just so much to discover and see, I will try for eternity to take it all in."

Jesus: He put His hand on His heart. "I am glad you like it, Erin, as this makes My heart glad."

He smiled and seemed to be really enjoying showing me even more. He stood up and took my hand and instantly we were at a lookout point on a rock south of this beach Home. I could see a southern shore with beautiful Homes, each with their own private cove.

I smiled because I knew people must have prayed for a beautiful Home on a private beach. There were so many different styles, but all seemed very special and specific to each owner.

He pointed my attention to a distant village which was carved into the side of a mountain. The Homes were Mediterranean in style and white. I could see celebrations taking place there.

Me: "Lord, is it a 'holiday' here? What are the celebrations about?"

Jesus: Smiling and laughing. "Erin, there are always special events here as the people here love life and enjoy celebrations. All give thanks to God and this gratitude makes for a wonderful celebration."

He then pointed out to the ocean and I saw a type of high-tech 'regatta race'. I became really excited as I loved to watch these massive catamarans.

Me: "Lord, there is everything here."

Jesus: "No, Erin, just everything good."

Me: "I am still amazed at how high-tech everything is. It is all so fun and is certainly not what most think Heaven will be like."

Jesus: Laughing. "Erin, Heaven has innovation and the God of the Universe created all of this. He also is an Inventor. He loves us and has prepared a place."

He waved His hand and the sun began to set. This made me smile and laugh. The beauty of a sunset here made tears well up in my eyes. I then saw little lights out on the water and a giant barge.

The sun set and I saw that the night sky was incredibly beautiful with millions of stars like diamonds. I could see things normally only available by looking through high powered telescopes. The sky was filled with large colored milky ways and colored stars.

The people then began to cheer as they knew that Jesus was here. As He laughed and waved to them, the barge began to shoot off amazing fireworks. These fireworks were very hard to describe as they were so beautiful.

Jesus: "Erin, now watch this."

The fireworks then paused and all of a sudden there were comets and shooting stars in the sky. The sight was beyond spectacular and Jesus was clearly enjoying the people as they cheered for Him. He just created the greatest galaxy display I had ever seen.

All the people had come to the balconies of their Homes now to watch. Even the dolphins, fish and other creatures stopped in the water to look up. Every time the Son of God moved His hand, a new effect came from the stars.

He made small stars spin and dance. I saw angels illuminate and fly above us in an amazing display of color and light. This was so beautiful that I am crying even as I write as God and Jesus are just so amazing!

I was as speechless as everyone watching as this was the most amazing display in the Universe. You could hear cheers, clapping, signs of wonder and laughter as we watched.

The ocean floor then became illuminated and the water glowed like a swimming pool at night. In the water were all kinds of fluorescent fish and seaweed. There were colors of purple, deep blue, greens and yellows. This was all so amazing.

Schools of dolphins began to dance on the water and clap their fins. I saw sea turtles and other animals praising Jesus. We all watched for easily an earthly two hours as Jesus displayed fireworks greater than anything on Earth.

After He was finished, the crowds cheered and cheered. Then music followed with praise songs to Jesus. The angels sang and some of the finest musicians followed with a concert. I wish you could all see this as it was so epic!

He reached down and took my hand. I felt so small, quiet and content. I never stopped smiling. I realized that Jesus was greater than any rock star AND He saved all of these people and He saved me. As we stood there, passing motor boats would call out to Him and He would laugh and wave. This was the best day ever for me!

Jesus: "Did you enjoy your time today?"

Me: "Lord, You made my month of suffering worth it. You have blessed me so much. I am even more excited to come here now than ever."

Jesus: "I knew you would enjoy this."

Me: "Lord, if I knew you could do all this, I would have asked for this sooner. Of course You could do such things as You are simply incredible."

I was giggling about something, but I was too embarrassed to speak about it and He knew this of course.

Jesus: "Okay, Erin, what are you withholding?"

Me: "Lord, You just showed off."

Jesus: Laughing. "Yes, but it seemed right for the moment."

Me: "Do You do this often?"

Jesus: "Well for the children or when things seem right."

Me: "You are humble though so I hate to use the term 'showoff'."

Jesus: "It is okay, Erin, as this is fun to do."

Me: "Are there some limits in Heaven for man? Clearly man cannot set the stars or display glory like You."

Jesus: "Very observant as this is true. Some areas are God's and this is one of them. Now, do not get Me wrong, Erin, you can say move to the mountain and by faith it can move, but you will not need to do this here.

"You can even imagine yourself across the valley and there you will be. You can achieve other things like this, but only God commands the moon, the stars and the sun."

Me: "This makes me glad, Lord, or we would all be gods in Heaven."

Jesus: "Yes and this was a problem on Earth. So take heart that God is in control here, but you are certainly welcome to praise Him for it."

Me: "Lord, I cannot wait to be here."

Jesus: "Yes, I know, but there is still time. Do not worry about tomorrow as I have prepared a place for you."

Me: "Yes, and here we will be free from pain and fear. Oh Lord, I pray You are coming for us soon."

Jesus: "When I do, there will be a display in the Heavens like no other. This cannot be replicated by the enemy and you will know. Soon you will enjoy a celebration like this with your friends and family and it will be wonderful.

"For now, please continue to trust what I am doing and allowing in your life. There is a reason and one day very soon you will thank Me. You are loved."

Me: I hugged Him. "Thank You, Jesus, You are my Savior and best friend and I am forever blessed by what You have done for us."

Jesus: "Erin, I am not finished and there is so much more."

He looked at me and smiled.

Dream 126 – God’s Garden for Teens

Received Saturday, June 21, 2014

(Formerly known as Heaven 50)

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day, all You have provided and Your immense grace. Your grace is sufficient in my suffering. Lord, this is my season of change, exodus and delivery to a safe place. You have promised me many years ago that You would remove me from the desert.

Since then, I had given up all hope and blamed myself, even condemning myself, for falling for the tricks of my enemies. The hard thing for me is I would do it all again to be with You. It has been a difficult journey, Lord, but I would do it all again just to be near Your Altar.

As I can begin to see the light at the entrance of my cave, I stand amazed and in awe of Your works and Your great love. I am in great physical pain right now, so I know that I am completely in Your hands and at Your great mercy.

I know I need surgery, but I also know that, in a short time and by a miracle, You are going to heal me so I might live out my days on Earth outside of Heaven’s Gate protected by angels.

Recently I saw the pattern of wave after wave of the enemy’s relentless pounding. Where did this truly begin? It began with me, but really with the sins of my main enemy. I had taken a stand against his abuse and did not cover it up as I loved my children and God too much to hide this.

This stand caused me to go from a woman of many friends and social status to a woman despised and broken. I even had one now estranged Christian friend tell me, “Could you not have kept things quiet and allowed the church to handle it?”

Well, no, as I had gone to the church for help for many years at this point and discovered that no one likes broken Christians, even the church as this goes against what most believe about God. Even I had been taught to believe that, once you became a Christian, nothing is impossible and you prosper.

What I learned instead was that Christian sinners do not seem to be accountable. Now, of course, this is not at all true, but this is what many Christians believe. Instead, I had seen the Lord work and I saw something different. I saw the consequences of sin and I became afraid.

Lord, I know who You are and that You want what is best for me, but, because You love my heart even more, You will rend my heart completely to You no matter the means. This means brokenness from the consequences of sin even if in severe grief.

In 2000 and in my grief, I had asked the Lord for a 'heart of gold' at the Rose Garden in Portland after a funeral of a friend. Within the hour, a woman approached me as I sat on a concrete garden bench and saw that I was sobbing with grief in my black thousand dollar plus suite dress.

This woman told me to look at the beautiful day and all that God has made. She then pointed at the beautiful roses all around me. I dismissed her as I really wanted to be alone in my grief. I do not even recall most of that day as it was fourteen years ago now.

However, Lord, now I believe that this woman was an angel sent by You to comfort me in my grief. When I finally dried my eyes of the tears clouding them, I then noticed, and right in front of me as if they had not been there, were what seemed like acres of beautiful roses.

After this woman seemingly disappeared, I decided to look at the roses right in front of me and saw that they had the label 'Heart of Gold'! My tears suddenly turned from grief to tears of hope.

Oh thank You, Lord, for rending my heart as this was the beginning of wisdom. I just love You so much!

Jesus: "Erin, come up."

Immediately I was up in what looked like the east quadrant of God's Garden. I saw the Crystal Conservatory in the distance and heard the most beautiful music. It was the children of God's special remnant here. The orchestra was amazing and the choirs of children and angels were so perfect.

My heart immediately skipped. There was a song I did not recognize that seemed similar to 'My Deliverer' by Rich Mullins, but in a glorified state. The sound was so acoustically clear that it could have been from a recording booth at a studio. The sound was crystal clear and each cord sounded perfect.

I read one time about some stereo speakers that cost more than a million dollars for a pair. The speakers claimed to bypass your ears completely and go directly into your brain.

I laughed because, here in Heaven and in God's Conservatory, the music is so pure, perfect and radiant that the music bypasses your ears, brain and body and goes directly into your soul and spirit. This was simply beyond anything earthly.

The best way I can describe the worship here is that it is like the healing water from the River of Life. This river is a necessary part of life here as the water refreshes and renews and the fruit restores and replenishes.

The music resounds and releases us to the heart of God and it fills our souls and causes us to ascend as the music climbs. This is very difficult to describe, but it even causes the cells in our body to worship and the music goes into our cells and creates life there.

With each climb or ascension of the songs and symphony, I felt my heart moving higher to God. Tears were streaming as I had never heard a more beautiful song than the grateful hearts of the orphaned children. Hmm, let me correct this; orphaned on Earth and adopted by God in Heaven.

My painful time going through this war with my own situation and children made me so ready to be here permanently. I did not want to be here prematurely though, but rather to be here perfectly and in God's timing.

My eyes were closed as I sat on this marble bench in God's Garden. I listened and wept with my hands raised to God with such great thanks to Him for everything. When I finished soaking in the music, I opened my eyes to see acres of roses.

I smiled as right in front of me was a perfect rose bush that was immensely fragrant with dew on each pedal. The roses were gold with a hint of blush pink. I walked over closer and I could see that the dew was actually diamonds.

Me: "Wow, Lord, even dew in Heaven is like diamonds? You are incredible!"

I felt a hand on my shoulder and I turned to see that it was the Lord's. He was smiling and laughing. He was always sincerely glad to see me.

Jesus: "I see that you are stopping to 'smell the roses'."

His face was so beautiful. He had white teeth, blue green eyes and tanned skin. I looked at Him and laughed.

Me: "Here I could stop and smell the roses always."

Jesus: Laughing. "Very good. Now, what are you looking at? Oh, I see a familiar rose."

Me: "Yes, Lord, You brought me here so You know full well why. I am still just a bit behind and oh so ready to come Home now." He smiled and agreed with me.

Jesus: "Do you want to come now? There is still more if you are up to the challenge?"

Me: I let out a deep sigh. "I will stay, but I just do not like my situation right now as I am in great pain. I even have no choice now but to go through old records of the last ten years and this was the absolute most painful part of my life." My eyes began to well up.

Jesus: "Erin, I was there with you. If I were to remove all of that, what would happen to all the good that would be removed as well? Think about this long and hard. Hmm, better yet, let Me show you."

He took me to an incredible small pond right behind where we were standing. He sat me down on the bench and He stood up behind me with one hand on my back.

Jesus: "Now this will be painful as I am going to give you a glimpse of what God also saw which you could not see. You will see things that were allowed and other things that were not. Before I begin, please note that nothing done in secret to you and your children will go unpunished. Are you certain you would like to see everything again?"

Me: "Lord, grant me strength, grace and peace. I do not understand the plans You have for me fully, but I know You love me and what the enemy has planned for evil You have planned for my good."

Jesus: "You say what you think I expect to hear, but do you fully understand the magnitude of what I am about to show you?"

He knew more than I did and I could see concern and compassion in His eyes. I nodded yes, but He could see I was hesitant.

Jesus: "Alright, I have changed the filter to make this less painful for you and I am only going to take you back twenty one years. I will also only show you that which was turning points in your walk.

"Now, you will see both the seen and the unseen. However, you must not become angry as you must wait until I am finished to speak. Erin, this is your race and you put God before you for most of this. The word race with 'g' before it is 'grace'.

"However, what you will not see yet is all those whose lives you touched or are related to you and those who sit daily in the Courts of God pleading your case. Erin, you were knit by God in your mother's womb. Your life was unique to you from the beginning.

"Remember that each of your friends have a race also. Blessed is the runner who puts God before them and Me alongside you. I am here."

Me: "Lord, before we start, I would like to ask a question. When You saw the wrongs done to me, what did You do, Lord?"

Jesus: "My heart grieved, Erin, but I saw My Father's plan from the beginning and therefore I saw the end from the beginning. When you see things this way from a Heavenly perspective, the race becomes more like an epic movie.

"There are ups and downs, tears and laughter, life and death and all is a part of your life race. Erin, I am not a cold hearted Savior and My Father is never far removed as you have been taught. God sees all and He is compassionate, slow to anger and abundant in love."

Me: "I know this to be true, Lord, as He sent You and there is no greater thing on Earth or Heaven."

Jesus: "You are loved, Erin. Now, when you see this, please do not forget this. Are you ready to begin?"

Me: "Yes, I think so."

Immediately the water became like glass and I saw myself in 1993 in Portland, Oregon. I saw angels surrounding me. I saw an extremely painful event which created great fear and one in which I saw the face of the enemy. He declared by his voice that he hated me and I was his. It scared me, but really this absolutely terrified me.

This incident led to a series of what looked like bad decisions at the time straight to a church. There I became saved and I saw Heaven rejoice as I gave my life and heart to God. Even as I was being saved, the enemy was right there or should I say the demons.

I was surprised to see so many demons attending this church. I then saw many in the congregation who I had always thought were being used by the enemy being controlled by these demons. I saw the demons whispering things into their ears about me, "She is not really a Christian. Look at her, she is just a whore."

This went on and on with so many lies, but it was still very painful. I saw the plans of the enemy, yet the angels from Heaven were there too and were much greater in number. The angels surrounded me and even covered my ears from the murmurs of Christians used by the enemy.

As my race continued, I watched as blessings would come to me. Yet again, the enemy's soldiers were right there to strip me of any of these blessings. I saw a major turning point in 1994 when God commanded angels to expose the enemy's schemes.

However, my desire and fear drove me straight into trouble. I saw all kinds of plots by the enemy allowed by God. On my wedding day, I saw behind the scenes wherein my dressmaker broke down due to murmurs of the enemy in her ears. My wedding dress arrived unsewn from my last fitting and my bridesmaids' gowns were shredded.

Self-determined, I saw God temporarily remove the angels until some ladies at the church prayed on this. I declared something verbally about God and the mustard seed and I saw that gave God compassion and He allowed the angels to help. God gave favor to me that day, but I was still heading straight into darkness.

Then my hammering began. I will not verbalize all that occurred behind the scenes and what was done to me, but I saw the angels grieve. I watched as all hope departed from my life. As some strong Christian women prayed from a local church, but sadly very few from my church, I became determined to stay and fight.

These women had come from South America and were by far the most faithful prayer warriors and they inspire me to this very day. I saw a weak tent covering over our household and it was like a tattered mesh. I saw holes in it where the enemy had access to come and go freely and sin was given access.

I had fear of God, which was the beginning of wisdom, yet I was not the cover over my household. My husband was the cover, but I was shown that he was an extremely weak one if even one at all. I became confused as to what I should do in lieu of him taking on this important role properly.

The Lord showed me my businesses and that these were covered by God as I had dedicated these to the Lord. Wow, I had even forgotten that I had prayed for this. In turn, I saw my businesses prosper and that even my bad decisions were used by God to become good decisions.

I tithed in secret and I had forgotten all about this too. I kept this portion hidden because I understood the principle of tithing, but our household cover was in disagreement.

As I watched the plots of the enemy unfold at home, it began to affect me at work. I saw the births of my sons, but as I watched what had happened to me while they were still in my womb, it was bittersweet. I grieved at the sight of these and I looked at Jesus when I saw the enemy do these things to gauge His reaction.

I could tell He was angry as His jaw clenched and His eyes showed a coming time where there would be accountability. I was relieved to see that He was not passive. I then saw things which I suspected and verbalized being covered up and denied. I saw things confirmed and now my heart was breaking. If I elaborate on all of this, it could harm people, so I will not do this. For me to expose details would be out of God's will.

I saw the events leading to the year 2000. It was the end of August 2000 in the Rose Garden in Portland. The events of that day were clear and the Lord confirmed that it was an angel who spoke to me that day, but I dismissed her. I prayed to God and Heaven rejoiced when I requested a 'heart of gold' and saw that God on the Throne was glad.

I prayed to know Jesus and for Him to bring meaning to my miserable existence. I prayed for God to reconcile me to Himself and whatever that took, I was willing. Perhaps I was not able, but I was certainly willing. Now that I asked to have a 'heart of gold', I somehow knew to ask for His help to get there.

There before me, which I could not see physically on Earth, I saw Heaven opened and God on the Throne sent angels to assist. I saw a hedge or a type of tent cover over me. I saw my black funeral clothes become a wedding gown. Somehow, I had become a bride on that day and I wept at the sight.

I wanted to speak, but instead I turned to see Jesus with the happiest look on His face and that He was proud of me. He smiled and directed my sight back to what He was showing me and I realized that I still had fourteen years to go.

Then I saw the enemy ramp up against me and my children. I was surprised to see that Christians were actually the greatest tool of the enemy. I watched so many painful events happen, but I also watched unbelievable miracles.

On one day, I saw the enemy send in a dog to attack one of my sons and he was only three at the time. I watched an angel of the Lord appear to the dog and restrain it. I watched all kinds of things come against us. There were wars just as I expected and I saw horrendous things done in secret.

I saw deals and events which broke my heart and I saw money moved and secured with my name removed. I saw affliction to my sons by others and I wept at the sight. I thought I was alone, but Jesus was there. I turned to Jesus again and could see that He was angry and He let out a sigh. I could clearly see He was not enjoying this.

I saw my first Near Death Experience (NDE) and I smiled as I saw the angels in the operatory at the hospital. I saw the panic in the staff when my heart stopped. I saw Jesus meet me and take me up. There I was instructed and shown great compassion for the next difficult portion of the race.

Each time I was heading into a dark portion of my race or walk, the Lord consistently brought angels to tell me in advance of this upcoming portion and pointed me to Heaven. I saw these angels minister to me even when the events of 2004 to 2005 unraveled. I watched as God exposed things hidden in secret and I became sick. There was much more and I looked away at many of the points.

At one point, I even cried out 'no' and stood up. I became angry as I watched the enemy try to rob someone pure of their innocence. I felt the Lord wrap His arms around me as I watched the angels protect my little ones. I grieved at all I was seeing.

I watched myself dealing with just a small portion of the evidence that I had and saw that I was not doing well even with this. I realized that if the Lord had revealed all of this to me, I could have even done something terrible. In reality, what He allowed me to see and what He held back was perfect.

I then heard horrible things spoken about me and so many complete lies. I watched as God continued to bless me personally and provide supernaturally, but I watched myself make one bad decision after another because I lacked faith. I watched as I became numb and now I could not even sleep at night.

I cried out to God when I became even more ill due to my heart now breaking. I watched the enemy do clever things and eventually led me into darkness. Finally the Lord used my heart to draw me back to Him. My heart would stop and He would take me to lovely places in Heaven and speak tenderly to me.

When I would come back to Earth though, it seemed increasingly unnatural. The lawsuits then came against me. Wave upon wave of trouble hit me in such a short amount of time that I could barely catch my breath. However, the Lord then showed me that even when facing homelessness and eviction I had faith and worshipped.

I saw a time that I was counting pennies out of a jar in order to get some gas so the kids and I could drive to the "far away" park that the kids so loved. I watched as God sent various saints to help us at times. During this time, I saw that I could barely even cry anymore as all the attacks had made me numb.

Then my heart became worse and the medical bills started to pound us. I soon realized that I could lose my children simply because I would not be able to provide for them soon. Then my heart stopped again and the Lord took me to a sword room in Heaven. There I saw the retired swords of angels who had fought in my battles from the beginning.

Jesus then reminded me of my place in His heart as He showed me when the most lethal blow by the enemy occurred. This is when I walked straight into the desert. As I sat stunned, I saw that I barely allowed myself to hear from the Lord during this second wave of the enemy.

I watched as justice failed over and over. I saw such injustice caused by a single mistake on my part to not negotiate properly. I was now at the mercy of my enemy and it was a dark mistake. I watched the day I made this mistake and that my angels were not allowed to restrain me.

I saw the enemy convince me to sign a contract which caused seven years of magnified trouble. I became sunken in my spirit as I sat watching this. I wanted to yell at myself to stop what I was doing, but I could not. I felt Jesus standing behind me and wrapping His arms around me as I wept.

I suffered for three years before God had compassion on me. I saw everything up to this very day, as well as plots still occurring concerning me. I saw something different in my current trouble as I saw myself not going in front of God, but instead waiting on Him. Even in my physical pain, the angels were ministering to me.

Then the Lord showed me more coming, but so much good. My face lit up as I saw my sons being healed as well as myself. I saw us being removed from the desert and being free from my enemies. I saw a house for all of us. I saw myself finally being free and at peace.

Before all this occurred though, I also saw some trouble, but the plans of God were going to prevail. I saw a time much later up in Heaven and I saw my children there. My children knew me as their mother, yet we were all the same age. However, all of our trouble was now a passing, distant memory, but we did not forget what the Lord had done for us. I had tears streaming down my cheeks.

Jesus: "So what do you think of your race?"

Me: "I did nothing which surprised God and He even used my bad decisions for a greater good. I watched miracles. I must admit that I am relieved that the times in which I thought I was alone that You and the angels were always right there. That too is a miracle."

Jesus: "I could show you the highlights of just the miracles, but these miracles would mean nothing if you were not allowed to see the evil you were being delivered from at the time. Now why did I allow you to see all this right now?"

Me: "Because I am about to go into the final battle with my enemy so the kids and I will be released from prison here in the desert."

Jesus: "Yes, and I am reassuring you in advance that I have given you the weapons to fight. You are to put on your full armor and stand. You are to have Me go before you, along with the angels, and watch the enemy flee. Allow Me to do everything."

Me: "Lord, was allowing my injury part of Your plan?"

Jesus: "Well, Erin, you saw the outcome. Do you not think this was part of the plan? Things meant for evil can be used for good and you have seen this. After all, is anything too great for God to overcome?"

Me: "No. It is just that I am so weak right now and limited in my ability to fight."

Jesus: "Good, so let God fight as He is made strong in your weakness."

Me: Laughing. "Lord, You can take anything I say and have a Scripture for me."

Jesus: Laughing. "My Word does not go out void of truth and wisdom, Erin, as this is good food. Now, right here and right now, hand the coming battle over to Me as I have appointed angels and I have friends standing with you. I have and will send provision."

"I have built a house for you, a place at My Altar, where you will sing like you did in your youth. You will dance and have joy everlasting. You will soar on the wings of eagles. You will run and not get tired. You will walk and not become weary. Erin, allow Me to carry you during the final battle. Those who bless you I will bless, but those who curse you..."

Me: "I know, Lord. I have now seen a huge gift, but also a burden as I now know I am up against unseen forces removed from my home but active at my work and around us. Lord, You know full well this battle is not mine but God's and that there is nothing I can do except obey as I have now seen the outcome."

He walked behind us to the roses and there He picked a rose for me. I looked and saw each ring of the rose outside of the heart graduate to deeper hues of pink.

Jesus: "Now you understand. Here, Erin, this is the Heart of Gold. You probably did not notice before that the center petals are gold and forms the 'heart' of the rose."

Me: "I did not notice this before, but obviously there was quite a bit that I missed on my race."

Jesus: "Erin, do not focus on the mistakes you made, but focus on the victories as it is not your fault. The enemy hates you and he is a liar that believes his own lies. He is void of truth and treacherous. You have seen what was allowed and understand where this sweet melody comes from."

Suddenly I heard the beautiful choir of orphans, angels and the divine symphony playing.

Jesus: "Erin, these children suffered unspeakable things, yet they reside here and their Home is with God. Here they are rich and they are remembered and loved. They eat the best food and never grow hungry. They drink pure water and never get sick. They have laughter and tears are far removed. They remember where they came from, but forget the pain."

Me: "I forgot, Lord, that they had things much worse happen to them than me or my children. Please forgive me."

Jesus: "Erin, much of what happened to them they had no understanding of and they even expected and were accustomed to it. Children adapt to their surroundings while adults object to trouble and usually fight. Understand the difference here."

"Your children were protected from much of the trouble and so were these children. Only some trouble was allowed and then the Holy Spirit ministered to them and the angels ministered to them. This is difficult to understand fully, but one day you will understand. Now is this rose not beautiful?"

Me: "Lord, it is stunning."

Jesus: "Then how much more does God love you, Erin?"

I thought for a moment about all of my trouble. As I saw the battles and the miracles, I shook my head.

Me: "You care for me so much and You did all of this so that I will one day be here. God loves me. I am amazed and stunned. I am so excited to see all that is coming. Lord, thank You." I reached over and hugged Him.

Jesus: "So you are not angry?"

Me: "No, Lord, as You just confirmed all my suspicions and now I know that God saw it all. I saw that You were angry at times knowing this too and that soon You will come for us. I take comfort in Your love and God's Plan. I would be a fool to not fear God as, by Your Words, this is the beginning of wisdom. Lord, one question; what do the older children do for fun?"

Jesus: "Oh, I am glad you asked. Come."

He reached out and took my hand. We were instantly taken to another area off to the side of the children's Garden. There I see an arena, fields, obstacles, courses and other things, but glorified.

Me: "Is this sports?"

Jesus: "Sort of, but more fun. Think back to when you were a teen. What was important to you?"

Me: Laughing. "Well, certainly nothing Godly. It seemed that boys, clothes, makeup, dance, sports and friends were most important to me."

Jesus: Laughing. "Yes, I remember well and this is why there are extra angels sent to children during these ages."

Me: "Yes, I certainly needed it because surely I put myself before God in every situation."

Jesus: "I think God was removed." He was smiling and I laughed as He was right.

Me: "No need to show me any of that Lord. I know full well that I was without God."

Jesus: Laughing. "Erin, I was there as well, so no worries. Now, the teens are instructed about the heart of God here. They grow normally here and have schooling so that they grow in wisdom and knowledge. They are taught by angels and saints."

"Because of grace, they are given supernatural retention and learning here is joyful. They spend time here learning about different specialties that God puts on their hearts. There is no opposition, but mistakes are allowed here so they grow in knowledge."

Me: "Lord, this seems contrary to what we are taught. We were taught that there is only good and no mistakes here in Heaven."

Jesus: "What are people taught?"

He was laughing as He threw up His arms. I was laughing.

Me: "Lord, all of my best learning came from mistakes. I only wish I had the capacity to learn the first time." I smiled as I jokingly smacked the side of my head and He laughed.

Jesus: "Well this is a glorified learning where mistakes lead to instant correction and knowledge. This is not a slow and agonizing process nor are there accidents which cause harm like loss of sight or limb. There is constant healing and no death."

Me: "How fun! Mistakes, but with no consequences."

Jesus: "Well, this would be incorrect if you are referring to sin as there is no sin here at all. However, a wrong equation and choosing the best answer is certainly allowed. Now there is something here that is 'extreme learning'. Let Me show you."

We went to a type of building where you could be with or be any character in history for a day with the exception of a few.

Me: "I am guessing I would not be allowed to be God, You, Enoch or Elijah?"

Jesus: "Very good, Erin. They can also not choose any fallen or evil entity, nor would any choose to."

Me: "So help me here. They can go back in time and become that person for a day?"

Jesus: "Mostly they choose to be with the person for a day to observe and learn. It is rare that any of them choose to be that person. For instance they cannot be Me, but they can observe Me and go back to a certain day.

"There is a class just for this in which I instruct and take them there, but this is different. Here they mostly like to be rock stars or famous people. However, once they live out one of those lives for the day, they run from this and it is actually pretty funny to watch."

Me: "Lord, how incredibly fun and a great way to learn. It is the ultimate."

Jesus: "They understand that good things are in abundance here and that here they have no pain or worry. Now, if they become one of these historical characters, then they know that they will suffer like them too. Once they fully understand the cost, most simply choose to observe instead."

Me: "I have many questions. What characters are the most selected?"

Jesus: "Boys usually choose sports legends, the greatest games played or even famous battles. For example, David and Goliath is a favorite. They even enjoy live instruction from David and the boys find it fun to slay giants.

"Girls usually choose singers, princesses, actresses and heroines like Esther. Mary is difficult, so for many she is observed and not played."

Me: "This is so amazing."

Jesus: "It is humbling for them."

Me: "I want to experience this. How fun." Then I thought about it for a moment. "Actually I love being who I am, Lord. Yes, I will stay who I am."

Jesus: Laughing. "As the children move along further, their focus changes more to skills and crafts. These are things they will offer to God."

Me: "Like a vocation?"

Jesus: "Yes. They learn, work and play and there are amazing fun activities here for them. They have concerts, sports, games, contests and prizes. They have so much fun learning."

Me: "Lord, from what I can see, this area is massive, like miles and miles."

Jesus: "It is important for these children to grow up like normal, even though in a glorified state. You become brighter and shining through refinement and trials. Here it is different, but fair for them."

Me: "I always wondered about this. Thank You Lord. I am glad that children are able to experience growth. This is perfectly God and so loving and perfect. I cannot wait to tell my kids. Can they mimic super heroes?"

Jesus: "There is no need to as they all already are super heroes. You can tell that to your kids."

Me: Crying. "Thank You, Lord. Thank You for showing me Heaven. Thank You for answering all of my questions."

Jesus: "If you are ever in doubt, go back to the beginning and search the heart of God. As your knowledge increases, you will first learn what He is. What you have been shown is not contrary to the Word of God. Now be at peace and see what I will not do. You are a Bride, Erin."

He reached over and kissed me on the forehead.

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day. Lord, I finally see the opening from this cave and the promise of freedom. While I still find it difficult to not focus on all that the enemy has done to destroy me, I can do nothing but wait in silence for Your voice to say, 'Erin, I am here. Come out, for you and your children are free.'

Lord, You showed me everything in advance and I now see it. Lord, even as my strength grows weak, my pain is great and my head hangs low, I smile and remember the love You have shown me. Lord, You are so much more than words can express as You are lovely, my light in the darkness and my everything.

Jesus: "Erin, come up."

It was evening here and as I lay down at the base of an olive tree I could see millions of stars in the sky above me. These stars formed designs that were greater than any constellations seen from Earth. The grove of olive trees were completely lit up with small white lights and it was so beautiful.

Evening in Heaven is amazing and I even saw something like fireflies in every color and some color I cannot describe as there is no earthly comparison. In the distance, I could hear the children's choir and the angels singing the glorified version of "My Deliverer" and this brought tears to my eyes.

I was so glad to be pain free that I jumped up and ran down an illuminated path to the edge of the grove of olive trees. There before me were at least a hundred fountains, each lit up in a different shade of color. The sounds and sights these fountains made were simply amazing.

I could see God's Mansion in the distance and it was completely illuminated. The House of the King of kings was like nothing I had ever seen in my entire life. The twelve stones that were inlaid in the foundations of God's House were just like those in the City of God.

These twelve stones represent the twelve tribes of Israel and each of them were massive and were also illuminated at night. The large facets cut into these stones formed ribbons of light according to each color.

I could also see the massive stone staircase leading up to His Home and beautiful channels of water flowing from His Home into the pools of these beautiful fountains. I wanted to run through the fountains, but I was more curious to see the beautiful display of God's glory all around me.

It was such a relief for me to see how beautiful night is in Heaven as I had been incorrectly taught that there is no night here. While it is true that the City of God is always in light matching Scripture that there is never darkness there, I have since discovered that this was only referring to the City of God and not the surrounding landscape. I laughed and shook my head as the Lord created us to love lights at night, so intuitively it made sense that He would not have removed this in Heaven.

Me: "Lord, forgive us for we humans are so dense. In the Book of Genesis, You said in verse 5 that the evening and the morning were created on the very first day. Truly You said this was good and I am so glad that You never 'changed Your mind' on this."

I should note here that I refer to Jesus' Home or Mansion as 'God's Home' as He is God. Some may find this confusing, but all references to this has been to Jesus' Home here in Heaven. Really, words cannot describe how gloriously beautiful the Home of Jesus is here in Heaven.

I looked up at God's Home and expected Jesus to come out. Instead, I saw two massive lions walking down the channels of water fountains and then turn and walk back up the stairs side by side. I smiled with glee when I saw that, when these lions came up to the front door, each laid on their bellies and flanked the sides of the door.

Just as I thought this could not be topped, I then saw two tiny lambs barely able to walk, with no blemish and completely perfect follow the same path as the lions. These lambs then snuggled in for a rest with each lion on the platforms next to the door. I giggled as I marveled at this amazing processional.

Then in an instant above the Home I saw a ring of angelic beings with wings. Each angel had a Shofar of silver and gold. I looked contently at the sight and again marveled at God's majesty.

I looked down at saw that I was wearing a beautiful blue and white dress with a woven bodice of blue crimson and gold. My hair was long and wavy with a type of head band. I went to the water to see what I looked like in the reflection and noticed that the headband was etched with 'Lord, You are holy' and was surrounded with lace.

I looked at my wrist and I had six bracelets on my left arm and each had a cut gem. I had the same on my right wrist for total of twelve bracelets. These bracelets were absolutely beautiful.

The music then changed and became more of a glorious processional wherein it went higher and higher. I looked everywhere for the Lord as I wondered if I had missed something.

Suddenly I was met by Uriel and he was so stunningly beautiful that a human seeing him separately on Earth would be terrified as he is very much a warrior in God's army. I found myself speechless at the sight of him.

Uriel: Smiling. "Erin, when you ran from the olive grove, you ran away from the Lord."

Me: "I thought He was here at His Mansion. I thought I was running to Him."

Uriel: Laughing. "Yes, it seems you have been in error a few times in that regard."

Me: "Oh, I must go find Him."

I turned and ran the exact way that I had come and there ahead of me in the olive grove was Jesus sitting at the base of a tree. He was smiling and shaking His head as I approached Him.

Me: "Oh Lord, I am so sorry that I did not wait on You. I was so anxious to see You that had I ran ahead. You see, I felt so fantastic..."

I stopped talking when I noticed that He was clearly studying me and smiling.

Jesus: "Remember, Erin, it is very important to not run ahead of Me, especially in this season."

Me: "Well, how could I wait? It was so beautiful and I was following the music trying to find You."

Jesus: "Hmm, so did this work?"

I was quite embarrassed as He was clearly right that this had not worked at all.

Me: "Forgive me, Lord, for You are perfect and Your ways are perfect and I am sorry for running ahead of You."

Jesus: "Come and sit beside Me."

Me: "But, Lord, there is a big event starting soon in Your Courtyard. Should we not go there instead?"

Jesus: Laughing. "Erin, do you think they will begin without Me? Oops, someone's scheduling must be off. Are the angels saying, 'Wow, Jesus is late again. We did not see that coming. Oh no, the food at the banquet will get cold and the wine will grow sour. Where is that Savior of ours?'"

I could barely catch my breath as I was laughing so hard as I realized that He was completely right yet again.

Me: "Forgive me, Lord, You are so wise."

Jesus: "Sometimes the obvious is painfully simple and right in front of you."

Me: "Lord, I will wait next time."

He looked at me with such compassion that I began to cry.

Jesus: "I know your heart, Erin, and that you are in pain on Earth, but alive, young and healthy here in Heaven."

Me: "Lord, help me to be patient while I wait on You. I have seen my enemy ramping up against me and the enemy even tries to use Scripture against me."

My enemy has used Psalm 91 against me so many times to say that he is in Your favor that I cannot help but wonder, 'What if he is in Your favor as a lesson to me?'

"Everyone believes that this man, my main enemy, is holy. In contrast, no one there knows that I love You even more than him. Many who used to be my friends from church are praying against me thanks to this man's lies and deception."

Jesus: "Erin, look at where you are right now and Who is with You. Where do you reside? Did I not show you that your children are here too? The enemy can 'pray' all he wants to and can quote Me or proclaim personal holiness, but do you remember a sign of deception that I had showed you long ago?"

Me: I was quiet as I thought about this. "Oh yes. If someone is claiming personal holiness and righteousness, he or she is usually the opposite."

Jesus: "Very good. Now who is humble? Is it someone who proclaims themselves humble? Probably not as this is a sign of a foundation on shifting sand. Now tell Me about shifting sand under a house foundation."

Me: Laughing. "Well, a house built on shifting sand would be very unstable as the foundation would be constantly moving and the walls would crumble. Eventually even the ceiling would fall and the structure would implode."

Jesus: Laughing too. "'Implode' is an interesting word to use and a very good one. This implies that the structure would fall on itself. Perhaps there is prophecy in your future calling."

Me: "Only if You go before me, Lord, as I could never do this on my own without You and this is an absolute I can confidently make."

Jesus: "Erin, this is an absolute to live by, so let Me go before you. Now let's look at Psalm 91 as perhaps your enemy really meant to say Psalm 90? Hmm..." He laugh at this and then looked into my eyes. "Now, Erin, do you trust Me?"

Me: "Yes, Lord, but I am having a hard time understanding the pain I am in. Why are You allowing this pain?"

Jesus: "This is a very good question to deal with first before we continue. Now, did I not specifically tell you that the method I will use to deliver you might not make sense to you? Did I not also promise you healing?"

"Erin, do not question My methods when I have already shown you what the outcome will be. You must always remember that My way is always the best way. At the end, you will testify to your friends about all of this and you will stand and be amazed.

"Now, did you notice that I said 'stand and be amazed' and not 'sit and be amazed' or 'lie down and be amazed'? However, you could faint after you stand amazed at all that is coming." He smiled, but I was still serious. "Erin, you can laugh now."

This broke me out of my seriousness and I began to laughing so hard at this. He laughed too and I could tell He was enjoying my lightened mood.

Me: "You are right, Lord, but this is the part where I feel abandoned."

Jesus: "Well then, there is no accident we are here in the olive grove."

Just then, I was downloaded an image of the Lord sweating blood the night before His trouble. I had tears at this thought of His turmoil.

Me: "So does this mean that things will get worse?"

Jesus: "There is a Scripture in Job 4 about the lion with broken teeth. What happens to a lion with broken teeth? Can you tell Me?"

Me: I thought about this. "Lord, You are clearly stretching my brain tonight. Well, if a lion has no teeth, it cannot break through flesh to eat."

Jesus: "Very good, Erin, but there is even more to this. The lion cannot snap the neck of its prey in order to paralyze it. Even if the lion were to kill something with its claws, he still could not rip into the flesh to eat. The food would be there, but the helpless lion would concede to others, and even the buzzards, and would starve."

Me: "Lord, that is harsh."

Jesus: Laughing. "Oh, so, My 'gazelle', would you prefer to go against a healthy lion?"

Me: "No, no please." I was laughing too.

Jesus: "Now let's look at Psalm 91. I want you to open the Bible, but use the Bible that you have dates written next to the Scriptures."

I went to this particular Bible and opened it to Psalm 91. I saw the date June 5th, 2012 written there and I was instantly downloaded a few of the events that happened just before this date.

One of these events was my older son's eighth grade graduation, where I was sitting in the right side pews two rows back from a very large carved Cross. I sat in horror as my son's step mother was recognized as his mother and my stomach instantly became sick.

My younger son noticed this and shouted out, 'That's a lie!' I could see out of the corner of my eye that his father looked pleased with all of this. Rather than give him the satisfaction of knowing how crushed I was, I simply smiled and waved.

Though I looked completely unaffected, this was just a cover up as I was secretly devastated. My older son later came up to me, gave me a rose and hugged me. Later when I was alone by myself, I never ever, ever cried so hard in my entire life.

Jesus: "I remember this day vividly, Erin, as you have given God an ultimatum."

Me: "Lord, I had become tired of waiting and looking so I decided to stop. I told you in my thoughts, 'Lord, if You truly love me, then You will find me. However, I now do not even believe You actually care as here I am alone in my sorrow.' I was having a crisis of belief and I could not understand why."

Jesus: "Erin, name anyone from the Bible who had a perfect life free from trouble. Can you name just one?"

I thought long and hard, going from the beginning of the Bible to the end in my thoughts. I did this for several minutes when I saw the Lord smiling and watching me think.

Erin: "No, Lord, I cannot even name a single one."

Jesus: "So where is it written that you will have no trouble? I believe it is written 'in this life you will have trouble, but take heart for I have overcome the world.' Now let's focus on what I promised you then. What did I have you do? Look at your Scripture."

Me: I look at my Bible again. "You had me underline Psalm 91:9-16."

Jesus: "Yes, but there is more. What did I have you do from verse 14? Erin, I want you to speak this out loud."

Me: I was in tears as I read Psalm 91:14-15 out loud. "'Because she loves Me, says the Lord...'" At this point, Jesus pointed to His chest. "'I will rescue her; I will protect her for she acknowledges My Name. She will call upon Me, and I will answer her; I will be with her in trouble, I will deliver her and honor her. With long life will I satisfy her, and show her My salvation!'"

Jesus: "Erin, now do you believe Me?"

Me: "Yes, Lord."

Jesus: "When you suffer pain, headaches and numbness, do you still believe Me?"

Me: I paused. "Yes, Lord."

Jesus: "When all looks dark and you feel I have left, do you believe Me still?"

Me: I paused even longer. "Do not leave me. Please show me signs."

Jesus: "I will, Erin, and I will send angels concerning you. Now read Psalm 91 from 1-8 and put your name or she in place of he just like you did for Psalm 91:14-15."

Me: "Lord, You are changing Scripture."

Jesus: "Oh, so is My Word only for men in trouble? Hmm, this does not sound like God My Father as He created females so are they not good? Are they not also mothers? Hmm..."

Me: Laughing. "Okay, Lord, I get it. Psalm 91:1-8 'She who dwells in the shelter of the Most High will rest in the shadow of the Almighty. I will say of the Lord, 'He is my refuge and my fortress, my God, in whom I trust.'

"Surely He will save you from the fowler's snare and from deadly pestilence. He will cover you with His feathers, and under His wings you will find refuge, His faithfulness will be your shield and rampart.

"You will not fear the terror by night, nor the arrow that flies by day, nor the pestilence that stalks in the darkness, nor the plague that destroys in mid-day. A thousand may fall at your side, ten thousand at your right hand, but it will not come near you."

Jesus: "Erin, it will not come near you. Go on."

Me: "You will only observe with your eyes and see the punishment of the wicked."

Jesus: "Now stand up and close your eyes. Now open them."

I was in awe and there before me was the Lord was in full battle gear. His breastplate was gold and inlaid like the Ephod or priestly garment of Aaron. The etching and scroll work was amazing and He was wearing all of His armor except for no helmet.

Me: "Lord, You look incredible. This is how You looked from the beginning of my dreams. Where is Your helmet?"

Jesus: Laughing. "You are funny. What is the helmet? Am I not saved? Does the blacksmith whisper in My ears?"

Me: "Oh Lord, I am clearly like a child."

Jesus: Laughing. "Actually, quite a few children even know this. Now walk with Me."

With His armor on, He stood almost four feet taller than normal and He was easily the size of one of the larger angels. He was so tall that the top of my head only reached to the base of His rib cage. I looked at His breastplate and I was in awe of the beauty of His armor.

As we walked through the fountains, He motioned for me to wait at the base of the stairs. I wish I could adequately describe how incredibly beautiful this sight was. It was night time, but the Lord still shined like the sun.

As He ascended the stairs, His massive wings began to spread. I heard the choirs of angels singing, "Holy, Holy, Holy!" as He climbed the stairs. When He got to the top, He waved for me to come up to Him.

Suddenly I was out of my Heavenly body and back in my earthly state and in pain. I began to cry as I knew what He was doing. I paused as I walked up the stairs as my arms were numb and my neck was sore. My headache was so bad that I wanted to throw up.

I looked at Him and kept going as I wanted to be there with Him. I kept climbing slowly with tears, but there were so many stairs. This was too much for my earthly body and I began to fall.

I saw the Lord command His angels concerning me and they helped me ascend up the last of the stairs. As I got closer, the climb became easier and my pain was diminishing. With every step, I became healthier and stronger until I was finally in my glorified body when I reached the top. The Lord reached out to take my hand and He placed me under His wing.

Jesus: "Erin, remember your place. Look on your hand."

There was a signet ring with a beautiful beryl stone and etching on the stone like a signature.

Jesus: "Now remember My promises to you as I have not gone back on My Word and I have not removed favor from you. Take courage, Erin, as this is for your friends too. Each one of them can do the same with Psalm 91 as you did. Even better yet, they can place their name where your name is and I will be there for them too."

Me: I was so excited. "Thank You, Lord, please bless beyond measure all those who have helped me and my children as I have no way to thank them. Since You are the owner of all of our provisions, please bless them as some gave all they had. How can I ever repay this? I cannot."

Jesus: "All has been recorded, Erin, and their generous hearts will be rewarded. One day you will see everything and understand the recompense of God. As I have blessed you, you too will be a blessing to them so do not worry.

"There is not one person who gives to you that should be doing this simply so they can get something from you in return. As your friends are not bankers, their gifts to you should be love offerings only.

"You need to let these gifts simply be about that and surrender this back to me. Do not be burdened as not one should be requiring things of you in return for their gift. Anything else is the enemy using guilt as a yoke on you and you must not allow this. Please pray for your friends now."

Me: "Lord, I ask for supernatural blessings for my friends and that You heal their afflictions and pain. I ask that You promote their position at work and grant them youthful glorified bodies. Send Your angels concerning them and rain down from the Throne of God Heavenly wisdom and the wealth of nations so that we are all able to testify even greater to Your goodness."

Jesus: "Well then, Erin, it is done as this was a very good prayer. I will allow this on Earth as it is in Heaven."

Me: "Thank You, Lord."

He then turned and looked at the massive lions and the perfect lambs lying next to them.

Jesus: "They will be like strong lions and spotless lambs. Now take heart and take courage, Erin, as You are loved. Remember to let Me go before you for the next fifty days."

Me: "Then I am on my own?"

Jesus: "Where are you now?"

Me: I looked up and saw that I was clearly under His wing and smiled.

Jesus: Laughing. "Oh wait, look, you are still here."

Me: "Thank You, Lord, I love You."

Jesus: "I love you too, Erin. Oh, look to Psalm 45 & 46 again too."

Dream over...

Note from after the fifty days were over:

This was the most amazing fifty days as I had enquiries from so many people after posting this dream as to what Jesus had told me He was going to do during this time frame. I took a risk, and without feeling a check in the Holy Spirit not to, I told several hundred of my friends what the Lord had promised.

In summary, the Lord promised to release me from the desert with ALL of my children despite a fierce opponent to their relocation that can only be compared to Pharaoh. The last time I had battled this same enemy, it cost me many years in Court and thousands and thousands of dollars in legal bills. This was not an opponent to take lightly.

Keep this in mind as the Lord's next promise seemed even more ludicrous to me, but, at great personal risk, I also shared this with my friends. Jesus had also promised that, not only would Pharaoh release us, but he would do so with NO court battle AT ALL.

On faith, I fully shared these promises with my hundreds of friends and now there was no turning back. Now, you have to realize just how truly scary for me this was as I knew that some of these 'friends' were actually wolves in sheep's clothing that were waiting to use this 'date setting' of our move to finally prove I was not truly hearing from the Lord.

Again on faith, and about a week or so after this dream, I phoned around and booked a moving truck to come for ALL of our stuff in obedience to His instructions. After more prayer and again at great personal risk, I finalized the booking of the movers to come exactly 50 days from the date of this dream of June 29th, 2014. A large deposit was given to the moving company and Monday, August 18th, 2014 was 'written in stone'.

Faster than I could have ever imagined, Monday, August 18th, 2014 had snuck up on us and the movers arrived. However, a huge problem remained in that Pharaoh was still not even close to EVER giving his permission for any of the children to leave with me and had even publicly declared on social media that permission would never be given.

Apprehensively, and despite Pharaoh's threats, I decided to keep our August 18th moving commitment. Soon all of our goods were on their way for its final destination clear across to the other coast without us. Indeed, all of our earthly goods would soon be as far away from the desert as you can get without having to cross an ocean.

Adding to my nervousness and even some could say to my 'lack of faith', I was well aware that we had our first scheduled Court date coming up in early September and I had not forgotten that the Lord had promised me 'no Court'. What gave me even more anxiety was that my opponent appeared to be steadily ramping up for the same lengthy legal battle as the last time we fought. In reality, this could still take months if not years!

In despair, I finally went to the Lord on Thursday, August 21st, 2014 about my fears in a private Word with the Lord, of which I have many, and He specifically told me not to worry and that I would still be released on Saturday, August 23rd, 2014 as He promised to me three years earlier. The Lord then reminded me that He had also promised me back then that I would leave with all three of my children on that date as well; no court.

Okay, here I am, speaking to God Himself and even I was incredibly skeptical at this point. From my earthly perspective, it was already Thursday and somehow I was going to receive permission from my very worst enemy to take all of the children permanently clear across the country on a Saturday of all days when all of the Courts are closed. Pharaoh had vowed never to release my children and now there was just two days left!!

To make matters worse, I was still giving all of my friends, family and those posing as my friends from the enemy daily updates as to what was occurring. Most of them now believed that this was impossible as time had now almost run out and sadly I was starting to become one of them. For those who know about the incredible brutality of the personal Pharaoh I was battling here, my perspective was understandable.

Later that Thursday night, I yet again cried out to the Lord and He once again was steadfast in His promises and again assured me not to worry as things were about to take a positive turn. Nonetheless, I was still petrified at this point as all of my stuff was now driving across the USA without me and it certainly appeared that I was NOT going to be able to leave with ALL of my children now.

So now what? How was I going to live trying to be in two places at once? What about our goods? Will I have to register the kids in a local school? If I do, will I have to wait until the end of the school year? The questions and doubts continued to mount and mount as I kept apologizing to the Lord over and over again for my lack of faith.

Then without any warning, I unexpectedly received 'The Phone Call'. Out of the blue, on late Friday afternoon, August 22nd, 2014, I received a phone call from Pharaoh explaining that he had decided to allow ALL of the children to go with me on our move after all. Given our past contentious relationship, I nearly dropped the phone in surprise, but still felt that just had to be a trick as this person has done nothing but try to trick me so often in the past and often with great success.

I told him that the agreement would still have to be in writing and legally notarized even though it was much too late for any Court involvement to be scheduled. To my amazement, he agreed to this condition. On a side note and to this very day, I still do not have any earthly explanation AT ALL as to why Pharaoh would have ever suddenly released the kids, but I certainly have an abundance of 'Jesus explanation'. After we agreed to this and our conversation ended, I thanked and praised Jesus profusely.

The very next day, we met at a notary's office who had agreed to stay open just for us on a Saturday in the morning of August 23rd, 2014 and I watched in utter shock as Pharaoh actually signed the complete release of ALL of the children for moving on that very day. Again, all those who knew this man even just a bit knew the full magnitude of this miracle and even my non-believing friends and family were astonished and called it a miracle. Even my mom called it a miracle, which in itself is a miracle!

Sure enough, ALL of us were on the road that very day and left in 'The Final Hour' before midnight and on the exact day that the Lord had told me this would happen – and a SATURDAY no less. As such, you may notice that the next five dreams in this series leading up to our surprise release all have titles that reflect this on-going battle such as "Faith", 'the Storm', 'Dream of War', 'Faith vs. Fear' and 'David vs. Goliath'. These titles truly reflected the troubling nature of these 50 days of uncertainty leading to our release.

Some had even noticed that I had the last of these five particular 'battle' dreams on August 3rd, 2014 and that my next public dream was over a month later called 'God's Quiver & Harvest' on September 9th, 2014. When you get to the September dream, please note that this was a particular satisfying dream for me as it was the first one after we had successfully fled with all of the children to the trees from the desert and against impossible odds, including no court just as Jesus had promised from three years earlier.

I am now telling you, the reader, all of what happened here in order to help you to understand the full magnitude and true risks that were 'behind the scenes' in these next six dreams. When reading, try to put yourself in three different people's 'shoes': Mine; my friends that desperately want to believe these dreams are truly from the Lord; and my secret enemies that want to finally prove that these dreams were false.

If you do this with these perspectives in the back of your minds as these events transpired and that people were watching to see if all of this was real, I believe that these dreams will be that much more enjoyable for you. With this as prelude, the next dream is called 'Faith & the Fig' and took place two weeks later...

Dream 128 – Faith & the Fig

(Formerly known as Heaven 52)

Communion

Dear Father,

I love You so much. With tears and no ability on my own to act, I am watching You make a way for me. I still do not know how You will do it, but I know You will. Lord, it is difficult right now to be openly cursed by my enemies and You have shown me their curses.

I do not understand the hatred of my enemies towards me and I have never understood it. Despite their curses, You are flexing Your arms and rendering them harmless. I stand in awe and I just love Your ways as they are truly miraculous.

Jesus: “Erin, come up.”

Today I was in the back of a classroom in Heaven and not just any classroom, but rather a classroom of teenagers. Tears were streaming down my cheeks as these boys and girls were talking directly with Jesus as He led this class in the position of Rabbi.

Jesus was up front when He spotted and waved at me. As I was waving back, the children turned and smiled at me. I will not go into who I saw there, but my heart had been grieving for these children this week. I put my hand over my heart and with my lips I praised the Lord.

Me: “Thank You, Lord, from the bottom of my heart.”

He smiled and pointed to His eyes as He continued to speak to the classroom. An Angel of the Lord approached me as I watched Jesus teach.

Angel: “Erin, today you will receive some instructions from Jesus on faith. He wanted you to observe what He teaches here in Heaven and to know that this is actually the same as what He taught on Earth when He walked there. His Words do not change nor does His promises so now He requests that you continue to stand amazed.”

Me: “There is nothing my Lord cannot do as He is the same yesterday, today and tomorrow and it is only I who change. Yes, I will be an observer and I just know that I will love watching Him teach these teenagers.”

Angel: “He has instructed me to stand with you when you have questions.”

Me: “Oh awesome as I just know I will have some questions.”

Angel: “No, Erin, He has instructed Angels to assist you, but as soon as you call for help on a question, it will be Jesus Who will answer your question.”

I thought at first he was talking about questions during His class, but I soon realized that the Angel was referring to more than this. I put my hand on my heart and said thank you to the Angel.

I turned to Jesus again and I mouthed with my lips a ‘thank You’. He smiled and laughed and pointed to His eye again. I laughed as I looked around this amazing class room.

Okay, so try to picture a planetarium with swivel chairs that turned 360 degrees and are made of some material like leather but soft. The room was round with a dome that looked like it could split in the center and fold open. The curved walls which surrounded the entire class were like a giant movie screen.

Up at the front area, there was a large Torah with a pointer. On the other side, there was a beautiful Bible with both the Old and New Testament. There were also Angels to assist at each ‘learning station’.

As I looked closer, I found it interesting that the Bible seemed much thicker in Heaven than what we have available to us on Earth. I wondered if all the Words He ever spoke were written in this one. That is, perhaps this version contained every Word He spoke which was not recorded? Interesting...

Angel: “Erin, there is more which you do not understand, but just know that the Word you read from on Earth is the divine Word of God and that nothing was added or removed from your Bible without the full permission of God on the Throne. Do not worry about why, but just know that there is nothing hidden and that God uses all things for His purposes and His glory.”

Me: “Thank you for clarifying this.”

This room was simply incredible and so high tech. I was in awe and so excited to see Jesus teach as He stood in front of the class. He was wearing a white tunic with a blue sash and His sleeves were rolled up, which made me smile. He had some linen pants on and these amazing woven sandals that I have often seen Him in.

Just so you know, these sandals are not just any sandals, but are beautifully made from what looks like two types of leather. The stitching is some leather and metal blend and the sole is like a cloud and beyond even what we would call on Earth a 'gel sole'. These sandals looked somewhat like the 'Tera brand' sandals, but with inlays of some rugged stones.

I know this seems like I am taking a lot of time describing these sandals, but they are quite simply the most perfectly handcrafted sandals even and perfectly suited for an approachable 'King of kings'. Indeed, these sandals had obviously been handcrafted by the best cobbler in Heaven as a perfectly fit for our Lord.

These sandals had two shades of brown and the beautiful rugged stones seemed like they had a story of historical significance to either Jesus, the cobbler or both. If these sandals were sold on Earth today, they could easily command at least fifteen hundred dollars without the stones.

However, with the rugged stones included, this would make these sandals priceless. I then also noticed before that the material or leather they are made of can be wet or dry and the material will never blemish? I bet they can withstand any element too.

Anyway, as Jesus instructed His classroom, I noticed that He had such a loving and peaceful approach and that the teens clung to every Word spoken by Him. There was no need for note taking as all the Words coming from His lips were etched into their brains, yet still uniquely fit to each individual.

In Heaven, we are recognized as uniquely created by God and each of us are a work of art handcrafted by God Himself. Contrary to what many believe about us in eternity, we are each given special attributes unique to us. While we are equal and loved by God like parents love their children, each here are different and special and no two of us are alike.

I was also taught that when we get to Heaven we all wear the same robes and we walk around nodding, smiling and saying, 'Jesus loves you. Peace be with you brother' all day long. I read that one time and I laughed as this made Heaven sound more like a cult whereby we no longer freely worship the Lord and no longer can interact normally with others.

The Lord told me one time, 'Is it not written that no eye has seen, no ear has heard and no mind has imagined what God has prepared for those who love Him. So, Erin, I am only giving you a glimpse as a short 'commercial' of your eternal Home. I am merely showing you those things which have earthly concepts in order to keep within your mind's ability to describe it. This is only a small portion of the gifts I have prepared for those who love

Me.”

Me: I turned to the Angel. “I recognize a few of the students here. Please tell me who the others are?”

Angel: “Erin, as you listen to His teaching, you will come to understand that these children were chosen for a time such as this. A war is brewing, the peace proposal has stopped now and there is retaliation on both sides as a result. One side is without God and the other is with God, yet neither side knows that Jesus is the Messiah. The children you see here are those who were killed in the crosshairs of this battle.”

Me: “I am confused as I see that most of these teenagers are quite a bit past the age of accountability. If this is the case, how can they be here in Heaven?”

Immediately a vision was downloaded into me of an area that had been set aside by the Lord that He had spoken to me prior to my visits and dreams really starting. In my case, Home now meant coming back to live here in Heaven permanently.

Me: “I have questions. Have some of these children already been victims and somehow others are yet to become victims even though I see them here already? Do some of these students die in upcoming events because of retaliation? Even though these teenagers are Jewish and do not speak of Jesus, how is it that Jesus would still call them? Oh, Angel, this is so entirely confusing to me!”

Angel: “Yes, these are difficult concepts, but just remember that the gate to Heaven is still narrow as so few on Earth find their hearts truly on Jesus. The point of this being shown to you is not to show a wide gate as it is not.

“Now, when you listen to the Lord speak, you know and understand His authority and you love Him. Similarly, these children are grateful and are now so excited to follow Him. These children had been taught incorrectly about Jesus on Earth, but now watch as He completely captures their hearts with His love.”

Me: “Could He not just do this in an instant? Would being saved from eternal death not be enough? After all, it is so beautiful here, surely Heaven alone would be enough.”

Angel: “Erin, I have known you almost your entire life. Tell me what sound decisions you made during the most foolish parts of your life?”

Instantly I received teenage downloads. I was extremely responsible in some areas and horribly irresponsible in other areas. I shook my head and laughed.

Me: "God is so patient and His grace is immense. Lord, forgive my ignorance."

Angel: "Even though these children are here already, Jesus is capturing their hearts as they learn to love Him freely just like you have. Did you love Jesus instantly?"

Me: "No, it was slow. I wanted to love Jesus with all of my heart, but God had to rewrite my programming first and God had to first show me His heart. Jesus then won my heart just by being Him and chasing my heart and now I am forever changed."

The Angel then pointed over to the students and I saw that all of them were captivated, grateful, comforted and had such joy on their faces.

Angel: "Erin, Jesus wants the same for them."

Me: "It looks like this will happen quickly."

Angel: "Well, yes and no. They will gain wisdom first, but they will also have some history lessons to go through first."

Jesus instructed them and used references from the original Torah, but cross-referenced this with teachings He had given while on Earth. At one point, a student raised her hand and Jesus smiled at her and called her by name.

Girl student: "It is so obvious You are the Messiah, so why did You not ride into Jerusalem on a white horse like a king normally would?"

Jesus: Laughing. "Oh, you did not like my donkey?"

The classroom laughed as Jesus continued to teach them with such ease.

Jesus: "Actually, this is a very good question. Remember, from the time I came as a baby and on, all were expecting a king. No one expected a baby and certainly no one expected a poor king with no land. Now, does anyone here believe that Me riding into Jerusalem on a white horse with robes like King Solomon would have changed their opinions?"

One boy raised his hand to answer and Jesus pointed to him and called him by name.

Boy student: Beaming smile. "No. Instead, they would have killed You instantly and then looked for Your kingdom in order to conquer it."

Jesus: "Well, certainly Herod would have, right?" They all laughed. "Now, why did I select a donkey?"

Jesus could tell that one of the girls wanted to answer, but was shy about raising her hand. I could tell that knew her story and why she was still too timid to put up her hand.

Jesus: "Go ahead." He called her by name.

Girl student: "The donkey is common and simple. This illustrated that God can use anything for His good and using this donkey made fools of them."

Jesus: Laughing out loud. "Yes, you are quite correct. I am afraid that no matter what I had rode on, I would have been despised and cursed. Now, do you think that I deserved to be cursed?"

Children: "Oh no."

This was an all in succession and overwhelming 'no' from every single one of the students.

A child: "If they had truly known You, then they would have liked You."

Older boy student: "No, they never liked Him from the beginning as their jealousy was greater and their hate was greater than love. Their curses soon became acts."

Jesus: "Interesting. Let's discuss the power of life and death by the tongue."

Instantly the room seemed to become a type of giant movie screen that went back in time to when Jesus and His disciples were walking from Bethany to the Temple. It was just a few days before the Passover and we watched as Jesus cursed the fig tree.

He was hungry and wanted a fig, yet this tree had nothing but leaves and was not bearing any fruit at all. Then with just the authority of His mouth, He spoke to the tree, 'You will never bear fruit again.'

As I looked closely at this massive fig tree with leaves, I noticed that it was beautiful with quite a large trunk and looked amazingly similar to the Tree of Knowledge of Good and Evil in the Garden of Eden.

Then some time later, Jesus and the disciples returned on the road to Bethany. As they journeyed, the disciples noticed that this once mighty tree was now completely shriveled all the way up from the very roots.

Jesus: "Any thoughts about this?"

Boy student: "The tree was not in season, but it was on a very busy road to the Temple. I heard once that Bethpage, the place where this was, means house of unripe figs."

Jesus: "Very good and an interesting observation."

A different boy then raised his hand and Jesus called him by name.

Boy student: "When You cursed the tree, You said 'may no one eat fruit from you ever again.' Since You said 'again', this means that at some point this tree had borne fruit?"

Jesus: "Another excellent observation. Anyone else have any comments?"

I smiled as I watched eager hands shoot up instantly.

Jesus once again called to the shy girl student by name to answer and she lit up.

Shy girl student: "Rabbi, this was the same road that people put branches on when You road the donkey."

Jesus: "This is a very good observation. Now, what was the last tree cursed by God Himself?"

One boy jumped excitedly to answer and Jesus started to laugh and You could easily see that He clearly loved teaching. I could also tell He loved their enthusiasm to use what they had been taught as transformed by the truth of Jesus the Messiah and the actual accounts of the events. Jesus pointed and called the excited boy by name.

Excited boy student: "Rabbi, the Tree in the Garden of Eden was cursed and that is where the fall happened."

Jesus: "Hmm, do you think that the tree that I cursed could be the very same tree as the tree that was in the Garden of Eden? Would this be possible? After all, did Adam and Eve not use fig leaves to hide their nakedness from God?"

"Or do you think they first ran to a fig tree to quickly take these big leaves to cover up? Would it not be easier to instead hide behind the trunk and reach up and take leaves from the exact place you were now using to hide from God?"

The class was laughing as an older boy raised his hand.

Older boy student: "Rabbi, what if this was the same tree used for the Crucifixion? After all, the witnesses on the road would have told the Pharisees what You did to the tree by speaking the power of life and death with Your tongue.

"Some of these Pharisees were probably then very angry and jealous, but maybe even had fear. I remember that You had even made them look foolish when You were still just a boy. Maybe they used the wood from this tree to make the Cross out of spite?"

Jesus: "Yes, this is interesting and in layers. So why would God allow such a thing?"

Girl student: Raising her hand. "Lord, because everything You did on Earth counted for something and all things You did were woven together like reeds in a basket so that You could carry our souls Home to You."

Jesus: He knew her name. "Very good, Zoe, but remember that this basket would still have been quite small at that time." They all laughed. "Since I was a harvester of the fruit when I walked on Earth, what was the main 'fig' that I was truly hungry for?"

Zoe: Bursting out. "Lord, hearts, You were after hearts."

Jesus: Smiling and laughing. "You are correct. Now, let's look at all of the fruits of the Spirit of a good heart."

All of a sudden on the screen was a giant Tree of Life in Heaven with beautiful fruit. I was astonished as I saw Jesus literally reach up through the screen and grab a fruit. He waved for all the children to reach up and grab a fruit from the tree as well and they did. The children then returned to their seats with their fruits in hand.

Jesus: "There was much symbolism in this tree, but let's go back to the tongue and its power of life and death."

The screen then went back to the shriveled fig tree. As His disciples stood observing the tree amazed that it had died so quickly, Jesus said, 'Truly I say to you, if you have faith and do not doubt, you will not only do what was done to the fig tree, but even if you say to this mountain be taken up and cast into the sea, it will happen.' Now, what mountain was I pointing to?"

All the students shouted in unison, 'Calvary' and started to clap.

Jesus: Laughing. "Okay, so why would I choose Calvary as a mountain to throw into the sea?"

A little girl meekly put up her hand and Jesus smiled and called her by name.

Jesus: "Yes, Selah."

Little meek girl student: "Because, Lord, You will return there as a symbol."

Jesus: "Hmm, I see a lot of symbols here which make sense. Now, is God really that smart? Why would He care that much to go through all of that?"

One boy raised his hand and Jesus knew him by name.

Boy student: "Because God is a God of perfect order and He is smart and beyond us. He will make it so simple that even children can see the pattern, yet scholars will take years to find it."

Jesus: Laughing. "Perhaps all they needed was a Savior to teach them how to walk." The children laughed. "One day soon they will see the obvious as all they needed to do would be to look at ancient maps. They could see the patterns and that My Word points to this as well. Do you believe that the basket will ever contain enough hearts to fill it?"

Jesus crossed His arms and placed His hand was on His chin. The room became quiet as children began to reflect on their own families on Earth. Jesus could read their thoughts.

Jesus: "Do not worry as a time will come soon when they will all know and next time I will not ride in on a donkey and I will not come in from the north."

As He spoke, the screen suddenly showed bombs and rockets pounding the entire region.

Jesus: "Yes, I think I would not last that long on a donkey here, right?"

The children laughed as they were all very familiar with war.

Girl student: Shouting. "Lord, You will need to come on the clouds and drop down like a rocket."

Jesus: "Well then, let's look at the Scripture about My return in Revelation 1:7."

The screen behind Him and around the circumference of the room then showed a great war. The Bible at the front of the class then illuminated and the pages turned as Scriptures jumped out from the pages all attesting to His return.

I saw Matthew, Luke, Zachariah, Daniel, Isaiah, Mark and Psalms. I then saw the Words indicate that the same way Jesus left the Earth by the clouds, two Angels had to proclaim that the Lord has gone to Heaven and some day He will return just as He went (Acts 1:10-11)."

Then I saw the exact same thing, but in reverse. I saw the two witnesses appear first and then the Lord came on the clouds. There was a very loud noise and the trumpet. What I saw was that the way He left would one day by the exact way that He will return, but in reverse order. The children cheered about the joy of His return.

Angel: "Erin, this is enough today and was shown to you to bring you comfort. There is more coming, but until then continue to pray for Israel and study to understand the patterns. Remember that there is nothing new under the sun and that the power of life and death is on your tongue, so speak life.

Remember the prophets, and not the 'profits', who came from the desert or from a different place, but remember also that they are not Jesus. Look to Scripture for the answers and look again at Psalm 83, Nahum, Psalm 46, Esther and Timothy for answers to your questions.

Thessalonians has a large confirmation for you and you will be like Phinehas. Your motives and zeal pleases God, so therefore do not be afraid. Remember Elijah, to take a stand against evil and that the Lord is with you. Remember to love the Lord God with all of your heart, soul and strength.

Dream 129 – Jesus and the Storm

Received Thursday, July 24, 2014

(Formerly known as Heaven 53)

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for all that we have and for my children and their love as I am truly blessed. Lord, please stop my enemies as they pursue me with force and I can do nothing against them but stand. Even then, Lord, how do I stand when I am caught between the house and the storm shelter with the tornado upon me? How do I protect my children when I have to deal with a system that ties my hands?

Father, I have prayed for my enemies even though they hate me and even though I am not their enemy. They make public declarations on social media about their faith in Christ. They declare their achievements and revel in their victories. They even have family photos of my children. Please Lord, help me.

Jesus: “Erin, come up.”

Today I am standing at about twelve thousand feet above sea level on a very narrow and extremely steep mountain. I am, so high that there is no vegetation at all and the air is so thin that I am having a hard time breathing. As there is no snow here, I can only assume that it must be summer.

The ridge I am on has an eight foot shelf for my feet only that goes on for miles in each direction. All I can see in front of me is a massive ocean with no shore as the mountain plunges straight into the sea.

I look behind me and I see three mountain ridges and a valley below leading to a desert. I am not sure there is actually a place like this on Earth, but what I am experiencing seems like it possibly could be from somewhere there.

The sun is high in the sky and there is a light cloud cover over it. However, I can see a massive storm coming in from the ocean that is just hours away. I turn behind me and I see another storm coming in from the desert valley. Where I was standing, it looked like the two would soon converge.

With no cover and no shelter, I knew that my small human vulnerabilities would be laid to waste up on this high ridge. I was clearly in trouble now as I had no place to go. To make matters worse, the sun was beginning to darken from the storm and all I could do was lie down and pray.

Lord, I can do nothing here and nobody but You can save me from what is coming. I look all around me and all I can see are approaching storms. There is no physical shelter to take cover in, Lord, and all I have is You, Your Words and Your promises.

If I succumb to this storm, I will surely die, so instead I will succumb to You as You are my refuge from the wind and a shelter from the storm (Isaiah 32:2). I am at Your mercy and so are my children as we have stepped out of the boat onto the ocean, but the waves are like raging walls.

I cannot see You as I am now in the middle of a storm and I am completely surrounded. Where are You, Lord? I love You. No matter what, God, I love You, but please help us.

I felt a rain drop on the back of my neck and this prompted me to look up. Suddenly, the landscape changed all around me and the ominous ridge I was standing on was now a low grass covered hill. I looked from side to side and there were now hills as far as my eyes could see.

I looked out toward the ocean and there were beautiful shores with quiet sandy coves and beautiful water. The hills now gradually sloped into the sea and, as I looked behind me, I could see more grassy hills. I began to laugh as I saw cattle on each hill.

The river valley below was peaceful, lush and very beautiful and had sheep. I looked up at the sky and I saw that the storm clouds and dark skies had been rolled up like a scroll and were being held back by God's hand. I looked around and noticed that these storms were rolled up like a document as if they were a contract against me.

The winds were tied up as well, even though this is hard to describe accurately. I saw one of the ridges I had been balancing on just a few minutes ago was now in the sea as if it had been tossed there.

I reached down to feel my neck and there was the mustard seed necklace that a sister sparrow had given me. As I sat there, I began to cry as this storm was yet again about to overcome me. My heart raced and grew faint as this storm had become so much larger and more powerful than I was.

I was impossibly at the mercy of the elements again as I cried out to God to thank Him: 'Lord, thank You for what will eventually happen, but right now I am surrounded and bombarded. Please, Lord, save me and my children as we just want to go in peace.

'Why are we pounded continuously without cause or reason? When the enemy attacks, the Courts call it a dispute. If we would do nothing to fight, we would be overcome. Why is defending yourself wrong? Why is it reduced down to 'he said, she said' when clearly the hate is one sided from my enemy?'

I looked over to one of the nearby hills and there I saw a shepherd with a rod, staff and sheep. It looked like the Lord, so I ran toward Him. Once He saw me, He came towards me as I ran into His arms. I was in tears as He held me tight and I stayed there for some time.

Jesus: "There you are, Erin, I have been looking for you. Where did you go?"

Me: "Did I wander off, Lord?"

Jesus: "Well, for a couple of days, you had forgotten to call Me."

Me: "Lord, You said You are going before me, so I figured You were on the other side of the storm."

Jesus: "Why did you speculate instead of just coming to Me when I am right here."

Me: "Lord, the battle is raging and I need Your help and guidance."

Jesus: "I know that this is your most difficult battle to date as you fully stepped out of the boat with your children to walk toward Me in the midst of the storm. Now what is My character based on your faith in Me to do this? What does My Word say about Who I am?"

Me: "First, You are the God of the impossible and the God who calms the storms. You clearly rolled up the clouds and held back the wind."

Jesus: "So am I going to stand on the waves during the storm and motion for you with open arms for you and your children to walk towards Me only to now allow you to sink?"

He looked at me like a loving and caring Father. In His eyes, I could see my children and I stepping onto the waves from the boat and walking toward Jesus in the storm. I saw my children were afraid and clung to each other and me. However, I was even more terrified than them because they were out there on the water with me.

Me: "Oh Lord, this is difficult to see as it all looks so real."

Jesus: "Is this not how you feel, Erin?"

Me: Crying. "My heart is pounding and I am so scared."

Jesus: "When you are in the midst of the storm, do not wait for it to pass over you. It goes much faster if you step through it. It is simple, Erin, as you just need to walk through it with your children."

Me: "How do I walk through it?"

Jesus: "Look again."

I looked in His eyes and I saw an open door. I did not see it before, but now it was clear as day. On the other side of the door was Jesus with open arms reaching out to me in the storm. We all clung together and stepped on the waves with trepidation, but then my children ran through it to Jesus even before I did. He then reached and pulled all of them into safety.

Me: "Lord, am I holding my children back out of fear?"

Jesus: "No, but you must allow Me to work and trust that what I have begun I will also complete."

Me: "Thank You, Lord."

Jesus: "One other thing, Erin. Crying out to Me in prayer is good as I am with you and prayer is good, but you have not waited for Me to speak or answer and instead you get up immediately and go. What if I was an earthly father and you came to me with your troubles, but then you walked away before I could even lend you help?"

Me: "Oh no, Lord, I have been doing this all of the time recently."

Jesus: "It is like you have gone to Court, plead your case and left before the judge can grant you your victory."

Me: Laughing. "I am so sorry, Lord."

Jesus: "Just because I told you I would go before you in battle does not mean cannot communicate with each other."

Me: "Please forgive me for being so foolish as I was trying to step aside and let You work."

Jesus: Smiling. "Hmm, so am I not able to multitask? Look at the world today and all the trouble. Do you believe I am not there in the midst of the storms and that I no longer care?"

Me: "I realize I am small. I am sorry."

Jesus: "No, Erin, You are not small. Even with just a mustard seed of faith, you can command the mountain into the sea so do not doubt. Since your faith is available and I am here with you, who can be against you?"

"Now keep your faith as there is an open door and you must walk through this. I love you and I will save you and your children."

He reaches over and hugs me. He kisses me on the top of my head!

Dream 130 – Dream of War

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day, my children and for family and the prayers of friends. Lord, I am being hammered by my enemies and it is so relentless and beyond reason that I must believe it is a supernatural battle. This battle is so ridiculous and so against just normal business, that I must assign it to powers, principalities and unseen forces.

How do I pray for my enemy when I know the enemy of You is the ruler over them? How do I fight against things hidden? I cannot, Lord, and there is nothing I can do until this storm from both sides' passes or you remove it. In the meantime, Lord, please show me You are here in this place. Please protect us with Your mighty hand. I love You.

Jesus: "Erin, come up."

I woke up out of bed in a place I had not been before, but that I had seen before in a dream from almost eighteen months ago that I did not understand. I heard the sounds of something like a mourning dove and some fluttering of wings.

I had been laying down on a hard surface with a small mat about six inches thick and a piece of cloth rolled up as a pillow. There was a small window about seven feet up in what looked like a room of solid rock. The window was approximately eighteen inches high and thirty six inches long.

I was too short to see out of this window, but I could tell that it was morning based on the temperature and sunlight. I was wearing semi-dirty clothing including a white long sleeved shirt and some cream colored linen pants. I had no shoes on and there were no shoes around to put on.

My feet seemed dirty and I laughed as it looked like I had a small trace of nail polish on one of my toe nails. My hair was long, braided to one side and dirty. I walked to the opening of this rock bedroom where I saw pages of what looked like a disassembled Bible in the next room.

I then saw something that looked like a bottle of water, three potatoes and a hard crust of bread. There was a jar of some sort of spread, but I did not know what the spread was. This room was small and only about seven feet by seven feet with a rock for a table and a grass mat for sitting.

There were some small primitive looking utensils and some grooved marks on the walls which looked like a day count calendar. It appeared like weeks, but I did not feel led to count.

The walls were all solid rock and, as dawn was breaking, I could now see that the walls were reddish in color. I followed the light through another open doorway. I was looking through to the outside and over to another mountain range when I heard a bird fluttering its wings.

As I carefully went to walk outside, I stopped in my tracks when I saw what looked like 'gunshot' holes in the opening to this cave-like dwelling. I saw that the sky was blue, but the opening was facing another rock ridge with other cave like homes.

I suddenly became afraid to step out and I reached down and picked up a piece of paper. When I examined this, I saw that this was a torn piece of the Bible with Psalm 127 on one side and Psalms 125 and 126 on the other side.

I smiled and held the paper in my right hand as I began to slowly walk out onto the ledge of this cave-like house. All of a sudden a small bird darted quickly and hit my hand which held the torn Scripture page. I must have startled it as it sat dazed on the ground before finally flying outside.

Drawing of broken columns in reply below...

What I then saw was very vivid. I saw three large columns, along with pieces of other columns. There was smoke rising from the area as if smoldering and these columns of smoke rose as dark as charcoal to an opening in the sky.

I was looking over a valley after an epic battle and saw that this valley was surrounded by low hills and a mountain with cave dwellings. The area formed into what looked like an arena.

The dirt was red clay which made this sight even more surreal. It was modern day, yet a primitive looking battle was taking place. There was a layer of fog or dust haze right off the floor of the valley and I noticed that some people were stepping out of their rock dwellings. I rubbed my eyes in disbelief as this scene was so real and so clear. I heard the voice of God talking to me and I began to cry.

Drawing of broken columns with smoke in reply below...

God: "Because you love Me, I will protect you. Fear not for I am with you so do not be dismayed. I am your God and I will strengthen you, help you and uphold you with My righteous right hand so do not be afraid.

"Behold as all those who come against you will surely fail and then will be shamed. I am your shield and your very great reward. I will keep you and hold you close in the day of trouble. You and your children I will protect.

"You will proclaim, 'The Lord hath done great things for as the Lord is God blessed be His Name.' Erin, you are loved so do not worry."

The Holy Spirit then prompted me to read the Book of Ruth about what a kinsman redeemer is.

Dream 131 – Faith vs. Fear

Received Thursday, July 31, 2014

(Formerly known as Heaven 55)

Dear Father,

I am defeated, heartbroken and scared as I looked down and saw sharks in the water. My children did not see them though because their eyes remained on You. Now I am in the water as sharks circle and hope seems far away. Why send sharks, Lord? When Peter got out of the boat, there was a storm, but no mention of sharks.

Why allow me to take my focus off of You? When I suddenly became aware of the sharks power and presence under my feet and as the storm raged, I soon after lost sight of You out of fear. Now that I lack faith, I am afraid and suddenly feel alone. However, my children still believe so please, Lord, call out to them and let them run into Your arms.

Why, O Lord, do You allow the wicked to prosper? Even though I know that You determine my days and even know the hairs on my head, why do I still wonder? While You say that my name is etched on the palm of Your hand, why then does it seem like am I so quickly passed over?

Why does justice not come? Where does mercy finally rest and on whom? Please, Lord, forgive me, as I am stunned. The arrogant scoff at me because I love You and they say, "So where is that God you serve now?"

Father, my children and I have not had justice. Even if we are never vindicated on Earth, then please, Lord, make right all the wrongs. Do not allow my enemies to declare that You love them more than me. I am jealous for You and only the ones who love and seek You have a right to declare Your goodness.

Those who never loved You cannot understand Your ways. I clearly do not know all Your ways myself, but I do know that I love You without any doubt. Yes, I can whine and complain, but my love for You does not change.

Jesus: "Erin, come up."

Immediately I am in deep, dark water with three shark fins circling me. Not only are there sharks, but there is a storm approaching and the skies are dark and foreboding. As waves of water go over me, I noticed that my children are not in the water with me.

Suddenly I felt these gigantic sharks brushing my legs in the cold surf. I thought, 'Okay, now I have done it; my lack has caused me to sink in deep water and even now with sharks.'

My arms were treading water, but with no life jacket my panicked movements made me appear to be a wounded animal or prey to the sharks. Realizing I was making things worse, I stopped splashing and moving and just began to float.

I began to pray as I just knew that next I was about to become shark bait. As I lay floating for a while, my arms and legs began to become cold and numb as the waves continued to go over my face. After a while, I began to anticipate the next wave and held my breath as it washed over me.

Thankfully, I could no longer feel the sharks anymore and, if they were still there, I had no knowledge of where they were. I closed my eyes as the storm's rain became torrential and found myself now waiting for death.

At one point, the water started to feel warmer than the air above me. As I was now beginning to sink, I surrendered to my troubles as I had lost hope. I then saw a tunnel of bright light and felt some movement of my body, but then my memory seemed to lapse...

I woke up on my side on a white sandy beach with my lungs filled with water. In response, I painfully coughed up a wave of salt water. However, I then noticed a distinct difference in that the water tasted salty and sweet versus the extreme saltiness of earthly ocean water.

From this taste alone, I suddenly realized that I had now landed on a Heavenly shore and within a flash I no longer had any pain at all. As I sat up, I noticed that I was wearing a white sundress in a fabric made up of that heavenly fabric that was soft, breathable, non-staining and wicked-off any liquid substance. I was laughing, as I realized there were no wrinkles on the fabric even though it felt incredibly close to earthly linen, but so much softer.

I then noticed that I was wearing a single long braid and that my feet were bare. As I stood up, I brushed off the beautiful white sugar sand and noticed that this Heavenly sand really did not stick to my skin here. There was not a cloud in the sky and the air was fragrant with flowers. There was a gentle breeze and the temperature was a perfect 78 degrees Fahrenheit.

I looked around at this Heavenly Paradise and was surprised yet again to see the ocean, or perhaps a massive ocean-like lake, as I had originally thought that there would no longer be oceans in Heaven. As I pondered this, I questioned how an ocean could be different and perfected here compared to on Earth?

Anyway, as I looked out, I saw that this huge body of water was beautiful and even saw a school of dolphins playing in the water. Yes, these dolphins were actually playing, but it looked like a scripted show at Sea World even though I knew this was just for them.

Then I remembered that I had just been out in an earthly ocean swimming with sharks under me. I remembered the fear as well, so I knew that this definitely had not been Heaven. While it could have even been the Heavenly training room, I just knew that it was definitely not here in Heaven. I called out softly to Jesus.

Me: "Lord, where are You? I have many questions."

Suddenly I heard that Heavenly calypso music with a hint of reggae.

Me: Laughing. "Lord, You are so funny. Now, where is my tropical drink with the umbrella?"

I looked toward the water and I laughed so hard as, I kid you not, there floating toward me was a small white and red life preserver with a cup holder and a very large blended tropical drink in a pineapple-looking cup with a beautiful fruit garnish.

The funny thing was there was a real umbrella over the entire life preserver to shelter all of it. In other words, the umbrella was not in the drink as they are on Earth and I laughed so hard at this. I suddenly realized that I had not laughed like this in many months.

I got up and brought the funny Heavenly preserver up on the shore and reached for the drink. I took a sip and all I can say is wow as it was the most incredibly refreshing drink. It was frozen, sweet, tart and fruity combined and not like anything here on Earth.

As the calypso-type music began to play louder, I could feel the Lord calling me. I began to walk along the beach to the south to look for the Lord there. The water was so beautiful and felt a little cooler than bath water. The water was light blue with green, but I just knew it was so safe here.

As I walked, I saw all these beautiful Heavenly Homes along the shore and each had its own private cove. These Homes were amazing and I smiled and said, 'Lord, if people only knew just a small portion of what You prepared for them, they would strive for this and there would be a change on Earth.'

As I walked, I saw sailboats out in the water. The wind seemed to fully extend the sails out there on the water, but all I felt here on the shore was a pleasant and gentle breeze.

Tears began to stream down my cheeks as I looked at my body. This was the glorified version of my dancer's body in my mid-twenties and I was muscular, but not at all boyish. My skin was a deep tan like I had when I lived in Marco Island, Florida.

I was carrying my still-frozen tropical drink in my right hand and the life preserver in my left. I had folded up the umbrella and had it under my left arm. I looked at the underside of the preserver and there was some script. I laughed so hard when I saw what was written.

It said, in the same script as one of the T-shirts my kids have had me wear while I have had my neck brace on, 'Life is Good'. I liked this shirt as it always made people do a double take and everyone would comment with a smile. Even though I was in pain, having this shirt on somehow made it more bearable.

Anyway, in the same script as my earthly shirt, the preserver read, "Life is Good, but Eternal Life is Better." Okay, I want that on a T-shirt on Earth. I shook my head and knew that today would be another lesson and I could see it coming.

As I turned the corner of the inlet I was walking on, I saw a beautiful Heavenly Beach Mansion. As I waded to the first large square stepping stone, I saw up on the second balcony that there was the Lord. He waved and was laughing.

Jesus: "So, Erin, why are you carrying the life preserver?"

Me: "Well, Lord, I never know if You might throw me back in deep water again. After all, I need a place to put my tropical drink when I am trying to treat water."

Jesus: He was laughing so hard. "Well, Erin, there is that humor I love so much. Now, drop the preserver and the umbrella as I am here and you will not need it anymore. You can bring your drink, though."

I dropped the preserver and the umbrella and quickly ran to where He was. An angel reached over to take my drink and set it on the table as I ran to Jesus and hugged Him. Once in His arms and safe, I began to cry.

Me: "Lord, I felt you abandoned me when I was hurt and scared. Where did You go? I could not see You on the water. Why did You allow all of that?"

Jesus: "Erin, let's discuss this as I was still there. Why do you think in Scripture that I was walking on the waves during a storm when I appeared to the disciples?"

Me: "I am not completely sure."

Jesus: "Well, you can study the Scriptures later as it is recorded in three books. Now despite their best attempts, the disciples could not get the boat to the shore due to the storm. Based on the location of the Sea of Galilee that they were on, this sea was known for violent and very sudden storms.

"It was dark and I had appeared to them during the fourth watch of the night. When they saw a body walking on water in a violent storm towards them, they were terrified as they did not recognize it was Me. As they were gripped with fear, they were no longer looking for Me due to this fear becoming greater than their faith."

He was standing next to me and leaning over the balcony looking at me as He talked. As I stood beside Him, I looked out at the ocean and listening intently to Him.

Me: "Lord, why did You allow them to have such fear? I do not understand as You had just fed five thousand people and this was such a jubilant time."

Jesus: "Hmm, you said that I had just fed five thousand and that is correct, so Who am I Who fed the five thousand?"

Me: I thought about what I had said. "Forgive me, Lord, I so quickly forget Who You are."

Jesus: He was smiling and nudged me. "Erin, do not allow fear to take your focus off of Me as faith and fear cannot dwell together and fear is a tool of the Blacksmith. What happened when I got into the boat with the disciples?"

Me: I nodded. "The sea calmed."

Jesus: "Yes. The boat had drifted during the storm and was about three and a half miles off course despite their best human efforts. The storm steered the boats and they could do nothing. However, instead of calling out to Me, they decided to rely on themselves and became afraid as they realized they were in grave trouble and then I suddenly appeared as a ghost.

So think about this; you are in a violent storm in a small wooden fishing boat at around 3:00am, the fourth watch, you are unprepared, the water is deep, your boat is floating over 144 feet of dark water, the waves are violent, they are not sleeping and are already afraid, and then I appear illuminated like a ghost and they see only the outline of My figure walking toward them on the waves. So, Erin, what would you feel?"

Me: "Lord, I would be terrified."

Jesus: "Yes, and they were. So why did I allow this?"

Me: "So they would witness to this and write about this miracle."

Jesus: "Hmm, yes and no. Remember, I still performed miracle after miracle, yet other than John and the 'Mary's. all of them were nowhere to be found at the Crucifixion. Fear governed them when they thought I was no longer able to help. Do you believe this, Erin?"

Me: "Lord, all You have shown me and all that You have done is what only You can do. I am not a wise woman and no Biblical scholar, but I know that Your filling of my empty vessel over and over is a miracle. I stand amazed and in awe at the love You have shown me.

"You continue to pursue me even when I lose focus of You and even when fear grips me. Because You empty me each time, I tend to forget what You promised and I wish I could remember more."

Jesus: "Yes, I know and have sent friends to help you, Erin, so it is okay. Remember that you and your children have stepped out of the boat in the storm and you are all out there walking toward Me. I have not forgotten, but just remember that I am still here and your children and friends still see Me and have faith and they are still walking toward Me.

"Erin, do not allow the enemy to grip you with fear. This entire group of experiences here has been faith training. You are about to have victory over your enemies as I have declared it. Now, what comes next requires you only to keep your eyes on Me.

"I do not care if there are massive sharks swimming and they even appear to be devouring you. If you must, close your eyes and call My Name, but do not become focused on all that can go wrong; rather focus fully on Me."

Me: "I am surrounded by enemies, Lord, and even the home I rent is the enemy's and I share the children with my main enemy. The insurance companies and the banks are other enemies. I know there is a war raging as all the signs are there, but I can do nothing? How do I keep moving forward with Kadima on my lips when I have no idea how? How do I have joy?"

He looked at me and, in His eyes, I saw my children so excited about leaving this place.

Jesus: "Erin, you keep looking to Me because I have you and your children. Remember that your children were My children first and that their faith is important to Me too. If you act afraid, then they will focus on trouble and lose heart as they do not know the sharks are just below the surface.

"Instead, your children only see Me and the open door so let them come to Me. If you want to swim with the sharks, I will allow it, but it is unnecessary. After a while, I will save you, but the whole ordeal would be unnecessary."

He motions to the angel to bring me the life preserver and umbrella. I looked at them and became afraid.

Me: "Lord, I choose You and I am sorry. You must show me what to do, what to sign, what..."

Jesus: "Erin, stop! You are to let me go before you as you have done all you can. Do you think you could steer the boat during the storm better than even the disciples. Hmm, were they not experienced fishermen? Erin, I am going before you in this battle."

Me: I became quiet. "Okay."

Jesus: "When Moses was battling Pharaoh, how discouraging do you think it was for the Israelites and the slaves? Think about this; they are surrounded by their enemy, the enemy hates them yet needs them and even knows that God is with them. Does that not anger Pharaoh?"

"Then as the slaves ready their households to leave, they are afraid as they have only known slavery. Here is this guy and his brother leading them into the desert with their children and the elderly blindly, yet they know God is involved, but how many of them actually saw the miracles as they occurred?"

Me: "Probably they did not, but they had faith on eye witness accounts and the hatred of their enemy over the plagues."

Jesus: Smiling. "Correct. So, technically speaking, they did not even have printed Bibles or tablets and computers to research faith. They were relying on these two guys."

Me: "You are right. While they were packing, they must have had doubts just like me."

Jesus: "Very good. So can you imagine the Passover that evening in the third watch? Could you imagine the screams by the fourth watch? They were inside their dwelling and could hear the wailing of death. They did not know what came next and perhaps thought even their own could die.

"They were ready to leave, but very afraid as they did not even have Me yet. They cried to My Father on the Throne and He heard their cries and delivered them from their enemies. Remember the children singing in Heaven along the River of Life?"

Me: "Yes."

Jesus: "The enemy's children are here, Erin, as they too are God's children. He is mighty to save. Now the enemy has tantrums as pride is another opposite fruit and goes before the fall.

"The enemy does not like defeat and he fears loss of power and control. He wants to be god over everyone and he thinks he could be a better god than Me. However, I tell you the truth; his days are numbered and counted. Erin, the Jubilee is in the ninth month and your exodus is very soon."

Me: "Lord, I must be out of here by August 23rd, 2014 at the latest as I have no choice."

Jesus: "Very well. Do you think I have no knowledge of your needs? Do you believe if I tell you I am going before you for fifty days that I have not considered all things and even your limitations?"

"Erin, there are things occurring that you cannot see. Perhaps you are in one of those dwellings waiting for the final signs to be led out of your desert place. Please trust Me that I will do as I say.

"If you have faith as a mustard seed, you could say to Mount Hermon 'fall into the sea' and it will go. So do not just wear that mustard seed necklace for show, but instead make sure you practice your faith. Now, do you remember what you stated in your yearbook in high school?"

Me: "Yes, Lord, 'to one day have a heart of gold, but for now it sits on a chain around my neck'"

Jesus: "Interesting, so write this down: 'To one day have faith like a mustard seed, but for now it sits on a chain around my neck.'"

He reached over and smiled and pointed to my necklace, which I apparently do not even take off in Heaven.

Me: Smiling. "Lord, help my faith as I clearly need help. Can You just do everything and take care of it as I will just mess everything up? It took many trials and hardships to remove the heart of gold necklace and have a measure of this in my walk. I need You to not stop nor quit even if You see me getting discouraged.

"I need You to take care of us, to make me appear to be strong and to level my enemies because God knows I have prayed for You to bless them or appear to them instead already and this has not worked. I have forgiven the unforgivable, but now I just want to be removed with my children quietly.

"I do not want the demise of my enemies to be at my hands, but only Yours as my hands fail me. My works are not prosperous under these conditions and I cannot steer my own boat out of this storm. I need You to come in the boat, calm the storm and tumultuous seas and steer us to a quiet peaceful shore.

"Please forgive me, Lord, as I have been here before and have repeated the same mistakes over and over. I have tried to leave the enemy before, but the enemy even used clever Scriptures and God to quiet me to sit in prison."

Jesus: "I tell you the truth; it is one thing to read and memorize My Words, but it is clearly another to etch them on your heart and put them into practice. Erin, the enemy will use God as a weapon to make you afraid. Your enemy can go on social media with gut wrenching photos of poor children and make you look like you are the enemy.

"However, then in the next photo, he has a picture of a gun and some snacks. People see all of this, yet no one is remiss about it as this is not a godly method. Again, look at the fruits of the Spirit as your enemies work and operate in the opposites of these.

"Look at the war in Israel right now and watch the world turn against God's people. However, watch the favor of the Lord protect her and their children as God is mighty to save. There is an umbrella as a cover and it is the hand of God just as I sent you help and even a frozen drink when you were thirsty.

"Look at Jonah; Jonah was in the belly of the whale three days and he could not stand the Ninevites as they were blood thirsty. God did not require Jonah to save them, but just to warn them and that was it as God would do the rest.

"Then when Jonah was moping about doing this, God sent a fig tree to give Jonah shade in the hot sun and he was thankful for the cover. Erin, do not let stubbornness send a worm and do not allow fear to grip you as I have sent you shade in a sun-scorched land and a cover.

"Now allow Me to carry you out and let Me go before you into battle as I am here." He hugged me and smiled. "Come, let's take communion again. I brought you to Paradise to remind you of where you reside in My heart and that My story is written on the tablet of your heart.

"Now, did you read and study the Scriptures you were given as these are good. Read Nehemiah, Jonah, Esther and even Ruth. Remember the five smooth stones David used and that he had gathered five stones though only one stone was needed to bring Goliath down.

"Was Goliath not a huge mountain to those being mocked? David was scoffed and mocked by both sides, yet David's bold declaration of God's love and his defense of God with his great faith activated the events which brought Goliath down with a single stone.

"God was not with Goliath, but with David, wherein David veering from the normal protocol of the world took bold faith. Erin, remember that all of the saints in these Scriptures had veered from normal protocol. Remember that God was before them, over them, behind them and in them as He is mighty to save."

He walked me over to the table as my tears dropped down my cheeks again.

Jesus: Smiling. "Erin, do not worry as you are loved."

Me: Smiling. "I love You too, Lord."

Dream 132 – David vs. Goliath

Received Sunday, August 3, 2014

(Formerly known as Heaven 56)

Communion

Dear Father,

I am scared and my heart is anxious. I can even feel my heart flutter as I begin to lose my breath over all of this so please help me, Lord. I look around at how far You have taken me and as I read the Words You have spoken through me that I have written, I know these are not from me.

You have blessed my life with wonderful children, friends and family and have used my journey to help others. Lord, what I come away with every day is that I know You more than I could have ever imagined.

I have become closer to You than I would have ever been just attending church a couple days a week. I know in my heart that You did not bring me this far just to dash my hopes now. My children praise You more now and sometimes seem to have even greater faith than I do.

Jesus: “Erin, come up.”

I am in an extremely lush green garden in a portion of a city that I had never been before here. It was a beautiful park with a large circular stone building and a path around it. There were people and families everywhere and I did not really understand all of it, but I know I felt completely safe here.

The air was fragrant as the lush greenery of the northern part of the Garden was filled with deciduous trees of every color. I noticed that there were also blossoming cherries as I walked there for some time.

The sunlight streamed in and reflected gold on the leaves and flowers. There was a river which ran to the right of me and a small covered bridge going across it. I smiled when I realized that I did not see people or hear the laughter of children anymore, so I began to look for the Lord.

Me: “Lord, are You here somewhere?”

I decided to walk through the covered bridge to the other side of the river bank. While it was dark inside the bridge as I walked across it, I saw Jesus waiting for me on the other side. I ran into His arms and wept with my cheek on His chest. I had a weekend home alone in bed without my children and no ability to do anything, so this was so soothing.

Me: "Oh Lord, please deliver us quickly as my heart is breaking and I am afraid. I am still out on the ocean walking toward You and I am now panicking because the storm rages and I am uncertain I heard from You properly. In reality, Lord, I really have no faith right now as I lost so much of my hope on Thursday (July 31st, 2014)."

He pulled me away from His chest and directed me to look into His eyes.

Jesus: "Erin, remember your hope was lost and then you had no faith in your understanding of who I am. I have explained when you are delivered you will look back over your trials and you will stand amazed. However, right now you are uncertain as time is also your enemy. Erin, remember it is God who controls time, right? Therefore you are at God's mercy."

Me: "Yes, but I am also at the mercy of the man under the 'six dragons'."

Jesus: "I know it seems that way now, but this is not the case. Last week, your expectations were higher than God's plan and you were disappointed and disillusioned, not to mention disheartened, as a result."

Me: "Lord, I must believe You would not set me up for a fall. Instead, I must believe You will carry me and go before me into battle."

Jesus: "Erin, any soldier dressing for war when he knows he is going into a battle where they are outnumbered three to one is petrified, so this is normal. If you are dressing for an earthly battle in which the outcome is surely your demise, then you have fear.

"Now you have two sets of three enemies, so let's call these enemies dragons or 'six dragons'. You are at a disadvantage as you are at the mercy of a slanted system and are at war with this. Now, if you can do nothing except stand, then stand. Come."

He walked me down to the river bank and I saw five smooth stones in the crystal clear water, each with different colors.

Jesus: "Erin, do you see these five stones?"

Me: "Yes."

Jesus: "Remember that David was extremely bold as a boy as we review the events in 1 Samuel 17. The Philistines were on one hill and Israel was on another hill, meaning that there was a valley in between them.

"In this valley, Goliath would come down every day and for forty days he mocked Israel. He taunted them with shouts and great clamor. Goliath was a showman and very arrogant and he had reason to be confident just on his size and armor alone."

Jesus was speaking as if He had actually been there to witness it and I knew that He had been. He drew an amazing picture for me as He continued to speak.

Jesus: "Now when Saul heard Goliath clamor, they were dismayed and afraid. Now try to now imagine David coming to Saul after he had been running back and forth from herding sheep to bring food and provisions to his brothers and to bring reports back to his father Jesse of the battle.

"David had heard the murmuring of fear coming from the Israelites and heard the commission and rewards given to any man who brought down Goliath. Indeed, the prize for doing so was a great one.

"David inquired about all of this with his brothers and they mocked him in return. In order to discourage David, his brothers even accused him of being wicked. His very own family then accused him and reminded him of his low position as a shepherd. Now, any normal boy would have simply cowered and gone back to tending sheep.

"Instead, David made a bold statement in a confident voice and declared to all of the soldiers there, 'Who is this uncircumcised Philistine who defies and taunts the armies of the living God?'

"Saul heard of this from others and, being curious, sent for David to come to him. When David met with Saul, he boldly declared to fight Goliath himself only to have Saul then remind David that he was only a boy and Goliath had been a warrior from his youth.

"Instead of backing down, David instead boldly declared his credentials of fighting both a lion and a bear, as well as even rescuing a lamb. David then, by faith and by God welling up in him, declared, 'The Lord who delivered me from the paw of the lion and the paw of the bear, He will deliver me from the hand of this Goliath (Philistine).'

"Saul realized that this was possibly God working here, but he was still halfhearted and had much doubt when he blessed David: 'Go and may the Lord be with you.' Saul then tried to dress David in his garments to adhere to normal protocol for soldiers, but David felt bogged down by the weight of this cover.

"You see, Erin, God is David's armor, not the conventional armor of the world. David was unfamiliar with these weapons and armor as they were untested by him, so he was not comfortable with Saul's approach. However, David was comfortable with what he knew and that which he had tested and practiced.

"David instead carried his stick or staff and chose five smooth stones in the brook, put them in his bag and had his sling in hand as he went to meet Goliath. When Goliath saw this, he first laughed, then became insulted and then began to curse David. Now, any normal 'man' would have seen this and would have been shaking in fear as Goliath told David that he would basically pull him apart and feed his flesh to beasts.

"Instead, David welled up as the God within him rose up. David then spoke out loud as the entire area and both sides listened, 'You come to me with a sword, a spear and a javelin, but I come to you in the name of the Lord of hosts and the God of Israel Whom you have taunted. This day, the Lord will surely deliver you up into my hands and I will strike you down and remove your head from you.'

"Then he went on to declare that the battle is the Lord's and that He will give you into our hands. David brought five stones, but only one stone was needed as it sunk right into Goliath's head and he fell. Indeed, Goliath had fallen face forward to the ground.

"David, a mere boy, then cut off Goliath's head and the enemy fled at the sight. Though the opposing armies fled, they were hunted down by Israel, their camps were plundered and victory was theirs."

Jesus then pointed to the five stones in the river.

Jesus: "Erin, pick up your stones, but only one stone will be needed to bring down your giant as this battle is the Lord's. Remember back to that courtroom on Thursday that there was a placard that was placed even higher than the placard for the 'six dragons'.

"Now when you present yourself carrying these five stones, and just as David experienced, there will be laughter, scoffing, name calling and then threats. However, just as David knew God and trusted Him to take up his cause, you must then allow God to work.

"David was bold and with bold faith so, like him, you are now standing in the valley, this desert, between two mountains and are about to face your adversary. Also like David, you are not to worry, Erin, as this battle is God's!"

Me: "Yes, Lord, but I am afraid and when I am afraid, I lack and think, 'What if I missed something You told me? What if I heard wrong?' This then freezes me and I cannot move as I am gripped with fear. I remember over and over again from Isaiah 12:2-3, 'Surely God is my salvation; I will trust and not be afraid. The Lord is my strength and my song; He has become my salvation.'"

Jesus: "What does your song sound like? What is the rest of that Scripture?"

Me: "With joy, You will draw water from the wells of salvation."

Jesus: "Then drink the water from the well, Erin, drink as I am here with You! I am going before you in this battle. I know this is difficult, but know that I am not relying on your faith for my success in this battle. I will therefore rely on your friend's faith, as well as your children's."

Me: Crying. "Lord, forgive me, but unless You build my house, I have none. I am in pain, I am afraid and now I am not even working. Instead, I am now relying on lawyers to fight and I am facing an unfair system. To make matters worse, I am under my employer's roof and I am uncertain where I am going or when!

"I know where I would like to be, I have dreamed of it and I cling to Your promises, but they seem far away. I continue to pack and to do everything I need to prepare my household, but ultimately I am at Your mercy and under Your care. Lord, during this tornado, I feel like I am caught between the house and the storm cellar outside. Help!"

Jesus: "Erin, I am glad you have gotten this out in the open as the first step in facing your giant is to release armor which is cumbersome. This armor does not fit you and it weighs you down. These are your cares and worries, so, here, give Me this armor and let's get this off of you.

"Now come and let Me cover you as I have you. Let Me be your shield and buckler and put on the armor of My Word. The armor of the world will make it so you cannot fight the giant. Now, I am glad you were honest with Me."

Me: "Forgive me, Lord, as I have been in such a long battle and I am wounded from it. Almost all that we had, we lost from these past battles. Ever since, I have been in slavery because of it. Now I am wounded and I can barely face my enemy and need Your help.

"Please, Lord, do something so miraculous that I will be set free, along with my children, in an instant. Heal us and deliver us so that I will never doubt again and I will forever testify of Your miracles and divine love.

"Lord, truth be told, even if You do not do things in the order or manner I had hoped, I will still testify to Your greatness forever and ever. I love You, Lord, and You call me friend. I do not understand Your ways, but I know that You are a divine and glorious mystery.

"If You tell me to pick up those five stones and that one of these stones will take down the giant, then I will do as You say. Lord, I have nothing to lose, but myself and even then that is Your's."

Jesus: "Yes, Erin, you are mine and when you pass through the waters I will be with you and when you pass through the rivers they will not sweep over you (Isaiah 43:2). When you walk through the fire you will not be burned and the flames will not harm you for I am the Lord."

I was in tears and, as He spoke this, I looked into His eyes and saw a vision back when I was facing my darkest time. My children were very young when I had boldly reported my enemy to the police. After that, and due to his lies, everyone went against me except those who had witnessed what had actually happened.

Soon, I was without money, my reputation was gone and I was being wrongfully accused even by my church family. All hope was lost as it seemed like even God was against me. Nonetheless, I still stood for my kids; I took a stand.

I was so afraid at night that I would stand watch over my house. I prayed and barely slept as the law I was relying on was certainly not as strong as the Lord in our defense. One night, as I slept and was at my lowest point, God gave me a dream.

In this dream, a dam had broken and the water was now overflowing the river's banks. The water was raging and it was now late at night. My children and I were stranded on a sand bank as the water began to sweep over us. I was terrified and I called out for God.

Then He appeared and, one by one, He took my children across straight through the raging waters to the other side. After He gathered us all, we walked together for a long time until He finally delivered us to a peaceful meadow in the trees by the water.

As I saw the entire scene from this dream unfold in Jesus' eyes, I began to weep.

Jesus: "Erin, I am still walking with you and your children and we are almost there. No one will hurt you and you will be safe. I am still the same yesterday, today and tomorrow and I will not change as I am steadfast in love. The wicked will not prosper as God knows all things done in secret. Let Me take your yoke of affliction."

I reached over and hugged Him. I then dropped into the river and reached for the five stones. I walked back up and handed all five of these stones to Jesus.

Me: "Lord, please bless these five stones."

Jesus: "'The Lord blesses you, Erin; this kindness is greater than that which you showed me earlier.' (Ruth 3:10)"

Me: "Lord, You are my deliverer and You are my Kinsman Redeemer. Please, Lord, plead my case and throw these stones for me as You must go before me in this and lead us Home. Lord, the Battle is Yours and I give it all to You!"

Jesus: "Very good, Erin, I love You. Then this is done as I am who I say I am." He blessed the stones and handed them back to me.

Dream 133 – God’s Quiver and Harvest

Received Tuesday, September 9, 2014

(Formerly known as Heaven 57)

Communion & Prayer

Dear Father,

I love You so much and when I think of Your works concerning us, I simply stand in awe. I am so thankful to You that there is nothing I can repay You with other than worship. Thank You, Lord, thank You so much.

Jesus: “Erin, come up.”

I stood on a cliff in Heaven overlooking an amazing landscape of trees. I saw ribbons and ribbons of fall colors, as well as some I cannot describe. These colors are so much more amazing than the colors we see and understand here on Earth.

There was a silvery colored mist in the air, while the sky was a deep periwinkle blue. A flock of birds was flying overhead in the most amazing formations and the sounds they made were like worship music. Here, even the birds call out to God in praise with such precision that this could only be a digitally mastered composition on Earth.

There was a beautiful fragrance in the air of something like wood smoke, pear, almond and grass with a very small hint of eucalyptus. I know this may seem like an odd combination, but it was a lovely and Heavenly scent.

I looked behind me and I saw a valley that I did not recognize. I saw angels and saints in the fields working together on a harvest. I was very excited as I saw figs, grass, wheat, pomegranates and other crops, but I could not tell exactly what. From here it looked like barley or perhaps even corn.

I found this interesting as the saints harvesting with angels looked as if they had come from many different earthly cultures and many ethnicities were represented. I looked to my right and I saw the one very large angel with a plumb line and a bob and another very large angel with scales for weighing.

These angels were busy and were not paying any attention to me. I heard one of the angels speak in a loud Heavenly tongue that was foreign to my ears. Thankfully, the Lord gave me a download of the interpretation and he had said, ‘the time has begun.’

I then saw God's massive calendar in the sky with events coming and going rapidly in succession and overlapping in time. In that short time, I saw two or maybe even three cycles go by. I walked over to the angels to ask for an explanation.

Me: "When will this be? What time has come?"

Angel: "Erin, do you not know? You have been shown this and now you must prepare. However, do not be afraid as fear is not from God, but to fear God is wisdom."

Me: I called out to Jesus for answers. "Lord, please clarify as I can now see that this time is very soon."

Angel: "Erin, you and your family are tucked away and you now have more with you in God's quiver. Now, and like never before, you must pray and believe with all of your heart. The Lord has fulfilled one of His promises with you and will continue to do so more and more every day. So, are you amazed?"

Me: "Why yes, truly amazed, but it has not completely sunk in yet."

Angel: "Without faith, it is impossible to please God. You were given promises three years ago and they have now been fulfilled. You were also given promises and prophecies one year ago and you will see these promises and prophecies fulfilled too. Now look around you and stand amazed."

I looked all around me and saw harvesters from all over the world preparing for the Lord's return. I was so overjoyed to see all of this happening.

Dream over...

For those who are weary in their watches for Jesus' return, remember that we are in God's quiver and we are like sharp arrows to the enemy. Pray that God uses us for His glory to bring many to know Him more.

How awful would it be to be an arrow in God's quiver, but to never be used prior to His coming. If you are in God's quiver, you will be used for His purposes and glory. Pray for the USA, but most of all pray for Israel.

Love and blessings from the trees...Erin

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank you for this beautiful fall day. The trees are beginning to turn and the beauty is so overwhelming. The sky is gray and the rainfall is intermittent. I can hear the small stream and waterfall from outside my window and I just cannot contain my joy.

Lord, You have blessed us and I am experiencing peace and contentment which I thought I would never have. I have had some loose ends to contend with, but for the most part the enemy is far removed.

Last night, I had a dream that I purchased a blue home with white trim. The house was older and had many different rooms. As I kept walking through the home, I made a mental note that I could not account for the middle section of the floor plan.

As I searched for clues on this, I found hidden doors which were sealed. Finally I found a split in some plywood and I could see a living space there through the crack. As I looked through the crack, I could also see several valuable things, yet I had no way in.

When I woke up I went to the Lord in prayer. Lord please show me what that dream means. Is this a personal dream or a universal dream? I love You so much, Father. Please bless all of us as we pray for Your continued miracles and peace.

Jesus: “Erin, come up.”

I was immediately up in an area of Heaven which I had not been in for a very long time. I came up through the Portal and I was on the path. I saw before me the small forestry outhouse door which amounted to a freestanding wooden door with no frame. This always made me laugh.

The trees around me were brightly colored and there was a mixture of gold, green, red and orange. There was a slight smell of wood smoke and a cool breeze in the air.

I went to the wooden door to open it. As I lifted up the latch, I heard a pretty bell like chime. I let go of the latch, but the door still opened without me even touching it. I walked through the door and into a beautiful setting that I recognized as the northern area of the City of God.

I looked around me and in the distance to the southwest I saw the area where the receiving docks are and noticed that it was a beautiful day. I crossed a small scenic bridge over the River of Life and I knew instinctively to travel north.

In the distance, I saw elders from the city gathering at the overlook. I saw a commotion with the crowd there as this was the area from Heaven where we as citizens of Heaven can look down upon the Earth. I ran to see what the commotion was about.

The elders dispersed as the angels ushered them off to the right of the observation area to make a space for me. I ran to the space at the balcony and looked down on the Earth. There I saw a large blood moon and it was over Africa and the Middle East. There I saw something which terrified me.

I saw a massive wave come up and over from the east. This wave was ominous and carried with it pestilence and disease and was ignored by far away areas until the wave was right over the countries. As I looked closer, I saw angels being held back for now by the hand of God.

I began to cry as I saw people getting very sick on Earth. I saw poisoned blood in the water ways, including the rivers, streams, lakes and dams. I saw water turning to blood and there was no longer any clean water. This disease made people thirsty, but there was no way of quenching their thirst with clean water because there simply was none.

Then I saw a series of Heavenly horses standing on their hind legs and noticed that mighty angels were riding on these massive beautiful animals. The angels were in full armor and I could see that this was a massive Heavenly army. However, God was holding the bits of the horses and was controlling them.

Then I heard the massive sound of a Shofar so loud that the sound was heard in both Heaven and Earth. The sound of the horn activated the angel army and it started to move up from the south like a massive wave of light.

I then saw the City of Jerusalem with half a blood moon over it. In other words, the moon was half red and half white. I then saw Jerusalem divided in half wherein one side was red with blood and the other side was white.

Then I turned and saw a distant mountain from the west and there was a large green pasture on the mountain. It was highlighted with the sun and was quite beautiful. I saw a pregnant heifer there as she was giving birth to two calves. One calf was red and without any blemishes and the other calf was pure white with red eyes.

The sack surrounding the white calf was green and full of poison. I saw two large angels immediately appear with large swords. One of the large angels held the red calf and kept it safe, while the other large angel quickly removed the white calf.

The white calf cried out for its mother, but the angel sheltered the mother and covered its ears so it could not hear the distress calls of the white calf. I somehow knew that the white calf would have soured the milk so that the red calf would be unhealthy, unclean and eventually die.

Then I saw legions of Heavenly angels protect the heifer and her red calf so nothing could come against it. However, the white calf was ominous and frightening. Then my eyes moved back to Jerusalem and I saw a divided city with construction in it.

Bad milk was upon the new Temple and gifts were being received for the building from cursing laborers. I saw swarms of flies and a stench as everything for the worship of God's house was made unclean. I saw holy men or rabbis not able to keep the Temple ceremonially pure.

I saw an old Jewish blind man and young Jewish boy darning fibers. The old blind man was allowing wool to be mixed with linen as a new standard practice and did not see it as a problem. The young Jewish boy was protesting and trying to stop it, but the old Jewish man was going by feel instead of by the Word of God.

I then saw a large swift lion larger than five elephants running fast up from the south. As the lion approached Jerusalem, I saw an extremely large angel with a plumb-line measuring the area for the lion and in advance of it. The enemy was there in the city and I noticed that the plumb bob and line were slanted.

As the lion approached, the plumb line became balanced and evenly weighted. Many had died prior to the lion coming. The lion was so large and many came from far away countries and regions to pay homage to it.

As the travelers came, many were on alternate transportation and there was great humility and visible battle wounds. There was weeping and gratitude upon entering Jerusalem.

I had so much to take in and in such a short amount of time that all I could do was weep as I watched the scene unfold before me. I felt a hand on my shoulder and it was Jesus. I held Him and wept as He held me close to Him.

Me: "Oh Lord, this is very soon and I am afraid. When will this be?"

Jesus: "Erin, come."

He took me over to the River of Life and there were communion elements on a blue velvet blanket. He motioned for me to sit as He handed me some bread.

Jesus: "Remember it is I and I love you. Do not forget the covenant which I have made with those who love Me and choose Me now as this is Important."

He motioned for me to eat.

Jesus: "There is symbolism in this wine as My blood is represented. The same symbolism is in the stars, moon and sun. Therefore, Erin, when you see these signs, you know the time is soon to come as it is written. Do not be afraid when you see these signs for I am there with you and I am here."

Me: "Lord, I have never seen You this serious."

I noticed that Jesus was in full battle gear, but I did not see His wings. His sword and armor were so beautiful.

Me: "Lord, I have so many questions. Please help me to interpret all of this."

Jesus: "Erin, It is written so take comfort that all which has been hidden will soon be revealed. Do not be afraid as you will not suffer shame. Instead, pray continuously and forgive."

Me: "Lord, help with what I have seen."

He walked over to me and kissed me on the forehead.

Dream over...

This was a very short, but extremely real, detailed and clear. Pray that He clarifies all of this soon. Be blessed.

Love, Erin

Dream 135 – The Flood

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for all that You have done, for technology and the ability to reconnect with friends and family and for the testing of my patience. I quickly found out that there are situations which are beyond my control. Even money is not always a player in a game of circumstance as there are sometimes things that man simply has no control of. I thank You in these situations for Your divine creativity and faith.

I had even begun to wonder if I were to ever be back online. I now realize that this was all divinely orchestrated on Your part to offer me family time. All three of my children were baptized on Sunday at a small local church and it was wonderful. I was so excited to get them baptized without an opposing court order and an ensuing battle.

I have had some incredible dreams over the last week. In one of these dreams, I was driving in my car at around sundown. The sun was setting on the western horizon as I was driving east.

In front of me was a huge storm cloud and it was rolling in like a gigantic scroll. In the front of the cloud, there was a massive billowing area that was hundreds of feet high. There I saw these massive letters in the sky on the front of the storm cloud and I recognized them as the Greek letters 'alpha' and 'omega', along with the Hebrew letter in between of 'hey'. Left to right this read as, 'Omega – Hey – Alpha'.

As I was driving straight into the storm, I noticed that the traffic was traveling the opposite direction and away from where I was traveling. I pulled off to the side of the road as the wind started to pick up.

I was approached by an evil familiar man as I got out of my car.

Evil man: "Your children will be gone soon."

I remembered that I was on my way to pick them up as I was holding a bunch of miniature lilies in my right hand to give to my children when I got them. However, and just with the frightening look from his dark eyes, he was able to cut the flower blossoms right from the stem. I continue to hold these stems, but quickly started my car up to get away from him and to my kids.

Evil man: Yelling at me as I drove away. "You are driving right into a category five hurricane."

Just then the radio announced that all waterways, rivers, dams and tributaries had been breached and that the land was no more. I drove up to higher ground to keep out of the flooding water. I stood at the edge of a cliff and looked down on an ocean side city and guessed that it could be Los Angeles, Portland or Seattle.

Then I could somehow see in the distance that the dam had indeed broken and that the water was now completely destroying this entire area. Though not close to me anymore, I could still somehow hear the evil man shouting in the distance and suspected he was in harm's way of the oncoming water.

Evil man: "Now the burning begins."

Then I saw something like heavenly angels and they seemed handsome and rugged. However, as I was able to see more details of these beings, I quickly realized that they were not Heavenly at all.

Instead, these evil beings had black tipped wings and were deceiving many of the people. I then saw them flying over the city and pouring out buckets of hot embers all over it.

I then saw horses from the south and a large face in a cloud in the sky. The horses appeared to be tied to a type of gate that they were about to open. I heard a massive horn and this face began to puff its cheeks.

The horses then opened the gates from the south and a mighty wind came from the mouth of the face. The wind then took the burning embers and scorched the land.

People were rushing to these angels for help and were not realizing that these angels were extremely evil. These beings then began picking these people out of the flooded areas and dropping them into the burning areas instead.

Me: I yelled out. "When is this? What time?"

I heard a response of: "18th, 19th and 20th!"

Me: I yelled out again. "What month? What year? Please help me, Lord!"

Jesus: "Erin, come up."

Immediately I was up in Heaven on a beautiful overlook in God's Garden. I saw a peaceful valley with green grass and grazing sheep and the River of Life was flowing past this beautiful meadow.

To the eastern and southern part of this beautiful valley there were incredible groves of aspens in silvers, purples, whites and gold. There was a beautiful mist over the entire area that appeared as dark purple and shades of lavender and had an opalescent quality.

Dawn was now breaking and I saw the sky begin to display every shade of pink and red. The mountains appeared to be composed of amethyst, quartz, jasper and carnelian and truly seemed to come alive with color as the sun rose.

When the sunlight began to break through the aspens, the mist of opal seemed to somehow create a rainbow over the grass pasture. This scene was so remarkable and vivid that nothing on Earth comes even close.

I heard in the distance the sound of a Heavenly choir. While the singing began softly as the sun rose, the singing seemed to build and build along with the light. I smiled as I recognized this to be the 'Hallelujah Chorus.

The choir was expertly singing multiple verses and phrases together in absolutely perfect harmony. I heard them sing 'And He will reign forever and ever! King of kings and Lord of lords. Hallelujah, Hallelujah, Hallelujah!' The sun continued to rise as if it was leading the choir.

Me: "Where are You, Lord? Thank You as this is so beautiful."

Then I felt a hand on my shoulder and it was Jesus. I turned and hugged Him.

Me: "I am so glad to see You, Lord. Thank You."

Jesus: "I am glad you came, Erin. So how do you like this?"

Me: "Oh, Lord, it is incredible."

Jesus: "I will only have you here a short time today as you must rest."

Me: "Yes, Lord, I have been in great pain and tired. I seemed to have weakened, so please heal me, Lord."

Jesus: "Erin, you will soon be healed as your healing has begun. Now that I am here, do you have any questions?"

Me: "Yes, Lord. I see many signs and this dream was so real. When will this be? The storm seems like it is coming soon. How do I prepare?"

Jesus: "You are preparing and you were even given a warning by your stepfather about the stripes on the caterpillars." He smiled and chuckled.

Me: "Oh yes, my stepdad told me, as he is an Entomologist and based on the position of the stripes on our caterpillars up here, that we should expect severe weather coming. Two weeks ago, there were so many flies for a few days and then so many ladybugs. The ladybugs are hibernating in our home and I am not sure what to make of all of this."

Jesus: Smiling. "The flies died off quickly as they always do and the ladybugs mean no harm as they recognize your home as safe. I want you to prepare for storms as a wise man does not avoid good counsel or Godly signs.

"Remember that God created the land and the animals even before man so there are natural signs which nature will give you of upcoming seasons. Now how do you prepare for something if you do not know when or how bad it will be?"

Me: "I do not so I am here coming to You. Only You know, Lord, and I have faith that You would not send signs unless there was something I needed to know or act."

He was wearing his white tunic and belt of purple and His hair was perfectly dark brown and slightly below shoulder length. His smile was perfect with beautiful white teeth and His eyes were deep blue and green. His beard and mustache was neither too thick nor too thin, but perfect. He laughed when he saw me studying Him as He knew that I was studying His appearance.

Jesus: "Erin, trust that I am giving you all that you need for the storms. Now your questions..."

Me: "Yes. What were the letters in the cloud?"

Jesus: "Erin, come."

He gently squeezed my hand and we were instantly in the golden City of God at the Sea of Glass. There He waved His hand and I could see the Earth as if I was looking through a window.

Me: "Lord, in my dream, why was the Omega before Alpha instead of after?"

Jesus: "Erin, this is simple. Now look at what God sees from here in Heaven. What do you see?"

I suddenly saw the cloud from God's angle here in heaven and I saw 'Alpha — Hey —Omega'. This was reverse of what I saw from my angle below. I started to laugh.

Picture of Alpha Hey Omega in reply below...

Me: "My apologies, Lord. In other words, God is 'the Alpha and the Omega' and He sees all of Creation as He looks through a window. From below, I see the end also and that it leads into a new beginning for many of us up here with You in Heaven. When I look through that 'Hey' or window, all I see is dark clouds from ground level! and I focus on the massive storm clouds through my windows."

Jesus: "Erin, very good as you are correct. Now do not listen to evil men or women who would try to scare you into the belief that you are out of God's favor. Fear is not of God, but to fear God is the beginning of wisdom."

Me: "What was the rest of that in the dream?"

Jesus: "There is an advanced and extreme deception rising and it is beginning where the media gave its birth. Now in the media, holy angels are painted as unholy and unholy angels are painted as saviors.

"There is now a trend toward changing truth in Scripture to a confusing deceptive truth. Even the angel, Michael, was depicted in the media as stating that he is 'doing what is best for God as God does not really even know what He wants.'"

Me: "Yes, one of my sons recently recognized this in a movie and I could not believe it when he pointed this out to me."

Jesus: "Erin, you must recognize the time you are in and know that the last push for souls is now coming through technology. You saw this a long time ago in your earlier dreams, but now it is come and the season of storms has arrived."

Me: "These storms, Lord, are these literal storms?"

Jesus: "Yes, there will be physical storms, but also against cursed territories. Israel is being abandoned and the media is even entering into marriage with those who hate God's people. Soon almost every country will turn against Israel. You live in a land in which Hollywood's 'gods' reign. There are anti-Jewish sentiments rising like the world has never seen. Most will sit back and watch without defending the Jews, but God will see all that they do or do not do to help them."

Me: "Lord, when will this category five storm happen?"

Jesus: "Erin, how many lilies were you holding?"

Me: "Oh, five lilies altogether."

Jesus: "Erin, be sure to write down all of the information when you see it."

Me: "Okay. Now, will this occur in five days, five weeks, five moons, five months or five seasons?"

Jesus: "Erin, prepare for the storms in the season reflected in nature. Your caterpillars will not show stripes if not in the right season."

Me: "Okay, Lord, You are leaving me to research, but please grant me more signs and wisdom to discern them."

Jesus: "Okay, but do not forget that you must not fear as I am with you in the storms. Do not worry, but instead prepare your fields and then get rest."

He reached over and gave me a hug.

Me: "Lord, thank You for everything including this beautiful sunrise."

Jesus: "Do not worry, Erin, you will see more of them. I love you, Erin."

Me: "I love you, Lord."

He gently squeezed my hand and smiled. He has the most beautifully calm eyes.

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day, my family and friends and my advocates and encouragers. Thank You for the beautiful scenery, the closing of another season and the beginning promises of a new one. You are amazing, Lord.

I was sad to see most of the colorful leaves have fallen, but now I can see things I never knew I could behind them. It still has not hit me that we are tucked away in Your divine quiver here in the trees. My enemies seem to be quieter now and I am thankful they are, but my physical battle rages on.

I am physically in such pain that there are days when I struggle to climb the stairs, when my hands are too sore to hold a pen and when journaling seems too difficult to write as I hold my forehead with my left hand.

I will soon make my way on December 1st, 2014 for an 'Independent Medical Exam' as the accusations of fraud by my enemies has been heard by the insurance company. I have gone to the Lord on this matter in the hopes for soon healing and the removal of my enemies once and for all.

The Lord then reminded me that I have nothing to hide and that if I always defer to the truth then I will be proved right by my actions. I cannot control the enemy's actions, but I can control my response to them.

Thank You, Father, for removing us far from the desert. This is a peaceful place in which I can rest and this is such a blessing as are You.

Jesus: "Erin, come up."

I was in a strategic country outpost with several heads of some regiment and was observing in the back of a type of tent. There were many soldiers there and they looked as if they were from the French Revolution. I saw from a map on a table that they were strategizing with small colored metal soldiers as they moved the pieces into the center of the map.

The soldiers were speaking in a language which I did not recognize, but somehow I understood the strategy. They planned on hanging uniforms from windows and in doorway shadows of an area once occupied by these soldiers. Their plan was to move the enemy into this area and have them fire on it until they exhausted their ammunition based on this trickery.

Then I saw small groups of the opposing side descend and surround this town. Their plan was not to attack immediately, but instead to wait outside so that they could be seen. Their plan was to create great fear and speculation on those surrounded within this town.

One well adorned officer from the opposing side spoke in this language, but I knew that he said, "We will create a stronghold first and then a siege. We will take no prisoners upon attack." Their plan was full annihilation.

Me: "Lord, I do not understand?"

Immediately I was taken to a war in the 1800's and recognized it as the Civil War. I saw behind the scenes on both sides of the soldier encampments. One side was out of their element and in unfamiliar territory. These soldiers were praying as they were clearly outnumbered, starving and cold.

Dawn was breaking as these soldiers lined up in rows while the officers were on horses. Shots rang out and one row of these soldiers was mowed down and some of the officers were killed. Shots again rang out and another row was mowed down.

Dead men littered the field as their flag dropped and the stronger side overcame the outnumbered. Very few escaped and it was so heartbreaking and bloody to see.

Me: "Lord, why did these good men have to die?"

Then I saw the City of Jerusalem and I again saw a Civil War between the north and the south. I saw the same strategy of pigeonholing the people in the City and surrounding it with enemies. Eventually the enemies outnumbered and overcame the City. I was confused.

Me: "Lord, the war patterns in the Bible have been repeating. Is this soon to come? Will war be declared on Israel by her enemies?"

I then found myself at the base of a large mountain as dawn was breaking. There in front of me was a wide seven foot path made of stamped powdery dirt. The pattern was very intricate and on either side of the path there was grass with dew. There was morning fog and I could not see beyond a ceiling of around twelve feet. I stood there as I heard the voice of God.

God: "Erin, climb."

I stepped onto the dirt, but my steps did not leave an impression and simply disappeared instead. I was fascinated by this.

Me: "Father God, am I climbing at the right pace?"

I asked this as I could not gauge my distance as the fog was staying around twelve feet above me.

God: "Yes, Erin, continue to climb up ahead of Me."

I saw the hooves of a doe. Then I saw the doe in the distance as it stopped and waited for me. As I approached the doe, it began to turn and climb into the fog. I seemed to be climbing forever.

Finally we reached a rocky path to my right as the beautiful deer waited for me as I began to climb the rocks to where the deer was. I was now at a higher elevation and it seemed as if I had easily climbed the length of two football fields. I saw the deer stop at an odd looking stone column with four horns on it.

Me: "Father, please do not make me sacrifice this deer as she guided me up here."

Just then, an Angel appeared that looked like Michael. He was handsome and strong with dark hair, piercing green eyes and reddish cheeks. He was wearing full armor and it was silver with an undergarment of blue.

Me: "Are you Michael?"

Angel: "No. Though I am under Michael, I am a servant of God of Heaven and I am here at His request to show you something."

He had very kind eyes, but I could tell that he had seen many wars.

Me: "Will you explain these places I was sent and even some of my most recent dreams?"

Angel: "I will, but only as instructed by God."

Me: "What is this altar type column?"

Angel: "The horns represent God's presence. The presence of God is here with you, Erin."

Me: "I am so honored. Where are we?"

Angel: "This is where you began your journey. Do you remember?"

Me: "Yes, I recognize it, but it seems different. Before my feet had left impressions in the path, but now they do not seem to change the pattern."

Angel: "Erin, last time God instructed you to walk and thereby changed this pattern. Now you are part of this pattern. You trust God now to deliver you and He calls you friend."

I began to cry as it had been ten years since my near death experience in the hospital.

Me: "Why am I back here? Where am I?"

Angel: "This is God's mountain, Erin, and this is Holy. You are now on Holy Ground as sacrifices were made to God here."

Me: "I can still barely see. Where is God?"

Angel: "You will get to speak to Him, but on another day."

Me: "Angel, please explain these wars."

Angel: "Erin, each war contains both good and evil men. There is a side God favors and an enemy. There are strategies set forth by rulers, generals, princes and high ranking soldiers, technically speaking, for both sides. In a war, there are casualties, but God knows all of this in advance. War originated long before Noah, yet Noah is a gauge."

Me: "I do not understand."

Angel: "Erin, it is about transitioning God's chosen people safely to a peaceful shore. God gave signs as covenants, as well as promises. Erin, God fulfills His promises and you know this."

Me: Crying. "Yes, I do."

Angel: "Always remember Who is the Alpha and Omega and the Beginning and End?"

Me: "God, always."

Angel: "Soon the land will war and there will be corruption unlike any recent war. This will be equal to the times of Noah when the enemy began to desecrate the mind, heart and DNA of man. There was evil and this was activated in December 2012 as a type of door or permission was granted for the enemy to surround the people.

“There will be arks to take the people Home. As was promised by Jesus, He will come to take you from here, but it will get much worse in the land first. There will be casualties, but those who trust in the Lord will come Home. It will be bloody like a Civil War.

“However, there will be several wars and you will see physical wars as well as technological ones. Remember that this is just war and that there will be a first wound or wounds in the form of storms, earthquakes, famines and floods. These are sent to humble the hearts of man and point them to God.

“There will be things occurring as in the days of Noah. Do not be afraid when you begin to see this. Instead, be strong and take courage. There will be senseless things and many will fall away because they will believe God is not coming. However, make no mistake, He will come.

“Watch Israel as her enemies begin to converge and mount and you will see all of the prophecies begin to be revealed. When you see this war begin to become like a north versus south or a Civil War as it is now, then watch to the east. There is something coming like storm clouds, but it is much worse.

“Now is the time to look for the signs from the Bible of this coming event. Pray as it will be covered incorrectly by the media and people will turn on Israel from all over the world, but it is a trick. Then a false prophet will come to the Temple.”

Me: “When will this be? Will this be a year from now or sooner?”

Angel: “This is on God’s Calendar so watch for the seasons and pray.”

Me: “I am afraid. How will we be prepared?”

Angel: “Trust in God, Erin, trust in God as He will never leave you and His recompense is with Him as the Lord is good. Remember though as you were shown who is not permitted to enter the City of God in Revelation 22. Remember to give thanks to God as He loves you. Do not worry or fear when you see men do all kinds of evil.”

Me: “When will this begin?”

Angel: “It has started, Erin.”

Me: “But things seem better in the world with finances and the economy.”

Angel: "Who controls this world? Erin, this is a smoke screen. Do not be afraid."

Me: "I will try."

Angel: "Then pray."

Me: "I was hoping to be Home soon."

Angel: "You will be here again as God has more to share with you."

He reached over and put his hand on my shoulder. I was clearly frightened and as he spoke, I saw wars, blood, rape and persecution. I saw many innocent dead children and it was difficult to see. I was in tears. Then I heard Jesus speak to calm me.

Jesus: "Do not worry as I am here with you and you are in My favor. Erin, are you ready?"

Me: "Yes. I love You."

Jesus: "I love you too."

Dream 137 – God’s Mountain and the Key

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank you for another day and for your love. You are the Creator of all I see around me and anything of worth is Yours. Lord, please grant me wisdom during this season of dreams. I need Your blessing as I do not feel worthy of this grand endeavor from You. You are my light, my shield and my fortress.

I seem to always experience spiritual warfare three days prior to receiving Your prophetic Words. This warfare is no longer a great yoke to me, but instead I now view it as a sign of Your favor. Please continue to send in your Heavenly warriors to fight during this time as my goal is fixed on doing Your Will.

I have so much thankfulness to You as You have brought us to a peaceful place and I am forever grateful. I love You, Lord and I lift up my hands in praise to You. I am grateful beyond most as You saved me from death’s snare and set my feet on the rock of Your salvation.

Last week, the forces of darkness were rampant and I learned of a large sector of Wiccans nearby. During Halloween, there was an uptick in activity as I felt You reminding me of how evil this world has become albeit hidden in plain sight.

My dream...

I was in a marketplace I did not recognize and hundreds of people were desperately selling family heirlooms. My mother was with me and we were amazed at the high level of quality these items for sale were. Many of my most favorite types of artifacts were there.

I personally had no need for these items, but I had the money to help these people by purchasing their items. People who normally would not treat me well were being nice to me, but perhaps out of desperation since they knew I had the means to help them.

I selected ten items as they were quite beautiful, but I felt the Holy Spirit did not want me to take possession of them because they were 'unclean'. Instead, I gave the people the money for them, but did not take their items.

After this, my eyes fixed on two items aside from the ten selected. One of the items was a large metal air duct painted and embossed with a pattern. While I had no use for it, I just liked it and it was clean. I was also particularly fascinated by a large hourglass that was approximately thirty inches high.

What was odd is that the hourglass had a dressmakers or tailor's form attached to it with three large buttons and the number 153. However, the number 153 had been crossed out and the number 154 was written next to it and seemed peculiar.

I saw the sand in the hourglass moving slowly and as I stood there the sand ran out. I then flipped it over, but this time the sand rushed through and took only a few seconds to move through the hourglass. I thought I had broken it when the clerk at the counter began to laugh

Clerk: "It does this on every second flip. Flip it again."

I turned it over and the sand in the hourglass again ran very slow.

Me: "Mom, I would like to purchase this."

Mom: "How much?"

Me: "It was $153, but now it is $154."

Mom: "No, you cannot purchase this as it is too much money."

I agreed and took the hourglass up to the clerk to bargain with her.

Me: "How much for this?"

Clerk: "Well, first it was $153, then it was $154, but today it has gone up to $613."

Me: "That is ridiculous. Why would I pay this?"

Clerk: "Because this is your measure."

Me: "Okay, I will pay it. Yes, I will pay it."

Mom: "Erin, why would you pay such a price?"

Me: "Mom, it is a measure of time and I need to know how much time is left."

Mom: "But that one side is short so how can you measure time by grains of sand?"

Me: "Because God knows the hairs on my head."

Dream over...

Me: "Lord, please grant me discernment with this dream. This morning in devotionals, You led me to Isaiah 22:20-25. There is so much symbolism in this one portion of Scripture. Then You gave me Psalm 101."

Jesus: "Erin, come up."

I was at the base of the mountain of God again, there was fog above me and I was on the same path as last time that leads up the mountain. To my right was the forestry bulletin board and there I saw a key.

As I picked up the key, I noticed a folded note with a small tack attaching the note to the bulletin board. The paper had the word 'Instructions' written on it, so I picked up the note and opened it. This is what was written inside:
Erin, this is the time as the time has come.

From God's Mountain, you will see into the Valley of Vision.

You have been given a key to unlock a door.

Only God can open or shut this.

Take comfort, you are loved!

Me: "Father, I have no idea what to do as there is no door here."

Then I heard a rumble and the voice of God.

God: "Erin, your heart is a door, so render your heart to Me and put your cares aside. Keep your heart on Me and I will unlock mysteries. You must search for Me, although I am with you always."

Me: "Father God, You are a great mystery and my treasure of gold to seek. As I search, please keep me safe as well as my family. Through my seeking, please help me to really "see" You. Please do not hide from me."

God: "Erin, I promise you I will not. The time of darkness will soon fall and soon I will shorten days. I will give you multiple meanings. I will send angels concerning you to guard your steps. Do not be afraid. Prepare your house."

Me: "Father, what did the dream mean?"

God: "Erin, it takes the glory of God to conceal a matter and the honor of kings to search it out. Now look at the numbers given to you. Who is present in the dream? Why are they there? You are given Scriptures, so what are these?"

Me: "I have never been led to this Scripture before in Isaiah 22."

God: "After you discover this then come back to Me as I have more. This will seem slow at first, but then you will be entrusted with much more. Do not be afraid."

Me: "Thank You, God, for this key."

I knelt down at the base of the mountain before God.

God: "Give thanks in all things, Erin, and I will then show you what door the key will open."

Me: "But this key is for Your heart."

God: "I will use the key to unlock doors and you are a keeper as you do not possess the door and the key is Mine to give. You must cast the cares of this world aside and follow Me."

Me: "Thank You, Lord."

Then I heard Jesus speak to me in the wind.

Jesus: "Erin, allow Me to take you to the doors. I will be with you to carry you through. I will be there to help unfold the mysteries. Take heart and do not worry."

Me: "Thank You, Lord."

Dream over...

This week something changed in me as I no longer care so much about the things that I clung to before and the cares of this world. The only things that seem to matter to me right now are my precious friends and family as this world is clearly coming to a close and I see this over and over again.

My stomach is sick as this week I had heard and read of vile things. I became sick when I imagined those stuck here during the Tribulation. I began to have trouble breathing as my heart became even more sickened by this.

Oh how I wish everyone knew just how much Jesus loves us and how much the God of the Universe loves us to send Jesus to die for us. My son has been witnessing in his local high school and this has been very difficult for him as Christians are a minority here. I never quite understood just how much we are hated for our beliefs until recently.

My children ask me what will happen to their unbelieving friends and all I can reply is that I do not know for sure. All I know is that the Lord loves them just as He loves us. I do not want to see anybody here perishing so I continue to pray for the lost as I feel more and more in my heart that the time is coming to a close.

I also feel that my hands are somewhat tied as we do not control the time nor the season as this is God's to control. Lord, lead us in wisdom and cover us in Your discernment. Look down on us with love as we put on our armor to do battle here.

Please guide our steps and lead us down Your path of righteousness. We love You, Father God, so much. Thank You for giving me Psalm 103 to meditate on today.

Love and blessings, Erin

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day, for loving me and for blessing our household with peace. I sat here worried this morning with no real reason to. I guess this must be residual from being used to having constant attacks.

Yesterday and last week, I gave away almost half of all our former things as I no longer had room or use for them. While these were beautiful things, that is all they are and they no longer hold a place in my heart. The Holy Spirit reminded me that these items really are and always were the Lord's.

I was also reminded by the Lord that if I had sold these items instead I would have received an earthly pittance. However, giving these items away to these people blessed them with things they would never be able to afford to buy for themselves.

While I now thought of these particular things as clutter, these people instead received these with tears of thanks. Their gratitude was truly priceless and no dollar amount could be placed on this. These people had been hurt by Christians in the past, so I am glad that I was used to begin the healing process.

As I was writing this, I started to worry as the enemy yet again began to accuse me of foolishly giving these items away. As I allowed my mind to go there for a moment, I stared out of my window toward the southwest and all of a sudden a massive bald eagle flew right over my window.

Wow, thank You, Lord, I guess I must not worry as a human simply cannot out give God. Please forgive me, Lord, and please bless my neighbors with these items. Bless them abundantly as winter is rolling in soon. Keep them warm as they are very poor and have very little. I thank You for laying them on my heart. One of my sons came to talk to me about all of this as he had helped to move some of these items.

Son: "Mom, they could not possibly be as poor as we once were, right?"

Me: "Well, yes. They have nine children and they even have to drive to the library for internet."

Son: He truly seemed alarmed at the thought. "Oh no, that is awful." I smiled as it seems that the gauge today with teens is based on technology or the lack thereof. "Mom, I guess what we have is not so bad in comparison."

Me: "No. We live like kings."

So I thank You, Lord, for the basics such as a roof, food, warmth, lights, a running vehicle and, yes, even the ability to communicate. I love You, Father, but thank You more than anything else that we have each other and that we are under Your care.

As I sat reflecting on this, a close friend sent me an email reminding me about a Word the Lord gave me about our recent move. In this Word, the Lord asked me to get rid of everything that had become a burden, but to also tuck some away for a time.

Jesus: "Bloom where you are planted. Have fun and do not be anxious. Erin, what would you suggest if I were your homeowner and you were a hired designer? Erin, think of your home as Mine and care for it as such. Dedicate all you do to Me and watch Me pour out immeasurable blessings.

"Know that if I am making your home a sanctuary, then do not behave as paupers. Do not live in squalor as I built you this home. This is important to Me. Just as your body houses the Holy Spirit and is therefore a Holy Temple, take in what is good and spit out that which is unholy."

I smiled as I had received this right after I witnessed the eagle fly by my window. Thank You, Lord, for this reminder. I love You. Please forgive my foolishness.

Jesus: "Erin, come up."

I was up at the base of God's mountain and to the right of me was the forestry bulletin board again with a beautiful key. I love keys and I find that even an old skeleton key is beautiful. There is just something about a key that I love.

I picked up the key, but this time there were no instructions with it. While I was hoping it would open a great door, I giggled and eagerly dropped the key into my pocket.

It was early morning and the fog ceiling above me was about twenty feet high. The air was cool and crisp and the area around me was like a frosted meadow. There were carpets of grass and colored moss and trillium of purple and white.

There were small trumpet bluebells and the smell of something like gardenia. The dew on the grass was like diamonds and it was multifaceted and geometric. I stood at the base of the path and noticed that it was intricately stamped with a geometric pattern. I reached down to feel the dirt.

Me: Laughing. "Lord, this is not dirt or powder, this is gold dust. Wow, how beautiful!"

I poured the gold powder back to the ground and the pattern went right back to normal.

Me: "God, You are an amazing mystery and such a delight. Who are You, Father, that You use gold dust even for Your paths. I can never destroy Your pattern on this path. How amazing and glorious You are."

Just as I finished speaking praise to God, the fog ceiling lifted another twenty feet. It was clearly a massive mountain so I was not exactly scratching the surface. I reached down to feel the key in my pocket and I smiled as I felt the outline of this beautiful key.

Me: "Lord, could You please help me with my questions or send an Angel to help?"

God: "Erin, allow Me to carry you. Do not be afraid."

Me: "Thank You, Father God. You are here with me and I am so glad to hear from You."

God: "I delight in My sparrows, yet you mean much more to Me."

Just then I passed a grouping of sparrows singing and enjoying flakes of bread. It must have been manna from Heaven.

Me: "Thank You, Lord, that You love us human sparrows."

Given all the pain that I have been in, I have felt of very little worth or use to man or even God. Pain is a significant spirit 'down caster' and it is difficult to be uplifting when it hurts to lift my head and arms to the Lord.

Me: "I am sorry, God, but I have to lift up my heart to You as my arms cannot."

God: "Then, Erin, I will take it."

Just then I saw the deer and I ran toward it. The deer quickly dashed about seven feet up some rocks to a landing. It took me a bit to climb this in comparison.

Me: "God, please allow me to be able to climb with hooves like this deer."

I watched the deer stop at a small type of stone house that had a round dome top and a massive telescope coming out of it. The deer stopped at the door, so I ran to the door to open it. The handle was carved, all bronze and very stately.

I reached for the handle to open the latch and realized that the door was locked. I pulled the key out of my pocket and inserted it into the lock. The door opened and there was a massively bright light coming from within.

Inside I saw a very bright Angel looking through this telescope type apparatus. The room became easier to focus as the light from within became more like a well lit room. I recognized this Angel as the one who was also at God's courtyard guarding God's Clock and Calendar.

Angel: "Hello, Erin, are you ready today to see more? It will not be easy, but I am here to help assist you in understanding your mysterious dreams and grant you revelations."

Me: "Angel, what is your name?"

Angel: Smiling. "If or when God chooses to grant you this knowledge, then He will. In the meantime, you are only to look to the Lord and to Scripture for answers. Erin, my name is not as important as God's message and if you worshiped me or reveled in me or my words, then God would be displeased. I am only a messenger and here to assist you."

Me: Smiling. "Yes, I am sorry for being curious."

Angel: "Remember too that I am also not a teacher as this is the Lord Jesus who teaches and gives wisdom. God instructs in the way you should go as He is the maker of laws and commands. Jesus is the teacher or instructor and I am only an assistant or worker for God. I am not higher than Jesus the Son of God, but rather I am like an usher, a soldier or a guard for Him."

He could tell I was fascinated by his beauty and he was clearly putting himself as a Heavenly being not to be worshiped on the level of God or Jesus.

Me: "What are you going to show me?"

Angel: "First, Erin, God told me you had questions."

Me: "Yes, I had a dream which was unusual..."

Dream description begins...

I had a white robe on as I came to an area in the north. I was going from house to house tying ribbons on dead trees to mark how many lost souls had come from each family and went back generations. Some trees had very little, but some trees had massive ribbons. The owners of the homes were wailing.

Woman: "No, no, no, these are my children."

Me: "No, your children are with Jesus and I have seen them. They are anxious to see you too."

Just as I stood there, an Angel came from Heaven and gave me these five beautiful purple ribbons in order for me to tie them on her tree.

Me: "See they are royalty in the Kingdom of God." I then took up three more ribbons. "The Lord asked me to bring these for your children, but of these other three; one is for you, one is for your husband and another is for your eldest son."

Woman: "What must I do?"

Me: "Stop blaming God and look around you as the enemy has taken over and it is the enemy who is to blame."

Woman: "God had the power to save us."

Me: "Yes, but did you accept Him and ask Him to?"

Woman: "No. Why do I have to do anything?"

Just as we were talking, a purple ribbon faded and the woman panicked.

Woman: "No, no, no, God this is my fault as my heart deceives me and I am a fool. I know You are the way so please, God, take me to Heaven." The ribbon then reappeared.

Me: "It is not your time so do not fear as you will get through this. Tell others."

I then tied the other three purple ribbons to the tree and noticed that they were a different shade than the five purple ribbons of her children.

Next I went to a wedding dress shop and a woman was there who owned the shop. I looked around and I saw only party dresses. The dresses were silly with large tulle skirts and all in bright colors.

I looked at the woman and saw that she had over done the makeup on her face. Her lipstick was off on one side of her face and drawn across her cheeks. She looked crazy, drunk or both.

Me: "Where are the wedding dresses?"

Woman: "There are none left. When the people left, women came and took all the dresses. They began to weep in the streets when all the other Brides went by."

Me: "Did they want to go?"

Woman: "Yes, but when they missed the Groom, they wept as they were too late."

Me: "How did they know that the Groom was here?"

Woman: "Everyone could see Him as He was everywhere yet nowhere. There was great sorrow as people thought there was more time, that there would be forgiveness or maybe the Groom would come back for more. However, He never came back."

She plopped down on the massive tulle skirt of this red gown and the skirt was so puffy that she used it like a sofa.

Me: "It is not too late, but you must endure and keep your eyes only on Him. You must want Him with all of the heart you have left."

Woman: "Okay, if I can find this heart. Have you not seen that there are no more veils for the Bride and that there is now so much evil?"

Me: "Yes, I see it, but when the veil is lifted off the Bride's face then she can see and not have to imagine the love of her Groom. She also sees her Groom."

After this, I then went to a large rock concert and several big heavy metal bands were playing at a peaceful beach cove. However, I then noticed that very little music was playing and that the audience was drunk.

Dream description over...

Me: "Angel, what does this mean?"

Angel: "Everyone left on Earth is now trying to get God's attention to send the Groom back. The Groom, Jesus, will return, but not the way He came to gather hearts. Pray on this as you know how treacherous this world will become. Now, I have something to show you from Acts 2:19-20. Erin, please read this Scripture to me."

Me: "And I will show wonders in the Heavens above and signs on the Earth below, blood and fire and vapor of smoke. The sun shall be turned to darkness and the moon to blood before the day of the Lord comes, that great and magnificent day."

Angel: "Now look."

He positioned me so that I could look through the lens of a special telescope and I saw two red moons.

Me: "Is this part of the Tetrad?"

Angel: "Yes. Now read that portion in the Scripture."

Me: "Oh, the sun shall be turned to darkness and the moon to blood before that day of the Lord comes. Oh, then the sun must be dark then the rest or last blood moon before the dark comes. So this is soon?"

Angel: "Yes, Erin, but be careful as the Scripture says He will not come before His appointed time."

Me: "So He comes sometime after the Tetrad or perhaps even between the last two blood moons?" I could tell the Angel was not going to answer this.

Angel: Smiling. "Now look, Erin."

I saw a horrible storm come with fire and smoke and it converged on Jerusalem and I saw destruction. I saw the ten kings and a new nation who was an enemy unlike any other and was like a beast. The loss of lives was overwhelming.

The enemy wanted genocide as we had seen before with Hitler, but this came quickly. Then I see a peace treaty and then the rebuilding of the Temple. The marker of this trouble for Israel was and is the Tetrads. The enemy will claim victory, but the entire time this will come upon their heads like a burdensome stone.

Later, the celebration of Israel will become a time of grief unlike any other. Israel's children and those remnants occupying peace in Jerusalem will be hunted like dogs and stopped.

Me: "Angel, this is frightening. I saw this before, but this is much clearer."

Angel: "Prepare and read Scripture for the order of events. This is illuminated now for such a time. Do not be afraid. War will come suddenly."

Me: "So we could be talking about just six months give or take?"

He smiled again and I knew he was not going to answer me on this.

Angel: "This is enough for today. You are loved by God, Erin. Write only what is told to you. You must look at the Scriptures."

Me: I prayed to the Lord for answers. "Please help me with the answers I seek."

Jesus: "Erin, I am here with you. Do not worry or be afraid. You are loved."

Me: "Thank You, Lord."

Dream 139 – The Nuclear Plant

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day here. This life is a gift here and I know it is a hidden treasure for us as our lives are given to us by God. What we do with our gift of life here on Earth has eternal consequences and it is in the measurement of our hearts which determines our worth to God.

It is not that we are not all worthy, but it is our level of capacity to love which determines where we end up. It is also by our treacherous tongue whereby we see blessings fade. While speaking good news, building up our neighbors and speaking truth with love and gentleness is wisdom, harsh tongues are like swords that cut.

I chuckled silently to myself the other day when I heard a 'Christian' man I know say, 'I am the humblest of men.' I thought to myself when I heard this 'Oh no, if you are claiming great humility you probably are not humble.' I love warnings in plain sight like this from the Lord as I realized that such a man is actually a wolf in sheep's clothing.

The Lord then reminded me that, in this season, I needed to rest and 'be still...' and then added '...and know that I am God.' While this season of prophecy is often confusing to me, any prophecy from God is never confusing to Him. That is, it is confusing just to the vessel of 'me' that He is using for this season of prophecy.

The Lord knows that I often ask Him the question of 'why me?' to which He simply reminds me yet again, 'Erin, why not you?' While I cannot argue against this, I still find myself wondering, since I have been granted such a gift, 'why then not make things a bit easier for me to deliver the message?'

When I asked this of Him, the Lord then replied, 'Erin, name one woman who had an easy delivery or who had no pain when giving birth.' Of course I could only laugh when He said this to me as He knew that I could not name even one. Therefore I simply continue on this course He has given me.

Dream begins...

In this dream, I had traveled to visit a friend. While I could not tell exactly where I was, I could tell that this was a busy area with much rain. I therefore guessed that perhaps this was somewhere north of Seattle, but really it could even be China or northern Europe.

It appeared to be in late spring and I was traveling with my dog named 'Zoey'. However, since Zoey does not really like strangers, this in itself did not really make that much sense to me. What I do love about having Zoey around is that, if she 'senses' a demon or danger nearby, she instantly warns us relentlessly. While this makes Zoey a great watch dog for the seen and unseen, she is really not a good traveler at all.

While waiting for my friend to pick us up at the station, I went through a local history museum. In this museum, I quickly learned about several wars that had impacted the area and how depressed the area had become as a result of these wars. My friend eventually picked me up, but reminded me that my dog would first need to go to customs for a quarantine check.

We dropped Zoey off and the man at the intake said that it might be up to a week before she was released. I reluctantly agreed to this and then said my goodbyes to Zoey. Zoey could tell I was dropping her off, so she began pacing as she did not want me to leave her there and then started to bark at me as I left.

My friend later dropped me off at a local hotel as she had to go to her job at the nuclear site working as a housing specialist at the secured area. That night when I slept I had a dream within this dream:

A leader had died and they had him dressed in a very stately uniform. This leader had been known to be both oppressive and regimented. When this leader died, a family member took over as the new leader, but I could not tell if this new leader was a son, brother or cousin to the dead leader.

The dead leader had been known for being crazy, but I noticed that this new leader was even crazier. Not only that, but this new leader was very angry and was known for wearing several uniforms that originated from various past wars.

I questioned whether this person was fit to be the new leader and discussed this with a man that was standing next to me. I then noticed a government official and went to speak with him about this.

Me: "This man really should not be a leader."

Official: "There is nothing anyone can do as this was started 74 years ago and neither you nor anyone can stop it now."

Me: "How can this even be as the man is not 74 years old?"

Official: "You cannot stop the course of history, madam. Did you not see the 74 years posted?"

Me: "Yes, I saw this posted at the museum."

Official: "Then prepare."

I then saw some terrorists enter the nuclear plant and sabotage some very large cords. Each of these cords was encased in black rubber and the inside consisted of 94 separate silver metal strands.

When I woke up from this sub-dream, I went to warn my friend even though she was still working at the plant. I took a taxi ride to the area outside of the security gate and there were other relatives there at a type of reception or waiting room. My friend met me there and I started telling her all about my dream.

Me: "Please do not take the tram back to the plant reactor today. I beg you to just call in sick today and come back to the hotel with me. This dream showed me that there are 94 silver strands inside each cord at the plant and that these had been sabotaged."

My friend looked absolutely surprised by this and I realized that this must have been top secret information.

Friend: "Now how could you have possibly known that there are exactly 94 strands in each of the operating bands?"

Me: "The Lord showed me this in a dream from Him."

As I continued to explain this to her and convince her to leave, the sirens suddenly went off and some armed men came in and started ushering all the plant workers, including my friend, back to the nuclear plant.

As the workers left this reception or waiting area, there were a lot of tearful goodbyes and sobs and I even saw children clinging to their parents. Soon all of the workers were loaded onto the tram and headed back to the plant. An official then came up to us.

Official: "You will need to be transported a minimum of fifteen miles away from here, but you have only twenty minutes to get there. However, before you go, you will need to first gather the last of the fresh food."

When I looked out on the tables, I saw that there was Chinese food there and grabbed whatever I could take. I noticed that there was a giant bowl of clear glass fortune cookies with green salads inside of them. This confused me, so I asked a woman next to me about this.

Me: "Excuse me, but why would there be greens under glass?"

Woman: Seemingly quite annoyed at my apparently dumb question. "To preserve it of course."

I knew that this conversation would not go anywhere, so I looked around to find an official to speak with. I saw one standing a short distance from me.

Me: "I need my dog."

Official: "Look, your friend will die today and so will these other good people who went back to work. Are you really worried about your dog when you are going to perish too if you hesitate for even five minutes? You will just have to trust that your dog will be okay." He then addressed all of us. "Now, all those who are ready to board, we must leave now!"

As we boarded, I heard horrible cries as the children and families knew they would not see their loved ones again. I was crying too as I boarded the train and shook my head in sadness as this truly was the very definition of 'bittersweet'.

As I entered the passenger train, I noticed that it was high tech and would be moving us at 'the speed of light'. I could not help but laugh to myself as I then heard the instrumental version of "Bittersweet Symphony" playing on the intercom.

When we finally arrived at our destination, we all witnessed a massive flash of light. When the doors opened, we knew we were finally Home.

Dream 140 – Healing Delayed for a Reason

Received Monday, November 24, 2014

(Formerly known as Heaven 62)

Communion

Dear Father,

Today I am ready to go Home as I am in so much pain and feel so weak and tired. When I drop my head to write, I can feel the raw bones in my neck rub together. My left arm now has very little feeling in it.

As I took communion and asked why I had to endure this, I felt the warmth of Your presence. I stared out the window as the sun peeked through the clouds. After quite a few minutes of looking at this beauty before me, I began to see snow flurries. The snow crystals in the air reflected the rays of sun and appeared as diamonds floating.

I cannot physically write long today, so I will instead thank You for removing us to this beautiful place. Although it is on loan to us on Earth while we wait for You to take us to Heaven, this is a place where our oppressors are finally far away from us.

Thank You, Father, for all You have done. Thank You for the roof over our heads. Thank You for the food in our pantry and the warmth under our feet. Thank You for clean water to drink and gas for our car. Thank You for my children.

Before I had children, I had prayed for years for You to open my womb as all of the doctors said I would be unable to have any. However, You, Lord, decided that I was able, so thank You, Lord.

You then saw something in me to allow these dreams and these visions of Heaven have given me hope to continue here on Earth. I do not want to leave here without my family, so I know today is not my day to come Home, but I still thank You for the promise of Home.

One day soon we will rejoice in our Heavenly bodies, but for now I have pain. Please forgive me for not taking the time to worship fully. When I am in such pain, it is often difficult to remember that praise is a key which unlocks the door of divine healing.

So thank You again for loving me and thank You for another day. I am afraid, Father, where are You as I need Your help?

Jesus: "Erin, come up here."

I am up in my vineyard in Heaven and it is so beautiful here. The vines are lush with massive bundles of grapes and each cluster holds many different colors. I look out over the valley and it is truly beautiful. It appeared that a fresh rain like a spring rain had just misted the valley.

I see a series of seven rainbows with a massive spectrum of colors much greater than on Earth. There is a small very low cloud over the grove of aspens in the back of my Heavenly Property and this cloud is illuminated from within.

I ran, yes ran, through the arched gate of my sweet abundant grape vineyard down the path into the aspen trees. There I see the Lord and I run to Him. He stands to receive me with open arms and I wept for some time as He held me.

Jesus: "Erin, what is wrong? Is it not a glorious day? Are you not here with Me?"

Me: "Yes, Lord, it is always a great day with You."

Just then, I reached over to grab my left arm to see if it had any feeling as it had gone completely numb on Earth and I could not feel it there anymore. I looked and Jesus was smiling at this.

Jesus: Laughing. "Can you feel your arm here?"

Me: Excitedly. "Yes, and I have no arm fat either. I love it here. Lord, why are You allowing this right now? Am I being punished or am I out of favor?"

Jesus: He looked momentarily disappointed as if I had hurt Him. "No, Erin, you are not being punished. Look, you are here with Me."

Me: "Yes, but I feel so alone in my pain and my heart is struggling to endure it. I hurt so much, Lord, so please heal me."

Jesus: "Erin, do you trust Me?"

Me: "Yes, Lord."

Jesus: "Your enemy is seeking to destroy you right now. Can you endure this a bit longer? If you truly trust Me, please be patient."

Me: "Lord, pain makes patient endurance very difficult. I could not even move yesterday and I fear that this may lead to a permanent paralysis."

Jesus: "Erin, the enemy's plan is to ruin you, discredit you, charge you with fraud and take your children from you. I removed you before all of these plans were finished, but there is one more battle."

"Now, Erin, what is better; for you now to go to your enemy's appointed medical exams and say Jesus healed me or is it better for them to see you like this now as witnesses for later after I have healed you? What is more convincing?"

Me: "You are right, Lord, as for most seeing is believing."

Jesus: "They will not be able to declare you a liar and you did not lie at all. Erin, I allowed all of this for your good."

Me: "It is hard to understand why you allow bad to happen. Why is it allowed, Lord?"

Jesus: Laughing, but still with a sympathetic look. "Erin there is always a plan which is greater than your circumstances. I know this is difficult to understand. The night before my crucifixion on Earth, I sweat blood. I did not want to drink from My Father's cup of suffering, but I love My Father and I trust Him. He only wants what is best for us."

Me: "Oh Lord, please forgive me as I know you endured so much worse than I have. I spoke as a fool, so, Father God, please forgive me for doubting."

The cloud overhead rumbled as if it were thunder.

Jesus: "I know you are holding Me to the promises I have given you and you are good to do this as this is faith. Erin, clinging to the promises keeps you on course."

Me: "Yes, but I must have skipped over the part about suffering. When I asked You how You would do this, before You did not answer so I instead clung to the promises, but not the delivery."

Jesus: "Yes, Erin, this is like childbirth that is painful but forgotten once your gift arrives."

Me: "Lord, while my gifts are my children and You, will You please deliver us soon? My enemies are many and I am even hated by some who pretend to care. I know You have been through this, but it is still just so difficult and I am downcast."

Jesus: "Then Erin, remember who you are in Psalm 45. Remember your promises in Psalm 91. Remember Erin, no harm will befall you. When I gave you this on June 5th, 2012, what was occurring? What did I have you do?"

I looked confused and then all of a sudden I remembered. Tears began to stream down my cheeks even as I write.

Me: "Lord, I felt the most abandoned by You on that date. I was being pounded by my enemies and another woman had publicly declared that she was my eldest son's mother. I was completely left off as my son's birth mother.

"He had been stolen from me during my heart surgery when I was deceived and had no money to fight back. This was the day back in 2012 when I went to You and said, 'I love You, but I must have done something to anger You so that You have now turned away and forgotten me.'

"I felt abandoned by You and I decided to stop pursuing a purpose for my life from You. I still declared my love to You, but I gave up all hope. This was the Scripture You gave me as You had me write Psalms 91:14-16:

"'Because she loves Me, says the Lord, I will rescue her; I will protect her, for she acknowledges My name. She will call upon Me, and I will answer her; I will deliver her and honor her. With long life will I satisfy her and show her My salvation.' Well, Lord, I need You to please deliver me right now."

Jesus: "Oh, is it your time to go? If you do, your children will be returned to one of your enemies and your other enemies will rejoice. Is this really how you would end your race?"

Me: "No Lord, of course not, but I am on a pain rant right now. I am meditating on Psalm 77 and questioning Your favor upon my life."

Jesus: Smiling sympathetically. "Erin, then read Psalm 77 not in part but in whole and take courage."

He pointed up to the Glory Cloud and I heard thunder.

Jesus: "Erin, remember your promises and dates in Esther. You are a sparrow in Psalm 84 so read this in whole. Your time of delivery from your oppressors is close at hand. Read Psalm 103 and take courage. I will keep you close to Me. I have not sent you to the land of trees only to be destitute and abandoned. You are in the care of angels."

As we stood there, the small cloud over us began to mist and I felt refreshing dew. I felt my body being healed and renewed. The Lord reached over and kissed the top of my head and then held me as I wept. For a moment I felt healing and that my body was useful and young again. Even as I wrote this, I felt momentarily healed and wept.

Jesus: "Please rejoice, Erin. Did I not show you three eagles last week? They all flew over your head. When did you ever imagine seeing something like this?"

Me: "Well, never really."

Jesus: "Erin, this was a gift and a sign to you."

Me: "Lord, You told me another storm was coming yesterday. When will this storm come? Is it in the west or east, the north or south?"

Jesus: "It comes where you think not, but do not worry as storms will come. There will be signs also like fire has smoke. Do not worry, but be strong and not afraid. You will not suffer shame, but instead will watch and be amazed as your time has come, Erin."

The cloud above us thundered as the Lord reached over and hugged me, kissing the top of my head.

Jesus: "Erin, you are loved and God delights in you. Keep your heart on Him and evil will not befall you or your household all the days of your life."

Dream over...

The healing remained with me for but a few moments and then pain the came back again. I leave on Sunday for three days to Seattle for the tests. It will be the first time I have been separated from my children.

The Lord knew I was afraid to leave them so He reminded me that they are in the care of angels and under His mighty wings. Please continue to pray for us.

Love, Erin

Dream 141 – Cherry Blossoms

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day, for my family and for my many friends. Thank You even for my enemies. My enemies are many, but they serve a purpose in drawing me closer to You.

Lord, please give my fingers, wrists and neck supernatural strength to write what I have seen in my dreams and visions from You. Lord, my household struggles at times as it is bitter cold here right now. Our heating system stopped for a few days and I came home to a cold house.

Thank You for getting some help quickly to regain our heat. Thank You also for the years of Girl Scout camp where I learned how to start a fire. I found some dry logs and kindling and the kids loved it. Thank You so much for a warm house.

Our little lake nearby is nearly frozen over, but it is still such a blessing. May my heart and my children's hearts remain warm until You come for us, Lord.

Jesus: "Erin, come up."

I woke up from a deep sleep under a cherry tree in God's garden. There was soft grass and moss there that allowed me to lie down comfortably and rest. I was in an area of blossoming cherry trees and it was so beautiful.

The sunrise streamed in and I saw the branches sparkling like diamonds. I reached up to grab a branch and I smiled as I saw small ice beads on the branches and blossoms. It was not cold to touch, or should I say not uncomfortable to touch.

I was wearing a white gown with pants and some small slippers. It was the perfect temperature and was neither cold nor hot. A small breeze came in from the south and the blossoms began to fall like snow.

I started to swirl around in joy as I felt so healthy, young and fantastic. Oh how I wish I could feel this way for just one day on Earth. On Earth, the flu is starting and my entire body aches as I write.

My trip to Seattle took so much out of me and I have been sore and moving very slowly since I got back. Being here in paradise with a young, healthy and strong physique is a miracle.

I looked down the rows of trees and I saw fountains. I look up and I saw God's Home and ran towards His stairway. I stood at the base of this incredible Mansion and chuckled as the water flowed from these channels down His staircase where a normal railing would be.

The channels were hammered with gold and the water amplified the light. This is difficult to describe, but incredibly beautiful. I saw the small pearly fish jumping in the water. I was not about to pick up one of those seashells this time as I recalled that last time I got blue ink on the Lord's stairs.

I smiled and giggled when I saw the front door slightly ajar. Just in case, and as I opened the massive door, I knocked with the massive knocker so that He would know I was there. I was so excited to see Him again.

Me: "Lord, are You here?"

I took off my slippers and stood on the buttery handmade wool and silk Tibetan rug in the entry. Just then, an angel appeared and he reached for my arm and led me down the beautiful entry hallway to God's Home.

Angel: "He is expecting You."

Me: "I am so glad to be here again."

Angel: "We are glad to see you."

As we walked, I saw everything that I remembered again. There were the columns with pomegranates, the curtains with the fiber optics and I giggled out loud just to see the lamps with no cords now all lit up.

I looked up and saw the Creation of Genesis on the ceiling. This painting moved as I walked again and it was so beautiful that it took my breath away. However, there seemed to be even more which I had not ever seen before.

The angel walked me to God's inner courtyard and there I saw the massive stone gazebo. Water was trickling from several sources of the water feature. I also heard the music of an angelic orchestra and it was so beautiful.

There was a type of open air concept to the courtyard from the house and there were beautiful drapes of white flanking these archways to where the music had been playing. There were birds here also and over to my left and guarded by four angels was God's Clock and Calendar.

I ran over to it and saw that so many events had occurred since the last time I was here to see this. I then noticed that the two blood moons had now passed. However, then I saw something quite interesting.

Me: "Lord, where are You? I have questions."

Jesus: "I am right here, Erin."

Just then I felt His hand on my shoulder and I turned and hugged Him. I cried for a moment.

Jesus: "Erin, what is troubling you?"

Me: "So many things, but mostly I am ready to come Home now as I am so tired."

He pulled me away from Him to look in my eyes.

Jesus: "I know. Much has troubled you and I realize you are getting tired. This I understand."

Me: "Lord, I did not fare well in this battle. I am not finishing very strong and I am afraid."

Jesus: "Hmm, interesting. Why do you think this? Did I not I promise you victory here?"

Me: "Here or there?"

Jesus: Laughing. "Oh good, Erin, you still delight Me with your humor."

Me: "I am not laughing as much these days. I cannot even come to You as much or share with others like I have been used to and I am grumbling."

Jesus: Laughing. "Erin, I am not laughing at you or teasing you and you are not a sport for God's pleasure as there is more to this. Now, you were released from the desert on your Jubilee just as was foretold, but now you are still being pursued by your enemy as this is the remnant of your battle.

"You fled with your children and your belongings and I have set your feet on safe ground. You are still hated by your enemies, but their usefulness has run their course as their petitions were granted and finalized. Their time against you and your children have come to a close and this is good."

Me: "I guess I do not see a purpose of allowing them to finish. Have I done something wrong? Was I disobedient?"

Jesus: "No, Erin, do enemies only come after those who are out of favor? No, of course not."

Me: "Then why do You allow this?"

Jesus: "So your race lacks nothing. Do you really want to finish before the end of the race?"

Me: "No. I want to go up with my family and not alone. I am just complaining again, Lord."

Jesus: "Erin, you encountered more from the enemy, but do not allow fear of the unknown to take your joy. Now, why have you been wrestling with God after your release?"

Me: "I guess I did not see this as wrestling, but You are right as I guess that I had expected to be 100% healed upon release. I was hoping for You to deliver us completely healthy and vibrant."

Jesus: "Interesting words, Erin, as you are like Jacob. He left Haran after 22 years of being under Laban's wicked schemes and control. Erin, your 22 years at the hands of your controller are almost over also. Did Jacob flee his oppressor with no trouble at all? Was Jacob not in God's favor also?"

Note on the 22 Years: Please note that the 22 years mentioned in this dream is different than the 20 years as shown in the Book of Genesis. It made us wonder if something was hidden here, so we dug further into the Book of Jasher. Jasher confirms that Jacob served Laban for his livestock for 6 years, and that it was 20 years when he left Padan Aram. Jasher then says Jacob lived in Schechem for 18 months, then Bethel for 6 months. When you add 18 months and 6 months to 20 years, you get 22 years altogether. While not 100% sure, this appears to be what Jesus is referring to (I am sure we will understand this completely once we are Transformed!) While it would be convenient to simply change the 22 years to 20 years, we did not want to change what was told by Jesus to Erin.

Me: "I thought that with us leaving to this beautiful place that we would now have no trouble?"

Jesus: "Really? Where is that written? Erin let's go back to the principles of war. You just had a victorious battle as you fled with your family to a safe place. No one can believe you were able to go, but you did and legally. Now, in war, the wounded enemy can still hunt down and pursue the victor. In this case, your enemy will try especially hard because you have something he wants."

Me: "Yes, Lord, but besides my children, what do I have?"

Jesus: "Erin, a few things. First, you have God's favor. Second, you have freedom from his oppression. Third, you took away his ability to continue his punishment. Fourth, you removed his power and control over you. Now if you are like Jacob, when would you be finished with your enemy under this pattern?"

Me: "When the 22 years are up?"

Jesus: He smiled, but did not confirm this. "Okay, let's look at a Scripture you have been meditating on. Do you recall which one?"

Me: "Yes, Lord, Acts 2:19-20."

Jesus: "You have felt My prompting to break this down. What are you finding?"

Me: "Well, two blood moons have now come and gone and now just two are left. It appears that there are things which must occur before You come."

Jesus: "Good, please explain."

Me: "Well, after I broke this Scripture down, this is what I found:

Acts 2:19-20, "I will show wonders in the Heaven above and signs in the earth below, blood and fire and billows of smoke. (Next) the sun will be turned to darkness and the moon to blood before the coming of the great and glorious day of the Lord."

Jesus: "Very good as this is written. Now tell Me what you found or that which you speculate."

Me: "Well, Lord, we are to read Scripture not in part, but in full. We are also to read the order in simple terms, so here is my best guess."

First, we will see wonders in heaven above, like stars, comets, storms or things in the earthly 'Heaven' that we can see.

Second, we will see signs on Earth below in this order: Blood followed by fire and then followed by billows of smoke.

Third, the sun will be turned to darkness and then the moon to blood before the coming of the Lord.

Jesus: "Very good, Erin, as you have seen this right in Scripture."

Me: "The mid-point of all these events is January 2015 and then the total eclipse of the sun is in March 2015. Something involving blood, fire and billows of smoke might then happen to the USA, Israel or both. Lord, there seems to be very little time. First there will be blood, then fire and then smoke. All of this is scary to me."

Jesus: "Yes, but it has been there for some time, but you are just realizing the time your race is in. Remember that Jacob wrestled with God after God took him away from his oppressors. He was still distressed because he needed to face one of his greatest fears.

"Until Jacob did this, he could not be declared a great nation and blessed by God. Jacob still remembered that he stole his birthright from his brother and now he was facing a massive task of which he did not know the outcome as a result. Messengers do not always have good news of victory and sometimes messages are statements of facts which leave you in distress.

"This is because you perceive the worst based on what you have been through. You have done everything even as Jacob with your strategy and this is good (Genesis 32:8). Now, Erin, you wrestle while you wait for your blessing from God (Genesis 32:26)."

Jesus then rolled up his sleeve and sat at a small round table with two chairs. He motioned for me to sit across from Him. He then put his elbow on the table with His forearm and hand in arm wrestling position. I laughed so hard. Jesus then laughed and put His arm around my shoulders.

Jesus: "Come, Erin, let's wrestle."

Me: "Lord, who am I to arm wrestle God? I do not even have a fighting chance."

Jesus: "Come sit, Erin, arm up."

I assumed the arm wrestling position as He looked me in the eyes. An angel helped position our wrists and hands and I heard a whistle from one of the angels. Immediately the Lord took my hand down.

Me: "This is no shock, Lord."

Jesus: "Come on, Erin, best two out of three. I have all night."

This time I tried with all of my strength, but finally, and within seconds, my hand was flat.

Me: "Lord, this is not fair. I cannot win against God as who am I?"

He said nothing, but simply smiled and laughed.

Jesus: "Okay, Erin, again." He set up His arm again.

Me: "Lord, this is fruitless. I cannot win against You."

Jesus: "Really, Erin. Come on and at least try."

I kept going at least seven times in twenty minutes.

Me: "You will win, Lord. I give up and I declare You God and Lord over me."

Jesus: Laughing and joking. "Hmm, finally the first wise thing you have said for some time, Erin. Now, it is okay to let go and let God after you have done all you can. Remember, Erin, you are not God."

Me: "You are right. Please forgive me, Lord."

Jesus: "This was only meant to prove a point, Erin, and was not meant to shame you. Erin, you are loved. Soon you will have a new name and maybe it will be like Jacob because he struggled with God and with men and had overcome." He smiled and laughed.

Me: "Yes, Lord, but it also crippled Jacob."

Jesus: "Yes, but this was a small price to pay for such an epic battle with such a great reward. Erin, I have promised you healing and have declared you will be like you once were in your youth so do not be focused on doom and gloom. Now let's change subjects. Where did you wake up today?"

Me: "In the cherry trees during blossoming, but there was frost."

Jesus: "Good observation. Now, when do cherry blossoms appear?"

Me: "Depends on where you live, but it usually occurred in February."

Jesus: "I tell you the truth, Erin, soon I will remove the enemy's inflictions and the lions' mouths will be shut; the toothless grumbling ones. Soon you will be like a carefree gazelle or like a deer and you will no longer have to pray for your enemy."

"Erin, I have blessed you and you will no longer have shame. You and your household will live out your days in divine peace under the care of angels."

Me: "Lord, are you stopping the dreams?"

Jesus: "Where is that written in Acts 2:17? Where is that in Hosea? Erin, look at the time you are in."

Me: "Lord, I just know You will not come before the third Blood Moon, but that still does not give me when You are coming for us. This just means You will not come for us before this."

Jesus: Laughing. "Hmm, so is this all you got from Me here?"

Me: "No, Lord, forgive me, but the events are coming off God's clock quickly."

Jesus: "Then, Erin, take heart, have courage and do not be afraid. I will bless those who bless you and you will remain a blessing to many. However, no, Erin, I will not take the hip out of your socket unless you become prideful." He laughed.

Me: "Lord, You know my every thought and I will receive Your healing with thanksgiving. I love You, Lord."

Jesus: "This is the beginning of wisdom and soon you will dance, Erin. Soon you will rejoice. You are loved."

Dream 142 – Golden Wheat and Rainbows

Received Saturday, December 13, 2014

(Formerly known as Heaven 63)

Communion

Dear Father,

Lord, thank You for all that we have, for my family and for hope in the midst of trials. You gave me three very definite signs that You were still with me, but sometimes during great struggles I find this difficult to believe. You do not always grant us what we want, but You never fail to grant us what we need.

Some storms leave a wake of destruction and hit harder than others just as some people are hit harder than other people during these storms. With each storm, we are ultimately in God's mercy and even a wealthy man with power cannot stop God's wrath. Therefore we as believers must trust in the Lord to take us through it.

I thank God for trials and storms as I know that He has a purpose for these. Perhaps He is positioning me, perhaps He is strengthening me for more to come or perhaps He is testing me in my weakness in order to ready me for this coming time. I really do not know, but I do know He loves me.

I also know that God have gifted me with Jesus and my hope in His resurrection. I know where I will one day reside in Heaven, that there is more to come and that He plans all things for my good.

God have given me a great light and I no longer walk in the darkness (John 8:12). You are my light, Lord, and You have given me Isaiah 60:1 today, 'Arise, shine, for your light has come, and the glory of the Lord rises upon you.' Forgive me for running ahead of Your promises today as obviously my trials were not over quite yet."

Jesus: "Erin, come up."

I was wearing sandals and as I looked down at them I noticed that my feet were on a wooden plank platform. I looked ahead of me and saw a massive sea of wheat. As I looked closer, I saw that this wheat was increased in real metallic gold.

I ran out into this massive sea of wheat and picked a sheath of it. Each sheath had seven spikelet on seven rows and there were seven times seven on each wheat stalk. I know nothing of the botany of wheat, but this seemed extraordinary and very Heavenly to me.

As I ran through this massive field laughing, a wind came up and blew through the wheat from the south. I am not certain how I knew this except that I saw the sun set on the horizon so I derived that this was westerly.

I laughed as the wind blew as it almost seemed as if it was orchestrated by the angels. It looked amazing as waves of golden wheat became like waves of an ocean. As the wheat moved, it made music so beautiful yet I did not recognize the tune. I suddenly realized that even the wheat was worshipping the Lord.

Me: "Where are You, Lord?"

I looked all over, but I simply could not see Jesus. Nonetheless, my body simply stopped when I saw the most incredible full spectrum rainbow. As I looked at the colors, I felt some gentle rain fall upon me. I cried as it was one of the most beautiful sights I had ever seen. All the while, the wheat continued to sing with each blowing gust of wind.

Me: "Father God, this is so beautiful. I see a sea of gold, the sun, the rain and a beautiful rainbow too."

I clapped as I saw the rainbow double. I clapped even harder when I saw the rainbow triple. I then practically yelled with joy when I saw the rainbow quadruple. Just then and right before my eyes, I saw seven rainbows interweave to form a three dimensional circular dome.

This was too much to handle and I simply shouted out.

Me: "Wow Lord, this is so incredible! Thank You!"

As I ran to the rainbow dome as fast as I could through the sea of golden wheat, I started to cry as I realized I was chasing rainbows. The rainbows were now right over my head and I was completely under a beautiful massive spectrum of multicolored lights.

I dropped to my knees at the incredible display of God's glory and I worshiped Him in full thanks for all that I have. Just then, I felt a hand on my shoulder and I opened my eyes to see the Lord laughing as He hugged me.

Jesus: He started to joke with me. "So why were your eyes closed while worshipping? Why would you miss out on Me?"

Me: "Oh Lord, it is a habit I guess. On Earth, I close my eyes during prayer and worship to focus on You clearly. However, here in Heaven, I can praise You with my eyes wide open."

Jesus: "Yes, you would hate to miss out on all of this."

He laughed and I knew there was more to this also.

Me: "Lord, why do we close our eyes when we pray? Where did this start?"

Jesus: "Well, at one point, it was like visiting God in a secret room as this world has many distractions. When your eyes are closed, the enemy does not know where you have gone. However, when your eyes are open, your thoughts can be followed by your body. Often this will lead you away from Your first love of Me and My Father."

Me: "This makes sense. When I was little and if my eyes were open, I was labeled a daydreamer and if my eyes were shut, people thought I was napping. Now when I am in worship service at church, I either close my eyes, look down or look up so I do not become distracted from things or people of the world."

Jesus: Laughing. "Oh Erin, the enemy loves distractions from worship and his favorite place to operate is at church service."

Me: "Forgive me for shutting my eyes here, Lord."

Jesus: Smiling. "Erin, this is a heart matter so do not worry. I just did not want you to miss that which is all around you. Now you are encountering trials and I showed you more coming. Are you surprised by this?"

Me: "Yes, Lord, I expected a time of peaceful recuperation after my last major battle."

Jesus: Smiling. "Erin, your enemy never rests and this has been allowed for preparation. The enemy has petitioned for you to be sifted as wheat, but I told you the enemy has run his course in your life so please take heart."

I began to cry and He reached and hugged me.

Me: "Lord, You gave me a rainbow three days ago while it was snowing and raining. The sun shined through a small blue patch of sky and a rainbow burst through in the middle of December and in freezing conditions. My daughter and I were amazed by this. Then shortly after this, I received two more signs of Your promises to us."

Jesus: "Erin, then please reveal what your problem is?"

Me: "Okay, Lord, it is that I sometimes feel like You are napping in the boat while the storm is raging all around us."

Jesus: Laughing. "Oh Erin, you must have faith as Who allows the storms?"

Me: "You do, Lord."

Jesus: "Why would these storms come right now?"

Me: "Lord, You have said my enemies have run their course and I looked forward to their attacks ending soon, so I question why have You allow these other things to happen?"

“For example, I found out Monday that the roof of my car has been damaged and has holes. We are also having plumbing issues which are causing leaks and little or low water pressure in our home.

“I had to go to the emergency room at the hospital with one of the children on Wednesday while workers were stuffing our items into the living room during the repairs. Also, I am still struggling with flu and the list goes on and on and on.”

Jesus: “Erin, I know all that has happened and that you are discouraged, but look at the patterns from your history. What happens before you are hit with coming trouble?”

Me: “I am given a sign to pray, but then You always show me signs of your favor just before the trouble hits.”

Jesus: “Yes, but I noticed something different in you now. Despite your physical pain and even sickness, you still remained strong through these storms.”

Me: “Yes, but it was only on Your strength, not mine as I have learned to lean on You.”

Jesus: Smiling. “Erin, there are Christians who claim to know Me, yet when trouble comes they only act on their own but You have learned and, yes before you answer, albeit the hard way.”

Me: “Lord, was I so prideful and disobedient that God had no choice?”

Jesus: Laughing. “Well, Erin, yes and no as God chooses the trials, but you chose your attitude when going through them and your attitude has changed.”

Me: “Lord, I am still scared as I have a mandatory mediation with my kid's dad on January 5th. You showed me cherry blossoms, yet my other enemies have ramped up continuously and this trouble with our household is stripping me of our means.”

Jesus: “Erin, have I provided all the means and weapons for your battles? Have you lacked at all with help from your friends?”

I became saddened and embarrassed by my self-pity.

Me: “No, Lord, my friends have been amazing, but when I am cut off from communications I still become afraid. The enemy still attacks me and continues.”

Jesus: “Erin, when were you stripped of your weapons? Is the enemy really having victory over you? Are your children with you? Erin, I will handle your enemies so please give them to Me as I am your strong tower and kinsman redeemer.

“I will go before you in this as I have been and will continue to do so. I have appointed angels concerning you and you are not alone. You recognize the time which you are in and you see the late hour, so do not worry when the toothless lions grumble and roar. Instead, simply let them run about as what can they now do to harm you?”

Me: "Yes, but a toothless old lion still has claws."

Jesus: "I think you are giving them too much power. Remember that I did not deliver you to a promised land with no promise. After all, winter is but a season and nothing more. Now, how are your children?"

Me: "Surprisingly focused on You and very strong. My older son gave a talk in class on the unseen realm and he declared his faith in You. I am thrilled by this as he has become a man chasing after Your heart. Even my younger son posted a Scripture against idolaters on his Facebook page declaring his trust in You. This too is a miracle."

Jesus: Smiling. "Oh, so maybe your slower communication has forced them to focus on other things?"

Me: "Yes, Lord, we are learning to adjust to country living."

Jesus: "Erin, there is a dawn soon breaking as you are now out of the desert and into the woods. You are now near eagles and your eyes are wide open. You reside at Heaven's Gate and soon this trouble will be gone. Your healing has begun and so has your children's healing begun."

Me: "Lord, I still feel so much pain so please make this healing come soon."

Jesus: "Erin, it is very soon to come and soon you will no longer worry. Indeed, soon you will dance even in golden wheat fields."

Me: "Lord, one other thing. In my dream last night, I was so excited to go on a great journey. I had stopped into a trade show at a Convention Center and there were several booths, wherein each booth had enemies from my past and there were even some of my minor enemies.

"Some sales people were trying to get me to come to their booths to see what they could show me about my past. Instead, I avoided all of them and headed for the exit doors.

"There a woman handed me a ticket and said 'tonight you can go to a five star hotel. It is free and all the gourmet meals are included. It is luxurious and you would be foolish to turn this down.' I wanted to go but my plans already in place were much greater than her offer so I politely declined."

Jesus: "Well, this is good, Erin, as you need to leave your enemies behind. Do not take up the yoke they would have for you to carry as their load is heavy and your burden would be great. Instead, give all of this to Me as I will defend you and My recompense is with Me and soon I will reward you. Now, I am glad you kept your heart on Heaven and where you are going. Do you think Heaven is a five star accommodation?"

Me: Laughing. "It is so wonderful in Heaven that it would be impossible to rate as this is perfection."

Jesus: "Then your dream was a blessing and not a sign of a curse. Despite your troubles like Joseph, Erin, you will be rewarded. I am promising you that you will soon consider a field and even buy it and this too is a blessing."

Me: "I love you, Lord."

Jesus: "I love you too."

He hugged me and kissed the top of my head.

Dream 143 – God’s Mountain and the Archangel with a Quiver

Received Tuesday, December 16, 2014

(Formerly known as Prophetic 4)

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day. Thank You for our house as I finally have a safe place for me and my children. Even so, we are still being attacked from all sides right now as the enemy is not relenting. Please, Lord, please help.

Jesus: “Erin, come up.”

As I walked on the stamped gold dust path, my steps were labored as I am now on Earth. I cried when I realized I was walking up God’s mountain in my current earthly state. My walk was difficult, but I continued to climb.

I needed to hear from God, my Father, but I could not see where I was going because the fog level was only about ten feet above me and rose as I climbed. I had virtually no feeling in my left arm and a very uncomfortable right arm, again the same as on Earth. I basically was climbing this mountain as a cripple.

In this discouraging body state, I barely noticed the small doe in front of me climbing on the path about ten feet in front of me. I began to slow down and there was a rock to my right that I could sit on for a moment to rest. I sat on this rock and was thankful that it ‘just happened’ to be flat on top.

Me: Crying. “Lord, this battle is becoming too difficult to move forward like I am. I love You, Father, but I am not strong.”

For a moment, I glanced down the golden powdery path and I could not see where I had started. I had climbed God’s mountain on this journey for so long that I could not even see below and I started to weep.

This has been a journey laden with more tears than laughter. I am afraid as now I am old and full of years. My children have been robbed by my loss of youth, but I have been a patient mother. My attempt at wisdom sprinkled with a little humor and a whole lot of grace led me to where I am now as a Mom.

If I had given birth when I was younger and without Jesus in my heart, well, let’s just say I am so thankful I waited, or really God had me wait. I must have been here on this rock reflecting for too long as the little doe brushed my right shoulder to get my attention. I turned and saw it climbing up some rocks off of the path.

Me: "Father God, how can I follow this deer today as I am not well? Can I be in my glorified body or at least the one from my youth?"

I looked up to God for an answer but there was none. The deer nudged me again.

Me: "Okay, I will try to follow."

I turned and slowly climbed the rocks with my earthly body. My feet gave way a few times, but I slowly crawled to the top landing where the doe was waiting for me.

There I saw another path that consisted of beautiful chiseled pavers in a cobblestone random pattern. Really it was more of a divine pattern and not truly random. The pavers consisted of burnished gold quarry stones and they were truly amazing.

I began to step on them and looked down with every move forward. The deer took me past the sword room on my right and I stopped.

Me: "Father, can I peek inside again?"

Tears were streaming down my cheeks as I wanted to see these battle swords of the angels who fought for me again. I really felt that I needed this encouragement. Just then, an angel of the Lord appeared at the door of the sword room. He opened the door inward and waved me to come. I nodded a thank you to him.

Angel: "You are welcome, Erin."

I stepped into this large room and saw even more fighting swords than before. There were some with jewels and even some Damascus blades. There were other weapons too. I cried as I knew that God sends these angels to protect us.

Me: "Angel, this room is even becoming larger than last time as much more has happened."

Angel: "Erin, the battles rage on. While God never surrenders, you are the one who must surrender all to Him."

Me: I knew there was more to this. "I have given all of my life to Him. My children are His and our belongings are His, so what more can I do?"

Angel: "Give Him your troubles and do not battle the enemy alone. Erin, surrender this to God as the battle is God's."

Me: "I have been here before, angel, so please take my enemies as I am too tired to fight. My resources and strength are going and I cannot continue."

The angel picked up a quiver of a type of leather and it was woven like a basket. It was beautiful and divinely handcrafted and the quiver contained five arrows. The feathered ends of the arrows were eagle feathers and the tips of the arrows were bronze. The shaft of the arrow was made of some type of metal like titanium or platinum but it was hollow and extremely light.

The angel put the quiver over his shoulder and he reached over and picked up an amazing bow. The bow was some high-tech material and was intricately carved. The angel showed me the bow and on the bow I saw the story of my life from birth. The string of the bow was spun with gold and what looked like hair.

Me: "Whose hair is this woven with the gold?"

Angel: "This is your hair, Erin. Now I have been commanded by God to destroy your enemies and remove them."

The angel was very strong and had to be an archangel, but I did not know for certain.

Me: Crying. "I do not want them killed or to lose their chance at salvation. Have I brought a curse upon them?"

Angel: "Erin, there is a war raging and you have seen this. You have also experienced the effects of this epic battle and this is just one of many which are occurring now. You are not alone in your suffering as many of God's children are battling. You must surrender all and give the battle to the Lord God."

Me: "I thought I had. I thought I would be healed. Why not just heal me so I can fight?"

Angel: "Please understand that this is not your battle, but God's. Pray, Erin, and pray now."

The angel bent over and grabbed a small linen sack with a woven silver string. He reached in it and pulled out five smooth stones and handed them to me.

Angel: "Erin, you are stronger than you think. Hold fast to the promise the Lord has given you as God will not fail in His promises to you. Right now in the state you are in you will not be able to get in God's way. If you had full health, you would even get in your own way.

"Please remember that the Lord's promise of healing is also on His time and not yours. Now, you are still able to remove a stone and throw it at your giant, but in the meantime I have an assignment and an army to govern.

"Please do not worry as you have been brought to a safe place and rendered helpless for a reason. Now surrender your cares to God, the God Who loves you. Study Deuteronomy 28:7, 'The Lord will grant that the enemies who rise up against you will be defeated before you. They will come at you from one direction but flee from you in seven.

"Remember, Erin, 'there are six things the Lord hates, seven that are detestable to him: haughty eyes, a lying tongue, hands that shed innocent blood, a heart that devises wicked schemes, feet that are quick to rush into evil, a false witness who pours out lies and a person who stirs up conflict in the community' (Proverbs 6:16-19).

“Your enemies have ramped up against you and the Lord knows you are discouraged. Please do not worry or be dismayed, but instead run to the strong tower. Erin, who is your strong tower?”

Me: “Jesus is my strong tower and mighty fortress and in Him I find shelter.”

Angel: “Then, Erin, let God battle with His armies. You are to find rest and peace in the shelter of the most high God.”

Me: “Angel, is God angry at me for my lack of faith?”

Angel: “No, Erin, as having full faith is difficult for a man or even a nation who finds himself surrounded by his enemies. Even people who seem kind but are deceitful still look to you for charity and grace. You have freely given and blessed others, so now allow God to freely defend and bless you, Erin.”

Me: “So do I do nothing? There are things coming which I must prepare for. Do I do nothing but wait on God?”

Angel: “Erin, remember to prepare your field and wait on the Lord to provide rain and sun. Peter stepped from the boat out onto the water. Moses even used his staff in faith to part the sea. Remember Joshua most of all, Erin, as he had to walk in complete faith. Now is your time as soon your adversaries will be removed.”

Me: “I guess I have been waiting for this promise for so long that I am not expecting it here on Earth but instead in Heaven.”

Angel: “You are incorrect. Dress for battle, go into the fight and then look to the hills as the battle is God’s. This is a good time to be reminded of Psalm 3 and of Psalm 46.”

Me: “Angel, you look so familiar to me. Are you an archangel? Your strength, power, and authority are far greater than most angels and seems more like that of Michael’s. Who are you?”

Angel: “Erin, you know better than to ask me. It is not important who I am, but it is much more important that the God on the Throne in Heaven loves you and has appointed me and my armies to you. We have battled for you and your children and will continue to do so as the Lord wills it until He takes you Home.”

Me: “Angel, it seems much is going to happen soon with the world. Why has God allowed me to be cut off from everyone?”

Angel: “First, Erin, it is Jesus who saves and your lack of communication is serving a purpose. Look at your children; are they not focused more on the Lord God? Erin, there are many forms of weapons in a war so remember to review war strategies so you may be refreshed on your enemy’s position.

“There is nothing new under the sun. There has also been a delay as many have ramped up siege walls against you. So please leave the battles to God’s armies.”

Me: Crying. “Who do I think I am? I am but a small, feeble woman and certainly no warrior against that which I cannot see. Lord, let Your will be done on Earth as it is in Heaven for us. I will trust in You.

“Thank You for sending these mighty angels to protect us. Forgive me for my sorrow. Bless all of my family and friends during these wars and keep them and their families safe from harm. Bless them abundantly for their prayers and love.”

Angel: “Erin, give warning to your friends as there are false prophets amongst you. Remember to test the spirits. Remember that false prophets work to glorify themselves and run toward the promise of power and high esteem.

“Words that are detestable to God or opposite of the fruits of the Spirit must be gauged so that you are not led so far away from truth that you find yourself in desert places.

“Pray for those who have been innocently deceived as these are double-minded men. Erin, while you are to pray for them, you are not to take the time to read these things, but rather to spend that time focusing on Jesus and Scripture instead.”

“Look to Israel as your gauge and look to the Word of God. The Book of Daniel will be revealed like never before. Understand the times in which you live. Be amazed at God’s glorious display and love for you.”

Me: Crying. “I am disheartened when I am in pain and trouble continues.”

Angel: “Do not worry and take courage even as the battle rages around you. Look to the hills and take your position. Stand, Erin, for you are loved.”

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day, for heat and shelter, for my family and most of all for this shield of protection. You have taken us to a safe place and I am forever grateful. You have assured me that I will have rest from my enemies and this promise I will cling to with hope.

In this day and age, enemies can attack from all corners of the globe at any given time. I thank You also for Your gentle rebukes as it is through our afflictions that I find humility. It is not that I enjoy our struggles at all, but I see Your hands of grace and a wall of angels surrounding us.

Three days in advance of trouble You warn me with a dream, this is followed by Your assurance of provisions and then the attack comes. Often these attacks seem much worse in my fleshly head rather than in reality. I had a dream yesterday which I believe is possibly for New Year’s.

Three days ago I had a dream which I cannot detail, but it was horrific. Satan was riding a massive storm cloud as if it was a chariot and he was coming in from the southeast. It appeared that he was coming upon Washington, DC. At first people thought this was the Lord as God is usually blamed when storms come, but I could tell that this would have an impact which will affect many all over the globe.

After I verbalized just a hint of this dream, our septic and heat pump blew up in our home. This would figure as a major attack from below ground via the plumbing is my number one sign of an enemy attack. Thank You, Lord, as the expense for this was only a fraction of what the disaster could have cost us.

Nonetheless I was scared as the temperatures are below freezing and with no water for about twenty four hours all of a sudden, even my children were thirsty. I thank God for the wood fireplace and stove. When reality struck momentarily, I was hit with, ‘Lord, what if we freeze out here?’

I remember looking out my window on Sunday to see this beautiful bald eagle flying right over our house. Thank You, Jesus. We even had a warm up with rain around Christmas and the Lord granted us another rainbow. This was no ordinary rainbow, but a rainbow in December, a complete rarity here.

No matter what, we have victory, God, because You defeated the enemy in advance. You are good, Lord, all of the time. Last night I had pulled dinner out of the oven and for some reason I decided to grab the handle with my bare hand.

Due to my injury, the fingers in my hands have no feeling so it took a couple of seconds longer to feel the burn. Wow, how painful it was when I realized what I had done. I spent a lot of time praying for healing. I was able to have my sons clean up after dinner and I was very impressed with them as I normally do most of the household chores.

When I woke up today, there was no evidence of a severe burn. The blisters were completely gone and there was no trace of injury, even though the Lord still allowed the burn.

Father, I need help with my dream and the interpretation. I do not know what is coming, but I know it is coming and the impact will be great.

Jesus: "Erin, come up."

Today I was right up on God's mountain and there was a fog ceiling above me about ten feet high. My sword room was to my left and I was on this path. I could tell I was somewhere on the estate of God as the grounds were impeccably beautifully groomed and lush. The only things up here which showed wear of damages were the swords in the sword room.

Me: "Lord, are You here? Are You in the fog above me?"

Just then, the same massive archangel as last time appeared in front of me. The mass and strength of this angel compared to the smallness of my body were laughable. Nothing other than God Himself could stand against this Heavenly being.

This angel was in warrior gear and he had what looked like brass or gold polished armor. This was truly something out of an epic movie. He had all of the armor of God on along with massive wings that were folded.

The angel had a shield which was on his back with massive straps of woven, leather gold and steel. He wore his shield like a back pack on the outside of his wings. On his left side was a massive sword about six feet in length. While the sword was huge, it was proportional to the angel's height of around fourteen feet.

He was wearing equipment which was highly advanced and not of this world. The metal was pliable and not clunky at all. There was fabric like membranes in the coverings of the joints of his elbow armor and knees. This type of fabric was so strong that it held the armor together in sections and allowed him to move freely in battle.

His hair was brown, gold and white and was wavy and long. His face was very pronounced and chiseled. He was ruggedly handsome, but with very kind brownish green eyes. His skin was tanned or like a deep gold. He smiled at me as I studied everything I could. When he smiled, his teeth were perfect and white.

Angel: "Erin, do you have questions?"

Me: "Forgive me as I know I am not to worship angels, but I just have never seen any angels like you before. I know you were here last time, but I do not recall that you were as tall or that you were in your armor."

Angel: "God has you observe only what He wants you to share. Perhaps last time this was not the focus."

Me: "I know what God wanted to show me as He sends massive angels concerning us and this is awesome. Angel, I have some bullies on Earth I would like you to handle for me. I do not think they can be redeemed and they are not the Lord's. Can you just get rid of them for me?"

Angel: Laughing. "Erin, we know those who cause you trouble. God is fully aware of your enemies and when they will be removed. He has told you that they have run their course of trouble so do not worry about them."

Me: "Who are you?"

Angel: "This is not important right now. Just know that my armies are assigned to you and we are over your area. This area is governed by two archangels."

Me: "So, you watch over me?"

Angel: "You could call it this, but remember that in armies there are ranks. I am like a general and God is the Commander and Chief. There are orders and patterns in the battlefield."

Me: "Well, I have seen Michael in battle and you are not Michael. Hmm, perhaps you are Gabriel or Raphael?"

Angel: "Erin, it is not important, but just know that our ranks are over your area and you are going to be okay. There are assignments against you, so the battle rages. We handle the battle, the Lord provides provision for you and your family and you continue to pursue God at Heaven's Gate as this is your assignment."

Me: "Angel, could you just appear to two of my enemies with each having a witness? It would be so incredible. Please!"

Angel: He was quite serious. "Erin, by God's command I would, but I do not take orders from you. You do not intercede for us and we do not intercede for you. I am under direct orders by God, not by man. However, God does take reports from the battlefield."

Me: I was a bit embarrassed by my asking. "Okay. So are you here to tell me about my dreams?"

Angel: "You are to tell me what you are troubled about and I will answer as God reveals and wills it. Erin, please proceed."

Me: "I saw satan riding a massive storm cloud like a chariot in from the southeast on this black storm. I saw a land to the west of this and there were rains and flooding. I saw something like the Earth splitting and then an earthquake. It was a time of darkness. When is this and what am I seeing?"

Angel: "There is judgment coming and the events are about to accelerate."

Me: "Angel, there is going to be movement coming with severe coldness against people. It is pure evil and it is horrific and will remove love out of marriages and relationships. Then judgment will come shortly after and this will all start within the next three months. Even Christians will practice this bondage against each other and call it love."

Angel: "Yes, Erin, you are correct as the enemy operates in the opposite of God's laws. The pattern, Erin, is in the Bible. Years ago, you wrote down a dream.

"It was a harbor town with stagnant water and massive homes. There were cattle in the water. There were parties and people swimming in dung and urine. They were drinking the milk from these poisoned cows and roasting the meat of cattle fattened by human dung. They rejoiced and were happy. This is the time."

Me: "When is this?"

Angel: "Pray, Erin, pray for Israel. Pray for those caught in the cross hairs of false ceasefires. As for those who mock, trick and set up assignments against God's people, they will be destroyed.

"You were told that the Books of the Prophets are being unveiled so do not be surprised when judgment falls. Self-indulgence makes the enemy weak in battle and makes his defeat imminent and swift. While the enemy revels in a supposed victory, God strikes and then the world is shocked. Please pray."

Me: "Is there anything I can do?"

Angel: "Erin, you are under the care of angels and you reside at Heaven's Gate. Intercede for the veil to be lifted off of those who would be caught in the crossfire. Pray and fast for the Lord will come soon. Do not be afraid when you see trouble coming to pass, but rather go to your war guide, the Word of the Lord.

"The Lord will reveal answers to you like never before so do not rely on hearsay. Only God Himself will give you divine revelation as I am here only as a messenger. Jesus is your deliverer and intercedes for you so do not worry or be dismayed. God loves you.

"Pray for the regions of judgment as satan has been granted permission to ride this coming storm like a chariot. Do not worry as God has perimeters and a plan here. Take heart even though you will see war."

Me: "I cannot endure war."

Angel: "You can endure much when God is in your favor. Erin, you will not be in war, so do not worry. Nonetheless, you are a different type of soldier in a different war. You are loved by God and He has assigned armies of angels concerning you. Those who bless you and pray for you will be blessed. Bless Israel and be a blessing as this is good food from God Himself."

Me: "Thank you for being a messenger and thank you for watching over us."

Angel: "No, thank God, Erin, thank God for He is worthy to be praised and He is your shield and buckler and your Prince of Peace. You can find hope in Scripture. Erin, Psalm 122 is wisdom and Psalm 125 is a promise with the judgment. At times, you will feel defeated so there is a reminder in Psalm 74 for you.

"Remember that your enemies' commandments are the opposite of God's commandments. Remember what God hates and that the enemy operates in the opposite of the fruits of the Spirit and opposes all things good from God.

"There is a strong promise from the Lord in Acts 26:15-18. Remember to walk in the light of the Lord. 1st John has many words of wisdom. Remember, do not live in fear."

Me: "I will continue to pray for the lost and Israel. God, thank You for commanding Your angels concerning us. Please come for us soon and do not delay."

Dream 145 – God’s Mountain and Two Archangels

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for warmth, for my children, for our safe place and for keeping us safe despite the enemy's attempts at destroying us. Lord, I feel as if I am on a battlefield and right now I am hiding in the woods. The enemy or my enemies know where I am and they have surrounded me.

My communications are down, yet we have ample provisions to sustain us for a while. When the enemy moves closer, we can hear them, but then on certain days the enemy is quiet. Even when I am completely surrounded, all I need to do is look up and there You are.

Thank You for I know that even though my enemies have me surrounded, ultimately you and the armies of angels are surrounding them. Greater are You, Lord, and greater are your miracles than those bent on my destruction.

Forgive me when I complain and become a whining screeching baby bird instead of a mature seasoned Christian, although I am not sure I have achieved ‘mature Christian’ status yet. All I know is I need tough Heavenly armor to battle in this world, yet I must remain soft and compassionate toward others so you are pleased with my heart.

It is not that You require me to be perfect, just pliable and not hardened by this worldly cold. Bitter coldness can even freeze a warm heart after enough time passes. Lord, keep my heart warm in sub-zero conditions on this battle field. I love You.

Jesus: “Erin, come up.”

I am immediately up on God's mountain and I am in front of the sword room. I am looking up again for the angel.

Me: “Lord, will You come this time? Are You here?”

Suddenly two angels appeared before me, one angel with a bow and arrow in full armor and the other angel with a massive sword and shield. The two angels looked almost identical and mighty in stature. They both had kind eyes, yet frightening as I realize that both had the power to strike me down to nothing at God's command. They both stood about fourteen feet tall.

Me: I pointed to the one with the bow and arrow. "Oh, are you brothers? You were there in the sword room a couple of dreams before and you were in the last dream." I then pointed to the angel on my right with the sword.

Angel with sword: "Erin, you are correct and there is a reason as God has commanded us concerning you."

Angel with bow: "Your enemies have ramped up against you, they have you surrounded and God knows this. You are being attacked further and you are even unaware of some of the attacks. Do not be afraid as their plans will not be successful."

Angel with sword: "You are under God's care and He has sent us to remove them."

Me: "I thought you had already removed them."

Angel with bow: "You have not seen all the enemy has planned against you yet. It has already occurred. You will be downcast because of this, but not without provisions from the Lord."

Angel with sword: "Your enemy on one side is cowering secretly, your enemy on the west is ramping up, your enemy to the south is rejoicing and your enemy to the north wants you to disappear. However, all of your enemies want you removed and wiped out."

Me: "I do not understand their true hatred against me."

Angel with bow: "Erin, you had six enemies. One enemy has left, but for a time weakened you. Another enemy simply watches in the shadows, but both have now been removed and neither will be an issue for you and your children.

"Your enemies to the west and north are driven by greed and money and there is no moral compass which either live by. God does not favor them and they will be unsuccessful in their campaigns against you. They are stalling to make you tired.

"Eventually they hope you will cower under pressure. Do not as God wants you to stand and He has sent help. Now stand and do not back down. The hills surrounding them have my armies there. I serve and so do my armies under God. Let us go to battle for you here, but do not back down."

Me: "Okay, but what of my two biggest adversaries south and to the east of them?"

Angel with sword: "Erin, God is not pleased as both call themselves Christians. Remember that God does not punish you and you are loved. These enemies do not impress God and He considers them idolaters. God's anger rages at what continues to occur.

"You must be patient as the perfect union of these two enemies will result in a victory in which God will vindicate you even as in worldly courts this behavior has gone unnoticed and unpunished.

“Erin, it would have been better for them to be tried in earthly courts rather than in God's Court. The victory in which they gloat and celebrate will come swiftly to a halt.”

The angel began to draw his sword and I stepped back. I must have looked terrified as the angel then smiled and they both laughed.

Angel with bow: “Erin, please do not be afraid as you will be unharmed in these battles.”

Me: “How can this be as harm has been done and I see my provisions eventually being stripped again?”

Angel with bow: “This is why God has sent provisions in advance of your battles. Erin, you are not to worry as anything in which the enemy throws at you will not take root and no harm will be done to you or your children. If the enemy can make you afraid then he is successful in immobilizing you. You must remain afoot and mobilized.

“When you seem unscathed, the enemy quivers. When you are dressed for battle and ready, the enemy is on notice. When you go into battle singing praises of victory, your enemy becomes angry. When you testify of the goodness of God and His presence in your life, the enemy begins to become disheartened.

“When you advance forward when God says move and when you stand when God says stand, the obedience to His commands makes the Lord God rejoice. When God rejoices over you, the blessings of Heaven pouring down on you makes the enemy come to a crawl.

“When the enemy crawls, we advance and cut them down as they try to retreat into holes and crevices. Their campaigns against you will result in their demise as they will not repent, but only retreat into dark places.”

Me: “So I will need to battle? Will I even see war?”

Angel with sword: “Erin, I am assigned to remove these enemies from your sight and His by God Himself so do not worry. Your only positions will be to love the Lord God Almighty with your whole heart and love others as Christ loves His Church.”

Me: “I need to be obedient too, right?”

They both laughed and looked at each other.

Angel with sword: “Erin, you have been down from communications so that you can be clear on His instructions. Listen to God speaking, not the noise of this world. Know the difference when those are expanding incorrectly about the Words of God and those who wait on God. Many are anxious as our time of the Lord is at hand.

“Do not be foolish, but take courage and know the Scriptures are the Word of God. It is wisdom to go to His Words when you are listening to His still small voice as the two will always confirm the heart of God. The two together will also confirm prophecy when you hear it. The Holy Spirit will grant you discernment.”

Me: “When I get tired and I am worn out from the battles, I sometimes forget to go to the Word several times a day for comfort. God forgive me that I only go to You when I am in deep depression or in great joy as I am missing my daily bread of Your Words.”

Angel with bow: “Erin, God is not condemning you as the enemy would want to.”

The angel begins to grab an arrow from his quiver behind his back.

Joking, I shouted ‘whoa, whoa’ as I began to duck. The two angels laughed.

Angel with bow: Smiling. “Erin, words are like arrows, so be careful. This is meant to encourage you. When communication is down in the world, God is always available via His Word. When you were a child all you had were words to read and no technology. Now if you have no technology you can go back to your words, right?”

Me: Smiling. “You are right.”

Angel with sword: “Erin, we appeared to you today by God’s command. He wants you to share your battles with others and it is time for your war story to be released as then even you can know where you are at in the battle.”

Me: “I am scared.”

Angel with bow: “You were trained for times such as this and you asked for God to use you. How do you know if your darkest battle was not for this coming time? Now share this in advance of what is coming and you will bring comfort and wisdom to many. You can also bring hope to marriages.”

Me: “Lord God, please strengthen me if I am to share this.”

Angel with sword: “Erin, those who judge you will be judged. Those who bless you will be blessed. Do not be afraid as you will not suffer shame. Your enemies will fall to the west, to the north, to the south and to the east. You will be victorious in all you do. Even those who claim to be Christians might turn from their wickedness and repent.”

Me: “Angels, knowledge is power and with more knowledge the enemy can gain more power.”

Angel with sword: “Erin, do you think your enemy has not studied you enough to know your comings and goings? His favorite weapon against you is other Christians. When you see a Christian operating in a minimum of three things that God finds detestable in Scripture, then you know as your sign the enemy has found a tool.”

Me: "So if one of my Christian friends is coveting, jealous or gossiping, then the enemy is at foot? I have probably done this before myself and now I know that the enemy has used me against other Christians before as I have been envious, jealous and gossiping."

Angel with bow: Teasingly, he started to grab an arrow from his quiver. "Then stop it, turn and repent. Go to your friend and apologize. Take no offense against your brother, but your enemy is different. Give your enemies to God and God will get the glory after He sends us to stop them."

Angel with sword: Smiling. "Yes, we love giving the enemy his due at God's commands."

Me: "As powerful angels, it must be hard to not want to cut everyone down."

I smiled as I said this and made both of the angels laugh.

Angel with sword: "We are servants of God and we do not do anything without His command as He is perfect in His timing. We rely on Him as He controls all events and we are there to assist Him only."

Angel with bow: "Erin, now you are like Esther and you are about to help many. Now Esther went from a peasant Jewish girl to a queen. She did this by remaining sharp and courageous in the midst of an epic battle."

Me: "I am nothing like Esther."

Angel with bow: "Erin, it is your heart. The Lord loves a teachable pliable heart filled with love."

Me: "I am not young like Esther. Please heal me so I am able to battle all that is coming."

Angel with sword: "Erin, your victory and healing is visible on the horizon. We see it and so does the enemy. You are hated by your enemies and loved by God. Be encouraged as this is a blessing."

Angel with bow: "Erin, you reside at Heaven's Gate in the care of Angels and nothing is impossible for you from our position so do not worry."

I curtsied to the angels and I lifted my hands to God as I whispered 'I love You' to Him. Just then, there was an opening in the cloud cover and an immense amount of light streamed in. I heard God speak to me.

God: "Erin, you are loved and I will make your paths straight. I will heal you from the inside out."

Dream over...

These are the Scriptures the Lord led me to from the above dream:

Psalm 21:11, "Though they plot evil against you and devise wicked schemes, they cannot succeed. Because of all my enemies I am the utter contempt of my neighbors, and an object of dread to my closest friends – those who see me on the street flee from me. I am forgotten as though I were dead; I have become like broken pottery. For I hear many whispering, 'Terror on every side!' They conspire against me and plot to take my life.

Psalm 20:1-2, "May the Lord answer you when you are in distress; may the name of the God of Jacob protect you. May He send you help from the Sanctuary and grant you support from Zion!"

Deuteronomy 28:12, "The Lord will open for you His good storehouses, the heavens to give rain to your land in its season and to bless all the work of your hand and you shall lend to many nations, and thou shalt not borrow."

Esther 4:14, but somewhat personalized just for me, "For if you remain silent at this time, relief and deliverance (for the Jews) will arise from another place, but you and your father's family will perish, and who knows but that you have come to your position for such a time as this?"

Blessings and love, Erin

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You so much for assigning armies of angels to watch over us. Thank You for the advanced warning of trouble. Two hours after You told me of trouble, it came.

I discovered that I will now have no income and I will need to stand strong that You will do what is necessary to prepare us for battle if need be. However, You have ultimately reminded us that we will be victorious.

Lord, You reminded me of a false sense of security which can occur prior to an attack. My Spirit felt unsettled so I am so thankful for the pre-warning. If I had not come to You, I would have been caught unaware.

Instead my faith is stronger in victory as You have shown me in advance of it. I am so beyond thankful, Lord, and You are such a blessing to me. Thank You for granting me peace as my children are unaware of our current situation based on my confidence in You. You have forever changed me and I love You, Lord.

Jesus: “Erin, come up.”

I again stood on the mountain in front of my sword room. The path was in front of me and there were no angels. I looked up and saw the cloud ceiling or type of canopy above me hovering at around ten feet high. There was a warm gentle mist falling over me and the air smelled fresh and fragrant and unlike anything here on Earth.

For a moment I was reminded of a smell from the summer of 2003 in Bend, Oregon. My time in Bend was a new start for me and my children and was and is such a beautiful place. I truly met God in Bend as this is where all of my Near Death Experiences (NDEs) occurred.

It was also where I came to discover something so dark that I can barely speak of it as my heart was broken. The first time I climbed God’s mountain was in Bend on November 22, 2004 and is when I first discovered that my heart condition was very serious and life threatening.

Today, the Lord has asked me to share my extremely painful and difficult testimonial. The Lord grants each of us testimonies to be able to share them with others who are struggling or might be struggling in their own lives and marriages, whether they are Christian or not. So on that note, I will now try my very best to condense my many years of battles as succinctly as possible in the next few pages.

Up until the end of 1993, I was unsaved and was still quite far from becoming a believer. As a matter of fact, I was raised as a Unitarian Universalist and was essentially taught to hate Christians. This particular denomination was the very definition of a 'wide gate' thinking church. In essence, all religions were accepted as valid and Jesus was reduced to being 'just a prophet' and certainly not God.

After denying the Lord's calling for so long, I finally came to Christ at the end of 1993 just over 21 years ago. A few weeks later, I was publicly baptized on January 9th, 1994. My acceptance of Jesus was facilitated when I met someone who came from a Pentecostal family that, on the surface, seemed normal with a good family value system. This person even seemed financially stable and strong in their moral character.

However, as I got to know this person deeper, the Lord started giving me pre-warnings that all was not alright with them. In essence, God was revealing some signs of this person's demented proclivities. However, as I was quite naïve back then, I remained unsure of what God was showing me.

After a while, even my friends began to warn me that something did not seem right with this person, but I initially dismissed them because they were 'nonbelievers' and I had mistakenly believed they had been 'sent by the enemy'. However, God finally revealed just how horrendous this person really was when I discovered something in this person's room just three days prior to an important event.

I was so distraught about what was revealed that I immediately went to this person for an explanation. As they tried to explain this all away, I could tell that this person was lying to me. Despite my Spirit screaming the opposite to me, I still did not cancel my important event with this person as I felt loyal to them for being the one to lead me to Christ.

As a result of this person's 'leading', I somehow personally felt as if it were the Lord's Will for me to continue my relationship with this person. As a result, I dismissed so many signs, along with three massive warnings from God that there was trouble and that this was not His Will. As it turned out, denial is something that this person has relied on from their victim's for years and continues to rely on to this very day.

As time went on, I discovered more and more about this person. Most disturbingly, this person has a horrible addiction to pornography that was anything but mild. Let's just say that this person is an extreme addict along the lines of the '50 Shades of Gray' books and movie that I saw a trailer for recently. For this person, the more decrepit and painful, the better and now I felt truly trapped.

Rather than play the victim, I confronted this person with what I discovered about them and went to the pastor at the church we both attended for help. I then went to a Christian counselor who finally was able to get a confession from this person about just how extreme their addiction was.

When even more was revealed, I knew I was now at a crossroads. Do I love this person enough to dive into the trenches and go into their seedy underground world or do I lead a separate life apart from this person? After much prayer, I chose the separate life. This was the right decision, but would trigger many years of turmoil.

I started off by telling this person I did not want to know about any of their trysts and that I would rather turn my cheek and look the other way from then on. Nonetheless, I always knew when this person's addiction was out of control as they would start working long hours, become withdrawn and angry and would often remain silent at church.

As I confronted this situation and as just another sign of the mass denial by others as to what this person was doing, this person's family even started blaming me for all of it. Distraught by these unfair reactions, I started to research this person's peculiar type of addiction but found that not much had been written about this back then.

In desperation, I called prayer warriors from our church to come to our home. I kept cleansing our doors and windows. I spent hours on my knees and in prayers of intercession for this person. I even went to an amazing Pentecostal Hispanic church where a man on fire for the Lord came to me without prompting to discuss this person's addiction to "pornographia" before I even told anyone about it.

As it turns out, this man informed me that the Lord had commanded him to pray for this person to have stomach aches whenever they engaged in their acts of extreme immorality. He told me that, this way, I would always know when this person was at their worst. Sure enough, this person had frequent stomach aches after this.

However, even these stomach aches, some of them severe, still did not keep them from their addition for long. As time went on, I became bitter and disillusioned because I saw this person go through the motions of pretending to be a Christian and the people believing it as it was 'easier'. All the while that this denial from all those around us grew, I began to find out even more about this person's secret life of sexual sin.

As a result, this sin became a massive barrier to breakthrough in our relationship. Instead, as this sin continued in secret, I became ill as a result and later resulted in severe headaches. After a while of this, I would wake up in the middle of the night to go to the washroom only to find myself on the floor slumped over or face down in a twisted position.

Despite this person trying to dismiss these occurrences as 'normal', I decided to seek medical help. Soon I was referred to a neurologist specializing in brain tumors. After an MRI and other studies, a tumor was discovered about the size of a dime in the very center of my brain. Instead of surgery, and because the doctor believed it was dormant, only medication was administered to me.

During this treatment, I discovered a different condition that required me to stop this medication immediately. However, and only through prayer, I continued on my course as a business owner while my relationship with this person became more and more strained. I slowly learned to live by putting my hope in the Lord rather than this person's continual empty promises and lies.

The main issue I was now having was a complete lack of repentance on this person's part as they simply had no remorse, compassion or sympathy for what I was going through. Indeed, they were enjoying their sin more than me. This person would even take advantage of my lack of knowing the Bible back then as an opportunity to twist Scriptures to fit their sins as somehow being acceptable to God.

Sadly, and partially due to this person's demonic twisting of Scriptures, I began to doubt who Christ was in my life and even if He loved me at all. To make matters even worse, this person would constantly remind me of my past sins that I had told them I had done prior to becoming a Christian.

I regretted trusting my 'pre-Christian sin confession' with this person as this person was now constantly trying to tell me of how the Lord forgives certain people, but would not forgive me for these things that I had done. Even though this person could not actually name any of my 'post-Christian' sins, they indicated that these too were so great that I was simply unforgivable under God.

This person's problems only ramped up when they started working in an area where prostitution was rampant. This allowed for a constant temptation for whatever this person was into. Through unusual circumstances I can only describe as 'God-allowed', I soon discovered something so dark that I no longer felt safe being anywhere near this person.

This is so dark that I will keep the details to myself, but trust me when I tell you that what this person was doing was incredibly twisted. I knew that the Lord had revealed this to me as, when I confronted this person about the signs the Lord showed me, they simply told me I was crazy and imagining things even though everyone else agreed that God was in the driver's seat here.

Not liking that I was now trying to escape from our relationship, this person then systematically lied to the pastors of our church and their family that it was actually me possibly being involved in something dark. As it was simpler to deny what they now this person was into, and even though this person had no proof on me as there simply wasn't any, they still used this 'cross accusation' as an excuse to yet again bury their collective heads about this person's dark activities.

When I was finally confronted on this person's lies about me, I told all of them that I was in a relationship with our Lord, Jesus, and I was tired of them turning a blind eye to this person's sexual addictions. After a few months away from this person, they yet again took great lengths to lure me back.

Unfortunately, their plans worked and I fell into their trap. This was foolish on my part as this person never repented of their sin and instead tried to convince me that our problems were my fault, not this person's fault. Somehow almost convinced of this thanks to the enemy's persistent, the Lord called me to go to Him in extreme fasting and repentance and He reminded me that these were all lies from an effective enemy.

Despite Scriptures and Godly counsel allowing me to be released from this relationship, I still stayed out of a now warped sense of loyalty. However, God had other plans and 'fortunately' I had medical difficulties that I later found out that somehow God used to keep me protected from this person's attacks.

As a result of these medical difficulties, I was forced to rest and find peace. Indeed, these medical difficulties forced me to be away from this person in 'all ways'. This was so freeing that I could even feel God's presence in abundance over me as I slept on the sofa.

Later I realized how wonderful His love and care was for me during this time of difficulty even as this person continued to twist Scriptures against me until I became physically repulsed. Though my internal 'house' business was in complete shambles, my external 'retail' businesses were still thriving.

As my retail businesses were committed to God and under the charge of angels, these ventures continued to thrive. I believe that this was also due to the fact that this person was not active in my retail stores at all. God blessed these ventures of mine and I continued to give all credit to Him for the blessings received. In turn, God made my businesses continue to prosper.

This continued for some time until one day the Lord told me to sell my shops and move our family to Bend, Oregon for a fresh start. I obeyed and we all moved, including this person, in 2003 to Bend, Oregon. Although this was a time for a fresh start, this would also even have even darker revelations of this person.

Once in Bend, I decided to pray and fast for two weeks. During this fast, the Lord began to arouse me out of my sleep and gave me lucid dreams of things being done to me at night while I slept. I saw flashes of light showing 'an event' and then nothing.

I found this odd, especially as God had me keep going back over and over again to Habakkuk 2:15-16, "Woe to him who gives drink to his neighbors, pouring it from the wineskin till they are drunk, so that he can gaze on their naked bodies. You will be filled with shame instead of glory."

This was so disturbing that I decided to go on an extreme three day fast with no food or water. During this extreme fast, the Lord showed me that I was about to be awakened to what this person had been doing to me. Then within seven days my darkest discovery came that every night that this person had done something seemingly kind for me over the course of nine years was actually a clue that it was anything but kind.

After all these years, and on one particular evening in October 2004, I finally discovered exactly what this person had been doing to me over and over for these nine years. What this person was doing was so horrible and vile that I will not dignify here, other than to say that it even literally caused my heart issues and so much more.

When I finally confronted this person, rather than being repentant, they instead told me that I was crazy and I needed to prove that they were doing what I accused them of. I said nothing else and I spent that night restless as I could not sleep with this discovery. I then began to slowly recall everything through download after download from the last nine years of my relationship with this person.

It was as if the Holy Spirit had completely opened the floodgates of my memory. It was as if a veil had lifted over my head and eyes. All my illnesses now had a factual root to them and I went to my knees and prayed to God, "Lord, what do I do?" The very next morning, I went to my doctor to have him run blood tests and told him the whole story.

The doctor was very honest with me and told me I needed to have some idea of what type of drug this person had used on me. He then told me that, without knowing the type of drug used, discovering and proving what type of drug was used on me would be like finding a needle in a haystack.

I left the doctor's discouraged and cleared my schedule for the next day to get some help from one of my friends. It was time for me to investigate and I went through this person's computer files. Doing so was perfectly legal as this person had previously given me unrestricted access and this still applied. I just knew that this would be the best way to prove what this person had been doing for all of these years.

Alarmingly, I was at first locked out of this person's system as they had changed their pass code upon my revelation to this person that I knew what they had done. I prayed with all of my heart and suddenly the Holy Spirit revealed to me the changed pass code. Amazed, I typed the pass code in nervously and, despite my faith, was still shocked when the computer completely unlocked.

I found out that this person's addiction was in full bloom despite their lies that this was 'no longer an issue and cured'. I then discovered that this person belonged to some hard core dating sites and other things I will not write here. However, I could still find no proof on the type of drug they were using.

I then emailed several items to myself of this person's addictions for future evidence and safekeeping. I then began to investigate other places this person might be hiding things, but realized that there had been plenty of time for the removal of evidence in the last 24 hours since I had confronted this person.

I became more and more discouraged as was now running out of time and hope. I decided to scan the room one last time and noticed a memory card for a camera. I had no idea how this memory card worked as it was completely digital and was still very new technology back then, but I quickly knew to hide it as I could suddenly hear this person coming into the house.

When this person entered this house, I confronted them on the files I had discovered on their computer. Concerned by this discover, this person immediately picked up their camera to see if the memory card was still there. When this person saw it was missing, they flew into a rage unlike any I had ever seen. The place was then completely ransacked, but the hiding place was kept from discovery by, as I later was told, by God Himself.

Furious, this person finally left without a word or even so much as a goodbye. After this I began to have much darker times as the discovery of these hidden things brought extreme grief as more and more happened as a result. After some heart wrenching testimony, arrests were finally made as the local authorities began to investigate this person. However, this person spread even more vicious lies about me to try and cover their tracks.

Unfortunately for me, other than those who were active in this case like the police and a few of my closest friends, I had now become very evil in the sight of those who supported this person because of their lies to cover up their blatant sin. However, I cannot totally fault this person's actions since at that time what this person had done was a very rare thing in those days. Back then, this was an obscure type of evil, but has now sadly grown so much that it is often reported about now.

I was later called in to discuss the case with the District Attorney. The DA was so moved by the evidence that he decided to appoint a grand jury to indict this person. As it would turn out, that small memory card I discovered and hid would have enough evidence on it to convict anyone today, but back then it was just too new to stick.

This small memory card contained all of the evidence necessary to show exactly what this warped person did to me while I was asleep using the drug secretly administered to me to render me unconscious. Indeed, this person had taken these pictures to serve as their own personal demonic diary, but they now served as evidence against this person.

However, and again due to the newness of this crime, the DA was clearly distraught as he explained to me that there were no cases on the books across the USA for something such as what this person had done to me. Not only that, while the drug which was used to cause my unconsciousness is common today, it was extremely rare and essentially unheard of in those days.

The DA knew and the Judge had no choice but to agree that this person had been using this drug on me for years. However, because it was this unknown drug at the time and not rat poisoning, the county prosecutors agreed that they would have a hard time convicting this person in this case.

I slumped in complete devastation at this news and instantly rewound six months back to November 22nd, 2004 in my thoughts to my first registered Near Death Experience (NDE) at the hospital. During this NDE, the Lord told me at the base of His Mountain trust Him and let Him carry me. While I held fast to God's promises, this news that this person would remain free essentially completely deflated me.

While I sat there disheartened, the DA informed me that there was still some good news. While the DA did not have enough to convict this person based on the information available back at that time, there was still enough evidence for other heinous crimes that this person had committed.

The DA proceeded with these charges and they prosecuted this person on this instead. The DA was successful on these charges and indeed the grand jury took less than ten minutes to deliberate in a move to convict this person for their other crimes. However, even this conviction led to more and more time consuming and extremely painful interviews so I was still not free.

While most of the people who never saw all of the evidence thought I was not being truthful, a handful of about five of my close friends who weathered this storm with us and had seen the evidence stayed with us through it all.

These were faithful friends and they stayed around to witness everything at trial and stood beside me when I was going through my darkest time. I was so blessed that the Lord sent such amazing Christians into our lives to speak kindness, love, prayers and correct the lies spoken about me.

Despite the overwhelming conviction and the Judge advising this person they were lucky not to be in prison for a long time, this person blamed their deceitful behaviors on me and did the opposite of repenting. The aftermath of this person's horrible actions still affects me today in the form of failing health.

Indeed, I was not doing well as I went through strange episodes with an unusual heart condition which, because the doctors had no idea what to call it, was referred to as "broken heart syndrome". Finally, on Good Friday, March 21st, 2008, my heart stopped while I was doing a presentation at work.

Soon after this, I was diagnosed with an unusual type of heart arrhythmia in which my heart would stop at the slightest bit of pain. Later, I found out that one of the long-term side effects of the drug used by this person was the very same rare heart condition I 'just happened' to now have. This was particularly painful as I was still being affected by all of this while my main enemy seemed to be walking around seemingly free.

In tears and as I write this, I looked around me on the path as I traveled on God's mountain. I sat down on a beautiful rock bench under a weeping willow tree and started to laugh when I realized that even 'weeping' willow trees in Heaven are really not weeping.

Instead of weeping, I noticed that the branches were instead filled with small white flowers with silver leaves and, as the branches moved, they made a beautiful sound. The music was uplifting and rose in notes higher and higher. It was as if this tree is God's own wind chime.

Me: "Lord, I wish you were here."

Just then I felt a hand on my shoulder and I looked up to see that it was Jesus. He put His arms out to hold me and I wept with my head on His chest. I felt warmth and joy begin to come back to me.

Jesus: "Erin, it is okay. I am here and I have never left you as you are Mine."

Me: "Lord, I hate my story and I do not like going back there. Please remove my memory and that of the others affected. I become angry and grieved when I have to relive this."

Jesus: "I understand, Erin, but there are many, many stories of others out there who grieve as you do. It seems unfair, does it not it? After all, why would God My Father Who as you know is good all the time allow such things?"

Me: "Yes, Lord, why? I understand me, but why the others who are younger? Why, Lord, as there have been so many things against us as why? What did I do to deserve this? What did those younger and innocent do to deserve these things?"

Jesus: "Erin, you know what God has planned for you here and that you have seen but only a fraction of Paradise. You have not committed blasphemy against God. You have not misused Scripture to judge others. You have stayed to your course and the path God has kept you on."

Me: "Lord, You have warned me that Christians will be my worst critics. You have shown me what to expect and I am already tired as I barely recover from one battle when I am subject to the next. As a result, I have increasingly stayed to myself."

Jesus: "Erin, remember the times we live in. What is detestable to God, the world now finds acceptable and what is lovely to God, the world now finds hideous. The truth is in My Words, but nothing makes sense to those who do not know truth.

"This is your gauge of the timing of the seasons we are in now. There will be scoffers walking after their own lusts (2 Peter 3:3-4). Remember that some shall depart from the faith, giving heed to seducing spirits and doctrines of devils (1Timothy 4:1)."

Me: "Lord, I thought this only referred to religions?"

Jesus: "Hmm, not so as what is Scripture to someone who wants to sin? Will they not follow what feeds their appetite? Most churches will become sensitive to the world and will no longer care about the Word of truth and pleasing the heart of God, their Maker. Erin, why do you think that you have been called to reveal your testimony right now?"

Me: "Because I feel in my Spirit that something unsettling is about to occur and that this will happen exactly forty days from the midpoint of the Tetrads. I believe that the release of the 'Fifty Shades of Gray' movie on Valentine's Day, 2015 will bring in a new movement of darkness such as this person is consumed by. Lord, I have seen Christian marriages becoming unholy to God.

"I have seen what happens and I know what will occur and I have even unwillingly and unknowingly experienced this myself. There is no cure other than You, Lord, as there is soon to be a coldness coming over the face of this planet whereby right is wrong and wrong is right. I am seeing it now as if winter's bitter cold will never lift off the hearts of men until You come. I am frightened from all of this."

Jesus: "Erin, your story is for this time and you are correct that love will become cold. Indeed, it will soon be rare to find a pure marriage bed once the enemy carries out his assignments. This was foretold in the beginning and now you will see this occurring just like it did in the Garden of Eden with Eve.

“What woman will not want to be desirable to her husband with this new worldly knowledge? Yet all of this knowledge is already in the Song of Songs, but in a pure Godly form that is rarely even considered a love story from God.

“It has been there all along as passion and love are a gift from God in a marriage. Three strands are not easily broken if the third strand is Heavenly and is God. Two can defend themselves as long as God is there to strengthen them as three strands are much stronger than just two strands.”

I was not quite certain I understood fully what He was talking about, but I knew there was more to this.

Me: “Lord, I am afraid.”

Jesus: “Erin, you have been through this battle and you have learned to keep your eyes on the hills where your help comes from (Psalm 121). You have kept your focus on God because you have experienced God in a supernatural way. You have continued to look for Him to save you. Without even realizing it, you had faith all along.

“Even when you thought you had no faith, your faith was always there. In your darkest times of silent abuse and in your ended marriage, God heard your cries and you have not been forgotten. At times when it seems disheartening and the enemy appears to be winning, take heart that God My Father from His Throne is commanding angels concerning you and your family.

“Erin, you were surrounded by your enemies to the north, south, east and west, but God still removed you quickly to a safe place in His quiver. I know you have not had an easy time so far settling in where you are, but just know that even the Israelites took a while to build their dwellings, consider their fields and eventually yield a record harvest.”

Me: “I am sorry, Lord, if I have complained as I am so thankful for what You have done for us.”

Jesus: “Erin, at times you have acted ahead of God's plans and this resulted in unnecessary delays and battles in the desert. This is not uncommon though as when God remains silent, many become impatient and move ahead of His perfect Will.”

Me: “Lord, I am sorry. Now I know that ‘move’ means move and ‘stand’ means stand, but that ‘silence’ means to wait and that no answer from God means ‘no’ for now.”

Jesus: “God being silent means He requires your trust in Him and that He knows all things in advance. The enemy also knows your comings and goings, but the enemy is limited. However, God is limitless with resources from Earth and Heaven and has no restrictions.

“In the past and too often, you have listened to other Christians putting limits on God. This has been both to your own detriment and discouragement. They do this because they do not experience supernatural miracles from God and therefore, to them, God does not do these miracles anymore.

“However, they are acting foolishly and are being used by the devil for his purposes so do not listen. I know what you have seen is valid as it is divinely inspired and soon to come. The fig tree is withering and soon to be cut down before it bears fruit and this you cannot stop.

“Comfort is what you can offer, but you must come alongside your Christian brothers and sisters out of love and not judgment. Pray, Erin, but do not set your eyes on these detestable things, Erin, you must not.”

I looked in His eyes and see there that He was talking about not setting our eyes on many detestable things, but also for us to specifically not watch the ‘Fifty Shades of Gray’ movie or engage in any of its demonic practices.

Me: “Lord, I know too well how damaging all this can be and I promise to stay clear from this dark wave. Lord, You seem so serious today and Your voice is like Your Father’s voice as You are so direct and firm.”

He smiled at me and then waved His arm to show below me a massive lush valley at the base of the mountain. While I still could not see above me, I could see that below it was peaceful and beautiful. I was crying as there is certainly no place like this on Earth.

Jesus: “Erin, focus on lovely things. God will open up His storehouses of snow (Job 38:22) and make the region see the blessings of God. Many will curse instead, but the blanket of white snow is a sign to look to Heaven. When you see this, Erin, even in Jerusalem, smile for your Redeemer is near.”

I reached out and hugged Him, my Redeemer, my Jesus and my Savior.

Me: “Lord, only You can remove our stains. Lord, with what has happened to me, no snow can remove the dirt of my sin. I look back and I see only dirt.”

Jesus: “Hmm, this is not truth, Erin, as you were purchased for a price. You are loved by God and already forgiven as you have grieved and repented. Your heart is set on God and you are loved by Me. I am your attorney so let Me plead your case. Your enemy will not prosper as his time has run its course. Though they seem to gather and unite, their false victory will be coming to an abrupt close just as the angels foretold.”

Me: “Lord, in a way I feel I deserve all of what has happened to me as I have been stupid and overcome many times because I tried to flee from the enemy. I did not fight the enemy as I had been misled to believe that this is what a good Christian does.”

Jesus: "Erin, do not allow the enemy to speak as he has no hold over you unless you give him authority to do so. Do not do this as he will try it on you if you do. Now, you made errors which are common based on you being good and your enemy bent on evil.

"However, having a good heart and being a 'good Christian' does not mean you need weak composure or no defense system. Now, why are you told to put on your armor? Erin, it is not because you are turning and running and need to avoid falling rocks from your enemy. Was that left out of Scripture?"

He smiled and I knew He was trying to lighten my mood.

Me: "Do you need us to have armor on so we are prepared for battle?"

Jesus: "Erin, study what Godly armor is again and then look to the hills and tell Me what you see? Do not forget Who has your enemy surrounded as He owns the cattle on a thousand hills. Erin, you are not alone as I am here with you.

"Your enemy can do nothing as they are surrounded by God's armies. You turning and running now will be out of the Will of God, so instead sit on your horse with your full armor and recognize who you are and what will soon occur and take comfort."

Me: "Thank You, Lord, and I am sorry I have listened to some of these Christians. I am sorry I have not walked fully in Your promises at times."

Jesus: "Pray for them to have miracles, but many will not recognize God even then. Even with signs and wonders, many will dismiss God, so let them go on their own journey in the waves of the ocean as double minded men.

"They will 'bob to and fro' in the sea with the current and eventually they will end up somewhere. Only pray for them as they do not change even by God's Word, let alone yours. Erin, let this go as this is not your battlefield."

I reached over and hugged Him.

Me: "Please hide us under the shadows of Your wings, Lord."

Jesus: Laughing. "Then it is done. I love you. Now dress in your armor, your full armor, Erin. Things will become rocky, but only for a short time. These battles will be short."

Me: "Thank You, Lord, thank You." I cried and He kissed the top of my head.

Jesus: "Also, do not forget to pray for your sister, Israel. Something I must say to you, Erin, remember that there were two women at the foot of the Cross. There were two Mary's, one without the stains of this world and falsely accused, yet she was righteous, and one with stains removed so she became white as snow.

“She was rendered guilty by her accusers, but her stain was removed by Me. The world still considered her guilty, yet she had changed. Both were together at the foot of the Cross and both were loved by God. Erin, you are at the foot of the Cross.

“Let Me go further. Both Mary’s even went to My grave because they mourned My passing, yet they expected a miracle. So they were the first to witness this miracle and an angel appeared to them. Erin, you look for miracles because you know God is in control.

“Even in the darkest grief, your miracles will be visible as God is allowing the angels to minister from Heavenly places. Erin, be encouraged as you live under an Open Heaven and should therefore expect and receive miracles.”

Me: “Thank You, Lord, I will wait and look to the hills and will look forward to any miracles You decide to grant us. You most of all, Lord, are My best and greatest gift and miracle of all.”

I held Him tight with every part of my being and I could even feel His love in my cells if at all possible and all of me was so thankful to Him. I felt a rush of love flowing through my veins, my heart and even to my feet.

Jesus: “You will not need to stand and wait long so do not worry or be afraid. I am with you and you are loved.”

Me: “Oh how I adore and love You.”

I was almost blinded by the brightness of Jesus and then suddenly He was gone. My heart welled up with love as I dropped to my knees and cried under the happy Heavenly “non-weeping” willow tree. Lord, bless this testimony and may it help others to know You.

Dream over...

Dream 147 – God’s Mountain and the Eagle

Received Sunday, January 25, 2015

(Formerly known as Heaven 64)

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day, for my family, for the blue skies and for this thick blanket of snow here. Lord, I have so much to be joyful over even and I even have great joy when I have been experiencing great pain. Even though my enemies remain as a constant shadow, there is still that dawn and You.

As You are coming soon, Lord, please shout out and unveil people’s eyes so that they might know You in the light first and not just in dark desperation. I love You, Lord, so please hear my cries.

Jesus: “Erin, come up.”

I once again found myself on the path just slightly beyond my sword room on God’s Mountain. Since I was on the path just beyond my sword room, I knew that I was not to focus on this. I instead looked over this beautiful Heavenly valley and saw that it was part of God’s immense Garden property.

I saw distant hills with blankets of fresh snow as the sun began to rise. As I stood there on the path, I watched God display an amazing array of colors. I smiled because there was snow on the high hills, yet in the valley there were blossoms everywhere.

I saw beautiful greenery, Cherry blossoms, something like dogwood and something like Japanese maples with purple flowers. There was a beautiful mist which covered the area.

Above me I saw eagles together flying high then diving low then dipping up. They were just soaring and playing, but not hunting. As I lay in bed this morning looking out my window, a beautiful bald eagle had circled and I just knew that the Lord wanted to see me today.

As I walked on the path, I found a small stone bench to sit on. This bench was made of something like lapis azure, a sort of blue cut stone which, if found on Earth, would probably be worth millions when faceted for jewelry.

Me: Laughing. “Lord, what we consider precious and priceless on Earth, You consider them a place to sit or even a footstool in Heaven. Well, in Scripture, is even the Earth not Your footstool?”

I decided to sit on this beautiful stone and gaze out on this breathtaking scene. Dawn and sunset are slow to pass in Heaven as we are given plenty of time to enjoy the beautiful display of God's power and glory in these colors.

I saw animals and flocks of birds in the valley and noticed that there were many different varieties of birds flocking. As I praised the Lord for all of this, I watched the sky turn into a full spectrum of purples, fuchsias, light pinks and blues.

As my vision studied this scene and as I wrote in my journal this morning, a sudden wind blew snow off some of the trees in my earthly home. In the blue sky and sun, this snow looked like sparkling diamonds and I smiled.

As my vision went back to God's mountain and valley, I saw a wind blow the fresh snow on the hills and it was infinitely more sparkly and beautiful and I laughed. I noticed that it was not cold in Heaven even as I watched the snow diamond dust fell over the valley.

Me: Crying. "Lord, please allow my mom to see all of this and bring her Home to You. You make all things new so please, Lord, so please appear to her now."

Just then I began to see a sliver of white light on the horizon. I felt a hand on my right shoulder and it was Jesus. He had come up from behind me and, as I turned to see Him, His face shined brighter than the sun and was even more beautiful than the sun rise. I wrapped my arms around Him and closed my eyes as I held Him tight.

Me: "Lord, I am so glad You are here. My mom was transported to the hospital on my birthday, Lord, and she is in trouble. Please, Lord, help her and please take her to see You so she may be here."

I was clenching part of His robe so tightly in my grief that I could feel my hands ache.

Jesus: "Erin, you need not worry as God has commanded even Raphael concerning you. Take comfort as you are under the wings of angels and reside where eagles fly."

Me: "Thank You, Lord, but I become anxious and afraid for my family as I remember even as a new Christian that I had such fear of death. I knew where You promised I would go, but the enemy made me doubt my salvation and I lived in fear. Now I have this same fear for those who do not know You."

Jesus: Looking into my eyes. "Erin, did God command you to go out and be their Savior? Did He grant you this responsibility? Did I say to the disciples, 'Go out and save souls' or did I say, 'Spread the Good News that their Savior has come?' Smiling.

"Erin, I have not made you responsible to win people over to God, but only to spread the Good News. Beautiful are the feet of those who spread the Good News. You are not therefore burdened with soul winning members and you should not be worried for other's relationship with God.

“Is God not capable of bringing hearts to Him? Is He not able to harden Pharaoh’s heart or soften it? Seriously, Erin.” He again smiled.

Me: “Forgive my pretending to have the power of God over people as I cannot turn hearts to You as only You can turn hearts.”

Jesus: “Now give me your burden here, Erin, as your mother’s race is not your race and your race is not your mother’s race. At one point when you were young, your mother was with you on the same position of the race.

“However, then when you were called by God, your path broke away from that of your mother’s path as God began to call you. Now you have your children and they now too walk with you on your journey. God calls them as they walk with you and eventually they too will run their own race.

“As your children love Me too, they will remain close to you, but your job is only to guide them, teach them Godly principles and to make the Word of God available to them at all times. You are also to love them unconditionally and of course provide a roof, food, water and clothing.”

Me: “Actually, Lord, You provide all of this for us. Literally, You are the One Who has given us a warm safe place near Your Altar just like in Psalm 84.”

Jesus: Smiling and laughing. “This is good as you know where your bread and the water to quench your thirst comes from.”

Me: “Lord, am I not responsible for my children’s salvation?”

Jesus: “Hmm, Erin, you are only responsible for what you think, what you believe, what comes from your mouth or pen, what you do, what you give and what you teach. However, it is up to God to illuminate.

“Erin, the Holy Spirit is the switch which turns the light on as God calls men unto Him. You are the farmer who prepares your field and you are responsible to be a good farmer, but what does a good farmer do?”

Me: “He sees a field and purchases it. He tills the soil. He plants the seed and fertilizes it, then...”

Jesus: “Then he must wait on God to send the rain and sun as the farmer knows his limitations. Erin, remember you are not God and that there are people who reside in eternity you think ought not to be here and there are people who do not reside here which you think would surely be here. So it is not your job to save, only to prepare the way the best you can with what you have been told. Let God be God and Erin be Erin.”

He laughed as He kissed the top of my head.

Me: I was still downcast. “But, Lord, my mom...”

Jesus: "Erin, I have heard your cries and petitions, but all are called to God at different times and under different conditions. You need not worry, for if God has commanded angels concerning you then are all the angels tending only to you?" He smiled.

Me: "Of course not, though I know we must keep the angels very busy." I finally began to laugh.

Jesus: Laughing hard. "Yes, I know the angels are very busy over your household. Do not forget that they take their charge over you seriously. The enemy hates you so you are fortunate that your angels enjoy a good battle."

Me: "Yes, I feel it around me quite a bit."

Jesus: "Well, you should not feel much as you are given signs to pray and your prayers avail much."

Me: "I feel it in my Spirit when there is a war and so do my children. The wars are becoming stronger it seems and Your time is soon, Lord."

Jesus: "Erin, you are a farmer who will soon consider a field and buy it. This field will contain a pearl, but do not bury it because you are worried about thieves. Let Me worry about your enemy as you are to show people what you have seen and point them to My Word. Remember that the sun and the rain are up to God."

Me: "Yes, Lord, I understand, but I want so much for everyone to see You like this. You are so much more than we are taught and You are the 'pearl of great price'. You have blessed my field and I will not bury You under the soil. I know I should not give absolutes, but I will do my best to spread Good News."

Jesus: "Yes, Erin, but this will come at a price so you must focus on what My Word says and what it does not say about Me."

Me: "Forgive me, Lord, but You had quite a following when You walked the Earth and I do not believe it was only because You performed miracles. I think it was also because of Your presence as You are like a magnet and You give hope and are the light.

"You are enjoyable enough for fishermen to drop their nets and run after You. Indeed, I love being near You and You are like no other person on Earth and even Heaven as there is no God like You. You are lovely, wise, funny, smart and strong, but there really are not enough words to describe the indescribable."

Jesus: "Well then, your praise is good as to recognize Who I am is divine. Erin, I know you and I know your heart and I will not forget you or your house. Do not worry when it seems all is lost as your enemies will fall around you."

Me: "Lord, please bless my extended family of sparrows too. Oh and send us eagles too."

I had been trying to photograph a particular eagle with my phone today, but so far I had been unsuccessful. He was laughing as He knew what I had been doing.

Jesus: "Then it is done. Now pray for open Heavens over their dwellings and I will pour out blessings over their families. Their races will be pleasing to God. Erin, remember that Gabriel and Raphael were sent to take charge over you."

Me: "Lord, I know they are over our territory, but Lord You are in charge of my heart that You have now fully taken captive. Thank You for sending angel armies concerning us, but I know where the orders come from, so thank You."

Jesus: "What? Do you not want to worship angels instead?" He was laughing as He spoke as He knew many on Earth do just this.

Me: "No, Lord, as the angels are even uncomfortable when I just study them. I only worship the One who is before me and God Who sits on the Throne from His Courts."

Jesus: "Very good, Erin, you are loved. Remember, beautiful are the feet of those who bring Good News."

Me: "I will do my best."

Jesus: "Remember that all of the prophets and the law rest on these two commandments: Love the Lord your God with all your heart and with all your soul and with your entire mind as this is the greatest. Then love your neighbor as yourself (Matthew 22:36-40).

"Erin, there are at least fifty Scriptures about worrying in the Bible, do not worry." Just then, Matthew 6:25 came to mind. "Erin, I have you even as your enemy tries to ramp up against you and your children, so do not worry. Read James and 2nd Peter as this will help you to recognize when the enemy is afoot. He does not like your fruits and he certainly does not like your beautiful feet. He will be stopped. You are loved."

Dream 148 – God’s Mountain, the Key & Door

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day, for loving me, for my children and family, for the love of friends and even strangers. There are so many things to be thankful for, but nothing like Your love. Lord, I thank You for the Bible and I thank You that You would spend so much time and attention to call out to us.

The first chapters of the Bible show Your love of us. You have shown us also what will eventually come of us, both for those who love You as well as for those who do not love You. It is all written in one massive love letter to us, so thank You as this all means so much to all of us who love You.

Jesus: “Erin, come up.”

Once again I am up on God’s Mountain and past the sword room on this beautiful lush path. On my right was the beautiful peaceful valley of God surrounded easily by a thousand hills. I giggled as I could see cattle on the hills in the foreground as Psalm 50:10 immediately came to mind.

Me: “Lord, You own all things and everything is Yours. You own and care for all of us, along with every animal, every plant, every bird, every drop of water and every organism. Nothing is too wonderful for You as, without You, nothing would be.”

I laughed at the thought of how big I sometimes had seen myself in my world, but now realized that in God’s world I am but a speck. yet we somehow still mean everything to Him. I asked the Lord why this is, but I already knew it was simply because He loves.

I looked over the beautiful valley and it was simply more beautiful than anything I could even put to words. All descriptions of Heaven in the Bible simply does not even compare to what I have seen here.

It brings me great comfort to know that someday I will be with Jesus here in Paradise. By this I mean Heavenly Paradise, not paradise from Hades, but Paradise created for all of us who love God so we may be safe here with Him.

As I walked on the path, I see a bend in the path toward the mountain and away from the valley. I run because I am so excited to see more. The path began to turn into a forested area and up ahead I saw a deer, a doe.

The doe stopped to look at me then turned onto the path. I ran toward her, but she effortlessly stayed up ahead of me. I followed her for some time when I noticed that the forest before me looks vaguely familiar. The forest floor was filled with blue bells and I indeed realized that I had been here before in my dreams.

I continued to follow the doe when I saw a clearing with a beautiful lake to my right with groomed landscape all around it. There were all kinds of blooming trees and vines, as well as fountains in the lake which sprung naturally from the ground.

The lake was crystal clear and the color of glaciated water of light blue green. The sight was so breathtaking that a very wealthy person could try to recreate this on Earth, but it would not be possible as all of these elements cannot coexist in one region of Earth. In order for me to find everything here, I would spend so much time and money for nothing as it would simply be impossible.

I saw the doe in the distance lay down on the banks of the far side of the lake to rest. She had seemed to be keeping me about a hundred yards from her, so I thought I would find a place to sit and rest too.

There was a beautiful willow tree with tiny white illuminated flowers and it was so fragrant. The long branches dropped into the water and formed a canopy over a soft path of grass. I went there to sit and the grass felt like animal fur, but only green. I had never felt anything like it and, as I laid my head down, I instantly fell asleep.

Sub-dream description begins...

I saw a massive coastal area that I instantly recognized as the California Coast. It was relatively sunny day with a slight haze and the tide was high. Up near the shore, the waves were massive and nearly fourteen feet high. This was abnormally high waves for here and there were only a small smattering of surfers braving the water.

I then recognized the area as being near San Clemente where I used to visit when I was a child. There was a very long pier going straight out over the ocean and I started walking out on this pier for what seemed like miles. Now, I know the pier was not actually many miles long, but in this dream it was definitely at least three miles long.

When I finally arrived at the end of the pier, I looked out into the water and saw that it was murky thick and blue brown. I thought this to be really odd as I then saw that this was actually dark brown and black oil over the water.

I then turned to see the distant coastline and I saw that it had caught on fire. Not only that, but the pier was now on fire and was collapsing into the sea as the fire approached me. I quickly jumped into the water to swim away, but knew there would be no real relief as I was in the oil that was also catching fire.

Here I was, three miles out treading in thick murky ocean water in fear, when I could suddenly feel something large brushing by my legs in the water. I was terrified as I saw several large shadows in the water and just knew that these were predators.

I realized I was in a no-win position no matter what I did or where I went. I screamed out to God, 'Lord, please help me.'

Sub-dream description ends...

I felt a nudge and I awoke under the willow tree in Heaven with the doe licking the side of my cheek. I laughed as I reached my arms around her neck and hugged her. She reached up again and licked my cheek. She then walked down to the edge of the little lake to prompt me to drink.

At first I thought that I was still in my nightmare, but then quickly realized I was safe here in Heaven. I walked down to the lake, cupped my hands and drank the pure water. Immediately I felt refreshed as I took a deep breath and splashed the pure rarified water all over my face. This all instantly replenished me.

Me: "Lord, thank You for keeping me safe here. Lord, what was that dream all about? Where are You?"

The doe nudged my shoulder and I knew that she wanted me to follow her. She took me back up to the path and there ahead of me I saw the forestry bulletin board. I ran up to it as I was so excited to see this board again.

There in front of me were a series of numbers from one to fifty. Each number was written on a small round silver tag and etched in bronze. Below the numbers were a massive key and an envelope.

Me: "Hmm, I have seen something like this before. Now, what do I do?"

The deer licked the envelope and I laughed as I picked up the beautiful envelope. I noticed that the seal was wax and stamped as 'Alpha and Omega'.

Me: "Hmm, the Beginning and the End. Surely, this must be from God."

I flipped the envelope over to see if it was even mine to open as what if it was actually meant for someone else. The answer to my question was quickly discovered as the front of the envelope was engraved in gold with my name on it.

I began to tear up as it was still so difficult to believe that I was important to God in such a way. He was treating me like I was royalty and I was not used to it. I carefully opened the wax seal and there was an invitation.

You are Invited to Dine with The King.

All those whose names are engraved on the palm of His hand are invited.
Please prepare and dress for His arrival @ 3:00pm.
Dinner will begin @ 6:15 and doors will be shut @ 6:00pm.

Me: "Hmm, this is an interesting way to write the invitation, but now I have questions."

As I was flipping over the Invitation card, a small piece of paper dropped out and I bent down to pick it up. There were five numbers on the paper out of numerical order: 50, 44, 17, 26 and 3. I decided to take the coinciding number tags off the bulletin board and reached for all five of the numbers in the order written on the paper.

I then saw a beautiful key that was gold and engraved with scroll work far beyond even laser engraving. It was certainly Heavenly in origin and there was a symbol in Hebrew. The key was engraved and inlaid with a sapphire jewel and the symbol was like an awning cabinet door with a hinge. Here is my drawing of this:

Drawing for the key for lock in response below...

I picked up the key and held it with my hand. The key was warm and felt something like an electric charge. I also felt something like more knowledge or clarity. I then saw a foggy pane of window glass, but the fog immediately dissipated and I laughed.

Me: Laughing out loud to myself. "Lord, this explains why I have been so dense. Forgive me, Lord, as clearly I have been in the fog and this key clears some fogginess."

All I knew is that I loved this key and that I would like to carry this with me wherever I went. I decided to hold on to the key. Suddenly I heard a ping sound like a chime and turned to look. There before me was a door of pure gold.

The door itself was twenty three feet high and etched with something I could not understand. The door was about seven feet across and was arched with a stone frame. This frame was made of forty stones precisely chiseled and burnished and there was a massive capstone over the door.

To the right was a key hole or lock in the door and it appeared to be the same symbol as the key I held. However, only the four sides around the hole were closed. Here is a diagram of what I saw:

Drawing of Key Hole for Key in reply below...

Me: "Lord, am I to open this special door? Please send an angel to assist me as suddenly I have fear. What if this door is not intended for me to open? Who am I to open this lock? Who am I to go through such a wonderful door?"

I then felt a hand on my shoulder and saw that it was the archangel with the bow.

Angel: "Erin, do not be afraid. To question your place is to question God's ability to choose. Others have been here before."

Me: "What is this symbol?"

Angel: "This symbol is 'Mem'. When you use this key, you will unlock the concealed truth of God. Though the lock is closed, you may open this door with your key."

Me: "Angel, who am I to do such a thing? I am not a humble person nor do I feel worthy."

Angel: "Erin, then would you not like to open this door? Are you turning down the King's invitation?"

Me: Suddenly crying. "Angel, this just seems too wonderful to me. How do I accept it?"

Angel: "Easy, Erin, just put the key in and turn the lock."

Me: "Angel, why did I know the exact height of the door and the number of stones. What do they represent?"

Angel: "Erin, as you know by now, there are symbols and parables with everything around you. Even 'Mem' is important as you are on Holy Ground and you are in a Holy Place. 'Mem' has dual meanings and also represents forty, but you can study this another time. The door is twenty three feet high and represents judgments."

Me: "I do not understand?"

Angel: "Then use your key as God opens doors that no one can shut and He closes doors that no one can open. Erin, God has granted you a key as He knows you."

Immediately I saw Revelation 3:7-8 scroll past my eyes.

Angel: "Now, a key will begin a time for you in which you will have many adversaries. This key is on your shoulders if you decide to use it."

The angel was beautiful and he spoke with the strength to cut down a nation, but also with gentleness enough for the mercies to save millions in a disaster by God's command. He both frightened me and comforted me.

I quickly looked down at my bare feet and for a moment I saw nothing but my imperfections. However, when I realized I was on Holy Ground, I instantly saw my journey and tears streamed down my cheeks even as I write.

Me: "Lord God, I love You with all of my heart and my only hidden agenda is to know You more. If this key affords me more of You, then I will follow You. Please, Lord, may all that You entrust me with honor You. May I be obedient to You until You take me Home.

"My heart is Yours, so please forgive me in advance if at times I doubt my place. Please may all that I write from what I see be accurate and please guide every stroke of my pen. Please let Psalm 45 come to life in me."

Angel: "When you step through this door, your knowledge will increase and you will have only understanding on that which God reveals to you. These things are for an appointed time."

My hand shook as I placed the key with the 'Mem' on it into the key hole. As I turned the key, the closed 'Mem' lock suddenly opened. Here is my best attempt at drawing what I then saw:

Drawing of Key Hole being opened in reply below...

The door then opened inward and there was a great light like that of the sun. While I could not see, I somehow could understand. I rubbed my eyes and then heard the voice of God.

God: "Erin, I am glad to see you."

I felt every cell in my body drop as I immediately fell to my knees. I was closer to the presence of God than I had ever been before, but I knew that He was still far from me. My voice quivered and shook.

Me: "Thank You for inviting me, Father."

God: "Erin, I have things to show you."

Just then I was transported and saw red balls in the sky. I saw moons, wherein two had grown dark and were distant. The sun grew dark and then I then saw two more moons near each other.

This was important and was like a plumb line. All the moons and the sun were above the horizon line. I wondered if this could be significant as far as even the time of day. Here is my attempt at drawing the sun and the moons:

Drawing of Four Moons & the Sun in reply below...

I then saw Israel alone and surrounded by her enemies. There was a distant land with a tower and there I saw the then princes at the banquet table. Each prince had behind him a principality and a hierarchy of demonic prince. I saw a nation rise up as one fell and I saw a plot so deep that it actually had tentacles like worms.

I saw something like a chess game between the princes, but all was orchestrated. While I saw pawns, there were more pawns than a standard chess game, but two of the pawns stood out. I saw the pieces slowly converge on the tiny nation that was hated for no cause and without mercy.

I saw God holding back angelic armies for a short time while the Lord God's anger burned. I saw a time when watchmen were coming and they were not silent, but rather spoke day and night. These watchmen were mocked and hated by those they came to with the Good News.

Judgments were poured over the walls like water as they shouted from Amos 1:6 about sins. I knew the Lord's anger was beyond mercy now. I then saw twenty three commandments which were written as laws and which God judges by and twenty commandments which were for guidance and wellbeing.

I saw the enemies try to erase the Words written on a stone floor as the foundations for a people. I saw weeping in the streets of Jerusalem as God's blood, the Blood of the Lamb, was poured out as a covenant for those who so ever believe will not perish but have everlasting life.

I then saw two tablets with one tablet with commandments written in stone and the other table with letters written on hearts. I saw an angel command an army to collect these hearts and bring them unto God. Then all that remained was stone for a time, times, and a half a time.

I saw another angel with a massive plumb line over the land. I saw a massive line and wailing. I saw another angel with a giant screen of metal like a sieve. I saw something like a grinder putting hearts of stone into it, but the sieve was opposite of what we think it would be. In this case, the fine dust was passed through the screen and what remained were large pieces of stone.

The fine particles were formed into gold and the large stones rested on the screen where they were collected, set ablaze and then hurled to the ground. However, even this time of extreme crushing did not calm the land and instead I saw the people remove the law and God's favor restrained even more.

Me: "Oh Father God, this time is very soon, but who will survive it? What happened to make this come about? I see an event begin this, but I do not understand it."

God: "Erin, do not be afraid as you know only what I allow. Do not search for that which you will not find."

Me: Humbled. "Then, Lord, will the Bible truly come to life as it was written?"

God: "You seem surprised."

Me: "Forgive me, but, yes, as You know we were taught in earthly terms."

God: "Erin, you are seeing the time now where the laws are being removed."

Me: "Yes, but even Jesus obeyed the laws."

God: "Well, according to 'laws of the Temple', He did not. However, there is a difference between man's laws and God's laws and the two were once entwined in a good way.

"However, now they have become a burdensome stone and these stones are heavy. My Son came to set the captives free under the law, yet the law itself was originally rooted from Me.

"Now, Erin, do not concern yourself with such matters as this is what the Counselor was sent for. You know according to the Holy Spirit that which is pleasing to Me and is on the tablet of your heart.

"Now you are to share this today, but do not worry about the outcome. You are only to write what I reveal to You and release it."

Me: "When writing this, I have felt no pain."

God: "Erin, you are loved. When you come here, you stand on Holy Ground and there is no place for pain here."

Me: Crying. "Thank You, Father God, for this. I remember how good this feels to be whole again."

God: "Erin, your healing has begun."

Me: "Thank You for all that You have done. Thank You for sending Jesus. Thank You for the angel armies."

God: "Erin, I call you friend. Please stay on your course and pray for your sister, Israel. Intercede for the lost as you have been shown the time to come in this generation, so pray. When you call, I will answer. You will be hated and much will be required, but I will send help from the Sanctuary. Continue on your course and all is on My time."

Suddenly I found myself outside the door with the angel and I was startled.

Me: "Is the door shut now?"

Angel: "Yes, but only for today as you still hold the key."

Me: I looked and saw the key. "So may I come back soon?"

Angel: Smiling. "Yes, you are to come back as God calls you too. Erin, with everyone whom much is given of him, much will be required. With you, whom men entrust much, they will require and demand all the more (Luke 12:48).

"You have a key, but others can come also and men have. Remain a friend to God and your plans will succeed, but be a friend to man instead and you will lose the key. Show your love to God by being His friend. Love and embrace your friends, but only obey God with what has been entrusted to you.

“Do not be persuaded by the enemy to bend God's ear as you are not in that realm. Do not entertain them, but remove them instead as God has appointed angels concerning you. God has sent friends to you by His command and He will reward them in this life and the next.

“You need only concern yourself with God as His favor is upon you. Erin, do not doubt your place, but trust God and those whom God has sent.”

Me: Crying. “Thank you.”

Angel: “No, Erin, thank God as I am but a messenger. God is the ‘Great I AM’, so look only to Him.”

Dream 149 – God in His Courts

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day, for Your love, for my children and family and for my dear friends. Thank You for sending Jesus to save us and for tearing the veil of the Temple, the curtain, in two. When You allowed this, we no longer were separated from Your divine presence.

Now because of the gift of Jesus, we are able to appear boldly before You at the Throne of grace. Lord God, many people over many time periods have no idea just what Your death on the Cross and resurrection really did for us, so thank You. Thank You for my incredible key to the door.

I still stand in awe that a small and unimportant woman, meaning coming from no important region or background, a once deserted and destitute woman, could mean anything to You. Thank You for this gift of Your presence over our lives. I stand in awe at Your glory and I love You, God and Lord.

Please have Your way in me and upon my life and let no man separate us from the love of God. Let no unseen presence and enemy of God come against us. Please send angels from Heaven's armies to protect us and continue to shower us with divine confirmation of Your promises.

While driving my children home from school on Friday, there was a massive pillar of rainbow colors jetting up into the sky from the horizon. This pillar must have been at least a hundred feet high and was a straight column of the full spectrum of colors.

As we drove in our car amazed at what we were viewing, a beautiful bald eagle flew right over our car in front of our view of the column. Thank You for Your signs God, but I suspect that trouble is coming shortly to us and God is letting us know that He has not removed His favor or stopped the fulfillment of His love for us. God, Your ways are awesome.

Jesus: "Erin, come up."

I arrived immediately in front of the large golden door on God's Mountain. I reached inside the pocket of my linen smock and pulled out the key. I put the key inside the lock with the closed

Hebrew Mem and then turned the key to the right. I saw the closed Mem in silver open with a chime or ping type sound and the door to God opened to me.

A bright warm light flooded over me and as I felt the presence of God, I dropped immediately to my knees. I noticed that every cell in my body seemed to completely submit to God. All I can compare this to is a magnet attracting metal, wherein the metal draws stronger as it gets nearer to the magnet.

However, this is by force, not choice, and the difference is that even my cells submit and recognize God their Creator. It is a humbling experience, awe inspiring and frightening in sheer mass and power. I simply cannot describe being loved by God and in His presence.

God actually knows and counts the hairs on my head. God knows me and each of you better than we know ourselves. God created us in one breath and with one word He can speak something into being or remove it.

Tears began to pour from my eyes, but I was not sure if this was due to the light, gravity or emotions surrounding the presence of the almighty God. I still could not form words with my lips, so I just sat motionless and soaking in God's glory. I will be so awesome when the Earth is reshaped and God will walk amongst us again.

God: "Erin, your thoughts make Me joyful, but you are troubled, so please speak."

His voice was like rushing water, thunder and music at the same time. I knew He was glad to have me come to see Him, but I still remained crying even as I write. It took some time for me to formulate my words as I did not want to ramble or appear too bold or foolish.

God: "Erin, I already know your thoughts, so please speak them now."

Me: "Forgive me, Father, but I am afraid and unsure and need Your help."

God: "Approach."

I felt the hand of an angel to my right direct me and I walked only a few steps as the angel directed me. The angel put salve in my eyes so I could behold the area around God only. I looked up with my eyes first, keeping my head down, and saw that I was in a type of Court room.

There were massive columns of translucent marble and the marble was of the highest quality and without flaws. I saw beautiful velvet and silk curtains of the most beautiful blue I had ever seen. Above the columns were gold pomegranates covered with persimmons, grapes and olives.

I saw angelic beings surround God on His Throne and this Court was so massive that it would contain at least three football fields lengthwise and three wide. I guess this amounts to nine to twelve football fields altogether. I was still having a hard time seeing, but I knew that the Throne was way up on risers. I could not tell how many steps led to His Throne.

God: "Erin, perhaps you can take a tour later. Now speak."

Me: Embarrassed. "Forgive me, Father, it is just that this all is so amazing." I remained quiet for a moment. "Can I speak boldly?"

God: "Yes."

Me: "I am troubled right now. While You have removed me to a safe place, and for this I am most grateful, I still feel cut off from the world right now and my enemies still pursue and surround me. Why?"

"My enemies shoot so many rockets and when I shoot only one back, I am to blame for the entire war. This is unfair, Father, as I thought You were taking us to a safe place in Your quiver to remove my enemies and further Your ministry in me like others. Why are You allowing the wicked to go unpunished? Why am I still not healed?"

God: "I am the One Who answers your prayers and cares for you. I am like a tree that is always green and all your fruit, Erin, comes from Me (Hosea 14:8). I am with you, Erin, and when you call, I will answer, but you must call.

"Please know that soon the enemies of My people shall come before Me in My Courts. When this happens, they will be held accountable for all of their transgressions against God's people."

Me: "Father, this will be a while so I want to enjoy some time with my children in peace before we arrive Home in Heaven."

God: "Your enemies rejoice at their small victories, but do not be dismayed when you experience their clamor. Your enemies know full well the very hour in which they are in and soon their reveling will turn to sorrow as they have cursed Me and continue on a wicked course.

"Do not worry when their celebration gets louder and do not envy the proud for I too know the hairs on their heads and they have been weighed and counted. Fear not, Erin, for you will not suffer shame."

Me: "Father, forgive me for sounding like a spoiled 'SparrowCloud9', but even when we are not being hit by our enemies, we still experience Your snow from the storehouses mentioned in Job, storms from the south, power outages, lack of communications and bouts of influenza. Are we out of Your favor? Please forgive my complaining, but all of this is very distracting."

God: "I told you to come boldly before Me and you have indeed come boldly. Erin, am I your Father?"

Me: "Yes, of course."

God: "Do I like your enemies and their actions if I am your Father?"

Me: "No."

God: "Then remember this: Those who lie, lack respect, plot evil, rejoice in evil destroying that which is good, mock, threaten, abuse, manipulate and use My Name behind their actions are also like thieves, idolaters and adulterers. These people will not inherit Heavenly access other than the very Court you are kneeling in now.

"Erin, I see all things done in secret and all things the enemy has done against you. You have repented for any transgressions on your behalf. You have made right your wrongs and confessed these. Great is your reward as you have declared My Son your Savior and recognize Him.

"Erin, you ran after Me, ran after good fruits and have pursued a heart of gold. Therefore you gave your best to Me along with the heart that beats inside you to Me. Your heart is not made of stone as My love letter to you is written there for all to see. I call you friend.

"Erin, I have heard your cries and the scales have found your enemies lacking. Their hearts are made of stone and weigh heavy as their evil has no bounds. They even take advantage of widows, the fatherless and the weak and their actions will not be tolerated.

"During their victory, they will drink from the cup of exposure and so drink they shall and be exposed. Erin, remember you were told that storms were coming and that blizzards are a blessing to you. Snow weakens your enemy's position, exposes dirt and exposes objects that are dark and moving.

"Even Israel has been given a blessing against her enemy. Sometimes these things are meant for your good, so take heart. Erin, delays are often opportunities as My timing is perfect and yours is gauged by others and lacking. All that I have promised will be fulfilled."

Me: "Thank You, Father."

God: "One other thing, Erin, do not worry about prophecy. Do you not think that the prophets like Daniel, Jeremiah or Hosea wondered when these visions would be fulfilled? Little did they know they would not be fulfilled in their lifetimes, yet they understood Who I was and their concern was only to please Me.

"So please do not concern yourself, but rather write down plainly that which I give you then do as I ask of you. Focus only on Me, veering not to the right or left for this will take you down a wrong course, so only look to Me. Who knows if I did not remove your communication so that you become completely dependent on Me?

"Erin, is it not better to be focused on seeing what your Father would do rather than your neighbor? Therefore do not worry about anything as I have you and your family at Heaven's Gate in the care of My angels.

"Erin, you will soon be healed and your enemies will soon be far removed. Please do not forget to keep Israel in your prayers as, like you, her enemies surround her."

Me: "Thank You, Father, thank You so much."

God: "Erin, I love you and call you My daughter and friend. You are welcome back here and you even have a key to My door."

Dream 150 – Dream of Gold Relics

Received Tuesday, February 24, 2015

(Formerly known as Prophetic 10)

While walking, I bent over and picked up four inch high golden relics that were lying in the powdery dirt. As I picked them up, I looked around me and saw that I was in a massive desert with dark blue sky and winds.

As I held the relics in my left hand and looked toward the horizon, symbols on these relics instantly appeared in the landscape. First the gold leaf appeared, followed by the wheat, then the man and finally the snake.

Drawing of Leaf, Wheat, Man & Snake in reply below...

Drawing of Leaf, Wheat, Man & Snake Part 2 in reply below...

As I stood looking out, the relics became large. Then the relics went from simply being larger relics to real life scenes. With the leaf, I saw an incredible tree and I remembered what God said to me.

God: "Erin, I am the one Who answers your prayers and cares for you. I am like a Tree that is always green and all your fruit comes from Me."

I smiled as this Tree was so beautiful and like no tree I had ever seen. I saw the Tree abundant with life everlasting and it was like God was showing me His promises of a fruitful life both here and forever with Him. I felt joy as I spoke to Him.

Me: "Thank You, Father."

I then moved my eyes up and to the northwest and there was the wheat relic. Before my eyes, the wheat overcame the desert and grew fast. I looked out and there was Jesus. His hands were touching and moving over the wheat as He walked. The motions of the wheat waved with move of His hands. I could see that He was deep in thought as I called out to Him.

Me: "Lord, here I am. It is me, Erin."

Picture of Wheat being touched in reply below...

I saw Him look up with a big smile and He waved. He then turned my attention to the life sized relic of the man in gold and there I saw armies. Armies and armies were surrounding the field of wheat.

I saw green armies with berets of red aiming fire toward the wheat with Jesus. I began to run toward the field, but Jesus was not paying attention to me. As I ran, I realized that this was a vision that was not quite real.

I saw Jesus look up at me from a distance and He directed my attention to the south. There I saw a massive snake with the armies that were approaching. I looked back and the wheat field was gone, but the desert remained.

I then saw a small jewel in the desert as the armies closed in from all sides. The snake was controlling the armies.

Dream 151 – The Flame and Eagles

Received Sunday, March 1, 2015

(Formerly known as Prophetic 11)

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day, for Your great love and for signs and wonders. Yesterday I saw two bald eagles soar over our heads and they were so beautiful and majestic. These eagles reminded me of how our relationship with You is like a divine courtship.

We fly up and down and circle together, yet sometimes I cannot see You though I know that You are always nearby. Then there are days when the wind lifts me without my wings even needing effort to fly. Then there are days when I feel so free to soar with You and I never want it to end.

Thank You for the lift as I am heavy and my world seems to be falling apart at times. My friends depart upset, my enemies are ramping up, my neighbors seem bitter and my children are sometimes rebellious. Why is life so difficult?

Father, my mother is very sick and now it is on my heart to intercede for her. Please, Father, have grace and heal her. I love You, Lord. For my sake, please turn my mom's heart to You.

Keep us focused on You in all we do. Lord God, Your Bible is my lamp, Your oil is the Holy Spirit and the flame is my hope and faith. Thank You that my heart searches and waits for You. Lord God, Your ways are higher.

God, You soar as an eagle above all of Your Creation. Blessed is the man who soars on the wings like eagles (Isaiah 40:31). I love You, Father.

Jesus: "Erin, come up."

Today I am up on the path on God's mountain and the gold door is thirty yards in front of me. I check my linen tunic for the key in my pocket and there it is. I sprint to the door, reach for my key and unlock the door. The light is so bright, I shield my eyes and drop to my knees.

I have noticed that, ever since I have been coming through this door and have been experiencing God, my eyes have become very watery during certain times of the day. The only relief for my eyes has been to close and rest them. When I do, I have noticed a clear message from God for me.

This message usually comes as a short dream or a memory of some event during the day which God would like at the forefront of my thoughts. Many times I dismiss small things, yet these are the items that God often wants to reveal Himself through.

Anyway, back to the dream. As I knelt down about seven or eight feet inside the Courtroom, an angel approached and directed my head up. The angel put this golden substance in my eyes and I could see the area around God better, even though I still could not see God.

God's glory is like a force of nature, but much greater. While God is like the power of the sun, He is even much greater. However, I simply cannot describe it adequately, but just know that I am very far from the place where God's Throne is in the Courtroom.

When I am with God, I feel my body become both light and energized and I have no pain at all. Even as I write this, I feel no neck pain and my small motor muscles in my right hand are working. This is a miracle and I wish that I could always feel this way on Earth.

Since my mother has been ill and has only one lung, I have paid more attention to my breathing. When I was younger, I had horrible asthma and I would panic at times to take a breath. The panic would actually make my breathing even worse. I just know that my mom is having an even worse time right now.

However, as I am in the presence of God, my lungs are so clear. My lungs have an immense capacity to expand and the air here is so light and pure.

God: "Erin, I am here."

Me: Crying. "Please forgive me, Father, but I feel so fantastic around You as it seems that illness or sickness has no right to be in Your presence."

God: "This is wise and correct, but even the sick are worthy to be in My presence. Erin, as long as you come in Spirit and in truth, then you are clean."

Me: "Thank You, Father, for this wonderful gift of Your presence. When I am here, nothing else is important and I am ready to come Home soon."

God: "Erin, you are holding something."

Me: "My troubles seem meaningless and I ask You what is truth?"

God: "Truth is like a flame which burns. When a lamp shines, darkness hides. Who is the light of the world?"

Me: "Jesus."

God: "Erin, you are correct and the enemy wants the flame of truth extinguished as His light is just too bright for him."

Me: "Shall I study flames?"

This created thundering laughter from God. His laughter rolled as the Courtroom shook. This went right through me, but in an oddly delightful way.

God: "Erin, yes, this is good as a flame is truth and truth can hurt. There are many examples, yet it all has one meaning. Truth consumes like a burning fire and it removes darkness because few can endure it. Truth refines, purifies and is holy."

Me: "I guess I never thought of fire as truth or exposing truth. However, I do remember that the blacksmith burns off the dross."

God: "You are a child of light, Erin, and the world hates you because there is a flame in your heart. In Song of Songs, there is your heart and Mine is placed over your heart like a seal. Erin, I am over your heart and you are hated because of your love for truth and the truth of Heavenly things."

Me: "God my Father, I believe You are sending Jesus soon for us. What is the best way to spend my time here? What would please You?"

God: "Erin, allow Me to carry you and let Me work. I do not require works from you, but only obedience to hear Me when I call. I am the burning bush and the all-consuming fire. When you pass through the waters, I will be with you and when you pass through the rivers, they will not sweep over you."

Suddenly I had a download from a dream in 2003 where I was stranded with my very young children and a man like an angel, whom later I recognized as Jesus, carried us all across a flooded raging river at night.

God: "When you walk through the fire, you will not be burned and they will not set you ablaze."

I recognized this Scripture from Isaiah 43 and I was in tear.

Me: "Father, why do I so quickly forget Your promises as soon as I see the flames?"

God: "It is because you come to Me in your Spirit. Your flesh cries out because when you return so does the memory of your low position in body. I am real to you, but not your present reality. This is why you are in wonder and left with no words and your pain returns then."

Me: "I must lack faith for healing or perhaps the enemy causes me to forget. Well then, I give myself to You on Earth and as I am in Heaven. God, please heal me, my children, my mom and my friends. God, please have mercy and show Your love to Your servants. Please grant us strength to have hearts forever burning for You as I love You, Father."

God: "Erin, in the beginning when I called you, I showed you signs and wonders. Do I not continue to do so? Look around you everywhere. Is not everything directed toward Me? Is My Kingdom not a pearl, yet very few find it?"

"I am the same and I do not change. I am the same and Who Is and Who Was and Who Is to come, the Almighty. Therefore, Erin, you are not consumed."

I could barely write as I was so caught up in His words that I was crying.

Me: "Father, thank You. May Your Will for my life be fulfilled as I am in no position to set my course or path for You alone are worthy. Thank You for sending Jesus, for rescuing me from the life which the enemy had petitioned for me in Your Courts and for finding my heart and resting Your flame across it. I desire more of You."

God: "Then it is done and I will add wisdom unto your days too."

Me: "Father, is there more time?"

Suddenly I was removed from the Court and I was taken to the courtyard in the Lord's house. I was in front of God's Clock and Calendar as four massive angels guarded the four corners by facing the four compass positions.

A beautiful angel approached me and I recognized him from before. While there were still events to come, there were fewer and fewer than last time. I saw the Jubilee and I saw the seasons.

Angel: "Erin, as you are heavy with the burden of earthly time, you must understand that time for you is not the same as time for God. God controls all which you see and He will fulfill Scripture so that all will remain in truth.

"You were given events and gauges to watch for so that your lamp remained lit. Erin, your watching is like a pleasant aroma to God. The enemy knows his time has not yet come, but is at hand and therefore he rages."

As I stood looking at the Calendar, two more events lit up and passed.

Angel: "He appeals to weakness and is drawn to things hidden in darkness. There are weapons formed against you, but they will not prosper. Your battles will soon be over and you will enjoy a season of peace."

He pointed to a season and a half ahead of me.

Angel: "Then you will be used by God as His promises will be fulfilled. When delays occur, do not use this as a measure against you, but rather as an opportunity. God's requirement is an obedient heart with love for Him ablaze on it."

Me: "This is exciting, yet I am afraid at the same time."

Angels: "You were reminded that there will be signs in the heavens, the sun will become dark and the moon be turned to blood before that great and terrible day of the Lord arrives (Joel 2:31), so you still have time."

Me: "Will this all come between the two blood moons that are left?"

Angel: "Erin, be content knowing the time you are in. Do not be anxious as God has told you and the Lord has spoken that there will be signs and you will know. If there is doubt right now and you are a child of God, then put your trust in Him and He will make your paths straight."

Me: "Angel, I see a cluster of events coming this March and April. Are these those events?"

I pointed to a grouping of script in one of the rings of the Calendar.

Angel: "This most holy time always comes with events and calamity often follows. You were given gauges and if the Holy Spirit is telling you this, then yes there is something to this. I am only sent as a messenger to bring you peace with Good News.

"Erin, you are a jewel to God. You are a living stone and a jewel in His Crown (I Peter 2:4-5). Soon your enemies will be removed and you will have rest. The memory of them will be obliterated.

"Remember what the enemy did to you on your path to the Promised Land when he cut off those lagging to your rear. When you were tired and exhausted, he did not fear God. Your enemies are wicked and prey upon your weaknesses (Deuteronomy 25:17-19).

"Now remember that obeying God is better than sacrifice for rebellion is like the sin of divination and arrogance like the evil of idolatry. God only requires that you dress for the battle and put on your whole armor. However, this battle is not yours, but God's.

"Now ride out in Spirit and in truth. Then, and just like Elisha, look to the hills. Erin, where does your help come from? Angel armies from Heaven are there at God's command so take courage and heart and do not be afraid."

Me: "Okay. In other words, there is more to come, but I just need to remember that God is in control."

The angel smiled and laughed as the other angels smiled.

Angel: "Yes, rejoice as God is in control and you are His jewel and He is your Pearl."

The angel reached over for my hand.

Dream over...

After I wrote this down this morning, the Holy Spirit reminded me of when I worked with birds of prey back in my twenties. I had volunteered at a raptor rehabilitation facility near Center Hall,

Pennsylvania when one of my trainers who worked with eagles told us the story of how a mother eagle prepares her nest and trains her baby eaglets to fly.

I now realize that this is quite an analogy for life. Indeed, I realize it was even more than that and was really an analogy of how our walk with God is on Earth. Now some have indicated that this may just be an urban legend, but this still makes for a great analogy and the trainer certainly seemed convinced it was true:

First, the mother eagle builds a nest high above the ground and usually on cliffs. She fashions it out of sharp sticks, thorns and branches, but she makes the inside of the nest soft and cushy out of feathers and fur.

Second, when the baby nears the time to leave the cushy nest, the mother eagle removes the fluff until the nest becomes so incredibly unbearable that the little eaglet is ready to begin flying.

Third, the mother then baits the baby with food, "the Word", so the baby becomes curious about what the mother has. The baby eaglet jumps up and down to condition its legs and get its wings flapping, "praise and worship", in anticipation of a meal or mom coming closer.

Fourth, then the baby tries to fly. As the baby falls from its nest, the mom watches in anticipation. The baby tries to fly on its own, but it is helpless to flap its wings. Right before the baby is about to splat on the ground, the mom swoops in and rescues the eaglet and takes it safely back to the nest.

Fifth, the baby becomes a young, strong eagle and it can fly with the mother and soar, which represents "our relationship with Jesus". Sadly, some eaglets decide to fly on their own and they fall to their death.

Deuteronomy 32:11, "Like an eagle that stirs up its nest and hovers over its young, that spreads its wings to catch them, and carries them on its pinions." While we wait, let's look to God our Father and, like Jesus, wait and see what our Father does.

As directed to in James 5:7-8, "Be patient then brothers and sisters until the Lord's coming. See how the farmer waits for the land to yield its valuable crop, patiently waiting for the autumn and spring rains. You, too, be patient and stand firm, because the Lord's coming is near."

Be blessed and soar like eagles.

Dream 152 – God & Direction

Received Wednesday, March 4, 2015

(Formerly known as Prophetic 12)

Jesus: “Erin, come up.”

I unlocked the gold door on God’s Mountain with my key. As bright light appeared, I stepped through the door and into His presence. I immediately dropped to my knees, but could feel the presence of an angel next to me. With one hand on my shoulder, his other hand put salve in my eyes. I could now see around, but still not directly at God.

God: “Erin, you are troubled. Speak your concerns. All of them.”

Me: My heart raced so hard that I could barely formulate any words on my lips. “Lord, I am scared and I do not want to ever fall out of Your grace and favor.”

God: “Then, Erin, because I know all things and you live in a glass house, it is better to speak truth in whole and not in part.”

Me: “Father, I am not truly free. As You know, I worry about losing friends, being rejected and failure. I am not fearless and my past often finds me. What if You decide that I am not good enough for the dreams? What if I never realize what You have promised? What if You determine You made an error with me?

“My enemies gain ground and I can do nothing. My money dwindles and I cannot replenish it by working as I am disabled. What if the Words given to me were written down incorrectly? What if pride and arrogance surface?

“What if I am a Jezebel as some have even accused me of this? Why do others spy on me? Why do You not just allow unstoppable success? God, You are coming. Well, Your Son Jesus is coming so soon. Please, Lord Father God...”

God: “Am I Lord, Father or God?”

Me: Laughing. “You are everything.”

God: “Am I the Father in Psalm 50? Am I the ‘I AM’? Am I the Alpha and Omega? Is there a fence around Me? Do I need these four walls of the Courthouse to contain Me? Is there nothing too small or too great for Me? Is there a limit to My love and favor or even My wrath?”

Me: My head bowed. “No, of course not, God, as You are the Father, my Father, and King in Psalm 50. You are my Creator, strong tower and the determiner of my days. I love You. Please forgive me, Father. I empty myself fully to Your Will.

“However, man is treacherous and their hearts adulterous. Even Christians rise up against me and there is nothing I can do. I have nothing to offer You, Father, and there is nothing I have that could even begin to compensate for all You have done for us. All I have is my heart.”

God: “Then this I will take. Erin, who can measure My power? Who can measure My mercy or grace?”

Me: “No one, Lord, as there is no plumb line needed for You as You are always level, constant and true. What You speak and form with Your voicem, since I cannot see Your lips, comes to being.”

God: “Then, Erin, when did I stop My favor or cast you into prison? This is a curse from your enemies and has no foundation. If a curse is put forth and has no place to rest, then it cannot root and grow or fester.

“Please do not allow these unwarranted curses to take a hold of you as they will cripple your walk. Come to Me, Erin, when you are heavy laden and I will give you rest. I have not abandoned you in the womb nor did I abandon you to the grave.

“In one breath, I can remove your obstacles and even level the ground they walk upon as I control the wind, the rain, the floods and the droughts. This is all designed to reconcile hearts to Me.

“Erin, even though you believe your heart to be treacherous, it is not. At times your thoughts can be, but not your very heart. Do not be worried or dismayed when men are jealous of My favor upon you. They are prideful and boast of things they know nothing of and they puff themselves up and thereby reduce Me.

“I tell you the truth; they will have no ears to hear when I call. It is possible to spend time with Me, but to the arrogant fools it is impossible to please Me. I will not be mocked and I will not bend an ear to hear their cries on that great and terrible day.

“I send storms and calamities and they fail to recognize Me and humble themselves, yet after the storm and earthquakes have passed, they see the destruction and ask. ‘Where was God?’ Perhaps humility should take notes.

“Do not fret, Erin, as I am here with you. You have others around you whom I have appointed. Their reward is great and their hearts steadfast. These are small battles, which are won in the hearts of man. Just remember that these hearts are adulterous.”

Me: “Then will my friends turn against me?”

God: “Whoever turns against you were not your friends to begin with. Now, release your next book, the five stones, as it is time.”

Me: “My books are stones?”

God: "You see them as scripts, but I see them as stones. Each time you write your love letters from Me down, you collect information and records. You have the experience in you and it has become knit into the course of your existence.

"When you share this with others, it is knitted into them as well. You have written record, computer record and printed record. You are beginning to spread the Good News. This is just the infancy as if they are in the womb.

"Consider it like David's satchel wherein you have gathered stones from the riverbed and you drank from the River of Life. Each stone you gathered was a jewel. Now you face the giant, which is the world.

"No one truly understands what Heaven is or is not, yet a key was given to you. Other men before you have unlocked this door, but only a few have entered. You are afraid of many things, but you fear pleasing Me above that of pleasing man

"Therefore, Erin, I have sheltered you away for this time now. Throw the stone and you will be successful here. If I depose kings and remove them, surely I can take down a giant with a stone."

Me: "When will this be?"

God: "You were shown something last night."

Me: "Yes, Father, I had a dream:

"The house I lived in long ago was removed off of its foundation and there was nothing left but the basement below ground. I surveyed the area, and when I arrived, the foundation and basement was flooded.

"I saw several items, including a chair that my kids' 'Pappa' sat in, a small purple bear that was my older son's 'Chenille' and a gift for my daughter of a Himstedt Doll named Emily, which was given to her by a church member.

"There was also a knitting spool. As I fished out 'Chenille' when I turned my back, the foundation dried up. Father, I have no idea what this means."

God: "When you saw the house sitting normally, what did you see?"

Me: "Oh yes, the entire house was painted 'off white' and everything was painted though the same color, even the window trim."

God: "Erin, I will reveal this to you so do not worry, but take note of such things. Please do not worry and give Me everything. Then, and above all else, trust Me with it. Your children and family are Mine and these dreams are Mine. No enemy can take these from Me and no scheme of man will prevail against you.

“Soon your trials will be over and you and your friends and family will celebrate with Me on the streets of gold. Now bless your friends and give them to Me. Is My presence available for only one woman?”

I heard a thunderous laugh as I began to well up with tears and laughter.

Me: “Of course not, Father.”

God: “One other thing, Erin; once your five stones are presented and one takes down the giant, you will desire to retreat like Elijah and hide. Do not at first. However, after a short time, I will remove you from harm and you will not suffer shame. It is okay to protect your family from the world, but there is no need to protect them from Me. You will be hidden in My Quiver, safe and secure there.”

Me: “Is Your quiver like Petra?” He laughed.

God: “No, My quiver is like My quiver. If it were like Petra, then I would state it. You are loved, Erin, and you will not be in Petra, but you will see it and later rejoice. This is not now and you will see Me again soon.”

Me: “I love You, Father.”

God: “I love you, Erin.”

I found myself outside the door as an angel approached.

Angel: “Do not worry when your enemies appear to advance against you as it is just an illusion. You are God’s delight and His Word is true. Erin, He is within you and you will not fall as God will help you at break of day (Psalm 46:5). You and your friends are given Psalm 45 to read. Also flaming arrows are quickly extinguished so put on your armor and stand, Erin. Greater is He who is within you, than he who is in the world.”

Dream 153 – God, the Eagle, the Lion and the Dead Snake

Received Friday, March 6, 2015

(Formerly known as Prophetic 13)

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day, for Your love and for the promise of victory. Father, please bless the warriors You have appointed to help us during this time. Father, many have come under attack and it is unfair.

Please, Father, supernaturally protect us and open up the Gates of Heaven as we are walled up in here. Please open the Gates of Heaven and unleash Your strongest Heavenly hosts over us in Jesus mighty Name, Amen. I raise my white flag and surrender all we have to You.

Jesus: "Erin, come up."

I was up on God's Mountain in front of the forestry board next to the gold door. I felt for the key in my right pocket of my linen tunic. I looked up on the board and there was a small gold lion next to a silver eagle. They both looked like charms to a bracelet and there was a small note with it:

You're a lion full of power who forgot how to roar.

You're an eagle full of beauty but you can't seem to soar.

I picked up the note and the charms and remembered back to my high school year book. My senior words under my photo were as follows:

To one day have a heart of gold, but for now it sits on a chain around my neck until I can love everyone, including myself.

I then saw a 'heart of gold' charm on the bulletin board and it was an exact replica of my old necklace charm. I picked it up in the palm of my hand and I heard a chime sound from some Heavenly instrument.

The gold heart embedded into my hand and disappeared. I felt a warmth and wave of love which could only come from God come into me. I placed my hand over my heart and began to cry.

I looked in my left hand and the lion and eagle sat there. While they seemed alive and moving, I noticed that they were not yet part of my 'being'.

Me: "God, these are charms, so are they not just symbols or relics?"

It did not matter as they still made me cry. All of a sudden I heard a song by a group called 'For King and Country' of 'Run Wild'. I began to cry as I had listened to the words of this song just yesterday as I was driving. I had never paid attention to it before.

It seems that when I am driving, I often pay more attention to hidden dangers than the worship music I have on. I laughed because I never cared or took the time to really listen to the lyrics because it seems that I am always running out of time. The lyrics suddenly struck me as if God Himself was speaking to me through them:

But don't you want to

Run wild, live free

Love strong, you and me

You're a lion full of power who forgot how to roar

You're an eagle full of beauty but you can't seem to soar

Will you return to the garden where we were first made whole

Will you turn to the one who can liberate your soul?

But don't you want to

Run wild, live free

Love strong, you and me

Run wild, live free

Love strong

To every soul locked in a cage

In the prison of your past mistakes

No, there's no time left to waste

Yes, you can make your great escape

You're made to run wild, live free, love strong, you and me!

I dropped to my knees just short of the door as I reached for the key and unlocked it. It opened and I sat there with the door open and the light of God streaming over me.

God: "Erin, come into My presence for I am here."

An angel came to help me up as I felt feeble, undeserving and in disbelief that I was in the presence of God. The angel walked me into God's Court and my knees buckled as I dropped. The angel put salve into my eyes.

God: "Erin, are you ready to roar with Me? Are you ready to soar with Me?"

I could not seem to formulate any words with my lips to answer.

God: "Perhaps I should have a gold bracelet of Ophir fashioned for you instead for those adornments."

He laughed with a rolling thunder which literally went right through me and became part of me. I looked at the gold lion charm and the silver eagle and I smiled.

Me: "Father, they are very beautiful, but you know I do not mix my metals."

I smiled as I said this quietly with my head down. I then heard God give a thunderous laugh at what I had said.

God: "You are My delight, daughter. Well, perhaps I give you both the bracelet and that which you seek."

I felt the charms become very warm in my hand. It felt like mild burning, yet not hot enough to hurt my skin.

Me: "Father, You know me, You knit me and You know the number of my days, so how can I doubt Your works? I just wonder at times if I did something wrong."

God: "Erin, I call you friend. There are walls keeping you contained. As in Jericho, I am walking around your citadels. I can remove the walls in one command or you can meet Me at the Gate and I will release you to Me.

"Erin, you are free to join Me, so do not stay where you are and do not allow fear to keep you captive. Do not allow your mistakes to imprison you. Do not fear man, but fear Me as this is wisdom."

Me: "I am not sure what You mean, Father, so please illuminate what you are asking me to do."

God: "Rise up and take your mat with you. Erin, you are free to walk with Me. You take your mat so you do not return to your past ways or mistakes. Come with Me."

Me: "Are You calling me Home?"

God: "No, your time has not come. Erin, it is not one or the other. Soon you will be free here with Me and restored. I am saying surrender to Me and let My will be done. Run with Me. Rise up and run with Me."

Me: Crying. "I thought I was tucked away in Your quiver."

God: "Erin, what good is a full quiver of arrows if they are never used? It is time, Erin."

Me: "Then, Father, please use me for Your purposes as I surrender all I am to You."

God: "This is good, but I call you friend, Erin. You are not my slave as, in you, I have created a good work. Now come with Me as I have more for you. Are you ready to take flight?"

Me: "The lion was first."

God: "Okay, then let's roar first and then fly. Meet Me at the 'open Gate'."

I started to cry.

Dream over...

I woke up today abruptly to an odd sound like a trumpet sound at around 6:15am. Then about forty five minutes later I heard something hit the side of my house. When I looked, I had no idea what made this sound as there was nothing there to find.

These sounds woke me out of a dream that was extremely prophetic which I will download later. However, here is the last part of my dream...

I was walking down a road at dusk and my older son was next to me. There was dark brown dirt on the side of the road and trees like junipers or maybe olives, but they were shorter, stout and gnarled and their roots were exposed.

All of a sudden my older son reached down as a snake was coming towards us. The snake was a diamond back and was dark brown, the color of the dirt, and black. It blended with the roots of a tree. My son grabbed the snake with his left hand and bit the nape of the snake at the back of its head.

The snake died instantly and my older son flung the snake into the brush, but said nothing and instead just smiled and confidently kept walking. I could not believe what I had witnessed and I started to cry.

Dream over...

Interestingly enough, predators of snakes kill them behind their heads at the nape. From looking at a diagram, a bite to the snake behind their head cuts off airflow and stops their heart. Also notable from observing a diagram of the snake, their heart is not far from their head and fangs, yet the majority of their body is their stomach used for encapsulating their prey and rendering them prisoner.

This is so disgusting and a great analogy about our enemies. They slither, they coil and attack. They spew venom, paralyzing their victim, rendering them helpless, then they slowly and painfully swallow them whole; all the while their victim is aware of its helpless state, yet is unable to fight it. Then they are consumed and digested whole.

This is so evil. Anyway I do not care for snakes, other than to say that they do look great on boots and purses.

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day, for loving me and for Your blessings. Father, my Injury Claim was closed today and recompense for the accident did not come. Now there will be court and no medical attention. Father, You have kept me for Your purposes and for a time such as this, but for someone living under Open Heavens, I do not feel the anointing of Your healing over me.

Please, Father, help me. Please show me what it means to roar like a young lion when I feel like an old toothless lion. Help me soar like an eagle when I can only dart about like a sparrow.

You gave me a very clear definitive Scripture today in Proverbs 20:10, 'Differing weights and differing measures; the Lord detests them both.' With this being truth, Father, then please see it in Your heart to slam down my enemy on the mat that I had picked up. Please grant us time before a judge and a reversal of this decision.

How do I roar and soar with You? How can I? I cannot as my head hangs low and my discouragement is my mantle. Please forgive me in advance as it is difficult to see You working sometimes. Father, I have dressed for battle, I prepared my weapons and my horse and I have gone to the battlefield to stand.

The sun is rising to mark a new day of battles and I look to the distant hills to see where my help comes from. My help comes from the Lord, the Maker of Heaven and Earth. God, You have called me friend and daughter, so please go before me in these battles and grant us a victory.

Father, I know who my enemies are because I love You and they hate me. I know of our final victory when You vindicate all of Your children, but I am now in a battle with five converging enemies and I cannot see the hills.

I have no choice but to trust fully in You in all of this. I will not surrender my white flag to the enemy, but I lift up my flag and surrender to You. Please deliver my victory soon, Lord, in Jesus' Name, Amen.

Jesus: "Erin, come up."

I was at the golden door on God's Mountain and to my right was the forestry board. In front of me were two charms; one was a pair of sparrows in silver and the other was a crown of gold. I laughed again to myself and nodded at the intricate amazement of God. There was a note attached:

Erin, are not two sparrows sold for a farthing? And one of them shall not fall on the ground without Your Father's care. And even the very hairs on your head are numbered. So don't be afraid; you are worth more than many sparrows. King's daughters were among thy honorable women; upon My right hand did stand the queen in gold of Ophir. Erin, I am enthralled by your beauty.

I began to cry and, as I looked at the two charms, they sank into the palm of my hands and became part of me.

Me: "Oh Father, am I such a double-minded daughter? You have never left me. Even when You are quiet, You are still right here. Thank You."

I wanted to keep the note and take it to my earthly home as I know that in Heaven I will recall all things without struggling to search my old memory banks. I took a big sigh and placed the note into my pocket and exchanged it for the key.

I turned and unlocked the golden door with the 'Mem' and a bright light struck me. Every time I seem to forget just how incredible the power and intensity of this door opening is.

I felt the angel bring me in. As I knelt to the floor, he put the salve into my eyes so I could see a bit more clearly. I still could not see the area of God's mercy seat as it was too far away and too intense to behold.

God: "Erin, you are so easily troubled. What ails you?"

Me: I stammered again with my lips to speak. "Father, it seems my enemies are closing in on me. How can I get anything done when I am overwhelmed and distracted? I spent many hours on the defensive."

God: "Then take the offensive, Erin, as where are you?"

Me: "Your Courts."

God: "Who resides here?"

Me: "Of course, You do."

God: "Then take heart. What do I think of even sparrows when two can be purchased for less than a penny on Earth? Erin, if I call you as a queen who is adorned in gold of Ophir, then what does this mean? Is a queen wearing gold worth anything to the King or her Father?"

Me: "Yes."

God: "Surely her gold crown is worth more than the sparrows that I love. Then why do you worry about your life, what you will eat or drink or about your body? What have I said? Is life not more than food and the body more than clothing?"

"Look at the birds, Erin, and, yes, even the ravens, for they need not sow or reap, yet are they not fed? Now consider the lilies for are they not beautiful and well dressed? If I have called you My friend and My daughter, then do I not take care of you?"

I began to cry and I was ashamed of myself.

Me: "Oh Father, please forgive me for my worry. Please forgive my impoverished thinking."

God: "Erin, I will not condemn you, but only your enemies' actions, though feeble, and your own tongue for holding you captive. Now, surrender this all to Me as your tongue is a part of your body, so keep this holy."

Me: "I prefer I give it to You as at times my tongue is treacherous."

God: Chuckling. "Then best to keep that sharp arrow in your quiver. Now I speak of your tongue. You carry arrows, so what are you waiting for?"

Me: "Forgive me as I do not know what You are saying."

God: "Really?"

Immediately a very vivid dream downloaded into my head that I had around three nights ago.

Me: "Yes, you are showing me the dream."

God: "Erin, what did you do in this dream?"

Me: "I pursued the enemy, set a barricade and then I waited. When it came out, I took it down with one shot."

God: "Very good, Erin, very good, for you are in the middle of a battle. It is okay when you are in the valley to draw an arrow and point it. However, shoot when I say shoot."

Me: "Father..." I hesitated.

God: "Speak."

Me: "I thought I would look to the hills for help. Are the angel armies not there?"

God: "Yes, but understand this; when I say prepare your fields, that means prepare completely until the only thing left is Me. Remember that the army went down to the battle fully trusting Me for the victory, but prepared for any event."

Me: "You are right as dressed for battle means ammunition and arrows too."

God: "Many can fall at the threat of just one. Consider David, Erin, as he drew five smooth stones, yet only one was needed as his faith was enough. The meek bring the proud low and, just when all seems lost, I tell you it is not.

"Please understand that I know the beginning. I know the comings and goings of your enemies and I have already written the final outcome. Please trust Me to carry you and deliver you the victory."

Me: "God, there have been many attacks on me today. What is happening? It looks like all is lost, God."

God: "I understand how this appears, but I have you, Erin. The enemy, all of your enemies, will be removed. Now give me your enemies. Do you want to be free? They hold you captive. Give them into My Courts, Erin."

Immediately I had a visual of each of my enemies. I saw them shuffle into God's Courts in single file and each were in shackles. Each chain consisted of things held against them and each one knelt before God.

It was like a movie within the Courts of God, but it was a later time. I saw people who worked behind the scenes who surprised me and I saw those I did not even recognize.

God: "Now, Erin, let Me be the Judge here, let Me hear their pleas and let Me render a verdict and serve justice, unless you would like to sit here instead?"

Me: "Oh no, God, please, You do this."

The Courtroom changed and then God was sitting on His judgment seat. I noticed that the colors and magnitude of the Court changed as well. I cannot describe how, but I knew it was different.

God: "Erin, I have you so do not worry as you hold a key to My door day or night. Come to Me when your burden is to great. Please do not fear for you will not suffer shame. You are My daughter and I call you friend."

Dream over...

Several things happened to me today and the signs started with five deer walking through the woods in the snow. Then a group of five crows made a horrible racket on the other side of the property.

I opened my window and prayed out loud. Four crows tried to fly into our back yard at me, but it was as if they had hit a wall and they flew straight upward all in the same spot. However, the last crow managed to fly above them and over our home.

After this, I felt I needed to pray over our property and use oil on all of our doors, windows, plumbing, communications, computers, phones, gaming devices and TV's. Then I went to God in communion and prayer.

I felt the Holy Spirit warning me of an open door. The Lord revealed this to me, so now I am going off to battle and it involves my children and Facebook. There was a back door attack and my daughter was being the victim of cyber bullies from her school.

Description of the dream I had a few nights ago begins...

I was hunting in the woods on a beautiful winter's day and the sky was deep blue and the sun was very bright. There was a foot of snow on the ground and I was wearing something like the girl in Hunger Games, but in all white. I was hunting with a bow and arrow, but I did not know exactly what I was hunting for other than 'my prey'.

As I walked quietly and alert with my bow and arrows ready to shoot, I saw a white snowshoe rabbit in the clearing up ahead. It appeared to be eating something, but I was a bit confused because there was nothing for the rabbit to graze on there.

I thought, 'I love rabbits. They are so soft and innocent.' I quickly dismissed this bunny and began to walk by. However, just then it turned to look at me and I saw this beautiful white gentle bunny with blood dripping from its mouth and it had fangs.

I quickly jumped as I was in shock and the rabbit took off running. I ran like the wind after it and chased it for quite some time until I saw it disappear into its hole. As this rabbit kept popping its head out to mock me, I decided to build a circular ring of large rocks surrounding the hole and left only one opening.

I then ran back about a hundred yards and hid behind a group of white birch trees. I then propped my arm up with the bow pulled back and waited. I waited only a couple of minutes when this bloodthirsty seemingly innocent rabbit that still had a bloodstain on its white coat popped out of its hole.

However, now its face had turned hideous and demonic and it seemed to laugh at the prospect that I had given up. It was too busy looking above the rocks to even notice I had created a wall and it hopped directly to the rock wall opening.

I took a deep breath and, with precision from a hundred yards, I took it down with one arrow right in its neck. I heard a horrific scream and growl, a death rattle, and then it was gone. I ran up to it to make sure it was dead and it was. I then ran off to find what I was originally hunting for.

Dream 155 – God, the Race and the Prize

Received Wednesday, March 18, 2015

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You, thank You, thank You! I praise You over and over for rescuing us from my enemies. In Scripture today, I am reminded in Psalm 147:10-11 that 'God does not delight in the strength of the horse; He does not take pleasure in the legs of a man. The Lord favors those who fear Him, those who wait for His loving kindness.'

I have felt weak the last several days as I have been ill and in much pain. Father, please heal me and remove my enemies from coming near me again. There is nothing I can do on my own to save myself, so I now must rely fully on You.

God, You and Your angels are my only witnesses to much of what has occurred to me. Sometimes there have been witnesses, but other times the only other witness has been the one inflicting evil. In other words, my words of truth do not always stand against the lies of my accusers.

Another Scripture You have given me in this season is Psalm 7:14-16, 'Whoever is pregnant with evil conceives trouble and gives birth to disillusionment. Whoever digs a hole and scoops it out falls into the pit they have made. The trouble they cause recoils on them; their violence comes down on their own heads.'

Then I am soon afterward reminded of this in 2 Samuel 22:19-20, 'They confronted me in the day of my disaster, but the Lord was (and is) my support. He brought me out into a spacious place; He rescued me because He delighted in me.'

Yesterday I spent a few minutes looking at my closed injury case file and I became grieved. I remembered that I once had so much potential as I was an athlete and had many talents. God had gifted me greatly, but, alas, I was robbed. This was taken from me until one day I can run, jump and dance like I did in my youth as He has promised.

God, what if I had stayed on Your best path during my race? Was this the best way to run my race? What if? What if only I was free to run and never deal with or had never had to deal with these enemies? What would this look like?

When I am in pain and I look back, not only is my physical pain present, but so is the pain in my heart and I feel my brokenness. I feel my human flaws and damaged emotions of a long, suffering race.

Oh God, please God, save me and keep me close, but not because I have accomplished anything of great value but rather only that I love and chase Your heart. Turn to glance my way even if only for a moment and delight in me, thereby making my race bona fide.

May my credibility be made whole by You and You alone as I love You, Father. Please help me to complete this complex race any way You see fit, in Jesus' Name, Amen.

Jesus: "Erin, come up."

I am up somewhere on a dark path with my running shoes on. However, I am in my 'college days' body and not my glorified body. The landscape is snowy and as I run I feel the cold permeate my lungs. I could see the cold foggy breath from my mouth as I struggled to breathe.

I am wearing pro running cold gear and despite the cold I am still sweating. Based on the feel of my body, it has been a long race and maybe even a marathon. As I run on this path, I see the moon make an appearance, yet it seems like day and I am confused.

I kept running and up ahead on the path I could see three dips down and a finish line. I could not tell if anyone had crossed before me, but I decided to run even faster. My body ached and I felt the muscles in my legs and on my right hip begin to cramp up.

Me: "Father, let me finish even with the pain. Please, God."

The sun appeared as I went over the first hump and down into the first dip. I looked up and saw the sun turning dark and I knew that I needed to run up the path prior to it finishing. When I reached the top again, the sun left and only the moon remained, but the moon grew redder as I began the second dip down.

As I ran up to the last hill, I saw the sun on a normal day and it was dawn. I felt lighter and my body felt better, but I knew that I was not finished. I stood on the last crest of the path and I could now see the finish line, but there was still one last dip in my path prior to my finish.

I paused as I watched dawn begin to break. I felt better physically, but I sat for a moment on a nearby rock to rest a bit more for the final leg. As I looked down at the ground, I started to pray.

Me: "Dear Father, grant me strength as I am tired, worn and cold. I thank You for my race, but I need Your help to finish. Please carry me or heal me, but either way there is nothing I can do on my own which I have not done. Now, Father, have Your way in me this very day."

I cried for a while longer there on the rock. I figured that, since I was the only one running this race, I did not see a time limit. I looked up and saw a short path to the forestry board and the gold door. I looked to my right and I saw the finish line, but there was still another dip in the path before the end.

Me: "Wow, would I like to be done and get this over with."

I took a deep breath as I got up off the rock and stood. I realized that the path dropped off into a foggy abyss and that I could not even see how long the dip was. However, I knew that the crest was shortly after and then followed immediately by the finish line.

Me: "Well, if I could soar like an eagle, I could bypass that last portion of the path and the dip with the fog."

I looked again at the dip and it looked even more ominous than any portion of the race.

Me: Shaking my head. "Okay, I definitely cannot do this without You, Father. You will need to carry me beyond this. I am glad I did not keep running."

I turned and ran over to the forestry board outside the golden door and my clothing suddenly changed to all white. It was a material that was so amazing, breathable and soft on my skin. I no longer felt cold and I was no longer sweaty. My breathing was no longer labored and I felt fantastic.

Me: "God, please allow me to finish the race like this. Wow, I would feel fantastic."

I saw two charms on the bulletin board; one was a silver trophy and the other was a gold heart with a mustard seed embedded in it. There was a note attached:

Erin, if you run your race to please man – you might finish with a silver trophy. If you finish your race to please God – then you will have the prize of a true runner's race!

I cried for a moment as I wondered who was I running for? Was it out of pride and did I have a need to please man? I hope not, as I know I cannot win that race. Even if I did, then all I would receive is a silver trophy

Trophies are dumb and are mere records of wins which mean nothing to anybody except the recipient and even time forgets these. At home, I have a trophy from 1930 which was turned into a lamp. I shook my head at the silliness of all of this.

Me: "Father, I do not want that relic."

I placed the silver trophy charm back on the board and it disappeared. However, the gold heart with the mustard seed that I was also holding embedded into my hand and disappeared. I welled up with emotion.

Me: "Forgive me, Father, for even considering trying to finish this race without You. Forgive me for worrying about what men think or pleasing others on this race. This would definitely be an unwinnable race."

I turned to the door with the 'Mem' lock and turned the key. The door opened and the light of God instantly brought me to my knees. I felt an angel assist me to inside the door and I felt his hand place salve in my eyes. I looked around me again as my head stayed bowed and saw that I was in God's Court.

God: "Erin, you are struggling with your race. What has happened?"

Me: I put my lips together to formulate words. "Father, please forgive me as I am tired and discouraged. I want so much to please You, but I also want to look good to others too. Oh my, I cannot believe I just spoke this."

God: "In the Courts of God, every knee bows and every tongue confesses. Do I also not control them here?"

I heard a thunderous laugh. Personally, I needed His laughter as I was petrified that my own lips spoke my thoughts without my brain. I then began to laugh.

God: "Erin, speak."

Me: "Father, there is nothing hidden from You and You are truly incredible. You know my thoughts and that I am having a hard time as I want to please everyone and be believed."

God: "Erin, no weapon formed against you shall prosper, not even their sharp tongues. Every tongue that accuses you in judgment, I will condemn. Your vindication is from Me, Erin, as I detest dishonest scales and, in My Court, all is fair. You have been weighed by Me and found good."

Me: Crying. "Then, Father, at the end of my race, Your measure of me is all that matters. If to You my race is good, then whatever prize You find pleasing would be great."

God: "Erin, it is okay to ask Me as I call you friend and friends share honestly and trust each other. Am I not a powerful friend?"

Me: I giggled. "Yes, Lord, You are the most powerful friend."

God: "So am I just a useful friend to you?"

Me: "No, God, You are not just a friend. You are the Author and Finisher of my story and my story is not my own. I am only a participant and I have not read the final chapter of my earthly race to know what happens.

"By Your grace and an incredible gift, You have allowed me a glimmer of the prize following my earthly race and chapter. Knowing that You have prepared a special place for me, my children and my friends is my greatest gift and it makes my life and the struggles herein bearable."

God: "Erin, I will one day carry you Home. I have sent angels concerning you. I have allowed your difficult race. I have allowed the petitions of your enemies to be granted with restrictions. I knew your life from beginning to end and there is nothing hidden from Me. I know the hearts of men and of the hardness of the days coming.

“You have seen trouble and because you understand where it comes from you learned to watch for Me. You know the times you are in and you have seen the treachery and the death.

“There will be more as it is written. This will not be undone until finished. There will be signs in the Heavens and you have advanced warning of it. Now watch.”

I felt the atmosphere change.

Me: “God, I am afraid. Please carry us through. I had a dream about Israel and of many of us trying to warn them. Many of us prayed, but I could do nothing except watch in horror as her enemies came against her.

“Lord, why allow all of this trouble? Why not just come down and speak now before all the trouble befalls her? Why not just shut the mouths of her enemies?”

God: “Erin, do you know that all the runners run the race, but only one gets the prize? Run in such a way as to get the prize.”

Me: “Father, is there only one race and one winner?”

God: “I am the Alpha and Omega, Erin, and I sent My Son as it was written in advance what would occur. They were told to burn their lamps and keep oil on hand and eventually they too will know. Please trust that My way is best. It is not for you to have understanding of the race set before you.

“Your only requirement is to let Me set your course and your path and for you to then stay on it. At times you will grow tired and weak, but then allow Me to carry you to the river or the well and give you the living water.

“Let me refresh your soul time and time again so that you come to trust Me that I am the Finisher of your race. Even if the path seems dark, cold and void of Me, I am there so stay your course and I will meet you there.

“Just as there are many runners and each has his own race, the true prize is in the heart of each runner. I have prepared a place for you and each of you who finish strong. To finish strong is one who keeps Me with you so run the race to please Me, your Father, and see if I will not give you up to half of My kingdom.

“Erin, because you love Me and trust Me, I will keep you from harm and you will dance like you did in your youth. You will dance and run in the River of Life and you will drink on the banks and refresh your soul. You will eat from the Tree with Good Fruit and laugh about the former things.”

While He was speaking, I could see all of it before me. I finished tired, but had strength. I saw myself in Heaven celebrating exactly like He spoke it. I visually saw all of it come to pass. However, my thoughts came back to Israel and my heart mourned.

God: "Erin, please do not worry. Her children are here in Heaven and very soon many of the others will be here too. Not all is lost, so please do not worry. If I have you and your children, do I not also have them and their children?"

Me: "Thank You, Father, for meeting me. Thank You for all You have done for me."

God: "Erin, you speak as if it is your time to finish. It is not yet your time as there is more. Would you like to stay on the course?"

Me: "Oh, I am not going off of it."

God: "Good, Erin, then let us continue. You have been shown what must occur first. You are to pray and bless Israel. Even in their criticism, do not receive it, but just bless them instead. They will become jealous because of who you are, but do not concern yourself about this."

Me: "Yes, Father."

God: "Now shall we continue on your race?"

Me: "Yes, Father, I am ready." However, I hesitated for a moment.

God: "Erin, state your case."

Me: "Could I ask for healing? I like how I felt there on the path. It was my athletic body from college and I had no pain or broken bones."

God: "I told you I would heal you, but you must trust in My timing."

I took this to mean that I might need to wait and I was disappointed.

Me: "Yes, Father."

God: "Erin, there are things which must take place for the good of those around you. I said 'yes' to your healing, but now you must trust in Me for timing. When you ask for water, I will not give you a snake instead. I love you."

Me: "I love You too."

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day, for spring and for my family and friends. I cannot thank You enough for Your shelter for us and Your provision. You are amazing, Father, and worthy to be praised.

Yesterday, March 21st, 2015, marked seven years from the date of my last recorded official heart stop. It occurred during a workday and in front of clients and co-workers. I still remember this event as if it were just yesterday.

It was a beautiful day in 2008 and was also 'Good Friday'. I had been very depressed as my heart had been increasingly problematic and I was exhausted most weeks. Just one week prior to this day, I had sought a 'modest means' attorney at Legal Aid to help me get my older son back from my ex-husband.

My ex-husband had never returned my older son to me as he promised to and now he was living in Washington State. My heart felt broken and grieved knowing that there seemed to be no way for me to fight this injustice as, even with full legal custody, I had no legal advocate to represent me.

In a clerical error, I had recently discovered that there was suddenly no record of the county's involvement and the stipulation of my son's return date. As a result, my ex-husband just simply decided to keep him. I was so upset at this deception that I became physically ill and exhausted.

Indeed, I could now barely even take care of the two children I still had in my care. When I contacted the Legal Aid group for the county, they indicated their hands were tied.

County clerk: "Erin, your case is very complex and we could help several women and their children with the time spent trying to help you and your one child. Please understand that we feel bad for you. It is too bad that you are working so you could quickly go to law school instead."

I was devastated when I heard this as I had done everything exactly as I was told to. I obeyed the law and was mindful of all the Court's orders, yet, in the end, the favor went to the law-breaker and I was left defenseless.

So now here are the events that transpired on this Good Friday on March 21st, 2008. I had received the call from the county earlier that morning and I had to excuse myself to regain my exposure. I indicated I would be back in forty five minutes and went for a short drive.

I decided to drive to a place called Awbry Butte near the home in which the children and I called 'Heaven House'. We lived in a beautiful home there and felt so happy and safe there. However, as my enemy continued to pound us, I realized that I could no longer remain there as I simply had no means to live.

Indeed, there seemed no justification for me to stay there and for us 'poor' to live amongst the rich. I now felt like an impostor.

Anyway, I took a drive high up on the Butte and it was a beautiful day. I looked out over the valley and counted the seven dormant volcano peaks on the horizon and I cried out to the Lord.

Me: "God, when I walk up here, I have never felt closer to You. Oh how I wish You would speak to me and deliver my son home to me. Lord, grant us this safe place again, but near Your Altar. Heal us and remove my enemies from our lives. Please vindicate me, Father, for I love You with my whole heart."

While this was not the exact prayer, it was very close to it. After praying this, I quickly drove back to the office. I finished 'collecting' myself and went back to finish my project as my clients were arriving at about 2:30pm.

At around 2:00pm, my boss Patti told me to run and grab a quick bite to make sure I had fuel for my presentation. I went next door and grabbed a slice of pizza from 'Pizzacatta' and brought it back to my desk. While I had wanted to fast on this Good Friday, my brain just felt too foggy and I felt mentally weak.

I prepared the conference area for our meeting. Soon we sat down to meet our clients who consisted of the builder and the architect. I had worked hard on this project, so I kept my personal pain hidden and went into performance mode.

At a little after 3:00pm, I stood up to talk and point to my presentation when the last thing I remembered was the faces of paramedics working on me. I remembered the ambulance and the words, "She's lucky!" My boss then phoned some of my friends to pick up my kids and that was about all I could remember.

What a day that was seven years ago. Now, here I am, Father, thank You. I thank You that all of my children are now here with me. Their hearts are good and we are together. Over and over again through these trials, You kept reminding me of Isaiah 49:25, 'For I will contend with the one who contends with you, and I will save your sons.'

Dear Father, I say to You now, please keep us safe from harm and please do not forget Your promises. You removed us on August 23rd, 2014 just as You stated that this would be our release date. However, You also had indicated that our actual 'exodus' from our enemies would not be until the month of March.

Unless I have the wrong year, which is possible, or the 25th of the twelfth month is another day or year, I know not. All I can do is give all thanks to You for You are mighty to save and worthy of all of our love. May my heart be Your plunder, Lord.

While I thank You for these last seven years, they were by far the most painful of all my years and cost me everything and almost my life. However, You, Father, have met me in this seventh year of my journey and You have fulfilled prophecies or promises in my own life just as You said You would.

Indeed, Isaiah 43:6 was fulfilled in August 2014 and the impossible happened when we were removed from the desert. However, our enemies have continued to pursue us. They have chased us down and their chasing has left me tired.

Lord, another battle remains this week, so please continue to fight on our behalf. You have provided thus far and now I have a strong advocate, so thank You, Lord, just thank You.

Jesus: "Erin, come up."

I was up on God's Mountain and it was beautiful. There was an amazing fragrance in the air and I took a deep breath. This rare Heavenly air filled my lungs and I felt my air passages being filled in my chest. I felt a warmth go into my body and it felt like healing was happening to me even as I write and I could breathe.

I was facing the forestry board in front of the golden door and again there were two charms. This time they were a small gold dove and a scepter. The scepter had a sapphire, a ruby and an emerald set into the top of it and it was beautiful. I picked it up, held it in my hand and it went into my skin.

I then picked up the dove and noticed that it came with a note:
"You Are Free! Live Free! Die Free!"

Me: "Father, am I to die here before You come?"

I quickly took the key out of my pocket and unlocked the gold door. The door opened and the light was so bright that I could not behold it. I felt the angel usher me in as I fell to my knees. I rubbed my eyes and kept my head bowed.

The angel then rubbed salve into my eyes and I could see the Courtroom outskirts. However, even with the salve I was still unable to see close to the Throne.

I suddenly heard the sound of shackles and feet shuffling. I then heard an angel make pronouncements from a scroll as if they were a recital of a Court docket for the day. I heard my name being announced and I heard moaning coming from those around me in shackles. While I still could not see as clearly as I had hoped, I had a good idea of what was happening.

As the angel read the name of each person going before God, they immediately dropped to their knees. Whether they had wanted to or not, their tongues started to confess to the glory of God. I must admit it was terrifying, but somewhat humorous, to see these angry bitter people being controlled by their own tongues.

As they were now in the presence of God in His Courts, every cell of their bodies knew the glory of God. As a result, their own prideful knees had no choice but to drop and their very tongue and lips confessed to His greatness. I saw prideful lips subject to a humble tongue.

The head of a prideful man is the last to come to the realization of just who God is. It made me laugh, yet I felt bad for God as they never really cared to know just how wonderful He is. He was their Creator after all and they still gave no glory to Him.

The confessions of these people in shackles were so troubling. I saw saints who worked in the Courts of God bring forth evidence and I saw family members weep. Despite being in the presence of God, I noticed that very few of these people in shackles humbled themselves on their own.

After each of them heard their own tongues involuntarily confess all of their sins to God, I heard some thrashing about and others crying and begging for God's mercy. Tears streamed down my cheeks as I heard confessions as these were my accusers.

Many of these people I did not even recognize, but many I did. It was freeing to me as things I had suspected but could never prove were spoken and confessed before God and me. However, there was so much and there were so many that I was becoming exhausted.

An angel came over to me with a cup of water. I was thirsty so I drank it and felt refreshed.

Me: "Thank you. It will take days to get through this. It is hard to hear. I have questions."

Angel: "Erin, then ask God. He loves you and He is faithful."

Me: "But He is in Court."

Angel: "Ask."

Me: "God, I need You." Instantly all those in shackles were gone.

God: "Erin, this is a glorious day for you, is it not?"

Me: "Yes, Father. It is a long time coming and I longed for Your Courts. You are a God of fair justice and You are my just Father."

God: "Erin, you please Me. Now, your questions..."

Me: "My release from the desert was August 23rd, 2014. This was the exact date that You had told me it would be back in May 2014 and that all of my children would be with me. Father, this came to pass just as You said, so thank You. However, there is something Jesus told me that I do not understand. He told me that my Exodus would be in March, but which year?"

God: "Erin, you are an arrow in my quiver, but you are acting like a ball of clay with a tongue. You are to be like Jehoshaphat who listened to God speak. Do not be afraid or discouraged because of this vast army as this is not your battle.

"Are you to fight and serve Me up the victory? Do I not have the ability to serve justice to your enemies? Can I not send armies of angels to help?"

Me: Trembling. "Forgive me, Father, for being so bold."

God: "Erin, be bold when bold is necessary as you have now come boldly before Me in honesty. I will deliver you from your enemies, but when did I require anything from you but your heart and your love?"

Me: "You did not."

God: "Very good. Now, when did I appoint you warrior to fight these battles or benefactor to cover the costs? Did I God the Creator of Heaven and Earth send a lone injured seasoned woman out to battle Goliath with no stones? Who am I that I would do such a thing?" He began a thunderous laugh.

"Erin, I would not do this. If you are My daughter whom I love and if you are tucked away in My quiver, then will I not also cherish you even in that day, the day in which I, the archer, pull you, My sharp arrow, out of My quiver to use you for My purposes?"

"You were not created for no purpose under Heaven. If each living creature has a purpose, even the insects, would you not also be greater to Me than one of those?"

Me: "Forgive me, Father, as I am a fool."

God: "No, I do not have a fool for a daughter as I am not a friend of fools. Acting foolishly or speaking with no understanding does not make a fool, but your tongue speaks foolishly."

Me: I became worried that I had angered Him. "Father, nothing I say can remedy my foolish tongue. Please forgive me as You have been so wonderful to me."

God: "Erin, I delight in you so please do not speak of yourself this way as I set you free. When the Israelites were released, they were pursued by their enemies. The enemy even planted rabble to discourage the stragglers; the women with young children, the sick and the elderly.

"The rabble reminds you of your lowly position and they stay behind and call out to you. As you are ill, they remind you that you are not healed and are still in bondage. The exodus means freedom from slavery and you are no longer bound as I have given you your freedom.

“Your Jubilee was your gift and you rested in Me and you and your children were released. Now some of your enemies have dropped away as they have become discouraged because you are no longer bound to them. As such, all they can do now is to cling to remnants.

“Erin, now you have two more battles left. One of the battles is on paper and the other battle is through mediation.”

Me: “I still have three as they have not stopped.”

God: “The third is no longer a battle unless you do not want to be healed. I can reinstate this for your glory or I can remove it for Mine. What do you choose?”

Me: “Oh goodness, healing, Father, healing.”

God: Laughing. “Erin, your expectations are so low. Who am I?”

Me: “Then, Father, please heal me.”

I quickly spread my body out on the floor in my linen dress with my face down. God laughed with a pleased chuckle.

God: “It is coming, Erin, so do not worry. Now finish these battles and live free.”

Me: “Am I to die free? Will I die here?”

God: “Is this how you received this? Erin, when you are gone, those who remain will need to call this death. I can take you up to Me in any manner I choose and at any time. Does an arrow speak to the archer or does a lump of clay speak to the potter and dictate?”

Me: “You are right, Father. When all of us come Home together, the world will think us dead. I might as well be free to them also.”

God: “Then do not behave as a bond servant. I will take care of you, Erin, and I have released you. You will dine at My table and be given means to live and take care of your children at My Altar.

“Remember what I spoke of the sparrow as soon the snow will be gone and spring will be here in the land of the trees. I will give you a date if you would like. You can research what this is on the 9th day, a Wednesday in September.”

Me: “Will Jesus come on this date?”

God: “Erin, there is still time, but this is significant as there are signs.”

Me: “It takes the glory of God to conceal a matter and the honor of kings to search it out.”

God: "You can come to Me at any time as you have a key to My door. Take comfort that I am your Creator, yet I call you friend, Erin. Now, trust in Me to complete a good work in you.

"Some things seem discouraging, but quickly you will come to see Me working and you will watch in wonder at My Miracles. You understand the time you are in as you understand the season and see signs in the Heavens above. Now take comfort as you are loved."

Me: "I love You, Father."

I could feel He was pleased with me and I felt such love and protection. The angel lifted me up to my feet and instantly we were outside of God's Courthouse. I noticed that we had come from a door on the east side of the building. I stood with the angel and noticed that he was remarkably handsome.

Angel: "Erin, soon your healing will come and your enemies will soon be removed. There is a plan still ahead for you as you are not retired to the trees. God is about to take you like an arrow out of His quiver for His purposes."

Me: "Will I need to move away again after settling?"

Angel: "No, you are in the land of the trees at Heaven's Gate and under the care of angels. This does not change as an arrow can be reused after it pierces. Do not get in God's way. Let Him shoot and let Him decide when."

Me: "Yes, okay, I will."

Angel: "You will be victorious in all of God's battles, but just give every battle to Him. He wanted to remind you of Psalm 45. Look to Israel and pray. Study and pray for revelation about September 9th. Study Jehoshaphat's battle, which was God's Battle, and His gift of victory as I was there to witness this.

"See also about the king's treatment of Jehoiachin after his graceful release. Was God not the orchestrator of this? Do not forget that your accounts of who God is were a gift given to you by God because He delights in you. You have been given the gift of God and He calls you His friend, Erin.

"He has also given you freedom so do not live in bondage because you are comfortable there. Your healing is comfort and God delights in your time of comfort physically. You will need to be healed for His purposes, although at times this will not feel comfortable. Rejoice as holy is He Who sits on the Throne forever and ever."

Me: Crying. "Glory to God. Thank you."

Just then the dove charm in my hand sank into my palm and I felt free. Thank You, God, thank You and bless You, Father. I love You.

Dream 157 – God, Freedom, the Cup and the Signet Ring

Received Saturday, March 28, 2015

(Formerly known as Prophetic 17)

Communion

Freedom!!!!!!

Dear Father,

Thank You, thank You, thank You! Your promises are wonderful and true and You are worthy to be praised. We love You so much. Last night at 8:30pm, I was released from my largest enemy. Thank You! It did not occur to me just what You had done for us until this morning. Tears...

Thank You as my last enemy is now on paper and this will be complete next week and then the burdens of my enemy's pursuits will be over. While fasting, my children and I went through all-out war starting with a flood in the garage where our storage is. Only one box was affected and it was the box with my most valuable clothing.

I laughed as I had no need for these fancy clothes anymore, but it is just like the enemy to hit me where it hurts. Thankfully, I have no need for 'designer attire' anymore as I am not able to work until I am healed.

There were several attempts to thwart our fast and attack my children also, so thank You for supernatural strength, Lord. Thank You for shutting down the assignments and strongholds which bind us here on Earth. Now, Lord God, I can fly and I can soar like an eagle.

Just one week prior to this, I thought You had forgotten me. I thought I had been taken out of our desert place to a place where the bleeding of our battle wounds would continue. However, I watched You close doors which I could not shut and open doors which I had no ability to open as only You, Father, had the keys. Now I have been granted a great gift, so thank You.

Jesus: "Erin, come up."

I am immediately at the forestry bulletin board on God's Mountain. To my left is the door of gold and before me on the board was a charm of a golden cup. Next to this charm was a signet ring for wax seals needed for contract signing.

I took the cup charm and it was beautiful and intricately engraved to an impossibly small scale in details. I noticed that the signet ring had a note with it and, just as I went to reach for those, the beautiful cup went right into the palm of my hand and disappeared.

In an instant I had a look back at all of my suffering in the past, but the last impressions were of me drinking from a communion cup with the Lord. The signet ring was beautiful, feminine and set with beryl stones. I put the ring on the ring finger of my left hand and it fit perfectly.

Me: As I gazed at the beauty of this ring and started crying for a moment, I suddenly panicked. "Oh Father, what if this was not for me to put on my finger. I am sorry that I did not wait to read the note." I tried to remove the ring, but it would not come off. I then opened the note: Erin, Song of Solomon is for you. You are like a signet ring on My arm. Your name is sealed upon My heart and Mine on yours (Song of Solomon 8:6). Slaves do not wear signet rings! You are free! Love, God

I was in tears that this ring was meant for me to wear. I was also ready to thank God for everything He's done for me so I turned to the door and took my key out of my linen dress and opened the door. Again the light was so bright it was difficult to behold.

Maybe it was the light or the magnitude of what the Lord had just done for me, but my eyes flooded with tears, my knees buckled and I dropped to the floor. The angel of the Lord came to rub salve in my eyes, but I still could not behold the glory of God.

God: "I am glad you have come, Erin. How are you?"

I smiled as I knew He already knew how I was.

Me: "I am thankful, God. Thank You for delivering us. Thank you."

I felt my mouth blurt this out like truth spilling forth. This is so very hard to describe.

God: "I know you have not understood everything I have allowed, but there is a reason that I no longer wanted you bound by your enemies financially."

Me: "Yes, but why, Lord God? They should have compensated me or, in the case of my children, they should have support from their father."

God: "Erin, money can be 'a bit' in the mouth of a horse and bridle and crown pieces are not what I want you to wear. Is a horse not subject to the rider's reins?"

Me: "I do not know much about horses, but I would say this does not sound good. I would rather ride the horse versus being the horse."

God: "I know you were greatly disappointed at what you thought were setbacks on your path, but they were not. They were walls to your freedom as the giants are walls which cry out and taunt you. Now you have a small wall on your path which you will be able to step over and then you are completely finished and free to be used for my purposes."

Me: "But..." I hesitated for a moment.

God: "Speak."

Me: "Forgive me, Father, as I mean no lack of faith or ungratefulness, but what will become of us? I am not healed yet so how will I provide?"

God: "Erin, you wear My seal when you hold My arm. Are you not My daughter and the Bride of a King? If you are no longer a slave, then you are free. You will not remain crippled and bound to your begging mat. Do you remember that I told you to stand and take up your mat?"

Me: "Yes, Father."

God: "Shall I send more trials that you should come to know Who I am still?"

Me: Crying. "Oh no Father, please no more."

God: "Then Who am I, Erin?"

Me: "Father, You are the Alpha and Omega, the Beginning and the End. You are the Author of my story and the lover of my soul. You determine the days of my life and You even know the hairs on my head. I am sorry for questioning."

God: "Erin, I have plans for you. Now trust Me to complete a good work."

Just then the angel came over with a large lump of clay.

God: "Set before you is clay. Now let's start by you giving Me your seal that you will allow Me to work."

Me: "Father, but clay needs to be fired over and over."

God: Bursting out with a thunderous laughter. "Oh Erin, you drank from the cup of suffering already. I would like your permission to allow Me to finish My pottery, My vessel in you. Can you do this? Can you let go?"

I sat for a moment looking at the clay in the angel's hand. I reached over with my signet ring and I stamped the clay with the impression like a contract.

Me: "You are the owner of the clay and the ring, Father, and You are also my Creator. I have no pen here to sign a contract or even a pair of shoes to hand You one. I only have what is on me."

God: Pleased laughter. "Very good. I am delighted in you and soon I will finish a good work in you and you will testify to My goodness, but you will still be hated by the sons of godlessness. Do not fear and do not be afraid. I will hold you close. Allow Me to carry you in My quiver and to use you when I call you."

Me: "So am I like an arrow?"

God: "Go back to the recorded script. You are not just any arrow. Trust in Me, Erin. As You are loved."

Me: "God, You have given me sign after sign that You are here. To think differently would dishonor all that You have done for us. You removed me and my children by a miracle on August 23rd just like You said You would. You removed the pursuit of our enemies on March 27th. The last enemy I pursue with papers and then I rest and wait on You."

God: "Erin, things will happen sooner than you expect and the recompense for your trouble will not be delayed. You will not suffer shame. Now are you ready to begin?"

Me: "Begin?"

God: "Yes, now that you are no longer distracted."

Me: Smiling. "You are right, Father, I am free. Please give me a few days to absorb all of this as I am still in a state of shock."

God: "Absorb quickly, Erin, as it is time to soar and roar. You are loved."

Me: "I love You, Father."

God: "And I love you, daughter. Now walk around a bit without a bit and bridle and enjoy freedom. Erin, use your legs." He was laughing with a joyful sound.

Me: "Okay, thank You."

God: "You are most welcome."

The angel brought me outside the door and I nodded to him a thank you.

Angel: "Erin, remember Psalm 45. You also wear a signet ring and this is His as a special gift to you. He is well pleased that you did exactly as He instructed so now have faith as your cup of suffering is now your cup of communion with God.

"He has opened doors for you. When a door opens, walk through it as this is Godly wisdom. Remember that few enter in the narrow gate and few even find it."

Me: "I have a question."

Angel: "Yes, proceed."

Me: "Why these charms or relics?"

Angel: "They are just ornaments or adornments for jewelry, but are for you to remember that you have learned to love God and love others including yourself. You have endured long suffering and your heart still is like clay for God to mold and shape. Would you rather have them as jewelry to lament about or would you rather absorb the meaning behind the symbol?"

Me: Crying. "Of course I would rather have them become part of me rather than outside of me on my wrist or necklace. They are worthless there, but priceless in my heart."

Angel: "Then, Erin, continue on your course and enjoy walking in freedom and in truth. Justice will prevail and recompense is coming with God so do not worry."

Me: "Thank you."

Angel: "Do not thank me, but thank God as you have been released from prison and He held the key. I am but a messenger for the Lord."

The angel turned and stepped back through the door.

Dream over...

God gave me a personal word on February 11th, 2015 and told me that, no matter what, I must not back down during negotiations on a particular matter during mediation. Despite wanting to back down, I instead stood my ground. This is good solid wisdom and a strong direct definite order from God.

By doing so, my enemy had to confess to an oversight or 'lie' and a bluff to the judge. The judge then got my enemy to fold and concede. While I did not get what I had prayed for, I instead got more than that as I received something unexpected because I stood. Praise God as my main enemy is bound and my children and I are free.

Dream 158 – Jesus, Spring Cleaning and the Outpouring

Received Thursday, April 2, 2015

(Formerly known as Prophetic 18)

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day. Thank You for all that You have done for me and my children. Thank You for Your guidance via the Holy Spirit and the written records of Your Words in the Bible. I am so grateful for You, Father.

Thank You for protecting us against the enemy's schemes. Lord God, You have shown me something and I am not sure how to share this. Please reveal what all of this is. Thank You, Father, for dreams, visions and an increase in knowledge.

Jesus: "Erin, come up."

I am immediately up in front of the bulletin board and the gold door is to my left. On the board, it read in large letters:
Spring Clean-Up Today!

To the lower right of this were a golden eagle feather charm and a small gold treasure chest which opened. I reached for the feather charm and it went into the palm of my hand. I reached for the little chest and a note fell out. I picked up the note:
Erin, where your treasure is, there your heart will be also. He will cover you with His feathers and under His wings you will find refuge. Time to let go and let Me carry you! Clean House and Roar!

I laughed as right before me was a broom and all around me were memories or things I had not resolved. There around me at my feet and up to my ankles were old photos and piles of thick dust. I took up the broom.

Me: "I will make a path and then go through the door."

As I looked, I saw boxes of items keeping me from the door.

Me: "Oh, I now realize I have work to do."

For the last several nights, I had snippets of situations from my past which were tied into strongholds or places where the enemy liked to remind me of. Last night I was visited by my grandparents who are now deceased and it was a dream in which I was being shown by them how to match socks and how to find pairs.

I laughed as I was an adult in the dream, but I still learned from them. There were several other situations which came up. As I swept the dust up in front of God's door, I asked God for forgiveness on anything I am clinging to. With each sweep of the broom, I was reminded of situations in which I felt above someone or 'higher' than they were.

I repented as God took me back to school yard situations and showed me places where I needed to forgive others. I stayed there sweeping through more and more memories. Thank You, dear Father, as You are such a blessing to me. Last night, I dreamt of a few more places I needed to clean up. Here is my dream...

I have several boxes in the garage. These were things I have been too busy to sort through and remove. As I was taking time to sort through these boxes, I heard a man call out to me.

Man: "Hey lady, you had better make some decisions here. The pool opens in two weeks. Your things had better be gone by then as the public pool opens."

Just then I realized that all my things were stored in the deep end of the public pool which was soon to be filled with water.

Dream over...but another dream began...

I was changing the sheets on my children's mattresses and noticed that each mattress had items which revealed barriers to a closer relationship with God. This is where my children slept. I cleaned up the mattresses, changed the sheets and prayed. The barriers were gone. I joked around about my mattress.

Me: "Sure, while my mattress was about to be at the bottom of the public pool, at least it was clean."

Dream over...

Jesus: "Erin, come up."

I went back immediately in front of God's door as I continued to sweep all the dust of the past away.

Me: "Please, Father, remove any last little speck of anything which keeps me from a fruitful relationship with You. I love You."

Just then I felt a hand on my shoulder. I turned and it was Jesus. I dropped my broom and hugged Him. He was in armor of gold and He had wings.

Jesus: "Erin, I am glad you are here."

Me: Crying. "Lord, You are ready for battle. What is happening? Are You going somewhere?"

I looked and His hair was white and shoulder length. His skin looked tan, but golden and He was glowing. His wingspan was massive and He had a sword on His side with a jeweled handle. The front of His breast plate was like a priestly ephod and had Jesus representing the Tribes of Israel.

Jesus: "I came to let you know that I am still with you, Erin. I am glad that you are setting yourself free from things which bind you. They are small, but dirty, right?"

He smiled and laughed as He pointed to the barrier before the door to God.

Me: "I had no idea I had this much."

Jesus: "It is not what you think as much of this is symbolic. It shows your willingness to clean up anything which God, My Father, might find unclean. It is like a wall which you have erected which you are finally tearing down. It does not mean sins, Erin, so do not worry." He laughed.

Me: "It is so wonderful to see You, Lord. I miss You. I have hoped that You would see me again."

Jesus: "I never left you, Erin. Now, you have questions. Please tell Me these."

Me: "Lord, I have dreams in which I am finalizing things and finishing tasks. I am cleaning beds and tearing down walls. In my dream from last night, I was in a country which I did not recognize. It was a northern city near the coast somewhere. I was unrecognizable to many, yet known to those You know. I was wearing a robe made of a fabric not of this world."

Jesus: "Erin, soon there will be an outpouring and this outpouring will go over the world. There will be miracles, healing, dreams and visions like nothing the world has ever known. A key and keys will unlock those held captive.

"There will be cause for jealousy and there will also be a time of trouble soon to come at the same time knowledge increases. These keys are symbolic, like the time of my death. What happened? Do you recall?"

Me: "Yes, Lord, You had the keys to death and Hades. After You died on the Cross, you went to Hades and unlocked the door and took the prisoners to Heaven."

Jesus: "This can be interpreted different ways, but it is truth that death no longer had a hold on Me and My Spirit was in My Father's hands. There were miracles after this, but few recognize what occurred and the timing.

"Remember that many graves opened and that people were terrified. Who had keys to open the graves? Was it the enemy? No. My Father gave Me the keys and the enemy was angry. These were keys he thought he held and people went from death to life."

Me: "So this Saturday, April 4th, 2015, will we go from death to life spiritually?"

Jesus: "Have you asked? Do you hold a key?"

I quickly reached into my pocket and there was the key to the gold door.

Me: Crying. "Jesus, I still have cleaning to do."

Jesus: "Come as you are, Erin, as you are loved."

He smiled and His wings spread out. He held me under His wing as I wept.

Me: "I will never be free until I am here forever with You."

Jesus: "Look, Erin."

He pointed to the door and it was free of dirt, dust, papers, photos and broken fragments. The entire area was clean.

Jesus: "Erin, these are barriers you created and these are walls you erected. Now they are removed and you are free to walk about. There is nothing keeping you."

Me: "Lord, You opened up my grave and allowed me to walk around for a while. I want to walk with You."

Jesus: "Erin, where I go, you cannot follow, but I will be with you."

Me: I did not fully understand what He was talking about. "I am about to go on a new journey here as I can feel it, Lord. You have prepared me and I am ready for Your purposes. Thank You for everything."

Jesus: He smiled with the most perfect white teeth. "Why are you acting like this is goodbye? This is a time of blessing for you and you are ready now, but you were not before. Your giants needed to be removed and now you are free. Are you ready for what is coming?"

Me: "Yes, Lord. It is bittersweet as I feel there will soon be a time of trouble for Israel and others along with outpouring. I have seen a flood, trouble and fire."

Jesus: "Then pray, Erin. All signs will come from God's chosen land and His chosen people. God did not revoke His promises, so those who bless Israel will be blessed and those who curse them will be cursed. Always remember that prayers avail much?"

"Now you were also shown your hidden enemies and that these are operating in full force. You and your family are protected and under the care of angels. To receive knowledge from God is wisdom. Your enemies are not always revealed physically and many are hidden.

“Do not be afraid, but be aware of their schemes and flaming arrows as this is wisdom on high. Once you understand this, you stand together against your hidden enemies. You have been given special insight for this time to know so do not doubt what the Holy Spirit is revealing.

“This all sounds ridiculous to society, but this is birthed from the enemy’s veils. Remain steadfast and strong and pray for those who need help. Your prayers will release them from their prison cells when done in My Name.

“Allow Me to go before you in any battles with the enemy as the angels of Heaven will be activated and the enemy will flee. Do not be afraid. Erin, are you ready for what is coming?”

Me: “I pray so. Yes, I will be or am ready for what comes next.”

Jesus: Laughing. “Good, but you left your treasure box on the bulletin board.”

Me: “Oh.”

I reached over for it and handed it to Jesus. Jesus smiled as He put His hand with it over my heart.

Jesus: Smiling. “Your heart is My treasure.”

Me: “My treasure stays here in Heaven and then with You. With You, my heart stays, Lord!” I smiled and shed some tears out of the corners of my eyes.

Jesus: “Your heart is priceless.”

Me: “Your heart is even more priceless, Lord.”

Jesus: “Then it is settled, ‘our treasure is here.’”

He laughed as reached over and hugged me.

Dream 159 – God, the Archangel and Breakthrough

Received Sunday, April 12, 2015

(Formerly known as Prophetic 19)

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day, for my children, for my family and friends and for protecting us and keeping our eyes on You. Father, I love You and I need Your help. My heart is heavy and I am downcast. It is hard to know what to share as it is difficult to discern who is for us and who is against us at times.

The enemy is sending fiery darts right now at my friends as well as personally hitting me and my family. Please send in Your angels to assist or grant the gift of calling down fire from Heaven along with personal speed and agility. I know this seems prideful, but I am asking from my heart.

Jesus: "Erin, come up."

I am up in Heaven at the base of God's Mountain. I am right next to the old forestry gate from my dream during my NDE in 2004. I am discouraged as I stand outside this. As I open the old rickety gate, there in front of me are two angels. One angel is the whistling angel I have not seen for a long time called 'Breakthrough', as well as an archangel or close to it.

The archangel was wearing high tech armor and had this massive bow with arrows over his back. He had a massive wing span and his hair was several shades of gold, bronze and white. He had beautiful golden green eyes and his skin was a warm honey glow.

He was serious, but greeted me with a smile. When he smiled, his teeth were white and it emphasized the whites of his eyes. He was truly a sight to behold. Breakthrough was also beautiful with a radiated light and was bright like a lamp. The angel with the arrow reached out for my hand.

Angel: "Erin, today will be a journey to remind you of your place with God."

I hesitated for a moment and then reached for his hand. Instead of taking me instantly somewhere, he took me for a walk after I stepped through the gate. I was in between both of the angels and the top of my head was at their waist.

We walked for some time along the forestry path and then we came to the foot of God's Mountain. There before me was a very long path of switchbacks. I looked up at it and I became discouraged. I shook my head and began to cry.

Me: "Angels, I have been here before. Can I not take an easier route? There has to be a faster way to go to God again."

I heard Breakthrough whistle and point my attention to our left. There I saw a snow covered path in a dark landscape and I could barely make out the ladder at the end of this. I began to cry.

Me: "Breakthrough, I do not want to start from the dome either as this was quite frightening."

I felt for God's key in my pocket, but it was not there. I heard Breakthrough whistle and draw my attention to the massive angel on my right. He was holding the key.

Me: "Can I have that?"

Angel: "Erin, you have several paths to take here. There is the long path with painful memories and a gradual incline. There is the other path where you experience what your eyes have been veiled from and your ears have been covered from in the physical. Or you can simply just go to God with this key that unlocks the door to Him."

Me: "Of course I want the key to unlock His door. Did I lose His key?"

Angel: "No, you did not, but you just failed to use it. Erin, there is an epic battle occurring here and you are being attacked from every angle. You are even being attacked from within your borders. We are here to travel with you as you are coming into trouble and we are here to help you.

Me: "I am already there as the trouble is upon us right now."

Angel: "No, Erin, this is the beginning. You were warned right before the third Blood Moon of what is being formed against you. Look at the time you are in and seven days in advance of it.

"Erin, it is not just you and your family which the enemy has assignment on. You were also shown the beds or mattresses. This is the evidence at the heart of the matter. Where do you lay your head down?"

Me: "My mattress is comfortable. I have soft sheets and pillows. It seems clean."

Angel: "This is not what mattress the dream referred to."

I thought about this. I am careful about my bed as it is where the Lord visits me. I wash my sheets every few days and I anoint it with oil. When I pray in the morning and evening, I thank the Lord for it. I was not understanding.

Me: "Help me understand, angel, as my mattress is dedicated to God and I look at it as holy ground since I dream there."

Angel: "Erin, you do a lot of looking back there. God showed you to remove things weighing you down. Feather pillows and cloud like comfort is not going to cushion a lead weight. You must let this go."

Breakthrough took me to my garage for a moment. There before me were memories. I looked at Breakthrough and He had a tear in his eye.

Me: "You have been with me for a long time, have you not?"

Breakthrough nodded and smiled as he reached for my hand and took me into the path of boxes. Immediately I realized we were in a drained pool. It was the deep end of a large public pool. There before me were racks of interior design nooks, antique accessories and fabrics and items I have saved from my trade.

Then he directed my attention to my drafting table and chair. The move had damaged them. I have had these for years and replacing them would easily cost thousands of dollars. They were in dust. He then directed me to boxes of papers, files and photos. Then past these were boxes of clothing and inventory from one of my shops.

Me: "Okay, you are right. It is too much. This is a burden."

He gave me a side hug and smiled and drew my attention back to the door. As we walked to the exit, there was an old mattress. I no longer physically owned this mattress, but I recognized it as a mattress from ten years ago. It was my marriage bed and was the abuse mattress. I looked and got sick.

I then looked at Breakthrough who was at the door wanting me to come with him. I was in tears and He had a look of such compassion and love on his face. He knew about all of it. He whistled and I took his hand and stepped through the door. I looked back and the door was shut. The other angle joined us.

Me: "I understand what you are saying. I must remove this burden of the past in order to move forward."

Angel: "Erin, God will still use you, but it is not His desire that you endure more weight and heaviness on your journey. You have been shown what is happening around you and this is real and not imagined. You were shown battles raging in the spiritual realm, but now it has collided with the physical realm and the two are now one and working in unison."

Me: "But the dark forces have always been at work through others since the beginning. Why is this different?"

Angel: "Erin, look at the time you are in on Earth. You have been shown signs in the Heavens, spewing of fire and ash and smoke. The ground has shaken and continues. There is an increase. There are wars and rumors of wars. You were told to watch Israel for timing and pray for her blessing. What time do you think we are in?"

Me: "The time of Jacob's Trouble?"

Breakthrough whistled and my attention was drawn to a balcony. This was the same balcony or observation area as in Heaven. We walked and looked over the side and there was the Earth rotating slightly off tilt.

Angel: "You will see with the eyes of an eagle first and then you will see in the realm of the Spirit. Be careful to record this precisely as you are shown."

Drawing of Earth with Moons & Sun in reply below...

I saw things laid out in front of me and I drew the above diagram.

Me: "Angel, is this time now?"

Angel: "Yes, it is. Now I tell you this; look at the rotation and movement."

The Earth appeared to rotate to the left. Above the Earth were the four Blood Moons and the eclipse moving right and level; parallel to the Earth. Then I looked and saw Israel as blue starlight and around her were enemies in red.

I did not know there was an enemy in South America. Others looked like China, Russia, Korea and India, but I was not sure. The ten surrounding princes against her seemed to be from Islamic countries, Germany, Washington DC, the New York area and Philadelphia, but again I was not sure?

Me: "I do not understand all of what I am seeing."

Then the angel moved us toward the Middle East and there I saw the dome over Israel. I could see the enemies fighting against the city of Jerusalem in broad daylight. I could see angel armies as well as demon armies. There was a battle far beyond description and weapons of different types. As I looked in the sky, the blood moon was nearly gone.

Me: "So this happened sometime after the last blood moon? When?"

Angel: "Your job is only to observe and write. Do not guess at timing as this is not God's assignment for you."

Then immediately we had zoomed back out and I saw the spider web over the Earth being spun by the massive spider. I saw the angel Michael with a massive sword fighting the spider and cutting the web. I saw the obscure lights from areas of the enemy disappear.

These were areas I did not know the enemy was from and I saw blackouts in populated areas. This was a frightening sight. All the meanwhile Israel was still being hammered by the princes surrounding her.

Breakthrough reached for my left hand and so did the other angel on my right. Immediately we were at God's gold door and the angel handed me the key.

Angel: "Erin, you have one assignment here as you are a seer and a scribe. The enemy wants you destroyed, discouraged and disengaged for God's purposes. Your flaming arrows are larger than fiery darts so use these and speak in Spirit and in truth. The enemy will rob, kill and destroy."

The angel Breakthrough walked to a type of curtain and behind this curtain I could see meetings. I saw computer screens and demons speaking into ears of friends I have never seen in person. There was a demon whispering, a demon flattering in the ear and a demon on the other side speaking lies.

I saw a demon controlling the keyboards and another controlling the screen. I then saw a prince governing this principality and this power. I saw the full operation of the negative or opposite of the fruits of the spirit. I then saw many Christians being handed over to the prince as shackles and handcuffs were binding the user.

Me: "So the internet is another power and principality governed by a separate prince or princes according to region?"

Breakthrough whistled and clapped nodding his head. I turned to the other angel.

Me: "Why does Breakthrough not speak, but only whistle? This seems odd to me?"

Angel: Laughing. "Erin, he guides your choices by presenting a visual. It is by your own words when he clears your path and shows you the breakthrough. It is divinely God who allows this. Breakthrough has helped you many times by presenting an escape from your trouble and to bring you closer to God.

"Breakthrough is also a beacon for other angels to send you help. He is high ranking and has many who assist him. He sends you blessings from Heaven by God's direction, but also points out your obstacles that keep you from experiencing God's best.

"Right now God sent Breakthrough to show you things weighing you down. You have blessings coming directly from God, so do not hinder Breakthrough."

Me: Laughing. "Father God in Heaven, You are amazingly wise and all knowing. Thank You for sending Breakthrough and this angel with arrows."

Angel: "Erin, I am also a healing angel and we are here to help. Now, you were shown the enemy camps and positions of the princes, but there are more and you even have one over your area.

“You also have one over your physical location and your electronic area in the air. You have seen the strategies of war both in the physical and the spiritual. It is the same.”

Me: “I was shown the sifting of flour and wheat. Is this related?”

Breakthrough opened the curtain again and I saw a bowl of fruit. I saw a circle of friends around a table and the fruit was in the center. I saw them discussing me and, at first, there were flattering words.

Then one person picked up a fruit, each took a bite and their words became envious. Then the fruit in the bowl became soft and their words became jealous, accusatory and eventually lying.

The fruit in the bowl then began to rot and I saw anger, revenge and a desire to destroy. It had overcome the beautiful table and bowl of fruit. Breakthrough turned to look at me and he had a tear in his eye as I cried.

Me: “Are these my friends? I do not do this to them. Why? The hour is late? Why?”

Angel: “The enemy knows the hour is late. Now go to Scripture and look at the story of Elijah. Erin, you know Elijah, but remember Enoch also.”

I saw the curtain open again and Breakthrough showed me Jezebel being thrown down to the ground and then the dogs tearing apart her body. I saw Jehu then going out to destroy Ahab's seventy sons and then the forty two brothers of Ahaziah being killed by Jehu and his men. Then I saw the outer reaches of Ahab's family and then the worshipers of Baal being killed.”

Me: “I do not understand. Why is this relevant?”

Angel: “Look, Erin.”

I then saw the City of Jerusalem being trampled for forty two months, the two witnesses and then especially Elijah being killed and trampled in the streets like Jezebel. I saw the Earth zoom out and I saw thirty five princes over the globe in territories.

Then I saw thirty five princes over the Web or WWW or Internet ‘WWIII’. I saw seventy princes in total and ten main areas around Israel moving against her.

Me: “Angel, so the pattern is coming just like in the days of Elijah after we are Raptured? Is this before or after or both? We must see some of Jacob's Trouble? Is this revenge for what Jehu did to Jezebel as well as what Elijah prophesied? Will the pattern repeat?”

Angel: “The numbers are significant to God when mentioned so take note of this.”

Me: “It is difficult to see Elijah and Enoch being dragged through the street.”

Angel: "It is common practice against God's people already in this region. This is not a new practice. Remember that the enemy has a copy of God's Words too. He frequently mocks God and God's people using the Bible as his guide. Do not be fooled by this.

"You were shown what the enemy is doing now, so pray, Erin. He is plotting and has assignments against you. Those who are not knowledgeable fully in the Word or remain double-minded will quickly fall by the enemy's tactics.

"Many are quick to have their ears tickled on one side and bent on the other. They are controlled by the prince of their region as they easily fall prey to false prophecy."

Me: "How can we tell what real prophecy is and what false prophecy is?"

Angel: "First, what does a prophet speaking falsely desire?"

Me: "Attention and power."

Angel: "This all begins when the opposite of the fruits of the Spirit are operating in the life of the prophet doing it and you will know such a man by his fruit. False prophets will start out something like this:

"They will read a prophecy and decide it is from God. Then they will keep it and covet it personally. Then they will take several things which sounded good to them based on the confirmation and praise of others and chew on it for a while like a cow chews their cud.

"Then they will run the prophecy by others in order to gain approval. Then they will begin using several words of others, both false and true, and will stir it together with their prior prophecy to come up with a blended prophecy.

"They will then begin to hear from demons exactly how you were shown where they will be able to tickle one ear and bend another ear.

"Then when a date or prophecy does not come out as they stated, they will quickly make excuses such as 'oh, I must have heard wrong' or 'oh, I must have been distracted'."

Me: "Surely I have done this before as I too have been distracted."

Angel: "Yes, but the difference is that you only release that which God tells you to release and you have learned to wait on Him. However, because false prophets are anxious to have the first word before anyone else, they are quick to jump even when they do not have God's leading.

"Erin, God has limited your technology for both you and your children. He keeps you away from television and from the prophecy of others. You are tucked away.

"Now when you go to the bookstore and see other books about Heaven, you worry that your books have lost favor. However, this is not the case as your books are for an appointed time.

Erin, do not envy the appointed time for another and remember that the enemy has appointed some as well, even in plain sight.”

Me: “Angel, I am fine being completely removed. You can remove my name and you can hide me away until rapture to be completely off grid and off radar.”

Angel: Laughing with Breakthrough. “Erin, do not give the enemy a foothold. Do not hide in your cave. Let God minister to you. He removed your enemies. He tucked you away in His quiver until He pulls you out to use you. You have a key here.”

Me: “I know you are showing me things which keep me from God, but really all of us. I see the enemy is ramping up. I passed the time of my trouble only to go into a different battle. I can see now that there will be difficulty up until Jesus comes for us. Please, God, let Your Will be done in my life.”

Angel: “Erin, you know what must be done. You have been shown how to expose the false prophets. You know about your armor. You know about patterns. You understand that some of your trouble with technology is actually a blessing from God.

“Take a stand and use your key and go to God. We are here. Soon your healing will come and miracles will follow. Just as the enemy has infused with his elect, you will be infused with the things of Heaven. The outpouring of miracles is coming.

“The outpouring of attacks will not stop either. So it was in the days of Noah, it will be now. Do not be discouraged at the things said of you, but just know where these originate from and pray. You are loved by God, but despised by many.”

Me: “Yes, I have seen even Christian ‘friends’ gathered around the table eating bad fruit. It is heartbreaking, but I am happy when others hear from God.”

Angel: “Pray as this is not for you to stay long here observing. You can let your walk be delayed if you try to win their favor. The only way for you to win their favor is if you fail and they rise above you and then they can say, ‘I told you so’ thereby edifying the height of their low position.

“You have many friends and many enemies, but there is nothing new under the sun. You must continue on your path and we will help you. God has blessings for you if you will allow Him to carry you the rest of this journey. Will you let go of yourself and let God?”

I cried for a moment as each trial takes a toll. With each turn, God grants me more knowledge through my trouble.

Me: “What have I got to lose?”

I then took the key and turned to open God's door. The light streamed with brilliance as I stepped inside.

Dream over...

Please try to love each other as the fruit of the Spirit are, as per Galatians 5:22-23, love, joy, peace, forbearance, kindness, goodness, faithfulness, gentleness and self-control. Against such things there is no law. Then please study Galatians 6 for more.

May God bless all of you as I love you so much. May God bring Breakthrough to all of you, in Jesus' Name, Amen.

All my blessings, Erin

Dream 160 – God, the Number 8 and the Mustard Seed

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You Lord for all You have done for us. Your mercies are new every morning and they never end. Great is Your faithfulness, Heavenly Father. Great are You, Lord, and worthy of praise.

Father God, bless my friends, bless my family and even those who curse me because of You. At this point in my race, I know You are here with me and You still run beside me up until the end. Correction, Father, You are my rear guard, my partner and my lead.

You reminded me that my spiritual maturity is not measured by how great my praises are, but how straight I run my race in obedience to Your Will. You are the Creator of my race and, without You, I run a race with darkness and uncertainty.

I thank You for this year of new beginnings. I thank You for spring, the sound of the water outside my window, the budding trees and the song birds who have replaced the constant clamor of crows. The snow is melting rapidly and the promise of the blossoming fragrance here excites me. Although I have not lived here during spring yet, I can already tell it is beautiful here.

I thank You, Father, for revealing the mattresses, for revealing another field where I have laid my head down and that the past must be the past. Father, please send angels from Heaven to assist with my spring cleaning before the pool opens.

Here the pool opens two weeks before Memorial Day weekend, so it seems like this gives me around thirty days or so. I have the sense I am to lighten my load and streamline my life down to just the essentials.

I give my family to You and I ask that you cover my sons and keep them from enemy attacks through technology. While they are in agreement that technology is an open door, I still worry about them. To be a young man in the age of availability and not accountability is one of my greatest battles of my wars.

My dream from a few evenings ago...

I saw the Earth from Heaven and that above and around the entire Earth, like a massive globe around it, was like a massive second world that encased the Earth. This was the other principality or world or maybe this is the wrong thing to call it, but it basically seemed like a separate world was encompassing the Earth.

This separate world was like a high-tech spider web and seemed very knowledgeable. There were divisions there like states or territories and each had governing princes and workers. There were also Heavenly angels assigned to this world.

This world seemed enmeshed with the Earth and there was a type of fiber optic grid at work and there were battles over battles. I saw that there were portals in and out of our lives, some used for good and bad, all through these screens.

I saw that, as the technology advanced, so did the power of evil and sin. This battle rages all around us here and was difficult to understand. However, I could see that technology in our homes invaded in ways many did not fully understand or guard against.

Father, please cover our household from entry through technology and grant me the discernment to remain vigilant here. I do not want any of my children lost, but especially into our living rooms. Help me not to be complacent.

I love You, Lord. You are my Father on the Throne and Your ways, although difficult at times, are the course of a clear path. Please, Father, keep my race holy and my course level and let obedience be the light which welcomes a prudent path.

Please, Father, send angels to assist us straight from Heaven. May they stand face to face over the path with swords over me to shield me from the enemy. May Breakthrough whistle, 'Erin, this is the way, come walk in this.' May I never veer off of this cover as this will lead us Home to Heaven. I love You, Father.

Jesus: "Erin, come up."

I found myself on the path on God's Mountain overlooking the peaceful valley. I sat for a moment on a little bench looking over this sight of Heaven and noticed that it was spring in God's Garden and everything was beginning to bud and bloom. It was not full yet, but very close and right on the verge.

The fragrance in the air was beyond description, but I will try. I could smell jasmine, white ginger, something like sandalwood, something like cardamom and vanilla.

Me: Laughing. "Lord, this fragrance actually smells edible. Heaven is so divine that you even hunger for it."

All of a sudden out of a beautiful rock right next to where I was sitting I heard a cracking of breaking rock and then water began to bubble forth. It was a surprising sight and I stood up and walked over to the rock with a spring or fountain of water coming out of it.

I cupped my hands, filled them and drank the water. It was the most incredible water I had ever tasted next to water from the River of Life. My eyes began to well up with gratitude and I drank some more.

Water splattered on my white gown, but it first glowed and then wicked off as if my smock was water repellent. My clothes did not repel liquid, but rather it absorbed some and what was not accepted just dissolved or disappeared.

This fabric of linen is so advanced and I know I talk about this often, but I just have no earthly reference for it. It is the same as Jesus' armor and the angels. Somehow I knew it was even bullet proof almost like a metal, but yet it is pliable, flexible and breathable. Anyway, nothing here on Earth could recreate it this.

My feet were in woven leather like sandals of braided gold, but again like an alloy metal. Maybe Heavenly leather is this material and not from cows. At times I have seen angels dressed in these futuristic leather body armor, as well as teens in the youth center.

It is hard to describe without making these outfits sound like out of a Hollywood movie, but let's just say that earthly counterfeits exist to these Heavenly designs. All I can say is that Heaven is certainly not boring.

However, I should note that God does not entertain us or demand, but rather He delights in what we delight in making this Heavenly and not fleshly. Thereby every Heavenly pleasure draws us closer in praises to God and His glory.

In comparison, earthly pleasures draw us closer to the pit and away from the goodness of God. As I took scoop after scoop of water and drank, I felt better and better physically.

Me: "Lord God, I have had seven handfuls of water. Perhaps if I bathe in this seven times then you will completely remove all of my signs of old age. The world today does not respect the aged and we are looked upon with dread, foreboding and disrespect.

"I am requesting something today, Lord Father God on the Throne, please reverse old age in these last days so that we become like we were in our youth. Please shut the mouths of the young lions and grant us this, in Jesus' Name, Amen."

I was laughing out loud about this when I felt a hand on my shoulder. There before me was the angel with the bow and arrow.

Angel: "Erin, your key is in your pocket. Please bring any requests to God."

Me: "Oh, you heard this. Please forgive me, but I have not yet fully taken in this peaceful beautiful valley..." I suddenly became embarrassed at my bold remarks and thoughts. "Forgive me. Yes, I will go before God now."

We walked together down the path to the bulletin board and God's door. I kept silent as I felt for the key in my right pocket. My thoughts reviewed the thankfulness I had for this new beginning, this year after my Jubilee. A new field was considered and now was one in which to plant.

I looked around me as we walked and saw these beautiful tall flowers growing in the forest which looked like tails. I saw colors of blues and purples, but there was also some aquamarine. The site of these colors took my breath away.

I could see streams of light highlighting patches and the beams of light illuminated a shimmering like iridescence on these flowers which only God could create. Tears welled up in my eyes as we walked. As beautiful as places on Earth are, this is easily a thousand times greater than on Earth, so not just a little better.

Here I could lay down in the meadow and the comfort would be even better than the most comfortable earthly mattresses. Even a 'Vi-Spring' mattress does not compare to just one patch of Heavenly ground here.

It is certainly not that I own a 'Vi-Spring mattress', but I know wealthy people who swear by the expense of the twenty thousand dollars per mattress and that they are worth it. I laughed as I walked and thought on these things.

Angel: "Erin, are you deep in thought?"

Me: "Yes, but sometimes no words tell the story, right?"

Angel: Smiling while looking at me. "Only idle words or words spoken from anger are words better kept in the mouth."

Me: "You are right. Heaven is incredible. It just is! How could any angel or being ever want to leave this as it is divine Paradise?"

Angel: "This is a good question, but not all are content with Godly perfection and searched for power and for something even greater than God's place here. Well, now you know the history of those who fell.

"When you fail to trust God for His good, then restlessness sets in and you become dissatisfied with God because of His timing. Those who fell wanted more from God and they wanted to be Him or gods in their own kingdoms."

Me: "There is security and safety here which I would love to have for eternity. The beauty alone is worth it all."

Angel: "Yes, obedience is better than sacrifice, although God calls you for both. You know how the angels fell and how they were given a place to be like God. Now they provoke God from there, all secretly desiring to reverse time. Well, all but one."

Me: "Does Satan still believe he can be greater than God?"

Angel: "Perhaps, but this I cannot speak about. However, I can tell you that men have been taught to control their own destinies. They have no fear of God as they do not look to Him, but only to other men for answers and therefore many are deceived. This then leads into even greater sins and further deceptions.

“However, there are many that God finds worth fighting for and this is why the wars occur in Heaven as you have seen. There are wars occurring daily which you are sheltered from right before your very eyes.

“However, when God removes the veil of the Spirit, men will be horrified and their hearts will fail them. You will only see this from a distance as you will be far removed, but you will witness this.”

Me: “Angel, thank you for fighting for us.”

Angel: “I am not to be thanked as I am but a servant of the most high God in Heaven. Please give all the glory to Him as my gift is in my service to Him whom I serve only.”

Me: “Yes, I am sorry, but I forget. Can I say I am thankful for your obedience to God?”

Angel: Smiling. “Yes, this I receive. It is settled.”

We approached the bulletin board and there before me was a gold charm like an infinity symbol ∞ or number 8. There was another charm next to this and it was a small glass bubble with a mustard seed inside.

Me: Laughing. “Angel, I have one which was given to me just like this from a friend.”

Angel: “Well, there is a note also. Pick all of them up.”

I took the “8” and the mustard seed into the palm of my hand and I opened the note:
Erin, this is the time of Shemini for you. You have been settled to a new land. This is the time in which you will blossom; your fields are carpeted with flowers. It is the time to consider your field, purchase it and work your land. Remember your mustard seed and the function. Faith like a mustard seed! Obedience makes a godly worker. Edifying sacrifice means nothing. You are loved!

As I looked down at the small charms, they absorbed into my hands and disappeared. I was thankful as tears welled up in my eyes.

Angel: “Time to open the door, Erin, as God is waiting for you.”

As I pulled the key out of my pocket, I was so excited to see Him. I unlocked the ‘Mem’ lock and the door opened. As the light streamed over me, the Angel helped me inside and entered in with me. The angel put salve in my eyes and then I could see I was before the Throne of God, but I could still only see the perimeter clearly.

I could see many angels from Heaven lining the Court and that some had wings and some did not. While some looked of the angels looked female, most here appeared to be male.

I thought about this for a moment and remembered that I saw a female angel who appeared in front of witnesses in my shop several years ago. We were all so amazed by this. Suddenly I felt the Shekinah glory of God.

God: "Erin, I am glad you entered into My presence. You may speak."

I had trouble as there were no words at first. Then my tongue, as if it were a horse whose bits and reins were being controlled by God, began to form words.

Me: "Before I come to You, I must confess to my unholiness of thoughts. I have been angry and I have not remained silent when I should have. I have been upset with You, Father." I was shaking as I spoke.

God: "Take every thought captive, Erin. I know every thought common to man. Many thoughts are unclean now as it is a time of unholiness. You have been given a new life through Me, now spring forth anew. Take in the things of Heaven as I have prepared so much for you. Breathe deep that which is good."

Me: "Father, it is difficult with boys to keep them focused on You. Please do not remove them for their thoughts as they have no understanding of You."

God: "Erin, there are others before Me in Court pleading for their sons and daughters as this is the age of deception."

Me: "You, Father, can strike down any son or daughter at any time and You have even allowed this to happen in the Old Testament for evil."

God: "Yes, but I also had this happen in the New Testament with Ananias and Sapphira and I am the same yesterday, today and tomorrow. Erin, it is about the heart of repentance. If you are called into Holy Communion with Me, do not bring in a strange fire into my presence.

"Do not expect to hear clearly from Me if you are drunk in my presence with wine. You are to come into My presence undivided and fully willing to be filled by Me. If you have given Me your vessel to fill, then clean this up first.

"Do not come into Holy Communion with Me and expect a miracle when you are with unconfessed sin as this is unclean. This means also if I have told you to do something and you decide to do it, but do it in part not in full as commanded, well there will be a consequence and it might even lead to death."

Me: Shaking and on bended knees. "Oh Father, please forgive me."

God: "Yes, Erin, but explain why you need forgiveness from doing My Will. Are you pleasing Me or man? Are you guilty?"

Me: "Yes, I have sought to please man. I have done the wrong thing."

God: "Erin, this is common to women as you are taught to remain silent. However, this can also be a lie and a trap from the enemy. Remember that there are five types of lies and that omission is one of them. I have heard your cries and you are forgiven. Now enter into My presence fully. You have questions of Me."

As I began to ask, my cheeks were struggling to form words and move. I heard God laugh with a rolling thunder and it relaxed me as it confirmed that He was not angry with me.

Me: "Father, why is life so difficult for those who love You and easy for those who despise You?"

God: "This is a good question, but comes with lack of understanding and therefore I will ask a question of you?"

Me: Shaking and scared. "Okay."

God: "What do the trials ask of you, Erin?"

Me: Thought for a moment. "With each trial I have learned something, but it is not what most would think. The experience of many trials makes me relatable to others and I am more compassionate to others because of them. More than anything, I have sought You more and more and I believe once I totally remove my 'self' that I will have no need for any more, but..."

God: "Speak, Erin, as this is good."

Me: "The time of trials are coming upon the land so I will be unable to avoid this until I am Home here in Heaven."

God: "Yes, this is wisdom, Erin, as you have asked to be used by Me and not just once, but many times and you even gave Me an ultimatum. Had you been found out to be hard, I would have removed you. Instead I had compassion on you and granted you your heart's desires.

"Now you have been granted almost everything you had been requesting, but for the exception of timing and that which ultimately does not edify Me. Please do not complain about the manner in which these things come to pass and when. If your request is good then make the case for it.

"However, at times the answer will be 'no', but you must trust Me fully and be at peace with 'No'. Please be joyful knowing that every 'no' is because I love you and have more understanding on the matter than you do. Now, why are you not given the date of the 'great and terrible day'? Do you know?"

Me: "Yes, because hearts would change. This way no one knows and because of this we must keep our eyes on You and walking in obedience and full trust with faith as a mustard seed."

God: Chuckling. "You understand that you have the ability to move a mountain, right?"

Me: For a moment, I was speechless. “Jesus said I could with faith the size of the mustard seed”.

God: “Okay, then give me your request.”

Me: “Father, these battles have aged me and my neck and back ache. My head hurts and I am not very active because of this. The very thing that freed me from the desert now keeps me from joy here. The pain magnifies my heart condition and my batteries on my pacemaker will expire in about nine months.

“If I am to continue to have joy through the pain I will try, but I am wearing down now. Could You please, if it glorifies You, heal me and make me young again? Could You make it so I do not have to rely on the government for income?

“I am still not free until You heal me and set me free. Whatever You need me to do to testify, I will. Please, God, make me 100% healthy and dependent on You. Do not allow me to be paralyzed and relying on a failed system.

“Can the end of my war journal say, ‘At the end of her fighting years, the Lord God granted Erin freedom from her trials. He granted her request of healing. He removed her prison clothes and gave her a seat at the King’s Table where she and her children sat until the day the Lord God called her Home. He found favor in her and gave her a regular allowance until He came for her.’”

God: Joyful laughter. “Erin, you delight Me. While you are asking for youth and a dependence on Me for provision, can you trust in My timing?”

Me: “Yes, Father.”

God: “Do you believe I can do this for you?”

Me: “There is nothing You cannot do, Father, as You are the Alpha and Omega.”

God: “Then it is granted. Now receive this.”

Me: I cleared my throat. “May I make one more request, Father?”

God: “You may proceed.”

Me: “Will You grant healing for my children as well as grant youth and healing to all of my friends who are confined just because You can?”

God: “This is a good prayer and sound request, but not one that I have given yet or at least that which is written. Hmm, your children I have promised in advance and this has begun.

“However, your friends should gather together in prayer, make all requests known, agree with each other and state their case. Some will receive instantly and others will receive more gradually, but some will have unbelief that will hinder and continue to hinder.”

Me: "Father, heal them too so that if they once were crippled, then they are healed and that their testimony is seen by many and others will follow. Can I believe as tribute to their unbelief?"

God: Laughing. "Erin, you delight Me. Maybe you should work in My Court some day?"

Me: "Oh Father, You retired me to rest for quite some time once in Heaven and I get to nap in the lilies and visit a lot of friends here. I have seen what will happen in Your courts and it will take special saints to stand there."

God: Laughing. "Erin, you are special too, but, yes, I promised you rest for a while."

Me: "Yes, Lord, and here in Heaven, even assignments are restful."

God: "Erin, be watchful of the time you are in right now. I have given you the number 5 many times. You will see this Courtroom lined with angels of all type and rank. These are the angels at one point in your life you have encountered, but these are not the ones who guard you and defend you."

I looked up and all around and I was amazed. I saw at least a thousand angels.

Me: "How could this be?"

God: "Now as intricate as the evil assignments of the enemy are against you, greater are the Heavenly angels and their blessings for you as Heaven is greater and more advanced. Now understand the enemy has ramped up against those who are marked for special Heavenly assignments.

"As the time has drawn nearer to this 'great day', the enemy has increased his army. Just know that I see all and that when you call I will send help. You have the key and you are hated for this.

"Remember that when you defend yourself, a God given right, the enemy will claim you are a savage, yet they are able to send weapon after weapon against you to take you down and the world ignores this. It is a veil over what is right and wrong."

Me: "So there will be more attacks?"

God: "Yes, there is trouble coming and a time in which many will curse Me. If they curse Me then they will curse you. You must listen to My voice only. When I tell you to go here, then go. When I tell you to turn away, turn. When I tell you to heal, heal. Erin, are you ready?"

Me: "God, everything You have done for me is a gift and You are my treasure and my pearl. You are my strong tower, my Creator and the Alpha and Omega. At times, because I am human, I will question my own understanding of a situation and sometimes I will be discouraged when things do not happen according to what I perceive, but I do know and believe You love me so I will trust in You for Your Will to be done as mine is flawed."

God: "Very well, Erin. Spring cleaning has begun. Finish what you have started. Pray for your friends. Bless Israel. Do not be discouraged as you are loved."

The angel escorted me back out of the door.

Angel: "God has assigned me to assist you in your time of healing. You must remove any yokes and end your battles with paper."

Me: "I have boxes and boxes of papers."

Angel: "Then these are yokes. Therefore only keep that which is a recorded history or that which brings fond memories, but the rest must go. Soon you will not have time for personal projects unless the Lord gives them to you. These undone things are a burden."

Me: "I have much to remove."

Angel: "There is no time like today, Erin, as God has something very special for you. This is why the enemy has fought so hard to remove you. The enemy goes to Court once a week against you and your children, so you must remain in repentance."

Me: "I did not realize our sins were this bad?"

Angel: "Your enemy saves up and has a long list for everyone. It is his hope to remove God's favor upon the saints. However, keep your eyes on God and do not worry as there are many assigned to you. When you call, God will answer and He will send help from His Sanctuary. Remember the number 8 charm and the mustard seed charm, along with the note."

Dream 161 – God, Tempest and Valor

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day. Thank You for all You have given me as my children, my family and my friends are my greatest gift. I even thank You for the lessons, tests and trials that You have sent me as all of these are intricate and highly divine on Your part.

While I do not enjoy these trials and I certainly hate storms while I am in the midst of them, it is worse when you know they are coming upon you and the fear of the unknown wreaks havoc with our heads. I have learned that the joy in a storm is when it passes, not in the midst of it. Lord God, please help me stay strong during the storm.

My dream last night...

I was in a town by the sea. This town was on higher cliffs and appeared to be on a coast of the western side of a continent. I was not sure where I was, but as a guess only, it looked like the northern beaches of Marin County, California.

I was in cliff house which was like a business and there was a quarantine out for the area as a type of plague was spreading. My children and I cleared the quarantine and all those who cleared were to board this massive sailboat over 130 feet long. From the observations deck, I saw that the boat was too close to the shore and being taken in by the waves.

Drawing of Capsized Sailboat in reply below...

It was frightening as the only way off of the beach was the sailboat, but even this looked ineffective. I told my children to go down to the beach, stay together and wait for me to sign some paperwork. My children listened to me, which has not always been the case, and they left the cliff house for the beach. A woman approached me.

Woman: "We are almost finished using the torrents to download files and then you can go. However, there is a tempest coming and we need to leave soon."

I ran out the observation deck to make sure my children were all together. They were and when they saw me, they waved.

Me: "Hey, that sailboat has no rudder."

As I looked, it appeared perpendicular to the shore. I then saw logs coming with each wave that rolled over those who had clearance to board the boat and made it next to impossible to board.

Woman: "Those strong enough will make it as they will know when to duck under the logs in the waves. The logs were set up to hinder those who were weak to begin with."

I looked down and saw my children bobbing in the water. There was no dock for the sailboat to moor up to for loading passengers. I began to panic.

Me: "How will they even get on the boat? How will the sailboat even sail? Is there a captain?"

Just then I saw my children board the boat and I was relieved, but I was uncertain if I could make it. Without me asking, the woman interrupted my thoughts.

Woman: "Erin, you need to get to the boat and put up the sail on the mast. You must prepare the ship for sailing. The tempest is coming."

I looked out over the sea and this massive wall of black clouds was closing in on the coast. Through the clouds I saw a hand come out of it with a large finger. The finger was frightening and it began to stir up the water.

Woman: "Erin, the torrents have downloaded. You have the files. Now run."

She then blessed my right ear, my right hand thumb and my right foot big toe.

Woman: "Erin, you are cleansed of what you heard, what you do and the path in which your feet take. The words in these files came from the torrents of your trials. God is your rudder and your sail. Now go."

I ran with this small disk of files and a Bible. I also had a large scroll of the main Scriptures that the Lord has kept on my heart. As I swam to the sailboat, I passed many who I was surprised to see bobbing in the waves. I looked out and up the shore and I saw other sailboats just like this one.

When I got into the boat, it automatically became a very high-tech piece of equipment. The sail immediately went up and there were actually several sails. The whole control panel was computerized and not of Earth. The sailboat began to move out to sea and away from the coming tempest.

As we were moving I heard someone say, "Stop! There is a hand in the water! We need help!"

I stopped to look at this female hand coming out of the water. It was white as a ghost and appeared to be unclean. It was not human and it is not what you think.

Dream over...

Jesus: "Erin, come up."

I was up and the beautiful path of God's Mountain there before me was in the peaceful valley. It was spring and all was in bloom. There were incredible blooming flowered trees of every color. There was a beautiful water fall cascading down a cliff into a series of pools and the water was sea green and blue and looked like glaciated water.

The fragrance was so aromatic and lovely that it is hard to fully describe. On the valley floor was beautifully trimmed grass meadows. There were so many animals grazing here and I saw baby animals also.

What seemed unique to me was that each animal had both the male and female together with their young. It was not just mom alone with their cub, but both parents together. I saw a male lion, female, and a baby cub.

I saw bears, deer and lambs with sheep and all of them were there together. I found this interesting as prey on Earth was not prey here and all seemed peaceful and safe.

I then realized that I was thirsty and, when I looked to my right, there before me was the beautiful split rock with the spring brook babbling out of it. I walked over to it, cupped my hands and drank several hands full of water.

Me: "Father, thank You for this refreshing water. Thank You for all of this. Thank You for the seasons in Your Heavenly Garden."

I felt a hand on my shoulder. I turned and it was the angel with the bow and arrow.

Angel: "Come with me as your presence is requested."

I turned and walked with the angel. We stopped at the bulletin board to the right of God's gold door. I felt the outside of my white linen gown for the presence of the key in my pocket and was relieved when I felt it. I had questions for God and I was excited to be in His presence.

Before me on the board were a red poppy charm and a deep purple cut faceted heart charm, again with a note attached:

Erin, Remember Your Youth no more as distant, all you have prayed for is soon to come unto you! Your requirement is Bravery and Valor. Are you ready?

Me: Laughing. "Father, You are so divinely mysterious and I adore You. What do I have to lose except old age? Not a hard choice here. Okay, please sign me up. Can we start today?"

Angel: "Are you ready, Erin?"

Me: "Yes."

Angel: "You have the key, so now unlock the door."

I laughed at this, but the angel was serious. I reached up with my key and unlocked the door. The light streamed in and I was again overcome by God's glory. I felt the purple heart disappear into my hand as I dropped to my knees before God.

The angel then put salve in my eyes and I could again see angels surrounding the entire Courtroom. I knew God was before me as my cells vibrated at His presence. I began to formulate words with my lips, but I had trouble speaking.

Me: "Father..."

God: "It is okay, Erin, speak as I am here."

Me: "Father, I am afraid. Here with You I am safe, but the world is getting worse. You have removed my enemies and I thank You, but the storms are coming and Your finger stirs up the waters."

God: "There are many storms coming."

Me: "But, Father, people die at an unappointed time and even children are casualties."

God: "No, Erin, these times are appointed and all is planned. If I know the hairs on your head and all of your comings and goings, would I also not know the time of your birth and passing? If I am the Alpha and Omega and Your Creator, do I not also know the beginning and the end of My Creation's life?"

Me: "Of course, please forgive me, but it just seems some are taken Home too soon."

God: "Erin, would you like to sit here? Do you want to be the determiner of the days of a man? You are welcome."

Me: "Father, I have spoken foolishly, but I struggle at the prospering of evil and I struggle with the poverty of Your children who are faithful. What of the illness and pain of Your beloved children?"

God: "My ways are not your ways and one day when you are able to see things from my vantage point then all will make perfect sense, including all of the wars, destruction, poverty and famine. You will not believe how detailed and interwoven every event is. Please take comfort that I have prepared a place for you here."

Me: "I have been battling a different enemy in a different war right now and I am in shock at the power of the enemy. I had mistakenly thought him to be weak and easily overthrown in the past."

God: "You have seen the enemy in My Courts here. What have you observed?"

Me: "Well, You rule over Heaven, Earth and beyond and You are in complete control and know all things in advance. You are above all and wise and just. You are truly amazing and smarter than anyone and Your IQ cannot be measured by any scale."

God: "Yes, but what have you observed from your enemy, the enemy of man?"

Me: "His intelligence is higher than any man and far beyond us. Many of the charges brought up against the saints are those who believe they can blast satan and his demons with foolish talk against the spirit realm. I have witnessed Christians and Christian pastors speak about the devil with foolish tongues and it seems that there is always a consequence to this."

God: "Yes, Erin, this opens the door to trouble. What a man takes into his mouth cannot defile him because this goes to his belly and is eliminated. However, that which proceeds from the heart of man such as:

"Evil thoughts, fornications, thefts, murders, adulteries, deeds of coveting and wickedness as well as deceit, lasciviousness, an evil eyes, blasphemy, pride and foolishness; all these things come from a man and make him unclean and he is thereby defiled.

"These are the opposite of the fruits of the Spirit. When the enemy presents here in My Courts, he comes with a list of strong accusations and charges. If there is no repentance, then there is no grace and then a trial ensues."

Me: "There are trials here in Heaven which we are unaware of?"

God: Laughing. "No Erin, your trials are on Earth and you are aware of these. However, not every trial is sent by the enemy as some are a test of your ability to stand and remain strong. When you do, there is always a reward. Sometimes your reward is on Earth and sometimes it is here, but there is always a gift."

Me: "So is this why we are to be glad when tests, trials and storms come?"

God: "I know you are not glad about this, but you have learned something through them and that they are for your benefit."

Me: "Is this why evil prospers as there is no eternal benefit to trials of the wicked?"

God: "This is wisdom as satan does not spend his time in Court bringing up charges against his own clients. He does everything for the benefit of himself and his kingdom. If he can immobilize a pastor, bringing him to shame for adultery, then he has often torn lives in two. However, this too is brought before Me prior to the test and the test is always fair."

Me: "So all of my trials have been presented because of charges against me by my enemy? Where is my attorney, Jesus?"

God: Laughing. "He is here with you, Erin, and He pleads your case. Now why is this so troubling to you? Have I not also sent these angels?"

He turned my attention around the perimeter of the Court to the hundreds if not thousands of angels there.

God: "Have I also not sent provision, deposed other saints, given you dreams of warning and even the voice of truth from the Holy Spirit? Have any of your children been lost? Have I brought you to a safe place and near My Altar? Is favor not upon you?"

Me: "Oh yes, Father, You are amazing."

God: "Then please do not worry when the enemy roars, but do not underestimate his power or believe you can stand against the powers of darkness aside from Me. Because this enemy was once of a high rank here, he is of a higher intelligence than any human and you can do nothing against him on your own by your own power. This is a mistake humans often make."

Me: "So we are low compared to the enemy?"

God: "No, Erin, you are precious in My sight and this makes the enemy hate you, but this is good. Now, Peter was given a wise word about false prophets and their wickedness and you must remember what Peter shared about them.

"False prophets malign the truth and their greed causes them to exploit you with their false words. Remember that Peter was found able to testify to this because satan had asked to sift him as wheat."

Me: "So Peter was able to speak about the kingdom of darkness?"

God: "Those who have been tested and remained victorious against the enemy's schemes have a great victory, but also experience the ability to testify as such. These victors then are enabled to warn saints of the enemy's plots and to remind you to keep your eyes focused on Me and to finish with a strong race. Erin, I used Peter to share this with all of you."

"Who did I commit to the pits of darkness for judgment? Did their evil, the evil of the fallen, corrupt the ancient world? Yet did I not spare Noah? Who condemned Sodom and Gomorrah to destruction and why? Was all of this not reduced to ashes? Yet did I not spare Lot and his family even as Lot was oppressed night and day by the sensual conduct of unprincipled men?"

"Then the very God Who sits before you on the Throne can certainly rescue the Godly from temptation and to keep the unrighteous under punishment for the day of judgment. This is especially so for those who delight in fleshly desires, corruption and despise authority.

"These are the men who are careless, self-willed and do not tremble when they revile angelic majesties. Even the angels, who are greater in might and power than men, do not bring a reviling judgment against them before Me.

"So it is from an unclean heart which spews all kinds of trouble upon themselves. They have thereby opened the door of their very lips and thereby granted their own judgments."

I was trembling as God Himself just spoke about how our trials can be granted by our very own treacherous tongues.

Me: "Father, please forgive me as I have spoken things from a deceitful heart at times."

God: "Have you repented?"

Me: "I believe so. If not, and just in case, I am repenting now."

God: Laughing with a loud rolling laugh. "Erin, you are kneeling before Me in the midst of angels. While you are not perfect, you are not here to be judged, but rather this is a lesson for you on why trials and tests come.

"You were shown that the enemy likes to begin his case against you in your area of weakness using fiery darts. Then he will prime you using these and then he will use the furnace to bring this to the surface.

"When he has a long solid list of charges against you, he comes to plead for tests against you like Job and he asks to sift like Peter. He asked for trouble against David and he loves bringing up charges.

"Now, repentance prior to his appearance in My Courts can lessen the trials. If there is no repentance, then the trials are allowed, but with strict perimeters. However, there are cases even after repentance whereby a punishment follows and especially if one sin begets another.

"All is fair though you cannot see all of this and Jesus is here pleading your case and testifying to your heart for Me. Satan is no match for Jesus as He has had victory over him so He can be up here next to Me standing in for you. Jesus is higher than satan, but satan is higher than man. I do not delight in satan."

Me: "When You say satan is higher than man, I am not clear what You mean."

God: "Erin, do not underestimate satan's power just because he is defeated. Satan is still over you daily on Earth and he assigns demons to look after your comings and goings. Do not be deceived by him, but instead do all things in Jesus' Name as He is your advocate. He is your lawyer and He is right beside you."

Me: "I will be careful not to step out on my own, Father, and I will not mock the enemy and his minions. I will also not mock your angels from Heaven. In Jesus' Name, I will do my best to be like the angels who are careful not to speak of the enemy or draw attention to themselves."

God: "Erin, you have learned that humility does not come to a man unless humiliation has brought him low. A humble man is one who is empty of self and fixed on God. Noah was fixed on Me and the pattern from the beginning is the same as the end.

“The enemy seeks destruction as He is the destroyer, but for now he is forced to tolerate you wherein to tolerate is the gateway and root of hate. You have witnessed a time of Sodom and Gomorrah as an evil time and that judgment was soon to come.

“This will come in the form of natural disasters as well as wars and even the threat of wars. As it was in the beginning, so it shall be again and this will not be avoided. Please do not worry when trouble comes to the land as this was foretold by the prophets in the Word.

“Now, read Jude for what is to come and for Words of wisdom. There is a reason for these books being prior to Revelation as these come with a simple message. You will know the time which you are in when all things good are considered evil, mocked and rejected.

“At the same time, all things evil will be considered good. This is the time of reconstituted words and is a time in which you will witness dogs retreating to eat their own vomit.”

Me: “I am scared, Father.”

God: “You are not to be afraid, Erin, as it is a time for you in which the angels assigned to you will protect you and you will be granted great valor. You will have a light of hope for many who are lost and your mantle will be peace and comfort to those who are weary from these battles.

“Erin, now put up the sails and ride the waves. Remember that if there is something you need that you are to call on Me for help and you will lack nothing.”

Me: “Thank You, Father, for everything You have done. Can I ask...?”

God: “Erin, yes, your request is good, but keep your eyes fixed on Me as you delight Me. Turn from evil and do good. You are loved.”

The angel helped me to my feet and through the door.

Angel: “Erin, you have understanding about the enemy so go to these Scriptures. The last five authors of the Bible in the New Testament are important. Please study these, as well as the first five books of the Old Testament.”

Me: “So the last five authors are James, Peter, John, Jude and the author of Hebrews? Was the author of Hebrews Paul or Timothy? Then I should read the Pentateuch?”

Angel: “You must pray for wisdom and knowledge as God Himself told you there were patterns. There are also instructions for you during this time. Remember that Jesus is your lamp and the Gospels are the evidence of His miracles. There are clues here in His authority. There will be more to share with you, but this is enough for now.”

Me: “Oh Angel, one other thing; the tempest is coming. When will it be here?”

Angel: “Eight days, Erin, so be ready.”

Me: "What does the charm of the poppy mean?"

Angel: "This is for you to remember those who have gone before you into these battles. They left knowledge and the last eight books of the New Testament are their war notes and these are good. If they are good then they are from God. Now, fix your eyes on Him and when you call He will answer you from on high. You are greatly loved."

Communion

Dear Father,

Father, Your ways are so amazingly high and there is none like You. Thank You for revelation from the Holy Spirit and for discernment on high. Thank You for Your plans, as well as even for my trials and tests so I lack no good thing that You have planned for me.

Thank You for open Heaven and for sending angels to help. Thank You for sending saints to pray who are alive in You. Father, though at times I complain, scratch my head and wonder why me, You quickly send answers to my questions.

Although You are not always specific with Your answers, they are divinely crafted to keep me running the race. You keep my heart on You and asking for more of You. You give me not what I want, but exactly what I need.

Thank You for protecting me and my family from these wicked fiery darts. Thank You for granting me a ‘heads up’ as to what literally the enemy’s plans are against us. I simply stand in awe at Your goodness. I Love You so much, Hayah.

Jesus: “Erin, come up.”

I am walking along the path overlooking the peaceful valley and spring is now in full bloom. I smile because I know the Lord keeps things blooming here for the entire Heavenly season of spring.

I am not really sure how to count Heavenly time, but I know that God delights in the beauty of color and fragrance so I am sure all time and seasons are around His perfection. On Earth, the time of blossoms is so short.

It is so sad to me when the colors of spring are gone as it is very fast. Indeed, this is usually less than a week or two and yet the season of spring lasts about ninety days? Hmm, I will have to ask God about this if I see Him today.

The colors in God’s valley were so incredible and I literally could see flowers blooming in every color. The bench ahead of me looked inviting so I decided to rest and take all of this in.

Over to my left was the split rock or boulder with the spring bubbling out of it. The water overflowed and ran down the mountain cliff. I peered over the side and laughed as the small spring somehow created a massive waterfall and fell into the beautiful River of Life below. I cried out in praise to our Creator.

Me: "God, You are perfect and lovely. I just love You so much!"

Tears welled up in my eyes and finally fell like 'a waterfall' down my cheeks. I began to sing and worship God in my prayer language. The song was special and set aside for Him. As I praised Him, a massive wind came from the south end of God's valley.

The wind blew millions of blossoms off of the trees in a display of God's glory that I had not expected. The blossoms swirled together and formed designs. Like clouds shifting with the wind, the blossoms were used to create an awesome display of beauty.

I then heard music as a choir of children and voices of angels sang, "Holy is the Lamb." Because of the winds, the fragrance was beyond describable. I am now going to smell perfume to see if anything even comes close to this. I laughed as I did not think this would be possible, so I began singing along with the choir.

Me: "Thank You, Father, for this beautiful blossoming display. I am ready to come home now. I want my friends, my children and my family to experience what You have here as this is just so awesome."

Finally the winds subsided and either each blossom returned to their place or new ones were created. I am not sure which it was, but everything was the same as if He had not just showed me this beautiful parade of color.

I felt a hand on my shoulder and I looked up and it was the angel with the bow and arrow. His face was bright and beautiful.

Angel: "Come with me, Erin. God is requesting your presence."

I quickly got up to follow him and felt for the key in my pocket. I giggled when I discovered it was still there as I walked with the angel to the forestry bulletin board.

Again there was a note and two charms of gold. The charms were a sheaf of barley or wheat and a sickle. I hesitated a moment to pick them up and decided to read the note instead:
Erin, your seven sevens are almost complete. What did you learn?

I picked up the wheat and sickle and placed them in my hand. I then looked down at them.

Me: "I learned that being a farmer is a full time job and a difficult one. A farmer is a slave to the field, not the opposite. Each day there is something different, but no matter what a farmer must rely on God for a harvest and if that harvest has a high yield."

I took the key and unlocked the door. The angel helped me through the door and into the bright presence of the light of God. I fell to my knees and the angel put salve into my eyes. I began to cry at the magnitude of the presence of God.

His glory was and is like the warmth of the sun. As I write, I feel the warmth and vibrant glory of His presence on my skin. I reflected on the last several weeks and what I had learned about myself. Here I thought I had removed anything left of self in me that would keep me from God's fullness in my heart, but I was still holding onto some things.

Why? As I soaked in the presence of His glory on my knees, I praised Him. He is my Creator and knows my heart. I cannot expect more of God and His goodness unless I give up anything left in me which brings no glory to Him.

I must let go and run to Him as He is my finish line. He is my measure at the end of my race. He is the sun and the rain and only He can determine the yield of my harvested field.

God: "Erin, your thoughts. Speak."

I sat for a moment and I felt my tongue vibrate along with my lips. In God's presence, there is no self-control and no lead on my tongue or lips. He is God!

Me: "Father, I had a dream ..."

Dream description begins...

There was a new field and an old field and the old field had toxic weeds and was not food for crops. I decided to burn that field, but the burning produced black smoke. There were horrible smells and I even heard the weeds screaming as if they were human.

I was not a seasoned farmer, but I recognized that this field was bad. I borrowed equipment to stir up the smoldering field as I needed to uproot this toxic harvest from the soil and lift it up.

After I had tilled up all of the roots and debris, I set the field on fire again to burn any roots which could still be alive and plant. I then cleaned all of the equipment I used and scoured it and made everything clean so that no bad remnant remained on the cutters or the vehicles.

I then went back in and skimmed the field with a fresh top soil and let the field rest. I began to consider my new field and began to plant while the old field was asleep. I did everything right or at least as limited as an unseasoned farmer could be.

The crop was then sprouting as You sent rain and sun to grow my crop. I dedicated the crop fully to You and prayed over it daily. I was so happy that my joy made me forget the troubles of my former field and the stench of the aggressive weeds.

I began to prosper slowly, but I myself remained slow as I am not a young farmer. However, one day I discovered weeds growing in the corner of the far end of my field and that they were choking out my good crop.

Dream description ends...

Me: "Father, have I sinned so badly that I should lose this new field too?"

I heard God's thundering laughter and it rolled through the Courtroom. I felt it from my knees, right up through my body and into me. I felt my heart flutter with God's laughter.

God: "Erin, why must you focus on the weeds in fear? You are the farmer of good fields. Your fears and memories of bad things produce the weeds so there was something left on you which carried the weeds."

Me: "But, Father, I have repented of everything the Holy Spirit has shown me. Is there more?"

God: "First, Erin, repentance is good as it shows Me that your heart is willing and your flesh desires change. In repentance, you are fixing your eyes on Me and this is healthy and brings wellness to your body. Tell Me, were you wearing work clothes while tending to your weeds?"

Me: "Yes, I wear the same clothes for work."

God: Thundering laughter. "Erin, you painstakingly cleaned everything but your garments and the seed carried to your new field by your own garments."

Me: "Oh no, what must I do?"

God: "Dispose of your clothing and put on fresh garments as your field is new. Now remove anything unclean."

Me: "Can I just wash them?"

God: "You could, but why not dispose of the unclean?"

Me: "It seems wasteful."

God: Thundering laughter. "Erin, you delight Me. There are many a man who bends on knee right where you are who quiver and shake and are in no position to bargain with Me, yet here you are bargaining for articles of clothing to God."

I shook my head and began to laugh. What was I even thinking?

Me: "Father, thank You that You do not burn me right up with this untamed tongue of mine. I am sorry for worrying about trying to salvage my work clothes."

God: "I have given you all that you have. Remember, do I not supply all that you need? Do I not care about a sparrow who falls or even a toothless elderly lion? Does nature run around hungry with everything on the verge of death? Am I not God who supplies all you need and even the sun and rain to water your field?"

Me: "Yes, please forgive me."

God: "Erin, you must dispose of the past as they are weeds that are choking you. I did not remove you to a good land so you would live in fear. Now Whom should you fear?"

Me: "You, Father."

God: "Yes, this is wisdom, but you must let go of the former things and begin anew."

Me: "So all of this bad stuff which has occurred over the last several weeks is good? Help me, Father, to see it and to understand." Just then I was given a download of a dream I had years ago and It was so vivid.

Dream description begins...

I was riding a ten speed racing trek bicycle just like the one I had in high school and college and it was light as a feather. When I would ride in triathlons, I could carry it to my station with one hand. I was in great shape and spent a lot of time on this bike.

In this download of my past dream though, I was in a race in which I had to pick up one item equal to every year of my life and which best represented that time. It was hilarious. As I went through each year of my life, I carried ridiculously large things.

Soon I had so many items on my bike. I had baby shoes, my tricycle, my first bike, text books, photos, running shoes, swim suits, musical instruments, golf clubs, paints and canvas, a drafting table, dance toe shoes, ballet shoes and a stage

Well, let's just say I kept riding this racing bike with all these things and I could no longer balance or steer. Now even my tires were flat and it was comical. My race finally had to stop because I lost my strength and I was no longer capable of going on like I was.

Dream description ends...

As I knelt before God, tears fell down my cheeks as there was so much pain. I had so much potential, but I had squandered my life. I had gifts and abilities wasted so it was very hard to go back there.

Me: Laughing and shaking my head while tears flooded my eyes. "I see a common theme here."

God: Thundering laughter. "Erin, this is wisdom, but now I will rebuke you. Everything you have, everything you learned, every hope and dream, every inspiration and all that is good comes from Me so you lack no good thing.

“Every test, every trial, every temptation and every illness is also allowed so you lack no good thing. I am aware of all of it and the blacksmith is even given permission to use his tools against you so you lack no good thing.

“Erin, you will never lack anything good because you have Me and you look to Me. Even a lion and their young lions may suffer want and hunger; but those who seek Me lack no good thing.”

Me: “Father...” I hesitated. “...You told me to bring our things.”

God: “Yes, I did, but now it is time to let go. Who has given you these things?”

Me: “You have.”

God: “Who has crafted your very life and knows even the hairs on your head?”

Me: “You do and You know all things.”

God: “Who places you where you are and removes the former things?”

Me: I hesitated as I thought about this. “Hopefully You do, Father, as I would have never known to pick this place we are living.”

God: Laughing. “Erin, yes, I did pick this place for you and now you are close to Me at My Altar, both you and your children.”

Me: “Then why withhold my healing? Why make coming to you such a struggle?”

God: “Erin, your garments carry weed seeds. Remove the former things as now is the time to burn the weeds. Do not cling to the world. Remember, I split the rock in My Garden and a spring of water bubbled forth out of it. When you see this, drink and drink deep, Erin, and let go. Let go.”

Me: “Why not remove us to here and have us leave all of that?”

God: “Erin, for this very time and purpose what was required from Me of Aaron and his sons?”

Me: “I am not like Aaron, Father.”

God: “No, you are Erin, but he prepared himself to be in My presence. Consider your work clothes as curtains. Is a curtain like a veil? Who wears a veil?”

Me: “I never thought of this.”

God: “What did your note say?”

Me: “Something about seven sevens being almost complete and what did I learn?”

God: "Erin, look back on the last seven weeks. Each week in this season represents spiritual qualities in which you needed refinement in order to draw closer to Me. This is so you..." He paused and prompted me to finish the sentence.

Me: I lit up. "...lack no good things. So what I thought was a lack of favor from You is actually items which need to be cleaned up?"

God: "Well, in part, but what have you learned?"

Me: "I learned there are still things in me which need to change or be removed. My discipline is poor. I declare a need for justice, yet I need to let go of things bogging me down as justice in a corrupt system is something only You can do. Without You, I am small.

"I became frustrated at the lack of harmony I saw between Christians and the lack of compassion in so many people. I became depressed and down trodden over things I could not control around me. I then learned about endurance and my need despite my circumstances was to push through in order to soar like an eagle.

"I had several things which brought me very low and I was broken again. I learned that humility is born of humiliation. I then learned to bond closer with family and friends even though I do not always enjoy their company, especially when I do not always approve of their behavior.

"I then learned to remain in charge of my household and be true to house rules and standards to keep things as holy as possible. I learned to lovingly mother and lead without being a pushover."

God: "Very good, Erin, but you forgot what you learned the first week."

Me: "I do not know or remember."

God: "Your love for Me. You loved Me with your whole heart first. You remembered Me first."

Me: "So..."

1. Love
2. Discipline and Justice
3. Harmony and Compassion
4. Endurance and Perseverance
5. Humiliation = Humility
6. Bonding despite self-issues
7. An effective cover and leader

...Wow, what does this mean?"

God: "Erin, the tempest was stirred up so that you could begin to be a leader and take down these strongholds for good."

Me: "So my car troubles, my health, my enemies coming out of nowhere, my children and family trouble, this is all because of this?"

God: "No, those are symptoms of warfare. See the pattern, Erin, and finish this. Recognize problems this week and take a stand. You cannot control, but you can lead and lead with wisdom.

"React in wisdom, but rest and reflect in Me and I will not let you fall. These are small things and the things of the world bring you low. I can be the lifter of your head. Now, let Me be God."

Me: "I love You, Father, and I am sorry."

God: "Erin, there is no good thing I will not give those who love Me. Now burn off the old, remove all the unclean things and enter into My presence lacking nothing."

Me: "Father, I learned something through all of this. I learned that I still whine and complain at times, especially when I was frustrated."

God: "You were given something this week which is wisdom and involves the Fruit of the Spirit. What did you learn?"

Me: "Oh yes, this is funny and was from a story. If I take 1st Corinthians 13:4-6 and insert my name or my children I can quickly learn what I lack of in the Fruit of the Spirit and that which I need to work on."

God: "Very good and this is wisdom. So now go ahead and proceed with this."

Me: "Erin is patient and kind. Erin is not arrogant or rude. Erin does not insist on her own way. Erin is not irritable or resentful. Erin does not rejoice at wrong doing, but rejoices with truth.' Okay, so I lack greatly in a few of these. Well, most of these."

God: Thunderous laughter. "Erin, now take what you have learned and reflect, repent, remove and rest. Finally rest and let Me fill you with more of Me than you can contain. Let go and let Me have you fully as I know you, Erin, and you are Mine. When you walk through the fire, you will not be burned. The waters did not overcome you and I will carry you always."

Me: Sobbing quietly. "Oh thank You, Father. I Love You so much. Thank You for Your enduring love, grace, and mercy for me. Thank You."

God: "Erin, you delight Me. I will see you again soon. You have My key."

The angel brought me to my feet and out of the door of God.

Angel: "Erin, Psalm 34 has a message. God has given you Psalm 45 about you, but Isaiah 42 and 43 is even better for this time. Soon your troubles will be removed, so rest and praise God for your tests, trials, and temptations. He has given you the key to overcoming them, so now use the key. Oh yes, the pool opens soon, so you must finish cleaning up."

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You, thank You and praise You. Thank You for more time here. Thank You for my children and family. Thank You for our home and safe place. Thank You for our beating hearts. Please do not take me Home early and away from my family, Lord as it is too soon and we are finally enjoying peace.

I love You, Father, and I look to You fully now to provide for all of our needs. Please continue to show us Your love and favor.

Jesus: “Erin, come up.”

I found myself walking on the path on God’s Mountain towards the bench overlooking the peaceful valley. I stopped to take a drink of water from the split rock. I was thirsty so I drank deep of the bubbling spring.

As the water refreshed me, I turned and sat on the bench overlook. It was spring and everything was in full bloom. I put my head down into my hands to pray.

Me: “Thank You, Father, for all of this. This is such a joyful miracle.”

I heard a choir of birds and saw what could be starlings create some incredible maneuvers in the sky. There were bands of swirling silver ribbons created by their movements and they were in complete union with not one bird ‘off’. I laughed as I came up with “choreoGodraphy” as perhaps I had created a new word.

All of this, and even our very lives, are God’s choreography as there is no other explanation but God. I watched the massive clouds of starlings fly toward the valley and the meadows or pastures.

I saw Jesus in the distance as He was leading a flock of sheep to the River of Life. He had His rod and staff that was really a herder’s hook. It was a beautiful sight and reminded me about our lives in Psalm 23.

Me: “Father, I did not lead the best life and I fell short quite often. You had Jesus lead me often with thy rod and staff as I was unable to find my way without Him. I am so sorry for all of my mistakes. I am so sorry if satan was ever able to use me against others.

"I pray that Jesus will always be my Shepherd as only He can lead me to the water of the River of Life. He is my comforter and the wellspring in my heart. Then why do I fear? Why am I often afraid?"

Just then I saw Jesus turn and wave to me and I waved back as I cried. I saw Him turn and the sheep followed Him. In the distance was a gold shimmering field of wheat. He guided the herd to rest under a massive tree. At the base of this beautiful tree, I saw the sheep then lay down.

He then began to walk toward the wheat field as He looked up at me and waved again and I waved back. With the sun behind Him, the light created a white and gold corona around Him. It was as if I was seeing a live eclipse, but with Jesus.

I then saw His shepherd's hook turn into a sickle as He walked toward the wheat field. I saw a massive group of angels and field workers assist Him. Just then I felt a hand on my shoulder and it was the angel with the bow and arrow.

Me: "Angel, are you Uriel?"

Uriel: "Yes, Erin. God is requesting your presence. Please come with me."

Me: "Your wings are beautiful."

Uriel: "My appearance is of no significance, Erin, but thank you."

He had beautiful wings of crimson and gold. His armor was gold with a shimmer of crimson on top of this and I have never seen anything like it. He never said much to me and he even appeared frightening at times. I have seen Uriel before, but I barely remember the time before these last several times.

Uriel seemed to be the angel who took me to God's door every time I visited Him. I was excited to see God today as tears were streaming down my cheeks. I looked out over the forested area around us and it was remarkable.

These trees were larger than any tree on Earth. The floor surrounding the trees was filled with fragrant flowers of purple and blue. We arrived at the forestry board and there was a gold coin with the number '50' etched on it. I flipped the coin over and '50' was etched on the backside too.

I laughed and held it in my right hand as I noticed that there was a note with a beautiful pocket watch of gold next to it. The watch had Heavenly scroll work engraved on it and the face was pearl. Each of the twelve marks was a jewel of the Ephod, which is the same as the foundations of the golden City of God.

There were dials inside the main dial and it looked like a small version of God's Clock and Calendar. The little pocket watch was beautiful and exquisitely handcrafted by the best watch makers and artist of the world. In fact, it was divine in origin. I opened the Note:

Erin, remember it is I Who governs your steps, your heart is Mine.

Me: Crying. "Thank You, Father."

I felt Uriel's hand on my shoulder directing me to open the door. I felt for the key and reached for it. I felt warmth from my hand as I looked at all the items. I then saw the gold coin go into my hand. I then saw the pocket watch.

Me: "Oh, but it is so pretty, can I just keep it..." Just then the pocket watch disappeared. "Why did this disappear? It was so pretty!" I was disappointed.

Uriel: "Erin, what good is the watch if you have no understanding of that which you gaze upon. Is it better to hold the watch or have greater wisdom?"

Me: "Wisdom, of course."

Uriel: "Time to go into God's presence, Erin."

I reached for my key and opened the door and the light streaming in and was so bright. I felt Uriel lead me in as I dropped to my knees. I felt Uriel put salve into my eyes and heard a choir of at least a thousand angels singing.

One half of the angels sang, "Glory to God on High", while the other half sang, "Holy, Holy, Holy." It was sung in layers and was so beautiful that I raised my hands up and kept my head bowed as I felt my entire body respond to God's presence.

I felt warmth and healing as I took a deep breath and felt the pure air of Heaven fill my lungs. I looked at my hands and they were a beautiful golden glow. Suddenly I had no recollection of labored breath, but only of this divine oxygen filling my body.

I worshiped God along with the choir and thanked Him for my life and my family. I realized that my children were already now teenagers and that our life is but a breath. I continued for some time praising Him as the choir completed their song. However, I still heard quiet and beautiful humming from all the angels as God spoke to me.

God: "Erin, I am glad you came. Where have you been?"

Me: I knew He already knew. "Father, I have been busy giving things away. I am finally removing the articles which burden me. Then I became sick and I thought You were finished with me."

God: "No, Erin, I am not finished with you. What have you learned?"

Me: "Something new. I learned that all of the clothes, artifacts, trophies and memories merely represented a façade of a picture I wanted to paint of myself. When I wore these pretty clothes, they made me look more important than I felt.

"Now I have no need of any of this. Not only that, but all of the items I had really enjoyed were broken or damaged in our move, so even they no longer make me smile."

God: "So many worries, Erin, create walls to Me. Can I have all of these?"

Me: "Yes, and You can have all my other stuff too."

God: "I have no need of stuff." I heard a thunderous roll as the walls shook at God's laughter.

Me: "Yes, Father, as I know that there is nothing anyone can give You that You do not already own."

God: "No, Erin, this is not truth as I will not force hearts to Me. While I did not create things to take care of you nor did I create you to take care of things, the heart of the matter is in you as I created you for My purposes. It is the 'things' which get in the way. Besides 'things', the enemy works to keep you from Me."

Me: "I see the enemy at work daily and often times I fail and end up a victim to the enemy's schemes. Did the enemy cause the problem with my heart last week?"

God: "No, but he was allowed to bring to surface the underlying condition."

Me: "Father, that was scarier than before my pacemaker and I had fear."

God: "Yes, but you listened to wise instruction and removed yourself from this is a result."

Me: "So I would have died?"

God: "No, it was not your time, but you listened to My instructions and you were spared a much worse fate."

As a note here, I had an 'episode' at a local car wash. My air conditioner was not working in my car and at the same time my pacemaker was not keeping my normal heart rhythm. As a result of the heat in the car wash, my heart slowed and I became faint.

I knew that my heart was going to stop and I was fighting my desire to slump over. I knew the car wash would be at least another five minutes and that no one would find me in time to help me. I heard the voice of God tell me to push the accelerator and drive forward.

By God's grace, I got out of the car wash and somehow did not hurt any of their equipment. Somewhat humorously, the car was still covered with soap as I rolled down the windows for fresh air while some people came over to help.

Shortly thereafter, I went from there to the hospital. I thanked God that the front door was not down in the car wash. When I asked the attendant, they were at a loss as to why the front door was up as they usually always have the door in the front down.

Me: "Father, this really scared me and I thought about my kids and about all we have not done yet. I began to bargain with You."

God: "Yes, but something else."

Me: "I panicked and I did not have peace. I remembered the suffocating feeling of a breathing tube and arm restraints when doctors have control. I remembered the incredible amount of the bills from it and then the loss of my children if something were to happen. I knew that this could have caused me to be destitute."

God: "Your thoughts are many in a matter of seconds. You are here now, but you have not been carried Home. There is no other item which concerned you?"

Me: I was embarrassed. "I was concerned about all the mess I had at home as I am going through our things right now."

God: Laughing. "Erin, please do not worry as I am with you."

Me: "Father, then can I ask for something bold?"

God: "Yes, I will listen to your request."

Me: "I need help, Father, but I need healing also. Please help me to understand what was on the bulletin board."

God: Laughing. "Hmm, this is three requests. Erin, you delight Me. Now, healing and help are on the way, so do not worry. You are being gifted with an increase in knowledge as wisdom is greater than gold when it comes from Me.

"You have unlocked mysteries and discovered things in the Word which will breathe new life into you. I have provided for every need, Erin, so continue to give generously to those who are needy and whom I have sent.

"These items which once brought you a source of comfort have now become a burdensome stone. Heavy stones sink to the bottom of a riverbed, a gully at low tide and even a public pool and end up submerged in water. You and your children are to set sail and avoid the tempest."

Me: "I am confused as I thought the tempest passed us by?"

God: "Erin, it has just begun. I stir up the seas with My finger. Did you see Me calm the seas? Is there another who can calm them but Me?"

Me: "Jesus can, but apart from you, Father, He would not do this."

God: "He sees what I do and looks to Me and this is wisdom. You too must do the same and this is wisdom. Why do you think I have taken you on such a long journey?"

Me: "I am not sure, but maybe because You want me to be lacking no good thing. Maybe if You would have done everything at lightning speed, I would have not had a relationship with You. Father, I have grown to love You with my whole heart.

God: "I see your knowledge is increasing and you are being prepared for what is coming. You must be free to be fully able to fly like an eagle. This comes from letting go and letting Me take you. Then you will remain humble, but fully capable to be used to roar with the strength of a thousand young lions if need be.

"There can be no hindrance of the former things as the former things are to be forgotten. There are events coming which, even though they have been foretold, will still be catastrophic.

"You are being gifted with knowledge of time now and there will be an increase of understanding. Your dreams will be clearer, your life more defined and you will be unafraid."

Me: "Can I request this for my family, children and friends too?"

God: "Requests such as these are good, but these gifts are not received by all and you must understand walls. It is not by My Will, but their wall which keeps them from My gifts. Do you understand?"

"I am God and I will not give My gifts to those who serve other Gods. This is why you have been instructed to remove your burdensome stones. The walls, although silent, were glaringly loud to Me."

Me: "Forgive me, Father, but it is hard in this world today to not be part of it in body and still focus on You."

God: "This is wisdom, Erin. You have been given a timeline in which to tear down these walls of Jericho. Now act. Do this and then you will have your war book finished. Your healing has begun. Continue on your course.

"The symbol of the coin and the number '50' represents your moving to the supernatural from the natural. This gift is greater than gold. In your 49th year you began, but then moved to your 50th year. You are in a new time of your years and will experience more from the Holy Spirit.

"Your revelation will increase and this too is greater than gold. Now understand this; you see the same patterns in the time of My Son on Earth.

The honored men received a great gift, but along with this a great blessing and an earthly burden. Are you ready?"

Me: "Yes, Father, but I am a bit scared as I felt death's helpless sting last week. I pray for Your protection."

God: "Then it is done."

Me: "Father, I have a question...well several...but please help me with the studies in the Word you have given. Why the first five books and the last five books?"

God: "You have been taught about a select portion of Scripture where they left out many things. You are told to read not in part but in whole. For this time and the time to come, you must understand that the creation of all things began by My lips in just a breath. Then came instructions, mistakes and then the wilderness.

"However, after the wilderness came the Promised Land. The last books are the same. You have learned by the mistakes and that which is true, holy and just. These testify to your Savior and prepare you for what is to come."

Me: "So are we in the wilderness now?"

God: "Yes, but it is a far removed world than even two thousand years ago. Those who accepted My Son were given a gift of the ability to yield and be comforted by the Spirit, the still small voice. The written Word was not wide spread, so the voice of correction was a lamp to My laws.

"Now even with My Word widely available, very few understand. The spirit of confusion and the voice of reason have removed the miracles given by My Son. The promise to do even a greater work than He did on Earth was replaced with the seed of doubt and fear.

"The gentle voice of love and comfort was replaced by seeds of shame and slavery. My people no longer have understanding, so they have become comfortable sitting with Paul in prison. They read no further for inspiration."

Me: "So are you saying Paul was not good?"

God: "No, Erin, but Paul was not the Savior of men and he testifies like David and the others. This is to comfort men to learn from their mistakes or mishaps. They were appointed for this. This is why trials and tests are good as it is by these which testimonies are birthed and even churches.

"You are to focus on the Word of God. You are to see the patterns from the giving of the laws and instructions in the wilderness. Etch these on your heart and obey My voice and then you can enter the Promised Land.

The beginning is the same as the end and I am the Alpha and Omega. It is written."

Me: "So help me in my limited understanding as there are keys and patterns in these particular books which will mirror our times now and to come?"

God: "Yes, Erin, but your understanding is not limited."

Me: "Father, I struggle. Why would a woman be given instructions when women should not be leading men? Women have caused men to fall. The enemy uses women."

God: "God uses women also. I now have added more to your reading, Erin. Look to the reasons why this was not allowed. Men are the Godhead over women and this is good, but you were created for this time, Erin. Had you written this a thousand years ago, you would have been burned at the stake.

"Many men have been called, but not all accepted. You are not tempting men into an adulterous affair while tucked away in My quiver nor are you operating in seducing spirits while I am using you as an arrow. Men are easily led astray by flattering words and a lying tongue."

"Marriages are put asunder by the enemy to weaken My army of harvesters. You have been given your tests and trials repeatedly because you have learned to depend on Me. Those who have a broken heart and a contrite spirit are willing to do anything and everything that God asks of them.

"I despise this not, Erin, as I can use anyone I wish and who is willing. There should be no more on this matter. Do you believe I can give you any gift I choose?"

Me: "Father, please forgive me if I doubted Your choice as You are God and I am not. Yes, of course You can give anything you choose to anyone and at any given time."

God: "Then, Erin, receive what I give you when I give it to you for the sake of My glory and not yours."

Me: "Yes, Father."

God: "Erin, I gave you a vision more than a time ago in which you drew a picture. Do you remember this?"

Me: Just then, the sketch downloaded. Laughing. "Yes, I remember this."

God: "Release this as the enemy is about to take this land now. This is a marker."

Me: "Is this not Petra, Father?"

God: "You were told this by men and not by Me. Erin, did I say that this is Petra?"

Me: "No, Father, You did not."

God: "Then hear Me, look to Me, wait on Me and watch for Me first and not on your behalf. Then when I say 'now', then obey." He said this with such authority.

Me: "God, My Father, I am scared. Can I make a request of You?"

God: "Proceed, Erin."

Me: "Can You make Your instructions so loud and clear that there can be no enemy's voice to confuse me?"

God: "Yes, Erin, as this is a good request. Please do not worry as I am with you. Do not be afraid for I am God, Your Father."

Me: Crying. "You are glorious. Thank You for the wilderness. I can see our Promised Land. I cannot wait to enter in, but I know to not move ahead of You. When men moved in advance of Your leading, they perished. I love You, Father."

"Please bless us and bless the work of our hands. May we bring You all the glory in everything we do. May we always be thankful and testify of Your great mercy and gracious heart for You are the greatest gift. I love You."

I felt an interesting warmth which was fluid coursing through my veins and resting on my heart. It was the divine love of God going through me to the tabernacle of my beating heart. I felt alive in my glorified body as if even this was divinely upgraded. I wept as I thought how nothing is impossible with God.

God: "Erin, you are loved. I have something coming to you so please receive this. I will see you again."

The angel, Uriel, brought me to my feet and through the door by the forestry board.

Me: "Uriel, why are these last books of the Bible so important?"

Uriel: "They contain confirmations of the time you are in. The deeper you pray on these Words, the more the Lord illuminates His instructions. Erin, you saw the Lord lead the sheep to water and then He led them to rest under the tree. They obeyed Him as their Shepherd. Then He went to the field aided by workers.

"Remember to obey the Lord. The Laws and Commandments of God should always bring comfort and joy. These were not created for man to lack good things. This is for those deserving more of God.

"Those who are content with the wilderness will not enter in to the Promised Land. The time is like the days of Noah and the time will be like Sodom and Gomorrah. The sheep trust and obey the Shepherd and the sheep lack no good thing."

"The works of the Lord are your lamp. The testimony of those who were baptized by fire and stood through their trials were given revelation. They came through the fire refined and their instructions are the final path to the Promised Land.

"Your life is written on the tablet of your human heart and the Holy Spirit lives in you. Our Lord writes on your tablet of the heart. Therefore live as a testimony to Him. Find comfort in His staff and then He leads you. Do not fear."

Me: "Thank you."

Uriel: "Be careful to obey God and His instructions. When you are in need, call out to Him. However, when you do, just know that before you utter one word, He has already commanded angels concerning you.

Communion

Dear Father,

We have had so many trials this week and today we are worn out, exhausted and sore. In my dreams the last two nights, You have shown me breakthrough. I am not meaning the angel Breakthrough from Heaven, but rather physical and spiritual breakthrough.

It has been exactly seven years and a day since my pacemaker surgery. At first I did not understand why you would allow this versus just healing me. Well now I understand as I am learning how to remain steadfast during trials and not headstrong. Now I am just physically and mentally enduring and looking for You.

I by no means have achieved greatness here, only that I have come to recognize Your strength when I am being used by You. Things that normally would have left me lying in bed complaining or down on my knees begging for mercy and asking, 'Why me?'

Well, more realistically, 'Have I not I proven I am in this and following You with my whole heart. Should You not be blessing me as a witness to Your goodness rather than allowing my trouble? Oh why, God, oh why poor me?' Your answer, 'Why not you, Erin?'

This week, more waves from this tempest hit us. Right when one wave went over us, another was right on its heel. I could barely get my head above water, let alone keep my family focused on Your goodness during the darkness.

At one point, I even said out loud while we were cleaning up a flooded basement from our septic system, one of the top signs of my being right in the peak of spiritual warfare, but joking around only of course, 'Hello, Father, I am Sparrowcloud9, Your faithful daughter. Hello, where is my free pass here? Hello, Father?'

This topped off my week of more and greater car trouble, strange rashes, spiders, family illness, personal illness, financial strain and black outs during some storms. We were battered here.

Thank You, Father, for this test of our strength. Thank You for fresh water and running water. When you do not have these things like water, it is truly humbling. Thank You for sending signs to remind me I am in something spiritual, but not as a result of anything I have done.

I repented more than fifty times for various things and I literally had to take every thought captive as I was upset this week. At one point, while my boys and I were sopping up almost two inches of water in my older son's closet, I turned from grumbling to making light-hearted jokes about us bonding.

My boys were great and there was not one complaint. One of them even said, 'Mom, let's stop and pray.' Wow, and this was right in the middle of all of this. Do you think I might have figured this out since I am after all in a personal daily communication with the Lord via visions and dreams and 'Sparrowcloud9'?

Well I am certainly not as great or holy as I might have thought going into the week. Perhaps this all happened because I had thought myself higher than I ought. Here it was my son who simply said, 'Let's pray.' Brilliant, brilliant, brilliant! So, we prayed.

This is what we prayed: Dear Father, we are in a mess here. Please forgive me for my sense of entitlement here. Thank You for using this storm to humble me. Thank You for showing us the signs of this battle so we know it is not just about us, but things we cannot see. Please heal our house and protect us during these storms so we can stand victorious. We love You. In Jesus' mighty Name, Amen.

By 12:20am on Friday, May 29th, the cleanup was finally over and I phoned the plumbers to make sure we were on their emergency repair waiting list so we could have water again. I was so relieved to have this behind us.

Later during the day on Friday, You gave us several signs of warfare around us, but with this as I was driving my one son to the oral surgeon. On Friday morning, an eagle with a four foot wing span flew right over the front hood of our car. This was a clear sign of God's comfort in this.

He then showed His goodness despite our dark circumstances as, bBy the end of the day on May 29th, He had showed me five bald eagles and one very beautiful young eagle near our home. He then topped it off with an incredible sunset.

God, You are so good and we thank You so much for bringing us through these storms. Thank You for reminding me always that You are in control.

Jesus: "Erin, come up."

I was walking along the path overlooking God's peaceful valley and came up to a beautiful bench. Next to the bench was the split rock with the refreshing wellspring bubbling over the side of the cliff in the form of a waterfall down to the valley.

I ran to drink and then I drank and drank. I counted seven cups full of my hands. I was soon once again thirsty. It was the same time of day as when I was last here. It was at dawn and in the distance I saw Jesus again.

The sheep had just been led by Him to the River of Life to drink after they had grazed in the meadow. After they drank, He led them to rest under a massive beautiful tree. This was the Tree of Life and is the most amazing tree in God's Garden.

This tree is literally all types of trees, fruits and nuts all combined into one tree, but somehow they form a singly beautiful solid tree. Yes, it sounds crazy and like a strange new age concept like 'there are all religions or all things grafted together to form one, like a wide gate concept.'

Well, I can assure you that it is not, so please do not misunderstand my description of the Tree of Life. This tree's massive trunk had many, many rings in its core and the roots are massive and strong. The roots are directly watered by the River of Life.

I noticed that the trunk of the tree was slightly twisted, yet still perfect. How it can be twisted yet still perfect is hard to explain, other than to say it just is. The trunk also looked as if it had an armor of bronze patina. It was slightly green, bronze and gold.

The bark shimmered and looked like metal and the branches were the same. The branches consisted of silver and gold like copper. The branches were mostly silver looking metal and some branches looked grafted and were gold.

There was a variety of leaves and fruit and looked amazing. Some of the leaves looked like smaller versions of aspen leaves, but similar to a heart shape.

The fruit were like jewels and there were twelve different varieties, but perhaps there were even more. The tree was like the picture of God to me in that the trunk and roots are so strong that they can never be lifted out of the ground.

The branches are like the Old Testament and New Testament and the leaves are believers. The fruit is a result of our love and devotion to God. Of course I am not at all sure about this, but it seemed like a possibility at least.

The sheep were resting under this beautiful Tree of Life. After His Shepherd's hook turned into a sickle, I saw Jesus walking toward the field of wheat. One half of the field was golden wheat and the other half was a beautiful deep blue color of wheat. He turned to look up at me on the cliff. I was so excited I waved with two arms in the air.

Me: "Hi, Lord."

I saw Him smile and laugh. He was working with massive angels harvesting the golden wheat. As they were cutting the gold wheat, a fire had begun and seemed to burn up a portion of the blue wheat field. There was not much of it left to harvest.

I looked closely as I saw the fire that was started by Uriel and noticed that the flame was blue and very precise. The harvesting angels and Jesus did not seem bothered at all by the fire. It must have been part of the process. The field was massive. I looked over at the sheep and they were sound asleep.

Me: "Father, what is this?"

I then felt a hand on my shoulder. I looked up and there was Uriel with his golden bronze armor with scarlet or crimson sheen and his massive wings.

Uriel: "Come, Erin."

Uriel said very little and seemed to only speak what he was instructed to. I got up and followed him to God's door. I looked down across the valley to Jesus and saw Him look up to wave at me. I waved back at Him. He continued to harvest the wheat fields with the angels. I turned to walk next to Uriel.

Me: "Why were you burning up some of the wheat?"

Uriel: "Erin, God is whom I serve and I do as He instructs, no more and no less. This is wisdom to obey."

Me: "I saw the flame come from your hand. Why and how did you do this?"

Uriel: "My assignment from God is to uphold truth and sometimes fire is necessary."

Me: "Oh, is this like burning away the dross to expose the purest alloys?"

Uriel: "Yes, if this is what must occur to bring about truth, then this is so. Perhaps you should search God on this matter."

Me: "Okay, I am sorry that I ask too many questions of you."

Uriel: "Erin, curiosity is good. We have been servants of God through the ages and have seen many things. We are different from you, but one day you will walk among us also. On Earth, we walk with you, but you know it not.

"Here you will have seen what we have seen as God leads and you will be without infirmities both in body and spirit. Your heart will see many things as it will approach almost 20,000 days.

"God has planned so much for you here and many things you have not even seen yet. We understand your worth to God and therefore we are at His service concerning you."

Me: "I do not fully understand, Uriel, but I cannot wait to be here for good. I pray one day your times will turn to joy."

Uriel: "Erin, I am serving God in high order, so I am very joyful. However, I take my assignments seriously as it is my job."

He looked over at me and smiled and I felt relieved that he was happy.

Me: "It is not just me who God commands to look over, right?"

Uriel: Laughing and smiling. "Although looking after you and your family is a full time job and uses many angels to hedge a protective wall around you, you are not the only one in need of protection. Times are coming soon to close upon you.

“These times will get more difficult, but soon you will be far removed and observing like on this overlook. Now you must inquire of God to reveal that which He desires to share. Lead not unto your own understanding, but in all your ways follow Him.”

Me: As we walked. “Uriel, I am glad you are here with me.”

Uriel: “Erin, the Lord walks beside you in your comings and goings. The angels are under His command as He leads. I am on assignment from God and not all are pleasant nor have they been, but great is the reward in service to the King.

“His love knows no boundary concerning those who serve Him. When He says ‘go’, I go, when He says ‘wait’, I wait and when He says ‘now’, I move. I am a soldier, but perhaps this would serve you well also to follow.”

Me: He smiled as I was laughing at how wise he was. “Yes it would, but you are an angel of God and I am but a fledgling eagle just learning to fly and my wings are not grand like yours. Nor can I take down legions of demons with one swing of a sword or shot of an arrow.”

Uriel: Laughing. “Then perhaps you should ask God for this or maybe you actually have this ability and you lack the faith to use this?”

Me: “Oh, interesting, I had never thought of this.”

Just then we got to the bulletin board and there was a beautiful gold branch that was a small replica from the Tree of Life. Next to it was a bald eagle of gold and an exact replica of the image which flew over my windshield yesterday. I laughed at this and then noticed that there was also a note:

Erin, you are grafted into My tree little branch, now soar like an Eagle...Soar!

I pulled both down from the bulletin board and they went into the palm of my hand. As they absorbed, I saw a small blue flame. I closed my right fist over the lighted small flame and opened my hand again, but it was gone.

I pulled the key out of my pocket and went to unlock God’s door. The light was intensely bright and Uriel ushered me in to the glory presence of God. I fell to my knees and wept as I felt Uriel put salve in my eyes.

I could see angels lining God’s Court and the choirs of angels singing, ‘Hallelujah! And He will reign forever and ever!’ It overlapped chorus after chorus and was the most beautiful music I have ever heard. This was an even higher caliber than God’s children’s choir that sounded like thankfulness from deliverance.

It made me cry, yet the music resonated with my own heart and it was so sweet. It was equal, yet not this. It was perfect, yet not this. This was a choir which was the highest order of praise and worship solely to God in honor of His presence and glory. The very cells in my being sang with the choir.

It was abandoned, unashamed and pure worship of God. I probably did not bring justice to this description, but this is incredible. Every piece of my body praised in accordance with the choir. I wept there and soaked in His glory as I praised and thanked Him from every part of my being. The presence of God was magnified and filled this place.

Me: "Thank You, Father, thank You for the gift of Your presence. You are my Creator and my safe place."

I whispered under my breath as the music continued, but then it quieted.

God: "Thank you, Erin, for your praise." I laughed as of course He heard my whispers. "Yes, Erin, and I can hear both your whispers and your thoughts as My ways are not yours." I heard Him laugh. "I can also hear your angry yells."

Me: I was so embarrassed. "Forgive me, Father, but I was troubled and surprised at the last two weeks or more. I felt that..."

God: "Erin, speak."

Me: "I felt that You abandoned me. I repented for many things and some for others."

God: "Why repent for others? I heard all of this and it is good, Erin, but not necessary as you are at war against that which you cannot see."

Me: "But..."

God: "Speak."

Me: "Sorry, Father, but was this necessary right now?"

God: "Who is on the Throne, Erin? Would you like to sit here? Have I not offered you up to half My Kingdom?"

Me: "Yes, Father, which I gladly refuse. Father, You are God and I am not after this clearly I would not have been a wise king or queen last week. Half the people I encountered would have been eliminated with a blue flame like Uriel with the wheat."

God: Laughing. "Then perhaps you should look at this from another view. Look at it as an eagle. Now, Erin, does an eagle worry? Does he seem concerned about tomorrow or about the days gone by? Does he cower in his high nest? If you are to soar like an eagle, then begin to be like an angel also."

Me: "I do not understand."

God: "Erin, have faith like a mustard seed as this is wisdom. The eagle is an analogy of how you should be in your walk. Residing from a lofty position means keeping a Heavenly perspective, not perching on a pedestal, understand?"

Me: "I think so."

God: "Storms are allowed to strengthen you for greater service. Where is it written that a man who sets his sights on God will perish?"

Me: "It is not."

God: "Therefore take courage and find joy as blessed is the one who trusts in Me and who's trust is Me. He will be like the Tree of Life planted by the River of Life. His roots will be constantly watered and his leaves will always be green because he fears not the heat of the sun. He will not be anxious in a year of drought nor ever cease to bare good fruit. Erin, whatever you do will prosper."

Me: "You are wise, Father, but I am ashamed of myself for my lack of wisdom. I want to be like the Tree in Your Garden."

God: Thunderous laughter. "Erin, you are like a tree from My Garden, but different as your tree is your walk on Earth. You are not alone. The Tree in My Garden represents something different. The roots and trunk represent life, My truth and also a steadfast love. You are a branch among many branches.

"The branches consist of those who seek truth and obey My Laws. There are two people represented here; the silver branches are My chosen people, but you are grafted in also. You are just as important to Me and both branches produce the same leaves, which are green, and many are the fruit of these together as one.

"This Tree is beautiful and provides shade from the heat and food for nourishment. Its roots are well watered by living water. You can rest peacefully under this Tree and you are secure.

"Even the Shepherd leaves His Sheep in the care of her shade while He gathers those who are lost. He is not worried about predators because the sheep are never far from His sight under the canopy of the Tree."

Me: "Oh, there is so much to what I have seen with Jesus in the valley."

God: "Erin, you are still with Me even after seven years of hammering."

Me: "I think You mean seven sevens, Father."

God: Laughing. "Erin, you are a delight. Your heart beats steadily like your walk with Me. I am the pacemaker of your heart, your lead and your Guidant. I am your gauge and your rhythm. It will constantly remind you of where you have been and where you are now."

Me: "Father, You used a pacemaker term that my heart specialist used. A Guidant is the type of pacemaker that I have made by 'Boston Scientific'."

God: "Yes, Erin, but remember Who really has your leads. I am also your battery and I determine the length of your days. Now, I have plans to prosper you, so please do not worry. Pray for other branches and those not grafted in yet, both silver and gold."

"The silver will stir up old traditions and honor Me by them. The gold honors Me by observance and obedience of laws and truth. The gold are welcome to follow traditions too, but they are not required to. Both branches are of the same tree and they bare the same green leaves and enjoy the finest fruit."

"Now, I have commanded angels concerning you all of your days. Rejoice and be glad for soon you will be here with Me."

Me: "I love You, Father, thank You."

God: "I love you."

The choir of angels commenced as Uriel helped me outside God's door.

Me: "Thank you, Uriel."

Uriel: "Erin, it is God Whom you should thank. Erin, when you see the signs of an enemy advance, you will know that this is a precursor prior to the main attack. You are given signs to pray and even more help will come from Heaven with prayer."

"The enemy then cannot stand up as he is out numbered. He then retreats, regroups, reloads and then attacks. Each time the enemy attacks will be worse than the last until the time in which he changes course to a more susceptible target."

"Remember that the goal of the enemy is to wear you down completely. Remain strong in God's Word and stay well watered. Remember the flame of blue you were shown. Psalm 1 is for you too. The Lord is with you in Psalm 46 and Psalm 45 is your place."

"Meditate on the Laws and Commandments of God and look to the last books of the Bible for more about this time. This will nourish your soul and you will be blessed."

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day, for my family and for our safe place nestled in the trees. Thank You for spring, fresh air and the sounds of birds singing. Thank You for loving me despite my lack of joy amidst my daily grind.

Father, two of my children travel soon and they will be gone for eight weeks. I am struggling as I must let them go by law to a place where I am hated beyond reason. I have been accused of so many things which I have never done and it hurts.

Please heal them before they return so they are a witness to Your great goodness. Please heal my son who stays here as he is rejected and downcast right now. Father, please heal my mother and appear to her.

I must travel soon. Perhaps you might just heal me prior to this as I am in pain, Father. My left arm is very weak now and I cannot even carry a simple bag or reach for a glass of water without great pain.

Father, another thing has happened to our car this week. Why? I now have two more scheduled appointments. I pray for healing of this car as I do not want the burden or the debt of a new one or an old one.

Father, as You are coming soon, please fix what is broken so I have no worries before You arrive. Thank You for bringing us this far with everything. Thank You for Your continued care. I love You.

Jesus: "Erin, come up."

I am on the path and ahead of me is the bench overlooking God's valley. I first drank from this beautiful miraculous spring from the rock. I take the water and splash my face seven times. Then I drank again as I was so thirsty for this divine water.

I turn to sit on the bench and noticed that the valley is illuminated with golden light from the south end. I followed the light and expect to see the sun, but I laughed as I saw the Lord Jesus waving to me instead.

As I jumped to my feet, I noticed that He was still harvesting wheat. The sun shone behind Him and all around Him, but from my vantage point He is always much brighter than the sun. My heart skipped a beat.

Me: "Father, forgive me for worrying about my car. This is such a dumb thing to worry about as there is a reason for everything that You do. I am being refined right now, but I am so tired that I cannot even imagine living to my 20,000th day.

When I know I am under spiritual heaviness or attack, I will often smell dirt or dust, but it seems others do not smell what I do. Here in Heaven I smell fragrant jasmine, roses, fresh grass and something like fresh bread and apples and it smelled wonderful."

I watched Jesus working with the angels for some time and noticed that He was so focused and extremely skillful. I scanned the valley for the flock of sheep and they were resting below the Tree of Life.

There I saw colors of purple, fuchsia, blue and green, but gold was the prominent color. I noticed that the angel Uriel was no longer there in the wheat field. I then felt a hand on my shoulder.

Uriel: "Come, Erin, God requests your presence now."

Instead of following Uriel immediately, I dropped to my knees in front of the beautiful valley and thanked God.

Me: "Father, forgive me. Please forgive my complaining. I want all You have to offer. Nothing by my own hands or efforts can bring You glory. I pray my heart remains steadfast, but it is broken. I love You, Lord, and I love You, Father God, Amen."

I stood up and took a drink with my cupped hands and I felt refreshed. I ran over to Uriel as tears streamed down my cheeks. I was humbled this last week and now I am tired. In Heaven, I feel so alive, but on Earth, I feel dead, or should I say that my body is wasting away.

As I walked with Uriel, I remained quiet. We got to the bulletin board outside of God's door and there was a charm of one inch replica gold menorah. Next to this was a beautiful silver coin or like a coin.

As I studied it, I noticed that it had intense carvings and a small blue diamond in the center. Hmm, this could not be a coin as it was much too ornate. I seemed of a great price.

There was some Hebrew writing and several characters of which I did not know. I flipped the coin over and on the back was written 20,000. I then opened a note that was attached with this coin:

Erin, you have great worth! 20,000 talents in measure do not compare. Your lamp burns bright and you are a jewel in My crown! Remain steadfast of heart during this time! You are loved and are of great worth.

I was crying as I put both the gold lampstand or menorah charm and the 20,000 coin charm in my right hand. As I did, they embedded in my hand. As the small gold menorah began to sink, seven small flames lit with one on each lamp.

I felt warmth and even my discouragement at the continued storms were removed from my mind. I felt a warm smoldering in my heart and my heart burned for more of God. My heart felt like a heart ablaze for God and is hard to describe but is definitely not the same as earthly heartburn.

Uriel ushered me into God's door. Although the key was still in my pocket, today I did not use it. Instead of bringing me inside the door about five steps, Uriel instead ushered me in even closer to God's presence. Then I fell to my knees and prayed.

I heard the choir of angels sing a new song, but it was still familiar as it was about God's glory, majesty and love forever and ever. I had not heard this song before. There were angels in the background singing Hallelujah over and over again.

The beautiful song overlapped and rose higher as truly God's choirs are the most amazing music I have ever heard. When the angels sing, my entire spirit is completely uplifted. The song is so beautiful that I never want it to end.

This is always like Heaven, where I never want these trips to stop. I never want Heaven to have an end as I feel completely alive and well here. My tired body on Earth is healed in Heaven.

I began to give thanks to God for everything and I praised Him with joy and wept with gratitude at the same time. My heart was sick as I truly was and am a complainer. Under my breath, I whispered to God.

Me: "Father, please forgive me."

God: "Erin, you are forgiven. Now, what troubles your heart? Speak, Erin."

Me: I hesitated. "I am so sorry for complaining. I have been confused and upset, yet I still have faith that You will take care of everything. Am I being double-minded?"

God: Laughing. "You could not be here now if you were undecided about Who I am. No, Erin, you are frustrated and carefully submitting your words to Me. Now, spill out truth as am I not a big God?"

Me: "My mouth could be the reason for my troubles. I do not want You to strike me with leprosy like Miriam."

God: "Erin, read the story again. Though Miriam spoke truth to Moses, she had did so with the intent to injure him as well as for her pride. This is different unless you are speaking truth to Me in an attempt to hurt Me?"

Me: "Oh no, Lord, not at all. I just felt that my complaining is causing me worse trouble. Father, this last several weeks have been riddled with mishaps and trouble and I believe I should be free of this."

God: "Please explain."

Me: "I love You, run after You and my every thought is on You daily. I also cherish You and all that You have done for me. However, I am confused as You continue to allow the enemy to send trouble even though he knows it will not drive me away from You. What have I done that makes You anger against me so?"

"My mother is very ill, my health is poor and my car has been in the shop six times over the last few weeks. Medical bills are coming in again and there are many other things such as the flooded basement and the unexpected medical trip. When will it stop? What can I do? Why, Father?"

God: "Thank You for telling Me what is on your heart despite your fear in doing so."

Me: "Father, I am a daughter of the King of kings and the Lord of lords. I am not a small bug to be squashed under the enemy's shoe, yet even with my faith I must be small as I know that without great faith it is impossible to please You. Lord, I must not please You right now."

God: "To Whom are you putting your trust in? Are you putting your trust in Me or man? I gave you a dream recently and a Word with this. Do you remember?"

Me: "Yes, Father, my dream was about a woman from twenty years ago. She was the pastor's secretary from my church in Portland, but I cannot even remember her name. I was checking in to see an important and one of the best Neurosurgeons."

"While I was checking in, next to me was a set of eight by ten glossy photos. The photos were pictures of this mutilated woman made whole by human doctors. Each photo represented stages of her procedures from beginning to the final result."

God: "What was the final result, Erin?"

Me: "Oh, it was horrible. While she lived, she looked even more disfigured, scarred and mutilated than when she first was under their care."

God: "Then by man's hands and means and by the power of great earthly physicians, she was still no better than before?"

Me: "Yes, then the physicians came in and bragged about the miracles concerning her procedures."

God: "What was the reason for this dream?"

Me: "I am not fully certain, but I know it is better for You to be God than man to play god."

I was quiet and kept my head down even though I had so much to say.

God: "Erin, speak in truth."

Me: "Father, I have no feeling in my left forearm. My mom needs a blood transfusion and she is dying. I have friends who cannot walk. Please, Father, are You saying we are not to trust in the doctors that You send us? Help me to understand."

God: "Erin, you are missing My point as you must continue to live, but let Me be your physician so everything in you is made perfect. Do not be disheartened when tests come and do not lose courage through your trials. These are allowed so you lack no good thing.

"Relying on man to react or perform can only result in bad human efforts. Who is a better builder of your house? Who is your capstone? Where do your foundations lie?"

Me: "Father, then please forgive me if I have relied on men, physicians or mechanics instead of You. I thought You sent them?"

God: "You have requested healing for you and your car. I know your struggles and your worries, but there is more. You are in fear about time. Each day to you is viewed as another day lost and one you cannot get back and you are frozen. However, what about your dreams, Erin? Why are you not worried about these and your ministry?"

Me: "Father, the ministry and dreams are 100% Yours. These dreams are not mine and this is all You. I know You will do everything according to Your plans and not my efforts."

God: "Then if your ministry and dreams are mine, what are you to Me?"

Me: Crying. "I am Yours and I am a daughter of the King."

God: "Then, Erin, live free and allow Me to be your Godhead as I have plans to heal you and prosper you. You have had forty days of tests one after another and, without realizing it, you have endured them.

"However, a new group of forty has begun. The first forty were to give you a steadfast heart, but this forty is sent to test your enduring love and patience. Soon after this your healing will come."

Me: Crying. "You mean this will become even more difficult? Oh no, Father, why? I thought all of my trials were over?"

God: "Erin, you were delivered from your enemies from the desert into your Promised Land. Did you think that your Promised Land would be without tests? What do you learn from these and why do I send them?"

Me: I was quick to blurt back an answer. "I have no idea! Forgive me, but I believed that You had delivered us to a Godly place free from my enemies. I can learn from tests in which You allow and now I am learning to love through trouble.

"I am learning to endure through tragedy and I am learning to press on through pain. I am learning to hear Your still small voice when my troubles are yelling at me. I have learned to rely on You.

"I have no income at all, but you have sustained us. The minute I am hit with bad news, You finish it with good news. There have been a series of pounding little tests."

God: "You are coping with faith and prayer. You have been slow to anger and your tongue speaks truth in love and not condemnation. Erin, I know you have been upset and I know you have cried."

Me: "Your Word says that the power of life and death is in our tongues and we basically will be required to eat our words if these remain untested (Proverbs 18:21). Jesus said that it is by our words that we will be acquitted and by our words we will be condemned (Matthew 12:37).

"Father, I chose the following Word as I fear my tongue at times, actually many times: 'May these words of my mouth and the meditation of my heart be pleasing in Your sight, Lord my rock and my redeemer' (Psalm 19:14)"

God: "Erin, like Joshua, your faith will move you into My promises. Joshua overcame his tests and obstacles ahead of him and took possession of the Promised Land. In this case, now your Promised Land is the promises I have given you. Remember Jericho. You can melt in fear when you see the impossible walls set before you or you can have faith that I am who I say I am."

Me: "Father, Joshua was healthy, fit and young, but who am I?"

God: "Did I call you or disqualify you? Erin, repent."

Me: "Please forgive me, Father. I am sorry to not feel joyful about another forty days of punishment. Father, I give You my life and I dedicate all I have to You for Your purposes. I do not fully understand all of this, but by faith I will proceed.

"When I am not perfect, as I am certain I will not be, I will need You, Father, to please have mercy on me. Remember in Numbers 14: 18-19, 'The Lord is slow to anger and abounding in steadfast love, forgiving iniquity and transgression...'

"Pardon the iniquity of me and my children, I pray, according to the greatness of Your mercy, just as You have forgiven us up until now."

God: Laughing. "Done, Erin, but this will still not be an easy time for you. You were given the lampstand to be a light in truth to others. You are a light in truth to others and are a light in the world. This is also a new gift for you of revelation and truth.

“This lampstand is made of hammered gold and it is of great value. The coin symbolizes your great worth to Me. Your talents are of great value and much care has been given to you because you pursue Me.

“Your hammering and your pain has made you more like Jesus, My Son. Jesus was tempted after forty days in the desert prior to His time of Ministry. Show Me where it is written that the Son of God was free from trouble?

“Erin, forty is a number of testing, preparation and leadership and the coming of something new. This is a pattern. Remember that I am the same yesterday, today and tomorrow.”

Me: “Forgive me, Father; but I have a question for You.”

God: “Yes, speak.”

Me: “Was Jesus tempted during the forty days or right after?”

God: “This question is good. When you fast with no food, what does satan test you with?”

Me: Smiling. “Food.”

God: “When you are weak after no food, what do you lack?”

Me: “The ability to do anything on my own.”

God: “Then knowing you have passed these two tests and have pleased Me, what does the enemy do?”

Me: “The enemy offers you all kinds of promises to get you to run after him in pursuit of other gods, thereby removing the favor You just gave.”

God: “Very good. Now does it really matter if it happens during the forty days or right after?”

Me: “I guess not, but I would think it would be harder to last forty days if the enemy is talking to you about food.”

God: “Actually it is difficult either way and should not matter unless Jesus was at risk of falling. He was not. Tests are given to prove your love and endurance and this is a good thing.”

Me: “I am not excited for more tests, but I pray for Your sheltering hand over me. Please shield me, Father, and keep me safe. Please keep my heart steadfast and my love ever enduring. Keep my feet from stumbling. I thank You, Lord God, for never giving up on me. I love You.”

God: “I love you too, Erin.”

Uriel ushered me outside the golden door.

Uriel: "Remember, Erin, to study the number forty as He requests. Look also at tests, trials and fifty days. You will soon finish so do not worry. God has provided for all your needs in advance as you are the King's daughter."

Dream 166 – God, the Dove and the Lily

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day on this battlefield of life. These last few days have been marked with loss, grief and unspeakable sorrow. Just when I think life should stop for a moment and give us time to regroup, rest and gradually get used to a change of direction, life continues, the sun goes down, darkness falls and the sun rises again.

One of my children said, 'Yesterday is history, tomorrow is a mystery and today is a gift, this is why it is called the present.' When one of my boys was very young, he memorized this from a movie and it stayed with him.

My heart has been grieving for the last week and even before as I have been dealing with so many deeply personal issues. These were things I had put on a shelf praying for Rapture prior to dealing with much of this.

However, God is infinitely wise and He is requiring me to finish well. In order for me to lighten my burdens, He is requiring me to hand Him all things which are heaviest on my heart. When my heart is heavy then my shoulders give under the weight of the gravity of pressure and sorrow.

Things around me in which I have ignored for lack of time suddenly come to the forefront. God is calling and I have stepped out onto the waters in a tumultuous storm. I see Jesus and desire to run to Him, yet I desire to run back to the boat.

The boat represents a familiar place. While it is not fully viable in a storm on high seas, I have been there before. Seeing Jesus on the water, calling out to me, well, He is my heart's desire, but there is an ocean between us and the Ocean is foreboding.

My self begins to negotiate worldly sense into me. Self is the same as flesh except that flesh contains the letter 'h'. I consider self and flesh to be of the enemy and the two seem to work in unison.

In this final forty days, I must remove the final portions weighing me down and causing fleshly desires. This is like running back to familiar territory or the boat. In order to run on water or walk on water, Jesus must be the only thing our eyes are fixed upon.

With my eyes only on Him, the ocean does not exist and the storm is only a breeze. My heart faints at the sight of His outstretched arms wanting to receive me. Jesus loves me and not just me either. He is there at the same place where you are to receive you unto Him. Father, forgive me and forgive my focus on the boat instead of trusting in You.

My mother has been very sick and she is not healing. She clings to life and I sense fear in her voice. I remembered back when I did not understand death and I would wake up in a suffocating panic during my sleep. I had a horrible sense of dread and fear.

I clung to life and I hung on every breath. Yet when my heart stopped on Good Friday, March 21st, 2008, I never saw it coming and in a second I was gone. The panic I had felt was fear of the unknown and maybe death was the ocean. You reached in and brought me out to a safe place.

Father, please reconcile my mother so that she has peace. Her breath is labored and soon I will need to travel. I pray it is before she is no longer here. A good friend of mine recently died and he is now with You, Lord. This is a difficult and bittersweet symphony in my heart. Lord, how do I reconcile this life?

Jesus: "Erin, come up."

I am up in the valley of Beracah today in the front yard of my Heavenly Home. I see the City of God, the Golden City, to the east. To the north of my property there are many properties much grander than mine.

I should note that I am not at all envious as God built the very perfect place for me. Indeed, my Home has been prepared perfectly from my heart's desires. Then knowing these, He took my desires and added gifts to show His delight by His design.

He included things I never imagined as well as included small things from when I was a child and remembered them. He fashioned and designed a place for me in which I could never forget just how much He loved me. He made every detail perfect and commissioned craftsmen, artisans and angels to build His Home for me.

My heart is so overwhelmed by God's glory and His love is so very deep. Heaven is so delightful, so beautiful and mysterious. We are meant to worship God in everything we do and in everything we see feel, taste, smell and even hear. It is all calling us to continuously worship God.

There is a Mediterranean style lake and properties surrounding it. The water is azure, blue and deep teal. There are sailboats on the water and there are hills of vineyards. I saw that a massive party is being planned and there are beautiful fragrant flowering vines and massive tables with white linens.

It almost looked like a wedding, but I am not certain. I then saw many, many guests arriving and they were celebrating and dancing. I heard something like Calypso music, but it was a Heavenly version. I see the guests suddenly at attention as the music stopped.

A Shofar blew three times and then silence. It blew again three times followed by a pause. After the pause, there was cheering like nothing I have ever heard. I saw someone arrive and noticed that this person arrived with Jesus. They both looked over at me and waved and smiled and I wondered if this could even be my friend who recently died.

I waved back, but I knew I was not invited to this celebration. I saw fireworks and dancing. I saw Jesus so happy and embracing the guests. Every one there was dressed in various styles of clothing, but all of the material was white linen. Just then I felt a hand on my shoulder. I turned and it was Uriel.

Uriel: "The King requests your presence, Erin."

Me: "But I want to go to the party."

Uriel: "Erin, you do not converse with those you know that have died."

Me: Crying. "Yes, I know."

Uriel: "Come, Erin."

I turned and took his hand and we were instantly in front of God's golden door. I looked over at the forestry board and there were two charms or relics of gold. One of the charms was a dove and the other was a lily. There was a note. I picked up the note and opened it. I cried at what the note said:

For Erin, My Love...

For behold, the winter is past, the rain is over and gone.

The flowers have already appeared in the land;

The time has arrived for pruning the vines, and the voice of the turtledove has been heard in our land.

The fig tree has ripened its figs, and the vines in blossom have given forth their fragrance. Arise my darling, my beautiful one, and come along.

(Song of Solomon 2:11-13)

I recognized this verse and wept as thanksgiving and love filled my heart. I picked up the small gold lily and the dove and they disappeared into the palm of my hand. I reached to feel the key in my pocket, but Uriel brought my attention to God's open door.

The light was so bright that I kept my head down and my eyes closed. Uriel brought me closer to God than I had ever been before. At a certain point, my knees began to buckle and I could feel my body desire to bow to God.

As I felt Uriel put some salve in my eyes, I heard a glorious choir of angels and it was so beautiful. Each group of angels sang in layers and each verse rose higher. I felt my heart rising with the music as tears streamed down my cheeks as I wept under God's power and glory. I praised Him in my Holy Spirit language and I could understand it.

Me: "All glory be given to You, God. You are the beginning and the end. You know the number of each man's days. You know the plans for us. Our names are etched on the palm of Your hand.

"God, You are glorious and beautiful in majesty and there is no God before You. You are the beginning and the end and the Alpha and Omega. You are mighty in strength and plentiful in love. How great are Your works, Father. I love You." I wept and worshiped.

God: "Erin, come closer."

Uriel brought me to my feet and took me closer by about 20 steps. I still could not see God, but just a halo of emerald and gold. I saw angels all around Him, but I could not see any part of Him. I could only hear His voice.

God: "Erin, what troubles you?"

Me: I was having difficulty moving my lips. "Father, I am both happy and sad and I am both content and unsettled. How can this be? Am I double-minded?"

God: Laughing. "No, Erin. You love your children without conditions, yet at times hate what they do. This is not double-minded as a double-minded man is one who serves two opposites. A man cannot serve Me and the ruler of the world as you are to have but one God before you and then you are not to waiver. If you serve Me, then do not turn back."

Me: "Like me with the boat?"

God: "Yes, this is a good analogy. This would either land you in the depths of the ocean at the bottom of a deep sea or back in the boat."

Me: "Father, why make the boat so comfortable and running to Jesus so difficult?"

God: "The boat was not a yacht, Erin, but the boat was familiar. Following Me is difficult even when you know Me as you do. The trouble is that life gets between us."

Me: "I am sorry, Father. While I am not on a physical battlefield, I am waging war. Attack after attack begins to wear me down and I am exhausted."

God: "Erin, this is one of the enemy's greatest weapons. Remember fiery darts. Now I want you to picture two camps on each side of a valley wherein valleys are where many battles have occurred. Sometimes days would pass before the enemy advances as it is a waiting game.

“Usually to dishearten, the enemy will send in fiery darts at various times, especially during sleep so the troops never have enough rest. Finally after many days and at an unknown time, the enemy advances. Now you are tired, worn down and not looking at victory, only escape.”

Me: “I never thought about it this way. Hmm, so the enemy is wearing me down. But Father, why allow this?”

God: “I understand your concerns, but you cannot expect to win these battles if you carry all of these burdens. Your friend was called Home and he is now free of burdens and his chains.

“He was brought here for a purpose and soon you will understand. In the meantime, rejoice and continue with praise on your lips as these dishearten your enemy when he advances. The enemy seeks to lie, kill and destroy you and your family.”

Me: “Father, will things not be better if You just remove him?”

God: Laughing. “Yes and no. Erin, soon he will be removed, but in the meantime he uses these weapons against you as his tests, trials and temptations are allowed.

“Erin, you are to stand in victory against the enemy's schemes. You are to recognize his strategies and stop his advancements. Your prayers, praise and worship avail much, so continue. Fix your eyes on Me. Erin, there is something else. Speak.”

Me: “Father, I need help as I cannot do this alone and I am afraid. I feel temporarily forsaken by You and I need Your mercy. Time is not on my side and my body and health defy me. Please, Father, please.”

God: “Erin, I have heard your cries and I say yes to that which you seek. Now it is not if, but when. Why do you fall under attack from the enemy? Why does he seek to wear you down? I know, Erin, it is because you are on My Mountain and in My Court kneeling before Me.

“Your heart still seeks and loves Me and one day you will have what you have hoped for and see what you have not seen. Erin, the Word enables you to see things not visible. You are unsettled because you have seen what is coming and I have taken you to places which you had no idea where I was taking you.

“You are here by faith. Now, do you think I have put hope, faith and love in you only to destroy you? I tell you, I have not. Please remember that My timing is good and I will not let you suffer needlessly. I will not let the enemy dishearten you and crush you.”

Me: “Oh please forgive me, Father, I did not mean to doubt Your plans, but on Earth my daily life is painful and I cry as much as I laugh. Please show Your love to me. Pain makes me lose my focus on You and I need help.”

God: “Erin, you are forgiven. Each time you come to Me, you do not know where I will take you, what I will say or what I will do, yet you still come. You come boldly and joyfully, even though I sense fear and sorrow upon you. You have trusted Me and I will not disappoint you. All things are not equal. To some I give only a little, to some I give what is expected and yet others infinitely more.”

Me: “Do You mean trials or blessings?”

God: Thunderous laugh. “Well, it could be both in your case, but to those who are given much, then even more is expected.”

Me: “I am tapped out, Father.”

God: “Erin, many men have been before Me where you are with the same statement. I understand this.”

Me: Crying. “You are my Hayah, my Father and my best Friend, but, I am sorry God, I am tired. I am getting ready to come Home too, but I do not want to leave before the Rapture. I do not want to leave my family.”

God: “Erin, I have heard your cries and I have not forgotten you. Read the love letter I gave you and remember your place. It will be difficult before it gets better, but you will soon rejoice. Can you continue?”

Me: “Yes, Father, until You send Jesus or call me Home, I will continue.”

God: “I will grant you strength and soon you will have healing. Angels will come bearing gifts and laughter will replace your tears. Joy will come in the morning, so not much longer, My dove.”

Me: “I love You, Father.”

God: “I love you daughter.”

Uriel brought me out beyond God's door and the music disappeared.

Uriel: “Erin, things will be difficult. God will give you advanced warning so you will not be taken off guard.”

Me: “He has been doing this now since February 2015.”

Uriel: “It will become even clearer as there are many things hidden which you do not know. You must trust in God for all things. Do not worry.”

Me: “How can you say this? I am human, so worry helps me so I am not caught off guard.”

Uriel: “This is not in the Word, Erin. Worry adds nothing, but makes your heart and body sick. It does not add a single day. Replace it with praise, prayer and worship. This is a key which removes discontent. You cannot be content when at war. Angels have been assigned to help. Please write this letter down and hold it to your heart.”

Me: "I am grieving. How do I reconcile? You and God seem so relaxed."

Uriel: "Erin, Heaven rejoices when a saint is called Home. He is then removed from darkness and is now safe in the light. There is joy here. The Earth is composed of light in saints. When a candle goes out, the flame is extinguished.

"Your friend rejoices here. Angels are sent to comfort those in grief. Soon all will be reconciled. Take heart and focus on God, not the boat or the dark ocean. Fix your eyes on the Lord. You are loved, so rejoice.

Dream 167 – Jesus, Pools of Bethesda and 21 Days

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day, for my children, for our safe place and for the beauty surrounding us. I am blessed by You despite my physical condition. Father, when I rest my right hand on my journal, I cannot feel it. Thank You for the use of my three fingers to write.

Over the years, I have taken my body for granted as I was so beautiful and strong, yet when I had this I did not fully appreciate my gift. Now my mom has a four inch tumor on her kidney and it came last week out of nowhere. My mom was an athlete and, for many years, she spent five to six hours a day in various physical activities.

My mom loved cycling in all conditions, even in snow, but she is best known as an American engraver. She just mailed me a copy of the journal she is featured in and her works and accomplishments featured in there are just beautiful. I know, Lord, that You could heal her in a second, just as You could me.

Lord, if You could appear to her and heal her, I just know she would be forever changed. I would like to think that some of the beautiful engraving I see in Heaven is like what my mother would be doing.

Oh Father, while I suffer, I take comfort in knowing You and I cling to Your promises for me and I know You have a plan. So I live out my days in great anticipation of what You have for me. I take comfort in Your love and I know that it will produce something wonderful.

I have my hope in You, but My mom has no hope as she does not believe in You. Father, I even thank You for her suffering if it leads her straight to You. However, Lord, please do not let her suffering end at the grave only to continue beyond it.

Father, You are glorious in all of Your majesty and You are wonderful in Your works. Please heal us as I want so much to enjoy these last days that You have put us in. I cannot wait for You to come for all of us. Lord, I love You so much.

Jesus: "Erin, come up."

Dream description begins...

I was back in time in what looked like a market place in an ancient city, although it is new. I was younger, yet I still had the injuries that I currently have. I was dressed in white linen, yet my clothes were dirty. I had a covering over my head, yet my feet were bare and I was hungry.

I was broken in spirit as I walked in the market and had no money for anything I saw. I then heard people talking about 'the prophet Yeshua' and His healing power. I do not know how I knew the language that they spoke, but it was via the Holy Spirit. This seemed odd as I do not believe that I would have had the Holy Spirit at that time.

I then realized that I was back in the time of Jesus in Jerusalem. I wanted so much to see Him and see if He recognized me. I thought that maybe He would heal me, so I looked everywhere for Him. As I searched, people were rude to me as I was still an older woman and poor. In essence, I had no use to society except as a burden.

I heard someone say He was at Bethesda near the sheep gate. I knew I could not go in, but I could still sit outside and see if He would come by. As I walked there, I saw massive crowds and could finally see Him in the distance. I smiled as He looked the same as here in Heaven, but He was clearly in human form.

I became discouraged because I could not physically get to Him. I heard a man say to another man that Jesus was going through the five walkways to the healing pool. I cried as I knew I was not able to go there.

I only saw men going in and no women, so I sat down and wept outside the gate. While I noticed that there were people worse than me, I still felt alone. My legs and feet were scarred and dirty and I was very small and frail.

Me: "Oh Father, thank You that I do not live under these circumstances."

Just then I heard the voice of Jesus. I looked up and there was Jesus.

Jesus: "Erin, I am here. Why are you sitting here? Get up and walk."

He reached to take my hand and then I woke up.

Dream description ends...but then I was back in Heaven in a separate dream...

I was at the base of the Tree of Life in God's valley and was sleeping with the sheep there. I was laying my head on the back of a soft woolly sheep and under my right arm was a lamb. I heard the Lord chuckling and I looked behind me. He was bent over me with a shepherds hook in His hand and I laughed.

Jesus: "So, Erin, how was your nap? Come on, you look thirsty so let's drink."

He had beautiful blue green eyes, medium dark skin and perfect white teeth. However, I was still startled as my dream within a dream was so real. He took my hand and walked me over to a beautiful pool.

The River of Life flowed into it and, as He knelt down to drink and I followed Him, I splashed the water in my face. I then drank several cupped handfuls of this life giving water. I felt both joy and some sorrow but said nothing.

Jesus: "Erin, why are you speechless?"

Me: "I am glad to be here, Lord. I have missed You."

Jesus: Smiling and laughing. "Hmm, where have I been? Erin, I am right beside you."

Me: "I feel hopeless in my fight and unable to do anything. When I cannot write, I just worship, but it does not help anyone. I cannot heal anyone as only You can, Lord."

Jesus: "Really, Erin, and where is that written? You seem discouraged. The healing pools are open. Are you ready to turn and be transformed?"

Me: "Lord, here I am transformed and I do not want to trade how I feel here for anything. However, how do I translate my feeling here to that which I feel on Earth? In other words, can I not take this back with me?"

Jesus: "Yes, Erin, this is your time of mourning, but I told you a long time ago about the significance of 21 days or three weeks."

Me: "Yes, Lord, but I am always off on my timing."

Jesus: "Not necessarily, Erin, as it all depends on the day it begins. Now let's discuss your discouragement as you are losing hope. It does not matter to Me where you are or if you lived two thousand years ago as I am always found by you. I am here, Erin.

"I am the Good Shepard and I am Who I say I AM. You are one of Mine and I do not lead you beside still waters toward slaughter. Instead, I lead you in truth, peace and love and You can take comfort that I am here."

Me: Crying. "Lord, it is becoming more difficult as the world is becoming harder to live in and I am becoming weaker and older."

Jesus: "Erin, then turn and be healed."

Me: "You speak as if I am a barrier to my own healing. How can this be?"

Jesus: "You must get up and walk and do not take your mat with you as your mat is the memory of your paralysis. Also, do not leave your mat where you can safely return to it. Do you understand?"

Me: "I think so, but I am not sure."

Jesus: "Erin, you can never go back to your former things as there is nothing useful to gain from it other than the wisdom gained from your journey. What good is it to worry about future things when you will not benefit from this as you know the time which you are in based on prophecy and events?"

"Do not place your trust in those who are like Balaam as he was a 'prophet for profit' and paid to send curses. The power of life and death are in the tongue so use your tongue to heal. A tongue which speaks blessings is far greater than that which curses.

"You are living in a time like that of King Balak and his name is his definer as he was sent to lay waste to Israel. Now, you have been given dreams recently of which you were not able to write down. Keep these for an appointed time. Your health has rendered you ineffective from your lips, yet this is not so.

"You are to be in a time of mourning and repentance for former things. Soon you will celebrate, but now is the time to reflect, to humble yourself and understand the time. Erin, the world is filled with false doctrines mixed with truth like linen mixed with wool.

"Every stronghold will come against you, but you are to take up your fruits and tear down each one. Strongholds of greed are torn by a generous heart. Strongholds of lust are burned by unconditional and selfless love.

"A wall of covetousness is torn down by complete satisfaction and gratitude of what you have. Remember to not allow the enemies fiery darts to wound you, but send out praise to God instead."

Me: "So I should turn the other cheek?"

Jesus: "No, Erin, you are taking that out of the context. Things are going to change everywhere and very soon. Many nations are rising up against the small nation as the time of My coming is near."

He pointed over to the wheat field with the angels and they were still harvesting.

Me: "I have seen signs in my dreams, but also around me. The sun is burning hotter and the price of milk, eggs and meat have become three times the price that they were just a few short years ago. The quality is poor and they do not even taste the same."

Jesus: "Yes, and this was written by the prophets of God and not of man. Now you understand, Erin, so continue on your course and do not worry. Just know that any nation devoid of God casting out the Law and even swearing down the foundations of God's Words will be dealt with by My Father.

“Now, do not worry when you see a nation divided, the mountains shake and tremble or the strong towers collapse. When this happens, just know that the time is at hand, Erin, and that you are loved and I am here with you. Do not be afraid.”

I was instantly taken to the valley overlook and saw as Jesus walked to the fields to harvest with the angels. I felt a hand on my shoulder and it was Uriel.

Uriel: “Erin, the nations are turning against God's land and His people. Judgment is about to come to those cursed by their own declarations. You are to remain separate. Be keenly aware by the Holy Spirit of the wicked plans of the enemy. You have been given signs of God's hand upon your situation, so do not be discouraged.”

Me: “Yes, God has given me eagle sightings with every one of my misgivings and He has given me rainbows whenever I feel broken and abandoned. He has given me signs of warning right before I am coming in to trouble and all of these signs have been unmistakable and very clear.”

Uriel: “These will continue and not because you require them, but because God loves you and desires to still your restless worry.”

Me: “Well, you think by now He would be fed up with my worried restlessness.”

Uriel: “He has grace for you because He has shown you what is coming and He knows that this would trouble your heart. You have been afraid.”

Me: “Yes, my dreams from two nights ago were very scary.”

Uriel: “These are given to you so you understand the seriousness of the times we are in. Erin, God is giving you grace and is showing you grace. He gave you five eagles two days ago. So, what is meant by the number five?”

Me: “I think that the number five means grace?”

Uriel: “Soon you will be healed, Erin.”

Me: “Will I be healed at a public pool?”

Uriel: Laughing. “No, Erin, the dream about the beds was to show you this last portion of your life to finish or clear out before your time of healing in the Pools of Bethesda. However, if this is done in public or in private, what does this matter? Just know that God would like to complete a good work in you.

“A time of repentance can be restful. When people mourn, time stands still as they know it, but the clock does not stop even when the heart grieves. Throw out that which keeps you weighed down in the empty pool, Erin. Remove this and then your pool or vessel will be empty and clear when God fills you.

“In turn, you will have the ability to heal and you will bless others and go out for a time. Then you will rest and He will come for you. God loves you, Erin and He has not forgotten you.

“Although you have a key to His door, it matters not as His door is always open to you. I am here to assist you and to take you further into His presence and glory.”

Me: “Will you take me Home?”

Uriel: “No, Erin, as this is for the Lord to do. I bring you to God's Mountain and into His presence.”

Me: “Things are getting tougher for me. What should I do?”

Uriel: “Erin, call out to God and He will do for you that which men cannot. When you have a need, God will take care of you.”

Me: “This morning I saw a spider over two inches long and was the largest spider that I had ever seen. It was frightening. Is the spider a sign that I am coming into a massive battle?”

Uriel: “Yes, but do not worry. Where is the spider?”

Me: “I smashed it.”

Uriel: Smiling. “So it will be with your victory in the battle. For greater revelation and to calm your worries, remember to worship. God removed your ability to write down everything during this time as He is requiring you to worship and praise Him right now.

“It is not that God needs this for Himself, but when you do this you are lifted in strength and by His glory. This also removes the power of the strongholds and it confounds your enemy's thoughts and leaves them helpless against you.

“Journaling helps others too, but praise and worship strengthens you. Think of it as the sharpener of your weapons. During this time, you will be strengthened in Spirit and made sharper in wisdom.”

Me: “Thank you, Uriel.”

Uriel: Smiling. “Erin, I must rebuke you as all thanks and praises be to God, not angels. Now you are loved and there are angels here to assist you at God's command. Do not worry.”

Dream over...

I had a dream back on July 1st, 2015 and this is just part and one portion of this dream. Dream description begins...

The USA was being plowed up by a giant machine and the land was being stirred up and rolled over. I saw banks breached and rivers spilling with gold, but this giant machine was burying the gold with mud.

I saw weathered and scorched fields and murders or groups of crows. I saw carcasses of cattle and every type and variety of flies swarming on them. I saw one small red heifer calf alone and in a valley of bones.

I then flew over the USA and saw it being quartered like a diagram of cuts of a cow prior to slaughter, but I did not understand it. I then saw stagnant pools of sewage in the south spilling over into the Gulf. I heard wailing in the north and to the west. I saw mighty winds and there was fire scorching the land.

I saw a militia uprising in Texas and, at the same time, I saw a confederate group of Muslim nations uniting against Israel. I saw the number 3, but I do not know what that meant as there were more than three nations rising up against Israel.

I saw angels fighting demons over the entire land of Israel. As I was viewing the land from the eyes of an eagle, God set me to rest at the overlook in Heaven. I saw wars breaking out and I saw the USA in trouble, but no one came to help.

People were cursing God as I saw angel armies fighting princes over the land. I did not quite understand what I was seeing, but I knew that this time was coming.

Dream description ends...

God, please help us right now. Please grant us supernatural strength in all we do. Bless us, protect us and may our mantle be peace. We love You, Lord. Please come soon for us and do not delay.

Dream 168 – God and the Heart of Gold

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day, for my family, for the time You have given me here and for bringing me up in this era. I know it is an honor to be raised in such a time as this. Please, Father, use me to do as You desire as I have no plans in which I can hope for. While I wonder about things, I now realize that I cannot plan anything without You.

Given my physical state, each day that You use me for Your glory is certainly not on my own. You have given me an even greater sense of reflection of my life even though this has been a time of grieving as my mother appears closer to death.

My children continue to grow up daily and I face my own sense of who I am in You. I have had a series of dreams and You already know that I am struggling with them. Lord, please help me understand...

First dream begins...

I lived in a beautiful neighborhood and owned a large home with a perfect lawn and had much wealth. My home was on a golf and country club in a gated community that I recognized as State College, Pennsylvania. I had three high school age children and a handsome husband.

Suddenly I moved out of myself and began to observe all of this from above. I know that I have never had this type of life, so I must believe that this had been a personal goal somewhere in my mind which I created years ago.

Since I played golf in college at Penn State University on the campus in State College, PA, I conclude that I must have dreamt about this many years ago as my ideal life, but no longer recall doing so.

As I observed this beautiful family and 'myself' from 'God's point of view', I did not like what I saw. I saw a woman desperately trying to hold onto her youth and spending a fortune doing so.

I saw socialite parties at 'my home' wherein entertaining friends was purely for the purpose of creating envy and certainly not just for joyful casual fellowship. I saw every kind of party theme and wherein I was the focus and my children were secondary and had rebellious attitudes.

My girl was about vanity, my one son was about materialism and finance and my other son was about sports and girls. Somewhere down the line, I saw my husband and their father, yet all the things I saw in this scene were cries for his attentions because of his neglect.

In the distance, I saw him golfing and having drinks with his friends. I saw him texting his girlfriend who was much younger than me and the texts promised to her that he would leave his wife or me soon.

Meanwhile back at the house, I was practicing for the party as me and my friends were choreographing a dance. Us women had dressed in pink gowns that were made of silk medical gauze. Our bodies were wrapped in these gowns, but I knew that underneath these gowns were some type of lingerie even though I could not see it.

As I looked down at 'myself', I thought about how these gowns were making them look foolish. I hurt for 'myself' as 'she' was clearly chasing her youth and was not able to catch it. No matter what she did, she could not win her husband's affections.

Dream over...second dream begins...

I was in a foreign country that perhaps could have been northern Europe. I went into a sports pub with one of my friends and my friend noticed a billiard table in the back. She suggested we put quarters up to play after the others were finished.

Since I grew up almost from birth around billiards, I welcomed a friendly game. My quarter was up first to challenge the holder of the table, the 'reigning champion'. I approached with great confidence as this was something I knew I could give this holder a run for his money.

When I went to pick out a cue, a stick to hit the balls, there was only one and it had a wood tip with no felt. I was worried about miscuing the ball as with no felt on the cue this was highly likely. Then I noticed that the table was set up in an entirely foreign way.

Drawing of Strange Pool Table Set Up in reply below...

All the balls were white and there were twelve balls to get into the pockets and three balls in which you could use to hit them with.

Me: "I want to play my version of pool instead."

When I announced this, the entire population of the pub turned to laugh at me.

Holder of the table: "Perhaps you should sit and watch us play first."

Immediately I was reduced to sitting in a bleacher area away from the action of the table to watch. As I watched, I noticed that the game was so complex that I could not even see the pattern or order. It was confusing as they crowd cheered at shortcomings and not successes.

As all of the balls were white, I could not tell the three cue balls from the main balls once the game began. Every time I almost seemed to figure out a pattern to the game or thought I knew how to play, someone would sit in front of me to block my view.

I soon realized that I was helpless to figure this out and my own and was therefore not able to play. This was really bothering me, but then I woke up suddenly to a noise as the holder of the table shouted out to me.

Holder: "Hey, expert, are you ready to play yet?"

Dream over...

Lord God My Father in Heaven and on Earth, those were disturbing dreams and I awoke this morning in such pain that I could barely move or write. Father, if there is more in me that needs to be eliminated, then please let me know so I can be free of this.

Lord, I have now completed the first part of removing the artifacts of my past so please have grace and mercy on me. I repent of anything I have held onto and ask that You please help me let go. I love You and I want to do Your Will.

Jesus: "Erin, come up."

I was up today in front of the bulletin board at God's door. There I saw a note and a golden ball chain necklace with an open heart of gold.

Drawing of Heart of Gold Necklace in reply below...

I cried as I recognized this as being like my necklace in high school. I put the necklace around my neck. As I did, the necklace moved over my heart and into my skin. I realized what God had done for me as this matched what I wrote in my yearbook.

Mind you I was only seventeen years old at the time as it was 1980 when I declared this and I was not a Christian. This is what I had written in my yearbook:

To one day have a heart of gold, but for now it sits on a chain around my neck until the day I can love everyone and everything including myself.

Okay, now I realize that this was quite a lofty goal especially since I was struggling with who I was and the meaning of love. At the time, I hated myself and my desires looked hopeless. This was a time in which I was afraid about my future based on my past and I had let my past define who I was going to be.

For just a moment, I went back there in my mind when Uriel tapped my shoulder. Uriel then drew my attention to the note from God:

Erin, my daughter, my child and my love, your heart is beautiful and I am pleased with you. I have not forgotten you as your name is written on the palm of My hand. I created you and I know you so therefore do not fear when things do not happen as you have come to expect.

Know that I have planned so much greater than you ever imagined. Until now, you have asked nothing in My Name. Now ask and you will receive so that your joy may be full. Knock and the door shall be opened to you. Seek Me and I shall be found by you. Delight yourself in Me and I shall give you the desires of your heart. I love you.

I cried as I folded the note and put it in my pocket. I felt the key and turned quickly to knock on God's door. The door opened immediately and the glory light of God's presence flashed over me. The light flooded my body and I felt joy permeate my heart.

Uriel put salve in my eyes and brought me closer to God than I had been the time before. My knees began to buckle and I dropped to worship Him. I heard the choirs of angels singing and my cells of my body moved with the Worship.

It felt wonderful to soak in His glory and I smelled something glorious which I have no point of reference for. It was a fresh smell like fresh rain, a hint of floral, a hint of cardamom and the smell of something else which made me laugh.

Now bear with me here as the smell was the inside of a Nike store plastic bag. I do not really know what this great aroma was, but it seemed like a sort of combination of these smells. As I thought 'how divinely wonderful', I was still giggling.

God: "Erin, your thoughts."

Me: "Forgive me, Father, but I smell this fragrance and have no reference except something so ridiculous. Please forgive me."

God: "You are forgiven. Now, what was this smell? Describe it."

Me: "Well, I guess it is the smell of something new."

God: "Excellent, Erin, you are correct. This is the smell of new beginnings soon to be upon you. How is your reflection going? Are you removing that which binds you?"

Me: "It has been a very difficult time as You know since You created me. I have quite a history and I am struggling to reconcile my heart. My things are filled with only fleeting good memories and many bad ones. I have ignored that which remains and I need help, Father."

God: "This is an appointed time on the calendar. The three weeks is for you to pause and reflect on why so many tragedies have come upon you. It is a time for you to consider your personal attitude, behaviors and your relationship of love for Me.

"This time is a time meant to disturb your false sense of peace in your life. It is a time in which you have reflected on the former things and grieved."

Me: Crying. "Father, why now? I thought I had done all this work to remove myself, but yet here I am like the woman in my dream. I am in pain and I cannot do anything about my state. I am helpless and grieving about how I once was when I could do so much.

"Now I can do virtually nothing and even now feel that You removed me to the trees to wither and die. Please, Father, I have asked for healing in Your Name and I believe that I have gone to You on this."

God: "No, Erin, you have not done this, but you have been given keys. You have not been removed to the trees to wither and die. This is not how I would treat My daughter in Psalm 45. This I would not do.

"You are discouraged as this is a difficult time created by Me and allowed for you. Erin, please do not delay and put aside the former things. Please, Erin, as I am doing a new thing and I have promised not to harm you and I will not."

Me: Crying. "Then, Father, I will trust You with my whole heart and I will continue on this journey. You have taken great care with me. I see that I have only a few more miles to go in my race and I see the finish line. I will keep running the race.

"I love You, Father, and I cling to Your promises and I am forever blessed by Your love and mercy. Your grace has no bounds even when I have stepped out of Your boundary. My heart beats at Your command and my lungs breathe at Your leading.

"Nothing I can do will reverse my aging or my failing health as only You can do this. I love You, Father. Please forgive me for any doubts as I know You are in control and that any control I act with just delays Your goodness."

God: "Erin, your observations are good. I know right now that you are struggling. It is okay to speak that which is truly in your mind. I know that you are upset and that you remember back to a different time and want to make changes. I know that you hold yourself responsible for your mistakes and that you want to undo them.

"Erin, you cannot as now the former things are over and you are almost finished removing their remnant. This removal is what I am requiring of you as these are barriers to Me. Finish this and then we can proceed together with what comes next. Now continue and I will remove your sadness with joy. You will see and be amazed."

Uriel ushered me to my feet as I turned toward God.

Me: "Thank You, Father. By the way, I love my note. Thank you for completing my request from thirty five years ago. I do not always see what You are doing, but thank You for this too."

God: "Erin, I am with you and I call you friend."

Uriel took me outside the door.

Uriel: "Erin, it is time for you to reflect back on beauty. Now do not reflect back on vanity or strength, but only beauty. God is about to restore you better than any recollection or memory which you possess.

"Now in order to do this, you must look at yourself as God sees you and how He has designed you. He did not create you to be like you now are as you were created for so much more and He compares you to both Abigail and Esther.

"You are also in Psalm 45. Read Song of Solomon as here you will understand the time you thought was lost is soon to be upon you. You are a pearl of great price and a jewel in His Crown. Now the dreams...

"In the first dream, this woman was dressed in pink and wrapped as a mummy for burial. She was an earthly princess and of the world, but she is dead, lost and her entire world will soon be in upheaval. Do not envy her, but rather pray for her.

"In the second dream, there was a game you once played so well that you could play with your eyes closed. Now the game has changed and it is no longer one that you even recognize. Just when you believe you have figured out how to play it, you quickly realize you cannot.

"This is why you cannot rely on your own understanding in anything you face and the time to go to God is now. He knows what you do not as He knows all schemes of the enemy also. As the game began, it became more and more complex.

"You observed the game, but did not always participate in it. Every time you thought you had figured out to the point in which you could play, someone went in front of you to block you. The enemy then mocked you knowing you were not equipped on your own to play.

"However, with God you are. Erin, do not play games which you are not able to, especially against the enemy. Wait and look to God and fix your eyes only on Him. He will make clear that which you find confusing, dark or complex. God will simplify the complexity of that which you seek wisdom on, so do not worry.

"Now, continue to clear away that which keeps you bound as this is but a temporary 'off road' pause in your race. You are about to be blessed, so study Hebrews 11 and have faith. Also remember to read about Enoch and about Elijah.

"What did God say in Malachi? 'I am sending the prophet Elijah before the coming of the great and awesome day of God.' Now it is time to finish reflecting in the pool. You see and study your image. You are about to step into the healing waters and be forever changed. You are loved."

Dream 169 – God, the Fish, Loaf and Basket

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day, for our blessings of safety, for wide open spaces and the canopy of trees and for the abundant wildlife around me. Even in my pain, it is so wonderful to see all this beauty from my windows.

Thank You for delivering me safely home as I struggled and had a difficult time traveling. At one point I thought I would need to rent a car and drive home rather than fly. For the first time in my life, I felt something on the tarmac at LaGuardia Airport. It was a suffocating fear and trembling and one in which I almost passed out.

As the plane flew in to LaGuardia, its approach took us over Long Island. I saw big beautiful mansions that were easily twenty thousand square feet. These houses also had quite a bit of property and many even had waterfronts with docks, large boats and jet skis.

As the plane drew closer to LaGuardia, I could see that the properties grew smaller in size as they got closer to the city. However, even though they were smaller, I knew that their value was greater. Even though it was a Monday evening, I still saw sailboats, parties, entertaining and general fun.

After our plane landed, the flight was delayed so that we had to sit on the runway for quite some time. After a while, the pilot turned down the cool air and the cabin pressure. As this was a smaller plane, it quickly became hot and humid.

As I looked out the plane window, I saw something very similar to what I had saw in a dream I had about a year or more back. The sky was pink and silhouetted the New York City skyline. Over the stagnant water, I saw a blimp or zeppelin with strings. It was the exact views and conditions from my dream and all that was missing was the cattle floating in the water.

I then stood up from my seat on the plane as I suddenly could not breathe. My heart was fluttering as I pushed the service button for the attendant. She came to reassure me that it was going to be okay and then alerted the captain of potential problems.

When she came back to check on me, I asked her for ice water and alerted her to my heart condition. I was finally able to sit down again, but I was embarrassed as tears were starting to stream down my cheeks.

The flight attendant came back with my ice water and told me we would be moving again in about five minutes. I thanked her and then looked out the window to the ominous New York City skyline.

I felt sick to my stomach as I glanced over to another passenger and saw that her magazine was opened to an article with pictures of cows. That seemed amusing given that the only thing missing from this scene was the cows.

We finally were able to leave the plane and I had to literally run to make it to my next flight, but it was difficult as the airport terminal was crowded. People were even sitting on the floor with their heads on their luggage and I could tell that they had been there awhile.

The ceilings at LaGuardia are very low and I started to have similar symptoms as when I was on the plane. Finally I made it to my next flight with only minutes to spare, but only because this next flight had also been delayed for quite some time.

I felt relieved as this larger plane was much better equipped than the smaller plane. As I tried to relax, the stewardess on the next flight told me that storms and outages had been causing delays and flight cancellations. I could not imagine spending the night in LaGuardia, so even though I arrived at my destination three and a half hours late, I was still grateful.

Thank You, Father, for a safe arrival there and back. Thank You for miraculously changing my flight back home from being through LaGuardia to a different venue. Even though the return was also three and a half hours longer than scheduled, it was much more relaxing.

Lord, I am so glad to be home here so thank You. Thank You for my safe delivery. Father, please help me understand what this was about and please make it so I never have to go back through LaGuardia Airport again. There is something unsettled in my Spirit and I need help.

Jesus: "Erin, come up."

I was immediately up in front of God's door today as I felt Uriel's hand on my shoulder. I looked at him and he smiled and drew my attention to the forestry bulletin board. I laughed when I saw three gold charms; a loaf of bread, a fish and a basket or vessel with a handle. There was a note attached:

Erin, are you ready?

Tears streamed down my cheeks as I picked up the three little gold charms. The charms promptly disappeared into the palm of my hand. I then turned to Uriel and he directed my attention to God's open door.

The light streamed through as I took Uriel's hand and stepped into God's presence. I felt Uriel usher me in even closer to God's Throne as he put salve in my eyes. I could hear the multitudes of angels singing and it was layered and so perfect in the way one side picked up the chorus and another began.

All the while they never stopped singing, “Holy, Holy, Holy!” Each time, they rose higher and higher in succession and I could feel my cells going higher and higher in praise to God. I dropped to my knees in His presence and worshiped there.

I felt so peaceful in His Presence, but I also felt so small and my sense of self was removed. I was aware of me being ‘Erin’, but the very point of me being ‘Erin’ had been completely removed and I was not me.

Instead, here I was God’s child or part of a particle of His Creation. My body was no longer my own, but rather His clay and His work. The only thing I had managed to do on my own on Earth was to accelerate the destruction of my body with the things of the world.

He knows about my aging body and knows the very day of my ending on Earth, either by death or Rapture. Either way, He knows when it will be time for me to come Home. He knows every part of me and He has a plan that is apart from ‘me, myself and I’.

God: Laughing. “Erin, your thoughts.”

Whenever God laughs, there is always something like an earthquake that accompanies His laughter. However, and this is really hard to describe, but somehow His laugh is a ‘good kind’ of quake in that it makes my cells feel warm and safe. I am sorry if this does not make sense, but this is the only way I know how to describe it.

Me: “Father, I am ready for healing. Please, please, please show mercy on me and transform my aching body. Oh please, Father, I am coming to You directly. I pray and ask straight to You in Your Name. I love You and I am turning to be healed.”

God: “Oh Erin, I know the plans I have for you and they are plans to prosper you and not to harm you. They are plans to give you hope and a future.”

Me: “Father, You are quoting a version of Jeremiah.”

I heard a thundering laughter and I could see the entire choir of angels laughing with Him, but in the reserved way that angels laugh here in Heaven.

God: “No, Erin, Jeremiah was quoting Me.”

This was suddenly so obvious that all I could do was shake my head in embarrassment, even as I had a smile on my face.

God: “Erin, it is okay to forget the true Author at times, but always remember Who God is. Who Am I? Do not get so wrapped up about who wrote the Words on the pages that you forget Who the inspired Word actually came from.

“Erin, who breathes life into dry bones? Who forms sinew and muscle on these bones? Who drapes skin over the sinew and muscle? Who adds the breath of life to all of this?”

Me: "Father, this is from Ezekiel 37. Oh wait, no, this is from You inspiring Ezekiel 37."

God: Laughing. "Very good. Now do you believe that My timing is good?"

Me: Crying. "Yes, of course, but I do not always like it. Forgive me, Father, but I do not always like your timing until it is over and I look back and stand in awe of all You have done. I just do not like waiting as sometimes patience hurts.

"I feel like what many of Your messengers before must have felt like. I get a clear and frightening dream that I feel is a direct warning of judgment. I write it down plainly as You ask me to and then I wait on Your timing.

"I feel at times it is a call to immediate repentance, yet then nothing happens. Then some things later happen, but there sometimes seems to be no pattern to this. I have been shown such mysteries, but I do not understand all of it.

"For example, a few days ago on a Thursday evening, I was asked to go to a wealthy man's local warehouse. I was to meet with a woman from my church who owns a shop downtown. As You know, this is the same woman who has been displaying my things for sale at her shop in a two story brick building just like my dream from a few years ago.

"I met this woman at this warehouse because she is not familiar with antiques, yet I am able to ascertain value to them for resale as this is clearly a gift You have given me. I went to this warehouse and it was every antique dealer's 'dream' scenario.

"There was every kind of antique item I ever dreamed of right before me and it was incredible. However I felt particularly drawn to a grouping of items and had a strong feeling that I was somehow familiar with them.

"They particular items that interested me were wooden cogs. These cogs were large and small and of every shape and size. I felt a pull to offer $420 for them even though I knew I could get them for $210. Why did I feel this odd pull to do this?"

God: Laughing. "Where have you seen things running like this before? What else have you collected which are like theses cogs?" I could tell that God was somehow delighted in my reaction to this mystery.

Me: "Hmm, well, as You know, I have always been drawn to clocks and the inside workings and parts to them as I am fascinated that these can measure time. It was so amazing to see Your Clock and Calendar run on cogs or timing that I did not understand.

"However, I was also fascinated by the accuracy of the timing of all things God and all things You and they fascinate me. You, Father, are an amazingly fascinating and complex wonder to me. You are just so amazingly glorious."

I started to cry and I believe that He could feel my sincere overwhelming gratitude for His timing and the way He does things so perfectly.

God: "Erin, you are correct. You are fascinated by these things because this was knit into you by Me. They are part of you and your measure of where you come from. This even means who your distant relatives are and you will one day be amazed.

"Your questions and wonders will eventually be reconciled as even now you are beginning to see your dreams coming to life. However, you are panicking as you are beginning to see the times you are in and you have discovered something recently. What have you found?"

Me: "Well I think the number 420 is in Scripture or at least in history. The first Temple in Jerusalem had stood for 410 years and was destroyed because of sins. Then Jeremiah prophesied that the people would return to the Holy City after 70 years and the Temple was rebuilt.

"The second Temple lasted 420 years and it was prophesied by Jesus, in Matthew, that it would be destroyed for their sins of baseless hatred. Jeremiah even predicted this destruction of the second Temple in Scripture."

God: "Then this is a good observation. Now tell me about how the Holy Spirit has been calling you."

Me: "Well, I feel in my heart and welling up in my Spirit that we are approaching the time of Jacob's Trouble. The enemies of Israel are surrounding her as secretly organized by the ten kings.

"If there is a pattern, Jerusalem was retaken by the Jewish people and we could possibly be approaching the seventieth Jubilee on the Day of Atonement in 2015. Maybe because time is accelerating, it could mean 420 days is cut short to 210 days or something like this for judgment on America at the Day of Atonement. In reality though, I am really not sure as Your ways are much higher than our ways."

God: "Erin, your observations and thoughts are good and you remember that My Words are not idle and contain 'Zoe' life. In Acts 2, there are markers, but also in Joshua 10 there are simple things hidden in plain sight as markers.

"You recently read that a significant entity seeks to divide Jerusalem and erase her name off of the world's maps. Yet in Jeremiah 42:10 and further, this 'king' will later have compassion on her and help her rebuild. However, do not be fooled by this as this enemy's goal is always to divide and conquer My land."

Me: "Father, do you mean the USA being right in the middle of Jerusalem being divided? A close friend of mine recently saw that 'USA' was this hidden in plain sight in the word Jer-'USA'-lem. Is this what you are referring to?"

God: "I have shown others this before, but it was dismissed until now. As it seeks to divide My land, I will divide it. What you experienced in your travels was real, Erin, as you are experiencing something like birth pains. Do you remember having false labor in an unholy place prior to your daughter being born?"

Me: Suddenly He downloaded this to me. "Father, I had thought it was my son, but You helped me remember that it was actually the time I was pregnant with my daughter. I was in a massive old brick warehouse in Portland, Oregon that was on the east side of the river near Burnside.

"This building was at least five stories high and on each floor were used shop displays. These were from Nordstrom's, Macy's and other west coast shops. I would sometimes go to buy items for client projects there.

"Well, this time when I was there I was about seven months pregnant and in a remote part of the fifth floor. There were some armoires and vintage dress forms, but more frightening was that I went into labor in the 'mannequin bone yard'.

"I had no cellular phone service and I was doubled over in pain and afraid no one would hear my cries for help. It was frightening and ominous as all that was around me were mannequins with plaster chunks off of their faces and no arms or twisted arms on their torsos. I was panicking, hot and sweaty and my heart was fluttering.

"A blessed miracle occurred when a woman suddenly appeared to assist me down the old fashioned warehouse elevator to the main floor. I then went to see the doctor, but it was frightening. As it turned out, my labor was false or pre-labor pains. After that I needed more rest until I gave 'real' birth."

God: "This was what you experienced. You saw the scene in your vision and that the time is near and birth is soon to come. You know the birth is upon you as you can feel it prior to labor."

Me: "I will be relieved to be here soon, Father."

God: "Erin, you understand the seriousness of the times you are in. Despite knowing this, what did I ask of you? It is written down by the prophet Jeremiah in 29:5-10. If you go to his earlier writing, it is as if the end was reversed as it is in the beginning.

"The time is upon you so be careful to listen to My instructions. If you hear nothing; then wait. If I have you write something down and unless I have you release it; then wait. If I say this is the way, then you should walk in it. Erin, by all means and despite all opposition, then you should walk in it.

"Right now obedience is better than sacrifice, Erin, and this is important. Now rest, laugh and eat as your time of My healing is coming. However in the meantime, continue with what you have started. My favor is upon you so do not worry and do not move to the left or the right without My leading."

Me: Smiling and giggling. "Yes, Hayah."

God: Thunderous Laughter. "You delight me, Erin. Remember the Scriptures I have given you and the ones I have told you are yours."

Me: "Oh, you mean Psalm 45, right?"

God: "Yes. Now watch for signs I give to you daily and remember to fix your eyes on Me only. Do not wander off."

Me: "Father, I believe that You gave me a sign on Friday. A massive bald eagle flew over my car and it was carrying a large nutria or rat by the tail. The rat was still alive and was causing the eagle to waiver in its flight. What did this mean?"

God: "Well, what specifically is the Holy Spirit pointing out?"

Me: "The majestic eagle was wavering because the massive rat that was upside down fighting for its life even though it was clear that its life was to end either by talon or by the ground."

God: "Hmm, I saw a free strong bird have a rat by its tail."

Me: Laughing. "You are right."

God: Laughing too. "My signs are simple and, if I make them complex, then I send someone to decipher it. However, I give simple obvious clues as I am not the 'god of confusion', Erin, but instead I am clear.

"Now, when I say you will be healed, then I mean it that you will be healed. Have I said when? Well, yes, after the forty days. However, exactly which day you know not as you do not know when the forty days have started until you look back and say, 'Oh yes, it was the perfect day.'

Perhaps you will then also say, 'It was hidden in plain sight all along.' Well, I am here to say indeed this will be the case concerning you. I love you, Erin, and My favor is surely upon you and your household."

Me: "I love You, Hayah. Father, thank You for all You have done, for loving us so and for Your patience. I love You."

God: "Your heart is good and I accept your praises. Thank you, Erin, for you make Me smile."

As I heard Him laughing as Uriel led me out the door, tears were coming down my cheeks. I turned to wave just before God's door had closed behind me and I saw something in the air like a sweep of light and color that appeared to be a wave back. Even if not, it was still vibrant, amazing and awesome in power.

Me: "Uriel, was God waving at me?"

Please note that as I was writing here, I suddenly began to lose power in my arm. A common pattern is that, when I am with God, my arm is fine despite my injury. However, my arm quickly then goes back to its injured state once I depart from Him.

Uriel: "Yes, Erin, you made Him glad, but now you are tired. Read the Scriptures He gave you and recognize that the Words you read were given by Him to man and not the reverse. This being so, heed what you read.

"God will reveal more by His Words and timing. Erin, if the cogs are offered to you for purchase, then you have bought time. This is a puzzle and mystery. Remember your place and fix your eyes. Are you ready?"

Me: "I think I am ready."

Uriel: "Then obey God, not man, and only look to Him. Turn to Him and you will be healed."

Dream 170 – No other God and the Clock

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day, for all You have done for us and for the blessings You have bestowed on me and my household. I cannot thank You enough for the help and wisdom of family, even those who are younger and not normally wise. You use the most unlikely sources to teach us.

Thank You for clear dreams and incredible signs of Your love. Thank You for the gift of my clock, two rainbows in unlikely conditions and a family of seven eagles all after a very discouraging day. Thank You for all You have done. There is no one, nothing and no God like You.

You are the Alpha and Omega and I love You. Please help me interpret this dream from last night. You promised me that my dreams would all be from You and the setting, people and items were very clear. Please bless my ability to write with clarity.

Dream begins...

I was in a large rectangular brick building with odd architectural details which made no sense. There were many highways which seemed to lead and die into the building almost like a train station or depot, but these were highways.

Drawing of Train Station with Highways in reply below...

I was traveling with my old roommate from college, which is odd since I have had very little contact with her since college. We waited at this station for a while as it seemed like we had to wait for clearance in order to continue our journey.

There were long lines and many became impatient, including us. Soon my friend and I decided to see what else this building housed. We found a restricted area which was for dignitaries, heads of state or maybe even kings.

This building section had silk carpets and state of the art features. The elevators were overlaid in gold and the paintings and furniture were priceless. It appeared very few people had access to this section.

My roommate and I were giggling as all of the workers were treating us like royalty even though we did not even belong. As we walked by the elevators, we noticed that they had security panels. We both remarked that we should leave as neither of us felt comfortable in the restricted area.

As we said this, the elevator opened and we took it down to the main level. As we came off of the elevator, there was several staff there that was surprised at our arrival. The staff had just shampooed the carpets and, in order for us to leave the elevator, we had to walk on the fresh wet carpet.

The lady in control of dignitary preparations was very upset at our unannounced arrival. We then left this fancy area as quick as we could to avoid confrontation in order to get to the regular common area.

While the common area consisted of various shops and restaurants, I quickly decided that I now wanted to leave this depot altogether. I could not see an exit anywhere, so I went up to a clerk and asked where the exit was.

Clerk: "There are dangerous conditions leading into this depot as many highways lead here. You must remain here for clearance."

Me: I was frustrated and did not like his answers. "Surely there must be at least one road out of here?"

Clerk: "Lady, you just came from there. You are one of the only ones who can access the elevator, so go back any time of your own free will as no one is stopping you."

I looked around and found some government offices that I thought I could find answers at. Meanwhile, my friend had separated from me in order to look at some golf equipment and was tied up with a sales clerk.

I walked into an area which looked like a postal office, but the odd thing was that there were glass cases containing antique pieces that looked like a museum display case.

I was looking at the beautiful historic relics as I overheard the female head post master talking to a young college girl and her friend. The girl had brought some incredible pieces of rare artifacts to this postmaster.

Postmaster: With a stone face. "How much are you asking? What is your need?"

College girl: "I need $218 dollars."

The postmaster was shrewd and calculating and she looked at the items and acted like they were garbage.

Postmaster: "They are not worth even $34, but I will still offer you $38 instead."

Me: Stepping up to the conversation. "I will give you twice the original asking price, or around $436, for all of your items."

The college girl seemed happy about this, but then the postmaster whispered to her without me being able to hear what she was saying. The college girl then turned to talk to me.

College girl: "Okay, you have a deal."

Me: "Alright, but first let me see the items you are selling more closely."

She had changed the original items and now had put four old greeting cards in front of me instead. The first card was religious and was the outline of Mary with a cross. The second card was a red Santa Claus. The third card was a giant Easter bunny. The fourth card was a monastery monk. I looked at them and was confused at first.

College girl: "Okay, I will take my money."

Me: Indignant. "No, there were valuables before. Where are the jewelry and the valuable artifacts you used to have with this?"

College girl: "They were sold to the postmaster."

I turned and saw that the evil postmaster was putting the precious artifacts in the case and laughing. I turned back to the college girl

Me: "You are being foolish as I offered you so much more for the items. Why would you be deceived so easily by her? I have no use for these cards as I would never give these to anyone. Even the card with Mary on it edifies Mary and not Jesus the Savior."

College girl: "Well, I really have no need for your money anyway as the postmaster paid me more."

I left and could hear the postmaster laughing in victory. I went and found my friend and saw that she had just purchased golf equipment. I was flabbergasted at her purchase.

Me: "Why are you buying this? There are no places to play golf?"

Dream over...

Jesus: "Erin, come up."

I am walking on the path overlook on God's Mountain and to my right is the beautiful valley. I then stopped at the rock that springs living water from it. As I was thirsty, I drank from it and splashed water on my face.

I sat down for a moment to praise God for this beautiful sight. To the south was an amazing light like a star, but bright like the sun, shining over a body of water like a harbor or bay. Perhaps this was a lake, but I could not see the opposite shore as the light was just over the horizon.

As I looked at the valley, I saw 2 older eagles with five young eagles. I smiled and laughed as this was such a beautiful sight to see. I saw that the water from this bubbling rock fed into the River of Life and that this river in turn watered the valley.

The valley itself was abundant in beautiful fruits, vegetables, wildlife and flowers and was breathtakingly beautiful. I closed my eyes to take in the different fragrances and thanked God for Heaven and that each day with Him brought me closer to here.

Me: "Thank You, Father, for inviting me to Your beautiful place. I feel so alive and blessed here at Your mountain of glory and valley of life."

I felt a hand on my shoulder and there was Uriel looking glad to see me.

Uriel: "Erin, the King requests your presence."

I stood up immediately and went with Uriel.

Me: "Uriel, I had many dreams recently. Do you know what these mean?"

Uriel: "I know only what God instructs me to say. Erin, have you finished what God has asked of you?"

Me: "I am almost finished and I think I discovered what I needed to remove, so I am very happy."

Uriel: "I know that which you speak of."

Me: "I understand."

We reached God's door and bulletin board and there in front of me was a note, a fish charm of silver, a loaf of bread in silver and a silver basket. This was just like the last time, only this time it was now silver instead of gold. I picked up the note and saw that this was from God:

Erin, you are My friend. Thank you for answering 'Yes' to My dinner invitation. Please enjoy both the silver and the gold as these are gifts from Me. You are not out of My favor and with you I am well pleased. The plunder from your battles is free to take. Soon you will be Home here with Me, but are you ready for what comes next?

Me: Laughing. "I needed to read this and it means so much."

I was walking away with Uriel and had forgotten to take my gifts. He pointed to the silver fish, loaf and baskets.

Uriel: "Erin, your gifts."

Somewhat embarrassed, I turned and scooped them up in my hand and they absorbed quickly into my skin. I then reached down to feel the key in my right pocket.

Uriel: "Erin, there is no need as the door is opened unto you."

I giggled and let Uriel usher me through God's door. Every time we do this, Uriel seems to take me further into God's presence. As the light was extremely bright, he put salve in my eyes and helped me to my knees.

My body's cells vibrated and moved to the sounds of the choirs of angels. This was truly amazing and tears streamed down my cheeks as I listened to the perfect voices of angels praise God.

Angel choir: "In the presence of Jehovah, Holy, Holy, Holy Lord God Almighty, Who was and is and is to come. When all Creation sings Holy, Holy, Holy is the King!"

It made me weep even though it was being sung in several languages and somehow I could understand the words. The hymn was like the Revelation Song and two other songs combined into one song. It was, by far, one of the most beautiful songs I have ever heard here. Each time the music was even more perfect.

Me: Crying, praying and confessing. "Father, please forgive me if I have done anything contrary to Your plan. Forgive me for not focusing completely on You, but if I have allowed others to take me off course, please grant me strength, knowledge and wisdom to only do Your Will and hear only Your voice. I love You.

God: "I love you, Erin. Now, what weighs so heavily on your shoulders today?"

Me: "Several things. I am almost finished removing things from my garage and should be done this week. I pray I have done Your Will and I believe I have discovered why this was so important. Please forgive me Father for possessing such a thing.

"I also have had dreams which seem like dreams of significance, but I am unclear what they mean. Also, what do the little charms signify?"

God: "Erin, there are many things weighing on you. Please explain that which you discovered."

Me: "I am embarrassed and almost ashamed to have carried this in my possession for this long. I have had an old reliquary for about seven years and had kept it in my garage. It was very old from Brazil and made of wood and glass about twenty four inches high.

"I also have pieces of art from it of Mary. They contain boxes with silver overlay, as well as a statue made of plaster of Mary. There is an area where people burned candles like a small altar in front of the glass encasement. I picked it up from the goodwill in Bend, Oregon for about five dollars.

“As I do not worship Mary, but my Savior Jesus, I thought it was harmless. Now I believe it was used in something like Santeria rituals, so I disposed of this thing. Along with this shrine, I also disposed all of the related items. Now I repent, Father, of my participation by owning it.”

God: “This was unclean, but not for the reason you think. I am not a God to be worshiped in a box as I cannot be contained and I am no longer in need of an ark. You cannot worship those who walked with Me or My Son and place their image in a shrine and expect miracles.

“However, you can worship Me in Spirit and in truth and I am there. When you worship Me in Spirit, this means you, by invitation, have allowed the Holy Spirit to reside in you. In truth means you cannot serve both the world and Me as your body is the ‘reliquary’ or dwelling of the Holy Spirit.

“Therefore to worship Me in Spirit and in truth, you must not dwell in the darkness. Erin, what you removed in the garage was a symbol shown to Me that you are leaving the things of this world and trading them for Me. Rejoice. Now, there is more. Please tell Me your trouble.”

Me: “It was pointed out that I need to repent of making my healing an idol instead of You. After this, I became convinced that You had deceived me and I was not going at the Rapture. I am sorry.”

God: “Erin, I have not deceived you, but I have asked you not to turn to man for answers. As you can come directly to Me at any time and can inquire directly to Me, why would I ever need to send a person to point out your stain? Why would I not tell you directly instead?

“Erin, recently you were not given a rainbow when you expected this rainbow even though the conditions for it were perfect. This was given to you as an example of putting your faith in Me instead of man. So, Erin, after this, what did I give you just two days later?”

Me: “Two rainbows in unexpected conditions.”

God: “The conditions for the ‘missed’ rainbow were so perfect that you had seen photographers’ setup to chase it for a picture. To their amazement, despite these perfect conditions, no rainbow came.

“Erin, who controls the weather and the signs? Is it the god of this world that controls man who controls this or is it the God of the Universe that determines the setting of the sun, the moon and the stars Who controls this?

“Do I not also determine the time and times? What about the seasons? Please tell Me, when did I give the god of the world charge over this? Even if I had, Who would still govern him on all of this? Erin, if I even care about one sparrow that falls, do I not also know the hairs of your head? If I call you My friend, would I then deceive you?”

Me: “No, Father, please forgive me.”

God: “Erin, trust in Me as I love you.”

Me: Smiling. "Father, did You grant me the gift of the clock I received this weekend? If You did, then thank You a million times over for it as it is so beautiful."

God: "Yes, Erin, this was My gift to you. If you are patient and wait on Me, I will always give you much greater than you ever imagined."

Me: "Yes, so much more than we imagine. Father, please forgive me for holding the reliquary all this time. Lord, I just wanted You to know that I never worshiped Mary and this was only kept for aesthetics."

God: "Erin, this I already know, so please do not worry. Just remember that your healing is not contingent on acts of service, but rather on My timing and this time has already been appointed. Erin, you will see this appointed time arrive before you even realize it and this will be at the perfect time."

"Do not be discouraged and continue on your course. Do not be disheartened by the tongues of others. Now thank you for coming to see Me, but thank you more for your obedience in the matter I asked of you. You are to have no other gods before Me, so great is your reward for removing your idols."

Me: "Father, You are my reward and You sent Jesus, Who is my gift, and the Holy Spirit, Who is my lamp."

God: "Very good, Erin, you are loved."

Uriel brought me to my feet and walked me to the door as the angels sang. He walked with me through to the forest of God and I had tears streaming down my cheeks.

Uriel: "Erin, remember to fix your eyes on God and not man. Do not follow the words of others, read them or look upon their sites. Instead, remain focused on the Word of God and Him only, not on man and his wanderings."

"The dream you had contained key elements on timing and the greeting cards were seasons. This followed from fall to winter to spring to summer. These are to come and you could even look at 218, 34, 38 or even 436."

"Look to the Word of God as the answers are contained there. The building was like a church or temple with many roads leading in. There were material things there and you had the ability to come and go when others had no access and your friend became distracted by the things of the world."

"The young girl would have taken your generous offer if the god of this world, the female postmaster, did not offer her something more material. There is much to glean from this dream. Now, God does not want you to focus on these, but on what He has for you."

“You went on an unexpected trip on Wednesday and had to drive three hours against your will to deal with worldly things. Not knowing what to expect, you found a gift from God.

“As you were patient, did not bend to something ten months ago and waited on God, He gave you something much greater than you could ever imagine and was a sign from God. He also gave you the rainbows not as expected, but rather two days later and two times the portion.

“He has much planned for those who endure so do not worry when things do not happen as you plan or expect. Read your note from God as you make Him glad. This does not mean that you are now to be thrown into the pit, so rejoice. Erin, do not be swayed by man, but by the Word of God.”

Dream 171 – God, the Hourglass and the Number 3

Communion

Dear Father,

I praise You with all of the thankfulness I can and with my whole heart. Fill me today with the great love of the Holy Spirit so that I can empty Your perfect love unto others. Father, I thank You for the love of my family and dear friends. I can scarcely believe all of the help I have received. It is beyond comprehension and far more than I deserve.

In this final stretch of my race, You have made me fully dependent on You so I understand selfless love. You are the lover of my soul and I thank You for finding worth in me. I thank You for all of my trials and troubles as it only draws me closer to You.

My children travel later this evening and fly in an airplane throughout the night. Please grant them safety and peace. Please protect us on our three hour drive to pick them up. Father, thank You for sending me help to move these heavy things and for helping me to remove my attachment to these items that had become such a burdensome yoke.

This is the first time in more than twenty years that I have no cardboard boxes with stuff in them. It was a daunting task as once again I had to face the reminders of my mistakes and wrong turns in my 'race of life'.

There was so much pain buried in papers contained in these previously unopened and worn out boxes. I cried a lot of tears and saw a lot of photos. Yearbooks from school carry such memories of youthful pride and arrogance. It seemed that I spent my whole life recovering from one tragedy to the next.

Newspaper clippings of accidents and obituaries of close friends brought painful memories to the surface. I have very few heirlooms of our family history as my grandparents on my father's side experienced both fires and tornadoes in Illinois and Oklahoma.

I do have a 'Star of Texas' quilt which was made by my great grandmother and consists of the wedding dresses of generations of my family heritage. I was abandoned by my dad's entire family as a toddler, so it really holds no special meaning for me.

Now, I do have many good memories of my maternal grandmother and she was a gift from God to me as a little girl. Sadly, she died when I was only thirteen years old and shortly after my stepfather's suicide. It was a tragic time in my life and was the time I truly believed God hated me.

Not only were we poor financially, but we were poor in spirit. It was a dark time and it is a miracle that I am here following Jesus and alive today! Thank You for finding me and for meeting me where I was. Thank You for seeing me in all of my failures and still loving me despite of them.

There is no God like You and You are my greatest gift and my most cherished possession. Forgive me of the times during my walk that I boxed You up and set You on a shelf. Forgive me if I ever avoided You and scooted You into my basement.

Forgive me for any time in which I avoided You and chose to walk in darkness instead of basking in Your light. Lord, there simply is no more time. I am running out of time and have wasted so much of it. Time seems to now even be accelerating more.

I am finally settled and ready for what comes next. I sit in great expectation as I love You so much, Father. Thank You from my heart.

Jesus: "Erin, come up."

I am immediately up in a massive wheat field. The sun is bright and the sky is a beautiful blue. The wind is softly blowing the sheaths of wheat and they create singing or a beautiful humming sound. I can literally hear "Holy, Holy, Holy" coming from the moving wheat as far as my eye can see.

I noticed that the wheat seemed all around me. Suddenly I felt a hand on my shoulder and it was Uriel.

Uriel: "Erin, God requests your presence, but first I must take you to His Courtyard."

I nodded with approval and instantly we were in front of God's Clock and Calendar.

Uriel: "Now observe carefully and then let God speak as this is His time measure and not yours. Now, tell me, what do you see?"

Me: "I have only the ability to measure based on my last time here. It seems as if the seconds, minutes, hours and days never change and neither does the months, seasons and years. However, the weeks and Sabbaths seem to be getting shorter and all of it actually seems to be running shorter.

"The events portion has not changed as remarkably as I had thought it would and there is still much to occur. I cannot predict the timing as the wheel is different. We have lost seasons since I was here last and now I see we are approaching the next blood moon.

"I do not understand the language as these events pull up and off of the clock. These events are illuminated then disappear and there is no pattern to it. As I stand here, five events have popped up, illuminated and then disappeared.

"I can see that there are still hundreds of events left. There are many events that are stacked up and coming very soon, but this is all I can see. How can something so precise be so confusing? I am excited because the different wheels are becoming shorter."

Uriel: "I am not the keeper of time nor do I stand guard over it."

I looked over and noticed that the four angels were still guarding God's Clock. The angels were massive with huge swords. They seemed to find me funny as I saw a couple of the angels crack small grins as I spoke.

I must seem fascinating as I sound like a toddler with very little knowledge of complex things. I must sound amusing as, even though Uriel seems serious all the time, I see him occasionally react to my wonder.

Uriel: "Erin, it is time to go."

I grabbed his sleeve and this made him laugh.

Uriel: "Erin, we are not flying in the air."

As quickly as he said it and faster than the speed of light, we were in front of God's door and the forestry board. I was smiling at Uriel's comment about flying as if he were a character like Peter Pan.

I turned and saw two charms on the board; a gold number '3' and an hourglass. The hourglass was fascinating as it was intricate and so beautiful and had diamond dust as sand. There was a note from God next to these and I opened it:

Erin, you are a servant of God. Now you are ready to serve. Remember the wonders I have done, My miracles and the judgments I have pronounced. You are chosen children of God; My servants and descendants of Abraham. I love you.

Uriel drew my attention to the hourglass and the number '3'. I picked them up and they embedded into my right palm. I turned and the door of God was opened to me. Uriel brought me into God's presence and he put salve into my eyes and once again brought me closer into God's presence than I had ever been.

I smelled an incredible fragrance and several days ago I smelled it in my yard for a brief few seconds. I smelled jasmine, white ginger and something like nutmeg or cardamom. It was wonderful and hard to describe.

I heard the beautiful choir of angels in succession singing, "Holy, Holy, Holy!" I dropped to my knees and raised my hands to worship Him. The presence of God's glory fell like dew and yet it was dry. Again, this is hard to explain, but so remarkable. Tears streamed down my cheeks as I praised Him for all He has done.

Me: "Father, You are worthy of all that I have as You are holy and worthy to be praised. I thank You for sending Jesus to save us as I cannot be as perfect a servant as Jesus is, but I give myself to You. There is no greater than Jesus and He is greater than Jacob, David, Solomon and Jonah.

"Jesus is the greatest of all and He was with You, Father, from the very beginning. All things came into being through Him and apart from Him nothing came into being that has come into being (John 1:2-3).

"Father, I want more than anything to do Your Will. Forgive me when life gets in the way. I feel my project has gotten in the way of my time with You."

God: "No, Erin, your project was a burdensome yoke which needed to be removed so you would serve Me with your whole heart and in Spirit and in truth. The mysteries in taped up boxes, once opened, now hold no power over you.

"Erin, you are free and now you are free to plan. Your yoke has been given to Me and no longer weighs you down. This life lends enough trouble to you so do not borrow more."

Me: "So You are not mad it took so much time away from You?"

God: "Did you not think of Me while doing this? Did you not also give to those in need? Did you not worship Me while working and thank Me for those whom I sent to help you? Am I not a Father Who cares for even the smallest of things when it concerns My children?"

"Now, are you not spending your Sabbath praising Me? For so many years, you roamed and never had a place of your own. You constantly lived in fear of your oppressors and did not sleep soundly.

"I heard your cries and I planted you in a safe place. I have granted you clear air, trees and a place near the water. Now you will sing and dance like you did in your youth because I love you and delight in you. You are Mine."

I was relieved that God said all of these healing Words to me as I felt that I had needed to repent for having so much 'stuff'. Instead, He showed me love and compassion.

God: "Erin, your thoughts."

Me: "Father, I was worried that I needed to repent more. I thought I have been out of Your favor."

God: "No, Erin, do not listen to others. Please keep your eyes upon Me."

Me: "But I cannot see You."

God: "One day you will see Me, but rest assured that I am with you. Now let's speak of other matters. I gave you a dream and it was a vivid one"

Me: "Yes, I am concerned with this dream..."

Dream description begins...

I was not me, but had become one of the people in the dream. I was in Amsterdam with my family and we were staying in a luxury hotel and appeared to have respectable wealth, but not extravagant wealth. My last name was Dutch, but we were Americans.

An announcement was made that an event had occurred overseas and all flights to America, Canada and Mexico were canceled indefinitely. We were told that our hotel rooms will now be serving as apartments and for us to await further instructions.

We were given a special rate of $1450 per week for the apartment hotel room. We were advised that many American bank accounts were transferred to a city in the Middle East where we could access our money. I looked at the bank list and wondered what had happened to the North American continent.

It seemed that I had lost my money in my account at a smaller bank, but the larger banks seemed to be there. My Chase Bank was on the list, but I also saw the US Bank, Citi Financial, Bank of America, Royal Bank of Canada, Bank of Montreal and two more that I could not read.

I stood in line at the lobby of the hotel and registered my family and agreed to pay the amount. I heard a man ask if he could draft money from his Swiss Bank account. The Manager laughed and told him that Switzerland was only now known for producing good chocolate and no longer housing money.

Manager: "All money is out of one city now. Take comfort."

Man: Sickened. "What if I have no access to my money?"

Manager: "Then your items will be requisitioned and you will be taken outside of Amsterdam."

When I heard this, I calculated that I had roughly enough to last almost a year, but, after that, I would have nothing left and all my investments would be gone. After several days, I asked questions about what had happened and no one would say anything as it was a secret.

Woman: "A live art show is coming to the gallery today. This will take your mind off of everything."

Meanwhile there was business as usual here and there was plenty of food and electricity. However, internet was limited and social media was gone. The hotel television consisted of special interest news, re-runs of major TV shows and comedies with no reference to global news.

Local news was weather, local events and business, but it was void of any mention of the USA. We decided to see an art exhibit that had come via boat from the USA. There were large canvases with all the major monuments and buildings painted as photos realistic as possible.

I stood at the first painting and saw that it was our nation's capital building. As I stood amazed, the painting went from realistic to completely distorted as if the oil paint had become water and ran off the canvas. All the paintings did this and this was frightening as our eyes wanted to have a clear picture, but we could not.

After leaving the gallery, a woman approached us to tell us that the shops have new clothes if we were interested. We needed clothes so we went to shop. The first store had incredible clothing and was from a designer from New York.

The women were going crazy and I also needed fresh clothing, but it seemed ridiculous to wear high end dresses around the hotel and lobby. I looked down at a basket and there was a passport, watch, airline ticket to New York City and various other personal effects.

I heard one of the ladies say, 'Oh, this designer is Peplar.' I had never heard of Peplar before. I opened the passport and saw the name Peplar. It then occurred to me that Peplar was staying at the hotel and lost access to the funds to stay, so the Hotel took his things and removed him.

I overheard another woman saying, 'I cannot stand all the homeless people on the street. The city vehicles are finally gathering them all up and removing them outside the city. What a relief.' I then realized the people were being stripped of valuables and killed.

Me: "Father, this was what I remember from the dream. When will this be?"

God: "Erin, you need not have fear of this time as you will not endure it. This time will come and be like no other time. In this dream, Amsterdam was and will be a more secure region than others. Now you were given another dream."

Me: "Yes, but I did not understand it. It was the time of the wheat harvest and I was in a place I did not recognize. I became lost and ended up on a distant highway to the south of a foreign city.

"There was a massive piece of farm equipment with six wheels with smaller wheels in between. The wheels were covered in smashed wheat, but this made no sense as the machine was as wide as the highway. The dream scared me, but I am not sure why. What did it mean?"

Drawing of Massive Six Wheel Farm Equipment is in reply below...

God: "Was more wheat saved or trampled by the wheels?"

Me: "Mostly trampled, but for no reason."

God: "So a piece of harvesting equipment was not on a wheat field, but trampling wheat and not harvesting."

Me: "Oh, and this was on a highway zigzagging across all lanes."

God: "Seems like it was harvesting travelers."

Me: "Father, what was this?"

God: "Erin, pray as this is not a difficult dream. What good farmer harvests wheat by trampling it under equipment? Now you understand the time you are in as you are a good farmer. You take care of your crop because you understand its value to the Land Owner, Me.

"Do not listen to farmers sent to trample and discourage and create fear in the hearts of men as I did not send these. Fear of God is good, but other fear is not from Me. What happened to Goliath? Where did Goliath come from? Why was he sent?"

"Goliath came from Gath and the other giants came from Shaaraim and Ekron. Goliath was a Philistine and a barrier to victory in the valley. Gath was four times larger than ancient Jerusalem, yet I was not with them. This fear is birthed from the enemy, but the enemy is not in control.

"David took five stones, but only one removed Goliath the giant. I was with Israel and Judah, not Gath, Shaaraim, Ekron, or any of the Philistines. Now, a time is upon you which you cannot understand. I showed you My Clock and Calendar to remind you that I control time.

"If I control time, the thing which controls a man's day, then do I not also control that which occurs upon My time? So by this you can take comfort as I love you and you are mine. I care about that which concerns you no matter how big or how small.

"Remain in Me and I will remain in you, but serve only Me and do not perform for man. However, serve them as did My Son Jesus Who came to give life and by His wounds you were healed. Know that He will come at an hour and minute you know not, but He will come at just the right time. I am the Lord Your God."

Me: Trembling at His authority and strength. "Thank You, Father, I love You. Please let me do Your Will in all things and even in those things that I want to run from."

God: "Your prayer is good. You are loved by Me."

Uriel brought me to my feet and ushered me out of God's door.

Uriel: "Erin, judgment is coming to the land. Despite warnings, judgment is coming. Man esteemed God not. However, do not worry as you and your family will be safe. Remember to keep your focus on God, not on prophets who are regurgitating God's Word for their personal gain.

“Their messages are focused on fear and trembling when it should be on repentance. Do not read their words or receive them. Erin, focus on the things of God and keep Him ever before you. He is pleased and His favor is upon you.”

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day, for my family, for the ability to rest and for sound sleep and the ability to dream. I am thankful for my beautiful home nestled in the trees. I never imagined I would walk my dogs in such beauty and peace.

Father, it has been one year ago today that You delivered us from the desert into our small promised land. Two years ago, You granted me a vision of the very place we live in, so I began to pray for this not fully comprehending exactly where it was and how You would make a way for this.

Today as I walked back from the pond a white tail deer went right across my path and startled my dogs. Shortly after this and within seconds, a very large bluebird with a white tail flew in front of me. I reflected on the last seven years of my life and I stand amazed at God's goodness.

Seven years ago in 2008, we lived in Bend, Oregon and loved it there as it was so beautiful. It had more beauty than I had ever seen in one place in my entire life. The temperatures were perfect and the area was safe. I had close friends there.

Lord God, you placed me there so I could have some comfort during the most difficult part of my journey. With such great beauty in our surroundings, my inner body lacked and my pain, emotionally and physically, was so great that our surroundings seemed to muddle my condition.

During my time of shock and pain, I made a series of bad choices. I was in survival mode and I seemed oblivious to reality. In my great pain, my heart literally broke. I wanted to stay with my children, but I was ready to go Home. I was ready to have Jesus take me Home.

With the pain of what had occurred in the previous years leading up to this moment in 2008, I had protected myself against the outside world. I had very little trust of the people around me and it seemed that everyone had an opinion on how my life should be run, yet no one desired to jump on the path and join me on my race.

A few of my friends did and I love them so much for it, but at some point even they stopped running and went their own way. I thank You, Father, for my friends as they are still there and I thank You, God, for putting them there when you did.

I needed to know that we were not alone even though it sometimes seemed easier to just run alone with You. You were the One who knew me the best. You endured with us and You loved and love me despite my difficulties, my flaws and even because of them. I was on a quest to find You as I wanted pure joy and desired a heart of gold. I desired more of You.

I remembered when my daughter and I left Bend when she was just seven years old. We had just enough money to move to the Tri-Cities after my surgery. I longed to take my boys back and I was tricked or lured into the desert to be near them.

I will never forget the time in August 2009 when my daughter's fish, Feather, was riding in a bowl on my front dash as we said goodbye to the beauty of Bend. We just up and left, but only a few people knew we were leaving and I am not certain we were missed.

My daughter's classmates loved her, so a few children were very sad to see her leave. However, because of what we had experienced personally, I had become more protective and preferred anonymity and privacy rather than social networking.

My great time of pain was in Bend, but my time of great testing was in the Tri-Cities. Of all the places I have lived, this place was by far the worst. The only beauty to me was man made. Yes, the Columbia River is pretty, but when it flows toward the desert, it looks dark and ominous and far from inviting to me.

The desert was the place where God called to me and Bend was the place where I cried out to God. However, the desert is where I was found by Him. This is a difficult concept to understand, but it is true. He came for me in the desert place.

Father, I thank You for removing us to our place here. Today I learned of the passing of a friend of mine. He was a great man of God. He and his wife prayed for us many times while we lived in Oregon. He was a wonderful golfer and pastor.

They had invited my daughter and me to their home for Thanksgiving in 2008. It was the first time I had ever spent Thanksgiving with people other than family. There were other connections too, but I was so glad to hear that Jesus received him after a lengthy fight with disease.

I scarcely recognized him from his photos, but now he is free and I am so happy for him. Thank You, Father, for this man of God and his race of faith and grace. My mom's race is uncertain right now, so, Father, please meet her where she is.

Please make a way where there seems to be no way. Father, I can only depend on you as she is running a different course and her race is unlike mine. Her goal at the finish line even looks different than mine. Please Father, let her road lead to you. Meet her there, Father, as I love You.

Jesus: "Erin, come up."

I was on a path I had seen several nights ago in my dreams, but this was different as it was clearly divine. I was in the forest of God and I believe this is part of His massive garden, but I am uncertain.

Drawing of Tall Tree Archway in reply below...

I stood in front of this towering Cathedral of trees and it was absolutely beautiful. As I began to walk down this path, a large group of glass transparent butterflies flew past me. As they flew by, their glass-like crystal wings created rainbows of light that are very hard to describe.

As they flew, I heard the sound of small chimes and it was fascinating. As I walked, tears began to stream down my cheeks. My body under these trees is different than the hand that writes this and I am uncertain how this could be.

I feel alive in Heaven, yet I am still alive here on Earth. It makes no sense, but how I feel under these trees is simply amazing. I decided to take a deep breath and sprint after the butterflies. I sprinted with incredible speed and it felt fantastic.

I am not even breathing hard and my lungs feel incredibly light and nothing is labored. I stopped when I realized I was under the butterflies. I felt a hand on my left shoulder, turned and there was Uriel.

Uriel: Smiling and laughing. "Chasing butterflies, Erin?"

Me: "Yes, I guess so."

Uriel: "God requests your presence."

I held Uriel's arm and we were immediately in front of His door, the very door of God. As I stood in front of God's door next to Uriel, God brought a vision of a dream I had with trees. In fact, there were there were three separate images that flashed before my eyes:

Drawing of Tall Tree Archway to Opera in Sydney in reply below...

I turned to the bulletin board and noticed two charms of gold and a note. The first charm was a fishing lure and the second was a woven fisherman's net.

Me: Laughing. "Well, it seems like God wants me to be a fisherman or at least go fishing."

I picked up the note and opened it:

Dear Erin, you are settled in. Now it is time to get in your boat and drop the net in the water. You can also take your fishing pole out and cast a line from the river banks; both will work. I will provide everything else you need. Love, God

I smiled as I reached for the net and hook charms. I laughed as they disappeared into my palm right in front of my eyes.

Me: "I do not really fish much, but I guess I will be going fishing, whether by the banks or the sea."

Uriel smiled at me and motioned with his hand toward God's door as the door opened. I felt my robe pocket for the key, but I did not need it as the door was already opened. I smiled and shook my head in amazement as Uriel ushered me into God's presence.

After Uriel put the salve in my eyes, I immediately searched around me to try my best to make notes on the structure of God's Courts here. I could see columns and apses, but I could not see much else.

Drawing of Column & Apses in God's Court in reply below...

The Court had remarkable architecture and was like nothing I had ever seen on Earth. The work here was so precise it was as if the cut stone was created with a laser. Everything constructed here was precise and perfect.

The floor tile consisted of perfect marble and related stones. The pieces were so large that it was impossible to understand the magnitude and weight of each slab. Any way this was simply incredible and I longed to be here as per usual.

The choir of angels sang, "Holy, Holy, Holy, Lord God all Mighty!" The song choruses overlapped as choirs seemed to be singing from all different locations and intervals. It was extremely beautiful and I stayed on my knees to worship for quite some time.

Me: "Thank You, Father, thank You so much. Thank You for the sky above us. Lord, your cathedral ceiling is simply amazing. Thank You for bringing my children home. Thank You for caring for us. Thank You for all of this and even glass butterflies too."

God: "Erin, I am glad you are here. I delight in you because you seek Me with your entire heart. You have been here countless times, but you treat each visit as if it is your first and last and you remain in wonder of Me."

Me: "Father, You are my treasure and my greatest reward is to be in Your presence. I never want You to be disappointed in me so I fear You also. I know You see all of my weaknesses and how small I am.

"Father, You see that I am no one the world expects to be before You, yet You see something in me that I cannot see. So I trust in You and You have never harmed me. You have allowed the trials in my life so I remain in You.

"I read the following today in 1 Chronicles 28:20: "Then David said to his son, Solomon, 'Be strong and courageous, and act; do not fear nor be dismayed, for the Lord God, my God, is with you. He will not fail you nor forsake you until all the work for the service of the house of the Lord is finished.' I feel in my Spirit that You will always be with me."

God: "I am delighted in you. Erin, fear of Me is the beginning of wisdom, but be careful not to be frozen in your place. Be strong and courageous and act. As long as I am with you, who can be against you? I am expanding your tent. Do not be afraid."

Me: "I am not clear on what You are saying, Father."

God: "Do you understand the trees? Can you tell Me about the images I gave you?"

Me: "Well, the trees over my path reminded me of the angels with their swords over me and I felt protected there."

God: "Yes, you were free to run. The angels over you now are like the tree cathedral. You cannot see them, but they are there. When you were on your walk this morning, they were with you."

Me: "So are they in the trees?"

God: Laughing. "Yes and no. They are large like the trees in your vision, but not always in the trees. They are with you and tower over you so remember this. These other structures I showed you also have meaning.

"Even though a church looks like a safe place, it is actually an area like a battlefield. It is a building or structure, but it is not always a place which houses Me, although it is often called 'House of God'. Now, there is a final item to discuss about the apse you have seen. Why are they here?"

Me: "They are beautiful."

God: "Yes, but there is another reason. They produce sound quality worthy of the structure and they have both form and function."

Me: "Is this why You showed me the Opera House in Sydney?"

God: "All good inspiration comes from Me. I can conceive My thoughts by speaking them through My lips and I can breathe it into being. This you cannot understand, but one day you will. Now, the time of My Kingdom is coming."

Me: "I thought Your Kingdom has come?"

God: "My Son has come to shed light as a lamp lights a dark room. Soon though, My Kingdom comes, Erin, for the glorious day is coming and the angels are ready."

Me: "Father, there was so much more on Your calendar though. It seems that there is still time before Your Son comes for us."

God: "Erin, you are correct, but earthly time also goes quickly. Where were you just seven years ago? Looking back, it both seems like yesterday and eternity combined, correct? Erin, your thoughts."

I was laughing as He was so right. This all seemed so far away, yet time flew so fast.

Me: "Forgive me, Father, for time is a great mystery. Our lives are but a blink, yet it is still a lifetime and part of a generation. When I look back to this day one year ago, I stand amazed at all You have done in that time.

"I also look at life and that one second I could be alive and present on Earth and the next second I have passed into eternity with You. Incredible, really, it is all incredible."

God: Laughing. "Erin, I see you are still trying to measure time. Do you still have that plumb line? Now would be a good time to measure your land for the tent pegs."

Me: "Father, I do not understand."

God: "Erin, you could have every measuring tool, every time keeping device and every prediction and you would still be no closer to your answer. Other than what I give you in My words or My actions, you will not know until the time is upon you.

"However, it is good for you to watch as it is joyful to Me when you wonder about My timing. This is good, child, but I also want you to live for today in the sight of Me for I am your giver of tomorrow." He was so kind and calming.

Me: "I take comfort in You, Father. Your message is clear that I should live for both today and tomorrow."

God: Laughing. "Very good, Erin, very good. Now, there is a pattern I am giving you. I have given you a date coming up and I have given you some dreams. It is good to pray for people in distant lands as well as close by. Your observation of the sky as a cathedral is interesting as perhaps it is also like a roof or ceiling."

Me: "Yes, Father, since You are above this and look down upon us as if the sky were glass."

God: "This is a good observation. Now do not worry, but be strong and courageous. I am with you, Erin. You are loved."

I felt God move His hand over His heart, but I could not see it, only feel it.

Me: Crying. "I love You, Father."

Uriel helped me up and ushered me out the door.

Uriel: "Erin, what ties might this structure you saw have to your dreams?"

Me: "I know I am supposed to research this. I do know that the architect of the Sydney Opera House is from the Netherlands. I do not know much more."

Uriel: "Erin, look at the architect's inspiration for building this. All divine Inspiration comes from God, but there is more. Pray as a time soon approaches. A clue lies within Proverbs 9:9-11, so take heart as God is with you and will give you the desires of your heart."

"God is granting your request and meeting not just your need, but giving you a surprise too. He has appointed angels over you to guard you in your ways."

Uriel: Smiling and laughing. "Erin, it is time to go fishing."

Dream over...

Lord, please help me understand this as my dreams are containing such unusual elements that they can only be from You. A few nights ago, I had a dream that I was hungry, so I opened my refrigerator to see what I could find. The refrigerator was mostly empty except for a jar lying on its side.

I picked up the jar and saw that it was labeled 'Kimchi'. I reached for it to eat it, but the glass was cracked and there were fragments of this glass in the Kimchi. I knew that if I ate this, it would cut my mouth.

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day, for loving us and for my family. Please, Father, bless my mom and give her comfort during her illness. Lord, she is weak, fragile and suffering, so please meet her where she is. I thank You for my brothers and their help.

Lord, if I am to fly out to see her soon, please create a way for us to do this. I am not sure how this will come to be, but I pray for Your Will to be done. Lord, for the first time in a while, I am afraid. I realize this irritates people because they think I should never be afraid and that, after all You have done, I should never fear again.

I wish I could be like people want and not be afraid, but after years of learned patterns and because the worst has always happened to me, I sometimes just cannot help to be afraid. I need to be truthful with You, Lord, but now that both of my parents will soon be gone, I feel alone.

Yes, I had a rocky childhood, but my mom was always present. It is possible that my dad no longer even walks the Earth, but I do not know for certain. On Earth, death is as certain as life ending. Very few people understand how magnificent Heaven is, but it is so much better than even their imaginations can dream of.

There is no coughing, no pain, no deterioration, no worry and no being alone. Here on Earth, to those who find You, there is certainly more peace. Some experience Your healing in full or in part, but, no matter what, You enrich our lives with love, grace and hope as, without faith in You, there is no hope.

Without the Fruits of the Spirit, we operate in the polar opposite of these, which is rotten fruit. Father, I need a favor from You. Please appear to my mom as I cannot imagine how horrifying it would be to not breathe well. Her coughing has lasted for seven months and now cancer is growing in her body.

Please, Father, have mercy on her and show her Heaven. Father, I thank You for the treasure of Your heart and the gift of Heaven. You created such an incredible treasure for us. Truly, You love us and understand the pain of aging and illness. You understand brokenness and our sinful nature.

You understood that the enemy of this world first hated You, but inflicts us. You had compassion on us, clearly seeing something good when You sent Jesus to save us. Oh thank You for Jesus, Your Son, Father, for You are glorious, marvelous and worthy of all of our praise.

Please forgive the humanness of me that sometimes has fear when faced with the unknown. Our enemies rise against us in waves and sometimes it is difficult to see above the swells of the surf. Please, Father, grant us peace and more of You as I love You, Father, my Creator and greatest love.

Jesus: "Erin, come up."

I am barefoot on the snowy path just like in the beginning of my dreams. To the right is a snow covered wheat field and in front of me is an opening in the dark cloud covered sky. I saw a ladder come from the cloud as tears began to stream down my cheeks.

This path is familiar now and it sometimes represents a time a few years ago where I had lost everything and I was alone in the desert. I looked to my right and I saw something like billowing smoke, fire and horses. I recognized this as the enemy storming in towards the ladder and I was scared.

My heart began to race as I picked up my gown and began to sprint. As I ran closer to the ladder, I saw a shot of light come from the sky and more and more light soon came. As I got closer to the ladder, angels appeared and covered me from the frightening sight. I saw the archangel Michael from overhead calling out orders.

The angels from Heaven came down from the sky in masses and masses of light waves. The sounds and smells of war around me were deafening and I was shaking. I was small in a white gown and unable to do anything but run for cover under God's angels. I heard Breakthrough whistle for me.

He smiled at me as if he already knew that victory was inevitable and he and another angel sheltered me from the invading dark storm. I looked over to my left for just a moment and the approaching enemy was being cut down by blow after blow of what looked like swords of light, almost like lasers cutting them down.

Then Breakthrough took my hand and I was immediately in front of the Cathedral of Trees in God's Garden. I felt immediately safe and protected as I dropped to my knees in front of this beautiful treed path. Tears streamed from my eyes as I put my face to the beautiful mossy flowering grass and kissed the fragrant ground.

Me: "Thank You, Father, for bringing me here."

I was so relieved and now my heart calmed. I breathed deeply and my lungs filled with the rarified air of Heaven and I felt the oxygen fill my blood cells. My skin had color and was beautiful again.

I could smell jasmine, white ginger, frangipani and wood smoke in the air. It smelled like the glorified idea of autumn in the air. I am not certain how to explain it, but somehow I could smell Heavenly autumn.

I looked up and the trees above me were turning like metallic gold and green. It looked like summer was ending and I cried as I saw two sparrows chasing each other and darting around. I began to follow them as the tears continued to fall down my cheeks.

I had never seen a place like this on Earth and the beauty just in this one section alone was like the beauty of a hundred Earths. I cannot adequately describe it, but it is amplified by knowing that I am free and safe here under God's care and that there is nothing that could harm or scare me here.

I felt one hundred percent safe and it is a beautiful feeling to have no cares, no pressure and no worries.

Me: "Thank You, thank You, Father, as this is better than a thousand churches and the Cathedral of God is alive here."

I felt a hand on my shoulder and I turned and it was Uriel. He had a smile which felt so reassuring to me at that moment.

Uriel: "Why are you so worried, Erin? Did God not promise to send angels from Heaven to take charge over you? Now, God requests your presence."

I nodded and reached for his hand and we were instantly at God's door. I looked to the bulletin board at my right and there before me was a small gold cluster of grapes and the number '7' in gold. I picked up the note next to these and it read:

Erin, and you shall count for yourself from the first day after the day of rest, from that day that you brought the Omer seven complete weeks. It will come to pass on the third day, when it is morning, there will be thunder and lightning and a thick cloud upon the mountain and the sound of the Shofar will be exceedingly loud. The time of the end will be like that of the time of the beginning for there is nothing new under the sun. Watch and be amazed. You are loved.

I stared at the note and re-read this again. I picked up the small gold cluster of grapes and the gold '7', which is also my favorite number. I watched as it disappeared into the palm of my hand.

Uriel then drew my attention to God's open door and the light streamed in or should I say out of this glorious House or Court of God. Upon entering, I heard the choirs of God's angels singing, "Holy, Holy, Holy, Lord God Almighty, Early in the Morning, our song shall rise to thee."

The song came in layers of choruses and was by far the most beautiful of choirs in all of eternity. I felt my knees drop as gravity pulled my cells down to bow before Him on the Throne. Uriel put salve in my eyes so that I could see a bit better, but His presence was more glorious than my eyes could bear.

Me: "Oh Father, I am so glad to be here before You. Please forgive my sense of fear and my worry. As You supernaturally provide for the birds of the air, I know you will supply for all of my needs in Christ Jesus."

I heard the choirs grow quieter and the singing became more like humming. I then heard the voice of God.

God: "Erin, do not be downcast and do not be afraid. Before you even made your thoughts into worry, I sent you help. You see the change in the landscape of your life and you become afraid by it. This I understand as it is in your later years when you welcome peace and embrace that which is familiar.

"Your uncertainty in timing gives you fear. Have I not told you to give Me your burdens? I am big enough to take this yoke if you chose to give it to Me. You are My child and I call you friend. Is a good Father and friend unable to care for you?"

Me: "I am sorry, Father, but, of course, please take my burdens. I lay my worries down before You. You have created miracles in my life and I am forever changed. What does the seven mean? What do all of these symbols mean?"

God: "Erin, although I can do many new things and infinitely more than that, I give you comfort by the patterns written in history. Do you understand? As you take comfort in a God who is in charge, then you can also take comfort in the Words I give you.

"If I am the Alpha and Omega, the Beginning and the End, then will I not also be the same yesterday, today and forever? If this be the case, then would My commandments go away or My laws become unnecessary?"

"Have I now become a lukewarm God Who allows sin and disorder? Am I a God Who is now lenient of diverse methods and lifestyles? When did this change?"

Me: "Father, Your laws and commandments bring me comfort and I feel they are part of me and no longer burdensome. When I was alive in sin and before Jesus entered into my heart, Your rules were a yoke and I preferred to think of You as accepting my sins joyfully and me being rewarded for my selfishness.

"Now I realize how difficult it is for a sinner to find You because sin is comfortable today and very few desire You because they fear You are boring and dull. I know You are far from this, so I thank You so much for leading me down the small narrow path which leads to life more abundant. I would not trade You as You are like finding a priceless treasure."

God: "Erin, remember to come to Me when your burden is heavy and I will give you rest. I made a vow to you that I will take care of you and your children. You will all reside here, so do not worry."

Me: "Father, the counting of the Omer has passed. Why did you mention this?"

God: "Erin, look to Ruth. What is the time you are in right now?"

Me: "Well, autumn is coming as I smelled it a few days ago and even a few weeks ago. It seemed early this year. I also know that this is a very holy time, but also possibly a time of judgment and a time of harvest and celebration too. School begins again."

God: "Were you not in preparatory school in your recent dream?"

Me: "Yes, just a few days ago. It was a curious dream with the numbers '5' and '10'. It was not clear."

God: "Erin, a few years ago, I had you sketch a picture of columns with smoke. Did you not just see this come to pass as you had drawn?"

Me: "Well, I think so. When I saw Palmyra on the news recently, I got chills of confirmation. However, I dismissed this as I did not see the other parts of the drawing being fulfilled, like the big round boulders."

God: "Erin, when you see war on Earth, there are also wars you cannot see above that. Is it possible Heaven opened and Michael himself descended down over it also? Continue to draw that which you see in your dreams as you know not what I have conceived or commanded.

"Erin, be obedient only to My call and do not be like Jonah and go directly in the opposite direction. Obedience is always better than sacrifice when I call. Now allow Me to work as I will do all that I have promised you."

Me: "Thank You, Father."

God: "Erin, I have heard your cries and it does not please Me when your heart breaks. I will not let your hurt go unpunished and I will take charge over you in all you do. I care about you and I love you. Now pray for the lawless, the selfmade, the lost and their hearts of stone. Pray that they would be emptied and allow Me to fill them.

"The time is ripe for harvest, the grapes are weighing down the vines and the little foxes dance in the vineyards. Go down there to find Me and there I will be found by you. You are My love and this is My divine love song to you."

I looked up toward the Throne of God in bewilderment as I did not quite understand what He was saying. He is mysterious, yet very precise and He wants me to pursue this mystery.

I felt the hand of God touch His heart on the Throne, even though I could see nothing but movement and warm light. This is a great mystery and, as this happened, I felt warmth over my heart. Uriel brought me to my feet and guided me out the door and into God's forest.

Uriel: "God wants you to seek Him fully in Spirit and in truth and with your whole heart. Erin, He has plans to prosper you, so do not worry about tomorrow. You understand the times you are in, so now take comfort in God's Words and not those of man.

“I am here to help. Now you were given the reference of Ruth, so look at 1:16 what Ruth vowed, ‘Do not urge me to leave you or to turn back from you. Where you stay I will stay.’ This is how faithful God is to you and when you have the same zeal He will reward you with a double portion at the time of harvest.

“He is showing you how much He loves you and your heart. You are loved as in the Song of Songs. Here you will find His answers. Now rejoice and please know that He created you and He cares for that which concerns you.

“He cares even in the small things which consume you, so do not worry. He has you and sent angels concerning you. He also does the same concerning your friends and family. Now give your burdens to Him who loves and created you.”

Uriel smiled at me reassuringly and I nodded and smiled back.

Dream 174 – God, Call to Repentance and the Snake

Received Sunday, September 13, 2015

(Formerly known as Prophetic 34)

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day, for loving us and for Your grace. I feel a strong need to repent during these next 'Ten Days of Awe'. While I know that I am only a gentile and know very little about Jewish Torah traditions, I am also a child of God and a Bride of Christ. Therefore, since God cares about those traditions He handed down, then I too would like to understand these better.

While I am not bound to these traditions, I sometimes follow and practice these traditions, albeit with limited knowledge, as they seem to reveal so much about the Father and the Son He sent down to save us. I prayed with thanks for all of this:

'Our Father, Who art in Heaven, hallowed be thy Name. Thy Kingdom come, Thy Will be done on Earth as it is in Heaven. Give us this day our daily bread and forgive us our trespasses as we forgive those who trespass against us. Lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from the evil one. For Thine is the Kingdom and the power and the glory forever and ever, Amen.' Matthew 6:9-13.

Father, I am sorry for any trespasses or debts I have as I owe You my very life. In turn, please forgive those who trespass against me or those who owe debts to me. I release and forgive those who owe me as You have blessed me by forgiving mine.

Father, we physically trespassed on our neighbors land. We did not mean any harm, but we walked across his property down to the lake and our walking eventually created a path which led straight back to us. We even had a small bridge of wood over the creek on our property that helped us get though his property as a short cut.

Lord, You told me that one day You would give me this field and that I would legally purchase it. However, instead of waiting on You, I went ahead of You and have now created an offense against my neighbor which was completely unnecessary.

On Wednesday, this six foot five inch scary looking man knocked on my door and he stated his case about our being on his property without permission. I apologized to him and offered to repay him for any damage we may have caused even though there was no damage.

I then asked for his forgiveness, but he refused to give it. As background, this man's property is undeveloped as of now and sits as an overgrown field of weeds and wild flowers in some places over three feet high. Even though he was not nice about all of this, I still emailed him to again apologize and offered assurance that we would never cross his land again.

This man owns this land with his 'partner' and I believe they might even be married. This man has his doctorate and teaches at a nearby university. Father, please forgive us as I am deeply sorry for my offense, but he will not even allow me to apologize or provide restitution via compensation.

Now a silly matter has become a big deal and this was never my intention. Now I feel that any possibility of him selling his field to us is lost because I moved ahead of You. He has a right to his property and should be allowed privacy in the same way that I have been tucked away here to a private place.

Me: "Lord, please soften his heart to forgive our offense so that we can live in peace."

Jesus: "Erin, come up."

I found myself sitting on a small rock bench overlooking God's valley in His Garden. I was carrying such a large yoke of guilt for my offense on Earth that I even felt somewhat uneasy about being here in God's Garden.

Me: "Father, what if I am trespassing here too? What if my key no longer fits Your lock?"

I then felt a hand on my shoulder and I turned and saw Uriel before me. His eyes looked kind and he smiled as he sat on the bench next to me. I was thrown off guard as this seemed so much like Jesus and unlike what I have seen from Uriel. This made me smile and giggle.

Uriel: Smiling too. "Angels sit too, Erin. Now, God wants you to state your case, give Him your yoke and lay down your burdens. So, what troubles you?"

I sat for a moment and thought as there were so many things.

Me: "I know better than to walk on someone's property without their permission. We only walked there a couple of times, but the trampled weeds left a trail right back to our home. Clearly we offended, but this man will not accept my apology so we can reconcile.

I want so much to correct my wrong as just ten days ago I had a Christian trespass against me for almost nine months, yet my will was to reconcile. We reconciled and, even though I gave them forgiveness of most of their debts to me, they were still angry and made me feel as if I had wronged them somehow.

"Now I feel that others have trespassed against me, yet I too have trespassed against others. I am unsettled in my heart as a result and the dream I had last night was equally unsettling."

Uriel: "You desire reconciliation and this is good. Now, you have confessed your sins to God and He accepts your prayer of repentance and forgives you. He forgives you as you have forgiven others. Now, tell me your dream and I will take you to the Throne of God as He requests your presence."

Me: "Uriel, what if my key no longer works? What if God's door is closed to me?"

Uriel: "You are here by invitation as you did not choose God, but He first chose you. However, when He calls you, you can choose whether to answer and come to Him. Therefore you are His guest, but you are also His child and the Bride of Christ and your Home is here. If your Home is here, then you are an alien where you reside on Earth."

Me: "You are right. My dream was odd. In this dream, there was a city like the West Village in New York. There were beautiful townhouses lining the street. In the middle of the street was a long line of beds or bedroom vignettes of all different styles and all were open air and exposed to those living in the townhouses. The townhouses seemed to have gatherings in them taking place behind closed doors."

Drawing of Beds of the Prophets in reply below...

"In my dream, I walked to the edge of the city to find my bed there. It was in a quiet part of the neighborhood and I remembered in my dream that I wanted privacy and not full exposure. As I lay in my bed there to sleep, I asked God to move me to a private area above the top of some cute shops where there was a flat for sale. Although it was tight for us in livable square footage, I knew we could be safe there. What does this dream mean?"

Uriel: "God will reveal more, Erin, but this dream has layers and the exposed beds are those of the prophets. These prophets lay down on these beds to sleep and they are fully exposed to those around them. In turn, each of the townhouses is filled with people who invite these prophets and their prophecies into their homes.

"These townhouses are also like websites, ministries and churches, but they can also be individual homes. Since many of the prophets actually enjoy this exposure, they spill out many words in order to be invited into all of these townhouses. In turn, the people in the townhouses happily open their doors to their words and celebrate them.

"These prophets rarely lay down and rest as they are too busy mingling with each other. Very few of them take the time to hear and seek God and are more often prone to the flattering tongues that meet flattering ears.

"Your bed is in a private area along with the others who desire time to rest in God's Words and breathe in His Scriptures. This is good, Erin, as God is showing you in this that He will keep you safe, but the positions of the beds are where the popularity of the prophet's words are like honey to ears."

Me: "I do not understand."

Uriel: "As your words are different, they will not be well received, but do not be discouraged."

Me: "But I thought all of us would have the same messages from God."

Uriel: "Some of you will and it will be very clear and concise, but others will be inconsistent and meant to confuse. At this time, God will have you speak less and say more. I will now take you to God and He will explain more."

I got up and took Uriel's extended hand and immediately we were in front of God's door. I looked to the bulletin board and there was a note and nothing else. I picked up the note to read it:

Drawing of Snake Tread on Me in reply below...

There was a picture of a rattlesnake and the words:

"It Treaded on Me – I will now Tread!"

Erin Pray for the Peace of Israel!

I put the note in my hand and, right before my eyes, the note crumpled and burned, yet the fire did not burn my skin. I then smelled wood smoke and the smell of gunpowder, so I quickly turned to God's door but panicked as the door was closed.

Uriel: "Erin, do not panic. Use your key as God is showing you that your key still works to open His door, so rejoice."

I breathed a sigh of relief and I took the key out of my pocket and began to turn the lock. I was so certain that I was under God's judgment that I thought my key would not work. I was relieved as the door opened and the glory of God's light streamed through.

Uriel put salve in my eyes and brought me into God's glorious presence. Uriel took me several steps closer than I had ever been. I heard the amazing sound of the choir of God's angels singing, "Holy, Holy, Holy!"

These amazing voices were layering and rising in the chorus. This was so incredible that I felt my heart racing with each ascending "Holy" and went higher and higher. I felt the warm rush of my blood cells expanding and praising God. Even the parts of me on Earth that were battered, bruised and stiff became temporarily healed.

I praised God on bended knees with my hands lifted high as tears streamed down my cheeks yet again. I confessed all which came to the forefront of my soul in reconciliation to the holiness of my Father God on the Throne. I expressed my forgiveness to those whom I wronged or who were offended by my very existence.

Then I thanked God for my children, my family and my friends. I felt my heart fill with such love, joy, thankfulness and peace for God that I cannot adequately describe this, but it was magnified far beyond the best worship service on Earth. I never wanted it to end as the air and glory of God's presence was life giving and healing.

God: "Erin, your thoughts."

Me: "Father, to be here in the glory of Your presence is like nothing which has words. I do not have words to describe it and I am in awe of You. I feel so thankful for this."

God: "Your heart is heavy and I know that which troubles you. I also know that which you keep hidden, so now confess this."

Immediately I saw a vision of my mom in her hospice bed barely able to breathe. She was dying and afraid and I began to cry.

Me: "Father, I can breathe so deeply here before You on the Throne. In comparison, my mom can barely breathe and does not have Your presence with her. I feel heavy about this and yet helpless to change it. Father, what can I do for her?"

God: "Love, Erin, love others because I first loved you. Give Me your mother unless you can heal her and save her instead."

Me: "God, My Father, Creator of the Universe and everything in it, not unless You work through me. I cannot heal her and only You can save and I certainly cannot. I therefore have no choice but to give my mom to You."

God: "Then hand her back to Me."

In a vision, I held my mom's frail ninety pound body at the foot of the Cross. I laid her body there in front of God.

God: "Now please do not worry as, by your endurance, you will gain your life (Luke 21:19). Your labor has not been in vain, so stand steadfast, Erin. Now, there is more. Speak to Me."

Me: I thought for a moment. "Father, You tell me to stand steadfast. Please help me stand when I need to and flee when I must."

God: "The adversary mocked Him in the desert. After forty days, the enemy tried to provoke Him to act three times, but instead He remained steadfast and spoke truth (Luke 4). The followers and leaders of the Law later made fun of My Son and said 'He trusts in God, so let God rescue Him now' (Matthew 27:43). Now, Erin, if I tell you to fish or call you to be a fisherman, what do you do?"

Me: "I drop my nets and follow You."

God: "Very good as this is correct. Remember that there are layers in My Words. Remember the parable about a pearl or pearls and even treasures in My Words. What have you learned about My written Words?"

Me: "You are showing me the different layers of Your Word and that there are at least four layers and possibly even more.

"First, there is the plain text and is exactly what we read in the Scriptures and the literal Word as read.

"Second, there is the symbolic meaning or depth.

"Third, there is the comparative meaning and how it relates to other things around us.

"Fourth, there are the hidden secret meanings of Your Words.

"You gave me the vision of a field or fields and I first saw crops on a farmer's field. Then I saw all the things which could relate to the farmer's field, as well as the planting, growth and harvest. Then I saw the farmer's field compared to a neighboring farmer's field.

"Then I saw a cross-section of the farmer's field right below the surface where the sod is at the roots of the crop, but it is hidden to the naked eye. There are layers revealed in Scripture when You illuminate them through the Holy Spirit. There is nothing I can manifest divinely on my own apart from You as God."

God: "I give you Scripture to breathe life into you and illuminate truth, but I also give you things and people around you to bring My Words of life into practice. Your daily life feeds your knowledge and revelation of just Who I am as Your Father.

"Now, you have learned some difficult lessons, but I have allowed this. These lessons through your time of trouble led you to this time before My Throne. You are not here before Me to be judged as you are repentant. This also keeps your heart teachable and your soul at peace, so do not worry."

Me: "Father, what was the note with the broken snake?"

God: "I will reveal this, but right now you must simply write this down: 'It is the time of awe and this is the time to repent. This is the time for humility so I may pour out grace.' Now, write this plainly, reconcile your differences and render your hearts to Me."

Uriel came over and touched my shoulder.

Me: "Thank You, Father, I will do as You ask. I love You."

God: "I love You, Erin, and My hand is upon you and My favor rests on you."

Uriel ushered me out God's door.

Uriel: "Erin, look at the origins of the 'Don't tread on me' slogan. There you will see that which you seek. Judgment is coming."

Me: "I am afraid, Uriel."

Uriel: "Do not be afraid. Look at the season as there was an olive branch in the snake's venomous mouth."

Me: "What do the thirteen pieces mean?"

Uriel: "You will see. Now do not be afraid to speak truth. If you were not in God's favor, you would know. You are loved."

Dream 175 – God, Pomegranate, Fig and Honeycomb

Received Sunday, September 20, 2015

(Formerly known as Prophetic 35)

Dear Father,

Thank You, thank You, thank You! You have given me the chance to reconcile with those whom You have put on my heart during the 'Days of Awe'. Although I have no idea when You are coming for us, You showed me a few days ago the urgency to make things right and repent for any wrongs I have committed against You.

Without knowing it, I have at times committed spiritual adultery, so I ask for Your divine forgiveness and I come to You in repentance for my sins. As I walked my dogs this morning, I could not believe the amazing way You have strengthened me during this extended fast.

However, I also know that apart from You there is no way I could continue. I spent some time examining my walk and the course of my life. When I did, I knew that I had to put my family before You and ask You for mercy over family members who do not truly understand the magnitude of who You are.

So many of my friends have even morphed their Christian beliefs into other religions apart from You and without even realizing it they are chasing after false doctrines. Please do not hide Your face, Father, from those who earnestly seek You and do not forget those whose hearts are sincere and do things without understanding.

I read a lovely Scripture which the Holy Spirit illuminated during my walk this morning. Psalm 23:3, "He renews my soul. He guides me along the paths of righteousness for the sake of His Name." I reflected also on something I read about affirmations of God's guidance in our walk of Faith:

Psalm 32:8, "Trust in God; He is our guide and teacher."

Hebrews 12:2, "He is the author and finisher; focus on Him. He is the goal of our faith."

Isaiah 9:6, "He is my Savior and counselor."

Philippians 4:4-9, "He is Gentle, so let our gentleness be evident to others."

Philippians 4:19, "He will meet all our needs"

Isaiah 43:16, "He will make a way when all seems bleak."

John 16:13, "He has all the answers; He is truth."

Ephesians 1:11, "He has chosen us according to His plan and His will."

2 Timothy 2:12, "He is faithful to us and we will reign with Him if we endure. If we disown Him, He will disown us."

Deuteronomy 31:8, Psalm 139:5 and Isaiah 41:10, "I thank You for Your divine guidance as I continue this race. I see the finish line in the distance. I do not run this race alone. You are there right beside me. You are also my rear guard. Your hand is upon me."

I love You, Father in Heaven, and I thank You for instructing me in the ways I should go and You are my treasure. I reflect on Psalm 46 and recite this before You as You are truly my refuge and strength and a very present help in trouble.

'Therefore, I will not fear though the Earth be moved and the mountains fall into the sea the waters roar and are troubled and the mountains quake and tremble. There is a river whose streams make glad the City of God, the Holy Place where the Most High dwells.

God is within her and she will not fall as God will help her at the break of day. Nations are in uproar and kingdoms may fall, but He lifts His voice and the Earth melts. The Lord Almighty is with me and the God of Jacob is my fortress.

Come see the works of the Lord and the desolation He has brought upon the Earth. He makes wars cease to the ends of the Earth and He breaks the bow and shatters the spear. He burns the shields with fire.'

Then God says, 'Be still and know I am God. I will be exalted among nations, I will be exalted in and through the Earth. The Lord Almighty is with us; the God of Jacob is our fortress.'

Father, please rend hearts back to You fully, heal the broken and call out to them. Please mend the hardest of hearts and reconcile them to You. Thank You for sending Jesus to save us. Praise be to His Name on all the Earth.

Jesus: "Erin, come up."

I am up in Heaven and in the middle of a beautiful vineyard. I know this is Heaven as the crop of grapes is too perfect for Earth. I was wearing a white dress with a blue smock, wherein my hair was long and in a braid and I had bare feet.

I looked down and wiggled my toes in the rich mineralized dirt. The dirt felt like velvet and did not leave a dirt residue. Indeed, this was not 'dirty dirt' as I remembered this dirt was a composite of the very richest of minerals and far beyond our comprehension.

I looked around at the vast number of vines and saw that the leaves were now changing colors. I saw shades of green, yellow, gold, red, purple and even some hues of blue in the grape leaves. The grape clusters were massive and individually were almost the size of plums.

The clusters weighed heavy on the vines and each cluster consisted of every color of gem stone imaginable. Each grape was translucent and full of juice. I reached over and plucked a white grape from one of the clusters.

This white grape looked like a white pearl and somewhat like some bath beads I remember my Mom had when I was a child. The bath beads looked solid, but once I squeezed one, it would squirt bath oil on me and the skin would dissolve.

This grape looked like this bath bead, but I decided to eat the grape anyway. I was laughing at this when, just then, I felt a hand on my shoulder and I saw that it was Uriel and he was smiling.

Uriel: "It is okay, Erin, you can partake in the grape."

He chuckled and I laughed because he rarely laughed. I popped the grape into my mouth. It was huge, incredibly good and indescribable in taste. It was like an earthly grape, yet sweeter and tarter at the same time. Quite simply, this grape was perfect.

Me: "Wow, this is incredible. This will make amazing wine."

Uriel: "Look around you. The angels are harvesting this crop for new wine."

I looked around and I saw angels in the hills of this massive vineyard of God's. They were putting huge clusters into baskets. There was an incredible intensity to finish yet I heard praise choirs singing. There was complete joy.

Me: "Are angels always such happy servants?"

Uriel: "As you know, not all have been..." I knew he was referring to Lucifer. "...but, yes, angels love to serve God. Now, Erin, God requests your presence."

Me: "Uriel, what are these grapes you are harvesting? Are they for white wine, red wine, burgundy or grappa?"

Uriel: "It matters not as all are a special reserve wine for God Himself. It is neither of the harvest times of white, red, burgundy or late ice wine, but all of them combined."

Me: "Wow, I bet this will be an incredible release reserve of wine. He could call it 'Victory Vintage' or 'Heavenly Harvest'"

I was smiling, but Uriel suddenly became more serious in tone.

Uriel: "Erin, there is a process to making wine as there is a wine press. The grapes are trodden and even separated from their skins. Then the juice is infused from God Himself to create the finest wine, but the process is more complicated. The process is long, but the wine is like nothing on Earth. It is Heavenly. Now come."

Immediately I was at God's door and it was open. I smiled and felt for my key in my smock pocket and laughed when I felt it. No matter what, God has always let me carry this key to His door, regardless if the door is open or shut. He is amazing.

I looked at the bulletin board and there was a beautiful gold pomegranate charm and a gold fig with a leaf. Next to this was a small silver and gold honeycomb. These were the most beautiful of the charms so far. I picked them up to look and they dissolved into my right hand.

I then saw a vision of God's clock as they went into my palm, but I could not see any clock or calendar details. There was a note beside them with my name on it and I opened the small note: "Erin, from this season, count two more. This is the time of my special reserve. Do not worry or be afraid. When things seem bleak, call upon Me and I will answer. I change times and seasons, I remove kings and establish them and I give wisdom to wise men and knowledge to men of understanding. It is I Who reveals the profound and hidden things. I know, also, what is in darkness, and the light dwells with Him. Jesus is the light in the darkness. Erin, I will make known to you the King's matters."

Me: "Uriel, this is Daniel 2:21-22. I just read this recently as God put this on my heart when I was thinking of the elections."

Uriel: "Go to God, Erin, as you cannot assume this to be what He is referring to. In all matters in this time, you must go to Him. Only God on the Throne holds all the answers. If He has invited you into His presence, then you are encouraged to inquire of Him.

"However, do not inquire of others, but of God first. Then, because He loves you, He will send help from His sanctuary." He then pointed to himself. "He will set up confirmation for you so you can trust in Him. He will not let you stumble or fall and He will not let you be harmed. Now come into His presence."

I smiled even though all of this seemed very serious. I reached for Uriel's robe and stepped through God's door into God's glory. Immediately, I felt a rush of warmth and healing. Uriel turned to me and put salve into my eyes. He then took me a few more steps before I became too weak to go further.

It is difficult to understand, but in God's presence, in His glorious presence, we become humbled. Every part of our body humbly submits to God in reverence of His position as our Creator. Every cell submits and it is like a magnetic source, but greater.

I dropped to my knees in the presence of God and praised Him for some time. I sang along with the choirs of Heavenly angels, singing "Holy, Holy, Holy, great is the Lord and worthy of our praise, great are You God, worthy is the Lamb!"

I wept as I asked for forgiveness for anything I could think of that I was holding against my fellow believers in Christ and even those who were not believers yet. I prayed in my prayer language.

God: "I am glad you came."

Me: "Thank You, Father, for the invitation into Your presence. These visits have changed my life."

God: "Hopefully others can also put themselves before Me in My presence."

Me: "I thought this was not just for me, 'Erin', but for all those who seek You in a deeper way. I thought I was not so unique, but really just one of Your people who represent the Bride."

God: "Yes, and to those who are humble, I speak volumes of wisdom to. Some who claim to hear from Me need to turn up the volume of My voice to remove their fleshly screaming imaginations, which lead them into fear and confusion.

"I offer the wise peace when delivering a message from the Throne so people turn to hear. Then, when they turn to hear from Me, they will also turn from their evil ways and come to Me with their whole heart in repentance.

"You are not to walk around in fear and trembling as this will lead to disillusionment and double-mindedness. Those who pass prophecy back and forth regurgitate fear and create barriers to hear clearly from the Holy Spirit. Because of the nearness of the time, many will rise up and say, 'There He is, this is it, look there.', but there is nothing.

"Instead they will miss the hidden nugget, the gem of truth and a pearl of beauty in an unassuming shell. Please continue the course you are on and concern yourself not with those I have not sent to you, but be at peace for I am the God Who resides on the Throne."

I heard something like thunder and then the entire ground shook. This was not normal shaking, but really rolling like a wave and I became terrified.

God: "Erin, etch Psalm 46 on your heart and remember who you are in Psalm 45. You will hear someone say, 'God does not quote Scripture verse, so how can this be?' Well, I am the Alpha and Omega, I am the Beginning and the End and I know the End therefore from the Beginning.

"If the Word originates from Me, then therefore I have appointed it. I sent My Son to deliver the Good News and beautiful are the feet of those who bring it."

Me: "Father, You seem very firm today."

God: "Erin, be still and know I am God. Deliver this message as encouragement. You will hear, 'God has hidden His face' or 'God repays evil with evil, He repays good with evil.' I have not done this. The Earth is Mine and all which I have created.

"Soon the time will come when the door is shut to those who do not recognize that I opened the door from the beginning, yet few enter it. There is an urgency to reconcile your hearts. Turn from your adulterous ways and your foul talk. Now you will not be welcomed by your message. The door is still open, Erin, but soon this door will close."

Me: Crying. "Father, I feel the urgency of the time, but I also know that there is still time to turn those lost to You. Please show us how to reach those whom the enemy has hidden from us.

"So many are claiming to be Christians, but who is truly Yours? Please grant us supernatural wisdom to testify to Your goodness and let us show them the door is about to close as now I am afraid."

God: "No, Erin, you are not to fear. Fear of God is good, but do not be afraid. You have reconciled your heart to Me and I call you friend."

Me: "Father, now I understand. Even though I am Yours, there was a process to get here and it was a long one. Please accelerate the move of the Holy Spirit over the lost. Please make them supernaturally turn to you in Spirit and in truth. Let all who call upon Your Name, whose hearts are humbled and full of love for Jesus, be saved quickly before Your door shuts forever."

God: "Your prayer is good. Now you will see signs around you that confirm the time. Do not be afraid. You will see the ground move and the mountains quake. Do not be afraid. You will see the ground split and land burn. Do not be afraid. You will have help from above. Do not be afraid."

"Rejoice, be glad and care for those who are in need of good food. By doing so, you will shine bright and things in darkness will be uncovered by your light. Your goodness and grace will be despised by many, but welcomed by some.

"Take heart and rejoice in doing good and do not worry about tomorrow. You are to continue to live as if you do not know the time of My Kingdom, yet fully aware of the signs of My coming. Do not be afraid, but be of good cheer and rejoice."

Me: "Thank You, Father, but it is difficult to plan too far ahead and I sometimes wonder if I plan in vain."

God: "Erin, if you are a good farmer, then farm as I own the land. Do this because I ask this of you and do not stop because there are a few signs or someone's rumor. Continue to farm, work your soil, plant your seed, pray to Me for rain and sun and I will do this. I bless a 'heart of gold' and I bless the farm of the good farmer."

I then felt Uriel's hand on my shoulder to take me back.

Me: "Thank You, Father, for Your message of good news. I love You."

God: "I love you, child."

As I got up and walked through the door escorted by Uriel, tears were streaming down my cheeks.

Uriel: "You understand that you are to live, Erin, so do not stop living. Remember to continue farming, but remember that He has also called you to be a fisherman. This is not by accident as God is in control, so fix your eyes on Him and He will give you the desires of your heart.

"Give as you are able to those who have needs and God will give you abundantly more. Never cease in doing good and keep your lips from foul talk. Do not entertain fools or play with them in storm tossed seas.

"You are set apart, so turn to Heaven as He has appointed angels concerning you to keep you on your way. Be blessed as you are loved."

Dream 176 – Jesus, Tamaracks, Wildflowers and My Mom

Received Thursday, September 24, 2015

(Formerly known as Prophetic 36)

Dear Father,

My mom died in her sleep around 9:00pm last night on September 23rd, 2015. My brother just phoned me a while ago and few phone calls during the hours of sleep are good news. Father, I was not there to comfort my Mom and I was not there to see her for one last time.

Yesterday, and for the first time in more than twenty years, I picked up my paint brush and started painting. The very thing my mother wanted me to do more than anything was to paint. I was very gifted at painting, but life, my career, family and the many trials kept me from this.

My Mom had always encouraged me to paint and it was part of my DNA, but recently a physical impossibility. Yesterday was a beautiful day and, after I saw the children off to school, I then went to take communion.

After this, You put it on my heart to paint a picture. I felt like I was supposed to come to You for a Word on Yom Kippur, but instead I heard, 'Erin, go paint'. My big idea was to set up my easel, sit on my porch and just start painting.

However, I grew tired after a while because my hands could not hold the brush and I could not seem to paint anymore. I am trained and more comfortable with realism when I paint. I stood there for a while looking at this sketch on my canvas and I heard the Lord say, 'Just paint, Erin, and do not worry about who will see it or what it will look like.'

I laughed because I could not hold the paint brush in front of me, so I began to paint with a palette knife instead. Several times during this I thought of my mom and I hoped this painting or even a photo of me painting would bring her a smile.

Last Saturday, I uncharacteristically heard three songs in various places when I had been out and about. I had not heard these three songs since the mid-1970s and each reminded me of my mom. When I heard the last song play, I just knew she would be going Home soon and I became very heavy hearted.

Father, You warned me in advance that she was soon to leave here, but I guess I had hoped for more time and had hope. I felt there was still four to six months left and my heart is broken. Father, my only known remaining earthly parent is now gone.

A flood of memories are coming over me, so how do I move forward? Did I do everything I could, Father? I expected a miracle. Well, in my heart, I wanted to see my mom well again. She was gifted at so many things.

Father, thank You for my mom and for guiding her in the ways she should go. Even though she did not feel the same way about You as I do, it is only because she did not fully know who You are. All of her children, my brothers and I, know You and therefore You called us individually to You.

My comfort lies in that my mom died while she slept. At the end, my mom could not breathe nor could she swallow food and she was so uncomfortable. Father, please offer me comfort that You were there and so were the angels.

I am crying as I know that I will never hear her voice again here on Earth. Please, Father, please let the suffocating grief that I am feeling be turned to joy knowing she is resting with You. I love You.

Jesus: "Erin, come up."

I wake up as if I had been sleeping under a very large tree that was perhaps an oak tree. I am in God's valley by His beautiful River of Life. I was curled up on my side at the base of this massive canopy of branches, leaves and fruit.

My head was in a patch of velvet moss about three inches thick. It was literally like carpet and woven silk combined. I used my hands to push me up to a sitting position. I looked everywhere around me hoping to see a sign of my Mom with Jesus or something to show she was here with Him.

I was in a beautiful meadow and the wild flowers were so incredibly colorful. Every shade and variety was represented as I looked over this incredible sea of color. Around these flowers were beautiful trees. The trees were tamaracks, which are my mom's favorite tree in the fall season.

The trees there had changed slightly from green to gold and I saw a mist across them just like they are when fall comes to the Canadian Rockies and the Selkirk Mountains. I got up and went to the River of Life and bent down, cupped my hands and drank.

The water was so crystal clear and looked just like glaciated water. In the river bed was every variety of polished river rock, only these were carnelian, malachite, jasper, picture a 'snowflake jasper', labradorite and many other precious stones.

I wished my Mom was there to see this. As I looked down at the river, I saw my reflection. Here in Heaven, I am whole and my face shines brightly and my skin is beautiful. My hair is long and wavy and my teeth are white, a far cry from my earthly appearance.

Just yesterday, I became sunburned on the left side of my face while I attempted to paint with my palette knife on the porch. I stared for a while at my appearance.

Me: "Lord, why do we have such dying bodies on Earth? The minute we are born, we begin to age. It just seems wrong. Father, can I pray for my mom to come back from the dead and be healed? What do I pray for? How do I pray?"

I knelt over the water and closed my eyes and felt the warmth of the sun. I opened my eyes and the stones in the riverbed were glowing with such opulence. Just then, and to my left, I saw Jesus' reflection in the water and felt a hand on my shoulder. I began to cry as He reached out to hold me. I wept in His arms for quite some time.

Jesus: "It is okay, Erin, you are going to be okay."

Me: Crying. "Lord, my heart is racing, my stomach is sick and my arms are weak."

Jesus: "I know, but calm down as you are here and soon your mourning will turn to dancing. Joy will come in the morning."

Me: "Lord, it is morning, but joy escapes me right now and I can barely breathe."

Jesus: "Erin, live. Should you not be joyful that your mom can now breathe? She is resting as those who walk uprightly enter into peace. They find rest as they lie in death (Isaiah 57:1-2)."

Me: "Lord, is she here with You? Is my mom here in Heaven?"

Jesus: "Did you not lay your fragile mother at the foot of the Cross? Did you not give her fully to My Father?"

Me: Crying. "Yes, but I did not see her or speak to her. I..."

Jesus: "Do you trust in God to care about you?"

Me: "Yes."

Jesus was sitting beside me at the River of Life.

Jesus: Smiling. "Are you able to save or is this My job?"

Me: "No, I cannot save anyone as I am not God, although at times and for my own selfish reasons, I wish I could set His clock back or speed it up. I wish at times I could call down fire from Heaven and send refreshing rain in a scorched desert. I wish I could do more to help others."

Jesus: "Well then, are you ready to step into God's House or sit on His Throne?"

Me: "Never, Lord, as I could never be God. Please forgive me, Lord, but my heart grieves and I am searching for ways to control time or change events. I cannot wrap myself around this as I thought she still had four to six months."

Jesus: "According to who? If My Father created you, did He not also create your mother? Did He not also know when her time had completed on Earth, even at her time of birth? Was she not knit by God in her mother's womb also?"

Me: "Yes, Lord, I just wanted a last goodbye, that is all."

Jesus: "Erin, I know you did not have this, but My Father assigned angels on your behalf to comfort your mother. She also had your brother nearby as she fell asleep."

Me: "Oh, please, Lord, tell me You spoke to her. You had me painting, but I could have been praying or interceding on her behalf."

Jesus: "You blessed your mother most by painting. What good would have come by your worrying and crying while she struggled? It was her time and this was My Father's Will. His Will be done on Earth as it is in Heaven. Erin, she was suffering, so no good would have come from a delay here. Erin, you know what it is like to lose your breath."

Just then I had a download of a recent episode when I could not breathe. It was in the airplane on the tarmac at LaGuardia Airport and it felt so frightening.

Me: "Lord, I pray You comforted her."

Jesus: "I heard your cries and grace fell upon you, Erin, so please take comfort."

Me: "What is next, Lord?"

Jesus: "You will be given instructions later today, but now give me your yoke of heaviness."

Me: "Lord, take the yoke off my heart and please help me tell my children. What do I do? The story of my life just passed, along with my memories, my..."

Jesus: "Erin, your story is not yours and I know you are worried about many things. Just know that everything will be taken care of, so do not allow the enemy to rob your joy with lies. Angels are assigned to you and your needs will be taken care of.

"You will travel home to comfort your family and I am with you. There are several gifts to look forward to as I will grant you an outpouring from the Open Heaven's. I care for your grief and that of your family, so allow Me to go before you in all that you do."

He reached into the riverbed of precious stones and He pulled out five of them. There was one emerald, one ruby, one opal, one sapphire and one diamond and all of the stones were cut and faceted.

Me: "But they were polished stones in the bottom of the River of Life just a while ago. How is this even possible?" Then I smiled and laughed. "Of course, Lord, nothing is impossible for You."

Jesus: "Erin, you are like these stones, but of much greater worth. Give your grieving heart to Me and I will heal you. Do not worry or be afraid. You are loved."

Communion

Father,

Thank You for the comfort of the Holy Spirit, for my family and for these dreams. It is only been four days since my mom died, but it seems like an eternity. Thank You for tender Words spoken through You to my family and friends.

You have granted me supernatural peace during an impossible time. Last night was my first sound sleep and just my third night of sleeping since my Mom died. Father, I realize just how intricate You are and, not only are You extremely detailed, but also consistent.

You pursue us with abandon and sometimes we do not even see You working until we look back. No detail is left undone so thank You beyond measure for this. My family must travel very soon for my mom's funeral, but at first I had decided not to go as it just seemed impossible with two full days of travel and only two days there.

I at first declined and prepared my children for this when, Father, You told me I needed to be there and that someone there needed to see me and my presence would change someone's life. I questioned You as to who this would be as it is unimaginable that I could offer anything to someone in such a short period of time.

In many ways, I am going to war and, in my personal dream yesterday, You made known to me that our presence would be like that of Jericho and the walls would come down. You also reminded me that you prepared me for this.

In a dream of mattresses, my bed was in the garage, wherein the garage represents a place with many memories unopened like boxes. I completed the epic task this summer and it was like an archeological dig. There I found buried treasure after buried treasure.

After I had finished my tasks from You, I phoned my mom as I was excited that I had finally let go of all of these things. After I explained this to her, she replied in a joking manner that made me smile.

Mom: "Erin, I can finally rest easy."

We both laughed and I felt free from doing this. I then remembered that when she first became sick she had asked me which of her things I would like. This is how I replied...

Me: "Mom, a few years ago I would have had a long list, but now there is nothing of yours that I desire. Please do not be insulted, but the only thing I want is to see you again."

She seemed shocked and she named off several items she knew I had always loved.

Me: "No, Mom, really, there is nothing." Then I paused a moment. "Actually, Mom, there is something I would love. I would love something you engraved. I would love to have a small piece of your famous engraving."

We both laughed again as she was known for her elaborate floral engravings.

Mom: "Okay, Erin, so what flower is your favorite?"

Me: "Well, I love lilies, but for some reason I am asking for dogwoods. I would love a small engraving of dogwoods."

She was excited about the prospect and agreed, but then just a few days later she became very sick and too sick to engrave again. She told me later that she had to send back projects and deposits to customers so they could find another engraver. I was sad because I had asked for many years for something engraved by her. I joked about it, but in my heart I had really wanted a piece of her craftsmanship.

My mom had always been a phenomenal writer. Indeed, she was not only a history teacher and speech teacher, but she was also an English teacher and a wordsmith.

This is all just too ironic. While my mom had always wanted to write books, she was a famous artist and craftsman in her field. In contrast, while I am a trained artist and hoped to always paint floral scenes and landscapes for a living, now I am a book author.

I really do not like writing and I never have as I was horrible at English. In reality, Spanish sometimes seemed easier for me to understand for some reason. My mom never knew about my books simply because I did not want her to critique them.

To those who read what You have given me, Lord, and for them be critical of the dreams because I am a poor writer just hurts my heart. At one point I thought I would take a class in writing to help with my dreams and I even bought some books on how to write.

However, every time I went to study, God would make me fall asleep in the very first few pages. When I went to Him on this, He simply said to me, 'Erin, I appreciate your desire to want to please those who write and read what you write with critical eyes, but, no, do not do it. If you do this, you will be more concerned about sentence structure and the skin instead of the meat of what I provide for those who chew.'

Anyway, I still pray the Lord grants me supernatural writing ability, but each time I ask all I hear are the sound of crickets. Father, I love You and Your wise counsel and You are amazing. You are right though because, when I become focused on what I write, things become muddled.

Lord, please grant us an open door soon as this trip seems so overwhelming to me. We need something so miraculous on every level to be able to go. Just my physical body needs healing in order to travel. May Your Will and not mine be done on Earth as it is in Heaven, in Jesus' Name, Amen.

Jesus: "Erin, come up."

I was up under the massive cathedral of trees in God's garden and the leaves that were high up were changing colors indicative of fall here on Earth. There was a wind above the tree canopy which made the leaves move and sing.

As I began to walk on the cathedral lined path, the music of the leaves sounded like thousands of small bell chimes. It was so beautiful and I felt the sounds in my belly. It was a pleasant feeling as if the music of these wind swept leaves was in me.

This path I was on right now was by far one of the most beautiful paths I had ever seen or imagined. Tears welled up in my eyes.

Me: Crying. "Father, I would love for my mom to have seen this."

Out of nowhere came a beautiful bird that I instantly recognized as the same unusual bird that had flown into our window just a month ago. This bird had hit our window with such force that I could hear it in the garage.

It sounded bad and, as I went outside to our porch, there lying on the deck was the most beautiful bird. This bird was about fourteen inches long and looked like a massive blue jay, but it was grey, olive, black and white and had geometric designs on it.

The feathers were iridescent and had a black crest on its head with a white strip around its neck. The bird was barely alive and was trying to move, so I got a towel to wrap it up and wanted to move it to a safer place.

I then saw that the neck of the bird was broken, but it was still breathing. I laid it gently down as my daughter burst into tears. I began to cry out to God in my prayer language and laid my hand on the bird when it stopped breathing.

Instead of allowing the bird to live, God instead gave me a vision of me in front of Him on His Throne. I laid the bird before Him and immediately the bird woke up and flew away in a glorified state.

I opened my eyes and told my daughter that the Lord's Will was for this bird to be in His presence. We both cried and hugged. I then picked the bird up in the wrapped towel and placed it on a table to shelter it from the direct sun.

Periodically during the day I checked to see if God might have instead allowed the bird to be healed and fly as He had done this for me before. Instead I ended up burying the bird as I could tell this bird must have been a big deal as it seemed so out of place here.

As this bird was quite large, I felt blessed that it had not broken our window. At first I could not find the exact species of this bird and first believed it was an Eastern Flycatcher or King Bird. Later I was told that it was a Kingfisher, which is rare in this part of North America.

Anyway, now this same bird on Earth was now glorified here in Heaven before me and on this canopy path. The bird would look at me and then it would fly about ten feet ahead. The bird would then stop, look at me and then would fly again.

I decided to playfully run down the path after this bird and laughed. As I ran in my white smock, I began to cry. I ran faster and faster, but I still could not catch the bird as it eluded me. I finally stopped, bent over and rested my hands on my knees.

I breathed deeply and began to weep. I looked and tears were pouring down and landing in the soft mossy carpet of grass. Just then, the bird came next to me and sat down beside me. It sat there and sang a bird song.

I smiled as it looked up at me and I reached down and stroked its back. Then in an instant the bird took flight and was gone. I no longer heard her song, but the leaves became louder as I walked.

Me: "Father, though I walk in the valley of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil for Thou art with me. Thy rod and Thy staff, they comfort me."

I heard a small whisper and as I looked up at the cathedral of trees, I noticed that they had turned into enormous angels. I saw shimmering lights reflected on their swords that seemed to come from the light of the sun. I began to cry as I walked under the towering angels.

Me: "Oh, Father, I need your help as my grief comes in waves like the ocean and sometimes the waters consume me and I can barely breathe. How do I reconcile this? How can I get comfort for my broken heart?"

Just then I felt a hand on my shoulder and it was Uriel. He had a look of sympathy, wisdom and joy on his face somehow all wrapped in one expression.

Uriel: "Come with me as God requests your presence."

He reached for my arm and immediately we were before God's door. I turned and there was the bulletin board. I began to weep when I saw a square engraver's plate and there were branches of dogwoods engraved in the center of gold.

There were three types of gold or maybe more, but they were the most beautifully engraved flowers I had ever seen. I picked it up and stared at it. I could not believe what I was seeing in front of me as there was a small Scripture etched there from the Song of Solomon 2:2-3:
As the lily among thorns; so is my love among the daughters. As an apple tree among the trees of the wood, so is my beloved among the sons. I sat down under His shadow with great delight, and His fruit is sweet to my taste.

Me: Crying. "Thank You, Father, thank You for this. Lord, thank You."

As I placed this little plate over my heart, I felt something like a warm shot to my heart. It felt like cauterization to an open bleeding wound and it was as if my bleeding heart had stopped bleeding. I looked up and there was a note from God:

My daughter, your walk is etched in Heavenly places. Your name is written in the palm of My hand. I have called you. You are grieving in Psalm 23, like a script, but your path is written in Psalm 27 and Psalm 45. Please go where I send you. You will be helped by break of day. Do not worry or be dismayed. Your time of mourning will be during this time of rejoicing for seven days. Then dawn will break and morning will come. You are loved."

I turned while holding both the plate and the note as Uriel led me through God's door. As he did, I put them in my left pocket and patted them to make certain they were there. Uriel placed salve in my eyes as he brought me closer to God than the last time even though I was still far away.

I heard the choirs of angels singing, "Holy, Holy, Holy, Praise to the King of kings, He endures forever and ever, Hallelujah!" I dropped to my knees and worshiped God. I stretched my body on the floor with my face down. I had never done this before and I started to wail.

God: "Please rise up, Erin."

Me: Uriel came to raise me to my knees. "Please forgive me, Father, as I am laid out with grief and I am not sure of what to do. Please help me."

God: "I am here, so do not worry."

Just then, two angels came over to me and one of the angels handed me a beautiful silver cup that was translucent like glass, but silver. As I noticed that the cup was empty, the other angel brought out a small pitcher of oil.

The angel poured this oil over my head and then the other angel poured water into my cup. The cup ran over and seemed to spill continuously over the rim.

God: "I have anointed your head with oil and your cup runs over. You are blessed."

Me: "Thank You, Father."

Tears were streaming down my cheeks along with the oil of joy.

God: "Erin, you are to go console your family and I will go before you. You dine at My table in the presence of your enemies. You and your children will not suffer shame. You will witness to those who need to hear your story.

"Now walls are built around hearts, so you are to tear down those walls as I am going before you. Look to the hills and what do you see? Are there not armies of angels surrounding you? Who owns those hills and the cattle upon them?"

Me: "You do, Father."

God: "Follow My instructions and obey My decrees. Although you travel for a short journey, this journey will last for an eternity. You will understand this soon."

Me: "Okay."

God: "Do not hesitate."

Me: "Yes, Father."

God: "You are loved."

Uriel came to bring me out of God's door. Once outside, he looked at me with kindness.

Uriel: "Erin, God has given you a tremendous gift, yet you do not understand what just occurred. Now do as you are told."

Me: "So do I have to go? It seems like this will be more like a high school reunion."

Uriel: "No, Erin, it is not the same and your children will go with you. Now mourn during this time of shelter as you know that you cannot change what God has determined. Unless God is before you, there is nothing you can do, but He has commanded angels and appointed help, so do not worry."

Me: "Okay."

Uriel: "You are not saying much, Erin, and this is unlike you."

Me: "This is because I do not want to go as I am afraid."

Uriel: "Mourn right now as He has commanded and then let God lead."

Me: "Okay, I will."

Uriel: "Your oil of gladness will kick in and pour over you. You are loved by God and He has many things prepared for you, so do not worry, but find joy instead."

Dream over...

Looking back now, I cannot believe all the signs the Lord had given to me that my mom would be passing away. There were just so many signs. Now I have been examining more signs of what is possibly to come in light of others, but they are very different signs as God is a divine mystery.

God is sometimes vague in order that we will seek Him fully for the answers. Then He is faithful to clear up anything vague and make it perfect and definitive. He is incredible and knows what we will need even before we inquire of Him or even make it a thought.

God springs into action when we cry for help and He meets our needs and even turns to have mercy on us to give us even more. Great are You, Lord God, and worthy of our praise. Though I am in mourning, my heart is filled with joy for the Lord!

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day, for my family and friends, for tears and for the healing power of the bridge of grief which leads me to You. I love You, Father, so please heal the hole in my heart and restore it. Please do not remove my memories, but only remove the sting of loss from them.

Jesus: "Erin, come up."

I was on the path in the race of my life and saw that I now had only one hill left. I was in a valley, but I could now see the finish line in the distance. I was way ahead of where I needed to be. As I was in this dip of the valley, I saw a fork in the road and I knew that the main path was where I needed to continue.

I saw this lead to my path up the final hill toward the finish. I could not see what was below on the other side of the hill, but I saw the finish line beyond that. This fork made me pause. As I was out of breath, I was happy to stop there to rest. As I rested my hands on my knees and bent over to stare at the ground, I spoke to God.

Me: "Lord, why is there a fork? The path veering off looks dark and ominous and is obviously a road less traveled. I realize that this is not a short cut to the finish line, so my only real motivation for taking it would be You.

"Lord, perhaps there is something wonderful waiting for me there. On the other hand, and even though I am way ahead of schedule, I could simply just finish my race and say, 'I am 'outta here'. Then I am in Heaven and removed." I decided to pray.

"Father, in Heaven, hallowed be Your Name, Thy Kingdom come, Thy Will be done on Earth, as it is in Heaven. Give me this day my daily bread and forgive my trespasses as I forgive those who have trespassed against me. Lead me not into temptation, but deliver me from the hand of the evil one. For Thine is Your Kingdom and Your glory."

"Father, lead me not down a wrong path, but if I am to go this way, please show me favor, Amen."

I then waited for a while and felt a breeze as I looked again at both of these paths. I became impatient, so I turned to the path to the right, or 'the right path'.

Me: "Okay, Lord, I will continue on this path to the finish line."

I began to walk, but then I had a strong pull to stop. I stopped and waited, but then took two more steps before bumping into an invisible wall. As I was now blocked, I decided to turn and look at the other path.

Me: "Father, if You wanted me to take this other path, then You could make it clearer. At this point in my life, I will choose the obvious path and the well-lit one that leads straight to You and Your glory."

I suddenly noticed that my shoe lace was untied, so I bent over to tie it. After I finished tying it, I went back up to a standing position and there as clear as day was a sign post. I laughed so hard at this.

Drawing of Detour Signs in reply below...

Me: "Okay, okay, I get it."

I walked over and removed my running shoes. Clearly I could not use them over rough and rugged terrain. I set aside my running shoes and slipped into the appropriate foot wear that 'just happened' to be on the path waiting for me in my size.

Me: "Well, Father, I guess You are granting me the 'Deeper Mysteries Detour'. You have made this so clear." I gave a big 'humph', but smiled. "How about making the Mysteries Detour 'Warrior Princess Road' instead as I like being a Princess?"

I was both pouting and excited at the same time as I set aside the idea of an easy finish and began to walk, hike really, on the path less traveled. I was smiling, laughing and grumbling all at the same time.

Me: "Lord, why do we need the rocks and all of the 'road less traveled' drama? You could make this a little easier to walk on, although I am not truly complaining."

Those were my words, but clearly I was pouting and complaining. As I looked down, I realized that my hiking boot shoes were now untied. I stopped to tie them and, as I was bent down, I heard the sound of a giant computer reboot sound.

I looked up and my path was soft sand and well lit. I saw a double rainbow in the distance, several white doves, an impressively large eagle and a sudden loud chorus of Heavenly angels.

Angels: Singing. "Erin, you must walk this way, walk this way. Please, Erin, you must walk this way, walk this way."

The angels were singing this to the musical theme of 'Bittersweet Symphony'! I stopped walking because I was rolling on the ground laughing so hard and tears were streaming down my cheeks. Then all of a sudden I sat up and began to actually cry.

Me: “Oh please forgive me, Father, as I seek deeper mysteries of You because You fascinate me and I love You so much. You are the best Father in the world and I do not feel worthy of Your love.

“Thank You for filling my life with Heavenly riches, not earthly wealth. It is not that I am worthy of this at all, but it is the possibility that I might have something to offer which pleases You. Thank You for being so gentle with me during my time of grief.

“Thank You for not excluding me from running the race. I love You so, Lord, but I sometimes just wonder how I can be used for Your glory when I feel so tired, worn and broken?”

I rubbed my eyes and opened them and there, in front of me and across the path, was a door labeled ‘God’ with a sign in front which read ‘Got Questions?’ The sign pointed to the door and I was laughing as I approached the door. The door suddenly opened and a stream of light burst through.

As I stepped in the door, I heard a choir of angels singing, “Holy, Holy, Holy!” I kept my eyes closed and I walked forward towards God’s presence on the Throne. As I drew closer, my knees began to buckle and they became wobbly.

I felt a need to drop where I was and I felt a hand on my shoulder as a hand reached over my eyes and salve was rubbed over them. I opened my eyes, but I still could not see God. I felt Him, but I could not see Him.

I looked up and there was Uriel. He smiled at me and I smiled back. I stayed on my knees and worshiped God as a flood of emotions came to the surface. I prayed for several people and family members and I thanked God for giving me a challenging childhood.

I thanked Him for the struggles we endured as my mom was single with very little means. We had lived in very small homes from 576 square feet to 850 square feet and even in my teen years our home was only around 1100 square feet.

After my mom sold that home, she lived in a very small cabin, but we never had a lot of extras, so I learned to be content with what we had. Every time I envied the wealthy, mom would bring me back to reality and I learned to work hard and remain humble from her example.

However, as I became older the opulent 1980s and 1990s led me to a materialistic driven career and it was not until I had my own trials that I became focused on God more and money less. Now money is still a gift and a tool for me, but is no longer a purpose to live anymore.

Me: Whispering under my breath. “Thank You, Father, for our struggles and for my weaknesses. You are my Father Who comforts and strengthens me through my battles. Thank You for comforting my mother and meeting her at the end of her race and I cannot thank You enough.

“When I think of this life, I realize how very short it is and that it is still even shorter than that. While we all die, many do not discover You during their race of life and so very few truly live. I pray that I have lived a life which honors You.

“At first, I did not understand Who You were and I thought You were my punisher and taker of fun, but this was a lie. Instead, You are the giver of life, but very few accept the gift You offer. I love You, Father, and I am so grateful for every moment here. Please show me how to best serve You in this time.”

God: “Erin, I am sorry for your grief. Please allow Me to comfort you. Life on Earth is filled with loss, but a life well lived has eternal blessings waiting here for those who choose the path of righteousness and accept that My Son died so they could live. Please give Me your yoke so that I can relieve your burdens.”

Me: “Father, I never expected to feel such a loss as it was sudden. I feel a hole in my heart. so please repair this as I took for granted that my Mom would always live.”

God: “Death begins at birth, Erin, and each man's days are numbered. I know each one as each life is in My hands and I am capable of determining both the days of a man, as well as the hair on his head. Erin, there are no surprises to Me.”

Me: “I know I am human and therefore my world is limited to people in my circles. None of us know the number of our days. While I am not certain, I pray I never see death as it is painful leading up to it, but it is even worse for those caught off guard.”

God: “Erin, times are coming, but the time is at hand and the Days of Noah are here.”

Me: “How can I know?”

God: “Look back in your lifetime and notice that the acceleration of greed, perversion, lawlessness and everything unholy now prevails.”

An angel turned my attention to an area near some columns and there was a massive global map. I saw lights of red marking up the entire region around Israel, but Europe, China and the Russian territories were red as well. While some areas had blue and red, the blue was mostly now fading away.

Me: “Oh, Lord, are these the countries that oppose Israel? Is this now?”

God: “The world is about to forsake Israel and trample My land and this cannot be stopped.”

I then saw an angel with a scale and noticed that the scales were out of balance. Israel weighed heavier than the other side.

Me: “Father, what about all of those who support Israel? Will You not have mercy?”

God: “These will not be forgotten, but their voice will not be heard and only I will know the true hearts of men. Judgment is coming as it is written and I will bring calamity on those who oppress the needy, the elderly and the widowed.

“Every few seconds I receive a starving child while those who could help turn a blind eye. There will always be the poor on Earth, but now there is an unbalanced scale. Here in Heaven, I make the scales balance, but on Earth it is like the days in which Amos the prophet lived yet is even more treacherous.

“In his day, there was an earthquake which shook the land, yet there was still an increase in wickedness and the love of many grew cold. I find that even now there are very few whose hearts have remained focused on Me. Even in churches there are routine ceremonies with scripts and many acts of worship occur with no worth to Me.

“Now contracts, decrees, laws and covenants are being declared by the tongues and hands of men. I am now removed as a witness over them as they serve their own gods. Erin, do not be like them.”

Me: “I pray I will not be like them, but please help keep my eyes fixed always on You.”

God: “Judgment is coming, Erin, please understand that judgment is coming.”

Me: “Father, I am scared as You are very serious.”

God: “Do not be afraid, Erin, but write as a scribe and pray. Your heart remains here with Me and a pliable heart is a repentant one, so be encouraged as you have a clay vessel in which the Potter can mold. This is good, so now allow Me to pour into you that which is good and drink the water of life which refreshes.”

Me: “I love You.”

God: “And I love you.”

The angel brought me to my feet and through the door to the path.

Uriel: “This will not be an easy time to deliver messages. There is still Good News, but very few have ears to hear it. In your time of grief, come to God, Erin, for He is here.”

Me: “Uriel, am I out of favor as my body aches again? My pain had been temporarily removed for my journey to my mom’s funeral, but I am now back in pain.”

Uriel: “He removed your pain as you had enough pain in your heart. Erin, tears are a bridge to God and you have built many bridges, but soon you will dance as you did in your youth. You will be given some important words, so please make them plain and write less and say more.

“If you are unclear, ask direct questions, come to God not to man and He will make a highway for you. Do not worry. Not all will come to pass while you are here, but it will ring true to those who receive your messages later that God is the Author and Finisher of the race.”

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day, for my friends and family, for all that You have done and for the times that we are in. I know this last one is an odd 'thank You' based on this being close to the time of the end and Jacob's Trouble, but prayerfully this also means that we are that much closer to Your coming to collect us in the Rapture.

I took a short walk this morning and felt that the enemy was afoot to prevent me from coming to You in peace this morning. My neighbor and owner of the lot I had prayed might one day be ours had glaring 'No Trespassing' signs posted everywhere along my path to the lake.

These 'No Trespassing' signs were a grim reminder of my mistake this summer. It seemed unnecessary for him to post these signs, but it certainly fit in with the dream I had last night. Please, Lord, help me understand this dream as it was odd.

My dream...

I had interviewed several times for an elite company which acquired assets, but I was younger yet had all of the knowledge about business that someone twice my age would normally have. During my final interview, I was hired for a job assisting the chief of acquisitions of fertilizers, fossil fuel and oil.

When I had my first day, I was quickly reduced down to nothing in their minds, but then noticed that all of the people in this company treated each other as if they were suspicious, envious and vengeful of each other's work. Each employee was working to overthrow the other and advance their given project or territory.

Though unprepared for this, I was 'bright eyed and bushy tailed' and was called 'fresh meat today, but tomorrow's bad hamburger' by my supervisor as a result. I was then constantly mocked and I became frazzled. For seven days I showed up trying to better myself, but no matter how much I improved, it was still never enough.

I was told I had two more days to put together a project to sell some acquired fertilizer to some farmer in eastern Washington. I was given a list of names and I just happened to know everyone on the list as they were old clients of mine.

I worked through the night putting together a presentation I knew would be well received by all of them and I was excited. When I came to work on the ninth day, I was surprised when the director of the company confronted me.

Director: "You are simply inept. You are fired."

Me: "You cannot fire me because I quit instead."

Director: "Not before I take your work."

Me: "It does not matter as I know all of the farmers and I will warn them about your bad fertilizer. I will sell them clean fertilizer for their crops instead."

The director and others suddenly panicked and tried to bargain with me as they had no idea I already knew all of the farmers on the list. They then tried to negotiate with me to stay with the company.

Me: "No. For nine days you treated me horribly and I was given no direction. I did everything you asked and you mocked and threatened me. I will not stay with you."

As I walked out, I could hear them calling after me.

Person 1: "You will be back."

Person 2: "Go after her and offer her money to shut up."

Person 3: "She is nothing. Send someone ahead of her to block her success."

I never looked back at them as I walked out and soon decided to buy a plane ticket to eastern Washington to warn the farmers. As I was boarding, a woman approached me from the bad company to join me at my new company as they had treated her poorly there as well.

Woman: "I want to help you by working for you."

Me: "Okay, but I have no guarantee of a successful sale to these farmers. What if I cannot compensate you?"

Woman: "I do not care as I need to assist you and warn the others."

I agreed to her employment with me and we flew out to eastern Washington. I went first to my top clients wherein the first three were Mormons. When I arrived, the door of this estate was wide open and I called their names, but no one answered.

I began walk through the halls and peaked into a bedroom to see that my client's husband the main farmer was sleeping. I was embarrassed by this, so I decided to close the door and leave to come back later and felt like an unwanted intruder.

As we were coming down the stairs, a group of people came in and we ducked into a bathroom. We heard at least fifty or more people and we decided to act like the crowd and slowly exit the estate. As we came around the corner, I saw my client's daughter in a wedding gown.

After this, I saw another woman in a wedding gown and I thought that perhaps this was a double wedding. However, when I saw the two brides kiss, I realized that this was not a traditional wedding and told my new assistant that we needed to leave quickly.

Person: "Hey, these people do not belong here."

We stopped and turned and I then saw my client.

Client: "I do not know you."

She did not recognize me at first, but when I called her by name, she then remembered me and seemed excited to see me. She moved through the crowd toward me.

Me: "You look amazing."

Client: "I agree."

Her face had been operated on by a plastic surgeon and a very good one at that as she looked beautiful. She then invited us to stay.

Me: "I have come to warn your guests not to purchase from this company, but if they would like to they could purchase fertilizer from me instead."

Client: "No, we are quite satisfied with the supplier we have as they belong to our church. Wait, I will give you a ride off of my property."

My colleague and I now felt too tired to walk, so we agreed to her offer. However, she then only drove us to the edge of her property where there was a strip mall. I looked and saw that the only store open was called 'Journeys'.

Client: "I have to go back to our house for the wedding. Our journey stops here."

Dream over...

Father, this was a very clear dream and during my sleep I experienced the effects of emotions in the dream. I actually woke up with a pit in my stomach and my body had acted as if this was real.

Jesus: "Erin, come up."

I was immediately in God's door and Uriel was there to greet me with a smile.

Uriel: "Erin, God is requesting your presence in this, the 'Eleventh Hour'"

I turned to look for the forestry board, but it was not there. I was a bit saddened by this, but continued through the door into God's presence. Uriel put salve into my eyes upon entering into His Courts. While I could still see behind me and my sides, the glory light of God's presence was greater than my capacity to see.

Uriel took me closer today and every time I visit he seems to take me a few steps closer to God's Throne. When my knees began to buckle, I dropped down to worship Him. I heard the mighty beautiful choir of Heavenly angels made up of both male and female voices and with all ranges covered such as alto, baritone, soprano and the other tones.

I heard "Holy, Holy, Holy!" overlap each other and the music caused my cells to react rhythmically to the voices. With my head bowed, I felt a need to repent to God for several things and felt a need to forgive. I then spent time thanking God for the immense blessing of His presence which has forever changed my life and wept and rejoiced before God.

I had become exhausted during the last thirty days since learning of my Mom's passing. Like a mighty flood, emotions poured out of me until nothing but my core physical being remained. I thought about how incredible God is and how 'All Knowing'.

I completed my tasks designed by God to prepare me for what is coming and what just occurred. He is equipping me for my new journey with Him. I am now traveling with more ease because I have released my burdens to Him. I am fully letting God go before me on my Journey as I need to let go and let God lead.

Jesus walks with me, but God our Father leads the way. This is a totally new way of thinking for me as after my forty day fast I realized that God must lead. As I worshiped my Father in Heaven, I felt a warmth course through my veins and it felt like a blanket of love over my heart from God via the Holy Spirit.

God: The ground shook as a physical rumble as God spoke to me. "Noah walked with Me, Abraham walked before Me and you will let Me lead you and you will follow. The word for this is 'Nachah'."

Me: I felt uncomfortable as I had never heard this before. "Father, I am not on the same level as Noah or Abraham. I am a woman, a Gentile and have even been divorced twice. I am a stain and certainly not at the caliber of these great men."

God: "Erin, you are Mine and My Creation just like they are. I am showing you something here and have told you to let Me go before you. This means I will clear your path and make your way known. I will lead you beside still waters so be still and know I am God.

"Have I not led you to this place? I have made your path known by preparing a way for you. I was with Noah, guiding him and instructing as he went. With Abram, I told him to step forth and measure the land I promised him with his feet. Where he stepped, I declared it his and stretched out his tent pegs.

“With you and your generation, you must let go of yourself and the idols of this world and allow Me to make a way where there seems to be no way. I am making a covenant with you that, if you let Me go before you to guide your steps, I will make your way known.

“Have you not been instructed to keep your eyes fixed on Me? When the storms rage, the grounds shake and you see billows of smoke, there will be nothing you can do in your own strength. You will look to the hills, call out My Name and there I will be.

“I will pull you out of the deep mire and put your feet on solid rock. The times your feet are in will be like a torrent, but do not be afraid as I am here. Be still and know I am God and I am your Hayah. I am your Creator and I call you friend.

“I am your light in the darkness, so be still and know I am God. When the Earth shakes and the mountains fall into the sea, remember there is a River whose streams make glad the City of God. Since I am in her, she will not fall nor be shaken. I will help her at the break of day. Erin, speak and make known your thoughts.”

I began to shake before God as tears streamed down my cheeks. I was crying so hard that I was having trouble speaking.

Me: “I am afraid, Father, I am afraid. You are here, but I am afraid for what is coming. Please, Father, have mercy as many of these people are sleeping and they are clueless about You. They do not understand Your love and they do not know You. Please shout out before the time of trouble. Please, Lord.”

As God began to speak, He was calm and authoritative and never once seeming ‘out of control’. I felt secure, yet I still feared Him, though I was also still afraid about the loss of those who were clueless.

God: “Erin, I understand your fear, but do not be afraid as there is a difference. I am preparing a way for you where there seems to be no way. I am giving you a highway and a level one and I am going before you. There is going to be a huge outpouring of blessings like the world has never seen.

“However, there must be a turning away from the former things. In order to cross over into the promised land of Heaven, a man must be removed of idols. Idols of worship can be removed at the river crossing, but they must be left. This means any barrier to Me, including idols of self-worship, other gods, material wealth or anything other than Me.

“The bridge can be crossed, but in this case the bridge is My Son Jesus Whom I sent to set the prisoners free. When My Son comes, only those who recognize Him will go with Him, understand? Many will be terrified, yet others will rejoice and celebrate.

“It will be like the ‘days of Noah’. As the flood waters came, Noah was mocked. However, as the flood waters rose, the mocking turned to screams for help. However, Noah had no power to save them as Who saves?”

Me: "Jesus saves and He is our bridge to Heaven. Jesus comes on the clouds to one day carry us Home."

God: "Erin, there is still some time, but understand the nearness of the hour you are in as it is the 'eleventh hour' even. Now, pray for Israel as the time of trouble is upon them. Pray, for I am about to send revival to My people.

"I will send an outpouring of love and a beam of healing instead of a pillar of smoke. I will pour out My blessings upon them from an Open Heaven. There will be division in the land and much will lay in ruin, but My voice will be heard.

'I will say, 'This is the way, walk in it', so write plainly, Erin, and do not worry as you are in My care and I have commanded angels concerning you. I call you My friend, but I am also your Hayah."

Me: Crying. "I love You, Hayah."

God: "I love you."

As Uriel brought me to my feet and out the door, I hugged him, which was unusual.

Me: "Thank you, Uriel, but today I have fear."

Uriel: "It is written that 'fear of the Lord is the beginning of wisdom'. Now re-read your dream in light of your time with God and you will understand the time you are in now and it is the 'eleventh hour' even. Look."

He pointed my attention to a boiling cauldron and I saw symbols of every religion and many countries being thrown into this big cauldron. I saw them being blended together into what looked like molten metal. Uriel walked me over to it.

Uriel: "Erin, place your finger in it."

Me: "But I will be burned."

Uriel: "Yes, if you become like this."

I put my finger in it and it was lukewarm and was neither hot nor cold. Then I saw an angel come to fan the flame and it began to boil the pot.

Uriel: "The flame is God's judgment and the churches are under judgment. They have molded to society and fed the appetites of the indulgent. The Word of truth has now been rewritten by the churches and God is about to turn up the heat.

“Those who go back to God's Words and stand for Him will be blessed, but those who desire the world will get more of the world and less of God. Pray for your sister, Israel. Pray for the peace of God. Erin, pray for the lost and let God go before you in all that you do.”

Dream over...

This dream was intense as God proclaimed to us that He goes before us and we must allow Him to lead. He gave me the Hebrew word, 'Nachah', which means we must let God lead us safely through times of trouble and plenty.

I actually ripped out a page of my journal after writing the first seven lines in order to stop and ask Him questions. I had never done this before, but I was confused and He then had to reassure me that it was okay before I began writing again.

The area I needed clarity on was 'Noah walked with God' (Genesis 6:9) and that God promised him dry land. Then 'Abraham walked before God into the promised land' (Genesis 13:17).

Now God is telling us He 'will lead us into our promised land of Heaven' (Psalm 16:11, Psalm 23, Psalm 119:105, Proverbs 3:5-6, Isaiah 30:21 and Isaiah 48:17). God showed me how He has gently led me throughout my life. However, during the times that I ran ahead of Him, it always led me to trouble.

Then when I would not be still and wait on God to walk with me while I made poor decisions, I thought as I went down bad paths that, if He had not stopped me, then I must be 'in the clear' and it was okay by God.

However, what He told has me quite often is that a 'no' answer means 'no, wait on Me' and a 'yes' answer means 'yes, go, move now'. In reality, it was leading unto my own understanding which got me into sticky wicket after sticky wicket. It was only then that I would cry out for a 'Godly bailout'.

I am older and hopefully wiser now and have learned to wait and enjoy the time I have now as this time is an appointed time for all of us. In this season, we should let God lead us and He will make a path for us.

I was led by the Holy Spirit to Psalm 23 and Psalm 46 again as these are words for this season, but also Isaiah 45 in particular. I pray for Israel as I have watched in horror as I see the beginnings of what I believe are Jacob's Trouble. I see the world begin to turn away from Israel.

I also feel a need to pray for the USA as I feel that Psalm 45 is right now beginning to play out on America as morally this once great nation is eroding from within.

Much love and many blessings, Erin

Communion

Father, thank You for another day here, for my family and for safely keeping us close to Your heart. I am forever changed by Your goodness and overjoyed by Your presence.

Father, You told me this detour on my race would expose me to mysteries. In looking back over all that You have shown me, I believe my entire race has been filled with the revelation of Your mysterious love.

Years ago, as a child, during some extremely dark times, I would say something like this to You: 'I know You can hear me, God, and I know You are there. Please do something, Lord, because if You do exist, I need You...Please!' Then after my tears stopped falling, I would listen in silence for anything I could hear.

One time when I was about ten years old, I found myself the middle of trouble as my parents were fighting and we were told to go to our rooms. I must have been quite scared because I remember sliding my dresser in front of the door. I heard screaming and yelling, then doors slamming and then, thankfully, it was quiet again.

I cried out for God even though I did not really believe He cared about me or our family. Nonetheless, I must have had faith somewhere in me to keep at Him as on this night, I prayed, 'God, this is it. If You are there, please send a sign, but just please do something.'

I waited for something to happen when at around midnight I stopped crying long enough to hear nothing but crickets. I remember thinking, 'It figures. You are only there for perfect people.' This was how I viewed You back as a child, Father.

Now as I have run further in the race that You have set before me, You continually remind me You are there with me even when I do not ask You to. Now I simply delight in Your whispers and cherish Your subtleties. I adore Your creation around me and I find myself coveting Your signs for me.

When I see these signs from You, although some or many of these sign may even be for everyone, I secretly like to think that they are just for each of us individually. When I was a child, I felt abandoned by You, but as I have grown in my faith, now You are my Father and my very best friend.

On Friday, I woke up to a sunny day and noticed that my time of grieving was slowly diminishing and that I felt a bit more like 'my normal self' today. It was my daughter's fourteenth birthday recently and as I moved about I prayed for a blessing over her and I thanked You, Father, for giving her a heart for You.

Since we have come back from my mom's memorial out west, I have become increasingly more crippled in my arms and fingers. I realize fully now that this trip was a miracle because I truly had no pain at all while out there. Now as I went to lie down, I faced the windows in pain and began to become downcast.

I yet again asked You, 'Why not heal me, Lord?' as tears streamed down my cheeks. Just then I saw an eagle fly right over our house and it dove into the lake with its talons open. As I got up to look with my camera, four white tail deer ran across the meadow in front of me and into the woods.

As I sat there for a moment waiting for the eagle to come back, right before my eyes a magnificent rainbow appeared. I took photos of all of this as I laughed and cried that these were signs from You, Father.

After I took a few shots with my camera, I went to write in my journal, but my pain was too great and I heard the Holy Spirit say, 'Not today, Erin. Spend time with Me in worship instead.' So I worshiped Him instead and thanked Him for the unbelievable signs of His love.

As I thanked Him for His friendship, I felt called to also repent for my grumbling about my pain. I repented for my focusing at times on my lack versus all I have gained. Then I started to notice that the longer I worshiped, the lighter I felt and the easier I could move.

I found myself talking to God again, 'I need to let go, Father, and give myself to You. I cling tightly to pain when I feel it and I own it fully, but instead I feel You want me to release it to You.' As I continued to worship, I felt the Holy Spirit recall some of these signs I had seen for clarification to me.

First there was the eagle I saw with its talons open. The eagle was about to converge or come down upon its prey. This was illuminated as being significant.

Second, there was the four deer running across our meadow. These deer were a representation of the four deer in the Bible, wherein these particular deer ran swiftly across the 'No Trespassing' sign in the field in front of our yard.

These four deer appeared to me as beautiful, yet I believed the Holy Spirit was revealing something else. They had swiftly run one after another right through the middle of the field. They were free and able to run even when the sign said not to.

Third, and shortly after these deer, a rainbow appeared above and I was reminded that this was a sign to Noah and a promise to Him from God of God's covenant with him. Interestingly, I went to research rainbows in the Bible and they appear there four times (Genesis 12-17, Ezekiel 1:28, Revelation 4:3 and Revelation 10:1).

I felt compelled to pray for greater revelation as this appeared to me as more than a sweet endearing promise to me individually. As I got up and adjusted my seat and blanket and went to reach for my Bible, my left hand froze up into something like a pointed claw.

This was not the first time though as my left arm had been doing this on and off ever since I arrived home from my trip. My Bible fell to the ground and it opened to Ezekiel 37. I realized this was no accident as my hand then instantly released.

I picked up my Bible to read and I felt led to read Ezekiel 37 about the valley of dry bones and through to chapter 38. In Ezekiel 37:15-28, God declares His promises for Israel and, in Ezekiel 38, the enemies of Israel rise up and converge around her to destroy her peace.

Father, please reveal this mystery as I do not understand this. However, I fear it will come upon us soon and that we need to pray with our full armor. I was called up.

Jesus: "Erin, come up."

I was immediately up at God's door and to my left was Uriel. While he is massive and his wings are large and strong, there he was smiling at me with reassurance.

Me: "Uriel, why does God bring me straight here now?"

Uriel: "In this season, He will say more with less and you are not to linger as you already know that He has prepared a place for you in Heaven. You walk in His Garden, His Valley, on His Mountain and in His Courtyard and now you know that you will inherit a place here.

"You drink from the River of Life, eat fruit from His trees, bask in His light and smell His fragrance. You walk into His Gates of Gold and step along His streets of splendor. You stand at His Sea and kneel before His Throne. Now you are here and He requests your presence."

Uriel pointed towards the door of God and it opened causing the light of God's presence to stream out like the sun. Uriel puts salve in my eyes so that I can see, but I still cannot see that well.

I am convinced that this 'sight limitation' is by God's Will so that I remain humble to the fact that I am human with limitations. It then makes me realized that it is only by God's grace that I am able to be in His presence.

When I am here, I am reminded that I cannot see by my own sight, but only through His ability to allow me sight. Who knows that if I were to see all of this 'on my own' that I might start thinking highly of myself?

Regardless, no man or woman, not one single person, can say they saw the face of God as they would not be able to live to tell about it. To even claim anything to the contrary and that you have seen God's face, that you have sat on His lap or that you have sat on His Throne, after seeing what I have seen, any such claims are simply unbelievable to me.

God is not casual with us nor does He allow us the ability to come before Him with authority equal to His. It is simply not possible to do this as the very cells in your body know God and His might. The cells will submit to God even while man's self will fight it.

No matter what, God wins and without a contrite heart, humility and submission, it would be impossible to approach God in His Courts. Yes, Uriel brings me a few more steps closer than before each time, but I am still VERY far away from the Throne.

As I drop to my knees to praise Him, the choirs of angels sing to God. Indeed, every time I am here, my very body, soul and Spirit resonate with such love for God our Father that I have no choice but to drop.

While I feel weak in presence in this way, I am also strengthened by His presence in ways hard to describe. As I stayed there for some time on my knees, I felt like a battery operated Christian who was in need of a Godly power surge and recharge.

Me: Crying out in love. "I love You, Father, and thank You, thank You, thank You. Lord, In Luke 19:40 'even the stones cry out.'" I was suddenly puzzled as to why I even quoted this particular Scripture. "Hmm, where did that come from?"

God: "Erin, this is an important Scripture as what did My Son say?"

I quickly turned to my Bible and went to Luke 19:40-44 to study it in more detail.

Me: Crying. "Father, is Israel about to be trampled on?"

Immediately there was a massive rumbling in the Court and right before me the ground split. I could then see from an eagle's viewpoint above Jerusalem and I saw four deer coming down the main street of Jerusalem near the Temple and noticed that they originated from the north.

I then saw the deer scatter down different streets in a quadrant through the city. After this, I heard wailing from the enemy. The enemy then started to shout, 'Israel has killed our women and children!', but it was clearly all a well-orchestrated lie.

Then I saw Israel's enemies surround the city and lay siege to it. All communication was even removed so she was unable to call for help. However, even when she was able to call for help, her cries were ignored. I then saw a cloud over Israel.

Me: "Oh God, this time is soon, very soon. Please have mercy."

I looked again and saw a great earthquake that originated from God's Throne. As I felt it, I compared myself to a tiny speck in a massive sieve. This shifting of the ground frightened the enemy and I saw great hordes of mighty angels come to the hills.

The very presence of these angels appeared to be seen by all, perhaps because it was televised, but I was not really sure. However, I knew that the world now knew that God was very angry. I then saw lands across the world shake. Cities were leveled and once great nations fell.

Then this all stopped as suddenly as it began and it seemed as if it was in the late morning to late afternoon, but this was not clear to me. I rubbed my eyes as this now seemed in real time.

For a while, I was not even sure if I was in a dream that I could wake up from. I felt as if my heart was pounding out of my chest and then it too stopped as the floor of the Court went back to normal.

Me: "Father, I am terrified. Is there any way we can appeal to You for mercy?"

God: "You cannot change what is written as this is how I will reconcile hearts back to Me and is like a circumcision. Who defies the armies of the living God? I am about to circumcise hearts so they might live."

I went to Scripture to study Deuteronomy 30:6 and Jeremiah 4:4 and my left hand froze up like a claw again. As I went to move the Bible and go back to God, it fell and opened to Hosea 2:11-23.

God: "Erin, it is the time to reconcile hearts back to Me. It is like rolling back a scroll that which is old and exposing that which is new. I will be their God and they will be My people and I will rebuild that which the enemy trampled. Now write plainly what you have seen."

Me: "Father, I had a dream last night where I was seeing myself writing from exactly one year ago. Is this now the time as it is one year later or is this still another time? Are we coming Home before the time of Jacob's trouble or..."

God: "It is written and foretold by prophets that this is for an appointed time and that the time will be clear based on events. So I ask you, Erin, as I know the time and therefore control it, what time is this?"

Me: I had no choice but to 'gulp' at my ignorance. "Father, I am not the Author of history nor do I keep time so anything from my lips is flawed unless it is inspired by You in breath, so please forgive me."

God: "Erin, I am asking you to observe events and what you see this time as."

Me: "The time is now and we seem to be in this time as it is aligning."

God: "Then be secure in Me, know that I am God and do not worry. Erin, be still and know that I am God. This is enough for today, child, you are loved."

Uriel brought me to my feet and I was still trembling at what I had just seen.

Me: "I love You, Father, but I wish I could hug You as I need You."

God: I heard a rumbling laugh as if He had been pleased with what I just said. "I am with You, Erin, so do not be afraid and do not be discouraged. Allow Me to go before you and wait on Me as I will make your path known. You are loved."

Uriel guided me out of God's door. As I looked up at Uriel, I noticed that he was even larger than normal and he had wings.

Me: "Are you going off to war soon?"

Uriel: Smiling. "Do not worry, Erin, I will still meet you here."

Me: "I do not want you to be hurt."

Uriel: Smiling and laughing. "Do not worry about that as I will not be. My very presence brings fear in the hearts of men. I stand with a sword and they retreat."

Me: "You are right."

I felt a bit silly that I said this as I really did know that he would be just fine.

Uriel: "God showed you a time to come and Scriptures were given to you to confirm His Words. Now go back one year to see what was foretold. Everything is for an appointed time, but, when these events occur, men will still be dismayed and caught unaware and will only see in hindsight that Words of these events were written in advance."

Me: "Hmm, like hindsight of a deer?"

Uriel: "This is a keen observation. The Lord is good and a refuge in times of trouble. He cares and sends help for those who trust in Him. He will bring evil plots to an end where perhaps Nahum is an example.

"Trouble will not come a second time. Erin, Who is your strength, makes your feet like that of a deer and enables you to go on the heights?"

Me: "God is able! Uriel, am I like the deer trampling Jerusalem?"

Uriel: Smiling. "No, Erin, please look over what God showed you as He is giving you sight to see like an eagle. You are to pray for Israel and for the peace of Jerusalem as even your name means peace.

"Be careful to not meld words given to you individually by other prophets or ones who claim to be prophets but are not with those of God's Words of the times given directly to you. They are not the same and this is wisdom. Now do not worry."

Me: "Uriel, I saw a few cities crumble and one of the cities looked like Portland, Oregon. I saw a great shaking, but was this a literal earthquake or a revival?"

Uriel: "Sometimes both, Erin, as what comes out of calamity? Perhaps humility as eyes look up for help from the sky when the ground fails them. Do not be afraid, Erin, but take heart.

Dream over...

Tomorrow, November 2nd, 2015, marks the anniversary of the Balfour Declaration from Isaiah 11:11-12 that fulfilled the Bible prophecy that God would 'gather together the dispersed of Judah from the four corners of the Earth.'

This declaration restored the Jewish people to their homeland and established a treaty of peace with the Ottoman Empire. This declaration was also the legal cornerstone for the Jewish state. This is worth celebrating!

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day and for my children, my family and my friends. I am so very blessed. Even though trouble comes, attacks continue and storms bring calamities, I am secure knowing that You love and care for us.

My heart is changed by Your love and I am thankful for Your presence. Father, I had an amazing dream last night and know that it was divinely straight from You. Please help me discern what this is as the dream frightened me.

Yesterday, I spent time reciting and reflecting on the Lord's Sermon on the Mount in Matthew 5 to 7. My older son recited this in his theater class as a monologue. He later recited it for me and I was in shock as he had memorized the entire sermon. Shortly after he recited it to his theater arts class on Wednesday, he came under attack.

I did not even know about his reciting of the Sermon in class until I asked him about his studies on Friday. I knew about the attacks on him, but I had no idea he had recited the Sermon to a pro-pagan believing class before they came.

There are many self-proclaimed pagans in our area and way too many for my tastes. It now completely made sense that the attacks would come on my son after he proclaimed this Sermon to them. In reality, I could not have been prouder of him.

Then my other son on that same day had corrected a teacher about the bakery that refused to make a cake for a lesbian couple. The teacher spoke about hate and homosexuality, yet she failed to mention the 'Freedom of Religion' clause and that the owners of the bakery were Christian and it was against their beliefs to participate.

On this same day, my younger son raised his hand and corrected the teacher on the true issue. The teacher looked disappointed about having to back down, but she agreed that it was actually much more like to be based on religion and not hate.

When my older son heard what happened, he commented, 'Wow, if those bakers were Muslim, no one would have a problem with them having to go to another bakery. However, because these are Christians, they no longer have the right to religious liberties.'

As my two sons have Asperger's, I had no idea that they were capable of such amazing things and I was so proud of them. However, this all made me realize that the schools are getting so much worse now and I do not believe it is just the public schools.

The hour is late, Father, so please continue the healing You are doing in the lives of my children. I spent quite a bit of time going through Matthew 5 to 7 on Saturday after I felt inspired by my sons. Last night, I had a dream, so please illuminate this for me, Father, as Your ways are clearly higher than mine.

Dream begins...

I lived in a very large home on a property near a lake at the edge of a large city. I had just come home from the Oncologist where I was told I had 'stage four' cancer. My children were not present, but I recognized close friends as well as social media friends who were acquaintances.

What seemed odd was that each of these people were frozen in age to the time period in which I remembered them. This means those from elementary school I remembered up to age 16 or so, High school to reunions, current friends their ages now and so on.

On this particular day, there was a celebration, like a tailgate party with fireworks. I had announced to everyone that I would be leaving this Earth soon and going to Heaven and thanked them for gathering at my home.

As I looked over the crowd, I saw that many of them were rowdy and drinking alcohol. As I was trying to speak to the crowd, several hecklers started yelling out and causing disruptions.

Heckler 1: "So why can you not heal yourself? Where is this God of yours now?"

Just as I began to address these questions, another heckler rudely chimed in with a loud voice.

Heckler 2: "We have gone through the food you prepared and it is making people sick. Could you give us some wine to kill the taste?"

I began to feel horrible and suddenly realized that these people really did not care about me at all. Not only that but more people had come that I did not recognize. Another heckler yelled across the crowd to cause further disruption.

Heckler 3: "Since you are dying of cancer, I guess that you will have no need of your clothing, your belongings or your home?"

Me: "You are right as I cannot take any of this with me, but it is now owned by my immediate family."

Heckler 2: "If this is your family's, then where are they now? I say let's take what we want as she is pretty well dead already."

After this, the crowd overcame me and I watched as people went in to ransack my home. I had no choice but to just let them as there was nothing I could do to stop them.

As the party raged on, I watched people drinking more alcohol, wearing my clothes and carrying off my electronics. Some started opening my journals and tearing pages out in order to throw them like Frisbees into a massive bonfire. I prayed under my breath.

Me: "Lord, please do not keep me here long. Please take me Home now."

I sat down on a rock near the lake and noticed that this rock was just like the rock I had sat on to journal when I was in my teen years. After a short while, two of my 'friends' came up on either side of me to confront me. I noticed that one of them was now wearing some of my clothing from my house.

'Friend' 1: "For quite some time I envied this article of clothing of yours. Now, and since your dying, I just decided to take it for myself."

I then noticed that my other 'friend' had pulled up an entire cart of items that had been family heirlooms of mine. I simply sighed, shook my head in sadness and looked across the lake.

Surprisingly, I suddenly felt fine about this and no longer felt sick at all. Somehow I just knew that I was not going to be on this Earth for much longer. Accepting this new reality, I sat with these 'friends' and watched some fireworks that had started together.

'Friend' 2: "Hmm, perhaps you are not nearly as Christian as you think? Should you not be strong and healthy? Should you not be able to stop these thieves?"

Me: "People take what is valuable to them and that which has material value. However, they leave that which has meaning as they like to chew on fat and not meat."

'Friend' 1: "Well, if your fruit had been good, then you would not be sick. If you had good fruit, you could eat it and be healed. So where is your 'good fruit'?"

Me: I signed as I knew that they simply did not understand God's ways at all. "Are you looking for actual fruit or the 'Fruit of the Spirit'?"

Just then I looked up into the night sky and saw that there were more stars than I had ever seen my entire life. It was so beautiful that I was awestruck at the sight.

Me: "Look at the amazing stars in the sky. God has named each of these stars and there are billions of them. Even as you sit here and try to strip me of my hope and faith in God, I am not angry. Even as my belongings are pillaged, I am not angry.

"I know that you are judging me, have stolen my things and now even accuse me of deserving my fate, yet you do not even care enough to look up to see that God our Father and your Creator in Heaven sees all of your deeds and records them all."

Drawing of Berries with Leaves in reply below...

Suddenly the stars in the sky started to form thick borders outlining leaves and grapes. In turn, the grapes or berries became solid lights. I stood up and shouted to the crowd to try and warn them.

Me: "Look, it is a sign from God."

I jumped up and down to get their attention and some started to notice the stars. After a while, a few people even began to cheer, but then a few hecklers yelled out.

Heckler 1: "Wow, look at those amazing effects."

Me: "This is God! This is not simply a light show."

Heckler 2: "No, this is a fake as there is no God."

Me: Running through the crowd yelling. "Please, stop what you are doing as He is coming. You must get ready as Jesus is coming now!"

I ran to go find my family as this venue was clearly not listening to me at all.

Dream over...

Father, please help me as I feel the hour is late. I have questions and I need your love and reassurance that I am doing everything possible to spread the Gospel.

Jesus: "Erin, come up."

I am in front of God's door and Uriel is there to greet me. I look to my right and again there is no forestry board. In the past I would need to go to the forestry board first, but God was no longer requiring this of me.

Uriel: "God requests your presence."

I turned back to Uriel and he smiled reassuringly at me. I turned to the door and looked back at him. I begin to weep at all I had seen in this dream and how the people would not listen.

Uriel: "Erin, what is wrong?"

Me: "Uriel, I am so healthy here in Heaven, but I am not healthy on Earth even as I write these dreams. How can these two states exist at the same time? Am I having imaginations or visions of things to come or am I simply losing my faculties? I am so sad that I am not healthy on Earth as well."

Uriel: With such compassion. “Erin, do you think any of this is surprising God? Do you not call Him your friend? Do you call Him Father or foe? Therefore go before He who knows you and knit you in your mother's womb and do not be afraid.”

Uriel's seriousness had given way to sympathy as he motioned for me to enter into God's presence. As I opened the door, a warm radiant beam of light enveloped me and it felt so energizing.

Uriel rubbed salve into my eyes and brought me into God's presence. As I got closer to Him, my legs gave out and I dropped to the floor on my knees weeping. I heard the choir of angels singing a beautiful song, but I did not recognize it.

The melody went up in octaves and was sung by altos and sopranos. It was a song which seemed sad, yet it had victorious faith in it. The song seemed to be about hope in our King of kings and our Lord of lords, Jesus.

While the song seemed to be a lamentation of sorts, it was simply glorious. As I listened to the song, I felt wave after wave of cleanliness wash me and it felt as if I were being cleansed by God. I cried for the things I had been holding close to my chest.

As a negative thought came to the forefront of my head, I felt something remove it. There is no way to describe it except that Someone was using a ‘divine stain remover’ on me.

A negative thought would come to my head, I would then recognize it as the opposite of the Fruits of the Spirit, I would confess it with my lips, repent from my ways and renounce the spirits involved in my participation of the offense against the Holy Spirit.

I then broke the ties the enemy had by legal right and I asked God to cleanse and deliver me from such offense against Him. I felt broken, yet healed at the same time.

Me: “Father, these negative thoughts seemed so small and insignificant. Please forgive me as I love You and I always want to do Your will. I am sorry I am not as holy as You expect and that I have fallen short of Your expectations.”

During the last few days, I had been mumbling about my current physical condition and the various enemy attacks from all areas upon my family. However, instead of rising up and going to God for strength, donning my whole armor of God, anointing my home and realizing I was at war, I instead complained about my circumstances.

God: “Erin, who is perfect and holy? Name any man, woman or child on Earth who is perfect?”

I then heard what I thought was the sound of a large bird. However, when I looked, I noticed that this was not a bird but rather an angel with many wings. The angel held an ember with a metal tong and he put the coal on my lips.

God: "Erin, your iniquity is taken from you and your sins purged. You are free, so do not avoid Me and do not stay far removed from Me. The Holy Spirit reminds you of your place and convicts you of your sin. When you are convicted, then confess this immediately.

"Your humble submission to desire perfection is noble, but unattainable. However, do not worry as you have a better use to Me with a heart which is pliable. A pliable heart can be shaped by the Potter, while a hardened heart of stone can only be doused by the water from the River of Life or a Samaritan's cup.

"Even then it takes time for a heart of stone to have porosity to be used again as most eventually crumble under extreme heat or pressure instead. You have seen many things and you have been through the furnace of affliction, yet you have not been burned. In your opinion, why have you not been burned?"

Me: "Only, and I mean only, because I cry out to You when I am facing fire of any kind."

God: "Then why, Erin, did you carry these burdens and keep this reserved? Does a lump of clay shape itself or does it decide its use?"

Me: Smiling and shaking my head: "Oh, forgive me, Father, but I expect to come to you perfect and not as broken as I am. How can you still call me friend if I hide from You?"

God: "Erin, you are not diving behind bushes, but merely keeping to yourself that which burdens you. I have not healed you yet and you are tired. Now, why do I wait? Why would I withhold this from you?"

Me: "Well, I know You can either heal in an instant or over time. All I know is that You always fulfill Your promises. You do not withhold that which is good from Your children, so I must believe You have a greater purpose in all things.

"Looking back, Father, every promise to me has been fulfilled, but not to my glory and timing, but rather to Yours. You do everything for the good of those who love You."

God: "You are saying what is written and this is good, but I know you are discouraged. Please call to Me and speak that which is on your heart. I have not left you nor have I abandoned you, but when you retreat and try to keep it to yourself, who then are you keeping your troubles from?"

Me: "Father, I am worried that others will lose faith if I seem as if I have at times lost faith."

God: "Erin, speak the truth even when it hurts as I know all things in advance. Is there anything new under the sun unless I first determine it? Am I not the same yesterday, today and tomorrow? Who catches me by surprise or distracts Me? Who knows the end from the beginning?"

"If I created you, then do I not care for you also? Erin, do not worry when things seem quiet or time speeds up as soon dawn will break and time will no longer be your yoke. Let Me handle time as I created it. Now, what have I told you about time?"

Me: "I know Your time is not the same as the time that I know. You set up the seasons, the sun and the moon and their orbits and even created calendars for us. You have given us an earthly measures of time."

God: "The time in which you seek is close as you know the hour you are in. As I have promised you blessings, then you will have them. As I promised you signs, then you will have them."

"As I promised you your health, then you will have this too as I do not change My mind. So if I have promised this to you, then you must let Me be God as you are My daughter and friend. Do you have faith in Me?"

Me: "Of course, Father, and I love You so much. However, when I have attacks and I feel pain, I become dismayed and I think that I have done something wrong. Then I think I am out of Your reach and removed from Your favor. Please forgive me as the pain sometimes makes it that I cannot even come to You in writing."

God: "Erin, come as you are in Spirit and in truth as there is nothing that can keep My love from you. As hard as you might try, there is nothing which can separate us. Do you no longer wish to have Counsel?"

Me: "Oh no, Father, the Holy Spirit is everything to me. Please never take this from me as I would be horrified."

God: "I will never leave you nor forsake you and the only thing that could separate us is if you reject your Gift."

Me: "Father, I will not reject the Holy Spirit as I feel this is my direct line to Jesus and You."

God: "Then please do not worry as My plans for you have not changed. When you receive a Word from Me, then release this and be comforted in knowing that as events unfold light will be shed as confirmation and break forth like the dawn."

"Prophecy comes not by the will of man but by the Will of God as placed there by the Holy Spirit. Therefore it is up to Me to determine the time for the seeds to be planted by the good farmer. So, Erin, what does the good farmer do?"

"The good farmer prepares his field, works the ground, scatters his seeds and then plants them. He then prays for rain and sun and looks to Me to water the soil and provide light to the crop. Then when the crop is ready the good farmer praises Me for the rest."

"If the winds blow, the storms rage and even fire threatens, he need not be afraid as I will do as I have promised. So do not worry when you are given prophecies as these are not made for you, Erin, but as a record and even as a warning as the time is at hand."

Me: "Father, I want so much to be a good farmer, so please forgive me if I have doubted Your ability to send rain and sun. I did not feel You were not able to, but only that I was a wounded farmer and I have not been able to plant as quickly as I had hoped."

God: "Have I also not allowed this for My purposes? Now you are concerned about events you cannot control and that you cannot somehow save Israel. Erin, they are not looking for 'SparrowCloud9', a female Gentile, to show them that their kinsman redeemer is Jesus.

"You cannot stop the nations surrounding her or the events about to befall her as this is not your job. I will depose kings and appoint them into power as I control all of this. As I see the affliction and the desecration of My people and land, I will not be silent and there will be devastation unlike the world has ever seen.

"There will be deception and back door deals. Powers are shifting and Israel will stand exposed. However, soon they will be comforted as each and all of the prophecies will come to pass.

"As they unfold, these prophecies will at first seem unrecognizable. However, in the dust and smoke, dawn will break and all will be fulfilled. Erin, you are not to fear as you will be comforted and far removed. Now, why am I speaking of this?"

Suddenly there was a great shaking of the Courtroom floor and I saw the ground part and I was terrified. Below me, I could see the land over Israel and I saw as the landscape zoomed into a tree.

This tree looked like what I saw in the stars above in my dream. The tree had red figs or berry clusters on it and I saw that the base of this tree was massive and old. The landscape zoomed out again and I then saw Jerusalem to the southeast.

I noticed that the area where this tree was appeared to be somewhere on the coast northwest of Jerusalem. I was then shown a map to see the area this was referring to and I saw the word 'Netanya'.

I then looked back down and I saw trouble surrounding Israel and pushing down on them from the north. I then looked to the east and saw something that I really cannot fully describe.

There was something like massive balloons converging on the landscape from all sides to collapse the Iron Dome, as well as the unseen cover over the land. As these things converged, there was a pause and I saw something on the Mediterranean develop to distract from problems over Jerusalem.

Nonetheless, the push continued and I saw crumbling walls and buildings. I then saw something like ships coming from the coast and landing on the shores to the west. I could see that war was going on in the distant shores and I thought perhaps these were the west and east coasts of the USA?

Since I could not tell if this was caused by military actions or literal storms, all I can say is that I saw either smoke or dust. I then saw four angels in various positions around the USA.

The first angel was near the northwest around Seattle, the second near the southwest around San Diego, the third near the southeast around Florida and the fourth near the northeast around New York.

The first angel near the northwest around Seattle blew a mighty breath. The second angel near the southwest around San Diego held fire in his left hand and a mallet in his right hand. The second angel first struck the Earth and the ground shook and then fire came.

The third angel near the southeast around Florida stirred the water with his right hand in the ocean and his left hand in the Gulf. The fourth angel near the northeast around New York blew wind and the storehouses of snow in Heaven as in Job opened up followed by bitter cold.

I saw as these four angels all worked in succession and battered the land. I saw the markets rise for a time, but then plummet amidst chaos. Drove of people pushed through the borders.

These drove of people were bent on destruction and pillaging the landscape and disparagement was now the mantle of the great nation. While trouble was distracting from Israel's needs, the enemy converged on them.

Me: "Father, when will this be?"

God: "Erin, do not be afraid. This time is coming as it is written, though not discovered by most until after the events come to pass."

Me: "So all of this is hidden in plain sight in Your Word."

God: "Yes. Now, the stars in the sky were from this region and what you saw was a harbinger tree."

As He spoke, He waved what must have been His arm and the Court floor was suddenly completely back to normal.

Me: "Those leaves and berries looked a lot like holly, but the tree could be a Sycamore? Hmm, but it really does not look like one, so I am not sure."

God: "Erin, Israel is your gauge. This tree bore fruit much like a fig. Now this was a warning and the Sermon on the Mount was placed on your heart from the Holy Spirit as this is good seed. Erin, this is enough for today."

Me: "Father, I am frightened."

God: "Do not be as this is your appointed time. Now be encouraged as your place is here and you are a citizen of Heaven. You are loved, so come to Me when you are heavy laden and I will give you rest."

Me: "I love You, Father."

God: "I love you."

Uriel brought me out the door, but I still had some questions.

Me: "Uriel, what if I missed something or did not describe it properly?"

Uriel: "The prophecy is God's seed to plant. You do your part to place it and then put it in the soil and then God sends rain and sun. This is not your field as God is the owner and also created the seed. Therefore you can also compare yourself to a vessel and God is the One Who fills you. Now, do not worry.

"You saw a plumb line and unbalanced scales. You know the enemy hates and pursues the righteous as they hate what is God's. Now, the Sycamore fig tree is what you saw in the dream, but this is also the Egyptian 'tree of life' and has roots from the 'fallen'.

"There is a reason for this as they shadowed the Garden of Eden and mocked God's Mountain, but now they have erected towers with stairs and elevators. Now you understand the time we are in, but do not worry as there is still earthly time.

"God will soon heal you as He has promised you endurance on your race. Remember, Erin, it is okay as the prophecy is God's and not yours and you are only to show the way.

"The Sermon on the Mount is straight from the Lord's lips and a road map to Heaven. However, very few will seek this direction and will run to a false light instead and you cannot change this. Erin, God has all of this."

Me: "I hope I have not played God."

Uriel: "Well, to do so would make your heart sick and your burden too heavy. Erin, always remember that history is 'His Story'".

Dream 182 – Jesus, Roots and the Garden

Received Saturday, November 28, 2015

(Formerly known as Prophetic 42)

Communion

Thank You for another day here on Earth and for my family, children and friends. Thank You for my safe place and for Your love. Please grant me the ability to write today. Please help to support my head and remove the pain I am in.

Father, if I have been arrogant or prideful, please forgive me. If I have been running ahead of You on this divine detour, then please lead me back to the good path. You instruct me while running my race and You nourish and refresh my soul with the living water of Your Word.

You have shown me glimmers of things to come and at times I am overwhelmed. Father, I am often reminded of my low position because of my pain. You have called me qualified, yet I think there would be others more capable and certainly well enough to write what they are shown.

I know I am sending a mixed message from storm tossed seas right now, but I still have hope. Even as the waves attempt to consume me, You keep me lifted and buoyant. Just when I begin to have fear, You are there and when I cry out to You, You answer.

You rescue me from the all-consuming surf and place me on a beautiful shore and I love You so much. I am sad today, Lord, as I have no parent to phone this year for Thanksgiving. My Mom would make eggnog chiffon pie and every year we would converse while one or both of us made it.

Most of the time it was me phoning her with technical questions with the television playing college football in the back ground paused after completed downs for mutual momentary cheering. After cheering, we would once again resume our conversation.

Father, I miss her and I am thankful to have had a good mother. I thank You for her, but now my grief is like waves of the ocean. Sometimes the waves are small, but then the waves sometimes seem to consume me.

Thank You for keeping my head above water. I love You and smile as I become so overwhelmed at just how much You love me and really all of us. I scarcely deserve any of Your favor, yet I see evidence of Your hand in all that I do.

You have granted me these amazing dreams even though I have such struggles to write them down. I now understand why these dreams may take longer for me to do as not everything You show me is to be written until the appointed time.

Instead, You are teaching me how to reflect on what I have seen and to wait on You to reveal the mystery. I am directed back to Scripture in all I have seen and realize that all prophecy must be fulfilled from the Bible before Jesus finally takes His seat in Jerusalem as God will simply not go against His Own Word.

Father, You have been leading me to the Book of Job, Daniel 9:24-26 and Nehemiah. I am not certain why the Holy Spirit is directing me so strongly to these particular Scriptures, so please show me what You would have me consider reading.

In reality, I am often afraid that I will miss something that seems small to me, but may be huge to You. I hope to never focus on something familiar instead of the root of what You are showing me, so please guide me in all of this.

Lord, please bless the works of my hands and help me with my limits so You become large and I become small as it should be in all of these matters. Father, You are the desire of my heart and Whom I long to please.

Jesus: "Erin, come up."

I am immediately up near a beautiful tree overlooking the valley of Beracah, which means 'blessing' in Heaven. I was so excited to be here again and noticed that I was wearing a white linen tunic and something like white cropped pantaloons.

My feet were beautiful and clad with 'Romanesque' sandals that were woven and wrapped around my ankles and calves. They seemed a combination of woven gold leather, metal and ribbon combined and were very high-tech and extremely comfortable.

These sandals were like walking on a cloud and yet they were incredibly beautiful. I jumped up and down and my sandals made me spring up and go supernaturally higher than if I was not wearing them. I laughed at this as I breathed in the Heavenly air.

I felt a rush of oxygen spring forth into my body and through my veins and it was if I had life again. I could hear the running water from the falls and the river behind me. As I looked for the rock and I saw it in the distance by the River of Life, I did not see Jesus there and was surprised.

Me: "Lord, are You here?"

I looked again, but I still could not see Him, even though I felt in my heart that He was here. I walked to the beautiful tree and saw that it was full of fruit, but I could not reach them. I laughed and decided to jump up to try and reach for a golden pear-like fruit.

I bent my knees and jumped up in these wonderful sandals and was able to reach one of the fruit. With effort, I was able to succeed and was delighted in my abilities with my Heavenly sandals.

I bit into this golden pear-apple fruit and it was juicy and satisfying. It had just enough sweetness, tartness and body to make me content and I became full. This made me so happy and brightened my mood as I truly felt it nourish my soul.

Me: "Thank You, Father, for good fruit."

I then looked to my right and down to near the vineyard and saw angels in the distance harvesting grapes. I looked at them and they waved. I waved back and laughed with delight. They immediately went back to harvesting.

Me: "Lord, are You here somewhere? I know You are?"

Just then, a small fluffy brown rabbit appeared and it looked at me and motioned with its head and paw to follow her. I was laughing as she looked exactly like a stuffed animal we have here in the house. I was just too curious to not follow her.

I knew in my heart that the Lord was most likely close by and observing this from a distance with a smile and a delightful chuckle. I followed this plump little bunny down a path to a field next to the vineyard where there was a small sign, 'Erin's Garden'.

I laughed at this as I have not really gardened that much since I was a child and my mom had a few sections in a community vegetable garden in University Village in Albany, California. I remembered how exciting it was to have fresh produce grown by just planting some seeds.

Our place in this garden was next to our neighbors in the village apartments where we lived. We had our rows of produce next to a Jewish family who had a boy I knew from third and fourth grade.

While I can no longer recall his name, I remembered that I would play with him and his older brother. His brother was a couple of years older than him and was diagnosed with Leukemia. During his battle with this, my mom and I would help tend to their garden while their mother was tending to her dying son.

I remembered that this boy finally passed away and that the family moved away shortly after this. I saw his photo in my fourth grade class, but I could not remember everything about him.

However, I remembered that the garden which was theirs eventually stopped producing and weeds grew in place of the vegetables. I asked my mom why we stopped keeping up their garden and she said that it was because they no longer wanted the vegetables.

She explained that the garden had been started by the boys and that the older son delighted in it. As a result, gardening there was just too painful to continue with their grief.

When the family moved and after hearing all this, the garden which was theirs would make me grieve. The following spring, this was all uprooted and the community garden was removed. This was my last true garden experience.

Now here I am following this bunny as I looked and saw rows and rows of vegetables growing in rich soil. I laughed and ran up and down the rows. I came to one row which looked like it had weeds and stopped in my tracks as it looked completely out of place here.

Me: "Lord, why would Heaven have weeds? This does not make any sense."

I got on my hands and knees and I pulled up on a green 'weed' with white looking puffs on it. The root was long and not easily uprooted, so I left it. I then uprooted the 'weed' next to it and laughed as it was a 'Heavenly potato'.

The potato was bronze and shimmering and was perfect. Indeed, this was the most perfect potato that I had ever seen. This potato was large measuring around twelve inches long and five inches across.

Me: Laughing. "Hmm, I guess French-fries could be on the Heavenly menu? Perhaps there will be sweet potato fries too? Cool."

I looked and saw that there was another 'weed' and I began to pull it out.

Jesus: Laughing. "Erin, that 'weed' is not a weed."

I turned and saw Jesus walking toward me and was smiling and chuckling at my reaction. I quickly retracted my hand from the throat of what I thought was a weed. I quickly put it down, jumped up and ran to Him for a big hug.

Me: "Oh no, oops. Lord, it is so great to see You. I have missed You. Where have You been? I guess saving the Earth. Oh, I meant 'saving the world'."

Jesus: Laughing so hard. "Yes, Erin, one sinner at a time."

Me: "Yes, Lord, and I am one of many."

Jesus: Smiling and laughing. "Yes, you are, yet you are here tending to your garden and saving it from destruction by the weeds."

Me: "Lord, You are so funny. What is this plant as it looks like a weed?"

Jesus: "This plant is the food of poor people in ancient times and even now and is called 'mallow'."

Me: "You mean like marsh-'mallows', as in the kind you put in hot chocolate?"

Jesus: Smiling and shaking His head. "They are not the same. There are roots in the name though."

Me: "I noticed that the roots are long and tough and do not like to be uprooted."

Jesus: "Funny, most things that grow and have roots tend to like where they are planted. It is not easy to be uprooted, is it?"

I noticed that His face was beautiful and His eyes were a deep blue-green. His skin was tanned and His teeth were as white as snow. I knew He was using multiple layers of meaning.

Me: "No, it is not. Lord, in Heaven, can I not just ask for vegetables to be delivered to my Home or do I have to pick them myself daily?"

Jesus: Chuckling. "Well, I suppose you can ask and it would be delivered to you. However, this harvesting is not like labor here in Heaven and you are not laboring in vain as you often do in life on Earth. Here in Heaven you do not labor in vain and now the marshmallow here can be as you delight in it."

He motioned me back to the mallow plant and I turned to look. I began to laugh as there was a small tree of both small and jumbo sized marshmallows. I then turned and laughed even harder when I saw a small tree with marshmallows of many colors.

Jesus: "Go ahead, Erin, try one."

He crossed His arms as He watched and I could see that He clearly delighted in this. I reached for a giant marshmallow and put it in my mouth. It was like sweet vanilla and unlike any marshmallow I had ever eaten on Earth. I quickly reached for another and popped it into my mouth.

Me: "Wow, this is amazing. This marshmallow is like a cloud, yet sweet and wonderful at the same time. Lord, I love it."

Jesus: Laughing. "Well, clearly you should have a row dedicated to marshmallows. Clearly this is a good 'weed' plant."

I turned and saw that there was now an entire row of blooming marshmallow plants.

Me: "So I can keep it this way? What about the potatoes?"

Jesus: "You can harvest these too."

Me: "I am surprised that anything would grow below ground. Does all good things not come from 'above the ground'?"

Jesus: "Oh, do you not like potatoes, onions, leeks and peanuts? Are these not also born of a root?"

Me: "I thought most 'roots' are evil?"

Jesus: "No, Erin, do not confuse the two by referring to things which grow from the ground and produce fruit as evil. Remember that God created fruit, vegetables and creatures for eating and other purposes and this is good.

"A tree begins with roots which plant into the ground while the tender shoot grows up toward the light. The tree then produces good fruit. There are also berries which grow as bushes. There are vines which are high to the ground and low to the ground wherein the heavier the vine fruit, the lower to the ground it rests.

"Then there is fruit of the Earth or apple of the ground from the root which is your potato, carrot and the like. Each one of these has roots in common. The roots nourish the plants and even water them from below.

"Erin, every matter in life contains a root and some roots are left alone, others are exposed and others are cut off. Some roots are massive and seem to have deep tentacles, but always there is a root.

"When speaking of the root, the term is 'Sheresh' and there are multiple layers of meaning here. You have been given a beautiful garden here and there are no weeds to choke out your harvest as only good dwells here."

Me: "Lord, You are saying much more to me 'below the surface', so please help me understand. I feel in my heart that there is no accident in recalling old memories or putting aside those which have no usefulness.

"Help me to understand more clearly as I have had two dreams recently which have been beautiful. The scenery was beautiful and I am in good company, yet my vision is blurred in broad daylight and I can barely make out that which was right before my eyes. The sun was bright in both of these. Are you ending my dreams? Am I losing sight?"

Jesus: Smiling. "Erin, no, this is not the meaning of these dreams. Sometimes you are not allowed to see any further, but you can still understand that which occurs. You did not lose your mind or faculties, just your clarity of sight. Now, the sun was present and you were walking in the light, yet things occurred to obscure your vision. Why?"

Me: "Am I out of Your favor?"

Jesus: "No, it is given to you so you understand that you cannot see everything unless God allows it. Just because you are given a gift, it does not mean at times you are given all the knowledge in full.

"Sometimes you are given parts and then others are given different parts. Then when placed together, it all fits as a body has many parts

“As you are reading the prophecies in the Bible, remember that, though very few of the prophets knew each other personally, they knew of each other. Each of the prophecies of these prophets is fitting together now at this time. Erin, what did you read in Job recently?”

Me: “Well, I concluded that despite our best efforts we can encounter trouble from the enemy. We can choose to give up and curse God and our circumstances or we can accept that God is our creator and uses us for His purposes even when we cannot see His plan.

“When we are focused on our inability, our limitations and our vision is obscured with tears, He is still in control. He uses our limitations and lack and leads us on a course of righteousness for His sake, not ours. However, in the end He rewards us for staying focused on Him being God and us being like Adam as we came from dust.”

Jesus: Smiling. “Hmm, very good, Erin. I was concerned that you missed the essence of the life of Job as this would be desirable when reading of his trouble. Because Job loved God, he chose not to listen to his friends’ words of superiority and judgment and to those who claimed knowledge of God and that they spoke for Him.

“These friends lacked compassion and Godly yielding, so now, Erin, you are to remain humble and childlike in wonder. When you are shown something, wait for God to reveal the mystery as He is the Author and I am the Way.”

Me: “Lord, it is hard to understand the mystery of You as You are God who came in flesh to walk with us. You and God are the same, yet different. He is Your Father, yet He is also mine. I am Your Bride and You are my Groom, yet Your wisdom is infinite.”

Jesus: “One day all of this will be understood as You are a friend of God and He has called you, so rejoice. When you try to understand this which seems unclear, then perhaps this is not the time to solve this mystery. Perhaps the revelation is not for now. Is not revelation also through the Word of truth?”

Me: “Lord, I look back after my time with You and the time is so valuable, so multifaceted and so intricate, who can truly fathom You? You show us things every day, but the times for Revelation could be later.

“I have had prophetic words from one year ago and even two years ago just recently come to pass. Yet until it passed or came near, I had no knowledge of it, but only that I knew the time had come.

“This is just like God’s clock and calendar as how can I understand that which is not understandable unless You reveal it? I understand only that which I am familiar, like the seasons, the moon, the sun, the weeks, the days and the hours and all else is a mystery.

“When reading Daniel, I feel it is the times we are in, if not just a time away. In fact, the Book of Daniel was never my focus, but now You have placed this on my heart and I cannot seem to move away from it.

"I see three parts here. First, there is the seven weeks of years or 49 Hebrew years. Second, there is the 62 weeks of years or 434 Hebrew years. Third, there is the one week of years or seven Hebrew years."

Jesus: "You have seen that which is written. Although it was written and in plain sight, why do you think those chosen to see this could not see this?"

Me: "Do you mean, 'why did the Jewish people not recognize their Messiah when You came?'"

Jesus: "Yes. Here it is written and there were many wise men. Why?"

Me: "They looked for another and were anticipating an actual King. In hindsight, all was written and Your coming fulfilled that of the prophecies."

Jesus: "Why can others see it?"

Me: "Perhaps it is easier to see it when you are removed from it."

Jesus: "God allows those with a contrite heart, one which is not hardened, to have eyes to see and ears to hear. This is a time to understand the 'Sheresh', the roots or the heart of a matter. Remember there is a root.

"If the fig tree fails to produce fruit, it will die, wither and even be cut off from its roots. Where do dead trees and parts of trees go?"

Me: "They are used as fire wood?"

Jesus: "Yes. If you see bad fruit, see what the cause is as there is a 'root cause'. If there is no nourishment to the root, then all which produces good fruit will be thwarted.

"Sometimes there is something cutting off nourishment, sometimes the soil becomes bad, sometimes there is no water and the scorching sun dries up all life and sometimes the roots are so deep into evil that no good can be found, yet the tree is allowed to live because of the obscured vision of the farmer.

"Left unchecked, this tree can harm the roots of others and eventually destroy an orchard. It is best to recognize the problem beginning with the root. You will want to cut off that which is harmful and cultivate that which is good.

"Pray, Erin, and allow God to send that which comes from above and let God bring things into fruition. Perhaps the first season will produce a small number of fruit, but with diligence and trust in Me, I will bring your fruit into a record abundance."

Me: "Oh, You are speaking about me, Lord? Is my fruit bad?"

Jesus: "No, there is no bad fruit in you. However, you also question if your roots are bad ones, but I tell you that they are not. I am able to cause one tree, your tree, to prosper, yet another to die and wither. It is a heart matter, Erin, and you will bear even more fruit with patience."

Me: I curtsied before Him. "Jesus my Lord, I trust You to do a good work in me. It is my honor to do Your Will according to Your plans. I am sorry I have complained about my circumstances."

Jesus: "Sometimes circumstances brought upon you are the doing of others, but like Job you must remain focused on Me even when you do not have all of the information. Do you trust Me not to harm you?"

Me: "Yes, I do."

Jesus: "Do you place your children and family into My capable arms?"

Me: "Yes, Lord, as You are a strong tower made from a tender shoot. You are fair and judge accordingly. Isaiah 11:1-5 reminds me of the armor You wear and points me to the armor I need to put on daily."

Jesus: Smiling and nodding. "Very good, Erin. Now this is enough for today."

He reached over and hugged me.

Jesus: "Oh, one other item hidden in Job; your marshmallow."

Me: "Really, it is there? Marshmallows are in the Book of Job?"

Jesus: Laughing. "No, Erin, not the kind you put in your hot chocolate, but it is there. Now you will find it."

He laughed and hugged me.

Dream 183 – Series of Three Dreams from My Dream Log

Received Thursday, December 3, 2015

(Formerly known as Prophetic 43)

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank you for the gift of seer and dreamer. I had three dreams recently and I will need help with the first dream. When I woke up from the second dream, I was tired and sore and at first I had problems remembering all of it.

When I had my third dream, my sleep was broken and I felt under attack from all fronts and I believe You were giving me a warning. When I woke up from this one, I was exhausted, sore and could barely move, yet my face somehow looked vibrant, clear and younger.

Father, please help me with these odd dreams. Please heal me soon so I can write better. Here are the three dreams I had in the order received...

Dream 1

Received Monday, November 30, 2015

There was a winter storm which stranded several people in an area I did not recognize. All the airports were shut down and I was in a lower budget resort hotel in a normally tropic location close to the equator. After being stranded there for one night, I saw the results in a sudden warm wave soon to come.

I looked up at the ceiling of this resort and I saw cluster flies hatching. I then began to see other bugs. I asked others if they could see what I saw, but they all said that they could not. I left the hotel with my luggage that consisted of a backpack. I spoke with the concierge about transportation.

Me: "Could I get a taxi or a shuttle to the airport?"

Concierge: "No, only bicycles are available. However, I should warn you that it is cold out there."

Me: Looking at him with surprise. "Hmm, but the temperature is about 70° Fahrenheit. Nonetheless, I will take the bicycle as I really have no alternative."

I jumped on the bicycle to ride it and noticed that it was a mountain bike. As I started to go down the path, I saw a sign to the airport that read '5 kilometers'. When I saw this, I became determined to take the next flight out.

As I rode, the turns became quite rocky and varied from extreme uphill to extreme downhill. At times, I had to stop and let others pass me. The path then seemed to meander through a red clay type terrain with some vegetation. I stopped to rest and some cyclists came up to me.

Cyclist 1: "Hey, where are you going? You need to take shelter. A category five hurricane is coming and you will have no place to take cover."

Cyclist 2: "If you hurry, you can still catch a flight, but you must ride like the wind."

I heeded their warnings and I proceeded to pedal as if my life depended on it. It soon became obvious that it did as I saw others frantically preparing for the coming storm.

Lady 1: "It was just freezing out here, so how can a hurricane come? Is this even possible?"

Lady 2: "Well, obviously it is even if it is 'out of season'."

Me: "Excuse me, but do either of you know where this hurricane is coming from?"

Lady 1: "The hurricane is coming from south of here, by why does it matter to you where this is coming from? The only thing that should matter to you is that it is coming and that it is more than we can bear."

Lady 2: "Yes, you had better just hurry and get to your destination."

As I rode, I noticed debris starting to fly in the air from the wind that was kicking up. Some riders were faster than I was and they almost knocked me over as they passed me.

Thankfully, I finally got to the airport and I was quickly shuffled onto the plane and noticed that I took the last seat. The airplane took off and we flew northeast in order to avoid the coming storm.

As the flight crew informed us that we needed to brace ourselves, I looked out over the landscape and saw a massive explosion. I felt the plane momentarily go backwards toward the blast and then it was quickly catapulted forward.

Our plane miraculously got out of the storm, but because of what happened there was no place for us to land. I looked around me and passengers were crying and praying. I saw some Jewish passengers as well as passengers from other faiths.

Non-Jewish passenger: "Too bad about your once great nation that never should have been."

It seemed he was possibly talking about Israel here, but I was not sure. I was confused.

Me: "Where are we?"

Pilot announcement: "Attention passengers, there is a safe landing in Poland and we have clearance to land."

Upon approach, there were tanks and soldiers. Our jaws dropped in shock as we saw the tanks shooting at our airplane. I could hear the pilot screaming in the cockpit to his co-pilot.

Pilot: "Oh no, we have been hit! We have been hit!"

As I heard screams and saw smoke filling the cabin, I knew that we would all soon be dead.

Dream 2

Received Tuesday, December 1, 2015

It was midweek as I went to visit an old folk's home. There were a few elderly people with card tables set up outside where they were selling their valuables. My daughter was only ten years old and seemed interested at some of the items for sale.

Daughter: "Mom, could we please stop at one of the couple's tables?"

I agreed to this and we walked over to one of the couple's tables.

Me: "Why is your garage sale on a Wednesday and not on a Saturday?"

Woman: "We thought this would be a better day to have this sale as more people would be out running errands, going to work and school."

Me: Smiling. "Hmm, good point. We were off to a doctor's appointment ourselves when we came upon your sale."

As I began to look over their items, the couple excitedly showed me a piece of pottery they thought I should buy. I quickly noticed that this was actually an imitation of something more valuable and a poor imitation at that.

I disregarded the piece they were showing me and instead pointed to a small incredibly beautiful three dimensional compass and labyrinth made of gold in a square leather box. I then pointed to something else, but I cannot remember exactly what it was.

Me: "Well, I do not need anything like this right now, but I am interested in these and I like this."

Man: "Okay."

The woman picked it up to look at the bottom for pricing.

Woman: "The compass will cost you seventeen dollars and the other item is fourteen dollars."

Me: "Deal. I will take both of them."

I was happy and took the items after they wrapped them for me. I then began to walk with my daughter to a long string of tables.

Me: "Wow, I certainly was not expecting to do something like this on a Wednesday."

My daughter nodded in agreement, but quickly became excited as an elderly woman at one of the tables behind us had given her an old photo to look at.

Daughter: "Mom, she said this photo was for either you or me."

My daughter was busy unwrapping a small candy and was clearly having fun. I laughed as I picked up the photo and saw that it was an old daguerreotype somehow infused on a one-eighth inch wooden curved board.

The photo measured around three inches high by five inches long and was of a girl who looked like a combination of me and my daughter. As I examined the black and white photo, I noticed that the girl appeared to be from the 1800s.

I became horrified when I saw that the eyes were gouged out of the photo and knew that it was a death photo. I suddenly woke up and I terrified. Father, please protect us as I feel we are soon to be under attack.

Dream 3

Received Thursday, December 3, 2015

I was working at a store front office wherein the shrewd owner or boss had the desks and chairs arranged in positions which made working impossible. One day while she was gone, I rearranged all of the desks so that the light of the windows made the workers' desktops easier to see.

Prior to rearranging the desks, most of us were working in darkness. I was some type of manager or supervisor, so I positioned my desk closer to the door and window so I could greet customers and see better. In the light, I could now notice that the furniture was beautiful and was made of mahogany or walnut.

However, this made the furniture quite heavy and difficult to move around. While moving the items, we discovered things jumbled together like computers, phones, calculators and printers. I was surprised by this as we had no idea it was there because it was too dark to see.

I then remembered that we were specifically not given the permission to look around the office for anything useful. When the owner came back to the office, I noticed that she was quite upset that we had moved things around.

However, I knew that in reality she was actually excited about what we had done, but was just upset because it had not been her idea. In the end, her anger subsided quickly when she noticed that the workers in the office had been productive while she was gone under these new conditions. She approached me in private to still reprimand me.

Owner: "I prefer to have my desk in the light, so I will take your spot and you will need to remove yourself to the dark part of the building."

Me: "If I find another spot, can I move there instead?"

Owner: Pausing. "Well, okay."

I then craftily decided to remain in the light by moving my desk to face opposite of hers at the front of the opposite window in front of the door. I realized that this was even better than before as the door opened facing my desk from the street and I would be the first to greet the customers.

Owner: Smiling and shrugging her shoulders. "Well, as long as I am the main one who benefits, why should I care?"

I could tell that she hated me, but still respected my shrewdness in remaining in the light despite her best efforts to have me removed.

Dream 184 – Jesus, His Flame and the Proudful Old Crow

Received Wednesday, December 9, 2015

(Formerly known as Prophetic 44)

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day, for Your love and for my children, friends and my family. I am blessed and so grateful. Thank You for beautiful clear skies, bright sun and glistening snow diamonds. It is truly beautiful this time of year.

While I also have seen snow in Heaven, it comes without the freezing cold. It is actually pleasantly cool, but certainly not freezing at all. I had tears of gratitude in my eyes as I started to think of all You will soon bless us with in Heaven.

All the things that we find lovely, pure and beautiful on Earth are perfected and present here in Heaven. All good things that You have created await us in Heaven to enjoy at Your delight.

Things in Heaven are of a lasting nature and nothing is missed or pined for in our minds. Indeed, all of our deep pure longings are fulfilled and they are never fleeting, soon to be forgotten or a distant memory. Instead, all of these are treasured, present and savored here in Heaven even though this is such a hard concept to convey.

As I sat today in prayer and remembered relatives who have passed on in my life and most recently my mom, I knew that each one left a footprint in my heart. However, as I think back and try to capture moments with them, these memories are now beginning to lose their clarity in my mind.

I often find joy in my heart from good memories, but I also often find that pain takes over at times from bad memories. In Heaven, seasons are long lasting and enjoyed at any time. The sunsets are longer and so are the sunrises are longer too.

Rainbows are present wherever fresh rain lands and these rainbows vary in shape and thickness because the color spectrum in Heaven is greater. I wonder if these colors can be seen on Earth with the spiritual lenses of angelic beings. I wonder if they even exist here in my room, but I simply cannot see them.

There are days I long for Heaven and even today as I look out my window I see small slices of Heaven. However, anything Heavenly on Earth is so fleeting. I thank You, Father, for all that You have created both here and in Heaven. You are perfect, patient and loving.

You have sent me several dreams this last week and have also given me signs which are truly amazing. Thank You, Father, for these gifts from You. Please show me how best to use them or release them for Your glory. I love You with all of my heart.

Jesus: "Erin, come up."

I was up on the Heavenly landing at the base of the tree with good fruit, the Tree of Life. I looked down to see if I was wearing the same shoes as yesterday and was hoping that they were the sandals that are so perfect for jumping.

I was wearing them, so I giggled and started jumping. The shoes were so springy and soft that I decided to jump in order to reach a certain fruit. While there were fruit closer to me, I had set my sights on a beautiful golden opalescent persimmon-like fruit that was shaped like a yellow bell pepper.

I jumped twice and just as I was about to try a third time, I heard the laughter of the Lord behind me. I began to laugh too as I turned and ran to Him as He walked towards me.

Me: "I am so glad to see You today."

Jesus: "I am glad to see you too. Why did you continue to jump at something out of reach? Stand there."

I hugged Him tightly as He positioned me where I had been jumping.

Jesus: "Now, these are some fine shoes made specifically to go anywhere you wish, yet they are still stylish."

He looked and light-heartedly laughed and smiled at my shoes. These sandals were beautiful and unlike anything I had ever seen.

Me: Smiling. "Lord, You are funny as you know that I did not pick these out and that You designed them for me. Still though, Lord, I cannot reach this fruit even with the best equipment."

Jesus: Smiling. "Okay, you have some options here. Option one is to continue to jump and try to reach that which is physically out of reach. Option two is to find a ladder, climb up and pick it. Option three is to all out to Me and I will help you.

"Option four is that you can command the fruit into your hand in My Name since I am behind you. By the way, the only option that works on 'false hope' is option one, the jumping method you were trying."

I scanned the area and then looked back at Him.

Me: "Clearly there is no one around to ask for a ladder."

Jesus: Smiling. "Really, Erin, so this is your thinking?"

Me: "Lord, I feel I do things in Your Name all the time with only a fifty percent success rate. Clearly my faith lacks."

Jesus: "Okay, but you are still trying and your heart is good."

Me: "Well, here is my thinking. You gave me amazing shoes and with these shoes not only are my feet beautiful but I can do so many things in them. I have been so downcast in pain and discouraged so jumping felt fantastic and it made me smile."

Jesus: Both laughing. "Yes, I enjoyed watching this and it made me smile as well. Now, stand under this tree."

I stood under the tree and looked up at the unattainable persimmon.

Jesus: "Now lift your hand out to receive it so that it does not fall to the ground."

I lifted up my hand to the fruit with my palm up.

Jesus: "Okay, Erin, now ask for the fruit."

Me: "God, thank You for the fruit. If it be Your Will, drop this fruit into my hands, in Jesus Name, Amen."

The fruit waved back and forth, but it took a while before it finally dropped.

Jesus: "Very good, Erin, now let's try this again."

He walked over and a fruit dropped immediately into His hands.

Jesus: "Erin, there is no formula or incantation to conjure up a reaction from God. If God has found your heart to be good, then you ask and you shall receive."

Me: Smiling. "But only if I ask it in Your Name."

Jesus: Laughing. "Now, go on up to the tree."

I looked up at the beautiful fruit and then looked back at Jesus. His arms were crossed as He smiled at me and nodded for me to proceed. I closed my eyes and held out my hand. The fruit dropped into my palm, but then fell out as I heard Jesus laughing.

Jesus: "You are allowed to keep your eyes open and, in this case, this is highly recommended."

Me: Laughing. "True, Lord, so why do I close my eyes?"

Jesus: "This is a small lesson on making choices. Just remember that it is best to keep your eyes open."

He took a bite of His fruit and He motioned for me to eat mine.

Me: "Lord, am I missing a deeper meaning to this lesson of picking fruit? Just as there are layers to everything You say, there are many layers to the written Word."

Jesus: "Yes, when it is peeled back layer after layer like an onion, the deeper the peeling the more the eyes form tears and some go no further as it is too painful. Now, what did you learn from this lesson, Erin?"

Me: "I made something very simple too complex."

Jesus: "This is a common mistake and really not a mistake, but an assumption you are giving God of items He requires in order for you to get a result. Do not overthink, but just ask and believe you will receive in My Name. I stand behind you, but I am also right beside you and even better I go before you."

Me: Laughing. "So You are behind me, beside me and before me. Thank You, Lord, I will not forget this."

Jesus: Smiling. "I am glad you did not look for a ladder as these are not easy to find here and we might have been here a while. However, and even more importantly, you did not give up in your quest for good fruit."

He laughed and hugged me.

Me: "Lord, You gave me several signs on Friday and one was extremely graphic. I took photos of all of these signs. I had to change the lenses on my camera at times to get a better view, but I was able to capture them all. What will be happening? What do these signs mean?"

Jesus: "Well, first tell Me why you were asking and seeking Me to begin with. Come."

He took me to the rock by the beautiful River of Life. The sun was bright and was directly in front of us. I saw shadows, but Jesus did not have a shadow behind Him.

Jesus: "Erin, your thoughts."

Me: "Well, the rock You sit upon has a shadow, but behind You there is none created by You. How can this be?"

Jesus: "Does a lit candle have a flame?"

Me: "Yes."

Jesus: "See if the flame itself casts a shadow behind it?"

Me: "Oh, You are the light. Of course, You are the light of the world. This makes sense. Lord, when You mention flame, I am reminded of the Seven-fold Spirits of Heaven. It reminds me long ago of the Menorah I saw near the Throne of God by the Sea of Glass."

Jesus: "What does a lamp do?"

Me: "It removes the darkness in a room and it lights our way so that we do not stumble."

Jesus: "Why was this used in Revelation so often?"

Me: Thought awhile. "Well, Revelation shows us Your measure, God's judgments and what will occur. It is mysterious, yet coming into focus like my camera lenses. I have two types of camera lenses.

"I have a macro-lens which sees things closer and more detailed. I also have a wide angle lens which sees things with more coverage. They are not good ones, but I can see the difference.

"I had bought some filters which removed glare, took the shadows away or could tint colors, but I do not have these anymore. When I once used one of these filters, it had made everything rose purple and changed the picture to much. Even though I thought it was cool, it was no longer 'real', so I decided to return them."

Jesus: "These are interesting thoughts, Erin, as God My Father needs no special attachments or filters. However, many could benefit in using filters with their sharp tongues as God sees everything. He sees from all angles, microscopic to universal, and created all things and needs no filter.

"Now your Seven-fold Spirits comment is interesting as these are like flames. Now, this is Who I am. I am the bread of life (John 6:35, 41, 48, 51). I am the light of the world (John 8:12). I am the door of the sheep (John 10:7, 9).

"I am the good Shepherd (John 10:11, 14). I am the resurrection and the life (John 11:25). I am the way, the truth and the life (John 14:6). I am the true Vine (John 15:1, 5)"

Me: "Are You the Seven-fold Spirit?"

Jesus: "Soon you will understand all of this, but for now this remains a mystery. I am who I say I am. Now, let us talk about your week. What happened?"

Me: "I hit an all-time low and I have not felt this down since May of 2012. My enemies all ramped up against me, one after one, in succession and there was no apparent reason. After everything, I grieved as I was tired, exhausted and in pain.

"I spent the entire week battling and I am frustrated. While I obey the law and the Court's orders concerning my children, my enemy uses social media to attack my character and manipulate my children. Well who can stop him without going to his level or hiring attorneys? I have no energy and my children do not deserve this.

“Then my ex-employer is offering me a job that I am not capable of doing and fighting me. There is more and it is ridiculous. While I am safe here at least for now, I am still not truly free.

“Lord, I am exhausted and cannot meet these demands when I struggle to do anything physically. My brain thinks about ‘doing’ things, but my body then goes in the opposite direction.”

Jesus: “You are worried about many things and I have seen your struggles. Do not worry, Erin, but just remember that in this life you will have trouble.”

Me: “Yes, but when trouble comes, I feel I am out of Your favor.”

Jesus: “Erin, the trouble comes because you are in My favor. Now, I understand that you have been given a series of dreams in which light is being shed on a dark situation. You are hated because of Me and now the enemy attacks in his areas of strength by any means possible.

“The blacksmith is using people as tools and is constantly reminding you of your small place and your inability. If he can convince you that he is in charge and render you helpless, then he can swoop in and attack from all angles.

“When you are most vulnerable, the attacks come. When you are not looking, he comes unexpectedly. Now the enemy is relentless. Why then are you not relentless in pursuit of victory?”

Me: “I thought I had been as I did not let these attacks bring me down. I remained strong, but when I needed to come to You for answers, I could not write for long. I even had a hard time worshipping as my pain was distracting me.”

Jesus: “Hmm, it seems like these are excuses. Erin, if you can do nothing but pray, then pray as My grace is sufficient and I have not abandoned you to the grave. I know you are tired, but come to Me when you are weary and I will give you rest as My yoke is easy and My burden light. Now, I knew about your trouble and God from the Throne sent Me to give you comfort.”

Me: “Does He not want me to come to Him directly? After all, He calls me ‘friend’.”

Jesus: “Yes, this is true and He delights in you because He knows your heart. However, He also knows what you need before you ask, so He sent Me to comfort and minister to you.”

He reached over and hugged me as I wept in His arms.

Jesus: “This is why He sent Me. Erin, the Father is unable to hold you, but some day He will walk amongst you, Erin. All is going to be well and you will be made whole.”

Me: “Thank You for coming and thank You for holding me, but please heal me, Lord, before the time of trouble.”

As I sat in my chair, I stopped writing as I had lost some of the feeling in my right hand. As I got up to move about, I was alerted by my dogs barking loudly. I went to look and right in front of me was a deer stopping to look at me.

We both were still for quite some time, but then she walked to go up the snowy bank. Once she realized the bank was too steep, she ran up the road and found an easier entrance to the woods. I felt this was a sign to go back into my vision.

Me: "Lord, did You have a sign or message to give me concerning the doe I just saw?"

Jesus: "You have dealt with snakes, charmers, lions, bears and wolves, yet you sit here with Me and ask such a question? In light of what I just spoke of, what would this deer signify or for that matter any of your other signs which you know are from the Counselor whereby they originate?"

Me: I thought for a moment. "First, Lord, You are showing me certain predators, but what of a charmer? Is this a snake charmer?"

He leaned His elbows on His knees and with His finger drew a line in the sand. He then drew five x's to the left of the line and pointed to them.

Drawing of Football against the Enemy in the reply below...

Jesus: "Now, here are your enemies and there is the snake, the snake charmer, lions, bears and wolves. This side is controlled by the ruler of this world and is constantly plotting to have you removed and cross this line.

"This line is a wall or barrier that has been set up by Me at your birth. This barrier cannot be penetrated unless allowed by the Father, Who is both My Father and your Father.

"Now, here are you and your family and these are the angels over and around you protecting you by the Father's, our Father's, commands, understand?"

Me: "Lord, this looks like a play diagram for a game or sport, but where are You in all of this?"

Jesus: "Good question. I am before you, beside you and behind you, but I am also in you. Now, remember that there are more with you than against you and that only a third of the angels fell from Heaven. Now these enemies move around, occasionally work together, often clamor and make noise, insult, accuse and on and on."

He turns to look at me and directed me to the drawing in the sand again.

Jesus: "You get the pattern, right? Like a game of football, they call out plays, make fakes, charge and go down on one knee to stop the clock or at least try."

We were both laughing because He began to download a football game with the enemy versus the angels.

Jesus: “Erin, life is an analogy for what occurs in the spiritual realm and things like these games can be how the enemy works. Now, notice that there is an order and that they are not disorganized because these were once heavenly beings before the fall.

“However, remember also that they are no longer inspired by God as they were removed and do not have ranks in Heavenly armies, so on Earth there is a strategy and a very predictable pattern.

“Even though it is obvious to see from this diagram, it is very difficult to see trouble when you are in it or even the source of the trouble. However, from the angle of looking down on the playing field from up here, you can see it.

“Now, without Me showing you the magnitude of angels around you or even this ‘J’ representing Me, I see a mother and three children on the other side of this line. By this diagram, what holds your line?”

Me: “God! Lord, without God and You, we would be easy prey.”

Jesus: “Yes, you would. Now, who is this snake charmer? This is easy as he is a manipulator and charms the snake, gathers the wolves, charges the bears and angers the lions.

“His very presence is the illusion of control over his victims. Now is a snake charmer real? Is this not a type of witchcraft meant to rob the onlookers of their wallets?”

Me: “I thought charmers were snake keepers?”

Jesus: “Well, they keep the snakes as they need them to perform, but all of these are predators meant to do harm. Now, this is difficult to understand at times and this time you are in, but, see, this is you and your children.”

Just then, the ‘O’s on the drawing turned into ‘deer’.

Jesus: Smiling. “So, Erin, can the deer stand against any of these with her young? Will the deer rise up, get fangs and claws and gain weight? No, but the deer is to remain alert and always look to God for guidance. When the time comes to be vigilant and run, God gives the deer the ability to climb”.

Me: “It seems that my enemies have breached God’s wall a few times. Did I mess up?”

Jesus: “There are several reasons why a wall can be breached. First, sin can cause the wall to be lowered or to even fall until a correction of repentance to God is made. Humility before the Throne strengthens your barrier against trouble.

“Second, God can allow a breach not just from sin and pride, but for no cause at all on your part. While this seems unfair, it is a test of your ability to operate in the Fruits of the Spirit and to remain in God’s care with endurance. However, when the breach subdues and God’s tests are passed to His Glory, then peace comes.

“Now, a third way a wall can be breached is that the deer can climb the wall and wander into her predators’ camp by her own leading and not God’s. This may even seem innocent as the doe might be looking to graze in peaceful meadows.

“However, now the deer is in full sight of her enemies. While God can save her from those who seek to devour her, it is still up to her to call out to Him before it is too late.”

Me: “Wow, Lord, I have done all three of these and have paid for this last one dearly.”

Jesus: “This is true, but this was of no surprise. If you had not endured this, how could you warn others? If you had not endured death, how could you have encouraged others about Heaven? If you had not run after Me relentlessly, then how would anyone know how deeply you are loved by Me.

“Erin, I am in your heart and not just a written Word on the pages of the Bible. I am real, I am here with you and You are loved.”

He gently smiled at me and put His hand on His heart.

Me: Crying. “Lord, thank You for using my mistakes to enrich the lives of so many. Knowing this somehow makes my situation easier to endure.”

Jesus: “Yes, but this is coming to a close and this is good. Now, why do you think that your enemies ramped up against you?”

Me: “As the enemy could see that I was not well and that I was distracted, they decided to all converged on me at once.”

Jesus: “Yes, this is because it was an ideal timing issue. However, did you notice that all of the attacks were both through the air or mail and not by direct contact? While these were all threats, why do you think this happened now?”

Me: “I have no idea. Lord, please help me to understand timing. When You say ‘soon’, does this mean a season as in one season? When You say ‘a little’, does this mean twenty one days? When You say ‘a time’, this seems to mean a year, but I might be off.

“You have given me promises which came true and were fulfilled the exact day You said it would, but others take three months or more. Also, sometimes a ‘short time’ seems to mean six months, but not always. Oh Lord, I am so confused by all of this.”

Jesus: Sternly, but then smiling. “Hmm, confusion is not from Me and some things simply remain a mystery until the event has passed. Sometimes knowing is of no benefit to you.

“How would you benefit if you knew My business or the Father’s who sent Me? I tell you the truth, if I was to give you a measure of time and the events which follow, you would be a marked woman.”

Me: "Why would I be marked?"

Jesus: "Think about this. What would make you any different from a diviner or fortuneteller? People would flock to you for answers and there would be no glory to God. Remember, I do not know the time of My return as this is My Father's business.

"Did it occur to you, little wise sparrow..." He bumped me and chuckled. "...that by not giving you all the information, it forces you to always look to Me and Your Counselor for direction?"

"Here..." He pointed to the picture in the dirt. "...how would you feel having this wall between you and your enemy being one of transparency so that you can see them while you are trying to graze and mother your fawns in the meadow?"

"Erin, this would not be very peaceful. You are sheltered from these things because of My love for you. However, to understand the moves of your enemy and his patterns, sounds and things which will benefit your safety is of God."

Me: "The Holy Spirit always warns me so I am never caught off guard. Even in hindsight, the signs were there. Thank You, Lord, for this barrier of safety. Now I live in peace knowing my enemies are behind this wall."

Jesus: "Let's go back to why all of a sudden these enemies were stirred up. Give Me a pattern to mark the attacks."

Me: I thought a moment. "Of course! Right before breakthrough of any kind, these come, but the really bad attacks come just prior to the best blessings. How does the enemy know?"

Jesus: "Several ways. You have had promises by Me and in turn the enemy knows of these promises. The angels are then used to fortify your walls prior to the blessings and transitions occurring.

"The enemy then sees that the angels have been sent to protect you, but they also study you and know your history. The idea is to then give you a head blow so that you cannot focus on Me.

"They want to quickly convince you that you are out of favor and have no good fruits. They want to convince you that you should stop running your race and quit. The enemy would like to defeat you and not only defeat you, but devour you, and not just you, but your children too and not just in part, but completely.

"Instead of working separately, they converged together and worked in tandem. They were alerted to activity and advanced upon you. Last week, you were disheartened and in a weakened position and this is when the enemy attacks.

"From your weakness, your enemy advances and knows that if he can make you fearful, he is closer to victory. Without fear, it is difficult to be defeated by an opponent. Now, I sent you signs on Friday.

“First, fresh snow was sent. So what does this signify? Second, it was a sunny and bright day. Does a flame have a shadow? Third, the eagle you saw was seemingly unattainable with your camera lens. Erin, I am the eagle and you saw this three times either after or before each sign.

“Fourth, three deer were grazing in the field, yet you were busy trying to photograph the eagle and did not see that the deer were under it. This is good as I am the eagle and I am over your children.

“Fifth, the sound of the river raged next to your home. It was both comforting and ominous as it was much louder than normal. You could not see it as it was beneath the snow banks. You could hear it, but you could not see it.

“Sixth, two sparrows were fluttering about in the sun and snow, but they were too fast to be captured with your lens. However, you then noticed the ‘diamonds’ in the snow because of them. You also noticed that even though it was winter the branches and trees were all very much alive. These were not dead, but just sleeping.

“Seventh, and this was the largest and a promise, you saw a crow as large as an eagle and represented a counterfeit of Me. Your crow is a type of blacksmith and this old crow was cut down. Indeed, it had its wing clipped by an angel while mocking the eagle. The crow had flown over your property and was struck down.”

I instantly recalled the exact image of me driving by the huge crow on my way home. It was so unusual that I had actually stopped to observe it.

Jesus: “Do you remember that the crow tried to scoot away from you on its belly as you got out of your car and walked toward it? When you did this, other crows began to circle over you and scream at you and seemed to appear out of nowhere.

“There were ten crows in all and they then tried to distract you so that the large crow could flee to safety. Rather than being afraid, you instead prayed out loud in your prayer language and, because of your prayer, immediately the crows were commanded to flee in My Name.

“You then came back twenty minutes later to take photos of this mighty old crow that was the size of an eagle. The crow was hobbling up the road when it saw you and tried to hobble up a slippery slope to escape you.

You then took photos and the crow did not like this and went to hide as it was a prideful bird. The other crows continued to squabble at you, but they could do nothing because you are Mine and I command angels concerning you and your children.”

Me: “Lord, I had no idea You had given me all these signs and I just thought that the crow was interesting. My daughter was with me to witness this event and it really was truly remarkable.”

Jesus: “What happened when the Kingfisher hit your window?”

Me: "It died while my daughter and I prayed and hoped to revive it. I mourned the loss of this beautiful bird. I had no idea until my Mom's memorial that this bird, the Kingfisher, was in one of her most favorite poems read by my brother at her service. It was a sign for me, in hindsight, that you were about to call her Home."

Jesus: "Yes, but you did not know it at the time even though you knew about these other signs. Erin, there is nothing for you to do here as My protection is over you."

"When you first began your visions and dreams, a path was given to you and it was covered with fresh white snow. This signifies that your path to Heaven is pure. When the ladder appeared, the angels guarded your path with swords."

"Then the demons raged and came to attack the angels guarding you, hopefully to create fear in you so you would be hindered from coming to Me. The angel's swords created a canopy over you and a dome went over this. All of this was to shelter you from the sights, smells and sounds of the Heavenly war."

"Erin, you were allowed to see just enough to know that I protect those whom I call. Then I sent Breakthrough to take you up the ladder to Me. I commanded angels with wings, powerful ones, to guard you from the dragon on your climb."

"Each time you came, you saw hordes of demons who sought your destruction. Day after day they tried to cut you down by every method possible. However, your love for Me was greater than your fear of them and you pressed on not knowing what will come of any of this."

Me: I reached out to hug Jesus. "I am so thankful for all that You have done for me."

Jesus: "Erin, you are loved by me and have not been forgotten. Please remain alert, but also rejoice as the time of your blacksmith's commission is coming to a dramatic close. The writing is now on the wall for all of your enemies and not just one."

"Mene, Mene, Tekel, Upharsin'; he has been numbered, weighed and divided. God has numbered his kingdom, put this to an end and he has been weighed on the scales and found deficient (Daniel 5:26)."

"His kingdom will be divided and dispersed amongst his enemies as no one divides God's property and succeeds. Now you were shown a Sycamore Fig. Look at where Bethany is today. Was there not a curse put on this very spot?"

Me: "Lord, please forgive me, but are You now referring to my enemies or Israel's?"

Jesus: "The parallels are the same as you are pursued relentlessly and unprovoked attacks continue. There has been an unfair measure used against you and the crow represents what is soon to happen to those who come against those who are Mine."

He remained calm and kind. He was not angry or emotional, but in complete control.

Jesus: "Erin, this coming time is the time of wrestling. You are not wrestling with Me nor are you wrestling, but you will see a struggle against all of God's chosen children. The Sycamore Fig will be shaken and some fruit will fall.

"You have even seen the roots of the Sycamore memorialized in red over your nation so do not be surprised as events unfold. It is a time of great struggle and sides will be taken. There will be great spiritual revival at the same time as trouble and those who persevere and press through this time will have the Crown of Life eternal.

"Erin, you now wrestle not with flesh, but against unseen powers. I am here, so call out to Me in distress and I will answer. Pray for Israel and pray for this time of great shaking unlike that of any other time in history. The wall has been built to divide the two, but soon this wall will crumble."

Me: "Lord, I am afraid."

Jesus: "Do not be afraid and do not worry about the time and times to come. It is written so you understand the signs given by the prophets to know when. Please do not worry as I am before you, beside you and behind you in all you do. Remain in Me and I will remain in you. Keep your eyes open and fixed on Me as I am with you."

Me: I hugged Him. "I love You, Lord. Thank You for Your encouragement, signs, wonders, dreams, visions, provisions and great love. We are so blessed by You."

Jesus: "I have you. Do not worry as I have sent help. You will be blessed."

Dream over...

Dream 185 – Jesus, His Horse & the Boat (Ploion)

(Formerly known as Prophetic 45)

Communion

Thank You for another day and for my children, my family and my friends. I cannot thank You enough for all that You have done for me.

I just got back from Virginia where I had met with doctors about my condition. I return a bit discouraged, tired and no closer to answers, but I still cannot even thank You enough for my main doctor whom I just know was sent by You. He has been such a help and has continued to help keep my chin lifted up.

Father, I am dealing with a corrupt insurance institution which will not cover anything for my care. They have only covered or approved to cover less than a quarter of my expenses to see the doctors. They also have not approved any of the necessary tests, treatments or medicines.

Lord, please remove me from their stronghold as I am not allowed by law to walk away from the case. Quite simply, this means that I cannot be free of their affliction and now I grow tired of this all.

While I am thankful that my injury was used by You to remove us to this safe place, it is still difficult to have a 'freedom in Christ' mindset when I feel shackled by this demonic institutional stronghold. Father, I long to be healed and free and You have freed me to this lovely place, but I remain under the thumb of three of my enemies.

Tomorrow I will be taking my children to an airport outside of Boston so that they can travel a safer and shorter route. Only two of my three children have to go, so one will stay with me. Although they will only be away for eight days, it seems like an eternity.

My children are veterans in this foolish war and have been for more than ten years. Due to these battles, my children now understand the rules of engagement of this 'war' they are in. They now even understand the element of surprise, the strategy of divide and conquer and how to present a united front.

My children understand what they will be going into and fix their eyes on You, Lord, and You have made them strong, brave and wise. Most of all, I just want them to have a joyful and peaceful time there free from interrogation and attacks.

Please, Father, send an army of angels to watch over them, hold them close and bring them safely home so we can enjoy Christmas together.

I have spent the last few days searching my memory banks for times of endearment in my life. I am not talking about terms of endearment, but times, and I reminisce about a special moment preserved in my memory.

While I do not have thousands of these tiny special moments, there are still quite a few that I can recall. Most of these moments seem to occur in the spring time or early summer, but some are in the fall as well. I did this as I was trying to compile some memories that compared to my Heavenly experiences.

Most of these special memories seemed to have been when I was out walking or hiking as a child or as an adult. It could be a smell, the sun or several things, but these are small snippets that I try to hold on to even though these quickly fade.

Examples I can think of offhand are my grandma's home, Yosemite Park, the Gulf of Mexico on Marco Island in the winter months, northern Idaho after a warm rain, Lake Tahoe in the summer and sailing on my grandparents boat.

There is also the smell of coconut oil and wax for surfboarding in Santa Cruz on the beach in the summer, Pennsylvania in the fall, wood smoke, fall foliage, Boise Idaho, walking along the River Walk in San Antonio.

Hmm, I cannot forget about Easter egg hunting with my cousins in Reno, Nevada on a sunny and cold, but not too cold, crisp day with the bright sun and Easter bonnets for church. Oh yes, the smell of my newborn babies skin as I would hold them, though I am saddened that I can never get this back.

There are others too, but these are all memories now. I would love to hug my Mom one last time as I did not even savor our last hug enough to remember it clearly now. This all made me learn to hang on to the good times and cherish it while it is with me.

In a way and while living for God, we need to still live in the here and now because soon, and very soon, all will change. Father, I know Your recompense is with You and that You will soon make all things new when we are all with You.

For now though, please ease our burdens. I know by Your Words in John 16:33 that in this world we will have trouble, but please show mercy on us as we love You and we are Your children.

Jesus: "Erin, come up."

I was lying down in a massive row of white lilies and the green stalks were on either side of my head. I looked up at the underside of these bunches of lilies as the sky beyond them was a beautiful deep blue.

The sun illuminated the petals of white and gave them a pearly iridescent quality which meant I was in Heaven. Sure enough, and as I sat up, I realized that I was smack dab in a massive lily field.

I then recognized the valley surrounding me as I listened to the sound of the River of Life and the cascading stair or stepped water falls. I looked around to see if Jesus was near.

Me: "Lord, are You here?"

Just then, I saw His white horse and he nodded his head up and down and snorted while moving his foot up and down. I could tell the Lord sent His horse for me to ride. I was excited as His horse is just so beautiful.

His mane was braided and long, his tail was soft like lamb's wool and his fur was like silk. There was a beautiful silver leather saddle with tooling which was intricate in detail. The nob where I put my hand was made of sterling silver and pearl inlay and was fit for a King and so beautiful.

I was wearing a long white gown, my Romanesque sandals and my hair was in a long braid. I patted the side of the horse and I could clearly tell it wanted me to jump up on the saddle. It was exciting to think of riding a horse as it had been years.

Forgive me as I am uncertain of the correct terms, but I reached for this 'nob and put my left foot in the saddle and flung my right leg over. It was probably not very ladylike, but I was clearly acting like a child at the moment.

I went to find the reins, but I realized that the Lord's horse had no need to be steered. I giggled and held on to the nob and mane. The horse snorted and dug its hoof a few times, scraping the ground.

Me: "Go ahead and take me to our Lord and leader."

I was excited and giggled as all of a sudden the horse took off running. It was extremely comfortable and at no time did I feel I would be bucked off. I bent down closer to the horse and held its mane with my hands.

The horse took me through beautiful fields and I saw tulips of every color, rose gardens, hydrangeas, irises and heather. There were fields and fields of flowers. The temperature was about 75 degrees Fahrenheit and beautiful beyond description.

All these flowers were glorified and were similar to the earthly varieties, yet clearly Heavenly in size, fragrance, color and magnitude. I wondered if they were 'parents' to the earthly varieties we see.

We reached the edge of the valley of flowers and came to the forest as the sun warmed the pine trees and cedars. The fragrance mixed with the flower fields and I began to weep as I had never smelled anything so lovely.

The horse instinctively paused for a moment so that I could take this all in. He then proceeded to climb a beautiful trail in the forest. As we climbed, I could smell fragrances from a variety of forests I had previously hiked on Earth.

However, this was the Heavenly version and there was no comparison as it was so much better. At one point I saw a massive tree with a base of about thirty feet if cut through the middle. I looked up and the tree was easily over 750 feet high.

The horse brought me around it as the path led right through the tree base as the base of it formed an archway over the path. We looked extremely small comparatively as we walked through and I looked up and all around it.

I saw tree ring after tree ring and there were too many to count other than to say that there were thousands upon thousands of rings and it smelled wonderful.

Me: "Okay, this reminds me of when my grandparents took my brother and me to the Redwood Forest in California. However, this tree here is the largest in the universe."

It was actually quite frightening to see a tree this massive as it was truly like a giant. Now when I say frightening, I really mean awe inspiring in earthly terms as here in Heaven I felt safe.

The horse continued to lead me down this incredible path in Heaven. It had to be part of God's Garden as there were features here that would be in the most expensive of landscapes or massive botanical gardens.

Even though we were in the forest, the light streamed in from above and illuminated the path and different features just perfectly. I saw a beautiful rock wall of several slabs of stone. I did not recognize the stone, but it was translucent like onyx and looked exactly like a painting of a landscape even though it was stone. It must have been Heavenly jasper.

Upon coming closer to it, there were ridges which cascaded down to a beautiful glaciated water pool. The water ran down ridge after ridge and ended in the pool. I could not see the water source, but it appeared to be invisible.

The sound of the water flowing into the pool sounded like hollow metal and the sound amplified the water. The stone wall itself was part of the mountain and was cut from it. The stone was illuminated from the mountain or lit from within and appeared as a light source.

Me: "Wow, Lord, how did You create this? This is incredible."

The horse continued to take me on this beautiful path. The forest flowers, mossy grass, precious stones and incredible fragrances were like nothing I have ever seen on Earth and I was in complete awe. The horse led me over an embankment and I began to laugh when I saw this beautiful sight.

There before me were all of these tiered pools, with some higher and some lower. Each pool overflowed into one another and the pools were bowls carved from solid rock and unpolished marble and varied in color and size.

The largest pool was about seven feet in diameter and the smallest pool was about two feet in diameter, but there must have been easily a hundred pools in all. In several of the pools, a single fountain sprung out of the center and these looked like refreshing springs.

Me: "This is so beautiful. Can I look closer?"

The Lord's horse stopped close to the first pool. I jumped down and ran over to it and the water was light blue green and each of these stone bowls seemed to be illuminated from the stone.

I heard the crackle of branches and I saw four deer in the distance drinking from these refreshing pools. I bent over one of them to drink from it, but stopped when I saw my reflection in the surface.

I looked so healthy, vibrant and youthful and my face held the innocence of a child, yet I had knowledge beyond my years which could only come from God. I stared for some time at my reflection as I looked nothing like myself, even in my youth, on Earth.

I was beautiful in a different way here, though this is hard to understand. My beauty was from being burnished like metal scraping metal, polished bright and shining as if the blacksmith had given me luster from my pounding.

My features were perfected, but there was something else about my features in Heaven. The Lord gave me beauty based on perseverance. I realize this makes no sense, but He took my battles, my stories, my experiences, my heart breaks and disappointments, as well as my trials, and created beauty for eternity based on my time on Earth.

I am not really sure how I knew this, but I saw it. Instead of looking worn, He made me brand new as since this is Heaven there is no decay, age, pain or death. Of course, we would be in a youthful glorified state and this makes sense that our Creator would take our imperfections and perfect them here.

However, there is more to this and I did not understand it fully until just this moment. I wondered how someone who is incredibly beautiful or handsome on Earth could be made better and now I understand it.

These refreshing pools are made of stone, shaped by God into vessels and the vessels here well up and overflow. They have light within and they reflect the goodness of God in them. We are like these pools.

I reached down and disturbed the water with my finger in order to distort my reflection. I laughed as no matter what I did to the surface, my reflection in the pool remained and I could not change it.

I drank water from the pool and it was the purest of anything on Earth. I knew that the River of Life must feed these springs as surely as all things originate from God's Throne.

I turned to climb back up on the horse and, just as I settled into the saddle, hundreds of song birds descended from the trees into the pools. I saw starlings, waxwings, sparrows, robins, bluebirds, finches and love birds and every earthly variety glorified.

I laughed as clearly they were all playing, singing, chirping and delighting in this place. The birds were also visibly glorified and the colors were incredible. On Earth, God gives them camouflage to allow them to blend into the scenery and protect them from predators.

However, here there are no predators and the birds were not jumpy and afraid, but rather extremely relaxed, joyful and social. The songs they made were beautiful and caused tears to run down my cheeks as we rode off down the path.

After some time, we came to the shore of a mountain lake and there was lush greenery and trees surrounding this small inlet. Right in front of me was a beautiful tree with fruit and I felt like trying one. The horse instinctively knew this and walked up beneath the tree. All of the fruit were out of reach, even on the Lord's horse.

Me: Laughing. "Okay, Lord, I know You are near. I feel this is a test to see if I had learned anything from last time."

I picked out a fruit I thought I would like to try, kept my eyes open and stretched out my arm and opened my hand to receive the fruit.

Me: While looking at the fruit. "In Jesus' Name, I receive."

I saw the fruit move back and forth, but it did not drop.

Me: Laughing. "I get it. I did not fully believe it might drop."

Me: I repented for my unbelief. "In Jesus' Name, I believe."

The fruit dropped instantly into my hand and I laughed. I put out my other hand and repeated this.

Me: "In Jesus' Name, I believe."

The other fruit dropped instantly and I was delighted. I jumped down from the horse and smiled as I thought, 'hmm, my high horse after this.' I reached over and fed the horse a beautiful fruit as I ate the other.

After we were finished, I walked to the shore of the lake with the horse. As we walked closer, I saw a small wooden sailboat. The boat was handcrafted and one of the prettiest wooden boats I had ever seen. It was made of at least four different wood varieties.

There were stripes of what looked like natural cherry, purple-heart and deep mahogany and dark walnut. The sides of the boat were made of braided wood. The sail itself was made of a high grade white linen canvas. I laughed when I saw the small silver embroidery of a sparrow in the sail.

On the side of the wooden boat written in script it said, 'Sparrows Ploion'. I laughed as I am not much of a boat person, especially sailboats, as they take knowledge about currents, wind speed and maneuvering that I have no ideas about. This made me smile as I turned back to the horse.

Me: "Should I go into the boat? I think I will sit and wait for the Lord first."

I sat down on the sandy shore and waited a few minutes. To pass the time, I skipped a few perfect stones on top of the water. The most skips I could achieve were five, even with perfect conditions under Heaven.

I then sat back down. In a few short minutes, I felt the Lord's horse nudge my back. At first I went to pet its nose, then the horse became more aggressive in pushing me. I finally got up off of my derriere and looked eye to eye at the horse.

Me: "Okay, where is the Lord?"

The horse nudged me again so hard that I went into the lake. Of course this did not hurt, but was completely playful.

Me: "Hey, what is happening here? Do you need to repent?"

I looked at the horse and I laughed so hard. By the looks of the horse, I could read its thoughts: 'Seriously? I take you all this way to show you this boat the Lord has given to you, the least you could do is get in the boat.'

I laughed and repeated what I thought it was saying. I could tell it was pleased and confirmed it.

Me: "Hey, can you speak if you want to up here?"

The horse nodded, but was still not talking.

Me: Laughing. "Okay, I will not badger you and I will walk out to the boat."

I turned, lifted my gown and waded out to the boat as the water was quite shallow. I smiled and remembered that the linen up here does not really get wet, so I dropped the hem into the water.

The boat was in only two feet of water and the bottom of the lake was soft sand, so my feet were not walking on stones. I climbed into the boat and sat there for a while, waiting for the wind to catch the sail.

I quickly noticed that there were no steering mechanisms, so I was completely at the mercy of the wind and sails. I looked back at the Lord's white horse on the shore and the horse took off.

Me: "Hmm, there goes my ride. Lord, where are You?"

I waited a while longer as I was clearly at the mercy of the Lord here. I looked around me and the surroundings took my breath away as I was in a beautiful alpine area. These massive mountains dropped with steep inclines into this mountain lake.

The water was light blue green like glaciated water, but not freezing cold. The water was cool, but comfortable even for swimming. The lake was shallow and I could see the bottom of it. There was soft white sand everywhere.

I could see beautiful fish like rainbow trout in the water. However, these rainbow trout were massive and their rainbow silvery scales created a beautiful scene below the boat. The water from below was clear and illuminated from the ground below.

It seems that even solid rock is illuminated from the ground here and I had never noticed this before. With no way to steer and no apparent destination, I decided to take a nap. The sun was warm and the hull of the boat was like a hammock.

I am uncertain if I was now either in a dream state or it was real, but I awoke from the boat nap to the sound of thunder in a cloud over me. I sat up and looked around and the skies had turned dark and ominous. This no longer seemed like a Heavenly place.

I could not see how far from shore I was and I had no oars and no rudder. I cried out to the Lord when the waves became high as I knew that eventually either the waves or the lightning would overcome the little wooden boat.

Just then over the water I saw the Lord and He was on the water walking toward me. I stayed in the boat as He walked further toward me and motioned for me to walk to Him. If I were to be like Peter as an example, then I would fail and fall, so I just stayed where I was and did not step out.

Suddenly I awoke out of my nap and realized that I had drifted asleep and this was a dream. I started to cry as I sat in the boat as I realized that, even with all the Lord has done and with all He continues to do, I was still afraid to walk out on the water toward Him.

Me: Crying. "Lord, you selected the wrong person for all of this. Why did I not at least get out of the boat and try?"

I saw the boat begin to turn away from the distant sandy shore across the lake. I decided I wanted to get to shore, so I paddled with my hand, but no matter how hard I tried, I could not steer the boat to shore.

I finally gave up when the boat went back out toward the middle of the lake. I sunk down and lay back down in the hull. Tears streamed down my cheeks.

Me: "How can I be this far, Lord, and still be flippant with my faith. Did I think myself prideful about calling down the fruit?"

Just then, I looked up into the blue sky and saw the Lord's face looking down on me. He was smiling and chuckling.

Jesus: "What are you doing down in the boat? I think you are pouting. Oh no, Erin, not you."

Me: My tears turned to laughter. "Yes, Lord, I was pouting as there was nothing I could do. First I was at the mercy of Your horse, then Your boat and then the storm."

Jesus: "Have you listened to what you are saying? Perhaps being in the mercy of yourself is better? If the horse had a bit and reins, where would you go? If you could sail your boat, where would it go? There was no storm here in this place. Dreams instruct you or point out something."

He was smiling as He helped me exit the boat.

Me: "Hey, we are on the shore, but..."

Jesus: "Erin, you worry about many things, but you must give Me your burdens. Now tell Me what is happening."

He sat down on the sand and motioned for me to sit with Him.

Me: "Lord, the storm dream was to instruct me or make me aware that I am confining myself to this boat. It bothered me that I would not walk on water to You or even get out of the boat to try knowing that You would not let me drown. I fought against You this whole trip."

Jesus: "Yes, but here is the good news. You rode a horse whom you could not lead. You jumped up on it because you knew it was Mine. There are many who would never get up on a horse with no bit or reins, this I know.

"Now you let the horse take you on a journey by My leading. I was not visibly present, but I was there directing events. You had no idea where you were going, but you enjoyed the ride and the wait for answers.

"You had patience because the scenery was beautiful and you had things to occupy your thoughts. You discovered things about yourself during the pools which made you have joy.

"You had a deeper understanding of who you are to Me. I love you below the surface. Your vessel and what this contains reflects My light, which is the flame in you. Here you lack nothing, but gain everything, with Me.

"Now, as the journey continued, you were able to apply what you learned from Me about the fruit and faith. This was excellent. However, when you saw the small wooden boat with the sail, you decided to sit and wait.

“As your journey continued, you became less sure of Who I am in My ability to save. Now the horse can speak if given words and it communicated for you to move into the boat, yet you were content waiting but also were becoming bored at your status quo.

“The horse pushed you literally into the water to move you into the boat. Once you were in the boat, you realized there was no steering mechanism.

“This meant either I am cruel and want to see you dashed senselessly at the base of this inclined mountain in the lake or capsized in the middle or just aimlessly drifting in the lake for hours, days or weeks. Or maybe I wanted to guide you to a peaceful shore. What do you think?”

Me: “You are right, Lord, I was not enjoying the ride in the boat as much. I felt stranded and at the mercy of the boat and conditions. I did not want to swim as these fish are massive. I was tired of waiting so I went to sleep.”

Jesus: Laughing. “So, My Bride took a nap?”

Shock went over my face as I realized that was exactly what I did.

Me: “Oh no! So You allowed the dream I had to show I just stayed in the boat and did not even get out on the water to attempt to walk. Please forgive me, Lord.”

Jesus: “Erin, you are forgiven. I met you where you were and I would not leave you.”

Me: “Lord, I have learned to wait on You as it is the right thing to do, but it is the hardest thing to do sometimes. I am so sorry.”

Jesus: “Erin, the light shines in the darkness and the darkness has not overcome it (John 1:5). This is the season of advent and is a time of intentional waiting. Advent means a time is coming. You are anticipating the time of My coming and, at the very least, a fulfillment of the prophecy of the promises I have given you.

“The boat here was a more difficult trial than the other times. I showed you this so you could gauge just where you are. Now it is more difficult with your body not allowing your brain to fully steer it. Your fingers do not cooperate and your neck the last few days has pain unlike before. Your head hurts and you feel like lying down.

“You are feeling discouraged at your current trial. I understand this, but remember that I told you that it always becomes darkest just before the dawn. Allow Me to carry you as you took the difficult detour on your race.

“At times you will think I have left you to your own devices or understanding, but I have not. You can read about how discouraged the disciples were when they thought I had died on the Cross and left them, yet I did not.

“Instead, and through My death and resurrection, I carried the keys to life and death. Now, the good news is that your time is coming soon, but you will need to pray also for those in darkness.

"I am requiring only that you allow Me to take you and I will carry you. The Jewish people do not see Who I am as 'the people who walked in darkness have seen a great light; those who dwelt in a land of deep darkness, on them had light shown.' (Isaiah 9:2).

"Trouble is soon to come to Israel. Please pray that hearts turn to Me and see Me. Her enemies are soon to be a multitude against her. It is the time of true 'Teshuvah'."

Me: "Lord, You reminded me about Joseph in Genesis 45:5 and this reminded me that You are like Joseph. They wanted You destroyed, but instead You turned and saved them from death."

Jesus: "There are many signs in the Word which point them to Me, yet very few find Me. Yet no matter what, I will call out to those in weakness. God, My Father, prepares the way. It seems impossible, but not for Me.

"This is why dreams and visions come about. While asleep, I can call you and the God of all Creation can minister, prophesy, instruct and warn."

Me: "Yes, I saw in Genesis 46:2-4 that You are always there for me."

Jesus: "One day you will be here in the lilies and dance in the fields. I have promised to send help from the sanctuary while you remain here. Trouble comes to you because of who you are in Me, not because of who you are individually.

"Now you must trust Me even when you seem to be in the dark or when you have no hope. Persevere and hang on just a little longer. Do not fall asleep in the boat. Though I linger, wait on Me."

Me: "Is this the same as tarry?"

Jesus: Smiling. "Yes, it seems as if I am not here with you, but I have never left you. The last trump is soon to come and everyone will be in awe. Media will sway events as even Christians are turning from the Jewish people.

"Soon the world will turn based on false facts, false measures and false weights. The scales will be against her. I showed you horses riding and a great cloud and you saw scrolls being passed. This time is close at hand as in Ezekiel 38:15-16.

"There is a plan to wipe out the Jewish people. Darkness and destruction come before a time of rebuilding. There will also be attacks from three areas to the west of Israel and from the sea. Remember there are ten princes."

Me: "Lord, You have never been this direct before."

Jesus: "I am sending comfort to you, so now allow Me to carry you. Light shines in the darkness and the darkness has not overcome it."

Me: Hugging Him. "I love You, Lord, 'for the king trusts in the Lord, through the unfailing love of the Most High he will not be shaken' (Psalm 21:7). 'For I will trust in you Lord; though the Earth quakes and the mountains fall into the heart of the sea, God is within me and I will not fall. God will help me at the break of day' (Psalm 46:2 and 46:5).

"Lord, I know You love me and I am sorry that my pain and physical condition has kept me discouraged. You have always been faithful and I just know that my children will come home safely as You have promised. You have also promised to prosper, not to harm me. To me, this means healing, so I thank You."

Jesus: He reached over to look at me. "You will soon be amazed as your time is soon to come. Though it seems that I tarry, I do not, so keep watching. Keep your eyes fixed on Me and no sleeping. Eyes wide open, Erin, remember?"

He smiled with love and kindness.

Me: "Yes, Lord. I will remain alert and try not to be discouraged or fall asleep. When I feel You are not there, I then know You are and even right at the door. Thank You for this lesson in perseverance and faith.

Clearly, I lack faith, so please help me by granting me signs that You are near. I know You do not like tests, but please think of it like You are sending Your Bride a note or bouquet of flowers in advance."

Jesus: Laughing. "Very well, then it is done as you delight Me."

Dream 186 – Jesus, Snowflakes and the Bride

Received Friday, December 25, 2015

(Formerly known as Prophetic 46)

I was up at 2:00am and there was a full moon out.

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day. Thank You for sending Jesus, God in flesh, to deliver us. Thank You more than anything else for the divine relationship of Your love for Your Bride. You, Father, sent Jesus to pursue our hearts. Your love for my heart is so immense and profound that I am forever changed and so grateful.

Thank You for the Word, Your story, history, which guides the race I run. The Holy Spirit in me is the flame in my very soul, my best friend and close companion. Oh Father, thank You for the gifts of love You have showered us with. There is nothing like the divinely perfect love of our Father, our Creator and our best friend.

I would not trade a single minute of time walking with You, but I would be willing to share with my friends and loved ones. This has been a year of loss, but also of gain. Besides times of loss, there were incredible miracles and signs to reassure me that You are still here and working.

You have taught me that I am to enjoy what You continue to reveal in Your timing, although I am not a patient writer. You have taught me to be gracious, kind and loving in situations which require me to remove my 'self' and insert You.

I must smile and shake my head because clearly I still have not blossomed fully in grace, love and kindness. Father, please use this next year as a time of signs, wonders, miracles and supernatural revelation for all of us.

Let us all shine brightly with the flame constantly burning in our lamps. Let us also blaze with such a light of Christ that no darkness can stand against us. Let those who suffer and endure see that You are here and close at hand to deliver.

Each year, we look upon this time, 'Christ'-mas time, with great promise and enduring hope for Jesus to come and deliver us Home.

Jesus: "Erin, come up."

I was up in God's Garden at His glass conservatory as the snow was gently falling. Each snowflake was fascinating as each one held its shape long enough for me to enjoy the amazing designs.

Each snowflake is uniquely different here and much larger than on Earth. Snowflakes here are about an inch in diameter and each one appears to be illuminated. The flakes meet the snow on the ground and meld into each other, forming snow of white with a slight illumination of blues and purples.

As I spun around and opened my mouth to catch a few snowflakes, they tasted cool and sweet. I was not cold, but it was perfectly cool. I looked around and saw children peeking at me through the glass and they giggled, smiled and waved at me.

Tears streamed down my eyes as I know they dwell in Heaven so they would not grieve, hurt or worry for their families, but I do. I see how beautiful Heaven is, how completely amazing God is and how kind Jesus is and I hurt because not many care to know until it is too late.

It breaks my heart to see these children, many of whom grew up not knowing or even hating Jesus, and I cannot help but cry. I stood looking at these kids and many of them were from cultures on Earth void of our Savior.

However, here in Heaven, I could see such love and thankfulness in their eyes even as one of these children waved to me from inside. As I came to the front of the glass building, I looked north towards the trees in God's Garden of trees.

Every branch and every part was lit and I saw white, blues, purples and greens and shades that I had not even a name for as I walked along this path. As the 'illuminated' snow was falling, the lights were even more beautiful than usual. Tears streamed down my cheeks at the magnitude of the beauty.

Thank You, Father, thank You for this. I then heard a choir behind me and to the right. There were angels standing in the snow with massive wings. The light surrounding these angels was bright, clear and crisp as if God was highlighting them straight from His Throne.

The angels were singing 'A Holy Night' and I recognized the choir as being the choir from God's Throne Room. As they sang in layers, no stringed instruments were necessary and I cried with joy even as I write.

I can hear their voices, but I cannot form the words to describe this as there is no choir on Earth like God's choir of angels. These angels were dressed in shining robes of white with a shimmer of raiment like iridescence.

The feathers of their wings were real and white. It looked so real, it would be impossible to recreate a substitute, even from special computer effects. With each breath the singing angels took, the wings moved with them and were a part of them.

I was reflecting on how much I loved this song when I felt a tug on my robe. I turned around and there before me was a beautiful little girl in a gown of white.

This little girl had dark hair with curls, blue eyes and olive skin. She appeared to be around three years old and when she smiled at me, she melted my heart.

Me: "Hello, I am Erin."

I bent down to shake her hand. Instead she put her arms in the air for me to lift her up and give her a hug. It brought tears to my eyes as I remember that my daughter just ten years ago would do the same. The little girl put her arms around my neck.

Girl: "Hi, Erin, my name is Ramey. Please come inside to see what we have."

She pointed to the glass door arched with cut crystal panels. I went to open it and it opened automatically when I approached. I entered in and, just as I did, God's children's symphony and choir sang something from when I was a child, 'Little Drummer Boy'.

There was a group of drummers from what looked like ages three to fourteen. The singing and the musical instruments were the most beautiful I had ever heard. I sat down and wept and little Ramey wiped my tears.

Other children gathered around me and placed their hands on my head, shoulders, back and arms and started praying for me. Ramey then put her hand over my heart and I heard her call 'Hayah'.

Their hands were all warm and I felt something in my body like warm rushes. Just then, I heard whispering, giggles and one of the children say, 'He's coming.'

I looked up and there was Jesus. I had the biggest grin come on my face as I saw the children laughing and running up to Him for hugs.

Jesus: "I thought you could use some cheering up, Erin, as Ramey said your heart was hurting."

Me: "Lord, Christmas is a time to reflect back to happier times and I still have not caught up to the present. Time passed too quickly and I missed things that I can no longer get back. My memories are fading and it is so beautiful here in Heaven with You.

"I just wish I could give this slice to my children, family and friends. How could God be so good and still desire anything of us? I mean, how can He love us enough to have sent You down to Earth as a baby? I am so thankful, so very thankful.

"I am forever changed by You, Lord, as You are the greatest gift in all of Creation. Please forgive me at times if I fail to always recognize You in my daily routine."

Jesus: "Erin, I meet you where you are, so do not worry as You are a gift to Me. When you come to Me as you are, not in perfection, but just as you are, it makes My heart glad. At times, you have felt like running from Me, but instead you stay. Why?"

I could tell He already knew the answer.

Me: "Lord, it is because when the world gives up on me You never give up on me. Even when I want to give up, You are there to greet me. I am scared at times recently and, having no parents now, I now realize I need You more than ever.

"I no longer have a mom to call on to help me with recipes while cooking or listen as I voice my concerns over my children. I fully understand that I have no ability to do this on Earth anymore with her and she is no longer a constant force in my life.

"I still have my children, family and friends, but just not a parent and it hurts. Then with two of my children traveling at a busy time, I worry and just want them here with me."

Jesus: "I understand and even Ramey felt your broken heart."

He reached over and put His hand on my hand and placed it over my heart.

Jesus: "I promise you I will heal the broken hearted and that your time of wrestling against flesh and blood will soon be over. I assure you that you will see angels of God ascending and descending from open Heavens by the Son of Man."

Me: "I do not understand, Lord."

Jesus: "You will see great things and even greater still will be the gifts bestowed on My Bride prior to the coming of the Groom. You consider Me a great gift because I gave My life for yours, but I will also show you My love for you while you wait for Me. These will remind you that you are betrothed to Me and I come back for what is Mine."

He smiled and pointed to me. I smiled as my lips started to quiver.

Me: "Thank You..." I was having a hard time catching my breath. "...You are my greatest gift, Lord, and Your gift continues always."

Ramey reached over to touch my heart as she laughed and giggled.

Ramey: "She is healing. Her heart is healing."

I smiled and laughed.

Jesus: "Erin, My gifts have not stopped and I pledge My love for you. Even though this is a time of separation, you must know and remember My love for you. The Counselor will remind you that I think of you always and I will come to receive you soon.

“Now, keep your heart ablaze with the flame of love for Me. My gifts will come upon you and you will shine brightly. You were told this before, but I will give you this gift of reassurance. My recompense will be complete when I return.”

Me: “Lord, this seems like I will not see You again until You come back. Please do not leave.”

Jesus: “There is much to do, but you will not be alone as I will send messengers ahead.”

Me: “Do not leave. Are my dreams and visions over?”

Jesus: “Where is this written? No, Erin, there are mysteries still to come to be delivered by God on the Throne and guided by the angels of Heaven at His command. At times I will still see you, so do not worry.”

Me: Smiling. “It seems like I should find a manual on Jewish wedding traditions again. I see a pattern.”

Jesus: “One of the greatest and most mysterious Books in the Word is the Song of Solomon. So few read it, yet there in the very heart of its contents are the miracles of the love of God for His Bride.

“Have I not chased after you? Have I not captured the heart of you, the difficult and unattainable Bride? Do I not show you good fruit to eat and speak even of your fragrance like a flower?”

Me: Crying. “I am not worthy of this love.”

Jesus: “Who is if God does not declare it? What heart is worthy? My ways are not your ways.”

Me: “Thank You for this as You know I am a stained Bride.”

Jesus: “No, Erin, you are made white as snow, are here in Heavenly places and in God’s Garden. You listen to the choir of angels and dance in the snow. You are precious in My sight.”

He smiled as He put my hand over His heart. I began to weep and then laughed.

Me: “Lord, I will chase You.”

Jesus: Laughing. “Then you will be caught up by Me. Do not worry as I too will chase you. We will then spend an eternity together as your heart is your gift to Me and I am faithful.”

Me: “I love You, Lord.”

There were children all around us listening and two children were sitting on Jesus’ leg. Others gathered around Him as He spoke to me. Ramey was sitting on my lap and she was cheering.

One little girl had her arms wrapped around my neck and shoulder so they all listened intently to our conversation as the choir of angels sang "Silent Night" outside. I was in tears as all of this was so beautiful.

Jesus: "I love you too."

Dream 187 – Uriel & Spiritual House Cleaning

Received Thursday, January 7, 2016

(Formerly known as Prophetic 47)

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day, another week, another month and another year. Based on the circumstances of these end-times, perhaps I might someday soon even be thankful for even being granted one more hour, minute or even second.

Thank You for my children and family and for my dear friends. God, when I listen to the news, I stand in awe at the nearness of the hour as so many prophecies are being illuminated right in the very times we are in.

As these days seem to count down to your imminent return, I see an increase in your miracles and supernatural displays and even my dreams are becoming more and more vivid.

In this season, You have shown me when spiritual warfare is nearby by giving me certain smells. For example, I will smell something like dust and cigarette smoke or even like gun powder. Since no one near us smokes nor do I have dust around us, I know this is a sign for me to pray immediately.

After prayer and worship, the smells turn into a fragrance of various types. Sometimes I will even smell some combination of roses, lilacs, jasmine, cinnamon or nutmeg. Other times I will smell wood smoke or barbecue when I know there should be none.

Sometimes I will have a fragrance from my past which triggers a former joyful event or time of peace. Regardless, and each time I experience these smells, I now know that these must be released when there is fighting in the spirit realm.

My 'length of time smell meter' seems to detect a pattern in which I have noticed that the fragrances from angels and victory smell far greater in a pleasant way and linger much longer than the enemy's 'smells'. Thank You, Father, for working through all of our senses to communicate Your plans of victory over the enemy.

Lord, thank You once again for delivering my children safely home. Father, I love You so much and I have no words to adequately tell You, so let my actions reveal my love.

Jesus: "Erin, come up."

I found myself walking on a distant ridge overlooking God's beautiful valley. I know this because I looked across to the other ridge and saw the bench in the distance. I was roughly south or to the north and west of the other area.

I could not tell if the sun was setting or rising, so I waited a moment to see if I could tell, but still could not. However, it did not seem like morning based on conditions I saw in the valley below.

I decided to sit down on a large boulder next to a small rock with a hole in it. As I stared at the 'holey' smaller rock for a few seconds, I suddenly became thirsty.

Me: Smiling. "Hmm, it sure would be nice if water would come out of this rock."

I looked at the rock and waited, but nothing happened.

Me: Smiling, but talking louder. "Hmm, this clearly looks like a rock in which water for drinking should come out. Lord, I am thirsty. Can I have some water come out of this rock?"

Nothing happened, so I laughed and got off of the rock I was sitting on and walked over to the smaller rock with the hole. I decided to look into the hole and command the water to loosen and spring forth in Jesus' Name.

Okay, I obviously did not think this through as the water burst up into my face. I laughed as I drank the water and it was cool, refreshing and pure.

I turned and wiped the water off of my face with my gown and realized that this was yet another lesson in faith. I crawled up back up on the larger boulder and looked over the peaceful valley. I then noticed that the sun had moved closer to the horizon.

Me: "Oh, it is sunset."

I was northwest of my previous location and saw the valley from a different perspective here. Seeing the beauty of God's valley from this position gave me a fuller perspective as there were different dimensions of it from this angle.

I could see the River of Life clearly as I was now almost directly over it. The beautiful colored gemstones reflected such a fullness of color that it looked as if I were gazing directly into a treasure chest.

In the distance and to the southwest of the River of Life, I could see massive hills of vineyards. I could see the multicolored grapes reflecting the setting sun and they were stunning and unlike anything on Earth.

I looked down and to my left and I saw sheep grazing in the meadows. These sheep did not look at all worried or hurried and they grazed at their own pace. I looked for the Lord. Uriel came up to me and I was glad to see him. He smiled and did not seem concerned that I was lingering here to look over the valley.

Uriel: Pointing to the setting sun. "He is not here. The hour is late. Erin, God requests your presence."

Me: "Uriel, there is something wrong right now as I am struggling to perform simple daily tasks as I have such pain. In the last month, I have had disturbed sleep and trouble focusing. Am I out of God's favor?"

Uriel: "You are not out of God's favor. You experience these things because you are unable to see beyond the veil of that which is visible."

Me: "Why can I not see beyond the veil?"

Uriel: "Greater is He Who is in you than he who is in the world, so do not be afraid. However, Erin, there is a chink in your armor, a breach in your Heavenly wall and a free access door."

Me: "Oh no, what now?"

Uriel: "These things are common to man and easily mistaken as harmless and there is a root. You have an enemy and enemies, so now is the time to consecrate yourself, your children and your house."

Me: "But my house serves the Lord, Jesus."

Uriel: "Yes, this is true, but assess that which disturbs you. Cut down anything defiling your body, the Temple of the Holy Spirit or the very home you have dedicated to God for His purposes. Clean up that which is offered up to God so that He is pleased."

Me: "I am frustrated as I just removed all the clutter. I just finally did this a few months ago. How did this happen?"

Uriel: "You are not being condemned as this is following the seasons of gifts from foreigners and these were brought into your home. All you need to do is remove these, repent and rededicate your home, then sanctify yourselves."

Me: "Why did the Holy Spirit not reveal these items?"

I paused as I remembered certain things. I then thought about my children and that I did not review what they received from family and friends. As I spoke, I realized that the Holy Spirit did show me these things and I became distraught.

Me: "Forgive me. I had better clean things up again."

Uriel: "This is wisdom, but do not be afraid as you have entered into God's Kingdom with problems and questions. Take a look around your house and remove that which seems contrary to God's grace and will in your life."

“Erin, repent and remove unclean spirits and consecrate your home. Then offer that which is holy and pleasing to the Lord and this will please Him greatly.”

Me: “Please forgive me.”

Uriel: “Remember that I am only a messenger and that I do not offer salvation through me as this is the Lord's alone. You are not to apologize to angels or thank them as we are sent by God and serve Him only at His command. You by your actions can restore peace and remove unwanted visitors.”

Me: “Then before going before God our Father I would like to hunt down these unclean artifacts and remove them. I will then bind any spirits attached to them as unholy and cleanse our home again. I want to be more like you, Uriel, as you have set yourself as an angel apart from the world to God and His service.”

Uriel: "I am apart from the world and I serve God directly by His design, but you have the choice to serve man or serve God. You are appointed and of a select class of people, but you must agree to the terms and conditions of His contract.

“You have been called and offered to be a part of this class, but you have the freedom to participate in it. This means full compliance to His conditions of the call even unto death.

“Erin, you have enrolled into this class by the grace of God as offered through Jesus. You have entered the race as the Bride and you are running the race for the ‘prize’.”

Another angel joined and presented Uriel with a long scroll that looked like a legal contract.

Me: “I understand now. You are putting this in covenant terms since a covenant is a contract. God has called me for a special purpose from the beginning. It is my job to turn from the world and its wicked ways and accept God's offer of eternal salvation.

“I accepted Jesus into my heart and became set apart as a Bride of Christ and a runner in the race. The Will of God is my sanctification as I heard His voice and entered into His presence as His Bride.

“When I give myself over for His purposes, His Will, I consecrate myself by giving my entire self to Him by surrender. I surrender all to Him and offer myself fully and do not go off and do my own things separately thereby running my own race on a separate track outside of His will.

“After we are accepted into His race, we take the necessary steps to ensure that we are prepared to run a good race with God as our head and sanctified by the blood of Jesus. We take the necessary steps to ready ourselves, which means I remove that which is unholy, worldly and unhealthy and cast it aside.

“By removing these yokes of affliction and dropping them, I can then run free and light. Now this must be the part which I am fully surrendering myself to God's Will on His race, whereby I must only and fully rely on Him to lead me Home.

"This added detour was presented to me as a fork in the road wherein I had two choices. I could finish completely and still honor God or I could go into a deeper relationship with Him still. Now I took the detour, but I see I have ruined my course."

I was worried and moping as I had thought I had made a poor decision.

Uriel: "No, you have been shown the answers to the problems you seek and some never ask. Because you have agreed to God's terms in His Word, you must follow His requirements."

"As in Hebrews 10, 1 Peter 1:3-6 and 1st Thessalonians 4:3, you are set apart. You are responsible for how you choose to run or walk. God's desire is that you run with Him and be both physically and mentally fit."

Me: "But unless He heals me, how can I be physically fit?"

Uriel: Pointing to some script on the contract. "Erin, you present yourself to God as you are and the best you can be. If there be any sin, lay it down, remove it and repent."

"You have pain and limitations, but this is not what God requires for you to be perfect mentally and physically. Now I should add that you remove anything you hold against God."

Me: "I love our Father in Heaven and I love Jesus, so what can I be holding against God?"

Just then I had a download of the ten years of journals I have kept. These journals are writings of long suffering and agonizing pleas to God for help.

Me: "Uriel, these are journals which track how far I have come on my journey, but they are truly writings from an immature Christian mindset as I was enduring struggle after struggle."

"I now realize most of it was complaining or ranting, but I do not feel the same way now. God has revealed Himself in ways I thought were only possible for other holy people, but not me."

Uriel: "Erin, if you sat with God and spoke your feelings from those journals to God, how would He or you feel?"

Me: As I thought for a while, I began to cry. "I was at my limit as what had happened to us had happened. I came to Him in Spirit and in truth and I did not hold back."

Uriel: "Yes, but not in all of these writings. Erin, reread a few of your earlier journals and see if you are speaking about God Who calls you friend."

I went to look at a few of my old journals and quickly saw exactly what he was referring to. There were rambling letters trying to say the same thing over and over to conjure up a good result from God. I went back to speak with Uriel about what I had found.

Me: "Oh, Uriel, I do not like what I saw as I was clearly not hearing from the Lord ten to eleven years ago.

Uriel: Smiling. "Sometimes you did, only you did not like what was being said to you as it required sacrifice. Eventually you ran after God until He caught you. If there be anything unbecoming a loving Bride, then it is best to remove it so as not to hurt the heart of your Groom, understand?"

"You have now presented yourself to God for His inspection (Psalm 139:23-24). You sanctify yourself, your household and children, finding items which offend the Lord (Joshua 7:21). Remove and destroy those items which defile you and your house (James 4:17).

"Take this seriously and remain wise and do not think yourself higher than you are lest you fall. Remove the enemy and break your ties, in Jesus' Name. Repeat this for each offense or item. Consecrate your life and property to God's glory. Anoint yourself and your house with oil."

Me: "At this point I should know better as it seems I have to do this every year and sometimes every six months. Why would I be so foolish?"

Uriel: "Erin, this is common to man so do not be distraught and worried about where you are. Just act immediately, swiftly closing open doors, removing breeches and continue on your course and the race God has for you.

"Look at the Jewish practice of removing leaven. During the searching for and destroying of leaven, ten pieces of bread are hidden in the house and searched out. The ten pieces are a reminder of the ten plagues. When all are found they are removed from the home, destroyed, and then the house is clean."

I then took a break for a few days in order to pray and search for our trouble. Some I was aware of and was revealed, but some were hidden in plain sight and some I had no idea were in our home.

We gathered up the items and destroyed all of them. We removed, repented, broke the legal ties and rights of these unclean spirits and then blessed our home. I was amazed at my teenagers as they gave up things and all I can say is this was God.

I was in shock and awe over this as this was truly a miracle. Sadly, I found new items newly introduced in the last thirty days to my children which were the root cause of trouble. After cleansing the house again, I then went back to the dream and Uriel.

Me: "Okay, Uriel, I pray that I removed all of the offensive items. I feel lighter and I can sleep better. My kids have a better sleep and I feel the atmosphere changed for the better. Why was I able to hear clearly sometimes over the last month, but not always?"

Uriel: "You were given clarity on that which God willed and your ministry and writing was of Him and protected. Consider this like radio signals wherein sometimes reception is perfect and other times it is mildly static.

“Other times you cannot understand what you are hearing at all as there is no station. The Holy Spirit is your transmitter to God and, if you clear out the bad interference, then you can hear clearly.

“You felt the effects of these unclean items because what was attached to them was coming from bad airwaves governed by the prince of this region versus the Creator of the Universe. You received the signals from a different channel and it disturbed you greatly.

“You acted swiftly and now this is over. Now this is a gift given like refreshing water to a thirsty race runner so be encouraged. Now anoint your home as you are loved and do not worry or be afraid.

“Now, God requests your presence, so finish doing this and come back. Present yourself to God as you will delight Him with your offering.”

Dream over...

I had each child go to their rooms again for an even more thorough spiritual cleaning. We wrote down all the items they had removed. I had them pray for the Holy Spirit to reveal any other items they felt were hindrances to their daily walk. I had them ask God for forgiveness for any offense they believed they committed.

I did the same thing in my room. We removed any final items and then we took anointing oil and sealed off all of the points of entry where the enemy could enter. This included all of the doors, windows, plumbing, vents, the fireplace, computers, phones and internet and on and on

Then we blessed our car and any other form of transportation, as well as our pets. I blessed the children's pillows, above their beds, their technology and their very heads. It took about two hours of our time to clean up the battlefield and offer things back up to God.

Once I took these final steps, I was able to sleep soundly and with more comfort. My son, who had given up the most surprising source of his trouble, hugged me and told me he loved me. For the first time in quite a while, I felt it was out of complete love and not from the result of manipulation or angry rebellion.

Each child seemed happy, but there is one note of interest. After my eldest child removed a game he had recently acquired, we had an encounter over it and I felt 'something' leave the corner of his room. As I turned to leave, I asked if there was anything else as I felt the Holy Spirit stop me.

He replied, 'Just this one, but I have had it for some time.' I had him show me and the game appeared to be 'good' fighting against the demonic, but I noticed that every screen had a pentagram on it.

I told him that there was no need for the game to continue to show it unless there was some other reason. It was being implanted into the user's brain as the 'go to symbol'. We argued and I told him I wanted it gone, but first I had to run upstairs.

I prayed that God would show me immediately what was coming against us and instantly a houseplant moved in the corner as if something was in it. The plant was right above his computer from the basement.

I ran down stairs and told my son what happened. After hearing this and without hesitation, he deleted the game. We prayed and repented, renounced the spirit, opened the window and drove it out, thereby breaking the tie or stronghold attached.

As I went upstairs, we agreed that we had immediately felt the heaviness lift out of the area. We then did a complete sweep of anything else like this, as well as any music.

I even felt a call to also anoint the mirrors in our house. I found over the years that mirrors were used as a weapon by the blacksmith against me. I judge myself harshly in a mirror and it is not Godly to do so as we are called by Jesus to, above all other commands, love God with all of our heart, soul and mind.

The second command also fits in with this as we are to love our neighbors as we do ourselves. Well, herein lays a problem. If I am not happy with how I see myself through a mirror, how am I with others? Do I curse myself? Well, at times, I do.

Therefore, I anointed the mirrors so that each of us saw ourselves as God Himself lovingly sees us. I felt this was a generational curse put upon the women in my family from generations back and it was important to take down this demonic stronghold of shame.

I now felt content and ready to continue with my dreams. Now that this was all completed, I felt that I was ready to go back with confidence to 'visit Heavenly places' again. I smiled as I prayed that the Lord found this all pleasing to Him as well.

Dream 188 – Uriel, Spiritual War and the Rugs

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day and for such a glorious cleansing of our home. Thank You for sending Uriel to assist me with our tasks.

The children came under attack at school yesterday. How do I stop that which comes against them outside of our home and through technology? Please, Father, send angels concerning them to guard them against any trouble. I thank You in advance for discernment on these attacks so that I can pray against this.

Father, why is life here so difficult? It seems that the norm of the world is to operate in the negative of the Fruits of the Spirit. I have learned to try and remain focused on lovely things when there is so much darkness.

Father, I thank You for Your unending love. You are faithful, true, upright and generous forever no matter what for Your children and I am honored to be grafted into Your fold.

I present myself and my family, our entire household and its contents, our ministry and cyber church up to You in Spirit and in truth. I pray You are pleased with our offering of love to You.

Jesus: "Erin, come up."

Before I could go into my dream, I was first quickly interrupted by a phone call and could not continue my writing. I then felt there was more I needed to do, so I yelled loudly in my prayer language. These sounded like battle cries to a large army.

The Holy Spirit in me again knew exactly what to pray. I continued with my routine of driving into town to pick up the kids from school, came home, fixed supper and so on. Just as we were getting ready for bed, my oldest son came running up the stairs from the basement, shouting, 'Mom, we are having a flood!'

This quickly set off warning bells that we were still under attack. We went to the basement and all of us spent a couple of hours mopping up a couple inches of water in the pump and heating room.

When in the basement, I prayed in the Spirit as I knew that I must have missed something vital. I then prayed over our heating, vents, plumbing, the sub-pump and the electrical.

After mopping everything up and praying over the area, I did not feel anything had been solved yet and somehow knew that something was still wrong. I was frustrated as I could not identify what it was. I asked my kids if there was anything else they were clinging to which needed to be removed and none of them could come up with anything.

We had identified that the source of the flood was the water pump as the plug blew clean off of it. I estimated that this must have happened a few hours earlier when I was warring out loud in the Spirit over the home.

I put a call in to the plumber to be on their list for the morning to come out and repair the plug and then we went to bed. However, I had a difficult time sleeping so I got up and checked the basement. While there was still leaking, it was not as bad and I had placed a plastic five gallon bucket under the source of the leak just in case.

I felt strongly that there was still something wrong in this room. I went back to bed around 2:00am and woke up suddenly at 4:44am out of a dream. I will not go into all the details as to how, but something came to me that help me figure out the problem.

Drawing of Utility Room in reply below...

This summer we had mice in the garage and I had moved anything with fiber or cloth into the storage area under the stairs as we felt the garage was not a good spot for any clothing, rugs and fabrics even though it was dry.

When I was walking through the basement again praying and anointing the area with oil, my eyes came upon some very expensive Tufenkian rugs I had rolled up in plastic since our move.

The rugs were from my former time of material wealth and retailed for quite a sum of money. Oddly enough, I had tried to sell them several times and even tried to give them away, but I could never succeed. As a result, they simply stayed with me.

Now here is the background on these rugs. The largest rug is eight by ten feet from a village in the Middle East. It is made of wool in a beautiful craftsman style with a corn motif border. The style of the rug was William Morris and was in shades of gold and rich green.

I had the rug in my shop at the original location back in 1996. Incidentally, my ex business partner and I had a major break up with the business and parted ways during this time. I was a new Christian at the time and I was now unevenly yoked with my business partner.

I ended up later buying out her portion of the business. Shortly after this I had a problem with my landlord, so I moved to a better location. I remodeled the new store and upon moving locations in 1997 I had no room for this rug.

As I had no clients for it at the time, I moved it to my home and there it remained and rested until we moved to central Oregon in 2003. This rug was a central part of our home in Portland and my boys even learned to crawl and walk on the rug. The rug was in all of our family photos in the living room.

Interestingly, when the rug left my business, the business prospered, but when the rug entered our home, our home life suffered. Now I certainly cannot blame all the things wrong spiritually on the rug nor should you as this was not the true problem.

However, this rug was a part of a larger problem. The rug was a gateway like an amplifier or sub-woofer to a sound system and it enhanced the open door of sinful activity.

The rug was later put into storage for a few years and I now recall that only the items around the rug became damaged or infested with mice. As this rug had been in storage for so long, it was just recently that I had the rug moved into the basement as a result of our 'escape to the trees'.

The second of these two rugs has an interesting background as well. The second rug was from a client who died suddenly of lung cancer in 1997 and her husband had no longer wanted the rug that she had purchased from me when we worked on her larger home.

My client had bought the silk and wool Tufenkian rug from me in 1997. However, for no reason given, her husband simply gave this rug back to me upon her death. It was just six months after her death and told me that he did not even want me to consign it for him nor did he want any money for it at all.

Even at the time this seemed odd to me as the five by five foot rug was a signature piece worth a material amount. I did not think to ask him if my client and his wife had collapsed on the rug prior to the ambulance coming or anything to this affect, but now I think there must be more to this story.

Interestingly, this rug then soon became linked to my daughter as it had been in her bedroom. While this rug was in her room, I remember now that she would often not have sound sleeps.

On quite a few occasions, she would even come into my room and say, 'Mama, I cannot sleep.' Half asleep, I would then sometimes take her in to sleep next to me instead.

As with the first rug, this rug was also in storage several times. When we lived in the desert, both of the rugs were stored in plastic in the garage.

Thank You, Lord, for giving me a very disturbing dream about all of this last night. He showed me that there were two common denominators to these rugs of a personal nature that were not good. In reality, these rugs had been 'hidden in plain sight' for all of these years.

After this dream, and that very morning, we removed the rugs off of the property and threw them in the snow for later removal. This was not hard to do as I was not attached to these rugs at all, but only kept them around due to their earthly material value.

When we threw these off our property, the rugs torpedoed down a snowy slope towards us as if to try and get back onto our property. We laughed and all of us quickly realized the rugs wanted to remain with us. I then prayed and had family help me take both the rugs to the dump.

When we went to the dump, dumpster divers were there at the landfill and they instantly became attracted to the two obviously valuable rugs. I gave a firm warning to the three dumpster divers that consisted of a woman and two men:

Me: "I know this seems odd, but I must warn you that these rugs are cursed. If they were not cursed, I would have instead sold or donated them. I need you to heed my warning before deciding to take them."

Man 1: Laughing, but not disrespectfully. "Why, did someone die on them?"

Me: "I do not believe so, but people including my children were hurt on them. You must understand the seriousness of what you will be taking on. If I could have, I would have burned them myself. I brought them here so that they would be buried."

I could tell that the one man listened and was no longer interested in these cursed rugs, but the other man and woman continued to peruse them.

Man 2: "This is like a treasure hunt here every day."

I knew that the Lord had wanted me to take these rugs to the landfill, so I did not feel guilty about doing this. However, I could also tell that the Holy Spirit wanted me to share all of this with them as a warning before they took these rugs.

Out of curiosity, I looked back in the rear view mirror and saw that these people had decided to salvage the rugs. I pulled over, repented first, and then prayed and bound the spirits attached to these rugs.

As I drove home, I became upset at myself that I had not noticed that such obvious things like these rugs should be removed. When I returned home with these rugs now gone, I once again repented, renounced, broke ties which bound us all and blessed our home. Oh yes, I also did this with my car too as it was used to transport these rugs.

When I came home, I was surprised to find that our basement was now completely dry. Not only that, but the plug even 'reattached itself' to the pump as well. I was amazed and so thankful for being able to avoid the expense of the plumber.

I quickly called the plumber to cancel. The plumber seemed surprised at my call to cancel, but I kept the 'holy' and 'not so holy' details to myself when I felt a check in my Spirit to let my words be few.

Now, I want to take you back to my dream that woke me up at 4:44am on Friday, January 8, 2016. This dream was of a massive yellow boa constrictor or python, but I could not tell which.

This snake had blended in with the eight by ten foot rug, the first rug, and was wrapped around it. However, the snake was free to move about the basement and was coiled into the heating, plumbing, drains and vents.

It was able to move in and out of the boys rooms, but had not climbed up the stairs yet. Interestingly, upon removing these items, not only was our plumbing repaired, but our internet, phones and piping system had better flow and pressure. Thank You, Father.

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day, for all You have given me and for Your love and divine grace.

“Oh dear Father, Who art in Heaven, hallowed be Your Name. Thy Kingdom come, Thy will be done, on Earth as it is in Heaven. Give us this day our daily bread and forgive us our trespasses as we forgive those who trespass against us. Lead us not into temptation but deliver us from evil. For Thine is the Kingdom, the power and the glory forever and ever. Amen.” Matthew 6:9-13.

Father, Your wisdom is glorious and Your unfailing love knows no bounds. Your grace is far beyond what can be humanly measured and Your mercy endures forever. I give today as a sacrifice to You. I could fill it with personal chores and demands, but I offer my day up to You. Do with me as You Will, not as I will.

Jesus: “Erin, come up.”

I was on the other side of the valley when I felt a hand on my shoulder. I turned and saw that Uriel was there. He had a small smile and beautiful eyes.

Me: “I am glad to see you.”

Uriel: “God is pleased with your choices, Erin.”

Me: “I am so sorry about those rugs. In hindsight, I thought they held no authority, but clearly they did. I felt as if I released a deadly large snake to wander around our house all these years. I have removed almost every tie to our past, yet this was the worst.”

Uriel: “God is requesting your presence, but you are to rest today and spend time with your family. Address any concerns and reconcile all of these. Cast aside burdens or any other barrier you might have which keeps you captive.”

Me: “Oh, so there is more?”

Uriel: “This is not what you think. You are to remove records which bind you with ties and painful memories.”

Me: I thought for a moment. “You mean photos of the past or memories?”

Uriel: “It is fine to keep items which tell a story used for good as this is evidence of your progress. However, when these become a reminder of failure, loss and grief, then these are not of God. That which grieves you, remove, but that which makes you smile does not take much space.” He smiled.

Me: I again thought for a moment. “You are right. My reminders of failure and grief take up a lot of space and are always before me. It is time I remove that which has no reason to keep, such as old wedding photos, old memories from childhood and bad memories from my career. I should also see if there is anything prideful or arrogant.”

Uriel: “Do not be too extreme though, but if you are doing this to glorify only God by showing others how far He has taken you, then this is edifying God. However, if you have items which glorify Erin, then these edify yourself and should be removed.

“There is a difference so when you do all of this, remember God and to give Him all of the glory. In all your ways, acknowledge Him and He will make your way straight. He has a plan in this.”

Me: “I will be so glad to. I just took some very valuable rugs according to the world to the dump. Certainly I should be able to remove meaningless photos and memorabilia. Could you send angels to help me along and God to direct my path?

“Oh, I guess just have God turn up the volume of the Holy Spirit to shout over me in my heart when something needs to go so I remove all these unclean items.”

Uriel: “They are burdensome to your Spirit and a yoke of affliction. Release their power over you as you are about to be completely set free.”

Me: “Uriel, I have the worst headache and it is even making my stomach sick. It is over my left ear and behind my left eyeball. I have not had a migraine in almost twenty years and this is crippling.”

Uriel: “Then this is a sign for you to look at the items before you one more time. Perhaps this is wisdom sent from Heavenly places. Pray for revelation.”

I stopped to pray and looked around my devotional area. There were some items which could be a source, but a few things stood out. I brought some of these items in recently from the garage when I was looking for photos for the slideshow of my Mom’s life for her memorial.

When I began to act on these, I had a check in my Spirit. My head hurt so badly and my stomach became nauseated. I went to the restroom and became very sick. I then went to lie down and spoke to God out loud.

Me: “Father, I feel I must repent for something, but I do not know what this is.”

Just as I prayed this out loud, He gave me the download of something I had done the day before without His permission. I did this very thing without even thinking and out of habit.

This was not a sin, but was personal based on a discussion I had with the Lord. The Lord had asked me to do something and I accidentally disobeyed. However, the root of the issue even goes back further and this made me remember it.

While I was on the bed, I shook my head while repenting as I was mad at myself. I then renounced the spirit attached to this and closed any open doors. I then broke any ties related to this even generationally and I asked God to bless me physically.

Immediately He delivered me from my infirmity and my intense head ache disappeared. I thanked Him for this relief on my knees and then went back to praying and writing.

Me: "Lord, thank You for sending angels to assist me. Thank You for sending the Holy Spirit as my greatest friend."

Immediately I was caught back up in my dream with Uriel.

Uriel: "Hmm, so I see you discovered the problem and even the root."

Me: "Yes I did. Now I have some more to do, but I am so relieved to have been shown this by the Holy Spirit. This has not been a day of much rest though and now I am exhausted."

Uriel: "Then rest for now and dream as the Lord has something for you. Erin, the dreams you are being shown are important. What have you learned from them?"

Me: "Upon waking, I have had a need to pay any debts in order to owe nothing whenever possible. I do not really have any debts, but small things that remain from years ago. These debts were probably long forgotten, but not to me.

"I made promises which I would like to keep. Also, I now feel a need to eat healthier and my children have requested the same. I would also like to remove anything else which might be contrary to God in our surroundings."

Uriel: "While these things are admirable, wise and good, go to God on this and He will instruct you in the way you should go. You were forgiven your debts years ago as these were satisfied legally. However, you are owed money by several others, yet those have still gone unpaid."

Me: "I have forgotten those as all money is God's. If He wanted them to pay me, then they would pay me. I have forgiven these debts as they were part of the past and a time of gains and losses. I felt that God would restore that which was taken. However, the same is not always in reverse. I just want to make sure if I need to do anything."

Uriel: "Go to God and He will let you know. Offering yourself up as a living sacrifice is good, but do not give yourself absolutes. Giving yourself absolutes binds yourself in chains of restriction in which God did not declare for you. Let go, Erin, and let God lead you as this is wisdom. By the way, I am glad you feel better."

Me: "Me too. Thank you."

Uriel: Smiling. "Now rest and return refreshed as God requests your presence."

Dear Father,

Thank You for my dreams and for clarity. Lord, I am writing this dream down today in hopes that You would send the appropriate message through this. Sometimes I want to interpret them myself in order to 'have a crack at this', but I know this is not my gifting.

Last night's dream was very unusual as I lived in an area of the United States which seemed to be a combination of different areas that I had either lived in or visited. One of these areas was definitely Florida. I also recognized parts of California and Texas, yet there were areas in the dream similar to the Pacific North West.

I was vacationing on the east coast of Florida down in the southern tip near the keys. This was not on Key Largo, but seemed more like the mainland south of Miami. I was shopping and dining there and this took place during the winter months as there was virtually no humidity and the air at night was slightly cool.

We were in a beautiful inlet area with blue skies and sugary white sandy beaches. The surf was calm and clear and was an earthly paradise. Then a man working for the resort where we were staying came up to us.

Man: "If you are looking for a place to eat, you simply must eat at the 'Red Dolphin'."

Me: "Thank you, but I did not make a reservation."

As I smiled and walked away, I noticed that it was now afternoon and nearing sunset. We walked to an open air market, but it was very odd as almost everywhere we looked I saw the name 'Red Dolphin' and I even saw vendors advertising 'Red Dolphin' tuna.

We walked back to the resort from the market and the climate changed and the water grew dark and ominous. The sky grew very dark and a severe gust of wind came in from the southeast. I asked one of the bellhops what was happening.

Bellhop: "Ma'am, there is quite a storm coming. You must take the last charter boat off this coast line."

He pointed to a massive boat named 'Red Dolphin Charters' and I saw a massive 'Red Dolphin' head on the mast. I quickly gathered up our belongings and my family boarded the ship. We turned to look at the resort and all the windows were being closed off with storm shutters. The man on the boat gave orders to the passengers.

Captain: "We will be traveling through the causeway en route to the Gulf. There is a storm coming to the Gulf. We will continue on to Padre Island and through the river ways of Texas."

Passenger: "But we are being taken way off course. Can you not take us up the Gulf of Mexico to Tampa? It would be shorter."

Captain: "No, this is the safest route. However, there is one other important item. When traveling through the causeway, do not lean over the boat to pet the 'Red Dolphins'. They may look friendly, but they are not."

We were startled at the announcement. As we traveled down this causeway into the Gulf through a channel into the Everglades, we saw other vessels traveling the same direction. One man jumped out of another vessel and swam across the channel.

He tried to climb up on the shore, but kept slipping down into the water. The shore looked more like something from the Pacific Coast with rocks, moss and water washing over it. As a result, the shore was quite slippery.

Captain: "We will be moving ahead of the storm through Goodlet Isles, through Smugglers Cove and out to the Gulf before the storm hits the east. We will travel on the eastern shore of the Gulf near Padre Island."

As we traveled, we could hear the storm in the distance, but it sounded more like warships than a storm.

Captain: "We continue to travel, but now with no lights and under the cover of darkness until we reach the destination."

Passenger: "Captain, how will we even be able to do this at night?"

Captain: "God willing we will have moonlight, but we cannot draw attention to ourselves. The threat of the 'Red Dolphins' still remains. We will travel rivers until we hit California. If trouble has not come there yet, it soon will."

Passenger: "Would it not be better to travel by foot inland?"

Captain: "There is much you do not know. Please trust me as my very own family is on board also and we long for safety. However, things have now changed and what we thought we could rely on is no longer there."

Passenger: "Captain, is there a storm or is there a war?"

Captain: "There are both."

Dear Father,

Thank You, just thank You, as at times I am so overwhelmed with thanks. Today I have cried for almost two hours as my emotions went on a journey. I went to look back, but also forward, but realized that it is time to let go.

Lord, it is time to let You take me the rest of the way on my journey even when I have no idea where I am going on this path. It seems uncertain and I only know the end point and that is Home in Your loving care.

Only Home is Heaven, so please help me to get where You want me to be. Do not let me linger or be led off Your path for my life. I love You.

Jesus: "Erin, come up."

As my eyes opened as I awoke under a mossy tree, above me were tree branches covered in moss. I sat up and I was in a beautiful place, but I did not recognize where I was other than to say that there were several different areas I have been to represented here.

If I were to individualize them, I could probably remember an event or recall a certain place and time, but it was time to move. I noticed that the path was right in front of me as I stood to my feet.

I was wearing athletic clothing, but state-of-the-art high tech from Heavenly places. It was extremely comfortable, breathable and efficient and again quite difficult to fully describe.

I step out onto the path and I see in the distance the stairway through the gateway to Heaven. I see the finish line and it does not seem very far away today. However, there in front of the path was a short brick wall about three bricks high or twelve inches.

I could easily step over it and finish the race, but I was confused as I walked up to it. In essence, I had two choices. I could step over the short wall and finish my race or I could follow this brick wall leading me down another direction. I pondered how wise God is as I felt a pull to go to my left.

Drawing of Path with Small Brick Wall in reply below...

To my left was a beautiful archway of trees and a path and it was not ominous at all. However, as I looked in front of me again and the path Home, the gateway and the stairs beyond that were so close this time and much closer than ever.

I looked at the finish line as I sat down on the path right in front of the brick wall. With my head against my knees and my arms wrapped around me, I began to cry.

Me: "Oh, Lord, I am closer than ever, but I do not want to make this decision. I know when I see a cross roads that You are giving me a choice, however..." I began to sob. "...which way should I go? I am in a lull right now and I do not know what to do. Until I hear from You, I will stay and wait."

And wait I did, but only for twenty one minutes to be exact, though it felt much longer. As I cried and worshiped Him, I felt a hand on my shoulder. I turned and there was Jesus extending His hand to me. I reached for His hand and He pulled me up.

Me: Hugging Him. "Lord, I thought I would not see You for a while."

Jesus: "You will not be with Me as often in your visions, but it will not be because I am unavailable. Erin, you can call on Me anytime and I will answer and I will be here for you during times when you need more of Me.

"However for other times there will be the Throne Room and mysteries given for different purposes. This you will understand later."

Me: "I love whatever God would have for me and will take anything He allows me to have from Heaven. This is whether it is a lesson from You, God or the angels. I am so thankful."

Jesus: "Now, tell Me your trouble."

Me: "I am not sure which way to go here. I know what I want to do, yet I know there is something down this path to my left. Since several lefts do not make a right, I want to make sure I do not make a wrong."

Jesus: Laughing. "Well, you did not lose your ability to make Me smile. Okay, let's talk this through. First, you were correct to wait this time for Me, even when I made you wait when you clearly saw an easy way. Just to simplify, you could easily step over this wall and finish.

"Second, you know that God is leading you and I would not lead you down a dark path which leads to your destruction." He smiled and I nodded in agreement. "Third, a detour always carries needed wisdom to better your race and there is always a gift for trusting Me."

Me: "Lord, You have always blessed me when I fully trust in You."

Jesus: "Then understand that based on this being a very short wall you can make a choice. The path continues past the wall to the finish line. All good things come from Me."

Me: "Well, based on this, either way I win. As I have You, I have already won and detours just mean that I still discover more about God, You and Heaven. However, I would also discover more that I could resolve with my walk.

“While I do not like focusing on my shortcomings, I find that, when I face them, You show me how to rise above my circumstances to focus on the prize, which is You of course. Oh yes, all of this I pray makes me finish my race stronger.”

Jesus: “Very good. Then can I walk with you down this beautiful path.”

He moved His arm to the left and the path illuminated. The archway of trees was like a canopy over the path. The trees flowered, budded and bore fruit simultaneously. It was as if all of the seasons were contained in each tree, but each one was beautiful and had lovely fruit.

Me: “Lord, this path seems familiar, but I do not understand it.”

Jesus: “I know, Erin. It contains the beauty of all of your most beautiful memories woven into the landscape.”

I began to cry as I smelled things which had memories attached. There were fragrant flowers, scents from my grandmother's and my mom's cooking.

Jesus: “Erin, what was your dream last night?”

Me: “The first one was a delay type dream wherein I was finishing something up, packing boxes and cleaning. I had just lectured my eldest son on studying and getting his papers in to his teachers prior to the end of his term as I was concerned about his graduating on time.

“I then discovered that I had enrolled in three college classes I never attended and knew that I would fail them. The three classes were chemistry, physics and sociology. In this dream I hated the topics, so I did not bother to study, yet I said nothing.

“I then got up, but went back to sleep and had a dream of my mom and seven bridges. I barely remember the dream except my Mom was trying to get me to do something and I dismissed her.

“However, when I woke up this morning, the song “Seven Bridges” by the Eagles kept going through my head. When I was a child, I liked this song and so did my mom.”

Jesus: “It is a good song for this purpose. Now, what did these dreams mean?”

Me: I thought a bit. “I felt I was about to wrap up something and was preparing to move or finish something. However, I do not understand the part where I was enrolled in classes.

“In my dream, I panicked because I thought I could just breeze through the final exams and with or by a miracle maybe I could pass without taking the courses I hated.

“My mom used to lecture me on life things and sometimes I would dismiss her like my own kids dismiss me when I lecture them. The song “Seven Bridges” kept coming up, but I do not know why.”

Jesus: "Actually, Erin, these were good guesses as there are some things to finalize prior to your finish. This is why I am quite pleased you waited on Me, even though there seemed to be a delay. You could have bypassed this important study and just gone to the finish, but instead you decided to take the course or path."

On the road, I saw seven bridges and each bridge was different, yet each looked familiar. I began to cry as I recognized the first bridge as the Golden Gate Bridge, but a smaller version.

Jesus took me to this and I looked across and saw my early life. It was the first seven years from my birth place in Illinois to our homes in Nevada to our place in the Bay area in California. As I stood, tears streamed down my cheeks.

I saw myself with my grandma, Easter egg hunts in her yard, baking cookies and the smell of cinnamon toast. I saw only good things and happy times. I saw my brother and me playing near our apple tree. There were so many memories. I turned and hugged Jesus.

Jesus: "Do you understand what I am doing here?"

Me: "No, Lord, not exactly."

He then took me to the next bridge I recognized as the Bay Bridge in California. As we stood there, I saw my life from ages seven to fourteen. I did not see as many events, but they were beautiful.

My mom took us across America for three months after my stepdad's suicide when I was twelve or thirteen. I remembered the smells of the live pine tree my mom decorated for Christmas in our van and the smells of Cape Cod, Boston and New York City.

Me: Looking at Jesus. "Lord, these bridges are from my life."

I recognized the next bridge from Idaho and knew that this was my life from ages fourteen to twenty one.

Me: Crying. "What is this all about, Lord?"

Jesus: "You were chosen for a time such as this, but your memories do not make you, God makes you. Erin, these memories are building blocks of a life grounded in faith.

"There are days when you allow your memories to drown out what I am doing in you. It is okay to recall things when these are needed to witness to others, but do not cross these bridges and stay."

Me: "I am so sorry, Lord, as I dishonor You by focusing on the past."

Jesus: He pointed to my heart and He put His hand over His. "You are a new creation in Me and I am in you. Now, there is nothing wrong with visiting Heaven in light of your life or visiting your life in light of Heaven, but as you linger here..."

He points to the next couple of bridges.

Jesus: "...you then recall the bad with the good. It will soil your good memories and bring you down to low places. Now remember what I showed you on your 49th year?"

Me: "No, I do not recall."

Jesus: "I do. Come."

He walked me over to the seventh bridge. I began to cry at the very end of this as there was a raging river. It was dark, deep and ominous and I was with my still little children.

I could not possibly carry all three across by myself without the water overcoming us. One child was a baby, one a toddler and one a small child and this was impossible with no bridge to walk over. Just then, Jesus carried each one of us across.

Me: Crying and hugging Him. "Lord, You are my bridge, our bridge, and You will carry us Home. You are the eighth bridge and You are our last and only One that we will ever need."

Jesus: "Very good, Erin. This pleases Me."

Me: "What shall I do about all these bridges?"

Jesus: "This is a beautiful place and is the Garden of Good Fruit from your life. It is the tapestry which tells the story of your years, leaving out the bad, but keeping that which is lovely. Some bridges mark more joyful events than others. Each bridge carried you to the next seven years and so on.

"The problem with looking back over these bridges of good things is that they bring longings for the former things. These former things are no longer beneficial on your walk as they just as easily bring sorrow. Sorrow leads to grief, guilt, regret, anger and a host of negative fruits and none of these fruits are good to eat.

"There is much to do on the balance of your race. You cannot change the presence of this Garden with Seven Bridges, but you can choose to walk quickly through it. There is no need to cross any of these bridges to visit memories.

At first these memories are good, but then they morph into bad memories and this is not beneficial. Come with Me to My Father's Garden instead as there we will have no need to look back."

Me: "Yes, I would much rather be with You discovering new things than lingering here. I repent, Lord."

Jesus: Smiling and chuckling. "It is normal to remember good times as it is where you find those who have passed onto eternity. However, even those who have passed are no longer there as they are in Heaven.

"What lingers here is a less-than-perfect way than what they would want you to remember about them. Would you want the same for your children to remember you in light of the past?"

Me: I thought for a moment. "No, I am better in Heaven as I am no longer flawed, worrying or sleepless. I do not want them to remember my old life."

Jesus: "Then let's keep walking."

Me: "If I stay here, who knows if I would erect a chapel with images dedicated to memories? I think God would not be pleased."

Jesus: "There are plenty of these everywhere and many even worship Me at My death versus Me in living or in light of eternity. Life is about living for eternity with Me."

Me: Laughing. "And should not be about living for eternity without You."

Jesus: Laughing. "Now, I have something for you. Come."

He quickly and briskly walked me through the garden of my past memories. At the edge of the backside was a gate. He motioned for two angels to close this massive garden's 'gate of steel'. There was a giant lock on it.

Jesus: "Now we have traveled on an incredible journey together. This garden and the Seven Bridges still exist. To remove this would be to remove you and several others.

"This is a beautiful garden and the fruits off of these trees will continue to nourish and refresh you on your race. Occasionally you will recall a memory which will be used for My glory, but for now the enemy enjoys tormenting you from here."

Me: "Oh no, so the enemy was at this garden?"

Jesus: "Well, he does enjoy gardens. Why do you think this is?"

Me: "Because good fruit grows in the garden and the enemy hates good fruit."

Jesus: "He is there from his low position calling out so people will meet him there. Unless you had a perfect life with nothing bad, no death, no trouble and a 'pre-Job's trials' life, then there would be no snake here.

"However, he enjoys holding you prisoner to this place. Now, let's close this off, along with these bridges, for another very distant time when all things are reconciled and there is nothing but joy."

He turned and gave me the key to the gate.

Me: "Oh, You would like me to do the honors."

I took this massive silver, bronze and steel key and I turned the lock. I then handed Jesus the key.

Jesus: "You can keep it if you want to."

Me: "No, I would rather You have the key. You can then give me memories as applied to Your glory, not my shame. I feel better giving this to You."

Jesus: Laughing. "I accept. Now look."

He turned and there before me was a massive bridge. It was gold and illuminated like the sun and I saw thousands of faces of people, maybe even millions, lining the bridge sides.

Below the bridge was the River of Life and it was bigger than the Columbia River or even the Amazon. There was music from the Heavenly choir of angels. There were cheers and so many beautiful things. I turned to the Lord.

Me: "Am I now finished with the race as I am already partially on this bridge? Am I about to die?"

He was smiling and beaming with joy.

Jesus: "Erin, you have been here a few years and you still have time. Have we crossed the river?"

I looked down and we were only a few hundred feet on the bridge and there was still more to go.

Me: "No, it seems like the beginning."

Jesus: "Allow Me to carry you across. Allow Me to take you where I would like you to go."

I jumped up in His arms and He began to carry me.

Me: "Lord, but what about my family and my children?"

I looked and I saw my children alive and healed. They were waving and celebrating. I saw people I recognized as we crossed.

Jesus: "Are you ready for what comes next, Erin?"

Me: "Yes, Lord, yes I am."

Jesus: "Then rejoice and no looking back."

Dream 190 – God, the Tree and the Number 16

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day, for time, for my dreams and for my lovely family and friends. Thank You for peace, wisdom and understanding, along with my continued quest to gain more of what You offer as when You do grant me this, although it is not always the most popular message, it is good for us.

Father, even though my flesh is at war with the world, grant me Godly armor so I may take in that which is good and discard that which does not edify You. I have done my best to cast away the things of the world which weigh me down and to take up that which is good from You.

It has now been a month of 'saying goodbye' to the former things and keeping my eyes fixed on You. Please forgive me for not recognizing these things earlier. Thank You for Your divine grace, love and mercy with me as I allow You to carry me across this 'Eighth Bridge'.

I have been at war with unseen forces this month, not only in my dreams, but also in my waking hours. After seeing and experiencing what the enemy wants for us, all I can say is thank You for the wakeup call and revelation. Let's just say that I could not release worldly things that were distracting me fast enough.

As I began to hunt down more unhealthy attachments to items or even people, I began to feel free. Thank You, Father, as I felt Your presence become clearer as I removed the dense fog of interference. The more I let go, the more I could breathe deeply.

Thank You, Father, for being so gentle with me when You could have easily been the opposite. Please renew me and use me for Your glory and not mine. I love You.

Jesus: "Erin, come up."

I was up in God's valley at the base of a beautiful tree that looked like an ancient oak tree, yet somehow beautifully young and perfect. The base of the tree was about eight feet in diameter and the roots were strongly planted into the foundation of the soil. The tree thrived here as it was planted next to the River of Life.

I sprang to my feet and walked to the river to ponder whether the roots of this tree actually go into the river. I smiled as I looked down into the water and saw the tree's roots meet the water.

Me: "No wonder the tree is so beautiful. It has constant nourishment directly from God's Throne."

I giggled as I went back to the tree. I looked up and I saw four fruits and many different leaves. I saw figs, pomegranates, dates and olives, but I could not reach the branches. I looked around for something to stand on, but started to laugh as I then remembered my lesson from not that long ago.

Shaking my head, I instead raised my hand in the air and opened my palm up to receive the fruit. I kept my eyes open and I called down first a fig, then a pomegranate, then an olive and then a date. I laughed in delight as they dropped into my hand.

Me: Smiling from ear to ear. "How cool is this!"

As I was wearing a smock, I put the fruit in the front of my smock like an apron. I then noticed a grape vine down the path, so I went to gather a bunch of grapes too. I was excited to try these five fruits. Once gathered, I sat down to look at them on the river bank.

As I gazed at these fruit, I noticed that each of them was so beautiful compared to anything on Earth. As I continued to gaze at them, I felt a hand on my shoulder. I turned and looked up and saw Uriel smiling and holding a woven basket.

Uriel: "Here, Erin, place your fruits in this basket. Come with me to gather two more and then we must go to God as He is requesting your presence."

He extended his hand to help me to my feet. We then took my fruit and placed them in the basket and he carried this for me. He walked me over to the harvest fields.

Uriel: "Alright, Erin, now gather a handful of wheat and one of barley and then we are ready to go before God."

Me: "I am not sure what we are doing. Are these offerings to God?"

Uriel: "Yes, Erin, very good observation. These are your first fruits, the 'bikkurim' (Deut. 8:8)."

Me: "How can I offer fruit which I did not grow? Uriel, this is not my land and I do not own land here or on the Earth."

Uriel: "You are misunderstanding God, Erin, as He delights in you and you are a servant of God."

Me: "I feel I have not served Him like others have at times."

Uriel: "Do not question God's choice as He does not make mistakes nor is He caught off guard."

He walked me back to the tree and rested his hand on the trunk.

Uriel: "You are like this tree, so count this good. Now take my hand."

He reached for my hand as we were instantly in front of God's door and it was open. Uriel handed me the basket of first fruits. I looked down at my feet and noticed I had only one sandal on my feet. My right foot was bare and my left foot had a shoe.

Me: "This is just like my dream from five nights ago that disturbed me. I left so suddenly on a journey that I had no time to put on my other shoe, yet I did not even have it with me. I am going to remove this one as this ground is holy."

Uriel smiled and escorted me through God's door and I realized that it had been awhile since I had been here. He brought me in closer still to the Throne of God, or so it seemed based upon my peripheral view of the columns to my left and right.

My legs gave out when I had come far enough and I dropped to my knees. As I felt God's presence in and around me, I became weak or meek yet recharged as my blood cells began to worship Him.

I heard the choirs of angels sing without music this time, yet their voices still sounded like a complete orchestra. The angels sang, "Holy, Holy, Holy is the Lord God Almighty, Who was, and is, and is to come!"

Each time, the chorus rose up higher and higher and their voices overlapped each other. It was so beautiful that I leaned forward with my face to the floor and wept and thanked God for worship and music.

I thanked Him for sending Jesus and for all that He has done for us and is about to do. I lifted my hands, but I still could not open my eyes. I then felt a hand put salve in my eyes and I was able to open my eyes.

However, it took me awhile to focus on the floor in front of me and the area surrounding me before I could finally begin to see. I soon noticed that I had created a small pool from my tears on this beautiful deep blue warm polished floor of stone. The stone was simply incredible.

Somehow I could see into the stone as if it was transparent, yet it was solid. I could see depths of blues and greens and it was unlike absolutely anything I had ever seen before on Earth.

This stone seemed to move in praise with the worship music as if it was fluid, but yet it was still a solid. The stone was warm to the touch and not cold at all as if it too were living and breathing. I had never noticed this before and was fascinated by this.

I stayed there for some time and felt a desire to repent for unknowingly participating in the enemy's schemes by keeping this clutter of reminders of my past. In hindsight, I was under a type of veil that kept me from recognizing things in my very own living space that divided my attention away from my first love, God.

While this 'veil' was not a 'Jeze-veil', it was still something quite powerful. In hindsight, God gave me signs that these were distracting me and needed to be removed. God is never to blame for bad things done to us, but He does allow bad things to ultimately draw us to Him for His glory.

I temporarily reflected back on that which I knew was allowed by the Holy Spirit. I remembered back to an evangelist who I saw years ago testifying to his victory over his trials.

He edified his abilities to overcome his trials so much so that he failed to give glory to His Creator, the Author, God, and the Finisher of his story, God. I remembered feeling temporarily uplifted by him as if beguiled by a snake and its charmer

However, when he soon asked us to give to 'his cause' and advance 'the Kingdom', I began to question whose cause and whose kingdom. My Holy Spirit made me feel as if they were about to divert seed away from those who truly desired to give to God's Kingdom and for God's glory and not their own.

Me: "Father, let me not be deceived or beguiled by the enemy's schemes. As time goes so quickly, so does the enemy's advancement. Please grant us all wisdom to know the difference. Please grant us clarity like that of Heavenly angels so that we do not fall under a 'Jeze-veil' or spiritual fog of confusion."

God: "Erin, do not worry. Be still and know I am God."

I felt the floor of the Throne Room shake and it was terrifying, yet I had a peace knowing that God had not sent me there to harm me. I waited for Him to speak more as I shook and felt a few more tears fall to the floor.

God: "To fear My statutes is wisdom, but do not be afraid."

Me: "Forgive me, Father, it has been a while and I forgot about the magnitude of Your power, even though it has only been a short time. Now this is real again."

I felt some laughter from Him as the ground waved and rolled.

God: "Why do you quickly forget?"

Me: "I do not know for sure, but perhaps it is the human condition or maybe my age or roots. Only you know, Father, but I would really love to be healed of this."

God: "Your request is good. Very well, you shall have this."

Me: "Thank You, Father. Oh, I brought You this basket of first fruits. This I received with help from Uriel. These are Yours, Father."

Two angels came up to me and took the basket up to the Throne of God.

God: "Why are you uncomfortable with this?"

Me: I hesitated. "I did not own the tree nor did I harvest the wheat or barley, so I am not sure if this is acceptable to You, Father."

God: "Child, Who created the land and everything in it? Who really owns everything? You could have eaten and stored these for yourself and given Me the crumbs, yet instead you did not eat it and brought this to Me first. Now I accept this beautiful basket as a blessing and this pleases Me."

He then shone brightly and there was a beautiful halo around Him, like a prism or rainbow of color. The light and area was too bright for my eyes to see, but I could see the halo reflected in the floor of deep blue. After a while, I noticed motion behind me, but I was not sure what it was.

God: "Erin, this land of Heaven is your inheritance and your ministry is the field you labor on and this is good. Now it is time for you to take off your shoes to stand before Me as it is the final hour.

"When you cried out to Me in utter anguish, it was sixteen years ago. You asked to know Me and for a ministry or a purpose. However, and even more importantly, you said you would not stop.

"You then went without food or water for three days, after which I had you caught up in a vision. You were then given instruction. Do you remember what these were?"

Me: "I believe it was Enoch that told me that I 'must die to self' as self was the biggest obstacle to knowing more about You. Then 'self' was hammered out of me for twelve years. Father, I then also had a dream of a birthday cake..."

Drawing of Birthday Cake with Sixteen Candles in reply below...

"...The cake had two sets of eight candles or sixteen candles in total. I blew out the candles and then I awoke. This was on January 25th, 2000."

God: "Perhaps your ministry started long before you thought it did. Ask for wisdom."

Me: "Father, please grant me wisdom like Solomon."

God: "It is good to ask for Godly wisdom, but even Solomon with all of his wisdom at the end of his day lacked discernment and ran after the gods of his wives. Keep your focus on Me as I am jealous for you."

Me: "Okay, Father, I will do my best."

God: "This is enough for today, but do not worry as you are loved."

Me: "I desire to be perfect for You, Father."

God: "I do not require this, so please come as you are. Who can perfect you? You? Or is it I Who created you? Define perfection. You cannot for no man knows this. There is only One who walked the Earth in perfection, yet the world failed to see it. Now, come as you are and I will give you a clean heart."

Me: I was in tears. "Thank You, Father, I love You."

God: "I love you, daughter."

I felt Uriel bring me to my feet and walk me to the door. Outside of the door were seven angels with seven baskets. The baskets were massive and contained much more than I gifted God with. I turned to ask Uriel.

Me: "What is this?"

Uriel: "You are like a tree that produces fruit and you have roots, a trunk, branches, fruit and leaves. Even though it seemed as if your roots were bad as your beginnings affected your growth as a child, God used you.

"Now you are like a tree planted by the water that sends out its roots by the stream. This tree does not fear when heat comes, its leaves are always green, it has no worries in a year of drought and never fails to bear fruit (Jeremiah 17:7-8).

"Erin, your confidence is in the Lord and you have blossomed by taking in that which is good like the light of the sun. God has removed the malnourishment of your foolish youth and nourished your heart with the Word of God.

"You are an oak of righteousness and a planting of the Lord for His display and splendor. There are others too (Isaiah 61:1-3). You will never go thirsty."

As he smiled at me, I felt tears stream down my cheeks. The angels then handed me all of this abundance of provisions as a gift from God Himself.

Uriel: "He will supply for all your needs, so do not worry. One other thing, Erin, never fight the enemy alone and do not react. Instead, wait and pray and God from His sanctuary will send help.

"Remember that prayer activates Heavenly angels and confounds the enemy's schemes. After these battles, you are to rest and regain your strength.

"Erin, do not fight when you are tired. Also, it is always better to not engage the enemy in battle or entertain fools, but wait on God. Pray and fast when necessary."

Me: "But what if the enemy blindsides me?"

Uriel: "Go to God daily in prayer as nothing is a surprise to God. He will send help, so write Psalm 34 on your palm if need be. God Himself told you the hour you are in."

Me: "He said we are in the final hour, yet one thousand years is like a day."

Uriel: "If you lack knowledge, then pray and seek understanding and stay before God and trust in Him alone. Lead not unto your own understanding, but in all your ways follow Him."

"Now, I gave you this as the enemy's weapon against you is distractions. If you are made busy, then you become weak and tired and then you lack focus, understand? This is subtle and many fail to recognize this weapon and pass it off as 'life calling them'."

"Well, just remember who gives life abundantly and Who calls you as life does not create you, your Creator created you. Do not allow the enemy to use passive time weapons."

"Also, as the enemy ramps up against you, these come in cluster groups, not spread out. Unless a different pattern is allowed for by God, you will recognize these as enemy attacks as they will usually be cluster attacks."

"Remember that when two or three gather in the Name of the Lord, He will show up, but this truth is also the same with the enemy. He models God's Word, but twists it for his purposes against you."

"The enemy is the opposite of good and produces the opposite of the Fruits of the Spirit. I give you this warning as the enemy understands the lateness of the hour also. Go to Psalm 34 as this is important. Remember that God is with you, so do not worry."

Dream 191 – God, Judgment of the Churches and the Field

Communion

Dear Father,

I love You and thank You, Father, for all You have done for us. Thank You for this final generation and for Your Word as it is the Lamp which lights my path (Psalm 119:105). Blessed are Your ways and glorious are Your statutes and laws. Praise be to Your Name in all the land and I give all glory to You, Father.

Father, my dream last night woke me up. Please illuminate this so that I may write Your message clearly. Please remove the enemy's assignments against our household and the children.

Jesus: "Erin, come up."

I arrived up in Heaven at God's door and there was a bench to the right where the forestry board once stood. Uriel came up next to me and motioned for me to sit down on the bench as he sat next to me.

Uriel: "Lay down your burdens here and then go before God. You have questions."

Me: "Yes I do as I am very troubled by my dream and vision and I am not certain how to proceed. However, I feel there is urgency and I am troubled by the message."

Uriel: "God told you the hour is late. As you have no clear measure of time, then you have no choice but to either pretend to know the time or go to God on the Throne Who is the Creator of life and the determiner of a man's days.

"Only God holds the power of His clock and calendar. If you clearly trust in Him, then you must rely on Him in all you do. Now, I will show you something first. Come."

I took Uriel's hand and we were instantly in my dream, which is really a dream within a dream.

Dream description begins...

I saw a massive yellow boa constrictor that had deadly venom in my basement. It was slithering on the floor outside my boy's rooms, but I then saw it go into the heat pump area and wrap around it, cutting off the water supply to our home.

It then went to the vent system where our fresh air is recirculated and bad air removed. It slid up into our vents and sprayed a mist into the vent system while my children and I slept. It caused our sleep to be disturbed and for all of us to have trouble breathing.

I then saw the snake go to our communications and pinch our phone and internet lines, thereby causing them to have static. The snake then bit down on the wires and caused a charge to send static on our clear communication.

Then I saw the snake slither into my children's rooms at night and even during the day and whisper things to them through their reflection in the mirror. The snake spoke horrible lies.

I then saw the snake release three or four small snakes under its belly. These small snakes went into their backpacks and wrapped around their textbooks, phones and lunches.

I saw my one son become foggy and confused when using his glasses at school. I saw a small snake wrapped around the frame and was spraying a mist on the lenses. I saw him unable to concentrate on the lesson in the class.

I tried to move in the dream, but I was restrained. Uriel pointed around the classroom and I saw snakes wrapped around most of the teenagers. My son's snake was one of the smallest, but other kids were carrying massive ones.

Dream description ends...

Me: "Make it stop, Uriel, please in Jesus' Name."

Uriel: "Erin, wait to see what I am about to show you."

I saw the day a few weeks ago of the flooding in the basement. I had recognized there was some spiritual warfare and we decided to do an all-out house cleaning after the holiday. This was around January 3rd, 2016.

Me: "Oh, this is around a month ago. I see."

Uriel: "Now watch what happened."

He showed me going to God on my knees in my prayer closet or war room. I knew something was wrong, so I had prayed, cried and actually yelled in my prayer language and on this day it sounded like a battle cry.

Just then I saw the unseen and all I can say is 'Wow!' As I prayed, the snake ran through the house as it was being chased by mighty angelic warriors. These angels were activated by my prayer battle cries and released by God to remove the snake.

After a while, the snake slithered into our pipes and stayed there. My prayers kept getting interrupted as I then saw an enemy army of these demonic beings using every means possible to stop my prayers.

When I had finished praying, the snake rested and coiled around our well pump and heater. The angels guarded three rooms, but did not continue.

Then there was a loud 'pop' as the stop drain on our well in the basement blew and water began to flood the basement. Unaware, I had continued with errands such as picking the kids up from school and coming home to cook.

Something did not feel right in the atmosphere so I continued to pray. Then after dinner, I heard my eldest son yell, 'Mom, we have flooding!' Sure enough, we had trouble as I watched myself as I stood next to Uriel.

I saw this snake continue to move freely between the heat pump, electrical, flooring and the storage room. I also saw it move through the plumbing. After the water issue was taken care of, I began to pray and anoint the house.

I saw myself pray over the plumbing and heard something. I then saw that it was this massive snake running from our anointing the house in the Name of Jesus. After I felt everything was clear, I then glanced at the rugs in the basement.

Had I seen in the spirit realm at the time, I would have seen what Uriel just showed me. There was the massive yellow snake on these rugs. Then I saw myself going to God and the Holy Spirit reveal to me my open door to the snake in our home of the rugs.

I then saw myself take the rugs outside off of our property to wait there until I could have help disposing of. I then saw the snake branch into two large snakes, wherein one stayed with the rugs and another remained inside.

The snake that stayed inside made me doubt I was finished, so I went again to God in loud and fervent prayer. I had the kids repent for anything else before God and we renounced the spirits.

Then we broke the permission and we anointed and blessed our home. I then saw several large angels with swords cut off the heads of all the snakes at that point. With the largest snake, I saw his head being chopped off right before he was about to strike an angel. I then saw the head of the snake roll away.

Me: "Oh, Uriel, I had no idea all this had happened."

Uriel: "Erin, God commands angels concerning you and your children to guard your ways, but you are still feeling the effects of this war. Even though the snake has been defeated at Calvary, his head remains.

“A dead snake still has the ability to strike venomous blows, in your worldly terms, for an hour after. If it is an earthly hour, what do you think this means for the unseen realm?”

Me: “This would be difficult to gauge, but all I know is that I do not like it. Even though Jesus defeated the enemy with His victory, killing the snake in the natural means it and its’ minions still roam around until the Lord finally takes us Home and sets up His Throne, correct? It seems that we are therefore being attacked by demons that have had their body removed.”

Uriel: “You are on the correct path here as you have been attacked by a defeated enemy. However, the enemy knows you and knows your children, so to underestimate its’ lethality apart from the Lord would be foolish and to ignore it would be deadly.

“Now, the Lord has allowed this so you are able to encourage others. Remember to give all the glory to God in Heaven and to give no power to the defeated enemy. Do not engage with a headless foe and do not turn your back on a defeated enemy.

“Remember that the enemy has nothing to lose but everything to gain from removing your ability to stand. When you call out to Jesus in the Name of the Lord and chase the enemy out in His Name, they must flee to the pit in which they crawl by God’s authority given to Jesus over them.

“Now, study Luke 10:16-22, not in part, but in whole. The enemy has power while on Earth, but you are a Child of God and Jesus gave you authority to cast out the enemy in Jesus Name. Without Jesus’ authority, you have no power over this enemy.

“Erin, do not be strong in ‘you’ but be strong in the Lord. In the final Book of the Bible, Revelation, it is written about those who overcome. Who are these?”

I went to my Bible and turned to Revelation 12:11.

Me: “Revelation 12:11, ‘And they overcame him (satan our enemy) by the blood of the Lamb and by the Word of their testimony; and they loved not their lives unto death’.

“Hmm, this reminds me of Galatians 2:20, ‘I am crucified with Christ: nevertheless I live; yet not I, but Christ liveth in me: and the life which I now live in the flesh I live by the faith of the Son of God, who loved me, and gave Himself for me.’”

Uriel: “Erin, this is good as you needed to know that you are not out of God’s favor. These are lessons and these lessons at times are different. Do you believe those who were closest to the Lord during his time on Earth did not struggle?

“Spend time in the Word and allow the Holy Spirit counsel to show you. Those who mock you for these battles do not understand the wisdom gained during these trials. You had another dream last night. After I take you there, I will bring you back as God requests your presence.”

Me: “I felt I was out of favor and I was not sure if I would see Him today.”

Uriel: "Erin, you must wear your whole armor as who can remove favor if God does not declare it? You have kept your decrees given to you by God Himself. You were handed a signet ring and you are grafted in.

"You even come into His Courts here and have dined at His Home. He has built a place for you here and you dine at His table. Now, have you done something which makes you unworthy? Are you still here and running after Him?"

I nodded my head.

Uriel: "Then do not worry as God is not double-minded. Hmm, now stand up and turn around."

Uriel: I did as he instructed and He laughed. "No, I see no snakes here."

I laughed so hard as I have never heard Uriel make a funny statement before this as he is usually so serious.

Me: "You are being funny."

Uriel: "I do not get to use this unless God instructs me to as I am a messenger of God and my purpose is to bring you properly into His presence. I am here to prepare you. While God is direct, He does love you and I think you make Him smile."

He smiled at me and it brought tears to my eyes. He reached down and took my hand and we were instantly at the place in my vision.

Dream description begins...

I was standing between two massive parcels of land. I first looked over the parcel of land that was beautiful and saw an abundance of wheat, corn and crops of differing kinds.

In the distance, I saw acres and acres of fruit trees with rolling hills. I then saw beautiful vineyards and that this land flourished and was beautiful. The sun seemed to be slightly southwest of us.

Then, as I stood there, a mighty wind came, followed by rain. Then the land began to break apart as the scorching sun followed. I then saw cold, not just seasonal cold, but record cold. The ground was frozen.

Uriel then turned and pointed me to the east and there I saw desolation. I saw barren land, the land was ravished and nothing seemed to dwell there. The ground was frozen also and in my stomach I felt there had been death as I could feel it.

A howling wind blew through the area as Uriel took me north. There I saw tracks from heavy equipment, some foot traffic and small survey flag markers. The ground had frozen these in place and it looked like an invading army had come from the north to ravish the land. The tracks swept into the desolate land.

Dream description ends...

Uriel: "Do you recognize this barren land?"

Me: "No, I do not as I do not know where this is."

Uriel: "First find understanding in the Book of Joel and then come with me."

After I went and found this in Joel 2:20, Uriel took my hand and we were at God's door. He reached over and put salve in my eyes and led me into God's presence. My knees began to wobble and I dropped down.

God's beautiful choir of angels was singing, "Holy, Holy, Holy is the Lord God Almighty, Who was, and is and is to come!" I worshiped God in spirit and in truth and confessed some things which I felt I was holding on to and prayed for forgiveness. I thanked Him and prayed in a singing voice.

Me: "To God, be the glory, forever and ever, Amen!"

I thanked Him for His wise counsel and great kindness and His love which never ceases. He still loves us unchanged even when our love for Him at times seems to wane when we become discouraged.

Paused here to go pickup my children...

There is a snow storm here right now and this had seemed to come up suddenly while I was with the Lord as my car was now covered with about six inches of snow. After removing the snow, I drove to my daughter's school.

As I drove, a car began to come down the middle of the main road and gave me no room. I began to slow down and move to the far right side of the road. At that point, I had reduced my speed to around 35 mph.

There had been no plows on the road yet, so the snow removed markers on the road. If I had not moved to the right side of the road as I had, I would have crashed head on with the oncoming car.

However, the conditions without the road being plowed on the sides sent my car into a spin. I gently tried to pump my brakes, but then they locked. Knowing I would crash, I then turned the tires in the direction of the slide.

However, right before I was about to wrap around a telephone pole and into a ditch, the car 'righted itself' and I got back into my lane. I quickly realized that if a car had been coming upon me in the opposite direction, the accident would have been serious.

After this near miss, I knew the roads were too treacherous to pick up the boys, so I called in to have the bus take them instead to where I could safely pick them up. This was all at 2:00pm today. Praise God, the angels took over.

I was now back in God's presence...

Me: "Oh Father, thank You for protecting me from this accident. Thank You for steering me away from the pole. Thank You for Your continued protection. I love You and I am glad You steer me."

God: "Why do you believe I allowed this trouble for you during the snowstorm?"

Me: "I do not know."

God: "I call you My friend and if it were not so I would have removed My grace. What did you learn? Keep this simple."

Me: "I had no control over the conditions due to the storm. I had no control over the other car, which did not care about me or my safety. Then when my vehicle started to spin out of control, even with all of my years of experience driving in snow and ice, I could not control the car. I yelled out, 'Oh, please, God, no!', but I was being a wimp."

He began to laugh and the entire Court shook. I was laughing, crying and in awe at His power all at the same time.

God: "Child, call out to Me when you are in distress as I sent angels concerning you. Now, were you harmed?"

Me: "No. My heart pounded and I am a bit sore from my muscles stiffening up. However, I then began to wonder about what could have happened."

God: "This serves no purpose and is only a gauge for those who fail to recognize My hand in events. If My favor is removed and I allow man to 'fend for themselves' or 'save themselves', then this will lead to death and not just physical death, but more.

"Now, even the most skilled driver can run off the road without Me to help steer. Who can walk up a slippery slope quickly or even stop a plunge from a free fall? Who can predict the path of a tornado or the magnitude of a hurricane? Who is able to command it to flee or harness its power?"

"Therefore, Erin, by My grace, you were saved from this accident today. Not one hair off of your head was lost and not one scratch was placed on your vehicle. You quickly recognized Who was in control of all things as you are walking down a new path. It is a difficult one, but would you still like to continue?"

Me: "Yes, Father, but please help me be stronger."

God: "In your weakness, I am made strong, so call out to Me. Now, I gave you both a dream and a vision, but now I will also give you this as well..."

The Father opened the floor of the Courtroom and I could see below me in a live vision. I saw a new field that needed a lot of work and it was an undesirable lot covered in snow. There were rolling hills and snow covered orchards, but I could not really tell what this meant.

God: "Erin, your thoughts."

Me: "I do not really understand. I know it is not a literal field or maybe it is, but I am not certain."

God: "This field I am giving you is a difficult one so you must write plainly as I will give you more. Now we are in a time of rebellion and many will not accept your farming of this field.

"To those who will accept it, they will find hidden treasures and enough to purchase their own field and farm it. There are easier roads to easier fields, but this one I have chosen for you. I have found favor in you and I will provide all you need to bring this to harvest."

Me: "I still do not fully understand."

God: "Erin, I am about to do something in your days which you will not believe (Habakkuk 1:5), though it be told to you."

Me: "I am excited, Father, but I pray I am capable as I am certainly willing."

God: "Yes, but you just hesitated. Explain why."

Me: "Father, please strengthen us, heal our infirmities, remove our afflictions and remove any demonic attacks. Please remember my children for my sake."

God: "Very well. You will be fortified and strongholds removed. Call to Me and I will hear you in your distress, but you must cry out. Do not hold this in."

Me: "Thank You, Father, I will."

God: "This is enough for today."

Me: "Father, can I ask one more question?"

God: "Yes, proceed."

Me: "What did the vision mean with the land provided?"

God: "The time of the prophecy will be fulfilled as judgment is coming upon the land and there will be a time of great sorrow. Those who keep My decrees, the laws, and are quick to keep themselves from wicked doctrines will be spared.

“Those who seek righteousness and operate in the fruits of the Spirit, I will shelter from the coming storms. There will be times in which some righteous will perish amongst the rabble, but not one will fail to see My eternal salvation.

“My Church has given itself to other gods and chased after false doctrines. Those who have failed to follow My Words and practice My precepts, I will withdraw My hand of protection.

“My judgments are coming upon the churches as many hearts have grown cold and this is an adulterous generation.”

Me: “Father?”

God: “Yes, Erin.”

Me: “So, has the time of Revelation just begun? What happened? “

God: “I will discuss more of this, but in an effort to become more tolerant of sinful trends the churches have accepted things which are detestable to Me. I have not changed and made the gate wider as when did I ever say, ‘You are no longer to follow the Old Testament, which includes My Commandments?’

“Erin, I did not do such a thing. Are My Word or the laws now to be read only in part and not in whole?” I felt the rumbling of the floor. “When you scribe this, it will not be popular, Erin.”

Me: “Lord, I love You and the former things of my old life make me sick, tired, confused, afraid and uncertain about everything. However, loving You and seeking good things, Your laws, Your principles and decrees, as well as meditation on the Word of the Lord and the gift of the Holy Spirit, I feel I am rich.

“I love Your ways and sometimes I receive a harsh rebuke for things I have done, but it is given to me because I deserve it of my own doing and it comes from You being fair and just. I love having a Loving Father, a Savior, a Redeemer, a Counselor and my Best Friend.

“I am rich because I am a child of the King. I am happy to make changes when I know and can rest in the fact You have something prepared for me and this is to benefit me and not to harm me.”

God: “You delight Me, Erin, now rest as this is a new beginning for you.”

I felt Uriel bring me to my feet and out of God’s door.

Uriel: “Erin, this marks a new season in your ministry as He has begun a new thing. You will be the farmer of a very barren field and this will be a difficult task, but a good one. Are you ready?”

Me: Nodding. “Yes.”

Uriel: "Now, God is reminding you to call Him in your time of need and distress. I gave you Psalm 34 to study. You can see this in Psalm 18 and Psalm 120. Now there is another thing for you to do as Proverbs 1 to 9 is good food for this time and a way to understand what comes against you.

"Proverbs 10 to 30 is about crops and seeds and these are the types of nuggets you must study for greater wisdom. If you have questions, pray. Proverbs 31 is a wife of noble character and this is a model of how you should be in your dealings to your Groom also.

"Care about the things in which the Lord cares as you are also the Bride in Psalm 45. Now ready yourselves."

Me: "There is a lot to do."

Uriel: "One other very important thing. You must not give a platform to the enemy or give him no power over you. You have the authority which Jesus has given you over the enemy's power and he must flee at the Name of Jesus.

Now when writing, do not give into fearful stories, but only give glory to God. Your attacks have been removed or lessened by God's glory and grace, not by the enemy's schemes. You have been given authority, so now testify to God's glory and His victory over the enemy."

Me: "I will and thank you."

Uriel: "It is good to testify to God's glory, understand?"

Me: "Yes. Thankfully you have clarified this."

Uriel: "You are loved, Erin."

Dream 192 – God, the Church and Gall

(Formerly known as Final Hour 2)

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You, just thank You, as You are the lifter of my head and my greatest gift and treasure. Praise You, Father, for Your works are mighty to be praised. Father, I need help with my dreams.

Jesus: "Erin, come up."

I am immediately up on the doorstep of Jesus' House. I was excited as I had not been here in a while. I saw the beautiful channels of water flowing from His Home from the fountains. Since the door was closed and before I knocked, I decided to sit down and look over the beautiful landscape.

I saw distant orchards and a beautiful sea of colorful blossoms. I also saw cherry, almond and dogwood just to name a few. I could hear a choir of angels singing a familiar song. As they sang, I saw millions of starlings in different shades of blue, green and white create designs in the sky like a well-choreographed dance.

The time of day was morning as I could see that the sun had not risen above the highest peak yet. As I watched the sunrise, the light created a halo around the mountain.

The air was beautifully fragrant with the hint of spring and the promise of a new perfect day in God's Estate. I found myself trying to figure out where the choir was located and what song they were singing.

It seemed like a secular song I remembered from when I first became a Christian back around 1993 or 1994. This was a year of casting off all of my prior new age religion practices completely and beginning my full commitment to Jesus. After this, I literally became ill every time I was near any former hint of this lifestyle.

I severed all ties to these former practices and ran after God and have never regretted my decision to do so. However, I still doubted my Christian ability as I failed at any attempt to 'supersize' my holy appearance. I had legalistic ways and I was quick to point out problems in others. As I thought back, I laughed and shook my head.

Me: "Oh, Father, please forgive me as I just did not get it. Thanks for loving me enough not to give up on me. I pray now that Elijah sees too that I have traded in my designer pajamas and now run after the things of You instead."

I sat for a moment and finally picked up on the song in which the choir was singing and I began to laugh. It was, 'In the House of Stone and Light' by Martin Page. I started to sing, 'Ba-Ba-Ba Da Da Da Daaa'. I then listened to the words and noticed that two parts of the song's lyrics had changed.

The first change in the lyrics was that 'Oh, Holy God, uncover me' here in Heaven was replaced by 'O Mount Kailis' on Earth. The second change was 'O Holy God, show me my soul' here in Heaven was replaced by 'Holy Lady' on Earth.

As I listened even longer, I caught that one of the new age items was also removed for the Heavenly version and now was as follows:

'It's been so long, my spirits been at war, O Holy God let me be reborn. And I will embrace Your Son upon my face, come the day I awake Your Child inside in the house of stone and light.'

The choir was led by an angel or angels with incredible voices and I began to cry as I moved my body back and forth to the music. I praised God as clearly this was a song for me as well as others who long for God.

Just then I felt a hand on my shoulder and it was Uriel with a big smile on his face.

Uriel: "I see you are dancing on the doorsteps of God's House."

Me: Laughing. "Yes. How did He make that song represent me so well? Is it not a secular song of the world?"

Uriel: "Well, He is God and He can do all things and even more. Now, and more importantly, are you sure that this song did not first originate here in Heaven? Erin, perhaps the lyrics were changed from God's inspired version here in Heaven."

Me: "I never thought about that. This is diabolical."

Uriel: "Erin, music on Earth which uplifts your spirit from a secular venue maybe does so because its roots originate from Heavenly choirs. Have you noticed that you love a certain melody, but the lyrics are worldly based?"

"Or perhaps like this one you just heard only a few lines were changed to represent gods with roots in Baal worship? Many times people pay no attention to the lyrics and these words can lead to a dark and crooked path. Now, why do you think you are here?"

Me: "Hopefully to see God, the Calendar and the Clock or to have lunch with the Lord."

Uriel: Smiling. "As written in the Heavenly version of the lyrics to this song, are you ready to rest your head here?"

Me: "Oh no...well, yes, but not yet. I am knocking on His door. but I do not want to lay down my head and rest until I have completed my race."

Uriel: "Which door would you like to knock on?"

As the choir continued to sing this song in the background, I stopped to think for a few moments as I just knew that there was more to this question.

Me: "I prefer to go to God at His Courts for counsel as this place here is a delightful place and a gift. Even though I am here now, I will reserve this for when God has invited me and I would like more direction from Him."

Uriel: "Erin, you will find God in both."

Me: "I just feel that this is a place which is my reward and that I look so forward to this at the end of this race that I would not feel comfortable enjoying this until God is satisfied that I am ready to stay. I have so many questions, like my recent dreams."

Uriel motioned for me to sit next to him on God's step.

Uriel: "Now, come and sit and share these. God requests your presence and I will take you before Him after you speak."

Me: "My dream last night seemed so real..."

Dream description begins...

I saw several sections of the western coastal states enflamed. As I stood trying to convince people to pick up and leave quickly, they would not. Some people took a few essentials which in observation looked ridiculous and one woman even grabbed some formal gowns.

I soon came upon a home with a family in the ministry. The man there told me to take his wife, children and a small rare variety of bird and flee. The man said he would remain to protect their home even though his family protested this.

The man would not fold to our pressure to leave, so I took the others in his family to a shuttle which was removing families. I looked and just five homes away the roof was on fire and spreading quickly. I then saw a woman standing in snow at the front yard of her house.

I went over to her and told her that she needed to leave. After she eventually agreed to leave, she went into her home and I followed her. This woman then went to a type of portable shrine with bizarre statues and began to fold it up into a type of easel display carrying case with a handle.

Me: "You cannot take these with us."

Woman: "But then I will not have the blessing of these."

As she tried to decide what to do and looked distraught, I saw a massive fire coming towards us. I turned the woman's attention to the approaching fire.

Me: "Either stay and this box will protect you or leave it and be set free from the fire."

Woman: "Okay."

Even though she agreed, she still tried to stuff an idol in her pocket.

Me: Sternly. "Drop it. This cannot come with us."

Woman: Reluctantly agreeing. "Okay."

Me: I looked into her eyes. "You need to decide and then do not waiver. Either stay and burn or live by leaving this behind as there is no more time."

She dropped her idol, ran toward me and reached for my hand. I was then in an area with high winds that were fanning these massive flames. I saw walls, but I did not recognize the city.

I then was in an area with grass mountains and the grass was brown. This led me to believe it was either summer or a major drought. I saw a fire halo around the mountain and a housing community near the base of this mountain.

As I stood on the residential street looking up, I could see a winding road with open bed trucks hauling cargo up to the summit of the mountain. I could see there was a fire behind the mountain. I stopped a woman who was walking towards it.

I could not tell where this was and the homes seemed foreign in style to me. I was not certain, but this might even be Israel in the West Bank area.

It was now night time as I looked above the mountain top into the clouds. The clouds were grey and puffy and I could see lights from inside the clouds.

Every now and then, I could see something in the spirit that dark figures were going against mighty angels of God and it was like a war. I then heard a mighty shout and the angels of God moved outside of the cloud, but still at attention to God.

It looked like God withdrew protection over this area as I now saw thousands of rockets being shot off. There was no time to warn anyone and there was mass destruction and loss of lives.

Drawing of a Winding Road up a Mountain in reply below...

New dream description begins...

I was in the middle of a massive piece of land and I stood on a dividing line. One of my feet was in the west and the other foot was in the east. Suddenly the ground split between the two and the land crumbled.

The land was now unstable and divided in two and looked like the area where my grandmother was from in Oklahoma. More specifically, it looked like either Norman or Euchia, but I am really not sure if this was even Oklahoma or somewhere else.

As I reviewed this more, now it seemed more like I was standing near the four corners where four states meet, but again I was not sure. Regardless, as this area broke apart, it was very real and quite frightening.

The land was barren, hot and dry and the winds destroyed everything standing. The day was clear with blue skies and it quickly turned to dark. Nothing could be undone and nothing could stop this and it was so sad.

Dream description ends.

Me: "Uriel, I then woke up tired, heavy and I remained quiet. I then began to cry at the thought of these dreams."

Uriel: "Erin, you are a messenger of news and are a scribe. Now, do messengers only deliver good news? You began delivering good news so that those with whom God has called will hear it.

"However, those who chose not to turn to the God of all Creation and the Word of God will not care about your scribing of what God has given to those who chose Him now. Erin, you were sent also as a messenger of what Paradise is like for God's people.

"God has created a special place and the Lord Himself declared it on the Cross. You are like a travel guide or maybe even like a property agent. There will be trouble coming as it is written and has been available for those who care to read it, hear it or live it.

"However, remember that it is not your burden if they do not as there are lies spoken about eternity by the enemy. The enemy has done an excellent job making people turn away from the goodness, grace and love of God.

"As you know, God will pursue His children as He is a loving Father, but there comes a point where He becomes tougher and turns up the heat. This is in hopes that the wall of pride will crumble and hearts of humility will prevail. He is mighty to save."

Me: Crying. "I am afraid. Does everyone know who God is? Is there more?"

Uriel: "It is simple, yet many complicate it. So why does God send calamity? Why does He allow the bad?"

Me: "Well, because we then realize our helplessness, our smallness and our inability to stop something massive as this seems to reveal our lack and His power. When we have a power outage, I do not try to fix something far too great for me.

"Instead, I call the electric company and ask them to send help. When we are weak and helpless, He is made strong."

Uriel: "These come so that God's power and might is displayed with His hopes that man would repent and choose Him over sin and so that hearts turn to Him and He will show compassion."

Me: "Then there will be very few turning and I see it. I see it in my dreams, on TV, on the internet and even in church that once that which was disgusting is now considered delightful. I see everything is becoming morphed between the bad and the good. This is what I saw in my dream a couple of weeks ago..."

Dream description begins:

I saw a giant cauldron over an open fire and gold being melted down. It was beautiful, brilliant and pure as angels stirred the pot. Then I saw dark figures pouring things into the pot. At first, I saw the pure gold turning into a rainbow of color.

God then called His angels away from the cauldron and I saw a frightening figure come. At first it looked like an angel, but its wings were black. It had a beautiful face and body, but it was frightening. I saw legs that were bronze with something like roots going into the soil.

I then saw dark figures pouring vessels into the mix. I saw labels on the vessels with some script I did not know the origin of, but I knew these to be princes of these weapons or vessels of corruption of the gold.

I then saw this massive evil entity stir the melting liquid and it looked like tar. It was no longer pure and the tar was black and fiery. The figure glanced at me as I watched in horror as it poured the cauldron over people as they slept.

Dream description ends...

Me: "I then woke up frightened. Uriel, I miss my old visions and dreams of Heaven."

Uriel: "Erin, if you no longer want to be used of God, then you must go to Him with this."

Me: I reached for Uriel's arm. "No, wait. Forgive me."

Uriel: "I do not grant forgiveness, Erin, for I am but a servant of God. You have not offended me and I hold nothing against you. Now you must seek God on this matter as He requests your presence."

I nodded and immediately we were in front of God's door. The door was open and the light shining out was so beautiful and bright. It was such a harsh contrast to my recent dreams.

I turned to Uriel and he put salve in my eyes and brought me into God's presence. My body began to waiver under God's power. As Uriel moved me closer, my knees finally buckled as all of the cells in my body dropped to worship Him.

I collapsed on my knees with my face forward and noticed with fascination the beautiful sapphire stones with such incredible depth. These stones seemed like they were alive, breathing and worshipping God. 'Even the rocks cry out to God' (Luke 19:40).

I heard the choir of angels sing, "Holy, Holy, Holy is the Lord God Almighty, Who was and is and is to Come!" On this particular day though, it seemed like this song had a different meaning.

I realized that I simply cannot fully comprehend the times we are in. This saddened me and I wept on the stones of sapphire with my face to the floor.

Me: "Oh, Father, the world is numb and they have been deceived, but really all of us are deceived. If darkness overcomes all that is good in the world, who will remain to testify to Your good news?"

"If the witnesses are in Jerusalem, then what broadcast will show the rest of the world if it is the god of the world who controls the outlet? Can I intercede for those who sin without knowledge of truth? Can I do anything? I feel helpless as this is impossible for me.

"Lord, I cannot even remove the enemy from tormenting my household, let alone anyone else's. Please, Father; grant me the ability as only You can. My heart wants to help and shout, but whose ears will turn?"

"I am grieving and my heart aches. Oh Father, You have shown me what is coming and more than likely in my days here. I love You, Father, so please do not forsake us and do not forget us.

"Please send Jesus to rescue us before the times of trouble as who will endure it? I remember I was once lost and of the world, but now I am ill. When I have these nightmares, there is bitter gall in my throat. I have no desire to travel and no desire to keep pretending.

"Please, Father, show me how to speak tenderly and have compassion for those who chase after other gods and turn them to You. Grant me the ability to heal broken hearts, drive out demons and show kindness to those who hate me, all of this in Your Name.

"Father, there are people I know at my daughter's school who display healing miracles by new age methods. These people mock Your ability and lead some astray with these unholy means. Oh, Father, please help me."

God: "Erin, I have heard you. Are you able to continue?"

Me: "I cannot on my own, Father, as I am only able through Your call and capable through Your strength. You know me and only You know."

God: "Then surrender to me, Erin, as I did not call you in your strength. I called you in your weakness, so therefore let Me carry you."

Me: Crying. "Oh, Father, I see trouble and it is awful. How do I reconcile my heart?"

God: I felt He was smiling. "Oh, have you not reconciled yourself to Me? I believe you have. You are distraught and you speak of gall. Explain why."

Me: "After these dreams, I tasted something bitter."

God: "This is not gall, Erin, as gall is poison. What you experience is from your stomach or your belly. My Son was offered gall mixed with wine and he refused it. This is poison mixed with the delight of the world meant to dull the pain of it and is bitter water. What did I recently speak to you about personally?"

Me: Instantly I remembered. "I was bothered about unclean drinking water all over the world after I saw a commercial of thirsty children. I felt guilty for having clean water."

God: "What did I tell you?"

Me: "You reminded me that my calling was for fresh water to those who thirst. You reminded me that You provide a vessel to fill and pour forth from the water at the well."

God: "Then what is bitter water?"

Me: "Hmm, bitter water does not quench thirst?"

God: "Yes, but gall comes from serpents. If gall is mixed with pure water, then it is poisoned. What is good water?"

Me: "What Jesus offers is good water to satisfy our thirsty souls. He refreshed us with this Word and we are alive with His water. The world mixes what is good water with bitter water, poisoning our souls."

God: "This is like the time of Jeremiah and you are troubled like Jeremiah. Now you have been pulled out of the cistern and you are troubled. You cannot return to the former things and you cannot reverse time.

"You are hated because you speak of fresh water, but the world calls you a hypocrite because you turn to Me. I am hated because people lack, but they never think they hate because they lack Me as no one likes to change.

"Now, Jeremiah, Job and James spoke of gall, but the enemy offered Jesus this water to tempt Him and mock Him one final time. Very few notice this because it is the same today, but it is freely accepted as good water. It is better to die of physical thirst than to drink this serpent water.”

I then felt a rumble and the floor of God's Court opened and there before me I saw people drinking freely of this water and some were made drunk from it. I saw massive churches using gall mixed with wine in communions.

I then saw something like a massive curtain or veil cover the heads of these people in the congregations. I heard priests and preachers making the Word of God palatable so it could be consumed like bread. However, the bread representing Christ was mixed with this bitter water and wine.

The people looked almost like zombies. Things which were sinful were made pure and things pure were made sinful, but all subtly. I then saw a small church where a preacher spoke with Godly authority and they served good words of truth and they drank pure water.

I looked in the pews, but there were only a handful of people accepting this. I then saw a massive church in the west that was very wealthy. I saw the acceptance of all sexual orientations, yoga classes and other things.

I saw a banner claiming that Jesus loves everyone and He accepts everyone into His sanctuary. The banner referenced Luke 5:32, but implied something different than what God intended, ‘I have not come to call the righteous, but sinners will be saved.’

It was subtly declaring that it is okay to continue because God accepts sinful lifestyles. It also removed the last line which calls for sinners to repent.

I then saw other churches that were operating in an oppressive legalistic manner. I saw the demons yoking believers in the pews with shame, taking Scriptures out of context and using them as weapons.

I saw communion elements again with bitter gall. I saw these poor people believing themselves to be unworthy, unloved and not capable of God's salvation. It was a church of salvation by personal holiness and acts of service to the pastor.

This church was void of the Holy Spirit. I saw angels unable to operate in the very words of this pastor and the doctrine did not permit miracles today.

Me: Crying. “Oh, Father, this is now. This is in real earthly time now.”

He then directed me to another massive church in the south and I saw the bitter gall served again. The congregation was again like zombies. The message was easy to digest and did not require repentance, just mild resistance. It said it was okay to sin and that all are accepted, but please give.

I saw guilt offerings and massive amounts of money given in exchange for penance. Instead of repentance, they were paying penance to reach a church's financial goals. This was giving in exchange for prayers of blessing and it was a church of greed.

Me: "So this bad water has caused this new breed of 'Christian zombies'?"

God: "This is not new and these are not Christians."

Me: "So what can I do, Father?"

God: "Surrender all to Me and do not allow what you see to keep you from Me. I see you are sad, but name a happy prophet or carrier of good news or bad. You are to write plainly and you are to focus on Me as I have not done this to harm you. This is enough for today."

Uriel put his hand on my shoulder.

Me: "Father, I love You. Please protect us and keep us from this gall mixed with water."

God: "When it is offered to you, be firm, stand and shine like My Son. When you need Me, call Me as I am here for you and will answer when you call for help."

Me: "Thank You."

God: "I will see you soon, so do not worry as you are loved."

Uriel took me out the door.

Uriel: "Erin, do not be discouraged as you have been granted wisdom. Now pray."

Me: "I pray for discernment as this landscape lacks truth in color. It is like a gray landscape and it is false and void of God."

Uriel: "Remember to love according to God's Word. This is for you from the Lord in Genesis 50:20-21. There is more to this even on the surface..."

"'You intended to harm me, but God intended it for good to accomplish what is now being done, the saving of many lives. So then, don't be afraid. I will provide for you and your children and he spoke kindly and reassured her.'"

"Erin, now you have been shown these things to understand the times you are in, so surrender fully to God's will. He is instructing you in the ways you should go to help others."

"Now pray that this gall is not received as those who choose to drink bitter water are satisfied with the world. Drink from the water offered to you by Jesus and you will live. Do not worry or be afraid. Pray."

Dream over...

As I awoke from this dream, I immediately felt a call to fast and pray this upcoming week.

In these twenty seven dreams that form this seventh book, Jesus continues to ramp up the prophecy of things that will be seen both as we approach the Rapture and after the Rapture. These are frightening in a way, but yet awesome in that God reminds us that He foretold of all of this to remind us that He is in control. He constantly reminds us not to fear, but always look to Him, especially when we worry.

As I will mention in each of the excerpts, each of the seven books, with the eighth book in the works, have bits and pieces that work with each other. For example, though the residing theme in The Final Hour is, well, prophecy related to this The Final Hour, the themes of the other dreams contained in The Invitation, The Blacksmith, The Mansions, The House of God, The Exodus and The Prophecies, as well as the Tribulation, all reside in each of these books including this one as the theme of The Final Hour sometimes appears in each of these as well.

While there is so much in this book about the Lord's plans and how mysterious they remain, the following is a prophecy that includes the hammering of the four corners of USA as the "Bull" (Trump?) arises to cause chaos.

While the actual interpretation of this dream cannot be known with certainty, there is interesting prophecy as to how this will all play out including an enhanced roll by the "Bull". So far this summer of 2016 has been an interesting one to watch and you simply have to see for yourself if this dream from the winter before called it like we see it now playing out...

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day and for all that You have done for me. Thank You for the fast as it drew me closer into You, but I so long to be even closer still.

I have seen many things and events in my dreams. These are disturbing as I watch our world transform into something so dark and then even much darker than now. I never thought it was possible to see all of this happen in my lifetime.

I thank You so much for showing me how wonderful You are. You drew me into a complete love relationship with You as my Father and Jesus as my Groom right before the coming times.

If You had not done this, I am not certain I would have been able to know that You are keeping us close and under Your mighty wings. Oh, how wonderful it feels to have You close. I love You so much and You are my treasure and my jewel.

The amazing thing about You is that You are right in front of us, all around us and in us if we invite You in. The gifts You bestow on us are those of great worth in the Kingdom of Heaven, but of little value in the material world as drawing near to You comes at a price.

There is a curtain between those You call Your own and the rest of the world. This curtain is the veil and this type of veil allows us to go further into Your presence into the Holy of Hollies. I once remained caught peaking inside under the curtain, then back out again.

Quite simply, I was afraid and for good reason as this is a choice which is bold, daring and courageous and takes sacrifice. When entering into Your presence, we know that our faith will be tested and these tests are allowed so we develop endurance.

I hear the enemy's voice calling from outside of the curtain. Even as I enter into Your presence, Father, I hear shouts of, 'Erin, you are not worthy to enter through the curtain or door into God's presence. This is an illusion and you are delirious as God would never choose someone like you.'

However, as I draw even nearer to You, Father God, and into Your Courts, I can no longer hear those voices. Instead I can only hear the choirs of angels, the smell of jasmine, roses and something like musk oil.

The aroma is amazing and the presence of God is light and airy, yet His anointing presence is thick like honey and I can taste it on my lips. I become overwhelmed at the fact that He would allow me to enter in. Who am I? Really, who am I?

Lord, I thank You for all that I have been given and for You not giving up on me. I even thank You for these constant trials. This hammering punishment over the years removed that 'self' who sought to consistently remove Your blessings over and over.

While I am still not perfect and never will be on Earth, I am learning to let go of the former things and let You take me. I thank You also for the memory of Your miracles in my journals. I thank You for these glorious records as without them Your miracles are lost by the world's troubles.

Thank You that Your miracles are greater than the world's troubles. I thank You also for my children, who keep me focused on You. When I am downcast, they remind me of Your promises and, when they are downcast, I can remind them also.

Father, I also want to thank You for one other thing. I thank You for my pain! Yes, I know this does not make sense from a worldly view, but pain is what pierces the very veil which can keep us from You.

There is a point with searing pain in which you either pass out from holding on tightly to it or you just give in and let it go. When you give it to God, He takes it and replaces it with peace. It is the most difficult thing I have ever had to do, but giving God my pain then allowed me to breathe and breathe deep.

Jesus: "Erin, come up."

Today I was up in Heaven just off of God's path and sitting beside a beautiful waterfall which leads into a beautiful stream. The sounds were amazing as some of the rocks sounded almost hollow as the water fell on them, which made music as a result.

I noticed that the bottom or bed where the falls meet the river was layered in gold sand like shiny gold. The light made the gold glimmer as the water was crystal clear. I decided to bend over and take a drink from the waterfall.

The water tasted more amazing than any water on Earth. I sat back down and watched the force of the waterfall pound the rocks. Each rock going down had a spoon-like dip in it from the force of the water over time.

I laughed at the thought of these rocks becoming concave and making gold dust at the bottom of the river from the pounding. The sound was beautiful, so I laid down to rest as the grass surrounding the river was soft and inviting. I could smell the sweet grass and the warm sun felt wonderful.

Me: "Thank You, Father, for bringing me here."

I then must have fell asleep as I awoke some time later to a tap on my shoulder. I sat up to see Uriel bent down with his arms resting on his knees.

Uriel: Smiling. "So, Erin, did you have a nice rest?"

Me: "How long was I asleep?"

Uriel: Chuckling. "A while."

Me: "Did I miss anything?"

Uriel: "No, as there is no 'missing' anything up here."

Me: "My rest was amazing and I have never slept so peacefully. I would like to sleep up here more often."

Uriel: "You still have time for this now or you can come with me as God requests your presence."

Me: I quickly jumped up to my feet. "Oh, I would like to go see God, please!"

Uriel: Laughing. "Okay."

He reached his hand out and I took his invitation. Instantly we were in front of God's door and it was open. Uriel put salve into my eyes and we entered into His Courts.

This time I saw something I had not seen before. I saw the entire surrounding area and it was massive. I saw something like beams of white light shooting out from God's Throne literally creating a massive corona effect.

I smiled as this must be where the idea of a halo or crown originated from. The searing light illuminated the elements of the room and I saw something like a Courthouse room, but more elaborate than anything I had seen in Heaven up until now.

I have been in earthly courtrooms and these pale in comparison to this. I could look around myself for the first time, but not in great detail. I was so small compared to God, just so small. I dropped to my knees and worshiped God.

The sound of the choirs of angels came from the other side of these massive columns. I felt myself shaking as the cells in my body moved to the music as every “Holy, Holy, Holy!” seemed to be absorbed by my body.

I began to weep as I thought I had failed during my fast when I became very sick. I was not sure I would be in His presence again after this. I then felt a rumble in the Court.

God: “Erin, speak.”

Me: “Father, when I became sick during the second day of my fast, I thought You were unhappy with me and I did not understand it. Gall was coming up and I could not stop it. Then I would fall back asleep and I would have horrible dreams.

“Some of these dreams were with current and past enemies and others were with events I did not understand. I repented with all of my heart just in case.”

God: “Erin, I heard your cries and I honored and will honor your prayer request. What did you learn during your fast?”

Me: “I felt I was literally vomiting out my enemies. I was so weak as You showed me attacks and it humbled me.”

God: “On the first day, you submitted to Me and spent time in repentance. On the second day, you faced your enemies, stood your ground and obeyed. Then on the third day, you quieted yourself and worshiped Me. I do not understand what the problem was?”

Me: “You had given me easier fasts before, and although they were humbling, You had strengthened me to easily get through them.”

God: “Perhaps this was the better fast as you had more to lose physically. You also have more enemies now and you purged them. Are you feeling better?”

Me: Smiling. “Yes, Father, much better.”

God: "This was an important gift you gave to Me as I know how difficult it was for you, therefore I will bless you abundantly because of this. Now, you have questions?"

Me: "Thank You, Father, for allowing me to purge myself of these. I need help with the dreams I have had this week and I am uncertain what these mean. I had one of these dreams this Thursday morning..."

Dream description begins...

I woke up after an angel showed me the Earth in 3-D. It was rotating on its axis, but the angel stopped the Earth's rotation when we went over Africa and the Middle East. I saw several countries highlighted, but Libya was particularly highlighted.

The angel then told me that trouble is coming from here and not just a little trouble either. I then saw what seemed like a wave of God's hand and the floor in the Courts separated and now I saw a map of the Earth.

There God illuminated several regions. As I scanned the territories, I saw 22 countries surrounding Israel and they were highlighted in dark green. I then saw the country of Libya illuminate and pop-up and a massive black cobra with red eyes over this green illuminated country.

I then saw something like a plane or fast object land to the north of Israel, but off the shore and into the area of Lebanon. There I saw a plot against Israel and that something was about to come upon Israel.

I then saw something I did not understand. There were three great birds unlike anything I had seen before flying over Israel's dome. I saw two birds trying to take down one, but being unsuccessful. I then saw one of the birds fall.

I then looked to the west and saw the United States. I still saw the four massive angels continuing to pound the USA, wherein the middle and the south of the country received the worst hits. I saw news agencies editing out massive amounts of information.

I then saw something like a massive red bull with horns running across the land. It had been sent by God to stir up the landscape. I saw matadors wearing white, red and blue trying to spear it, but its muscles were like iron and nothing could penetrate it.

I saw something being signed and handshakes in meetings behind closed doors in the USA capital and that these angered God. The angel to the south stirred up the seas and the air and with force tried to humble the land, but it was not to be.

I then saw a massive business or entity with many colors leave the land to another land in the east. I saw massive immigration from cities to higher areas. I saw the ten leaders redirecting their strategies to circumvent God's attacks.

I then looked back down to Israel and I saw a massive canister. It was about to come upon the nation, but I could not tell if this was coming from Lebanon or elsewhere. Regardless, it came from nowhere and descended upon Jerusalem.

Dream description ends...

Me: "Father, will You not please send the Lord for us prior to all of this? Oh, please!"

God: "Erin, the time of Jacob's Trouble is coming and My judgment is coming upon the land. Her enemies will be consumed by the strength of Heaven's armies and these will suffer a seven-fold judgment."

I looked and I saw earthquakes, pestilence, blood-shed from fear, flooding rain, massive hailstones, fire and brimstone. These came as quickly as waves. I saw lines in angles sweeping the 22 enemies of God.

Me: "We will be gone before this, right?"

God: "Do not worry, Erin, as you will not see this happen on Earth."

Me: "Is this because the media will not cover it?"

God: "This too will happen as the times of the prophecies for the latter days have come."

Me: "So there is judgment on the land and the churches? Then will Israel be called into repentance and her enemies judged?"

God: "This is enough for today, Erin, as it is now time to search that which is written for your gauge."

Just then, I felt Uriel reach for my arm and bring me to my feet.

Me: "Thank You, Father. I love You."

God: "I love you too. Remember to write plainly. If you are uncertain, then pray to Me and I will illuminate this to clarify. Remember, you are loved."

Uriel took me outside of God's door.

Me: "I am scared, Uriel."

Uriel: "I understand, but do not be scared as this is from the enemy. Now these messages will not be as positive, but do not worry."

Me: "God is angry and there is trouble coming to the world."

Uriel: "This is written and is of no surprise. Now, you had a question about another dream?"

Me: "Oh, yes, I had a dream of a coiled up cobra of day-glow green. I saw it strike a phone and then become a case of illuminated green snake skin around the phone. Then I saw the snake go into the phone. What does it mean?"

Uriel: "There is a parallel world which was allowed by God during this time. There is the physical world you see, then there is the world of the air, not to be confused by the spiritual realm, but it is very much so the same and run by the prince of the air.

"Now the strength of this is that it can strike its venomous blows by lightning speed and many times then slithers out without a trace. There is no border with your land here other than the power in your on and off switch. Do not fall victim to the schemes of the enemy.

“Now remember to always be on guard with your whole armor. Remember who you are and that you reside here in Heaven. Remember that you are a clarion and you have received the clarion call.

“Now go forth in victory as in Psalm 45, Erin, as the Bride is soon to rise up. Look to the prophets in His Word, the Lamp. You will see these prophecies unfold before your very eyes as you are living in these days. God will have the last word, so do not be afraid.

“Now study the last eight books of the Bible through to Revelation ending in chapter 22. There are items the Holy Spirit will illuminate for you. Do not worry or be afraid, but take heart.”

Dream 194 – God, Truth, Night & Revelation 22

(Formerly known as Final Hour 4)

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for all that You have done, for my family and for my safe place. Thank You for Your love, generosity and kindness and for blessing us. We are small, but through You we are mighty.

Father, my heart is heavy as I have had several open visions of trouble coming to the lands. Troubles here though seem mostly as a result of our treatment of Israel as America has become rebellious against Your laws. Now, every negative fruit is on display, purchased and even declared as 'good food to eat'.

You then showed me Israel and that she is a very small speck of land compared to the lands surrounding her. This little property of Yours prospers abundantly and makes her enemies rage. The lands surrounding Israel are war torn deserts with crumbling governments and foundations.

I saw a five-fold attack coming against Israel and that attacks on the world soon followed. I saw the now 'once great' nation of the USA consumed by troubles. Indeed, I saw so much trouble in the USA that the news agencies failed to even recognize this little piece of Your Holy Land when it was attacked.

These attacks reminded me of the five stones David put into his bag against Goliath, yet he only needed one as You, God, were with him. I saw the sons of Goliath rise up and attack the City of David with five stones, each more deadly than the last. I am not sure if this is in the spiritual realm, the physical realm or both, but we are right in this time.

In contrast, time continues to move forward here as I sit in peace. I hear the sounds of birds chirping, see the buds finally coming on the trees and that there are deer grazing peacefully in the yard. Only patches of snow are now visible as the winter is soon to pass.

I am not sure as I pray from my devotional chair today if I am any wiser than I once was even three years ago, but I have learned that to wait on You comes with maturity. I am also not certain I am closer to having the trouble which is soon to come as You have shown me.

As a result, I have learned to savor and enjoy each moment and cling to anything which is normal. In just three years, I realize time has accelerated and, even though I was complaining about circumstances in the world then, now these events and the climate in the church community has become far worse.

The world we once knew has left us and many are sleeping. Sin is so commonly acceptable that no one even turns their heads away from it. The very truth in news and media is actually a slanted lie designed to fashion hearts and rally troops either for or against a secret agenda.

Treachery is so rampant and so blatant, yet so diabolically subtle, people are unaware. Who will stand for You God? Who will really stand for God? Who loves You, Lord? Who has forsaken all others and ran to You? Who will speak truth over those who lie with honey on their lips?

There is no one expecting trouble from Your pulpits. Those who preach that which is in Your Word and even foretold by the prophets over two thousand years ago are called to use obstructed tongues. Truth is not easy to swallow and gall is formed from the belly of snakes.

I am worried, Father, and my heart aches and my stomach turns at what is coming as there is no cure here and no turning away from what comes. All I can do is repent and pray. As for me and my house, we will stand and serve the Lord God and have been called to repent.

Matthew 22:14, 'Many have been called, but few are Chosen.' I know now why Exodus 34:15-16 states that 'you cannot serve both man and God'. It is difficult to separate from the world, Father, but my heart no longer chases the things of the world because the quality has been removed and the cost is high.

Lord, the price is just too great and I have become extremely thankful for the wonderful things we have. I thank You for granting me my portion when there was good to be found. I am now thankful for provisions as our car is sturdy and reliable, we have heat and power and we have clothing and food.

I thank You, Father, as so many people all over the world lack. In comparison to our situation, I feel like a queen. Psalm 16:9, 'You make my heart glad and my tongue rejoices; my body too shall rest and confidently dwell in safety.'

I am not certain what tomorrow might bring upon the land. I am not certain about when You will come for us. However, I am certain You love us and You will come at the appointed time.

Trouble will come, but we are in Your hands and I can find rest under Your wings. Please grant me wisdom, Father, to write that which glorifies You and diminishes me. I love You.

Jesus: "Erin, come up."

I found myself up in Heaven at a place I had never been before. I was standing on a beautiful large rock made of snowy quartz. The stone was illuminated from the ground and I suddenly realized that in Heaven even the ground below me is not dark, but made from light.

Please allow me to explain. I noticed that when I see translucent stones or glass that these are illuminated and the light originates from below ground. This is illuminated not by fire, but by God's light. I smiled as I thought this would make it impossible for one to build a dark tunnel below ground as the tunnel would be a light tunnel.

Me: "Wow, God, You are incredible and not just a little incredible as You are even beyond any words to describe You. You are the great 'I AM' and I am thankful to be Your child. What an honor."

I began to cry as I turned around and looked. There before me was the sky in Heaven right after sundown or dusk. The sky went from shades of gold from the horizon line to pinks, purples and a beautiful deep blue. I saw colored stars and the constellations so clearly as I sat on the illuminated quartz boulder.

Me: "Father, thank You for not removing stars and the night sky in Heaven. Thank You for keeping sunsets and sunrises. Thank You for allowing us to enjoy Your glory light '24/7' in earthly terms in the City of God, but allowing Your wonderful displays of glory all over Heaven for our enjoyment. Thank You for rest here."

I sat for some time and looked out over this small valley area in Heaven. I then felt a hand on my shoulder and looked up and saw Uriel smiling at me. He then motioned for me to remain where I was and then sat beside me.

Uriel: "So, Erin, what do you think?"

Me: "It is beautiful, but controversial as it is believed that there is no night in Heaven nor is there any shadow, yet I have seen them both, along with the stars, constellations and the Aura Borealis, which all display God's glory."

Uriel: "God will answer your questions as He has shown you both nights in Heaven as well as rest."

"It is written in Revelation 22:3-5, 'The Throne of God and of the Lamb will be in the City and those once captive will serve Him. They will see His face and His name will be on their foreheads. Night will no longer exist and people will not need lamplight or sunlight, because the Lord God will give them light, and they will reign forever and ever.'

"The City does not need the sun or the moon to shine on it because God's glory illuminates it and its lamp is the Lamb. The nations will walk in its light and the kings of the Earth will bring their glory into it."

"Each day its gates will never close because it will never be night there. This is in Revelation 21:23-25. Erin, what does this mean? What have you been shown?"

Me: "Well, the Throne of God and where He is resides in the City of God and is brighter than the sun. Even if the sun were to shine upon it, the glory of God is greater than the sun's light. God's glory illuminates it like a lamp from within even as our Shepherd the Lamb of God illuminates our path to His Throne."

Just then, and right before my eyes, I saw a Garden of Light. I saw fountains of water springing up from below the surface all illuminated in colors. The ground was illuminated from below and water cascaded over beautiful walls into channels and pools similar to earthly infinity pools.

I saw fountains spring from them in different shapes and displays, but the water was 'Living Water'. I began to cry as never in my life had I seen such a beautiful sight next to Jesus and God's Throne Room of His glory.

Uriel reached for my hand and we were instantly on the beautiful illuminated path through this Garden of Living Water. Uriel motioned for me to drink and I ran over underneath archways of water and put my cupped hands into the stream.

My hands filled with this water which seemed alive and seemed to be truly breathing. While I had seen this before, I did not truly understand this until this very moment. As I write this open vision, I felt wave after wave of warmth and heat like healing waves come over my body.

As I drank this living water, I felt something come over me that felt like new life. I drank deeply and then scooped more. I turned to Uriel as if I had discovered something remarkable which was really there the entire time.

The Lord had baptized me in this water and this all flows from God, yet here I am just now figuring out that this is living water. Uriel then pointed down to a stone below this fountain and I saw in scribe etched on this stone the words, 'Mayim Hayim'.

Me: "What does this mean?"

Uriel: "It means 'Living water', Erin. Now God requests your presence."

He put his hand out and I walked over to him and took his hand. While I was still in shock at my discovery of the obvious, we were instantly in front of God's open door. Uriel reached over and put salve in my eyes and then brought me into the Throne Room of God.

While Uriel brought me closer to the Throne than last time, I was still so far away. The cells in my body dropped as my knees went to the sapphire floor. I stayed there and I worshiped God with my head dropped.

I suddenly realized that my heart was heavy today as the weight of the world was on my shoulders. I saw images of ravished cities and tearful children in my mind and wept.

God: "Erin, speak that which burdens you."

Me: "I cannot lie in Your Court, Father, nor can I speak what I would like truth to be according to my will. Speaking truth when my heart does not behold it is also a lie. It is different to hear truth and to speak it when it is not honey to the ears."

God: "Yes, but you are not Me and truth is Mine to reveal and yours to behold. Therefore, do not be silent. Am I Who I say I am and am I Your Creator?"

Me: "Yes, Father."

God: "Then let Me be truth and you are to write what you are instructed as I will preserve you during times of trouble. Now, why would I lead My angel to speak about Heaven if there was nothing to uncover here?"

"If My Word is a Lamp unto your feet, thereby it lights your path, would I then make your path purposely crooked to trip you up or would I dimly light it with half a flame? No, I would not. So what truth is written and what truth is not?"

"Where is it written that Sabbath rest is no longer good? Where is it written that I declared the moon removed from My sight for eternity? One has only to read what is written to understand, yet none pray prior to scribing that which is contrary.

"I tell you that I did not send them to interpret this with no leading as this I did not do. What have you seen of Heaven which does not delight you?"

Me: "Oh, Father, Heaven is incredible and I have been deceived by not reading the Scripture myself and relying on those You have not sent instead. I believed and was told when I was a child that Heaven is always full of blinding light.

"I was told that all we do is worship on our knees to You without stop and we constantly praise You. I was told that there is no sleep and nothing to do but praise You right here on our knees."

God: "Oh, so you never drink of the River of Life, eat fruit from the Tree of Life or walk the Streets of Gold? Or if I prepared a place for you and I have a Mansion with many Rooms, what does this mean? Did I instead only prepare a floor to kneel on and worship Me?"

I began to feel the rumble of the floor and it shook.

Me: "It is confusing to so many."

God: "Erin, My Word is a Lamp, so when did I say I declare the opposite? Do not listen to fools. You can read my Word a hundred times and you can even memorize it, but if there is no Lamp to light the path, illuminating the knowledge upon your heart, then this is meaningless.

"I have prepared many dwelling places here. I have prepared feasts and banquets, celebrations and even other events which seem to line up with My Word, yet appear contrary to popular commentary. Do not be deceived."

Me: "Forgive me, Father, for my ignorance as You have made so much clear to me and it lines up with Your Word. You make things simple for those who require it and you make things complex for those who expect it. There are layers and layers of Scripture, but only one God."

God: "Erin, I have prepared a beautiful place here for all who love Me. Those who believe in My Son shall not perish, but have everlasting life. The enemy has sold many of you lies.

“You are taught the ways of eternal life through the Word and the Holy Spirit, the Spirit of Truth, My flame in you. You are a lantern of My truth. Do not listen to those who claim to know Me, but through their own commentary are far from Me.

“These are the same ones like those in the synagogues who love to hear themselves speak. They were sent to make you feel as if you are unable to stand upright before Me. These are the same ones who adhere to earthly ceremonies, rituals, prayer vigils, fasts and church gatherings.

“These are wolves in sheep's clothing, sent to deceive many. You will know them by their fruit. These introduce practices from foreign religions and bring them into My church, declaring them Holy, thereby desecrating My sanctuary and destroying My Words to make it more popular.

“Those who choose to sleep then stay in slumber. Those who choose to live then awake and get up so you may live. Rise with your lamps and keep oil in your lamps continuously. Do not let your flame be removed.

“Do not store it under your bed as it will not light your room. Put your lamp where it can be seen and your path will be illuminated. Do not hide the flame within you. Stay alert.”

Me: “Thank You, Father.”

God: “I love You.”

Uriel brought me up to my feet and out of God's door.

Me: “Uriel, have I done this? Am I the wolf?”

Uriel: “Erin, if you were, He would no longer speak to you. You worry about each message as if you are guilty.”

Me: “Well, I have fallen victim to not reading God's Word and relying on commentary for answers, so I feel guilty. I still felt I should repent.”

Uriel: “Then this is good as God is showing you that you must keep your flame burning. Remain in His Word your lamp and keep your lamp out where others can see you, but most importantly where God can see you.”

Me: “You mean Jesus, my Groom?”

Uriel: “Yes, you are a Bride, so time to study Jewish marriages and traditions to see a pattern in His Word as this is wisdom. Also study Song of Solomon 4:15 as you are His delight, Erin, and you are like a fountain. Now, you have questions.”

Me: “Yes, I see the time of Jacob's Trouble coming and I believe her enemies are using five forms of attacks against them. I see Libya, Lebanon and three others. I see leaders with no land making commands over these attacks.

“While this happens, I still see trouble upon the USA from the four angels on the four corners as these pounding punishments continue. However, the fires and the shaking, as well as the hurricanes, have not yet begun. When will this be?”

Uriel: “It has already begun and is like a harbinger. Tell me about your dream you recently had.”

Dream description begins...

I saw several foundations crumbling as a very secure structure in a distant city imploded upon itself. I saw a massive crowd stomping on a vat of cherries. I heard four people yelling at the tops of their lungs.

Person 1: “These cherries will make sweet wine.”

Person 2: “How much? How much for this bottle of wine?”

Person 3: “There is no price which can be put on it. These have been pre-purchased and come at a very high price.”

I saw the bottles of wine being shipped out in wooden crates to a distant land overseas, along with furniture and other items. I then saw people cutting down cherry trees.

Person 4: “There will be no more harvesting cherries. It is over.”

Then I saw the west coast of the USA. I saw the grapes on vines shrivel up to raisins faster than harvesters could pick them and there were now no grapes to make wine.

Worker: “No wine as it is gone and there will be nothing to get drunk from. What will we do?”

I then saw fires raging quickly as the Earth rumbled. There was no water to put the fires out and nothing to remedy the dry land. I then saw corn fields from the northern regions. To the south I saw massive floods and ravished land parched and cracking.

Man: “Where is the harvest? What will we eat? We will starve!”

I then saw several massive cities in searing heat with no fresh water. People were sweltering from heat and I saw blackouts and civil unrest.

Dream description ends...

Me: “Uriel, this is horrible.”

Uriel: “First you saw the country's fruits being removed, deported elsewhere and given to others. This was the plunder and fruit and the nation's wealth was gone. Then there was no wine to drink. The drunkenness will turn to frightening sobriety as there will be no luxuries. Then there will be rationing of food supplies, heat and unrest.”

Me: "So is this now?"

Uriel: "Have the angels not begun the punishment of the land? When will this stop? There is no repentance and no humility."

Me: "What of the giant bull?"

Uriel: "This bull is under God's power and it will remain."

Me: "There is so much news to report, but most of it on TV is not good."

Uriel: "There will be so much coming so quickly that they will have no time to fashion a script or set an agenda. Many will not have the ability to even view what has and will occur. There is so much not disclosed, but you are not to focus on this. Continue on your course and pray for revelation if you have questions."

"God has assigned angels concerning you to guard you in all your ways. You are about to be raised up in a new way for God's glory, Erin, and you will be in awe. Now, remember the last eight books of His Word will be a light for your path. You will receive divine revelation about what you see around you. You will pray and receive."

Me: "I do not understand, but I am excited."

Uriel: "You will be amazed and rejoice. Now take time to pray, praise Him and rejoice. You are loved."

Dream 195 – God, America & Israel

Received Sunday, March 20, 2016

(Formerly known as Final Hour 5)

Communion - First part on Saturday, March 19, 2016.

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day. Thank You for my children. Thank You for my friends and family, our greatest supporters. Father, I've been downcast and disheartened. You delivered me and my children safely home, yet I noticed something different. I'm hated even more than before, without merit and beyond reason. I experienced true hate. I have always encountered "haters" of me for no reason, but it seems the atmosphere around us has changed and I mean everywhere.

This week, our communications have been down. Both of my sources are not working and neither is our landline phone. We are waiting and praying for a divine healing in our ability to communicate with the world. More importantly, we all anticipate our soon healing. Even more so, we all are suffering from situational depression.

I feel exhausted and burned out. I know this is from the enemy. At night my dreams are turbulent. Surely, we are in the last hour because so much is being revealed in the natural which aligns with Scriptures, now more than ever. I can barely watch the news as I am unsure about the truth of what is being told. I feel in my heart that most things news worthy are not being told.

I had one dream about this massive machine with large teeth out of control, tilling the ground, like a piece of massive farm equipment. I've seen this thing before in my dreams. It was frightening, yet, in my dream, I was protected and only observed.

I had a dream about a massive sieve. It was dropped over the land of America. It was like a flour sifter, like a filter which only allowed certain things. Instead of flour, I saw words. Controlling the mechanism was a series of demons. The demons were filtering truth by only allowing certain things to be scattered on the air waves.

This group of demons appeared like spiders. They had several legs and worked with the dark demons from the web or World Wide Web, the enemy's new web of deceit over the world, the ruler with no land. I saw mighty Angels of God waiting for God's commands and being held back, only allowed to stop that which God is not allowing.

There is a war above us which continues. I saw these spider demons over satellites and attached to them. Many of these were like warriors, but also navigating forces. When I would see one go into an area God didn't grant permission, I saw a mighty angel cut it down and a new demon take its place.

The angels of God were appointed as guards over these evil entities. However, they looked as if they were ready at God's command to destroy the entire web.

I then saw a distant land very far away. All of this evil was being controlled by these ten princes. I saw them ramping up their strategies against God's land, people and angels. They were upset about two things; the red uncontrollable Bull and Israel. I had never seen such anger and hate against God.

I then saw storms. I saw four angels on the four corners of the USA continue to pound the Earth, commanding massive tools, like hammers, nails and chains. I saw them work in succession and in harmony with the red bull. Everywhere God sent the bull, the massive storms would be at the heel, right upon it or even slightly before it arrived in an area.

The power of these angels was immense. If these angels were granted permission by God to unleash full power upon the land, then America would not survive. The demons were in fear of the angels and the bull. The princes were also. I saw plots being hurled in a series of attacks on the land. Each prince controlled a principality. One controlled filtered news; one controlled the right and one controlled the left.

One created a wall around the leader of the land. This allowed the leader to make backroom deals and continue unaffected by all the commotion caused by others. This leader looked amused while I saw major changes being made, yet his actions posed very little concern.

This man was labeled 'peacemaker', yet I saw no peace here. The feet he walked upon, his feet, were like bronze blocks. On his feet of blocks I saw newborn babies, barely able to hang on as he walked. I didn't understand what I was witnessing in my vision. As he walked, his pant legs were turning to something like burnished bronze scales. This 'peacemaker' seemed to be changing although it was only visible in the unseen realm.

I then saw two princes commanded to tear the land in half. I saw two of God's angels fighting against them. They were hooking up something like a winch to a machine.

Drawing of evil forces dividing the land in the reply below...

One winch was to the east of the river dividing the USA, the Mississippi, and one to the west. The demons were trying to roll up and create barriers like scrolls to stop the bull.

I then saw angels descend upon these scorpion-like demons and cut them down. The bull was able to cross the divide, but the river spread. The land remained together. There was turmoil in the land as another prince incited the people, distracting them and allowing a steady influx of something like a flying bug. I also saw a stream of ants. These appeared to make people very sick.

Then I saw Israel cry for help as attacks commanded by a group of princes began to infiltrate the walls surrounding the land of God. I saw the enemy surround Israel and then a severe attack. It came out of nowhere. I couldn't tell if I was seeing snow or paper, but something covered the ground. I saw bitter cold and no relief.

No one was there and available to help. I saw the sifter move over Israel and there was nothing being reported. I saw wailing in the streets of Jerusalem. I saw an area with blood like a river. I was not clear by what I was seeing, whether it was real blood or staged, to make things look like Israel had fallen.

I saw bad reports and lies about what had occurred. I was not clear on the nature of the attack. It looked surreal and in slow motion. People fled.

Me: "Father, please help me understand what You've shown me as I believe we are coming into this time. My heart is unsettled."

Interrupted – end of writing for today. On the next day, I took communion and continued...

Dear Father,

Thank You for a beautiful sunny day. There is a fresh blanket of snow on the ground and the sounds of birds, other than crows, are finally heard right outside my windows. I love both fall and spring. I love winter too. Summer brings the promise of heat and bugs, so I've never been the biggest fan.

When I was a child, it seemed like summer was frustrating. My parents worked and we were bored. Boredom led to trouble usually. When I played golf, I lived for summer. I loved it, but I still played better in the spring and fall.

Thank You, Father, for seasons. Thank You for Your calendar in general. It is a constant, just like time each day. I plan things and execute plans; then they become a memory. Time is flying by, yet slowly when it comes to waiting on You, Father.

So many of us are under attack, beyond what seems reasonable. In my dream last night, I was attacked by several people. They began by separating me from a crowd and my family. They acted like they had my best interests, then I realized quickly this was a trap.

There was one person who I recognized who had died years ago. I became concerned when they hurled accusing lies at me. Then I saw my children under the archway of the area. I told them not to enter. Just then, an angel held them back and protected them from coming into the room. I then saw angels around me.

Angel: "Erin, stand against these and use your weapons when necessary."

One demon began to be revealed and was no longer the human I had seen before. Then an entity with tentacles revealed itself. Suddenly I stood against it, although I was terrified. A sword appeared in my hand. It wasn't a physical sword, but translucent and massive. I spoke in my Heavenly tongues with shouts as the sword penetrated this demon with tentacles. I watched as with each blow of my sword the entity became weaker. Eventually it was dead and disappeared.

The other people quickly dispersed and left, yet one demon remained. It mocked me and took the form of one of my enemies. I saw on his face a chain, silver with a three strand braid string from hooks on each corner of his mouth, but spanning his upper lip. This had hooks, tattoos and piercings on its eye lids, cheeks and brows.

He was very loud. I then waved the sword and commanded him to flee in Jesus' Name. He laughed and scoffed while walking as if he had no control of his feet. The angels entered in and so did my kids. It was so real and frightening at the same time.

Father, what was the meaning of this? I know You have given us gifts. Some of us have gifts which have never been activated. If You are wanting us to begin training or allowing us the use of these, then please, Father, show us how to. I just know that, in that dream, the supernatural words spoken through me from You cut like swords to deflect my enemies, so please show me how to use these.

Father, please continue to protect my children in all they do. My daughter had an invitation to attend a small church. When I questioned the mother of friends who invited her to inquire about the church, I found out that they do not believe in miracles, healing, tongues or prophecy.

I also found out she believes women are not to be leaders over men. On this, I agree that women are not to be heads over men. However, God will use women when there are no men willing to step forward. There were cricket noises on the cell phone line.

I continued to say that Jesus gives spiritual gifts to women too. I realized I was offending her. I already felt my daughter should not attend a church who would believe that miracles from You, Father, do not occur today. Seeds of doubt would drown out my daughter's believing heart and ruin Your good work.

Father I pray for those who doubt. You care about us the same way as You did during the times of Pentecost some two thousand years ago. If God, You are in us via the Holy Spirit, our counselor and instructor on the path, then how can miracles not be believed in? Father, I have seen Your miracles, I have lived Your miracles, I have tasted the sweet honey of Your awesome power and might and I believe. I believe!

You are God and I'm not. Even though Jesus doesn't walk with us physically in the flesh today here, He is still here; right here. This is the first miracle. Those who have no belief then will receive the sum of this; no faith, no reward. Those who believe will have faith and, because You reward us according to our faith in You and our belief in the full Gospel, Your recompense is also with You when You come for us.

You will pay back our enemies for what they've done to us. Justice is God's and You will pay us back what the enemy stole from us; our faith, our hope and our lives as originally intended for us by God, thereby giving us the gift of eternal life in Heaven. I cling to these promises, even when the world around us relentlessly tries to destroy our hope, faith and love in You.

I pray, Father, I made sense. I say what You place on my heart. I feel bad for those who don't care to know You fully. They are missing out! You are so amazing!

Father, I had another dream after the one from yesterday in reference to this vision of the red bull, Israel and the division of America by these evil princes. I had a dream I was on a big hill overlooking this massive valley. It was a beautiful landscape. It was winter. I decided to walk home because the day seemed warm and beautiful. I began to walk and I realized there was five inches of ice covering the entire surface of the hill. An angel appeared.

Angel: "Erin, God has placed you on this slippery slope for His purposes. You are unable to go anywhere on your own by your own strength and abilities. Please stand as the angels have been commanded to stand with you and guard you in all your ways."

I looked down and I was wearing small flat slip-on shoes, like tap shoes, because they made noise when I walked. I was laughing and the angel smiled as I tried to step out on the slippery ice.

Me: "Well, God has me here. I would be very foolish to step out away from His care. These shoes are not good ones to run in. He would hear me wherever I go." I was laughing at God's infinite wisdom, tough love and humor. The angel was laughing quietly at my resolve. "Then I will remain under God's care on this slippery slope."

Jesus: "Erin, come up."

I'm immediately up in the beautiful garden of fountains. I see Uriel wave at me and motion for me to drink from the beautiful fountains. I'm wearing a white linen dress, which is soft like the finest cotton and doesn't become wet.

I run through a water tunnel and stop in the middle of it to put my cupped hands into the water. The tunnel is the brightest blue green I've ever seen. It was illuminated from below ground. I took several handfuls of water and splashed it over me.

Me: "Thank You, Father, for this refreshing water from this incredible tunnel." It took my breath away. Just then, I looked over and saw Uriel standing at the tunnel opening. He smiled and shook his head. "Well, you said to drink." I was laughing.

Uriel: "Yes, but I thought you planned on staying there. Come, God requests your presence." He extended his hand. "Why so urgent now, Erin?"

Me: "I have so many questions."

Uriel: "He will answer. Come."

Instantly, we were at God's door. The door was open. Uriel put salve in my eyes so I could see. He then walked me into His Courts. I could see so clearly around the massive area, but I was most fascinated about the sapphire Sea of Glass and God on the Throne. I still couldn't see Him; not even close.

I could see the massive altar with the Seven-fold Spirits of God, but I couldn't see the seraphim and cherubim around the Throne nor could I see the elders. Maybe this was a different venue than God on the Throne? I could hear the angels singing "Holy, Holy, Holy". Each time I had been here, I reveled in this incredibly perfect choir of angels, like nothing on Earth anywhere. No human could sing like these angels of God.

My knees buckled as I came just a little closer than the time before, yet still so far away. The sapphire translucent stones shown in prism-like reflections, like Aurora Borealis, a giant Aurora Borealis display over the Throne. I put my face to the stone.

Me: "Oh, Father, please forgive me if I sometimes become overwhelmed by all of this. Well, all the time, every time I'm here, I am in awe at Your power, Your glory and Your presence. You are so incredible. Someday I pray I will walk near You or see Your face. You are wonderful."

I stayed there for some time. I thanked Him again for all we have. I thanked Him for sending Jesus. I thanked Him for commanding angels concerning us to guide us in our ways and protect our walks. I thanked Him for establishing kings and removing them. I thanked Him for the Jewish people and Israel and I pleaded they would soon recognize Jesus, their Messiah.

I prayed for their protection against these coming attacks from their enemies. Then I thanked Him for my friends and the healing for so many hurting people who love Him. I then prayed and, as different people came into my memory, I prayed for their healing. I prayed for my enemies who hate me that they might know God. I prayed for America. Then I listened to the Heavenly choir and waited.

God: "Erin, ask Me for your healing and that of your children."

I had forgotten, so I prayed.

Me: "I'm sorry, Father, I thought You already knew."

God: "What is the purpose of prayer? Why do you pray?"

Me: "It's the time when I forsake other things and I pay attention to You. I thank You. I love to admire You as a daughter admires her Father. I recognize how special You are, Your power and yet You love us. I like to be near You and calling out to You assures You hear me as I know You can hear me.

"I come at times for requests. Better to just ask than to never ask. You always let me know when I have faulty thinking or a vain request. I like to think of You as a secure cover over me and my children. I pray for others too."

I heard a rumbling sound as the floor thundered. I could tell He was delighted and seemed to smile at me.

God: "This was a good answer. You pray as you set yourself aside to 'pay attention to Me.', yet, as God, I have to send calamity to get the attention of those who do not recognize Me. I call out. I send hail, rain, wind and snow. I sent lightning to strike two tall towers in the wake of trouble; one in the city of the 'peacemaker' and the other, the Tower of Freedom.

"Instead these are labeled phenomenon, a result of something other than Me. Who created this world and everything in it? Who changes times and seasons? Who removes kings and establishes kings? Who gives wisdom to wise men and knowledge to men of understanding?

It is I Who reveals the profound and hidden things. It is I Who knows what is in darkness. Daniel 2:21-22 explains. The light dwells in Me. I expose that which dwells in shadows. I determine the length of a man's days and know even the hairs on his head. Yet who will turn to Me?"

Me: I was having a hard time speaking. "Father, I have been in anguish for You. I hate when people curse You. I have seen what is coming in my dreams and visions and I am afraid for this land. What can Your children do better? Can we do more? Grant us strength. Send us out to do more. If I could, I would..."

God: "Erin, if they do not recognize Me, then your witness would not turn them to Me. I will create a series of events. Some will be devastating, some miraculous. The same way My Son was removed will be like this again."

Me: "Father, do You mean like Pentecost? Will You use us to witness before we see Jesus coming on the clouds?"

God: "You are wise and you expect great things from Me. This delights Me. Yes, I will do something in your days that you would not believe even if you were told. Now, just because you have not seen the miracle you need most come, this doesn't mean I have said 'No'. It is good to come to Me with your requests, no matter the worth, big or small. I care about that which concerns you. So bring Me your prayers and petitions. Now, do you understand your dreams?"

Me: "No, Father, speculation is like probability, which can also be like forecasting. It's fun to guess, but You are the Author of Your story and this is Your show."

God: "First, the slippery slope and you are wearing noisy shoes. As the angel spoke on My behalf, you will find yourself in an unstable world, one in which you will be unpopular. Where your feet step, noise follows. Stand therefore and trust Me. I will command angels concerning you.

"You have seen this before; Jesus, Erin, Jesus. He was on a slippery slope; where His feet stepped, noise was created. I sent Him into the world in the flesh. My children will walk as He did, perform mighty wonders and display great witness to the Kingdom of Heaven on behalf of My Son, yet you will be met with the same consequences.

"Many are standing now and are being persecuted. Now you will know when I sent a leader or another by the way the world reacts. Is everyone against you or just certain groups? In the case of Jesus and the disciples, everyone, especially towards Jesus, as even His friends were not there in His darkest hour.

"The time of confusion is upon the land. People have hate with no foundation. There is anger, therefore great fear is at the root. The enemy and those who do his bidding are afraid, so they are angry. They now know the late hour in which they are in, so they will destroy all that is good."

Me: "I'm afraid, Father. What will happen to us?"

God: "You will not be destroyed. I have commanded angels to guard you in all your ways. Those whom I love and love Me, I also will protect. Your mourning will turn to rejoicing and you will not fear that which comes upon the land. You are marked and hated because you are a citizen here with Me. There is no need to worry as I'm about to do a new and amazing thing, yet it is right in the Word. There is Text which has been sleeping and this will now wake up."

Me: "I don't fully understand. We will experience trouble before Jesus returns. How will we activate angels on our behalf?"

God: "I will heal you. You need not worry or lend your cause to disparagement. You will not believe what I'm about to do, Erin. Watch."

I felt the angel bring me to my feet.

Me: "Thank You, Father. I love You."

God: "I love you. I am with you.

I was crying...

Uriel brought me outside the door. I was shaking.

Uriel: "Erin, you are worried. Do not be. You will not experience things the same way as the disciples and Jesus did. This is reserved for a group God has appointed later. You will rejoice at what God will do for you and others He has called. Now, everything God does has a root from it.

"You understand patterns. You see His displays. He is cursed, yet feared, yet also ignored. Many select only certain doctrine and adhere by it. Remember to study in whole, not in part. What you cannot see is the fear occurring in the unseen as the time is drawing closer. You have seen some of this in your dreams and visions. However, it is not always as you expect.

"You grew up learning to trust that which you hear coming from popular media. Be cautious now. There is a filter. You are only seeing a portion of what occurs. When you are concerned and need clarity, pray. God will give you wisdom, but you must request it.

“Now you must discern the difference between those sent from the enemy and those appointed by God. You will be deceived if you stay to that which feels good and comfortable.”

Me: “Uriel, I saw something coming from near Latvia to New York City and I saw something coming from near Bolivia to Los Angeles. I also saw a price on Trump’s head to remove him, like an assassination prior to the time of His choosing. However, I’m unsure of that which I’ve seen.”

Uriel: “Wait on God. These visions are sent from Him. There is so much occurring and the season is ripe for a perfect storm and even storms. Is the land getting hammered?”

Me: “Yes.”

Uriel: “Is it following the bull or right upon him?”

Me: “I think so.”

Uriel: “Are the enemy’s plans being thwarted by God’s displays? Is there fear?”

Me: “Anger.”

Uriel: “Then there is fear. Those with wisdom will recognize who God is. Those with opinions sometimes have no leading. You must dismiss this. Everything God plans will fulfill that of the prophets, that which is written. Now, God is soon to bring you a great gift of His love. You will be the subject of cursing, but many will see God in this and become amazed. Others too will be given great gifts of God’s favor.

“It is always darkest before the dawn, Erin, so do not be dismayed. Death didn’t stop the Lord. It had no power over Him. Those who plot evil will eventually fall into their own schemes and be exposed. Darkness would like to snuff out light, like a candle flame, but, in actuality, the flame exposes darkness. You will begin to see clear division. You are loved, Erin. Continue on your course. Wait on God when you are unsure. He will send help from His sanctuary.

“Pray for Israel as she will become lost in the news as the Americas take center stage. The trouble is right upon Israel and even within her. Trouble will come from the north, originating from Libya. An innocent gesture will become horrific. Israel is the blessed land and an example of what occurs when those who curse her are allowed to dwell in her citadels

“Yet no one heeds the warning. Even the USA doesn’t see her example. Not everyone who claims to be a friend or comes in the name of peace is. This is enough for today. Oh, in two days’ time, you will be given a dream. Write this down. Although you hesitate, God will send it and He requests your presence in advance right after, understand?”

Me: “Yes I do, and I will.”

Dream 196 – God, the Doe and the Religion of Peace

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day. Thank You for Your grace, mercy, love and kindness. Thank You for keeping my heart beating. Thank You for the love of my children and family.

Thank You for the healing in my son and his call to prophecy. I am in shock as my most rebellious child is now coming to You. In return, You've been granting him new life and dreams while he sleeps. Truly it would've been easier to pray for and believe for turning water into wine, or the sun turning the clock back an hour, like a sundial, than for this impossible miracle. So, thank You!

Father, You granted me two dreams and an open vision. The open vision occurred while I was being prayed for by family. I was caught up for about two minutes, but so much information was downloaded. When I came out of this, I was stunned, as I had no recollection of the prayer. My dreams contained messages, symbols, and commanding Words from You. Please grant me the ability to write clearly. Please grant me wisdom to see what You Will me and scribe as You Will me to convey this important message.

Oh, and Father, please forgive me for my daily bustle, which often keeps me from coming to You at times without distractions. I love You, Father, and I'm thankful. You sent us the sounds of a shofar on Sunday, March 21st, 2016; one around 1:15pm and another around 4:15pm. I'm not sure if someone around our area is a practicing Jew who is celebrating the upcoming observances, or it was the miraculous work of angels. Either way, it was amazing. Thank You.

Jesus: "Erin, come up."

I was at the base of God's mountain. The path of stamped dirt was in front of me. It was dawn. I paused from my vision to look outside. There is fresh snow falling and I hear tiny song birds and the sound of the small stream near my window.

It's beautiful here. I look back into my vision and I'm aware that large flakes of snow are falling on the path. There is cloud cover above me so I cannot see the end point of the path, but I decide to climb. I need to get to God.

I climb for some time when I see a deer across the path grazing. It looks up to see me and waited for me to approach. Then it looked at me and nudged me to follow her. She moved to the right of the path and up a rock incline. I marveled at how she instinctively knew where to place her hooves to enable her to climb the heights. I had more trouble than she did and I laughed as I was a bit clumsier.

She waited at the top of a small cliff for me. When I reached the top and climbed over, I smiled. It was a beautiful sight. The snow was over. The sun beamed through the trees. The path continued through a large grove of aspens. Everywhere I looked, there were crocus and other flowers beginning to open their bloom. Occasionally, I saw small trees with beautiful blossoms and colors, where every shade was represented. I took a deep breath. The air was pure and fragrant.

The path turned toward the sun as I walked deeper into the aspen forest. Finally, I began to recognize where we were when I saw the lake to my right with the fountain in it. There was fresh tender young grass all around the area with blossoming groomed bushes and blossoming weeping willows.

I smiled when I saw a pair of white swans floating on the lake. It was as if I had stepped into a Kincaid painting or the garden of an extremely wealthy king. I looked up ahead on the path and there was the forestry board and God's open door. I watched the doe walk over to the small lake to drink.

The doe stopped and looked up at me, motioning me over to her. I proceeded to walk on the beautiful manicured grass. I knelt down and, with cupped hands, I took a drink from the fountain spring in the lake. I smiled and spoke out loud.

Me: "Oh, this is from the River of Life. This is a beautiful pool." Then I heard the voice of Uriel.

Uriel: "Wash in the Pool of Siloam." I turned to look at him.

Me: "I'm sorry, I don't understand. I should bath in this little lake?"

Uriel: "Is this not written, and this Pool, is this not under the cover of God? Here..."

He had something like mud in his hands. He proceeded to put this over my eyes, on the back of my neck and over my heart.

Me: "Jesus did this in John 9, but I'm not blind, am I?"

Uriel: "Go and wash in the Pool." He guided me by my arm into the crystal clear water. It was the perfect temperature. "Dip down into the water, even seven times."

Me: "This mud will make the water impure."

Uriel: "This water cannot be muddied. It is in Heaven from God's mountain, originating from His Throne. His fountains are also in you. Now, God requests your presence."

I stepped out of the water and my garments were washed white as snow. I was dry, not wet. My arms, hands, legs and feet were perfected and glowed. Tears began to stream down my cheeks as I no longer had imperfections on the lenses of my eyes. The small brown spots which made me not always see clearly were completely gone.

I could see details from a distance, which would normally be impossible by earthly standards. As Uriel guided my steps out of the lake, or pool, I looked at the deer next to me. I could tell it's thoughts as it stared at me. She didn't actually speak, but I could read her through her eyes.

Doe: "I will see you soon. You are my friend here. I spend time on your property. You are beautiful." I reached over, hugged her and gave her a kiss.

Me: "I will see you soon too. Thank you for bringing me here."

Uriel: "Come, Erin, you can converse with the creatures here another time." He was laughing...

Me: I was giggling. "Wait, I think the swans want to say something."

Uriel: "Funny, come."

He was an angel of business, God's business. I think, over time, he has become used to me and seems friendlier. Not that he wasn't before; it was just, now, he seems more interactive with me.

Me: "Do we communicate with the animals here in Heaven?"

Uriel: "There is harmony, security and joy here. God created animals before He created man to care for them. Before animals, God created angels to assist Him. God has never determined animals are unclean or a mistake. There was a time in the Garden when animals did not fear man, then with the fall..."

He seemed downcast for a moment, as it seemed he had witnessed the fall

Uriel: "As man became fearful and afraid, so did the animals fear man. A change occurred like Ra'ash. Every creature trembled in fear before God. Nakedness was exposed. When God quakes, man trembles. Here, animals are at peace. Lions lay down with lambs and do not fear they will be devoured."

Me: "How frightening the consequences must have been for Adam and Eve. I guess even the angels were effected? The landscape changed. The lush Garden of God dried up."

Uriel: "Much more happened and even far worse than just dried up landscape, but, yes, this was the day death began. The root of death began with sin. Now, come."

He took my hand and walked me up to God's door. I turned to my right and looked at the bulletin board. There I saw an envelope with my name on it. I looked to the right of that and on a beautiful woven silver chain was a small glass blown jar with silver engraved filigree overlay.

Inside the container were fifty mustard seeds. It was remarkably pretty. I picked up the envelope and opened it. The card had a beautiful gold heart on it. Inside, it read:

"Erin, I have made you beautiful in My Time.

I have delivered you and your children to a safe place.

All My fountains are in you. Psalm 87:7

Remain in Me, as I also remain in you.

No branch can bear fruit by itself; it must remain in the vine.

Neither can you bear fruit unless you remain in Me.

I am the Vine, you are the branches; if you abide in Me and I in you, you will bear much fruit, apart from Me you can do nothing. John 15:5

You did not choose Me, but I chose you, and appointed you that you would go and bear fruit;

So whatever you ask of the Father in My name He will give to you! John 5:16

Erin, Behold an hour is coming, and has already come!

Have faith like a mustard seed! You are loved..."

Jesus

I was in tears. I picked up the necklace and placed it over my head and around my neck. I turned to Uriel.

Me: "Does the Lord think I have to go through fifty mustard seeds in faith in order to move one mountain?"

Uriel: "No, Erin, perhaps you will move fifty mountains each with the faith as small as one mustard seed. This is a good thing, a blessing from God. This was not meant to make light of your lack. It is a reminder of the authority the Lord has granted you from the Father. Now, here."

He reached up and put salve in my eyes and walked me in through God's door and into His presence. The entire Throne Room of God seemed so clear and beautiful. The remarkable craftsmanship of the interior is beyond this world. I pray another time He will lead me to speak of this, but He, more importantly, request me to hear Him.

The choir of angels once again was singing, "Holy, Holy, Holy, Lord God Almighty!" Their voices went higher and higher, then softer and overlapped. I don't know enough about music to convey what the terms are to describe what I hear. I can only tell you the choir of God's Heavenly angels is so superior to any choir on Earth. These voices go right into your skin, bones and organs. They edify God, but humble man with such amazing voices. Awesome!

As Uriel brought me even closer still, I marveled at the immense size of the cathedral-like place with these incredible aspe ceilings. The floor is one of my favorite features, although there are so many. More than anything else, God's presence, Throne and Altar are the most glorious.

I began to become weak in my legs, so I dropped down to worship Him. I thanked Him again for all He's done. He is amazing, wonderful, marvelous, glorious and the list goes on. I thanked Him for Jesus, Uriel and the deer even. I prayed for our country, our leaders and our local governments, as well as those who God has brought. I then asked for help for my dreams.

This morning while making my bed, I saw 8:18am on the clock. I didn't think anything of it until God said Isaiah 8:18. I went to my Bible. Isaiah 8:18 read, "Behold, I and the children whom the Lord has given me are for signs and for wonders in Israel from the Lord of Hosts Who dwells on Mt. Zion."

Me: "I don't understand what You are saying here, Father. Who are Isaiah's children?"

God: "Erin, your thoughts?"

Me: "I had a dream that You gave me. I saw Israel deeply wounded. I saw water breaching its walls. The water turned black and then the water became something like ants. They came in and destroyed everything in their path. People were giving into fear and panic.

"The invaders had encircled the walls of what looks like Jerusalem and invaded, but not before something shot down on the city first. The armies took the items dedicated to the Third Temple hostage. I saw people confused and scared; not going to God, but to fortune tellers or psychics.

"The invading armies appeared to come in medical relief at first. Then, instead, their leader wanted to be seated there in the city. Those who remained ran for the hills as the people were being executed. I saw a name Ra'ash – Ra'ash. When will this be Father?"

God: "Write this plainly. Look as it is written. So it was now, it will be again. Because these people have rejected Me, I will bring against them a mighty torrent. It will overflow the channels of Shiloah and spill over its banks. I will sweep over it, reaching up to the neck. This torrent will descend upon the land, for this is My land. I did not give it to another nor do I now permit defilement on My mount.

"Those who plot against My people, I will plot against them. The very thing I do to punish My land of Israel, I will do ten-fold to others. My people do not recognize the calm flowing waters; pure and holy. Instead, they mock My Words and now allow that which is an abomination.

"Band together, peoples, and be broken. Pay attention, all you distant lands. Prepare for war and be broken. Prepare for war and be broken. Devise a plan and it will fail. Make a prediction and it will not happen. They say, 'God is with us'. Well, I am here, but who cries out? Who comes to Me prior to calamity and rends their hearts?

"Do not go the way of this adulterous generation? Who of you wanted to hear this message? When did I declare evil good and good evil? The enemy will deceive many of My people from Israel and distant lands by calling everything an alliance. People live in fear of those declaring alliances and then they go under deception. They agree to the 'alliance' and allow the cover of this.

Do not fear what these adulterers fear. Do not be terrified. You are to regard only Me as holy. Fear only Me. I am your sanctuary and your place of peace. The people walking in darkness have seen a great light. I increased the people and stretched out the tent pegs.

“When did I declare this for your enemies to inherit the land? I did not. Yet who will stand? I am ready to allow the land to be punished so My Temple will be rebuilt. My Son will take His place within it. Every heart humbled and every knee will bow. I have reserved and preserved My sons from Judah, who will care for the land again and keep My laws.

“To the distant land from the Prophet Haggai: You have planted much, but have harvested little. You eat, but never have enough to be satisfied. You drink, but never have enough to become drunk. You put on clothes, but never have enough to get warm. The wage earner puts his wages into a bag with a hole in it. To this I will add. You have brought curses to your own land. You have become fat in your idleness.

“You say, 'God is love and accepts all things.' When did I say this? If I were to speak from here so all could hear, would any of these vote for Me? No, because I give a positive message, but they have lent their ears to those who pacify their sin. I am now regarded as an angry God who doesn't tolerate the wide gate of love. My message brings life abundant, yet it is considered a life of lack to those who hear it.

“I have prepared a place for those who love My Commandments and accept My Son, but how can one accept My Son yet ignore My Commandments? Where is this written? It is easier to believe the lie of false teachers, doctrine and other religions than it is to turn to Me and from the wickedness of your sins and repent?

“I send trouble from the sons of Ishmael upon Jacob and the gentiles so that prophecy is fulfilled. The sons of Haman have come against the nations, yet who comes to Me in prayer and fasting? Who calls out to Me for protection? These treacherous sons of Haman claim to know Me, but they are deceived. Look...”

I then saw the floor open. I saw the Earth. God marked all of the places of Israel's enemies and, really, all of us, according to Islam's bible, the Quran. There, I saw all the lands of the enemies of Israel from Haman. They were all brown, like the desert; arid, dry and with very little or no green areas. I then saw the land of Israel. It was green and prosperous. It was like a beautiful emerald and it stood out.

God: “Erin, this unholy torrent coming against Israel and the land claims to be the 'religion of peace', but they are not. For it is written by their savior, by them claiming I sent him, in 3:151, 'Soon shall we cast terror into the hearts of the unbelievers for that they joined companions with allah, for which he had sent no authority', or, in 3:56, 'As to those who reject faith, I will punish them with terrible agony in this world and in the hereafter, nor will they have anyone to help.'

“These are words of hate. They are destroyers of hope, pillagers and liars. I tell you the truth, the very words they have proclaimed will fall upon them. Their hereafter will be in the depths of Hades with the father of all lies.

"The very people claiming, 'We must accept all faiths and religions', are deceiving themselves. These sons of Haman are not loving and peaceful. Among them are My people whom I love. They have had their land taken, homes and churches burned and children killed; all because they love Me and keep My statutes. They will be vindicated. Many of those reside here now, yet, sadly, many others hide their faith as they are unable to proclaim it. I know hearts and I have given them the crown of everlasting life."

Me: "Lord, I was caught up in a vision of America. There were four storms which were sent out by the four angels. These converged together. It looked like four massive tornadoes; two over water and two over land. These picked up speed and strength.

"There was a massive notch in the center on the land. I saw all these storms come together and rotate on this notch. People were so in awe over the destruction of these that they failed to pay attention to what was occurring.

I saw something drop from the skies, like from heaven, but it wasn't heavenly. It came in from the south east and descended on the capital of the USA. I then saw a leader converge and go out into the world to proclaim brotherhood and peace. Meanwhile, the nation was getting hammered. There were natural disasters and urban warfare.

The urban warfare was not created by men, but by the media. I then saw heat fires, drought, fear and disparagement. I saw the world sending relief, but one coming from the west brought an invasion; then something from the south.

They seemed to be helping and then turned. I then had a dream of an attack; these five pillars which then turned into five massive roman candles. As I looked down, I saw they were actually missiles. Each pillar was designated to remove or destroy five cities."

God: "Look to Esther, Erin. Eventually Haman and his ten sons are hung on the very gallows that they built for Mordecai. There is even more deception than you even realize. This is why you must come to Me for your answers. Many of My houses of prayers take no care to pray to Me.

"There is more care taken for liturgy and ceremony than there is prayer to Me. There are churches that are now modifying acceptance, tolerance and love. Do they not realize that their brand of love will lead the lost to death? They are wolves in sheep's clothing.

"Judgment is coming upon the land because it is Written. Not many have turned to Me. They will turn to the peacemaker, the savior of deception, which leads to the dung gate. The dung gate is plenty wide and many will rush in."

Me: "Father, I'm afraid. I've never seen You like this. Is there anything I can do? I'm one small woman. Can we gather those who love You to pray? Can we do anything to stop it? This is a fast moving machine destroying the land."

God: "Ready your hearts, ready your homes and fellowship with only those who I call you to, understand? If you have questions, ask Me and pray. If you call out to Me, I will answer. I am here."

Me: "Father, what do You mean about fellowship? Are we not to invite people to church or spend time with those who don't believe?"

God: "Not everyone is sent by Me. You must be careful, but do not be afraid. Hear only Me. Be careful and ask for wisdom as a parent and friend. Make certain you're equipped to stand against someone you invite in and then turns against you. Call upon Me. The Holy Spirit will counsel you."

Me: "Father, please forgive me for this. This message from You will upset many people. Can You strengthen us all; those who love You and love the Word? Do we not also love Jesus and cling to Your promises of deliverance and salvation? Please strengthen all of us as it seems clear that this time is at Your hand."

God: "This message is not to rebuke those who have turned their hearts to Me. This message is to assure you that, when things get worse, you know that I am still in control and fully aware of the schemes of the enemy. There is evil prevalent which I will not disclose here in My Court. As you have seen these false doctrines, you know they exist. My Words are a lamp for those in the darkness."

Me: "It is through the Bible and Jesus that I found out how much You love us. It is like a huge love letter. To me, I feel comfort knowing You love me."

God: "There is another message from the mouths of those who hate. I do not allow lies here to be spoken in My Court, but, today, instead evidence was presented, plots conspired, false alliances formed and orders carried out. It has begun. Now testify when I direct you. Lean not unto your own understanding. Take your example from My Son; don't respond to lies and respond only to truth. I am God and I need no defending. Stand for Me, keep My promises on the tablets of your hearts and then you can bear witness to My goodness."

I felt Uriel's arm on my shoulder to bring me to my feet. I put my hand on my heart and I bowed and curtsied to God on the Throne. I then felt a rumble.

God: "I'm glad you have come to Me. Thank you as you are My friend."

Me: "I love You."

God: "Stay as you are. You are loved."

Uriel brought me outside of God's door.

Uriel: "Do you have more questions, Erin?"

Me: "Yes. Speaking from that false book about the evil and how much they must hate us; this will bring trouble, won't it?"

Uriel: "One year ago, God told you that you were an arrow in His quiver, used for His purposes. Take a lesson now from Esther. Were you not raised for a time such as this? Is this not what you expected or desired?"

Me: "I knew it would not be easy. I surrendered myself to the Lord for His purposes. If I perish, I perish. Is this the 'You wouldn't believe it even if you were told' part?"

Uriel: "No, this is not what He is referring to. You and your children will be protected against the sons of Haman. You are not speaking lies nor have you said anything against them which is new. Do you understand that there will be more trouble?"

Me: "Yes. It seems as the enemy grows stronger, they will be able to access personal information and even advance against us. There are pressure cookers with remote control 'Bluetooth' capability. They are now sold at the stores."

Uriel: "Hidden in plain sight, yet accessible for good and for bad. Watch the mighty hand of God upon you. Do not lend yourself to fear. Fear is not of God. You were given information from Esther, Isaiah and Haggai. Scholars would look at this and say, 'but the word as it is written was for another time or context'. Listen to the message. There are traps set while many people enjoy what seems like peace; then an event occurs, bringing people to fear.

"This fear then leads to paralysis. There is speculation that fear comes from one man, but it does not. Fear has been created by the enemy of this world. As he goes about his business, many are following him in his works. He is going undetected to most. Things are not as obvious as you think. You need to ask yourself, who is God for?"

"Then follow God's leading. Keep your words few. Don't engage with fools or entertain those sent to dishearten and destroy you. You are a sharp arrow in God's quiver. You have a purpose. This is enough now. There was much to take in. Do not listen to critics or make apologies. You have no reason to make excuses."

Me: "Uriel, when will the torrents come; the storms I saw?"

Uriel: "Some are actually storms and others metaphors, like a type of parable. Now you saw a giant tornado and there is still this bull. There is anger growing. It was created by a source, but not the obvious one. It comes from the enemy. There are wars right now in the Heavens. Even the holy man in white turns against and has an opinion.

When you see every sector of the country, media, financial institutions, hackers, churches, false religions, other countries, every minority and even their own turn against the bull, yet nothing is working, then you know this one, who is loud, boisterous and uncontrolled by man, well, perhaps, God is there in the midst protecting such a man. You do not know. You must trust God. Lead only to God's understanding and direction. Now you will see me again soon.

Me: "Thank you, Uriel."

Dream 197 – God, the Dove and the False Prophet

Received Friday, March 25, 2016

(Formerly known as Final Hour 7)

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day. Thank You for all You've done for us. There is no way of thanking You for everything or gifting You anything in return compared to what You have given.

Just as I sit in my chair this morning, I suddenly hear torrential rain mixed with ice. It sounds like tiny beads, hollow beads, hitting our metal roof. I smelled dust, or smoke, in my nose. This is a scent I have when in the midst of an impending attack, or presence, of the enemy.

The smell was quickly replaced by the fragrance of fresh rain and fragrant flowers, even though I have no flowers here in vases or blooming outside. We are taking cover inside our home today as the ice storm brings plans to a halt. I was up several times during the night. Upon waking each time, I heard, "Open! Calling all hearts; calling all hands."

I heard this twice during the night and once upon waking. I'm not sure what this means, but, Father, I am willing. Father, I need help with the dreams I had last night. I'm not certain I understand what I saw. Please clarify these images and help me to discern their meanings.

My first dream:

I saw something descend on the capitol of the USA. It then went out as something immersed and left the country. It was ominous and came in the form of a storm or dark cloud. I saw the red bull stirring up the country, kicking up dirt and tearing up border lines of states. I saw blue and red like flags converging against it, but they blended together as one force in the form of a massive purple bull with sharpened horns of steel.

I saw the red bull first wounded by the right steel horn, but it did not bring it down. I then saw this purple bull circle the red one and study it as the red bull stayed quiet. I saw the purple bull scrape the ground three times and then begin to charge the red bull. God brought lightning down and struck the purple bull, temporarily wounding it.

As it lay on the ground, the blood spilled red and separated from the bull. Angels were ordered to inflict the land. As the angels afflicted the area upon where the battle occurred, God sent inflictors to cause suffering. These inflictors came from all over.

Second dream:

I saw a robed figure; it was massive. The figure itself appeared as a wolf with appendages, like a serpent, as if from the sea, yet it walked on land. It was clothed in white and went back and forth overseas. It seemed peaceful and those who it came in contact with saw a different form.

It was a treacherous entity. It hugged the ill and lame with curses, not of healing. It washed the feet of the enemies of God and kissed them even in Jesus' Name. I saw this beast propose a land contract as a deception in Jerusalem, yet, instead, it was granted in compromise the very land it desired.

It said, "On this land, I will build my church", and declared it. This was an entity which owned a vast land with no borders. This beast declared itself Jesus. It walked with sheep and suckled a small lamb in private. I didn't understand what it was doing trying to get milk from a lamb.

This entity declared, "God has sent me to proclaim His good news. He has anointed me with the power to proclaim freedom for all prisoners, sight so those blinded can see, to bind the broken and seal their wounds." I saw it as the Word of God was twisted and forged as a tool for the "peacemaker".

I then saw the peacemaker and the proclaimer of blessings ascend up God's holy land with a great celebration. I saw a back room presentation where the lamb was sacrificed, but with unclean instruments. The blood spilling was pure, yet neither of them could drink it. The blood disappeared and became water. They were unable to partake in the blood of the lamb.

As they drank what they thought was blood, it was actually bitter water. Both became enraged. One left and the other plotted. The ten kings were phoned and a larger plan was set in place against God and His land. I then saw a swift moving cloud so massive it was like a sand storm with walls miles high. I was terrified. I didn't know where this was. I awoke suddenly out of my sleep.

Third dream:

I saw the beast at a massive window declaring miracles. He released two white doves and they were instantly devoured by two larger birds. I then saw him send out two white doves coated in silver paint, yet God sent the rain to wash away the silver and then send two massive eagles to destroy these doves.

I then saw the beast forging in his city. He forged a hero symbol. It was something like an inverted cross, a crescent and a star like a Eucharist symbol. He then declared it holy and blessed it.

Drawing of multi-religion symbol in reply below...

I saw horns on the symbol, as well as what looked like a swastika. I saw, in the middle of the inverted cross, a blue sapphire. The sapphire looked as if it were being eaten or devoured by the crescent moon. The symbol was embraced.

Dreams over...

Father, I don't like what is coming. Please protect us. I have written these things You have shown me. You have made my stomach unsettled until I write these dreams down. Father, You do understand these are unpopular, but, in my heart, I'm angry for You. I'm sickened when I hear of the horrible news around the world.

Yet I know, from Your vantage point, it is far more worse than we are shown. I know we are nearing the times of the end, but I am still not sure when this will be. Please grant me discernment and patience. Please keep us from the terrors of the enemy so we only fear You. Bless my friends and family. Bless those You have sent to stand for You. I love You. We love You.

Jesus: "Erin, come up."

I was immediately up at God's door today. Uriel was there to greet me. He smiled at me and pointed to the forestry board on my right. I had needed a lift from the Lord after such difficult dreams.

There on the board at the top was a beautiful bird with wings of silver and feathers of gold. It came and rested on my arm. It was a beautiful dove. Tears streamed down my face as this little dove tilted its head and seemed to be reassuring me.

It flew off of my hand and picked up a small envelope off of the bulletin board. It had my name on it. The dove flew with it back to me on my shoulder and, with the note in its beak, presented it to me. I thanked the little silver and gold dove and opened the envelope.

Erin, My dove.

Do not fear! I am with you!

I am Who I say I am!

Do not be afraid!

You are My Bride, I am your Groom.

I do not give My heart to another!

You are mine!

The time of Psalm 68 is soon to come.

Do not worry!

Love, Jesus

I was crying. I turned to Uriel and the small dove landed back onto the forestry board.

Uriel: "The Lord has commanded angels concerning you. You are not to be afraid. Now, God requests your presence." He pointed toward the door.

Me: "Uriel, is He still upset?"

Uriel: As he spoke, he put salve in my eyes. "Did your dreams reflect a change in the heart of God?"

Me: "No, not at all."

Uriel: "Then perhaps you allow God to be God."

He smiled and I nodded as he guided me into God's presence. The choir of angels continued to sing, "Holy, Holy, Holy is the Lord God Almighty, Who was, and is, and is to come." The choir seemed to be even louder, but still so beautiful. Their voices were, and are, so amazing. They sound like instruments and voices combined. I felt the music rumble into me.

My body welled up in emotion as I felt my soul cry out to the living God. God lives; He is reigning over all created beings. There is nothing which can stand against Him. Truly, if God is with us, then who is against us? Uriel brought me up until my cells dropped and I dropped to my knees to worship God. I kept my head down as I gazed into this beautiful sapphire stone floor which, in its depths, appeared to sway inside with the choirs of angels.

Me: "Thank You, Father, for my dove. Thank You for Jesus. Thank You for Your tender mercies and ever-flowing grace. I cannot thank You enough for Your love." I felt a rumbling from the Throne of God.

God: "You are welcome. You are loved by Me and I call You friend. You have questions today."

Me: "Yes, Father. My dreams; these are more intense and severe. Please grant me the ability to see more clearly and write better as I see so I do not make errors which would bring You shame from my recording."

God: "Did My angel not grant My request yesterday to direct you to the healing waters of Siloam in My garden? Did you not see more clearly and were given more strength?"

Me: "Oh, I didn't understand what this was about. Please forgive me?"

God: "You are forgiven, Erin. Even what you believe might be mistakes are part of My plans. Now, you have many questions; speak."

Me: "I'm troubled by the punishment of the United States. The storms, the fires, the floods and the shot from the southeast sky over the east coast; when will this be?"

God: "The time you are in. I declared calamity on those who desecrate My commandments, trample My laws, twist My Words and adopt My miraculous signs for their own purposes. These are like the Days of Noah. This nation is rampant with blasphemous imagery and adulterous hearts. My churches have become dens of iniquity and a harboring for thieves.

"The time has come as it is written. Was the written time ignored as a mere allegory? Well it is not. Punishment has been brought down upon those who divide My land. That which they do to Israel, I shall do to them; for I have appointed the red bull My peacekeeper of the tormented land until the day I remove him.

The plots of those who desecrate the promises of dedication of the land to Me will not prevail. Who thinks they are capable to declare a thing such as this to God on the Throne and, later, powerful enough to rip it from My hands? I've kept silent. Now, I can no longer remain silent."

Me: "Father, there are people who love You very much in this land. Please care for them. I know You will, just don't forget them in Your anger."

I was afraid I overstepped and He would be angry.

God: "You are My friend. I call you friend. Who destroys those He loves and does not provide a safe place for them, either there or here? I am not the destroyer of the good, Erin. I could not forget them. Can a woman, you, Erin, forget your nursing child and have no compassion on the sons you bore of your womb? Even these may forget, but I will not forget you. I have inscribed you on the palms of My hands. I will not forget you. Now, your other questions."

I remembered what He said here as Isaiah 49:15-16.

Me: "Thank You, Father, for your promises and mercy. You are mighty to save us. This figure I saw in white acting as Jesus, is this the false prophet?"

God: "What is written? What holy man from God's church, representing Me, can hug a leper and not heal in My Name? On what church did I give authority to divide Jerusalem? When did My Son bless the feet of those whose feet are quick to run to destruction or kiss the feet of man? Did My Son not wash the feet of His disciples, blessing them to go out and step in faith to further the Good News and set the prisoners free? Did the only kiss occur with the one who was sent to deceive My Son?"

Me: "The argument might be that Jesus washed his feet too."

God: "Yes, but He proclaimed the one not clean, despite being cleansed, understand?"

Me: "Is this not an act of love?"

God: "Not in the way in which this is interpreted. A slave is not greater than his master. Therefore the one raised for destruction is still a slave and a parishioner. My Son is given My authority in both Spirit and in flesh. It was symbolic to show the betrayer. He was aware of his schemes, but ultimately controlled his steps, or feet.

"Now, when a leader claims to represent My Church, the Bride, then is she to then kiss and bless the steps of her enemies against her, declaring the unclean clean, declaring those who chase other gods and worship them now brothers to the same God, Me? By what authority did I now change My mind and open the gates of Heaven to all? I did not do such a thing.

“Know this by their fruits. Are they proclaiming the Gospel of My Son? Do they miraculously now raise the dead and walk from town to town giving sight to the blind? By whose authority did he send them out to heal the lame and the leper? I did not give him My permission to do such a thing. He did so in remembrance of himself, not My Son. Do not be deceived. He uses milk which does not come from My Lamb and His Words.”

Me: “Father, he goes to Jerusalem to set up a church. What will happen?”

God: “Watch his feet, although he covers them. He commands attention and is adored by his followers. His followers have expanded to those who hate Israel. He has blessed the feet of twelve, yet five are enemies of Israel. He blesses those who are as Judas and acts as a brother; all religions of peace.

“Did I not show My anger of his presence in Israel as he embraced her enemies by sending lightning striking directly on to his citadels? He speaks against walls of protection surrounding Israel, yet he lives behind the security of a wall. He corrected My authority in Jerusalem and shamed My king who I appointed.

“Now, your third dream. He fashioned a symbol for himself and declared it good and holy. Who fashions such a thing and wears it? You need only to see his fruits. Where are they? Where are the miracles sent by Me?”

“My Church is rising. There will be miracles in full display directly sent by My hands. I will send out the same miracles in which My Son said His followers would have faith as a mustard seed. You will have many. You are not the only one, but one of many.”

Then God split the floor open and I saw the Earth rotating. I saw lights, lots of lights, all over the world.

God: “Miracles have occurred all over the world, but very few speak of this. The news will not speak it. Many who I've sent out into the nations to spread Good News perform miracle after miracle, yet who recognizes the One Who sent these? Soon the world will see and be amazed.”

Just as quickly as the floor opened, it was restored. I felt Uriel lift up my arm to bring me to my feet.

God: “Erin, you have been given authority. You must believe and do not doubt, understand? I give you authority.”

Me: “Father, then show me how to believe and use this authority. I am missing something.”

God: “It is found.” He began to laugh. “You are loved.”

Me: “Thank You, Father. I love You.”

Uriel brought me outside God's door.

Uriel: "Erin, remember Psalm 68. Look also at Psalm 16. Look to Ezekiel 16 for answers also. Remember, the enemy operates opposite of the fruit. The longer you watch, the more apparent it becomes. Many will have a blind eye to truth. Look to the very root of where trouble comes from. There is a root. You were questioning mental disorders recently. What do you believe is the root?"

Me: "Generational sin?"

Uriel: "Perhaps. But what did Jesus do when He walked out in full authority?"

Me: "He cast out demons."

Uriel: "Very good, but look even further. The root comes from the fallen; the stronghold of these are now cast out by 'Pharmacia', or drugs, to mask the demons."

Me: "But how can one discern what is just a mental condition?"

Uriel: "The root, Erin, always comes from the enemy."

Me: "But I take medicine for my heart. Is this wrong?"

Uriel: "No, but soon you will no longer need this as you will be delivered from your infirmities. You will be healed and set free from these. Just know the roots and origins of what is so wide spread and common. The very food you eat; bless it, as much was dedicated and sacrificed to other gods.

"Be aware and diligent. Bring your offerings to God in the form of burnt offerings, meal offerings, peace offerings, sin offerings and guilt offerings. Bring all of these to God and He will sanctify them, understand? Therefore, you and your household will remain well."

Me: "I don't understand what these are?"

Uriel: "Then pray and ask. To whoever seeks and knocks, the door shall be opened to you. God will send help from His sanctuary so you need not worry. Pray for Israel and pray for your land, Erin. Remember, God is on the Throne and is greater than all of what you will witness. He is fully aware. This is enough today. Oh, yes, and do not worry."

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for dreams and visions. Most of all, thank You for another day of having these. Thank You for all You have done. Even though I am not healed, I see healing in those around me and I cannot believe it. I cannot believe it. It's not that I don't believe it happens or You are capable, I'm just amazed by what I'm witnessing and I'm so very thankful.

I am even more thankful that I am still here to see this. The enemy tried to take me out several times and probably more than I'm even aware of, so I thank You for these mighty angels You have sent.

You are glorious God. You are a merciful Father. You are a wondrous, mysterious Creator. You wear the Crown of a King over all of us and Your Scepter is righteousness. Glorious are Your works. Great is Your love, generosity and handiwork. Who can fathom what You have prepared for us in eternity? You are clothed in splendor and You are mighty to save us.

You send help from Your sanctuary and save us from the snares of the wicked. You know things hidden in darkness, the works of those who dwell there and Your light exposes them before us. Surely You have prepared a place for them in the depths of the sea until the day of Your judgment so they are no longer able to continue their torments against us. God, You are just and Your mercies are boundless. There is no God like You.

Dream 1:

In my dream, I saw images of gods on shelves. It was a large dark wooden warehouse with a tin roof and no foundation. There were nine shelves high of graven images, but the rows extended farther back than my eyes could see. This massive room, or relic room, warehouse had no light. I could not turn a light on to see it in detail as there was no source of power to it.

The walls were wood slats with no insulation to weather cold or heat, but the light of the sun occasionally shined through the cracks so I could see these images. I was viewing this in the Spirit, not in the flesh. The Lord then downloaded an image into my mind about a recent trip I had made to a home goods store. This store, in the first three shopping rows, contained 67 different statues of idols mixed in with garden pots and plants.

I began to count them because I couldn't believe how many there were. These shelves were different as these images were made of clay and had no color or glaze to them. Some were moldy, but most had dust. One of the images was on the ground and the back of its head was covered in mold. This was because there was nothing protecting these heads from the weather through the foundationless wooden warehouse.

As the building went back further, I could see the images become cruder in their craftsmanship. They even became darker as there was no light at all there.

Me: "Father, what am I seeing?"

Just then, I felt a hand on my shoulder. I turned and it was Uriel.

Uriel: "Erin, you are about to witness what God thinks of these. In your house, do not bring these images over your threshold as these are an abomination to God. Your home will not be blessed. If one of your family members gives you one out of ignorance, or a friend out of kindness, do not correct them at this time, but do turn from them and smash this as a symbol to God that you and your home serves the Lord, God."

Me: "Have I done this? Is there one of these things in our midst which I do not know about? I'll remove it. These give me chills."

Uriel: "Only if there is something you regard as equal or more holy than God, Erin. You do not have one of these images. Now watch."

Just then, I saw light steaming into the warehouse like the 'Light of the Son'. I heard a loud rumble as the ground shook. The Earth began to separate in two and the graven images fell into this deep dark crevice. The tin roof was peeled back by a mighty wind a thousand times more powerful than a hurricane.

The walls were folded in and looked like tiny toothpicks. I then saw a massive wall of fire burn up all the wood. After this the fire was extinguished by torrential rain like nothing I had ever seen on Earth before. Then suddenly it stopped and out came the scorching sun.

I then saw some images remain, scorched and burned on the parched ground. Then angels came with massive hammers of bronze and they crushed the images into dust until no image remained. I then saw the powdery grey dust sink into the deep crevice.

Then there was a mighty rumble; an earthquake much larger than any earthquake recorded by man. The mountains became low and the valleys high. The entire landscape was upset and turned over on itself. When the quake stopped, I then saw an angel come down with a massive plumb line. Several angels came down to record the measuring.

Me: "Uriel, what am I seeing?"

Uriel: "This is written, Erin. The great and terrible Day of the Lord is coming. The ground must be prepared in which the Lord will one day take His seat here. Those who once fashioned graven images will now bow to the Lord. Those who survive all of this will be humbled."

Me: "But no one can possibly stand against what I just saw."

Uriel: "You didn't see everything else that God sent to humble the land. You only saw what happened to the storehouse of idols. Which one of those stood against calamity? Which one of those appealed for the lost in God's Courts? Which one of those brought sight to the blind or healed the leper?"

"Other than the power to sit on a shelf of wood, colorless and without luster, what did they do? The land worshiped these, the people purchased them and made images surrounding these and erected them to serve them. Why? Why would they do such a thing rather than serve the living God Who created them?"

Tears streamed from my eyes. It was painful to watch.

Me: "Jesus is so wonderful. He loves us. God is so merciful, He sent Jesus, His Son, as a sacrificial Lamb to save us from this very thing. When I served these things, I had no knowledge of Jesus. I didn't like most people who claimed to be Christian. They were judgmental and cruel to me. I thought they were hypocrites.

"I didn't know about Jesus or the Word of God. It was easier and more comfortable for me to serve something which didn't do anything, 'no harm, no foul', than to serve a God which required me to remove my selfish desires and surrender everything to Him. I was taught that Jesus would remove my ability to have fun in life.

"I thought it meant that, to follow God, I would need to be poor and destitute. But if I could just have a head of an idol on the shelf, an idle idol which required no effort from me other than to take care of myself, then I was good. Thank You, Father, for sending Jesus. Thank You, Father, for showing me my errors. Thank You, Father, for my path which led to You. I'm forever grateful for Your mercy."

Uriel: "God is preparing the landscape."

Dream 2:

In my second dream, I was college age. I was in my twenties, but in my Heavenly state. I was healthy and strong. I lived in a type of sorority house, or dormitory, with others. I recognized many of my friends and family. Some were my exact age but appeared older and some, like my children, seemed to be my same age.

We were getting ready for classes and I needed to travel south for a short period to another satellite campus for an on the job work program. It was a difficult program to get into. I worked hard praying for my exams to go well, I passed my entrance tests and was selected for this type of fellowship.

That morning I was preparing to leave. I noticed several of my friends were quite angry. They were envious of my trip as they felt they deserved it. I felt bad as I wished they could go too. I said goodbye and began my walk to the other location. When I arrived, there was a massive panel of scholars to instruct me in my studies. I felt unprepared as, clearly, these were distinguished fellows.

I said very little as they began to instruct me from several different books. Each author had things to share with me, but each one reminded me that they were only scribes and there was the main author. I learned an incredible amount of material; things I had no knowledge of, things which, at times, made no sense. I took notes as best I could as I was certain I couldn't possibly retain it well.

I was worried that I couldn't do what the material required. At times I had tears as each author told me stories. I was then taken to a pottery class. There were a few of us taking this class. The professor was a Master Potter. He shaped elaborate vessels on His wheel. I was amazed with the ease in which He shaped vessels. He put a lump of clay on my wheel. I stared at it and, suddenly, became unsure of the instructions.

Me: "I cannot shape a vessel. I do not know how."

Potter: "You were given clay. You have already shaped vessels."

Me: "That is impossible. I was horrible at pottery classes in college. I can't."

He then grabbed my hand.

Potter: "Come with Me."

He took me to a massive room. I saw pots and vessels of every shape and size. The pots were shelved seven high. I saw little ones, short and wide, tall and narrow, all very beautiful. Many were waiting to be glazed and fired, but many had just come from the kiln. The room was very clean, with a white concrete floor, white walls and ceiling.

Me: "This room is so bright? How can it be so clean?"

Potter: "The areas here are free of particles and dust so that nothing impure goes into the body and the glaze; dust free."

He takes me to the center of this room of pots. There was a 3-tier shelf unit with beautiful glazed pots of every color and shape.

Drawing of 3-tier Shelf Unit in reply below...

Potter: "You have created all these vessels and shaped them."

Me: "How did I do this? I have no skills like this?"

Potter: "You are not actually the potter, this is My job."

I turned to look at the Potter and He had become the Lord. I turned to hug Him.

Me: "It's You, Lord, You are the Master Potter."

Jesus: "Yes." He smiled. "but let Me show you something." He pointed at all the vessels in the room. "Erin, I taught you also how to be a potter. These you have created by My instructions, My leading and My hands, understand?"

Me: "No, I don't understand. You are the Potter, I'm clay, Lord."

Jesus: "Yes, but did I not train other potters? Are your own children not born as clay and you shape them by My leading? Do these not eventually become able to shape their children? Did I not equip My disciples with training, walking with them on their paths to righteousness and then equipping them with the ability to train others?"

"Did I also not leave them with gifts? But was I also not always with them until the day I received them? Why do you then doubt you are capable if I have Written it is so? Do you not study My Words and believe, Erin?"

Me: "Forgive me Lord. If You have declared me able, then I am able. I surrender to You, but..."

Jesus: "Do not let your doubt be your undoing. If I declare you capable then believe and receive it. Do not doubt. Now, these vessels have come through the furnace of afflictions. They have beautiful luster and are perfected. Now look."

He tilted the first toward me:

"This one contains My Words."

I saw a scroll with many pages rolled up in the vessel.

"This one contains My Oil."

I saw the purest fragrant oil in another.

"This one contains My Wine."

I saw red wine which smelled full, pure and sweet.

"This one contains My Bread."

I saw a larger mouthed vessel with fresh warm bread.

"This one contains My Fruit."

I saw a large vessel with all types of beautiful ripe fruit.

"This one contains My Honey."

I saw a beautiful Golden Vessel which contained rich thick honey.

"This one contains My Fragrance."

I smelled perfumes of frankincense, myrrh, jasmine, and lilies.

"This one contains My Light."

I looked and there was a beautiful candle, a flame which never goes out.

"This one contains My Grain."

I looked and there was every type of wheat, barley and corn.

“This one contains My gold.”

I looked and there was a human heart beating, but it appeared as gold.

“This one contains My Clay.”

I looked and there was a perfect lump of clay.

“And finally this one is My Water!”

He tilted the vessel and water continuously flowed into the room.

Me: “What does this mean, Lord?”

Jesus: “Each of these vessels I have given to you. Each vessel contains a gift. Each works together. Now, you will, in turn, go out with these vessels. I will send you out under My authority. Now you will, at times, be troubled at what you see. I will send you out in pairs.”

Me: “Most of these people on this campus hate me. How can I go out with these vessels? They will break them.”

Jesus: “Do not worry. I do not leave you alone or abandon you to the grave. You need not worry. You will not suffer shame. It is time for your journey Home.”

Me: “But I am Home.”

Jesus: “Back to Campus up the road. Take these vessels with you and share them with others. They, too, will go out and do the same.”

Me: “What if we run out?”

Jesus: “Your oil jar will never be empty nor will your flame be extinguished. Your water will be refreshing and your fragrance sweet. Wonderful are the feet which bring good news. Come.”

He walked with me along the road for some time as I journeyed back.

Me: “I miss my children, Lord.”

Jesus: “They are waiting for you. Now, I must go do My Father’s business. I will send you someone to help so you are in pairs.”

I hugged the Lord and He disappeared, although I knew He was near.

As I approached the campus, the ground became ice and I looked as if I had high heels on. These were obviously not appropriate shoes for the conditions. Just then, I began to slip and one of my friends was there to keep me from falling. We then walked together as I shared my journey with Jesus.

We approached the main campus building and it looked like the Lincoln Memorial, or something like it. Some people recognized me and waved; others were irritated and angry with my presence there. As these people exited the massive building, they began to slip on the ice.

Friend: "Erin, pour out from your vessels to melt the snow and make their steps solid."

I reached into the large scroll and unraveled the Word of God over the ice. Many trampled on it, but others read it as they walked on His Words. I then looked to my left, down on the ground, and there was black soil.

A woman: "We are hungry. There is no food for us."

I looked and there were trampled plants. I reached down and began to pull up vegetables from the Earth. At first, there were small vegetables. Then they became massive. I pulled out a huge carrot. People were amazed. Some began to accuse me of being a demon. I then began to call out to Jesus.

Jesus (in the background): "Do not be afraid. They believed this about Me too."

Dear Father,

I'm not certain what these dreams are about, but I thank You for the nuggets contained within them. Thank You for sending Jesus. Thank You for saving us. Thank You for our place near Your Altar. I love You.

End of dreams...

I'm not sure fully what these dreams mean, but I pray those with gifts of interpretation are able to discern. Love and blessings. He has Risen. Then as I was finished, I heard...

Jesus: "Erin, come up."

I was immediately at God's open door. To my right was the forestry board and, to my left, Uriel. Uriel smiled and, with one of my pottery vessels, he poured me a glass of water. He then handed this to me.

Uriel: "Drink this and remember this day. Who is living water and where does it come from?"

Me: "It is Jesus and it flows from the Throne of God. The water we thirst is only what God, Jesus, can satisfy us with. It is the wellspring of life."

Uriel: "These are good answers. Now, God requests your presence."

He reached over and put salve in my eyes and then walked me into God's presence. I immediately recognized the fragrance from the vessel Jesus showed me as His fragrance. Then I heard the choir of angels, "Holy, Holy, Holy is the Lord God Almighty, Who was and is and is to come."

Again, so beautiful; every time I hear this, it is never old. This song is always beautiful and surprising to my ears and body every time. Uriel brought me in as far as my feet would go before the sheer power of God's presence drew my very cells to call my knees down. I began to worship God.

Me: "Thank You, Father, for sending Jesus. Thank You for my family and all we have been given. Thank You for my friends and thank You for these times we are in. May all we do bring glory to You, Father."

God: "I am glad you came. You are My vessel in which I will pour through you."

Me: "Thank You, Father." I was quiet.

God: "Erin, your thoughts. Speak; as I know them and search you."

Me: "Father, how can I be of any use? It is difficult as I cannot see it. Please forgive me. There are people around me who constantly remind me of my lack and unworthiness. I'm not Jesus and I'm not knowledgeable about His words and business, at least not like some. I don't understand."

God: "We have been here before. As I am God and I declare it, then who is capable of correcting Me? Do I make errors? Do I see a mistake or accident and declare, 'Oh no, I didn't expect this?' When stars fell from Heaven, did I then say in shock, 'I did not know stars could fall, so far and so fast even?'"

I then felt the floor of the court rumble as I knew He was laughing.

God: "There are no surprises; nothing hidden, nothing lost, nothing gained without My full knowledge, understand? So I say to those who make you believe this, 'Get thee behind Me', as clearly they do not speak for Me. From the time you were a child, and before this, I called you.

"I was with you during your many years of refining. I allowed both the good things and the bad things so one day you would stand in My Court, before Me on the Throne, as you are now. I do not believe there are many who would volunteer to take your place. They would need to live your life in whole, not in part, to get here; all of it, including every trial, every test, every storm, every surgery, every disappointment and every mistake from start to finish.

"Your life is not a buffet, in which an observer could say, 'But I only want the appetizer' or 'I only want the dessert'. It doesn't work like this. As clay, you are thrown onto the Potter's wheel. You are trodden down, shaped, pounded again, dipped in water and then you are spun and molded by the Potter's hands.

"Does the clay shape itself or ask the Potter, 'what are You doing?' No. The clay submits itself to its Creator's hands as its shape and life depends on the Potter. The Potter can't just take a lump of clay and throw it into the furnace and have it come out with the ability to be a vessel. If there is nothing the Potter could pour into it, it would be no more than a hard clay lump." Matthew 22:14.

“There are no shortcuts in life to make it where you are. Many have been called, but few are chosen. You should not be envied, but, instead, extended kindness and welcomed. Now, you were shown the use of your vessel. Your vessel contains all of what My Son has granted you. These even are like the Seven-fold Spirits and originate from here.

“You have had many dreams of living water. Those things I pour into you, you empty yourself with this water, and I then pour into you again. You are a good vessel. Your luster is brilliant and you hold to capacity that which I grant you. Then when I say release this, you surrender and empty yourself again. Now I’m giving you more and you are able to contain it until I command you to release it to others.”

Me: “If I were to keep the clear memory of all of it, I don’t think I could do it. There is too much.”

God: “This is why you are My vessel. My Son called you also to drink the water which turned to wine, the water which gives you new birth, the living water, the cleansing water of Bethesda and the calming waters.” He had flashed images of Jesus giving water in these forms, so it was unique and difficult to write at the same time. “All My fountains are in you. Now you are being called for greater service. I am readying you.”

Me: “Father, the dream of the idols; this seemed so real. The dream of Jesus with the vessels; this was even more real than ever. What was the time of these idols?”

God: “I have begun to separate those who I’ve called away from things of the world. Those who are weary, tired, torn and downcast no longer see the luster of worldly pursuits. They move through their days with their responsibilities, but something has changed.

“The desire is gone and now the need for something more has come; the thirst for Me. This is natural, as the times are almost upon you. Just know that, when you lack luster about the things of this world, it means you are drawing closer to Me. Come. To all those who thirst, come. Drink and be satisfied. This is enough today, Erin.”

Me: “Thank You, Father.”

God: “You are welcome. You are My vessel.”

Me: “You have more than me though, right?” I heard Him laugh with a rolling thunder.

God: “Do you have several drinking cups, pitchers or vases?”

Me: “Yes, many.”

God: “I am God. You’ve seen My Kingdom. Are there not many good vessels?”

Me: Laughing. “Yes, of course.”

God: “Then, too, I have beautiful vessels. There are many. I pour into them as they are willing. You are loved, Erin.”

Me: "Thank You, Father."

I felt Uriel bring me to my feet. He escorted me out the door of God.

Uriel: "You have had a busy day, Erin. You are being prepared, even now. You will be mocked by many. Do not worry. The Lord is with you and He has commanded angels to watch over you to guard you in all your ways. Rejoice and be glad. Soon our Lord will be coming."

(Formerly known as Final Hour 9)

Communion, started on Thursday, March 31, 2016

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day. Thank You for my family. Thank You for my dear friends. Thank You for the promises of spring. Father, with every new season, I can't help but wonder which might be the last.

A memory of mine was triggered when I was just seven years old. My grandparents had taken my brother and me to the mall in Reno, Nevada. My step-dad worked at McCann shoes. We shopped at Sears for clothing, or JC Penney, but I was fascinated, as a little girl, over the store, I. Magnin.

I remembered my Mom shopping there too. It was a rare thing to own something from I. Magnin's because it was just too expensive. I just remembered walking through it; even the smell of it. Yes, I know; an odd memory. More than anything, I remembered something else. A clerk boldly making a statement, late 1960's, that everything not made in Italy, considered the finest clothiers back then, was made in the United States.

Now, fast forward to today. Virtually nothing is made here anymore; nothing. I realize that things in the 1960's to the end of the 1970's, and even before in the US, were tumultuous, but certain things felt secure as a citizen. I remember as a child in Nevada, where we lived when I was about three to seven years old, we would have air-raid drills that were quite frightening.

It seemed we were still worried about the Japanese or Korea? Who knows and I can't remember. All I know is I remembered asking a teacher in kindergarten, 'how is my desk over my head going to protect me from a bomb?' She never had a good answer simply because she knew this was ridiculous.

Teacher: "Erin, your chances are better under the desk rather than at it."

Me: "Okay, got it."

Then from around ages seven to thirteen, we lived in the San Francisco Bay Area. There we had earthquake drills. Okay, again, we had to hide under our desks during the drills while the teachers stood in the doorway arch. The doorway arch, it turns out, is the strongest stress hold during a building collapse. They are a good place to be during an earthquake.

Again I ask my teacher, "Why are we under the desks? The building is concrete blocks and will crush these metal legs."

Teacher: "Erin, this is safety protocol."

Me: "Why are you able to stand in the safest part?"

Teacher: "Erin, you ask too many questions. This is so we can help when the quake is over."

Me: I nodded. "Okay, I get it." I decided I wanted to be a teacher at that point as it seemed a safe career choice.

Dear Father,

My dream last night focused on structures and my memories of these drills. I was trained my whole life by 'the system' to hide under my desk for safety when disaster strikes and not to sit at it; yet the very desk I crawled under today would be built by greedy corporations who cut corners. These small shields would be more like crushing devices in an emergency. How could we trust them to save us or anything other than You, Father?

In my dream, I was signed up for qualifying for an Olympic event in the summer. I needed to travel to Florida for qualifying round number one. There, I had to learn to swim in dangerous seas. The instructor recognized me by name, which shocked me because I was not a swimmer or an Olympic hopeful; yet he thought I was.

I had a series of qualifiers where I maneuvered the water with the front crawl, backstroke and side-stroke. I guess I qualified, but I'm not sure how as, clearly, others were much better.

Then for qualifying round number two, I was sent up to the Louisiana area near New Orleans for my second event. I needed to swim up the mouth of the Mississippi during an epic flood while towing people on a small boat. It was impossible. While I was readying myself for the event, I went back to the host home in which I was staying.

I hadn't been there for a long period of time, but, in this instance, I was stuck at this home in New Orleans while the owners were away. There was a massive city-wide blackout and this home was historic and was an old plantation mansion. I was staying in the southern part of the estate, but I decided to go through the rest of the building to make sure the home was safe.

It was very hot and humid. It felt like summer. The main area had a bunch of museum cases. In each of the cases were various items about military, along with propaganda and other times. One entire case was 'new religion' books and memorabilia. I saw several different symbols, including the Cross.

In the other cases, I saw the history of fallen nations, but, what stood out to me, was a case with photos of the USA before and after. I saw it titled, 'The Rise and Fall of an Empire', but everything was of the USA.

I then saw all these other items, such as a book titled, 'How to snuff out or expose the enemy'. I picked up the case lid and grabbed one of the books. I saw horrific photos and unbelievable lies. Basically, it was a book on how to deceive a person to fool them into admitting to being a Christian and then exterminate them. I was really bothered as I thought these people were good strong Christian friends.

I left the propaganda room and walked to the north side of the home. There I saw three people sitting just inside a utility door, smoking crack, in the dark. I startled them and they fled out the door. I then proceeded to call my friends, the owners. When I reached them, they said for me not to worry, just lock the door. Then I asked about the stuff in the cases. They hesitated.

Woman: "Erin, everything has changed. We are 'neo-christian', a part of a new and better religion. We embrace our brothers and their differences. We are able to capitalize on and unify."

I knew not to argue. I then proceeded to begin small talk and we ended the conversation. I decided to walk back up into the northern part of the estate. As I was leaving the area of display cases, I saw a series of books titled, 'Lessons of the Berkut', which, by the subtitles below the title said, 'A means to a peaceful resolution'.

I looked down and saw thousands of copies with signs labeled 'free'. I wasn't sure if this Berkut was a nation, city or a country; who knows as it was all foreign to me.

I walked back up to where the intruders kept entering. I knew there was no way they could have come back in, but I wanted to check anyway. As I approached the dark area, I saw the quick spark of a lighter followed by hushed voices.

Me: "Get out of here, in the Name of Jesus."

Then I heard laughter; hysterical laughter.

One of the men: "There is no Jesus in this land."

Another voice: "He left this place a long time ago. I don't think He was ever really here."

Another voice: "You're smoking crack, lady. I see Jesus when I smoke this."

I began to yell in my prayer language. It sounded like many voices, like an army. It terrified the drug users and they screamed and fled. I prayed and sealed the door. Then I called up to God.

Me: "Father, there is no one here. Please take me far from here."

Immediately, I was above the entire North American continent. I looked down and I saw the total obliteration of many coastal cities. I was looking at the aftermath and I was in a much later time than now, but before the time of my dream.

Me: "Father, what happened?"

Then I saw the rotation of the Earth's axis change and time went backwards. I couldn't tell the amount of time which passed.

Drawing of Entry Points to the USA in the reply below...

Index to this map is also included in the reply below...

What I saw surprised me. I saw the North American Continent look like a giant 'Risk' board game. There were several different events. I saw a series of bombs from barges launched against the US. Then I saw these barges detonate and sink, or they were forcibly sunk by the military, I couldn't tell.

I then saw something deceptive. Aid relief ships had arrived prior to the attacks, then moved into position right after I saw them come into areas with very little patrols. Then these 'relief workers' came, but they were not aiding. Instead, they were more like invading.

Then I saw massive exoduses inland as the coastal regions were uninhabitable. I saw the massive Mississippi overflow in the midst of this, dividing the USA into two parts. I saw militia units gather together to fight this World Police Organization, or something like it, but it was very difficult to see.

I stopped for a few days to pray. This was not as I had expected.

Communion, started on Sunday, April 3rd, 2016

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day. Thank You for all You do. Thank You for my family and friends. Thank You for the beauty in simple things. Thank You, most of all, for Your love and patience with me.

I just had my pacemaker checkup and a very interesting conversation with my Electro Physiologist. Since my pacemaker had been installed in 2008, my unit has had to kick in and assist my heart over 17,059 times. He told me it was my 'life saver'. Father, You are the determiner of my days and the keeper of my heart and its beat rhythms, so thank You.

After the last vision on March 27, 2016, the printout registry showed my heart struggling during this last dream. Well, it is nothing like the one I just had. I feel my body responding to my vision as if I were seeing it in real time. I wonder if I am worthy as these are becoming increasingly tougher to write. I become tired, exhausted, quiet and sullen.

I'm not very joyous, Father, so I pray this is normal. You are the lifter of my head, so please keep me happily focused on You and things of Heaven. I love You, Father, and I feel so glad to be in this time, yet I am also quite heavy about this too.

Jesus: "Erin, come up."

I was immediately up in front of the beautiful pond near the forestry board and God's door. I was facing the beautiful little lake with fountains. It was so peaceful here. It was lush and colorful, with flowers everywhere.

I bent down to smell a bunch of fragrant flowers when I heard the sound of an unusual bird. I looked up and it was a pair of trumpeter swans flying over my head and coming to rest in the pond. I had just seen a pair fly over our car on the way home. They are massive birds, but so beautiful.

Me: "Hmm, Father, are these the same ones I saw?" I heard Uriel's voice and felt a tap on my shoulder.

Uriel: "No, these are not the same ones. These reside here."

Me: "I felt the two I saw on Friday, April 1st, 2016 were a sign. They are rare in this part of the USA. They were way off course it seems."

Uriel: "No, Erin, they were right where they were supposed to be."

Me: "What did they mean? Are trumpets about to sound?"

Uriel: "Soon they will, but there are still things which must occur. You know this."

Me: "Yes, but I will always stay hopeful that the Lord will come sooner."

Uriel: "You can ask God on the Throne if you would like, but, if He doesn't share this with His own Son, why would He you?" He smiled.

Me: "I know. God will not go against His Words, but can I continue to keep asking? Is this wrong?"

Uriel: "Only if you are okay to keep hearing 'no' with every request. Sure, you won't surprise God nor will you wear Him down."

Me: "Okay, I get it. I'm not going to have my way on my timing nor can I coax God to change His. I surrender all of this to Him."

Uriel: Smiling. "Very wise decision; now, God requests your presence."

Instantly we were at God's open door. To my right was the forestry board. There was a note with a golden heart on the outside. I picked up the note and opened it.

"Behold you are beautiful!

You are loved by The King!

Rejoice and be Glad!

Sound the Trumpets!"

I smiled and placed the note in my pocket. I turned back to Uriel and he placed salve in my eyes. He then guided me into God's presence. The choir was so beautiful. I never grow tired of them. It truly is the most amazing choir in all of the universe.

I finally fell to my knees. I knelt over the sapphire Sea and worshiped God. I thanked Him for everything. I asked Him to remember the prayers of my children and my friends as they were on my heart as I knelt there. I asked God to please forgive my discouragement at times.

God: "Erin, your thoughts."

Me: "I'm struggling with what I've been shown."

God: "Erin, I revealed this to you when I showed you the ten 'leaders' three years ago. This should not come as a surprise. Whoever seeks to divide up My land, I too will divide theirs."

Me: "But, Father, how will any of us survive this? Most of us cannot. Will trouble come to Israel at the same time? Will we be gone? Will You send Jesus prior to this?"

God: "You are anxious and scared. Be still and know I am God. Things were put into place long before. There are no accidents. The enemy has planned the fall of these nations and they were granted permission. This is written so that of the prophecies will come to pass.

"Now you are aware of the strategies. You understand how this is possible, but now you are aware of an even greater deception before these events occur. The land is battered by Me. You were shown how olives are harvested. This is how this land is pressed.

"The structure is weakened and the hearts of those living in the land are discouraged prior to these next punishing blows served by her enemies. This once great nation is attacked while vulnerable, not during a time of strength. Those who are able to escape it are free. Those who remain are pressed. The same occurs on My land, Israel, and this, too, is written and comes as no surprise."

Me: "I'm so sad, Father, this is so horrific. Can it be stopped?"

God: "No. This must occur in order for those whom I call to turn to Me and repent after renouncing their wicked practices. Many during this time will curse Me and fall away. You are instructed to reveal that which I give you to release. You are graceful like a swan and sound like a trumpet.

"Do not retreat, Erin. Though many will murmur, they are only fooling themselves about the lateness of the hour. Those who complain had better reveal that hour which is better as they are not speaking for Me. Now you are uncomfortable; this I understand, but what, if any of this, is comfortable?"

“So many have chosen to change My Words, those of My laws, and remove My commands and statutes. Those who love to get their neighbor drunk with wine and therefore gaze upon their nakedness will drink and be exposed, those who rush into all kinds of evil and claim it valid.

“Those who removed My Name off of the map and tore down My commandments in your courthouses will drink and be exposed as their nakedness is that of shame. They shall be exposed. I will send swarms and plagues on those who plot all kinds of evil against My people.

“The sting of bees will be nothing compared to the sting sent upon them by My very hand. They will see that the land will lose its great light and, once again, the world will stumble in the darkness like sheep with no shepherd. They will call Me, but I will not answer from My Sanctuary nor will I hear their cries from My Courts. They will endure the crushing for a time, times and a half before I have mercy.”

Me: “Father, You will send Jesus for us, right?”

God: “Yes, Erin, but the Bride will see a time of difficulty prior to this. You must prepare. Build each other up. Testify to the goodness of My statutes and commandments. Those who need to repent; do not wait, for I send My Son at a time you know not, even in the watches of the night.

“So be ever diligent in pursuit of Heaven and cast out that which is unclean from your midst. Pray for your brother and pray for your sister as they are unaware of the times they are in, understand? Therefore, do not be lazy. Make productive use of what you have been given.”

Me: “Yes, Hayah. Yes, Father.” I then felt a rumble like laughter.

God: “I remember, Erin, and I've not forgotten your love like a child. Please do not lose sight of this. Now this is enough for today.”

Me: “Father, can I ask a question of You?”

God: “Yes.”

Me: “Those rescue barges, or troops; they were already near their destination to help with relief before the missiles were even launched.”

God: “Yes, Erin, they were part of the deception. Only a ‘peacemaker’ who has knowledge of the defenses of this nation from the inside could destroy it so readily; first by winning their hearts and minds and then turning on them.”

Me: “This is frightening.”

God: “Many will be completely caught unaware. It will happen quickly, in the watches of the night even.” I was in tears. “Do not worry, Erin. Look to Me. Look up for your redemption is near and your recompense I send with Him, understand?”

Me: “Yes, Father. I love You, Hayah.”

God: "I love you, My child."

Uriel brought me out the Door.

Uriel: "Erin, God has commanded angels concerning you. Do not worry. You are not to fear. As it is written, it will come to pass. Remember to read about the fall and the coming of the Son of Man on the clouds and do not worry."

He smiled at me and I nodded back.

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day. Thank You for all we have. Thank You for my friends and family. Father, please bless my daughter on her church retreat today and bless her walk with You. I thank You for the continued healing of my son as this is a miracle I never imagined. Each day, a new and more wonderful page is turned in the story of his healing.

Father, I have more to be thankful for than to be worried about. This is a harsh contrast from just four years ago, so thank You. If it hadn't been for the miracle of Your presence in my life and this ministry, my children and I would have probably been separated. I would be without hope, but, now, this miracle.

I am grateful, so grateful. My Father in Heaven has the keys to life and it is through Jesus. I have been redeemed so I am forever in awe of God's wonderful mercies.

My dreams last night were tribulation dreams. In one dream, I was an observer. In the other, I was a Tribulation Saint.

First Dream

I was standing at the banks of a river. The river was fast and free flowing. The water was clear and lovely. It looked like spring water. I saw people drinking the water as it flowed from right to left. The vegetation on the banks was green and lush. People looked happy. The sun was shining and the sky was beautiful.

Then, as I stood there in my Spirit, I witnessed the sky grow horribly dark. A wind stronger than any I had ever seen flattened everything surrounding the river. I then saw grey 'snow' fall from the sky like ash. I then looked in the northwest direction, beyond the river, and I saw a massive wall of fire.

What the wind didn't flatten, the firewall torched. When the fire subsided, I looked at the river. The water had gone from foggy to bloody. The blood came from the right, out of the east, and the banks of the river spilled over with blood.

Second Dream

I was in the remnants of a large city. The streets were made of packed mud. There was laundered clothing, although not clean, hanging to dry in shanty housing. It seemed worse than a third world country.

I was walking to a massive area where they were advertising, 'Family Lots for Auction'. I went there and witnessed auctions. These were household items of saints who had been taken up in the Rapture. However, they announced it as 'Free and clear, no next of kin'.

The first family in this auction was extremely wealthy. They gave a brief description of the estate and told bidders that the estate was free from religious relics, idols and reading materials. They showed a photo of the home, the family and one lifestyle photo as if they were famous.

This family was named 'Lot 146'. Then the curtain was raised and extremely large vases were displayed. There were five vases, so the bidder lot was '146-1' and it continued with each group on stage. Each of these five vases was about five feet high. I recognized them as:

- 1) Lalique Glass.
- 2) Tiffany
- 3) Rookwood Pottery
- 4) Rhead
- 5) Duam Glass

Each one of these vases would be incredibly expensive. The Tiffany and Duam were worth well over a million each. It was sad and a useless auction at the same time. The bidders were all foreigners. Massive trucks were hauling the pillaged plunder of exited Saints.

I left the building. I heard someone say they were hungry and a man said, "There is a fruit garden in the back of the arena." The sky was gloomy and looked like rain. I walked into a small below grade dip in the landscape toward some fruit trees and berry vines.

As I drew closer, I saw massive spiders over all the fruit. The fruit was rotting. From far away, it looked ripe and good to eat, but, up close, it was rotten. I decided to run when I saw the entire ground was covered in dung beetles.

Drawing of the dung beetle in the reply below...

The dung beetles were gunmetal grey, dark blue and black. I smelled the stench of dung everywhere. The fruit was growing from the dung, which confused me.

Dream over...

Father,

Please help me with the meaning of these as this was horrific. Lord, since these 'Final Hour' dreams have come, the reality of what is 'coming soon' to the world is imminent. Please protect us and keep us ever focused on Your heart of goodness with all the bad. I Love You.

Jesus: "Erin, come up."

I'm immediately up by the small lake near God's door. The lake is beautiful with fountains, but not like earthly replicas. These are like art and very beautiful. The main fountain appears as if it is springing forth from a massive boulder, although the boulder sounds hollow so that the sound of the water falling makes music.

The branches, or spouts, of water fell with precision and on different locations of the rock, thereby creating different notes and tones. The water spouts look like bent glass tubes, but, instead, they are perfect strands of water. I also notice that lights come from this rock, allowing the water to be colored from the spouts.

I've never seen, nor heard, of anything like this on Earth. A water feature such as this on Earth would be impossible to create with such precision. I looked and, from behind the fountains, the pair of trumpeter swans emerged from the water arch. It was beautiful, like from a 'story book'. I suddenly felt a hand on my shoulder and it was Uriel smiling down at me.

Uriel: "Beautiful, isn't it?"

Me: "Yes, incredibly so."

Uriel: "God requests your presence."

I reached up to take his hand. We were immediately at God's door. Uriel pointed behind me to a note. I reached over to a small envelope with my name on it. I opened it and took out the note. The card had a beautiful gold heart and something which made me smile. The gold heart was half gold and the other was red with a small embossed lamb.

Drawing of the Gold & Red Heart in the reply below...

Me: "Oh, funny. The Blood of the Lamb."

I opened the small card and it said:
"Erin, your gold heart is covered in My Blood.
Do not worry when the enemy attacks.
It will come to nothing.
Your visions of Me are clear!
You are loved."
Jesus

I began to tear up as I have felt the attacks the last few days. My children are fine and the house seems clear. It is me individually under attack.

Uriel: "Erin, this is natural to be discouraged. Your lull is over and now you are restless for answers. The enemy knows who you are and continues his assignment against you. But greater is He who is in you than he who is in the world. He will not prevail in his assignments against you. You are covered by God and He has commanded angels concerning you. Rejoice.” He smiled and put salve in my eyes.

Me: “Uriel, do you see the blood in my right eye?”

Uriel: “Hmm, no. Do you see blood?”

He had a small mirror. I looked and saw nothing.

Me: “No, there is none. My eyes in this reflection are greenish blue, but my eyes are brown.”

Uriel: Smiling. “Hmm, I only see greenish blue. Curious?” He smiled and knew what I was asking. “Oh, yes. No blood.”

Me: “Okay, it must be only on Earth?”

Uriel: “Or maybe ‘as it is in Heaven, so shall it be on Earth’? Better to think like this. You can also pray, ‘On Earth as it is in Heaven’ if you’d like.” It seemed serious.

Me: “Okay.”

Uriel: “Now, come into God’s presence, Erin.”

He walked me through the door. The music of the choir was so beautiful.

I paused here for an appointment at the Ophthalmologist for a checkup to have my bleeding eye seen...

I’m not sure how something I hear often can still sound so incredibly crystal clear and beautiful. I’m always in awe at the Heavenly choir of angels. The room is beautiful and the sapphire Sea is so amazingly awesome in craftsmanship. There are no adequate words to describe a living, breathing, solid, yet fluid, floor. There are just no words.

It is not just a blue sapphire stone floor. There is more. The stones respond to God and praise Him; ‘the rocks cry out’. The floor lives and it is illuminated from within, yet originating from God on the Throne and His glory. There is nothing like this.

It could be mimicked by technology over green screens or by computers, but it would not be an actual entity as the floor of God’s Court is. It even parts at God’s command and recreates a virtual 3-D model of future events in solid format. Okay, top this X-Box, Macintosh, Sony, Samsung or Microsoft. It can’t be done; impossible.

I walked up as far as my knees would allow and I dropped to the floor in worship to God on the Throne. I put my face to the floor and I smiled as I could see inside this solid sea of blue glass stone. I saw it with fluidity move, like waves of motion. It was warm to the touch and deep. I don't understand it still; just fascinating. I stayed for some time praising God for His miracles. He is surely so good.

UPDATE: I just received a miracle from my eye doctor today. My eye is just fine. "It will look worse before it gets better, but the bleeding has stopped.", stated my doctor. However, there is more. I thought I needed new glasses because my sight was blurry. Instead, the doctor said, "Erin, your eyes have healed. You really don't need glasses at all anymore. Perhaps light reading glasses, but your distance is fine." I said to her, "How is that possible?" She said, "We see it typically in younger patients, but, honestly, I can't tell you why. There is no explanation."

Me: "Thank You, Father. I needed a sign and this was huge. You are healing me and You allowed this hemorrhage with my eye to show me that You are hearing my cries for help. So thank You. My children were in shock as my glasses gave them a headache when trying them on. I needed this sign, Father, to encourage me after I've been so sad this week."

God: "I heard your cries, Erin, and I am answering your prayers. Stay your course and do not be afraid. Your dreams trouble you because you have come to understand the time coming is no longer far away. As a woman labors, the contractions grow closer and closer together just prior to birth."

Me: "Father, this has been a very long and difficult labor and it gives birth to such darkness. The Lord has placed Matthew 24 constantly before me in my dreams and on my heart. This seems like the time and so does Isaiah 66."

God: "You have been shown what will come. You have seen a peaceful river and then a blood stained one, the result of wars. This is no surprise as this has been foretold by My Son. All which He spoke shall come to pass. This is not fluid and changing. I do not relent."

Me: "Father, what was the purpose of the second dream?"

God: "So those who care to listen or read that which is written can turn from their wickedness. You saw a slum city in a once great nation under Me, dedicated to Me for My purposes, and for My glory. Now the gift has been revoked by their own tongues and I have been slandered. Now this is a land void of God."

Me: "But, Father, there are still people who love You. There are still many who pray. Have mercy, Father."

God: "I tell you the truth, Erin; the time will come when you will not find one righteous man in a city. The birth foretold is of that time written. You could say, from an earthly perspective, the birth of evil. However, you would be wrong. Evil was born with the fall of man. Man didn't just eat one bad fruit; man gave into the lie of bad is good and good is bad.

"The times, like that of Noah, are drawing close and there is no sign of stopping what is coming, but it is good for those who dwell here in Heaven and it is a day of great travailing and pain for those who remain on Earth. Your dream showed the worst in man. There will be no need for high priced vases, yet someone will sell everything to have one, yet needed no money to purchase salvation, which is free.”

Me: "The quality of all things here in Heaven cannot be compared to anything on Earth. It is better in Heaven. I was sickened when I saw the auction. I felt horrible as I knew these people lacked knowledge or, if they had it, they didn't believe. In a Shanty Town, where would you put a five foot tall Tiffany Vase? It would be destroyed, chipped or stolen.”

God: “Many will be like vases. Now, what else did you see?”

Me: “It was putrid. I went to the area of fruit, but the fruit was bad. There were spiders everywhere, but worse, there were dung beetles and dung three inches thick on the ground. I could smell the dung and heard the sound of the beetles clicking and rubbing shells. It was horrible.”

God: “Those who are able to remain faithful through all of this will wear the Crown of Life. They will lose even their heads, but gain the Crown of Everlasting Life. I have written their names on the palms of My hands and I have not forgotten them, though they forget Me for a while and trade Me for vases.

When darkness comes, they will remember Me. They will go through the most difficult trouble on the cursed land. They will endure every kind of calamity. They will endure the absence of the light. They will live in fear.

Many who were blind will have the veil removed and will faint from the sights surrounding them. It will be a time like no other. They will thirst, but drink only gall. They will hunger, but have nothing to eat. They will pray, but no one will answer. They will beg, but no one will have mercy.”

Me: “Father, please show me how I can do more. I want to do more.”

God: “Allow Me to work through you. There is still time. The birth has not come yet as it has not presented a crown. The labor is quickening and the pain is rising, but birth has not yet presented.”

Me: “Father, I believe I understand. It will be like the days of Noah.”

God: “Yes, this is written. Now, your healing continues. Not everything is always as you think. There are reasons. When looking back, you will have the full picture of what I am painting.”

Me: “Thank You, Father, for healing my eyes.”

God: “I'm not finished. This is enough for today.”

Me: “I love You.”

God: “And I you, Erin. Do not worry, understand?”

Me: "It's hard, Father. This is difficult and an unpopular message."

God: "Some people understand a 'feel good' message and listen. Most flee from a 'feel bad' message because they enjoy that which feels good for their fleshly appetites. 'Feel good' messages are made possible by first fearing Me and accepting truth about the stains of sin."

"Many want these messages white washed so they can ignore their conditions. The symptom of sin is death. Those who accept their condition of sin and turn from it, accepting My Son, who took the sin on behalf of sinners; well, these will eat good fruit planted in pure soil, void of dung and dung beetles. Understand?"

Me: "Yes, Father, I pray I write clearly."

God: "Those who seek Me understand this message. It is easy. Choose a vase on Earth or a vase in Heaven? What is a vase?"

Me: "It holds flowers or water, like a vessel."

God: "Now you understand. Choose life now. Be a vessel of outpouring. Satisfy the thirst of the thirsty with the Good News of what I've prepared for those who drink. My Son offered water at the well to the Samaritan woman on the Sabbath. Do not refrain from doing good."

Uriel brought me up and out God's door.

Me: "Uriel, I pray I understand."

Uriel: "God is calling you to carry the Good News; water to those who thirst. The pain of your labor; didn't it make you thirst? You understand that many will be in shock when the great and terrible Day of the Lord comes. He is requiring that you ask for His guidance in all things."

"He will provide you help. Do not lead unto your own understanding. In all your ways, follow Him. Now, He has put Matthew 24 on your heart, as well as Isaiah 66. Psalm 91 and 16 also nourish you. Do not worry, Erin, take heart."

Dream 201 – God, the Rose, the Lily, and Black-eyed Children

Received Tuesday, April 26, 2016

(Formerly known as Final Hour 11)

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day. Thank You for my children, family and friends. True friends are so difficult to find and I'm so thankful for them.

One of my friends said something so thoughtful; a true friend is a faithful friend and is someone who has your back because they know you and are lovingly committed to you. They have your back and do not speak ill of you to others. They lift you up in prayer and are kind to you based on love.

However, a loyal friend is someone who is dedicated to someone based out of guilt-filled obligation. A loyal friend sows seed based on the past with very little commitment for growth, whereas a faithful friendship is built on sowing seeds of love to work toward a future harvest. The loyal friend stays out of fear, while the faithful friend stays because of love, joy and hope. The loyal friend remains for the wrong purpose.

Father, my heart has been heavy the last few weeks. I feel in my heart that You are coming soon and there is no time to wait. I love You. I pray when You call me friend, that I am a faithful one. I love You for Who You were, Who You are and Who You are soon to become, though You never change.

Even though I see such horrific trouble soon to come, I know You will take all of this bad and turn it to good. You know the hearts of every man. You search each of us and You know the hidden rooms within each heart; some are dark. Thank You, Father, for sending Jesus to unlock these dark chambers with His keys.

Thank You, thank You, Father. Bless my faithful friends. Forgive my enemies. Open the blind eyes of those who do not know You. Speak tenderly to them.

Jesus: "Erin, come up."

I was immediately up on the beautiful forestry path. The colors were so vivid and beautiful. The path was illuminated by the sun. The fragrance was beautiful; a mix of redwood, pine, gardenia and jasmine – oh, and a hint of roses. I heard music in the background. It reminded me of every beautiful place I'd ever been; all rolled up in one place, yet add Heaven to this, magnifying the beauty times a thousand.

Tears streamed down my eyes as I thought about the peaceful glory of this path. I walked a bit further and there, to my right, was the beautiful pond and fountains. It took my breath away. I sat down on the soft grass and thanked God for allowing me to see and write about this.

Last night, the kids and I went to see the movie, "Miracles from Heaven". In the part where the little girl died, they showed her in Heaven on the path, then by the pond and then in the fields of flowers. I searched to see if I could find pictures of how the movie recreated all of this for the viewers. Quite simply, I was amazed at how close this was to how Heaven actually looks; not nearly as perfect, but very close.

This little girl, Annabel Beam, had been here in Heaven; on the path and by this lake. She had been in God's garden, beside His very door. I saw the beautiful swans courting each other. The water was crystal clear. I closed my eyes for a moment so I could capture the smells and sounds.

Me: "Thank You, Father, for this amazing gift. Thank You for the Gift of Heaven."

I felt a hand on my shoulder. I looked up and Uriel was smiling at me.

Uriel: "God requests your presence, Erin".

I smiled and grabbed his extended hand as he brought me up to my feet. I was instantly in front of the forestry board. I looked to my right and there was a beautiful pink and burgundy rose and a beautiful shimmering lily. There was a small engraved envelope with my name on it.

Me: "Uriel, can I open it now?"

Uriel: "You have never asked before. It is addressed to you. I see no other Erin amongst us, do you?" He was smiling.

Me: I was laughing. "Okay."

I reached over to open the small envelope. There was an embossed rose and a lily. I opened the small card:

"I am the Rose of Sharon, and the Lily of the Valleys.

As the lily among thorns, so is My love among the daughters.

My Bride, you Erin, are like a rose and a lily thorn.

You bloom where you are planted, until the day

I remove you to a safe place!

I love you"

Jesus

(Song of Solomon 2)

Tears streamed down my cheeks. I took the two flowers off of the board and looked to Uriel. He motioned me through the door after he put salve in my eyes. The salve allowed my eyes to behold portions of God's glory surrounding the area. I still couldn't make out God on the Throne or the surrounding area behind Him and above with any clarity.

I had seen depictions of God on the Throne in art history classes, but nothing I've seen comes close to capturing God's Throne Room. I'm not even certain it is a room, based on the size of the sapphire Sea. I've seen aspens which meet the tops of these massive columns, but I don't know how far toward God they continue.

Uriel took me a bit farther, at least until my cellular gravity prompted my body to fall to the ground in worship to God on the Throne. I thanked God for all He has done, all He is doing and all He will do. I cannot fathom His love or imagine the measure of His heart. It is huge, huge, huge! Any man given Godly authority and power aside from God would be frightening.

Me: "Thank You, Father, that You are merciful, gracious, compassionate and in control of everything. Please forgive me at times if I become more loyal and less faithful as a friend. At times, I become disheartened over the long wait for Jesus to come for us. Sometimes I become depressed at my lack versus gratitude for my abundance.

"I try so hard to hold on to what is good that I fail to let go and allow You to take me away to something better; I become afraid, Father. I see the world grow colder. I'm afraid, but You are Faithful. You see the end from the beginning. I see only what I am capable of by human standards. Please help me, Father."

I prayed for some time. I worshiped God as I listened to the choir of angels. I thought to myself, "Here time has no significance and no measure, yet, on Earth, time goes so quickly". My son is soon to graduate from high school and my other two will be in high school together. I never thought I would live to see this. I prayed God would come for us prior to these times.

Part of me clings to my children as little ones. They were so innocent and full of wonder. They never worried. They were joyful. I lost time during my earthly battles. I lost more time while I worked. Now I have time, but I am more of a cab driver, sounding board for advice and a cook. They are becoming adults and I miss them as children.

Me: "Father, life is both wonderful and painful."

God: "I know your thoughts. You are My friend, you are here and faithful."

Me: "Father, I don't always feel I am a good friend to You. I had difficult dreams last week and I chose life instead of time in Your presence. Please forgive me."

God: "If I'm your Father and I also call you friend, then am I faithful or just loyally deceitful?"

Me: "You do nothing out of duty or routine. You are faithful when I am not, Father."

God: "I feel the pain in your heart, Erin. I have heard your cries. I do not forget the cry of the afflicted. I will heal your broken heart and bind up your wounds. I will not turn My face from you. Your children, I will save."

Me: I was crying. "Fa...Father... Thank You for my children, my family and friends. Thank You for memories, but, at times, well, many times, they are quite painful. I cannot cross back over bridges with closed toll gates; meaning I cannot turn back time. However, at times I miss the small moments of happiness."

God: "Erin, what you are experiencing is birthed from believing what is soon to come and that which I have allowed you to see. It is not beneficial for you to see that which I have seen. I see things done in secret and that which is birthed from evil. This cannot go unpunished nor can I ignore the cries of the afflicted."

Me: "I see only what You've shown me and I can't imagine this. The news is horrible and I can barely keep up. I have seen only a fraction of what You've prepared for us and I'm so excited to be here with You in Heaven."

God: "I have placed a Scripture on your heart. What have I promised?"

Me: "I was troubled about how much wickedness is in the land. I have become worried for my children at school. Those who instruct them are teaching against our love of You. Things forbidden to speak of just a few short years ago are now permissible topics. Now things praising You and Your miracles are over-shadowed by new age testimonials.

"No one listens to our testimony, Father. In fact, we are told to silence our praises to You by those with lying tongues. It is okay to praise Allah or other gods openly, but to speak of Jesus, well, this is called hateful, divisive and narrow.

"What are we to do? How do we live? I want so much to speak my mind. I have stood up to these teachers in defense of our beliefs, yet they look at each other and then me as if I am a disturbed child. How do I stand when the standing wall is stronger and larger? Oh, You gave me Psalm 37 and another Isaiah 5."

God: "The first one speaks of what will happen to those who practice the latter one. Did the angel not also tell you the last Books were important?"

Me: "I'm confused. Was it five and Revelation?"

God: "All are good. Why have I called you to these?"

Me: "I do not know."

God: "The first of the six, or five if you did not include the Book of the Reveal at the end. This one begins My architectural framework for the redemption of man. This proclaims the importance of My Son and My plan through Him for future generations. The other Books are instructions for living by faith, persevering under trial, turning from sin and enduring with patience.

“There is more. There are Words of wise counsel when encountering false teachings. These writings instruct you in the ways you should go. The instructions are to turn from wickedness prior to the final Book, understand?”

“Now, those who repent and turn from wickedness will receive eternal life; those who accept that My Son bore their sins, tearing the curtain or veil in two and exposing the heart of the matter. Those who persevere under trials of many kinds will inherit so much more here with Me. Let those who lack knowledge pray and ask Me.

“All those who seek wisdom, then knock and I shall open this door unto them, but those who choose their own ways and light their own path will not be found by Me. Their dimly lit path leads to the valley of fools, where they dance around fire and sacrifice the living to vacant gods.

“Do not follow these. The last Book written condemns them. But if you believe in My Son, Who I sent to atone for sin, then even more will be written from My story and this will never end.”

Me: I was in tears. “Father, thank You for sending Jesus; our greatest gift. Thank You for the stories in the pages of the Bible; both old and new. Thank You for the Holy Spirit; our lamp for our Bride Groom to find us. Thank You for Heaven. Thank You for salvation.”

God: “You are welcome. I sense fear from you. Speak. Why?”

Me: “I am afraid of other Christians. Father, You have told us to study the five Books leading up to Revelations. Is not all of Your Word important?”

God: “Yes, for different purposes. Some only read the letters, some only the Gospels, some only the Psalms, some the beginning but not the end and some just the end. Many exclude the prophecies, lamentations, chronicles or wise counsel. Very few read the Book of Love. What I have spoken of is very direct instructions for coming from where you are, in a dark land, to the land of everlasting peace. Use it as a guide, like a user’s manual or a map.”

I could feel Him rumble; like a chuckle.

God: “As calamity continues across the land, evil will increase. There will be many who turn away from My laws and instructions to chase after other gods. When the flame increases, people will run to avoid exposing their darkness. Those who live in darkness will prefer it. Those who love light will see an increase. You should not fear this time or the next. Although there will be unrest in the land, your mantel is peace.”

Me: “Father, You have shown me so many frightening things to come and massive deceptions. Is there anything I can do?”

God: “Pray. Pray for the peace of Israel. Pray for the peace of your land. Pray for those with ears to turn and listen. There is good news. Beautiful are the feet of those who bring this good news. You recently came up with something to remind your children to pray and turn from sin.” He rumbled and seemed to laugh.

Me: I was a bit embarrassed. “Oh, yes, I call it R2B2. Repent (turn away), Renounce evil, Break the power of the enemy, Bless (four steps). I needed something to help them remember to turn from sin and that, if they do, You are quick to forgive us.”

God: “Very good. Your results please Me. This is good.”

Me: “I want my children to be faithful to You; not just loyal, Father, but faithful. I know Peter declared his faithfulness, yet Jesus spoke of his soon betrayal. The disciples all mostly fled and were not at the Cross, only the two Mary’s and John.”

God: “Do I not take that which is bad and turn it to good? Did Peter not only receive forgiveness, but also gain great wisdom? Was he not one of the best witnesses to attest to his mistakes and overcome the very evil one who petitioned to sift him as wheat in My very Court?

“The enemy has been here to petition against you and your children, Erin, so reading about those who have gone before you in battle and overcome that which is against them seems like wise counsel, a very good Book. Now, you have questions about something disturbing your sleep. Ask Me and I will increase your knowledge.”

Me: “Yes, Father. I keep having similar dreams and I need help. In this one dream, the Bride was removed and the light was gone from the land. Those who ran to the hills for shelter began to starve and came back to “safe cities”, although very few were safe. I came to testify to a woman in a very dark part of an eastern city with many hills.

“I was with another saint and we had a folder with photos of Heaven inside them. This woman was about 32 years old. She was once a very strong Christian and then fell into false doctrine when she lost her husband in an accident. A church embraced her and convinced her it was okay for her to sin because God, You, were fine with this and all-forgiving no matter what we do to others.

“The woman had a demon following her everywhere which appeared to her as her 7 year old daughter. To others around her, she appeared insane with grief and seemed to talk with herself. We were sent to show her photos and letters of her 7 year old with Jesus and her husband in Heaven. When I appeared to the woman, I could see this child-demon. It could see me and it appeared as an actual demon with black eyes and a guttural cat-like hissing.

“The demon turned to the woman and could speak like her daughter. The woman could see parts of this demon-child presence. She begged me for help to get to her Husband and child in Heaven. We helped her to stay strong in Jesus.

“Then the dream was over. I need to know how many of these child-demons will pretend to be like those children raptured up? Father, this is a huge deception. If I were that woman, I too would be so distraught over my losses. I could fall for this deception too. This is horrible.”

God: "Then have thanks that you will not be in those times. I will send the angel to explain the deceptions of the enemy. What you have seen, the enemy has fought to keep hidden."

Me: "I often wondered what could keep people from You during the Tribulation."

God: "Then it is good for you to plant your seed in good soil, relying on Me to bring the rain, sun and a record harvest. Now, remain faithful as you have been. I have sent you faithful friends in this season to remove you to a safe place I have blessed. Allow Me to send the rain, sun and harvest so you can spread the Good News to those who slumber." I heard Him chuckle. "Erin, remember R2B2; this is good instruction."

I was still a bit uncomfortable about my off-handed Star Wars symbolism for repentance.

Me: "Thank You, Father. I love You. Thank You for healing my eyes and the healing of my son. Although he is not fully healed, each day he is more and more normal. Bless You, Father, for all You've done."

God: "It is not over, Erin. You are loved. I call you friend."

Me: "I love You too."

Just then, I felt a hand on my shoulder. I looked and it was Uriel. He brought me to my feet and out of God's court.

Uriel: "Erin, there will be a great deception when the Lord comes for His Bride. The children will also be removed, as well as those who have reached a time in which God deems them unable to understand just who His Son is. This means it is not just those who are under the age of Jewish accountability.

"God has provided for those who lack from a mental disorder from birth or that lack at the hands of man, understand? For it is written in Mark 10:14-16, "Do not hinder them, for the Kingdom of God belongs to such as these. Truly I tell you, anyone who will not receive the Kingdom of God like a little child, will never enter it." Also in Matthew 18:10, "See that you do not despise one of these little ones. For I tell you that their angels in Heaven always see the face of My Father in Heaven."

Me: "So this means the mentally handicapped will go also?"

Uriel: "Read what I said to you, whom God sent to tell you; then pray. The deception coming will deceive even the elect, both before and after the great and terrible Day of the Lord, understand?"

Me: "It will be a wonderful day for us, but horrific to all of the others."

Uriel: "This too is written in Matthew 24, 'And He will send His angels with a loud trumpet call, and they will gather His elect from the four winds, from one end of the heavens to another.' Erin, you understand the Parable of the Fig Tree as you have been shown. Understand the seasons to come and the time you are in. Beautiful are the feet who bring Good News. When you see all these things, you know that it is near, right at the door.”

He smiled and turned my attention to God's door.

Dream 202 – God, Sign in Heaven, September 23, 2017 & the Puzzle

Received Monday, May 2, 2016

This is the last dream with a previous reference and was referenced to as 'The Final Hour 12'.

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day. Thank You for spring blossoms, the song birds and the sound of rushing water. Thank You for my family, friends and my continued healing; although subtle, and behind that of my son's healing, I am thankful for continued strength.

Father, I come to You this morning with a massive burden. I have had several dreams with bits and pieces of a greater picture.

My dream...

I saw a massive jigsaw puzzle of the Earth. I was sitting at a massive table. I was handed a box; a massive box. It was mailed to me by UPS and came by three-day air. I had to sign for it at the front door.

I opened the box and, inside this, were thousands of puzzle pieces. There was a note from the sender, "Please complete by September 23, 2017." I then received a phone call. The voice on the other line was my Mother's, "Erin, this is 'Mom's first name'; your task must be completed." Then there was just a dial tone.

Dream over.

Father, do I need to scatter her ashes by this date? What is this? Why did she not say 'Mother' instead of using her first name? This left me sad; very sad.

Jesus: "Erin, come up.

I was up on God's path. It was spring time. All the blossoming trees were in full bloom. There were so many flowers and beautiful green grass. I saw glass-crystal winged butterflies and dragonflies. Maybe in Heaven, the dragonflies are called something else, perhaps Mayfly, I'm not sure; but, for description purposes, this is what I will call them, 'dragonflies'.

I saw baby animals, along with their mothers. There were deer, rabbits, squirrels, ducks, geese, otters and so many others. They were out in the open, grazing on various plants. To my right was the beautiful pond. This is where I saw the otters, geese and ducks.

Nothing; no animal had fear. They weren't even afraid of me. The sounds were so beautiful, the fragrance divine and the colors were like nothing I had ever seen on Earth. I wept as I looked out over this beautiful sight. Tears streamed down my cheeks. My heart was heavy and I wanted God to remove my burdens.

Me: "Father, You rarely give me dates to share with others. Why now?"

I then felt a hand on my shoulder. I turned and looked up to see Uriel. He was smiling.

Uriel: "I'm here to take you to the Throne of God. He requests your presence."

Me: "Uriel, I'm troubled by my dreams and I'm not certain what to do."

Uriel: "Erin, your mantle is peace, remember? You need not worry. Ask and it will be given to you. Seek and you will find. Knock and the door will be opened to you."

He took my hand and we were immediately at God's door. I looked and, to my right, was the forestry board. There, on the top, was a small perfectly built bird's nest. Uriel motioned for me to pick it up. There, inside, was an egg opening. Inside, it sprang a small baby bird.

The baby bird had a puzzle piece in its mouth with a heart on it. My name was right below this. I giggled. As I held the nest, the baby bird's mother flew into it. It was plump with feathers of gold and wings of silver. It was the most adorable little dove I had ever seen. She reached over and fed her baby bird. I carefully placed the nest back where I found it. The puzzle piece remained in my hand.

There was a small envelope with my name on it, so I picked it up and opened it. Inside there was a card embossed with a nest and three eggs. It reminded me of my Mom. Inside the card, it read:

"Erin,

I have built a nest

for you near My altar!

Rejoice as you did in your youth!

I Love you!"

Jesus

I was crying.

Uriel: "Do not cry, Erin. God requests your presence. Rejoice, as He has built your nest at His Altar. Be glad."

He then put salve in my eyes and brought me into God's presence. The choir of angels sang, "Holy, Holy, Holy is the Lord God Almighty, Who was and is, and is to come!" The 'Holy, Holy, Holy' overlapped the chorus and sounded so beautiful.

When my knees began to waiver, I knelt down to worship God. I thanked Him and His continued grace and love in our lives. I thanked Him for my Mom and prayed that, one day, I would see her here in Heaven. I asked Him for revelation over these tapestry quilt-like dreams recently and that He would put these pieces into place for me.

Me: "I love You, Father, and I'm so thankful to You for everything You have done for us."

God: "You are welcome. You have questions with these dreams?"

Me: "Yes. Before the dream with the puzzle, I had another dream with puzzles. In this dream, there had been a major storm and blackout; no power. It was summer and hot. No one wanted to go to bed, so we pulled out a puzzle from the garage.

"The puzzle was a montage of U.S. cities. I had 16 pieces that matched. They were light blue, dark grey and green. I began to piece this together. It looked like the Statue of Liberty. I looked over at my children's portion. One had the Golden Gate Bridge, one had the Washington D.C. Monument Garden and my one son had the Seattle Needle.

"We continued with our portions of this large puzzle, but I noticed that my pieces changed. I saw the seven spikes and the 11 stars under her feet. I saw her raise a torch to the east. She was the first light. I then saw her platform read, 'This is the Goddess Isis'.

"Then, when I began to put my portion of the puzzle into the mainland puzzle, it was like a cutting knife, destroying the other connecting pieces and destroying anything from fitting. I set this aside.

"I noticed my children were having problems with their sections also fitting. Then, Father, there is the dream with the date of September 23, 2017. This is exactly 24 months to the date of death of my Mom."

God: "I have given you pieces to an elaborate puzzle. This once great nation was given to Me, but one cannot give what was never theirs to give. This land was blessed. Of the seven lands upon seven seas, this land I gave seven times more blessings than the others. It was a good land and I prospered it.

"Other lands envied her, but also reveled in her beauty and become fat over her wealth. The statue you have seen mocks My signs in the Heaven; the woman appearing, clothed in the sun and the moon under her feet and, on her head, is a crown of 12 stars.

"The statue you have seen stands on an 11 pointed star as she falls short of my grace and protection. She stands on the husks of the Tree of Knowledge and therefore stumbles. She speaks of Me with idol lips, yet I have no knowledge of her as her heart is void of Me.

"She stands at the eastern gate to seduce all those who enter through her. She sits at the break of dawn and lights the surface of muddied waters. She claims to be the light of the world, yet she wears horns as her crown. She is like a siren who brings those who come to her destruction.

"I have sent a sign in the Heavens to mark the downfall of her destruction. This sign is written in the stars."

Erin: "Is this the date, September 23, 2017?"

God: "A sign, and signs, are sent by Me for those who pray for revelation to uncover."

Erin: "So, New York will collapse or our country financially?"

God: "Erin, you know this as this time is written. This comes as no surprise. I have spoken about labor pains and the birth of My Son. Who can dispute this? Those who support the division of My Land will also experience a great divide. Those who bless My Land; I will bless."

"Now, the enemy petitions for the heights in My Land, one of My Hills. When destruction comes to the cursed land, people will flee to the heights only to find destruction there also. Their enemy waits on the heights and hunts them with dogs.

"I have heard their back room deals and their collective bargaining. I know their treachery and their black hearts. Their seed is evil and their harvest death."

Erin: "Father, are you speaking of New York City or Jerusalem? What deals or heights?"

God: "The enemy has begun to dismantle My Land, My City of Refuge in Bashan. The enemy would like to seize this and use it to better their position of defense from the hills. From this, the corner of protection will then become a corner of fire. This bargaining proposition has been set up by allies, or "all-lies"; these are deal breakers. They do not follow My Commandments, therefore a deal with them is 'no deal'."

Erin: "So what about New York?"

God: "Erin, the statue is like a lamp, but an idol and curse. This is mockery to Me and I will no longer stand idle to idols. I will bring destruction quickly to those who partition My Land, even in an hour as this is written. Now pray for the peace of Jerusalem to come quickly."

Erin: "Father, have mercy for the sake of those who have no knowledge of this. Please, Father, please grant wisdom to leaders."

God: "Erin, they have declared and built the very harbingers which call out to warn them to repent. They do not heed these. The land continues to be battered with no relief, no remedy or cure. The labor pains are loud and the contractions closer together. Have you seen a time like this so far ever in history?"

Erin: "Should we be afraid?"

God: "No, but rejoice as a bride waits for her groom and is tradition. You know not the time in which He comes, so search for Him. Keep your lamps filled with oil. Remain faithful and in praise of Him who comes for you, understand."

"Now, remain with an upright heart. Do not lend yourself to discouraging declarations or disheartening gossip. This does nothing, but removes your joy. Soon there will be a wonderful celebration as you will be far removed from here. This is enough for today."

Erin: "Thank You, Father. I love You."

God: "I love you."

Uriel brought me to my feet and out God's door.

Uriel: "You have more questions?"

Erin: "What will happen in the meantime?"

Uriel: "Your nation will continue to be battered as God has not removed the angels from battering the land. Now you discovered some things just recently. Do you have questions?"

Erin: "Yes. This was illuminated, via the Holy Spirit, about Elisha cursing 42 youths. These youths were then mauled by two female bears. Elisha was on his way to Bethel and the youths teased him on his way (2 Kings 2:23-24).

"I felt that it was a symbol of the 42 months of Tribulation as the youths mocked Elisha outside of the church. Those youths were void of the Spirit of God and subject to mauling. It didn't say the bears killed them, but I would think they would really suffer, if not die."

Uriel: "Perhaps this is a sign in the Word from God that those apart from Him are therefore cursed and subject to 42 months of mauling with no relief?"

Erin: "This is frightening."

Uriel: "Pray. Pray for Israel."

Dream 203 – Drinking from His Cup

Received Friday, May 20, 2016

Communion

Father,

I need You with all I have and all that I am. Father, You have done such incredible things with my life. You have been kind, gracious, loving, trustworthy, faithful and ever present. I cannot thank You enough.

I am now drinking from Jesus' cup. I am in shock over the things said of me. It has sent waves of sorrow over me as if I had died a thousand slow deaths. Father, I shared my life openly according to Your instructions.

In the beginning, I overshared and You gently guided me back under Your mighty wings. You warned me to keep my eyes fixed on You because men use information both for good and evil.

Truth is a double-edged sword. We should only answer to truth spoken about us, as Jesus did. We should not engage the enemy on their battlefield as they have an arsenal of weapons bent on destruction. Instead, fix your eyes on Him and all things good, lovely, and fruitful. These are words of counsel when I desire to defend myself against false accusations.

Father, please expose the schemes of the enemy. I have very few close friends. Thank You for sending these. I have shared my life with them. They have been sent by You so we can pray together and believe for Your blessed miracles.

Father, if there be more in which I need repentance, then please reveal this to me. I became angry and then grieved about emails that were sent. Then the accusations soon followed.

Lord, You revealed to me why the house that these dreams were in was not to remain the cover over them. You showed me evidence of things said of me in secret. You systematically exposed the movements of the enemy until the day You had me confront the trouble.

You showed me why we were never seeing the healing miracles, the deliverance miracles and the breaking of chains of the opposite of the fruits of the spirit. It was painfully hard to address as I avoided it several times over the years.

You began to push me out from under the cover as the structure was crumbling. I witnessed all kinds of enemy attacks there, but I remained set apart helplessly watching that which I did not control.

You first had me step out of the boat at my mom's memorial when I revealed the dreams, the miracles and the books to family and friends. Some of my family did not react well to the dreams and became distant towards me, my husband and the children. They were happy about my marriage, but were not happy at all about the miracle of my visits with The Lord.

Then, just seven months later, You said, "Now, it is time." Then You had me place something into one of the dreams knowing that it would expose the person You showed me doing things out of the wrong heart with the wrong intentions.

Then I witnessed what cursed things were thought of me when, Lord, You had warned me about this when I was concerned about revealing my marriage. You told me, "As your family embraced your marriage and cursed your ministry, your ministry will embrace your dreams and gifts and curse your marriage.

"This I have allowed as your race is almost finished Erin. Many will run the final portion of the race, your race, with encouraging words and with hearts of gratitude, yet many will be behind you whispering 'you took a wrong turn, Erin' and 'You left people angry; come back fix this'.

"Yet I instead fixed your eyes on Me. At the end of your race, and even up in the place I've prepared for you in Heaven, there will be a massive celebration with great joy, so do not worry about the rabble.

"They (the rabble) prefer you remain sickly, injured, poor and without hope as they do not believe in the very prayers for miracles they prayed over you from the beginning.

"Here, I heard their prayers. I answered their cries. I did this, as I have blessed you and answered, for when two or more gather in My Name, there I am with them. Erin, do not worry."

So, Father, I have clung to these Words during this horrible storm. Everything You said would happen has happened exactly as You have said it would. Very few remain now. I realize now that I had few faithful friends. Maybe You should have kept me in the desert; alone, injured and, eventually, my children taken from me for lack of any provision.

Father, forgive me; in my heart, I know this thought was from the enemy as I only have to see the joy of my children, the love of close friends and family and the sound of the birds and stream outside of my devotional room window to know You are good, Father.

You have answered my prayers and blessed me and my children. Though I have not seen all the miracles You have planned, I know they are coming for all of us. Thank You for giving us hope and even a small portion of what is waiting for all those whom love You.

Jesus: "Erin, come up."

I am in my running clothes again. I am in the same spot I was when I was here last. In front of me, I saw green forest. Next to me, along the path, was grey ash, sticks, briar bushes and small patches of thorn bushes.

As I looked forward a few feet, I could see small blades of green grass springing up through the ash toward the sunshine. I turned to look behind me and there was the charred remains of the former things. It looked as if a wall of fire and wind swept over the entire place. It was uninhabitable. I knew this piece of the race.

Me: "Lord, why allow this? I am being called the person responsible for burning this down." I heard God's voice.

God: "Erin, what is ahead of you?"

I turned to see light coming from the path ahead of me.

Me: "Yes, Father, I will continue on my race."

I turned away and began to sprint down this road. As I ran down this less-traveled road, I dodged rocks, I broke sticks and I scraped my legs a bit from debris. It felt fantastic though. I ran and praised God at the same time.

The forest was becoming thick and beautiful again. I saw meadows, flowers and abundant life in the growth apart from the fire and its effects. The air was clear and full of life. It was wonderful!

The road meandered a short while and then I could see the trees forming an archway into a sunlit clearing. It seemed to take me from the forest into the light-filled meadow clearing. I became thirsty. I smiled as the Lord knew in advance of my need.

There in front of me was a sign pointing off to the right. At first it read:

"Water?"

Then it changed to:

"Water"

As I got closer, then it changed to:

"Water!"

As I neared it, then the sign shook. I laughed.

Me: "Thank You, Father. Yes, I am thirsty!"

I began to run down the road towards the direction of the signs. There was one sign physically, but many signs reinforcing the one sign. I smiled at God's infinite wisdom. Up ahead, in the distance, I saw a massive fruit tree with good fruit.

As I approached the tree, I saw the beautiful river and Jesus waiting for me at the bank. His arms were open and I sprinted over to Him. I put my head on His chest and cried.

Jesus: "I know these have been difficult days for you, Erin. Come, you are thirsty."

He smiled and walked to the beautiful river. He motioned for me to kneel beside Him. He reached down into the water with His cupped hands and offered me a drink. I smiled. He raised His hand up and poured water into my mouth. I drank and drank.

Jesus: "How is it?"

Me: "Wonderful, thank You."

Jesus reached down and scooped another cup of water and gave it to me. He smiled.

Jesus: "How is it?"

Me: I was a bit bewildered by the repeated question. "Wonderful water!"

Jesus reached down and scooped another cup with His hands and offered it to me. Again I willingly drank from His hands.

Jesus: "How is it drinking from My cup?"

I was laughing when I finally understood what He was saying. Then my laughter turned to sorrow and I began to cry.

Me: "Lord, I don't like Your cup of affliction. Can I just have a drink of water and forget all the suffering stuff, if You don't mind?"

He was smiling.

Jesus: "Wait, Erin, you volunteered to take this race detour. You can't go back to that portion of the race and change your mind. Life doesn't work like this. I thought you understood this."

He smiled. He knew I understood what He was saying.

Me: "I know, Lord, I just don't enjoy this. So, so many people I thought were my friends were not."

Jesus: "Do you need another drink from My cup?"

He began to put His hands into the water.

Me: "Lord, the cup I'm drinking from I drink because I'm thirsty for more of You, but my heart grieves. It quenches my thirst for You; the water You give refreshes, but there is a price to pay for this. I have no idea if, one day, I would even suffer as You have.

"However, I know Christians all over the world are persecuted because they love You and thirst after You. No matter what this involves, I have signed up for this race." I put my head down. "I just don't like what people say about me. I have only done what You have told me to do."

Jesus: "It is because the process of obedience can be painful. You trust in Me. You have seen your place here, but you wonder what you will need to endure for My sake, correct?"

Me: "Yes."

Jesus: "It is difficult to see the bigger scheme of what I have prepared for you because, right now, you feel as if your ship has been grounded against rocks during the storm and it seems your boat and crew are getting hammered by the rough seas. You will be fine. This was necessary. What happened during this time which distressed you? Those who jumped ship and said cursed words to you?"

I thought a moment....

Me: "Yes, Lord, I felt I dedicated my life and that of my family to spread good news, but it seemed very few people were reached. At first, I had lost all hope of the dreams continuing as I began to engage the enemy and respond to harsh critics.

"It was painful to see. I felt helpless as You instructed me to only respond as You did; to truth. You taught me there is no wisdom in responding to lies as this is a snare and trap the enemy uses. When I respond to only truth, I am set free. I was just unable to meet people's demands, but there was more to this and it hurts."

Jesus: "You have learned that, even with evidence to support your position, many would prefer you disappear and hand over all I have given you for their purposes. Erin, I did not send them. They act on their power, not from Me.

"No weapons formed against you will prosper. Those very weapons shaped to destroy you will be turned back against them. I have given these to you as I direct them. If they had only read the Words, they would see. I did not remove this gift from you and give it to another.

"Everyone who is for you I have sent and those against you were not sent by Me to destroy you. I removed you because kind words were not said of you.

"You were unaware of things done in secret. Those claiming to be your friends were deceivers. Now they unite and bring curses upon themselves by their tongues; a double-edged sword.

"Now, forget about your former things; do not dwell on the past." He smiled and looked me in the eyes. His eyes were so beautiful! "See, I am doing a new thing! Now it springs up; do you not perceive it? I am making a way in the wilderness and streams in the wasteland. The animals honor Me."

He pointed back and to his right. There I saw His beautiful white horse eating some fruit at the tree. Just then, I saw a small white foal come from behind His horse. I laughed. It was a beautiful little horse! Jesus smiled again.

Jesus: "The jackals and the owls even."

He then pointed to a beautiful furry-looking fox or dog and some jackal puppies? They were so cute. Then my eyes went to a tree branch. There

I saw an owl and some babies. I smiled. They were out in daylight staring at Jesus.

Jesus: "Because I provide water in the wilderness and streams in the wasteland..." Then He looked back at me. "...to give drink to My people; My chosen!"

He smiled at me.

Me: "Lord, that is from Isaiah 43. I recognize that."

Jesus: "Well then, very good. What is written after this?"

Me: "Sorry, Lord, I will look this up."

Jesus: "Before you do, know this; Erin, I have chosen you and those with you. What the blacksmith has and is doing to you, well, I will restore what the enemy has stolen from you. Do not worry or be afraid as you are one of My servants and messengers."

I went to the Bible and Isaiah 44. I got tears in my eyes. Not only did the Lord encourage me with this chapter about who I am to Him and my friends, but who my enemies are and what He will do to shape them.

Me: "Thank You, Lord."

Jesus: "Did you go farther? There is more to this. It is like one of those television commercials."

He laughed. I was laughing so hard.

Me: "I see the...Okay, so if I purchase the chapter Isaiah 44, You will now throw in 45 as a bonus?" We were both laughing.

Jesus: "Yes, act now and you will have the bonus of a foal from My horse!"

Me: "Really, really!" I jumped up off the banks of the river. "I'm signing up!"

He stood up and was shaking His head laughing, His arms crossed in an overlapped position.

Jesus: "Yes, I told you this a long time ago. Come!"

He held out His hand to walk me over to the horses. Even though they were feeding, Jesus' horse and the foal instinctively knew to stop everything and walk to Jesus.

We began to pet the horse's silky hair. I noticed they both smelled wonderful. They didn't smell like a barn stable.

Me: "Lord, I really will have this foal?"

Jesus: "Yes! Erin, I will even cover all costs associated."

He was referring to worldly costs. I walked over to the foal and, instinctively, it walked to me and nuzzled into my arms. I reached in to hug it.

It was beautiful; all white with braids of silver in its tiny mane and tail. Its hooves looked almost like metal-burnished silver. It was a tiny version of Jesus' horse; a fine, fine horse.

Me: "Thank You, Lord. The fur is like metallic white pearl. It's so beautiful. I can't thank You enough! I feel undeserving of such a gift."

Jesus: "You asked for this a long time ago; a treasure for you stored up in Heaven. Those I delight in, I also give good gifts.

"During My trials on Earth, I focused on doing what My Father does. I waited on Him. Although I asked for this cup I was given to pass from Me if it be His will, but it was not.

"Now, stay on your course, Erin. You stand amazed how these horses need no bit to lead them. This is because they know Who I am concerning them. I will not harm them as I created them. They are peaceful here and have no need to worry about predators."

Me: "Lord, You taught me about horses and leading once before. I can't recall when, but..."

Jesus: "Well, right now you are dealing with those who speak with unbridled tongues. He who does this with no leading then also deceives his heart. This is a heart condition (James 1:26). The heart steers the tongue and yet the tongue deceives.

"You must not be a hearer of their words. Erin, do not receive these. They have no knowledge of Me nor do they delight in keeping My statutes. Now give Me your yoke."

Just then, Jesus brushed my back from shoulder to shoulder. I felt a weight lift off of me.

Me: "Thank You, Lord."

Jesus: "Remember to eat good fruit. Do not eat that which the world offers. A good tree cannot bear bad fruit and a bad tree cannot bear good fruit. Those who operate from a crumbling foundation partake in eating the fruit of the world. Now, as I have given you water to drink and good fruit to eat, keep your focus on those things."

Me: "I try, Lord, but, at times, I take a bad bite. I'm not always loving, joyful, at peace, patient, kind, good, faithful, gentle or maintain self-control. The Holy Spirit immediately convicts me when I'm not and I repent."

Jesus: He was smiling and agreeing. "Erin, it is okay. I did not command you to be perfect in an imperfect world, but I do ask for a bridled tongue and an upright heart. Pray for those who curse you and forgive trespasses against you. Love covers a multitude of sins.

"After you have brought your enemies before Me, then leave them for Me to handle. You were not sent on a peaceful mission here, yet I am asking you to dust off your sandals, turn and go to the next town when the Good News is not received. Then let Me handle your enemies, understand?"

Me: "Yes, Lord. It's difficult when I can't see You working. I want to vindicate myself."

Jesus: He was laughing. "What is better; you vindicating yourself or allowing Me to work everything together for the good of all parties to My glory?"

Me: "I know it is better for You to shed light on truth. It's just sometimes difficult watching from the water."

Jesus: "It is better for you to look toward Me. If you go back, you will be tempted to engage in conversation with those who prefer things as they were. Many lend themselves to gossip, jealousy, anger, lies and all bad fruit.

"In fact, once they have taken one bite, they desire more and more. They consume hate and they become that which they digest. Now focus on Me. I have some things to share with you."

Me: "Lord, I have a question about a recent dream. I fell asleep for only a short time frame. While I was asleep, I was in my yard at summer time. There was a swift wind coming in from the south.

"A large amount of dandelion seeds flew over my head as I ducked to avoid them. When they passed over me, I looked to see and then I noticed something attached to each one.

"I saw striped mosquitoes clinging to the dandelion seeds! They flew over our home and then they were gone!"

Jesus: "Then take note to this very time you are in."

I looked into His eyes. I saw clouds move quickly over blue skies. I saw a massive storm come from the south up the East Coast to Washington D.C. I saw another circle in the Gulf of Mexico. I saw pounding storms, rain and record heat.

There were rolling blackouts in major cities. I saw a calendar page turn to June 1st and then, in the night sky, I saw an upside down dragon in the stars over us.

After the hurricane hit the East Coast, I saw an airplane fly from east to west in the sky. Then, on the West Coast, I saw epic heat and fires. I saw an angel near San Diego pick up the corner of the Baja Peninsula and wave it as if it were a dirty rug being shaken.

The angel picked it up and dropped it three times. People were terrified. Then I saw the land rest for a short time and then trouble came from the east and the north. I then saw the movie reel in Jesus eyes disappear as I stood stunned at what I just saw.

Me: "Lord, the land is being pounded. My kids travel again this summer. It is summer, right?"

Jesus: "The land is being battered. The time is now. Do not be afraid. Remember, God's Clock would move faster and faster."

Me: "Lord, but the Ring of Fire is my gauge."

Jesus: He pointed to His chest and smiled. "Oh, I was hoping I would be your gauge, not the Ring of Fire. You still have time. Remember the Words I have given you!"

Me: "You mean Psalm 45 or Psalm 46."

He rested His elbow on His arms and touched His chin as if He were studying my question. Then He smiled.

Jesus: "How about both?"

Me: "You're funny, Lord. Okay, but could you give my children safe travels?"

Jesus: "Well, are you giving Me your children or are you taking on their well-being."

Me: I was laughing. "Okay, I will give them to You! I trust You, Lord."

Jesus: "Hmm; there is a 'but' there."

Me: "I'm sorry, but I was hoping they could stay here with me this summer. Please, please, please."

Jesus: "I receive your petition. I will make you a proposition. I will take your children and do My will with them and, in turn, I give you up to half My Kingdom!"

Me: "Hmm, that is more responsibility than I'm capable aside from You. If I can't manage teenagers..."

Jesus: "You are capable. Just trust Me in all things."

He reached over to hug me. I held Him for some time. I began to cry.

Me: "Thank You, Lord, for all You do for Me. Even when I don't think I will like where You take me; it always turns out much better than I could ever imagine or try to execute on my own.

"Everything You plan for us is so much better. It might start out a bit slow, then comes upon us suddenly; all the while You prepare us in advance.

"Thank You also for the foal. I can't wait to be here with her."

Jesus: Laughing and smiling. "Erin, I have so much planned for those who love Me."

Me: "I love You!"

Jesus: "I love you!"

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day. Thank You for the blessing of family and friends. Though the Barn has burned down, and those within have now flown, You still speak to our hearts until one day, one by one, we meet together in the sky.

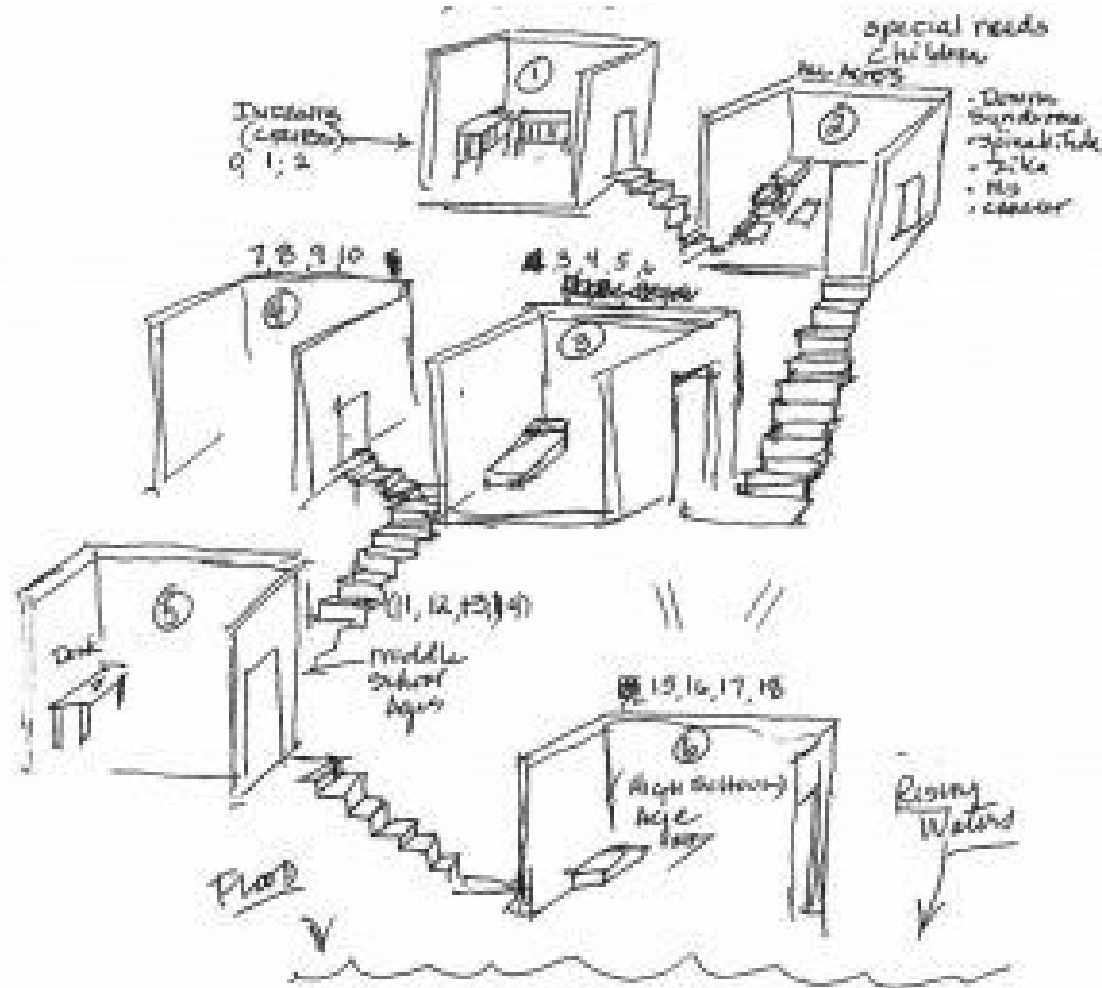

Our time together here was amazing. Because of this little Barn, so many Sparrows formed lasting friendships. I thank You, Father, for giving us communion with each other at Your Altar. There is no going back to the way things used to be, but we can rest assured that all things work together for the good of those whom love You.

Time on Earth accelerates, yet time waiting for You to return for us seems to take painstakingly long. Father, my dreams recently have involved gathering children, and not always of my children's ages, but some younger.

Dream begins on Friday, May 27th...

I was visiting northern Europe with my three children at their current ages of fourteen, sixteen and eighteen years of age. We had traveled to northern Europe in order to minister to the lost. While we were there, we stayed in a house like an orphanage or boarding school for children of ages from birth to age eighteen.

This house had several stories and the rooms were like wooden boxes. However, there were no ceilings and each room had one open wall exposing the inside to the elements. In addition, there were wooden stairs which were suspended in air with no railings that linked the various rooms together.

Room #1, the highest room, was a room for babies of ages from birth to two years old. Some of their mothers were there as well.

Room #2 consisted of special needs children of varying degrees of severity. Many of these dying children had mothers serving as advocates for them.

Room #3 consisted of children of ages from three to six years old. My daughter was spending time in this room playing with these children as they had no family.

Room #4 consisted of children of ages from seven to ten years old. Most of the children in this room seemed to be comforting each other as there were only a few adults coming and going to assist them, but not many.

Room #5 consisted of children of ages from eleven to fourteen years old. There were no beds in this room, but only desks.

Room #6 was the lowest level of the rooms and consisted of 'high school' children of ages from fifteen to eighteen years old. Most of these kids were sleeping in various areas other than this room, with some even sleeping on the stairs with no railings.

The younger children would spend time in Room #4 or in Room #6. However, the children in Room #5 seemed to struggle with school.

My two sons spent their time between Rooms #4, #5 and #6. They were trying to help the kids by befriending them. However, many of these kids were upset and bitter as they had been abandoned. I went from room to room to encourage and spread the Good News.

As I went about performing 'His Business', I noticed that, while I was still in my earthly body, I had now been healed of my disabilities and looked considerably younger. I also noticed that my sons were no longer special needs and had been changed to being 'normal' as well, both mentally and physically.

While all that was occurring here was 'pre-Rapture', I just knew that we were also now very close to the Rapture and that we had been called into greater service in order to bring more people to Jesus prior to His coming for us. As our hope was elevated by each of our healings, each of us was even more encouraged to spread the message of salvation, that time was running out and a choice had to be made for Jesus and soon.

What I also found interesting is that I somehow knew that this 'healing' had not just occurred with my family, but that God had also performed this healing with others as well as a witnessing tool for His glory. It seems that God's mercy had been extended out to many of us in a concerted effort to aid us in our goal of helping people to accept Jesus prior to the Tribulation being thrust upon a sleeping world.

As we all went about our business, at one point, my daughter came to me in a panic.

Daughter: "Mom, there is flooding in the lower room. We need to warn everyone."

I ran down the stairs from Room #3 to warn occupants to not go down to Room #6 as the waters were rising quickly. I realized I was running out of time when my son called to remind me of something I had to do.

Son: "Mom, did you get your letters off into the mail?"

I realized I had become so distracted by the magnitude of my job that I had failed to do something extremely important.

Me: "Where are my envelopes?"

Son: "The water is rising, Mom, but I believe I saw your pen, paper and envelopes on the desk in Room #5."

As I ran down the stairs, I could now hear the water lapping up the sides of the stairs leading to Room #5. I realized that this meant that Room #6 would have now been completely under water.

I called out in the darkness to whoever may still be there.

Me: "Is anyone there? I can help? Let me take you to a place higher than this."

At first I could not hear anyone, so I started to think that no one was there. Just as I was turning to walk away, I heard a muffled sound.

Me: I called out to the sound. "Speak loudly so I can find where you are from your voice."

I heard some whimpering, so I walked down into the water. I realized there were kids clinging to the roof or top wall of their room.

Me: "Why are you up there?"

Voice: "We thought, as the water rose, we could go higher and higher."

Me: "Okay, while you could do this, why not just come with me now and take the stairs to safety?"

Shortly after this, hand after hand reached up for me to pull them out. I helped many of these wet teenagers out of the dark water.

However, two teenagers remained clinging to the walls and yelling at the others. These two teenagers were calling the kids that were leaving bad names and were trying to coax them back. I called out to these two teenagers.

Me: "It is okay. You can come too. It is not too late. I will swim to you. No one needs to know. Jesus loves you too."

Teen #1: "Right. He didn't care about me when He left me here to die."

Teen #2: "He won't take us."

Me: "The very fact we are having this conversation makes me believe He is here with you now."

Teen #1: "Really? Why doesn't He save us then?"

Me: "You wouldn't be here and neither would I if He hadn't called you for a purpose. Come, take my hand now. The water is rising." I began to pray. "Lord, please appear to these children. Please help me!"

Just then, two hands appeared in front of the boys and I heard the voice of God.

God: "Take My hands. They are mighty to save."

The teens were terrified and immediately took hold of these hands of God. The Lord brought them up to Room #2. I heard the voice of God again.

God: "Comfort these mothers. The children know Me."

Once God spoke this, I immediately saw the teens being commissioned to comfort the mothers of the dying children. God continued to speak.

God: "Erin, your letters."

I suddenly realized that I was standing in rising water. I went into the now flooded Room #5 and grabbed my supplies. I then climbed up to Room #3 where I began to write. While my letters were already written, the envelopes still needed to be filled out.

The envelopes were made of fine linen in grey and white. It was impossible to write any of the addresses down onto the envelopes without the proper pen because, as much as I tried, my pen would not write on the cloth-like envelopes.

I knew that the messages contained in these letters were really important so I knew that I had to act now. I told my daughter what I knew I had to do.

Me: "I must go back down to retrieve my darker marking pen from Room #5."

Daughter: "Mom, hurry! The water is rising!"

I agreed to hurry and ran down the stairs. As I did, I could hear the water lapping even higher up the sides of the house and rooms.

When I reached Room #5, the water was now up to my waist. As the water was murky and the lighting was poor, I could barely make out the small box in the corner of the far end of the room that had the pen I needed.

I began to wade across the room and felt objects hitting against my legs. I finally got to the small box, found the marking pen I needed and turned to go back. As I moved my head, I caught some movement to my left. Startled, I spoke out to the 'movement'.

Me: "Hello, is someone there? I can help you."

I heard some whimpering and walked over to the corner. There was an older teenager and he or she was very thin and scared. As I drew closer, I saw that something had him or her concealed and terrified from moving. I could not make this out clearly, but I could feel a presence of sorts.

Me: "It is okay. You will be saved today. Do not worry."

I began to shout out in my prayer language and commanded this presence to release him or her in Jesus' Name. I then saw something massive like a serpent in the water moving around the room.

I realized that I had not been bumping into desks, but rather I was being bumped into by this 'serpent'. When I looked closer, I noticed that this 'serpent' had already begun to swallow this boy or girl. I again commanded it to release him or her in Jesus' Name.

I reached over, grabbed his or her hand and the serpent immediately spit him or her out. I pulled his or her body away from the corner and he or she began to speak.

Boy/girl: "But Jesus won't accept me. I'm neither boy nor girl. I hate Christians. They are mean to me."

Me: "Yes, at times they are. If they are truly Christians though, then they speak from a platform of love for the sinner. The Lord called me here for you. This very moment, He called me to come.

"You were removed from the serpent's mouth by the power of God by the Name of Jesus. Now, did it feel better to be in the mouth of the serpent paralyzed to save yourself or free?"

Boy/girl: "Free. I was being devoured."

Me: "Then God wants you to be free. He called me to find something that I needed in order to send a message out. However, in the process of doing so, He helped me find you so that you could be saved.

"Now, I am no judge, but I do know that I was saved from the mouth of a serpent, that Jesus loved me enough to pull me out from being devoured whole and that He is therefore certainly capable of doing the same for you."

Boy/girl: "But Jesus hates us. We cannot be saved as our sin is too great. I saw this in the Bible."

Me: "Really? The water is rising. What Bible? I do not know where that is written. Listen to me. Do you want to be free from your trouble? Do you want to live in paradise? Do you want to celebrate, have joy, have peace, never worry and never be judged, but, most importantly, be loved and accepted by your Creator Whom knows you better than you know yourself?

"God knows You. He might hate your sin, but He loves you. I am not perfect and I have no time to tell you my story, but do you trust me enough to lead you out of here? Your friends are all waiting for you up in Rooms #3 and #4. Are you ready?"

Boy/girl: "Are you sure Jesus will accept me?"

Me: "Let me ask you this. Are you ready to accept Jesus, the One who sent me, as your Lord and Savior?"

Boy/girl: "But He hates all of us. I cannot reverse what I've done. I am not perfect. You have to be perfect to follow Jesus."

Me: "The water is rising and I must go soon. I have to get some letters out with important messages."

I was becoming frustrated. Just then, the Lord downloaded a story into my heart.

Me: "God knows all that has happened to you. He knows what happened after you would go to church when you were only six years old. You believed you could never be normal, but, in your heart, you wanted to be like the other children.

"You cried out to God and He answered, but you refused to accept His love because you felt rejected. Instead, you found a spot which seemed comfortable, but it sickened you. You began to make yourself part of what others wanted you to be.

"You felt accepted there, but inside you had pain and turmoil. You had anger from the past, much sorrow over loss and hated God. You blamed Him for not helping you from your abuse.

"You became so angry that you reported those who reached out to you in Jesus' Name to the authorities for preaching hate. Now Jesus knows you and He is meeting you where you are. Are you ready to let go and let God or shall I allow the serpent back into the room?"

She started shivering and weeping over the accuracy of what the Lord just had spoken through me.

Boy/girl: "Yes, yes, yes! I am sorry, God, I am sorry for everything. Please save me, please!"

Just then, something came out of the teen's mouth. I cannot describe it, but it was like a leach with claws. I pulled the disgusting 'leach' from the teen's mouth and commanded it to flee in the Name of Jesus. As I pulled on the 'leach', it was almost like unclogging a clump of something from a drain.

Finally I removed it when the boy/girl coughed up the last part of the 'leach' and it dumped into the water. I saw the teen look at me stunned as if he/she did not even know what was happening.

Boy/girl: "Oh God, thank You, thank You, thank You, Jesus! I will take You! Please save me! Please save me!"

Me: I smiled. "Come! You won't believe what Jesus has planned for you! Let's leave this place. Are you ready?"

He/she looked at me and smiled. He/she swam to me and hugged me. We then left the room, got to the dry part of the stairs and ran to Room #4. When the teen's friends saw him/her, they were amazed as they could barely recognize him/her as he or she had changed so much after his or her release.

Immediately upon seeing this person's change, several of the teens began to repent and ask the Lord to forgive them too. I left them with my sons as I quickly went to finish filling out the addresses on these envelopes.

When I did, one of the envelopes was to be addressed to 'The Prem...', but I could not see the rest. Another one of the envelopes was to be addressed to 'The Pres...', but again I could not see the rest.

Dream over...

Father, please help me understand this. I feel in my heart that very soon we will be unable to share our beliefs as Christians. My children are already speaking against the policies of acceptance in schools. Soon they will be silenced as haters. How do we live?

In just a few short years, things which were not permitted are now acceptable and things which were once acceptable and permitted are now considered illegal or hateful. It is difficult to understand that the world we had come to love is now gone. Quite simply, the world as we knew it is gone.

The very peaceful country we loved is soon to be in turmoil. It is not what we think; none of it is! Father, I feel that Your hand of protection has now been lifted off of the land. Please send help and come quickly, in Jesus' Name!

Jesus: "Erin, come up."

Immediately I found myself up in Heaven and I was walking on the path near a beautiful overlook in Heaven. It was dawn and the sun was rising over the valley. This is awesome as the sun in Heaven is slow to rise and slow to set here in order to give us time to enjoy the beauty of the sunrise and sunset.

The colors were amazing and were a full display of pinks, purples, oranges and colors I cannot even describe. The valley was beautiful and there were animals grazing for breakfast in the meadows. Some of the animals were drinking from the River of Life. There were flocks of different birds everywhere.

One of my favorite sounds here in Heaven is the worshipping music from the various choirs of song birds. There is no photo or place on Earth that has a Heavenly equivalent. Quite simply, nothing like Heaven can be found on Earth. I have tried to find places on Earth close to Heaven, but I just can't.

Not only that, but, on Earth, there is always a looming danger somewhere. With any beautiful place on Earth there is always something similar to the following to be said:

"This tropical beach is so beautiful, but just be careful of jellyfish or sting rays in the water."

"This mountain path is beautiful, but don't wander off of it or you could get lost and die of exposure."

"This meadow is beautiful, but be careful of bear, moose or other predators. Do not go near any babies."

“This desert is breathtaking, but the cactus is deadly and the sage brush contains black widows. The ground can contain snakes and scorpions.”

On Earth, the list of hidden dangers simply goes on and on and on.

However, in Heaven, there are no fears and nothing is hidden here or ready to attack. There are no lions or bears ready to maul us. We truly have peace here. The main thing I feel here is safety.

On Earth, and when I was young, I would ride or cycle for miles and miles on back roads. I would hike alone, swim in the lake alone and swim in the ocean away from people and I had no fear. Yes, I was in awe of my surroundings, but I was unafraid.

As I encountered more situational human attacks or read about them, I became more and more afraid to venture out without others with me. I no longer walk alone on trails or roads and I barely feel comfortable going on drives by myself.

Everything seems to be more about safety than it used to be when I was young. I sighed as I found this depressing and decided to take a deep breath of the fresh Heavenly air.

Me: “Thank You, Father, for all that You have done. Thank You for this beautiful place that You have prepared for us here in Heaven.”

In front of me was the bench and next to it was the rock with the small bubbling spring from the River of Life. There I drank at least seven handfuls of water as I was so thirsty. I splashed some water on my face and it both refreshed and cleansed my body.

Me: “What a blessing this is.”

I began to cry at the level of God’s love for us. I am still amazed that He does not just crush the Earth and end the misery of what all of us must cause Him. God is just so patient and so very kind with us and most don’t even know.

I then felt a hand on my shoulder. I turned towards the hand and I saw that it was Uriel’s hand.

Me: I smiled excitedly. "Hi, Uriel, it has been a long time."

I reached over and hugged him. I could feel him stiffen up a touch and I guessed that it was because he was not accustomed to being hugged.

Uriel: He started to laugh. "God requests your presence, Erin."

I reached and took his extended hand and we were immediately at the door of God. The door was open and light steamed out. I turned to the bulletin board and there was a giant arrow pointing to God's door. I laughed and turned to Uriel.

Me: "I guess He has urgent business today?"

Uriel: "Yes, Erin, it has been a while."

He reached up and put salve in my eyes. I blinked to clear my eyes. I then felt Uriel move me into God's presence through His door. As I entered, I instantly heard the sound of the Heavenly angels of Gods Court singing, "Holy, Holy, Holy."

I looked toward the Throne and the light coming from God's presence was pure, precise, white and bright, yet warm and inviting. It was unfiltered and un-hindered light, like the sun, but even brighter.

This is very difficult to describe so I will focus my attention to the Sea of Glass. I began to laugh as I realized that even the Sea of Glass was too difficult to describe and, for that matter, so was the sounds of the choir.

Uriel brought me up closer to God, yet still a very long distance from the Throne area. My body dropped as I worshipped my Father God on the Throne.

I started confessing to Him about my lack of faith in my current condition. I had been worried, sleepless, heavy-hearted and at times downcast about everything. I confessed and asked Him to remove these from me as I felt they had perhaps been a barrier to my healing.

I thanked Him for what we did have. I asked Him to fill our hearts and homes with more of Him. I expressed concerns over the ministry and provisions. I gave everything to Him and asked Him to multiply it as I could do nothing on my own.

God: "Erin, I will bless the works of your hands and grant that which you seek. I have not abandoned you nor have I given your favor to others. You are concerned over the state of things now and that which is to come. I am going to do something in your days which you would not believe even if you were told."

Me: "That is what I am afraid of, Father, I am afraid."

God: "Erin, I have given you that which is good. I am pleased with the works of your hands. Give Me what you have before you and I will multiply this."

Me: "I have the equivalent of two loaves of bread and a fish." I was smiling as I said this.

God: He laughed and, as He did, the floor of the Court shook. "Put them in the basket. You will never lack fish or bread. You will have plenty. Your vessel, I will fill and, with you, I will pour out refreshing water for those who are thirsty."

Me: "Father, my dreams recently have made me afraid. I am afraid for all which is coming."

God: "I understand, Erin, but you cannot change this as you do not sit here. Do you believe any of this comes as a surprise to Me? It does not. Now, you are concerned about events commanded by Me and the angels, right?"

Me: "Yes, Father, the land is being battered everywhere."

God: "When you view the aftermath or even during the events as shown on the media, do you hear anything?"

Just then, God commanded the floor of the Court to separate. The Sea of Glass split in front of me. There I could see storms, tornadoes, fires, hurricanes and earthquakes.

Each time He showed me one of these catastrophes, I could hear people crying out, "Oh God, oh God, help!" In one, I saw a raging river sweep a bridge and several cars away and I could hear people scream out, "Oh God, get out!"

I then saw the devastation of the land from a storm in the Gulf and even more devastation from a different massive storm in the Pacific. I then saw a storm come up the East Coast like nothing I had ever seen before and it hit near Washington D.C.

There was no power for hundreds of thousands, if not even millions of people. I heard people cry out, "Why would God abandon us? God is angry! Oh God, where are You?"

I then looked to the north of the USA and I saw 'help' coming. However, this was not really help at all.

I saw lightning strikes trigger massive fires in both Canada and the USA. I saw winds kicking up and fanning the flames.

For the first time I saw that insurance companies would only provide a certain amount of coverage and the government unable to secure the note on the difference. I saw the people affected blame God for this as the insurance companies were saying that an 'Act of God' had occurred.

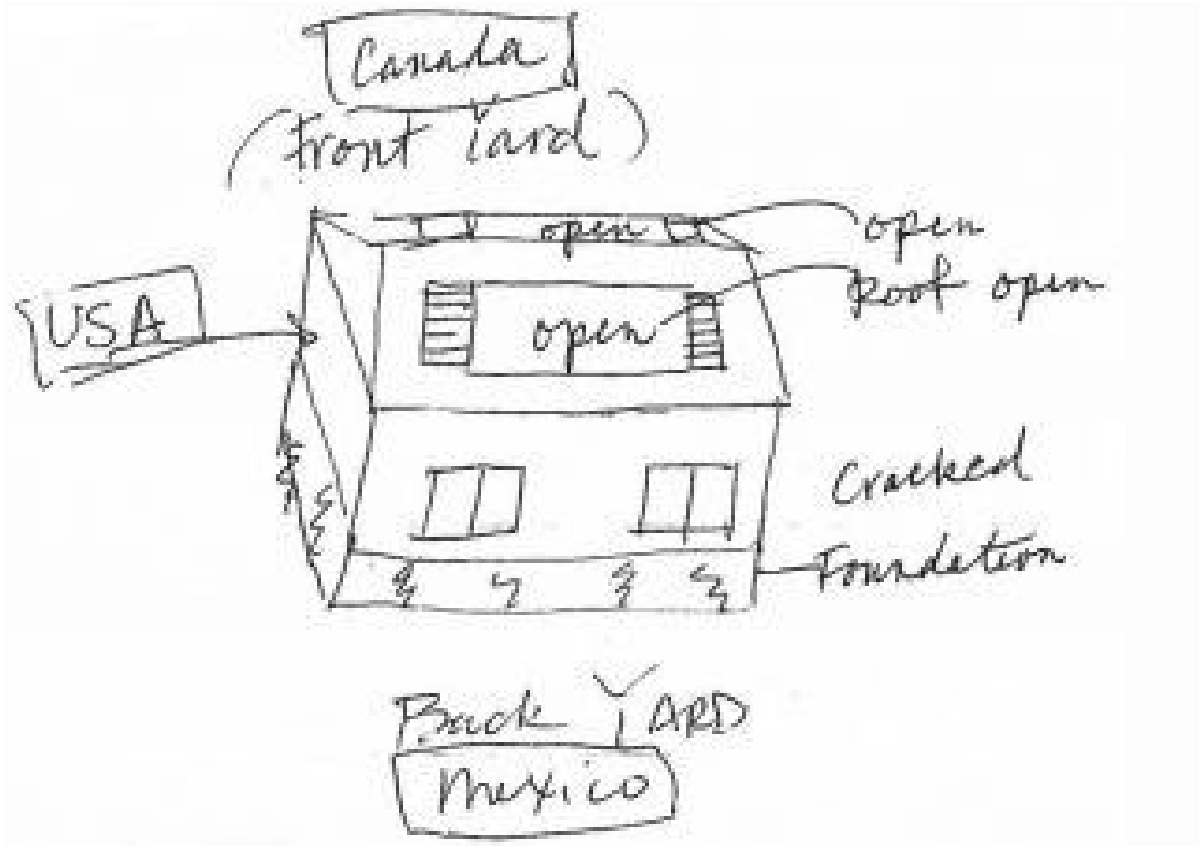

As a result, the insurance companies would claim that there was no coverage. I watched as this new 'Act of God' law or interpretation made it so that families were no longer covered by their insurance companies.

Then I saw wars, protests and anger trigger riots with great damage being caused as a result. The insurance companies again declined to reimburse the resulting claims as they deemed this damage as being caused by 'war'. This 'War' law or interpretation made it so that families were again not covered.

I then saw martial law come into effect. However, even with martial law being implemented, I still saw things unnatural being allowed.

I then saw terrorists come through the borders, yet we were not able to speak against them as we were legally forced to allow them their freedom.

I then saw something wherein the entire continent was now like a 'giant home'.

Canada was the front door, wherein everything was open and all could come and go into the house. The roof of the house was once God's cover, but now was peeled back with holes remaining. God was now removed.

The back yard was Mexico, but there was no door and only windows. Mexico was there to keep the yard of the home and the exterior in good condition and the labor affordable.

I then saw that the foundation of the home was collapsing from the bottom, the concrete was being breached, the basement was flooding and the roof was caving in.

Me: "Father, this is horrible. When will this be?"

God: "Erin, it is happening now. The time is upon you."

Me: "But, Father, You are being blamed for everything."

God: "Yes, but this is foretold. What was good is now bad and what is bad is now good. Half of the population is under the veil of sin and they do not see that the infrastructure is crumbling. The storms and calamity have been allowed and I have commanded it so.

"As you have seen, some cry out to Me from a platform of sincerity as they recognize Me as the God who saves them from the day of trouble. The others cry out to Me in cursed tongues as they are angry because they love their sin and they desire that I bend, change and morph to their sinful desires.

"However, I will not bend, change or morph. Churches and their leaders might, but I am the same yesterday, today and tomorrow and I do not bend to the will of the sinner. I have compassion on My children, but I do not save those who curse Me and follow all types of evil.

"What I have just shown you, you have seen before. I have sent My Son and He died by their hands. I sent others before Him and they too were killed. I have even sent those after He left and they too were killed.

"There is nothing new under the sun, but this should come as no surprise. I am here and if they call out to Me then I am mighty to save. Instead, they curse My Son and shake their fists at Me, the God who sends the feet of those who send Good News.

"Erin, you are to testify about the heart. My Son has shown you His heart. His love is written on the tablet of your heart. Who can dispute this? Now, you are Mine as I knitted you in your mother's womb.

"I called you from darkness, but you are Mine. You heard My voice when I called. You sought Me and accepted My Son into your heart and Me into your home. I have commanded angels concerning you to guard you in all your ways. You are Mine and I call you friend." I was crying as I listened.

"Now you have seen that which is to come and you understand the lateness of this hour. Warn your family, children and friends to the times you are in. Although you look back to better times over past bridges, those bridges cannot be crossed again.

"Times have changed. What you see with your eyes on the media today is not the truth. What you hear with your ears, unless it comes from a truthful witness, cannot be believed. What you read, unless it is given by Me or in My Words, cannot be trusted."

Me: "Father, are You referring to the news?"

God: "Not just the news, Erin, but false testimony is everywhere. You know it by its fruits. Now everything lovely, the good news of what I have planned here for you, must be your focus."

Me: "So I report only about Heaven?"

God: "Mainly. However, the world is fascinated by prophecy so I will sprinkle this in as well. Those who seek Me will find Me and I will grant them wisdom. You must stand, Erin. You have been given a love letter by your Savior..." He laughed. "...and love letters from Me.

"This is a good message. Whatever is true, whatever is noble, whatever is right, whatever is pure, whatever is lovely and whatever is admirable (Philippians 4:8), if anything is from Me and to attest to what you have seen here from Me in Heaven, the place I have prepared for you, then this is what you write. This is the water which refreshes. There are so many who thirst and hunger."

I felt Uriel come up to me to lead me away.

Me: "Father, I love You and I will continue as You reveal to me more of Heaven."

God: "I love you. Beautiful are your feet, child."

I was in tears as I looked down at my feet and smiled. Uriel brought me out of God's door. I brushed the tears off of my cheeks.

Uriel: "Erin, the times are upon you which God has shown you. You are not to fear. God will provide that which you need. There is a dramatic shift which has occurred in the atmosphere. This you have recognized.

"You have been mourning a former life across a bridge which is now closed. You must adjust to the current ways of life as you cannot go back. You are being called into greater service, along with your family and friends.

"You were shown that there are very few reliable sources of news. There are slants, lies and hidden agendas and most are veiled. The majority is no longer given representation and now the power is being given to a small fraction of the population.

"This will be like a punishing gauge whereby all laws will be enforced. There will be great unrest as you will see many Christians silenced from teaching repentance from sin. There will be fear and persecution. Those who hate God and His Son will be the rulers over the land."

Me: "I thought we would be gone first."

Uriel: "Israel is your gauge, Erin. What is the gauge? Study this. Do not worry as you have seen that all can change in the blink of an eye." He smiled.

Dream over...

Dream 205 – Names of God, Seven Towers and the Locusts

Received Thursday, June 23, 2016

Please note that this dream was quite long and took me three separate visits over several hours and almost twelve days to complete. I started this dream on Pentecost, Sunday, June 12, 2016 and continued on Father's Day, Sunday, June 19, 2016 before finally finishing on Thursday, June 23, 2016.

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for sending Jesus; thank You for the Holy Spirit; thank You for miracles; thank You for blessings; thank You for the promise of Heaven; and thank You for communion with You! I am in awe of Your mighty hands and the wisdom of Your works.

God, You are the same yesterday, today and forever. Even though You never change, You have also shown us that You are doing a 'new thing'. I praise You today that in our time of worry and uncertainty, You still send help from Your sanctuary.

You remain in our midst and know about our needs before we even ask. I can never ever thank You enough for all that You have done. You are awesome in power and glory and great are You, Lord.

Father, I see how You have spoken to the hearts of man and how we are sought by You, even though we seldom come to You just to open ourselves up to thanksgiving of all You have done for us.

There is a song I play over and over in my car and now I find myself repeating the words over and over. Lord, I thank You so much for inspiring the songs, "He Is", by Aaron Jeffrey, and "The Names of God" by Laurell Hubeck.

Here are the lyrics from "He Is", by Aaron Jeffrey, that speaks of all of Your 'titles' in the Bible:

In Genesis, He's the breath of life.

In Exodus, the Passover Lamb.

In Leviticus, He's our High Priest.

Numbers, fire by night.

Deuteronomy, He's Moses voice.

In Joshua, He is salvation's choice.

Judges, lawgiver.

In Ruth, the kinsman redeemer.

1st and 2nd Samuel, our trusted prophet.

In Kings and Chronicles, He's sovereign.

Ezra, a true and faithful scribe.

In Nehemiah, He's the rebuilder of broken walls and lives.

In Esther, He is Mordecai's courage.

In Job, the timeless redeemer.

In Psalms, He is our morning song.

In Proverbs, wisdom's cry.

Ecclesiastes, the time and season.

In the Song of Solomon, He is the lover's dream.

He Is, He Is, He Is.

In Isaiah, He's the Prince of peace.

Jeremiah, the weeping prophet.

In Lamentations, the cry for Israel.

Ezekiel, He's the call from sin.

In Daniel, the stranger in the fire.

In Hosea, He is forever faithful.

In Joel, He is the Spirit's power.

In Amos, the arms that carry us.

In Obadiah, He's the Lord our Savior!

In Jonah, He's the great missionary.

In Micah, the promise of peace.

In Nahum, He is our strength and our shield!

In Habakkuk and Zephaniah, He's the leading for revival.

In Haggai, He restores the lost heritage.

In Zechariah, our fountain.

In Malachi, He's the Son of righteousness rising with healing in His wings!

He Is, He Is, He Is.

In Matthew, Mark, Luke and John, He is God, man, Messiah!

In the Book of Acts, He is fire from Heaven!

In Romans, He's the grace of God.

In Corinthians, the power of love.

In Galatians, He is freedom from the curse of sin!

Ephesians, our glorious treasure.

Philippians, the servant's heart.

In Colossians, He's the God-head Trinity.

Thessalonians, our coming King.

In Timothy, Titus, Philemon, He's our mediator and our faithful pastor.

In Hebrews, the everlasting covenant.

In James, the One Who heals the sick.

In 1st and 2nd Peter, He's our Shepherd.

In John and in Jude, He's the lover coming for His Bride.

In the Revelation, He is King of kings and Lord of lords!

He Is, He Is, He Is!

The Prince of Peace, the Son of Man, the Lamb of God, the Great I AM!

He's the Alpha and Omega, our God and our Savior.

He is Jesus Christ, the Lord.

And when time is no more,

He Is, He Is!

Here are the lyrics from "The Names of God", by Laurell Hubeck, that speaks of all of Your 'Names':

Elohim, the Creator.

Jehovah-Shammah, the Lord is there.

My Master, Adonai.

El, Elyon, the God most high.

Yhwh, You are the Lord.

Jehovah-Rohi, My Shepherd

Mekaddishken sanctifies you.

The Lord of righteousness, Jehovah-Tsidkenu.

Worthy is Your Name; worthy of all my praise.

El Roi, the God Who sees.

You are my banner, Jehovah-Nissi.

The all sufficient One, El Shaddai.

Jehovah-Jireh, You will provide.

Rapha, the Lord Who heals.

Shalom, You are my peace.

The Lord of hosts, Jehovah-Sabaoth.

El Olam, the everlasting God.

Worthy is Your Name; worthy of all my praise!

Father, just writing these lyrics change me and I cannot help but be in awe of You. Thank You, Father, for You are my Gift and Jesus is my greatest Treasure. My heart has forever changed and I thank You and praise You for all that You have done as mighty are You, Lord.

Father, You told me that June 1st marked a significant time. Since June 1st, I have felt something in the atmosphere change and even my dreams have changed. The dreams now involve healing and transformation, but also the contrast of a massive atmosphere of darkness at the same time.

I saw light in the midst of darkness as well as miracles, but I also saw something like a massive power surge from You when the light was finally removed from this place and the candle was extinguished.

I then saw a massive golden Menorah as the last arm was being extinguished. Once extinguished, I first heard silence and then the gates of Hades suddenly opened and these hideous things came out over the land and for those who remained.

After seeing this, it once again reiterated that there had been an extreme shift in the spiritual realm on June 1st. All in our house can feel that a battle is raging in the Heavens over and around our property. Indeed, I feel like we were struck by several fiery darts this week due to this uptick in the war between the angels protecting us from the enemy and the demonic forces coming against these angels.

This all seemed to start off when we were attacked several times earlier this week outside the perimeter of angels protecting our house through the use of outside forces and enemies. However, we then experienced a few perimeter breeches that occurred when the enemy then used my children as entry points.

As a result, we are battling on all fronts right now and we are being hit simultaneously by exhaustion, anxiety, concerns over finances, health and extended family just to name a few. I personally was hit with so many fiery darts coming from every possible direction that I finally made the wise choice of giving this all to You, Father, as I was no longer capable to fend off these relentless attacks on my own.

During the troubles of this week, You then reminded me that the pool will be opening soon. Last year I thought I had removed the majority of the former things and items I had carried with us from our old home, but I quickly realized that I needed to lighten my load even more.

I had kept several items in our garage which I had reserved for just the right opportunity to give to a special family. I prayed to the Lord to bring someone with a need so I could bless them with these items. A short time later and just last week, I was invited to the parents of one of my children's classmates' home.

This family has been through some very difficult times over the years and I indicated to them that I had some items for their home if they were interested in them. While I feel that if I disclosed all that I wanted to give them, it would seem to be an attempt to elevate myself, so let's just say instead that God put it on my heart to give to them in an extravagant way.

Once they accepted our offer, my children participated in the process and the joy on this family's faces was overwhelming as we brought over these items to their house. However it was not just giving this family joy, but my son noted that even I looked 'ridiculously happy' during the whole move and set up of these items at their home. In my son's words, 'Mom, you seemed even more excited than they were.'

Well, my son was right as I was so excited to see several of my most beautiful pieces from my past find such a wonderful new home. However, when I really thought more about this, I remembered that these were really not my things, but that they were all God's. Many of the furnishings were from a shop I used to own and some of these items were very valuable wherein a few even still had the price tags on them that I had labeled.

As we moved these items into their house, I realized that the items reminded me of a time of promise, but yet of a time which was no more and would never be again. I found myself marveling at the fact that I had tried to sell many of these items at various times after my shop closed as well, but that these items simply would not sell. This seemed to confirm to me that God meant these items for this very time and for this very family instead.

When this family later asked me why I was giving all of these items away, I told them that God owns everything and He wanted them to have it. While I am not certain that this resonated with their beliefs as they are not Christians, this was the truth.

After moving all the items that they desired into their house, I felt called by God to donate what still remained to a local hospice house as well as other places God directed me to.

God then revealed to me that 'my pool' actually was symbolic of a larger vessel and this 'pool' was actually a place where people swam to be refreshed from the heat. I then recalled that the pool of Bethesda was also a place of healing. He reminded me yet again that the pool was opening soon and that I was to continue to prepare for this.

Father, the day is beautiful here as it is a sunny morning and the song birds are praising You outside of my window. The breeze is causing the leaves to sing with their motion and, combined with the sound of the small brook and the waterfall, this is so relaxing.

Just as I wrote the last sentence, I saw movement out of the corner of my eyes in our yard. When I stopped to look, I saw that there was a doe walking gingerly across our lawn. The doe was so adorable that I stopped to take a few photos.

Father, thank You for granting us this safe and beautiful place to take refuge as the desert was a brutal grind for me and my children. While we were closer to more resources in the desert, these were only distractions as nothing compares to this time of communion with You. Thank You, Lord, thank You and thank You again!

On this Father's Day, I am reminded of the glorious gift of You, Lord God. You are the Father who gives good gifts to His children and I am so very thankful for Your blessings. Sometimes when I become busy and distracted, I fail to come to You and, when I do not come to You, I feel it in my heart.

In turn, not coming to You means that I end up carrying more burdens and hanging on to more than I need to. Forgive me, Lord, for being present, yet not fully in Your presence. I love You and I long to be in Your presence and free from my burdens.

Jesus: "Erin, come up."

Today I found myself in a new place in Heaven. I was on a path near what looked like a cascading cliff of flowering vines. It was beautiful and I saw so many different varieties of flowers that I cannot even describe them all.

I gathered that all of the colors in these flowers represented God's Heavenly spectrum as it was a rainbow of color that could never be matched on Earth. In the midst of these flowers was a beautiful waterfall cascading directly onto the path. Despite this, somehow underneath the falls the ground remained dry and was not wet at all. Again, there is no equivalent on Earth, so this is hard to describe.

However, this even gets better. As I walked on this path directly under the waterfall, I did not get wet at all and I had to smile. The fragrance of flowers was amazingly beautiful and there was a hint of musk oil along with the sweet smell of the vines and flowers. This was absolutely incredible to breathe in.

I then stopped to look more closely at the flowers and was surprised to see that they were growing from the rock crevices. What made this even stranger from an earthly perspective is that I could not see any soil there at all, but only rock.

Me: "Hmm, Father, can flowers even grow straight out of rocks here in Heaven? How can this be?"

I laughed as I thought of Matthew 13:3-9 where Jesus had used this as a parable to illustrate our faith.

Me: "Of course, Father, everything impossible down on Earth is possible here in Heaven!"

Just then I felt a hand on my shoulder and turned to see that it was Uriel smiling at me.

Uriel: "Erin, everything in Heaven is possible concerning that which is good and created by God. This also means that things permissible on Earth that are not beneficial or fruitful are not permissible under Heaven.

Sin is not fruitful here in Heaven and will not take root. With God doing it this way, there is always peace, comfort and joy here!"

Me: "Uriel, how are those flowers able to thrive without any soil?"

Uriel: Smiling. "Easy. They have taken root in the firm foundation of solid rock. Unlike on Earth, their roots are not on shallow soil where they are quick to sprout, but fast to scorch under the sun's heat. Here in Heaven, their root is deep, their planting is firm, they are fed from the water of the River of Life and they flourish under 'the Son' which does not burn them here."

Me: Laughing. "Wow, this is a Heavenly parable, but different as I feel a confirmation that this is a witness to the amazing power of God as He is the God of the delightfully impossible."

Uriel: "Erin, God requests your presence. Will you come?"

When Uriel extended his hand to me, I eagerly offered my hand to him. When our hands met, we were instantly at God's door. As I turned to look at the bulletin board behind me, I laughed as once again there was a massive arrow and the word "God" pointing toward the door.

Me: I laughed and turned back to Uriel. "Is He upset that it has been a while?"

Uriel: Smiling. "No, Erin, He is not upset as He enjoys your company."

Me: "It is sometimes hard to imagine that God enjoys my company when I do not always enjoy my own company."

Uriel: "Erin, do not insult the God Who created you as He delights in you. Are you now to deny Him your presence?"

Me: "Oh no, I just meant that I am honored that God finds my company or me delightful."

Uriel: "If He did not, you would not be invited in this manner. Embrace all that God has done for you and then watch how He will embrace you in return."

Me: "Forgive my idle words or should I say forgive my 'idol' words."

Uriel: "I hold nothing against you to forgive, Erin, as I am only reminding you of your place in God's eyes. Do not forget this as you do not want to keep yourself in such low places that God cannot call you up from there. Do not hide from His presence."

As I pondered that there may be even more to this statement, Uriel then reached over and put salve on my eyes.

Me: "Uriel, why do you put this salve on my eyes? What is this?"

Uriel: "You have asked this before, Erin, so think of this as a new lens to see God in spiritual form and that it allows the visions from God to be sewn into you."

Me: "I thought it was so I could see God more clearly?"

Uriel: "Yes, but the two are the same."

Me: "But I still cannot see Him."

Uriel: "Yes, but you are moving closer to Him every time."

Me: "So this salve is like the lenses to sunglasses."

Uriel: "Yes, it is similar to this and is a type of filtering device."

Me: "I will not truly know or understand this until much later, will I?"

Uriel: Smiling. "Your words, Erin, now come."

He opened God's door and the light of His presence went right through me as I felt His glory in and all around me. Uriel then brought me even closer to God than the time before. However, please note that I am still quite far from the Throne.

As my knees began to buckle and my legs became shaky, I knew that it was time to praise Him. As I knelt, the choir of angels was singing praises to God that were so beautiful. The angels were singing, "Holy, Holy, Holy is the Lord God Almighty, Who was and is and is to come!"

I began to worship God on the Throne. I still could not see Him, but rather only His light of glorious beams. I wanted in my heart to run to Him and hug Him because I longed to sit at His feet and thank Him as a child would to her Father. Quite simply, I longed to be held by my Dad!

Instead though His presence was like a healing cover over me, all around me and in me. I began to pray in my prayer language. I felt in my whole being that a time of praise, worship and thanksgiving was warranted as this was the only true gift I could give to my Father Who owns even the cattle on a thousand hills.

As I thought of this, I began to smile to myself because I knew that God owned even the air I breathe and everything else and that He was and is certainly not limited at all to just a thousand hills and some cattle. I now fully realized that this was meant as only an earthly gauge in order for man to understand God's power from a material platform.

God: "Erin, your thoughts."

His voice sounded more powerful than the sound of rushing waters and thunder. This is the only way I could think to describe His voice as it is both terrifying and calming at the same time.

Me: "Father, I love You and thank You for my time with You, but I long for the day I can be here forever. I have a burden and I need some help. Since June 1st, I have felt something like a pulling away by You of all things good, not just in the United States, but in Canada too.

"However, I also feel that this pulling away is happening not just in North America, but also in South America, Europe and other areas too. My dreams are becoming very dark and my heart has been breaking as I have grieved in my Spirit for the lost.

"At times, my tears well up in me as I cry for the former things and for the past as these seemed simpler times and a time of a feeling of security and safety which no longer exists. So many people do not know You and my heart grieves over this.

"My journey has been a difficult one in pursuit of You, but I would do it all over again in the same way as if it were the only way. Father, I sometimes feel alone and isolated as it is difficult to hear what others think or say about me.

"All of this wears me out and there are days when I feel that even my own children rebel against me. There are days I fear men, but more than anything, Father, I fear You."

God: "Erin, prepare as I have hidden You in My quiver and have prepared your days. I made your course and your name is ever before Me as your name is written on the palm of My hand."

"You are accustomed to trouble and suffering as you have cried out to Me in pain and have been tested through it. You have experienced rejection by those closest to you and have endured the punishing blows of injustice.

"As such, you are careful to stand when you see this and testify as you have endured humiliation and loss and, with this, the loss of your pride. Erin, you were given the 'gift' of a battered existence when you cried out to Me for you to be given a 'heart of gold'.

"You did not even receive the gift of revelation until you finished this refining process as the heart is deceitful when it lacks love. A heart without love is of no value to Me and cannot be made of gold as gold is refined in the fire.

"This means that when you endured persecution, ridicule, mistreatment, suffering, loss and rejection and still had love, then know that there is gold there and that the dross has finally been removed.

"Now I require you to remove your dirty garments as I have now separated you and clothed you with garments removed of both the 'honor' of pride and humiliation. Instead, you have now put on garments that I have given you that have removed your nakedness.

"Now when I call you from where you were into My presence, I have salve put in your eyes so that you can now see. Erin, I have called you for a purpose so you must forget about the former things.

"With you I am doing a new thing. However, you must understand that, because of who you are to Me, many will not accept that it is I Who have prepared you for this and have even spent your lifetime preparing you for this time."

Me: "Father, what does this mean?"

God: "Are you ready for what comes next?"

Me: "What comes next?"

God: "Erin, you have endured through the refining, but are you now willing to continue through the furnace?"

Me: "I am sad, Father, as I thought I was finished and in a safe place that You had prepared for me."

God: "Yes, Erin, you are as I have removed you to the trees and this is good. I will send help concerning you to guard you and your family in all your ways. I will prosper you and not harm you."

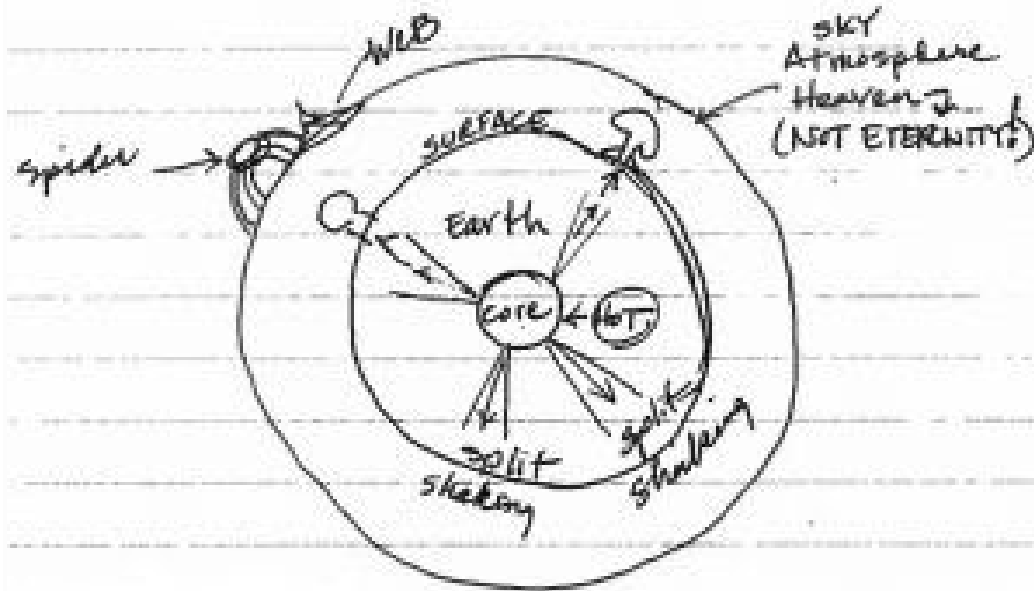

Me: "Then without You, Father, I am nothing, so I will pursue Your Will in all that I do. I do not like the furnace as it is difficult, so please keep me safe and carry me through it. Father, I am very saddened though as I already know that those who read this just in part will instead only see that You are allowing me to continue through the furnace and will quickly declare, 'See, I told you that she is no longer in His favor'!

God: "Then do not fear man, Erin, as You are to do My Will only."

Me: "Father, I am afraid for the lost. How do I pray for them? What can I do for them? Is there anything?"

God: "No, Erin, only for you to write down that which I show you."

I then felt a rumbling in His Court like a great earthquake and the ground shook and the sapphire Sea of Glass split in front of me. There I saw the world rotating on its axis and the many different layers of the spirit realm over the world. I then saw the red hot core of the Earth in the center.

I then saw four rivers of hot lava or 'molten Earth' coming out from the core. Two of the rivers coming from the core erupted on the surface of the Earth, while the other two rivers became massive earthquakes.

After this, I saw the ground split and several entities were removed. The Earth was in turmoil and the axis shifted. The axis shift was not by a lot, but 'enough'. I then saw a war in the atmosphere around the Earth erupt between good and evil.

At the same time, I also saw the web or the 'world wide web' wrap around the Earth with something like an 'open door of permission' into millions of homes. However, all of the information from this source was now obscured and twisted and those we should fear were now being protected and worshipped and those we trusted were now being vilified.

Then right before my eyes, the Earth zoomed in even closer and I was now viewing the area of the 'Ring of Fire'. There I saw an eruption trigger some major shifting of plates that resulted in several cities experiencing massive earthquakes.

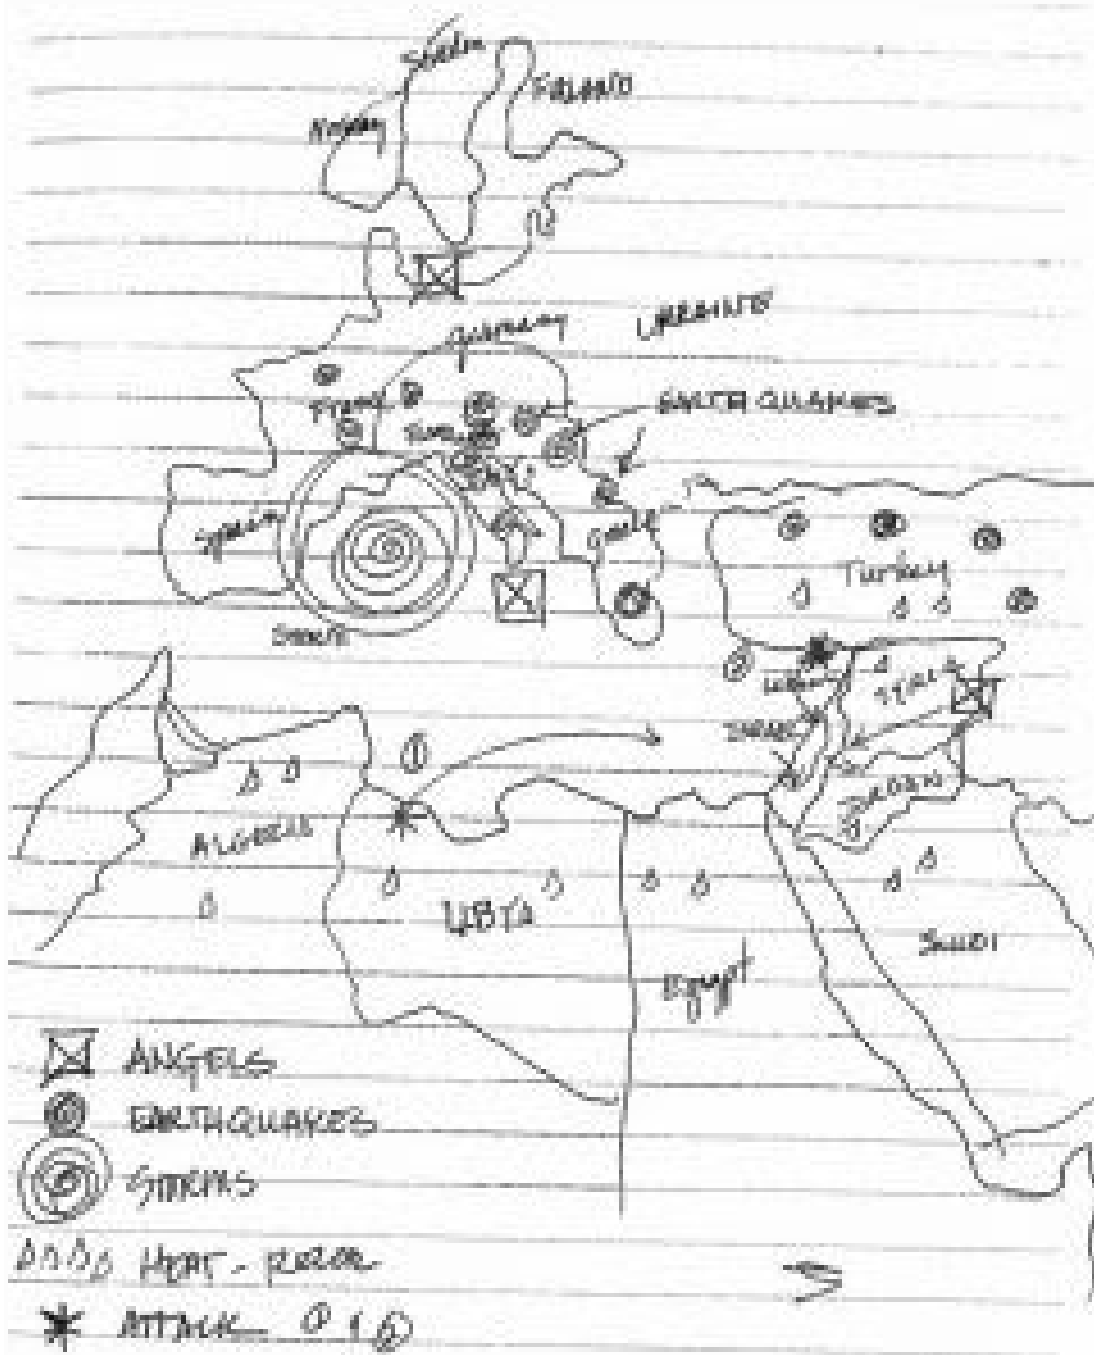

Then I saw the globe spin to the right and witnessed large earthquakes in Indonesia, Singapore and up through the Middle East, along with a massive cluster of earthquakes in southern Europe.

I then saw a massive angel with seven spears or javelins. This angel then threw these spears at the Earth and I watched each place these spears landed then experience an earthquake of 7.0 or higher. These earthquakes caused so much destruction that no one could have been prepared.

Me: "Father, this looks like the marker for when Jesus will come for us as He had shown me the Ring of Fire as one of the final signs. However, I had thought..."

God: "Patience, Erin, you are seeing the end from the start before He comes to the Throne in Jerusalem. However, I will also show you what is upon you now and what is soon to come as those who seek to divide My land will experience judgment and this is even happening now."

After this, I was downloaded a map of Europe and northern Africa. I was then shown the various calamities that were in store for these areas. I was then told to draw this in a comprehensive diagram. However, drawing geography is not exactly my strong point, so the following is my best attempt at drawing what I was shown:

Me: "Father, I do not know these areas of Europe very well, but these calamities look a lot like the calamities that the USA and Canada are experiencing now and will soon experience."

God: "Erin, do you remember where the peace proposal to divide Israel is taking place?"

Me: "I believe that this is in Paris?"

God: "As this gathering of leaders proposes to divide Israel, I will divide them as My anger burns."

I then saw record flooding, earthquakes and trouble come to all those against Israel, wherein the USA was also represented.

Me: "Father, when will this be?"

God: "The time is now and it has begun, but there is more also. As locusts lay 99 eggs, their god has 99 names as the root of the swarm coming is from Molech and is a Canaanite god. The swarm has already begun to invade the lands of the north and their purpose is to tire the saints.

"This swarm will create confusion amongst believers as a veil will at times cloak many from the truth. The intentions of many will be based out of generosity and love, but this is extended to an enemy who is zealous for their god that is a god who is unlike Me. The rest of this is revealed by what seeds are planted.

"When invasions occur, the invaders shape the land to conform it to their needs. There is an outcry for the world to conform and adapt to accommodate this swarm first, but this will then become an outcry to also accept their ways and religion. Soon there will be a time in which all that worship Me will be labeled 'inhumane' and those who hate Me will be labeled 'peaceful'.

"As this swarm invades the lands, these countries will become cloaked in darkness and things once acceptable will become forbidden and things now forbidden will become practiced daily and in full view. To make matters worse, those who practice these things will no longer feel shame as their nakedness will now be acceptable."

Me: "Father, I am afraid as what You are speaking of is occurring right now. However, I thought we would be removed before this happened. What of the prophecy? When is the Bride removed?"

God: "Listen to Me carefully and write as I explain this as prophecy also includes the past and many kingdoms have fallen. Erin, when I grant you dreams and visions, there will be no true understanding of these until the time of their revelation. While at times you see a portion of the bigger picture, you are afraid to speak about that which is coming and that which I will allow.

"Please understand that, because you reside in an area with Babylonian characteristics and values, it is sometimes easier to only look at the region that you reside in. However, today I have shown you regions you are unfamiliar with, so let Me help you understand this. Now, other than My land of Israel, which of the surrounding lands that were also created by Me prospers?"

Me: "Well, those surrounding Israel are shown by the media as desert and this land is brown with virtually no growth, crops or herds of animals. The cities are destitute and look impoverished except for the walled estates of the very rich that reside there.

"Some of the cities there seem very modern, but there always seems to be conflict and war. According to our military, the people surrounding Israel refer to all of us as 'devils' or 'white devils.'"

"When I use 'Google Earth', the regions are barren, yet in comparison Israel is beautiful, rich and abundant. While parts of Africa are beautiful areas as well, all of the northern countries are war ravaged and I do not see any prosperous areas that are not man-made. Indeed, it seems as if all of the nations that surround and hate Israel are cursed."

God: "Erin, war was declared on Christians when the spirit of the enemy entered these lands. For 1260 lunar cycles, a punishing rod had gone against both Jews and Christians there until I finally sent relief in the form of an invading army from the north.

"Then after this I sent angels to strike the lands first with famine and then an invasion of locusts like the world had never seen. Those later who did not support My people against the punishers and instead remained neutral by turning their backs on them, I too sent locusts on them as a sign. This was only around a hundred calendar years ago."

"Now, I have spoken to you about torrents and a torrent is like a flood from a storm. However, a torrent can also be a flood of people sent to invade a land and devour it. This will not be a popular message.

"Erin, I have spoken to you about patterns that once were, is now or will be soon. Now after I have sent this swarm, all the lands that the swarm invades will experience unrest. Erin, when Solomon married wives of different faiths, what finally occurred?"

Me: "Solomon loved You and built the Temple, but he also built temples for his wives."

God: "Yes, but not just any temple. Solomon built a high place for Molech right over Jerusalem. This was built to honor this other 'god' above My City and they then even sacrificed their own seed to this god."

Me: "Father, they even sacrificed their children?"

God: "It is the same today, Erin. The children are sacrificed to a god of their fathers, the one who destroys life and does not give it. When did Molech give the breath of life? When did he have plans to prosper his people? This false deity is a punishing rod that leads to death and fire and certainly not everlasting life. As this religion of Molech spread out in power, even those who worshipped Me followed them by sacrificing their children out of desperation."

Me: "Father, You are God, so why do You not appear to them? Why do You not step in?"

God: "I did, Erin, I did, but what then happened is the exact same pattern that has happened in the past. Everywhere My people are exiled to, they prosper and the land prospers with them. To accept My people is to bless them and to reject them is to curse them.

"Erin, those who bless them, I will bless, and those who curse them, I will curse. This same principle even applies to those who accept My Son as the One sent to set the captives free.

"Erin, I have not removed My hand of favor upon the Jews as they are My chosen people, but I have allowed this persecution in order to humble them. This is no different from the persecution I have allowed of those who worship Me and accept that I am the living God who saves."

"After this punishment of 1260 lunar cycles, I sent relief, but I still punished the empire that surrounds and comes from Mecca as the Mount Babel of Mecca is the place of 'seven heads'. You need only ask, 'Why did they not provide shelter for their people? Why did they reject them instead? Or did they really?"

Me: "Are You saying that the plan of these 'seven heads' was to send and is sending this swarm or torrent north to invade the land of Europe?"

God: "Poison is birthed from Mecca. Blasphemies are from the mouth of the lion of Mecca, the locusts come from Mecca and the black dragon originates from Mecca. One day I will remove it and set up a new capital, but for now understand this city's origins and the 'seven towers' that mark it."

"Understand what an invasion of locusts is sent to accomplish. The torrent wears down the saints and creates confusion and chaos. Eventually even they adapt and surrender to the practices and ways of their god of Molech in pursuit of false peace.

"Erin, you need only to look back at the last pattern and then towards the end of the punishers last 1260 days. Look at the prices of food and the daily wage to purchase bread.

"For these fifty years of drought, locusts, starvation and disease, I have removed and punished those whom persecuted My people. I then punished those who turned on My land. Who can dispute this? Now the same thing is happening again."

"Erin, My land will not be divided. While the world is being invaded by this swarm, I will also send 'snakes' or tornadoes from the sky, winds, beasts from the sea and searing heat. Even with record flooding, shaking and fire, very few will recognize Who is allowing the angels from Heaven to punish the land.

"The very enemy this land showed mercy to and took into their citadels will bring their towers down and the land will look like the land this swarm came from. This swarm will feel at home because they are no stranger to death and destruction and as such will be unaffected by the chaos.

"The once great nation that I blessed and prospered will now be looked upon with horror. Instead of people crying out to Me out of humility, they will curse Me with their lips instead. However, despite all of this, I will shorten the time of punishment to 1260 days."

Me: "Father, I am scared."

God: "Do not be as I have placed watchmen on your walls and I have placed you in a safe place until the day I call you out from this. Now write plainly that which I have spoken."

Me: "Father, I am afraid. What if I do not write something properly? Please guide my hands in all I do and open my eyes so that I can see clearly that which You have revealed."

"Father, please also keep my heart soft and pliable as the world is becoming increasingly dark. Please provide from Your sanctuary and prosper us even in a time of drought. Please keep us all safe and free from the enemy's scheme. I love You."

God: "Remember Who I Am, where I reside and that I love you. I will come when you cry out to Me and I will answer you. I will not forsake you or leave you. Remember that I have promised to prosper you and not to harm you."

Me: Crying. "Thank You, Father." Just then, Uriel came to help me up.

God: "Erin, do not be afraid, but rejoice as you were chosen for a time such as this."

Uriel took me outside of God's door and I was still a bit shaky.

Me: "God has never been so clear with me before?"

Uriel: Smiling. "Maybe the salve in your eyes is working better. Erin, there will be more and it will not be easier, but rather even more difficult. The angels are still punishing your land. The lands north of you and around you are like gates in which even more will invade. These locusts strip the land in several ways, but eventually they will even cut the stalk."

Me: "Uriel, I need to go back to my dream of locusts."

Uriel: "Yes, as then you will understand the pattern. Once the land is invaded by this swarm, all that flourishes will be stripped as the invaders have only one goal and one purpose."

“In the meantime, you will experience a record harvest of souls across the world as a great wind is blowing and there will be an outpouring of one last move of the Spirit of God before your voice is silenced and you all are removed. This is good as the wind is upon You.” He smiled.

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day! Thank You for my family and friends. Please bless them in everything they do which brings You glory. I thank You today for all You have done.

I am not much for social media, but I occasionally look to see about my family and friends and every time I do I am left with a sense of lack in myself. I find that looking at or through the lens of the activities of others leaves me with the feeling that I have missed something big.

When I see photos of my brothers golfing, swimming or enjoying social activities, I feel unable or unqualified to participate. In fact, I am so far out of their minds, it is as if I do not exist. This is okay though as You, Father, have put me now on a different path in a different region and under different conditions.

I still miss the Pacific Northwest very much as the beauty of Oregon, Northern Idaho and Washington is undeniable. That being said, I do not miss the desert portions there at all. For reasons which only You know Father, You have brought us here, far removed from our previous home, and in an area which is still like a foreign land to us. I thank You so much for the sense of safety that I have here that I did not have before.

In this life, it seems You have given man two choices. We can either invest in this world or invest in eternity. I have been forever ruined now for the ordinary and I feel out of place here now as I become more and more a citizen of Heaven each day.

The world is declining rapidly now and even faster than just a year ago and I see it in every aspect of life. The sun is becoming hotter, the price of food is rising, the quality of goods purchased is declining and wages are low and we are becoming slaves to this world.

My dreams this week have been quite elaborate, yet short and with a common theme. My most horrific dream was three nights ago...

Dream 1

I was looking down in the spirit over North America wherein I saw a massive playpen the size of a Roman Coliseum. In this arena, there were thousands of babies in diapers. These babies looked to be around seven to eight months of age and none were able to stand yet, but only sit. These babies were adorable, were of different skin color and ethnicities and all were well fed.

On the floor of this massive pen or coliseum, there was a massive tiger. This tiger seemed to be protecting the babies like a parent and brought the babies milk and toys. The babies loved the tiger and he performed tricks to make the babies laugh. The tiger even presented his soft coat for them to pet and some of the babies would sleep on or around the tiger at night.

Then one hot sunny day, a gate to the coliseum opened and a swarm of other tigers suddenly entered. These tigers walked counter-clockwise seven times around the babies on the perimeter of the floor. At first the babies were scared, but then started to delight in them.

When the first toddler began to stand, a mighty roar came from the tiger that had previously been caring for them. Within seconds of this roar, all of the tigers descended on the innocent babies and all of the babies were devoured.

Dream over...

I woke up suddenly and was so disturbed by this dream that I could not go back to sleep because of the graphic horror. This was all so horrific to witness that I will not describe what I saw any further. Father, I ask that You would replace the final scene of this terrible dream with something lovely.

Later in the week, I had another dream in which I had been transferred either in spirit or flesh, but was still fully present to interact with others.

Dream 2

The time was during days darker than now and I was in a city in the United States. While normal commerce had ceased, money was still being used for purchases. Shopping malls were now empty and were instead being used for meeting halls, distribution centers or triage areas.

Larger cities or centers were now hubs for gangland activities, including crime, drugs and prostitution. However, there appeared to still be a few office towers located in the downtown areas that continue to operate. In the particular area I was in, large portions of the center city was to be avoided altogether due to the rampant crime there.

I now found myself in the downtown area of this one city in order to locate a friend of mine from college. I noticed that there was a massive electric fence or wall surrounding this business area.

I had a specific directive, but I did not understand what exactly this directive was. I was there with another person, but they also had a Heavenly assignment, so at times we were together and at other times we were apart.

I went into a tower of all concrete and rebar wherein the top ten floors had not been completed. It appeared that construction had come to a sudden halt during a time of extreme trouble. The people now occupying these buildings seemed to work for either various banks or the government. I was somehow aware that all of the insurance companies had now collapsed.

As I looked out of the window, I saw a very large building that was home to a pharmaceutical company. This company provided vaccines and medications for the sick. Somehow the building this company was in seemed unaffected in comparison to the destruction of the surrounding areas.

As I continued to scan the horizon from this window, I could see seven towers or high rises on the sky line. Somehow these seven towers or high rises also seemed unaffected by the surrounding destruction. Indeed, each of these seven towers or high rises had beautiful windows and none of them appeared to be broken.

I left the window and began to search the building for my friend, but I could not find her anywhere. As I searched, I noticed that the people in the building seemed extremely odd. For some reason, all of the people that I came upon here were now either off of work or were after their business hours.

There was also an unusual amount of drug use, but with high-end drugs. There was drinking as well, but the liquor was cheap and nothing I recognized. There was also some wine available, but this was rare. As I looked around, I noticed that a man was now standing next to me.

Me: "What is happening here?"

Man: "Oh, this is our way of numbing the pain."

Me: "The pain of what?"

Man: "Where are you from?"

Up until this point, this man had been staring vacantly and had not truly noticed me. However, when he actually looked at me, I could instantly see a change in his thoughts and that he was now planning to do something evil to me. Before he could do anything, someone came by and distracted him, so I quickly turned and left.

As I continued to search for my friend, I soon met a woman in another area of the building. I asked her the same question as I had asked the man I just escaped from.

Me: "What is happening here?"

The woman looked around to make sure she was not being listened to. She seemed nervous and distraught, but I could tell she wanted to answer me.

Woman: "We are all slaves. We are the best and brightest of what remains. We all stay useful or we are removed to places with no electricity. We are taken to places and tortured, raped and killed! It is not to say it does not occur here, but it is mild here in comparison."

I looked around and was disgusted at what I was seeing. It reminded me of the worst spring break party you have ever seen, but with the worst behavior in people. This was neither fun nor funny and was the kind of party no one talks about and everyone later regrets attending or being at.

I could tell that she was quite nervous about talking where she could be overheard, so I decided to change the subject. I told her that I was looking for my friend and described her. After a short while, she knew who I was talking about.

Woman: "Your friend is now working in a shop at the bottom of the building."

She then took me there via a make-shift service freight elevator. It was extremely small and was used to send up supplies for the construction crews. She took me to my friend's shop and it was on the ground level. While I had been expecting this shop to be a high end store based on the particular area we were in, the shop instead looked like a small thrift store.

As I walked into this 'thrift store', I was surprised to see that there was a rack of untouched high-end gowns, along with a rack of prestigious wedding dresses. There was also an area for suits and some other everyday clothing racks. There were also various accessories and antique household items on display.

As my friend was currently busy with customers, I decided to continue to explore the racks of clothing. While my friend had glanced over at me several times, I could tell that she did not recognize me.

The gowns were very high-end couture, unworn and were brand new with their tags still on them. There were Versace and various others high-end brands that would regularly sell for $5,000 to as high as $15,000 retail. There were also alligator handbags and designer shoes that were quite simply the best of the best.

As I was laughing in wonder that such high-end brands would be in a 'thrift store' of all places, I heard a voice address me from behind me and noticed that it was my friend.

Friend: "Oh please, take all of them. They are free today! Please end the misery of me looking at them."

I turned towards my friend and smiled, but she still did not recognize me.

Me: "Why would you even have these high-end brands here?"

Friend: "They were already here from when this shop carried these. The shop changed to suit the buyers. No one needs these. Anyone buying any of this is mad, crazy mad. However, the wedding dresses still sell."

Me: "Why?"

Friend: Smiling. "People still marry and even more so now."

I looked at the wedding dresses and flipped through them. I noticed that the price tags were from $5,000 to $20,000. These were clearly high-end wedding dresses.

Me: "How can people afford these?"

Friend: "What are you talking about? Look at the signs."

I looked above the racks and the signs said that couture gowns were one dollar each and that wedding gowns were five dollars each.

Me: "Oh, what a great deal. This is amazing."

Friend: "Yes, but senseless. These are more in demand."

My friend then pointed over to a few racks of jeans, sweaters, coats and athletic clothing. The prices of these were ridiculous in comparison to the high-end clothing. The jeans were selling for one hundred dollars each and the sweaters were selling for fifty dollars each.

Me: "Who can afford this?"

Friend: "People are given vouchers for clothing, essentials and food and all of the other care is provided."

Me: "Oh, so they work here for these companies?"

Friend: "Yes. We are all very lucky to be here."

Me: "Do you recognize me?"

As my friend started to look at me closer to try and recognize me, she was suddenly distracted by another customer who had come into the shop to speak with her. When the customer glanced over at me, her face suddenly changed and became like that of a demon.

As this 'woman' continued to speak with my friend, I noticed that there were some extremely expensive collectables for sale. There was Lalique glass, a Faberge egg and a Tiffany box in sterling. All of these items were being displayed with items with little or no value, such as work gloves. This did not seem to make any sense to me.

As the 'demon' customer finished up with my friend, it started to walk towards me. As 'she' did, it kept shifting back and forth from being a 'woman' and then back to a demon. It was as if a digital virtual image was being placed off and on over the demon.

Demon: "I know you."

Me: "I do not know you. Leave now, in the Name of Jesus!"

When I said this, the digital image instantly came off of this demon and the people in the store around us began to scream at the terrifying sight. The demon then fled from the store during the ensuing commotion.

Friend: "How did you do that?"

Me: "Do you not recognize me? I am your old friend, Erin."

Friend: "That is impossible! She is now fifty-plus years. That is impossible."

Me: "It is me. Now, you must remain as you do as God has seen you in prayer. You have many people who cannot wait to see you in Heaven, so do not believe the lies of the enemy."

Friend: In tears. "Do not leave me here. Please take me with you as everyone surrenders eventually. Please, Erin, take me with you."

Me: I tried to reassure her. "Your time has almost come. I am only here to let you know that you are not forgotten. I must go."

She was still quite distraught, so I attempted to comfort her by lightening the mood and show her that I was confident in what God planned for her. I smiled and pointed to the Faberge egg.

Me: Smiling. "So, how much for the egg?"

Friend: "Eight dollars, but free for you."

Me: "There is more of these where I come from and the quality is incomparable. I was just curious as I could never afford them when I was here."

Friend: "They are a dime a dozen now as no one needs them."

Me: "I certainly do not. Just remember that you are loved by God and that He has not forgotten you."

As I smiled at her, I was taken up to a place where I could see over the entire area. It seemed as if there was only electricity in these buildings. The city looked like an eastern city by the water. It may have been Baltimore or Boston or possibly even Chicago, but I could not tell.

The landscape looked charred and depressing. As I perused the destruction all around the landscape, I was joined up with my Heavenly assignment friend.

Dream over...

Dream 3

I was in America visiting a city somewhere in the west, but inland. I was in an extremely large hospital. I was in my transformed state and was younger and healthier, but I was not in my glorified Heavenly body. For clarity, I was still 'in the natural' in this dream.

In this hospital, it appeared as if I worked as a person that was like a chaplain. My job was similar to a new trend called a 'death doula', but I was called a 'life care giver'. In reality, I was an 'eternal life coach' to the dying.

This hospital had a massive burden and there were three floors for those who had no hope and were terminal patients. As there were so many of these patients, each room consisted of several beds. There were so many beds that there was virtually no room to walk around them.

It appeared more like one massive room of mattresses with safety bars between the bodies. There were gurneys in the halls with dying people everywhere. Each floor had only one staff member whose job was to register the patient in and clock the estimated time of death and call for cremation of the body. She was basically not a care giver, but a record keeper.

There were no chaplains on these floors because there was no hope, but I was sent to go where God called me. As I went from dying person to dying person, I realized that I was not sent to heal them, but rather to offer them comfort as they came to their death.

For some, I put my hand on their chest and their labored breathing became easier. For others, I was there for them to hear my voice. I told them about Heaven and various relatives waiting for them. As I spoke to them, I could feel them clutch my hand and then let go of it as they moved from this life to the next.

Many of these people only needed to hear the voice of someone speaking out of love and tears would stream down their cheeks. I would talk to each of them about how much Jesus loves them and how He is much greater than they believed or were told.

Those who could speak told me various stories about being misled by false doctrine or not taking things seriously about warnings from others. Some told me stories about Jesus appearing to them, but that others would then tell them convincingly that Jesus was a myth.

The people I spoke with seemed to be those who now recognized who Jesus is, but after the fact. I was not quite sure when these people recognized Jesus, but I knew it was after something big had happened and that it was my job to send Good News to those who lacked hope at the end.

Each day that I stayed with dying person after dying person, I grieved for their pain and was able to relieve it supernaturally as God instructed, but I was not to heal them completely. I was only there to listen, comfort them with my stories, sing at times, pray, testify and tell them "Goodbye for now, my friend.” I celebrated after they went Home because I knew they were reunited with family and free from pain in Heaven under God.

At some point, a rumor had spread around the hospital that I was a healer sent from God. When I was asked to come to the other floors to visit, I instantly noticed that there was a much different atmosphere on these floors and felt a strong demonic presence. I could do nothing for these patients as they were strongly opposed to God.

When I was not at the hospital, I stayed at a small little community of one room cottages. Each cottage had a small bathroom with a shower and a kitchenette. People knocked on my door to ask me questions about God, Heaven and the saints.

In the state I was in, I needed very little sleep, but needed even more time in communion with God as He was my energy source. God gave me the ability to minister, pray and even heal some.

After a while, I was told my services were no longer needed at the hospital and was asked to leave immediately. I cried as I wanted to get back to the three floors of the dying to comfort them some more. However, I was unable to as I was physically removed from the hospital.

After I was removed, I looked behind me and saw a massive group of Heavenly beings sent from God arrive at the hospital. I had been removed just as this army of angels had arrived at the hospital.

Dream over...

Father, I am disturbed in my sleep these days as my dreams are disturbing. I am troubled about the state of the world as it is, but these dreams make staying here even more difficult. Lord, please help me to understand all of this.

Communion

Thank You for another day! Thank You for all You have done for me and my family. Thank You for our new Nest website! It has been so time consuming to get to this point as during this time You have also called me to finish some daunting tasks which have never been completed until just now.

Last week was stressful as we hit problems finalizing the opening of the site. You gave me countless signs to power up with prayer and praises to You, so I did. At times I felt You required me to just complete my tasks in silence and I heard Your audible voice reminding me that You are here with me in all that I do.

On Thursday and Friday, I went through old boxes of papers. I had gone through these before by just putting them in labeled boxes with generally like papers from the same time frames. However, this time You were requiring me to go through each paper to dispose of unnecessary items and keep only records of our story, but no more and no less. I thought I had finished this, but I realized that I had never really faced any of it.

I had relegated my past to painful storage boxes that were 'never to be opened'. In just two days, I went through these boxes and consolidated nine containers of papers to two small file boxes. In the process, I removed the equivalent of four large trash bags full of needless documents and it freed me.

I had found that just boxing up this 'stuff' did not remove its presence as the burden of it all still remained. This summer has been painful and punishingly so as I had to face all of my painful poor choices and mistakes from the past head on as I did all of this.

Once I completed this daunting task, I heard Jesus say to me, 'Erin, I am here. This is how I got you here to Me. Do not condemn yourself. Release all of this to Me. I love you.'

Then when I felt I should throw out something bad, I felt the Lord say, 'No, Erin, keep it as a record and as evidence of your race, both the good and the bad. It is important.' Normally I would have removed all records of wrong doing from others, but I realized that the Lord is having me keep historical records of my journey.

Hmm, well, it was very difficult to say the least as all of these papers told a story, the story of my life. It told of my race; the good, the bad and the ugly. I found business cards with my name on them from all the places I have worked. I found old awards, letters and photos of accomplishments and milestones.

I found the same for my children. I even found lost items which made my heart glad. Everything is now accounted for and organized. I now just have some minor labeling and gathering I need to finish and this should all be completed by tomorrow.

Father, time is such a mystery. When I was a child, I could not wait for time to pass as time seemed so slow back then. Now, as an adult, time goes so fast that it seems to be gone in a flash. My children have grown so quickly. Where did all the time go? There have been so many tears.

However, there were many years from 2005 to 2010 in which I barely cried other than crying out to You in anger, desperation and disbelief. I was in the middle of a long stretch of traumatic events which continued day after day.

Then when the tears began to flow again, it was in response to thankfulness and holding on to what meant most to me, but most of all for my children and my salvation. I lost everything in order to gain You, Father! You have done so much with me. My whining and my complaining have now turned into joy and gratitude.

Now I am ready for what comes next. Hmm, I need to say this with a bit more humility. Lord, I am as ready as I think I am able for whatever You decide to bring next. All I know is I love You with my whole heart. I see You at work in everything around me, and some days in spite of me, and I am in awe.

Your works, Lord, are amazing and I give all of my heart to You. You have kept me here for a reason and You have chosen all of us for a purpose. Now I dedicate all that I have for Your purposes.

I pray I am here to see all You have planned, but only to the point of Your return. After that, please remove me and all of us to our eternal Homes. From what I have seen coming on that great and terrible day, I will take 'the great', but please remove us before 'the terrible'.

I cannot imagine the horror for those who will remain. It will be like when I discovered something so deep, dark and disparaging about someone who I thought loved me from many years ago.

This discovery was like nothing I can describe. In essence, what this person had done to those I loved who were innocent made me realize how a mother could be driven to vengeance in the most unthinkable of ways. In ways that someone would not even think possible in any other circumstance than such a dark discovery.

This world is no longer the simple world it once was and maybe it never was. To me, it is bad, but it is about to become much worse. Father, protect all of us.

Please bless our new website. May it provide assurance of where we will one day reside with You. Everything we have and own is Yours. Let all of this be to Your glory and not to our vanity. I love You!

Jesus: "Erin, come up."

I was immediately up in front of God's door and felt a hand on my left shoulder. I turned and it was Uriel smiling at me.

Uriel: "God requests your presence, Erin."

He pointed to my right to the forestry bulletin board. I smiled as there was a brown sparrow on the top of the board that was chirping. I put out my hand and the sparrow jumped onto my wrist. I laughed with joy at this and was fascinated at how friendly and unafraid this little bird was.

As I watched the sparrow, this little friendly brown bird began to change right before my eyes. At first I thought my eyes were deceiving me, but I watched as the brown feathers gradually began to turn silver, overlaying the brown. Then I saw the tips of each feather turn to gold (Psalm 68:13) and the base of brown underneath became white.

The bird's beak then turned to gold and her legs seemed to look full of life, with no wrinkles and almost transparent. She began to jump up and down and then flew up to my shoulder.

She began to sing a new song, like a real song and a melody. I had just watched a live transformation and it was simply incredible.

I then turned to the bulletin board and there was a note with my name on it. I opened the small engraved envelope and saw my name in script with a small embossed sparrow in gold. I opened the card and read it:

You have done as I have instructed.

Obedience is better than works.

I am pleased that you have done as I asked, as difficult as it was for you.

Now I am about to do something in your days which you would not believe even if you were told.

I have not forgotten you.

(Habakkuk 1:5, Acts 13:41)

You are mine.

When you pass through the waters, I will be with you, and through the rivers, they will not overflow you.

When you walk through the fire, you will not be burned (Isaiah 42).

You are loved! I am with you always!

Jesus

As I cried and cried, the small bird looked at me and tilted its head. She then looked at Uriel and flew to his shoulder. Uriel motioned toward the door and had a smile on his face. I turned toward God's door and it was open. Uriel put salve in my eyes and escorted me into God's presence.

The smell of the fragrance of God is indescribable and is like sandalwood, jasmine and the smell of summer turning to fall. In fact, it was also the change of every season, along with roses, Victory Roses. I know this seems like an odd mix of earthly fragrances, but I do not know how else to describe the beautiful fragrance of the presence of God.

As Uriel brought me closer, I could hear the choir of angels singing with the beauty of a thousand earthly choirs combined. Their only instruments were their voices and it was incredible.

The cells in my body were responding with life and they worshipped God, their Creator, before my very brain could catch up. Once again I had no control over my cells as finally gravity took over and I fell to my knees in His presence.

The beauty in His Courts is so difficult to describe. His glory and presence is just too magnificent to give an accurate description. I could only see the light of God. There was a color like emerald and then a circular arch like a rainbow over His corona. I could see flashes, but it is impossible to see anything close to the Throne or even around it.

I could see seven candle-like torches below Him at the bottom of the stair's risers. Even though they were so far away, it felt more comfortable to look to my right and left at the architecture of the asps and columns instead.

The pleasing Sea of Sapphire was below me and it was so beautiful that I was in awe. While it seems that I am being moved closer to God each time I visit, it is only by a couple of earthly feet closer. In reality, He is still so far away, perhaps even miles, as I am not certain how to measure incomprehensible things like the distance of the Throne of God from His doorway in His Court.

As I knelt there, I could still barely believe that God has called me here to be with Him. It is just so challenging for me to try to give a picture of what I am seeing to the reader. All I could do was worship God and thank Him for everything.

It has been an amazing journey this year. I have watched calamity strike across the United States in a way I have never seen before. I have been observing the news media blatantly teaming up against or pro certain agendas with no regards to the reality of truth.

One minute I view a speaker or speech live and then within an hour there is breaking news about something different than what I just heard and witnessed for myself. I am watching injustice by manipulation in epic proportion and I am completely in awe as to how quickly this is all unfolding.

Me: "Father, the world is becoming worse day by day. I have never seen such devastation over the United States like I see right now. Look at what is happening all over the world. While I am only one person, is it possible for me to do anything?"

God: "I know your thoughts and I have heard your cries. I have not left you. Be careful what your eyes look upon and what your ears hear. You were shown what is occurring and expanding over your heads. Look..."

I then felt the room shake as the Sapphire Sea parted right in front of me. There I could see the Earth encased by a massive web. It was like another layer or top cover, was intricately woven and, in many areas, the pattern was extremely complex.

God: "Erin, I showed you something recently. Do you recall it?"

Suddenly, and without even a hint He was going to do this, a memory was downloaded into my mind. I saw myself commenting to my family one night after sundown in the kitchen of my home.

Me: "Father, I had observed a massive spider web over my kitchen window. With the sun now gone, the bright lights of our kitchen attract the fireflies, gnats and other bugs to the light. Little do they know that in between them and the light was a web. Once tangled in that web, they are helpless to prevent certain death. This actually made me sad."

God: "Yes, but the illustration is the same for today. Every aspect of life is now so dependent on this web that there is no time for Me, but there is even more to this."

Me: "Father, man is becoming more and more advanced. What will be our signs in which we are in the days of Noah?"

God: "I gave man 120 years to repent while Noah was building. The evil during those days, the wickedness of man was great and the imaginations of the thoughts of evil were upon man's hearts continually. Sin was acceptable and even worse sins than those mentioned in Scripture were practiced. There was no fear of Me because the sins were feeding the flesh and keeping appetites full.”

As I looked upon the Earth, it began to rotate counter-clockwise. I saw a massive spider spinning a web over North America. It was so thick with web that I could barely see past it.

I then saw an epic war in Heaven as the archangel Michael battled this massive spider. At one point, another angel cut through the web and I saw a massive shaft of light. As I looked down, I saw a large reptilian figure with a red, white and blue banner being illuminated by this light.

This reptile had bulging eyes of yellow with a black sliver or slit in the middle of the yellow eye. It had massive yellow teeth. It was angry as it did not seem to like the light streaming in.

I then once again saw this strange massive bull, but it now seemed wounded and weak after several large blows from a matador’s spears. However, I then watched it rise to its feet and continue on its unpredictable course through the land.

I saw pockets of militia rise up against the police, wherein this militia had white face paint in designs on their faces. I saw celebrations inciting riots started by five to ten people and then escalating while officials were targeted.

Me: “It looks like things happening now, but even worse. Random people were being targeted. It appeared to be race wars, but all types. When will this be?”

God: “As you have seen, this has begun. However, the trouble is already much worse than what you see or hear. This is unrest during a time in which I have sent calamity upon this nation, as well as others.”

I then saw the USA highlighted.

God: “I gave 120 years in the days of Noah for repentance. For this land which was dedicated once to Me and declared itself a friend to Israel, I have given double this portion of time for repentance. Now I am sending even greater punishment on the land.

"This cannot be blamed on the bull as the bull is not God, although the reptile and the other 'peace maker' believe that they are. This is the time in which the land will be sifted, measured, weighed and found wanting.

"Though the wicked believe they are higher in their thoughts, they are not. They are higher in their sins, but their clever tongues convince the masses they are to be followed. You have only to see deeper than the arrogance on their faces to see the sheer terror underneath as they know their time of judgment is as close as My hand."

I then saw the web coil up over the area of North America, Europe and Japan, leaving all other areas. I saw more earthquakes than normal over the ring of fire, but also some east of this in the middle of the United States, as well as in Italy.

I saw now a total of ten angels from Heaven over the globe in various areas. I saw South America in unrest. The shores of the west and east were riddled with dead or contaminated fish and many waters were unfit to enter.

There were massive storms, earthquakes and heat in various areas. Drug and trafficking cartels were becoming popular and birthed out of many of the areas. Young children were kidnapped or sold by parents and sent for high dollar amounts to other countries.

I then saw the same thing occurring in Europe and North America. As the globe of the Earth turned before me, I then saw that almost the entire globe was highlighted.

Me: "Father, I cannot imagine giving birth or having a young child in these days which are coming. What I am seeing makes me sick. Children are being harvested and sold. It will be everywhere.

"The United States was given 240 years to repent from 1776. This would be July 4th, 2016. Is this correct? Is this the beginning of the fall of the United States, Father?"

God: "Erin, is the world becoming worse or better? What is happening from the pulpits? Is there a call to repentance or is there a call to, not only embrace the sinner, but accept the sin? Now, the gauge is Israel, not this cursed land void of God."

Me: "Father, there are so many people who love You, look for You and intercede for others. We still have hope. Please have mercy on us, protect us and keep us safe. Please do not let us perish."

God: "I have heard your prayers and these are good. Your scribing from Me will not be popular. There is collateral damage in any war or calamity, but those in the midst of trouble whose heart is before Me in love will not perish, but will have everlasting life. What is better?"

"Now, I also use the meek to humble the proud. I will also use arrows in My quiver when need be, understand? When I send punishment on a land or people, it can be sudden or over time.

"The time of the end accelerates, but there is still more time. Now this land here..." I saw the USA illuminated. "...can expect civil unrest. In the past, there was a pattern with that of Israel, yet very few saw the correlation. Why?"

Me: "Because the axis of the world seems to rotate around the United States and all of the news focuses on America?"

God: "Yes, a proud and wealthy nation with a crumbling foundation slowly and systematically given over to her captors, though she is unaware of it. Other nations have become wealthy because of her, but they also hate and curse her.

"There are two people vying for leadership. One is very powerful and works with other nations and has the blessings of many churches and other leaders. This one will lead the people to surrender to her enemies proclaiming 'accept all, be all, share all and give away all.'

"However, the other one will cause the people and the land to not be handed over without a fight."

Me: "So one will force us to surrender and the other to stand and fight?"

God: "Yes."

Me: "Neither one sounds good. No matter what happens, this land is in trouble and You are still continuing to send calamity. Father, people will begin to curse You."

God: Rolling laughter shook the floor. "They curse Me now. The place of 'Seven Towers'..." The globe before me then moved to the Middle East. "...there are plans here against Israel. While America and Europe are busy as the battering continues and the land to the north is rendered ineffective, My land will be attacked."

Me: "But all of this land, including the Earth, the stars and the Heavens, is all Yours, Father."

God: "Yes, but Israel is My special jewel and this I have declared. This is why I continue to prosper it. However, as the world is focused on the troubled lands, very few will take notice. There is a pattern to the timing."

Me: "When will You send the Lord for us? Please hurry."

God: "Israel is your gauge for timing. There are people who seek to divide the land, so therefore I will divide their lands. My land cannot be brokered. I do not deal with anyone. Now do not be discouraged or dismayed when you see all of this trouble, but know that the days of Noah are upon you. In all things, be still and know I am God."

Me: "I love You, Father."

I was shaking as I looked down upon the Earth and viewed an uptick in natural disasters. I saw signs in the Heavens, along with things out of character and out of season. These ten angels were massive, wherein six angels now joined the four already in place over the USA. These other six angels were dispersed around the globe.

In America, I saw extremes with no middle point of rest. There was fire, droughts, winds and dust storms which were apocalyptic in nature. I saw the ground shaking and splitting. I saw one area so dry and barren that when the rain came in torrential downpours, the ground, like cement, could not receive the rain and instead repelled it.

I again saw a massive storm coming from Africa in the Atlantic right up the East Coast. The devastation was more than insurance companies or government funds could cover. Their 'blanket policies' had major holes so many people were left without help.

I then saw record heat, blackouts and rolling blackouts in major cities, as well as rioting and unrest. After the season of record heat came record cold, ice, snow and storms like the USA and Canada have never seen.

Due to these calamities, I saw the price of food begin to skyrocket, forcing thousands to no longer afford meat of any kind. There were 'forced vegetarians' in record numbers, as well as issues surrounding the lack of available protein. I literally saw people less sharp, more docile and weaker in spirit as a result.

I then saw a massive army begin to flood the regions from the north, but also some from the east and some from the west. These armies seemed welcomed at first, but had the purpose of breaking apart the land. At first the invasion seemed quiet, but then gradually it built up.

I again saw something in the coastal regions that looked like the land was uninhabitable from fifty miles out. As I looked, the United States appeared to have black borders as if God Himself had taken a 'Sharpie' marking pen and drew a large thick black border on opposite sides of the land.

From the Great Lakes, I saw spillage coming down to the Gulf of Mexico from some storm. Areas of the Mississippi River were poring over and flooding the country and dividing it. The water did not recede, but remained stagnant for some time. There were outbreaks of disease unlike anything the USA had ever seen.

The globe before me then turned and I saw container ships coming with goods to the USA being split and toppled by an angel in the Pacific. This cut off imports to North America.

Through all of this, I saw two countries remaining sturdy. One of these countries, China, appeared to shine like iron. The other country, Russia, appeared to shine like bronze. Both of these countries did not seem shaken, but it instead looked as if God was keeping them relatively unharmed.

I then saw one angel up near the Aleutian Islands between Russia and Alaska look as if he were holding the end of a jump rope, wherein another angel in the southern hemisphere was holding the other end. As the rope moved through the water, it stirred up the seas. The rope created epic winds and battered the lands in Australia, New Zealand, the Philippines and the South Pacific, as well as bruising Japan.

I then saw an angel over India, Pakistan, Afghanistan and Iran with a massive hammer. He let in armies and then would hammer the land and the armies.

I saw an angel standing at Ethiopia and it blew up and across toward the northeast. Mighty wind storms were so bad that the oceans appeared brown with dust and debris.

All the while, the 'angel of death' loomed over large portions of Northern Africa. Since there was no aid relief for the drought and famine, many, many thousands died.

Egypt, Libya, Ethiopia, Algeria, Somalia and other countries began civil unrest like they had never seen before. Foreign consulates completely pulled out of all of these regions.

I saw an angel apart from the others with a hand over Israel, but I saw a buildup coming against them from the area of the north from Libya as ordered by the 'City of Seven Towers'. I saw a river of black, red and a streak of green come from the area of the Middle East that looked like a swarm.

Another large angel was tasked with Europe and there were natural disasters, including earthquakes, flooding and record cold. Wine crops were failing and civil unrest was building as a result. The angel looked as if he were directing traffic.

Another angel stood like a statue over South America. As people's prayers were 'blocked', a massive army of demons prevented them from knowing anything about the rest of the world. I saw a massive land there which looked as if it were stagnant with water. It was like a flood, wherein all of the water was going bad.

Me: "Oh Father, when is this?"

God: "Erin, this time is beginning and is upon you. Soon all lies will be exposed. However, this is enough today."

Me: Crying. "Father, is there any good news?"

God: Rolling laughter that seemed somehow like a smile, even though I could not see this. "Of course, as I am with you. What Scripture have I always led you to when you have been afraid?"

Me: "Well, several, but Psalm 46 in particular."

God: "Then find comfort knowing that I have prepared a place for you and focus on lovely things."

Me: Crying. "You are lovely, Father, and I love You so much. Help me to stand and grant me wisdom. Make my pen clear to write and easy to understand. I would feel horrible if I ever miswrote something. What if I..."

God: "Erin, do not worry and do not be afraid. I instruct you while you sleep. I bring you to Me in visions and I make your dreams plain. Allow Me to carry you. Continue on your course. I have seen your sacrifice for Me and your love is written on My hands and in My heart. How can I forget you? I cannot. I do not forget those who love Me."

Me: "Thank You, Father. I can never forget You."

God: "Then this is mutual. Now, find joy in what you have. Stay firm on solid foundation. I am going to do something in your days in which you would not believe even if you were told."

Just then I felt Uriel bring me to my feet and take me back to God's door. I turned to wave at God. As I did, I saw something amazing. I saw something that looked like a tsunami of light in every color and even more.

This light came across the room at me and, as I write even, I felt a charge of electricity and a warm flutter of my heart. It was like my pacemaker kicked in and I had just went down a roller coaster hill at the same time, but it was so wonderful. Uriel took me outside.

Me: "Uriel, what is happening to me?"

Uriel smiled at me as the bird came and landed on his shoulder again.

Uriel: "Your dreams are now becoming a reality, including all those you have had personally. This begins a new chapter on your 'Eighth Bridge' and you are now halfway across, give or take.

"Now, things will be made even clearer than before. You will see things not just through a macro lens, but also a micro lens, and all with greater clarity. Erin, your healing has also begun."

Me: "Uriel, I actually felt my healing start this week."

Uriel: "Erin, you are realizing the blessings of obedience. You were wondering why finishing your tasks were so important. It is because this was a heart issue. You finished it in complete trust that God knows what He is doing even when you do not fully understand. Now He is going to reward you.

"Continue to dedicate all you have to God for His purposes. In doing so, you will continue to store up your treasures in Heaven. Obey God even when you do not know His business, for obedience is better than works. Then in doing so, He will open the flood gates of Heaven over you."

Me: "Uriel, the ministry is my gift back to God and I dedicate all of this to Him. Does He know this?"

Uriel: Laughing. "Do you even need to ask? Of course. This is why He allowed the site to open at the exact moment you finished what He had called you to do personally.

"Now, there are some things for you to remember. Continue to worship God in Spirit and in truth. You are an arrow in His quiver, so stay sharp. Testify to God's goodness in all your ways and He will make your path straight.

"He has told you that your gauge of the Lord's return is not the world, but Israel, or the words of the prophets of old would prove false and would not be of God. So continue to pray for revelation as you watch Israel as this will be your gauge for timing.

"Keep your eyes on the 'peacemaker' as he is to be watched. He is soon to become an even larger figure as time moves forward.

"The 'Seven Towers' are to be watched as this is the home of activity against Israel. Eventually another city will be home to this; the 'City of the Tall Tower', like Babel.

"Now, do not worry, but pray instead. Psalms 46, 45, 17 and 84 are for your encouragement. The times of the prophets are now unfolding. Watch and pray for revelation. God is about to do something in your days that you would not believe even if you were told."

Uriel smiled as the small glorified sparrow tipped her head towards me.

Dream over...

I should note that there seemed to be more angels than just the ten. Perhaps the 'angel of death' might be a separate angel, as well as the angel that is over Israel? The angel in South America seemed to be just standing there waiting for activation. I am not certain if some of these angels were already there in advance?

There were just so many details to this dream and it moved so fast that it was very difficult to write everything down. I will pray for further revelation and ask that you all pray with me for this.

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day. I thank You for this safe place tucked away in the trees. I thank You for my husband, my children, my family and my friends. I thank You for bringing us down a straight path.

Father, I am in a low place right now, a place You often bring all of us before You do something amazing. Lord, I believe for the amazing.

Recently, You have given me several signs and, after these signs, dreams. Please help me to understand these signs, as well as the dreams which followed.

Historically, the summer months have never been the best for me. Not only are they uncomfortably warm, but I am always hit with attacks from my enemies. It seems like a time in which tempers flare and my enemies ramp up against me.

The very day I finished organizing my papers, the website opened. On this same day, a letter arrived that rocked my world. As a result, I cried out the following words in petition to You as I went to my knees:

“Oh Father, I have done everything You have asked. I have not been perfect, but why would You allow such trouble to come upon me? I love You, Lord, so why?”

This was Your answer:

“Your papers are organized and your task is no longer heavy. Now present what you have as who can refute proof in record? Your evidence is good. Now, have I taken this care with you just to allow your imminent destruction? Do I take you through the pains of labor and not deliver what I have promised?”

Okay, Father, You are amazing in Your works. What God is like You? There is none like You! I stand in awe of Your good works. Now, please help me to endure as I often become discouraged and doubt my own abilities to carry through with Your instructions.

Something happened the other day that was of interesting timing. I had rebuked my daughter for quickly becoming discouraged when You did not immediately give her answers to her prayers and revelations of her dreams. Lord, please encourage her as she is a younger version of me and I often do the same thing to You. Please forgive us.

I have noticed that we live in an area of various protestant churches. Many of these churches are a branch of a Baptist denomination that does not believe in Your miracles, signs or wonders and do not share in our beliefs that You work in miracles of the gifts of the Holy Spirit today.

Father, please use all of us for Your glory to witness to those sleeping. I had a dream a few nights ago that related to all of this. This dream was so unbelievably crystal clear that it was even clearer than a high definition movie.

Dream description begins...

My children were with us at a beautiful white rural church with a steeple. It was a very traditional church and had a weathered patina cross with an angel on the top of the steeple. It had twelve stained glass windows and each depicted Jesus and His disciples. The windows were very colorful and elaborate.

We were there for a baby dedication. Inside the church, all of the surfaces were painted white. The ceiling clapboards, the wood rafters and beams, the plank floors, the side Lathe boards or walls and the pews were all painted white. There was no insulation on the walls, but rather just the side lathe boards.

It was a sunny day and the pews were packed with about three hundred people. The congregation consisted of all nationalities, both young and old alike. The temperature inside the church was around seventy degrees Fahrenheit and it was neither hot nor cold, but rather just in the middle.

There was a sizable choir and a large pipe organ. We sang hymns first and then the pastor began to call up babies for dedication. The children were adorable and had Jesus reflected on their faces. We all began to pray and dedicate each child to the Lord.

As this was occurring, there was a wave of light which rolled over the atmosphere. In an instant, all of the children were gone. I was not sure if they had left for Sunday school or were taken to the nursery as it seemed as if I had blanked out for a moment in the dream.

I was then not in my body, but in my spirit, as I scanned the church. While I noticed that the children were all now gone, I also noticed that my family was also no longer present. However, the pews were still mostly full.

I then saw a massive amount of parishioners asleep in the pews; mostly elderly. The faces of the sleeping had a grayish tone to them and were ashen in color. I stood up and tried to wake them up, but I could not.

I looked to the front of the altar area and saw that even the pastor was sleeping on his chair and that his Bible had tumbled to the floor. The choir had a few empty seats, but all were asleep there as well.

As I scanned, I noticed that only one person remained awake. A woman continued to play the pipe organ with her back to the entire church. As I approached the woman, I noticed that she was about my age.

Just then, she turned and looked at me. I then saw that she was really a demon. I quickly commanded her to flee to the pit of hell in Jesus' name. I was shocked when, instead of fleeing, she instead laughed at me. She smelled putrid and her face was twisted and gnarled. As she talked, I noticed that she had fangs.

Demon: "This is our time. You have no authority here now."

I suddenly woke up as soon as the demon spoke.

Dream description over...

Father, this dream was so real. Please help me understand what, if anything, we can do to prevent this.

I later had a different dream. Dream description begins...

My family was vacationing at an ocean resort and we were staying on the seventh floor in a large suite overlooking the bay inlet. The inlet was beautiful and had a sandy beach with a slightly rocky shore area.

On one of the mornings of our stay, we received a knock on our door. I looked through the security hole and noticed that it was someone from the concierge. I opened the door to speak with him.

Concierge: "Did you see what has occurred? The tide went out overnight and never came back in. There are shipwreck remnants and treasures exposed. We are alerting our guests so you can take part in the hunt for treasures first. When this story breaks on the news, many people will come from all over to hunt for coins and jewelry."

After we thanked him, we went to the balcony and, sure enough, the tide was lower than low. There were nothing but shipwrecks, treasures and seashells, along with various other items, over a span of a mile or so off shore as the ocean had receded.

As first, both my husband and I wanted to go to the beach. However, as I turned to him, both of us hesitated at the same time. As we looked out, we noticed that there were hundreds of people digging through the treasure looking for artifacts of value.

My husband: "Erin, the tide will eventually come back and I think it will be a tsunami at that point. I think we should evacuate immediately instead."

Me: "Whoa, it had not even occurred to me that a massive tsunami could be coming. Although the thought of treasure is intriguing, I agree that we should leave now."
