"I will then gather My people as the trumpets distort their hearing. All evil will then be visible. Nothing will be hidden. All will be unveiled. The demons will come from their spiritual realm and be made manifest in the physical. Many will faint and die of fright. This is as written in My Word. I have sent those I have chosen. My Army points the way to Me. Light will no longer be present.

"Erin, there is a purpose for all of your afflictions. You will help the lost find their way. You will be the new definition of 'light worker'. Though you will be seen, nothing shall harm you. Erin, rejoice! Rejoice!"

Dream over..

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for granting me another day! Thank You for Your promises. I cling to all of these like a life raft in a tumultuous sea. Thank You for Your Life Raft.

My heart is so heavy, Father. The enemy is power grabbing while we sleep. As we sleep or stay busy with distractions, we are watching, or not watching, whole governments radically changed and all for the New World Order. This is not designed for the good of the people, it is designed for the good of those who seek control. Instead of being hidden to those You have watching, all is revealed and it is frightening.

If there was any shred of doubt that there was corruption at the highest level, we now know for certain that a shadow government is in place. Today, the Senate of the USA debates the removal of the filibuster. Their desire is to press forward with what is being called a voting right's bill, giving all power to the current government. It will no longer be 'we the people', it will be 'we your controllers'.

Then there is a bill written into law in December 2021 in Canada that makes conversion therapy via religion illegal and a criminal act. Parliament pushed it through based on some extreme cases that were horrifying. However, no one read the fine print for checks and balances. With Bill C-4 now Law C-4, any message of truth from the Bible can be a crime. Speaking to the LGBTQ community about God could mean jailtime.

Please pray for these groups. It is very radical and is geared toward Christianity only. Whatever happens in Canada seems to trickle down to the USA and vice versa. This will technically make the Word, the Bible, by far our Greatest Tool from God, being labelled as an instrument of hate.

The next two days are extremely important for the world as the New World Order tries to power grab our Constitution. This will give them unlimited power. This could cause a civil war that could topple our country. At the very least, this will pave the way for the rise of the 'shadows', evil operating in secret.

I go back to Your written Word and the history of Your people. Many times, Your people had fallen into sin despite many warning from prophets. At the time, it seemed there were very few who hadn't fallen into sin and very few who still kept Your laws. Israel had fallen into the hands of evil many times and, each time, though difficult, You preserved Your people.

This time, I believe there are around 70 million in the USA that put at least some of their hopes in You. Perhaps more, perhaps less, but only You know. Churches are holding prayer vigils and many of us fasted and prayed for our nation and the world. We were all exhausted in advance by this plague, a plague allowed by You to turn all of us back to You. This is the case even though I know it was created by wicked people.

The world was imprisoned. Many of our elderly and the weak have died as a result. This current government rose from deception. This was not because the people welcomed and voted for it. There was so much deception here. Now the great rise in evil is occurring and anyone who speaks out will be destroyed. Soon, should you oppose them in anyway, they will make it so you can't work, have a bank account or do anything you once enjoyed.

This time is the same type of pattern in history. The Covid-19 plague started coming into fruition in late 2019. In 2020, it rapidly rose. I took a photo of a frozen corona around the sun on January 18, 2020. Today is the 2nd Anniversary of this photo. At the time, I already knew this was a great sign from You. Despite the frigid conditions, multiple cars had stopped to take a photo. Father, You allowed all of this because You declare a thing and then it is. You establish all things.

Surely, the land was more wicked than we even knew. It has been two years of continuous punishments and restrictions. In March 2022, it will have been a couple of years of lockdowns and lies. The governments have become so wicked. They put laws into place while we are locked up. We have to wear facemasks.

Churches have gone bankrupt. Great racism has swept over the nation. In the meantime, Pharoah sits in the shadows waiting for his government foundation to solidify. If they are successful, there will be a great slaughter. This will be at least ten-fold greater than the Holocaust. All of this seemed to serve as the basis for an epic dream from last night...

Sub-dream 1 "Testing Kits of Mass Destruction" begins...

While I saw people dying at home, I could not figure out the cause. I heard screams from everywhere. I decided to walk into a cul-de-sac in a quiet neighborhood. I then saw a delivery truck come to the neighborhood. They delivered small boxes to each person. The people then took the tests. I then heard blood-curdling screams. An open flat-bed truck then came and loaded up the dead bodies.

I then heard screams from the next neighborhood. The entire scenario was playing out again and again. I saw a couple of workers loading up the dead bodies onto the flat-bed truck. They did not look happy. I went in closer to them in order to hear their conversation. Even though I was now close enough to hear them, they did not notice me. I knew this was supernatural.

Worker 1: "Man, when will this end?"

Worker 2: "Hey, our families are safe."

Worker 1: "Right. However, we eventually won't be needed. We are witnesses."

Worker 2: "I know, I know, but what can we do?"

Worker 1: "I guess we just have to continue what we are doing. I just pray that God will have mercy on us."

Worker 2: "God? God doesn't care. He let all this happen. The people just mindlessly do what they are told. They are stupid."

Worker 1: "Well, if you think about it, we are just as stupid."

Worker 2: "True, but at least we are useful... for now."

As they loaded bodies, I saw another group of men taking the test kit boxes back into a disposal truck. The boxes were white and blue. However, I could not make out what these were. I then went to the place where the delivery truck was passing out the boxes to get a closer look. I watched the delivery driver knock on each door and hand the people one box for each person living in the household.

I then looked over at the delivery truck. The side of the delivery van said 'The Way to Freedom Starts Today!' I saw each recipient sign for these boxes. They then took their boxes and went inside. As the delivery van pulled away, it said on the back 'BeTheChange.org'. I could now hear screams from everywhere. All of this was now happening very quickly.

I was then able to get a closer look at the blue and white boxes being handed out. While I had been expecting this to be 'suicide drugs', I soon realized that it was actually testing kits. The swabs included in the testing kits were killing the airways of all of these families. This was horrifying.

Sub-dream 1 over..

I woke up suddenly from this dream and called out to the Lord.

Me: "Lord, these kits will be mandatory for many people. This is horrible."

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "These are the plans of the enemy if all else fails in gaining control. There are several methods they will use. This is how they will change the landscape for evil."

Me: "First You showed me gangs invading the peaceful neighborhoods and now this?"

Jesus: "Always remember that God is in complete control. Erin, I am here. This is just one of their many planned 'Final Solutions'. However, this is not My Plan."

Me: "Lord, are we so evil that all of this had to happen? It did not seem that bad to deserve all of this."

Jesus: "Erin, the enemy is a liar. He now has an army who lies in unison with him. Only those who see the truth understand the gravity of these wicked schemes. Now, God does not move in times of peace. He moves in times of trouble in order to bring about His change and authority. Some churches have now been closed because they operated in the authority of the devil.

"They whined and wept instead of rising up and raising up warriors in the Voice of Truth. They cowered in fear and trepidation instead. They are now trying to silence all of My people. The army of the son of perdition does not even understand what they are doing. However, they take their instruction seriously and enjoy their new found power more than God. As a result, I will give them a double portion of trouble in due time.

"Now, I sometimes grant you a dream to sound the alarm about the future plans of the wicked. They try to spread lies as quickly as wildfire ignites a dry field of grass. If they do this, they can certainly do the same with the small, innocent and powerless. They are working day and night with a flood of different methods.

"This is happening so quickly that people are being caught unaware. Erin, the unaware go about their days and know not of all the evil being done to them. They won't see it until change has occurred. In an instant, the voices of truth are drowned out in a flood of lies. However, you are not to worry as My promises are true."

Me: "Lord, my heart is sick with something that happened recently. A young beautiful girl at Croft House Furniture in Los Angeles CA was stabbed to death for no reason. This store is similar to the one I once had in Portland OR. I would have been devastated had something like this happened to one of my young designers. This girl is the age of our kids. She had so much promise. Her hopes and dreams were struck down in an instant. Her family is devastated. Lord, please help them."

Jesus: "Even though this was a hate crime, it will be kept quiet because too many would be upset by this."

Me: "Lord, there are other events too that turn my stomach. There are people being pushed into subway trains."

Jesus: "Why are these things allowed?"

Me: "I don't know right now. All I know is that we are at the mercy of this corrupt government. When will this end?"

Jesus: "No, Erin, you are not at the mercy of the government, you are at the mercy of God. The government will soon understand that I am God and there is no other. While the governments will seek My mercy, they will not find it. I will destroy this evil. Now, Erin, I know you are upset about this girl. I have her. She fell asleep."

Me: "Lord, please allow Your army to raise up those who were slain to condemn those who did evil to them. Please."

Jesus: "You ask a good thing by asking Me to raise up those who were slain in the pursuit of doing good. Well, that would certainly shake up the nations, right?"

Me: "Oh, please, Lord. Please raise this girl up. Please also raise up all the children who have recently been slain. There are also so many others."

Jesus: "It is written that whoever loves and follows Me will also do the works that I am doing. However, they will do even greater things than these because I have now gone to My Father. This means all of the miracles I displayed on Earth.

However, notice something... this did not occur in the past because it was not yet time. Those who were with Me during My walk on Earth were also able to drive out demons, heal the sick, cause the lame to walk and cause the blind to see. However, no miracles performed have so far exceeded the miracles I had displayed.”

Me: “Is this because of the enemy holding us back?”

Jesus: “No, Erin. Remember that the enemy did not take My life. I offered My life as a sacrifice. My Father gave Me the Keys to life and death. So, here we are today. Much of the same has come to pass as in those days.

However, these miracles will soon happen in greater measure. So then, by what authority will those I have chosen be given to do even greater than I did and why?”

Me: “Well, by Your authority because Your seat is in Heaven with God the Father and whatever You loose on Earth will be loosed in Heaven.”

Jesus: “This is only in part. Erin, I will now work through you and a multitude of others I have called. I am actively in you and I will be the same for them. My Voice is in you. Since this is the case, so too will My power be in you and those I have chosen. Erin, who is speaking to you now? Whose voice is in you? By what authority?”

Me: “You, Lord, and by the Ultimate Authority given to You by the Father Himself.”

Jesus: “I declared in My Word to Peter that I would build My Church upon this Rock and that the gates of hell shall not prevail against it. At that moment, a shift changed by My Words. My Authority then established My Church on the Rock, a solid foundation not of shifting sand or sinking mud. I then declared to My Church builders that I will give you the Keys of the Kingdom of Heaven.

“As a result, whatever you bind on Earth shall be bound in Heaven and whatever you loose on Earth shall be loosed in Heaven. Understand bind is forbid and loose is permit. A Key was given. This Key represents the authority to either lock or unlock a door, understand?”

Me: “Wow, I have always wondered about that.”

Jesus: “This was a Key given. Directives went out to build My Church of believers. This was done so that they would have a place to gather and worship and be united as one body under Heaven. It is the same concept of breaking bread with one another in fellowship with Me. Now, not only are you not to hold anything against your brother, you are instead called to create peace.

"My Greatest Commandment was this... to love God with all your heart, with all your soul and with all your mind. This is the first Great Commandment. The second Great Commandment is to love your neighbor as yourself. These two Great Commandments are by which all the law and those of the prophets are built upon. Now, when does God show up in My Church?"

Me: "Where two or more are gathered?"

Jesus: "Read what I said, not in part, but in whole. I appear as welcomed into My Church when My people do not bicker with each other and do not operate in the negatives of the fruits of the Spirit. You must understand the context of 'when two or more are gathered, then I show up'. Look at it from a different angle... since I am God, I am therefore always present. As such, there must be more to this.

"Erin, My miracles, My blessings and My answers to prayers occur when the body of My Church is united with My two Great Commandments. If this is not the case, miracles are few and far between. Look at when your miracles took place. It didn't happen when you were at church. No, it happened when you were on your knees and in the pages of your journals. I know this because I was there.

"You activated the Keys to the Kingdom of Heaven. How? You surrendered everything to Me. You were emptied. You suffered affliction on all levels. You gave Me the Keys to your heart. Thereby this is My Bride. My Bride has emptied themselves. You died of this world and it is you that held the Key to the way your life was. You loved Me so much, you gave Me the authority to unlock Heaven in you.

"I am not speaking of the Holy Spirit or Baptism. I am speaking of two becoming one with the Father. My Body is now one with yours, understand. To understand what a Bride is to the Groom, look at the traits. Since you are My Bride, you are entitled to all of the things the Groom has. I am your Groom and you are My Bride. This means that all things, both on Heaven and on Earth, are yours in My Name."

Me: "I love You. All of this is just way too extravagant. I just know that You love us more than we can even comprehend. While I am grateful for all that You are gifting us with, all I really want is to capture Your heart."

Jesus: "Then it is yours, Erin. When you married, you made a covenant with God as a contract with Me, your Husband. You were united under God and given a symbol to each other as a reminder of your Covenant."

Me: "Yes, the Wedding Ring."

Jesus: "Very good, Erin. This is like the sign of the corona around the sun. This was a sign to those I have chosen that I will do all I have promised. Erin, you will be marked as Mine. The enemy will also have his own mark, but this is for another time. Your mark will be like the Covenant I gave to Peter about My Church. While you do not understand all things fully yet, you will do greater things than I had done on Earth because I will now flow through you. Nothing will come against My Bride, understand?"

Me: "Yes, Lord. By You saying this, it makes me feel safe from this wicked world."

Jesus: "Then rejoice, Erin, for I am with you. While the enemy shuts churches, I am busy doing something he would not believe even if he were told. Rejoice as I have established this. I love you. You will have the Keys to the Kingdom of Heaven on Earth. Heaven will be visible through My Bride."

Dream over.

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day! Thank You for Your promises. Thank You for dreams and visions. Thank You for being God over all things. Thank You for all You do. Thank You for a home with peace. Thank You for the love of family and friends. I am so blessed. Thank You for our Nest family. Their presence for this walk is priceless.

Thank You also for delivering the porcupine quickly on the morning of Wednesday, January 19, 2022. When I got up for my regular morning routine, I looked out the window to see if our trees were stripped more from the night before. I already know our beautiful maple tree is all but done barring a miracle from God. Well, I stopped in my tracks. I was in shock. This has never happened before.

Right there, in broad daylight, the porcupine was in the maple tree. I turned back and told my husband. Well, I have never seen him jump up so quickly. We knew this was significant as this porcupine operates at night, not during the day. I immediately phoned animal control. They told us they just happened to be near us and would be there in about 15 minutes.

Well, he ended up getting lost. In the end, he arrived about 45 minutes later. My husband had been standing outside keeping the porcupine up in the tree. The porcupine had become nervous and would have abandoned the tree if not for my husband's banging. He was relieved when he saw the officer coming around the corner with his .22 caliber rifle. The officer told us that this was really the only way.

At exactly 10:44am, the .22 fired and the porcupine was permanently removed off of this Earth. He was now in Heaven just as I had dreamed he was just a few days ago. What a miracle. Normally I don't like animals being hurt, but this had caused so much damage, I was more relieved than anything else. The officer who came to our home was quite old and poor. It seemed that he was doing this in retirement and that he had a story or two to share. Father, I now pray to You that these trees will somehow miraculously live and thrive again.

While sitting here this morning, I started to remember when my dreams first began. I had joined a Christian forum, but now I cannot remember the name. I was really bothered when someone called me blasphemous because I prayed for Your blessing, Father, and that our Lord who has blessed us be blessed and be a blessing. In this same post, I professed my love for Jesus.

I was then accused of being inappropriate and crossing the line with the Lord. These innocent words somehow conveyed to this person that I was somehow wanting to be more to the Lord than simply a child of God. I immediately left that site and never returned. I said nothing like what I was accused of saying. What this person accused me of actually made me physically sick.

Here is some more background. I had been alone and single. I had three young children. I lived in a desert place away from my family and friends. I didn't want to 'date' Jesus, not ever. All I expressed was that I wanted Him to sit with me when I was alone in church, a movie theater or a restaurant. I wanted Him to be my Best Friend and Confidant, someone I could trust in all things. Well, He is all of those things to me!

One of my favorite miracles in my darkest hours was when I was on my knees praying for You to keep our electricity on. It was right before Christmas. I placed all the money I had before You and prayed for a miracle to cover the shortfall. They were about to shut off my power. If my enemy found out about this, I would not be able to keep the kids.

Just then, I heard my daughter call to me that I had a note taped to our front door. I took a look inside the envelope and could not believe my eyes. Inside were five $100 bills. My daughter started jumping up and down praising Jesus. I absolutely knew this was from God as no one knew my financial situation. Even if they did, I knew of no one that would be this generous. Oh Lord, my praises for You will be forever on my lips.

I fought with everything I had to keep my children. Well, guess what... we serve a God who loves us infinitely more than the love I have for my children. Knowing this, how much more will God fight for us? How much more will Jesus protect His Bride once our time of service has arrived (and before)? He is worthy of our full belief. He is worthy of all of our love and praises. He is worthy of us watching for Him both night and day.

Sub-dream 1 "The Gentile and Sukkot" begins...

I was at a very high-end furnishing store. I had seen some bedding for sale. One particular grouping was beautiful beyond this world. I just knew these had been woven on looms that are supernatural. Two men owned the store. I was able to listen in to their conversation. I missed the first part of their conversation and came in during the reply to the other owner.

Owner: "Yes, this is true, but don't forget that the Feast begins on the evening before October 10th."

I knew that they were Jewish and were talking about the beginning of Sukkot in 2022. They would not expect this from a Gentile, so I decided to have some fun with it...

Me: "Hey, I would like this bedding today. I would prefer not waiting until Sukkot to get them."

We all smiled and laughed. I think they thought I was Jewish. Whereas before I was feeling a bit ignored, they were now directly addressing me.

Sub-dream 1 over...

Father, so many are worried about the different ways that the enemy can attack us now. The first way is the disease itself and any variants then created. The second way is mandatory vaccines for our 'Protection'. The third is the test kits. While I know You told us not to worry about this right now as it is the long-term plan of the enemy, I think we are all growing tired. The USA is fighting to gain control of the people by fear.

Me: "Oh Lord, please help us. You come in times of great trouble to save us. The world needs a Savior. We don't want to depend on the government to save us, only You. Does everything need to get even worse? Can You begin the miracles now so that people turn from their wickedness and are saved?"

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "I am here, Erin. The enemy has already been defeated."

Me: "Yes, but only in Heavenly terms. However, the world does not see this because they only see what is right in front of them. They are near-sighted. Your people are far-sighted. Even so, our eyesight is ever fading. Lord, please help us."

Jesus: "You are experiencing the dismantling of the government from the way you used to know it. There were governing sets of laws and entitlements that each person could be assured of. This means they also had a Bill of Rights. Each lawful citizen made a vow to uphold their end of the bargain by obeying the laws of the land. By doing so, they were then equal as their neighbor to enjoy freedom, liberty and peace.

"They also had the right to justice and equality under the law. The general Constitution comes into play here. The USA was a great land because all were bound as a covenant under God for the people and by the people. What is happening is all of this is being dismantled. However, all of this truly began when God's commandments and laws were removed. So, Erin, who did this? Was it man or Satan?"

Me: "Satan using man by proxy."

Jesus: "Yes, very good. Now, understand this... God's Creation was good until it fell into evil. All that was good then became corrupted. Angels once in the Army of God fell. They saw human women as pleasing and laid with them. They did this by abandoning God's command forbidding the angels to have relations with humans. This created an abomination, the sons of the fallen angels, the Nephilim.

"This was a breed of entity not created by God. This was a breed created as a result of a broken commandment made between God and His angelic order. This was preceded by the breaking of the commandment to only worship and serve God in Heaven. They instead worshipped Lucifer, the angel of light. Lucifer led the choirs of angels. Lucifer's beauty was something to behold and many fell for his deception.

"Lucifer enjoyed his position of vanity so much that he then forgot who created him. He then thought of himself as greater than God. A third of the angels served Lucifer in greater allegiance than that to God. As a result, this third of the angels were cast out of Heaven. There is a familiar pattern to all of this...

- They became lovers of self.
- They strayed from God.
- They worshipped a created being (Lucifer)
- They fell into idol worship.
- They slept with a separate order of created beings.
- They no longer called out to God to save them.
- They even asked another created order of being (Enoch) to intercede and petition from them.

“So then, we know what is written after this. For the good of man, they are locked away for judgment. Each one of their children, the Nephilim, created monuments of worship to them as tombs. Each one of these also had steps and slopes which reached high to God in Heaven. However, they were not inspired divinely by God. These were abominations created by the fallen.

“So angry were they at God that they corrupted and defiled all living matter. They defiled the animals of the land, the birds of the air and even the creatures of the sea. Their sinful appetites were great, as was their physical hunger. They devoured humans and every unclean animal. This then created even more hideous creatures. Today, some of these are called mythical creatures. However, are they mythical? Remember that truth hidden can be stranger than fiction.

“The flood was sent because the land, man and the animals, even creeping things and birds of the air, had all been corrupted. Understand the gravity of the situation when I say all flesh had been corrupted. If all flesh was bad, then it had to be removed. Although not written in full, Enoch then interceded to God on behalf of Noah and his sons. Since Noah’s ways were righteous, as well as his three sons, God called on Noah to build the ark.

“The animals of the Earth were then gathered to Noah. The animals selected were young and grew together during the flood. There was no corruption in the seven who were with Noah as God had kept a remnant separate for Himself. When the flood waters receded, God gave a sign, a rainbow, indicating that God would never flood the Earth again. Now, Erin, let’s fast forward to today. What do you see?”

Me: “Lord, I saw the enemy boldly place the rainbow on the White House. He did this to mock You.”

Jesus: “So, what is like the times of Noah today?”

Me: “Well, we are unable to see all of the deeds of the wicked. However, we know that permission was granted by You for the enemy to test the land back in December of 2012. It started out slow, but then picked up speed. Just as Noah built the ark to prepare for the coming flood, the enemy did everything opposite to tear down the world and corrupt it again. The White House rainbow occurred on June 26, 2015 as a way for the President of that day to celebrate same-sex marriage.”

Jesus: “What do evil men do who are angry with their wives?”

Me: “My ex-husband, the kid’s father, directly violated our agreement in the marriage contract. Even though he was in the wrong, he then decided to destroy me. He did this by weaponizing my children, wishing to destroy them as well. In history, some men kill their wives. Others kill their children just to watch their wife cry out in horror. Some men enjoy doing this. Some do it just for fun.”

Jesus: “What you say is interesting and truthful. A wicked man bent on evil will harm all that is good just because it is in his power to do so.”

Me: “Well, yes, Lord. This is evil with no conscience. They are proud of their ability to get away with it. Many of them are even arrogant about it.”

Jesus: “You are beginning to understand that there are layers of evil. There are now too many layers to see. In the days of Noah, evil and its physical manifestations were visible. Graves of evidence have even been opened to show there was an entire race of manifestations not in God’s image. Let us understand today what the enemy is busy doing mostly in the shadows, but some in the open.

“The enemy needed to dismantle ‘one nation under God’ and divide this up. He needed to then dismantle freedom by creating fear using various methods, including sending a virus. He then shut people in who are good citizens and abide by the laws of the land. He then set free the criminals to do harm. He then removed justice. He then removed churches and worship to God. Greater sins were then allowed and called good.

“The list continues. Anyone who speaks truth is called a racist. This happens even when their color is the same as their accuser. They then changed the definition of male and female. They then encouraged an increase of child murders. They then labeled the eating of meat as evil. So many lies are now labeled as truth. They now call God’s Word evil and restrictive.

“It is written that all which is evil will be called good and all that is good will be called evil. They even sent masks to cover the lips of man so that they are unable to speak truth. It is not enough for the wicked to tear down the governments, leaving no stone unturned. They also want to remove any church who edifies God, but especially those who call out for man to obey My Commandments.

“Now there are only the courts of the wicked who judge the righteous and convict them to life in prison. These same courts then praise the guilty, the murderers, the thieves and the liars. They then sentence them to freedom to commit even more of the same. Erin, understand this... from within, they visibly tear down the covenant to the people, but even more so to God. This is why judgment has now come.”

Me: "But, Lord, the people, the majority, can't see this. They do not know enough to discern the wickedness. They don't know enough to turn from the wickedness and see that You are good. Please send us to help the lost, Lord. Please, Lord."

Jesus: "Oh Erin, I know you are concerned. However, do not be troubled as these things had to occur as it is written. The enemy is not only dismantling the laws, but also God's Commandments. Their plans are to do all things opposite to corrupt man so that none will turn and be saved. It is another way to defile man."

Me: "It is like the chapters of Job, but in real time. Lord, they will soon want to take our homes. It won't be long before we lose everything. We will be their slaves."

Jesus: "Yes. This is their version of freedom. However, this is all happening 'as it is written'. It had to happen this way or else My Word would be false. Now, Enoch, the seventh from Adam, prophesied about these men...

"Behold, the Lord comes with ten thousands of His saints, to execute judgment on all their ungodly deeds which they've committed in an ungodly way, and of all the harsh things which ungodly sinners have spoken against Him (Jude 1:14-15)."

Me: "Lord, won't You please move in a mighty way first and show to all that You are God over all. The enemy is a liar. Please, Lord."

Jesus: "I have a Great Plan."

Me: "Lord, my heart breaks for all those who have become so discouraged. So many of those who love You are praying."

Jesus: "Erin, I am God over all things. Just as I was afflicted, My Bride has been afflicted. Just as I was mocked and rejected, so too has My Bride also been. Erin, when this begins, this will not go well for those who have abused the ones I love. This is because I am one with My Bride. Now, you do not have understanding as of yet. However, I have called you Mine and you are Mine.

"You are My beloved and My jewel. You are precious and honored in My sight. Your jewel is set in My Crown. I therefore have the powers of Heaven and Earth at My disposal. My Father in Heaven has granted Me charge over the Earth. I have taken as My Bride that which was created in My image because it is written that God created man in His image.

"Man is not in the image of animals, birds or creatures of the sea. Man is not in the image of angels or demons. Because I came as a man to save man and rescue him from sin and death as a Savior because I was given the Keys of both death and life, I then too have the Keys to the Kingdom.

"I then share with My beloved Bride the Keys to the Kingdoms of Heaven and Earth. You are My Bride. Now, as I displayed miracles on Earth, so too will My Bride. This is because we are one under My Father in Heaven. Nothing shall be impossible for us.

"Knowing this is coming, the enemy and his armies are working with great speed to destroy My Bride and the saints who will partake in the Wedding Ceremony. He tries to quickly cut down the grapes and the vines so there is no wine. He quickly tests those whose ways are righteous and sets out to destroy them. They try to denounce God so none will believe.

"Well, Erin, his plan will fail as My Bride and I are one. There will be a great celebration in Heaven. God has set aside His best wine for the Wedding Feast. No scheme of man or hell will ever keep you from Me. I am yours and you are Mine. We are one body!"

564 – The Red Dragon and Russia

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day! Thank You for my husband, our children, my family and our dear Nest friends. My dreams have not been pleasant lately. In fact, yesterday, on my birthday, I was pouty and tearful almost all day based on hopes I had. It was the first birthday I had any expectations at all. Normally, I have no hopes, then I am surprised and joyful. That being said, I did have quite an incredible dream last night...

Sub-dream 1 “Warnings to the Red Dragon and Russia” begins...

An angel took me to what looked like Russia. I saw a church there. While the outside of the church was unkept and in disarray, the inside of the church was magnificent. The leader of Russia was praying in this church next to a pastor. The Russian leader and the pastor were alone in the church. The pastor was prophesying to the leader about the coming days. Even though the pastor spoke in Russian, I could understand...

Pastor speaking the Words of God to the Russian leader: “I called you as a boy to raise you up and lead a great nation. I trained you in war. Your hands were skilled. I made you strong. I gave you abilities that made you feared by those around you. I granted you wisdom. At first, you let Me work through you and many around you were astonished. However, you then kept Me away from you. You then became wise in your own eyes.

“You ordered evil by proxy. You laughed at the demise of the weak. Even so, I called out to you. While I sent My prophets to turn your attention back to Me, you would have none of it. As for your country, half of it is Mine. This is a greater number than many nations combined. Because you remember Me and still keep Me hidden away, I will not allow for your total destruction.

“Now, understand what is about occur. You believe yourself to have an ally to the East. This leader (the leader of the Red Dragon) has made promises to you. His power is great in both weaponry and in sheer number of fighting men. He has use for you right now as he has begun a hidden map of areas he plans to invade.

“While you think yourself untouchable by this leader, understand this... his hidden plans for conquest include your country. What appears as a partnership in strength to the nations is instead a lie. He has no intention of keeping this alliance with you. He believes himself sovereign. You are only a puppet to him, to be used by proxy to shield the world of his plans to take it over. Your country is his in-road.

“While you are busy and the attention of the world is upon you, he is making his power known. He will bargain with you in exchange for the valuable and rich resources in your land. I come to give you a warning today. Do not trust this leader as his plans are to destroy you from within. This leader takes over the nations while they sleep. His desire is for you to bow to him and worship him. As for now, he needs you to fight his wars and rumors of wars so he can continue in the shadows.

“Now, this is what the Lord says to you... If you turn your face back to Me, I will then confuse his plans and you will remain a country under My hand. However, if you fail to do as I have told you, I will then deliver your land to the Red Dragon.”

The Russian leader was enraged to hear this. He was very angry. While he was congenial to the pastor and thanked him as he left the beautiful church, he was outraged at what he had just heard from the Lord.

Note: The angel who was showing me all of this did not speak to me. He reminded me of the angel Breakthrough. I could tell that the angel did not want to distract me from what he was showing me by speaking to me.

The angel then took me to the large nation in the East (the land of the Red Dragon). We went inside a compound with secure walls. In this room, the leader was meeting with his generals. The meetings were top secret and all computerized. I saw a map of the world. Timelines dotted the map. He was strategizing various scenarios. He was planning on taking control of the world without a physical war.

I saw a massive arsenal of what appeared to the world as very high-tech weapons. However, only a few of these weapons actually had full capability. While the weaponry backing them had ‘the looks’, it did not have the capabilities as advertised. They had instead invested their money into the strategy of information cultivation to create great fear in advance of their show. In other words, they were using hype to create fear.

Their idea was to continue the war of propaganda. Many were in charge of this. Their main objective was to dehumanize and demoralize the people of the nations. I saw one strategy of sending gifts in advance of requests. The requests were then granted. Money given to those in charge of the nations were in exchange for their loyalty. The Red Dragon then promised to protect them. Billions of dollars went into this.

I was then shown the strategy for the takeover of North America. The plan for Canada, the USA and Mexico was to surround them from all sides. The plan was to control the people by fear of the virus and by the confusion surrounding the virus. In order to create fears of shortages, the supply chain was then disrupted.

Then came the purchase of areas within and surrounding North America. Using their citizens as land purchasers, they began to buy up all areas from within, especially areas with valuable farmlands and resources. I saw a map that showed all the land the Red Dragon already owned in Canada, USA and Mexico. The Caribbean was easily purchased.

I then saw a division set out to control all waterways and ports on all coasts. They then brought in a strategy of supplying lethal drugs. What I thought were armies of the Red Dragon in Mexico were actually drug cartels bought and paid for by them. I saw them use open borders by proxy to move drugs. While these drugs are being used to destroy the population, their specific target is young fighting men.

I then saw Canada form an alliance with the Red Dragon. The Canadian leadership then removed the strength of the nation by mass demoralization. Great amounts of money were granted to denounce all of those opposed to the government. By spreading bad information about the plague, they hurt the Canadian economy. They hurt it so much that the Red Dragon was able to buy up Canadian companies at a fraction of what they were worth.

These mass purchases were being kept secret. With money and the economy slipping, the Red Dragon set its sights on Canada's oil fields and other rich assets. Judging from the map I was looking at, the Red Dragon believed that the takeover of Canada would be their easiest target before moving on to the USA with greater force.

I then saw the Red Dragon declare that the Year of the Dragon (February 10, 2024 to January 28th, 2025) would be the beginning of his 'one-nation initiative'. This came with something dreadful... I saw a plan in place to manufacture various remedies. While these remedies would look good initially, they would actually have a secret side affect of breaking down the mind. I saw them all laugh together. They were 'as one' with their great plans. They praised their leader as God over all and sovereign.

I then saw an invitation to this leader arrive via courier. He smiled and excused himself. He then went with a large security detail to a factory. It was so disheartening to see. A USA-based well-known publisher was printing Western-style 'Bibles'. When he arrived at the factory, he was taken to a conference room. A 'Bible' was presented to the leader. The factory owner looked so pleased with himself.

Factory owner: "Your honor, I present to you our finest piece, ready just in time for the New Year."

Note: While not sure which Chinese New Year he was referring to, we note that the Year of the Tiger goes from February 1, 2022 to January 21, 2023.

He then presented a golden leather 'Bible' to the leader. The leader looked quite pleased with this. There was a marker at the start of the 'New Testament' for the leader to start reading at.

Leader: "The 'Spirit' has been removed, correct?"

Factory owner: "Yes. The Spirit of Christianity has been completely removed... with you in its place. You have been given sovereignty... as you should be. Our best scholars have confirmed the proper replacement, inserting your excellency."

An assistant to the leader: "This 'Bible', along with your 'Book of Thoughts', will complete the dynasty of your supreme reign."

The leader nodded. He was very pleased with himself. The angel then silently pointed at the 'Bible'. I watched in wonder as Words from the Lord raised in illumination about two inches above the 'Bible's' false words. No one else but the angel and me could see what the leader was seeing.

The Word from the Lord to the leader of the Red Dragon: "I have raised you up for a time such as this. Had you continued on your course as it was written, I would have then allowed your course. Men are easily led astray by false doctrines and practices of evil of every kind. You have instead made yourself a seat 'above God'.

"I will therefore cause an even greater army than your army to rise. I will raise My Army to display awesome deeds. These awesome deeds will not be made with weapons in a show of force, but by the works of their hands with Me being with them. Nothing shall come against the Living God or My Army. My Word is the Word of Truth. It is the beginning and will be everlasting.

"Now, look down at your arms and hands. Look down at your legs and feet. What part of your body was created by man? Other than the evil you plot, what part of you has been created by man? You plot great evil because you are void of Me. Look at your physical being and remember that I created all of it.

"Now, after I am finished with My initiative from Heaven, I will then allow you to continue on your present course. I am only allowing your course in a manner wherein you bring about My plans and fulfill the Words of the prophets. I know who you are and that you know that there is a God that you must conquer in the hearts of man.

"However, you now also need to understand that there is yet another army you must overcome other than My Holy Army. This is the army of the son of perdition (the Black Dragon). Both of you plot and are unable to use each other in those days. Your plots will remain separate until they are not.

"Because you consider yourself more powerful than God, I will shake the lands. Your fighting men will panic and become confused. Angels will appear before them and they will strike out against their brothers. It will be as if their brothers are enemies as they will be disguised as such.

"I will then send out an even greater plague and even more bloodshed. I will send hail and fire from Heaven to the nations surrounding Israel. You will then all know Me as God over all things."

I watched as the leader became extremely angry at the Words he had just read. The men around him were in shock as they rightfully expected him to be pleased. He pounded his fists. He then rubbed his eyes several times. He then looked at the 'Bible' again. The Words of God that floated just above it were now gone.

Leader: Looking at the person who had presented him with the 'Bible'. "Kill him." The man was shot immediately and died instantly. Now addressing his experts. "Re-read all that has been printed. Do not appear to me until this is verified. Read every word. Do not sleep until this is complete."

They all looked terrified. They each grabbed a copy of the 'Bible'. The leader then left. The angel then showed me the cities of the lands surrounding China. An order had been placed to invade them. The streets of these cities were empty.

I then saw a frightening entity. It was an almost transparent dragon crossed with a tyrannosaurus rex. This is very difficult to describe. This entity moved extremely fast. Since the people had been pre-warned, most had now fled. This entity was frightening.

Sub-dream 1 over.

Me: "Oh Lord, this was very scary and very clear."

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "Do not be afraid. I am God over all. I see all. I see the plans of the wicked. I see every one of their secret plots."

Me: "I thought Russia was Gog or Magog? However, I am definitely no expert in this."

Jesus: "Islam is one army. While they have a vast amount of money, only a few hold it. They are unruly. They hate Christians and anything Israel. They fight with iron fists and a display of chaos. This is to bring about their control through fear. The leaders of the Far East despise these people as they are loyal to their religion. He uses them by proxy to dishearten and create fear among the nations.

"However, he does not control the enemy who is in the shadows. Instead, he advances quickly and the enemy studies him and enjoys his gains. However, I am aware of the plans of the wicked. Nothing is hidden from My sight. Both of them saw peaceful regions with no visible walls or gates. Both of them enjoyed freedom, wealth and great blessings as favored by Me. They decided to destroy them with great hate and a need for power and control."

Me: "Stop their plans. Lord, please."

Jesus: "I will. I have formed a Great Army and I will soon make the call to deploy them. Rejoice, Erin, as I am with you and I am in you. Now, with Me in you, who can come against you?"

Me: "No one."

Jesus: "Truth is good. My promises are true. I have come to fulfill the prophecies. All will know I am God. Rejoice!"

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day! Thank You for my family. Thank You for my Nest friends and their great words of encouragement. Above all else, You love us. I am so grateful for every breath. Each man's days are numbered from the time of birth, but really even in our mother's womb. The best we can hope for during life is love, peace, good health, joy and a relationship with You, our Creator. Many are also blessed with a quiver full of children and grandchildren who all know You are their Savior. Thank You, Father!

This week has been a tumultuous one. Jeff was turned down for another job. He also went before a panel of interviewers for a different job. They are like judges and we do not know the outcome of this. It seems as if employers are no longer hiring on merit and experience. It is degrading and shallow for those who were born in a 'politically incorrect way' through no fault of their own.

This week, I received a copy of the adoption records my mom received back in 1993 from one of her siblings. While I have photos that show my grandmother to have dark skin, this paper claimed that she had light skin and freckles. Wow, how could something so obvious as evidence like a photo not stand up against written records. These papers were typed by hand from an old-fashioned typewriter. While I had many more questions, the Lord spoke to me...

Voice of the Lord: "Do not worry. These people were once in the business of finding homes for orphans. Two of the children had lighter skin. They could be adopted as a result and then had a chance. There were others not as fortuitous. You are seeing the same type of evil today. All will be reconciled. I will explain all to you at the appropriate time. My light will bring forth things hidden in the darkness, things long forgotten."

I received my case closures for my disability and the notice of appeal. I also received a consideration letter for my disability, but no other information. I contacted an attorney for a consultation and was informed that most cases are funneled out to foreigners that don't understand the system or the laws. While the good news is that these cases go to hearings, the bad news is that there is a backlog that is years long.

Well, with God there are no accidents. However, no income is scary. While I know God has us, I am still concerned. I then received a phone call from my doctor. I am now waiting for two biopsies. I go back into the surgeon's office on Tuesday for him to make a game plan. My doctor is also checking into why my pacemaker doctor turned off the reading of the upper chamber of my heart.

Right now, my reports on my heart are void of activity. It just reads as all good and normal even though I know I have had events. For one year, it has been reading just a normal rhythm. No high or low activities are showing at all. When I asked them if that means it can now be removed, they laughed uncomfortably. I just know that they know that something suspicious is going on in the healthcare system right now. So, Lord, I put all of this into Your hands.

My breathing has been very poor recently. So many of my friends have been encountering the same issues. I have been having swallowing troubles. This is panicking as this is how my mom died. Father, please fill us with Your breath. Let us have at least airflow. Oxygen is life-saving to our bodies. Chasing after air is not easy and very discomforting. What makes matters worse is that my dreams are so dark right now...

Sub-dream 1 "The Left Behind will be in shock" begins...

I saw people who once claimed to be Christian. They claimed this even though they seemed very lukewarm and not at all interested in a relationship with Jesus. One person was in the ministry. I saw him and he looked in shock and so despondent. He looked like someone who realized they made the worst mistake of their life and they are not getting a re-do.

I saw many like this. There were so many people going through the five stages of grief in 'hyper-visible mode'. One woman had kept putting Jesus on a shelf for appearance's sake. She never went further and never tried to understand. This woman was alone in her kitchen. She was talking to herself...

Woman: "I need to bake some cookies for my church retreat. My cookies have to be the best. I just hate Dorothy so much. She thinks her cookies are better than mine. I know that God must hate her and people like her. Well, I better start dinner. My husband and my son will soon be home."

Voice of the Lord: "This woman is in denial. Her husband and son are gone and they are not coming back. While a part of her knows this to be true, she just can't face it."

The Lord then showed me more of those who had been left behind, those who had missed the Rapture. I saw people in a small-town walking around like zombies. While they were aware of what had happened, they were at a loss. I did not see even one child. I was then directed to some very disturbing activities.

In some cities, the military were taking people from their homes and placing them in single-room apartments. They had to share with others. I then saw this invading army going door to door. They were looking for people who were not there as they had been Raptured. They set many homes on fire 'just in case' these people ever returned.

There was a darkness that had fallen over the land. There was no electricity. This darkness was over entire areas. There was also some sort of cloud cover that mostly blocked the brightness of the sun. The sun now looked an eerie red color. I saw two farmers speaking. I went over to listen to what they had to say to each other..

Farmer 1: "I am not going to make it. The crops have no sun. The crop is going to be tiny. I am done."

Farmer 2: "Forget your yields. We have bigger problems. There won't be any food left at all. My silos are already half empty. Are they planning to produce food from air?"

Farmer 1: "Well, they were able to produce fake meat. Now they need fake grains and fake dairy."

Farmer 2: "Man can't live off of kale and mushrooms alone, can they?"

Farmer 1: "They will soon begin to eat almost anything."

Farmer 2: "This is going to get downright disgusting. Where is God right now?"

Farmer 1: "He left the building long ago."

I then saw whole cities contained with barbed-wire fencing. The entire landscape was very dark and foreboding. I saw people deranged from either demonic possession or from some plague. I saw horrible things. I saw a leader give the command for the entire population of one of the cities to be destroyed.

Me: "Father, I don't want to experience any of this. This is awful. This is so horrible. Nothing can be trusted from man at this point. Please help. At least let us breathe in the Glory of God, not the constricted way things are now."

Sub-dream 1 over..

Father, we are Your Vessels. You shaped us. You prepared us by Your own hands. You allowed us to be fired in the furnace of affliction. You then inspected us and put our Vessels back through the furnace a few more times. You then found our Vessels useful for Your purposes. You deemed us worthy of holding Living Water. You found our Vessels free from cracks and prepared for Your outpouring. Lord, I asked You for something after a difficult night of breathing...

Me: "I had trouble breathing last night and this has been a humbling experience. My right lung hurts in my back and I am wondering why. Lord, You are one with me now as You are in me. Does this mean Your breathing is labored too? No oxygen leads to panic. This is a natural response as the body reacts to lack."

Psalms 33:6 tells us that Your Word made the Heavens and that Your Breath made all of their hosts. You created Adam and breathed into him the breath of life. Men then came to live. When death comes, our breath is gone. Father, so many of Your people are experiencing labored breathing right now. We are lacking air. Oxygen is required to bring life to our bodies. I am asking You for many things right now when it comes to air and our need to breathe, but also to thrive in general...

- The rarified breath of Heaven. Your pure oxygen fills our dying bodies and revives us afresh.
- The pure life-giving water of the River of Life flowing through our Vessels. When combined with Your oxygen, it is the Living Water from Heaven.
- The truth of God. Let Your Word be a lamp to our feet and a light to our path. May Your truth be with us wherever You take us.
- The Light of You lighting us up so that all who sees us know that we are Yours.
- The hearts of those who are lost being revived and renewed by Your power flowing through us, Your Army.
- That Your Army works seamlessly, working as one, with Your Mighty Hands guiding us every step of the way.

- That we will know many secrets never before revealed and that You will give us knowledge to work in foreign lands speaking foreign tongues.
- That we be not confined by time and space, but instead under the Rule of the Heavenly Order of Time and Space. In other words, that we not be confined by the laws of realms.

Me: "Lord, I do not even fully understand all of this. However, You have placed it on my heart to pray. Lord, will You please breathe into our lungs and make our breathing easier, if not effortless?"

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "Erin, I am here. There is a reason I have allowed such things. The enemy fights against the children of God. All you wrote and requested are inspired by Me. These things you ask will be granted to those I have called into My service. Nothing will come against you or My Army. Heaven will be visible upon you because I will be working through you."

Me: "Lord, there is so much more I have been hoping for. Time keeps going by."

Jesus: "Yes, I know. I know all you have stated. You have made a reasonable case. I find your case to be good. Now, it is difficult to understand why I did not move sooner. It is also difficult to understand why I haven't acted as you had hoped for. It is not because I am unable to. It is not because I have turned away from your situations. Instead, it is so that all will be completed on Earth as it is in Heaven.

"In order for the time to be right, it has to meet the criteria of My Father in Heaven. This means all matters must be in place and ready at the perfect moment so not one matter is left undone. What you are now witnessing in the world is as it has been foretold by the prophets. There are now so many occurrences in the news daily that very few even notice the fulfillment of prophecies.

"While I know it has been difficult, how can My people understand the divine nature of God without first experiencing what the world offers. The opposite of the breath of God is bad air. The opposite of pure living water is polluted water, unclean and unfit. The opposite of a healthy body is a diseased one. The list goes on and on, understand?"

"You are now seeing many depraved man. Many are mentally unstable and double-minded in their ways. You are seeing demons manifesting in people. The wicked are rising. This is being caused by My allowing them to become more visible. Remember that, as of right now, Earth has become the opposite of Heaven as hell has risen."

Me: "Lord, please stop this. Show Your power to the enemy. You are greater than all of this. Please rise up in majesty and glory. Please stop the wicked plans of the enemy. So many of my dreams right now are hard to watch."

Jesus: "There are many who have placed Me on a shelf with their idols. I am not sure you can even purchase My likeness in those stores so many now go to."

Me: Laughing. "Oh Lord, You are talking about TJ Maxx, Home Goods and the likes. Yes, the shelves are filled with various heads of idols. However, there is no You. There are no crosses. There are more idols in the image of Easter Island than You there. There are also more easter bunnies than You there."

Jesus: "Are you saying that I don't even make it to the shelves like the other idols anymore? Are you saying few talk of Me unless it is by using My name in curses?"

Me: "Yes, Lord. This is so hard to watch."

Jesus: "There are people who talk about things related to Me, but don't care to know Me. While they proclaim a desire for Me to search their hearts, they then sit embittered in the pews, jealous of this or that. Since they never sought Me, I never knew them."

Me: "While I am sure I know people like this, only You truly know the heart."

Jesus: "Some will have heart attacks when all is made visible. Even though some were told of this as they sat in the pews, they did not hear. They did not believe. They refused to believe all that was written. They refused to pray or see My miracles. They instead declared that all of this was untrue."

Me: "Oh my, what a wakeup call this will be."

Jesus: "You will know people, Erin. Surprisingly, the ones you least expect will be those who believe and remain believing in Me even during the darkest points. Do not worry as I will have compassion on them. Now, tell Me about your breathing."

Me: "I am struggling to breathe right now, Lord. Please help me."

Jesus: "Even though it is cold outside, go outside and breathe deeply in and out seven times. I will remove the particles causing affliction."

Me: "What are the particles from?"

Jesus: "The mouth coverings are not pure. None of what the enemy does right now is for your good. Many have stopped breathing fully. The enemy enjoys this. A hungry man, a thirsty man, a powerless man, a poor man and a sick man are all men the enemy enjoys. However, I delight in doing good. All things I do are the opposite of what the enemy does. He is the great divider. All that is good is being removed. However, his time is running short. Do not worry as My Spirit is in you."

Me: "You are right, Lord, as You always are. No one is breathing freely anymore. When we breathe, we are restricted, sick or unable. Please heal us, Lord."

Jesus: "I will do much more than this. Now rejoice, Erin. I haven't forgotten you. I am your Savior, your Provider, the Giver of Good Gifts and the Keeper of your heart. I am in you and I work through you. Rejoice as nothing will come against you. You are Mine."

566 – The Financial Harbinger of the Bridge Collapse

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day! Thank You for Your love for all of us. Your children watch for You day and night. There is not one day which goes by when we don't think about You. You are forever praised on our lips and in our hearts. Thank You for keeping us close to You at all times. Father, I had an epic dream last night...

Sub-dream 1 "The Great Bridges of Pittsburg, Pennsylvania" begins...

I was standing at the area of the bridge which just collapsed in Pittsburg, Pennsylvania. The entire landscape was grey with white snow. The area was void of people. I noticed a park sign that read 'Frick Park – Fern Hollow Bridge collapsed carrying Forbes Avenue'. I then looked up the background of who 'Frick' is...

Henry Clay Frick was an American industrialist, financier and art patron. He was not from a wealthy family. He and some cousins used an oven to turn coal into coke. This coke was then used for steel manufacturing. Frick had vowed to be a millionaire by age 30 (which is similar to being a billionaire into today's dollars). He received loans from his family and from his lifelong friend, Andrew Mellon, to finance the business.

By 1880, Frick had bought out the partnership. At the time, he had 1000 employees and controlled 80% of the coal output in Pennsylvania. In 1881, now age 30, Frick met Andrew Carnegie in New York City while he was on his honeymoon. He then formed a partnership with Carnegie Steel Company. This eventually formed United States Steel. This partnership ensured that Carnegie had adequate supplies of coke.

Frick then became chairman. Carnegie tried to trick Frick by claiming that the company had nowhere to go and it was time for him to retire. Despite all Frick had done to contribute to Carnegie's fortune, Carnegie disregarded him in many executive decisions. Frick was then wrapped up in some shady deals that didn't end well. However, upon his death, he dedicated all the land for this park, as well as millions in trust to maintain it. The bridge that fell had fallen over this park.

Me: "Why am I here, Lord?"

Just then, an angel of the Lord stood next to me.

Angel: "This is a sign and harbinger to the nations. God sees. God knows all things done in secret. Men of power and men of renown cannot stand before God in the Courts of Heaven at the Mercy Seat and tell God a new thing as if He knows not. They cannot call a helpmate, associate or enemy who might owe them favors to intercede for them. God cannot be 'paid off' to bend an ear and grant mercy.

"God does not deal in uneven measures performed in secret. These lands... all that you see here and beyond... this is what God has created. These lands have been entrusted to man to do no harm and to care for the land, the peoples, the animals, the birds of the air and the fish in the water. God does not forget the deeds of the wicked even though man tries to distract His attention away from their evil with an act here and there of benevolence.

"The mercy of God cannot be purchased. Not far from here was a massive flood from a breeched dam. Many perished. The actions of but a few caused this to be a great calamity. This is an important event marking this time. A leader born here in this state now has more power than any of the names here in this park (the current President of the USA was born in Scranton, Pennsylvania on November 20, 1942)."

Me: "Wow, he has more power than Frick, Carnegie and Forbes?"

Angel: "Well, yes. However, he did not work for the betterment of the country. He instead worked for the betterment of himself. He has betrayed all that God has entrusted him with. God has called down this bridge and the road across it as a harbinger of the financial fall of the nation."

Me: "So, this is pointing to the collapse of 'Forbes' Avenue in this park. Forbes is a name commonly associated with the nation's wealth and finances."

Angel: "Where is the coal? Where is the steel? Where is the oil? Where are the jobs? The bridge has been broken in half. This city (he showed me Pittsburg) represents a fortified settlement on a hill. The city to the east (he showed me Philadelphia) is the city of 'brotherly love'. This is the city that gave birth to this nation. It was the great financial center. The name of the street below was carried by this bridge.”

Me: “Yes. Forbes. When I think of Forbes, I think of finance and money.”

Angel: “Look! Where is it now? The automobiles have fallen. Look, the transport has also fallen (he showed me a bus that had fell). In response, all the leader says is ‘we will fix this’. Well, God sees. This man and those who support him have stolen from the country and therefore its inhabitants. However, they have really stolen from God. They have broken a great covenant under God of a land which was to be indivisible.

“During the dark of night, they stopped what was fair under God. Even though they tried to cover it up, God sees everything. All those responsible for this pillaging will receive no mercy. All those who received payment for the betrayal of God will be punished. God is about to place hooks in the noses of the leaders who have corrupted the land. This is God’s land and He sees all. Come...”

He took my hand and brought me to the border to the south (Mexico)...

Angel: “The corrupt leaders have made deals with foreign governments to destroy this land of God’s.”

He showed me masses of people coming over the border illegally in the dark undetected. I then saw busses waiting for them. I saw millions (literally) being dispersed into nice quiet unaware communities.

Angel: “Very few in these convoys have good intentions. This is a new army hired against the people of God to overtake the law. They are here to do harm. They are here to pillage, rape, steal and overtake all they see. Their goal is to do so quickly. The plague kept people shuttered because of fear. These are sent to fuel fear and bring forth a new order of law from corrupt leaders.

“They will use the invading armies to drug and kill any opposers. They will use great evil to remove justice. They will use deadly force to take the wealth of the law abiding. All will be done to benefit the wicked. The hate is so great that they will even rape and kill the children. They will broker the children, dealing them dead or alive for evil purposes and financial gains. Anyone opposed to their evil will be silenced. Come...”

He took my hand again and brought me to the border to the north (Canada)...

Angel: "This will remain closed as this leader ('True Dough') works for the established governing bodies and works to please them. He withholds healthcare and other benefits to those who do not agree. He has removed My Church and receives great praise from corrupt organizations. While evil is free to enter, good cannot leave. They are losing lands to the leader in the East (the Red Dragon). They are allowing the sale of all the wealth to foreigners while spreading lies and controlling information."

I saw the government control all the media, military and police. I saw spying on all citizens using various methods. The leaders encouraged rebellion against parents, all in the name of 'freedom of expression'.

Me: "This is horrible! Won't God do anything? When will it be time? How many must die? How can I feel at peace when this is all happening in secret?"

The angel then showed me a great distraction by Russia. All resources were then turned towards Europe. I then saw the leader to the Far East, the land of the Red Dragon, rise up out of the sea. At first, he was represented by what looked like a massive alligator. I saw it swimming around the seas surrounding Taiwan, the Philippines and Malaysia.

I then saw it swim around Australia and back up the outer islands north to Japan. There it went under again. However, when it finally rose up out of the water again, it was now a massive Red Dragon. It had tied up all of these nations and tethered them to itself. The islands appeared to be uprooted and drawn to this large nation.

Me: "How is that dragon able to do this?"

Angel: "Several ways. Many will have no choice. They either become part of the dragon or they are destroyed... wiped off the map."

Me: "But some of these are God's. There are many believers who chase God there. Please don't allow this."

Angel: "I am only a messenger of God. This leader has lofty plans. Many of these nations have been de-platformed, the leaders weakened and the people disheartened. God has brought warnings and will bring more so that not one will be lost whom God has called. Do not worry as God is greater than all of these wicked rulers. He sent me to show you this to confirm your thoughts on the matter.

"Even more, so you know that God has allowed this, sees all of it and that His time is therefore upon you now. Do not be concerned when you believe the wicked is prevailing. It is only temporary in darkness as God's promises are fulfilled at dawn. His mercies are made brand new at the break of day. Rejoice, Erin, as you can now see the signs of God. This bridge collapse is a great harbinger for the wicked.”

Sub-dream 1 over..

I got up and fed the birds before the storm arrived. The Nor’easter is scheduled to arrive in the early morning. It is expected to have a lot of snow and wind. I am praying that our house has uninterrupted power. I prayed over our home. I asked the Lord to protect us by His Mighty Hand and shelter us from the coming storm.

Soon after coming inside, the winds began to blow in several different patterns and directions. The sounds outside became very loud. The snow is blowing and spinning in white out conditions. As I prayed for, the power continues to stay on (and has continued to as this dream is being posted in the early evening).

Me: “Lord, how do the animals and birds know that a storm is coming in? They seemed to know to come out and grab the food I was spreading. They did it with much more than typical urgency. These little ones have been bustling about for the last two days to prepare. Do You send them signs? Do the angels tell them?”

Jesus: “Erin, come up!”

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: “You have many questions. The animals and the birds know when a storm is coming. They are in sync with My weather forecast. They also know from signs and the behaviors of others near them. For instance, a crow has a warning signal, a shout, that a predator is nearby. All the animals and birds then scatter. He then gathers up his workers, his family, and they use a few patterns to chase the predator far away.”

Me: “I have watched them dive bomb hawks and even eagles.”

Jesus: “They are bold when threatened. They don’t fear much.”

Me: “I never thought I would ever say this, but... I have grown quite fond of this crow family. They watch over the other birds and animals. They warn them of danger.”

Jesus: “If the animals and birds and even the creatures of the sea have warning of impending storms, then won’t I also do the same for those I love?”

Me: "Yes, Lord. You even send help. You also send people to warn us to prepare for what is coming. When the storms arrive, we are at Your mercy. We can only pray."

Jesus: "I don't only send warning to those I call, I also send those I call to give warnings. Great harbingers have come in hopes the wicked would turn back to God and humble themselves."

Me: "They instead have closed up the churches and shut our worship of You, Lord."

Jesus: "Yes, but they have done even more in darkness. I have given fair warning for them to turn from their wickedness and do what is right. They instead continue on their evil course. I will now allow them to confess their sins before the peoples of the Earth. I will unleash their tongues to confess to their wickedness. They will desire to cut off their tongues, but their tongues will be strong like Damascus steel and just as unbending.

"They will have no choice but to abandon their posts and positions and run for the hills. I will cause this. The wicked do not know that I see their deeds and that all is measured. The oppressed cry out as justice has died in the cover of darkness. However, I am the Just Judge and I judge a man based on their heart, not on their outer appearances.

"Now, God has created both man and woman. The two are unique in their ways, but together they are good. I did not create man to lay with a man. I did not create a man to declare himself a woman and dress as such. I did not say to a woman that you are now a man. This is not the will of God.

"Neither did I create slaves among you. Laborers became slaves at the hands of the wicked landowners. Those who decided to instead work laborers long hours, house them, feed them and keep them and their families. This is why I said to release them free of debt after six years and then on the seventh they are free. This was based on foreign laborers and the poor who needed work and then became slaves.

"Instead of being fair, kind and generous, many became dehumanized, like livestock. This is not the will of God. The will of God is that all men be free... on Earth as it is in Heaven. Today there is slavery and it is for man's sexual lusts. It involves the poor, the needy and the least of these. What has been before is once again true today. There will always be the poor among you, but this does not mean they are forgotten by Me.

"The nation is under a plan of enslavement by only a few. The enemy is attempting a great wealth transfer. It is very evil and God sees all those who participate in these practices, but especially against children, the little ones. Erin, you have seen where they who do such evil against My children go while they await judgment.”

Me: “Yes, Lord. It is frightening. This is horrifying. Even though they are evil, this punishment is beyond my comprehension and a great personal fear.”

Jesus: “You are not to fear this as you will not be subject to this. However, you are to understand this... I will repay evil done to these little ones with that which you have seen.”

Me: “Oh Lord, this is worse than a millstone tied around them and thrown into the sea. It is worse than anything I can personally comprehend. If this happened to me, I would wish that I had never been born. They will say this once they experience what is coming for them.”

Jesus: “Erin, My Words are true and I am true to My Words. As for you and your family, this storm will soon pass. As for your daughter, she will arrive safely back from the funeral surrounded by your enemies. I have her. Do not worry.”

Me: “Thank You, Lord, thank You.”

Jesus: “You are welcome. Do not worry when you see the wicked continue their schemes. Do not worry as I have a ‘special gift’ coming to each of them. I see all. I see everything they do in darkness. Now rejoice, Erin, and breathe!”

Me: “Oh yes... my breathing is so much better since doing the seven deep breaths as You instructed me to do yesterday. Thank You!”

Jesus: “Fresh air is good. I love you.”

567 – The Groom’s Immeasurable Love

Thank You! No, I mean really truly thank You. You have done so much for me. Your promises are all coming true. They have either come true, are coming true or will soon come true. I am so amazed by Your love and great protection over Your children. Thank You.

Bless my husband, our children and our house. Bless our Nest friends, their children and their households. Please bless all of those You have called... in Jesus’ Mighty Name! I am thankful for every amazing experience You have brought my way. You designed and lined up my entire life. You have designed my path. You are my Architect. You carved it through mountains. How can this be?

Wow, I read over my journal from 2002 to 2003 earlier today. What a painful, brutal time. Somehow even back then I knew I was right in the furnace of affliction. I now know You were refining me. It was difficult too as I clearly grappled with my place in the world. I made mistake after mistake in a cycle of disobedience, repentance, self-infliction and depression. It is so difficult to look over this again.

My ‘death to self’ that started on January 23, 2000 was a brutal furnace. I revisited this painful old journal as I wanted to remind myself on just how brutal it was. Despite the brutality, I now see the works of fulfilling His promises happening in the background. This happened despite me. Why? Because I was already His and He loved me enough to pursue me, no matter the conditions.

While I declared to Him how much I loved Him, I was often unsure if He really cared about me. This is because I wasn’t seeing instant manifestations of Him meeting my current prayers of 2002 to 2003. In fact, other than keeping me and my children safe and answering a few pleas here and there, they were all set up for right here and right now, not back then... or so it seemed.

When looking through this old journal, I noticed that I had prayed for a Mansion in Heaven on July 30, 2003. I asked this for Heaven instead of Earth because a home on Earth seemed impossible. I prayed for a safe affordable home far away from our enemies where I could enjoy my children. Well, I just came across something amazing that reflected the search I am doing on the timeline of the house we are now living in.

One year after my July 30, 2003 prayer, on July 29, 2004, the plan for the subdivision our current house is in was submitted to the county, including for the very lot we live in today. However, the plans for this subdivision did not happen overnight. There is a process that starts with an idea. Time then elapses and the plan is finally submitted. What if someone 'suddenly' had an idea to develop this land on July 30, 2003?

While only God knows this date, this doesn't seem that farfetched. All I know is that You are always and fully in control. The Scriptures You repeatedly had given me back then were these... Ezekiel 36:26-27, Isaiah 59; 43; 46. It seems You have also been giving me Isaiah 46 again this month. The enemy has deceived himself into believing he has any power outside of what You allow.

God was busy setting up the property in 2003 / 2004. He then lined up the architect in early 2010, along with the builder. Work then began on this property shortly thereafter. There was a problem though. How could we take ownership of this house if it was already occupied? When someone builds a house, they don't intend to leave it. You certainly don't do this after only a couple of years unless you flip houses for a living.

Well, the owners of this house ran into an employment roadblock. A job that was supposed to last for years here ended up being transferred clear across the country. They were ready to sell in early 2014, listing the house in March 2014. In the meantime, everything was lining up here for our '50-Day Lord Transition Plan' as spoken about in detail in previous dreams. We moved shortly after acquiring our house.

Me: "Oh God, You knew all that would happen to us in Portland OR, Bend OR and the Tri-Cities WA. Life was incredible difficult from February 23, 2000 until we finally left the area in August 2014. You set up a safe home for us and there we went. While there were still trials and misfortunes, and still are, I now have a husband to face all of this with. What a difference it has been to have the seven of us bond together as one unit."

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "Erin, I have never stopped pursuing you. I chased you until you found Me. This is the divine love of My Father that He would send Me to you."

This is the divine love of My Father that He found you to be good as My Bride. Because I am God to You, I capture your heart, I send gifts, I protect you and I fulfill My promises to you. Erin, I will never stop doing this.

“Though you avoided Me at times years ago, I still pursued you. I still pursued you because I declared your heart good. This was even confirmed from the Throne of God, My Father in Heaven. Through the years and your many troubles, tests and trials, I have been with you always. I have been there with you through your brokenness, disappointment and shame.

“Even so, I allowed the blacksmith to continue to prepare and soften your heart to receive Me fully. I shaped you and prepared the way that you should go. I called out to you in the desert places and searched for you in dark caves. You were there. I then called you to rise up and come out. I asked you to forget the former things and come with Me. You did.

“While you were apprehensive at first and preferred your hidden places, your caves, you eventually took all of your comfort in Me. We are now as one. Still, our courtship had its share of ups and downs. This was not because I ever abandoned you. Instead, it was because you could not find Me even though I was there the entire time.

“Do you not see what has happened from the beginning to the end? Nothing was left undone. No promise for you has been revoked. My Words are true. You are Mine. You never stopped looking for Me. You never stopped waiting on Me even in your darkest days. Your heart grew more and more ready for Me every day. Now, Erin, I am here and we have become one with each other.

“Now, understand this... does a Groom quickly throw away His Bride after searching for her and finally finding her? No! He instead pursues her, day and night. Once she then discovers Him, she cries out to Him to come for her. She waits day and night looking for His light in the darkness.

“While the wait was long, He sent gifts and notes to her ahead of time via messengers to let her know He would soon be with her. Then one day, He declared He would never depart from her. She then declared she would never stop loving Him. So, I ask again... how could a Groom just give up on the Bride He so loves? No, He would not. He would not do such a thing.

“So, Erin, I am here. The enemy is far from you. I care for you, your husband, your children, your animals and your house. I also care for those who love you. I also care for your Nest friends who love you. There is always someone who is praying for you there both night and day. I bless all those who bless you because I am one with you.”

Me: "I love You, Lord. I am so, so thankful."

Jesus: "I will never stop, Erin. Now, recall all the promises I have given you. All will now manifest before your very eyes. However, I will not stop doing this. Erin, I won't stop! I am here and I am with you!"

568 – God’s Children Will Soon be Avenged

Thank You for another day! Thank You for Your love and affection. Thank You for Your great care and protection over us. We are so blessed to have You as our Father, our Savior, our Deliverer, our Creator and the Keeper of our hearts.

When I reflect on my journey before You were in my heart, my joy was incomplete. While I searched for joy, I never found it. In fact, most of my life has been in sorrow, pain and brokenness. When I found joy, it was always brief. Joy was quickly stricken down by tragedy after tragedy, crisis after crisis. Even as a child, anything good would be gone just as quickly as it came.

Every time I experienced something fun, the enemy overshadowed my joy, bringing fear and worry in its place. I conditioned myself to expect the unexpected, but not in a good way. I learned to lower any hope that joy would be anything but fleeting. While I remember bits and pieces of my carefree days, these were usually brief. Overall, most of my carefree days were back when I was still in college.

There is nothing like a great day in the sun on a golf course. It can be even more special when you are all alone. When you are alone, you can do things you can’t do when you are playing competitively. You can hit two shots from the same spot. You can grant yourself a do-over on a missed putt. There is also the smell of freshly mowed grass. The sounds of birds fill the air with a glorious sound.

For four hours, you have no phones, no worries and no score. You are simply out there playing in the beauty of the day. I also loved riding my bike and I did so daily. The bridge in Sandpoint ID was a stunning ride. I would listen to headphones and I had no worries. I was strong, lean and healthy. I could breathe deeply.

However, when I look back to so many of those wonderful days, many of them still were accompanied by ‘oh oh’ days. After a while, I started asking myself whether I had unfair expectations of ever having complete joy. Even when I was a new Christian, I would talk the talk, but my heart wasn’t alive in Christ. I was the walking dead. I truly was an alien here. I never quite fit in.

Forgive me, Father, as I have joy in my heart. However, I do not have complete joy here in this life very often. Don't get me wrong, I have plenty of reasons to have joy. So many things truly delight me. My children and my husband. My music. The little birds and animals. Kind words and love from my Nest friends. These are all wonderful events daily and, yes, they do give me joy.

However, it is not enough anymore. This is because You, Father, have shown me the place You have prepared for us in Heaven. This is where we will finally be free from this dying world. We will be free to worship You there without masks and restrictions. There is life there in abundance ALL of the time. Knowing all of this, how could anyone's joy be complete here on Earth?

I am joyful in my heart at the prospects of Heaven. In Heaven, I already know that Your promises of my joy will finally be complete. In the meantime, please strengthen me. Help me to have joy. Keep fear from us. Protect us. Even more, please Transform us. I re-read Revelation 3:20 today and the part underlined below really stood out to me:

Revelation 3:20: "Behold, I stand at the door and knock. If anyone hears My voice and opens the door, I will come in to him and eat with him, and he with Me."

Note: This Scripture quote came from the English Standard Version (ESV). The ESV is one of the 15 versions (60% of the total), including the King James Version (KJV), that use the wording 'I will come in to him'. The remaining 10 versions (40% of the total) only says 'I will come in', with the part saying 'to him' omitted.

Me: "We are now as one, Lord, as You knocked at my door. I heard You and welcomed You in. I am complete in You, Lord. As we are as one, my joy reflects Yours as You are reflected in the world. You are God over all things. You see the wicked and their deeds. There is no justice. There is no peace. My heart is troubled. Forgive me for being a troubled vessel. Lord, I am so sorry."

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "When did I say you must have joy and a perfect house before I enter and dine with you? I did not say this. It is written that the joy of the Lord is our strength. Do you know what this means?"

Me: "Does it mean that we are strong when we have joy?"

Jesus: "Well then, outwardly, you would be considered weak. You are misunderstanding what is being said. Do not rely on your own strength or understanding. Instead, surrender all things to Me so that, through Me and My strength, your joy will be complete. Do you understand?"

Me: "Yes, Lord. I feel better."

Jesus: "When you read My Word and something stands out to you, then pray to Me for clarification on the matter. This will help complete your knowledge. Now, why do I say 'I am nearest to the little children. Let them come to Me.'?"

Me: "Is it because they come to You in wonder?"

Jesus: "Yes, in part. It is also because they are not yet leading unto their own understanding. When you were a child, you studied those around you to formulate your belief system. You were still open to learning and new ideas. The world was a mysterious wonder.

"I was a great mystery that their hearts saw as good. I could teach them as their hearts are pliable. However, as they grow old, so too does the walls around their hearts. The world is not kind to the young. They often believe those who garner their respect. Often these are not for their good. Now, what are the wicked leaders doing to the children? They bend the children's ears to teach them...

- That evil is good and good is evil.
- That God is restrictive.
- That God is punishing.
- That God allows them to do evil with no consequences.

"They do this all behind the scenes, away from the parents. Because of the lack of God and sound instruction, these little ones are raised to be children of rebellion, children who lack wisdom. What does My Word say about those who abuse My children?"

Me: "Lord, my heart is heavy for the little children. This is Matthew 18:6."

Matthew 18:6: "But whoever causes one of these little ones who believe in Me to sin, it would be better for him to have a great millstone fastened around his neck and to be drowned in the depth of the sea."

Jesus: "Yes, Erin, for they are Mine. My Words are true. Now, who is greatest in the Kingdom of Heaven?"

Me: "Those with child-like wonder and faith?"

Jesus: "Very good. So read and ask for wisdom. There is something deeper in My Words that you have missed. When you were a child, you were forced to be like an adult. You missed out on so many childhood experiences. Your wonder in things of God and that which was lovely was dismissed because your parents were far from Me. However, now as you have grown older, you have become more like a child again."

Me: "You're right, Lord! This is true. I am more like a child than I ever have been in my heart."

Jesus: "Very good. Now, My Words state that anyone who causes any of My children to fall will answer to God for this. Remember that I see the wicked and know their plots. They will be held accountable."

Me: "But, Lord, I am now an adult. I have free will. How can I be as a child?"

Jesus: "You have died to yourself. You occupy most of your days to please Me. You ask Me about various items. We have a dialogue. Even more so, we have a relationship. You discover more everyday as I reveal things to you. Since you surrender all to Me, I therefore share more of the Kingdom of Heaven with you. Erin, My Words are true that I am close to the children, both little and big, understand?"

Me: "Yes, Lord. However, is this an addition to Your Words?"

Jesus: "No. This is another layer. Read Matthew 18 again."

I read Matthew 18 with fresh eyes. I read it several times. For the first time, thanks to His direction, I realized that He clearly wasn't talking just about children, but also about grown adults who have given their hearts to Him.

Me: "So, we are Your sheep, even older ones, as well as lambs."

Jesus: "Well, yes, but this is another parable. I know you are discouraged about the events around you. However, look at all you see through the lens of the Kingdom of Heaven. You see the wicked ramping up his army in various orders of evil. You see all that was foretold by the prophets.

"You see injustice of every kind against the children of God. This is the cause of your joy not feeling complete as your heart is stirred up in disbelief and unrest. You hear many say 'where is God in all of this?' You then hear the wicked say 'God is not here. What God?' Now, this is what is occurring...

- The Temple Vessels are complete.
- The Angel Armies are prepared and their decrees and directions have been given.

- The land has been weighed, measured and found wanting.
- There are watchmen on the walls declaring that God's Kingdom is coming.
- The saints who have been slain are crying out for justice in the Courts of God in Heaven both day and night.
- Heaven is preparing for the Great Celebration.
- I am one with the Bride.
- Your Vessels are ready.

Me: "Well then, Lord, what are You still waiting for? Please hurry! Open my eyes like Elisha."

Jesus: "Do you understand what you are asking?"

Me: "Yes."

Jesus: "Erin, Heaven will soon be visible on Earth. There will be a flood of the Kingdom of Heaven upon Earth so great that evil will have no place. Evil will have no place while God's Glory, My Presence, is there."

Me: "The Holy Spirit?"

Jesus: "Even greater things of Heaven will be displayed on Earth. Millions will turn their face to God and receive the Kingdom of Heaven. There has never been a time such as this. Now rejoice in Me. Erin, rejoice!"

569 – The Great Battle Strategy Reversal

Received on Thursday, February 3, 2022

Communion

Thank You for another day! Thank You for sleep when I have it. My dreams have been broken the last three nights. I am struggling to find rest. However, I know there is a reason for all things under You. My pain was so great this last weekend that I had to take pain medication. It takes a few days to rid this from my system. The short-term remedy of the pain is really not worth the effects over the following days.

Father, I am thankful that we are somewhat still free. I am thankful You have sheltered us and kept us. If you hadn't, I know this much... apart from You, we would be destitute, if not homeless. I am thankful for a few restless nights of sleep here as opposed to living with no bed at all. We are blessed. I just can't keep myself from considering how incredible You are and that You are in the midst of everything.

Oh Lord, nothing is beyond You. You have taken the ancient scrolls of the prophets and have given modern meanings to their words. When they wrote these, they did so at the discretion of Your leading their writing. You provided papyrus and something like charcoal or ink to pen Your written words. This was a laborious process compared to the modern printing press of today.

These were then rolled up into scrolls and placed in earthenware storage jars. These jars were then sealed and buried in caves and crevices. This was then discovered many centuries later for a time such as this. You are the God of the whole Universe, yet also designed the intricate building blocks of life. Our bodies are made of billions of independent cells, yet they all work together in a centrally controlled way.

Despite Your incredible greatness, You love us unconditionally. You sent Jesus, Your Son, to be God in the flesh here. You sent Jesus to carry the burden of our sins once and for all. You set us free from death into eternal life. All those who called and do call upon Your Name know You sent Jesus to save us. You do so much for us that it couldn't be contained in all of the books in the world.

I recently read a disturbing article about a military strategy called 'Scorched Earth'. This is a military strategy that aims to destroy anything that might be useful to God's people...

- Any Assets: Any assets that could be used by God's people to live may be targeted.
- Any Weapons: The elimination of Church, prayer, gathering, worship, tithes, offerings and charity work.
- Transport Vehicles: Eliminate anything used to retrieve necessities, like medical care, medicines, food or employment. The restriction from travelling anywhere.
- Communications: Eliminate anything where two or more are gathered in communion, prayer or anything spreading the Word of God. This includes the removal of websites, podcasts, programs and newsletters.
- Resources: Eliminate anything used to survive, including all financial resources.
- Bearing False Witness: Ruin and smear to cause death, bring down, abase, and discourage. Destroy all that they have, all they love and all those close to them. Coax the individual to do self-harm. Encourage suicide and even help them in bringing their premature death.

Me: "Oh Lord, they are using the Scorched Earth tactic right now against Your children. Oh Lord, please come quickly! We are no longer free. The New World Order is here."

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "Hold tight! I have a Great Plan. Remember what you began writing about earlier today. The power of God cannot be measured, quantified, framed or described. How do you describe the indescribable when there is no Earthly comparison? While you have experienced this in Heaven, how do you explain its equivalence on Earth? Well, there is no equivalence, so this is impossible."

Me: "Well, Lord, there is a lot that I can't describe. How do I describe colors that have no equal here and no root in the primary colors? How do I describe the fabric You wear when the fibers used do not even exist here? I have seen things that defy all logic here on Earth. All in Heaven is perfect and Holy. Nothing in Heaven is unholy. While John tried to describe the Throne Room of God, he too found it impossible to describe.

"I suppose it is the fibers of the experiences of our lives once soiled and stained then preserved but woven by angels in Heaven and washed and made pure by You. It is then magnified and perfected as a banner or shimmer of glistening light upon us that tells a story. How can I describe a robe like this? However, I take heart in knowing that all I have wrote will be illuminated when people experience Heaven on their own."

Jesus: "For things to be understood, they must have a reference point on Earth. This is why I spoke in parables in My Word. These are even commonly used today and apply. As you have written, God has infinitely more than your enemy. Even the enemy knows this. Why? Because his origins are from here. He therefore understands that God's powers are limitless in the battle.

"Your strategies are correct as used by this enemy. His greatest strategy was and is to remove the elderly generation so that he can distort the recollections of history. He wants to rewrite history. He wants to remove or rewrite My Word. He wishes to destroy all of those who expose his work or his strategy. His new tactic, which isn't knew at all, is to put forward the great lie.

"His desire is to remove truth by using lies. He is weaponizing his armies to strike out with lies. He bares false witness against all who oppose him. Still, is any of this really new? No! Now, all the blacksmith has done against you has shaped you in advance for My purposes now. All of this is so that you can know his schemes and testify to My Word. He is desperate now as he knows he can't beat Me, even though he tries.

"Now, what happens when the enemy's tactics are turned around and used on him instead? Think of a sinking ship or a burning building. It is every man for himself. Who is their savior? Who hears their cries for help if God does not listen? As for God's sheep, He hears their cries and saves them. Remember that the enemy knows his time is limited. This is why he is in such a rush to multiply and spread his 'gospel of lies'.

"Now, enough about what you already know to be true. Here is a mystery for you... while God's power is limitless and He is able to do a new and greater thing, how is it that He is confined by the Truth?"

Me: "Wait... You are confined? I can't believe that You are confined by anything."

Jesus: "Well, if I have declared that truth will set you free and that lies will bind you, then what is God since I am Holy?"

Me: "You are the Bringer of Truth and are Holy. You are therefore bound in both Goodness and in Truth. Still, how can You be in confinement? I always thought confinement was like prison."

Jesus: "Why don't you look it up?"

Note: I took a break and looked up the word 'confinement'. While it is an old-fashioned word and not really used anymore, it refers to being in the condition of childbirth. More specifically, in the birthing process, confinement begins with the very first contraction and ends when the baby finally leaves the body. There is also postpartum confinement whereby a mother rests for a certain period after giving birth. I then went back to Him.

Jesus: "So, what did you discover?"

Me: "You never say a contrary thing to Truth. Truth is Your greatest weapon. Truth only comes from You. Truth needs to be birthed. You are constantly birthing Truth. This means You are constantly in the confinement stage when it comes to the spreading of Your Truth. Sigh... this seems a bit complicated to me."

Jesus: "Please continue..."

Me: "Through Truth, we are set free. You are Holy. You do not lie. However, a man's lying tongue can bind him. Since You have no boundaries except for Truth, then I believe that Truth could be like a hedge of protection around a safe yard."

Jesus: "Well, yes, and this when I was in flesh. I did not give fuel to a flame of lies. I did not answer to a lie. I instead verified Truth with Truth. Now, what else did you discover?"

Me: "When I look at the word 'confinement' in the context of where we are today, I just know that we are, right now, in the midst of this time of confinement, the birthing of the real Truth... the birthing of the time where You control all things. Oh Lord, this is so exciting. So many wished for this time to happen during their time on Earth, but we are the last generations that are actually going to see it."

Jesus: "The answer is always Truth. Truth sets you free. As for the enemy, evil is given birth when truth and justice is unfairly delayed. However, I am the Way, the Truth and the Light. I am the Sunshine in a dark sea of lies. The darkness hates the Light. Yes, God is about to make a Great Way. Something is coming that you can barely imagine as God's power will be sent onto the Earth without limitations. Rejoice, Erin, as the Bride, through Me, will have this power without limits."

Me: "I had an odd dream last night that was quite frightening..."

Sub-Dream 1 "The Lunging Grizzly Bear"

My daughter and I were walking up to some people who had stopped in the middle of the road to take photos. It was at night. I needed to be somewhere with my daughter, but they were blocking the road. I then realized to my shock that there was a massive Grizzly bear in front of a down-sloped driveway.

The people were getting too close to the bear. My daughter and I tried to warn them to move back. Just then, the bear lunged at us so quickly that we were unable to move out of the way. My daughter was knocked down. The bear then fled up the hill.

Sub-Dream 1 over.

Me: "What did this dream mean, Lord?"

Jesus: "Were you or your daughter hurt?"

Me: "No, not at all."

Jesus: "So, the Grizzly only scared you, but this came to nothing."

Me: "Yes."

Jesus: "Well then, this is very good as those Grizzly bears can kill."

Me: "Lord, I thought that this dream might represent something."

Jesus: "Yes, it does. Something bigger and stronger that came after you has now run up into the hills. It is no longer a threat. This is good. The people taking photos were not very wise. Even when you warned them, they still stood there. Do not worry, Erin, as no harm will come to you. Now, rejoice, as I am with you. Nothing shall be impossible for My Bride.

"Oh yes, one other item... when you looked at the Scorched Earth Strategy, imagine it turned around against the enemy instead of against you. Imagine this multiplied back to you and considered to be just a small part of My recompense to those who lost so much.

"Erin, I am talking about restorations of epic proportions to My people from the enemy. All that is good will increase exponentially. The enemy will be bound by his lies and confined by his own decrees, but not in a good way and certainly not in truth. Rejoice, Erin, as this good. I love you and I have a Great Plan."

Dream over.

Communion

Thank You for another day! Thank You for all we have been given. Thank You for our warm home, power and food even during the storm. Thank You for the love of family and friends. We are immensely blessed by You, Father. We are thankful and grateful.

We had well over two feet of snow here. It is still snowing lightly and should be finished in the next couple of hours. I am thankful for our children assisting my husband with the immense amount of shoveling required last night. I was unable to help, so I made chicken tortilla soup and quesadillas for the 'after snow shoveling' meal. All in all, it was a great bonding experience.

All of our children are a little bit like groundhogs. They sleep, work and play using their technology in their rooms. It is like there is a whole different world between them that my husband and I know very little about. We are a quiet household. My husband likes to read and I always have something to do around the house. My life is harder now because I am always dealing with my physical limitations.

I am so grateful to see our children grow up to be such good people. This is truly a miracle. While they are not perfect, they believe in You and Your promises. My younger son works really hard to overcome his disability and keep it hidden. He works really hard at this. My heart breaks when I see him try to navigate through a concept that he just can't currently fully understand. I hear how he is mistreated at work. This happens mostly by customers who are on drugs at night.

While I worry for him, I know God has him. We just learned a few weeks ago that he has been driving into town and back 40 miles round trip to drive a manager from another store who has no ride. He does this every Tuesday night. The taxi fare is $70 and she really needs this money to pay for her daughter's expensive medication. Though he has been offered money, he refuses, saying that he is blessed by God and is able to give.

Thank You, Father, for Your love, grace and generous heart. The snow outside is beautiful. Still, I am praying for an early spring. If I may be so bold, I am asking You for this. Driving around in these conditions can be treacherous. There are also so many bad drivers out there. Thank You for sending protection over all of us.

I ventured out to put seed on the snowy path. It was beautiful outside and not as cold as it was yesterday. I prayed that we don't have a sudden warm up as this could cause flooding. After coming in, I sneaked a peek at what came to eat the seed. There were blue jays, chickadees, finches, juncos and even a beautiful evening grosbeak. I took a few pictures and were delighted with their beauty. I had a couple of dreams last night...

Sub-Dream 1 "A house to 'die to myself' in" begins...

I was remodeling a room. The room had so much potential. As it was, it was unusable and uninviting. As I stood looking at it, I could see all the good it could be. It could bring added value to the home. This house was obviously suffering from neglect. Time had diminished its importance. I became sad when I thought about how much joy this room must have brought this family once upon a time.

After thinking this, I suddenly was given a vision of the family in this room. I could see children playing here. I saw a toddler learning to walk, cruising around with the aid of the furniture. I then saw the children grow older and finally say goodbye to the place. The couple spent less and less time at the house. After a while, only boxes of memories remained. Soon these too were removed. It was a very sad scene.

My husband: "What are you doing? This home needs too much work."

Me: "It just needs a spruce. Well, more than a spruce. This would be a long process."

My husband: "While I feel this could cost more than the house is worth, I will support your vision if you really feel it is this important to act upon."

I could tell that my husband was overwhelmed by even the thought of this onerous process. However, after speaking on it more, we agreed that I should proceed. I began the project by replacing the ceiling and adding low voltage lighting. I then removed some windows and replaced them with French doors that opened to a deck. I then retextured the walls with a smooth finish. I then added wall sconces and wood flooring.

As I was about to finish, the outside view from the windows changed to the most beautiful view of the mountains. As I looked closer, I realized that this was the beautiful mountain of God that I had in my February 23, 2000 vision. Something then emotionally hit me and I felt such sorrow. I suddenly realized that the room I was in was the same room that I was in when I had this vision. This house was in Portland OR.

My children were all little in this house. They learned to walk here. I became a Christian at a church just down the street. This room represented the journey I had to take to remodel a 'dying to myself' space. This room represented me. It was a long process and an expensive one. It cost me everything. I lost friends and family. My children grew up during this excruciating refining process.

Renovating this room seemed to take forever. The project was often delayed. The room was sometimes neglected while emergencies called me away. Still, the journey of the room, really all of it, was worth it. When the room was finally completed, my husband came to view it. He was amazed by the changes. My family and friends then came and were all so excited by the remarkable transformation. While it was my best work in remodeling, I knew without a doubt that all of it was really God's work.

Sub-Dream 1 over.

Sub-Dream 2 "Angel Air Flight 91" begins...

I was flying over several areas I once knew. They were places I had lived or went to school. These areas had all been built up. The prices had become so expensive that no one could afford to live there anymore. There was an odd mixture of homeless people and vacant beautiful homes. I went over to one of the flight attendants...

Me: "Excuse me, but why are we flying so low. Since we are going over a city, isn't flying this low over them usually not allowed?"

Flight attendant: "We are doing this just for you. We did this so you could see what was happening at the ground level."

Me: "I would rather see above it all. I love the Heavens. I love the clouds and the mountains. It is painful to see what this has now become."

Flight attendant: "I know it is. Now, we know you are from a distant land. Do you not want to know what you are up against before we land?"

Me: "There is nothing new here. None of this is surprising. I am here to work for God as He calls me. While I know the view is better up above, I was fully prepared in advance for landing here."

Flight attendant: "Well then, I am glad God has prepared you. I now need you to buckle up as we will be landing in just a few minutes. Your scheduled arrival is 11:11."

Me: "I thought we were landing at 1:11? Are we arriving two hours too early?"

Flight attendant: "No, you are arriving right on time. While you are arriving earlier than expected, you are still right on time."

Once I heard the sound of the landing gear opening, I sat down and buckled my seatbelt. I could tell we were descending to a lower elevation.

Pilot: "Thank you for flying with us today on Flight 91. It was our pleasure to serve you and we hope to have you fly with us again."

The plane landing was perfect. As I walked down the aisle between the seats to the cockpit of the plane, there were three attendants and two pilots there to greet me. They all had such warm smiles on their faces.

Pilot: "We will be here waiting for you and your guests to return."

Me: "What? Why? For who?"

Flight attendant: "For all those you will be bringing back with you. We are here on standby."

Me: "Oh, this is part of my assignment. I am glad you are all so confident. This is a lot of seats to fill."

When I turned to look behind me to see the size of the plane, it suddenly became twice the size it had originally been. When I turned back to speak with the crew, they had doubled in numbers. I shook my head in surprise.

Me: "Wow, this is a tall order for just one person."

Pilot: "This is just one plane. There are many more planes waiting elsewhere. You will also have help on the ground."

It suddenly hit me that this flight crew were all angels! The pilots, the flight attendants, the gate workers and the all of the other workers were all God's angels. All of this was being directed by our all-mighty Jesus. Tears began to flow down my cheeks.

Pilot: "God is with you, Erin. You've got this."

The entire crew, both in the plane and on the ground, let out a mighty cheer towards me. I was overwhelmed.

Pilot: "We are with you too."

I was in awe at the amazing power of God. As I walked out, I could see more angels than I could possibly count. Each angel knew each one of our names. Each of these many angels were busy with various jobs as commanded from God. There were...

- Transportation angels
- Communication angels
- Directional navigation angels (air traffic control)
- Gatekeeper angels
- Hospitality angels
- Advancing angels
- Guarding and protecting angels
- Scheduling angels (based off of God's Clock and Calendar)
- Provisional angels
- Governing angels
- Pilot angels
- Management angels (based in the realm of principalities)

All of this overwhelmed me as it once again reminded me of just how complex and intricate our all-powerful God is! He easily arranges for all that He has prophesied to happen to happen exactly as prophesied. He will do all it takes to advance Heaven's Agenda concerning God's children. He will not stop in the pursuit of the lost. He loves us with such a great love that we cannot possibly understand just how great His love is.

Sub-Dream 2 over.

Me: "Thank You, Father, for these amazing dreams. These are like hidden jewels buried in the field. It is just so amazing to discover the wealth of treasures and the mysteries You have hidden within each of them."

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "Erin, I am with you. I am in you. I love you. I am proud of your ability to allow Me to change you from within. Now, there is much to do."

Me: "Oh no, Lord. Do I need even more refining?"

Jesus: "No. I have already told you that your vessel is ready. I have found you worthy of holding Living Water. You are capable of containing that which I will pour into you. You will then go out and pour this Living Water as I direct you to, understand?"

Me: "I think so, Lord. You have been preparing me for something and I pray this begins soon. You have kept us and sustained us for Your use. I pray You find us good, ready and willing to be used by You."

Jesus: "Then rejoice, Erin, as you are now waiting on Me for all things. I will soon sound the trumpet. The bells will ring throughout the lands that the Lord has come to pour out Living Water over all who are thirsty."

"Rejoice."

Dream over.

Communion

Thank You for another day! Thank You for keeping us safe during all of these storms. Thank You for all of Your love and provision. Father, I am grateful for You in all things. Through my dreams last night and a search for an old journal this morning, You took me on a journey. Each day is really a miracle as You teach me and lead me where You want me to go.

I had been praying for a 5-year-old named Rayan Agoram. Rayan had fallen into a drywell in the mountains of Morocco. He had fallen 105 feet down a drilling hole only 18" wide. Despite the frantic efforts of the rescuers, the little boy had passed away. I was so sad for the parents and the workers. They had such hopes that this little one would live. It was hard to watch his lifeless body with a blanket over him.

The area that the drilling for wells had been occurring was mountainous and rocky. I learned there were many holes drilled to find springs of water, wherein many were hoped to be used to irrigate cannabis crops. When a well is drilled and no water is found, it is abandoned. While they are supposed to cap any unused or spent well, they obviously didn't cap the one the boy fell into.

The Lord always told me there is something in a name when the Lord is giving us signs, events and wonders for the world. I then felt led to look up what the name 'Rayan' means. It is an Arabic name with several meanings, including 'watered', 'wise' and 'gates of Heaven'. There was no coincidence here. I believe the Lord sent angels to Rayan to comfort him and keep him.

He was then allowed to fall asleep and go up to Heaven. One thing is certain... Jesus loves Rayan. I bet he is playing in the Baby Animal Garden right now. He is probably petitioning for his parents to come there some day to meet him. Lord, I pray that You will gather the lost as only You can. You answered Rayan's prayers. He had been asked to be lifted up and You did all You promised. Now we are asking for even more, Lord, but only according to Your divine and perfect Will.

You then took me back to a block of time. You seem to keep bringing me back to the 2010 to 2011 time period. It was a brutal block of time that now comes with PTSD. Two days ago, my sons were talking about different things they endured when they were small and apart from me. I still get surprised when I hear these things and then see them somehow joking around about it. Their resilience is shocking at times.

Father, You showed me how You answered my prayers in 2010. Behind the scenes, You were building a home for us where I could raise my children in peace. You broke ground in 2010 and prepared the field. You poured the foundation in 2011. The building of our home was finally finished September 20, 2012, almost two years before we arrived here from the desert.

During this same time, I was focused on proving my case in court to bring my sons back. Even though I was given sole legal custody of my children due to the evidence, I still had to go through a process to prove my worth under another jurisdiction, state, county and judge. This made me think that God didn't care about my situation even though He gave me promises of victory in His Words.

He often gave me these Words through a variety of methods. Friends had dreams of me, a Bible dropped open with illuminated Scriptures and strangers even confirmed dreams where I was given precise Scriptures. Still, the enemy was wise and had now mostly isolated me. I had no one to really talk to at this point. No one was helpful. Since my sons were difficult, many thought I should just give them up.

Well, NO, I just wouldn't do this. It absolutely did not feel as if God wanted me to do this. While I thought I fought alone, I now apologize to You, Father, as I now know that You were there with me the entire time. The month of September 2011 was brutal. I did everything in my own power with deadlines right before trial. I then had to surrender it all to You as there was nothing more that I could personally do.

As I looked over one of my journal entries on September 13, 2011, I specifically asked for the Lord to wipe me off the face of the Earth. I told Him I was tired and no one was helping. I cried so much. I told Jesus I loved Him, but that I felt He left me too. The very next day, on September 14, 2011, my employer agreed to advance my salary for four paychecks. This meant I would have little ability to pay bills for two months.

Still, it bought me enough time to sell off items to pay the bills. My mom did not want to help at all and we had a falling out. Just to show her I wasn't after her money, just her help, I told her to remove me from her will.

Well, she took this to heart and I received nothing upon her passing on September 23, 2015. I was not bitter in my journal entry of September 14, 2011. I asked for her to be saved and to be at peace in Heaven.

By this date, I had been deserted by everyone I knew. Even those who I did so much for with nothing in return deserted me. In my entire life, I had never asked anyone for money. One time, a friend asked if she could help us with a loan. I later paid it back in full, complete with interest, exactly as promised.

At this point, my status had gone from highly esteemed to now poor. There was no one there to say they were praying for me. I instead received condemnation after condemnation. I received condemnation for my mistakes. My poor negotiating in 2007 had caused so much future trouble and I was paying the price. I then found another entry with a prayer to God after a particularly bad day...

"Dear Lord, thank You that I can come to You everyday for comfort. You see my writing and know the magnitude of my distress. You have seen my punishment. I pray that there is no more as I am tired. You are My Great Mystery, Oh Lord. You are within me. I love You!"

Things then became even worse for a few more days. I stood strong on God's promises even though almost everyone around me chimed in suddenly to not fight anymore. They wanted me to give my boys up to my ex-husband even though they had remained silent up to this point. As I felt strongly that this was an enemy attack, I remained standing against my greatest enemy. I then had an encouraging dream.

Sub-Dream 1 "My dream in the early hours of September 19, 2011"

In the dream, I flipped open my Bible to Isaiah 33:22. It read "For the Lord is our Judge, our Lawgiver and our King. He will care for us and save us."

Next in the dream, the Bible then fell open on the floor to Psalms 40. As I stared at it, I started to see paraphrases of what was written there...

- "I waited patiently for the Lord to help me and He turned and heard my cry."
- "Many will see what He has done and be amazed. They will put their trust in the Lord."
- "I take joy in doing Your Will, My God, for Your instructions are in my heart."

- "I will tell all of the people about Your Justice. I have not been afraid to speak out as You, Oh Lord, know well."
- "I will not keep the Good News of Your Justice hidden in my heart."
- "I will talk about Your faithfulness and saving power."
- "I will tell everyone of Your unfading love and faithfulness."

Sub-Dream 1 over.

I woke up astonished and wondered if this was real. I went to my Bible and confirmed what I had been told. After thanking God for His confirmation, He gave me several Scriptures. It was still early in the morning...

- Psalm 40:17: "As for me, since I am poor and needy, let the Lord keep me in His thoughts. You are my Helper and Savior. Oh my God, do not delay."
- Proverbs 3:5: "Trust in the Lord with all your heart. Do not depend on your own understanding. Seek His Will in all you do and He will show you which path to take."
- Matthew 14:27: "Don't be afraid. Take courage. I am here."
- Romans 3:4: "You will be proved right by what you say. You will win your case in court."
- Isaiah 49:25: "For I will fight those who fight you and I will save your children."

This was all I needed as confirmation. I then discovered I had received money. I received enough to live for two months, pay my accounts in arrears and fight for my children. By the end of September, a decree and petition was made, signed and notarized to legally return my children back to me.

The children and I celebrated with a road trip to Bend OR. We had so much fun. It had been the first vacation I had since 2004. We went to all of our old homes we once lived and said goodbye after we remembered the happy times. We then went to all the parks we loved to go to. We took Zoey and she was so happy to be back there too. We stayed at a hotel with a pool and the kids were thrilled.

We went for ice cream and a movie. We went to the High Desert Museum. When we left, we cried. We all felt that we would live there again one day. We prayed for a home there like our 'heaven home' on Craftsman Drive or like the home in High Lakes by Compass Park. We all prayed and believed as we started the journey back to the Tri-Cities WA.

Still, Father, it would not be until June 2014 that my older son would fully come back. He had been promised a private school with his friends as promised by his dad. Unfortunately, this didn't happen as his dad's promises were reneged on. In June 2014, we began the process of moving out East. This would be an impossible feat and would require a magnificent miracle of epic proportions.

Well, Father, You are the God of Magnificent Miracles! I had lost so much... my status, my wealth, my friends, my family and my church. I lost everything and I did nothing to deserve my punishment from the world. I was not a lawbreaker. I loved Jesus. I didn't party, take drugs or neglect my children. All I did 'wrong' was that I stood against a very powerful and wealthy abuser, an abuser whose lies were believed by many. Even with proof and evidence, many went to be on his side. Well, money talks... LOUDLY.

Me: "Well, Lord, You proved all of them wrong. You proved my case right in court. While I lost most of those closest to me, I gained You, Father, and my children back to me. In my heart, I am now a wealthy woman. I am rich as I have my kids again and my heart is mended. I am so thankful, Lord. However, why did You bring this to the forefront again? You always have a reason for all You do."

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "Erin, I had you remember all of this so that you remember that I was and am and will always be with you. I never abandoned you. Even though those closest to you told you to give up at the end, you instead stayed your course based on the promises I gave you. I know none of this was easy. Many told you that your troubles came because of a hidden sin. You were upright in your dealings.

"One time, when you were in a rush, you borrowed three postage stamps from your work for personal use. The next morning, you went to the owner to say you were sorry and gave him the money for the stamps. You then asked Me for forgiveness and you were forgiven. You stayed the path and did not waver from My promises. Had you, in a moment of desperation, done something apart from Me, you would have never known that I was building a home for you and that I was also sending a helpmate."

Me: "Would You have taken this away?"

Jesus: "Had you gone away from Me and decided to lead unto your own standing, two things would have happened. First, your road would have been a different one. Second, your dreams would have been given to another. Now, your current home was completed just prior to My granting you even more. I granted you the dreams. I granted you a relationship with Me that the majority of the world would call impossible."

Me: "Was it possible for me to miss all that was on the table? Was there a person lined up as a 'Plan B'? What a horrible thought!"

Jesus: "Oh Erin, you delight Me. No, I had chosen you from the beginning. No one takes the plans of God and redesigns them or throws them away. It is not an easy concept to explain. However, understand this...I am not constrained by space or time. This means that I can shape events at conception to will them for My purposes. All that you endured you were set free from. My recompense was with Me.

"No one stripped you from My hand. All those who contended with you also contended with Me. I am the Just Judge and the enemy did not and has not prevailed. Erin, he will not prevail against you at any time. All these things came as a result of petitions against you as allowed by God for your good. Through these refining fires, you became more and more surrendered in faith to My Will.

"While it has been a rough path, something is coming that you would not believe even if I told you. Since the path to here was and is not an easy one, not everyone makes it here. I gave you all of this so that you could see the thousands of items that needed to be prepared to lead you right to where you are now. Erin, this will not be fully completed until you are finally Home here in Heaven.

"For now, this is evidence that My promises for the ones I love are true. I will do all that I have promised. Had your children been raised in a wicked house, none of them would look to Me. They would be bitter and living lives of sin apart from Me. Your name would be a curse on their lips. All of this is a great blessing.

"Now, these letters (these dreams) will one day encourage people who have great questions, such as why would anyone love Me let alone follow Me. This is because many have been taught great lies. This continues with great effectiveness. This means there will be some who will remain hating Me and hating all things Heaven."

Jesus: "Well, it is true. However, before this comes a great miracle. I will do all that I have promised. Heaven will be visible in My people. My people will have abilities even greater than the sons of Jacob. I have promised to fulfill the Words of the prophets and I will. Evil will be far from you. Erin, I will restore all you lost here and in Heaven. It will be the same for your family and friends. I will repay you for the years the locusts stripped your tender shoots.

"I will expose what the enemy did and display it like a banner for all to see. I will vindicate you and return you and your children to the land I promised you years ago. Even more than this, your (repentant) enemies will gladly give you what is owed to you and you will bless them in return. I know this is difficult to understand, but reconciliation is part of the Great Harvest. All is redeemed, all is changed and healed. Even so, your (unrepentant) enemies will be far from you."

Me: "I must admit that I don't understand a lot of this. It is just so hard to imagine. Is there time for all of this? Regardless, I am just so incredibly excited for all of this to begin. Thank You, Lord, for what You are about to do for our family and our friends on the Nest with us."

Jesus: "First, let us talk about time. Time is God's. I control time. Now, rejoice, as I have a Great Plan. I will grant what you have prayed for. My promises are true... all of My promises. Rejoice, Erin, as I have not forgotten. This is good!"

Dream over.

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day! Thank You for Your love and kindness. Thank You for protecting our home from outages. It is very cold here. Please continue to watch over us on the roadways around here as people driving on these roads probably shouldn't be. Protect my son as he drives for work late tonight. Help him also to find new employment as he is quite discouraged.

Lord, please grant us change. We are so excited. We are looking forward to all You are doing and all You are about to do. The world has never seen the awesome power of God in this age. Lord, Your people are crying out.

Father, I have questions that are gnawing at me. You keep taking me back to the years 2003, 2004, 2010 and 2011. I am not sure why. You don't usually have me going back over old bridges unless there is a reason. I wrote down the highlights of 2003. When I wrote these down as bullet points, I was amazed at how much You took us through. The same can be said about the years 2010 and 2011. These years were so brutal.

At the start of my journals, I would make a note to my children in the event I had gone Home to Heaven. I wanted them to have information if anything was missing or there were questions. I had reasons to believe that, if I had passed away, my children would not know the truth of what had happened. I wrote the following in my journal on January 9, 2011 for my children...

"For my children... 2010 was the most painful year of my life. I pray that this year of new hope, 2011, will be the year mom sees God grant our prayers for the last 7 years. I love you, mom"

Then there was my first entry in my journal on the very same date: "Dear Father, my sorrow has been so great. Please, Lord, may this year be our year that my children return to me. Please grant us financial miracles and take us to our new home where You would have us start our new lives together.

“Father, please grant us blessings, heal my sickness and repair all that has been broken. Bless my enemies who continue to destroy me. Turn them away and may Your justice reign. Please, Father, all of our hopes and dreams are in You.”

Well, 2011 was also a brutal year. Still, my children were returned in September, the ninth month. I truly did nothing wrong except I was a constant threat to my enemy. Just my existence on Earth made me a threat. I had isolated myself in the desert place for five years and I battled. God almighty kept me, held me and called me there. In the deepest darkest place of my afflictions, God was there.

God gave me dreams there and He spoke tenderly to me. However, before that, He showed me His strength. So many things happened to me during the years. So many of the years were brutal. I have spoken often about this cruelty in these dreams. While I have journaled many entries here in these journals and now on the one I am writing on now, I now see just how great His plans for me have been.

Me: “So, Lord, why is all of this brought back up? The children are grown now. My daughter is now 20. Have I missed something? You have done all You promised and so much more. I am thankful every day for one more day.”

Jesus: “Erin, come up!”

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: “Erin, I am with you now in all matters. I carried you from battle to battle and from strength to strength. I want you to understand what I am about to do here based on all I have already done. See, I do not forget the suffering of My children. Things done in secret have lasting effects.

“I know that it is painful to relive these events. However, I wanted you to know that all those who professed to be Mine really spoke to you in ignorance. Had they known at the time that you were a measure made from My own hands for My purposes, I don’t expect that they would have exposed the evil that lay hidden in their hearts.

“I do not take kindly to anyone who lays a finger against a child for evil purposes and evil gain. I do not prosper them. Although the innocent wonder where is God, where is My Father, where is our Judge who loves justice and hates inequity... well, I do see, I do know and I do remember.

"I have not forgotten what was done to you and your children. I took you far from the wicked to a safe place where you could enjoy peace. However, I do not forget what occurred. I bring this to your attention now because all that I promised you will come to pass. All of it! You prayed for your enemies while they prayed for your death.

"While they claimed to be children of God, they still prayed for your death. Will I prosper those who do such a thing? No, they will not be prospered. Anything they thought they won was short lived. Erin, all of this will soon come back to haunt them. I will now pour Living Water into My Vessels. Now, what is Living Water?"

Me: "Life giving, healing and like nothing here on Earth."

Jesus: "Yes, all who drink of it are healed. However, to the wicked, this is like acid poured out. Why? Because all which is evil cannot be as one with the Spirit of God, My Living Pure Water will be like My burning wrath to those who do not repent. I am angry! Do those who do what is wicked in secret to the innocent not think I am able to see it? Well, Erin, God sees all! I see everything.

"Erin, I showed you all of this because you must know that I don't just come to harvest those who are weary, those who call for help and those who look for Me. I also come as a Pillar of Judgment against the wicked. Not only did I save you from the fowler's snare, I saved you from death. My Holy Spirit in you was fully aware of the wicked poison coming into your body. However, now I am in you and we are as one.

"If I continue to point out something from your past, then it is because, to the Kingdom of Heaven, in the Courts of God, you went from being a child of God to becoming a warrior chosen of God for His purposes. Storm after storm came to you and your children. You cried and cried. You asked why so many times. I remained silent until I then gave you more. Even though you have come through the furnace of affliction, your heart is still on Me.

"Now, I have fulfilled some of My promises to you, but not all of them. I will now fulfill all of them, understand? Even though it seems as though the wicked prosper and the children of God are poor in spirit, this will now change. I have never forgotten your brokenness and I will now heal you of it all. More so, you will astonish those who knew you and expected you to remain as you are now... sickly.

"Well, Erin, this day has now come. All which you were stripped of, all which was stolen from you and your children, all of this will now come back in blessings multiplied to you. All that was broken will be restored and even better than before. What happened to you and your children many years ago, the poison hidden by someone you all loved and trusted, will be completely reversed.

"Today, and throughout the nations, the same event has happened... hidden poisons were released to make the nations sick. However, God, who is over all things, will pour out His Living Water through His Vessels. These Vessels are purer than Temple Vessels. These Vessels were found worthy by My hands and for My purposes.

"Now watch as I deliver what I have promised to all those I have called and will call. To those who have blessed and been a blessing to My measures, I will multiply a thousand-fold more of blessings to each of them in return. You, your family and your friends will all be a great blessing to so many. I know the heart of a man and I am here to harvest the hearts of those whose hopes are in Me.

"When you display awesome deeds, some will say 'God would never do this... these must be aliens or demons.' Well, to those I say 'Flee and see what comes next as you will now live in great fear.' Unless they turn and repent, they will be in continuous fear as I work with those I have called for a time and times.

"To all of those who will then say 'And where is this written in the Bible?', I tell you the truth... even though I have written about this, man then chooses not to pray for this truth to be revealed to them. My Words on a page mean nothing to them because their hearts are as stone.

"However, to those who believe that I can do a new thing, they will see the full measure of My wonder and glory. I carry My Recompense for My children with Me. No scheme of hell nor plans of men will come against My Will.

"Now, Erin, you understand why I allowed all of this. I know it was difficult, but I never forgot you. Never once did I forget you. Now is the time I will expose all that was hidden in those who did so much harm against you and your children. Their numbers are many...

- Those who were bitter towards you.
- Those who testified falsely against you.
- Those who, what you call, gaslighted you.
- Those who stole from you.
- Those who lied to you.

- Those who turned away from you.
- Those who could have helped you in your times of greatest need, but didn't.
- Those who called you cursed names in secret.
- Those who secretly delighted in your downfallen state of being.
- Those who set out to harm you in their self-righteousness.
- Those who cursed you and your children.

"Well, Erin, now is the time. Now is the time I will expose all that was hidden. While some will quickly come to you and apologize, others will not. Pray, Erin."

Me: "Oh Lord, turn their hearts to You. Turn them and overcome them with goodness instead. Maybe they will then see it and do what is right."

Jesus: "Your prayers are good."

Me: "Lord, they truly know not what they are doing. Lord, please have mercy on them."

Jesus: "Surrender all of them to Me and I will sort this out. Trust Me to do what must be done, okay?"

Me: "Yes, Lord. I must admit that I am both excited and scared."

Jesus: "Do not be scared. I haven't forgotten you. You will be overjoyed. I am with you. I love you. Erin, My recompense from Heaven is with Me. I bring it to you here. Rejoice!"

Dream over.

573 – God is our Restorer

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day! Thank You for priceless love along a sometimes lonely road of life. It is not that I am alone physically. My family and friends are always nearby. After so many years of being alone, it is something else to experience the Voice of God. It literally parts us and sets us apart. It is lonely, not because I can't dialog with the Lord as I am able to, but rather it is because I am in between two states of being.

The Lord has been separating me more. He wants me to be quieter in my thoughts, to listen more and to talk less. I need to sleep when I am sleepy. I am to rest when my body is telling me to. He has taught me how to breathe fresh air. He has taught me to take a deep breath, even when I cough.

Somewhere along the road, I stopped breathing deeply. I also stopped singing as worship was cancelled at church. I have been praying more and complaining less. I think about God all the time now. I am asking Him a lot of questions that don't get answered, at least for now.

My path to the bird feeding area was very icy this morning. This last snowfall was extremely heavy, thick and wet. However, the blue snow is back. After I put seed out, I noticed several deer rise from laying in the snow up the hill across from our home. This usually means that the seeds and nuts I lay out will all be gone in minutes.

Well, at least a little red squirrel is confident enough in my presence as to allow me to feed him out of my hand. He then leaves for a few seconds and then returns for some more nuts. I spread seeds and nuts all over for them to eat. While the little red squirrels are not the brightest little animals, they are super cute.

I went inside and turned on a few lights. I then noticed through the windows that a massive ice shelf almost 18" thick is about to fall off of our roof and onto our prettiest little tree. Without a miracle from God, this ice shelf is about to fall on this tree and annihilate it.

The tree next to it has lost several branches from this shelf of ice as well. I prayed to the Lord to let the shelf drop next to it and not onto the tree. Well, talk about a quick answer to prayers. After about twenty minutes, I heard a loud rumble. The ice shelf fell and somehow completely missed the tree. Thank You, Jesus.

Last night while preparing for bed, I noticed a lump under my left arm. I phone my doctor today and they are going to look at it next week on Wednesday, February 16, 2022. This is discouraging. I have so many health issues that it just feels hopeless. It seems that there is always a long-term side effect of earthly battles, traumas and difficulties. It effects our body's ability to fight them off.

Battles always produce wounds of some sort. The wounds then produce scars. Sometimes scars can't be seen as they can even be under the surface. My journals contain record after record of scars...physical, mental and spiritual. I continue to pray for healing. I know it is coming, but the constant waiting is the difficult part.

The stress of all of it can manifest over time. I had hoped by now that God would have reached down into the thick of the things I had become and pulled me out of all of the mud and mire. I can't even comprehend that He is bringing our recompense. He is our unconventional God and He can do whatever He chooses for His Glory.

Me: "Oh Lord, so many things are coming against us who love You with all of our souls. We just love You so much. We can hardly wait to be called into service as part of Your amazing Holy Army. Oh Father, please consider all of us as being worthy of being called. While the waiting has been long, I just know You will make it all worth it. We can hardly wait!"

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "Oh Erin, you are here with Me. I count this as Great Gain. In order to gain the Kingdom of Heaven, you must lose yourself in this life. To find Me here is to gain all things I have prepared for you there. I have built a house for you here and in Heaven. Great is your reward, Erin. Your battles have produced great victories. My story is reflected on the table of your heart. My victory is in you. My story is told through you.

"My love is reflected as Living Water flowing and pouring out over these pages. This a great story of love. I love you, Erin. You are My treasure, a jewel in My Crown and a warrior in the battles here. I know you are discouraged as wave after wave of bad news continues to crash upon your shore. You are numb. I feel your heart breaking. However, please remember My promises to you.

"I have promised good all of the days of your life. I promised to deliver you from your oppressors and restore all that had been stolen from you. I promised to heal your brokenness and restore you here as you are in Heaven. I also promised to provide for you and your family in a way that no one can take it from you. I promised you would dance as you did in your youth and have great peace.

"I professed My love for you in the small matters, as well as the large ones. I have never forgotten one thing. Your recompense I bring with Me. As you are a blessing to others, so too will I bless all who bless you. I will not stop doing this. I was with you while you were stripped away of all things. The locusts destroyed all you had come to know. You then returned to Me with your whole heart.

"You fasted, wept and mourned. Your heart was laid bare. You sought Me on your knees in all matters because you thought 'perhaps the Lord will have mercy and leave a blessing behind for me'. You believed. Erin, you believed!

"I am about to pour out My Spirit fully into My Vessels that I have prepared for My purposes. However, I have prepared even greater things. This will be like the day of Pentecost, but multiplied. You will delight greatly in the works of the Lord.

"You have sounded the trumpets. The way was prepared for you by Me. Now, do not worry, Erin, as I have you. I love you. We are together as one. Nothing will come against you. All of My promises will come to pass. Rejoice, Erin!"

Dream over.

574 – After the Great Harvest (the Rapture)

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day! Thank You for Your love. Father, my heart grieves today. If not for Your promises, the world would surely be lost. I struggle as I read horrible things that people write about the good and such praises the wicked give about evil. It makes my heart sick that they do not see they are bearing false witness. They are lying to deceive others in favor of furthering a wicked agenda.

Many people are hurt who speak out against oppression. The evil governments cancel their abilities to make a living for their families. They have mortgage notes called in by their banks that they cannot afford to pay. Employers are forced to let them go and even their assets are frozen or seized. Their reputations are being destroyed. When evil controls all resources, what comes next? I had a horrible dream last night...

Sub-Dream 1 "Horrible Events to Come" begins...

I saw a beautiful city. People were enjoying a beautiful sunny day. Families were outside enjoying the beauty and peace. There was no threat here to anyone. There was no evil. The people had enjoyment and were smiling and happy. It was spring to summer as there were blossoming trees. Then without warning, I heard a sound that was followed by silence.

Then something like a film off of hot pavement, the scene had been frozen, suspended in a moment of time. Even a wedding had been interrupted and suspended. I saw bodies melting. The entire area was wiped off the face of the Earth in seconds. Above the cloud cover over the area, I saw thousands of angels from Heaven gathering the souls of those God was collecting.

Then what had been beautiful, lovely and full of joy was now gone. Streets of pavement was black liquid. The heat coming from the area ignited buildings and structures. It even ignited trees miles away. Everything was black. I then heard the Voice of God from Heaven call out. Angels were sent to administer a plague to a distant city void of God. This plague melted bodies as they stood. However, death did not come quickly. People cursed God.

The Voice of God addressing His Angel Army: "Because they do not humble themselves and turn to Me, I will not hear them. I will now send even more calamity."

I then heard loud shofars. The shofars were so loud that it shook the land with a great quake. Even though many could no longer hear due to how loud it was, they still did not humble themselves.

The Voice of God: "Collect all living creatures, the animals and the birds of the air. All fish are to retreat to the depths of the sea."

In an instant, all creatures of the land and air had been taken by God. All fish of the rivers, lakes and oceans and all creatures of the sea were called to retreat. Angels then placed staffs into the waters and the waters became undrinkable. Even so, the people still did not humble themselves.

The dry ground was then split open all over the Earth. From these splits, horrible creatures came out of the pit below to inflict and punish the proud. While those still on the Earth would have now welcomed death, they could not find it. They hungered and thirsted. There was now no relief for the wicked.

I then saw a group marked of God as a beacon of light in the darkness. These were preserved by God and unable to be inflicted. They were witnesses to the lost that God saves, shelters, protects, feeds and gives water to those who thirst from the Storehouses in Heaven. God continuously strengthened His people. He sent them food and water from fresh springs. They laid down in lush meadows.

The Voice of the Lord: "I sent many warnings over the years, but they refused to listen. They did not turn back to Me. It will now come down to the Valley of Decision."

Sub-Dream 1 over...

I woke up with a distant city on my heart... Dresden, Germany. I am not sure why. I went to look this up and discovered that today marked the anniversary of the fire bombings of Dresden that began on February 13, 1945. Thousands of civilians were killed by allied forces. Since this didn't seem entirely necessary for the winning of the war, it seemed more like retribution against the German people.

Flash forward to today. I was in shock to learn that an estimated 360 million Christians worldwide have been persecuted. If the news does not report on this, how can we know? Is there no justice against the wicked here in the corrupt courts? The USA is the new Israel. Israel is actually the new Judah. Please defend these countries. These countries have been dedicated to You.

Me: "Oh Father, please defend the righteous. There are so many that love You. More lies are spread to confuse the truth. Father, please stop this. It makes my heart sick. You are God. There is nothing more powerful than You. Father, please protect us."

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "I am here, Erin, and I am with you. I understand your concerns. I have heard your cries. The wicked does not prevail against the righteous. My favor will be removed when I gather the children of God Home. I will bring them to the place I have prepared for them. They will live in great joy, laughter, celebration and peace. No evil will be present. My recompense and promise are fulfilled in Heaven."

Me: "Lord, then why do I spend so much time in the land here after You gather the Saints (in the Rapture)? Did I not make it Home (via the Rapture)?"

Jesus: "Oh Erin, you reside in Heaven. Your Home is with Me. You are asking Me about your dreams in the land of tribulation after the Great Harvest (the Rapture). Think of a field... what happens after that field is harvested?"

Me: "The farmer prepares it for winter?"

Jesus: "The rubble and stalks which remain are often burned by fire. The field is then stirred up. All that remains under the dirt and soil is brought to the surface and exposed. This will be the same. The wheat will not be replanted again until the Earth has been burned up and reformed by God, understand?"

Me: "After the Great Harvest, it is so dark and scary."

Jesus: "Yes. This is because the Light, the Holy Spirit, is gone. Only My remnant will remain."

Me: "Do You mean the Tribulation Saints?"

Jesus: "No, these are different. Remember when I taught you about the late grape. The grapes of these vineyards endure the harshest conditions, yet produce the sweetest wine."

Me: "I remember."

Jesus: "Do they just grow randomly with no vineyard workers to keep an eye on their progress and report this to the vineyard owner?"

Me: "No, of course not."

Jesus: "These workers do not experience freezing temperatures as they are kept safe while working. They go back and forth to work from their Home in a beautiful estate of the Vineyard Owner. They enjoy music, good food and rest there while they continue to watch over these volatile growing conditions.

"Much of these vines will endure the harshest conditions in darkness as this is the coldest time. They appear as lights and illuminated as marked by the Vineyard Owner so anything lurking to destroy them will be scattered. Erin, who do I choose to bring in this Harvest, the Sweetest Harvest?"

Me: "Your Workers?"

Jesus: "Yes. I will use those who are equipped with the experience to understand what these grapes are having to endure, those who have gone through the fire of affliction themselves, those who have experience dealing with the world and, despite its lure, still chose Me.

"Erin, your compassion and understanding has made you able to bring in this late sweet harvest. You have spent time in your dreams enduring harsh conditions. You have spent time searching for those whose hearts are crying out to Me. You will not be alone as I have called others into this army."

Me: "Are we like Navy Seals?"

Jesus: "Hmm, interesting. Well, yes, you are like this, but even more so. You will have Me. You will display awesome deeds and nothing will come against you."

Me: "It seems that there are very few in the late harvest from my dreams. It looks like the wicked spend a lot of time lying about the absence of a billion people. There still seems to be some rich people enjoying their material spoils. There are a lot of tragic things. I see that drugs will become plentiful and will be used to numb the pain. They will then be convinced that the visible demons are merely hallucinations brought on by the drugs. There is no medical care, no clean water, no animals or birds and no Bibles."

Jesus: "This is 'as written'. Now, are you ready to enjoy the pre-game Great Harvest Show? Spoiler alert... the wicked flee to the hills and I come to harvest a wheatfield of healthy crops. Right now, there are mostly poor crops. There are broken hearts and great illnesses. My Workers will be healed and will then heal the lands. This will be a time and times like no other. Rejoice, Erin, rejoice. I answer prayers."

Me: "Thank You, Lord. I love You."

Jesus: "I love you."

Dream 575 – The River of Life vs the River of Death

Received on Wednesday, February 16, 2022

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day! Thank You for Your love. Thank You for the love of family and friends. Father, I am scared. Please do not wait too long. My husband was taken out of consideration for another job. How can we move if he doesn't have a position lined up? We can't. We can't even rent a home without steady income. It is impossible to operate in this world without this.

That being said, we trust in Your promises and we will continue to wait on You. I cling to the life raft of Your promises as we float on uncertain waters all around us. You have showed me the plans of the New World Order. I see all of it transpiring before our eyes. It is a global agenda. If You would have showed me this ten years ago, I would have thought 'wow, something like this would never happen as we would know it if it were true.'

However, and as You reminded me, what has been planted on a small scale in Germany in 1933 was actually the inception of a greater plan. The chosen people of God and their success in all matters angered those around them. Their religious practices also infuriated them. Hatred for the Jewish people has never stopped. The moment God called them His children, they were immediately the subject and focus of the evil in the land.

When God calls you His, you are marked. You are then despised and blamed for all of the world's problems. You are denied freedoms. You are treated unfairly in courts. However, you are also greatly feared. This is happening again today. After my dreams the last few days, I went to prayer. The Lord has been downloading His plans for God's people and they are awesome and exciting. He then gave me a dream...

Me: "Lord, why did You give me a dream of two rivers... the River of Life and a river that is the opposite of life. Perhaps You will discuss this with me?"

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "Remember that the enemy is emboldened right now. All of the plans of the enemy are the opposite of good. He uses tactics to lead you down a river tributary that is void of anything good. He gave you his playbook in 2008. This was a document outlining what he has planned for anyone opposed to him. In this, you will find the inception of anger toward his enemies and the buildup of his campaign of hatred. There are other documents as well, some new and some old."

Me: "Lord, please show me what to look for."

Jesus: "Remember that the enemy strikes against his enemies with accusations. These accusations are actually exactly what he has done, is doing or is about to do. These are hidden in plain sight."

Me: "Lord, what do I look for?"

Jesus: "If the enemy tells you something is a lie, there is probably truth there, understand? This has never changed. Erin, smoke and mirrors is a term often used. These are illusions meant to confuse reality."

Me: "Lord, if You look at the conspiracies supposedly debunked as stated by the main stream media from many years ago, these are now coming to pass. Turns out, these were not conspiracies. These are real and true, but now under the grand illusion that it is somehow for our own good."

Jesus: "Many look at the Jews and ask 'how can they be so easily led astray?' To those who say this, I reply 'it is really not that difficult to do, including with you.' It all starts with a planted seed that is allowed to take root. This can be both for good and evil. Awesome deeds can even take root in the desert... miracles, signs and wonders.

"Over the span of the 40 years in the desert traveling as nomads with no home, seeds of doubt took root as great destruction. The same seed was presented to Eve and she became confused. Instead of searching for answers from her Creator, God, her Father, she listened to the serpent. The serpent planted the seeds of doubt and it took root in her spiritual separation."

Me: "This is all so disturbing."

Jesus: "There are many signs hidden in plain sight that point to the enemy."

Me: "Lord, why allow those You love to be so easily deceived? It seems the enemy is ever-present in all places even though You are the One who is actually omnipresent."

Jesus: "The enemy uses modern tools to make it seem like he is omnipresent. He is not. As for My presence in someone, I must receive an open door to Me when I knock. Most don't seek Me. Most Christians have two doors. One door is usually closed and only opened when there is a need. The other door is open all the time for the enemy. The enemy then enters by various means, coming and going all day long.

"How many of My people claim that the internet can be used for good or evil? While now a necessity for day-to-day living, this is a tool for the enemy to accumulate information on someone. It is better to pray and consult God over all things as I can allow you to uncover and unlock the information you seek in a way that the enemy is unable to control."

Me: "How?"

Jesus: "Just as I instructed you. You pray and then I lead you to a place to read. You read some former conspiracies that are now found to be truth. To make an accusation look really outlandish, the enemy will sometimes sprinkle in a ridiculous lie in order to frame it all together as 'crazy'. You see this from 14 years ago (2008) now coming true. In the meantime, what continues to happen to advance evil?"

Me: "So much, Lord. This is now too numerous to count. Truth is just a suggestion now and not welcomed. While truth is now optional, if not forbidden, hatred and evil is now mainstream. It is horrible and prevalent everywhere."

Jesus: "Information is power. Truth is the greatest power. I am truth. This is why I am hated. Anyone who now stands for truth is also hated."

Me: "Help us, Lord, for we have so little power now."

Jesus: "This is not true, Erin, for I am with you and I am in you. No weapons formed against you shall prosper. Now, remember that I am God over all things. As the enemy is now in a hurry, he makes glaring mistakes. How interesting would a magician be if all his tricks were uncovered? He would lose his ability to excite his audience. This is happening all around you now. Now, tell Me about your dream."

Me: "Here it goes."

Sub-Dream 1 "The Opposing Two Rivers" begins...

I saw two rivers. The river to the right was beautiful. All things around it were living, fruitful and abundant. The water of the river was crystal clear and lifegiving. The water was pure and refreshing and no death was near it.

The river to the left was disarming at first. By appearances, it looked good. While many people drank from this river, they then became sick over time. Some became drunk from this water. They didn't realize how far they had drifted downstream. As the river flowed, the water became murkier. Nothing around it had life. At the center of the river was a type of dam.

This dam channeled tributaries in five different directions. The river itself was black and like swamp water. It was disgusting, smelling like rotting flesh. Many were bathing in this putrid water. Others were drinking from it. The five tributaries flowed to several areas. Everywhere the tributaries went became filled with death. It was awful.

Sub-Dream 1 over...

Jesus: "What I offer is life everlasting apart from the river of death. My Words are lifegiving. One river feeds many rivers. My tributaries are also lifegiving. Life is given by the one truth, truth itself. In contrast, the world is drinking and even drunk from that which the enemy is flowing.

"The enemy's river is dark and murky. His river flows with false testimonies, false teachings, false news and false history. All that was once called evil and bad is now called good. All that was once called good is now called evil and bad. The flow of evil is swift and many are being caught up in it."

Me: "Oh Lord, please stop them. The people of the world have been deceived. There is a lack of transparency. There is so much corruption. They have been lied to by those they had trusted."

Jesus: "It was written that these events would occur."

Me: "Lord, Your people could lose everything if the evil continues to grow in power."

Jesus: "Erin, stay strong. Do not worry. I have not left you. I am here. The land is Mine. The banks are Mine. The money is Mine. I have created you. I will not let you fall. While the enemy of My people can plot and plan, I am God over all things and I am in complete control. The enemy has very lofty plans. The leader of the north has begun his campaign. I will not allow him to succeed. Can you trust Me?"

Me: "Yes, Lord. Since You are with us, we will be okay."

Jesus: "I have revealed many things to you. I would not reveal this without having a great plan to transform and strengthen you. As you are today, you would not endure it. I show you the plans of the wicked so that you understand why so many will cry out for a Savior. The crop for harvesting must be ripe for the Harvester, understand? If it is not ready, the harvest is poor."

"Hearts are becoming ready. The river to the left controls most information and cannot be easily seen. If you have questions, pray to Me and I will reveal that which is hidden. Truth will set you free. I am revealing truth. I am shedding light on the evil done by the wicked. Do not worry. Be strong and take courage. I love you and I am with you."

576 – The Rampaging Boar to the North

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day! Thank You for all You have done. Thank You for my husband, our children, my family and my Nest friends. We are so very blessed. Thank You for saving our home during this last storm. Our driveway is a bit washed out, as is our road, but we are still able to get in and out.

The neighbor that bought the house below us in 2021 is experiencing their first winter here. They were not as fortunate as us. Over five tons of mud and debris cascaded down into their driveway and garage. She is a neonatal nurse and must now park up the road. They were so disheartened. Winter 2022 has been brutal so far and there is no end in sight for us. Father, I need help with a disturbing dream I had last night:

Sub-Dream 1 “The Rampaging Boar” begins...

I saw a large pink boar. It had massive hooked horns/tusks. It was quite frightening. It was lurking near a home without a fence. A couple with two little children lived there. The boar watched them day and night to study their movements. When they were all sleeping at night, the boar would enter the yard to sniff around.

There was a beautiful apple tree there with the juiciest of apples. There was a swing from one of the branches. The family would laugh and sing while enjoying the swing. They picked apples from the tree. Even though they didn't have much materially, they loved each other and their home.

One night, the boar went into the yard as per usual. This time though, the boar smelled something and began to dig. It dug up black round looking mud balls that looked like hard dung. The boar ate the mud ball. He then went to the edge of the yard and called to the other boars.

A swarm of boars then came to dig up all of the mud balls. When the family finally noticed this, they sounded the alarm. The alarm rang loudly throughout the neighborhood. The boars scattered. The family went out to their yard to inspect the horrible damage the boars did to their beautiful yard. A neighbor came up to the family and lifted up one of the mud balls the boars were eating.

Neighbor: "It is hard to believe you have this black gold in Canada. Do you know how lucky you are to have this in your yard?"

Father: "What are you talking about?"

Neighbor: "These are truffles! You have truffles in your yard. Ounce for ounce, these truffles are worth even more than gold."

At that, the family began to harvest more truffles. They soon gathered and sold so many truffles that they could pay their debts and build up a sizable savings account. They celebrated and asked the Lord to bless this wonderful bounty that had been given to them. While the boars had left, one boar stayed behind in hiding and became quite angry at this turn of events for this family.

Boar: "I have been cultivating these truffles for over six years now. I have worked hard. I have watched over them. I have continually waited until the proper time. They are rightfully mine. They have stolen what should be mine. Because of this, I am now going to destroy them. Together, we will hurt them until they give us what is ours."

This 'master boar' then gathered hundreds of other boars to invade the neighborhood. They threatened all the neighbors that surrounded the family. The boars demanded that they forcibly return all of the truffles to the boars. While there was resistance at first, this started to decrease when they began to chase down children and pets.

The banks then froze the accounts of the family and anyone helping them. The boars then cut off the family's ability to get food or use their vehicles. Their home was then overrun and taken over by the 'boar army'. In fear, all the neighbors kept quite as the boars began to take over. Everything was sacrificed to the 'master boar' and his insatiable need for power.

Sub-Dream 1 over...

When I woke up, I realized that the boar was the leader of the country to the north of the USA. This dream was deeply disturbing. The north country has fallen to a dictator. He has shut down parliament. They are destroying the peaceful protestors' lives and livelihoods. Police on large horses trampled over an elderly disabled woman. Some say she later died, but it is hard to confirm this given the blacked-out media.

Me: "Lord, how can You stand by when mass numbers of people are being deceived? How can You stand by when those who recognize the evil of this regime are instantly crushed? I wish for this ruthless leader to be crushed instead. I can't help myself and I want to be completely honest with You. I am sorry for feeling this way."

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "Erin, I am here. I am in you. Did you not understand when I told you that God's calendar is the measure of time and events? Who owns the seasons and the years and all of the events surrounding these? You then ask Me 'why is this allowed by God?' and 'why does God standby?' Well, Erin, there is both a complex answer and a simple answer to these questions.

"From a complex view, remember the cauldron of water to be boiled. The citizens in the cauldron are the frogs. The stokers of the flames under the cauldron are the rulers and enemies. They stoke the flames to allow the temperature of the water to eventually rise to the boiling point. Before this though, there are warning signs. The climate changes.

"Steam rises from the surface and the water starts to bubble. The frogs see this and they become uncomfortable. The frogs are in shock as the water was cool when they were first placed into it. The frogs were not alarmed as the leaders used soothing words and smiled a lot. The frogs remained unalarmed until those over the process became impatient because the water was not boiling fast enough.

"The frogs then noticed a change in the faces of those who were trying to boil them alive. The frogs then have two choices. They can either be boiled alive or they can jump out. Now, a plan was put into place to accelerate the new government globally, understand? Remember that an enemy of an enemy can be an ally when necessary. The pandemic has allowed the government to seize control over the population.

"The people of the land to the north are kind and peaceful. They are considered to be the friends of the world and friends to the world. The new order's action plan was to start in this country and other countries easy to control and then branch out from there. All of this is then put into a neat package by the controlled media. By controlling what the people are seeing, they are then easily deceived."

Me: "This doesn't seem fair to me. Lord, how can the people be blamed when the enemy is so clever and deceptive?"

Jesus: "Those with discernment know the hands of the enemy. They also speak with Me and ask Me questions about them. You know the enemy by his fruit. Does he answer with lies to appease or does he tell the truth? He has given you his playbook, his manifesto. He has made his manifold presence to the world clear.

"Just look at all that he has done since he rose in power. He deceives by the same methods of the one operating in the dark to the south. They are revealed. Now, let us look at the simple reason for Me allowing all of this. Erin, it is about the harvest, not the actions of evil leaders."

Me: "Hmm, I am not sure I follow. Is the Lord allowing this in order to see which frogs stay in the cauldron and which frogs hop out? Regardless, we now need a miracle here. This seems so hopeless."

Jesus: "Calm down. As the leaders and the enemies have veiled and deceived the people, they too will be deceived by their own people. They will be proved right by their actions, understand? I have weighed and measure this leader (of the country to the north of the USA). It will not go well for him. Erin, he will fall."

Me: "There are so many disturbing things happening all over the world right now, as well as here. Oh Lord, what will happen next?"

Jesus: "I know that there are many who are far from Me. Many of those who are for Me are being held to the fire. Erin, just know that I am in the midst of them. You know them from their root. Study the history of Germany. What is planned now is the elimination of millions of people. They had hoped for a Great Reset. Well, I am about to reset the world instead. They will be unprepared for what I am about to do."

Me: "Lord, is there anything we can do to make this happen now, as in within days, instead of the unclear time period of 'soon'? 'Soon' has been a very long time coming and is a source of frustration for almost all of us here on the Nest. In addition, is there anything I need to be careful of? So much seems to be unsafe in the world right now."

Jesus: "Do not act on anything unless I instruct you. Their surveillance is widespread and all is corrupted. They scramble to protect and stand on their platforms because they see they risk toppling. All this occurs while the one corrupt leader remains behind the scenes and quiet. This man is the guiltiest. Remember that the enemy always states his plans and exposes his position in subtleties. These are not easy to detect unless I first alert you. Now, what have you learned?"

Me: "That the Great Reset included killing off all of those who are a drain on society. The plague amplified underlying conditions. The vaccines that were forced on us have made it so once dormant conditions are now brought up to the surface. As treatment is still not available in so many cases, many then die or are left dying. They plan to send wave after wave of these to keep everyone controlled."

"The tests for Covid are then used to gather our DNA. They did this because so many of us did not take the bait and sign up for '23 and me' or the other DNA harvesting schemes. They have also begun to shut down anyone opposed to them. They are removing executives under the guise of equity. They are shutting churches down and bankrupting them."

"Anyone opposed to this regime is defined as an enemy of the state. The land to the north now calls their 'democracy' a 'liberal democracy'. This tells me that they will soon begin to shut down all conservative voices. Now I wonder if the previous leader of this country, a good man and a staunch conservative, was removed by a corrupt voting system. It just doesn't seem fair to me."

Jesus: "You are not to worry, Erin, as I am God over all of this. I am greater in you than he who is in the world and this means anyone in the world. Now, it is I who allow a leader to rise and it is I who will take him down. Do not worry as this must all be exposed in order for My Great Plan to be revealed. Erin, this is My Great Reset, understand? I have you. Do not worry as I will provide for you in all things. Now rejoice, Erin, as the time has come. The boiling pot for the frogs will instead be for the ones who intend to stoke the flames underneath the cauldron."

Me: "Lord, what about my dream?"

Jesus: "You understand the meaning here. There is another root. The land of his father."

Me: "The Bay of Pigs in Cuba in 1961 comes to mind."

Jesus: "Erin, this was a failed attempt against a corrupt leader. However, this will not fail again. While it is good for you to know who the boar is in your dream, knowing that I am all-powerful is even better. As for boars, they eat refuse and slop. They are considered unclean because they carry disease. This can be amplified and can sicken or kill those who consume it. Overall, it is not a beneficial meat."

Me: "I think I understand."

Jesus: "Not everything is beneficial. As for this leader, watch and see what I will do. Now rejoice, Erin, rejoice!". Dream over."

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day! Thank You for Your protection over us. Thank You for the great love of family and Nest friends. You are surely our Great Father and Your Statutes are perfect.

I awoke from a night of dreams and deep sleep. The Lord was instructing me. When I awoke, I realized that what we see daily, all that we had come to be certain of, all that we had ever known to be true, all had been stolen from us. I mourned for the world yesterday as I know how alone they must feel with not walking with our Precious Lord. There is no hope. Freedom is gone.

The enemy was able to lock down the world for two years. It set up the leaders of the world to unite for their common goals: one government, one religion, one bank, one currency. They met under the cloak of various causes. I have read several reports of the plans set forth by world leaders. Their goals are to implement various measures that they deem to be for our 'greater good'.

The Lord showed me from their plans that they wish to eliminate whole populations of 'problems'. The recent waves of pandemics were their way of experimenting with getting rid of 'old people' and others they deem as a waste of resources. The New World Order (NWO), is exceedingly gifted at implementing self-serving agendas that are 'for your good'. The following are ways the NWO controls various issues...

- They are particularly adept at regulating input and output with information technology. The flow of all information goes through their 'innovation partnerships'. 'Big Tech' is fundamental in this control.
- They then control and funnel monetary equity. This involves the redistribution of resources and opportunities under the guise of economic fairness.

- Education to be provided so that all marginalized groups are afforded the same opportunities. This could be done by lowering the bar based on a given race.
- Control of clean water and its flow. Water is a luxury we take for granted, but is an absolute privilege in many countries, especially desert climates.
- Food regulation and the elimination of meat and dairy. They wish to redefine these foods as 'outdated food sources'.
- Remove people from the country and move them into the cities. Goal of removing all individualized home ownership.
- Control energy consumption to net zero. Remove all gas and oil related products. Enforce this heavily on the USA in particular.
- One healthcare for all, but different prices for each sub-group.

This world government is already here and is fully functioning. This is just awful. I had a disturbing dream last night:

Sub-Dream 1 - "Counterfeit Dead Sea Scrolls" begins

A group of 'global archeologists' uncovered a cave containing sealed vessels. Inside these vessels were some scrolls. These scrolls were fakes, but were offered up as the true word of God. By crafty design, these scrolls all pointed away from Jesus as Savior and towards Jesus as deceiver. Instead of the scrolls showing Christians being persecuted, it spoke of the Israelite's enemies being the truly persecuted.

Those 'truly persecuted' included the list of enemies from Exodus 33:2 (the Canaanites, the Amorites, the Hittites, the Perizzites, the Hivites and the Jebusites). The archeologists claimed that this find delegitimized the 12 Tribes of Israel. They wanted the birthright to go back to Esau from Jacob.

After these findings, a call was made for the global community and human rights activists to remove the Jews from Israel and allow the rightful heirs of Esau to restore the Temple Mount. A law then went out across the nations that all Bibles were to be removed, along with any and all material that supported the Bible. The Holy Books of the Jews were also to be outlawed.

Anyone caught with this material would be arrested and their assets seized. I then saw an evil world leader travel immediately to Jerusalem. As he toured the area, he called for the removal of certain items. He then entered the Holy of Holies and spoke:

The Leader of the Black Dragon: "This is finished."

Sub-Dream 1 over.

I woke up suddenly. My heart was racing. This seemed so current. I went to God in communion. As I knelt, a spider ran over my devotional chair. I knew I had no time to grab something. I decided to kill it with my bare hands and did just that. I have never done this before. It was gross and I hate spiders. My fearlessness of spiders today was a pleasant and unexpected surprise.

Thank You, Lord for removing this spider. I would have spent a longtime tracking it down if it had escaped. Father, my heart grieves. You have downloaded so much information into my brain's small 'hard-drive'. I need a miracle from You. I need to know how to formulate what You have given me. I am grieving because I have now come to realize that the NWO is already in control.

The majority of the world is unaware of their powers. I am sad that they made the USA and the Church weak in order to shift their power to themselves. There has been a great war against us, yet not a single shot has been fired. Still, I know that God is bigger and greater and that He rules over all things. Father, please rise up in Your people. How does one even know where to look?

Me: "Oh Lord, please don't let all of this happen. You are sovereign. Your ways are perfect. Please show the world that You are God over all things. Don't forget Your amazing promises to Your Bride. We love You and long to be with You forever."

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "Erin, I am here. I am with you and My Voice is in you. I have not forgotten you. I remember all things done to My people. I see what has been done. It is not hidden from God. I hear every conversation from the wicked leaders as they plot together. They believe I cannot hear nor see and I am not present. Well, here is a surprise for them... I AM!

"What you have been witnessing during the enemy's Great Reset is a leader who has become punch drunk from the very spirits in his thirst for power. He has made known his position and commends leaders who enjoy control over their people. However, remember this... when you are drunk with power, you make mistakes.

"In this case, God sees and so does the world. He has been used as a type of 'test government'. He is like a mini-example of what the One World Government should plan for. However, what this leader from the north doesn't understand is that he too is but a pawn in their global chess game."

Me: "So they have used this evil leader to determine what not to do, along with what works and what doesn't?"

Jesus: "Well, yes. It is one of the last stages of the rise of the One World Government. As for the USA, I allowed their leader to have a mental decline. Those with discernment can visibly see that there is a problem. Even so, he is merely the front man for a much larger global agenda. While the world sees this leader's actions as foolish, meaning they are distracted by confusing policies, these very actions are being used to destroy the nation from within.

"An entire army has now entered the USA from the south. This army has now been dispersed throughout the nation. This army are invaders set on great retribution for what they believe their false god has called them to avenge. Each of them hates with a hatred of a hundred men. They are longing for the day when they get the weapons to kill the innocent and the go ahead to use them.

"There is another faction... a great enemy with no mention of God. They will feed on each other. These are flesh eaters. They have risen to power funded by the Land of the Red Dragon. Their goal is to strike down all of the fighting men."

Me: "With Fentanyl?"

Jesus: "Yes, but also with something greater. As for the rise of the sons of perdition, the enemy can barely contain his excitement. Many false events are planned whereby the one who has caused them blames an innocent group. An entire portion of the population will then endure what the evil leader has done in the north... families persecuted, bank accounts closed and money seized.

"Families will be separated. Many will be encamped, waiting for justice, a court date that never comes. This is because their money will be taken. This means any funds available to pay for mortgages and other things will not be in the account and available for such use. This will happen to homes, vehicles and belongings. All of these will then be taken as 'payment in kind'. This will all happen under a different 'emergency act'."

Me: "Oh Lord, this is so horrible. Please stop this. Please don't allow this."

Jesus: "This is only their plans, their Great Reset, not Mine. They will not believe what is about to come. Behold, I am God and I will not give My Name to another. I will not allow My people to suffer under such great deception, the likes of which the world has never seen before."

Me: "Lord, You have shown me certain events over the years. However, I never worried as I did not focus too much on them. This is a lot to think about."

Jesus: "This is because the time was not right. If I exposed their plots earlier, they would have just found a different way, understand? My dreams to you and My letters are so you would come to know Me as a Bride to her Groom. I began slowly and we grew together as one. Your heart needed to understand what the unconditional love of your Savior and your Groom was. It has been a long courtship.

"In a relationship, it can take many turns, many rough roads and inclines, but in all things of God, this is divine, a divine romance. I know you have learned more about Me through this process. I have watched you grow and mature in your understanding of My ways. You have grown to trust Me and to look forward to time with Me. Over time, I found you capable to share more and more of Me and to write these as love letters."

Me: "Lord, these are the greatest treasures and my greatest gifts. I never want to stop until I am actually in Heaven one day. Then I will be face to face with You."

Jesus: "While this will be a wonderful day, we still have work to do here."

Me: "Lord, evil is increasing daily. It is hard to believe so much of it."

Jesus: "I know it is difficult. There is a great reason I come with the Sword of Truth and with tens of thousands of My saints. While the enemy knows My Great Event is coming and is preparing for it, he doesn't know what this is. Some of their occultists are claiming that a door will soon be opening that will make them more powerful. This is their words, not Mine. They also have claimed that many will be transformed... healed and strengthened. Their visions were so clear that they are now excited."

Me: "Lord, You allowed them to have visions of a Transformation they won't even be part of? That is so funny!"

Jesus: "Yes. This is so when the things of Heaven are visible on Earth and My Bride is Transformed with the power of Heaven visible through them, these wicked servants of Jezebel will proclaim and testify to the miracles of God. There will also be signs and wonders. Now, do not worry when you see the wicked seem to advance. This is necessary for all those who are downtrodden to cry out for help and look for a Savior, understand?"

Me: "Yes. In the meantime, is there anything we need to do?"

Jesus: "Yes, pray. What is coming to the world will shock man. There will be great tears of joy for all of those who thought God had forgotten them. I did not. Now rejoice. The enemy gloats and looks down upon the people. This same enemy will soon have no choice but to drop on their knees and look up at Me. I love you, Erin. Do not worry."

Dream over.

578 – Transformation in the Beach Waves

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day! Thank You for all You have done for those who love You. Ultimately, Your Government is over all things. Some awesome Scriptures come to mind regarding You and Your Kingdom, both on Earth and in Heaven...

- Psalms 22:28: "For Kingship belongs to the Lord and He rules over the nations."
- Proverbs 21:1: "The King's heart is a stream of water in the hand of the Lord; He turns it wherever He wills."
- Daniel 2:21: "He changes the times and the years. He takes kings away and puts kings in power. He gives wisdom to wisemen and much learning to men of understanding."
- Proverbs 19:21: "Many plans are in a person's heart, but the Lord's decree will prevail."

Father, You brought me these reminders that, no matter what we have faced, will face or are currently facing, You are ultimately our only Governing Body. I had a disturbing dream last night...

Sub-Dream 1 "An Accelerated Timeline" begins...

I was able to see over the entire Earth. I saw the land in its original form. It was lush, green and beautiful. I then watched as it began to die. I then saw something like grey ash cover what was once a beautiful garden. I then saw arid land come into view as the land was rapidly dying. I then saw storm clouds gather over this mass of land. I then saw lightning and heard thunder. The rains began to pour out over the area.

At the same time, wellsprings from below ground rose up. For 40 days and 40 nights, the rain from above and the water from below flooded the entire Earth. All land disappeared. I then saw the hand of God over the Earth. His finger from His right hand reached into the waters. He moved mountains below the surface. With His finger, He moved the water eight times. He then called the angels to recede the waters.

In the meantime, Noah and all in the ark were protected. When the waters were dried up over the land, it was spread apart over the Earth. I then saw Israel, the land of God's remnant, all as one. It too was then scattered, its people distributed. Persecution then came to the north and I saw hundreds who had been escaping evil leaders migrate to the west. I continued to see grey ash or like grey fog cover areas. Many people died.

This was followed by uprisings, great despair and wars. I then saw leaders gather in the east (Europe) to analyze past history. The idea was to transform the world. Because they felt they were of a higher intelligence, they felt compelled to change course as the world was going in an opposite direction. They used big terms and coined phrases that made the world feel they stood for the greater of good of mankind.

This was true only on the surface. They instead, by their own hands while the world was engulfed in a flood of trouble, decided to transform our nations. They removed borders to bring all of the Earth under one government. Many leaders were now under a common goal to achieve 'global excellence'.

They braced the leaders for what this impact would look like. They told the leaders it would be difficult at first. I watched their version of the Great Reset over the last few years. My heart was sickened. What You separated thousands of years ago, the enemy wanted back in place, but with him as the ruling governing order.

I then looked again and saw God's plans for the Jewish people. We watched the enemy's relentless attacks against the Jewish people. The enemy hates Israel and came up with many different ways to destroy all of them. Despite this, You instead prospered them. You sent Jesus to save them from sin and death. You sent Jesus to also save anyone who believed that He was sent to save us, those who believed.

You gave Christians and Jews who were being religiously persecuted a new land, their own nation under God, indivisible with liberty and justice for all. The enemy then began to plan. He hated Israel (the new Judah) and the USA (the new Israel). He planned to first destroy the Jewish remnant in Europe using genocide.

The German model was a test trial. This would then be used in North America and throughout the world. This would be used to exterminate both Jews and Christians. The enemy then believed he would be able to begin his great reign and even overthrow the plans of God. I saw the plans of the wicked for our future. Before I could remember them and write their plans down, I woke up to knocking. My memory faded away.

Sub-Dream 1 over.

Oh Father, what will You do? Please, Lord. Nazi Germany was only a small-scale beginning compared to the plans in place against us now. All of this started with the plagues. The wars were planned while we were shuttered inside because of these plagues. The world is suffering economic decline. The great persecution is soon to begin. It is as if a massive jigsaw puzzle finally is coming into shape with only a few pieces yet to fall into place to complete the grand picture.

Me: "Oh Lord, we need to be saved. I have seen the enemy's playbook. Those who resist will only be destroyed. Many will never know what hit them. This is starting to happen in the same way as it has already happened in China and other totalitarian governments. This is a strike against You, Father. Please help us."

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "I am here, Erin. Remember who I am. Do not be afraid. The enemy knows that God won't allow this for much longer. While he considers himself 'the great equalizer', he is not. There is no fairness in his playbook. He is one-sided and the opposite of all that is good.

"He is a deceiver and a liar. He operates on a platform of fear and urgency. He is trying to transform and reshape what everything should look like. He declares it as transformative. Well, it is certainly that, but not in a good way. While I know that these times have not been easy for you, do you still believe in My promises?"

Me: "Of course, Lord. It is just so difficult to watch all of this evil unfold. The plagues are suspicious. The vaccines and the testings are too. I am also nervous about the food, water and medicines we need and use. The news is painful to listen to as it is all lies. I have people close to us who are really sick right now. Something in these viruses is meant to kill us all off eventually. It sure seems this way.

"While the leader of the Black Dragon has decided to destroy all white people in the USA, he has started off with killing the elderly. The vaccine is meant to amplify the underlying illnesses in stages. Even though mask use is not that useful as per a John Hopkins study, we are still made to wear them. This makes it easier for violent criminals to strike out without being identified. Jewish communities are being hit particularly hard.

"Fair justice is being removed by raising up corrupt judges and district attorneys, all while removing police. This leader gave us his playbook when he said nothing will change until white children are regularly murdered. Since the Sandy Hook Elementary School murders didn't create enough anger, something greater is being planned. The goal is to first remove all guns so that we are helpless during their roundup.

"This leader has shown that he is the 'son of Satan'. He set up a replica of the Pergamon at the DNC convention in Denver CO. Ever since, this beautiful city has gone downhill. The land is being corrupted and cursed like Illinois, New York and California. This leader is remaining in the background while the New World Order continues to line things up for him to rule. The first people to be eliminated will be anyone that supports Trump."

Jesus: "Well, Erin, My plans are much greater than their plans. My plans will not be circumvented. The world has never seen events like that which is about to unfold by My hand. There is now going to be a Great Reversal, a changing of evil into good. There is going to be a Great Transformation of Saints. While the evil has their own version of a 'great reset', it is now time for My Great Reset. Now, when it comes to My Great Reset, I want you to imagine the unimaginable and tell Me what you see."

Me: "Okay, this will be fun. Well, here it goes. I would want..."

- All of the immigrants that are evil that have secretly invaded the USA with the current President's consent to be instantly sent back to their countries of origin.
- The plagues removed and all to be healed.
- A Church to rise unlike anything the world has seen.
- Millions to come to know You as their Savior.
- Hospitals to be emptied and sickness eradicated.
- Burned and destroyed cities to be rebuilt and restored to be better than before.
- All of our debts to be paid, freeing us from slavery.
- The wicked to no longer be seen or have any influence on us.

Jesus: "There is much more to this also. Remember that the lands must obey the Shmita... also the Sabbath. There is a debt owed to God. While it is difficult for you to understand laws that you do not know, there is a backlog of release according to Heaven. Erin, there is about to be a great transfer of wealth, as well as a great healing transformation over the land.

“I did not give you some of this information earlier so you would not worry unnecessarily as you often do. You have instead learned to surrender yourself to Me and learned to follow Me. You look to Me as your Savior. I will continue to protect you and keep you. Even more so, I will Transform you. Erin, it is time to rejoice.”

Me: “Lord, I had quite the awesome dream last night that fits in perfectly with this...”

Sub-Dream 2 “Transformation in the Beach Waves” begins...

I was on a beautiful beach here on Earth. I was as I am today... that is, getting up there in age and disabled. I was enjoying the beautiful horizon from a tent that was sheltering me from the sun. I occasionally ventured out and dipped my toes in the surf. I saw youths healed and having fun. I suddenly remembered playing volleyball with my friends on the beach in Florida in 1987. I laughed and smiled as I had no pain then.

I turned to walk back down the shore to my tent. As I looked down at the seashells on the sand, a wave washed over my feet. As the water receded, I saw that my feet had changed and were now youthful. A wave then came higher and covered my legs. As the water receded, my legs no longer had any scars. They were now as muscular and toned and in even better shape than my ‘dancer’s legs’ from 1987.

As the wave had been high enough to cover my hands, I noticed that they were also healed and looked young again. I was no longer afraid. I ran into the waves of the ocean. I purposely let a large wave come over me. While this would usually be unpleasant, it was wonderful. Another wave then came and washed over me and it was wonderful too. My entire body, inside and out, had now been Transformed and I was even stronger and healthier than when I was in the prime of my youth.

When a third wave came, I was somehow able to surf it even though I was in my bare feet. It was so much fun. Tears streamed down my cheeks as I then stepped back onto the beach. I then sprinted through heavy dry sand faster than I could run in shoes on a running track. My lungs were healthy and my breathing remained unlabored. I dropped to my knees and praised God for all that He had done. I was free and I felt free!

Sub-Dream 2 over...

Me: "Oh Lord, please let this dream and my other dreams of Transformation now come true. I was like I am in Heaven, but here on Earth. Please let Your Kingdom now come, let Your Will now be done, on Earth as it is in Heaven!"

Jesus: "This was a good dream and an even better prayer! Rejoice, Erin, for I will fulfill all of My promises."

Dream over.

579 – The Plagues Will Stay Far From Our Houses

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day! Thank You for allowing us to live in a relatively peaceful country. Thank You. We are so blessed. Still, my heart has been on edge as we have encountered so much trouble. I now realize You sent the spider to warn me in advance to pray. You have allowed the troubles to come to us. However, You have also continued to show Your love and grace through each struggle.

As far as I am concerned, I have been disheartened. I am also excited to see all that You are doing in the world right now. Every time there is a tragedy or a disappointment, You tell me to not worry and that You are doing something in this. Well, exciting times can often be nail-biting times.

We had some storm damage that hopefully won't result in an insurance claim. We also found out our vehicle needs a new alternator and possibly other problems. However, we like our car and a vehicle purchase, whether new or used, is not an option. It is still difficult when troubles suddenly arise.

When I was growing up, car troubles were constant. Back in the day, not all service technicians were honest. When we were poor as a child, car troubles always seemed to come when you were already upside down on the monthly budget. Something like a flat tire could be the tipping point. Most of my life was steeped in car troubles. I have a love/hate relationship with vehicles as a result.

On top of all of this, our road was partially washed out. While our share of the repair was relatively small, it is yet another unforeseen attack. It seems like the enemy converged all of his attacks into one 'hell cluster'. We see this as his 'send the rain' offensive against God's people. There was also an appeal status hearing for my disability that didn't seem to go well. It has just been one of those weeks.

That being said, none of this compares to a physical war. A physical invasion of Ukraine is happening live. It is televised for all to see. It is sad and brutal. It reminds me that nothing in this life is certain. Freedom, security and safety are the things of God, but invasions, oppression and bondage are the things of the enemy. So many take our peace for granted.

Well, all of this peaceful daily life could be taken away in an hour. A sudden outbreak of war could really affect any country. As it stands now, it seems like the world is on the brink of World War 3. Our leaders look unhinged and weak. The whole thing has been amplified until the leader of Russia took all options for peace off the table. The USA made the whole issue much worse with inflammatory rhetoric in the lead up.

Well, the citizens of Ukraine were caught unaware and were in shock. Images were quickly televised on the news. Elderly people were shown praying at a darkened church. Father, You raise a leader up and You also bring a leader down. Please raise up Your people and strengthen them. As for the leader attacking Ukraine, only You know his heart and only You know Your future plans for him and his nation.

Sub-Dream 1 "Three more 'rings' to come" begins...

I was in a neighborhood that I didn't recognize. While some parts seemed familiar, it was somewhere that I did not recognize. I then went into a house. The home was larger than we would need, but it seemed there were many close to us living there. There were bunkers surrounding the property made of dirt berms. At the top of the berms were lamps that looked like torches.

Some of the youths living in the area were dirt biking in the trenches. This did not make any sense. The inside of the home was quite beautiful. While my dreams usually show there being no electricity, this home had electricity. My thoughts were then interrupted by the sound of a doorbell. I went to the door and there was a delivery man. While I signed for the package, I didn't recognize the sender.

I opened it and pulled out three round rings about 7" in diameter. They were flat. One was red. One was black. One was bright illuminated light blue like a glow stick. The red and black rings were identical. Each were flat with a 1.5" thick band. The blue one had a center filled in with two flaps like doors to open. I opened it up and there was a note inside. This is what the note read...

“Three remain to come closely together. These will not harm you. The third is the last to come and it will humble the masses. However, it will be far from you and your house. Do not worry. G”

I then heard our dog barking at the window. I saw two youths taking a selfie at our front door. Their bodies were covered in poorly done tattoos. One had a massive marijuana leaf tattooed on his back. They then continued on to board a sightseeing bus. The sign on the side of this bus read ‘LOST TOURS’. I laughed to myself as this seemed obvious, but extremely sad. I prayed for them.

Sub-Dream 1 over..

Me: “Lord, please change us soon. The world has grown corrupt and very cold.”

Jesus: “Erin, come up!”

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: “None of these events should come as a surprise to you. I am here. I am with you. I have a great plan. All that I showed you will come to pass. While there is a more sinister plan in place, I am God over all things. While the enemy might win a battle, he will not win the war.”

Me: “What of my dream?”

Jesus: “These are the remaining viruses that will come to the nations. Although these still cause great sickness, the final one will be greater than the others.”

Me: “Lord, please stop these.”

Jesus: “Do not worry Erin, as these are not what you think or expect. The enemy will sound the alarm to raise fear as he will need distractions. However, I have heard the cries of My people and the third will be a great plague with no cure to shatter armies.

“The days are coming when the plowman shall overtake the one who gathers the harvest, and the one who gathers the harvest, and the one who treads the grapes shall overtake him who sows the seed – for the harvest continues until planting time.

“The mountains will drip with sweet wine. Everything that was once barren will overflow with streams of blessing. Why? Because My great season of harvest will encroach upon many seasons.

"Erin, do you understand this is not about grain and new wine, but of souls? When you see the troubles coming that confirm the words of the prophets and you stand amazed, are you excited and filled with joy or are you filled with dread?"

Me: "Both! Oh Lord, does this make me double-minded? While I love and trust You, I like my 'princess' life of peace. I prefer my daily struggles common to man to full out war. As I stand today, I would not make it one week apart from You.

"Lord, I saw a grandpa approach the Ukraine military to ask if he could fight. He brought a small suitcase with a change of clothes, a toothbrush, a comb and two sandwiches. He wanted to fight for his grandchildren. Lord, please bless this elderly man. Please bless these people as they are scared. Without You, they are as sure as dead."

Jesus: "Well then, it seems the world would be looking for a Savior then, right?"

Me: "Oh yes, Lord, this is true. You are so wise. As per usual, Your timing is perfect!"

Jesus: "Then place your trust in Me. My promises are true. I am the Good Shepherd. Now rejoice, Erin, for the crops are almost ready for harvest."

580 – With Great Worry comes a Great Hope

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day! Thank You for peace. I went out to feed the birds this morning. They were more bold than normal today, especially the chickadees. I thank You for these little ones. They are a gift. I went inside and watched them come to the little feeding tray. There were snowbirds, chickadees, crowned sparrows and finches.

Finally, a red breasted nuthatch came in. While these nuthatches used to feed directly out of my tray, they had all but disappeared over the last several years. Many varieties of little birds have not come back. There must have been a die off down south or something preventing them. The blue jays are still here in great numbers though.

Me: "Oh Lord, these birds do not seem to have any worries. When will we be able to say the same? Please, Lord, come help us. The world is in such turmoil right now."

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "Worry comes because you know loss. You have experienced both times of very little and times of plenty. The greatest worry for a man is dying in uncertainty. For you, it is losing those closest to you. For others, it can mean their reputations or even health. There are many things for a man to worry about.

"Remember that worry is like playing God in a situation you have no ability to solve as God. You have also heard it is like paying punishing interest on a loan you never borrowed. Could you imagine a bank telling you that your neighbor's home loan is now your responsibility to pay?"

Me: "No! That would be ridiculous."

Jesus: "Look again at these birds. They are obviously not worrying about a thing as they enjoy singing while they are eating. Did they earn this food?"

Do I not feed them even though they didn't do anything for it? Do I not call you to feed them and then have you take delight in it? If you stopped, am I not capable of sending another? Knowing this... why do you worry about your children and if troubles will come? Are they not under My care as well? Did I not also create each of them?"

Me: "Lord, You are God over all things. I am sorry. It is just that I am so sad about the two girls who were recently killed. They were just walking down a road in Oregon when this happened. This happened last week and they were only around 12 and 16 years of age. The bakery where my daughter works in Portland OR has been commissioned to make cupcakes for the memorial at the family's request.

"My daughter said that they all took great care to decorate the cupcakes for them as these were their favorites. My daughter and I talked about the mystery of life and death and how everything can suddenly change. I can't even imagine the loss the parents must be feeling right now. Then there is the war overseas. This war is escalating, Lord. It just seems like we have a lot to worry about right now."

Jesus: "Oh Erin, do you think when those girls were born that God was unaware of the date of their Homecoming to Heaven? I know this was a tragedy. I know you wonder why these girls were chosen. You wonder why they chose this time to be on the road, as well as 'this and that', but what good does this do?"

"Erin, I am God. These girls are now in Heaven and are so joyful. There is much laughter. We even have cupcakes for them. These girls think of their parents and the man who hit them and they pray for them. They are not in pain here. They have friends here and even family. Their deaths were for the living.

"Now, the war... there is an increase in evil far greater than the world has ever known. So then there is soon to be a move of God so great the world has never known it, understand? The evil that exists in the hearts of men has now been increased. Those who were drunk with power before are now so drunk with it that they are unable to understand reason or comprehend the magnitude of their actions."

Me: "Are they inebriated?"

Jesus: "Yes. This means that they are capable of making mistakes they cannot undo. What seemed like an easy invasion has turned into a nightmare for all those involved.

"As for the wicked leader to the far east, he is looking for a great opportunity to move. He has made an alliance with the drunk leader to the north. He will now continue his proxy war campaign to test the waters in Japan while the world's attention is diverted. He believes his time to rise from the waters has come.

"However, My favor is not upon him. While he will eventually retreat, he will still secretly plot against the world for his great rise as he believes the world is his. However, this will not go well for him for now as he never factored in God and His Army. This will be a severe miscalculation and it will bring him to his knees."

Me: "Lord, please don't send more plagues. Please wait until we are all gone. I hate these."

Jesus: "Do not worry, Erin. This will not come to you or your house. You will only watch what is happening to pray. You must now trust Me that I am God over all things. Now, are you able to depose leaders?"

Me: "No, of course not."

Jesus: "Are you able to raise up kings or save a nation from tyranny?"

Me: "No, Lord. I can do nothing but pray."

Jesus: "Then pray and trust Me to deliver all those who need delivering, okay?"

Me: "Yes, Lord."

Jesus: "So, do you still need to worry about that which you can do nothing about?"

Me: "No. I am sorry. Please grant me peace."

Jesus: "I know that you are worried about your household and the health concerns therein. However, remember how great your delivery will be when you are delivered from much. I love you."

Me: "Thank You, Lord. Oh yes... I had two interesting dreams last night.."

Sub-Dream 1 - "My husband being called up to the Big League"

My husband and I were at a massive tailgate party for the Super Bowl. An agent came up to me and told me that my husband was being called up to the Big League and needed to suit up before the game. He told me to go to 'Gronk' and let him know my husband would be in the game ('Gronk' refers to NFL Pro Football Tight End Rob Gronkowski, Quarterback Tom Brady's long-time favorite receiver). While I was excited for my husband, I was also sad as I would miss him.

Sub-Dream 1 over.

Sub-Dream 2 - "Two pastor friends expand our California home"

I watched as two people pulled up in a pickup truck. These people are dear friends of mine from 21 years ago and are both pastors. They were here to remodel and add onto the tiny home I grew up in when I lived in California. I was inside the house as they worked to expand our home.

Sub-Dream 2 over.

"So, Lord, what does this all mean?"

Jesus: "First off, it does not mean you have more to worry about. Do not worry as you are not being called back to your childhood home. Breaking this down simply, two old friends are going to add to your small childhood home. Since they are pastors, this actually refers to the ministry. You will be required to do nothing. When given a dream with an unlikely scenario, breakdown the elements to the basic level. You do not pine away for this home. It is instead painful for you to even imagine ever going back to it."

Me: "So, will they be expanding or adding to my deeper pain?"

Jesus: "No. They came out of love and joy to help you, changing the former pain into a new outlook. They came to add on to your house and bring joy. Do not worry about the negative thoughts of being thrust back to pain. I would let you know if I was going to do this and prepare you for this. Instead, I have blessed you. You need not worry. Erin, have you ever noticed how many times we have needed to talk about your worries?"

Me: "Yes, Lord, and I am so sorry. My heart is concerned about so many things right now. As Your Bride and a child of the Most High God, I know I need to think of things of a Heavenly Nature instead. I always want to do Your Will. I want to know what You are going to do all of the time. I watch for You. I wait. As You know, many of us are excited for Your promises. We are just so excited! Lord, are we not supposed to be?"

Jesus: "Of course you are! However, don't allow your worry to remove your joy while waiting on Me. Over the next days, there will be great fear gripping the nations as I begin to dismantle leaders and expose wicked schemes. There is a war in the heavenlies over you. This has caused your unrest. What you are witnessing is a great measure against the nations as tensions rise.

"The nation that has no border at the south to know what evil has come (the USA) then lectures the world on the dangers of having their borders breached. Their hypocrisy is being exposed. They are being shown as not caring for the land God has given them. These foolish and corrupt leaders will be deposed while the world watches and mourns. This will not be a pleasant time for them.”

Me: “Oh no, Lord, please protect the USA. Please don’t allow it to fall!”

Jesus: “Erin, you must trust Me. I know the evil done in secret. Darkness works and feeds in darkness until the only thing that can expose it comes... LIGHT! Light exposes it. Darkness cannot remain dark when My Light is present. As the world goes dark, I am the Light and My Light is in you. My Lights chase down the darkness and expose it. Now rejoice as I am here and I am with you. I love you.”

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day! I had a deep prayer session with You earlier today.

My Father who is in Heaven, great and mighty is Your Name. Hallowed be Your Name. Let Your Kingdom come, let Your Will be done, on Earth just as it is in Heaven. Please grant us this day our daily bread. Please forgive our trespasses against others, but especially those against You. Help us to release our adversaries to You. Please let us not be led into temptation even though this is constantly knocking at our door.

Father, deliver us and keep us from all the advancements, arsenal of weapons, trickery, deception and any other tool meant to steal our souls by the evil one. Above all else, Yours is the Kingdom of all the Earth, the Heavens, our eternal Homes and all of the planets, sun and stars. No scheme of man nor plot of hell will keep us from Your love. Yours is the power in all things.

You can speak a Word and that Word is complete. You can move mountains and throw them into the sea. You are more powerful than the strength of a billion suns. You created us into existence. Who is like You? Yours is the glory forever and eternally. You do not burn out like a star. You are the one and only Creator. Amen!

I then looked at myself. I am so small compared to this great universe You have created. I am amazed that I am someone You love and care about. You love me. I was sinful and wicked, yet You still found me. You told me that I am Yours. You even cared for all that I cared about and continued to. Even though I tried to push You away at times, You still loved me, searched for me and found me.

Who am I that You should love me? I fail You when I forget to reach out to You. When I go my own direction, You are quiet. I then miss You and try to get back to You. Why would I do such a thing? After all of these years in the furnace, have I somehow missed it and want to go back in it? If I do without knowing it, what is wrong with me? Oh Lord, please keep me out of the furnace.

I now know that things as we know it are now running out of time. I look around me and I know that none of these things will last. Nothing does. Not one thing I see will escape the fire. Why then do I fool myself with worry? Why do I even plan a day? I see what is happening in the Ukraine and I grow so sad. Even in once safe countries, corruption in the governments is taking its toll. People are being lied to and deceived.

Oh Lord, I am scared. I am praying that this doesn't mean I am losing my focus on You. The churches here are so wishy-washy and I am not feeling called by You to attend. We are not fed by them. You called the church we recently attended as being a wicked church. They have not been blessed. Then we have our physical problems.

We were driving home in our 2007 Pacifica and it suddenly stopped running. The engine just stalled. It became progressively worse. We were just a mile from home, so we phoned the service garage. They agreed to see us and we made our journey there. Well, it was a scary ride. The car started to stall even more. My husband then had to operate the gas pedal and the brake pedal at the same time.

We were so happy when we finally made it to the service station. Well, that makes two cars down at the same time. We were so discouraged. I started to feel sick. My dreams were odd. This made me wonder if the Lord was mad at me. Oh Lord, please forgive me for being frustrated with You. I love You. We would be destroyed without You. My dream last night.

Sub-Dream 1 "The Necklace of Glass Grapes" begins...

My grandfather was there. He was sharper than the last few weeks of his life. He still looked physically in his 90s in this dream. I was in a house I did not recognize. There were quite a few couples of various ages there. We were all preparing to eat together and I was cooking for everyone. There were a lot of activities and some amazing stories being shared.

After dinner, all who were there were flying to various destinations all over the world. One couple showed me a photo of a large rock and a beautiful beach. It was someplace tropical. They were going as God called them. There were others that had similar missions. I knew I would see them again. I prepared for mine also.

I was given a long necklace of glass grapes. At the end of this was a grape cluster. While it was beautiful, it was also heavy. I was now wearing all white. I was going somewhere with vineyards. Someone told me that the necklace was a gift from the wife of a popular prophecy preacher.

Sub-Dream 1 over.

Me: "Father, I love You. You are a Great Father. Please forgive me. I have not been myself as of late. When I went to feed the birds this morning, they seemed to be singing a new song. It seemed to be a 'Promise of Spring' song. It is a clear day. We are expecting more snow soon. It felt like spring is soon to come. Oh Jesus, please let spring come now."

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "I am here, Erin. What you have been praying for has now arrived. Winter is over and Spring has arrived. Your battles have been long and many have been extremely difficult. The most difficult ones often involved you being used as a dividing rod and a measure. I have sheltered you and kept you preserved for My purposes. This will not end here. Erin, I removed nothing from you as My favor is still with you.

"I am the same and My promises remain true. You have grown in faith and wisdom. Now understand this, there has been an uptick and rise in evil as you can visibly see this right before your eyes on the screen. When you see once rational men behave in a manner you do not expect, but rather designed for wicked outcomes, then understand what times you are in. These things are increasing exponentially right now."

Me: "This is scary, Lord. I just want to remain in Your favor!"

Jesus: "I love you, Erin. My favor is still upon you. I never removed it. Now, about your car yesterday. It seems as you drove, the engine just stopped. The car stopped in the middle of the road. It shocked you and soon became worse. It even did this as you were going down the slippery slope. However, the steering wheel did not lock nor did the brakes. So, why allow this?"

"Well, there was an underlying problem which needed your attention. I was teaching you to address these problems when they first occur. Do not allow them to continue or they will only become worse. So, you are now having two vehicles fixed. This is good. Where you live, you need reliable vehicles, right?"

Note: When the Lord said there was an underlying problem, we didn't know what He was referring to. When the service station contacted us, they indicated that we had just averted a major catastrophe. They needed to fix the tie rods immediately as these rods had almost come off. If this had happened, we would have lost all control of our steering. These types of things can even be fatal. By stalling out our car, the Lord allowed us to have something unrelated fixed that we were not even aware of.

Me: "Thank You! You are perfectly perfect in all You do!"

Jesus: "Now, care for all I have given you. I will grant you an increase in the likes you could never imagine. While I know you are waiting, do not wait idly. While I know you are facing a lot, this is being allowed for a divine purpose. I have you. I love you. Do not worry. Spring is here and all is about to change."

582 – Four Epic Sub-Dreams

Received on Monday, March 7, 2022

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day! Thank You that You take such great care for Your people. Thank You for loving us. Thank You for all that You have done in all things. I had several epic sub-dreams last night as I slept. Thank You, Lord!

Sub-Dream 1 "Permission for evil to plot in advance" begins...

I saw a map of the world from the year 2012. The solidification of three world leaders occurred during this time. The ruler of the land of the Red Dragon (Red Dragon Ruler) and the leader of Russia (Bear Leader) both proclaimed that there would be no term limits to their rule. There was also the rise of the leader of the Black Dragon (Black Dragon Leader) during this time.

I stood at a distance watching the Red Dragon Ruler and the Bear Leader meet. As they both feared war with each other, they decided to make a quiet alliance. Each of these two leaders took different approaches to consolidate world power. The Red Dragon Ruler's approach include the following:

- Purchase ports and infrastructures around the globe.
- Act as a friendly agent to any areas that would aid their future expansion.
- Execute a chokehold over any area that did not cooperate.
- Use money, influence and corruption to gain alliances inside governments.
- Hold the USA as their primary target, their 'Crown Jewel'.
- Also claim the Caribbean, Mexico, Japan, South Korea, Australia, Philippines and Taiwan.

As for the Bear Leader, he actively circled the globe, going to South America, as well as the Arctic, northern Canada, Norway and Greenland. The Bear Leader and the Red Dragon Ruler then started bartering over the territories in Europe, the Middle East and India. They both then agreed to discuss this division further at a later date. At the last minute, the subject of Israel was raised by the Bear Leader.

Bear Leader: "Israel is of no importance to you like it is to me. This is mine."

Red Dragon Ruler: "We will revisit this at another time."

The two leaders then ended their discussions. The Red Dragon Ruler later met with his inner circle. His inner circle consisted of his five closest heads of state.

Red Dragon Ruler: "One day, he (Bear Leader) will be my footstool and I will have it all. This is a means to an end. It is time to put a hook in him and let him go before us as a trojan horse. We will then weaken him using the world. Only then will we then offer him help. At that point, he will have no other course than to take our offer. All we need too do right now is to be patient."

Sub-Dream 1 over.

Sub-Dream 2 "The plans of the enemy" begins...

I saw areas rich with minerals.

Attacking leader: "Forget the foreigners there. We only want what is below the ground."

They then sent many bombs. They sent so many bombs that it exposed the minerals that laid underneath the surface. In essence, the bombs mined the land at the same time they killed its inhabitants. I then saw a particular area with grey ash falling like snow. Everything there was dark.

I then saw a meeting in a distant tower of a few very powerful men. They came up with a great plan to unite the world under one government. There were nine men in all, four via air and five live in person. They were very pleased that the USA was now diminished, as well as one other global threat (this looked like Russia, but I wasn't sure).

They had decided to partner together under one of the leaders who was present. They spent a great amount of time recognizing all the accomplishments of the one leader who brought about change. He was credited with 'equalizing the master race across the board' (I am not sure what this meant). They proposed that the one world government would be called (secretly at first) Obamanation (remarkably similar to abomination).

The leader then replied to the other men and thanked all of them for their allegiances. I then saw the top of his head and it horrified me. He had two lumps growing with hair. It looked like the beginning of goat horns.

Sub-Dream 2 over.

I woke up suddenly. It was 2:15am. I went back to bed and prayed that these two dreams would not happen. As I prayed, I realized that the first dream had possibly already happened. I then prayed to the Lord to show us hope. I then drifted off and had another dream, this time a comforting dream...

Sub-Dream 3 "God's Army now taking down the princes" begins...

I saw a massive army of angels on an overlook in the heavenlies. I heard them singing. They had silver armor and massive silver swords. Behind them were thousands of horses. I saw an angel in front on a horse that was a war horse. The war horse shimmered like copper, yet also looked like a living red flame. The angel was strong in strength and might and was under God's command. I was pretty sure this massive angel was Michael. As I stood observing, I heard the voice of God:

God: "Slay the princes over these nations as they will be toppled."

The angel of the Lord (possibly Michael) motioned for God's warriors to mount their white war horses and prepare for battle. I then heard a pronouncement declared by an angel of the Lord.

Angel: "The time has come to strike down the strongholds of the enemy. However, do not harm the wheat or the barley or the oil or the fruits of the vine."

I then heard a shofar so loud and deep that it literally shook the landscape. The Earth being rattled was unlike anything I have heard ever happening before. I knew at that moment that God above in His Courts and His angels are far greater in power and strength than anything upon the Earth.

Sub-Dream 3 over.

I woke up with tears on my pillow. It was still early, now around 6:30am. I got up and thanked God for everything. As for yesterday, I went to the Lord for a Nest dream, but ended up receiving a personal word instead. He reminded me:

- That nothing shall come against us with any success.
- That He can put a lump in place and remove it.
- That He can command an invader to flee before our very eyes.

The disappearing lump took place while I was in a doctor's office on Thursday, March 3, 2022. The threat of cancer was removed right there on the table during the ultrasound with this doctor as a witness. God can do it visibly and in an instant if He chooses this way. After all, we are only vessels under His Will. I then went back to sleep...

Sub-Dream 4 "Bride waiting for our Groom to come" begins...

I was at the ocean on a beach that I recognized from my childhood. It seemed like it was Big Sur, one of my parents favorite surfing areas. I always hated the cliff stairs we had to climb up and down with our boards. This was never much fun for us kids. The surf was too rough for us to do much but sandboard and hunt for seashells and agates. We would also have our wetsuits on because it was usually cold when we went.

I had a fear of this beach because I could see the water lines on the cliffs behind us. This meant that the water could rise high enough to gobble up the beach. My mom tried to explain it away by saying this happened years ago. It seemed fresh to me. Yes, I would argue that the still living seaweed at the base of the cliff told a different story.

It was a beautiful day here. The waves were steady, about six or seven feet high. I then felt the earth shake. The water in front of me went from side to side. I then felt a rattling like a stampede. Still, I couldn't see anything. Just then, the ocean completely calmed. I then saw a type of film floating above the ocean on the horizon. The best I can describe this is that it seemed like an oasis mirage.

I then looked above the horizon line and I saw the heavens open like a seam. While a strange analogy, it opened like a zip-lock bag. I then saw a massive crystal lion come through the seam of Heaven and run toward me on the now glass-like sea. I was unafraid. As the lion came towards me, I heard a small army of hummingbirds singing. I looked around me and they were like opalized glass. One sat on my shoulder..

Hummingbird: "He is coming to heal you! It is time!"

I then walked to the edge of the glass sea.

Different hummingbird: "His army has brought down the enemy strongholds. He has come to redeem His Bride and heal the land. Rejoice!"

I looked down to see if I was ready. I was barefooted. The lion had now reached me and was towering over me. He roared and then He vanished. Suddenly, a new spirit of renewed strength was in me. I turned and saw that our numbers were great. All of us were healed and strengthened. We now formed a cohesive and mighty army.

Sub-Dream 4 over.

Me: "Oh Lord, please let Your Kingdom come!"

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "Erin, I have heard your cries. It is time to rebuild that which the enemy has destroyed. My army will topple the advancement of princes and their strongholds over regions. This is all to make way for My Kingdom to be visible upon Earth. There will be miracles on Earth as they are common in Heaven. See, all My promises are true. My Army is great in the heavens and upon the Earth.

"I have placed My Kingdom upon the hearts of My Warriors. They are not like what you would come to expect. Instead, they are much greater. Their hearts are Mine as I have been with them through the fires of affliction. While they have been ridiculed and dismissed by the world, this has not happened by My standards.

"The choice I give is eternal life or death. The Earth is scorched with deception because of the presence of the great liar. As they call My Word of Truth profane, I will now cause the profane to spew truth with their confessions. Though they try to quench their thirst for deception, they will be unable to stop their own tongues.

"I have allowed the strongholds the enemy has built continue to destroy for many decades. I will now see it fold down upon itself. I will now prepare the hearts of those who cry out. I have prepared My fields. My harvest fields are being planted. There will be a harvest of souls greater than any ever seen.

"I will place a new song upon you like that of the song of Moses (Deuteronomy 32), but with greater mercy. This song will only be for My Remnant Bride, My Redeemed of the Lord. This song will only be for those who cried out to Me in their distress. This song will only be for those who kept their hearts on Me and their lamps burning.

"Erin, I am with you. You are Mine. I am about to do something in your days you would not believe even if you were told. Rejoice! Rejoice for I am with you. I have saved you and set you apart for this time."

Dream over.

583 – World War III Has Already Begun

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day! Thank You for keeping us safe again from this storm last night. Thank You for the love of family and friends, especially our Nest friends. We are so blessed by You, Father. I had a day of obligations yesterday. I avoided them for too long and was left with no choice but to take care of them. I am anxious when it comes to preparing government paperwork. I don't trust the current regime.

At any given moment, they can choose to call you out for a mistake or a missed answer. This was concerning my daughter's financial aid for next year. The paperwork had changed from the year before and they were asking questions that seemed misleading. At the end, I had to sign and check the box in which I understand that the government can fine me up to $20,000 and/or imprisonment for a wrong answer.

I don't feel worried like this because I have done something wrong, but rather it is because I don't trust them. This reminds me of what happened with my disability. It was removed and now we have a very long fight ahead to prove what has already been determined. This has been eight years of injustice and exhaustive fighting. It really has been heartbreaking. I no longer trust institutions.

Father, please go before me into battle. Please cut down the constant bureaucracy we must endure. I had to register for a routine Covid-19 test. During the registration process, I was asked personal questions that seemed completely irrelevant to anything. I then realized that they were actually collecting data. Now I wonder if I can even trust the test itself. Am I in a category that marks me as a target for an attack?

If I refuse to answer or refuse the test altogether, would I be marked? So, Father, I place all of this in Your hands. These tests are ordered according to our questionnaire answers. This is our registry. This feels wrong. This feels like the beginning of a greater problem soon to come. Oh Lord, please protect us. You are God over all things and all things are under Your Throne in Heaven. Man doesn't control you.

When I was filling out paperwork related to my daughter's school out west, I reached over to pick up what looked like a dead piece of a blossom from my jasmine tree. I picked it up as I was talking to the woman. The piece of curled plant matter then began to move in my finger.

I suddenly realized that this was actually a cellar spider. I smashed it in my fingers quickly. I was alarmed at how this did not look like what I thought it was. I now knew that deception was surrounding my communications and related paperwork. I prayed. The Lord then spoke to me in a very clear voice:

Jesus: "In these next few weeks, the schemes of the enemy will be exposed through these institutions. Their plots will be removed and reversed. I will protect My people, including you and your house, from wicked assignments by territories, regions, municipalities and wicked governing bodies. They have marked the innocent by category, race and country, as well as by age and viewpoints.

"Remember that the enemy controls with punishing rules, lies, deception and by imprisonment. They enjoy yokes of oppression and shackles. The very thing they claim they stand for is the very opposite. How does one answer a question of race truthfully if they are half of one and half of another? What are they after? Who are they looking for? The enemy has several strongholds, including weapons and evil encampments.

"These come from medical institutions and their determination of care. There are also financial institutions. They control all forms of provision to live. What about education? They control the knowledge that is fed to your children and whether it is truth vs lies. As for the media on air, radio, print or the internet, they are now traveling on lies and falsehoods.

"Then there is the government. I allowed this as these leaders closed My churches. These leaders sacrificed children to Molech. These leaders struck out to blaspheme Me with profane lies. As I speak to you now, evil princes are being struck down. Erin, their schemes are being removed. Do you remember your path in the beginning enroute to the ladder? There were enemy armies in dark clouds coming for you.

"However, My angels created a canopy of their swords of truth over you. There on the path, you traveled in peace. This is because of the protection from My army above you. The same is true today, Erin. Nothing has changed. As for the enemy, his schemes and advancements will soon be halted. Their schemes and advancements will be halted during My Great Harvest."

Sub-Dream 1 "A corrupt leader begins to confess everything" begins...

I was in an open market place. As I walked around, I noticed a booth.

Man: Calling out. "Shell game here! Win 122!"

I looked over at him. I shook my head when I realized this man was actually President JB. I went over to talk to him.

JB: "You look like a willing participant. Come on. Guess right three times for $10 and win. This is a bargain."

Me: "For $122? You got yourself a deal."

He waved me over to a wooden table with two stools opposite each other. There in front of me were three impossibly large empty walnut shell halves. They were around five inches in diameter. He showed me where the nut was and then began to move the shells around quickly. I stopped looking at the shells and decided to watch him instead. I saw him flinch at one when he stopped. I just knew this was the one with the nut.

Me: "Far right!" I pointed to the applicable shell. "This one."

Sure enough, the nut was there. He was irritated with me.

JB: "So, you are a smart one, heh? Okay now, let's up the ante."

Me: "No thank you. I get two more tries for the $122."

JB: "Don't you want to hear my offer?"

Me: "I said no. Now, continue."

This time I noticed he moved around the outside shells and moved the center from side to side just once. I again watched his expression. I saw him focus on a shell. This time it was the center shell. I prayed to the Lord as a double check.

Jesus: "You are correct. Choose the center shell."

Me: "Center!" I pointed to the applicable shell. "This one."

His arm suddenly jutted out. He then 'accidentally' knocked the left shell off the table.

Me: "Still that one." I pointed to the same shell.

JB: "But the game here is ruined. One of the shells fell. Here is a nut on the ground."

I shook my head at him as I knew he grabbed a random nut from the ground to make it look like it was under the left shell. In a move he didn't expect, I reached over to the center shell and lifted it up. There was the nut.

Me: "Oh wow. So, you created a distraction to deceive me."

JB: "Look, I had a weak moment. Try to be more understanding. Okay, I will give you that one. You are now two for two. However, you still have one more guess left."

He showed me the nut under one of the shells. He used the same exact pattern as the last time. I remained focused on his eyes. He finally noticed I was looking at his eyes and not at the shells.

JB: "Hey, you are cheating. Watch the shells."

Me: "I am not cheating. I can look wherever I want to."

Jesus: "Go ahead and look down at the shells. The nut will be under the center shell."

JB: "Okay, time for you to guess."

Me: "Center!" I pointed to the applicable shell. "This one."

Instead of lifting the center shell, he lifted the right shell. Nothing. He then lifted the left shell. Nothing. He was now very angry with me as we both knew I was right.

JB: Shouting out loud to the passing crowd. "Hey everyone, we got a winner here! Gather around, folks, we have a winner!"

He then handed me a $1 bill, two dimes and two pennies. This was $1.22 altogether.

JB: "Congratulations!"

Me: "Wait! You said $122 and your sign says $122. Not only that, but the $1.22 is even less than the $10 I paid to play. You are crooked."

JB: Pointing at his sign. "Look carefully. There is a decimal between the 1 and the 22."

I looked over at the board and studied it carefully. The board was brown with large orange letters. Sure enough, there was a tiny brown walnut the color of the brown board glued to the board between the 1 and the 22. I couldn't help but be in shock at the nerve of this man to do something this incredibly deceptive. However, should I ever really be surprised by these corrupt leaders?

Me: "Wow, this is a clever scheme. No matter what happens, you still profit."

JB: "That's just good business. It is not my fault. After all, you are the one who decided to play. Buyers beware!"

Jesus: "Have him eat the walnut on the sign."

After Jesus gave me instructions on how to get him to do this, I had a big smile on my face. I knew just what to say based on the Lord's instructions.

Me: Pointing at the walnut 'decimal point' on the sign. "Hey, can you at least give me that wonderful walnut to eat?"

Just as my hand began to reach for it, he grabbed it and placed it in his mouth to quickly chew it and swallow. I then saw something like a tongue go over him and drop on him. His tongue was on fire, but not the 'Pentecost kind'. It was disturbing to witness. He then started to confess his wickedness. He literally looked like a puppet moving with no strings. His arm movements were grotesquely exaggerated.

JB: "See, I did what was right for me. My son died years ago. There should be something for that. I served several areas all over the world. I took care of things, people and situations. They then gave me gifts. They covered things. Gifts can't be my fault. I am important. I know what is best for the country and for the world. I get to decide these things."

Me: "No, God decides, not you."

JB: "I hate God. He isn't real. He is a shell game at my table. You see, my friends take care of me. They share with me and I share with them. All of this was good for me." He looked tortured by what he was saying. "Make my tongue stop. Please!"

He went on to confess more and more. It was exhausting to hear. He then brought out a check book. He wrote out a check for $1.22 million.

JB: "Here. Make it stop."

Me: "Sorry, but I don't want your money. Besides, it is God who is controlling your tongue, not me. I am only working through His limitless power."

A massive crowd had now gathered to listen to this leader confess. At first, they were just filming his confessions. They then started to throw drinks at him. They then became very angry and started to chase him. During all of this, he continued to confess to all he had done against the country he had vowed to serve.

Sub-Dream 1 over.

Father, so much was confessed that I heard. This man confessed to selling out his own country. He blurted out disturbing schemes. Please stop him. Even more so, could you reverse all of this evil? I pray for all of this, in Jesus' Mighty Name!

Sub-Dream 2 "From smart phones to smart bombs" begins...

Several of us were on a battlefield. It was dark outside. We were heavily armed and in the trenches. Then right after midnight, we all received alerts on our phones that our educational loans were all due. There was great anguish. Several soldiers were confused as they had paid their college debts years ago. Some that received the notice had never even gone to college.

The general was furious as the notices on the phones had lit up our positions to the enemy. He phoned the headquarters and it was an unpleasant conversation.

General: "Why the * did you send these messages? Our position is now known."

Headquarters: "It was a notice. Once opened, it became a binding contract."

General: "Well, you can stick it." He then hung up. Addressing all of us in a loud voice. "Toss your phones at the enemy."

When we tossed our phones, they became missiles. The phones were going to exactly where the enemy was. The phones had their own GPS guidance systems to locate the enemy side for maximum effectiveness. I then heard the opposing side's general: yell out "Incoming!"

Sub-Dream 2 over.

Message to future readers: Yes, I know you would not have a turned-on cellphone on a battlefield. This was obviously an analogy of how technology is being used by the enemy and will soon be turned against them. Just wanted to clear this up in advance.

Me: "Lord, please help. There is obviously a theme here. Please help us understand."

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "I am here and I am with you. I allowed these leaders to rise so that the world would be prepared for something greater... a Savior. The man (JB) will confess. He appears confused. All was put into place to serve up the USA by Thanksgiving 2020. All of what you are seeing is a ruse.

"They had hoped for 2016, but this great plan was delayed. There is so much deception and so many lies that you have no choice but to pray and allow Me to administer justice in God's Court. They will confess. They will represent themselves as they will have no advocate. The more injustice they have administered to others, the greater the measure of God's judgments that will come to them.

"While I know this is difficult to conceive, please understand the shell game that is already underway. Given that corrupt leaders control every aspect of society, including news, food, water, oil, wine, provision, property and anything else of value, then how can you trust anything you see or ingest?"

Me: "Well, we can't."

Jesus: "While World War III has already begun, very few see this. Now, let us breakdown the last decade. In December 2012, permission was granted by God for the enemy to administer judgments upon the land. Though the enemy didn't know it, this was actually allowed in order to prepare My harvest field.

"The enemy then used this time to put together a gameboard map. He then placed his princes all over the Earth to control certain regions. This meant they would send in evil to replace all that was good. They would remove worship to God. To them, this was a way to 'Build Back Better'. This was evil vs God. Anyone opposed to their evil agenda was destroyed.

"Now, there are three leaders, each with their own shell games. The gameboard is being set to draw out the already weak large nation (Russia) and weaken them further. This is all being manipulated in the background by the Red Dragon. There is a real war here and it involves many powerful and not-as-powerful nations.

"This is a 'World War' and there are many corrupt leaders involved. The world watches to see if the photos from the new war (Russia invading the Ukraine) will force the one nation (the USA) to then advance in war against the other nation who appears to be the aggressor (Russia).

"Erin, this is just one big shell game. You can tell it is when you analyze carefully what you are no longer watching! Attention has now been drawn away from the state of the USA and the surrounding nations. What seems like an old weak leader who fumbles his words is actually...

- Dismantling the Constitution.
- Raising up corrupt judges, attorneys and leaders.
- Destroying cities.
- Working with foreign leaders to take over the elections.

- Removing the fighting men.

“However, there is even more involved than this. The one former leader, the Bull, was a great threat to the progress of selling out the nations to the leader of the Red Dragon. The war involving the two nations (Russia and Ukraine) is not the main threat. The main threats are instead the leader of the Red Dragon and the other leader who enjoys island living (the leader of the Black Dragon).

“All of these events are distractions from a greater plan. The world is so worried to upset the one leader (Putin of Russia) into something like what happened at wormwood (Chernobyl), but worse, that the nations are cowering. Despite all of this, not one of these leaders are turning to Me.”

Me: “I think Hungary is, Lord.”

Jesus: “The people who know Me are continuing to pray. I have heard their cries. The wicked have plans to remove any threat or anyone opposed to them. So many evil plans have been implemented that the people are no match against these deceptions. While evil was moving across the nations with backroom deals, I was there to see it all. Erin, I have seen all of it.

“Do not worry, Erin, for I will have mercy on My people. I will not only protect My people, but I will also save those who will turn to Me. Now, be encouraged. I will not allow you to be harmed. You are greatly loved.”

Me: “Oh Lord, what can we believe anymore?”

Jesus: “When you see something, pray on it. I will reveal truth. I am there on the battlefield. I am in the backrooms planning. I am guiding My Army. Erin, angel armies have already been released. You will now see changes.”

Me: “Should we now focus more on that which we do not see?”

Jesus: “Yes, but pray as well. Remember that My favor is not with the enemy or his wicked plans. If the one leader (Putin) who has advanced against these nations knew that he was a pawn in a much bigger game, he would be furious. This leader is a leader with smaller ambitions and is a great tool. He is called by the shadow rulers as a great instrument. They are all far from Me. Now watch and see the Greatness of God!”

Me: “Lord, please hurry.”

Jesus: “Do not worry. I do the Will of My Father in Heaven. The fields here are being tilled and the ground stirred up. All is as planned. There are no surprises to God. Only those who are deceived and have the scales fall from their sights will be surprised when all they thought certain of was actually part of a deceptive shell game. Now, pray and do not worry!”

Dream over.

584 – God Foils a Planned Nuclear Apocalypse

Received on Wednesday, March 9, 2022

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day! Thank You for Your love and care. Thank You for my family and friends. I am extremely blessed by You. We went to the grocery store yesterday. Food has doubled in price here. I never thought I would see butter reach $6 to $7. It is ridiculous. Based on my dreams last night, things will become much worse. That is, unless You move very soon.

Sub-Dream 1 “The Goal – Extreme Population Reduction” begins...

I saw another meeting of the globalists. It was current day. There was a boardroom in an all-glass building. It seemed like this was in Europe, but I was not sure. The boardroom overlooked beautiful mountains and a lake. It was stunning. There was snow. It was an opulent setting for an evil meeting.

There were various scientists meeting with the globalists as well. Some were experts in climate and others were physicists, some nuclear physicists. There were several people there and their display of technology for the meeting was very advanced.

Presenter: “The flow of information has now been centralized. We have distracted people’s attention from the plight of the economy to the Russia – Ukraine war. All eyes are on Ukraine. We know by the global lockdown that we were able to achieve our emissions goals, as well as the need to centralize populations into urban hubs where they are able to be controlled.

“Our theory is to leave farming to key partners who will then regulate global consumption. This will reduce the obesity issue. As we know through the pandemic, we were able to remove a great portion of those who had issues medically and with obesity. It also offered a great opportunity, although difficult, to centralize weaker problems that caused drains on our medical systems.

“In addition to the standard population die off that occurred from 2020 to present day, we were fortunate to have an even greater reduction in the population. Media has reported six million. However, because of other data, we know they have inaccurate reporting because of inaccurate reporting from Russia, India, China and other regions. We therefore believe the die off was perhaps to the benefit of the planet twenty million.

“However, we are uncertain what the exact count is. We do know that each wave that was sent out attacked the weaker portions of the population. By isolation, we were also able to reduce the population. This is because isolation often leads to certain behaviors such as suicide and drug use leading to overdoses. We also found that the long-term side effects of these viruses, as well as the effects of the vaccines, have been determined to increase mental health issues.

“Typical are the causation effects of lack of socialization. In this lack, we see depression, anxiety and drug use. However, unexpected issues that have alarmed us is the increase in psychosis, bipolar, schizophrenia and homicidal behaviors. We have seen an increase in murders and suicides as a result. This can be good though as their deaths serve to further eliminate the drains on our resources.

“Now, these are just studies. We have also been able to obtain a massive DNA database for the population. We can now begin to further advance our data in new and innovative ways. We are greatly encouraged by our findings. As many of you know, our global emissions have decreased. However, they have not decreased as dramatically as we had hoped.”

Panelist: “What are the plans to continue with the trajectory so we do not lose momentum?”

Presenter: “Well, the pause in medical treatments, those considered secondary like cancer treatments and other health conditions, created a unique opportunity. This represents a difficult issue, but hidden illnesses should advance faster. We should see an increase in the reduction of resource drains in the next 18 months. An unexpected result of the variants and the vaccines are the increase in cardiac conditions, mostly in the male population.

“Our data is based off of tracing, DNA databases, death indexes and hospital data. Much of this has been collected through government agencies and insurance companies. Although the world sees a different database, we know by our private database that we are meeting our goals with both expected outcomes and unexpected, but beneficial, outcomes. Any questions?”

Panelist: “What happens when or if news leaks to contradict public data?”

Marketing Strategist: “All of this has been taken care of in advance. We have global partners in media who understand the greater pressing need of this situation. They are working to remove fringe groups and others who work against the mainstream of information.

"Now, the average person in America spends four hours online. This means that the flow of information is vital to our future. We also have access to cloud servers and other information to go after disinformation... or should we say information that is not beneficial to what we are working to achieve globally."

Panelist: "Are all on board? Can we eliminate most of the 'disinformation'?"

Social Media Strategist: "We can implant a seed of doubt against anyone. We have an army who will go after anyone who is not in the common mindset. We can then make them appear to be unhinged. We can then remove them from their platforms and cancel them. We have other options available if necessary. Information is power and, for the greater good, we must control this. It is no longer that difficult to do so."

Host: "We will now hear the report on Ukraine."

Globalist: "All is going as planned. We are working on the advancement of the conflict. All is moving as planned."

Panelist: "Have they determined which locations to strike yet?"

Globalist: "We are narrowing this down. However, this should accelerate our reset and bring the global temperatures down 2 to 3 degrees (Note: Scientists say that the nuclear winter that takes place after a global nuclear apocalypse would cause such a cooldown). We are prepared. In the next meeting after the weekend, we will discuss the issues of die off from the resulting famines and other issues.

"As for this weekend, you will be enjoying recreation and amenities while we stay back and work." The audience all laughed and seemed so happy. It was morbid. "I would like to reiterate that all has gone very well thus far. Now, please enjoy your weekend. I know some of you have sub-group meetings. This is all expected, so please enjoy your time away and your time staying here."

Sub-Dream 1 over.

This is one of the clearest dreams I have ever had. It was shocking. My heart was racing when I woke up from this dream.

Me: "So, Father, You are showing me the plans of the wicked. It is far worse than I thought. How do we not have fear when these people are walking around? They are cruel and calculating."

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "Erin, I am here and I am with you. Greater is He who is in you than he who is in the world. I am showing you the plans of the enemy of God. Now, I showed you the shell game yesterday. I showed you something unique in this. Do you remember?"

Me: "Yes. You taught me to study the mover of the shells and not the movement of the shells. I watched his eyes instead of his movements. I watched his actions, his eyes and his mannerisms and ignored his words and the moving of the shells."

Jesus: "That is correct. Although interesting, don't watch the war news. Watch the movers of the moving shells instead. What do you see?"

Me: "Putin removed his ex-wife and (I believe) his son to an underground city in Siberia. He then sent his girlfriend and (I believe) their four children to a chalet in Switzerland. Both of their exact locations are unknown."

Jesus: "Interesting. Now, why do you think he would do such a thing?"

Me: "To get them out of the area quickly?"

Jesus: "Yes. But why? What does this leader see coming that would cause him to do such a thing? If China is his greatest ally, why does he not send them there instead? In reality, why did he even move them at all?"

Me: "Of course... for threat of a nuclear war! This means he would first have to possibly send a nuke. A nuke would then be sent back to Russia in retaliation. The situation would only escalate exponentially from there."

Jesus: "Again, watch the movers of the shell... the game movers. Now look at the problems in North America. They have the commodities available to save the country... even to the north also. So, why don't they?"

Me: "Because they have an agenda to comply to and it is energy related."

Jesus: "Yes. To the watching eye, they are being foolish. However, you are not to worry as I am about to place a massive hook in this leader's mouth. I will also cause all of their wicked plans to be placed on a 'long game half time'. I will now raise up My Army. All of the evil leaders and their cohorts will confess as they flee. All the areas which were corrupted will be forced to correct themselves.

"Now, look at the scales of the world. They are unfairly balanced. The weights were stolen from the will of the people. I will open the border to the north and I will close the border to the south. The wicked will hide in holes like foxes. The fools will run to the hills. Those who spread false information and act as religious leaders who speak for God will be forced to reveal their positions and open their bank accounts to the people.

"All the destruction they have done will be reversed and brought back on them in the blink of an eye. Only the truth will be reported that God has come with His army of angels to make right to the land. They will also report that His army of saints in the thousands have gone out to perform awesome deeds for the Kingdom of Heaven. You will rebuild walls, restore broken homes, lives and even cities... all in My Name.

"There will not be a dry eye amongst you as all the fortunes lost will be restored. All of your debts will be paid. Even more, the wealthy will say 'I have too much. Please take more for the Kingdom of Heaven. The righteousness of God is more desirable than all of the riches of this Earth.' They will then give their hearts to Me and trust in Me for their eternal inheritance.

"Those who were called as good as dead will be lifted up and their graves opened. They will walk about as they did in their youth and confess to the evil done unto them. Their stories will be heard throughout the lands. Groans will also be heard from the holes and caves of the wicked. Now, who is like God, My Father? No one! Now let us see them try to get their gods to proclaim this.

"Let their crystals be charged at the full moon festival. Let this power their lights, heal them and grant them eternal life. Fools. Their crystals cannot do such a thing. They are merely rocks. Why are they worshiping the rocks that God created? As for Me, I am the Rock of Salvation. It is by My power that I will give both light and eternal life. What other 'god' can do such things? There are none!

"What plastic resin 'god head' can heal the sick or raise the dead? They will melt in the fire. They won't even cry out as they will have no feelings left to do so. Erin, war has arrived and you are in the midst of it. It is a war like no other that has ever been fought. It is just as harmful, even more so, and just as deadly, but painfully so. This is a great battle for the souls of the Earth.

"This is a different kind of killing field. This is a killing field meant to wipe out almost the entire population by various methods. They are liars and thieves. They are the holders of the shells. However, there is one who has remained quiet recently (the leader of the Black Dragon), even on his normal platforms. Why? This is because he now knows that I am coming to claim My Bride in order to bring in a Great Harvest of souls.

“Rejoice, Erin, as it is almost half time. What will come out in the third quarter will be a whole new ball game, one the opposing side never saw coming. My presence will shake the nations. Prepare. Continue to pray. I love you and I am here. I am in you and with you. Nothing shall come against you.”

Dream over.

585 – God’s Glory Will Cause The Enemy to Flee

Received on Saturday, March 12, 2022

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day! Thank You above all else for You, Jesus and the promise of Heaven. Thank You for Your Spirit. The Spirit of the Lord is coming into the Vessels You have prepared. We will then be secret weapons to heal the land and prepare hearts for what is to come. Father, please strike down the enemy assignments over the Earth with Your angel armies.

Please topple evil assignments in the spirit realm, as well as in the natural. Please do so for all that is above in the skies, as well as below in the undergrounds. Please protect Your people, in Jesus’ Mighty Name. I woke up at 6:00am from a series of dreams. Just before I fell back to sleep again, I heard Jesus speak to me...

Voice of Jesus: “Tell My people to prepare for a spiritual bomb cyclone. A great move of My Spirit amongst you will be established.”

I then fell into a deep, deep sleep, deeper than normal for me/

Sub-Dream 1 “A Witch wishes to plague the church” begins...

I was in a large church with many rooms. People had gathered there for an event. While they were told to come for a revival, it was actually a trap. I was there as a spy. I recognized many people from 25 years ago. The people looked different though. They now looked downtrodden. While they had lost hope, I saw them joyful in gathering with each other. I noticed many were sick and had crutches or were dying from diseases.

I could not see the altar or sanctuary for the ingathering. I instead saw that they were waiting in the halls, various classrooms and the cafeteria. I noticed that the cafeteria had no food or coffee. As I walked through the halls, I saw young people who were glad to see each other. I saw elderly people sitting and leaning on canes and so glad to hear laughter again. I didn't hear any music.

All were there because they were invited and waiting on a miracle. I then walked to a side hall. I looked to my right into a space that almost looked like a mall store. It was a memorial boutique shop with glass displays in front. There was also a massive memorial like garden. Very difficult to describe.

There were crosses very close to each other and clustered in families. The sizes of the crosses were based on the age of those who died. The crosses were literally on top of each other. I also saw tiny altars set up, as well as handwritten memorial walls and various other displays.

Me: "Lord, how will this work when You raise the dead here? Where are their bodies?"

I was overwhelmed by the magnitude of the death here. I then noticed a mirror image of this space across the hall. Over the glass was brown paper and the words 'Opening Soon' in red across the paper. I stopped and looked at all the people here and I realized something was wrong. All the young men were crippled in their legs as if something had caused this.

Jesus: "Go in reverse down the hall and to the left part of the sanctuary."

I did as the Lord instructed. I opened a double door like a high school gymnasium door. All the landscape had been blown apart. There was total darkness.

Me: "Lord, these people are here because they have been told there will be great miracles of healing. It seems like only this church has any light or power."

Jesus: "Yes. Now, I want you to see something. Go to the basement."

I then saw a corridor that sloped downward. It kept going and was becoming extremely cold. I reached a dark area that looked like a dungeon. I saw a body on the floor that seemed to have rats moving inside it. The entire area was covered in black tar and soot. Since there was no light, God illuminated the area for me. I then heard the voice of an old woman. I could tell she was extremely evil.

Old Woman: "Why are you here? I am busy with preparations."

Me: I did not look directly at her. "There are rats here and these are diseased."

Old Woman: "Don't worry, the people meeting above us won't suffer a long death. The end will come quickly for them."

The woman had a small crow that was covered in tar and soot. She pulled up a small cage. It was actually a morbid looking miniature iron maiden. I suddenly realized that this old woman was a witch.

Old Woman: "All I must do is to complete my process. They are all so stupid. There is no one to save them now."

She placed the crow in the iron maiden. The crow did not resist. She pulled out an iron stake and a hammer. She lined up the stake with the crow's heart and was about to pound the stake into the helpless bird.

Jesus: "Stop her."

Me: 'Stop! In the Name of Jesus I denounce your authority, your position and your power. Flee to the pit of hell... in Jesus' Name!"

The old woman screamed in great pain. In a flash, the entire room was transformed into a mechanical room. It had lights and was now free from any evil objects. I watched as the now free and cleaned up crow flew down the corridor and out into the fresh air.

Me: "Lord, what was that witch doing? What was her assignment?"

Jesus: "To set a great plague upon the church. It is now free. Now go upstairs and open the sanctuary. We heal today. What the enemy planned for evil, I will turn this into good. Rejoice, Erin, as I am setting the captives free. My church is ill.

"Only my remnant, those who have come through the refiner's fire and still remain, their heart is remaining true to My call, My voice, will carry out their assignments. You see that the people here are sick beyond cure and looking for answers to prayer and a Savior. Now, Erin, let Me work through you. It is time for Me to work through My Army."

Sub-Dream 1 over.

I woke up suddenly. I was deeply disturbed that the enemy was using God's churches as a death chamber for killing. I guess witchcraft has been used against the church for a long time. It was sad. I also had a dream the night before last.

Sub-Dream 2 "An impractical wedding rehearsal" begins...

I was enroute to the grocery store. A small white vehicle was road raging me. I finally pulled over to let it pass. The car pulled over into a church parking lot. I could see what looked like the pope exiting the driver's seat quickly enroute to the church to beat the appointed time. He had a small travel companion who seemed like a eunuch. I am not sure how I knew this was a eunuch other than noticing he had a very high voice.

Just as they entered the front doors of the church, a limo pulled up to the front. It was Friday night and it seemed like a wedding rehearsal. What made this odd was that the bride was already in her full wedding dress. I saw her go into the church with her attendants. I didn't see any other cars arrive. I decided to peek inside the double doors. The church was a historic church and very beautiful.

From the entry, the aisle had a very slippery slope downward at a steep decline. The bride was alone with her attendants at the altar. She faced the pope. The train of her gown was at least thirty feet long and spread out like a fan. I marveled at the fact that she had somehow navigated the steep aisle dressed as she was.

As for the pope, he did not look like the real pope. He wore a wacky costume. His outfit looked like a cheap foam cosplay cape and cone. The black scroll work was cheap. He also had an elaborate gold necklace that looked more fitting for a gangster. He also had face makeup and big circular rouge marks on his cheeks. His lips were red. It made me sad as the church itself was so beautiful. Since I was not part of the wedding party, I decided to leave. I noticed that there was no groom there during the practice.

Sub-Dream 2 over.

Me: "Oh no, did I miss the wedding? What was this dream about?"

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "Oh Erin, you didn't miss your wedding. Was this even your kind of church?"

Me: "No."

Jesus: "Was this even your kind of religion?"

Me: "No."

Jesus: "Then do not mourn a wedding in which you were not the bride. There was no groom here. You missed nothing. The bride and her entourage will be waiting a very long time."

Me: "Oh Lord, this is so sad."

Jesus: "Why? They have made their choice. They were quite happy. As for you and those who watch for Me, I am the Groom. My Bride is collected from all the places she watches for me. If you would like to have knowledge of the grand romance, study Jewish tradition, not Anglican tradition. Even studying this, know that I do not come the same way. I am coming to revive My Church. My Church is now either dead or on life support. So many are far from Me.

"I did very little healing in synagogues. Most were performed outside enroute to the church, understand? If one calls out and says that they can only be healed at a church, this is not to be trusted. John healed and baptized in the wilderness, not in the synagogues. Many will call out those who have lost much because they are searching for Me and believe I have called them. They only look to where they know I would be.

"However, My church has been corrupted. The people were left unaware. They are like sheep being led to the slaughter. The enemy does his best work where two or more are gathered in My Name. Because they believe all of the churches are Mine, they do not understand what has been dedicated to the synagogues of the devil or the churches dedicated to witches. This generation has no leading."

Me: "This is because when they search, they now find mostly lies. Lord, please have mercy. In my dream, those people had great hope."

Jesus: "Do not worry, Erin, for I will hold the wicked in account for the poor, the needy and the sick. They will be removed. I will establish a new church. I will build it Myself, along with My Bride, and an everlasting covenant of love of My Father will be established. He will be over it and I will be married to My Bride. Nothing will defile what God has established and ordained. My covenant was established through My Words and nothing shall come against this. The enemy will not succeed."

Me: "You have placed Isaiah 49 on my heart."

Jesus: "These words are true, Erin. I will pour out Living Water into My Bride!"

I thought this was over for the day. However, I was still struggling with what was occurring in the Ukraine. I just read about the bombing of the maternity and children's section of a hospital. I could see people carrying out women in labor and others who could walk were very pregnant with blankets wrapped around them. Where could they go in the dead of winter? I mourned for these women and for their babies. It was awful.

I remembered the Scriptures of both Matthew 24:19-20 and Mark 13:17-18: "Alas for women who are pregnant and for those who are nursing infants in those days. Pray that your flight may not be in winter or on a sabbath.”

I think of the people, Lord, and, because of the technology, we can see the visible war. It makes me wonder if we are already in the beginning of the tribulation. Please, Lord, please help us all. Evil is uniting and are operating effectively. Please show the world Your great strength. Lord, please rise up in us. Jesus began to speak to me again.

Jesus: “Erin, there is so much you cannot see from your position. The wicked have gathered against the people. You know their plans against you because what they accuse you of is the very thing they do. They are liars and this is visible. Now, you must understand that there are only two sides... truth seekers and liars. This is a war of good vs evil. It is not all what you see with your eyes.

“It is instead a grand illusion of epic proportions. The war is up above you where you cannot see it. However, you feel the effects of it here. Very little is hidden from the discerning and My remnant. When you pray, pray against the principalities, princes and powers over these regions... that which you cannot see. Also pray against that which is below the Earth, understand?

“Pray that which is hidden be exposed and all strongholds be removed. This is where you must begin. My church leaders and the like have given themselves over to vanity. Their personal appearances and ambitions have been declared with no fear of God. While they claim that I have called them to this, I did not. They will be unruly when they discover that My Bride is My remnant and not their broad road philosophies and actions.

“Out of jealousy, they will try to harm My Bride, but I will protect My Bride and turn it back on them. They have given themselves over to the spirit of pride and vanity and then claim it is done in My Name. They have essentially given themselves to the works of the devil. Pray that these false arbiters of truth are turned over and exposed. They are usually the ones who use many words to lead those astray to make their case that God has made them journeymen on a mission.

“However, I tell you the truth... more is said in less words of truth, My Word, than an entire series of vanity filled lies. Many go by this road because it feels good. There is no conviction to holiness or to casting down strongholds and sinning no more. There is no wrong course of living as they instruct by the tongue of a serpent. This is like honey on the lips of fools that leads to the depths of Sheol.

"As for those I have called unto Me, I will cause them to see into the spiritual, that which is unseen by the naked eye. I will grant them dreams and visions. I will prepare their hearts to receive that which is soon to come. My Words do not return void and My Promises are true. My people will call out to Me and I will answer. I will cause the wicked to flee.

"The evil planned for the innocent will fall upon them as they flee to the hills. Remember that I am God. I see all things done in secret. There is nothing beyond My sight. Men lie to themselves and say 'God will not see me. Let me sin just a little while and I will be forgiven.' I tell you the truth... this is evil. I see everything. Bring your sins before Me in full view. Confess your sins and then repent.

"Turn from doing evil and I will forgive you. This takes a willing and repentant heart. You need to be contrite and earnest, longing to do good. For these, I send help. These strongholds derive power from the devil, so pray that these strongholds be removed. I look at the heart and I come for hearts. Erin, your heart is on Me. Your vanity is removed and your love is on Me. You have died to self."

Me: "Sometimes it flares back up. I lost so many years, Lord. I want so much to be a beautiful Bride to my Groom. The mirror tells a different story. This is what it is. I am who I am now and only You can do a miracle. In my dreams, I am young and strong again. What You have put inside my heart is on display on the outside like a banner pointing to you.

"Oh Lord, I don't want to say more because I could then appear to be vain. Please forgive me. It is just that I am so excited for what You will be doing with all of us. By Your Words, Heaven will be made visible in us here on Earth. Thank You for this, Lord. You are worthy of all of our praises."

Jesus: "This is good, Erin. Do not worry as all of My promises are true. You have learned through trials that there is more to this. Many here have received their reward in full. Pray as they will be in great shock and horror when they see Heaven visible on Earth. Now pray for those who are far from Me. Pray for them to turn to see Me. Some will and many more than you can even conceive. Now enjoy this day, Erin, as I am with you."

Me: "Oh Lord, please protect us during this coming storm. It is actually called a bomb cyclone. Please keep our trees standing and our property free from flooding or washouts. Please keep our power on."

Jesus: "Very well. I am with you. Rejoice instead when storms come as I have overcome all that you see." Dream over.

586 – We Are Ready For Our Very Large Wedding

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for one more day here! Thank You for all the small things You do for us every day. Thank You for Your love and great affection. Father, leaders are important to You. You raise them up to shape the course of the ways of the world. You do this to fulfill prophecy and to bring in Your order of business. The nations enjoy peace when You allow it and our kings go to war because You allow hearts to be stirred to battle.

There are so many factors You weigh when determining if a nation or nations are good. However, You also do not entertain fools and eventually all of their wicked plots and schemes are exposed. Not long ago, leaders and kings, often in spring, led their troops, armies, battalions and brigades out onto the battlefields. They were there to fight and lead, but now wars are fought differently.

Right now, we are seeing wars being fought in ways unlike any prior wars. It is WWIII because many nations have come against one nation (the Bear) and all of its people, even the innocent ones. It is sad because many mothers and fathers have now lost their sons and even daughters. Many children have lost their parents. We are watching as lines are drawn by the nations in the sand.

One nation has gathered many enemies of the nations and now I believe that there are now 'wars and rumors of wars' (Matthew 24:6). The leaders of our nation seem to be similar to that which You describe in Habakkuk 2. However, I would like to believe that Habakkuk's prayer is soon about to be fulfilled as in Chapter 3. This is about Your power and might being on full display throughout the lands. When You come to revive us, this will be a mighty revival unlike anything the world has seen in history.

Sub-Dream 1 "Prepare for the coming King" begins...

I saw ten mighty angels move across the Earth at the sound of Your command. The angels lifted the lands by their corners like they were picking up a floor rug. I saw a commanding angel make a declaration.

Angel: "This season removing the unclean remnant. Shaking the dust and all residue which remains. Preparing the lands for God's Holy Army, 7 days."

I saw a great shaking as the angels prepared the way for the Lord. I saw a magnificent red carpet being laid out for our coming King!

Sub-Dream 1 over.

Me: "Lord, Your immense power in my dreams seems too fantastical to imagine. I know that You have this and that nothing is impossible for You. You are preparing the lands for what is coming. But when? Is this for the New Earth or is this for now? Please help us, Lord. Please come immediately as we need You more than ever."

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "I am here with you. Erin, think of this in terms of hearts, not just physical nations. This is not about real estate and deeds related to ownership as God owns it all. Since God has created all of this, He can remove it, declare it good or keep it as it is and work from there. All of it is His and, by His authority, no being, whether angel, demon or scheme of man, can remove all God has established.

"So, what does the enemy do next when he knows that I am about the heart? He works to corrupt it. By doing so by corrupt works, he makes the land unclean. However, the enemy is never in control as I am always in control. The nations are being exposed and shaken by God. There are many layers of filth. There is debris gathering in the corners and festering.

"While sin usually resides in darkness, you now see it residing in full view. There is no longer any shame. There is no fear of God in these treacherous leaders. All that you see with your eyes is focused on one thing. This happens even as the enemy works all things together for the 'good of evil'. However, you are always to remember that the enemy is not a house divided, understand?

"I have sent angels to confound them. By confusing their actions, their evil works shall be exposed. This will happen even through confessions. While the undiscerning world does not see it, the enemy has one governing body and it is united. They are united despite operating in the opposite of the fruits of the spirit. Do not worry though as I am exposing the plots of the wicked.

“Those with pride will still not turn from their evil. They will instead proclaim their own personal righteousness when there is none. The governments of many nations are corrupt. Their compromise is like a foolish youth with no leading, someone who appeals to a prostitute for advice. They go to the prostitute for advice instead of someone who fears God and loves My Laws.

“Once a leader is compromised and the very decrees under God has been forgotten or My Words expelled as hateful, this is when the foundation of that nation crumbles. This is due to sheer neglect. They even declare the records of history false and destroy the records room of evidence of God’s favor in battles and land acquisitions. While God could destroy all of this as it is His right, the Father’s love is even greater.

“He sent Me when the land and the people were under punishing occupation and taxation. More so, their hearts had been far from Me. They were looking for their Redeemer and King, but many missed Me because the thought of God in flesh as the least of these and not as a King repulsed them. As the leaders and arbiters of the Law of Moses were repulsed by Me, so too did I die in a repulsive state.

“They failed to see that God, in His great wisdom and love, sent His only begotten Son, that whosoever believes in Him shall not perish, but have everlasting life. They failed to see the magnificent gift of mercy that My Father sent. The land was then shaken and graves opened. The temple curtains were torn in two. The sun went dark. Romans fell to their knees, brave men, and declared ‘surely this was the Son of God!’

“I then rose. As My Father is the God of the Impossible, death did not hold Me. Erin, death did not keep Me. I was given the keys and I still have them and I always will. Well, flash forward two thousand years later and here we are. Once again, leaders seem to have severe amnesia. However, to say this, one would have to claim that their mind was actually clear at some point of time in the past.

“While this may be true for some, it is not true for others. They have died spiritually as they have been given over to the powers of darkness. Their minds are cloaked like in a fog on visible display. Now, tell Me about your discovery this morning.”

Me: “While I am not sure why, in nature, some animals are smarter than other animals. For example, the red squirrels around our house. I threw a nut just inches away from a baby red squirrel four times, but it did not see it, hear it or do anything to recognize it. It was literally right in front of its head and he could not see it. They are so clever in some areas, but not so bright in other areas.”

Jesus: “These red squirrels are young and still learning to be aware of their surroundings. Still, this was a good example of not seeing the obvious signs and warnings. This can mean that they are easily susceptible to prey. The youth in the lands are often like this and usually have little leading.

“Now, you are witnessing what you believe is the general stupidity of many leaders. However, you are to think of it this way instead. Remember what I told you about seeing things with your spiritual eyes. I have called My angel armies into battle over the princes and their strongholds over the territories. You will continue to see powers diminished as these authorities of darkness are cutdown and removed.

“You will witness confusion. You will see admissions of guilt and participation. You will see the demonic strongholds in individuals changed or removed. Some of these strongholds will then boil to the surface. This will be due to their actions of thrusting them into the light. In fear, they will then run for the cover of darkness. You will witness an unusual tide coming across the lands. Along with this, a gravitational pull will call up that which is drawn to the Father in Heaven.”

Me: “Hmm, amplified behaviors like this seem similar to a mental hospital during the full moon. My friend was a nurse at one of them and said they had to put more staff on the floor during the full moon as their patients became noticeably more irritable.”

Jesus: “Interesting analogy. In this case, the full moon is the Bride. The gravitational pull from the Bride will cause the impurities of the enemy below the surface to be brought forth into the light. As for My Bride, all the purities, all that is good in the Kingdom of Heaven and on Earth, will be brought forth. My Bride is without stain or blemish. I have now called upon My Bride to prepare for the Great Celebration. Those who recognize My Bride can then choose to attend the celebration or run away from it.”

Me: “But I thought that God had already been preparing for all of this and was very close to being completely finished.”

Jesus: “Yes, Erin, but this is a very large and elaborate wedding. There has never been such a grand event. The Bride even helped to prepare the guest list here on Earth. This list has now been completed. Heaven has now been prepared.”

Me: "Lord, You are a Divine Mystery! You are so incredible. I am amazed at how many of us are having the same words, signs and wonders from You. We are all in awe. We are in both scary times and exciting times. All that You have promised is coming to pass. Your Bride is a church like no other. All of our hope is in You, Lord. I am excited that the angels are rolling out the Red Carpet for You as we speak."

Jesus: "Now watch and see this as good. The angels are still preparing by shaking out the dust of the Earth. Rejoice, Erin, and prepare for what is coming. Your heart is ready!"

Dream over.

587 – The Great Reversal, Revival and Restoration

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day! Thank You for the promises of Spring. Thank You for all that we have. Thank You for the love of family and friends. Without them, I would be alone in this dark place. All I have to cling to are Your promises. Right now, I am grieving at the state of this world and the great scheme of the enemy against Your people. We thank You for Your love and protection, especially over our children.

As I went to the grocery store yesterday, I became angry about injustice. Some personal situations arose and I was so upset. I literally fumed as I shopped. When I become angry (which, thankfully, doesn't happen much anymore), I become very focused on my tasks and keenly aware of my surroundings. For some reason, I am not distracted. I never used to be like this, so I must assume it is the Lord assisting me.

When I got out to the car, I thought, well, I have two choices. I either go to battle in the natural here or I go to battle in the spiritual. I drove to where I felt safe and away from distractions. I started with a plea to God via the Lord's Prayer. I went to my Father, my Creator, in His Courts, to appeal to Him and ask for His help over our area.

In my warrior's Holy Spirit prayer language, I asked God to send His regiments of angel armies over our area and cutdown the wicked territorial prince and his hosts. This prince's area encompasses Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, New Brunswick, Nova Scotia, Prince Edward Island, Newfoundland and other northern territories. This wicked prince is vile and is a dark looking beast somewhat like a pterodactyl.

His wingspan is so great it covers half of the territory mentioned. He keeps the area dark. This area is impoverished because of this, her inhabitants imprisoned. He also acts as a Northeast gateway watchman to prepare and keep the land immobile and weak. He is vicious. The Lord showed me this treacherous entity around seven years ago. I prayed to the Lord to help me finally deal with this entity once and for all.

I prayed in the Spirit for God's angel armies to come with massive swords and cut down this prince and render him helpless. I prayed that the angels would cut off his arms, legs and tongue. It was interesting as my prayer language basically consisted of cutting down six separate areas of this vicious entity:

1. The entity's belt of lies.
2. His breastplate of unrighteousness. This consisted of a sword straight through his torso into the very heart of his darkness.
3. The entity's legs that aid it to run into evil against God's people and to cause war.
4. To cut down its tent covering of the wicked cover of darkness over the area that enslaves and imprisons God's people.
5. The thoughts and minds of evil. This meant cutting the head off with a sword.
6. The final was the sword of God's truth. This truth was now to be released over the entire area.

God then showed me a vision of His angels cutting down the prince:

1. They removed his ability to spread out by cutting down his arms and legs. This serves to remove oppression.
2. They destroyed his span or cover of the area by shredding his wings of darkness.
3. They cut into his belly where he digested wicked plots and spewed them out.
4. They cut his tongue off, the tongue that spread so much lies and confusion.
5. They cut into his breastplate/chest of strongholds and of dark coverings.
6. They cut off his head, his gateway to other princes, and opened the area to the angel armies of God.

It was a prayer session with many tears. I am not sure when this cutdown will happen, if it has already happened or if it is soon to happen. I just don't know. What I do know is that will happen as per God's divine will.

Father, the world is in an uproar. Earthquakes are now increasing. Our government has become so corrupt with lies. Truth is not recognized. It is like a buried treasure no one can find. Truth cannot be found anymore unless they have the voice of truth in them via the Holy Spirit. I am so sad.

Me: "Lord, You showed me the angel armies from Heaven cutting down the evil princes. Oh, please let this be for now! Your promises are true. The world is amiss as the enemy continues to dismantle all that is good. Please remember Your children. We love You. Please help us."

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "I am here, Erin. I have heard your prayers, your pleas and your cries for justice against the wicked. Remember that there are two houses. The first is the House of God. The House of God is united and stands on firm foundation. It cannot be divided. Then there is the house of evil. The house of evil is united by evil, but its foundation is corruption. However, since it is still a strongman's house, it too stands firm.

"I wanted you to understand this concept of two separate houses. The evil operates in scripted chaos. It is a well-choreographed executed plan to change all the foundations of the Earth and that which is the established Creation of God. Their ambitions are great. They are now working with even greater speed than ever. Why?

"This is because they now know that the Kingdom of God and His angel armies are nearby. While this is orchestrated evil, they are limited because they are no longer privy to the things of God and His righteousness. My ways are much higher. Death did not defeat Me. This was their greatest miscalculation. Here is the Good News, I already know that God wins.

"I know their plans and they are the opposite of good. I know that there is now very little good news in the world. Still, you are not to worry as I carry good news with Me. Do you think My plan is not greater than that of the enemy? Given that I observe and know exactly what he plans to do, how can I not be always one step ahead? I am. Do I not see everything the enemy does? I do.

"Since I know all of the plans of the wicked, I can head this off in My perfect timing. Since I know all of their ways, I can then stop them with My own advance, an advance I will make sure the enemy never saw coming. Do not worry, Erin, as I have them in My sights. They cannot hide from Me.

"All of their wicked schemes will come back upon them. All will be reversed. You will be vindicated here and in God's Courts. It has already happened. The edict has My seal on this. The scroll is complete. The writing is clear and by My own hand. It is finished, understand?

“Now, I realize that you cannot rejoice at the same time you are suffering. It is a mysterious thing. Erin, the ways of God are mysterious. However, you are not to worry as your time of the Great Reversal, the Great Revival and the Great Restoration is soon to come. This will be on Earth as it is in Heaven. Erin, it is already here! Do not worry as I am here. I love you!”

Dream over.

588 – The Great Wedding Rehearsal

Received on Saturday, March 19, 2022

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day! Thank You for Your love and affection. Thank You for the gift of dreams and visions. This is an entire communication system directly from You in which the enemy cannot access. Thank You for my husband, family and Nest friends. I have so enjoyed all of my dreams from You. In addition to these, You have shown me and instructed me on their meanings upon waking.

Father, guide my pen on these pages. You have always had me write in pen so it can never be said of me that these were edited, crafted or erased. These pages are not mine. You have also reminded me that these are not enemy writings of a trance state or new age automatic writing. Coming from the new age when I was in my foolish youth, there was and is a great difference between that which the Holy Spirit proclaims in a scribe vs a trance auto writer.

Basically, when reading that which God has given in this script, there is a free-flowing confirmation of the love of the heart of our Father in Heaven. There is what is called illumination whereby God Himself says 'yes, this is good'. When you read these, you might not always like His truth. This is because His truth can convict us of sins that we need to address so we as believers in Jesus are all connected in unison to the Words of the Holy Spirit. These writings are love based from God.

This is in direct opposition to new age writing. These types of writings tend to praise things other than God. It begins with something like 'praise the moon, the sun and this energy source.' When reading new age writing, I usually immediately get a headache. Headaches are often used by God to redirect our attention from evil things to His good things. I don't want to glorify evil by talking about this too long, but it is good to know.

When someone is working for the enemy, there will be a lot of 'I / me' talk vs 'God/Jesus' talk. You can ask yourself... is what I am reading giving fully glory to God or is it meant to edify the writer instead? Are they arrogant? Do they place themselves higher than anyone else? Do they use words like never or always? Do they talk in absolutes like 'I never sin' or 'I never gossip'?

In other words, these are signs of someone who probably has not been through the furnace of affliction. I used to declare absolutes. However, to do so is dangerous. When you make a vow or declaration by your mouth pertaining to the Lord, stop yourself and repent immediately. When we declare something as an absolute, that is what we will then be tested on.

How many people have said 'I never speed' and then get a speeding ticket later that week? Talking foolishly is easy, but repenting to God on these stops the test. Father, please help me to keep my tongue from foolish talk. Please let my words be a blessing, not a curse or an invitation to further tests. I loved my dream from You on the morning of Friday, March 18, 2022...

Sub-Dream 1 "The Great Wedding Rehearsal" begins...

There were many believers gathering and making last minute preparations for a grand event. I saw a massive beautiful venue for this event. There were lakes, paths, meadows and flowers. There were beautiful flowering vines and fruit trees. Everything lovely was there. All the people called to prepare for the event were so joyful. Each person had skills and talents to aid in the great event.

The people had so much joy and were of all nationalities and races. There were orchestras with stringed instruments and wind and horn instruments. It was a full orchestra. I saw many harps. So many amazing voices gathered together with choirs of praise. They sang during the preparations. There was joy and thanks giving.

In a nearby building, there was a high-tech kitchen where caterers, chefs and bakers were preparing for the Grand Rehearsal Dinner. Even though they were busy, there was even joy and singing in the kitchen.

One of the head chefs: "We are delighted as nothing is out of place and there are no shortages."

This chef then gave me a petits fours (a small cake) and it was out of this world amazing. Clearly, all of the ingredients had come from Heaven.

Me: "Oh wow, this is wonderful! The guests will love these. Incredible."

The workers continued to prepare as I left the kitchen area. I then went to the vineyards to see what wine was being prepared. There was a beautiful stone winery. The vintners came out. Each were holding a sample of the best of their harvests. Each had a different wine for each course of the dinner.

Vintner: "Come taste and see what the Lord has done here."

They were all so happy. While each one hoped their wine was fantastic, there was no mean competitive spirit to best the others. Indeed, they were so joyful for each other. I sampled from each glass and from each harvest. Tears ran down my cheeks as I sipped each one as I could see how these vineyard owners had sacrificed all to the Lord in their difficult pasts. It made me appreciate these wines even more. Each sip was a journey and each one was unique. There were all kinds of wines presented.

Vintner: "There is still the sweetest wine still to come in due season. It is amazing and the bouquet will be complete."

Me: "Well then, this will make for a wonderful full course Rehearsal Dinner. We can then enjoy the sweet wine for the Wedding Feast. It will be perfect."

I was so happy. I walked through the gardens to oversee the beautiful pergolas with lights being finished. Even though this was a massive undertaking, everyone was so happy. I then went over to the entrance/arrival area. As I arrived in this area, I was quickly approached by two angels.

Angel 1: "We have some trouble mounting up on the west and east sides."

They then took me over to the west side. There outside our venue was a dirt street. There was no greenery or growth of any kind. The landscape was desolate. There was a wooden building that looked rickety and old. I saw a pink bicycle with training wheels parked outside.

I then saw a massive demon come out of the building. He was about eight feet tall and had bulging muscles. He was ugly. He had two horned tusks coming from his upper jaw line. These tusks were inside his mouth pointing out and stretched out his lips. He had a massive steel ring in his nose. His skin was darker. His eyes were large and yellow. He was very angry.

Following close behind him was another large demon. This one had long braided hair and large gold hoops embedded in his earlobes. He had coils of steel around his neck up to his jaw. He was wearing a suit. His suit looked quite fancy and seemed out of place with the rest of his look. While he was in business attire, he certainly wasn't doing the Lord's business. The two demons approached the gate.

Just then, I saw children come out to play. However, upon further inspection, the children coming from their front porches did not actually look like children. They looked like small adults dressed up as children. While they spoke and laughed like children, I had good reason to be suspicious. They were riding their training bikes and hot wheels on the dirt street. They were kicking up clouds of dust. One of the childlike women came over to join the two demons approaching the gate.

Tusked demon: "Hey, they won't let us in. We have stuff to offer too."

Me: "What do you have to offer?"

Demon in the suit: "Clarity. All you have in there behind those gates... that's ours and we are gonna take it."

The tusked demon began to walk to the gate.

Tusked demon: "No one is gonna stop us. I own this."

The tusked demon then let out a whistle. Within seconds, a massive sea of uninvited guests starting coming down from the surrounding hills. They all looked of the opposite of the fruits of the spirit of those who were preparing for the Great Wedding Rehearsal. The childlike woman with the pink huffy bike with training wheels took a clipboard out of her handlebar basket. She strutted over to the front of the gate.

Childlike woman: "This is a list of preparations we have that will be implemented. This means our guests expect our music, our food and our spirits. It is only fair."

Angel 1: "You are uninvited guests. Your names are not written."

Angel 2: "You will have your own event, but it won't be anywhere near around here. God has commanded this as being His event, not yours."

Tusked demon: "Well, we are making changes." Looking over at me. "Didn't you get the memo, b*?" Looking back at the two angels. "This is our show. We have the power here. We also have the plans."

Angel 1: "No, you are attempting to be wedding crashers. Your plans are evil."

Me: "God is with us."

Childlike woman: "Okay, okay, to be fair, just let us come in and take a look around. We don't mean you any harm."

Demon in the suit: Unintentionally spurring out the truth. "Yeah, so we can plan our own event in there without you knowing it."

Me: "No means no. There are no plans for your or your friends to come in here. Now, we are all busy and we refuse to entertain you."

They became angry and rushed at the gate. Just then, Heaven opened and an angel army descended. All of the wicked, thousands upon thousands, immediately fell down into a deep sleep and then vanished. The tusked demon, the demon in the suit and the childlike woman were the only ones left.

They became terrified. The childlike woman jumped on her huffy and pedaled away. The two demons ran after her. Just then, they also vanished. The brown dirt road then turned into a lush green meadow. Angels came and prepared this area for the arrival of the guests. All of it was incredibly well synchronized. All was going to go exactly as planned and perfectly so.

Sub-Dream 1 over.

Me: "Oh Father, I long to do Your Will on these pages. Please guide my pen as my heart pours out as a witness to what You have revealed to me in the dreams You have sent. Please forgive me if anything here seems self-edifying. This is all about You and Your glory alone! Please guide what we do for Your glory. We pray for all of this in Your Mighty Name, in Jesus' Name, Amen!"

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "Erin, pause today from your writing."

This was unusual for Him not to discuss the dream and/or something else.

Still, I know that He ALWAYS knows best, so I did what He asked of me... I paused.

Dream over.

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You! Thank You! Thank You for another day! Thank You for Your mercy, love and kindness. Thank You for watching over us in all we do. If not for Your protection, we would surely be dead. Father, I don't know where to begin. You have shown me so much in the last several days as I sleep that I feel separated from all that is around me in my waking hours.

Apart from daily life and with a different lens, it is the same strength or knowing that was on me after my heart stopped in 2004 and then again in 2008. After about 3 to 4 days of this, these faded and I was once again fully present in the natural. But what of this? What am I to make of this feeling happening today? I have not died. My heart has not stopped. Despite this, I feel that something in me has changed.

I am different today. I have no fear! Father, please do not let this fade from me as it feels as if Living Water has gone into me. My body feels numb and warm. It is tingling and it feels wonderful. Please let this be the start of healing and strengthening from on High. I am yielding to Your Will, not mine. I had two vivid dreams last night...

Sub-Dream 1 "Building the Great Temple in Jerusalem" begins...

I was with a group of skilled artisans, builders and contractors. We were all very excited. We had gathered in a type of university in Jerusalem. Each of us were given several assignments. Our first assignments given to us was focused on the beginning of building the first major elements of the Temple of God. Everyone was so excited. All of us were from various nationalities and races all over the world.

What is incredibly awesome was that there was no language barrier. We all could understand what each other was saying. Everyone in this room were young looking as this was post-Transformation. An announcement was then made by what seemed like an angel of the Lord. Even though the room was massive, the supernatural sound system meant we could easily hear every word the angel said.

The angel then opened a scroll. He read from it and it outlined the importance of what we were about to do. It outlined that we were all selected by God from a wide pool of thousands of artisans. This was all for this special assignment of honoring the Lord and His seat before the world. We all cheered and cried. Even though the angel was very serious as he read from the scroll, he cracked a smile and nodded in agreement when we erupted as one in our great excitement.

Angel: "And nothing shall come against you in your plans as given to you by God. Each one of you will be given three tasks to oversee, to design and to implement. God is in you. You will not fall. He will help you at the break of day. (Psalm 46:5) You will be given your directives while you sleep and we will start tomorrow bright and early."

Another angel then came to each table and placed before each of us a scroll with a wax seal and each of our names. The angel smiled as he handed out to each of us the individualized scrolls. After he finished handing out all of the scrolls, the main angel began speaking again.

Angel: "Now, open your scrolls in order from right to left. This is the order you will begin."

Sitting across from me was a Jewish man who was studying all of us. I could tell that he was quite concerned that we were not holy enough for these tasks. He watched us closely as we opened our scrolls.

Me: Reading my first scroll quietly to myself. "Erin, you will construct the 'Altar of the Burnt Offering'. This is important and holy unto the Lord. This is the Altar of Sacrifice. This should be constructed from stone."

Tears ran down my cheeks as I read this scroll. I felt so incredibly honored.

Jewish man: "What is your first assignment?"

Me: "The Altar of the Burnt Offering."

All who sat at our table were so happy for me. They were also happy for themselves as each one also had important tasks related to this.

Another at our table: "I am a stone carver. Erin, I am to help you implement the design. It will be beautiful."

Yet another: "I am a goldsmith. I am to create the Golden Censors and other vessels and instruments for the Altar of Sacrifice."

We were all so happy and excited. We cheered as each person read their special assignment. However, the Jewish man still seemed upset, if not angry.

Jewish man: "What qualifies any of you for this? You are not even Jewish. This is holy and should only be done by those who have studied this."

Me: "While I am not Jewish, I am a designer. While I am a woman, I have been through the fire of affliction and been reduced to ashes. There is nothing great that I have done to deserve to be here today. However, the Lord has found something in me and God has qualified me, along with everyone here, to build His Temple. He will build it quickly and possibly as quickly as He tore it down... perhaps even 3 days. For God, nothing is impossible for Him. He can do anything. So, what are you designing?"

Jewish man: "The Menorah!" He finally seemed happy.

Me: "Wow, the seven-fold manifest Spirit of God. Whoa, this is an honor of great proportions."

We all clapped.

Jewish man: Smiling and agreeing. "Yes, this really is important."

Another at our table: "Yes, but everything we do for the Temple of our Lord God is important. We are all honored to serve Him. This Temple will stand for years and all will come to worship Him here. What an honor!"

We all cheered in agreement. That night, as all of us slept, the Lord instructed us on implementing our designs. When we came back to meet in the morning and started to talk, we quickly noticed that all of the dreams we had the night before were completely in sync with each other. We quickly began our assignments. There was singing and great joy coming from every person there... yes, the Jewish man as well.

Sub-Dream 1 over.

Sub-Dream 2 "Evil Beings Conceived" begins...

I was in a long building with windows looking down on a grassy strip of rolling hills. On the other side of this was a river. It was a foreign land that I did not recognize. I could hear shouting. In a foreign language, I heard 'it's time, it's time.' I then saw a man dressed in a tunic of grey with a cloth over his head of darker grey. He had black pants and a black head band.

This man was walking from west to east. He was walking on the grass parallel to the river. Behind him, other men followed. These men were all dressed the same. All were traveling to one place to worship. It was a Friday morning on the 2nd day of the 4th month of their calendar. The men were in a hurry. They all entered into a mosque.

I then heard cheering from a group of 70 young women. They were chasing after the men that had just entered the mosque. They were babbling with their tongues and making a unique sound together. While the women were trying to enter the temple area, several large men held them back.

I then saw that these 70 young women were all filled with evil spirits. They were crying out to have relations with these men. The men called them into the mosque and they had relations right there on the floor (I was spared having to see this).

I then saw the arrival of a very important figure. As he walked in, the women screamed as if he was a rockstar.

Women: Shouting in unison. "Mastima! Mastima! Sleep with us so that we can conceive your children."

Note: I am not sure what the women shouted, but what is written above is what it sounded like. I am not sure what language this was or what it means.

The 'rockstar' smiled and laughed. He then proceeded to have relations with all 70 women, conceiving with each of them. I then saw four mighty angels of God come down from the Heavens to strike down this unholy temple.

Sub-Dream 2 over.

Me: "Father, these dreams were very clear. Please help me with all of this."

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "Erin, understand the times you are in. There is an increase in the deeds of the wicked because the adversary has conceived with the wicked and birthed great evil. Just as God has increased His holy angels upon the Earth and His angel armies are striking down the princes over the regions. So too has the adversary, your greatest enemy, increased his strikes against the children of God.

"Thousands of years ago, Satan, the adversary of all Creation, became jealous of the covenant of mercy to Adam promising salvation and that He would deliver him from all hardships. Satan was angry as this wasn't promised to him. Satan was angry that God was granting Adam and his descendants the opportunity to live in the Kingdom of Heaven for all eternity.

"Satan then devised a scheme to kill and rid the Earth of Adam and his descendants so he could keep the Earth as his own realm. He began to destroy man by using the fallen angels to help him. This was a great campaign of evil sent out against man that continues to present day. They slept with women and abominations were created. They taught secrets that they had learned in Heaven.

"They turned these things into evil when given to man. You know most of this story. However, I am bringing your attention to these times now. The enemy knows that I am here and that the Kingdom of Heaven is near, even at the doorstep. His idea is to kill man and to destroy the Earth prior to the Harvest of Souls and the Great Move of God.

"You have seen various demons who are in these leaders over the nations. Their actions are not of God. Permission has been granted for them to carry out their wicked schemes so that the prophecies are fulfilled."

Me: "Lord, so many prophecies are now coming to pass. The USA is like Jerusalem was in Jeremiah. They are under siege, yet the leaders do nothing. Foreign invaders are swarming into the southern states. It is wicked. Our country will fall."

Jesus: "Erin, I am here. You had a dream two nights ago of a leader. Do you recall this dream?"

Me: "Yes..."

Sub-Dream 3 "President Biden makes the putts" begins...

It was about President Biden. He was playing in a golf tournament. He was old and frail. It was a 'Best Ball Tournament' for 'a million'. A million of what I don't know. Everyone was tuning in to witness the feeble, weak President putt.

There were two balls. One was the opponent's ball and was about 2' from the cup. To everyone's astonishment, he putted in his opponent's ball first. He then walked over to his own ball that was only 6" from the cup and tapped it in. Everyone was in complete shock that he played both balls.

Sub-Dream 3 over.

Jesus: "Are you really surprised? Don't believe all you see. Understand this... the demons are in unison with the sons of perdition... their hosts. Do you think the demon is old and diminished?"

Me: "Unless you allow it to be confused, probably not."

Jesus: "This is truth. God allows this or that and can raise a leader up and also remove him to the grave. That leader is playing to win for the opponents. He even made him the winner first over his own nation. He is wicked.

"Now, while the world is distracted, very little attention is given to plots made against Israel and in the USA. However, I have sent angels concerning you to guard you in all you do. Because the enemy has nothing new under the sun and his ways have a pattern you are able to see, there is no new deceptions.

"If you go back to the profile of what he taught the sons and daughters of Adam and Eve, you will see that these areas are still his main methods of corruption and deception. Even though My Word has established that I will reign here, he is busy setting up his realm as best as he can."

Me: "Yes. The fallen angels' teachings were outlined in Dream 40. You showed me what the angels taught to man, things that were forbidden. I will repeat the excerpt from this dream here so we can study this again..."

Excerpt from Dream 40 – The Fallen & Satan’s Guidelines – as received on Thursday, January 24, 2013

The fallen angels then began to teach men skills and crafts so that they would be worshiped by man as gods instead of them worshiping the one true God. The result of what these fallen had taught had the opposite effect of Heavenly worship:

- I saw one angel teaching about makeup, adornments and beautification. This created vanity, envy and jealousy to destroy and eventually also led to lust and prostitution.
- I saw one showing man how to create metal and form weapons for harvesting, but mostly for war and to war against each other and destroy each other.
- I saw others creating healing sources from plants, flowers and roots. This was so man could heal themselves and would no longer need to cry out and depend upon the Lord for healing. This was the beginning of pharmaceuticals and medicine. Drugs, addictions, dependence and death came from this. This angel’s gifts eventually morphed into blood and genetics testing, diseases and the likes.
- I saw another teaching the maps of Heaven or the stars. This angel made the stars into graven idols to the fallen, thus worshiping the stars led to worshiping deities and then gods or images of themselves.

The stars were another Heaven and became a veil that humans could not see beyond to the God of Heaven who could hear them, turn and save them. This practice was the beginning of astronomy, which is good, and of astrology, which is bad, as well as the worship of the fallen as gods. Then the plan of the fallen was for man to then depend on the stars and the worship of other gods and thus no longer needing the God of all Creation.

- I saw another with the gift of fiber works. The ability to weave fine linens separated people in a shameful manner by creating division of class according to clothing. Destruction through class, position, pride and vanity came also from this power.
- Another was like a magician and could manifest things, conjure up images, creating miracles and illusions. This created fear and the worshipping of self-governing of miracles. This was the beginnings of witchcraft and magic and the worshipping of demigods with the illusion or appearance of power.
- Another was a builder and architect of structures. This angel had been special in Heaven and this was a gift that God had delighted in. This angel erected a building to edify himself and he taught the humans to worship him and began the roots of slavery. His plan and the others were to build temples of honor to themselves where people could travel to worship them. They would also erect tall buildings high enough that they could reach to Heaven. By teaching the humans and the offspring of angels this skill, they believed that they could even overthrow Heaven. They wanted immortal shrines so that the humans would be distracted and go to them for worship not God.
- Another was the creator of complex government and order, the structure of wars, cities, states, regions, and tribes. This was also a part of oppression, slavery and rule. Out of this came monetary exchange, trading, taxes and gambling. This angel held the interest of Satan the most. These two were in unison together as evil needed this type of structure to prosper.
- Another angel taught weights and measures, calendars, clocks and related items to record or measure days. This angel grieved and measured the days as instructed by God after the fall. The angel kept track of the new order of time; the measure of weeks, months, years and the depth and height of things. This angel had the skills of mathematics and began to record the days until the permission was granted and the Lord would begin to execute judgments.

- Another angel taught communication through language, writing of records, drawings, symbols and codes. This angel eventually brought technology and the further and swift decay of pornographic, the internet and the eventual access to homes without needing a key. This angel could get inside the mind of humans and destroy them from within.

These were just some of the gifts that were taught to the humans as previously granted to these fallen angels by the Lord. There were many more and each of these angels exchanged their knowledge to others in order to create a web of authority and the worship of the fallen by the humans.

Excerpt from Dream 40 over.

Jesus: "Well, you see this now. You had another dream a couple of nights ago that outlined the current plans of the enemy..."

Me: "Yes. It was frightening..."

Sub-Dream 4 "Preparation of the Beast System" begins...

I was observing a high-level meeting on the implementation of the Beast System. The Beast System currently being prepared includes the following:

1. Communication and the flow of information: Anything contrary to their narrative of lies is struck down or covered up with more words of lies. All media organizations, in print, on the radio, on television or on the internet, to be controlled by the system. The goal is to have one narrative, one truth and one voice, all opposite of God. This also includes all music. They also wish to eventually remove all cell phones.
2. Control religious leaders and doctrines: Control anything contrary to the worship of the Beast System. Eliminate all those opposing. Bibles to be deemed as hateful to marginalized groups and must be destroyed. No opposition to be allowed. Everything unclean is to be permissible. There is nothing unclean other than those identified as clean in the Bible. Armies of those opposed to Christians were sent out to weed out any groups that went against abortion and other unclean practices. Use fear, slander and death to remove all opposition.
3. Money and assets should serve the Beast System: All personal assets are to be seized. Bank accounts, property, homes and valuables are to be property of the one strong system. Apartments will be provided for families. There will be no cars or individual homes, ranches or farms. All will be taken to cities. There will be one bank, one currency and one governing commissary. People will all make the same amount and have an allowance. Some will be given a higher allowance or greater service based on service to the beast. Anyone opposed will be given poorer conditions. All jobs will be part of a job bank. Those no longer contributing will be removed. Those who serve the beast in greater capacity will live in mansions once owned by the wealthy. They will then enjoy the spoils of the wealthy's earnings.

4. Food and consumption: Food will be vegan. There will be no meat or dairy products of any kind. All things will be plant based. Rewards will include marijuana-based goods and vape ingredients. Alcohol will be restricted.
5. Healthcare will be provided and pharmaceuticals will be encouraged: If a person becomes a burden, they will be removed. This is to keep the population 'healthy and safe'. Birth control will be regulated. Pregnancies will only be allowed based on various DNA markers. Most pregnancies will be terminated to keep populations regulated.
6. Transportation: Cars will be eliminated. Those still allowed will be electric. Planes are only for the elite. Trains are only for the transport of goods. Families are to be separated if there is opposition. Communication through computers.
7. Plagues: Plagues will be used to regulate the population and remove certain anomalies in individuals.
8. Beauty: Tattoos, piercings and permanent makeup will be encouraged. So will permanent jewelry and other implants or cosmetic surgeries.

There was much more discussed in this meeting. It was all for evil. I was an observer of this meeting. It was already in the planning and foundation building stages now. As I stood watching and listening to all that was occurring and being planned, Uriel came up to me.

Uriel: "Erin, I have a message for you from God... 'Erin, do not be afraid by that which you have been shown. I will instruct you on the ways you should go.'"

I immediately felt in my Spirit that these plans would not be implemented to our detriment. This outline of their evil plans was instead for the purpose of showing how bad things would get here on Earth for us if it weren't for God intervening on our behalf.

Sub-Dream 4 over.

Me: "This dream was quite detailed."

Jesus: "Erin, there are some who claim to love Me that worship the moon and the sun. They also use items sacrificed to their gods. Churches have even removed the cross from the sanctuary so they won't be reminded of My victory over death. There are now stages rather than altars. Make no mistake... the enemy has planted many seeds.

"Even though a church may still have beautiful glass and crosses, an altar and even candles, this does not mean they are Mine. Many of the pastors leading the church are evil. Therefore, the church becomes unclean. My church has been the subject of attacks and blasphemous practices. This is not new. None of this is new.

"However, there is something that the adversary will never see coming. As he has seen Me not being as visibly active in the world as I was many years ago, he has somewhat forgotten all that I am capable of. He will never expect it because the years has weakened his memories of the true Power of God and His innovations in Heaven.

"This is why the enemy sends plagues, sacrifices babies and praises himself. He thinks I am helpless to see this or to stop that. He erects memorials to his legacy. He calls on his sons and daughters to spread evil of all kinds, to lie, rebel and commit fornication. He then asks them to do it all again tomorrow and the next day without stop. Despite all of this, let Me assure you, Erin, the enemy will NOT prevail!"

Me: "Lord, I saw four angels. I recognized three of them. I have never seen one of them."

Jesus: "These are angels who work for God. As I am in you, I will work through you. They will be as hosts to facilitate the plans of God and establish His Crown over the nations. Who did you see and what did they do?"

Me: "I saw thousands and thousands of us. There was Michael, Raphael, Gabriel and a fourth that I have never seen before."

Jesus: "These are My angels who will oversee the Great Harvest of souls. I will call upon them to facilitate My Bride. What did you see?"

Me: "So many wonderful things from each of the four angels..."

- Michael: Strengthening and granting supernatural powers to the long suffering in order to serve God and crush the enemies.

- Raphael: Administering healing powers over plagues, diseases and wounds of various kinds through miracles.
- Gabriel: Granting powers over all the elect of God, His Bride, including supernatural wisdom, knowledge and powers over darkness.
- The unknown fourth angel: The facilitator of repentance, supernaturally giving hope to those in need of Jesus and His offer of eternal life.

Jesus: "While the name of the fourth angel is hidden from you for now, he does My Will. These are the angels who will assist Myself, the Groom, and My Bride. They will prepare the hearts of those who are to be harvested. They will usher in great healing, miracles, signs and wonders.

"As a great gift to My Bride and as an answer to her prayers, I will heal the lands. I will display awesome deeds. I will set the prisoners free. The captives will be released. All that was stolen will be replaced. Even the lands will shake and graves will be opened. There will be great joy as sons and daughters will be returned to their parents.

"Parents destroyed by the adversary will be reunited with their children. Tragedies will be reversed and even cities restored. The nations will enjoy a time of Great Reversal. Erin, the tides have changed. It is time for you to rejoice and pray. Erin, all you have prayed for has come into its time! Rejoice!"

Dream over.

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day! Thank You for my family, my Nest friends and our home. I am thankful for Your protection, Father. Please open a door for my husband to find work. It has been a long time and so much disappointment. We need a miracle. My dreams last night made my stomach ill this morning. Clearly, my body even reacted to what I experienced while sleeping.

Sub-Dream 1 “China quietly takes over Russia” begins...

We were watching the evening news on the television.

Announcer: “And then there were two! As we start the news this evening, today marks the official fall of the Russian Empire. Any remaining officials are now being forced to be under China’s occupation.”

They then showed a field reporter on the ground in Russia.

Reporter in Russia: “It has been three months of carnage. What was first an act of alliance by China to aid Russia on its quest to return to the former USSR has now turned into something Russia and the world never saw coming. The people were not happy that China had taken over the banks, the ruble, the real estate notes, the gas and oil and the food supplies. What started as a partnership and act of goodwill became a visible act of aggression.

“The citizens of Russia did not take well to the news that Russia is gone and now it is the Peoples Dominion of China (PDC) territory. Other reports too graphic to air shows any dissenters or rebels being shot by a firing squad. Many Russian officers and other leaders have been executed to make way for the PDC... or, really, Xi’s dominion. Back to you.”

Announcer: "Well, we can't say we didn't see this coming as China has been actively purchasing land in Canada, the USA, Africa and really all over the world to set up their new dominion state. We are now asking our reporter in Washington to comment."

Reporter in Washington: "Yes, as you can imagine, this news is alarming. However, the USA, Canada and other NATO alliances are more emboldened than ever to rise up as one nation to solidify and strengthen global strength."

Sub-Dream 1 over.

This newscast felt extremely real. I pray this doesn't happen in our lifetime.

Sub-Dream 2 "History burnt down to make way for a new history" begins...

I saw the sons of perdition. They were the now indoctrinated youth. They were taught lies from an early age and believed the lies completely. They called for the Smithsonian Museum to be burnt down, as well as the Museum of Natural History. They wanted all museums throughout the nation, as well as libraries, to be torched.

They called for the torching of the Library of Congress, along with other historical documents. I then saw them actually destroying this historical evidence. It was all being livestreamed. They burned the Declaration of Independence. The original articles of the Constitution were burned. All costumes, valuables and historical sites were all decimated in order to create a new history.

They destroyed beautiful building and estates. All items were burned. Some wicked leaders determined this was good and an executive order went out to also burn churches and Bibles. The Words of God were then labelled as hate speech and banned. This was one of the worst acts of evil I have ever seen. It was brutal.

Sub-Dream 2 over.

Sub-Dream 3 "Pleasing animals, birds and fish removed" begins...

I saw a deer and a cow hanging from a light post in a residential neighborhood. Their bellies were very large. It was a horrific scene. I then heard an angel of the Lord...

Angel: "Erin, come to the edge of town."

When I arrived there, I saw a massive cloud of God's angelic armies descending to the Earth.

Angel: "They have come to collect the animals from the Earth."

Me: "All of them?"

Angel: "The animals of the ground, the fish in the waters and birds of the air."

Me: "Why?"

Angel: "Come."

He took my hand and showed me a wicked laboratory that was weaponizing the birds of the air, the freshwater fish and farm animals. This experiment using targeted weaponization was only to target food sources, mainly protein, in order to weaken any opposition armies. Plagues were being sent to remove testosterone and any other male related reproduction hormone.

I then saw something happen which was unexpected. It was announced that all meat from fish, birds and land animals should be avoided. Family pets then began to die suddenly. This was heartbreaking to watch. Like the deer and the cow that I saw hanging at the beginning, all of their stomachs were bloated.

While the angels came and took most of the animals, fish and birds, God allowed the predatory ones and the unclean ones to stay. He then strengthened those that remained. He did this to create fear in these wicked scientists as they would now have to deal with scary wildlife instead of compliant ones. I then saw a disheveled man talking to an equally disheveled woman.

Man: "So, what now? Are they going to eliminate bread and plants next? Who can even afford sugar now? Where is the oil?"

Woman: Crying. "No butter. No eggs. No bacon. No milk. No honey. Surely there is an angry God."

They then proceeded to curse God for what had happened. In their blindness, they didn't put the blame where it should have been put... the evil of mankind.

Sub-Dream 3 over.

Me: "Father, this was a horrible nightmare. Please collect us before any of that happens."

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "I am here. I am with you. Do not worry. You are to understand, Erin, that the very same leader who claims to have harnessed power even greater than the sun is already experimenting with these plagues. This happens as the other leader (of the Black Dragon) dismantles the USA and is planning to sacrifice Israel to her enemies. For now, both leaders are allowing this to happen on both sides.

"While I know this is difficult to understand, they are on the same side. Few understand this though. There is a silent ruler using the current ruler as a mask. The agenda of overthrowing the nation has been in the process for quite some time. While the people speculate, none know. This is because of all that is hidden in darkness.

"The leader of the Black Dragon (using Biden) and the leader of the Red Dragon (using Putin) are both leading by proxy right now. The war you are witnessing is that of fools. The one leader you have been shown is being used by others. All of this is happening as a distraction while wicked policies and schemes are in the works in the shadows."

Me: "Oh Lord, this makes my stomach sick. Please take Your people Home to Heaven before this happens. I saw officers going door-to-door to make sure that all pets were euthanized."

Jesus: "Do not worry, Erin. I send angels. Angels are watching over children and orphans right now. Although no miracles are being reported, know that the hand of God is already here. My judgments have now come because of the wicked rulers. You are not to worry though. While I have shown you their plans, this does not mean these will have success."

Me: "Thank You, Lord. These dreams were brutal."

Jesus: "I show you these so you understand the great evil of the Dragon, the Beast and their many heads. These heads have an insatiable need to devour the innocent. However, you are not to worry. I have a great plan against wicked rulers, their wicked friends, their properties and their provisions. I call this God's Equity... My justice!

"Even though you still worry, do not worry about anything. I have answered your prayers and you will receive a double portion. I will increase your blessings as what you have asked of Me is small. My Bride, My Elect, will receive a great dowry from Heavenly storehouses. Now, rejoice, Erin, as I am with you. I know your needs before you ask. All is about to change."

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day! Thank You for Your love and affection. Thank You for all You have done. The world is very scary right now and will continue to be barring some divine Heavenly miracle.

Yesterday, after I fed the animals and I was detouring off our yard, I saw something very large in the ditch across from our house. When I approached this large blob, I soon realized it was a very large porcupine, probably three times the weight of the one we had euthanized and taken away. While it was standing on all four legs, it was not moving. It was freaking me out, so I called my husband over.

My husband came up to it and nudged it with a long shovel. There was no movement. It was dead. Maybe it was buried in the ice by a passing snow removal truck. Both of us had never seen anything like this before. We immediately thanked You for making this porcupine a non-issue on our property. With the size of it, it would have eaten up the rest of our trees. We felt this was a blessing from You and an answered prayer.

I began to have this strange feeling over my body again earlier today. It came over me this morning and hasn't left yet. While I like the feeling, it makes me feel separated from my daily life. With most everything I do right now, I seek You first. I went to a vintage shop and picked up a sailboat with a poem written on it...

"We can't all play a winning game. Someone is sure to lose. Yet we can plan so that our name. No one may dare accuse. That when the Master referee scores against our name. It won't be whether we've won or lost but how we've played the game!"

I read an article on March 15, 2022 that the Russian military is claiming the USA is plotting to weaponize migratory birds by infecting them with deadly avian pathogens to be used as a bio-weapon against Russia. The mortality rate of this strain of H1N1 is 50%. Apparently, the KGB in the early 1980s had claimed that a USA funded research project in Pakistan was sending 'Killer Mosquitoes' into Afghanistan.

I had two vivid dreams last night.

Sub-Dream 4 "Feeding Birds Empty Shells" begins...

I was living in a suburb of a city. A neighbor to my north approached me. He was Asian. He seemed nice, so I wasn't worried.

Man: "How are you able to attract so many birds and little animals?"

Me: "I just place seeds and nuts out and they find them."

Man: Concerned. "But I've tried that and it doesn't work."

Me: "Do you want to show me what you are doing? The birds are only a few feet away."

He brought me to the side of a busy road. There were two large plastic blue bins. The man pointed to the bins.

Man: "I leave one of the bins here and the other bin I scatter on the ground."

Me: "Can I see what you use?" The man got one of the bins so I could get a closer look. All I saw were empty shells. "Where are the nuts and seeds?"

Man: "This is how I bought them. This is cheaper. Since these birds and animals are not smart like us, they don't know the difference."

Me: "I disagree. God grants them the instincts to recognize real food. They really are not stupid. God's Creation is really quite amazing."

As I looked everywhere on the ground, there were now empty shells on brown muddied grass. There were so many empty shells that it looked like a flood of them had come.

Man: "Well, I'm going to shoot them instead. They make me angry."

Me: "Shoot one and they will never come back."

Man: "Fine. I don't care. I spent all this money and they won't even take a bite. Well, I'll fix them a snack they won't soon forget."

I then wondered if he was planning to poison them.

Sub-Dream 4 over...

Sub-Dream 5 "Looking for a nice Nazi item?" begins...

I was on a college university as an appraiser for 'The Antiques Road Show'. We had worked hard all day explaining the origins and values of the many different antiques and artifacts there. At closing of the show on the first night, a former classmate of mine came up to me.

Woman: "I need help with an item that has been with my family for some time. I am not comfortable bringing this item in front of the public for this show."

She handed me a small black velvet cloth bag with gold strings. I opened it and pulled out a silver belt. It looked like something an officer would put around his shoulder and possibly opposite torso. Normally, these are brown leather, but this was unusual and about 42" in length. It had tabs or small square flags with points hanging from the belt. It was a rather awkward item. I felt strongly that it was from the 1930s.

Me: "How did your family come to acquire this?"

Woman: "It was my grandfathers in the war. It is from Germany."

Upon closer inspection, I could tell it was an item from the Nazi era.

Me: "Well, I can now see why you would keep this item hidden."

Woman: "We need money and I would like to sell this."

Me: "While it might be seized, let me see what I can find out about it. You keep it in the meantime."

I looked underneath near the fastener and I could see four hallmarks (stamps in silver). The first one was a phoenix. The second one was a lioness standing on her hind legs. The third one was a crown. The fourth and last was an SS with a crescent moon.

Me: "While I am not sure, this appears to have been forged in Germany."

As I looked more closely at these flags hanging from the belt, I could see every other one was a swastika inside an embossed circle. The other symbols were odd. I then realized that the other symbols represented countries to be conquered under the Nazi regime. I knew this was a rare find and quite valuable. I saw a total of 30 nations to be conquered. It made me sick to my stomach. When the woman saw my reaction, her entire state of being changed and she became angry.

Woman: "Come on, Erin, you know exactly what this is. This has more value than anything here and now more than ever. Don't play stupid. I have had it appraised before and I will have it appraised again. There is nothing new under the sun except for you. When is God going to do something? There is nothing new here but you. God won't fool anyone. By the way, this belt is worth $200,000. You are so stupid."

She took the item and left in a huff.

Sub-Dream 5 over.

Me: "Father, these dreams were troubling. I have a bad feeling about the world."

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "This makes two of us. It doesn't look good for the Earth in general... apart from God, of course. Now, tell Me what you believe."

Me: "Well, I believe You are in control and that You will do something amazing. Oh Lord, I am so excited. As it stands now, my stomach is sick. I fear what we are being told in the news is not truth when it comes to the war. While I am mad at Russia for invading Ukraine, something else still seems off.

"It was leaked by a Ukrainian military commander that they were catching young Russian soldiers and having them castrated. Many of these soldiers were told that this wasn't a war, but a liberation movement. I feel horrible for the soldiers on both sides. What if something worse is actually happening? All of this just seems 'off' to me."

Jesus: "Erin, there is nothing new as the enemy uses the same playbook and has since the fall of man. I have told you that they declare their plans with their lips, but then those who listen and hear their plots only recall them when their plots unfold. While they are liars, they tell the truth about their plans. Still, many forget soon after they hear them.

"The old diminished ruler (of the USA) declared his plans yesterday publicly that the deaths of tens of millions of people years ago was a great opportunity. Well, it is like the phoenix rising. It was wicked then and it is in the beginning stages now, except you must multiply the deaths they are hoping for.

"Back then, it was experimentation against the Jewish people. They labeled the Jews as being carriers of disease. The enemy has been working to remove God and the promises of Heaven and eternal life. They have increased their evil on a global scale. They are not a house divided. It is already in the process and the people are being caught unaware.

"This same evil is throughout the nations now. I showed you the reversal of all that was done by God with Nimrod and the Tower of Babel. The plans of evil were destroyed when God caused the languages to come and break apart the evil unified nation. The people were then scattered.

"While the world tries to ignore it, the one nation (Red Dragon) then uses their money to buy up valuable resources around the globe. What is being ignored? The plans of the adversary are lofty. Last time, there were wars, a great plague and, of course, genocide. However, the enemy now has an even worse plan underway.”

Me: “Oh Lord, please do something now. Your people love You. Please help us.”

Jesus: “Do not worry, Erin. With the Tower of Babel, tongues of foreign languages fell upon the people and they were scattered. When Pentecost later occurred, Tongues of Fire fell upon the people of God. These were strange Heavenly languages spoken by God’s people so that the enemy did not know what the Spirit of God was ministering to the people in Spirit and in Truth.

“However, Tongues of Flaming Truth will soon fall upon the liars. I will bridle their mouths to confess their wickedness. This will cause the wicked to flee from God’s people. There will be great fear for them because Heaven will be visible in miracles, signs and wonders. God’s people will unite together as one under Heaven. Lips will rejoice with singing. Tongues will testify to the Glory of the Lord.

“Don’t worry, Erin, as I will now grant wisdom to those who pray for it. I will do this right now. Rejoice, Erin, and do not worry. I am here and I am with you!”

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day! Thank You for Your great love. Thank You for our family and friends – a great gift of love from You. Thank You for the promises of spring. Father, my whole body feels different. I did nothing from my normal morning routine today. I did not make the bed, attend to the birds and animals or turn on the lights. I got my water and went straight to You.

I don’t quite understand what is happening now except that I feel separated from all of the things I once loved in this world. I am speaking of activities here, not people. My old activities and ambitions have no pull at my heart anymore. There is a feeling that these activities are truly meaningless for the long term and just serve as place and time holders. My dreams have been elaborate and detailed lately.

Some have stirred my heart to anger as I realize most of the world has been deceived by their evil leaders. Still, this to was as allowed by You, Father. I now realize that, anytime the left tells us to fight ‘Climate Change’, the words climate change can be replaced by Christianity and makes perfect sense. A global clarion call by the wicked is calling them to battle against us, the 'Climate Changers'.

However, in reality, it is only You who shakes the nations, splits the ground and brings great storms and destruction. It is You who has turned up the heat and made the sun seven times hotter. It is You as You are God. As predicted in the Bible, the enemy is currently trying to rapidly impose a one world government.

They are requiring that we all share in the same vision together. The one evil leader declares we will overcome and overthrow the course of the world. An evil plot is in place and it is disguised as a progressive move of the wise and learned. I had a detailed dream last night...

Sub-Dream 6 "The Rivers of Death" begins...

I saw a leader on a throne. Around him were smaller thrones. There were four thrones on his left side and four thrones on his right side. His throne was elevated in comparison to the thrones around him. His throne was sitting on a stone slab. The nine thrones formed three quarters of a circle. In the center of the area was a sun mosaic inlaid on the floor.

This was something like the light of the sun, only in optics, shining through the floor. The eight were worshipping the throne over the sun. The center throne declared that the sun would be his footstool. The altar of stone at the base of this was for sacrifice. From this altar, blood flowed with such abundance that it was called the altar of sacrifice to the throne of 'god'.

The blood formed into rivers and these were called the rivers of death. Those who bathed in them would be reborn and regenerated with a form of youthfulness. It was so evil and the complete counterfeit of God and all He stands for. While this seemed impossible to witness, the Lord reminded me that He has given permission to the enemy. This permission is hard to understand, but 'It Is Written!'

Sub-Dream 6 over.

While the enemy has been thrown down from Heaven, we should not be surprised when his presence increases throughout the nations as permitted by God. The spirits were released from fleshly prisons once their hosts partook in blood consumption. The evil inside man was and is set free when pride kills all reason and then consumes integrity.

When angels or man places themselves at the forefront of their thoughts above God, evil is then birthed and becomes like brand new. What we are experiencing now in this world is the rise of the Beast and his kingdom. His kingdom is based on great lies. His bricks are made of lies upon lies upon lies. This is all meant to confuse God's people, defile His Bride and destroy His Elect. Evil has now come of age!

Sub-Dream 7 "10 Balls of Fire" begins...

A wicked ruler hurled out ten balls of fire...

- The First: I saw several farmers working the fields. Every day after planting, a swarm of crows would come and steal all the seed. Day after day, the farmers planted and then the seed was stolen. They were never able to plant so there would be no harvest. This represents modern day churches.
- The Second: The rule of law, fairness, mercy and justice are all under attack. This was to strike down anyone opposed to the throne of the god of the sun. Into its place were set wicked judges, law enforcement and lawyers.
- The Third: The natural order that God created was attacked. Strikes were made against the daughters of Eve to wipe out her existence and therefore God's pure Bride. This was also meant to defile men with all abominations and things detestable to God. This was the defiling of the natural order.
- The Fourth: All evidence of historical significance was removed and all corresponding records destroyed. Worms were sent to consume all paper and change the records through references via technology. The unearthing of new evidence then came to suggest that God was wicked and that Satan was good.
- The Fifth: Remove all meat. Use diseases to strike down all livestock normally used for consumption.
- The Sixth: The sun became so hot that skin began to boil after evil medicines were administered. Any cure was met with an even greater increase of sores.
- The Seventh: The air was filled with an increase in disease from death. The spores released from decay caused many to be unable to breathe pure air. The quality of air was to be controlled. The resulting poor air quality would then be blamed on war and God.
- The Eighth: The installation of a fake omnipresence over all the world. He could see where you were and what you were doing all of the time. He could see you by using technological tracking devices.

His army of drones were in the millions. He controlled all peoples and their actions. This enslaved the peoples of the Earth.

- The Ninth: Control of time. Time to be changed at will. Seasons set by the leader and feasts to be in his honor alone. Can turn off power and heat. Remove the ability for people to be cool in the summer and warm in the winter. Send fires to places and set up destruction over areas people once enjoyed. Continue to punish and enslave.
- The Tenth: Blood sacrifices as atonement to the beast. All the people of the Earth were to give blood to this leader. They also set up times for mass deaths of unborn and newborns so as to keep the world 'balanced'. Claims made that a baby's blood was full of disease.

The plans of this group were hidden from the other rulers, rulers who were to unite the nations against the Kingdom of God. Most were unaware of the great evil they were spreading for the Beast System.

Sub-Dream 7 over.

This dream was so real and so evil. When I woke up, I was sick to my stomach. This was here already. While some watchers speak of the coming evil, what is planned is actually even worse. I prayed to the Lord for mercy before falling back to sleep.

Sub-Dream 8 - "Reeducation Class changed over to Church" begins...

I had to attend a court ordered reeducation class to maintain my original university degree and my credentials. There were several of us in attendance for an appointed time. No one came until the very end. We were frustrated.

Young person 1: "Where is our instructor?"

Young person 2: "Why are you here waiting? Your instructor is at the Church of His Presence. Today is communion. If you hurry, you can still catch him."

Only about a half of the class hurried to church. The church was beautiful. A choir of angels were singing out teachings from the Lord. We all praised Him and partook in the service. Afterwards, many of us approached the Lord with questions.

Me: "Lord, did we miss Your call somehow?"

Jesus: "The enemy tried to detain you, but I sent help in the eleventh hour (that is, in the morning before noon) to let you know that I am here and now here you are. This is great. I am glad you came."

All of us were so excited. We hugged Him and we were so joyful. He had the angels sing for us.

Jesus: "You are right on time. You didn't miss a thing."

We were all overcome with tears and love for our Perfect Savior.

Sub-Dream 8 over.

Sub-Dream 9 "A Light cuts through the fog" begins...

I was in a blackened landscape. It was once a hilly forested area. However, all the trees had fallen and it was desolate. Only stumps remained. It was cold, damp and foggy. I became so sad. I cried out to God in the darkness.

Me: "Father, while it is spring, there is no signs of life. I hear no birds. There are no animals. There are no flowers. All is dead."

It looked like there had been something like fire that had destroyed the entire hill.

Jesus: "I am here. Do not worry. I am in you. Call upon the signs of spring, but do so in My Name."

Me: "Could I ask for something first?"

Jesus: "Proceed."

Me: "Could You first spread Your light over this charcoaled damp landscape."

He immediately sent a warm ray of sunshine through the fog. I praised Him for doing this so quickly. Then, and as if in time lapse, I saw spring come forth. I saw the trees reverse from death and come back to life. I saw blossoms, grass, crocuses and flowers sprouting from the ground. I heard birds singing again. I spotted some woodland animals. God made everything brand new with life.

Sub-Dream 9 over..

Me: "Thank You, Father."

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "I am here, Erin. The enemy plans and plots like all the evil leaders combined throughout the ages. They are too numerous to count. From his evil spirit, he births evil. His spirits of evil have hosts. This is what I spent most of My time on Earth with – ridding demons from their hosts and releasing captives from evil torment.

“So too it will be done again, but very quickly, so that the land will be free from the wicked to make way for My miracles and wonders. You know evil by their fruits. They first start with an idea that sounds great on the surface. However, make no mistake, this will be against My Will. My Will is not for the Earth to suffer, man to die a painful death or for crops to be destroyed and diseases to spread.

“These are evil and not of God, understand? I allow these things so that those who eventually see this as wicked will turn to Me, their Savior, not those whose plans are to lie, kill and destroy. The wicked move with such speed that the people are unaware of all their movements. Not all are reported and what is reported are usually lies.”

Me: “So, when do You come for us, Lord?”

Jesus: “I am here now, Erin. I am in you. My voice is manifest in My Bride.”

Me: “Okay, but when are we, Your waiting Bride, to be strengthened and healed and revival begins? These are the signs You have declared for us to watch for as clearly evil is spreading quickly...”

- In Luke 21:25: There is the distress of nations. We see great stress in the peoples. We see no way out of our current state. We need a Savior and an Act of God. We need You, Lord, and we need You now!
- In Luke 17:26-27: The state of the world is in moral decay. All morality is corrupt. Men are given in marriage to men and women to women. There is self-harm to men and women to remove their original birth orientation. Youth is encouraged to sin. Death on a widespread level is encouraged. Evil is abundant. Good is called evil and evil is called good.
- In Matthew 24:6: Wars and rumors of wars are here.
- In 1 Thessalonians 5:3: People are declaring peace and safety. However, destruction comes suddenly and the people are caught unaware.
- In Matthew 24:14: The Gospel will be preached to all nations, then the end will come. Is this before Transformation? So much of Your Truth is now being diluted with the sprinkling of lies. When is this complete?

- In Luke 21:24: When has Israel been center stage like it has in history? Like it is now? Jerusalem is always in the news, but you have to look for it.

“Lord, this just seems like the best time for You to Transform us. I can feel in My Spirit that there is a war in the Heavens which we cannot see. Our house is very tired. There have been more headaches and clumsiness amongst our children. We have seen signs. An eagle flew right in front of our car yesterday.

“Speaking of cars, we have one in the shop again. There was a malfunction that kept the windshield washer fluid to be squirted on the windshield. This seemed to be another sign. It has been a while since we have experienced a ton of signs, but now would be a great time for it, but hopefully only for our convenience (I was kidding... sort of). Oh Lord, please protect us as this war rages all around us.”

Jesus: “I am here. I am with you. Do not worry. The plans and schemes of the enemy will be struck down. These will not succeed. Do not worry. Any destruction he has sent or is in the process of sending will be publicly exposed and reversed. It will be a healing and glorious overtaking as all evil will be halted and Heaven will be visible on Earth. My promises are true! Take heart for I have overcome the world and the corrupt ‘towers’ they have built. Rejoice!”

Dream over.

591 – As The Battles Rage Overhead, There Are Casualties

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day! Thank You for my family, my Nest friends and our home. We are truly blessed in this historical EPIC season of Your miracles. Blessed are You, Father. Blessed are Your army of Heaven's angels. Thank You for fighting for us. Thank You for dreams, visions, signs and wonders. These are truly a miracle.

My biopsy, hopefully the final one, occurred on Thursday, March 24, 2022. The doctor removed most of my toenail and cut some other areas to obtain a proper sample to be sent to the lab. While it was painful, I am thankful for modern medical advances. Years ago, doctors would have simply amputated my toe. This is a gift in comparison. I had a couple of interesting dreams last night:

Sub-Dream 1 "A Chet-sized Pool" begins...

I saw a pool in a strange shape. It was shaped as the Hebrew letter Chet, but backwards. It is the eighth letter of the Hebrew alphabet. The letter Chet sort of looks like a standing horse, but without a tail. I could tell by the quality of the swimming pool that it was a swimming pool for a very wealthy person.

One of the two 'leg portions' of the pool had an overhead covering. There were only a few of us there. It was right after sunset ended and just before dusk ended. The sky was filled with stars and was a beautiful deep blue. The temperature reminded me of a pleasant nightfall in Arizona, but supernaturally even prettier.

Sub-Dream 1 over.

I had another dream after this. It seemed to be based on the tragic death that occurred involving a 14-year-old boy at an amusement park in Orlando.

Sub-Dream 2 "The Freefall from the 400-foot Tower" begins...

Note to keep in mind for this dream: A 14-year-old boy named Tyre Sampson fell 400 feet to his death at an amusement ride in Orlando. The ride was at ICON Park and is called 'Freefall'. In the context of this dream, this boy's name means 'the sun' and a Biblical judge appointed by God.

I could see a battle in the heavens over the area of Florida and the East Coast of the USA. The army of angels of Heaven were warring against the prince and his army over the region. I saw the area open over the amusement park. The angels were battling a large demonic stronghold. I saw a 14-year-old boy being targeted. While the angels of God were being held off, I heard the lead angel shout out:

Lead angel: "God will make this a sign in the form of a curse to come down upon you. God will not be mocked."

I then saw an angel of the Lord carry the young boy home to Heaven right after the prince and his evil army carried out their wicked deed. The lead angel again shouted...

Lead angel: "God will make his name (Tyre Sampson) remembered throughout the land as a great sign of judgment against this land and its great sin of arrogance and pride against God and His righteousness. The prince of Tyre has fallen and his army of 400 will be cut down as his sins are great against the children of God.

"His ports will be destroyed before the nations. His shame and his sins will be manifest for all to see. This is because he has set up idols to himself and has laid traps of sin for the young and unsuspecting. He has become rich from these trappings and has fornicated with the great whore."

I then saw the battle rage to an even greater extent. God's Army was about to be given permission to rise as the conquerors of the evil ones. This is what we had waited so long for. I screamed out with joy as the time had finally arrived!

Sub-Dream 2 over.

Me: "Lord, I know You allow tragedies for Your glory, but I am trying to understand this type of symbolism in the death of a child."

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "Erin, this boy's name (Tyre Sampson) is great throughout the land. He is now celebrating with those he loves in Heaven. While I realize this is difficult to understand, there is a great battle in the heavens right now.

There are casualties below. Now, this boy's name was given to him at birth. I chose him. The angels took his Spirit and he felt no pain.

"All of the events surrounding this were signs of judgment against a wicked ruler over the territory. The boy's life was not lost as he was offered up to the Kingdom of Heaven from the beginning. Now, understand how wicked the land has become. As the battles rage overhead, you feel the effects. There are some casualties. These are not surprises to Me."

Me: "Lord, how awful for the family and his friends."

Jesus: "Yes. However, they will be reunited soon. There is an epic war, Erin. Now, you will see increases in shakings, fires and rebellions. These will happen in various parts. You will see manifestations of great evil. Evil will spring forth out of nowhere. There will be confusion and great anger. However, this is because I am about to move upon the Earth in great multitude. Now, your dream about the pool... this is the eighth letter and is a bridge that unites two."

Me: "Oh, I see... You are the chuppah between them. Lord, why was the pool flipped backwards? I can't figure it out."

Jesus: "This is because the world is now this way. The enemy of God used evil leaders, Godless and hungry for power, to change the laws, seasons, orders and all things God has said is good. This is how the enemy thinks... Take all the laws and dismantle these. Now make everything clean to be unclean. Make all sins to now be permissible. These are direct strikes against God.

"It is a great war between the evil in this world and the righteous. The adversary and his children of perdition are against all that is good as created by God. As for most of the rest, there are many who are now purposely choosing to ignore the signs that the Kingdom of Heaven is near. I will take that which the enemy planned for evil and turn it for good. I did so with this boy. I have him. He is loved by Me.

"Now, I want you to understand what has happened around you so that you are not deceived by what you see. There are a group of leaders and one leader who are making wicked plans. This war is a real one. It was created as a way to remove the one hated leader with coaxing on the world stage. There is much more behind the scenes you have not seen. The plan was to weaken the nation and remove the leader."

Me: "But what about all of the people on the battlefield? There are women and children too. The Ukraine also makes a lot of wheat to help feed the world."

Jesus: "It is both a battlefield on Earth and overhead with the princes in the heavens. Again, there have been and will be casualties. This is because I am about to move in a mighty way. The adversary and these wicked groups of men with hearts of stone consider themselves greater than God. They also believe they are virtuous above all of the other people.

"Their goals are lofty. They do not realize yet the degree of evil in which the adversary will achieve through them. Still, this is for later (as in after the Rapture). Right now, they are using leaders and uniting them against what is shown to them. They are controlling truth by silencing those who speak it. They are advancing lies."

Me: "Oh Lord, please stop all of this. Please do something incredible."

Jesus: "Erin, I am still the God of Miracles. Now, I want you to be more aware of the signs I send you. I have been sending many. What else did you find?"

Me: "The amusement park was called ICON Park. The company who owns this is called the Slingshot Group."

Jesus: "Remember that the enemy hates God's Creation. He especially hated Eve and the daughters of Adam and Eve. He caused their spiritual death through sin. However, God still loved them and blessed them. The enemy also hated David. He was too young to join the army and was only a shepherd boy when he fought Goliath."

Me: "Hey, he used a sling and a stone. Was this really like a slingshot?"

Jesus: "Interesting observation. Remember the analogies here. This was an amusement ride that allowed people to imagine freefalling 400 feet from a tall tower and live to talk about it. Why would anyone pay to do this?"

Me: "I used to love that stuff, Lord. I am sorry. Is this a sin?"

Jesus: "Only if this is your idol. Think of this in a way greater than just what happened. Look at how God granted the boy eternal life, but also showed His mercy for the 29 people also on the ride with him. Their lives will never be the same.

"Now, what if I did something even more incredible through this? Remember that, even though it is difficult to do so, slingshots can fire two ways. A Great Upheaval and a Great Reversal is coming. It is time to rejoice as I will turn what the enemy planned for evil into good."

Me: "Lord, never in history has the leadership been so corrupt. Lies have been widespread. Churches have been silenced. The world needs a Divine Rescue. Very few of us voted for this evil. You allow all things that occur.

You allow this for Your glory. Still, this is the worst injustice I have ever seen.

“Saying that you are a woman is no longer allowed. It is so wicked. Young children are being talked into denouncing their gender behind their parent’s backs. Some areas of the country even allow the child to reassign by surgery their body parts. It is so disgusting and so sad.”

Jesus: “You are witnessing pure evil. Leaders desire to kill newborns and even stop all reproduction. Their plans are lofty. They desire to kill billions of people over the next ten years. You will need a mark in order to purchase food or do various daily activities. It is pure evil. This is the rise of the Beast System of government. It comes with strings attached. There are always strings attached when dealing with the enemy.

“Still, do not forget I am greater than all of this. They do not prevail, remember? While their plans are lofty, their victories are not actually victories. While they can celebrate after I collect My harvest and My remnant, even this time will also be cut short. Now, don’t worry, Erin, for I am here. I am in you. Take courage. Be strong and take courage.”

Dream over.

592 – Three Bowls, Three Years

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day! It is becoming harder here. Thank You for Your love and kindness. Thank You for my family and our friends. We feel so blessed to have divine company in such difficult times.

I took my dog, Zoey, to the vet yesterday. She is 13 years old and will turn 14 when winter comes again. She is old and we are so blessed by her. This little dog has been with me through so many trials. She was divinely sent to me as a companion when my kids were away from me. Since February of 2009, she has not been away from me. When I would cry or couldn't sleep, she was always there for me.

Her heartbeat and warmth were a reminder of Your love for me during such great sorrow and loneliness. I have seen her running in fields like a puppy in Heaven. She is always off-leash as there is no need for leashes in Heaven. I have seen her napping under the shade of beautiful trees and playing in the beautiful river there.

As I was driving and worshipping the Lord, I asked the Lord if we could make it back to Bend OR again soon. This is where Zoey was born. She loved 'smelling the smells' there. When we went to the parks, she would lay down in the grass and look so peaceful. When we moved away from Bend OR, she was never the same. She was stirred and never at full peace.

She must have picked up what I was feeling as she was always so happy when we would go back there for a visit. She was all smiles. She likes it here too, but it has never been the same. I see her outside on the deck in the sun patrolling the area. She looks happy doing this. Lately though, she has not been responding when I call. She has been different. On my way yesterday, I wept openly and loudly.

I prayed in my Spirit and the Lord showed Him carrying Zoey. Zoey was young and healthy in His arms. He carried her like a lamb. He was smiling and walking through a field of wheat. He smiled at me and waved. As He waved, the vision sealed up.

Well, the vet confirmed my suspicions. Zoey is nearing the end of her life. Her hearing is gone now and her eyes are cloudy. She has cysts and an infection we are treating. He gave me some medicines to sustain her as long as possible. I was thankful to You, Father, when she seemed lively this morning. Thank You for sustaining her. I had two dreams on the night before last...

Sub-Dream 1 "Three Bowls, Three Years" begins...

Before me were bowls 24" in diameter. They were shallow, around 6" in depth. They were carved in wood. In the inside of the first bowl was a salmon color. The second and third bowls were grey. The salmon-colored bowl contained 30 stalks of barley. The second bowl contained a small handful of grain. Each bowl represented a year. Three years in total. I spoke in the dream as I watched the presentation of these bowls to some leader.

Me: "We don't have much time!"

The leaders were making poor decisions. I was staying somewhere that I did not recognize. It looked like the west coast of California. I saw two people talking...

Person 1: "Have you heard what has happened to the beach?"

Person 2: "No. Is it bad?"

I went to investigate myself. I was in shock at the sight. The coastline had broadened and the water had receded. There was no water to be seen. All you could see as far as the eyes could see was sandy wet beach with seashells, rocks and sea animals. The day was clear and sunny with blue skies.

I could see people were afraid to step out as this was an epic low tide. As a child, I loved low tide. Low tide exposed everything below the surface. I was excited and I decided to run and see. I could run with supernatural speed. It was exciting. Someone soon came over to talk to me...

Person: "I would not go near there. Something is wrong. Where did the water go?"

Sub-Dream 1 over.

Sub-Dream 2 "Three Former Pastors' Wives" begins...

I was with my daughter and some of her friends at a bridal shop. We were really excited and we all seemed young. As we shopped, three former pastors' wives at a church we attended years ago entered the shop. They seemed very serious. They were so engrossed in their conversations that they didn't even see us. They looked old, worried and bitter. They went to a back room to do some business. They were acting extremely important.

Sub-Dream 2 over.

I then had two more dreams last night...

Sub-Dream 3 "Three Bowls of Oil" begins...

Just like in Sub-Dream 1 above, three large bowls were presented. This time, all three were grey. They were 12" in diameter and 3" deep. While two were empty, the first bowl had chicken bones in them. The chicken bones were completely stripped of all meat. These were the tibia bones, aka the drumstick of the chicken.

In this bowl, there were a total of forty bones. While the bowls were presented to a panel of leaders, the leaders had turned around their seats away from the bowls. These were then set on the table before them. The leaders in number were nine. There was a leader in the center and then four to his left and another four to his right.

Announcer: "Next order of business."

Three pitchers of oil were then presented to the panel. Again, they did not turn. The presenter then had three belly dancers present the same pitchers of oil instead. This time, the leaders turned as they wanted to watch the pretty women dance.

The first dancer poured out her pitcher of oil into the first bowl, the bowl of chicken bones. This was safflower oil.

The second dancer poured out only half of their pitcher into the second bowl. This was crude oil.

The third dancer had a pitcher that was labelled 'favor'. The third dancer danced more provocatively than the others and the panel was now quite excited.

Leader: "This third bowl is the most useful of the bowls. We can use this lubricant for our orgies. Come, let us bathe in this sweet oil. Have her pour her pitcher of 'favor' into the third bowl so we may partake of each other."

When the third dancer went to pour out her pitcher into the third bowl, nothing came out. There was no 'oil' (lubricant). The leaders became angry and chased the presenter in order to kill him. They felt deceived.

Leader: "What did you do to the wine and the oil. No wine was ever presented. Where is the pure oil? Where is the oil we can use for our parties?"

Sub-Dream 3 over.

Sub-Dream 4 "Three Amazing Holes of Golf" begins...

I was young, full of life and carefree. I was at a large golf tournament. I was not playing, just observing. There were hundreds of people attending. Someone looked over at me, pointed and then hollered out to the crowd...

Man: "Hey, she is one of them. Let's see what she's got."

When several more people pointed at me and did the same, the commissioner came over to me. The crowd cheered him on.

Commissioner: "Our rules expressly contend that you are not allowed to play unless you can prove either a winning record or you received an invitation."

Me: "This counts me out as I have neither one."

Crowd: Yelling. "Let her play! Yes, let her play!"

Commissioner: "This crowd is too unruly to ignore. I tell you what... you have three holes. If by these three holes you have not done miracles, we will need to exclude you."

Me: "Define miracles."

Commissioner: "Okay, just wow the crowd."

Me: "Okay, but I have no clothes. I have no equipment. I will need to get both."

Commissioner: "Then go and get them. You are up at the first tee in 15 minutes."

This was impossible. I ran over to the clubhouse. While the clubs didn't fit, I took the ones that were the closest to fitting. I then got some clothes. Again, it didn't fit properly, but it was good enough. I prayed to the Lord to help me. He instantly made the clubs and the clothing perfectly fit me. I was astounded. I was about to ask Him to help get me to the first tee on time when I was suddenly there. This happened in an instant.

Announcer: "Erin is ready to tee off at the first hole."

The crowd erupted in cheers. I could see the hole in the distance. It was a Par 4. While most were in favor of me, some hated me. They were saying horrible things to me to try to distract me. I prayed to the Lord and I was suddenly able to block out all the negative comments. He then helped me swing at the back of the ball with an impossibly perfect swing. The ball reached the cup with only a 2" putt remaining. It was impossible. I tapped in the short putt for an eagle.

The second hole was a very difficult Par 5 dog leg. I teed up the ball and drove it like no one could drive it. Just like the first hole, I was teeing off from the black tees (the same tees professional men use). The ball sailed over the dog leg and dropped on the edge of the green. My drive was nearly five hundred yards... unheard of by even the best male drivers. When I got to the green, I sunk a fairly long putt. I took only two shots to finish a Par 5, a double eagle.

Cheers and roars came from the crowd as I approached the third hole. It was a long Par 3 surrounded by water. There were so many distractions. The people were being loud and unruly. I teed the ball low to the ground and pulled out an eight iron. I looked at the hole and willed my shot to it. By the grace of the Lord, it took two bounces and plunked into the hole. It was my first hole-in-one. The commissioner approached me...

Commissioner: "As you must already know, we would be delighted to have you play."

When I looked at the other players, they looked so sad and disheartened. Then again, I did just hit seven under in just three holes. I would be as disappointed too. I decided that I just couldn't do this to the other participants. How could they win with God helping my every stroke?

Me: "While I decline your offer, thank you. It was fun. I have the Lord's work to attend to now." The crowd was not happy. "I am so sorry, but I must fly."

As the crowd swarmed the area to keep me from leaving the area, I was removed to safety by God in an instant.

Sub-Dream 4 over.

Me: "What a fun dream, Lord! Thank You! Thank You for fun dreams in the midst of dark ones. These are so welcomed."

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "I am here, Erin. I am with you. While a great corruption has swept across the land, so too has My judgments."

Me: "Please don't punish the people of God for this. These leaders rose to power not by the will of the people, but by the hands of the enemy. Evil has become so widespread now. The land is so corrupt and so wicked. It is out in the open and in full view. The wicked don't even seem to be hiding it anymore. Please come to help us, Lord. Without you, all people are lost."

Jesus: "Understand the times you are in. Corruption has taken root. You understand them by their rotten fruit. There is both the wicked you see plainly and the wicked that remains hidden from you."

Me: "Lord, You are setting the stage right now. I have been so disturbed at what is happening. The people have been deceived. It is horrible. All that is happening is so evil. What can be done?"

Jesus: "I do not favor or prosper a nation whose highway leads to spiritual death. This is even worse as evil calls on others to join them. I am not blind to the evil. You only have to look at that which is detestable to Me to understand by which measure I use to contrast the hearts of My people to the hearts of those of the world. See and test My Words to see if by measure you can make a case for God's wrath to be removed."

Me: "Well, all that You hate is happening now, but worse. Proverbs 6:16...

- Haughty eyes
- A lying tongue
- Hands that shed innocent blood
- A heart that plots evil schemes
- Feet that are quick to do evil
- A false witness who pours out lies
- A person who sows discord in a family

"This is all happening now. Evil is manifesting in full view."

Jesus: "As a tree in spring goes from its state of wick (that is, alive, but asleep, in winter) to bud then blossom, so too does evil operate in darkness then presents itself. It then flourishes in due season, as are the wicked leaders across the nations. Now, I want you to understand the words of the prophets and their lamentations. Understand that I come when the words of the prophets are also in due season.

"This is due season for My harvest, not what the world plants. The world plants their seeds of evil schemes in fields of dung. Their crops of evil are then fertilized by their lies. This is like acid rain, the acid of deceit. They need no sun because their harvest is cultivated in darkness. They then offer up their blood sacrifices of the innocent on their altars of Baal.

"Erin, I see. I am the God who sees. I do not collect dust on a shelf. I am active and living. I am the Alpha and the Omega, the Beginning and the End. Now, why would such a beautiful land need to be burned of all uncleanness unless it is completely defiled. For it is written that the Son of man will send out His angels and they will weed out of His Kingdom every cause of sin and all who practice lawlessness (Matt 13:41).

“I will completely sweep away everything from the face of the Earth. I will sweep away man and beast. I will sweep away the birds of the air and the fish of the sea. I will sweep away the idols along with their wicked worshippers. I will cut off mankind from the face of the Earth. I am angry. I am stirred.”

Note: See Jeremiah 4:25, 9:10, 12:4; Ezekiel 38:20; Zephaniah 1:3; Hosea 4:3

Me: “Lord, my stomach has been sick all week. Evil has manifested boldly. Please just don’t forget all Your children who love You. We love You, Lord, so, so much. I can’t believe how many prophets have warned about this in the Bible. Here You are speaking on this. Oh Lord, I am scared at times.”

Jesus: “Do you think I won’t do something in your days you would not believe even if you were told? I will, Erin. However, this will be for good, not for evil. I see the shedding of innocent blood. I see the rise of evil schemes and corruption. I saw the opportunists in My day doing the same as they are today. In My days, the scribes were document preparers and the legal interpreters of the laws.

“They then used this to cheat the widows out of their homes. They were scammers and schemers of those who were innocent. They were evil. Then there were Sadducees. These were the judges of the laws of God. They easily turned their eyes away from evil for a price. Today, these are those in high order, including the wealthy and those who serve them. They are all beneficiaries of their corruption.

“You have only to look the same way at the government and what they practice to see the framework of evil against their people. Any opposed are silenced and then struck down or worse. While they claim they are the purveyors of righteousness, their evil is on full display. These are the governors of the sons of perdition and have been sent to punish the people...

- They determine what is morally right, medically right, spiritually right, historically right and environmentally right. These are their Five Pillars. All of this, yet their platform is peace, understand?
- They lie without ceasing. Since they control justice and law, they also then control the outcome to their benefit.
- They declare the deaths of the unborn and the newly born as righteous, good and necessary. This is the sacrifice of babies to Baal.

- They call evil good and good evil.
- They call for the dismantling of all of the Constitution and historical truth meant to glorify God. This is because they want to do the opposite. They hate practices of justice or law to be under God for liberty of all. They want this null and void.
- They seek to turn children away from their parents and parents away from their children. They want to divide and conquer the (nuclear) family.
- They call for the removal of freedom for the righteous and law abiding. They then want this freedom and liberty to be given to thieves and murderers.
- They declare there is no man or woman. They call upon children to change their natural order and dress this way.
- They declare that God and His Name in churches is evil and His statutes wicked.
- They lie publicly in the town squares, on the airways and in news articles.
- They send out plagues and punishing rules meant to cause harm and kill.
- They declare meat as bad and raise the prices. They declare all God said was clean as unclean. They give bad water and claim it is good to drink.
- They steal and come against anyone opposed. Opponents are then silenced.
- They kill the idea of woman, mother and all things good of God. They call for the erasure of any such thoughts.
- They call all possessions of the workers who earned evil and punish them, causing them to lose their cars, houses and even livelihoods.

Me: "Oh Lord, please stop them. Please cut them down. Please, Lord. None of us will make it. They control everything... law, medical, communication... everything."

Jesus: "Erin, the one leader has lost his mind because of these treatments. I allowed this. Do not worry as I see all of this. I will dismantle corrupt leaders and expose them. They provoke wars to distract the world. They are then busy under the cover of the worries of these wars. There is nothing new under the sun. I see. I am present. They cannot hide from My view."

Me: "What about my dreams over the last couple of nights?"

Jesus: "These are signs and markers. You must pray on this and I will grant you answers. Now, barley is in the first bowl, seeds are in the second bowl, but there is no harvest in the third bowl. This is a sign. Now, the other dream of bowls. The chicken bones were stripped clean and were of great cost and a high price.

"But then watch... their soothsayers will throw down these bones to read their futures. They will then see that their judgments come from the place of the safflower oil. Then there is none. There is no oil. While they fornicated with their lustful eyes, they ignored what was right in front of them. The oil of fear is now gone from the nations."

Me: "Oh Lord, all of this is so dark."

Jesus: "Yes, but then I also sent you the good news dream... did you enjoy your enhanced golfing skills? You seemed happy in this dream because you are not of the world. Now rejoice, Erin, for I have you."

Me: "Oh Lord, please send the changes soon!"

Jesus: "Do not worry. I have you. My favor is upon you. My favor is upon those I call. All is about to change. Pray!"

Dream over.

Dear Father,

I am forever grateful for all You have done for me and my children over the years. You have really done miracle after miracle concerning us. While I sometimes wish I could have a redo, reset or reverse, this is not how life works. For some reason, over time, I remembered the good in the people you brought on my life's journey. This helped make the bad recede. I then remember only vague memories of the great pain and disbelief.

Today, You took me back over the evil done to me and my children. This evil was done for no good reason at all. While I tend to not forget main events, I rarely read old journal entries because they contain the details. Quite simply, these are just too painful. Why is it that certain people decide to take advantage of someone when they know you are at your very lowest point? They act friendly, but then turn diabolical.

A windstorm caused our internet to have trouble on our tower. A technician came out to repair it. I needed to make a way for him behind an industrial rack. In my office, I have a wicker basket that contains photos, documents and some of my old journals. I then ventured onto some from when my oldest son was born. This had so many memories of the persecution I had in Bend OR. Rereading this reminded me why I would have ever been persuaded to leave this place. Here are some early tidbits from God...

- Some date in September 2011: The Lord spoke to me in a dream: "Remember, Erin, I made a new covenant with you at Shavuot (Pentecost). Your enemies in this next season will come to nothing. I have a plan for you. Take heart, have joy and watch what I am going to do for you. I am going to do something in your days you would not believe even if I told you. There is justice. I have promised. I will tell you when to move and what to do. I will not change My mind. I will build a house for you. Men of honor and wealth will seek you out. This is a promise in My Name and is sealed and signed with My signet ring.”

- September 29, 2011: I had a dream I was swimming in murky waters with sharks. All of my friends were standing on the shore watching me.
- October 3, 2011: The Lord spoke to me in a dream when I felt unworthy of a victory: “Don’t say you are not worthy. You must go wherever I send you. You must say what I tell you. Don’t be afraid of your enemies. I will be with you and protect you. I am the Lord and I have spoken.”
- November 10, 2011: The Lord brought my attention to great judgment on Penn State. The Lord punished them.
- November 27, 2011: Dream of a home built for us.
- Date unknown: I was becoming discouraged while praying. I felt the Lord speak in me: “Erin, let Me rebuild you. You will not rebuild yourself. I will rebuild you effortlessly.” I was then led to Zephaniah 3:16-20.

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day! Thank You for Your love and great grace. Thank You for fulfilling my promises years ago. These promises were directly from You. Thank You for granting all my prayers and even some to spare. Who is like You, Father? I had quite the dream the night before last:

Sub-Dream 1 “The huge paver patio with a bear” begins...

I was given an expansion to our property. While I owned it the whole time, I was unaware of it. It was out on the Pacific Northwest. The house was in a treed area. It was a forest of pine and cedars. The terrain was lush and humid. I felt I should take my time while examining this new place. I was in the backyard and the landscape was beautiful. Still, I could tell that the area had not been looked after for a long time.

I had a broom and was sweeping a slate stone paver patio. Winter had ended and there were now blossoms. This patio had a lot of debris on it. My broom swept up big scrolls of flattened wet leaves. They curled up with the force of my broom. Under the leaves was black sludge from a long wet winter. It was the decay of foliage. As I extended my sweep to the back where the woods were, I realized how big this was.

I was in shock at the size of this patio. It was easily 150 feet by 100 feet. The pavers were in slate with greys and greens. I did the math in my head. Each paver averages about $10 a square foot. Then there is the labor and sealant. For just the pavers alone, we are talking $150,000.

I continued to sweep away all the debris to expose this beauty. I then came to a large rock outcropping. The boulders were massive. One was jagged and looked like half a cracked egg. As the sun broke through the trees, I saw the glimmer of fur from an animal in the cave.

Me: "Hmm, it must be sleeping. I will just leave it alone."

The pavers took the path around the side of the outcropping. There was a large hole between the rocks. I then became startled when I noticed a large bear sleeping in hibernation with three of her cubs. They looked as if they were nursing as the mom slept. The surrounding place had been abandoned for ten or more years. I then heard the bear waking up. She started to make huffing noises. I quickly left the area.

Sub-Dream 1 over...

My dream from last night...

Sub-Dream 2 "An Elegant House, A Missed Concert" begins...

I was in a large dining room. In this room, I had windows all around. There was a sofa, two chairs, a game table with a puzzle and pieces off to the side. It was elaborately decorated and complex. Clearly, a big fabrication budget went into this. It was so decorated that it was almost too decorated.

In this dream, I was young and so were my children. I had elaborate shelves with journals and photo albums arranged by years. This is something I have always wanted to do. I had one stack of items still left to organize. My mom then appeared in my dream. She was very critical and surprisingly so...

Mom: "Erin, while this room is elaborate, your attention to details is nothing if you can't complete your puzzle or even your tasks."

I was sad as I had done so much. She couldn't see what I had already accomplished. Despite her criticisms, I was glad she was here. I needed her to look after my kids so that I could travel through Maine to Boston for a concert. I suddenly realized that I had not left myself enough time. It was 2 hours until the concert started, but a 5 hour drive.

My daughter: "Mom, you won't make it."

Me: Laughing. "I would rather stay here with you anyways. I am not going to allow a concert ticket to dictate my time. The concert ticket didn't cost that much and is hardly worth the trouble."

We received a knock on the door. When I opened the door, there stood a formal looking butler. There was a limousine parked in the driveway. He handed me an invitation. I looked at the invitation...

"The Passing of the Mantle Dinner

You and your family are invited to attend a dinner at the estate of 'name' (an elderly designer I did not know of)"

I turned to find my children to ask them if they wanted to go. Well, they were already standing there all dressed up and eager to go.

Me: "Alright, alright, we'll go to the dinner."

I changed into my formal dinner attire. I then found my mom and addressed her..

Me: "Mom, I am no longer going to the concert I had tickets to. We are going to a fancy dinner instead. Would you like to come with us? The children are coming too."

Mom: "Sure. I wouldn't miss it."

We soon arrived at the estate. It was so opulent that it was out of this world. Everything was the finest. This was so fancy that I wondered why we were even invited. We were seated for dinner at an elaborate table. The servers all wore white with white gloves. They did not speak to us as they served us. Then again, my children, my mom and I never said much either. A bell then rang out...

Head butler: "Please stand for her Royal Highness."

We did. A stately woman then entered with her attendants. I did not recognize her.

Woman: "Thank you for coming to my banquet, Erin. While you do not know me, I know you. How do you like my humble abode?"

Me: "It is so beautiful. We are all speechless."

Woman: "Yes, I had everything rewired and updated. Everything is brand new. There are no chips, scuffs, cracks or flaws. The systems are advanced. All has been prepared."

Me: "What are you preparing for?"

Woman: "Well, Erin, to give this home to you."

Me: "Wait! What? I can't take this. This is too big. This is so generous."

Woman: "Why do you insult me like this? I am at the end of my journey. God has blessed me. I have no heirs. You are my beneficiary."

Mom: In a very angry tone. "Hey, wait, she doesn't need this. She didn't do anything to deserve this."

Me: Ignoring my mom. "Thank you for thinking of us."

Woman: "Erin, God called me 22 years ago to begin the renovations. The home was in great disrepair. My children and husband were killed in a car accident and I was overcome with grief. An angel then visited me while I slept. He showed me my family residing in Heaven with the Lord. They were building a home for me in the city. God told them He needed 22 years to fit my standards. While I know He was kidding, perhaps He was correct.

"I spent all my time worrying about material things. I did not appreciate what God had given me. Well, here I am. I am at the end of my days. The Lord spoke to me in my sleep. He instructed me. This house has many rooms. I have great fields and vineyards that need workers. You have a great task here, a great work. It is time for me to go now as I have completed my work here. God is now calling me Home as He has now completed the place He has built for me."

Just then, two barristers entered the dining room. The woman signed a document. The men then stamped, signed and initialed the documents. These were the two witnesses to her signature.

Woman: "Then this is finished. I must go. I have more properties and dinners all over the world to attend to."

The barristers came down to hand me the documents. While I saw the date 'June 1, 2022' on the document, I was not sure what this meant. I began to cry.

Woman: "Do not cry. Do not worry about how you will cover expenses or taxes or anything else. The Lord warned me that you would worry. This too is covered. There are many rooms, but also many workers. Now, I have spent my life preparing for this day and I cannot wait. It is time for me to go."

She got up and came over to me. She took a ring off of her finger and placed it on mine. It was stunning.

Woman: "This ring is now your ring. My attendants will show you around so you are not lost."

She hugged me, but then was gone.

My daughter: "Mom, I am glad that you didn't go to that concert!" We laughed.

Sub-Dream 2 over..

Me: "Lord, I felt You call me to go through my old journals. They were brutal. Why did You want me to read through these painful torturous journals of records of my personal non-stop stupidity?"

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "Erin, this is because I was with you the entire way. I carried you. Every time you were on your last reserves of food or provision, I sustained you. The enemy even told you he was hoping you would die. He said this many times and I recorded these. In return, you never asked for his death or the destruction of any of your pursuers, of which you had many.

"Your friends deserted you because it was difficult to be around all your destruction. Though you cried out from the flames of the fiery furnace, your friends ran, your family betrayed you and your pastor humiliated you. This leader of your prayer group, the scribe of many books, told you 'Surely, you are out of His favor'. You were exhausted. I allowed you to be crushed. I dismantled you so I could grant you a mantle.

"Let Me explain. You had designed a course for yourself. You had an idea of what a blessed life from God would look like. You fashioned a Proverbs wife for yourself (Proverbs 31). However, you did not have a husband to cherish you and love his children. You instead married a blacksmith of My choosing to shape you. Your ideas of who I was had to be changed.

"You thought you would be used for a higher purpose once you declared a thing. You thought things would happen your way if you did this or that. Well, I didn't do this in the way you thought. I instead showed you a vision 22 years ago and sent My witnesses to explain the way you must go in order to have the mantle I had presented to you. You had to die to yourself.

"You needed to dismantle your ideas you had built your house on. This was done brick by painful brick. I tore down your walls. I obliterated your house down to the foundation. You then had nothing but My words and promises on which to rebuild your house, the house I planned for you to dwell in.”

Me: “It is interesting that the word liberation can be spelled using most of the letters in the word obliteration. I thought I was hated by You, Lord. I thought I was detestable in Your sight.”

Jesus: “Erin, de-test-able means you are not worthy at all of My testing and rebuke. I tested you amply.”

Me: “I was constantly being rebuked.”

Jesus: “Well, there was a constant learning curve. Habits and cycles are difficult to let go of.”

Me: “At times, they can even seem like a friend. Hard to describe.”

Jesus: “Some voices are louder than others. This does not mean they are wiser because they break the sound barrier. Remember that wisdom is often in the still small voice.”

Me: “I am so, so sorry, Lord. With what happened to me and my children, I was in shock. I was in clear shock at all the discoveries. I had compelling evidence, including recordings and photos. The schemes against me were wicked and deep. Despite this, justice still never came.

“In return, if I did even a small thing, a ridiculous amount of punishment came to me. So many attacks came. So many that it was clearly disproportionate. I prayed for those who did such horrible things to us. I believed the best in people, but was shocked at the horrible things done to us. I would never even think of this.”

Jesus: “I took you through this fiery furnace. Erin, I allowed all of these tests and trials so when you would finally be before My judgment seat, you would be held blameless.”

Me: “But, Lord, I am not!”

Jesus: “You still don’t understand then My own words. Erin, you have brought every sin before Me, both small ones and larger ones. You were given your verdict after you brought them before Me. For some, you were given a trial period, tests and more refining so you would no longer fall into temptations of various kinds. During this time of great testing, evil in many forms came against your household.

“Some came because of residual related troubles. Others I had used you to measure the hearts of others. Your sins were and are forgiven. However, there is always a sentencing and this often includes ‘time served’, understand? (He was talking ‘tongue in cheek’) You asked to be used by Me in greater measure. You wanted to serve Me with a ministry. I gave you a great call, a difficult journey and a foreboding path.

"Since you asked for much, much was demanded of you. So, what do I mean by this? If you write in your journal that you want to be used by Me someday, what are you then asking Me for? When you asked that your heart of hard clay be transformed into your heart of gold, did you think this would be easy for you? Erin, think of all that was necessary. Erin, what have you now learned through all of this?"

Me: "You have trusted me with much, so, of course, even more would be required. You never once told me that my life would be easy. You instead promised me good all of the days of my life. So, what is good? All that is lovely, kind and satisfying. It is the love of family and friends. It is an enduring love from You, Lord. It is Your enduring forgiveness. My brokenness was beautiful to You.

"It was in my dismantled state, in my rubble, in which You could rebuild, reshape and change me. You granted me more and more as I became less and less of myself. You could trust me with more when the 'ME' was gone. The more one seeks, the more one must lose. Blessed is the man who truly has it all in Jesus, You, Lord! While much will be required by You, great will be Your reward."

Jesus: "Very good, Erin. Now, let's discuss that first dream of the bear. The bear and her three cubs were sleeping. This entire dream signifies preparation for a great event. In this dream, you were shown a property out west. You were sweeping away debris. Sweeping away debris means you were clearing a beautiful path.

"The hibernating bears represent you and your house. You have been away in the trees as if sleeping. You and your children are as if sleeping. Well, the bear has now become restless as you are stirred awake from your deep sleep. Bears wake up in spring time. Erin, you, your household and your Nest friends are waking up."

Me: "Lord, you are speaking about the Transformation, right?"

Jesus: "Spring is a good time. All is made brand new, Erin. Now, I am sorry for all you have endured. There has been so much pain, worry and disappointment. However, these were all necessary for what is to come."

Me: "Lord, thank You for saving us from troubles."

Jesus: "Erin, I have fed you and your children as fledglings at My Altar. I made promises to you that I continue to keep and fulfill. I bless those who bless you with 100-fold more than they bless you. Those who curse you then receive much more in troubles back to them. Pray.”

Me: “Lord, please have mercy as many do not realize that You are active in the world amongst us. This means they act as if You cannot see them.”

Jesus: “I see all. Now, rejoice over what is to come as this is good. Erin, I have adorned your mantle. I love you.”

Me: “I love You, Lord!”

594 – A Fun Return Trip to the Potter’s Studio

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day! Thank You for a supernatural deep sleep. I slept very late and had to be awakened from a deep sleep. I still feel a bit sleepy. I had an epic dream this morning that ended when I was awakened. This was clearly divine timing...

Sub-Dream 1 “From Dread to Joy” begins...

I was standing in a field of barley. The barley was ready for harvest. However, there were dark storm clouds all around me. It must have been a supernatural storm as I would see the occasional flash of red embers. I then heard a rumble and the ground began to shake. The sound was like a thousand trains barreling down on you. As I turned 360 degrees, there were massive tornados all around me.

The twisters’ colors reflected the black, grey and brown dirt they were kicking up. I knew that the barley would be destroyed by either the fire and embers above or the twisters that would level them. I heard a voice. The Lord told me the voice was named ‘Fear’. The voice made a horrible sound that is impossible to describe.

The voice of Fear: “Brace for impact. You will be consumed.”

Just then, I heard a familiar sound. I heard a whistle in the approaching storms. While I was facing west, I turned around to face east instead. There was Breakthrough coming for me. I ran toward him. He collected me quickly and moved me to a path. This was an old familiar path. I looked around and saw that the twisters were still approaching. Just then, a hundred angels appeared.

There were fifty angels on the north side of my path and fifty angels on the south side of my path. Using their shields as walls and their swords as a canopy above, I suddenly felt safe from the storm. In an instant, I could no longer hear the frightening sounds of the approaching storm. I looked down the path and there was Uriel with another angel. They were at the base of a ladder-like stairway that reminded me of years ago.

Uriel: "God requests your presence. Come."

Breakthrough went ahead of me and Uriel came after. Uriel was my rearguard. As we climbed, I could see an epic battle in the storm above the barley. While I couldn't see specifics, I knew it was a terrible battle. I could see beasts and angelic warriors. I heard screams. I could smell horrible smells. All of this cut through in a way I have no words for.

I started to shake in fear. My body was so overcome by what I was in that I felt like jelly. I couldn't breathe. If you take the densest atmospheric pressure and humidity with little oxygen, this was similar. I heard Breakthrough draw my attention to him. He looked stern and pointed to his eyes to remind me to focus ahead and not to the left nor to the right.

Uriel: "Erin, stay focused. Do not look to the wars. Look to where God is taking you instead."

I then kept focused on the path ahead and up the ladder-like stairway. I came through a doorway. When I entered, the light of dawn enveloped me. I was there on a beautiful path in the Garden of God. I sat on the side of the road and wept. I cried as I wrote.

Me: "Lord, no human will make it if they are there. Our bodies will not make it. We will dissolve."

I wept openly in Heaven with the memories of what I had just gone through to get to this place. I was overcome with grief for those who have no idea what is coming, either for good or for evil. I then felt nudges on my arms, my legs and my back. It was a herd of tiny deer. They didn't say anything. They were trying to bring me to my feet on the path. I wondered where Uriel and Breakthrough went.

As I walked straight ahead, I realized I was in a familiar place. The deer ran ahead of me. They were all the size of my dog, Zoey. They were some of the cutest creatures I have ever seen. A few stayed near me. One looked like it wanted me to pick it up, so I did. It looked me in the eyes and licked my cheek. I carried it like a lamb. The forest was beautiful.

There were many flowers, birds singing and butterflies perched on branches. I cried as I walked. This place was just so breathtakingly stunning. The little deer licked my tears. I kissed the top of its head. There was a beautiful river of illuminated light blue green water. The water here has life to it that restores. I saw ahead on the path where the deer had stopped. There was a small path perpendicular to the path I was on.

As I approached, there was a sign which made my heart leap in joy... THE POTTER'S STUDIO... with a pointing arrow. The deer ran down the small path into the yard of the Potter. This is still the most beautiful studio I have ever seen. It was hand chiseled, but so perfect it seemed like a laser had cut it. Impossible from an engineering standpoint. The stone was dry stacked. No grout was necessary here.

The path was made of perfectly cut stones and had so many beautiful fountains. The porch entry was made of beams that were put together with dowels and dovetail joints. No nails were used. The door was partially open to the beautiful entry. The handle for the door was made of bronze with detailed engraving. There was a small bell at the entrance. The bell was made of silver and also had detailed engraving.

While I didn't want to intrude, I was too curious not to let myself in. I felt guilty about intruding, yet too excited to stop myself. I looked up and prayed for forgiveness. I could hear music coming from the studio. It was deep music, not shallow. Hard to describe. It was inspiring and uplifting. It was ancient, yet modern. I shook my head at even thinking I should come in unannounced. I turned around and rang the bell. I was still holding the tiny deer.

Jesus: "Erin, you made it. Look, you are carrying my little friend. Come in."

I put the little deer down and he ran out to the yard to play with the others in the grass and blossoms. It was beautiful. The kiln was not fired up. In front of this beautiful wall of glass overlooking this yard of fountains was a table with 12 of the most beautiful vessels I have ever seen in my life.

The sunlight streamed in the glass. The glass shined like faceted crystals in the light. It was dawn. I had never seen such a beautiful room as this. The wall of glass opened to the outside fountains in an outward fashion. This is unlike typical earthly windows and doors that open inward.

Jesus: Laughing. "I can hear your thoughts. Yes, this is against earthly building codes for insurance purposes."

Me: Now also laughing. "Yes, Lord. I love Heaven. We can open windows and doors outward. However, do we even really need them here?"

Jesus: "While you do not need these in Heaven to keep out intruders, they can still be the prettiest part of a house... or, in Heaven's case, a mansion. Come to think of it, I would hate to see all of you living in a walled box." He laughed. "Is it not better to have the inside and outside as one so you can enjoy both at the same time? This works here as there is no threat of harm here or pesty insects. Now, look at our little friends (the tiny deer) playing there in the grass. Were you worried for your life?" He smiled.

Me: Laughing. "No, of course not."

Jesus: "They also do not invade or come inside unannounced, understand? Neither do other saints... family and friends. Even when I visit you, I let you know and you welcome Me. Hospitality is for all creatures here. There is no rebellion. There are no plots to steal, invade or harm."

Me: "Lord, are there the sun and the moon in Heaven? Are there the stars and the night sky? Is there rain in the Spring?"

Jesus: "What have you seen?"

Me: "I have seen these here. However, I thought, because we were told this by preachers, that there is no darkness of night, no shadows and no sun here."

Jesus: "Then they did not read what was written. The Glory of God shines within and upon the Golden City. There is no night there. It does not need the sun or the moon to shine upon it to be in constant light. It is a jewel and a city on a hill. It does not need light from outside sources because the Glory of God shines bright there.

"Now, let us understand again what you have observed. You have been shown the vastness of Heaven. You have even been shown other mysteries that await those who will reside here. So, what exactly were the Scriptures speaking of?"

Me: "The Golden City of God."

Jesus: "Okay, then we have a clear distinction. There is no need for the light of the sun or the moon there as this is where the Glory of God shines day and night. At the same time outside of the city, the saints are delighted by the varying lighting. If My Father created the moon, the sun, the stars, the sunsets and the breaking dawns and delights in them, why would He not have these in Heaven, but even more spectacular?"

"Does it then make it clear that many will have no more terror by night, fear or unrest? This is referring to the Kingdom of Heaven and that which God created here as good. As for the city, it is exceptional. Think of the city as like a jewel cut with facets. The light of God shines throughout the citadel. Lights are not needed. In this case, the sun and moon are not required, only the Glory of God.

"Still, and as I have shown you, Heaven is vast. I have shown you that which is good, life giving and lovely here. This has all been prepared for you.

As just one example, if I wanted to show off a massive fireworks display, would I do this at nighttime or daytime? Well, of course it would be nighttime. Who sets off fireworks in the daytime?

“While much has been written about the City of God, from what you have seen, could not just as much have been written about the surrounding areas? Perhaps scholars should not expand only on what is written with notions about what God would or would not do. Perhaps they should instead go back to the beginning, the time when all was created, and see what was special to God back then. God does not change.

“Perhaps I shall create a different Heaven with restrictions and limitations for these learned men. They can then enjoy being ‘right’ instead of enjoying the place I have prepared for them in eternity. Did God ever say that the trees, the fields, the pastures, the mountains, the lakes, the streams or the springs are not good?

“Did God ever say that the birds of the air, the fish in the sea or the animals on the land are not good? How many are sad because they were told that Heaven is void of God’s creations? When I say ‘on Earth as it is in Heaven’, what does this exactly mean? Can they tell Me this? So many are fearful of eternity in Heaven because they have been taught one of the following lies...

- There would be no color, just everything in white.
- People would float around aimlessly on clouds.
- Their only entertainment would be playing a tiny harp.

“Others have been taught just as harmful lies... That they would be on their knees doing nothing but worshipping at God’s Throne all of the time and that there would be nothing else allowed to happen other than this.

“Erin, is it not written that those who came out of the Great Tribulation are grateful and worship day and night before the Throne of God? Where is the Throne that they should worship day and night?”

Me: “Heaven.”

Jesus: “Are they worshipping as a sentence or out of gratitude?”

Me: “Gratitude. Lord, they are so thankful. I think people just misunderstand what Heaven is like and what we do here. If they even heard about just one small part of Heaven, for example the Baby Animal Garden, they would have a renewed wish to come here. The narrative from the enemy is just so wrong and so harmful.

"As for those who worship day and night when they first get here out of the Great Tribulation, it doesn't mean they are destined to be 'stuck' doing just this for all eternity. This is just a pre-ordained time for them to worship and be thankful. While they will come back to doing this over time, as will all of us, there will be so many other great things to do, it is immeasurable. This is all by Your brilliant design!"

Jesus: "Yes, this is true."

Me: "Many of us have been taught these things. We are taught to be afraid of nighttime, sleep and darkness. We are taught that evil is in the shadows. While this can be true on Earth, especially at certain times, this is never true of Heaven."

Jesus: "Evil on Earth operates day and night. There is no evil, no fear and no rebellion here. When you are here, you are free from all that bound you on Earth."

Me: "When I am here, I worship You with everything I see here. You are so incredible, Lord. Whatever You create with Your voice, Your hands or Your feet is incredible. I would rather be a footstool in the House of the Lord forever than have a bed in Sheol."

Jesus: "Then this is good." He smiled. "Now, before you are 12 Vessels. Each are unique. They represent something very important, like 12 fruit or even the 12 branches with the fruit. I will pour out My Spirit of Living Water in each of these. In turn, they each will pour out into 11,999. The first one will be the lead Vessel of My Great Remnant. In all, 12 sets of 12,000 Vessels.

"These represent abilities from Heaven that will pour out upon Earth. They represent the multitudes. They will be harvest workers unlike anything the world has ever seen. There will be a great outpouring of joy unlike the world has ever seen. It will be a joyful celebration with healing and reconciliation. It will be something precious that was lost and forgotten that is soon to be revealed and found again."

Me: "Lord, I thought You filled our Vessels and the angels then gathered them."

Jesus: "Yes, this is true. The Vessels have been determined and found ready. There are no cracks or chips. These are good. Each one has been prepared by My hand and created here in My Studio. They have been shaped, glazed and fired in the furnace. Erin, this time in the furnace is something you know about more than most others. There is no residue left.

The hearts of those I have prepared are ready for the great outpouring of My Spirit."

Me: Crying. "I pray I can be a part of this. Lord, please allow me to be a part of this!"

Jesus: "Erin, you are here and this is good. Your pen is the pen of a skillful scribe and this I have called you for. Now, I know you are tired and you long for My promises to be fulfilled. Well, are you ready?"

Me: "Only if You find me ready. My heart is willing, but my body is old. However, when I am here in Heaven, I am more alive than I have ever been. I am ready to be used of You in greater measure."

Jesus: "Well, the world has heard no good news as evil spreads lies about God and the Kingdom of Heaven. It is therefore time for Heaven to be visible upon the Earth. Where Heaven is, darkness cannot cultivate. Where I am, truth is. Where I am, there cannot be lies. When My Spirit is poured out of your Vessels, My remnant workers from Heaven's River of Life, there can be no evil in your midst. It will be washed away. My harvest will then be gathered and brought before Me, understand?"

"The broken hearts will be healed and changed using the outpouring of My Spirit through My workers, your Vessels. Once My Vessels are shaped and transformed, they shall be the deliverers of miracles, signs and wonders throughout the Earth. Many different offerings will be before Me. These will be pleasing and holy before My Throne. Now..." He smiled. "... are you ready?"

Me: "I have already been ready." I laughed.

Jesus: "Good!"

Sub-Dream 1 over.

The dream ended abruptly when I was awakened from my sleep. It was good timing though as the Lord confirmed that this was the stopping point anyway.

Me: "Lord, I pray that this is now and not months, or even weeks, away. Please do all You have promised. Please do this right now, as in immediately! Many of us are desperate for Your healing hands."

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "I am in you. I am with you. Do not worry. My angels have been preparing the nations. Many of the princes over the regions have been cut down. However, there is still a moment in time from the removal of this prince for his power and dominion to remain over an area. However, this is almost complete. Something will then happen that you would not believe even if I told you it will happen."

Me: "This is for our good, right?"

Jesus: "Yes. Now, there are many storms all around you as hearts are being prepared. God does not cater to evil nor does He endorse corrupt governments. My judgments come in many forms. Signs are also given so that they are given a chance to repent and turn to Me. I have sent many signs and harbingers as warnings."

Me: "Lord, can You let up on the tornadoes and give the people peace?"

Jesus: "You had another dream. Describe this for Me..."

Me: "This is how I remember it..."

Sub-Dream 2 "A Triangular Intersection at the Top of a Hill" begins...

I was travelling uphill away from two men driving two trucks. They wanted to kill me. My car was a small front wheel drive trying to drive uphill in the snow on a slippery slope. I barely made it to the top of the hill. I looked in my rearview mirror and they were also struggling with the hill even though they had 4-wheel-drives. I kept my eyes on them. The road then formed into an odd-shaped triangle intersection.

I went straight, looked again, but there was no trace of my pursuers. I then proceeded to drop down one of the sides of the triangular fork that led down a hill with no snow. This road had no threats, just a beautiful peaceful neighborhood. No one was chasing me. It was very clear out. I needed to then reach a peak to springboard back around. I did it and was pleased with the beautiful place I was now driving in. All was good. I felt safe. No one was chasing me anymore.

Sub-Dream 2 over.

Jesus: "Then this was a very good dream. No one was chasing you. Now, rejoice, Erin, as this was a good dream. A good day! I love you!"

Me: "I love You too!"

Dream over.

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day! Thank You for melting snow and the signs of Spring. Thank You for Your promises. We had more discouraging news and delays. However, we know, of course, that all is by Your design and for Your purposes, Father. While we know this, we still sometimes struggle. Please continue to sustain us and provide for us. You have done this despite my husband still being unable to find work.

While he seems to get to the 'Final Two', he never seems to get the offer. Again, we know You are in control, so this is yet another divine delay. Still, it is definitely hard on his self-esteem, even though he does his best to pick himself right back up. We must be close though as You have shown me that my husband will work doing something with financial forensics. I had a dream the night before last...

Sub-Dream 1 "Filling up the Empty Cups" begins...

I was holding a large drink pitcher and was serving guests at tables. Whatever I was serving must have been really good because I kept having to fill their empty cups. Everyone was happy and laughing. I knew that I loved all of the people who were here. I was young, strong and talkative.

Sub-Dream 1 over...

I then had two dreams last night:

Sub-Dream 2 "A rocky field is cleared and seeded" begins...

I saw a field that was being tilled. There was a man walking down the rows of dirt picking up rocks and tossing them to the side. There were so many rocks that it never ended. Finally, several workers came in a pick-up truck to help. They were all happy to do so. The man was overjoyed to receive the help.

The workers helped by removing other debris and smaller rocks. They also fertilized. They then made sweeps with bags of seeds, hand sprinkling them with the optimal spacing in mind. Others then came behind them and covered the seeds with just the right amount of dirt.

Worker: Shouting. "The clouds are gathering. God will send the rains. Let us finish. We have only one more task."

So many workers were now gathered there and much more than just the pick-up truck full. I then heard a whistle. The workers then began to sing. There were many stones in piles. They turned and built a wall around the field. When evening came, they sang, ate and danced. At the end of the evening, they went to sleep in their tents. While they were asleep, the rains came. The tents kept them dry. They woke in the early hours.

Worker: "We have a fox in the field."

The workers chased the fox into the woods. When the sun appeared, so did the tender shoots from the rich ground. The workers celebrated and praised God.

Sub-Dream 2 over.

Sub-Dream 3 "A lake bed with tons of deep holes" begins...

I was standing next to an arid lake bed. It looked like a salt flat. As far as my eyes could see, there were holes. They were large holes, each about 6 x 6 x 6 feet deep. The sun was extremely hot. It disturbed me as I could see something had dug all of these holes. What was there? Were there bodies? Were there treasures? I was not sure. Oddly enough, I saw some hermit crabs in some of the holes. Strange!

Sub-Dream 3 over.

Two chickadees just landed on the branch outside my window. One flew to come closer to see me, but then flew off. I could hear a woodpecker tapping on the side of our house just below my window. It then just flew away.

Me: "Father, are You trying to get my attention? Forgive my disappointment. I know that You are moving. I know You are working to bring changes and are preparing Your lands for the Great Harvest. It is just discouraging to see the rise in evil continue. This appears to be happening against the will of the majority of the people.

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "I am here, Erin. I am with you. I delight in you. I delight in those whom I call friends. You are My workers. Your time to serve is coming. I send signs and wonders to prepare your hearts in anticipation. While some choose not to see these signs and wonders, they never were truly watching for Me. Now, I know you are discouraged. You are tired and your wait has been long. I allowed you to review your path.

"You have been retracing old steps so you could find Me there with you the entire time. All the way on your journey, I was there with you. I was there to keep you on the path I prepared for you. I was the one who shut doors to other routes. I even brutally washed out some of your roadways to make them impassible. Your path was surrounded by flooding and swift currents so you had to stay on your path... My path for you.

"I was there, Erin. When necessary, I carried you across the rapids to the peaceful shores. I never stopped carrying you and your children. While on your path, you have seen many who would like to harm you. There have been treacherous people, wicked thieves and destroyers who would like to remove your dreams and wipe you off the map. They want to wipe off your ability to even walk your course.

"They have called out to you from the desert places on your journey. When they could not come to you personally, they worked tirelessly to cut off all of your provision and communication. However, they came to nothing as I sent angels concerning you. These angels guarded you in all your ways (Psalm 91). When your path even became rockier, I commanded angels to lift you up so your feet would not be hurt by stones. Erin, My angels watch over you day and night in all you do.

"Now, I know you are anxious. I know you are worried for your household, your family and your Nest friends. You worry for the nations. You worry about your Nest friends who serve Me in distant lands. Still, why is it that you worry? If I am with you, in you and I care for your household, friends and the nations, am I not capable of doing even more? Do you think that I do not know the mind of a wicked man who rules unfairly?

"Do you think that I do not know plots planned in secret for the benefit of only a few? Do you not know by now that I raise up leaders and I remove them? Now, what about your yard? Do I not know the comings and goings of a squirrel or even when a sparrow is hungry or falls? Erin, I know all of these things. I even provide the path for each... a righteous woman and an unrighteous woman... a judge. Why have I allowed this?"

Me: "I know You control all of our paths, whether righteous or unrighteous. You prepare the fields. Sometimes the debris needs to be exposed and removed."

Jesus: "I have been sending a sign in your yard involving dirt. Have you noticed?"

Me: Laughing. "Yes, Lord. Some critters are menacing at night and digging up dirt while we sleep. I am sure they are raccoons back again due to the porcupine now being gone."

Jesus: "At night, racoons dig up the dirt hoping to find buried treasure that they believe is hidden there."

Me: "Yes, Lord. Food from the trays. However, the racoons are not discovering what they had hoped to find."

Jesus: "Well, they have actually uncovered a few nuts. They then decided to expand their operations. While they had a little success at first, they now come up with only dirt. They thought this was a disaster as they can't eat dirt and it was a lot of wasted effort."

Me: "I know that You are not just talking about our yard here."

Jesus: "This is true. Now, what does this part of your yard now look like?"

Me: "Some areas look like tilled dirt."

Jesus: "This shows you that I am allowing those who I have called to dig up dirt and stir that which was buried in order to reveal what was hidden. You will begin to see mountains of evidence. You will see the truth revealed before the public's view. The wicked is about to be exposed, understand? See, I am the God who sees. I am the Alpha and the Omega, the Beginning and the End. With Me, there is justice. Evil will expose itself."

Me: "Yes. For the first time, I witnessed the world witness our elderly leader trying to get the attention of our former leader. All who work for this elderly leader are shunning him. They are ignoring him. The world is a witness to his humiliation."

Jesus: "Erin, the elderly leader is not the real leader, understand? He does not make the decisions. They are made for him. The wicked former house has never left and all is about to be exposed. Now, about this judge I allowed. She is a worker for the former house. However, I will do something here and you must not worry. She will be changed and shown truth. She will turn and confess her wicked schemes and change her course. I will give her eyes to see."

Me: "Lord, this is incredible, just incredible!"

Jesus: "Erin, you are part of My Remnant. You are also one of My Workers. We are also friends. I also own the fields, the hills and all the cattle on these. The enemy wants all of the cattle to be sold off and destroyed. I see their wicked schemes. However, I am the Holder of Truth. I hold up truth by using My sword of truth. The enemy is the deceiver and his tongue, or sword, is all lies. However, My truth cuts down his lies."

Me: "Oh my! Is Judge Brown going to be Transformed?"

Jesus: "No. She is not My Remnant. However, she will be changing directions. She will even be gathered in the Great Harvest, her and many others you would think not. My harvest fields are planted and what grows beneath the surface yields a great crop. It is beautiful to see. However, the wicked works in darkness to dig up what is buried below the surface. However, their harvest produces only mounds of dirt and useless holes, understand?"

Me: "Thank You, Lord. What an awesome sign!"

Jesus: "Now, I recommend planting fresh seed there. The grass will spring up. The racoons tilled the soil for you while you slept."

Me: Laughing. "They did. It is a bit of a mess."

Jesus: "Rejoice when you see these signs that I am sending."

Me: "Lord, did You also send the fox to the USA Capitol to attack the politician?"

Jesus: "Well, they didn't send them against themselves. It seems like a great parable. What happened?"

Me: "The fox bit the politician's leg and tore through his pants. His pants now have two holes from the teeth of the fox."

Jesus: "Where was the man coming from and where was he going? Perhaps his way is crooked. Remember that beautiful are the feet who bring Good News. If this is truth, and indeed it is, then what do the feet look like of those whose path leads to destruction? If this man was Mine and I sent this fox as a sign, I would hope that he recognized this as a call for an immediate heart check and great repentance.

"However, the wicked rarely see themselves as needing any sort of heart check and certainly not repentance of any kind. They instead blame everyone else and then call for the fox to be killed. Instead of making corrections, he will just go and purchase new designer pants and a pair of Italian shoes. He will then remember this no more.

“However, to those who are My watchers, they see it and say ‘surely the Lord is in this!’ Well, understand that I am and rejoice. I am God over all things. I see both the deeds of the righteous and of the wicked. I am the Just Judge. I love you. Erin, I am busy preparing My fields.”

Me: “But I thought that the harvest is ready?”

Jesus: “In due season, Erin. This is the season of preparation, planting and springing forth of tender shoots. Now rejoice, Erin, for this is good. I have prepared My Workers, those I have called, and they are now ready. Rejoice!”

Dream over.

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day! Thank You for my family and our Nest friends. We are so blessed by You and I am so grateful. A Scripture has been at the forefront of my thoughts. This is like a song that never seems to stop playing on a loop. It is Psalm 34:19: "Many are the afflictions of the righteous, but the Lord delivers them out of them all." Years ago, in church, when repeatedly going up for prayers in the Church Altar calls, I thought I was approaching the Altar of God for Divine Healing.

I was hoping that this bold move in front of our congregation would prompt the hearts of others to keep us in their prayers. However, I soon learned that there was a reason not to approach the Altar with a congregation watching. Judgments, rumors and gossip soon ensues. I heard horrible things said of me personally when all I really needed was the prayers of the righteous.

What I had hoped for was love and grace from my church family. Instead, there were inquiries about my possible many sins that I needed deliverance from. This even happened at the start of the dreams when I was accused by others on another site of having several demons. They also accused me of having a powerful victim spirit.

I am sure that these same people would have joined the Pharisees as Jesus walked the path which led to the Cross. I can hear them yelling 'save Yourself, You victim'. I later approached a pastor and inquired about my troubles and if I should stop going up to the Altar to ask for prayers.

Pastor's reply: 'By all means ask. However, after a while, when that miracle doesn't happen, people speak ill of you as you parade down to the front. They have many thoughts. Is there an addiction? Is there greater sin she is keeping to herself? Is she really saved? After a while of this, your faith then comes under scrutiny.'

After this, I stopped going up to the Altar to ask for prayers. I stayed to myself. I did this to stop the rumors. So many people were horrible and spread such painful lies. Yes, I was the victim of some really harsh stuff. Evil things ensued. Looking back, I realize these things had to happen so that the Lord could be glorified through my afflictions. I had to die to myself so Jesus could be alive in me.

My dreams have some reappearing elements lately.

I believe these are important...

Sweeping with a Broom: When I think of a broom, I think about removing surface debris and hidden dirt. The act of cleaning in my dreams seems like a sign from the Lord that I need to finish some clean up in my spiritual house. On the other hand, it could actually mean house cleaning needs to be done now as this is the season.

After my two dreams last night, I will now continue to clean this week in my pantry, closets and other areas that need my attention. It is important to care for that which God has given us and honor Him in the process. I also notice that the enemy loves to draw me back to old battlefields. He uses former patterns of sin. Recognizing these possible threats, I can instead sidestep the enemy's trick battles and sweep them away.

The Fire is Hot in the Furnace: Sometimes life events, even when anticipated, comes to you and you are still not fully prepared. I can remember so many of these. While I tried to ready myself for some of these, I just wasn't even close to being ready when it then suddenly happened. Sudden losses are tough. Some of mine include...

- The suicide of my stepdad.
- The death of my grandma.
- The death of my cats.
- The loss of my dogs over the years.
- The death of my mom.
- Yes, even the death of my estranged dad.

Then there is the inability to do physical things anymore after an accident. Your mind goes into shock when you think you should still be able to do things, but your body then refuses. This is a difficult thing to reconcile. You can also lose a business or home. Fire, storms and flooding are real threats. One day, all is there, but the next day, all is gone. Look over the Book of Job and his many trials.

There are also betrayals by people you trust. Perhaps it is a spouse's adultery. Perhaps it is a friend bilking you out of money via fraud. These are all terrible, but God then hears us and answers. He is there for the afflicted when others are not. The flames of the refiner's furnace are not fun and are often extremely lonely.

Well, we are now coming up to the Passover and the Feast of Unleavened Bread. There are great discussions of the Blood of Christ and its relevance to wine during this time, but what about the Bread, His Body? Christ was free of sin, or the leaven like the Pharisees. His death meant the fulfillment of this Feast. Whether this was the complete fulfillment or not, with the same being said for Pentecost, is for God alone to decide.

With Jesus, we must die to ourselves. Through our afflictions, we must cast off our former ways, our former selves, our sins. We should do this as an example. Repent to Jesus and then rise into a new life with Him.

When Pentecost then came, we were left with the Holy Spirit resurrected in us. This was a Gift from Jesus. He left us a Counselor to guide us through life. This is like a navigation system in an uncharted sea.

God is a genius. He is truly beyond our comprehension. Our former selves die and we are raised up and transformed. We find new life in His Way. He is the Bread of Life (John 6:35, 48-51).

Well, Lord, I must say that the year 2022 feels different than all the other years in memory. Many are waiting for a Great Change, our highly anticipated Transformation. While we wait, I had two interesting dreams last night...

Sub-Dream 1 "Two Angry Women and a Hungry Bear" begins...

It was Spring. I was staying in a familiar place somewhere to the north. The skies were overcast. This massive historical-like government building was facing the south. It has a massive lawn with fountains. The fountains were inactive for fear of freezing. Adjacent to the lawn was a thick forest with a meandering path with two switchbacks.

While the lawn was now clear of snow, it was just coming back to life. It was a mixture of green and brown. I decided to walk to the forest. I cut onto the middle path. While I heard some birds singing, I couldn't see them. The path was covered in snow. A canopy of trees didn't allow much light in. It was quite dark as a result. The reflection of the little sunlight coming through onto the snow was the only visible light source.

I decided to turn the corner and head back to the northern switchback leading back to the hotel building. I then noticed one woman in a hooded fur parka to the north. She did not speak. There was also a woman to my left who seemed angry. It was odd. As the woman to my left walked, I heard the sudden sound of a bear huffing. It came running up to the angry woman to my left.

As the woman backed up against a tree, the large claws of the bear took off her face. It was gruesome and I turned away. The bear was searching. The bear was scrawny, like it had just come out of hibernation. It was searching for something. It ran by me twice. While it looked at me both times, it never came after me. The other woman had simply disappeared. I then heard so many birds singing that it jostled me awake and to my next dream.

Sub-Dream 1 over...

Sub-Dream 2 "Equipped to Bless in a Godly Way" begins...

I was called by invitation to a very high-end furniture showroom. When I arrived, they handed me a map. It was a meandering series of rooms and vignettes. I was seeing furniture so amazing that it belonged in a museum. A woman soon approached me...

Woman: "Do you like what you see?"

Me: "Yes, it is beautiful. However, I no longer have any clients for this."

Woman: "Perhaps these are for yourself then."

I thought about it. Having these items comes with the idea that you can maintain them or have a home worthy of them. I was stressed because the white sofas there translated to my own personal nightmare. It was simply out of the question.

Me: "I am not sure that I have a place for any of this really. Thank you though. I hate to waste your time."

Woman: "Come on through this door. This is as close to Heaven as you are going to get here on Earth. It is time for you to embrace your new normal."

While I started off confused by what she meant by this, I then saw a beautiful sectional made out of a fabric I had never seen. It was completely impossible. It was a soft, velvety mohair, but thick and not of this world. It was stunning.

Me: "Wow, this is amazing."

Woman: "We work for you here. While this is yours in Heaven, you will have it here too."

Me: Laughing. "There are sectionals in Heaven?"

Woman: "You will have guests."

Me: "It just seems contrary to my 'dying to myself concept' here."

She then took me to another room with tables. On these tables were items which seemed better off in a museum and certainly not near me, my husband or our children.

Woman: "These are yours as well."

Me: "Why would I need any of this stuff? It is too much. I must go."

Woman: "Erin, you will share these with others. These are special."

Me: "Thank you so much. I am amazed."

I started to walk towards the exit door. In between me and the exit door were two women that were obviously talking about me to each other.

Woman 1: To Woman 2. "I guess she never received the memo prior to the invitation explaining that these are good here and for all she gives them to."

Me: "Excuse me, but I can hear you both. I just don't understand why anyone would need material items here, especially these and especially now."

Woman 2: "These are the treasures of kings which will delight many. Each has a great story."

Woman 1: "You are looking at all of this incorrectly."

Me: "I guess so. I can't afford it and, even if I could, these are decadent."

Woman 2: "Erin, all of these things were made for the best of kings. These are made by the finest craftsmen as gifts dedicated to God. It is now for you to disperse. This is part of the Great Transfer."

Me: "Oh, okay, this is different!" I was now smiling and so happy. "How fun! Where do I start? So, this is a wealth transfer?"

Woman 1: "Well, yes and no. There is no evil that will steal any of this. There is no dirt that will stain the white here. There is nothing that will break anything as all is made new and is better. There is no leaven in these cupboards or sofa cushions. This is from Heaven. Erin, Earth as it is in Heaven!"

Me: "Okay, what happens next?"

Woman 2: "Well, come and sit down and marvel at all the wonders God has done."

She motioned for me to sit in the mohair sectional. I sat in it and I was changed from what I had come to know to what the possibilities of God are.

I suddenly once again fully realized that God is a BIG GOD! Of course, all things would be important to Him.

Me: "So, do I open a store here called 'on Earth as it is in Heaven'? Won't I be too busy doing other things?"

Woman 1: "You still don't understand. God is in the details, both expected and unexpected."

Sub-Dream 2 over...

Me: "These two dreams were odd ones. What do these mean?"

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "I am here and I am with you. You are not being called by Me to open a shop. This dream was to show you what types of things are awaiting you in Heaven. You have been to My House. It is a place I enjoy. There are items there fit for a King made by hand and the hands of those who gave the works of their hands to Me."

Me: "Some of this is just so difficult to understand. I spent my Christian walk pawning, selling and giving away all that I had that was beautiful."

Jesus: "This is an impoverished mindset. Am I not capable of restoring all that was taken from you? Can I then not only restore it, but make it even much better?"

Me: "Oh Lord, please forgive me. I have seen what You have built for me in Heaven and it leaves me so excited that it is difficult to comprehend all of this. It seems too wonderful for me." I began to cry when I visualized the Home He built for me.

Jesus: "If you cannot imagine furnishings or even architecture on Earth as you have seen in Heaven, then how will you see yourself here as you are in Heaven?"

Me: "Oh Lord, You are right. I am not thinking correctly."

Jesus: "What will happen when you are healed and like you were in your youth, but much better? Will you complain to Me and say that you are 'too healed' or 'too Transformed'? I would hope not." He was laughing.

Me: "Sorry, Lord. I want whatever You choose for me. I want the best of Heaven on Earth as it is in Heaven. Please forgive me if what I said doesn't make any sense!"

Jesus: "You are forgiven. Still, you are to understand this and change your attitude accordingly. I have prepared your Vessel. Much of your time to date was in the furnace (the kiln) or in the cooling off periods. The time of reflection is in the waiting, the 'thinking through', of what you just came through in the furnace. Your mind now must be looking to the things of Heaven. If the material is now gone as a stronghold, then what is it to you if I bless you as I choose to?

"Erin, Will My Remnant now live in tents? No. Who would enjoy long-term life in a tent? Did I say 'I must go and prepare a place for you as in My House there are many tents'? Of course not! Erin, you have seen My Home. When you are changed here, so too will all things change. Heaven will be visible here. You will be a Vessel that I will use to change lives here. You will do so many things here on Earth...

- You will raise the dead.
- You will heal the sick.
- Blind eyes will see.
- The deaf will hear.
- The bald will have hair.
- Skin will clear.
- Lungs will breathe.
- Legs will run.
- Feet will dance.

"Heaven will be opened and streams of Living Water will flow from the mountains. You will live and breathe and appear as you do in Heaven on the Earth. Pray as you must change your attitude on this... your mindset. Step away from that which God will do or won't do, understand? Now rejoice!"

Me: "Oh Lord, I am so excited!"

Jesus: "You are excited even though you put limits and perimeters on what you think will happen. Remember that the wicked will be terrified at what they will see in you... Me! While they have no fear of tents, they do fear the Power of God, His strength and His vast wealth and limitless resources. They will be unable to speak lies. They will be far from you."

Me: "Oh Lord, let this begin soon."

Jesus: "It will. Now, the bear woke up in your dream. It sought the wicked meant to destroy it. The bear awoke suddenly. With very little warning, its strike was swift concerning the wicked."

Me: "Does this mean that the woman in my dream was evil?"

Jesus: "Yes. Both were. However, you were only an observer. Now, let us discuss the yeast of the Pharisees. If the sweeping up and removal of sin is done with a cheerful heart and that of a great heart of repentance and diligence to Me, then this is good and pleasing. However, if this is done as an act for others to see and even a thought is given of self-edification over his neighbor, then this cleaning is of no use.

"The leaven still remains and so too will the cankerworm, understand? Give every service to Me and I will bless you with My unleavened bread. You and your house are now ready. However, for those who worry more about the law than honoring God and repenting, their road will be a difficult one. Their house will still be unclean.

"As for My Feasts, they are important to Me because it is a matter of the heart who participates in them to honor God through them. Still, to love God with all of your heart first and then second others as you love yourself is the greatest of commands. Erin, love is greater to Me than sacrifice."

Me: "Yes, Lord. Thank You."

Jesus: "Then as a Groom to His Bride whom He delights... then let the Groom send gifts to His Bride. Out of love for the Groom, the Bride shall then celebrate. Out of love for the Groom, the Bride shall joyfully accept with her whole heart that which was given to her. Let her rejoice with a joyous dancing. Let her rejoice with her whole heart as her wait has been long and her anticipation great!"

Me: "Lord, we would be glad for anything You have to give us!"

Jesus: "Then you should be glad with everything good from Me which I will bring to you. Now rejoice as I am with you. I love you!"

Dream over.

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day! Thank You for signs, wonders and miracles yesterday, today and tomorrow and soon to be forever. Father, You are my portion and cup forever. Only You can fill my cup with water. I thirst for You. Bless You. My heart grieves today. Something is off.

Me: "Lord, my Spirit is in great unrest. Something is wrong. My dream last night..."

Sub-Dream 1 "Prepare the Perfume, Prepare the Oil (continued in Sub-Dream 2)" begins...

While this dream was about oil and perfume, I can't remember the details. However, when I woke up from this dream this morning, the words 'Prepare the Perfume, Prepare the Oil' was on my heart.

Sub-Dream 1 over...

"Oh Lord, while I don't remember much about this dream, I know I enjoyed it. Please show me more so that I can remember more. Lord, my heart aches."

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "I am here and I am with you. I am the God who sees. I see. I do not forget all that has come to pass. I do not dismiss evil. I am the God who judges with even scales of justice."

Me: "Lord, I am scared. Without a Great Move from You, the hearts of so many will soon grow cold in greater measure."

Jesus: "Erin, I am the God of miracles, signs and wonders. There are no accidents and no random occurrences as I am over all things. I called you in great measure. On February 23, 2000, I sent My witnesses (Enoch and Elijah) to state and observe your condition. They then instructed you in the way you should go. At the time, one saw you as incapable (Elijah) and the other saw you as capable (Enoch).

“Well, what is impossible for man is possible through God. I sent confirmation to you in the Rose Garden (in the fall of 2000). I wiped your tears. I gave you a great gift and sign of My favor with the conception of your daughter (in early 2001).

“Within three years of your daughter’s birth, I prepared you to leave the area I had kept you and move to the place I prepared for you. I then sent more miracles. You always were watching for Me. In all things, you remembered Me. Because of this, I chose you. You are special in My sight.”

Me: “I love You, Lord.”

Jesus: “The enemy will not prevail. All of My promises are true. As things were in the beginning, so too will they be again. Your Spirit is stirred as you wrestle for what was lost. I promise you that I will grant you the desires of your heart. I will rebuild your broken walls. I love you, Erin.”

Me: “You are everything to me, Lord.”

Jesus: “I have heard your prayers. I know the desires of your heart. I have answered your prayers. I am with you. Whatever you ask in My Name, I will answer. I will give you more later concerning your dream of the perfume and oil. For now, this vision has closed, but the fragrance remains. This is good!”

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day! Thank You for Your love. Thank You for all You have done for me. I am a sinner, plain and simple. Perhaps my heart condition is terminal. Will I ever do what is holy, right and true? Here I am, Lord. I love You with my whole heart. Despite this, I don’t practice what is written in Your Laws. As just one example, I have not removed all the leaven from our house.

Me: “Lord, I am guilty. Passover is tonight and I have only done a bare minimum. I am struggling in this season. I am anxious and feel burdened. I am scared and unable to find peace. I planned meals this week and gave very little consideration to all of the significance of Your High Holy Week. You have been quiet. I am so sorry for my actions. I am so sorry for my heart issues.”

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "I am here, Erin. I am with you. To those who did not come from a house that practices these feasts, it is difficult to remember. You remember Me always though. You remember Me every day. To Me, this is most important. The Laws were given as traditions of remembrance and instructions were detailed so there could be no mistake of what these signify.

"However, just because a legalistic man, either Jew or Gentile, practices a ritual, this does not make their heart upright. The heart of a man and his rituals do not save him. Only God can save. Understand what I have said here. Was it written that only by observing these Laws and feasts will a man be saved?"

Me: "No."

Jesus: "So, do I then look down and condemn a family with righteous hearts because they have very little and did not remove that loaf of bread from their house? Would I do the same for the widows or the elderly? Are they also condemned? Neither bread with leaven nor bread without leaven can save a man, understand?"

Me: "I am glad, Lord, because I have failed."

Jesus: "The bread is a symbol of the heart... My body broken for sin. However, sin is often small at first and then it permeates throughout the dough, causing the dough to rise and be puffed up. Then what happens? If you were to eat it prior to the oven, you would become sick.

"After the bread has risen, or is proofed, it is placed in the fire, or the oven. It develops a hard crust there that shelters the soft texture of the body of the bread. It is then good to eat and a delight. Well, why then eat the bread without leaven? If leaven represents sin, the sin must be removed from the bread. There is no need for the bread to rise as there is no proofing prior to the heat. The bread is flat and not puffed up, understand?"

"While it still tastes wonderful, it is free of the yeast of the Pharisees. You share in My body that is free of sin and you partake in the wine that signifies My blood sacrifice. However, remember what else occurred... I washed the feet of those who followed after Me. Their feet would carry the Good News as witnesses of My love."

Me: "Lord, this would make me uncomfortable too. My King, my Lord, my God... washing our dirty feet and wiping them dry... what a thing You did for us!"

Jesus: "Well, you now understand the significance of the Upper Room. It was the final hour of preparation before the sacrifice of the Lamb. The Lamb's blood was required to be shed. We had communion first and then I washed their feet for the journey that was to come."

Me: "Lord, why did You wash their feet at the closing of the dinner rather than upon their arrival? If You had done this upon their arrival, their feet would have been clean for dinner. In John 13:4, You rose from supper and then prepared to wash their feet."

Jesus: "Ah, a hidden gem. This is a mystery hidden in plain sight."

Me: "Lord, what does this mean?"

Jesus: "It takes the glory of God to conceal a matter and the honor of kings... or sparrows... to search this out. There could be an entire series of books written just on the events over this three-day period. Understand that, as the Lamb of God hung on the Cross, so too was it the practice for the lambs in the Temple to be hung up and their forelegs outstretched."

Note: This practice of stretching out the lamb for the sacrifice is quite hard to find documented on the internet. I had to search for some time and even then it was on the 8th page of my 'Google Search'.

"There was a multitude of pilgrims in Jerusalem at the time for the festival. This festival means man's appointed time with God. This festival in particular was an appointed time of the first born unlike any other. There is even more. As you mentioned, I rose from the supper table and gathered the basin and the pitcher of water.

"However, I then removed My outer garments and swaddled a cloth to dry their feet. So too is a lamb swaddled and checked for blemish. There were many more signs and wonders that happened during this time... yes, even more so than these."

Me: "I now know what the word 'wonder' means. Lord, it means You leave us in wonder over what various current, past and future events mean. I 'wonder' constantly!"

Jesus: "I gave you a dream several nights ago about perfume and oil that I said I would address at a later time. Now is the time."

Me: "Yes. This dream happened on Monday night or Tuesday morning..."

Sub-Dream 2 "Prepare the Perfume, Prepare the Oil (Sub-Dream 1 Revisited)" begins...

I was shopping for the perfect perfume bottle. It had to be special as it wasn't for me. I looked at a particular one that was beautiful. While it looked like a white iridescent pearl, I believe it was glass. It was beautiful. The stopper was engraved. The stopper also had a ruby colored stone and was overlaid with gold. As it was a gift, I wanted it to be perfect. I then went to a place that made fragrant oils.

Sub-Dream 2 over..

"I then woke up. Lord, what was this about?"

Jesus: "Who was this bottle and oil for?"

Me: "I think it was for You, Lord. While I think it was a gift for You, I am not certain."

Jesus: "Your gifts are wonderful. Erin, I will accept these with a smile. However, this dream was instead about something else. While you were preparing a gift, it was not just any gift."

Me: "Lord, I searched about Nard or Spikenard and it was used to either anoint Your head or Your feet. While Mark 14:3 says Your head, John 12:3 says Your feet. It was also in the Song of Songs."

Jesus: "It is also used to symbolize something you are not thinking of:

- Fragrant oil is used to symbolize the movement of a shepherd to a king, like David did.
- Fragrant oil is also used to symbolize one called into greater service.
- It can also be like that of a Bride or a Groom preparing to be married.
- It can also be to prepare the dead for burial."

Me: "I really like the first three of the four of these reasons. As for the last one about burial, I hope this is not the case."

Jesus: "Think of it like this. You were once one way, but now you have been risen to a new way. You will not be buried. You will instead be chosen for greater service."

Me: "Why was I shopping for my own vessel of fragrant oil?"

Jesus: "Brides often choose what best represents them. They are then remembered by their fragrance after they leave the room. A King can also choose His Fragrance, a Fragrance pleasing to Him, the Groom."

Me: "Did Mary anoint Your head or Your feet?"

Jesus: "One or the other or both... it does not matter as there are no accidents... as it is written. What is of note is the anger this created. Mary was poor and used expensive perfume oil to appear to others as anointing Me as King. This would have angered the legalists, who would then say 'By whose authority can she anoint the Savior, the Son of God, for service? Who is she? Who does she think she is?'"

"Then there is the matter of Mary being female. Was she even fit to wash the King's feet with such fragrant oil? By what authority could such a woman say 'I am worthy to wash the feet of God and wipe them dry with my own hair'? It was shocking to those whose hearts were jealous or angry. The one who betrayed Me was the rebuker, the accuser, but also the one who was condemned. So too will the liar be condemned.

"Now, I want you instead to remember the Word I gave you long ago and see that this is good."

Me: "You are putting Psalm 45 on my heart. I guess this is not a burial preparation Word, but instead it is joyful. Lord, my husband and I were at a salvage store on Wednesday. They had a few hundred fancy bridal gowns on sale for only $50 each. Upon closer inspection, I could see they had gone through a horrible event. We were guessing a tornado. The gowns were dirty. Both of us remarked that it seemed like a sign. It was such a sight to see that many bridal gowns not in a bridal shop."

Jesus: "Erin, you are a Bride. You have been through many earthly storms. Your clothing, your garments here, are dingy, stained and weathered. However, I make all things new." I began to weep. "Erin, why are you crying?"

Me: "I am tired. I am old. My body is useless. It is difficult to imagine me as a beautiful and fragrant Bride. If I were a lamb, I would be rejected as blemished. It is hard to believe You could love me as Your Bride. I love You, Lord. I pray that You will find me worthy."

Jesus: "I do, Erin. I find you perfect. The Bride I have chosen is perfect. Your heart is good. I also find your house to be good... your sons and your daughters. Though you worry, I have called them. Read what your difficult son wrote and see if I did not call him to do so."

Note from my 'difficult son': Mom, I just wanted to thank you for all of the generous things you have done for me this last year. I owe you so much, but have no way to pay you back. I am such a lucky kid to have someone like you as my mom. We've been through so much and there's still more to come. You're still around and kicking and it better stay that way because I have no idea what I'd do without you. You mean the world to me and I love you very much!

Me: "Lord, this made me so happy. While I know he loves me, I didn't think he loved me that much. It is hard for those with Autism to express themselves. I was in shock."

Jesus: "Did I not tell you that I would bring your sons back to you (Isaiah 49). This meant too that one day they would be healed and returned anew. You will then say 'are these mine?' Erin, this time is here. I haven't forgotten you. I will repay you back a thousand-fold more than what was stolen from you.

"You will then say 'Lord, I have no need for all this. Where did this come from?' I will then say 'This is My recompense I bring with Me and this is for you. So, in this you can rejoice in and be glad.' Erin, My promises are true. See, I bring gifts of great news to you, Erin. Now, rejoice, as I find My Bride to be worthy. Now, Erin, is My Bride's heart ready?"

Me: "It is ready, Lord."

Jesus: "This is good!"

Dream over.

598 – Mysteries Surrounding the Resurrection

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day! Thank You for Your great care and love. Thank You for Your tests and trials in us as, without these, we are unable to be crucified of our flesh and removed of the tumors of self. Thank You for the empty tomb meant to contain Your body. Our bodies are also like the vessel of the tomb. The self must be removed so You can live through us. Death was not able to keep you.

Just now, and as I was writing, behind my head, on the open window, a small, very noisy bird was singing. It is a beautiful morning here after a great rainstorm last night. I dismantled all of my pillows, moved my journal and turned to look outside. Right there on a branch just a few feet from my window was the King Bird. He was gone all this time and I thought at the first sighting a week ago that he decided not to return.

I then saw a very large Fish Crow eating a dead bird and I was worried that this was our King Bird. However, he was here this morning. As I watched, two more King Birds came. There were now three King Birds altogether. This is a great miracle for today, Easter Sunday. Praise You, Father, for bringing me gifts such as these. This is such a blessing and I can't thank You enough.

Supernatural Occurrence: Oh yes... we also had a spring shower over us on Friday, April 15, 2022. Here is the catch though... there was not a single cloud in sight. Not one! We later looked it up and found out that rain without clouds is impossible. This means it had to be supernatural. Thank You, Father, for this wonderful sign. I had a disturbing dream last night...

Sub-Dream 1 "A found friend and a missing wallet" begins...

I was taking my stepdaughter to an airport terminal mall. I had a cross-body purse that held my wallet. When we arrived at the airport, her friend was waiting for her. I told her we would meet at the car at a certain time and she agreed. I was then walking down a wide airport hallway. The sign in front of me said 'Terminal C'.

I then saw a group of people I knew walk right past me. Not one of them recognized me. They were very wealthy and were traveling somewhere. Just then, I realized I had just brushed past my college roommate of three years, Joan (not her real name)...

Me: "Joan, is that you?"

Joan: "Erin? Wow, I didn't recognize you."

While she then hugged me, I could tell that she wasn't happy to see me. I recognized some of her family and friends. They remembered me from my sad life stories. I could see a pity in their reactions that disturbed me.

Joan then revealed to me that she had terminal cancer. She took off a wig and revealed the lack of hair and the scars from surgery. I looked up at the place we were standing. We were at a crossroads where the various terminals branched off. There were three terminal branch offs – Terminals B, C and D.

Me: "May I pray for you?"

While she nodded yes, the people she was with acted irritated and as if all options had already been exhausted, including further prayer. I prayed anyway. They all said they had to leave. I said goodbye and they never once asked about me. I left the terminal to the short-term parking lot I was parked at.

I suddenly realized that I was carrying a bag with a hole in it. I turned back as I thought that my wallet was missing. It was now dark. Some lights showed what looked like an open billfold wallet in the grass by the curb. I recognized it as an old wallet I had years ago. It was stripped of all of its contents. It looked brand new, which also was odd. I then wondered if this was even mine.

I didn't remember leaving my purse anywhere. It must have been when I prayed over Joan. It was a helpless feeling, but I knew God would make it right. It also hit me that the Lord decided not to heal Joan of her cancer. This amplified my helpless feeling. Still, I knew not to worry as God was and is fully in control of all things.

Sub-Dream 1 over.

In prayers this morning, the Lord led me to three different passages in the Bible:

- Psalm 105:17-19
- Mark 14:51-52
- Matthew 27:51-53

There are no accidents with Jesus and His Word. We recently watched the story of Joseph. It was part of the Bible Series of movies and was actually well done. I had always thought that what had happened to Joseph seemed grossly unfair. He was sold as a slave by his own brothers. Then as a slave, he was falsely accused by Potiphar's wife. He was then imprisoned for a ridiculous period of time and forgotten about.

Then, one day, he was suddenly freed. However, he was not just a little free. He was lifted up and vindicated, now second only to the Pharaoh. The Lord fulfilled the prophecy in his dream that he had as a teenager that he would be lifted up before his family. Psalm 105:17-19 (NLT) reads as follows...

"17 Then he sent someone to Egypt ahead of them – Joseph, who was sold as a slave. 18 They bruised his feet with fetters and placed his neck in an iron collar. 19 Until the time came to fulfill his dreams, the Lord tested Joseph's character."

In his youth, Joseph wasn't ready. He used a lot of 'I's' in his speech. God then placed him in the long fiery furnace of affliction until the Lord was ready to fulfill His purposes through Joseph. It was a painful and brutal process. God seemed silent to him at times. The prospect of God's promises seemed hopelessly remote. I read that, from the last time his brothers saw Joseph until they reunited, was 22 years!

Father, You have granted me dreams that have yet to be fulfilled. Over the years, You have allowed great trials and testing, along with long periods of no justice. There are also many periods of not hearing from You at all. You explained to me years ago that, when You remain silent, it is because I must revisit the last dream revelation You gave me. It was all meant for instructional purposes.

When I didn't hear from You during such a desert period, it was because something in me needed changing. I would then review my actions over a block of time. I would also review my reactions to disappointments. I would then review my pro-action in response.

Worldly meaning of pro-action: Action that initiates change as opposed to reaction to events. Acting in advance to deal with expected difficulties to come.

Spiritual meaning of pro-action: Prayer and surrender of self. Die to self. Less of me, I, my, mine, etc. More of Him = King Jesus.

The Lord showed me the contrast of how Joseph went from boasting as a foolish youth, elevating himself above all of his brothers and his father's house, to interpreting Pharaoh's dreams and his subsequent release...

- Genesis 37:6: Joseph gives no credit for his dream to God.
- Genesis 40:14-15: Joseph interprets the cupbearer and the baker's dreams while in prison. He speaks of himself seven times.
- Genesis 41:16: Joseph gives God all of the glory for Pharaoh's dream interpretation.

So today this was a great resurrection story for us as Jesus' Bride, His Vessels. The dream I had represented an old friend I had at a time in my life that I was the strongest physically. I was at the top of my golf game. I had many offers for my future and it looked incredible. Still, I didn't have Jesus in my heart. I was 100% reliant on myself for my success. I was broken and my wallet was empty. I was poor in spirit.

The way I was going was terminal. My friend went on to have great recognition in golf instructional videos. She was on television and even in a 'men's magazine'. She achieved all that I had dreamt of in college. I have not had contact with her for over 17 years, but will occasionally see her mentioned. It always makes me smile and I am happy for her.

She was a reminder that I wasn't good enough in this world apart from You. All I could do for my friend in this dream was to pray for her. Her faith and the faith of those around her were not there. To testify to her was even hopeless, so we embraced and parted ways. The terminals were B, C and D = Before Christ there is the devil. In my dream, I left the terminal condition I was in.

The next Scripture the Lord gave me was one I never once ever noticed. This Scripture had remained hidden in plain sight to me. This revolved around the garden at the time of Jesus' arrest...

Mark 14:51-52: "51 One young man following behind was clothed only in a long linen shirt. When the mob tried to grab him, 52 he slipped out of his shirt and ran away naked."

The linen cloth the young man had on was called a sindon. It is a cloth used for clothing or for burial. The same term was used to describe Jesus' burial cloth. Later on, in Mark 16:5, Mary witnessed a young man wearing a white sindon at the open tomb. It seemed fitting that Jesus was arrested in the garden and the same correlation was there as when Adam and Eve were tested in the Garden of Eden.

Me: "Father, You are wise beyond us. How can we know anything without You taking us on a journey of discovery with You? Who was this young man and why was he there? I have never heard a sermon on this."

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "I am here, Erin. I am with you. You have discovered a hidden in plain sight treasure of great significance. Remember why I came. Do you remember?"

Me: "To save the world from spiritual death and from sin."

Jesus: "This is correct. The Garden of Eden was paradise. It was beautiful and free from sin. Adam and Eve were warned not to eat the fruit of the Tree of the Knowledge of Good and Evil. This tree was next to the Tree of Life. Prior to their temptation by the serpent when they were naked, they felt no shame. However, once they partook of the fruit, they realized their sinful heart condition. Their eyes were opened.

"They then tried to cover their nakedness before God. Because of their sins, they were cast out of the Garden. This was so they would not eat of the Tree of Life, thus avoiding making their sinful state eternal. Garments were made for them of animal skins by God as leaves wouldn't cover their nakedness. Then there is the Garden of Gethsemane. This means the place of the oil press. I told you about this earlier on.

"I warned those who were with Me three times to stay watching for the hour was late. Even so, they had no understanding of the true meaning of My Words. Yes, even signs occurred that were hidden. The young man was barely clothed and left behind his covering when he ran away in nakedness. Now you are wondering if this is the same young man in long white linen who was there at the tomb as a witness to My Resurrection."

Me: "Yes. I had always thought it was an angel, but it was a young man."

Jesus: "What did the young man say?"

Me: "Well, the two women, both named Mary, were going to the tomb. To be on the safe side, I will quote Scripture here..."

Mark 16:4-7: "4 But as they arrived, they looked up and saw that the stone, which was very large, had already been rolled aside. 5 When they entered the tomb, they saw a young man clothed in a white robe sitting on the right side. The women were shocked, 6 but the angel said, "Don't be alarmed. You are looking for Jesus of Nazareth, who was crucified. He isn't here! He is risen from the dead! Look, this is where they laid his body. 7 Now go and tell his disciples, including Peter, that Jesus is going ahead of you to Galilee. You will see him there, just as he told you before he died."

"But, Lord, in the other Gospels, there are differing accounts of what the women saw. Well, at least it seems different."

Jesus: "There are no accidents, Erin. Perhaps the young man was naked and dead to sin and he turned away from his shame and he was changed. He was one way and then he is now a completely different way. He was used as a messenger to witness to the Great Miracle... the miracle that I have risen. Now, were there two different young men 'at work' here? While this is a mystery to some, it is not to Me."

Me: "I think that the young man... or young men... is, or are, like we are, Lord. Once we were naked in the oil press and ashamed. However, we will soon be wearing white garments and testifying. We will be Transformed and will be young again."

Jesus: "Okay, then what of the other Word you found?"

Me: "Yes, Scriptures from Matthew..."

Matthew 27:52-53: "52 and tombs opened. The bodies of many godly men and women who had died were raised from the dead. 53 They left the cemetery after Jesus' resurrection, went into the holy city of Jerusalem, and appeared to many people."

Jesus: "Ah yes, the tombs opening and the righteous raised up from their slumbering in the graves. These were like first fruits. This is a pesky miracle for many. While this is not a problem for God, it is a problem for the adversary. Death could not hold Me. The enemy has no power over death. This is a great problem for the enemy. Now, there is one item you did not observe. Where the tomb was located... in a garden."

Me: "I searched and found this from the Gospel of John..."

John 19:41-42: "41 The place of crucifixion was near a garden, where there was a new tomb, never used before. 42 And so, because it was the day of preparation for the Jewish Passover and since the tomb was close at hand, they laid Jesus there."

"So, here is the Garden again!"

Jesus: "Yes, but different. Now, I want to discuss something with you that is very important. Erin, I called you, you did not call Me. I prepared you and made you ready for My purposes. You worry about many things. You say 'If I anger God, He will stop' or 'He has not given me a dream in a while, perhaps

I am out of His favor'. Please stop this. Of the residue that still needs to be cleaned and swept away, this is what remains... your fear of Me."

Me: "I am sorry, Lord. However, I have seen what happens to those who are against You. I am afraid of falling away from Your favor."

Jesus: "Erin, you write down even this. Why? It is because there are some who need to hear this. Remember that the very heart of faith is surrender. You have given your life and ambitions over to Me. Many can speak with faith words, but how many would pour out with the pen of a scribe. There is faith in the ink you use to scribe by surrendering to My messages on paper, the tablet of your heart.

"Erin, this is good. Yes, there are many who are learned scholars of My Word. Many say 'Oh no, she doesn't understand this or that.'" They then insert things the average person cannot even pronounce. Despite the scholars that could one day rage against you, you continue to share your dreams. Do not doubt and do not be afraid. Erin, I am with you."

Me: "Lord, please don't wait too long."

Jesus: "Erin, I will do all I have promised to at the appointed time."

Me: "When You say appointed time, this means a festival or feast, right?"

Jesus: "I know you are searching for answers as you watch on My walls. However, think of this to understand the times you are now in. What had to occur before this time? If then all these things, all of them have taken place, then it is good to be on heightened alert. This is wise as the Groom comes for a Bride who searches for Him. Now, there are many different times that are written to measure this time...

- Weeks of days
- Weeks of weeks
- Weeks of months
- The seventh month
- Week of Feast
- Weeks of years
- The seventh year is a rest year or Sabbath
- Third day
- Then there are the watches of the night
- And even the 11th hour or final hour

"It is therefore difficult to know even though you know by the signs in the sky and even those signs around you."

Me: "Israel became a nation on May 14, 1948. This was almost 74 years ago. This was also just a couple of days over 27,000 days ago. My husband pointed out that $27,000 = 30 \times 30 \times 30$. This seems like a huge sign."

Jesus: "Yes, this is. Erin, press into Me more and do not worry. There is a great plan in place and it is good. The reason I gave you this today is for you to understand that, with God, there is a pattern, a way which is precise, for the fulfillment of the prophecies and the order they must come to pass. Watch this and use them as a gauge. This is good."

"In the meantime, lift your chin. I will continue to provide for you in all things. Do not be afraid. I have risen. While I have ascended, I am also still here with you. I am here. Come to Me when you are weary and I will give you rest. I am here. I love you."

Me: "I love You, Lord."

Dream over.

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day! Thank You for the promise of Spring. The flood in our basement has humbled me. Our car, the Pacifica, will cost too much to repair.. more than it is worth now. Our other car goes in for repairs on Tuesday. We have done all we are able to do. We give this situation to You to make all things new again.

During our troubles, a young man came to our home to give us a quote on the clean up and repair of some areas. In the meantime, there had been several red flags that troubles were looming. I had a dream of a sparrowhawk holding a tiny sparrow in its beak. I then had a dream of an empty wallet that had been stolen.

This young man then presented himself in a way indicating he was a Christian, only to find out that was not at all the case. He used the name Daniel, but spelled differently. He gave us a quote and we accepted. We then gave him a deposit. This all happened on Good Friday.

On Saturday night, we watched a Biblical movie about King Solomon. I judged him according to his portrayal in the movie. I did the same with the movie about King David. I made judgments on their morality. This is a dangerous move no matter what. To make judgments is to take on the position of God recklessly.

Then on Easter Sunday, I realized I hadn't marinated the lambchops. After writing my dream down on Sunday, I quickly prepared the lamb at 3:00pm. It was Shabbat. Well, I couldn't believe how bloody the lamb was. I had to remove the blood, clean the mess and prepare the marinade. It took around 23 minutes. I thought God wouldn't mind.

On Monday, my crockpot food meal had chewy meat. The whole batch was bad. We were still worried about the car. All of this was on our minds.

The flood then happened in our basement on Tuesday evening. It came from two walls... the electrical panel wall and the storage under the stairs. I was keeping my hope chests under the stairs. I had saved these chests for that long-awaited 'someday'. The water had flooded both my eldest son's room and my stepson's room. Our usually trusty wet vacuum then proceeded to breakdown.

While I should have done this much earlier, I finally went to You for answers. I confessed to all that I had done. You then pointed out that the young man we had made a contract with was a son of Haman and deceptive. Those coming with him to do our job were going to be of evil intent. You then asked me a pointed question:

Jesus: "Erin, I built this house for you. I am in you. The house and you are both clean. Why then would you hire someone unclean to make what you have cleaner? How could this remain clean when their presence would defile the house I built for you?"

After saying this to me, I quickly repented. He then spoke to me and told me what to do in response. He led me to this young man's Facebook page. I then realized he had hidden his true name. He bore the same name as this religion's 'prophet'. Thankfully, we were still within the 'contract breaking period'. We worked quickly and, as instructed, legally broke the contract and offered him a gratuity for his troubles.

This man became upset, but somehow controlled himself. While he accepted our gift, he didn't even bother to thank us. My husband then wanted to do something against him to teach him a lesson and wanted my advice. I was grateful to him for coming to me first before proceeding. I then told him we should pray first...

Me: "Dear Lord, we are about to do something with this man that You did not instruct us to do..."

Before I could continue, my husband immediately stopped me.

My husband: "Okay, that's enough. I will not be proceeding!"

Hmm, must have been a good prayer on my part... smiles. Thank You, Lord, for giving me this prayer and the wisdom to use it.

We were then attacked by some horrible road rage incidents.

Me: "Lord, it has been a horrible week. I am now completely exhausted. I have been crying a lot. Even though You forgave me, I am so mad at myself for all of it. It was so unnecessary. All of it could have been avoided. I now fear losing Your favor."

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "I am here, Erin. My promises are true. I never once left you. However, when troubles come in like a flood or a fire or a tempest of a storm, remember Me. It is I who have always been here. I allowed these things so that you understand that there is a real enemy who desires troubles for you. In all things, do not let your heart be troubled. Discouragement and despair come when the wait is longer than you anticipated.

"This type of waiting can also be a root cause of both bitterness and insecurity. It requires patience and prayer to wait for the fulfillment of My promises without bitterness. Now, understand this... I love you. I will not allow your troubles anymore.

"Please take these events and understand why I allowed them. Erin, it is okay to let go of your burdens. These dreams are Mine to give you and My promises are true. While I know you are tired and worried, these emotions are common to man when things are delayed. As a watcher, it is easy to put off until tomorrow what should be done today.

"When Lazarus died, he was there for 4 days before I called those near to roll the stone away (John 11:39). Although I could have easily done this for them, I called them to be strong and move the stone so Lazarus could step out and all could see the miracle. Now, why did I wait four days instead of three days?"

Me: "I don't know."

Jesus: "Because after three days, hope deferred is lost. While I realize there are traditions around the three-day period, this needed to be a divine miracle, one of God and not of man. There could be no doubt. Therein lies the mystery of rising from the third day to the fourth.

"Now, about your storms. In the middle of your storms, you finally shouted out to Me 'Where are You, Father? Lord, do You see what is happening? Do something!'"

Me: "Yes, I said all of this, Lord."

Jesus: "Be careful not to judge those who have struggled in My Story, My Word. Erin, you of all people know that you can very easily be brought down this same road. Remember that it often begins with just one small sin. This small sin then begets another and another. When you finally recognized that all of this was supernatural, you shook your head in complete shock that you did this one thing.”

Me: “Oh Lord, I have been so upset with myself. I have been so bothered that I would do such a thing. Please forgive me.”

Jesus: “Erin, you are forgiven. Now, I have made promises to you that I intend to keep. While I know this has been a painful lesson, I require those who I have specially prepared and chosen to do a good work to keep My commandments. Ever since you realized your misstep, you have followed My instructions without veering to the left or to the right. Even though your husband wanted to call down a column of fire upon the young man who deceived you, I am very glad he did not elevate this. Your prayer was effective. Still, I allowed all of this. Why?”

Me: “A series of troubles came and it was because I had become troubled. In the midst of these, and instead of going to You as I now almost always do, I instead relied on myself, the voice of trouble, to quickly lead me into more. I must have called my ‘self’ from the tomb and given rise to it in trouble. This is neither wise nor okay.”

Jesus: “Great analogy. What else?”

Me: “Well, I had thought I had given away more than I actually had. When the flooding occurred, I discovered things I had kept from my auction in 2006. I was in shock. Somehow these bins that I had thought were old toys were not. I didn’t even know they were here. I had put them away years ago and regretted what I thought I had given away. I now realize that they were here with me the whole time. Now I wonder what I should save for our eventual home in Bend OR and what I should give away.”

Jesus: “How about giving away what you know you would not use and keep what you would use?”

Me: “That is a great idea, Lord.”

Jesus: “I know these were chests of hope for you in a blessing and promises deferred. Trust Me to do a good thing here and bless you. I love you. Now, let’s return to the tomb with stone. Do you remember when I spoke to you about how the tomb is like a vessel with a lid over it? When you think of your vessel right now, you refer to it as full of old, dry bones.

“Well, Erin, I am here. Your desert period of waiting is coming to a close. Soon... very soon... I will roll away the stone. You will then step out and be fully alive and new. It is not the easiest concept or parable to understand. However, sin, or the act of entertaining demons, thereby playing in their field, can cause the stone to cover your vessel. Erin, you just discovered how quickly this can occur.

"I allowed this so you remain contrite of heart and fully in Me and I in you. The enemy therefore gains no ground. As you have not been sealed visibly yet, the troubles continue to come from the enemy. Now, and more than ever, keep Me ever before you. This is because I am over all things. Erin, I will never leave you. I will not dump you and leave you.

"When I reveal your mistake, turn to Me immediately in repentance. I will carry you through the ramifications of your troubles. Now, through Grace, I can also remove and heal all involved. Erin, I can do this and it is easy for Me to do so."

Me: "Yes, Lord, please do this."

Jesus: "So, have you learned from your error?"

Me: "Yes, Lord! I have repented at least a hundred or more times."

Jesus: "Yes, I know. I have heard each one. Now, do you believe Me when I tell you that you are forgiven and that I have delivered you from your troubles?"

Me: "Yes. However, I feel like I am still in the middle of my battles."

Jesus: "No. You are in the aftermath of the battles and the residue remains.

"There is cleanup required.

"I have you, Erin.

"All that you have is Mine. All of it.

"Trust in Me and I will grant you the desires of your heart.

"You are greatly loved.

"Now take care of the cleanup.

"I am with you... you and your house."

Dream over.

600 – Today is a Day of Great Significance

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day here! What a difficult week it has been. Brutal. However, I am thankful for brutal as this is a call for change. It forced me to rethink my position. The humbling experience of vacuuming up water that kept coming despite my efforts was exhausting. Still, to stop doing this would have meant an even more devastating effect. We eventually got it under control, thereby avoiding disaster.

So, what was God telling me here? Well, Father, Your love is brilliant above all things and certainly above our abilities. You often call us to greater service in various degrees and levels of action. In these, You test our resolve, our attitudes and our patience. You also test our abilities to work together toward a common goal, each of us in our abilities to meet God's call to action.

Water pouring in from the walls doesn't wait for us to go about our business or focus our attention on something else. At that moment, our entire family worked together as one. All were present and all hands were on deck. We had to quickly act in conjunction to prevent an even worse outcome. This is also the case in our spiritual lives today...

- Actions in urgency: Some action is required on our part to immediately rush in and put our faith in You, Father, to stop the rain and the flooding. We ask You to hear our prayers to relent and dry up the ground. At the same time, You also call us to action.
- Actions during a delay: Some actions require You to move. We then wait until You present the open door. During this wait, we remain diligent and still active in prayer and thanksgiving. We do this while You continue to perform a good work.
- Actions forced by self: Some actions are forced by self to coax God and test Him to do something. This never goes well. I have acted on my own before and all I have done is cause a greater mess than the original problem. Sometimes this has messed things up so much that I regret the day I set foot on the Earth. It then takes me so long to get back what ground I had gained. I then spend time wallowing in my mistakes. I then often endure great punishing storms after this. The wake of the aftermath of my actions are then worse as I sit in my own condemnation. These types of actions are definitely to be avoided.

- Actions during cleanup: Storms come and, in minutes, they are gone. However, the aftermath, the cleanup, is then in stages. Depending on how severe the storm, the cleanup can even last a lifetime.

I somehow thought that I had graduated in my walk to a different platform, a platform where all my battles, tests and trials were over. However, this is not the case, nor should it be, if I personally do something to test You, Father. This I did! I am sad to admit this, but it is true. While You gave me ample warnings, I failed to recognize them fully. To make matters worse, I acted as judge against the patriarchs in the Bible.

'Before humiliation' me: "Wow, how could David, Saul, Solomon and the others do such terrible things when God had given them so much? How could this happen when so many signs and wonders were sent their way?"

'After humiliation' me: "Well, 'judge sparrow', never measure your spiritual walk against those who have gone before you. Don't do this even with those next to you."

I then thought about Job and his difficult walk. Remember that Satan was allowed by God to test Job. Note that the below is a 'paraphrased' version of his woeful story and is not to be mistaken for being taken word for word from Scripture...

Satan: "You have a hedge around Job, his household and everything he has. You have blessed the work of his hands. His flocks and herds are spread throughout the land. However, take away all he has and surely he will curse you."

Lord: "Very well then. Everything Job has is now in your power. However, you are not to harm Job Himself."

Satan went out and did what he was given permission to do. The reports poured in:

Messenger 1: "The oxen were plowing and his donkeys were grazing when foreigners stole them and killed the farmhands with swords."

Messenger 2: "The fire of God fell from the heavens and burned up the sheep and the shepherds. I am the only one who escaped to tell you."

Messenger 3: "The Chaldeans formed three raiding parties and swept down on your camels and made off with them. They killed your servants with swords."

Messenger 4: "Your sons and daughters were feasting and drinking wine at the oldest brother's house and suddenly a mighty wind swept in from the desert and struck the four corners of the house. It collapsed on them and they are all dead."

Despite all of these horrible calamities, Job did not sin by charging God with wrong doing. Satan wasn't finished though. Satan then requested and was granted permission to test Job physically. Job was then infested with painful sores. He then had to endure harsh words from his wife. Job didn't take her insults lightly.

Job: "You are talking like a foolish woman. Shall we accept the good from God and not the trouble?"

While in no way am I comparing myself to Job, this last week was filled with troubles. Still, God is gracious. He sent signs so that I would be on heightened alert. I was then prepared for a different type of attack based on past patterns. Despite this, I was still fooled by a sneak attack by the enemy. Because of my sin of judgment against others, my walls were already weak. I was an easy target.

Still, my sins uncovered promises I had made to God that I had failed to fulfill. This was like a vow to God, so He sent calamity to our basement to 'abase' me, to humble me. Troubles came to us all week. I was not in tune to the Holy Spirit or to the Voice of the Lord in me. Still, it was not that He left me, it was me who failed to go to Him.

In my own arrogance, somehow believing I was beyond all of this, God then quickly revealed that I can do nothing without Him. Yes, I am nothing without God. I am just a person to write as God has called and no more. I am to remain small so that God can be increased through me. My vessel is empty.

I then told my 'self' a few things: "So long, self. It's been real. While it's been a long journey, I can no longer stand you."

I then felt called to create an epitaph for the tombstone that would mark the death of my 'self'.

R.I.P. Self

February 23, 2000 – April 24, 2022

Erin was her best 'self' until God sent the Blacksmiths

Buried here this final day... so she could live in Jesus' way

So, Father, in our spiritual walks, no two souls go through precisely the same experience, the same journey. We should therefore NEVER measure ourselves against anyone else. All that we work through daily has to be through prayer. The day that Jesus hung on the Cross and atoned for our sins was a great mystery. No one on Earth fully understands all that His death means. We will though once we are in Heaven.

We are told to believe in His things here even though we cannot see them. One day, we will see and all will be reconciled. Faith in Heaven will be manifest before us. Job was an upright man of integrity and righteousness. However, when the tests came, Job handled it incredibly well. He then asked himself what he had done to deserve this, wanting to make things right with God. We can all learn from Job's example!

In my dream a few nights ago:

Sub-Dream 1 "Earth plunging into darkness" begins...

I saw the Earth falling over a shelf into darkness. It plunged into the darkness. I then heard 'Four Score and 7 Years Ago'. After this, I heard 'Four Score and 1 Year Until'. I felt greatly troubled as I watched this unfold.

Sub-Dream 1 over.

In my dream last night:

Sub-Dream 2 "Toddlers longing for adventure" begins...

I saw a classroom of toddlers all peering out a large window. They could see birds and little animals. The children were so happy. All of them were laughing and asking questions. The children longed to go outside and explore the wonders of the yard and beyond. However, they could only see things through the windows. This was all that was allowed for them.

Sub-Dream 2 over.

Lord, You are a great mystery. I have nothing to offer You but my heart. I am dead without You. I pray now that I am able and You would find something useful in me. My only asset, the only thing that I had to show for all of my years of work, is now at the auction house. The heart of my car, my beloved 2007 Chrysler Pacific, and its veins... the entire electrical system... has flatlined.

The initial diagnosis did not outline all that was now wrong. Well, now I have to let go. The Lord told me it was time to let go of this. While it was the end of the car for me, the Lord told me it was not the end of me for Him.

What a relief! I felt better knowing that this is a step closer to total reliance on our Father, the Most High. Oh yes... I found a Scripture in Isaiah that seems to speak of the 'Mask Mandate'...

Isaiah 25:7 (King James and some other versions): "And He will destroy on this mount the shroud that is drawn over the faces of all the peoples. And the covering that is spread over all the nations."

Wow, this is amazing. The mask mandate is right there. Father, I can't wait for You to raise up in the Earth and free the captives. Please lift the veil and open the windows so that the children can play outside... freely and without fear.

Thank You also for the miracles You began to work here starting on Friday, April 22, 2022. My stepson graduated with honors from his Forestry Program. My youngest son had his last day at an abusive workplace. The ground has dried up. No water has seeped back into our basement. While the house is still in shambles, we are making our way through it. I am donating a lot of items and this is helping.

We then had a 'Cupcake Miracle'... smiles! We went to the bakery to pickup cupcakes to celebrate my stepson's graduation and my youngest son's new job. We arrived 11 minutes too late. However, the baker saw us outside and brought out 12 cupcakes. We wanted to pay for them, but they insisted it was on the house. We were in shock as the cupcake assortment was exactly what we would have asked for! I then remembered a funny doormat slogan... "A cupcake is a muffin that believes in miracles!"

Me: "Oh Father, this 'minor cupcake miracle' was huge to me and my husband. Thank You, Father, for this gift and faith builder. We all enjoyed the cupcakes immensely and there was great laughter with our celebration. Free gourmet cupcakes... a miracle!"

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "I am here, Erin. I am with you. Why do you think I allowed all of this?"

Me: "So many reasons, Lord. I am just sorry that You had to allow any of this."

Jesus: "You have proved yourself faithful."

Me: "Really, Lord? I feel as if I failed yet again."

Jesus: "Erin, I am not after 'perfect'. You had great growth in this last week. Perhaps you had more growth in this last week than maybe even 7 years. While it is true that the enemy advanced in an unexpected way, when he did advance, you quickly did what was necessary and corrected all of it.

"You wrote down My instructions and followed them. You did not veer. Even more so, when the storm came and your abilities faltered, you remained steadfast and allowed Me to work through you. The rains then stopped, the grounds then dried and your test then ended."

Me: "I am sorry, Lord. I made a long list of errors and I couldn't correct them all."

Jesus: "You gave everything to Me. You listened to Me. You spoke to Me. Do not run from Me. Come to Me. It is when you don't just talk to Me that I can't be heard by you. Stop what you are doing, drop the ambitions and roll My cover over you (stop, drop and roll!). I promise you that I will instruct you in the ways you should go. While I know that this was a difficult week for you, something wonderful happened."

Me: "Yes. Any holdout I had of 'self' appears to now be deceased. It is over, Lord. I even put today's date on my tombstone to 'self'. So many things came at me this week. I was so afraid of losing You that nothing else mattered. It was freeing to end all of it."

Jesus: "So, this is a very good day!"

Me: "While I am not sure what all of it means yet, I am certain You will use it for Your glory, Lord. Just at this moment, I had an impression of something I didn't know I was longing for. I am searching my memory banks for something I don't understand. Lord, what is this? While it caused me to long for a moment and chase it, it couldn't be found by me."

Jesus: "Ah, yet another mystery. This will be reconciled one day. It is not of this world, but of the place I have prepared for you. I am causing you to long for the place I have prepared for you. You no longer long for the things of this world."

Me: "All I felt was a deep longing for something that is missing here."

Jesus: "All will soon be made right. All will. I am not finished with you yet. A great chapter has closed and a new one begins. You are ready for your weapons and your armor. I have prepared you for battle. You will rest and strengthen. I will then send further instructions.

"You have completed your preparation, your war manual, for the great battle that is soon to come. However, never will a battle be so joyful as this one. You will be going into the battle with Me. However, your weapons will be of Heaven, yet fought on Earth. Erin, the winter has passed.

"The blossoms have appeared in the land. The time of pruning has come. The song of the turtledove is heard in our land. This signifies the ending of one season and the beginning of a new one. Erin, before you there is a dying vine. Still, it prospers with fifty buds about to blossom. Eight have already blossomed. This shows you that the dead vine still lives."

Me: "It is a miracle, Lord."

As soon as I said this, a King Bird was singing behind me.

Jesus: "I am with you, Erin. I am about to equip you with great weapons. While these weapons will be gifts to you, these will be anything but gifts to the enemy. They will be especially great gifts to those who are in anguish. The promises I have given are here."

Me: "Is this dream (Dream 600) my last dream, Lord?"

Jesus: "Hmm, where is it written that I will strip all dreams and visions? This is not what I said. Instead, this is where the prophets' words are fulfilled."

Me: "Isaiah 61... the Year of the Lord's Favor!"

Jesus: "Don't stop at only one chapter, Erin. There are many directives in My Words through My servants. Perhaps this is a good time of fulfillment."

Me: "There is also Isaiah 45, 49 and 62!"

Jesus: "There are also other prophets. I leave this to you for further study. In the meantime, I am your lamp to your feet and the light to your path. Remember, it takes the glory of God to conceal a matter and the honor of kings to search it out. This is a great day, Erin. You don't even understand the great significance of this day."

Me: "Oh Lord, I truly don't. I just know it has taken 22 years and 2 months for me to die to this 'self' of mine. Lord, I am so sorry that this took so long."

Jesus: "Erin, did you not think I would know this would take you this long? I always knew that 22 would be a good number for you, Erin."

Me: "Lord, I heard something in my dream when the Earth plunged over the shelf into the darkness. I first heard 'Four Score and 7 Years Ago' and then I heard 'Four Score and 1 Year Until'."

Jesus: "Well, the first one is 87 years and it refers to the time of a Great War and the years before when the nation I had prepared for those who were separated and persecuted had been birthed as a nation before Me with a Covenant Contract. This contract has now been broken or is in the process of being broken by evil people.

"First comes the seed of a nation brought forth by Me. Then there is the conception where the seed grows. Then it is birthed... a birth nation. This is the nation I prepared for those I have chosen to govern as I would. However, they do not obey My Commandments. Justice is no longer equal.

"While all of the attention is here, troubles brew in Israel. The enemy has begun to advance against her in greater measure. This is because the world is distracted. However, you are not to worry as this is God's Land. So too is the nation of your birth. Nothing comes against God with success."

Me: "Lord, foreign invaders have come and with them killers too."

Jesus: "I am the God who sees. I see all of it. I know the plans of the wicked. I know the plots of the sons of perdition. This will not end well for them, so pray. You have seen the punishment of the wicked. I see the wicked plots to destroy the food supplies of the nation. It is a foreign leader who has begun to advance inside the borders to destroy the food sources. He is purchasing the fields, the lands, all secretly and under the cover of night. However, I see all:

- Woe to him who strikes against God.
- Woe to him who elevates himself.
- Woe to him who lies to the peoples.
- Woe to him who is shrouded in darkness.
- Woe to him who steals what he has not earned nor planted.
- Woe to him who was made rich from the nations of God.

Me: "Lord, this took a dark turn here."

Jesus: "Well, you will be a light in the midst of darkness as I am with you. Now, rejoice, as I only let the wicked go so far before I come for them. This time, they will run and hide and cower at the sound of My Voice and the multitudes of My Army. I tell you this... the 600 who proved themselves faithful in David's army were nothing compared to what is to come against the enemies of God.

"God's Army, My Army, will be equipped with heavier shekels of iron than Goliath's spear. Erin, this is coming now, so rejoice! You are loved by Me. I am with you in the battle. I go before you and I move through you. Now rejoice!" Dream over.

601 – The Wicked will be filled with Shame

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day, another week, another month and another year! I am glad to still be alive and in the fight for Your Kingdom Purposes. Last week was brutal as attacks flooded our home, both literally and figuratively. My husband and I need to make an actual list because, when weeks like this happen, it is always a testimony to the greatness of God and His Great Love and mercy towards those who love Him.

I learned last week that the initial waiver of my injury appeal didn't go through. Now there is a mediation on June 6, 2022 to determine the strength of my case and whether or not it will be granted a hearing in the courts. My attorney told me that one person delayed all of this an extra three months. He is frustrated. All in all, these are coordinated attacks by those who hate truth and evidence.

Well, here we are, Father, completely dependent on You for our provision as my husband still hasn't found work. While we know this is Your Will for now, it is still hard. In a personal word for me a few days ago, You reminded me that You control everything. You reminded me not to fear. While the enemy does his work to fight, he is removed from advancing against Your children with success.

While the enemy will try, his attempts will now falter. I am so thankful for this. My main enemy struck on his birthday (Tuesday, April 26, 2022). He was drunk. While he never used to drink heavily when we were married, this has obviously changed. My children had called him during the day to wish him Happy Birthday. He then attacked each of them, but no one more than my daughter.

He made terrible accusations and claims against her and me. He even told her that he would be in Heaven, but he hoped that he would never see her there. My daughter remained quiet as he spilled out of his mouth all that was in his heart. The alcohol he was drinking obviously acted like a truth serum. My daughter is now questioning what she wants to do next. We just know that the Lord will soon make this obvious.

The enemy didn't stop there though. He attacked my boys next. He used the money he would be inheriting as a dangling carrot. However, my younger son didn't fall for this. My older son, sadly, was temporarily persuaded. However, once he heard what his father had said about his sister, he was disgusted.

It is very difficult to hear horrible words spoken about my loved ones and me. This is especially hard when the accusations are completely untrue. The enemy always accuses you of things he had done, thereby exposing his plans. It is even more disturbing when such lies are told about our children. Thankfully, God has us!

I signed over the title of my car to the auctioneer yesterday. While I know God has a purpose in everything, it was still a sad feeling. We are hoping for enough money from the sale to purchase a more reliable replacement car. All of this was just a lot of big changes in a very short period of time.

My stepson went to work for a wood corporation for the summer yesterday. It is a remote position deep in the forested mountains of the west. He had bear training and fire certification. While he applied to a few positions nearby, he did not hear back. We are praying for him as this is very dangerous work and we sometimes are unable to hear from him for long periods of time.

We have had so much stuff happen to us during these last 14 days...

- Flooded basement from rainfall.
- Enemy attacks on me and my children.
- Unfavorable ruling by L&I.
- Pacifica off to auction.
- Stepson left for the west.
- My daughter may now be returning for a longer time.
- Repairs were needed on our working vehicle.
- My younger son's last day at one job and he now starts a new job.
- First Zoey was sick and then Snigglet.
- Taxes were filed.
- Purchase of a new wet vac to replace our faulty old wet vac.

- Dream of Sparrowhawk with a dead Sparrow.
- Actual dead Sparrow.
- Picked up a wounded finch and put it in a safe place.
- Several household items are seeming to break down.

Me: "Father, it has been a rough time for our house. Please have mercy on us. You are our Miracle Worker."

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "I am here, Erin. I am with you. Why do you believe you are under such great attacks right now?"

Me: "Well, this usually happens right before something really great. I also feel as if I ruined my Sabbath."

Jesus: "The issue with this was between you and Me and this has been forgiven. While I have now moved on, you continue to bring this up."

Me: "I am sorry, Lord."

Jesus: "You are upset with yourself for making an obvious mistake. While it was a painful mistake for you, you have turned away from this. I allowed this so you would understand how easily even someone called of God can be deceived and veiled. The timing of this came in advance of a great enemy attack on your house this week. You had just come out of your own trouble and were on heightened alert.

"Your heart... your Spirit... was contrite. You were then careful with your words. This was very good. Do not worry as I have your children. Time seems to often veil the memory of the innocent. This is when the enemy calls out from his position. I allowed him to expose his position and plans for them in his drunken state. I am sorry this caused a flood of bad memories to arise from the depths.

"Still, the rise in remembering past events caused all three of your children to turn from your enemy's persistent calls. Erin, all three have now turned away from his deception. While I know this was difficult, all was done very quickly. It was done quickly so that I could carry out My purposes in all of this. There is a great reason for My allowing all of this. Erin, I want you to be encouraged by this. This is a time of great changes.

"Erin, there is a great war over you that you cannot see. Princes and principalities are toppling in unseen realms. The residual effects are here.

There are wars and rumors of wars. There are great wars all over the world that the people do not recognize. This is because they are no longer fought as wars on physical battlefields.

“There has been a great invasion, a massive overthrow, of the government of the adversary over the nations of the Earth. While the physical war you see is real, a great diversion is in place to carry out a more diabolical plan. Here is a partial list that the enemy is using against God and His people...

- Gather all nations under a one-world government. This is the rebuilding of the Tower of Babel.
- Removing all references to the name of God, My Name and any dedication, music or worship to God. Churches will be destroyed in greater number. This will be a difficult time as people were created by God to worship Him.
- Destroy God’s Creation as unholy. Destroy the DNA separating men from women and men from animals. This will turn man unclean.
- Destroy God’s Covenant of keeping marriage between a man and a woman, a holy union to be fruitful and multiply as a family.
- Destroy children as they are closest to the Kingdom of Heaven. Kill unborn babies. Kill newborns. Confuse their sexuality and provide them with the ability to mutilate themselves.
- Lies and false indoctrination to be forced on young children and those who are impressionable.
- Edification of one race and the demoralization of another, all on a massive universal scale.
- All things will be permissible except anything from the Bible. The Bible will be deemed as hateful.
- Criminals are set free to steal, kill and destroy. The free are imprisoned with no trial, jury or justice.
- One economic currency to be digital. All will be controlled by one banking system. Every single transaction is to be monitored.
- Food is controlled. All cattle and livestock are to be removed as bad. Only plant-based foods will be permissible.
- Wave after wave of plagues are to continue to come. They will be used to control the population. They will also be used to corrupt fair elections. These are really all about controlling the population.

- All that is evil is now called good and all that is good is now called evil.

"This is only a small part of the whole list. The adversary and his government are working quickly to destroy the great nations. They want to lower the great nations while raising up the evil nations. This will then allow the evil nations to plunder the once great nations. This war, a war unlike any other, is already here. You now understand what type of war you are in the midst of.

"Now, if you experience great personal attacks in a coordinated cluster that seems unreasonable, you can know by this that the hour is late. My Kingdom is here. My Voice is in those I have called. It is louder than the Holy Spirit. I did not replace it. I amplified it instead. Now you know why I said in My Word 'even before they call, I will answer' and 'while they are still speaking, I will hear'."

Me: "I thought this referred to the New Earth and Your Kingdom."

Jesus: "Erin, is it not like God to bring forth a Remnant Witness to testify to the Goodness of God in advance so as to save those who have lost all hope? If I do such a thing, then will I not do even more? Have I not promised that you would do even greater things than I because I am in you and work through you? Now, begin to put this into practice. Pray for a thing. Pray and see if I won't fulfill these prayers for My Kingdom purposes."

Me: "Lord, so many need healing. Can we start there? With healing?"

Jesus: "Very well then. Then pray. I will work through you in big and small things. Now rejoice, Erin, as My Miracles are just beginning."

Me: "Please hurry, Lord."

Jesus: "Erin, what is better? Is it better to catch a thief when he is thinking about committing a crime or to catch him while he is committing the crime?"

Me: "I am not sure? Catch him before?"

Jesus: "No. You do not understand. If God had moved before any trouble, while the enemy was behind closed doors operating in the shadows, then who would know the Great Power of God in this matter?"

Me: "Oh, I see! You are right. No one would be affected by delivery from things they didn't know they were being delivered from."

Jesus: "While this is true, this is also done. Now, I have sent angels concerning you and your house many times to divert and or destroy the enemy's plots against you. You will one day see everything and be amazed. What I mean for right now as far as God is concerned is that the world has to be affected by the evidence of evil in their midst. Many have seen the lies and the great deceptions. Others have experienced many of the items on the list.

“What this means is that, when the Kingdom of God appears, the world will be in awe at the exposure of the wicked. I will turn the lights on and expose him in the middle of his crime for all to see. They will then confess to their evil. They will be unable to harness their tongues from spilling out all they have done. They will run for darkness. Terror will be their kingdom (Exodus 23:27).

“Erin, I will send My terror ahead of you. I will throw into confusion every nation your encounter. I will make all of your enemies turn their backs and run. The wicked will flee to caves in the rocks and to holes in the ground. They will cower at My fearful presence. They will flee from My splendor. They will cower and flee as I rise to shake the Earth.

“Erin, I hear the cries of My people in the days of their distress. I will answer them. I am about to remove the enemy’s supply, support and reputations. I am about to remove all that they cling to. I control the hero and the warrior, the judge and the prophet, the diviner and the elder, the captain of 50 and the man of rank, the counselor and the sorcerers. My Army will now free My people.”

Me: “Lord, in Isaiah, this was done to testify to Israel.”

Jesus: “Isaiah was a prophet with prophecies of God given to in that day for this current day and tomorrow. When God has heard the cries of his people against the wicked, the wicked will not prosper. Right now, the enemy has taken from the Word of God against My people. His plans are to remove all that is good, including meat and water. He wants to oppress and turn neighbor against neighbor.

“The youth rise up now and strike down the old. There is no honor in fools. I gave you this so you know what I am about to do to the wicked. I will display their wickedness so that the world will see it. Foreigners will run and hide in their own lands that I send them back to. In an instant, I will remove thieves and idolaters. I will remove those who harm children and their innocence. They will be cast away until the day of judgment.

“Their plots to send sickness across the nations in wave after wave of illness will come to a close. The Earth will be filled with the glory of God just as the waters cover the sea. Erin, you know this from My Words as a promise... I will avenge all of those who hurt you. Woe to him who gives drink or drugs to his neighbors, pouring this out until they are drunk or unable to know what has happened. Then all this so he can gaze in full view of their naked bodies (Habakkuk 2:15). This has happened to no end and continues.

“Now the wicked will be filled with shame instead of glory. It is their turn. Their nakedness will now be exposed. Their positions and plots will be laid bare. My cup from My right hand will come around them and in utter shame will be their covering. Remember that I am the God who sees. I see and I am about to expose things done in secret. Now, rejoice, as I am in you. I am with you. Pray for miracles. I love you.”

Me: “I love You too!”

Dream over.

602 – God’s Great Move is Now Upon Us

Received on Saturday, April 30, 2022

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day! Thank You for sending angels to guard us in all we do. Thank You for protecting my daughter and my stepson as they travel. Please continue to send angels to guard them.

Note: As it currently stands, my daughter is booked to arrive back here with us in early June. As for my stepson, he anticipates coming back here in mid to late August. Only God knows their true schedules though. We should all know by now that God seems to love ‘surprises’ (even though He Himself is NEVER surprised)!

Please also protect my oldest son. Grant him divine revelation and something special from You. Send him a sign that Your favor is upon him. Please also protect my youngest son and my stepdaughter. My youngest son begins his new job on Monday. Please show him that this was the perfect place for him. Also, please heal my stepdaughter. She could use something from You as well.

Please heal all of our children... in Jesus’ Mighty Name! Father, please heal my husband. For that matter, please heal me too. I struggle daily. My fingers are becoming worse. I long for Your promises to be fulfilled. The day that I can let go of all the strongholds of this world and rely solely on You will be such a joyous day. Thank You for all that You do for me.

Even though so many of my dreams and desires over the years have come and gone, I would do it again in a heartbeat. I have gained something so special through You. It is incredibly priceless and more valuable than any earthly thing. I gained You, Father. I captured the heart of my true Father. You somehow saw something in Me that was useful to You.

You showed me what You required to gain more of the things of Heaven here. You required the death of my ‘self’. This included the death of my personal ambitions and my vanity. This included the death of my pride, bitterness and regrets of anything I had to give up. Even though I still have work to do around me, You have completed the work in me to be of use to You. While I still don't see it all, You do.

The last few weeks have been brutal. I was drained of all the residue that remained. Still, these troubles took a lot from me and I had very few words. This is rare for me. I have spent this last week asking even more questions. In return, I have received divine revelation about what is coming to the world IF the enemy gets his way.

Me: "Lord, please help me make sense of all of this. One could become so discouraged at the power of the enemy. Instead of wrapping myself up in news stories, locally, nationally and globally, You called me to look at all of these events from Your vantage point."

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "Erin, what did you see?"

Me: "I saw strength in numbers. The enemy is flooding the nations with foreign invaders who do not all come with good intentions. More than this, it is the gathering up of peoples. This is symbolic of tearing down all of the borders, unifying all under one governance, one currency, one religion and one healthcare system. It is bad.

"I then saw that the sin was becoming so great that it was permeating everything. There is an evil so great that plagues are being purposefully sent out across the globe. There are now mass killings of migratory birds, horses, chickens used for meat, chickens used for eggs, beef and even pigs. Father, I then saw respiratory illnesses coming in waves and killing off our food proteins."

Jesus: "I am here, Erin. I am with you. These prophecies in My Word are unfolding now. However, the enemy is clever and conceals the signs and covers the evidence of this so that the people are unaware. If you are not a farmer, rancher or around animals, you would not know these things. This is because the news hides this information. You must understand the times you are now in.

"These are like birth pains or contractions of a greater event. There is a reason the whole Earth will need to be burned and reshaped. The entire Creation of God will be unclean and uninhabitable for so many reasons. However, you can go to the Word for common laws on uncleanness. These are still used as measures. For instance, if a white cloth is soiled, how can it be made clean?"

Me: "Depending on the garment, I would wash it with soap and stain remover."

Jesus: "What happens if the stain is too great?"

Me: "Oh Lord, You are so smart. I see. The remnant of sin is like mold on a surface. Wait! Lord, You are instructing me on why You must burn the Earth to start anew. However, there is something else... You are instructing me on the aftermath of the flooded area in our home. This is in Leviticus 14. The basement area has been cleared out of all items. The area has now been clear for several days.

"There doesn't appear to be any mildew. Incidentally, a small sparrow flew into the window right above the area of the flood in the basement and died on impact. Then just yesterday, a mourning dove seemed to have been killed at the same area. This seems to point to Leviticus 14:49... To purify the house, take two birds and some cedar wood (which 'just happens' to be the siding of our house), scarlet yarn and hyssop. Are there any coincidences in Your Kingdom, Lord?"

Jesus: "Well, I see the correlation you are speaking of. However, what about the second bird? There was no body. Only feathers remained."

Me: "So, Lord, then is our house now clean?"

Jesus: "It is I who makes your house clean. It is clean. I honor the heart of a child of God who seeks an upright position. What I mean is that you care about that which God has given you here. You steward over all that I have given you here. You do this even though you know that nothing here on Earth is permanent. You do right in taking care of all that I have given you, treating it as holy and good. In obedience to My Father's calling to your household, you take diligent care of the following...

- Your body
- Your temple vessel
- Your house
- Your garments
- Your 'horses' (living things both in and around our house)
- Your 'chariots' (our vehicles)
- Your property
- Your food
- Your water
- Your sanitation

"You honor Me by caring for all that I have given you. Why? Because it shows Me you are faithful and grateful when given a little. This lets Me know that you will be even more faithful and grateful when given even more. You are My Priests. Honor Me."

Me: "Thank You for this instruction."

Jesus: "Always remember that I did not come to abolish the laws and commandments. Erin, I came to fulfill the Words of the prophets."

Me: "Oh Lord, You came for much more than this. You came for our hearts."

Jesus: "Yes. This is in the Words of the prophets. Now, the enemy of God and man is striking out as he knows the times that were written are now coming to pass. He knows they are here and even at the doorstep. This is why he has sent wave after wave of plagues and pestilence.

"He has also created troubles through giant-winged hornets, diseased beetles and other penetrating pests who carry diseases to all of My Creation. War and death are the enemy's promises. He flourishes in lies, deception and destruction of all that is good.

"Now, there are events coming that will soon put his evil in suspension. This will be like a still birth from his pregnancy of evil. I have a Great Plan, a plan the world has never seen. Do not worry. Pray. I have sent angels to guard over the Great Birth of My Bride. Though you are in Great Travail and it has been a painful journey, soon you will deliver. Great will be your joy as you will remember the pain of this labor no more.

"You will instead say 'who gave birth to these?' when you see your sons and daughters. Erin, understand that the fruit of your womb is good. Through your troubles, I have made it so. When you really think about it, a pregnant woman is also a vessel. Mary gave birth to the Savior, God in flesh. So then, is My Bride also now pregnant?"

Me: "You are so mysterious, Lord. Your ways are wise and far above us. I do not know the answer to this question. I only know what I experienced as a pregnant mother. However, because my main enemy poisoned me during my pregnancies, nothing was ever normal for me in that department."

Jesus: "Do not worry, Erin, as I was there. I am with you now. While this is a former thing, I will now do a new thing as you are today. Since you are unable to conceive as you no longer have a womb, you understand that I instead speak a mystery about something else. You were robbed of both your safety and your security. You were robbed of innocence and great joy at giving birth to new life because of the evil acts of your enemy.

"Erin, I see. I saw all of it. I saw all that he did. I am the God who sees. Do not worry. A Great Move of God will soon come upon the land. Those who invaded the nations will, in an instant, be supernaturally returned to the lands of their birth. While others will try to run and hide from Me, they will still be found by Me. The adversary who labored in vain did not deliver his evil at the appointed time he desired.

"Now, I am God. I created men and I created women. They are to be in union together as this is Holy. I do not compromise. However, I will do more than remove evil. Great joy will be manifested in all those who are contrite in heart, those who are downtrodden. There will be great healing and joy. Now rejoice, Erin. Complete your tasks and rest. You are loved by Me, the King!"

Me: "I love You, Lord!"

Jesus: "I love you, Erin! Remember that I loved you first."

Dream over.

603 – What Seems Insignificant Can Be Significant

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day! Thank You for Your love and mercy. Thank You for Your special care over our household and children. We cannot thank You enough. Father, sometimes what You call us to do seems counter to what mainstream churches teach us. So many churches fail the people because they refuse to speak tough talk. Today, the enemy has worked overtime to cancel truth speak in church.

Your Word is very clear in the Old Testament as to what is and isn't permissible. This is also true for the New Testament. What is awesome though is that, when Your people sinned, You sent prophets to show them they were falling away from Your Laws. You spoke through them. You warned them that, if they didn't turn back from sin and towards You, the nation would fall. All they had come to know would then be lost.

Those not killed by sword would be enslaved by foreign invaders. Even worse, they testified that the Temple would be destroyed and their nation removed. All this then occurred just as the prophets declared. Well, history is now repeating this pattern. Despite knowing truth through His Word, the easily accessible Bible, sin is still compromising our nations. Just a little sin can go a long way.

This is like how only a small amount of yeast can permeate a large bowl of dough and greatly expand it. So too is sin expanded. In fact, any sin can start small and expand through an entire population. Lies, gossip, stealing, coveting, adultery, murder and bearing false witness do this. This is the worst time in our history for widespread sin.

Oh yes... don't forget all that is practiced which is detestable to God. These are abominations to God. It is wise to refresh ourselves on Proverbs 6:16 and Deuteronomy 18:9-12. Always check a man or woman by their fruits. Do they operate in the bad fruits of the flesh, fruits that produce spiritual death? Or do they work in displays of the fruits of the Spirit and produce life in abundance?

Today is the day to check your fruits using the 1 Corinthians 13:4-7 Love Test. Do not delay in doing this. If anything stands out via the Holy Spirit, then the time to work on this is today. While I will do this now with my name, you are to rewrite this out with your name instead. This can be a harsh test for so many, including me. Well, here it goes...

"Erin is patient. Erin is kind. Erin does not envy. Erin does not boast. Erin is not proud. Erin does not dishonor others. Erin is not self-seeking and does not insist on her own way. Erin is not easily angered. Erin keeps no record of wrongs. Erin does not delight in evil but rejoices with the truth. Erin always protects, always trusts, always hopes and always perseveres. Erin bears all things in the love of Jesus. Erin believes all things in the love of Jesus. Erin hopes all things in the love of Jesus. Erin endures all things because she loves Jesus and believes in Him."

I have done this exercise before and it never fails to convict me on a few items. I must then go to the Lord with these. Father, please accept my apology for going my own way at times. Breaking just one of these seems to lead into breaking more of them. You showed me that sins are like a corral filled with goats. One breaks through the fence and then many follow after it, all then going their own way.

Please forgive me and keep me as a sheep under Your care as my Shepherd. In these times, there are more wolves than there are sheep. We are better off remaining in You at all times. This reminds me of something very dangerous being taught in some Christian circles. This is the concept of 'Once Saved, Always Saved'. This is true in the instant of the heart when we give our hearts to Christ once we are saved.

We are then changed from the ordinary, a life without Jesus, to the extraordinary, a life filled with the love of Jesus. We are made new. The Lord's promise to us is that we are with Him into eternity... eternal life in Heaven. Well, I think the majority of Christians follow one of these three kinds of Christian walks...

- Those that are instantly saved and changed and run after the Lord.
- Those who are saved, but become tired from the enemy's attacks. They then find it easier to return back to their old ways. They often struggle to believe they are saved and still do not accept the gift God has given them. This often changes when a real-life Prodigal Son story plays out.

- Those that believe the 'Once Saved, Always Saved' gives them a winning lottery ticket to do any kind of sin they want without repercussions. These are the most dangerous kind of Christians. They believe they can do whatever they want to whomever they want and they are still forgiven. Well, a study of Hebrews 10 dispels this dangerous notion, especially Hebrews 10:26-39.

When reading the above, do not think that I am acting as a judge or jury. No, far from it. It is only God's place to judge. I cannot judge anyone. I am not qualified to do this. All I can do is try to steer people into the right thinking and away from their wrong direction. Christians, all of us, will one day stand before the Throne of God. We will account for all we have done. I had a dream last night...

Sub-Dream 1 "From Home Goods to Value Village" begins...

I was in a very large store, something like a Home Goods store. There was furniture, home décor and other home related items. There was no roof on the building. It was a sunny day and the store was very well lit with the sunlight as a result. I was working there as a display merchandiser (which I have quite a few years of experience in). It was spring moving into summer. My manager came over to me...

Manager: "I don't want you to remove the remnant of spring items. Instead, work these elements into the summer displays."

This left me with an impossible task. I found myself struggling to blend Easter bunnies into summer July 4th displays. I decided to instead sort my displays into color groups. As I was doing this, I kept noticing that another merchandiser was adding marked down items that were horrible to my displays. Her items just didn't fit in.

I decided to group the bad merchandise together. The other merchandiser then kept adding new beautiful items to the bad. Instead of arguing with her and elevating any troubles, I grouped and added up the items of the marked down pieces to sell as one.

- The two that I loved were $7 each. One was a beautiful scrolled serving tray with inlays of mother of pearl and a light-yellow stone mosaic. It measured 18" x 12". The other item was a Kleenex-box cover. It had scroll work of blue lapis Azul and mother of pearl.
- The other items totaled about $38. One was a cute Easter lamb missing a leg. There were also two Easter chicks with missing eyes and one a wing.
- Bundling these items added up to a sell price of $52.

I did this to alleviate any confrontation with the other merchandiser. However, this backfired as the merchandiser was reporting me because her plots to ruin my displays were not working. The manager came over to me...

Manager: "The other merchandiser was trying to get you in trouble, but I agreed with you. I am also glad to see the markdowns sell off as a group. She was trying to ruin your displays. This was a difficult enough task on its own."

After that, I went across the parking lot on my break to a place like a Value Village (it was a giant used thrift store). While I was going to donate some of my items there, the element was very dark. I also knew that these things I brought would be thrown out. I decided to fix them up and keep them for myself.

As I was leaving, I passed a glass display case. In this case were some rare items. I asked to view them. The clerk struggled to find a key. Once she found the key, she still couldn't open it.

Clerk: "I am so sorry, but I can't seem to open this."

Me: "That's okay. I didn't have my wallet anyway. I will be back later."

I went home to drop off my purchases. I fell asleep and the Lord called me to dream. When I woke up, I felt different.

Voice of the Lord: "Get up. It is time to leave your job. I am calling you to a different place."

I went into work and gave my notice. While my manager was saddened by this, my wicked co-workers were celebrating.

Manager: "Well, you always have a place here."

We hugged each other and I then proceeded to go back home.

Voice of the Lord: "Don't forget that you promised the clerk at the thrift store that you would go back there."

I did as I was told. The clerk was so glad to see me. She was so glad that I was actually a bit surprised. Someone being glad to see me can be a rarity at times.

Clerk: "After you left, some bad customers demanded that I sell these things to them instead. I promised to save them for you and they said they would be back and that these items had better be gone. While you took a long time, I am so glad you came back. Here is all that was in the case."

I looked and became surprised. While everything had been broken, damaged or overpriced, all were pristine, rarer than before and really inexpensive.

Me: "Beautiful!" The Lord then told me to purchase all of it. "How much?"

Clerk: "Very expensive. I am so sorry."

Me: "How much is very expensive?"

Clerk: "$92 all in, taxes included."

While this was very inexpensive, I really didn't need these items.

Voice of the Lord: "Purchase them. Do not worry."

Me: "Deal." I paid cash.

Clerk: "Thank you so much. Now that this is all sold, I can go home for the day. I want to leave before those angry customers return."

Me: "I am so sorry that I was delayed."

Clerk: "No worries. I am just relieved you came back. This makes me a truth teller."

All of the items filled a small box. They were easily worth more than a few thousand dollars. As we left the building, the clerk put her hood over her head. We said goodbye just as the evil customers were returning to the store. They did not see us.

Sub-Dream 1 over.

Me: "Father, this was an odd dream. First there were the sale items bundled for $52. Then there were the purchase items for $92. While these add up to $144, a significant number to us, it doesn't seem to really mean more than this. I am probably missing something. Lord, I feel in my heart that You are about to do something very big."

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "I am here, Erin, and I am with you. There is opposition to all that is good and all that is true. Just as I spoke through the prophets, I also testified to My disciples so they could witness and write what they saw. My Word is a lamp to your feet and a light to your path. My Book (Hebrews), James, Peter, John and Jude have final instructions for all of you now. These are before the final Book of the End (the Book of Revelation). However, this final Book really is not about the end, but the beginning."

Me: "While You told me that You personally wrote Hebrews, many believe that it was Paul who wrote it."

Jesus: "Yes, this remains a mystery to most scholars. Now, revisit these books as there is sound instruction that is applicable for your times now. It was written to prepare hearts for what is soon to come... and what is already here."

Me: "Lord, what is here is bad, but what is coming is much worse."

Jesus: "Yes, and especially to those in the midst of all of this. However, instructions are in My Word, in history and in what is to come. While there are no surprises to Me, the enemy and his army, the sons of perdition, will be surprised. So too will those who trampled on My blood sacrifice and failed to heed the warnings.

"Their hearts are as stone and dry clay. This is unpliant by the Potter's hands and not worth His time. They were warned. They were told. They heard many testimonials. However, their ears remained closed and their eyes covered to all that is good. They opened their eyes only to gaze upon evil and judge it."

Me: "Lord, this makes me sad."

Jesus: "God is fair, Erin. Now trust Me."

Me: "Yes, Lord, of course."

Jesus: "Now, about your dream. While your dream seemed mundane and of no significance to you, it was actually of great significance."

Me: "I almost didn't write it down. I thought I was having a stress dream or that I was influenced by a recent trip to a Home Goods store."

Jesus: "It is a marketplace. These have been around for a few thousand years and are not unusual. These just change to reflect the times. Look carefully at a few elements that I will leave to you."

Me: "Okay. I promise to reread this."

Jesus: "Good. These are important as they show you various people you will encounter to prepare you for service. Then there were the two items for $7 each."

Me: "Hmm, 7 x 7?"

Jesus: "Perhaps. Be keenly aware of certain details when writing. I illuminate certain elements. These are important. Now rejoice, Erin. You have some studying to do."

Me: "I love You, Lord."

Jesus: "I love you, Erin. Rejoice. I am with you."

604 – The Black Dragon’s Evil Works

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day! Thank You for all You do for us. Thank You for delivering us from all of the storms here. After the one wet day we had yesterday, it looks like the repairs we did will likely hold back any future flooding. I have been exhausted though. There is so much to do to haul away all that was damaged. We also have to decide what to replace or not to replace. It is more difficult than I thought to sort through this.

Me: “Lord, why allow all of the troubles that have come to our house? This all happened in a Tidal Wave. Just a week before this all began, things were peaceful. All was well and then Whamo, chaos ensued. Lord, we need Your Guidance!”

Jesus: “Erin, come up!”

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: “Erin, I am here. I am with you. I promise you that you are not being punished. Think of it this way... does the builder of a boat not test its abilities to float prior to sending it out with passengers? It doesn’t matter what the size of it is. Whether it is small or large, it must still be tested. If a boat is leaking, it will not stay above water.

“Worse, it will soon sink to the bottom of the sea. I told you long ago that your times of trials were over. Your heart is ready. You are My Vessels, used for My purposes, to work through you. In your house, there are many Vessels. When the waters rose in your house, what happened? Give Me the details of that day.”

Me: “I still had some tasks to do, but I had been having a lot of dreams. This always takes up my prime time, but they are also my top priority.”

Jesus: “Well, this is good. However, unfinished tasks were still weighing on you. Then what happened?”

Me: "My daughter had just called. I was just finishing one of my projects and was exhausted. We then heard my older son call out, 'we have a flood!' I quickly ended my call with my daughter and then rushed down to the basement. Everyone then sprung into action. We all worked together to stop the flooding by removing all of the stored items from the flooded areas."

Jesus: "Was there arguing?"

Me: "No, not at all. I was giving out orders and everyone did them without complaint or questioning. We were trying to find the source of the flooding. As we need a new bladder for our well pump, we initially thought it was coming from there. It wasn't. We then determined that the flooding was coming from the wall behind our storage under the stairs. It was a difficult task, but we were able to clean up the flooding."

Jesus: "Hmm, so, did your Vessels hold up under pressure?"

Me: "I think so. I then got angry at myself about my Sabbath ignorance. I did this even though You told me not to worry and that You had moved on. I can be silly at times."

Jesus: "Well, this was not the reason. I allowed calamities to fall upon your home. Sometimes it is to test the waters with the boat I have built. Erin, you are worthy and able to withstand that which comes. Now, great troubles have been stirred up over the nations. There is great unrest as the enemy knows that the Kingdom of God is near."

Me: "Are You sending all of these troubles or is the adversary?"

Jesus: "What do you think?"

Me: "Lord, You are brilliant in Your strategies and are higher in Your ways than the enemy. I therefore have to believe You are waiting for the enemy to be fully in the height of his destruction or really in the midst of his great plans, so he is 'caught in the act'. It is just very difficult to be here in the middle of all of this. This is what happens when You remove favor upon a nation and hand it over for destruction.

"I looked at the Book of Hosea recently. Hosea was called by You to marry Gomer, a prostitute. He was to love her and redeem her out of slavery despite her being unfaithful. He did this even though Gomer dishonored him. The nation, but really many nations now, are like Babylon, the Harlot.

"The nation is now divided into those whose hearts are for good, justice, freedom and liberty and those who are against You and desire to strike down the other half. We are seeing this playing out everywhere before our eyes. There is nothing we can do to stop it without You. The war of the worlds is here. Our voices of truth are being silenced.”

Jesus: “Ah yes. Then this is a good time for a Savior, right?”

Me: “We need You, Lord. They are going to imprison all those opposed to their power. They have been able to do whatever they have wanted against the will of the people. They have destroyed America in just 15 short months. You have removed Your favor, Lord. None of them believe in You or they would never do such things.”

Jesus: “Calm down, Erin. They kick, scream, threaten, curse, steal and burn down things. These are the rise of the army of the adversary. They work for him and carry out his plans.

“Do you remember that I gave you a list? Before he (the Leader of the Black Dragon) ended his reign publicly, he outlined a clear path to what he desired. When in power, he destroyed the foundations of freedom, truth, liberty, justice and the worship of God.

“He then paid homage to himself and tried to steal all attention away from the leader I had sent (the Red Bull). He lied and cajoled. There was no end to his underhanded schemes. Very little was revealed to the people because he was surrounded by loyalists. A great takeover had occurred.

“Remember that he then went to visit certain places and spoke of his plans to the world. However, he became upset when very little was spoken about him after he left his seat. He was angry and longed to be back in power. He is impatient and is becoming even more so. Another thing that angered him was that his books were not selling as he had hoped they would.”

Me: “Yes. I now see his books in bargain bins.”

Jesus: “Since the bookstores bought them in advance, he thought his books were selling well. He has since found out that they had not. He became even more furious when he found out that My Book (the Bible), even after ‘all of these centuries’, was greatly outselling his book. He then decided to make an audio version. This too did not do well. He was furious about this.

“He then decided to hold a graduation ceremony. He was hoping to win over the beginning of the rebellion. A great opportunity then occurred. With people locked in their homes from the pandemic, it was time to accelerate the race wars. He set out to create fear and anger.

“An event then happened that played in perfectly with his evil agenda. This event was based on only a short clip shown. Had the world seen the entire clip, the truth would have erased what had occurred. Their form of truth had to be contained to only a few seconds. The prisoner then died. He was then made into a hero.

"The power of the news became lies. Racists began to loot and destroy peaceful cities. The enemy enjoys chaos. He is angry and hasn't stopped. His idea is to steal, kill and destroy all that is good and call this justice."

Me: "Oh Lord, all of this makes me sick."

Jesus: "Erin, in order for people to turn back to God, they must first miss Me. They must remember the former goodness and long for the things of God."

Me: "Lord, please hurry. From our vantage point, the adversary is destroying the entire nation and giving it away. It is the prostitution of all things. All abominations are unfolding. The murdering of babies is called justice and freedom. They are now calling for the destruction of the Constitution. They are calling for the removal of children from their homes. They are now pitting children against their parents."

Jesus: "I see it. There is more and it is hidden from you. It is so evil. Remember that evil in reverse is life. To live is in Me. To die to yourself is to gain more of Me away from evil to live in Me. The opposite of life is spiritual death.

"Now, when that online graduation ceremony occurred, you felt strongly that you and your house was not to watch it. Why? After all, your daughter was just graduating."

Me: "It felt like a massive spell. It felt like a demonic altar call over the airwaves. I felt this was being done to activate the sons of perdition and all of those who were sad, depressed, angry, bored or had isolation rage. It was to stir the young and the restless. It felt wrong. The imagery was off. There were optic graphics being used straight from my psychology classes. They were obviously using a type of mind control technique."

Jesus: "You are correct. Shortly after, they went out to burn down cities. I saw all of it. I have only begun the ripples in the waters I have sent. Soon, very soon, these will shake the nations. I have a Great Plan!

"Now, you weathered your storms successfully. I was with you, I am with you and I will always be with you. The time that is now upon you is a time and times like no other. Rejoice, Erin, rejoice! I am about to do something in your days you would not believe even if you were told. I love you. My favor is with you in all that you do."

Dream over.

605 – I am the Way, the Truth and the Life

Dear Father,

Thank You for another morning to wake up to! Thank You for a beautiful Spring Day. We are finally seeing blossoming buds on the tree branches. It is wonderful. Thank You, Father, for seasons.

- Winter gives us the promise of Spring.
- Spring shows us the promise of Summer.
- Summer growth displays the promise of a Fall Harvest.
- Fall Harvest activity prepares the land for the rest of Winter.
- Winter promises rest.
- And the cycle continues.

Father, You are God over all things. There is no Court in all of the land that is higher than the Courts of Heaven. There is no seat higher than Your Throne of Judgment. You are God over all things. By Your sovereign will, we live or die. You determine whether we have our next breath. Good or evil, everyone's next breath is determined by Your divine authority alone. Even the wicked breathe because of You.

Each day of our lives is a gift, a special gift here, for Your purposes, Your Kingdom purposes. As a mom, I gave birth to three children. As a mom, my mom gave birth to three children. As a mom, my maternal grandmother gave birth to six or seven children (I am not sure). For generations, You determine life. You give the gift of creating a child in the womb (Psalm 139). What a Divine Blessing. Thank You for our children.

Some who are born are here for only a short time. Some are here for a long time. Thank You, Father, for the gift of being a Vessel in which You knit my children in me. By Your hands, You created all of us. Blessed are You, Father, in all of the Earth. We praise You, Father, over all of Heaven and Earth. All of Your works are too wonderful for me.

Before I went to sleep last night, I prayed for healing over our house. I prayed for my children, my husband, my Nest friends and even myself. I asked the Lord for strength for this great journey soon to come. I was reminded today that I took my fall at work eight years ago today on May 8, 2014. I have never recovered from this. However, You have promised me healing. Lord, all of Your promises prove true (Psalm 18:30).

Even though I haven't been healed in these eight years, I know that day will soon come. When I drifted off this morning for a few moments before waking, I had a dream similar to a past one. It is one of my favorite moments with Jesus.

Sub-Dream 1 "A Toddler's Tour of Heaven" begins...

I was a toddler learning to walk. While I wanted to use my legs to run to Jesus, I was still not fully trained. He then saw that I was about to fall forward and He caught me before I fell. He then picked me up. My hands rested on His cheeks as I studied His face and then focused on His eyes. I kissed His cheek. He then kissed my forehead and hugged me. I then found rest on His shoulder. My cheek rested on His shoulder.

The sun was warm and His hair was soft. I felt His heart beating. I was so safe there in His arms. I kept repeating His Name... 'Hiyah'. After I rested, He picked me up and placed me on the path. I held His right hand as we walked. As we continued down the path, I grew older. I asked more questions as we went. He took me all over. Heaven is so beautiful because Jesus is there.

He took me to the ponds, waterfalls, vineyards and orchards. The flowering fields were so fragrant. I saw saints in the distance. They waved towards us. I turned to Jesus...

Me: "Lord, when? When will..."

Jesus: Smiling. "Soon, Erin. Soon!"

As I looked up, the sun was so bright. He stood in front of the light of the sun and it created a halo or corona around Him. His teeth were so white.

Sub-Dream 1 over...

I woke up and began to cry. I mourned that it has been eight years since my injury and I am still not healed. I had hoped for a miracle this morning.

Me: "Lord, why? This is such a small miracle for You..."

Voice of Jesus: "There is an Appointed Time, the Perfect Time. I have you. Do not worry."

Me: "Okay."

I then drifted off again. My dream was dystopian... well, hellish, really...

Sub-Dream 2 "The Enemy's 21-Year Game Plan" begins...

There was a group of very wealthy men gathering to measure the state of the world. Behind each of them were massive demonic princes that they were unable to see. I saw a date of May 2009 on the Agenda that they were speaking about. This was 13 years ago.

Each demonic prince whispered orders into the ears of each wealthy leader they represented. The topic of the discussion was the strategic population control of the world. They had given themselves 21 years to implement drastic changes to curb the course of the world's population trajectory:

- One wealthy man was concerned with carbon dioxide emissions and the need for zero carbon.
- One wealthy man was concerned about food shortages.
- One wealthy man was concerned about the expansion of births in Africa and all southern hemispheric nations and the need to control this issue.
- One wealthy man was concerned about sustainability of resources in the long term.

I heard them discussing the idea of socialistic governing for control...

Leader 1: "We need everyone under a single healthcare system. We can then use this to shorten the lives of the elderly, disabled and obese portions of society."

Leader 2: "We need to control the population by pandemic measures and vaccines."

Leader 3: "Using tax incentives, we need to incentivize young couples to forego children for careers."

Leader 4: "We need to use food shortages to diminish the population."

Leader 5: "We need mass sterilizations to really make a difference."

Leader 6: "We need to drastically shorten the lifespan of the elderly. We can do this by lengthening wait periods for procedures. We can also do this by creating widespread supply chain shortages in medicines."

Leader 7: "We need to place free abortion clinics using Planned Parenthood in poor areas. Abortions need to be both accessible and free."

Leader 8: "We need to open the southern borders to allow entry into northern hemisphere countries. We will allow criminals in without checks or balances. The resulting gang crimes and drug distributions will then kill many young men and women.”

Leader 9: “We can control whole areas with pharmaceuticals and drugs. In the meantime, we should make marijuana legal.”

They then made a specific list of areas to target to allow for the ‘humane’ reduction of the population. However, these were anything but ‘humane’:

- Control media and any outlying watchdog groups.
- Create an event through war and/or pandemic. They really liked the combination of the Spanish flu in the middle of WWI.
- Mass sterilization.
- Rise in birth terminations (abortions).
- Universal healthcare, including long wait times and medical complications.
- Mass and widespread shortages of essential foods.
- Rise in pharma, both illegal and legal. Use of drugs and alcohol. Enlist Hollywood to glamorize these things.
- Control fuel. Create demand, but then make prices too high for consumption. Make anything using fossil fuels, especially heating and air conditioning, scarce.
- Create civil unrest, along with a civil movement, to achieve these objectives.
- Remove any opposition by using gradually harsher means.
- Groom society to be accepting of any methods used to do all of the above.

A wealthy man then repeated word for word what one of the large demon princes had whispered to him.

Leader 1: “All hope must be removed. We need to remove all hope in God, churches or anything related.”

Leader 2: “Yes, I agree. People who go to church have children and are more hopeful.”

Leader 3: “If we could keep whole populations locked up, this would certainly help.”

Sub-Dream 2 over.

Me: "Father, this was a disturbing dream. When I woke up from this dream, I immediately came to You in communion. While I shouldn't have needed to fact check my dream, I did so anyway. I am in shock, total shock! Father, the world needs a miracle. Lord, the world needs You more now than ever before."

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "I am here, Erin, and I am with you. Do not worry as I have you. Now, I have given you a great gift. You have experienced this personally. I have exposed the plans of the wicked in advance. What they tell you or what is said as a theory or an idea, so a man thinks within his heart (Proverbs 23:7). The enemy is arrogant. He states his case and then aims to move forward with his plans. This is wicked.

"This has been the case from the beginning and has not changed. Israel is always under threat by her enemies. The idea is to remove all that is good. They want to remove all that is life giving. They want to bring in darkness for his evil purposes apart from God. He has made known his plans and they are to steal, kill and destroy (John 10:10). Well, this is now here!

"At first, it was to destroy the Jewish people. While he succeeded on a small scale, he still has unfinished business. The enemy is also an expert on My Word. He spent a lot of time studying My Word in order to better accuse My followers. He has now implemented standards in society that now make My Word look hateful, constricting, lying, outdated and on and on. The list is long.

"While the enemy knows the times of the end are near, he still believes he will achieve a different outcome than that stated in My Word. However, My Words are truth and no scheme of man devised from the depths of hell will ever take you from My hands. 'Woe to those who devise wickedness and work evil on their beds! When the morning dawns, they perform it, because it is in the power of their hand' (Micah 2:1).

"So, he and his army plot evil day and night and night and day. They desire that all of God's people are destroyed. They desire to kill babies, both born and unborn. They desire to kill the elderly, children, young men and young women. They wish to confuse their thoughts. They wish to destroy what they know as truth and cause them to even change their bodies or kill themselves.

"All of these lives are a sacrifice to 'the god of this world'. I have even allowed warnings to be sent in ways common to man. I have sent warnings through movies, music and culture. I have sent warnings through the churches, the government, the schools and through the news. Erin, the words of the enemy are precursors to their actions. Still, both the world and My people are in great disbelief that this could happen today. Well, it is now here."

Me: "Lord, please stop them. It is sick. Gangs and cartels are coming here to rule over us. While I know that the USA has sinned, this last election just didn't seem legitimate."

Jesus: "The enemy was completing his plans. I disrupted them. Remember that there is a war you cannot see. You must trust Me a little longer. I have a Great Plan."

Me: "Lord, please hurry."

Jesus: "A great day is coming. All of the plans of the wicked will be reversed. Their evil knows no bounds. Erin, their plans are for a massive reduction of the population and very quickly. They are using several methods."

Me: "I noticed that there are many."

Jesus: "Do not be afraid. I am with you. Their plans will not succeed. I am God over all of the Earth. My Word is truth. In the beginning was My Word and all was spoken into existence by My Word. Did I lose My Breath or Word somewhere? In the beginning was the Word and the Word was with God and the Word was God. Who is the Word?"

Me: "You are, Lord, and You certainly have been since our very beginning."

Jesus: "This becomes of note here. Through Me, all things were made. Without Me, nothing was made that has been made. In Me was life and that life was the light of all mankind. My light in you shines in the darkness and the darkness can never extinguish it. This is because My Spirit is in you.

"This is why you are hated by evil: you, your children and your friends because you are not of this world. You are destined for the place I have prepared for you. Now rejoice today, Erin, and do not be discouraged when you see the plans of the wicked on display. This is only temporary. I see it. I love you. Please remember all the good that I have done. I am the way, the truth and the life. I am here with you."

Me: "I love You, Lord. Please come soon. We are discouraged by the news of the world."

Jesus: "Then focus on the Good News of Heaven instead. This is My truth. There is Good News here today. Rejoice as the hour is late. I am here. Remember, many are the plans of the wicked against the good. However, I know all of their plans. Be encouraged that I know them and that I am here with you."

Dream over.

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day! Thank You for all that You do. Thank You for a safe place to live. Thank You for food to eat. Thank You for transportation. Thank You for Your love. Thank You for my family. Thank You, Father, for signs and wonders of Your confirming love. Thank You for dear friends who have come and gone over the years.

Speaking of signs and dear friends, thank You also for our dear Nest friend, Rebecca! I am so thankful that she is Home there with You. We just miss her here right now. While we haven't seen butterflies this year, we saw a white one on the morning she went Home. It seemed so early for this to happen, but when I found out about Rebecca's passing, it felt like it was a direct sign from You.

It has been very hot here the last few days. During this 'mini-heatwave', all of the leaves on the trees have blossomed supernaturally. The landscape has gone from brown to bright green in just a few days. It has been stunning to witness. Even though we are not completely finished dealing with our flood, we now have to also include the business of dealing with the heat. We will do all that we can to cool the house down.

Recently, Lord, I have been pressing into You for answers on the secret agendas being forged in the shadows. The wicked are trying to make permanent changes against the people of the Earth. I was particularly bothered by what had happened in China over the new lockdowns. It was horrifying to hear their screams and wailings as they began to starve. This was in Shanghai and was recorded on April 11, 2022.

Shanghai was locked down after 22,000 cases of Covid-19 were discovered. Then also in China on May 7, 2022, the skies turned a blood red. This same event happened in 1770 and reportedly lasted for nine days.

There are no reports of how long this new case has lasted. However, this all seems like a clear sign from You that troubles are coming.

Me: "Father, You spoke to me a few days ago when I was bothered about the baby formula shortages. I was also bothered by the judges being protested against due to the controversy over Roe vs Wade. Help us to understand all of this, Lord."

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "First of all, I am God over all things. I see. Remember that I am the God who sees. You have only to now see the visible manifestation of evil on display against the righteous to know and understand the lateness of the hour. You must first understand that there is a great war in the heavens between the army of God and the princes over the territories and their strongholds.

A wicked ruler has no care for their people, only the advancement of his agenda. This is his only focus. You have only to take a lesson from the history of the kings of Israel to see what has happened, is happening and will happen again.

"While the soon coming 'king over the nations' (the Black Dragon) has not fully come into power as this is not his appointed time, he has still mobilized by proxy against all that is holy, righteous and good. These weapons formed are to provoke God into action. While the enemy has his plans, always remember that God is even greater and so are His plans. Erin, you serve a sovereign God."

Me: "Lord, the world is plunging quickly into darkness. The fall we are witnessing is happening so incredibly fast. It is so disturbing to watch."

Jesus: "Erin, I have explained to you that the hearts of the people needed to be ready for a Savior. I know the perfect timing for this. Now, picture grapes on the vine. If picked too early, they are sour to the taste. If picked too late, they are rotten to the core. This is why the Prudent Vineyard Owner walks His vineyards when nearing the Harvest. He does this daily and samples the grapes to check for their readiness. He then removes the grapes from the vines at the perfect time."

Me: "Oh Lord, please don't wait too long. The enemy is striking out against the nation. They are trying to put laws into place that would make it legal to kill a baby up to birth and even after. While this was voted down for now, this will not stop them. We are now dealing with shortages in baby formula. This is horrifying. People can't even feed their babies right now.

"While the war in Ukraine is currently a proxy war, the USA and NATO are messing with a nuclear armed Russia who is threatening to use nuclear weapons in full force. Gas is at an all time high. The government recently closed down several oil & gas leases in our country, thereby decreasing oil production at the worst time. Then there are warnings of rolling blackouts on the electric grid. Electric cars will be useless without anything to power them. The list is really long here.

"Then on top of all of this, the nations, including the USA, are about to grant lockdown powers to the World Health Organization (WHO). The WHO is to rule over the nations. There are now the very few at the very top who are controlling all of the money and the power. A repeat lockdown of the world would be devastating, both mentally and economically. Lord, Your churches are closing. The list goes on and on. The wars are here, but just not in the form most expect."

Jesus: "Again, let us review the Appointed Time. What does the Appointed Time mean? I will help you. It is the time that God keeps. The grapes are ready at the Appointed Time as determined by the Vineyard Owner. The Owner checks the worthiness of the fruit. God is in control. You have My Word on this. My goal is to harvest hearts.

"While you are a worker, I have also placed you over an area of vineyards. Your job will be to do as I call you. A great calamity is coming. This will be a shaking unlike anything that the world has ever seen. The war has begun, Erin. It is over you and the effects are all around you. The goal of the enemy is to provoke God by harming all that is good and holy:

- Babies
- Children
- The unborn
- Baby animals
- Farming... all that is grown of the Earth... wheat and corn
- Prosperity
- Health
- Long life... the elderly and the retired
- Hope and all of the positive fruits of the spirit
- Family... husband, wife and their children

- Laws
- Justice
- Peace
- Safety
- Joy and happiness
- My Church
- Equality under God for all of His children
- Love
- Respect and honor for parents

“The enemy goes against all that is God’s, all that is holy. His desire is death for all. His goal is 6 billion dead. This is scary to you as the enemy is bound by no man. There are many ways he can kill a massive amount of people. He has help on his mission.”

Me: “Lord, please hurry as this is horrible to witness. People will begin to wonder if You are truly with us or not.”

Jesus: “Oh, I am. I am here. Erin, the time is near. Now, let us focus on some lovely things just for a moment. You had a question for Me.”

Me: “Well, Lord, it is such a silly question. Are You sure You want me to ask this?”

Jesus: “A question asked with a loving heart is not a silly question. Continue...”

Me: “I was discussing stuffed animals with my husband and older son and I couldn’t help but think back to my own childhood. I had a doll that I really loved. Then one day it disappeared. My kids had stuffed animals, as do so many children. There just seems to be something about this, something that I can’t quite explain.”

Jesus: “Let’s start off by talking about babies. Babies originate with God in Heaven. The Spirit goes to the womb of the mother at the Appointed Time. I knit, create and shape the physical being in the natural. I do this in the womb for 40 weeks. For 40 weeks, I create a great work.”

Note: God obviously knows that human birth cycles fluctuate around 40 weeks and is not always 40 weeks (indeed, it usually isn’t exactly 40 weeks). There are premature births and other lengths. 40 weeks is, quite simply, the expected average time from start to finish of the human birth cycle.

Me: "The number 40 seems to be significant to You, Lord. Why is this?"

Jesus: "The number 40 is a period of connection with the things of God. This is the case whether you are referring to 40 days, 40 weeks, 40 months or 40 years. However, it is not just about the number 40, Erin, it is about the Appointed Time. With 40 weeks, we are discussing the creation of a baby from conception to birth. If this happens sooner, there are complications. If this happens later, there are also complications."

Me: "Yes, Lord."

Jesus: "When the baby is born, he or she is completely dependent on their mother for nourishment and comfort. While a father provides this too, he does not do this as much as a mother, particularly at the start. At some point, the baby then looks for something to substitute for the mother when she is not available. This is when little ones become attached to objects. Some do this more than others."

Me: "My daughter still has her stuffed giraffe. She has had this since she was very little. When she was little, I could hear her talking to it on occasion. Is this normal?"

Jesus: "Erin, it is often the angels over them, those nearby, who comfort them through these 'toys'."

Me: "I asked You once if You could give my children the live version of these once we were in Heaven."

Jesus: "You did. And what did I say in return?"

Me: "You asked me a question and I thought 'God, You are so brilliant.' You asked 'What if these were once alive in Heaven and they came to your child on Earth? When you return here one day, would they not want to see them here again in Heaven?' These two questions brought me such joy!"

Jesus: "Is this not possible with God? Would this not be a simple thing for Me?"

Me: "Lord, if I write this down, it will be controversial."

Jesus: "Why? Who around you have not had a childhood soother? The child learns at an early age to love without conditions. They can hold an object which won't harm them and is there day and night. Perhaps I have designed this that way.

"Now, I don't condone unhealthy attachments. The idea is that I am God over all things. There is always a danger with attachments to the inanimate objects to grow into the worship of other gods. However, childhood stuffed animals rarely turn into their gods once they grow up to know better.”

Me: “Are these stuffed animals real beings?”

Jesus: “No. There is an angel from Heaven there as these are in Heaven as they are on Earth. The Spirit has originated from Heaven, so I send comfort to the children unconditionally, surrounding them. While this is difficult to understand now, all of this will make sense one day. As for the baby animal garden here in Heaven, it is a healing place with laughter and joy.”

Me: “I see. So, it is the complete opposite of a voodoo doll or other cursed object.”

Jesus: “While this is a similar concept, these are evil and a playground for demons. Again, the enemy took something good of Heaven and turned it for darkness. While the list of his evil endeavors is long, this is coming to a close very soon.”

Me: “My dreams have been very dark recently. Lord, please protect us.”

Jesus: “I have you. Do not worry. I love you. You are loved.”

Further details on Earthly Toys and Stuffed Animals: After this dream, I went to the Lord to ask for further details on earthly toys and stuffed animals. There is quite a bit to this. These stuffed animals can have Heavenly origins and individual personalities. However, they are real, not stuffed, in Heaven. We somehow have a familiarity with these ‘stuffed’ animals prior to being born. I have seen my stuffed rabbit up there in one of my sub-dreams and it was adorable (it wasn’t stuffed in Heaven though).

How this works and the timing of it is a mystery. Is it while we are in the womb or before? Again, a mystery. What is fun about this is that these ‘non-stuffed’ stuffed animals will be part of the group waiting for us in Heaven. Still, these ‘stuffed’ animals do not have souls on Earth. The angels will sometimes imitate them to amuse us here on Earth though. Just to comfort you if this applies, if you have mangled an old stuffed animal, don’t feel bad about it... they are simply inanimate objects while on Earth.

Dream over.

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day here! Thank You for Your love and the beauty of Spring with the promises of Summer. Thank You for bringing Spring as this Winter was harsh and ended with a flood. The heatwave has subsided today. The cool air and cloud cover has dipped the outside temperature by 30F. A welcome relief.

My daughter returns home in about three weeks. I haven't seen her since September. She left our home in July though. What she had hoped to find at the Christian University is non-existent. While she was looking for people on fire for the Lord and strong in their faith, she found the opposite. While youths called themselves Christians, they accepted sin as natural. In essence, they were loose with God's Commandments.

The Lord told me that my daughter would be gone for a time and that she would return by her own free will. I kept this to myself though as I did not want to manipulate her return in anyway. It was my job to stay out of God's Way so that His plan could play out in perfection. I am relieved that she is about to come back, especially given what I have seen coming to our nation.

My plan, according to Erin, is to wipe out the wicked. This is why we have God as our Judge. Only He is worthy of this task when it comes to our Eternal Destinations. That being said, I am just so excited for the Lord to finally move. Our nation has been given over to a group of hostiles and they are destroying the country from within. Trump was making the USA way too strong and this simply could not be allowed to continue.

The Lord has shown me that more illnesses are coming. Bioweapons worse than Covid-19 have already been created. While the Lord has sent visual warnings to the Red Dragon's leaders to stop this (example, the eerie red skies), they continue on their evil ways. There is now enough Fentanyl to kill all of the citizens of the USA. The Lord has shown me everything from poisoning our food supplies and water to the fertilizers used in growing crops.

I had a couple of interesting dreams last night, one long and one short.

Sub-Dream 1 "A prayer for help in Washington DC" begins...

I was in Jerusalem. A man sat at The Wall in Jerusalem. He was lamenting and wailing over the enemies of Israel. While he appeared as a man, he wasn't an angel. He was like Enoch or Elijah. He cried out and testified to Israel's sins. He was shouting to anyone who would listen...

Man 1: "Be warned, people of Israel, for great troubles are soon to come to this nation. Though you are a small nation, you are still God's possession. Beware!"

I was then taken to Washington DC. I then saw a similar older looking man in front of the nation's capital in the USA. As he spoke, I could see different institutions in the USA, all in The Mall in Washington DC, broke, cracked and crumbling. They appeared to have been destroyed by war or a bomb. I am not sure. I could see pillars of smoke. The man spoke in an authoritative tone...

Man 2: "Washington... once so full of people... is now deserted. She who was once great among the nations now sits alone like a widow deserted. Once the queen of all the Earth, she is now a slave. She sobs through the night. Tears stream down her cheeks. Among all her lovers, there is no one left to comfort her. All her friends have betrayed her and have become her enemies."

I approached the man to speak with him.

Me: "Who are you?"

Man 2: "Do you not know?"

Me: "No."

Man 2: "I have been sent to testify to the fall of the wicked land. I mourn for the sins of the people."

Me: "But there is no one around to hear what you have to say."

Man 2: "I have not been sent as a prophet. I am to testify to her many sins before God. As God is fair in all He does, He will judge the land fairly. He will judge the land according to its works."

Me: "It looks like the judgments have already been rendered. Where are the people? There are no bodies."

Man 2: "This is uninhabitable for man. Once the judgments are rendered and all arguments on behalf of her are completed and have been stated, God will then remove all the sin by fire."

Me: "Then I will state a case on behalf of the nations to God and present a just argument."

Man 2: "Since I am finished my arguments, please state your case. However, take a look at what you are arguing for first..."

The Lord showed me that the children, animals, birds and livestock were now gone. While no one is entitled to God's mercy, His mercies are new every morning. Great is His faithfulness. I sat quietly and prayed for six hours. I knew I had to pray with great fervency. This was important...

My prayer to the Lord on the USA's behalf: "Father, please turn from Your wrath. Those who turned to You in this late hour believed the lies of wicked leaders. Never in history has a time and times been like these where lies replaced truth. These are meant to confuse. The enemy changed what could be seen of truth in order to deceive. Justice was twisted and actors were paid. The people were deceived.

"Father, You send both the good things and the troubles. You are over all things. While I can't make a case to overlook the sins of a man without punishment, I can make a case based on Your promises. The sweetest wine is from that vine that grows fruit under the harshest of conditions. Father, I was far from You. I sinned to no end. I rejected You publicly. I ran after idols and other gods. I inquired of the dead on behalf of the living. I denied nothing my eyes desired.

"Despite this, You still found me. You called me. You showed Your love to me... the one no one wanted. You proclaimed that I was Yours. I then dropped all I was doing and ran after You. You changed me. The sweetest wine, Your late grape, has yet to be made for the supper. Since it has now been trampled underfoot, is it not ready for harvest? Since it has already been pressed, is the juice not now made ready?"

I went back over to the man. He greeted me.

Man 2: "The Lord has heard your case. It is good. Tell them to turn from their wickedness and He will heal them."

Me: "What about Israel?"

Man 2: "The Lord Himself will appear and redeem them."

Me: "Is this time a much later time?"

Man 2: "Yes, or you would be unable to stand on your own under this. However, you are separated for His purposes. Now, I am going to give you this as a warning and sign from the Lord in Heaven to the nations..."

Man 2's Warning to all who will listen: "Turn to Me now while there is still time. Give Me your hearts. Come with fasting, weeping and mourning. Do not tear your garments in grief. Tear your hearts instead. Return to the Lord, your God, for He is merciful, compassionate, slow to anger and filled with unfailing love.

"He is eager to relent and not punish. Who knows... He might even turn and grant you a gift... a reprieve from your troubles... perhaps sending blessings instead of a curse. Now go and do what the Lord has called you to do."

He disappeared. I turned and the area was completely healed and restored.

Sub-Dream 1 over.

Sub-Dream 2 "Two Unusual and Beautiful Birds" begins...

Two birds had made a home in the house. One was dark blue with iridescent feathers and rainbows on its wings. The other was red with blue and white on its head. I had never seen anything like this. No birds on Earth looks like these. Each of them was about six inches in length.

Sub-Dream 2 over.

Me: "Oh Lord, please help us! Lord, we need You more than ever!"

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "The warning from this dream is good. I give chances to all who hear. However, not all turn and are saved. Now, you have asked Me what time is a good time according to God. Well, two nations have risen with evil intentions (China and Russia). I have sent signs to both. I do not reward evil. The day of the Lord is near. The enemy will be unable to advance against the Kingdom of Heaven.

"See, this is the day you have been looking for.. the outpouring of My Spirit upon all people. Your sons and daughters will prophesy. Your enemies' tongues will confess and prophesy also. Old men and women will be given visions. I will pour out My Spirit even on servants, both on men and women alike. There will be a great outpouring of My Spirit through My Vessels, those I have prepared.

“Through these will be great healing and justice. I will cause wonders in the heavens and on Earth. There will be blood and fire and columns of smoke. The sun will become dark and the moon will turn blood red before the great and terrible day I have appointed arrives. Everyone who calls upon My Name will be saved. For some on Mount Zion in Jerusalem, they will escape just as I have said. These will be among the survivors the Lord has called.”

Me: “Lord, You are wonderful and mysterious. Please do all You have said. Please do this before another plague comes.”

Jesus: “Remember that I see all things. Those who have died by the hand of the enemy plead in the Courts of Heaven both day and night. There is no end to the wicked schemes of the enemy.

“Now, there will be a day when I will send plagues against the wicked. I know the evil they have planned in advance. They are soon to send out a wave meant to kill millions. However, you are not to worry as you will not be harmed. The plague will fall back on them instead. Now rejoice, Erin, as I am with you. I love you.”

Dream over.

608 – Even Worse than Sodom and Gomorrah

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day! Thank You for our salvation. There are a million incredible things about You, so many we simply can't fathom all of it. You are so intricate and detailed even in the midst of chaos and disaster. You work all things together for the good of all who love You. Even though I struggle with questions on some days, I understand that what I ask of You requires careful thought.

This is because I only have a small portion of a much larger picture. While in my world, I am a 'big deal' because my household depends on me, I am really small in terms of Your Great Plans. I am even considered small when in a Walmart parking lot. All I know is that I am thankful to You every day. I am grateful for every day extra that You give me. I simply do not want to miss a moment that You create for me.

- Father, blessed are You for creating us.
- Blessed are You for sending Your Son to redeem us.
- Blessed are You for Your loving kindness.
- Blessed are You for Your patience when people profane Your Name and say horrible things about You.
- Blessed are You who loves us and remains true to Your plans and promises for us when we are oblivious to the magnitude of the amazing works of Your hands.
- Blessed are You for being our loving Father.
- Blessed are You for keeping not only the times and seasons, but also the hairs on our heads.
- Blessed are You who does not have the word 'impossible' on Your lips.
- Blessed are You who delights not in calamities, but instead creates a peaceful way for us.

Lord, I am so blessed to be Your child, Your daughter and Your friend. Who are my children and our house to deserve such love and consideration from You daily? You bless us through our trials and carry us through tumultuous waters. Thank You, Lord!

I am indifferent about social media. What was once a great place to stay in touch with family, old friends and lost loved ones has become the devil's playground. While I have a Facebook account and a Twitter account, I do not post or do anything on them. I only read posts occasionally and pray privately. I feel that these outlets can do a lot to make us feel bad about ourselves. Only the picture-perfect life is painted on these sites.

Me: "I have a question about my sub-dream posted yesterday. Was that Enoch or Elijah? I believe this is possible, but why would they be separated?"

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "I am here. I am with you. Thank you for your blessings and praises. These made My heart glad. Now, your dream. The dream had two nations represented. One was Israel and the other, the new nation, was like Israel... a 'new Israel'. One is East and one is West. One is waiting on the Messiah and the other is creating a new version of the Messiah.

"Now, understand that God formed the Earth and all that is in it, around it, above it and below it. One nation kept God, but rejected the Savior who was sent... Me. Even today, the words of the prophets are removed to hide the truth from the people. Entire sections are removed. As My Words were partitioned off and veiled, so too has been the Temple Mount.

"The Wall represents what stands between the truth and falsehoods. See, when God has declared that something is His and should be kept holy and not given over to another, this declaration should be followed. I am jealous for My people. The divide of hearts to serve other gods angers Me. How many times was it stated that, even though Israel is unfaithful to Me, I would still redeem them?

"Even though I was rejected and persecuted, I still had a great plan of redemption. However, they will not recognize Me and My works until I take My seat there in My Temple. Prior to this, My Witnesses will testify night and day to her many indiscretions. Who will give an opposing argument then when the revelation of truth comes, the veil is torn in two and the Wall tumbles to the ground?

"Now, you are referring to the New World Land. This was a land that was created for those persecuted for their faith. They were driven away from their places of punishing leaders. The land consisted of scattered peoples and wanderers from tribes. However, much of their stories have been removed. This land was and always has been Mine. My Remnant is in these lands.

"These were dedicated to God as a nation under God. The new land was a blessed land. That is, until evil practices came. If you look at a map and the names of all the cities and towns, the mountains, rivers and even valleys, all of these are based on Holy Names of God or those that are like Israel. How could this be unless God had called them to do this?

"If God had not been a part of this, each of these would be named after the discoverer. Over the years, man became more evil, corrupt and greedy. Man moved apart from God. God then sent calamities upon the lands to humble the people. Each time, the people came back and repented from their wickedness. I then forgave them. No nation other than the nation of Israel has been as blessed as this one.

"God prospered it and expanded its power and wealth. It became the envy of nations. As for the nation of Israel, its people were brought back from the brink of annihilation. As for the USA, the enemy now had a new favorite target. He knew his evil against both Israel (a type of 'New Judah') and the USA (a type of 'New Israel') would be as a strike against God Himself."

Me: "Why was this allowed?"

Jesus: "This was the result of sin. However, the events began much earlier. Remember that evil begins its rise from a proposal or idea. It is the same as the analogy of a pregnancy. It starts off tiny and then it grows. It is formed and developed and then eventually birthed. As for this, it is according to the enemy using man by proxy against God and all that is holy.

"God is sovereign and over all things from the beginning. God knows the times and seasons for everything under Heaven. This is speaking only of the decline in rapid succession and where it originated. This is not where the recorded birth of this occurred, but instead the events that led to these. There were many.

"God sends natural calamities and allows manmade downturns. This is all for the sake of humbling the hearts of God's children back toward the heart of the Father. These things are allowed by God to save the lost from spiritual death. This is so that they will be 'harvested away' from the enemy and back to Me as God their Savior, understand?"

Me: "I see. So, what You are saying is that the actual turning point wasn't in the 1940s, but more like 30 years prior. This was the beginning of abortion clinics, World War 1, the Balfour Agreement, the spread of homosexuality and so on. This was all in the early 1900s. This was also a period of great calamity, including the Spanish Flue, earthquakes, floods, famines and so on."

Jesus: "This was the beginning of the late hour. This is when all was accelerated."

Me: "Oh Lord, this is so sad."

Jesus: "Many are the blasphemies against God in the New World. Charges have therefore been declared against it. So too has it been in Israel. However, I am the I AM. I am over all things. My promises therefore are true. You might not have gained the world as you see it in this life, but you gained the heart of your Savior."

Me: "I love You, Lord."

Jesus: "Now, do not be concerned about this or that in history as a pattern for now. The circumstances, though similar, are far different. While evil has increased, so too has the presence of the Army of God increased. I have declared a new thing and the enemy will be unable to come against it.

"Do not worry as I have a Great Plan. I come to you often to assure you, when you see the increase in evil, that I see all of it. When I give birth to My Plan through you, the world will be in shock and horror. For now, you are hidden as arrows in My quiver until the day you are taken out for My purposes."

Me: "You are right, Lord. These last few years seem far worse than ever in history."

Jesus: "While you cannot know this as you don't see the majority of it, I can tell you that these modern times you are in are even worse than Sodom and Gomorrah. Be at peace though. I am with you. Do not worry. I am over all things. I love you."

Dream over.

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day! Father, You are God over the nations, all the Earth and the Heavens surrounding this. You are also God over all of the realms we are unable to see. You are over all things and nothing is above You. All that exists is subject to You.

Father, in just a few days, as early as Sunday, May 22, 2022 (tomorrow), the world will give authority to the World Health Organization to manage their internal affairs when the next pandemic, as they define it, hits. This now authoritative body can then plunge the whole world into deep trouble with a stroke of a pen. This could result in troubles like the world has never seen before.

Father, we have sinned. We have left our first love, You, and are like youths who had the 'good life' under their parents. Even though they were strict, all was provided for us. Their children had plenty and never lacked love. They worked, paid their taxes, went to church and believed in God. They believed in freedom, liberty, equality and justice.

Still, here we are... rebellious children turning away from our Perfect Father. Oh Father, this great rise in rebellion is due to a lack of a heart towards You. A life without You is a horribly empty life. It is a life full of hate and bitterness. Without You, we are unable to put out the wildfires that this spark from the embers of hatred has started.

To this group of global leaders meeting on Sunday, all is going according to their great plans. Their agenda is accelerating. All great nations needed to be taken down. All threats to the great cause had to be removed. All nations that sign their treaties in the next few days will be plunged into great darkness.

Seriously, if I had written all that is occurring right now just seven years ago, it would have been rejected as too ridiculous a plot. Well, we are now here. The main tool the enemy uses is to deflect by accusing you of the very things they are doing. If they can control the story, the visual optics and the law enforcement, there is nothing we are able to do to fight against it. Apart from God, we are already doomed.

The machine tilling up the world is very large. It operated in the dark of night over the years. Now though, it is right there in front of our eyes. It now visibly moves and destroys all that was good and peaceful. Make no mistake... we are at war right now. The real war truly started accelerating in December 2012 when the Lord granted the enemy permission. Without God, no one can stop this terrible machine.

Me: "Father, please stop this. Not all of Your people have left Your house. Millions... perhaps even billions... still remain. Oh Lord, please help us. HELP!!"

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "Erin, I am here. I am with you. Do not be afraid. I am with My people. Greater am I in you than he who is in the world. In mass scale, the nations have been overtaken by one group. This is a governing body who thinks themselves higher and more sovereign than the people. They are under the false pretense that what they are doing is for the urgent good of the world.

"However, they are under a great veil. They removed God, their Creator, and inserted themselves under one body and one authority over your body. This was supposed to take 30 to 50 years to gradually occur. However, they created a world-wide panic (Covid-19) and then enjoyed their new found control too much. They then determined that there was a great need to accelerate these concepts into actions.

"They wanted to do all of this before the people could find out. They then decided to overthrow governments. They wanted to overthrow anything that was standing in the way of their agenda. They decided to begin this with a great migration into Europe to dishearten the people and their good will. They wanted to eventually change the religious landscape.

"The peaceful nations were invaded with people who hate them, their religion, their laws and their morals. This succeeded in bringing down their morale and replacing it with fear. To enhance this, they brought in lawyers, judges and government officials to favor the foreigners. They were bought to look the other way against the rights of the people.

"Enjoying the effects, they then decided to strike out against any opposition, labeling them as racists. Realizing the model was a good one, they used the same tactics against the USA and Canada. Mass immigration was adopted to accommodate foreigners over the citizens. When this was not as successful, they decided they needed to take control of the most powerful nation (USA).

"They had to remove the opposition leader and take control of the government. The pandemic plague created a great opportunity to change the outcome and remove the people's choice and insert one who would achieve their agenda. The enemy (the leader of the Black Dragon) even stated that he could do this by proxy (via Biden), operating in the shadows. They then took control over all branches except one... the Courts.

"Since their agenda has not been popular, they decided to pull out all the stops in order to gain complete control as soon as possible. They did this in steps...

- First by lies meant to hide their actions.
- Second by omission to further hide major decisions from the people.
- Third by destroying all fossil fuels.
- Fourth by opening the southern border to all invaders, allowing the influx of drugs and human smuggling.
- Fifth by increasing infant death laws for the unborn even to birth, removing baby formula and encouraging same sex relationships.
- Sixth by creating hate speech against God and the Word of God.
- Seventh by removing meat completely.
- Eighth by forcing mandates of all kinds and vaccines that allow freedom based on compliance.
- Ninth by controlling healthcare and medicines.
- Tenth by legalizing drugs and helping young people to overdose.
- Eleventh by controlling all aspects of your life.
- Twelfth by indoctrinating and weaponizing children at a very early age.

Me: "Lord, the world is in great trouble. Please help us, Father. Oh Lord, please help!"

Jesus: "Erin, I have a great plan."

Me: "Lord, I never thought I would see the USA fall so far and so fast. We are seeing an invasion right before our very eyes. People are oblivious to the war that is being waged against them. Please have mercy. Lord, please save us! The plunge is happening and it is scary."

Jesus: "Remember that this is not about comfort, it is about souls."

Me: "But You are being so quiet. No one knows that the angels above are fighting the princes over the regions. No one knows that this treaty being signed on Sunday will put their nations in chains. They are ushering in the New World Order without us knowing. Lord, the people are in the dark."

Jesus: "Erin, in the beginning, man consulted God. The great separation then occurred. Then came prophets, those who spent time communicating God's Will. The people then cried out for counselors or judges to rule over them. For centuries, judges ruled over the people. A prophet or a judge as chosen by God is raised up during a crisis. These prophets and judges had lives apart from these appointments.

"These were times of great relationship and trust in God. Despite this, the people instead cried out for a king, a ruler, over them. They wanted someone to do this full time, not just when the need arose. This was a turning point between man and God. Instead of placing their trust in Me, they demanded a visible king. They wanted a man to place all of their trust in. They trusted him to do the right thing for the people.

"They didn't like the former ways, so this was their solution... for good or for evil, the king was to rule. A king also judges. A king makes laws and the people follow in blind trust. While they should have put their hearts and their faith in God in all things, they instead put all of this into a man. The people rejected God. They rejected Me. They still do today. The people were given warnings, but they would not hear of it.

"There was fighting amongst the 12 Tribes. Morale declined. They were surrounded by foreigners and, eventually, they worshiped their gods using their rituals and practices. During the subsequent rule of kings, only a handful of these kings were righteous. The rest were evil. God then sent a Savior, Me, after the land was taken over by foreign invaders. King Herod, and then his son, made many bad decisions based on fear."

Me: "I thought there was only one Herod."

Jesus: "No. Kings raise up their sons as heirs. Now, you must understand that a Savior came to save. I had relationships with the people and walked amongst them. I displayed many signs and wonders. I did not come to abolish the law or throw down the governments. I came to fulfill the prophecies and establish My Kingdom.

"Remember that I was given the keys to life and death. Through Me, grace and mercy were extended to the lost. They were found by Me. No country or its people could be overcome when God was King over them.

When God was King, no foreign invaders could come against their borders or citadels.

“The nation of Rome was then allowed to fall after they destroyed the Temple. No one comes against God unless God has allowed this to establish His purposes through troubles. The people were driven away from the land, the Promised Land that God had given them, the land God loves.”

Me: “But, Lord, it took 2000 years until now?”

Jesus: “Well, yes. I developed a new nation. While I did not forget Israel, I created a new thing, a mystery. This land was to be a place for those who had been persecuted, a place for those who had cried out to God for help. I heard their cries and I rescued them. I called them as sojourners to the lands I had prepared for them in advance. Many who were in exile gathered here. They did not desire a king. They instead desired a governing assembly who acted as fair judges.

“They wanted God-fearing men who loved the Lord to rule by majority. They established a contract in the new nation. They then set up courts and laws to govern the people. It took 400 years to build up this blessed land (which is roughly the same amount of time as the time from the ancient Exodus to the beginning of King Saul’s reign). Now, the governing reign continued for 360 years, while the last 40 years has been spent in the wilderness looking for the Promised Land.”

Me: “Lord, I don’t understand. Israel is now a nation. The people have been gathered and are still gathering. What 40 years are You referring to?”

Jesus: “This is the time God takes to prepare the people’s hearts to look to the promise of Heaven. I prepared a beautiful place for all those who come to Me and accept that I am their King.”

Me: “Oh Lord, I can’t imagine 40 years of such an extreme plunge. This is so painful. It is hard to see our once trusted government turn against You and us.”

Jesus: “Erin, you are a living testimony to My divine protection and provision. This is the time period of government or a ruler and his governing appointed leaders. Corruption has come. It has spread throughout the nations and is about to become much worse. This is a punishing rod and stone over the people.”

Me: “Lord, I was 10 years old when Roe v Wade was passed on January 22, 1973 legalizing abortion everywhere. Almost 40 years later, in December 2012, You granted permission for the enemy to rise against the nation. It was almost 40 years from the time Roe was signed to December 2012. It has now been almost 10 years since the time of permission. We are now in the 50th year of Roe. What is happening?"

Jesus: "40 years is the time of testing of the people. This is the time of trials in which people are to turn away from their wickedness. This is the time to turn away from their course of sin and walk with God. It is the time of unloading burdens and turning back. It is the time of testing and changes. Harbinger warnings and signs came. Still, the people, the children, did not come back to the heart of the Father.

"I sent prophets with dreams. I even sent visions to small children of the place I have prepared for them. There is a Promised Land waiting for you in Heaven, Erin. There is eternal life in this place that I have prepared for My people."

Me: "So, what has this last nine plus years been about, Lord?"

Jesus: "The times of preparation for the remnant of God. I am preparing My harvest workers. They are being stirred and called for the business of the Father."

Me: "Lord, my heart is grieving for all that is to come. I am both excited and in fear. I must admit that my heart is quite anxious."

Jesus: "I have prepared you, Erin. Place all of your trust in Me and I will call you in the ways you should go. I see. I am with you."

Me: "So, this last ten years have been to prepare the remnant."

Jesus: "This was not just for the remnant. Understand that the great rise in evil was allowed by God. Many still do not see. Great wrath and suffering are on full display. The nations have practiced whoredom. They have sacrificed their children on the altars of foreign gods. While I am grieved over this, I am also not surprised."

Me: "Lord, You grieve?"

Jesus: "Oh Erin, how do you feel when your children have been wronged, harmed or lied about? How does it feel when they go their own way despite you warning them? It is difficult to be a parent over a wayward child. What about when the child is innocent and is wronged? All this has been allowed. Although painful, this has been allowed so that hearts would turn back to each other as they were meant to be."

Me: "Oh Lord, You are so patient. While most don't realize this, You could wipe us off the face of the Earth right now and with only a single word. This is mercy that You don't do this. Many of us are so grateful to You."

Jesus: "While there will be gnashing of teeth, many will turn back. Remember that I see all things. I am with you in all things. Now, two events are coming. I will shake the nations. All will know that I am God."

Me: "Lord, please hurry. Do not delay!"

Jesus: "Erin, all you see is Mine. I am about to do something in your days you would not believe even if you were told. Now rejoice, Erin, as I am gathering My Remnant, the Harvest Workers. The vineyards are ripening. Rejoice!"

Dream over.

610 – Truth is now labeled as Disinformation

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day! Father, You are wonderful, beautiful and strong. I am in awe at Your wonders, Your power and Your creativity. Nothing comes close to You, Father. You are God over the Earth, the land, the sea, the sky and the heavenlies. You are God over the micro-worlds we cannot see and the macro-worlds in the night sky. You are wonderful, marvelous and glorious.

No scheme of man can keep You from us. No plots of hell will prevail against You. No princes, principalities or powers are greater than the armies of God. You are over it all, Father. When I am faced with a bombardment of lies, there is one thing I can rest and be confident in... that Your love never fails and that Your promises are true. I should therefore not fear what comes as You are God over all things.

John 1:1-5: "In the beginning was the Word, and the Word was with God and the Word was God. He was with God in the beginning. Through Him all things were made; without Him nothing was made. In Him was life, and life was the light of all mankind. The Light shines in the darkness, and the darkness has not overcome it."

A great war of lies and the omission of truth has come across the Earth. Lies can be used to strike down an enemy without firing a single shot from a gun. Slander, false testimony and blatant lies can cut down an entire population. Demoralization, shame and humiliation also destroys. All of these, if practiced regularly and allowed by elected officials, can make it so that no country can survive.

God's truth is our only firm foundation. God's Word does not fail. God remains true to His Word. This is the only foundation we should be standing on. We are the children of God. He is the light in the darkness. His light shines through us. Jesus is truth. He tells us the truth. He never lies. While God never lies, evil always lies. It is important to stay truthful. It is important to obey the Sabbath Rest.

Hebrew 4:12: "For the Word of God is alive and active, sharper than any double-edged sword, it penetrates even to dividing soul and spirit, joints and marrow; it judges the thoughts and attitudes of the heart!"

Hebrews 3:7-19: "Therefore, as the Holy Spirit says, "Today, if you hear his voice, do not harden your hearts as in the rebellion, on the day of testing in the wilderness, where your fathers put me to the test and saw my works for forty years.

"Therefore I was provoked with that generation, and said, 'They always go astray in their heart; they have not known my ways.' As I swore in my wrath, 'They shall not enter my rest.'" Take care, brothers, lest there be in any of you an evil, unbelieving heart, leading you to fall away from the living God. But exhort one another every day, as long as it is called "today," that none of you may be hardened by the deceitfulness of sin.

"For we have come to share in Christ, if indeed we hold our original confidence firm to the end. As it is said, "Today, if you hear his voice, do not harden your hearts as in the rebellion." For who were those who heard and yet rebelled? Was it not all those who left Egypt led by Moses? And with whom was he provoked for forty years? Was it not with those who sinned, whose bodies fell in the wilderness? And to whom did he swear that they would not enter his rest, but to those who were disobedient? So we see that they were unable to enter because of unbelief."

In this season, the Lord has had us take the Sabbath day seriously. This means truly resting in Him as He works on our bodies to renew them and strengthen them for another six days of living, working and chores. So, with the Lord, it is better to obey Him than to sacrifice (1 Samuel 15:22). Rebellion is to go our own way, not God's.

When it comes to the Sabbath, it is worthwhile to read Hebrews 4:1-11. Now think of this (mostly based on Mark 2:27): It has taken all these years to finally rest on the 7th day. He created the day of rest for man, not man for the Sabbath. So, the Son of Man is Lord, even on the Sabbath.

We received a severe thunderstorm warning last night. We then prepared quickly by securing any potential projectiles. Just as we got back inside, the lightning lit up the sky and the thunder cracked. The storm then came. It was funny timing as my husband and I were watching a show on severe weather.

In this show, we watched various stories of sudden calamity. The people filming went from normal to panic. There was then great shock and disbelief at the damage. Severe damage can happen quickly when faced with earthquakes, mudslides, flashfloods, dust storms and tornadoes.

We watched an account of a father and his teenage daughter at home on a quiet Sunday morning. They received the warning and then began to film a distant Tornado. They then suddenly realized that it was coming directly towards them. They rushed into their storm cellar in the basement. You could then hear the storm hitting them. They screamed for about 30 seconds as it hit their house and then eerie silence.

When they came out of their shelter, they realized that their entire home had just been destroyed. Their neighbor's homes were also completely gone. Nothing remained. People went from daily living to complete terror, shock and devastation. This show was a great reminder of the power of God. In all these instances, man was at the mercy of God, not God at the mercy of man.

Oh Father, we are a small people. Oh Lord, we are at Your mercy and under Your care.

From Sunday, May 22, 2022 to Thursday, May 26, 2022 inclusive, a Global Forum is being held. Their evil agenda reads as a manifest against Your people. We are seeing a new type of Tower of Babel being built. They are uniting governments to fight 'Climate Change'. I have now learned to insert 'God's Will' into the words 'Climate Change' whenever I see it. When I do this, all that the enemy is doing makes sense.

I then viewed a video by Klaus Schwab calling for the governments to act now. In another video, he reminds leaders that food shortages and the reduction in fossil fuel usage will be painful. He predicted that uprisings and anger amongst the people will increase. Despite this, he told them that the time to move forward with this great opportunity is now. I had a haunting dream last night...

Sub-Dream 1 "Five Empty Shopping Carts" begins...

I saw five empty shopping carts. On top of one of the carts was a folded quilt. I overheard two women speaking. I came closer so I could hear them. I was an observer and they could not see me.

Woman 1: "While there are people coming here every day, there is nothing for them."

Woman 2: "How do they get here?"

Woman 1: "Mostly by walking here. Still, this is dangerous."

Woman 2: "They are hungry. What is the quilt for?"

Woman 1: "It's for Elon (Musk)."

They both laughed.

Sub-Dream 1 over.

Just as I wrote this, a thunderstorm arrived. The sky has grown dark and it is only 1:00pm in the afternoon. We are being pounded with rain, lightning and thunder.

Me: "Lord, the storm is both beautiful and terrifying. We are no match for You. This was an odd dream. I am scared by it. I don't fully understand this."

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "I am here, Erin. I am with you. Do not be afraid. Your dream represents five months of food shortages. However, it won't just be food. The fuel to get there will also be hard to find. This is a great scheme to keep people shuttered indoors and afraid. Their wickedness knows no bounds. While prices will soar, the items will still not come. Uprisings and thefts will occur."

Me: "Lord, please help us. Lord, Your Great Harvest is supposed to be coming now. You are about to change everything for Your Glory."

Jesus: "Yes, this is true. However, I make known to you the plans of the wicked so you are not surprised. When you hear people say that this governing body is incompetent, understand that this is an appearance issue to disarm the public. You do not fully understand it based on surface level observation. For instance, what did I recently tell you and your husband to do?"

Me: "You told us to get a new computer for the dreams. You told us that the computer we have would soon break. However, we still hesitated because of the expense and availability. I am so sorry, Lord. On Friday, You nudged me again to do this. We then went to the store and found one with great features. It looked cool.

"We were happy with this until we received a surprise call from the store's computer IT department. To make a long story short, the salesperson sold us a computer that looked great, but had no hard drive or storage. It also runs slow. It was pretty well equivalent to buying a small tablet. We believe the salesperson didn't know this.

"In hindsight, it seemed too good to be true for the price. Based on the IT person's recommendation, we now have a better more substantial system on order for the dreams. In addition, we will now also have IT support should anything bad happen. These were upgrades in every area and well worth the extra cost to us."

Jesus: "So, on the surface, through the description and what the salesperson said, all seemed ideal. You then found out that there was nothing of substance underneath the beautiful exterior. It was only a shell. It was only a conduit for another body."

Me: "Definitely."

Jesus: "This is like your leaders. The government you are witnessing is a shell or conduit for another ruler. I used this experience you had as a great reminder. First, when I call you to do something, do not hesitate, for I will supply you in your needs. Second, I showed that what you had been shown was really going to be inoperable and inadequate as the operation system for these dreams."

"The manufacturer designed it this way in order for you to believe that it was the perfect computer. As for today's leadership, they are trying to convince the people that they are running things as smoothly as possible. They hide the fact that they are removing the power of the nation, rendering what is inside her as being compromised and useless. On purpose, they are running the USA into the ground."

"They are creating the shape of their new landscape. They have brought foreign invaders in who long to take what you have. The government will first raise the prices of all essentials and will then create shortages. Crime will then increase. If they can disarm all of the people, this would be less problematic."

"Now, about the quilt. The quilt represents My covering over all of this. I am the quilt. My canopy is over the lands. I will also cover those who stand for truth. Now, do not worry. I will expose the wicked. I will bring down these evil plots. I will not delay. Truth is now being labelled as disinformation. However, truth is a double-edged sword. With just one swing, I can make two passes."

Me: "Lord, I looked up the root for sword. It is charab (chereb) and means to make desolate, destroy, dry up... as in a drought. In Deuteronomy 33:29, a sword of gaavah equates to glory, triumph, excellency and majesty or a weapon used to defend and proclaim the name YHVH, Your Name, Lord. One of my favorite passages is verses 3 and 4 from Psalm 45."

Psalm 45:3-4: "Gird your sword on your thigh, O mighty one, in your splendor and majesty! In your majesty ride out victoriously for the cause of truth and meekness and righteousness; let your right hand teach you awesome deeds!"

Jesus: "While this is good, this is read in part. Read this in full instead and declare it. There is more to this than just a wedding song. There is much more. Psalm 45 is for now. Psalm 45 is for these times."

Me: "Okay, Lord, I will."

Jesus: "Erin, let Me carry you. Let Me take you. This is why I let you know that I am here with you. It is Me, not your imagination. I have a great plan. The dreams I give you are warnings about the plans of the wicked. There are many wicked plans. As for My people, they are to be kept apart from the evil. Do not worry though as I am with you and will continue to be. Do not worry. Watch what I am about to do!"

Right after this dream, I asked the Lord for a list of items that will be in shortage IF they were to get their evil way. Here is the list given in response to my query: "Baby formula, diapers, butter, milk, eggs, cooking oil, flour, sugar, yeast, peanut butter, gas, propane, oil, chicken, beef."

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day here! You are an awesome Father. You are over all we see, hear and touch. You are over the sky, the waters and the lands. There is nothing hidden from You. Great are You, Lord, my God, our Father in Heaven and our King. Bless You and Your works.

Time sneaks up on us. We are helpless to control time. As I write, another second passes... and another... now several. I cannot reverse it. I cannot put more time on my personal clock. I cannot worry and take valuable seconds now, in this moment, to worry about seconds soon to come later today. If I do this, I miss the very seconds I am living in now. The best use of my time is to live in the fullness of what God is.

Well, now even more time has passed. Time passes faster than I can catch it. So, what do I do then? I know! Trust God for my seconds, my minutes, my hours and my days. He knows what He is doing. Relying in myself to change the times I am in has never worked out. Self has caused a lot of time damage. God creates masterpieces in us when we surrender our days to Him. I had a couple of dreams last night...

Sub-Dream 1 "A Farmer is Restored" begins...

I was standing in a dirt landscape. The ground was powdery brown dirt. While the sky was blue, the ground was barren. Nothing was growing. All was dry from a severe drought. I looked all around for some signs of growth. There was none. The fields have not been planted or cared for. There were no farmers and no workers. As I walked toward what looked like brand-new unused farm equipment, I instantly realized that there was no fuel to operate the equipment.

I then walked to what looked like an abandoned farm. It had recently been occupied. The house was not in disarray from lack of care. It instead appeared that the owner just suddenly left it. I walked to the road. I then walked down towards another farm. It was also abandoned. I turned back to the dirt fields. I watched as a great wind began to stir up the ground in the abandoned fields.

The dirt began to swirl. I watched as three funnel clouds plus a ½ funnel cloud formed quickly. Since they were stirring up the dirt, they became the same color as the ground. They became extremely large very quickly. In fact, they stirred up so much dirt that I could actually see green growth underneath it. Crops were there. There was a massive harvest underneath the dirt.

After the loose dirt went into these funnels, they lifted off the ground and hovered above it. I then prayed for God to remove the clouds of dirt so that we could see what was underneath it more clearly. The clouds began to lift. Using a ten-foot-high piece of farm equipment as a measure, I could tell that the clouds had lifted up to three times as high, or 40 feet to the ground. The funnels then dispersed and were nowhere to be seen.

I turned back to the farm equipment and asked God to return the farmer, as well as enough fuel to look after the farm. As soon as I prayed this, I heard the sound of a fuel truck driving down the road. Right behind him was a farmer in his pickup truck. They were both smiling. I then saw the landscape change for the better.

Sub-Dream 1 over.

Sub-Dream 2 “VP KH Forced to Sign Executive Orders” begins...

I was watching a news program in the morning. The sun had just reached the top of our tree line. The season was now spring changing into summer. I watched as a private conversation was accidentally being televised for the entire nation to hear. It was the VP KH taking an oath to several others around her. While I could not see the people around her clearly, I just knew that they were higher in power than she was.

VP: “Look, we have gone this far, right? We have taken everything away. They are now becoming angry. You want me to now rise up and take over all of this? How do I do this when all these people know exactly what we have done? The cats out of the bag. Why don’t we just tell them that we have taken over and that the new order of doing things is now here?”

Voice 1: “Do what you are told. If not, you can be removed too.”

VP: “Look, I am a bad lar. It is really difficult to stand up and lie continuously when I can see in their eyes that they know. I am an imposter. Well, all of us are.”

Voice 2: “Just a little longer. We are almost finished with the groundwork.”

Voice 3: "We have young leaders all over the world who have risen to power. They are not in this position because they were elected by the people. No, it was because we elected them. We are the ones who put them there. You are not alone here."

Voice 1: "You are either with us or against us. There is no in-between. We picked you. You knew you were going to be here in this moment. While you are not liked by the people, why do you even care?"

VP: "They know what is happening."

Voice 2: "That's fine. You are to take your oath. You are to sign both of the executive orders. Your job will then be minor from here on out."

VP: "I'll be killed. I won't be free."

Voice 3: "We will find a place for you. Don't worry."

She was visibly upset. She went into a private area where she spoke to her husband. She was crying.

VP: "They are going to kill me. I knew the people would find out what happened. They are not stupid. I just knew it."

VP's Husband: "We are dead either way. Do what you have to do."

She nodded in agreement. I then saw her take a USB out of some device and put it into her laptop. She then sent some sort of files out. I then saw her walk to the podium. It was the first time that I have ever seen her walk with confidence.

This sub-dream then became a bit 'odd'. Here it goes...

I could see a small lioness. It was a cross between a lioness cub and a groundhog. Her fur was pale. She was a mother to four lioness-groundhog babies. One was black, one was white, one was yellow and one was brown. She saw me and stood on her hindlegs to wave at me. I laughed. I watched as she shepherded her little ones.

As I looked outside, I saw all types of animals and birds. They were singing. I went to open my blinds and saw two spiders. However, a small chickadee the size of a hummingbird then flew up and ate them. It then crawled up the wall like a nuthatch.

Sub-Dream 2 over.

Me: "Lord, the World Economic Forum is meeting. Their agenda is wicked against all of the nations. Please help the people. Don't allow the New World Order to be set up before Your Great Miracles are poured out upon Your Remnant. This wicked movement is far worse than any power ever to rise up against the people. It is the fallen using wicked leaders by proxy. Please don't delay!"

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "I am here. Erin, I am with you. Now you understand the gravity of lies and why My sword of truth will cut through the thickets of the way things have become. The enemy cannot hide his pervasive plans from Me. He cannot do a new thing behind closed doors that I am not first aware of. I know as I am God and I see all. What is being proposed and put into practice is meant to remove the majority of the population.

"They puff up young leaders with promises of heroism, idolatry and great wealth IF all they do is pledge allegiance to the new order of things. The adversary has been at this since the beginning. You call this modifying DNA by controlling and mixing it. This is not the natural order of God. God's Creation is perfect and I have called this good.

"So, all things unholy have risen and have become good according to man. All that is God's is a target of evil and corruptible according to them. They have worked hard to lie and deceive. The great catalyst to advance this is money and fame. This is why young leaders will sell out their countries for the common good of one body and one way."

Me: "Lord, please bring You great strength and miracles now. We see the writing on the wall and, apart from You, the wall will fall."

Jesus: "Walls will fall. This is necessary in order for the great change to occur. What you see will be torn away. Some are sowing evil in secret. My people, My Remnant, are sowing by praying in their cocoons. Now, what comes from this process?"

Me: "I think of Transformation. I think of butterflies coming from their cocoons."

Jesus: "In order for the world to notice butterflies, they must first experience some evil first. This is widespread. The world is quickly transforming into darkness, chaos and evil."

Me: "I read somewhere once that chrysalis takes between 10 to 21 days under great conditions. However, I also read that, under dry, hot or harsh conditions, they can remain three years waiting for rain or good conditions to emerge."

Jesus: "Then this is a great sign about change. Now, the enemy longs to remove all that you see that lives. The natural order of life is God's so the thief comes to lie, kill and destroy. This is the way of the unnatural. Distort, defile, defame and cause death. To tear down in destruction is how the enemy transforms. However, I am over all things.

"They have tried every wicked scheme to defile man and corrupt all organisms that God has created. However, their sight is limited. They are not omnipresent. They cannot control the hidden power of God or My plans. This will not go well for them. Erin, I have a Great Plan to rise up in My Remnant and change all that you see. I am God and I am not limited by time. I am not controlled by the sun or the moon.

"I am not subject to the parameters that evil has tried to place on Me. They have even tried to weaponize the Word of God, exchanging My truth for evil. Now, I am the same yesterday, today and tomorrow. This is because I love My Creation in a way that cannot be measured by the capacity to love based on the heart of man. Erin, My love knows no bounds.

"However, I am God and I do not tolerate evil. My justice prevails. I have fashioned and reserved eternal places for those responsible for the destruction of My Creation. Now, I am the same God who lives. I live. I see. I am omniscient. This is something the enemy cannot do even though he tries to advance his abilities to see into all aspects of your lives. Despite this, he is still unable to know all things.

"He controls through information gathering and weaponizes this through fear. However, as the saying goes, 'this is not sustainable'. This is because I am about to do something in your days you would not believe even if you were told. I am the same God over all, yet I can do a new thing. I have done this many times. Which of your days is exactly the same other than time remains?"

Me: "Every day is different in some way, yet time remains as a constant."

Jesus: "Exactly. Even though I am the same, My mercies are new every day. I am faithful. I love you, Erin. Though you think of yourself as small, I do not. You have remained in hope that I will do all that I have promised. You are now stirring in your chrysalis. When I call you to emerge... well watch and see that I am good. I will provide for all of your needs.

"All the good you have done for Me, My Kingdom and others around you will come back a thousand-fold more. This will be more than you are able to count or even fathom. All will be taken care of as I own all that you see. Nothing will come against you with any success. This will remain the case until I finally call you Home. Soon, very soon, Heaven will be visible to all those who walk here.

“Those I reserved will be free to come and go freely. All others will long to see it. They will long for the heart of their Father. Evil will be far from you as they will be hiding away until the miracles, signs and wonders of God pass over them. As they have the blood of saints on their doorposts, they will shudder in fear and loathing inside their shells until the days of the sounding of the horns.

“A great rush of wind will come and then they will come out and enjoy the rotten fruits of their labors. What fields they have tilled, planted and harvested will be the very thing they feed off as nothing good will remain. They will search for those they harmed and punished, but they will not find them. They will mourn that their innocent family, friends and neighbors will be unavailable for further infliction.

“They will then turn on each other. Some though will know that I have carried them to a beautiful land. They will then long to be there. One day, some of them will.”

Me: “Lord, please hurry.”

Jesus: “Time is God’s, Erin. Time does not dictate to God. I am not subject to time; time is subject to Me.”

Me: “But, Lord, to us, time is short and running out as troubles come.”

Jesus: “Then give time and trouble all to Me. You are greatly loved. I have all of this.”

Dream over.

Communion

Dear Father,

Please bless the pen I scribe with and the paper on which I write. I just know that You have something very important to disclose. I do not want to miss one thing:

- Your ways are perfect
- Your plans are lofty
- Your promises are true
- Your love is complete
- Your peace is a treasure
- Great are You, Father
- Thank You for another day

This is the third morning in a row that I have heard the song ‘The Final Countdown’ by Europe in my head upon waking. While I dismissed it the first two mornings, the third time made me take it a bit more seriously.

The Lord has been dialoguing with me as I work on the tasks He is instructing me to complete. God doesn’t remain silent for long concerning my questions about various events. I am also learning more and more about the Sabbath.

Me: “Lord, I apologize to You for all the days I did not rest. For years and years, I have not obeyed the Sabbath. I have done this for thousands of Sabbath days. Oh Lord, I am so sorry for not obeying Your Commandment to rest.”

Jesus: “Erin, come up!”

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "Erin, I gave you rest on these days when you were unaware. I did this for all of the years of your battles, your youth and when you were a child. I did this so the enemy could never declare this against you. Now, you were convicted in this late hour as I instructed you. Since I call you My friend, I then must also direct attention to any of your actions that are contrary to the healing you seek. God made a covenant to His people."

Me: "I believe this is outlined in Leviticus. Leviticus 26:3-4 says 'If you walk in My statutes and observe My commandments and do them, then I will give you your rains in their season, and the land shall yield its increase, and the trees of the field shall yield their fruit.' Oh Lord, while I mostly get this, I am not a farmer!"

Jesus: "You actually are even though you do not realize this. I use farming terms because you understand what produce is available in due season. If transport was not possible, you would then understand this better. Most now expect their produce to be available even in the winter. This is not easy to understand if you do not make your living as a farmer. However, you can understand the signs of harvest and know this by the seasons you have come to expect."

"Blessings by God were and are given to His people when in obedience to observe your day of rest, your Sabbath. There are other periods of rest. There is your year of rest in the seventh year, the year of the time of release, the Shemitah. Then there is also the 50th year, which is also a Sabbath, the time of Jubilee. Erin, without you realizing this, you practiced this unaware. This is because I have kept you."

Me: "Thank You, Lord, for Your Great Grace."

Jesus: "I have a great purpose for this. You have kept My Statutes and Commandments. However, in the last year and unaware, you did not fully rest as I have called you. You would then be unwell for two days until the third day. While this may seem harsh, it is also important. I am in you and I am working through you. You are My Vessel. I have formed you. As such, you are useful when you are blessed by Me. I will not go against My own Commandments. This is why it is so important."

Me: "For the last year or so, I have learned this the hard way."

Jesus: "My way is not easy, especially at first. However, I promise to bless you through your obedience to it. I do not punish the upright heart. A mother is able to nurse her child or feed her children. However, there are other times where meals can be prepared in advance in order to honor Me."

Me: "Are You referring to convenience food?"

Jesus: "Well, you could call it this. You should not spend the day in cooking labor while your family rests. It is better if the house then fasts together instead as the times call for it. However, I will direct you in the ways you should go. For instructional purposes, there are blessings for obedience. However, there are also curses for disobedience. Both of these are written about in My Word.

"The lands and the people experience blessings and enjoy great prosperity, security and peace when they keep My Statutes and Commandments. However, if they reject My Word and abandon My Covenant by turning away from My Statutes and Commandments, they will then be cursed. The lands in which they dwell will then also be cursed. This is why I send rebuke in the form of calamity.

"Like reproof, I grant warnings. In My Word, I grant a variety of blessings as a promise, a reward, for obedience. For instance, seasonal rains in due season. I also then keep away torrential downpours in the offseason as this is not beneficial. Instead, seasonal abundant rain produces an abundance of fruit that the time of the threshing of it will extend until the time of sowing seed.

"The ground yields its crops and the trees yields its fruit. This all happens in good season. If you obey My Commandments, peace then prevails. You will live peacefully in your own lands. You will even chase away your enemies. They will fall before you. No one will make you afraid. Now, what is the most important blessing of them all?"

Me: "Your promise to walk with us if we walk in Your ways. You will place Your Tabernacle among us and walk in our midst. You will be our God and we will be Your people. This is from Leviticus 26:4, 6-7, 12."

Jesus: "Now that I have shown you the ways, walk in these. Great will be your peace. Abundant will be your blessings."

Me: "Lord, the curses for obedience are also listed. These are quite frightening. It is happening to our country right now. Please do not forget about us. People are dying for their lack of knowledge. We have turned away from our first love... You. While some people now see this, our rulers are evil. They put laws into place in the darkness and then declare a thing that we did not agree to.

"I am not even certain these people were actually voted in by the people. So many will perish. Lord, please heal the land. In Jeremiah 17:14, Jeremiah cried out 'heal me, oh Lord, and I shall be healed; save me and I shall be saved, for you are My praise.' Lord, You came to the people and made a new covenant with us."

Jesus: "Yes, My cup, the New Covenant in My blood, was the abolishment of the scapegoat as I took the sins. My blood was poured out. As it was written by the Prophet Isaiah (Isaiah 43:25) 'under the strength of this covenant, your sins are forgiven and remembered no more.' However, many who accepted Me as the Blood Covenant over sin used this as a free ticket to continue on their course, their way.

"Erin, this was never meant to be My free ticket to continue to knowingly sin. Instead, it was a release of your guilt by grace and a call to go out daily and sin no more. Many go their own way and profane My Name while doing so. Many who wear My symbols, some even etched into their skin, continue to operate contrary to My Word. They do not count the cost of sin or the magnitude of their examples and how many would be lost on account of their sinful actions."

Me: "But, Lord, these are sent by the enemy."

Jesus: "But, Erin, they believe they are Mine. Pray on account of them. Pray for their victims."

Me: "I had two very clear dreams last night. The first one was alarming..."

Sub-Dream 1 "Keep God's Covenants" begins...

This dream started out joyfully with a wedding. It was a beautiful setting. The couple stood at the altar under a flowering vine canopy. They said their vows and made their covenants known to all in attendance. In the guest seats were family and friends to agree with them and witness their covenant before God.

They partook in communion together as one under God. They then broke the glass under their feet. All in attendance witnessed this and cheered. There was a young boy witnessing all of this who had questions. While the boy was unaware that the 'person' next to him was an angel, it was indeed an angel that was sitting next to the boy.

Boy: "Why do they do this with the glass?"

Angel: "This is meant to be a remembrance of the destruction of the Temple."

Boy: "Why would they want to remember the destruction of the Temple at their wedding?"

Angel: "To be in agreement not to break God's Covenants."

The boy nodded in agreement with what the angel had told him. However, when he turned to ask the angel another question, the angel was already gone. The boy then began to give the guests an urgent message...

Boy: In a loud voice. "Do not break God's Covenants! Do not break them!"

He was very serious as he went to deliver this message to several of those around him. His grandmother seemed alarmed at his insistence.

Grandmother: "Who did you get this from?"

Boy: "A guest. A man was here and then he was gone. I cannot find him. However, he told me that God's Covenants should not be broken. This is especially true if you have made a promise to God to keep them. I then saw a vision."

At this point, several more guests had gathered around the boy.

Boy: "If you break your promises before God, then He will turn away. He showed me that it is like a bride and groom with bare feet being forced to break the glass without a cover. He showed me that you are not to do this."

The adults soon dismissed him. However, they were still troubled. They knew the boy had seen a vision and had spoken to an angel. The guests were bothered at the thought of bare feet being forced to stomp on the glass without a cover.

Sub-Dream 1 over.

Jesus: "What happened next?"

Me: "I woke up and 'The Final Countdown' song was again playing in my head. It was 4:30am. I managed to go back to sleep. I then had my second dream..."

Sub-Dream 2 "The Night of the Broken Glass" begins...

I was instructing a class of appraisers on making evaluations more accurately. I held up two items. One was a plastic numbered Anime figurine similar to one my younger son has. The other was a beautiful porcelain vase from the 1800s all hand painted with hallmarks and even the artist's signature.

Me: "Which one of these has more value?" I pointed to the plastic figuring. "Of these, about 1,000 were made." I then pointed to the porcelain vase. "With this, it is one of a kind. There is only one just like it. It is not perfect because it went through a few wars in Europe and an oceanic journey."

An appraiser raised his hand. He was very learned and pompous.

Me: "Go ahead."

Appraiser: "Well, of course, the vase. That is obvious."

Me: "While I agree with you that this is how it should be, you are incorrect. While there is no interest in this vase, there is great interest in these figurines. In today's market, this plastic figurine is worth thousands. As for this vase, you can pick this up at a thrift store or on eBay for $40. The value of an object is only worth what someone will pay for it. This means most of what we have come to know, expect or love has now become worthless to the world. That's all for today. Thanks for being here."

The appraiser left angry. They knew I was right. I was now all alone. I sat on my desk and started to cry. As I did, a figure entered the room. He was wearing a white hooded robe.

Me: "May I help you?"

'Man': Still hooded. "Erin, the Lord requests your presence."

He then removed his hood. It was Uriel! I became so excited!

Me: "Uriel! Uriel! Oh, how I have missed you."

While Uriel rarely smiles, he smiled. I ran up to him.

Uriel: "Come, the Lord requests your presence."

I reached out and took his hand. We were instantly in Heaven. We stood at the great overlook of Heaven. There was a massive army of warriors... angels in the millions. They were illuminated and stood on the hills surrounding the Lord's House.

Uriel: "Now you see that the army of God is massive and powerful. Nothing will come against it. Not one army is greater than God's Army."

I saw a row of massive and mighty angels. They each held flaming swords. Each regiment had different qualities and purposes under God.

Uriel: "Now, this is vast, if you are able to see it. They are over a thousand hills. This also means the cattle over it. There are also the lands, the air and the sea. There is no corner for the enemy to hide. There is no cave deep enough. There is no valley low enough. No matter the setting, God's Army can pursue the enemy. Now, God, our Lord over the Armies of God, requests your presence."

I was without words. As far as my eyes could see, the entire landscape, was filled with God's Army. I really wanted to see God now. We were immediately in the Courtyard of the Lord's House. It was beautiful there. The beautiful domed pavilion had a table set with angels in attendance. There were beautiful flower vines and fountains everywhere. There was music and an orchestra of angels in an open room.

Over to the Northwest side of the Courtyard, which is massive, I saw a meeting of robed men around God's Clock and Calendar. Above this area on the roof were guards and massive angels over it. I saw one angel with a beautiful shofar covered in gold with a mirrored polish.

Uriel: "Come, Erin."

He took me over to the area of the massive wheel with the years, seasons, months, weeks, days and hours. The wheel contained wheels and words I could not understand. I looked over and Jesus smiled. He was glad to see me. He reached for my hand.

Jesus: "Come, let us have some food and talk over lunch."

He walked me back over to the pavilion. He sat me down to his right side. He was at the head of the table. Angels came to fill our cups and serve us breads, cheese and fruit. It was amazing!

Me: "Lord, what is about to happen? It is scary right now."

Jesus: Nodding in agreement. "Erin, many are the plans of the wicked. Their evil plans are too numerous to count. I brought you here to reassure you that I am the Voice who now dwells in you. However, I am also here and with others as well. I am not limited. I am unlimited. I am in all places all of the time. When, by the direction of God, I order to sound the horn..." He pointed up to the angel with the horn. "...then the world will be greatly changed in a single day... even in an instant."

Me: "Lord, I thought the angels were already over the Earth at war with the enemy."

Jesus: "Yes, this is true. However, these are a different division for a different purpose under Heaven. They have a great plan to carry out in and around the Remnant of God. This is good."

Me: "Lord, who are all the elders around God's Clock and Calendar?"

Jesus: "Each one of these have been alive on Earth and now they reside here in Heaven. They know the schemes of the enemy as they have experienced his wars and troubles throughout the years."

Me: "Are these prophets, kings or judges, or some combination of the three?"

Jesus: "You are wise. However, for right now, this is unimportant for you. Now, there is a pattern of the enemy that is coming right now. It is called the Night of Broken Glass in history."

I went to look this up and was horrified.

Me: "Lord, it was on November 9, 1938. I never read about this before. Apparently, this night was a turning point in Germany. Before this, the Jewish people dealt with harassment that was mostly non-violent. An incident then occurred. A young Polish Jewish man, aged 17, named Herschel Grynozpah, learned that the Nazis had expelled his parents to Poland from Germany.

"In retaliation, on November 7, 1938, he shot a German diplomat. He died from his wounds. Using this incident, Joseph Goebbels, the Nazi Minister of Public Enlightenment and Propaganda, immediately caused a rise up in rage against all Jews. Nazis torched synagogues, homes, businesses, schools, hospitals and cemeteries. The German Police were told to standdown while all the Jewish areas burned.

"In the aftermath, broken glass covered the streets from vandalism. The Nazis then had the nerve to blame the Jews for the incident and issued a collective fine of $400 million on them. 30,000 Jewish men were then arrested and sent to Dachau and other camps that had been constructed by the Nazis to hold Jews, political prisoners and other enemies of the Nazi state. This was the beginning. The Night of Broken Glass was the beginning. Lord, this same thing is happening right now."

Jesus: "Many are the plans of the wicked. Time has created lessons from the past. Although the patterns are the same, they are carried out in a way that are embraced by many who, if they knew what their true plans were, would never embrace this and carry it out. The enemy knows My Word. His favorite is Psalm 137. Couples read this under the Chuppah."

Me: "Why?"

Jesus: "While there are some more hopeful words, it is so they never forget their first love... Jerusalem. The enemy uses this as a punishing stone and even as a promise of destruction, all before the breaking of the glass happens during the wedding ceremony. Now, what was it that bothered you that the woman spoke of on the phone?"

Me: "The term 'Social Score'..."

Backstory on the term 'Social Score': At dinner time the night before, I received a call from the bank. It was an offer for a credit card. Not wanting to be rude, I heard her offer to use it to get rewards. However, she said something that bothered me. She said having credit increases your 'Social Score'. I had her repeat this, but she then adjusted her words. However, it still stuck with me after the call.

Me: "...did she mean to use the term 'Social Score'?"

Jesus: "No, she did not. However, I used her slip to instruct you on the plans of the wicked. Now, understand the goal of the enemy in the simplest of terms... he hates the people of God and anyone who is connected to them. While he says 'an enemy of my enemy is my friend', he still has very few friends. He enjoys no hope. He loves to remind people of their sins. He uses opportunities to weaponize groups.

"Now his goal is to remove all dissent. He would have achieved this by now had the population been smaller. Now his call is for depopulation. They are bringing the USA and Israel low through corruption. Bad leaders are in place to destroy the people they do not agree with. However, there is much more.

"The weak are also to be destroyed. The list is large. There are also the homeless, addicts, Jews, white nationalists, welfare recipients, elderly, retirees, the sick and the disabled. They also want to remove certain races completely. They want to destroy anyone who stands for the One True God... Me. They want to destroy anyone who has no value to them."

Me: "Lord, that is billions of people."

Jesus: "They have lofty goals."

Me: "Lord, please do something."

Jesus: "I brought you here so you can see that I am active. I see. I will not allow the enemy to succeed. I have you. I know you worry about many things. You worry about provision as troubles have come. However, please know that I will send help. I am over all things.

"I am over banks, cities, governments and all institutions. My favor is upon you and all of those who bless you. Those who bless you, I will bless. Those who you bless, I will bless. Do not worry as I own the cattle on a thousand hills. I own the armies of Heaven over them. I am with you."

Me: "Lord, the 'Social Score'. Is that a real thing?"

Jesus: "Yes. It is the enemy's measuring line. It covers all you do and rates you according to your habits, spending, travel and what you do. While this seems good on the surface, it will be used for wicked purposes. You would hold no value to them. However, your value to Me is high.

"Now, do not worry. You are seeing the order of the world building one foundation apart from God. It won't go well for them. Now, enjoy your food, Erin. I am in you and with you. I am in control over all you see. I see."

He smiled and placed His hand over mine. I went over and hugged Him.

Sub-Dream 2 over.

Me: "Thank You for these two amazing dreams, especially the second one. It was so nice to see You and Uriel in person again. I miss Your perfect hugs."

Jesus: "I love you!"

Me: "I love You too!"

Dream over.

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day! By Your grace and great love, we are here for Your purposes in a great time of need in the world. Without You, Father, we are lost. Without You, we would lose our bodies, our very lives, our souls and our spirits. You are the most amazing Father. You are our Father and our Best Friend! More than anything else, You are the one and only God that sees all.

You are omnipresent. No enemy army can replicate your omniscience over all. Even more than all of this, You are holy, good, perfect and true. You love truth. Your Words are true. You don’t need ‘fact checkers’. You speak through Your Words of Truth. However, as an added bonus for all who call You by Name and accept that You sent Jesus as the final Scapegoat for our sins, You then gave us Your Counselor.

The Holy Spirit is God’s communicate system into our very being to instruct us on our daily course. This is a Gift that is personal to each one of us. The Holy Spirit increases with volume when we listen and when our walk is strongly rooted in God. The decrease in volume of the communicate system is when we listen more to our own voice. Our voice apart from God leads us astray from His Holiness.

Our carnal selves walk a path geared toward self-satisfaction. Then when a wrong turn comes, our nature as self-soothers is to then turn to God in anger and say ‘Hey, You led me here and never said anything. Why didn’t You stop me? It is Your fault, God.’ See what happened here. We then become an accuser, accusing God and everyone else we can, when it is our fault that we strayed down a wrong turn on our walk.

This is the ‘turning point’ portion. We either turn back our hearts by recognizing we wandered off course or we instead embrace our new way apart from God whereby we are free to choose our way. It can be a slow journey. Thankfully, God is patient with us. He sends help. He sends miracles, signs and wonders to swoon back His wayward child. However, many never fully come back to Him. God, You are always truthful.

If we cannot hear You, then we have individually turned down the volume. Separating us from God's love is disobedience. It doesn't separate us from His love for us, but ours to Him. It is a gateway, like a turnstile at a subway station. There is no reverse unless you recognize your mistake and make big changes. Instead of reversing course, many take the wrong subway train and take a dark journey below ground away from You.

This often takes us even longer to find our way back. However, God is always here for us. More than ever before, He is here in great strength, measure and form. I believe He is even more so as never before in history. God has upgraded the Holy Spirit into a Perfect Voice in a vast wilderness. His Voice is much louder and interactive. He has plans to supercharge all aspects of our bodies, renewing them as we will be in Heaven.

There is a massive event window coming for Heaven's download. Instead of 5G, God will name this '144KG'. The world will never be the same. Praise You, Father, from Your Throne in Heaven. Praise You, Jesus, from Your Seat over all things. Praise You, Lord, our Groom, our Helper, our True Love, our Savior and our Best Friend. Bless You in all things!

I awoke from a disturbing dream last night. I searched the Lord for answers about different events I had been shown. When I began to search for information on what I was shown, I was in shock. I am just shaking my head that I didn't find this before. It was right there to be found. It was right there in the open. How could we be so oblivious as people? I prayed to the Lord on this and He answered me.

Jesus: "I am here. I am with you. You were veiled because My Kingdom purposes had yet to be birthed. It is My Will to not make known that which is hidden until its proper time. A pregnancy is in stages and little evidence is seen to the coming birth in the beginning. While there is still evidence, it is just not visible yet, understand? It is I who make known these mysteries at the proper time."

After this dream, I was deeply disturbed at the wave of lies by the enemy. They even lie against the existence of actual conventions and meetings on their published schedule.

My son's friend, who spent sleepovers at our home in Washington State, had a son not that long ago. He is now about three years old and cannot speak. He is in one of the programs that my sons were enrolled in. My son finally told his friend that he belonged to that program as well. His friend was in shock that he was autistic, saying he never knew. So many families we know have autistic children. Why are there so many?

I am thankful for Your Commandments, Father. I was recently led to a site that described the art of evil empires using lies to further their cause. These evil empires have often targeted Jews as their victims. Here is an outline of their lying concepts.

"If you tell a lie big enough and keep repeating it, people will eventually come to believe it. The lie can be maintained only for such time that the state can shield the people from the political, economic and/or military consequences of the lie. It thus becomes vitally important for the state to use all of its powers to repress dissent. To them, truth is the mortal enemy of the lie. By extension, the truth becomes the greatest enemy of the state and its 'big lie!'"

In a micro sense, this is how this is achieved...

"In the 'Big Lie', there is always a certain force of credibility. Because the broad masses of a nation are always more easily corrupted in the deeper strata of their emotional nature than consciously or voluntarily, thus in the primitive simplicity of their minds, they more readily fall victim to the big lie than the small lie. This is because they themselves often tell small lies in small matters, but would be ashamed to resort to large-scale falsehoods.

"It would never come into their heads to fabricate colossal untruths. As such, they would not believe that others could have the impudence to distort the truth so infamously. Even though the facts that prove this to be so may be brought clearly to their minds, they will still doubt and waver and will continue to think that there must be some other explanation."

Now, what about 'The Big Lie Execution!'

This is how the 'Big Lie' was (and is) to be carried out. Here are the Primary Rules:

- Never allow the public to 'cool off'
- Never admit a fault or wrong
- Never concede that there may be some good in your enemy
- Never leave room for alternatives
- Never accept blame
- Concentrate on one enemy at a time and blame them often for everything that goes wrong
- People will believe a Big Lie sooner than a little one

- Repeat it frequently enough so people will sooner or later believe it

Overriding principle: When a person or entity lies, one should lie big and stick to it. Then keep up with their lies even at the risk of looking ridiculous.

This tactic is widespread today. Grey is the new black. Plausible deniability. Secret armies. Linear warfare. Open secrecy. Whatever you wish to call it, it is still the evil of the enemy, Satan, who is guiding it all in the background.

I had a dream last night. While I thought, at first, it would be a personal dream, it was not...

Sub-Dream 1 "The Coats of Many Colors" begins...

I was invited to attend a private estate sale of a family member. Upon arrival, I had been greeted by a coat room attendant. I vaguely knew her from an old church I had once attended in Portland OR.

Coat room attendant: "Welcome to the celebration of life ceremony. We ask that you select one of these coats to wear for the service in memoriam. We have a variety of coats from several different periods..."

- Blue coats
- Brown coats
- Red coats
- White coats
- Black coats
- We even have turncoats

"Choose carefully."

Me: "What do these represent? For instance, what do the white coats represent?"

Attendant: "That is classified. These are used for the greater good of mankind. These are a 'noble coat'!"

Me: "Well, I don't want to wear any of these coats."

Attendant: "You should think about wearing the black coat."

Me: "I don't want to wear a coat."

Attendant: "This reversible coat is lovely and would be perfect for you."

Me: "No. I am here for my children and to pay respects. I won't wear a turncoat."

Attendant: "Angrily. Then please stand off to the side."

When she became distracted by helping others, I walked into the estate sale through a janitor's entrance. There was a large room with several pieces that I recognized. However, there were many pieces that I did not recognize. One unrecognized piece was a massive kidney shaped desk. It was counter height with shelves that curved with the shape. I thought this to be odd as this was not this person's style at all.

I walked around the item and noticed banks of drawers. I recognized the manufacturer of the kidney shaped desk to be Hekman. I knew they had hidden buttons to unlock hidden drawers, so I began to feel around. Sure enough, two opened. One was full of documents inside. They were waxed envelopes and each was labeled with names.

There were four names. Three were my children's names and one was their cousin's name. The drawer to the left was filled with financial documents and sleeves of rare coins with their certificates. I quickly closed the drawers so as to not draw attention to my discovery. I then realized it contained valuable information and that I would need to purchase this. My biggest enemy was unaware these secret drawers existed.

Sub-Dream 1 over.

While this dream was not the 'main dream' from last night, both were similar in them uncovering things hidden. Father, thank You for Truth. Thank You for Your Sword of Truth. What is Your Sword of Truth? How can it be described? I will take a crack at this, but I am sure there is so much more...

- It is controversial to the world.
- It is an unwanted show of strength to the world.
- It is offensive to anyone who lacks a sword.
- It is divisive, cutting in half anything before it.
- It is powerful, creating fear. Flesh is penetrable against a metal sword.
- It is constant. No matter the battle or the outcome, the sword remains.
- Truth remains the same. Your Truth is a MIGHTY SWORD!

Oh Lord, please help us! What is coming is more than we are able to imagine. We put our trust in You. As Your promises are true, we can trust You.

I have been searching the leader of the World Economic Forum, Klaus Schwab, and found a video of him bragging. He proclaimed that Justin Trudeau, Angela Merkel and Vladimir Putin had all been through his training.

He bragged that 50% of the Canadian Parliament were students in his mentorship.

I then found an interview from February 2011 where Bill Gates was being questioned by Dr. Sanjay Gupta.

Dr. Gupta: "$10 billion over the next ten years to make it the year of the vaccines. What exactly does this mean?"

Gates: "Over this decade, we believe that unbelievable progress can be made in both inventing new vaccines and making sure they get out to all the children who need them. We only need about six or seven more. We will then have all the tools to reduce childhood deaths, reduce population growth and everything, the stability of the environment, benefits from that."

In a February 2010 TED presentation, Bill Gates casually addresses the issue of global warming and reducing carbon emissions. He stated that one way to accomplish this goal is to reduce the global human population. In the first clip and in plain language, he stated that vaccines were desirable for this end.

Then there is Agenda 21 with a plan to depopulate the world by 95% by 2030. This was at the United Nations in April 1997, the Earth Summit in Rio. Then there was a suggestion made that a wide-spread epidemic was needed to depopulate in a short time. This is so wicked and barely covers a tiny fraction of their evil plans."

Me: "Oh Lord, please help us! We need a miracle!"

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "Well then, here I am! I am here. I am with you. This has been a plan by the enemy of God for a long time. This started before you were born. This is why you pray to Me and give thanks even before your meals so the enemy has no course to curse this. The enemy has considered many ways to advance his lies. It is written that My Sheep need a Shepherd. Oh Erin, I will have compassion upon the multitudes because they are weary and scattered like sheep that have no shepherd."

Me: "But, Lord, we have all been like sheep who have been led astray. Everyone of us have turned and have gone our own way. But, Lord, You are our Shepherd. Please don't allow us to go to slaughter, some in painful ways. Please rise up and show Yourself to be God over all things. Shake the nations!"

Jesus: "Do not worry, Erin. Woe to the shepherds who destroy and scatter the sheep of My Pasture. My people have been lost sheep. Their shepherds continue to lead them astray, turning them away from mountain to mountain until they have forgotten the fold by which they have come from.

"Erin, I Myself will search for My Sheep and I will find them. I will rescue them from all the places in which they have been scattered on a day of thick clouds and darkness. I will gather them unto Me and I will bring them out from the peoples and countries and they will reside in their own land.

"There, I will feed them on My Pastures. I Myself will be the Shepherd of My Sheep and I will make them lie down. I will seek the lost and the strayed. I will bind up the injured. I will strengthen the weak. As for the oppressors, I will feed them their own injustice."

Me: "Lord, is this for the Jewish people or is this for us?"

Jesus: "Oh Erin, it is for My Sheep. The wolves plot and plan, all meant for the destruction of My Sheep. I know their plans hidden in dark places. I know their wicked schemes bring death. However, I bring with Me life and this is eternal for those who find Me. I am here to be found. Remember that many are the schemes of the wicked against the righteous."

Me: "Oh Lord, when will this finally come to pass?"

Jesus: "Since I am now here, you can understand the lateness of the hour. This is as I have promised. I will surely assemble all of you, O Jacob. I will gather the Remnant of Israel. I will set them together like Sheep in a fold, like a Flock in its Pasture, a noisy multitude of people." (Micah 2:12)

Me: "A noisy multitude?"

Jesus: "There will be a great celebration when My Remnant is gathered. Now, do not worry. I have shown you this now at the proper time. I have lifted your veils so you see for yourself the schemes of the wicked against the righteous. They are not clumsy. They are not stupid. They are cunning. They know exactly what they have done, are doing and are planning to do.

"Now, do not worry. Be not afraid. I am with you. I will go before you. I will deliver your sons and daughters safely to you from afar. The enemy is sensing My Great Move, so they are hastening their plans. They are in great fear of My Sword of Truth. However, you are not to worry as I am with you."

Me: "Lord, it is difficult to rejoice. I am not sure about anything prescribed to me, the food I ingest, the soil it grows in or the grass it grazes on, the water that makes it flourish... well, it all feels so insidious and horrible now."

Jesus: "Erin, it is much worse than you think. However, I see and I shelter you from these. Do not worry. Carry on. Nothing you do is going to stop the wicked. Only I can stop them and I will. Remember that My Truth is a Double-Edged Sword. My Sword of Truth slices no matter how you wield it. The Sword of Truth is the tongue. The tongue can speak both life and death. Truth will set you free. Now, you are My Remnant Sheep. Rejoice now! I have you!"

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for Pentecost Sunday! Thank You for another day! There is nothing beyond You. You are vast and nothing is over You. You are above all. There is no equal. You see all things, both the micro and the macro. Nothing is greater than You, Father. You know us. You created us. You called us. You chose us. You love us, even when we fail You. It is not that You created a flawed group of beings in humans, it is that we are easily corruptible, swayed and led astray.

While we lack wisdom, we seem to have an abundance of hubris. We are often wise in our own eyes and we hopefully learn from our mistakes. When we don't, we must travel in a circular pattern of repetition until we realize what we need to adjust. Father, I am thankful that You are my Father. I am thankful that You are the God who sees all. You know our histories. You placed us in our families.

Me: "Father, please speak with me today. Please guide us in our ways. I was hoping for so much on this beautiful Pentecost Sunday morning!"

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "Erin, I know you are disappointed that this day you had searched for change has almost concluded. You are sad and disappointed. However, I am God and I will conclude a day or night by My Own Decree. Now, here is something for you to know that is unknown to all but a few.

"At the indwelling of My Spirit in the upper room, My Spirit rested upon the people and changed them from within. It was a mystery as they spoke in mysteries from within them. However, when My Glory falls again, it is not as you think as My Spirit is already within you. My voice is also in you.

"At an appointed moment, what has changed you from within will manifest and transform your outer appearance. So, the first event almost 2000 years prior was inside and the second event you are now waiting for will be both inside and outside. You will go from being mostly invisible to being very visible in timing as I direct."

Me: "I think I understand. When I received the Holy Spirit, Your still small voice changed me on the inside. I was then in a direct relationship with You. People could tell that I had changed because I then removed the former things that led to sin. This then led to a long, painful process of inner change, change not always visible to others. So, what we are waiting for now? Is this different?"

Jesus: "Yes. My voice in you is new and I communicate with you. When you call out, I answer. When you pray, I am here and I answer."

Me: "So, now our outer selves will be changed?"

Jesus: "Yes. Your Transformation will be complete in a moment in much the same manner as the first event."

Me: Crying. "Oh Lord, I am losing my joy. I hate the way the way the world has become. It is so horrible. Please hurry. All is falling. Corruption is becoming visible. Criminals are out in the open committing crimes in broad daylight. It is so heartbreaking. Our country is being attacked by our own government. They are destroying what was once a great place to be. What was safe and free is now unsafe and lawless. I am sick. This must be like the Days of Noah."

Jesus: "I am here, Erin. Do not worry. You are sheltered from the great plans of the wicked. It is far worse than you know and you would not believe it if I were to tell you. I am God and I will do something so great in your days, you would not believe even if you were told. This is a war between Me and the adversary. It is a spiritual battle that has manifested in the natural.

"You now see that evil has manifested outwardly and is becoming common and acceptable. Such was the same in the Days of Noah. The gates of sin have opened and the revelation of the transgressions against the Laws of God is now manifested. What would have seemed like small everyday infractions against God's laws, the negative fruits, have been compounded into sins with no conscience.

"Pride has given way to a need to control and enslave God's people. Envy has led to great hate for those who have been given blessings from Heaven. Wrath has become a way in which the adversary wells up in an individual or group and lead them in hate and anger to seek vengeance and justice by violence against the opposition, including My people.

“Gluttony has become great indulgences of things others do not have and displaying this to those who don’t and then even justifying it. Now, do not confuse this with food or material goods as this refers to sinful indulgences.”

Me: “Are You referring to immorality and the vanity of things displayed, such as nakedness?”

Jesus: “Yes. However, this is often misunderstood. It is a public display of indulgences in sin that also brings in lusts. Lusts then become manifested from thoughts, sinful desires and then to acts of sin in plain view.

“Much of these even display blasphemies against My Church by bringing these practices inside for all to see and accept as common. This leads to apathy, including spiritually dismissive pastors turning the other direction. This also includes law enforcement who do not enforce and turn away. Many do nothing because it is easier.”

Me: “Now a days when crimes are committed, no one helps.”

Jesus: “Leaders cheer when churches burn and My people are tortured and killed. While this is happening, it is not being reported. Then there is greed. One person or government declares one group is not entitled to what they own and they seize it. Whole groups have decided the right way is to steal, occupying by force and killing for the greater good. This is what has happened and I see.”

Me: “Lord, forgive me, but how about changing the part about ‘I see’ to ‘I do’! We desire You to start acting against this rampant evil. You have done it before.”

Jesus: “That was good and that is precisely what is about to occur. God sees. He holds back His army until the trumpet sounds, the earthquakes roll and the seas foam and surge. There will then be fear that will strike across the land. Those who are guilty will flee. Those who God has called will move with great speed and resolve. The broken hearted will be healed. The sick will be renewed. The silent voice will be heard.

“The disheartened will be given vindication. The barren land will be healed. I have not forgotten My promises. My harvest of souls and the great healing of the land will be over the nations. The multitudes will celebrate. As soon as all are gathered together and know that I am God and I am great and mighty to save them, then will be the gathering to bring them Home to the place I have prepared.”

Me: "I love You, Lord. Thank You for rescuing us from the grip of the enemy."

Jesus: "I am glad you continue to come to Me. The former activities you once enjoyed now make you ill. You are experiencing a separation in your spirit from what you have come to know. You have been in preparation for what is to come. It is like Noah and his family and animals boarding the ark and preparing to close the door. It is like Moses and Aaron moving Pharaoh to release the slaves, the Israelites, to freedom. It is a transition from moving God's people, My people, those I love, from a place of sin and corruption, to that of freedom, a place free from evil."

Me: "Lord, what was the first Pentecost like?"

Jesus: "Well, you must understand what happened before this. I walked in human form. I came as the scapegoat for the sins of man. Death was not the end as I had the keys to set those who were dead free. Death did not overcome Me. I raised the dead and I Myself was resurrected with them and we walked about. The victory over death was visible through Me. Then when I appeared over 40 days to all those who had walked with Me, I then witnessed to them and ascended. However, I also reassured them not to be afraid because I was going to send them the Counsellor."

Me: "So, Lord, how does this relate, timewise, to today? The Israelites were in the desert for 40 years. A typical human birth period is 40 weeks. You were resurrected and then appeared and trained for 40 days. How about changing us in 40 hours or, better yet, within 40 hours?"

Jesus: "Ah yes, always searching for a pattern! Well, this is good because often a pattern is only realized after an event has occurred."

Me: "You are a mystery, Lord!"

Jesus: "I remain a mystery for good reason. This is for the good of all I have called and will soon call. Now, I do not tarry. God does not tarry. While many teach that we do tarry, this is not true. The Spirit of God hovers over all and then moves at the proper moment. At the proper moment, My Glory no longer hovers, but will drop upon the land. It is what you are waiting for. Now rejoice, Erin. Do not be in agony while waiting."

Me: "While I will try, Lord, I am still in pain. We keep experiencing attacks. It is difficult to keep our heads up when so much is happening. Lord, it is not just us that this is happening to. Many of our friends on the Nest are also experiencing this."

Jesus: "Well then, this too is a sign. Do not worry. Pray! I am with you. I will go before you. I will provide for you and I will equip you. Rejoice, Erin, as I am with you. I am also with your Nest friends."

Dream over.

615 – Remain Alert for God’s Clarion Call

Communion

Dear Father,

I delight in You! You are an amazing Father. Who is like You? You are omnipresent. You have no perimeters, no bounds and no limits to Your sight. You are everywhere. No god or man has this capability. You are all-present. You can be with me and with others, all at the exact same time. You are also all-knowing or omniscient. This means our history, our current position and our futures are all known by You.

You know me to the depths of me. You care for me. You know the squirrels in my yard as You also created them. You are not limited or constrained by age or death. You still know every detail even when history is erased. While man can forget or deliberately change what is true, You know all things. You know every detail of what is seen and what is unseen. You are all-knowing.

There is nothing man can invent that even comes close to Your knowledge or IQ. Your IQ cannot be measured. You are also omnibenevolent. This means You are all-loving. You love with a higher degree of encompassing love. Your love is so great that we cannot even measure it. You are compassionate and gracious, slow to anger and abounding in love and faithfulness (Psalms 86:15).

There is no earthly love like this. We are incapable of loving like You. While the world is unkind, You have a heart of gold so pure, generous, merciful, full of love and grace, that You have no equal. Not even close. You are also omnipotent. This means You are all-powerful. You are our God over all things. You are beyond our strength and power in every single way.

While the enemy may think You to be weak, I know it is only because You are restraining Yourself. You are holding back. If You wanted to, You could rattle the entire Earth with a high magnitude earthquake lasting for minutes. Knees would bend at this. Just one breath from You could flatten whole cities. Just one great inhale from You and we would lose our breath and fall to the ground.

While You are capable of an infinite number of things against the wicked, You instead are waiting patiently for the Appointed Time to act. Nothing is beyond You, not one thing. You are amazing. When the enemy talks about 'climate change', they are really talking directly about You. Wanting to combat climate change really means they want to combat You.

Our foolish leaders have publicly declared that the world has only ten years left. Well, they could be right, but this would only be because of You and Your plans alone. Oh Father, none of us received Your 'prophetic memo' alerting us that we have only ten years left via the world's actions. You are so powerful, You could eliminate all the people in a microsecond. Jesus said it so well in John 10:18.

Jesus: "No one takes My life from Me. I give My life of My own free will. I have the authority to give My life and I have the authority to take it up again. By God's authority, I receive this ability."

Since Jesus is God in flesh and can do this with His own life, then He also can do this with our lives. While we are not immune from hardship or suffering, He reminds us that He has a great plan for our lives, something that gives us hope for our future. He knows the plans He has for us. In fact, all of Jeremiah 29 is a good Word for us now.

Father, Thank You for bringing my daughter home. Exactly what You told us would happen happened. While it was not in the way I expected, I am so grateful. Bless You, Father, for Your faithfulness and love. I thank You also for Your care. I finally completed all the tasks You set out for me just as You instructed. If there is anything else You require, I am willing and You will make me able.

I have not been in my devotional chair for a week. I have accumulated many messages that I need to respond to. As for my physical burdens at home, these have been lifted. I am so thankful, Father. You kept me from dreaming last week so that I could finally finish all the tasks You had put on my heart to complete. I am so grateful. Thank You so much.

Me: "My husband and I are considering a fast for clarity and further instructions from You. Please open doors for employment for my husband and my daughter. I feel we need to make some changes soon and prepare for what is coming."

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "I am here, Erin. I am with you. I delight in you. The world gives you the yoke of affliction, but My yoke is light. Therefore, serve Me as I am fair and give each man according to his works in recompense. I do not reward evil with good nor do I reward good with evil. Evil is rewarded with an increase of evil and good is rewarded with an increase of good.

"Now, remember that Israel is Mine. Jerusalem is also Mine. Any leader who tries to partition it as to divide it or make a declaration giving the land to another, I will break apart and divide the lands in which that leader comes from and give it to another. This is occurring right now."

Me: "Lord, this foolish leader stole our land from us and conspired against the peoples. Our nation and Israel are Yours. What is happening to our nation now is also happening to Israel. We need Your help. We are incapable of doing anything apart from You. Please help us."

Jesus: "Remember what I instructed you years ago about warfare and the tactics of the enemy."

Me: "Yes. The enemy first quietly observes us. He then surrounds us. He then cuts off our communications using lies, disinformation, discouragement and demoralization. He then cuts off supplies such as food and water. This then causes us to weaken. In desperation, we can then sell out. All of this can lead to defecting to the enemy's side unwittingly. The feelings of abandonment and betrayal leads to infighting and paranoia, even suicide. The enemy then attacks, kills and destroys."

Jesus: "This is the enemy's current plans. However, they are doing this so subtly, the public remains unaware."

Me: "Oh, like the slow boiling of a frog?"

Jesus: "It is a similar illustration. These crises have been planned..."

- The pandemic
- The war
- The food shortages
- The divisions
- The race wars
- The fuel shortages
- The other shortages soon to come

"All necessities, even medications, will be removed to cause death. There is a massive group of waves being planned meant to weaken and kill the elderly, the sick and those with other problems."

Me: "Lord, if we have no way to protect ourselves, then what should we do? You will need to open doors and provide for us. Please help us."

Jesus: "Erin, I am over all things. I am not going to allow their plans to succeed. They will be exposed."

Me: "How bad will this become? Is there anything we can or should do?"

Jesus: "Press into Me and I will provide for you. Do not panic. I will bring you to all the places I have called you to. You will have lights and electricity. You will have food and other necessities. You will be able to help others as well. When the enemy then begins his great advancement against the people, look to the hills at the Great Armies of God!"

Me: "What about the Great Harvest? What about the Miracles? What about our Transformation?"

Jesus: "It is coming. I am here. I am with you. Now, I know you are worried about your family. You must not fear when you see the high costs for basic foods as I will provide for you. However, your neighbors will begin to leave. Their homes and farms will be made empty on purpose. Many will be forced to move close to the city. It will be a time of great anger and fear."

Me: "What are we to do?"

Jesus: "It is wise to let go of items that could compromise you. It is not a good time to look wealthy."

Me: "Lord, You are scaring me. I thought we would be Transformed soon!"

Jesus: "Whether being changed immediately or in a few weeks doesn't change a need to be cautious. This is wisdom."

Me: "Lord, I am more discouraged now than I was before I started writing this dream down. Why won't You help us now instead?"

Jesus: "Erin, I am about to shake the nations. I am lining up My people in the places in which I have prepared for them. You have done all that I have instructed you to do. I have also called angels concerning you to guard you in all you do. I am going to create some open doors in which you must come to Me in prayer. I will make known your course. All My promises are true. I have not revoked these.

"I sent you the communication device quickly (the Lord told us to purchase Starlink and it came in four days instead of the advertised 'six or so weeks'). Have this installed now. The expense will be covered. I will put it on hearts to aid you in this. Keep all that you have right now.

"Understand that I am then sending a great wave of heat across the lands. Prepare your home for this. I will provide for you supernaturally.

While you are not to worry, you should still prepare. If you see a wave coming on the horizon and you are told to prepare, yet you do nothing but stand instead, then the wave will destroy you."

Me: "I am discouraged. Lord, I want to be Transformed now."

Jesus: "Erin, you see what is coming. I am with you. Prepare your home. I am moving quickly. Trust Me and do as I have called you to. Prepare for emergencies as the governments of the nations are preparing to downsize the population. I will preserve your food and make it so you can stand. Do not worry."

Me: "Lord, should we sell our home here and move to Montana? Should we move to a safer place with people more like us?"

Jesus: "Have I declared the home I built for you to be unsafe? No! If I require you to sell your home, I will send a buyer to pay more than you can imagine. Don't be discouraged right now, even though you are. Continue to do all I have asked of you. You are workers here, My Vessels.

"Do not worry as I am with you. I tell you all this because the enemy is advancing quickly. God has an appointed time that is close. I do not want you to be disheartened if your timeframes are different, either sooner or later, as you are to remain focused on Me. The enemy knows that My appointed time is close and is sending attacks against the children of God in waves in advance."

Me: "Does this mean we could get hit a few more times prior to our Transformation?"

Jesus: "This is to remain a mystery to shield My timing from the enemy. While the enemy has his big plans, Mine are infinitely bigger. Remember that I called you to update your technology. The dreams will continue to be circulated. They will even be more widespread. Your IP address will be scrambled. This will frustrate the enemy. I will veil it. I will protect you."

Me: "Lord, I am discouraged now."

Jesus: "Do not be as My timing remains a mystery.. to you and to the enemy. I am with you. Nothing will come against you. You are greatly loved. Erin, while you should prepare as if there is a delay, there will be none. I will bless you."

Closing Note: So many we know are under attack right now. There is a good reason for this. It is because we are now so close to our Appointed Time that we have all been waiting for. My husband and I are even feeling called to fast in this uncertain season. While this dream may seem discomforting at first, we believe that this is actually good news. Now, if you feel that God is calling you to do something in preparation and this feeling won't go away, do it. This is not a lack of faith, but a call to obedience.

Dream over.

616 – A Lesson on the Enemy’s War Tactics

Communion

Dear Father,

You are awesome, Father. You are so very good. You love us unconditionally. You love us so much. You enjoy communion and fellowship with us. We run after You in all things. You love us in a healthy and life-giving awe-inspiring way. The more time we spend honoring our commitment to You and searching for You, the more we can be found by You.

The world competes with You, Father. The enemies of the children of God hate all that is good, lovely and holy. You call out to us in hundreds of ways every day. I love You, Father. You are so good. I have been stressed lately though as my dreams have been very dark. Upon waking, the news around us in various events are even becoming more and more like my darker dreams.

Ten years ago, all these current event dreams and different scenarios that You showed me all seemed Post-Rapture. Now though my dreams have become a reality and it is scary. Conspiracy theories are no longer conspiracies as this massive war rages on. There is a hidden war fought on battlefields unfamiliar to us and by unknown assailants.

What is scary is that our statutes formed under God are being destroyed and stripped away. We are under siege. The weapons of mass destruction are so numerous against us, how do we know what is right and true? It is hard to watch these horrors unfold. Lies are very difficult to hear over and over, so we turn it off. We no longer trust anything that the world offers. How can we be certain of anything of this world?

Me: “Oh Father, I had another troubling dream last night. Please help us. Father, please rescue us. We love You!”

Jesus: “Erin, come up!”

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "I am here! Erin, I am with you. Go above what you see here and I am over all of it. I am jealous for My people. I am jealous for My Bride. I see the injustice and public displays meant to cause confusion. How can there be a trial with no defense, no lawyer to plead a case and no unbiased jury?"

"Justice is balanced on the scales of truth. Justice balanced on false testimonies and lies or even withholding evidence is not justice. I see. I am over all things. The enemy wants you to be afraid and base all your decisions on fear."

Me: "But, Lord, this really is getting scary."

Jesus: "You are afraid of many things. As I am in you, I already know this. Remember that the increase in attacks come because this is an effective tool against My Bride. Think of it this way... the Bride has diligently waited a long time for her Groom to come. She keeps oil in her lamp and her wick trimmed. She readies her position. She keeps watch, along with her maidens, through the night and does not fall asleep.

"While waiting, she still sweeps and cleans. She eats and drinks. More importantly, she dreams and thinks of her love day and night. In all that she does, she praises her Groom. She loves Him so much, she would never consider leaving her watch post to venture into town. Even when others have gone away and, in drunkenness, call out to her to come, the Bride remains faithful and diligent. She remains alert. She sings and remains in joy while she waits for Him."

Me: "I am sorry, Lord, as my heart is growing sick. I long for the day that the sounds of the mockers are drowned out by the Wedding Party of the Groom, the day You come for us. All my hope is in this. We just want to be pleasing to You as Your Bride."

Jesus: "I love you. You are Mine. No one can take you from My hand. You have been faithful. You have trusted Me. You took up a pen years ago and tracked it to paper by My command. You did not write with pencil which can be erased, but of ink. You allowed Me to speak by pouring out ink into these books. While you did not understand what I was doing, I spoke to you of mysteries through your dreams and visions.

"I chose you because you are not what the world would expect. Instead, you are what I created. It is written in these pages. This is the story I have written on the heart of My Bride. Each day, you never know what I will show you or where you will go. However, you then trust Me for the revelation, not yourself. I know the plans I have for My Remnant. You have all been called to Me for such a great time as this.

"You are all as gold to Me. You have been refined in the fires of affliction until all the residue that remains has been skimmed from the top. The black dross has been skimmed off. Now, I have called you to a higher level of service, a purpose that is higher for My Glory. Many now have lamps that are growing dim. However, to those I have called, you know I am about to move in a way the world is unprepared for.

"Many of My people have fallen asleep to My call because they only see the kingdom of the wicked against all that was good and now wonder if God sees or cares. However, to those who are close to Me, who are watchmen on My walls, who are attendants with the Bride, they continue their assignments as I have called them day in and day out.

"Now, the enemy suspects, based on their advances being seemingly left unchecked by God and His people, that something is soon to occur. The angel armies are fighting in the heavens over territories and strongholds over you and all you see around you. Much good news is removed. Since the demonic realm knows the times and has prepared in advance, he attacks the children of God.

"So much is now being attacked by the wicked. The children. The holy union of man and wife. The churches or any affiliation with honoring Me in spirit and in truth. You have seen the speed in which evil armies are advancing. They travel with such speed and intensity that you fail to see what is over all of this. Well, I see and I am here. I am God and I do not change.

"Listen to Me. Remain in Me and I will remain in you. I am planning events with unprecedented power and might. I will come and will not delay. While I know this is confusing to you, there is an appointed time. There are patterns in history like these times now, but never has there been a time quite like this.

"Now, can you stay focused on Me? Remain in Me. I am here. If more troubles come your way, know that I will deliver you from them all as I have done, am doing and will continue to do. One day very soon... yes, very soon... there will be a shaking unlike that which the world has ever seen nor will ever see again. The children of God are in position. So many things will delight My Bride:

- Children will be brought home
- Families will be brought together
- Hearts will be healed
- Cities will be restored

- Lies and darkness will be removed
- Reputations will be restored

The Great Harvest will include great miracles, signs and wonders. There will be great joy and peace. Even the dead will be raised. Secrets buried will be uncovered. There will be no stealing. There will be no invasions of foreigners as they will be content and reconciled to their own lands as healing and restoration is for the nations, not just for one or two nations. Evil leaders will confess and go into exile until the time they gather again to do evil.

“Now, I am here. I will bless your fasts, your worship, your rest and your gifts. As you honor Me, I will bless you. Do not worry about what the enemy is going to do as he is predictable. I will instruct you as you dream and in your waking hours. The last few dreams you have had show you to be careful of the clever traps of the wicked as they too stand and watch.”

Me: “Lord, based on my dream last night, I need an extra uptick in discernment.

Sub-Dream 1 “A Crazy Woman living on the Driveway”

I was living in a townhome. It was near homes just like mine. I had a single car garage and a small driveway. The neighbor next to me had the mirror image of mine. Our garages were attached. Our driveways were separated by a fence about four feet high. The temperature at night was dropping when I noticed, outside my neighbor’s garage, a clear plastic tarp used as a tent.

The occupants of the tent were a woman about age 30 and her two daughters, one around 8 years old and the other around three. They were sleeping under the tarp. While my neighbor had let them live in her garage, she had now kicked them out to the driveway. The woman and her two children kept staring at me.

While I wanted to help the little girls, the mother looked crazy. She had her eyelids folded inside out so you could see the red exposed skin. The mom just didn’t ‘look right’. I felt bad because I had a room that had two bunkbeds that no one was using. However, I felt held back from offering them this.

Sub-Dream 1 over.

“Lord, was my actions the correct ones here? Did I lack compassion?”

Jesus: “Erin, the dream is a good one for instruction. The enemy presents situations that your heart, being good, would run into. It is sometimes hard to realize that it can be dangerous to help. This is to show you not to fall for trojan horses looking to come into your home to destroy you. Now, why do you feel that you did not follow through to help this mother and her daughters?"

Me: "I knew my neighbor. Our garages are even attached. If they were a problem living in her garage, not even in her house, just her driveway, I figured there must be some huge problems with them. While I sometimes call this a 'gut feeling', I know it is really You communicating to us via the Holy Spirit."

Jesus: "In this dream, I was instructing you to be keenly aware of the elements in your dream. The woman had a demon and, yes, so too did both of her two daughters. What you were seeing as innocent was not. Your suspicions were correct."

Me: "Couldn't I have just driven out the demons?"

Jesus: "Of course. However, this was not an instruction on deliverance. I was showing you the various forms evil can take. I instructed you in your dream not to bring her into your home. This is wisdom. While there will be a time of deliverance, you are to do nothing until you are called to do so. Not all are healed or delivered. They choose their position. However, this is a different lesson for a different day.

"Now, take heart. I am over all things. I see. Be encouraged as I am with you and your house and your friends and their houses. Do not worry. Look to the hills. Where does your help come from?"

Dream over.

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day! Blessed are You, Father, for Your great works. You are awesome and wonderful. You are mighty and glorious. Thank You for being the best Father, Savior, Creator and Friend. I love You. My husband and I are humbled by Your grace and love. We have been pressing into You in urgency right now and You have answered our cries. We will continue with our directives. Thank You for Your kindness.

We have had emergencies here, followed by blessings, then attacks, then victories and then all repeated. The wars have been almost comical in their intensity because we now are expecting them. The battles rage on. Still, there is much to be grateful for..

- We are thankful to have all but one child back – my husband's son – who is working out west until the end of summer. He is flying drones for a forestry company. This is a great job, but very remote.
- My older son starts school on July 1st. It has been a whirlwind of paperwork and preparations. He is extremely excited about this new adventure.
- My younger son started a new job. He already loves it. He is an auto detailer. This is the perfect position for him. Sadly, he had to miss a couple of days last week due to teeth problems. He is now scheduled to have all his wisdom teeth removed in a couple of weeks.
- My daughter returned to us on Friday, June 10, 2022. She waited a few days and dropped off her resume. She came out 15 minutes later and told me she starts the very next morning. She was so happy. Lord, it was a wonderful surprise. You moved so quickly for her. She loves working at her brand-new job.
- My husband's daughter finished school and had great marks. She is now enjoying some vacation. She will start driving soon.

We recently sold my beloved Pacifica at auction. My heart was sick to see it go for just $1,032. The car was in perfect shape. It was clean inside and out. Still, it broke down and had, what we thought, was unfixable electrical issues. Well, we were delighted to find out that the person, an elderly widower, who picked it up was able to fix it. He told the auction house what a blessing it has been. This made us feel better about the sale.

On Monday, we took my husband's daughter to the doctor. She is experiencing long term Covid symptoms for possible brain swelling. While this is of concern, we remain confident in our Lord for a soon healing. We will be undergoing a few tests in the weeks to come. As for my husband, he still would like to be employed. However, we are both fully aware that only You have the keys to open this long-awaited door.

Oh Father, please continue to keep us safe. I give it all to You. Please grant us strength to continue our period of prayers and fasting. Keep us strong in You. You are the God of Miracles. Many Nest members are having similar attacks. For some reason, teeth and oral issues seem to be one of the main ones. There are also liver and kidney problems. There are mysterious abdominal issues as well.

We also have friends who have a ministry in Sudan and Ethiopia planting churches. This has been highly dangerous for all involved. It is a difficult time to be a Christian in this fallen world. I had a dream last night that I am not entirely sure what it meant...

Sub-Dream 1 "A Tornado approaches our all-white house" begins...

We were living in a white house with many rooms. It was white both inside and out. This was unusual as this is not something I could dwell in with my family. White is not 'world-friendly' because we are just too dirty. All surfaces were white, including the floors, counters, walls and ceilings, even the furniture. As a family, we were just moving in and unpacking. The skies grew dark and the winds seemed to pick up.

My older son: Calling out. "I think a storm is coming, a big one! There seems to be a huge tornado coming straight at us."

I looked out one of the windows to the south. Sure enough, it looked like a funnel cloud.

Me: Yelling. "Find cover! Brace for impact!"

The noise of the approaching tornado suddenly disappeared. We no longer heard anything coming our way. I went outside and it was now dawn. It looked completely normal out. Nothing happened. We were relieved.

Dear Father,

I love You! Thank You for Your love. How I long for my time with You. You have no equal. You really have no rival. Only we do. You breathe life into us. You determine our days. You know us. How is all of this even possible? I don't even fully know myself. Of what I have come to know, I decided to give up here because my self deceives me. However, You never do. I am so thankful to You, Father. I had several dreams last night...

Sub-Dream 2 "Two Sides separated by a Great Canyon" begins...

There was a massive canyon with a river running in it. On each side of this canyon were two level land masses. While one side had committed their lives to God, the other side was serving the fallen world. Those serving Satan cried out everyday across the canyon to those God had separated by the canyon and river.

However, God's people did not engage. They instead prayed. God blessed His people. They had plenty to eat, coolness from the heat, rest and peace, music, joy and laughter. They also had electricity. They were not living in darkness.

Sub-Dream 2 over.

Sub-Dream 3 "And the Wicked shall Tremble" begins...

I was searching for a book I had lost. The book was published in 1907. It was one of the last books I had (in my dream). An angel of the Lord then appeared and told me to review a certain chapter I had never read titled 'The Days of Noah'. Once I finished skimming over the chapter, he spoke to me...

Angel: "To the Bible student, the events transpiring around you are significant and point to the day near at hand when the Earth and the things therein 'shall wax old as doth a garment and as a vesture shalt thou fold them up and they shall be changed' (Hebrews 1:11-12). Erin, this is of note. What is like this time?"

Me: "I believe this is now. I believe this is like 'The Days of Noah'."

Angel: "The son of the antichrist is the anarchist. Now, let me explain here..." He opened the book published in 1907 and started to read...

"Anarchy is the abolition of the rights of property. It makes your store, your house and your family theirs and theirs alone. Every man's hand against every other man because of robbery. It is arson, murder, rape, lust and death triumphant. It means no law, no church, no defense, no regret, no happiness and no God. It means hell let loose on Earth. It means society is a combination of the devils incarnate."

"Erin, this was written many years ago. How then can this remain true today?"

Me: "I don't know. Was the writer of this book a prophet?"

Angel: "He was a clarion caller for this time. He spoke of 'The Battle for Bread'. You will understand the times you are in by 'The Parable of the Fig Tree'. Remember to take heed so that no man deceives you as many will say at this time that God meant this for another purpose. Well, He did not say this. Or they could say 'look, the fig tree shows signs summer is near, yet there are no buds or branches.'

"Or they could say 'look, the fig tree bears fruit when there is none.' All of this is meant to deceive, discourage and dishearten those looking for signs of the Lord and His drawing near. So, the Lord has said 'now learn of a parable of a fig tree. When His branch is yet tender and putteth forth leaves, ye know that summer is nigh. So likewise ye when ye shall see all these things, these signs, know that it, He, is near, even at the doors.' The change of seasons never fail.

"Remember this...the signs can be expected and evidence is on display. However, there will also be signs in the sun and in the moon and in the stars; and upon the Earth, distress of nations, with perplexity, the sea and the waves roaring and men's hearts failing them for fear and for looking after those things which are coming on the Earth. Erin, for this has come the times of the end, but not the end of time as this is God's."

I watched this very handsome strong angel as he turned the pages of this book. He then turned to the last chapter titled 'Heaven on Earth, the Way, Preparing for our King'. He then began to instruct me.

Angel: "Erin, His coming will be to the wicked like the flood that destroyed the unbelieving and wicked antediluvians who mocked Noah and rejected his message of warning (Luke 17:26-27). So now understand what is written. Hear this as it has been passed over. Take careful heed of that which was written to the Thessalonians (2 Thessalonians 1:7-10).

"And to you who are troubled rest with us, when the Lord Jesus shall be revealed from heaven with his mighty angels, In flaming fire taking vengeance on them that know not God, and that obey not the gospel of our Lord Jesus Christ: Who shall be punished with everlasting destruction from the presence of the Lord, and from the glory of his power; When he shall come to be glorified in his saints, and to be admired in all them that believe in that day."

"To the wicked, the day of the Lord's appearing will be one of terror and distress (Revelation 6:15-17).

"And the kings of the earth, and the great men, and the rich men, and the chief captains, and the mighty men, and every bondman, and every free man, hid themselves in the dens and in the rocks of the mountains; And said to the mountains and rocks, Fall on us, and hide us from the face of him that sitteth on the throne, and from the wrath of the Lamb: For the great day of his wrath is come; and who shall be able to stand?"

"The Lord is the High Priest. He presents His own sacrifice, His own blood, as a perfect atonement for the sins of His people on Earth and thus the claims of His Father God's Law are fully met. Sinners are saved and the justice of God vindicated. However, the time is very near when Jesus will remove His priestly garments, assume His kingly Crown, put on the Royal Robes and take to Himself the Kingdom He redeemed from the powers of the enemy (just as in Psalms 45).

"While He is soon coming to the Earth visibly, He is alive in you. He will raise the righteous dead of all generations, change the faithful living from mortality to immortality and, with those redeemed by His great sacrifice, reign forever. He will come again in His own glory above the brightness of the sun."

Me: "So, help me to understand, angel. Does the Groom come to collect His Bride first, then appears again as King with all of them the multitude in armor, along with the angels?"

Angel: "You must let the Lord Jesus fulfill His Word, His Chapter."

Sub-Dream 3 over.

I was startled out of my dream. I have not had a dream quite like this before. I had never been in the presence of this particular angel.

My husband and I went to the auction house on Friday to gather the payment for the sale of my car. I also purchased from him a small box labelled 'Dead Letters'. I peeked inside and was excited to see papers from the 1800s. I realized that most of the items in the box were what was left of one man's entire estate, as well as all the belongings that were sold there.

It must have been a relative of the man who was the original holder of the box who had recently died. The auctioneer said they have been very backed up as many estates have been released from probate so he can sell them. When I got home, I found only a few clues that the man had fought and died in 1945. His belongings had all gone to the lost letter division to eventually find a relative.

The box contained insurance receipts from his father's estate that he had been receiving before the war and then all his correspondence was labelled and stamped 'address unknown – undeliverable' and then went to the dead letter room. So, it left me with questions. Who is the son who died?

I had a copy of his service ID from 1945. I went to look up his name on the obituary site and what came to my attention were two in memorial for two children who had died (not related). These made me cry. This was from his father to his son's memory...

"Jonathan... In loving memory of a special son. We little knew that morning, God was going to call your name. In life, we loved you dearly. In death, we do the same. It broke our hearts to lose you. You did not go alone. For part of us went with you, the day God called you Home. You left us beautiful memories. Your love was high and wide. In our sleeping dreams, we meet you. You are often by our side. Our family chain is broken, and nothing seems the same, but as God calls us one by one, the chain will link again."

Then there was this memorial of a father remembering his little girl...

"The lilacs off the corner of our deck are coming into full bloom as they do every year. I love them. And I hate them. And for the same reason. They remind me of our daughter, but at the same time, they remind us that this is the time of year we lost her. 25 years ago today, a quarter century, hard to believe. But even after all these years, she is still right there in my heart... in our hearts."

All of this was difficult to read and I cried. Father, the sting of death is against the hearts of the living. You can never know how important a moment with that person is until that moment passes and becomes a memory. Then there is nothing we can do to capture it fully. I love You, Lord. I love my family and our friends. Please strengthen us for what is to come. The obituaries are becoming larger and with much younger people. The estate sales are many and comes with the selloff of properties.

Me: "Oh Lord, people are in great despair now. My dreams are filled with people needing deliverance. So many people need Your divine assistance."

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "Erin, I am here. I am with you. I am the God who sees. I am not blind to the deeds of the wicked. Why do you believe I told you to pick up the dead letter box?"

Me: "I am not fully sure."

Jesus: "If you examine what was in the box more carefully, you will see My love is like that of the father's. Through My own blood, sweat and tears, I paid the price of the insurance policy faithfully. I did this so that, when I was called from the Earth, I left those I love with the assurance of a Heavenly policy.

"This is a promise that My Recompense is with Me. If you notice in your box, year after year after the father had left the son, the son was mailed certificates until then too the son was called home and the fulfillment of the promise of the father to his son was complete."

Me: "Lord, You are both wise and brilliant!"

Jesus: "Well, Erin, the story is not finished. The dead letters were found. They weren't lost but found."

Me: "Isaiah 43 keeps coming to my attention these last few days. Are You speaking to me through Isaiah 43, Lord?"

Jesus: "Erin, study this and believe what is written. Those whose hope is in Me will not be disappointed. I know you have been worried, Erin. You see the wicked plundering from the poor and you see the powerful enslaving the weak. Well, I am about to do a new thing. Erin, all who were once lost will be found by Me. Sons and daughters will be healed and returned."

Me: "Oh, like in Isaiah 49?"

Jesus: "Well, yes. There is a war waging in which you cannot see. Because many do not understand it, they are unable to recognize it. A great form of evil has begun to gather like a cloud over the nations. A war unlike any the world has ever known is here. A deception is here that is so great, it is difficult to imagine such evil."

Me: "What is it, Lord?"

Jesus: "What have you been observing?"

Me: "Increases in evil and bizarre behaviors in people. Uptick in demonic possessions, suicides, violent crimes, an overall increase in lawlessness. Up here, there are emergency hirings for healthcare workers. There are big expansions in mental health.”

Jesus: “The war has begun against the souls of man. This is the battle of the mind through mental warfare. They use people’s own information to manipulate them. Through these methods, the enemy doesn’t have to be with you in the room. They can control a person from across the Earth.”

Me: “Lord, their capabilities are so advanced, no human will be able to stand against this. They will be able to take out whole countries, whole populations, and destroy them. They can modify someone’s likes or dislikes and turn them away from truth to believe lies and even to disobey the law. We then have children dying from drugs and other means. Oh Lord, please help us soon. Please protect us. I am scared.”

Jesus: “I am here, Erin. I am God over all. I am showing you the plans of the enemy against the righteous. However, I am greater than he. If I wasn’t, he would then give no thoughts to Me. I would be as a fly he could catch in mid-air. So too would be you and those who follow Me. However, he knows I am God over all things. But to those who wonder if something is good, true and holy, then what do I say?

“The eye is the light of the body; so then if your eye is clear, your whole body will be full of light. But if your eye is bad and you look upon that which is dark, then your whole body will become bathed, not in light, but of darkness (based on Matthew 6:22-23).

“Then too be careful of how you listen. Pay attention. Those who understand these mysteries will be given more knowledge. However, some people won’t understand these mysteries so even what they think they understand will be taken away from them (based on Luke 8:18).”

Me: “Lord, You are wise beyond wise. You are knowledge and truth. Help us to stay strong and careful. Help us to remain in Your favor and love. Let us not stumble and miss any good and perfect thing from You. My Lord, my Father, my Love and my King, I will be careful with...

- What I see.
- My thoughts.
- What I hear or listen to.
- Whom I trust.
- My words and tongue.
- My heart.
- My provision.

- My talents.
- What I consume.

“I want so much to be worthy as a daughter of the Most High King! I love You, Lord. I pray this blessed You.”

Jesus: “I accept your will to do good. This is good for all to be watchful daily as the enemy continues to advance. However, you are not to worry as I have a great plan. Now, rejoice, Erin, as I am with you.”

Dream over.

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day here! Thank You for being our God. Praise You in all the Earth. Praise You in the Heavens. Praise You for eternity. We love You. Thank You for Your love and mercy. Thank You for Your patience and grace. We long for peace. I need Your help with a dream...

Sub-Dream 1 "In the Shadows of the 4th Reich" begins...

I was a younger architectural designer working on a very large project. The home I was working on was very modern. Not only did I work there, but I had slept there overnight. While sleeping and in a dream, I once again heard the voice of an angel of God...

Angel of God: "Beware of the Trojan Horse!"

When I awoke from the dream, I wondered about what was surrounding me that could be related to a 'Trojan Horse'. As I laid there half asleep, I noticed that there were no coverings on the windows. While I could see out, no one could see in. I soon got out of bed and put on my work attire.

I was preparing to make a large presentation before a panel of architects. I had to prove I was worthy to remain in the project until completion. They had been highly suspicious of me and didn't like me at all. I knew that it was the Jesus in me that they hated. I drove to an area that was like Washoe Country NV. I recognized the area as this is where I lived and where much of my extended family are from.

I had a meeting at 9:00am. When I arrived a few minutes early, I was told that the meeting time had changed to 11:30am. I noticed that the board members were meeting in a boardroom. As I was speaking to the receptionist, the board adjourned from the room.

There were nine men in suits exiting the room. They were older; seemingly in their 50s and 60s. They were all wearing very expensive suits.

One of the nine men approached me. His hand was in his pocket and he was jingling some change.

Man: "Are you Erin?"

Me: "Yes."

Man: "You apparently didn't receive our change in schedule."

Me: "No, I didn't."

Man: "Since you now have a couple of hours to kill, you will have more time to prepare in the conference room. I left a binder with our docket of architects. I will allow you to see what you are up against. Given that you are pretty young, I am not certain you will be able to gather up the resources you will need to complete the demands of the project. Since there will be billions of dollars at stake, there will be scrutiny."

Me: "Thank you. I will look at it and I will be here at 11:15am."

Man: Looking doubtful of my abilities. "Alright then! Good luck! You will need it. There is much at stake." The man walked off, jingling change in his pocket.

I proceeded to the conference room. There was a black 3" binder on the table. I began to scan the docket for my competition. The names listed were the biggest in the industry. Was I there as a joke? Perhaps. Why was I even selected to be here? The table the binder was on was oblong with a pedestal base. It was made of mahogany and walnut. It had an electronic hub for all kinds of different communication devices.

As I lifted the binder, it slipped from my hands and fell onto the floor. When I bent down to pick the binder up, I noticed that there were hidden retractable drawers under the tabletop. I reached under the table and opened one of the drawers. I took out one of the small folders and placed it in the large binder. I then took the binder with the small folder in it and went out to the attendant.

Me: "Would I be able to take this with me? I would bring it back with me at 11:15am."

Woman: "You may. Just be careful with it."

I took the binder with the hidden folder in it out to my car. I opened the hidden folder. I was in shock. I could tell that this was something I was not to have access to. It was a group title that I did not recognize...

Operation Trojan Horse

Agenda: Landscape Transformation Initiative ("LTI")

Objective: Carry out the framework of reshaping the current landscape, reformation of government, education, religion and finance under one governance:

- Removal of visionaries and dreamers.
- Removal of variety of goods and services.
- Removal of church denominations as competing with government directives.
- Further strengthen the FBI to track progress.
- Removal of inferior genetic groups.
- Removal of those who have reached their maximum potential.
- Removal of the aged and those who are in decline.

As I continued to scan through the folder, I saw that they had already selected a candidate for the position. The rest of us had already been eliminated. To me, there was no need for me to return for the meeting. While I went back to return the large binder, I decided to keep the small folder. I approached the attendant.

Me: "Here is the binder. I am sorry, but I will need to cancel my 11:30 am appointment. I received a better offer."

Woman: "You are not allowed to do that. You don't understand what you are doing. You can't..."

Me: Interrupting her. "Okay, okay. I will keep my appointment. I will be back here at around 11:15am."

The woman seemed relieved. It was as if her life depended on this.

Woman: "I don't think you have time to leave. I think you should stay here now. Your time has almost arrived."

Me: Pretending to agree with her. "No problem. Where is your powder room?" The woman pointed to the executive lounge. "Okay, thank you."

I walked into the executive lounge and could see cameras. I walked into the restroom and into a stall. I felt I was in a predicament, so I prayed. Just then, a door appeared. I stepped through it. I was now far away from the boardroom and their evil agenda.

There in front of me was an angel of the Lord. There before me was a table and an open book. The angel pointed to the page that it was opened to. As he did not speak, I suddenly realized that the angel was Breakthrough.

Me: "I need help with this situation, Breakthrough. The Lord has given me a dream that is quite complicated."

Breakthrough again pointed to the page that the book was opened to. I read it...

"Germany 1919 – Beginning of the 3rd *** "

Note: The word after "3rd" was indistinguishable. PERHAPS it was something like "Upheaval"? Again, not sure. It didn't SEEM to be the word 'Reich', but perhaps?

Under this was a timeline of events that the enemy had put together. Breakthrough whistled for my attention. He picked up the book and turned it to the front title...

"The Book of the Fallen"

He then turned the front cover open. There was a page to describe the contents. It contained the records of judgments and the dockets of God's Courts against the evil upon the Earth.

Me: "Oh, this makes sense. However, this seems so thin."

Just then, Breakthrough turned my attention to the Records Room. It was so vast, so long and so wide that I could not see the end walls. The racks were high and stacked with Books of Records for the Day of Judgment.

Me: "Wow, this is incredible! It brings me comfort that God is in control and He keeps records of the deeds of the wicked."

He then pulled out another book. It was on the USA. The pages looked like the ones about Germany.

Me: "Okay, so the same evil, just at a different time. Okay, so, this is happening now. Where are we on the list?"

He showed me how the original playbook from Germany around 100 years ago was being modified for now. However, the media was prevented to speak on this. It was the rise of the 4th Reich.

Sub-Dream 1 over.

I then heard a loud boom and woke up from the dream. I quickly got up and went to the Lord. I was upset.

Me: "Lord, this dream was so disturbing. Can You not keep the USA from becoming 'Nazified'? This seems hopeless. Please help us. We need You."

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "I am here, Erin. I am with you. Do not worry or be afraid. Yes, it was I who gave you this dream. You need to know that I am the God who sees evil and knows who hides. Angels gather evidence in books that cannot be burned or removed. The records have increased over the last ten years as the enemy seeks to defile all that is good and holy. However, remember that the enemy takes no one from Me as I have the keys to life and death."

Me: "Lord, the amount of people the enemy has killed is staggering. I lost count. It all comes from dictatorships. They then decide to kill off any people with dissenting opinions. Any opposition is violently removed."

Jesus: "Erin, I know. The early 1900s seemed like an opportune time for the enemy to accelerate evil against the children of God."

Me: "Lord, it is hard to understand why You, the One we love so much, would allow any of this."

Jesus: "While I understand, please realize this... his goal was much loftier. He had plans to eliminate many more than those who died in the Second of the World Wars. Given the destruction during this time, the enemy has seemed relatively quiet since then. However, he has been redirecting and re-strategizing. He carries with him a worm that never dies. It is a worm of evil.

"This worm feeds off the remains of the victims and spreads. It covers like a blanket. It finds access and breeds from rot. Now look at what is happening today. Where did that worm go? What is the Ishtar Gate? Where is this? This I spoke by My Word: 'I know thy works and where you dwell, even where Satan's seat is (Revelation 2:12-13).'

"Now, I want you to understand what is occurring and the times you are in. On August 28, 2008, the stage was set (see note below). Erin, one leader began his campaign against God and he rose to power. Read back his words from his speech as they are like a playbook hidden in plain sight."

Note: The Lord is referring to then-Senator Barack Obama's acceptance speech on August 28, 2008 as the Democrat's candidate for President at the Democratic National Convention in Denver CO. The stage replicated the seat of Satan as in Pergamum. The Transcript of this speech is quick to find on the internet.

Me: "Lord, he also went many times to speak in Berlin (Germany)."

Jesus: "It is not just what was spoken in Berlin, it is what he says in his beguilement of the peoples of the Earth. He has the audacity to do all his evil in plain sight. He continues to lead. He spoke at the gate with the Four Horses of the Apocalypse over him as he spoke.

"However, to Me and the angels of the army of Heaven and God, his self-perception of his superiority is what he was declaring. He then formally introduced himself to the world on June 19, 2013 (see note below). This was less than six months after the permission was granted in late-December 2012."

Note: The Lord is referring to now-President Barack Obama's speech on June 19, 2013 at the Brandenburg Gate (Pariser Platz) in Berlin, Germany. The Transcript of this speech is also quick to find on the internet.

Me: "Why was 'the stage set' at the Denver Convention in August of 2008?"

Jesus: "The presentation of what was to come and the chosen elect of the system of the beast was given rise in the land of the horse."

Me: "Are you referring to horses as in the Denver Broncos in a light-hearted manner?"

Jesus: "Well, yes. Now, you understand the great rage and anger that came as I appoint the leaders and raise them up. The enemy knew that God and His army was also here, even at the gate. Now, let us review the Four Horses (of Revelation 6):

- The White Horse: Let's start with the White Horse. This one presents himself as good, like a savior, but make no mistake, he is the opposite of Me. His tongue is smooth with lies. He is clever and smart because his spirit originates from Heaven. He is a triumphant horse that struts and knows he has power. He speaks with authority. He subdues into submission anyone who attempts to thwart his powers. (Revelation 6:1-2)
- The Red Horse: The Red Horse is enraged and declares that there will be no peace. The White Horse rides with the Red Horse and represents war and division. He carries a sword of lies and declares war and calls for uprisings. While also interested in global wars, he is now more focused on civil wars and bloodshed. Any opponent is to be subdued and removed, cutdown if necessary. (Revelation 6:3-4)
- The Black Horse: The Black Horse brings famine. However, its rider also carries weighing scales for wheat, for bread. The scales also represent the balance of justice. However, justice is tipped and favors corruption. This increases the distress and mourning of these days.

(Revelation 6:5-6)

Me: "Lord, I thought that this was for a later time. All is expensive now. Wheat, oil and wine; all of it is now expensive!"

Jesus: "Erin, it is being done on purpose. The oil was made expensive. Oil in the times of Rome was oil for cooking. As for today, not only is oil for cooking expensive, so too is the oil for fuel. Corn, meat and other foods are expensive. This is a means of punishment. This is because they are trying to transfer the wealth. This is how they destroy a nation and bring others down with them.

- The Pale Horse: Then there is the fourth horse, the Pale Horse. Permission is given to kill a quarter of the Earth, to destroy the nations with plague, sword and famine. (Revelation 6:7-8)

Me: "But, Lord, You are more powerful than the enemy's schemes. The Great Harvest must still come! Please, Lord. This would mean that billions more are going to die. Please stop this, Lord. People still love You. You have so many who pray to You. There is still so much more for us to do!"

Jesus: "Erin, please do not be afraid. I am with you. The enemy is not in control. He is behind the scenes and enjoys the platform. His vanity is too much to stay silent. Now, I mentioned all of this because you understand the same pattern occurred 100 years ago to set the stage for great evil (Nazism). The same is true now. Justice is unbalanced. There are wars and rumors of wars. They are calling for civil war.

"The (antichrist) enemy is behind it from a remote location. I told you I was turning up the heat before the highest court in the land turned over the evil law back to the decision of the people (Roe v Wade was finally struck down on June 24, 2022 after almost 50 years). I allowed this because the time appointed from the beginning is soon at hand. My Judgment is falling upon the land and evil is not happy.

"Now watch what I am about to do. There is a war, Erin. There is a war over you that you cannot see. While you feel its effects, you cannot see it. The enemy's plans are to unify the nations against the USA and Israel, lands dedicated to Me as My land. The plan is to destroy the young, the children, the babies and the fighting men by death using war, plague, starvation and even poison. Foreign armies in plain clothing are bringing poison with them to kill off many millions."

Me: "You are speaking of fentanyl. I knew it because, if they came to make money, they would want repeat customers. A dead customer can't be a repeat customer."

Jesus: "They are setting out to kill by design. What is planned for churches and Christians are much worse now. However, remember that I am fully in control. I know who leaked the memo (outlining the court's position on abortions months before June 24, 2022). I know who did this and they will be exposed. Erin, this is not over. I am here. I see. Now, can you trust Me?"

Me: "Of course, Lord, of course."

Jesus: "Good. Do not worry. Whatever I instruct you on is good. It is good to receive this as this is sound. Prepare your house as I am sending heat. I am also soon to shake the nations. However, in all things be strong and courageous. There are more of us than there are of them, understand?"

Me: "Yes, Lord. I just read C.S. Lewis. Here is a quote from him... 'Aim at Heaven and you will get Earth thrown in. Aim at Earth and you will get neither.' Quite clever, really."

Jesus: "This is good as your Home is in Heaven. This is where you reside with Me. Pray for those who are lost with no understanding who are easily led like a horse to slaughter. They will be the most shocked when truth is revealed to them.

"It is the wise who have done evil and are aware of it who will continue to remain in the lie even when truth is shown to them. They will run from truth as it is too familiar to them as their home is of the Earth. Pray for them that, when they go through the Great Tribulation, they turn to God instead of cursed lips of slander unto the depths of Sheol.

"Now, I know this has been an exciting time, but also a difficult one. Please remain in Me and sow into the Kingdom of Heaven, your Home, and you will see increases on Earth as it is in Heaven. Troubles will remain far from you. Rejoice, Erin, for I am with you. Rejoice!"

Dream over.

Communion

Dear Father,

You are God over all things! You are great and mighty. Your ways are so much higher than ours. You bless us in so many ways. I can't measure or count all Your works. You have blessed me with another day here. I have done nothing to assure I have tomorrow. I have confidence that I will live today. We have learned to lean on Your promises. Each day that I am allowed to stay here is a blessing and a miracle.

I have been watching a pregnant deer that has been roaming our property. While it looked skinny, its belly was extended in a telling way. I last saw her pregnant on Thursday. However, this morning, I saw her with a new doe. The pregnancy was a success and there was now a new life that came from it. The mother and doe looked so happy to roam freely together. Thank You, Lord, for new life.

Father, lately You have been speaking to me about redemption and what it means to be a child redeemed of the Lord. You have shown me what it means to be called out of darkness, destitute spiritually and in complete despair. You pulled me from the muck and the mire and placed my feet upon Solid Rock. Thank You for doing this for me as I didn't fully understand the true nature of Your unconditional love for us.

I wondered how someone could love me. If my own mom struggled with how to love and be loved, what did I come to know from her about love? How then could I know God's love when I could not see Him or physically touch Him? Then there is my earthly father. He promised great things, but never once followed through. He did not love me. I struggled with this love concept and Your mercy and grace.

I struggled to be apart from those who claimed to love me with their lips, but their actions in simple things didn't match the definition of love of parents to a child. I instead became familiar with sinking sand and mud. Well, it was more like tar, where lies, deception, self-loathing and gas-lighting tried to rewrite my memory banks. Much history has now passed and it cannot be rewritten.

It is better to accept what has happened and affirm its factual existence to those who experienced it. The trick is to then not repeat those mistakes. This sets free all parties involved. To lie about history and call it a fresh start is to expect others to follow you into a burning building. It is ridiculous. I spent many years learning how to love unconditionally and forgive those who only love with conditions.

After you have been placed on Solid Rock, it is easy to let go of the comfortable muck you were mired in. Once you let go, you are finally free. I ran into some of my biggest troubles when I was half in the mud and half clinging to the Rock of Salvation. I then made the mistake of calling others when I was still half in the mud and mire. I said great things with my lips, but then followed a different action. I then cried out to God...

Foolish me (from many years ago): "Hey, You put me on this Solid Rock and then You left me. My friends are in the sinking sand and mud. My family is in there. How will I make it alone? I am exposed and deserted here. Hello? God? Are You there?"

I sat there and felt sorry for myself. Storm after storm then came. After a while, I no longer recognized the people I once knew. I saw them differently. I spent many years from the time I accepted Jesus into my heart until He redeemed me on that Rock. I felt alone and isolated there. I kept mostly to myself. Since then, I have come to fully realize that I didn't earn or deserve anything God has done for me...

- I hung onto Isaiah 54 and its promises for me.
- In emergencies, I repeated Psalm 46:5.
- When I dreamt of a husband, Psalm 45 was a special romantic hope of me as the Bride and Jesus as our Groom, our Shining Prince.

As for now, while the world is calling for peace, they are really preparing for war. They declare peace, yet there is no peace. Oh Lord, Prince of Peace, we need You to run interference for us. I thank You for redeeming me. Thank You, Lord, for being our Perfect and Faithful God. Lord, please help me with my dream. Years ago, I had a dream of a valley very similar to this one...

Sub-Dream 1 "A Valley surrounded by Hill Caves" begins...

I was standing in a valley. All around me were hills and, dug into the hills, were many caves. I awoke on a beautiful bed in a room filled with light like the sun. A dove appeared and made cooing sounds. I said hello as the dove walked around and then down a hallway. He then flew out of a side window and landed on top of a rock wall.

I came out to follow it and I could see to the valley floor. A war had occurred as there were charred remnants. I looked all around me and thousands of saints were coming out of their dwellings as if they had been asleep. All were quiet. One of the saints then cheered. Right after, we all joined in his cheering to God. I was not as I am now. I was Transformed and felt so alive and excited.

Sub-Dream 1 over..

Me: "Lord, I am struggling today. I need Your help."

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "I am here, Erin. I am with you. Right now, you are restless and concerned about many things."

Received on Monday, July 4, 2022

Me: "Lord, when will You come for us?"

Jesus: "The Appointed Time from the beginning."

Me: "Oh Lord, there are so many signs now. There are more signs every day. The prophecies are being fulfilled before our very eyes. It is both exciting and frightening at the same time. It is difficult some days. Lord, You have shown me what is coming and it is frightening."

Jesus: "I am here. Now listen and please understand that I know that the hearts on the Nest are troubled. Evil has increased as the hearts of man are tested. Remember when I came as God in flesh? I came to atone for man's sin. I came to keep him from spiritual death. My Father in Heaven gave Me the Keys to release the captives into eternal life. Now, what is My purpose?"

Me: "Is it to show Your Power and Might?"

Jesus: "Well, yes, this is true. I will establish the Kingdom of Heaven as it is on Earth. When I ascended to be with My Father, I went to prepare a place for all those I have called, as well as those who accept My call to eternal life. You have only seen a fraction of what I have built for those I love. Now, why am I not moving quickly to stop the current wave of evil? This is because many more will be harvested when they know that their only true hope is with God, understand?"

Me: "Yes, Lord, I understand. Even so, can I make a case for Your people?"

Jesus: "I am listening."

Me: "We love You. Our only hope is in You, not the world. You pulled me from the muck and mire. I now stand on the Rock of Your Foundation. However, the skies are growing dark and the winds are picking up. Even the ground shakes and the seas turn and foam. Please strengthen us. Please protect our houses, our jobs, our families and all of us who love You.

"I now realize that I looked for You even when I was a little child. When I questioned why so many bad things happened to us, I didn't think You cared or saw all that unfolded. However, now that I am older, I realize that this was the beginning of Your call upon my life.

"As You know, in this current season, I have been in stunned disbelief in what we have been witnessing in the world. The wave of evil is so fast moving and prevalent. I can barely believe my eyes and ears. I have been mourning for the lost, Lord. How on Earth will any of us survive unless You rise in us?"

Jesus: "These questions you have are good. I will strengthen you soon in a supernatural way. Each day, it is good to keep watch and prepare your hearts. Ready your gates for when the Kingdom of Heaven is revealed upon Earth. The world has never seen such a move of God as that which is soon to come. You are encountering the acts of war in a battle that has never been seen on battlefields.

"This is uncommon to the expectations of wars that history has framed. All these things are new to these generations. You are in the midst of a world war that is advancing the 4th Wave of Evil. Those who have kept old history books and manuscripts understand what they are experiencing. However, most others are in a state of denial and refuse to believe that which is right before them. As such, they say nothing.

"Those who do sound the trumpets or the clarion calls are persecuted for sounding the alarms. Erin, when you were a child, you understood how easy it was to be led into darkness when there was no one to stop you. As for today, the children are being led astray and the spirit of confusion meets them there. When the parents discover this and speak up in protest, they are silenced and their control is further removed.

"Please understand the magnitude of evil that has come over the nations. You can see how the enemy began to mobilize his units in 2015.

However, he had already set out the groundwork long before this. What ended in failure when Israel was reestablished caused him to change his strategies slightly and relaunch with great global ambitions.

"He met in secret with global leaders and made great promises. Because these leaders were hungry for power and cultural popularity, vanity and pride then drove them to follow one system of governing. The enemy made known his position, as well as his plans. He used various methods and weapons even though he never personally fired a single shot. He is the complete liar."

Me: "What is a complete liar?"

Jesus: "One who enjoys lying boldly and with audacity even when all who hear it know it is not true. He has enlisted armies of those who are willing to strike out against truth with an audacity of lies. This is a new way, a liar's battlefield. Those with no understanding or those who had differing views opposed to My Word of Truth were emboldened and, in turn, embraced the doctrine of evil against all that is good.

"Still, Erin, you are to remember that I am God. I am over the nations, the waters, the skies and below ground in the depths, as well as in the Heavens. While you cannot see everything, you now feel it. Remember that I have more armies to call up in the ranks. I have secret weapons and things that defy a man's conceived notion of who I am. This is mostly because the armies of the enemy have claimed there is no God or that God does not see or care."

Me: "Oh Lord, please do not wait long! This year is now more than half over. At the speed in which evil has spread, so many people no longer believe in God. They are following other gods. Churches are burning. The Bible is considered hate speech. Street preachers are being arrested. In other countries, parishioners are being murdered."

Jesus: "Oh Erin, I am here. There is no need to cite current events as I know all of them. However, I will tell you this... it is what you do not hear about that is of concern also. I will arise in My people at the perfect time."

Me: "Lord, I think Your plagues are signs happening now. There are locusts, earthquakes, famine, covid and other variants."

Jesus: "Erin, the enemy has struck down all evidence that the Kingdom of God is here. While you can see quick bits of information, then it is gone. However, it matters not. The enemy cannot thwart the plans of God no matter what. Why? It is because God, My Father in Heaven, has angel armies, the saints who have gone before you, My prophets and some scholars.

“Erin, you know the times you are in. When you watch the enemy become enraged, it is because he knows his plans are failing. He then quickly strikes out against the innocent and accuses them falsely. He does this with those who are with him. He knows. He knows that I am here and that I see all he does. Make no mistake... his platform is hate and injustice. He moves quickly against any opposition.

“As for those near him that cease to be useful to him, they are removed in shame and even to the grave. Now, what about the rebellious youths you see that he claims are his army. Well, he plans to kill them all in spiritual death so they will join him in an eternity of torment. He hates God’s Creation, but especially man. This is a war between God and those He removed from Heaven and now His Courts.

“The enemy weaponizes man against each other and causes great spiritual death by defilement and the rejection of Me as their Creator and Savior. He calls on the youth to reject all of what I have prepared for those who turn to Me. Erin, I am preparing for a Great Harvest. When the Great Move of Heaven comes, this will include Great Waves of healing and miracles.

“There will also be a reckoning of truth. All evil will be exposed and televised. Since I spoke life into existence in the beginning, I can then also speak into My ‘God Network’ and go into every man’s place of business and even where they dwell. The deceivers and the liars will not escape truth. Now, let Me review this... I came as a Savior to atone for sin.”

Me: “Yes. Around 2000 years ago. So, for 2000 years, You have been the Architect of our Eternal Home.”

Note: In Jesus’ reply below, there are several parenthesis explaining the possible applicable periods. It should be noted that this was our best guess of what these periods are and not a “Lord Sayeth”. Please keep this in mind when you read His reply below.

Jesus: “Well, it has been longer than 2000 years as it was from the beginning. Instead, I have prepared dwelling places for My Bride and saints in Heaven. When I come again, it is to bring gifts to My Bride and, together, we will enjoy a great gathering of souls, the harvest of the hearts reconciled to Me (the period from the Transformation to the Rapture). All are then gathered (in the Rapture) and taken up to Heaven. Great joy and celebration will then continue there.

"In the meantime (after the Rapture), My Bride will dwell with Me in Heaven. However, they will appear to dwell on Earth. While there, My Bride will not be harmed as she ministers to all those who remain (post-Rapture / pre-Second Coming). She will be like a vineyard dresser who checks on the late grapes to watch for when they too will be ready. These days will be very dark and difficult (leading up to the Second Coming).

"My Bride will also be gathering evidence for the final days of judgment (the Second Coming). The whole Earth will then see Me come upon the Earth and, with Me, the Sword of Truth. The lands will be greatly moved and kings of nations and wealthy men will come to Jerusalem where all will see that I am God and I will not be moved. They will then declare that I am God."

Me: "Thank You, Lord, for such clarity. No wonder I have been attacked relentlessly lately. The enemy doesn't want me speaking about any of this."

Jesus: "I know that this has been difficult. It is very hard to see people who you thought highly of now be so removed from all that is good. Even so, Erin, be encouraged, as I am the God of Second Chances. I am the Redeemer and the Lover of your soul. Youth today have been taught that all things are possible to those who force it to be by striking out against all that is lovely and good.

"Erin, the age of rebellion is now here. However, so too is the Great Move of the Kingdom of Heaven! I am here, even at the door. I am in you, Erin. Now rejoice, rejoice, as I am with you. I will continue to send gifts and favor to My Bride as you wait for Me. Now, keep oil in those lamps and stand watch in all hours.

"Very soon you will hear My attendants, My 'Groomsmen Angel Armies', making great noise. In great excitement, the Bride will prepare herself to be swept off her feet. This will happen, Erin, when I open the door to collect her and her attendants. The party will be gathered together with great celebration. There will be no uninvited attendees."

Me: "I think I understand. However, I need to make sure that I have the proper attire."

Jesus: "Oh Erin, do not worry, as all will be provided. I love you, Erin. Let your heart not be troubled when the enemy seems to be winning the wars. I can assure you he is not winning and will not win. His evil is ambitious and no longer hidden. It is now in plain sight. Evil is making known their intentions.

“However, they are in great fear of the godly. Now rejoice as you are on the right side of His-story. My story is not their story. I am God. Be at peace that I am fully in control. Try to find joy today, Erin. Increase your joy, not your sorrow. I know you have been unwell, but I will strengthen and heal you. I love you and I will care for you.”

Me: “I love You, Lord. Bless You. I pray that my ‘Hurry Lord!’ comes soon!”

Jesus: “Do not worry, Erin, as I have a Great Plan!”

Dream over.

Communion

Dear Father,

I must be honest with You first. I must confess that I have been so worried, so stressed and so distraught over all that is coming. I am so sorry. Please forgive me. I clearly am not placing my full trust in You when I worry about so many things. Please forgive me. I am broken, Lord. I love You Our hearts are contrite before You. Please do not forget us. I had a vivid dream last night...

Sub-Dream 1 "A Delivery of Pure Living Water from God" begins...

We were attending a special event with very few tickets available. Our entire family was to attend. Early in the day before the event started, we were offered a special VIP upgrade to our ticket status. It cost us nothing. While of course we agreed to the upgrade, we were not sure what exactly this meant.

A few hours before the event was to begin, we received a delivery. The delivery consisted of an entire cart of water. However, this was no ordinary water. This was the purest of water, extremely rare and valuable. There was more than enough to last us a very long time. The delivery driver then cautioned us...

Delivery driver: "Do not give this water to just anyone who claims they are thirsty. Not all are thirsty, even with the shortages. They would instead prefer to steal this. These people have no interest in Living Water. It is for you, your family and your Nest friends to enjoy."

Me: "Thank you so much. Could you wait a second while I go get you a tip?"

Delivery driver: "No. I will not accept a tip. However, here is a tip from He who I am in service to... this is life-giving water, Living Water from God. Drink and be fully satisfied."

Sub-Dream 1 over..

Thank You, Father, for good things. There is no God like You in all the Universe. You are God above all in both Heaven and Earth. I read something profound at a Christian site. This was so fascinating to me that I wrote the list down. This helped to give me some comprehension on just how huge a miracle healing is, especially given that God created humans from the dust of the Earth (Genesis 2:7):

- The human body has 11 systems and over 37 billion cells.
- In a lifetime, the heart beats over 2 billion times.
- 60,000 miles of blood vessels pump blood through our body.
- There are 240 trillion connections to 100 billion brain cells.

This is just the human body that God created (Psalms 139). The writer of this article then goes on to state...

"God created all things in Heaven and our Earth, both visible and invisible, thrones or powers, rulers or authorities. This is unlimited by natural law. Jesus' divine authority calmed the raging storm, healed the sick, cast out demons and raised the dead."

So, Father, who is like You? No one! You are so intricate, so amazing and so magnificent that I can't even quantify You. You have knowledge over all things. You know our inner most workings, every part, even those which are sick or need repair. Since You built us, then too You can repair all that is broken. I am sorry for my attitude lately. I hunger and thirst for more of You. I had a dream two nights ago...

Sub-Dream 2 "The Angels will come back in Three Days" begins...

I was given a field. I didn't even know I owned it until I received a knock on my door. When I answered, there was a laborer standing there. He had his crew with him.

Laborer: "We noticed you have not prepared the field we passed by enroute to another. We know there is still time to prepare and plant prior to harvest if you decide to prepare this field. We will check back with you in three days if you would like assistance."

Me: "I am sorry, but I wasn't even aware I had a new field. Yes, please check back with me. However, I have a feeling the Lord needs me to prepare it."

Laborer: Smiling. "We work for the Lord. We were called to check on you and remind you it is there."

Me: "Oh, you are angels! Okay, I will go out and see what this is about. Could you direct me to where this is?"

The angel brought me out to an overgrown hillside that I had never seen before.

Me: "Where did this come from? How can it be planted?"

Angel: "It looks ready for a vineyard."

Me: "Really? Not for harvest though, right?"

Angel: "We will clear the brush off. You walk the field and pray. We will be back your way in three days to assist."

Within a matter of a few minutes, the beautiful hillside was cleared.

Me: "Thank you. I will see you in three days."

I then began to walk around on this new field. What a pleasant surprise! It was divided by a wide path of stone. Nothing could grow on the path. To the left of the path, the soil was perfect. On the upper right side, the ground was rocky. The lower right side consisted of low briars and thorns. I realized this was from the Parable of the Sower (see Matthew 13 for the details, a great read suggested for now). This was God's Living Word right there before my eyes. I prayed...

Me: "Father, this is a surprise field that I didn't even know existed. I have one patch of no soil (the path), one of rock or very little soil, one is filled with sharp thorns and the other is good soil for planting. I can't physically manage such a field in my current condition. While it is perfect for a vineyard, it is impossible for me to prepare without Your help. I need supernatural help from You. I can do nothing on my own."

Important Note on "in three days": The above sub-dream mentions 'in three days' three separate times. While the day referred to above could represent a literal day, it could also represent 360 days. We already know we are to go out for a time and times, which is $360 \times (1 + 2) = 1080$ days. Three days could be this same time period of 1080 days (equal to a 'week' consisting of $2520 \text{ days} / 7 \text{ days in a week} \times 3 \text{ days}$).

If it is 1080 days, this could be the harvest period leading up to the Rapture. However, I am already pretty sure that it is most, if not all, of the Nest's hope that it is a literal three days from this morning of Wednesday, July 13, 2022. If so, this lands on the dawn of Saturday, July 16, 2022. This is NOT a 'Lord Sayeth', just a personal observation on what this could possibly mean. Here is a summary of the three quotes:

- Quote 1: Laborer (really an angel): "... We will check back with you in three days if you would like assistance."
- Quote 2: Angel: "...We will be back your way in three days to assist."

- Quote 3: Me: "...I will see you in three days."

Sub-Dream 2 over...

Me: "Oh Lord, please help me with this. The field is huge, but we are small."

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "Erin, I am here. I am with you. You are not alone. I know you are tired and weary. I know that it seems your miracles are few and far between. However, I am now here and soon, very soon, My promises will be fulfilled. Now, you have been given an additional field. Parts of this field are difficult to farm. However, I sent help in advance to tend to this field."

Me: "Oh Lord, I am so sorry. I had no idea that I was neglecting a field."

Jesus: "How can you be guilty of neglecting a field when you were unaware of this until I sent angels disguised as laborers to show you? Now, I will help you to understand this difficult field as this is a bit different than what you have come to understand. While you believe you have an impossible task, this is not your task. Give all of this to Me. This time is unlike any other. It is like the parable of this field and the sowing of My Word. This time is different because this represents My Church. I want you to look now at this parable and understand what has happened to My Church."

I prayed and then looked at God's Word in relationship to the Church.

Matthew 13:18-23, Mark 4:13-20 and Luke 8:11-15 came to my mind.

Me: "Lord, the good soil is the journey of the Bride, the Bride You have selected from the Remnant of the field, Your Church. In reality, Lord, it is like my journey year after year, season after season, to finally take root in good soil and grow. Truth be told, I am like the seed in various conditions. The churches I belonged to were instrumental in my planting, but were also used by the enemy so many times to turn me away. Despite this, I finally took root and flourished."

Jesus: "Your analogy is good and there is truth. More than this though... My Church, My Word and My Character have all been profaned. The churches who claim to love Me now partition My Word and remove truth like trash, discarding this like waste. My churches fornicate with the world's gospel, not by My Word. So, the lost go from church to church, searching on the path for truth, but never taking root. They wander off to shallow soil."

"Then there are the churches with great marketing, greeters, music and coffee shops. Those who attend are quickly lost with no place to root in My Word. They are 'planted' in the midst of shallow dirt. Then there are the briars, the churches which choke the seeds and tender shoots. These churches claim to love sinners, but enjoy gossip and strife even more.

"It is an exhausting ordeal to attend the service as each parishioner continues to check their clocks during the sermon and upon exiting the building. The entire household longs to go home to sleep as they are exhausted and choked up for lack of the rarified air of Heaven. Erin, your field is a difficult one because three of the soils are difficult to harvest from. As such, I have sent you help in advance of what is about to come.

"What My Remnant will face will be difficult as you will understand what they have endured, but you will need to remain fully trusting in Me for the harvest. Those you believe you can help will often refuse you. Those you believe impossible to help will often run through flames to find Me. I will meet them there, understand? You won't find those I call you to in the pews of churches, but instead fleeing out from their front steps."

Me: "I understand, Lord. I have been there."

Jesus: "You will be attacked from the pulpits in the same way I was attacked from the altars. My Words were put through a sieve and only what worked for their purposes remained. Whole segments of truth were thrown away as if it were sludge, the sludge of uncomfortable laws and lessons from God on high.

"For these, holiness is optional. Abominations to 'the gods' are now deemed acceptable and made clean in their minds. Sinful practices are deemed holy by a doctrine of demons. It will not go well for those who were entrusted to My Fields and My Church. It will not go well for those who have made My churches a den of inequity."

Me: "Lord, please help me. I am not healed. The doctrines now being taught are not the Gospel of Truth. Please help us."

Jesus: "My Laws are not suggestions. My Word is not fiction. For many, My Word is not even worthy of the coffee table. This is because My Cover is no longer appealing to them. My Church has been soiled as this is a field that now only houses worms. Their roots are now sown in sin."

Me: "Lord, this is horribly sad. The world has been given over to sin."

Jesus: "Erin, I have a Great Plan. This field I have shown you will yield a record harvest unlike any before it. Now rejoice as there is much to do."

Me: "Lord, please don't allow the wicked leaders to destroy the planting and harvesting. They now want to eliminate most of the population."

Jesus: "I won't. Do not worry. I have you, Erin. I will bless the works of your hands. I will bless your way in all things. Rejoice. I have you and I will provide for you. I love you!"

Me: "I love You, Lord!"

Dream over.

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day! I am no one really. There are days I feel ill-equipped for all You have shown me. All I do know is this... with You, I can scale a wall or leap up a mountain. Apart from You, I am but a worm in dirt. I am nothing without You. My spirit is not joyful at what must be as so many do not see the incredible love You have for Your Creation. I have steadily grown from hearing about You to now chasing after You.

If people only knew how great You are and how full of love, grace and mercy You are. Well, there would be a lot of tears. Whole generations were taught to revere You first and above all things. However, these last few generations are instead being taught that You are nothing and have no power. They are taught self-worship. Father, there are still thousands of us who love You and live for You.

Although You would be justified in wiping off all the people from the face of the Earth, it isn't in Your model. You have a higher way to love, an unconditional way of loving, that we simply can't fully comprehend. As such, we wait on You as patiently as we can... which, at times, really isn't that patient at all. It is just that we are so looking forward to Your magnificent promises being fulfilled, Your Great Event, Your Grand Display.

We pray that this Great Day comes quickly. There are days when I struggle to find anything good as people have truly grown cold and aggressive. The demonic realm is manifesting in evil displays as even the enemy now knows You are near and ever at the door. I also now realize at this moment that I must repent for all the condescending comments I have made over the years about Your prophet Jonah.

I thought Jonah was a disobedient fool. I know, harsh... ouch! I never quite understood his defiance to do Your Will. Please forgive me for I now understand. Time after time, You called Jonah for this great task. However, it didn't go as Jonah had planned it was to go. He didn't agree with You on saving Nineveh. Well, even though You loved Jonah in a mighty way, You still had him in darkness in the belly of the whale for 3 days.

Jonah then repented and You quickly saved him. However, he still didn't agree with Your Will once he carried out Your instructions. He pouted because he didn't like the people. He became upset when the people of Nineveh turned to You. Just like Jonah and based on my dreams from last night, You will be sending us to some undesirable places and to people who have done horrible things.

Oh Lord, please strengthen us for this difficult task. Without You, we are nothing. At one point, when Jonah's shade plant died (Jonah 4), he proclaimed he would have been better off dead because he loved the plant so much. The Lord then reprimanded him by saying he should have more sympathy for the population of Nineveh than for a plant he did nothing to grow.

Quite simply, God wanted Jonah to have more sympathy for the 120,000 people! The Lord then pointed out something I hadn't noticed before. The shade plant for Jonah had come into being in a night and had perished in a night. How brilliant are You, Father! How You love us! Please make our vessels ready and yielding to Your great plans.

Me: "I pray with all my heart that I will not resist You when You ready me. I am empty of myself. I am as dust before You now. Please ready also my house, my children, those You have called and their children."

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "Be strong as I am with you. To My Remnant of the people... who is left amongst you that saw this House, My Temple, in its former glory?"

Me: "No one, Lord. There is no one on Earth who has seen the former glory of Your House. We only know of it from Your Word. There is no Holy House of the Lord physically standing today. Your Spirit is housed in our hearts instead."

Jesus: "Do not be afraid for, once more, in a little while, I will shake the heavens and the Earth and the sea and the dry lands. I will shake all nations so the treasures of all the nations shall be rendered and will fill My House. I will fill My House with glory. The silver is Mine. The gold is Mine. The latter glory of My House shall be greater than the former and in this place is peace."

Me: "Lord, this is Haggai that You are quoting."

Jesus: "No, Erin, Haggai was quoting Me. I am laying the foundation of My House and, through you, I will establish that you are My Workers."

Me: "Lord, help me to understand all of this."

Jesus: "What have I placed upon your heart for this time?"

Me: "Joel 2, Lord. You have placed Joel 2 on my heart. I saw darkness for three days. There was great fear that gripped the lands. There was mourning, even by the animals. Wild animals cried out in the darkness. Even those who were assigned to evil were in fear. However, an Army then came, an Army of Your Remnant in ranks. This was a Great Army, an Army that displayed awesome deeds.

"These awesome deeds were not from weapons made of steel, but by their hands. It was by their hands because You were working through each one. The nations were terrified as no weapons formed against them could stop them. This Great Army established that You were here with Your Great Glory. A Great Upheaval took place, like turning a field and preparing the soil for planting.

"Evil confessed. Evidence hidden was unearthed and exposed. They were unable to lie and their exposure was made public for all to see. Then after days of Great Upheaval came days of healing and rebuilding as a great number of the defiled and distressed came into God's care as Lost Sheep to their Shepherd. There was a great celebration with peace, joy, singing and praise amongst the nations.

"This was because God brought healing rains and great miracles. God made Heaven visible upon the Earth. Oh Father, I pray that I am not delusional. I pray that my pain and my brokenness has not caused me to hallucinate such a wonderful move of God. If I am hallucinating, then this too was allowed by You to comfort me.

"Father, my Lord, please allow these great and wonderful promises to unfold. Let them unfold just as Haggai and Joel were given. Let Your Bride, Your Remnant, be given Your Signet Ring as a mark of Your Authority to carry out Your Will in us. Let no evil stand against us!"

Jesus: "Your prayer is good. Your request is also good. I have a Great Plan. Do not be afraid. Always remember that I am completely in control of all things all the time."

A Note on Erin's previous statement of "I saw darkness for three days" (within the underlined part above): Analogous to the ninth plague that occurred during God's people's Exodus from Egypt, the world is soon to be plunged into total darkness for three days. This will obviously be horrifying to an unsuspecting world. As for us, Dream 88 strongly hints that we will instead be trained during these three days and that we are not to be worried about the darkness as we will be taken from it for such training. Since God knows best, even something as terrifying as this will have a great Kingdom Purpose! Yes, He is in absolute control ALWAYS!!

Dream over.

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day here! You are incredible, amazing, brilliant, powerful and marvelous. When I spend time in communion and prayers with You, I grow even closer to You. The Holy Spirit then floods my inner most being with healing rain. My soul becomes like a fountain of Living Water and my heart like a wellspring.

Bless You, Father. There is no greater joy than Your Spirit welling up inside me. I am overcome by Your goodness. Thank You for all You do for me and my household, my children, our friends and their children. We are all with You. Our hope is forever upon You. Even when we don't understand Your Clock and Calendar, we can be certain that You are in control of all things.

We can stand with confidence and assurance that You are here in the midst of us. Without You, nothing is possible. With You, nothing is impossible. With that in mind, we continue to press on and into You. My three dreams last night were profound...

Sub-Dream 1 "My Expensive Trip to Costco" begins...

Whole armies all over the world worked together undercover in the darkness of night to destroy all life as we know it. I saw farming fields and processing facilities set ablaze while it was still dark. I saw edicts going out declaring certain foods we use as staples daily as being poisoned as all the food that God declared good to eat was, in fact, methodically being poisoned.

Evil people sent out diseases to destroy animals, dairy products and the associated meat. However, they were not just stopping at meats and dairy. In my dream, I went grocery shopping at a Costco on a Monday afternoon. There was a sign in the meat department stating that all meat was bad due to some pathogen and would not be available until further notice.

Since this included all beef, pork, lamb and chicken products, I then saw a massive sell off of fish and seafood products. I then went to the dairy cooler area. This time there was a door closing this area off. I had never seen this door before. The sign read...

"We are sorry for the inconvenience. Until further notice, because of Pathogen B-2030, all dairy and products containing dairy have been removed from shelves."

There were still vegetables and fruits. However, the prices had skyrocketed. A package of corn was $29.99 for five ears of corn. A small package of berries was $25. All lettuce and leaf type salad products were completely sold out. I proceeded back to bread. There were still some tortillas. The bread available were the brands filled with additives. I took some muffins and they were $21 for a pack of six.

I went to the frozen area, but it was completely emptied. I then went to the dry goods area. There were security people there rationing all canned goods. The flour was gone. So too was the sugar. There was cooking oil, but it was $399.99 for three gallons. I decided to get the oil as it would be necessary for cooking and other things. I would share some with my neighbors as this was too much for our household.

Clerk 1: While helping me with the oil. "Now, you need to be really careful when going out to your car alone. Robbers are following people home."

Me: "Okay. I forgot how dangerous this can be when there are people starving."

Clerk 1: "It is all part of the plan, all part of the plan."

Me: "What plan?"

Clerk 1: "We all know there is no Pathogen B-2030. 2030 is their goal date. This is their estimation of when Operation Ark will be implemented."

Me: "What is Operation Ark?"

Clerk 2: Hitting clerk 2. "Quiet. You will get us fired."

Clerk 1: "What? It is not like anyone is believing us anyway."

Me: "Wow, is all of this strictly classified?"

Clerk 1: "Operation Ark is to ensure the survival of the fittest, their 'chosen', and removing the rest. They want to remove farmed food, remove food and remove life. Even so, the liquor stores are fully stocked and so are the cannabis shops."

I walked over to the pharmacy department. There were people angry and crying. A barred gate was over the pharmacy window. There was a sign...

"Due to shortages, we are unable to fill your prescription. Sorry for the inconvenience."

There were people fighting and yelling. I began to proceed to check out. I walked by the candies and sugar snack area. People were buying up these items. The lines were long. People kept eyeing the vegetable cooking oil in my cart. I was watching them. The woman in front of me had cereal, paper towels, gummies, some snack bars and other things. I watched her being rung through and it amounted to $500!

Then came my cart. I had some tortillas, some fruit, some beans and the cooking oil. Mine was also $500! I then noticed that the woman in front of me was stalling after her checkout. I was suspicious of her. I could then hear fighting breaking out in various places. It was spooky and quite concerning!

Checker: "The only affordable items are the sugar sweetened foods. I have diabetes. Most people will also get diabetes if this sugar centered dietary restriction continues. Death by sugar." She then tried to lighten the mood. "Well, I can think of worse things to die from than by sugar." I paid the $500 and was about to leave when the checker called out to me. "I will have someone assist you to load your car, okay?"

Me: "Okay."

The suspicious woman stayed near us. The parking lot was virtually empty now. An attendant helped me with my cart.

Me: "What is happening?"

Attendant: "We closed the store for the day. We are almost sold out. It is for safety purposes." He helped me load the car. "Now, be careful about people following you home."

I nodded in agreement. I then saw the suspicious woman. She had loaded her car and seemed to be waiting for me. As I exited, the woman from the checkout pulled up in the lane next to me. When we came to a stop sign, she motioned for me to roll down my window. I was about to do so when I realized that she was holding a gun. Before she could point the gun at me, I accelerated. She began to chase me.

Thankfully, I knew of a shortcut where she would not find me. I took it and pulled off into an area behind a dumpster. I watched as she sped by. I then went a whole different route home, adding 30 minutes to my trip. It was worth the extra time as I then arrived home safely.

Sub-Dream 1 over...

Sub-Dream 2 "God foils the Enemy's Plans" begins...

Over a period of 21 days, our local landscape had begun to change, all as we were sleeping at night. My daughter was the first to notice when she left early in the morning. She came back into the house and woke me up.

Daughter: "Mom, come out and look."

I went out with her. Some heavy equipment had been tearing down trees on the lot above us. Were they making way for more residents? I wasn't sure. There was a torrential downpour and the water began to flood our property. It was near dawn and the waters had receded. I realized that our home would often be flooded because of the removal of the trees. I saw a man with a clipboard...

Me: "Who is moving in here? Why did you remove all the trees?"

Man: "Solar panels."

Me: "But this will flood our home and our neighbors' homes."

Man: "You need to move. The laws in effect state it is now illegal to have private ownership."

Me: "Who voted for that? Not the people!"

Man: "It is an emergency order. I would suggest you move before your next residence is behind bars. They gave a 30-day notice to vacate. You now only have 9 days left."

Me: "Are there any exceptions?"

Man: "Only if your family is considered essential. Even then, you would live in the urban zones."

Me: "Where are we to go?"

Man: "You have few options. Sorry you didn't get the memo sooner. You are one of the last ones out this way."

Me: "So, do you only work at night?"

Man: "All of us do. It is less messy. There are less questions."

I then turned back to our property and noticed the water line that had receded. I then noticed a massive water truck.

Me: "Hey, wait a minute. That wasn't a natural downpour. You tried to flood our home on purpose, didn't you?"

Man: Laughing. "It is time for you to go now. The war is here and it is global. You can do nothing to fight it. You have no power."

Instead of replying, I walked away. It was daytime and all was clear again. All the evil workers were gone. We went out together and prayed for God to heal and restore the land. At 11:45am, an angel of the Lord came to our door and knocked.

Angel: "God will be deconstructing the area for the next four hours or so. No matter how loud or strange it seems, remain indoors. Darkness will fall whereby no man can see as God works. Do not fear as God is with you."

We all cheered! We then heard a rumble like thunder. We saw what looked like a scroll on the horizon. While it looked somewhat like a derecho (a massive dust storm), it was instead a wall of sheer blackness. After only a couple of minutes, we could not see anything outside. It was void. We heard so many sounds. We were terrified at the immense power of God. At one point, we felt our home lift off its foundation and turn.

For four hours, we huddled together. Then when the clock struck 4:00pm, we saw the sun appear again as a faded light. We then saw the sun appear as a faded light through black. It became brighter and brighter in series of red shades. Then the light returned. We went outside. God had restored everything, including our neighbors' properties. Our home had been lifted up and now sat higher.

The hillside was covered with trees again. Our road was now paved. All the landscaping had matured. We drove up the hill and our neighbors were back. Their homes were repaired. The farmers were also back. God removed the insane laws that were plaguing the farmers with unfair and punishing rules. We went home and turned on the news channel...

Newscaster: "It appears some anti-environmentalists with pro-population growth views had hired aliens to take back power. The global leaders have declared war. The power grids will be shut down at 6:00pm tonight and left off indefinitely by order of the United Global Initiative."

We then heard a knock on our door. It was an angel of the Lord.

Angel: "Do not worry. God will provide power for you. Do not be afraid. Tell your neighbors."

We did as the angel had instructed. That evening at 6:00pm, the power was cut off to the people. However, God provided light and power to cook and heat our homes. We went to watch the news again the next morning.

Newscaster: "Food will now be removed and well water will be made undrinkable. This will all happen at 6:00pm tonight."

At 6:00pm, a chemical truck came to pump chemicals into the water table below to destroy it. However, the Lord purified the water, making it even better than before. We then went back to watch the news the following morning.

Newscaster: "While you slept last night, all suppliers and farmers were forbidden to supply food to the residents in the rural areas."

We looked around the house. The pantry was fully stocked with the best food, produce, meat and breads. We asked the neighbors and they said the same had happened at their households. The government had been foiled, but they were unaware of it yet.

The government waited seven days for people to surrender in starvation from bad water and no food. What happened was the opposite. The government became furious when they discovered that God had frustrated their evil plans. The government then decided to forcibly seize their properties and their money. They announced at 6:00pm that the government would seize their holdings. An angel knocked on our door.

Angel: "God is angry. He will send illness upon each government house, including their leaders, associates, lawmakers and judges. They will have painful wounds and open sores until they relent. God will bring darkness over their houses and senates, their capitals and palaces."

At 12 noon the next day, darkness fell over these designated areas. The officials screamed out in pain from their wounds and yelled in fear of the darkness. The angel then appeared to them.

Angel: To the corrupt leaders. "Stop what you are doing or God will remove you."

Despite the warning, they did not stop. God healed the people and showed them the truth. When the people saw this, they overthrew the crooked government and the land received peace. It did not go well for the government officials.

Sub-Dream 2 over.

Sub-Dream 3 "A Black Storm vs An Airplane" begins...

Several people were boarding an airplane. The engines were on and the door had been shut. As people sat there, darkness rolled in quickly. It was a storm so dark that planes could not fly.

Pilot: Over the intercom. "I am so sorry, folks, but this storm is unlike any that I have ever seen before. Our entire fleet is grounded until it passes. Our instrument panels cannot fly us through this kind of storm."

There was moaning as the engines were turned off. The cabin door then opened. The pilot came back on the intercom.

Pilot: "Please hurry to the exit and take your belongings with you quickly."

The massive dark thick cloud had loud claps of thunder and bolts of lightning. It was as black out as anyone had ever seen. It was scary and people were confused as to what had just happened.

Sub-Dream 3 over.

The Lord has placed a portion of the story of Jonah upon my heart. I am certain it is not as often discussed as the book of Jonah is mostly known for Jonah being in the dark belly of the whale / fish for three days. I am instead going to focus on Jonah's love for the shade plant (starting in Jonah 4). This is my rendition and is not meant to be a word for word replication...

"Now the Lord God appointed a plant and made it come up over Jonah that it might be a shade over his head to save him from his discomfort. Jonah was exceedingly glad because of this plant. Still, Jonah did not have a change of heart. While he was glad for the plant to shade him, he was still bitter and angry at the Lord. God, at dawn the next day, appointed a worm that attacked the plant, so it withered.

When the sun rose, God appointed a scorching east wind and the sun beat down on the head of Jonah so that he was faint. And he asked that he might die and said 'it is better for me to die than to live.' But God said to Jonah 'Do you do well to be angry for the plant?' Jonah replied 'Yes, I do well to be angry, angry enough to die.'

The Lord then said 'You pity the plant, for which you did not labor, nor did you make it grow. Instead, it came into being in a night and perished in a night. And should not I pity Nineveh, that great city, in which there are more than 120,000 persons, who do not know their right hand from their left and also much cattle?'"

This was quite the message. The power of God is incredible, as is His Great Mercy.

Now, since yesterday's Word (Dream 621), I have been concerned and have desired revelation on the upcoming Three Days of Darkness as discussed. The Lord then led me back to a little book from 1907. It outlined an actual event that occurred on May 19, 1780. This is a little-known document on how darkness covered most of the eastern seaboard of the USA. There are also other sources documenting this event.

Yes, this darkness really happened. Many thought the day of judgment had come. It brought great dismay to both humans and animals. All the people dropped their secular pursuits and dropped to their knees before God. The darkness began between the hours of 10am and 11am on a Friday morning. It continued until the middle of the following night. According to witnesses, you couldn't read anything without a candle.

Rev. Elam Potter: "But, especially, I mention the wonderful darkness on the 19th of May 1780. Then, as in our text, the sun was darkened, such a darkness as was probably ever known before since the crucifixion of our Lord. People left their work in the house and in the field. Travelers stopped. Schools broke up at 11am. People lighted candles at noonday."

Then there was the case of the Connecticut legislature being in session when this darkness came. While a motion to adjourn was made, Mr. Davenport arose and said...

"Mr. Speaker, it is either the day of judgment or it is not. If it is not, there is no need for adjournment. If it is, I desire to be found doing my duty under God. I move for candles to be brought in and we proceed to business."

Records show the Connecticut house of representatives were adjourned for 3 hours (11am to 2pm) to check on their households. However, even with the darkness, they reassembled at 2pm as per Mr. Davenport's wishes.

At 8pm in the evening, the darkness was so thick that traveling was impossible. The moon rose nearly full at 9pm, but gave no light to distinguish between the Heavens and the Earth. The next evening, though the moon was full, also gave no light – May 20, 1780. Mr. Tenney, in Stone's history of Beverly Massachusetts, quoted by Mr. Gauge of the Historical Society, wrote this...

"The darkness of the following evening or night was probably as gross as it has ever been observed since the Almighty gave birth to light. A sheet of white paper held within a few inches of the eyes was equally invisible than the blackest of velvets."

He then spoke historically on this account...

"The latter part of the second night into the third day – following the dark days – about midnight, the darkness dispersed and the moon and the stars appeared with unimpaired brilliance."

Milo Beswick: "My father and mother, who were pious, thought the day of judgment was near. They had stayed up all night and told us the darkness had all disappeared, but that the moon was full and had the appearance of blood."

As recorded today: "There was never any known cause of this event – no volcanoes, no phenomena – which could cause such an event. The modern-day explanation claims it was a fire. However, not one account spoke of smelling smoke anywhere. The darkness was so thick that, if it had been smoke, then people would have died."

Father, please help me to understand why You have placed all of this upon my heart. I am so troubled at the way the world is now and how drastically things have changed in a very short period of time. Would people even think to turn to You, Father? I know that our family would within a few minutes... well, seconds really.

Father, it has been 2000 years since You walked the Earth physically. You are so wise and Your ways so much higher than ours. Our country, really countries and nations, have turned away from You and diminished Your Holy Name.

Me: "Oh Lord, they have tried to make you seem like a hateful non-caring myth. Anytime we see the headline of 'climate change', we know that it really means the war on God and Your people. Oh Father, may Your Will be done on Earth as it is in Heaven. We love You!"

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "I am here. I am with you. Erin, I know you are disappointed when dates come and go, but do not be. I am over all things. Now, you have questions about what is to occur. I can grant you something to consider. The history in My Word foretells events and keeps records of history. The prophets tell of things to come as given by divine revelation, dreams and visions.

"My Word was partially fulfilled when I was born of a virgin and raised up as a man to walk the Earth and testify that I was there to fulfill the Words of the prophets and set the captives free from sin. I also came to proclaim that I carried the keys to death and hell and Satan could not keep Me as I had risen from the snares of death and rose again.

"However, and more than this, I prepared a place for those who love Me, a place so wonderful that nothing is like this as you have seen. To mark a sign is to evidence it in both the Old Testament and the New Testament. As I have explained, what has been will be again and what has been done will be done again. Erin, there is nothing new under the sun.

“But what am I referencing? Because I can do a new thing, who can conceive it? Now it springs forth (Isaiah 43:18-19). Instead, remember this... the enemy and his armies originated from Heaven, but they fell. God gave certain parameters and conditions for them here on Earth. The enemy lost all his abilities to do anything new and innovative on Earth as in Heaven because God’s inspiration and favor was removed from him.

“Those who fell taught man the knowledge they already had carried with them from Heaven. However, because they were no longer of Heaven, they taught in bitterness and great hate for man. So, you see throughout history that evil and the patterns, the way of the course of evil, is wide, welcoming and takes the same route, all leading to darkness. Concerning evil, there is nothing new. All they are able to do is done by God’s timing and My Authority.”

Me: “Well, Lord, since You are God over all things, won’t You please do a new thing today? Oh please, Lord, we are just so excited about Your Great Plans.”

Jesus: “Yes, I have Great Plans. All is for My Glory. I see what the enemy is doing and his plans are lofty. However, I am God over all the Earth and My Glory will be as light breaking through the darkness.”

Me: “Lord, I am reminded of the three choices You gave David (2 Samuel 24:12-13). It seems like we are currently under all three.”

Jesus: “Look, Erin, the enemy is brazen. He has shown you who he is and it has been foretold in My Word where he comes from, what he does and where he is going. He knows this, so he mocks God. He paints portraits of himself. He quotes Scriptures. He begins wars. He causes strife.

“He is arrogant and boastful and uses My Words as his own. So many are deceived. However, remove light and even the animals and the birds of the air know God is testing all of the Earth. The enemy is going to call whatever I do, whatever storm I appoint, ‘Climate Change’. Well, for once, he speaks truth. I am changing the current climate to expose evil.”

Me: “Oh Lord, please Transform us! Heal us and fill us with Your Living Water!”

Jesus: “I am here. Do not worry. I am about to do something in your days you would not believe even if you were told. Now rejoice, Erin. Remember what I have promised. When the disciples asked Me how to pray, I told them. This has not changed. On Earth as it is in Heaven. What does this mean?"

Me: "No evil near us. We are healed and strengthened. We are set free from the enemy's grips. Our debts are paid. We are subject only to You. We can breathe. Because You are in us. We can display mighty deeds. You can heal through us... grow limbs, blind eyes to see, things lost will be found and raise the dead. You are so amazing in all You do!"

Jesus: "Then continue on your course knowing that all of this will be visible on Earth."

Dream over.

623 – God’s Great Plan for His Remnant

Received on Sunday, July 24, 2022

Communion

Dear Father,

You are wonderful, amazing, brilliant and beyond all descriptive words. You are strong and mighty. You are over the air, the water and the land. We are here because You have allowed us to live and breathe for and by Your honor. We have done absolutely nothing to come into being here. We are not our own creators. We are guests here for Your delight and pleasure. You determine a man’s days. You even map his way.

All You do in our lives from the beginning to the end is created by You. I look around us though and everywhere now the world is filled with unruly guests at Your party. They are treading on Your land and treating Your Holy Word with no regards. They are trampling on Your great deeds. You are our one true Father, our Creator and Giver of Great Gifts. Even so, You are no longer revered for it.

All over the world, other religions have decided to break apart Your omnipresence by piecing You up into idols of clay and metal. Some even overlay these in gold and set them in precious stones. They worship statues. Still, You remind me by Your Word in Haggai 2:8: ‘The silver is Mine and the gold is Mine’ (declares the Lord almighty). See, You created even the materials used in the making of false idols.

It is all Yours, all of it. Father, one thing is certain... we do nothing on our own without You. Not one step, not one breath, not one beat of our hearts, is beyond Your plans. You even came down here as a baby, then a child, and lived amongst us so You could instruct us, witness to us and show Your love for us. What is amazing about You is that You created us even though You knew we would rebel against You.

You created a new way. You left us with the free gift of salvation. If we accept this, we then receive the most incredible technological advancement, one far beyond any on the Earth... the Holy Spirit, Your Divine Communique Device in us. For over 2000 years, You have been preparing our Eternal Home with You. Heaven is a place full of life, color and abundance. It is a place of pure air, pure water and the very best of foods.

More than this, it is a place of being in wonder of all that is You. This is the place that You roam amongst us freely. You walk with us and delight in us. You are so glad to see each of us. We are overcome there by Your Great Goodness. In fact, we are so fulfilled with Heaven and its completeness, we cannot even imagine it.

Think of it this way... God knows us from the time He called us into being in our mother's womb. He knew everything we would find delightful. He knows all of the textures and colors you love. He offers perfect safety and peace. God remembers every little thing we love, each one, each delightful moment. He knows which stuffed animals to put on our children's hearts that will be the ones that will delight them.

Father, You care about things that brings us joy. You care about our place for eternity with You. This will be made up of things both small and great to delight our hearts. All will be reconciled in Heaven. There will be unity, not animosity, between brethren. All questions of relevance will be answered in God's perfect timing. All that was lost will be found. All mysteries will be solved.

Yet in the brilliance of You, You can create new ways, new mysteries to uncover and new exciting adventures. Just think of the most perfect day in your life that you can recall. Then multiply this many fold. This will be your worst day in Heaven. That is how awesome being in His presence will be. The blindfolds will be taken off and we will see Him in His true glory! Oh, what a day this will be!

How many wonderful moments have we had with those we love that we wish we could have somehow preserved? How can these be recreated on Earth after loved ones have passed away? Parents, a child, a sibling or a best friend. A grandmother or a grandfather. A cherished pet. When life is removed here on Earth, deep heart pain replaces our loss.

While the nearness of that person is slowly removed year after year, the etched memory that is the essence of that person is forever with us. This remains with us until we are finally reunited with them again in Heaven. God cares about every detail. God loves us. He is God and He is our God. You are also the God of miracles. Lord, You gave us a miracle on Monday night heading into Tuesday morning (July 18-19, 2022).

My daughter injured her foot during a young adults sporting event on Monday night. There were a couple of paramedics participating in the event and they looked over her foot. When we arrived to pick her up as she could no longer drive with the injury, one of the paramedics pointed out a protruding bone indicating her ankle had broken. While the ER was too packed on Monday night, we went to a different ER first thing Tuesday.

When driving into the ER, the bone was still protruding. We prayed over the broken bone and trusted God as she was wheeled away in a wheelchair. While I remained close by and to our amazement, the doctor came back with a positive prognosis. The protruding bone was no longer protruding. It had been healed and the X-Rays they had taken proved it. It was an incredible miracle.

No, this was a breath-taking, awe-inspiring miracle straight from the Lord who created us. Instead of a broken ankle taking several weeks to heal, it was a sprain expected to only take a couple of weeks or so to heal. This was an unexpected victory worthy of our praises to Him who heals. I then had a couple of dreams that were bittersweet.

Sub-Dream 1 "Skyrocketing Food Prices" begins...

I was with my family at a local restaurant. I was excited as this place serves barbeque beef ribs. When we sat down, the waitress told us that the menu had to be updated to reflect the changes in prices and availability. We were in shock to see that the ribs were now $75 with no sides. While I don't know the chef in real life, I did in this dream, so I walked over to the area where he was cooking.

Me: "Hey, what is going on?"

Chef: "Hey, Erin, great to see you. I just want you to know that what is on the menu will be the last we have. If you want to have one last rack, you will need to pay. My cost on the meat alone is $65. Add the labor and the sauce and $75 is actually reasonable."

Me: "How are you even making money with such slim margins?"

Chef: "We still have some margins on our sides. Hey, between you and me... there will not even be a business here in four weeks. Who knows... perhaps we will turn into a breakfast place and serve eggs! The cost of bacon and sausage will be too high to have on the menu though. Even the eggs are now $1 apiece. While I am not sure about this, we have been told that eggs are set to skyrocket in price to $5 apiece."

Me: "Why is this happening?"

Chef: "They are killing off all livestock. Whatever you order tonight will likely be the last of it. Look, don't worry... I will hook you up with some great ribs tonight."

I smiled and gave him a thumb's up. I then walked back to our table. I whispered the bad news to my husband.

Me: "Well, this will be our last beef meal, so I suggest we enjoy it. Eggs will soon be $60 for a dozen. This is almost an entire day's wages if you are making minimum wage. The struggling won't survive."

Sub-Dream 1 over.

Sub-Dream 2 "Weaponizing DNA for Mass Destruction" begins...

I was forced to take a PCR Molecular Covid Test in order to travel into town. I showed no symptoms. I phoned my doctor's office. The Practitioner Nurse Assistant answered.

Nurse: "Erin, there were some problems with the results of your previous DNA test. Can I phone you back in about five minutes?"

Me: "No problem."

Around five minutes later, the phone rang. I looked and it was the nurse calling.

Me: "Hello, Erin speaking."

Nurse: "Erin, this is completely off the record. The Chinese own the lab and are harvesting DNA. The initial virus was sent to force a mass harvest of DNA collection to form weapons and remove whole populations of people they see as inferior."

Me: "Who are they targeting?"

Nurse: "While we don't know everything, we do know that the vaccines are meant to sterilize boys, men and young women. We have the data proving this. Despite this empirical proof, there is no outrage as this fits in with the globalists' agenda of world-wide population reduction. Quite simply, they have no opposition."

Me: "Is there anything we can do to stop them?"

Nurse: "Well, you and your children are fortunate. For some reason, your DNA cannot be harvested. They cannot retrieve accurate data to weaponize against you. While small in number, there are a few others just like you."

Me: "What will happen to us?"

Nurse: "We don't know."

Me: "Well, God won't allow this to continue."

Nurse: "Well, your God has allowed all of this so far. Is there no end?"

Me: "Yes, there is an end..."

While I knew our conversation was continuing, the dream faded away as we spoke.

Sub-Dream 2 over.

Me: "Father, please help us. There must be a Great Harvest soon, the Harvest of Miracles. Please don't forget us!"

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "Erin, I am here and I am with you. Do not worry. Remember that I know the plans of the wicked and there are many. There is a great war unlike anything the world has ever seen before. Please understand that the war is against Me. If only their hearts would be rendered back to Me, I would then turn and heal the land. However, the leaders over the nations are wicked. They are your enemies and they lay in wait for great opportunities. Now, why would a leader want all the people gathered into cities instead of spread throughout the lands?"

Me: "So that we are easier to control?"

Jesus: "Yes. This is meant for harm as people can then be easily cut off from the world. When people are spread out, there is a threat of retaliation and a threat of defending their properties. When they are pulled into the cities instead, they will disarm them. They can then control them using food, water and other necessities. Even so, their plans are even broader than this. Their true wish is for the widescale torturous dehumanization of entire populations."

Me: "Lord, they will eliminate by any means anyone standing in their desired way to invade full territories."

Jesus: "All you must do is look at a global map and their movements. Which countries are purchasing whole properties? Which governments are allowing this and why? They have been given a guarantee of money and family security to whoever gives them what they need in order to rob, kill and destroy anyone and anything standing in the way of their invasion.

"The leaders are given the choice of death or riches, but no choice on whether they comply or not. They must comply 'or else'. Faced with this, the leaders sell out their countries in return for their promises. However, many don't understand that, when their usefulness is finished, so are their lives. This will not go well for them in the long-term no matter the scenario."

Me: "What will then happen?"

Jesus: "Well, let us use Africa as an example. The enemy is experimenting with plagues there. He has no regard for those whose skin is darker. They are as a laboratory rodent to them and they stand in the way of valuable resources. After they have collected enough samples, they will form weapons and kill off all humans whose genetics they do not find beneficial to their own or are inferior."

Me: "Oh Lord, please stop this. This is genocide."

Jesus: "While they have sent weapons of mass destruction against My Creation, their plans will be turned around."

Me: "Oh Lord, please don't allow things to get too bad."

Jesus: "Now, tell Me what I have shown you."

Me: "Your prophets from around the world are now preparing for miraculous events. Some believe that the people must stand against and chase down the wicked. However, they are not fully understanding the magnitude of Your Remnant Army or the timing of Your Great Move..."

- At first, You will spring forth and well up in us, filling us with Living Water from Heaven. Our Vessels will be filled from the River of Life in Heaven.
- Then, in a mighty move of Your Power and Spirit, You will heal us on high, on Earth as we are in Heaven.
- While we will not be as angels, angels will also be visible.
- The enemy will be terrified at Your presence.
- The presence of the Courts of Heaven will also be in operation.
- The wicked will flee because they will not want to confess to their lies, lies that swayed the nations to evil and lead the innocent into great despair.
- Children will be healed and their parents found and healed.
- Confusion will be removed and the solid foundation of who we were born to be under Heaven will be visible. No one will be able to dispute this.
- Evidence will be gathered and the wicked will be forced to confess publicly.

- All over the world, the nations will be healed and wanderers returned to the place of their birth.
- Invaders will flee as their intentions will be exposed.
- Criminals will read out and confess to all records of their criminal behavior.
- The wicked will be returned to their places, their birth lands, and they will hide in caves and move in darkness. They will live in great fear of God's judgment and will avoid the presence of the Remnant of God at all costs.
- Those who took bribes and purchased their positions by corruption and false testimonies will be forced to confess and pay retribution.
- At this, the victim of these crimes will receive back the equivalent of the estate of the wicked and all the money they amassed and the wicked will experience a public settlement.
- The wicked who confess prior to God administering justice and voluntarily make restitution will state their admission publicly and turn to God for mercy. They will then be granted peace, but only after great humility.
- They will then publicly confess to the greatness of God.
- The cities and lands destroyed or properties seized will all be returned.
- Cities will be built back and restored.
- Churches will be open and great miracles, singing of praise to God and divine healing will spread throughout the nations.

Jesus: "Very good, Erin. However, there is also something you are unsure of, something that will be fully revealed, but only at the appropriate time."

Me: "Yes. I am not sure if our great healing occurs before, during or after the great shakings, storms and other events that signal to Your glorious power. Some I know (including my husband) believe that we are healed and taken to a safe place just before, perhaps even just seconds before, these great shakings start to occur. I am also unsure of just how 'great' the magnitude of these 'great' shakings will be."

Jesus: "Yes, these mysteries will soon unfold. There is much more to this as well. There is a great lead in to when the wicked confess and flee. Think of this when you were a child when forced to confess to something wrong. What did you do?"

Me: "I was scared of my dad. He was big. When he was angry, he had crazy eyes. I knew when I would get a spanking and I ran for cover. However, he would find me and spank me in front of everyone. I know some people stand and voluntarily admit to what they did, but I didn't. I am sorry to admit that I would blurt out my confession and then run and hide from my dad. I guess one could say that the guilty flee."

Jesus: "I think you would stand now."

Me: "Yes, but it would be scary. Lord, please strengthen all of us. I am sick in my heart. My children are tired of me saying 'soon' and I worry that they will give up. I always have to put on a brave face because I know You will do all You promise. Every day seems like a good day. In the meantime, we need Your help. Lord, all of Your people are facing great troubles. We need You."

Jesus: "I know that this is difficult on the youth. They struggle now with their futures based on the plans of the wicked. Your country was sold out and, as it has been with all great nations who have fallen away, their borders and walls are breached and leaders allow this as a matter of a greater extremely evil plan.

"Many of those who have invaded the border have been strategically placed all around the areas where the government has opposition. The invaders' job will then be to remove all those opposed to the current government. Another country sent trojan horses containing weapons lethal enough to kill the population without destruction of properties. Their plans are to invade from all directions.

"Any opposition will come under fire by an army of what looks like locusts. However, these instead are machines and weapons of war. They have the capability to remove whole armies in seconds and air this so that the rest of the nations turn and surrender. In Israel, the same scenario will unfold from nine of her greatest enemies and no one will stop this... no one but God!"

Me: "Oh Lord, this is very scary! When?"

Jesus: "Very soon. Now, you have prepared your Vessel. You have readied your house. You are greatly loved by Me. However, you are becoming a bit impatient."

Me: "True, Lord, I am. I can't imagine a $5 egg or the end of beef."

Jesus: "The war is here and unlike any war before it. They are using things that men cannot see, but they can feel the effects of... plagues and diseases. They have secretly purchased good land and long to control all means to live and survive."

Me: "This must include all electricity, food, water and medicine."

Jesus: "Their plans are extremely lofty and evil. However, I will turn all of this back upon them. Their own plague. Their own famine. Their own bat-infested cave. It will not go well for them. All those who mocked God will be mocked. All those who declare themselves leader over all nations will not have one in the end. It will not go well."

"Now, there is one other who sits in wait and will remain silent. He is a great deceiver. He will soon rise and speak against the Kingdom of God and declare himself the savior. This is because he will have the history of God's Courts and knowledge of the things of Heaven. Using smooth speech, he will say great blasphemies against God and His people. He will wage war with great knowledge and speak truth sprinkled in a platform of lies. Many will believe him."

"After My Bride is removed, many will fall into great deception. Pray, Erin, as this will be times unlike any in history. However, I also want you to take heart as I have overcome the world. I reign, not the deceiver, not the invaders, not the cave dwellers, not the fallen and not the great planner of climate emergencies. There is only one God and I am He. I am who I say I am and I reign. Now rejoice as I have already overcome. Do not worry though you do."

Me: "I love You, Lord. I am so sorry that I still worry at times."

Jesus: "I love you, Erin. You are forgiven. Do not worry as I will cover you and take care of you. The enemy will not prevail against you."

Dream over.

624 – The Pharisees will hate these Dreams

Received on Monday, July 25, 2022

Communion

Dear Father,

Bless You! You are kind and amazing, abundant in love and mercy. Who is like You, Father? You are gracious, compassionate, slow to anger and patient above all else. I love You, Father. I give my life to You and I pray I make You proud. I long to live for You in all that I do. You are my Best Friend.

Me: "Today when I was doing my morning chores, I was stressed about someone from my past who I now cross paths with again. Father, I need to hear from You!"

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "Erin, the person you are stressed about has only heard one side all these years and there were others who added fuel to the fire. They have no interest in truth. One of your old friends has researched you and found the dreams. She turned on you and shared this with others. She is a writer and feels called by God to expose the errors of others. However, I didn't call her to do this.

"She will one day apologize, as will others. They will seek you to correct their wrongs against you. Wisdom is proved right by your actions. Those I have called you to, many Christians, will hate you with extreme hate. This is because they will prefer to see you as a false teacher. However, I did not call you Rabbi or teacher. I did not call you to minister to them.

"In the beginning of these dreams, if you had listened to the unwise council of Christians on what they expected of you, you would then have lived under their self-righteous condemnation. This would have been a prison sentence. They would have believed you unfit to parent, marry or even attend any leadership group. As it was, these were the same people who had nothing to do with you for many years.

"This won't improve anytime soon as your relationship with Me will continue to be controversial. Why is this? It is because you rely 100% on Me for your understanding. Over the course of many years of trials, you have proved yourself to Me. You have shown that you will not bend an ear to the proud or the haughty. They have no understanding and certainly no relationship with Me.

"In jealousy, they say 'Jesus would never do that. Jesus would never speak like that to anyone.' Really? Well, I am the Living God, the God of all Creation, the God who determines a man's days. I spoke to countless people in the Bible. Some of them were holy and others were considered unholy. I sent angels to represent the armies of Heaven. I displayed miracles.

"I chose David, an unassuming shepherd boy, and raised him up to be king. The very Word of God, My Word, is My history and is evidence and proof of God's work in the world. It also proves that I have a personal relationship with My Creation. I am not constrained by anyone. Where is it then written that I would never choose you? You went through the great affliction and great humiliation to remain steadfast after Me.

"Do I not reward those who go through the refiner's fire and still seek me with their whole heart? So, Erin, let Me be God over them. I am convinced that, even if I appeared before them directly, they might not even recognize Me. As a result, they are not given more. This is because they can be trusted with very little. As for you, because you have done well with very little, I can now trust you with much.

"One other point... when My Words, My History, was written by scribes, I want you to understand how difficult writing was. Papyrus was difficult to obtain, as was ink and quill. It took much longer to write. As a result, less was written. As for today, paper is readily available, as is ink inside of your pen. This is good as I have had much to say and you have had much to write. You have been My Scribe.

"Now, these are difficult times. This is a time of great hypocrisy in the church. Where are they at in their journals as they scribe? I give them one word and they run with it. They expand upon it and brag to their friends. As for you, you often write as much as 30 journal pages, all in ink and all without scratch outs. This will cause outrage. They will then say something like...

Christian Pharisee: "Wait, I am a superior educated Christian Scholar. If it didn't happen to me, it would be impossible for someone like her to be chosen. I am the perfect choice for God, someone who lets my words be few. How can this woman of low position, a former sinner, divorced and stained, be used by God? Not possible. God would never choose such a woman. All of this must be written by demons.”

“So, Erin, these will not be your friends. They find you detestable. I have declared you Mine. Let them have one word while I grant you a million. Rejoice!”

Me: “Lord, my arms and hands are in great pain. Could You heal me soon? My sleep is broken and I hurt so much. My left hand is losing grip. I drop things a lot. Everything is becoming more difficult.”

Jesus: “There is a reason I have allowed this right now. You will understand why very soon. Remember that it is often through great physical trials when I can be found by you. It is also through your difficulties in which I create a new landscape and new opportunities. This is Me delivering you from the fowler’s snare. Snares are allowed by Me or appointed by Me for various reasons.

“Sometimes it is to stop a direction you are going in and, through no ability by you to deliver or cure yourself, you then had no choice but to allow this snare, a snare that allowed Me to appoint you to another land. The enemy thought he had finally destroyed your life. I instead delivered you far away where the enemy couldn’t hurt your family.

“You did nothing on your own to deliver yourself. Neither did your family or friends. It was I who delivered you. I also made it uncomfortable for you where you were so that it would be very clear to you that you had no option to stay where you were. You, your children and even your pets were all under attack.

“Now, I realize it has been over eight years since your accident and you now long to be healed. However, there is still an order of business left, so allow Me to go before you here. Erin, you live your life for Me. You love Me and I delight in you. You look for Me throughout your days. You pray for miracles and dreams while you sleep.

“You pray for your husband and your children. You pray for your friends and their children. You pray that I would cover them and keep them from the snares the enemy sets for each of them. However, you are not to worry as I will deliver you safely from all of this. You will delight in the places I will be taking you. I will honor you and your husband’s fasts by giving great blessings to both you and your husband.

“I know you worry, but please do not. I have such great things planned for those who love Me. Although the enemy seems to be winning, rest assuredly it is only because reports favor evil and reporters enjoy bad news.

However, there is good news and soon the news will be very good. You, your family and your Nest friends must continue to prepare their fields and keep their heart upon Me.

“They must not allow the enemy to gain a foothold. They must run a good race. This means being ‘all-in’ and continuing to build upon their strengths. They must continue to work on their strengths and confidence. They are not to fold and weaken, but instead remain warriors. Give all your cares to Me.

“Continue on your course even though you are scared at times. Remember that I am the one who goes before you and works through you in all you do. It is I who guides your pen in the way you should go. You are greatly loved, Erin.”

Dream over.

Dear Father,

You are so marvelous! You are glorious in all of Your works. No scheme of the enemy is beyond Your knowledge. No deal is made in a secret place. With You, there is no secret that is not known by You. You see all and are all-knowing. You see the beginning from the end and the end from the beginning. Blessed are You, Father, in all of Your works.

I woke up yesterday and this morning with some very disturbing dreams upon my heart. These were vivid and clear. A word came to the forefront of my thoughts:

“Lull”

This means calm or send to sleep with soothing sounds or movements. It is a temporary interval of quiet or lack of activity.

However, after further research, I also discovered it means to convey a false sense of security, to tranquilize, disarm and / or subdue.

This is one of the most effective games that Satan has played. He has had possession of this world for six thousand years now. The Earth once belonged to man. God had granted man Earth at Creation. However, when man chose to obey Satan instead of God, he left the service of God and entered into the servitude of Satan. As man is easily swayed, or lulled, into deception apart from God, Satan easily conquered man.

Satan became the master of mankind and man became the servant of Satan. Man then lost his dominion. Man lost his gift of the Earth as given to him by God. Ever since this horrible event happened in the Garden of Eden, man has become a prisoner in captivity and slavery to sin. Oh Lord, You are over all things. Nothing can compare to You.

As written by Paul in Romans 6:16: "Do you not know that if you present yourselves to anyone as obedient slaves, you are slaves of the one who you obey, either of sin, which leads to death, or of obedience, which leads to righteousness."

As spoken by God in Genesis 1:28: "Be fruitful and multiply and replenish the Earth, and subdue it and have dominion over the fish of the sea and over the fowl of the air and over every living thing that moves upon the Earth."

As written by Isaiah in Isaiah 45:18: "For thus sayeth the Lord that created the heavens; God Himself formed the Earth and made it; He established it."

Lord, You established all things. You did not create it to be defiled and come to nothing (made desolate). You instead inhabited the Earth and all its life. You are God and there is no other. In essence, there are two kingdoms upon Earth...

- One is the Kingdom of Righteousness, the Kingdom of God.
- The other is the kingdom of evil, set up by Satan (Matthew 12:26,28).

I had a dream three nights ago (on Wednesday, July 27, 2022)...

Sub-Dream 1 "A Game of Global Domination" begins...

I was playing the board game called 'Risk' in my childhood home in Albany CA. For those unfamiliar, the game of 'Risk' is about global domination. The map looked different than today. As I sat there staring at the troops on the board, I saw a massive country labeled as Ukraine. It was disproportionately huge and bigger than the rest of Europe.

I got up from the table and went to get a drink of water. When I came back, the board had expanded. China had become enlarged and was conquering the entire globe. This happened while the world focused their attention on Ukraine. I looked around me and I didn't recognize the furnishings. I didn't belong there. I woke up when I began to walk to my old room.

Sub-Dream 1 over.

I then had another dream the night before last (on Friday, July 29, 2022).

Sub-Dream 2 "Killing the Farms in less than Two Years" begins...

Time 0: I saw men driving in fancy SUVs to rural farms. The men wore black suits, black sunglasses and drove black SUVs. Think of the movie 'Men in Black'. Each vehicle contained three people: a banker, an attorney and a real estate agent. The real estate agent specialized in acquisitions. They travelled all the back country roads.

Time 0 + 2 Weeks: Two weeks later, on the same roads, came moving trucks. The first wave was to purchase small, distressed farms at better than market value. The farms were growing hay, wheat, corn and barley.

Time 0 + 1 Year & 2 Weeks: One year later, tumble weeds were blowing. Whole farmlands were left desolate. There were no farmers and therefore no farming. There was no farming and therefore no production. There was no feed for livestock on other farms. The same army of black SUVs then went to medium-sized farming operations. While their initial offers were good, many knew something was wrong. As a result, only about half took the offer.

Time 0 + 1 Year & 4 Weeks: Two weeks later, moving trucks came for those who had accepted their offers. As for those who didn't, servers came to them to site their properties with environmental orders. Their equipment now had to comply with impossible to meet emissions regulations. Many then reluctantly accepted their offers from two weeks ago and walked away from their farms.

Time 0 + 1 Year & 6 Months & 4 Weeks: Six months later, the large black SUVs drove to the cattle stockyards. Many of the ranchers had lost livestock due to drought, famine and disease. Many were now discouraged. They were forced to sell their breeding animals. A heated conversation then ensued.

Rancher: "Why are you interested in purchasing my operation? It takes 40 months to prepare the beef. You will need to put all of these down."

Banker: "Either way, you won't make it. There are plant-based options now. There is no demand."

Rancher: "What are you going to do with all of this?"

Lawyer: "It is none of your concern. However, I suggest you take this generous offer."

Rancher: "Can I sleep on it and let you know in the morning?"

Real estate agent: "Yes. We will return tomorrow morning at 9:00am."

After they left, the rancher phoned all of the ranchers he knew. They had a meeting that night and collectively decided to stand together against them. The rancher then met with them the next morning with their consensus of 'no deal'.

Time 0 + 1 Year & 7 months & 1 Week: Within two weeks, all the ranchers' cattle had died from some airborne chemical sprayed over his stockyards at night by drones. Thousands and thousands of cattle and other livestock were now dead. It was horrible.

Time 0 + 1 Year & 8 months & 1 Week: The men pulled up 30 days (1 month) later with a pre-foreclosure notice and a demand for their properties to be cleaned up or evacuated. Many of the ranchers were not complying.

Time 0 + 1 Year & 8 months & 3 Weeks: Within two weeks, during a great windstorm, the properties were set on fire. All were destroyed. I heard a rancher lamenting:

Rancher: "They purchased up the good lands and turned them into badlands. They killed the grains. They killed the beef. They will kill all of us next!"

Sub-Dream 2 over.

My dream last night (on Saturday, July 30, 2022) deeply disturbed me.

Sub-Dream 3 "The Lord protects our Home in the Country" begins...

All of the farms had stopped operations. They were desolate with no crops and nothing to glean from. We were still able to live in our home provided we leave no carbon footprint. This was impossible. We were allowed to travel one day per week for supplies, but all of this came at a massive price. Tucked away under the deck of our house, we had been keeping two cows, one rooster, two hens, two pigs and two sheep.

God helped us to figure out how to not emit any carbon dioxide as we have no knowledge of these things. If we were discovered to have these animals, they would all be killed. This was because no one was allowed to keep agricultural animals anymore. It was rare that anyone would check on us as we no longer had neighbors. Almost all had left for the towns and cities. Somehow our property flourished without being seen.

Sub-Dream 3 over.

While in prayer and worship this morning (on Saturday, July 30, 2022), You gave me a beautiful vision.

Sub-Dream / Vision 4 "Millions of Children Arriving in Heaven" begins...

I saw millions of children arriving in Heaven. They were greeted by family and angels. I saw a great celebration there. During the ceremony, all the children held hands together before Your Throne at Your Altar. The children were praying for their parents.

Sub-Dream / Vision 4 over.

Me: "While my dreams were terrible, my vision was beautiful. Please help us! Father, why did You show me so many children arriving in Heaven?"

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "Erin, I am here and I am with you. My plan is to save, not to lose. There is a great deception occurring right now. You can track the enemy's movement by listening to the talking of fools. A world war is occurring without the people even knowing that they are already at war. This is because it is a war unlike any other before. This is because wars on battlefields are not popular.

"Now, the war being fought on stage right now (Russia 'invading' Ukraine) is meant to distract the world from the hidden objectives of the enemy to remove the majority of the population by various methods. This war is a board game for the world to invest in. However, and in fact, it is meant to bankrupt the USA and plunge it into despair.

"Canada will also soon be in great trouble and an evil country will offer help. Meanwhile, people will have money, property, food and medical seized from them. Brothers will turn against brothers and hand them over to be killed."

Me: "No, Lord, no, no... please! These things are being set up right now. The stage is already set. People will starve. Electricity will be cut. How will we draw up water with no electrical pump?"

Jesus: "The enemy has lofty plans. They also have plans to continue to not have fair elections."

Me: "Then won't You please help us! Please! Please begin Your Great Harvest. Please strengthen us and ready our houses for what is soon to come."

Jesus: "Do not panic! Do not be afraid here. I have a Great Plan. The enemy has lulled the world into inactivity. Spiritually, the people no longer seek Me for guidance during troubles. They no longer are moved by My Church because they are starving and no longer fed there. They are thirsty yet receive no Living Water there. This is because I have been removed from the midst of them. The enemy has sent drugs, technology and other forms of self-gratification to disarm My people and plunge them into darkness."

Me: "Lord, please don't forget those of us whose hope is in You! We love You and long for Your presence. There are some churches who have not been silenced. Lord, how can You blame all the people as most only did what they were told and obeyed the laws during the shutdowns.”

Jesus: “Well, democracy died in the darkness and was reset. New leadership took over the world. People at every position of power were purchased, especially in the world’s governments. This was done so that no one would oppose these takeovers. Those who tried to ‘whistle blow’ on their evil plans were quickly dismissed, usually in shame. Their goal was that all with ears to hear would believe. Still, they have not been shy about outlining their goals. They told you they wanted:

- To eliminate all meat.
- To reduce the population.
- No oil or fuel.
- No private land ownership.
- No private vehicle ownership.
- Everything to be plant-based.
- No Dairy and no meat.
- Open borders.
- No children.
- The elderly removed, claiming that ‘they drain valuable resources yet offer little to society’.
- The Bible banned and removed as it is ‘hateful’.
- To remove your weapons.
- Christians to be labeled as hateful.
- The legal right to have children killed, even at birth.
- Parents to have no say in the raising of their children.
- Mass castrations and child mutilations.

“Erin, this is the enemy’s grand last push to defile and destroy My Creation. Fear has kept people silent.”

Me: “Lord, it is very scary now. All we can do is pray. We encounter unfair situations daily. If we speak out, we are destroyed.”

Jesus: “Do not engage the enemy until I tell you it is time. While it is not the time now, it will be soon. You will know when it is the right time. When it is time for My Army to march, there will be much to do.”

Me: "Lord, the world is upside down. People are now angry everywhere. Please protect your people and keep us close to You. Please send more angels to keep our homes safe, as well as our children. My husband was almost killed today. A woman was coming head on in her car. He avoided her, but still doesn't know how. This means You intervened, so thank You. My arm hurts so badly, I can no longer write."

Jesus: "Then rest and rejoice that the God of all Creation is with you in all that you do."

Me: "I love You, Lord."

Jesus: "I love you too, Erin."

Dear Father,

You are mysterious and awesome in wonder! Your works are great and mighty. No world leader can measure up to You. Father, please guide my pen today as the troublesome dream I had last night (on Sunday, July 31, 2022) was sent from You about subjects that I know very little about. Please bless my pen and let all I write be Yours.

Sub-Dream 5 "The Dead Church and the Dead Baby Lon" begins...

I was attending a very large Southern Baptist Church. I could tell it was 'very old school'. While I never saw the sanctuary, there was a very broad staircase leading up into the main sanctuary from a lower reception lobby. The staircase was about 20 feet wide and curved. It had a remarkable curved mahogany structure with railings and stair treads and risers.

While the stairs there were very showcase-like, they wouldn't be up to commercial codes. While the carpet on the stairs was expensive wool-Axminister, it was a very ugly medium brown color with red floral bursts in a linear pattern. I was on the upper deck at the top of the stairs. The crowd was ascending the wide steep staircase to the auditorium-like sanctuary.

I then saw a very tall woman with an incredibly ornate head covering. She was holding a toddler on her shoulders. I overheard two congregants speaking about her..

Congregant: "She is from the Dinka's in Africa. She is a guest speaker and missionary."

Everyone was in awe of this woman's dress and height. As she ascended the staircase, her child became very unruly. The woman almost dropped the toddler twice. I then saw two doves of white come out of nowhere and hover over the woman with her child. While the child was laughing, quite cute and so happy, he now wanted to climb 'on his own'.

When she reached the top step, the child flipped himself from a standing position on her shoulders to landing on his head on the floor. His head was split open and he was instantly killed. The doves were no longer there as they went with the child's Spirit Home to Jesus.

Running up the stairs were her husband and about six other of her children. The woman stared in shock at her toddler's lifeless body. I was disgusted when I then overheard two congregants speaking about this tragic event.

Congregant: "Even though this is a tragic event, she has many children and can have more. I am not going to stress myself over this at all."

This made me angry. No one came to assist the woman or her now-dead toddler. Paramedics finally came and removed the body. All of this was then dismissed as an 'unfortunate accident'.

The Lord then welled up in me and called me to console the woman with a Word. As I was about to go over to her to do this, a deacon ran up to stop me. His demons had obviously warned him about what I was about to do.

Deacon: "You are not to speak. You must be vetted and your life examined. The process takes several months and a female has never been approved."

The Dinka woman knew the Lord had a Word for her from me.

Woman: "Please let her speak. I want to hear from the Lord."

Deacon: "I am sorry, but not just anyone is allowed to speak on behalf of God."

Realizing he was being unreasonable, he gathered up several deacons and their wives. He then took them, me and the Dinka woman into a conference room.

Deacon: "Look, this is a messy situation. We are sorry about your accident and your inability to control your child. Here is a settlement on behalf of the board of the church. Of course, we took some funds out of this settlement to pay for the repairs and cleaning of our carpet from your accident. As for your speaking slot, do not worry as we already found someone else to speak."

I stood up in even more disgust. The deacon immediately addressed me.

Deacon: With a raised voice. "Ma'am, please sit down."

Me: Calmly. "No. God has numbered the days of this church as He is not welcome here. You will write her a check for double the settlement. If you do not, God will grant each of you double the calamity. While you brought her in here as a token of your 'charity', you really didn't want her here in the first place. As a result, the Lord made her son a sacrifice to atone for your sins. However, these are too great as clearly you do not know the Lord nor do you seek Him. Today, the blood of this young child is upon you. God help you."

I then turned to the woman.

Me: "Now, you are not to worry about your son..."

Woman: Interrupting. "Lon. My baby's name is Lon."

She said this 'matter-of-factly', and certainly not as a mother who was grieving the recent loss of her toddler. She continued...

Woman: "He was unruly and demanding. He was not like my other children. He seemed happy and well by day. However, at night, he was evil and went his own way. Because everyone loved him, no one saw what he did at home. I prayed that the Lord would heal him and have mercy upon me."

Me: "Did you say 'Baby Lon'?"

Woman: "Yes. His tongue was unruly and his behavior confusing. While I am sad to lose a child, God assured me that Baby Lon had a purpose and He would take Him Home. He also assured me that I would see him changed and delivered into God's perfection."

Deacon: "We don't talk like this here. A child is dead here. There are blood stains on our previously clean carpet."

Woman: Ignoring the deacon. "Do you still have a Word for me? Anything?"

Me: Addressing the deacon. "Please get that compensation check prepared in the corrected amount and I will be on my way. I need to go grocery shopping after this."

The deacon was angry. I was going to Walmart. What was odd was that the Walmart was attached to the side of the church building. I then addressed the woman.

Me: "God has answered your prayers. He will bless you for your great sacrifice and beyond the need to rely on these. Go home and build your church. While He will bless you, you must leave this place as God's favor has been removed here."

She hugged me just as the deacon handed her the revised check.

Deacon: Addressing me. "Not so fast, you Jezebel."

Me: "I don't belong here. While you are a church full of wealth and commerce..." I then saw decay in the corners of the ceiling. "...your sin also lies just under the surface. You have treated God's Holy Church as a den for thieves. There is no room for God here, nor for His gifts nor for His miracles. When you read God's Words from the pulpit, the sermon is on life support. God's Spirit, His Holy Spirit, is not living and breathing here. There is no heartbeat and no pulse. Change or be changed by God."

The deacon became enraged and began to lunge at me. I left down a staircase towards Walmart. Between the church and Walmart, there was an office area with no windows and many cubicles. The entire operation was under foreign rule. I saw a large bedroom off to the side. There was an Asian (Chinese) woman in bed that was sleeping with all of the workers. My stomach was sick. I walked into Walmart.

Sub-Dream 5 over.

When I woke up, I went to look up the name 'Lon'. It means fierce, ready for battle, lion, noble. I thought it was so remarkable that I just now noticed the obvious. 'Baby Lon' is spelled in the same order as 'Babylon'. Babylon means 'The Gate of God'. You then showed me another vision (on Sunday, July 31, 2022), a second vision on consecutive mornings...

Sub-Dream / Vision 6 "The Dragon Stirs up the Lands and the Seas" begins...

I saw a map of the world. I saw a great serpent with many heads swimming the waters of the world. I saw something like whirlpools in the many waters that the dragon had stirred up. I then saw great twirling winds like tornados upon the nations as the dragon blew up the dirt. Everywhere the dragon swam in the seas, every place the dragon stirred up the grounds, was now owned by the dragon.

The dragon then decided to 'call in his power' and erect a great monument to himself. The tower had a walkway encircling it and rising up. While the tower had many rooms, it only had one road. The dragon demanded that all of the people of the Earth bow to him and declare him god over them. This was planned to happen by no later than the year 2049.

Sub-Dream / Vision 6 over.

Father, if the end is similar in pattern to the beginning, then there seems to be a Nimrod scenario playing out right now. Why does the world have to be connected? Why can't each of us remain where God has placed us unless, of course, He specifically moves us? I know why. This is all about power and control.

When I think of Babel, I think of a babbling baby that speaks in a language that makes no sense. Babies use their tongue muscles early in order to make noises so that they will one day formulate recognizable speech.

In the instance of the Tower of Babel, Noah's son Ham had a son named Cush who had a son named Nimrod. Nimrod attempted to form a one-world government after the flood. His goal was to be greater than God. He built the Tower of Babel and made one language for the people in order to control them.

However, God, being brilliant and all-knowing, saw Nimrod's evil intentions. He then confused the people with many languages. By confusing Nimrod's evil empire propaganda, his ambitions were dissolved. Nimrod's dream for a one-world government then failed.

Father, this brings up a question I have. If the government agencies are so convinced there is no God and their policies reflect the removal of God, why then do they build Biblical representations of various things from the Bible today?

Me: "Oh Lord, the power of the tongue can destroy lives. One group has all of the power and can easily take down their opponents. They can deprive families of their bank accounts and therefore their means to live. Surely, Father, You will act soon before they completely remove all of us."

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "Erin, I am here and I am with you. Remember that I see all things. Remember that I know the lofty plans of the wicked. Much of their evil is no longer in secret. The spirit of Nimrod is alive today. While there are still many tongues, they are now converging into one voice. They even built a modern tower in the image of Babel for their government. This was 22 years ago. They also crafted a woman riding the beast with horns. They have no idea that this is the harbinger in plain sight for all to see."

Me: "So, Lord, is 'Mystery Babylon' a new Tower of Babel as opposed to the USA?"

Jesus: "This is still a mystery. However, do not look at the governments as you once had come to know them as they have all been weakened as the one system has begun to rise. You can now see the Words as spoken in Daniel and in Revelation. There are two women spoken of in Revelation..."

- One woman is evil and represents idolatry and the Beast of the Earth. This vile woman wears expensive clothes and possesses great earthly wealth. She displays it openly for all to see.
- The other woman represents My Bride.

"Back when John was given this great vision, the vile woman was wearing purple cloth. In those days, purple cloth held the highest value. This is because the color of a heavy robe of purple needed the dye extracted from several thousands of Tyrian sea snails. This was an excessive display of wealth back then. Now, where have you heard or seen wealth like this on display today?"

Me: "Lord, this is a mystery because I thought USA was 'Mystery Babylon'. I then thought that perhaps New York City was a more specific candidate. However, since I now see the USA as falling, invaded by foreigners, sold off and broken apart, this doesn't seem to fit as much. In essence, I keep changing my mind and I don't have my mind set on anyone in particular anymore. There are candidates other than the USA to me now, including Europe, the UN and Dubai. I think I'll just stop now."

Jesus: "Well, Erin, time will tell. Just because news gives bad reports or television displays excessive visible wealth, it doesn't mean this is accurate. Again, this is just more deception. As for 'Mystery Babylon', this refers to a city not in existence when the Word of God was written..."

- If it were Rome with its seven hills, then there would be no mystery.
- If it were Germany, there would be no mystery as these were the Assyrians, the Germanic.

"Remember that I once told you years ago that, as these events came closer and unfolded before your eyes, you would begin to see the visions of the prophets take shape in what you now see. There are fewer mysteries now than there were 20 years ago. If you were to go back 20 years or even 200 years or even 2000 years, you could see all that God has done here to fulfill the Words of the prophets.

"Just think of how difficult it is to describe things not yet conceived. Still, and by faith, My 'scribes scribed' with pen on papyrus and stored them in jars, sealing the lids and hiding them in dark caves, all for a later time to prove My Word is truth. Right now, you are experiencing the pains of the 'Great Wrap Up' of God. As for today's leadership, they have great plans to destroy the majority of the population.

"They feel the need to be in control. They label this reduction as 'urgent'. They are forging ahead because they think the people are stupid. However, they are not. If only the people would have turned from their wicked ambitions towards their Creator, the Creator of Heaven and Earth. I would have then turned to heal them. However, they have not. As such, I will only gather up the people who cry out to Me.

"If they cry out to Me, I will hear them and then have mercy upon them. I will heal their afflictions. I will then be their God and they will be My people. There will then be great rejoicing throughout the lands before I take them to the place that I prepared for them.

"However, there is another group. This is My Special Remnant. This is a Remnant of Jacob. This is an Army unlike any other."

Me: "Who are these?"

Jesus: "Oh Erin, you are in this number. Now, do not worry about the troubles that you see in the news. None of it is good. Instead, be excited that the times spoken about by the prophets are near, even at the door.

"Now take heart as I am soon to strengthen you, heal you and pay your debts so you and your house and those I have called will not be subject to the world and free from harm. Rejoice, Erin, for I am with you."

Dream over.

Dear Father,

I am so thankful and grateful that You are above all things. You are over and above the Earth and You see. You are also in complete control as the world is plunging over a cliff. Please strengthen us for what is coming as, without You strengthening and healing us, we will perish.

Strategically, the world has been weakened on all fronts by five evil entities. I include Russia, China, Iran, the World Economic Forum (WEF) and the New World Order (O and the overseers). I had a dream this morning...

Sub-Dream 1 “The Kill Switch” begins...

I saw a man serving another man a folder. The folder contained papers. Nothing was electronic. Another man then carried the papers, along with a key and a code, to a secured room. Once there, two men verified the code and the key. One of the men then went up to a massive lever. The folder was labeled ‘Kill Switch’. I saw a sequence of numbers being entered into the system in the following order..

‘20237000000187144999’

After entering the numbers, the man pulled the massive lever. Immediately, all vehicles around the world with kill switches stopped right where they were. Batteries didn’t matter as all were now digital. This was different than an EMP attack. Satellites plunged from the skies. Pacemaker devices stopped. All computers and phones stopped. There was complete chaos.

However, it then got even worse. All medical equipment stopped. Lifesaving devices all stopped, including kidney and lung machines. All banking stopped. All gas stations stopped (though it didn’t matter anymore as there were no cars to fill up now). Planes fell out of the sky. Electrical grids stopped. Darkness fell.

Sub-Dream 1 over.

Father, I have had so many dreams where there is no food, no money, no transportation and no medical care. I pray that this is for much later. I can't imagine what would happen to all of us if this happened. I had another dream last night...

Sub-Dream 2 "Getting along Post-Transformation" begins...

I was young again. Many suitors were trying to give me gifts. However, I was only fixed on God. I had no attachment to anything or anyone as God covered everything. He also did the same for my children, my Nest friends and their children. God was everything to us and we followed Him as He asked of us.

Sub-Dream 2 over.

Me: "Father, these dreams left me with questions."

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "Erin, I am here and I am with you. While things around you are about to become very difficult, this won't be the case for your home. Now, I have heard your prayers and I know your great burdens. While you are concerned for your household, I tell you the truth... I have you where you are supposed to be until the day I move you. You are to finish the tasks I have given you. You are to get your house in order. While I will grant you further instructions, I am giving you the ability to weather storms."

Me: "Lord, please bless our children and our Nest friends in all they do."

Jesus: "I will. Right now, I have made many of My people old, infirm and sickly with ailments the world knows are death sentences. I have allowed various trouble so that, when I suddenly move those around you, you will be in shock and great amazement. I am soon to heal all of this. What the illness didn't attack, the remedy did. This weakened all immune systems, causing the body to become slow to heal.

"Erin, I heal broken hearts and broken dreams. I will grant you, not only the desires of your heart, but that too which you didn't know you had need of as well. I will open the heavens and My hosts of Heaven will descend and ascend with gifts and healing, miracles and provisions, from on high. I will move My people into the areas where they will be surrounded by My presence and glory. I will call them there and be with them.

"Those below will ask 'who are they that God shall appoint them?' However, when evil tries to come against them or their children and property, they do so at their own peril. As I am God over My people, I will show them My favor and strength. Whoever blesses them will be blessed. As for those they bless, I will send blessings and increase. Those who send curses will be far from them."

Me: "Oh Lord, please hurry!"

Jesus: "From Heaven's perspective, I am hurrying. From Earth's perspective, I am slow. However, neither am I slow nor do I hurry. I come at the proper time. Now, I apologize for the dark dreams. However, I send these to help you all understand this late hour and what you will face in the midst of where I call you to be. So many will be greatly disheartened by their troubles.

"However, I will use My people, My Remnant, to administer My justice against the wicked. I will use them to till up the soil in advance of the Great Harvest. There will then be a record yield to bring in the harvested of the Earth. All of Heaven will be overjoyed at what I have done. Now, rejoice, Erin, Rejoice, for I am with you!"

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You! I pray that the empty be filled with Your Living Water. Without You, the lost are never found. However, with You, all that is lost is found. The lost are found by You. Blessed are You, Father, in all the Earth. I had a dream last night...

Sub-Dream 3 "Learning to Live in the New Norm" begins...

We lived in another home. We were settling in just as school was starting at a local university. There was a 'California Mountain Vibe' to the dream. I recalled the smells from the Sierra Nevada region. As a child, we visited Tahoe often, both when we lived in Reno and when we lived in the Bay Area of San Francisco. I was planting several plants outside, including bushes, trees and flowers.

I also cleaned up a fountain that had a burned-out pump. I replaced the pump with a working one. I also added a light. One night, we were about to turn off the light when I noticed a line moving in the sheetrock on the wall. This line looked like a snake if one was able to slither inside sheetrock.

Whatever creature it was, it finally burst through. My husband immediately killed it as it had an evil look to it.

We prayed together about the damaged wall. When we woke up in the morning, God had repaired the wall. I could not see any other creatures slithering behind the wall. In the mid-morning, I went for a walk to the college campus. There were two sections...

- One section was learning growth development and infrastructure.
- The other section was labeled 'De-Con-U'. This stood for 'Deconstruction University'. It was a type of sub-section of the campus.

I walked up to the building. The place was in disarray. The leadership was leadership yet was anti-leadership at the same time – this was a confusing mixture to say the least. The wing that I entered was labeled 'The Green Experiment'. There were three stations or sections to this...

- 1 – Destabilize and Obstruct: These students were learning how to go against all norms of establishments at any cost and by any means.
- 2 – Survive the New Way: Widespread use of plant-based food. Remove taste buds using chemical means. No soap or scents. Selective reduction of consumption. Basically, living while starving. Selective breathing. Timed bowel movements (disgusting). Required to leave no carbon footprint. You basically are required to not leave any evidence that you even exist. Diminished living.
- 3 – Operation Climate Control: Death to all opposed to the religion of Climate Change. Develop cleaner ways to dispose of human bodies. Destroy what we need to eat. Develop drugs to allow for a great purge. Do everything for the greater good of the planet. While pets are cute, they will now be deemed as unnecessary and euthanized.

The area smelled horrible. All who were there were so angry. They had so much hatred, you could literally feel the thickness of evil in the room. There was one wall that they were constructing with a door. I wasn't sure where the door was going to as there was no building attached to it. Since they were not paying attention to me, I took what the evil designers were designing and put my own twist to it...

- I changed one area to look similar to the Whitehouse.
- Another area to look like a prison cell.
- Another area to look like a bottomless pit.

When they saw the new designs, they became very angry. They had no sense of humor. They tore down the entire side of the building so all was exposed. Everyone could now see what they were doing. As I walked back home, I chuckled at how angry they had become at my design choices. When I arrived home, I discovered fountains and beautiful landscaping. This was not something I had prepared or planted.

Sub-Dream 3 over.

I have had so much happen recently...

- I dealt with someone who advertised that I was claiming to be one of the Two Witnesses. How she came up with this, I have no idea! Well, to clarify... NO, I am NOT one of the Two Witnesses and I have never claimed to be. Anyone who reads these dreams should know that they are Elijah and Enoch... PERIOD.
- The dentist is having trouble fixing my younger son's dental work. We don't have insurance, so this is getting quite expensive. However, how can he live if he can barely chew on one side. All we know is that this is necessary and even somehow fits into God's greater plan. Still, it is hard to see someone in pain.
- A person with demons approached me at a Thrift Store. He was really scary, and I mean REALLY scary. There were three women and all left immediately to avoid him. I did the same.
- I smashed a couple of spiders over the last little while. This is a sign of warfare. We prayed together as a family to have God come against it. He is Master over all, so I have now given this over to Him.

Me: "Father, I come to You for answers. I repent for anything I have done that is against Your Will. Please forgive me. I repent!"

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "Erin, I am here and I am with you. I allowed these challenges for your good and for those who are with you. This is good instruction for all who read. Remember that you know the enemy by their fruits. Do not engage with liars and fools. I want you to think of this and remember it. Unless I call you to engage the enemy, do not engage. Do not engage before I call you.

"When I call you, you will be fully equipped to stand. You are to then take your position and then await further instructions to engage. Now, what about the demon possessed man who was at the place you find bargains.

You were wise to immediately flee from him. Why? Because I did not say stand and let Me deliver him from his afflictions... and there are many.

"Erin, look at this from another perspective... if you were in the front of a store and a man with a gun was coming towards you, but he had no sight of you... well, you would flee quickly as you have no ability to fight on your own. Unless I was to assist you, you would have no means to defend yourself on your own."

Me: "I am so thankful to have You as my Protector!"

Jesus: "Yes, of course. However, My Voice in you would say run and take shelter away from the threat. This man had many demons. I have not called you to deliver him at this time. Do you understand? This is not the moment to engage until I call you to. Remember that I do not call the equipped, I equip the called."

"Now, when you receive anything unusual via email, text, phone or by another means, stop, drop and pray before you act. I will then grant you wisdom. You have come through a long period of fasting. The enemy is furious about this as both you and your husband have come closer to Me."

"Remember that, when someone keeps claiming they are your friend, there is a good case they are not. Friends show themselves as a friend by other means. They do not need to state this. This is a tactic used by the enemy to disarm the target, even calling you by name to make it personal."

Me: "Oh no, Lord! I have called quite a few people 'my friend' before. Yikes!"

Jesus: "Yes, but you did not do this 'obsessively'. This is because there is also evidence to establish that there is already a friendship. I am not talking about this. Now, how many times has someone told you they love you as a sister or a brother, yet all of their actions were the opposite? Many have done this to you, including even your former husband."

Me: "Oh wow, Lord, this has happened all of the time with me."

Jesus: "Be careful of these things. Some even seal it with a kiss prior to their betrayal of you. This too I know. Now, you have another question for Me."

Me: "Yes, Lord. Why have some watchers died and have not realized Your promises?"

Jesus: "Oh Erin, I call one here and another there. I bring one through the years with many experiences. Others I remove in their earlier years. Some endure great illness and pain. Others endure no illness at all. Some are rich and some are poor. Remember that each is given their portion. I, in turn, take them to the place I have prepared for them. It is a beautiful place that I built for those I love. However, your question is not this..."

Me: "Lord, are You going to take me Home soon too? I am not healing. Is it possible You might use me in another way?"

Jesus: "Why? Are you done here? Wow, I didn't see this coming."

Me: Laughing. "No, Lord, I want to stay."

Jesus: "This is good. I have a great plan here. I would like you to participate in this."

Me: "Oh yes, Lord! I want to be in that number!"

Jesus: "Well, this is good then. Now, it is difficult to have trust in God when the unfolding of the New World Order is occurring in real time. This is not easy to witness even though you dreamt it. You are now beginning to live it as it plays out live right before your very eyes."

Me: "Oh yes, Lord, this is so true. Butter is now $7.50. Gluten-free bread is $9.00 a loaf. A peach is $1.50. A bag of dog treats has doubled. The governments are stopping production of farms. These prices are going to seem low soon. Ouch!"

Jesus: "I am aware of all of it. They have lofty plans. Remember that these are the same people who allowed church services, but forbid worship. While they are 'allowing' farming to continue, they are not allowing equipment for the harvest."

Me: "Oh Lord, Please stop the spread of Covid and these upcoming food shortages."

Jesus: "Again, the Word of God is clear as to the framework of the times you are in now. Now, you are waiting on Me, right?"

Me: "Oh yes, Lord. We are at Your mercy. We are completely relying on You."

Jesus: "Then allow God to be God. The USA is at war and the wicked have prepared to take out many people, both young and old. The enemy is sending out waves of trouble from their own wave machines. However, I am God over all and I am soon to reveal a Great Wave of Heaven upon the nations. All will be amazed. Remain in Me as I am with you.

"Now, when you hear a voice calling in the wilderness saying 'I was sent by God, He is with me' or 'leave your homes as I am here', do not go there as I would not do this. I meet you where you are. My Voice is with you. The same is true for all those I have called as My Voice is with them too. Pray for each other. Bless each other. Bless their children and their houses as I am there as well.

"I am not out in the deep wilderness. I don't call from the darkness and say 'hey light, come to the dark!' No, I would say 'My Spirit, My light, is in you. Where you go, darkness cannot remain!' Therefore, remain in Me, understand? The army of the Earth has their orders from the evil one. All those on Earth that are not Mine now serves Baal.

"Some even dance and worship around Asherah poles. They then charge their crystals in the light of the moon. However, until I call you to engage, don't. I will tell you when to stand and you will know when without a doubt. Simply remove yourself from their presence until the day I well up in great strength within you, understand?

"Even those who are fed by you (in this case, a squirrel) are capable of biting the hand that feeds them, understand? When it comes to these squirrels, pray. This is because they are now an analogy for this rebellious generation. They think themselves in control until the day I rise up in the victim of their actions. They will then be in horror to discover that I am with their victim, not them.

"They will then beg and stammer for forgiveness for their actions as they confess. For some, it will take even more before the rebellious bend to the Will of God and My Great Army who will display their battle scars. Now rejoice, Erin, as these lessons, My lessons, are good. They keep you sharp. You are greatly loved by Me."

Dream over.

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day! Thank You for Your love, grace and mercy. Thank You for being our Father over all things. You are a grand and wonderful mystery. Your love never fails us.

Sub-Dream 1 “An Invitation to a Cemetery on a Distant Hill” begins...

I received an invitation from my earthly father (who had passed in December 2017) to meet him in a cemetery on a distant hill. I prayed on it and realized this was a lesson from God in this dream and not to be misinterpreted as being from the dead. When I arrived at the location of the invitation, I was met by the groundskeeper.

Groundskeeper: “Welcome to our beautiful Memorial Gardens. This is unlike any cemetery. Instead, it is more like a tribute to the journey of life.”

Me: “I received an invitation from my deceased dad. Is his spirit here?”

Groundskeeper: “No. This is meant to be a representative of your father. Think of it as if he had purchased a lot or area for you here prior to his Homegoing.”

Me: “Why am I just receiving this invitation now? He died over 4.5 years ago now.”

Groundskeeper: “This is not up to us. An Invitation is issued by a Higher Power, the CEO of the Corporation. Speaking of which, can I please see your Invitation?”

I handed him a small scroll. For some reason, this scroll was remarkably different than the card and envelope invitation I had received.

Groundskeeper: He removed the seal and opened the scroll. “Ah, I see... you must be Erin, correct?”

Me: “Yes, I am. However, why am I here? I am not dead.”

Groundskeeper: “Of course you’re not. That’s silly. You clearly are living and breathing. Now, let me explain something. This special garden is not as you think. This is not for the dead as their journey is finished. It is for the living.”

Sub-Dream 1 over.

Jesus: “Erin, come up!”

Just then, the groundskeeper changed into an angel of the Lord and I was now up in Heaven. The air was wonderful and I could breathe with ease.

Angel (formerly the groundskeeper): “This is Holy Ground.”

I immediately dropped to my knees as my body went weak. I could no longer stand.

Angel: “Erin, come with me.”

I took off my shoes. The ground changed. The angel took my hand and walked me down a path inside the garden. I noticed that, as we walked, the path was made of perfectly chiseled and honed stone pavers, each with names on them. They fit together so tightly it was as if it all were one stone.

Angel: “Do you know where you are?”

Me: “I have seen this place before. This is God’s Garden in Heaven. I miss it here. I love it here. I can breathe here. I am young again here. My skin is supple and unscarred. My feet are beautiful. I am alive here. I love this.”

Angel: “While you know my brothers, you have not met me yet. My name doesn’t matter right now as all of this is about God and His Glory. This is not for the glory of angels or the reverence of saints, understand?”

Me: “Yes. These stones are beautiful. Who do they represent?”

Angel: “This is the Garden of the Memorial of Saints living on the Earth. This is the place where Heaven wars for those on Earth in prayers. This is where those who have gone before you pray for you in supplication and for your strength in God from Heaven.

“Day or night, this never closes. It is always open. All of Heaven prays for you. Since all who are here in these beautiful stones are from here, they are remembered here as citizens. All of Heaven comes to pray for those who are there where you are.”

Just then, I saw a name removed on a stone and another set up.

Me: “Wait! What just happened? What was that?”

Angel: “The Lord brought them Home here and another name was inserted.”

Me: “Is this different than the names on the other path that I have seen up here?”

Angel: "Yes. In your Home property next to your vineyard in the aspen grove, the path there consists of the names of those you have assisted God in bringing to His Kingdom purposes. Most of these you have never met. These are those who have been brought to God because He has filled you with Living Water and you yielded to Him. He welled up in you and poured out healings, signs, miracles and wonders.

"It is from your past, present day and many days to come. The Lord showed you the ripple effect of just one small stone in still water. He then showed you the effects of a larger stone. However, you are yet to see what Great Stone of God is soon to come. As He has shaped and honed by hand each one in unison, they are laid, each plumb, perfectly fitting together as one. Now come with me."

As we walked together in this incredible Garden of God, there were beautiful ponds and fountains. A beautiful tributary of the River of Life ran next to the engraved path. The birds of Heaven were singing. There were beautiful animals there. In one clearing, there was an entire grouping of stones together.

There were seven stones in all. Blossoming flowers formed a canopy over the stones. There was a dog there laying by the stones. The dog was licking one of the stones. When he noticed the angel, he ran over to greet him. The angel smiled and laughed.

Angel: "Okay, okay, your prayers are being answered. Don't worry."

The dog then went back and began to lick one of the stones again.

Me: "What is the dog doing over there?"

Angel: "That is the family that the dog had belonged to. He is still loyal to them. Because one of the family members is ill, he licks the stone to pray."

Me: "I had no idea that these things happened in Heaven."

Angel: "Erin, Heaven intercedes. I have an analogy for you. Let's say that your husband, sons or daughters were going off to war and you knew nothing of their station in the battle as soldiers. What would you do?"

Me: "I would go to battle in prayers and supplications. I would make declarations and pronounce victories in advance. I would not cease doing so."

Angel: "Very good. In a similar way, the power of prayer in Heaven is as it is on Earth, but without barriers for those praying here in Heaven. Now, this is a busy garden. However, for your entry here as you are of the Earth, you cannot see those who have gone before you unless it is from a great distance as you are unable to communicate with the dead.

“Now, this garden is open day and night and never sleeps. It changes with the seasons yet is never uncomfortable. There are cries out to God here. Even pets once on Earth cry out to God for help, justice and protection. There are interceders for all here.”

Me: “This is all such a wonderful mystery! How glorious!”

Angel: “Yes. However, there is even more to this. Erin, at the break of dawn every morning, God walks here with the angels. It is powerful and wonderful.”

Me: Crying. “God walks amongst the living?”

Angel: “Of course. Now come, I have something to show you.”

The angel took me to a clearing by a small pond with fountains. There were benches set up there, each with an incredible view of the Valley of God. It was so beautiful and vast. There were flowers and a small meadow area with fruit trees.

I saw a stone there that was made of granite. It looked like a pillar and had N S E W engraved on it like a compass. The sides also had some beautiful verses of my favorite Scriptures. The column ended and was set in a plinth of stone. The top of the area had gold and silver.

Angel: “When the sun rises or sets, at mid-morning or even afternoon, the light is reflective in all directions from the Light of God. There are several of these in the garden and are perfectly set to reflect God’s Goodness. Now, look over here...”

I looked down where he was pointing. I could see my name chiseled in the stone. I saw the names of some of my family. I also saw many names that I didn’t recognize.

Me: “What is this?”

Angel: “This represents a body of warriors together as one under God. This is a beautiful place of singing and worship. Erin, one day very soon, all of this will be free from names as it will instead represent God and His Journey. It will be a wonderous Garden of the Miracles of God and His Glory.

“As you will all reside here, there will no longer be any need for your prayers. Instead, it will be remembered as a Monument of the Power of God and His Reign. Erin, on Earth as it is in Heaven. It will be a Great Garden of worship and joy, discovery and fulfillment. It will never cease to be a place of great wonder and everlasting gratitude for the citizens here.”

Me: "Wow, I cannot wait."

Just then, I heard a horse behind me. I turned and it was Jesus. He looked into my eyes and smiled. My heart skipped a beat in excitement as I was so happy to see Him in person again. He was in the attire of The King. His Robe was purple and His Crown had spires of gold and jewels.

He dismounted His horse and came up to me. He had a beautiful smile, tan skin and eyes of blue green. Truly, I have never seen any man as handsome, in Heaven or on Earth, than Jesus. He was strong and mighty. Tears streamed from my eyes. The angel took the horse over to drink water from the stream.

Jesus: Smiling. "Erin, it is so good to see you."

He reached for my hand and took me over to a bench overlooking the beautiful valley.

Jesus: "Come and sit over here on My right side."

I did as He told me. I was speechless as I studied Him. I missed His physical presence. It felt so good, like nothing on Earth can come close to. He is truly our everything and nothing compares to Him.

Me: "Oh Lord, I missed seeing You in person. While I hear Your Voice, I missed seeing You in person."

Jesus: "This is why I came today. This is an important day. You needed to see Me as I am. I am King over all of the Earth."

Me: "Heaven too, Lord, right?"

Jesus: "My Father is in Heaven and He has given Me charge over the Earth. My Father God is seated on the Throne and I am His Son. I am the Living God. It is difficult to understand fully what all of this means until one day it will all come to light. Put another way, until one day it is brought forth like the dawn breaking over the horizon.

"There is so much more that you cannot see and do not have understanding of until I illuminate this through My Word. My Word is a living breathing testament to life abundant and is eternal. Those who understand this then search for this truth. The wisdom and knowledge they then gain is God-breathed by My Spirit.

"Now, I gave you the dream last night of a memorial stone with your name on it, amongst others, and you thought 'oh no, am I set to die soon?'. Am I correct?"

Me: "Yes, Lord... You are always correct. However, You then spoke to me and said 'No, Erin, come to Me. I have something to share with you.'"

Jesus: "In doing so, you sought Me with your whole heart. What you feared I would show you instead became something different. I met you here instead. I gave you a gift to remind you that you are more alive than ever. Erin, I am found by you. Now come and let Me show you what these different stones are from your dream."

He stood up and reached for my hand. He waved at the angel and the angel smiled and waved back at us. Instantly, we were at the cemetery from the beginning of this dream. This was outside the Garden of God. Jesus then showed me some stones that had been rejected. They were jagged and not plumed.

Jesus: "While I tried to work with these, they were difficult to shape. They fought Me. As this was a struggle, I placed them here for now."

Me: "They are white and actually pretty cool looking. Some are marble."

Jesus: "Well, they are grooved and pitted. This makes it not easy to smooth out. They are rough. While they will one day be useful, they live at the outside of the gate for now. They are Mine. They have to be brought through some major resurfacing. This is for later. Now, look at these here..."

He pointed to some fat round boulders.

Jesus: "These are great barrier stones to prevent people from entering in at all. Many sit on these and enjoy their lunches. These are immovable boulders. They are puffed up and full of themselves. They represent the love of the world and serve Mammon. They are comfortable with their surroundings. One day, I will toss them over My shoulder and into the sea. They can then petition Me from there. Then there are these..."

He pointed to a massive pile of grey rocks. They seemed to be sedimentary. There were also some rocks with many holes, something like lava rocks.

Jesus: "The grey ones break apart and the lava rocks serve as loofas for stripping off surfaces. None of these are useful. They were never Mine. They belong here and will go into the fire one day as they are not useful to My purposes. They were only useful as stones to throw. I have condemned them to being 'judgment stones'."

Me: "I had no idea rocks served any purpose at all here. I guess I never considered them... well, until now, thanks to You."

Jesus: "Well, the Stone the builders rejected is the Capstone or Keystone. If a builder rejects the Keystone, what has he done?"

Me: "Well, a Keystone holds the archway of stones together. It is the crowning piece. If it is removed, the rest have no stability. They will fall and crash. So too will the building, or at least that wall. Now, what about the Cornerstone?"

Jesus: "This too is equally important as this is the stone between two adjacent walls and keeps them stable to the foundation. It is the largest and most sturdy of all of the stones."

Me: "By Your Word, Lord... 'See I lay a stone in Zion a tested stone, a precious cornerstone for a sure foundation, the one who trusts will never be dismayed. I will make justice the measuring line and righteousness the plumbline (Isaiah 28:16-17).' Lord, You are our Headstone. However, You are also the Builder of Your Church. Your Stone is beautiful, jeweled and perfect to all whose hope is in You. However, to many others, you were and are a stumbling stone of judgment."

Jesus: "Very good. You received a great lesson today on stones. Thereby you also understand that the various stones I have shown you are not useful here. In fact, of that pile over there, they are useful for throwing or skipping. They have been used as a form of pain and judgment against My people. However, I have rejected them as they were never Mine and are great for tossing."

Me: With humorous exaggeration. "Hmm, judging stones... Hmph!"

Jesus: Smiling and laughing. "Well, I can't use them to build upon. I can only use them for tearing down."

Me: "What will happen with the rest of these? Like these white ones?"

Jesus: "Well, they have some tough times ahead of them. Because they reject and fight anything beneficial, their final purpose will be a great one, just not an easy time is in store. They did not allow Me to work on them. This means they will now be subject to the world and what is to come and will be apart from Me. However, I will show them what they can be if they endure. They will then see you and these both plumed and chiseled."

Me: "Well, Lord, I am so sorry that I fought You in the past. I was a puffed up big round stone of the world. I was one of those immovable rocks."

Jesus: "No, Erin. While you were tough at first, you were also searching and hopeful to be of use to Me. You didn't pick up judgment stones to throw or play superiority games against the broken. You didn't think yourself a jewel like a star higher than God. You did none of this. While it wasn't always easy to work on you, I saw what you would become from the beginning.

“Like a Sculptor inspired by a large rock, He sees below the surface at what shape it will become. As for the rock, he does not see below the surface. He thinks of himself as a mere stone, a stone void of use. As for the stone slab, he doesn’t try to rebel against the Sculptor. He doesn’t say ‘I’ll just throw myself on you and dash you to pieces to show my strength.’ The stone slab knows that he cannot be made beautiful without Me. The stone slab then submits.”

Me: Laughing. “You are funny, Lord!”

Jesus: “Well, you laugh, but how many have hearts of stone who think they are greater than God. They would certainly like nothing more than to make a slab tombstone for the children of God.”

Me: “You are right, Lord. There are so many now with a heart of stone. Oh Lord, please help us! Help us to stand against all of these. Without You, we are helpless.”

Jesus: “Well then, it is a relief that I am with you in this battle. Now, do not worry. I am over all things. I am the Keystone, the Capstone, the Cornerstone and the Largest Stone. Through those I have called will My Greatest Temple be established. Now, Erin, rejoice. I am here and I am with you. You are a jewel in My Crown. Rejoice for I will soon use you to leave no stone unturned.”

He smiled and hugged me. I never wanted to let go of Him. It felt so good to have the Greatest Hugger hugging me. All I can say is that this is an experience worth waiting for! He is worthy of ALL of our praises!

Dream over.

Dear Father,

You are wonderful in majesty and glory! You are perfect in love. Your capacity to love the unlovable is beyond our abilities to comprehend. You are with us still and You are greater in us than he who is in this world. I am thankful to You, Father, for loving us beyond our human earthly selves here. There is something great that You know and understand about us because You created us.

You know what each of our stories are because You created us. When You say You have a plan for us in Jeremiah 29:11, we can know that it is true and can believe it. You have plans to prosper us and not to harm us, plans for hope and a future.

This made me look at the promises in Your Word in a fresh and new way. In my first days at church, they taught that prospering meant material and financial success. As for today, we have been under great spiritual attacks over the last two weeks. I have been so sad that I have been brought to my knees.

At times, I am both disappointed and disheartened. This all culminated in a type of heartache as I was cleaning up flood waters in our basement at 2:00 AM. I was already not feeling the greatest. I was dialoguing with the Lord over my situation and I was upset. I recited Jeremiah 29:11 to the Lord.

Me: "Lord, are You mad at me? We must have a spiritual breach in the house as it can't be just the physical. I bring to You a reminder that Your plans are to prosper me and give us hope and a future."

Jesus: "Sure, on the surface and as you read this, it is true. However, perhaps revisit what I have said about the hour being very late and that I rebuke those I love. I love you."

I then went into prayer and looked over my week. Was there something I needed to repent for? I am always discovering this or that. As for this week, I really had very little interaction with anyone. I was under attack, but I didn't engage. I purposely did not engage even when goaded. All the signs were here of an attack from every area. Still, I couldn't find any breach. As with our flooding, I knew why it was flooding and where it was coming from.

For the last two weeks, I have had a deep excruciating pain at the right-side base of my neck to shoulder and down my arm. It is impossible to write or keep it in one place before the pain is so unbearable it brings me to tears. I have been off of my technology because my head can't bend forward without severe arm pain. It has been an extremely rough time.

On Friday, we drove to a massive flea market. It was my son's 23rd birthday on Saturday and he requested that we take a road trip there. My husband and my older son were out of their element and it was overwhelming for them. There was something different about this flea market. I sensed an atmosphere of despair and desperation. It was a fulfillment of the beginning of the dreams that the Lord gave me almost nine years ago of a time ahead.

Well, here we are. There were open markets of people selling all that they had. When I spoke to a few people, they claimed they were selling the estate of their family member who had passed from Covid. It was very much a 'name your price' kind of scenario. The ratio of sketchy sellers to normal sellers was about 80 / 20 here. At a normal flea market, this ratio is usually around 30 / 70, a lot more normal.

My kids 'in the know' said that there were many fakes in the Funko-pop collectibles there. Still, my daughter found a beautiful vintage picnic basket with leather buckles and red-checkered fabric lining. She was excited. I also found something that excited me. It was a stitch sampler that was framed with the following saying...

"I said to a man who stood at the Gate of the Year, Give me a light, that I may tread safely into the unknown. And he replied, Go out into the darkness and put your hand into the hand of God, that shall be to you better than light, and safer, than the known way. From the King's Message - 25 Dec 1939"

Me: "I love this framed saying. How much?"

Woman: "$12. Almost all you see here is from my deceased uncle's estate. He died of Covid recently."

Me: "Sure. Done." Even though it was a hot day, a refreshing cool breeze then passed through her booth. "Whoa, you have the best booth and a miraculous cool breeze."

Woman: "God's favor is upon us here."

Me: "Yes, definitely it is."

As I walked away, I realized that this woman's booth was the only booth where I had felt God's presence. Later on, as we drove away from the flea market, I decided to do a little study on the meaning of 'Prosper'.

"The meaning of Prosper – deeper than material. Flourish physically. Grow strong and healthy. Being successful. The Greek meaning means 'to help on the road' or 'succeed in reaching'."

Interestingly, this was from an article from the Tri-Cities Herald where I used to live in Washington State during my 'desert period'. When I reflected on the King's Message, specifically the part of the Gate of the Year, I dialogue with the Lord again.

Me: "Lord, are we at the Gate of the Year of our Lord?"

Jesus: "Erin, the hour is very late!"

He said this with emphasis on the words 'very late'! This made me feel that 'The King's Message' was written for us and for this very time we are now in. This fit in with the dream I had last night...

Sub-Dream 1 "Turning Back towards the Battles" begins...

I approached a gate of iron. The gate was caked with oil and sludge. Next to this dirty gate was a beautiful gate right on my path. It was nighttime. There was no moon. There were only stars to illuminate my path. I could hear distant thunder approaching. I suddenly realized that it wasn't thunder. Instead, it was a battle or war approaching. I knew the beautiful gate had been put there by the Lord for my escape.

Me: "Oh Lord, please open this beautiful gate. I want to leave this place and move onward."

As the hours passed and I had sat there in darkness, it became lighter as dawn approached. I then prayed again.

Me: "Oh Lord, thank You for the break of morning!"

I now heard birds instead of the sounds of raging battles. The sun then broke over the horizon. The distant hills were now illuminated in sunlight. Just as the terrain lit up, I heard the distinct sound of a lock turning. The beautiful gate was now open to me. While I bolted toward the gate at first, I suddenly stopped short of stepping through. While I was so excited to leave the place I was in, I began to cry.

Me: "Oh Lord, my heart is breaking for those behind me in the battle. I cannot step through. Oh Father, here I am, at the Gate of Heaven. While I long to be inside these Gates in the beautiful Land You prepared for us, I just can't, in my heart, do this. Will You please prosper me here on Earth so that I might continue the good fight? I want to help You help the lost."

I backed up and closed the beautiful Gate. I had made my decision.

Me: "Be with me, Lord. Fill me with Your strength. Heal me for Your Glory. I pray for this in Your Name, in Jesus' Mighty Name, Amen."

I turned and began to run back toward the sound of the battle. As I ran, I felt strong and healed. I knew that He would use me in a mighty way. I no longer had any fear.

Sub-Dream 1 over...

I then decided to write out a poem that was written in 1908 as part of a collection titled 'The Desert'!

"God knows

And I said to the man who stood at the Gate of the Year, give me a light that I may tread safely into the unknown. And he replied: Go out into the darkness and put your hand into the Hand of God that shall be to you better than light and safer than a known way. So I went forth and finding the Hand of God, trod gladly into the night. And He led me towards the hills and the breaking day in the lone east.

So, heart be still

What need our little life, our human life, to know if God has comprehension? In all the dizzy strife of things both high and low. God hides His intentions. God knows His Will is best. The stretch of years which wind ahead, so dim to our imperfect vision, are clear to God! Our fears are premature; In Him, all time has full provision.

Then Rest

Until God moves to lift the veil from our impatient eyes, when, as the sweeter features of life's stern face we hail, fair beyond all surmise, God's thought around His creatures, our mind shall fill."

Me: "Oh Father, let this be the Gate of the Year of Your Favor upon the nations. Please let it be the Year of Your Favor (Isaiah 61:1-3). Father, please let this be the Great Year of Liberation. Open the floodgates from Heaven. Let the horns sound from the mountain tops. Lord, bring in Your liberty!"

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "Erin, I am here and I am with you. Remember that I rebuke those I love so you quickly turn from your course. Stop and come to Me. I do this with those I love when your path needs correction, understand? Now, when I say that the hour is very late, what is it that I am saying?"

Me: "Well, the hour is growing much closer than it was before."

Jesus: "Yes. Those I have called for My service needs to be ready for what is very soon to come."

Me: "How do we ready ourselves?"

Jesus: "Years ago, when your accident occurred, you had all the correct insurance papers and coverage. At the first level, it appeared you had more than enough. However, after the accident and upon further review, key disclaimers to your policy that diminished your ability to make your claim were discovered. You then felt betrayed by the system, a system that was supposed to be there to protect you."

Me: "Yes, Lord. It was heartbreaking. This set up years of battles. In the end, I received very little. I then went bankrupt."

Jesus: "Well, I have given you a New Contract. This Contract has no 'fine print'. It is fully open and the writing is clear. These are the plans I have for you. I signed them and sealed them with My Signet Ring. It was approved by Me. However, what did I therefore require from you?"

Me: "To obey Your Commandments and love You with my whole heart, soul and strength."

Jesus: "Have you done this?"

Me: "I thought I had been. Lord, I have been afraid. I have worried about various events that never have come to be."

Jesus: "Okay, so let Me explain this. To love Me with your whole heart means that, no matter what comes, no matter what threat, no matter what imagination, if God is with you, then who is against you? If I am your King, your Groom, and you are My Bride, then won't I stop anything from coming against you? Does this not mean any threat and by any means?"

Me: "Yes, Lord. I am so sorry. I am so, so sorry. My fear is so great. I worry about my upcoming trial, over provision, over my children and over looming health issues. It has been so long and I am tired. I am weary and my heart breaks. I pray and things don't happen as I expect. I scramble to meet my 6:00 PM Shabbat and I seem to fail every time. I am almost always late."

Jesus: "Oh Erin, Shabbat rest is to be joyful. It is not a punishing stone. It is to be restful and relaxing. I am not the God of punishment. Erin, I don't sit here with a clipboard marking down failures. I don't shake My head and say 'oops, there goes another blessing'. You think wrongly of Me. This is a heart issue. On the day of rest, you are to rest and not work.

"You are to spend this time in joy and thanksgiving, not in exhaustion and regret. You spend the first few hours saying 'oh, I should have done this or I need to do this'. It is the same for the last few hours. You think 'okay, so I need to do this or that by 6:00pm'. Do you see how this is not helpful?

"Now, when you don't rest properly, then your next few days are filled with pain and unrest. This is because you did not rest fully for the allotted time. This is the battle you rage, Erin. Your healing starts here with Me at the Gates. I have your hand... now, turn and hold Mine. Erin, you can do this."

Me: "I thought I had been resting, Lord. I am sorry. You are speaking the truth. I do this."

Jesus: "Well, Erin, how about we start fresh? I have prepared you. Your heart is ready. However, when you are worried about various things that are not in your control, you are not fully trusting in Me. Trust Me. I am here. I am with you. The world brings troubles. However, you are to take heart as I have overcome the world.

"Erin, do not be afraid. The enemy looks for breeches in your walls so he can flood you with all of the bad fruits. However, I am the King, your Groom, who brings you good fruit. Remember that My yolk is easy and My burden is light. Can you give Me your cares, your worries and your struggles? I promise to make this light and your shoulder will not hurt."

Me: "Oh yes, please, Lord. My arm hurts terribly."

Jesus: "Well then, let Me take your cares."

Me: "I will. I love You, Lord. Thank You for Your Grace and Your Love. Thank You for Your 'not always' gentle rebukes. Will You heal our walls from the flooding too?"

Jesus: "Yes, I will provide all you need. I am with you. I love you. I am over you, your family and your house. I am over your friends, their families and their houses. I am with you. Now, look at the Year of the Lord's Favor through a different lens. Remember, eyes wide-open and with clear vision. You are My servants and My Spirit is upon you:

- You will bring Good News to the poor.

- You will bind up the broken-hearted.
- You will proclaim liberty to the captives.
- You will open the prison cells to those who are bound.
- You will proclaim the Year of My Favor and the Day of Vengeance.
- You will comfort all who mourn.
- You will turn headdresses of ashes into beautiful headdresses of joy.
- You will provide the oil of gladness.
- You will provide the garment of praise.

“You will do this, not in your power, but in Mine. This is a very good time, Erin. Rejoice as I am with you, now and forever.”

629 – David vs Goliath

Dear Father,

Thank You for reminding me that You are above all things. I am thankful that You are above all things as here, on the surface, usually straightforward level things are even growing horribly dark. How can we rise above the battlefield while in the midst of an epic battle? The war is raging and enemy troops are coming in at us from all sides. The carnage to us will be epic as we are unable to stand against the enemy and his schemes.

There are many enemies now and my body grows weak. My mind breaks just from the looming threats we all now see. This battle raged all this week as illness and troubles fell upon us. These things are mild compared to what the landscape will soon look like. Lord, I pray that we are on the cusp of the Greatest Move of God the world has ever seen. This will be such a blessing given our current state of wave after wave of troubles coming to Your people.

Me: "We are helpless without You. In my prayers yesterday, I asked You for a miracle above all miracles. I asked for something too wonderful for any of us. I asked this for our household and our Nest families and households."

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "Erin, I am here. Do not be afraid.

"I am above this valley. I am above the battles that rage. I am over it all and I see.

"However, I don't just sit back and watch from a distance in disbelief. I am active instead. Since I am with you, who then can come against you with any success?

"When David faced Goliath, he was small. He had no armor. He only had a sling and a stone and his tiny weapon.

“As for Goliath, this giant was threatening. He terrified all of those who stood against him.

“Remember that there were two hills and a valley in this story. On one hill were the Philistines and on the other hill were the Israelites. Goliath was large. He had armor of bronze and a massive javelin and shield. He came out and harassed the army of Israel for forty days. They were terrified of this giant.

“While I could have used Saul or any other fighting man to slay the giant, I instead called on David, a youth, to stand against him. I welled up in David and granted him courage.

“While David had courage, the rest of the army was in fear of Goliath and his taunting threats. David then boldly asked what the wage would be for taking down the giant. He asked Saul about this while in front of those that were serving Saul.

“While they had strategies to take down this giant, there was still too much fear amongst them to move forward with any of them. This is why they were so annoyed when David, a ‘grunt’ bringing them supplies, asked about the wage associated with taking down Goliath.

“Erin, do you understand where I am going with this? The fighting men were discouraged as this threat loomed large.

“The giant continued to be there front and center, reminding the fighting men that they were afraid. Now this young shepherd was there wanting to take Goliath on, using emboldened actions and great words of faith.

“They were jealous that David continued to be focused on God and on the prize despite the threats of the giant. David then made a case to go before Goliath in an unusual way. He chose not to wear any armor.

“The armor would have been too cumbersome. In reality, any armor or additional weapons would have hindered David from what he was called to do... The Impossible!

“He walked to the stream and selected five good stones. He then placed the stones in his pouch. With only his sling in his hand, he came before Goliath. David then surrendered his whole heart to Me in this moment. He put his complete trust in Me.

“My Voice welled up in David and he spoke boldly and with authority against the cursed lips of the giant. David then boldly stated to Goliath and all those who witnessed this that he was about to eliminate this threat.

"He then took the first stone and slung it at Goliath's head. This was all he needed and it was fatal. The giant fell face forward on the ground.

"He appeared to be worshiping his false gods. In reality, he was now bowing 'by stone' to the one true God of Israel. Goliath's death then caused the Philistines to run.

"However, the Israelites pursued them and defeated them. After this day, David agreed to serve King Saul in his house. He would later become king. Erin, you know this story from a few thousand years ago, yet here you are.

"Right now, a giant has presented himself. From the mountain, he dwells and calls out to you from the valley he has crossed into. While he only represents a threat, he would love to destroy you.

"Now, you have faced giants before and have overcome them. Why?

"Because of what you have done? No! It is because I am God over all things. I go before you in these battles.

"Now, it is difficult to dream and to write what I call you to write. Some of your dreams speak of times that seemed once far away. There had been no need to worry as there was no sign close to what you were shown. However, now this is different.

"You now see the battles and the pending war. They are now here. You fear for your children and for your Nest friends. You wonder about your future in this world.

"You then ask Me if I am seeing all of this. You question where I am in all of this.

"Well, Erin, here I am. I am here.

"The enemy has lofty plans. They are building ramparts upon your city walls. They are destroying by dismantling all you have come to look forward to, all you have worked for. They have built up great armies to come against the weak and the infirm.

"They have come to rob, steal and destroy God's people and pillage the land. This is what the enemy does to prepare the land. He creates despair. He diminishes. He disheartens.

"He makes destitute those who have hope. He redistributes according to his evil plans. He is loyal only to his evil. He is wicked in all of his schemes."

Me: "Lord, please stop this. Please!"

Jesus: "As soon as My Father in Heaven calls upon the angels to sound the horns, there will be nothing that can stand against the plans of God.

"Heaven will be visible upon the Earth. All Goliaths will fall. God will then gather His people in great numbers and heal their brokenness."

Me: "Lord, please help us in these valleys. I need Your help. I need Your help today, not tomorrow. I need Your help today. I stand on Your promises. My pleas are for Your help. Stopping all of this evil will truly take an act of God We need You."

Jesus: "I will send an army of angels. I am with you."

Me: "Lord, I am terrified and so sad about all the warfare coming at us right now. I am exhausted and in so much pain. My sleep is broken and nothing is going right. I am not sure what to do about anything. I am worried."

Jesus: "Erin, everything you have, I have given to you. Your heart is generous and you give to others. Will I not then also provide for you a defense against the schemes of the enemy?"

"No matter who you are and the little means a person makes, there is a vast army of evil coming to destroy the land of your birth. They hate you and your children. However, more importantly, they hate the living God over all of the Earth.

"I am very capable of helping those I love. You have served Me faithfully. While I reward those who serve Me on Earth and in Heaven, it is not always in the ways you think. However, it is always in great ways.

"Now, you are familiar with the accuser. He shouts out insults to try to engage you from faraway places. However, do not go out. Stay where you are until I move in you.

"I will rise up in your house and heal it. You will be changed. The enemy has been kept from you because I have not used you in full capacity yet. However, I soon will.

"Now, don't take this Word to mean you should not prepare your house. I desire you to continue on your course.

"I require only that you continue to come to Me in all matters. I will take care of you. Erin, you are Mine. I will take care of you and your children. I will take care of your Nest friends. I will remove any threats.

"Do not worry, Erin. Pray together with your husband and I will grant you the desires of your heart. I love you."

Me: "I love You, Jesus. You have my heart. All of me is Yours. Your Will be done in my life."

Jesus: "My promises are true, Erin.

"Do not fear threats.

"Do not run from them.

"Face these and do not be afraid. They will come to nothing as I go before you."

Dream over.

630 – God Triumphs Over Evil

Received on Sunday, August 28, 2022

Dear Father,

Who is like You? What god is greater than You, Father? You see all things. Who has made today in light of eternity? Who has fashioned all events just to prepare the land for the coming of our Lord, Jesus? No one is like You, Father, from the beginning to the end. You love Your people. You created us. You know all things. You see it all. You know the plans of our enemies.

Your Word is against those who dare come against those You love. Father, You are our Strong Tower, our Mighty Fortress. The righteous run into it and they are saved from the wicked. Father, our churches are not free as they once were. The shepherds have begun to turn on their flocks. Many are unaware of the deception because they refuse to see it.

Many of today's 'shepherds' now preach from a pulpit of fear in order to avoid the world's rebuke. This fear means they only feed the sheep a half portion of good food. The rest is merely a show. Many churches even offer Yoga classes and endorse foreign medical practices based on worshiping foreign gods. They do this to appease their audience and keep them in attendance.

In contrast, the true prophets of God are being silenced and canceled. They are being labeled as hateful for preaching the truth. The churches instead are looking to diviners who are liars. They trade holy visions and dreams for contrary or empty visions and dreams. You led me to Zechariah 10:2-3. I had never looked at this closely until now. I can now see what You are getting at.

In Zechariah 10:2, You outline the problem: "For the household gods utter nonsense and diviners see lies; they tell false dreams and give empty consolation; therefore the people wander like sheep; they are afflicted for lack of a shepherd."

In Zechariah 10:3, You then vent Your anger: "My anger is hot against the shepherds and I will punish the leaders; for the Lord of Hosts cares for His flock, the house of Judah, and I will make them like a majestic steed in battle!"

While not all churches have forgotten God and His Commandments, many have. These lost churches teach only those laws that do not contradict or threaten the New World Order they now cater to. They preach in fear. The churches are turning to serve the world instead of feeding the sheep.

On a lighter side, my friend recently sent me a photo of sheep grazing in a pasture while she was on her walk. It was beautiful and I saved the photo. I had two dreams last night...

Sub-Dream 1 "Rejecting an Evil Offer for a Farm" begins...

I was looking over a farmer's beautiful property. He had acres upon acres of beautiful green pastures. He had a massive flock of sheep that he used for woolen mills and garments. The farmer had grown quite fond of many of the sheep. He cared and fed them well. He protected them from the elements and predators. His children grew up around the sheep and were also fond of them. They had even given some of them names.

After a number of years of peace, the farmer had now come upon difficult times. He was now older in years and his children had left for their own lives. They still visited, but not enough to look after the farm's needs. One day, the farmer looked over the property. He took into account the crops, the pastures and his beautiful flock of sheep.

Farmer: Deep in thought. "It seems like I did this all for nothing. For what cause? My wife passed years ago and my children have no interest in keeping the flock. Perhaps it is time that I should retire."

He then prayed over his flock. He delighted in spending time with them. That evening, he delivered a lamb from its mother. He wondered if this might be the last one he sees born on this Earth. While the farmer went to bed tired, he still had joy upon his heart. As he laid upon his pillow, tears streamed down his cheeks. He was lonely.

When he fell asleep that night, the Lord met him and carried him Home. God was well-pleased with this farmer who cared for his flock and loved them. The children of the farmer were then notified that their father had died in his sleep. The family mourned and all came to the family farm immediately.

While the children were there, a man approached them. He was interested in acquiring the farm. This foreigner gave them a generous offer for the farm, more than they could ever imagine. To the two sons and two daughters, each with children of their own, the offer was very tempting.

Foreigner: "I would like to go out and look at the sheep more closely."

One of the sons: "Go ahead. Let us know if you have any questions."

While the foreigner was out there looking over the sheep, he did not notice two of the grandchildren playing with the newborn lamb. The two kids could hear the man talking on the phone to another foreigner. They couldn't believe what they were hearing.

Foreigner: "Yes, I plan to slaughter the lambs and sheep and abandon the land. I want to destroy all of it."

Greatly disturbed by what they had heard, the grandchildren ran to tell the parents what they had heard. The farmer's children, still grieving their great loss and in mourning, became angry and chased the wicked foreigner off their property. Later that day, they made a pact together. They would rise up in the strength of God, under His lead and by His purposes, and they would watch over their father's flock.

They then divided up the land into four equal portions, one for each of them. They then each built a family house on each corner. God then blessed them there. They cared for the land and, in turn, they had plenty. God granted them great provision. He also multiplied their flocks and made their pastures holy.

Sub-Dream 1 over.

Sub-Dream 2 "Evil plans for our children and the next election" begins...

There was an even greater division in the USA. A massive dividing line was drawn. While one side was very wicked, the other side was good. The wicked side sent invading armies against the good side. The wicked side hoped to flood the good side with so much evil that there would no longer be any good left.

I then saw the Mississippi River flooded. The waters reached 40 feet and spread out to the east and west for miles. God's favor had been removed as invading armies came from the southern borders disguised as workers. Many of these 'workers' were actually soldiers for the wicked. These soldiers were then called by the government to destroy the status quo and destroy all that is good. Their purpose was also to invoke fear.

Another evil army was then sent in behind these wicked soldiers to punish and destroy anything left. They took the innocents' wealth and locked anyone unable to pay penalties and interest into workcamps. There were mass casualties planned, as well as imprisonment, to ensure that evil reigned there forever. I then saw something terrifying. It was a black creature; half rooster and half goat.

The one side of evil was preparing to present this creature as the head of the nations. While I only saw it in dim light, what I could make out was both large and terrifying. I suddenly realized that I was not being harassed by these evil armies because I was pretending to be a worker for their side of evil. While a great election was about to occur, the election had already been determined for evil. While it was presented and hyped up as a fair election, it was anything but fair.

I was now in an elementary school classroom with several evil people who hated children. We were all handed a box of white folding packages of gum.

Evil woman: "You are to hand these packages of gum to the children. One package for each child. What child won't take a piece of gum? Then you wait."

Me: "What does this gum do?"

Evil woman: "It is really none of your business. You are to shut up and do what you are told. This is all for the greater good of the people."

I couldn't take it anymore. I prayed to the Lord to help me. He instructed me to walk out, so I did. After I turned down the road, the entire building, brick upon brick, collapsed upon these evil people. Since school was not yet in session, no children were in the building.

As I continued to walk, I saw voting places. I saw evil men attacking people waiting to cast their vote. They were trying to make the voters afraid. I saw massive fraud. Armies upon armies of evil were canceling all opposing votes. These opposing voters were then placed on lists and their names were made public.

Sub-Dream 2 over.

Me: "Father, this dream was deeply disturbing. Please stop the plans of the wicked against the beautiful land. Our nation is being dismantled and now at such a rapid rate. Oh Lord, will You please stop their plans?"

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "Erin, I am here and I am with you. Here I am. I know the plans of the wicked against the righteous. I know. The land is not being divided by land, wealth or usefulness. No, the land is instead being divided based on their hearts. The division is between those who expand on an evil foundation vs those who bless others and keep their ways upright.

“However, it is written that, whoever desires to love life and see good days, then let him keep his tongue from evil and his lips from speaking deceit. He must turn from evil and do good. Let him seek peace and pursue it. My favor is upon the righteous. I hear their prayers. I send angel armies of Heaven to guard them where they step. I am against those who do evil.

“So, Erin, with this in mind, why are you still afraid?”

Me: “While I am still afraid, I am not nearly as afraid as I used to be. This is because I have tried to remain contrite concerning my heart and focused on You, my Lord. I love You and I try to avoid anything that would be displeasing to You.”

Jesus: “This is good. Now, I rebuke those I love so you lack no good thing. It is good to remain in Me as I remain in you. Your heart’s desire is to do good all of the days of your life. Your focus is on Me. I point out things that are contrary and you quickly make amends. This is sound instruction. This is a relationship with Me that is fruitful. I don’t hide in silence while you make errors. You self-correct then come to Me.”

Me: “You now stop me immediately. You call out immediately before I even act. You instruct me, Lord, and I am so thankful.”

Jesus: “Now, let us revisit your fear again.”

Me: “Lord, I want to be in Your number. I love You. One of the most important books in Your Word is a short one. It is truly amazing. You led me here. Jude!”

Jesus: “Yes, I did. This is because you have fear that these dreams and revelations I have given you are because somehow you are not of sound mind. Well, Erin, I am here and I am with you. You have experienced troubles and trials of many kinds. You have walked through the shadow of the valley of death. You have been abased. You have lost your ability to work in your trade.

“In all of this, you have never lied or blasphemed against My Name. You continue to write what I instruct you to write. Some of these you have no knowledge of at all. On faith, you have continued, not knowing where I will take you next. Instead of fear, you instead come to Me in excitement and childlike wonder. I delight in you, Erin. I delight in My Sheep, My Flock, who trusts in Me. Nothing comes against My Sheep, the Shepherd’s Flock, with any success.”

Me: "Lord, You speak of those who are amongst us, those who even sit in the pews of our churches. These are people who blaspheme all things they don't understand. They say things with their mouths that they don't even understand. There is so much to unpack in Jude, particularly the following..."

Jude 12-13: "These are hidden reefs at your love feasts, as they feast with you without fear, shepherds feeding themselves; waterless clouds, swept along by winds; fruitless trees in late autumn, twice dead, uprooted; wild waves of the sea, casting up the foam of their own shame; wandering stars, for whom the gloom of utter darkness has been reserved forever."

"Lord, what does this mean?"

Jesus: "You are not in this number. You are instead My Bride in Gold of Ophir. Do not read this Scripture in part, but in full. What does the next chapter reveal? The summary is very clear that you are not amongst these. I have never heard you speak casually about Heaven or things of God and the angels of Heaven. You remain in awe at the works and wonders of God, My Father, and His Court.

"You never claimed to see His face or, as some have said, to sit upon His Throne or even His lap. Even if this was possible to do, one would not be able to live to tell about it. You have come as I have called you. I have even called you to be a toddler. You then ran into My arms as I am the Son of God. He has called Me to save and shepherd you. He has called Me to instruct you in the ways you should go.

"It is by My hand that I have shown you great mysteries in Heaven. I have unveiled all that you are permitted to see for My Kingdom Purposes. I do this as a Groom who longs to show His Bride all that He has done for her from the beginning. Erin, I am faithful. I am with you. It is written that even before they call, I will answer (Isaiah 65:24). It is written that I will show them unsearchable things (Jeremiah 33:3).

"Now, waterless clouds do not bring rain. Remember to focus on Me. Remember that it is written that I can do a 'new thing'. If I do, then you know it is from Me as it will not contradict My Words. Anyone who tries to divide My House or claims My Words are not true, they are liars. No one can claim to have ways higher than Mine as My ways are always the highest.

"There have been witnesses who scribed My Words and these writings were God-breathed by the Spirit of the Living God. This is why these are called the Gospel Accounts of My Ministry and the events surrounding these. It is amazing to Me how those who were not actually there can speak with great authority about Me. While this can and does happen, it only happens if I am truly with them. However, here is a clue about those I am not with... I would never contradict Myself.

"Now, this is a great gauge and a measure of truth. Time has not removed the Commandments. The enemy has tried to confuse them. However, remember that I see. There will soon come a Great Day, but a terrible one to many."

Me: "Lord, thank You for this clarity."

Jesus: "Remember that none of this is a surprise to Me. Now, have you ever experienced a surprise, a blessing to your soul, something that brings you thankfulness to God for such a gift?"

Me: "Yes. I think You are referring to the photo of the sheep my friend sent me. My dog Zoey delights me too. I love watching my daughter worship without fear of being watched. I delight in the birds feeding in the yard. The list of lovely things that bring me thankfulness to You is very long."

Jesus: "Then you understand how upset you become when something comes against the innocent and the pure with such hate and pure evil."

Me: "Yes, Lord. It is horrible. This is so disheartening."

Jesus: "It is the same with Me as I see all things done in secret, both good and evil. There will be a day very soon in which evil will run to escape but will not find shelter from God and His Army. I will not stand for this as My patience for this is waning."

Me: "How about the fall feasts in September and October? How about even sooner... August even? The King is in the field during the month of Elul! These all look ripe for some miracles from You. Lord, will You not help us? All these young people want to believe in You. They want to! Please well up in Your people. Let this Harvest Season be the greatest the world has ever seen.

"While there is a 'once in a 1200-year' drought going on in the USA right now, no one is talking about it. There are so many other signs of Your Wrath. Lord, please turn and heal the land. Please save Your people. Please heal the lost. Please save the lost too. Please!"

Jesus: "I have a Great Plan, Erin. Great evil has come upon the nations. I see. You are to pray when You see My Great Move. All will change and quickly. I am here. Rejoice, Erin, for I am with you."

Dream over.

631 – Five Previously Unreleased Sub-Dreams

Received on Sunday, September 4, 2022

Note from Erin's husband: Erin is still sick and will not be having a new dream today. I subsequently discussed perhaps releasing some previously unreleased Sub-Dreams, and we both agreed, after prayer, that this was a good time to do so. Here it goes:

The Following Sub-Dream happened either in later 2011 or early 2012:

Sub-Dream 1 "French School & the Boys Healing" begins...

I was taking my boys to enroll them in a school. I was signing them up for French Class and they were both excited. The teacher enrolled them and my boys went up to hug her. Their hearts were pure and innocent toward her. She was very 'put off' and became upset. I followed her to explain that my boys were special and acted socially awkward.

I was meek and kind to her. She became angry and said that her class had no room for the boys. She and a teacher's aide began to openly mock me and my boys. She told me she had 44 other students that were better equipped for her class and she had no intentions of having children like mine near her. Out of anger, I knocked a photo of her on to the floor. It shattered and glass was now everywhere.

Then an overwhelming glory and authority came through me and spoke. It was the Voice of God and this is what He said through me...

"Within the next year and a half, you will lose everything you have. You will look for help and will not find it. You will be taken to the dredges (I don't even use this word) and you will lose everything. You will remember back to this day. You will beg for mercy, but there will be no one to hear you."

It was so powerful that the teacher turned white as a ghost. I turned and walked the other direction and realized that what came out of my mouth was a message from the Lord. I was instructed by the Holy Spirit to not look back. I asked God to take back the prophetic curse and He said, "No, it is already spoken it cannot be reversed."

My sons followed me. My youngest son, aged 12 in the dream, but really at an 8-year-olds level, said, "Mom, can we still take the class?" I chuckled in my dream and told them that they did not need what they had to teach. I then woke up.

Sub-Dream 1 over...

The Following Three Sub-Dreams happened around July 2012:

Sub-Dream 2 "Angels blowing Horns before a Mighty Flood" begins...

In a dream I had recently, I watched a massive city in a valley with cliffs surrounding it. People were celebrating when suddenly these large angels began to blow Shofars, or ram's horns. The music got louder and a large dam at the edge of the city broke with golden water flooding the city. As frightening as it was, there was a great celebration.

I should also mention that there were seven cliffs and the angels each had a separate cliff. In the city, people were trading, buying and selling. It was sunny and warm and it occurred around right before noon or late morning from the position of the sun. The sound of screams and water breaking was deafening.

Sub-Dream 2 over...

Sub-Dream 3 "San Francisco Devastated" begins...

I was in third person after San Francisco was hit by a nuclear bomb and there were only a few survivors. I was shown a room in a building that was still standing that had two elderly Jewish women. They were talking while one was painting a landscape using the only color she had, which was the blue in Israel's flag. There were dead rats everywhere, but little mice alive and running. The painting was a blue landscape. I keep wondering about San Francisco as a target.

Sub-Dream 3 over...

Sub-Dream 4 "Recurring Dream of the Pacific Northwest being burned up" begins...

Note that Erin was still living in the Tri-Cities when she wrote the following dream down...

The Pacific Northwest where I live was completely burned up. The trees were like toothpicks and all of the green landscape was gone. Buildings were hollow and blackened. One building in my dream, in the very city I now live in (coincidentally one of the only cities I told everyone I would never live in, but now here I am), people were wearing charred and dirty clothing, walking single file into this building with some type of provision. The buildings here that now surround that one did not even exist in the dream. It was so frightening to me that it changed many of my outlooks at the time.

Sub-Dream 4 over..

The Following Sub-Dream happened on June 14, 2013:

Sub-Dream 5 "Countdown Clock...31, 30, 29" begins...

I was walking down a hill on a path near an apartment complex. It was daylight. I was walking my middle son down the path somewhere to drop him off. I said goodbye and embraced him. We were laughing.

I began to walk back. Suddenly the sky grew ominous. Then the lights went out all over. I knew that my one son was now safe, but I needed to get back to our home on the hill. The path became light tan dirt and it became something I barely recognized. I heard something in the darkness like drilling. I looked over and there was something grinding as in stirring-up the landscape.

I realized it was devouring the landscape. As I tried to run past it, the dirt was flying into my eyes and I was inhaling it and could no longer breathe. I believed that this entity was coming to change the path because I could no longer see the way home.

In the sky, I saw a Digital Electric Countdown Clock. It read 31. Then As I stood there, it began to count down backwards. I woke up out of my sleep panicked when the clock hit 29! his thing knew I was there and I believe it had intended to stop me.

Communion

Dear Father,

I must speak before You all that is on my heart. I pray that You do not forget me, Father. There is a profound and very deep grief in my heart. It is guttural and goes to the very bones and sinew of my being. At 10:00pm on Wednesday evening, August 31, 2022, my illness began. The entire household then became sick. My husband and my kids have been recovering, but I still struggle with dizziness and shortness of breath.

It has been a battle as my body fought back and forth trying to bring my fever down. It feels odd to say, but I have been trying to stay warm during a heatwave. I am also making sure that I stay hydrated. I have a hard time thinking of another time when I have been so down with an illness. I even had a breakdown of sorts in front of my children. They seemed quite concerned and for good reason.

With the news of Queen Elizabeth's passing yesterday, I have been so profoundly sad. There has never been a more prominent sign for me than her passing. I truly feel that this is a great sign for the beginning of something Earth-shattering. When I found out she was sick, I just knew she would die that same day. I was sad to see one of the last leaders who stood for Jesus, truth and righteousness leave this world.

I know there is a wonderful celebration in Heaven today and even a Corgi parade in honor of her. Father, I am thankful that You sent a sign of a double rainbow at the time of her death. I just never expected to be so affected by her death. It is just that I now know for sure that this is 'The Beginning'. I wish I could sound more optimistic right now, but any effort at all to do so is exhausting to me right now.

I feel as if I have been physically at war. On Tuesday, September 6, 2022, I had to testify before the Board of Appeals judge for my injury to be reconsidered. We were told we would likely not have a decision from the judge until sometime in 2023. How horrible. This was a difficult process to go through in the middle of an illness. The stress was exhausting.

Father, please have mercy on me. Please heal my house and allow me to be healed and strengthened. I am truly mourning as I watch. It is like I am experiencing a way of being come to an end. What is here in this world waiting for all of the good to be removed is truly horrifying. Father, please strengthen us! My dream last night was very interesting...

Sub-Dream 1 "An English Woman, Her Dog and a Bright Light" begins...

I was in an area out west. It was the Pacific Northwest, where the Canadian Rockies meets an area like Central Oregon. There was clear-cutting being done on a few mountain ranges surrounding a valley containing a resort town. I needed to find a place to stay with my family.

However, something had caused a sudden rush to book up vacation rentals, homes and motels. As quickly as I would arrive at a place, it would quickly book up before it finally came to my place in the line. I was getting tired. I stopped for gas and asked the attendant for his opinion...

Me: "Do you know anywhere I can find a place to stay?"

Man: "You can try the Jenga Place."

Me: "Did you say 'Jenga'?"

Man: "Yes. It is a small replica of the Jenga Tower. You could also try heading up the hill."

Since the town was so crowded, I decided to head up the mountain. Since the road had just been cut, it was very gravelly. I decided to drive extra slowly. As I drove slowly, a young woman with a walking stick was walking with her dog. I pulled up next to her. She had a face completely full of joy. Even her dog had a radiant smile. I pulled up next to her and rolled down my window.

Me: "Pardon me, but do you know where I can find lodging?"

Her face glowed and she spoke in an English accent.

Woman: "Everything you need now is straight ahead and around the bend."

Me: "Thank you."

She and her dog seemed so familiar to me. I wanted to wave at her when I saw her in my rearview mirror, but she was no longer there. I stopped the car and got out.

Me: "Hello? Hello? Where are you?"

She was gone! I decided to continue drive straight up the hill just as she had instructed me. When I turned the bend, also as instructed by her, I became curious about what she meant by 'everything I would need' would be around the bend. As I rounded the bend, I saw a stunning light. It was a bright clean light. It was a light even brighter than the sun! This Light took my breath away, but only in the best of ways!

Sub-Dream 1 over...

Me: "Father, was that Queen Elizabeth in my dream?"

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "I'm here, Erin. Here I am. I am with you. I have been here all along even when you believe I left you. I did not."

Me: Crying. "To date in my whole life, I can't remember a more helpless feeling. There is nothing I can do to stop what is coming. No one can stop this but You, but I know You won't as You created all of this for Your purposes. It will unfold as You see fit and no one can stop it. For this, I am glad... and even in my sorrow."

Jesus: "I am here. Do not worry. I delight in you, Erin. Your heart remains childlike and fixed on Me and the business of Heaven. You have not wavered. However, as time has continued, you have questioned your place. I did not change this. My promises remain true. I remain true. I am the same God who is with you in the storms. However, I am not just with you, I am also with all of those that I love and who remain in Me. I am sorry you felt no comfort this last week. I know you were upset with Me."

Me: "No, Lord. I thought You had forsaken me. I was just so, so sad."

Jesus: "Erin, I am with you always. You have been weathering a great storm and troubles have come to your home. However, I promised I would be with you and I have kept My promises. I didn't abandon you nor did I abandon your children."

Me: "But why let illness come at all, especially now and to such a great degree?"

Jesus: "What better time is there? I never said that illness would never come near your house. However, I did say that I would be there to deliver you through this. By experiencing this, you learned the seriousness of what many have had to endure at the hands of evil. I will now turn and heal you with great strength.”

Me: “I just thought we had managed to get through all this with very little illness. While this is our third bout of it, I have been hit the hardest and I am still not finished with it. I have been so deeply depressed, Lord. I missed my brain tumor appointment. I missed my stepdaughter’s ‘last’ first day of school. It has been so beautiful outside and I can’t enjoy it. Now, what was my dream about? Who was the English woman in my dream?”

Jesus: “Erin, you are feeling sorry for yourself. While you have not been sick quite like this before, you are now finished with this illness. I will strengthen you.”

Me: “Lord, more than this though, I have been severely sad. I have had sorrow unlike anything I have ever experienced. Something is off in my Spirit and I need Your help.”

Jesus: “I gave you another dream. Do you remember it?”

Me: “Yes...”

Sub-Dream 2 “Velvet Rain Boots” begins...

I was shopping for new shoes. In specific, I was shopping for velvet rain boots. In this dream, I fully realized that velvet and rain together made no sense. Earlier that day, I had gone to feed the animals, but my rubber boots were covered in a massive spider web. I found the spider and it was large. When I found all of this, I no longer wanted my normal rubber boots. I instead wanted velvet rain boots.

Sub-Dream 2 over..

Jesus: “Shopping for shoes is a good dream. The other dream was a good one too. Think carefully about the first dream. This is also a sign of good things ahead. To the victor goes the spoils. Now rejoice, Erin, rejoice, rest and recover. I am with you. Your battle is almost finished. Do not be so downcast. I tell you the truth... there is a great celebration in Heaven... yesterday, today and tomorrow.

“Erin, this is the Year of My Favor and the celebration has begun. Legions of Heavenly angels were called upon the grieving nations to send signs, wonders and soon miracles. My promise was sent across the sky and even a double portion. It went right over the Memorial of Truth and Justice and Victory. What you cannot see, but feel in your Spirit, is grieving for something lost that you do not understand.”

Me: "Yes, Lord. This makes perfect sense to me, yet it also makes no sense to me. There was some sort of atmospheric shift. One realm closed and another opened. Something happened that I can't explain. I have had great sorrow ever since. I am not in love with this world at all anymore. I am grieving the loss of promise, the promise of something once good and innocent. As of now, I just don't know."

Jesus: "Erin, there are still many who seek My face and long for the Kingdom of Heaven. All is not lost. My favor is upon the righteous. When you are faced with turning points in your walk and someone encourages you to keep going a little longer, then this is good. This means you are close to your destination. Take comfort in these things as nothing this world has to offer compares to Me, My Kingdom of Heaven and the people I send your way along your journey. You are deeply troubled right now."

Me: "Yes, Lord. This is like a punch to my gut."

Jesus: "This is because your Spirit, My Spirit in you, your earthen vessel, is wearing down. Erin, this is what you are experiencing. I have gathered your family and friends near you so you can spend time with them on things that matter. I am with you."

Me: "Lord, I sometimes write and I am not sure where You are taking me. I love You, Lord, so I will trust in Your plans."

Jesus: "Good! My plans are to grant you hope and a future."

Dear Father,

Something is wrong with me. I have been grieving all morning. I am still weak and dizzy and feeling such a sense of loss. The leaves here are finally beginning to turn. However, this is very late this year. Another season comes, another passes, lost again and not revisited until a new year begins. Father, please don't forget about Your people here. I know we are just passing through in this life.

Some are here for only a short period and some are here for a very long time. Each one of us has been called for a purpose here. Many of us never see while we reside here what that purpose is until the end of our journey finally arrives. Perhaps our purpose was to have children and raise them under God. Perhaps it was just to make a difference in the life of someone for only a season or two and then they move on to a different plan of God.

We don't know everything or even much of anything. We just don't. Illness brought me to the realization that, apart from God, my body will only stand when God deems it necessary. God then grants me strength and endurance to make it through difficulties. For some of those living in misery, He comes and gathers them to Heaven for eternity. While my dream last night took place in a similar setting as my dream in the night before, our home was now at the center point...

Sub-Dream 3 "A Hotel Home on a High Hill" begins...

Our home was situated on a very high hill. Many people were coming to stay there. People were parked on our land and there was no place for us to even park. Since barely anyone there knew we were the owners, they were aggressive in keeping us away from parking spots. We remained quiet and said very little. Our home had expanded into a home with many rooms. It was now almost like a hotel.

Sub-Dream 3 over...

Father, what is happening right now? I need You. I am so broken. Something is stirring within my soul and I need Your help. I can't stop this unsettled spirit within me. Perhaps this illness is so bad that it first attacks your physical body. After it weakens you, perhaps it then attacks your mental health.

At a time of the year that I am usually the most joyful and full of energy, I am instead lacking the desire to do anything that brings me joy. Oh Father, please jumpstart me back into life. Breathe a new Spirit into me. Strengthen me and bring me joy so that my joy is complete. Just walking for 15 minutes causes my chest to hurt.

Me: "Oh Father, please help us soon! We are all desperately seeking You now."

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "Erin, I am here and I am with you. This is not the end. You are downcast and you are feeling hopeless. However, do not be this way."

Me: "Oh Lord, I have never been this sick. I am not coming out of this. Please have mercy on me. Please."

Jesus: "Trust Me, Erin. I love you."

Me: "Lord, my heart breaks. I have been experiencing such pain and grief. Please heal me. Please heal my heart. Please also heal my dog, Zoey. She cannot see now and it is so difficult to watch my dog that has always been there for me now suffer. I can't imagine life without my precious Zoey. What a gift she has been to me, a gift from You. Oh Lord, please heal her and make her young again!"

Jesus: "I know you are familiar with sorrows. I know these losses are difficult here because all of life here is temporary. It is short. As a result, people tend to only think in terms of this life and all of the pain associated with it. You are to instead think of all that I have done for you from the beginning to the end. Rejoice in what I have promised for you. You had not anticipated this illness, so you are now very downcast. This is because your body is not doing all that you want it to."

Me: "Not at all. Oh Lord, I give my Vessel fully to You and You alone!"

Jesus: "I will take it!"

Dear Father,

Today is the 21st Anniversary of the 9/11, 2001 Massacre...

Thank You for this stunningly beautiful fall day. The leaves are beginning to turn. Even though summer hasn't officially ended, fall has come. There is a sense in my spirit of 'what's next?' I feel this way even though I have no big plans or events on the horizon. I am not even imagining what I could be doing healed anymore. My childlike wonder is lost somewhere right now and I just can't seem to get it back.

I am also struggling to breathe deeply right now. My chest is heavy and my walking takes great effort. Please, Father, have mercy on Your daughter. Return my health to no less than what it was before I recently fell ill. At least I would no longer be downcast. I had a dream last night..

Sub-Dream 4 "Missing Keys and a Sugary

White-sand Beach" begins...

While I needed to get somewhere soon, I didn't have the right set of keys to start my car. No matter where I looked, none of the keys I had found would work to start my car. I finally phoned my husband and he brought me a different purse with several keys. He couldn't stay long though as he had an urgent appointment. I went through these keys as well, but none of them worked.

I decided to leave my car and pick up my children on foot. My oldest son was 7, my younger son was 5 and my daughter was 3 (the ages they were back in 2004). We walked to the end of a small road. When we arrived, we heard laughter. Activities were taking place. When we came to the end of the road, we joyfully realized that it was actually just the beginning.

There was a massive, extremely wide and deep beach with white sand the consistency of sugar. There were many people there. My children were laughing and playing. Everyone there had so much joy. As far as my eyes could see, it was beautiful white sand. The day was beautiful. The day was just perfect.

Sub-Dream 4 over..

Oh Father, so much has happened over the years. Time has accelerated. 9/11 in 2001 seems like yesterday still, yet it is 21 years ago now. My parents have passed away. We have lost others since then. Friends have had children. We have grown older. Dreams have risen and fallen. Money has come and gone. Health has faded. The number of my Nest friends have multiplied wonderfully!

Me: "Oh Father, I am so thankful to You. Please restore my childlike wonder!"

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "Erin, I am here and I am with you. This soon shall pass. You still have things to accomplish here. These feelings of pain and sorrow will soon fade away. Get out and find joy today."

Me: "Lord, this deep mourning I am going through is horrible. I can't seem to recover fully from it. It must be supernatural."

Jesus: "This is an illness like no other before it. It attacks every portion of weakness in your body. It is an analogy for the strategies of the enemy. It was created by man to do even more... to create suffering and even to kill. While this has harmed many people, it is still not a surprise to Me. Heaven is now busy with activities and great celebrations. As the world mourns, Heaven rejoices.

“Remember that, in eternity, you are more alive than here. You have no care of death as death does not exist where you reside in Heaven. I will remind you of your place there as your lungs are free from heaviness and you can breathe deeply. Your laughter will increase as so many things delight you and bring you great joy. You do not mourn there. You instead praise God in all things as you delight in what He has built for you near His Altar.

“Erin, I know you are afraid right now. While the enemy delights in your fear, do not be afraid for anything. This is because I am always with you. Like those I have called before you, you are going through the deep mourning of knowing that one way is finished. Erin, one road is complete and therein lies another one. Just up the road a bit and around the bend is a new road, freshly cut and not yet graded. It leads to somewhere higher than you are now.”

Me: “Oh Lord, I feel so separated from the things around me now. They no longer matter to me at all. The only things that matter to me now are my family, my friends and my animals.”

Jesus: “Yes, Erin. I am preparing your heart. Finish that which you have left. It will give you purpose. Send some notes to friends, ones that you have been putting off. Prepare your home for the winter months. There is a reason for all of this. As for today, enjoy it. Erin, you are rested. Enjoy this beautiful day I have made. Let it be clear that I love you. Let it be clear that I will restore your joy. Do not worry. I have you.”

Dream over.

633 – The Miracle of the Five Perfect Red Heifers

Communion

Dear Father,

Serving You and seeking Your face has been my greatest reward. I love You more than I can ever measure. My earthly father did not care to know me. In my greatest brokenness of my heart, when I had been deceived and deserted, when I was so alone and rejected, You pulled me up to Your Solid Rock and You made level my path. There You nurtured me and was kind to me. You have never stopped.

Though I have failed You many times, You have never failed me. Thank You, Father! You are my Daylight in the darkness. You are my Dawn after a difficult night. I have been having a difficult time lately. I have never in my life been so ill. I will give this a few more days and then I will seek medical attention. I have been sick for almost 20 days. Every part of my being has been under attack. I have been so weak and tired.

I have been stripped of my strength. My right lung hurts to breath. This illness is wicked and doesn't seem to end. Over the last several days, we have had quite the cold snap. Only today have the leaves begun to change color. This has been the latest fall I can remember since we moved here eight years ago. It has been wonderful too. I would like to thank You for delaying my favorite season so I can still enjoy it.

This illness has taken more than time from me. I have been reevaluating the importance of various things around me. I have felt an urgency to not put off doing things. It is now as if there is a true urgency with these tasks. This is what I have been doing, at least as much as I am able. I have had congestion, a runny nose and a sore throat for almost three weeks now.

Father, if You would, please consider my illness complete and heal me. You said You would last week, but I am still waiting for the full healing. Perhaps this means Transformation is now just around the corner? I now know this waiting has a significant purpose, but I am ready for the healing now. Please remove my burdens and worries as they add nothing to my days. I am tired and I have no cure. Only You can cure me.

Please keep me away from doctors and hospitals. Please heal all in our home. My youngest son has had an extended version of this illness and it has affected his job. My older son has had his hours cut drastically. It has been so heartbreaking. Autism / Asperger's is such a horrible disease.

Me: "Oh Father, I once again give my sons to You and You alone. They have an illness that needs a cure. I have none. There is no earthly cure. You, Father, are the one and only Cure. You are the greatest Cure. Please heal all of our sicknesses, including those of my friends on our Nest. I have so much to talk to You about. Just seeking Your face is my greatest reward."

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "Erin, I am here and I am with you. I have never left you. I am not angry. I know you have been sick. This is common to man right now and should not come as a surprise. I will carry you. Do not worry. You now ask, 'Why would God allow this?' Well, the answer is both simple and complex. Erin, why do you think I allowed this?"

Me: "Well, I am sure it is for my benefit. It has caused me to face death again. Breathing issues and pain or a struggle to breathe causes me distress and depression. I have been crying a lot. I have been very downcast. Queen Elizabeth's death has also greatly affected me, far more than I would have ever expected."

Jesus: "She loved Me and we spoke daily. Heaven now celebrates her great victories. As Heaven celebrates, the enemy and his army cause great pain and destruction where you are. This is because another marker of great significance has occurred. The enemy would like to remove her (the Queen's) memory from the world. His army is attacking all of God's people in various ways.

"Remember that there is nothing new under the heavens. While all attention is on the queen (Queen Elizabeth) and her death, there are significant signs throughout the nations that the times the world has looked for are now upon you. Did you know that the red heifer was found? Not just one, but five. Now, why five after all these years when only one is needed?"

Me: "I guess I could then ask why David chose five stones from the riverbed when only one was needed to take down Goliath."

Jesus: "Interesting observation. There was also a Jericho March by gentiles that caused many of the Jewish people to mock them. Even so, I honored the Jericho March. Though all traditions were not observed according to Rabbinic Law, I instead looked at the heart. Now, in terms of current day, let Me have you look again at the significance of where these red heifers came from."

Note: I took a short break here and found an article about this from an Israeli news source. I was astonished by what I read there.

Me: "They found five red heifers without blemish in Texas. This was a true miracle as Covid kept them from being with blemish immediately at birth. Because of Covid, the inspector never came out last year to tag their ears. This tagging is mandated by law to occur immediately at a calf's birth and would have instantly disqualified them as perfect red heifers.

"I also learned that the rabbis said that Hebrew calendar year 5781 (September 19, 2020 to September 6, 2021 inclusive) was to be 'the year of the red heifer'. The heifers they found were conceived last year in the year 5781. This year, the Hebrew calendar year 5782 (September 7, 2021 to September 25, 2022 inclusive), has been named by the rabbis to be 'the year for the red heifer in Israel'.

"Very soon, this will be named as 'the ceremony of the red heifer of redemption'. To recap, these perfect red heifers were conceived in Hebrew year 5781 and shipped to Israel from Texas in Hebrew year 5782 (more specifically, Elul 19, 5782, or Thursday, September 15, 2022). They are now slated to be used as a redemption sacrifice at the appointed time. Oh Lord, all of this is just so exciting!"

Jesus: "There is even more to this. The cows were conceived and pregnant 40 weeks. This is similar to humans. This is a great point of study and a significant sign from God. Now, look again at the time of the Jericho March by the gentiles."

Note: I took another short break and found an applicable article.

Me: "The Jericho March took place on January 5, 2021 or Tevet 21, 5781 (in Washington DC). Forgive me, Lord, if this calculation is not right. I am sure that the Nest will doublecheck this date conversion for me."

Jesus: "Well, just know that this is significant. As for the state where the heifers came from (Texas), they have now come under invasion. This is because the enemy is very angry because he knows that I am now at the door. He inflicts My people and My Elect. However, I will not remove My favor upon those I have called.

"Erin, do not worry. I realize that you are discouraged by bad news as there is now bad news everywhere. However, remember this... this great increase in evil is a direct sign that the Great Move of God is about to occur. Erin, it is written."

Me: "In the prayer service for Queen Elizabeth II, the one on the Friday after her death (Elul 13, 5782 or Friday, September 9, 2022), the pastor read Isaiah 61, The Year of the Lord's Favor. How perfect, Lord! When I heard it read, I just knew it fit in perfectly with what we are all waiting for here on the Nest."

Jesus: "Well, Erin, this is worth praying about. Now, when have you ever seen such mourning all over the world as there is right now?"

Me: "Hmm, I can only think of one time in recent history. I would say 9/11 (September 11, 2001). Am I correct on this?"

Jesus: "Yes. However, there was a different kind of outcry back then. This outcry is different and the enemy is furious. This is because the enemy realizes that this is leading up to several Grand Events and on the Appointed Days... even Appointed Hours. Now, while your body recovers, take the time to let Me show you in My Word that this is a good time for Heaven to be revealed on Earth.

"Soon... yes, and even very soon... I will change your mourning into dancing. Great will your joy be. Erin, your joy will be complete. Though your station is low right now, I am soon to move you into open spaces. People will say, 'Who is this and why is she here?' Well, it will matter not what is said as this I will reconcile. Now, I know you have questions. However, you are not to be afraid. This is a very good year."

Me: "Lord, I am sorry that I have been so downcast. I have been scared. Evil people have increased. Their actions are bold now. A man ran in front of me at an intersection and was almost killed by the car next to me. When I honked, he became enraged. This was the same man who stole several items at a store checkout as all of us just stood in horror. The workers told us not to engage him. His demon is strong and there are many like this now..."

Jesus: "Then it is a good time to rest at home and reflect upon the goodness of God and His mercy. Erin, I will not fail you. All should not delay in doing this as now is the time for reflection, prayer, repentance and praises to God! Do not delay!"

Me: "Yes, Lord. I will do as You have instructed."

Jesus: "Go to the Psalms of David in this very late hour."

Note: I opened the Bible and it fell open straight to Psalms 26, 27, 28 and 29. Psalms 26: I will bless the Lord. Psalms 27: The Lord is my Light and my Salvation. Psalms 28: The Lord is my Strength and my Shield. Psalms 29: Ascribe to the Lord Glory.

Jesus: "Very good then, Erin. Joy comes in the morning. Now, many are critical of David's choices and refuse to give him much thought in light of his 'great sins' (for example, the 'Bathsheba Affair' and ensuing consequences).

"If this is the case, then who is Paul to many of these same people? Did he not also sin greatly (for example, in the martyring of many of the saints before his conversion)? Were not both of these men forgiven by God? Does God not have the power to forgive as He sees fit?"

Me: "Oh yes, Lord, yes to all of it! I believe they were both forgiven. However, since I do not have the power to forgive, only You truly know. Only You know, Lord."

Jesus: "Well then, it is good to be free from judging others. Instead, let God be God as He sits on the Throne. Now, I am your Kinsman Redeemer (Lawyer). I plead on behalf of those who stand accused and have asked for their forgiveness. Many are prone to jealousy as what I am about to do will make both Jews and gentiles jealous. Pray.

"Erin, pray! Even though I do not go by conventional methods, I am still continuously measured by those who claim to know the laws of God better than the God who etched these on stone. This will be an interesting time with great complaining.

"Now rejoice, Erin, as I am with you. The hour is very late, so pray. I love you!"

Me: "I will pray, Lord! I love You too!"

Dream over.

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day! I made a declaration that, if You didn't heal me by yesterday (due to my intense right lung pain), I would have no choice but to seek medical attention. Well, You healed me instead! Thank You and praise You, Father! For the last few days, I have been exhausted, so this is a welcome reprieve. We have received record rains around here, so having my strength back is good.

Our workers are not scheduled to come for another two weeks to fix the side of our home from flooding. Now Hurricane Fiona is bearing down on our area this weekend. We are praying that You supernaturally steer the storm away from us. This would be a miracle as it is heading right towards us. We have had warnings of upcoming torrential rains. In anticipation, I had our three sons help clear out the basement. I felt strongly that we were to prepare for this coming storm.

Younger son: "Why do we need to clear out the basement? Mom, where is your faith? God won't allow this again."

Although I liked his thinking, I was also upset by it.

Me: "The Lord warned me last time and I didn't act fast enough. We then had a mess on our hands. This time I know the storm is coming. While I pray God will miraculously move this away from us, we need to prepare. As for if it does move off, I will dance in gratitude. I just feel He removed my sickness in order to give me strength for this coming storm. What is better... ignore the warnings and sit back and do nothing on faith or prepare the house and then wait on God's Will?"

There was silence from all three of them. They then quickly moved furniture and other things away from where we know the flooding has occurred in the past. Still, my son's question came back up in my mind. Was I guilty of a lack of faith? God tests His children. He tests structures. God looks for steadfast faith and strength. God allows troubles to come both to His children and to others.

We have had such trouble lately here. Illness has circulated in our house and it has lasted a long time. My younger son lost his job on Monday because of illness. He has had difficulty sleeping ever since. My absolute favorite month of the year (September) has been horrible and it is not over yet.

This led me to look again at our tests. The month of Elul is all about getting our hearts right for the Ten Days of Awe, Rosh Hashanah to Yom Kippur (Tishrei 1 to 10). We are to reflect on our actions and repent for anything contrary to God's ways. We are to be presented as holy as possible to God. There are many signs that God is moving quickly right now...

- We have the five red heifers without blemish now residing safely in Israel.
- We have the mourning for the Queen's death.
- We also have the Parashat reading in synagogues all over the world titled Ki Tavo, which means 'when you enter'. God instructs Israel to bring the first ripened fruits (Bikkurim) to the sanctuary once the Israelites have finally entered the land He promised to them.

What an amazing blessing for the children of God to hear that their 40 year long wilderness journey was finally coming to an end. They were about to cross over into the Promised Land (Deuteronomy 26:1-2). Well, we just saw the Queen crossing over into eternal life as a servant of Jesus. Her testimony is truly amazing.

God promises that obedience will be rewarded. This includes divine protection, prosperity and blessings for families and future generations. However, there is also punishments for disobedience and rebellion. This comes in the form of diseases, plagues, poverty, famine, slavery and defeat by enemies.

I was about to go to the Lord when He told me to go into town early to pick up my stepdaughter from school. This was at about 1:30pm. When we got home at just after 3:00pm, the basement had started to flood due to the heavy rainfall (unrelated to Fiona). The flooding came just as He said they would and our clean up would last 12 hours. This meant vacuuming the water up before it became a serious problem. I finally left the vacuuming to our sons and went back up to the Lord.

Me: "Oh Lord, the wall that is the source of flooding holds our electrical panel, our internet, our water and our heat pumps. We need this wall to hold. Oh Lord, please keep us dry and have this precursor to Fiona stop. Please, Lord!"

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "Erin, I am here and I am with you. I have never left you. I promise to deliver you from this trouble."

Me: "Lord, when? I won't last. My body hurts everywhere. I hit my head. Flooding goes to the very core of my being. It is an enemy that overcomes me. I am powerless to stop it. Like this sickness, I can do nothing without You. For 22 days in total, I was so sick, I couldn't breathe at times. You then strengthened me and healed me only to have me use this new strength to vacuum water. This always affects my sleep as flooding keeps me from sleeping due to the worrying. Please help us."

Jesus: "When you are exhausted, in pain and overcome, where does your help come from?"

Me: "You and only You."

Jesus: "Then give Me your burdens, Erin. You don't understand all of this right now. While I must seem cruel and unrelenting at times, I have allowed this for a reason. You have a matter that needs attention, so I am sending you help. I allow troubles so that I can test the hearts of those under your care. While I know this is difficult, anything I allow is for the greater good of all those involved."

Me: "Well then, Lord, I submit all of this to You."

Dear Father,

The Feast of Trumpets, Rosh Hashanah, the Jewish New Year, begins tonight and lasts for approximately two days (around 48 hours)!

Thank You for this beautiful fall day with clear skies. This is a true miracle. The storm moved East, so Fiona didn't impact us as all of the reports originally said it would. After our flooding and cleanup that lasted until 3:30am, we were expecting the worst. I prayed and openly sobbed before God for mercy as I had no idea what we would do if our foundation had crumbled at the impact of more rain.

Thank You, Father. While power outages occurred all over, You kept our lights on. Thank You for answered prayers. There were several of these...

- A new job became a reality for my younger son, a job that pays better and with better hours.
- A soon settlement with the Washington State Labor Board is in the works. Our lawyer was in shock that they would do this as they are usually entirely unreasonable in all matters.
- The moving off of the storm Fiona away from our area.
- The report from our vet that our dog, Zoey, still has 50% of his eyesight left.

I am so thankful. My sickness lifted after a total of 23 days (from August 31, 2022 to September 22, 2022). Then we had the storm. This week, You set me free from my last oppressor (Washington L&I). You then removed the rain and flooding at 3:30am.

I then felt led to read Psalms 97:9-12. The entire chapter is about our Lord reigning and Him being our Sovereign Lord. I then felt led to read Psalms 93:1-5. Just as I was about to close my Bible and write my dream down, You spoke to me as I sat there.

Jesus: "Continue to read the next script, Erin. Those who hate evil and strive to do good are honored. I am about to pour a greater portion of My Spirit out into My Remnant. I am about to send them out to clear the way, to gather the lost, heal the sick and bind up the brokenhearted. I am about to speak the truth and ready the fields. I am about to prepare the roads and highways so that all nations will know that I am God.

"I will not be shaken or moved. I will not forsake My people. I will send signs, wonders and miracles. The wicked will be removed from My sight. Never before will the Earth see God move in such a way. Now rejoice, Erin. I discipline those I love so you lack no good thing and your heart remains contrite. I will curse anyone who delights in doing evil as they have learned nothing of Me. Now watch and see the goodness of God and the Year of My Favor.

"I do not share the Earth with these wicked spirits who have entered the masses. They have delighted in their speed to possess nations. However, this will lead to My hand of deliverance as I will remove the wicked and unclean from the Earth. Like a lump of clay, I will shape it, form it again and throw it into the furnace. I will begin a new Earth, one clean and holy.

All iniquity will be removed. Great will be peace upon it. The wicked will be removed."

I wrote this Word from the Lord down and then spent time praising His goodness. After this, I wrote down the amazing dream I had last night.

Sub-Dream 1 "A Royal Decree and a Priceless Crown" begins...

I was young and beautiful. I had no makeup as I needed nothing. I never saw myself up close, but I was still in awe at what I saw from a distance. There was a massive castle with many rooms. There were many of us being dressed and prepared for a special service.

I went over to my door and peered out into the hall. As far as my eyes could see, there were many doors and attendants. I was so excited. I was dressed in a beautiful white gown. I had a sheer white overcoat. It was simple and beautiful. I heard a knock on my door. I went over and opened it. There was a young man standing there.

Young man: "Are you Erin?"

Me: "Yes, I am."

Young man: "Wonderful. I have your crown and decree."

Me: "Crown? Decree?"

Young man: "Yes. This is from the Lord."

Me: "Oh, how exciting!"

I peered around the corner and saw many couriers at the doors down the hall.

Young man: "You do not have much time. When the trumpet sounds, you will be called to the Great Hall and go before the Throne for your coronation."

Me: Repeating what I had just said. "Oh, how exciting!"

Young man: "Take your decree. It is your oath before God. He will then bless you. I must go."

After he nodded his head, he was gone. I carried the large square box to a table. I took the lid off. Two attendants came over to assist. I smiled because they both wore white gloves as they brought this beautiful crown out. It had beautiful jewels; mostly diamonds and sapphires. It would be worth tens of millions on Earth.

Me: "What is this? What does all of this mean?"

I saw that beautiful, jeweled birds had been set into the crown. There were doves, sparrows and an eagle. There were other symbols too, many I couldn't decipher.

Attendant: "We must place this upon your head after the decree is read."

Me: "So I don't put it on now?"

Attendant: "No. Only after you accept God's blessings after the decree is read."

Me: "Oh, I see."

Attendant: "We will take this box and lead you to the Great Hall before the King of kings and the Lord of lords."

Just then, the trumpets sounded. I followed the attendants down the hallway with thousands of others to the Great Hall. We filed into God's Great Hall. My attendants led me to an arch I had been before where Enoch and Elijah met me and prayed for me with God as our witness. The area near the Throne was not visible with our eyes. I could only see the sapphire glass floor and the emerald glow of God's Throne.

His presence was so magnificent and His power so great, none of us were able to gaze directly upon the Throne of God (only around it). Once all had entered, the horns (trumpets) sounded and all of us immediately dropped before God. We all placed our face to the floor as we could then hear His Voice. His Words went right into our bodies and rested upon us. His Words went right through us to our very core!

God: "You are here today because you have experienced trials of many kinds and you have been victorious because your heart has remained upright during your afflictions. Now, this is a good day. I have chosen you from all the fruits of the Earth. You are Mine!"

I then heard a loud voice...

Voice: "Erin, wake up, wake up, wake up!"

I heard a knock and yelled out 'Hello?'...

Sub-Dream 1 over.

I had yelled out 'Hello?' in real life and woke up my husband. When I asked him if he had heard a knock, he said no and fell back asleep. I decided to go immediately to my devotional chair to write this dream down. I felt led to read Isaiah 60 before doing so. This seemed like a Scripture about all of us being gathered into the Great Hall.

Me: "Oh Lord, when will all of this be?"

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "Erin, I am here and I am with you. The wicked have increased in great number over the nations as the enemy and his army plunges the Earth into darkness. They know and understand that they will be unable to suppress the Will of God and His Remnant. My glory will rise upon you like the sun and they will say 'whose are these?'

"They will then be unable to come against you. They will know that My Spirit is upon you as My light rests upon your face. Great will be My salvation throughout the Earth. Now rejoice as you are the branch of My planting and the work of My hand. My promises are true. Rejoice and celebrate as your afflictions have concluded and great will be your joy."

Me: "I love You, Lord!"

Jesus: "I love you even more. Now rejoice as I have redeemed you."

Dream over.

635 – Flooding in the Basement of Our Mind

Received on Thursday, September 29, 2022

Communion

Dear Father,

We have experienced flooding in our basement. While we thought we could get away with a quick inexpensive repair from the inside, we were instead informed that this would require digging on the outside. Flooding is one of my major fears, so I have prayed non-stop on this issue. I am hoping and praying for a supernatural fix.

Me: "You have been nothing but good to me. All we have was made possible through the love of You, my Father in Heaven. I did nothing to deserve this or earn it. All is made possible because of You. I am sorry for worrying about the things I cannot control. This is because I am not You. I need to learn to step aside and let You be God all the time, not just some of the time. I love You, Father, and I am so very sorry."

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "I am here, Erin. I have you. I am with you. You are in good hands. This too shall pass and this ongoing problem will be fixed."

Me: "Is the problem to be fixed that You are referring to 'my worry' or 'the flooding'?"

Jesus: "Well, the worry portion is up to you. However, very soon you will have no need to worry and all thoughts on the matter will be removed. In the meantime, your troubles will be removed and the problem fixed, as well as the expense. I have not removed My favor nor have I changed course. I remain the same yesterday, today and tomorrow. I am unchanging in My zeal for those I love."

Me: "Thank You, Lord."

Jesus: "Do not worry as I built this house for you. With rains and storms, damages come. Erin, these things are normal."

Me: "Lord, I never recall this happening when I was a child."

Jesus: "I believe you had great troubles in many other areas, including transportation, financial, plumbing and snow. However, I had grace concerning your dwelling. Sometimes I allow specific troubles so you quickly address them. You then do a personal survey of your own actions. You then repent and reevaluate your position. This is so you lack no good thing.

"It is a good thing to continue to daily check your heart. Any thoughts that can't be shared publicly perhaps needs to be addressed. Why? Your inside thoughts come from your basement in your mind. These can often be things that would hurt others if you were to verbalize it. Words verbalized in anger can seem like a flood to all those around you. This can surprise those who look up to you in high esteem."

Me: "I am sorry, Lord. I try to remove bad thinking. I will work harder. Does this mean our basement flooding is due to an issue with my thinking negatively?"

Jesus: "Not necessarily. However, when you assess yourself in a negative way in your personal inventory, when you think poor thoughts or when you have anger under the surface, these things can cause you to have an instant negative reaction. You then feel convicted by the Holy Spirit as these reactions are contrary to the love I have given you. This is also a check that these things must be removed and replaced with grace and compassion, understand?"

Me: "Yes, Lord."

Jesus: "Now, go on your way today. Work on these things. Don't allow the enemy a foothold. He loves a crack in the foundation. This is when he works to gain a foothold. However, give all of this to Me as I am with you. Do not worry. I love you."

Me: "I love You, Lord."

Dream over.

636 – Repentance during the Ten Days of Awe

Received on Sunday, October 2, 2022

Communion

Dear Father,

Who is like You? Who can promise anything but You? You make the beautiful fall colors and I am so happy to be able to gaze on this. Lord, I am fearful of all the demons in government that are controlling our lives in the way the enemy would want it. Only You have the power to stop this. Freedom and tolerance are now considered bad words as the enemy is entrenched and will no longer tolerate opposition of any kind.

Lord, please bless and help the people that were severely devastated by the recent hurricane in Florida and other parts of the USA. It was almost a category 5. So many places I am familiar with were almost completely destroyed. I also pray for those affected by this storm inland, particularly in the Carolinas. I pray that You move soon and all of this can be supernaturally restored via Your newly risen Army.

We are no longer a nation under God with liberty and freedom for all. Instead, the gods are back. We are now a nation under Baal, Molech and Ishtar, the dark trinity. After almost two thousand years of being kept in the shadows (thanks to the Gospel), they have once again risen. While the USA truly started to decline in the wicked days of the 1960s, this uptick really accelerated from December 2012 and on.

People now decorate their places with the heads of these evil gods. It is so sad. When I asked a client (back in the day) why they had this on display in a prominent place of their home, they didn't know why. They just thought it looked cool. I somehow then convinced her to through the idol out.

We just passed the Shabbat between Rosh Hashanah and Yom Kippur. This falls within the Ten Days of Awe. It is a special Shabbat called Shabbat Shuva. This means 'the Sabbath of The Return'. The focus of these days is to turn from sin and rebellion and return to God. Hosea 14 and Micah 7 are a big part of the Jewish synagogue services during these Ten Days of Awe (which I had once labelled as the Ten Days of 'Awful' a few years back).

I had a dream last night. When I woke from it, I thought it seemed senseless. Now I realize that it was a great warning for Your people as the hour is late.

Sub-Dream 1 "Distracting God's People" begins...

I started out in a massive convention with two stories. On the first story, at ground level, was a massive shopping complex. It was basically a mall with lots of activities. It truly had something for everyone. If you are a collector or have any vice of any kind, it was there. While many will say they can avoid any mall, this was not a typical mall. Everything that could tempt almost anyone was contained on this first story:

- Museums
- Bakeries
- Restaurants
- Shoe stores
- Electronics
- Antiques
- Model Train supplies
- Collectible gifts
- Books
- Cars
- Jewelry
- Plants
- Home accessories
- Christian supplies
- Spas
- Makeup places
- Hardware shops
- Outdoor outfitters
- Gun shops
- Survival shops
- Furniture
- Gaming centers
- Art galleries

- Robotics
- Candy and chocolate shops
- Ice cream shops
- Kitchen supplies

Literally, if you combined every great shopping mall and store you have ever seen and made it ten times better, this would be it. There was literally something for everyone. Since no one could say they were bored, all would be lured in some fashion.

I then moved on to the second floor. This was a massive meeting area, along with living quarters fit for a king or queen. This was housing a large gathering of believers. Present there was a common thread of a love for Jesus. However, despite this, half of the people soon went to the first story, the mall. By doing so too early, they missed the thanksgiving service in the gathering area of the second story.

While the service then continued, the remaining people seemed so excited and distracted by the sounds coming from the mall below. I felt terribly sad for God as He deserved so much more given all He had done for us. I tried to keep our family's attention on the Lord. However, I became nervous as I knew my children could be distracted and even persuaded to go and explore the lower floor.

I raised my hand and asked for prayers that, when God's people enter the mall, they will remember God's goodness in all things. We prayed and then we were released to go. However, we were reminded that there was a special promenade of beauty queens at 4:00pm. We were told that this would involve many of our daughters and relatives.

I waited until my husband was ready to go so we could go together. We took an escalator down into the area and we were in disbelief at all that was available. One sign said antiques and another said model trains. The model train area consisted of a massive room with several model train exhibits. Many of them were award winning.

My husband recognized a couple of people and told me he was going to visit. He told me that they were both Nest friends of his, one from Texas and the other from Arizona. I decided to go over and look in the antique store. There were some beautiful pieces. I turned and saw three antique flower bowls, all made of porcelain. I wanted to purchase them as they were so inexpensive. Just then, I heard the Lord's Voice...

Jesus: "Are these better than what you already own? Do you have a place for them? It is okay to give another the benefit of the bargain."

As always, He was right. I decided to go back to the model train exhibit. My husband was talking and laughing with his two Nest friends. I could see that all three men looked so happy to be able to catch up. When I got closer, I realized they were talking about watching for God's continued clues. I told my husband that I was going back upstairs and that I would meet him there once he was done with his conversation.

When I went to the second story, the floor had become slippery with ice. It was very difficult to walk on. There was an announcement that the pageant was about to start. There was an overlook area. I watched as beautiful young women from all over the world began to walk through the promenade area of the mall.

I was sad to hear Christians around me pointing out the flaws of these beautiful girls. Things being said by those who claimed to be Christians were extremely harsh. As the women walked and bad things were spoken of them, I noticed that these girls were dropping to the ground dead. The other girls walking seemed so shocked that they continued to walk, stepping over their dead bodies.

Voice of the Lord: "Listen and understand... what goes into someone's mouth does not defile them. What comes out of someone's mouth is what defiles them. The power of life and death are in the tongue."

Me: Yelling at the women. "Stop! You are killing them! Stop it!"

Many realized what they had been doing and quickly stopped. I turned and began to walk on the frozen slippery floor. There were waves in the ice that made it even more difficult to navigate. There were also slippery slopes all over the place that led back down to the first story. I found all of the members of my family and we left to go back home together. We were all ready to go home.

Sub-Dream 1 over.

Me: "Father, this dream disturbed me. Please come quickly. I want to be right before You. I repent of any strongholds still looming. Please reconcile my heart to You fully. Let nothing keep me or my house from the love of God and all You have planned for us. Nothing here in this world compares to You. Please keep us close and remove distractions that keep us from the full relationship You long to have with us."

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "Erin, I am here and I am with you. When you face distractions, where do these come from? Do these come from God or the enemy?"

Me: "Definitely not You, Lord. It has to be the enemy as it would make no sense that You would want to keep us away from You. Your Word says that You love us even though we are clearly not perfect. This reminds me of Luke 11.

Luke 11:11-13: "What father among you, if his son asks for a fish, will instead of a fish give him a serpent; or if he asks for an egg, will give him a scorpion? If you then, who are evil, know how to give good gifts to your children, how much more will the Heavenly Father give the Holy Spirit to those who ask Him!"

"Distracting us would go against Your character. You are not a deceiver."

Jesus: "No, I am not a deceiver. Now, why do you think I showed you this dream?"

Me: "Maybe because we need to get right in certain areas right now, as in immediately. This dream made all of this seem incredibly urgent."

Jesus: "I did not come to remove the Laws of God. I did not come to remove the feasts or the fasts. I came to fulfill the Words of the prophets. I did not come to abolish the Laws. Now, when the days of repentance conclude, then The Gate closes at dusk. I am The Gate. Whoever enters by Me, he will be saved and will go in and out and find pasture (John 10)."

Me: "Lord, what do You mean by 'in and out'?"

Jesus: "There are deeper meanings to this. Now, your dream was important because it shows you various Christians now distracted. They are not repentant. They are now despondent and have little or no faith. They have given up because they see, on appearances, that the enemy has gained so much ground. Why does evil move so quickly? Are they speaking 'in prophecy' to justify their actions? Now, these next few days are important. Gather your children and prepare your home."

Me: "Lord, please help me to reconcile with anyone I have forgotten. When I was sick, I was severely humbled. I had no options. I am overwhelmed by so many things right now. The enemy has activated his army everywhere against Your people. So many are falling. Lord, please have mercy. We love You. Please rise up!"

Jesus: "My Army is larger than any earthly army, any princes, principalities or powers of evil. Erin, take comfort as My Army is about to become even larger."

Me: "Lord, I am struggling to sit comfortably to write. My neck hurts horribly. I had things to ask You."

Jesus: "Erin, you can rest. I have more to share with you."

Me: "Lord, one question, Queen Elizabeth owned many massive castles. Where will she be in Heaven?"

Jesus: "Oh yes... you are wondering if she will have something different. Heaven is not a downgrade for anyone, including the Queen or anyone of earthly wealth. Erin, what have you seen?"

Me: "Beautiful homes. Stone homes that have no mineral stains or mold. The stones are as brand new, not old. All is made new and never grows old. Still, how can the crowns in Heaven be fancier than the Queen's beautiful crown on Earth?"

Jesus: I heard Him laugh. "Oh Erin, I promise you it is nothing compared to Heaven. Now, remember that I am The Gate. I have sent great signs and more are coming I have you, Erin. While the enemy is relentless, I am steadfast in My love for you. Do not worry as I am always with you."

Me: "Lord, thank You for warning us about my daughter's bad tires. Something horrible could have happened. The technician told us that we were just days away from her having a blowout. Thank You for other warnings. Thank You for clearing our water. Thank You for stopping the rain while we wait for our basement to be fixed. Thank You for providing my younger son with a better job, my daughter too!"

Jesus: "I am with you. Do not worry. Your life is about to change for the better. Erin, you will enter in and out to feed on pastures safely as I am The Gate."

Me: "Lord, You keep sending signs in fives. This is You, right?"

Jesus: "Do you mean five as in shekels? In Israel, it is a redemption number. It can also have other meanings. Erin, I have redeemed you. I have called you from desert places and brought you to Me. While you were once broken, I have now given you hope and a future. I have given you a safe place to raise your young. I love you. I will not stop. My promises are true. I have purchased you. You are Mine. Now rejoice as you are loved by Me!"

637 – Shaping our Vessels into Warriors

Received on Tuesday, October 4, 2022

Note: According to the Hebrew calendar, Yom Kippur, the Day of Atonement, began at sunset tonight. While this dream was finished before Yom Kippur began, this dream was posted after Yom Kippur began. Yom Kippur is known as the Sabbath of Sabbaths. This is a great day to God as per Scripture and well worth studying.

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You! You are so good and awesome. Your mercies are new every morning. Great is Your faithfulness. I took my little dog, Snigglet, to the vets this morning. She had swallowed something causing an obstruction. The last couple of days have been agonizing due to all the cleanups required. However, she seemed back to normal this morning. The vet gave her a clean bill of health.

Father, I am grateful. Thank You for letting this obstruction pass. Please forgive me for being frustrated with her. It was wrong. As I worshipped in the car, Snigglet didn't want to be in her pet bed. She wanted to be in my arms. This is where she feels the safest. Something unexpected then happened. I had a conversation with the Lord in my car.

Me: "Lord, I don't blame her. I feel the safest in Your arms too."

Jesus: "Come to Me when you arrive home."

Me: "I will, Lord. However, I have such a busy day today."

Jesus: "These tasks can wait."

Me: "You are right, Lord. Nothing around me would even be possible without You. My husband, children, pets, home, car.. I have done nothing to earn them. All of this is only by Your grace. Without You, none of this would be possible."

Jesus: "This is why you come to Me. This is because you understand that I am over all things. It is I who give good gifts and grace to those I live."

Me: "Thank You, Lord."

I then pulled up to my house. I could see the red squirrels looking for food. They have been mean to me and five of them recently tried to gang up on me. Things feel different in the yard. Even the mourning doves are quarrelling with each other. To defend myself, I have been spraying the red squirrels with a hose. The Lord and I then had another impromptu conversation.

Me: "I have easily seen four or more generations of red squirrels. I have never seen them attack me. I feed them. What is going on?"

Jesus: "Well, I happen to understand this too!"

I laughed so hard. The Lord is so brilliant. What a great sign and analogy for this current generation of great lawlessness and rebellion away from God. All of this has made me rethink feeding the squirrels. I may just feed the birds instead. Their seed have gone up a lot in price. Fruit for our family has too. Almost three-fold for melons. I had an interesting dream last night...

Sub-Dream 1 "Avoiding a Meeting with So-called Friends" begins...

I was supposed to meet several friends at an outdoor shopping area. While I was still with my family, the rest of them were going to an event. As I began to leave them, a bad feeling came over me that it was a trap. I turned and told them I would stay with them as they were more important to me than meeting with people whom I don't know very well (these were NOT Nest friends). I phoned them to let them know...

Me: "I won't be making it."

Man: Angrily. "Where are you going instead?"

Me: "I am going across town to a large event."

Man: "We will find you."

Me: "The tickets are sold out. Where we are going, you cannot go."

Man: "We are good Christian friends. We wanted to share our testimony with you."

Me: "Stop being so angry (he was talking in an angry tone). I can catch up with you later. I need to accompany my family to this event. It is important."

Man: "Meet us at ____ (I forget what he said)."

Me: "I will not. I would have to go through a bad neighborhood to get there."

I woke up at 6:15am to the sound of a downy woodpecker tapping on the side of our house.

Sub-Dream 1 over.

In the last few days, I have felt tested by the Lord in a few areas. They were clearly areas I could have done better on. I have been struggling with patience in the waiting. I am just so excited about what God has planned for all of us. I was worried that the Lord would grow tired of me. After all, even I am tired of me... smiles.

In terms of my favorite season of fall, this has been a torturous time instead. Even the leaves seem to know something big is about to happen. The leaves are simply shriveling up and falling off the branches. We are not getting our usual fall spectacle. I have never seen this happen. While we have had a few frosts, this is still so very odd.

Me: "Lord, I pray on this ninth day of the 'Ten Days of Awe' that, when the Gate closes, I am in that number. It has been such a sad time with illness so horrible. Queen Elizabeth has passed. The storms have destroyed so much. We have had periodic flooding in our basement. My favorite time of the year has been awful. I was hoping this would be a wonderful fall. Instead, it has been so sad."

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "Erin, I am here and I am with you. I have not removed My favor. Your dream simply showed you that you passed the discernment test. You are obedient to My voice. My instructions are above all things to you. As for your distractions, I have now removed them."

Me: "Well, technically speaking, Lord, the contents of the basement are still littered everywhere. This stuff is in places where we previously had order."

Jesus: "Yes, I know. However, you choose Me over these things. I will therefore take this burden from you. I will bring you joy and peace. Now, there is something I want to discuss with you. We are close, right?"

Me: "I thought so, Lord."

Jesus: "I must point out an issue in our relationship. I call you friend, yet you constantly worry about whether I will turn from you and leave you. You worry if I will fulfill My promises I have for you."

Me: In tears. "Yes, Lord. I am sorry. At times, my dreams are very dark. I worry for those with limited understanding that they will end up stuck here. My dreams are now very close to reality. I had hoped that we would be strengthened and able to endure what is coming to the nations. Great evil is already here.

“Lord, my greatest fear above all things is that I would do something to revoke all Your promises for me. I just want to do right by You in all things. My heart is sick whenever I think of life apart from You. I am scared. I am sorry! Lord, I repent.”

Jesus: “Oh Erin, breathe. Many I call friend and have taken through the furnace of affliction dread enduring this again. Erin, I am with you. I have not forgotten you. I love you.

- You have been to My Home, My Courts, My vineyards, My fields and My pools.
- You have been baptized in the River of Life.
- You have learned from My instruction at the tree with fruits.
- I have revealed so many mysteries to you about the places I have prepared for those who love Me.
- You have also been with Me at My Studio, My Potter’s House, and there you saw your Vessel being shaped by Me.
- I have shared the love of a Groom to His Bride.

“Erin, would I then so easily throw you away?”

Me: “Oh Lord, I am becoming old now. I was so sick. We have been a hurting house. Why did You not take away these troubles?”

Jesus: “I did, I have and I will take anything that comes against you and your house. Do not leave Me at the Altar, Erin, as I will not leave you. I won’t. I have prepared you. You have been given great zeal and fortitude. Your heart is ready with a yearning to help the lost. You have an anger against the wicked you have never had before.”

Me: “Oh Lord, I am so sorry.”

Jesus: “Erin, you are missing My point here. Your Vessel is now ready. As for these last tests, will a Potter not test His Vessel one last time for sturdiness, strength and any last issues? It is better to do this prior to use, understand?”

Me: “While I thought I was ready, this period from August 19, 2022 to now has had some issues and residues to be looked after. Lord, I think my Vessel collected dust waiting on the shelf.”

Jesus: “Oh Erin, there is no dust on you. That is funny. Now, what did these last few weeks teach you?”

Me: "That all the things I have come to expect or enjoy from the world around me has now changed. The favor of God... Your favor... is lifting away. Evil is increasing. Things have lost luster. My husband and I envy no one. We are thankful and happy. We are grateful to be safe. We know the enemy has increased attacks against our kids. Please help us, Lord."

Jesus: "I come to restore the ruins. I come to rebuild broken walls and shattered dreams. I repair hearts. While many do not know Me, they will. My army of angels in every rank are all around the Earth. They have only to harken to the sound of My Voice and they will descend.

"However, there is another army I have built up. You are in this number. Nothing will come against them. They will converse with angels. I will be in them working through them. They will display awesome deeds. My armies will bring a great healing upon the lands. Evil will flee. They will be far from you.

"Now, some I have trained as warriors in different areas. Each have been readied in their hearts for where I will send them. Some will also be as generals and leaders of many. In all this, all will be in perfect harmony. Many will then ask questions:

- Whose army is this?
- Their skills... who can replicate?
- Their weapons... who can make?
- How is it possible that their strength and power is like their God?

Me: "Wow, how awesome! Thank You. Just to have a fraction of Your abilities will be incredibly awesome! Wow! Thank You!"

Jesus: "There is much more and this you will soon find out. I just wanted to speak with you because, when you are busy, you forget that My Voice is with you. You can ask Me anything, great or small, and I will answer. Now be joyful. Rejoice, Erin, and do not be downcast. I love you. I have not removed My favor."

Me: "I love You, Lord!"

638 – Document of Names Sealed on Yom Kippur

Finished on Thursday, October 6, 2022

Received on Wednesday, October 5, 2022

Note: According to the Hebrew calendar, this dream was received on the morning of Yom Kippur, the Day of Atonement. Yom Kippur is known as the Sabbath of Sabbaths. This is a great day to God as per Scripture.

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for this glorious day! There is no one like You. You are marvelous and glorious above all things. I am so grateful to You. According to Jewish tradition, Yom Kippur is the day the Book of Life is sealed. It appears there are then three divisions of people for the year that follows, all divided according to Your Will:

- Those who will have a great year.
- Those who will have an average year.
- Those who will have a terrible year.

Lord, I pray that my family and all on the Nest have a great year! Please forgive us for anything outstanding. Thank You for all of Your miracles. You tell me that You have barely started these miracles, so I can hardly wait for all of the action to unfold. Lord, we honor and praise You for being so much more than we could ever ask for.

Jesus: "Erin, I am here! Here I am. Love Me with your whole heart and strength. Love Me because I first loved you. Love Me as I found you. I spoke tenderly to you. I gave you back all the enemy had stolen. I placed your feet upon Solid Rock. Love Me because I am your Redeemer and Friend. I look at the heart. You desire to do good. You long to have an eternity in My presence. You have cast off the gods of this Earth."

Me: "Oh Lord, I choose You! I love You so much. If not for You, where would I be? Without You, my life has no purpose. You are handsome, glorious and strong. None of Your Words are idle or meaningless. When You speaking, these are full notes of great depth. Your Words can heal or strike down. They are powerful and never return void. I could work every day and never earn enough to repay You for all You have done for us.

"I can never repay You for all You have blessed us with. Thank You for saving my life. Thank You for granting me children as they have been such a blessing in my life. While I have lost so much in this life, I am still rich because of You. I have no words to express fully just all You mean to me. I love You so much. I am so grateful You found me. I trust You with my whole heart. I trust that You will care for me and my house as we serve You."

Jesus: "I am here with you. I know your heart. I have you. You are Mine. I remove barriers between us. I tear down walls. I remove intruders and send them far away. I tear down wicked plots before they are put into motion. I remove the ability of the enemy to strike.

"Though you have been afflicted by treacherous men with no one to plead your case, I am about to deal with all those who have contended against you. This includes those who claim to be Mine, yet continue to act on instructions from demons. I will contend with these. None of their schemes will succeed. I will turn them back. I will strike them. They will be exposed."

Me: "According to the Hebrew calendar, this morning is now Yom Kippur, also known as the Day of Atonement. Thank You for this great day!"

Jesus: "This is an important day. Who turns to Me in humility? Whose heart is true and upright? Who is ready and who is wanting? Who loves Me and hates evil? Who despises liars and unbalanced justice? Who holds anger against their brother and refuses to forgive? How does one say 'I'll pray for you', but instead gossips? There are many of these and I am not pleased with this."

Me: "I pray that my family and my friends on the Nest please You!"

Jesus: "I have made My decision. I have chosen those with upright hearts. I do not ask for perfect hearts as not one has a perfect heart. The document I have written contains names. There are those I choose for greater service and those who are of no use to Me in greater measure. I do not forget those who have profaned My name.

"Many of those attending church are now hypocrites and liars. I do not forget the darkness they delight in dwelling in. They praise Me with their lips, yet turn against their brother with My name on their cursed lips. They will be angry and in great grief when they are soon passed over. They do not see themselves. Only a fraction will humble themselves.

"Do not worry as I know your heart is with Me. I am with you. I am not impressed by ceremony for the sake of ceremony. I look at the heart. Now, take care of your day. I love you and I am where you are. I am with you, Erin."

Me: "Thank You, Lord!"

Jesus: "Just remember that I am here. Just ask Me if you need help."

Me: "I will."

Dear Father,

What a heartbreaking thing when someone dies young. My older son had a friend that died. It was a warehouse accident. Death is painful to those who remain here. God, I am thankful that You are over the power of life and death. You also have the final word. You meet all of us at the end. Our silver cord is all Yours. Help us, Lord, as the Earth is plummeting into the darkness of great evil. Father, please help us!

Jesus: "Erin, I am here and I am with you. Remember that I am over all things. I see all evil. I see so do not worry. Since you have continued waiting for My big miracles for what seems to be an overly long time, you wonder if you will even ever see them. You then ask Me to hurry up. Well, Erin, you are not to worry as I am already here and always will be."

Me: "Yes, Lord, but it is becoming difficult. Many Nest members are struggling."

Jesus: "Erin, there are obvious differences between those who are evil and those who are good. The evil is in the wide open now. Sin is openly visible. Remember that I never arrive late or early. I come at the proper time. I do not delay. You cannot understand this fully until the due date.

"In a pregnancy, there are contractions and birth pains. Finally, the water breaks and the crown of the child appears. The child then comes and the mother finishes giving birth. The cord is cut and the baby is set free. In death, the silver cord is cut from flesh into eternal life."

Me: "Lord, does this mean that Earth is like a womb?"

Jesus: "Not really. It is a gift. Life here is a gift from God. However, you will not fully understand its value until you are called Home. Each life is a gift. Each life has value."

639 – The Lord’s Army is Set to Rise

Note: According to the Hebrew calendar, the first day of Sukkot (aka ingathering, tabernacles, shelters) began at sunset tonight. While this dream was finished before Sukkot began, this dream was posted after Sukkot began.

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for all You do. Thank You for another day. You bless us as we anxiously await the fulfillment of Your promises. The Church is failing and only You can fix this. Fear is spreading to the entire world. Isaiah 45 fits in perfectly right now. I just know we are about to see Your great glory.

There is so much evil. The evil gods return accelerated in the 1960s and have never stopped accelerating. Their evil woke agenda is all around us. Cancel culture is the new norm. So much fear is cultivated in this world. The politicians revel in it. This world is so corrupt. It is hard to even enjoy myself here anymore.

We are patiently waiting for You... well, not so patiently. Quite simply, our time of fulfillment has not yet come. Our time of realizing Your miracles has not yet come. Why? Because Your perfect time of displaying Your power, majesty and glory before the world is close, but has not fully come.

In the meantime, You grant us a miracle maintenance plan. You protect us and keep us safe until the day You call us into service. This is so difficult as evil is so prevalent today. They are in high places and appear to be calling the shots. Well, we know that only You call the shots.

Lord, I am like my kids used to be at nursery school. I am counting the minutes until You come to pick us up. When I see You, I will run to You and hug You just like my kids would. They knew I was coming, but never really knew the exact time.

Me: “Father, it is the same with me. Father, I am like a child at the nursery waiting for You! Please come soon! So many of our friends on the Nest are hurting now. They need Your divine assistance!”

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "Erin, I am here and I am with you. Remember that I know you are not perfect. I know you struggle at times to truly rest on Sabbath. At times, you go your own way. However, your heart is then contrite. Now, about patience. A patient heart is one that knows I am going to do all I promised and is in sync with My Will. You have prepared yourself. You are quick to turn from evil and instead do good. I have prepared your Vessel. Your Vessel is now ready."

Me: "I don't like waiting. Forgive me. It is not fun. As I become older, I know my body is becoming worse. My sight is dim or foggy at times. Colors are becoming dull. The me inside me is young and vibrant and full of hope and anticipation. While I am excited about Your promises, the reflection in the mirror frames my limitations. I miss my visits to Heaven.

"I would even be happy with a quick visit to the yard with You and the angels. I have been sad, Lord. Forgive me as nothing of this world satisfies me anymore. The winds just came and the leaves were blown off. They have barely been their usual pretty selves this fall. Very sad. It has been such a disappointing fall. Our basement is still waiting to be fixed. The house is still in disarray. It has been so hard to deal with.

"While it seems like a minor thing, it has been hard on me. I am not enjoying being at home when I usually love being at home. Racoons spread trash all over our deck and my husband had to pick it up. My children are struggling at their jobs. My husband is keeping his spirits up most of the time, so this helps me. He loves cheering me up."

Jesus: "Erin, why did God create the Sabbath rest?"

Me: "So that we follow Your example and rest on the seventh day and refrain from work."

Jesus: "Yes. Physically, it is a day of removing your burdens. For most people, work is a burden. I want you to think about this. The seventh day is a day set apart from all the other days. For six days, you go about your routines; you conduct business, pay your bills, run your errands, shop at markets and cook meals for your family. In general, you maintain your house and go your normal way.

"However, on Sunday, you rest your body and do no work. If there is an emergency, of course you are to take care of this first. However, in all things, submit yourself under God and honor him, keeping this day holy. It is a day set to pause. On this day, look around you and rejoice. Deepen your understanding of God and My Kingdom of Heaven. It is a day where you do not go your own way.

“If you do this fully and honor Me with your day, it is like having a brand-new battery fully charged for the next six days after. However, if you only honor My Sabbath rest with 12 or 20 hours of the 24, then you rob your body of recharging. This could mean you only have three or four days of strength of vitality. Even so, I will still always be with you no matter what.”

Me: “I know that, when I have not fully honored the Sabbath day, I have ended up sick or unwell right after.”

Jesus: “Well, yes, but remember that I do not wait for an opportunity to punish you. Lift up your arms as a child and I will pick you up and carry you in My arms as you rest. This is for your good. Take the day to see Me around you. I have created beautiful things for you all around you. You are to love others and laugh with joy. If you reflect back over your week, you will see Me at work in every area of your life... well, those areas you invited Me into.”

Me: “Lord, You are always with me.”

Jesus: “I am. However, you sometimes fail to talk to Me and ask.”

Me: “Since some of my issues are so small, I hate to bother you with some of my troubles and dumb worries.”

Jesus: “Oh, so God can create all you see, but He doesn’t care about minute details? My Voice is in you and it is interactive. The enemy knows God would be coming to His people in greater power. To distract against this, he brought an evil listening device to answer your questions and give you directions. For some, this is a substitute for the Holy Spirit and the greater move of My Spirit, My Voice in you.”

Me: “Oh, You mean Siri! I didn’t even think of this as being a Holy Spirit substitute!”

Jesus: “Is God in the details of your life? Does God have limits? Is there details I can’t be bothered with? Is it not written that the Lord directs the steps of the Godly? He delights in every detail. Erin, though you stumble, you will never fall. I am holding you by your hand!”

Me: “I had to search for this; Psalm 37:23-24 are applicable here. Thank You, Lord!”

Jesus: “It is also written ‘commit everything you do to Me; trust Me and I will help you (Psalm 37:5). I care about you in all things. Have this be the way you can honor Me during your Sabbath rest. I will help you.”

Me: "I had another dream about the end, Lord. I need Your help. People will be so distraught. There is such great evil."

Jesus: "The nations have come under a great spell. There is evil that has descended as a dark cloud over the peoples. Rational thought has been surrendered to lawlessness. The news is worse than a horror movie. You even ask Me to remove some of these images. While these things are necessary, you are not to worry. Armies of angels from Heaven are ready for the trumpet to sound. There is a great and terrible day of the Lord."

Me: "Is there two days? Is there a great day of revival and miracles and a separate terrible day of removal of Your Bride? Or is this both on the same day?"

Jesus: "What do you think?"

Me: "Well, I think You addressed this in my dream last night."

Sub-Dream 1 "The Lord uses His Army to restore the broken" begins...

I was surrounded by Your Army of Saints. These were the Vessels You had poured Your Spirit into. Once this Army went out:

- The wicked confessed and fled.
- The sick, lame, mentally challenged and hopeless were all healed.
- Cities were transformed from rubble to back to better than before.
- The invaders and evil foreigners throughout the nations were immediately removed and their wrongs against the innocent corrected.
- I saw people and children who had died over the years be raised from the dead and confess by their testimonies against the wicked.
- I saw homes and lives restored.
- I saw several wicked nations forced to retreat and prepare for an influx of returns.
- I saw anger burning in North Korea, Russia and especially China as these rulers were subdued and forced to retreat all operations.
- They were also forced as nations using all of the televisions to watch God correct wrongs.
- They were forced to watch their massive confessions of their crimes against humanity on these televisions.
- All miracles were televised, even if the television was unplugged.

- The television could not be turned off day or night.
- Televisions basically became indestructible during this time of confession.
- All evil fled to caves and dark places.
- The nations experienced joy, rest, safety, abundance of food and their homes returned and restored, their health and debts paid.

After a period of time, the evil nations and those exiled plotted to overthrow God's army. They decided to send nuclear bombs, including a particularly large one meant to destroy God. However, Jesus instead appeared with His saints and angel armies and carried all of His children home to Heaven. Darkness then fell upon the nations.

Sub-Dream 1 over.

Jesus: "Hmm, interesting summary. While I like this, My hope would be for all to turn to Me and confess so none are lost."

Me: "Lord, it is hard to see businesses close now. So many have closed recently. A beautiful wedding shop is now closed. It was one of the prettiest I had ever seen in the state of Maine."

Jesus: "Weddings are falling in popularity.

"However, soon, very soon, they will increase. Now, do not worry. I am holding your hand. I love you."

Me: "I love You, Lord."

Dream over.

640 – Building Faith During the Testing

Received on Thursday, October 20, 2022

Communion

Dear Father,

I will start with what I wrote down yesterday...

Thank You for another day! Thank You for all You do. You bless us and I am grateful. Father, the rain has begun to fall and it is torrential. Please let it pass without flooding our home again. The workers have still not come. Lord, my heart grieves. I cling to Your promises in all things. Lord, You are the restorer and finisher of our faith.

You are the Author of our story. You care about every part and every action until Your great work is complete in us. Blessed are You, Father. Father, the water is just beginning to seep into the cracks of our basement floors again. If there is anything more I must repent of, please place this on my heart. I pray that, in Your mercy, You will grant us relief. I am tired.

I recently had a friend hurt me deeply. She then did it again this morning. I went over the last few years of our friendship. Through photographs, I can see that I truly meant very little to her. She is moving away from this area. I believe this is You saving me from worldly people. I stay to myself and have over the years. People can be used of the enemy as one of his greatest tools against God's children.

My greatest friends have been those I keep through correspondence. Unfortunately, I have been unable to keep up with emails. I am sure that I have been a disappointing friend to so many. Father, You remind me to ground my heart as it is the well spring of life. It is so difficult when the heart, our human heart, begins to break. The older I have become, I am unable to heal as quickly as I once did. The enemy enjoys his time needling me over and over.

Oh no, a torrential downpour just came... our basement is flooding... again...

I will now continue with what I wrote down today...

Thank You! Thank You for clearing the skies. Father, I am tired. I need You. The enemy has chipped away at me and I need Your help. For five hours yesterday, I vacuumed up water. I can barely move today. Sleep was horrible. I can't seem to get rid of this cough and cold.

We have still been waiting for approval from the power company for the workers to dig to make the repairs. It is a sad state because every aspect of help today needed for repairs are experiencing worker shortages. I don't always understand this because able bodied workers still can't find work. It is confusing. Sadly, we are at the mercy of a broken world system. As I cried as I vacuumed yesterday, You reminded me that You step in when all our earthly options are exhausted.

My spirit was broken as I tried to keep up. All in our home were gone. The two areas of flooding went back and forth as I tried to keep up on both. My nose was running and my throat was sore. My breathing was labored. I thought about all of the troubles that have fallen over our house again. I reviewed my 'sin checklist'...

- Was I being prideful?
- Was I indulgent?
- Was I dismissive?
- Was I coveting?

Yes, that's it! I was coveting! I was coveting my neighbors who have no flooding in their basement. I began to laugh amid the tears. I thanked God for our home. I thanked Him for the rain. I thanked Him for sturdy walls, a firm foundation, power to heat and light our home and a vacuum to redistribute the water. I thanked Him for granting us a house that loves Jesus.

The day before yesterday (Tuesday evening), my son, who works long hours, drove with me to the grocery store. We were on our way home at approximately 6:30pm. The sun and clouds created an affect that it was dawn when it wasn't. It was so realistic that it actually disoriented me. It was alarming to us and lasted more than 30 minutes. We took photos, but it didn't truly capture what we saw. As for today, there is not a cloud in the sky. My lungs aren't clear yet, but I am thankful God has given me another day here.

Father, darkness seems to be permeating every part of anything good around us. It has all happened faster then we are able to comprehend. In the beginning, You created light and darkness. You created light for us by day and darkness at night for rest.

However, You also added night lights, the stars and the moon, so we are never truly without light. When sin entered the Garden via the serpent and Eve fell by deception, darkness symbolizing evil descended. It became a place to hide from the light of God and His goodness. We now associate darkness with evil.

When I was in high school and college, my mom reminded me that nothing good happens after midnight and that true evil occurred after 2:00am. I am not sure why this stuck with me after all of these years, but she is absolutely right. In high school, in a small town, there was nothing to do after 10:00pm. After I got off from work at 11:00pm or midnight, I would just drive straight home.

This certainly kept me out of a lot of trouble. I do remember a few times sharing the highway with drunken drivers. I am thankful to make it home safely. Mom was right though. Evil inhabited darkness. I found it was good for all things contrary to the light of God. Now though, it is happening that evil now dwells right there in the light of day. We see it all the time now. Wicked acts occur right before our eyes in broad daylight.

It is so difficult to remain joyful while waiting when there is so much uncertainty. Our young people are struggling. They are lonely. Lord, how can we relate to them? Do You need to inspire someone to do an anime Bible? All is backwards and this has become the norm. The enemy now advances faster than at anytime in history. It is clear now that we are living in due season for You, Father. The world needs a Savior and You are it.

It won't be just the unbelievers who need saving. It will also be the prodigals and tired watchers too. Lies are everywhere disguised as truth. These are so widespread now that there is nothing but Your Word that has stood the test of time. Your Word today is as applicable and timely as it was 2000 years ago. What other book has ever become more relevant with time. NOT ONE... ONLY the Bible!

Me: "All we see will soon pass away. It will be no more. Father, please help me. Lift my head. All of us who love You are being hammered right now. We are experiencing troubles of many kinds. Please don't let us languish in this state. Please provide and protect us from the darkness. Please protect us from evil of every kind, in Jesus' Mighty Name, Amen!"

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "Erin, I am here and I am with you. I know you are anxious about many things. However, I will deliver you from them all. I have not abandoned you. I am with you. All that is broken will be repaired. I will remove all things that hinder My Kingdom. I will remove all things that do not advance My Kingdom.

"Although it is difficult to part with some ways of life you are accustomed to or someone you have come to know, please understand that it is I who position all things for My glory and for the benefit of Kingdom Purposes. The woman who hurt you was not your friend as she served herself first and all others were subject to her. She had succumbed to Jezebel many years ago.

"Although she was raised on My truth, she forgot My Word and created her own truth. She was used by the enemy to attempt the destruction of all you have been given by Me. This is important that I move her quickly as no good has come from her into your life except to draw you backwards and for Me to pull you out of the muck and mire."

Me: "I didn't realize she was this much of a stronghold. Oh Lord, I am so sorry."

Jesus: "You could never quite sync with your dates and plans over the last year because I sent angels to thwart them."

Me: "Lord, You could have just told me and I would have had nothing to do with her."

Jesus: "It wasn't time and right now this is a mystery, but I was working on something through this. Now, as this woman moves on, the enemy is throwing daggers at you. Always stand on truth. My truth is a sword and the enemy's lies are daggers. They are treacherous.

"Now, I know you feel defeated right now. However, you have no need to be. You are defeated because there is very little good news anywhere. Now, I never did say all would be easy before I come in greater glory... or perhaps I missed something?

Me: "Of course not, Lord. You showed me things would become worse."

Jesus: "Then this is not a surprise. Did I not send angels, My messengers, to inform you that things would grow increasingly dark? Even though this is the case, are you not still always in My care?"

Me: "Yes, Lord. However, if I might be so bold... we are like children... we see all of these events taking shape before our eyes. We then say 'help, help!' It is like watching a horror movie, but then realizing it is now real life. Lord, this is hard to witness for us because we are small and helpless against the evil around us. Help!"

Jesus: "I understand. I am with you and My Voice is in you. You still do not fully comprehend this yet, but My authority is here in you. The time for this will soon be in full measure. You will be in My full authority in all things. I know you have been in mourning over many different things.

"However, I am answering these prayers. Remember that I will sustain you as there is soon to be a great outpouring of power from on high as Heaven will be visible upon the Earth. I will sever the ties of the world and its institutions who have shackled and bound you. All debts will be paid as I am the God who owns the cattle on a thousand hills. There is nothing too small or too large for Me as all things are within My reach.

"This great time you are about to come into will prepare the nations for My coming. You will be ushering in My changes, My authority, and nothing will thwart the plans of God. When all of this is revealed, you will look back and be in awe over all that was put into place from beginning to end. Despite all your troubles, afflictions and losses, I have shown My affections and favor to you and your children.

"Now, do you remember what you said to your husband when watching the funeral procession of the Queen who recently passed away?"

Me: "Yes. Distinctly. I wondered if the pallbearers of her casket, the young men, realized what an amazing honor it was to be carrying the Queen's body to her place of rest on Earth? Were they raised for this?"

Jesus: "Yes and yes to both. Erin, you do not even understand your call yet. You won't know until you are changed. You are carrying something for Me. Simone of Cyrene was called to carry My Cross."

Me: "But what is Your burden to need someone to carry You?"

Jesus: "Because at that moment I was a man subject to crucifixion. He walked beside Me and helped carry My burden. You could ask questions about each event of this day and wonder 'why God? Why not be God in that moment?'"

Me: "Yes, Lord. I have often wondered this. After all, You are God."

Jesus: "In this moment, on this day, I offered up My Spirit for all to witness. It was for My purposes that I would call on a helper."

Me: "But You don't truly need me. You can choose anyway, anyone, many or no one. Who is God that He should need man?"

Jesus: "Of course I could have done all of this without the help of man. However, My ways are perfect. While I might not need you, I chose you. Erin, I have also chosen others. You are not alone. While you are like a pallbearer, I am fully alive. You will carry with you the evidence of the Kingdom of Heaven and My Glory."

Me: "So, we carry You like the Ark of the Covenant?"

Jesus: "You are like an Ark. If My Voice is in you and My Spirit has been poured into you, then, yes, this is a good example. Have I not told you that I am with you in greater measure?"

Me: "Yes, Lord."

Just then, the telephone rang. I received good news.

Me: "Lord, the power company is coming out in the next two days. Thank You for answering our prayers."

Jesus: "I am here, Erin. I am with you and I know your limits. I have not stripped My favor from you. I have not said 'oh, she's crying again. How faithless. I am tired and finished with Erin.' If I were to do this, I would then be a poor groom, bad father and an even worse friend.

"I don't sit around and count the problems I have with those I have chosen in order to condemn them. I am instead preparing My army of angels. I am God and I am advancing My troops. I am sharpening swords and preparing Heaven. This is where My focus is.

"Evil has increased and the wicked are scheming to advance their kingdom of darkness. I am God, so I see all of this. Do not worry as I have not forgotten you nor will I pass by or dismiss you. Your faith is great. You are generous and your heart is good. My increase of miracles, signs and wonders is here and even at the door. You are loved, Erin."

Me: "I love You too, Jesus!"

Dream over.

641 – Preparing for the Grand Opening Party

Communion

Dear Father,

You are wonderful, marvelous and above anything on Earth. You are above the heavens and even Heaven itself. Nothing compares to You. You are over all of us. You determine our days. Our days are numbered on this Earth. No man can take our lives in an untimely manner as You alone determine when we are to pass from here. You already knew from the beginning how long our times would be here.

Father, we have been encouraged one minute and then discouraged the next. We experience more battles here because my husband and I share our home with our five children. Other than my husband's daughter, all of our children are now in their 20s. It is heartbreaking to see my two sons try to navigate adulthood with such innocence. They are naïve and still are in a childlike state when viewing those around them.

It doesn't occur to them that people could set out to deceive them. When they encounter a snare or trap, they are shocked. My younger son ran into some trouble recently with a purchase. He didn't fully understand the long-term ramifications of it. He so wanted a reversal.

While we are still trying to help him cancel this, both of us believe he will be bound by it. He has been having trouble sleeping or eating as a result. He is having problems understanding why they just can't be nice and reverse this purchase. Sadly, he fell victim to three successful tactics in selling:

- They fabricate reality.
- They create an urgency to commit.
- They then leave no room to revise it.

This is horrible to someone on the autism spectrum. This is what they go through:

- Excitement that they have been able to achieve a great opportunity.
- Being told to act now with time constraints scares them. They are frightened into believing that someone else will take what is theirs.

- Change comes and the old is removed. In comes the new. This is not the autistic way. To them, the old should remain even if it doesn't work. For them, anything new takes time to adjust to.

Well, you can only imagine how traumatic the change has been. We have all accepted the reality of this situation except for my son. He still wants to try again to appeal to these salespeople to reverse the contract. We do not believe it is in their power to do so. While a difficult learning experience, it has been a good one, just sad. While we will help him make one last appeal tomorrow, any outcome is as per Your Will alone.

The enemy seeks to enslave Your people. Instead of freedom and blessings in this life, the enemy seeks confinement and poverty. It has happened before in history and it is rapidly approaching all of us again. While my son felt free, he now feels bound. This has actually brought us closer as he, for the first time, fully understands how this life is filled with troubles and snares of many kinds.

Blessed is the man whose debts are forgiven by the Father. How blessed are we that God forgives us our debts on this Earth and in Heaven. We are free, but only in Him. I remember when I was a single parent and I was forced to make some difficult choices between paying this bill or that one. In all, God is good. He cares for us and He loves us. Still, we see the enemy trying every tactic to remove all joy from us.

The power company finally came out to our house. The workers should be starting within the next few days, hopefully tomorrow or Tuesday. We are hoping this can be completed before the rains begin again. Father, please help us. Please let the workers divert our flooding away from our home quickly and with minimum expense. This is such an unknown for us. We are at Your mercy. In my dream last night...

Sub-Dream 1 "Preparing for the Grand Opening Party" begins...

I was young and my children were with me. We were at some distant resort somewhere. We had a very important event to attend. My children went ahead to the event, stopping to purchase new shoes at a resort shop. I met them there.

My older son: "What are you doing here? You are running late."

Me: "You are right, I am running late." I looked down and laughed as my attire clearly did not fit the venue. "Hmm, I need to go back to change as I am underdressed. You all go on ahead. I will meet you at the event party."

I went back and found that my husband had already gone to the venue. I looked through all that I had and was struggling to find anything to wear. I had to stop at three different locations to find appropriate attire. One shop had undergarments, one had dresses and the last had a shawl and shoes. I was finally on my way.

When I arrived, I discovered that the door to the venue had been moved. I was directed to the back of an antiques shop inside a museum. While the place had amazing items from history, I was focused on getting to where I was going. There was a note on the counter with my name on it. The shopkeeper handed me the note and I opened it:

"Erin, you are to gather more invitees to the event. You are the curator of the event. I love you and I am with you... God"

Me: Sighing. "Thank you."

Shopkeeper: Noticing my sigh. "Is everything okay?"

Me: "I am not sure. I am now a curator. What is a curator?"

Shopkeeper: "Wait! What? You are the curator? This is huge. This means that you are the only paid worker. This is a big deal!"

Me: "Paid worker? I don't understand."

Shopkeeper: "You are responsible for acquisitions. You acquire artifacts for the Owner. You gather and purchase and bring everything back from the ends of the Earth to the Owner. You watch over all of it. You tell a story... His Story. This will all happen using what you find."

Me: "But I am not trained for this. How will I travel to where I need to go? What am I gathering?"

Shopkeeper: "You will have assistance. This is an honor."

Me: "I will miss my family. I was hoping to be where they are."

Shopkeeper: "They are at the Grand Opening Party. There are so many who don't know about the Owner. He is the One hosting the Party. The Grand Opening is here. He will quickly send you help. It is a great honor. You are in great hands."

There was a greyish green door with light seeping through the wooden planks. I opened the door and stepped into the light.

Sub-Dream 1 over.

Father, this dream was very clear. However, I really missed everyone in it. I knew that I had a job to do and that it would be difficult. I am just so old and sick today that I can't imagine any of this. However, I am relieved that my family is at the Grand Opening Party and that they are safe and happy.

I found a photo recently of my youngest son who is now 23 years old. He used to like to dress up for great adventures in costumes. He couldn't speak when he was a toddler up until about six years old. He would motion with his hands and mumble. The photos captured a moment in my dreams.

Sub-Dream 2 "A Flashback to the Year 2000" begins...

It was the fall of the year 2000 in Portland OR. I lived in an apartment complex called the Frank Estate. My daughter was not born yet. We lived in a small townhome close to Shari's Restaurant. On Saturday mornings, the boys and I would walk over to have breakfast. We would then go for a walk on some of the nearby trails.

We could not leave the house until my younger son had everything he needed for the adventure. He wore an empty backpack that was disguised as a frog. Around his neck were his racoon binoculars.

Younger son: "Carry me please."

I reached over and picked him up. I smelled his cheek and it was literally his baby smell. In my other hand was my older son. We walked together down this small level concrete walking path.

Sub-Dream 2 over.

When I woke up from this dream, I felt I had been catapulted 22 years to this current time. I felt disoriented to my surroundings. I cried out to the Lord that time is cruel. We cannot reverse things to good days or moments. We can't go back. This reminded me of the song "This is Home" by Switchfoot from 2008. These lyrics are so applicable to today and well worth looking up.

Me: "Father, I know that our Home is in Heaven. Please help me to understand what You are wanting me to do. While I know I can't go back, I would sure love a few memories and a few do overs. I am tired now. Please come soon. I am aging at an accelerated rate now."

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "Erin, I am here and I am with you. My Voice is in you. I understand the grief of your heart. I know the days you wanted to extend. Oh, if only I could show you all that I've done from the beginning to the end. If I did you would then understand. There will be a Great Day when you will be reunited in the place I prepared for you. Your cup of joy will be overflowing and there will be great reunions.

“There will be great reunions with those who have gone before you. This will include those you love and those who prayed for you. This will include those you have made a difference to and those you have yet to meet. I know that your years in this life are short and beautiful memories are fleeting. Things that are lovely fade away and those whom you love die.

“It was never meant to be this way, but death is the result of sin. In eternity, there is no death, only life. While there are seasons on Earth, these are beautiful and lasting in Heaven. There are always harvests. There are always flowers blooming and always new life. There are no shortcomings in Heaven. There are no disappointments nor are there deceptions. All things are Holy in Heaven.

“To each soul on Earth, I call out and meet. Your prayers and petitions create an open door for an invitation to meet Me at death’s door. There I hold the key to life and death. Those who reconcile to Me are delivered. Those who are not are turned away and their names removed from the Book of Life.

“Now, about your dream with the shopkeeper. I gave this dream to you to show that you will have more work to do. I am the Museum Owner in your dream. I will work through you to curate souls.”

Me: “For display?”

Jesus: “The dream I gave you did not mean you collect souls for display. You need to understand that you are like a Vessel. I pour into you and, in turn, you will exhibit awesome deeds. In your dream, you are young and healthy and your presence, My Glory, will bring others to seek Me. There, I will be found by them.

“You will gather the hearts of all those I call to you. I will then bring them Home, along with My angel armies. You will then be with Me to announce My coming when all come to where I am from the four corners of the Earth.”

Me: “Oh Lord, You are such a Great Mystery!”

Jesus: “Do not worry as I am with you. As you love your children and have a close relationship, so to do I, but an even greater one. I appointed you as the curator to your children and they will be with Me always. So too am I close to you. I love you and I will care for you in all things. I am your Provider, Healer, Comforter, Friend and much more.

“I still remember you as a toddler as well, a time when you were in all your wonderment. I remember every detail and nothing is lost. Be encouraged today. Do not be afraid or mournful over times, seasons and events that seem to pass quickly. All these things must occur to prepare the fields of the Earth for the planting of My Splendor.”

Me: “When will this be?”

Jesus: “The Greatest Harvest the world has ever known is soon to begin. My angel armies are on standby. I prepare the regiments of My chosen reservists. The horns will sound and the harvesting will commence.”

Me: “Thank You, Lord!”

Jesus: “Rejoice and pray, Erin. This will soon be a time and times like no other in ‘His’-story!”

Dream over.

642 – Fake Ballots Replaced with True Ballots

Received on Tuesday, October 25, 2022

Communion

Dear Father,

You are wonderful! I love You so much. This year is like no other year before it. It feels ominous. We have only two months left in 2022, but it feels like huge changes are coming to the world. We have had a very rainy year and our basement needs repairs. However, we have no idea when any workers will come. More rains are forecast.

My oldest son was recently ghosted by a girl who gave him her phone number. My daughter is working long hours at her new job. My husband's son is isolating himself in the basement. This is typical as he is a bit of a loner and always has been. My husband's daughter is happy, as is my youngest son. I had a vivid dream last night...

Sub-Dream 1 "Fake Ballots replaced with True Ballots " begins...

Angel Michael: Loudly. "It is time!"

I then saw the back of a Rabbi. He was wearing a white and blue cover. I then saw a glorious shofar rise up against a blue sky. The sound was unlike any other. I then saw buildings topple like dominoes.

Different angel: Loudly. "Warn the children to not eat the candy!"

I then heard the wailing rush of wind as loud as a freight train. The shofar sounded again. I saw freight trucks with ballot boxes sending thousands out ahead of the elections to areas all over the country. The shofar then trumpeted for a third time. I then saw the angels carrying these boxes away and putting in place boxes of truth. I heard wailing and screaming so frightening that it was as if hell had opened.

Woman: Wailing. "Who will abort my child? I need to be free. Who will take this growth?"

She began to roll around on the ground in order to try and kill her unborn baby. There were other people running and screaming up and down the streets. I saw an angel of the Lord remove the baby from the crazy woman's womb and bring it home.

Different woman: Crying out. "We will dash your children upon the rocks and you will mourn. We will force you into prison and there you will not be safe. We will pay you back!"

These people had plunged themselves into darkness. An event occurred that manifested their demons. They were unable to hide their evil. They were exposed. Then there was silence that fell over the land.

Then the shofar blasted for the fourth time. I then saw a type of reversal of all that had been destroyed, dismantled, toppled or rejected. All was completely changed in the matter of minutes. I heard great cheering and tears of joy. There was music, festivities, safety and peace.

Sub-Dream 1 over.

Me: "Oh Father, this was such a vivid dream. Thank You for this!"

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "Erin, I am here and I am with you. Do not worry. I know you are anxious and I understand. What you are experiencing is like labor or the anticipation of the due date of a delivery. Well, you are experiencing the birth pains of the beginning of a great move of Heaven upon Earth. In order to rebuild what has been torn down often requires that debris must be removed first. The sight needs to be levelled so the foundations are laid properly. Now, there were four trumpet sounds, but not in the normal order:

- The first shofar blast: This was to sound that trouble had come; trouble in the form of judgment and destruction of all that is contrary to God. This involves the fracturing of those things that were concrete, unmovable and unshakable. These had become towers not of My building. This was the sound of the warning of levelling, of judgment.
- The second shofar blast: This was to sound that changes had come. These changes came with wailing as many don't like change. The old is cast down. Darkness protests, but then flees.
- The third shofar blast: This was to sound that Heaven would now be visible upon the Earth through My army. This army will bring healing, restoration and reversals. Great miracles will be experienced. The wicked were then put on notice that they had judgment waiting them. All their wrongs were now to be broadcast.

- The fourth shofar blast: Bringing restoration means celebrations and great praises to God. There is a celebration in preparations of the ushering in of the King.

Me: "Oh Lord, please let this be soon."

Jesus: "Do not worry. Remember that I am God over all things and I know the plans of both the wicked and the righteous. I know what is planned for evil against the good. I promise that I will not delay concerning My children and those I have called. Now please take courage and trust Me with the perfect plan."

Me: "Yes, Lord."

Jesus: "Now, I know it seems like you are under spiritual attacks right now, but I allow these for several reasons. When all seems darkest, I then move and do a great work. In all your troubles, I will provide a great way. Do not worry. I will grant you an increase. I will grant you a release of your burdens and debts. I will heal you and your household as I have promised. I am with you."

Me: "Lord, this world is so very painful. It is very difficult going places now with so much uncertainty. It seems more and more that people are mean. The moral decay is so widespread now. My children experience this and it is so common. The enemy never stops."

Jesus: "This is because evil knows that God is going to make all things new. There will be a day when evil rises and, just as Heaven appeared upon the Earth then was removed, so too shall it be after, during the Great Tribulation, when hell is visible upon the Earth and all its offerings do not satisfy. The wicked who remain will ask for death and not find it. However, this is in a while.

"Before this, Heaven is visible for all to see as My Glory, the Glory of God, comes upon the Earth. It is a great time of healing and reconciliation. Then when all those saints are gathered as one body, I, along with My angels, will remove all those who chose Heaven and believe I came to save them. Then they will be collected and caught up into Heaven where every eye will see My Bride and know that I am God.

"There will be great distress of nations and great darkness will be over the land. The veil will be lifted and that which was unseen will be seen and many will die from heart failure. There will be great calamity on that Great and Terrible Day of the Lord.

"Now, pray for those who do not know Me as they know not of truth. Do this so that, when miracles come and the harvest begins, they will soften and turn to Me. However, those who enjoy hate and relish in this state of decay will hide until all things of Heaven are removed.

"Erin, I have shown you the water caskets in the prisons of the sea for those who are reserved until they repent or go to eternal judgment. These you can barely speak of and it is something you cannot imagine for anyone. However, understand that I am God over all and I see the wicked done in secret to the innocent children and even infants. There is judgment on Earth as it is in Heaven and all is fair.

"Now, when you become angry at injustice against the innocent children and even the elderly, remember that the sons of perdition, the army of hell, will not prevail over My justice. They have no chance over Michael and his multitudes alone. Nor will they succeed against My Elect, those who are like the sons of Jacob.

"Now, do not worry about all these things you see now that appear to convey that evil is winning. I can assure you that My justice will be swift. In the blink of an eye, you will see no more of the wicked succeeding in their plans. The hour is late. Pray for the protection of the innocent against the wicked. There is a scheme of great evil set out against the nation I love. Whoever removes Me, I will remove."

Me: "Lord, protect the children against poisonous drugs disguised as candy meant to kill the masses by genocide. Is this at Halloween, Lord? Please protect them."

Jesus: "Do not worry. I have the keys to life and death."

Me: "Oh Lord, please help soon."

Jesus: "I will. Your children need not worry. I am about to fulfill My promises and all their plans and prayers will succeed. However, I will not let the enemy trick them into a trap. I have promised you. Hang on just a bit longer. I have a great plan for you. While I know you become angry and disappointed with yourself, I am not angry at you. I love you. Don't believe the lies of the enemy who constantly sends daggers of deceit, lies and discouragement."

Me: "Oh Lord, what can we do?"

Jesus: "There is nothing to do except pray. Pray over all things, whether it is internal, external or topical."

Me: "Please protect us!"

Jesus: "Do not worry as I am with you. I am God over all things. I see. I am about to do something so unbelievable that I will leave you with unspeakable joy."

Me: "Lord, I am ready!"

Jesus: "Good then! I am with you. Do not worry. I have you and your family. I have your Nest friends."

Dream over.

643 – The Lord Alone is our Strength

Received on Sunday, October 30, 2022

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day! Thank You for granting me a beautiful daughter 21 years ago today. As I write this, it is the exact time of her birth at Good Samaritan Hospital in Portland OR. It has been a fulfilling journey to have her continuously on this journey with me. She was only 10 when these dreams began. I wished that I had been a stay-at-home fulltime mom. Working meant I had very busy evenings.

My brain tumor appointment on Thursday, October 27, 2022 was so very odd. This particular doctor is usually very friendly. However, he was cold this time. He told me there was nothing more they could do for me and closed the medical file on me as a patient. I am pretty sure that this kind of care, or lack thereof, is increasingly common these days with people my age (I am now almost 60 years old).

Workers finally came to fix the problems outside our house that were causing our flooding inside our house. They found the PVC drainage pipe and cut away a four-foot section. We could see from this section that tree roots and silt had filled the drainage pipes. The water had nowhere to go. We had to call in a septic operator to remove all the debris. It was an expensive day ($2300+), but a necessary day to stop our flooding.

Other things have happened as well. We have a mouse in the house and we are trying to trap him in a live trap. I then met my friend, who is actually an enemy, for what I believe is the last time. I felt she was secretly cursing me.

However, what excites me most is that I can finally put my stuff away again as the flooding problem has now been solved. As for my older son, he is still down because of the young lady he asked out has still been ghosting him. He no longer texts her:

Son: "Mom, I tithe and I pray. I worship God. Why won't He answer my prayers?"

Me: "Because God knows things about your situation that you don't. He loves you and He is caring for your heart. This was not the girl God has chosen for you. It is better to know this now than later."

Son: "But she didn't even give me a chance to know me. We didn't have any conversation. This is cruel. Why give me her phone number at all?"

Me: "Because the enemy is clever. While you had prepared yourself for a yes answer or a no answer, you were unprepared for a yes and then being ghosted. This has been brutal for you. Perhaps God is allowing this so that you toughen up a bit. God is helping you to guard your heart as it is the well spring of life."

Satan is the deceiver. He can open fake doors and fake opportunities. While he provides options, none are for your benefit. Father, please keep my faith strong. I am anxious and afraid mixed with discouragement. Father, this is Your war. I need a spiritual breakthrough. I need protection from Satan and his many minions.

Me: "Oh Lord, please provide the free-flowing Holy Water that only You can provide. Please, Father, help me. Please help all of us!"

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "Erin, I am here and I am with you. I am in you and I have never left you. I will not abandon you. I am here. You are tired and in need of the spiritual refreshment only I can give. Now, the story of Abraham and Hagar is a good lesson. Why?"

Me: "Because he didn't wait on You, Lord?"

Jesus: "No. It is because Abraham moved on his own understanding. He was self-sufficient and went his own way based on his conditioning. See, I am God over all things. I see all things as I am the all-seeing God. Just because you are given an answer you might not like doesn't mean that I have removed My favor.

"On the contrary, it means I have more information than you do. I know the current state, as well as the future state. This means those who trust in Me fully and obey My instructions will experience a great increase in wisdom, knowledge, strength and endurance, as well as blessings. Now, what have you learned from this week?"

Me: "It is difficult to see someone hurt one of our children. It is particularly hard to not step in when our special needs sons get themselves in a predicament. They can be taken advantage of, so we pick our battles and step in when necessary. They often believe what they hear, especially when they are spoken to by numerous people at the exact same time. This happened with both of my sons at their respective workplaces."

Jesus: "They may not be as naïve as you think. Your younger son said he had a feeling something was wrong here. That was My Spirit in him. He is just trying to understand how to call upon My Name. I strengthened him and My Voice was strong in him. Now, I will deal with those who deceived him. While this was a difficult lesson, it is one that I will turn into good.

"Your younger son has changed his ways and works very hard. Do not worry, Erin, as the same is true for your older son. He was deceived, but I have a lesson in this.

"As for your wicked female 'friend', I have moved her out of your country. She serves the gods of this world and she is against you. She says one thing with her lips before you in praise and then ten curses behind you in rage. This will not go well for her.

"Now, the man who repaired your pipes is an ethical man. He is good. There will be no more water in your basement during the upcoming seasons. Do not worry as I have now removed the root cause."

Me: "Thank You, Lord. Praise You for clearing this up. The job went faster as the expected large rocks were non-existent. You had told me that you would remove the rocks for when this man dug and replace them once it was finished. I thank You for this miracle. Please grant me strength to clean up and restore our home so there is peace."

Jesus: "I am with you. The enemy presents doors and gives you options. It initially seems all good. However, these are destructive and a way to divert away from the blessings I have in store for you. You are experiencing great resistance in the world right now as you begin to see the great separation.

"During this time, it is important not to give what is holy to dogs nor cast your pearls before swine lest they trample them under their feet and turn and tear you into pieces (Matthew 7:6). During these days, it will do you no good to make a case for the Kingdom of Righteousness, My free gift of salvation, to this unbelieving generation. My Message is repulsive to those who stand on a distant shore separated by tumultuous waves."

Me: "I see. So, we won't be able to fully testify to your goodness with ready and willing hearts until You call us into Your Holy Army after the Transformation?"

Jesus: "Yes. Right now, it will only be met with great opposition and angry displays."

Me: "Yes, Lord. This last week, I have been met with angry people. They are aggressive and full of hate."

Jesus: "This is because the demons are increasingly emboldened. This is because they know time is not on their side. They also know that the Kingdom of Heaven is against them. Their only hope is to impact the current house and destroy it to the point that the true Owner of that house feels unable to fix it, understand?"

Me: "I think so. By houses, do you mean the bodies of lost souls who are currently occupied by demons?"

Jesus: "Correct. This is why you have seen public displays of evil. This is also why you feel hopeless. These entities are stirred up when you are near them because I am in you and I am with you."

Me: "Yes. There is no eye contact. They seem very agitated."

Jesus: "Erin, the people have been separated. This means that the fields are now ripe for the harvest."

Me: "Oh Lord, what kind of harvest?"

Jesus: "You must trust in God, Erin. I hold the keys to life and death."

Me: "Lord, is All Saints Day 'The Day'? Halloween is a holiday based on the midpoint between the fall equinox and the winter solstice. At times in history when sickness and death were more widespread, All Saints Day was a day to celebrate the respected saints. These saints were called the hallows who were celebrated.

"The night before was known as the eve of all-hallows. All hallows eve equates to Halloween. According to lore, the eve of All Saints Day became a time when evil spirits would be loosed to destroy things, but especially harvested crops or crops about to be harvested. Lord, it seems to me like this could be 'The Great Day'?"

Jesus: "Well, it will certainly be 'a day'."

Me: "Okay, Lord, my trust remains in Your perfect plan."

Jesus: "This is good."

Me: "Lord, could You strengthen us and keep us from evil, especially for our children? Things are coming against us constantly. I am tired. I still feel a bit sick as well. My husband and I are still struggling with coughing and breathing. I also have some exhaustion.

"Both of us have had horrible dreams. I have had dreams about the emptiness and despair left here apart from You. In my dreams, I am young. Those who I once knew no longer recognize me. It has been brutal. The landscape has changed and food is scarce. It is a dystopian landscape, dark and grey."

Jesus: "Do not worry, Erin. The dreams I send you are meant to show you that the times of the end are advancing. The enemy of this world desires to strip the people of all wealth and remove all sense of independence and self-worth. They want to strip all of mankind of all they are. They even want to remove their genders. They remove truth and replace truth with one voice, the voice of the liar.

"When a man is stripped of all of himself, then there is no hope remaining. This is when all need a Savior. Understand though that this is a war between Satan and God and all that God has created and found good. All that is dedicated to God on Earth is in the crosshairs of destruction by the enemy. All that God has built is being dismantled. While the enemy now believes he is winning, he is not.

"He didn't win the battle at the tree nor at the Cross. He will not succeed. Do not worry. He is under the attitude of 'go big or go home'. However, his home is not comfortable. You are not to worry as I am God over all things. I am with you. You are concerned because you see visible manifestations. For now, you are being told to stand down. Rejoice as I will provide for you. I love you."

Me: "Thank You, Lord. I love You too!"

Note: I then asked the Lord for a short birthday Word for my daughter. He addresses her directly and this was not going to be included with this dream as a result. However, at the end, He indicates that His promises for my daughter are also for all in our family and for all of those here on the Nest.

Jesus: "You have expectations in those around you that most are unaware of. While people will fail you, I never will. I am with you. Try instead to find simple joy in the small matters. Release your desires to Me and I will grant you the desires of your heart. Get much needed rest as the distress of the nations is soon to come. However, you are not to worry as I will strengthen you and prepare you beyond worldly reason.

"Only engage with the wicked as I call you to. Do not veer off of this. When you question what you should do and want to move forward, wait on Me instead. When I well up in you, you will then go forward. Wait until this happens. I will be in you and I will move through you. I will bless you, protect you and keep you. Do not be afraid as I am with you. I have not forgotten My promises to you."

Me: "Thank You, Lord. My daughter will love this."

Jesus: "Yes, but this will also apply to all of those I have called. Share this with the Nest."

Me: "I will."

Dream over.

644 – The Wicked Will Soon Be Crushed

Dear Father,

I love You! You are worthy to be praised by all who dwell upon the Earth. You are strong and mighty. You are rich in love for your children. The news is disheartening. Lies are now so common. People we once believed to be truthful now lie continuously without missing a step. Even when tripped up and clearly caught, they swear by their words. There is no shame anymore.

When I was a child, my mom taught us that telling the truth was easier than to tell a lie. This is because lies are more difficult to maintain and keep straight. One thing I taught my children is this... when you admit to a wrongdoing or come clean, the enemy instantly loses power over you. Telling the truth takes out the guesswork and then leaves no doubts. The person confessing based on truth is set free.

While it doesn't mean the recipient won't be angry by the truth you tell, at least you are set free from the stronghold of lies to cover up wrong actions. Now I try to remain quiet and careful, yielding to God's voice in wisdom, before blurting out anything that could hurt someone else unnecessarily. I have been around people like this and the enemy clearly uses them to ruin your day.

Father, when I hear certain words, my body stiffens up. The perpetrator usually starts with something similar to 'Erin, I need to be honest with you, in Christ's love of course.' Then I am hit with something I am doing that they believe I need help with or advice. This is usually unsolicited. What does 'in Jesus' love' even mean to these people? Jesus is perfect in all His ways. God is perfect.

Both our Father, God, and our Savior, Jesus, are higher in their ways than we are. This applies to all things. They see the beginning from the end and the end from the beginning. So, how exactly would God work concerning telling us the hard truth on a matter? Well, He is no respecter of our personal ambitions if these are not part of His perfect plan. He also operates in the positive fruits of the spirit concerning His children.

Make no mistake, He will rebuke us and harshly if necessary so we lack no good thing. This is done in the great love of a Father for His children. This being said, there is a 100% chance that God had sent several warnings to turn around if we were heading the wrong way. He is faithful. Although I have spent years being refined in the fires of affliction, I know Jesus loves me. This I can be 100% certain of.

He has pursued me until my heart was capture by Him. I pray and wait on the Lord. I love You, Father. There is no Father like You. You are gentle with me when those in the world are harsh. It has taken many years to instruct my autistic sons to be careful about speaking the truth to someone in a harsh tone. If you don't like something they are wearing, it is not your job to tell them. This would hurt their feelings and hurt your friendship. Be careful how you word things to others in truth. When you don't know how to say something, it is better to say nothing.

Father, last night, I spent time with a friend who has forgotten You completely. I listened to her speak. I had much to say. However, each time I began to speak, You said 'No – not now! Stand down!' Well, that is exactly what I did. I left so very sad that she was so far from You. I won't see her again for many years. Her moving was unforeseen and I know You did this. Father, You are such a mystery.

Lord, thank You so much for clearing up our flooding. Thank You for doing all You have promised. This week, we are preparing for the winter. We are cleaning out closets and donating coats and unwanted items. It feels fantastic, but it is a large undertaking. We plan to pull out our Christmas decorations next week. I had a vivid dream last night.

Sub-Dream 1 "Ugly Grey Green Victorian Home" begins...

I was now young again (Transformed) and was visiting a place I have never been. I was looking for an old design client. I worked on both their home and their dental building. I was travelling with my daughter over a massive body of water. We both were relying on the 'wind of God' to take us across the park. We wanted to land on a grassy park-like setting of this distant city.

We were each in the seat of our own separate gliders. At one point, I decided to adjust my sitting position. This caused the glider to suddenly go a different direction over a large waterfall. My daughter yelled at me to correct my course. I used my lefthand to glide around and back on track. It was frightening, but we made it.

At one point, we were gliding over rock croppings that were grey gravel with large green veins that looked like tears. While we landed safely, we had to dodge power lines to do so. When we arrived, the building my client had his dental practice was a huge downgrade. It was a large Victorian home painted grey green. The inside walls, floors and furniture were also the same outdated grey green.

My client had several workers and they all wore grey green from hardhats to shoes. It was so strange. A twin of my client greeted me and tried to impersonate His brother. However, I knew it was his twin when he couldn't answer any of my questions that he should have been able to answer. My client then came out and was glad to see me.

Sub-Dream 1 over.

As I was writing this, the room became foggy around me. I must have drifted off into a deep sleep for only about ten minutes. I opened my eyes and the fog was present. I took off my reading glasses and cleaned them. Within about three minutes, the room was clear again. Father, what happened? Was that You?

There are several elections all over the world right now and these are important. Some have been corrupted. Father, please set things right. Please send angels to protect voting so all is transparent and true. Father, You hate evil.

Proverbs 29:12: "If a ruler listens to falsehoods, all his officials will be wicked."

Proverbs 16:12: "It is an abomination for kings to do evil for the throne is established by righteousness."

Romans 13:4 (which seems to be about the Lord's Army): "For he is God's servant for your good. But if you do wrong, be afraid, for he does not bear the sword in vain. For he is the servant of God, an avenger who carries out God's wrath on the wrongdoer."

Me: "Father, please, I beg of You... do not allow evil to win over Your people."

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "Erin, I am here and I am with you. I have shown you what is good and true. I know the wicked and their schemes. For ten years, ten leaders accelerated their plans to destroy My people. However, the groundwork had begun years before this. The key word is 'accelerated'. If you look at the world 100 years ago, you were given a microevent of a genocide against the Jewish people.

"Without this, Israel would never have been reestablished as a nation. A wicked leader (Hitler) was raised up and his government of corruption set out a wicked plan. It started with truth. It was controlled, removed and replaced with false truth over time. This corrupted truth was then weaponized to annihilate the Jewish people. In the cover of darkness and deception, millions were secretly killed.

"However, this was just a test run because this particular evil (Nazism) was to be defeated. This time, they are planning to overthrow all governments that stand in their way. They plan to destroy many people. Their goals are lofty and billions of people are their targets. Just as Israel was reestablished, so too will Babylon fall and the new Israel be reestablished.

"As I hear the prayer and the cries of My people, I will not remain silent. I will humble the nations and scatter the wicked. Invaders will be sent home in an instant. Corruption in every form will be consumed and exposed by My flame of truth. I will establish the Kingdom of God and My righteousness and evil will be subdued under My feet.

"Now, you must trust in Me and My plans. Remember that I am the Keyholder of life and death and I am in charge of this, understand? Even though the plans of the wicked have been accelerated, take comfort and do not fear as I am about to halt them quickly. I care about My people.

"As you saw with your friend, her heart was once pure and her intentions good. However, corruption of the heart is caused by justifying sin in their actions. Spiritual death in great numbers have swept the nations, especially the nations who were dedicated to the Kingdom of God and My Righteousness.

"Now, do not worry as I will cover you with My feathers. I will shelter you with My wings. This is so you will not be afraid of the terrors by night nor the arrow that flies in the day. I am God and I do not dread the disease that stalks the darkness nor the disaster that strikes at midday.

"Though 1,000 fall at your side, though 10,000 are dying around you, these evils will not touch you. I will strengthen you. Since I am your refuge and your shelter, no evil will overcome you. No plague will come to your home. Erin, I have ordered My angel army to protect you wherever you go.

"They will hold you up with their hands so you won't even hurt your foot on a stone. You will trample upon lions and cobras. You will crush fierce lions and serpents under your feet. I am here with you. I will rescue you and protect you. When you call upon My name, I will immediately answer.

"I will be with you. I have been and I will always be with you. Now be still and remember that God is within her. She will not fall. God will help her at the break of day. I love you. I first chose you. You then turned and found Me. However, I first called you. I created you for such a time as this. Remember that I have a great plan. It will be a Great and Terrible Day."

Me: "Lord, please hurry. We are scared and tired. I can't imagine being here and in this current body when troubles fall and darkness comes."

Jesus: "I know. However, do not worry. I am with you. My voice is in you. You are loved and I won't delay in doing good for My people."

Me: "I love You, Lord."

Jesus: "This is good, Erin, for I loved you first."

Me: "I am glad, Lord. You make my heart glad."

Jesus: "Then this is good to establish... A Great Day!"

Dream over.

645 – God’s Army Vastly Outnumbers the Enemy

Received on Saturday, November 5, 2022

Communion

Dear Father,

I am so thankful to You that You see all things, even in our dreams, and You are in control of it all. I am thankful You are our loving Father, a Father who truly delights us in love... well, at least those who follow You. Thank You for all You do. It is a miracle.

I was released from a stronghold of the enemy today, one that I didn't fully realize was upon me. I feel alive and joyful. Thank You. Bless You, Father, and praise Your Name in all of the Earth. Great are Your marvelous works. You have delivered Your people from death. I had a very disturbing dream last night...

Sub-Dream 1 “The throne of the dog god” begins...

I saw God's people doing regular activities in their daily lives. These were part of His Creation and were upon the Earth in many different cultures. While I then saw a time of relative peace, I could not tell the years. I knew that this was the past, not the present. I saw everything from church pews and the 4th of July. I saw celebrations with families all over the Earth. I saw a massive population of Christians and Jews worshipping the God who is over all the Universe.

I then saw a throne room below the Earth at a type of gateway passage in Egypt. Underneath this passage was a gathering of chief princes. However, I then noticed that there was one over all of them. They were gathering in rank and file. I then saw a gateway at the end of a dark passage. I then heard a voice. It was quite frightening and in a foreign tongue. Though it sounded Arabic, I knew he said, 'Now is the time!'

I then saw angels of God on the Earth near the gateway. One was Michael and his army. As the army of darkness ascended up the passage, the angels of God dictated who and when the various orders were allowed to come into the Earth. There were arguments between the evil chief princes. The one over all of them was particularly frightening.

The leader's skin was dark charcoal in color, but also looked like black steel or some other metal. His face looked like a dog's face, complete with a long snout and vicious teeth. He had expensive looking garments of gold. This gold was also woven into a type of headcover. The headcover had two cutouts for its ears. His ears stood up straight like a Doberman Pinscher.

His eyes were yellow and black and changed to lime green and black and back again. He held a scale for weighing. He placed the scales at the entrance of the gateway. He then picked up his rod and was handed an orb. While the orb looked heavy, he effortlessly held it in his right hand.

He turned it and presented it with a cross on the top. As soon as he did, Michael yelled at the prince. When he did, the strength of Michael's anger melted the cross off of the orb. They then came to some sort of agreement by which Michael and his army stood by the commands of God and His instructions. God's army did not negotiate. The enemy either agreed with the conditions of release or the gate closed to them.

I then saw the dog man become very angry. He turned and went through the passage. I then saw him return with a legion of demons. These demons would be sent out over various regions. These were to travel on Earth in a spiritual state, not a physical state. He then gathered six princes, as well as himself, and agreed to scatter over nations with three princes who were already over the Earth. What came up next was quite frightening. Many of these princes also had wicked wives and they looked scary.

Michael then gave them decrees that they had to adhere to. These conditions were mandatory before each prince of the underworld was released. I then saw MANY MILLIONS of God's angels assigned over the area. Quite simply, there were too many to count. God's angels were there to ensure that the decrees of God would be obeyed. I then saw the chief 'dog' prince in the dark throne room.

He was not allowed to come out in a physical sense. However, his spirit, his wife's spirit and two others, along with their wives (six altogether), went out to find the appointed earthly Vessels. I then saw God's archangels gather and appoint several armies over these extremely evil spirits.

While their bodies remained below the ground, their spirits were able to move into humans. I then saw this doglike prince and his wife remain physically where they were as keepers of the gateway passage. However, their spirits and their armies were able to go out in their appointed region to cause great strife, bitterness, wars and famines.

I also saw this entity send his army to destroy fair elections by using unbalanced measures. This doglike prince was somehow overseeing this. However, it should be stressed that this prince was not omnipresent. He is not. He was able to do this simply because he is ruler over principalities, powers and processes.

As these princes spread out across the Earth, so too did the massive angelic army of God. Anytime one of the evil entities pulled rank or stepped outside the perimeters that Michael had set forth by God's command, they automatically became weaker in their abilities and unable to perform their agendas. God's angels were easily double in size of the enemy's angels and effectively prevented their very wicked agendas.

Sub-Dream 1 over.

Me: "Father, this was such a clear and frightening dream. I like the dreams about Heaven much more!"

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "Erin, I am here and I am with you. I am also in you and I walk beside you in all you do. Now, you were given this dream so you understand the powers of darkness and the magnitude of what is at stake here. These are the rulers of darkness, rulers who are one day to come into fullness of power upon the Earth. Right now, they are limited, but their evil was allowed to increase.

"Remember this though... Michael and his army do not share the plans I have (with others) as directed by God for His glory and purposes. Remember also... I have the keys to death and Hades. Erin, I have the final Word. While the enemy doesn't like you, he really hates Me. The enemy hates anyone whose heart is dedicated to God. This is because I am Your Savior."

Me: "Lord, these are frightening. When the veil is lifted, all of these will be visible."

Jesus: "Erin, do not worry. My Bride will be with Me and nothing will touch My Elect. What you are experiencing all around you now is the increase in evil. These are here to gather those souls who have not returned to God and are the children of perdition. I am referring to these who are the spiritually dead.”

Me: “But, Lord, You can still save them.”

Jesus: “My Word is clear. Although I have the power over life and death, those who reject My calls over and over are spiritually dead to Me. They are not children of God. These evil princes are recruiting for their army. However, and more importantly, they are here to destroy and conquer God’s children. They hate My children beyond reason and they have a rage so fierce that it bears no place in God’s Kingdom of Peace and Righteousness.”

Me: “This seems counterintuitive to me. Lord, why not take them all out in an instant and reign over the Earth?”

Jesus: “Oh Erin, while I dearly love you, I am glad you are not in control of this. There has been a great plan of God from the beginning and no schemes of man or plan from hell will prevail against Me.

“Now, why were you given this dream? It is simply because you have often wondered about these princes and principalities over your regions you live as each area has its own sense of challenges and troubles. You have seen increases in demonic activities. People have grown cold and now have very little positive fruits on display.

“When Satan fell like lightning, he fell over Egypt. This was the chief king of evil and still is today. In his kingdom, he controls princes and their partners, as well as rank and file demons and spirits. You are unable to see them unless they manifest in willing vessels subject to sin.”

Me: “Lord, I have recognized a certain spirit in distant family members, church friends and even what I thought were good friends. There is a pattern of behavior that is very common... jealousy, covetousness, gossip, lust, deviant sexual desires and general rebellion.”

Jesus: “Remember that demons need to possess. If they are not possessing, they are more like spirits. They like hosts as then they have dominion over a house. They have a temple in which they weaponize against others. Certain sins can even increase the occupants of the temple it lives in. Evil spirits wander and inflict for lack of a host. There are varying degrees of each one.

“Remember also that these have origins from Heaven and still remain organized and in rank and file. Still, never forget that the army of Heaven is much greater in mass of strength, power and number. Rest at ease knowing that My Kingdom is over you and has a long history with these princes, principalities and powers. Now, let Me ask you this... do I seem nervous at all about any of this?"

Me: Laughing. "Oh no, Lord, not at all. You bring me comfort. I am relieved by Your calm demeanor."

Jesus: "Good. Then understand this... you are My Vessel. I will fill you with Living Water. My power and glory will flow through you freely because I am in you. There is only one of Me needed. Only Me. Legion dwells in willing vessels prone to sin as evil of all kinds flows through its vacant spaces. However, you and those I have called will have no part of them. I will be the One occupying each of you and you will have no fear of the enemy's dominion.

"Rejoice, Erin, as I am in control over all you see. Many of these public figures are falling. I see in advance the evil that is planned. I know. Erin, evil does not win. I have not begun to show that I am still God and I am here to save the lost. There will soon be a wave of revival sweeping across the land unlike anything the world has ever known. This will be a wave unlike any other. Rejoice and pray as I am the God of the impossible. I will not delay in doing good. I love you and I am with you."

Me: "I love You, Lord! Please keep evil far from me and our household, as well as our Nest and their households. Please look after us Sparrows!"

Jesus: "This is a good prayer! I will. Even if troubles loom or manifest, do not worry as I will deliver you and those whom I called from all these afflictions. Great will be your delight and joy. Now, enjoy this beautiful day I have made for you."

646 – The USA Midterm Elections Have Arrived

Received on Tuesday, November 8, 2022

Communion

Dear Father,

I am thankful for Your divine grace and mercy! I am thankful for Your power, strength and majesty. I am thankful You are over all things and You are our Father, Creator and Friend. My husband and I were at the store yesterday and a little baby only eight months old just lit up and smiled at us. He became so excited every time and he would kick his feet and squeal in delight. Oh Father, how You love these little ones.

What a beautiful love You have for us. As we get older, we become so serious. Many of us have been so damaged by the world or so hopeless, we all now miss that child-like excitement over what the world offers. However, Father, I am excited when I see You move. I am happy, joyful and so hopeful. I think to myself when I witness evil and hear lies, 'oh yeah, enjoy this now because, when my Dad rises up, He'll chase you down and pummel that grin right off of your face!'

Well, our Father in Heaven, we need that miracle now. Only a handful of corrupt people have risen up against the world population and only You can stop them. I feel that this USA election is so critical that it will mean extremists with an anti-God agenda will take over. Oh Father, we stand to lose everything. Please step in and turn all things around. In Scripture, it is clear about those who bear false witness against God's people.

The last several books of the Bible, including Hebrews, James, 1 & 2 Peter, 1 & 2 John and Jude deal with many of these types of issues. The Word of God is a treasure, a pure blessing. The Word gives us all we need as a road map to our destination. We truly are able to find our way through the darkest day. I am so thankful, Father, that You did not abandon us here. Instead, You have been with us throughout these battles.

Last night, I woke up at about 4:45am. The moon was very bright in the sky. It was full and the sky extremely clear. The wind was very loud. I then remembered there was supposed to be an eclipse. I decided to wait and watch it. It felt like an ominous sign from the Lord to the Earth. What happens on this election day will seal the fate of this nation once dedicated to God.

Father, there are so many of Your Prayer Warriors pleading today and bringing petitions up to Your Throne Room. Please don't forget about Your people. Remember the little children. Don't forget all of us with child-like faith and wonder. Please rise up and send revival. Please help us. Please save the lost from spiritual death. Father, You are my Creator and Physician. You have the final Word. You determine all that is lost or won.

Me: "I love You! Please be the God of Miracles. Please don't allow corruption to prevail. Please show Your might. No more harbingers are needed. We just need help in the form of miracles from Heaven."

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "Erin, I am here and I am with you. I see the plots in secret. I know the lofty plans of the wicked. If you knew all that is in place for destruction against the children of God by wicked rulers and their hosts, you would live in a constant state of fear. Now though you can see the wicked rulers and their armies on full display. Their wickedness is not hidden.

"Now, I want you to understand this, Erin. I am God and I am over all things. I know the wait has been difficult and things have been so discouraging from your sightline. However, look to the hills. Who is there? My army of angels surround you. They are fully dressed for battle and are mounted on swift steeds.

"Now, the wicked accuse you of the very things they do. They make declarations in fear about the very decrees they plan to make against you. They have made known their plans by their lips. Their wickedness knows no bounds. For the sake of My Holy Name, which has been profaned amongst the nations, I will be vindicated and, through the vindication of My Holy Name, then you will be bonded and presented as Mine.

"All will see My glory fall upon the nations. The wicked will flee and those with cursed lips will declare that I am holy and I am the Lord God. I am about to cleanse the nations with My outpouring of water, water that is both holy and pure. I will consecrate the lands and prepare the dry ground for the planting of My splendor. I will remove the hearts of stone, along with the idols of uncleanness throughout the nations.

"I will put My Spirit within you and, through you, I will pour out My Living Water. No more will there be a famine in the land. Great will be My abundance of peace. Your trees will produce fruit and great will be your joy. I will reveal truth to those who now choose to disregard it. As a reflection in the mirror reveals the outward appearance, this I will use to show the inward state of a man, his evil intentions and deeds.

"He will be given a choice to repent and change or go through the trials of the coming tribulation. I am the God of grace and mercy and I will not share My Name with any other gods made by the hands of man. When I reveal My holiness and righteousness, the wicked will all sit in loathsomeness. Their iniquity will be an abomination to those who I have called to administer My outpouring of miracles.

"These will be as bright as the noonday sun. However, those with evil in their hearts will run to search for the relief of darkness but will not find it. They will be exposed for all to see. Their tongues will confess to their many plots against God's children. I am the God who will rebuild the barren cities. The land that is desolate shall be tilled and prepared for the planting of My splendor.

"They will say, 'this desolate land is now like the Garden of Eden.' The dark and desolate cities will be rebuilt to be better than when they were first built. They will be inhabited. All the nations will know that I am God. I have spoken and I will do this. I have not forgotten My promises."

Me: "I love You, Lord. Thank You! Thank You! No matter what happens today, whether good or bad, I trust in Your plan in all things. Your people love You. Our children love You. Blessed by Your Holy Name!"

Dream over.

647 – A Divine Rescue Coming Up

Received on Saturday, November 12, 2022

Communion

Dear Father,

You are our God in the midst of all things! You are our God over all the Earth. You are our God over all the Heavens. There is no god like You. Nothing compares to You. Thank You for keeping us safe as these battles all around us are closing in. For the first time in many years, I have been afraid. I try not to though as this only gives power to the enemy and his plots.

For all these years, You have shown me what You have prepared for Your people in our eternal Home. It is so beautiful. It is a grand reward for all of our troubles here. I am so thankful with such deep gratitude and hope for a future with You, a future away from what has come here and what is soon to be.

Your Spirit is upon me now in greater strength. However, I am still not called by You to move forward until the fullness of Your Spirit and Glory falls upon the nations. Oh Father, we as a people are so limited, so unaware, so in need of a Shepherd. The sheeple are lost without a divine rescue. All the harbingers You gave never turned back the people.

This is because evil came upon the land and shut down churches, opened prisons and released the wicked and welcomed all foreigners to invade the land once dedicated fully to You. Where is Your justice, Father? Where is Your help? All of Your people are in shock and disbelief that the pendulum never swung to law, justice, order and peace. Or did it and the truth is being hidden?

How can it be that six million more votes occurred for the Republicans, yet so many of their candidates still lost? How can it be that the swing of that expected pattern seen over a few hundred years did not happen? Well, Father, what happens now? I have interceded at night and in my loud prayer decrees during the day. I do this over and over now. Even so, the balance of power continues to shift to evil.

How can the people know any truth if all truth is veiled from that shown to them? What about all of Your children, Father? What about Your prophets, pastors and grand intercessors who pray day and night? Do You hear our pleas for help? Father, please don't forget us.

We love You. We believe in Your promises. We believe. I don't believe in false hope. I believe in the love of the Father for His children. Father, help! We are all going to be in great trouble if You do not act quickly. The people know not what their evil leaders are doing in secret because they lack knowledge and believe the lies they are told. Oh Lord, where are You?

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

I heard a knock at our front door. It was early morning. I looked out and I could see an angel of the Lord at my doorstep. He was fully illuminated and it was difficult to see who he was. As I opened the door, the angel turned to me and smiled. It was Uriel!

Uriel: "God requests your presence."

He reached out His arm to me and my arm interlocked with his. I haven't moved so quickly as I did with him. He walked me over to our stream, a stream that was now a raging river. This was because of the remains of the storm Nicole. As we stood there at the bank of our stream, a bridge appeared. I could see over to the other side. Tears began to stream down my cheeks. As we walked across the bridge halfway, my legs buckled and I dropped to the ground. I hadn't seen this bridge since the passing of my friend's relative as she journeyed Home.

Uriel: "Get up, Erin. It is okay. It is okay. You are coming for the refreshment of your soul, not for its passing."

Me: "Oh Uriel, my legs are very weak. I am tired. Grief has overtaken me. I am not an angel and I am much older now."

Uriel reached down and picked me up. He then carried me across the bridge. We passed through an atmospheric membrane into Heaven. There were two other angels of the Lord in full glory standing to assist. One whistled and instantly Jesus' horse appeared. Uriel set me up on a type of soft saddle. I was crying as I write this. The two angels with Uriel walked on either side of Jesus' horse. Uriel walked ahead of us.

I cried as I barely remembered this path in Heaven as it has been so long. It was beautiful white aspens with silver, white and light green leaves. The leaves made music. The forest floor was lush with beautiful green moss and a sea of purple flowers that appeared to be illuminated. I could see beautiful birds as well. They were white and round with silver wings and gold tips.

Little animals came out to greet us as we travelled. This too made me cry. The animals seemed curious about my tears and crying. On purpose and as a gift from God, He took me on this journey of remembrance. We rounded a bend. Beside the road, there was a beautiful tree by the pond. The tree was filled with what looked like cardinals, but a Heavenly version. Both the males and the females were singing with joy.

I had never seen this before. We then turned towards the Bulletin Board and the Gateway to God's Throne Room. Uriel helped me down. I was still streaming tears down my cheeks. The other angel handed me an envelope from the Bulletin Board. It had my name engraved on it. There was a seal on the back.

Me: "Should I open this?"

Uriel: "Yes."

I opened it. As I wrote, the air around my devotional chair became cloudy or dim. It was as if there was a light fog in the room. I saw an invitation that reminded me of a past invitation:

You are invited to dine with the King

Dinner is at 7:00

Doors open at 6:00 and close at 6:15

Proper attire please and RSVP

Me: "Uriel, is this a new invitation? I thought I had already RSVPed."

Uriel: "God requests your presence. You can bring this to Him."

He placed salve in my eyes. The door opened and Uriel brought me into the Great Hall of God. There was a thousand-voice choir of Heavenly angels singing:

Heavenly Choir: "Holy Holy Holy is the Lamb, who was and is and is to come. Worthy is the Lamb in power, glory and majesty forever and ever. Holy Holy Holy is He who sits on the Throne."

As Uriel brought me closer into the presence of God, my legs began to buckle. My entire body, every cell, succumbed to the majesty and glory of God. My face was just above the blue sea of living, breathing glass. I stayed there as tears of heaviness and the things of this world dropped to the floor.

I also felt my entire body emit dew on the surface. It was not sweat, but somehow similar. I realized that every cell in my body was recalibrating to be in perfect order befitting the King. It was an unusual sensation, one that I had never experienced before. My body was removing all that I had grown familiar with. God's presence was renewing me. I began to pray.

Me: "Oh Father, our Father, in Heaven, hallowed be Your Name. Please let Your Kingdom come, let Your Will be done, on Earth just as it is in Heaven. Grant us this day our daily bread and please forgive us our trespasses as we forgive those who trespass against us. Lead us not into temptation but deliver us from this evil one. For Thine is the Kingdom, the power and the glory forever. I love You!"

I broke down in tears and weeping. While I tried to stop, I couldn't.

God: "Erin, lift your head. I have not forgotten you. My promises are true. I have sent angels concerning you to guide you in all your steps."

Me: "Father, I... I..."

God: "Speak what is on your heart. Though you know that I am your Father, Creator and Friend, your body still trembles in fear. How can this be?"

Me: "Please forgive me. Father, I want Your Will to be in sync with my will. As of right now, and in terms of this election, though even this is just a tiny tip of a massive iceberg of evil, I am not seeing my will play out at all. Please forgive me for my bold speaking. Though You never promised me a Red Wave, I was still hoping..."

The entire room shook with laughter from the Throne of God. I dropped my head.

God: "Thank you for speaking truth. Either way, in My Court, your tongue confesses always to truth. However, you hesitated due to fear. I did not bring you here to punish you. I brought you here to My Throne Room to refresh your Spirit and strengthen your soul. I placed a new Spirit in you. I have poured out My Spirit into your flesh.

"The enemy of man cannot take that which is not his. As I have shown you, My Lambs are in My care. I have charge over all you see, on Heaven and in the Earth. The enemy knows exactly where all My people are and he sends troubles of many kinds. However, none are successful.

"It is time for you to take your position and understand who you are. Erin, this world is not your home. It is not your inheritance. Heaven is. This is your Home here with Me. Where you are so too is a remnant of Heaven. This is why little ones recognize you and so too do animals, birds and the like. Now, what does this mean?"

Me: "I do not know, Father, because, on Earth, we are poor. Here, we are heirs to the Kingdom and great is our joy. On Earth, we lack all things. Can

You increase our resources during these upcoming battles so that you supply all things we need from here? I now completely understand why David chose the way he did when You gave him the three options:

- Three years of famine.
- Three months of fleeing from the enemy.
- Three days of plague.

"Father, we are experiencing all of these things now. All these words have deeper meaning now. None are good, but at least one begins and ends quickly. Evil is overcoming the people. These wicked spirits have come from the abyss. Please help."

God: "Why do you believe I let this happen?"

Me: "Because the world has fallen?"

God: "No. That is a result of sin. Again, why did I allow this?"

Me: "While my limited ability to answer has come up with a few reasons, only You know the real reason. Why did You allow this, Father?"

God: "I AM. I AM. I have provided all you see around you, both in Heaven and on Earth. I created it. It was created in perfection and in great order."

Me: "Father, You are our Creator and our only God. Why allow sin in the first place? Why not allow Lucifer to just fall to the pit completely and bypass the Garden?"

God: "Hmm, this is a very good question from a human position. Did it ever occur to you that this is not just about man, but also all Creation and the angelic order too?"

Me: After thinking for a while. "So, Father, the Earth is the place of great sin. This is the place where 1/3 of Heaven fell and they continue to inflict Your people. The people are dumb for lack of knowledge, wisdom and faith in You. So, what is about to happen next? I ask because things do not look good for us from an earthly viewpoint."

God: "One thing you must understand... if My people reject Me after I send help, I don't just cry out once. I send help continually. If they still choose their sinful ways and do not turn back from this, I then give them over to their own way. I do this until they finally cry out for a divine rescue. However, some are still lost as they lack the need for a Shepherd. These fall to spiritual death. However, you still ask why?"

Me: "Yes, Father. So many have no idea who you are, yet they seem to be blessed. In contrast, those who love you, whose heart is before you, are broken. If they could only see You and all You have done, all would chase You. Evil is prospering on Earth.”

God: “Evil increases. They are enjoying their spoils. However, you are to take heart as I see it all, My Name has been profaned throughout the Earth. My churches have been defiled or shuttered. My shepherds over the flocks are corrupt and do their work from the fence of the sheep’s pen.

“Well, who owns the fence around the sheep? The place where the pulpit rests is on the fence. The fence is owned by the enemy, not by Me. I send My Son, the Good Shepherd, to herd the Sheep and carry My Lambs. While He is The Way that leads to life here, very few have found this.”

Me: “Oh Father, please grant your people victory. Care for all of us who love You so we are strengthened from Heavenly Storehouses and guided by Your Spirit. Please, Father, rise up in Your people and show the world that our God in Heaven is sovereign and mighty to save!”

God: “You make a good case. I brought you here to let you know that I am with you. I am about to do something in your days you would not believe even if I told you. Now, My Word is true and I do not lie. My angel army has been trained for these days and are awaiting My trumpet to sound. I tell you this so that, when darkness descends, you are not afraid.

“While you reside here with Me, you are sent with a purpose. All of My people whom I have called to Me for My purposes will be strengthened. When the darkness is lifted and the nations are in great distress, even the angels and demons will know that I am God and I am over all things. All those who dwell in darkness will flee to darkness far away from the light of dawn.”

Me: “Father, it feels like evil is winning every time here on Earth right now.”

God: “I know. This is why you must understand that the battle is Mine and that I prevail in all things. It is finished. You reside here. One day very soon you will dine with the King in His presence and fullness as you are the Bride in gold of Ophir. Now, the wicked have finished their plans. Their plans are now set.

“Their lies will increase as all nations are subject to evil, not evil subject to them. Their plots are hidden and their plans are lofty. However, My ways are higher. I am about to shake the nations. Remember, Erin, that you reside here. I will send you help and I will not delay. Light exposes darkness and, right now, they are freely operating.”

Me: “God, please turn on the ‘Holy Light Switch’!”

The Throne Room rolled and thundered from His laugh.

God: "Erin, I have more than a switch. Time is Mine. I can reverse, rebuild and heal. I am not subject to any parameter except I am Holy and I will not go against My own Word. Great will be your joy, Erin. Remember, I am not fenced in from the enemy nor am I a fenced pulpit. I am the God of miracles, healing, signs and wonders. I have poured out My Spirit upon My people, My Remnant. Now rejoice, Erin, as I am with you."

I felt a hand on my shoulder. It was Uriel bringing me to my feet.

Me: "Wait!" I turned back towards the Throne. "Father, I love You. Please have mercy on us. We need help. Please heal us. Please send help. Please show us what to do."

God: "I have heard your pleas and I will send help. Do not worry. You are greatly loved. I have you and I just sent help."

I waved at God. I could see a flash of light where His Voice was coming from. I was a beautiful wave of light.

God: "Do not worry as I am with you. If God is with you, and I am, who then can overcome you?"

Me: "No one, Father."

God: "I will see you soon."

Uriel brought me outside. There was Jesus' horse and two angels waiting. Uriel helped me up onto the saddle. This horse was so special. Uriel led the way back to the bridge. At the bridge, I could see my yard on the other side.

Uriel: "These angels will assist you in this season. They, along with others, have been ordered by God. Now, you are about to experience many changes. However, they are all very good. Do not concern yourself with what you are told or what is bad news as all of this is based on deception and lies. God's miracles are not subject to news outlets or opinions. When these are on display, no one will be able to lie about what they witness. Be encouraged by this. God is sovereign and in control. Do you believe me?"

Me: "Yes, I do!"

Uriel: "Good. Someone is waiting for you."

I turned to look and it was Jesus in our yard. He smiled at me as He held out His open arms!

Dream over.

648 – A Surprise Visit at My New Bakery

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for all You do! You are perfect and holy, strong and mighty. How great is God above all things. Bless You in Your plans to save us as, without You, we are lost forever. Your people need a rescue from the great evil over the nations. Corrupt governments continue to move into power. They are removing the voice of the people. Those who stood for truth will be struck down by the wicked as now the entire Earth has fallen.

The only thing we have is the Greatest Power.. You, Father! Our full hope is in You. Please shelter Your people from these storms. Hold us close and keep us safe. The wicked in control will now implement their final stages. We are helpless to do anything to stop them. Only You can stop them, Father. Billions will be wiped off the face of the Earth. I had a dream last night...

Sub-Dream 1 "A Surprise Visit at My New Bakery" begins...

There was a massive historical train station. It was made up of marble, granite and other stones. The interior was beautiful. It had carved elements and coffered ceilings. The entrance was made similar to a side hall in God's Throne Room. It had massive stone columns and a decorative barrel-vaulted ceiling. The station reminded me somewhat of Westminster Abbey in London England.

It was very crowded. People were gathered there and waiting for trains to various areas. While it was not chaotic, there was an urgency for people to get settled to their final destination. There were many delays. Off of the main entrance to this station and on the right side was a coffee shop and bakery. I had just purchased it and it had a few issues. While the bakery was called Sparrow Bakery, it was not affiliated with a similarly named bakery in Bend OR.

The former owner seemed excited to leave as she handed me the keys to this extremely busy coffee house and bakery. She left with a suitcase and a hug. She left me with very few instructions on how to run the massive commercial cappuccino espresso machine. While I wanted more instructions from her, her train had come to the station and she couldn't miss it.

As she left the bakery with her suitcase, she handed me the keys. While I am not sure what this means, I noticed that the keys were really ceremonial only as there were no visible locks on the doors. I then noticed that the dining area was open to the train station lobby on two sides: one for arrivals and one for departures. The former owner's rapid departure forced me to hit the ground running immediately.

Fortunately for me, there were a few workers who remained to help me transition and wait on customers. I began to walk around this massive place and dropped into the baker's kitchen. This baker was from South America and was renowned. She had baked several items and these were cooling on the racks. There were dozens of ocean rolls, cinnamon buns, cookie and various breads.

Me: "I am so thankful you are still here."

Baker: Smiling. "I am so sorry to tell you this, but I too must go soon. I will be here with you only a few days to train you and then I must go. The train I have been waiting for is scheduled to arrive this week."

Me: Noticeably crushed. "But the bakery is the main business. It is why people come. Please don't leave. Stay! I will pay you double."

Baker: "As you know, I have to go. One day you will also, but it will be different. Come and let me show you how to bake this bread here. It is famous as it is like God Himself is in the dough. When people eat it, they are blessed. It is now yours to provide."

As I was standing there, a server with a basket and a thin towel came to gather a variety of warm rolls and bread. The baker prayed over the basket...

Baker: Praying. "I ask You, Lord, to feed the people so that they are satisfied."

Server: "Amen!"

The baker and the server then both laughed. The server then started walking away.

Me: "Where is the server going?"

Baker: "Follow her and see."

I suddenly realized that the workers here were all angels. I followed the server with the basket to a massive room in the train station. While it wasn't an amphitheater, it reminded me of a giant one. People were quietly waiting and excited for the next set of trains to arrive. I was surprised to find that there was no fighting. I realized that each one held a ticket, so they were confident about where they were going.

As the server walked down the stairs, hands began to raise. People were hungry for the baked goods she was carrying. I could somehow tell that the basket she carried that would usually feed only twenty would actually be feeding hundreds.

Server: "Attention, attention! This is the new owner of the Sparrow Bakery and Coffee House."

I waved and people cheered for me. My eyes welled up with tears. I just waved my hands and smiled.

Me: Thinking to myself. "How can I do any of this? I have very little experience in baking or making coffee drinks. How can I do all of this?"

The server then turned towards me. She had a bright smile. Her hair was chestnut colored with red highlights. Her shoes were beautiful. I suddenly realized that she looked familiar and that I had seen her before. WHOA! IT THEN HIT ME! She was the angel who had come to my shop in 1996 to prophesy over me. I was in stunned silence. The server smiled kindly at me until I could finally gather my words.

Me: "It is you! I know you!"

Server: "Yes, you do. I told you that I would see you again. Now come with me. You need some help with the beverage center. Come!"

I followed her to the massive cappuccino espresso machine. It was a complex heavy-duty machine easily worth $50,000 or more. She started to show me all of the various beverages they served. I was in awe and watched quietly. What appeared to be a wealthy woman then approached us. She wore stately clothing and was soft-spoken...

Woman: "I want a cappuccino. However, I need it to be cold press."

I watched as the server turned off one of the buttons that stated hot press.

Server: Addressing me. "I will set up the drinks and then you can carry them with some teacakes to her table."

Me: "Okay."

I followed the woman to her seat. She went to sit in an area I had not seen before. It was like a VIP lounge. I served her on a cloth covered dining table with fresh flowers. I then placed the teacake tower in front of her. I looked around and could see different people who looked familiar all around me.

Me: "Do you also have a ticket?"

Woman: "No. We are waiting on standby. Quite frankly, we tried to purchase tickets, but the cost was ridiculous." The people around her table laughed and agreed. "We even tried to pay ticketholders for their tickets, but their tickets are non-transferrable."

Me: Quickly realizing these people were going nowhere. "Well, I have some great ocean rolls and teacakes for you to enjoy."

I looked around the room and noticed that it was shaped like a massive birdcage with stained glass windows. It was lovely like an expensive atrium with blooming flowers and plants. As I turned to go back to the main café, the woman stopped me.

Woman: "Hold on! I specifically asked for cold press. This is hot pressed."

She held up her drink and placed it on my tray.

Me: "I am so sorry."

She then placed the ocean rolls and teacakes on my tray.

Woman: In a sarcastic tone. "We want none of these but thank you... NOT!"

Everyone laughed. I felt the Lord well up in me.

Me: "Well, I own this café and the room you sit in. It seems you are not pleased with what my bakery provides... bread or beverages. You are taking up space. If you do not eat or drink, you are not patrons. Even though you have all been rude, I still have something to share with you... tickets are being offered on the other side of the hall. However, they are of limited number."

Before I could finish my sentence, they all got up and rushed out of the atrium to the other side of the train station. I realized that there was a door to close this off, as well as a lock. I closed the door and locked it so they could not return here. I walked back to the beverage area. The server was good-heartedly laughing.

Server: "Let me guess... she complained about not being given cold press?"

Me: "Yes! What is cold press vs hot press?"

Server: "It is a method of brewing coffee. Cold press takes a while to get the results of the hot press method. However, it doesn't really change the outcome with these people."

Me: "But I saw you press the proper switch."

Server: "Right. However, these are unhappy people unable to purchase a ticket because they do not want to pay the price all of these ticketholders have paid. They are trying to change the outcome by controlling the destination of the travelers. They are blind to the fact that this is not possible for them. They sat there in a birdcage plotting on how they would take the reins back from God. Nothing we offer or serve them is sufficient because they enjoy their status." She smiled and pointed. "Look... incoming."

The people who had left the birdcage to attempt to get tickets were now back. They were pounding on the door and demanding to be let back in. I calmly walked over.

Me: "I am sorry, but this room is now closed for renovations. Besides, I thought you had left to purchase tickets."

Woman: "Some others got those first. Open this room now."

Me: "I am the owner and I will not open this."

Woman: "We'll pay! How much?"

Me: "I am sorry, but this room is unavailable. However, I will be opening this very soon to certain VIPs of God's choosing."

Woman: "Who are they? If its..."

She then began to drop names and say terrible things about each one.

Me: "No, none of these. Now, this room is unavailable to you all. I am sorry, but you must now leave. As you can see, we are very busy."

Angels suddenly appeared and escorted them away. They were kicking, swearing and screaming. The patrons from the other parts of the bakery let out a large cheer.

Baker: "Erin, come... I need to show you how to make ocean rolls."

I was excited as these were my favorites. Everyone remaining in the bakery were happy and of good cheer. This made me so happy.

Sub-Dream 1 over.

Father, what a dream. It was very clear. However, I am not certain what this means.

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

Continued from the end of Dream 647 (as in italics below):

Uriel: "... Someone is waiting for you."

I turned to look and it was Jesus in our yard. He smiled at me as He held out His open arms!

He was at the end of the bridge over the raging creek in my yard. I ran to Him. He embraced me. His warm hug made me feel so safe.

Me: "Lord, it is so good to see Your face. Your smile lights up a thousand rooms. Your eyes melt my heart."

Jesus: "Your presence melts My heart too." He smiled. "Now, do you know why I am here?"

Me: "I am not sure."

Jesus: "I am here to remind you that I gave you warning that the enemy would rise and that evil would spread quickly. I showed you what the enemy has been doing."

Me: "Lord, it is just so difficult when we are in the middle of all of this. We were expecting a great move on Your part. We were expecting You to save the nations from all of this. I just wasn't expecting the nation to be divided by the people on one side and the government on the other side. I thought it would be red vs blue, not an evil government vs her people."

Jesus: "Hmm, then you need a reminder on what happened in recent history around a hundred years ago. Look over it as if it was a war against God. The method of war is the same now. An evil leader, but many in this current case, rose to power and weaponized some citizens against others. They will soon call for the elimination of any voice against them. Erin, as you now know, their plans are lofty."

Me: "When, Lord? When will You help us? We can't fight them without You."

Jesus: "At the right moment, the Appointed Time. I know it is difficult to witness thieves, liars and criminals be successful. However, this will not last much longer. What the enemy has planned for My people will be turned back on them. The Tribulation is for these."

Me: "Oh Lord, what about all the people who do not know and cannot see what is coming. How frightening to know that..."

Jesus: "Erin, I am God and I do not share My glory with these. I came so that the captives would be set free. As for the enemy, they only release criminals to kill. I came to save all people from tyranny and wicked lawlessness. However, in return, some of these evil ones have betrayed Me. They enslave the innocent and release the guilty. I let their lips disclose the plans they have for My people and these are their only truth spoken."

"The enemy of this world has sent plagues upon the land. The enemy has ordered plagues in waves. The enemy promises to remove the cattle on a thousand hills so that the people cannot eat meat. The enemy promises to remove the milk in which Abraham served the Lord and the angels at his tent. Milk, meat and curds are good for the offering, but is now to be banned by the enemy.

"The enemy has called for an end to the harvest of all kinds of grains and plants. The only harvest the enemy is calling for now is that of famine. He is against new grain, oil and wine. He has plans to seize what is owned by the people and give this to foreigners and invaders as the 'great wealth transfer'. He has plans to increase sins of every kind.

"He plans to serve water that is stagnant, water that causes death, as his refreshment. He has plans to increase the death of children and the elderly. He wishes to punish relatives with enslavement and work camps to pay debts that can never be repaid. Fear will be the replacement of faith. Churches will become hollow, vacant or turned over to prostitution."

Me: "Oh Lord, please stop this!"

Jesus: "These are the plans of the fallen, Erin. God knows the sheep lack for a shepherd and I am the Good Shepherd who love My Sheep. I see the theft of hope in these elections. I see it."

Me: "But, Lord, You were going to send angels to overthrow this. Where are the angels and their corrections?"

Jesus: "You must trust in Me and My plan. I will not lie to you. I cannot do so nor would I think of this. You must understand that corruption flourishes in dank darkness like mold. Many people are unaware of the corruption all over the world. In South America, Eastern invasions have occurred and the results of the people and their will was removed in a single day.

"To the north, the wicked saw this as good and used a close approach to the outcome to fool the people. Their power is unchecked now and only God can help the nations. Many deals are made in darkness.

"However, I see. Erin, I see! You are not to worry as angel armies are on standby all around you. There are many millions of My angels surrounding all of you. Very soon, Heaven will be visible upon the Earth and all the enemy has planned will be changed for good. Judgment will then come upon them when My people are removed."

Me: "Oh Lord, please hurry!"

Jesus: "Do not worry. I am here. I am with you. I am always with you and My Spirit I about to pour into My people in greater measure. You are a ticketholder too. However, I even gave you charge over a bakery with good food and refreshment to quench thirst. Rejoice, Erin!"

Me: "I am scared, Lord. I have never recovered from my illness. Breathing is still difficult. It is difficult to swallow now and brings me panic. Would You heal me now? Oh Lord, please! Please heal our home, our Nest and their families. Please protect us."

Jesus: "Do not worry. Remember that all of you are in this current state because a great change and transfer are on the way. It has already been ordered by God on His Throne. He has heard your prayers and petitions. I am here with you. I am over all things here. Do not fear these things."

Me: "Lord, how will anyone be saved if You do not move in our troubles? I love You and trust You."

Jesus: "I know you are worried. You are not alone in your worries. For those you bless, I will increase blessings. For those who pray and bless your house, I will increase blessings upon them. You are a church unlike any other. Yours is like a Nest built on the Altar of My presence. God is with you. My Spirit is in you."

He hugged me and smiled. Sigh... He is truly our Ultimate Groom!

Dream over.

649 – Supernatural Screens in the Darkness

Dear Father,

I come to You in great brokenness today! A Nest Sparrow friend went to be with You and he leaves behind his wife and family. For some reason, the letter I was sent telling me of his death was opened and a typed note had fallen out to the bottom of my mail bag. I just now found it when organizing. I am so sad, Father. I feel horrible. What is wrong with me? I have friends all over the world and I can't get to them.

I am so sorry, Father. Please forgive me. More than anything, please bless and strengthen our Sparrow friend. She survives her husband, a man who has been her partner and companion for 56 years. I have prayed for them many times over the years, but it was now Your Will to take him Home and not heal him. So, Father, since You are a Great Mystery and a loving Dad, please envelope Your daughter, a beloved Sparrow, in Your arms. She is missing her husband very much.

As for us, nothing truly matters if we don't have love. None of what we see matters. We love each other by helping and praying with great intercession. We pray that You keep the enemy away from us so we can be part of Your perfect plan. Father, I have been sick again the last few days. My breathing hurts my lungs. I have a very deep and painful cough. I had a fever of 102 last night. Father, are You trying to get my attention? Well, here I am!

I worry about so many senseless things in this life. There are so many things to be worried about. I worry about my children, my husband, my Nest friends, the state of the world, dinner, leftovers, bills, the weather and so many other things. As I am now, only a few months away from my 60th birthday, I realize I am not as sharp mentally in personal matters.

Only the Lord grants me wisdom supernaturally and with knowledge from on high as it pertains to my dreams and scribe work. As for me individually, I am human and I forget simple things. As for these last two years, more and more things of God are coming and quickly. However, things concerning daily living come slowly. Father, there are so many people who have lost loved ones this last year, but really the last few years now.

This is happening at a rate I have never experienced. Only You can comfort us, Father. Only You can heal our brokenness and renew these dying bodies. Somehow You love me in spite of my iniquities. I will try harder. I know the hour is very late. This threat of pneumonia has been humbling. We are now also expecting to get a dump of snow tomorrow. We haven't even stored the portable air conditioners for the winter yet. I had an odd dream last night...

Sub-Dream 1 "Oysters and Mother of Pearl" begins...

This dream involved oysters. In this dream, a man had the meat of the oysters by itself. The shells and any pearls were gone. While I personally hate oysters, I do love the inside shell and the pearls. The outside shell is not attractive at all though. In outward appearance, the oyster is ugly and the flesh, to me, is rubbery and tasteless.

However, at the heart of that flesh sometimes lies a pearl. The inner lining of the shell that houses the flesh is commonly referred to as mother of pearl. The depth and luster of that pearl is like a sample of Heaven on Earth. In this dream, all that remained was the flesh of the oyster.

Sub-Dream 1 over..

Oh Father, I am sorry if I have not rested enough. I am behind in my tasks and realize I must surrender all things to You. All that I see before me has no value like our hearts do to You. We matter to You. We are like Your pearls here.

Me: "Father, turn the oysters inside out so all that people see in us is the beauty You have created. Let our earthly flesh be as we are in Heaven. Strengthen us and bless us so that we may shine like the noonday sun in all Your glory. Bless You, Father, in all the Earth. Let Your Will be done. Please forgive our trespasses!"

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "Erin, I am here and I am with you. I am with your friend as she is near to My heart. Do not worry! You have held out for many things. As time moves forward, yet seems to remain the same, the ambitions you carried and your great hopes have faded. This fades as you experience the aging of your body. You then forget the dreams you held on to.”

Me: Crying. “Oh Lord, dreams all over the world have been dashed. Hopes have faded. We all wonder ‘when?’, Lord. When? I am not sure if it was my fever creating this or if it was from you, but I just had another dream as I momentarily dozed off for a few minutes just a short while ago. This may have been a vision, but I am not sure...”

Sub-Dream 2 “Supernatural Screens of Truth” begins...

There was a massive shaking all over the Earth and darkness fell over every house. However, those whose hearts were Yours still had lights on inside their houses. As for those who had darkness, they had so much darkness that they could not even see the lights in those houses still with lights on inside.

The darkness then gave way to screens. These screens were all over the world and in every room where there was a person. Even the most primitive of cultures had screens made supernaturally available to them. These supernatural screens were for Your purposes only and not meant to be permanent.

These screens then turned on all over the world and started broadcasting in every language as applicable. Since this was now most peoples only source of light, this understandably instantly grabbed their full attention. The screens then started to reveal the corruption and crimes of the wicked. All their evil plots and deeds were exposed as if it were a movie. The people then called to throw down the wicked and trample them.

Sub-Dream 2 over...

Jesus: “Your fever gave way to a vision of events that are not far off. Now, your illness will lift, as well as your son’s and daughter’s illness. All I ask of you is to rest when you are called. Be careful to obey My Sabbath rest. As I am in you, it is also My day!”

Me: “Of course! Oh Lord, I am so sorry.”

Jesus: “I know you are called in different directions. I know your house has become used to you working and finding items. However, you are to rest.”

Me: “I will, Lord.”

Jesus: “Now, souls or hearts are the essence of an earthly shell. This is My pearl of great price. Very soon, I am coming to gather My Remnant Pearls. These have been hidden in their shells for a very long time. You have been shown the place of My Pearls in Heaven and where they reside. However, there are many here that have yet to be found by you. So many are out there that have been waiting for the great day of revelation. This is when the outer shell is changed to reveal the beauty of what lies beneath."

Me: "Lord, You are such a mystery. Do You mean those whom You have chosen to gather the lost, those who will be changed?"

Jesus: "Erin, though you do not see it, you are a hidden gem. However, very soon, My Gems, My Pearls of Great Price, will all be on full display for the glory of My splendor. Now rejoice, Erin, for I have ransomed you. I paid the price. You are a Pearl of Great Price."

Me: "Lord, help me to be better while we wait for Your great day. I am so sad that I just can't seem to..."

Jesus: "Erin, you are to focus on Me. Pray for those you love and your friends. This is your great gift as I will bless your prayers. You will be successful in all you do and great will be your joy. To spread yourself thin reveals that you are incapable of being omnipotent. This means you are not God."

Me: Laughing. "I think that much is obvious. You are the only God."

Jesus: "Yes, Erin, I am. Give all things to Me. I will bring you strength."

Dream over.

650 – We are awaiting His Mighty Call

Dear Father,

You are patient, kind, loving, all-powerful and glorious. You are wise and merciful beyond our abilities to understand. You always know what is best for us and we are so thankful. Without You, we are lost for lack of a Shepherd. You are also the Greatest Gift most of the world has 'never' truly known. You are a Hidden Treasure waiting to be discovered. However, very few bother to look for You as they do not see Your value. Still, You knew all of this from the very beginning! You are never surprised.

For the last few months, I have really felt my age. It seems as if my body is now supernaturally accelerating in age, although I know this must be just my imagination. Regardless, there is nothing I can do about it. This last week, I have had lingering upper respiratory illnesses. It has created lung pain and personal exhaustion. My labored breathing always seems to reoccur at around 3:00pm every day. Well, it feels as if everything is labored now. Perhaps I am in a type of labor?

When I was a young girl, I was quite the Tomboy. I would wake up early and I was late to sleep. My energy was boundless. I felt invincible. I played outside all day. I knew my friends better than I knew my own family. My mom and stepdad worked long hours, so I don't remember that much about them during the week. We would then have weekend road trips together. We would surf, visit family, go to the parks or sightsee.

Our home was so small and meager, it truly was a sleep pad. Due to its small size, most of our living seemed to be done outside. There were very few inside memories. The few inside memories I did have tended to be all tragic ones. Still, when I went into my late teens and twenties, I kept the traditions I had learned. Home was where I rested my head to sleep. When I did chores, I planned my escapes in my imagination.

Even when I had children, I still had a restless feeling, a need to go outside and do activities. As a result, the kids and I were always out exploring parks or different areas. We would then come home to relax.

Sadly, I then became sick. While my forties should have been an awesome time, it was instead spent in heart wrenching battles. Horrible things were said of me. I worked hard and went to church three times per week. Only my inner strength from You, Father, kept me alive during this time.

From outward appearances, I still seemed strong. I smiled even when the inside of my body needed healing. Finally, now in my fifties, my outward body needs as much healing as my inside heart has changed for the good. Father, You created us by Your Grand Design.

In the Synagogues yesterday, they honored Abraham's Sarah. The accounts of Sarah are that she had inward beauty and a stunning outward appearance, even in her old age. What an awesome thing You did in the life of Sarah. I know You created each of us differently. Would You please consider granting us a portion of the blessings You bestowed upon Sarah? I believe the whole Nest would want this (obviously a masculine version of this for our male members...smiles)!

Father, I am also grieving for my children. Life is different for them when compared to when we were growing up. I had no care in the world and was free to go outside to play worry free. Life today is not free. I instill in our children to be mindful of all their surroundings. I tell them to trust their Holy Spirit instincts. I tell them to not always be led by your own understanding, but to defer to God in all things.

Some of our children are lonely. Surely, You will bind up their brokenness and fulfill their hopes and dreams. Surely, You will soak up their tears and, one day, give them hope and a future, here as it is in Heaven. In comparison, I have led a full life. I have had so many adventures. I have done so much. While it has been such a great story, it has also been a difficult one. Your love for me is an amazing story.

Please create new miracles for all of us. Please do this for my family, as well as our Nest and their families. Allow us to experience Your Amazing Works in full measure. In turn, Father, please keep our thoughts on lovely things. Please let our lips speak life in all things. Please give my tired sick body strength to continue to praise You in all things. You deserve all of our praises and not one thing less from each of us.

Thank You for removing my so-called friend from this area. When she left the area, her curses left with her. These have now lifted and they did not return. I removed all connection to her completely and I now realize the depth of her cruelty. I am thankful You exposed this to me. Thank You for removing her.

Father, please lift this illness from our home. Please clear my lungs. Better yet, please transform our bodies, our minds, our hearts and our souls. Please do all of this for Your Glory. I ask for this in Jesus' Mighty Name, Amen! Father, there is nothing You cannot do! This reminds me of a Scripture in Amos:

Amos 4:13: "He who forms the mountains, who creates the wind and who reveals His thoughts to mankind, who turns dawn to darkness and who treads on the heights of the Earth, the LORD GOD ALMIGHTY is Your Name!"

Father, You form, create, reveal, turn and tread. Just in this one passage alone, there is no limits to Your power and majesty.

Genesis 2:1: "Thus the Heavens and the Earth were completed, and all their hosts."

Father, You created all things. You created the entire Universe and all Creation on Earth. You are Lord over all of it. There is nothing impossible for You. For me, over the years, You have been my Comforter. You have been my Defender and have removed my shame. You have been my Friend and Helpmate when I was in great distress. Most of all, You are my Amazing Savior, strong in all You do.

Still, one of Your greatest attributes to me, one that still brings me to my knees, is Your role of being our Deliverer. You delivered me from the traps set for me. You delivered me and my children in miraculous ways. I am grateful to You, Father. You are such a blessing to me. You are Holy and You control all things. Every one of us needs Your help. Not one of us can stand against the evil without You fighting our battles. I had a dream last night.

Sub-Dream 1 "The celebration of the evil king" begins...

I went to the design district of a major city. There was a showroom open. This was a surprise as most had closed permanently nationwide. This one was open only to tradespeople and not to the public. I showed the entry officer my credentials and was allowed in. I was there with someone very familiar, but yet I did not recognize her. However, I somehow knew it was a trusted Nest friend. No one there approached us.

The place was very dark and quite depressing. The lighting was designed that way on purpose to only highlight certain objects. Up on a landing, I saw a rack of clothing made up of odd fabrics. These fabrics were made up from the home interior fabrics. This was very strange. I was too curious, so I began to peruse all of the clothing. There were many unique, yet unwearable, items on the rack. I then came across a beautiful handmade mohair sweater in a marine green/blue color. It had silk detailing.

Me: "Before I check the price tag, let's guess how much. I say around $400."

Friend: Chuckling. "Yes, that sounds about right."

I flipped over the price tag. It was wholesale $758.

Me: "This seems to be quite an odd price."

Friend: "I agree. There must be something about this number to the seller."

A female worker there then called out to us.

Worker: "Can I help you, ladies?"

Me: "No. We are just admiring your showroom."

Worker: "We are busy preparing for the rise of our 'king'. Are you?"

I could tell by the look on my friend's face that we both were agreeing that she was NOT talking about our King Jesus. We decided to sidestep the issue to avoid conflict as it was not the correct time for this particular conflict.

Friend: "Yes, of course. We are preparing for our King."

Worker: "He is rising in the east at dawn. Will you be at the celebration?"

Me: Bluffing. "Oh yes, of course."

Worker: "Very well. Perhaps we will see you at the banquet?"

Friend: "We were unable to acquire tickets."

Worker: "No problem. I just happen to have two tickets for you. We will see you there."

Me: "Thank you. We will see you there."

The worker left. My friend expressed concern over the situation.

Friend: "What have we done? We definitely do not want to be there."

Me: "I know. However, we really didn't want to battle her in this showroom."

Friend: "True, especially with all of the witchcraft here."

Me: "Yes, but let's not forget the $758 wholesale for a sweater, a sweater that covers very little."

Friend: "Hmm, the rise of the wicked king. Not good!"

Me: "Not good at all!"

Sub-Dream 1 over.

Me: "Father, this dream was strange. Please rise up in Your Great Name and Power and silence all opposed to You."

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "Erin, I am here and I am with you. My Voice is in you. Right now, you are operating in a weak position. You are tired, exhausted and overwhelmed. I don't want you to worry."

Me: "Father, things are becoming difficult everywhere and for everyone. Lord, please bless Your people. Please bless us. I recently read we are to pray like Hannah and You will answer according to Your Will. We are also to pray like David, calling upon Your Authority against the enemies of Your Kingdom. We are also to pray like Joshua, acknowledging and showing respect for Your Authority. We are also to be like Isaiah... spreading the Good News."

Jesus: "These are very good. However, I have not yet called you out into the world due to the way you all currently are. There is a reason I have you holding your position. Soon, very soon, I will call you out in greater authority throughout the four corners of the Earth. At that point, how beautiful on the mountains are the feet of those who bring Good News, who proclaim peace, who bring good tidings, who proclaim salvation and who says to Zion 'your God reigns' (Isaiah 52:7).

"At that time, there will be a Great Move of the Spirit of God upon the Earth, a Great Move unlike anything the world has ever seen nor will ever again. The enemy has plans to decrease the population. Well, they are not God. I will instead increase all the enemy seeks to destroy and all will see.

"I know you are very discouraged as the plans of the wicked are lofty and too numerous to count. However, I see and I count. It is I who am Lord over all things. Rejoice, Erin, for I AM! I will not let the wicked prevail. Do not worry. Be strong and courageous. I am with you and I will continue to send help. When you cry out, I will immediately answer. I am here and I am with you."

Dream over.

651 – More on the Sign of Jonah

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You! I am so thankful for You! You are my Special Gift, my Love and my Portion forever. I didn't smile much this week. It was a very difficult time in our home. Three of our children work long hours. They make just a dollar or two over minimum wage. As for my husband, he too is now working a minimum wage job. It has been humbling for him as he used to make many times what he is currently making. Well, after four years of close calls and closed doors, here we are.

My husband works without complaint as we know, from a personal word, that all of this is for a purpose. He is there for a purpose. His hours are long and he is very tired when he comes home. Still, I thank You, Father, that he was finally able to find someone who would hire him at his older age. While there are no benefits given with this position, we are still so grateful to have him in the workforce again.

On top of all of this, we had to travel a few hours roundtrip so that my youngest son could have his wisdom teeth removed at the hospital. While he was supposed to have this procedure in July, it wasn't until the day before Thanksgiving that they actually had an opening. The reason for a hospital procedure is because the blood draw crew were unable to find a vein to run an IV. They tried everything.

Finally, they had to use an ultrasound machine. It was good this was done this way as he has a rare thing wherein his veins hug his arteries. While I thought it was because he is overweight, they told me that this wasn't the issue. I was so glad. It was a rough day, but he made it through. Thank You for Your mercy on him. Father, You are the Miracle Maker. I am so grateful.

We also had more bad news about my battle for my disability pension. After going years without income at all, I apparently now have to pay back a sizeable portion of my pension. It is fortunate that this will be done as a claw back vs us having to shell out money. Sadly, once this pension does eventually start, it would not be enough to live on like I had hoped it would be. Well, Father, this is hope deferred yet again.

There have been so many adjustments to make. There have been so many redirects. There have been so many prayers made to You, Father. Please don't forget about Your people. I received the Christian Persecution Report for October 2022. Oh Lord, so many horrible things are happening to Your people right now. We rarely hear about this. Countries like Congo, Egypt, Somalia and Sudan are slaughtering Christians.

As for our nation, we are imploding from a great moral bankruptcy. The stories and news of our great decline of character is heartbreaking. Father, all we can do is pray. If You do nothing to help us, persecution is coming to us next. It is already at the door. We are already being attacked by savage prices for things like bread, butter and vegetables. No one is getting rich right now other than our corrupt leaders.

Well, none of this is news to You, Father. In Your Word, You told all of us what the landscape would be like before You moved again. While this is true, we now beg You to have mercy on us. Here are some encouraging words based on the Talmud: 'As a pitchfork turns the sheaves of grain from one position to another, so does the prayers of the righteous turn the dispensations of the Holy One from anger to mercy.'

Yes, I haven't smiled much this last week. I am sorry, Father. I am tired from these battles and my hopes are fading. My hope in You hasn't changed, just my visual hope of how I had hoped this would all be. Canada is now encouraging death via a physician. They view this as a solution for homelessness, health problems, aging and mental health problems. Their idea of help is removing your life 'humanely'.

Father, when You said there is much more to this evil than we can imagine, You really meant this. There is so much that You see. Oh Father, how do You keep Your anger in check? The stuff society is now doing to children is so far beyond evil. I am in shock at all of it. It is horrifying how much our world has fallen in such a short time.

This morning, I opened a new bottle of ice wine from the Niagara Falls region. Its vintage was 2019, just before Covid struck with force. While the wine was still sweet, it was not like syrup as I am used to. What will 2020 or 2021 vintages taste like? What will it cost? I had several dreams last night, with the following dream standing out.

Sub-Dream 1 "Celebrities try to ruin our Celebration" begins...

There was a massive show in an arena that was about to begin. It was as big of an event as even the Super Bowl. Before the game started, there were tailgate gatherings surrounding the stadium. However, I noticed that there was very little food or drink. It appears beverages of all kinds were being rationed, so drunkenness was not a problem. After a half-day of socializing, an announcement came over the intercom system...

Announcer: "It is time to proceed to the Stadium."

Families then started saying goodbye to each other. Those who were sponsoring tailgate parties began to close up their campers, trucks and tables. There were massive concrete mezzanine walkways around the Stadium as people in the thousands came to be seated. Enroute to the Stadium were public restrooms. However, these restrooms were filthy and overflowing with so much waste that no one used them.

There were gangs of strange clowns and human oddities trying to distract those going to the event. They tried everything to stop the flow of people from making it to the Stadium. No matter what they promised, they could not draw their attention away. Well known celebrities then showed up to aid in the distraction. However, this made no difference either. I was so happy that people no longer cared about celebrities!

We had accounted for our family and I was now so excited to have them inside. As I waited in line, I overheard a young boy of Jewish descent speaking with his father..

Son: "How are we like Calah, Father?"

Father: "We do not belong to this house. We instead now belong to the Father and His House, the Groom. Even though we have been here waiting, we do not belong here. The things of this world are not for us. While they hate us, they first hated the Groom. You will see. Be patient."

Son: "But, Father, the wait has been long."

Father: "Yes, but wait until you see what is on the other side."

I could now overhear cursing coming from the celebrities. They were mocking us and calling us names. It was known to us that not one of us should acknowledge the celebrities' presence. Even the children knew to ignore them.

As we all waited in lines to enter, all were patient and excited. Large angels gathered and stepped out onto the mezzanine walkway. The celebrities and clowns were then all instantly removed to the unclean outhouse areas. While the celebrities were yelling and cursing, this was drowned out by the cheering and laughter from the crowds in line.

Sub-Dream 1 over.

Father, this dream seemed encouraging. I definitely feel like a Bride. I have given my heart to my Groom. Still, I must wait for Him. We wait and wait and wait. The days become months become years. God's plans are perfect and will be worth waiting for.

As for the word 'Calah' as used in the above sub-dream, a Hebrew site speaks about this. In the ancient Hebrew marriage, the Bridegroom comes to the house of the Bride and proposes marriage (You call out to us). If the woman accepts, she is now the Bride, the Calah. The two are separated for about a year (we accept the Groom's invitation and we are saved).

The Calah (us) still lives at her house, but she is no longer of it. She is the Bridegroom's now (we are called, saved and remain here, but we do not belong here, until the day our Groom collects us for the Ceremony). We are no longer bound by this house we are in now. While we know this Wedding Day is coming, we still have to wait in this old house.

Me: "Thank You for miracles! A bird appeared dead. However, when I cradled it in my hands, it seemed to warm up. It soon flew away. Thank You for this small miracle!"

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "Erin, I am here and I am with you. Now, why do I sometimes come as you see Me and other times as the Voice in you?"

Me: "I am not sure. While I love both, I favor Your visual presence as I am a visual person. You are great either way though."

Jesus: "You will soon, very soon, see Me in full. However, understand that the minute you ask of Me, the minute, that very second, I will answer you. While you might not initially like what I say, it is for your good. I do this so that you are accustomed to My voice. You know Me and you hear My voice calling to you. Erin, you do not call out to Me in the small matters. Why? Do you think Me not capable?"

Me: "Of course You are capable. I am embarrassed to ask sometimes. Recently, I couldn't find two of my favorite ornament boxes. I thought that I might have donated them. My younger son then pointed out that they could be in a container I wasn't expecting it to be in. Sure enough, there it was in front of me. It was even labeled!"

Jesus: "Sometimes you miss what is right in front of you. Sometimes you look, but you forget to see. Sometimes you hear, but you don't listen to the deeper message."

Me: "Please help me, Lord. Sometimes I even see something that my camera cannot capture. Please help me."

Jesus: "This is because you are seeing something illuminated, created by the hands of God and His angels. You can capture this with the lenses of your eyes because My Spirit in you lends truth to what you see. The camera is a body that lacks the Spirit of God and cannot always capture things of divine origins."

Me: "Lord, I have a small white porcelain horse next to a porcelain figure of Rebecca drawing water from a well. The sun illuminated all of it with a bright halo sparkle. I took a photo and the halo sparkle is gone. It is dull."

Jesus: "Again, this confirms what I have said. Unless My Spirit is in it, it is dull and lacks, understand?"

Me: "Lord, I am sorry. I have become so discouraged. I am alone a lot now. My husband is now working full-time. All the kids are working. I feel lonely at times. My burdens have been heavy and I am worrying more. I have begun to separate from the things of this life. So many are lonely. Our children have said they are lonely. I worry about my sons. My older son relies on online communication with old friends."

Jesus: "Yes, I know. However, you are not to worry. I am with you. I am with your sons and daughters. I am also with your husband, your friends and their children and families. Do not worry. The world is growing colder. This is more so to you as you are not of the world. I know you are concerned that your dreams are just a chasing. I know you struggle individually to find understanding.

"You are scared at times and bold at other times. You are frustrated because you feel unable to speak right now until I call you to. You are in the middle of a season of study as I have called you to observe the deeds of the wicked and their patterns. I have shown you that there is a shadow government. You see them grow in great authority and deception.

"However, this is allowed in order to fulfill the prophecies written thousands of years ago in My Word. This is not an easy time to be raised up in as you see evil increase with great speed. Erin, the writing is on the wall. Now, I have given you a thousand dreams (when personal ones are included). This is to record all you have been shown. Some is what occurs later when the wicked are enduring Great Tribulation.

"However, a greater portion of your dreams shows you the beautiful place that is your True Home in Heaven, as well as what comes leading up to the days of troubles of many kinds. Much of these you have written down for a later time. In all of these, you have trusted Me. You have trusted Me to fulfill My promises contained in them. You must continue to trust Me.

"Erin, these dreams are not a chasing. You scribe what I lead you on in faith. You must then also believe that I will fulfill these on My time. You must also know that, when you are given numbers in dreams, these do not always signify dates. While sometimes they do, they are often a day count or a Biblical count. These are things you are to leave with Me as you are not a number counter. At least this has not been your prayer."

Me: "I didn't know I should pray for this. Should I? No, I am not a numbers person."

Jesus: "I have not called you for this. I have called you for other purposes. Now, I fully plan to revive the land, restore My Church and raise up My people. When I do:

- Chains will fall off.
- Debts will be removed.
- Tattoos and piercings, the markings of slaves, will dissolve.
- Those addicted to the things of this world will be set free.
- Healing will begin.
- A great transfer of wealth will occur.
- Things lost will be found.
- Questions unanswered will be known.
- The dead will confess.
- The wicked will run to hide.

"Erin, a great wave of healing is coming... but first, the sign of Jonah..."

Me: "Are You speaking of the coming Three Days of Darkness, Lord?"

Jesus: "I want you to study your position on this for better understanding. Look at the Word I gave you in reference to this."

Matthew 12:38-41: "Then some of the scribes and Pharisees answered Him, saying, "Teacher, we wish to see a sign from You." But He answered them, "An evil and adulterous generation seeks for a sign, but no sign will be given to it except the sign of the prophet Jonah. For just as Jonah was three days and three nights in the belly of the great fish, so will the Son of Man be three days and three nights in the heart of the Earth. The men of Nineveh will rise up at the judgment with this generation and condemn it, for they repented at the preaching of Jonah, and behold, something greater than Jonah is here.”

Me: “When You spoke this, You had not yet been in Sheol for three days and then raised up. When You died, You were given the keys to death and hades. 5000 dead were raised up and appeared. As for Jonah, it would have been impossible for Jonah to live three days in the belly of a whale without supernatural assistance. There is no oxygen there, just methane gas. He would have died.

“In the Scripture in Jonah, he cried out to You from the belly... ‘I called out of my distress to the Lord, and He answered me. I cried for help from the depth of Sheol, and He heard my voice.’ Later in the text, he says... ‘but You have brought up my life from the pit.’ He later says... ‘Arise, go to Nineveh.’

“Lord, did Jonah die in the belly and then You raised him up? If that is the case, then Your death and resurrection on the Cross is the sign of Jonah that saved the world.” I then added the following in a teasing manner... “Well, if that is the case, what exactly are You now waiting for?”

Jesus: “Do not panic, Erin. I just wanted you to study the sign of Jonah with greater clarity.”

Me: “So, is it possible that You raise up Your Elect for three days to be with You and the world thinks we are all dead? Is it possible that You then send down Your Elect to save all these people who are just like Ninevites?”

Jesus: “I have no restraints. I can call for revival at any time. I am God and can do all things. Can you, with all clarity, right now, call all the people of the Earth Ninevites? I can understand calling those who remain after the Rapture Ninevites, but this is not right now. Is there no one worthy of revival right now?”

Me: “Oh Lord, You are so brilliant. You were the sign of Jonah. There are still many people here in need of miracles who will be part of the healing. We know many great people who just don’t know you. This is a relief, Lord.”

Jesus: “Erin, I am shedding some light on My Words here. I just want you to understand what is being said. I just want you to have discernment here. I can bring revival to the land at any moment. Pray! I can heal and change you at any moment. Pray and be ready. Remember that there are signs everywhere for you to look."

Me: "So, will there be Three Days of Darkness? Will You put the world to sleep and show some Your goodness and the wicked their plight? Will You then awake everyone up from their slumber? For some, will healing then come?"

Jesus: "How about you pray on all of this? Please know that you are greatly loved. I will not delay in doing good. I come at the Appointed Time. I am the Light of the world. My light is in you. You therefore shine with My flame and this is eternal. No one can extinguish My flame. I am the light of the world. Whoever follows Me will never walk in darkness, but will have the light of life."

Me: "Then turn up our lamps, Lord. Shine through us. Revive our land. Oh Lord, do not forget about Your people. We love You. Those who do not know they need You yet love You but do not know it yet. While You are not constrained by time, we are. We live and die by the clock."

Jesus: "No, you are not on the time of the clock. You are on My time. I am with you. Your prayer is good. You are loved. Reread the Scriptures."

Me: "Lord, better yet, can You simply give us a date and a time?"

Jesus: "I could, but I won't. There is an Appointed Time. Now trust in the God of all Creation. He loves you, as do I!"

Dream over.

652 – We Are Awaiting God’s Due Time

Received on Sunday, December 4, 2022

Communion

Dear Father,

You are the God of all wonders. You are beyond all we can see and all we cannot see. Great and marvelous are Your works. You deliver us. You have compassion and mercy. You grant Your people water for our thirst. You nourish our souls with food that satisfies our hunger.

This morning, my communion elements tasted off. The ice wine was watered down and the cracker did not satisfy. Father, while I know this is an act of communion with You, things are now different. When I asked You about this, I could hear Your clear confident voice:

Jesus: “My voice is in you. We are as one. As we are now in continual communion, the elements are symbols only. These are no longer the same.”

Father, I am struggling greatly right now. I ask You for a miracle beyond miracles. I am boldly asking. Something happened to a member of our family back in Washington State. My children’s cousin was in a deep sleep when a fire started somewhere in his home. His grandmother heard the fire alarms and escaped through a basement door. However, the main floor was quickly engulfed in flames.

When he woke up from his deep sleep, the flames had already overcome him. He passed out on the floor. The fire and police arrived at the same time his girlfriend did. She ignored their warnings and rushed into the house. She found him and dragged his body out onto the porch. The firemen then began lifesaving CPR. He was gone. However, they were then able to bring him back.

He was then airlifted to the Harborview Medical Burn Unit in Seattle WA. He is now in critical condition and fighting for his life. He is just a bit younger than my daughter. The kids heard more about this from their dad. He has been keeping them up to date. Their cousin’s lungs are badly blistered, as well as his hands, arms and torso. He is a kind and handsome young man and this is devastating.

Father, I never want to question Your methods as clearly You are above all things. I realize that being thrown into the furnace here for a few moments, relatively speaking, is better than the eternal place of fire. What a horrific thing to endure. Father, I am greatly humbled and thankful for each moment here. I am thankful that You reserve the best things for us so we can enjoy these for eternity.

All we see here will eventually be burned up. In the meantime, these things break, wear out or get thrown out. So, who am I to question Your methods for giving us eternal life. I spent many years questioning all my losses and senseless attacks by my enemies. Looking back though, I now see it all as necessary. You know the ending from the beginning. Even my past mistakes were not mistakes.

I wasn't a mistake. You don't make mistakes. What I thought was chaos was instead actually planned for Your glory. This life is not meant to be for our comfort. In this life, we search for comfort. We search for something to take away the pain of this place. In this life, you could be enjoying a peaceful moment with loved ones and, in a second, a quick moment, all can change.

During my troubles and trials, I clung to Your promises. Psalms, Job and Isaiah all helped tremendously as I often was in tears. I open my Bible for comfort and the pages often open here. That is when You reminded me that You have a plan for my life. Isaiah 43 was the Rock I clung to in these great storms. In Isaiah 44, You then reminded me that You also have a plan for my children.

So many children around the world are being lost right now. Churches are the last place they turn to when they struggle. This is because none of them want to be judged. They don't want to be judged on their appearance or sins. They have learned to do only that which makes them feel good. Their savior then becomes their friends on social media. Their misery is vindicated there even as they fall prey to victimhood.

So many youth today act as wounded soldiers from battlefields they never fought on. They then claim they know it because a friend of a friend experienced this. Last night, on my older son's birthday, my husband and I had to attend his Christmas dinner from his new employer. We really couldn't bow out. We sat across the table from one of my husband's coworkers. She is 24 and her boyfriend is 27.

I had been warned that her boyfriend doesn't talk much. Well, I viewed this as a challenge. I asked him many questions about his profession as a diesel mechanic. We ended discussing various things for almost an hour and a half. It helped that I had some knowledge about his company and the tools he used. I was able to name a bunch of his obscure tools, much to his pleasant surprise.

The 24-year-old female coworker of my husband's is heavily tattooed. She shared (what was to her) a nightmare that all the tattoos on her body suddenly bubbled up and fell off her skin. She said it terrified her since she loves her tattoos. I felt this was a sign from You, Father, that she and her boyfriend will be saved. You are in their lives doing a work. Please bless them and keep them close to You, including their young daughter.

When we arrived home last night, we celebrated my older son's 25th birthday. He was only 14 when these dreams began. Since then, his autism has worsened. He struggles with social skills. He has regressed in age and seemed much more mature back when he was 14. We need a miracle. Father, he loves You and that is, in itself, a miracle in this day and age. My dreams were so unusual last week.

Sub-Dream 1 "Ordering a Death Sentence for Elon Musk"

I was viewing Elon Musk making a speech. So many of the behaviors he has I see reflected in my sons. Of course, this public figure is higher functioning on the autism scale than my boys. In this dream (and certainly in real life), several powerful people were calling for his death. It was so real that I started to pray for his protection.

Sub-Dream 1 over.

Sub-Dream 2 "The Mirrored Museum of Final Days"

I decided to visit an obscure museum. It was labeled 'The Museum of Final Days'. It was also abbreviated to read 'The MoFD Institute'. After paying the price for a ticket of admission, I now found myself in an elaborate house of mirrors. I then began to walk down a corridor of mirrors. I saw events on mirrored panels both to my left and to my right. I then heard the voice of the Lord.

Jesus: "Erin, look forward. Do not look to the left or to the right."

After walking awhile, I was becoming confused as to where I was going. To my right, I saw an ex-President of the United States with his arms crossed. I turned to look and a hall of mirrors opened. One scene popped up and then another. It beckoned for me to come into the direction of the hall of mirrors. I did not. I immediately went forward again. I then entered a room labeled 'The Last 12 Days'. I went to the Lord with this.

Me: "Lord, can You please take me out of here? I don't like it."

Jesus: "Step forward."

I then stepped forward as directed. For each day, a corridor opened to the right or to the left. Down each of these paths were 12 mirrored panels of events.

Jesus: "Look forward to the exit sign. It is right before you."

I could see the exit sign straight ahead. I walked out of this hall of mirrors.

Sub-Dream 2 over.

Sub-Dream 3 "All Things Arrive in Their Due Time"

I was in a quaint mountain village. While I am not sure as to exactly where I was, this town reminded me of Banff, Alberta, Canada. I was there to visit an elderly couple who had invited me. When I arrived, their house was facing the main street. It was a brown log house from the outside. While the outside seemed old, the inside of this house was completely modern. The elderly couple welcomed me in.

Woman: "There is a reason I have called you here. I have something for you."

She was just mounting a painting in a frame. I could see that there was one painting towards me and another painting on the backside of this. This secondary painting was being used as a mounting for the back of the frame. This was highly unusual and something I had never seen done before... and for good reason.

Woman: "The top painting is by Van Gogh and the mounting board painting is by Henri de Toulouse-Lautrec."

Me: "Both of these are quite valuable."

Woman: "Yes. These are now in your care."

Me: "I don't understand. Why are you covering up the Toulouse-Lautrec painting?"

Woman: "Dear, it is not what appears on the surface that is of value. Often what is beneath or hidden from view is where the value is. As for your value, it is that which cannot be seen."

Me: "Thank you, but I am still confused. What is the use in hiding this painting? Isn't it better to reveal all that is hidden?"

Woman: "Yes, but in Due Time, dear. In the meantime, this is yours."

The woman handed me the paintings.

Me: "While I still don't fully understand, thank you."

Woman: "I know, I know... changes are difficult."

Me: "What does 'Due Time' mean in this context? When is this 'Due Time'? What changes are you referring to?"

Woman: "All has come due now. The time is now. Wake up, dear, wake up! Everything changes."

I woke up suddenly from the dream and immediately looked at my hands. Nothing had changed. I wasn't changed. I laughed at my eagerness for all of this to finally begin.

Sub-Dream 3 over.

Father, this has been a difficult year for us. Actually, the last several years have been difficult. There are times I feel strong in Your presence and other times weak. I don't like this world much anymore. Evil is rising and seems to be winning. Well up in us, Father. Don't forget Your people. Things are becoming more difficult.

A woman in Canada with a disability needed an electric step riser to be more mobile. Workers were supposed to show up several different times, but never did. When the woman complained, a local official contacted her and strongly suggested to her that she consider assisted medical suicide instead.

Me: "Oh Father, the times have become so wicked and perilous. Anyone who is considered weak or unbeneficial to society, as defined by the wicked elite, are being targeted for, as they call it, 'the beauty of death'. How wicked! Father, please stop this. Oh Lord, when will 'Due Time' finally arrive?"

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "Erin, I am here and I am with you. 'Due Time' is God's timing. A pregnant woman gives birth in Due Time. It is an expected date by the parties involved, but it is the perfect due date planned in advance by God. Due Time can only be changed by the hands of God.

"Now, you see that the plans of the wicked are lofty against the people of the Earth. However, God lifts up the righteous in Due Time, alone with Heavenly Hosts, to execute judgment against the wicked. However, prior to this has come a change of course that is widespread upon the nations.

"The harvest is being winnowed and the chaff is being separated from the grain. The useless part of the grain, the chaff, is then sent into the fire. It is written that My winnowing fork is in My hand and I will clear My threshing floor and gather My wheat into the barn. It is also written that the chaff will be burnt with an unquenchable fire.

"You are My worker. Erin, you are My harvester. Still, you must understand that it is I who holds the winnowing fork. A great day of harvesting will come because, with healing, miracles, debts paid, the lost found and that which was dead comes back to life, there will be wave after wave of joy, laughter and tears. Erin, a Great Wave of Change and Separation are coming.

"During this time, My harvesters will have divine strength. Erin, you are a part of My harvesters and will have divine strength like Jacob and his sons. Because I am in you, so too will your strength come from Me. While you have a hard time seeing what I am seeing, I now give you notice that the fields are ripe for harvesting."

Me: "But, Lord, the fields are barren and desolate from droughts. Winter has come. The ground is frozen. What is harvestable?"

Jesus: "Ah yes, this is perfect conditions. What makes perfect conditions for a farmer's crop harvest is in due season. You can track this on a calendar. However, the harvesting of souls and their preparations are under harsh conditions. Remember that the illustration of this is through your ice wine. These are harvested in difficult conditions and need to be well timed or an entire generation is lost."

Me: "So, Lord, what will happen?"

Jesus: "The least of these will receive great things. Healing. Things impossible will be visible. People given the worst news will see great changes. The next group will then witness this and then inquire of Me. This is just the first two. There are many. The harvest is plentiful, but the workers few.

"Now, I know that many dates have come and gone that make sense to you and other watchers on My Nest. However, you must understand that a great humbling had to come before the miracles are seen by those who have suffered."

Me: "Oh Lord, the Festival of Lights is soon to come."

Jesus: "Yes, it is. Keep My lamp burning, Erin. You worry about many things and you are tired. You see what is coming upon the people and you hate liars and thieves. You see the wicked progress in their plans. Remember though that I see all things. While they might seem to be winning, the Day of Truth is coming and, with this, My Recompense. There can be no reconciliation without truth.

“While the wicked can declare a holiday named after this, they are deceivers and liars. They will be exposed for all they have done. With truth comes great healing. The atmosphere changes because evil hates the exposure of their agendas. Their schemes will force them to flee into darkness. They have no fear of the dark, only of the light.”

Me: “Oh Lord, please have all of this happen soon!”

Jesus: “In ‘Due Time’. Do not worry or be afraid. My winnowing fork is by My side. This Great Day is coming.

“Do not worry as I am here, even at the door! I love you!”

Dream over.

653 - The Great Physician is Soon to Arrive

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day! Thank You for protecting us and showering us with Your love. Your mercies are beautiful and Your grace is abundant. My heart is filled with joy because You have captured me. I love You. Great are Your works.

You are our Father in all things. I read an article from a Jewish Messianic site a couple of days ago and kept the theme in my heart. Over the last few days, You have placed this front and center. I had a dream last night.

Sub-Dream 1 "The Great Physician Heals Erin's Eyes"

As I have spoken about before, I have a vascular tumor on my optic nerve in my brain. It is stable. In this dream, I had an appointment to see an eye specialist. His office was just off the lobby of a massive convention center. Because the doctor was running tests, he asked that someone drive me to the appointment.

When I asked my mom to do this for me, she eagerly agreed to drive me. This was odd as it is almost 7.5 years since she died in 2015. When I arrived at my appointment, my mom elected not to go in. She instead waited by one of the sets of several glass double doors. When I entered, they were not ready for me yet.

They told me to stand to the side. I saw two patients wrapped in brown/tan ace sport bandages. The bandages were wrapped around their eyes. These two patients were forced to lay on top of a small chair across a folding card table. A short while later, the doctor came over to me...

Doctor: "Are you Erin?"

Me: "Yes."

Doctor: "Great! We are just preparing the operatory. We will be removing the cataracts from both of your eyes today. We can then have that consultation. Let your ride know. You did arrange for a ride?"

Me: "Yes. She is in the lobby."

Doctor: "Good. Let her know she needs to be back in about ten minutes."

The doctor put his mask on and began to work. Suddenly, I became aware that my purse was lighter. I looked down and my wallet was missing. I looked everywhere. I went out to the massive busy lobby, but could not see it anywhere. I became worried, so I went to the massive round convention counter in the lobby. I saw two women working there. I went over to speak to them.

Me: "Has anyone turned in a large black wallet?"

One of the two women came up to me and held up two cards.

Woman: "Are these yours?"

I didn't recognize either of these as being from my wallet.

Me: "I am sorry, but I don't recognize either of these two cards."

Woman: "Great answer. We were testing you. This is because neither of these two cards were from your wallet. Since you passed, here is your wallet."

Me: "Thank you! My name is..."

Woman: Interrupting me. "Yes, your name is Erin. I know. I looked. You look like the ID picture in your wallet."

She then handed me my wallet. It was stuffed and rounded like a pop can. Even though it was in an unusual shape, I knew it was my wallet. I then turned to the glass double doors to find my mom. I could not find her. She was gone. I then realized that it was a miracle that she was even with me to begin with.

I then proceeded back to the eye doctor. They were waiting for me. I really didn't want the procedure as the place didn't seem high-tech at all. I turned around the corner and there was a flash of light. The doctor then addressed me.

Doctor: "Well, Erin, you are healed. No cause for alarm. You are free to go."

I couldn't believe how well I could suddenly see. My sight was now crystal clear.

Me: "But how?"

Doctor: "You had an express procedure called 'The Apple of My Eye'." He then pointed up to Heaven. "It is the best technology and comes with the fastest recovery time. Oh yes... and there is no charge. I must now get back to the patients who prefer the painful procedures. Oh yes... we sent your mom back home. She knew you would do well. She will see you at Home."

Me: Smiling. "Thank you."

Doctor: "You had the best Physician here. Take care and do great things!"

I then left in shock and awe. I could now see things through a supernatural lens. My eyes had been changed. Through them, I had great knowledge and keen awareness. The clarity of my sight was easily ten times greater than it had been. I had such clarity that I knew it was a miracle.

Sub-Dream 1 over.

I woke up from this dream so grateful. My doctor is phoning me tomorrow with his plan for my eyes. However, this dream made me feel like God will heal me first.

Me: "Father, thank You in advance for all things. What does this mean?"

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "Erin, I am here and I am with you. You are the apple of My eye and your eyes are the windows of your soul. Cloudy windows obscure sight. I will therefore remove the cloudiness. I know you have struggled in many areas physically:

- You struggle to sleep.
- You struggle to rest your head.
- You struggle with weakness in your hands and arms.
- You struggle with deep pain from your battles. These are like scars that remain visible at times.

"Erin, you are the apple of My eye. I bless those who are kind to you and I thwart the plans of those who curse you. Your great day of change and healing is coming. Your appointment is on God's Calendar. Do you need an appointment alert?"

Me: "Yes, please! What time is the appointment? I look forward to this. Lord, could You heal my kid's burnt cousin miraculously? Could You, Father?"

Jesus: "Do not worry, Erin, as I will heal him! Now, I want you to be encouraged. Besides being an Eye Surgeon, I am also a Heart Transplant Surgeon. I can change hearts in an instant. Give Me all your concerns and be anxious for nothing as I am with you. It is I who is over all things. You should have comfort knowing that I am with you in all these battles.

"I go before you. I am beside you. I take up your rear guard. I am your Cover, your Tent. Where your feet step, this is Holy Ground. This is not because you make it so, but because I, through you, make your feet beautiful and your steps carry Good News. Now rejoice today, Erin, as your healing is near. I love you!"

Me: "I love You, Lord. Please heal the many that I am praying for... both my family and my Nest family."

Jesus: "I have heard your requests and they are good. You are in good standing."

Dream over.

654 – From the Great Commission to the Great Harvest

Dear Father,

Thank You for my dreams. Thank You for Your great love, mercy and peace. While the world has made me anxious, Your Spirit in me comforts my soul. The last few years have brought great sorrow and uncertainty. However, You remind me that You are greater than all of this. Lord, Your plans are steadfast and sure and Your resolve... Your resolution... is all written in the Bible and on the tablets of our hearts.

Right now, I see troubles mounting and rampant sin across the nations. However, I remember that You never once promised us 'easy'. This is not an easy road. However, You did promise that You would go before us. You are also beside us, You take up our rearguard and You are a cover over us... a Chuppah. This all brings me to an important question... what does Your Bride look like?

Well, Your Bride is not a quiet passive young girl awaiting her prince and competing for her crown. While there may be some of this, it is only a little. No! Instead, His Bride consists of warriors, fighters who have gone through the furnace of affliction. Woven gold is what the Bride is adorned in (Psalm 45). She is greatly loved and adored by the King. In turn, she is faithful and true.

I am so grateful to have all of my children with me. In addition, I have my husband and his two children. Our house is full of much laughter and peace. This is so much in contrast to my prior Christmases back out west. My enemy was always so clever. He would falsely claim the weather was bad so that he could keep the kids for Christmas. Well, at least I had Zoey! I had quite a dream last night.

Sub-Dream 1 "Whisked Away from the Darkness" begins...

I was in a similar store to Home Goods / TJ Maxx. It seemed like a resort area of either La Jolla, California or north of this. Perhaps Carmel by the Sea or Monterey. While I wasn't sure where I was, I knew that I was in a very wealthy area. When I looked in my cart, I noticed that I had three items from a home accessory line that I once carried at my shop. The place was very busy.

I had a very large glass platter about 30" in diameter. I also had two decorative bases in stone, sometimes referred to as a plinth. While in the dream, these were exactly what I was looking for, in real life, I am not looking for these at all. Then all of a sudden the place went dark. The woman at the cash register then made an announcement in a very loud voice.

Cashier: "Nobody panic. I received a message that this blackout would only last around four minutes or so."

We all stood there waiting for the four minutes to pass. Once four minutes had passed, the cashier received another message about the blackout.

Cashier: "I just received a notice on my phone that this blackout will last sometime between four hours and four days. In order to compensate for the inconvenience, feel free to take whatever is in your carts for free."

I suddenly heard fighting and movement. While I could not see, I knew it was the sound of customers loading mass quantities of goods into their carts and fleeing the store. I then heard the manager scream out directions to the staff.

Manager: "Anarchy! We have anarchy! All associates to the front."

I didn't want my goods for free, so I left my cart and went outside. Alarms were triggered everywhere. There was so much chaos. Despite this, I was still able to find the market where I knew one of my friends were working. I found her by calling out her name. After recognizing my voice, she called back to me.

Friend: "Anarchy has come. The government has collapsed. We must find shelter."

Me: "Don't worry. Stay with me."

Just then, two angels of the Lord appeared.

Angel 1: "Come, we must take you to the mountain. There you will receive your directives."

Angel 2: "Do not worry or be afraid. God is over all of this. The government is not over God, God is over them. God appoints and raises up leaders. Therefore, God can then also remove them."

The angels reached for our hands and we were immediately at an encampment of tents.

Angel 1: "Welcome to Remnant Boot Camp!"

We looked at our feet. Suddenly we had no shoes.

Angel 2: "You are on Holy Ground. You will soon wear boots for the Ground Game!"

Me: "You are speaking in mysteries."

Angel 2: "You will soon understand. Great will be your joy. Come, let us go to your tent."

He walked us up to a glowing tent. There were fires and music and laughter. The excitement was everywhere.

Friend: "I would rather be here than down there. This is fun!"

Angel 1: "Wait until you receive your gifts, instructions and the Great Rally of the Remnant. Now, come with me."

He turned and reached for my hand. I woke up suddenly. While I still felt the impression of a physical hand, there was nothing there when I awoke.

Dear Father,

Thank You for the fresh white snow. It covers dirt, gravel, mud and brown grass. Brown and grey tree branches become white and only dark green pine trees stand out. It is beautiful. You took what was not very pretty and covered it with pure white sparkling snow. The other interesting characteristic of snow is a supernatural quietness. Oh Father, thank You so much for this.

There are so many things to be thankful for right now in the midst of such sorrow. We are living in the last days. On this, the first evening of Hannukah, we are living in the light of His coming. Father, You handpicked us for these times. This means we can be assured that You will be our strength and our shield.

I experienced a feeling when my heart stopped. It was a strong feeling for three days and a subtle one for the next four days. This is called 'The Silver Strand Concept'. This is where my Spirit and my soul had not fully lined back up to my earthly body. I know some may say this is 'new age', but it is not. There was something about this that was truly remarkable and will be one all us warriors of God will soon have permanently.

Father, this is a euphoric feeling of being in Your Perfect Will. I was in Your presence and then strengthened supernaturally. There was a connection, a strand, that made me keenly aware of my place. I had no fear of death nor of man, even bill collectors. Little children would laugh and talk with me. Even babies would wave at me. Animals were visiting me. While it was fun, it ended after seven days. I had a vivid dream last night.

Sub-Dream 2 "Weak Christians tormented by Demons" begins...

My husband and I were Christmas shopping at a mall somewhere. We saw the grand opening of a new store. It was massive and full of customers.

Me: "These people must be wealthy."

My husband: "How do you know that?"

Me: "Because the walls are covered in tin ceiling tiles and all painted light green. The floor is wide wood planks and whitewashed. This is all very expensive."

As we walked around, we were both shocked when an old enemy approached us. She had never been nice to me or my husband unless she wanted something from us.

Enemy: "So, what do you think of our new venture? We are extremely successful."

My husband: "Congratulations. I hope it all works well."

He then reached for my hand and guided me out of the store. We then came back a few days later. We noticed that all of her center displays and home goods were gone. There were only perimeter racks of clothing. There was very little inventory for customers to purchase. It was very odd.

We then came back a few days later and now the store was boarded up. We noticed another store to the left and went in there. To our surprise, there was our enemy. She was there with her husband and several employees. Somehow I knew they were on her payroll and consisted of three engineers and an IT person. They were working in an old dirty bathroom that I knew must have been a public restroom at one time.

This new store was less stocked than the last store. The store consisted of old used items. These were things from the owner's personal property that they were trying to sell as new. There was a lot of old dated items there for sale. They were priced unusually high. My enemy must have noticed me as I then saw her duck behind the counter. I decided to approach her.

Me: "Hello."

Enemy: "Oh hello there. My husband and I have an important meeting about our plans to expand our business through franchising. We have to run, hon."

After she left, her employees became emboldened to talk uninhibited. I was within range to hear them, but I could tell that they didn't care if I could.

Sales Associate: "Good. We can finally make some money."

Engineer: "Are they gone yet?"

Sales Associate: "Yes, they are gone."

Engineer: "What a relief."

My husband: "How can the owner afford to pay your high salaries?"

Engineer: "We are only here to drain their efforts into the toilet. That is why we agreed to work in the bathroom."

My husband and I then realized we were in the midst of a demonic stronghold.

Me: "Why have you targeted this woman and her husband?"

IT Tech: "They are all about their presence on social media and their popularity. Their reputation and status are more important to them than serving God. We were all given the green light to erode all of their assets. Even so, they have still not turned to God. Instead, they blame all of their troubles on anything but themselves. They blame the engineers, the salespeople, the customers, the location and even the social media. Well, you get it. They blame everything but their own part in this."

Me: "Why is that?"

Engineer: "They believe they deserve certain entitlements. They believe they deserve certain perks that others don't deserve. They play the victim and cry over how they have been wronged. However, they do not see themselves at all. They refuse to believe that God would chastise them for anything. As a result, they fail to see the plans He has for them. This is great for us though. We enjoy engineering all of this. We have even convinced them that they need us to succeed even though there are signs everywhere on who exactly we are working for. They do not see it."

They all laughed at this couple's ignorance. They were clearly enjoying themselves.

Sales Associate: "We have had a busy season. Well, really, a busy last few years. It has been a great harvest of victimhood. We don't even have to do much at all." They all laughed. "We have been given great commissions from our boss to spiritually bankrupt Christians. Get it... great commissions... as in 'The Great Commission'."

They all laughed at the pun, but I was not very happy with them.

Me: "Well, laugh now, but soon God will be making some great changes. He will clean house. You will move from the bath to the sewer."

They laughed again. I looked over at my husband and he looked as angry as I was at their mocking of God's Great Commission.

Engineer: In a mocking singing tone. "Soon, soon, soon! Hilarious. Guess what? 'SOON' backwards is 'NOOS'E, you just need to add the 'E'. Well, guess what, the 'E' stands for Erin and you will soon be hanging from the end of it (that is, a noose)."

All of them singing in unison (so demonic): "Soon, soon, soon, soon..."

Just then, and in an instant, a flash of light came and all of these evil entities were gone and all was cleaned up. The entire place was straightened and restored. Their cash register was filled again and only new items were now for sale. While they were not given back the fancy store, God made do with their current place and paid their debts. My husband and I waited until my enemy and her husband returned. They both broke down and humbled themselves before God when they had seen what He had done.

Enemy: "Oh Lord, we are so sorry. We repent for our pride. We are so thankful to be set free."

My husband and I then walked away as we knew that this time was for them to communicate with our Father in Heaven.

Sub-Dream 2 over.

Father, this dream reminded me that You are our Light and that Your flame is burning in us. This is the first night of Hannukah. Will You bless Your people and let Your miracles shine upon us? Please let Your glory be upon us. May Your miracles be upon us on full display.

An evil former President of the USA just declared that Israel has no right to Jerusalem as there is no evidence. He declared this on the first evening of Hannukah in front of the United Nations. This man is an Abomination and will soon be even more so!

Me: "The enemy longs to strip Your people of Your promises! His 'great commission' is to lie, deceive, hate, divide and take away hope. While the enemy, the oppressor, promises imprisonment, You promise freedom and deliverance from the shackles of this world. Jesus is our Savior and our Home is in Heaven. Praise You always, Father!"

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "Erin, I am here and I am with you. How are you today?"

Me: "Glad to be here with You, Lord."

Jesus: "Yes, but I mean physically."

Me: "I awoke late today. I had a deep sleep, a sleep I truly needed. However, my body feels as if I had taken muscle relaxants or medication. I am comfortable, but I am not sure why. Am I being healed, Lord? Oh please, please!"

Jesus: "While you have had quite a last few weeks, I am with you. You are speaking to Me more."

Me: "Yes, Lord. I pray for something, even the small things, and You answer immediately. For instance, parking spots. This has happened at least five times. I have prayed and then I get the best ones possible, close to the store's door."

Jesus: "Well, it has been more than five. You only started counting when you recognized the miracle. While I could go back to about ten, who is counting?"

Me: "You are, Lord! Thank You! Lord, we are fighting illness again in our home. Please keep us from getting sick again. With three of our household working at retail stores and our youngest still at school, they come in contact with a lot of sick people. Please heal all of us. Only You can keep us well. Heal so many around the world so that they know You as our Healer and Deliver!"

Jesus: "Your prayer is good. Do not worry as I am in control of all things."

Me: "All of the sickness we are experiencing right now on the Nest, is there some divine purpose for this? So many are sick right now and we pray for so many. Is this so we can better relate to the lost and their ailments when our time comes?"

Jesus: "It is important that those who are used by God understand what it is like to encounter trials and tribulations of many kinds. This is so you have the Apple of your eye look to them with compassion. Then they see it in your eyes that I am with you. The suffering take comfort in this and have trust.

"Isn't this also what made the Great Commission great? It is because those who were with Me experienced much of what I did because they were witnesses. They too were able to make disciples. So, what is the difference between the Great Commission then and the Great Harvest now?"

Me: "This is for the lost?"

Jesus: "While true, so too was the Great Commission. It is simple: the Great Commission was to appoint a long-term group of those called of God to call forth and disciple those God called them to. As I said in My Word:

"All authority has been given to Me in Heaven and on Earth; go therefore and make disciples of all nations, baptizing them in the Name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit; teaching them to observe all things.

"Erin, I am with you always, even to the end of the age. So, here I gave instructions to eleven of my disciples to go forth throughout the nations and spread My Words and make followers, disciples. This is a directive that takes time. Now let us focus on the Great Harvest. While this is similar to the Great Commission in some ways, what do you think of when you think of harvest?"

Me: "I think of a farmer who has already prepared the field, planted the seeds and now prays for rain and sun. The crops are then harvested in the proper season."

Jesus: "Okay, so, do you see the difference here?"

Me: Yes! There is a due season to harvest. There is a planned block of time. If harvest comes too soon, the crops are then not ready. If the harvest comes too late, the crops will rot on the vine or in the field. There is a proper time."

Jesus: "Very good. This is why you have heard of massive harvest of soul events. However, these are only few and far between. These are prayer rallies to instruct the lost to be saved again. These have been rare over the last decade. Why?"

Me: "Well, a decade is the same as ten years. The enemy was given special permission ten years ago. This happened in late December of 2012. Perhaps it is because You have a greater event coming and You are saving it for this?"

Jesus: "Very good, Erin, as this is not going to be just a small harvest. Erin, this will be unlike anything the world has ever seen. Because of this, the enemy fights against My chosen people and My Word. My Word is Holy and inclusive" I felt the last two words were making light of our current woke culture. "... yet I convict sin. I am just and I look at the heart. I will not flee to the sewer nor will I be unclean.

"Instead, I make all things new. My blessing is like the storehouses of snow in Heaven. These will soon open upon the nations. I will take the sins of the people and I will wash them clean. I will make them as white as snow. Great will be the celebration, not only in Heaven, but on Earth. Up until now, My miracles have been small in comparison to what I am about to do.

"You are in My protection and under My cover. I am the destroyer of your enemies. With Me, you will find rest. I will protect you from every snare of the fowler and of deadly disease. I will cover you with My feathers. You will be under My wings. I am the Shield of David and My Armor of protection also covers you.

"I will now strengthen you so you are no longer afraid of terrors at night nor the arrow that flies by day. No evil will touch you. You have made Me your refuge and strength, your help in all troubles. As the mountains quake and fall into the sea, as the ground shakes, as the waters surge, as the mighty hills dissolve into the heart of the sea, I am yours and I am your shelter.

"Angels are with you wherever you step. You will not be hurt. Anything your feet steps on will be as if stepping on Holy Ground. This means your feet will be anointed and will crush the vipers and even the lions. Erin, these promises from Me are true. I am in you. My voice speaks within you. Now, this I have promised:

- I will rescue you because you love Me.
- I will protect you because you trust in Me.
- When you call upon Me, I will answer.
- I will be with you in trouble.

- I will rescue you and honor you.
- I will reward you with My glory.
- I will give you My salvation.

Me: "Lord, I love You. Please do all You have promised. You are our salvation, our deliverance, our healing, our prosperity and our welfare. You bring our recompense with You. You are our King and our Groom!"

Jesus: "I am about to do something in your days you would not believe even if I told you! Rejoice, Erin, as miracles are coming."

Dream over.

655 - The Main Course is About to Be Served

Communion

Dear Father,

You are my wonderful Treasure and Best Friend! I love You dearly. I hear Your Voice in me and it is wonderful. The moment I worry, Your Voice speaks comfort. When I am upset about something, You are always there to say, 'Erin, I see it. I know. Stand down. Very soon. Very soon.' I had a dream last night...

Sub-Dream 1 "Overwhelmed by the Main Course" begins...

I was walking in a massive church. It was fancy with many sanctuaries, chapels and banquet halls. While there had been many chambers to hold funerals, these had been converted into banquet gathering rooms and prayer meeting rooms. I was there to prepare a five-course meal for a banquet. Right away, I had the ending course, dessert, all planned out. I then began to prepare appetizers.

There was bread, soup and then three types of salad to accommodate the pickiest of eaters. However, I soon realized that I was struggling greatly with what to do with the main course. While I excelled at the dessert and even the other three courses, I had to give the main course to God. Quite simply, I didn't have a clue as to what I should serve as the main course.

Sub-Dream 1 over.

Father, this was a very vivid and stressful dream. This is because I did not know many of the guests at the banquet. I felt that this had nothing to do with cooking.

As for our current predicament, a big storm is forecast for tomorrow. This is stressful as many in our household are working or at activities. Father, could You please send the storm out to sea tonight and let it miss us. The house is also beginning to battle illnesses again. With so many working in retail, it is difficult.

People are out shopping while they are sick. Sigh... I can't blame them. Years ago, I had to shop at the tail end of the flu two days before Christmas.

It was on a Saturday. I had only the one day where the kids were visiting family. Oh, was it miserable.

Me: "Oh Lord, please protect us. Please protect my Nest friends. They are so very dear to our hearts. Without this Nest, we would feel so isolated. I believe many here on the Nest feel the same way."

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "Erin, I am here and I am with you. I know you are discouraged right now as you ask Me many questions. When you are hopeful for a date for the great change, you have a heaviness of sorrow when that date passes uneventfully. You have the same heaviness when you see foreign invaders, people stealing, the elderly beaten and missing children. You then ask Me if I see it and when will I do something.

"Now, about your dream. In your dream, you were preparing a five-course meal. You immediately knew what the crowning glory would be... the end dish... dessert. You were so excited about partaking in the end course... just 'desserts' for your labor. You were then able to rest in this as you were confident about what the end would look like from the beginning. This made planning your menu easier.

"You also had fun with the appetizers as you had many choices. However, you wanted Me, through you, to give just the right amount of taste for guests to still be excited about the coming main course. You did not want to give them too much as you knew this would fill their bellies before the main course. Some would then refuse the main course and even miss dessert.

"This all takes careful planning as the portions needed to be small enough to digest in order to not fill the guests up. You wanted them to have room to want more. Without careful planning, you knew that some might even leave before the banquet even commenced, understand?

"Oh Erin, I know you are sick of dragging out the salad portion. I know you are on your third course and now impatiently waiting for the fourth course... My Main Course. I know that you are sick of 'Salad' and 'Soup'. You continue on though as you know that the 'Salad' and 'Soup' will make a perfect compliment to the Main Course. You just know it will be amazing as you know that I am the Preparer of the Banquet.

"You are also sometimes frustrated as I am still keeping so many elements of the Main Course a surprise. Do not worry as this will be well worth waiting for.

"Now, about the 'Salad' portion. A Salad is made up of a mixture of items you have sown. This is a garden mix. These are seeds sown in good soil. The dressing is oil and herbs added with vinegar. While wine or sour juice doesn't usually mix well with oil, they are good when they are shaken together. You are feeling sick and tired of Salad though. You are even feeling that it is an unnecessary course.

"Well, Erin, it is a necessary course. While I know you are bored with this, just know it is important. You should also pick up some fresh bread, butter, oil, new wine and fresh water. Remember Me and the Main Course that is almost here."

Me: "Oh Lord, You are brilliant and wise beyond my understanding. A simple dream can be so complex and deep. Thank You. Still, could You please elaborate some more on the soup portion?"

Jesus: "Whether served hot or cold, soup is representative of a mix, a constructed blend of many elements, ingredients and salt, to make one flavor. It represents the children of God. While we are now finishing the Third Course, let us step back and discuss the Second Course. My people were either hot or cold. When it comes to soup, which do you prefer to prepare?"

Me: "Hot soup is on my menu. Although some cold soup is tasty, this confuses me. To me, the word 'soup' is associated with heat. This means it is confusing to me when it is served cold."

Jesus: "Well, Erin, the majority of people find cold soup very confusing."

Me: "We definitely agree on this. I will not be putting it on the menu."

Jesus: "This is wise."

Me: "So, Lord, when will the salad plates be taken away so that the Main Course can be served? Does the palette need to be cleansed first?"

Jesus: "Oh, it will! There is a bitter taste after mixing oil and vinegar to some. Since many would have consumed their bread prior to this, the bad taste will need to be removed. In the meantime, please let Me take care of the Main Course."

Me: "Some won't make it. I believe my first course failed. Did it fail, Lord?"

Jesus: "No, Erin. They didn't want to come to the banquet you invited them to. They will miss out on more. The same is true for the other chefs I have called. Many will miss out because they didn't stay. Do not worry, Erin, as many will still participate in the Main Course and enjoy dessert too even though they might be a bit late in coming.

“Now, it is time to rejoice. I am with you in this. I love you and I am the Preparer of Great Events.”

Dream over.

656 – The Great Psalms Overlay

Received on Monday, December 26, 2022

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day! You are our King and worthy of all our praises. You are God above all things and nothing is above You. Thank You, Father, for appointing all of us to be here in this time, these final days, the end-times Kingdom. You must have seen something in us to create us for now. At times, we do not see this as an honor. Sometimes it even feels like a punishment.

Not long ago, my parents and grandparents lived in a largely free democratic country. At times, life proved difficult. However, the guarantee of rewards after hard work was always available to them. Growing up, my grandparents valued their hard-earned dollars. Their favorite companies were Sears and Albertsons. There were other companies as well, but so many of these are no longer around, bankrupt.

I remember great celebrations like the 4th of July. There were fabulous parades and fireworks. We never wanted this day to end. Well, it is over now. It is rare for these events to still take place with any magnitude. My kids do not have the same freedoms that we had. It is so sad. We are now also experiencing the great decline in civilization. Corrupt governments have taken over many nations against the will of the people.

Oh Father, there is so much to worry about now. The cost of food has inflated, absolutely skyrocketing to prices I couldn't have imagined just a few years ago. I am afraid as I just know this is the beginning of more price hikes. I had a couple of vivid dreams last night.

Sub-Dream 1 "No need to Overpack" begins...

I was packing a small suitcase. After I closed it, I realized I hadn't packed wearable items for the conditions of my destination. I reopened the suitcase and shook my head. I owned nothing appropriate to worry about taking. In fact, all of it was useless. My thoughts were to not bother as I hated all of it. The resulting freedom from taking nothing on my journey felt perfect. I went on my way with nothing but a small bag of essentials.

Sub-Dream 1 over.

Sub-Dream 2 "The Great Psalms Overlay" begins...

I was attending class in a beautiful historic European church. The class was in the sanctuary in the daytime, so the sun lit the stained-glass windows. I had never met several of the people in attendance in person, but we all knew each other (hmm, sounds 'Nest-like'). We were all talking, laughing and so joyful. I then heard a small tap on the organ and then the music started up. The organ player then shouted out in joy...

Organ Player: "Please rise and give glory to our Lord, our King and our Good Shepherd."

While I don't recall the song, it was a beautiful new worship song. We all felt healing as this was a healing heart song that moved us to tears.

Choir Director: "Please sit down."

We all sat down. Then from behind us, coming up the aisle to the altar, was our class leader. When he turned to us with a smile, the room became brighter. He was one of God's angels. I could tell he was 'a big deal'. All of us gasped. The angel then said his name, but I do not recall who it was.

Angel: "Today, I am going to instruct you on the years leading up to this year (2022) in the hopes that you will find comfort. Now, what do all of you have in common with each other?"

Someone raised their hand and answered: "We love God and hate evil."

Angel: "Yes. Good answer. However, I want you to be more specific. Anyone? Erin?"

I looked around because I thought there could be another Erin he was referring to.

Angel: "Yes, Erin, you. You are Erin, right?" He smiled.

Me: "Yes. Yes, I am. I am sorry. Well, I am assuming we have all been through the refiner's fire?"

Angel: "While this is also true, there is more to this. You are all here because the Lord Jesus is your Shepherd. You are in His Number, His Fold and in His Flock. He has reared you from the beginning and carries you. As it is written in Isaiah 40, He has gathered the lambs in His arms and carries them close to His heart; He gently leads those who have young.

"However, by Peter's Words from the Lord, he also shares who you all are (1 Peter 1:10-12). Like Sheep, you are totally dependent on the Savior to provide sustenance. The Shepherd is attentive to your needs. You have all entered the flock of the Good Shepherd. His very Words feeds your souls; His Spirit quenches your thirst, revealing mysteries to you that even the prophets and angels longed to know.

“You are in this number together. At some point in your journeys, all of you have wandered. You have been restless and searched for greener pastures. Many of you had no understanding of the dangers surrounding you. However, the Lord found you where you were and carried you Home, gathering you together in His care.

“Troubles have now come upon the Earth. The nations are in an uproar. You have had the Spirit of God call out to you in greater authority with His Voice. Let me explain these events. In 2012, God granted permission for evil to be loosed upon the nations in greater measure. However, the ‘Shift’ actually occurred in the years 1967 – 1969 up to 1973. This is when the foundations of evil also began its acceleration.

“It was a slow decline and barely noticeable at first. This is because evil operates in secret and predators flourish in darkness. The people of the nations did not see what was hidden in the shadows. Only God and His angels could see it. The very foundations set forth by God upon the governments and nations were given to evil for God’s Ultimate Authority.

“In 2018, on your common calendar, God became angry. Let us read Psalm 18. Many of you were broken and placed in the furnace of affliction during this time 2018. This is when God came to all of you here in greater measure and instructed you in greater wisdom. This knowledge was given to prepare you for what was unfolding. Well, here He is... your Rock and your Fortress.

“God established you and gave you promises in advance of what was to come for He knew the plans of the wicked against the righteous. He made known to you that He was and is your Rock. In Psalms 19, in 2019, this was the declaration that the Lord, your Bridegroom, selects His Bride. In this, He establishes Himself. His Law is perfect and always will be. He selected you. He selected each of you.

“Then we look at 2020. In Psalms 20, His Bride, each of you, learned to trust Him in the days of trouble. He then called upon you to call Him for help. He promised to save and protect you. During this time, the world was shuttered and evil prospered. God’s Gift came in Greater Authority. His Voice, Jesus’ Voice, your Bridegroom, could be heard by you day and night to comfort you.

“Then in Psalms 21, or the Year of our God 2021, the decree went out upon the realms of the Kingdom of God that He is pleased. His Bride is established and ready. The King’s Gifts are soon to be delivered to the Groom for His Recompense. These are just a few of the gifts. You will find all your enemies, all those who hate you, will be revealed in the full wrath of God.

“This wrath of God will consume them, them and their houses. While they will flee, your bows will still be aimed at their faces. The Lord’s power and authority will scatter the enemy.” The angel then stopped and scanned the room in a noticeable way. “Hmm, your faces all looked stunned. All of you now look downcast. Why?”

Me: Raising my hand. “When we look at it this way, it makes sense why we have felt so forsaken in this year of 2022. At times, we have felt both forsaken and forgotten by God. It has been a brutal year. It has been painful, discouraging and long. We are seeing great corruption and evil against children. We are seeing death and destruction. We are seeing the advance of foreign invaders. It feels like we have been forgotten in 2022. This has been a brutal year.”

While I can’t recall what others were saying, I knew that they were all in agreement with what I had just said.

A different woman: Addressing the angel. “You do see what we see, right? Evil is winning. Where are all of you angels? If only a third of the angels fell from Heaven, there should be way more of you than them. This is hard for us to watch.”

Angel: “Yes, I know, I know. However, God does all things for His glory and we serve God alone. We do not serve man unless God calls us to protect you. Right now, yesterday and tomorrow, I work for God. I am here today to give you good tidings. Although your year has not been easy, read Psalms 22. The Word of God promises goodness to all of you.”

Me: “Angel, all of these years are coinciding with the Psalms. Next is Psalms 23 or 2023. This is fascinating!”

Angel: “Yes. You are about to be anointed with oil and blessed. You are in His fold. He leads you. I am here, sent by God as a messenger. Do not be discouraged. You have not been forgotten.”

All of us then fell to our knees to thank God. We were all so appreciative of all He had done for us and continues to do for us.

Sub-Dream 2 over.

Me: "Father, I have been overwhelmed lately and so sad. I have lost so many activities that once brought me joy. I am struggling. The angel in my dream was speaking of the calendar years vs the Psalm numbers. Psalms 24 and 25 look interesting. Psalms 26 and 27 almost seem like Tribulation. Oh Lord, please help me to understand all of this."

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "Erin, I am here and I am with you. My Words are a lamp to your feet and a light to your path. It has layers of meaning. It also has treasures hidden in plain sight. I know you are very discouraged right now as evil advances against the innocent. However, all of this is necessary so not one is lost. In the meantime, I have answered your prayers.

"Now, the young man you know that was burned in the fire lives. Erin, he breathes and his burns are healing. He is on a journey of mercy and grace. He has been through the fire and his burns are healing. This process, though painful, has caused many who would never call on Me to now ask for help. This is an important time for this and greater is the reward for those who seek Me now.

"Erin, your sons and daughters will prophesy. While your entire house is downtrodden right now, many in the world who love Me are also feeling this same way. There is very little joy when evil is destroying all that is good. Evil is now sending out waves of confusion. I see it and I am building a Great Case against them. Along with My Great Case will come My Great Army.

"Now, in your personal journey, you can begin in Psalms and coordinate this with the years. You will be shocked at how accurate these are to your life. Many others will see this too. Those who only see the written pleas of a young shepherd who became king (David) will not understand what he had written several thousand of years ago. These are really layered messages from Me. Now rejoice as I gave you a Great Gift. I love you and I carry you in My arms. You are greatly loved by Me."

Dear Father,

Thank You for Your love and kindness! Thank You for watching over us and caring for us. You never stop working. Oh Father, thank You for answering our prayers for the one we are praying for that was badly burnt. He was taken out of critical care and is now breathing on his own. Please continue to heal him and remove his pneumonia. What a wonderful testimonial of Your healing power. We are all so grateful.

I see You working continuously in the lives of Your people. It is amazing. It brings me hope while we wait. Still, I am scared. When I see what is happening right before our very eyes, it is scary. I am guilty of anxiety. Yes, and at other times during the day, I have great hope and courage. I can remain optimistic.

Then there are my dreams and the new revelation that the Gregorian years map to the Psalms. My interpretation of this is that Psalm 1 equates to 2001, Psalm 2 equates to 2002, all the way up to Psalm 23 equating to this year of 2023. Not sure of any continuation past 2023 though as You didn't have a clear discussion with me on this. Well, 2023 has arrived, and therefore Psalm 23. Psalm 23 is a personal favorite.

Sub-Dream 1 "The Ominous Orb Bomb" begins...

Everywhere I went, there was a massive iron object. It was round with a seam in the center. It was a round orb. It was 8 feet in diameter for width, height and depth. It was around 24 feet in circumference. While I am not sure, nor was it clarified as one way or another, I thought it could be an anti-matter bomb, whatever that is. The object was ominous and had me feeling anxious. I finally surrounded the bomb with my family and several friends. For some reason, we were no longer afraid of this deadly bomb.

Me: While looking at it. "You are looking at the most powerful bomb the world has ever known. If unleashed, this bomb would create untold chaos and damages."

Friend: "They hate us so much that they would rather obliterate all that we see and everywhere we go than have to endure us a second more."

We all laughed because we knew that God could not be stopped by bombs. God then gave us the ability to look into the bomb as one would view an x-ray. It was complex.

Me: "So, what are they waiting for?"

Friend: "Well, death is messy and, to them, so final. They are convinced this will stop us once and for all. I say we disable it and make them really sad."

Me: Taking guidance from the Holy Spirit. "No, this is not our role. God is able to remove it and/or them. Whatever happens, the Glory will be His and in the way He has all of this unfold."

Just then, we heard a semitruck backing up to the road we were on in the forest. The truck was bringing another 'Orb Bomb'. The back ramp dropped and the massive bomb rolled right to our feet. As the truck drove off, we all laughed.

Sub-Dream 1 over.

Me: "Oh Lord, how do I know this is You and not me?"

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "This is easy. You speak negatively about yourself. When I speak about you, I do so in love and truth. I am pleased with My choice. When I speak good things about you to encourage you, you ask 'Lord, is this You?' Well, this is certainly My Voice. You are very self-critical as you have little grace for yourself.

"I then speak and strike down your harsh self-thinking. Well, Erin, you just need to accept this. This is My verdict on you and it is a good one. I am not leaving you. You must have grace and forgiveness for yourself. I think you are still in denial that I have chosen you."

Me: "I am in denial, Lord. I am so sorry. I am so conditioned to do this. Could You just heal me and set me free from these shackles I place myself in. When I look at this closer, I do know the difference between my negative voice and thoughts and Your Voice of truth and love. Please forgive me and help me to embrace how You speak in me about myself."

Jesus: "Erin, if you heard someone speaking wrongly about Me or those you love, you would say something and correct them in truth, right?"

Me: "Yes, of course."

Jesus: "I am the same with you. I correct you when you speak wrongly about one of My good friends... you... understand?"

Me: "Thank You, Lord! You are so smart... infinitely so!"

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day and another New Year (2023). Thank You for dreams and visions. Thank You for Your divine love and care. We had nothing... no provisions... and, what we had, we gave all we had to you. You care for us in all things. It was and is a miracle. We concluded that, with zero options and no ability to do anything on our own strength, we then totally surrendered to You.

Oh Father, we then experienced Your full power, strength and majesty of what You do to meet our needs. Looking back, we are in awe of all of it. Things we had no idea we needed were provided by You and so often through the care of those You have called. We praise and thank You for all You have done.

Well, Father, it is now 2023 and many of us had been hoping that our Big Change would have happened in 2022. You then reminded me that, when You grant dreams with numbers, these are not always specific to dates. We are told to be diligent and to keep watch for the return of our Savior. Micah 7:7-8 comes to mind:

"But as for me, I watch in hope for the Lord. I wait for God, my Savior. My God will hear me. Do not gloat over me, my enemy. Though I have fallen, I will rise. Though I sit in darkness, the Lord will be my Light."

Father, these time are scary. We are experiencing great wickedness on display. A new type of war is raging right now, one mostly unseen, but one that is now noticeable. The enemy rages. Many are unaware that the wars are even happening against the peoples of the Earth. How much worse will this become? How much more will we endure before Your Great Miracles come?

I have even heard people stating that they have stopped praying because You are not answering... or even hearing. Well, Father, I know this is not true! I know it. Many governments have ruled against their peoples.

Father, surely the enemy longs to destroy all things good that are left. Two nights ago, I had a dream, a dream I had awoken from at around 3:20am.

Sub-Dream 2 "Darkness engulfs a lineup of cars" begins...

My husband and I were in a long lineup of cars. We were loading up the trunk of a small car with items from a tailgate. The cars were not moving at all. We were waiting to get into a place similar to Walt Disney World (or perhaps it was?). Because the wait was so long and traffic wasn't moving, people were getting out of their vehicles to eat. Almost every car motor was turned off.

Nightfall then came. Since it was a clear sky, the stars looked beautiful and twinkled in the sky. As we looked, we ate some sandwiches. In the distance and coming swiftly, we then noticed complete darkness coming towards us. It seemed to be a cloud, but unlike any cloud I had ever seen. It was brown on the edges, but deeply black within. This was, by far, the darkest cloud I had ever seen and it was almost upon us.

This black cloud continued to stretch out over the night sky. We all watched as it seemed to swallow up all of the stars. I then heard people screaming in the distance. The screams came closer and closer to us as the darkness approached. As it engulfed where we were, those around us were now screaming as well. Within seconds of the cloud coming to us, we could no longer see anything around us... including headlights.

My husband: "Erin, this is it! This is it! While we can see each other and we can see our car, all around us is in complete darkness. Erin, look..."

While my husband was pointing at something for me to look at, I didn't have a chance to see exactly what it was before I woke up.

Sub-Dream 2 over.

Father, this dream was so real. Please bring revival to the nations. I will continue to pray. My daughter received invitations to three separate New Year's Eve events, but passed on all of them. All of us are just wanting authentic experiences, not artificial. This makes being here during these shallow-hearted times so hard. We just want God and nothing else. We want real. We want nothing but You!

Oh Father, how long will You wait? How long before this generation is lost? Please do not wait too much longer. How do we fight if prayers don't avail much visibly? Father, I love You. I appreciate Your Redeeming Love more and more each day. You called and called me until I finally turned towards You. Thank You for Your great persistence. The enemy had convinced me for so long that following You would be boring. I had a dream last night...

Sub-Dream 3 "Dismantling the House of Pain" begins...

My former tiny home in Albany, California was being dismantled. The way it was being dismantled was similar to the dismantling of a booth display at a convention hall. My mom was dismantling our former house, a house I have since nicknamed 'The House of Pain'. When I arrived, the sun was in the 9:00am position in the sky. My mom was glad to see me.

Me: Laughing. "I like what you are doing with the place."

She smiled back at me. She was young looking. She looked fantastic. She was very focused on her tasks.

Mom: "Erin, I am so glad you came. Here are two items you are going to need because the former ways you are used to will no longer be an option."

My mom then handed me a high-tech dark charcoal and textured typewriter.

Me: "Wow, mom, this is so cool. I didn't know they produced typewriters anymore. This one is so modern looking. Where did this come from?"

Mom: "Look at what it does!"

She pressed a side panel and the entire typewriter collapsed into the shape of a shallow box. It literally disappeared. No one would ever suspect that this tiny box could be a fully functional typewriter.

Mom: "This is special. The keys strike with great precision. It will even record your thoughts. It doesn't need a ribbon either so you never run out of ink. Now look at this!"

There was a companion in a long, but still small, box. She pressed a button and this small box transformed into a small, but fully functional, printing press.

Me: "Why would I need this?"

Mom: "You will see. Again, it is special. It requires no ink source other than God. It prints so fast that you cannot see it printing. You also can't hear it when it is printing. It just printed out your letters from God from last year. Now, all of these are yours. I must now finish what I have been called to do here. I love you, Butter Duck."

I laughed because Butter Duck is what she would sometimes call me when I was a kid. I had forgotten about this. She stopped interacting with me and was then promptly met with by angels. They were helping her dismantle the house. They were all in good cheer as they did this. I was now an observer.

Sub-Dream 3 over.

Me: "Father, what was this about? Please send revival soon. I am losing hope. My children are losing hope. Many on the Nest are losing hope. 2022 was rough for so many of us!"

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "Erin, I am here and I am with you. I redeemed you. You are Mine. Nothing can steal you from Me. Nothing. The enemy can never take you from Me. I love you with a great and unconditional love. My love for you never rots, never dies and will never wax cold. Now, the enemy and his armies have striked out against My churches, My people and their children. However, hope will no longer wane as My love will soon be on full display."

Me: "Lord, all that we have come to hope for is fading. Safe, secure and beautiful are fading while lawlessness and injustice is rising. Please help us. It can't be Your Will to see this great rise in evil. You are the only One who can defeat this evil. We are helpless. You once told me that I could not survive witnessing just one day of the evil You witness every day. Thank You for sheltering us, Lord. However, I am scared now. Oh Lord, please help us."

Jesus: "Erin, the nations have become hopeless as the wicked control the people. They revel in their unbridled power. However, I see it and greater am I in power. My angel armies surround them and wait for the fullness of the hour. These youths will turn and be saved. The wicked will flee.

"Now, I have My people waiting to set their hearts on fire for Me... all I need to do is supply the spark. Right now, there is smoldering in the hearts of My people. There is smoke, but no flame. This is the time that I have told you not to engage the enemy. Now, tell Me what this is like for you."

Me: "I watch the news and I see the wicked in operation. They are able to get away with their evil actions. In contrast, those who are good in heart are having their lives destroyed. All is being stolen. I am angry. My anger is smoldering. Still, and because of Your instructions for us to do so right now, I continue to stand down."

Jesus: "This is by My design and by the Will of God. Now, how do you think God on the Throne is reacting? How much noise do you think there is in God's Courts from the crying out of the saints for justice... both day and night? How about the Elders who understand the signs of the times? How about My church? How about from all of those who still stand for truth?"

Me: "Where is that church of Yours? Can I get an address?"

Jesus: "My church is barely alive. My people, My chosen, are now on life support."

Me: "Then take us off of life support. Be our collective heartbeats instead. Change the Altars from smoldering to on fire for Your love. Revive the church. Breathe into us, Lord. Your breath is living and means life. The world thinks we are dead. Father, resurrect us. Give us life. Shake and rattle the world. Please! Lord, let this be the Year of Great Revival. Let 2023 be the Year of the Lord. Let this start very soon!"

Jesus: "Is this your prayer?"

Me: "Yes, Lord, it is. Many of us are sick. This plague and the vaccines have compromised so many people's health. It has taken down our natural abilities to fight diseases. It has hurt so many. Father, please heal Your people. Little children, the elderly and Your people are all suffering. You can do this so easily. This is simple for You. Nothing is impossible for You!"

Jesus: "Ah, there is that flame! I have a flame in you. While it was low, it now ignites."

Me: "Yes, but what good is this without You. Without the Kingdom of God, Your righteousness or Your flame, we simply smolder here. I hate what is happening. Please help us, Lord!"

Jesus: "I know. Erin, forget your former house. Forget your former ways. I am enthralled with your beauty. Remember who you are in My sight. Study this. In just a little while, all you have come to know will change, but for the better. I have made known My promises to you in advance.

"I have given you instructions to observe your surroundings, but do not engage the enemy... not until you are called to do so by My authority. Your time to act against the enemy must wait until the fullness of time has come. Come with Me now..."

As I was writing, the Lord suddenly caught me up in the Spirit. I was taken to His Courtyard. It was surrounded by angels. There was the Clock and Calendar of God! Jesus was right there. I was so happy to see Him 'in person'. He smiled and took my hand. We were on a balcony looking over the massive dial. The dial was flanked by four quadrants. I had not noticed this before. They appeared as seasons.

Me: Hugging Him. "Oh Lord, this is the same configuration as God's Garden. His seasons are also sectioned into fours."

Jesus: "Good observation. These are listed."

He pointed out the various listings:

- For the harvest periods.
- For what is planted.
- For when it is harvested.

Jesus: "Erin, what do you see now compared to before?"

Me: "I no longer see the planting section that was so prominent in my previous visits here! The planting section is gone. The section for the preparation for the planting is also now gone. I now only see harvesting in the different seasons."

Jesus: "Very good, Erin. Now, why have I brought you here to show you this?"

Me: Tears of joy were now streaming down my cheeks. "Because harvesting is a time of great activity and joy! This is the time for the fruits of the labor of the Owner of the field and His workers. This is what we have all looked forward to! It is finally here!"

Jesus: "Now look more closely."

I then saw twelve calendar months. They were like pieces of pie... three pieces of pie for each season.

Me: "I see what looks like months. I then see lights like days within them. I see the moon and the sun hovering above them. This is a complex model. The way this all interacts is unlike anything I have ever seen on Earth."

Jesus: "What else?"

Me: "I see time, like hours, in each day. I also see minutes and seconds. I see events continuing to disappear. What are these?"

Jesus: "Markers. This is so the fullness of the hour of the Great Revival comes. I showed you this. You now understand that this is God's timeline. Had this been thousands of years ago, the number of events to come prior to harvesting would be next to impossible for you to number."

Me: "Yes. When I last saw this, which was not that long ago, there were still thousands of events to come. I also remember seeing multiple plantings remaining, all labeled."

Jesus: "Which season are you in?"

Me: "The lower right quadrant?"

Jesus: "Actually, no. You are in the upper left quadrant. Remember that this is not a Gregorian calendar. This is God's Calendar. This is not of the Earth, but of Heaven. God measures the times of the ages on Earth."

Me: "But I thought that there was no need to keep track of time in Heaven?"

Jesus: "Well, time was never declared to be 'not good'. However, time in Heaven is measured in light of eternity. This will be very difficult for you to understand until you are finally here. This here is designed by God to measure the order of events on Earth."

Me: "I see. So, what are the little lights of different colors?"

Jesus: "These are ways that God is using events to prepare hearts. Events include storms, earthquakes, famines, droughts, snow, floods and so on. The lights are certain days. Then there is a different order of God's Army to be present."

Me: "I see a few coming that are huge. What is that, Lord?"

Jesus: "Again, this is to prepare the land and humble the hearts. This is so they know that I am God over all things. Now, I brought you here so you could see that this is all planned and orderly. If you could see the enemy camp, you would see that they also have order. However, theirs is to destroy all things prior to the Great Move of God.

"The difference here is we can see their plans. These are made known to us in advance. However, My plans and the plans of My angel armies are all hidden from them. Erin, they do not win! Take comfort in this. Now rejoice. The planting of the Lord's Splendor is all that is left. Take comfort! I am with you."

Me: "Thank You, Lord. Let 2023 bless our house and be our Year of Your Favor. Bless our Nest friends and their families. Bless our children, our families and our friends. Please anoint us with the oil of gladness and let our cups run over with goodness. We love You. Please let this be the best year of all.

"Please grant us protection, guidance, refreshment, abundant blessings, great strength, endurance and perfect health. Let us all be in Your favor forever. Let our hearts be continuously in Your Will. I pray Your Will be done always! I pray this in Your Name, in Jesus' Name!"

Jesus: Smiling. "I love you, Erin!"

Me: "I love You too, Lord!" Dream over.

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for Your friendship! My cup is full of love from my Father. I love You, Father. When I think of You and how much You love us unconditionally, I become emotional. Tears come as a cup overflows. There is still hope. The enemy has tried to erase history, change times and seasons and our calendars. He has tried to bring punishing laws and even crimes for churches preaching Your Gospel.

Me: “Lord, Your love never fails. It does not change. You are steadfast and true. Your love prevails and never fails. During communion this morning, I asked You why I am eating such large tasteless crackers to represent Your body. Is this a test of faith that I should make it through that second bite to honor You?”

Jesus: “Erin, come up!”

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: “You are funny. It was your choice to change your crackers. However, the extra effort in eating these makes you more fully realize your remembrance of Me. As for the wine, this is to partake in the mix of My suffering to overcome the world. The wine you take is sweet and sour because these times are bittersweet.

“To have communion with Me is your most important daily activity. However, more important communion with Me is you dialoging with Me as you would with a good friend. Erin, I am the most Trusted Friend you have ever had. I AM:

- The One who will not leave you or forsake you.
- The One you will always have.
- The One who loves you with a love you have no capacity to comprehend.

- The One who would leave a hundred sheep to chase you, find you and save you from wolves.

“Now remember that I don’t love you on the condition that you first do this or that for Me. I instead wait for you to speak so we can talk. I wait for you to remember Me. As I am a trusted and loyal unconditional Friend to you, how about you think of Me in the same way?”

Me: “Oh Lord, why do you love me? Sheep aren’t the brightest animals in their thinking. Please forgive me, Lord. Now I understand why I need the larger communion cracker. I need to chew on my relationship with You more. The flavor is in my daily relationship with You. My comfort is not in the cracker though, it is with You. I am so sorry for the thing I have made this cracker into.”

Jesus: “The symbolism of the unleavened bread between us means this... there is no deceit, no hidden agenda, no lies and nothing puffed up as in yeast. We therefore partake in My body. You are setting aside your agenda, your self-ambitions, all to remember Me. You then remember Me as your Savior, your Rescuer and Your Best Friend. I love you and I am with you in your battles daily. I never turn My back on you nor do I desert you. I instead bring you back to Me and keep you under My care.”

Me: “Lord, please forgive me when I go my own way. Some mornings, I knock down a list of chores before I come to You. Many times, these have led to more distractions, further taking me from You. My thinking is that, if I can finish my chores, I am free to be with You without these pressures.”

Jesus: “Well then, take a lesson from your dog, Zoey, on priorities. She is old and now full of years. She sees and waits for you to enter the room. Some days, she waits for hours when she is up early. She waits in faithfulness knowing you will show up. Then when you do, her joy overflows with excitement. She doesn’t really care about the treats you give her. She just cares that you would take the time to speak to her tenderly.”

Me: Crying. “You are right, Lord. I fed her medicine to her this morning. I then gave her a small dish of food with a different medicine. I gave her fresh water and all my offerings. Instead, all she wanted to do was to have me hold her and pet her. Our other dog, Snigglet, was nowhere to be found.

“She wouldn’t stop nudging me to drop what I was doing to give her love. Here we were, right in front of her favorite things, and she forsake these just to love me and be loved by me. Lord, my dog is more attentive and faithful with me than I am with You. I am sorry. Please forgive me.”

Jesus: "This is a simple lesson in faithfulness and unconditional love. Erin, dogs serve their owners and are obedient to their call. As for you, sometimes..." He paused to allow me to interject.

Me: "Oh Lord, sometimes You call me and I don't answer."

Jesus: "The analogy or parable is the relationship of your Best Friend. I am your Best Friend and you are Mine."

Me: "How can I be Your best friend? You are God. You surely must have much better friends than Me? Perhaps this is to be just an analogy."

Jesus: "Oh Erin, I commune with you always. We are as one. When I refer to you as a best friend, you are. However, I also have an army of best friends, understand? You also have an army of friends who will soon serve together as My best friends... all of you united as one under Heaven, under Me... but as an extension of Me."

Me: "Lord, I feel guilty of not serving You better than my dog serves me. Why do I do this? You deserve all of me all of the time!"

Jesus: "God created the animals prior to man. However, man was placed in charge to care for My Creation as I would care for them. There was no sin nor neglect in the beginning. Now man neglects their animals. They abuse them. They also do so with their children. The heart of the father is displayed when he cares for his house, his wife, his children and the animals within it just as God would do. This is good.

"Now though, in this the age of rebellion, wicked hearts are on full display. Fathers and mothers are cruel to their sons and daughters and sons and daughters are cruel to their fathers and mothers. Some are kinder to their animals than humans, but not always.

"Now, the message I have for you is one of Good News. Do not forget that I am with you as one now. I am not a tiny dog wearing a tiny sweater that you might carry with you to market in your purse. I am God with you, Emmanuel!"

Me: "Hmm, I will make a New Year's Resolution for 2023 to be better at..."

Jesus: "Stop! Make no resolutions, declarations or contracts with the god of this world. Instead, be not limited by a calendar year or personal ambition that I did not call you to do. Give Me your year instead and the next ones after that. I will then give you an eternity. All I ask for is surrender to Me.

"Surrender yourself, your body, your personal ambitions, your home, your cars, your children, your grandchildren and your money. Surrender all of them. Do not make this a declaration. Instead, just give Me all of you. As you are Mine, let Me be your God, Emmanuel. I promise I will care for you fully. I love you. I created you.

"Each day given to you by Me is a new day. It contains a dawn, a noonday and a sunset. It contains the watches of the night as well. All is measured by My hands and this was created by Me. Each day I give you is a gift of another day. Each day, My Ruach, My breath, is breathed in you. My Spirit... where My breath is... there too is My power. This is not by your might, but by Mine."

Me: "Thank You, Lord. Your ways are so high that it is incomprehensible to us!"

Jesus: "You do not fully comprehend what I have done here. This is because the fullness of the hour is not yet here. This is a great gift I have given to you, one that Heaven knows and understands, but you have yet to. At the fulfillment of the hour, then too will more gifts come.

"Right now, the enemy is agitated when you are near. This is because he knows something more powerful in you is present. You then notice distorted movements, panic and the inability to look at your eyes. This is because they see Me when they look in your eyes. This is like a window to Me where they do not like the view. Well, Erin, the fullness of the hour is almost here."

Me: "Oh Lord, what is the fullness of the hour?"

Jesus: "This is the time that My workers, a chosen few, begin their service. Remember that the harvest is great, but the workers are few. Do not worry though as the workers I have, though few, are enough to ensure a successful harvest. It means that, though you are few, great will be the harvest of many by you through Me.

"Now, God has gathered His workers. They have been called for the harvest. They are being prepared. They will be trained. I will work through them. Great will be their deeds. Signs, wonders and miracles will be visible through them."

Me: "Lord, I am now almost 60 years old. This will surely take a great miracle!"

Jesus: "Good then as I just happen to have some with Me. If these are with Me, then they are also with you. Rejoice, Erin, for this is the third day you have been waiting for as prophesied over you all those years ago."

Me: "I never would have imagined. This was prophesied over me at 9:00pm (Pacific time) on December 31, 2000. It has been 22 years and three days as of today. Okay, okay, I won't get excited about these dates. I am just wondering... wait... never mind. Oh Lord, I just love You so much. A Scripture comes to mind...

Luke 1:34-38: "34 And Mary said to the angel, "How will this be, since I am a virgin?" 35 And the angel answered her, "The Holy Spirit will come upon you, and the power of the Most High will overshadow you; therefore the child to be born will be called holy – the Son of God. 36 And behold, your relative Elizabeth in her old age has also conceived a son, and this is the sixth month with her who was called barren. 37 For nothing will be impossible with God." 38 And Mary said, "Behold, I am the servant of the Lord; let it be to me according to your word."..."

"So, Lord, let it be as You have stated... that the birth of Your New Event, the Move of Heaven... as it is on Earth... be today... at the fullness of the hour as You have declared. All the days of my life, let me serve You, Lord, as You work in and through me for Your purposes, not my own.

"Another Scripture comes to mind. This is Mary's Song of Praise. Let this soon be rewritten as a new song for us by Your Spirit in us...

Luke 1:46-55: "46 And Mary said, "My soul magnifies the Lord, 47 and my Spirit rejoices in God my Savior, 48 for He has looked on the humble estate of His servant. For behold, from now on all generations will call me blessed; 49 for He who is mighty has done great things for me, and holy is His Name. 50 And His mercy is for those who fear Him from generation to generation. 51 He has shown strength with His arm; He has scattered the proud in the thoughts of their hearts; 52 He has brought down the mighty from their thrones and exalted those of humble estate; 53 He has filled the hungry with good things, and the rich He has sent away empty. 54 He has helped His servant Israel, in remembrance of His mercy, 55 as He spoke to our fathers, to Abraham and to His offspring forever.""

Jesus: "Erin, your prayer is good. I will give you a new song as this is reserved for those I have called for this time. However, the Song of Mary is significant because she was prophesying to what was coming, as well as the current state. Even Zechariah prophesied that his son was the horn of salvation as he was going before to sound the alarm that I was soon to come into the fullness of the hour of My ministry.

"However, this is different... well, similar, yet different. Rejoice, Erin, as I am about to do something in your days you would not believe even if I told you. The events you have seen in your dreams are about to be revealed. Things you saw yourself doing or abilities to help others all will be on full display. I will be glorified in and through My people. This is a good day, a day that I have made. Rejoice as I am with you.”

Dream over.

Information on my December 31, 2000 Prophecy begins...

Pertinent excerpt from last dream (Dream 658):

Jesus: "...Rejoice, Erin, for this is the third day you have been waiting for as prophesied over you all those years ago."

Me: "I never would have imagined. This was prophesied over me at 9:00pm (Pacific time) on December 31, 2000. It has been 22 years and three days as of today..."

Based on requests from members on the Nest, the rest of this subsection is to provide more details on this prophecy! The following is my best recollection on how this evening went, with the disclaimer that I don't remember all of the precise details...

It was a New Year's Eve service at a large church with over a thousand people in attendance. While I was attending by myself, I had some enemies in the crowd. A guest preacher was now on stage. This preacher was not well known at the time, but became relatively well known soon after (and still is today). He was preaching about miscellaneous things when he suddenly halted...

Preacher: "Wait! I am getting a strong word for someone who is here right now. I don't know who this is as I don't know any of you personally."

He started scanning the crowd.

Preacher: "This person has had a very rocky beginning. She has felt abandoned by the Lord. I am to tell her that He is about to enter into a greater relationship with her. There will be a Great Move of God and the Third Day Church will then rise."

He then said something personal about me that only I could have known, but I can no longer recall what that was. He then pointed right at me. I looked around, but soon knew without a doubt he was pointing at me.

Preacher: "It's you. Yes, you. Come up on stage. What is your name?"

Me: "Erin..."

Preacher: "God has a really big plan for you. Can I pray a blessing over you?"

I don't remember all he said. I knew my enemies were furious with what he said. When I later asked for the church recording, they told me that the recording had mysteriously stopped during the blessing.

Preacher: "You are going to have good news within a few weeks, news that will be a blessing to you (which is that I was pregnant with my daughter). You had a powerful vision and you are not to forget it. It is a vision you received after fasting and praying. You are to trust in this vision being from God."

I subsequently talked about this event twice in Personal Words with Jesus. The first time was on Sunday, October 17, 2021...

Jesus: "...In the year 2000, on the eve of 2000 to 2001, you attended a church service whereby I sent a prophecy over you."

Me: "Yes, Lord. The man told me what You had to say to me... He said 'the Lord says... on the third day, I will bless you, for I know the things you have gone through and you will be part of My Third Day Church.' Of course, people at my church were upset. I was brought up on stage and embarrassed. I didn't understand it at the time."

Jesus: "Well, I am here. You are My Bride, Erin. You will be a part of My Third Day Church."

Me: "This is new, Lord. What is this Church all about?"

Jesus: "This is not what you think. It is not a building. It is My Great Wave, My Great Revival."

The second time was on Tuesday, April 12, 2022...

Jesus: "...on the evening of December 31, 2000, I sent My prophet to publicly proclaim by calling you from the crowd that My favor was, is and is to come upon you. As a sign of My covenant and favor, you conceived your daughter within 46 days. I did this because your favorite scriptures were both Psalm 45 and 46. I gave you a great gift and a sign of My favor..."

Information on my December 31, 2000 Prophecy over.

Dear Father,

Thank You for all things! No moment is a wasted moment. Each stroke of my pen is an opportunity. Pour out onto the pages of my journal. Pour out anything that You believe is needed to be read. I had a dream last night...

Sub-Dream 1 "The Concrete Walls of Falsehood" begins...

I was in a massive city of concrete and stone. It was surrounded by a wall of stone and steel about 25 feet high. It was gated and heavily guarded. I could not tell if it was to hold the people of the city in prison or to keep outsiders from entering. Perhaps both. The wall was ominous. Impossible to climb over. Outsiders stayed away as the guards made the approach to the gate onerous. An angel of the Lord then spoke with me...

Angel: "You may go to the gate... if it is in your will."

Me: "Is it in the Lord's Will that I should go? I am curious to know what is happening in the walled city. As for me, I am willing."

I walked over to the gate. A guard came toward me immediately...

Guard: "Who specifically are you here to see?"

Me: "No one."

Guard: "Are you telling me that you want to come to the city simply because you are curious?"

Me: "Yes. God called me here."

Another guard had come over and they were both laughing together after I said this.

Guard: "Okay, nut job, you can enter. However, you can't leave. Better think this through."

Me: "Oh, does this mean this place is a prison?"

Guard: "No. They are free to come and go at will. They choose not to leave. They feel safer staying within the city."

Me: "Where do you both live?"

Guard: "No more questions. Move along. Go back to your God."

I decided to turn away. I decided I didn't care that much anymore. As I was walking back to my car from the gate, the angel met me.

Angel: "Where are you going?"

Me: "Home."

Angel: "But you did not go into the city."

Me: "I don't want to go alone. I am no longer willing."

Angel: "The Lord has sent angels to guard you on your journey."

Me: "Can I get there another way?"

Angel: "Yes."

He reached for my hand and we were immediately inside the city gates. The smell was putrid. There was sewage and trash everywhere. There were abandoned vehicles. The people I saw looked hungry, thin and underdressed for the weather.

Me: "This is horrible!"

I looked at an area that looked like Times Square. There was a TV screen with a looped news report that was spewing propaganda.

News Anchor: "We are so lucky to be here in New York, the safest city in the world. Here are scenes via live cam showing the carnage outside our gates."

They then showed footage that made it look as if everything had been blown away by atomic bombs. I then realized that these were historical photos made to look current.

Me: Addressing the angel: "The people don't know that they are being held hostage. We can set them free. This is a lie."

Angel: "They ask no questions. They don't cry out to God. They trust their leaders, leaders who now determine their days."

Me: "But God can intervene."

Angel: "This is what happens when their will is met with a wall. It is easier to submit to the enemy's will and wall."

Me: "Surely there are outside communications somewhere. The buildings are higher than the walls. They can see out and know these are lies."

Angel: "Yes, but they are frozen. They no longer believe what they see with their eyes. They are naked, lost and afraid."

Me: "So, what do we do?"

Angel: "Open the gates. Remove the wall."

Sub-Dream 1 over..

Me: "Father, I kept seeing this image of 'Will + Wall'. What does this mean?"

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "Erin, I am here and I am with you. A relationship with Me requires will."

I decided to pause and look up the definition of will. Will means to want or to choose. If you have free will, you are allowed to choose what you want. Expression: Where there is a will, there is a way. It is the capability of conscious choice, decision and intention.

Me: "Is this the 'will', Lord?"

Jesus: "How do you have a close relationship with Me, Erin?"

Me: "While I am not truly certain, I was going through a horrible time in my life. I had a successful career and social status and then my life was obliterated because I chose to fight against wealth and power. What happened to my young boy, with the older as witness, was a crime and so horrible. While I had asked to be used by You, I was not expecting to be abused. Sure, You didn't abuse me, but my enemies did. I then built a protective barrier. I still sometimes suffer from PTSD."

Jesus: "Yes, you built a wall. Then something happened. What happened?"

Me: "I made my case to You. I begged and pleaded. I laid out a legal case. I then came to the end of my faith bucket. I gave You three months. I told You that is all I had and then I would quit hounding You."

Jesus: "You made a great case. However, do you know what you said that was the gateway to greater communion with Me?"

Me: "No, I am not sure. I just know it was not my list of demands."

Jesus: "No. It was that, even if I didn't grant you what you asked for, you said 'No matter what happens, I will still love You.' Your will was to love Me despite your circumstances. Well, Heaven was opened over you at that moment. You weren't just turning the handle to open the gate, your tongue was the key that unlocked it.

"Erin, you moved the Court of God. He was moved by your word and it was authenticated by your heart. It was true. Many say things with their lips, but mean a different thing in their heart and will. You boldly speak honestly with Me. I therefore trust you to speak in truth. I am therefore close to you.

"With Me, there are no longer walls between us. With you, where there is will, then there I am. I am the way. You surrendered to Me. You surrendered your will and your plans. You then became Mine. Your way was removed so that I could work My Will through you."

Me: "What about my dream, Lord?"

Jesus: "The enemy has been collecting souls for destruction. He controls information and the people. The lost perish for lack of knowledge. They are exposed, naked and afraid. When all changes, you will be busy. Erin, you'll be busy!"

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day! Thank You for peace. Thank You for all prayers, big and small, that You answer in Your way and in Your timing. I had a couple of vivid dreams last night.

Sub-Dream 2 "Finding the Ideal House in Oregon" begins...

My husband and I were house hunting in Oregon. However, we were not really qualified to purchase a home that fit our needs. While our credit was relatively good, we really didn't have the money to make the large monthly payments. Despite this, we were still being treated like royalty by the real estate agents. Our real estate agent then phoned us to inform us that she had a home for us to look at.

My husband and I hesitated because we felt like imposters. We didn't want our real estate agent to spend time with us if we were unable to purchase. As we were leaving to the appointment, a prior design client approached me. She looked like three people I know morphed into one person. She was very wealthy and still treated me as if I worked for her.

Prior design client: "I have so many things to tell you about my house (which she then did). However, I now want to purchase a brand-new home. Oh yes... those are my twins..." She pointed to the back seat of her car.

There were two car seats in the back of her luxury car. The twins were about twelve months old. They were dressed in really high-end clothing. They both babbled with noticeably cute English accents. One of the twins was blind in the left eye and the other twin was blind in the right eye. I suddenly noticed that my prior design client was dressed and had a similar hairstyle as Ghislaine Maxwell, the helper of the now deceased Jeffrey Epstein.

Prior design client: "Erin, I am undone. I simply can't handle anything."

While she was crying, she couldn't look me in the eye. This lack of eye contact let me know that demons were involved.

Me: "Can I pray for you? Other than that, I can do nothing as I am no longer working as an interior designer."

She nodded yes as tears fell heavily down her cheeks. I reached for her hands and began to pray. However, I soon became distracted and stumbled in my prayer. I knew there was something holding back my prayer for her. The Lord spoke to me...

Jesus: "She is angry and has many demons. She made both her children blind in one eye. While you can heal them, she will then try to kill them. Stand down for now. I am in this. Do not worry."

I quickly finished the prayer with a simple close and an Amen in Jesus' Mighty Name. When I looked at her, she was making strange motions. Just before releasing her hands, I realized that they had now become cold and clammy.

Me: "Well, I must go now and look for my husband."

Prior design client: "We are both late now. That prayer thingy that you did was a little long." She drove off quickly.

I found my husband parked in our rental car. We drove together to the home our real estate agent had arranged for us to view. Once we arrived at this house, we received a text with a code for the lock box. We went in and the house was perfect. A snowstorm then came in and we were forced to stay there. My husband brought our luggage inside. It wasn't long before we received a text from our real estate agent.

Real Estate Agent: "You have to leave the house. It has been sold. The buyer is going to show up any minute now and insists it be vacant."

Just then, I saw my prior design client's car pull into the driveway. She came up and knocked on the door. When I opened the door, she looked at me in disgust.

Prior design client: "You are in my house. This is mine. What are you... a squatter? What a pig you are. Out, out, out!"

Me: "We had to wait until the snowstorm subsided. It just did a minute before you came. We can now safely leave."

Prior design client: "Get out and get out now."

My husband: "Hold on, hold on. We have a contract that was accepted."

Prior design client: "You can't afford this."

My husband then showed her all of the paperwork. Although we still had no idea how we were able to buy it, we obviously had bought it.

My husband: "The offer was accepted. We paid in full and have no mortgage. This means that it is you who is trespassing on our property."

Prior design client: Looking at me. "You can't afford this. I know this because I know who you are. I know you don't have anything. I will hold you accountable."

As my husband started to move her toward the front door, she finally truly noticed him for the first time (this was post-Transformation). She instantly became infatuated with him. She was unable to formulate her words and started to stutter.

Prior design client: "Wait! What? Who are you? You are so handsome. I feel faint. Are you married? Can I marry you?"

My husband: "I am married, but thanks for the offer."

He then was able to move her out the front door and onto the front porch.

Prior design client: "I am here when you are available. I don't have children."

My husband suddenly became concerned for her children. He stepped out onto the front porch to trick her for the children's safety.

My husband: "Well, that is too bad as I just love children. I especially love one-eyed twins who have English accents. This is too bad."

Prior design client: "No! Wait! I was just bluffing. Look, look..."

She opened her car door and the twins smiled and waved at us. We were relieved that they were still okay.

My husband: "Keep them safe for me and I will visit and check on them."

Prior design client: Now really excited. "Yes, yes! I will keep them safe. I promise you that I will keep them safe from the cradle to the grave!"

My husband waved and closed the front door of our new house. We were relieved to have her drive off. With her gone, the shock then set in that this house was now ours. While we still felt like squatters, we knew this feeling wouldn't last long.

Sub-Dream 2 over.

Sub-Dream 3 "Thousands of Tiny Wooden Sailboats" begins...

I was in a wooden fishing boat in the middle of the ocean at night. I was alone and there was a mast, but no sail. The moon was full and high in the sky. I looked around me and could see fog on the water, but nothing else.

Me: "Lord, I don't know where I am going. Please get me there safely, whatever 'there' is."

Voice of Jesus: "I am with you. So too are many of you now together as one."

I looked behind me on the water and through the fog. There were thousands of wooden boats all around me on the water. We were now all lit up by the full moon. All of us were travelling in the same direction. With just masts, we were 'all in the same boats'!

Sub-Dream 3 over..

Me: "Lord, what is this?"

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "Erin, I am here and I am with you. The first dream fulfills a promise I gave you about twenty years ago that I would build a house for you in the place of your heart. I never revoked this. What is impossible for man is possible with Me. Nothing is impossible for Me.

"Nothing will be by conventional methods as I do not always do things as expected and certainly not in a way the world's system would get credit for My miracles. This is because I am God and My ways are higher than the world's ways. My ways are inexplicable by convention. My ways are supernatural. My ways are Heavenly in origin and 'God-sized'."

Me: "Oh Lord, I can't wait. Please let this be soon, but by our definition of soon. Lord, I have friends who need miracles. They have exhausted all options on their own strength. Would You please stop the plans of the enemy and grant them a miracle?"

Jesus: "Erin, I am God over all things. I know the situation you are referring to. Have them do as you did and plead their case to Me."

Me: "Lord, do You mean find cases from the Bible when something was overturned? What do You mean? Oh Lord, I am just not sure!"

Jesus: "When you are out of options, then who has solutions?"

Me: "You do, Lord!"

Jesus: "Then what is your petition? I am listening."

Me: "Well, You own all of what we see. You are over the banks, the courts and the municipalities. You have the final say in all matters concerning Your children."

Jesus: "Then understand this... no one takes anything from you that I have not allowed. Your friends must place all things at the foot of the Cross. However, you must be at peace no matter which way a matter is settled. Surrender the matter to Me and love Me through it no matter the outcome."

"Remember that not one thing here on Earth is owned by anyone. It is all Mine, so all of this is merely being borrowed from Me. Give Me your troubles and I will make known your course. Meddling prolongs the course as whatever is lost or taken will be added back in greater blessings for here and in Heaven. Erin, what was lost will now be found."

Me: "I can't remember how many times I thought all was lost and all hope gone and then You brought all of it back to us and 100 times better than we could imagine."

Jesus: "Pray and remember that I am over all matters, especially land. I see. I have heard you and I will hear the case in Court. I will also be their Kinsman Redeemer and their Savior. Rejoice for I am here."

"Also, all of you are together. You are not alone. You are all together in the same boat... or boats. You are all traveling in the same direction. I give you light in the darkness. I am your Sail. Trust in Me. Work together!"

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day! Thank You for all You do. I woke up this morning at 5:30am and could not fall back asleep. Pain kept me awake. While I was struggling to fall back asleep, You instead called me to my devotional chair. I wrote down a detailed dream I had just had...

Sub-Dream 1 "Thieves steal the goods of the innocent" begins...

We were waiting to check out at a grocery store. I had only a few items. While my husband and I waited in line, we heard fighting breakout here and there. We then noticed that several people around us were having their cards declined. Many were then leaving without any food. While the grocery store would normally be packed with people as it was prime time, it was quite slow instead.

I looked inside my cart. I had a tiny package of ground beef, perhaps enough for three hamburger patties or a shepherd's pie casserole. The ground beef was $25. A dozen eggs were $12. A small brick of cheese was $19. A bag of potatoes was $15. The bag of potatoes was only large enough for one meal... about eight potatoes. A loaf of store made bread was $9. A pint of milk was $5. The clerk rang me in...

Clerk: "That will be $170 please."

Me: "What? Wait! This should have been $85 for these six staple items. This was already an outrageous price. Now you are saying this will cost us double?"

Clerk: "This is because there is a new tax imposed against meat and dairy. There is also a tax on the potatoes as they weren't organic. These taxes are penalties."

My husband: "These taxes are here to make us stop buying these products."

Clerk: "It is to cut back on harmful emissions. You also have a reparation tax of 30%."

Me: "Reparations? For what?"

Clerk: "Skin color and age. Those with certain skin color are taxed for reparations. The skin color being taxed is obvious. However, there is also a new Senior's Tax. This tax is applied to seniors unless they can prove that they are still working."

We paid the money and walked away in stunned silence. As we walked toward the store's door, we could still hear fighting in various places. As we walked towards our car in the parking lot, we noticed that there were some mean looking people driving up and down the parking lot rows.

We watched a car stop near an elderly woman. A man got out and quickly slipped all her groceries in their car before she could notice. He drove off quickly. When the elderly woman looked at her empty trunk, she began to cry.

I then saw a different car pulling up to a mother with her toddler. While the mother was preoccupied with putting her small child safely in his car seat, someone got out of the car and took all of her stuff. They stole her diapers, formula and food. When she went back to load up her groceries, she noticed they were all gone. It all happened so fast.

Mother: Screaming out in horror. "No! We now have nothing for two weeks. Oh God, please help us!"

The Lord then instructed us to get the grocery lists from both the mother and the elderly woman. We then had them wait in their cars with their doors locked. We went back in the grocery store and bought all of the stuff on their list. We then bought even more than what they had asked for, including things they wanted that were not needed.

We went back outside with the groceries. My husband took a pack of expensive steaks out and taunted the evil thieves with it. We both found this to be amusing. I then addressed the elderly woman after loading her groceries into her trunk.

Me: "Your trunk is all loaded. You may leave now. However, go home by a different route. This will keep you safe."

We then loaded several grocery bags into the mom's car. Since these bags contained food, diapers and formula, it was too much for the criminals to resist. We quickly prayed to the Lord to protect us.

Jesus: "Do not worry about these men. I am placing them in a fog. It will not lift from them until the store closes. Fear will keep them away."

Me: "Can we make them suffer a little? Please?"

Jesus: "They are feeding several families and none have food nor money."

Me: "So, this is survival of the fittest?"

Jesus: "Yes and no. When people are hungry and are apart from Me, they do desperate things."

Well, I now had a different perspective. I was still not a big fan of the method though... smiles. Right before our eyes, a grey cloud dropped over the thief's car. We then heard the thieves moaning in fright. The Lord did not have us punish the thieves.

Jesus: "They are in great distress now. Let them think about their evil and come to Me for provision instead. The store closes in three hours. I will then lift the dark cloud from over them. They will then repent and be saved. I will be their God."

Me: "Sorry about that, Lord. I think we were so angry, we wanted to flatten their tires or perhaps even break an arm. I am so sorry."

Jesus: "This is why I am God and you are not. Doing what you stated would mean several families would starve. They would then resort to even more drastic measures. Instead, this three-hour time out will save multiple souls. It is all part of My process. In addition, the elderly woman and the mom with the young child were rewarded a double portion as My recompense through you. Now, look again at your groceries."

We turned and opened the trunk. There was easily three times more than we had originally purchased. It was better quality stuff as well.

Jesus: "So, do you see what I did here?"

Me: "Yes, Lord. Your ways are ALWAYS higher than ours!"

Sub-Dream 1 over.

Me: "Father, yesterday we were dialoging about the failed Speaker of the House vote in the USA government. I was bothered because nothing seemed right about this. I then asked You if this would become a coalition government."

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "Erin, I am here and I am with you. Remember that I explained a reoccurring pattern in history. Know your enemy by the use of proposals. What types of proposals are they making? When are these proposals suggested? The enemy is busy building an army against My people. To do this, he must prepare the battlefield in advance. He wishes to ensure his victory by doing all of this under the cover of darkness.”

Me: “But, Lord, he knows from Scripture that he will soon be bound in the Lake of Fire.”

Jesus: “Yes, but it seems time and power has given him a skewed memory. He still believes by his form of faith that his Will will be done on Heaven and Earth. He wants to destroy all things before God. Well, his ‘fate’ has already been determined. A verdict has been made by God in His Courts. This has been rendered and sealed. No scheme of the enemy will prevail.

“Now, believing that he can erase and erode historic evidence and bury it or propagate his fields with lies, he continues to change what had happened several times in history. Remember, he is clever and his army is highly organized. He uses chaos as a cloak to cover his advancing plans. The media is then kept from seeing truth or revealing truth. As for most of My people, they perish for the lack of knowledge that I have given you.

“Now, look back to the early 1900s in Europe. One country was ordered to pay reparations they couldn’t afford for the war they had started. There was no solution. As a result, they started printing money, devaluing their currency. It is like a rock starting to roll at the top of a mountain. It starts off falling slow, but gravity causes it to pick up speed. It then crushes all those at the base of the mountain.”

Me: “I found what You are talking about from an old business article. I found out what had happened in Weimar Germany, especially during 1922 to 1923...

- In 1914, a loaf of bread cost 13 cents.
- In 1916, this rose to 19 cents.
- In 1919, this rose to 26 cents.
- By the middle of 1922, it was $3.50.
- Six months later, it was $700.
- In the spring of 1923, it was $1,200.
- By September 1923, it cost $2 million.
- By October 1923, it cost $670 million.
- By November 1923, it was $3 billion.
- By Christmas 1923, it was $100 billion.

“Shortly after this, the German Mark collapsed. Despite the lesson on inflation, the government didn’t stop printing money. This was because they feared riots, civil war and communism more than inflation.

“The government was also weak because no one party could win the majority. Rules were made by minority governments joining into a coalition government. Their fiscal woes then multiplied when they opened up their borders for foreigners and borrowed from other countries to pay their debts. Lord, please help us! We are doing this.”

Jesus: “Yes, Erin, but this is now happening all over the world. All that the enemy did in Germany 100 years ago has only been modified slightly for today.”

Me: “This is sad, Lord.”

Jesus: “Well, I am here with Good News. A hundred years ago, that nation had a short reprieve.”

Me: “Yes. The Golden Years. This lasted around five years... from 1924 to 1929.”

Jesus: “The enemy is using this familiar pattern to destroy the world. However, I will intervene with My Army. This Golden Hour will start and be marked by the time and times of My Splendor through you and My Army.”

Me: “This year of 2023 looks really, really good for You to start Your Great Move in us. Could You do this now, as in ‘right now’ even?”

Jesus: “I am God. I do not need to follow a pattern other than I will not contradict My Word. The enemy does not have any new ideas, only what they have done in the past. They hope to take their strategies used for smaller countries and expand them to a much larger scale. All of this is necessary until the fullness of the hour has come.”

Me: “I can’t imagine bread at that price.”

Jesus: “I know. Do not worry. All will be provided to you and your children at no cost. In turn, you share with all those who need help. I have you!”

Dream over.

661 – Small in Number, Great in Power

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for all things wonderful, both great and small. You are so good! You answer prayers and petitions. All things You do are miracles. Father, please keep my heart upright. Please keep my focus on elevating You and diminishing things of this world.

We fall down when we diminish You. We then increase the importance and power of the world. When You are my focus instead, the things the world offers to take me from You are always better with You instead. I read a devotional this morning that outlined this. This is in Luke 15:22-24 and is referring to the prodigal son.

The prodigal son had asked for his inheritance in advance so that he could leave his father's house. He then spent all of his money and ended up much worse than the illusion of what he thought was greater. When he arrived back home after he had lost everything, his father told his servants to:

- Bring out the best robe and put it on him.
- Put new sandals on his feet.
- Put a ring on his hand.
- Ordered that a calf be slaughtered.

Each of these seem to have a specific purpose:

- Robe: This seems to signify status and cover in his father's presence.
- Sandals: This seems to signify a fresh start.
- Ring: This seems to signify a return of authority and power under his father.
- Calf: Perhaps the son's sins were transferred to the calf symbolically.

They then ate and celebrated together in communion as one again. We don't spend enough of our time in this relationship with God. We then believe the lie that things are better or 'more fun' outside of God's House. However, this is so untrue. A long time ago, I believed these lies. I believed that the only way to have a fulfilling life was to stay away from this punishing constricting God. However, God is the very opposite...

- How many times a day does God gift us, both in the tiny things and the big?
- How many times do we see that this was Him all along, recognizing Him as the Giver of Great Gifts?

He studies us, keeps records on us and knows us. He remembers. He is the Ultimate Father. When it is written that God is preparing a house for us, get excited because it will be so wonderful. I had a couple of interesting dreams last night.

Sub-Dream 1 "Being big isn't always better" begins...

I was in a quaint country town. It was winter. I was invited to help a church with the design of their lobby. There was fresh snow on the ground when I arrived by taxi to the address given to me. I then discovered that there were two churches at the same address. Both were beautiful white classic churches with steeples. Both were well maintained.

However, the one church to the right had been remodeled through the years and had some bad additions to the back of it. The architect or builder didn't even try to be cohesive with the church as it was. It had a bad brick façade and horrible windows. I hate seeing crimes against design like this. Then there was the perfect little church to the left with no additions. I addressed the cab driver.

Me: "Which one is hiring me?"

Cabby: "The one to the right. They are always remodeling. They have the money. They took all the congregants from the little church over the years. This means the little church has no young people to give it promise. Still, I can tell you this... Jesus shows up at the little church and the big church knows it."

Me: "Okay, this makes sense to me. When I look to the right-side church, my stomach turns just thinking about it. God doesn't seem to be in the design there. I am sure Jesus decided to go simpler, so He is operating in the left-side church."

We both had a good laugh. I then tipped him well as I had just received such great information from him. I began to walk up the walkway dividing the churches. I couldn't help but gaze at the pretty little church. An elderly pastor opened the gothic style doors. When he saw me, he started speaking to me:

Pastor: "Hello and greetings, stranger. So glad to see you. I heard you were coming. Please consider stopping back to say hi before you leave. I have a fresh ripe cantaloupe that you will want to grab a piece of."

I smiled as my head tilted towards the cantaloupe. It was beautifully sliced.

Me: "There are no bags and they aren't frozen. How?"

Pastor: "We carry a lot of fruit here. Old farmers bring it here for their offerings to Jesus. He loves fresh fruit. We don't have fruit flies or bugs. We like to have plenty of fruit here though."

Me: Laughing. "Yes, of course... I will stop by after my appointment."

He smiled such a beautiful gracious smile. He had a sparkle to his eyes. I felt the Lord's presence around the church and upon his face. I then proceeded to my appointment next door. When I went in, I found them waiting for me. The entrance was tacky and confusing.

Some young boys who were overweight and in suits that did not fit came over to greet me. While they were nice, I felt they had been sent over with an ulterior motive. The boys escorted me to a large island table in the center of the lobby. It was made of granite with a mahogany veneer. It was kidney shaped.

The greeters stood behind this granite kidney shaped table. The ceilings were low for a church, about eight feet tall. There was no lobby for people coming in to move and convene prior to service. The island was about eight feet wide and at pub table height. I was then escorted to a boardroom.

There in front of me were prominent board members in charge of the design. They barely greeted me before they began their arguments. While they had a large budget, they were stalemated due to differing opinions on how to use the money.

I suddenly then realized that I was there to mediate. I laughed when I saw a fruit selection in a plastic clam shell container from the grocery store. The fruit looked tasteless and it was. I barely took a nibble and I had to stop eating.

Me: Addressing the board members. "Can we pause to pray first?"

Silence fell upon the board members. They looked at me in anger as if I was trying to accuse them of not being holy.

Church lady: "Well, since you are so concerned about prayer, then why don't you say it then. We thought we were hiring you for design services, not as a prayer leader. Time is money."

All of the board members promptly agreed with her.

Me: "Sorry to offend you. This is how I begin all design projects. Perhaps I am not the right fit."

As I began to get up out of my chair, the board members started to protest.

Me: "Then here is my prayer... Father God, please grant us supernatural peace. We offer up this project to You. This is Your church. Let Your Will be done. In Jesus' Name, Amen."

While the board members were still offended, they kept quiet as they knew I would simply walk off the job if I received any 'attitude'.

Me: "I see major problems here in the lobby. It is not inviting at all."

While some agreed, others did not. A woman then got up and acted as hostess. She opened up the fruit clam shell and began to circulate it amongst the board. It made my stomach turn as there were fruit flies all over it. They were oblivious.

Me: "While I haven't seen the sanctuary yet, I can tell just based on the additions and the front lobby that an entire remodel will be necessary."

Board member: "We are expanding because we have so many members. When we are complete, God will then show up."

Me: "Wait! Is God not here now? I must instead pray for deliverance. You need to start with this first before God can be present. You remove God with this arguing. As for this project, this is too big for me right now. I must respectfully decline. I like projects with God present."

They all became furious and chased me outside.

Board member: "Wait! We want our money back! We mailed you a check. We will stop it."

Me: "Don't worry, I have it here."

I opened my folder and handed them the check. One ripped it apart violently. They were now yelling at each other as they went back inside. The pastor of the little church then greeted me.

Pastor: "Are you leaving town today?"

Me: "No. I fly back tomorrow."

Pastor: "Please come tonight to our prayer meeting. While we are small, the Lord is with us. Now, how about trying a piece of cantaloupe?"

Me: Taking some. "Whoa, this is amazing. Thanks so much. You have the best fruit."

Pastor: "So, will you come to our prayer meeting?"

Me: "I will!"

Sub-Dream 2 "Renovating my old house for sale" begins...

I was writing in my bed when I was a child in California. The bed also had a strange mixture of my bed when I was a teenager in Idaho. My bed was set up around me like my devotional chair. I had my journal devotional items around me, along with a spinning turntable with pens. Interestingly, all of my bedding was white. There is no way that I would have had white bedding at that time.

My room was dark as it was nighttime. I had a lamp allowing me to write. In the same room was a bunkbed that my mom and I had slept in at one point in Idaho. I hadn't seen it for more than forty years. I heard a knock on my door. It was my mom. She appeared young. She was holding a large camcorder..

Mom: "Hi 'big girl' (sometimes her nickname for me). The school came by and dropped this off. They want me to film you now so that they can have footage capturing your early years."

Me: "Oh mom, this is ridiculous. I am not sure why I would want a camera here."

Mom: "This is your dream place. They are curious."

I got up and walked down the hall. In the living room were my children. They were all young... ages 5, 7 and 9, respectively. There was an odd configuration of furniture.

My older son: "Grandma took the Christmas tree apart so we could move it."

There were tree parts everywhere and furniture on cinder blocks. The furniture from the small dining area was mixed in with the living room. It was not possible to sleep on any of these.

After inspecting this, the kids and I started to redesign the entire area. We soon transformed my entire former house. As we were moving around, my children became adults. The room changed as they aged.

My younger son: "Mom, I can't believe you once lived here."

My daughter: "Mom, why is the oven door open?"

Me: "Sometimes we needed to do this for heat."

As I walked over to the oven, I realized just how dangerous this was. The oven and stove were monstrous and haunting. We all carried it outside. After continuing our redesign, we finally had the house ready for the agent to sell it.

Sub-Dream 2 over.

Me: "Oh Lord, this last dream made very little sense. However, since it was so clear and concise, I know it was from You. Help! Father, please help me to understand these dreams. There are no mistakes with You."

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "Erin, I am here and I am with you. Let Me address this mysterious night of dreams. This one about your former house is one that has shaped your life from the beginning of your journey. You had very humble beginnings, yet your mom reminded you that there were those who were worse off."

Me: "At the time, it didn't seem so. Our clothing and appearance indicated that there were issues. I wasn't a very good kid. I was angry a lot of the time."

Jesus: "This is because you rarely experienced peace and security. You slept with one eye open. When there was arguing, you couldn't sleep through it. You went from difficulty to even greater difficulty."

Me: "I went from the frying pan to the oven. I became tough and cynical. It was depressing. I felt so alone."

Jesus: "These stories and events matured you. You then passed your friends in maturity. Instead of asking 'why me?', you instead began to ask 'what can I do so this stops!' You then begged God to help you even though you sometimes forget begging Me. You learned to follow Me through all of your pain."

"Your children witnessed this and came to Me as a result. You were able to believe in My miracles through your trials and they witnessed this. Your pain, their gain. Erin, they believe because of you. This is good. The mistakes your mother made gave you the beginnings of maturity. This was enhanced through all that you had experienced.

"As for now, you are spiritually mature in Me. You can spot a counterfeit because I dwell in you. You have warned and taught your children about this."

Me: "Psalm 31 seems to sum this up. In part, this tells me to be glad and rejoice in Your mercy for You have considered my troubles."

Jesus: "Oh Erin, you need to read the entire Scripture to know your journey. How can you relate to My people if you are unrelatable. God sent His Son... Me... to walk amongst the people in order to give them a message of salvation. I am raising up a New Church, a people with Me, and I will do amazing miracles through you. Every now and then, I bring you a dream to point out your amazing Transformation. You then write this down. Even though you hate writing, you continue to write, always in My strength."

Me: "Lord, I have read all of Psalm 31. It is incredible!"

Jesus: "You have gone from valley to pastures to the wilderness. One day soon, you will be a Bride of My choosing on a Throne. This is a miracle. Now rejoice. Erin, humble are your beginnings, yet how wonderful your eternal dwelling place near My Altar! You are greatly loved by Me!"

Dear Father,

Lord, please bless and look after all of the states and countries who are in turmoil. So much is happening in Brazil. Please bring Your justice there. There are also terrible weather events happening in California. Please protect them. There is also trouble in the Middle East, France, Belgium and China. Please look after the Ukraine as well.

Sub-Dream 3 "Caring for Groundhogs on their day" begins...

I had to care for three groundhogs we had found on our property. One of them wasn't doing well, so I picked it up. It was then that I realized that it was keeping two newborns warm. As I was tending to the mom, she died from something. I then decided to bring the two baby groundhogs inside.

I knew they needed milk, but I didn't know what to do. I knew in my Spirit that cow's milk would kill them. When I went online, I found out how incredibly complicated it would be for me to keep these two babies alive and thriving. I decided to pray to the Lord instead and put my full trust in Him...

"Lord, You led me to their den to help the helpless, these little ones. Did You allow me to bring them inside just to have them die in my care? This doesn't seem like You. I would ask for their food and that I could cover the rest of their other care. However, even this is impossible for me on my own. Oh Father, I can literally do nothing without You. I need a miracle!"

Just then, the doorbell rang (even though I don't have a doorbell in real life). I went to the door and there was a courier dressed in a white bellhop outfit. He was wearing a triangular white paper hat. He was also wearing white gloves.

Bellhop: "Are you Miss Erin?"

Me: "Yes."

Bellhop: "Here is everything you will need. Please sign here."

The clipboard said 'Bell Hope Couriers Service'.

Me: Laughing as I signed the order sheet. "But I didn't order anything?"

Bellhop: "You just did. Have a great day."

He turned and went into a white box van that said 'Bell Hope'. As he drove out, I heard another ring. I looked at the front door. When I looked back, he was completely gone. I looked at the small box. It was labeled 'Baby Groundhog Care Kit'.

Me: "Oh Lord, You are so funny!"

I opened the box. Everything was prepared. All I had to do was drop the babies into this box. This box was then somehow able to feed them and care for them (obviously with God and His angels help).

Me: "They were hungry, but can now feed themselves. They were blind, but their eyes were opened. When they ate, they were revived."

They became lively and wanted me to pick them up. I had a warm shirt jacket with two chest pockets. They each stayed there as I walked around. I went from panic to prayer to provision. Father, You delivered the impossible. You are so good!

Sub-Dream 3 over.

Me: "Oh Lord, thank You for helping those groundhogs. Surely, they are the least of these... smiles."

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "Erin, I am here and I am with you. I know unrest and storms cause great anguish. You then wonder if I am seeing all of this. Well, these events are necessary to soften the land and to tear down hearts of stone. This is allowed so when Heaven is revealed upon Earth, many millions will be ready and willing to receive the help that only God can bring. I will use you and your friends to bring about waves of miracles and healings."

Dear Father,

I am thankful for You! Thank You for supernatural provision. Things all around us are becoming frightening. The store barely had any eggs yesterday. The enemy has struck out against the people using the New World Order. They started off by flattering young leaders. They promised to give them large roles in the New Order. This began with their Unholy Great Reset. The problem is that they need money to do this.

Their first goal is to shorten the lifespan of the general population. While this is just a personal theory, the Lord has never rebuked me for wrong thinking. They needed to begin by attacking democratically 'free' societies. Universal healthcare was to be the norm. This way they could help determine a person's early demise. This would facilitate the release of pension funds and other monies back to the government.

Then there was great fear amongst the Globalists because one leader of the USA struck out against these agendas. This was not something they had expected could happen. It was God's Will as He raises up kings. The enemy's response was to fix the elections, especially in swing states. They used the pandemic to change voting laws. They made it so it was hard to identify any fraud. Shortages then came...

- Strikes against any foods or beverages that keep our bodies strong. This includes protein in the form of beef, chicken, dairy, cheese, milk and now eggs.
- Destroying our fossil fuels and controlling the electrical input for our homes and now electric vehicles.
- They raised prices on fuels and placed our dependence on foreign dictators.
- They then decided to remove any means for the people to defend themselves against crime.
- Criminals were then convinced by weak DAs to release criminals of all sorts.
- The suicide rate then escalated during the pandemic lockdown.

- Men became emasculated and were encouraged to wear women's clothing.
- Homosexuality was advertised more and more as an excellent lifestyle.
- The children were encouraged to become gender neutral.
- Any say on children's sexuality and education were removed from the parent.
- Abortion laws were changed and women were given the ability (and sometimes encouraged) to end their child's life even at birth.
- In Canada, euthanasia is being suggested for veterans, mental health issues and the elderly, especially if there are medical expenses.
- On our southern border with Mexico, people, particularly young adults, are being escorted into the USA and supported there. Many of them are dangerous.

The overall idea is to destroy the population via illness, starvation, neglect, crimes, addictions, murders, shortened lifespans and assisted suicide. The next thing is probably concentration camps. These camps would be for any opposing parties, undesirable skin colors, Christians, Jews and anyone else the New World Order doesn't like. I had a few dreams last night...

Sub-Dream 1 "Food Shortages all around" begins...

I was in Portland OR in a massive inner kitchen of a huge feeding operation. It reminded me of major hotels that have one kitchen serving multiple restaurants. There was one restaurant to the east and another restaurant to the southwest.

The first thing I noticed was that there were no smells of food cooking. I approached a woman who appeared to be running things. She was yelling out orders. She had a tag badge that confirmed that she was the manager there.

Manager: Yelling. "We need two more tops (tables) to order so we can pay for the food shipment to be released."

I looked out into the dining room and saw a waiter asking for payment up front. I saw the couple refuse and leave. The waiter went through the swing doors into the kitchen. He shook his head as he spoke with the chef..

Waiter: "They refused to pay up front. It was a no."

Chef: "We have a hundred tops waiting and no food. Can't they at least give us something to serve them? Perhaps some bread? Something?"

The manager then walked by with a tub full of dishes for the dishwasher to clean. What was so very odd about this is that the dishes hadn't even been touched. They were already spotless. When I looked around, all of the stainless-steel counters were shining. Nothing was cooking! I stopped the manager as she was walking by..

Me: "Hi there. We ordered take out. It was prepaid."

Manager: "Right. Your name?"

Me: "Erin."

Manager: "Yes. However, your order was switched by a family member."

She handed me a brown paper bag. It was small. I opened it. There was a plastic container with barbequed meat labeled 'Hash Mix'.

Me: "Oh yuck! This looks like dog food."

Manager: In a snobby tone. "Just be thankful. Bon appetit."

I left there and went to a grocery store. There were empty shelves everywhere except for the cereal aisle. However, there was no milk for the cereal. As I quickly left and walked down the street, what I thought were people sleeping were actually dead. It was like hell!

Sub-Dream 1 over..

Sub-Dream 2 "Cute visitors" begins...

I walked out of my front door and several birds and animals came up to me as if they were glad to see me. A dove flew to me. It was so real, I was startled and woken up.

Sub-Dream 2 over..

Sub-Dream 3 "All is fine after the Big Storm" begins...

We lived in a stone façade house. All of our kids were younger again. While we had word that a huge storm was coming, we were not afraid. Rains were soon battering the house. I was upset by the ferocity, so I found my husband. He was unrattled.

My husband: "Let the storm pass. Everything will then change. Do not worry. Remember, Erin... God has us... He always has!"

Just as soon as the storm had come, it then left us. I walked around the house and realized everything was back to normal. Any damages caused by the storm were instantly removed and repaired supernaturally.

Sub-Dream 3 over..

Father, why does it seem like all is going from bad to worse now. I had great expectations and great faith that You wouldn't allow all of this to happen. Things are becoming scary now. Thank You for gathering up our children and bringing them here. Still, everything is upside down. Things have become outrageously expensive and there is no end in sight.

Me: "Oh Father, we are groaning in pain like the Israelites of old. Then came the burning bush. Do You see what is being done to us now? Do You see our future? Will You take care of us? Our circumstances are growing worse, not better. You have told us to be patient, not to lose heart, to not fear and You are with us. Please help us!"

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "Erin, I am here and I am with you. I am who I say I am. I am yours and you are Mine. When did I say things would get better before My miracles begin? I did not say this. I know it is difficult to experience the judgments of God against the nations. You are living in perilous times. You are hated for My namesake.

"That being said, it was written that there would come days such as these. However, I will soon bring many out to spread the Good News. I know you do not like the downturn in circumstances around you as many families and people are suffering. This is because the hour is late and the wicked are on full display. Lies are common now."

Me: "I guess I had hoped we wouldn't experience the bad stuff. I prayed and hoped."

Jesus: "Yes, but when has trouble knocked on your door and actually entered? When have these been, not threats of trouble, but real trouble?"

Me: "Never. The threats have never materialized into reality. You have guided us when these problems come. Lord, You have delivered us from them all."

Jesus: "When have you lacked the ability to purchase food vs just refusing to pay the price they are asking for it?"

Me: "I have never lacked the ability to purchase food. Still, I just want to be wise and not foolish in the handling of what You have provided for us. Lord, You have sustained us miraculously and have told me not to stress. Some prices are just so ridiculous. I try to follow You and not get stressed!"

Jesus: "How has this been going for you?"

Me: "Well, I am sorry to report that I still stress."

Jesus: "Wisdom is stocking up on items that can be used over time. However, it is foolish to purchase something just to store and never using this or letting them spoil."

Me: "Am I doing this, Lord? I did during the lockdowns. I was living in fear half the time and in faith the other half."

Jesus: "Remember, I am with you. Purchase as I call you. I will provide for you. Storehouses of supplies when I have called for these are good, but storing just to store ends in spoiling. It is time to stand on faith. Now, when does God and His Army move? Is it in times of peace, joy and security, or is it in times of unrest and fear?"

Me: "Well, You move all the time and in all things. However, any Great Move, any major shift of Heaven upon the Earth, came during storms and upheaval, when people had little faith and even less hope. It has always happened in similar conditions as they are right now. Am I correct, Lord?"

Jesus: "The nations are being prepared as the woman is about to give birth. The labor pains and contractions have come in waves. She is about to give birth to a Great Miracle. This will be a Great Move of the Spirit of God. My Plan is about to be born. Erin, this seems as if it is a mystery right now, but this will bring great joy.

"In the meantime, you are experiencing contractions, labor pains, unrest and uncertainty. Erin, I am in all of this. It is written that great will be your joy and that you will remember your afflictions no more. Now rejoice, Erin, as I am with you. Your garments are beautiful to Me. I am well pleased with your cover!"

Me: "While I don't understand all You are saying, I am sorry for living in fear and worrying at times. Oh Lord, please forgive me for this."

Jesus: "You are forgiven. Remember that the enemy uses fear to weaponize against your faith in Me and the belief in Heaven. He hates the promises that I have given you. Fear leads to mishaps and adds to trouble. Turn to Me to build your faith. I am the Author of the Book of Hope and Truth! I am with you and you are greatly loved by Me. I am with your Nest and they too are greatly loved by Me."

Dear Father,

I am about to enter into my sixties. This seems revolutionary to me... smiles. I have come this far only to realize that nothing in this world satisfies us other than a healthy relationship with You. Even my sons now see this. They hold on to You and believe in Your promises. Perhaps tomorrow will bring Transformational days ahead...

- Blessed are You, Father, in all the Earth.
- Blessed is Your Great Name.
- Blessed are You in Heaven.
- Blessed are You, Father, our Deliverer.

In Exodus 6:6-7, You deliver us in special ways...

- Hotzeiti; which means 'I will bring out'.
- Hitzalti; which means 'I will rescue'.
- Ga'alti; which means 'I will redeem'.
- Lakachti; which means 'I will take'.
- Haveiti; then You promise You will bring Your people back into their own land.
- You then declared it and sealed it with "I Am the Lord"!

Oh Father, it is hard to be patient because we live on borrowed time in this world. While we believe in Your promises, we grow weary as evil rises. How do we avoid the world when we live in it? We cannot. Thank You for bringing us Good News and being our special and perfect GOOD NEWS! I had a vivid dream last night...

Sub-Dream 1 "Three Floors of Highly Organized Evil" begins...

I saw a three-story building. However, one wall was cut away so I could view what was occurring on each of the floors. While the bottom floor was below ground, it was accessible from the ground level by a door and stairs. There was also an elevator that moved freely between the floors and was in the center of the building.

Deep in one end of the basement level of this building were several large creatures confined to these boxed offices. Even though they were confined to these areas, they still had full access to a large staff. While their staff was free to move about, they spent most of their time engaged in strategic interface.

While I am not sure what this fully means, they had as their mission to take directives from the several large creatures confined below. These confined creatures were powerful bosses. Each box of confinement represented a territory or realm. There were ten realms over the Earth...

- Seven were in charge of the land.
- One was in charge of the air.
- One was in charge of the ocean.
- One was in charge of 'all other' (not sure what exactly this means, but I am guessing perhaps an unseen realm of sorts).

The staff was huge and their technology was only topped by Heaven's technology in their advancement. They were highly organized. Anyone who thinks that the enemy operates in chaos is incorrect. While their work may seem chaotic to our eyes, they are orderly and precise in their methodology. From the basement level, they controlled evil of all kinds. It was organized, neat, very orderly and focused.

The second floor consisted of things we see. It looked like any normal office conducting normal business. However, their business was evil and focused on destroying God's children in any way possible. I saw the staff from the second floor, invisible to our eyes, manipulate a situation against one of God's children. The following increasingly typical scenario is a Christian woman providing a resignation letter to her boss...

Woman: "Here is my resignation. This company no longer represents me or my values."

Boss: "Oh yes it does! You just don't see well. While we are moving in the right direction, you decided to make religion your focus. This cannot be tolerated."

Woman: "Wait. All I did was wear a cross. Besides, I am the one resigning."

Boss: "The cross you wore is a symbol of hate. The company has already filed a complaint against you. You are fired. Good luck finding work out there."

I then saw a massive number of evil spirits go out through computers into cubicles and other offices. They were all focused on destroying this one Christian. This was terrifying to watch and made me so angry.

I then saw the elevator move to the third floor. There was no ceiling on this top floor. This meant all that was below was free to move up and outward. Frighteningly, barely anyone was aware of what was happening. I then overheard one evil spirit say something to another evil spirit..

Evil spirit: "We are destroying and defiling God's children just as God destroyed the children of the angels of light. Come, let us avenge them in spirit."

I then saw these frightening entities go into various people. Their bodies, the vessels of the individuals, were then filled with evil. The demon-possessed people then proclaimed themselves as victims, even those that were killing innocent people.

Sub-Dream 1 over...

Me: "Father, I am tired of these dreams where evil is winning. I am ready for Your Army to rise up and put a stop to all of this. I am praying for a series of victory dreams instead. I want dreams of Heaven upon Earth. I want dreams of revival and joy. I don't want any more dreams with doom and gloom. Sigh... oh Father, let Your Will be done in all things, including these dreams, even if I do prefer sunshine and happiness."

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "Erin, I am here and I am with you. You are stepping from one state of being into another. Your Vessel has been filled and has been waiting for the time of fullness. You are moving from being a vertically complete body to Me working through you to pour out Living Water. Erin, look..."

Sub-Dream / Vision 2 "Thousands of Vessels waiting for God" begins...

As I sat in my chair, a vision opened. I was in a massive hall off of the Throne Room of God. I could see the racks of thousands of Vessels filled with God's Holy Fire and Living Water. The Living Water was from the River of Life. In turn, the River of Life flowed out from the Throne of God. All the Vessels were upright on the racks. They numbered in the tens of thousands. Each one was unique and different. The vision then disappeared.

Sub-Dream / Vision 2 over..

Me: "Lord, did I really just see what I just saw?"

Jesus: "Yes. Remember that I filled each one in the River of Life by My own hand. I even shaped each Vessel by My own hand in My Potter's House. Remember that you first came to Me as a child. You were helpless and needy. Despite how difficult your circumstances were, and even your beginnings, you still searched for Me so that I could be found by you. I was with you.

"Despite the enemy's great schemes to keep you from Me, you still traveled the path that led to Me. Even though the enemy sent his armies and even dragons to deter you, here you are. I sent My best angels to create a covering like a chuppah over you so you were unaware that the enemy seeks your life. You came to Me there despite the circumstances.

"Despite the discouragement and insults of other Christians, you still came to Me day after day. Because you were honest with Me in all things, I revealed more and more to you. All the while, I kept you hidden to the outside until the time of your fullness came. During your journey, I brought you up to show you where I was shaping My vessels. You then saw that they were being prepared in the furnace of affliction.

"Remember that each one was shaped from miry clay and thrown on My wheel and formed. They were then uniquely glazed and fired. Some needed multiple times in My kiln. After cooling, they were then filled by Me and by My Spirit. Living Water filled My Vessels. Erin, this includes your Vessel.

"As I filled each Vessel with Living Water, the angels I appointed carried each one to the Throne Room of God. Thousands of Vessels there are filled and waiting on God to sound the trumpets. Once this happens, each one will pour out Living Water to the territories they are assigned. A great outpouring of Living Water and My Presence will change the landscape. Nothing will come against you."

Me: "Lord, please let it be done as You have promised. Please do not forget about me."

Jesus: "Erin, the Vessels are in the midst of Heaven near My Altar. If you were not one of them, I would not have told you any of this. If I did, this would make Me like those who have fallen. Erin, I am the Good Shepherd and the Potter, understand? I lead My Sheep and shape their outcomes for My purpose in Earth as it is in Heaven.”

Me: “Thank You, Lord!”

Jesus: “Isaiah 60 and 61 are for you now. This year (2023), your 60th birthday centers around the last day of Tevet and the first day of Shevat. This is the transition from your 60th year to your 61st year. Your birthday this year occurs at the beginning, the first day of Shevat. This is the time of blossoming and new beginnings.”

Me: “Lord, it seems that I have been told this before. Is this new?”

Jesus: “Yes. Oh Erin, do you not see how I have kept you covered and hidden in My Quiver? While I know it hasn’t been easy, you just finished your years of completeness. I have not forgotten you, Erin... not once. Though you feel old and battered, you are not. This is the Great Time of New Beginnings.”

Me: “Lord, I have been sad as a storm is coming our way. Can You move this storm offshore? Please?”

Jesus: “Do not worry as this will come to nothing. Now, do not be afraid as I am with you and I am in you. Soon, great will be your joy, as well as your children’s and your house’s. All will be healed.”

Me: “My husband and my faithful Nest friends too, Lord?”

Jesus: “Yes, of course, Erin. Now, the well My remnant have been drawing water from in this world never satisfies. However, the water I have provided to fill your cups will heal the nations. I see the wicked leaders who have risen in corruption to strike against the people. I will topple them publicly one by one. They will be exposed. You will experience great miracles.

“Erin, revival is coming. The world has never seen anything like this even from the beginning. The alarm was sounded years ago that changes were happening. The prophet Amos spoke of the great judgment of Israel. Amos spoke of the fall if they did not turn. He then prophesied of the great day of restoration (Amos 9:11-14). Do you understand?”

Me: “Yes, Lord. This looks like a good time... a good day.”

Jesus: “It is a great day! It is a day that is significant to Me and hidden in plain sight. Rejoice, Erin, for you, your family and your friends are not forgotten. While I know you are scared and downcast, do not be. I have taken care of you and your house and I will not stop. You are loved by Me.”

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for a wonderful birthday. Thank You for keeping our power on. I was exhausted recently, especially going from Sunday night into Monday morning. I had a difficult night of tossing and turning. I woke up every 45 minutes. While I was quite agitated, I didn't know why. My hands and forearms hurt with great pain. I couldn't sleep. The last I remembered was my clock at 4:15am.

For the last month or so, I have also been experiencing a different kind of fatigue. When I described it to my husband, he suggested it was 'watcher's fatigue' and that it seems to have become common on the Nest. Watching is worshipping and we have been worshipping with such great energy for such a long time. Really, what God is doing is remarkable. He is preparing our Vessels through our avid watching.

Me: "Oh Lord, what You are doing is remarkable. You are preparing our Vessels. You have told me that You are glazing the inside of our Vessels. However, I thought our Vessels were ready. Lord, please help us. Please energize us and remove our 'watcher's fatigue'. You are worthy of all of our praise and, since watching is a form of praise, continuing to watch is what we will do!"

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "Without proper glazing on the inside of a Vessel, the Vessel cannot perform well with the fluids to be poured into them. Look at the vessels you own in front of you."

Me: "You are right, Lord. How did I not notice something so obvious right in front of me? I have owned these almost half of my lifetime and they are right before me. Some of the items I own actually have better glazing on the inside than on the outside. I also have a very old pitcher that has no interior glaze at all.”

Jesus: “Then this has no purpose that is useful. It can hold no liquid nor can it store anything. The finish would spoil the water and the pitcher would eventually break apart and harm your hand.”

Me: “Lord, I just flipped over the pitcher. The bottom reads ‘For Decorative Purposes Only’. This is amusing.”

Jesus: “How many Christians are like this pitcher?”

Me: “I don’t know.”

Jesus: “The preparation periods are not easy. The waits are long. Faith can wane. Things can get messy. I am preparing Vessels to hold what is poured into them. They are strong and I find them worthy. They are not as the world expects, but as I choose. My Vessels are able to withstand daily use. These are utilitarian and can hold anything, understand?”

Me: “I think so, Lord. I repent for my fatigue. I repent for my ‘watcher’s fatigue’. I have even been crabby and withdrawn. This is not like me.”

Jesus: “Do you not think that this too was part of the process of measuring My Vessels. The indwelling of My Spirit will also cause fatigue at times. Recognize this and pray. I will bring you through these. At times, you will be tired of people. This is due to the many demands that will be placed upon you. While you will have compassion for their great needs, your desire to help them must always be given to Me. This is because you are not God, only I Am.

“Now, you will have rest periods in Heaven. When you dream, it will often be of lovely things. However, you will also have dreams instructing you on plots against you by the enemy. Then when you awake, you will know what to expect. I will then instruct you in the ways you should go. While rest will be restful, work will consist of Me taking you to places you never thought possible.”

Me: “These dreams are happening now...”

- In one dream, I was in a large cell with MS-13 members.
- In another, I was at the USA Capital.
- In another, I was appearing in Russia and somehow knew their language.

Jesus: “You will go to places I call each of you to go. None of you are chosen because you necessarily accomplished great things. In fact, your failures and losses, your great humiliation and brokenness, made you the least. Therefore, you are hidden. You are kept perfectly where I have brought you.

“With you, you met many infamous people and have had brushes with significant people and situations that you remember. While they have forgotten you, you have never forgotten them and what they did or said to you or your children.”

Me: “But, Lord, I thought I had already forgiven them.”

Jesus: “You have. However, you do not understand what I am now trying to convey to you. It is I who gave you your path. You are given freewill to choose Me or not to choose Me. However, since I knit you when given a choice, I still know and prepared the route you have taken. Even when you took a wrong turn, I used this for My purposes. This is because I knew the plans I have for you.

“Now, many acquaintances, family, clients and others have cursed you over the years. They have said, ‘well, she is getting what she deserves for her stupidity!’ Erin, I will turn this back upon those who love to gloat over their success or holiness compared to yours. They have also said, ‘too bad, so much talent wasted!’ They have also said, ‘This is a prime example of living a life of sin, where God’s payment for that is their deserved brokenness and poverty!’

“Well, they know nothing of the God who is over them. They don’t know Who is in you and with you in all you do. Erin, I tell you the truth... they will avoid you. When they are convicted of their very curses spoken against you, some will come and apologize. You will accept their apologies. Others with great pride would sooner fall into the times of great tribulation than ever turn and humble themselves before God.”

Me: “I feel sad for them.”

Jesus: “They have no understanding. They have no idea who I am. They don’t know the Great Gift I am giving them, a Gift apart from this world.”

Me: “I feel awful for this.”

Jesus: “Those I have chosen have been and are the greatest measuring lines in all of the nations. The least of these will be a Great Army. All of you together will be as one.”

Me: “This is hard to believe since I am so insignificant to the world and even to my church. We were no one to our neighbors surrounding us and certainly no one to our community.”

Jesus: "This is by design. My Elect are not public figures. You do not have much of a footprint. The enemy doesn't see you as a threat, but he knows something is happening because of angelic activity. This angelic activity is increasing as I build up My Army in certain regions."

Me: "We still come under attack though. This even happens daily."

Jesus: "Yes, but then these come to nothing."

Me: "Lord, I had two interesting dreams last night..."

Sub-Dream 1 "Cooking on the Oregon Coast"

I saw an entire population of people I recognized behaving as zombies. While they weren't drug addicts, they were acting in an odd way. It was on the West Coast of the USA. My family was visiting the Oregon Coast. We had been near one of my daughter's friends and we invited her to stay with us. One morning, we were discussing what we wanted to eat for breakfast. We then had a prayer.

We could smell cooking. To my surprise, my daughter's friend was cooking all of our food. There was a plate with fried eggs stacked twelve on top of each other. It was the entire carton. Another was twelve sausages. There was also a large platter of fish half cooked with skin on. Another platter had ten raw chicken breasts on the bottom and ten cooked chicken breasts on top of the raw ones. She wasn't fazed by my presence.

Me: "Stop! These chicken breasts are raw. You can't place cooked chicken breasts on top of raw ones."

Rather than replying, she walked out of the kitchen, grabbed her suitcase and walked out. We followed her and noticed everyone around us were now emotionless and doing confusing things, including the girl.

Sub-Dream 1 over.

Sub-Dream 2 "Three Groundhogs and a Baby Groundhog"

I walked into a pet shop and four groundhogs ran up to me. It was as if they each knew me. Two were normal size. One was a baby, about half of the size of the adults. This baby was quite plump. Yet one more was very skinny. While a normal length, he was starving. They were all desperate for me to pick them up.

Sub-Dream 2 over.

"Lord, these dreams were confusing. They were also very clear. While I don't recall my other dreams, last night was a night of undisturbed deep sleep. Thank you for this. Lord, can You help me with my dreams?"

Jesus: "The groundhogs represent years..."

- Two years are normal.
- Half a year is a time of plenty.
- One year is a time of very little."

Me: "Does this mean food? The baby came up to me first. Does this mean this is the first six months of this year? When is this?"

Jesus: "You ask many questions. I will reveal more to you soon. However, it is important for you to first understand that this will not affect your household."

Me: "Lord, what about the other dream?"

Jesus: "There aren't enough demons in the spirit realm to be weaponized against the children of God. As a result, an edict will be sent out for many to receive something that will make people appear as functioning, but dead. They will be useless... as if their souls have been taken... yet they are very much alive. This creates the ability for one demonic spirit to weaponize multiple people for evil."

Me: "When will this be? This has to be during Tribulation."

Jesus: "Many of these people will still be delivered to Me, so do not worry. Now, years ago... you were shown a bomb with an odd sound."

Me: "Yes. It made an odd whoosh with a ping sound. Hard to describe. While the people perished, Jerusalem still remained intact."

Jesus: "A plague will come to any nation that attacks Israel. They will rot and their flesh will fall off. They will walk as if they are dead."

Me: "That is horrifying."

Jesus: "In your dream, something else was shown."

Me: "Yes. It was uncooked meat."

Jesus: "This occurs during a time when cooking oil and gas is portioned. The order in a dream can be significant. Now, the dozen eggs and the dozen sausages were both cooked. The fish was half cooked. Each of the ten raw chicken breasts had a cooked chicken breast placed on top of it."

Me: "Here are my thoughts on this..."

- The dozen eggs seem to map to twelve months of normal. This seems to equate to the first of the two normal groundhogs.

- The dozen sausages then seem to map to another twelve months of normal. This seems to equate to the second of the two normal groundhogs.
- In both of these normal years, there appears to be enough gas and cooking oil.
- Next came the large platter of half cooked fish that seems to map to 6 months of plenty. This seems to equate to the baby groundhog half the size of normal.
- Finally, we had the ten cooked chicken breasts on top of the ten raw chicken breasts. This seems to equate to a year of very little and to the very skinny groundhog. However, if ten breasts means ten months, this is slightly different than a year as a year has twelve months.
- Could the chicken breasts instead signify the gas being turned off for ten months (raw) and then being turned on for ten months (cooked)?

Jesus: "These are good observations. You will know more on this soon."

Me: "When, Lord? When will this be? This is scary."

Jesus: "Again, you are being instructed in your dreams. Pay attention to what you see and the order you see them. There are evil nations coming against Israel. Very little is reported. There is a plot in place to remove all of the Jewish people. However, any nation that comes against them will be struck by a great plague, by the hand of God."

Me: "So if... or since... there are not enough demons to possess bodies, they will use the possession of one or two to strike many or weaponize the few against the children of God?"

Jesus: "Erin, this is happening now. The armies of God are many. This has caused evil to mobilize in different ways, but mainly using fear. Here is an example... an army knows they will be defeated, so they decide to give the illusion they are much larger in order to deter from the fact they are smaller than the army surrounding them.

"When a third of heavenly angels were removed, they worked to create an army against man to strike against God. However, God removed their sons and their spirits roam the Earth. They have not multiplied in the way you think. The fallen are awaiting judgment below. The spirits of their sons are unable to see, but they are not the size you think."

Me: "I guess I never thought about how many."

Jesus: "You need not worry. This is why the airwaves and technology are so important to them. They can appear much greater. However, they are spread thin and are careful with their strategies."

Me: "Oh Lord, please just wipe them out."

Jesus: "Do not worry as there is a great plan in place. I just want you to understand that you should not be afraid as I am with you. I have sent many angels concerning you to guard you in all your ways. Greater is Me in you than he who is in the world."

"Now, do not fear the times coming as there is much to do prior to this and great will be your joy. Miracles are coming. A great harvest of souls is coming. I will send out My Spirit in all the nations. I will pour out revivals. Rejoice, Erin, for a Great Wind of Change comes."

Dream over.

Note: The following was a Birthday Message to the Nest from Erin as posted to the Nest Forum on Wednesday, January 25, 2023.

Dear Sparrows,

Thank you for sending birthday prayers to remember me! It was so touching to be thought of on such a bittersweet marker of turning 60. I had been going through what I call 'Watcher's Fatigue', although I am not a date watcher as much as a 'Signs and Wonders Watcher'.

I have been pretty downcast because I usually have visual markers in the natural to coincide with what the Lord is speaking to me. I didn't seem to be getting anything lately. I had awakened on my birthday expecting to see a red cardinal at my feeder or some other surprising bird... but nothing... just a snowstorm and covered feeders.

Yesterday, I saw a few of the regular birds I am used to and I thanked the Lord for the ability to feed them in the winter. The usual visitors were there; the nuthatches, the woodpeckers, chickadees, mourning doves, crows and a grackle. I was surprised to see a grackle, but I ignored it and thought nothing of this until this morning when I realized for the last week it has been visiting the feeder by itself and it wasn't a grackle... it was a Starling!

A new bird... iridescent like a grackle, but with dots which look like stars on its feathers. It avoided my camera lens each time, but I know at some point I will get a shot off – if he doesn't reunite with its group. This morning the Lord gave me this...

Me: "Lord, thank You for sending me this mystery gift. Is there anything I should know?"

Jesus: "Change is coming, Erin. These birds dance intricate patterns in the sky. They are a sight to behold as they are in flight together and fly with choreography orchestrated from Heaven. Their song is also beautiful. To some, they are considered pests."

Me: "I have been hearing a singing bird that I haven't heard before over the last week, but I could never see it."

Jesus: "Something to reflect on concerning this sign I have given you. When you see the dance of these birds in the sky, notice they seem to have an invisible conductor and no one bird stands out as they are all together and equal in rank and file... or wing and feather."

So, to me, this was a great gift from the Lord about what He has planned for us. May we be together in 2023 in service to God as Starlings in sync together united as one! My heart is stirred by your generous hearts. I have been down and your words, love and gifts have so touched my heart! I can't thank you enough for all you've done! It has been an amazing journey and I am so thankful that you have stayed here with me!

Great Love and Blessings in Jesus, Erin

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day! Thank You for Your great love. The world grows darker every day. Corruption and evil are penetrating every aspect of our world. Although all seems lost as it spirals downward, our hopes and our dreams are in You. Bless You, Father, in all Your Kingdom. Let it be on Earth as it is in Heaven and soon. Let Your Name be no longer on cursing lips. Let it instead be a heart song of our gratitude to You, our God and Savior. Blessed be Your Name in all the Earth. My dreams...

Sub-Dream 1 "A Surprise Show Home Display" begins...

I was living in a vertical build house. It was built on a hill with a view of a valley city. The home was white with large windows. There were three floors. The home was mediocre compared to all the homes nearby. The homes here had been built close together.. no more than four feet between each home. The home needed updating as it looked like it had been built in the 1980s.

The interior walls were all in need of tearing down as the views were being blocked. My grandpa lived with us in the home even though he passed away in 1993 when I was thirty years old. He was mostly bedridden in the dream and had his own suite. My kids were young again, about elementary school age. I also seemed to have a few extra kids around that I didn't recognize (smiles).

I was not sure why these kids were here or who they were. I worked fulltime as an interior remodeler, but I had no free time or income to update or care for my own home. At least it was clean. I had just arrived home after preparing for a separate Street of Dreams Home. It was Show Home Season, so I was very busy. I hadn't been home long before I heard my grandpa call out to me...

Grandpa: "Erin, you received a letter. It is on the counter."

Me: "Thanks, Grandpa, I will take a look."

I opened up the letter and here is what it said...

"By order of the Street of Dreams Committee, your home has been selected for public admission during this year's event."

I almost passed out when I realized that this wasn't for next year. It was for this year. I had no time to prepare. I suddenly realized that my peers and the judges would be coming at 6:00pm. I looked at the time and it was already 4:00pm. I began to run everywhere to hide our valuables, personal papers, photos and other such items. I then realized that my grandpa could not be moved. I then heard a knock on the door, along with some obsessive doorbell ringing. Some of the attendees came early!

Me: Opening the door a crack. "Come back after 6:00pm. I am unprepared."

They were angry. I could hear them murmuring as I shut and locked the front door. I realized I was not prepared for a massive amount of people to come through my home. As a working designer, they were expecting that my personal home would be even greater than the show homes I worked on. The doorbell rang again and the people were back. These shows draw 80,000 people and I was not wanting the attention.

Sub-Dream 1 over...

Me: "Oh Lord, my heart is pounding from waking up from this horrible dream so suddenly. What does this mean?"

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "You feel unworthy and unprepared for what is coming. Your status will change. You will hear wonderful things spoken about you. However, you will also hear horrible things spoken about you. Still, your critics will be far from you. You fear what those you once respected would think of you.

"You fear what public opinion will be. Well, do not, as I am with you. They will be judged from their houses, not yours. Do not worry. I have you. All you can do is stay with Me and care for the house and the Nest I have given you. Do not worry. Now, you had more dreams..."

Sub-Dream 2 "A Visit by a Baby Squirrel" begins...

This was a very quick dream. A baby squirrel was running towards me across my jasmine plant. It was about to jump onto my devotional chair. I wondered how it got into the house.

Sub-Dream 2 over...

Sub-Dream 3 "An Old Dream is Incubated" begins...

I was in an unfinished basement room with junk. I had begun to gather the items for the trash. The floor of the basement consisted of freshly mowed grass. This was weird because it was real grass, not turf. I moved an antique writing desk that was also a drafting table. The hinges on one side were broken, but there was a small light on the inside.

I peaked in and there were two mice on top of some important drawings for a project. The mice were huddled together and sleeping. I tapped on the table to wake them up. They ran out. There was also some other animal that looked like a mangled fox. It hissed and scurried out. The hinges suddenly worked again. I rescued the drawings. As I was turning to leave the room, I heard a chirp.

A bird with fur in caramel, black and brown ran after me. While the bird came towards me, the mangled fox came towards the bird. I was able to pick the bird up to protect it from the fox. I carried it with me. I looked more closely at the drawings I rescued and realized they were a home I loved so much that I saved the plans for it.

Me: Addressing the bird. "Well now, that is an old dream of mine."

The bird jumped from my hands and landed on the drawing. It then looked as if it was incubating an egg.

Dear Father,

Thank You! You are a wonderful Father and a Great Blessing to me and our house. It has been a difficult week. My two sons are encountering trials and tests. While these normally come to nothing, I am struggling. My older son, and as my daughter so eloquently puts it, uses God as a personal genie. He puts a desire out there, prays over and over for it and then expects God to do what he commanded.

Although this seems endearing and a bit humorous, it is not. Asperger's in a young adult is a bitter pill to swallow. Nothing seems to go their way. Instead of realizing God must be saving him from troubles, he is still disappointed. I am patient with my sons because they have difficulty understanding the concept of an unseen Father and Creator. They are looking for healing and they don't understand why He is delaying.

I sometimes struggle with answers because I know God can do anything. He can and He has. We have experienced it. We know God is capable. He IS God after all. However, He is also a Father that possesses all of the information. He knows the beginning from the end. He knows everything. He knows every detail.

His plans are greater than ours. It is wonderful to live in His plan because living apart from Him is to be lost. It is better to be found by God than to be lost. Mostly prior to these dreams, the above are the things I have said when I have questioned God. I also used to say the following...

- Why didn't You stop me, Lord? Still, 9 times out of 10, I am sure He sent signs.
- Lord, I have been praying. Why are You not answering me?

Here is my experience with respect to God's reply...

- Yes: Yes to prayers means a quick yes from God. All of the elements of answered prayers then happens. He even sends a bonus treat for going the right course and being in His Will while doing so.
- No: No is a clear no. If you have been praying for something, His answer can be a swiftly closing door. This could mean several doors that cannot be opened. No means no. God sees something we do not and has more information behind the scenes as the enemy seeks to devour.
- No Answer: You pray and even pray and fast, yet you get nothing from God. Well, this means you do NOTHING and wait. Later on, if something comes at you and there is no choice but to act, then this must be God. For instance, if the court says you must appear on a certain date, then you must appear. It is important to obey the laws of the land even when they are contrary to God. This is because He sets up and deposes kings and rulers.

You should also keep in mind that our perceived need to act quickly on all other matters could be from the enemy. For instance, there is an incredible deal on something you normally wouldn't need. All of a sudden, you now need it. You pray and get no answer from God. It is a NO because He has something better.

At times, He will call us to do something impossible. Sometimes this happens to answer a need we didn't know we had. We had better recognize this as God as He will then also send us special signs. In all things, God loves us. We must trust Him to know what is good and fruitful for us. I felt a desire to pray about our situation...

"Father, please help me to instruct our children with God-led words, things of You, not our own understanding. Please help me to remain patient while we wait. Please keep all of our mechanical functions in the house remaining at 100% until You create Your plans for us here. We know whatever You plan will be perfect. Help us to stay wise with all You have trusted us with. We pray for all of this in Jesus' Mighty Name!"

Last night, I had two dreams that really stood out...

Sub-Dream 4 "Purchasing Four Groundhogs" begins...

This dream was extremely vivid. I went to the pet shop. I went to purchase the four groundhogs I had seen before for our yard. A clerk approached me...

Clerk: "How can I help you today?"

Me: "I am here to purchase the four groundhogs."

Clerk: Walking me over to the cage. "Well, you can... but I am not sure you will like what you see. I am willing to sell you them if you take them home today. I will even give you 50% off your purchase."

When I arrived at the groundhog cage, I looked in the cage...

- There was the half-size chubby groundhog. She was in the back right of the cage looking worried.
- I then saw the skinny groundhog. She looked like she was trying to wrestle with the two full-size groundhogs.
- The two full-size groundhogs were curled up in a ball flipping around.

Me: Addressing the groundhogs. "So, are you coming home with me today?"

They immediately looked up at me and walked over towards me in the cage. The baby was in the back. I handed the clerk the appropriate amount and took them home. They all were excited to arrive at my home. I opened the gate to the carrying case and they ran under our back porch. I had a huge smile on my face.

Sub-Dream 4 over...

Me: "Father, what does this order mean if the groundhogs represent years?"

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "Well, a war will be ongoing throughout the 3.5 years, one which will involve the world against each other."

Me: "WWIII?"

Jesus: "Yes, but You do not understand that the war has already begun, a war you do not expect. A timeline was laid out by some very wealthy evil leaders with a goal of half a year. What they have planned would cause great harm for three years.

"However, they do not understand who I am and that I am the God of change. What I am about to do will send them into great anger, rage and isolation. I will place their plans on hold until I am finished. I am God and I decide. They are children of destruction and I do not know them."

Me: "What are we to do in the meantime?"

Jesus: "Be patient and pray! Great is My plan. Since you do not understand it, it is Mine to keep... for now. Do not worry as man plans. God is not nervous or anxious. I am not moved to act quickly to do this or that. There is a plan. I do not dance to the tune of the enemy's drum corp.

"I am not in a cage he can rattle at will. Greater is My Army against ALL of his army for ALL of the days to come. Do not worry as I have sent angels to guard you in all you do. The enemy is angry. You are covered. I have you. Now, tell Me about your second dream..."

Me: "This one was also vivid..."

Sub-Dream 5 "Tillman, Shapiro & Weekman – Barristers" begins...

I was looking over a great house of brick and stone. The campus was a great institution upon a beautiful river. It had been built pre-WWI and I believe it was English by the architecture. The arches of stone were pointed. There was some gothic style mixed in. The interior of one room had many arches.

It appeared to once be a church. It had rib arches with apses on the sides. While it was beautiful, it was empty of people. There were doves in the rafters. They were nesting and cooing. There was very little sign that this had once been a grand cathedral other than by the architecture. As I walked, I saw a paper tacked up on the wall. I went over and read it...

It read 'By Order of the Commonwealth...', followed by a bunch of legal jargon. It was signed and notarized by a law firm named 'Tillman, Shapiro & Weekman – Barristers'. It was strange. As I looked around, I noticed this Order had been posted on every wall. Some were even posted on the stone floor.

Sub-Dream 5 over...

"Lord, what does this mean?"

Jesus: "This is a lesson in history. It means that God does not forget. The forgotten God does not forget, understand?"

Me: "Yes, I think so. How do I find this meaning?"

Jesus: "Well, it sounds as if an order by a law firm of partners went out against a learning institution, one of higher learning. However, prior to all of this, it was My church. Time has a way of erasing memories, disposing of records and removing truth. I sent judgment on these institutions as, one day, they will be changed and will be no more. Truth is recorded in Heaven. The record room is precise and nothing is lost or missing translation. All is visible and together in perfect order."

Me: "I was wondering why such specific names. Lord, I just did some research..."

- Tillman: Could be someone who prepares a field... tilling the soil for planting. It could also mean what is written up until the point in time or the event mentioned.
- Weekman: Could be a period of seven days. Weeks is an English surname. Could also refer to battle or war. Could even refer to a small outlying village or a small bay inlet. In the Bible, a week can be used as a seven-year period.

- Shapiro: This is a Jewish name. It is a version of the word Shpira. This is the Jewish name for the German city of Speyer (once known as Spira). This city has had a long and tragic Jewish history. The citizens fell victim to successive waves of crusades and blood libels. In 1349, the Jewish community of Speyer was totally wiped out by a bloodthirsty mob.

“What do these mean, Lord?”

Jesus: “What you have written is good, Erin. I do not forget. Many scholars of the Torah came from here. The enemy tried to destroy them. However, God’s hand was with them.”

Me: “Lord, 600 years after this, Israel was reestablished!”

Jesus: “God answers the prayers of His people, Erin. However, this is not always in ways you would come to expect. One day, when you are in Heaven, you will see a historical movie of truth from God’s eye. You will see it and understand what the enemy has done against His Chosen, His Elect, His Children and His Redeemed. All of His Creation, and even from the beginning, you will have a great understanding. Peace will then come from knowing all was made right by Me. I am with you!”

Me: “Thank You, Lord. Oh yes... what about my older son?”

Jesus: “Tell your son that, when I send him messages to confirm something, he should not leave them ‘unread’ as in a ‘text’. He needs to press into Me with a pure heart of love and gratitude. He needs to do this with no expectations other than My unconditional love.”

Me: “Lord, I will tell him this. Thank You. I love You. Please help with these mysterious dreams from You as I do not want to get these wrong.”

Jesus: “I gave you the dream and you wrote this down. I led you to truth and answers. While I will reveal this, I can also send interpretation. Some you know (that is, those on the Nest) are gifted in these areas.”

Me: “Oh Lord, can You also grant this to me?”

Jesus: “You are My Scribe. I have you record our conversations, observations and events. Since you are in the midst of these, should you be the only one interpreting? Give this to Me and I will send help.”

Me: “Thank You, Lord.”

Jesus: “You are welcome! I love you.”

Me: “I love You!”

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day! Thank You for sustaining us. It is only by Your great hand and Your miracles that we are covered. If not for You, I wouldn't have one journal or even ink to write with. For the first time yesterday, and over the course of the waking day, each one of our children gave praise to the miracles You have done for us. This is truly a miracle. We look to You as it is only You who can create income where there is little. Thank You so much for each of our gifts.

My three children struggled with their jobs this week. My older son discovered his employer is keeping him because he has special needs. They also let go several others, so he is fortunate. Still, he asked us if he could resign. After listening to his reasoning, we were both in agreement with him. Since he speaks a second language pretty well, we are hoping he lands a job where this will be appreciated.

My younger son is tall and intimidating to those around him. He is quiet and works hard. He is higher paid because of his experience. However, the eight guys he works with are very poor. He notices that they often curse God. This can be depressing to him at times.

My daughter went from working as a sale person and greeter to a salaried management position in just five months. Shocking. The company she works for is woke. However, she loves what she does, so we pray she is able to continue. While she has had battles with her manager, You cleared this up by removing this manager. Lord, I see Your hand at her place of employment. I just knew it was You as it was done so fast. I had a dream last night...

Sub-Dream 1 "Two Thrones for Pharaoh & his wife" begins...

Note: I did not want to write down so much of this dream as it I so sad.

I was looking over the USA. I then saw two thrones together in the central seat of the North American continent. The two thrones were occupied by a pharaoh and his partner. It appeared as if a river flowed south from their seat. Through this, they were able to fashion the continent to pay homage to pharaoh and his wife.

All of the nations of the world were to pay homage to him and his wife. The entire world was destroyed and people were starving. An order went out to destroy all Jews and Christians. All those of a certain skin color were also to be examined and found worthy to either remain as a slave or be destroyed.

All people over a certain age of the wrong skin color were destroyed. These peoples' fortunes and belongings were then seized and claimed for the pharaoh. All young people were to be castrated and turned into eunuchs. There were no Christian churches. They were turned into party houses or meditation centers for the pharaoh.

Sub-Dream 1 over..

I woke up at 3:00am. I then fell back to sleep after prayers.

Sub-Dream 2 "The Evil Plans of The American Pharaoh" begins...

I was in my current house. I went downstairs to the front door. It was snowing outside with almost blizzard like conditions. I then saw a path completely illuminated coming from my front porch. It was level across the yard to a bridge (which doesn't exist in real life). It avoided the snowy ground completely. I was in my pajamas and barefoot. I heard a whistle. It was Breakthrough. I knew to just go.

I opened the door and stepped out onto this new path. It was warm. The ground was firm, yet soft to my feet. Even though there was a blizzard, the air was warm. Despite the blizzard, I could still somehow see around me. There at the creek on the bridge were a group of angels all talking to each other. They smiled and greeted me. Uriel was there and he came over to speak with me. I was so excited to see him.

Uriel: "Erin, I was sent by God to give you a message. You are of sound mind as God is with you. He is in you and His Spirit is with you in all you do. Now, do not be frightened or dismayed at the plans of the wicked. The enemy's plans against the children of God are meant to strike at God. He knows that God will never go against His own Word or promises.

"Even the enemy recognizes that His Word is sovereign and He is the Living God. However, the enemy believes that he has the final say over life and death. He feels that, if he can kill man prior to man taking a verbal declaration that Jesus is the Savior and the Son of God, he then believes he can destroy God's plans. Well, he cannot. He will not be successful.

“Even though he has tried to destroy God’s Words many times, he has never been successful. God cannot go unread nor can God and His power as God and His Creation be cancelled. No, do not be dismayed as God see all things and knows the plans of the wicked against the righteous. What you see seems like chaos. It is confusing to you and all those who seek truth are left to disseminate fact from lies.

“As a child of God, you have seen the wicked sowing lies. You are a harvester of truth. You seek truth. I have been called, along with the angels of God, to gather up the righteous at His time of calling for His Kingdom Purposes. The Elect will be gathered and prepared for all that is coming. However, do not worry for the Lord is with you in all you do. He has called on us to guard your way. Now, what I am sent to tell is this...

“The chaos you see is manufactured. What seems like scattered and broken news all over the world shown as unrest spreading is actually designed to make you want to cry out for a savior, a world leader, to bring order. However, this is a lie. It is a grand illusion. By removing himself to a distant location, he is able to rule from there. All these events are done with precision.

“The enemy knows that the USA is God’s and that Israel is as well. God blessed these lands, these nations, and called them good. Knowing that these have been blessed, the enemy has fought to destroy them. The rise and fall of nations over thousands of years have all occurred because the enemy has continually introduced evil practices meant to be an abomination against God in order to have God turn away from the evil who dwell there. Once God’s blessing is removed, the nation cannot stand.”

Me: “Oh Uriel, what can any of us do? We are helpless against the powers of the enemy and his plans if God does not intervene. We will all be destroyed!”

Uriel: “Do not worry as God is with you.”

Me: “But so many evil things are happening right now...”

- Churches are being shut down.
- Free speech and worship are being removed.
- Food is being destroyed.
- Livestock feed is tainted.
- Hens are not hatching eggs.
- Beef and meat are being destroyed.
- Crops and land are being sold off to the enemy.

- People are dying of random illnesses.

“There is too much to continue naming. You know this though! I know you see it too. What are we to do?”

Uriel: “Calm down. Do not worry. Greater is He in you. He even sent angels concerning you. He who is in the world has a small army compared to God’s Great Army. They are no match for our Army of God. God has allowed this to usher in His Reign. Just as the enemy imposed his work upon all the nations, God will also do the same.

“As God has shown you... a field, a farmer, soil is prepared, seeds are planted and fertilized... all to produce either a crop of evil or of good. What you are seeing right before your eyes is the cultivation of evil seeds. It seems as if these are all separate enemies, but they are not. They all work in unison to weaken the nation you were born in.

“What you consume has been poisoned. This is not just food and drink though. All that you see with your eyes, all the news you hear, all that goes into your mouth, all that you breath, all that you place on your skin... all has been tainted by the evil one. Erin, the wicked has tainted all of your daily bread in all of its forms.

“They have removed all that is good and replaced it with bad. The idea is to leave you naked, exposed, afraid and hopeless. All of this is to make the world call out for a worldly savior. Erin, they no longer desire God as their Savior. The field is being prepared, understand?

“Now, the war is about to come to you. The war is coming to the nation. Warships and weapons are being readied. They have worked hard to remove all defenses. They have removed as many weapons as possible. Their plan is that there will be no defense when they arrive on the shores and in the air overhead. The enemy has made known their ambitions, their plans and their positions.

“He wants to breakdown, remove, break apart, destroy children of one race, steal wealth from these people and use it for his purpose. He wants to remove all that is good. He even made declarations as lighthearted satire in order to veil his threats. He has plans to destroy all who oppose him. His plan is to destroy all with no mercy.

“He has threatened a ‘Red Wedding’. He has threatened a ‘War on Christmas’. Remove safety. Remove individualism. Remove churches and label them as hate. Know him also by who he spends time with. Who are they? Who is a threat to him? Always watch his lips. These spew out curses.

"I am here to tell you that all you suspect, all the information you have been given, is from God."

Me: "What do I do now?"

Uriel: "You are to pray. War is coming. Seizures of all assets are coming to pay for this. The removals of all essentials, food, clean water, oil and fuel are coming. These are the great plans of the wicked."

Just then, I was given a vision within this dream...

Sub-Dream / Vision 2a "A House built on Sand" begins...

I saw an unstable house being built on sand. The sand was shaped like a foundation. It was also somehow like a sandcastle, but hard to describe. The footings were poor and unstable. The framing of wood was being built. Instead of nail guns, the builders were using hammers. Blow after blow were needed to drive the nail in. I felt like all could collapse at any second. I knew it would not last a long time. No, I knew it would last an extremely short time.

Sub-Dream / Vision 2a over..

Uriel: "You must understand that the enemy sent his army over the southern border and now the northern border. The people cannot see what they are not shown. They can also perish for both a lack of prayer and a lack of understanding. The wicked leaders have worked as quickly as possible to weaken the people, till up the soil and plant evil. Even though the American Pharaoh is now here, he will be defeated.

"Now, I am sent by God with Good News. He wins! The Kingdom of Heaven is here and the people will turn to God. Do not worry as we are with you. Erin, God is here. Do not be afraid. The war season has come to the nation."

Me: "Uriel, all the people were lied to. Why does this need to happen?"

Uriel: "Erin, God is aware. He is fully aware."

Uriel turned to the other angels and they all nodded in agreement.

Me: "How does one prepare for war? For lack of fuel? Of food? Of medicine?"

Uriel: "You cannot unless you pray. God is your Cover, Erin. He won't stop when things become worse. He doesn't just throw up His arms and say, 'She is too much. She is not worth of all this.' The enemy would like you to believe this lie because it is not of God. Be encouraged as God is about to move in a way only God can. It is lofty and the enemy will never see Him coming. He has greater plans than the enemy's schemes. All is about to change. Greater is the True God over all of the Earth."

Sub-Dream 2 over..

I woke up suddenly to a knock on our bedroom door. My husband's alarm was set wrong and didn't go off. It was his daughter waking him up to drive her to school and himself to work. While I know the American Pharaoh referred to here is the evil leader (the former President), it also reminded me of the horse who won the Triple Crown named American Pharaoh. American Pharaoh was born on February 2, 2012. He then rose up to win the Triple Crown in just 3.5 years (in 2015).

Me: "Oh Father, I am not sure if this is a sign or not, but it sure seems interesting. My Spirit is troubled and I am scared."

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "Erin, I am here and I am with you. Your dream of Pharaoh is because this is the same spirit who resides in these times. He is very busy behind the scenes setting up his world stage. He is quite pleased with his progress. However, he will have never expected what is coming his way."

Me: "Lord, it is difficult to watch all that is happening right now. The enemy divides us to conquer us."

Jesus: "I know. However, remain in Me. I am with you."

Me: "Lord, how can we trust anything we eat or the medicines we take? We really have no understanding."

Jesus: "Evil is faithful only to itself. The wicked remain wicked. You are witnessing evil on every level. However, My Word is true. My love is faithful and given to you. In turn, you love Me in faith. You hate the world. You keep your sights on the Kingdom of Heaven and My righteousness. I give freely to those who love Me. I send the wicked away empty. Erin, do not be afraid. I have you. I am with you. I love you."

Me: "I love You too, Lord."

Jesus: "Then it is settled. How about a White Wedding instead? All the trimmings. Lush flowers. Fragrant vines. Wonderful music from Heavenly origins. Food and wine. All you can eat!"

Me: "Cake?"

Jesus: "Yes, of course. It will be like nothing seen upon the Earth. It will be large. Grand even."

Me: "Fun! Oh Lord, I am so ready! We all are!"

Jesus: "I am too. Not too soon, but also not too late. Great will be the joy of My Bride and Heaven. I am with you, Erin. Now rejoice as the Bride is ready. The venue is prepared. The Groom comes. Oh wait... we have more to add to the Guest List. Hmm. You will hand deliver some invitations. We will do this together, along with miracles, signs and wonders. So, what do you think?"

Me: "Oh wow! Yes, of course, of course! Yes, Lord, let's begin right now. While the enemy is setting up his stage for destruction, let's instead expand the size of our Guest List. How about a billion more people?"

Jesus: "Hmm, while this is lofty, it is good. There is a massive Guest List and invitations should be personalized."

Me: "I love You, Lord!"

Jesus: "Then this is good. The world has never seen what we are about to deliver to the nations. There will be many tears. Much will come with gnashing of teeth. However, those who accept the invitation will do so with grateful hearts."

Me: "I am excited. You had better hurry, Lord!"

Jesus: "This is on God's Clock, Erin. This is not on the enemy's clock, the Doomsday Clock, so do not worry. I have you."

Dream over.

667 – The First Three Seals of Revelation

Received on Sunday, February 5, 2023

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day! Thank You for delivering us from a great storm that went from Friday into Saturday. With winds so strong, our house rattled for two days. With bitter cold and a high wind chill, I haven't recovered from this deep freeze. At one point, we woke up to a loud boom hitting the window in our room. My husband went outside to check the status of our cell tower and the trees and all seemed normal.

Still, something was battering our bedroom window. We both could tell the situation was becoming dangerous. We then noticed that one of our exterior window solar shade covers had slipped free of its wall mount. This shade is used to trap warmth in the winter and keep it cool in the summer.

This needed to be fixed, so my husband got the ladder and went up in the strong gusts. He was quite high and this made me nervous. While he is usually scared of heights, he had a supernatural calm to him. Even with -40F windchills that froze our hands in seconds, we were finally able to secure the shade. This eliminated the banging noises that was keeping both of us awake.

All of this came after a 3.5-hour power outage. The blackout went from around 10:00pm to 1:22am. The temperature with the extreme winds and cold dropped our indoor temperatures to 50F. Our sons then drove up the road to check things out and saw crews working on a blown transformer and downed tree.

The extreme cold took a toll on my body and I simply couldn't warmup. Normally I run hot, so this was unusual. We were just so relieved that God had answered our prayers and restored our power. Even though the kids thought I was really prepared for the power outage, I realized that I still had more to do.

Last night, I received a notice that my thyroid medication had been recalled. When I looked at the symptoms, I realized this is what I had been struggling with lately. Father, thank You for revealing all of this. I am not sure what would have happened had I not known. Father, we cannot trust the world for worldly goods and services. This means our trust needs to be 100% on You to protect us from the unseen. I had a dream...

Sub-Dream 1 "The First Three Seals of Revelation" begins...

I heard two fishermen at a beautiful river talking. They were baiting their hooks with worms. The river was beautiful and in a forested area. They cast their lines, but had no nibbles. Even so, the worms used for bait seemed to be disappearing into the water. They saw no fish. They the decided to walk upstream to a lake area that was one of the sources of the river. When they arrived, they cast their baited lines again. Nothing.

This was a popular spot to fish, so the lack of bites was puzzling. They then decided to hike up a little further past the lake to where there was a very deep fishing hole that fed the lake. As they walked, they noticed vegetation near the water was dead. One of the fisherman bent down to take a scoop of water. He immediately spit it out.

Fisherman: "Oh God, it is poisoned."

The other fisherman took a drink in a cup and also immediately spit it out. Just then, they could see the white bellies of bloated fish. They were dead and in the thousands. It looked like a morbid floating island set adrift.

Fisherman: "First our food, then our medicines, and now our water? We need to warn everyone!"

While I was observing them, they could not see me. I continued to walk up to an area I knew. This is where the river led from a bay inlet. I walked along a large river. I saw a woman drinking from the river. She was crouched over. She looked over towards me and I could tell that she saw me. She was singing. Her face was evil and familiar. While not her real name, I addressed her as 'Mara'.

Me: "Mara, what are you doing?"

Mara: "I am making the water bitter." She was vomiting into the river. "I hate all of this and I hate you. I am thirsty."

Me: "But you are poisoning the water."

Mara: "I don't have that kind of power or you would have died by my hands years ago."

Me: "Why do you hate me? I was kind to you."

Mara: "Your shop should have been mine. I am better than you."

I walked past her as she mumbled her curses. I did not feel God calling me to heal her. As I walked upstream, I saw thousands of people drinking this bitter water. This water was not drinkable. I noticed that each person was spiritually dead. The look in their eyes were lifeless. There was no fresh drinking water. While the river looked good to drink from, it was bitter. I prayed...

Me: "Lord, please turn this bitter water sweet so that they might miss good water and remember."

An angel of God then appeared.

Angel: "This water is bitter because these people are spiritually dead. They chose to drink bitterness instead of choosing to forgive and receive water that is Living Water. Now they drink what they produce... vomit from their mouths. They do this instead of crying out to God. This is all they know. Look here. I'll show you. Come."

He bent down over the water and placed his hand in the water. I could see the water was pure, clean and refreshing.

Angel: "Now drink."

I tasted this and it was wonderful and sweet. The people then came over to drink. Their first drink was sweet, but they then began their victim statements with their lips. They even cursed God and the angles. They did not see the blessing. They had no gratitude. The angel then bent over and turned the water back to what made them happy.

Angel: "See. To these, they don't care. They are spiritually dead. They prefer the bitter rather than the sweet. They then enjoy feeling sorry for themselves. While God can give them the sweetest water and the best recompense, they would rather turn and accuse Him of their plight. You now understand who will be here. They enjoy this.

"Woe to those who play as a victim who are not. Woe to those who pour out lies of evil and gathers up others to feed from her bosom. Because of this, the people will perish as they sprout from a bitter root. As they drink bitter water, their mouths spew out poison. They all drink of this.

"However, the children of God are not to drink of this water lest they too will partake of water that is dead and does not lead to life everlasting. Parents who teach their children to hate and lie will be accountable for every falsehood."

Me: "Angel, are we now in the time of the Seven Trumpets? If this is wormwood... bitter water... the star fell."

Angel: "You are a witness. Wormwood's bitter water is what you see here. These are angry. They believe they are victims. They drink of bitterness."

Me: "When is this time?"

Angel: "This is the result of the Third Trumpet of God's Judgment. The water supply, both physical and spiritual, have been rendered bad."

Me: "The Book of Revelation is confusing."

Angel: "The rider with a bow has come on the white horse. He is called 'savior', but he is not. Be cautious of all who declare a man 'messiah' in unison. This one is not 'the one' nor is he speaking for God. He does not. He speaks in bitterness and loathing for God and His people.

"He has a certain appearance just because he rides on a white horse. This was the First Seal. He has caused the most suffering by far and continues on his course. Then the Second Seal has been broken as man wars against each other. Then the Third Seal was broken as famine continues to sweep the nations."

Me: "So, does this mean we are nearing the Lord's return? What about the Great Revival? When does this come?"

Angel: "It must become worse so all are searching for God. Hearts must be turning to God. Do not worry though as this does not mean that your healing can't come before and/or alongside all of this. God has a plan and it is a perfect plan."

Me: "Is it possible that the seals were opened all at once as it seems as if some of these have been a result of a seal being broken?"

Angel: "Signs from God and from Heaven come and do not stop. Those who choose to dismiss these as phenomena or as random chance do not see that God is working. The deceiver appeared with more signs as to who he is than anyone in history. This is because communication and information transmission has evolved.

"God has given you this dream of those who drink from bitterness. This will lead to spiritual death for them. They were given fresh water to drink, but they were unable to accept that God would use the people they persecuted to help them. They are jealous and angry."

Sub-Dream 1 over...

Something woke me up. I then realized that I was still very cold. I got up and went to my devotional chair.

Me: "Father, I am sad about the state of everything. I am sorry I have been so troubled lately. I am exhausted and in pain. I believe in my heart that things will become much worse very quickly."

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "Erin, I am here and I am with you. Do not worry."

Me: "Lord, in Your Word, You say 'do not fear' 365 times. This is one for each day of our calendar year."

Jesus: "I care for both the Gentiles and the Jews. I provide for both as I am the Messiah of them both. Now, your recent crisis (of bitter cold) has humbled you and given you sorrow. During your time of no lights or heat, what did I say?"

Me: "You said, 'Erin, I am with you. Your house is together in peace. When you are through this, it will become a distant memory.' Still, I feel like I am being stripped down. Lord, I feel tired and old."

Jesus: "Your name means peace. There is a reason you were named this. Your joy is through peace. You are viewing an acceleration of evil. However, this is necessary as a machine stirs up the dirt of a field to prepare it to receive the planting of seeds."

Me: "Oh Lord, this has been such a long process. Could You please stop this? This has been so difficult."

Jesus: "Angels are out measuring the deeds of evil, both for display and those that are hidden. The nations will be humbled as no one is searching for Me right now. They instead look for a cure for their pain by inflicting pain.

"Remember when the angels fell. They were scared at first. They then became angry and then defiant. They then approached Enoch to intervene. Why? Because death had occurred.

"They experienced a severing of ties from judgment. They even played as victims only to an audience of each other. Spiritual death leads to true death. The enemy is working to destroy as many as possible through bitterness and all types of evil. Justice is completely blind now as it has turned a blind eye to great evil. But I see! It is better for a man to repent and drink refreshing water than to drink from bitter water.

"I heard your cries. I will warm your house. I am with you. I am the Prince of Peace. You are My Bride. The sons of perdition are the bride of the prince of fire. He makes a home for his elect to be with him in a great lake of fire that cannot be extinguished. While they have no fear of God, they soon will. Now, you worry about many things. Give these to Me. I am with you and I long to carry you. I love you.”

Me: “I love You too, Lord.”

Jesus: “Then this is settled. Very soon, I will humble the nations.”

Dream over.

668 – The Mystery of God’s Handwriting

Received on Sunday, February 12, 2023

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You! I love You and I am so grateful for Your love in return. Thank You for the blessing of another day. Father, I am scared about what I have been shown. Please guide every stroke of my pen as I am a scribe, a witness, to where You take me in dreams and visions.

As a child of God, a princess of the King and a Bride to my Groom, I am only these things because Your grace and mercy have freely been given to me. Please make known to me that which You have shown me. Lord, I believe this time is now at hand. My dream last night was so vivid...

Sub-Dream 1 “The Writing on the Capitol Wall” begins...

I saw the hand of God writing visibly on the stair steps of the USA Capitol Building. The writing started from the entrance and then moved down each step. I then saw the Words of the Lord, His handwritten Laws, His Commandments, as if on ‘stone tablets’. These writings were very clear. There was now nothing but dust or gray sand surrounding the Capitol Building Grounds. There was no green grass remaining.

I then saw two angels. One angel held scales and the other angel held a large heavy sword. The sword had a mirrored finish. The angel with the balancing scales also held a sensor (or something similar to that) in his left hand. These angels then walked around the perimeter of the Mall of the Capitol. Four angels then appeared on the four corners of the Mall...

- One was in front of the White House.
- One was at the Lincoln Memorial.
- One was at the Washington Memorial.
- One was between the Supreme Court and the Capitol Building.

The two angels with the scales and the sword then walked over to the angel between the Supreme Court and the Capitol Building. A massive earthquake then struck the whole area. However, this massive earthquake didn’t affect any of the angels. I then saw the hand of God write the following in a type of billboard of sand located near the three angels standing between the Supreme Court and the Capitol Building...

Written by the hand of God: "Mene, Mene, Mene, Tekel, Upharsin"

This writing was then supernaturally reflected from all of the various reflecting pools in the Capitol Mall. A great wind then came and the sand blew away, along with the words written there. The wind also blew away the sand directly in front of the White House, exposing a patch of solid rock. In this solid rock, God again wrote the following...

Written by the hand of God: "Mene, Mene, Mene, Tekel, Upharsin"

This was written right in front of the address number 1600 (the address of the White House is 1600 Pennsylvania Avenue NW, Washington, DC). What I found interesting though was that the number 1600 was massive, much bigger than it should have been.

One of the angels: Shouting. "For the judgment of God has come upon the rulers who have blasphemed the name of the Lord. Their blood shall be as wine through the winepress. Their afflictions against the righteous, the downtrodden and the innocent are many."

The angel with the sensor of gold then began to pace back and forth. After a minute or so of pacing, he then stopped to make another announcement.

Angel with the sensor: Shouting. "Numbered, Numbered, Numbered are your days. You have been weighed and found wanting. Your house will now be divided and will fall. God has numbered the days of your kingdom. As you have been reckless, so too will the Lord be (as if) reckless with you."

I then saw the entire Earth. The same judgments were now coming to the nations. I then saw the world leaders convene. The same judgment was then delivered by the angels to these nations. They proclaimed that judgment was not only coming, but was already here.

Sub-Dream 1 over.

Sub-Dream 2 "Weimer & Brandt" begins...

I saw a sign with two very specific names. The names read 'Weimer & Brandt'. While this made no sense to me, these names were very clear.

Sub-Dream 2 over...

Father, great judgment has now come. You have observed the wicked and the great increase in evil. It is all so awful. It has spread like the firestorm that obliterated Dresden, Germany. Dresden was firebombed on February 13, 1945 during WWII.

Me: "Oh Lord, I have been so heartbroken over the destruction of our nation, but really all of the great nations. Clearly, all have fallen away from You. Please, Father, don't forget Your people. All of us love You. There are so many of us who still believe. Your promises are true. Please don't forget us."

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "Erin, I am here and I am with you. I haven't forgotten you. My promises are true."

Me: "Lord, why use 'Mene' three separate times as opposed to just the two in Daniel?"

Jesus: "In this case, it is a measurement of time for the reckless leader who uses his lips to speak lies. However, in addition, I am speaking to those speaking for him, those corrupt leaders operating in the cover of darkness. I have seen their wickedness and they will be brought low."

Me: "What are the other symbols in the dream?"

Jesus: "Judgments were given on the steps to the Capitol. These are like names written from oldest to youngest. To understand what you witnessed, you must know what was written by My hand in the sand (John 8)."

Me: "What was written, Lord? I looked, but I cannot find it."

Jesus: "Well, there is much to this. The teachers of the law brought in a woman caught in adultery and they made her stand. They then said, 'Teacher, this woman was caught in the act of adultery. In the Law of Moses, we are commanded to stone such a woman. Now, what do You say?' This was used to attempt to trap Me.

"However, they failed to do so lawfully as the Law was written very clearly as to what was to occur according to the Law given to Moses. There needed to be witnesses to come forward to testify in front of both the man and woman caught in the act of adultery. They had already broken this portion of the Law and continued to accuse her without witnesses.

"Now, one other thing... in Jewish tradition, on the Day of Atonement (Yom Kippur) of each year, at the end of the day, starting at the age of accountability (usually 12 years old), every Torah practicing male of the law would have heard this verse recited. This was quoted in Jeremiah 17:13."

Me: "I looked this up, Lord, in the Hebrew translation. This is what the keepers of the Jewish Laws would recite every year from around age 12 and on at Yom Kippur... 'Oh YHVH the Immerser (Baptizer) of Israel, all those who leave Your way shall be put to shame (publicly), those who turn aside from Your ways will have their names written in the dust and blotted out for they have departed from YHVH, the fountain of Mayim Hayim (the Waters of Life).’ Hmm, this means You must have written their names in the dust!”

Jesus: “Very good! They all knew that I knew the True Laws better than they did. They then left in the order of their names as written. I wrote their names eldest to youngest.”

Me: “Why did You do this? I still do not understand. I am so sorry, Lord.”

Jesus: “You are sixty, right? Well, if you remove 12, or the age you were accountable under this Law, how many times would you have heard this if it is recited once a year on the Day of Atonement (Yom Kippur)?”

Me: “Hmm, 48? Yes, 48 times!”

Jesus: “Okay! So, that is the same order in which each left. Even with this, they still did not repent. The priest under the Law was required to write the Law that had been broken, together with the names of the accused, in the dust of the Temple floor. By My handwriting in the sand and by My own hand, I revealed that the ‘Keepers of the Law’, the accusers, were violating the Law, but I was not.

“I then called for the stone to be cast against her by those who are free from sin. Anyway, they left one by one in order of their age and the woman was then left standing without accusers or witnesses. She was then forgiven of her sin. I said, ‘Neither do I condemn you. Go and sin no more.’”

Me: “Wow, Lord, I never knew this! Thank You!”

Jesus: “In your dream, you saw both sand and stone. Those names written in sand were condemned and did not repent. They were inscribed in dust as they have abandoned Me and the Law. A wind then came and blew away the sand and they were remembered no more. The steps of the stone were more permanent. Those who profaned My name and ordered evil against the innocent... the judgments have an order in steps... one for each day. Now, Erin, My promises are true!”

Note: After completing this dream, I looked up how many steps were in the Capitol Building. The Capitol Building has exactly 365 steps, one for each day. These steps lead from the basement and all the way up to the dome.

Me: “Oh Lord, I am scared. They are striking out against all things necessary to live. They are liars. Their firestorm of lies has been destroying our lives. They have been removing all protein sources, including meats and eggs. We will soon be forced to eat nothing but vegetables. Perhaps insects too. The price of meat is sky high now. They are striking out against every walk of our lives. How are we to survive? Could You please just remove all of them, Lord?"

Jesus: "Do not worry, Erin, as there will soon be a great day to come. Do not be afraid. I am with you and not with them. Judgment has come. Living Water will flow through My Elect, along with a Great Outpouring of Healing. Those who do not repent prior to My judgment being rendered will be unable to do so. It is better to choose righteousness now."

Me: "I love You, Lord."

Jesus: "I love you too. Now rejoice as the Kingdom of Heaven is here."

Note: My husband shared a really fun dream with me and I asked him to share this with all of you as well. Before beginning my dream, here is his dream as he wrote it:

Husband's Sub-Dream 1 "Diving near our Hacienda" begins...

I am Erin's husband and the following is a dream I had last night:

We were now Transformed. I walked over to the water's edge from the hacienda we were staying at. I didn't know what the term hacienda meant, but I just knew that our place of stay was a hacienda. I have since looked up what hacienda means and this term means a large ranch or plantation, but especially in Spanish-speaking countries. As I looked over the water, I noticed that it was crystal clear and a turquoise color.

Erin wasn't with me yet as she had to do something at the hacienda. I dove into the water and began to swim. While I am not a great swimmer at all, I noticed that I was swimming with ease. I also noticed that I could go underwater without any need to go up for air. I was able to breathe underwater. I also swam quickly, all without the aid of flippers, much faster than anyone else I have ever seen swim.

I also noticed that I could look around without any eye irritation even though I was not wearing swimming goggles. All of this was obviously supernatural and felt awesome. Since Erin wasn't with me yet, I decided to use some wood on the shore to float out the words 'I Am Honored to be Your Husband!'. This would only be legible from under the water as it would look like gibberish from the shore.

Since the water was so calm, the wood stayed in place as I wrote these words out. When I was about halfway finished writing this out, Erin was now swimming with me. Like me, Erin could swim, breathe and look around underwater with all of the skills of a dolphin. She then began to speak to me without words while we were both underwater. We were somehow able to supernaturally read each other's thoughts.

Erin: "I see that you wrote out 'I Am Honored' before I interrupted. What were you planning to write?"

Me: "I was planning to write out 'I Am Honored to be Your Husband'."

Erin: "That is so thoughtful. Thank you. Look though... the 'Honored' part of the 'I Am Honored' is starting to disappear."

Me: "God has such a great sense of humor. All that is left now are the first two words."

Erin: "Of course... the words 'I Am'! Our Lord is the Great 'I Am'! With our Great I Am, all is possible and nothing is impossible!"

I then woke up even though I wanted to keep dreaming. This dream was so vivid, I just knew that it was a gift from God. Unlike most dreams, I could easily remember all of the details and still can. I truly would love one of these dreams every night!

Husband's Sub-Dream 1 over.

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day living free here! Thank You for Your provision. Many of Your people are struggling right now. I pray this season doesn't last long before Your miracles begin. Lord, please help me to find words of encouragement when I continue to experience so many troubles all around us. However, it is not just us, Father, but all of Your people.

I don't want to die as a martyr in silence. I instead cling to Your promises of healing, strengthening and transformation. Father, please help me to live in the light of Your promises when the world around us increases in darkness. It has all happened so quickly. There is a war being fought. While it is raging now, it is unlike any war we have ever imagined.

Our leaders are opposing generals. They make rules and laws against the citizens. They then act indifferently to the suffering of the people. Our nations are being systematically destroyed. Our governing rules, regulations, laws and constitutions are being shredded. There is no enforcement and no justice. There is no more safety or certainty for any of us.

Father, You see all things. You allow evil rulers to govern until the time comes when the people turn to You. Father, please turn the people to You now. Our borders and skies are being invaded. Our beaches and shores are being breached. Our cities are being overrun by crime. Some cities are not even worthy of being a haunt for jackals (Jeremiah 49:30, 51:37, 9:11-13).

Food supplies are scarce. Meat, dairy and any other types of protein are skyrocketing in price. Pet and farm food supplies are tainted. Our processed food is manufactured by foreigners. Our electricity and heat are no longer something we can rely on and the cost has doubled. Medications are being substituted and even they are produced by our enemies. Gas and fuel prices have doubled.

Small businesses are closing. Even some larger businesses are closing. As when the Covid lockdowns occurred, there will only be a few places we will be able to purchase products from. Still, who is supplying these? Many times, it is our enemies. Water reservoirs are running dry. Our neighbors are complaining that their well water is depleted. Thank You, Lord, for we have not experienced any water shortages.

We have a great enemy, Lord. He hates the people so much, especially Christians. Churches are shutting down. Many are unable to speak freely. Many are spiritually dead. People in the UK are even being arrested and imprisoned for silent prayers outside of abortion clinics. The government leaders placed a law that no one is to hinder a woman or cause her to rethink or question her choice to terminate her pregnancy.

People will now be persecuted even for their silent prayers. They will be arrested for praising You and speaking to the Holy Spirit. Father, the children are being attacked. They are being mutilated, confused and sacrificed to the gods of this world. Something is coming, Lord. Perhaps it is something physical. Something has been really building up over the last few weeks.

On a lighter note, I recently purchased a really cute old skeleton clock made of brass from a thrift shop. It has such cute moving parts. Since my other clocks are broken, I thought I would pick this up for my devotional room. The road to our home is rocky. By the time I took it out and placed it on my little table, the clock was no longer running. It had stopped at either 4:00am or 4:00pm. I did a little research and found that these are complicated to repair. Instead of abandoning it, I took it to the clock repairman...

Repairman: "My, what a beautiful little clock! It is a 400-day clock. However, I can't fix it. The cost is too high. There are too many parts."

Me: "Oh no. This makes me so sad."

Repairman: "You could do a few things. Make sure the surface it sits on is level and hope for the best. You never know."

Me: "Thank you."

Repairman: "Erin, look up here." There was another 400-day clock. "This was abandoned by the owner."

Me: "Well, at least mine had been working. However, I then did something to it."

Repairman: "These clocks are touchy. You never know what will make them stop."

Me: "Well, thanks anyway."

When I went home, I calculated where 400 days from now would be if my 400-day clock soon started up again. I ended up in the last half of March 2024. After this, I then tried my best to get the little clock to start. Nothing worked. Father, I need Your help. I need You to revive this little clock, but really my body, heart and soul. Please, Father. My hope is in You. Without You, we are all lost.

Please breathe Your Spirit into me. Refresh my soul. Nothing in this life satisfies us like You. There is nothing here for us. We need You, Father. Father, You are beautiful, strong, safe and secure. You are our Strong Tower and our faith is in You as our Mighty Fortress. Bless us, Oh Father. Protect us with Your Sword of Truth, by Your Words of Promises to Your people.

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "Erin, I am here. I have not left you. I am with you wherever you go. I am the God who revives. I am the God of Revival. I am the God who restores. I remove the former ways and I bring about a new way. I will form a new spirit in you. Erin, who but God is able to raise the dead? I bring life to the lifeless. I create a new thing. I am holy and God over all the Earth.

"You are in the midst of a great storm. However, I am in the midst of the tumult. What is about to occur upon the Earth is beyond man's ability to comprehend. This is because it has never occurred before. This can only be conceived by God. This has been planted by My hands. Nothing is able to come against the plans of God. Erin, I want you to remember this... I have not forgotten you.

"You are not crazy. I am not mad at you about anything. I knew who you were from the beginning. I am on your side. I created you and My work is not flawed. You see yourself in the mirror reflected in the eyes of the world. The world disqualifies you as old and out of commission. However, reflected in My eyes, you are part of the Greatest Commission of God... on Earth as it is in Heaven.

"Something is coming... a Great Wave. You will be surfing on this Great Wave. My Spirit will be in you fully. There will be a Divine Army of warriors. One will be like a thousand. I will be healing the land through all of you. My Spirit will blow as a great wind across the valleys, plains, deserts, mountains and forests. Great will be My healing.

"There will be restorations of the cities and war-torn villages and towns, including homes and farmsteads. All that was torn down will be built back up. All will be better than before. Things stolen will be returned. All will know that God is here. Heaven will be visible through those I have called. Nothing will be contrary to Me or Heaven. All will be holy and the old removed.

"The wicked will be removed to a place far away. They will hide in caves and cursed areas until I have completed My plans. The redeemed of the Lord will then be gathered in My bosom and carried to the place I have prepared for them. I will then return again with My Army and take up My rightful seat. Now, you are part of My plans even though you cannot see it. I am with you. Erin, I have never left you."

Me: "Lord, this is hard because my dreams are so sad. Everything is so desolate. Markets are outside and people no longer have homes. There is no power and no electricity. I can't find my family. I see nothing familiar. Was I left behind? I have been waking up so depressed. I am also traveling all over the nation. I seem young though."

Jesus: "You are observing the landscape after I have removed the saints. If you notice, you have very little contact with anyone. You are not participating. You are just observing what the enemy does in anger after all was restored."

Me: "Okay, it feels so real, Lord. It is scary."

Jesus: "I know. However, do not worry. You need to see this in your dreams so you can describe to others what you have seen so they will avoid this."

Me: Sighing. "I am relieved I am not physically here."

Jesus: "Now, do not be discouraged when you see what looks like the enemy succeeding in their plans. I see all of it. I warned you that their plans would inflict anyone opposed to them, including the children of God. Now you are seeing them build their 'new world'.

"They are transforming the landscape, removing anything they don't like, such as churches, farms, schools and anything else that feeds truth or gives hope. They are destroying farmland, cattle and anything God has declared good. They are calling good evil and evil good.

"All truth spoken, recorded or events even witnessed on film are disputed and labeled as lies. The evil ones are accusing others of doing the things they themselves are doing. However, all of this had to happen this way so that prophecy would be fulfilled... the words of the prophets. All else to be fulfilled by God has been a mystery."

Me: "Lord, I keep recalling a dream where the angels came and carried the animals, birds and even fish away. Is this soon? They are already experiencing mass die offs."

Jesus: "It will become worse because the water to drink and air to breathe will be worse. Erin, there is a war. Remember what they claim to be fighting for... the environment. In reality, they are actually against the environment. It is a religion complete with soldiers. They weaponize against the very thing they claim to fight for. They praise the environment even as they are killing it.

"This is like an abusive husband talking about his great love for his wife. He says how beautiful she is and that he is jealous for her, all so he can hurt anyone who looks at her the wrong way. He then goes home and beats her by his own hand while telling her he loves her, understand? It is the enemy and his evil army doing this (where the USA and other nations are the 'wife').

"They have begun erasing all measures that were put in place to protect the environment for the greater good while they destroy it. No one else is allowed to abuse it or break the laws, only they are. It is happening right now. However, I see it. Do not worry. Wait and see what I will do here.

"I tell you the truth... these very same people in their great evil will one day bow down before their Creator in the Great Judgment Hall at God's Mercy Seat. Justice will be fair and based on their own admissions. They will have no defense even though they will try to petition. Well, I will not listen to their petitions.

"Erin, believe in My promises as these are true. Pray for all those affected as Heaven is soon to be visible throughout the nations. Trust in Me and do not worry. I am with you. While there is much to be afraid of, fear not. Be at peace and know that I am God and I am here."

Me: "I love You, Lord!"

Jesus: "I love you more than you could possibly imagine!"

Dream over.

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for moving the storm away. Although the ice storm was scary, the snowfall the reports called for never came. We are so thankful for this. Today is sunny and our power stayed on. The storm held off long enough for my husband to drive me to my CT Brain Scan at the hospital.

The wait was longer than expected as a woman in her 40s was experiencing medical trauma. I was only about three feet away from her. As well as she should, she was then called in ahead of me. I knew in my heart that she was in bad shape, so I began to pray. She was in there for more than half an hour when specialists, one by one, were called in. It must have been really bad.

I was finally called into a whole other room. It was not staffed and was clearly meant to keep the other waiting room from being overly crowded. Oh Lord, I pray Your Will be done with this woman and that she is healed. As for me, I am not a fan of tests. These are sometimes scary, especially with the injection of a dye substance into my veins. In the case of a myelogram, this is injected into the spinal column. Not a fan of any of this.

Once the dye was injected for my CT Brain Scan, I could actually feel the dye traveling up my arm. However, unlike other times, this time I was particularly aware of the length of time that it collected in my chest. When I became anxious, Jesus reminded me that He was here with me and that this would come to nothing. I clung to this. His Voice gave me peace. I had a very clear dream last night.

Sub-Dream 1 "A Shrinking Budget and an Impossible Stone" begins...

I was in a western city. While it felt like either Portland OR or Seattle WA, I somehow knew it was neither. While it had characteristics of so many of the cities I have visited over the years, I believe that this city doesn't actually exist. While it was beautiful, there is nothing that exists in modern day quite like this city.

In this dream, I was going to a new home that one of my clients had just purchased. The house was beautiful. However, it was dated as I could tell it was a custom build from the late 80s to early 90s. They were very excited because they purchased it for very little. As a result, they had quite a budget for a total remodel. When I walked in, I began to make a list of all the labor and materials involved to do what they wanted.

Me: "The kitchen alone will be $80,000. This includes replacing cabinets and appliances, demolishing the floor tile and installing new counters, windows and lighting."

Client: "This is too much. What is the minimum I could get away with?"

Me: "Well, let's keep the cabinets and layout. That will save you a lot. Let's simply update the appliances, counters and lighting. This would only be around $20,000 if you get basic appliances."

Client: "No, this won't do. I want higher end appliances."

Me: "If that is the case, the $20,000 budget will need to be doubled to $40,000."

Client: "This is still too much. How about if I keep everything but the counters."

Me: "For a custom stone slab, you are looking at around $7,000."

All the while, I was confused at how cheap she was being. After all, she had just been delighted about how much budget she had for renovations.

Client: "I don't need to buy a new stone slab. I have some stone in the garage that would work. Come with me."

We walked together and entered her garage. There was a stone slab that was impossibly thick. It was about eight inches thick, making it impossible to use. It was eight feet long and six feet wide, making it incredibly heavy. It was really cool to look at as it was sand-blasted black granite.

Me: "First, this would cost a fortune to use or even cut. Second, the cabinets are a pink-glazed, white-washed maple. It would look strange. Third, I am unable to continue to work on this project. The reality is this can't be done on the budget you are requiring. This would be too much work for me."

Client: Now visibly upset. "Well, I can't pay you now. In lieu of payment, I am gifting you this stone slab. It is yours now."

Me: "I won't be able to move it. I don't want it."

Client: "You have no choice. This is yours now. You need to move it."

Me: "It will cost more to move it than I could get for it. I would need a truck with a crane just to move this away. This would be very expensive."

Client: "That is no longer my problem. This stone is now your concern. Move it."

Since I was clearly being ripped off, I decided to simply walk away. I then walked through the city to my hotel. My hotel was on the edge of the city. While it was beautiful there, I gathered my things and proceeded to the front door. I noticed it was now pouring rain. I asked God to stop the rain and it stopped immediately where I was. I saw that it was being held off as if there was an invisible room around me.

It was then that I noticed that my shoes had wavy wooden souls. I then noticed that the sidewalk was also incredibly wavy. The Lord then made a moving chair appear for me to sit on. The chair moved supernaturally and was not limited in any way as to the direction it could travel. I noticed that the chair was moving according to my thoughts on where I wanted it to go. People stopped to stare at me as I rode past them all.

Communion

Dear Father,

Bless You! You are Holy and above all things. You are worthy of ALL of our praises. We praise You in all of the Earth and in Heaven. We praise You in all we see and in things we cannot see. Father, You are wonderful in all Your works. Let us rejoice and be glad in Your promises. These are all true and can be relied on. Father, I love You. Lord, You are my Best Friend and Constant Companion. Whom then shall I fear?

I had a series of dreams last night. They felt like preparations for the physical wars coming to our shores. The plots of the enemy are already planned and these are being activated now. It will be a surprise and will seem to happen during the second and third watches of the night. While our leaders continue to preach safety, security and equity, there will be none.

Sub-Dream 2 "Complete Seizure of Personal Assets" begins...

All of the assets of every person were seized by the banks. All government notes, bank notes, mortgages and loans were called in. Even those with no debt at all were subject to seizures. Those who had stored away cash were left floundering as cash no longer had purchase value.

Sub-Dream 2 over..

Sub-Dream 3 "Family Homes seized without notice" begins...

The financial markets kept crashing at even the threat of something small. A thousand fell at the threat of one. In an instant, people lost all of it, including any savings, stocks or bonds. The people who owned their homes outright had to show title. There could be no liens. This only bought them a short amount of time. Invading armies then went door to door. Officers claimed homes and amenities they liked for personal use.

The people were displaced. Any homeowner caught defending their properties were shot on sight and their guns seized. Those allowed to stay in their homes were cut off from provision, especially those with handicaps, illnesses or the elderly. They were left to die in their homes with no medications or help. All families were registered and their valuables seized.

Healthy men and women went to work at facilities to work off their debts for the war effort. Elderly and sick were only allowed electricity in order to allow them to hear the fearful news. Commercials encouraged all who viewed the broadcasts to 'end their lives for the next generation'. It was a type of torture. There was such hopelessness.

Sub-Dream 3 over.

Sub-Dream 4 "New Wine needs New Wineskins" begins...

I was left alone at home. My entire family was gone. While they were all still alive, they were not with me. While my dogs were still alive and with me, they did not bark. The opposing army had blown up most of the roads. While I was alone 'in the natural', I was not alone 'in the supernatural'. I watched the skies day and night.

I could see drones scanning the area and even peering into windows. They were looking for any type of movement. These drones were supernaturally kept from our windows. I prayed and played worship music. I sang and had joy. My dogs were at peace. I was young and healthy even though I had been tagged as old and disabled. The Lord was here. At night, I slept soundly and dreamt of Heaven.

A loaf of warm, fresh bread was waiting for me in the kitchen every morning. My water supply was pure even though it had been labeled as unfit for consumption. When our area's electricity was completely cut off, our house still had full electricity. Quite simply, I had plenty. When I would pray for my husband, children and friends, the Lord would show me where they each were. We could communicate without words.

They knew I was okay and I knew God had them also. Even so, I was becoming lonely. God was, of course, aware of this. One morning, the Lord woke me up to the bright morning sun. I could hear spring and summer birds singing in our yard. I then heard a knock on my door. I went downstairs and saw an angel of the Lord. After opening the door, the sun was so bright that I couldn't tell who the angel was at first.

Angel: "Erin, God requests your presence."

I recognized the angel's voice. I was so excited to see him again.

Me: "Uriel! I am so glad to see you. Oh Uriel, when will God finally use us? There is so much to do. I am doing nothing every day."

Uriel: "These are questions for God, not His messenger. Come." There in front of me was the beautiful bridge. "Come with me."

Me: "Oh Uriel, have I died in my sleep?"

Uriel: "No, you are very much alive."

He led me across the bridge and onto a path. It was an area in Heaven that I didn't recognize. I looked back and could no longer see my home. We then came to a beautiful meadow of grass and flowers. In the middle of the flowers was the most incredible tree I had ever seen. It was a Heavenly Oak Tree with a beautiful canopy. Underneath this beautiful tree was a beautiful picnic blanket.

Uriel: "This tree is special to the Lord. This is called El Allon. Come and wait on the Lord here. He will be here soon to dine with you. Erin, though the battles rage around you and your house, the Lord is with you."

I nodded and tried to put on a brave face despite my fears. I waved to Uriel and walked over to the blanket. I sat down to wait for Jesus. I looked around the hills and I could see acres and acres of vineyards. They were beautiful. In front of me were two mountains meeting.

Where these two mountains met, I could see a sliver of light like the sun rising slowly. This was not the same as on Earth and is impossible to adequately describe. I could see the sky in different hues of pink, purple, yellow and orange in the sky. It was a stunning display of the Glory of God.

Me: "Thank You, Father. This is so beautiful. I am grateful."

The sun became so bright that I could barely make out something running towards me in the grass. I rubbed my eyes and there was a beautiful snowy white lamb. It came over and licked my cheek. This lamb was so cute.

Me: "Well, hello, little one. Where is your mom?"

I then looked the other direction behind me and there were sheep grazing in the meadow. I laughed when I noticed that the entire setting here was literally a living picture of the Psalms. I then heard horse hooves approaching. I turned yet another direction and there was the Lord. He was in royal clothing. He looked handsome.

Tears ran down my cheeks. Why would the Lord think of me? Who am I to deserve any of His time? I got up on my feet and ran into the meadow to greet Him. I was so happy. There is no one as handsome as our Lord Jesus. He dismounted His beautiful white horse and gave me a hug. His embrace healed my body. I was no longer lonely.

Jesus: "Come, Erin, let us take Communion together." He reached for my hand and we sat on the blanket underneath the tree. "Well, what do you think of all of this?"

Me: "Oh Lord, it is so beautiful. Like You, it is stunning and perfect."

Jesus: "Are you still downcast?"

Me: "Lord, I can't truly celebrate until all of Your people are here. Please tell me what I can do. Lord, how can I pray?"

Jesus: "Oh Erin, there is nothing you can do until I call you to do this. I never said any of this would be easy. However, I can assure you that I am with you. I have prepared a place for you here and no scheme of man or the enemy will change this. It has already been done and ordered. I have brought you here today to refresh your soul and to remind you that I am who I say I am and you are not forgotten. Erin, I do not forget. How could I?"

"Now, the outpouring of change has begun. This is the Wave, My Wave, of My Spirit across the nations. To commemorate this great time, I have brought you here to sup with Me. The Wine for the Great Wedding is being harvested now. Erin, look..."

I looked toward the hills with all of the vineyards. I could see saints and angels harvesting.

Me: "Lord, I thought You had already harvested the Wedding Wine."

Jesus: "Erin, this is a very big celebration. The yield of production is great."

Me: "But You are God and You can turn Living Water into Wine in an instant."

Jesus: "Well, this is true. However, should only certain saints participate in the Wedding? Think of this differently. There are families of those who are on Earth here in Heaven. This is the Great Time that has been anticipated for thousands of years. The buildup has been immense.

"All who are here wants to be a part of this according to each of their skills and their sacrifices. They all want to be here, understand? They find great joy in preparation for the Celebration. You can't even comprehend this! Erin, you are thinking too small. This is an act of worship to God."

Me: "Oh Lord, forgive me for my small thinking. Of course! This makes sense!"

Jesus: "All of Heaven is preparing. Now, I brought you some New Wine to taste. Remember and do not forget you are betrothed to Me. You are Mine. You do not need to worry about your worth. We will sample a sip of this New Wine as the Vintner has prepared it. We will then drink this Wine again when I serve it to you at the Marriage Ceremony.

"Because of this, many of your critics will now say, 'Even in her dreams and visions of the Lord, she is not allowed to drink this New Wine until she dines with the Lord at the Marriage Supper of the Lamb.' To try to alleviate their concerns, I instead prepared a picnic at noonday and gave you just a sample of what is to come. Let us pray that this is sufficient for your critics... past, present and future." He smiled at me.

Me: Laughing. "Thank You, Lord."

He first took some wine and poured it into a small 'sample cup'. He then took a different bottle right next to it and poured it into a separate small 'sample cup'.

Jesus: Pointing at the two 'sample cups'. "I want you to understand something else... one of the samples represents sanctity and the other sample represents separation. Now, what are you doing right now and on this day?"

Me: "I am honoring Sabbath Rest."

Jesus: "Yes. The traditions of Sabbath were meant to prepare the people with the starting of the seventh day with wine and gathering to keep this separate and holy as to honor a marriage between a bride and the groom.

"This is a day of rest and celebration just as reciprocal as is a marriage to Me. Sanctity means to betroth. Here... take this cup of betrothal to Me."

I took the cup and sipped from it. It was sweet. However, it then took me on a journey of flavors and it didn't stop. There were layers to this. Impossible to describe.

Me: "Lord, how is it possible to taste something that can take you on a journey?"

Jesus: "Has this not also been your experience of surrendering your life to Me as My Bride? It has been a wavy journey. Sometimes your feet are not steady. When this happens, I carry you. Sometimes the journey is bittersweet. However, then breakthrough and a deeper need for more of what I offer to you is desired and then brought forth. Now, go ahead and taste... see that I am good."

I took the other cup and sipped from it. It brought tears to my eyes in an instant.

Me: "Thank You, Lord!"

I turned and saw the harvesters and angels waiting to see my response. I turned to the Lord. He smiled and gave me a signal to respond. I let out a big wolf whistle, cheered and waved. They all jumped and cheered back.

Me: "Oh Lord, this Wine is so wonderful!"

Jesus: "So here is My question... is the day of the Wedding to be joyful?"

Me: "Of course! It is to be exciting and happy."

Jesus: "Well then, how is your day of Sabbath?"

Me: I became quiet. "Somber. I am worrying after a night of war dreams."

Jesus: "Are you working on your Wedding Day?"

Me: "No, of course not."

Jesus: "Then the Sabbath is like the Bride. This day is separate from the others. Six days you labor and on the seventh you rest. If Sabbath then is like a wedding then a wedding is like a Sabbath. Given this, take this day and set it apart in prayers, joy, blessings, music and union together. Now, this is the wine to seal the covenant and to close the day that is set apart from the others."

He handed me the cup.

Jesus: "This is the New Wine I told you about. Let Me know what you think."

I took a sip. I felt it go through my body. It filled me. I began to weep.

Jesus: "I am calling you into greater intimacy with Me. I will be your Greatest Delight in this place. This New Wine has come from the greatest crushing and My people have been trodden underfoot. Well, Erin, this is the day... this is the beginning of the outpouring of New Wine.

"Give and it will be given to you... good measure, pressed down, shaken together and running over (Luke 6:38). Now, New Wine requires New Wineskins (Matthew 9:17). Remember that My miracles started with wine... I have kept the good wine until now (John 2:10)."

Me: "Lord, this is the sweetest wine I have ever tasted. Thank You!"

I began to cry in gratitude. I hugged Jesus.

Jesus: "There were so many times I wanted to reach down and comfort you with healing. However, I have instead saved this time for now. I will pour My New Wine into New Wineskins, not Old Wineskins. This is so I may be glorified through you in miracles, signs and wonders. Now, rejoice on this great Sabbath day. You are with Me here and I have revealed mysteries to you as seed to spread to all of those who will listen. My promises are true and steadfast. Rejoice and be glad for I am your God."

He smiled and, in a flash of bright light like the sun, I was home again.

671 – When Sin Entered the Garden of Eden

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You! I praise You, Father, for still loving Your children through all of this. It is so difficult to witness the world growing so cold. It is painful and so unstable to watch all the foundations and perimeters of freedom and liberty being taken away. What we had in mostly a free and good life with liberty to worship our God without punishment is now gone. We cannot go back unless God performs a mighty miracle.

What once was can never be again. Things were relatively good. While there was sin, it wasn't as bad for the world. I now believe it must have been really bad behind the curtain for God to allow permission for the increase in greater evil against the peoples of the Earth. While the USA and Canada were no 'Garden of Eden', they were beautiful and we freely moved about the land and enjoyed the fruits of what our nations offered.

The USA was one nation under God and so was Canada. However, our leaders changed from working for God to secretly working under foreign dictators. Like a slow moving round object traveling down an embankment, the ball starts off moving slow and then picks up speed. It is soon traveling so fast that it can't be stopped. Onlookers then just watch in horror at the destruction at the base of the mountain where it eventually comes to rest.

The mountain is large here and represents the size of Canada and the USA. The various paths of the ball, along with the ball itself, represents the less than 10% of the mountain that it is made up of. While it was really not enough for the mountain to fall, false stories and reports convinced people that the ball made up the majority of the mountain. This is a lie.

The ball was then brought up over and over and over again. All of this was meant to destroy the mountain itself and everything in and around it. Eventually this relatively small ball brought the mountain to a point of possibly collapsing. This was all started by sin. The problem of sin began in the Garden of Eden. I had two dreams last night that seemed related to all of this...

Sub-Dream 1 "Run! Tsunami is coming! Run!" begins...

I saw a scene on the west coast of the USA and Canada. I saw different parts of the coastline. It was beautiful weather. People were vacationing and enjoying the beauty of the beaches and small towns. There were crowded golf courses with various tournaments. I then heard a rumble then a pause. The ground then shook violently. It seemed different than an earthquake.

There was then another rumble, pause and then shaking. There was complete confusion. One famous golf course lost its signature hole. The land crumbled and fell into the sea. Cliffs with large estates crumbled into the sea. Highway 101 broke apart all the way up the coast. The shakings then eventually stopped after repeating an unknown number of times. There were fires, explosions and screaming people.

Whole cities were leveled. The waves on the shore then rapidly receded until they could not be seen. The people were fascinated by the huge shoreline spanning all the way up the west coast that they even began to explore out on it. The water retreated so far out that you could see shipwrecks, both ancient and recent. I then heard an ominous sound... the sound of a distant rumble.

Since it was a clear day, I knew that this deep sustained rumble could not be thunder. The ocean's horizon line then showed a terrifying thing. It showed one long continuous white cap. It was moving quickly toward the shoreline and was rapidly gaining size. I heard people yelling out as they tried to find some high ground. The high ground was too far away to be of use. The situation was extremely dire...

Various people in the crowd: Screaming. "Tsunami! Run! Tsunami! Run!"

The wave I saw was simply incomprehensible. It was a massive wall of white foam and rushing water at least fifty feet high and double that in places. What the earthquake had not destroyed, the tsunami was now coming toward. It seemed like a scene out of a disaster movie ("2012"). Everything was then quiet. There were no signs of life.

Sub-Dream 1 over.

I woke up bothered by this vivid scene. I then fell back asleep.

Sub-Dream 2 "Living just outside the Garden of Eden" begins...

I saw a beautiful garden and realized that it was the Garden of Eden. It had a wall around it. There was an entrance to the east. Standing guard over this entrance was a mighty cherubim with swords of fire facing all directions. I somehow knew that the East Gate faced three future cities that were not yet in existence (Babylon, Sodom and Gomorrah). Sin had just entered the Garden. When sin entered, Adam and Eve had left the Garden through the East Gate.

Note: This scene was extremely clear. I then noticed a second angel speaking with the mighty cherubim with the swords of fire. While not 100% sure, this second angel appeared to be the archangel Michael. While I could hear them speaking and knew what they were saying in the dream, all recollection of their conversation was 'erased' shortly after moving on to a different scene. I do know it was an epic conversation.

In desperation, Adam and Eve stayed near this entrance to the Garden in the hopes that God would change His mind and let them back in. He did not. The serpent was also expelled and followed Eve. Adam and Eve wept and decided to petition to God in prayer and fasting. Adam went to one of the rivers that fed the Garden and Eve went to a different river.

They fasted for forty days in the hopes that God would relent and let them back in to get food. Satan followed Eve and tempted her. While she was at the river, she began to have pain. She was pregnant. God heard their petitions and sent an angel to show them how to farm and gave them seeds. However, they were not to be allowed to return. Adam mourned and Eve wept.

They had very little joy because of the memories of all they had lost. More than this, they missed the friendship and the Glory of God in the Garden. They never stopped shedding tears over their brokenness. They continued to live outside the Garden in the continued hope that God would one day grant them access again.

Sub-Dream 2 over.

I woke up to the sound of my husband's alarm. Father, I do not understand what all of this means. It was a sad night of dreams.

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "I am here with you! Do not worry. Now, as for Adam and Eve, it has been a few thousand years since this happened. Now, many seek Me on this, including you. They question Me on 'why'... why did God not have mercy on Adam and Eve? In particular, they ask Me why no mercy was given even though they had been tricked?"

Me: "Yes, Lord. The Garden was Paradise. The Garden was beautiful and perfect. How could they know the true consequences of their actions without first experiencing them? How could they have truly known not to go the way they did?"

Jesus: "Erin, I understand your question. However, this was the birth of the seed of sin. This is where eternal life was changed to death. Sin equates to death. Adam and Eve gave birth to the fallen generations and God sent the flood. However, try to think of it like this instead... the Garden of Eden is an example of Heaven upon Earth. There can be no sin in Heaven and there is no death. Heaven is like the Garden of Eden, only even more beautiful. Your joy is complete in Heaven because you have come from a place of darkness into the place I have prepared for you."

Me: "What happened to the Garden?"

Jesus: "Sin increased surrounding the Garden. Great was the defilement of all the land because of those who fell from Heaven and their abominations. This was so great that this beautiful Garden was abandoned by God and His army. The enemy then continued to make it his mission to destroy all that God made. This included man, plants, animals and all that was there. The sin became so great that God sent the rains that flooded the Earth."

Me: "Lord, You showed me that the Garden of Eden started off being walled. Why was the Garden walled to begin with... even prior to sin?"

Jesus: "This is because the fallen angels had become envious of Adam and Eve and what was in the Garden. They knew their position as they too once had a beautiful place and position with God, a place where they resided in the light of His Glory. They longed to go back. The third of Heaven's angels that had fallen now longed to return to Heaven.

"As for Satan, he looked at this differently. When Satan knew he was no longer able to return, he then began to build his case against God. He said goodbye to the former good and embraced evil as good. He made the determination to oppose God with evil. Satan came over the Eastern Gate of the Garden. He then went to the Tree of Life and went to the highest point and looked over all of the Garden.

"When God went over to him there, God reduced him to a serpent and confined him to the Tree of Knowledge (of Good and Evil). Satan was enraged because Adam and Eve had been formed in the image of God. He was also enraged because God had made a place where they dwelled with Him and the animals, just as if it were in Heaven... on Earth as it is in Heaven. He was enraged that God would keep him out.

"Once they were all banned from the Garden, Satan was able to take on many forms to deceive them and their offspring. You must understand that God expels evil as it cannot dwell in the presence of God's Glory in His Garden and in Heaven. This is why Satan dwells here. His goal is the same as yesterday... to destroy man, the animals, the fish and all that is of God.

"However, he now doesn't just stop at basic things. He now is about complete defilement of all you see. He weaponizes God's truth in My Word and twists it for a message not of My love. He then twists My love into a message of hate. He uses lies as truth and truth as lies. He is flipping God's Commandments on its head. Satan has tried to rewrite these as the following:

1. Thou shall have other gods.
2. Thou shall make them into idols.
3. God's Name shall be as curses.
4. Work on all 7 days and be unholy on all of them.
5. Hate your parents.
6. Murder.
7. Commit adultery.
8. Steal.
9. Lie and spread lies against those closest to you.
10. Envy what your brother has and plot to gain it.

Me: "Oh Lord, all of this is so sad. Almost all are practicing this now. It is horrible."

Jesus: "Without a change of heart, they will not enter into God's Glory."

Me: "Lord, please send help to heal the land. Show the people what You have planned for them in Heaven. Help us."

Jesus: "Do not be discouraged. There is a place prepared for all those who practice evil. Those who turn back and confess in their heart will be forgiven. Do not worry."

Me: "Lord, I feel so unworthy of Your Grace and love. I long to be in Your presence with my every cell."

Jesus: "Erin, God sends angels concerning you. Uriel even collects you to bring you to God's Court. The things of this world are temporary and will one day be burned in the fire. Nothing is lasting but one thing... My love for you and your love for Me. Salvation is through Me alone. Through Me, you are healed and great will be your reward.”

Me: “I love You! Jesus, all You have done for me and my house and my children and my friends and their children are miracles. We are so thankful. We are so thankful to You! Bless You, Lord...” I began to cry.

Jesus: “The Great Deceiver is about to take his seat. However, this will not happen before God’s Plans are carried out. Heaven will be visible upon Earth. Now rejoice and pray. You are loved!”

Dream over.

672 – Looking Back at the Garden of Eden

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day here! Thank You for life. Thank You for purpose. Despite all I am encountering, despite my personal battles, You have given me a purposeful life. This is not on my own terms or visions, but rather on Yours and these are much better. Your plans for my life are much greater than my biggest dreams as a child.

Why? Because society had called me least likely to succeed based on statistical data, location, family status, economic criteria, my gender and so on. These things often determine if you can be admitted to universities. If you are admitted, these things then determine whether you can afford it and whether, if given aid, you can repay it.

Anyway, I was not the most solid candidate. As a result, my mom pushed sports on me and my two brothers. Well, she didn't really need to push it. All we needed was some encouragement to pursue our dreams. This meant diversifying our own abilities and our life portfolio. We needed to make ourselves a good candidate when grades alone would not secure a place to the school we wanted to be at.

With all my mom's faults, as we all have, God used her in miraculous ways to give us brilliant advice. This included the advice to not do as she had done, but rather to avoid her mistakes. She had a lot of mistakes to learn from and she passed this advice on to us. There have been so many times I should have ended up dead. Still, God had my back. He saved me from countless schemes of certain death. Here are a few...

- My friend and I were in her VW Bug convertible. We drove up to the Boise lookout point on a mountain. We wanted to look at the city lights at night. She was in my dance group (the Boise Dance Force). As we drove higher up the road, we realized there was no one up there. While cars coming down told us to turn around, we ignored them as they sounded drunk. We were now at the lookout point with our windows rolled down. The old crank windows meant a slow roll up time. It was then that the wild dogs attacked us. Thanks to a warning howl, we had just gotten our windows up in time. We went down the hill safely and gratefully.

- A scary man stopped me and asked me for directions when I was 14 years old. I heard the Voice of God say, "Stop now. " I did.
- The night I was supposed to accompany a group of friends to go spelunking at some caves to celebrate a birthday. My car wasn't working to drive there after work. When I made the decision to go home instead, my car started again. When I then decided to go to the caves, it conked out again. This happened a few times. I made the final decision to simply go home. I later found out that the brother of the birthday boy had fallen down a 150 foot crevice to his death. Since I had a bit of a crush on this guy, I could have been with him when it happened. Whether falling or witnessing his fall, neither would have been good.
- I had to commute in the mornings from Multnomah in SW Portland OR to Vancouver WA to work. Near my house there was a speeding operation where tickets were issued to repeat speeding offenders. I decided to reduce my speed considerably from that point on. It was on the same day of my decision that I was just behind a truck that rolled over. Had I been traveling at my usual speed, I would have surely been crushed.
- A man was trying to lure me into a backroom using my love for bracelets. I was very young. I knew this was going to turn out poorly for me, but he was stronger. At the last second, my mom came into the shop and pulled me away. Just a few seconds longer and who knows what he would have done to or with me.
- The coin store robbery wherein my friend was shot in the leg right in front of us.
- The drunken driver about to hit us head on somehow miraculously turning at the last second, sparing us.

All of these occurred when I wasn't a Christian yet. God had a plan for my life and I am grateful for His mercy. I am grateful to have children who listen to my warnings and heed them. I pray they continue. Please forgive me, Father, for all of the times I have failed You and went my own way. Thank You for Your grace and mercy. You are wonderful. I have come this far even though I have been so foolish at times.

I was careless with my communion this morning. I ate the cracker and drank the wine, but I was careless when doing this. I did not pray on what I was doing as I usually did. I repented and asked for forgiveness for not valuing my communion time with You. When I told my husband, his advice was simple... start over again and do it like you mean it. Well, this worked and hence this dream.

The Lord has showed me the course of sin that leads to spiritual death. However, in everything, the Lord has set perimeters that the enemy must obey when striking out against the children of God...

- The enemy makes known his position in advance. He could use hypothetical ideas that are actually what he means to do. This could be in the beginning of carrying out his attacks. Usually, this sticks in your head as these things are then carried out.
- He could also make known his plans just as he is carrying them out. Why? So you know the plans and you cry out to God for help.
- Prayer is the only way. So many Christians don't heed the warnings of exactly what is planned. They are then surprised when these plots unfold.
- Sometimes the enemy takes on another form in order to appear innocent.

There are then ways that we sin and do it often without thinking. I recently found an article on this and thought it was interesting. Here are some of the main points...

- We often sin in self-righteousness and selfishness. Philippians 2:3-4 gives us the remedy to this sin.
- We sin in placing our collective body or our nation like the USA above others. However, we are citizens of Heaven and Heaven includes citizens from many nations (Philippians 3:20).
- We sin in fear and worry. I am guilty of this! Faith requires trust. Perfect love drives out fear. Isaiah 41:10: "Fear not for I am with you; do not be dismayed for I am Your God; I will strengthen you; I will help you; I will uphold you with My righteous right hand." I needed this Scripture for right now.
- We sin with pride (James 4:6, Proverbs 16:5).
- We sin in gluttony and coveting. Philippians 3:19: "Their end is destruction; their God is their belly; they glory in their shame with minds set on earthly things.” I can be guilty of this, especially when I was younger with my eating disorder.

- We sin in gossip. Proverbs 20:19: “Whoever goes about slandering reveals secrets; therefore, don’t associate with a simpler babblers.” Ephesians 4:29: “Let no corrupting talk come out of your mouths, but only such as is good for building up, as fits the occasion that it may give grace to those who hear.”
- We sin in hatred. Hatred is connected to fear. Fear causes us to hate irrationally. 1 John 2:9: “Whoever says he is in the light and hates his brother is still in darkness.” Proverbs 10:12: “Hatred stirs up strife, but love covers all offenses.”
- We sin in judgment. Never forget where you came from. Do not judge others. Acknowledge your own weaknesses and embrace humility. Romans 14:12-13 comes to mind. When you compare yourself to others, you then rank yourself as either superior or inferior to them; neither of which glorifies God.

Father, I had another dream about the Garden of Eden last night.

Sub-Dream 1 “Outside of the Garden of Eden” begins...

I saw the East Gate of the Garden of Eden. When looking through the Gate and into the Garden, I could see so much life, beauty and abundance. However, outside of the Gate, there was very little life. There were mounds of pale sand and fine dirt. It was really quite barren.

Sub-Dream 1 over...

I am guilty of sins. Perhaps they seem small to us, but, to You, they are heart issues. Time and bad news, coupled with fear, have created a mess of sins in me. These can probably be compared to a snake ball.

Father, I repent right now. I am sorry for participating with the enemy in his schemes. I renounce this evil in my life that I have been guilty of. I break this stronghold over me as I am a child of God. I am a citizen of Heaven. I am a Bride of Christ. I am a Warrior of Jesus. Oh Father, bless my soul, my strength, my heart and my hands in all I do. Be my joy and my peace. I pray this in Jesus’ Mighty Name, AMEN!

Jesus: “Erin, come up!”

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "Erin, I am here and I am with you. I promised I would never leave you. You are suffering fatigue as you watch and wait. You have been shown wars, earthquakes, famine and death. You worry for your house. You find yourself doubting. Do I have any of this wrong?"

Me: "No, Lord. When I had the dream of the Garden of Eden, the outside of the Garden was so barren. I never want to be outside of Your favor in a barren place."

Jesus: "You won't be. However, I do understand why you sometimes have this fear. It is a good one to keep your focus on Me. Now, why do you think you were given these dreams?"

Me: "I guess I have always wondered why that happened. Why not just keep Satan completely out of the Garden?"

Jesus: "You will understand this one day. If you look at current events now, you can see why the enemy has called so many to crossover into this once free nation. It is so evil can enter in without being stopped. It is a public display of rebellion. It is an invasion. The thief comes only to steal, kill and destroy.

"I have come that they may have life and have it to the fullest (John 10). Some have come to find a better life. However, many have been sent for another purpose. There are spies and murderers who have come and they have been paid to come. Now, what do walls do?"

Me: "I suppose they are mostly there to keep the bad out."

Jesus: "Walls are there to protect what lies within, whether it be a country, a city or a homestead. A wall protects the peaceful enjoyment to live freely within. In some circumstances, walls can keep the bad inside. Right now, evil is flowing like a river into your land. This is happening from the north, the south, the east and the west. The leaders do not care for the people. They care for their interests only. They are being controlled."

Me: "Lord, please stop this. You have so many people who love You that are powerless against this evil. The wicked are winning. People are hungry for revival and great change. Your people need refreshment. All that the enemy is carrying out is like the example of Germany in WWII. This includes propaganda, lies and the killing off of the people. There is the closing of churches. It is horrible. Lord, please help."

Jesus: "I have told you not to worry or be afraid. Erin, do not fear. The enemy will be in shock at the Great Plans I have. All the evil you see will be stopped and changed. Whole cities will be healed. Leaders will be toppled. Burned churches will be rebuilt and restored. All of the evil will be exposed.

All of their plots will be revealed as their own mouths confess it. The dead will testify from their graves as they rise and live.

"The evil will run in terror. There will be great celebrations. Great will be My recompense for the inhabitants of the nations who lost their fortunes to evil thieves. In turn, they will give it freely to those in need. However, there will only be need for those who have run from God and are found wanting as their sin they enjoy more than an eternity in Heaven without sin. And so it goes. There will be great, great changes. Evil will be far from you.

"Now, you are a citizen of Heaven, Erin. This is not your home. All you see around you will one day all be gone. It will be no more. It is temporal. You become anxious when you see the enemy succeed. You see no justice and no police. You see moral decline. You see the silence of church leaders.

"You see the increase in addictions, drugs, gambling, spirits and the like. You see the destruction of children and their innocence, as well as babies sacrificed to the gods of this land. You then ask Me if I am seeing this. You then ask me to help. You then ask me where I am. You then become depressed and desensitized to what you see and hear."

Me: "You are right. I have gone through the five stages of grief. I am now in between the 4th and 5th stages of grief..."

- 1st stage is denial.
- 2nd stage is anger.
- 3rd stage is bargaining.
- 4th stage is depression.
- 5th stage is acceptance.

"I went through this program twice, yet here I am again. These stages are our attempt to process change and protect ourselves while we adapt to a new reality."

Jesus: "How is that going?"

Me: "Horribly. Every time we adapt, it continues to get worse. I am accepting all of it now I guess."

Jesus: "You forgot Me, Erin. Look at this from My view and pray for an increase in wisdom. Come back to Me in a few days to understand what has happened and why you struggle. I am God over all things. There is no scheme of man nor plot of the enemy that I am not aware of.

"Therefore, I, along with My army of angels, will continue to prepare the land, the nations, the lost and those who I have chosen to process and prepare for the changes coming. Through this, the God of All Creation will protect you. This will happen as you embrace the Great Changes coming. Your part in this is as a citizen of Heaven who is temporarily dwelling upon the Earth.

"Your love will be an example for the lost as you were once lost, afflicted and poor. You will help in the Kingdom purposes. I have plans for the least of these. You will be changed, strengthened and healed. You will be transformed to appear as a citizen of Heaven who walks here. I will be in you as the General of a Great Army of God. Erin, be encouraged. Dwell in My promises.

"Do not dwell in dark thinking as those who live in darkness. Instead understand that you are a child of the Most High God. Erin, you dwell in the Light of My Glory here and in Heaven. Nothing will take you from Me, understand? Now rejoice! Finetune your thinking. You think yourself small in the Kingdom, but you are not. Rise up and rejoice. I am with you. You are loved!"

Dream over.

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for this beautiful day! Thank You for granting me one more day here. I am blessed to have another day. This week was filled with so much activity. My older son had heart arrhythmia issues, as well as sharp chest pain. Taking a trip to the ER is now typically an all day ordeal. In terms of the ambulance, it was faster for me to drive him in. The Lord told me not to go to the main hospital, but instead to a military one.

This hospital was an hour drive, with the main one only 30 minutes away. I listened to God and headed to the military hospital. Based on his age and conditions, treatment was soon after we arrived. They ran tests and monitored him. They soon came to the conclusion that he had a viral infection that was causing swelling to his heart muscle. By a miracle, they indicated only medication would be needed as it was caught early.

In less than three hours, we were out of the ER. This is a miracle around here. Last time I went to the main hospital's ER, it was over six hours before I was even seen. Praise You, Father, for Your help in my son's case. When I went to the Lord later as to why there was an issue at all, He told me that this was a personal wakeup call to my son to make changes.

When I asked what changes, He told me he needed to change what he eats, when, the amounts, as well as what he consumes with his friends on the computer. When I approached my son on this later, we had quite the conversation. I started off by telling him all what the Lord had said about him.

Son: "My friends and I like to play a game where the players become Hindu gods. I did notice I always had technical issues when playing this game. The last time I played, I took on the persona of Rama."

Me: "This is your wakeup call to make changes. Would you play Rama if Jesus was sitting in the room next to you?"

Son: "No, I wouldn't."

Me: "Would Jesus play this game?"

Son: "Certainly not."

Me: "The Lord wants you to repent for engaging in these games. He wants you to make changes in all areas. He wants you to make healthy choices. Remember that the enemy works against us and is very clever."

My son then committed to repent immediately. Within just 24 hours, he was healed. He was still tired from the battles, but the chest pains were now gone. It was a gateway to breakthrough in our home as sleep has no longer been an issue once we discovered the breach and made swift corrections. The week prior, we were under attacks from every direction. It seemed off. I went to the Lord and He comforted me...

Voice of the Lord: "Hold on, Erin. I have you. All will be okay."

I continued to pray and kept watch. While I was on high alert, I wasn't sure what would occur. Yesterday was a great day. I had to run into town to pick up groceries. I love to worship the Lord in my 'prayer closet on wheels'. After I dropped by the pharmacy to pick up some prescriptions, I drove the northern route to town. As I listened to music, I noticed a bald eagle on the side of the road.

I was in such shock that I drove past it before realizing it was an adult eagle. I turned the car around and slowly approached it. He was startled and spread its wings. The wings easily stretched almost seven feet across. He then flew up to a pine tree above the area. I took some photos and then drove off. I then prayed that You would take my day and guide my steps.

It had been the second day after another major snowstorm. I was relieved to be out on such a beautiful day. The first great nudge by God was to drop in to see the owner of a tiny antique shop. This shop was only open on Saturdays. I noticed that this owner always sold his merchandise for too little. I hadn't seen him in almost six months. We were both glad to see each other.

Customers soon came in and I decided to look around. The Lord led me to the basement. Everything was 50% off their already cheap prices. I shook my head because he had so many nice things marked down way too much. Given that I was in a state of purging, I decided to leave the area without picking up a thing. I once again heard the Lord...

Voice of the Lord: "Erin, stop. Turn around. Pick up and purchase all that I lead you to. I will then explain this to you."

Well, this got my attention as it is extremely rare for the Lord to tell me to pick up such unnecessary items. I turned around and went back into the basement of this historic building.

Me: "Lord, please show me what You are speaking of."

I walked over to a small wooden windup music turntable of a little girl in the yard with a bird and a squirrel. While this would sell for $200 in Portland OR, it was a fraction of that price. I picked it up and realized I didn't like the face of the girl. I put it down and the music began to play. This was odd as I had not wound it.

Me: "Oh Lord, please don't make me buy this thing!"

Jesus: "Leave it there. Now turn to the right."

(First Item – Transformer) There in front of me was a Transformer. It was huge and dated 2007. I decided to pick this up for my older son. The Lord confirmed my purchase. As I climbed back up the stairs, the Lord prompted me to turn to the right. (Second Item – Mountain Painting) There was an acrylic painting of a path and a snow-capped mountain.

It looked like a mountain in the Cascade Range. There was no price. I turned the painting over and it was titled 'Heights of Adventure – February 5, 1972 – Arnold (last name illegible)'. It was small, so I carried it up to the owner for a price. I didn't want to approach him yet because he was waiting on several people.

Me: "Lord, this is so not like You to encourage me."

Jesus: "Look up!"

(Third Item – Citation Badges) I looked up to a shelf and there was a bag of 20 United States army citation uniform badges. Each one was in a tiny plastic sleeve. Each one was labeled with the war that was fought. Most were for valor under extreme conditions. They were in a Ziploc bag. I picked them up. The shop phone then rang and the other customers proceeded down the stairs. The owner addressed me.

Owner: "I hope I am not being rude, but can I take this call?"

Me: "Of course!"

He took the call. While I didn't mean to pry, I couldn't help but hear a portion of the call.

Owner: "I am sorry, but I can't buy anything right now. Things have been very difficult. I am considering closing. Thank you though. Bye."

Jesus: "You are to pay full price today."

Me: "Okay, Lord." Jokingly. "Will You tell my husband?"

Jesus: "Everything you see, as well as all you have, all belongs to Me. Do not worry."

Me: "Okay. Is this all You want me to buy?"

Jesus: "Look down."

(Fourth Item – Brass & Glass Level) I looked down and there was a beautiful antique rosewood, brass and glass level. I chuckled as I picked it up. I approached the owner with my items. Before I reached the owner, the Lord told me to look down for the last item. (Fifth Item – 1937 Coronation Program) It was right at checkout and was a copy of the program of the coronation of King George VI and Queen Elizabeth in 1937. I picked it up. It was in a protective sleeve.

Me: "There were no prices on some of these."

Owner: "Hmm, how about $50 for everything?"

Me: God welling up in me. "No, that is too little. Each one of these individually is worth $50 or more. This is the real price and is something you could use right now. I have been the owner of a store before and this is a tough time of year for you."

Owner: Seemingly relieved. "Well, I was giving you half of half."

Me: "That is so nice of you. However, I want you to succeed."

Just then, all the customers were coming up from the basement. I could tell they had been listening to me and still were.

Me: "I want you to still be here. The only way that can happen is you need to make money via profits or charge admission as a museum. I know this from my own experience. I love your store. Everyone should be buying from you. Thank you for the great deal, but I am going to give you $132 instead."

Owner: "Okay, thank you. I could really use this. Someone threw bricks through my front window from the homeless encampment. It cost quite a bit for the repairs."

Just then, I saw all the customers pick up items for purchase. It was awesome. He put his hand on his heart.

Owner: "Thank you and take care."

He handed me the items and I went out to the car. I left feeling fantastic.

Me: "Thank You, Jesus, for all of this. It felt wonderful to help him. I still would like to know why these particular items."

Jesus: "Trust Me in this."

Me: "Yes, Lord."

I knew He would do something amazing through these items. I then proceeded to the grocery store. Something cool then happened. Everything I needed 'just happened' to be 'reduced 50% – use tonight!'. All in all, I saved $134 on my grocery bill. This is more than I had paid at the antique store! While the bill was still high, I had at least three days of family meals. I felt grateful. I then had a dream last night...

Sub-Dream 1 "Five Unrelated Related Items" begins...

I had tote bags hanging securely from my right arm. I was carrying groceries with my left arm. I was Transformed and felt young. I was walking when an angel of the Lord approached me. He directed me to a bench on the side of the road. He had a hood draped over his head. When we sat, he removed his hood. It was Uriel!

Me: "Uriel! Why didn't you come in the usual way?"

Uriel: 'Hmm, should I leave and instead meet you at the bridge? God had me do it this way to show you that, when God calls His messengers, His angels, to appear to His children, He can do so in many different ways. God is never limited by anything other than His own Word.'

Me: "I'm sorry. I just didn't recognize you in plain clothes."

Uriel: "You need to adjust your expectations. Angels more often appear in plain clothes than in the manner you have grown accustomed to. Your exposure to seeing angels as they are from a heavenly perspective is not the norm for most. You must become accustomed to both."

"We usually come bearing good news. We also come to protect, rescue and heal. While the enemy also has his crew, God's Spirit will alert you immediately when they are near. His angels will be there to watch over you. Do not worry. Now, show me your tote bags."

I handed him the bag.

Uriel: "Let's take a look at each item..."

- First Item – Transformer: "Okay, so the first item is a Transformer. It stands on two feet and can do many things. This is a gift from God as you will be changed... Transformed in an instant."
- Second Item – Mountain Painting: "The second item, this painting, is a reminder of the mountain of God. This is where you will meet and commune with God, the angels..." He pointed to himself. "... and others" like you. There you will hear from God and be given instructions. You will then be given specific orders.

- Third Item – Citation Badges: “The third item, the citations, will be issued once these battles and orders are completed. You will be shown these as they have already occurred in God’s eyes.”

Me: “Wait... so badges are issued ahead of the battle or directive?”

Uriel: “Yes. God is in you. You do not understand this right now, but you have already earned your badges from your faith and endurance to overcome. This is because you stay with God despite others encouraging you to stop.”

Me: “Oh, I see.”

Uriel: “Based on these criteria, you will then go out in pairs to heal and to perform miracles, signs and wonders. However, you will also level the playing field.” He pulled out the level.

Fourth Item – Brass & Glass Level: “Nothing is on the level. Wherever you go, God in you makes right the uneven surfaces. You will be an army of God that will make level paths so that the lame will not be disabled, but healed instead (Hebrews 12:3).”

Me: “Okay, there is one last item... the 1937 Coronation Program.”

Uriel: Fifth Item – 1937 Coronation Program: “This is important to God. After you have completed your service to God, there will be a great coronation ceremony in Heaven. This is where you will be crowned. The significance of this antique program is to show a transfer of power from one head to another. It is also a transfer of wealth on Earth.

“However, there was more... a planned proposal to divide Israel into two parts, taking more of God’s own land. It marked the great time of weakness of the world leaders who once stood for God. His favor was slowly eroded and severely diminished.”

Me: “Are you speaking of Britain?”

Uriel: “Yes. God doesn’t appreciate broken covenants.”

Me: Help me, Uriel, as I still have more questions.”

Uriel: “Erin, watch your enemies and what they are doing. The enemies of God are plotting against His children. A while back, you were given a dream of a tiger and some toddlers. The enemy has crossed the borders, but not just physical land borders. He has a hold over all things necessary for a land and the nations to live free. Right now, the land of the tiger is storing up grains and food in record number. Ask yourself why. God gave you a vision. Do you remember? You did not write this down.”

Me: “I didn’t. I am sorry. It was sad, very sad.

Sub-Dream 2 “Light Fur vs Dark Fur” begins...

There were two varieties of mice. One variety had lighter fur and the other had darker fur. Favor was given to the darker. The lighter colored mice were now starving and dying. The technicians sent in a drop of something in the food of the darker furred mice. This drop killed all of the darker furred mice within seconds. The technicians celebrated. They made phone calls.

Through genetics, they were able to kill off an entire population instantly. This was so deadly and powerful that nothing could survive it. The lighter furred mice represented the local population. Something was given to them to make them supernaturally strong to fight. While I already know this relates to the land of the dragon, I am not sure of all the ways it relates.

Sub-Dream 2 over.

Me: “Oh Uriel, what is coming is far worse. It is too depressing. That is why I didn’t write this dream down at first.”

Uriel: “You were shown the current plans of the enemy and their quest to destroy all those they consider inferior. However, do not forget that God’s plans are much greater than any scheme of the wicked. Their coronation will consist of the Corona Virus in eternity. Their fate is sealed. God sees and He sends us, His army of angels, to watch over their schemes.

- One enemy plans to wipe Israel off the face of the Earth.
- Another longs to send the world into war for money.
- Another plots to take over the North American Continent and all its wealth.
- Another longs to wipe out the population except their chosen and a few slaves to serve them.
- Yet another sits back and waits, happy as can be, as he puppeteers through one leader to destroy all those who disagreed with him. He plans to rule the world and destroy all Christians, as well as all of God’s Creation. His fate is sealed.

“Now, I have a message for you from God:

- God has allowed you to be embattled for 23 years.
- Through it all, you continued to love Him.

- You remained steadfast in zeal for the Kingdom of God and His righteousness.
- Although you are not perfect, you have kept your heart contrite and ready.
- You have remained willing to serve God in all ways.
- You will see many things.
- Much will be revealed as you are a trusted friend of God.

Me: "I am scared though, Uriel. I never want to be out of God's favor. I never want to disappoint Him or fail Him."

Uriel: "With this new thing, it will be impossible to displease God because He is with you guiding your steps and making your path sure. All will be done by God. The world has never seen or even conceived what God is about to do. Nothing will prevail against Him."

Me: "Uriel, I become afraid of falling out of favor and losing the ability to be a part of the Great Revival and Harvest that is to come. I have so many dreams of the darkness that follows and I am there."

Uriel: "You have been shown what comes after God removes His Spirit from the Earth for 3.5 years. Understand that His Spirit remains in you and those He has called for His purposes. Some will be doing this or that while others will have a different role. During this time, you will reside in Heaven. You will only appear in order to assist the lost."

Me: "Wouldn't it be better to send angels instead?"

Uriel: "First, God's plans are best. There is no better way than Yahweh, understand? Second, the army of angels are at war with those who have been released, those we are familiar with. Great will be this war in the heavens and on Earth. You will walk the destroyed places in search of those God calls you to so they do not give up. You come and go, all in various areas.

"I cannot say more, but only this as God has told me. He does not change His mind concerning you. He is faithful to His promises for your life. Though you compare yourself to others you deem more deserving, do not do this. This is a form of coveting, so repent. You are perfect for God's purposes as He has created your path and there you walk. Other saints have their own paths.

"Do not envy this as they were given their own journey by God. While some wish they had your gifts, most would not like the path. While you might wish you could be out speaking in churches and to the lost publicly, this is not your time. God will use you in greater measure. However, for now, you are restless. He is in you. His voice is loud in you. Speak to Him as He longs to talk to you more.

“He enjoyed shopping with you. He is happy to take part in your day and night. He is quick to answer you even before you speak. This is a foreshadowing of what is soon to come to all of His people. Now rejoice, Erin, for God is with you. He will not leave you. Remember to watch the enemy and his actions and then enquire of the Lord and great will be your answer.”

Me: “Before you go, Uriel, I had another dream...”

Sub-Dream 3 “Snowflakes of Concern” begins...

Snow was falling, but it wasn’t snow. It was horrifying. It was like winter, but it wasn’t the season. There was also black rain.

Sub-Dream 3 over..

Uriel: “Many are the plots of the wicked. Give this to God. He is with you. Now, I must go.”

He put on his hood, stood up and disappeared into the night.

Sub-Dream 1 over.

Me: “Father, this was a mystery. I am struggling with anxiety. Please grant me peace.”

Jesus: “Erin, come up!”

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: “Erin, I am here and I am with you. Do not be afraid. Your garments are prepared. There is pure olive oil in your lamp. You are a jewel in My Crown and on My breastplate. You are beautiful. You will be glorified with My splendor. You will serve Me on Earth and in Heaven. Great will be your peace. While you are a Living Stone that has been rejected by men, you are perfect and precious in My sight.

“As My Living Stones, you are being built up as a Spiritual House for a Holy Priesthood. This is so you are able to offer up spiritual sacrifices acceptable and holy to Me (1 Peter 2:4-5). You are part of My Royal Priesthood. Erin, this is the greatest honor of worthiness. Your Vessels have been made by My hands.

“They have been shaped and formed by miry clay and have been found worthy and useful as a Temple Vessel. This is a priesthood filled with Living Water to be poured out over a dry land. Do not worry as My plans are greater than the enemy's schemes. You are Mine. Now rejoice and be glad. I am with you. You are loved."

Dream over.

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day! Thank You for Your great love, supernatural provision and a great shelter in the storm. A few days ago, I awoke to an urgent message that the hour is very late and changes must be made now for any last unconfessed sins or the need to forgive those who have hurt us.

The call was to pray now. God, You were urgent in Your call. It was a definite urgency. This urgency was also in a private word You had for my older son. He said something interesting to me after reading this private word...

Son: "Mom, this message can't be ignored. I received this one as different and serious. I received it as apart from all other words I have received in the past."

His eyes reflected a change, a resolution, to fight harder against the enemy. The instructions You had for us through this were very clear. There is something coming and it is so big that the world has never experienced something like this before. The world will be plummeted into great agony. Father, my dreams show something horrible coming to the North American Continent. Does this come prior to the Great Harvest?

If this is coming, how can we realistically prepare for it. While I like good news, I cannot sugarcoat what is coming. You have always told me to watch what the enemies of God do to prepare. By their own lips and actions, they expose their plans. We are not to dismiss their words. Better is the little of the righteous than the abundance of the many wicked (Psalm 37:16).

Right now, one of the world's greatest enemies are preparing for war. However, this will not just be any war. This is from a reputable news site. Their preparations include the Reservists Law. This went into effect on March 1, 2023. They have set up national defense mobilization offices across the country. They are taking over privately owned factories and converting them from civilian production to military production.

Their spy balloon was surveying nuclear sites on American Military Bases. Alarms are going off that they intend to send nuclear weapons to strike our strategic weapons at these bases. They are preparing to strike America. Father, how does one prepare for this? Meanwhile, Christians continue to be brutally persecuted all over the world. However, no one talks about it. I had quite the dream last night...

Sub-Dream 1 "Funeral at High Noon, Wedding at 3pm" begins...

I was young... twenty something. I was carrying two garment bags to a big church. In the church, there were two chapels. I had two events to attend on the same day. When I arrived, I was greeted by several of my older relatives, as well as cousins and other family. They were all very glad to see me there. A parishioner came over to me...

Parishioner: "Hello, dear, come to the changing room. The first ceremony starts at High Noon. Bring both garment bags. The first garment bag is for the 12:00pm event."

I unzipped the first garment bag and it was a simple black dress.

Me: "Oh no, this seems made for a funeral. Is there to be a funeral at High Noon? Who has died?"

Parishioner: "So many. However, this is for the living. You must quickly collect yourself as your wedding is at 3:00pm, followed by dinner at 6:00pm."

Me: "So, I am to be married after a funeral?"

Parishioner: "Erin, you are moving from one place to another. The transition from sorrow to great joy will all be within an afternoon."

Me: "Who died? Please! How can I celebrate when we are in mourning? Also, why did you call it High Noon?"

Parishioner: "Look up the definition of High Noon. However, you must hurry as noon approaches... High Noon. I will give you a moment to put on your mourning suit."

Note: I quickly left the dream to look up the definition of High Noon. I went to several different sites. The first was obvious. The third one took some digging. All three definitions seemed applicable to what we are waiting for... (1) Midday. The glaring light of High Noon. (2) An event or confrontation that is likely to decide the final outcome of a situation. (3) The most advanced, flourishing or creative stage or period.

I changed into my mourning suit and waited for the parishioner to collect me. I had a small black hat with a small black veil for my face. As I stepped into my black shoes, I decided to unzip the other bag. I was in shock as this second bag seemed to have all the attire needed for a Bride...

Me: "Am I a wedding guest, a member of the bridal party or an attendant?" When I unzipped more, the garment had even more clarity. "Whoa! Am I part of the Bride? After a funeral no less! Okay, Lord, since this is Your show, feel free to do this as You please. Your Will only."

I then heard a knock on my door. I opened it and there was the parishioner again.

Parishioner: "This is a great day for you. You will say goodbye to the former way and step into a new way. Always remember that God is with you."

Just then, the clock tower began to ring. The day was beautiful.

Sub-Dream 1 over.

I woke up and was sad. I wanted to see more. I got up and came back to fall asleep. I then had a different dream...

Sub-Dream 2 "Three Bears and a Bald Eagle" begins...

We were living in a sprawling ranch house, a home that I did not recognize. While the house needed repairs, every time I suggested something based on my knowledge of remodeling and costs, the remodeler never listened. For some reason, we had to use this particular remodeler. While I wanted to open up the space, he kept wanting to close it up and divide it further.

This would mean isolating all of us so we could not interact with each other without exiting the house and going through various doors. One of our kids overheard one of the workers say that, once the house is divided, it will fall. Upon hearing this, we quickly banded together and fired the evil remodeler. We then knocked down the walls he had built and opened up the space.

Winter was now becoming spring. There was still snow on the ground. I was about to travel somewhere and left instructions with our children (really young adults now) to continue to carry on in our absence. They agreed to do so, indicating that they would even feed the outdoor animals and birds. I then went outside with a tray of nuts and seeds. As I scattered this, I looked up to the forested area...

There was a young Black Bear. It was starving after waking up from hibernation. Next to the Black Bear was a Panda Bear. The white areas of the Panda Bear were dirty. On the ground and on an area across from the creek was a Bald Eagle. For whatever reason, they remained still as they each watched me. I then heard a noise. Up from behind the Bald Eagle was a white Polar Bear cub. It sat behind the Bald Eagle.

I placed the seeds into a trough, along with some fruits and vegetables for the deer and some bunnies I had seen. Just then, the Black Bear broke away and ran down to greet me. It was starving. It was timid and somewhat weakened. Following the Black Bear was the Panda Bear. While the Panda Bear seemed much larger at a distance, it was smaller when it actually approached. Following the Panda Bear was the Polar Bear.

All were hungry. They ate all of the food given to them. The Polar Bear then went to the creek and stretched out across it and fell asleep. The Panda Bear turned and went to the Polar Bear. The Panda Bear then used the Polar Bear as a bridge to cross the creek to the Bald Eagle. The Panda Bear suddenly became vicious and lunged at the Bald Eagle. The Bald Eagle flew safely to the top of a tall tree.

The Panda Bear chased the Bald Eagle. When the Panda Bear drew near, the Bald Eagle went back to the ground and walked across the Polar Bear. The Bald Eagle then went up into the air and dive bombed the weakened Black Bear. The Black Bear did not want to fight. It instead wanted more snacks as it was weakened from hibernation. I then watched the Panda Bear jump from the one tree in the forest to another tree. I was angry.

I decided to grab my seed tray and go back inside. We then watched from the window as the three bears fought over very little. I told my children to be careful as I didn't want them to become part of this battle. I suggested we stay inside until the 'Bear Battles' were over. It was not hard to obtain consensus agreement.

Sub-Dream 2 over.

Father, it was a strange night of dreams. What do these mean?

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "Erin, I am here and I am with you. Do not be afraid. Be of great courage. I am with you always. Now, you are about to pay your respects and say goodbye to the former things. I will wipe away every tear from your eyes. Death shall be no more. Neither shall there be mourning nor crying nor pain for the former things have passed away (Revelation 21:4). You will go from one house to another house, a better one, and great will be your joy and peace.”

Me: Crying. “Lord, these dreams were so real.”

Jesus: “You will go from one state of being, as in mourning, into a new state of gladness and dancing.”

I recognized this Psalm, so I looked it up in the Passion version. An excerpt from Psalm 30: “Then He broke through and transformed all my wailing into a whirling dance of ecstatic praise. He has torn the veil and lifted from me the sad heaviness of mourning. He wrapped me in the glory garments of gladness.”

Me: “Lord, what a beautiful picture of Your goodness. Thank You. Our house has been so downcast lately. Measures we had put in place to protect our house from a brutal winter and storms were no match for what was greater than we could imagine. Our tower bent under the power of the storm. The ice spikes we installed on the roof are hanging in an ice sheet ready to fall to the ground.

“We had to move our car because anything under that will be destroyed when it falls. A shelf of heavy ice fell and took off a lot of a beautiful tree we have in the yard. I am praying that the next sheet to fall won’t cause more damage. Lord, while we take earthly precautions, it seems never to be enough on this fallen planet.”

Jesus: “Erin, no plans of man can stand against the storms of God.”

Me: “This has been quite humbling.”

Jesus: “There are times when you do everything I call you to do and you still have troubles. Why?”

Me: “I do not know.”

Jesus: “This is to show you that, ultimately, you must place your full trust in Me. Your life is in My hands. Don’t run from Me as I will still hold you close.”

Me: “Am I running from You, Lord?”

Jesus: “You are disheartened and discouraged as you see the troubles that have come are soon to come in greater measure and are here now. You think to yourself, ‘I did everything the Lord asked of me to prepare for storms, but I came up short. My best efforts were no match for what came.’

“Erin, this was allowed so you understand that events coming are out of your control. As such, you must press into Me. The first instinct of man is to take matters into their own hands. However, what if you have only to rely on Me because you have no options other than God?"

Me: Crying. "Oh Lord, this is what You are warning me of... the troubles coming."

Jesus: "Do not cry, Erin. You must give Me all your worries and fears. I am with you. You will need to trust Me in all things and I will never leave you. I am with you. Now, this has come to pass... that before you call, I will and do answer you and, while you are yet speaking, I hear you (Isaiah 65:24). Now, do not be afraid. In all things pray."

Me: "Lord, what did my second dream mean?"

Jesus: "In this dream, the house you dwell in is My Church. While it is sprawling, it is in disrepair. The workers remodeling it are not opening the house up to receive more. They have divided My house and the people no longer congregate to worship and praise God. The people are then weakened by division.

"You are part of a New Church, one that is being remodeled by Me. This is good. Do not worry. My Church will be as one under God and united in My Spirit. Great will be its glory. The former way shall pass. Walls will be removed and hearts will be stirred.

"Now, the animals outside...

- The Black Bear: Russia is represented by the Black Bear. The Black Bear has been sleeping, but is awakened when it comes closer to the House of God. I then feed it. The Black Bear is viewed as a threat.
- The Panda Bear: China is represented by the cute Panda Bear. However, the Panda Bear is actually vicious. It follows the Black Bear and uses this as a shield. However, the Panda Bear longs for the Black Bear to die so that it can conquer its territory. Although you are told the Panda Bear is cute, it is vicious when threatened.
- The Polar Bear Cub: Canada is represented by the Polar Bear cub. The small young white Polar Bear is sleepy. Since it has no fear of anything, it becomes the bridge in which the two nations cross to get to the Bald Eagle, signifying war.
- The Bald Eagle: The USA is represented by the Bald Eagle.

"Right now, the world is waking up from its slumber. They now realize that the virus originated from China. People are calling for various actions against the country. As a result, China is beginning to ready itself against these attacks. They will come from the north. Do not worry though as I know the plans of all of your enemies.”

Me: “Lord, when will this be?”

Jesus: “You are alert to this as war nears. Now, why do I allow these things? It is because the generations have been lulled to sleep and none know Me. However, they are soon to be awakened.”

Me: “Lord, I have so many things to say. However, I must give this all to You. The sleeping need to wake up. Your plans are perfect. We can do all we can, but the rest is up to You. Lord, You are the King of Revival. This is Your Church. Do whatever it takes, Lord!”

Jesus: “Trust Me in all things and pray. Prepare as you are able in wisdom. However, place all things in My hands to defend, multiply, shelter, feed and provide for you, your house, your family, your friends and their houses. In all things, I am with you. I love you.”

Dream over.

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for a brand-new morning! Thank You for fresh snow. Thank You for a peaceful house. Thank You for allowing me the privilege of seeing the fruits of my labor through my children. Although they aren't perfect (as not one of us is), I am thankful. They ask me the tough questions about You, Father. I am not certain I always answer perfectly, especially when they battle the things of this world.

Finding authentic people in this world today is very difficult and increasingly so. While at the grocery store yesterday, I tried to interact with a baby boy around six months old. It was then that I noticed a look on his face that I have only seen one other time a few years ago. His eyes were dead. His spirit seemed dead. I waved bye to the baby and he just stared without any reaction. When I walked away, I heard You speak on this...

Voice of the Lord: "My Spirit is not fully with this one and this is for My divine purpose. If all remained as things are today in the world, he would later have a hard time choosing Me as he advanced in age."

Oh Father, I thought all babies were still connected to You. Why not this one fully? Things are going to become very difficult and soon. I try everyday to keep joy on my heart. I try to keep busy as this keeps my mind off of the troubles encircling us. We must trust You in all we do. Father, You are our firm foundation. To rely on the world is to rely on shifting sand. The world lies that the sand is solid when we know it is not.

One of my favorite songs right now is Jeremy Camp's 'Anxious Heart'. One of the lyrics tells us 'You're the calm for my anxious heart.' Father, I love You so much. Sorry for any fear, anxiety or sadness I have as I know they are tools of the enemy. The enemy wants to move me from a firm foundation of You to a shaking uncertain foundation of the shifting sand of the enemy.

We face a lot of troubles in this life. Things unexpected often come after us when You give us great news and blessings. It seems the enemy is always trying to remove our hard-fought gains. I then heard You speak again...

Voice of the Lord: "Give Me back the control and do not credit the adversary. Think of it instead like this... one of your children is traveling out of town on a journey. What do you do? You help him to prepare in advance taking into account various possible difficulties. You make sure they have emergency numbers, adequate provisions and a safe vehicle. With you, you provide a charged battery pack. When a storm then comes, your provision to them allows for a hotel in advance.

"They can then even get a quick battery charge thanks to your provision. They also have the security of knowing help is near. You then ask... 'God, why did You send trouble upon my traveling child?' My Father then responds... 'In this life, you will have troubles' (John 16:33). However, even through these, I am with you and I will provide all you need in advance to prepare you. When you look back, you will notice that I have always prepared you in advance of trouble."

Me: "Yes, Lord, You have always done this. It is only the times when I have dismissed Your Holy Spirit reminding me to bring chains for the mountain passes or to check my oil and tires. Troubles come when I say... 'Hey, all will be fine.' I then dismiss Your wisdom, bringing great troubles on myself. My troubles are lesser now as I pray often to Your Holy Spirit first. There is so much I could have avoided by giving it all to You!"

In summary, all You wanted me to do is recognize You as my Provider in all things and to trust in Your Words. I needed to heed Your warnings. Even when these warnings are small or seemingly silly, I clearly need to take these seriously. Well, Lord, I need Your help. I am not doing well in these battles. I am struggling and I shouldn't be. There is an urgency You have placed on my heart that cannot be ignored.

My dreams reflect this and I am scared. Oh Father, I am so ready for the Great Harvest, the Great Revival, the Gift of Your Glory. You have shown me what it feels like when I face an overwhelming task. I then become a farmer, but a farmer without any knowledge of how to farm. I am then given a field that has never been worked. I see that it needs to be tilled up and stumps of dead wood removed.

Weeds and rocks also would have to be removed. Once done, only the soil remains. Preparing the soil once all obstructions and inclusions have been removed can then begin. Soil needs to be fertilized. You remind me that the world is like an unfarmed field. I then felt the expression, 'The Back Forty', come to mind. The following is what is meant by 'The Back Forty'...

"The meaning of THE BACK FORTY is a remote and uncultivated or undeveloped piece of land of indefinite size (as on a farm)."

Dear Father,

Thank You, as always, for another day! I thank You for Your great love. You take our mundane days and turn them all for Your purpose, even when we have nothing in them of any significance. Lord, You are my treasure and I am so very thankful for You in all things. The theme in my dream last night was 'Breakfast at Tiffany's'...

Sub-Dream 1 "Breakfast at Tiffany's" begins...

I was with my daughter and we had heard that there was an amazing breakfast place in the city. We were in the East Bay area of California. The restaurant was named 'Breakfast at Tiffany's'. It opened at 2:00am and served breakfast until 11:00am. While I was now young in body, similar to college age, I was still old in my knowledge.

Tiffany's was attached to a local nightclub. However, the nightclub had closed at 1:00am. This meant there were no party customers at this breakfast place. This small restaurant was perhaps twelve tabletops. It was full with the exception of one table. We decided to put our coats down at this empty table. My daughter was talking with someone who recognized her. However, I was not sure how she knew them.

I then decided to get up to search for a restroom to wash my hands. Attached to the restaurant and the nightclub was an open one stall restroom. It was so disgusting. It was overflowing with waste. There was not one clean place to even stand. I walked out and went up to the owner of the nightclub...

Me: "Excuse me, but is there another restroom nearby?"

Owner: "While I am sorry, the entire city uses that one toilet. The drunks and the drug users then come. None of us enter it now. The city removed the doors so we could no longer close it off."

Me: "Are there no other restrooms?"

Owner: "The city decided that all toilets are bad. They removed all of them except for just a few, including this one. They no longer handle wastewater."

Me: "Oh, that is so gross!"

Owner: "We all still sanitize ourselves. We also make sure the restaurant is still clean."

I looked around and saw that the workers were busy cleaning up the club to close for the night. I turned to the restroom as I knew people were becoming ill because of the waste. I prayed that the restroom would become a perfect commercial restroom and God immediately granted my prayer. I asked God to make it white from floor to ceiling. The men's side had six stalls and six urinals and the women's side had twelve stalls.

I asked that everything would be motion activated. This meant there would be no need for anyone to touch anything. I went further with my prayers that the moment anyone stepped into the bathroom that they would be instantly sterilized. There was more though... dirty would become clean, drunk would become sober and drug addicts would be freed. I prayed that it be a place of miracles.

I looked in awe as God granted my every wish. The restroom was now high tech and immaculate. As I was walking away, I saw the owner walk into the restroom. I heard him scream and call out to find me.

Owner: "What happened? This is awesome!"

Me: "I didn't do anything. God stepped in. You will never need to clean it again either."

Owner: Crying. "It has been so dirty and disgusting for so long. We could do nothing to keep up with the cleanings required. We gave up. I couldn't, in good conscience, have someone on my payroll clean that restroom when I couldn't. I couldn't have anyone else do this. The city would not allow me to tear this down."

Me: Realizing he was a good owner. "Well, it is all God's Perfect Will. While I came for Breakfast at Tiffany's, I am glad I went to wash my hands. Otherwise, this wouldn't have happened."

Owner: "You and your daughter's breakfast tab is on us."

Me: "Thank you."

Owner: "What is your name?"

Me: "My name is unimportant. Only the name of Jesus matters."

Owner: "Well, praise Jesus! As for you, I will call you Tiffany."

Me: "Works for me. Now bring on the food as I am hungry."

The owner signaled to the workers to get us whatever we wanted to eat as we walked back into Tiffany's together. I then noticed that our table was now taken. In our place was an evil looking lady eating an extremely large pancake. I prayed to the Lord and there was a beautifully set table immediately there. The smug people who all wanted us not to have a seat were then forced to watch us sit at this amazing table.

Daughter: "Well, mom, you have certainly been busy this morning."

Me: "Yes. There was a bath remodel needed. You should see it. It is state of the art."

Daughter: Laughing. "Why go to any of these bathrooms. They are all gross now."

Me: "Well, this one won't be able to be dirtied at all. The city will need to bomb it to remove the cleanliness. Even if they did, God would probably leave it as the only structure to remain standing in the entire area."

We prayed and then ordered our food. What then came was clearly from Heaven as I have never seen such perfect food on Earth. The surrounding patrons seemed so jealous over what we were being served that we prayed and their food instantly turned into the same quality as ours. The mood then lightened up and everyone was laughing and having such a fun time.

Just then, the workers from the nightclub came in. They were still so happy. They brought us some fancy drinks. The Lord secretly removed the alcohol. This meant we could drink without becoming foolish. It also meant we would not insult our hosts. It was an amazing Pina Colada.

Owner: "This is the rarest of rare alcohols and is special for you."

Me: "Thank you!"

Daughter: Whispering to me. "Just like God removed the alcohol from these drinks, we now need Him to remove the calories from this food." We both laughed.

Me: "No, He doesn't need to. Remember, this is Heavenly food, not earthly food... on Earth as it is in Heaven."

When we were finally done eating, we tried to pay for our meal. They would not take our money. They instead gave us some tiny princess tiaras to remind us that we experienced Breakfast at Tiffany's. My daughter and I then felt God well up into us to do more for the patrons sitting around us.

Me: "Is anyone here interested in being a princess for eternity? Will any of you accept healing and the gift of the Crown of Life from your Savior, Jesus?"

Everyone turned to accept Jesus. The first was the owner of the nightclub. Next were his workers, then the customers and then the workers at the restaurant. We celebrated with them. There was soon a long lineup for breakfast. When we walked outside, it was just a little past 3:00am. While the city was dark, we still had much to do.

Me: To my daughter. "Let's ask the Lord to bring all of the restrooms back to the people." We both laughed.

Daughter: "Yes! There will be a great celebration!"

We prayed together and, by dawn, we heard cheering as people woke up to running water and toilets in their homes.

Sub-Dream 1 over..

Father, in my dream, all of the people there were there because, from a worldly perspective, they could dance, have a place to drink and have a place to forget. They had dirty conditions and open waste. Despite this, they still had a measure of hope. They also came for food. The elderly were there early to dine. Perhaps they couldn't sleep. Perhaps this was one consistent activity they had. I don't know.

Now, about the movie, 'Breakfast at Tiffany's'. This was about a 19-year-old girl who was an escort for older rich men. Her hope was to marry just one rich man so she could be wealthy enough to wear a diamond tiara. The young male in the story was a writer and he had to be with an older wealthy woman to have his works published.

In essence, it was really a story of young beautiful and talented people who were willing to sell and compromise themselves for wealth and fame. They were hoping to receive recognition and a 'Crown' from the world. Oh Father, the world has fallen so far. Crowns here are now made of cheap plastic. They signify nothing and they make no promises. Toilets here on Earth are often called thrones.

Father, You take prostitutes like Rahab, a Gentile, and made her an ancestor of Jesus (the Tribe of Judah). You gave her life such purpose. This was a true miracle. The world has no idea what a treasure You are. You have prepared a place of perfection for us in Heaven. While many have tried to duplicate Heaven here on Earth, it can only have small pieces of it (examples include hummingbirds, peacocks and flowers).

Father, if only people knew. If they could only see the wonders of You and what You have done for us. You have an untold number of crowns to hand out to anyone who will take them. They are free and authentic. They are made of gold with diamonds and jewels. Each one tells of our journey here. The things of this world do not satisfy. There is always something to strive for.

Even so, the cost is great and, often, the value is lost once you receive it. However, Heaven offers an infinity of treasures. This is a priceless gift of such great worth. Lord, the value You have brought to my life is immeasurable. It is a gift beyond my abilities to earn. It is a Priceless Crown. The only thing that truly matters are the lost souls that still need to be woken up to God's Treasure, His Son Jesus!

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "Erin, I am here and I am with you. I warned you that this part of your journey would be a difficult one. Through My Word, My Promises, My provision and My dreams and visions to you, but especially My Voice in you, I brought you all these weapons in advance of the coming battles. You see them coming.

"God's timeline and yours are beginning to be in these days. As you feel in your heart, in your Spirit, Me in you, that something great is coming soon. Remember that God moves at the appointed time. You feel this moment is soon to come."

Me: "Lord, in everything, nothing satisfies. I trust very little. The world doesn't feed me. It instead brings me heartburn. As for You, Lord, You nourish my soul. My house is in order because of You. Even so, I have been in repentance over several things. I am trying to be better.

"It is hard to find joy here. It is really tough. The enemy continues to hammer Your people. I am asking that You not let it become bad like so many of my dreams. I see the enemy circling the coasts of North America. Warnings on this are not even going out to the people. So many will be caught completely unaware. This is truly scary!"

Jesus: "The leaders have shopped at Tiffany's and taken the spoils from the people. Foreigners have invaded the government and the enemy has taken control. It is just a matter of time as the foundations are crumbling in advance. You see the fractures in the stones. What was written of things to come are now here.

“What is good is evil and what is evil is good. Lies are replacing truth. Confusion and chaos have replaced law and order. Evil is on the loose and good is soon to be imprisoned. You are seeing the transition between the 9th and 10th kings. You are seeing the foundations being laid for what is coming upon the Earth.”

Me: “How will any Christian worship as there are many imprisoned even for silent prayers?”

Jesus: “The kingdom of the chief liar is here. In the background is the 10th. Now, the age of the Gentile is coming to its conclusion. However, this doesn’t mean I have turned My back on My Bride, My Chosen, and those who are harvested.”

Me: “Lord, I had a vivid dream...”

Sub-Dream 2 “USA Attacked from the Sea” begins...

Something came from the sea. However, it was above the water. Each one (there were ten) had two launchers that resembled horns. These targeted the USA. Some major cities were in complete upheaval. Militia groups formed regionally because all communication was out. The major bases were wiped out. We had very few resources because these had already been shipped overseas.

What was left of the government had to rely on Canada and distant countries for support. All were terrified. The worst in people occurred as if all the demonic activity had multiplied. Shelves at stores were wiped out. Guns were going off all over the place. Local curfews were issued. People were told to shelter in place. Some areas were told to boil water if power was available.

Recruiters went door to door to arm the people for ground invasions and to prepare for the worst. Some killed themselves out of the fear of what was coming. People were scared. The world then watched in horror as the television screens flashed, ‘The USA has FALLEN! The Mighty Leader of the Free World is NO MORE!’ Several groups claimed responsibility. Fully armed drug lords from the south came through the borders to take the land.

However, one major leader, who was really only a spokesman, said that any drug lords would be killed. There was no place to go that was safe. I saw a resort. The blasts from the rockets were so powerful that it sent massive trees horizontal into buildings like pile drivers. I saw a massive resort pool lit half in brown and the other half lit in green. The pool had interesting landscaping. It had a beautiful layout, almost like a massive four-leaf clover.

Sub-Dream 2 over..

Me: "Oh Lord, please tell me revival won't be in the middle of this destruction. This would be horrifying. You can change this. You are God."

Jesus: "I don't want you to worry here. Remember that God has given over the nations who turned their backs on Him to worship other gods. This has always caused whole countries, including Israel, to fall. Babylon fell. Nothing is saved from God's wrath. However, I hear the cries of My people and I am quick to rescue them.

"The United States have weak leaders. They have turned away from My Commandments and Laws and have forced My people to obey them. However, I have seen the corruption of the wicked against the innocence as evil has risen with great speed.

"I am angry with these wicked rulers and their unfair laws as the people did not vote for them. They rose by another means. My people will now turn back to God and rise up to heal the land. However, if they do nothing, I will then allow the punishment to fall upon the nation."

Me: "Lord, how do people learn about the wicked and stand against those more powerful than they? Look was Hitler and the Nazis did. This is the same spirit with just a few adjustments."

Jesus: "The enemy must announce his motives prior to his actions. This is a rule he was given in 2012. This way the people are always clear about the enemy's plans. Sometimes the enemy makes this announcement by trying to make it seem they made it in jest. It is still an announcement though.

"To those with wisdom, they know their jesting was more serious than anyone knew. They have told you what their plans are. They have made known their intentions. They should be taken at their words on certain statements...

- They told you they favor one skin color over another and those with your skin color are low class.
- They told you men can be women and women can be men, but their true goal is to remove women, motherhood and procreation.
- They want the death of your babies and to mutilate your children as a sacrifice to their gods.
- They have declared a war on Christmas, Easter and all religious Christian events, churches and observances.
- They have branded the Word of God as hate, the Bible as offensive and even silent prayer as forbidden.

- They have called for anyone who dissents against their new system as a criminal worthy of being locked up or killed.
- They have disarmed law abiding citizens and emboldened criminals by allowing them to have guns.
- They have brought in drugs and medications that kill the healthy.
- They have called for the removal of all that God said is permissible to eat, including meat, dairy and poultry, in exchange for vegetables and insects.
- They have called the marriage between a man and woman to be bad and encouraged same sex marriage.
- They have given foreigners great favor and rights above their citizens who were born there.
- They have turned youth against their parents at schools and then turned parents against their children. They are called to report the activities of their parents. The children are therefore weaponized.

Me: "One leader, a former President of the USA, called for a 'Red Wedding' (in the style of the Game of Thrones) against his opponents. This means total annihilation."

Jesus: "This leader is still active in his pursuit of this. The false religion is now against the people. There are two large religious cults now..."

- The first is 'Climate Change'.
- The second is 'Pandemic Lockdowns'.

"Both are false religions. The kings who have no country will rise from these. They are given great power. Some are known. Others are soon to rise. These are very serious as they strike out against all that God has said is good.

"The goal is to reduce the population. Well, I am God over them and I will reduce the population by My own hands by removing My Bride to the place I have prepared for her in Heaven. They will then wish themselves in this number. Erin, believe this.

"Now, I have told you this so you will pray for the lost. I have a plan. There is a Great Plan of God, My Father in Heaven, and He holds the time! Now rejoice as you are in a good number and I am with you. You are Erin, not Tiffany, and you are greatly loved."

Dream over.

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day! Thank You for all You do. Thank You for Your Voice, Your dreams and Your visions. You instruct me in my sleeping hours and in my daylight hours. Father, I praise You in all things. Father, I am deeply disturbed by my dream last night. In contrast, I have mundane routines during the day. I converse with my husband, children and people I meet daily.

However, I don't really study prophecy or set dates. Perhaps I should, but You have never called me to do this. You have instead had my thoughts and prayers fixed on You. When I awoke this morning, I cried at the dream I had. I then wept as I moved about. Our generation has not seen war on our soil. Most fighters have only fought in foreign lands.

The only ones who haven't are police officers, firefighters and medical workers fighting against criminal acts, fires and death. They face these things every day. Still, what about war now being possible on our own soil? Yes, this is hard to imagine, but can it happen? The enemies of God (and His children) are in great number here. He is busy and very productive. He is demoralizing humans. He is abasing the fighting men.

He is emboldening those who are addicts, criminals and killers as weapons to strike out against the population. Since the enemy controls the news, much is ignored as conspiracy. Truth is portrayed as lies. Even actual video footage is called 'cleverly edited' or 'taken out of context'. Politicians who are supposed to work for the people no longer do so. They work for the enemy instead.

These politicians are being paid to turn away from the will of the people. They even manipulate voters' outcomes. There is no longer a need for justice as she has no blindfold on. She needs no balance scales as it is one way now... the way of corruption against the people. It has taken only ten years for the acceleration of the rise of evil against God and His Church. All that is good is being ripped apart.

There is a great dividing line now with even many Christians turning away. They feel the world is now the 'winning side'. There are a lot of really poor people right now, but increasingly for young men. Go to the pawn shops and see what is happening. When I was desperate during my legal battles against a very wealthy enemy with unlimited means, I found myself at the pawn shop often.

This was in the years 2006 to 2009. I went there back and forth. I took loans on goods I had so I could keep the electricity on and gas in my car. It was difficult. During this time was also the housing crisis. In Bend OR, there were a lot of people who had money that were now facing foreclosures. These pawn shops therefore had high-end items. It was a measure and a sign of the times.

There is a place I occasionally visit in Houlton ME. They receive estates. As a result, they have beautiful antiques. It is fun to go in and see what they have. However, it has recently become hard to go in there. The owners tell me the heartbreaking stories and how they have been unable to carry so many people coming in now. They have had to partially consign some very high-end pieces. For safety reasons, many items must be kept off site.

One young man had worked hard and saved for many years to purchase a diamond ring for his girlfriend of several years. He purchased it in Portland ME at a very high-end jewelry store. This is where his girl had seen the ring many years ago. He worked in the lumber industry, as well as in sewage and septic pumping. This was tough work. Finally at age 24, he had purchased the ring for his girl. No returns allowed.

She then said she was in love with someone else, someone who had a better life planned for her. He had no idea at all that she had been seeing someone else. He kept the ring in hopes she would change her mind. Times then became tough during the lockdowns. His company required a very long commute. Since he owned a large diesel truck, he could no longer afford to go back and forth.

He finally got so desperate, he brought in the diamond engagement ring to the pawn shop. The owners were fair and gave him a good price for it. When I visited them last about six months ago, they had an entire case of these types of valuables. The owner knew many of the heartbreaking stories accompanying these pieces.

When we drove through town yesterday, a sign at this shop now read 'Not Taking Items'. This really meant 'I can't buy what you have'. I am so thankful my troubles did not come at a time like this or I would have had no options. People go to pawn shops when they are desperate. It is humiliating. I say this from experience.

I was in a grocery store yesterday and was approached by a man and his son. His son was about 17 years old. They both looked like they could use a warm shower. The father soon turned to me and asked me what jams do not need refrigerating after being opened. I told him about the Goober brand (a combination of peanut butter and jam). The man and his son seemed so appreciative. I spoke to the Lord.

Me: "Lord, can I offer to help them out?"

Jesus: "That would demoralize them. They asked you a tough question. That is all they could do, so pray and I will step in."

I then prayed for them right then and there. I then looked around. Stores are usually busy on Fridays and Saturdays, but it was a bit quiet for a change. I noticed that the cost of baked goods had risen considerably since the last time I checked. It is becoming so difficult for so many. Oh Father, please help us. I had a dream...

Sub-Dream 1 "The Hour is Late: A Comedy" begins...

I was in my grandparents' home (in my current non-Transformed condition). They had passed away many years ago. The layout of the home was the same as in Reno NV. I was there visiting relatives. It was a clear night and my brother and his wife had an event to attend at one of the casinos in town. I stayed behind at the house. I had turned in for bed. The ceiling overhead was glass.

There was still some snow, but green grass was also now showing outside. I knew this time in Nevada to be late winter to early spring. As I lay there looking up at the stars on a crystal-clear night, I suddenly saw the stars moving right before my eyes. The stars were being overshadowed by fighter jets. I could barely see them. While there were no lights, I could somehow see hundreds of planes.

As I watched in horror, I saw the outer lines disperse in opposite directions. Sick to my stomach, I quickly dressed and went outside. You could hear the planes, but they were difficult to see. I tried to knock on doors to warn people, but many had already gone to the event. I decided I should warn my brother and his wife. I ran to where they were. The sign on the marquee read 'The Hour is Late: A Comedy'. I could hear laughter coming out from inside the building.

Flyers then began to fall from the sky. There were thousands of these flyers. The flyer read 'The Hour is Late: Save Yourself'. I ran back to the house. While I could still hear the planes, I could not see them. When I arrived at the house, I placed my dogs in a crate. Just then, the entire power grid was knocked out. I could see explosions in the distance. War had arrived or at least the bombs had.

Sub-Dream 1 over..

Please, Lord, this dream was so real. Please rise up before this happens and send miracles. Please, Father! I fell back to sleep.

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

I woke up in a Heavenly place. I was standing in a barley field as far as my eyes could see. This was a massive field. The sky was blue. While the barley was still somewhat green, it was quickly turning into a rich golden color. I heard the Lord singing.

Me: "Lord? Lord, where are You?"

I turned behind me and the sun was rising. I could then see the Son of God rising with the sun. I ran to Him. I saw His arms outstretched to receive me. Tears streamed down my cheeks. I ran into His arms and wept.

Me: "Oh Lord, I missed You so much! While I love hearing Your Voice, to have You hold me means so much to me. I am scared right now as it seems war is almost here."

Jesus: "I am here. I am here. Do not worry. I am here. The Barley is almost ripe."

Me: "Lord, I am ready. I am sick to my stomach. My Spirit is at war with the evil things of this world. I am ready. Well, I pray You find me ready for whatever is to soon come."

Jesus: "Come look here. See this sheaf of barley. Let us inspect it to see if it is ready. The grain is still closed right now. Not only that, but the ears are not out yet."

Me: "You are a mystery, Lord. I know nothing about barley."

Jesus: "Study this. It is written, 'The flax and barley were ruined for the barley was in the ear and the flax in bud; but the wheat and the spelt were not ruined for they ripen late (Exodus 9:31-32).'"

Me: "Lord, is this a matter of timing on God's calendar? If You are too early to come, then these are ruined. Others can still be fine though. I read that the Barley ripens and ears out just before Passover. However, I also understand that the wheat is not yet ripe at Passover."

Jesus: "Yes. However, what am I speaking of? If barley and flax are harvested at the same time, then what is flax used for?"

Me: "Linen. It was used for the priestly garments. Oh Lord, I remember Scriptures (Revelation 19:7-8 The Passion Version)... 'Let us rejoice and exalt Him and give Him glory, because the wedding celebration of the lamb has come. And His Bride has made herself ready. Fine linen, shining bright and clear, has been given to her to wear, and the fine linen represents the righteous deeds of His Holy Believers.' Lord, are You speaking in terms of this year? Please, Lord! The enemy is destroying the world!"

Jesus: "Calm down, Erin, calm down! Remember... who is in full control ALL of the time? Me! I see all that the enemy does. I see all that is hidden from your ears... even though your ears are out..." He smiled and gave a light-hearted chuckle. "...unlike this barley sheaf. Now, I want you to understand who exactly you are. You are here with Me and you are a first fruit of offering. Erin, you are an overcomer.

"Now, this is the beginning of the Harvest Seasons... here with the Barley. Because you did not grow up with this knowledge, much of this you do not understand... at least for right now. I am not requiring you to understand the meaning of the Barley Harvest. Erin, you do not understand all of this. However, you know what it is like to owe a great debt you cannot repay.

"The nations have lost their inheritance and have become slaves to the adversary. They are unable to buy themselves out of the slavery the enemy has placed them in. See, it is only I who can set My people free and restore them, granting them back what was taken, including their land. There is soon to be a Great Restoration. Now, I want you to breakdown My Words through the prophet Isaiah and understand what I am about to do."

Me: "Lord, You are speaking of Isaiah 61, right?"

Jesus: "This is why I have said and placed this Heavenly Scripture upon your heart. You are all to repent and turn to Me so your sins are erased. A great time of refreshing will come from My presence. I have remained in Heaven until this time for restoration of all things. I will come at the proper moment to harvest My Barley. As you see..." He turned to draw my attention to the field. "...harvesting Barley on time is required as it is sensitive to any delay of the Harvest.

"Harvest delay can cause Barley to lose its head, thereby reducing its yield. However, since I am the Harvester of the Barley, angels of Heaven will assist Me. It will all be perfect, understand? You are now saying... 'Has the Lord forgotten me? Where are the harvesters?' Well, Erin, do not worry, as you are Mine. I am the Manager of My Father's field. I am Manager over His entire operation. All will be perfect. Not one of you will be forgotten as you are all already Mine. Comfort our Nest with these Words."

Me: Crying. "Oh Lord, I love You so much. You are amazing in all of Your works. Bless You on Your Harvest. May Your first fruits be perfect as you are perfect. All You touch is perfect. The fruits of Your labor shall be multiplied and blessed before God! I pray this in Your Mighty Name, AMEN!"

Jesus: Smiling. "I will receive your blessings, Erin. This is good. Now, can you trust Me to finish a good work here?"

Me: "Yes, Lord."

Jesus: "Now, what did I tell you this morning?"

Me: "The snow and ice on our roof was pulling down the snow rail we had installed for safety. However, it has been threatening to come down all week. We even moved my younger son's car away from it. We have worried about someone getting hurt when it falls. This morning, I went outside in the rain and looked up at it. You then welled up in me."

Jesus: "Yes. I told you that you had the power to remove the threat so you would no longer be burdened by imaginary possibilities. This threat was burdensome. I called upon you to use a pole and bring it down so it would not harm you. You did as I had told you."

Me: "It came down easily and the threat was over."

Jesus: "You quit giving it power by removing it when I told you. It was clear."

Me: Laughing. "Thank You, Lord. The looming threat was ongoing. In just seconds, it was over."

Jesus: "This is good news. Remember that the threat was removed quickly. Erin, you are to remember this. Now rejoice, Erin. What you have been anticipating is here. I am here with you and this field is almost ready. Rejoice. I love you."

Me: Hugging Him. "I love You too!"

Dear Father,

I love You! I am thankful for You. You are my Best Friend and my Encourager. The nations are now at war, but a new kind of war. There is nothing that can stop the evil that is coming... except for You... ONLY You! Our leaders have sold out the nations.

Father, please well up in Your people. Give us strength to fight this for Your Glory. Lord, please rise up Your Bride into Your Army. We can hardly wait to be in Your Number!

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "Erin, I am here and I am with you. My Spirit is within you and I will not let you fall. Do you see all that has unfolded and is unfolding? Is this not greater than you could even conceive ten years ago?"

Me: "Oh yes, Lord, thank You for guiding us!"

Jesus: "Now, let's speak about the sun and the moon, Moses and Joshua. I am the Son (sun) and you are like the moon. In Jewish tradition, Moses was like the sun and Joshua was like the moon. In the times that we are in now, I am the sun and My Bride is the moon. I am going to give you a few significant patterns here. Do you have your pen handy, Erin?" He laughed.

Me: Laughing. "Lord, You are funny!"

Jesus: "As events unfold, it is extremely important that all rely solely on Me as the Voice of Truth. Since vengeance is Mine, I must go before you. The month of Adar and Nisan are very important months. My Bride is like Joshua and your various situations are like Jericho. I will deliver Jericho's spoils to My 'modern-day Joshuas'. Many will find this particular period of time more interesting than any other period of time.

"Now, Adar is like a month of labor. With labor, you already know that the pain lasts but minutes, but that it then gives birth to something new. Adar is a time of the enemy's labor. He plots, plans and schemes. The enemy means to use this to then give birth to a new beginning of slavery and affliction. However, all of his planning will be in vain as I am the God Who births new beginnings, not the enemy.

"Think of this when you gave birth... you were literally split and stretched in order to give birth to something much larger than one would think you could physically be able to give birth to. Even your bones were separated to make way for new life. When Moses parted the Red Sea, the slaves, God's chosen, were then able to pass through and give birth to a new life apart from slavery.

"Pregnancy is somewhat like this as well. For nine months, you are a slave with great uncertainty. However, there is also great anticipation for what is to come and even as to what this new thing, or person in this case, will even look like. The other analogy is that of the Ark being carried across the separated waters. This (great anticipation of the people) happened first at the Red Sea and again at the Jordan.

"The month of Adar is like this. You are standing on a vantage point of the desert. On this vista, there is a great separation and a massive ravine. It is a deep and wide river flowing through the land. Across this river is a beautiful land, the Promised Land. All of those that I have called can see it from this vantage place. On their own and apart from Me, the task is impossible.

"However, with Me going before them, preparing the way and doing things in a way that is not expected, all is possible again. When it comes to men on their own, think of this as their boats circling around the back or simply staying where they are. However, when it comes to Me, I part obstacles and divide them. I will create a dry clear course for you to pass through.

"The slaves could have all stayed where they were, gazing longingly at a distant shore with only dreams. Erin, you must realize that I take dreams and turn them into reality. I will part the waters and allow you to cross. Like with Joshua and those who followed him, I created the impossible...Jericho. This is the month of delivery from your slavery, your oppression. You must remain calm. You must not say anything to your enemies.

"As for the month of Nisan, there have been many significant days in the past. Some of these dates are analogous to Jericho's fall and after the walls fell. Joshua's name had already been heard across the land and the people in the City of Jericho were terrified of the Israelites. Nisan is the month of miracles. The walls of the City fell just like your evil enemies soon will. The captives will then be set free.

“Erin, you are already free and My promises for you are even greater than what you can see with your eyes. I will turn the curses of your enemies back on to them. All that I have promised, and even more, is about to be delivered to you. However, no one should forget that I have given all of this to you. You will not even believe all that I have planned for all of you even if you were told.”

Me: “Thank You, Lord! This information on Adar and Nisan is so insightful.”

Jesus: “You’re welcome. Now, tell Me about the dream you had last night.”

Me: “Yes, Lord. It was so strange.”

Sub-Dream 1 “Sinning without a care” begins...

In this dream, I kept sinning in my daily walk. I did stupid things that truly made no sense because I don’t do this in reality. I especially sinned with careless, silly words coming out of my mouth. Lies came out so easily. There were many other sins I was doing without even the tiniest care of what Jesus thought.

Suddenly, all of my actions, great and small, played on a screen like a television. I was in shock at this. I was guilty of things that I would normally never do. I then tried to remember all my sins, but I was having difficulty remembering. I then heard the sound of a door closing.

Sub-Dream 1 over...

Jesus: “It wasn’t you in the dream. However, do you believe I remember your sins no more because you are forgiven?”

Me: “Lord, You are so gracious and merciful. However, my question is this... You are not a God who forgets. You remember our history as You are there with us. You love it when we renounce and break the hold of our sin. We are then no longer chained. While I am not sinless, I still try hard to be more and more like You.”

Jesus: “You are not condemned because you are My lamb. Your name is written in the Lamb’s Book of Life. Your works are there. You are rewarded according to what is written. However, because you have given your life to Me, I then no longer hold you in account for the sins you have confessed to Me. Do you understand? You are Mine. The minute you go outside of My Will, My direction, it is the sin you are speaking of.

"You then stop, drop and roll. You turn from the wrong direction and correct your way, committing your way back to Me. Keep it simple. Complexity brings confusion. It is simple. Listen for Me. I am here. I call out to you. Hear Me. Be with Me in the simple things. In your dream, the sins were so far from you that you couldn't remember them. This is how it will be. As for the lost, they will want to confess their many sins to you.

"It will be difficult not to want to hold their sins against them. However, you will be unable to remember them because this is between God and the sinner, not you. You are a Vessel. You understand sin because the enemy presents opportunities to place a chink in your armor and eventually render you useless. However, to be in My number, you are together as one body under God.

"One flock strong, a fold, an army unlike anything the world has ever seen, an army with unlimited weapons never seen by man, only imagined. Now, I realize this dream you had was bothersome. You wondered if you have been sinning or will fall to sin. However, this is not true. This dream is to remember what it is like to live a life of sin without fear of God and to now live a life in fear of sinning against God. You are placing God's Will over your own will. The world is now sinning freely with no fear of God.

"This is now a place where people care only about themselves, their fame, their truth, their identity and even by denying their birth rite. Yes, this is a world where very few still look for Me. They heard of Me as curses on their lips only. They think I am no body. The gods of this world are their idols. Erin, there is great hatred for the things of God and Heaven. Most don't know Me, yet they speak with authority about things they have no knowledge of."

Me: "Lord, my husband and I saw the Jesus Revolution movie. We saw some people we knew exit the Shazam movie. I struck up a conversation with their 10-year-old daughter about her cute dog she brings to her dad's gas station. She then asked what movie we were seeing and I told her. She seemed very upset. Lord, what is so upsetting to this young girl?"

Jesus: "You are just asking this question now?" He laughed. "Erin, what does your name mean?"

Me: "You told me it means 'peace'. This is funny as I don't have much peace."

Jesus: "Okay, who am I?"

Me: "You are the Prince of Peace."

Jesus: "Yes, I am. However, I didn't come to bring peace as My very presence invokes anger. So too do you. You have people in your life that hate you for no reason other than because of Me. This is the way of the world... until it's not. This is what I said... if you love Me, keep My commands. And I will ask the Father and He will give you another advocate to help you and be with you forever... the Spirit of Truth.

"The world cannot accept Me. This is because it neither sees Me nor knows Me. However, you know Me for I live with you and will be in you (John 14:15-17). Erin, I have come in greater power and soon My glory will be revealed. Remember, if you are reviled for My Name, you are blessed. This is because My Spirit of Glory, which is the Spirit of God, is resting on you (1 Peter 4:12-14)....

"Erin, discouragement can drown out My Voice in you. You must be like Joshua (Joshua 9). Remember this and even write it down daily if need be as the time here is short and the hour is late. I hereby command you to be strong and courageous. Do not be frightened or discouraged for I am the Lord your God and I am with you wherever you go.

"Please embrace each day and be of great courage. Do not worry about tomorrow as I too hold the outcome of both. You are to be encouraged, not discouraged, to walk in the light of My Glory. Now rejoice as I am with you. My Spirit is in you and will spring forth anew like the dawn. Rejoice!"

Dear Father,

Thank You for another night of dreams. I felt called to write one in particular down immediately so I wouldn't forget it...

Sub-Dream 1 "The Collapsing Stairs of Justice" begins...

I was in Washington DC. However, it was now called DC, standing for the 'New City of the Democratic Capital of Merryland'. Leaders had declared this the Justice Capital. Squatters had begun to occupy the once great Washington Mall. All of the buildings were renamed. One name was absolutely laughable...it was the Minister of Truth Institute. This was attached to a museum.

They took only bits and pieces of the Smithsonian and used this to recreate the history of America. Inside the museum, they didn't even try to hide it. All the descriptions on each exhibit were literally cut and pasted. It looked like the kind of letters serial killers make to send to the press. I then saw the Supreme Court Building. Out in front was a massive wooden cart, a jail cart, from the 1800s.

It was a long paddy wagon with six windows, each with a door. The six wooden doors were each painted with the face of one of the six of the justices. There was an open slot just large enough for their hands to be outside of the cart. This was done to show all that looked that they each were wearing handcuffs. There were two black horses and two white horses. The white horses had red flags over them. The black horses had this metal vice-grip bits that completely subdued them.

The black horses were visibly uncomfortable and going mad. They walked erratically in strange circular motions in front of the building. There was no visible driver of the cart. The steering force was unseen and hidden. While people on one side were horrified to see this happen, the people on the other side were cheering for their deaths. I then saw people being served papers from another wooden cart.

This other cart had two drivers and one very large horse. This horse was a beautiful Arabian horse. This horse was simply stunning. However, the wooden cart it was pulling looked like a wreck. It looked like a wooden public outhouse with three doors. There was one door in back and one on each side. It was gray and made from old rickety wood. There were writings posted on both sides of the cart...

On one side: "Six Pence None the Wiser"

On the other side: "Six Pence None the Richer"

The cart was being paraded around the grounds. It then came to rest at the White House. A bell from this cart then rang twelve times. The President and his cabinet then walked out and stood in one long line. Each one was wearing handcuffs. However, they were not truly under arrest. While they continued to act as if everything was fine, it looked bad. I heard someone in the crowd say, 'Foreigners are now our leaders.'

I saw a group rise up and shout against them. However, those in line called for the Minister of Truth to arrest them. Several more paddy wagons then pulled up and arrested the hecklers. The hecklers were taken to prison. The conditions there were bad. Many didn't know what they had been arrested for. Many had no money for a defense. Some families sold all they had to hire lawyers.

While the lawyers were good, the circumstances of the charges could not be proven. The attorneys called for a discovery conference of evidence and depositions prior to the court date. There was a glass high-tech building somewhere in DC. It had a beautiful greenish tint to the reflective mirror glass windows. The attorneys representing their clients were not allowed to enter the building via the front door.

They were instead required to enter the building using an extremely steep and rickety wooden staircase to the back. Only the bravest attorney dared risk climbing these stairs. At each of these steps was a barn door. Each barn door led to a case room. Each case room was labeled on the outside with white chalk numbers, chalk that could have easily washed off in the rain. Inside each of the barn doors was an all-glass room with a small table, chair and a folder.

The attorney opened the folder and sat down. The accusations against his client were extensive. However, not one accusation was criminal in nature. They instead used common facts about the person as accusations of things that were not actually crimes. The attorney waited for the prosecutor.

After an hour of waiting, the prosecuting attorney came in. The prosecutor then addressed the defense attorney...

Prosecutor: "We have overwhelming evidence against your client."

Attorney: "No, you don't. You are accusing my client of doing things that is out of his control. You even have his DNA chart here. Look, he was late only three times paying his Chase credit card over the course of five years. He pays his taxes. He has worked the same job all of his life. He owns a small home and his wife and children are law abiding. They go to church."

Prosecutor: "While this is true, he did have two parking tickets. He is also not a registered voter."

Attorney: "Okay, but what are the charges?"

Prosecutor: "There! They are right there in front of you. You just read them out. His traditions are now seen as hateful and offensive. Those are his crimes. Again, you just read them out."

Attorney: Sarcastically. "Oh, I see... so, his true crime is that he exists? So, is he guilty of being 'traditional'? What exactly is my client guilty of?"

Prosecutor: "While he has accusers, they are to remain anonymous under the law. Now, the accusations are serious. They include rape, theft and murder."

Attorney: "Who accused him of these things? He didn't do any of these things and you know it. My client is innocent."

Prosecutor: "Our sources are credible."

Attorney: "I need to see my client's accusers and interview them. I need to see the reports and arrest records. That is, if they actually exist. This is discovery."

Prosecutor: "You are right that this is discovery. You are discovering that your client is a rapist, a thief and a murderer. You took your client's money knowing you couldn't win his case against any of these charges. So, was it morbid curiosity on your part to see this for yourself? Now who is the scammer?"

Attorney: "Okay, now I get it. You are flipping justice and then blaming me for defending my client. This is disgusting."

Prosecutor: "Look, your client doesn't score well on our system. As a result, we are only willing to do one of the following three options for him..."

- Option 1 is that he goes to prison for life.

- Option 2 is that he be taken to the town square where the public will then determine if he lives or dies.
- Option 3 is that we give him his score and we act justly based on this.

Attorney: "Wait? So, no trial? No judge? What is his score? What does this score even mean? Who is keeping track and how?"

Prosecutor: "Well, his score is quite low. This low score means that he and his family will be unable to have a bank account, police protection, emergency services, medicines or other things."

Attorney: "Wait, is this him only or is his entire family guilty too? Look, no matter which option he chooses, his family is going to be marked. Am I right?"

Prosecutor: "When looking at it this way, it would actually be best for him to choose Option 1, life in prison."

Attorney: "This is bad. This is really bad. Seriously, how do you even sleep at night?"

Prosecutor: "Watch it or you could be scored too. Actually, you have been." He pulls out a paper with the attorney's score. "Hmm, your score is surprisingly low. Your score is this low because you often associate with criminals."

Attorney: "Wait! Hold on there. I have to associate with criminals as I am a defense attorney. It is my job to associate with criminals often. You would have to be a total moron to agree with this as being a justified reason for my low score."

Prosecutor: "Watch it! You are walking a thin line again."

Attorney: "Look, I still have thirty other clients in the same boat as this client. How can you do this? This is perverted justice!"

Prosecutor: "Okay, that's it... I am going to charge you with disorderly conduct."

Attorney: "Wait! Okay, okay, I am sorry. This is new to me. Sorry. I have to adjust. I have to accept that there really is no defense. Is this correct?"

Prosecutor: "Yes, this is true. This is only a conference to discover your client's options. That is all. Everything has already been determined. As you can see, this new justice system is much more efficient. You just have to adjust."

Attorney: "Can I at least have my client released until we know more?"

Prosecutor: "No. You need to choose one of the three options immediately."

Attorney: "This is impossible. Okay, what if I were to choose Option 2, judgment by the town square?"

Prosecutor: "This is almost certainly going to mean your client's death."

Attorney: "Okay, fine... we will choose Option 3, the score. I pray You will have mercy on my client."

The prosecutor then notarized the papers and handed them back to the attorney to sign.

Attorney: "Wait, you can't notarize this. It needs a third party. This is illegal."

Prosecutor: Ignoring him. "You can meet your client at the bottom of the stairs."

The attorney stood up and walked outside. The staircase was filled with distraught attorneys. The staircase began to collapse. I woke up as the stairs were falling.

Sub-Dream 1 over..

Father, this dream was so real. Please come quickly. Our country is being destroyed. The cart was labeled 'Six Pence None the Wiser' on one side and 'Six Pence None the Richer' on the other side. What does this mean? This dream was very clear and detailed. I just know that this dream was from You.

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "Erin, I am here and I am with you. This dream was a warning and a call to prayer for the hour is late. However, there is Good News here. I see all things. I know the plans of the wicked and their deeds. Even the saints see and cry out. Traps have been set for the people who stand for truth. The poorly built wagons and staircases are built by the enemy for God's people.

"Their justice is that of a time when there was great expansion and lawlessness. They want no justice. This often relies on biased officials. There are also local administrators with financial interests to determine the outcome of the verdict. Erin, there were far more righteous men to be found back in the 1800s than there are to be found now. There was a fear of God then that is not prevalent now.

"Now, notice that there are two sets of rules. All opposed to this government is subject to unjust laws that are specifically created to remove anyone who disagrees. Notice that the government operates from a state of the art facility made of mirrored glass. This is so observers can only see what is reflected, not what is happening inside.

"However, you are not to worry as God sees all. I can see! Now, they have handcuffed justice at the highest court. However, there is an unseen force who has forced leaders into corruption. Now, these are My directions to all of you for right now...

- Do not waste your time doing things that offers you no value.
- Pray instead.
- Repent of everything I have placed upon your heart.
- Be still and know that I am God (Psalm 46:10).

"You are in a moment of time when sowing seeds into My Kingdom will bring a record yield. Sin and participating in the satisfaction of the flesh is like depositing all you have worked for, all of your wages, into a bank that steals and offers no reward, no interest, on your investment.

"Instead, sin turns and requires more and more from you and takes you away from what I have planned for you. What does this accomplish? How much time did you spend achieving the unattainable... a chasing? You are not richer and you are certainly not wiser."

Me: Crying. "Are You speaking of me right now?"

Jesus: "No, Erin. I was talking about you only as you were in the dream... an observer. As for you as you are now, you will be of use to Me. This is because you can testify and understand those faced with the impossible that is coming. I show you these things so you understand the plans of the enemy and the importance of pressing into God and the things of Heaven.

"I will call you to minister to those who have been ensnared in sin and have spent their time for nothing. They are not too far removed from Me. There are families in distress because of injustice. While this is not of My doing, I do see all. You will also encounter many who have forgotten Me. They have given up. They are tired and weary. They think that I don't see or hear. However, I do. I am the God who sees.

"Now, pray when I send you to your daily places, including the store, the gas station, the school or other places. Give your whole experience to Me for My purposes. I will send people and place them on your heart to pray for them. One day very soon, they will know who sent you. However, for now... pray and take note. Even though your dreams are sometimes dark, be encouraged. Seeing what I see is too much for you. However, instructing you in wisdom is good.”

Me: “Lord, there can be no accidents. A small derelict tugboat in Seattle WA just sank. It is so hard to view a ship sink. Why? It is hard when you know that the tugboat was once brand new and strong. This tugboat once tugged many huge ships.”

Jesus: “Erin, this is a sign of what is coming to the nation and what is leading this sinking ship? The people are being abandoned and your enemies see it. I am angry at the governors of the west. I am sending calamity after calamity against them. Still, they refuse to change. As such, I will continue until they finally understand.

“They have a great enemy that says, ‘There is no god but us!’ They will use the bits in their noses to lead the cattle to slaughter.. at least as it stands. Troubles are coming to the coasts, so pray. These shores will soon be unrecognizable as they have no one to stand for the people under God.

“Though I send signs, wonders and calamities, they still curse God and run after the remedies of the world and their gods. They search their gods for comfort, but they do not find it. Pray, Erin. Pray for the nations. You are Mine. Do not worry. I love you.”

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day, Father! What a blessing You are. Each day is brand new. Even though the enemy continues to close in on the massive encampment of Your children, we still believe in Your promises. Lord, we stand on Your firm foundation of truth. Thank You for the freedom that truth gives us. While lies bind us, truth sets us free.

On some days, I try as much as possible to fill my thoughts with lovely things. Good news helps. This morning, I began to watch the news. I listened as I did my morning chores. I had become anxious. It was because liars are delivering news and creating fear in the people. The Lord’s Voice spoke to me...

Jesus: “Erin, there is no speculation with corruption. What they tell you concerning their plans are true. However, their foundation of facts is void of truth. There is no truth in the midst of liars other than their plans are against all good. They no longer operate in the shadows. They are on full display now. There are no good plans of the enemy, understand? Why then are you listening to them? Instead, fix your eyes on Me. Focus on Me. I am here.”

Me: After promptly turning off the television. “Thank You, Lord.”

I went outside to feed the birds. I then saw our lovely groundhog visitor we have named ‘Flower’. I couldn’t tell if she was nursing or pregnant. I was glad to see she was still alive. She seemed glad to see me too. I had the most amazing dream last night...

Sub-Dream 2 “A Glimpse of Post-Transformation” begins...

I woke up lying on my bed. My covers were gone and the sun was shining on me. I was completely changed. I was stunned and excited at the incredible change.

Sub-Dream 2 over...

Father, while this was a wonderful dream, it was way too short.

Jesus: “Erin, come up!”

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: “Erin, I am here. I see all that occurs around you. I see every detail.”

Me: “Lord, my dream was so exciting. I needed this! Thank You!”

Jesus: “Cling to My promises, Erin. I have you. I have your family. I have your children. I have your Nest friends. None of you are ever forgotten.”

Me: “Lord, I love You so much. Thank You. My heart is full because My Savior loves me. He is mine and I am His. Lord, You are mine and I am Yours!”

Dream over.

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day! Take this day You have given me and make this Your day. Since there is very little good news, I give everything to You. I am concerned about all we are facing. Father, please protect our home. Better yet, just wipe out any debts we may have to the enemy's evil system. I had a frightening dream last night...

Sub-Dream 1 "Farms come under attack" begins...

My daughter, son and I were driving on our country road. Our destination was to have lunch at a small restaurant at a local farm called 'CHOMP'. We were to meet the rest of our family there. This was to be a farm to table dining experience. We were excited to meet there and have fresh homemade food. The little place was attached to a farm. The meat, produce, grains and other foods all came from area farms.

The owners were very glad to see us. We had an amazing meal. One item was homemade ravioli and three varieties of sauces. We were also served fresh bread and churned butter. Upon finishing our meal and exiting, the owner let us know why he may no longer remain in business...

Owner: "This restaurant will likely be closed by month's end. This is because of a lack of interest. We were unable to get the word out because of a new law. This new law requires that farms, farmers and any independent farm operation not be promoted."

We were really sad for the farmers. After praying for him, we left in two cars. It seemed like summer. We noticed something alarming as we passed by farm after farm. Each barn had a massive black and white line drawing of their eldest son over each barn door. They were visible from the road as each drawing was around 7' x 7'. My daughter suddenly recognized someone in one of the drawings...

My daughter: "Mom, stop the car. That is one of my former classmates."

There was a woman and her daughter working in a field. My daughter ran out to them. They saw her and they turned to walk towards us. We got out and walked over to them.

Woman: "Our sons were taken, our rightful heirs to all of these farms. We need to give them a ransom amount to redeem them from captivity. However, they had already seized our bank accounts. We can't pay our laborers to make more money. They now know that we are unable to redeem our sons on our own. Even if we signed the farm over to redeem our son, we have no idea whether he is actually dead or alive. We just don't know. Anyways, we have to get back to work."

As we drove further, there were so many farms with the same drawings. Some pictures showed very young sons and other pictures showed some that were older.

Sub-Dream 1 over.

Sub-Dream 2 "A Parking Lot bathed in light" begins...

We were in a distant city. We had a very old car that was similar to one that I used to own. The owner of the hotel came up to us...

Owner: "Be careful as there are frequent break-ins in this parking lot. We recommend that you remove all of your valuables while it is still light."

I thought I had taken everything, but, later on, at around 9:00 pm, I had my doubts. I expressed my doubts to my husband...

Me: "Oh no, I think I left my tablet in the car."

Note: In real life, my husband would have either retrieved the tablet himself or accompanied me to the car. For the purposes of this dream, he did neither... smiles!

When I went out, there was only one streetlight for the entire parking lot. I could see lighted cigarettes. I could hear people trash talking from the outskirts of the parking lot. When they saw me, they began to laugh at me and call me names. I ran to my car. It was parked close to the main entrance.

Unexpectedly, the inside of our car still had all of our valuables. I realized it would take me multiple trips to move these valuables back into our hotel room. Just then, a flash of light illuminated the entire parking lot. The criminals scattered. As the lot was now very bright, I took the valuables out of our car. I was able to somehow get them all out.

I then locked the car door. I could once again hear the grumbling and swearing of the voices that remained outside of the light. I suddenly realized that the light was so bright to these evil bystanders that all of the cars in this parking lot were safe. I laughed and went back into the hotel.

Sub-Dream 2 over.

Father, a machine has gone against the nations. Corrupt leaders have been paid to offer up their own citizens in exchange for money, power and protection. Evil governments have taken over. It is a war that is not being fought in a normal way. These are not normal battlefields. Even though things seem dark, we know Your light is upon us. Father, the hour is late. Please keep our focus completely upon You...

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "Every day and every minute, I am always with you. Erin, I am allowing you to have these dreams so you now come to Me daily. Fix your eyes on things of Heaven. Fix your heart on Me. I have you."

Me: "Lord, yesterday I was shopping at Walmart with my stepdaughter to find her clothing for volleyball. I went to look at a garment I thought was cute. Something caught in my thumb though and caused a split to open. When I snagged it on the clothing, it left a very deep wound. The clothing wasn't harmed though. I then heard You say, 'Stop Erin.' I immediately went to checkout with the groceries and shorts. I put any clothing for me back."

Jesus: "Yes, this was Me of course. I will say this again... lack of clothing is not one of your issues. Very soon, you will need none of what you see as I will clothe you."

Me: "Wait! Will I not even need the clothing that I have?"

Jesus: "Erin, what have I told you? Do not worry about your life, what you will eat or drink or about your body and what you will wear. Is life more than food and your body more than clothes? Erin, you delight in Me and you rejoice in God and the things in Heaven. I have clothed you in garments of salvation. You are already in a robe of righteousness.

"You are as a Bride that adorns herself with jewels. These garments of the world should no longer be your focus. These are a chasing. Remember that I am about to change all you have come to know and for the better. Don't spend your time or provisions on things that will soon no longer matter. Focus on Me instead.

"While I know you worry, worry does nothing for you. It has never served you well, even as a child or even when you felt you had cause. Now, you watch the birds everyday and delight in their appearances at your feeders. They do not worry about anything. Remember that they never prepare fields or grow their own food. I instead feed them daily. I love My Creation and provide for them.

"So, if I provide for them daily and bring them joy and shelter, along with seed, then even though you are called sparrow, you are more to Me and precious and honored in My sight. The only thing that can comfort you and bring you life is Me. My Voice calls out to you daily. This is Good Food to fill you up with and refreshing spring for your thirsty and anxious heart. I am the Prince of Peace and you are the princess of peace."

Me: "Forgive me, Lord. You care even for the bird who has a broken beak in our feeding tray. While You could have allowed him to perish, he instead thrives."

Jesus: "Then remember and consider the lilies."

Me: "I have been looking at blossoming peach and pear branches online. These are so beautiful. You are amazing in Your works. What a blessing You are. These are just budding blossoms. There is no fruit yet. Just look at how beautiful everything you do is. You are awesome."

Jesus: "Erin, I am here and I am with you. Spend some time with Me. Spend your provision on things of Me. This doesn't mean you ignore obligations. Just understand that many of the plans you had and what you had expected will not come into being as you imagined. It will instead be much greater and will exceed your dreams. Erin, be encouraged! When you cast aside the cares of this world, My Voice in you will often be all you have. This is a good thing."

Me: "I am learning, Lord I have had no peace, yet the Prince of Peace lives in me."

Jesus: "Do you understand why I come in greater power through My Chosen Vessels?"

Me: "No, Lord, not fully."

Jesus: "I will do this because the enemy will not be able to replicate this as a counterfeit. You will be called, 'Aliens living among us!' However, they would finally be speaking truth as your Home is in Heaven. They will not be prepared for a display of Heaven upon the Earth. The lost and discouraged will see you and the things of Heaven and will want more of the things of God.

"You will display awesome deeds because I will work through you. The enemy will work to destroy you in hopes of destroying Me. However, he will not be able to. Now, keep pressing into Me. I am here with you. Keep your focus on Me and I promise you great will be your peace. Now rejoice as spring is now here. The snow falls as blossoms from Heavenly Storehouses. Do not worry as I am with you."

Me: "I love You, Lord!"

Jesus: "I love you too!"

Something happened after I wrote this dream...

I drove into town alone today. The snow was falling. I had three stops to make and then home. My final stop was the grocery store. Large, wet snowflakes were falling. As I exited the store and was almost at my car, a vehicle backing up came at me with great speed.

I somehow even felt the side of my hip brush his car. People honked to get the driver's attention. Before I knew it, he somehow passed both me and my cart with his vehicle. He should have run me over completely. The elderly man waved sorry as he tried to exit quickly.

Onlooker: "It looked like he had accidentally accelerated instead of hitting the breaks. It is a miracle you weren't killed."

Another onlooker: "Wow, that was sheer luck. I bet you that his snow sensors had been covered and he didn't bother to check his surroundings."

Well, I was rattled and my heart was pounding. It was traumatic. I didn't want to die and this wasn't my day to do so. I phoned my son to talk it through with me because I knew my husband was in a meeting. I then drove home. This was the closest I have come to death since 15 years ago in 2008.

God promised to protect me and He did. While the enemy is working hard to destroy me and silence my voice as His scribe, the Lord is greater and stronger. Thank You, Father, for protecting us even when we don't know You are protecting us!

Dream over.

680 – Golfing with my eyes closed

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day! Thank You for just one more day. This is one more day closer to when You will say, 'Your time here is complete for My purposes.' Through my mistakes and Your gentle instructions, I have a purpose. Well, that is if I learn from my mistakes. In reality, I usually learn more from my mistakes than I do from my successes.

The journey was in my struggles and all of the troubles I went through to achieve my goals. However, every great success that 'I' achieved was short-lived and very unsatisfying. Somewhere buried in the boxes I have are banners, ribbons, newspaper articles and certificates of achievement. As for any trophies, they were all sold years ago. These tell a story that I worked hard at something and I finished it.

I was recognized above my peers for some things. I have these records of things completed. In contrast, I have essentially no record of the failed attempts, the almos, the third-place finishes, the consolation prizes or the honorable mentions. That being said, I certainly have personal stories related to each of these. These are the things 'I' have done. Still, these were also merely a chasing.

I worked so hard on a college degree that was almost stolen from me. While I still received my degree, I was robbed of my opportunity because some students witnessed an attack on me. Their parents, all wealthy alumni, made phone calls. I discovered it when suddenly I was thrust into a big investigation. I had to participate in this because I was the victim.

This day I was victimized in front of witnesses essentially defined so many outcomes related to my hopes and shattered dreams. Suddenly, I was no longer being featured in the Senior Art Exhibit for Fine Arts. I could no longer complete my degree as I had hoped. It was instead switched over in order to make others feel more comfortable. The victim, me, was once again victimized in this biased system.

I was then passed over again and again. I was not taken by the coach for the golf team. I had worked so very hard to play golf as a career, but it was finished. It was a horrible final year. I spiraled downward. All my cares didn't matter in the end. I was angry. My self-worth plummeted. Father, I didn't know You yet. How could I possibly achieve anything of true value with You? Well, I really couldn't.

I was so empty. I remember being told that I was a great instructor, especially with children. When I was a recreation assistant for the handicapped, it involved so much variety and so many degrees of instruction. One fun impossible activity was to instruct blind youths on how to golf. I remember having to describe what things looked like so he could have a visual idea based on my description of where to aim.

It took a lot of trust in the instructor's ability to explain where the ball was going. They also had to trust me to line up everything for them. They had to trust fully in me for their outcome. I was amazed at how many actually hit their targets. The joy and excitement of these children and their parents was something etched on my heart. This happened even though I was not yet a Christian.

I learned as much from these blind kids as they did from me. I now see a similarity on learning how to trust God with 'blind trust'. This is trusting in Him even though you have no visual idea of what this entails. This was a reward with no physical trophy. When I was physically at my peak in golf, I had taken the lessons I had learned from the blind and applied it. On certain shots, I would actually hit the ball with my eyes closed.

I found out that, on average, I could often hit better with my eyes closed. I used this same technique for putting on the greens. I went only by feel and visualization. Still, how can someone who was born with no sight ask me to describe the golf green and what everything looked like. What was their reference point? One of the blind boys told me this...

Blind boy: "I know when the sun shines because I can feel the warmth. I know when there are clouds because the warmth then hides. I know when it is about to rain. This is because it smells differently. Rain has a distinct smell."

The value from these words is immeasurable. Father, thank You for this reminder of Your amazing grace and love. That summer was really amazing. It was here when I got a great glimpse of patience, especially with autistic children. Little did I know that one day I would have two of my own. I am grateful Asperger's is a mild form of autism.

I didn't grow up patient. When I was small, I was around adults who medicated themselves with things of the world (narcotics). This selfishness made it so my brothers and I were forced to be patient for hours as we waited for these adults to get it back together. They were often wasted. I simply don't know how the angels can watch us without either being extremely bored or very disgusted. I had a dream last night...

Sub-Dream 1 "Foggy eyesight unless there are tears" begins...

While going through my daily routine, my eyesight became very foggy. It felt like everything was dimly lit. No matter what I did, nothing helped me to see more clearly. I sat down and began to cry. I then cried out to You. My eyes were now filled with tears. Something strange then happened... I once again could see clearly, but only when I looked through my tears.

Sub-Dream 1 over...

Father, I pray I never take You for granted. I am sorry for feeling sorry for myself when I think of all that could have been. So many of my dreams were stolen. My rivals were so often placed higher than me. They received so many awards that I didn't. That is why I keep my achievements in boxes. These are painful. However, the things that have no record, no earthly reward and no personal accolades are the true prizes.

Father, You saved me from a horrible outcome yesterday. You saved my life. I am sorry for my dim outlook when I know You have something great ahead for us. We can't see it, so we imagine it. One day soon, we will receive Your great promises to us. How great and priceless is that reward for all this trouble. Lord, please help me see.

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "Erin, I am here and I am with you. Now, the angels of God are never bored. Of this, I can assure you. As for Me spending time with you, I have never wished I had done something else instead. I am patient beyond anyone's understanding.

"If I wasn't patient, I would have finished everything 2000 years ago. I could have then relaxed as I would have been done with My work. Looking after the people of God takes work. Did you become impatient with the blind children you worked with faster than if they had sight?"

Me: "No, not at all. I had more compassion on the blind as they could not make themselves 'unblind' in order to see."

Jesus: "Does this mean it is harder to have patience with those who have all of their senses, including sight?"

Me: "Yes, Lord. This is because they have no real excuse. However, this thought is now convicting me. Lord, I must confess that I have no good excuse for failing. I am capable. I should always be functioning as someone who sees."

Jesus: "You have learned a great deal today. When you were young, you had many ambitions. To achieve these, you became foolish and self-serving. You never saw yourself actually achieving the goals you sought to attain. This is because so many cursed you by saying it was unlikely, improbable or impossible for you to reach your goals. To prove them wrong, you then strived even harder for these.

"You had hopes that, if you did everything according to you plans, something great would happen. You had hopes until all was lost. After this, both your faith and your hope were gone. The enemy had a great victory and even sought your life. He encouraged you to take your own life. This is how the enemy attempts his 'great harvest of souls'.

"Instead, I was with you. While I was not as I am now, I was still there. I had a lofty plan for you even though all you had planned was lost. Not long after you were saved, you had to die to yourself. You had to cast off the former things. You passed over your dreams of golf as a career, among other things.

"You surrendered so many things as being part of your past. You then took a short detour to replace these ambitions with material pursuits and attaining recognition for yourself. You discovered quickly how jealous people became when you then succeeded. This was not a beneficial way for you to follow the plans I had for you."

Me: "I became arrogant as a Christian. My business was half Christian only. I only let You in half the time. I was a fool, Lord... 23 years removed."

Jesus: "Well, it took a lot of time and it was painful. The losses came in like a flood and you lost all you had worked so hard for."

Me: "But at least I had my children."

Jesus: "While the enemy also petitioned for their deaths, this would not have been beneficial for My plans for you. I know this journey has been a difficult one. It has been a long hard struggle. However, I want you to remember that I give sight to the blind. Although you could not see into the picture the blind boy had created from your description of where he was swinging his target to, I let him see it. Your description was flawless and the blind boy could see where you wanted him to swing the ball.

“Now, Erin, I am with you. I have told you to trust in My promises to you and to trust Me in all things. Even though you cannot see the outcome, you trust in the Voice who says it is good. I promise to lead you. I promised you good things here and even better in Heaven. You must cast your cares away from things of this world. You must trust Me to deliver you to a good place. Do you see it?”

Me: Crying. “Yes, Lord. That golf green is beautiful ahead. It is amazingly perfect.”

Jesus: “Yes, but there is even more. I have given you the best equipment for your shot. I have told you that I have made the conditions perfect. The day is what I have made it. I have told you in advance that, even though you can’t see where the ball lands, the outcome, the place it ends up, will be perfect and nothing you ever imagined. If this is guaranteed by Me, what are you worried about?”

Me: “Pulling the shot. Blocking it. Pushing it. Missing it all together.”

Jesus: “Yes. However, I am your Instructor and Friend. I will remove these doubts. I am here. Trust Me. You have nothing to lose. You have already lost; but, then again, lost is advantageous if it means finding Me. Focus on Me and I promise you a greater outcome than you could ever imagine.

“Erin, turn to Me with your doubts. I can hear them. Before you doubt, I will correct you. I will keep your eyes set on only that which I call you to, understand? You will be given a new set of eyes that can see in a way you never thought possible. Now close your eyes and tell Me what you smell.”

I had the window open. The sky was blue. I closed my eyes to smell.

Me: “Lord, I can smell the fresh snow. Hmm, I can also hear the stream. There is also a tiny songbird singing.”

Jesus: “Hold on here... I asked you about smell.”

Me: “Sorry, Lord. I was excited. I had been accidentally ignoring these sounds, so when I then noticed them...”

I stopped and sighed at the fact I didn’t follow His clear instructions.

Jesus: “Focus on lovely things. I will direct your ways. I have always been there for you, both in your failures and in your successes. However, and more than this, it has all been for My purposes, for My Perfect Plans, for you. Now, rejoice, Erin, as God is with you. I am here. Trust My promises. I will watch over you in all things.”

681 – A Flawless Pearl within a Pearl

Received on Sunday, March 26, 2023

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day! Thank You for Your grace and mercy. Thank You for fresh snow. Father, please help with my dream from last night...

Sub-Dream 1 “A Flawless Pearl within a Pearl” begins...

I was searching for pearls in a sea of oysters. Many of the oysters had already been shucked. It was as if the shells were disguising themselves as live oysters. I was wearing tall, heavy-duty rubber boots. The water was shallow, about two feet deep. While this isn't how oyster farms are in actuality, I only had to search for them in very clear shallow water in my dream. Even though the water was clear, this was still a nearly impossible task.

The area was vast and the sheer amount of shells was daunting. I had a bag that I would place whole oysters in. Once full, I would take them to a tiny house on the shore. There I would open the oysters and search for pearls. Each one had one to two pearls. I took each pearl out and measured them. I then weighed them and put them in a dish. After this, I had to drill into the pearls.

While I didn't want to drill holes in these pearls, I knew it was the only way to string them. I was a bit anxious though because whoever I was working for was coming soon to inspect my work. I was afraid of ruining the pearls by not working them properly. I knew my compensation depended on flawless work. I was drilling with a small rotary diamond bit and had microscopic glasses in order to see.

I began to drill one pearl. As I drilled, the layers of the pearl began to break away. What was revealed under the outer layers was a flawless pearl. The diamond-tipped drill bit could not match the strength of this underlying pearl and could not drill into it. I didn't know if my employer would be happy with this or really angry. Perhaps he wanted larger pearls.

Just then, I heard him walking on the wooden pier outside. As his steps grew louder, I suddenly woke up.

Sub-Dream 1 over..

Oh Father, this dream seemed so real. As for yesterday, I had an entire dream focused solely on my younger son. He has been an ongoing subject of his father's curses against him. You showed me everything that was happening to him currently, along with what had already happened. You told me to read the dream to him. In this dream, you reminded me four times that 'The Hour is Late!' I knew we had no time.

When I read this to my son, we realized that the Lord had exactly eight specific instructions for him. In this, the Lord showed me the demonic realm influencing him daily because of this open door. My son received this word surprisingly well and told me that God was confirming to him to take another job at a competitor. I then learned of a root problem...

There is a woman three layers senior from my son's department. She was someone who had caused us great hardship around seven years ago. My husband and I had confronted this woman and her husband. Both were high up in the church we were attending at the time. They were upset at us because we were pointing out some unhealthy things their daughter was doing at the time.

Me: "Why didn't you say something sooner?"

Younger son: "Because I didn't think she would hold anything against me. I hate starting new jobs. I hate starting over. Mom, can't stuff stay normal?"

I then remembered his autism. Change is very difficult for anyone with Asperger's. I forget what a struggle much of his day is.

Me: "Jesus loves you. He wants to spend more time with you. Could you give Him more of your time?"

Son: "I have my Bible next to my pillow at night."

Me: "That's great. Do you open it to read it?"

Son: After a long pause. "I didn't know I needed to."

Me: "Okay. Well, let's work on removing these curses. First step is to upgrade your place of employment. The Lord told you that you don't like giving up on people even when they hurt and abuse you. After a while, this becomes unhealthy, right?"

Son: "Yeah, I know."

Me: "Okay, so what are you going to do?"

Son: Hugging me. "What God told me to do. Of course. I don't want Him mad at me."

Father, please make a way for my son. Please be gentle as I forget how underdeveloped he is in his thoughts. He is tall and big. He is no longer a small little guy who was easy to abuse by others. In Your great grace, You made him to be bigger and more intimidating than his abuser. Praise You, Father. Please make his path clear.

Me: "Oh Lord, You stated that 'The Hour is Late' four times in the dream for my younger son yesterday. However, there is something in the sub-dream for him that disturbed me. In this sub-dream, he fell asleep and never woke up. I was so disturbed by this that I was sick to my stomach yesterday."

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "Erin, I am here and I am with you. I am also with your son. That dream was a warning of what the enemy would like for your son and you. However, this is not My plan. 'The Hour is Late' because the hour is late. Now, you have been pressing into Me daily. This means you learned about something with your son that you wouldn't have known without your dream from Me. You can now help your son as I gave you a dream to show you how to do so.

"Erin, many of My children are afraid to go to their children to point out errors they are making. This includes friends that are no good, jobs that do not edify Me and other urgent matters. This is because they do not give their day to Me to bless their hands. This means each day is a struggle. The money no longer satisfies when you are then abused. Many won't speak up because of fear. Still, what am I doing right now?"

Me: "You are preparing Your people for Your glory to come upon the Earth."

Jesus: "I am readying your houses, your children, your spouses and even your pets. This is because I don't want you to miss out on the full glory of all I have planned. I do not want you to do anything that is a chasing of an idol. This includes any act of vanity or self-edification. Remove it quickly. Do not think yourself higher than anyone else. Now, what did you learn from speaking to your son?"

Me: Crying. "That he doesn't understand many of Your concepts. Nothing he does is malicious or done of a bad heart. He just does not understand You even though he talks about You. Forgive me, Lord, but perhaps his childlike faith in You is sometimes greater than mine.”

Jesus: “I think you meant your faith in yourself.”

Me: “Oh yes. My faith in You is massive. There is nothing You cannot do. I mean this truly. You are over all things.”

Jesus: “Erin, I know your son. I know his heart. One day very soon, he will be completely healed. I have used his illness to keep him as a child full of wonder. This is good. Now, your other son... I have also kept him. However, you are wise to keep both of them fixed on Me. Do not worry here as My grace is sufficient.”

Me: “Lord, I watched a segment on Fox & Friends about a Catholic exorcist. He claimed he could drive out demons. This was a part of Your ministry too. When the interviewer asked him how he knows the difference between a demon possession vs mental illness, he replied it is because there is no demon to drive out. He claims to be very careful here. Lord, are You incapable of healing mental illnesses such as bipolar, schizophrenia, autism and so on?”

Jesus: “Well, what do you think?”

Me: “I think You can do this easily. After all, you brought sight back to the blind. You made the deaf hear. You grow limbs back. This is ridiculous as You can do anything. You can heal anything contrary to our health.”

Jesus: “I want you to take what he said and remember this as the gospel of demons he is practicing and not even realizing it. Now, what did you notice over the course of the last 11 years?”

Me: “An increase in demonic activity and possession. My eating disorder was a demonic stronghold. So was my clinical depression. However, You delivered me even when doctors told me I had this permanently.”

Jesus: “I can and have healed through thousands and thousands of miracles. Why does this man then subject Me to a list? I don’t need lists. This is ridiculous. Once the demon is removed, healing then removes and restores the damage the demons caused. You must think of your body as a house. Who occupies your home? Is it Me or someone else? You then ask if I occupy it fully or do I share with something.

“Well, Erin, I am God and I do not share My house with demons. I share with you in person because I built your house. I know your house. Since I know you and your house, I feel perfectly happy occupying it. I do not share with any squatters. Demons are squatters and usually enter by invitations based on sins, deception, bad contracts or trickery.

“Once they occupy a house, they move even more of their things in. They plan parties and invite more of their demonic friends to enter. I like to call it ‘Legion Hall’. Once they fully move in, they don’t care about the contents, especially if they know that the house was planned by God. They then seek to destroy the house. They tear it to shreds, ruining everything in the hopes of death.

“They then even try to take hold of all the houses around this one. This includes parents, grandchildren, children, spouses, pets, employees, employers and so on. They have full permission to occupy the dwelling. It is binding until they are discovered and removed. However, healing the damage usually takes miracles. The squatter as a thief and a liar is one of the best parables.”

Me: “It is painful to watch these stories. Many people have their hands tied and, by law, can do nothing to removed them.”

Jesus: “Ahh, very good! You are discovering the greatest lie of the enemy from this parable. This exorcist said he can drive out demons, but not mental health conditions. In fact, this is what they will try to use to shut down churches and My Word altogether.. saying we are trying to harm the mentally ill and the children. Their real purpose in all of this is to tie the hands of My people.”

Me: “Oh Lord, this is awful! Please stop it.”

Jesus: “Oh, I will. However, I need to give you the way in which evil has increased and God’s people have been ineffective to stop it. The enemy is the deceiver, so he sprinkles in truth to confuse you. It angers Me. Erin, I will deal with these unbelievers and ineffective servants very soon as I am calling on a different group. I am calling on those who do not walk in the flesh and conform to this world.

“I am about to reveal My position as God to the world. My glory will fall as dew from Heaven. Those who prefer their fleshly pursuits will try to cover their nakedness. However, I will still see them. The Hour is Late! I am shaking the nations! You have uncovered a Pearl of Great Price! Rejoice, Erin, as I am with you!”

682 – Collecting the Ripe Olives

Received on Monday, March 27, 2023

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day! Thank You for Your Great Love. Thank You for fresh spring snow. I had a dream last night...

Sub-Dream 1 “Collecting the Ripe Olives” begins...

I had my alarm set for 5:30am to get to my job. I needed to be there between 6:15am and 6:30am. I lived in a small home that I did not recognize. It was wooden and had white stucco. The windows were wooden and old. Overall, the home was beautiful in a ‘French Country’ kind of way. As I left the home, I put on my boots. I was wearing a loose dress of cotton. I had a long white apron on with big pockets to fill.

I put on a small coat. At the last minute, I picked up a long wooden fork. This fork had prongs that were quite close together. It looked a bit like a leaf rake. I walked down a beautiful fine gravel lane from my home to a massive orchard of olive trees. One of the workers knew me, but I didn’t know anyone there. I had not been here before. The workers gathered together at 6:30am. A foreman then arrived.

The foreman looked like an angel, but in plain clothing. He had the look of an angel... hard to describe, other than you just know. He was focused on his God-appointed tasks. He could not be distracted by anything. As I was thinking this and smiling, he stopped, looked at me, smiled and continued to speak. I laughed because God must have given him my thoughts. He then called out our names from a list.

Angel: “Erin?”

I raised my hand and stepped forward. He repeated this with other names. He then spoke to one of the workers.

Angel: “See the hill over there?”

Worker: “Yes.”

Angel: “Those are your assigned trees. Each one bears 1,000 olives, so take your time. Each one should take a day at least.”

A different worker then addressed the angel.

Worker: "How many trees are in each section?"

Angel: "Quite a few."

Worker: "But are we not late for harvesting these olives?"

Angel: "Well, the traditional harvest has passed. However, the olives that are here are heavy with large mature low-hanging fruit. If you look around you, it is easy to see that the weighty mature fruit is bending and bowing the branches. Now, there are great storms coming that could destroy these trees. These here serve our Lord as He often went to these groves to pray."

Worker: "Gethsemane? Is this the Mount of Olives? Has it expanded?"

Everyone broke out in loud cheering.

Angel: "Okay, okay, I know you're ready and excited. However, there is much work to do. It is a daunting task. You will need to work carefully and efficiently so as to not bruise the branches and the fruit in haste. Patience means more oil when pressed. Remember.. the longer on the branch, the sweeter the fruit. Still, great storms are coming. Stay strong and do not worry. God has appointed angels to work with you."

Worker: "Are they then pressed all together in one day?"

Angel: "Focus first on this task. You are harvesters. Let God watch over the pressing. God is in charge of the preparation of the oil. Now, rejoice.. the time of the harvesting of these has come."

We heard the sound of the shofar. We went out to our assigned areas. We had our harvesting garments on. We were provided special tools. We were given white sheets for collecting the fallen olives. The sun was now rising.

Sub-Dream 1 over..

Father, this was such an exciting dream. Each day with You is brand new. Each day brings something new. I am so grateful. Storms are looming. We know they are coming as I feel joint pain before they arrive. All the signs are there. Things are becoming difficult on an accelerated basis. Troubles have doubled. The troubled souls have tripled. We are witnessing 'crazy' at an alarming rate.

I believe the rise in mental health issues can be tied to the increase in marijuana use. My heart grieves. I grew up around users and know the effects. I am not sure how modern legal drugs fair against old illegal drugs. Many of our kids' friends now use it for various reasons. We have forbidden it in our home. If we discover it, they are out. Both my husband and I have had very negative childhood experiences around abusers of marijuana. This is probably why we both have zero tolerance. We are 100% united on this.

My stepdad struggled with mental health issues. This led to severe depression, psychosis, voices in his head and so on. While marijuana 'claimed' to then help mellow my stepdad out, it actually did the complete opposite. Today, when I am near the smell of it burning, I become nauseated. I get sick to my stomach. Perhaps it is PTSD. Perhaps it is the Holy Spirit Warning System.

I was bothered last night when my son told us that his partner on a project worth 30% of his grade sent a word-for-word plagiarized document to him for his portion of the project. This young man has severe schizophrenia. He has plagiarized assignments in the past. He could even be removed from the school for this. I feel bad for this classmate. I pray that the Lord will take this mental health issue away from him.

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "Erin, I am here and I am with you. Remember that the fallen angels taught about medicines and plants to the children of man. They did this to try and remove God and obedience to My Voice. They then 'become god' through these addictions to what ails them. These were claimed to offer healing qualities and other personal benefits. However, there was and is and is to come a consequence.

"It masks issues. It numbs. It takes over, understand? So, with this rise in popularity, more has been added to it to make it more addictive. Erin, this is a gateway. This is a grand door whereby the demons can come and go. This is a way to serve self and the gods of this world. This is a way to spend time chasing after this.

"However, something else has accelerated with this. An agent of destruction has come to rob, kill and destroy the souls of the children... the young people. The news is bad. The medicine is poison and attacks the brain and the heart. While I know this makes you sick, you will be used by Me. All whom I call will heal and deliver these young people from this great evil."

Note: Just then, a huge 'Boom' hit our home. The snow and ice fell off our roof and crushed our entry cover. A piece of solid ice the size of a large watermelon then crushed our second entry step. By a miracle, a piece of wood kept some ice chunks from crashing through our window. I was amazed that so much could happen in just the blink of an eye. Then again, should I really be surprised.

Me: "Lord, I had to run to see what caused the boom. It is so disheartening. Please help us. This will be expensive and we are running out of options rapidly. In the meantime, please protect us from this ice shelf. It is so thick and heavy that it took down our ice rail defense. We now no longer have a line of defense. You are our only help here. Please help us!"

Jesus: "Erin, I will put this on hearts. You are never alone. I have an obedient remnant in this and I am pleased with them. Their kindness towards you and your family has been duly noted in Heavenly Records. Erin, the enemy knows the hour is late. The angels that I have assigned to My people throughout the nations are very busy fighting battles. Every now and then, attacks occur. However, these will come to nothing.

"Even though I know you are worried, these will all come to nothing. I have told you that the enemy has increased the volume of troubles. At the very least, this let's you know that I am with you and that the enemy is aware of this. He attacks only when he is able, but no more. You have had some... what you would say... 'near misses'.

"Still, you have been fine. Anything in the way of an accident or mishap with compounding frequency is a sign that there is war in the spirit realm. You cannot see this, but you feel this. My Spirit in you has redirected you from troubles."

Me: "Last night, I went to cook some meat for a planned dinner. I suddenly had severe nausea. I felt as if I would be sick. It persisted. I pulled out the package of meat and noticed it was over the expiration date by four days. I must have mistaken the date on the package. They are hard to read. Clearly, I almost made a costly error. I asked my husband his opinion on this and we both decided that it could be okay. I then placed the meat on the frying pan and noticed it wasn't behaving normal.

"After it was cooked, I had my husband try a small taste. He is normally positive with great faith. I instead saw a look on his face. Needless to say, we threw out the bad meat. My nausea was instantly gone once we had thrown this out. I made scrambled eggs and hashbrowns instead. While we ate late, we were all fine. Lord, that had to be You warning us."

Jesus: "Your family would have been very sick. The meat was deceptive. When times are lean, it is understandable not to want to waste food. However, bad food is like poison. Remember that it is tradition to remove all items with yeast from your house once a year. You already know the meaning of removing the 'spiritual yeast' of the Pharisees. This can mean a great deal of food is removed.

"Still, I honor the act and the hearts of those who are earnest concerning My Word, the Laws and the Commandments. As for you, I have given you a 'safety upgrade'. If something is contrary to Me and abhorrent, you will be unable to consume it. Your sign was illness. However, you battled through it. Your guilt to throw away this food bothered you."

Me: "Yes, Lord. I struggle when things go bad. I hate to waste anything. We don't have the luxury of wasting good food. There are too many to feed."

Jesus: "Again, not one of you will starve. I am with you and I will provide for you. Now, do not worry about all of this. Erin, you are not being punished. Count this good. If the enemy works overtime to destroy you, it is because he knows I am with you. He is angry. He wants you dead. However, here is the good news... you live... and I live in you. Now, there was some other good news today..."

Me: "Yes. My younger son took a job at another company. He listened to your warnings and instructions. My older son received a 100% on his class assignment. His professor said his work was perfect. This was for 30% of his grade. Praise You, Lord!"

Jesus: "I am glad that you are happy. Remember... you are in the middle of a war you cannot see. Pray and stay strong. Listen to My Voice. Ask Me if you cannot hear Me. I will do what is necessary to keep you close. Now, more good news... we are having this conversation. Now, like I did when I was on Earth, you are experiencing earthly troubles. However, I will soon deliver you from them all.

"Do not be afraid as I am with you. Nothing shall succeed against you. Oh yes...remember that a gateway for the enemy and a multitude of troubles to follow is this wicked weed they have legalized. It is the gateway to many troubles. It is the gateway to sins of all types that follows. Soon there will be deliverance. Pray. I am with you."

Me: "I will see You again in my dreams tonight, Lord! I love You so much!"

Jesus: "I love you too. It is a date. Rejoice, Erin, as I am with you. Do not fear."

Dream over.

683 – The Transition of Darkness into Light

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day! The days are becoming more difficult. The battles continue and these are just the beginning. Father, please strengthen Your people as these wars are now raging all around us. We truly are powerless on our own to stand against the New World Order. We therefore look to You for a Great Miracle. You instruct me during the days and at night.

You show me our homes in Heaven. In my dreams, we are strong and a great army under You. During the day, I observe the evil. Father, please strengthen Your people. Please let our nights be times of directives and wise instruction. During the days, use us to do Your Will and stand against this evil. I had a dream last night.

Sub-Dream 1 "Reconciliation for the Children" begins...

I was young and we were staying on the coast of the Mediterranean Sea. I believe it was Monaco. We were staying at a place that I am not sure we would ever be. I have never been to Europe, Israel or Africa. I truly have no recollection of much other than through photos or films. There were hundreds of tourists everywhere. I am normally not a fan of crowds.

I had a particular task. I had to drive up a mountain on a very windy road with many switchbacks. I laughed because I was driving a ridiculously expensive car. This particular car was not something I would own. I wore a white scarf over my head with sunglasses. The roads and switchbacks were so crowded. While it was slow, it was a very beautiful area.

The area went from fancy resort buildings with white stucco to almost like a dark cloudy misty day in the hills of Portland OR. The vehicle I was driving then changed. What I now wore was also changed to fit the scene so that I blended in. The fog increased the further up I drove. The road became narrow and wet.

I was now one of the only vehicles on the road. All of the home estates had now mostly disappeared, except for a few hidden estate roads for the very wealthy. I suddenly found myself at a crossroads. I heard the voice of the Lord.

Jesus: "Erin, before you continue on your course, I have a task for you to the right."

I turned right at the fork in the road. This soon became a poorly maintained road. However, my vehicle was sturdy and built for rugged conditions. The Lord continued to modify all around me as it suited the task. This included my vehicle and my clothing. I then hit the end of the road. I heard the Lord.

Jesus: "Get out and travel on foot."

Me: "Lord, am I going into battle with no partner?"

Jesus: "Of course not. You will see."

I kept going and the path soon became overgrown. A thought came to me that parts of this would be impossible. Just as I was about to be stopped, the Lord spoke...

Jesus: "Erin, I will make your path clear."

As I stepped, the plants cleared and bent so I didn't even need to move them with my hand or brush them with my body. It was pretty cool. I then arrived at a building that was brick. It looked like an old schoolhouse. There was a belltower like a church, but I was not sure if it was still functioning. I heard a whistle and there was Breakthrough. I then saw angels and saints gathering. The angels were instructing us...

Angel: Speaking to us without words. "You are to go into the schoolhouse. Be warned that what you are about to see will upset you. Do not worry though as together you will make great changes. This is because God is in you. We are going to battle with the prince over the region, as well as those involved. This is our job."

Around me were several of us who knew each other, but had not yet met in the physical. I soon realized that they were some of our Nest friends we had never met before. We were gathered together because we were familiar with what we were about to witness and then how to make changes according to the Lord's instructions.

Angel: "Now, you must allow God to work. You must set your personal feelings aside. You must set your anger aside. You must delay changing the atmosphere until the proper time... God's Timing. You must do this despite what you will soon see."

A very tall angel then came to speak with us. He looked very strong and was in full armor. He was quite the sight to behold. He was Thor times ten!

Large Angel: "You are not to worry as we are going to battle against the evil involved. God's justice is in this. Take comfort with this. Remember that God is always with all of you. The Lord will give you instructions as you move along His path for you."

In an instant, the angels suddenly disappeared. We gathered together as a group and prayed as one. There were eight of us altogether. The Lord's voice then gave us exact instructions. We were all in awe, but were elated to finally be used by God fully. We had read about this for years, but now it was all happening. We were relieved.

Jesus: "Go in and change it. Heal and comfort. Raise those who are asleep."

Four of us stayed in the front and four went to the back. It was foggy and misty. The stairs were rickety and one stair was missing. As we approached the front, the stench was overwhelming. One of us spoke up, but without any external words.

One of our Nest friends: "Lord, make this smell like flowers and perfume."

In an instant, no foul odors remained. We all laughed quietly. While we were not afraid of the enemy, we were concerned about what we were about to see. We walked into the room. We could hear children crying. It was too dark for us to see. We asked God for light and Jesus lit up the room. My stomach became sick. There were mattresses everywhere with babies and little children on them.

Camera equipment was scattered all over the room. Dead babies, dead children and blood was everywhere. There was no food or water. There was electricity, but this was most likely just there for their evil filming. Somebody was obviously live streaming these children suffering. At first, the children were understandably afraid of us. The eight of us then decided to pray on their horrendous situation.

Eight of us: "Dear Lord, please completely remodel the schoolhouse. Remove the mattresses and camera equipment. We pray this makes the children feel better."

Unexpectedly, the Lord spoke to all of us. We could hear Him without external sound.

Jesus: "You are thinking too small. Pray bigger!"

Eight of us: "We pray that You reverse the clock back to the beginning of whatever happened, a time prior to these horrendous acts of men against these children."

Jesus: "While I will give you this, how about you raise the dead, heal the sick and comfort the hungry as well. These children need to be comforted."

We worked quickly as the Lord instructed us. Children were raised up. All were healed. We all somehow were now singers, so we sang to them to help cheer them up. They were so excited to have those who had been killed or hurt raised and healed. One little girl was brought back to life and her little brother began to cry out in joy, hugging her and then jumping up and down in excitement.

Children who were raised up: Telling us and the other children. "Jesus and the angels met us. We went to Heaven and played with baby animals."

All eight of us were now in tears. We then mutually decided to bring some of Heaven down to Earth.

Eight of us: "We pray that You will bring part of the Baby Animal Garden down here while we discover where these children are from."

In an instant, the whole place was changed. There was so much joy and light. Playing on the green grass were baby chicks, bunnies, koalas, miniature elephants and puppies. Everything was so delightful. These cute animals then took turns coming over to hug each one of us. We were all in tears. None of us could believe the miracles of God here.

All of a sudden, news crews arrived to cover the story. Shortly after, parents, grandparents and others involved in finding a place for these children, including police and other emergency workers, came over to help. All of this was kept sheltered from the children by an invisible wall. All they saw were the fun huggable animals. Tears and cheering erupted from the witnesses.

Angel: Coming up to us. "The situation has now been taken care of. These children will no longer remember what was done to them."

The angels lifted the invisible wall. The children ran out carrying baby animals to their parents. There were no dry eyes. The news reported all of this good news accurately. As parents ran up to their children, the Lord called us to heal several more afflictions and illnesses. After everything was complete, the baby animals were taken back Home to Heaven. No trace of their visit remained.

They didn't even know they were on Earth because the Garden itself appeared here as it is in Heaven. All of this is hard to explain, but it all makes sense. We thought it was cute because some of the children were holding puppies and little animals from the Garden. However, these were no longer the 'real deal', but stuffed animal exact replicas. After everyone dispersed, the eight of us were once again addressed.

Angel: "We will see you tomorrow for another project."

We all looked at each other and prayed to the Lord together.

Eight of us: "Lord, did we do okay today?"

Jesus: "Yes! Your first assignment after your holidays went very well."

We were all so happy as we had all heard about this in my dreams from the Lord, some of us for over a decade. We had a unique bond between us that transcended earthly friendships. We had waited a long time to meet and we couldn't believe we were here together just like the dreams from the Lord had outlined. We all cried together because the experience was so moving.

Eight of us: "Praise You for Your miracles. We are so grateful to You."

We all then said goodbye to each other. We were so strengthened by this great day. We were overjoyed. Though we lived in different locations far apart from each other and had never actually met, we somehow all felt that we knew each other as if we were lifelong friends. I thanked each of them for all of their support during the long period of waiting to finally get us here.

Then there was a flash of light and the Lord was now speaking directly to just me. I was back in my car driving back down to the hotel.

Jesus: "So, how about we go see what your husband is up to right now!"

Sub-Dream 1 over.

Father, thank You for the dream. I woke up and the impression while I wrote was literally like an open vision. This is a miracle to me. In the midst of tragedy, You always show up. You are always with us.

Me: "Oh Lord, my stomach still turns at the sight of the devastation with those kids. What happened there? It was just horrible!"

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "Erin, you will see many such things. Some of these children had been kidnapped from a daycare. Others were kidnapped from a Christian school. They were held for ransom and it became very bad. They tortured the children and filmed it. Now, you ask Me what happened to those involved. Well, there were many of them. My angel army struck each of them down.

"They are now being held until the day of judgment. Now, there are many who would say, 'God would never do that.' Well, this is interesting to Me as I believe there are many instances of God's judgment. Still, you are not to fix your thoughts on those who are evil. Give these to Me instead.

"Now, focus in on what your day was like. It started as a normal day on vacation. While it then turned dark, all of this then changed. All of it changed because Heaven was visible on Earth. There were no dry eyes as tears of healing were visible. Out of something very dark I will bring light in the form of miracles, signs and wonders."

Me: "Lord, for me and those who were with me... well, it changed us. It made everything brand-new. When will this be? When?"

Jesus: "Soon. Sooner than you think. What did you receive from Me? You had a question."

Me: "Yes. I believe You gave me a very clear Word of Knowledge. It was Proverbs 16:18 – Pride goes before destruction, a haughty spirit before a fall. However, I focused on the first verse and wondered if it had meaning about the nations. You showed me these groups. They are factions of an army sent to destroy. Almost every one of these entities has some presentation of good or love behind it to confuse the people about the true motives behind each one. You told me there are differing ranks and files of the New World Order in these groups. You showed me:

- Antifa: This group is against the established order of commerce, business and government.
- BLM: This group brings in racial division and hatred.
- Open Border Society: The purpose of this open border invasion is to change the population.
- Drug Legalization: The purpose of drug legalization is to destroy the youth and the middle class.
- Pride Movement: The purpose of this movement is to destroy science, castrate men and destroy women.

"All in all, You then had me focus more on 'Pride goes before Destruction'. Is destruction up next?"

Jesus: "Destruction is here. However, they have a loftier plan. The removal of all Christians. They follow no laws yet accuse others of not following the Rule of Law. This has all occurred before because it is the same evil involved. I am aware. Angels are aware. God knows all things.

"Erin, nothing is hidden. Your point on 'Pride' is interesting and applicable on many levels. My Word lives and breathes. There will be more discoveries. The more you search for answers in My Word, the more it will be illuminated for you by Me."

Me: "Lord, Artificial Intelligence (AI) is rising. This is pure evil."

Jesus: "Again, go to My Word. Read about the Tower of Babel. This has happened before."

Me: "Artificial Intelligence?"

Jesus: "Well, no... but similar things. However, do not worry. Erin, do not worry. All will one day bow to Me. It is coming. I win! Heaven wins! Freedom reigns! There will be a counterfeit to My Chosen. While these will also perform miracles, it will not be in the way that you would think."

Me: "Will the counterfeit of the Elect be Artificial Intelligence? Will they look like us?"

Jesus: "The angels too. You will hear many things as there is always a counter measurement against God. However, they will be unsuccessful this time. God's Glory will fall upon the Earth. Evil will flee. When I then gather My people unto Me (the Rapture), there will be false reports that nothing really happened.

"They will then fool the people of the Earth for a short time. This happens when the enemy finally comes into full power with his evil government. They will call to remove most of the people from the Earth. Those who remain will pay allegiance to Satan. During this time, people will be unable to die."

Me: "Oh Lord, all of this is so scary!"

Jesus: "Satan will then be after the Tribulation Saints... the Late Harvest."

Me: "It seems so much closer than it ever has been before."

Jesus: "There is great good prior to this. However, you now understand that the 'Mark of the Beast' is perhaps something you hadn't thought possible before."

Note / Refresher: From these dreams, we are looking for three years of the Great Harvest to occur once we are finally Transformed. These three years will happen prior to the Rapture. During these three years, God will visibly reign supreme through us (even though He truly needs no one to accomplish this). Once we are Raptured, the Great Tribulation will commence. Satan is then given great authority over the Earth once we are all removed. This evil authority will continue until God puts a stop to it at the end of the Great Tribulation. All of this will come at 'The Appointed Times'!

Me: "Yes, Lord. It all seems fluid now."

Jesus: "It is fluid only for those who have to keep changing their own ideas of what comes. However, I am unchanging. God, the armies of Heaven and the angels all know the signs of the late hour. However, there is Good News. Heaven will be on display for all to see. Great will be My Glory. I am the God who sees. I am about to do something in your days you would not believe even if I told you. Rejoice and pray!"

Dream over.

684 – Habakkuk with Daniel in the Lions’ Den

Received on Saturday, April 1, 2023

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day! Who am I that You should love me? What an honor that You would grant me a gift, an overwhelming display before me, that You are my God, my Father and my Creator over all things. Who am I according to the world. I am no one. Thankfully, all that really matters is that You love me. What an honor to be thought of by You as Your Bride.

You never give up on me even when I sometimes think You should. Your love overwhelms me. You have cared for me at Your Altar as a bird nests with her young and feeds them daily. You defend and protect me just like a lioness protects her cubs and the lion protects his pride. You see and know of each one of our storms and battles. Before one tear drops down my cheek, I hear Your Voice say, ‘Don’t worry. I am here. I am with you.’

An eagle just flew across our yard. It flew low overhead and then disappeared. Bless You, Father. I love You. I can never thank You enough for never giving up on me and my house. Thank You for never giving up on my Nest friends and all of our children. The hour is late and You are here. For the first time in my life, I am biting my fingernails. Why? I am not fully sure. I just know that life around us everywhere has shifted towards the gods of this world.

We are watching a live epic apocalyptic movie where evil is coming at all that is good and Godly. So, what happens next? Does the enemy continue to devour God’s children? During all of this, the enemy constantly mocks God. It is all so nerve wracking. Well, guess what? Wait for it! God wins. Though it seems as if He is delaying, He is not. There is no delay as He comes at the perfect appointed time.

Despite knowing this, my heart is anxious over so many looming threats. Please grant me peace. Father, I am part of the Bride waiting for our Groom. I am watchful at all hours of the day and night. I am looking, but I don’t have clear sight on You or the wedding party. Instead, the enemy has taken up residence just outside the wedding venue and he harasses all of us there day and night.

The enemy accuses Jesus of being 'a no show'. He tells us we are unloved, unclean and a sinner. He tells us that all of this stuff is fictional... completely made up. He tells us to come over to where he is and make a covenant with him. He tells us he has a great banquet awaiting us. Oh Father, are You hearing all of this? Will the enemy harass Your Bride without You avenging us? My dreams are showing the displacement of our current living conditions. It is scary. Lord, please help ease our worries.

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "Erin, I am here and I am with you. Now, have I not told you to not worry and to not be afraid?"

Me: "Yes, Lord."

Jesus: "Then be still and know that I am God. Now, look at the time of the prophets. Did they write about troubling times? Were they anxious?"

Me: "Yes and yes!"

Jesus: "Consider Habakkuk. He cried out to God because he knew troubles were coming to the nation of Israel. He was in deep distress because a king was leading God's people into acts of great evil against God. There was the looming threat of invasion by the Babylonians. A small invasion occurred first as a warning of greater destruction. The leaders at this time were corrupt and focused on evil against God.

"They led the people into servitude to their needs. God's favor was removed from the land because of the fornication of the leaders and people with foreign gods. The true God was removed. The state of the area was divided and greatly devalued from its status in the region. It soon became known among the nations that it was ripe for invasion.

"Still, instead of recognizing their vulnerabilities and humbling themselves before God in great repentance, they elected for even greater rebellion. They did not heed the warnings of the prophets to turn from evil. You complain to me, and rightly so, of the corruption that exists today. You complain, you plead, you make your case, you pray. Well, Erin, always remember that there is no place I cannot breakthrough."

Me: "Lord, I just read the book of Habakkuk. We are seeing the preinvasion at our borders right now. This is the prelude to our fall. This seems to be ushering in the destruction of our beautiful nation."

Jesus: "Oh Erin, can you not see? This government has removed God and have whored themselves out to their adversaries. Great are her blasphemies as she sleeps with many lovers. She once did this for trade and money for security and wealth. She did this to garner great status and power throughout the nations. Even though the USA made many countries wealthy, these countries still hate her.

"The gods serve up the land to anyone who will partake in her great offerings. The blood of the sacrifice of God's children cry out to the Throne of God. She has committed great abominations against God. God has therefore brought calamities upon the nation once dedicated to God. He does this because the people have turned from the Covenant of God and made a covenant instead with demons."

Me: "Is there anything we need to do, Lord?"

Jesus: "Yes. The hour is late. Turn fully to God and pray. Brace for impact."

Me: "Oh no, Lord. Please have mercy on Your people. Please. There are so many who love You, but are being silenced. We need You. We need Your miracles. Lord, please! The borders are open, our weapons have been shipped overseas. Something has made our men weak. There are attacks against food processing plants. They are even poisoning our water supplies. There are military mishaps and even derailments of trains filled with toxic chemicals. Then there are the tornadoes. Now President Trump."

Jesus: "Erin, spies have entered through the borders, as well as assassins from foreign adversaries. These attacks are not accidents. These are coordinated attacks at the heart of the nation. The adversary wants to destroy the nation in broad daylight so all can see it happen. While it is already happening, the people do not see it. I know this is difficult to watch. The nation is being prepared for destruction. There is no justice. The former laws are not valid under their new system."

Me: "What is this new system of justice?"

Jesus: "No justice for the innocent. Remember that the Commandments have been removed. This means the Courts no longer follow them. The laws are ignored for criminals. Their goal is to demoralize all opposed to their new nation in service to Baal, Molech and other gods. Their wish is for him (Trump) to be killed or never to be heard from again."

Me: "But, Lord, You appointed him."

Jesus: "Yes, but he was removed by corruption and the people silenced. While it seems that I am inactive, I am not. Erin, I am God and I live. You know this. My Word is living and breathes life. I will not allow My people to suffer. I will hear and rescue those who cry out to Me. The enemies of God are many and they battle hard against all good, all light and all truth.

"Why? If there is really no God, why do they battle so hard? This makes no sense. Well, it is because they know there is a Great Move of God coming upon the Earth. They tremble and quake at My Voice of Truth. If I am ineffective and have no significance, why then try to silence Me? It is because they know exactly who I am."

Me: "Hmm, I never looked at it like this before. Thank You! This morning as I prayed, You led me immediately to something profound that basically says how we got here and what will happen to the nation who defies You. I was reading Deuteronomy 31:14-30 and then on to Chapter 32. In this, Moses knew he was about to die. He then appointed Joshua to lead Israel.

Deuteronomy 31:14-18: 14 And the Lord said to Moses, "Behold, the days approach when you must die. Call Joshua and present yourselves in the tent of meeting, that I may commission him." And Moses and Joshua went and presented themselves in the tent of meeting. 15 And the Lord appeared in the tent in a pillar of cloud. And the pillar of cloud stood over the entrance of the tent. 16 And the Lord said to Moses, "Behold, you are about to lie down with your fathers. Then this people will rise and whore after the foreign gods among them in the land that they are entering, and they will forsake me and break my covenant that I have made with them. 17 Then my anger will be kindled against them in that day, and I will forsake them and hide my face from them, and they will be devoured. And many evils and troubles will come upon them, so that they will say in that day, 'Have not these evils come upon us because our God is not among us?' 18 And I will surely hide my face in that day because of all the evil that they have done, because they have turned to other gods.

"Then in vs 19-21, You talk about all You did for them, but they turned. So, Moses wrote this song and You commissioned Joshua to lead the people. It seems in Chapter 32, this 'Song of Moses' was for our nation now. However, in 32:23-38, this is stunning. The nation is found guilty by turning away. This is our just punishment. Here is a summary of some pertinent Scriptures in Deuteronomy 32. Vs 15 outlines how we have turned. Vs 19-22 outlines how we have angered God.

Deuteronomy 32:23-27: 23 "And I will heap disasters upon them; I will spend my arrows on them; 24 they shall be wasted with hunger, and devoured by plague and poisonous pestilence; I will send the teeth of beasts against them, with the venom of things that crawl in the dust. 25 Outdoors the sword shall bereave, and indoors terror, for young man and woman alike, the nursing child with the man of gray hairs. 26 I would have said, "I will cut them to pieces; I will wipe them from human memory," 27 had I not feared provocation by the enemy, lest their adversaries should misunderstand, lest they should say, "Our hand is triumphant, it was not the Lord who did all this."

"I then noticed a partial fulfillment of Deuteronomy 32:23-17 outlined as follows:

- Attacks by bears, mountain lions, wild dogs, alligators, snakes, etc.
- Crime both inside and outside.
- Criminals now also hurting the young and the old.
- Fear of the criminals.
- Fear of offending the offender, so we do nothing.

"Lord, it continues on and it is so profound. Is there anything we can do to stop Your wrath? Your calamities?"

Jesus: "Turn and pray. Come back to Me."

Me: "Lord, so many are praying for mercy. Even Canada passed a Bill C-11 to stop freedom of speech."

Jesus: "Erin, evil leaders have sold their people to foreigners in exchange for cooperation and status in cowardice to one common system. This is their new god. They show their fear of Me by silencing any mention of the good news. However, remember that I see. All involved with corruption will be held in account. Now, let us go to something that I have placed on your heart."

Me: "Yes. Habakkuk. I learned he might be the boy whom Elisha raised from the dead. I then researched some interesting things in 'Bel and the Dragon'. One part stood out to me as really exciting (verses 30 to 39)..."

Bel and the Dragon: 30 Now when the king saw that they pressed him sore, being constrained, he delivered Daniel to them: 31 Who cast him into the lions' den: where he was six days. 32 And in the den there were seven lions, and they had given them every day two carcasses, and two sheep: which then were not given to them, to the intent they might devour Daniel. 33 Now there was in Jewry a prophet, called Habakkuk, who had made pottage, and had broken bread in a bowl, and was going into the field, for to bring it to the reapers. 34 But the angel of the Lord said to Habakkuk, Go, carry the dinner that you have into Babylon to Daniel, who is in the lions' den. 35 And Habakkuk said, Lord, I never saw Babylon; neither do I know where the den is. 36 Then the angel of the Lord took him by the crown, and bare him by the hair of his head, and through the vehemency of his spirit set him in Babylon over the den. 37 And Habakkuk cried, saying, O Daniel, Daniel, take the dinner which God has sent you. 38 And Daniel said, You have remembered me, O God: neither have you forsaken them that seek you and love you. 39 So Daniel arose, and did eat: and the angel of the Lord set Habakkuk in his own place again immediately.

"This was Daniel's 6th day in the lions' den. You translated Habakkuk immediately home again supernaturally... in the blink of an eye."

Jesus: "Yes, Erin. This was a great discovery. Erin, many things have been removed or have had the meaning confused. The enemy confuses and lies. It is wise to know what you are up against. However, know this... the God who loves you is before you, over you, beside you and in you. He is greater. Erin, I haven't even started yet. Now, there are two types of reapers...

- Good Reaper: A good reaper of souls who brings in a record harvest.
- Grim Reaper: A grim reaper harvests the spiritually dead. A grim reaper doesn't raise the dead to new life. A grim reaper instead takes the dead to the depths of Sheol.

"Erin, I will soon be falsely labeled the grim reaper even though I will bring life in abundance. Now, a tumultuous wind came to send a great sign as a warning to the gods that I am here."

Me: "Lord, a theater collapsed during a concert there. I looked up the venue playing when this happened. There were three bands playing, each with very dark names..."

- Revocation
- Morbid Angels.
- Skeletal Remains.

Jesus: "Erin, this is what the enemy has planned for the nation and how I will counteract it..."

- The corrupt leaders have now finalized their Revocation of their contract with God. I will instead keep it intact for My Bride.
- They wish to use their Morbid Angels to test and torment My people. I will instead turn this towards the wicked.
- They want only Skeletal Remains to transpire for all who turn away from them. I will instead turn this on the wicked.

Me: "Oh Lord, this is such a clear sign."

Jesus: "Yes, but many instead laugh and do not see the warnings."

Me: "Lord, please help us. We need You!"

Jesus: "Do not be afraid. My promises are true. I have a great plan. I didn't call you 'My Bride meant for destruction'. My hand is upon you. Do not worry. Be strong and courageous."

Note on Crypta Exclusion: We are not sure why the fourth band, Crypta, was excluded from discussion. The Lord didn't have Erin discuss this band's name. Perhaps it was hidden from discussion by the Lord on purpose, but we are not sure. We are sure there is some reason. In general, crypts seem to us to be hidden, just like it is here. Here is the definition of crypt... "A crypt is a stone chamber beneath the floor of a church or other building. It typically contains coffins, sarcophagi, or religious relics."

Note on inclusion of apocrypha quote: We know there are some out there (we are not talking Nest members here, but outside readers) who will be angry at any reference to the apocrypha (in this case 'Bel and the Dragon'). However, if Jesus wanted Erin to talk about it, Erin goes with His Will. While including this was a risk, Jesus is a risk worth taking... to infinity and beyond!

Dream over.

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day! Today is a beautiful Sunday. Another storm came, but all has calmed. I could write about our last few days and all that has come at us, but You know and see everything. You reminded me yesterday about war techniques and the strategies of the enemy. You reminded us of how the enemy applies these tactics in our lives. Thank You for our Nest friends. They have been a true 'Godsend'!

You often allow us warning shots of troubles coming that are often dismissed as mere coincidence. I usually get Your hint to pray up around the third or fourth warning sign. You reminded me that Christians once were wise and sharp. You reminded me that they once stood firmly on the Foundation of God's Word. You showed me that God's people were once vast. You had armed them with spiritual weapons.

As for our country, the USA stood for God and swore allegiance to His Commandments. The USA was truly fair and free. The laws, constitution and declarations stood for this. The nations of the world admired the strength and honor of the USA and called it a blessed nation under 'their God'. The USA was never an experiment though, like her enemies proclaim (and even a former President).

Something has now gone wrong though. It is our corrupt leaders. Growing up, all we knew was excitement and wonder. While we were poor growing up, my mother taught us that, if we worked hard at sports and had good grades, this would give us an opportunity to enter college. She rightly felt that a good education would open doors.

While she was mostly right, she couldn't have foreseen the woke culture we are now in that changed all of this. Right is now wrong and wrong is now right... evil is good and good is evil. So, what exactly happened? The answer is complex. However, there is one part of this that I do know. We no longer had, 'Made in the USA'... it was now, 'Made in China'. This has only gotten worse over the years.

As I read somewhere recently... the orchard owner has the wealth (China), not the one who buys its apples (USA). You then used the city of Detroit to show us what would one day happen to all of the USA if we didn't turn and repent. You then allowed spiritual warfare to take over our evil and corrupt leaders. In reality, it was quite easy for the enemy to take down Detroit.

The enemy studied this. The king of the east knew something. They learned something about the diminishing resolve of the American Dream. Owners then proclaimed prosperity by having even more goods be made more cheaply in China. Reality shows like 'Shark Tank' was always recommending that manufacturing be made overseas. The American companies then needed banks to keep them afloat.

Well, these ensuing loans only made them slave to the lender. We are watching a foreign adversary surround our country, a country that is on many waters. We continue to implode it from within to make it ready for the fall in great humiliation. All of this happens in secret due to the death of free speech. This can only happen because so many industries have been fully bought and paid for... government leaders, entertainment industry, news media, universities, big tech companies and on and on.

These outsiders then purchased failed farms, manufacturing facilities, empty mills and other properties through false business names. This was done for pennies on the dollar... the biggest expense being paying certain people off to look the other way. We are now in a phase where they are limiting things like fuel, food and transportation. They are now calling for a ban on all assault weapons.

All of this is giving rise to Marxism on a scale unimaginable to our Founding Fathers. Our nation has now been circled by her enemies, even to the north (but not the Canadian people, the corrupt leadership only, paid off by China). As for the south, corrupt gangs are slowly spreading nationwide. They are also paying off leaders and setting up headquarters of fear, murder and drug dealing.

We can't forget about our open borders to the south. Millions of people have poured in the USA unvetted. Historically, this has been like a slow suicide. A country with open borders cannot survive for long. Even though we send billions to the Ukraine for secured borders, we don't spend a penny on ours. I had a dream last night...

Sub-Dream 1 "The Columbia River completely dries up" begins...

I saw a massive dry riverbed. The riverbed itself was filled with white chalky rocks and boulders. All across it were small, abandoned boats. I then saw the area from a bird's eye view. While this place was normally rich in green agriculture, it had only parched, cracked, dry earth. The land was covered in whitish grey ash. I looked further for any landmarks, but each farm had empty silos. There was no grain and no green growth. I then saw an old farmer. I went over to talk to him.

Me: "Hi there! What happened here?"

Farmer: Startled to see me. "Our water supplies were poisoned. This poison then caused our rivers and lakes to become bitter water. It was so bitter that it completely removed all life. Farmers then began to die of heart attacks or suicide. I am one of the only ones left."

Me: "Tell me more."

Farmer: "Everyone became discouraged. People raided storehouses and silos. Soon the cattle and dairy was gone. All livestock died of disease. This was such a great plague that people became angry at God for leaving all of us here (post-Rapture). However, if I am being honest, I quit going to church during 'Vid'. I worked the fields instead. They kept squeezing us. They first took away our fertilizer and then they poisoned our water."

Me: "How do you survive without water?"

Farmer: "By a miracle, I have a tiny spring that bubbles up daily. I have just enough to make food for myself. However, I am weak. My body is dying because I no longer have any protein. Meat was categorized as inhumane. We all quit eating what they sent us for protein. I am still not sure what this was. All of my friends are now gone. They are dead. We have no hope."

Me: "You can still cry out to God. He hears you."

Farmer: "He let foreigners take over all of us. They didn't even follow through with the money they promised. They made sure we failed."

Me: "Where are we here?"

Farmer: "Eastern Washington."

Me: "Hmm, I once lived near here. What is that river that is all dried up?" I pointed south.

Farmer: "That was the Columbia River. So, have you visited the Tri-Cities yet?"

Me: "No"

Farmer: "There is nothing left there."

Me: "Oh no. Did the reactors blow?"

Farmer: "Something like that. Hey, I have got to go now. This is my last day here. I don't care where I go. Heaven, hell or anywhere has to be better than this."

He turned and walked away. I continued to look around and saw such horrible desolation. It didn't look that far from this time. I could see that other lakes and rivers were also completely dried up. The sun was so bright and the temperature was very hot. There was no moisture. Everything looked chalky white and had flakes of grey.

Sub-Dream 1 over...

Lord, I am struggling with this dream. I woke up very thirsty. It was so awful. Everything was barren. There was no life. It didn't seem like a metaphor. While I may seem like a 'conspiracy nut', something is horribly wrong. I saw a meme that read...

"If you don't already have one, go out and get yourself a conspiracy theorist friend. You are going to need one to understand what is about to happen."

I awoke this morning with dry riverbeds on my heart. Father, this seems like Isaiah 19 and Revelation 16:12. These stand out to me. There has been a great drought in our country. We are entering the third year of this drought. No one talks about it. Lord, this is horrible. In the meantime, China is store housing food. In a crisis, it wouldn't take long for us in North America to run out of food.

While I know You have a plan in Trump being indicted, this is still really hard for us to watch. Oh Father, it is time for You to rise... please! All of Your people will soon be silenced. No Christian church services will be allowed to be streamed. There will soon be no ability to attend a free church service. They will eventually come for our Bibles. Please well up and move before the invasion comes. Please help us!

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "Erin, I am here and I am with you. I love you. I have a Great Plan. I see what the wicked have planned against My people. Remember that I humble the exalted and exalt the humbled. Even your daughter proclaimed this, so believe it."

Me: "Lord, the pages of Your Words through the prophet Isaiah are coming to pass now, especially in chapters 24 and 25. In Isaiah 24:16: 'We cry out to God and praise You; but we are wasting away; for traitors have betrayed the people.' 24:17-20 – You shake the Earth. 24:23 – You send the darkness. Then in the 25th chapter, Your Glory comes. You then gather up Your people and take them Home."

Jesus: "Then this is good, right?"

Me: "Yes, Lord. However, please don't wait too long. We need You."

Jesus: "Oh Erin, do not be afraid. I have a Great Plan in place. God's plans are not changing, shifting or fluid... yet I can still do a new thing. The enemy knows that all of Heaven now cries out for justice for the people of the Earth. The enemy understands the judgment of God and that a Great Move of God is coming. While the enemy is swift, nothing stops God... not one thing! God is over all things.

"The enemy appoints this demon here and a legion there, but he knows not of what is coming upon the Earth. A Bull was sent to destroy the China shop. The owner burned with anger at the total destruction of their well planned course. They were unable to take down the Bull as they knew that he had been appointed by God to shatter their glass chupah (ceiling). They then fought using every tactic, both illegal and corrupt.

"There were suddenly no rules. At some point, they became fearful. They knew that this was more than humanly possible, meaning it was clearly God's Hand over him. They then turned their attention to those who stood with him, as well as the children of God. They then began to strike blow after blow against them. They will now offer up the Bull ceremonially on the altar of miscarriage of justice.

"They will even call him to be silenced while serving his sentence alone in the dark, a bounty placed upon his head. Well, this is what they want. However, I see it. Erin, I know their plans. They will not like the outcome I have determined. They have revoked the covenants made with God by their forefathers. I will then send great calamities.

"In fear, they will then hide as My Glory falls upon the nations of the Earth. I am about to expand My tent of the meeting. I am about to pour out wrath amongst the nations of the Earth. However, I will also pour out Living Water through My Temple Vessels in order to heal all who cry out to Me."

Me: "Lord, let it begin during Passover. Nisan 14 is Wednesday during the day and it becomes Passover at nightfall. Nisan 14 is the day You were betrayed, falsely accused and hung on the Cross. Trump is scheduled to arrive in New York tomorrow (Monday, Nisan 12). It is then scheduled to all 'begin for him' on the day after (Tuesday, Nisan 13). In reality, all days are good for You to come. Please! We need You, Lord!"

Jesus: "Your petition has been received. Now, are you fully prepared for what comes?"

Me: "I think so. Lord, I am so excited for Heaven to be visible. I am excited for Your Glory to shine throughout all of the Earth. I am excited for the healing power of God over the peoples' ears when they hear the wicked confess to their crimes. This will be so awesome and we can hardly wait."

Jesus: "Yes, truth is fun and confirming. Truth is healing. While truth can sometimes be painful, it can also be very healing. Now take comfort and do not worry. Be strong and courageous for I am with you."

Dream over.

Dear Father,

Thank You! Thank You for another day. Thank You for the simple things in a complex world. Thank You for continuing to care for us. Thank You for Your great love, Father. We are overwhelmed by You. I went outside this morning and it was quite warm. I pray the rest of the snow and ice melts off of our roof soon. On the bright side, You told me that this shelf keeps me 'looking up'. Too funny!

I had to do some cleaning at the feeders this morning. There was quite a lot of activity outside last night. The whole setting was basically rearranged by either the deer or the racoons. When I began to clean everything up, at least fifteen red squirrels ran over to me to see if I was carrying any breakfast for them with me. They came from all over. I could see them running from the lower yard, up the road and through the trees.

Once I started to feed them, the fighting began. I made my exit as I heard some wrestling. I learned last summer to wear gloves and boots to go out. I also learned not to make eye contact. When I went inside, it was blissfully quiet compared to the activities at the feeders. I then looked up at the bird feeders. It was peaceful there. The birds took turns eating and it was so wonderful to see. I then heard You speak...

Jesus: "This is why you must not stay focused on things below, but of the things above. This is because there is no comfort in the things of this world. The only comfort is in that which is above and in He who sits on the Throne in Heaven. There is also the comfort of My Voice in you.

"Erin, I am with you. Keep your eyes fixed on My promises as these are true. Give Me both your days and your nights. I will perfect these for My Glory. I am in your quiet moments, but also in the times when you say, 'Lord, are You there?' Well, yes, I am. Now keep your eyes fixed on Me. I am here."

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day! Thank You for caring for our house. We are so grateful. Thank You for watching over all of our Nest families. You continue to keep us and we are so thankful for You. It has been a very difficult week. I have been physically unwell. Our home has been battered. There have been ominous storms. However, You, Father, continue to make the threats non-life-threatening.

In other scary news, more than 100 rockets have been launched at Israel. Passover has begun and this is Your Holy Week. There have been so many worldly problems and scandals that it is difficult to focus that You are God our Father over all things and that You reign from Your Throne in Heaven. You see all things and You know what the wicked have done against Your people. Please don't wait another season, Father.

Please let this be the due season. Let it be. The world is plunging downward so rapidly. Your children, Your people, are in the crosshairs of the wicked. Father, please turn the tables on our evil accuser and chief liar. Please vindicate all of us who love You, as well as those who are unable to speak or testify to Your goodness. Father, You are always good. You never change.

While You are unchanging, You can still do a new thing. This is because You are creative. I look around my home and I can clearly see Your hand has been over it all. You are the God who knits, weaves, prints, writes, paints, shapes and molds. You are a Creative Designer that uses fully functional beauty. On top of all Your skills, You inspire and grow this into something wonderful... all for Your Glory.

Who is like You, Father? In contrast, the enemy is the destroyer. The only thing he knows how to create is more and more evil. He incubates wicked ideas. He hatches evil plots. He lies, distorts and makes everything dark. He is truly the Anti-Christ. He is against all of Your Creation. Father, I love You. I can't wait for the wonderful creative Promised Land of Heaven You made for Your children.

What an awesome place You have made for us. Oh Lord, we are so thankful. Speaking of 'earthly promised lands', I find myself missing Bend OR a lot these days. My heart aches for this place. While I long for Heaven more, this is the best the world can offer for me personally. I pray our time there soon unfolds.

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "Erin, I am here and I am with you. Why do you cry?"

Me: "I long for something this world no longer has here. I miss my home in Oregon. Lord, while I know it isn't time for me to be there today, I so miss the smells, the warmth of the sun and the mountains there. I just miss the promise You had placed upon my heart that, one day, we would have a home there with my children. I am now older. I've been gone for 14 years and my children are now grown. So many have moved to Bend OR now that it is not affordable. Well, it wasn't back then either, but I still hope."

Jesus: "Then go a little higher than your hopes. I am here. Do you think My promises are true, Erin?"

Me: "Yes, Lord. However, it just seems so impossible right now. My dreams of all I thought would have happened by now still have not happened. You have had a different way for us. I just miss a time before when there was excitement and possibilities for a future. The world is now a place I do not like much. The world is full of liars, deceivers, thieves and destroyers. This is such a tough place to raise children."

Jesus: "Erin, you, your family and the Nest are all accounted for by Me, the 'Chief Accountant'. This is good as My promises are true and fully accounted for."

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day! Thank You for my husband, children and our Nest family. We are so grateful. My heart overflows with love in a way I never thought possible. I was once so shattered and in darkness before Your Great Love came into our lives. For most of my life, I heard lies spoken about You. I often wonder what could have been if I had only known then what I know now.

In general, life here is so ironic... when young, we don't want to, but can... when old, we want to, but can't. In my youth, strength, health and confidence were on my side. My talents were varied and the world was literally an oyster to me. However, I am now unable, my strength is moderate, my health is poor and I am no longer confident in myself. My talents are not what they once were.

God has removed these from being my primary focus. Right now, eternity is my oyster and God is a Priceless Pearl within it. To the world, God is nothing but a myth. However, to Me, You are everything. I am so sorry that I was such a hard empty shell of a person. You have had to work so long and hard on me. You gave me a dream/vision this morning that was incredible...

Sub-Dream/Vision 1 "The Shucker and His Pearls" begins...

I saw an Oyster Shell that was ugly and marred by the effects of the vast ocean and the rocky conditions. I saw the Hands of a Shucker. The Oyster sat on a wooden plank table. The Shucker examined the Oyster, flipping it over. It was a very hard shell. There was a concave side and a flat side. I saw the Shucker take a beautiful linen cloth and flip the Oyster to have the flat side up.

The Hand placed the Oyster in the cloth and carefully wrapped it. He then held it with His left hand and, with a knife, He found the hinge that kept the two parts together. He moved the knife up and down, skillfully twisting the blade to loosen the shell from top to bottom. Although it looked violent, the Shucker was very careful not to break the shell of the Oyster.

With the shell now opened, the knife was moved deeper to pry the shells further apart. With the two shells then apart, the inside of the Oyster was exposed to the Shucker. All of this now rested in the Shucking Cloth. However, this was different from regular oyster shucking. I could see a small Pearl now developing in the exposed Oyster.

The Shucker then placed the Oyster on a bed of ice to preserve it for the time He deemed right. I then saw Him replace the loose shells over each one in order to hide the Oyster until the Shucker was ready to show them off. He then put a Shucking Cloth over all of the Oysters to keep them fully hidden from the view of the world until He removed the cloth at a later time.

Sub-Dream/Vision 1 over...

Father, I have so many questions about everything. I feel like so many of us here on the Nest have been like an Oyster on ice under Your cover for a long time. While I know that this time that has passed is nothing to You, it feels like an eternity to all of us that are here waiting. When You lift off that cloth over us Oysters, I pray You find us perfect for Your use. I pray our aroma will be pleasing. There are so many analogies of us in You that are displayed here.

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "Erin, I am here and I am with you. You were busy today."

Me: "Yes, Lord. Let us also call today 'Shucker Day' (where today is actually Good Friday). Let us also call this Sunday 'The Reveal Day' (where this Sunday is actually both Resurrection Day and Easter Sunday). Let this Sunday be the day us Oysters are opened and our Pearls finally revealed. Oh please, Lord, how about it?"

"Well, I already know that You won't tell me if I have the timing right, so I will instead tell You how grateful I am for the gift of these dreams and visions. Thank You from every part of me, inside and out. Thank You, my Precious Lord."

Jesus: "You are welcome, Erin. Now, let's talk about You today."

Me: Crying. "I am sorry that I am crying, Lord. My body is breaking down. I have been out of sorts the last few days. There has been a shift in the atmosphere around us. I can't explain this. I just feel something now that I can't adequately describe. My body is also in great distress. Different limbs are behaving oddly and I am dizzy. I have been so sad. The people I have encountered have been angry and clearly demonic."

"This area is a big cannabis consuming area. There are so many young people that are behind the wheels of cars that shouldn't be because they are obviously under the influence by the way they drive. So many things are just not right. Just yesterday, an incident occurred at my daughter's work that has to be ignored because of 'inclusion' directives. In essence, we are no longer free."

Jesus: "Yes, Erin, I know of the incident. Yes, there is a rise in visible evil. Pray, Erin. While I know you have been unwell and all things appear to be dark and foreboding, what comes after the darkness?"

Me: "The dawn?"

Jesus: "Yes, Erin. I want you to understand something. Those I have reserved are like Pearls to Me. There are others like you as well that have come from an unlikely field. This is because your heart for God and eternal things is My Pearl. Afflictions like sand and long enduring faith are the Oysters that I choose to spin the luster of My Pearl within."

“Still, there will be great anger. Many will be in stunned disbelief because they thought themselves more scholarly or holy than those I have hidden amongst them. They will then make cases against you to Me. I will then give them two choices. If they turn and humble themselves, I will have mercy. However, if they continue go against My decision, they will endure a different path, a path that will not be enjoyable.

“While it is okay to present questions to Me, it is a foolish man who then twists My Word to support their cause. Well then, if they do this, they never truly knew Me. I am not a ‘pyramid-scheme’ kind of god. I don’t participate in ‘multi-level salvation marketing’, where the wicked elevate themselves at the cost of those who love Me. I am not with them. They serve Beelzebub, not God.

“The way to salvation is through Me. I am the Savior. I determine both life and death as I still hold the Keys. These Keys were not taken from Me by My Father after 2000 years. These Keys are Mine. I therefore carry the Keys over both eternal life in Heaven and spiritual death in Sheol. Erin, I see the rise in evil. I see the rise in apathy from My pulpits. Many are now ashamed to spread the Good News.”

Me: “Oh Lord, life here on this fallen planet is becoming harder. Since there is no justice here on Earth, are Your people better off serving in prison? Perhaps we are better off in solitary confinement?”

Jesus: “No, Erin. You are misunderstanding Me. What I am speaking of here is the message spewing out from so many of the pulpits. Who will stand for My Word? Is it not clear enough to those who seek, knock and enter into My Church? Do they not deserve truth? The hour is late! Why do the people go to My Church? Do they need answers? Do they need help? Who will stand and speak the truth now? Erin, who is greater.. God or the wicked?”

Me: “Well, Lord, of course God, You, is greater! Now, You continue to tell us to stand down. There have been many times that I could have said something to some shady characters, but I didn’t.”

Jesus: “No, this is different. Again, I am speaking of My pastors, the shepherds.”

Me: “I think many are just thankful to have the lost come to their church. I think those who are members are needing comfort and to feel good.”

Jesus: “Hmm, oh... so lukewarm then? Erin, if the hour is late and the building is on fire, doesn’t someone stand up and say, ‘Hurry, there is no time. You will need to leave your safe pews or you will be consumed in this fire. You need to run to the door.' Well, Erin, I am the Door and I am at the door. They need to hurry to Me, their Door."

Me: "You are right, Lord!"

Jesus: "If they let it, My Word of Truth will cover their houses of worship. My Glory will then be like the 'Burning Bush'. It will not be consumed by fiery flames. It will instead catch the fire of My Glory. Erin, do you now understand?"

Me: "Yes, Lord."

Jesus: "Then pray that the people in these pews turn and humble themselves. This is because the ground they stand on is Holy Ground. If My people would humble themselves, just one could save thousands. However, My Church is silent right now. My Word is carefully crafted and spoken so as to not offend. My Gift of Salvation is now given only to the few who are earnest."

Me: "Lord, take back Your Churches. The people are lost and with no Shepherd. Please let Your Glory fall through the darkness. Shine Your Glory on all of the people. Send in Your Vessels to pour out Your Spirit on both the young and the old. This isn't just a petition, Lord, but my sincere prayer. It is time to take Your Oysters off of the ice, my Lord and 'Chief Shucker'. The ice is melting here. Please don't let us rot. Oh Lord, please use us for Your Glory... not for our glory, but for Your Glory only!"

Jesus: "Your prayer is good, Erin. I have heard your petition and it is a sweet aroma to the Throne of God in Heaven."

Me: "Oh Lord, Your people need hope right now. They need to know their Savior. Even pastors out there do not know how amazing You are. It hurts my heart to hear horrible things spoken of the One I love and serve. How much longer will You be patient? How long will we need to stand down and not engage? I see such horrible injustice now. Oh Lord, please hurry. Those needing rescuing are already starting to spoil. Please, Lord, don't let them become 'unsalvageable!'"

Jesus: "I see all of this. There is an Appointed Time for all things under Heaven and for God's Glory. The hour is late. Keep oil in your lamps. I am here. Your Groom speaks to you. I come bearing gifts. Do not worry. I love you."

Dream over.

Dear Father,

Thank You for this beautiful morning! What a beautiful day You have made. You have done so much for Your people. We are so thankful. I am so sorry that there are days where I grumble more than I rejoice. Bless this day, Father. Raise us up from the dead. Transform us and remove our afflictions. Strengthen us and bring Your presence into us so that we can overcome the wicked.

Last night, a song kept playing in my head. It played at all of the waking moments of my restless sleep. 'On this Troubled Day' (Psalm 10). Father, this doesn't happen unless You are speaking to me. I haven't heard this song in years. The following lines kept repeating in my head...

"The wicked in pride pursuing the weak; catch them in schemes they devise; the wicked boasting there is no God; let their own words condemn them, let their own words condemn them; will mortal man terrify your own; no no no more, no no more, no no more; let their own words condemn them, let their own words condemn them."

Oh Father, I just know that all of this has to be from You. Thank You for flowing these wonderful dreams through me. I am grateful that You have filled my empty vessel with refreshing springs from the fountain of my heart. I am grateful that You use my pen to pour out Your love for Your people. I had a vivid dream last night.

Sub-Dream 1 "A celebrity too cold to comfort" begins...

I was transported back to when I was still living in Portland OR. The house had many features and decorations that I had back when my children were much younger. A well-known celebrity singer and a current judge on American Idol then came knocking on my door. I invited her in when she told me she was hiding from someone.

She was wearing a designer dress. While her outfit was stunning, it was also unusual. It had a type of peacock-tail pattern. The rest of her outfit was like something Cleopatra would wear. Spread throughout her outfit were fig leaves. She also wore an elaborate headdress. The overall effect of the fabrics used was to give her a golden glow...

Celebrity: "I am hiding from someone. I need a place to spend the night."

Me: "My children's nursery is available."

I took her to my son's room. It had both a daybed and a round crib. Even though the crib was ridiculously small for her, that is where she chose to rest. She was nervous.

Celebrity: "This crib is perfect for me. Thank you. Could you please get me some blankets? I am very cold."

I started to layer blanket after blanket on her, but she was still just as cold.

Me: "This is my last blanket. I have no more blankets to put on you."

Celebrity: Rolling her eyes in a snobbish manner. "But I am still cold."

Me: "I am sorry, but I am doing the best I can."

Celebrity: In a snooty voice. "Fine."

Sub-Dream 1 over...

When I woke up, I laughed. I had been reading about You cursing the fig tree during Your final week (Mark 11:12-25). Lord, You cursed the tree because You were hungry and there were no figs on the tree. You went to the tree and saw that it had leaves, but it wasn't in due season for figs. You then said to the tree that no one should eat fruit from it again. This happened in the morning and the disciples had heard you. When you all passed it again in the evening, the fig tree had withered from the roots.

Father, You told me many dreams ago about the fig tree. Now this sub-dream seems to be using the leaves from the fig tree as a type of covering for hiding. This feels like a symbol of the fallen world hiding from You and needing cover for their nakedness and shame. Was the tree You cursed originally in the Garden of Eden? Or perhaps it was just a symbol? What I do know is that this tree represents the fall of man.

I have an old painting of a woman at the well. It was in oil on a board. The thrift store must have thought it was a print because they sold it for very little. I bought this a few years back. When I got home, I removed the glass. I was surprised to find it was an original painting, but unsigned. Well, this painting somehow fell. I have never had artwork fall from the wall before, so this seemed to be a sign of how close we are.

After writing down the above dream about the celebrity and the fig leaves, I received an alert on my phone from an app I recently downloaded. This happened while I was sitting in my devotional chair. The app is an Omer counter. It told me that I am not blessed because I missed three days of counting prayers at the appointed time.

Note: This app counts the Omer differently than my husband counts the Omer. This app counts the first day of Omer as always being Nisan 16, the day after the first day of Passover, Nisan 15. In contrast, my husband believes that Resurrection Sunday is always Day 1 of the counting of the Omer, with the counting ending on the Saturday before Pentecost Sunday (seven Sundays from today, or Sunday, May 28, 2023).

Me: "Oh Lord, am I sinning by not counting the Omer correctly? Oh Father, can You please send some fig leaves to cover my shame?" I was half joking, half serious.

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "Erin, I am here and I am with you. There are many ways to look at the fig tree. At the time, I was hungry, but there was no fruit to satisfy My hunger."

Me: "But why curse it when it wasn't even in due season?"

Jesus: "This is because it symbolized something extremely important here... it symbolized faith. While My Word can bring life, it can also bring death. Either way, I have this power given unto Me by My Father. Erin, the Keys to Life and Death are in the power of the tongue. When backed by faith, the power of the tongue is a weapon that can move mountains.

"If a man knows what is true and holy, yet pursues evil anyway, then he has no regard for the laws given to Moses. He instead believes that he has a 'Special Pass' from Me. This is false thinking. Now, what happened after the disciples witnessed Me curse the tree that bore no fruit to satisfy My hunger?"

Me: "You went to the Temple Courts. People were buying and selling in the Temple. This made You very angry. You then told everyone there that it is written in Your Word that Your House is to be called a House of Prayer for all nations, yet it was now instead being used as a den for robbers."

Jesus: "Yes. When the chief priests and teachers of My Law heard about this, they wanted Me dead. Why? This is because I spoke the truth and they knew I was right. My truth shamed them and brought them embarrassment. However, instead of humbling themselves and fixing the problem, they decided that I was the problem.

“They believed that God didn’t have a problem with them because they sacrificed and served. They felt that they were therefore without blemish. Well, they were wrong. Now, to those I have given much to do, in this case as representatives of the Most High God, then what do I require in return?”

Me: “For them to continuously seek and follow Your Will?”

Jesus: “Yes. However, these priests and teachers were not fruitful. They were not practicing the truth. What they proclaimed with their lips was different from their practice. Their actions condemned them. Even more so, they caused others to fall or loosely obey God’s Law. They created a den of thieves. Thieves produce no good fruit. They are barren because God has removed their blessing.

“Now, think of this... how many pastors proclaim the Word of God against God’s people? They are wicked in their heart. They have no fruit. Even their roots are rotten. They shrivel for lack of truth. They are not filled with living water. They instead rob the poor of heart. The power of life and death comes from the tongue. Erin, the serpent lies to the innocent, confuses the unknowing and deceives all to cause sin and shame.

“The enemy wants to separate God’s people from all that is good and all that He has planned for them... life more abundant. The serpent presents false fruitfulness and deceives with promises of good. Well, he is barren and delivers only spiritual death. He is a destroyer of all that is good and holy. Once a person falls into the serpent’s trap, they then sin and feel shame.

“The serpent then reveals to them their great sin and accuses them using guilt. These then become their shackles. They go from freedom into a prison of guilt and shame. My people suffer from a lack of truth. You are experiencing what this fall looks like. Many nations have fallen or are in the process of falling. Evil nations appear to be rising all around you.”

Me: “Oh Lord, please help us. If most of Your people are lost because they lack knowledge, then please send them help. Reveal Yourself to them. Easter is about You. Lord, as You conquered death. You defied evil. You set all of us free from the death of sin. Oh Lord, please don’t be silent any longer.”

Jesus: “Erin, I come differently this time. I come as a Winnowing fork to separate those who are wheat from those who are tares. I will be using a fork with many prongs. There will be great jealousy and anger about how I use My fork. Those who are scholars of My Word that were not called by Me will then proclaim to all who will listen...

- That God would never use a fork to separate wheat from the tares.
- That God would instead use a fork to separate the wheat from the chaff.
- That it was therefore not God who chose the prongs of this fork.
- That God would know of all the things he did for God.

"Erin, even after this, they will still not turn and humble themselves. I will then proclaim that they are fools that knew Me not. While those who humble themselves will be forgiven, those who exalt themselves will not see My mercy. The religious hypocrites in today's culture know very little about Me because they do not go deep into My Word.

"They instead repackage other people's sermons to come across as having great knowledge. Well, if they must use another's work, dried and preserved fruit, then at some point they will be exposed and naked. My Word is like fruit on a large tree. It constantly produces good fruit and it never falls out of season.

"Erin, I am readying those I have called to be prepared for what I am about to do. You do not fully understand what this is until the moment I present it. You feel in Your Spirit great anticipation for this Great Move of God. You are both full of joy and fear. However, be at peace as I am with you."

Me: "But evil is increasing so rapidly now! It becomes worse every day. Please hurry."

Jesus: "I do all things in Due Season. Do not worry. Remember that things are darkest before the dawn. Oh yes... don't allow yourself to be shamed by that app. Come to Me for your counting. Day or night, I will bless you. These are lovers of the law and are punishers ready to shame those who do not know what to do."

Me: "I learned by studying."

Jesus: "I am the God who blesses. I determine this. So, what they are saying is, 'If I do this and this, then I will get this'. Well, I don't follow a formula. Now, I will still bless those who diligently follow My laws. However, they must let Me have their heart. Your heart in this matter is good. Many would delete this practice altogether."

Me: "Should I delete my app?"

Jesus: "I am with you. There is no condemnation for earnestly seeking Me. That is ridiculous. Now, while they are counting and not yet finished, I will have made great changes. Hopefully, they can take time to see it and look up for a moment."

Me: "You are awesome, Lord."

Jesus: "You are loved! Do not worry as I am with you. I have Risen and I have the Keys. Just wait to see what I am about to unlock!"

688 – The Signs of Matthew 24 are here

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day! Thank You for Your great blessings of beautiful weather. Thank You for all You continue to do. Father, we surrender our house to You. Please continue to keep us safe. Please keep our Nest sheltered, as well as all of our Sparrow Family. Father, let not one be lost. Please continue to cover us and be our shelter during these difficult times.

The people of God are helpless against the great spread of evil. It has come in like a tsunami and with very little warning. Father, You are more powerful than all of this. You are greater than our fears. Your people are being slaughtered all over the world for their love for You. Perhaps You should just come and bring us Home now. I no longer want to spread the Good News if there are no ears to hear. It feels senseless.

Does anyone out there look for You? Our Nest does. We do. Random people do. Does anyone have prayers of fight in them to war against what has come? Father, we are here waiting. Your people are greatly weakened. Our spiritual food has been stripped. Our churches are fading. The message of Good News is being muted. People are losing faith.

2020 was the year of fear and destruction. The last three years have been the dismantling of all that was good in our country into all that is evil. Our beautiful nation has been thrown down. Things we once loved have now been removed. The children of the nation are disillusioned. They have been taught to hate their parents. Father, are You seeing this? We are in shock here. No one knows how to react.

Leaders are openly corrupt. Many of our pulpits have been defiled. The world is plunging into darkness. We surrender all to You, Father. Please help us. Every Scripture about what we will see at the end is happening now. I have to be honest. I just read several versions of Matthew 24. Father, I am discouraged that things are so scary now. All of the items listed in Matthew 24 are happening now.

There is no need to search for clues as to timing as the time is now. I have been so sad, Father. The anguish that I feel now goes into my very bones. I wake up in the night and my heart grieves. I am in pain. My heart hurts. More than this, crippling pain hits random parts of my body at varying times. Are these growing pains or the signs of something more serious?

Father, I love You. I believe in Your Miracles. I serve You in all I do. I write down all the words You call me to write. Each day is a new day with You. I never know where You will take me, but I go willingly with You. I love You and I know You will not forsake me. I listened to the song by Ryan Ellis 'Gonna be alright' and I believe this.

Still, Father, my heart is breaking. Please don't forget Your Great Revival, Your Great Harvest, Your Great Miracles and Your Power over all of the Earth. The people of the Earth have been deceived. Jesus, You are our only hope and our only Savior. We can't start a revival without You, Father. You are the root of all we are. We need You!

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "Erin, I am here and I am with you. Remember Hezekiah. The city was besieged, surrounded by a mighty army. The people were terrified. The army taunted the people with a promise to quickly conquer them. They threatened to destroy everything they had come to depend on as their place of safe refuge."

Me: "This is happening now, Lord. We are being invaded."

Jesus: "Yes, Erin, I know. The enemy took their joy and made it a time of terror instead. So, Hezekiah was sent a message through the Prophet Isaiah. First, the good news of what God had planned for His people. This was followed by what He was about to do with their enemies. Did God not then send an angel of the Lord to strike down thousands of Assyrians in their encampments? Erin, I send you comfort, as well as words of promise, comfort and hope. Do not forget this.

"Now, I have heard your prayers. It is I who is in you. I will defend you and your house. No weapons formed against you shall prosper... not one. So, take a lesson from Hezekiah after the word to him came through the prophet. Hezekiah stood up and said, 'I lack the capability to pursue them and I have no energy to sing to God. I will now go to sleep and You, God, will do all that needs to be done.' He then slept. In turn, God struck down Hezekiah's enemies.

"If every leader trusted in God like this, no nation would have enemies. Now, remember this... if God can do this based on the circumstances, is there anything beyond His reach? Erin, nothing is beyond His love and mercy."

Me: "Yes, of course... all is within Your reach! I am sorry, Lord, it is just that...well, evil increases faster than the good news spreads right now... well, that is, if there really is any good news out there at all anymore."

Jesus: "Yes, I know. However, can you Trust Me a little longer? Erin, I see the evil increase. Remember... I have heard the plots of the wicked and know their plans. The nations have turned from God and His Statutes. So, what shall be done? What is true and just? What is good?"

Me: "Lord, You have every right to punish the nations! Such vile things are on display. They are unholy and sickening. My stomach turns. Still, Lord, think of those who still love You. Think of those who do not know You, but would still like a Savior. Think of things of Heaven. Perhaps some would turn to You if they only knew.

"The veil of evil has fogged the eyes of the people and evil is called good and good is called evil. How confusing this must be for the young? Lord, how long will You let evil advance against the people? Matthew 24 was crafted to represent that final hour. It is here, Lord. Just based on Your Word, it is here. Please help us, Lord."

Jesus: "I have heard you. I am here. I promise you that I am over all things. Evil does not win. The righteous will reside in Heaven. God does not forget anyone whose heart is longing for Me. I am here. Take comfort. I have not forgotten. I love you. Remember that now is not the time to lose hope. The hour is late. Don't give in to the gods of this world as they have no good plans concerning you or those whose hearts are turned to Me."

Me: "The increase in evil is everywhere. How can we possibly avoid it now?"

Jesus: "Make no mistake... none of you are hidden from your pursuer. However, you are Mine first and with Me is where you reside. Be on alert as you go about your days. Pray as I have called angels concerning you to guard you in all you do. Now, do not focus more on the wicked and their way.

"Remember that I am on the right hand seated next to My Father in Heaven. We are more powerful than the enemy. I am also with you. My Voice is in you. I am here and on call day and night, on all the watches. I am here when you cry. I hear. Before you call out, I will answer you.

“Now rejoice as something wonderful is on the way for My people, even for those who do not yet know they are Mine. Pray for the lost. Rejoice, Erin, for you are loved.”

689 – The Black Waters Turned Clear

Received on Wednesday, April 12, 2023

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day here. Thank You for these amazing dreams from You. I had an interesting dream last night...

Sub-Dream 1 “The Black Waters Turned Clear” begins...

I looked as if I was back in my mid-twenties. I was with my daughter. We had been invited to a boat party at a high-end yacht club. The area looked like Hilton Head Island or something similar. We came by invitation. We then had several confirmation calls to make sure we were going to be there. When we arrived, we both knew that we were walking into some type of trap.

The water surrounding the pier was pitch-black and thick like crude oil. The hosts offered us each $1,000,000 to dive in. We looked at each other and laughed. Without hesitation, we both jumped off the dock and into the black water. In an instant, the water turned crystal clear. It had never been clear before. You could see to the bottom where there was white sand and seashells. The water was a light blue green.

As we swam, a boatload of partiers pulled up. We were invited onboard. We had a type of celebrity status now as the partiers had seen what had happened to the water. Cheers then started to ring out as people began to jump into the water.

Before long though, the hosts who had set a trap for us were beginning to be evil towards us again. In response, my daughter put her hand in the water. It instantly turned back to pitch-black. The partiers in the water cried out.

Partiers: “Please ask God if He can have you turn the water clear again!”

Me: “Not right now. We changed it back to dark water because the hosts were planning evil against my daughter and me.”

In response, the partiers attacked the hosts, driving them away.

Partiers: "How about now?"

My daughter and I smiled at each other as we jumped in the water again. The water cleared again and everyone cheered. We then saw a small, beautiful sailboat waiting offshore for us. We swam over to it and climbed on board.

Partiers: Calling out to us. "Thank you! Come back and swim with us soon."

We sailed back over and spoke to them from the sailboat...

Me: "If all of you want to be healed and swim in clear water for eternity, you must all get out and then dive back in without thinking."

They all climbed back onboard the yacht. They then took turns jumping off the yacht and into the clear water. All had now accepted Jesus as their Savior and were swimming in the beautiful water. We then sailed across the bay to another mooring dock area. We were then met there by the parents of the partiers that had just been saved. Each of the parents wanted to give us an enormous amount of money for helping their children be saved by Jesus.

Daughter: "We have no need for your money. We are God's completely and He is our bank. Thank you though."

A couple: "Please let us give you something. You even cleared our water. We own a beautiful island here and we can build a house for you. Can we do this for you?"

Another couple: "We would like to pitch in on this. We can make it a slice of Heaven here for you. Please!"

We both realized that they were not going to let us go without blessing us. We then agreed to this. Jesus confirmed that we were okay to do this.

One of the women: Shouting. "I will get Bunny Williams to design it. She designed our place. She is one of the best designers around."

Daughter: "Who here does not know our Lord yet? Does anyone need healing?"

Me: "If so, come into the water. The water is refreshing and clear."

Even though these people were uppity socialites when we first got there, they all dove headfirst into the water without hesitation. God gave us the Words and we spread the Good News to all of them. All were saved and all were healed.

Daughter and me together: "Praise You, Jesus! Praise You, Father! Please bless all of these people in Your Mighty Name, in Jesus' Name!"

All of them stayed in the water. They hugged each other and apologized for all of the wrongs they had done to each other. It was awesome. The young partiers had now come over and saw their parents in the water. They immediately dove in to join them. Several hundred had now been saved and healed. My daughter and I walked back down the pier. We waved bye and they waved in return with such joy and happiness.

Note: The next part of this sub-dream seemed 'personal', but we weren't sure. This next part didn't make a lot of sense to us, but perhaps it will to you. We didn't see the harm in sharing this 'just in case'. I should also note that my daughter does not ski.

My daughter had a meeting in a room with her boss and was waiting for her in a large empty room. The room had two white, uncomfortable, wooden school chairs from around the 1950s. The boss had a clipboard and sat facing my daughter about eight feet apart from her.

Boss: "I know you had planned to work this winter at the ski resort. However, two came up before you who are more skilled at skiing. While you will have no work during the month of January, you will still need to take this time off without pay."

Daughter: "Why worry about January when it is so far away. In fact, this is over 8 months from now. I am sure I can find paid work by then for January."

Boss: "Are you not hearing me? You are not allowed to."

Daughter: "Wait! Are you saying that you are not going to pay me and you are not going to allow me to be paid by someone else? Hmm, this makes no sense. Well, I have no need to work. Please accept my notice effective immediately."

Boss: "What? No! Wait!" She pretended to check her phone. "Oh, wait... never mind... I have a paid place for you after all during January. My bad."

Daughter: "I am sorry, but I do not believe you. I am quitting."

Boss: "You can't. You can't. Stop."

Daughter: "Too late. I just did."

We joined back up and quickly walked back to the pier to the sailboat. However, my daughter could not follow me out onto the pier. There was now a great celebration complete with fireworks. Everyone, both young and old, were now all swimming in the healing water. I had tears as it was just so amazing to behold.

Sub-Dream 1 over.

Me: "Father, that was a fun dream! You are incredible. I read about Your miracles this morning. It was a note of encouragement. Based on Matthew 19:26, we learn that things impossible for man are possible with You. What an amazing reminder of Your Great Power, Father! You are amazing. There is so much more to you than we can even comprehend. This is just a small amount and doesn't even include all You are about to do. Incredible! Oh Father, who is like You? Not one!"

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "Erin, I am here and I am with you. Even with this, you are still worried about the events around you."

Me: "Yes, Lord, even though I know I shouldn't be worried. It seemed the nation was mostly blessed just a few short years ago. Wrong was still wrong and right was still right. People cared. Most dark activities were just that... dark and not made public. When it was this way, none of us truly knew the horrible things being done in secret. We all went to church and did what we thought was right and law abiding.

"It was rare to encounter someone possessed by a demonic spirit. If one did, they would remember the encounter vividly. These encounters were few and far between. As for now, there is just so much bizarre behavior that I encounter daily. Perhaps it is where we live, but I don't think so. I believe this strange behavior is now taking place everywhere."

Jesus: "There has been an increase in demonic activity because many have given themselves over to their sins. It begins small, increases quickly and then becomes much more extreme. Then there are those who claim to be Christian, but yet are not repentant. The enemy then weaponizes them and increases evil within them. Most are unaware as the veil over them keeps them from recognizing their actions.

"The armies of the wicked have increased their activities greatly. They will not be exposed until My Army and My Sword of Truth bring them all into repentance. They will simply have no choice. You are experiencing what things are like because evil is increasing with great volume. Remember that a flood or a torrent cannot be controlled by anyone else but Me. Through Me, I will provide peace and rest. I will keep evil far from you."

Me: "Lord, please hurry. Please move at 'The Speed of Increase'. Oh Lord, we need some Mighty Miracles from You now."

Jesus: "Good! I have quite a few ones and all are perfect for this time. There will be no counterfeit. Do not worry as all that you are experiencing had to occur first before My Perfect Timing. It is good to remember My Works. Even though it seems as if I am inactive or have 'left the Earth 2000 years ago', I can assure you that I have not.

"The spirit realm all know that I am about to do something. Why? Because even they know of God and the things of Heaven. As a result, the demons are terrified. Do not worry as all will change. It will all change because I am here. Now rejoice and do not be afraid. The only ones who should be afraid are those destined for the Lake of Fire. Rest in Me as I am with you."

690 – Beware of the Enemy’s Entry Points

Dear Father,

Thank You for a beautiful Spring Day! Thank You for all that You do. There is no God like You. It has been a busy morning outside. I walked around our yard and spotted six buzzards overhead across the road near some pine trees. Along with the buzzards was one very large hawk or a young eagle. Unfortunately, I did not have my camera handy to zoom up on them. However, I did have a couple of cool dreams last night...

Sub-Dream 1 “God’s Precious Bread of Life” begins...

I was thanking God when I asked Him to be the only ingredient in the recipe of our lives. I then saw various images that I knew were ‘cooking attributes’ of our Most High God. While there are many more attributes, these were the ones related to creating the Precious Bread of Life...

- Lord, You are the flour, the greatest ingredient in our daily bread.
- Lord, You are the baking powder that makes the substance rise up to make it lighter.
- Lord, You are the egg that binds the ingredients together.
- Lord, You are the salt that enhances the flavor.
- Lord, You are the butter that makes everything mouthwatering.
- Lord, You are the sugar that makes all of it sweeter.

God, You are the Perfect Ingredient in every recipe. Father, You make everything come together. Thank You, Father!

Sub-Dream 1 over...

Sub-Dream 2 “Beware of the Enemy’s Entry Points” begins...

My husband and I, along with our children, purchased a stucco home in a distant city that I didn’t recognize. While it seemed like California, I was not sure. We had to remodel a few areas that had been neglected by the previous owner. One area was a back bedroom with a wooden plank door with an odd latch. To open the door, a lever was moved from up to down in the middle of the door.

The windows had been painted instead of using window coverings. We moved in and prepared the rest of the home. Before we started remodeling this room, we discovered that it was attached to a dining room, a sitting room and a powder room. After discovering this, we began to clean it up. While cleaning, a group of young 'creative tech people' began to move in. They claimed to have leased these areas.

They brought in their high-tech equipment. Though I tried, I could never discern exactly what the nature of their business was. They only worked business hours and never encroached into our main living area. One weekend, a man stood in our bedroom at the foot of our bed. He was deaf and seemed mentally disturbed. He was very tall and was wearing light green pajamas. We guided him outside several times.

We finally phoned the authorities because he had now come into our daughters' bedrooms as well. We couldn't figure out how this man had entered our house. We then found out that he had come in by the plank door with the odd latch. When we went back to this room, there were now white millet seeds everywhere. It was so thick on the floor that it probably measured two inches deep. It made no sense why this was.

My husband and I then decided to fix the area and to also cancel the lease for the young techies. We wanted to take back what we rightfully owned. All of this had been purchased by us using God's provision in order for us to do God's Will. When we informed the young techies of our decision, they were not happy with us at all.

Techie 1: "Okay, let me get this straight... you evict the old man from his room so he wanders and can't sleep. He therefore no longer has a home. What did you then expect? As for us, we saw a great unoccupied space and decided to move in."

Techie 2: "Yes... and don't forget that it was you who let us in. You didn't even take the time to check the lease to see if it was actually legit."

I looked over at my husband and I could tell that he was no longer going to tolerate their condescending manner. He had 'that look' that I know so well when he was about to put his foot down.

My husband: "Okay, that's it. Out now. In the Name of Jesus, get out right now. Take your bed and the rest of your stuff and get out. You have no business here."

They were about to argue with us. However, before they could, my husband reached for my hand. I knew he was going to 'pray them out'.

My husband: Loudly. "Please remove these intruders from our sight and bar the door to them. While they won't listen to us, every single person HAS to listen to You. We ask You to remove them, in Your Mighty Name, in Jesus' Name, Amen."

Immediately after praying, everyone was gone, along with their stuff. To our delight, the plank door was also removed. All was now how the original owner had built it. There was no need to remodel. The door and surrounding area that the enemy had permission to come in was now completely removed. We were so grateful to God for doing this for us.

Sub-Dream 2 over...

Me: "Lord, if there are any open doors in which the enemy is free to come and go, please remove this immediately in Your Mighty Name. I just know that the hour is late and not just by our standards, but also by Your standards."

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "Erin, I am here and I am with you. Do not worry. These are good lessons in Spiritual Warfare. The demonic realm is like a home invader. It first sends out a scout to see where it can enter. It then goes in. Once discovered by the owner, it is immediately removed. However, it is important to know that the owner often is then looking for more of the same to enter by the way it first came.

"Now though, they have become cleverer and more than try to come in by another way. Do not forget this. Since the first door is now too obvious, the enemy looks for a new way in. Erin, be alert to this. The enemy can even come disguised as a savior. All need to be aware like you do that the only True Savior is Me. If one studies the Real Deal continuously... that is, Me... the counterfeit then becomes obvious."

Me: "Could he even come in disguised as a handyman, worker or installer?"

Jesus: "Yes. However, again, this is obvious. It is instead via an unexpected new door. Erin, this is a warning for all of My people... the enemy hates My Bride. This is why they have now sent a massive wave of deception."

Me: "Hmm, like a wave of young techies. This makes sense given that technology now powers all of our 'modern conveniences'."

Jesus: "Be careful as they are also modifying My Word and changing what is true so that My Bride becomes confused."

Me: "Lord, please stop the enemy. They are moving faster than we can even be aware of. Please protect all of Your people. Please forgive us if we have unknowingly allowed evil to enter. The difference between our time now and even forty years ago is the complexity of the doors. These doors then become avenues for the enemy to deceive us. Please shut down the enemy from getting a foothold upon Your people. Please let us not paint our windows to keep out Your light. We love You!"

Jesus: "Erin, this dream is a warning that there are threats. Shore up your doors and windows and it will be okay. I am here to guide you. These dreams are meant to keep all of you sharp while you wait."

Me: "But, Lord, it has already been several years. We are tired. Please make Your Great Move now, as in NOW! Only You can defeat the enemy. We are weak."

Jesus: "Yes, I know. However, this time now is different from other times in the past. I told you years ago that, as you drew closer to My Great Harvest Season, all the signs would become clearer. Erin, all of the Prophets' Words had to come to life and be fulfilled as it is written... even by My own Words.

"Do not worry as I am with you. The Kingdom of Heaven is near... even at the door. Erin, this door will be opened to you and also to those whose hearts are on Me. Enjoy this day. I am with you, your house and our Nest."

Dream over.

691 – The Pouring out of the Grain Harvest

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day! Thank You for Your love. Thank You for all we have. You are wonderful in all of Your works. I was reminded today of the very first Word You gave me. It was in the Boise State University Library in the Fall of 1983. It was in either September or October. You told me, 'Be still and know that I am God'. I would later find out that this was from Psalm 46:10.

This morning, I pulled out this exact Scripture card from a very old source. It was from Zondervan's Daily Manna Promise Box. While it was supposed to contain 176 promises from God, mine contained only 104 promises. While one could say this is a sign that we are missing some of God's promises, we would then assure them that we have way more than 176 promises contained in these dreams. I am very thankful for this.

I had recently purchased this Promise Box from a thrift store. It is very old. I would like to think that, as this little box moved through the years, whoever had possession of it treasured certain promises from You, carrying them close daily. I am sure they did, but, for some reason, they eventually were unable to make it back to them whereas I was able to buy them. Psalm 46:10 on this Scripture card contained the following poem...

Poem: "Lord, I believe Thy Power I own, Thy Word I would obey. I wander comfortless and alone when from Thy Truth I stray."

When I meditated on this Scripture and the poem, I was reminded of how I was back in 1983. I was consumed with an extreme anxiety affliction. My eating disorder and exercise extremes were truly difficult to believe. I was not yet aware that I had a heart arrhythmia that could kill me. More importantly, I had a 'heart condition'. I was not still. I did not know God even though He was calling me.

Back then, I was alone in my thoughts. I was comfortless. I soon started to know more fully that there was 'a God'. Lord, You were right there. However, it was another ten years before I would stop running from

You. I wished I had known back then what I know now. Father, You used an analogy with me this morning.

I was a dancer who stayed in shape by running. I ran from you and fast. Lord, I hid from You. I now run to You. I long for the day I can dance again as in my youth. I long for the day I can dance before You instead of mourning. You will then turn my mourning into dancing (Psalm 30:11). Blessed are You, Father.

When I woke up this morning, I chased the memory of an epic dream. Father, You reminded me that You are the Creator of my dreams. You reminded me that there is no need for me to struggle to remember any of my dreams as You will remind me of the dream's contents when needed. I had a dream yesterday..

Sub-Dream 1 "The Pole of a Rake strikes my right side" begins...

I was walking up some concrete stairs. I looked away from where I was walking for just a moment. During that moment, I accidentally stepped on a rake head. The pole then sprung up and hit me on the right side of my head. I was then taken immediately to my bedroom. I then heard a very loud knock on our bedroom door. I called out and no one answered. This finally woke me up from my dream.

Sub-Dream 1 over...

Wanting to investigate the knock, I got out of bed and went down the hallway to my daughter's room. I was still half asleep. I knocked on her door. She was getting ready for an early shift.

Daughter: "Come in, mom."

Me: "Are you okay? Did you just knock?"

Daughter: "No, mom. It must have happened in your sleep. Go back to sleep, mom. All is fine."

I could tell that she was amused with me as she had a big smile. While I know she wasn't judging me for doing this, I still felt a little bit foolish. When I then went to splash some water on my face, I noticed that a blood vessel on my right eye had broken. I didn't like the look of my eye as a result. I then had another dream...

Sub-Dream 2 "The Mixing of the Separate Grains" begins...

I was looking at a stone floor. Gathered in a circle were offerings of six different grains from six different crops. Each presenter came with a burlap sack with folded over edges that revealed the grain each presented...

- One had barley.

- Another wheat.
- Another millet.
- I was not sure of the other three.

In the middle of the circle of six grains was a large bowl. I heard the voice of an angel of the Lord speak to the harvesters...

Angel: "Each of you are to remove three portions (or scoops) and pour them into the center large bowl."

Each harvester then did exactly as the angel instructed. When they were finished, the angel addressed them again.

Angel: "Now mix all six together thoroughly."

Each harvester then took turns mixing the grains completely. The angel again addressed them once they were done mixing.

Angel: "Now that these have been mixed, pour them out onto the threshing floor. It is time!"

Sub-Dream 2 over...

While there was so much more to the dream, I do not remember it. I know very little about grains. I am spoiled because, when I purchase grains, they are already threshed, separated and ground into flour for baking. On the other hand, I personally know what it feels like to be ground up and pounded. I now know that this was necessary in order to be useful to You for Your purposes.

Father, we are facing some difficult decisions ahead. Some of this seems scary. Since we can do nothing on our own, we must then rely on You. Since Your Grace is sufficient, we surrender all things to You. You then nudged me to pull out a second Scripture Card...

Isaiah 59:19: "So shall they fear the name of the Lord from the west, and his glory from the rising of the sun. When the enemy shall come in like a flood, the Spirit of the Lord shall lift up a standard against him."

Poem: "Be thou near me, keep and cheer me, through life's dark and stormy way. Turn my sadness into gladness, turn my darkness into day."

In Scripture, this was about Israel's separation from God. God's favor had now departed. Everything looked very dark. Israel's army was very weak. The enemy had already captured the northern tribes and were now eyeing Judah. They especially desired Jerusalem. This Scripture is incredible because it mentions 'lifting up a standard'.

This speaks of a battle standard set high over both the army and the enemy. This represents a power much greater than the enemy had expected. This portion of Scripture sets the tone for God to turn and hear the cries of His people. He can then rescue and redeem them to display His Great Glory and Majesty over the Earth. Oh Father, You are so awesome! Please hurry!

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "Erin, I am here and I am with you. Thank You for spending time with Me today when you were tempted to do something else (in this case, a traveling antique fare)."

Me: "Oh Lord, I am so sore today. I have been dizzy lately. My pain has come back. Please heal me. Please heal us. Please heal our home and our Nest. We are all tired. Quite simply, all of this waiting is exhausting. Please show us what to do next."

Jesus: "I am with you. If I say nothing, it is a 'no'... for now. However, it is also because I have something greater for you that is in progress. Though at times you feel forsaken, I am here. My Voice is in you. My favor is with you. I have not brought you into destruction. Remember that I know the plans I have for you."

Me: "Lord, what was that dream of the grains about?"

Jesus: "Judgment. As the enemy has sought to divide, conquer and destroy the people, I am a Standard above his army. My harvesters will now gather 1/3rd of the grains from their fields and offer these into the center bowl for mixing. There will then be a separating. Only that which is good will then remain."

Me: "Lord, this seems like such a small number."

Jesus: "This is very good. This will make a wonderful offering. This will now be the best flour after it is ground. It will be a bread unlike any other."

Me: "What is to happen to the other 2/3rd of the harvest?"

Jesus: "It too shall be threshed. A great wind will then come and lift away the chaff. This is so only the good then remains. This is the grain harvest. However, there is also the grape harvest and the olive harvest. Right now, you do not understand much of this. This means you must trust Me. This harvest is unlike anything the world has ever seen. It is a Standard of God above the wicked in which evil can do nothing to prevail against it. Then comes a Great Day. This is the day I come to gather the harvest.”

Me: “Is this ‘The Day of the Lord’?”

Jesus: “Yes. Now, as you Count the Omer, read for yourself the blessing and I will help you to receive it. While you tend to skip over all of this, change your thought process and count it as good.”

Me: “I am sorry, Lord, but I need to take this more seriously. I will receive the blessing.”

Jesus: “Remember that the size of a mustard seed is much smaller than a millet seed, yet just a fraction of faith of the mustard can move a mountain.”

Me: “Oh Lord, I still do not understand what You mean.”

Jesus: “I require very little of you because it is I who will increase your Faith through Me in you. With Me in you... and when it is time... there will be nothing you cannot do. Now rejoice, Erin, as you have spent time with Me in greater measure today. Rejoice then as I will rise up in greater measure through you. You are loved.”

As I went to place the Scripture Cards back in the Promise Box, two new cards fell out. I decided to write down both of them.

Genesis 28:15: “And, behold, I am with thee, and will keep thee in all places whither thou goest, and will bring thee again into this land; for I will not leave thee, until I have done that which I have spoken to thee of.”

Poem: “Yesterday He helped me, today I will praise His Name, because I know tomorrow He’ll help me just the same.”

Romans 8:31: “What shall we then say to these things? If God be for us, who can be against us?”

Poem: “When we in darkness walk, nor feel the heavenly flame, then is the time to trust our God and rest upon His Name.”

Me: “Oh Lord, I praise You for this wisdom. I praise You for You have done great things! Thank You, Jesus, for being our Best Friend at all times.”

Jesus: “You are welcome. I am here with you!”

Dream over.

692 – God is Greater than the Evil One

Communion

Thank You for another day! The spring rains have come. Please bless our area and let this be the best spring ever. Father, I am deeply concerned over several events wherein it was based on information You gave me. At first, I was fearful to write this. It focuses on a parking garage that collapsed in New York City yesterday. You spoke to me about all of this...

Voice of Jesus: "I give the people warning after warning of impending troubles. Still, none turns their ears to hear nor do they drop to their knees and humble themselves before Me. What do you see, Erin."

Me: After a Holy Download. "The Five Ws. Who, what, when, where and why. Questions that need to be asked here. In what way? By what means? Who was affected? Well, the workers in the garage and the car owners were affected. One walked away uninjured, four were injured and one was killed."

Jesus: "Very good. Now elaborate on this."

Me: "Narrowing the people first. We look to the workers and the owners of the cars."

Jesus: "Okay, but think larger."

Me: "Perhaps this represents the auto industry."

Jesus: "Okay, what happened?"

Me: "This event involved the collapse of a five-story building. The first breach was the collapse of the second floor onto the first floor. Five survived and were pulled out. One was killed. It had a total of 23 violations against it over the last several years. Of these 23 violations, 19 were completed and 4 were pending. The building was unstable. Oh Lord, does this mean that the auto industry is about to collapse? Will one escape unharmed? Will four be hurt? Will one die? The garage was in the financial district of Manhattan. Will our dollar soon collapse?"

Jesus: "Okay, now you are going ahead of the signs. Now, let Me tell you this... corrupt leaders have risen, corrupt leaders whom the people did not elect. The corruption has now expanded. By the words of the mayor (of NYC)... 'the building was completely unstable.' This seems obvious when you look at this from My view. Well, as far as My view sees it, the entire city is unstable. This is because God has been evicted by its leaders and even the residents. However, God is the Owner and the Creator.

"Now, it seems as if squatters have taken over this once Great Gateway to a beautiful land. I do not tolerate those who serve the gods and practice lies. There is a coming storm and it involves this city and the finances of the nation. There are evil entities that are the enemy of the people. They have taken over as the people lack knowledge and do not know Me."

Me: "Oh Lord, please help. Please send revival first. If one industry, perhaps the auto industry, collapses on the first floor, which would be ground level of the financial district, then the others will fall. They said the garage floors collapsed like a stack of pancakes."

Jesus: "The foundation is unstable. It was made that way in four years. The country is unstable because the enemy is at the gates tearing down the cities. It will be a ripple effect. Erin, in order for a Great Nation to turn to God, it must be humbled."

Me: "Lord, but I thought... Well, I had hoped..."

Jesus: "It's simple. Keep this simple. Through Me, there is life and more abundance. With Me, a nation flourishes, grows, prospers and nothing can come against it with any success. A life lived for Me is prosperous. The favor of God is behind you, before you, over you and beside you. Now, what is required? What is the Greatest of My 'Ten' Commandments?"

Me: "To love You and Your Father with all of my heart, mind and soul."

Jesus: "Very good. Then where are we here?"

Me: "Staying the course, Lord. I am terrified apart from You. There would be no hope."

Jesus: "So many have dropped away from God. The nations have grown darker as there is no good. Only evil prospers apart from God. You must use My Word to see the history of the rise of evil leaders. What is now occurring is meant to cause instability. There is always a root. Apart from God, these civilizations eventually collapse.

"Remember that this is the same pattern and course because evil does not bring about good fruit from a wicked branch or rotten root. What you see all around you is a great acceleration of destruction of all that was once good. You are seeing nations now separating from the once great nation. This moves faster as lawlessness rises and fear gains a foothold.

"Leaders appear as laughing stocks and weak. The borders are open and anyone is now able to enter in. The wicked are taking all of the storehouses of oil, food, resources and even gold. The leaders are giving it away for pennies to people who are ungrateful. The nation has given rise to its captors. They scoff and laugh. They say, 'Will the nation now not pay us to come in and rescue it by plunder and make the citizens slaves?'

"Erin, make no mistake... all of this was planned. There is a great attack to try and destroy this land dedicated to God. Their hope is that those who enjoy peace in God there would then be destroyed. Erin, you are experiencing the collapse of a building built on shifting sand. God's people are in the midst of the collapse. Everyone but the world's elite are now experiencing the negative effects of all of this.

"Now, 19 was the number of years given to turn back. Covid-19 then came. Unrest, destruction and great chaos then came. Churches were shuttered and many turned from God. The only thing that could change everything is prayer, but very few prayed. Evil increased and corruption entered in to silence the truth.

"Christians then became the target to silence. An evil leader and his army were raised up within the nation. He set out to collapse it. His great plan is to destroy all of the people, save a few of his loyal subjects. He has an army of unholy worshippers. Anyone opposed to him is marked for destruction."

Me: "Lord, please stop this. Is there anything we can do at all?"

Jesus: "Keep your sights fixed on Me and pray. Erin, I have you. Do not worry."

I then went about my day concerned about all that He had just spoken to me about. I drove into town. I prayed that God's Will be done in all things. I had a dream last night that horrified me...

Sub-Dream 1 "False Parents lure the Children" begins...

I saw a group of children looking for their parents to come home.

One child: "There is mom. She is out there."

A second child: "No, we have to stay and wait."

A third child: "Hey, dad is out there. He needs help. He is in the trees."

I then saw the children walk outside into the yard to greet their parents. However, the parents were actually illusions. The children were instantly struck down.

Sub-Dream 1 over..

I woke up and prayed. I was startled by what I saw. Father, deception is increasing. Would I run outside if I saw what I thought was You? I hope not, but does anyone truly know? It is all so disturbing.

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "Erin, I am here and I am with you. Do not worry. My Voice is in you. However, this is a wise concern based on what you see coming. You ask, 'How can someone who loves the Lord be lured out of a place of safety?'"

Me: "Deception? I realize that the enemy is very smart. While he may seem confused and crazy, he really is neither. They have created great distractions so they can advance an extremely wicked scheme against the children of God and against the innocent. In my dream, children were longing for their parents to come home and comfort them.

"Lord, please help us all. I heard that this new technology could change the brain without a person knowing it. It can be used to lie and to even change history. It will destroy all of civilization if You don't step in. This is worse than the Tower of Babel. It could change the Bible. It could mimic You. People will be deceived."

Jesus: "Erin, I come with the Sword of Truth. Remember that man would not survive unless the evil of those days were cut short. Remember that I am God over all things. Now, I will not let you be deceived or your children. Do not worry. Stand watch. Only do as I instruct you. I am here. Do not worry."

Me: "Lord, they want to take our meat, our cars, our eggs, and now our rice. Will they come for our oxygen next? They have taken our freedom and our churches. They will soon come for our money and our homes. They will call in our loans. They will steal our titles. They will..."

Jesus: "Erin, throughout history, this is what the enemy strives for. He constricts as if a snake that chokes its prey. It is difficult to even know how to escape. The snake proclaims that his way is better. It then slowly removes all freedoms. As in a war.. consider this and remember.. the enemy surrounds the encampment and restricts food, information, water and supplies.

“He restricts communication and the transmission of information. His mission is to not allow Good News. He instead wants to disparage, discourage, divide, separate and deceive. He turns brother against brother, children against parents and parents against children. Then, while all of the commotion in the encampment is occurring, he continues his course of controlling everything coming in and out of the area.

“He then controls food, water and medical care. He controls all of it. This way he can now declare shortages where there are really none. By creating more and more fear, the enemy makes people adjust to less and less of what they use to enjoy until they are either too weak to rise up or too exhausted to stand against it.

“If the enemy had revealed his position at the start, the people would have resisted. The enemy instead behaves like a constricting snake. It is patient and surrounds and tightens. It soon tightens so much that its prey is overcome and then consumed whole.”

Me: “This is a horrible way to die... in darkness and all alone. Oh Lord, this kind of death is just awful.”

Jesus: “While this is true, remember that I am here. If the people turn to Me, I will then hear their cries. I will turn My face toward them and I will rescue them.”

Me: “Your people need You, even the ones who don’t know they need You. I didn’t know how enriched my life could be until You came. I am so thankful. I was in darkness. You saved me and I am ruined for this life because I long for Heaven with You. This world becomes darker every day. Lord, I often wonder about just how bad all of this will soon become.”

Jesus: “Do not worry. While I know this might not make sense to you, the things of Heaven under God’s Kingdom are advanced. They are advanced far beyond what I have allowed you to see. Remember that cell phones, televisions and other technology had a root from somewhere. All creativity, inventions and inspiration come from God. No man is smarter than God or even the angels.

“As for the fallen angels, they had knowledge in certain areas. They then knew how to wield their knowledge in the face of man. The fallen angels were told of the severe consequences of teaching man their secret ways, but they did so anyway. This is why there are remains in architecture and artifacts that raise questions about alien life. Well, this is not alien life.

This has a heavenly origin. These complexities came from something not from humans.

“When there has been a great increase in evil, it is rooted from man requesting more knowledge, turning this into worshipping something not of God. Evil is increasing because of the appetite of the wicked. Man longs to consume more evil. All is increased. All good is decreased. What was good is now considered bad and what was bad is now considered good. All is wrong.”

Me: “All of this is so confusing. Lord, this is so sad.”

Jesus: “I know. However, soon, when you are finally Home in Heaven, you will learn truth. As for there, truth is quickly fading.”

Me: “Lord, truth needs to rise again.”

Jesus: “Erin, I have a Perfect Plan. I have not forgotten My promises. Now, do not worry. At times when you worry, remember that I am always with you.”

Me: “Lord, are You not soon to deliver us? Is Nisan not to be the month of our delivery from oppression? Nisan is supposed to be the month of miracles. At least it has been when studied in the Bible. Lord, there are only two days of Nisan left after today (Nisã ends at sunset on Friday, April 21, 2023).”

Jesus: “Erin, always remember that My Ways are higher. A Wise General keeps his enemy guessing in all things, especially about any information on an upcoming offensive. While perhaps this pattern of miracles (in Nisan) will continue, remember that I am also doing a ‘New Thing’ here. A ‘New Thing’ means ‘something new is happening’. Oh Erin, all of you will just have to continue trusting in Me.”

Me: “Yes, Lord, we will! We love You!”

Jesus: “I love you too! Soon, very soon. Do not worry! Remember that I am in complete control of all things all of the time!”

Dream over.

693 – His Calling for Our Repentance

Received on Sunday, April 23, 2023

Note: My husband wrote a post on April 21, 2017 describing 'Who Will Be Transformed?' based on one of my previous dreams. I asked him to attach this post (unaltered) as an Addendum to the end of this Dream 693.

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for one more morning to open my eyes. Thank You for a bed to wake up in and a comfortable pillow to lay down my head. Thank You for Your provision. If not for You, we would have nothing. We are so grateful. I am thankful for Your instructions, Father. You are wise. You work each day to help us to be pleasing to You. When I am off course or in the act of veering off from Your Will, I receive a quick rebuke.

I then know that I must repent of something contrary to being Your daughter. There is wisdom in yielding quickly and not making excuses. There is wisdom in not ignoring a direct clear sign. Oh Father, I am so thankful for You. I pray for those who do not see You as a Loving Father to Your children. You love us. You discipline us according to what we are called for in Your Kingdom's purpose.

Even though I pout about the troubles sometimes, You remind me that the hour is late. You then point us in the right direction to make the changes You deem necessary, changes that may even involve our humbling. I love You, Father. I long to be perfectly ready when You call all of us together for Your Kingdom's Coming. We are all so excited and can hardly wait. I had a very disturbing dream last night...

Sub-Dream 1 "Evil Giant Altar Sacrifice" begins...

I was able to make out some very strong and evil entities. I was not sure if there were three or four entities as the third and fourth seemed both separate, yet together. The spirits behind these gods were manifesting through those who worshipped them. They created images in the appearance of these gods. These entities were furious at the people of God... both Christians and Jews.

They called for a massive festival and parade to be practiced worldwide. It was a massive 'temple' ritual with sacrifices that mocked the Laws given to Moses. Their practices were vile. All of this was to be streamed live so all could worship these entities. In one of these practices, two of the entities had unclean relations with the animals before they were sacrificed. There were calves, lambs, bulls and goats.

This also involved dancing nymphs with barely any clothing. These nymphs also had relations with these animals. This altar was set up in Washington DC. The blood of the sacrifices then poured down the steps into the reflecting pools.

After the 'Giant Altar Sacrifice', they called on their workers to go out and find the unclean to bring them to this unholy altar. They called on people in the order that each state was brought into the union. They began their call in the east. I then saw more things take place that were even worse. Indeed, these acts were so terrible, I will stop here and not describe them further.

Sub-Dream 1 over...

Father, I am scared. The whole world was watching vile satanic worship. They did all of the opposites of what You had commanded Moses to do in making offerings. I am sick to my stomach as the nations had completely turned away from You. Without Your intervention, this means we will be in their evil crosshairs. Your children will be...

Well, Father, please rise up and stop this. Please don't allow the enemy to flourish like this. While it is difficult to pinpoint when all of this started, I remembered some key times when things began to really change. In some ways, my background before being saved by You has allowed me to notice these unholy encroachments. While there are many more of these encroachments than what I listed below, here are a few of them...

- Feng Shui: Feng Shui is now used in many home designs and remodels. I refused all work that involved me having to work around a 'Feng Shui Master' in my business.
- Yoga: Yoga is the worship of other gods... Period! If you practice this, stop doing it right now. Pray and repent to God immediately. While it is now disguised as exercise, it was and is a ritual cult practice. It is even now available in church basements. This is paying homage to 'the sun god'. Goat Yoga is a precursor of what I saw in my dream (Sub-Dream 1 above).

- Acupuncture: I used to use acupuncture to deal with migraine headaches. After becoming a Christian, the specialist told me that the needles 'weren't working anymore'. He knew it was because of something 'greater', but he didn't know it was the Jesus in me. When I took some tea he had recommended to make acupuncture work again, I instead vomited this out violently.
- Skulls on everything: Skulls were put on everything, including children's clothing. I even remember outfits for toddlers having pink skulls. What a great way to speak curses over our children without even realizing it.
- Tattoos and Piercings: I am not calling out a couple of simple earring piercings or the modest use of makeup here. While some are against these as well, we will just have to agree to disagree on whether the modest use of these is allowed by God. In order to not come across as 'preachy' here, I will let God talk to you about this instead using His Gentle Voice.
- Rebellious deviant behavior: Having no regard for God or others.

Oh Father, Your people perish for a lack of knowledge (Hosea 4:6, Isaiah 5:13). Father, evil is rising so much faster now. It is all over the world and is increasing rapidly. Please help us before it is too late.

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "Erin, I am here and I am with you. I am the God that controls the entire universe. There is none besides Me. I am the Lord Your God and there is no other. I am the Pillar of Light in the darkness. I am Your Shelter from the scorching noonday sun. I am here with you. There is no other God besides Me.

"Now, let them enjoy their altars and appointed feasts and their new moon festivals. These are unholy and they profane My Name. What kind of churches are these? What 'living god' will appear at their conjuring? I will set fire to their altars. As they run for the hills to hide, My Glory will pass over them to expose their evil."

Me: "Lord, I am so sorry I ever participated in anything contrary to Your Will. I was sick and lost until You found me. I resisted at first. The evil residents of my house did not want to leave until I gave myself fully to You. I have never been the same since. I am so very grateful to You.”

Jesus: “You are welcome. My people are afflicted by demons and are bound to a god apart from Me. They have justified something apart from Me. I am God and I will not share you with another.”

Me: “Lord, I get distracted by chores. I often prioritize these before my time with You. I do this thinking that I will have time for You later. Well, I often don’t as things arise.”

Jesus: “If you come to Me first instead, I will grant you a swift completion of your tasks, often in a way that you think not. I am not telling you to depart from your commitments as You have agreed to these and you must keep your word. What I am referring to is those who feel I have given them permission to share My time with a worldly habit or addiction. These are tools from which the enemy uses as a distraction or form of habitual worship over Me. Remember, if you are smoking, are you worshipping Me or are you thinking anxious thoughts against others? Why then would you need this?”

Me: “While I have never smoked, I hear that this habit is difficult to stop.”

Jesus: “You are right. Apart from Me, these things are impossible. However, smoking isn’t the only obstacle. There are many others, including gluttony (and/or) the longing to be elevated above others.”

Me: “About fourteen years ago, I had wanted this ‘elevation experience’. I would pray and ask You for this. I did this quite often.”

Jesus: “How would this then go for you?”

Me: “I would instead go back into the furnace a little longer. I realize now that I had instead been stripped of my status, my means and my reputation amongst those at church. I heard horrible things spoken about me. I had so hoped that You would hear and vindicate me. Instead, You... well, Lord, You know the rest.”

Jesus: “There are many who serve Me and serve the world because they long to be elevated by Me over their peers. There is a Pharisee mindset here. If you are taking photos with recognized people hoping that it will then elevate you, this is like telling God, ‘I will work for You, but only with certain parameters.’

“If you heal the blind or raise the dead and want personal recognition for doing so, this is not doing My Will with the right mindset. Erin, all whom I call will work together for My Glory and great will be their reward, understand? You are here and called as My Bride to usher in the Kingdom of Heaven. You will display awesome deeds.

“Why? Not because you did anything special, but because I chose you. I decided to work through you to display My Glory. You will not be recognized by anyone until you are away from an area. They will then wonder if you were someone they knew, but will then dismiss it as they were expecting you to be old, weak and injured. While all will know My Glory is upon you and working through you, it will be for My Glory alone.

“While they may find out what your first name is, that will usually be about it for self-recognition. Why? Because you will no longer be who you once were. You will seek no undue attention. This is good. Those who long to be vindicated as their first and foremost prayer must remove this and trust Me to vindicate them instead. There will soon be a great day when many will apologize. However, this cannot be your focus.

“Anything contrary to what I am looking for displays a lack of trust for the God of Justice... Me! Those who pray for status will end up with very little as this is a heart issue. Those who act with authority aside from Me will be unaware they are really working with demons. All of you are to always remember that ‘thou shalt not have any other gods before Me.’”

Me: “Lord, You are being so direct and...”

Jesus: “Erin, the hour is late! I love you and I don’t want you to miss out on any good things. Anyone who is not hearing clearly from the Holy Spirit right now has one of these obstacles and must remove these now...”

- Jealousy
- Coveting
- Anger
- Haughtiness
- Gossip
- Theft
- Overindulgence or a spirit of gluttony
- Vanity
- Harmful addictions
- Greed for money or other material things
- Other heart issues

"Erin, who would want a Bride like this? When the wait is long, it is easy for distractions, boredom (and/or) the rise of evil to tempt you. It is easy to think... well, the Groom will still be another month or year, so I might as well indulge in... well, I will leave you to fill in the blank as this 'blank' is different for each person. Now is the time to instead stop and drop to your knees in repentance."

Me: "Oh Lord, I am so sorry. I have been anxious. I am so sorry. I am scared that You are not coming for a while. I am afraid as I see so much evil rising now."

Jesus: "Oh Erin, I am here and I am with you. Give Me your anxious thoughts. I have you. Now, your house looks to Me. This is Good News. Your children are seeking Me instead of seeking approval from their peers."

Me: "I am thankful for my sons as they are steadfast in their routines and are not distracted by the world."

Jesus: "This is a good place to be. Now, I have been strong and stern on who will be with Me in this. The hour is late. Any bitterness, jealousy, anger or unforgiveness must be released. Let Me take this on instead. I am with you. I love you!"

Me: "I love You too!"

Addendum: Who Will Be Transformed?

(As written by Erin's husband on April 21, 2017 without alteration)

Jesus outlines those who will be Transformed as His end-time 'workers' in Dream 236 and had Erin refer to Matthew 5:3-11, the Beatitudes, for our guidance. While there will be a few waves in the soon 'Fourth Wave', who will ride these waves, either the 'First Wave' or future waves?

First off, Jesus and Jesus only decides who is Transformed and when!

As such, the remainder of this post is just a speculative list that I have put together to help sort out what He has said in Dream 236 as those to be included in the 'First Wave' or future waves. While I do not believe that there is a precise 'mathematical formula' to all of this, I do believe that dealing with our 'heart issues' as soon as possible certainly could not hurt.

Even here, there is no 'secret formula' to curing all of our heart issues. However, the first step is identifying our heart issues and taking them to Jesus and asking for His help. In the end, only Jesus truly knows your heart and so this will always be a private matter between you and Him. Only God and His Son knows the true state of our hearts.

So, with this in mind, here is the primary basis I used for this speculative list as taken from Dream 236:

- Jesus: "These are those that I have called. Some fit all of what is outlined there, but others fit only a few. I will raise up those that I have called."
- The 'outlined there' in the previous sentence was specifically referring to Matthew 5:3-11, the Beatitudes.
- Notice that some will fit ALL of what is outlined in the Beatitudes, but others will only fit a few.

Now, are you already feeling unworthy and we haven't even started? Well, so did Erin:

Me: "Lord, I do not feel worthy to be here as I have not sacrificed my life to You like many of these saints have. In reality, I truly live a very cushy life compared to so many of the saints that are represented here."

Jesus: Smiling. "Yes, Erin, but yet you are here with Me and you are right where I have called you to be. I designed the course of your race for My purposes. Now, the tour of My House was meant to show you that, in here, in My dwelling, is the gold of Ophir. While this may not be what some would expect, this is perfect to Me."

So, what is outlined in Matthew 5:3-11:

"Blessed are the poor in spirit, for theirs is the kingdom of heaven. Blessed are those who mourn, for they shall be comforted. Blessed are the meek, for they shall inherit the earth. Blessed are those who hunger and thirst for righteousness, for they shall be satisfied. Blessed are the merciful, for they shall receive mercy. Blessed are the pure in heart, for they shall see God. Blessed are the peacemakers, for they shall be called sons of God. Blessed are those who are persecuted for righteousness' sake, for theirs is the kingdom of heaven. Blessed are you when others revile you and persecute you and utter all kinds of evil against you falsely on my account. Rejoice and be glad, for your reward is great in heaven, for so they persecuted the prophets who were before you."

Remember, "Some fit all of what is outlined there, but others fit only a few." With this in mind, and thanks to the help of www.gotquestions.org, here are some questions we should ask ourselves:

- Are you poor in spirit?
- Do you recognize your utter spiritual bankruptcy before God?

- Do you understand that you have absolutely nothing of worth to offer God?
- Do you admit that, because of your sin, you are completely destitute spiritually and can do nothing to deliver yourself from your dire situation?
- Do you recognize your spiritual poverty so that you can come to God in faith to receive the salvation He offers?
- Are you one of those who mourn?
- Do you mourn in grief over your sin?
- Do you agree with God about the evil of your heart and that you need communion with the Holy Spirit?
- Are you honest about your sin and humble enough to ask for forgiveness and healing?
- Do you make sure not to hide your sin?
- Do you avoid justifying your sin before God?
- Are you meek?
- Do you have a gentleness in your spirit?
- Do you have humility?
- Are you willing to set aside power and prestige in order to obey the Lord's Will fully?
- Do you hunger and thirst for righteousness?
- Are you merciful?
- Are you pure in heart?
- Do you have a singleness of heart toward God?
- Do you avoid hypocrisy, guile and hidden motives?
- Do you have an uncompromising desire to please God in all things?
- Is it more than an external purity of behavior, but also an internal purity of soul?
- Have you given your life to Jesus?
- Have you asked Him to do the cleansing work?
- Are you one of the peacemakers?
- Jesus laid down His life to make peace between God and sinners.

- When we can carry that message of peace to others, we are peacemakers.
- Only children of God can bring the peace of knowing God to others.
- A person must have a real relationship with God before he or she can help someone else know God.
- Those who witness for Christ, share their faith with their friends and serve others in the name of Christ are the ambassadors for peace.
- Those who bring the wonderful message of God's peace to the world are "peacemakers" and Jesus calls them the "children of God".
- Are you persecuted for righteousness' sake?
- Are you reviled and persecuted and have all kinds of evil uttered against you falsely on His account?

Some "Danger Zones" to be aware of

Is there someone in your past that you have been merciless with that God is calling you to make amends with? You should make this right as soon as possible as you do not want to be one of the 'I am a Christian' facing judgment:

Jesus: "Erin, they had no mercy. Did even one of them call you to say that they were sorry for their wrongs against you? No. Now the hour is late. Judgment of those who say 'I am a Christian' is in stages."

Do you still hold something against your brother or sister even though God is asking you to forgive him or her? You should make this right as soon as possible or you may later be judged by God with the same measure with which you judge them:

"Whoever is in the Light, yet hates his brother, still dwells in darkness. Whoever loves his brother dwells in the Light and, in him, there is no cause for stumbling. But whoever hates his brother is in the darkness and walks in the darkness and does not know where he is going because the darkness has blinded his eyes."

Do you consistently practice the Fruits of the Spirit? Can we ever eat enough fruit when it is from God? The Fruits of the Spirit are:

- Love
- Joy
- Peace
- Patience (which Jesus refers to as the 'hardest of the fruits')

- Kindness
- Goodness
- Faithfulness
- Gentleness
- Self-control

“You should practice bearing these fruits. In all things, love the Lord with all of your heart and love your neighbor as yourself.”

Do you practice any of the following opposites of the Fruits of the Spirit? Go to God and ask Him to help you stop! Do this now! Practicing the opposites of the Fruits of the Spirit will take you farther and farther from where the Lord wants you to be:

- Hate
- Anger
- Restlessness
- Impatience
- Cruelty (a harsh tongue)
- Evil
- Faithlessness
- Harshness

- Lack of self-control (perhaps road rage is your nemesis

THE GREAT LOVE TEST!

One of the most humbling exercises I have ever done is inserting my name for the word 'love' in 1 Corinthians 13:4-7:

“_____ is patient and kind. _____ does not envy or boast. _____ is not arrogant or rude. _____ does not insist on his / her own way. _____ is not irritable or resentful. _____ does not rejoice at wrongdoings, but rejoices with the truth. _____ bears all things, believes all things, hopes all things, endures all things.”

I would highly recommend each of us do this exercise, but not just mentally. Actually physically write out every word with your name inserted in the blanks. I personally found this to be much more impactful when I physically saw my name written there. When I did this, I was absolutely shocked (and horrified) at just how many shortfalls I had (and still have) to work on. In reality, I was in turmoil for a few days after I first did this exercise.

IN SUMMARY

I personally believe that constantly striving to become a better fit for showing greater love using Jesus as our example, but realizing that it is only with the Lord's assistance that this will even be possible, we will come closer and closer to eventually having a heart more like the Lord's. Is this not really what He has always asked us to continuously strive for, both in the Bible and in Erin's dreams?

If you strive for all of these things with all of your heart and soul, and do your best to avoid the opposite of the fruits, I am convinced that you are rarer than a diamond in this lost world. It is also my hope that this means you will also be rare enough to be called one of His 'Workers' when that great day of the Transformation finally arrives.

Keep hoping, keep loving and always look up, continuously seeking Him in all things!

Blessings, Erin's Husband

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for all that You do and the Great Blessing You are. While I have had some very dark dreams recently, I know that You will overcome all of these things no matter what. Father, with great supersonic speed, America has led the world into a plunge of darkness. You have shown me several dreams a while back of an atlas globe of the Earth being kicked off the edge of a steep drop into the abyss.

This seems to be where we are now. After my dreams last night and the night before, I laid in bed and asked you a few questions. Is there anything else I need to repent for? Is there anything more I need to remove? Is there anything in our home that could cause issues with You? I then heard Your Voice.

Jesus: “Erin, besides Me, what competes for your time? Are you worshipping anything or anyone but Me?”

Me: “Perhaps my family and daily chores?”

Jesus: “No. These are interactions and routines. Even though they are mundane, you honor Me when you take care of what I have placed in your care. This includes your family, your home, meals and preparations. For those working outside the home, this also includes their employment. All of this is good. I did not raise you to isolate in a monastery, understand? What I am speaking of is anything you bow your head to or divides your attention away from serving Me.”

Me: “Lord, I just heard about this. We bow our heads down towards our phones.”

Jesus: “These devices can be used for good or evil. As for you, it is a communication device used for good. It is also used as a reference.”

Me: “Yes. It is good for capturing a Scripture or to read Your Word. Right now, I am even using it to count my Omer.”

Jesus: "I am not speaking of this. This is a means by which You worship me. What I am speaking of is things that trouble you, things that can cause your worry or things that increase your anxious thoughts. These things are not beneficial. This gives power to the things of this world and makes their voice strong. Remove this power and remember who I am. Do this so that it does not become a god unto itself.

"This way you don't go to it to give you all of the answers. My Voice is in you and thus you must come to Me to ask. Now, when you Scribe, you do not know what you will write in advance. Why? This is because I am working through your pen. Your pen then Scribes My Words without resistance. You never know where the journey of ink will take you before you begin. This is good.

"Now, one last point... objects with no living structure cannot be occupied by demons. However, the object can instead be like a key that opens a door in which demons can pass through. Evil spirits go where they are comfortable. They are particularly comfortable behind the gods of clay, bronze and stone. They wait and watch who will entertain these gods and purchase them.

"These evil spirits then follow them to a residence or as an amulet to be worn. They then enjoy their new dwelling or position whereby the spirit freely acts. Now, as a child of God, you can pass by these objects and seal them off. Simply bind it, along with its abilities to operate. It operates as a virus."

Me: "I was at a store yesterday and I was in shock at the number of gods and god heads in the garden area where I was. It was ridiculous. One statue was about six feet tall and was a giant head. After I prayed under my breath, I walked past four aisles of 'deity statues' to an area of clearance items. I was looking at a small bird bath pedestal. There was another shopper, so I placed it in my cart to decide if I wanted it.

"I turned the cart. Just then, the glass shelf dropped onto another in front of us. Vases of glass shattered everywhere. The woman was terrified. It was a miracle that the woman and me were not hurt by the glass fragments that scattered everywhere. All of this was quite frightening. I reassured her several times that it wasn't her fault. Workers rushed over from all over the store, but not one asked if she was okay."

Jesus: "The evil spirits were protecting their territory. Even so, Erin, nothing can come against you because I am with you. No troubles before you were successful."

Me: "I had better never go back there."

Jesus: "Hmm, you are to continue to go about your daily business instead. Do not give them this power. They would love for you not to come back because My Presence in you restricts their freedom to operate. Do not let them dictate your day. I am with you always. Remember that I am God and you are therefore not to worry."

I had a dream the night before last...

Sub-Dream 1 "Evil descends on a Coliseum" begins...

I had a dream of a massive coliseum. I was with my family. We had been visiting from far away. Our hotel was nearby. The event was not something we would normally attend. However, our daughter knew some of the players. It was either a youth la crosse game, soccer or something like this.

While the place was packed, we noticed right away that the evil hosts only cared about packing people in even when there were no seats available. When my husband went to pay for our seats, he ran three credit cards to try and pay. Even though each still had open credit, all were denied. My husband became really angry. I calmed him down and used my card to tap for the tickets instead.

While my family went ahead, I went to the lobby area. There was a picnic table of people making earrings. They invited me to join them. I created a massive porcelain box with an earring attachment. It had to weigh over five pounds and would never work on an ordinary ear. I laughed as these people were neither male nor female. They told me how fabulous it would look.

I was thinking this thing I created would work better as a vase and certainly not an earring. When I wasn't supporting their suggestions, one of the she-males said she would love to show me their new creations. She was excited and went to uncover a massive glass block display case of an orgy of small wax figures, all about five inches high. Some were laying on slabs of stone.

While some were on the stairs, others were over them. They all looked like antique Staffordshire figurines (which I don't much care for due to their crude faces and a lack of personality). In this display, there must have been a hundred figurines. Three colors were primarily used...

- Red: Red was for their lips. It was also for the blood draped over them.

- White: Everyone had pale nude skin colors. Their flesh was a bright white.
- Black: They all had black hair and eyes.

This person looked at my reaction with an evil smile. I gave no reaction on purpose. I then realized this was a voodoo like rendition of just one section of the coliseum.

Me: "How many are in attendance at the coliseum?"

She-male: "85,000. However, it will be a quick harvest of souls."

I ran to get everyone out. As I did, I warned the people that something was battling for their souls. They wanted to kill the people. Most stayed instead. However, a few thousand were saved before evil had descended over the coliseum.

Sub-Dream 1 over...

When I awoke, I heard, 'It's a battle for the soul of the nation!' I quickly got up. When I moved around with my chores yesterday, the news reported that Biden is running for President again in 2024. His tagline is, 'Battling for the Soul of the Nation'. I was bothered by this. I heard the Lord say, 'Erin, do not worry or be afraid.' I then had another dream last night...

Sub-Dream 2 "Rug to display voting intentions" begins...

We had a server from the county come to our door. He had a notice for us to sign. He then turned and took a photo of my husband and me. I then was given a copy of the notice before the server then quickly drove off. The declaration stated the following...

"Notice: Beginning on June 1st, midnight on May 31st, you must place the attached rug for display across your front door in the color you voted for or are planning to vote for. Failure to display this will result in the seizure of your property."

My husband: "Displaying the wrong color will cut us off from electricity and the ability to have water."

We hung the rug over our door. As we slept from the night of May 31st into the morning of June 1st, the rug turned bright white. When the authorities came, the bright white somehow turned them away. They did not come to our home. We then heard various gunfire over the course of several days.

My husband: "They will now seize their properties no matter what. They will remove any obstacles that they encounter."

We stayed home to wait on the Lord for His instructions.

Sub-Dream 2 over...

It was a shocking dream. As for the last few days, the atmosphere has been extremely foreboding. We are seeing the actual beginning of the times of the end taking shape. Father, we serve You and love You. I hate this world now. I see little good now. While I search for it, I can't find it. Nothing is certain in this life except for You. Only You. There is a battle between good and evil and it seems like evil is winning. Please help!

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "Erin, I am here and I am with you. I want you to continue to remain in Me. I am right here. I see everything. Press into Me. Don't run ahead of Me. What impression do I continue to show you?"

Me: "Every time I worry, You give me a rewind of the vision of me walking like an infant toward You. While I am uncertain of my own abilities, I am very confident in the arms I am running into... Your arms. You hold out Your arms to me. You scoop me up into Your arms. Once there, I rest on Your shoulder. I feel the warmth of the sun and my tiny fingers stroke some of Your hair. I am safe in Your arms. You have me. I am in good hands when I am in the arms of my Jesus!"

Jesus: "Just because you are older doesn't mean I leave you on your own. I am here. I Am. Now, what is the other vision."

Me: "The view of Earth when looking down from the overlook in Heaven. I see the Earth completely in darkness except for thousands of lights. Some are bright and some are very dim. However, even the dim lights shine bright in the darkness."

Jesus: "These are Mine scattered everywhere across the nations. Now, I know you have asked Me if, when I say, 'For I am doing something in your days you would not believe even if you were told', this is concerning the evil you see and the shutting down of life or is there something great of God we should be expecting.

"Well, Erin, yes... for I am going to do something in your days you would not believe even if I told you. Nothing shall be able to come against Me or those I have chosen... My Remnant. Now, the wicked are planning a massive genocide of the people of God. However, they will be unsuccessful.

"Now, watch in the skies... I have sent signs, a display of lights, a display that the world has never seen. There are rainbows at night across the nations. Who creates these things but the Son of God. Well, it is certainly not a man who does this."

Me: "Oh Lord, we missed this. It was cloudy here."

Jesus: "Yes, but you know the source. These are signs. I know you look for signs covering the moon or sun as an eclipse, but these are not limited."

Me: "So, Lord, then please do something miraculous soon, as in very soon. Make it so everyone knows it is You. Make Your big Kick Off of the Greatest Move of God be unlike anything the world has ever seen and in spectacular fashion."

Jesus: "Then pray, Erin. Now, there will soon be a mass exodus of demons being cast out with no place to roam. So many will go into one as they flee."

Me: "Please make this all happen now, Lord. All of this is so depressing."

Jesus: "Pray, Erin. Since prayers avail much, pray much. Now is the time. Rejoice!"

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day! Thank You for all You do. You are truly the God of all miracles. It is difficult living daily as a child of God in the midst of such extreme spiritual darkness. This darkness is now spreading rapidly. The uptick in evil is becoming more visible each day. However, several truths straight from You remain in play. You have control over all things. The enemy can't hold You down as he has no authority to do so.

Father, You have granted all authority to Jesus here on Earth. Since Jesus is in us and is working through us, what then can prevail against us? Nothing. Still, here on Earth, it is now hard to even remember the goodness of the former things. This has fallen to the wicked. They are so consumed in themselves. They have no memory. They neither care for nor remember freedom. They now want to rob children of their childhoods.

As for my childhood, it was a hard one. My parental figures were unstable. One bright spot was a trip I went on with my mom across the USA. It was six months after my stepdad's suicide. It was amazing. I saw more of America than I ever would have if this hadn't happened. When on our trip, we were never mugged nor was our van broken into. Today, you just never know what will happen. Things are scary now.

My daughter and I recently had a sign from You that an enemy attack was forthcoming. It involved me killing two large spiders. The first spider was in my daughter's car. This was easy to kill. The second spider was in our house. I used a pole that my husband put together specifically for this. It is a long pole with the sticky part of the tape sticking out. This really bothered me as spider killings usually means something serious.

Me: "Lord, show me how to understand these particular spider signs."

Jesus: "I am here. Yes, this is a sign. The first spider involved your daughter. Something you thought was no longer a problem has now resurfaced. However, it will come to nothing."

Me: "What could this be, Lord? Is it her work?"

Jesus: "Well, it involves both of you. What is common."

Me: "Her dad. This happened on his birthday."

Jesus: "Very good. Erin, your words of encouragement to your daughter, words grounded in My Word and My Promises, and the safe place you provided removes the powers of the enemy in all things. This will therefore all come to nothing."

Later on in the week, I would have another couple of signs. The first sign was the passing by of a Bald Eagle. The second sign was a beautiful Kingfisher sitting on a wire. This was my mom's favorite bird. These two signs are definitely 'Jesus-sent signs'. This is a rare sight as well. I had another dark dream last night...

Sub-Dream 1 "The Shutting Down of Portland OR" begins...

I was walking down a city street at night after it had just rained. The area was rain soaked. I think it was the Pearl District in Portland OR. On the right side of the road, there were large metal garage-type doors being drawn over glass windows. However, the shops that were once there were now completely gone. The area was now essentially vacant. I saw the owner of a building. I waved, but he ignored me. The owner of this building was clearly protecting what he had left.

As for the other businesses, there was still activity to the left side of the street. There was a fabric wholesale showroom and a small fabric printing business that I used to do business with. They were closing permanently. They were boxing up company belongings and closing for good. I stopped in to inquire about a previous owner I knew. However, they were now gone.

I then went to the next place. This was a retail store that looked very much like a place I once did some design work for in the 1990s, a place called Daisy Kingdom. They went out of business in 2004. My ex-husband's family worked on their printing for many years in Portland OR. I was sad to see this other little store closing. I went over to talk to the Assistant Manager...

Me: "Why are you shutting down your business?"

Manager: "Mothers in the area are now too afraid to come here. No one wants to risk it. We just can't take all of the robberies. Customers would get robbed and so would our store. Our insurance company then jacked up our rates before finally dropping us altogether. We then couldn't afford our lease when our rent tripled."

As I talked to her, moving trucks were loading displays and other items to take them away. I then came to a business called Office Interiors. This is where I first worked when I moved to Portland OR in 1991. There was a builder there that I knew very well. He seemed distressed about what was happening. Everywhere I looked, places were closing up, already closed up or destroyed. It was horrible. A man bumped into me.

Man: "You need to get out of here now, as in immediately! Once these places close for the day and the sun goes down, everything changes and not for the better."

Sub-Dream 1 over.

Me: "Father, this is awful. Portland OR was so beautiful and exciting. It was so much fun. When I was there, the only questionable place at night was perhaps the northeast. It seems that all of the areas are now questionable. Oh Lord, please help us!"

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "Erin, I am here. Now, your life from years ago is etched in your memory. You gave Me your heart there and I have not forgotten this. I brought you there unto Me in very unique circumstances. From there, I have taken you on your faith journey. As for right now, you write as if all of it is over, that you have now reached the end and that the promises I have given you will not come to pass as you had hoped.

"Well, the only one I agree with is that the promises I have given you will not come to pass as you had hoped. This is because it will be much greater than you ever imagined. I am with you. At the end of each day, you wonder, 'Is this it? I miss the home I once knew. Will my dog Zoey ever be there again?' You then resign your thoughts to the current state of your place. You then thank Me for all you have."

Me: Crying. "I am so sorry, Lord. The times have changed. My future dreams for a normal family have been changed. I now plan for the short-term as I believe long-term plans are tenuous at best. In reality, I am primarily thinking about just Heaven now."

Jesus: "Well, Erin, nothing is over until My Father in Heaven says it is over. Even then, it will only be over for evil and the things of this world. With Me, all things are made new. You are to rejoice as the eagle sits and waits for the opportunity to swoop in and catch its fish for the Nest. The same is true for the Kingfisher. The two are the same. They wait, then wait again and then wait some more.

"After all of this waiting, you then wonder, 'Should I be there or over here? Where is best?' Well, best is with Me. As for these two birds, if I care for what they care for, how much more will I care for what you care for?"

"As for Portland OR and other cities, many businesses will close up. While many businesses will be closing, you are not to worry. This is because all of it is part of My plan. Now, what you have been looking for is here. Erin, I am here!"

Dream over.

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for one more day here! Thank You for the promise of salvation. Thank You for being my Father in all things. Who is like You? I am thankful for Your Great Love. While You have been tough on me, a well-trained soldier must have the heart and fervor of a warrior on behalf of his King and his Country. He is an extension. We have difficulties in life because You love us and are training us. You want us to have good things. You want us to be a representative of Your Kingdom. What an honor this is.

I spilled my seed tray in the hallway this morning. While it was probably only two cups of seed, it scattered absolutely everywhere. As I was cleaning up the mess, my daughter came to greet me and let me know she was soon to go to work and would not be home until around 8:30pm. Saturday is a busy day for her. This is the way of retail. She was particularly smiley today and I asked her why. She replied, 'It is just a beautiful day, mom'. She then sauntered off without a care in the world.

As I continued my cleanup, I prayed and thanked the Lord for her. She has quite a public ministry and has no fear proclaiming the Lord and His goodness. I pray for her protection. Jesus spoke about her to me as I cleaned...

Voice of Jesus: "Erin, because she loves me and is unafraid to declare that I am God in the face of evil, what is there that I won't do for her. What is there that I won't do for the one who loves Me and proclaims My Name.

"Remember that it is Me who created her and called her. I placed her in your care to raise her up in the way she should go. Do not forget that she is Mine. Her place is not here, but in an eternity with Me. What is there that I won't do for the one I delight in. You have trained her as a warrior."

Me: "Are you singling out my daughter because I failed with my sons?"

Jesus: "No. Wait until the day I raise them up. For now, this is where I have them. While they are also in training, it is just for a different battle. Do not forget that you also continue to proclaim what I have called you to proclaim.

This is so each one is given their portion, their purpose under Heaven. You will understand all of this one day very soon. Take heart as I am with you. I am also with your family and our Nest.”

We are having a beautiful day today. The trees are just beginning to bud up here in the north. The floodwaters from the spring runoff are beginning to recede. The songbirds are very loud. While I love spring and fall, they are the shortest two seasons here. I am excited to see the beautiful changes and growth. I love it when winter turns to spring. It is a reminder of God’s promise.

While seasons come and go, God remains our God through it all. Thank You, Father, for Your love. Lift up the heads of Your people during these dark times. Send us signs and wonders. We need healing miracles, financial miracles and spiritual miracles. Please, Father, heal each of Your Sparrows where they are.

Please bless them with supernatural abundance. Whisper comfort over them so they are at peace. The world is too wrapped up in selfish desires right now. The wicked are emboldened against us. Father, please send help to Your people. Heal Your Sparrows. I speak over the Nest the following Scripture...

Isaiah 65:24: “And it shall come to pass that, before they call, I will answer; and while they are yet speaking, I will hear.”

Father, please watch over us. Surround us with Your love. Envelope us with Your Glory. Please keep us under Your Wings, where we find refuge. In Your faithfulness, be our shield and rampart. We love You, Father. Your truth is our armor. Your Words are comforting even as we cling to Your Promises and stand on the Rock of Your Salvation. I had a dream last night that started at about 3:00am...

Sub-Dream 1 “There are 800 left; there are 800 more” begins...

I had an important assignment. However, I was not to draw any attention to myself. From an earthly point of view, I had to operate with very little resources. In reality, I had everything I needed. There was no water where I was. While there was evidence that water had been available at some point in the past, there was now no water in sinks, toilets, pools, rivers or lakes. All of the water had dried up.

I looked in the showers. I could see dead spiders all around the drains. They too had looked for water but could find none. I was not sure how anything could survive out here. There were no sounds of birds. There was no movement. While I was searching to find someone to talk to, I noticed that there was very little evidence of life.

I looked up in the sky and saw a buzzard. I decided to follow it. There was an area near the dried-up riverbed that was covered in decaying carcasses. Among the carcasses were also a bunch of dead buzzards. This was not something I have seen before. I believe that, even if there was water, it would be poisoned. Survival here seemed all but impossible.

Me: "Father, there is no sign of life. This happened recently too."

Voice of God: "There are 800 left; there are 800 more."

Sub-Dream 1 over...

I woke up this morning with the words '800... 800...!' ringing in my ears. Oh Lord, what could this mean?

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "Erin, I am here and I am with you."

Me: "Lord, things are becoming more difficult. Please help."

Jesus: "I know, Erin, I know. Pray. Go to the foundation of the nation where it was dedicated to God... The City on a Hill. Pray, Erin."

Me: "Lord, this is Boston MA. Boston was where the nation was given to God, along with a prayer of dedication. I discovered that 'SatanCon23' is taking place there this weekend. They argue that abortion is a religious rite, claiming they have a rite to sacrifice children. This is so horrible. Father, please stop this. I used to think our society... really, all the developed nations... are not capable of the things that happened in the Old Testament. I am in shock to see it is... and perhaps even worse!"

Jesus: "Look at this differently. This is an attack on all the things of God that are Holy. Now, you had another dream..."

Me: "Yes. This dream was quite odd..."

Sub-Dream 2 "Marvel Superheroes or Fake Gods?" begins...

The fallen angels had manipulated man to believe them to be heroes... heroes of old. Since the people were familiar with their names in Greek Mythology, it was easy for the people to think of them like Marvel Heroes. They had vile personalities. They were handsome and beautiful, carrying swords and shields, with plenty of muscle. However, this was only from their fronts.

Their backsides were a different story. Their backsides were completely deformed. They were trying to convince humans that they were the ones to be worshipped. While man thought he was loved by these false gods, they actually despised man. Pretending to be superheroes, they would lure children away from safety and would then kill them. This was so awful that I can't write any more on this.

Sub-Dream 2 over.

Jesus: "This is happening now. Children are worshipping their gods and they are going to slaughter like cattle. The nation has been invaded. The cult of evil (SatanCon23 and many others) is praying this weekend that all of those who love Me be sacrificed for the greater good. They want all to be permissible under the law for their religious rights. However, God sees all."

Me: "Lord, the people are unaware. Most live in fear. What can Your people do. I also had another dream..."

Sub-Dream 3 "A Mighty Angelic Army of God" begins...

I saw the angelic army of God gathering. It was a mighty army like I have never seen. They were now gathering in the Heavens. A group of us were praying that You would cut the evil people down. We prayed for this with great fervency.

Sub-Dream 3 over.

Jesus: "The army of God is over the areas in question. Your prayers work in calling My angels down to stop it."

Me: "Okay, I will make sure our prayers are heard (Nest members, please pray while you read this next part in bold italics)..."

"Father, please send in Your angels to cut out all evil spells, rituals, laws and cult activities. Bring down the roof upon their schemes. Protect Your people wherever they are. Activate the army of God over the area. Rededicate the nation to You. Father, this is Your Land. This is Your Nation. This is Your Earth. This is Your Universe. As for the USA, please keep it as One Nation under You, indivisible and with liberty and justice for all. Father, please activate the army of God and take back what is Yours. We pray this in Your Mighty Name, in Jesus' Name, Amen!"

Jesus: "Your prayer is good. Now, God does not sit idly by. He sees. Do not worry as I see their altars. I see their vile images and their worshipping.

"They mock God and stand on the hill declaring themselves as gods. I see their evil. I will stop their cursed lips, costumes and thoughts of sacrificing children on the altars of Baal.

"I promise you, Erin, that this will not go well for them. Pray against this evil. My angels will take back My land one day very soon. As for these practitioners of evil, they will all come before the Throne of God on bended knees. Instead of worry, devote your time to praying against these. This area has fought My Principles from the beginning. Prayers of thankfulness were once in abundance in this land."

Me: "I remember when visiting Provincetown MA that men were flirting with my brother. He was only ten at the time. The City on the Hill is Boston MA. We also visited Salem MA. It seems the occult practices have always been a part of the area. However, every tour guide will tell you that these people were innocent and not witches."

Jesus: "Well, some were not. They slaughtered many innocent people. However, who was their accuser? Remember.. the very thing the guilty accuse you of are the very thing they are doing. This nation was given to God. The enemy has fought to take it back for all of these years. However, it is Mine. Pray and do not worry."

Dream over.

697 – The Eve of the Unholy May Day

Received on Sunday, April 30, 2023

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day! I am in a state of spiritual unrest today. I had a dream last night that was quite disturbing...

Sub-Dream 1 "May Day, May Day, May Day" begins...

I was watching a group of evil congregants praying together and casting spells over Your people, the angels of God (in particular, the angel Michael) and the nations (in particular, the USA). While they were cursing and sending out spells, I was unable to make out exactly what they were saying. I then heard one congregant speak out...

Congregant: Loudly. "Today is April 30th. This evening is the eve of our very high holy day into May 1st, which we refer to as May Day. This evening is Hevennacht, or 'Witches Night'. Tonight will be 'The Night of the Bonfire'."

While he continued to speak, his words slowly faded from my focus. Just know that there is a war that is about to begin between the angels of God's Army and the dark forces. Well, in reality, it already has. However, it is going to increase even more. The root of these dark forces are the fallen angels. This is based on the worship of Molech. They pass victims through the fire. Molech is the pagan king related to Baphomet.

This group of witches and warlocks falsely claim that they believe there is no real devil or physical Satan. While they actually do believe in a very real Satan, they then claim that they believe he is merely metaphorical. They then claim to be a pro-humanist movement. The Lord then spoke to me on this lie.

Voice of Jesus: "This group cannot be pro-human or pro-freedom when it then files lawsuits proclaiming child sacrifices and abortions are a religious right and freedom. This group is actually pro-death and pro-destruction. They also call for the detainment of God's Church."

After this, I saw a massive ceremony. People were dancing and doing vile things around a bonfire. All of the dancers appeared to be in a demonic trance. Behind them was an army of evil spirits. These evil spirits were the likes I had never seen before. They were ready to bring death and suffering to the world like it has never seen. They then called for the opening of the Hell Gate, 'praying' for the following to manifest:

- The fall of all Christians.
- The fall of Christian prophets and exorcists.
- The fall of all businesses owned by Christians.
- The removal of children from Christian homes and given to the satanic temple.
- The removal of all Christian politicians.
- The removal of all Christian news, posts, television, radio and music of any kind.
- The hunting down of any supporters of Christians or their institutions.
- The cutting off of all monies given to Christians for aid or evangelism.
- The removal of Bibles from libraries, public parks, stadiums, government offices, churches and synagogues.
- The removal and banning of Christian crosses (especially on steeples), relics and statues and anything representing Jesus visible to the public.

They were 'praying' for this as the above was considered by them to be an offense to their satanic religion. In essence, they desired the death and removal of any threats to the will of their satanic temple.

Voice of Jesus: "They dedicated the nation back from Me and My Father to the 'gods of love and sexual freedom'. They called for the melding of their animal spirits with their bodies. They called for this in their desire for their bodies to transform into the images of the gods of old."

Congregant: Loudly. "We call on our gods to raise our savior. We call for the physical manifestation of his throne. I warn you all that you 'pray' on this as we enter May Day."

Congregants: Loudly in unison. "May Day, May Day, May Day..."

I then heard the congregants engage in ritualistic prayers together.

Sub-Dream 1 over.

Me: "Oh Lord, all of what I saw is about to occur. Father, I call down lightning from above to burn up their evil altars. Please, Father! Why do millions have to suffer for the evil deeds of only a few. I am deeply bothered by this."

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "Erin, I am here, I am with you and I see. Do not worry. This will send them to the place of fire in the end. They will then say, 'Oh, we had no idea. If we did...' Well, this is false as they know what they are doing. They are empowered by evil. As for My Remnant, you are a light and a beacon on the hill. This is because I am with you.

"What you did not report on is the witchcraft that has successfully been practiced in My pews for centuries. All of this comes from oppression and a bitter root. All of this comes from a caste society where whole groups are outcasts. From here is the root division. More than this, My churches have been punishing stones and evil rods. Erin, what was your typical experience when attending church?"

Me: "Well, a few churches have been awesome at one thing, but not another. For example, one had great worship music but a not-so-great message and another had a not-so-great worship music but a great message. In the end, I stopped going when I felt judgment against my two autistic sons. I felt lonely there.

"Despite this, You were still in the open seat next to me. As for the church, it was part of my furnace of affliction. You then stepped in and I am so thankful. I have often heard that churches are where the devil likes to work. This must be true as I always felt judged there."

Jesus: "What you felt to be true was the truth. You were being judged by those I entrusted to care for My Sheep. Well, many have now conformed to society and have become tolerant of sin and the opposite of the Laws of God."

Me: "Well, I must admit that I sometimes feel like at least some of the 613 Laws in the Old Testament do not seem relevant for our current times. Perhaps I need to take a closer read and refresh myself on these Laws of God."

Jesus: "Yes, this is good and important. However, do not forget the Commandments, especially the order of these Commandments. A person sitting in the pews is not to serve any other gods, only the God of all Creation, the I AM. Many have forgotten their First Love. They have forgotten that I was sent not to abolish the Law, but to fulfill the Words of the prophets."

Me: "I heard something wonderful describing the Triune Nature of God. I love this. This was told by an autistic boy who heard from You in Heaven. It is like this..."

- Father, what do You think?
- Jesus, what do You love?
- Holy Spirit, what should we do about it?

Jesus: "This is good. My Father is on the Throne in Heaven. All order, all Creation, the times and seasons, the Courts... all of this is His. My role is as His Son. By His Authority over all Laws and all Orders, I am the Caretaker of His Creation. I am sent in His love to care for His children, both the lost and the found, so that they may know that God, My Father, loves them.

"He showed this by sending His own Son to atone as a blood sacrifice for their sins. The Holy Spirit is the Communication Device, the Coach and the Voice of God in you directing you daily in the way you should go. If someone rejects and denounces the Holy Spirit after knowing who God is and who I am, that person is cast out of relationship with God and is, by definition, a child of the fallen instead.

"Do you realize that there are people there at that cult ritual (SatanCon2023 in Boston) who will one day confess that I am God? When thinking of the Order of God and His Kingdom, remember that My Father is on the Throne of Heaven. As for Me, as His Son, I sit on the Throne here and in Heaven. This is because I am of the Father and I stand at His Right Hand. By His Authority, I represent you in the Courts of Heaven.

"If someone who serves evil comes to the Courts of God in Heaven and says, 'I am here, I did this and this in Your Name...,' My Father will turn to Me. I will then say to My Father, 'I knew him not.' He then comes no further towards the Throne before he is cast down. This is why I warn those who claim to be Christian but work for evil to turn and repent now because the hour is late.

"As for those who are truly My people, now is the time to humble yourselves and turn to Heaven with your hearts toward Me with great fervor and prayer. Erin, the hour is late. If there is anything else, you must confess this. Any issues with pride, anger, jealousy, envy or prejudice should be confessed to Me now in sincere repentance."

Me: "Lord, You are God above all things. By You is the Word and, in the beginning, is Your Word... Truth! Lord, I confess to... (I then confessed to as many things as I could think of but will keep this private). Please forgive me.

I repent and renounce this evil in Your Name. Lord, please bless my words to speak truth in love, not as a weapon.”

Jesus: “You are forgiven. Erin, this is good. Thank you for also confessing to white lies as a form of convenience and to deflect truth.”

Me: “I am sorry that I try to justify this. My younger son is hard to deal with at times because of his autism. He can also be defiant at times. I primarily do this with him as a way to de-escalate a situation and to keep peace. I am so sorry that I do this. Please heal my son of this as I don’t know what else to do to ‘keep our home in peace’.”

Jesus: “I will heal him soon. As for you, Erin, I have forgiven you. Erin, I forgive you. Now, pray against the enemy’s schemes. They work to tie the hands of the leaders.”

Me: “Yes. This cult is even specifically praying against the Mayor of Boston tonight.”

Jesus: “Yes. As for tomorrow, they dance around their Asherah poles. This is why they have a night of fire dancing tonight. Fire produces ash. They then dance in the ashes of their sacrifice. As for the pole they dance around, this is a symbol of a tree. This is meant to symbolize that they also worship a god of nature. All of this is vile. None of you are to be deceived that this is innocent.

“Now, you are to remember that there is always an opposing movement by the fallen angels against the goodness of God. They know their time is coming to a close. This is why they have increased evil. Still, you have only seen small parts of all they now have planned.

“Their duties against God revolve around Molech. Molech is a chief government spirit, also known as the keeper of the furnace below. His other gods have come in greater evil to destroy the children of God and the animals. They wish to destroy all that God has created. You are seeing the physical manifestations of the possessing of the multitudes by evil vile spirits.

“However, you must always remember that I am here and I see it all. God My Father sees. A Great Move of God is soon to come. Do not worry. I can assure you that all is about to change. The Miracles of the Goodness of God upon the Earth will not be denied. I am in complete control of all things all of the time.

“Now, take courage and do not be afraid. I am here. Pride goes before the fall. True worship is when My Glory settles there. My Glory moves in your praise. I am coming to bring the Glory of God manifest upon the Earth.

Rejoice, Erin, for Great Restoration is coming.”

698 – Fear God and God Alone

Received on Tuesday, May 2, 2023

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day! Thank You for Your Great Love. I yield my heart completely to You today so that I would not only love You with my whole heart and soul, but I would also honor you today and everyday with my very being. It saddens me greatly to know that I must have grieved you at so many times in the past. I know I foolishly have done this many times. Lord, You deserve so much more.

I am so sorry You have heard curses come from my lips. Father, please forgive me for grieving Your heart. Please forgive me for judging others, something that is so easy to do and it shouldn't be. The hour is late. I can only liken this to an encampment of soldiers in a war. These soldiers have been told to be on the alert for the great call to rise up and move out.

In the beginning, there is great excitement and anticipation as the soldiers prepare for the pending battle. If the soldiers are dug in, yet nothing happens, it is both happy (as they live another day) and sad (as they have been trained for this battle and want to put this training to use). Many of my dreams lately have consisted of bad reports. I have even fallen into personally grumbling at times.

Our Father is our Commander and Chief. We are merely foot soldiers in His Vast Army. I have become increasingly angry at what is happening in the world all around us. So many civilians and their homes are being destroyed. So many now ask what all of us have been asking for years... 'Father, when?' We cannot let our lamps go out now.

We have to be patient while we wait, no matter how hard. It is the highest form of worship as we are exercising the hardest fruit of the Spirit... patience and waiting! Well, Lord, Your troops need You and Your miraculous healing right now. Father, we work for You and we need You. We long for the promised Great Day. I pray that we honor You while we wait. This battle is Yours.

While we know we will win the war, it is hard when we seem to lose the battle at times (at least from our perspective). Lord, we are tired and need Your Restoring Touch. You are missing from the churches right now. As one pastor said, 'When we go to CH—CH, U R missing.' I recall two of the dreams I had last night.

Sub-Dream 1 "An Abandoned Mansion, A Cursing Man"

I was in a castle or mansion on the California Coast. It was similar to the Hearst Castle. It was built on high rock surrounded by Monterey Pines. I was flown in by helicopter on a beautiful day. The person who flew me into visit was a distant relative of the owner. They were trying to impress me. When we got there, we entered through the servant's quarters. There was a gate needing a key and a code number needed for the alarm.

While the place was fully furnished, it was also deserted. In order to enter through the door after the gate was a courtyard in which were parked five vehicles. All five vehicles were luxury cars, but from the 1990s and early 2000s. They were old by today's standards. They were dirty on the outside and dusty on the inside. It seemed like they were in relatively poor shape.

Me: "Where are the owners of this mansion?"

Man: "They are no longer here. While they abandoned the property, they still own all of it."

We went through the entry door to the servant's quarters. Everything was frozen in time. It was as if there were people removed suddenly. There was food dried up on the dirty plates in the sink.

Me: "Where are the servants?"

Man: "No one knows. They disappeared. The owners were in great fear and never came back. Seems everyone has disappeared."

I suddenly realized that this man I was talking to was quite evil.

Me: "Make changes now. You haven't the time. God sees you."

In a flash, I was gone from his sight. Though he could no longer see me, I could still see him. He seemed enraged. I was glad he couldn't see me to attack me.

Man: "Oh right, like there is even a God who cares? Right, right. This is hell here on Earth, yet God supposedly cares. Well f you and your God." There was more...

Note: These dreams contain the occasional indication that expletives were used, such as the previous sentence above said by the man. While he continued to rant using many expletives, we didn't dignify it by writing them all out. While it is obvious what word we disguised in the sentence above, we feel it is important to display that these choice words will often be used in our presence by the lost and/or the evil.

I suddenly found myself surrounded by others like me. The young man couldn't see any of us. They were all young and in great shape.

One transformer: "It seems like no one listens to us anymore."

Another transformer: "Yes. They all hate God and blame Him for everything. They blame us as well."

Me: "Keep at it though. We are still at work until at least a few more turn to God."

We all nodded. We then watched in sadness as the young man continued to throw a temper tantrum. He continued to do this even though he thought he was alone.

Sub-Dream 1 over.

Sub-Dream 2 "Delivering Flyers with Good News"

I had my two dogs in a metal shopping cart. They were all with me while I traveled to deliver flyers to each home on a particular street. The neighborhood consisted of row homes or flats that reminded me of London England. The street I was on was a walking path of bricks topped with raw sewage. While the stench of this sewage should have been overwhelming, God had us only smelling fragrances of a divine nature.

I was able to drive the cart easily through this. I was supernaturally kept from getting bogged down by the sludge. I even wore a suit like a vintage airline stewardess would wear. I was wearing stockings, high heels and a stewardess hat. I was transformed. I was delivering Good News. Despite this, almost no one actually came to the door to receive this news. Finally at one door, a man with a British accent came to the door..

Man: "Please come in. However, please take off your shoes first."

Me: "I will not remove my shoes for two good reasons. First, your house is not Holy Ground. Second, my feet and shoes have been kept supernaturally clean despite walking through all of the sewage."

Man: "I am stunned. Your feet are perfectly clean. I see no sewage on them at all."

Me: Smiling. "Here, I have a flyer with Good News. Please read it."

He read it. While he had a smile, it was soon replaced with a concerned look.

Man: "I will take this under advisement. Normally, I would discard this as nonsense, but I will instead use diligent discernment for one good reason. I can clearly see that your feet and shoes are supernaturally clean. Now, if you have time, won't you please come in and share a pot of tea with me."

Me: In a polite tone. "I cannot come in for tea as the hour is late and I must finish my job to deliver Good News through the sewage. I need to do this while it is still light as darkness comes quickly."

Man: "Oh, of course. I understand. God speed!"

Me: "You as well, sir. God speed in receiving the Good News."

As I walked out onto the steps, I noticed that the sewage had risen higher. This had happened in just five minutes. Zoey and Snigglet were glad to see me. I gave them each a treat and we continued on our course delivering the flyers.

Sub-Dream 2 over...

Me: "Thank You, Father, for giving me dreams with Good News. However, I should note that the excrement is definitely coming into contact with the rotary oscillator. It is all around us now. This place is becoming worse every day."

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "Erin, I am here and I am with you. Hmm, a rotary oscillator?"

Me: "Sorry, Lord. I was meant as a bit of humor for the Nest. I definitely hope that no one takes offense to this either present or future."

Jesus: "Well, this was spoken in truth. Murky water is rising. It always comes from below. Clean water comes from above. Erin, I love you. As I have told you, fear of the Lord is the beginning of wisdom. This is good. Many do not understand this."

Me: "Lord, even with Your Voice readily in me, I still fear man at times. I fear evil. I am sorry for not fully trusting in You all of the time. I heard a great quote by Oswald Chalmers recently that so many need to hear, including me..."

"The remarkable thing about fearing God is that, when you fear God, you fear nothing else; whereas if you do not fear God, you fear everything else."

Jesus: "Faltering in trust in a fallen world can happen to anyone. Erin, I understand this. The night before my day of trouble, I was in great agony in the olive grove. I made a great plea to My Father for this cup to pass from Me, but only if this be in His Good and Perfect Will. I cried out to My Father. Blood was My sweat. I was to be the Lamb slain on behalf of sin. I was to bear the sins of man and make atonement.

"As for all you are going through now, I know and understand this. I love you. I have shaped My cups. I have prepared you to be My Chosen Vessels. I have strengthened you. I have made you worthy to hold much. I have made you to carry what I pour into you. More importantly, you are like Temple Vessels of the Most High God. You have great use as I am in you.

"Now, each of you is meant for a different purpose, yet you will all act as one. I know that the world around you has changed rapidly and evil has increased. While evil has increased, so too has the Army of God and the Kingdom of Righteousness upon the Earth. The world sees you as an old lifeless vessel... worthless and easily forgotten. They see you this way as they do not realize that I am within you.

"Erin, you are hidden in plain sight. Now, as that fan spins and sludge scatters and seems to defile everything, know that Your Savior has a Great Plan in all of this. The enemy can't even imagine all that is about to come. The world has never experienced the power of God as it is about to witness.

"In the meantime, do not change your position. In all things, be with Me as I am in you. We are one, an army together, one body under Heaven. Rejoice, Erin, and do not be afraid of anything. Fear God only. Be in awe, reverence and obedience to Him. Do this and I can assure you that nothing will cause you to be afraid. You are greatly loved by Me."

699 – God’s Climate Change Warning

Received on Sunday, May 7, 2023

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day! Thank You for Your love and affection. Thank You for Spring here. We finally have green grass. Thank You for watching over us. Thank You for answering my prayers for my friends and family. Thank You for continuing to maintain all of us steadily in the midst of an out-of-control world. Services up here, the cost of living and our remote location is becoming more and more difficult.

However, given the state of the world right now, I do not feel that a move for us would be smart. As per usual, Father, I am sorry for ‘thinking ahead’ of You. My older son and I were in town yesterday to purchase groceries and I kept smelling Bend OR. This is such an odd thing as we have no Juniper trees nor high desert brush. This happened so many times that I started to wonder if You were sending me a message.

At one point, the smell was so prevalent that I began to cry. Why do I miss Bend OR so much? It was beyond expensive as there was a massive influx of Californians evacuating California. Bend OR was in their crosshairs. As a result, prices for real estate here skyrocketed. While prices crashed in the 2007 housing crash, this was only temporary. In reality, nothing has changed. It is still expensive and it is still beautiful.

My children miss Bend OR as well. Since we only lived there 6 to 7 years, I am not sure why we all continue to miss it so much. All of us continue to gravitate back to this moment and place in time. There were so many dreams and promises there that were never realized. My occupation there at the time was to execute all of my clients’ dreams. I never had the opportunity to do this for myself.

It was the place I wanted to own, not rent. Jesus was there for us. He first spoke to me there. Our first miracles occurred there. Zoey was a puppy there. I am not sure why I keep holding this place in my heart? Father, I repent for this. My heart was also broken there. I was the most hopeful there. This was also the place of the beginning of my affliction. I was on my knees there. I made huge mistakes there.

While I thought I already knew You, I now realize that I really didn't. Bend OR is my place of 'Bended Knees'. I have visited again and thought I would feel different. Well, I didn't. The longing and pulling is like gravity. In contrast, my desires for other places I have lived have closed, including Portland OR, Richland WA, Sandpoint Idaho, State College PA, Marco Island FL, Stuart FL, Albany CA, Boise Idaho and Reno Nevada.

While these were all great places in their own rights, they were just not 'uniquely mine' like Bend OR is. Oh Lord, I am so sorry that I still hold onto this place so closely. I am sorry for the thing I have made it, a type of promised land outside of the True Promised Land... Heaven. I am sorry for not fully blooming where You have planted me. Please forgive me as You have brought us here to a beautiful land.

It is just a difficult thing to endure at times. Even though going anywhere means a long drive, I have come to love it here. Both me and our kids now love it here... for now. We all wouldn't mind being closer to town. Even though I grow tired, anxious and impatient with this old, failing body, I still cling to Your promises and pray that You never revoke these. I love You, Father. You are where my heart is. Where You are, I will follow.

This is because You always know best. I must abide in You for all things. This is because trusting in my own ambitions have always failed me. I can often hear Your Voice quietly remind me, 'Hold on, Erin. Can you trust Me for a little longer? I have a Great Plan for you and your family. You will be amazed at My goodness. Can you be patient just a little longer for Me?' Well, for You, Lord... of course I will.

As for my longing to be back in Bend OR, I am so sorry for this. I am a Pacific NW girl living in the NE. While both places are beautiful, it is just a heart issue, a homesick matter. I feel like what a displaced Israelite must have felt like. I believe this still happens today. It must be hard when a Jewish person is unable to return to Israel, the home of their promise, due to various personal and economic reasons.

Israel is such a special place for them, a place where they felt closest to God. Now, can you imagine the heartbreak of Adam and Eve? Paradise was lost to them and the gate closed to them forever. Did they make a place to live right outside to be near it? Did they cry out to God and pray for mercy? I know they did. I am sure they had a deep longing in their hearts, along with sorrow for grieving God so.

Still, I believe God brought them to a more beautiful Garden in Heaven upon their passing away. I just know that their hearts are now healed in their new eternal Home. After all, all that You do is perfect. Help me to have peace with Your Perfect Plan even in the midst of my sorrow and disappointments. Please forgive me for my human way. I lack so much. I now reflect on the last few places You have recently placed me...

- Portland OR (Bowed Head): This was my place of discovering You. This was my place of turning away from my materialism, my status and my selfish ways towards You. This was my place of the unmaking of me in my image.
- Bend OR (Bended Knee): This was the place of breaking me to more of Your image. This is where You talked so tenderly to me even during my afflictions.
- Richland WA (Empty Spirit only You could fill): This was the place of my total desolation and affliction. It was the desert of pain, the place of surrender fully to You. This was a place where I continued to bow my head, bend my knee and pray to You to fill my empty spirit.

Your body was afflicted for my sin. To find You, I had to break myself and offer up my body and my spirit to Your Will. Father, I am thankful that You would take such an interest in what most would think was a hopelessly lost cause... me! Well, You are the God of the lost causes. To You, we are never lost. You are the Shepherd that will leave the 99 to chase the one until it is found by You.

Thank You for not giving up on us. Thank You for all of Your work in me. While my physical DNA is the same as it always has been, I have changed to become a new creation in You and You alone. While I had so much trouble when my children were little, I still made them a priority because they were my gift from You. In turn, You have made them Your own.

You have kept my sons where You need them to be, using their autism until the day they are healed. With my daughter, you have given her a heart for God. She has no fear in proclaiming Your goodness. Father, this is what I wanted. You gave this to me. You answered my prayers from so many years ago. You gave me what was best under Your Perfect Plan and it is genius.

All I want is for them to have a heart focused on Your Perfect Plan, not a worldly plan. Worldly plans do not last. Indeed, they are rapidly ending. However, You will soon step in. You are good, Father, and Your mercy endures forever. Father, You are so good. The following is a dream I had from four nights ago...

Sub-Dream 1 "The Four-Pronged Massive Building"

There were transmission towers on top of a massive rock. This massive rock was on top of a huge hill of dirt and clay. The huge hill of dirt and clay was on top of a dry desert. A road led from the transmission towers to an orb-shaped building with a large spire on top of it. It then winded throw a village of houses. We finally approached a massive security fence.

We then went up to an odd building. It had four curved prongs (leaf shaped) like outcroppings jutting up over 150 feet each. The prongs rested on a circular flat building with two doors. The prongs rotated. For some reason, I was terrified when I saw this building. I was not sure as to why I felt so terrified. I was also unsure if they even existed in real life at all.

Sub-Dream 1 over.

I then had a dream last night.

Sub-Dream 2 "God Relieves us of Our Burdens"

I was overlooking a beautiful tree filled with splendid fruit. While this tree was in a planter, the planter was in a pool of shallow water. There were many birds nesting in this beautiful tree. I went over to a man sitting on a nearby bench resting.

Me: "The fruit is ripe and needs to be picked or it will rot."

Man: Looking at me and smiling. "The fruit on this tree never roots. This is a perfect tree. Its roots are well watered and the birds nest and sing here."

I turned to look back at the tree and then back at the man sitting on the bench. Since he was now gone and in an instant, I surmised that he was actually an angel. I then walked over to sit by the pool under the branches of the tree. I looked into the water. It was clear and had small fish swimming in the water. It was very similar to an Oregon garden I have seen before, but glorified and perfected. I heard someone behind me.

Uriel: Smiling (he rarely smiles). "Erin, God requests your presence.""

Me: "Oh yes! It is so good to see you again."

Uriel: "Come and take my hand."

I did and we were instantly at the forestry board near the entrance to God's door.

Me: "I haven't been here in a while."

Uriel put salve in my eyes so I was not blinded in the presence of God. However, I still don't understand all of this since these are dreams or visions.

Uriel: "Come in, Erin. The door is open to you."

I stepped into the Great Hall of God. I saw the beautiful columns and the hallway of the choirs of angels. Being in the presence of God was healing. As Uriel brought me closer to the Throne of God, my legs became very weak. My body dropped down onto the sea of blue glass living stone. I could hear the choirs of angels singing, 'Holy, Holy, Holy'.

I wept. I was so small in comparison to the scale of His Presence in this place. As I lay on my knees with head bowed, I confessed to my grumbling, my anxiety and my longing to appease my 'self'. As I asked for forgiveness, I felt the weight of my troubles fall off of me. It was as if someone was pulling off a weighted blanket that had been draped over my body and head.

God: "Erin, I forgive you. While you worry about many things, do not. Your time has come... the time you have been waiting for... the great time in which Heaven will be visible upon the Earth. You will be healed and strengthened. Your Vessel will be filled. Your Vessel will spill over from My Throne.

"The Voice of My Son and His Power will be in you wherever you go. This will be an outpouring of Heaven over the Earth. The enemies of God will flee. Those left will turn and know God. Great will be the Harvest. There will be a great shaking prior. Many will be humbled during the preparation of My Field for Harvest.

"While a great wave of evil has come to defile the hearts of those I have chosen, your hearts have remained upright. Yes, you have all been battered a bit, yet you remained a worker as My Kingdom comes. Those I have chosen for harvesters are aware of the late hour. Many are in great anticipation and are preparing."

Me: Stuttering as I spoke. "I... I... I repent, Father. I have been..."

God: "You are forgiven. I have forgiven you. The enemy wants you to remain broken in spirit. However, I am calling you to rise... to rise up!" While I rose to my feet, I was unsteady until Uriel came to help me. "One day, you will stand with strength on high before Me."

Me: "I always want to honor You, Father."

God: "Do not worry as you will not be standing on your own strength, but the strength of My Presence. Now rejoice, Erin, as you will soon be like you were in your youth. While you will be a strong worker, you will no longer have selfish ambitions. Your heart will instead be yielded to the Will of God completely.

"Now, I have seen your troubles. All of these will be removed. You will have no cares as you are a citizen of Heaven. This will be on Earth as you are here. While you do not fully understand this now, you soon will. Pray to Me on behalf of your family, your friends and all who you desire to be a part of My Kingdom. They will then be removed from the authority of the prince of destruction and instead be under My Authority.

"This is in My Authority as I am the Creator over all that is seen and even that which is unseen. You are My Temple Vessel to be used before Me for a specific purpose. You are not merely here for decoration. This means you will contain what is poured into you for My purposes, not your own, understand?"

Me: "Yes, this makes sense to me."

God: "You are a daughter of the King and a Bride to My Son, the Groom. You therefore belong to My Court. While you will one day wear a crown for those to see, for now your crown is unseen but known to Me. You therefore are royalty. You wear this and it is heavy upon your head.

"Now, you know the times and your mind is clear. Still, your burden is great because the thought of you having to do anything in your current state is unimaginable. Well, Erin, do not worry as this will soon be of no issue to you. Rejoice, Erin, for I am with you and nothing shall be against you."

Me: Uriel began to bring me out. "I love You, Father. Thank You." I bowed and placed my hand on my heart.

God: "I love you, My daughter Erin."

Uriel brought me out of the door. His horse was waiting for him.

Uriel: "Do not be afraid. When you are afraid, pray instead. Doing so activates armies of angels on your behalf. More than this, the Lord is in you. While you were told that God was with you, He has now begun to work through you with greater measure. This is different than before."

Me: "He is clearer."

Uriel: "While the enemy will increase his strikes, do not worry as these will come to nothing. Erin, the clouds are gathering and darkness grows thick. The Earth will soon shake. Even as it is shaken to the core, God's love prevails. Erin, His Army prevails.

"Now rejoice as you have waited a long time in earthly years to see these times. As for us, His angels, it has seemed like merely a few weeks of continuation of an ongoing battle with the fallen... good against evil. Now, I must go as the battle still rages. God has also called me to send more messages to saints like you."

Me: Joking around. "So, I am not the only one?" Laughing. "Should I be jealous."

Uriel: "There are a few thousand. If you are jealous..." He laughed. "...then repentance is good. The hour is very late. Good to see you again." He smiled.

Sub-Dream 2 over.

Me: "Lord, are You there?"

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "Erin, I am here and I am with you."

Me: "Lord, thank You for Your love and patience with me."

Jesus: "Oh Erin, I delight in you. Remember that the weight of the crown is a heavy one. However, I am with you and nothing is heavy for Me."

Me: "I have a question for You. Many horses, cows and domestic animals are dying right now. What is happening, Lord?"

Jesus: "Many are being used as weapons by evil men under demonic influence. While this is hard to watch, pray against this and know that My Father in Heaven sees. Erin, I promise you that these horses and other animals will be with you in Heavenly Places. The clouds are gathering. There will be justice."

Me: "Oh Lord, I pray for healing for my sons, my husband and daughters, my brothers, my Nest friends who need You so and anyone who is grieving right now. Lord, You hate illness, poverty, evil and injustice. You stand for righteousness, freedom, goodness and a life abundant. Please, Lord, make this the time for Your Harvest. Make this the greatest time ever seen or imagined. Let Your Kingdom come, Your Will be done, on Earth as it is in Heaven."

Jesus: "Your prayer is good, Erin. I am with you. My Home and yours is here in Heaven. This is good. Rejoice and pray for the lost that they are soon to be found by Me."

Me: "Lord, my Omer counting has become a complete disaster. I am so sorry. I have missed so many of the blessings."

Jesus: "I am in you. There is no greater blessing. Count this good as everyday of the weeks come. I bless your faith, not your works. By blessing your faith, I then automatically have blessed your works, understand? Instead of being bound by this, be bound with Me. Remember also this one thing and it will make you smile..."

"When you hear the wicked say, 'Urgent! Climate Change Warning!', what they really mean is that the evil spirits know the lateness of the hour. Since the evil spirits now sensing this lateness, they call out to each other in horror, 'Prepare as God's Kingdom is soon to come! Beware!' 'Climate Emergency' really means to them, 'Hurry, God is angry and His anger towards us is surely soon to come!'"

"They seek to destroy all that is good because God is now making changes that they know will destroy them. When you hear these things, you know the times are here. Well, these are here now. As for the elite, they proclaim that all of this is a great excuse to tax the people and empower the rich who serve the gods of the Earth. Now, I have blessed a Word upon your heart. Do you recall this?"

Me: "Yes, it is Psalm 98. It is awesome. 7 Let the sea roar and all that fills it, the world and those who dwell in it. 8 Let the rivers clap their hands; let the hills sing for joy together 9 before the Lord, for He comes to judge the Earth. He will judge the world with righteousness and the peoples with equity!"

Jesus: "Then proclaim it. God's justice and equity is coming! My recompense and reparations are with Me. Rejoice. Now, you wrote a poem many years ago that I recently brought back to your attention. What did you write?"

Me: "I wrote the following poem:

"I was told that I had to die to myself and be brought low for many days

If I truly wanted to be used by God, as I had asked for, but in much greater ways

I then wanted to be able, as those days later painfully flew by,
To perhaps someday and somehow even be the apple of His eye

I did not want to later stand before God's Son

And have to relive all of the things that I had unwisely done

I did not want my vessel to be kept on a shelf

Because I kept secrets, soon even fooling myself

I no longer wanted to simply come and go
Foolishly thinking that God would never know
I wanted to be the kind of Christian that God desires to use
Not just one that dressed themselves up, all part of a ruse
No, I wanted to be used by God, to stand erect
And even not care whether I deserved man's respect
I asked Him to help me turn away from fame and wealth
I only wanted to obey God, I now wanted to die to my 'self'
Though the enemy still accuses me of bluster and bluff,
That I am just an empty vessel full of show and fluff.
I know now that this is a lie and that we can never hide ourselves from Thee
I know this all too well as I have now seen what others may never see
I also know something that the lost may never know
That a wonderful place awaits those You've called to someday go
I ask You, My Lord, to use our weary vessels for Your Purposes and Will
But I ask that You first strengthen our faith and help our hearts be still
Oh Lord, how we long so much for that 'Great and Terrible Day'
When all of the troubles of this world shall then pass away
You gave me dreams and visions where Your mysteries are revealed
You guided my pen and Your love in my heart has been fully sealed
You have granted me wisdom that could have only come from on high
So great that a simple fool like me could never have embellished or lied
In spite of my failing body, a body now so full of pain
I know that if I died in You today, so much I would gain

I thank You for this beautiful day, this day that You have made
I take up Your Cross and quill and pray that these dreams will never fade

However, Lord, there remains but a simple request
Whether by vessel, by arrow or even by another test
Please fill us up to quench those so thirsty for more of You Use us as arrows from Your quiver to pierce the hearts of those untrue

I know that only through Your Awesome Will and Might
That my 'self' will finally now be removed from Your sight
We press on through all of the evil and the blistering cold
Praying that You will soon strengthen us and make us bold
Oh Father, I will thank You for every breath until my very last
And pray that You will continue to guide us on Your amazing path"

Jesus: "You felt like you should add some lines to this poem today."

Me: "Yes, Lord. I added the following lines to the poem:

"I have been Your Creation since the day I was formed
"And I now look forward to 'The Day of the Great Transformed'
"As Your Kingdom comes on full display
"I sincerely pray that You no longer 'delay'"

Jesus: "Erin, I am always right on time."

Me: "Yes, Lord. While it may seem like a 'delay' to us, Your timing is always perfect. I love You."

Jesus: "I love you too."

Dream over.

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for this day! Thank You for waking me up for another dawn. Thank You for the great wealth of You in me. I have learned that, on this Earth, everything shakes, shatters and breaks. I have also learned that all that truly matters under Heaven is You. The last couple of days have shaken me. I had been lulled into trusting all that is around me to not have any cracks or breaches.

Since we trust in God, we therefore trust everything under God and in our care. However, it only took one time, one installation of daily armor, that offered up a major breach and opportunity to the enemy. The warning was glaring and the signs were immediate. Something prompted immediate action from God and our response was to review the entire day, our home, our technology, any foreign object, site visited or origin of entry or breach in order to immediately remove anything contrary to You on this day.

Our actions were swift and we were shaken out of our routines. We shut down everything, every action, all within a 24-hour period. We then went to our knees before You. We were in great distress. Great fears came. With me, I had great anger and resolve over anything that would grieve the heart of You. Please forgive me for assuming there would be no attacks, let alone a breach into the heart of our home.

We have made changes, Lord... immediate ones. To most, these breaches would be dismissible. However, to us, they are of the utmost importance. Oh Father, please protect our home, our children who dwell here, our pets and animals and our very lives as the enemy would like us removed permanently. Please watch over us in all things. Cover us in the full armor of God and let us check these things daily so we remain ready for Your service always.

Please keep our swords sharp and our pens full of ink. Please let us always remain strong in Your Word. Today is Mother's Day. Today is a day to honor the one who not only birthed us, but who raised us. You reminded me of something great today. My mom taught me many of the core principles of ethics. Work hard. Do what you love no matter what and the provision of your pursuit will follow. All good things. My mom was raised in a Christian home, but she had only served God in part.

What this means is that her head never allowed her heart to be surrendered to God. To her, surrender was a sign of weakness, not of strength. I grieved my mom when I became a Christian. I departed from the ways I was taught about religion and I turned to God. Proverbs 22:6, 'Train your children in the ways they should go and when they are older they shall never depart from it.' Thankfully, my mom met the Lord at the end and reconciled her heart to Him.

Yes, I departed from my parent's way into the arms of God who created me. It was brutal, but it was a gift to know Jesus. I am grateful. My mom's rebellion against God taught me also to rebel against her ways and run to God. I made a new covenant with Jesus as my Lord, Savior and my Groom as witnessed under God. Under His witness, I will not turn from this even if offered unto death here... Period!

Why? Because I have lived in darkness. I have partaken in things that offer only death. The promise of hell does not excite me. The things that can be shaken here during an earthquake shattered, toppled and broken beyond recognition are of no use to God as these are material in nature. They wear down, crack and decay over time. These material things are not eternal and are meaningless to Him.

Now, under God... I have seen a Great Light. I have known death and have seen the goodness of our God and of our Lord Jesus. I long for and even faint for His Courts. I run to Him, not away from Him. In this life, I will forsake anything for Him whom I love... Jesus! For in my darkness, I learned what I did not want. However, the road is a difficult one and it is a troubled road that leads to life. We all strive to be in the Kingdom of God. His righteousness is the opposite of being here on Earth.

All of this reminds me of an incident that happened to me back in 1994. A homeless man, really an angel in disguise, bumped me on the sidewalk. I was on a break from a court appearance to give testimony that was extremely unpopular, but truthful. I was depressed and questioned my place in God's Kingdom. I felt lost and in need of my Lord. The homeless man bumped me and said, 'The way up is first down!'

I looked down at the sidewalk and there, etched in the concrete, the words said, 'Jesus loves you' with a heart. I needed to first be brought low in order for Him to rise up in me, for me to let Him lift my head, for me to bow low to the One who is over all things. My place needed to be down first and then up!

Then the year 2000 came. I needed to die to myself in order to receive true life in Jesus. In order to be used by Him for greater things, I needed to remove the world and declare this as dead to me. I needed to remove vain ambitions, things of self-worship, self-satisfaction, self-soothing and other selfish stuff. I was too in love with 'ME TIME'.

I then wanted to be able to lead a business and do great things in ministry. However, first and foremost, I needed to serve. I needed to have the heart of a servant. In my house, I became like a butler... doing this or that without thinking about it. When your children have special needs, many sleepless nights were spent looking after the needs of those who can't help themselves.

While I still have much to learn even today, I learned to sacrifice myself willingly for the greater good of those I serve. I learned patience. I learned to smile and laugh. I learned not to be bitter even when I had a reason to be upset at serving with no recognition of my sacrifices. I gave everything to God as I remembered that He sent His Son to serve us and take our sins upon himself.

He then died a horrible death so that we could live free from the slavery of sin. I then learned to give with a generous heart. I did not withhold from someone in great need. I gave in secret that which God has called us to because under God nothing is unseen and by doing so my Father's heart in Heaven is made glad. This is because I didn't do these things in the hope of recognition and praise from man.

I instead tried to live for what He would do for me in eternity as I sow seeds in my fields in Heaven under God. In reality, we can never outdo God in doing good. Finally, life begins at the bottom, at ground zero. It is a rare person who is born into greatness and sees his value under God and keeps his position.

I have preached to my children that I would rather be in second place than first in order that I might have something to strive for. What is left when you are already in first place? Rock bottom is a good place to also be as you never forget being there. From there, Jesus will take you higher. There, you either surrender to God fully or try too as best you can. Father, thank You for the bottom.

Me: "Oh Lord, thank You for a double portion of wisdom today. My mind is clearer. I am well rested and I am fully in my armor. I am ready for whatever You have next for me! Please guide and guard my pen."

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "Erin, I am here and I am with you. Do not be afraid. An army of wicked spirits has gone out throughout the nations searching for spaces to possess. They are quick to gain entry with even one crack. You did not need to take away everything, but you did so quickly and did not hesitate for a second once you discovered this. I therefore increased your wisdom, strengthened your body and gave rise to your awareness surrounding you, your place and what is occurring near you. This is good."

Me: "Oh Lord, I am so sorry. I was unaware until Your third sign and that was it. Now I know what to look for and how to fortify our home. I am mad at myself because it is basic spiritual warfare 101. I somehow failed to recognize it at first."

Jesus: "Erin, the enemy comes in like a thief now. A thief can come in two ways... out in the open of broad daylight or under the cover of night while you are sleeping. They can come in by means other than your doors. When you are on the alert and praying that I am with you, I will show you what to do. The wicked spirits are preying on my people as they have grown tired, weary or are angry at Me.

"Evil lulls with sleep, dulling the senses and sending confusion, a general feeling of unrest without abilities or energy to do anything about it. Evil also tells you it is okay to be complacent and lazy, to feel that God has you covered or you have a free pass. He tries to convince you that you can do this one thing and I won't care.

"Well, guess what... God sees all. The evil spirit is then upon that person quickly, even a child of God and a Bride, and they are unable to act against it. It is what I warned about in My parable of the ten virgins. Five were foolish and five were wise. Look carefully at this Scripture and pray and then you will have greater understanding."

I immediately went to my Bible and looked for Matthew 25. I prayed that God would give me revelation on all of this.

Me: "Lord, I have been so focused on the 3rd and 4th verses that I failed to see the 5th and 6th verses. Verses 5 to 7 read, 'As the Bridegroom was delayed, they all became drowsy and slept. But at midnight there was a cry,

'Here is the Bridegroom! Come out to meet Him.' Then all those virgins rose and trimmed their lamps'''

Jesus: "Yes, but this continues..."

"The foolish said to the wise, 'Give us some of your oil for our lamps are going out. But the wise answered saying, 'Since there will not be enough for us and for you, go rather to the oil dealers and buy for yourselves. So, they ran to purchase their oil but while they were gone to buy oil, the Bridegroom came and those who were ready went in with Him to the marriage feast and the door was shut. After this, the other virgins came also saying, 'Lord, Lord, open to us.' But He answered, 'Truly I say to you I do not know you.' Watch therefore for you know neither the day nor the hour.'"

"Erin, what did you come to know from this parable that you did not see before?"

Me: "All of the virgins had fallen asleep because the Groom was delayed. Their lamps had gone out because immediately upon hearing the cry at midnight they got up and trimmed their lamps. This must have brought light back to those who had oil. The five wise virgins were in light and the other five foolish virgins were not. The five wise virgins had spent their money on the oil in preparation for His coming. They had forsaken the world to be ready for the midnight cry of the Groom. It was a battle between the ready and the not ready."

Jesus: "This is good. However, there is more to this. What did the closing of My churches do to the land?"

Me: "Oh yes... during Covid, churches closed. Many then fell into despair and quit going. Faith rose in some like a waning moon or a representation of the Bride. Some waned and their lamps went dark. Their hearts had no light. They no longer cared to watch for You. Half of Your people, five of ten, who once were ready for You, now do not care. Even so, they think that they should still be allowed into the Wedding Feast even though they failed to have the oil ready in their lamps."

Jesus: "Very good. You have now read this."

Me: "This is horrible, Lord. Please send revival now. Please! One last Big Move of God for all to witness. Please, Lord!"

Jesus: "I have not forgotten My promises. Remember though when I spoke about the churches. I want you to read this in terms of today. I know that Biblical scholars will tell you this was all for another time. While this is true, if the same evil can sweep the nations back then when this was written, then why would this not also be true today? It is ridiculous to dismiss full portions of My Word by saying, 'That was then and is not for now!' Well, is My Word still living? Of course it is as it is the Living Word of God!"

Me: "Your Word is the Living Word, Lord. You are alive. God is not dead, but surely alive."

Jesus: "Very good. Then take a moment to read about the churches of Sardis, Philadelphia and Laodicea. Study these through My Spirit and I will reveal great mysteries here. My Bride is hand selected from My Father's Throne in Heaven. Of these are those who kept their zeal and gave all they had for My sake. Therefore, theirs is a special crown and a great mark from Heaven. Nothing will come against them.

"Now, many of these things are great mysteries, so pray for knowledge and wisdom from My Spirit upon high. Listen, oh daughter, and consider... incline your ear, forget your people and your father's house as I am enthralled with your beauty!"

Me: "I love Psalm 45. It is beautiful, Lord. What a gift!"

Jesus: "This is My gift to you! Now do as I have instructed you to do. Stay your course. I know you will forsake the things of this world and be ready when I call. However, I am also here with you and I will send angels to guard you in all you do. If I am for you and with you, then what can come against you with any success?"

As I sat there, I once again looked back over the last couple of days of distress and decided to make a heartfelt plea...

Me: "Thank You for our lesson on waiting for our household to no longer being attacked by the enemy prior to posting a dream. We did not wait for the reprieve that we now have. Please guide my hand to submit this dream from You as received on Friday."

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day! Thank You for all we have. Without You, Father, we come to nothing. Our southern border and possibly even our northern border will be invaded by foreigners. Father, our nation has turned from the covenant it made to You and evil has increased throughout the land. Our beautiful country is set for ruin because our leaders are corrupt and even gained office through great corruption.

Bit by bit, piece by piece, hour by hour, they have destroyed the greatest free country under God the world has ever known. Millions of men in their 20s and 30s are now coming for our land. My heart is sick as the people have become veiled in their vision to see and dull in their abilities to disseminate what is happening. The people, the watchmen on the walls, have been silenced with no ability to be heard by the people as all the information is being filtered.

Lies have become truth and core truth an elaborate scheme to funnel disinformation. The one who shouts truth in the public square is found guilty of causing a riot and jailed and the one actually rioting, looting and even killing is free to continue. The nations are now in an uproar. Chaos has replaced peace. Reports are not trustworthy. It is painful, Father. It is so horrible. You are so good and this is unpopular to proclaim.

You are our Creator, our Champion and our Friend. You are our Strong Tower, our Great Fortress and our Everlasting Comfort in the Storm. I prayed this morning and opened my Bible. There right in front of me was Isaiah 8 in reference to the coming Assyrian invasion and the instructions 'Fear God and Wait for the Lord!' I had quite a dream two nights ago...

Sub-Dream 1 "The Mighty Mississippi" begins...

I saw a mighty army so vast. They were not wearing uniforms, but all were in mud-stained clothing. I saw a sea of brown, grey and black. It was not necessarily skin color, but more hair color. Before them, the landscape was beautiful, with vast green meadows, orchards and abundant farmlands. The soldiers were promised great things in exchange for the destruction of the once great nation.

As this river of an army poured out upon the land, everything was destroyed in their wake. The meadows were trampled, the orchards were cut down and thousands and thousands of trees were made into stumps. The farmlands were completely stripped as if a swarm of locusts had come to strip all of it. The army then turned to the towns and cities. The government of great corruption called out...

Government: "Occupy the homes. Displace the workers. Take what is rightfully yours. However, do not come to take our things. Otherwise, plunder and pillage all you want."

The army swarmed homes, killed the owners, raped the children and sold them for slaves. The people had great fear. A once proud nation now had fear. I heard the Voice of the Lord...

Jesus: "To the nation which hides in shame... the God who protected them and blessed their land, who once proclaimed one nation under God, indivisible with liberty and justice for all... the hand of My judgment is here."

I then saw an angel of the Lord stand by the banks of a mighty river (the Mississippi River) dividing the nation. He was holding a branch about 400 feet long. The angel broke it in two. One branch, once divided, began to have worms and decay. It turned black as if all life was gone. The other branch thrived and supernaturally blossomed apart from the other half.

The angel placed the dying stick on the water and half of the water was filled with disease. The other half was clear, clean and life-giving. I then saw the river split and all that was life-giving flowed with it to the right. All that was to the left was black and dying. It was brown and thick with silt and mud.

Sub-Dream 1 over...

Father, I am struggling here. My heart has no peace. I feel unsettled. I grieved for You, Father. You showed me something. In Heaven, we arrive there so grateful. When we experience all You have created for us there, our Eternal Home, we are overjoyed. You take so much care with each of us. You speak life to us...

Voice of the Lord: "I love Erin. I know she loves fountains and springs, so I will delight her by giving her the things that bring her joy. I will send her fragrant flowers that never die. I will fill her cup with unspeakable joy. I will do this for her because she loves Me."

How many times as a parent to your children or spouse do you put something special together for them, things maybe big or small. These then send a message, 'I care, I remember and I love you unconditionally.' Well, God does this here for us every day. How many times have I missed something special the Lord has put together specifically for me...

- A sunset or a sunrise.
- A trillium flower.
- A special bird.
- A free coffee.
- A smile from someone who was actually an angel in disguise.
- Finding a lost object.
- An email with kind words from someone you thought had no use for you.

- A little yard animal coming over to see you.
- Pain instantly removed.
- A bill paid unexpectedly.

“God, every day You reach out to us in love and in so many different ways. However, we don’t always notice this because of distractions from the world, things like bad news or things that focus on us and all that we need to do. Well, in my heart, I feel You would say something like this...

Voice of the Lord: “Oh, I love Erin. I will do so much for this girl who loves Me! Today, let’s give her signs, wonders, gifts and miracles so she knows I am with her and I delight in her.”

He then says to His angels...

Voice of the Lord: “This morning will have a beautiful sunrise. I am sending a family of eagles to soar above her home. I will then charge her camera so she can record this. I will send a new bird her way. I will give her a goodnews phone call at around 11:00am. She will be happy. I will then send her a small animal friend to greet her. She will laugh and have so much joy and this will be just for the first half of her day.”

So, what did I then do? Well, I got bogged down from the world so quickly. I rolled out of bed late. I missed the sunrise, missed the eagles and felt I had no reason to take my camera. I forgot to charge my phone so I missed a call around 11:00am. I saw what I thought was a new bird, but it flew off. I then hoped it would return. Then as I would leave to go to town, a little chipmunk came over. It made me smile and laugh.

Me: “Thank You, Father, for this gift of a little chipmunk to start my day.”

In the end, I missed most of what the Lord had done for me in advance of my morning. Had I only recognized one of His many signs? What a shame! I now realize You are God and when You send a clear and noticeably large sign, we need to stop and know You have sent it. But what about the little things? It breaks my heart that I would miss Your special gifts for me every day, both big and small.

I am repenting for placing anything between us, for missing my worship of You I so in so many ways. I am sorry. I love You so much. Let me not just go through the motions of lip-serving words. Instead, let Your name and the desire to honor You be at the forefront of all I do daily. I had another dream last night...

Sub-Dream 2 “Baby Animals come to visit” begins...

We were at a house far away. We were somewhere in the west. The home was either a two story or a three story. The home was built on a hill. As we were moving in, I spotted around 25 to 30 baby animals running down a hill toward us. I yelled to my older son to come over.

My son had always prayed for a sign of baby animals from God. All of the animals were furry. We went down to the yard and they all came up to us. My son was holding a very fluffy tiger / lion combination. This baby animal kept licking my son's cheek.

Older son: "Mom, God granted you your prayers and now He has granted me mine!"

I nodded in agreement. There were fluffy hedgehogs and chinchillas. There were furry brown armadillos with the cutest spots. There were so many unusual, but extremely cute, baby animals.

I then heard a horn calling them back. They then appeared to wave goodbye as they ran back up the hill together. My son and I watched as a bright light flashed. In an instant, the angels had collected these baby animals back to Heaven.

Sub-Dream 2 over...

Me: "Thank You, Lord, for these awesome dreams. However, when I look around at the world, I still worry."

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "Erin, I am here and I am with you. Do not worry. I have not forgotten My people nor have I closed My ears to their prayers. You are now in fear because you have read the words of the prophets Isaiah and Jeremiah. You have fear because you see and understand what is coming to the cursed land. While I see it, you are to remember that I have allowed this because the rulers are corrupted.

"As the prophet Isaiah wrote, 'Do not walk in the ways of these people saying, 'Do not call conspiracy all that this people call conspiracy and do not fear what they fear, nor be in dread.' But the Lord of hosts, Him you shall honor as holy. Let Him be your fear and let Him be your dread.'

"Erin, I will become your Sanctuary. As for the wicked, I will be a Stone of Offence, a Rock of Stumbling and a Snare. It was this time that the prophet foretold that a King, a child, would be born who would be a Great Light. However, I will now not wait hundreds of years as I come quickly, along with multitudes of saints, to heal the land. Those tree stumps will be great stumbling blocks to the rulers.”

Me: “Oh Lord, back when the dreams began, I never imagined what has now happened. All of this is so horrible. Please come now. Please activate Your Great Army and come for us. Please fill the pews again. Please display signs, wonders and miracles.”

Jesus: “There are many things to be afraid of all around you. There are even things you do not know even exist. None of this matters now as you are simply to come to Me in all things. I am God and I am to be revered. Do not give power to those who threaten or create fear. Because they have no fear of Me, this will be a paradigm shift for them. Those who promote fear will now be the ones living in great fear. There are some you think will never hit their knees that will soon do so and in prayer.

“Now, your daughter had some wise words about trusting Me. Trust in Me in a much greater way than you trust the following...

- The driver next to you to stay in their lane.
- The bus driver to drive you places.
- The pilot to fly you in a very heavy plane thousands of feet above the ground and even through storm clouds.
- The surgeon to open your body and make repairs.
- The cook at a restaurant to serve you food that is not going to poison you.
- The medicines, mechanics, objects, computers and your vehicles you rely on.

“Erin, you go outside every day. Each day, you place your trust in something, right?”

Me: “Oh yes, Lord. I do so even though there is so much to be concerned with, especially now. Should I worry?”

Jesus: “No, Erin, but only because I am with you. I have charged angels concerning you to guard you in all you do. You are not to walk in fear of man or objects. You are to put your trust in Me and understand that I am over it all. The enemy has no authority over you, your husband, your children, your Nest friends, your pets, the yard animals, your house, your car or your finances. He doesn’t have authority over what you will eat or even wear.

"Well, Erin, am I now incapable? Should I throw in the towel and say, 'Look at all the work this Erin is. Wow, troubles after troubles. She is a fulltime job for Me, let alone the rest of My Bride. Father in Heaven, I am thinking about taking a vacation. This Savior thing is difficult. Very few have faith even as a mustard seed. What am I even here for anyway?'"

Me: "Oh no, Lord, please never do this!"

Jesus: "Oh Erin, I won't! This is because, when I declare a thing, make a promise and give you My Word, it is already done on Earth as it is in Heaven. My ways are higher. Still, wisdom is proved right by her actions. Here is My Instructions to all of you... 'In all else, pray for wisdom. I will then grant you a double portion.' Now, why do you think that I continually put you in unusual circumstances or in the midst of newsworthy situations?"

Me: "Hmm, I have often wondered about this. I thought it was so that my story, which is technically Your story, would be relatable to many different people."

Jesus: "Well, yes and no. Now, what happened to you a few days ago?"

Me: "I had my car at the shop getting serviced and switching to my summer tires. Since my son now works at the place where I get my car serviced, he had me take his vehicle so I could run my errands while I waited. I drove downtown to park my car. The meter there then robbed me of the only coins I had. I decided to hunt down a meter officer to tell him what had happened.

"He then generously granted me two hours of parking. Thanks to this, I had time to go to a small shop. I quickly realized that most of the stuff in this part of downtown was way over my budget. I then walked back to my son's car empty handed. Judging from what I was seeing, I realized that there must have been a large dog that had attacked a man. A crowd was beginning to gather as I approached.

"There was a man with his rottweiler. He had him on a leash and was trying to control him. From the position of the older gentleman, it appears that he was startled by the dog, fell face forward and hit his head on a metal lamp pole. Thankfully, a doctor soon arrived and shortly thereafter an ambulance. Since I had no further purpose there, I drove my son's car back to his place of work. The ambulance then used my spot."

Jesus: "You are better prepared than many will be in the coming weeks. Now, what did you observe about the people?"

Me: "Because the man with the dog was yelling and causing a commotion, bystanders were afraid to help the elderly man."

Jesus: "You must see past any of this. You must trust Me to take you where I lead. I am your Pilot. Very soon, you will say a prayer and the dog will become docile, the owner will become mute and the elderly man smiling and going about his daily routine. You have learned to wait for My instructions and you must continue to wait. Trust in Me fully and I promise you that all else will simply fall into place.

"Do not forget that My Father in Heaven owns all of the cattle on a thousand hills. He also owns all of the hills. Do not fear the threat of troubles. Fear only the God who loves you. Now, remember one last thing even though you continue to doubt your place under Heaven and in Me...

"I did not choose perfect people. I have instead perfected those I have chosen for My purposes. In My eyes, you are perfect. Erin, remember these three things... I chose you, I choose you now and I will continue to choose you in the future. Be with joy as My angels are with you, your family and your friends."

Me: Crying. "I choose You, Lord. I love You. I feel blessed by You and I am thankful."

Jesus: "Hold on to that feeling. This makes Me so glad. Now, let Me pilot you, even unto the Storm."

Dream over.

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day! Thank You for all we have. Thank You for my family and friends, even my furry friends and feathered friends too. You are in the forefront of my thoughts all day long. There are days that drag on in this world and I say, 'Oh Father, how much longer will You be? Did You see that (referring to something wicked)?'

There are other days that go too quickly and, in praises to You, I long for more of those days. Now, looking back, just as You told me would happen, I would long for brighter days, even past ones during the midst of my epic furnace of affliction period. Why was it so different back then?

Because I pretty much knew 100% that if I was unable to perform my duties because I had become sick, I knew life would go on without me and my children would ultimately be okay. This is because, for the most part, people were kind, helpful and honest. Evil was hidden from sight and only surfaced once in awhile with people you met.

Now though it is upside down. I go out and never know what will happen today. For the most part, there are still kind people. However, more and more I now witness seem possessed by evil. Well, it is shocking. Every able body in our home now has a job. This means they are encountering things that we wouldn't have heard of just a few years ago. It is an interesting conversation every night at the dinner table.

All of this is not for the faint of heart. Up here, we have a huge population of pagans and witches. I know there are several covens locally and these are very active. You have told me that a few will one day be redeemed. As a result, I pray often for these lost souls, lost souls void of the God who loves and created them.

Christians up here are now mostly silent. While there is a huge Baptist presence, very few I have met are truly watchmen on the walls. I therefore say very little to them when I have an opportunity to speak with them. How is it possible to not notice that the end times are here? Truly all we see must be similar to the days of Noah now (Matthew 24:37-39). It is coming closer, if it is not here already as I speak.

While there is little resistance to evil now, there is still some resistance around. Back in 2008, I began to notice all of this. I wrote some of this in my journal. In many ways, my journaling back then was mostly just a weekly check in with Jesus and a log of occurrences. I soon became shocked at all of what I saw on TV commercials on cable and on mainstream media:

- Pharmaceuticals and drug pushing.
- Gambling sites. Advertising open casinos. Online betting on sports. Video poker.
- Tattoos and piercings. Actors and actresses. Good guys and villains. Women and men.
- Movies and TV shows. Turning villains into superheroes.
- Meat and dairy were bad for us. Even doctors pushed it. They did this instead of recommending the cutting of fats.
- Fewer people owned homes. Pricing increased and the demand for rentals meant they cost more than purchasing a home.
- Rise in divorces.
- Rise in autism, ADHD, ADD and severe anxiety disorder.
- Rise in seeker-sensitive churches. Not wanting to offend those seeking God for answers with the truth. The hard truth of the Word of God and sin.
- Rise in studio musicians and manufactured stardom.
- Social media.

The list goes on and on. What happened? A change came to America. The year 2008 was a type of turning point year. The people didn't turn to God. This is when they began to serve other gods and turn to them. Then God granted permissions for the release of judgments upon this nation that was once God's. The USA then fell slowly at first, then rapidly. It has not stopped falling and other nations are falling with the USA.

The nations are falling! All we can do is brace for the impact. Now a leader who claims to be God who says he is to be worshiped and has removed Jesus and replaced His Name with his name in all Bibles. All Christian churches in this communist nation have had their crosses removed. Father, rise up and subdue these evils against You.

Your salvation is being replaced by a man who thinks himself to be You. He will ravage the nations. What can we do to stop him? If all truth is suppressed, then how will the lost know You? If churches are shuttered, how will people worship You? Please move now, Lord, as this is agonizing to witness.

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "Peace, Erin. Peace be with you. I am with you. Your name means peace. Do not worry. There is a great plan of God higher than any worldly king could even conceive. The wicked will witness the miracles of God as they are subdued and forced to see the glory of God manifest throughout the world. They will groan from their hills and caves as they will be helpless to act against the Living God.

"I understand it is difficult to see the rise of evil. From the reports you read, it appears to be taking over. However, understand that these things had to occur in order that the words of the prophets would be fulfilled. Be encouraged instead that these things are coming to pass. The prophecies indicate that I am standing at the door. This is good.

"Recall when I told you that the events and increase in evil would come quickly, even as one report finished from the message, then another arrives to deliver an even worse report. So again, do not worry, but instead rejoice that these times have come because I am here with you now. Wait for it. Do you hear it? The shouts of the multitudes are soon to be heard. This is good. I also know some troubles have come to your home.

"However, did I not warn you that the enemy sends his messengers out to report on any breach? When he finds a possible entrance, then does he not move quickly with many spirits to descend upon the house with an opening? So, if it can happen to you, and I am here with you, then can it not also happen to others? I sent you at least 30 or more signs to alert you. However, you were in denial."

Me: "Yes, Lord. I was incredulous. Incredulous was one of my mom's favorite words. You gave me two warning dreams in addition. I am so upset at myself... in shock and angry. I am now on heightened alert and even my kids tell me I seem different.

"My son said, 'Mom, you are usually so kicked back and laughing. What is wrong? Are you in pain?' I replied, 'Yes, but now I am also angry and focused. I was tricked by the enemy. Now I am determined not to have this happen again.'

"So, Lord, was I too relaxed? I was confident in You and my faith was strong. What happened?"

Jesus: "Even though you were hyperaware of the enemy, he went another route. The enemy used weakness in another family member to gain access. The ultimate goal of the enemy was to discredit. Now, this is a good lesson for you all. Strengthen your walls. Strengthen your firewalls, as in your technology.

"Now is not the time to fall asleep or take an extended nap. The enemy has sent a wave of wicked spirits throughout the nations. These are designed to lull and cause dullness of thinking. Dull awareness. Sleepiness."

Me: "Well, it has shaken me awake."

Jesus: "Remember the ten virgins. All had fallen asleep because the wait was long. So now you have risen up quickly. You have shaken up your senses. For doing this, I gave you a double portion of wisdom to be on high alert."

Me: "I have been shaken to my senses. Lord, I remember as a child living in the San Francisco Bay Area... Albany. When earthquakes came, it always seemed to come at night. It was terrifying. I am reminded of the helplessness of enduring an event beyond my abilities to aid myself or others. With an earthquake, we were taught to find the door jam. We were to stay in that until the shaking was over. Running to the door entrances were the only thing we knew."

Jesus: "Ahh... a door. Well, Erin, I am the door during anything that is beyond your comprehension (John 10:9-16). See, I am your Shepherd and you are My Sheep. I care for My other sheep as much as I care for you, understand? You are never beyond My reach because I am with you in all things. I know you have been wearied in your travels lately. You have great resolve in your intentions. You also seem upset and tired at the same time."

Me: "I am a weary traveler on the path You designed for me, Lord. Recent events have left me worn. Sometimes the threat of storms on this path is worse than the actual storm. At times, I over prepare and nothing comes. Other times, I am completely taken off guard by the sudden impact. At the end of the day, I am just thankful You are with me on my journey. You stand at my door. I am so grateful that You are my Shepherd. As You know, I am not always the brightest of Your sheeple."

Jesus: "You are made for My purposes and are greatly loved. I want you to hold onto My promises. If any of you feel the need to jump ahead... well, what do you call this?"

Me: "Going rogue. Off kilter. Flying solo. Full on rebellion."

Jesus: "It is interesting that you came up with these terms so quickly. It must be that double portion of wisdom?"

Me: "As You know this about me... I have done all of that at one time. It is a lonely and humiliating experience to be caught in the 'Act of Stupid'. It is just a critical time. We are worried about many things, Lord. However, You have been faithful and carried us through each storm. Some big ones are on the horizon and we are really helpless to do anything.

"In worry, we can then act ahead of Your plan. This impatience then creates foolishness and stupidity. A blessing with my sons' autism is that they stay the course and will not turn to the left or the right unless they are instructed to. I am so thankful, Lord. I questioned You for many years why not heal my sons of autism. However, You knew the end from the beginning and the lateness of the hour. I am thankful."

Jesus: "You have now learned the most important lesson... stay with Me. Now is not the time to lose heart and change direction unless I tell you to go here or there. Just as I warned you of great trouble coming in advance, you were still mostly unprepared. I am thankful that you listened to My instruction and acted without hesitation. You knew that it was My Voice. Erin, all of these times of instruction has produced great fruit.

"Now, you must understand what is coming... events are coming to shake the nations and awaken those who have been asleep. All will know that God is angry and that He sees. He will command each head to bow. Many will have no one to blame but to look at their own station, a personal inventory to turn from evil. All you thought you had prepared for, all you had spoken about in conjecture of the likeness of God, nothing will prepare you for what is coming.

"Well, here I am and I am with you. My recompense I bring with Me. Nothing you ever imagined will manifest the way you thought it would. In this hour, many will turn, even the elect of God, as they will be shaken as their understanding of what they expected to transpire will be different. All is according to the Word of God, yet many thought My Word is not literal. Well, here is the literal Good News... I am here and I will do all that I promised I would do."

Me: Crying. "I am sorry for anything I have ever done against Your Will. I am a fool and I was raised in rebellion. Please forgive me."

Jesus: "You are forgiven. As for you, I am not housed in the vessel of a fool. Erin, I do not dwell in an unclean vessel who yields to their selfish ambitions. I did not shape you to hold Living Water only to destroy you in broken shards. These dreams are for My purposes and you are only to write as I guide you. Now, one last word here... by the word of the prophet Jeremiah (31:25), I satisfy the weary ones and refresh everyone who languishes.

"I have an important comfort for your soul so you know that nothing is beyond My ability to take care of those under My cover. I love you and, as you care for those I have given to your care, then how much more will your Creator care for you and them under you also? Do not worry. Don't let troubles, money or anything the enemy loves to torment you with take you from Me to act apart from Me.

"I promise you that I will care for you much better than the wolves who beckon and call you out from the fold with promises of great things when their real plan is to devour and charge high interest while consuming you. With Me... well, there is no interest like that of the Groom to her Bride. I give a perfect interest rate... 100% interest... in your heart. I realize this is high, but I have paid a high price for you and there is no interest like Mine. So, this is My proposal... can you trust Me to take care of you?"

Me: "Yes, Lord. I will take Your high interest over the world's high interest."

Jesus: "Great then... this is done! My recompense is with Me. I love you."

Dream over.

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day! I am grateful for all You do for us. I am sorry I haven't fully embraced the coming of spring. It is so beautiful outside right now. Even so, my asthma has returned this year and it has made me sad. There is something so amazing in breathing deeply. I am reminded about the thankfulness of the fresh air You provide. It is by Your grace alone that we even have an ability to breathe. We take this for granted.

Father, I take my breathing for granted. When I am anxious, my breaths are short and weak. When I am at peace, I take in more oxygen. I am better off being at peace because short breaths mean a lack of oxygen and this is not good for my health. The pollen in the air has been wreaking havoc with my lungs. It is also harming my ability to breathe, sleep and think.

When I can't breathe, I realize that I truly take breathing for granted. Breath is a blessing from You, Father. Our ability to breathe is one of our main priorities. I also need more than just fresh air to fill my lungs. I need the breath of God. Father, I need Your Holy Spirit in me.

When I am vulnerable and weak, I need more of Your Spirit. I need Your life to sustain me. Asthma is like the enemy in that it longs to shorten my breath. The enemy wants me to forget that Your Spirit breathes into me the very breath of Heaven here on Earth. Thank You, Father.

Lately, I have been crying over various things. It is not because I am hormonal. It is because I have been trying to see all the good You have done in this world. I realize that evil is consuming all goodness. However, there are still so many wonders.

Thank You for Your wonders. Thank You for the beauty You have made all around us. Thank You for spring. I was with my husband at the Christian bookstore on Friday. I picked up a bookmark that is perfect. It is a perfect reminder of Your Word.

- You say it is impossible. God says all things are possible (Luke 18:27).
- You say you are too tired. God says He will give you rest (Matthew 11:28-30).
- You say nobody loves me. God says He loves you (John 3:16).
- You say you can't figure this out. God says He will direct you (Proverbs 3:5-6).
- You say you can't go on. God says His grace is sufficient (2 Corinthians 12:9).
- You say you can't do it. God says you can do all things in Him (Philippians 4:13).
- You say you can't forgive yourself. God says He forgives you (2 John 1:9).
- You say you can't manage. God says He will supply all your needs (Phil 4:19).
- You say you are afraid. God says He has not given you fear (2 Timothy 1:7).
- You say you are worried. God says to cast all your cares on Him (1 Peter 5:7).
- You say you are depressed. God says He is your Stronghold (Psalms 27:1).
- You say you are confused. God says He will guide you into truth (John 16:13).
- You say you are weak. God says He is mighty (Zephaniah 3:17).
- You say you are weary. God says you are not to give up (Galatians 6:9).
- You say you have no peace. God says He will guard your heart (Philippians 4:7).
- You say you are in trouble. God says He will deliver you (Psalms 50:15).
- You say you are brokenhearted. God says He will heal you (Psalms 147:3).
- You say you can't find God. God says seek Him with all your heart (Jer 29:13).

- You say you are sinful. God says sin will not master you (Romans 6:14).
- You say you are anxious. God says give Him your anxiety (1 Peter 5:7).
- You say you need counsel. God says I will instruct you (Psalm 16:7).
- You say you are tempted. God says resist the devil (James 4:7-8).

Father, thank You for these "BIG" little reminders. You are a gift and a treasure to Me.

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "Erin, I am here and I am with you. I know you are having difficulties and not just in your ability to breathe."

Me: "Lord, I am struggling. The storms are coming. My dreams show that they are. Food is scarce, people will be robbed, especially in parking lots. At gas stations, people will be forced to fill their own tanks as well as some scary men forcing them to fill theirs too. I had a couple of dreams and both of them were short and quite vivid..."

Sub-Dream 1 "Youths and Chicken Droppings" begins...

I was cooking in the kitchen when some youths entered our home. They were live streaming what they were doing as they went over and sat on our sofa. I came after them in my prayer language. As I did this, something picked them up into mid-air and carried them into a vat of chicken excrement at a nearby farm. They screamed in terror.

Sub-Dream 1 over...

Sub-Dream 2 "A Beautiful Gown put on in an instant" begins...

I was shopping for a gown. The attendant showed me a gown on display in a glass case. The gown was white on both the bottom and the top. In between the bottom and the top was an ombre of copper, gold and silver precious metal sequins. The dress was like a sculpture.

Attendant: "You would never be able to fit into this dress. Even if you could fit into this dress, you still wouldn't have enough to buy it."

In an instant, the garment was on me. It was removed from the case and put onto me in an instant. The attendant was in such shock to see this happen that she fainted. I then noticed that I held all of the necessary purchase paperwork in my hand.

Sub-Dream 2 over..

“What did this mean, Lord?”

Jesus: “You will be able to do impossible things through Me. This is preparing you for the possibilities of what can be achieved. In this, an object moved from one position under lock and cover to you physically wearing the dress, all without exposing your nakedness. You then provided the bill of sale to prove your worthiness to pay. It was fun to watch the attendant faint after being so mean to you. Many will soon faint due to other upcoming events.”

Me: “Oh Lord, You are so funny!”

Jesus: “Well, yes, but nobody laughing at My Bride will remain standing for long once My judgment returns to the land.”

Me: “Lord, You seem upset at all that is occurring. I am used to You being more... hmm, I can’t find the precise words...”

Jesus: “I can be mad. Erin, how do you feel when you witness something you know is harmful or you hear lies spoken boldly as truth?”

Me: “It is upsetting.”

Jesus: “What if this was occurring to someone close to you? For instance, what if this was happening to one of your children?”

Me: “Yes, Lord. That would be a gamechanger. Moms don’t like people harming their children.”

Jesus: “Okay then... so how do you think I might view this considering you are My Bride and a child of God?”

Me: “Hmm, I didn’t think of it this way.”

Jesus: “God is capable of anger. My anger is targeted at something specific. I am never out of control. Remember that I am patient, loving and strong. I care for you. Not only do I send angels concerning you to guard you in all you do, I also destroy the enemies schemes and turn him away empty. He will not prosper against you. Since you are Mine and I love you, I also become angry at anyone who comes against My Bride and all of the children of God.

“Now, do not forget about My recompense. I come to reconcile everything for My Glory. I am with you. Since I am with you, you now understand that evil has increased. You see it in all areas of your life.

However, please take comfort that I am over all things. Understand also that I do not sit back passively and watch the wicked."

Me: "Lord, it breaks my heart to see what has come to the land. Things are happening that I never imagined I would experience my whole life. It is painful to see the cruelty."

Jesus: "Erin, multitudes have been given over to demons. You are seeing armies mobilized against God and His people; ethnicity against ethnicity, brother against brother. A level of hatred has risen that you have not seen in your lifetime... or even in a generation. However, even though this is troubling, it is not as troubling as the slaughter of innocents (abortions). Heaven keeps accurate records. My story in history cannot be changed.

"Truth remains. It is not only in ink as recorded, but it is also as witnessed... witnessed by God, His angels and the saints who can attest before God. It would be wise to always seek truth as, very soon, these lies will be completely erased, as well as those who delight in the spreading of lies meant to confuse all who hear. There is a reason why I will one day come upon the clouds... with Me is the Sword of Truth from My very mouth to cut through the thickness of lies."

Me: "Lord, I long for this time. Please! Please! In the meantime, I search for Your signs. My husband and I recently counted twelve bald eagles circling over us near the water. It was a beautiful sight to see. Then at my feeders were some new visitors... a red breasted grosbeak, his female counterpart and a catbird. The hummingbirds were here, then I changed their feed and they haven't returned. I did something wrong. My little Kingbirds haven't been around lately, but we have had very few bugs too."

Jesus: "The twelve eagles are a sign representative of My tribes. They are gathered and circling over water... a grand fishing spot. Their home is there in the cleft of the rocks. There is a pine tree that grows there as a mystery. They are tucked away there. While they were all gone for many seasons, I have gathered them back to fish. My elect will be gathered together very soon, also to fish.

"They will sort out those who are worthy and those who are not, all because My Voice will be in them. Through them, I will work all things together for the good of all those who love Me. I don't want you to be discouraged. You saw these eagles at the same distinct location in which I gave you the sign of the corona. This is very good, Erin. The other birds at your feeder are there to visit because you serve great food for a variety of visitors. Some stay and find a home near you.

"Now, I am sorry for your troubles. However, be encouraged as My hand is upon you. I am working through you. When you are angry, I am also angry. However, you are to give this to Me. This is because there is danger in uncontrolled anger, especially if left unchecked. Notice that 'anger' makes up five of the six letters in 'danger'. It is a warning in plain sight. Give your anger to Me. You can then rest easy knowing I am also witnessing evil. Erin, I see.

"The danger is going to bed angry. This is no way to rest. There is no rest in anger. There is no peace. If I am the prince of peace, then trust Me to administer peace in My way as, right now, you do not fully understand that this unrest must occur prior to the delivery of peace. Give all things to Me so you can rest. I am with you. You can do nothing on your own, so let Me, understand?"

Me: "Yes, Lord, I understand. Please grant me peace as my heart is grieving and I have racing thoughts."

Jesus: "Rest in Me. I am with you. I am God over all things. Rejoice in Me and always remember that you are on the winning team. Read your lists as these are good. Oh yes... do not forget to study about Sardis, Philadelphia and Laodicea. It is a good time to study Revelation 3."

Me: "Lord, I recently learned that, in some places of the Bible, the word 'ethnos' has been translated as 'nations'. However, the word 'ethnos' actually is a root meaning for 'ethnicities'. This seems to imply that nations being in an uproar actually means ethnicities are fighting and are at war."

Jesus: "Very good. This should help you to understand that there is a great slaughter of ethnicity today. Even so, while there are uprisings, the Great War is not yet here. There are also religious uprisings and rebellions. The church of Peter (Catholics?) is under attack, as well as any church that advocates for the lives of children.

"All churches are being attacked or are being taken siege by foreigners. These are the uprisings of those representing the evil Molech and Baal. Do not be afraid though as I have a great plan under Heaven. Take heart and do not worry. I am greater than anything you are told to fear. I have you. Erin, you are Mine!"

Me: "Thank You, Lord. I love You!"

Jesus: "I love you too!"

Dream over.

703 – Staying Focused on Our Great God

Dear Father,

Thank You for this beautiful day here! You make me so happy, Father. I pray I make You happy too. There are days that worry fills my thoughts. As for yesterday, a new batch of baby groundhogs appeared. We feel so blessed by this. They make us smile here. Thank You.

Jesus: “Erin, come up!”

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: “Let us talk again about the twelve eagles you saw. These eagles flew in a tight circle. They almost looked like a tempest or a tornado. What they were doing literally slowed traffic as they slowed to watch this unusual sight. This is a significant sign. I sent warnings out in advance to call for repentance. Many turned away from their worldly practices and rituals and took inventory of their actions.

“Anything contrary to My Spirit was brought forward and dealt with by renouncing the spirit involved that competed with My Holy Spirit. Once renounced, all ties broken, then each vessel was blessed for greater use. Now, this is a practice that needs daily checks. Why? Because I have declared to you the lateness of the hour. Just as I said do not go to bed angry, I now say to you to not go to bed with an unrepentant heart.”

Me: “Thank You, Lord. I will follow Your direction on this.”

Jesus: “Good. Now, those I have called are subject to a higher standard. This is because you were refined in the fire and you understand it is a painful practice. You therefore avoid this by turning away from the things of the world that I did not call you to. There is a sect of Jewish believers that claim, if Gentiles obey certain laws, then they are grafted into My Kingdom.

“Well, this is a cult and a way to use a Pharisee spirit over those who are zealous for more of Me. I will make it simple to follow Me. I do not require these things. I promise you that these people will be in shock when Heaven is visible upon Earth and they missed the call because they deemed certain people to be unworthy. It is I who makes you clean.

"It is I who formed you in your mother's womb. It is I who shaped your vessel. It is therefore I who makes you clean. A vessel can't roll down a hill to the river to fill itself for use. I carry you. It is I who fills you with Living Water. It is I who pours out from you. As for anything I have called for you to bring to Me to confess, I will take this burden from you. I will then remember this no more. This should be encouraging."

Me: "It is, Lord. However, I realize more and more just how imperfect I am. I am sorry. I want to fly like one of those eagles. I do not want to be bogged down in sin and rebellion."

Jesus: "Erin, I am here. Healing is coming. A Great Move of Heaven upon the Earth is here and ready to be on display. I know you are worried about missing a few of your Omer blessings. Well, Erin, you are not to get bogged down in minutia. I am in the details of blessing you, not an app, understand? I am God. I am here. If you have questions, just ask.

"Now, one other thing... I have placed you and your family on full display. Your successes, your struggles, your concerns and even good reports are all for those who read so they can relate to you. I call you to air your mistakes and those who see areas I am calling them to clean up, then they will and be thankful.

"To those who choose to think themselves higher and beyond the reproach of the Living God, they are then not able to be used by Me. While I hold you to a high standard, I also love you. I am here in your troubles. I have carried you. I have spoken and covered you. I have sent you help. All of this is so that you lack nothing... no good thing. This is all so you can continue to be used by Me.

"While you have not proclaimed your other concern, I know it and I can assure you I will care for you. You have no need to worry. Now, it is a beautiful day that I have made for you. Go out and rejoice in this day. You are greatly loved and I am with you."

Me: "Psalm 37 is on my heart today! After reading it, all I can say is... oh my goodness, thank You, Lord. This is the perfect Scripture for right now. Thank You!"

Jesus: "You are welcome. Etch this on your heart, Erin!"

Dream over.

704 – The Five Woes of Habakkuk

Received on Sunday, May 28, 2023

Communion

Dear Father,

Bless You, Father, in all Your works as all You do is for the good of all Your Creation! Thank You for another day. Thank You for my friends and family. We are so blessed in Your great love. I woke up at 3:22am last night. I heard You speak:

Voice of the Lord: "Take a lesson from Habakkuk and rejoice."

I then got up for a moment and a few of the lyrics from Jordan Feliz' song 'Jesus is coming back' was in my head...

From the song: "Are you ready? People get ready! People get ready!"

Tears well up in my eyes every time I hear this song. I then went back to sleep and had a dream...

Sub-Dream 1 "The Twelve Empty Baskets are Filled" begins...

I saw empty fields. I saw vines without grapes. I saw empty fruit trees and emaciated cattle. Before me were twelve baskets. All twelve of the baskets were empty. I heard the voice of an angel of the Lord...

Angel: "The month of repentance is the twelfth month. Sound the alarm and rejoice in the Lord."

I then turned and, in a fast time-lapse, I saw the sky turn dark and the clouds move quickly. Then, in the forefront, as the clouds moved with great speed, I saw an angel of the Lord with a shofar blow a shofar. The angel then made an announcement...

Angel: "Three days left of the twelve. Three days left."

I then stood before the twelve empty baskets. I dropped to my knees. Even though the sky was moving so quickly, I was moving normally. I prayed...

Me: "Dear Father, my Hayah, my ABBA over all life. It looks hopeless to the people as we are hungry. While we also thirst for righteousness, we are parched. Father, You fed the 5,000 Jewish people with five loaves. The five loaves represented the books of the Jewish Law. Then when all were finished, there were twelve baskets full of leftovers. You then fed 4,000 Gentiles with seven loaves.

"Then when all were finished, there were seven baskets full of leftovers. So now, Father, there are twelve empty baskets with the multitudes to feed. Without Your miracles on the 22nd year of troubles in this great month of the harvest, we will have nothing. I give these baskets to You, Father. They are Yours. We rejoice in You, Our Father, the God of all Creation. You feed those who are hungry and fill those who thirst with the Living Water from on high."

Note on the 22 years: I had an impression that the time period I was praying for was the time period from September 11th, 2001 to September 12th, 2023. However, since this was not 'truly' confirmed by the Lord, this is meant 'for your information' only.

I then fell with my face forward on the dry cracked ground of red earth. I heard the Voice of the Lord call to me...

Voice of the Lord: "Get up and see what I will now do for those who love Me!"

I looked over at the twelve baskets. They were no longer empty. They were now so filled that they were spilling over. The ground began to water from below all the dry and cracked places. Dew and mist from Heaven fell and the Earth came alive again. The angel of the Lord blew the shofar three more times before speaking again.

Voice of the Lord: "The Five Woes!"

I woke suddenly to the sounds of a door closing and my dog barking.
Sub-Dream 1 over.

I then got up and went to the Scriptures. I knew that the book of Habakkuk was going to be the focus today. I searched for the Five Woes.

Me: "Forgive me, Father, as I never paid attention to the Five Woes in this book before."

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "Erin, I am here and I am with you. Remember that I told you that I hand over judgment of the wicked by foreigners. In this case, the Chaldeans were raised up against Judah as punishment for their sins against God."

Me: "I am gathering that Habakkuk was interested in why You allowed the evil to thrive and the people of God to perish. He accuses You of not caring."

Jesus: "I think you must understand the argument and what I told Peter to do with his net many years later. The prophet Habakkuk then laments..."

Habakkuk 1:14-17 (as spoken by Jesus in this dream): "You make mankind like the fish of the sea, like crawling things that have no ruler. He brings all of them up with a hook; he drags them out with his net. He gathers them in his dragnet so he rejoices and is glad. So he sacrifices to his net – hence worshipping the net. He profits from his catch and he is living in luxury. Is he then to keep emptying his net and mercilessly killing nations forever?"

"So, the prophet sees that the people are like fish and easily snared by evil and he rejoices in his catch of men. But see, I do care. I know that men are like fish or My sheep. This is why I declared to Peter after the miracle catch in their nets, 'Follow Me and I will make you fishers of men.' Remember that I look at the heart. I see and know each one. The prophet then made a declaration..."

Habakkuk 2:1: "I will take my stand at my watchpost and station myself on the tower, and look out to see what he will say to me, and what I will answer concerning my complaint."

"I then answered and told him this..."

Habakkuk 2:2-4: "Write the vision; make it plain on tablets, so he may run who reads it. For still the vision awaits its appointed time; it hastens to the end – it will not lie. If it seems slow, wait for it; it will surely come; it will not delay. Behold, his soul is puffed up; it is not upright within him, but the righteous shall live by his faith."

"Erin, I gave a hint on who I bless. This is Good News! Now, a word that is wise refers to any foreign substance meant to make someone greater than they are. This is a matter of pride, arrogance and vanity. This is similar to the churches. Each a man is never at rest who worships wine, spirits, smoke, injects his body with a substance of any kind meant to make a person deflect from mistakes or even remove wrinkles.

"This also means branding, piercing and taking pills or substances in order to achieve a transformation that leads to Sheol. These are tools of the enemy to remove God. It is an illusion. These are the Five Woes of this book. However, I can truly add more as there are many. However, this is happening to the falling nation (USA). Erin, now read from Habakkuk the verse I am directing you to."

The Lord was referring to Habakkuk 2:6: "Woe to him who heaps up what is not his own – for how long? – and loads himself with pledges!"

Me: "Lord, this is happening right now. The USA is going broke and we will soon be unable to pay the debtors. Our enemies are rising up. Has America plundered many nations deserving of all the remnants to plummet the USA? Is the USA not guilty of loaning out and giving out, policing the world and even becoming God over the world?"

Jesus: "The leaders are wicked, including the evil one who is there now and those before. I sent warnings. Now, what was on the former President's schedule months before Trump took control? What was he busy with?"

Me: "Oh... You are speaking about Obama. He visited our enemies."

Jesus: "Yes. I am speaking of him now because he is still the ruler over the nation. Anyone who participates in this man's causes and pledges or are in allegiance to him will have great troubles."

Me: "Oh, another Woe is similar to this..."

Habakkuk 2:9: "Woe to him who gets evil gain for his house, to set his nest on high, to be safe from the reach of harm!"

"This reminds me of their webcam of the eagles... the 'DC Nest'."

Jesus: "Very good. This is a sign then. You are paying attention. A divisive leader will make the house fall."

Me: "Habakkuk 2:12 states, 'Woe to him who builds a town with blood and founds a city on iniquity!' Is this referring to Chicago?"

Jesus: "All of the major cities are now a part of his house."

Me: "Hmm, this would include Chicago, NYC, Philly, LA, San Fran, Seattle, Portland..."

Jesus: "Yes, Erin. You could go on all day. While he set this up subtly, now there are people's lives being lost in a war no one realizes is being waged."

Me: "Habakkuk 2:15 states, 'Woe to him who makes his neighbors drink – you pour out your wrath and make them drunk, in order to gaze at their nakedness!' This is the fourth woe."

Jesus: "While this one has many meanings, all are current now. Do not think of it just as wine to get drunk and to gaze by filming to publicly display. Instead, think of what I spoke about in the beginning... getting all to inject themselves with foreign substances to do harm."

Me: "This could include the vaccines. It could be fentanyl or other drugs. All expose the victims. We are seeing men like zombies showing their parts... nakedness."

Jesus: "Yes. Both are true. Those who were injected and those who weren't were all registered. Strikes went out against all who didn't comply or didn't believe. Regardless, many died either way. Many are still dying. It can also be for vanity on public display for all to see."

Me: "Hmm, like reality TV shows! Habakkuk 2:18-20 states, 'What profit is an idol when its maker has shaped it, a metal image, a teacher of lies? For its maker trusts in his own creation when he makes speechless idols! Woe to him who says to a wooden thing, Awake; to a silent stone, Arise! Can this teach? Behold, it is overlaid with gold and silver, and there is no breath at all in it. But the Lord is in his holy temple; let all the earth keep silence before him.'

"This is the fifth woe! This is the vanity of idolatry. Lord, there are so many things that people are worshipping right now that it is ridiculous. Yoga is everywhere now. While I thought goat yoga was bad, there is now a new one emerging... yoga orgies!"

Jesus: "All are defilements, including personal defilements. There is a reason idols are to be destroyed. A man fashions an idol. He crafts it and finds it to be beautiful. He then obsesses about his work and soon longs to improve it. He then overlays it with gold. This means he invests more and more money into his pursuit and then he displays it. Others then worship what he has created.

"He then names it and begins a type of ritual around it. Others then want it and it spreads. It takes God out and inserts a 'small god' or evil spirit. There is a reason I find this detestable and these rituals vile. Remember that evil begins as a planted seed. It then grows to the 'profit' of evil to remove God. This is why it is so important to destroy anything that removes Me."

Me: "Lord, what is a graven image?"

Jesus: "Something carved or made to be worshipped."

Me: "Graven has the word 'grave' in it. This seems to hint that it will bring people to their spiritual death."

Jesus: "Ah yes... hidden in plain sight."

Me: "Lord, is there still anything that I need to repent and remove?"

Jesus: "I would have told you immediately. I send signs to warn you of troubles."

Me: "I can now feel this. If I am near someone who is a practicing occultist, I have immediate signs. These signs include headaches, flies, spiders and other things. I also seem to react around new age people and yoga people."

Jesus: "Make no mistake that is a religion and there are children of God who left the worship and praise of their Creator and decided to follow the evil practice of worshipping other gods daily. They are not ignorant. They know what they are doing. Do not worship the sun, the moon or the direction of an altar to the east or west, understand?"

"Do not read tea leaves or stars to determine the direction of a day. This is evil. Keep yourselves from evil practices. Many have begun self-worship since the churches were shuttered. This is the time... the very day... to repent."

Me: "Lord, 'pent' is in repent and in Pentecost. Is there a tie to these?"

Jesus: "Well, one is to turn away from the buildup of sin and go the right way. Confess (repent) by recognizing you have sinned. You then renounce it, breaking the enemy's hold or permission to inflict you or tie, partnership, to continue with you. You are instead under My care. I am God and I will bless you."

"As for Pentecost, it is the 50th day... the day My Holy Spirit fell upon those who believed... a Good Day... a Day of the Miraculous. Now, the prophet Habakkuk said a very powerful prayer and this is good for now also. However, breakthrough then happens. Even though all looks gloomy, he surrenders to God and rejoices."

Me: "I love this! Habakkuk 3:19 states, 'God, the Lord, is my strength; he makes my feet like the deer's; he makes me tread on my high places.' Thank You, Lord. Thank You for everything. We are relying on You right now more than ever. Things are dark here. We have tried to cut back on all things. It is looking like a very hot summer is coming. Please provide coolness in our house. Please continue to provide for us. You have so far taken us from strength to strength and I believe You will continue."

Jesus: "Good... then do not worry. Since you are not afraid to declare your love for Me, I will continue to care for you in all you do. Though at times you wonder if you will need to make difficult choices and things will be beyond your abilities to purchase, then give this also to Me as I will do for you all that I have promised. Now rejoice as I am with you in all you do."

Me: "Thank You, Lord. I have the date of September 12, 2023 in my heart right now. This date is 22 years from 9/11. It is also 4,000 days from when my dreams from You started on September 30, 2012. Can You tell me what this date means?"

As per usual, He did not comply with my request for a date explanation... smiles.

Jesus: "Hmm, this is interesting. Erin, you are loved."

Dream over.

705 – ‘Ten Minutes’ to Get Your Houses in Order!

Received on Sunday, June 4, 2023

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for this glorious day! Another one. Thank You or Your great love and kindness. You are wonderful, indescribable and so creative.

I recently spent time as a tag along with my daughter at a Christian event. She had set up interviews with artists and connected with others. It was an amazing adventure. However, the enemy is now trying to steal her joy. Father, please help us as evil trolls and claims power over Your people. Please help my daughter and grant her peace in all she does. I had two very vivid dreams last night.

Sub-Dream 1 “The overseer tries to take my inherited estate” begins...

As a gift, I inherited a beautiful estate. It was made of stucco and stone. The grounds were beautifully landscaped. The place served as a venue for weddings as the garden and grounds were breathtaking, complete with lighted pathways. People would often come and do devotionals there. When I received this gift, I had no idea who the people were who went before me.

However, they knew of me through my trade as an interior designer and knew I loved Jesus so. Because they had no other heirs, they entrusted me with this estate. The home itself was beautiful. However, due to it needing some updating and care, I brought in workers to help me restore it to its original beauty.

As I planned the work and set up the budget, I discovered that they had a similar journey to mine and they loved the Lord. Their only requirement for me was that I would restore it, maintain it and give it to God daily to be used by Him. This seemed reasonable to me, so I thought I would begin by blessing the area and house and give everything as an offering to God.

I then called on my team to gather the beautiful furnishings, antiques, lighting, fabrics, drapes and artwork that I had collected over the years into a large storage area the property had. I would then bring these in as each room was completed. When everything was delivered, I met them there and we completed an inventory. We created a checklist of all of the items contained within.

I realized quickly that these things were items I personally admired at various designer centers and antique & art markets. I never owned anything like this collection in my whole life as it was way beyond my personal means. After I finished this, I began to remodel and restore the walls and floors. I had the best finish carpenters, painters and masonry workers.

In the meantime, I kept the grounds and gardens open for visitors. One day, I noticed a few rival interior designers coming to meet for tea. They had brought with them a catered lunch. I recognized several older faces from over twenty years ago. While I was hated, I thought I would still go out and say hello. As I was about to walk out, a woman approached me who is a designer on television...

TV Designer Woman: "I am sorry, Erin, but many of the designers felt you needed help. As a result, several were called in under one person they hired to oversee your project. The designers collectively put this property on the historical registry to be overseen by others above you. An investor has also stepped in to finance it. However, this investor is never here."

Me: "You can't do this. I own the property. Since I am the rightful owner, I am the one who should decide. I have more than twenty years of experience. This estate is mine."

TV Designer Woman: "Uh, yeah, sweetie... it is not. Girl, so sorry for your loss."

Just then, a man came who was 'the overseer'. While he was an accountant by trade, he had 'zero' experience.

Overseer: "Okay, I have already started. We are clearing out everything and then bringing in our own stuff. If you have another place to be, it would be good for you to go now. I have already sorted out your storage area. We are not using most of it."

I could tell that this man was crazy. He was acting bizarrely and talking a mile a minute. He had workers begin to gut the home.

Me: "But my furnishings fit the home. They are beautiful. Some are even signed and numbered."

I followed him out to the warehouse. Once there, he clumsily pushed a $16,000 table off a large storage shelf. I was not sure if he did this accidentally or not. The table shattered into a million pieces.

Overseer: "Oops. Well, it doesn't really matter as we weren't going to use it."

I was crying at this point. Many had come in and taken over. I was so overwhelmed that I left briefly. After a few phone calls, I returned with the police and a court order. The police removed the invaders.

A representative from the deceased family's estate, a lawyer, then came to serve the wicked overseer and the designers with a restraining order forcing them by orders of the judge to immediately vacate the property. The original workers all cheered as the fake workers were then arrested.

Overseer: "I wasn't the one who wanted to destroy your estate. I was paid to destroy your estate. The people who paid me are angry and jealous that you inherited such a beautiful estate."

Lawyer / Rep: "How much were you paid to do this?"

Overseer: "$5 million."

The police and the lawyer / rep then went over to the designers and they also admitted to it. The lawyer / rep then made a call to the judge. After a couple minutes of conversation, he came back to speak to the overseer and the designers...

Lawyer / Rep: "The order by the judge has been filed. You are to compensate Erin in an amount ten times more than what was paid to the evil man (the overseer)."

Designers: "But this will bankrupt all of us."

Lawyer / Rep: "Then you had better begin today. This is a good time to get right the many wrongs you have done."

The overseer and the designers were then arrested and forced to exit. The entire estate was then restored supernaturally. All of my things were set up perfectly. It was absolutely beautiful.

Sub-Dream 1 over...

Sub-Dream 2 "You have 'Ten Minutes' to complete your work" begins...

I heard the voice of an angel: "You and those who are with you have 'Ten Minutes' to complete your work. Choose your time wisely. This 'Ten Minutes' will change your outcome. Now, this 'Ten Minutes' stands, so do not ask for more."

Sub-Dream 2 over..

Me: "Father, these were very clear dreams. Please grant me wisdom to understand what these mean."

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "Erin, I am here and I am with you. Now, your dream of 'Ten Minutes' (Sub-Dream 2) actually happened before the dream of 'The House' (Sub-Dream 1), correct?"

Me: "Yes, Lord. I was in a very deep sleep. I was exhausted. I woke up with the 'Ten Minutes' dream at around 6:00am or so. However, I then fell asleep again and had 'The House' dream. I wrote 'The House' dream down first as it had so many details. I did this first as this dream was still fresh on my mind."

Jesus: "This is fine. However, there is a reason that the 'Ten Minutes' dream was first... 'Ten Minutes' to get your houses in order. Erin, the hour is late!"

Me: "But, Lord, how long is 'Ten Minutes'?"

Jesus: "What does 'Late Hour' mean to you?"

Me: "Midnight. When one day finishes and another begins. In this, I keep thinking it is 11:50pm and I only have 'Ten Minutes' until midnight to turn from my ways and enter into Your Glory."

Jesus: "The people of Israel practice this at sundown."

Me: "I suppose 'Ten Minutes' in this 'Late Hour' is the same 'Ten Minutes' to all people, whether Gentile or Jew."

Jesus: "Very good! You are witnessing a period where those who are Brides are not in their right mind. They are angry at God... at Me. They feel betrayed as the wait has been both long and humiliating. Even though they have been warned, many have made a series of poor choices in their need for control. Because they are tired and weary travelers, they are called back by the enemy to familiar ways of sin.

"Remember that the word 'liar' is contained in the word 'familiar'. These are familiar spirits who wait for an opportunity... for an opening. Once in, they see the owner has cleaned and renovated the place. They then call in all of their other evil spirits to push the owner and enter in. However, I am telling you now...

You have 'Ten Minutes' to get your houses in order! The hour is late! 'Ten Minutes' is short! 'Ten Minutes' goes quickly! Do not delay in this!

"Now, the evil spirits call out from old battlefields of the mind. Since the wait has been long, the homeowner longs to be whole again. Instead of answering to My Voice calling, the owner answers to the familiar voice, the lying voice, the voice that is loud. Their goal is to destroy the home prior to realizing the finished work as it comes into view.

"These familiar voices come against families, their places of work, their schools, their marriages, their children and their churches. They do this in order to tell you, 'You are not good enough or qualified enough. You are not even the owner of your own body.' Well, the enemy is a liar, a familiar liar.

"Many succumb to this voice right at the end of the race because their first choice is to avoid Me and go to what feels more familiar or comfortable. A desire is in them to be lit by another flame. It is a difficult thing to continue to keep oil in your lamp indefinitely. It is a difficult thing to keep your wick from burning out. Do you remember that saying?"

Me: "Oh, I believe You are referring to someone who is overworked and never at rest. They are 'burning the candle at both ends'!"

Jesus: "When this happens, it doesn't take long to 'burn out'. Now, I am asking for 'Ten Minutes' to prepare for Me and to rend your heart. While the wait has been long, remember that I control this, not the enemy. I control the wait, not you or anyone else. I measure how the Bride is during the wait, not if she is able to control time.

"The Bride is unable to control time. The Bride cannot control time, only how she spends it. You can control your decisions, but I have a greater ask than all of that... surrender and give Me that 'Ten Minutes'. I promise you that, in this wait, My Glory will fall upon you in greater measure.

"I come in glory, splendor, majesty, fulfillment and strength to give gifts to those who endure until the end. In My Army, each one has a purpose. You were born of My Spirit and therefore I have given your life purpose. This is to glorify Me and give directions to the place I have prepared for you.

- You say, 'I never saw my promises fulfilled here on Earth, but I will love You no matter what.' To those who love Me, I promise fulfillment of these promises for eternity.

- You say, 'I have stayed true to Your Laws. I have pursued righteousness to serve over others with an upright heart. I love You and I will continue to pray for Your Will and perfect peace.' To those who love Me, I promise a crown of majesty in My Courts of praise.
- You say, 'I have suffered at the hands of my enemies. I am despised by those who claim to love You. I will still pray for those who persecute me. I will pray for them even in my affliction and pain. I will press forward to the finish line.' To those who love Me, I promise you will be lifted up to display My Splendor.
- You say, 'I am sick and lame. I am poor in spirit and have no caretaker. Still, I will rejoice in the promises of God and I will sing His praises.' To those who love Me, I promise that a Grand Inheritance awaits you in Heaven.

"Erin, I give 'Ten Minutes' to those who need to make things right to Me who loves them. It is the final time of adjustment before the Great Separation. This is the place where you will soon see runners fall right before the finish line. Stay with Me instead. It is more important than ever not to leave Me. You are all to come to Me in all things."

Me: "Lord, do I still need to repent of anything?"

Jesus: "If one is in doubt, repenting is wisdom. Erin, you are on your way to the finish line. Your gifts are there... on Earth as they are in Heaven. I am shouting out to those who are discouraged and tired. I am shouting out to those who are weary from this race. It is time to push through the Sheep Gate. I promise you that My recompense is with Me and you will be restored!"

706 – The Potter and His Clay

Received on Thursday, June 8, 2023

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day here! I am grateful for You in all things and really even in my struggles because You use these to shape my way. I am the clay and You are the Potter. My Vessel is created for the pleasure of the Potter for His purposes for me. The Potter is not created for the pleasure of the pot. The pot has no say in the Potter's plans. If the clay fights the Potter and is unpliant and unworkable, the clay is deemed unusable and thrown away.

Oh Father, there are days where I question my Potter. I then ask for forgiveness for doing so. Clay never earns the right to speak and question the Creator. Please forgive me. The wait has been long. This old clay is dry and in need of Living Water to bring me back to life. This is needed for You to continue with me. I submit my way to Your Wheel, Lord... Your Will, not mine.

My daughter and I were downtown yesterday. After parking, I exited the car and looked at the monster truck beside my car. I then noticed a baby bird... a sparrow fledgling. It was right behind the monster wheel of this truck. It was on the pavement and ready to be run over. I went to the back hatch of my car to look for something for the bird to be picked up with. I found a stiff bag.

The bird was frightened and disoriented. It had lost its way. I was able to get the bird to perch up on the bag. We then began to search for its mom. We spotted the nest way high up on a building. It was impossible for us to put the little sparrow back. Several bystanders walked by to offer suggestions, but most of them were unhelpful. After a while, the baby bird cried out to its mom.

The mom frantically swooped in and then disappeared. We tried to follow her flight pattern. We decided to set the little bird on a very steady inside branch of a maple tree. The baby bird cried out to its mom again. It then proceeded to get into nap position and was soon sleeping. It was so cute.

This happened just prior to a torrential downpour starting. I am relieved that we found shelter for this baby bird in the tree. We checked on it after running some errands and it was still sleeping soundly. It sure seemed like a sign to us from God. However, I am not fully sure what this sign meant. I had a dream last night...

Sub-Dream 1 "Three Supernatural Swimmers" begins...

I was swimming in a deep, deep body of water. While it was attached to a harbor, it didn't gradually become shallow. The water was a murky dark green color and impossible to peer into. I was in the water. My daughter was in the distance and closer to the pier. As I looked into the water, I noticed three swimmers underwater...

- One was very fast at the bottom. I could barely see it. All I could see was a glimmering figure swimming underwater toward the pier.
- A different swimmer was a larger male with dark hair. He appeared to be struggling. He flipped himself over and was going deeper into the water. He was heading north and was parallel to the harbor. He had something like a black flag in his hand.
- Then there was a swimmer about six feet under the surface of the water swimming right towards me. He brushed my leg. Even though we are in this massive harbor, this man decides to brush against me.

I could see supernaturally into the water. These figures were illuminated. I called out to my daughter...

Me: "It is time to go ashore."

I saw her wave in response to my instruction. In lightning speed, I swam on the surface. I was in shimmering goldish copper swimwear, almost like a wetsuit. I swam incredibly fast, as fast as the first swimmer that was deepest. When I reached the pier, my daughter and I were both immediately dry and on the pier. We were both in dry clothing.

Sub-Dream 1 over.

I also had another dream. Though it was epic, it had disappeared from my memory. Father, please download this dream. I pray You will somehow trigger its return. We are at Your mercy in all things. I was reminded about something one of your saints said during a podcast interview our kids shared with us.

Story begins...

There was a man in a beautiful garden-like area with fields and a fence. On one side of the fence was the promise of Heaven and the love of God. On the other side was hell, Satan and darkness. Feeling safe, the man decided to wait and choose neither side. The man thought himself clever..

Man: "Hmm, if I choose neither side, I can't go wrong. I will just sit here on the fence."

The day soon came wherein a group of workers led by Satan came to the man on the fence...

Satan: "Your time has come. Time to decide."

Man: "I can't decide. I will stay here instead."

Satan then walked off to gather all those who had declared to be on his side and take them to hell with him. He then returned after a few minutes to go up to the man...

Satan: "Hey you, come with me... let's go!"

Man: "Why should I? I didn't choose you. I also didn't choose the other side."

Satan laughed as he nodded his head in agreement...

Satan: "Yes, but you did choose. The fence is mine. I own it. Time to come with me."

Story over.

Father, we are seeing the worst in men now. It is only becoming worse. Father, the sun has turned dark and the moon blood red. While this is explainable by the fires in Canada, we are also hoping it is a signal that Your Supernatural Show will now begin...

- Joel 2:31: "The sun will be turned to darkness and the moon into blood before the great and awesome day of the Lord comes."
- Acts 2:20: "The sun will be turned into darkness and the moon into blood before the great and glorious day of the Lord shall come."
- Even the Sixth Seal of Revelation speaks of this.

While I always thought this was referring to an eclipse, I now believe it is more. The fires in Canada have created horrible conditions in the air quality. This is pride month. Pride goes before the fall. Blessed are You, Father. You are glorious in all Your Works. Please continue to watch over us in all things. Please bless our children and keep their eyes upon You in all things.

The world is unkind and some who claim to be Christians are truly using the label loosely. It is sad when many who are not Christian are more ethical. It is so sad. There are so many fools that rule now. You have taken home so many of the heavy hitting Christian leaders. They are no longer a part of what is now going on around here. They are missed by so many.

How hard it must be to have fought the good fight for You and then see the evil come in like a wave of destruction. We have seen the passing away of Pat Robertson, Dr. Charles Stanley, Billy Graham and John Baker, just to name a few. There have been perhaps a hundred in the last five years alone. Father, Your Will be done. However, all of these losses seem alarming to me.

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "Erin, I am here and I am with you. Now don't be clay questioning the Potter. There is a reason under Heaven. While you do not understand these things, it is for their sake that I summoned them Home. I am about to do a new thing here. They were like farmers preparing the fields, creating the good soil, planting seeds of righteousness ... all in the house of the Lord. Each had their field for their purposes. They were greeted with the following words...

Lord God to His Workers: "I have seen your works and they are good. Though you have worked tirelessly, your work is now finished. Come see that I am good."

"Erin, they have now moved into My Glory. Now here, they will watch and pray and see the reward for the works of their hands. They will never have imagined what is coming by My hand. I have now prepared workers here to watch over the fields that remain. My Spirit has created a new wind. Even the seeds of weeds, who like to ride on the winds of My Spirit, drop into the fresh soil to be rooted next to the good seeds.

"However, I have called upon a new army of workers. As a Potter, I prepared My Temple Vessels who will be filled with Living Water, My Spirit poured into them. You are not a lump of clay, remember? You have been formed, shaped, fired in the furnace of affliction and glazed. My signature is upon you and soon this too shall be visible. Erin, you are Mine.

"Now, My Holy Spirit was first spread in a mighty wind. My Spirit in the wind is the Holy Spirit who settled over those who believed. This then spread. I will now come on the clouds in two parts...

- "The first is in the rain, as in the Days of Noah, but a different rain. Some would say the latter rains are greater than the former rains. I agree because these will come to fill My armies with Living Water. Through this, My Spirit will be poured out over the fields. The tender shoots will spring forth alongside the weeds. However, these will be pulled out by the root and burned one day in the fire.
- "Then once My farmers have completed their good works and yielded an epic crop, I will then come on the clouds to bring in My Harvest. For the fields, the Harvest is perfect. Save for a few. There are fields of grey. These seeds planted represented all those who saw My miracles, even experienced My signs and wonders, yet hated the harvesters I sent. They didn't like how the Potter was shaping His clay vessels and wouldn't accept their outpouring. Erin, there are many fields of grey."

Me: "Oh Lord, can anything be done?"

Jesus: "No. This is because they do not read My Word in whole, but in part and believe themselves more qualified to serve Me. I tell you the truth... these are dried up, some even puffed up and, even when Living Water is used to revive them and grow them with greater pliability, well, I find them full of sand, rocks and all types of hinderances to block My abilities to shape them.

"It is so simple... I am the Potter. I will throw these out into My own Potter's Field that consists of refuse that is of no use to what I have planned. There they can sit amongst the broken shards from My pots that were unable to withstand the refiner's fire of affliction, the Potter's Kiln. There they can all hang out together... complaining and acting shocked.

"They can even operate in more of the negative fruits of the spirit... anger, coveting, jealousy, revenge, pride and hate. The list is long here. If you notice, fields like a potter's field are not good for planting as the soil is unusable. Weeds grow there. This is a very grey, parched, broken field. Now be happy and joyful that you are a completed vessel that I have tested and found worthy to serve Living Water from Heaven."

Me: "Lord, am I becoming dusty?"

Jesus: "Hmm, I don't know... are you finding it difficult to fill your time?"

Me: Laughing. "Of course not. It seems I am so busy these days."

Jesus: "Well, items that are often used have no dust nor do they tarnish. I think you are ready for My purposes."

Me: "Oh yes... I was born ready!"

Jesus: "Well, no, you weren't born ready. Ask the angels I assigned to you."

Me: "Oh, good point. I was flippant with my words. I must have exhausted and frustrated my angels. Sorry, Lord."

Jesus: "Well, you can see them soon and let them know. However, they knew what they were assigned to and they did a great job for Me preparing and protecting you for My purposes. Let's just say you kept them busy. This is good.

"Now, you are like that little fledgling sparrow. You are learning to fly. You are ready. That little one left its comfort zone for the first time and almost met its end.

"However, what did I do? I sent help from My Sanctuary and it found a place to rest. It is easy at this stage to fly before you are quite ready to. However, in all things, I am with you. You are so very close to a flight you only dreamt of. However, it will be even greater than you imagined. Just wait on Me just a bit longer. I promise you that you will be readied by Me.

"Now, the water that you saw in your dream was deep and dark. Even though it was ominous, you could see through it. You were unafraid. When there was a threat, you quickly saw it and moved with lightning speed to a safe dock. You were immediately there standing fully clothed and dry. With you were two others who were changed, your daughter and another swimming along the bottom with great speed.

"The one man was drowning as he couldn't swim. However, in pride, he turned, twisted and sunk. The other swimmer thought that, if he could touch you, he could take some of what you have been given. He then kept swimming. Well, Erin, even though this was an ominous sight, you were unafraid. This is good."

Me: "Lord, that water was about fifty feet deep. It was not something I would ever be swimming in."

Jesus: "I understand. This is why you were given this. It is to prepare you to move out of your comfort levels into places I will call you to. This is great news. Why? Because I am with you. Rejoice, Erin, as I am with you in all things. My favor is upon you."

707 – The Secret World of Witchcraft

Received on Sunday, June 11, 2023

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day! Thank You for Your love. Thank You for being God over all things in our lives. Thank You for Your protection and the tremendous power of the Holy Spirit in us. God is with us. More than anything else, I am thankful to be Your friend, a daughter who longs for a relationship with You. I am safe to share things with You. I am so grateful.

Father, our family has been under attack for the last three weeks. Two of our children work for places with active witches over them. This isn't a guess. One proclaims she serves Satan and the other is a practicing witch. They do so proudly. When the woman was hired, she made known her position and, unfortunately, she became the manager with no trial period. In this case, my daughter is the assistant manager.

At a business not far from this one, my older son has daily contact with witches. All of these witches are from the same coven. Coven is short for covenant. A coven is a group of witches who have made a contract to serve darkness and to 'prey' against all Christians. There is a massive pagan culture here. It is ridiculous and not something I am used to. We noticed this when we first moved here almost nine years ago.

Once here, we noticed that there is a large number of new age groups and practicing occultists. The females are usually strong and the males are usually very weak and subservient. At first, I felt they were just menacing sub-cultures of youth who were clearly lost. I didn't really take any of it seriously. When these youths realized we were Christians, it appeared that many of them preferred to distance themselves from us.

I still prayed for these young people because I knew they were lost. However, the Lord never called me to minister to them directly. He told me to stand down and to not engage. We have noticed a pattern to their attacks. While they hit us with the same methodology, it is not always in a predictable order..

- Physical Attacks: Random pain, headaches and other afflictions that there is no diagnosis for. Doctors call these 'mystery ailments'. To us, this means supernatural. This can also come against children and pets.
- Financial Attacks: Systematic draining of a financial nature. Could be income delays, cut off from a financial source, loss of sales, loss of resources and so on. It could also be a threatening letter, for example from the IRS.
- Home or Transportation Attacks: Anything coming against your home, vehicles or property of any kind. Automotive troubles. Breakdowns out of nowhere. Bad water or sewage problems. Sudden loss of heating or cooling systems. Air purity issues. Flooding, fires or smoke. Alarms triggered for seemingly no reason.
- Friendships Strained or Family Infighting: Misunderstandings, hatred, anger or uncharacteristic behavior out of nowhere, especially by those closest to you. Husbands vs wives, children vs parents and so on.
- Spiritual Attacks: Attacks from the pulpits or pews against you by others claiming to be Christians. Fog or drowsiness while reading Scripture or Christian messages. Distractions away from practicing Sabbath rest or worshipping God. Other Christians being used by the enemy to cause you to stop participation in church or to stop ministering the Good News. Disruption of dreams and sleep.
- Character Attacks: Lies or testimonies against you at work or at church that are meant to silence and destroy you as a credible witness for God. Rumors that are false or anything personal against you that are meant to cut off all communication between you and the outside world.

All of the above are meant to cause you to hide or retreat or expose you in order to keep you ineffective and silent. The enemy's goal is to weaken, divide and conquer. There are no rules that evil abides to unless God intervenes (which He always does in His Perfect Timing and Will). God will often send signs to you to tell you that you are under attack. These often come in clusters in the natural realm...

- Plumbing issues, clogged drains, overflowing toilets and flooding. Things that originate 'from below'.

- Spiders and flies. If I kill them immediately, troubles seem to pass immediately. If it is a struggle or they get away, I must then press into God in greater measure.
- Car troubles or appliance issues.
- Headaches out of nowhere and other forms of pain.
- Distractions of any sort. These are often used to keep me from writing a dream down or reading the Bible.
- Exhaustion for no apparent reason.
- Children and/or pets under attack and/or sick.

When three or more of the above appear, I know that the enemy is afoot. When all of the above are fully operational, I know that the enemy is actively targeting us. Father, thank You for warning us, keeping our oil in our lamps full and our flames bright. When these things happen, I know we are on the right course. However, it seems that this all came upon us with no open door. A sneak attack.

Me: "Father, please help us. I have prayed. We have taken authority over these issues in Your Name, in Jesus' Name. This is frustrating."

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "Erin, I am here and I am with you. Evil has increased throughout the land. Churches were closed and voices silenced. The prayers of the saints have been muffled. Because of this, a rise in evil across the nations has come through, including the uses of various practices forbidden by Me... and even by the hands of Christians."

Me: "Lord, there are so many young people who are witches or call themselves witches that it is alarming. They don't fully understand what they are doing."

Jesus: "Many come from broken homes or even Christian homes that were divisive and with parents who displayed the opposite of the Fruits of the Spirit. This caused children to turn away from Me. There are two types of people who are drawn to this practice:

- The first is someone who knows they are weak. They realize they are too weak to overcome a person over them or a situation. They use manipulation as their chief weapon. Tears, guilt, shame and subtle threats are used to cause the person over them to do their will.

- The second is a person who uses intimidation to force people to do their will. They do this by threats, anger and fear. They always have something over their subject.

“Both of these practice manipulation and intimidation to control and dominate a situation. This is pure evil. This is the basic way you can recognize when witchcraft is in operation. Even so, it now seems that most operate in full sight. Anytime Israel rebelled against God, it was because witchcraft was at the basic root of the matter. The goal of the fallen angels was to corrupt man and make them an abomination to God.

“So, how do they do this? It is from the subtle practices of foreign religions which, over time, completely invades that which is good. In the beginning was the Word and the Word was with God and the Word was God. If I am the Word, then what do I use against evil?”

Me: “Well, when Satan tempted You in the wilderness, You said, ‘For it is written that man shall not live by bread alone, but by every Word that proceeds from the mouth of God. Then in Revelation 19:15, ‘From His mouth comes a sharp sword with which to strike down the nations.’ The sword is Your Truth. The word is Your Word... TRUTH! You spoke the world into existence by Your Voice. In this way, so too will You destroy all of Your enemies... with Your Words!”

Jesus: “Very Good. Now, why do I tell you all of this?”

Me: “Because Your Word is clear on this matter?”

Jesus: “Yes. It is because I am fully aware of the roots of evil. So, when you have raised your own children up in the ways they should go and they one day say, ‘Hey, I am signing up for holy yoga’, what god are they worshipping and what do you say?”

Me: “It is worshipping other gods... period! I don’t care what they call it. Its root is evil and disguised as ‘good for you’. While witchcraft poses as harmless, it is fatal to those who participate.”

Jesus: “Yes, but how do you feel as a parent?”

Me: “Jealous. I am upset if I tell my children to avoid such things and they do it anyway.”

Jesus: “Okay, so this is My heart... to Me, these things are detestable because they lead to spiritual death. Only I can save. Only through Me will those who are lost see Heaven. Any of My people who knowingly practice these things must immediately repent and turn away from evil. The target for witches is the children of the One True God... Me. They do not target any other religions."

Me: "There are so many new things that it is difficult to state everything..."

- There is Feng Shui, burning sage to ward off spirits, yoga or related offshoots of sun-god worship and consulting dead relatives.
- There is also entertainment, such as television and movies, along with YouTube videos. Entertainment could even be thought of as a shortened term meaning to 'Enter into Containment' or 'Permission to Enter'.
- There is music in the form of relaxation, spa meditative or new age. These are to lull us into a sleep state. There is also rhythmic drum beating that starts slow and ramps up to conjure up an action.
- Then there are the things that seem harmless, but they are actually extremely harmful. This includes Ouija boards, tarot cards, crystals or strange oils.
- There are also practices such as aroma therapy, reiki and acupuncture.

"I loath these things. I become angry because I know their full purpose and it is to destroy. When I was young, I was an easy target. These were a religion to me. I didn't know anything and it was easy to steer me into darkness. I am so sorry, Lord. I love You with all of my heart!"

Jesus: "You were lost at the time. I called out and you turned. Now, I am giving you this right now so you understand what you are up against and to know I am greater than any of these. Nothing can come against you or your children. In a war, the enemy searches for a weakness by learning about who they are fighting against. They then attack that weakness to gain entry for greater control. Pray for your son as he is more prone to manipulation. For your sake, I will allow this to come to nothing. Erin, you are not to worry."

Me: "Thank You, Lord. Now, I need help with a reoccurring dream. My daughter's new manager is a self-proclaimed Satanist and she hates You. For three nights in a row, I have seen this manager in my dreams. In these dreams, I have seen two black square bowls, each with white salt. While the manager is over these, I am not sure what she is doing. While I recognize this from when I was young, I just don't..."

Jesus: "This manager is conjuring evil spirits to remove your daughter and others who work there who are Christians. She is gathering information. Now, why did I allow this to be in your dreams?"

Me: "To reveal the enemy assignments in operation."

Jesus: "Yes, but more than this. It is to remind you that I am greater than any of this evil. You are now to pray as your prayers are greater than any hex the enemy has placed. However, those who are not Mine fully are succumbing to the spells and are resigning. You, your daughter and your husband are to pray against these evil practices to render them helpless. I do not take kindly to this and this manager will pay a great price. Now, you will not dream of this tonight as this matter is finished."

Me: "Lord, is my daughter to stay there?"

Jesus: "Until I move her shortly. Do not worry. Let us first see the response of the higherup over her. I am in this and I have a great plan. Now, there is a great lesson I have for you in this. A great war is under way. This is not a traditional war. It is a war between good and evil. When I walked the Earth, I stood at Caesarea Philippi at what they who followed other gods called the Gate of Hades.

"I spoke to the disciples about storming the Gates of Hell. I cautioned them (in Luke 9:26), 'If anyone is ashamed of Me and My Words, the Son of Man will be ashamed of him when He comes in His Glory.' I fully expect you to face anger at the hands of the enemy. No matter what your resistance from evil is, do not hide your love for Me. What good is it for a man to gain the whole world yet lose or forfeit his very soul?"

Me: "It is such a difficult world now. Lord, You told me to not engage the enemy until You tell me."

Jesus: "Yes, this is true. This is wisdom for now. However, I will soon give you rise to stand. I tell you the truth, Erin, your very appearance will be a punishing rod as they will know I am in you and I sent you. Those I have called will turn and be healed. They will repent. Those who are not children of God will flee to hide as they will know I am here.

"Now, there is hope... Me. Do not worry. Do not be afraid. I do not let those I have called to stand at the Gate of Hades to be unprepared and ill-equipped, understand? Do not be afraid. You must understand that the same conditions prevail. What was once one way for evil is still the same today, but even more widespread."

Me: "Then please come, Lord. Please come quickly. Please! The world is becoming so dark that I just don't know how we..."

Jesus: "Oh Erin, do not be afraid. I am here with you. Now, in the case of Daniel (Daniel 10), he fasted for 21 days and prayed. While God heard his prayer on Day 1, the princes of Persia fought with My angels until My angels finally broke free. Things are different now as I am here with you and My Army is vast. I will soon raise up the multitudes against evil here. Now, when you encounter troubles, pray and stand and I will deliver you from them all. You are loved by Me. Do not be afraid."

Dream over.

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day! Thank You for Your love. You are such a blessing for us. You are priceless to us, like discovering a great treasure of immeasurable wealth. In this life, we thrive only because of Your Grace here. We serve at the pleasure of our King and Creator. We strive to not be self-serving. Today, I surrender all things to You for Your purposes.

We are at war right now. This is a war involving things both seen and unseen. Lately, we have been losing on the daily battlefield. Still, I know that we have already ultimately won the war. Knowing our King and our Savior is with us makes us more fearless in the battles.

Lord, my daughter has dedicated her life to You. She had been working for a Christian organization. She had recently traveled to a conference where she was able to interview some of the top Christian artists. She was given interviews by the artists and there was great jealousy against her as a result. It was a huge turning point for the organization because she had used her own savings and took time off from her job in order to bless this Christian organization.

Her success was immense and greater than her highest expectations. She was amazed that she had received so much attention for her hard work. Then on the final day of the conference via text, her manager told her that he was going to remove her voice and use only the voices of the artists. In other words, management was the one trying to get all the credit from the Board when it was her that did all of the work.

Even worse, they pulled photos off of her social media and put them on the organization's website without her permission. My daughter then contacted the Board and resigned immediately. In turn, the organization removed her entire footprint, along with all of the evidence of what she had contributed. She never released the interviews to them and they are upset.

This is all the more frustrating as my daughter has not received a single dime of compensation from them. It is heartbreaking. Then there was her full-time job. She found out that her new manager is a self-proclaimed satanist. While my daughter sounded the alarm to the district manager about all the evil that the new manager has done, it appears to be falling on deaf ears.

This wicked new manager even recommended to one of the employees to hit a fellow employee whenever necessary. When the new manager was asked about this by the district manager, she lied and said this never happened. My daughter and her co-workers have since become quite sick. It is obvious that this is all supernatural and something God is allowing as a lesson for His greater good and glory.

As for our last child in school, she just graduated on Saturday. It has been difficult for the last three weeks. There have been major highs and major lows. We are under attack here. Oh Father, while we know we are targets, please don't allow the enemy any victories. My daughter adores You and has dedicated her life to You. This last week has been just heartbreaking for her...

My daughter: "Mom, what is God doing here? I am sick. I have done everything the right way. I have prayed. What else can I do? Am I being used as a measure?"

Me: "Well, yes, you are a measure. All of us are right now. We battle against people who claim to be Christians, yet their actions are opposite. We battle against the enemy as he activates absolutely every able body he can weaponize against us."

As for my older son, he is battling against the same group. It is exhausting. Father, my children are Your children. They are now young adults. Please care for all of Your children. We are being attacked from all sides. Please help us! I had a sad dream last night that later had a happy ending.

Sub-Dream 1 "Snigglet is Resurrected"

I was in my younger son's car with our daughters and two dogs. My son was taking a curb to fast. Instead of flipping the vehicle, it drove into a separate city area. An offramp had supernaturally appeared where we should have flipped the car. We were taking our dogs to the veterinarian. As we drove, Snigglet became very sick with what seemed like an intestinal illness.

Once we arrived, the vet gave Snigglet a shot and placed oxygen over her nose. She suddenly stopped breathing and died. The vet came to notify us about her death and asked if they should make arrangements to dispose of her body. Our kids were in great anguish. I went to her lifeless body and heard the Lord speak Voice of the Lord: "Erin, wake her up. She is sleeping."

I took her body in my arms and prayed for her to wake. Her chest was still. I sat back down at the table and then I saw her chest rise and fall. I then heard her whimper..

Me: Shouting. "She's alive!"

We were all so happy. Tears of mourning turned to tears of joy. Snigglet was alive and well. She had been healed.

Vet: "She must have had a reaction to the medicine. Perhaps it was a fainting spell."

The vet refused to acknowledge the obvious miracle that had just taken place. After she left, we made a point to give all the glory to God.

Sub-Dream 1 over.

Me: "Thank You, Lord. The dreams have been unpleasant recently. However, this was so encouraging. I don't recall ever having a dream quite like this."

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "This is part of what you will be called to do. As I work through you, many lives will be changed. This will be because of My Great Army. You have been in battle. Your daughter and son are moving targets that the enemy likes to prey on. However, he uses weapons against your entire household. He doesn't stop. Do not worry though as I have called in reinforcements, both saints and angels, on your behalf.

"Your prayers have been heard. Your prayers have not been 'held up'. This is because I am with you in this battle. As for the enemy, he now understands the times. While he knows that I have a Great Plan, he does not know the magnitude of the coming event against his armies.

"Now, I have provided for you and I will not stop. I have created miracles on your behalf and I have no intention to remove My favor. I wish all who come to Me understood the real power of prayer. The enemy of God and his army have done a great job of making people believe that God is passive. They want you to believe that I rarely answer the prayers of My children. This is a lie.

"This is meant to discourage you so that you cease praying. You will not understand the full measure of your prayers until you are one day Home. When I reveal this to you, you will say, 'Wow, knowing this at the time, I would have never ceased in my prayers!' Well, Erin, here it is. Your greatest weapon against evil is prayer.

"Believe and pray big so you will expect miracles to come to pass. What do you have to lose? Just understand that, through your prayers, you have been heard by the Father in Heaven. He determines The Course, The Way and The Outcome of your prayers...

- The Course: The Course means the direction in which these will go.
- The Way: The Way means who will deliver these and by what method.
- The Outcome: The Outcome is what transpires as a result of your diligence... both the heart of the matter and the urgency.

Me: "Lord, we need help right now. We are experiencing some horrible attacks. While I know we should expect this in the month of June, as well as in the month of Tammuz, all of this has been truly ridiculous."

Jesus: "Don't panic! Pray!"

Me: "Okay, Lord, here is my prayer to You for all of us..."

I pray for my husband, my family, our pets, our home, our vehicles, our friends, their families, their pets and so on. May they all be supernaturally blessed, protected and healed. I pray that You will wipe away our tears, as well as any debts we owe to the world. It could be financial, medical or legal, but really it could be anything. Please remove it all as we serve You.

Please let the world have no hold on us. Make Heaven visible upon Earth through us. Strengthen us and supernaturally provide all that we need, including food, shelter, clothing, electricity, communication, travel, vehicles, gas and so on. We pray that You will completely remove all lies of the enemy to us.

I pray that we can go back and forth in this world supernaturally instead of by conventional transportation methods. I also pray that we can go back and forth to Heaven. Since You are a Big God and since You are over all things, we surrender to You in all things. I pray for all of this in Your Mighty Name, the Name of Jesus, Amen!

Jesus: "Wow, that was a 'Big Ask' here!"

Me: "Lord, I am sorry if it is too much. It just seems like, if You remove the enemy's abilities to control all of us, then we would be fully surrendered and focused on You and Your purposes through us. By laws of the land and in Heaven, the enemy would have no legal rights to anything we have here. It is Yours! So, what do You think? Perhaps this is too much of a 'Big Ask' here?"

Jesus: "No, it is not too big an ask for Me. I did not say no, so this is good. There is a Great Plan that I already have in place. Keep praying big and small and I will answer."

Me: "Lord, I don't want You to think I am a 'Prosperity Gospel' type of person... name it and claim it."

Jesus: "You are not. We are friends. Name it and claim it was a good principle in its inception. It then hurt a lot of people as the focus of a successful ministry became about money. Money is a resource in exchange for service rendered or as a weapon and tool by the enemy. When I bless a ministry, it is because the hearts are upright and focused on Me to provide rain in due season that yields a record crop.

"It should never be used as a punishing stone. Remember that I am about the heart. I know the heart. As I am generous in love, so too are you. Therefore, your heart to Me is like a spring. Giving should never be a burden or a punishing stone. As you, Erin, give generously to Me, then I give generously more in return. This is established, tried and tested.

"Now, name it and claim it was popular thirty years ago. Many Christians left these churches. As for those who stayed, they were guilted to hand over their entire life savings to a church who enjoyed wealth. It was flaunted and used as a sign that God blesses such a church. However, and fundamentally, this is wicked to the core.

"Then there is the miser church. They have a massive fund for investments. They love their interests and their benevolence funds are untouched. This is because the poor amongst them are shamed and their lives placed under great scrutiny."

Me: "This happened to me years ago (2008 to 2010) when we had great troubles. We were told by one church that I needed to repent of my sins and that is why You were not blessing me. Even the payday loan place was nicer than these church leaders."

Jesus: "Yes, I remember. You were a measure for them. While I know this was painful, you learned painful truths about a problem with certain churches. Money can give someone power over another. This is why there are evil activities always as money is the root cause of greed in a man's heart. However, money itself is powerless and is only to be a tool of great use... for Me as a measure of the heart.

"I give and I take away. However, in all matters of those I love, I always provide. Praise God in times of plenty and praise God in times of drought. I promise you that which you sowed in prayers and gratitude to God will yield a record harvest. In your life, My recompense is with Me and I bring this to you.

"Now, I will continue to bless you. Erin, I send you love in times when you never expect it. Remember that, in this life, you will have troubles. However, I have overcome this world. You are with Me and I you. What then will prosper with any success?"

Dream over.

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day! Father, I must come to You this morning with what is on my heart... I am discouraged. It is difficult to lift my chin up when we continue to experience so many troubles. Even so, I know we are living in better circumstances than half of the world. This is only by Your grace and mercy. I am still alive on this Earth because You have numbered my days from the beginning. Father, I am grateful that my number hasn't come up yet.

A few years back, I truly was like a toddler. While I had great pain, I also had great joy and wonder about the mystery of You. In my heart, I would boldly proclaim Your wonders to anyone who would listen or read. I had no fear. You showed me as a toddler just learning to stand from a crawling position. Upon standing for the first time, I squealed with delight. I then fell down back into a crawling position.

Father, You are so amazingly brilliant. I love how You simulated a close walk with You as a journey of a toddler learning to stand on his own for the first time. I need to get back to this. Father, I want to stay as a child of wonder before You. Instead, my days now spin with troubles and sorrows. I take stock in my hours and pray that they be the best You can make them.

I love You, Father. Please don't forget about all of us. Many of us have vowed to serve You our whole lives. Can I do anything more to call on You to strengthen and rescue Your children? No day is guaranteed. Every moment could be our last one here on Earth. That is fine as I long for my Home in Heaven. However, can we not experience Heaven here on Earth one last time before the end?

This life right now is like when I was a child at a theme park. It didn't matter if it was Marriot's Great America, Disneyland, Disneyworld or Busch Gardens. It was always the same. It included the great build up for weeks in anticipation of all we were going to be a part of. We anticipated something unique and bigger than us. It would give me something to 'brag about' when I had so little to brag about. We would talk about it at school together and the excitement was overwhelming.

The night before our trip, I could barely sleep. I was so excited and imagined all that we would do. The morning would then come and we would be ready in record time. Us kids would then become impatient while the car was being loaded. We were ready and waiting... no seatbelts as they weren't required back then. We waited for the car to start and sometimes it wouldn't. Then, after long hours driving, we finally arrived. It was a mass migration of families just like ours, all of us descending on a child's paradise.

The first time I experienced Disneyland, I was speechless. I watched people. I heard children screaming louder than we did. I am not sure how this was even humanly possible. The rest of the day was a blur. I never paused or rested. When the park was about to close, we rushed to take one last ride with our passes. The final ride? Space Mountain! What else needs to be said... smiles.

When the ride was over, an empty feeling soon set in. We all had an empty feeling as we exited the park. We had to say goodbye to this most wonderful experience. There were so many infinite moments framed in child-like picture frames. I was in awe. I then had to go back home. We had so very little. At least for one day, whether rich or poor, we were equal to all of the other children there. We were no different as we were experiencing the same thing. We all had the same joy and laughter during these rides.

Well, Father, here I am today. I have experienced only a fraction of Heaven. I cling to these memories of the greatest mountain in my life. This mountain is not Space Mountain, it is Your Mountain. I am spoiled because I long to return there again someday. I love to share stories of Your wonders. I am excited when others experience the awesome wonders of Your love. I now realize that amusement parks are a small parable of what You have created for us here in Heaven.

Well, Father, here I am! I feel like a child who came late in the day and spent most of the time in long lines for the big rides. We then watched all types of ugly behaviors coming from children and their parents. Some parents would stop at nothing to cut or deceive to move higher up in the lineup. It was horrible. I had a vivid dream last night...

Sub-Dream 1 "Thanksgiving in July" begins...

I was in Pacifica, California. I had been invited to Thanksgiving Dinner. The invitation portrayed a turkey in rainbow feathers. There was a slogan beneath the turkey...

'A Feast Your Eyes Celebration!'

Being that this area is south of San Francisco, I knew it would be more of a 'pride event'. In my invitation, I was told which dish I was to bring to the dinner...

'Erin, please bring your famous peach stuffing! Dinner is at 9:00pm!'

First of all, I don't make stuffing with peaches. That was weird. I decided to inquire about this with one of the hosts. The phone call transpired as follows...

Me: "My invitation says for me to bring peach stuffing. It indicates that I am famous for this stuffing even though I have never made this in my entire life."

Host: "Rumor has it that your stuffing is very good. Each of the dinner items will include some fruit. The turkey has cranberries. Fruit is the theme."

Me: "Okay, but it is still confusing. What else is confusing is that we are having Thanksgiving Dinner in July. Thanksgiving is in November."

Host: "Yes, but this is not 'normal' Thanksgiving... it is 'fruity' Thanksgiving. We have decided to have this in July and it will be greater than the one in November. We will also have spirits, including cocktails such as bellinis."

Me: "Oh, let me guess... you are calling the drinks, 'Fruits of the Spirits'."

Host: "Why, yes, you are correct. Your attendance is mandatory as there is no Thanksgiving without stuffing."

After the host hung up, I felt that God wanted me to prepare to attend this event even though it was blasphemous. There were also pre-events taking place before the July dinner. These pre-events went from June 28th to July 7th inclusive. There were big parades and a closing ceremony. While driving around in my VW Bug, I noticed almost every business was closed. This is because Pacifica basically became deserted every time there was a festival event taking place.

While I had to prepare for the dinner on the evening of the 6th of July, I couldn't purchase the ingredients as the markets were closed. It was going to be impossible to fulfill this request for peach stuffing. On or around the 3rd of July, I traveled to a distant city in search for these ingredients. However, there wasn't enough of anything to make the stuffing. As I was leaving one of the markets, a man approached me...

Man: "I know where you can get incredible peaches right off of the tree."

After he gave me the address, I drove to it. I arrived at a beautiful home with an immaculate lawn and landscaping. Clearly it was done by a retired couple or someone with no children. A small sign said you could pick your own fruit. An arrow then led me to the back yard. There was an amazing, beautiful peach tree with perfect fruit. The peaches were ripe and ready to be picked. However, I had walked into a movie being filmed. In this, there were two men, one of who was playing the part of Eve.

They were posed nude on either side of the tree. They were reenacting the temptation of Eve from a very old art piece. This art was perhaps from the renaissance period in Europe. However, I couldn't recall the painter. It was disgusting, so I backed away slowly. I decided that this beautiful fruit may look delicious, but it was deadly. I drove back to Pacifica. When I arrived there, it was already July 6th. I let the time slip by and was unable to bring stuffing to the event.

Sub-Dream 1 over...

Father, clearly this is about 'The Fall' and perhaps even Sodom and Gomorrah. I am grieving the loss of our once great nation. It is so sad.

Dear Father, my Dad and my Creator,

Happy Awesome Father's Day! While another year passes, only 15 years of my life have been spent fully recognizing You as my only Father who loves me fully and knows me. 2008 was the year I knew beyond a shadow of a doubt that my birth dad did not care if I lived or died. I discovered this on the eve of my heart surgery on May 28, 2008. I phoned several people in my family to tell them I loved them. I wanted to do this in case I did not survive the procedure.

I then phoned my dad using call display blocking so he would actually pick up. A few months prior, he had stopped taking my calls. He did this after telling me he would help me and my children get into a home. He even had a real estate agent looking for us. After we finally found the perfect home for his investment, he blocked all calls from going through. It was one of the most heartbreaking disappointments of our lives. We went from excitement, dreams and home shopping to being completely ghosted.

He didn't even grant us the dignity or courtesy of a phone call. Not one. It was humiliating beyond belief. Well, flash forward to this call and it worked... by a miracle, he picked up. After the conversation, that was it... I never heard my dad's voice again. 9 years later, I received a phone call in December 2017. My dad had passed away on Sanibel Island at a fancy hotel.

Since no one wanted to claim his remains, You placed it upon my heart to claim it and arrange for his burial. He had four children and three stepchildren. He had hurt all of them so badly that none were speaking to him. He was not a good father to any of us. While he would show moments of being a good father, these were quickly snuffed out like the flame from a candle. Just a smoldering wick of anger remained.

With me, I looked at it differently. God gave me this earthly father to raise me. He could not be a good example of an earthly father. He was a father who clearly served himself and had no love in his heart for his children. We had all given him chances to step up and our expectations were very low. He showed no regard for our lives each time. It was so sad.

However, You allowed this because, in his absence, You became my Father. You have always been the opposite of my earthly dad in an infinite number of ways. You show Your love for me each and every day. I am thankful for the earthly dad You gave me so I could know You in a deeper way...

- You never lie to me.
- You keep Your promises.
- You never give up on me even when I give up.
- You answer my prayers.
- You don't give me everything I ask for, but You give me everything I need.
- You invest time into me.
- You instruct me in the ways I should go.
- You are gentle and Your rebuke, Your rod, gently puts my feet back on the right track again.
- You are jealous for me because You value our relationship and You know the enemy competes against Your goodness in my life.

- Father, You created me. You brought me into this world. I am here because You have a plan. When my plan has been completed here for Your purposes, You have an even greater reward, all for trusting my life to Your plan.
- You love me unconditionally. I was not a good daughter to You in the beginning. I was awful to You because I didn't yet trust You with my heart. However, You mended it and made it brand new.

I love You, Father. You are perfect. You are always there for me. You watch over me and my children. You even gave us a home in a beautiful land. We have trees and an abundance of wildlife. You restored much more in my life than I ever lost here and You are still not finished. While my cup was once empty, You took me and shaped me and declared me as Yours. You somehow found me pleasing to You. You wove my story into Your perfect tapestry. You promised to do good all of the days of my life.

I have fought in many battles here on Earth. I was a scrapper until I surrendered my battles to you. Because You love me, You gave me victory over my foes. You had allowed this to strengthen me for all is Yours. The war is already won as the war is Yours alone to win. You brought a song to my heart from the midst of my battles. It gave me hope. Because this song was from the Narnia movies, my kids love it too. Here are the lyrics for the Switchfoot song (2008) titled 'This is Home'...

"I've got my memories, always inside of me, but I can't go back, back to how it was. I believe in now, I've come too far, now I can't go back, back to how it was. Created for a place, I've never known. This is Home, now I'm finally, where I belong. Yeah, this is Home, I've been searching, for a place of my own. Now I've found it, maybe this is Home, yeah, this is Home. Belief over misery, I've seen the enemy, and I won't go back, back to how it was, and I got my heart set on, what happens next, I got my eyes wide, it's not over yet. We are miracles, and we're not alone.

This is Home, now I'm finally, where I belong. Yeah, this is Home, I've been searching, for a place of my own. Now I've found it, maybe this is Home, yeah, this is Home. And now, after all my searching, after all my questions, I'm gonna call it Home. I got a brand-new mindset, I can finally see the sunset, I'm gonna call it Home. Home, this is Home, now I'm finally, where I belong, where I belong, yeah, this is Home. I've been searching, for a place of my own, now I've found it, maybe this is Home (this is Home), this is Home, now I know, yeah, this is Home. I've come too far, and I won't go back, yeah, this is Home."

Me: "This song was written on Saturday, March 22, 2008 and titled 'This is Home'. This was written the day after my heart stopped at work on Good Friday / Purim of 2008."

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "Erin, I am here and I am with you. I know the pain your earthly father of your birth caused you. However, your prayers called My angels to him at his end and I met him there. I showed him his life and presented you praying for him. It left him speechless. Your prayers mean so much more than you ever imagined and have eternal ramifications. This is why I have said by My Words to pray for the lost that they may be found by Me. Pray for those who persecute you so you do as I do and love."

Me: "I am sorry, Lord, but this is difficult to do. You tell us to love our enemies, bless those who curse You, do good to those who hate You and pray for those who spitefully use You and persecute You (Matthew 5:44). You tell us to do this so that we may be an example of You on Earth. Lord, this is so hard to do."

Jesus: "Yes, I know and understand this. Your own parents hurt you, especially your father. I tell you this... My Father in Heaven causes His sun (Son) to rise on the evil and the good and sends rain on the righteous and the unrighteous. If you only love those who love you, what reward will you get? Even tax collectors do this. If you greet only your own people, what are you doing more than others?"

"Do not even pagans do that? Erin, do you understand what I am saying here? By your capacity to love the unlovable, you have proven yourself a child of the Most High God in Heaven. You have been refined and restored beyond this life and you are the rightful heir as a child of the King in Heaven. When you battle here, you battle the fleshly things."

Me: "But, Lord, so many of these people have demons that are active in them. The increase in evil is greater each day. We have no abilities against them on our own."

Jesus: "Erin, your observations are correct. However, you are wrong in your thinking. Despite their evil ways, you have Me. I am with you. With you means in you, over you, beside you, both to the right and to the left, before you and behind you. I take up your rearguard and I even direct your path... where your feet step. Since this is the case, what can come against you with success?"

Me: "Nothing."

Jesus: "Years ago, I instructed you to press on. Do you remember?"

Me: After He downloaded a vision. "Yes, I do. It was about my church. You told me to keep attending no matter what I experienced or what I heard said of me. It was the year 2000 and I was separated from my husband as he had been unfaithful. Even though he was the unfaithful one, the rumors were directed at me instead. People who were once my friends shunned me for no cause.

"I continued to attend because I still considered it my family. It was painful. It was noticeably horrible. I still smiled and said hello. My favorite time to attend was Wednesday prayer night. Several elders who knew the truth and what I was up against approached me to embrace me and tell me to continue to come. I did."

Jesus: "Erin, by doing so, you were proved right by your actions. Because of your steadfast love, the evil spoken about you was squelched by Me. Do you realize that, by your prayers, I even dispatched special angels to stop the evil assignments sent against you to humiliate, shame and destroy you by other Christians who weren't fully understanding what they were praying against."

Me: "Is this a special covert group of angels?"

Jesus: "Call it 'the no weapons formed against you will prosper' group. They are your 'Shield Angels'. They thwart the enemy's arrows. These shields redirect their targets to those who speak and have tongues of fools, understand? These evil people then bring the babble from Babylon with their lips. They wrongly testify against the children of God and long to have them removed from the pews."

Me: "Witchcraft?"

Jesus: "Well, yes. I instructed about these things through Timothy and even about the laying of hands. Be cautious of those who claim to come in My Name when I did not call them. They come to 'prey on you' instead of 'praying for you'. This is why you are to be diligent and pray without ceasing. Be sober and watchful because your adversary, the devil, prowls around like a roaring lion seeking someone to devour. He has always done so.

"However, he no longer does as he did in the times of Job as he has been removed from the presence of the Courts of God. Now he strikes out against all of God's people here and even uses those who are weak in their faith as weapons against those who are strong. The churches are weakened because those who are God's were wounded and targeted by those claiming to have been sent by Me.

"They were instead prey of the devil and easy tools to weaponize against those who were and are earnest in seeking God. Do not worry as I see and I am God over My Church. I am not a 'kaleidoscope god'. I don't change My shape, color or laws to accommodate those who sacrifice to Baal and Ishtar, even sacrificing their own children by knife to these gods.

"I am the God over all things and I will come very soon with My Sword of Truth to sever all lies. In the meantime, be strong. Pray for those who you would normally avoid when I call you too. I promise I am with you in this. What you did in turn for your earthly father who deserved nothing from you... you did this as a child of God. You did this in love. In turn, a soul was saved.

"Erin, you did as I would do. In turn, you showed yourself as Mine. In turn, I have blessed you. My promises are still true. I never revoked even one of these. I know you are tired. I know your family has come upon troubles. However, I will deliver you from them all and these will come to nothing. Change your mindset to remember your Home is in Heaven. You are living there temporarily, but your Home is with Me in eternity.

"Now, there are those around you that do not know Me. There are many who have heard only lies or been mistreated by those claiming to be called by Me. Not all are called by Me who claim to be. These operate as poor examples of a child of the Most High God and they are attacking those who seek to know Me. This will not go well for them. Operate in the Fruits of the Spirit and many will gather to learn more. However, if you act harshly with these, what do they do?"

Me: "Run away from all things."

Jesus: "That is right. Therefore, operate as an operative of Heaven. Do so because I am about to make some transformative changes. Many will be speechless."

Me: Excitedly. "Oh, oh, oh... pick me... Lord, please!"

Jesus: "I have promised you that My Glory will fall upon My remnant. You will be changed as a Vessel and My Living Water will fill your cup. However, and more than this, and so there is no mistaking your authenticity, My Signature will be upon you so all those will see it and know I have built an army."

Me: "Oh Lord, this is incredible. I can hardly wait. What of my dream last night?"

Jesus: "I want you to understand something. I love you. I will move you to a place where you will be safe. Not that you would be in danger, but a place where your family is free to come and go with great speed and those outside will be unaware. This is a place that is like Heaven on Earth."

Me: "Are we moving?"

Jesus: "I will instruct you further. Now, your dream... what is it you recall..."

Me: "I will do my best... with Your assistance of course..."

Sub-Dream 2 "A Gold Coin is found" begins...

I was on the West Coast of the USA. We were walking around in a sea of roofs from people's homes. The roofs had been stripped with only the insides visible, but untouched. While I was walking, I found a gold coin. The gold coin was dated April 13, 1918. On this was Aphrodite playing a harp.

Sub-Dream 2 over.

Jesus: "I want you to understand something clearly... one war of the world ended (WWI), but it comes on the heels of a great plague that weakened the world."

Me: "I looked and it was the year 1918. The plague that began in 1918 killed 50 million people. In contrast, WWI claimed 16 million lives and ended November 11, 1918. In my dream, Aphrodite is playing her harp on the gold coin. Please help me to understand this."

Jesus: "It is the same, except now no one sees. Now, who controls the money, wars and the disease?"

Me: "Ultimately, You do, Lord?"

Jesus: "This is true as anything that happens is only as allowed by God. Ultimately, His Will always be done. However, to understand the sign of the times you are in, look back to this so that you know what the enemy has planned for the world and the people of God. The time is now short. Time is moving quickly."

Me: "What is '10 Minutes' to You? What is this in Your time?"

Jesus: "Not long. These words come as a warning to get your houses in order. The silver is Mine, the gold is Mine and the glory of the latter temple shall be greater than the former. The enemy can etch themselves, their image, into anything and declare for you to worship this. However, I am God over all things for it is written for every beast of the forest is Mine and the cattle upon a thousand hills."

"I own all you see and the enemy does not determine its value or even your worth. He has no authority to destroy the food, the air, the water or the sea unless My Father in Heaven declares it. All things come by My Authority for the benefit of souls harvested for My Father. That is what you are here for... to gather the harvest of souls, along with the angels."

Me: "Lord, this needs to be epic to get the people's attention."

Jesus: "Oh Erin, it will be. Now stay with Me. I promise you good all of the days here... you, your children and your house. I will prosper you and keep you. My face will shine upon you in your comings and your goings. I will bring you to a safe place."

"In the beginning, I started a relationship with you to show you mysteries in Heaven and upon Earth. I instructed you by My Words in the ways you should go. I removed you from your enemy's reach to a good land and there I have kept you for such a time as this. Do you want to continue with Me?"

Me: "Of course, Lord! Where else would I be but with You? You have spoiled me for anything but a life in Your service."

Jesus: "Then it is settled. You are still Mine and you are still greatly loved."

Me: "Happy Father's Day, Lord! I love You!"

Jesus: "I love you too!"

Dream over.

710 – I Know That Your Wait Has Been Long

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day here! Thank You for time. This is a time of wars and rumors of wars as it seems the New World Order is positioning all across the globe. As for us, June has always been a historically busy month. June is the end of the school year (typically) and the beginning of summer. I would call it freedom from extreme anxiety, pressure, deadlines, uncertain outcomes and the final report... the final grade. Highschool was a huge milestone, a transition from being a teenager to adulthood.

It was all about where I was going. It didn't have it fully figured out as to how to get there, just that I knew what I hoped to become. Very few of my friends had their destinies mapped with precision. With me, there were so many twists and turns, it was ridiculous. All I did know was this... mom was moving and I really had no place to come home to. I realized that I had to figure it all out on my own.

My mom basically said to me, 'If anyone can do this, you can.' This basically translated to 'my obligations to provide for you have now concluded. Good luck on your journey'. Mom had moved on with a new life. Her home was sold and she moved into a cabin with just an outhouse, one bedroom plus a loft. There was only room for my brothers. Talk about placing glass shards in the eagle's nest. I was ready to fly.

All I knew was to either wait a year and work or start college in the fall. While I was accepted to the University of Idaho's Arts Program, I knew I would be there along with all of those I graduated with. I instead took off to Naples FL to visit my estranged father. I lived about two blocks from the beach in a home with a pool. We spent a lot of time at the beach. It was a great summer until my dad switched things up.

We moved to Marco Island FL near the Isle of Capri. I saw the summer slipping away. I worked at an ad agency as a fulltime graphic artist assistant. In a series of unbelievable events, I came home one day to find my dad, my stepmom and all my siblings had moved away. They left my bags on the front steps. Here I was, at the end of July 1981 at age 18, in one of the most expensive areas of the USA all by myself.

I phoned a friend at work and told my boss and his wife. While they phoned the police, I was now 18. It was quickly determined that this was not a crime as I was now an adult. Even so, no one would help me get home to Idaho. I needed to earn money quickly. I was offered the sofa at a friend's condo just until I earned enough to purchase a plane ticket. I thank God for her as I don't know what would have happened to me.

I worked evenings as a waitress at an Italian restaurant and worked days as a dental assistant for a denture doctor. The minimum wage was $3.25 per hour and the minimum wage for a tip-based job was $2.10 per hour. While it took me several months afford to go home, I finally made it home in December 1981. I immediately enrolled at North Idaho College and rented a small cottage next to a cemetery.

While Mom helped out a bit, I had grown up quickly and realized I was alone in this life. College came with twists and turns. I never imagined it would lead me to Penn State in the fall of 1984 via the women's golf team. I never imagined it except, when I was a little girl growing up, I had a tiny Penn State sweatshirt that hung on my wall. While I dreamt of going there, I knew very little about this college at the time.

Graduating eventually came, but it took some time. I was just a few credits short of an additional two BA degrees in art education and art history. Even so, I graduated with a Bachelor of Fine Arts (BFA) in painting and design from the College of Arts & Architecture. All of my friends had met their husbands in the last semester of school.

When the summer of 1987 arrived, my mom wanted me to come visit her. However, I simply could not afford the time or the money to make it home. For my graduation ceremony, no one came out to attend. I was alone. But here is the great news.. Father, I was never alone because You were there with me the whole time and every step of the way. Your hand was upon my life and I am so grateful for you.

So, this is my journey as summed up in Proverbs 16:9, "The heart of a man plans his way, but the Lord establishes his steps." What a gift! What a gift to me that You are my Father. Well, here we are now... the last child has graduated. While my two sons will most likely always be very near to us, the other three are working in their respective fields and preparing their way.

It has been bittersweet. Something has happened to me in this process. Spiritually, I am so thankful for our children to see God working in miraculous ways. I am so encouraged. However, I look at my age and my capabilities and I am not sure how I will endure. Lord, when will You step in with Your miracles? When? We all need You.

I had spent almost 2/3rds of my life confusing my path with my destination. I was always so worried about missteps in my plans on my path and on my journey. However, this I know for certain... God is enough! He is enough! Nahum 1:7, "The Lord is good, a stronghold in the days of trouble and He knows those that trust in Him." Psalms 32:8, "I will instruct thee and teach thee in the way which thou shalt go; I will fix My eyes upon thee."

This I know for certain... I have planned many times for great things according to 'my way'. However, the Lord has greater plans. Who could predict a life like mine? It is a path that was and still is rocky. False doctrine says:

- Name it and claim it.
- Carve your way.
- Speak miracles into existence.
- Whatever you declare, call it into being.

While this is nice and positive good stuff (if completely about God), we can do nothing without Him. We are not little gods. A child of God is not a 'mini-god'. No matter how many times I think I have control of my path, I really do not. All I do know is that my destination, or where I will end up, is eternal, Heaven with Jesus. How I get there is God's journey for me. This is not about my way, but all about God's way.

Now, I can make my way hell on Earth by doing things against God only to find myself in a sea of failures, troubles and a real mess. However, what is easier... a mess with God helping you through it or a mess without Him? Either way, I prefer His way, His path, for His purposes in my life, His message, through my mess.

I have been burned out lately. I have been hit with so many troubles, so much in the ways of complications, I have been disheartened. A few nights ago, at exactly 2:21am, I was awakened to a horrible sound. My light was turned on by my husband standing up and about to pass out and unable to breathe. I was wondering if his lungs had collapsed or what had happened.

He was beginning to lose consciousness. As I prayed to the Lord for wisdom in this situation, I had him sit on the bed and tried to calm him down. He was panicked. I had him lift his arms as I ran to get my inhaler. I had him take three puffs. He then started to relax as I breathed with him. He finally could breathe. So many things went through my mind. He later explained that his breath ceased after an intense coughing fit.

We both thought he was dying. I realized that we lived so far away that something like this would have killed him if he were alone. I hadn't heard him because the AC unit and a fan was on. We are scheduling an appointment for him to be seen by a doctor. It was scary. Thankfully, it wasn't my husband's time and I am relieved.

Then two nights ago at approximately 3:00am, in my dream, I heard the voice of an angel telling me to 'get up, wake up now!' I awoke to my shoulder being pinned by my husband's elbow. My entire arm was now asleep. While it took a while, I slowly regained movement. I have never had this happen before.

Last night, I awoke at 2:10am with something I haven't had in many years... wave after wave of vasovagal issues with waves of weakness, sweats and nausea. It went like this for an entire hour. Once I started to pray against this, it left just as quickly as it came. When later touching base with our kids, we noticed that two of them had been under attack and up at the same time with nightmares.

We know that a group of wiccans have been presenting themselves to us at various spots. I am friendly to them as I do not want to invite further troubles. My daughter even had to call in sick. This is something she never does, but she was experiencing something extremely unusual.

Oh Lord, I am so tired today. I am downcast and exhausted from these battles. I am sorry if I have done things to dishonor You in anyway. I am restless. I do not want to jump ahead of You. Please help me, Father. I am powerless in this life. All of us are. We are all nothing without You!

A Bend OR real estate agent that I have known for many years contacted me with the perfect home for us there. However, I do not have any way to purchase this. It is beyond our abilities. I have resigned my hopes and dreams completely to You. I am sorry, Father. To me, You have always represented my Shining Knight on a beautiful white horse coming to collect me, defend me and to save me from evil. I can do nothing on my own except for making a wreck of things.

We have been preparing for something. What exactly this is I do not know. However, I do know it is for Your purposes and not our comfort. Perhaps I am praying for a false hope or for the wrong things. All of this seems so impossible. Perhaps quitting is the best option for me. In my dream last night, I was helping people to find You. I was helping them find their way to You. Father, I was preparing for a grand meal way beyond my personal capabilities.

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "Erin, I am here and I am with you. Don't give up! Don't give up! You had great expectations, but now you are tired. Days have come and gone. The enemy of your days is time as you frame your days as a measure of it. However, time is Mine. I know you have grown tired and weary as the plans I have promised have not come to pass yet. There is a reason for this and it has an eternal purpose."

Me: "Oh Lord, I know this is based on God's time and calendar, not on my will."

Jesus: "It has to be on His time as your will would still leave many excluded from salvation. While you would not do this on purpose as your heart is not evil, it is because you long for My promises for your friends and family. You are discouraged that miracles are not yet on full display. It seems that all you have experienced is for nothing to others if you cannot proclaim the miraculous. Erin, I know you have more questions than I am willing to answer. I am able, but, for your sake, unwilling. You must trust Me now more than you ever have for the outcome. When you are down, come to Me in praise and I will strengthen you."

Me: "Lord, I feel like an empty vessel right now. The world and all it has to offer doesn't satisfy. Something is wrong here. There is a scent in the air that makes me ill. It is musty like powder, old roses and paper documents. It has been around the last few days and smells like my grandmother's funeral viewing. I have searched for the source and cannot find it. It smells like the spirit of death. Please remove this from my presence, from around my daughters' rooms and from my devotional chair."

Jesus: "Calm down, Erin. I am here and I am with you. No spirit of death will come to you, your husband, your daughters, your sons or your house. It is not to be. You have enemies that have called upon your death, along with that of your children and your husband. However, I have the keys to life and death and it is I who controls this. Evil can send smells and various things to distract you, variables like troubles to you. However, not one will succeed... Erin, not one! Now, breathe, Erin, for I am here and I am with you. I know you are discouraged."

Me: "Lord, why is it that sometimes miracles happen with lightning speed and Your power is on full display and, at other times, healing is delayed, only partial healing, or the door presented it only partially opened or our prayers aren't fully answered even when our faith in the situation is big. Since I am a Bride, Your Bride, I have watched for You coming for us over and over. Every night, I think, 'Tonight is perfect!'

"I look out the window and I imagine the lights of Your Groomsmen coming or I imagine music and joyous shouting. I look out and wonder, 'Is He coming soon? Where is He?' While the others go down to have dinner, shop and run errands, I wait for You. Perhaps I should have instead gone into town and made myself happy.

"Perhaps that is what You would want. The longer I wait, I doubt myself and wonder if You have decided to not come for me. Perhaps You are disappointed with my thoughts or behaviors while waiting for You. While You send help to sustain me, perhaps my prayers and thankfulness are too weak? Perhaps..."

Jesus: "Oh Erin, the wait has been long. I know, I know. Endurance requires strength that I give to you. I never promised it would be easy. However, I did promise you that I would not leave you. I am here. I am."

Me: "I thought You would have come for me by now. This is my 61st year, Lord. It is becoming difficult. Please don't forget us."

Jesus: "I will not. Erin, I never could. Every person I have called to your dreams has a special place in My heart and in My Kingdom. All your prayers for each of them have been answered. Each one has a special call from My Father in Heaven. Do not forget this. God is in you, Erin. I am there in the midst of you. You will not fall. I will help you at the break of day. Forget the former things. Do not dwell on the past.

"See, I am doing a new thing. Now it springs up. Do you not perceive it? I am making a way in the wilderness and streams in the wasteland. Erin, wild animals even honor Me... the jackals and the owls... because I provide water in the wilderness and streams in the wasteland... to give drink to My people, My Chosen. Erin, you are grafted in, a gentile, I formed for Myself. You have proclaimed My praise."

Me: "Lord, the next portion of the Scripture (Isaiah 43) is all that Your people have not done."

Jesus: "Yes, but not My Chosen, those I have called. You have followed Me and have continued even though you are exhausted. You have brought gifts to Me and honored Me with your sacrifices. You have been generous and lavish Me with your heart of gold. You honor Me with your lips and continue to praise My name even in your afflictions. You have been passed through the fire and you still run to Me.

"You have not been burned. I have shaped you and formed you in your mother's womb. You are Mine. I remember your sins no more. Erin, you watch for Me. You continue. Do not be afraid. Do not fear for I have redeemed you. I have summoned you by name. You are Mine. When you pass through the waters, I will be with you. When you pass through the rivers, they will not sweep over you.

"When you walk through the fire, you will not be burned. The flames will not set you ablaze. I am God. I am with you and you are precious and honored in My sight. Because I love you, I will give people in exchange for you, nations in exchange for your life. Do not be afraid for I am with you. I will bring your children from the east and gather you from the west.

"I will say to the north give them up and to the south – do not hold them back. Bring My sons from afar and My daughters from the ends of the Earth, everyone who is called by My name, whom I created for My glory, whom I formed and made. Erin, listen carefully... lead out those who have eyes but are blind, who have ears but are deaf. All the nations gather together and the peoples assemble.

"Which of their gods foretold any of this and proclaimed to us the former things? Let them bring in their witnesses to prove that they are right so others may hear and say, 'It is true!' You are My witnesses and My servants who I have chosen so that you may know and believe Me and understand that I am He. Before Me, no god was formed nor will there be one after Me.

"I, even I, am the Lord. I was there at the beginning and apart from Me there is no other Savior. I have revealed and saved and proclaimed I, and not some foreign god among you. You are My witnesses that I am God. Yes, and from ancient days, I am He. No one can deliver out of My hand. When I act, who can reverse it?

"Erin, I am about to do something in your days you would not believe even if I told you. Now, as one age has ended, so too will another begin.

You will usher in a new age as a horn is sounded. I am with you. Beside Me, there is no other god. So, take comfort in this. You will ride forth victoriously in the cause of truth, humility and justice as I am with you. Let your right hand achieve awesome deeds.

"Your sharp arrows will pierce the hearts of My enemies. You will be anointed with the oil of joy. Your robes will be fragrant and adorned with jewels. Listen, Erin... you are My princess. Forget your people and your father's house. You are not bound by them. I love you. You are Mine."

Me: Crying. "Lord, I needed You to comfort me. I was so sad."

Jesus: "You are in your Bridal Chamber waiting for the sound that the Groomsmen are coming. Be encouraged. I have not forgotten you. I would never forget you. Your name is written on the palms of My hands. Now rejoice."

Me: "Lord, this is Isaiah 43, Psalm 45, Isaiah 49 and even Haggai."

Before we could continue, my older son interrupted me about something ridiculous. I quickly went back to the Lord.

Jesus: "Forgive him as his understanding is limited. I have him. Do not worry. Now rejoice, Erin, as I bring you Good News."

Me: "Thank You, Lord. I needed help."

Jesus: "My attendants will come in advance bearing shouts of praise, music and gifts, all to announce My arrival. Now rejoice as I am with you."

Me: "Bless You, Lord, and thank You!"

Dream over.

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day! Thank You for Your love and great care with me, my husband, our children, our animals and our Nest. Our home too. Father, You have presented a door to us, but the door has not opened yet. You gave me a dream setting similar to dreams I have had before...

Sub-Dream 1 “9 Doors – 7 closed, 1 ajar, 1 open” begins...

You showed me a hallway about 5’ wide with a total of 9 doors. The doors were solid and had no handles or knobs. This means You divinely operate them as You need no knobs as God. I was walking with my husband after I had passed 7 of these doors. When we approached the 8th door, the 8th door began slowly moving. It was on the right side of the hallway.

However, as we tried to walk past it, the door remained slightly open as we walked towards the 9th door. The doors began to move closer together. The 8th door was still open. As we walked toward the 9th door, the door opened and light poured out of this door. We both turned to look at the 8th door and it remained partially open so we could go in or come out. The dream then abruptly ended.

Sub-Dream 1 over...

Father, this dream felt so familiar. I remember this feeling from our last big move. Still, I have been grieving here. This place is so lost here. It could not be in a darker area. On the other hand, perhaps all areas are like this now. I don’t know. I only know there are no on-fire Christians I know of where we live. The churches are lukewarm and invite doctrine that is not Your doctrine.

Our spiritual battles here are intense and they trickle down to our mental and physical state. I feel many are losing their children. The wait has been long and agonizing. We have never wanted to hold them back. Their faith and hope are great, but no one talks about Your promises much anymore. Oh Father, if I have done something to upset You, please forgive me. I know I am not perfect. Father, I know what it is like to experience great humility.

My husband is also now experiencing this. Many of our children have been attacked. It breaks my heart to have no answers to their questions to me other than my arguments that they find less than convincing. I am then stopped as no one wants to hear this anymore.

Father, in this life, I know we will have troubles. Still, You are over all things. However, this is agonizing. You have promised that my family and friends will be saved. However, I am worried as I see dimly lit candles about to burn out.

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "I humble the proud for eternal reasons. I know that every door was shut. I watched the enemy pursue your husband's status and I allowed every closed door to open to a way forward. However, know this... nothing gets past Me. I will send an equal amount of troubles commensurate with what was placed against your husband. For many, I already did, and for others, I soon will.

"Erin, I dismantled anything built on a foundation of evil. I am sorry you have had to endure this. However, I sent you in to stand for your husband as, without you, he would have struggled for a long time... he and his children. However, look at what I have done. I have given you time and recompense. I have blessed your house. I have blessed your family and I am not finished.

"Now, I don't look kindly on those who enjoy judging others. Soon... very soon... My judgment will come to the judges. You feel uneasy, sad and like a failure. You wonder if only you had done this or that. I know. However, I told you that I have you. I told you not to worry even though not worrying seems impossible."

Me: "Lord, please forgive me. I know You have us. I just feel lost. If I feel this way, then I know that my children and others also do. Lord, please revive my soul. I have no way of knowing how You will fulfill Your promises. I can't even guess, though at times I try. You are a grand wonderful mystery, yet still my Best Friend. I am overwhelmed. However, I want so much for all of us to be happy. I want to live and be free to talk about You. I love You."

Jesus: "Where you are now, things have changed that you cannot see. I know that change is difficult, but I have chosen a home for you and I am working to fulfill My promises to you."

Me: "This seems impossible right now. How will we move? Homes are so expensive in Bend OR. We would struggle."

Jesus: "I will direct your path. How did you know it was time last time?"

Me: "Many things happened in rapid succession. We were all ready. Miracles after miracles happened. This all happened even as the enemy pursued us."

Jesus: "Yes, but now the enemies are not involved. While you go there with a history, time has gone by and memories fade. The rumors were false. Your children are now older. You are retired. You have many friends there... more than you think. I am taking you back to the place I gave to you (Bend OR), the place in which you were robbed of all you had and even your sons.

"I am bringing you back with My recompense. You will have greater presence and authority. I will heal, strengthen and restore your family to better than before. However, this time you will all start anew. While you will spend so much time there, you will go back and forth. Do not worry as I have you. I will make this perfect, so do not worry here, even though I know you are. I have you and I love you. Rejoice, Erin, as all I have promised you is here. The door is opening, yet the current one also remains ajar."

Me: "In my dream, what do the 9 doors represent? 9 years? Or are they like bridges of 7-year blocks instead?"

Jesus: "More like bridges."

Me: "Bridges often seem to represent blocks of change."

Note: This is not a Lord sayeth, just speculation by my husband. It has been 56 years since Jerusalem was recaptured by the Jews on June 7, 1967. 56 years equals 8 bridges of 7-year blocks. If this is the measure being used, this means that the 9th bridge could be starting very soon. Is this the '9th Door' we are waiting for?

Jesus: "You are not to worry. Erin, I have you. Now, I recently gave you a grapevine. Attached to this carefully was a nest with three eggs. The mother was separated from her nest. However, I brought this to you as a sign. The nest remains. The grapevine remains. However, the mom and babies are with Me.

“These are a symbol that, no matter what comes after you or your children, you are under My care. I am the Master Vintner. I own the vineyards, the grapes and the wine. I care about every detail. Not one detail is overlooked. Continue on your course. I have you. I love you.”

Dear Father,

I am sorry as I have been struggling. You continue to keep me focused on You in the midst of the changes coming. You are directing our paths to prepare for this. However, I am the one wrestling with You. Father, I am so sorry. As we prepare our house, You have allowed the same patterns to present themselves as they once did. You are bringing severe heat and humidity here.

It is so hot that I cannot even sit comfortably in my devotional chair to write. My children’s jobs are beginning to be dismantled. New bosses have come into many of their jobs. My daughter has an open satanist as a manager. My son has an open transgender as a manager. My husband’s new sales manager starts this week. He is off work right now as he decided to take a week off to make repairs to our house.

My husband’s new boss cannot work on Fridays because he is Muslim. This will certainly become very interesting. The owner there had given each one of the salespeople a silver Spanish coin as purchased in Mexico when he was on vacation. When he handed the coin to each of them, he told them to ‘Embrace Change’. Talk about a wolf in sheep’s clothing. My husband believes that there is a very wicked intention in bringing a Muslim into an all-Christian company.

It has been hard to hear all of these stories at the dinner table. The enemy is winning by taking over our communities. Many are afraid to stand up to this. To make matters worse, we have a predator around our home that is killing all of the little animals and birds. I feel helpless to do anything about it. While we have tried to scare it off, it just adjusts its schedule and continues to hunt. I have been discovering bodies and I am so bothered. My daughter then rationalized what was happening...

My daughter: “Mom, if the Lord is allowing this, then go to Him. It seems like He is slowly putting an end to all you have come to expect or enjoy. Perhaps this is just Him administering some tough love.”

While I didn't like what she said, I agreed that the Lord is up to something in this regard. He usually has us take a stand on things and fight. However, I instead feel He is calling us out to a place of strength. We miss having a God-fearing church and worship. We long for a place where we are freer. We thought we were here, but I cannot stand up for what is right. I had a couple of dreams last night...

Sub-Dream 2 “Driving out five demons” begins...

We were preparing to go on a journey. I was with my daughter at a shop she worked for. She was showing me various items I would need to prepare for my journey. She laid out several items perfect for where we were going. All of the items were white. It made no sense. Every time I went to look at an item, a woman with a baby would forcefully try to block me. I soon became quite irritated. My daughter noticed this...

My daughter: “Mom, I will place everything behind the counter until she leaves.”

Me: “Go ahead. That's a great idea.”

The crazy woman knew what we were doing and decided to openly change her baby's dirty diaper on a counter. Several of the customers fled because the stench was overwhelming. The evil woman was unphased. She yelled at us...

Evil woman: “Where are you reserving those nice white items? I think they need color.”

She was trying to climb over the counter with the poopy diaper. Seeing things were escalating, I rounded up three of her small children and took them to the side of the store. The children were really cute. A little girl around 5 years old addressed me...

5-year-old girl: “Mommy sometimes gets like this. I am so sorry.”

Me: “It is okay. Nobody is hurt.”

As I looked over the counter, I saw my daughter wrestling the woman to keep her from coming over the counter. Four other workers were assisting her. I spoke to a different daughter, one about seven years old and in a blue dress.

Me: “Wow, your mom is strong.”

7-year-old girl: "Yes, she is. Hey, could you show me how to use these? My little brother's ears are hurt."

She put three cotton ear swabs in front of me. They were blue plastic with the cotton ends pulled and puffy. When I looked, I could see that his ears were damaged.

Me: "Oh no, you should not use these. They are dangerous. Who gave you these?"

5-year-old girl: "Mommy. She told us to shove them in our ears to clean them. She told us that, if it hurts, we should go deeper."

Okay, at that point, I was straight up angry. I placed my hands over the children's ears and prayed. The Lord healed their ears. I then looked towards the counter. My daughter had become angry and flipped the mom to the ground. She now had the crazy woman pinned to the ground.

Me: "Thank You, Jesus!"

I went up to the mom and prayed over her. Right then and while she was pinned, five ugly transparent demons came out of her chest. They fled from us. I ran after them as they shrieked. The store was then supernaturally cleaned from any smears from the poopy diaper. Her baby and her children were now healthy. They all hugged each other and cried.

Woman: "What happened? I am so sorry!"

Lord: Addressing me in private. "Anger, bitterness, envy, coveting and lies had come over her."

Me: To the woman. "Well, I chased them out of the building. How are you now?"

Woman: "I am overwhelmed. We have no money and no food. We might lose our home soon."

I heard a bleep on her phone. God had deposited money into her account to cover her debts. My daughter addressed her.

My daughter: "Now go and sin no more, k."

I was laughing at the way my daughter said this. She said this as the sales staff were all busy cleaning up themselves from the fight.

Me: "She is right. Don't allow them back or they will bring more."

Woman: "Okay."

Me: "Do you want to know Jesus and have Him with you?"

Woman: "Yes."

We then led her and all of her children to Jesus. Even the infant raised his little hand to Jesus. They left the store very happy. My daughter then placed the items on the counter. The excrement had never touched any of the items.

My daughter: "Mom, I have something else."

She pulled out a pink change purse and handed it to me. It cost $8, 50% off $16.

Me: "Not really my style."

My daughter: "Yes, but you will never need to search for change again as this never goes empty. The Lord will fill it."

Me: Laughing. "Okay, add it to my tab." As I took the change purse, it was immediately filled. "That pink will really stand out."

My daughter: "Yes. All will know it is your change purse."

Sub-Dream 2 over.

Sub-Dream 3 "Boarding a very large ferry" begins...

I was preparing to board a very large ferry. It had a destination that was not far. My family was there, along with several friends. I decided that I needed water for the journey. I stopped in a small gift shop to purchase water. In front of me were brands I did not recognize at all. Many were foreign. Nothing seemed right. Even the shape of the bottles looked wrong.

I then dropped a key to the ground. I am not sure what the key was other than a fob was attached. It therefore had to be a car and a house key. I bent down to pick up my key and saw in the very back of the cooler case was a brand of bottle I recognized. It was crammed and hidden. I then found another one and picked that one up too.

I suddenly could hear the ship's horn. An announcement was then made asking everyone to finish boarding. I met up with my family and friends and boarded the ferry. Nothing seemed familiar at all. There was now a great urgency to get on this ship.

Sub-Dream 3 over.

Father, You have kept me close to You for all of these years. You have never given up on me, even when I have become discouraged. While I sometimes feel so discouraged that I want to give up on all of this, I simply can't do it. I love You too much. You are here in this chair. My altar of heavenly devotion to You is where I sit. You have answered prayed of healing from this chair for my family and friends.

You have heard my pleas from this chair. You have opened doors for us. You have sent help from here in the pages of Your Words and Your Testimony. You have dried my tears of pain here and comforted me. My children have been lifted up in prayers here. My journal pages of hopes and dreams and promises were all written here. I met You here. I met God here. I was called up to Your Sanctuary here. I crossed bridges in our yard with angels surrounding me. You knocked on my door here.

Now You are calling me out! How can I go, Father? I have become comfortably uncomfortable here. I have watched my children for nine years peek in here as I write and say, 'Morning, mom... say hi to Jesus for me.' With each journal writing year, I watched them grow. How can I go, Father. Still, I don't want You to stop now. Please continue. While I am scared about leaving here, I am also very excited.

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "Erin, I am here and I am with you. I know you have grown comfortable in your chair. However, the time has come for you to be called out from this place of comfort. I built a beautiful home here for you with all you needed to raise your family. However, you knew from the beginning that, at some point, I would be bringing you back to the land you know and love (Bend OR). You now ask, 'How can this be?'. This is because it would require that you let go of all you enjoy here in the wilderness. However, remember that, just as I called you from the desert place, so too I can call you from the wilderness."

Me: "But, Lord, I can't imagine selling this home. To me, this is where You are."

Jesus: "Oh Erin, don't you know that I am with you always wherever you go? Now, I have not told you to let go of this home yet. I have instead begun to show you that, outside of this home, there is very little keeping you here right now. Your children are losing their hope here. In turn, you have become discouraged. You see the troubles mounting around the community.

"As a result, I am about to take you for a few seasons to the place of your heart. You will gain your strength again there. Your deep joy will return. This is where I will fill your vessels at the refreshing river running from the holy mountain of God. Now, you are worried about many things. However, you are not to worry."

Me: "Father, the only way for us is if we sell."

Jesus: "Is this really the only way? Oh Erin, I am The Way. Do not measure by the standards of the world. If you sell your home, you will struggle."

Me: "How can this be then? Lord, how?"

Jesus: "I have you. I will provide a miracle for you as I have always done. Now, prepare your home as if you are leaving for an extended period. A few of your children will stay here for a while and keep your home, along with the angels I appoint. You will need to take only a small amount of items and can send for more later as needed."

Me: "Lord, this is impossible for me. The older I get, the harder it is to take more on."

Jesus: "I know. However, I have a reason for all of this. I have promised that I will do this. Relax as you have no ability. Instead, allow Me to create the method of delivering you, along with the means to carry you. Your husband will find work and so will your children too. You will have a great church there, along with many old friends and even new ones. Erin, it is time to Embrace Me... the God who changes hearts. As for Me, I never change. It is therefore time for you to Embrace Change instead."

Me: "Okay, Lord."

Jesus: "Erin, many saints have been before Me with the same line of questioning you have. You are in shock and at a loss for the proper words. You see no abilities, just disabilities. To this, I say I have capabilities as I am the God who is able to do this in your weakness. To those I have called, they then ask 'How?' They then tell Me to ignore their question as they realize that nothing is impossible for Me."

Me: "Oh Lord, it all just seems so overwhelming. It is both exciting and overwhelming. I just thought the change was for me to be healed and strengthened and then this would be homebase."

Jesus: "Wait, I know you are overwhelmed at the prospect. You have run from your enemies. I am now calling you up to follow Me. You stand at the mighty waters and feel overwhelmed at the impossible way you will cross. Not one of the Israelites imagined I would call Moses to use his staff to part the waters, holding them back so they could all cross on dry land.

"You must then trust Me for all of this. In the meantime, continue to prepare your circumstances. You and your husband will go ahead and there I will show you where you are to go. Do not worry for anything... not one thing... as I will provide for you. Now rejoice as I am with you. I have you and I love you!"

Dream over.

Communion

Thank You for another day! Thank You for keeping us safe, along with our family and friends from all over the world. Father, I have no words to describe You that really do You justice. There are no words even conceived that can come close to describing You. Perhaps the words that come closest are the 'Omni-Words'. This is also because the enemy cannot lay claim to these Omni-Words, only You can...

- Omniscient: You know absolutely everything there is to know. You are all-knowing. Your power is limitless in all things, past, present and future.
- Omnipresent: You are absolutely everywhere all of the time... and even 'in time'. Nothing holds You or restricts You, not even time itself.
- Omnipotent: Your power is without limits. You are all-powerful. Absolutely nothing is impossible for You.
- Omnibenevolent: You are absolutely good. Your ways are higher... period. You are 100% Holy and completely void of any evil.

Okay, here is a new word. It uses all four definitions of the above 'Omni-Words' as the definition of this new word. Well, here it goes...

OMNIAMAZING!!!

There, done! You are all-knowing, everywhere at all times, all powerful, all good and void of evil. You are worthy of our full praise. We are creatures created by You to worship You and to live in the fullness of Your love. We are meant to be prosperous, healthy, multiply and produce all the Fruits of the Spirit that You have given to us. There are very few of us who look to You now.

Brief dream / vision: You showed me a dream / vision of the Earth rolling off the side of an embankment into darkness. It was a literal plunge into an abyss void of You. It was frightening.

We who watch for You are like the moon shining in the darkness. However, we are in the waning phase now and we are growing dim. This world has fallen so quickly into great upheaval. There are so many bizarre news stories that are now real, not fabricated. The newspaper now reads like a ridiculous tabloid. It is so mixed-up, backwards, upside-down, inverted, convoluted and jumbled. None of this is good.

However, You can turn this around! Father, You can do all things. I never thought I would see a day when it would seem worse than the days of Noah. Well, I am sorry to say that 'worse' isn't almost here, it has now fully arrived.

I am struggling to think of leaving to go out west in my current condition. We are in a relatively safe place and we know what to expect. We have become comfortably uncomfortable here as we wait on You. I promised You a long time ago that, if You delivered me and my children to a safe land far from those who long to hurt us, I would forever be in Your service here and in eternity. Well, here we are!
