Oh yes...I should also note that I felt no pain while writing today. This was so supernaturally rare that it was awesome...but not nearly as awesome as our Awesome Savior!

Dream 421 – There will soon be a revival of joy

Received on Sunday, July 12, 2020

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day here! Thank You for Your love. Thank You for my family and a wonderful Nest of Sparrows. Thank You, Father, for continuing to keep our community of friends and Your Bride safe.

I am now free and walking around. I was able to be in close contact with my family again and I am thankful. It was so difficult to be isolated. During this time, we had storms and other conditions that kept our internet signals poor and our air conditioning units sometimes stopping.

During this time, I have been on a type of fast. I am doing this to turn my focus back to my First Love...Jesus and things of Heaven. Halfway through my journey, I was in such grief and great distress over the current state of our nation and the world. The more time I spent in prayer with You, the clearer Your Voice became. I soon came to You in words...

Me: "Father, what did You mean when You told us to 'make no long-term plans'?"

God: "Erin, when you think of long-term, what comes to your mind?"

Me: "Well, truthfully, it means retirement...securing investments, healthcare and a home for growing old...provisions for when I am on a fixed income...nest eggs."

God: "Then think of these things as long-term. Do not fret, worry or seed long-term investments. Do not place your trust in institutions to care for you. Store up your treasures in Heaven instead. These things will soon not be worthy of worry, understand?"

Me: "Yes, Father. I have been worried about what I shall do and where I shall go. I have been worried about how I will make it when there is very little to sustain me or my family as I grow old. I am sorry for worrying, Father."

Prayer and worship give clarity to mysteries given to us via the Holy Spirit. Father, I am so thankful for the Holy Spirit. I had a disturbing dream last night.

Sub-dream 1 "Former politician daydreams about his future throne"

I was watching a well-known former politician, yet still quietly very active in the background, tour a museum in the Middle East. This museum was filled with Christian artifacts. The leader of this country was giving this man a tour of the museum...

Leader: "This museum will soon be converted to the great vision of Allah."

The former politician walked around, smiled and nodded. He then studied the 'Altar of God' on display. Off to the right was a display of an ornate chair. The chair looked like a throne. The former politician became fixated on this 'throne'.

Former politician: "Was this chair the one at the front of the altar?"

Leader: "No...to the side."

I was then able to read the thoughts of the former politician. He was already plotting. He then took a seat on the 'altar' in this beautiful church turned museum.

Former politician: "How long before this is turned into your great vision, a vision which is now one I can also see?"

Leader: "Very soon. There is red tape, but there will be services again here no later than 2020."

Former politician: "Wonderful! This will be the seat of a great leader, a leader who will advocate for an open society, a society where all will come to worship at 'The Church of God's Wisdom'." He smiled as news reporters were taking photographs. "It is time to start the initiative...'Many Bridges, One Destination'...where once there were only walls."

Leader: "We must further this vision by removing the oppression of Allah's people. The only way of freedom to cross these many bridges is only Allah. There can only be 'One Way'!"

Former politician: "Yes...of course, of course! I know some people. Do not worry, my friend."

He then started to daydream again. I could read his thoughts. While the former politician knew that this leader felt he was actually to be this future world leader, he also knew that this leader would instead merely end up being just another tool of his future world domination and leadership.

In an instant, I was taken back outside of 'The Church of God's Wisdom'. Using a type of time lapse photography, I then watched as this beautiful Christian church of God was turned into a mosque with what looked like five pillars surrounding it.

Sub-dream 1 over.

Sub-dream 2 "An evil gang becomes the new police force"

I saw a quiet suburb in Eastern Washington made of moderate middle-class families. The homes were nice...all occupied...all with nice lawns and sidewalks. A warning then sounded and caused quite a fright. A news report then told all the residents in this suburb to shelter in place and to await further instructions. This neighborhood then dutifully did exactly as they were instructed.

During the evening hours, barbed wire fences were erected all around the perimeter of this area. When dawn came, a large and scary man, heavily armed, made an announcement for all the residents to come outside for a meeting.

Controller: "This neighborhood is now under my care. However, I need all your help as I cannot feed my family for free. In return for a regular fee, my gang and I will protect your homes. I will determine the payment amount at my soul discretion."

Homeowner 1: "How will we get to the bank? I have no cash."

Controller: "I have an accountant on staff." He pointed to a terrifying looking man that looked like a criminal, not an accountant. "You will give him your credit cards and their associated pin numbers."

Homeowner 1: "What if we refuse?"

In an instant, the controller turned his gun toward the man and shot him. Everyone screamed in horror. The man was now lying on the ground making noises that showed he was in great pain. He was still alive as he was shot in the shoulder.

Controller: "Listen, I want to protect all of you, so please don't make this difficult. I don't like messy situations."

Homeowner 2: "What happens if we can't get to work to get paid to give you more money?"

Controller: "No problem. I am flexible. While you are gone, I will stay in your homes with your beautiful wives and your beautiful young daughters. We will wait there for your return."

He then smiled in a twisted way that showed this was actually a thinly veiled serious threat.

Homeowner 3: "What are we supposed to do about getting groceries?"

Controller: "Again, not a problem. I will stay with your babies while you run to the grocery store. Just think of us as a better version of the police...kinder, gentler and very loving. Now, it is time to bring me all your weapons. We have a list of all gun permits issued to each of you, so I recommend bringing these out and leaving these for me to keep safe."

Homeowner 4: "What happens to us if we eventually run out of money?"

Controller: "This will be most unfortunate. When you run out of money, your home will be ours. We will determine the market value at our sole discretion. However, and as I have said, we are flexible. This means you can still negotiate."

I was then zoomed out so that I was looking at a large area that included this neighborhood. I was high enough that this looked like a speck. To my horror, many, many areas had been taken over by gangs in a similar way. While this type of an event was unbelievable just a short while ago, all of this is now painfully plausible.

Sub-dream 2 over.

Father, please don't let anything like this happen. It was horrible. I felt helpless as I saw these families go from being safe and secure to being held hostage in fear for their lives. This happened to them in a single day. It made me sick. My next dream was not that much better...

Sub-dream 3 "A terrifying auction"

I was overlooking a large mansion. A group of gangsters then came in and began to set up an auction block. They were very organized. They began to auction off valuables online to foreign clients. There were people from all over the world bidding on these items.

Sub-dream 3 over.

Over the years, I must admit that it was difficult working for wealthy people in massive beautiful homes. I never had the money that they did, but I still knew the value of all they had. I also knew the cost of how hard they worked and the struggles they had in getting there. Yes, some were born into money, but many had to work hard to get to where they were.

It takes years to build up a dream home. It also takes years of hard work to even conceive such a dream. While many dream, not all of us obtain our dreams. Father, it is You Who allows dreams. It is You Who then determines if they succeed or not. You oversee our steps and determine our days.

My husband and I were recently talking about how many governments in the world were democracies versus authoritarians. It is scary to see how many are authoritarian. According to one of the world maps we saw, this seems to be rising. It seems that so many nations are hanging in the balance right now. Corruption seems to be winning.

Father, all of this has happened so quickly. Please protect all of us from what is coming. We pray good things are coming soon for all of Your children. I pray that You bless us and protect us, all in Jesus' Mighty Name, Amen!

Jesus: "Erin, come up."

I was immediately in front of Jesus. He reached out to hug me.

Jesus: "I have you. Do not worry. I have you."

Me: Crying. "Lord, things are going from bad to worse. Statues are falling. According to history, bloodshed will soon follow."

His face was calm. His smile was that of our God in full control over all things.

Jesus: "Erin, there is a war in the heavens over you right now. It is a great battle. You are seeing the manifestation of the first wave of the demonic presence in people. Remember these came and the veil was lifted slightly so those I have called with discernment could see this visible evil throughout the nations. Still, the enemy had begun his assault on your nation, America, many years ago. This is not new.

"Many were veiled to see what was visible right before their eyes. Truth is in the eyes, ears and mouths of the beholders of truth, not the beholders of lies. Even though eyes can deceive some, the truth in actions remains. With the deceiver...anyone set on deception...it is very difficult to hold a story to keep it straight. Truth eventually comes to the forefront and light is shed. Darkness is revealed, understand?

"Now, what has occurred is the wave of illness swept across the world as sent by a ruler. Then began a cover up of what had happened. However, it was delayed so many would die. However, this was never about death or illness. It was instead a way to destroy a rising nation financially. The leader I had sent was becoming a shedder of My Light in dark recesses of a move of corruption.

"Another plan was then put in place while the nations were locked down. This plan was to control information and therefore the ability to control truth and the narrative. When the nations then began to open again and show strength, two movements then rose. Both have evil roots based on hatred and division. It is not what it seems on the surface. The money given to these organizations is not going to where people had hoped it would. They will soon see that many have been deceived."

Me: "Oh Lord, please fix everything now. Please restore all of this. Please heal the lands. Please heal the nations."

Jesus: "I have a plan in place, Erin. Do not worry. Corruption will be exposed. Even so, many, even those who stand for truth, will be in denial over who is active in the shadows. There is a group that seems quiet right now. They are lurking and waiting for an opportunity to strike. Those fighting oppression do not realize that those they fight are good and those they stand with desire their captivity."

Me: "Lord, please tell us what to do."

Jesus: "You are to pray, Erin. Pray for the corrupt to be exposed. Pray for those who grieve to be strengthened. Understand that the enemy stands on principals which are very close to My Words. However, you have only to see a little deeper to know that this is actually a counterfeit to Heaven."

Me: "From my perspective, the USA looks like 'the fall of the Roman Empire' right now!"

Jesus: "The age of lawlessness is before you. Confusion comes along with this. Agendas are convoluted and hidden. There is no solution. Evil desires death, enslavement, punishing taxes and the removal of anything good. However, you must remember that, just because they desire this, doesn't mean it is to be allowed.

"I have a great plan in place." He smiled. "Truth will reign and there will soon be a revival of joy. Remember that it is darkest just before the dawn. Take heart for I have overcome the world. I have you!" He pointed towards me and smiled. "Erin, you are Mine. Now, come with Me." He took my hand.

Dream 422 – Time to separate the sheep from the goats

Received on Saturday, July 18, 2020

Communion

Dear Father,

I am struggling! The struggle is real. I have become depressed at times...not clinically, but circumstantially. While I was happy during my self-isolation, I still missed venturing out. While I had felt I was missing something, now that I have ventured out again, I realize that I really missed nothing. Life continued without me. No one 'out there' missed me. While my family missed close contact with me, that was about it.

Father, there are so many people held up in their homes who have very little contact with the world. I read an article recently where a reporter had stopped an elderly man of 87 years old on the side of a busy road. The elderly man was walking from his home to the grocery store.

Reporter: "How have you been fairing during the pandemic?"

Elderly man: "Nothing has changed for me. I am a widower. I live alone. I get no visitors. My family lives very far away. Even without the pandemic, no one would know if I lived or died nor would anyone give a thought to me. I once did great things. I helped build the roads I walk on and the neighborhoods I walk in.

"However, no one cares about that anymore. They pay no never mind while they drive on the roads we built. I had many friends, but they are all gone now. The plague has not really changed my life. It is the same. I am alone."

Reporter: Visibly touched. "Can I drop in on you from time to time?"

Elderly man: "I suppose...but don't come if you feel burdened. Only come because of who I am as a man."

Oh Father, this story broke my heart. This elderly man is just one of so many in similar conditions. I know that there are millions isolated with no one to check on them. They have no one to let them know You love them. There are so many people alone right now. The news is not good. In fact, most of it is now bad. It almost feels as if it would be better to have a physical war. At least these end at some point.

In contrast, the war of words, lies and slander we are currently in are so difficult. Death can occur by a harsh tongue (Proverbs 18:21, James 3:1-12, James 1:26, Proverbs 21:23). Once words are spoken with the tongue out from our lips, these can never be returned. What is said then settles on the heart through the ears of the recipient. The power of life and death comes from the swords of our tongues.

I find myself searching for good these days, but find less and less every day. The steadily increasing wickedness is simply awful. Father, we are drawing closer and closer to hell on Earth. Why is truth so hard for people to swallow? Each day, more and more assaults occur on the innocent. Father, Your people are suffering. Many people are alone and have only doom and gloom from listening to the news.

There is such an uptick in evil and its waves of destruction are visible. It appears that the enemy is winning. Churches are being closed again. Worship songs are being banned in churches because of the virus. Now and soon, physical Bibles are about to or are being removed from the pews, again because of the virus. It is the law.

Oh Father, the Bible is one of our most potent weapons! The Word of God...Your Word...is our Sword and our Shield. How can we confound the enemy without worship and prayer? How can we gather and grow as a church if our rights to gather are removed?

What will happen when only digital Bibles are available? How will it be rewritten for the end user? Truth and history are being cancelled. It is like watching a horror movie with a terrible script. If what has happened in 2020 was released as a movie in the fall of 2019, it would receive '99% Rotten Tomatoes' as being farfetched by their reviewers.

So, this is our reality right now! What is good = evil...what is evil = good. Our country of America was once beautiful. While there were still issues, it was a land where a person could live free. They could speak freely and not worry about harm. People could assemble freely. People could live in relative safety, knowing that if harm came, there would be justice under the law.

Now, though, America has fallen! Freedoms and powers were removed and the land has been given over to those who hate the land and the people. They only care about themselves. Instead of leading selflessly, they have removed the powers of the Office of the President and slandered, lied and toppled anything in defiance of our elected leader of the once free world. Evil has then been made stronger in the process.

When King Rehoboam grew strong, he abandoned the Laws of the Lord (2 Chronicles 12:1). How many times did leaders stand for equality and justice, liberty and freedom? Evil people and those who are trying to take it over now have the following rhetoric...

"The land no longer needs the God of the Bible. God is too constraining. God's rules are hateful. God is trying to remove our right to allow the deaths of babies and our ability to destroy our bodies. He is trying to remove our abilities to freely lie, kill, steal and destroy without consequence. God is governing too harshly. We need to remove those we don't agree with.

"We need to dominate and humiliate anyone opposed to our ways. We want to be free to love how we want and with who or what we want. Anyone opposing our ways should be enslaved or killed. Though we are against slavery, we will make an exception for those who worship this hateful God. If we don't get these changes willingly, we will come with force for you, your family and your homes."

So, where is the liberty, justice and fairness for all? Where is the equality under the law? Where is the 'liberty' these days? What happened to the blindfold of Justice? All of this has fallen and so quickly!

"You grew beautiful and advanced to royalty, the beauty that I gave you, says the Lord, but you trusted in your beauty and played the whore."
Ezekiel 16:13-15.

I never thought that I would see this day arrive. Father, You look at the heart of a man. You see what we don't. You look at the heart. You don't look at outward appearances. You see our hearts.

"The Lord search the heart and test the mind, to give every man according to his ways, according to the fruit of his deeds." Jeremiah 17:10.

There are those who think they can escape God (Psalm 44:21). Would not God discover this? After all, He knows all of the secrets of the heart. Yes, you must guard your heart for it is the wellspring of life.

"For the Word of God is living and active, sharper than any two-edged sword, piercing to the division of soul and of spirit, of joints and of marrow, and discerning the thoughts and intentions of the heart." Hebrew 4:12.

Father, there are bad people of every skin color. There are also good people who love Jesus and they come in every skin shade, every tongue and every type of hair. Please, Father, send and strengthen Your people, those You have called of every nation, skin shade and language. Strengthen and heal us. Please bring together Your people, those with zeal like the sons of Jacob, like King David and like Elijah! Raise us up!

So, Father, my waking hours disturb me. I am mourning what once was, what is now and what is surely coming.

Sub-dream 1 "The Great City of New York is falling" begins...

I heard the voice of a great angel...

Great angel: "The great city of New York is falling. The financial markets are how the world has become wealthy. Her designer clothing, her theaters and parades, her wealthy chambers...in these, she greets the world at the gateway. There she carries a torch and wears a crown on her head. This statue is about to be toppled. Her streets and citadels will become a haunt for jackals.

"No ships will land at her ports of trade. No garments will be woven in her districts. The judgment of God has come. His great program of judgment has come to the city built on an island. They will invade your streets and trample your grounds. They will kill your people. They will plunder your riches and loot your merchandise. They will break down your walls and destroy your pleasant houses.

"Your bricks and mortar, your columns of stone, will be toppled and fall into the sea. God will stop your shows and music and these shall no more be heard. Thus sayeth the Lord God, for He is Lord over all things. Then the coasts shall shake at the sound of your fall, when the wounded groan.

“Then the leaders of the surrounding nations will step down from their thrones and remove their garments. They will clothe themselves in trembling. They will tremble at the sight of this. For this is what the Lord says: ‘I am about to destroy this city and lay it to waste. It will no longer be inhabited. Though you will be sought after, you will never be seen again.’

I then watched in horror as a massive black wave of water, higher than the highest skyscrapers, hurled towards New York City and Manhattan. I heard people screaming in terror. I awoke just before this massive wave hit them.

Sub-dream 1 over...

In contrast to the horror I had just witnessed, I instead woke up from this dream to a peaceful song in my head. It was a song by Crowder that includes the lyric...‘Behold, the Holy Lamb of God takes away our sin.’

After the writing of the above dream down, I felt in my heart that I had read something similar to what I wrote in Scripture. I did not remember where it was though. When I picked up my Bible and opened it, it instantly fell open to Ezekiel 26. To my surprise and delight, it was exactly what I was looking for. This was the Scripture I had remembered to be like the one I had just wrote down. Thank You, Father!

I then remembered a horrible dream I had a few nights ago...

Sub-dream 2 "A Terrorist kills 32 children, including his own daughter" begins...

My husband and I were walking on NW 23rd in NW Portland OR. We were nearing a large barrack looking building near NW Hoyt and NW 23rd. There was a large carnival ride that had its long arms folded in because of health restrictions. It was now set up to be a fun ride for little children ages 3 to 6. There were 16 seats with two occupying each seat. We stopped for a moment to look. The children were so happy...so joyful.

After they loaded the last child, some of them started to wave at us. We waved back to them. We both suddenly felt a strange disturbance. Before we could investigate further, we were called away for a supernatural meeting. The meeting was three blocks away and up an escalator only we could see. The escalator took us to a meeting room that was way above the city. This was obviously divine in nature.

We soon received Word that there was a large explosion where my husband and I had just been walking. We looked down and could see that the entire barrack building had exploded. We were both in shock that we were not allowed to prevent this explosion. The angel holding the meeting could see that we were upset and gave us a message from the Lord...

Angel: "Do not worry for they are already here in Heaven, all 32 of the children, as well as their parents, with the exception of the parent of one of the children."

The angel then showed all of us a vision of a small child with an innocent looking ladybug backpack. It had been packed full of explosives by her father. He detonated this from a distance and was not affected by the explosion. He had a sinister smile on his face after the explosion. He clearly had no regard for the people killed, even for his own daughter. It was difficult to understand.

Angel: "Do not worry as you will now be sent by God to remove the threat of the enemy."

While my husband and I were still upset, we trusted in God completely and were both ready to follow God's next commands. The angel then came up to us individually with further information, showing us another vision...

Angel: "These surveillance cameras picked up photos of you both prior to the bombing. God has removed this footage as this would have otherwise been used as a basis for a campaign by the enemy against you. You would have then been falsely accused as being responsible for doing this."

We thanked the Lord for once again keeping us from 'great troubles'! We were then given an assignment. We were eager to continue our work for Jesus, the Ultimate Leader, our Great Savior!

Sub-dream 2 over...

Father, You must have a plan in place. I am so worried for so many. Please come to help us. Please! Psalm 43 is my personal mantle right now. However, Father, Psalm 44 is for Your people. Please don't forget us. Please save us. Please strengthen us. Please heal us and equip us for what is soon to come...in Jesus' Mighty Name, Amen!

Jesus: "Erin, come up."

I was walking on a beautiful path. It was beautifully lush and vivid. I stopped, sat down and started to cry. I placed my head in my crossed arms right there in the middle of the path. I was then reminded of how Ezekiel 26:20 is a word of comfort right in the middle of so many warnings...'But I will set beauty in the land of the living!' Oh Father, it is so beautiful here! Everything here is perfect and beautiful. I continued to cry. I soon felt a hand on my head and looked up...

Jesus: "I am here, Erin. I am with you. I am always where you are. I see all that has happened. I have not forgotten you. Do not be afraid. I am not finished. While you think I am inactive based on what you see as my inaction, I can assure you that I see all things. I do not participate in evil. Erin, I raised you and those I have called for such a time as this. This is the time of 'Great Separation'.

"There is a war in the heavens above you that you cannot see in the physical. You were shown that this war was coming years ago. You also witnessed the 'book of blasphemies' against the Lord. This is the opposite of the Book of Life. You were strong enough to defeat the serpent at the ladder with the Sword of Truth.

"You are now witnessing the result of men and women overtaken by demons and used as weapons over the people of the nations. While it was subtle at first, it is now more graphic. However, most who are unaccustomed to these displays are in shock and denial."

Me: "Is this the separation of the sheep from the goats?"

Jesus: "No. Think of this as more of a display of the separation of the sheep from the wolves. What you are witnessing are hungry wolves overtaking the sheep and other weak prey primed for devouring. I have allowed this because I am testing the hearts of men. It is a test prior to judgment."

Me: "But, Lord, hasn't judgment already come?"

Jesus: "No. This is a public display of permission to reveal the true hearts of those in rebellion. Those who do not entertain evil and are able to pray for discernment and wisdom are then shown this truth, even when they do not like this truth. Those who pray and stand against this wave of evil and do not join it will then be protected. As for those who listen to lies and choose to believe these lies over truth will have their wisdom removed."

Me: "Ah, yes...is this similar to 'wisdom will be proven right by her actions'...as written in Proverbs?"

Jesus: "Yes. Now, Erin, I know that you are distraught and grieving. However, you have taught your children that My Word, My Truth, is a Lamp to their feet and a Light to their path. This is Good News. In contrast, the sons of rebellion operate in darkness, in the shadow of the prince of perdition. Do not fall into their traps as these are the paths, the ways, to Sheol. Erin, I just gave you a dream of what is to come to the largest city in the land. However, you are to know that this is for later, not now."

Me: "But, Lord, is New York City not already falling? Has it not already fallen?"

Jesus: "No, Erin, not yet...it is not time. Many, many will leave first. What you are witnessing there today are the beginnings of troubles. You are seeing the fruits of the spirit of rebellion in places that have sewn evil.

"Let us also speak about any small children that are destroyed by evil. Erin, they are instantly here with Me. When they come here, they then nap with baby animals in the arms of angels. They no longer have fear or threat. Their mantel is one of peace here. They laugh and have such great joy here!"

Me: Crying with happiness at the news. "Oh Lord, thank You! Thank You!"

Jesus: "Now, Erin, you must remember that there is no one, not one, who is beyond My reach. However, not all who I reach out and call turn to Me. Their hatred consumes them. Bitterness follows them and they are unable to release this. I am the Light of the world to those who walk in darkness. However, many prefer to remain where nothing is required of them. If only they would take My hand. I would then lead them out of darkness and into My Light of Salvation.”

Me: “This is so sad. Who then are the sheep and the goats?”

Jesus: “I am the Shepherd and I take care of My sheep. When I call, they come. When they cry out, I will rescue them.”

Me: “Baaaaaa!” I tried my best to sound like a sheep calling out. I was laughing.

Jesus: Laughing. “Yes, but I need you to know that you are more than this. You are not just part of a flock. You are My Bride. This is different. As for the goats, they like to hang around the sheep and deceive the flock. Goats are headstrong. As they are independent and self-reliant, they have no need for a shepherd. They also love to climb hills and are lofty. They then enjoy their ‘elevation’. While they are still useful to Me, they have no use for Me.”

Me: “That was a great description! Thank You, Lord.”

Jesus: “I could speak for days about goats as, in your lifetime, you have met many. You will soon be a very coarse topic for goats. Those who are goats will proclaim many miracles they have performed on behalf of Me. They will speak of themselves even in third person...” He smiled at me. “...and will do so ‘ad nauseam’! They will use five words to say what could have been said in just one word.

“Even though they are far removed from Me, they will be eloquent with their persuasive tongues. They stand on their pulpits on Sunday and declare that they themselves have beaten cancer, giving no mention to the God Who had mercy on them. For those who feel they can save themselves from cancer aside from Me will surely have no need for an actual Savior...Me.” He shook His head.

“Erin, you will shake up and infuriate the goats as the sheep are gathered unto Me. You will be hated because of Me. However, many more will be saved because I sent you. Now, let’s gather some sheep! As for the goats, ‘goats will be goats’.

“Oh yes...do not worry about those who are in isolation like the elderly gentleman you recently saw in the news story. I have a heart for those in isolation. I still reach out to those who are lonely. Do not worry as many of them will be called. Now, come, let us have some joy!”

Me: “Yes, Lord! Let us leave the world behind!”

Jesus: Laughing. “Oh no, Erin, I won’t do that.” He then smiled. “It is time for some remodeling though. This I can do. However, for now, we will work on some changes. Come!”

I reached for His hand and we continued down the beautiful path.

Sonho 423 - O Julgamento da Califórnia Está Chegando

Recebido em Domingo, 19 de julho de 2020

Comunhão

Querido pai,

Estamos sob ataque! Proteja nossa casa, nossas comunicações, nossa eletricidade e nosso encanamento. Por favor, proteja nossos veículos. Por favor, proteja nossas vidas. Pai, seu site é a nossa 'igreja cibernética'. É uma comunidade de Sua Noiva e Observadores. Por favor, proteja-nos e mantenha-nos longe de danos. A cada dia, o reino demoníaco está se tornando mais visível. É ao ponto que agora estou bastante desconfortável por viajar sozinha para a cidade.

Enquanto meu marido trabalhava no sonho postado ontem, eu e minha filha fomos para a cidade juntas. Então eu entrei em uma pequena loja de usados que eu gosto de visitar. Quaisquer vendas vai para o cuidado de idosos. Conheço a maioria dos voluntários lá e eles geralmente são atraentes e gentis.

Eu raramente paro lá aos sábados, a menos que seja muito tarde. A parada de ontem começou por volta das 15h30. Quando olhei para o gerente, ela parecia bastante chateada. Eu rapidamente percebi que havia algumas 'pessoas problemáticas' causando perturbações. Eu rapidamente me concentrei em uma menina de 8 ou 9 anos de idade. Enquanto ela parecia normal na superfície, ela logo começou a mostrar um comportamento estranho.

Havia uma seção para bonecas vintage. Eu vi quando ela pegou uma das bonecas e arrancou a cabeça dela. Quando uma balconista próxima perguntou por que ela havia feito isso, ela indicou que havia encontrado a boneca dessa maneira. Isso era uma mentira total.

Enquanto essa garota era muito fofa, você ainda podia sentir uma presença maligna ao seu redor. Por sua vez, esse mal parecia permear toda a loja. A atmosfera era bastante densa. Um forte sentimento escuro tomou conta de lá.

Havia também outras pessoas mais velhas que tinham a mesma presença maligna ao seu redor. Fui até o gerente.

Eu: "Você está bem?"

Gerente: "Não. O elemento aqui não é bom hoje. A garotinha ali e sua mãe já foram banidas da loja. No entanto, a menina está de volta hoje, mas ela está com outra pessoa neste momento. Ela já destruiu vários itens.

Eu: "Eu vou ficar aqui para testemunhar com você."

Gerente: "Vou enfrentá-los agora. Todos nós poderíamos perder nossas posições aqui se eu permitir isso dessa garota novamente.

Ela então caminhou até um homem muito alto. Ele tinha a cabeça careca e um tom visivelmente cinza na pele. Sua pele era de cor semelhante à pele de um elefante. Ele ficou em torno de 1.8 metros".

Gerente: "Com quem está essa garotinha?" Ela apontou para a garotinha.

Homem alto: "Ela está comigo."

Gerente: "Você deve estar com ela o tempo todo. Enquanto sua mãe já foi informada disso, você agora está de volta aqui com ela.

A menina estava agora escondida debaixo de uma mesa de porcelana cara da França. Também havia porcelana de Limoges ... extremamente valiosa ... linda com flores de lavanda. Enquanto a garota se contorcia debaixo da mesa, a porcelana acima começou a chacoalhar e tremer.

Homem alto: "Sim, eu ouvi você."

Embora a porcelana continuasse a chacoalhar, ele não fez nada para impedir a menininha. Em vez disso, ele se virou e continuou ignorando os desejos do gerente.

Gerente: "Você realmente me ouviu? Por favor, senhor, se você não conseguir mantê-la com você, teremos que pedir a ambos para sair.

Homem alto: "Claro, não há problema."

Ele novamente não fez nada. Vários outros voluntários vieram então. Eu ia dizer algo para ele, mas o Espírito Santo imediatamente me disse para me afastar. Depois fui para uma sala diferente onde estava minha filha.

Ao olhar em volta, percebi que havia várias pessoas que pareciam ser do carnaval que acabavam de chegar à cidade. Talvez eles tivessem se unido e estavam roubando. Digo isso porque exatamente isso aconteceu comigo quando eu possuía uma loja no Oregon.

Foi assim que aconteceu no dia em que minha loja estava em Oregon. Várias famílias viajaram juntas e se uniram para uma onda de crimes. Um casal inicialmente examinava a loja para descobrir seu inventário. Eles então contariam o número de funcionários para avaliar como seria fácil saquear.

Felizmente, no meu caso, a polícia havia avisado todas as empresas que esse grupo estava vindo da rodovia, I-5.

Fomos informados de que esse grupo consistia em cerca de 40 a 50 membros da família. Eles tinham acabado de roubar na cidade de Salem, Oregon e a polícia acreditava que a cidade lago Oswego no estado do Oregon seria a próxima. Isso foi assustador para mim, porque eu já estava avançada na gravidez do meu filho mais novo. Era julho de 1999 e ele nasceria em agosto. Nesse dia em particular, havia apenas eu e um outro funcionário.

Recebi o temido telefonema de uma amiga que possuía uma loja na rua que ela acabara de ser roubada. Eu estava agora em alerta máximo. Alguns minutos depois, um homem e uma mulher entraram na minha loja. Já sabendo o que fazer, eu poderia dizer que eles estavam estudando a loja. Eu andei casualmente até o casal, escondendo o meu olhar suspeito.

Eu: "Com licença, mas eu poderia ajudá-lo?"

Mulher: Com um forte sotaque. "Você tem coisas muito legais. Você negocia preços?"

Eu: "Não. Já temos uma venda desses itens e eles têm o preço marcado."

Mulher: "Ótimo. Nós já voltamos."

O homem e a mulher deixaram a loja. Assim que saíram, colocamos as placas fechadas e trancamos as portas da frente e de trás. Eu tinha portas de cabana, por isso era necessário trancar as portas inferior e superior.

Felizmente, eu já havia trazido para dentro as nossas exposições externas no início do dia, antecipando essa possível invasão. Em seguida, desligamos todas as luzes e nossa música.

Várias vans, de repente, pararam na minha loja. Agora famílias inteiras haviam saído das vans para entrar. Eles tentaram a porta, mas descobriram que ela agora estava trancada. Eu podia ouvir as portas sendo sacudidas de raiva. Logo ouvi um tremor semelhante vindo da porta nos fundos.

Homem: Gritando de raiva. "Ei, nós sabemos que você está aberta. Deixe-nos entrar."

Felizmente, estávamos ao lado do quartel dos bombeiros. Um grupo de bombeiros havia chegado em nosso socorro. Eu podia ouvi-los dizendo a esse grupo para deixar a área. Eu podia ouvir gritos e gritos quando eles partiram. No final, eles só conseguiram atingir uma das várias lojas na área em que minha loja estava. O Senhor teve piedade de mim e minha loja foi poupada de qualquer dano. Agora eu precisava do Sábado para compensar nossa falta de vendas.

Bem, foi exatamente isso que aconteceu! Aqui estava eu, grávida de 8 meses, e a loja estava cheia de clientes pagantes, todos educados e felizes. Seria um ótimo dia. Pai, você abriu as comportas para mim. Tivemos vendas recorde naquele dia. Todos os meus clientes regulares vieram, alguns até com seus maridos.

"O dia dos saqueadores" está agora no meu passado. No entanto, para essas mulheres da loja de usados de ontem, ainda estava ocorrendo. O gerente havia voltado e ela balançava a cabeça em frustração. Felizmente, o homem alto e a garota haviam partido agora. Houve danos, mas não tanto quanto nos tempos anteriores. Fui confortar o gerente. Ela estava agora com um dos outros funcionários.

Eu: “Sinto muito que isso esteja acontecendo com você hoje. Que multidão difícil!

Gerente: “Oh, é horrível. As pessoas estão roubando e não há absolutamente nada que possamos fazer sobre isso no momento.”

Funcionário: “É literalmente como os portões do inferno se abriram. Nunca foi assim antes.”

Eu: “Uau, é uma nova baixa quando as pessoas roubam de uma pequena loja de itens usados que devem beneficiar os idosos e os doentes terminais.”

Então fiquei fora do alcance da voz e comecei a orar no Espírito. Eu achava que isso era necessário para impedir que fossem subjugados pela presença do mal. Depois disso, minha filha e eu fomos embora. Uma vez na segurança do nosso carro, eu não podia mais sentir o mal. Tudo estava normal novamente e a atmosfera agora estava clara e arejada.

Pai, estou vendo as forças inimigas sendo encorajadas. Parece que o mal está vencendo. Por favor, proteja todos nós até o Grande e Terrível Dia do Senhor. Eu tive um sonho incrível ontem à noite. Enquanto o sonho foi 'Ótimo' para nós, foi 'Terrível' para os outros. Foi tão longo e detalhado que achei que valia a pena postar como seu próprio sonho separado.

Sub-sonho 1 “O Julgamento da Califórnia Está Por Vir”

Meu marido e eu estávamos em algum lugar perto do Parque Estadual chamado Big Sur/Julia Pfeiffer, na Califórnia. Havia muitos turistas lá. Estávamos em uma bela propriedade em que nunca estive, mas isso já existia nos meus sonhos. Este não era um lugar que pudéssemos pagar no momento ou que pensássemos em ficar. O lugar era uma bela propriedade toscana de pedra, nos arredores da cidade de Carmel.

A propriedade não tinha vista para o oceano, pois estava situada nas belas colinas. Essa propriedade parecia o céu, no entanto. Havia belos caminhos de pedra com flores e características da água. Vimos cavalos musculosos correndo em um belo pasto. O tempo estava perfeito. Em resumo, foi um dia incrível.

Estávamos lá para um grande casamento, mas ainda não tínhamos certeza de que capacidade. Ao escrever isso, disseram-me para observar especificamente que o dia neste sub-sonho era atualmente uma sexta-feira e que este era o dia antes do Grande Casamento. Como não havia mais nada a fazer senão esperar, meu marido e eu decidimos sair para uma aventura na costa. Em particular, fomos de carro ao Parque Estadual Julia Pfeiffer.

Quando chegamos, havia pessoas se divertindo e as coisas pareciam normais. Fazia um belo dia de sol e a maré estava baixa. Havia famílias lá. O elemento então começou a mudar. De repente, vários jovens casais começaram a fazer sexo na praia completamente ao ar livre. Outros logo se juntaram. Incapaz de protestar devido ao clima político na Califórnia, os pais reuniram seus filhos e foram embora o mais rápido que puderam.

Pouco antes de uma família poder partir, um casal envolvido no pecado se aproximou deles. O casal então se ofereceu para pagar US$ 1.000 para fazer sexo com a filha de 14 anos. Embora eu pudesse dizer que a família não queria fazer isso, também podia dizer que eles foram tentados por serem muito pobres.

Antes que a família pudesse responder, o meu marido interveio para interromper a possível transação. O casal maligno xingou e depois se afastou.

Por orientação do Senhor, meu marido foi instruído a dar-lhes US$ 2.000 em dinheiro. O dinheiro apareceu "do nada" e ele o entregou ao homem.

O Senhor então deu a meu marido uma mensagem para ele e sua esposa.

Meu marido: "Você deve deixar esta área imediatamente. Afaste-se da costa o mais rápido possível e não olhe para trás.

A família de cinco pessoas rapidamente entrou no carro e saiu. Enquanto outros que optaram por não fazer parte da cena também saíram, alguns decidiram ficar e apreciar a exibição nojenta do alto dos penhascos. Quando meu marido e eu também estávamos prestes a partir, um anjo do Senhor se aproximou de nós.

Anjo: "Deus entregou esta região ao seu pecado. Sua mão de misericórdia foi removida.

Eu: "Oh não! Eu amo a beleza desta terra. Eu cresci aqui na Califórnia. Dói meu coração ver isso.

Anjo: "Não se preocupe Erin, pois Deus restaurará sua beleza um dia. No entanto, e como você pode ver, essa é uma grande abominação agora. Quando você vai para o sul, torna-se perverso. Conforme você vai para o norte, fica pior. A terra foi entregue aos seus pecadores. Em toda a sua beleza, esplendor e riqueza, suas belas vinhas e grandes luxos, ainda é impuro.

"Enquanto os sem-teto e os insanos agora podem ficar lá em resorts de cinco estrelas de graça, suas famílias trabalhadoras, sobrecarregadas de impostos, acham difícil até continuar pagando suas dívidas. Este é um lugar onde qualquer pessoa que fale contra qualquer pecado, conforme descrito na

Bíblia, é trazida para a praça pública. Eles são então envergonhados e espancados até a morte e ninguém que participa disso está arrependido.

"Este é um lugar onde os ricos e os ricos ostentam suas riquezas e se prostituem abertamente a quem quiserem, sem conseqüências. Este é um lugar onde um homem pode ter relações com meninos sem medo de condenação. Este é um lugar onde um bom dinheiro é pago para injetar coisas em seus rostos e tentar remover qualquer indício de idade.

"Este é um lugar onde homens e mulheres podem fazer livremente o que quiserem, deixando de prestar contas a ninguém. Este é um lugar onde alguém pode subir e roubar o que você tem e não cumprir nenhuma sentença. Este é um lugar onde alguém defeca na calçada a céu aberto e é elogiado por sua 'obra de arte'. Este é um lugar onde os ladrões podem entrar e pegar o que querem sem conseqüências. Este é um lugar onde alguém que fala em nome da verdade é destruído."

Eu: "Para onde foi a Califórnia?"

Anjo: "Ele se vendeu ao mal. Deus então vai remodelá-la, reconfigurá-la, e restaurá-la."

Meu marido: "Agora? E quanto ao grande casamento de amanhã?"

Anjo: "Isso não afetará o casamento, o vinho ou os cavalos. No entanto, você verá a destruição dos iníquos lá. Quem é aqueles que habitam em grandeza? Que terra é igual a essa terra? Este lugar é poderoso em suas antigas sequóias e cedros. Este lugar é poderoso em suas belas montanhas e cachoeiras. Este lugar é poderoso em seus rios, rios que carregavam ouro e prata de suas profundezas.

"O que é igual a essa terra que produz todas as frutas e legumes, azeitonas e alho? Que terra é assim ... uma terra como o Jardim do Éden? De quem são as margens tão vastas e cujas cidades são tão bonitas? Esta terra foi abençoada por Deus e os homens morreram por ela. É por isso que eles morreram?"

O anjo virou-se e apontou para as centenas de turistas agora contaminando a praia, nus e em plena exibição dos viajantes que os observavam de cima. Todos eles estavam cheios de pensamentos ruins. Nenhum deles sequer pensou em Deus.

Eu: "Oh anjo, meu estômago está doente!"

Angel: "Sim, Erin, é difícil ver os ímpios bem-sucedidos. Em breve haverá o som de uma trombeta. Quando isso ocorre, o mar recua ao reunir grande força. A água das cachoeiras retrocede, pois até a água clama ao Senhor e entende o tempo. Mesmo com isso, o abominável está tão focado em sua gratificação pessoal que se espalhará ainda mais e não perceberá o que está prestes a ocorrer.

De repente, ouvimos o som de um shofar e sabíamos que os problemas haviam chegado à Califórnia. Tivemos então uma visão de tudo o que estava por vir, tudo em um tipo de lapso de tempo que fez parecer que tudo aconteceu em minutos.

Vimos relâmpagos atingindo a terra. Os incêndios se acenderam e se espalharam rapidamente através de um grande vento. Uma onda enorme veio então. Vimos então os deslizamentos de terra que vieram das chuvas sem parar.

Um terremoto catastrófico começou a sacudir a terra. Este terremoto foi tão poderoso que elevou as planícies e nivelou as montanhas. Penhascos inteiros estavam caindo no mar. Este terremoto deu origem a outra onda e depois a mais deslizamentos de terra. Era tão difícil de imaginar quanto de ver. Deus falou. O julgamento de Deus foi uma destruição na Califórnia.

Vimos então uma vista aérea de São Francisco. Estava sendo chamuscado por incêndios iniciados por vazamentos de gás. As áreas da cidade foram tão baixas que houve até inundações do oceano. Fui então ampliada para Los Angeles. A mesma coisa estava acontecendo lá. Casas de luxo deslizavam para o mar. O mundo olhou horrorizado.

Angel: “Enquanto muitos outros eventos também serão enviados para a Califórnia como punição, isso é suficiente para você ver por enquanto. É hora de você ir. Lembre-se de que, se Deus não intervisse, o que seria visível seria tão abominável, quem poderia esquecê-lo? Erin, esse mal não é facilmente esquecido da memória.

Meu marido e eu sabíamos que agora era hora de voltarmos à propriedade. Assim que demos as mãos e oramos para voltar lá, voltamos instantaneamente. No entanto, houve uma reviravolta interessante. Não parecia mais que a propriedade estivesse na Califórnia. Em vez disso, parecia agora estar no céu.

Meu marido e eu agora éramos observadores. Ainda era sexta-feira e havia um grande banquete em comemoração ao Grande Casamento, que aconteceria no dia seguinte. As pessoas de famílias e amigos que amavam o Senhor já estavam no céu.

Foi de repente na manhã seguinte ... a manhã do sábado. Havia uma grande assembléia formada pelas mesmas pessoas da noite anterior, mas agora eles estavam esperando a Grande Cerimônia de Casamento começar!

Eles estavam esperando o noivo chegar com sua grande assembléia. Também pudemos ver que havia também muita música e aplausos para cumprimentar todos nós. A alegria estava no ar a tal ponto que realmente não há comparação terrena. A emoção preencheu todas as células do nosso corpo.

Sub-sonho 1 acabou.

Obrigado por este sonho, Pai. Embora ainda seja um mistério para mim como tudo isso se desenrolará, apenas sei que você tem um plano grande e perfeito.

Obrigado por passar o tempo nos ensinando. Estaríamos tão perdidos sem Seus ensinamentos pacientes! Obrigado senhor! Nós apenas amamos você de todo o coração e mal podemos esperar para servi-Lo em uma capacidade maior. Nós estamos esperando a tua cura sobre nós e as Suas bênçãos!

Dream 424 – Jesus reveals a surprise at the Seven Pools

Received on Sunday, July 26, 2020

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day here! Thank You for protecting us and keeping all of my children safe. My dreams at night are difficult at times. I sometimes will even wake up slightly nauseated from what I have been shown. I had a dream three nights ago...

Sub-dream 1 “A Picker has his perspective healed”

I was now Transformed. I was walking down an aisle in a thrift store called ‘Plunder’. The store contained personal items that people had traded for essentials. I just know that the items there were a lot more valuable than what they had received from the Trader. Instead of money, people that traded things in now received vouchers for food and medicine.

I was there to buy up items to return to some of the families that really did not want to trade these things in, but had to for survival. I was not concerned about cost as the Lord was constantly supplying what we needed in any given circumstance. We were being fed like Sparrows, but in the way only God can.

As I walked through aisles of metal storage racks on wheels, I noticed that two items on one of the racks were highlighted. As I was about to reach for one of the two items, the more valuable item, a man’s voice called out to me. I recognized this voice as being one of the local pickers I have run into many times.

The Picker then tapped me on my right shoulder. As I turned to my right, he reached in from my left side and took one of the two items. It was the less valuable of the two items. This was clever and a diversion theft. What he still didn’t realize was that I was actually after the second of the two items.

Picker: In a mocking tone. “Ha! Well, servant of God, it seems like you missed the very rare item right there in front of you!”

He held up the item he had just retrieved. It was a very unusual Chintz elephant figurine with ivory tusks from the 1800s. I simply nodded my head towards him as I picked up the second item, the truly valuable one. It was a stained-glass triptych of Jesus. There were three panels...one of Jesus at His birth, another of Him on the Cross and another of Him at His Resurrection.

I then saw a second triptych of Jesus. Once again, there were three panels...one of Jesus turning water into wine at the wedding, another of Him raising Lazarus and another of Him walking on water. Since the second triptych was closer to the Picker and since he already knew it must be valuable since I put the first one in my cart, he hastily grabbed it and put it into his cart. I knew the Lord was doing this for a reason.

Me: Smiling. "Oh, aren't you clever...and so fast with your hands. However, please understand that this item you now possess is truly more valuable than anything in here."

Picker: Looking confused. He held up the Chintz elephant. "Even more than this?"

Me: "You clearly cannot see what is right there in front of you."

Before I could say anything else, I heard the Voice of the Lord in my head: "Erin, pray for this man and heal him of his iniquities... in My Name."

I raised my hand and started to pray over the man. He looked worried at first, thinking perhaps I was going to strike him. He relaxed once he could tell what I was doing. He had a scoffing look on his face, but this soon disappeared...and for good reason. The man instantly lost weight and gained a full head of hair. His clothing became brand new and fit his new physique perfectly.

Picker: "My eyes... my eyes! My eyesight is healed. I am sorry. I am sorry that I have mocked you. I mocked Jesus. I was following you to harm you and to steal from you. I am so sorry."

Me: "You must understand that this is not me healing you. Jesus is the One Who healed you, the One Who sent me to give you the Good News about His miracles. His gift of salvation is free and it is more valuable than anything on Earth. Will you take His gift...His free gift of salvation...now?"

Picker: Looking terrified. "But I will be killed. You are giving me a death sentence."

Me: "Jesus is offering you an eternal life sentence in Heaven. All of those who love Him will receive a beautiful Home that He has prepared. While death is certain here, eternal life is certain there."

Picker: "Okay, okay, okay! However, can I keep this quiet? Yes, I accept Him. But I am evil. Why would He want me? Why would He forgive me?" Just then, the Trader yelled at us.

Trader: "Hey, you two... you are taking too much time. Others are waiting to come in."

Something amazing then happened. To the Trader and in the natural, it looked as if we both had returned to looking over the racks. However, in the supernatural, the Picker was now communicating with an angel of God.

I was somehow able to see both at the same time and I just shook my head in amazement. Truly, our God has no limitations.

I waited there while the angel finished speaking with the Picker. Though I was curious, I could not hear what was being said to the Picker. Once the angel finished, the Picker looked at me. In an instant, his entire face had changed. While he now had joy, he now also had the Holy Spirit.

It was an amazing transition and so fun to witness.

Picker: "Thank you!"

Me: I smiled a big smile. "We will celebrate more together one day soon."

Picker: "I have something for you." He reached into his basket and pulled out the triptych of Jesus' miracles. "Here, this belongs to someone else."

He smiled. "I already know all this. The angel took me to see all of that in a vision. I had never read a Bible." He then reached in and took out the little Chintz elephant. "This is for you as well."

While I now wanted him to keep these items, I felt the Lord nudge me to accept them. This act of generosity was to be healing for the Picker.

Me: "That is so sweet! Thank you. God is good, right?"

Picker: "No one will recognize me. It is time for a fresh start."

Trader: Yelling at us. "Come on, you idiots, let's go!"

We laughed as we walked up to the counter. We then parted ways. After loading up my merchandise into the car, I sat down and had a conversation with Jesus.

Me: "Wow, You amaze me, Lord. While the man appeared to be looking at the merchandise in the natural, You actually took him up to an educational Bible teaching of Your miracles in the supernatural. You are awesome! Does Your love ever end? I learn more and more about You every day."

Jesus: "Thank you, Erin. I am the same yesterday, today and tomorrow, yet My miracles are new every day."

Sub-dream 1 over

I awoke suddenly to a massive thunderstorm. It was around 5:30am. The winds were fierce and hail and rained just pounded us for about an hour. It was humbling. When God-sized phenomena comes, you realize just how very small we are. I soon fell asleep again and had another dream.

Sub-dream 2 "Vile lips are taped shut"

I was at a counter at a Starbucks. Several customers were speaking horribly about people who voted for President Trump. One man began to rant about Christians and how they needed to be destroyed. Those around him agreed with him. As I reached for my iced tea, I prayed to God that He would stop their evil speaking.

More specifically, I asked the Lord if He would send tape to close their vile lips. I then saw small squares of film dropping from the ceiling onto the lips of all who were participating in the cursing. This soon rendered them speechless. They looked absolutely terrified. The Lord gave me the words to address them.

Me: "Be careful of the lies and words that pour from your lips. This soon becomes a heart condition of hate. Those pesky Christians are not the problem. Check those with cursed tongues and lips instead."

They were now all panicking. While a couple of them wanted to harm me, they were supernaturally kept away from me. I felt such peace from the Lord. As I walked out of the Starbucks, I spoke with Him.

Me: In private. "Lord, how long will they stay this way?"

The Voice of Jesus (also in private): "Hmm, I think a little while. Perhaps a few days."

Me: "Thanks, Lord. That was so much fun."

Sub-dream 2 over

I then had a mysterious dream just last night...

Sub-dream 3 "The first day and the eighth day"

There were a small number of us gathered around a campfire. Jesus was with us and was sitting on a very large rock. We had been asking Him questions and He was giving us instructions and knowledge about hidden things. At one point, He said to us, while using His outer right hand to contact the inner palm of His left hand twice...

Jesus: "The first day and the eighth day are the same on a calendar. However, the eighth day is special as it is when the old skins are removed and My glory is revealed. Things previously unclean are then made pure.

However, and even more so, those hearts that were previously downtrodden will then be lifted up. The old will be rolled back as with a stone in front of a tomb. The tombstone was removed and it was revealed that I had risen. This was a glorious day. A new circumcision is coming... the eighth day...a seal and a covenant."

Sub-dream 3 over

Please help us, Father! The nations are in an uproar. Christians are being persecuted and murdered all over the world. Cathedrals in France are being set on fire. There is a systematic assault on all of Your people. Please, Father, rise up and make this the day of Great Change! We love You!

Jesus: "Erin, come up."

I was once again on a beautiful path with lush greenery and so many trees. It was perfect and so fragrant. I heard the sound of a waterfall nearby and decided to follow the sound through the trees. I soon came to a clearing. I was back at the seven pools with the waterfalls! However, I had come from a different side this time. The water was clear and pure light blue in color.

I could see stones in the bottom of the area I was standing in. More specifically, I was standing where the waterfall from the third pool spilled into the fourth pool. The stones were shining like faceted cut jewels. There were rubies, sapphires and emeralds. Since these stones were 'the real thing', they looked beautiful and natural... every bit a part of this supernatural landscape.

As I was gazing at the pool, a rock skipped in the water right in front of me. The surface of the water then changed with the ripples. I looked over at where the stone must have come from. There was Jesus. He was laughing and waving for me to come down to the seventh pool, the largest of the pools.

I ran to Him. I was so glad to be here. Jesus hugged me and handed me a stone. The stone was a polished ruby, perfect for skipping. I laughed as He smiled at me.

Jesus: "Let's see if you can still skip rocks in the pools."

I decided to use a side arm technique. The ruby made one skip, but then just plopped down into the water. It made a huge splash for such a small stone.

Me: "Oops! Can I try that again?"

Jesus: "Sure, go ahead. However, I want you to send that stone skipping through each pool this time."

He then touched my right arm as He handed me another stone. This time it appeared to be a blue sapphire. This stone was heavier than the red ruby I had first thrown. While it would be impossible to skip a stone like this on Earth, I was determined to skip this stone here in Heaven.

Jesus: "You can see where you would like this stone to skip. However, do not look at the first pool only. Look at each one and its sequence, understand?"

Me: "I think so."

Jesus: "Have faith, Erin. I am right here."

Me: "But it seems impossible."

Jesus: "Yes, it does... from a worldly perspective. However, I am here, Erin, so go ahead now."

I had trouble visualizing beyond the fourth pool. I wound up my arm and released the blue sapphire. It skipped in the first pool, then the second pool and then the third pool. However, it then landed in the fourth pool with a massive splash and ensuing ripple.

Me: "Oops! Can I do this one more time, Lord?"

Jesus: Laughing. "Of course."

He handed me a beautiful white opal. It was so large that I laughed when He put it in My hand. He then touched my right arm again.

Jesus: Smiling. "You can do this, Erin. I am here with you."

Me: "Okay, Lord!"

I knew that God was giving me a huge task here, but I also knew that it was possible since He would not purposely set me up for failure. He was smiling at me as He listened to my thoughts. I looked around the area to study it. I saw a large boulder. I climbed on top of it to get a better view of my surrounding area. It was a better view than when I was on ground level.

I climbed back down and decided to run up to the very first pool. I looked down to see the path I needed to take. When I arrived at the highest pool, the bottom of the pool shined like diamonds in the sun. It took my breath away. I then turned to look at Jesus. He had a smile on His face as He waved over for me to study each pool. To my surprise, I counted eight pools! There was a new pool...an eighth pool!

I was excited. It was as if I had something new to share with Jesus. Of course, He already knew the eighth pool was there as He created it, but this didn't stop me from thinking I could surprise Him with this revelation.

He smiled as I came to Him. I cried as I hugged Him.

Jesus: "Erin, you are to have laughter and joy here, not tears."

Me: "Lord, I love You. Your children...Your Bride...loves You. Lord, please show me how to skip this stone."

Jesus: "One more, Erin. This one will cause ripples."

Jesus touched my right arm again. Having seen and surveyed the landscape, I knew exactly where this white opal was to go. I released it and the stone skipped effortlessly uphill into all seven pools. It then landed in the eighth pool...or the first pool, depending on your perspective. I jumped up and down in excitement. When Jesus reached for my hand, we were instantly at the eighth pool, above all of the others. There were still ripples in all eight of the pools.

Jesus: "Erin, you will create waves of disruption. You will also administer waves of healing. Small ripples can be far-reaching. While you have created small ripples, you will soon create quite a wave. You will be both hated and loved because of Me. Change creates hostility when evil has continued unchecked. Since I will be with you, you will defeat your enemies by your presence.

“I am about to reveal My Glory in a way the world is not expecting. While the world is not expecting this, the enemy is fully aware that the Kingdom of Heaven is near. While evil has increased in these days, you are not to be afraid. You must look at all things from the perspective of Heaven, including the eighth pool...” He smiled and chuckled as He nudged me. “...or the first pool. Now, are you ready?”

Me: “Yes, Lord, please!”

Jesus: Smiling. “Wisdom is proved right by her actions. Come, there is more to do.” He reached for my hand.

Dream 425 – A Weary Bride is Transformed into a Masterpiece

Received on Tuesday, August 4, 2020

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day! Thank You for Your amazing love and care. I had quite the milestone recently...

My doctor phoned me from Seattle after spending time reviewing my case with other surgeons. My only worldly option now is surgery. However, it would be an extremely difficult and risky operation. It would involve several pins and screws from C1 – C2 – C3, C6 – C7 and C8 – T1. The surgeon would go into the back of my neck. I would then be in greater pain in recovery vs going through the front of my neck.

After discussing the odds of whether this would end up being better or worse for me, I decided to decline the surgery. If I proceed, I will be unable to have my head looking downwards or upwards for several weeks. I would also be basically completely out of commission for the first few weeks. I felt strongly in my Spirit that I was to say no to this surgery. Still, this was not an easy decision as I now have to accept my current station.

I have to now accept that, as I am now, is likely what my future will look like. Will I continue to decline in health, Father? This can't be Your Will? Still, I press on in faith that one day soon I will see Your great miracle and that all of my injuries will be instantly healed. Based on Your promises You have made to us for here, I gratefully know that these miracles will happen on this side of Heaven as well.

I had a vivid dream last night / this morning. It was amazing. Before continuing, I want to note that the times mentioned in this dream were the times in the dream, not in a wakened reality.

Sub-dream 1 "A church is rebuilt from the ground up"

It was in the early hours of the morning after I had decided to take a drive to my local church. While standing in the parking lot looking over the building, You began to speak clearly to me.

God: "Erin, the Church is unprepared to receive the harvest. It is too small. Pull out the stakes and stretch out the tent."

As I stood there, God then downloaded a vision into me. I was then able to see what He was going to soon do. He showed me the foundation.

He then showed me where He desired it to go. He showed me the walls of the sanctuary. He showed me a small chapel with a great wooden beam that He called the 'Upper Prayer Room'. He showed me the lofted ceilings, the lighting, the acoustics, the materials, the offices and the spacious classrooms.

He showed me every detail and it was breathtaking. He then took me to the other side of the Church's property. He showed me a plot of land that was to become a type of outdoor amphitheater, complete with massive stone steps. I saw an artesian spring in a small pool there. This complex was enormous!

God: "Erin, the Foundation will be My Word. The walls will be of stone. The coverings will be of cedar and steel. Nothing shall come against it."

Me: "But, Father, this is such a complex build. This would involve engineers, permits, workers, stone masons and so much more. I am not convinced that there are even enough skilled workers here able to take on such a project."

God: "I did not ask you to pull permits from the city. I am the One Who holds the permits. You will complete this work in one day."

I knew He was serious! After all, He is the God of the Impossible...our Only God!

Me: "This is impossible for man, Father. However, nothing is impossible for You. Show me Your Great Works. I am excited."

The time in the dream was now 4:30am...

Me: "Let Your Will for this church be done...on Earth as it is in Heaven!"

Just then, an earthquake shook the ground and the building was leveled. However, no homes or properties around the Church were harmed. I then heard a trumpet. I could tell this was done to make an announcement or declaration. The sky above the area then opened up. Through this opening, angels, workers and craftsmen descended from Heaven. Before 'landing', the old, broken and dated structure's debris was removed.

Four huge angels then each took up a corner of the property. They then picked up the land as if it were an area rug. They shook the land and repositioned it. The low areas were lifted up and the high areas were made low. Without this, the high areas would have been unbuildable. I then saw the building's foundation poured and formed.

The time in the dream was now 5:30am...

This all happened so fast. Only one hour had elapsed and the entire area was reshaped and a new foundation formed.

God: "Erin, speak over these bones of the Church. Include the walls, the stones and the coverings as you do so. Breathe life into My Church."

I looked over this beautiful structure. It looked like the bones of a great building, of a Holy Church of God. I felt a great expansion of my lungs.

I began to prophesy to the plans for God's Church and the coming together of all the unique parts to make a whole.

Just then, a Great Wind came over the area and the four angels gathered all the pieces of God's Church to come together. I saw wood that actually breathed as it met with the Foundation. I saw electrical wiring pulse like blood vessels. I saw insulation that had the appearance of muscles and skin.

I then saw the covering of the inside walls as white sheetrock. Trim was placed over the electrical and the insulation. I saw the duct work and other portions of the Church, such as the plumbing and the sound systems. I saw a cover of beautiful cedar beams across the ceiling. The roof looked like a combination of steel and copper.

I then saw stacked stone surround the exterior walls and some of the inside walls. I saw floorings of stone and wood. It was beautiful. I witnessed the time-lapse building of something that would take months, if not years, being finished in minutes. It was truly a miracle of Godly proportions. Another hour had passed...

The time in the dream was now 6:30am...

I then saw the amphitheater being built. I watched as the landscaping around the area became lush and mature, complete with rock water features and covered walkways. No details were left undone. I went back to the main church building. As I began to enter the doorway, God spoke to me again...

God: "My Church will now be brought back from the dead. It will rise from the ashes and be brand new. Nothing will come against it, understand?"

As He said this, a vision materialized in front of me as if it was a large 360-degree screen. I saw thousands and thousands of churches rising all over the world. They were rising up with the wellspring of Living Water. I saw a vast army of God building up the Church by miracles, signs and wonders...all in the Name of the Lord.

I saw people flocking to these churches. While all hope had been gone, there were now healing and hope at these Houses of God.

The time in the dream was now 8:45am...

God: "My Spirit is upon My Church. Erin, I will now gather up My Army of Holy Ones. I will strengthen them and they will shine bright like the sun. I will place My favor upon them and instruct them in the ways they shall go.

There will be no army, no scheme of men and no weapon that will come against them with any success. There will be no iniquity found in them. My Spirit will be upon them."

I saw some graves opened and saints rising. I saw the downtrodden and meek rising. I saw those who had kept God's statutes and remained in His truth rising. I then saw a Great Wind come across the nations. The winds blew while the people were sleeping. They arose as the winds swept with the rising of the sun.

It was remarkable. I began to cry as I saw people who had been downcast suddenly arising to new health and vitality. It was like dim lighting suddenly becoming a bright light. They were visibly young and renewed. I heard cheering and praises to God. It was in every nation and in different tongues.

Me: "Who are these people, Father?"

I was suddenly awakened by an alarm clock. While I was out of the vision and back in my home again, I was still in a dream. I looked at the time in this dream...

The time in the dream was now 9:00am...

I felt no pain. I could breathe freely again. I started dancing in joy! After a brief discussion with my husband (who had just awakened and was also now Transformed), I went to the bathroom and looked in the mirror.

Quite simply, I didn't recognize my reflection. I heard someone call out to me from the hallway. When I went into the hallway, my daughter was standing there with the biggest smile on her face.

My daughter: "Mom, my Wedding at the Church is today."

Just then, she had a beautiful white gown on. She was, by far, the prettiest bride I had ever seen on Earth! I then looked down and noticed that I suddenly had a white gown on as well. I then heard the rest of the home waking up. I could hear great shouts of joy at their discovery that the Great Move of God had now come. All seven of us were now healed and strengthened. The Transformation had finally come!

Sub-dream 1 over

Or had it...? Smiles...Oh Father, when will this be? Churches are being closed right now. Many are now bankrupted and empty. Many over the world have been burned, destroyed and disbanded. Where is the Church?

It is so sad. I never thought about the Church as being also part of the old dead bones in Ezekiel 37. However, what I do know is that people like me have old dry bones. It seems as if all the news is bad now. God's people are silent. Our voices are muted. We are being treated even worse than dogs. More are being persecuted than ever.

Bibles are now even being burned in the USA. The place of Your end-time revival church is in China and they are being hunted down like game, like wild animals. Worshippers there are being forced to denounce the Trinity, Jesus and anything else Heaven. Father, please sweep the nations with the Winds of Change from Heaven...in Jesus' Mighty Name, Amen!

Jesus: "Erin, come up."

I was in the City of God near the Great Throne of God. There was a vast number of saints kneeling before God and crying out to Him on behalf of those who remain. God's Throne and Altar were high above the area over them. Each saint had been slain for the Word of God. Each one had a story. Each one wept and praised God.

Me: "Lord, where are You? This is during Tribulation, right?"

Just then, an angel appeared. It was Uriel!

Me: "Uriel, what is happening?"

Uriel: "Erin, you are witnessing the saints who have gathered to testify. Do not worry. This is just the beginning. Persecution of the church by the ungodly has been happening for a few thousand years. You are seeing an increase in this right now. This is as written."

Me: "Uriel, I am scared. The world has become so wicked. Attacks are relentless and brazen, right in broad daylight even."

Uriel: "God did not say that life would become easier." He smiled at me with empathy. "However, God is much bigger and has overcome the world."

No scheme of man, no evil plan of the adversary, will prevail against those whom God is with."

Me: "Yes, but many have been slain! Was God not with them?"

Uriel: "After all this time, do you still not understand? When they are slain, they are here. Erin, they are in Heaven. Evil does not prevail. The victory is God's. However, I believe that you are also speaking about the loss of those who remain that are then in great sorrow and grief on Earth."

However, their mourning will last but a short while and then all will be reconciled."

Me: "But, Uriel, what about someone being the only one remaining after their entire family is wiped out? How heartbreaking! How great is that loss? What if they then turn away from God? I would also struggle with this, Uriel."

Uriel: "Yes, Erin, but they pray here. They seek and knock and do not stop."

Me: "But I thought that the saints here in Heaven had no cares?"

Uriel: "There is a war. Wickedness has increased. God is sending help. The greatest harvest, the late harvest, has now come...on Earth as it is in Heaven."

Me: "When, Uriel? It is so difficult to watch the lies."

Uriel: "I know it is. However, you are not to worry as God's favor is upon you. I must go now. Be encouraged. Take heart. Be ready for God's call!" He smiled.

Dream 426 – The Third Temple Will Soon Be Built by God

Received on Sunday, August 9, 2020

Communion

Dear Father,

I am struggling today. Well, I have actually been struggling the last week. My husband and I prayed for a great dream last night before we went to sleep and You did not disappoint. Here it is...

Sub-dream 1 “The Evil World Leader Rises in Power”

God’s Army had now been raised up and we were prospering the land supernaturally. We were restoring broken cities and communities. While this seemed to be around the same time as the great restoration of God’s Church, I was uncertain of the exact order or timing. You showed me a great healing and restoration across the world unlike anything the world has ever seen before.

I saw ruined cities restored. I saw displaced people in homes in their homelands. I saw evil no longer able to do their will. I saw the enemy and his army being furious at this turn of events. I saw them bound in secret, kept from their plots of destruction against the lands. While this destruction was to be allowed again in the future, it was not to be allowed during our time.

While this was all hopeful, I still did not know the exact timeframe for this. This includes what I then saw...something truly incredible. The Holy Temple of God in Jerusalem was being fully built and restored by God in an incredibly brief three-day period...

- On the first day, the land was completely cleared to make way for the Third Temple. More specifically, the unclean buildings already there were completely removed. The land was then supernaturally purified of all evil. The land was then fully made ceremonially clean prior to construction.
- On the second day, the Temple of Stone was completely built and restored to its original splendor, yet somehow made modern for today at the same time. I needed to take a second here to let this sink in! The Holy Third Temple of God was just built by God in a single day! In comparison, it took many years to construct both the First Temple and the Second Temple.

- On the third day, all of the elements were set up in the Third Temple so that the sacrifices were once again performed.

In the meantime, the enemies of Israel remained in barren lands under their cursed lips as Israel prospered. However, many saw the works of God and turned their hearts to Him. While most there were amazed, some remained skeptical and still did not believe.

The Two Witnesses then came...Enoch and Elijah! Many became enraged when they began testifying about God, Jesus and the Kingdom of Heaven.

While most of us were in various lands outside of Israel restoring and healing, some of us were working the harvest in Jerusalem and in the surrounding areas of Israel. However, once the Two Witnesses had arrived, these workers were reassigned to other areas of the world. In other words, only the Two Witnesses then remained in Jerusalem / Israel to testify to the Kingdom of Heaven. They also continued to perform mighty deeds there.

After the first few sacrifices, a prominent world leader asked to see 'the great works of God in this Temple'. This is when the troubles began. A great assembly of Jewish leaders had put rules into place to limit the exposure of the Temple area to the outside world. However, after this leader's request, a select group of Jewish leaders decided that a select group of world leaders would be allowed to inspect the new Temple of God, all for public relations purposes.

This select group of Jewish leaders felt pressured to allow this as there were false rumors circulating that Muslims and others had been harmed during the building of the Third Temple. When this group of world leaders entered the Temple site, there were several small earthquakes. These were limited in nature and did not harm the Temple structure. The only place the world leaders were forbidden to go was the Holy of Holies.

The Holy of Holies was concealed behind a beautiful embroidered curtain. However, one of the world leaders, the prominent one, insisted to see it, going so far as to accuse the Jewish leaders of hiding evidence of a possible massacre in this sacred area. The Jewish leaders then reluctantly let this world leader go into the holy area.

Once the leader was in position in the sacred area of God, God struck the unclean rebellious leader with an object. This object knocked him unconscious. False reports then went out that Jewish leaders had him struck in order to keep him from uncovering the evidence of foul play. The lies were rampant. However, this was magnified exponentially when the news media started to claim this world leader had been killed.

After this, riots broke out in many areas of the city and the rest of the world. I should note that this all took place after God had already restored the lands. While the Two Witnesses testified against this leader and condemned the violence, the news media completely ignored covering them. When the Two Witnesses then displayed incredible miracles, it was credited by the media to the leader who had been struck down.

It was not long before the world leader who had been struck down was now being called the messiah. Along with the miracles now being attributed to this world leader, this increased even more when his 'fatal' head wound was 'miraculously' healed.

The leader then made a preposterous claim! He claimed that he had died and that God then showed him he was the messiah who would bring peace to the world. He stated that this message was given to him by God Himself while he was 'still dead'.

Of course, this world leader knew the truth that this was all a lie. He knew that it was God that had sent Elijah and Enoch. The world leader then plotted against them. No matter what amazing things the Two Witnesses did, all was now being attributed to this wicked leader. This was not hard for him to manipulate as he controlled the media.

Out of fear, many of the Jewish people then turned to follow this false messiah. Before long, the world leader declared that the Third Temple was his. While attacks continued against the Two Witnesses, they were completely protected by God. However, the news continued to paint a different picture. While Enoch and Elijah testified about the Kingdom of Heaven day and night, this never made the news.

The lands then became more and more sick and violent each day. The evil world leader then again did something preposterous! He ordered all of those who attended to his head wound be murdered immediately so that his story and timeline of events could be completely controlled without contradiction by this medical staff. This murder of many people was then painted by the compliant media as 'a tragic and unfortunate accident'.

God then removed His people and His elect in the Rapture! Because of this, and in great fury, this world leader then greatly accelerated his evil against all those who remained...

The evil world leader started off by creating a mass control system. This was basically an evil census dividing those who would follow him from those who would not follow him. He then sought out anyone who might speak against him. Using phone apps at first, tracking systems were then set in place. Later on, censors were embedded inside the bodies of the individuals. This was passed off as a type of immunity vaccine chip.

This chip was stated as being required for safety reasons in order to allow a person to be in public markets and squares and to do business of any kind. This embedded chip also required that each individual receive a blood draw to 'check for trace elements of pathogens'. Of course, this was all false pretenses. This was completely about full control of where people could or couldn't go or what they could or couldn't do.

In order for people to enter a public building, they all needed to have their immunity chip scanned to enter. While disguised as a 'safety measure', it was instead being used as a tracking and activity device. This device was specifically being used to weed out those who remained, those they planned would later be saints.

Thankfully, God had different plans for some of them. God uniquely sheltered some of those who would later turn to Him fully. These people who were to be called to God were to be protected by being covered in a type of veil or membrane. This veil / membrane was then able to confuse the enemy.

Although this select group of people were being divinely protected, they would not come to know about this protection until they later turned fully to God and were 'formally saved'. Still, this was frightening at all times for them though as the Comforter, the Holy Spirit, was absent from the Earth after the Rapture.

I also saw something else that was amazing. While I am not sure how often we will do this, I saw that we sporadically continued to work as God's Army during this time. However, since this was after the Rapture, we were now completely residents of Heaven and lived there full-time. While the evil world leader desperately wanted to track us too, God protected us from ever having this happen. As should be expected, thanks to God, His Army was always two steps ahead of all of the schemes of the enemy.

Sub-dream 1 over...

Sub-dream 2 "released prisoners start taking over properties"

I saw different gangs rise up to establish rules in various areas. They did this by creating 'loyalty checkpoints'. At these checkpoints, people would need to give them their belongings in return for their 'protection'. If any of them had nothing of value or did not declare allegiance, they would then be killed or hurt severely.

Many of these gangs had come to power because the prisons had been opened. Out of fear, corrupt leaders then declared that prisoners would have immunity from illegal activity and could occupy any abandoned properties. Due to this measure, wealthy people abandoned their homes, cars and valuables. They did this for their safety as they would otherwise be killed for 'being there in a home when the gangs wanted it'.

These occupiers were then able to stake their claims over large tracks of properties. Many of the original owners then left for wilderness areas. In general, they did this as properties in the wilderness areas were mostly ignored by gangs and 'former prisoners'. There were essentially no laws in place anymore. Any laws in place were no longer being enforced. All good had now been removed.

Sub-dream 2 over...

Father, I am struggling because I see the enemy laying the foundations for all of this right now before our very eyes. Please rise up and spread healing, restoration and peace across the lands. We have been under extreme attacks. Troubles in the world in a given month seem to be multiplying with every month that passes. The news is clearly showing all of this now!

In terms of just our recent 'local' troubles, my daughter went to the members of the Board of a non-profit place she works. She then revealed the evil plots of her manager. While it went well for my daughter, the Board members were in shock that they had been so greatly deceived. When we later parked our car in front of where her manager was, our front end had an odd explosion. It rendered our car inoperable.

While waiting for the tow truck to come, my two sons with Asperger started having an epic fight. I had not encountered this level of hostility towards each other for many years. My husband and I then later took a drive to get me to take a breath, but then ran into two animals by accident...a squirrel and a rabbit. This made me sad again.

Father, You then showed us, once again, that You are in total control. The Board decided to put the manager under a strict watch, with a high probability of later removal should she still be disobedient. The car was looked over by the dealership and it was decided that it will mostly be under warranty. My two sons are now basically back on speaking terms. The two animals are now up in Heaven having a great time.

Still, all of this made for a lot of angst and sadness. We are only human and these things affect us. However, it is not just us either. Many of our close friends, especially those who absolutely adore You, are going through stressful times right now. Oh Father, please protect us! I must admit that I am still concerned!

Jesus: "Erin, come up."

I was on a beautiful path in the Garden of God. God's door was straight ahead of me. The pond was to my right. I went up to God's door to knock on it. Just as I was about to put up my hand to begin knocking, I felt a tap on my shoulder. I turned around and there was Uriel with his horse. He was in full battle gear.

Uriel: "Erin, do not be afraid. Write down all you are being shown. Remember, the Great Harvest of God has not come to pass yet. When this does, it will be unlike anything the world has ever seen throughout history as this will not be like anything even imagined. Erin, this is not an imagination of man nor will it be. God has sent me to tell you that you are not imagining good things to come because of your distress.

"This will instead be a time and times of the Great Power of God. Remember also the things that God hates...seven of which are an abomination to Him and will not be tolerated. Rebellion, lies and unholy actions will soon be removed just long enough for joy to return, along with Divine Miracles from the displays of His Saints and Elect and by His hand.

"Joy and comfort from the manifestation of Heaven on Earth will not be counterfeited by the enemy. Fear will be far removed. After the world has witnessed His power and love, God will then declare that His harvest is complete. A Great Shaking will then occur and His love and favor, along with all of those He has called, will be collected from the Earth.

"The wheat, the barley, the grape and the rest, along with the Harvesters, will all be called Home at this time. The Witnesses and Workers will then stand in obedience to God while the angels then carry out afflictions upon the lands. Erin, the Workers will be both on Earth and in Heaven as called to witness as God calls.

"While the Workers will then continue to see many things, they will no longer be a citizen there on Earth, but rather now fully here in Heaven. They will then still be part of the late harvest and in full service to God. Erin, you will also be a part of all of this."

Me: "Uriel, as I am now, I can do nothing. As I am now, I make a poor witness to God's miracles."

Uriel: Smiling. "Do not worry, Erin, as God is about to do something in your days you would not believe even if you were told. Those God will call will have the appearance like Heaven, but visible on Earth. You will be strengthened and healed. God's face will shine upon you in all you do. You will be like a beacon in the storm. As God is in you, you will display awesome deeds. In all you do, the Lord is upon you.

"Heaven will be visible there on Earth. However, this will not be as scholars expect. It will instead be through God's Kingdom Revelation of Miracles, Signs and Wonders. You will restore all that is burned and broken. You will make the poor wealthy and heal the sick. You will build and restore structures and fortify hope. All will know this is God.

"While there is even more to all of this, I must go now. There is an epic battle in the heavenlies. Take courage, Erin. In just a little while, all is about to change."

He turned toward his horse and was gone in an instant.

Dream 427 – Our God is so much bigger than the enemy

Received on Friday, August 14, 2020

When reading the below, it is important to note that my daughter's evil manager is not a Christian at all. She is a reiki master who was married to a high-level shaman. A shaman is a modern word for a wiccan high priest. Since she was married to this man, this would make this manager a shaman herself. When I questioned how she left this evil environment, her answers were inconsistent. This is usually a sign that someone is lying. It is obvious from her fruits that she is very active as a witch against Christians to this day. She has already taken several other Christians down using her craft. With this in mind...

I received the following Word from the Lord in the early morning. I wanted to meet with Him in anticipation of my daughter's early afternoon meeting with the Board at the Christian organization she works at.

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day! Thank You for Your continuous love and blessings. Father, my dreams were disturbing last night. My daughter has a David vs Goliath situation today and I am asking You for her protection.

Jesus: "Erin, come up."

Jesus was on a beautiful cut rock near the River of Life. I saw a beautiful vineyard and a pasture with sheep in the distance. He stood up and waved with a motion for me to come to Him. I cried as I sprinted towards Him. I was exhausted and deeply troubled. He embraced me as I wept.

Me: "I love You, Lord."

Jesus: "I love you, Erin. This battle is Mine. Remember that there are wars all around you and all over the world right now. There are also many small wars and brutal attacks that do not make the news. Instead, there are wars in the streets and rumors of foreign wars. However, this is to be as expected as all of this is necessary for the fulfillment of prophecy. The Good News is that I Am Who I say I Am and I Am God over all things. Quite a while ago, I showed you a cauldron of water over a flame. Do you remember?"

Me: "Yes, Lord."

Jesus: "Well, at first, there is no activity. All you witness is the fire. The keeper of the fire then stokes the flames of the fire, thus redistributing the heat. You then see some steam and the water simmers. It then takes a while to wait for the water to boil. However, when it does, and depending on the conditions, the boiling water can even rise and boil over. However, something happens here if the water is left unchecked. Do you know what that is?"

Me: "The water evaporates?"

Jesus: "Well, yes, eventually it does. However, something else happens first. In a full pot at full boil, anything placed in it will cause the water to boil over, dousing the flames below, eventually creating a lot of thick smoke. The water then dissipates because there is no longer any heat. The flame is doused. Even if the keeper of the fire tried to restoke the fire, the logs would be wet. This is what has happened and what will happen...what was and is and is to come, understand?"

Me: "I think so. Are You the keeper of the fire?"

Jesus: "No, but I oversee it. That is, I am in control over the keeper of the flames, but all for My purposes. You must understand that nothing occurs without God's knowledge. However, permission has now been granted for all of this. This is because great sin has covered the land. My people, even My elect, now turn a blind eye."

Me: I sighed. "Oh Lord, is it because people are in great shock? They are scared. The enemy is appearing to be winning. Lies are common and liars are edified. The extremely powerful has set out a course to destroy Your flames of hope in us by dousing us to squelch our voice. It is happening to my daughter and to millions of those who love You. Lord..." I was now sobbing. "...we have stood on Your principles as a family. We have testified to Your love and kindness, Your goodness and miracles.

"My daughter has proclaimed about Your great love publicly and she is now being destroyed by the enemy because of this. This is my child, Lord. However, and even more so, this is Your child. She is like Esther appearing before the king to testify to the deeds of Haman later this afternoon.

"She wants to leave her job at a Christian organization because You are not there in the people. Please, Father, vindicate my daughter. Please well up in her. Please grant her supernatural wisdom and knowledge. You have not healed us, so, us alone, aside from You...well, we are powerless against this great enemy." I was still crying.

Jesus: "Oh Erin, as I have said so many, many times...look, where does your help come from? I am here and, with Me, is a vast army of angels.

There are many more of us. Do you not remember what Elisha faced? Elisha was terrified when he saw the vast army of enemies before him.

"However, his eyes were then opened to the angel armies surrounding them. With that, Elisha realized that this was God's battle. He prayed for this enemy to have blindness and the army was struck. Seeing this sudden display of severe distress, Elisha prayed for their sight to be restored and that there would then be peace.

"Imagine this, Erin...you are a mighty warrior...strong, lean, in full battle armor, maybe riding a horse. You think from a position of pride, power and strength and you have no fear of God. Then, and in an instant, they are suddenly struck with blindness. These warriors are then in complete darkness and cannot see anything around them.

"They can then only hear the cries and screams of terror of all those around you. This would be quite frightening for some strongman to realize that the God he had just mocked actually had the power to do such things. A smart man then humbles himself and yields to the One who struck him. However, a wicked man then goes to the ground in curses.

"Think also of Elijah and the wicked Jezebel. While this Jezebel was allowed to beguile a king, she could not bring down Elijah on her own. She then sent others. Ultimately, she was thrown down to the dogs by the servants she cursed. In the end, she was devoured. Do you think there is no justice under Heaven? Do you think Elijah was free from fear?

"Elijah hid under a broom tree and fled to a cave. God sent an angel to wake him up, give him food and strengthen him. He still fled to the cave. God then met him there in a dark place. Do you still not understand, Erin? I am here and very much alive. I am not dead and I am certainly not blind to the deeds of the wicked and the sufferings of My people. These battles are Mine, not yours, understand?

"The enemy roars and fights when he can't get anywhere with Me. Then what does he do? He attacks those who are with Me. Look over here..." He pointed to the sheep in the meadow grazing peacefully. "I am the Good Shepherd. I watch over My sheep. These are Mine. Those who call on My Name in the midst of the battle are Mine. Those whose hearts do not curse Me are Mine, Erin.

"Do you truly believe I do not know the comings and goings of those I call Mine...those who love Me? I know all of this. I see the wicked surrounding the innocent. They curse, plot, discourage, lie, cast doubt, trick and seek to kill by shedding innocent blood. Make no mistake though, Erin...I Am here.

"Over there, Erin, is the vineyard, a great harvest with sweet ripe grapes...a wine like no other. This is My Special Reserve. The goal for the enemy is to destroy, dishearten and kill my lambs. If it was up to the enemy, he would even see to it that these grapes here never come to harvest. However, there is more to this than you see. Erin, look!"

Jesus waved His arm upward and I saw something like a roller shade curtain over a window roll upward with the move of His arm. There before me was an army of angels so mighty, so massive, so strong with horses and advances, I don't even understand to describe. Some of the angels had something like lightning coming from them. Others could harness the wind.

Others had boots that looked like something that could split the ground in an earthquake. Some had fire coming from their eyes. I had never seen anything like this before. I fell to the ground in fear and trembling. It was like going before God on His Throne. I had no strength in my legs. Jesus then pulled the curtain again to cover them from my sight. I was overwhelmed by what I had just saw.

Me: "Oh Lord, please forgive me. Please do not be angry with me. Please protect us. I am sorry. I repent for my complaining. I repent."

Jesus bent down and lifted my head. He had such a sweet smile.

Jesus: "Erin, I did not show you this to terrify you. I instead wanted to reveal to you what I send to judge the land. The wicked never go unpunished...never...understand?"

Me: "Yes, Lord."

Jesus: "Erin, when I send angels concerning you to guard you in all you do, I do not send small cherubim babies with tiny wings, bows and arrows.

There is no passive angel here dressed in a white gown looking weak and waving his hands at Heaven, appearing to direct traffic. This is a lie from the enemy meant to make Me, My Father on the Throne and My Heavenly Army look weak, uncaring and ineffective.

"You now see what has been sent as judgments against the lands. John saw this in Heaven with his spiritual eyes as if gazing through a window. He was there to see what would be to come. You now see that it is here.

Erin, your daughter is coming against a prince over your area. It will be rendered ineffective. Therefore, any assignment or advancement by powers or principalities will be cut down.

"I have sent disturbing sleep over those making decisions. They have been veiled, confounded and under a type of cloud, something like a fog covering the truth. I will dissipate this and send in My Light to shed truth over this situation. Those operating in darkness will be exposed. I am sending your daughter in as a stone. Without your daughter, My favor will be removed (from this organization) and any curses spoken by the wicked will be rolled back upon them and their household.

"Erin, you know the wicked by their fruit. The ministry is Mine. My Church is Mine. This is a matter of something unseen. However, you have seen this begin to manifest in the natural. You and your family, your household and even your animals, have all been under attack. This is because you spoke out against the soldiers of the enemy and exposed them.

"In response, they have sent strikes against your daughter and your household. As these have come to nothing, the enemy is now enraged. The manager has been gathering up dark spirits as she is a jezebel and wicked. However, Erin, you are not to fear as nothing will come against your daughter with success. This is because I am with her. Through your daughter, the wicked schemes will be exposed. My times of tolerance...My silence...is finished. Now comes My justice."

Suddenly, there before me, was the Lord fully in His King's Armor. He was holding His Sword of Truth while on His great horse. He smiled at me.

Jesus: "I am here, Erin. I am with you. My angel armies are here."

Just then, I saw the vast Army of God.

Jesus: "Greater is I Who is with you than he who is in the world. I have you. I am with you. I bring My Army of Judgment with Me. You will be with Me and all those around you will know that you are Mine. Erin, you will display awesome deeds."

Me: "I would rather be on Your side than against You, Lord."

I knelt down and lifted my arms toward Jesus. He placed His sword toward me.

Jesus: "Stand, Erin."

He gently placed His sword on my shoulder.

Jesus: "I will prepare you for battle. Your heart and vessel are ready."

I felt something like an electric charge. It was like a great warmth of healing. I was then able to see things in the supernatural. I could see truth over lies. I saw people I thought were good were really like tares amongst wheat. I saw people on appearance who looked bad who were actually good.

However, all the while, those the Lord had called for His purposes were illuminated like bright stars or lamps. Around them, no darkness could be found. The wicked were found guilty by their tongues confessing. Those operating in darkness ran to hide from those God had called. They stayed away until the day that the 'Lights of God's Army' was to be removed.

Jesus: "Erin, do not be afraid. Be strong and courageous. I am with you." He smiled. "Now, tell your daughter that I am with her. I love her. She is Mine. I will strike down her enemies."

Dream over...for now...

I then received the following Word from the Lord at 6:00pm. My daughter's meeting with the Board in the early afternoon had already occurred. While we had hoped and prayed for my daughter's immediate vindication, this did not happen at this meeting...at least not yet.

Jesus: "Erin, come up."

Jesus was right there in front of me. He smiled and hugged me.

Jesus: "Erin, the enemy had wicked plans concerning your daughter. I removed her. There will come a day very soon in which many will come to apologize. They will offer her gifts and, in turn, she will turn and heal them on My behalf. For now, the Board has chosen the path of least resistance, the easy wicked path that leads to destruction. Your daughter's words and testimony of truth before the Board will haunt their souls. They will try to rest, but they will have none.

"The manager's prayers will be evil and no one will listen. The Board will know her by her fruits. She will be exposed. Had your daughter stayed, she would lose her passion for Me. This is because, over time, the enemy planned to destroy her joy completely. Your daughter is now free though. I have something very special planned for her. However, she must continue to be patient. Erin, I know that you had wanted to complete a work here. You are a veteran to these enemy attacks."

"Erin, I was there when they assaulted your daughter. Your daughter spoke truth and the enemy lied. However, this is not over. The words your daughter used were like sandpaper to them. I will disturb them greatly. They will be unable to get peace. I will open their eyes. They are foolish."

Me: "Lord, if I knew, I would not have allowed her to go to this meeting."

Jesus: "This was not up to you, Erin. This is and is to come My battle, understand?"

Me: "Yes, Lord. I am just upset. Why allow this, Lord?"

Jesus: "It is not over, Erin. However, for now, the wicked manager is relieved that your daughter is gone. It is a battle for power and to destroy all Christians. Around this territory, there are very few able to speak out any more out of fear. Remember, your daughter spoke out and stood for My Word and Promises. The enemy was furious and controlled the Board and the evil manager to punish your daughter. Erin, I have a plan in place. Do you trust Me?"

Me: "Yes, Lord. However, I am deeply troubled about what has happened to my daughter. A spider just appeared in her room."

Jesus: "Your daughter stood against a great enemy of God today, but really everyday publicly. That tiny spider was all the enemy had. However, this spider will soon die and disappear, so do not worry. Your daughter has nothing to fear. I am with her in all that she does. I will now do something with her."

Me: "Lord, I am deeply in pain. My heart hurts. Why?"

Jesus: "Erin, I sent in My lamb. However, she was not slaughtered. You will now have to wait on Me."

Me: "Okay, Lord, but for how long?"

Jesus: "You will see. Now, I have your daughter. I love her. I will destroy the enemy. Their joy will be far removed. I do not entertain fools, okay? I am God over all of this. If I had told you, you would have not let your daughter go to the Board meeting. Her going was in My plan. Erin, you must trust Me. Please trust Me. Do not worry as I will soon lift your daughter up."

Me: "Please, Lord, don't let this be for nothing."

Jesus: "I will not...trust Me. The wicked woman will regret what she has done." He hugged me. "Erin, I love you."

Me: "I love You too, Lord, but I still feel hurt."

Jesus: "I know. However, all will soon change. I have you."

Dream 428 – Our God is bigger than a witch attack

Received on Monday, August 17, 2020

Thank You for another day! Thank You for Your love. Thank You for Your protection. Thank You for Your provision. I am struggling...really struggling. The world around us is completely upside down. Normal law-abiding citizens are being arrested. Cities I once lived in and even near where I was born are under attack. I am in shock. All of these places are filled with lawlessness...

- Norman OK: Where my paternal grandma lived.
- Peoria IL: Where my brother was born and where my parents met. Little boys are robbed at their lemonade stand. This was caught on film.
- California in general: The place I grew up in is now a place of unrest. Streets are ridden with human waste. It is unsafe to travel in so many places now.
- California – Pacifica, Santa Cruz, San Francisco, Half Moon Bay: The places we surfed as a child were just struck by extreme lightning. Experts say that these were some of the most remarkable lightning strikes they have ever witnessed.
- Seattle WA: Continues to be under attack.
- Portland OR: Continues to be under siege.
- Bend OR: The place I love has begun to rebel against authority.
- Almost every USA city, but, in particular, those run by democrats: Under some sort of attack. This shows us that the age of lawlessness has truly arrived.

It is painful to watch this play out. The resulting mass exodus from the cities will now surely accelerate. People are even threatening to steal homes now as 911 calls are often going unanswered. Brutal attacks play out. Little children are killed. There is no blindfold over the eyes of justice anymore. There is no fairness in the land. Rebellion is now celebrated. Sin is now endorsed.

The harbingers against the land are here. Accurate reporting has been turned into consistent lies. The unrest is horrible. For those of us that obey the laws of the land, the rules of public health and safety and the commandments of God...well, we sit and watch all of this in horror. We sit in our homes as we witness this great nation's fall. We sit in fear and prepare our hearts for those who might come for our home.

Oh Father, all of this is breaking my heart! Week before last, as I was driving home, there was a wounded red heifer calf on the road. I pulled my car over as it was standing in an area where it could be hit by an oncoming car. This little calf was part of a ranch that my daughter and I drive by every day. We had just been remarking about the tremendous number of babies and mothers that were amongst these red heifers.

For months, we have driven by this group of cattle grazing in this beautiful pasture. This day was just four days after I had confronted my daughter's wicked manager. Our vehicle front end exploded just before this, so I was now in a smaller temporary tiny vehicle. This was not a normal car you would find out here. I had been returning home after dropping my daughter off at work.

The calf was afraid. It looked thin. It was covered in mud. It must have managed to crawl up a steep embankment through the electric fence. It was covered in flies and was wounded. I tried to get it off the road. Just then, an elderly farmer in a pickup truck pulled up to me.

Me: "I am afraid this calf may get hurt."

Farmer: "Don't worry. It will be okay."

He smiled and got out with some work gloves to lift the fence wire. However, out of fear, the calf instead went the opposite direction. The calf then began to call out for its mom. The calf was limping as it then walked off into some bushes near the dairy farm. I was so worried for it. The farmer could tell I was worried.

Farmer: Smiling. "It looks like it has been through quite an ordeal. It is injured and in pain. It likely ended up spending the night out here alone. Based on these flies, you can tell it has been through quite a battle. Look, don't worry...I am retired and have the time to look after this. I will go to the rancher and let him know. He will then retrieve him. The rancher is invested in the little calf."

He smiled at me in a reassuring way as he marked the area. I felt relieved that this farmer had taken the time to look after this cute little calf.

Later on that day, my daughter once again came under attack at her work. This was in retaliation for reporting problems to the Board of this Christian organization. The Board had leaked the report prior to the scheduled meeting, leaving my daughter fully exposed. It was pure evil. My daughter was attacked when she was promised by this same Board that she would have safety.

My husband and I later drove down that same road. This time, instead of a little red heifer calf, a massive Holstein milk cow was on the road. In six years of driving past these ranches, we had never seen any loose animals. Now we had seen two right after each other. I got out to shoo the cow off the road. While it could not cross the electric fence, it was at least now in a much safer place in the farmer's yard.

Father, these two 'run ins' both seem like signs from you. Perhaps my daughter was represented by the red heifer calf? Perhaps I was represented by the dairy cow? Or perhaps not? I am not sure. What I do know is that I have now had several dreams of my daughter's wicked manager over the last few nights. The first one was on Saturday night...

Sub-dream 1 "The wicked manager tells Erin she won" begins...

I was doing something fun and was really enjoying myself. Suddenly and without warning, this wicked manager appeared before me. She had an evil smile...

Manager: "I won, Erin! You thought you could win, but you can never come against me."

She then started to cackle. It was quite disturbing.

Sub-dream 1 over...

I woke up suddenly. It was 3:30am. I then had another dream just last night.

Sub-dream 2 "The wicked manager kept from speaking" begins...

I saw the wicked manager again, but, this time, I woke up before the manager was able to speak. What I do remember though was the mocking smile she had on her face and that this mocking smile had instantly disappeared when she realized that she would not have a chance to say something to me again.

Sub-dream 2 over...

It was 4:00am this time when I woke up. I then drifted back to sleep and had an even more disturbing dream than these two shortly after...

Sub-dream 3 "The wicked manager hires a hitman" begins...

I was outside feeding the animals and talking to them. It was beautiful outside, a crisp fall morning. The sun was out and warm. I had turned to put seeds in a container when a vehicle drove up our gravel road and into our driveway. The car was a crudely painted dark flat gun metal gray carbon color...a 2000ish Range Rover. The car was beaten up.

The driver was a white male around forty years old. He wore mirrored sunglasses and a black ball cap. He had a tattoo sleeve covered in skeletons on his left arm. His window was rolled down. He had scruffy facial hair. He had some gray hair in his hair and his facial hair. His skin was leathered and gray. He was scary. I wanted to run, but there was nowhere to run to. He stood in our driveway by his open car door.

Hitman: "Are you Erin?"

Me: "Yes. Why?"

I immediately knew that I should have said no to his question. It was too late. The man pulled out a sawed off shot gun and balanced it on the car door.

Hitman: "This is from 'insert the name of my daughter's wicked manager'!"

I saw a flash accompanied by a mighty bang. It felt like I had been mauled by something in my abdomen. It knocked me off my feet. I fell backwards onto our gravel driveway. I could hear the sound of the vehicle peeling away. The pain was so horrible that I can't even describe it. I felt warm fluid filling up my body. I was dying. I then heard You talk to me.

Jesus: "Wake up, Erin! I am here!"

Sub-dream 3 over...

I woke up suddenly. It was now 7:00am. I felt horrible. I felt the pain in my head and back as if I had actually fell backwards on the gravel.

Jesus: "Erin, come up."

Jesus was right in front of me. I began to cry. He held me.

Me: "Lord, why are You allowing this?"

Jesus: "Erin, do not hold onto this situation. I have you. All that you have done concerning the situation was according to My Will. You were used by Me, Erin, and this should not be surprising."

Me: "Lord, this was difficult. I am tired, Lord. I am disheartened and discouraged. This was to be the Year of Your Favor. However, it has been difficult instead. We have encountered attack after attack and now even while I sleep. Lord, I thought that my dreams were protected."

Jesus: Smiling. "They are, Erin. You are protected. You need not worry. Now, I understand your concerns. You came against a soldier of darkness. I told you in advance that the enemy seeks to steal, to kill and to destroy (John 10:10). However, these schemes against you will be unsuccessful."

I was quiet. I nodded my head in agreement. I wanted to say something, but I didn't want to be struck down. I knew this was a silly way to think as He would never strike me down as He promised He wouldn't. After hearing Him say this, I was still unhappy.

Jesus: Reading my thoughts. "Erin, please speak to Me in truth." He smiled at me in such a reassuring way. "Do not worry, Erin, I can handle this." He smiled again.

Me: Pausing. "I am imperfect. I have sinned. I have prayed for troubles to come upon those who came against my daughter. I wanted immediate results. I wanted immediate vindication. Instead, by me doing nothing, I must appear like a coward...weak and ineffective. It must appear to them that my Father in Heaven, You, Lord, my Solid Rock, doesn't even support us.

"Lord, it appears as if the enemy is winning and we all have to just sit here and take it until You finally fill us with Your power and healing. Oh Father, did I step ahead of You by praying curses over these wicked shamans? I did this in Your Name, Lord, and now I feel horrible for doing so. Please forgive me!"

Jesus: "Erin, you are My Bride, a Grand Heir of Heaven. You are a Child of the Most High God. You are bold. Your daughter is bold. She stands for Me and so do you. Remember, I am aware of the comings and goings of the wicked and their schemes. Did you think that coming against a prince in the supernatural to expose their darkness wouldn't bring troubles?"

"Erin, what is happening is only a small fraction of what they would like to do to you. However, and once again, you are Mine. Your children are Mine. Your provisions are Mine. Your animals are Mine. Your home is Mine. Your possessions are Mine. So, if I am God over all things...and I am...why, then, do I allow such things?"

Me: "Yes, Lord...why?"

Jesus: "I have allowed this so that you understand the magnitude and importance of this late hour. Erin, I have prepared you for these times for your entire journey. Your training began the moment you were born. Before this, I mapped your course in your mother's womb. I have prepared you."

Me: I was in tears. "Oh Lord, it hurts. Nothing seems to be succeeding. My children have wonderful innocent hopes and dreams because they have trusted You. I have had hopes and dreams and I have trusted You. My husband still has had no offers of work. There have been so many troubles. How do I stop all of this? I can't, Lord. This is breaking my heart. Because You love us and You are God, can You not do this for us?"

"Will You not have mercy on us? Will You not forgive me for speaking boldly even though You asked me to? Please don't allow us harm, Lord. I see innocent people being cut down in the streets. I see two children being robbed at gunpoint while at their lemonade stand. I see a rise in troubles all over the world. Please forgive me, Lord, but my fear is that I will now fall from Your grace for speaking as I have.”

Jesus: “Thank you for your honesty. Erin, if I were to now be angry at your honesty, I would then not be true to My Words. The enemy continues its assignments against My people. However, these are much smaller troubles coming against you than they had planned. I am instructing those I have called instead. You are receiving a crash course in the patterns of the enemy. Now, see this from My vantage point for a moment...

- I have strengthened your perimeters
- I have fortified your household
- I have protected your communications and transportation
- I have provided for all of your needs
- I have protected you from illnesses sent to kill you
- I have safely kept your vehicle from driving when it failed (we were parked)
- I have protected you from health scares
- I have kept you maintained
- I healed your plumbing
- I fixed your failing deck
- I kept your home from a fire when your cool air blew, holding the flames to smoke, then providing you with the means to replace this
- I kept you from a surgery meant to destroy you
- I have sent good people in to stand for you
- I have kept your animals safe and even the wild ones know you and look for you

“Erin, peace is upon your household. These troubles have been nothing but passing annoyances. The enemy has sent hundreds of attacks your way just in the last eight months. However, and each time, these have come to nothing.

“Now, the enemy is angered by all of this. They sent in and fortified their stronghold. While I have now removed your daughter, you still remain a threat to them. However, once strengthened, there will be an even greater threat to the enemy by My believers. You and your daughter stood against a Jezebel-like entity in your territory.”

Me: "Yes, Lord. I looked up the local wiccan chapters. They have rebranded their ties to witchcraft by relabeling themselves as shamanism and reiki practices. They are doing this to make themselves look more appealing."

Jesus: "Yes, but there is no difference. They practice the manipulation of evil spirits against My people and infiltrate My pews. Erin, a name by another name is still the same. Always go to the root. You have knowledge here."

Me: "Yes, Lord. Things once removed came to the forefront during the battle. Shamans and reiki masters can astral travel, disturb dreams and attack all areas of the lives they focus against. They follow a familiar pattern...

- They usually attack your health first
- They then confuse rational thinking
- They then cause separation from friends and family through infighting
- They then cause mishaps and troubles to drain finances
- They then attack your work and reputation
- They then send people, often Christians, to attack you
- You then experience unexplained depression, headaches, anxiety, accidents, money troubles, stomach issues and teeth problems
- They can even then come to you via sleep and suddenly appear

Jesus: "So, then, what have you learned?"

Me: Smiling. "That we need to stop this?"

Jesus: "Well, you came to Me first. I then pointed out that I have kept you from harm. We are in a time of a great war in the heavens over you. The enemy knows who you are. The enemy knows those who I have called. He hopes to strike you down and discourage you prior to My Great Move over the land. They spread the doctrine of fear so as to squelch the flame in My people.

"However, you are not to worry. Remember that I showed you the boiling pot. They increased the attacks because you disturbed them and they know that I am with you. However, what the enemy planned for evil will instead come back to them a hundred-fold more as I will not allow their schemes to advance. Your troubles and attacks are a measure against them in judgment.

"Now, what this enemy has planned, I will personally turn it to good. I will open a new door for your daughter. She will have joy again and very soon. The woman (her wicked manager) will be exposed. Her plans will come to nothing as she sacrifices on the altar of death. As such, there is where she will be 'nourished' (a diet of death). Instead of your dreams being disturbed, her dreams will now be filled and disturbed.

"She will be unable to threaten you again. When the veil of darkness was dropped (on the Board), those with eyes to see were instead in confusion and under a trance. However, I will now open the eyes of those who were veiled and deceived. I will cause them to remember their harsh words to your daughter. They will then apologize for their participation."

Me: "Lord, please keep this vile woman far from us. Please keep her evil ways far from my sleep."

Jesus: "I have already done so. Her plans will come to nothing. She will not be successful against you. None of her weapons shall prosper. Now, take heart, Erin. Take inventory of the blessings I have sent. Although you have been deep in your battles, remember that I am greater than your enemies and I will not prosper the schemes of evil against My Elect, understand?"

Me: "I am sorry, Lord. I am sorry I have been angry. I love You. I love You with my whole heart!"

Jesus: "Erin, you are forgiven. While it is okay to be angry, just don't lose a foothold to the enemy while doing so. The enemy sees an open door and seeks an opportunity to weaken your position. The tongue can cause troubles, so it is best to remain quiet unless I call you to speak.

"The weapons used at present by this vast enemy army are fear, control, hopelessness, anxiety, lies, false testimony and bearing false witness amongst brothers. These have increased. The news is filled with stories of fear. Many more have died from these things than that of the plague.

"Understand that there is a war against anyone who stands with Me, My Churches, My Words or My Commandments. So, continue to pray! Soon, very soon, the world will know I Am Who I say I Am. I Am God over all and I give no authority to the wicked over the meek. The meek and the downtrodden will inherit the Kingdom of Heaven! I love you, Erin. I am with you. Now rejoice and see your victory!" He smiled.

Dream over...

Word of Knowledge given to me shortly after I finished writing this dream down:

In Sub-Dream 1, the Lord allowed the wicked manager to enter my sleep. She then mocked me and the Lord by saying something evil. In Sub-Dream 2, the wicked manager wanted to mock me and the Lord again, but this time the Lord slammed the door shut on her. Now furious, she sent someone else, the 'hitman', in Sub-Dream 3. However, this was then the last invasion of my dreams as purposely allowed by God.

I also felt led to let people know not to fear what happened here in these three sub-dreams. They were meant as a lesson to us that evil sometimes has permission to do these things through the evil spirits they converse with. However, based on what happened in the specific succession of these three sub-dreams, God also wanted it to be completely obvious that He is bigger than the evil one's plans and certainly bigger than any witch attack.

Dream 429 – Take courage as your Redeemer is nigh

Received on Friday, August 21, 2020

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day and another dream. Other page has turned. My youngest son turned 21 yesterday. When the dreams began, he was just 13 years old. I am not certain where these last eight years have gone. I have been struggling so much. I have wondered if I have lost track of my journey somewhere, the path You had placed me on.

However, in Your gentle love and kindness, I realize that I have always been on the path You placed before me. It is just at times that I cannot see ahead. Sometimes it is because of a steep hill or foggy conditions.

However, during times like this, the only option is to stop, drop to my knees and pray for guidance and clear direction. For three evenings in a row, I have had dreams where I have been packing up to go somewhere.

It has been emotional and I am never sure of exactly where I am going. I just know that You are preparing me for a transition, a move from one state of being to another. I am scared, Father. I have no personal plans, so I believe and trust in Your plans. This morning, You reminded me of my journey as I have wondered if I am on the right path the last few weeks based on my many troubles.

This is what You placed on my heart. My path has been long and rocky. There have been very few smooth areas where I step. When it has been smooth, it has been short. It is usually because I am transitioning from one place on my journey to another on this path of life, all the while growing closer to God. It often seems as if I have travelled forever with no destination here on Earth, only in Heaven.

Jesus is faithful and reminds me that there is only one way which the Lord has said 'Erin, this is the way...walk in this'. There are not many...only one way to more of Jesus. This is obedience to His calling. This one way of obedience to Jesus is good because, when I have been on the right path, God sends food. I am nourished with His Words of comfort and encouragement to endure a little longer and to keep going.

He also provides water. The Holy Spirit is a wellspring to my soul and gives me vital strength. Without the Holy Spirit, there is no life. As I have gone through desert places, I have sometimes veered off course in search of wellsprings. Because God loves that I love Him so much, I am willing to boldly declare His principals and laws. I want so much to see this vision and His promises come to fruition.

He allows me to wander off course to discover what He showed me in advance that this was NOT His Will for me. When looking back at the path I veered from, all the signs from God were there to remind me that this was a chasing or distraction. When I have veered off of my main path in search of Jesus, I found that I had enough food to last me with the Word of God.

However, as I would walk, I would then begin to doubt my ability to hear from God properly via self-doubt. I then questioned my decisions because I could see no clear path ahead. When I would then ask the Lord, He would sometimes be silent. How can I expect Jesus to stick to His normal path of communication when I am the one who has taken my personally designed detour?

I acted and veered off course and I was then sad that Jesus had not adjusted to my path in the way I think He should. When I am truly doing the Lord's work, my Spirit is at peace. I am then 'well with my soul'. This didn't mean that I would not be under enemy attack. It just meant that the Lord would go before me and make a way where there seems to be none.

As a family, we are in this type of situation now. We are in need of miracles. We need to have Jesus create a way for us in the wilderness. Detour paths are typically desert in nature, desolate with very few things blooming to the right or to the left. When I have walked a desert path, I find thirst setting in, along with a parched spirit. My bones would then shrivel as I often became overheated.

I search for water when I am thirsty. I look for that wellspring of life in the Holy Spirit for the quenching of my doubts. I search for confirmation. I then cry out to Jesus for help. I then ask Him for ears to hear and eyes to see. If I am not going in the right direction, how can I expect to find water. I will not find it. I then find drywells instead and cry out to Jesus to fill them with refreshing springs. I am asking for this miracle now.

I am asking for His Holy Water, water that refreshes. Because He is good, and even with all of the mistakes in veering off His path, it is still really His journey and part of His plan to give Him all the glory. Father, we are on Your path. We are waiting on You. It is so difficult to sit back and watch the injustice playing out all over the world against Your people. Everything opposite of lovely is now in plain view.

I had something I have never had happen to me on Wednesday. My husband, my daughter and I attended Worship Service (which is every Wednesday). While I usually have a list of names and situations I take before Jesus, this was to be completely different this time. I suddenly had an open 3D vision.

Open vision "Jesus blessing our home"

I was caught up to our physical home. There was no one home except me. I was upstairs when I heard a knock on the door. When I went to see who it was, no one was there. I proceeded outside as I thought it was a hungry squirrel. There were no cars in our driveway. To my surprise, there was Jesus! He was walking around our property. Every type of animal and bird were following Him.

He appeared to be praying and blessing our property. He was wearing a beautiful white linen tunic and pants. He was also wearing sandals on His feet. He wore a banner of royalty over His shoulders. The banner was blue and engraved in silver. His skin was perfect and had a medium toned tan to it. His smile was bright. His eyes were green and blue. His hair was shoulder length. I ran to Him and He held me.

Me: "Lord, what are you doing here at my earthly home?"

Jesus: "Am I welcome here?"

Me: "Of course. This is all Yours, Lord, all of this. It is Your property."

Jesus: "Come."

Jesus walked over by our small creek and sat on a large rock. I saw Him move His arms. Just then, our tiny creek turned into a rushing stream with pure water. I watched our brown grass from our dry summer sprout fresh green sprigs. I saw trees being repositioned. We have many fallen trees, but they were now all removed. Other trees, perfect in structure, sprung up in their place.

Jesus was landscaping our property like a conductor of an orchestra. My jaw dropped in complete awe. The animals all sat down and watched the sight. He then walked with me towards my front door. Instead of entering, He stood there. I was petrified as my house was too messy to entertain the King of kings. I was like 'oh no, the Lord may want to come in!' I became sad and embarrassed.

Jesus: "Are you okay, Erin?"

Me: "I am sorry, Lord. You are always welcome in our home. However, I am just sorry about not having it tidier. It is not fit for the King."

Jesus: "I am not a home inspector; I am a heart inspector! Erin, I am with you. This means I also know your home. I walk here. Now, show Me around."

Me: "Yes, Lord, of course!" I was laughing.

Jesus walked to each of the bedrooms. He then blessed each one. He then walked down to my tiny devotional room, the room where these dreams are written.

Jesus: "Hmm, you have a lot of paperwork in here."

Before I could even apologize, one of my shelves cleared off and was replaced by eight thick black books. Each one was around four inches thick.

I somehow knew that each of these books represented one of my eight seven-year bridges. A ninth book then appeared. Instead of being black like the other ones, this one was a shimmery gold. I could tell it was active and changed with each day that passed in my current ninth bridge. I then noticed that all of my file boxes and stacks of paper had disappeared.

Me: "Wow, this is amazing, Lord!"

Jesus: "This is the only record you will need." He pointed to the beautiful gold 'ninth book'. "This one here is active. As events occur, it will expand. Now, how do you like all of this?"

Me: "I love it! Thank You!"

Jesus: "There is still much to do. However, you are never to be afraid to invite Me into your life. I am here to make things easier. With Me, all things are made brand new."

I looked around and all of the damaged items I had were made new. He repaired even the small things. He made reproductions originals. He removed things that were now burdening me.

Jesus: "I am with you, Erin. Do not be afraid to ask Me for help. I am here to help. Come."

He reached for my hand and we stepped out to our back porch. He then opened the sky over our property. I could then see Heaven visibly there. I could see angels bringing things in their arms.

Me: "Lord, what is happening?"

Jesus: Smiling. "This is good, Erin. Rejoice! Take courage."
Open vision over...

Just then, the service ended. I had been quietly crying during the vision. After we left the church, there was a rainbow waiting for us despite the fact that it had not even rained. The rainbow was in the shape of a column going up to the sky. A larger eagle then flew over our heads. Any doubts that I had was then erased by all of Your confirmations. Thank You, Father! I then had a dream on Thursday night.

Sub-dream 1 "Fire on the West Coast"

I was traveling in the Columbia Gorge. At first, it was unrecognizable with black smoke. It was so bad that I wasn't sure where I was. I then heard a voice of a bystander.

Man: "This is all about Global Warming. It is Global Warming. It has caused all of this destruction."

I suddenly realized that the smoke was coming from fires surrounding the Portland OR area. I then heard someone else.

Woman: "It was so beautiful. The land is now cursed. No one will stand. No one will stand!"

I was then over the western part of the USA looking down. Everywhere I looked there was smoke. All of this was being blamed on the President. Though the cause was from multiple lightning strikes, they still tried to blame him. I could then see from the west to the east. I saw storms of every kind. There were too many to call out individually. God's anger was on the land.

I then saw three massive storms over the water. I saw twelve water spouts. I saw twelve tornadoes over the south. It all came with no warning. I saw the ground falling and sinking with gaping holes. I saw earthquakes. There was no business taking place in the city. I then heard an angel of the Lord.

Angel: "God's power has come to strike the wicked."

I then saw the storms come and go. The sun then rose in the west and it remained suspended. A wave of healing then swept across the nation. Sub-dream 1 over...

Jesus: "Erin, come up."

Uriel was in front of me on his horse. He was in full armor and held something like a spear or a massive sword. He had a serious look on his face.

Uriel: "Erin, the man of lawlessness is there. He gives orders over his army. You are witnessing great lies sweeping like wildfires. Believe none of it. Do not be angry as there is no truth which can remove lies other than the Lord Who comes at the appointed time. Watch and observe the wicked and wait as God is also here.

"He will not be mocked. The enemy will not prevail. Remember, there is no justice. You are witnessing a war of lies. The very thing that God's people are being accused of are what the wicked are doing. There is also great confusion caused by the twisted coverage by the news media. Wait, Erin. Do not speak out until the Lord calls you to, understand?"

Me: "Uriel, will all of us...my household and the Nest...be okay?"

Uriel: "Yes. God is with you. The Lord is at your doorstep. There is an epic war. Now, I must go. God sent me to tell you to hold fast, take courage and look up. Your Redeemer is nigh."

He turned and was gone in an instant.

Dream 430 – Jesus is at our doorsteps!

Received on Sunday, August 23, 2020

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day! Thank You for Your love. Sigh...I must travel to see a specialist again this week. It cannot be avoided. I was warned that I will then need to self-isolate again for fourteen days until I am cleared to integrate with people again.

Father, I pray for Your divine protection against this plague as I do not want to catch this. People that we know who have had it have really suffered. It is depressing to have to schedule something like this and then know that I will then be likely traced and monitored. This is so frustrating.

Today marks six years from the day You told me that all of my children and I would be delivered from the hands of my enemy. This seemed impossible to us as the date of August 23, 2014, the precise date You gave us, was a Saturday. As this was a weekend, we knew that no legal offices or courts would be open.

What we didn't know that You obviously did was that the bank manager of my enemy, who was also a legal notary, would be available. She then signed as a witness to our agreement, using the state seal and her official mark, along with our signatures, on the morning of August 23, 2014. This was seemingly impossible, but it happened!

Father, You had also promised us that we would be gone before the end of August 23, 2014. We finally finished packing our things and went to McDonalds. It was now 11:00pm when something mysterious happened. When we went to start the car again, it would not start. I had no idea what we would do.

We did not know where we could stay. We would have to return to the home we had just left to stay until the next week for the car to be repaired. We were all now panicked and sad and I wondered if I had heard the date correctly. My oldest son, who had just finished driving school, suggested we formally pray and try starting the car again.

Well, formally pray we did. I mean all four of us prayed together with all of our hearts. I looked at my oldest son and told him that he deserved the honors of trying. He went into the driver's seat, put the key in the ignition and...IT STARTED!!! We cheered with jubilation!! We were SOOO happy! We were on the road again. We officially left the Tri-Cities WA area right before midnight on Saturday, August 23, 2014.

This was a miracle and a fulfillment of Your Promise, Father, all with a specific date. Thank You for Your promises. You fulfill these despite our, at the time, great doubts. No matter what, Your Words are always true! What a day of delivery this was.

My main enemy thought that he would eventually get the kids back and I would return in shame. He thought our marriage would not even last a year. He then did his level best to destroy my reputation amongst those that I had worked with, including builders, clients and friends. As I was no longer there to defend myself, lies and rumors replaced all the honest hard work that I had done there for so many people.

Anything bad which occurred was blamed on me under false testimonies. Anything good which occurred was taken credit for by others. As an example, a show home that I had just completed won best in show. As I was not there to be a part of it, my name was removed and others who did nothing on this project took the credit. There were other things and it went on and on. However, God, You delivered us to a place far from great troubles. Thank You. I had a dream last night...

Sub-dream 1 "Packing my bags to leave the East Bay Area" begins...

I was once again packing things, a common theme in some of my dreams recently. I was in the East Bay Area where I had grown up. I was in a hotel above a little 'five and dime' store. I used to go there with my friends after school on the walk home. However, this area no longer looked like it had when I lived there. Things had changed. It was now dark and foreboding.

I was older now and the sounds outside were mostly of sirens, yelling and gunshots. Before closing my suitcases, I walked around to check to make sure I had packed everything. I had. I closed the door behind me and proceeded down a flight of stairs to a back alleyway near a theater on Salona Avenue. This too was now an unsafe area. I was in shock and found it hard to believe how bad it now was.

Things were okay in 1973, but were really bad in 1976. Mom then moved us in 1976. This was such a blessing as many troubles had come. We had quite a few break ins and what little we had was stolen. Our car was broken into often too. Our music and anything like that were taken, even my Raggedy Anne Doll. By the time we left, all my belongings with sentimental value was relegated to a very small cardboard box.

To this day, I still find myself checking my surroundings. I study people and watch their eyes. When they want to do harm to you or steal, they behave in a manner I can detect. Really though, it was always You, Father, Who gave me discernment and a memory for details. These memories of the layout of a space all comes from You.

I soon found myself walking down an alleyway parallel to San Pablo Avenue. However, when I came to the end of this, I somehow found myself standing in front of a health food store on the corner of Church Street and Second Avenue in Sandpoint ID. The places I was now staring at were circa 1978 to 1980, not as it is today. I immediately wanted to see my mom as I knew she would still be alive in these years. While I was calling out for her, I was promptly woken up from the dream.

Sub-dream 1 over...

As I laid there in bed, I felt temporarily disoriented. I prayed to You in thanks for getting us out of the East Bay Area before it really got bad. I soon fell asleep. You then gave me an amazing dream of You...

Sub-dream 2 "Visiting Jesus in my yard" begins...

I was holding a tray of nuts to feed the animals. When I walked outside of the door into our yard, it was a beautiful day...sunny and about 70 degrees. I set the tray down and began to look for Jesus. I could feel His presence and I wanted...no, needed...to see Him. I went over to the same rock Jesus had sat on in my Open Vision while at church.

Me: "Lord, where are You? Are You here?"

The rock Jesus had sat on was now back to its usual much smaller size in reality. The creek was once again quiet with very little water flow. There were no animals around. I became sad as it was so much better when He was here with me.

Me: "Lord, please come back. Please come back to my home."

I closed my eyes and tried to think back to Him being here again. I longed to remember every detail from my Open Vision as tears streamed down my cheeks.

Me: "When, Lord? When will You come to fulfill Your promises? The world is becoming worse. The world has grown so cold and so quickly."

I then found myself reflecting on Your Words in Proverbs 6:12-19, "A worthless person, a wicked man, goes about with crooked speech, winks with his eyes, signals with his feet, points with his finger, with perverted heart devises evil, continually sowing discord; therefore calamity will come upon him suddenly; in a moment he will be broken beyond healing. (Personal comment: Beyond Your grace and mercy = far from it or permanently broken = reprobate). There are six things that the Lord hates, seven that are an abomination to him: haughty eyes, a lying tongue, and hands that shed innocent blood, a heart that devises wicked plans, feet that make haste to run to evil, a false witness who breathes out lies, and one who sows discord among brothers”.

Me: “Oh Lord, the Earth is filled with things You hate. Please find mercy on those of us who are looking for You. Things are growing worse and worse. Lies and wickedness have replaced all that is good. You have veiled the wicked from seeing what truth is. Lord, do not forget Your promises to all of us.”

As I sat on this small rock, I felt it become as large as in my Open Vision. My feet now dangled from where I sat. The creek then began to flow with clear water. I then heard the sounds of birds and animals gathering around me. I saw the yard change. The flowers blossomed where they were now out of season. I felt a hand on my right shoulder. I looked and there was Jesus! He was once again here in my yard! His face was beautiful and His smile was bright.

Me: “Lord, I am used to only seeing You in Heaven. I usually only hear from You down here, not actually seeing you. I am still in shock that I am now seeing You here too.”

Jesus: Laughing. “This is interesting to Me. Are you in shock that I would be present here with you on Earth or that this is here with you in your yard?”

Me: “Forgive me, Lord, but yes to both! I am used to meeting You in Heaven, not in my yard.”

Jesus: “Hmm, well, I can leave if...”

Me: I jump up and down excitedly. “Oh no! No, no, no, no! Stay, stay, stay! I am so honored by Your presence! Please stay! I am just not used to it here!”

Jesus: “Have you not prayed ‘on Earth as it is in Heaven’? Hmm, I am pretty sure you have. So, did I not just answer your prayers?”

Me: “Oh yes, Lord, You have!” Tears streamed down my cheeks. “You are amazing, Lord. I want You here.” I decided to make a joke, but with a serious side to it. “Lord, I just love ‘what You do to the place’ when You are here.” We both laughed.

Jesus: “Interesting. Then we are at the same place in our thoughts. I want you with Me too. I just love ‘what you do to the Place’ when you are in Heaven. Erin, it is not the same without you there. I have prepared a place for you. There are people who have gone there before you that are ready to greet you.”

Me: “Lord, something is wrong with me. My health is poor. Are You preparing me to go Home? Are You going to take me Home to Heaven? Is this why You are here?” I was now crying again.

Jesus: "What? And miss out on all I still have for you here? Is this what you want?"

Me: "No, Lord. Please understand my place...my position. When You show me something, I wonder if this is for right now or if this is for later. I then wonder if I will actually remain here to see this. You have given me specific dates before and these have been precise. While the events don't unfold like I guess they might, they still always occur exactly like You said they would in hindsight."

Jesus: "Hmm, so, hindsight is '2020' then." He smiled. "Erin, I don't give you specifics for your own good and for the good of those whose hope is in Me. This is because of several factors. Although you do not see it this way, this is mainly for your benefit. There is a great plan in place, one that the enemy of Heaven and the enemies of My Bride are unaware of.

"While you are unaware of this as well, and again for your benefit, you can conclude that My plans will be much greater than the plans of 'the prince of perdition'. Erin, there is an epic battle right now. Your 'earthly' eyes are sheltered from this right now. However, your 'spiritual' eyes know that the battle is occurring all around you. In terms of the natural, you are seeing something that appears as 'chaos'.

"However, this is not 'chaos'. Chaos is unruly, unplanned and un-orchestrated. The 'chaos' you see is actually very much orchestrated via enemy attacks. This 'chaos' is meant to cause fear and confusion. The only ones who see through this right now are those I have called. This means that even some you think not sees this too. This permission was granted by God in His Courts to allow the evil spirits to drop as rain into those whose hearts are bitter against God and His people.

"This was so those with eyes to see and ears to hear will see it manifest clearly as no evil is hidden. Day by day, the wicked reveal themselves more and more. This is now very clear. Things on their hearts are like a muscle attached to their tongues so that all is loosed from their lips. Angel armies have now been sent as My patience has waned. I am now sending troubles upon the lands and nations."

Me: "Yes. However, the 'experts' are calling this 'Global Warming'. However, it is really because of Your anger at all that is being done against the innocent. Lord, I fear that the troubles will continue to increase. How will we be able to make it?"

Jesus: "Yes, troubles will continue to increase, but for the wicked. Erin, when it comes to you and those who love Me with all of their hearts, I will not allow evil to win. God prevails. However, and even more than this, remember that I reign over all things."

Me: "Lord, are You really here with me in my yard right now?"

Jesus: Laughing. "Yes, Erin, I really am. Just because you see that all things seem like chaos around you and that the enemy can call out, twisting My Words of Truth and stating I do not care because I am indifferent...well, this is not true. I can be fighting this great enemy while I can also be here in your yard and in the yard of your friends. My presence is without limitations. I am always with you. I am always with your friends.

"Erin, I can be in different areas at the same time. I am not limited to walls, fences or front doors. Do not listen to the 'main liar in chief'. He is unable to be present in several areas at once as he is limited. Always remember that you have Me as your greatest ally. I Am your 'Creator-in-Chief'. I am the Chief of Truth and the Lover of your soul. Wait on Me as...soon, very soon...all will change for the good of those who love Me."

He smiled as He reached over to hug me.

Me: "I love You, Lord!"

Jesus: "I love you, Erin. Now, things will appear much worse. The news will make you grieve. However, understand that I am greater and My plans are greater even still. You have now prepared your house. This too is Mine. I am about to do something in your days you would not believe even if you were told. Rejoice, Erin, for I am here and I am with you. I have not forgotten you. All is about to change." He smiled and hugged me again. "So, Erin, are you ready?"

Me: "Yes, Lord. However, there are storms coming and we need some miracles to come up."

Jesus: "These will come to nothing. All of this has been foretold. I will not just send provisions though...I will send much more. Remember, I have overcome the world. Even though the storm clouds have gathered and there is a looming threat, even though you see lightning, hear thunder and feel the wind, even though you can see fires and smoke on the horizon...still fear not as I am with you. If I am with you then nothing can come against you. Stand firm and call out to Me. I am here. I will take hold of your right hand. There will be nothing you cannot do in My Name."

Me: "Will I even be able to cause a small rock to turn into a large rock?"

Jesus: "Yes. Go ahead."

He pointed to a small rock roughly five inches high, wide and deep. I then prayed as I spread my arms out in three directions. While just an approximation, I moved my arms apart about five feet high, wide and deep. I then watched in complete awe as the rock turned large to my exact 'vision specifications'. This rock was now almost 2,000 times its original volume (12 cubed)!

Me: In an excited voice. "What? Are You serious? What? Oh wow! What?" I was now jumping up and down in complete glee.

Jesus: Laughing. "You can also split it in half and then put it back together if you will do this in My Name."

Just then, I placed my hand like a karate chop over the rock. I then motioned over it without actually touching the rock. It split in two. However, this was not an ordinary break. It was split into two perfectly as if it had been expertly cut by a waterjet.

Me: Jumping up and down in excitement again. "Lord, this is awesome!"

Jesus: Laughing. "Well, go ahead and put it back together."

I spread my two hands apart. I then prayed as I moved my hands together, again without actually touching the rock. The rock then fused back together. It showed absolutely no sign of a crack.

Me: "Wow, Lord! When will I be able to do this in reality?"

Jesus: Smiling. "Soon, Erin. Now, rejoice, as I am with you...always!"

Me: "Lord, this is the time of the Great Harvest, right? This is the time of Your Great Miracles, right?"

Jesus: "You have only to see what has occurred to know that 'the time and times' are at the doorstep. I am at the doorstep." He smiled. "Erin, I am at your doorstep."

Dream 431 – One Phase Completed, a Better Phase Now to Come Received on Monday, September 7, 2020

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day! Thank You for Your love and protection over our household. Something happened on Wednesday, September 2, 2020 during evening worship and prayer service. Since this date, prayers for my children have been answered. My daughter was vindicated and given something even better. There is much more as well, but I am so thankful.

We went through stages as it appeared that the enemy was succeeding against us in stage after stage. Then, and without warning and unexpectedly, You worked behind the scenes. All of our bad news then turned into good news. While we had very bad news on Monday, August 31, 2020, we were delivered from it by 2:00pm on Friday, September 4, 2020. We were delivered from troubles. It was a huge faith builder.

On that same Monday, there were false accusations and threats against my daughter, all of them unreasonable. By Friday, we were vindicated on all fronts. She was falsely accused of several things at work and she resigned after the Board flipfopped. By Friday, evidence surfaced contrary to the false testimony of her evil boss. The Board then apologized to her and offered her a position while she is enrolled at college.

This was all a miracle! The minute this Reiki Master / Shaman was removed as manager, I slept better and so did our household. Her schemes were exposed. I later had a dream that sort of related to this...

Sub-dream 1 "Knock, knock...don't answer!"

I woke up to the sound of pounding on our front door. As I went towards the loud knocking to answer it, I heard Your Voice...

Jesus: "This is one knock you don't have to answer."

I realized it was my daughter's evil boss trying to get into my dreams again. I took the Lord's advice and turned away from the door. The knocking instantly went away.

Sub-dream 1 over...

That was fun! Thank You, Lord. When she was allowed in my dream the last time, she mocked me, saying 'I am here to stay. I have won!' It disturbed me so much that she could do this. I then felt relieved when You reminded me that You are in complete control of all things and this was allowed for a teaching moment, a warning of the plans of the wicked and their power aside from God. It was an important lesson. I then had another dream last night...

Sub-dream 2 "Portal to Open Heavens"

In real life, we have a little creek with a trickle and no big rock. In this dream, the water was flowing and pure and with a big rock next to it. You were standing next to this rock. You shined like the sun. I could then see through the sky above You. It looked like a window to Heaven. You smiled and called me to You. There You comforted me and spoke blessings of healing and encouragement. This was like food for a great journey.

I do not remember much of what was said, so I prayed that You would show me this. All I know is that I felt good and confident that God is fully in control over all things and that I need not worry. The Lord then pointed to the stream. A bridge then formed over the stream. On the other side of the stream was a portal to Open Heavens. It was an amazing sight and filled me with such hope.

Sub-dream 2 over...

When I awoke from this dream, I heard the song 'Carry on Wayward Son' by Kansas in my mind. This song was released on November 19, 1976. For fun, I went to my date calculator and discovered this was 15,999 days ago. Hard to believe that I was only 13 years old at the time. I then went to the lyrics of 'Carry on Wayward Son', 'Dust in the Wind' and 'Point of No Return'. Some of the band members had become Christian and left shortly after this. I then read the lyrics of 'Hold on'...

"Hold On" by Kansas

Look in the mirror and tell me just what you see
What have the years of your life taught you to be?
Innocence dying in so many ways
Things that you dream of are lost, lost in the haze
Hold on, baby, hold on 'cause it's closer than you think
And you're standing on the brink
Hold on, baby, hold on 'cause there's something on the way
Your tomorrow's not the same as today
Don't you recall what you felt when you weren't alone

Someone Who stood by your side, a face you have known
Where do you run when it's too much to bear?
Who do you turn to in need when nobody's there?
Outside your door, He is waiting, waiting for you
Sooner or later, you know He's got to come through
No hesitation and no holding back
Let it all go and you'll know you're on the right track

You are such an intricate God! There is no one like You. I listened to these songs in my youth and had no idea that some of them were actually secretly referencing You. I was clueless. Who would ever think of You with all of the distractions of the world? I was not around Christians, so how could I know You unless You spoke to me or appeared in a miraculous way?

It would be impossible. I am thankful for You, Father. Bless everything You do! May Your people bless You with great love and thanksgiving. May the wicked turn, repent, run to You and bless You for all You have done from the beginning to the end. Let no enemy or scheme of man come against Your people.

I want to be a blessing to You, Father. I desire to add to Your Kingdom, not be a deficit. Please show us today how we may bless You. I love You, Father. There are so many people who do not know You. Please strengthen us...in Jesus' Name, Amen!

Jesus: "Erin, come up."

I was in my yard. I could hear music coming from somewhere, but I didn't know where the source was. I laughed when I heard the Kansas song 'Hold On' start playing.

Me: "Lord, where are You?"

I went to the front yard by the tiny creek. I saw a tube of sunlight shining down on the grass. I then saw a flash and Jesus was immediately there. He was illuminated in the light of the sun. I was afraid to run to Him because I had not seen him in this type of scenario before. The light then went into the Lord and was now fully upon Him. He stretched His arms out. My fear disappeared and I ran to hug Him. He was smiling.

Jesus: "I am glad to see you, Erin. You have been busy." He smiled.

Me: "Yes, Lord. The enemy had ramped up against us. It has been a brutal time."

He smiled and nodded as He directed me to the large beautiful rock that appears every time the Lord visits me here.

Me: "Lord, can You leave this rock here in 'real life'? I love it. It would remind me of You. I also..." I suddenly went quiet.

Jesus: "Speak, Erin. Go ahead. You won't be 'smoted'." He smiled.

Me: "I am sorry, Lord. I don't think You would ever allow that to those who love You. Still, why are You here in my yard instead of me being with You in Heaven? Did I lose Your favor in Heaven?"

Jesus: Smiling. "No, Erin. It is because you have graduated from the 'training ground' portion of your journey. You are now training here."

Me: "Lord, I am not understanding."

Jesus: "You were taken on the spiritual journey of your path. This is where you learned how to reconcile your past. You wrestled with Me in the training grounds. I taught you there. You were also instructed by angels. You were given a great land, a vast field, whereby you planted various crops for the harvest. You learned about each one and how I care for all of this.

"Every aspect of planting to the final harvest and beyond is important. The training fields are living parables in which I breathe wisdom and knowledge in to grow you for what was then, what is now and what is to come. There is so much I could show you. However, for now, your journey of this portion is complete."

Me: I became sad. "I don't like this, Lord. I liked seeing Heaven instead."

Jesus: Smiling, He began to tease me in the most delightful way. "I know, Erin, it is hard to think that I won't take you there again." He continued, but not in a sarcastic or mocking way. He shook His head and placed His face in His hand. "Oh, this is so distressing!" He smiled again and looked with love at my eyes. "Oh Erin, this is such a travesty!"

Me: Laughing. "Oh Lord, You are teasing me. You even do this perfectly! You are smiling and laughing. This brings me such comfort knowing I will be up there with You again soon. Thank You, Lord!"

Jesus: Smiling. "Oh Erin, really think about this. If I just finished proclaiming that you have graduated from training, doesn't completing one phase mean that a better one is about to come? Erin, did it ever occur to you that I won't be taking you up to Heaven because you, by My authority, are able to go on your own." He pulled out a key. "Now, this key is symbolic. However, you do not need it."

Just then, a light came over us. The creek then began to expand. There appeared a bridge in our yard which crossed over. On the other side, I could see Heaven. It was like in my sub-dream, but with much more detail.

Jesus: "Only those who I have given authority to can cross over and back. You have a key. Go ahead, Erin, walk across."

I walked across. As I did, the landscape changed. I went back over to the Lord.

Me: "But where will You be, Lord?"

Jesus: "I am with you and with all those I have given authority to."

He could tell I didn't really understand.

Me: "So, can I come anytime?"

Jesus: Smiling. "Yes, Erin. You can come to rest and remember where you belong. There is no enemy around you on your worldly side either. You are in the care of angels...the angel Gabriel himself and Raphael even and many more."

Me: "But where is Uriel, Lord?"

Jesus: "Uriel serves a role of messenger. You need not worry. You will see him again." The Lord then pretended to look hurt to make me laugh. "Oh Erin, you will still have Me though." He laughed as He nudged me.

Me: Laughing. "Oh Lord, I am so sorry. You are everything to me. It is just that I still do not fully understand all of this."

Jesus: "I am showing you in advance what I am about to do. Erin, great judgments have come upon the nations. Things will become worse and fear will keep people in hiding and silent. Those I have called and strengthened will soon deliver tidings of great joy, comfort and healing. Nothing will come against you.

"Now, the enemy has been removed from the Courts of God. He is now at war with My army of angels in the heavenlies. He has been allowed to send advancements ahead of his coming. You know this by what you see.

Many are veiled as they have been turned over to all types of evil spirits."

Me: "I hate what is happening, Lord. I hate what I am seeing and hearing.

All of this is just so very wicked. It hurts my heart."

Jesus: "Do not worry, Erin, as the God of all Creation will not be mocked. I will not be mocked. My people will not be trampled. The time of the 'Great Shaking' is now here. However, there is something else to this. What the enemy planned for evil, I will turn it to good. I have a plan much greater than the enemy's prideful predication.

"Erin, it is I who allowed the acceleration of evil so that those who see it will recognize the enemy working in it. They enjoy their victories so much that they fail to notice that there are many who are not under their veil of deception."

Me: "Lord, so much of the land is now like Sodom and Gomorra. It is what I imagined Nineveh to have been like."

Jesus: "Erin, I send My Watchmen..." He smiled. "...and My Watchwomen..." Gently nudging me. "...to proclaim the Good News, to proclaim the Year of the Lord's Favor to those in mourning."

Me: "Lord, this year has been horrible so far. The year is almost over."

Jesus: "Erin, do not worry. I have measured the hearts of many. I have weighed the wicked on My scales of justice. My scales are even and good. As such, My judgment against the wicked is fair, understand?"

Me: "Yes, Lord. It is just that some are so evil..."

Jesus: "I know. However, they will not prevail. They will not gain Heaven.

Your job is to deliver the Good News of healing and rebuilding. Just as rapidly as evil has descended on the land, then too will My goodness and mercy come. Rejoice, Erin!"

Me: "I am excited for what You are about to do, Lord. Without this, the wicked would burn up the land. I had a dream recently wherein I walked down the middle of the street during a riot. In my heart, I didn't want to see any of them redeemed. In my heart, I felt such anger towards them. Oh Lord, I repent for having these feelings."

Jesus: Smiling. "Are you referencing yourself as Jonah?"

Me: He knew I was. I smiled as I shook my head. "Yes, Lord."

Jesus: "Well, you are different than Jonah."

Me: "I read that he was the only one who defied You in Your Word, whereas others only resisted You."

Jesus: "Yes, this is true." He laughed. "However, you know that I still continue to call. I continued to call him to where I knew he did not want to go. He was stiff-necked. However, I still had My hand in his life from the beginning. His story is still told throughout history. However, not all of the story is told."

Me: "I read that he was the son of the woman of Zarephath, the one whom Elijah raised from the dead."

Jesus: "Interesting." He smiled. "This is a good story then, right? Does this sound like something I would do?"

Me: "Yes, Lord. You are intricate and detailed in everything You do. There is nothing and no one more brilliant than You. Elijah might have even trained Jonah as a boy. Their personalities are surely similar. Very interesting. A mystery!"

Jesus: Laughing. "Yes, Erin, this is a mystery. As you know too well, if there is something I have called you to...even if you run from Me...I still seek you out. I still call you. I love you and it is I who refined you in the fire of affliction. I was with you. I have not changed. I am the same yesterday, today and tomorrow. I do not change."

Me: "While this is true, you can also do a new thing, right?"

Jesus: Smiling. "Yes, Erin...all the while staying true to My Word. The difference between the Kingdom of Heaven and the world is this... My Kingdom is always advancing, always becoming better. In perfection, it remains the same. It is removed from impurities. It is always good and clean, understand?"

Me: "Yes. It is so beautiful. I can't wait. It is creative and productive. It was created in Your image, Lord, and in all things You!"

Jesus: "Hmm, that is interesting. However, is it not I Who built it for you?"

Me: "Yes, Lord. While it is perfectly You, it is still uniquely for us."

Jesus laughed as He nodded His head in approval. He then became more serious.

Jesus: "Erin, dedicate this month to prayer. Keep the lost in your prayers. Press into Me during this time. Pray for the nations. Pray for repentance. Pray for the 'Great Turning Back'. Erin, there is a great war."

Me: "Yes, Lord, I will."

Jesus: "My favor is upon you. Because you are Mine, I will use you to provoke, to reconcile and to heal. You are greatly loved."

Dream 432 – Trust in God for His deliverance

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day! Thank You for Your blessings and great love. We have had such a busy month so far. My body is unable to do simple tasks. My small motor skills are becoming worse. Typing, texting and writing in my journal is becoming very difficult. My communication is at a standstill as a result. Without staying in contact with my friends and even my children, I then become lonely and separated.

My pain has increased and my handwriting is poor. Oh Father, please heal my hands so I can write easier. Please remove the pain so that I can focus completely on my time with You. I am struggling. Please also bless all of our friends on the Nest. I am so sad that troubles are increasing for so many.

Three days ago, on the Jewish Sabbath, Synagogues around the world recited Isaiah 61:10 and forward as part of the Haftarah. On the Sabbath before last, Synagogues recited up to the end of Isaiah 60. This means that Isaiah 61:1-9 were purposely left out. You had recited Isaiah 61:1-2a as per Luke. Isaiah 61, in its entirety, is about the Year of Your Favor. The purposeful skipping of what You recited is so heartbreaking.

This week is Your Covenant that You will bless Your people. You will bless the young and the old, citizens and foreigners, the least to the greatest. You generously offer a place in Your Kingdom, the Kingdom of God (Deuteronomy 29:13). It was also for those standing at present and those who were not present at that time also (Deuteronomy 29:15). Though the ancestors broke this covenant, God then made a new covenant (Jeremiah 31:31-32). You then extended this to everyone (Jeremiah 31:34).

Oh Father, please let this upcoming Ten Days of Awe be the Great Time of Turning. Please let this be the Great Time of Transformation. Surely, Father, we need to turn our faces towards You now. Moses warned the people that they would be forced to endure tragedy after tragedy because of their rebellion, idolatry and sin. These tragedies included siege, famines, poverty, war and even forced exile and desolation.

Father, the rebellion in the USA is so visible, so blatant and so graphic that it is difficult to even write about. The Governors and Mayors of the Western States have allowed lawlessness to thrive. They have turned away from You. Still, not all have turned. You still have people there who love You. Please have mercy. Please turn and heal the land, Father. The stories and photos my friends are sending are so difficult to view.

So many areas in Washington State, Oregon and California are now burning up. Father, You are allowing the punishment of the USA. It is so painful to watch the beauty of Your land, once dedicated fully to You, now being in flames. Corrupt government officials have allowed our cities to burn. This comes right after being forced to stay indoors due to the plague.

After treating us like prisoners, we are still not allowed to fully keep our businesses running. We are still not allowed to fully have church services. Though casinos, liquor stores and rioting continue unabated, they tell us that singing or even worshiping is still too dangerous to happen. In terms of the protests, these too are only allowed if the causes are acceptable and fashionable to the 'narrative'.

I am witnessing some very angry people right now. Many even look like they want to kill you if you counter their views. Just as You said, Father, the demons have come and advanced against us through people with no understanding. These same people have anger, bitterness, envy and hate in their hearts. The demons have been amplified. The behaviors we are witnessing are so visibly shocking that I simply have no words.

Elderly people are being hurt in broad daylight. No one is there to help. The world is falling so quickly now, but especially the USA. I am struggling, Father. I am grieving the loss of all that used to be. The world has turned so dark and so quickly. Nothing lasts here. Nothing here is forever. All of what we see around us, all of our earthly possessions, will burn. Nothing can be taken with us, those things that we toiled for.

Even our earthly debts are removed at our time of death here. Father, so many of my dreams recently have been quite grim. The landscape throughout the world has changed and grown so dark. I have to believe there is a coming financial collapse. In my dream last night, I was only an observer. I was not present in the physical...

Sub-dream 1 "A Post-Rapture Hell Scape" begins...

I saw people being hunted for sport. All law was now removed. What was left were something like gangs. It felt like I was witnessing a type of 'civil war'. One side was fighting for order (as they saw it), while the other side was fighting for totalitarianism. These people took what they wanted. However, there were turf wars within these groups. They fought both externally and internally for dominance and power.

The side fighting for total control had hate so extreme that their demons did things in a prevalent manner. There was no filter, no hiding and no one opposed. Whole cities were fenced up. While they said this was to stop the spread of the plague, this was not the case at all. It took six months to take many of the cities over. The people who lived there then served as slaves, handing over their property to save their lives.

However, many stood against the tyranny and then died doing so. Many were also killed because of their skin color. The churches were burned. Bibles and even history books were also burned. All evidence was removed. However, God's people were already gone...raptured.

I then saw a mansion used specifically for human trafficking. The highest bids were given to those who could produce youngsters that looked as young as ten that were certified as virgins. However, these pedophiles were then in for a nasty surprise. As part of the deception, some of the young girls and boys that had been raptured were now replaced with demon impersonators.

These demons looked around the age of ten, a much sought-after age by pedophiles. Since all of those under the age of accountability were already removed in the rapture, all of these young children were really demons. Things then went very poorly with the perpetrators when they later tried to have relations with them. To make a long story short, it was as gory as anything I have ever seen in any movie. I will leave it at that.

I then saw massive freight trucks carting bodies to an incinerator. There were thousands of bodies. Many of them appeared to have died of fright via a heart attack and/or being grief stricken. There were also underground groups of people. Some were crying out to God, but more were speaking about God's 'Great Abandonment'.

All God's favor had now been removed. There were no hospitals or schools. There were no businesses, only markets with booths. Some looked like giant carts that could be locked up and shuttered at night. I saw no animals or birds. I saw no dogs or cats. I saw nothing that would bring someone joy. It truly seemed as if all of God's light had now been removed and that all those who remained were simply trying to survive.

It was horrible to watch. No one would want anyone they know endure this. No one would want anyone they love to remain here. No one would even want this for their worst enemies!

I was then taken to a surprisingly beautiful area. This area was completely out of place with the hell scape I had been witnessing. This was obviously a place for the wealthy leaders to meet. I was not sure of the location though. I then saw several global leaders in a meeting. They were discussing several key points. One was establishing a world market, complete with a means of a trade-like currency.

There were two leaders speaking via teleconference. One was now in control. He spoke of the situation with a global leader who was threatening to shutdown shipping lanes, roads and airways for supplies unless certain demands were met. The one world leader seemed very much in control. However, something was odd about him that I can't fully explain. I noticed that his eyes now had an odd type of film over them.

This leader then used many expletives when talking about God. He bragged that there were no other gods but him. Any speaking of the Christian God or Jewish God was to now be deemed as a myth. He indicated that any remnant Christians be sought out and 'removed' in order to have a clean slate free of any 'disinformation'. He then went on to brag that he was now the only 'god' that could save the planet.

He spoke a message of hope. He encouraged those who remained that he would rebuild the Earth into an ideal environment for 'his people'. This leader then devised a scheme to work with the other leaders. However, he really wanted to subdue them until the countries he controlled were strengthened and had recovered from their losses. I then witnessed a chilling conversation:

Controlled leader of a small country: "What about Israel?"

World leader: "Do not be afraid. This will all be under my control very soon. I am the savior of all that is left."

Sub-dream 1 over...

Father, this was a horrible dream. As much as I hate the things people with no understanding are doing, I don't wish this for any of them. Oh Father, please open their eyes so that none are lost!

Jesus: "Erin, come up."

I was in my yard carrying a nut tray to feed the animals in the yard. I suddenly realized that Jesus should be there. I ran over to the rock where Jesus usually is waiting for me, the rock that doesn't really exist. I was saddened when I saw the rock, but not Him.

Me: "Lord? Where are You?"

I then heard the sound of a shofar.

Me: "Lord? Where are You?"

I then heard the sound of a shofar again.

Me: "Lord, where am I to go? I need Your help!"

Just then, a bridge appeared over our stream. There waiting for me was Uriel and his horse. I dropped the nut tray and ran across the bridge to Uriel. I looked back once I crossed and I could see all the little animals come to the tray that was now laying on the ground. I giggled with delight. When I looked down, I noticed that my sweatpants had now turned into a beautiful linen gown of white. I looked at Uriel and laughed with delight. He smiled back at me momentarily.

Uriel: Looking serious again. "God requests your presence today, Erin."

I smiled and nodded in agreement. I reached up and took his hand. We were instantly at God's door. Uriel put salve in my eyes and brought me into God's Throne Room from His Garden. I could hear the sound of the choir of angels.

Choir of angels: "Holy, Holy, Holy is the Lord God Almighty!"

The voices created layers upon layers of voices that went higher and higher. The light from the Throne of God was brilliant. While I could see no details, I caught glimpses of some movement by the angels that surround His Throne. The music and song went into my body and through me. As Uriel walked me nearer to God, my legs grew weak and my cells were no longer mine. I bowed before him.

While my rational thinking may tell me I could stand, my being simply would not allow it... nor would I want it to. This is hard to describe. The best way I can describe this is that His presence is simply irresistible and impossible to control even in the slightest. I then heard the choir of angels singing in perfect harmony again.

Choir of angels: "Holy is God, Strong, Mighty and Wonderful. How Great is Your Works? How wonderful is Your Court?"

Me: Needing all my strength to shout out. "Oh Father, You are so awesome!"

I knelt with arms lifted high in praise to God on His Throne. I could feel the deep blue stone, the living floor, under me. Even this seemed to breathe. The depth of this sea was simply beautiful. Even the stones breathe and worship here in Heaven. Everything worships God here.

Me: Speaking from within my heart. "Oh Father, please forgive me for my poor attitude these days. I have been so discouraged by all of the bad news. I have become depressed. I have failed to remember that You, Father, reign supreme over all things."

God: Having read my thoughts. "Please, Erin, speak out loud."

Me: "Oh Father, bless You! Bless You in all that You do. May my family and my household be a blessing to You. May the Nest and my friends also be a blessing to You."

God: "Erin, I am glad you came. I missed you. So, how are you?" He already knew.

Me: "Father, I am sorry. I have seen troubles upon the nations, but especially the USA. I see no end. This is becoming worse every day."

God: "Do not worry, Erin, as I have a plan. I have reserved this for a time such as this. I send the earthquakes. I send the storms. I allow the fires to be set. I allow the cities to be ravaged. Now, why do I do this?"

Me: "Is it because the USA has turned from You?"

God: "Well, yes, but more than this. I am the Alpha and the Omega, the beginning and the end. Before Me, no other gods exist. There is no 'Mother God'. There is no shaman or high priestess who can stand against Me. This was all allowed to humble the land in advance. This was all allowed to prepare for the Great Harvest of Souls. While it looks like the man of lawlessness has beaten My leader right now, he has not.

"Be careful of what you are shown with reports. What you hear is only in part. It is not truth. As the plague came over the Earth, people went inside to shelter. However, this did not stop this plague. This is because I knew in advance which ones I would allow to be affected. The enemy launched a counterattack to scare people further. In order to see how long it would take to be god over all and control the masses, they then used lies and fear to further imprison my people and silence their voices.

"To ensure their silence, they then sent those with demons to further silence those I have reserved. Despite this, I continued to prosper the land. I did this to further frustrate the enemy. I then sent storms and fire to further divert attention away from the destroyer and his 'uplifting' message of fear. Erin, you are seeing corruption on full display and in full view. I have sent angels to continue to punish the land.

"In wave after wave, I will continue until I hear the prayers of My people for help. I will then turn and heal the land. There is a great plan of deception in place. There are many lies. However, I will soon bridle those tongues to confess to their wickedness, their wicked deeds. None will escape. None will hide from My hand of judgment. Now, take heart, as I am the Alpha and the Omega, the beginning and the end."

Me: "Thank You, Father!"

God: "Erin, take heart and be strong in this. I will not let the enemy win. I love you. I love My people. I have heard their cries and I am God over them.

I do not sit by idly and watch the wicked prosper. Who is like a man who gains the world, but loses his soul? He is soon forgotten. Though he reigns on Earth and punishes those less privileged than he, his glee and power will be like a millstone to him. He will then be thrown into the depths. No one will hear him curse.

"Now, you are witnessing a foreshadowing of the wicked who host demons. You are witnessing the operation of their schemes. Take note as this is wisdom to discern their schemes. This is enough for now. Remember... I Am Who I say I Am. Erin, I Am!"

Uriel came to bring me up and to the door. I looked back towards God as best as I was able to. I now had tears in my eyes.

Me: "I love You, Father! Please help us!"

God: "I love you! Yes, I will help."

Uriel brought me out as I waved goodbye to God.

Uriel: "God has a great plan, Erin. Be encouraged. All the things and events you see are all part of His plan. He has allowed the troubles, understand?"

Me: "Yes, I know."

Uriel: "Then trust in God for His deliverance. Pray for those who are lost to see. Many will be deceived by what you are now seeing as obvious. Some will be deceived, but only for a short while."

He walked me to the bridge. He smiled at me, but was then gone in an instant. I crossed back over the bridge to my yard. It was now back to how it normally is. While I am over 3,000 miles from the fires, the haze of smoke is even now over us. Father, my former homeland is burning!

Dream 433 – Be Ready!

Received on Saturday, September 19, 2020

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for this day, another day alive! Thank You for all we have. Thank You for my husband, children and friends. I am exhausted today. It is unseasonably cool. There was rain last night followed by frost this morning. It will be in the low 50s today. The little animals outside have been scrambling to gather food. We have been inundated with at least 12 small red squirrels and at least 8 large grey squirrels.

There were about 15 large grey squirrels not that long ago, so something must be hunting them. We also had several chipmunks, but they have disappeared with the cool temperatures. We have been swarmed with about 20 Blue Jays and about 10 mourning doves. We once had about 20 mourning doves. Since taking photos of the 12 wild turkeys, we have not seen them since. I am hoping they weren't someone's supper.

UPDATE: We just saw the wild turkeys again as we were about to post the dream.

The sudden cool temperatures have brought out vivid red maples in the midst of the green trees. The trees usually gradually turn from green to yellow to orange, then a few reds, followed by a few windstorms to clear the leaves out. This year seems to have a change in God's usual pattern. We are also in a bit of a drought. My husband has only needed to mow about five times this season, less than half of normal.

Nothing has been the same this year. 2020 is the year of the vengeance of God's judgment, but also what I believe will soon be the Year of His favor. This favor will come upon all of those God is calling. In the meantime, I am tired, and I mean really exhausted. I have not emailed anyone or returned messages or sent texts. However, I believe You have removed this ability so that I sit quietly in Your presence.

Father, I must repent of several things this week. Because I am tired and don't want to engage in long conversation about my personal life, I usually respond to questions with 'all is great' or 'fine'. I have been telling these untruths in order to let me off the hook in having deep conversations.

This is wrong and I feel it doesn't serve You fully. I am so sorry that I am doing this!

Father, the beautiful land that I love so much has burned or is burning. The beautiful cities are being destroyed. Chicago was beautiful. Philadelphia was beautiful. San Francisco was beautiful. Portland OR was beautiful. Seattle too. Yes, even NYC...smiles. But to see it now! Wow, so shocking. There are so many other places too. What has happened?

I know the answer. You have been removed. Your Name has been desecrated. My heart grieves with these insults towards You. When I was asked to swear to tell the truth recently, it no longer said 'so help me God' or 'as God is my witness'. The courts no longer view You as sovereign over all things. This grieves my heart. What has happened has happened so quickly. Oh Father, surely You are displeased!

So many things have been happening that are newsworthy. The most recent thing is Ruth Ginsburg dying yesterday. Also yesterday was a 4.5 earthquake that hit Los Angeles CA. This seems to have tied in with Rosh Hashana, which started yesterday at evening time. The shofar blew around 100 times to mark this feast that is also called the Feast of Trumpets. In the oceans, there are many storms and hurricanes looming.

Quite simply...the time is NOW to repent! The shofar is sounding to wake God's people out of their spiritual slumber. This is meant to cause us to search our hearts. Father, I am in rough shape. I repent of the things which I have done against others, but especially against You. When I am in pain and sad, I snap at those around me. I become a curmudgeon. All I want is relief from my current condition.

I am so sorry! I repent for acting in a way contrary to what I know as truth. I sin against You, Father, when I modify truth for the sake of the convenience of keeping conversations short. We should be turning away from behavior contrary to that of a child of God and the Royal Princess in gold of Ophir to our Groom, Jesus, especially now. Despite this, Father, I just need You to know that You are absolutely everything to me and always will be!

Father, it is time for us that so desperately want to serve You in a greater capacity to take up what I like to call the R2B2 method. A great way I remember how we are to confess our sins is to use the acronym 'R2B2'! Yes, this sounds like the Star Wars character of R2D2 on purpose as it is a handy way to remember this. R2B2 equals R, R, B and B as follows:

- R: Repent of sin
- R: Renounce the evil spirits
- B: Break any ties with evil entity(s)

- B: Bless

Once I followed this 'R2B2' process, I found that I could then walk in even greater freedom and authority in the Name of Jesus.

R as in Repent of Sin

Jesus spoke strongly about the requirement for repentance of our sins in the following Scriptures, though there are many more in the Bible:

Matthew 3:8; Matthew 4:17; Matthew 21:23; Mark 1:4; Acts 2:38; Acts 3:19; Romans 2:4; 2 Peter 3:9; Revelation 2:5 and Revelation 3:3

R as in Renounce the Evil Spirits

Refer to Ephesians 6:10-18 and 1 Peter 5:8-9

B as in Break Any Ties with Evil Entity(s)

One of the ways I break any ties with any evil entities is through the mostly lost 'art of clapping'. A common misconception is that clapping is only used in praise and worship. However, clapping is also symbolically used in Jewish culture to smite against evil as derived from the Hebrew word, 'Saphog'. In turn, this Hebrew word has in its root the strong disapproval of wicked men.

The following Scriptures support the breaking of our ties with the enemy by the use of clapping:

Job 27:23; Nahum 3:19; Ezekiel 25:6 and Lamentations 2:15

Therefore, remember when clapping that this is to mean the strong disapproval of 'wicked men and spirits'.

B as in Bless

Blessing should always be done with everyone that is the Lord's. Indeed, you should even bless those who curse you. If you do not feel you want to bless those who curse you, then we certainly have something in common. However, to walk in the full authority of Christ Jesus, this is a necessity.

We need to do this in order to clean up our house so that we can be a more effective warrior in the battle that rages all around us. This essentially removes you as 'playing god' and allows God to deal with all of this in His perfect Will and timing.

Jesus: "Erin, come up."

Jesus was sitting on the (currently non-existent) large rock in our yard. He stood up with open arms to receive me. I ran to Him. He hugged me with my cheek against His chest. I was crying. He kissed the top of my head. He then moved me back so that He could look into my eyes.

Jesus: "Erin, I am here. It is you who is avoiding Me, not Me avoiding you." He smiled. "And, no, I am not angry." He gently laughed.

Me: "Lord, I am really anxious. I am scared. In my dream last night, I was being hunted down."

Jesus: "I know. The landscape has changed. Hearts have turned from God. I am even more hated than before. However, it will get better. While I will still be hated more, I will also be loved even more. You are the same and so are all of those I have called for My purpose. Things which were once hidden are now being exposed. The Great Separation...the Great Divide...is occurring between that which is Mine and My people and that which is the enemy's."

"The time of lawlessness has descended as if a dark cloud has come. This has come right as people were still hiding in fear of a plague that they cannot see. The false testimonies and lies are spreading in the millions. However, so too are the fires burning the lands in the millions (of acres).

"The harvest of grapes has been hindered by the hand of God, yet very, very few see any of this as being by the hand of God. My enemy would never admit that I have more power than him. Even as storms after storms have come, they still do not recognize that God's power is over the waters of the sea.

"They do not recognize that God harnesses the wind for His purposes. The narrative is instead that 'Mother Earth' is the one who is angry. Do they cry out for help from 'Mother Earth' when the flames come closer and winds pick up or do they cry out for help from the Living God, the One Who has the power to save?"

Me: "The answer is clear. Very few recognize You anymore."

Jesus: "Yes, Erin, but the enemy knows. Is it he who causes the ground to shake? Is it he who sends dust across the ocean? Is it he who sends smoke waves across the nations? No. Instead, he is the father of lies, the one who harnesses the airwaves and the news that travels fast. He sends out lies of his great powers, along with false news of My obliviousness and uncaring nature as God over all. He lies that I do not care and that I do not even exist.

"Well, Erin, these lies are about to come crashing down. All will soon know that it is I Who sent you. They will then see wave after wave of the Holy Spirit manifested in those I have prepared for this time. You will be restorers of truth and the builders of walls. Hearts will turn back to Me. Fathers will turn back to their children and children back to their parents.

"Cities and homes, but also entire nations, will all be restored. This is all meant for a period of history designated by My Father to show the fruits of the Spirit manifested on Earth. Erin, Heaven will be visible on Earth. The enemy and his army will then turn and run. The enemy and his army will then hide until the Great Harvest is complete.”

“Rejoice, Erin...” He smiled and nudged me gently. “...for I am about to do something in your days you would not believe even if you were told.” He hugged me and kissed the top of my head. He then brought me out again so that He could smile and look into my eyes. “Be Ready!”

Dream 434 – Who is like our God?

Received on Sunday, September 20, 2020

Note: I was completely free of pain in my hands, back and neck today! This was an unexpected reprieve. This made me want to go to the Lord immediately to see if He had anything for us today. He did! Oh, how I long to feel like this every day, but even much better! Soon!

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day! Thank You for Your love and great care. I am thankful for You in all things. Who is like You, Father? There is no comparison. No one can stand against You and succeed. They will fail every time. Because of You, all existence is before us. Because of You, we take pleasure and joy in Your Creation. We stand on the ground You created and, as we look around us, there is nothing we have truly created without You. Even that which is 'man-made' is still 'God-inspired'!

We look up and there are the Heavens, the stars, the constellations, the moon, the clouds and the sun. These things are truly beyond man, but all signify Your Great Works. As for the human body...how is something this complex even possible? While man may manipulate it, mutilate it, stain it, destroy it, reduce it, expand it, strengthen it, fortify it, fight against it, tattoo it, pierce it...ultimately, You, Father, create us and determine our every breath. Our days are numbered as per Your Great Plan.

So, who can be compared to You? Statues of gods, whose legends and beginnings were birthed from fallen angels who became legends on Earth? No. Demi-gods? No. They could never stand against Your Heavenly angels with any success. Instead, these fallen angels used skills they learned in Heaven to teach men to trick them into turning these things into evil against His Creation. This included the teaching of making weapons and other terrible things that showed such rebellion against God.

God began the separation of the people through language. He then spread tribes / herds throughout the Earth. The Great Flood destroyed most things, but rebellion still built the Tower of Babel. The people, even the children of God, once again rebelled. Sin still prevailed throughout the land until God reserved a special people for Himself. These were the Hebrews, the Israelites...their very name meaning 'to pass over'!

God then gave the sons of Jacob special strengths and abilities. Each time they would cry out to the Lord in battle, God filled them with supernatural abilities to scale walls and even leap them. They threw massive boulders with their bare hands. Judah's battle cries shook the enemy to the core. It was so frightening that the enemy would become confounded and would flee.

The 12 of them together sounded like thunder, like the roar of lions. Amazing! They had other abilities also. In six days, they slain and overcame seven cities (Jasher 40). On the seventh day, they then went home to rest. Each time the sons of Jacob cried out to God, God would well up in them and protect them against their enemies. What is amazing is that the Lord has hinted that, even though we will have different strengths, we will be just as powerful...even more so.

This is so incomprehensible to me! Still, what about as we are today? Father, why can we not do the very miracles that Jacob's sons did? What about the miracles that Your Son, our Savior, Jesus did? What about Elijah or Elisha? There are others, Father? I believe it is because You are holding out for 'The Big Reveal'. Now, don't get me wrong, I know that You do miracles all the time in our lives. It is not that. I am talking about ones that make people stand up and pay attention. I am talking about knowing that You will do this every time!

As for now, I am so thankful for the way You do this and conceal it. I am not sure that knowing how many times daily You save me from evil schemes would benefit me other than adding to my feeling of fear at the times we are in. I would also worry more about my children's safety. Most importantly, I just need You to know that I am so, so thankful for You, Father. I had an odd dream last night...

Sub-dream 1 "The Lord will personally restore our rundown farms" begins...

I now owned a large farm. Since I have zero desire to be a real farmer on Earth in the natural, this was difficult work and I had no abilities. The farm I had inherited had been previously neglected and abandoned. The fields were destroyed. It seemed as if they had endured what seemed like a great drought. The fields of corn had short stocks and very few heads.

I could tell that at least two growing seasons had been neglected as there were old dead stocks and small shoots trying to grow through these. The little stalks were strong and growing in conditions that were impossible for them. They were growing amongst the dead and the barely alive. I could tell they were not planted by human hands because they were not in even rows or in good soil.

They must have grown from corn cobs not harvested and from birds spreading the seeds. I was not 100% sure on this though. The livestock as given to us were thin and sickly. It was as if they were left to somehow fend for themselves. The areas where the livestock lived was putrid and filled with waste. They somehow still found enough grass and corn to stay alive though. Amazing, really.

They would then come back inside on their own, taking shelter for the night. This was too supernatural to not have been God giving them these orders. As for the large farmhouse, it was abandoned and left untouched. It was filled with dust. There were also several outbuildings. One of these outbuildings had been a place for auctions for the local farmers. No one must have come to the last few auctions though as all the items were still there. No one had come to collect them. There were many valuables.

I then walked over to an area with a small garden. While there were two trees there, I was unable to tell their variety. This was because they had dried up. What was interesting was each had a branch that seemed to join themselves to each other. It was as if they were holding hands. At the base of these trees and between them was a small irrigation bed or tiny creek. This irrigation appeared to have come from a well at the edge of the property. As this was not working, the garden was mostly parched.

However, some vegetables still remained, but they were somewhat shriveled. There were also some trees there that appeared to have had fruit growing on them at one time or another. Again, they were in such bad shape that I could not tell what type of trees they were. I was lamenting the condition of this when, all of a sudden, I was joined by my family. I then became even more joyful when I was then joined by my friends!

We all then began to pray to God to restore this place. We asked Him to restore it to its former state supernaturally. We did this as we were all unsure on how to do this on our own strength as none of us were farmers. One of my friends then came over to me with a letter from God. I then read this message out loud to everyone there with me.

God: "The season has come early. You need to prepare your fields and crops for the Great Harvest. Be Ready!"

We all immediately decided to pray to the Lord for His supernatural help. We gave all we had to God for His Divine Purposes. We then had dinner and decided to go to sleep shortly thereafter. We did this as we somehow knew (in this dream) that our next week was going to be a big one. Something then happened that night as we all slept...

A great army of God's Heavenly angels came and restored the parched fields and gardens. We then awoke at dawn to the sound of music and healthy roosters. The sun was soon shining brightly. There was dew on the ground from fresh rain. The entire landscape had now changed. There were grand fields of great crops. There were healthy animals and livestock. There was no smell of manure.

There was no brown. It was all green grass. It was all abundant fruit trees. All of the auctioned items were now gone, all returned to their owners. The beautiful garden next to the house was now like Heaven's Gardens.

A supernatural well spring now fed the river that flowed around and in between the two fruit trees that were 'holding hands'. These two fruit trees, along with the other fruit trees, were now producing 12 different fruits just like in Heaven. Everyone with me here cheered and celebrated. We thanked God for all that He had restored. We all rejoiced.
Sub-dream 1 over.

Father, thank You for dreams. The farms around us here are experiencing great troubles and a drought this year. Please restore their land...in Jesus' Name, Amen!

Jesus: "Erin, come up."

I was in the area of my yard where I feed the animals and the birds. I immediately decided to run over to the (currently non-existent) rock by the stream to find Jesus. He was not there. The bridge over the stream was not there either. I closed my eyes as I lifted my arms to pray. I prayed with all of my heart.

Me: "Father, please bring the bridge back so that I can cross over to see You!"

I heard something like a rumble. When I opened my eyes, I saw that a bridge had appeared. I could see Heaven on the other side. As I looked into Heaven, I saw two angels on horses. I recognized these angels as ones I had seen a long time ago. They were in armor. I ran across to greet them.

As I crossed over the bridge, my body and clothing changed. I was now supernaturally young and athletic. The angels had brought a horse for me to ride. They directed me to come with them. I jumped onto the horse. We rode down a path to a valley surrounded by mountains with caves. There was a fortress like a city with walls there in the middle of the valley.

Me: "Where are we?"

Angel: "We are at the training area."

Just then, I heard a horn. I looked up towards the entrances of the caves. There were now others like me there. I then heard the sound of horses behind me. When I turned, I noticed that there were now thousands of others like me there. We were all very excited. The angels called us into groups. We then gathered together on the floor of this valley. Each group had angels assigned to train them.

A mighty angel then made his appearance. This angel looked like Michael. However, I was not certain as I have only seen Michael from a distance. He was then joined by the Lord. We stood up and started cheering. We didn't stop cheering. We were all crying with tears of gratitude at the same time. It was just so awesome to see the Lord in all of His Glory. Jesus was in His full armor.

Note: While Jesus was in His armor and clearly ready for battle, it is important to note that His armor was symbolic only. He doesn't need armor as He is God. Nothing can come against God...ever...period! In other words, He has no need for armor.

We all stopped our cheering when we heard the sound of the Shofar start up. As it raised up in power and decibels, we all raised our arms up in worship to our King. We were all listening to the amazing sound of the Heavenly Shofar. When the sound of the Shofar died down, Jesus addressed us...

Jesus: "You are all here because you have come through the refiner's fire. All of you have endured great afflictions and have remained steadfast in your pursuit of Me and the Kingdom of Heaven. Because of this, you will be marked by Me and given a new name. You will be transformed from the Kingdom of Heaven and My Glory will be visible in you, upon you and all around you.

"You will display awesome deeds. Where your feet travel, Heaven will be manifested. Where death once traveled, life will now flow like a river. All which you will touch in My Name will prosper. You will heal the sick, cause the blind to have sight and the lame to walk and, yes, even leap!"

We all cheered and roared in unison. Jesus smiled and put His hands out to quiet us down. He had a pleased look on His face. He radiated a supernatural love towards us that was completely beyond description. Quite simply, He was as pleased with us being there with Him as we were with being there with Him. He continued...

Jesus: "Through you, I will grow limbs to those who have none. Through you, I will remove pain. Through you, I will restore those who have been given a death sentence. Those abandoned and left for dead will be found by Me: You will be My Vessels, My Army of Heaven on Earth, those I have raised from the Earth and even from the ashes. I have taken you and moved you to where you will be filled with Living Water. You will walk with the breath of My Spirit in you.

"You will have knowledge from on high beyond the wisdom of man. You will tread upon the serpent...handling it and subduing it. Anyone evil who witnesses this will flee. You will leap on the hills and scale walls. You will say to the mountain 'fall into the sea' and it will fall. You will say to the rubble 'rebuild' and the structures will be restored and even better than before. You will be referred to by those who witness what I will do with you as 'those sent by God to restore, rebuild and redeem in Jesus' Name'!"

We all cheered. We were soon roaring so loudly that Jesus started to laugh. He was clearly pleased at our response. He once again put His hands out to quiet us down. He then continued...

Jesus: "To you, I give the keys to Heaven. To you, I give the powers to trample your enemies. You are My Peacekeepers. You are those that I have called to squelch the flames of evil. You will be used by Me to restore the lands in order for My Glory to be revealed. My presence will be in each of you. My Spirit will cause the evil tongues to confess. Where you go, evil will confess. Evil will confess even as they run for the hills. You will set the captives free. You will do all of this in My Name... for the cause of Heaven and for the Throne of God."

There was a cheer and a roar from us that soon became so loud, I was sure it could be heard throughout all of Heaven. He then smiled at us with such kindness in His eyes as He once again put His hands out to quiet us down. As we quieted down, a couple of individuals cried out to Him in very loud voices...

Individual 1: "Go Jesus!"

Jesus: Smiling and nodding. "Thank you."

Individual 2: "You are the King!"

Jesus: Again, smiling and nodding. "Thank you." He then continued. "Now, you will know many languages as I will be speaking through you. You will also understand the plans of the wicked. You will then thwart their schemes. You will thwart them as no schemes of man will be able to keep those I have called from Me. Now, are you ready?"

We cheered even louder than the last time.

Jesus: Shouting over our cheers. "Are you ready?"

A mighty earthquake started to shake the valley as we continued to cheer. It was exhilarating though and not at all frightening. It was as if the earthquake was joining us in our cheering. All of our hearts were now beating with incredible joy and excitement.

We looked over and saw a storehouse of Living Water that had just appeared. We then watched as Jesus moved a lever to release the Living Water. The Living Water came over all of us in the most delightful of ways. We felt supernatural power beyond description from this. Jesus looked over at a mighty angel and nodded His head.

Angel: In a voice as mighty as a Shofar blowing. "The Pool is Open!"

As we all cheered, I suddenly found myself back at the rock in our yard next to the stream. My heart was still pounding in excitement. I was so happy. I then heard the Voice of God...

Voice of God: "Erin, all which was lost in the beginning at the Garden will soon be restored."

Me: "In Heaven, Father?"

Voice of God: "No, Erin, not just in Heaven. You will soon understand. When this happens, nothing will be able to tempt you. Nothing will be able to cause you to sin. You will be so strong that nothing, no scheme of man, will ever come between us. My love for you will never be removed. You will know that I Am God."

Me: "Thank You, Father. I love You!"

Voice of God: "I love you even more!"

Dream over...

Dream 435 – Shabbat Shuva, The Return

Received on Saturday, September 26, 2020

Shabbat Shuva, The Return! The one and only Shabbat between the Feast of Trumpets / Rosh Hashanah and the Day of Atonement / Yom Kippur! This year, this lands on Tishrei 8, the 8th day of the 10 Days of Awe, the High Holy Days! TheReturn.Org – Jonathan Cahn! Prayer March 2020 – Franklin Graham!

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day! Thank You for my family and friends. I cannot thank You enough for their great hearts. Please bless them abundantly from Heaven on high. Please protect them and keep them safe. May Your face shine upon them in all that they do. I pray for all of this in Jesus' Mighty Name, Amen!

There have been quite a few deaths in our area lately. Some have even been unexpected tragedies. I pray for these families, Father. You continue to remind me that You are the Author of our stories. You remind me that it is You Who determines the length of our days.

Some things have been changing in my spiritual walk with you that I am unfamiliar with, but excited about. My husband and I attend Prayer Night at church on Wednesdays. It gives both of us uninterrupted time to pray for others and the great needs in which so many families and their businesses are struggling with these days. We pray for healing, protection, abundant blessings and peace.

This also gives me a chance to pray for my friends in the law enforcement and medical fields. I pray for those who are ill and need miracles. I pray for those struggling with addictions or other dependencies in which the enemy continues to gain a foothold. I also spend time in repentance for my part in bad Christian behavior or anything else that surfaces via the Holy Spirit in prayer in which I need to apologize to God for.

Some weeks, there are more things to apologize for than others. After completing my lists of things to bring before God, I listen to the beautiful and gifted musicians play praise music. I spend time soaking in Your love, Your power and Your glory. In love and thanksgiving, I lift my hands, usually with a lot of tears and praise for You. I praise You for Who You are, Father. I pray that I please You. I send my blessings.

Still, the last four Prayer Nights have been different than all of the rest. You have been giving me clear open visions of You. While the music plays and continues, I am caught up in a vision. I am then even in a different landscape, like a dream, but where I am fully awake. My husband is next to me the entire time.

In this last vision, You told me that my course, my path, is about to move from 'The Spiritual' to 'Manifestations in the Physical'. You said that You would be meeting me where I am. You then told me that this is not just for me, but for others as well. You told me to be ready for what You are about to do. I cried even as this vision closed.

Then on Thursday, September 24, 2020, my husband and I saw a ridiculous uptick of attacks upon our household. While none of them harmed us, it was just crazy to see all of them. This ranged from road rage incidents to angry individuals making 'hand gestures' towards us for no real reason. These were so abnormal that it made no sense in the natural, only in the supernatural. That night, I had a horrible dream...

Sub-dream 1 "A baby on a rock wall" begins...

I encountered what seemed like normal people. In the midst of daily living, I then saw the manifestations of evil. I saw so many demonic displays. I noticed it in their eyes, smells and laughs. They also had odd body movements, like nervous ticks. This then morphed to where I was changed and strengthened.

I was then scaling a rock wall with an outcropping. I was upside down climbing with just my hands and feet. It would be impossible to do this in reality. My husband then warned me that a toddler in a diaper was following me on the wall. The baby soon lost its grip and fell before either of us could catch it. I was not sure what happened to the baby after this.

Sub-dream 1 over...

I then had a dream just last night..

Sub-dream 2 "The number 1163" begins...

I was walking on a city street somewhere I did not recognize. Everywhere I looked, I saw the number '1163'. I saw it on billboards. I saw it painted in yellow on the street. I saw it graffitied all over the city walls. I saw it on neon signs. It was on shirts...black with white lettering. I also noticed some of the 1163s were written as '1163@' with something after it. However, I could never make out anything that followed it.

Sub-dream 2 over...

So many questions! Please help me, Father. We are less than 40 days until the USA Presidential Election. The course of the world is at stake for all of us. I pray for the USA and for the world. I pray for all of us whose hearts and hopes are in You!

Jesus: "Erin, come up."

I was in my side yard at home. I was carrying my feeding tray of nuts and seeds. I looked in my tray and saw some corn. I spread it on the ground. The wild turkeys then came rushing out of the woods to get to the corn. I looked over towards the area where I have been meeting with Jesus lately. He was standing there laughing. I left my tray with the wild turkeys and ran towards Him. He had a beautiful smile on His face. The sun shined all around Him. We were both laughing as He hugged me.

Jesus: "Erin, you have been busy."

His arms were crossed in a humorous way as He pointed towards the wild turkeys. The turkeys then seemed to notice Him for the first time. Soon as they did, they quickly abandoned the corn and ran towards Him. We were both laughing.

Jesus: "Come, Erin, we had better make our escape."

The bridge appeared and we crossed over. The turkeys had stopped running as they were somewhat bewildered by the appearance of the bridge. It didn't take long for them to turn back to the feed tray and the corn. We watched them and laughed again.

Jesus: "Well...that was a predictable pattern, right?" He smiled and laughed.

Me: Laughing too. "Lord, are You taking me to the valley to swim in the pool?"

Jesus: "Oh, you mean the Valley of Blessings and the healing pools. No, not today. I am spending time with you instead."

He reached for my hand. As we walked together, I suddenly remembered something.

Me: "Lord, You gave me a wonderful dream recently..."

Sub-dream 3 "Another visit with my mom" begins...

I saw my mom in the streets of Heaven. She took my hand and ran with me to the beautiful Archive Library in Heaven. She told me she works there. I saw scholars, scientists and others studying and swapping stories. They were clearly in awe of all You had done from the beginning. My mom was so excited about being there. Her hair was like spun gold and soft like angel hair. She appeared around 25 years old.

Sub-dream 3 over...

"Lord, what was that all about? Do You need to prove things in Heaven? Why would we need books and things here?"

Jesus: "Erin, what is Heaven to you? What do you think of?"

Me: "To me, it is where You prepare a special place for us free from harm and perfected in all things. Nothing will harm us here. We worship You in all things. It is full. It is complete. It is lovely and perfect. All things are made right. All things are reconciled. Lately, You have been both here and there. You are truly a mystery!"

Jesus: "This is all true. However, think of this in a different way. What would a scientist want to do here? Or a biologist? Or a doctor?"

Me: "I really have no idea."

Jesus: "Well, there is even more here for them to discover. While they could instantly have knowledge here, it is more fun for them to uncover it together. What joy they have to discover these mysteries. Remember...it takes the glory of God to conceal a matter and the honor of kings to search it out. Here, all of what was on Earth is how I originally intended it to be. This goes back to the Garden.

"They have many multiples of species to study here. They then uncover and catalogue them, using their new enhanced abilities to learn about them. The Archive Library consists of records, documents and writings. There is so much I have prepared that is waiting to be discovered here. So much more. Heaven is expansive. There are even places yet to be discovered here!"

Me: "What would doctors do here? After all, You are our Great Physician!"

Jesus: "They have questions when they arrive, especially about former cases...things left undone...unanswered. Not all things end with death.

Death is a transition from one state, one place, to another, with Me in eternity. When the angels bring the saints Home, they have knowledge of Who I am. There is a great celebration and loved ones are here to greet them.

"Those who spent their entire lives before death with no knowledge of the supernatural, that which cannot be explained, come here and are in stunned silence as they are seeing this for the first time." He smiled. "Many spent their entire walks discounting My existence. They are quite shocked upon arrival, yet also very thankful and very grateful.

"I then spend time with them. However, these learning centers also give complete histories. Imagine records going back to the beginnings and even before, all recorded by angels with perfect accuracy. However, there is no need for separation or segregation here. All speak the same language here. This only adds to the excitement. There is an abundance of excitement here. Come, I will show you..."

He reached for my hand and took me to the Archival Library Building, a huge building in the City of God. He showed me a room where water moved above you on top of the glass ceiling. While under the water, you can observe every aspect of it. This is hard to explain and I am hardly doing this any justice.

There was also a planetarium where you could go to different areas of the galaxy or galaxies. There were labs where they could experiment with all kinds of things, including the elements. There were libraries containing various records with a common theme. It was all so expansive.

The Lord then took me to an area with doctors. I saw them interceding with each other for those who were sick on Earth. I saw other things that I could tell were incredibly awesome, yet I have no earthly ability to describe it accurately or do it justice. I was then surprised to see some things here that were 'very difficult'. I was puzzled.

Me: "Lord, why is this here? This is sad. Is Heaven not free from this?"

Jesus: "Well, yes, but there are many here who see what is happening in the world and desire to pray day and night."

Me: "But, Lord, You already know a man's path. His steps are determined by You."

Jesus: "Yes, Erin, but prayers avail much! Why?"

Me: "I don't have a good answer. Is it because You then intervene through our prayers?"

Jesus: "Yes, Erin, this is correct. The severity of the fall of a man could be lessened. The pain and the suffering could be lessened. The course of evil against someone could be lessened. This is where miracles are prayed for. Is there anything more wonderful than a room full of logic minded doctors praying and interceding to God for the lost?"

Me: "Oh yes! This seems impossible on Earth. However, there is no pride here. Instead, there is gratitude, joy and excitement. In fact, all of Heaven seems excited."

Jesus: Smiling. "Well, yes, Erin, they are."

Me: "Lord, You are so amazing."

Jesus: "Erin, you were reflecting on something recently. Do you remember?"

Me: It instantly came back to me. "Yes, Lord. Recompense. Your reward comes with You. Your promises include Your recompense. This is like compensation."

Jesus: "Yes, Erin. I bring restoration, healing and comfort to those who have been unjustly wronged. However, I don't just bring this... I also make all things new."

Me: Crying. "Lord, there are so many broken hearts. Your people love You. However, our lights are growing dim. It even seems as if evil is taking over the world now. The news outlets are so corrupt. Lies are everywhere. Lord, we all need You!"

Jesus: "Oh, do not worry. I will come at the perfect time and My recompense will be with Me. There will be much grumbling." He smiled.

Me: "Lord, please don't send a second wave. Please heal the land. Please find the prayers of Your people enough for You to turn from allowing the enemies of Heaven to assault our cities. Please expose the wicked. Please! If everyone knew what I knew about You, all would want to be in Your presence."

Jesus: "Sadly, Erin, this is not currently the case. Jealousy, envy and coveting leads to rage, hate and anger. As they first hated Me, so too will you whom I call friends be hated. Those grafted upon My branch will be despised. While the enemy enjoys a short-lived power, he will soon be no more. Those who remain will finally recognize that I Am Who I say I Am. Now, this is a while off. You have time.

"Now, remember what I gave you in your prayers. Yes, Erin, this was Me. Learn the lesson from the fig tree. As soon as the branches become tender and sprout leaves, you know that summer is near. So, also, when you see these things, you will know that I am near, even right at the door. I also showed you something and spoke to you..."

Me: "Yes, Lord. I was complaining that it had been unusually cold the last few weeks over summer. Now that we are at the beginning of the end, there are bright red trees against the green ones. This is a month earlier than normal. Fall hadn't even arrived on the calendar yet and the fall season appeared to come early. Then this last week, finally, the yellow leaves and orange leaves began to arrive.

"However, I then observed something I believe was an analogy for what You are about to do. I then decided to put this into my prayers. Every year, the trees turn brilliant colors just before the winds come to remove the leaves. This is to prepare their branches for winter. This year though, You have done something different. You timed the weather to bring out the brilliant colors.

"You did this quite a bit before the cold weather will really show up. This has resulted in a brilliant transformation unlike any I have seen before. Please keep the leaves on the trees longer this year so that we can enjoy their beauty before the winds remove the leaves and the trees go to sleep and appear dead for the winter. Please don't let winter come early and be harsh. Please heal us."

Jesus: "I heard your cries and I gave you wise prayers asking for these trees to put on a show for you. I sent in the wild turkeys and granted other signs and wonders to bring you hope. I delight in that which you delight in. I know that you are sad when the colors fade. I know how much you love the fall season."

He reached for my hand and we were suddenly in God's Garden. It was fall in one of the sections. We walked on a beautiful path. I could smell fall. Tears streamed down my cheeks. I reached over and hugged Him.

Me: "Lord, more people need to know about You. Seriously, they need to know about what You have prepared for us here. It is perfect. The leaves don't fall here. The fruit doesn't fall here. Doors are open here. You are always here." I started to cry. "We are not separated from You here."

Jesus: "Erin, you are never separated from Me. I am always with you, understand?" I could see the love in His eyes. "Erin, I love you. Wednesday (September 23, 2020) was the (fifth) anniversary of the date of your mother's Homegoing. It has been a while, so I showed you that she is here and still in awe. She engraves for Me." He smiled. "It brings her joy."

She laughs as she did in her youth, but even more. She prays for you and your children. She is healthy. She runs, Erin. She is thankful. She can't wait to show you so much."

Me: "When my mom took my hand in my recent dream with her, was I not then guilty of conversing with the dead?"

Jesus: "Erin, read My Word again carefully. Now, did you seek the dead on behalf of the living?"

Me: "No. I just go to You instead."

Jesus: "What My Word refers to is those who converse with the dead... spirits and demons. These beguile the innocent by exploiting their past. The demons take notes on what was in order to devise a guess on what is to be. Many then fall into their trap. This is a trap and it angers Me. The dead are no longer there. The living are here."

Me: "Yes, and even more alive than on Earth."

Jesus: "Yes, and with no pain. They dance as they did in their youth. Soon, Erin, no eyes have seen, no ears have heard, what I have planned for those who love Me. Are you ready?"

Me: Jumping with excitement. "Oh yes, Lord! Please hurry!"

Jesus: Smiling. "Everything is made beautiful in its proper time. There is a season, a time, for every matter under Heaven. There is a time when Heaven becomes visible to those who think there is none. It comes in a way that you think not. There is always opposition to that which is sent from Heaven...or anything good, for that matter. Just ask the scientist, the one who I gave wisdom to, that resides here (Newton). For every action, there is an equal and opposite reaction. So, it is written of the seasons...

- A time to be born and a time to die
- A time to plant and a time to harvest
- A time to kill, as is the world, and a time to heal
- A time to tear down and a time to build up, as in walls and even cities
- A time to weep and mourn and a time to laugh and dance
- A time to cast down stones and a time to gather stones together
- A time to stay apart and a time to embrace
- A time when what was lost is found
- A time to hang on to what is good and cast out that which is bad and of no benefit
- A time to sew that which has been torn
- A time to speak life and a time to remain silent
- A time which births hate and a time when love comes down
- A great time of war and a perfect time for peace

"Erin, I have made everything beautiful in its time. Even though it is I Who put eternity into a man's heart, he still cannot understand all that I have done from the beginning to the end."

Me: "Lord, is this from Your Word?"

Jesus: "Much of it. However, there is more to this now as all you see is coming to pass. The scales of justice are unbalanced. The land is now corrupted. I will soon bring the scales back into balance. Many will then know that I am God. I will not be mocked. There is no other god before Me. I Am Who I say I Am. I am about to do something in your days that you would not believe even if you were told." He was now very serious.

Me: Worried. "Lord, are You upset?"

Jesus: "You must know that I do not enjoy the ways of evil. I hate lies and corruption. While the innocent are suffering now, soon, very soon, Heaven will be visible on Earth. Come, I will take you back to the bridge. Take heart and be ready, Erin." He kissed the top of my head. "I delight in you. I delight in your family and your friends. I will not delay in doing good. My favor is upon you. My recompense is with Me. Soon, very soon, all will be reconciled." He smiled.

Dream over...

Dream 436 – A Tiny Elephant visits while we wait

Received on Sunday, October 4, 2020

The 2nd day of Sukkot. Sukkot is also commonly called the Feast of Tabernacles, the Festival of Shelters or the Feast of Ingathering.

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day! Thank You for Your love. Thank You for my family and friends. Thank You for the beauty surrounding our home. This is truly a blessing. Father, You are good in all things. You know every good thing. You also know the bad things, things surrounding us that seek to destroy us.

Wednesday, September 30, 2020 marked my 8th year anniversary of hearing from You, Father. Wednesday, October 7, 2020 marks my 8th year anniversary of first having a conversation with You. Sunday, October 7, 2012 was the 7th day of Sukkot. In comparison, this coming Friday, October 9, 2020 will be the 7th day of Sukkot.

While my husband and I were at prayer night on Wednesday, September 30, 2020, a neighbor captured a photo of a double rainbow over our home. While this was encouraging, I still find myself struggling at times. My heart is breaking for so many people. Local auctioneers have been busy lately as people are unloading their possessions and liquifying their estates to have money to survive.

We have been having trouble with a different set of neighbors these days. They are building a structure that could result in damage to our side of the property. There are rules in place to keep them from doing this, but they are ignoring them, hoping the homeowners association won't notice. Unfortunately for them, they have since received a notice. In the meantime, Father, we pray that You continue to protect our property.

Based on news articles we have been seeing, it appears that the governments are preparing for a second round of the plague to hit the USA and elsewhere. In reality, they have never recovered from the first round. Please, Father, remove this sickness before it crosses the lands again. Please heal those who have contracted this. Please protect the vulnerable among us. Please heal President Trump and the First Lady.

During the Ten Days of Awe this year, I looked back at the last five years. I am still unable to fully let go of the loss of my parents, but especially my mom. I miss the ability to talk with my mom... here on Earth, that is. In reality though, she is in Heaven and so much happier than she ever was on Earth.

Father, when will You turn and heal us? Please show us Your mercy. I have been in a type of holding pattern. I am holding onto Your promises. I am trying to be a normal human being with normal activities, but my heart is breaking. I am overwhelmed. I need help. I need Your help. I had a dream last night...

Sub-dream 1 "Jesus calms the storm" begins...

I was a small child playing in our yard. I could see a great storm approaching. The skies turned dark and the winds were increasing. They blew so hard, I was almost picked up off of my feet. I was clinging to something. I turned to see what I was holding onto and there You were. You were there with me in the storm. You reached for my right hand and the storm immediately calmed. I leaned over and hugged You tightly.
Sub-dream 1 over...

Father, I love You. However, I am struggling with all of these storms. There are so many people that are hurting that need You. There are not enough hours in the day for all of our and their prayer needs. Father, please help all of us!

Jesus: "Erin, come up."

I was outside on our lawn. There were fall leaves on the ground. There were so many animals and birds out.

Me: "Father, I am thankful for these times with You. I am sorry that I am so sad right now. Please help me."

I looked down and there was the little red squirrel who lost half of his tail. The part of his tail that remained was bushy, but bent to the right. I always spot him because he looks like he came through a great battle. I wished that I was able to heal him. He took a nut from me and he ran across the rocks. I followed him. I was hoping to see Jesus, the large rock or the bridge. None of these were there. I sat in one of our chairs that exist in real life. Just like in reality, it was battered from three years of weather.

Me: "Lord, why does everything get old? Time continues to go by. Things break and become old. Nothings lasts. Thank You for Heaven and the promise of brand new all of the time. Thank You for all that You have done for me and my family. I am thankful!"

I heard something moving behind me. When I turned, I saw Jesus standing there smiling at me. I jumped out of my chair and hugged Him. My tears fell on His robe.

Jesus: "Erin, I am here."

Me: "Lord, so many people are putting curses on our leaders and the President. They are wishing death upon him and his family. It is awful." I began to cry. "Will You not soon strengthen us, Lord? My body is wearing out just like this chair. I am broken, but I am not alone in this. So many people long to see healing. So many long to see their businesses repaired. So many long for financial miracles. Please help all of us, Lord."

Jesus: "I am here, Erin. I see and know all things. You are never removed from Me. I am with you. I love you." He smiled as He nudged me. "Erin, does it not seem like just yesterday when you gave Me that three-month deadline to be used by Me for My purposes or you would be done with Me?"

Me: "I can't believe that this was way back in 2012. I am sorry, Lord, that I was so brash as to give You a deadline."

Jesus: "I'm not. I am glad. You were finally fully honest with Me. You didn't hold back and you were rightfully upset. Now, what are you feeling today?"

Me: "Lord, I feel exhausted. I am overwhelmed. My children need miracles. My husband needs miracles. My friends need miracles. The days, weeks, months and now even years have slipped away. I still pray for Your promises. I still believe. Even in these storms, I still believe."

Jesus: Reaching for my hand. "Come with Me. You need a smile."

The bridge suddenly appeared across our stream. We crossed over the bridge. We crossed directly into God's Garden. We were in a new place there.

Jesus: "Do you know why I wasn't already waiting for you when you came to look for Me in your yard? I was delayed because I was playing with some of My small helpers." He then looked at some bushes and called out. "Okay, where are you?"

I suddenly heard the giggles and laughter of little children. Several miniature elephants ran out of the bushes. They were only about three feet high and incredibly cute. The elephants were then followed by some children around the age of five or so. When the elephants and the children noticed Jesus, they stopped their play and came to Him.

I could tell that anyone in His presence has an overwhelming love for Him that defies description. While only with us for a few minutes, I took the opportunity to pet the elephants. The elephants then ran away again and the children took off after them. They were playing a game of tag.

Me: "That was amazing. I want a baby elephant!"

Jesus: "Well, how about you wait until you arrive Home?"

Me: "Do the elephants stay small here?"

Jesus: "Some do. Some varieties remain small and 'cuddly'. While they look like babies, they are really older. These look like relatives of the earthly giants. However, they are interactive and playful here. They can communicate. They can even come inside your home to take nap if you invite them. There are a lot of activities for the many children here. There are a lot of activities for the teens as well. All is reconciled here. Those who lost their lives in their childhoods are able to have one here."

Me: "Where are all the baby animals kept?"

Jesus: "In many places. While there are many here in My Garden, there are miles and miles of other places to discover here. You have many animals, some babies and some adults, waiting for you on your property. Many birds too. This is all here for your delight and for you to discover. The angels have been appointed to gather information on things which delight you. They have been doing this from the time you were very little and will continue doing this until the day you reside here permanently.

"Erin, you have only seen a small 'sliver' of all that I have planned for all of you here." He smiled. "Just remember, Erin... My recompense is with Me... on Earth as it is in Heaven. While every little thing that has ever brought you joy is waiting for you here, there is also so much more that you don't know about that will also be waiting for you. This too you will find delightful. All is perfect here."

Me: Crying, but now with joy. "I can't wait, Lord."

Just then, a baby elephant nudged my leg with his nose. He came up to me and gently rubbed against the side of my leg. He was overwhelmingly cute.

Jesus: Smiling at me. "Erin, he wants a hug!"

Me: "Oh, they are just so cute."

I hugged the little elephant and kissed his head. He then shot water like a fountain from his small trunk towards the laughing children. They started laughing even more as they played in the 'new fountain'.

Jesus: "Erin, it is so nice to see you get caught up in their fun." He smiled and laughed. I have not seen this from you in a while."

Me: "I am sorry, Lord. I am so sorry."

Jesus: "Do not worry, Erin, as I have a great plan in place. Erin, it will bring you great joy. Please know that I love you. I am always here with you. I will not abandon you. I will heal you...on Earth as it is in Heaven." He smiled.

Me: "Thank You, Lord."

Jesus: "You are welcome. Now, take these days and remember the former days no more. Erin, I am about to do a new thing."

Tears continued to stream down my cheeks. Just then, some tiny angels with bottles came to collect my tears. They then flew off.

Jesus: "Your fountains are growing here. You are keeping them busy." He laughed. "Now, Erin, take joy. Take comfort. I am with you."

He walked me to the side of my yard. I looked down and noticed that the little red squirrel was now healed. I turned to Jesus and He was gone.

Note: As of the time of the posting of this dream, I did not see if the little red squirrel had actually been healed or not. This healing may be for now or perhaps for a later time instead. I will soon find out either way.

Dream over.

Dream 437 – I can see clearly now the rain is gone

Received on Wednesday, October 7, 2020

The 5th day of Sukkot. Sukkot is also commonly called the Feast of Tabernacles, the Festival of Shelters or the Feast of Ingathering.

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for allowing me to have another day here! Thank You for this beautiful fall day. While it is overcast, the yellows, reds and oranges still create a dramatic landscape. Thank You for all that we have. Thank You for my husband, children, family and friends, both near and far. Father, and more than anything, thank You for being our God, the only God, over all things! I love You! I had a dream last night...

Sub-dream 1 "The Clock Tower has fallen" begins...

I was in a town somewhere in the USA. The town was picturesque. The buildings were mostly built of brick. The day was overcast. I had just exited a café on Main Street with a friend. Right there before our eyes, the giant brick bell tower with a clock fell. It fell across the bank. It sliced a corner off the bank and we could see the bank vault inside. The destruction exposed that which we could not normally see.

Before the tumbling stopped, the tower also fell across several cars, a bus and a good portion of Main Street. People were screaming and rushing around to save those caught in the tragedy. While I would normally jump in to help, I could not as I was only there as an observer. No one could see me. I heard shouting in the distance...

"Oh no, our beautiful town hall has fallen!"

"Oh no, the bank...where will we get our money?"

"Oh no, our busses and transportation...how will we get to where we need to go?"

"Oh no, the clock...our time is up!"

Many people were trapped under the fallen rubble. There were screams of pain everywhere. It was a horrible thing to witness. A knock woke me up, but only in the dream, not in real life.

Sub-dream 1 over...

The news has not been good lately anywhere. It is all doom and gloom. One of our children is having trouble and being used at church. Never a surprise. It has been heartbreaking to watch. It seems churches have shifted away from being a beacon of hope. Many now fight just to keep their doors open and their pews full.

At my daughter's college, they are teaching an art curriculum that is extremely controversial...at least it is to me. I have been truly in shock at the magnitude of the historical revisionism. Art history was one of my majors in university studies. Even though this is an overview course, they are taking great effort in revising this and pushing their agenda.

On Monday, the instructor showed some art from the Greek culture at around 500BC. The instructor was telling everyone that middle aged men would have sexual relations with young teen boys and that this was a great honor. She then made some comment about how the church later put a stop to this 'honorable practice'. She then stated that it was important to bring honor back to these forgotten practices...

WHAT?!

As far as I recall, I don't remember any art reflecting this. What is she even talking about? Where is this even coming from? She then spoke about the Greek gods and what an honor it was when they came down and had sexual relations with humans...

WHAT?!

How is this even allowed? This has nothing to do with art history at all. This is sick! The world has fallen. My daughter then did a gutsy move. She handed in a paper about visual beauty that centered around Jesus. Given the liberalism, we warned her that this would not be well received. Fortunately, she at least received an 84. However, in her critique, the instructor told her that, next time, it should be 'visual and not just a concept'...

WHAT?!

Oh Father, this is the world now! It has fallen fast. Please help us. As I was praying to You in the car, my phone started playing songs randomly. The songs that came on were clearly no accident. I even had an eagle fly within ten feet of my car. This is the closest Passover I have ever had. There were five songs altogether...

The first song was "Hall of Fame" by The Script. Here are the lyrics...
You can be the greatest, you can be the best, you can be the King Kong banging on your chest. You can beat the world, you can beat the war, you can talk to God, go banging on His door. You can throw your hands up, you can beat the clock, you can move a mountain, you can break rocks. You can be a master, don't wait for luck, dedicate yourself and you are going to find yourself...

CHORUS: Standing in the hall of fame... and the world's going to know your name... because you burn with the brightest flame... and the world's going to know your name... and you'll be on the walls of the hall of fame.

You can go the distance, you can run the mile, you can walk straight through hell with a smile. You can be the hero, you can get the gold, breaking all the records they thought never could be broke. Yeah, do it for your people, do it for your pride, how are you ever going to know if you never even try? Do it for your country, do it for your name, because there's going to be a day...when you're... CHORUS

Be a champion, be a champion, be a champion, be a champion... on the walls of the hall of fame. Be students, be teachers, be politicians, be preachers. Be believers, be leaders, be astronauts, be champions, be truth seekers. Be students, be teachers, be politicians, be preachers. Be believers, be leaders, be astronauts, be champions...CHORUS

You could be the greatest, you can be the best, you can be the King Kong banging on your chest. You could beat the world, you could beat the war, you could talk to God, go banging on His door. You can throw your hands up, you can beat the clock, you can move a mountain, you can break rocks. You can be a master, don't wait for luck, dedicate yourself and you are going to find yourself...standing in the hall of fame!

Comment: This is a secular song with definite undertones of something great to come. While the lyricist was likely referring to our 'self-made' power, this could instead be viewed as us with God's power after our Great Change. We will come from all walks of life. We will be able to go to God's door. We will break rocks with our hands. This is all to glorify the one and only true Power Source, our Awesome Jesus, in His Hall of Fame!

This 'Hall of Fame' song played in one of my dreams of an airport and my going on a flight right around the time of my mom's death. This was sometime from September 23, 2015 to October 10, 2015, but I don't remember clearly. When listening to the song this time, I had an epiphany. The part of the song where 'the world's going to know your name' I now realize is You, Father. The world is soon going to know Your Name!

We want our coffee in the lobby, we watch our worship on a screen, we got a rock-star preacher, who won't wake us from our dreams. We want our blessings in our pockets, we keep our missions overseas, but for the hurting in our cities, would we even cross the street?

CHORUS: But we want to see the heart set free and the tyrants kneel, the walls fall down and our land be healed. But church if we want to see a change in the world out there, it's got to start right here, it's got to start right now. Lord, I'm starting right here. Lord, I'm starting right now.

I'm like the brother of the prodigal who turned his nose and puffed his chest. He didn't run off like his brother, but his soul was just as dead. What if the church on Sunday was still the church on Monday too? What if we came down from our towers and walked a mile in someone's shoes?

CHORUS: We're the people who are called by His name. If we surrender all our pride and turn from our ways, He will hear from Heaven and forgive our sin. He will heal our land but it starts right here. We're the people who are called by His name. If we surrender all our pride and turn from our ways, He will hear from Heaven and forgive our sin. He will heal our land. CHORUS

Comment: This song represents us. This is the new wave of what we are about to do in His Name. This song represents 'the beginning'!

The third song was "Let the Day Begin" by The Call. Here are the lyrics...

Here's to the babies in a brand-new world. Here's to the beauty of the stars. Here's to the travelers on the open road. Here's to the dreamers in the bar. Here's to the teachers in the crowded rooms. Here's to the workers in the fields. Here's to the preachers of the sacred words. Here's to the drivers at the wheel.

CHORUS: Here's to you my little loves with blessings from above. Now let the day begin. Here's to you my little loves with blessings from above. Now let the day begin, let the day begin, let the day start. Here's to the winners of the human race. Here's to the losers in the game. Here's to the soldiers of the bitter war. Here's to the wall that bears their names. CHORUS

Here's to the doctors and their healing work. Here's to the loved ones in their care. Here's to the strangers on the streets tonight. Here's to the lonely everywhere. Here's to the wisdom from the mouths of babes. Here's to the lions in the cage. Here's to the struggles of the silent poor. Here's to the closing of the age. CHORUS x 2

Comment: This song was also about our new beginning... the one to start very soon!

The fourth song was "Right Here, Right Now" by Jesus Jones. Here are the lyrics...

A woman on the radio talks about revolution when it's already passed her by. Bob Dylan didn't have this to sing about. Didn't know it could feel this good to be alive.

CHORUS: I was alive and I waited, waited. I was alive and I waited for this. Right here, right now. There is no other place I want to be. Right here, right now. Watching the world wake up from history.

I saw the decade end, when it seemed the world could change. At the blink of an eye. And if anything. Then there's your sign of the times.
CHORUS x 3

Comment: Yes, the world will truly be waking up to a new reality... right here, right now!

The fifth song was "Breath of Heaven (Mary's Song)" by Amy Grant. Here are the lyrics.

I have traveled many moonless nights, cold and weary with a babe inside. And I wonder what I've done. Holy Father, You have come. And chosen me now...to carry Your Son. I am waiting in a silent prayer. I am frightened by the load I bear. In a world as cold as stone, must I walk this path alone? Be with me now. Be with me now!

CHORUS: Breath of Heaven, hold me together. Be forever near me. Breath of Heaven. Breath of Heaven. Lighten my darkness. Pour over me Your holiness. For You are holy. Breath of Heaven!

Do You wonder as You watch my face, if a wiser one should have had my place? But I offer all I am, for the mercy of Your plan. Help me be strong. Help me be. Help me!

Comment: This song is sung from the perspective of Mary. Mary was feeling alone as she carried Jesus in her womb. It is about the magnitude of God's call and how difficult the road is to travel on. This is Your call to us, Father! There are many similarities. You spoke to me while this song played. This reminded me of all of the self-doubt I have had with these dreams, the delivery of the Seed of Your Truth. The delivery of the Truth of the amazing place in Heaven You have created for each of us. The delivery of the beauty of Your incredible love for us!

NOTE: Please let me state this clearly here... I am no Mary! Indeed, I am no one really... just a writer as You call my pen to paper. Each time You do, You give birth to more of who You are, Father. Oh, how You love us! I am thankful for You in all things. While I doubt myself and my abilities, You never doubt! Yes, Father, You NEVER doubt! Yes, the world is going to know Your name... AND SOON!

Jesus: "Erin, come up."

I was on the side yard of my property with my feeding tray. There were many small birds flying directly to the tray. I laughed and set the tray down to find Jesus. I ran to where He sits on the large rock (which is currently not there in real life), but He is not there.

While I wanted to cross over into Heaven, the bridge was not there. I closed my eyes and prayed for the bridge to appear. When I opened my eyes, there was Uriel sitting on his horse on the other side of the bridge. I ran over to greet him. Even though he looked as if he had been through quite the battle, he still smiled at me.

Uriel: "Erin, I come today to give you a message from God. All you see around you is about to change. While it has seemed at times that all has been lost concerning your hopes and dreams, this is not the case.

"Now, the dream you had takes place in the center of the land. The town is sleeping until a great shaking brings down the highest tower. This symbolizes that time is up. When this tower falls, the time as you once expected to view it as will have stopped. The tower falls across the only bank in town. This bank represents daily provision and savings in the vault.

"The brick structure then came over on top of the road, stopping the flow of traffic. This street was the main thoroughfare. People were caught under the rubble. All they could do is scream under the weight of the bricks. Transportation, both public and private, also halted. What was peaceful became disrupted.

"However, God will send help, a crew of rebuilders, just like Nehemiah. They will not just rebuild what was destroyed, but will also restore hearts and lives. God's Army will be a builder of broken walls and lives. God's power will be made known through you and those He sends. All will know He has sent help from His sanctuary. God has never forgotten the promises He has made to you, your family and your friends.

"God is about to fulfill all of His promises. Nothing will stand against you with any success as the Lord will pour His Spirit into you. Your enemy will flee at the sight of you. Your light will shine like the sun...but really the Son of God." He smiled. "You will be strengthened. Though you will see darkness and destruction before you, planting and abundance will be before you wherever you step.

"People will then ask you 'whose children are these?'. They will then know you are from the seed of Heaven, a beulah, and joined with God. While you will be loved and admired, you will also be feared. Nothing...no weapon formed by man...shall be able to come against you."

Me: "But, Uriel, I am a nobody. How can I do anything as I am?"

Uriel: "Erin, the Lord has found you pleasing. He knows every part of you. However, what you judge about yourself, what you see or even what the world sees...is not what God has formed in you. Your heart is good, Erin. While you are not perfect, this is 'as expected' as God does not expect something from you that you are not capable of, understand?"

Me: "I am thankful for that."

Uriel: "Perfection is a tool of affliction that the enemy uses against God's children. It is a lie. The waves that have come against all who God has called are evil. This wave of evil is a great tsunami of lies, deceit, debauchery and perversion. All forms of evil are now being sold as loving and peaceful. All that is good is now being drowned out by evil. What you now hear and see, along with anything else before you, are now mostly untrue and unclean."

Me: "While I see that this is now obviously true, it is still so hard for us to watch."

Uriel: Smiling. "Do not worry, Erin, as a Great Tsunami of God's Grace is about to sweep across the land. God has heard the prayers and petitions of the righteous. He has found mercy upon those who love Him. He has heard your cries."

Me: "Oh Uriel, thank you so much for this wonderful message from God."

Uriel: "I must go now. Always remember that God is with you. Erin, the Lord's Spirit is in you. Where you go, the enemy must flee. Where you step, God's Kingdom will be known. He is about to do something in your days you would not believe even if you were told." He smiled. "You will even break rocks." He turned on his horse. "Be encouraged, Erin. Always remember...greater is He in you than he who is in the world. Time is up!"

Uriel immediately disappeared. Right after he disappeared, I suddenly heard the song "I can see clearly now" by Johnny Nash. This is such a cheerful song and put a huge smile on my face. Here are the lyrics...

I can see clearly now; the rain has gone. I can see all obstacles in my way. Gone are the dark clouds that had me blind. It's gonna be a bright, bright sun-shining day. It's gonna be a bright, bright sun-shining day.

I think I can make it now; the pain has gone. All of the bad feelings have disappeared. Here is that rainbow I've been praying for. It's gonna be a bright, bright sun-shining day. Look all around, there's nothing but blue sky. Look straight ahead, nothing but blue sky

I can see clearly now; the rain has gone. I can see all obstacles in my way. Gone are the dark clouds that had me blind. It's gonna be a bright, bright sun-shining day. It's gonna be a bright, bright sun-shining day. Gonna be a bright, bright sun-shining day. Gonna be a bright, bright, bright sun-shining day!

Note: As I was looking up the lyrics, I stumbled on a news story outlining that Johnny Nash died just yesterday. Please pray for his family. As for Johnny Nash, I feel in my heart that he is already up in Heaven... 'seeing clearly now as the rain is gone'!

Dream 438 – Our deceased pets await us in Heaven

This is the day after the 8th day of Sukkot, Tishrei 23, also known as Simchat Torah. Simchat Torah is a celebration marking the conclusion of the annual cycle of public Torah readings and the beginning of a new cycle.

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day! Thank You for Your love and care. Thank You for all that You do. We had an epic storm last night. There was wind, thunder and lightning. It rattled our home. We had three kids out together on a trip to pick up something when it hit. We were worried and prayed for their safe return. You granted us this prayer immediately and they were back home, safe and sound, minutes later.

Father, I was studying Isaiah this morning. I look forward to the fulfillment of Your favor and change. Your revival is needed, Father. I read recently that, out of the last 3400 years in world history, we have had peace over the world for only 288 years. This is sad. However, You will come one day and every knee shall bow and every tongue confess that You are God over all things. I had a disturbing dream last night...

Sub-dream 1 "A twisted assassination plot is hatched" begins...

The world was in an uproar. A leader had risen up in an unexpected turn of events. I was kept from knowing which leader this was. In this dream, there was extreme poverty that had come suddenly. I saw a tiny cottage and a man in his mid-30s in a wheelchair. A courier came to his door with a notice. The notice told him that it was his time to get help at the commissary.

After reading this, he put on his coat and wheeled himself down his entry ramp and down the street to the commissary. When he arrived, he had two ways to go. Turning left looked more familiar and had more advertising signs. He decided to turn left as he was more comfortable with this route. However, as he traveled, the area became darker. While he wanted to turn around, he kept going as he needed the help of the commissary.

He finally arrived at the appropriate entry and a door opened. He then wheeled himself into a clear plexiglass box. As soon as he entered, a metal fire door slammed shut behind him. He was now in something like a clear booth. Within minutes, the former president and the former first lady came to see the man. The plexiglass served as a shield between them. They seemed angry. They knew him by name and also knew about his current situation. They then gave the man two choices.

Former President: "We know all that you are facing right now. I need you to choose wisely. We are not messing around here."

The man in the wheelchair began to panic when he realized that there really was only one choice, not two. He had to choose to side with the former president or he would lose all of his income and care. He felt he had no choice but to select the option the former president was leading him to. The man then reluctantly signed a paper stating that he stood with this leader. When the former first lady saw his reluctance to sign the paper, she began to call him names. The former president calmed her down. He then addressed the man in the wheelchair.

Former President: "Look, as I see it, you have one more shot at redemption."

He pointed at a package that was with the man in the otherwise empty plexiglass room. When the man opened the package, he was shocked to see that it contained a gun in a design he had never seen before, a shirt representing the KKK (even though he was not a member) and a map of a venue (a rally with a stage).

Man in the wheelchair: "What do I need these for?"

Former President: "Don't play stupid. You know exactly what needs to be done here. Now, put on your shirt. A car is waiting for you."

A security officer opened the door and took the man in the wheelchair outside.

Former President: "Next? Who is next?"

Just then, another man came in. He had a prosthetic leg from his knee down. The man in the wheelchair recognized this new arrival and gave him a signal to warn him. The man knew that there was trouble, so he took off and ran. A different security officer ran after him. The other security officer did not see that the man in the wheelchair had signaled the other man.

The security officer then took apart the oddly designed gun and attached it to the man's wheelchair. In doing so, the gun looked like a part of his wheelchair. The man was shown how to assemble the gun in secret and how it worked. It was then put back on his wheelchair. The man was then dropped off outside the event. His KKK shirt was covered with another shirt.

As planned, the gun made it through the secret service checkpoints. His ride watched to make sure that everything went as planned. Once safely in the venue, his ride left. Soon as his ride left, he immediately went to a secret service officer to tell them what was happening. He did this knowing that his life would essentially be over either way. They escorted him to a backroom near the event. They believed everything he said.
Sub-dream 1 over.

Father, what was this dream about? It was disturbing!

There has been an outbreak in Maine at the pulp plant. More cases are now cropping up again. There is talk that face coverings will be mandatory at all times, even outside. This is hard for me as I struggle with breathing with a mask. Where are the fabrics produced? What is the protocol in the places where they are manufactured? How do we know that the ones on the market are safe? I don't think we know any of this with certainty. Father, please don't make us subject to these mandatory restrictions. Help!

Today is National 'Coming Out' Day. This is to help celebrate October as LGBTQ History Month. It is a shame that this month, one of my favorites, dedicated to Your Holy Festivals, is also being used for evil practices and celebrations. Father, today is Tishrei 24, the Jewish holiday of Simchat Torah, the Joy of Your Word! This is to celebrate Your Truth, the Truth that can only be found in Your Word.

The enemy has now made this a day in direct dereliction of Your Holiness. How fast a nation can fall from Your Words. Your favor is beyond comprehension. I am not sure our prayers for our nations help much as evil gets all of the coverage. Most of the prayers to You can only be found on YouTube. Even though there are hundreds of channels on TV, not one carried the prayers for our nation on September 26, 2020.

Father, can I make a declaration? I declare that tomorrow, October 12, 2020, be the day of truth. Please well up in us. Please fill our vessels with Your strength and truth. Please make it so that we are able to sweep the land of lies. Please make it so that we are able to make all of this evil flee. We want to heal the sick and revive the downtrodden. We want to bring the promises of Heaven to Earth.

Can October 12, 2020 be a new day, a day for the Transformation of hearts, bodies and minds? Can this day be a great celebration to bring hope? Can this day be when Your warriors come out of their closets and boldly proclaim the message of truth, all without masks? Tomorrow is also Tishrei

24. On Tishrei 24, 336 BC, the prophets Ezra and Nehemiah proclaimed a covenant with You to uphold the laws. Father, as it is in Nehemiah 9, let it also be for today. Nehemiah 9:6-16 reads as follows...

6 You are the Lord, You alone. You have made Heaven, the Heaven of heavens, with all their host, the Earth and all that is on it, the seas and all that is in them; and You preserve all of them; and the host of Heaven worships you. 7 You are the Lord, the God who chose Abram and brought him out of Ur of the Chaldeans and gave him the name Abraham. 8 You found his heart faithful before You, and made with him the covenant to give to his offspring the land of the Canaanite, the Hittite, the Amorite, the Perizzite, the Jebusite, and the Girgashite. And You have kept Your promise, for You are righteous. 9 And You saw the affliction of our fathers in Egypt and heard their cry at the Red Sea, 10 and performed signs and wonders against Pharaoh and all his servants and all the people of his land, for You knew that they acted arrogantly against our fathers. And You made a name for Yourself, as it is to this day. 11 And You divided the sea before them, so that they went through the midst of the sea on dry land, and You cast their pursuers into the depths, as a stone into mighty waters. 12 By a pillar of cloud You led them in the day, and by a pillar of fire in the night to light for them the way in which they should go. 13 You came down on Mount Sinai and spoke with them from Heaven and gave them right rules and true laws, good statutes and commandments, 14 and You made known to them Your holy Sabbath and commanded them commandments and statutes and a law by Moses Your servant. 15 You gave them bread from Heaven for their hunger and brought water for them out of the rock for their thirst, and You told them to go in to possess the land that You had sworn to give them.

While there is more in Nehemiah than the above, this also shows how far we have gone astray from Your Commandments. Now, in a similar way as they have proclaimed in so many verses in Your Word, I too now ask for Your favor, Father. Here I go...

Dear Father God, You are the Alpha and the Omega, the beginning and the end. You are awesome and mighty. You keep Your covenants and steadfast love for us. Just as in those days, troubles and evil have increased. 2000+ years ago, You came down to Earth in the form of a human... a baby born of the Virgin Mary. You came to bare our sins and save us. Despite the evidence of You walking this Earth as God in the flesh and performing many signs, miracles and wonders, You are mostly ignored now.

This is despite You coming to fulfill the Words of the Prophets in the Tanach. Despite evidence of Your works and miracles, evil continues to increase. Still, Father, there are those of us who love You and long for You to rise up and show Your signs and wonders. We ask You to do this in a way that there can be no mistake that You are God. Father, those who are here, those who kneel at Your Throne, have gone through the fires of affliction. We have lost and suffered.

Like me, many have had to walk through the furnace of affliction for many years. So, here I am, along with so many of us who long for You, who long for and hope in the promises in Your Word. By Your Word, You say for us to pray... 'Our Father, Who art in Heaven, hallowed be Your Name! Thy Kingdom come, Thy Will be done, on Earth as it is in Heaven!' Please, Father, let these dreams be an encouragement to those with no hope, for those who are scared.

Declare this the day You have made so we are glad and rejoice in this. Please rise up in Your people. We are Your vessels, Lord. Tishrei 24 – Matthew 24. October 12 – John 14:12 – The Way, the Truth and the Life. You say, by Your Words, Lord, 'Truly, truly, I tell you... whoever believes in Me will also do the works I am doing. He will do even greater things than these because I am going to the Father!'

Lord, we ask for this to be now and that You pour out Your Spirit in an even greater way! We pray for all of these things, in Your Mighty Name, in Jesus' Name, Amen!

Father, I am not sure if I made a compelling case today. However, if You would hear me and accept this as good, it would be awesome!

Jesus: "Erin, come up."

I was holding my food tray. I was smaller and in white linen. Without warning, several birds flew onto my arms, shoulders and in the tray. I laughed. I have had a few do this here and there, but never like this. I was still laughing as I set the tray down. I wanted to see Jesus, so I ran around the corner. There He was...on the rock in our yard! He stood up and put His arms out. I ran to Him. He hugged me as I cried.

Me: "Lord, it has been a difficult week. The kids just lost their dog, Luke. It was brutally sad. They wept. They loved this dog."

Jesus: "Hmm, that is interesting. He is not lost. He can be found here." He drew my attention across the bridge...

- There was Luke! His fur was all white. His coat had an iridescent quality. He looked like a puppy again. I began to cry.

- Just then, another dog came up. It was Jessie, my yellow lab who once had only three legs. She now had all four legs again. Her coat was gold and beautiful.
- Then came Cooper, my Shar-pei. So healthy and strong.
- Then Autumn. She had hair of white and copper.
- And then our black lab Marrakesh, whose hair was white.
- There was my Malamute Husky, Sasha. Also, so healthy and strong.

All of these dogs were now in Heaven with Jesus. They were sitting on the other side of the bridge. They all looked beautiful and strong. They all smiled and sat in obedience. I was now looking at every dog in my life from the time I was just a toddler. I looked back at Jesus and gave Him a big hug. When I turned to look back at the dogs again, they were gone.

Me: "Where are they, Lord?"

Jesus: "They like to explore places and nap under trees. They run in fields and chase butterflies. They smile a lot. They are grateful."

Me: "So many preachers preach that there are no animals in Heaven since they have no souls."

Jesus: "There is much to learn about the Kingdom of Heaven. You need only to start from the beginning to understand this mystery. It is simple. It is so simple that even a child can understand, yet a great preacher can declare this or that with no knowledge of who I am.

"How horrible this is for those who have lost an animal... who loves unconditionally and are faithful and obedient to their owner. What a crushing blow to a child to have to ask if their beloved lamb is in Heaven waiting for them to come Home. Now, I will ask you this...after creating angels, did My Father say 'I wished I hadn't created angels' even after 1/3rd fell from Heaven?"

Me: "No. If He had said this, this would imply that He made a mistake."

Jesus: "God doesn't make mistakes. Did I then declare I had a problem with animals and wished I had not created them? What about darkness versus light? What about the Earth versus Heaven?"

Me: "No, Lord. However, there is something that confuses me. You said that You wished that You had not created man and animals after they became corrupted."

Jesus: "Ah ha! Now you are on to something. Before Eve ate of the tree and the fall of man occurred, all was perfected. Adam was created to care for the animals. The land was good and beautiful. So then... what would you conclude from all of this?"

Me: "Well, Lord, You do not make mistakes. However, man made a mistake and sin was born from the Garden. Eventually even the Garden of Eden disappeared. You love what is good. You love and care for Your Creation and the hearts of those who love You. To me, there are many mysteries, such as why Lucifer was allowed such an ego as to fall and take 1/3rd of Heaven with him and why he was then allowed to corrupt man.

"However, what I do know is that I can't possibly know unless You give me knowledge to understand. You made man in Your image to care for the animals. You then added a woman to be a companion and to later populate the Earth. Whatever was before the fall was pure, holy and good. Heaven is therefore like this...pure, holy, perfect and joyful. There are therefore 'perfected' animals there. There are lovely things everywhere there. All things in Heaven glorify You. You are worthy, Lord!"

Jesus: Smiling. "So, Erin, do you think that I make mistakes?"

Me: I tried to keep a straight face, but I started to smile as I continued.

"Well, Lord, Your only mistake is that we are still unchanged." I was now laughing. He was too. "Okay, in all seriousness, no, You do not make mistakes. Your ways are higher than ours. Even You stating this in Genesis is not a mistake." I studied His eyes and knew He wanted me to continue.

"I believe that Your heart grieves as man is corrupted. I believe that You remember how delightful they were as children and that it is difficult for You to see them change to evil. Still, all of this never comes as a surprise to You, Lord. You make no mistakes. As for our pets and many animals, I now believe that they are a different order of created beings... like angels are, but not the same as them."

Jesus: Nodding in agreement. "Very good, Erin. Perhaps you have more knowledge than you think. You will discover these mysteries one day. As for right now, there is enough to unpack in the moment, let alone age-old questions. Now, you have discovered something..."

Me: "Yes, Lord. I have been studying Isaiah, Cyrus and other interesting parallels from history that are just like today. While doing so, I discovered that there are four servant songs in Isaías..."

- Isaías 42:1-9: The Song of the Faithful Servant
- Isaías 49:1-9: The Song of the Chosen Servant
- Isaías 50:4-11: The Song of the Obedient Servant
- Isaías 52:13 to 53:12: The Song of the Suffering Servant (Jesus)

"That being said, I would like to add another song. This would be 'The Song of the Transformed Servant' and it would be based on Isaías 61. As You know, Lord, Isaías 61 speaks of the Year of the Lord's Favor."

Jesus: Laughing. "Erin, are you adding Scriptures to My Words?"

Me: "Oh no, Lord, forgive me... never! I am just declaring a passage already written. So, how about that?" I was laughing too.

Jesus: Smiling. "You are being tough on Me today. You are asking for quite a lot."

Me: Smiling. "Yes, Lord, but this is not too difficult for You. You can do all things. Nothing is impossible for You."

Jesus: "Very good, Erin. Well, we have learned many things today."

Me: "Yes, Lord, but there is even more. This is based on Your promises. There is an invitation to the 'abundant life' in Isaías 55. There is 'joy for the outcasts' in Isaías 56. The wicked are called out in Isaías 57. The difference between fake faith and real faith is in Isaías 58. Answers to humanity's injustice, the goats from the sheep, are in Isaías 59. As for Isaías 60 to 66, there is...

- A New Day
- A New Priesthood
- A New Wedding
- A New Mercy
- A New Prayer
- A New Heaven & Earth
- A New Jerusalem

"So, Lord, please do all You have said You would. I love Heaven so much. Heaven is so beautiful. However, I love so many people on Earth and they need healing. They need to see Your miracles. Their hopes are fading. Please heal us soon. I love You! We love You! We believe in You! You do not make mistakes!"

Jesus: Smiling. "Oh Erin, your heart is good. So too is your zeal. Yes, much of what is written in My Word is the same pattern of wars and battlefields as today. However, there is a hidden enemy, a weapon unlike any other. This weapon is meant to remove half of the Earth. However, what was made for evil, I will turn it for good.

"I have stopped the plans of the enemy against My people. There is a war in the heavenlies over you. It is because I am about to do something the world has never seen. Now, be encouraged as I have not forgotten any of you. I love all of you. All of My promises are true. Now, rejoice, Erin, as I am with you."

He hugged me and then He was gone.

Dream over...

Dream 439 – Give all your worries to the Lord

Received on Sunday, October 18, 2020

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day, a beautiful day! You are amazing, Father, and Your love knows no bounds. You have extended the fall beauty here. You have made everything beautiful with changing leaf colors. The sound of flocks of geese are all around. The wildlife has come out. However, there is still the looming threat of the virus. This limits the freedoms that we once had.

This also limits the ability to see medical specialists when there is a need. I have not been feeling well. Something I never thought would rear its ugly head is the possibility I may have pancreatitis again. The last few days have humbled me. I spent many days in the hospital 16 years ago while I dealt with this horrible illness. This is something so horrible that I would not wish it on even my very worst enemy.

I had a dream two nights ago...

Sub-dream 1 "The big, scary rat" begins...

I walked outside in the dark to get something out of the passenger door of our car. As I rounded the corner, a large rat about 20 inches long and grey-brown came out of the tire well of the back-right side of the car. This startled me. The rat was also startled and, in fear, ran back into the tire well. He then went under the car and soon scurried off of our property entirely. While we don't have rats here, this still scared me. While I felt that this may be a warning, I was not sure.

Sub-dream 1 over...

Father, I am sorry if I have been distraught. I have been sad and on edge. I have been deeply concerned over events in the news. I am concerned about the possible state of the nation leading up to the election, but especially after the election. Please forgive me for my worry and distress. I am unsure about what to do. I have more 'can't dos' than 'can dos'. I live with so many limitations that I am grieving in my Spirit.

Father, I work for You. You have hired me and granted me as a worker for You. I am blessed because You are the King over all things. You are my Father and my Employer. We are blessed by You. As I began to write, the pain in my abdomen lessened. Still, oh Father, this is no time for me to be in the hospital. Could You please have mercy and take this from me? I am scared.

Jesus: "Erin, come up."

I was at my house again. I ran out my front door to look for Jesus. I turned the corner and there He was. He was already sitting on the beautiful rock. He stood to receive me. I ran into His arms. I was in tears. He held me in His arms. I cried on His robe. The fabric of His robe received my tears. His robe was instantly and supernaturally dry.

Jesus: "Erin, you are worrying about many things..."

- You worry if you are in My favor
- You worry if you are saved
- You worry if this is your last dream
- You worry about your children
- You worry about your friends...their situations, health and living conditions
- You worry about your husband and a job for him
- You worry that you aren't doing enough
- You worry about the plague

"Erin, your worry list is long. Why do you worry when you know I love you, your husband, your children and your friends? Am I not the God over all things? Am I not your First Love?"

Me: "Yes, Lord, You are. I am sorry. I repent of my worry. I wonder 'when?', Lord. Hours, days, weeks, months and even years have now gone by. I wonder about so many things. Did I miss something You may have said? To me, 'be ready' means now..." I then laughed as I nudged Him. "...as in today...as in right now even. Regardless, Lord, I am scared. What if I am not ready?"

Jesus: "You are ready. You were born ready." He smiled and laughed. "Erin, a call such as yours is not an easy calling. You rest in the assurance of My promises, yet when you then experience no movement, no progress or a blatant enemy attack, you question your mental state. Well, I did not promise you an easy journey. However, I did promise you an exciting and fulfilling journey experience.

"I have revealed to you the things I have prepared for you in Heaven and for all those I have called...as well as things on Earth. Unfortunately, the things on Earth are often contrary to the things here in Heaven. However,

Heaven will soon be visible on Earth. The landscape will change. There is still a greater event to come and, later, a much greater event still.

"Erin, tell your friends that I am God over all things. I see all things and, for the moment, I have allowed many things, including those things unholy and unclean. However, I am never oblivious to the suffering of My people. The attacks from the enemy are nothing new. They have happened over the course of history. Just because the pattern of the enemy is predictable doesn't mean that I am stagnant and passive.

"I am the same yesterday, today and tomorrow. While I am unchanging, I am still about to do a new thing unlike anything prior. This will come at a time which is perfect. This will fulfill that which is written and doesn't contradict My Word. Even so, this still comes at a time man thinks not, understand? When I move, I will do this at the perfect time. This will be at a time which was foretold. So too will I come and return at the appointed time. It is appointed in advance so there can be no argument.

"Now, I would like you to relax. So, what does 'be ready' mean to you?"

Me: "Well, I look at this as leaving no thing...no task...undone."

Jesus: "Seriously?" He was laughing. "Well then, when will your many projects be ready and finished? The world is waiting for you to be finished so that this important great day can finally arrive." We were both laughing now.

Me: Putting my head in my hand and shaking it. "I can't believe that I just said this. I didn't mean that."

Jesus: Smiling. "Well, no wonder the enemy works overtime to distract you from your finishing of projects!" We both laughed again. "Erin, these matter not to Me. In one wave of My arm, all will be complete. The burden of all of this is purely enemy driven. The need to finish all of this is self-inflicted. This is a rabbit hole the enemy would like you stuck in.

"You are free. I love you. Troubles might loom, but they will be kept far from you. You have kept My statutes and your heart is good. 'Be ready' means 'make your heart willing, ready and surrendered to Me'. That is all.

"Now, the current news will say that this is a battle for the soul of the nation in reference to this election. However, this is not accurate. They are being prompted by the enemy to say this as if the only way to 'save the nation' is through the enemy's way. This is a lie. This is, first and foremost, a battle. This is a battle for hearts, a battle against good vs evil and a battle against God and God's judgments.

"Well, you must take heart and comfort that I am in control over all things. The enemy will not prevail. If I can soften the heart of a rebellious leader and make him turn to Me and the nation to turn back to Me, then this is a miracle you are seeing. You are a witness to My miracles. You have seen an untamed tongue turn to the Living God, even speaking prophetically over the nation and its plight. This man is like Cyrus.

"So, Erin, please do not worry. The enemy also knows the time he is in. As such, he is weaponizing every battle front. Please do not worry. I am God over all of this. I have called you here, outside in your front yard, to reassure you. Please remember that I am always in control and that I always care about you."

Me: "Why did I have the dream about the rat? What does this mean?"

Jesus: "It is a warning to My people that, where you go and where you travel, the enemy is there. He hunts down those who are Mine. Remember, where there is prey, there are usually predators in wait. So too, while you pray, your enemy also watches and 'preys'. However, do not worry as these attempts to destroy you will be unsuccessful. This means the same for your household and your friends."

Me: "Speaking of...we have had some more troubles here."

Jesus: "Let us start by looking at the very clear dream you had. This will offer clues as to its meaning. First off, the rat was outside of your house and your vehicle. This means he did not have permission to enter. This is good. This means your home and car are secure. Now, let us look at the time. It was dark outside. This meant it was lurking in darkness. This is very typical of the enemy.

"As for its appearance, it was a very large rat... beyond normal. This is an unclean animal, one which is a devourer. It chews and scratches. It carries plagues and diseases. When it saw you, it was also startled. It then ran away from you in fear and left your property. It came from your rear wheel. This symbolizes travel. It is aware of your comings and goings.

"While it had been working to deceive you, it fled instead. This is all a good sign, Erin. Now, why did the rat flee? Well, not because you were entertaining it. It was because you had scared it. The very sight of you made it flee. So, this was good. Now, how are you feeling?"

Me: "Well, right now, my stomach pain is gone."

Jesus: "Erin, the enemy seeks to scare you so you have fear and worry. He wants you to worry and believe you are going mad. If he can give you hopelessness, then he has victory. Please do not give up and give in to the enemy. Instead, rest confidently in Me. I know you are not feeling well. Rest more. As your Physician, drink more fluids and take joy in the provisions I give you.

"Erin, do not worry about how you will pay for this or, in the future, how you will do that. If I appoint rulers, then won't I also care for a sparrow, providing a nest at My Altar, a place where her young are cared for? I have you. I love you. If you have a need, I know it. When you knock at the door, please know that I am here at the door. The door shall be opened to you and I will answer you.

"I will send help from My Sanctuary. I love you." He hugged me. "Now, worry does nothing to your days but add more worry. Give this also to Me. Let Me have your worrisome burdens. My shoulders can carry these..." He smiled. "... I promise."

Me: "I know, Lord. You are amazing. I love You. I will try to let go of my worries."

Jesus: "Good, Erin. Now, let Me bless you. A Great Gift is coming for My Bride. This means a Great Gift is coming to you."

Me: "I like gifts!"

Jesus: "As do I..." He smiled. "... as do I. However, this one will change your lives." He smiled again. "Now, enjoy the beautiful day... enjoy the beautiful day that I have made!"

He hugged me and then He was gone.

Dream over.

Dream 440 – The Valleys of Decision

Received on Thursday, October 22, 2020

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day! Thank You for breathing. I am thankful for fresh autumn air. I am thankful for my husband, our children and our home. Father, I am scared and I am avoiding medical attention. I do not want surgery. I do not want new medications. I just want You and the promises You have given me. However, that being said, I do not want to be stupid either. Please reveal to me what I must do.

My husband is working harder to gain employment. Could You please open up something ideal for him? I know it has been very difficult for him as he enjoys working. Still, this is Your Will, not our will, and this must be a part of Your plan for him. Thank You for providing for us despite all of this. It is a miracle. My dreams have been disturbed, some due to worrying about things in general. I am sorry. In my dream...

Sub-dream 1 "The Valleys of Decision" begins...

I stood at the edge of a cliff looking down over two valleys side by side. The valley to the left was quite disturbing. It actually looked like a Hieronymus Bosch painting called 'The Garden of Earthly Delights'. This painting is a classic triptych...three separate panels. The panel on the left shows the Garden of Eden, but the other two panels show the fall of man. These two panels are very explicit and hard to look at.

The valley to the left that I was now viewing looked a lot like these 'other two panels' in the painting. In this valley, I saw a version of hell on Earth. However, for those who partook in this, the evil delighted in the affliction of the innocent. I also saw babies and children being sacrificed on an 'altar' labeled 'righteous king'. Behind this altar was a horned goat on a throne.

Christians were being sacrificed. If they did not denounce God to follow the horned goat, their children were sacrificed in front of them. The wailing and stench of wicked activities were horrifying. There was nothing good there. People were declaring that 'God was dead'. I wept as I watched all of this from the ledge.

Me: "Oh Father, please forgive us. Please save the world... or at least those who love You. Please do not forget about us. I see famous people in this horrible valley that I recognize. I see others backing them up. These people do not understand what they are doing. How is this even possible?"

Note: The 'famous people' were Hollywood and sports stars that support the politicians that support ungodly statutes. The people 'backing them up' were the media and big tech, such as Facebook, Google and Twitter. They were feeding off each other and this only continues and amplifies.

I felt a hand on my arm. I turned and there was an angel of the Lord. While I have seen this angel before, I have never spoken with him. He was in full battle armor. He held a scale... a measuring line. He held up the scale over the two valleys. The valleys themselves then became the platforms of left and right. The left valley was the wicked valley and the right valley was the beautiful valley. He also held the moon and stars in his other arm. He was handsome and had wavy white hair.

Me: "Who are you, angel?"

Angel: "I was sent by God. I am the angel Krinos. However, I am not a judge. I measure and weigh and then report to God. God then administers based on my findings. I give Him my report."

Note: I was not sure how to spell Krinos. However, it seemed to be derived from the word Krino. In the Bible, Krino means 'to pronounce an opinion concerning right and wrong to be judged'. If you are like me, you will notice that this sounds a bit like Thanos, the bad guy from the Avengers movies. However, there is no relationship.

Me: "Did you come to measure me?" I sighed. "I fall short."

Krinos: "No, it is the Lord who measures hearts. I am a surveyor of the land of God, surveying that which is good against that which is unclean."

Me: "Hmm, are you like a 'real estate investment evaluation' angel?"

Krinos: Smiling. "Well, yes... of sorts. I am a type of Heavenly surveyor, one who reports on the investments of God over an area of land, body of water or air over it. I measure the soil for planting and determine if it is good. God owns all of it as it is He Who has created it. I work also with those who oversee God's Clock and Calendar... those who oversee the times and seasons. I also formulate a report of what will occur in the next seasons based on current observations. As you can see, there are two outcomes in this valley of decision."

Me: "But I see two valleys."

Krinos: "No... two outcomes. I am here to measure and weigh these for God's purposes."

Me: "The world's current situation just doesn't look that good to me."

Krinos: "Look over here. There is peace and joy. God is on the Throne. There is no human sacrifice, only a surrender of hearts. The altar is in worship to God. All who come here will bow to Him. All who come here will find rest."

Me: "When will all this be?"

Krinos: "Soon."

Sub-dream 1 over.

If you have remaining questions on this dream, you are not alone. I too have further questions. All I know is that God is fully in control of the times and seasons. While I still do not know exactly what 'soon' means in Heaven, I have no doubt that this 'soon' will become 'now' in the not too distant future. Until then, give your worries to the Lord and trust in Him fully in all things.

Dream over.

Dream 441 – The Saints in Heaven Are Interceding for Us

Received on Friday, October 23, 2020

A dear friend of mine recently had her mother pass away. While this has only happened a few times in the eight years since these dreams began, I was subsequently given a dream of her mother's arrival in Heaven.

When this happens (that is...receiving a dream of someone who just died), it is never something I request in advance. It simply happens as a surprise and I then write the dreams down. I am then always thrilled when the description of the person in Heaven has so many qualities of that person on Earth.

However, not only that, but I would have no way of knowing of any of their personal qualities in advance of the dream. What an awesome privilege it is to then see a family take such peace and comfort in reading the dream of their beloved one now in Heaven. Still, I must reiterate that it is rare that I dream about saints who have moved Home to Heaven.

My husband and I actually wrestled with sharing this for quite some time as these dreams are just so personal. However, we decided that it was important that people know that those who have passed before us are up there in Heaven cheering us on. It is also important that people know just how special each saint's arrival is to the Lord.

On that note, here are the dreams about this dear sweet person's arrival in Heaven, followed by her family's reaction to what was shared with them. As such, I also wanted to share her family's reaction as it was such a huge part of the joy of sharing these dreams...

Sub-dream 1 "Just before a Saint's passing" begins...

I saw something in the Spirit concerning your Mom just before she passed. This is incredible...

I saw a bridge that separated your Mom from an angel of the Lord. This angel then stepped over the bridge to take her hand. While this angel looked like Raphael, I was not sure if he was. While hard to describe, I could see her both in her hospital bed and in this Heavenly setting.

Her actions in the hospital room would not have matched what people would have seen at the hospital. While her body was flat to those viewing her, she was now sitting up and ready to get out of bed in the supernatural. I saw her reach out to the angel...

Your Mom: "Am I crossing over the Jordan?"

Angel: Smiling. "There are many waiting to see you. It is time."

She stepped off onto the floor. She then looked back at her body that remained lying their flat. It was no longer her, but just her body.

Your Mom: "But I still have things to do."

Angel: "Come and see what God has planned for His beloved. He is waiting."

Just then, she changed. I am in tears as I write this. A beautiful golden rose shimmer went across her. Her eyes were now green and her skin a beautiful bronze, just like Jesus. She was jumping up and down in excitement. On the other side of the bridge were family, friends and others who were changed by her. She ran towards them. She was clearly ready for the great celebration.

Angel: Calling out to her. "Did you still have things to do?"

She looked back and hesitated to answer, but only for a short time.

Your Mom: "No! My babies got this!"

Sub-dream 1 over.

I then had this dream two nights ago.

Sub-dream 2 "Just before a Saint's arrival" begins...

I was looking at a beautiful Mediterranean home with verandas and flowering vines. The home was white stucco and the tile work was better than any earthly home I had ever been in. This was even more deluxe than the 14,000 square foot one in Portland, Oregon that I had designed. The details were so incredible that I cannot even adequately describe it.

I looked on only as an observer. From the Veranda, I could see angels preparing tables. The tables were elaborately decorated with white table cloths and beautiful bowls of the most fragrant of flowers. This mansion was near other properties of similar stature, all surrounding an incredible lake. The lake was crystal clear and unlike anything on Earth.

All of the angels and workers were clearly preparing for a big celebration. There were other homes that also had tables and decorations. This was going to be a grand reception!

Sub-dream 2 over.

I then had this dream last night.

Sub-dream 3 "Just after a Saint's arrival" begins...

I saw the same Mediterranean mansion, but this time with a bird's eye view. I saw beautiful arrangements. The angels and saints were preparing the finishing touches. There were beautiful fountains everywhere. An angel was there sitting next to me.

Me: "Those fountains are beautiful. This technology cannot be found on Earth."

Angel: "There is a great celebration for a saint coming here to see the Home the Lord has built for her. The fountains are full of her tears on Earth. At night, the fountains are alive and spring with colors."

Just then, I saw a beautiful carriage arrive from the City of God. It was drawn by two horses from God's own stables. An angel of the Lord blew a Shofar. This trumpet was a horn made of mother of pearl. They announced the saint's name. An angel then came up to help her step out of the carriage.

She was in a shimmering gown of white and gold of Ophir. She had no need for makeup or adornments. Her skin was a light golden bronze just like Jesus. Her hair was long and woven with pearls and gold and came forward over her right shoulder. She appeared as a 25-year-old. She was accompanied by three saints...one male and two females. One of them shielded her eyes so as to surprise her.

Your Mom: "Where is Jesus?"

Jesus was right there with her. He reached for her hand. She opened her eyes and they embraced. He smiled and laughed as she hugged Him as she didn't want to let go.

Jesus: "Come, I have prepared a place for you."

She turned and looked at the mansion. She looked surprised, if not confused, that such a mansion could be for her.

Your Mom: "What? What? Mine? Mine?"

Jesus: Smiling. "Yes, this is yours. I just know you will like it."

Tears of joy streamed down her cheeks as she embraced everyone. After a while, I saw a great celebration on all of the verandas of the homes.

The verandas were filled with jubilant saints, guests and angels. God soon put on an incredible light show in the sky. There was music. There was great food by the finest chefs in all of history. There was wine from God's reserves.

One of the saints who accompanied her was a jokester. He smiled at her with tears of gratitude that she was Home. He had an angel play a song. He started to sing to it and she was laughing so hard. It was a derivation of 'Caribbean Queen' by Billy Ocean, but with the lyrics playfully altered.

Male saint: Singing. "Caribbean Queen, now we're sharing the same dream!"

There was laughter and joy. Thousands were celebrating. Generations were all waiting to greet her. This was her 'Eternity Day Celebration'! The angel turned to me.

Angel: "It is well with her soul. She will now join in the numbers of warriors who will intercede for those who remain. She is more valuable to others from here than there, understand?"

Me: "I think so."

Angel: "She is part of an army of intercessors from Heaven. Because of her, her children and their children will be strengthened and healed. Do not worry as they will soon meet."

Sub-dream 3 over.

Initial Reaction: Wow, I could barely read this with blurry eyes full of tears! This was so wonderful to read. I sent it to my sisters and her sisters.

This is such a GIFT! The jokester sounds like my grandfather. It is her, her sister, her mom and her dad. That sounds like the ones who accompanied her.

Celebrated with thousands from generations? Just wow! The arrival on horses... from the City of God. The surprise to see Jesus. Seeing her crack up at my grandfather's singing. He could sing, but it was usually joking. I bet he wrote something really silly for her. He's really, really funny like that. I'm sure he has a song for all of us. He was an AWESOME pianist. He could play anything. He could read any music on the piano. I always said I know he has a grand piano.

This was AMAZING, JUST AMAZING! Every detail, just amazing! And her hair over her shoulder is the only way she wore it. What an incredible confirmation. All of this was so wonderful. Well, beyond wonderful to read. I think I'll be reading this every day until I see her again. I am going to read this to my kids. Just wow! Ok... off to read again.

Further Reaction: First thing my sisters pointed out was her interceding for us. I forgot to mention that. There was nothing in those dreams that wasn't amazing. I am going to read this every day. We will have it on display during the viewing as well. This was too beautiful not to share! This is how we want everyone to think of her as they leave. Not as they see her, but as she is now. Just wow! Off to read again!

Note: Prior to publishing these sub-dreams, we asked my friend if it would be okay to share this as part of the dreams. Her reaction was priceless (just like she is)...

"ABSOLUTELY!!!! Please do share!!!! That will encourage EVERYONE on their loved ones!!!!"

I agree...smiles! God is good...so, so very good!

Dream over.

Dream 442 – Obey the Day of the Sabbath

Received on Tuesday, October 27, 2020

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day! Thank You for Your love and care. Thank You for Divine Rest. Thank You for my husband and our children. Thank You for our dear friends. Today though, my state of wellness, my physical condition, squelches my strength and disturbs my sleep. Comfort is very difficult to find as a result.

Father, I have been struggling in my heart and even wrestling with You on many fronts. I cling to Your promises and hold out on the stress of future planning. When viewing the world right now, we are witnessing a mass deception occurring before our eyes. One only has to look at Your Word, the Bible, to see that the writing is on the wall.

There are deep shortages in certain sectors that are either happening now or in the near future. Things are happening that we would never imagine, all because of the pure greed of a select few. We have now added worries that the wealthy elite know nothing about. In just nine months, our country has been greatly weakened. We have had an assault on our health and our economy from the pandemic.

We have also had looting and rioting. An attack of fear and hate has set fire to our cities. Our country has become divided. While this is exposing the lies and hypocrisy of many, very few are watching or listening. What was once taboo and illegal is now considered normal and legal. What was once a blatant sin against nature is now considered pure and healthy. What was once good just last year is now considered hateful and evil. All of this has happened so fast.

The things You have shown me for today's young people and children has broken my heart. What is being taught to my daughter in her art history course are blatant lies. Everything is now centered around political indoctrination and it is not even subtle. How is it possible to take a mere art history overview course and insert things that were not happening at the time?

My daughter is being taught that the Muslim religion of Islam was active in art even before Jesus' birth. How can this be true if their prophet, the beginning of Islam, was not born until around 700 years after Jesus' birth? Well, this is simply not true. The class has also removed references to BC and AD as they feel it puts too much emphasis on the Christian religion. Well guess what? Almost all art and sculpture revolved around three things – Greek Gods, Roman Emperors and the Bible.

That is a fact! There was virtually no reference to Islam in European Art, with the following two exceptions: Byzantine architecture and mosaics in both tiles and carpets. Yes, these were stunningly beautiful designs, but there was essentially nothing else. Very little was attributed to the Arabic world in Europe. Now though, there is a completely different narrative, a newly created one. It is so disheartening.

I would like to know who is funding all of these blatant lies. However, if we knew, would we really be surprised? No. The hateful things said of Jesus in almost all secular schools are horrible. This is all so hateful and evil. The propaganda of evil and hate is surely alive, well and now prospering.

Father, please strengthen Your people. Please do not forget about us. Please flex Your muscles. Please show Your strength. Please reveal Yourself to the world in a new way and heal this land. As for now, I find myself fearful in many ways that I never have before. I have no confidence in the world around us. We are encountering some scary people. Many have demons, addictions and probably often both.

For the first time in my life, I feel weak and ineffective. It has been humbling. Because of the pandemic, everything in the health care system is being backed up. There are also shortages again in various items. Because the USA and Canada no longer manufacture as much paper, aluminum and plastics, there are now shortages in supplies. While this is only a guess, it seems like the first wave was an experiment and that this second wave is more controlled and deliberate.

I just received a notice from one of my friends about severe food shortages in Sudan. Because of the state of the world today, many there will be unable to get help. There is so much more too. Oh Father, please help us. Please bless us. Please bless Your people. We love You! While we long to serve You in a mighty way, only in Your strength can we move forward as Your Army. May this be very soon!

Jesus: "Erin, come up."

I was at the edge of the bridge in our yard. I was looking across the bridge when Uriel appeared on his horse. I walked across the bridge to meet him.

Uriel: "Erin, I have a message for you from God. He knows all that you are going through. He is with you. You will not stumble or fall. No harm will prevail against you by your enemies. Continue on your course and God will make all of your plans succeed. However, I also have a warning. Be careful to obey the day of the Sabbath. You are to rest on this day. You are to take this time to remember God. You are to take this time to remember that He created all you see in six days and that He then rested on the seventh, understand?"

Me: "Yes, Uriel. I notice that I become sick whenever I try to work on my 'designated' Sabbath day."

Note: My 'designated' Sabbath day usually varies between Saturday or Sunday. More on my opinion on this at the end of this dream.

Uriel: "You are not God, Erin. If you work on the day God has commanded you to rest, you are then directly making a statement that you know better than God as to what is good."

Me: "Please forgive me." I knew from past experience that Uriel would immediately correct me that forgiving me is not his role, only God's, so I quickly added the following... smiles. "I mean... please send my apologies to God."

Uriel: Smiling. "You can go directly to Him with this, Erin. Remember, this is not just for you, it is also for your friends and family to follow too. This is the single most ignored command. The enemy has even worked overtime to distract God's people from following this command."

Me: "Are we to do nothing than just lay down on the Sabbath day?"

Uriel: Smiling. "No, Erin, this is also an enemy lie. Erin, you are to rest in God. You are to keep the day for Him alone. In Heaven, His praises will be forever on your lips. However, on Earth, this is often replaced with worry and 'to-do lists'. Just set the day apart for God. Rejoice, Erin, and remember that He is over all things. He loves you."

Me: I began to cry. "I was so sick on Saturday and Sunday that I didn't do much other than worry. I feel so horrible about doing this. I should have given this day to God instead. I try to do this, but sometimes I fail."

Uriel: "Do not worry, Erin, as God is about to do something amazing. You are to stay alert. Obey His commands. Remain in His presence. To do so is wisdom."

Me: "Uriel, have I just been rebuked?"

Uriel: "This is not just for you, Erin. This is a good warning for all. Turn from this and go to God in reconciliation. Offer Him up your heart again and, in turn, He will bless you. However, I am not talking about just a little blessing.

I am now talking about a large one, so large a blessing that you would not even believe it if you were told.

"Now, one last message. The enemy knows how to destroy your joy. He knows what disturbs your thoughts. He knows how to cause trouble. Give all of this to God for He alone will strengthen and heal you." Uriel smiled at me to comfort me as he saw that I was still looking troubled.

"Erin, do not be downcast. God sent me to you because He loves you and does not want you to miss any Good Gift, understand? He is blessing you with good things."

Me: "Yes, Uriel, I understand."

Uriel: "I must go now. However, be encouraged. You are greatly loved by the Lord and greatly hated by the enemy. This is a good thing. Now, rejoice, be ready and keep that lamp burning."

Uriel waved, turned on his horse and was gone in an instant.

Note – my thoughts on 'what day' is the Sabbath: What is the day of the Sabbath? Traditionally, Jews have had Saturday as their Sabbath and Christians have had Sunday as their Sabbath.

However, our culture is no longer the same. People now work irregular shifts or have more than one job, often having to work on both of these two days. So, what are you to do? I believe that you should still carve out a 24-hour period once a week, no matter the day(s), as best as you can, to obey the Sabbath. I believe that God will honor this knowing that your heart is in the right place.

As for whether this has to be on a Saturday or a Sunday for those who can choose, I believe this doesn't truly matter to God and that the enemy has made this a much bigger issue than what it ever should have been. Remember, the Lord looks at our hearts. We cannot fool Him. If we put in the effort to make one day a week a Sabbath to honor Him and Him alone, no matter the day, following His pattern of resting, He will still honor this.

Given that this topic is something whole religious sects have been birthed on, I already know that many people will disagree with my seemingly 'nonchalant' opinion on this subject. That is okay. I accept this. We will simply have to agree to disagree.

Sonho acabou.

Dream 443 – The Path and the Deer from the Beginning

Received on Saturday, October 31, 2020

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day! Thank You for protecting us. Thank You for my family and my friends. It has been a difficult time for all of us. There is almost too much to write down. Thursday felt like a life altering day. However, before talking about what happened on Thursday, October 29, 2020, I will start off by talking about what happened on Monday, October 26, 2020.

I had just dropped my daughters off at school and was driving home. I use this time to worship You. I turned up the volume and prayed in my spiritual language. I prayed for various items weighing heavily on my heart, as well as for needs and burdens for Sparrows and their families.

As I rounded the corner, a beautiful doe was standing right there in the middle of the road. The doe looked strong, healthy and well fed. She stopped to look at me. I then saw another car coming in the distance. I knew that the position of the sun would have made it so that this driver could not see the deer. I wanted the doe to move so I honked. To my relief, the doe leaped off the road and into safety.

Fast forward back to Thursday morning, October 29, 2020. It all started off strangely. Our two daughters and I have three alarms between the three of us. On this particular morning, all three alarms failed to sound. It was an important day as our younger daughter had just finished working on a school project. However, this was no ordinary school project.

My daughter had chosen to recreate something from history in a model. She had just finished an amazingly accurate replica of the Tabernacle used by Moses and the Hebrews in the desert. We carefully moved it into the car. Because of the alarm failure, we were late, as in way late. We prayed together and we all felt that I should adhere strictly to the speed limit despite being late.

As we drove in, we noticed a car that barely missed a deer. We decided to pray for the deer's protection, along with any others, as well as all of the drivers too. After praying for this, a strange thing happened. A woman in a vehicle pulled out in front of me. It was so close, I believe she may not have seen me. She was driving very slowly. Thankfully, there was a passing lane, so I passed her.

This must have enraged her as she suddenly found her accelerator. She was tracking me very closely, but she didn't pass me as the passing lane had ended. I decided that I would pull over and let her pass as soon as I found a safe place. We came around a corner near a small house with a lighthouse on it. The sun was low and right in our eyes. As a result, I was only travelling at 45-mph in a 55-mph zone.

Just then, a large doe leaped the guardrail just in front of the car. I had learned many years ago to keep your steering wheel straight and drive through this. Had I steered to the left, I would have hit a school bus. Had I steered to the right, I would have plunged down a steep embankment into a bog. Our car obliterated the deer. We drove right over it. No matter what we did, we would have still killed this doe.

A beautiful animal had just been 'sacrificed at the altar of our path', our daily drive. I just knew that our car was in bad shape, so I pulled over to the side of the road. The woman I had passed gave us a rude smile as she passed us. She then projected an even ruder finger at us. She didn't stop. She just kept driving. I knew in my heart that she was happy about what had happened to us.

Once safely pulled over, I got out of the car to view the damage. Most of the right side was obliterated. We have a metal hood, but it still had buckled. Wires were hanging from it. The right light was mashed. The car was clearly undrivable. I was shaking and couldn't pick up a phone to dial properly. I finally calmed down enough to get a hold of my husband to come and get the girls so I could wait for the police.

Just then, a fire department dispatch person pulled up. He had been on his way to work. He called dispatch animal control and they came almost immediately. This prompt reply was because they had just been down the road dealing with another deer incident. Emergency road crews soon came and removed the deer from the road. I later found out that the deer was given to a needy family.

I soon found out that the man helping us is named Dave. He had looked in our car and recognized our older daughter. My daughter had interviewed with Dave just a couple of months before on 'Fire Awareness'. Dave therefore knew that my daughter had gone to a Christian school.

Dave: "Are all of you believers?"

All three of us, almost in unison: "Yes."

Dave: "That's great. I also work as the pastor of a Baptist church."

Older daughter: "Wouldn't you know it...we had just prayed about protection for the deer and for the drivers."

Dave: "Well, your accident could have been much worse. It could have come through your windshield or through the passenger side window. The hunting season for ducks and geese are causing problems. That shooting you here down by the water is scaring them up here to the road."

Me: "How horrible!"

Dave: "There is nothing we can do about it as it is their season. Now, don't worry as I will wait with you until help comes."

Just then, my husband pulled up in my old Pacifica.

Me: Talking to our daughters. "Okay, time to get a ride in the Pacifica."

Since I was the driver for this accident, I had to stay back with the damaged car. They then carefully transferred the large tent of the Tabernacle diorama to the Pacifica. Dave's reaction was priceless.

Dave: "Wait! Is that the Holy of Holies?"

My husband: All of us were laughing. "Yes, it is." He then looked at our daughters with a smile. "So, did either of you girls mishandle the 'Ark of the Covenant' during transport?"

Dave: All of us were now laughing harder. "Well, I must say that this is a first for me."

My husband and daughters drove off as I remained with Dave. I was going through periods of tears, then periods of 'bravery'. I was obviously shaken.

Me: "This is normal for me. I usually stay tough during traumatic events, but later become quite affected."

I then spent some time giving Dave my testimonial of my near-death experiences and my coming to Jesus.

Dave: "I wonder what this accident was for. The Lord always has a reason."

Me: "First off, accidents are not always about the victim. It is also not always about our being sinful as some churches teach. I would argue that we are instead being used as measures. God is lining up his sheep and separating them from the lukewarm goats. God is the Giver of Good Gifts for all those He has called...for those who love Him."

Dave: "Hmm, what an interesting perspective."

Me: "Who are we to question the methods that God uses to bring all of His perfect plans into place? After all, He wants it so that no one lacks any good thing. While we can be inconvenienced as a result, like we are right now, God never promised us an easy path. He only promised that, on His perfect path for our lives, under His plan, we may be perfected and our heart reconciled."

Dave: "This makes sense. There are never accidents with God. There are so many that attend my church that just don't 'get it'. I even had a man come up to me to tell me that God had called him to be a 'fruit inspector' (that is, to judge the fruit of others)."

Just then, my husband made it back and at the same time as the arrival of the police officer. The police officer came over to me and started taking down an incident report. My husband continued to make phone calls to the dealership and the insurance company as I met with the officer. Now that the officer and my husband had arrived, Dave told me that he was leaving. I thanked him for keeping us calm. I continued to speak with the female officer.

Officer: "Sorry about taking some time to finally get here. It has been a busy morning, mostly because of incidents with animals like you just had. Are you okay? Do you need an ambulance?"

Me: "I think I am okay. I will contact my doctor when I get home. I don't think I should go to the hospital though as this would take hours."

Officer: "I don't blame you."

Me: "I just can't believe this. We had just finished praying for protection for the deer and the drivers as we had just seen a near miss a few minutes earlier."

Officer: "Are you a believer?"

Me: "Yes."

Officer: "You should know that God was looking after you. This could have been much worse. The deer and other animals are being driven up to the roadway. To get over the guardrail, they are taking a running leap. Even without the sun in your eyes, you would have been unable to avoid this collision. The guardrail is less than three feet from the side of the road. You drove properly though. Most overcompensate their steering and get into an even worse accident."

Me: "Making this worse is the drivers that are passing me. I am sad at the amount of people who look happy at our troubles. They have been honking, pointing and laughing."

Officer: "Oh, I know." She shook her head in disgust. "These people delight in someone else's troubles. However, there always seems to be payback. Troubles come to them. If not today, another day. It always does."

The officer was just finishing her report as the tow truck came. She gave me her card and smiled. She then had to leave as she had received another call. It was another deer accident.

When the tow truck driver came out of her tow truck, my husband recognized her immediately. Every time he has had to call a tow truck, it is almost always her that has come. While very much a tomboy, she was very friendly. She loaded our car to take to the local body shop as we drove off. We then went to a car rental place and rented another car. Unfortunately, the day did not get much better after this.

Two of our kids had substantial dental work and it cost almost $1,000. The Pacifica then had a leaky tire and we had to take care of this as well. When we finally got home, we then discovered that our freezer we had just purchased three weeks ago had just stopped. A few hundred dollars of food had to be thrown away as a result. We then had an odd time of lights flickering. This happened on multiple circuits.

Our dishwasher then began to behave funny. There were so many other things as well. While they were little compared to the accident in the morning, they would have been significant on any other given day.

Me: Crying. "Oh Father, this left me so depressed. The attacks have increased against Your people. There is very little good news these days. The enemy doesn't stop. Attacks are increasing. While I know that You just warned us of this, I am still overwhelmed by all of it."

Jesus: "Erin, come up."

I was walking up a hill with an incredibly detailed stamped dirt pattern. I immediately recognized this path as the one from the very beginning of these dreams. The fine powdery dirt had a beautiful geometric pattern unlike anything I had ever seen on Earth. As I climbed, my feet ruined the pattern. No matter how carefully I stepped, each footprint obliterated the existence of the current pattern.

My shadow followed me as I stepped. I turned to look at my shadow and it was elongated and skinny. Shadows do not reflect details like age. If anything, shadows make us look better...smiles. I walked further before turning to look at the mess I had just made. To my surprise, something interesting was happening instead. My steps were revealing what was underneath the dirt the whole time.

My footprints were removing what I thought was beautiful, the stamped dirt, only to reveal what was hidden below this dirt. This was beautiful stonework beyond description. The joints of the stone had created the illusion of what I thought was an intricate pattern in the powdery dirt. A wind then came up and blew away all of the dirt that was there.

What was left was everlasting beautiful stones in an impossibly complex and amazing pattern. The pattern was in order, not disorder. Between each joint was beautiful soft grass. As I looked closer at the stones, I noticed that each stone had a date and a number count. Under these dates, I saw names. Under some of the dates, I saw many names. I was not sure what the number count was for, but guessed it was the number of days in my life.

I turned around in a full circle. Yes, I knew this hill. It was definitely from the very beginning. However, there was no fog this time. I could now see clearly all that was in front of me. I started to cry in joy. As I cried, I heard something ahead of me. I looked up and there was the beautiful doe from so many years ago, the deer from the beginning of these dreams.

This deer had shimmering fur and the most beautiful face. She walked over to me. I hugged her. She licked my arm. I turned to kiss her head and noticed her eyes. When I looked into her eyes, I could see the front side of the car that hit the deer on Thursday morning. I saw my older daughter on the other side of the window. I gasped when I realized I was witnessing the moment of impact in the deer's eyes.

Me: "This was you! My car hit you. However, you are the same deer I have seen here in Heaven before, including at the very beginning. I have chased you up the hill. I have watched you climb the rocks. How is this even possible? This just happened two days ago. I am sorry. I am so sorry. If I hadn't passed that lady, you might still be alive. If I had just..."

The beautiful doe interrupted me by nudging me to turn around. I felt a hand on my shoulder. I turned around and there was Jesus! My heart leapt with excitement. I reached up to embrace Him.

Me: "Oh Lord, I am so sorry..."

Jesus: "I am not. The deer is not. Erin, she is strong here. She has no fear here. She can leap and climb without an accident. She is happy. You will see her again."

Me: Crying. "Lord, so many people have died recently...so many loved ones. There is so much grieving and uncertainty right now. I am scared. I had an ominous dream last night. I had a difficult night."

Jesus: "Yes, but I also showed you something wonderful. However, let Me start by saying this. The deer did not suffer. My angel took her spirit before impact. Please take comfort in this. Hearts were tested that day. There was a Great Divide that you could not see..."

- Some recognized you and drove by.
- Some scoffed at your troubles and said you probably deserved it.
- Some stopped to gaze and then drove off.
- One gave you a scoffing laugh and a 'hand gesture'.

- Some saw the man (Dave) testifying about his walk with hand gestures to praise Me. People honked, believing you were being rebuked by him.
- Some were sad for you and the deer.
- Some were relieved that it was you and not them.
- Many judged you harshly.

"At least eighty vehicles drove by in the two hours you were there. While each one had something to say, very few were good."

Me: "Oh Lord, this makes me so sad."

Jesus: "Understandably. Me too. This is the Great Turning Away vs the Great Turning To...the Great Awakening."

Me: "Hmm, I don't think I fully understand. In the end, this was just me hitting a deer, wasn't it?"

Jesus: "While this appears insignificant on the surface and in the simplest of terms, you were a measuring device, a type of heart monitor. While a large wave of troubles have come against My people, it is not as it seems on the surface. Erin, this is a final sweep...one last call."

Me: "What? Wait! Are You saying that all of our troubles these last few seasons have been allowed by You for all of this?"

Jesus: "Yes, Erin. While the enemy believes it is because of his power, it is not. It is actually by My power. Erin, you have been shown the bridge many times now. This is the bridge between Heaven and Earth. You are not the only one with this bridge. There are many bridges, but only for those that I have called. You will be able to see over the bridge in a similar way as those could view the Promised Land.

"However, you and those I have called will be able to cross over and back. While there is much more to this, this is to remain a mystery for now. This bridge is also My recompense...My reward for My weary. It is good. To those who are not Mine, they will be unable to view these bridges. Angels protect these entrances to Heaven...these Gates...day and night. As a result, nothing evil can come near these Gates.

"Now, Erin, what is upon your heart?"

Me: Crying. "Oh Lord, I am so sorry. I could be better. My pain and weakness make me tired and grumpy. When I am here with You, I am young and healthy. While I am in great distress in my living on Earth, I am free from pain here in Heaven. This accident gave me greater pain. Oh Lord, I am ready for something...well...positive!"

Jesus: Smiling. "You have been studying My Word. Would you share your findings according to your heart?"

Me: "Yes, Lord. I have been studying Isaiah. It has always been one of my most favorite. It is like my road map. In Isaiah 56:11, You call on us to do what is just and right. We are to worship You and love You and serve You. We are to honor the Sabbath and rest. We are to remain true to Your covenant."

Jesus: "Erin, in Hebrews 4, I am your Sabbath rest. I wrote Hebrews. I was the author. It has been disputed. Was it Paul? Was it someone else? Well, I authored this. It was I and I alone. It is My history lesson of which no one could know at the time."

Me: "Where did it come from?"

Jesus: "The physical origins of this writing are unknown. However, this matters not as nothing is impossible for God. You worry about many things. You do this as if worrying about things you cannot control can change an outcome. Well, you cannot. Therefore, it is I Who tell you to pray. When you pray, you take what the enemy planned for evil and turn it for good. Remember what I said..."

"No one therefore takes My life. I give of My life sacrificially because I have the authority to lay down My life when I want to and also to take it up again, understand? Therefore, if I have the power over life and death and I even have the keys to release those held in death, then Who gave Me this?"

Me: "God, the Father."

Jesus: "Yes. I am given all authority and only Me, understand?"

Me: "Yes, Lord."

Jesus: "Now, you have only to look at the patterns of history to understand the patterns present today. Isaiah the prophet was a clarion call to his people, to Israel. He sounded the alarm. God had chosen the Hebrews for himself. He delivered them out of Egyptian bondage. He gave them His Law, as well as the Promised Land that He had prepared for them.

"He sent them judges and prophets to help them govern the contract covenant with Him. Despite this, the Hebrews wanted to be like other nations...desiring their own king. They then followed the other nations by participating with pagan religions and practicing spiritual adultery. What then followed was sexual sin and child sacrifice (Isaiah 57).

"They also gave more honor to false prophets than those My Father had sent. Those God had declared and separated to be a light to the nations instead became as dark and sinful as those nations. What follows is the darkness covering the light of God. All goodness therefore becomes consumed by evil.

"What you see across the nations now is the same. What was once bad is now good. What was once unforgivable is now dismissed. What was once truth is now lies. This goes on and on. The land is now under My judgment. Darkness is on notice. Lies are being exposed. I have stirred the hearts of those I have called...

- A new day is coming
- A new priesthood is coming
- A new wedding
- A new mercy
- A new prayer
- A new Heaven
- A new Earth
- A new Jerusalem

Me: "Lord, please hurry. Please help us soon."

Jesus: "I do all things for the good of those who love Me. Evil cannot steal an election. They do not control this. I am over all things. I see the wicked schemes in secret. I allow the exposure of the wicked so that those who have eyes to see will avoid them. I know the plans of the wicked against My people. They will not prevail. Just remember, no one can raise up a leader without God, understand?"

Me: "I think so."

Jesus: Smiling. "Do not worry so much about those things which I am God over." He nudged me. "Okay?"

Me: "Yes, Lord."

Jesus: "Now, I promise you that there is Good News coming. I have signed and even sealed a contract. I am not a breaker of contracts. I do not enter into something and remove it conditionally unless I say 'if you do this or that, then I will do this or that.' As an example, I could say 'as long as your heart remains in Me and you do not follow pagan gods, you will then continue to receive My blessings.' Erin, I am clear, understand? Now, what about these patterned stones all around you?"

Me: "Yes, Lord! These are beautiful."

Jesus: "This is because you made a pact with Me around twenty years ago. I made an agreement based on your ability to let go of the world and allow Me to render in you a heart of gold...a difficult pact. You kept your side of this. You stayed steadfast. You remained in Me and even chased Me, never letting up. Even when you wanted to give up, you still pursued Me. In turn, Erin, it was I Who had always pursued you. I have never left you." He smiled as I hugged Him.

Me: Crying. "Thank You, Lord. I love You."

Jesus: "I love you too."

Me: "Lord, in my dream last night, I was changed. I could do things."

Jesus: Smiling. "For I am about to do something in your days you would not believe even if you were told. A new thing! Now, rejoice. Judgment has come, but also a new mercy. Rejoice, Erin. Take comfort in Me. Even read Hebrews as if I am writing and explaining it before you, understand?"

"Oh yes...do not participate in any pagan festival related to child sacrifice."

Me: "Do You mean Halloween?"

Jesus: "This one in particular. I say all these things so you do not miss any good thing." He hugged me. "Oh yes...the dates and names on these stones list out the many you have affected or are soon to affect for the Kingdom of Heaven."

Me: "Lord, these stones seem to go on forever. I cannot even see an end."

Jesus: Smiling. "It is very beautiful...one of My best works." He clapped His hands together as if to get the dust off of His hands as if He had just been sculpting. Of course, He didn't have any dust as this was just Him making me smile. "While this is your life, it is My story." He laughed.

Me: "I love You, Lord. You are so amazing."

Jesus: "I love you, Erin." He smiled.

Dream 444 – The Last Sunday before the Election

Received on Sunday, November 1, 2020 (All Saint's Day)

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for perfect peace! Thank You for divine rest. I was exhausted yesterday. My nights have been restless. I have been unable to get comfortable. It has created broken bits of dreams. Lord, You are with me all of the time. You are my greatest resource and my source of wisdom, knowledge and rest. However, pain often draws me away from You, not towards You. I saw an analogy to this when greeting my little lamb dog, Zoey, this morning.

Zoey was in so much pain today. She normally waits for me to walk into the room. She then greets me and is so excited to just get some love and attention. However, she was shaking in the corner this morning. She was hurting and retreating, completely out of reach to give her comfort. When I give her a little bone, she normally plays and pounces on it like a cat. This morning, she just sighed and laid her head back down. She is in great pain.

This is what I sometimes do with You, Lord. I grow tired and weary. Sometimes so much so that, when You tell me to have faith in Your promises, I retreat and 'grumble'. I say things like 'of course, Lord, but I am in pain and tired now. I cannot even lay down my head, the pain is so great. I can't imagine healing. It hurts when relief never comes.' This is how I am like my dog Zoey was this morning when I come to You like this. I am sorry, Lord. Oh Father, You are never constrained by time. Everything we do is based on time. Time for this. Time for that. It goes on and on.

I read the Book of Hebrews again this morning. Who is brilliant like You, Lord? No one. You give us directives in this. Even though You wrote this primarily for Jewish / Hebrew converts to Christianity, there is wisdom and knowledge of things man could not possibly know. However, You would know as You are the Author and the Creator of history...Your story. Your instructions are clear and I am sorry I did not give this book the proper attention it deserves.

However, I now realize it is designed for us right now and right here (John 1:1-3). I smiled as I read God stating 'in the beginning was the Word, and the Word was with God and the Word was God. He was in the beginning with God. All things came into being through Him and, apart from Him, nothing came into being that has come into being.' As I read Hebrews, I could picture You writing this...speaking in human form, but still in Heaven. Yet another mystery.

I now find myself wondering about other books. What about Joshua, Esther, Song of Songs and others. This made me really stop and think. If the Word is You and You are the Word of Truth, then You are also the Author of all Good Works. This is our light to our path and our lamp to our feet (Psalm 119). To You and through You, all truth is formed and all Creation has come into being.

I am small, Lord. How can the Creator of all things, the One Who mapped out the stars, galaxies, the moon and the sun, know my name? How great is Your love that You may know me, but really all of us, including the things we care about? Quite simply, it is impossible for us to comprehend Your vast love. You count every tear that falls and collect them. These are then recorded (Psalms 56:8).

We are imperfect here on Earth. We stumble, fall, get lost, get attacked, run away and rebel. Even though we chase worldly things, You chase us. You love us and still pursue us. You see something in us that we don't see. You understand our lack and love us unconditionally. When we are physically frail enough to stumble and fall, we reflect on our mistakes and we look back to see all the areas of our lives where You were there. You stayed with us.

Even when I wasn't nice to You and foolish, You still loved me. Who is like You, Lord? Who? Who could ever love us like You do? You know everything about us. Nothing is hidden. You are the Greatest God, the Only One. You love me, but really all of us. Your love has no bounds. You are impossibly impossible to comprehend. Through You, all things are made possible. This is a great day, a new day. Each dawn brings a new day! I had a couple of dreams last night...

Sub-dream 1 "Snow time: All things are made new" begins...

I was sitting in a beautiful meadow near a small brook. I sat down on a small rock by the brook. The meadow was lush with fresh grass and beautiful wildflowers. I closed my eyes. I soon felt something falling gently on my face. I opened my eyes and snow was falling. It was such a pretty sight. It was not cold though. Unlike on Earth, the snowflakes felt pleasant. I then heard God...

Voice of the Lord: "I make all things new!"

I was so excited to hear His Voice that I got up from the rock and started dancing in the snow. As I spun around, I could see all types of small animals step out to play in the snow with me. It was so delightful.
Sub-dream 1 over.

I woke us suddenly to a small gnat flying into my mouth. It tasted like bitter honey... yuck! I coughed it out as I got up to get a drink of water. I then went back to sleep and had another dream...

Sub-dream 2 "Animal Rescue Place run by demons" begins...

I had been invited to an animal rescue place. When I arrived, there was a woman there waiting to greet me. Over her head was a sign with the words 'Huggables Resort'.

Woman: "Not many come here. When they do, they do not enter in. It is heartbreaking. I am so glad you came."

Me: I smiled. "Well, let's see these 'Huggables'."

I walked into a giant caged yard. While it had been snowing outside the fence, it was not snowing where we were with the animals. When we entered, all of the animals ran to the corners to hide.

Woman: Talking to the animals. "It is okay. She is here to hug you."

I then saw them, little by little, turn to walk towards me. I gasped when I noticed that all of them had been abused. Most of them had deformities. Some had been burned. It was so bad that, for some, it was even difficult to distinguish the type of animals I was looking at.

Woman: Now talking to me. "Please don't run away. They are so grateful to have visitors. Many of them will soon need to be put down."

Me: "No, they won't. They will be healed instead."

A small cat came over to rub against my leg. I placed my hand on its back.

Me: "Hi, little one. You are healed...in Jesus' Name!"

The cat changed immediately. It now had strong legs and beautiful fur. When the other animals saw the healing, they all came running to me.

Me: "Jesus is here at the 'Huggables' today!"

Just then, Jesus appeared. I knew that we could all see Him, except for the woman. There was a bright light. As soon as the light flashed, every one of the little animals were healed and made whole again. He reached down and took a small lamb. He smiled at me and then they were both gone in an instant.

Woman: "Who are you? What has happened? My funding will be lost!"

I suddenly realized that she was evil. She began to confess to how the animals had become so gnarled. She had allowed it and even participated in it. She was proud of her work. She then began to curse me. I had enough.

Me: In a firm and calm tone. "Close your mouth."

Her lips were sealed instantly. I gathered up all of the animals and took them to a beautiful little farm where they could roam freely and without harm. They would also have children visit them there. When I came back to the so-called 'Rescue' Place, I realized that the entire organization was corrupt. The woman and her associates had been abusing the animals to create online posts to bring in money.

The woman was still trying to curse me through her sealed mouth. It was muffled and impossible to understand what she was saying. With a motion of my arm, the entire facility became a barren lot. The building was gone, as well as the entire cage system. The woman was trying to curse me even more now.

After confining her to the now barren lot, I unsealed her mouth. There, in isolation, she could swear, curse and confess to her deeds all she wanted. Upon leaving, I looked at the sign over the lot. It had now been changed to read 'Judgeables Resort'. I laughed so hard that God had turned the word 'Huggables' to 'Judgeables'.

Sub-dream 2 over.

Father, what an odd couple of dreams. I also remember another dream where an angel was speaking to me. Upon waking, I remembered a few of the things he had said. However, my memory of this was soon gone. What I am sure of was that I had been receiving instructions for what is to soon come. Father, please help us!

Jesus: "Erin, come up."

I was in my yard feeding the animals. I placed my tray down and ran to the large rock next to the stream. Jesus was there waiting for me. He had a smile on His face. I ran into His arms to embrace Him. I didn't want to let go.

Me: "I love You, Jesus... so much! You are so amazing."

Jesus: "I love you, Erin. You make Me smile. Now, come with Me."

I took His hand and He walked me halfway across the bridge.

Jesus: "Do you see the difference?"

I looked and noticed that everything in front of us and to the right of the rail was beautiful, lush and alive. Behind us and to our left, everything was flawed, brown, barren and preparing for the cold.

Jesus: "So, Erin, what makes you smile?"

Me: "So many things..."

- Beauty in Your Creation
- Baby animals and birds
- Flowers
- Little children and babies
- Dancing
- Worship music that moves through me (the song 'Freedom is Here' has been going through my head last night and today)
- Sunshine
- Shooting stars
- Rainbows
- The moon, sun and the stars
- My husband's smiles and hugs
- My children's laughter
- The look of my dogs Zoey and Snigglet smiling at me
- The birds that land on my seed tray as I am holding it
- Your face, Lord...You are so handsome
- Your presence...that brings me so much comfort
- A new day

"There is something else that will surprise You. Wait, nothing surprises You, even though You sometimes pretend that it does. Maybe this will be one of those times. Anyway, I would like to add 'Your smell' to the list. Lord, You smell wonderful!"

Jesus: Laughing while pretending to be surprised. "What? Really?"

Me: Now crying with joy. "Also, Your touch, Lord. Your presence leaves me breathless."

Jesus: "Erin, you make Me smile. I delight in your wonder, your discovery, your worship and your prayers. I am always with you. Now, 20 means a complete and perfect waiting period. Erin, with you, it has been 20 years.

For all of you, this is the Year of My Favor. It is a great year of promises fulfilled."

Me: "Yes, Lord. Thank You."

Jesus: "This is the Year of My Favor. This will be a year of New Beginnings. Things are about to change for the better. Your roles are much greater than you think or imagine. Now, remain encouraged as all things are about to be shaken. A Great Revival will bring with it a harvest unlike anything before or ever again. Rejoice! Erin, rejoice!"

He reached over and hugged me. I was wrapped up in the most incredible feeling of complete and utter security. His hugs are impossible to describe adequately as there is no earthly equivalent.

Jesus: "Erin, this is the month of Thanksgiving. This is also the month of the Remembrance of Sacrifices. This is followed by the Festival of Lights. You are My lights. Rejoice, Erin. Do not worry." He hugged me and smiled. "Remember... 20 years!"

Dream 445 – The First Sunday after the Election

Received on Sunday, November 8, 2020

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day! Thank You for all You have done for us. Thank You for my family and this wonderful Nest. Father, please rise up in Your people and create a way where there is no way. I have kept away from my technology. It has begun to turn against me as an enemy in our home. Still, this is now a necessary tool for daily living.

An update just downloaded automatically. What if I didn't want to update this? It defies me. I am now concerned that it is doing much more than just giving me a way to connect with others. It is literally not allowing me my normal freedoms. It now goes to certain organizations. It is switching my searches to something I didn't ask for. It was tracing my steps for COVID even when I didn't give permission to do this.

One thing You have always taught me is to not engage with the enemy without Your direction. I then refuse to participate unless You first equip me. Since I have refused to participate, my screen time is way down. You have taught us to be careful about what we take in with our eyes and ears. Even then, we are to bring all things before You before drawing a conclusion.

Well, You are now speaking to me in the quietness. Here is where I listen. It has been good to remove myself from the lies. The demonocracy (a real word!) and their cohorts declared themselves the victors last night. Father, You and You alone appoint kings and rulers. Most of Your prophets declared that Trump would be victorious. You raised up this 45th President just as You did Cyrus in Isaiah 45.

A while back, You had given me a vision of Trump as a Red Bull kicking up dirt as matadors stabbed him. One after another kept stabbing him. Just then, what looked like a dead Bull instead rose up. I had another dream about this last night that seemed similar, but in more detail...

Sub-dream 1 "The Red Bull Is Brought Back to Life"

I was watching over a huge stadium and saw a familiar scene of the Red Bull being antagonized by six matadors. However, this time, I noticed that each of the six matadors had a team of six matadors assisting them. We could see the 42 (6 + 6 x 6) matadors clearly. For each of the six matadors, there were two matadors on horseback, two matadors with spears and two matadors with swords.

All 42 of the matadors were in full dress. They each had capes, one side blue and the other side red. They were waving at the Bull and taunting him with their capes. The 42 different matadors were working in conjunction to distract and shield what was actually occurring to the Bull. The Bull was becoming enraged and was frightening to those in attendance.

All of those in the stands of the stadium were there to support the matadors in the ring. However, all of those outside of the stadium were those who cared for the Bull and cheered for him to turn on his attackers with success. The crowd outside became louder and louder as they could see what was happening to the Bull bit by bit under the capes. It was difficult to watch this unfair fight.

There were now several lances in the back of the Bull. He had lost a large amount of blood. It was extremely difficult to watch. A mother and her child in the stadium were watching this bloody spectacle together..

Boy: "Why does the Bull charge at the red and blue capes? Doesn't he like the colors?"

Mom: "Bulls are color blind. They do not see the colors. The cape is to protect us from all of the blood. It is a good thing. The matadors are brave and stand up against the scary Bull."

Boy: "What happens when the Bull doesn't rise up again?"

Mom: "We finally celebrate."

Boy: "They are teasing the Bull and being bullies. This is hard to watch, mommy!"

Mom: "Yes, it is hard to watch. However, imagine how great this will be once the threat is gone. Think of it this way... the Bull is a scary unpredictable monster and the whole arena is in danger until the Bull is finally dead." Just then, the Bull fell over. She seemed very pleased. "Now it looks like the Bull is finally dead."

It was a gruesome sight. Not only had the Bull been poked with spears, but also lanced with swords. The matadors were claiming victory and riding around the arena. I looked up in the stands and saw what looked like a king and queen holding their hands up. When I looked closer, I realized that the king and queen were the man and woman running against the Bull. The crowd cheered and declared that the Bull was dead.

As the Bull lay there bleeding and lifeless, they continued in their celebration. This was not as it appeared. They had spent so much time tiring out the Bull with an exhaustive match that he was worn down. They had failed to deal the final blow. The Bull was not dead! In a strange ritual, a group of judges over the event extended the Bull an orange flag on a stick. This group of judges were in a type of penthouse at the top of the stadium. The crowd shouted in outrage. There was soon pushback from the king and queen. The judges gave a declaration to allow the Bull fifteen minutes more to die and that, once dead, the victory would be sealed. However, after the fifteen minutes elapsed and since the Bull was still alive, the judges once again drew out the orange flag. The king and queen once again declared outrage and got the crowd in the stadium behind them.

The judges granted seven more minutes and stated that, if the outcome changed and the Bull rose to his feet, he would then be allowed to live. The 42 matadors were angry about this and plotted again to even remove the judges as the outcome did not favor them.

They then tried to rally up the crowd outside of the stadium. They claimed that the Bull was suffering and asked them if they could bring the Bull out so that they could humanely destroy him. They were doing this as they could not have any more blood on their hands. This was because the judges had ordered that the Bull either live or die without their further interference.

The outside crowd, all in favor of the Bull, cried and wailed as four donkeys came to bring the Bull out by ropes. They were dragging him in the dirt on their way out. As they did this, they continued to declare their victory over the Bull. However, then something happened!

It was a massive shaking! All were terrified. The Voice of God commanded the Bull to rise! By a miracle, the Bull's wounds were healed. The Bull was now more massive and had huge horns. He leapt to his feet. He turned on the 42 matadors and even up to the crowd. This even caused the king and queen to run and hide from the Bull.

I then saw something like lights falling from Heaven. I could see saints like warriors. They were glorified and strengthened. They ran after the 42 matadors and many, many others, exposing their deeds and lies. Sub-dream 1 over.

Oh Father, even though the ending of this dream made me happy, I am still a bit sad. I can hardly wait for this to happen. These 42 matadors were quite frightening. While I know that You are fully in control, it is still scary for us that have no control.

Just then, there was an earthquake in Bliss Corner, Massachusetts. It was a 4.2 earthquake. I smiled as the 4.2 was similar to 42. This was later downgraded to a 3.6, similar to the 36 behind the main six matadors.

This felt like an immediate confirmation that, yes, God is absolutely 100% in control. This earthquake happened near the 44th President's home. There are some interesting names surrounding where this happened: Goat Island, Bull Island, Falmouth, Devil's Foot Island, Provincetown and New Bedford. Even more interesting is that this is near Plymouth, the birth place of the USA.

Oh Father, Your infinite humor is immense. The entire cape of Massachusetts literally looks like a fist for fighting. The earthquake took place near here, just north of Martha's Vineyard and the former President's estate. North of the epicenter is New Bedford. It seems like You have made a 'New Bed For' (New Bedford) demons in which they will be 'Foul Mouths' (Falmouth).

Smiles... anyway, You do nothing without divine purpose. You are in control of all things. Oh Father, please have mercy on us. We love You. I was outside in our yard yesterday. The day was unusually warm. There was a smell to the air. I heard the Lord's Voice...

Voice of the Lord: "I am about to shake the nations!"

I felt in my heart that He would soon shake California.

Jesus: "Erin, come up."

I was outside in our side yard. I ran to the front and could see the bridge when I looked back. I didn't see the Lord. I went back and tried to cross the bridge. Something unusual then happened. I was unable to cross the bridge. There was a barrier. I sat down and began to cry.

Me: "Oh Father, please forgive me. Am I now removed from the bridge?"

In the corner of my eye, I saw movement in the woods across the road. I felt an evil presence there. Just then and without warning, two massive angels on horseback, fully in armor, came towards the evil presence. One of the angels had a bow and arrow and the other angel had a sword. The evil fled immediately.

The two angels then looked over at me and waved. I waved back. The angels turned and then disappeared to my naked eye. I then turned back towards the bridge. The barrier was still there. It was like a clear water wall. I bowed my head and prayed. When I looked back up, the barrier was now gone. I walked across. Just then, Uriel appeared on his horse. He was in full battle armor.

Uriel: "Erin, I bring you a message from God. He is still in control and has been from the beginning. There is nothing new under Heaven. The corruption of the evil remains. With what you see daily, there is no good news. However, there still remains the Word of God and His promises.

"Now, all three branches of government were won by deception by those in control. Those governing each state came up with new rules. These new rules gave time to add ballots to sway the outcome. This was a team effort by investors, tech 'giants' and corrupt leaders. This began many years ago.

"This land was dedicated to serving God. As such, this land is under His rule and therefore under His judgment. He gave many chances for them to turn from their wickedness. He sent the man like Cyrus. The 45th President has been written about in a foreshadowing of Isaiah 45.

"When God granted permission for the increase in the demonic reign, it began in December 2012. However, there were perimeters given under Heaven's laws from the Throne Room of God. This was done to weigh evil vs good in the hearts of man, dividing up those who are good from those who are evil.

"After four years under the Bull, and through no fault of this man, the land has only increased in corruption. 'Giants' unregulated by man have rose to power. This valley (Silicone Valley?) is above you and is an intricate web of lies and extreme power. God raised up the Bull to expose and stir up the hidden deeds of those in power.

"In response, the enemy has raised up an army meant to strike down God's elect. They now wish to completely destroy their lives. Knowing that God appointed His leader, strike after strike came against God's nation. The corruption and deception are now so widespread that it is difficult for man to even conceive. The stage of power is being set to raise up the former leader. He has been consistently active and has never stopped."

Me: "Are we all going to be persecuted?"

Uriel: "Well, there are many plans in place. However, some have begun to find those in support of God and His elect. However, do not worry. God is not finished with His people and the land is His."

Me: "Oh Uriel, my pain is great right now. I will soon be unable to write. I need help!"

Uriel: "God knows this, Erin. He knows that you remain faithful to His call in you. Your service in this capacity is almost complete. God loves you. He will not forsake you. Be encouraged. Greater are we who are with you and God in you than he who is in the world." He smiled. "Now pray and see that God is good and that evil will not prevail. I must go." He turned on his horse and was gone in an instant.

Sonho acabou.

Dream 446 – A Fun Day after being Transformed

Received on Sunday, November 15, 2020

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day! Thank You for Your love. Thank You for all that we have. You are a blessing, Father. Please be blessed in all You do. Everyday, I hear curses come against You. However, no matter what a man does with his vile mouth, nothing can stop You! I am so grateful for all of Your protection. Sigh...part of my disability income was removed for no reason last week.

We have filed an appeal because there was no reason given for this happening. This is yet another thing in a long string of battles. I have to give this to You, Father. As per usual, I went to Your Word for wisdom. Thank you for guiding me to do this. I was then guided to read the Book of Jude again. This small book seems specifically written for this exact time that we are in.

First off, truth is always worth fighting for. Some out there today are defending truth publicly and defending the beliefs we cherish. There are people on the frontline. They are unafraid to defend the Gospel of Truth. Secondly, there are those who have sneaked in amongst us unnoticed. They have been sent by the enemy to pervert the message of God's Grace into a license to commit immorality and turn themselves and others against Jesus. There is a warning as well that there were those who still had unbelief even after seeing God deliver His people out of Egypt. Moses was later not allowed to enter the Promised Land, dying in the desert.

In a similar way, the cities of Sodom and Gomorrah gave themselves over to sexual immorality and the unnatural desire for 'different flesh'. 1st Enoch states that there were two hundred fallen angels or 'watchers'. They lusted after earthly women and bore offspring...the Nephilim.

The Book of Jubilees mentions holy angels sent by God to punish the watchers. 2nd Enoch describes the people of Sodom as committing abominations such as pedophilia, sorcery, magic enchantments and the worship of many gods. Both fallen angels and sinful humanity violated the boundaries that God had set in place.

In the Book of Jude, You point out those You have granted amazing blessings. While they had incredible privileges from You, they still abused Your grace. They were punished as a result. The Book of Genesis describes the area around the cities of Sodom and Gomorrah as being fertile and fruitful, similar to the garden of the Lord.

Israel's exodus, angels that sinned and the cities of sexual abominations are all examples providing a warning from You. This warning is that You are the Judge and You always judge sin. There is an eternal punishment of fire for all of those who refuse to come under Your great love and grace. Many with hearts of stone still rebel against the Great Gift of our Lord Jesus.

This is what we are seeing and experiencing right now. So much deception and corruption. What is good is called evil and what is truly evil is called acceptable and good. So, Father God, do not forget us. Do not forget Your people. We believe! There are still righteous truth seekers. The cold wave of evil blows throughout the land. Many who have risen to power are lovers of self and far from You. A few days ago, You clearly instructed me with Your Voice...

Voice of the Lord: "Jude... then Revelation."

This is all You said. You then repeated it. When I asked You to explain, I received no answer. However, You then placed on my heart an urgency to read and pray about the Book of Jude again and then proceed to Revelation. I awoke early this morning with a dream about my family...

Sub-dream 1 "Cruelty against our children as we are today"

You showed me their current state and the sadness they experience because the current state of the world seems to completely and openly come against the values You hold dear. Without You, Father, the status of a future for our children, especially my two sons, is grim.

You showed me the dreams of my sons and their hopes for a future compared to others around them. In their current state and aside by a miracle from You, they will be unable to live in this world today. In this dream, my daughter was detested by others close to her. This was heartbreaking as her kindness towards others was met with cruelty.

Sub-dream 1 over.

I awoke from this dream crying. We have come through all of these difficulties and hurdles only to be met with such coldness. While it shouldn't, I am still surprised by this. I can barely look at their childhood photos without tearing up. Things were different then. Times were different.

They were born in Portland OR. The city was beautiful. We often went to the gardens and zoo, as well as the beach. I was often alone with them. However, even at ages 6, 4 and 2, I had no fear as there really was no reason to fear. Or so I thought...smiles. There was so much promise. When things then became bad, we still had each other. Life was good. We still had friends, playdates and adventures. My sad dream from last night reminded me that the party is over as we had imagined it. This means a difficult road for our children. Seemingly to make up for my horrible dream, I then had a dream of a beautiful day.

Sub-dream 2 "My daughter enjoys a day of Transformation"

I went to wake up my older daughter. As I approached her bedroom door, there was a bright light shining underneath it. I opened the door and called her name. She had a huge smile on her face when she replied. Daughter: "Mom, look! Look at what has happened. Everything has changed. Mom, look at you!"

All I could see were my hands. They were young looking. There were no flaws on my skin. My fingers were perfectly straight. My nails looked like pearls. I don't mean they are shaped like pearls, but rather my nails have the same Mother of Pearl finish. I had obviously now been changed as well. I then saw my daughter clearly for the first time:

- Her eyes were a beautiful blue green
- Her skin was radiant and a beautiful warm light honey color
- Her teeth were straight and white
- Any scars she had disappeared
- Things she must have thought were flaws were made perfect
- Her nose changed and became perfectly balanced between her eyes
- Her figure was simply incredible

She already looked beautiful to me before, so it was hard to imagine how God could change her to be even more beautiful. Well, He just had!

Daughter: "Mom, watch this!!!"

With a single thought, she changed her hair from curly to straight and back. She then did the same with her hair color. She changed her hair from light brown to white and back. As I looked at my shoulder, I realized that my hair was now white and curly, but also longer than normal. With a single thought, my hair became light brown and straight. I could also change the length, as could my daughter. This all happened at the speed of thought. We were now holding hands and jumping up and down in excitement.

Because of the morning 'discovery' of our Transformation, my daughter was now late for her class. We rushed into the car, but then something odd happened. Without driving, we were instantly in town parked on the street. This happened immediately after we prayed that we would make it to her college on time. After getting over the shock of our translation, we both prayed for her protection as she was about to go into the classroom where her instructor revises art history.

Daughter: "Mom, I will stand out like this. What do I do?"

Me: "Let's pray for God's Will to be done."

We prayed and her brightness dimmed. However, her stunning physical attributes remained. As I watched her get out of the car, I was still in shock as to how perfectly beautiful she was. She was as beautiful as any super model or actress I had ever seen! As she walked to her class, I decided to pray again.

Me: "Thank You, Father. Please strengthen her. I wish I could see what was happening in her classroom."

I was immediately there next to her walking to her class. While she could see me, no one else could. I was able to communicate with her without words. When she walked in the class, I could hear various shouts of surprise. This is a secular college, so the words they used were 'colorful'. I decided to leave the words used out.

The teacher could not even look at her. Her eyes rolled back in her head and she began to confess how much she hates this, how much she has done here, and on and on. Without warning and like a wave, confessions then started happening around the room. I heard someone crying out 'Oh God, please leave.' I reached over to take my daughter's hand and I immediately became visible with her.

What transpired next was bone chilling. There were demonic manifestations like I have never seen before. Several students then came over to us and asked for God's mercy. In His power, we then healed half of the class. We saw something like veils lift off of them. Piercings and tattoos, most of them demonic in nature, were removed. Their physical ailments were also healed.

God then called us to go to our church. There was a function going on, but it was for staff only. We listened to our instructions and walked in where they were praying. When they saw my daughter, they immediately began to confess. When they saw me, they did not even recognize me as I looked not much older than my daughter. We healed many at the church.

As we walked back out to our car, several young men ran after my daughter to indicate their interest in her. She simply smiled and told them that the Lord's work is more important to her now than dating. She was very kind about it.

I then saw one of the young pastors pacing back and forth. He was hitting the side of his head. He was having a conversation with an entity in him. I walked over to him and healed him of a demon of anxious thoughts, all in Jesus' Mighty Name.

Many then began to gather to ask us for healing. We delivered many from horrible sicknesses, handicaps and other strongholds. We then went home to see the others and rest.

Sub-dream 2 over.

Note: A previous sub-dream had insinuated a possible Transformation on a Saturday Sabbath. This sub-dream, however, seemed to point to a week day Transformation instead. Now it seems like it could be any day. He is keeping us guessing... as per usual. It makes even more sense that He is also keeping the enemy guessing.

Father, thank You for this wonderful glimmer of hope. I still don't know what I will look like fully, but I know it will be for my benefit. However, based on how my daughter looked, You are simply extravagant, with all of this much more than we deserve. However, just to function without pain again will be a great miracle. Thank You, Lord!

Jesus: "Erin, come up."

I was out on our side yard feeding the small animals and birds. My kids tell me that I am an older version of Snow White... smiles. I turned to look toward the front yard. There were no cars in our driveway. I then looked back at the area with the bridge and the rock. There was a light so bright and brilliant, I just knew it was highlighting Jesus. I dropped my little feeding tray and ran to the Lord.

His arms were stretched out to receive me. His smile was as white as His linen tunic and pants. He also had a beautiful type of engraved breastplate made of gold and twelve jewels. I had never seen this breastplate before. He was also wearing a crown with layers of spires and jewels.

He held my hands in front of Him. He was so handsome. His eyes were blue and green and simply stunning against His tan color. This made His eyes look like jewels. His smile was brilliant as He looked at me with love. His love went deep into my soul. His eyes could truly see me as I am... fully and in every part. As I gazed into His eyes, my lips began to quiver as I held back tears.

Jesus: "What is the matter, My Sparrow?"

Me: "Lord, to stand here with You and to have You look upon me with love, fully unconditional, fully supernatural... well... I am overwhelmed. Who am I that the God of all Creation would love me as You do? You love me despite all of my times of battles. You love me despite my times of lack. You love me despite my times of sin against You. You love me despite the times I doubted Your plans for me.

"I am so sorry, Lord. No one has ever looked upon me and gone to the very heart of who I am and loved me. Not my mom. Not my father. Not even my husband. In turn, I too have never looked upon anyone like this."

Jesus: "I Am God. I Am Who I say I Am. There is none beside Me. Since I know you, it is I Who truly loves you. I know you. I know you have become weary. I know you, at times, wonder if you have lost your mind. I know in times of your great pain how hurt you feel that I am your Creator and Friend and yet I still do not heal you. You then see that I heal others, but still not you. You then wonder if My promises are true. They are.

"Erin, through your pain, faith and endurance are perfected. While this is a difficult concept to fully understand, My Bride cannot be completed until she chases the knowledge of her Groom. With great anticipation, she watches, waits, studies about Him and longs to be with Him more. The more she learns and understands, the closer she draws near to Him. My Bride, more than anyone else, must TRULY understand what faith and endurance means.

"Remember, you will have troubles in this life. However, take heart for I have overcome the world. This also means that, as I have suffered, you too will have suffered for My sake...and you have. My Bride needs to know what it means to be mocked, outcast and hated, enduring many kinds of evil against them. My Bride needs to be seasoned with tests, trials and tribulations, all for the sake of loving Me. Erin, this is a special status, understand?"

Me: "I think I understand, Lord."

Jesus: "Well, you will understand fully very soon. Now, I know that it has been difficult to watch the heartbreaks of those you love go through troubles. However, instead of praying that they endure no troubles, pray for their endurance to stand victorious through these. Erin, it is through faith as small as a mustard seed in which nothing is impossible for you. Now rejoice, Erin, for I am with you. I am with your family and friends. I continue to prepare My Bride, My Army, for what is to come. The City of Brotherly Love (Philadelphia) will become that city again."

Me: "I had a dream of a large tree and a branch with low hanging fruit. It stretched out across the map of the East Coast of North America."

Jesus: "The branch extends from the Capital of Decision. The fruit is a peach."

Me: "Oh...Georgia?"

Jesus: "The battle is over fruit. The corruption of the land that is Mine continues. Evil is coming into the light as darkness is exposed. Because most was hidden, no one saw the plans made in secret. However, I did... every one of them. Although it seems hopeless, do not be afraid. I am God over all things. Nothing shall be impossible for Me..."

- You are seeing the rise of persecution, rebellion, idolatry, greed, lies, hate beyond reason, prejudice, slavery and murder
- You are witnessing divisions in the nations, the churches, neighborhoods, friends and even among families
- You are witnessing perverted truth and elevated lies
- Men have become lovers of themselves...with appetites unsatisfied like never before
- Those who have Bibles in certain areas are tortured and killed

Me: "Oh Lord, the Great Harvest has not happened yet. Please let Your justice rule. Your Bride is at jeopardy. Please raise us up."

Jesus: "I have a plan in place. This is not a surprise to Me. I have known about this time even as I hung on the Cross of Salvation. Now, please understand... I am the God Who knows... the God over all things. I stand before you in complete peace. To Me, nothing, not one thing, is out of My Order, understand? The enemy is NOT in control. Watch and see that I am good. They will eventually run to the hills. However, they will not be safe there either as they are subject to My Army of Heavenly Hosts.

"Do not worry, Erin, as I have this. I love you. I love your family. I love your friends. They are Mine. Nothing can take those I call Mine. Now, have peace. Ready your houses for celebration and lights. Dine with friends and family with no fear of plagues." He reached over and lifted my chin. "Keep your chin looking up. I am with you. I love you. I have called you for My purposes and have prepared your vessels. They are beautiful beyond compare.

"All will know that I am the Potter Who shaped them, prepared them and filled them with Living Water for the Great Outpouring over thirsty souls. These Vessels... My Vessels... no one can break them. No scheme can break them. No weapon can destroy them. No fire can penetrate them. No man can hold them. So too is My Bride, My Vessel, made and prepared by My hands and for My purposes under Heaven." He smiled. "So, Erin..." He nudged me. "... go ahead. I can see it in your eyes. Go ahead and ask Me."

Me: Smiling and crying at the same time. "Okay, Lord! When?"

Jesus: "Very soon." He smiled. "Hold fast. Hold on and pray. Watch and see that I am good. There is no other before Me. I am jealous for My Bride." He smiled at me again. I felt His peace throughout my being.

Sonho acabou.

Dream 447 – Evil will soon be overtaken by God’s Mercy

Received on Saturday, November 21, 2020

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day! Thank You for all we have. Please continue to watch over all of us. Please protect us and bless our comings and goings. Please also keep our parents, children, pets, animals, birds and our property under the shelter of Your wings (Psalm 91). Please bless all the Sparrows on our Nest and keep them close to Your Altar during the coming storms.

Father, so many of Your people are experiencing extreme attacks right now. These attacks keep us distracted from pressing into You with prayers of supplication. So far, this month of November has been a month of division, fighting, heartbreak and bad news. It has been a great time of the rise of evil. God, You are the Father of miracles, the Giver of Good Gifts and the Lover of our souls. There is nothing besides You. You are God over all things. I had a couple of vivid dreams last night...

Sub-dream 1 “Good triumphs over evil”

I saw two parallel lines. They were dominating the horizon. I was not sure if this was the number 11 or if it meant something else. I just knew it had significance that God would need to illuminate. I was then turned around to look at a different landscape. There was a beautiful orchard. This orchard bore good fruit and consistently performed according to the orchard owner’s plans.

As time went by, the orchard owner became old, so old that he could no longer walk amongst the trees. He then appointed his sons to care for his orchard. Without the orchard owner knowing it, only one of his sons was good. He cared about his father’s orchard and loved the fruit. His heart was good. He reported good news to his elderly father and brought him the first fruit of the harvest of his section of the orchard.

The other sons were lazy and didn’t care about their sections of the orchard or the fruit within. They also didn’t care about their father, a man who cared deeply for the land, the trees, the harvest and his sons. In reality, they were now all hoping their father would soon die so that they could inherit his land and sell it to foreigners.

The good son was the opposite of the wicked sons. Each morning, the good son would walk through the orchard. As he did, he would pray for his father's health, his crops and that his land would be blessed. He also prayed for his brothers to be blessed and that their hearts would be changed and softened.

One morning, one of his brothers was sleeping in the good son's section of the orchard. He had stumbled to the ground the night before in his drunkenness. He was awoken by his brother's prayers. He overheard the prayers and that they were good, but this only served to enrage the evil brother. He then went to the other brothers with a bad report.

Bearing false witness, he convinced his other brothers that the good son was actually evil and was plotting to take each of their inheritances away from all of them. After being convinced, the evil sons devised a scheme. They decided it was better to gather up as many outside witnesses as possible. They knew they would need this outside influence to help them as the father had not been happy with their production nor with the taste of their fruit.

They then decided to go to suppliers, workers they knew were disgruntled and customers. They then persuaded all of them to go to their father with confirmation of their bad reports. Day after day, each witness came bearing false witness against the innocent son. While the father listened to this every day, he never said anything in return.

In the meantime, one of the evil sons, in desperation, had already sold his portion of the orchard to foreigners. While the money was really his father's money, he kept it for himself. He then went to the other evil sons and told them about the deal he had received from the foreigners. The brothers became even more excited at the prospect of this offer and the money that would ensue.

In order to move this forward faster with their father, they had experts bear false testimony to the father, stating that the orchard had a parasite and that the entire orchard would need to be cut down and burned. The father became full of grief as these wicked sons he mistakenly trusted had promised to keep the orchard in good condition.

Before the father approved of the sale of the orchard, the good son reported the wicked deeds of his brothers. Since the father no longer approved of the sale, the orchard was no longer going to be sold to these foreigners. However, in anticipation of the deal going through, something disturbing was already taking place. The foreigners had already begun to plant their foreign trees with the domestic trees.

The good son now recognized fully that the domestic trees were being mixed with foreign seed, causing trees with unrecognizable fruit. Unfortunately, the good son now had very little power to do anything about it. Many of his former allies, in fear, had left him to work against him. They didn't want to do this, but they did because they were being threatened with harm and even death.

When the good son informed the father, the father became enraged. He then called a meeting of his workers, his special reserve, to report back. The news of his workers matched perfectly with the news from his good son. In response, the father ordered his workers to remove the foreigners from his land and to heal his orchard.

The father then appointed his good son as ruler over the entire property. However, and even more so, he gave his good son an additional group of orchards to govern and grow. The father then blessed the lands.

He then decreed that his good son would govern and that his special reserve of workers would be his special governance. His special workers were then also designated to bring forth the healing of the land in order to prepare it for a record harvest.

When the foreigners heard of this turn in events, they were furious. However, they remained quiet as they were in fear, knowing that this was an act of the father. They instead continued to plot against the father and his servants in secret. The evil son and his evil brothers then decided to go into exile until the time of the father's 'removal'. They also remained quiet as they were in great fear of the father's special workers.

Sub-dream 1 over...

Sub-dream 2 "The valley of bones and babies"

I was on an overlook. In front of me was a vast valley. It was a barren valley with cliffs so high that no man could enter unless by falling. It was a valley of judgment and death. Off to one side of the valley was a pile of bones. There were several million bleached white bones. To the left of these bleached bones were millions upon millions of tiny fetuses. I felt sick as I looked at this sight. It was so horrible and empty.

A throne then appeared. Soon after, a figure appeared on the throne. It was dark, so I could not see much details. It almost looked like the Lincoln Memorial of Abraham Lincoln on his chair, but I could now see it was Satan instead. I could hear him laughing in a sinister and mocking tone. It was so disconcerting that I immediately cried out to God.

Me: "Oh Father, please help us! You are greater than all of this. You are greater than the enemy and his plans of death for all of us. Please rise up in Your people. Do not let the enemy rule over the land."

I then heard something like a roar and a rumble. I looked again and the enemy was no more. I knelt down at the cliff overlook. I saw the grim bones and bodies of the slain.

Sub-dream 2 over.

Jesus: "Erin, come up."

I immediately heard the Voice of God...

God: "As I Am God, it is I Who knows the end from the beginning. The land of Israel is Mine and My Name is Holy. The house of Israel defiled it by their ways and their deeds. The land was not unclean, but the people who dwell there is what makes this unclean. As I did in My land, Israel, I poured out My wrath upon the great nation because of the blood they have shed in the land, their idolatry and their continued sin.

"As I scattered Israel amongst the nations and in accordance with their ways and their deeds, I judged them. With profanity still on their lips, they continued to stay on their course of desecrating My Holy Name. The countries around them then said 'these are the people of the Lord, yet they had to leave their land.' See, I vindicate My Holiness. In horror, the nations watched the enemy of My people rise to power and punish all of them to the horror of witnesses.

"In advance of this, I set up a great nation over many waters. I rose up the gentiles to dedicate and consecrate this land and to prosper it greatly and multiply over it, a blessed land. This land and its prosperity greatly increased and My Name was praised. However, then too, and over time, this great nation became defiled and My Holy Name profaned.

"So, just as I blessed the land of Israel and I gathered all those who were scattered and brought them home in the land I originally promised them, I also birthed a new nation. I brought all those I called into their own land that I prepared for them. At the place of dedication, there I made you clean and consecrated you there. I cleansed you from idol worship there. I gave you a new heart and a new spirit within you.

"Erin, I removed your heart of stone and replaced the stone with gold, though your heart is still flesh. I put My Spirit in you, causing you to walk in My statutes, being careful to obey My rules for you. You have dwelt in the land I gave to your fathers and declared you shall be My people and I will be Your God, one nation under God, with liberty and justice for all.

"It is in this great nation that I summoned the grain and made it abundant, laying no famine upon you. I make the fruit of the tree and the increase of the field abundant so that you never suffer the disgrace of famine. I have done this in the hopes that this nation then turns away from their evil ways and deeds, knowing that they are no longer good, loathing their actions.

"Instead, evil has now struck the land. Innocent blood has been shed in dedication to the evil Molech. With their perversions ever increasing, what was once evil is now good and permissible and that which was once good and holy is now labelled evil. Erin, I have never forgotten this great land, even with their ever increasing evil.

"Rebekah was barren for 19 years. Isaac prayed in great supplication for Me to open her womb and give her a child. However, there is more than even this. I saw the heart of Jacob versus his brother, Esau, and I saw Jacob's heart was good despite his mistakes. I then placed a womb into Rebekah, a place where she could bear sons.

"In her womb, a battle ensued while she was pregnant. While she then worried something was wrong, I then told her 'two nations are in your womb and the two people within you shall be divided, the one stronger than the other, the older shall serve the younger.' And so it is again. I birthed a nation. The heart of this nation was good, but then it began to follow idols.

"They then became lovers of self, liars, murderers, shedding innocent blood, and much more, all in a short span of time. I have now accelerated this as the blasphemies have continued. There is now another nation, more evil and void of God, that covets the land."

Me: "Oh Father, this is so frightening."

God: "For the sake of My people, My elect, the time of the reign of evil is not yet. My mercy is greater. I will rise up My Army from My people. On that day, I will cleanse you from all your iniquities. I will then cause desolate cities to be inhabited. Those areas that are poor and laid to waste will be rebuilt. I will make this land like the Garden of Eden. The land will be inhabited and fortified with My grace. I Am God and I have spoken. Erin, I will do this."

Me: "Thank You, Father!"

God: "Now, what do you see?"

Me: Crying. "Old dry bones."

God: "I will cause breath to enter you. However, this will be as the breath of the eternal saints in Heaven. Your body will be strengthened to be greater than the strength of the sons of Jacob. I will open the graves and raise you up. I will put My Spirit in you and you shall live. I will place you in your own land. You will then know I am God, the Lord Who has called you."

Me: "Father, what of the two lines (11?) in my dream from last night?"

God: "The nation of Israel will be as one. One was lost and is now found.

It will be joined with Judah, indivisible under Me. What the enemy has planned for evil, I will turn this to good until My great mercy is removed. The enemy will then rise for a short number of days until the time of My Son's return. I will take My rightful seat before the nations. While the enemy mocks Me, soon... very soon... he will be silent."

Me: "Father, please help us."

God: "Erin, I am here with you now. I know you are scared. I know it seems as if the enemy has won and that their wicked lies and false testimony has replaced truth. However, Erin, I am your Creator. I love you.

I see the wicked plan in secret. I can see them scheme against those who I have called. When I come upon you, it will be like a great roaring wind. This will be followed by My Spirit of Living Water flowing into you.

"Rejoice, rejoice, as this is good. Now, this is a time for prayer unlike any time. As Isaac prayed for 19 years, prayer means to dig and is like the word for the pitchfork to winnow wheat. Prayer is like grains of wheat being suddenly shifted from one state of being to another, understand? It can change My anger to mercy."

Me: "I will pray to You, Father. Bless You, Father. I love You so much!"

God: "I called you in your 20th year to be still and know that I Am God. I will not desert you now, even in your old age and pain. You say that you are ready for the grave, but I say I have the power over life and death. Erin, I will strengthen you and heal you. Nothing will come against you. Now, be still and know that I Am God."

One possible interpretation from my husband on what God may have meant by the following: God: "The nation of Israel will be as one. One was lost and is now found. It will be joined with Judah, indivisible under Me."

To understand what this means fully, I believe one has to look at the Old Testament. After the death of King Solomon, Israel split into two kingdoms...Israel and Judah. When Israel was dispersed, the identity of the inhabitants was melded into that of their conquerors. Only God could have kept track...and He did. Israel is once more... but now known as the United States of America (USA).

As for Judah, they too were dispersed. However, the identity of the inhabitants was kept separate despite incredible odds. Under just as incredible odds, the descendants of Judah are now back in their own land... Israel.

So how could this be? Well, this makes sense when you view the two countries being 'indivisible under God'. So how does this work out:

- USA = The New Israel
- Israel = The New Judah

Is there a further hint that this is the case? I believe there is! Jerusalem has USA right in the middle of it. Jerusalem = Jer-USA-lem! A perfect fit!

Dream 448 – God’s plans Trumps the enemy’s plans

Received on Sunday, November 22, 2020

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day! Thank You for my family and friends. Thank You most of all for my dreams and visions from You. Father, I was visited by an angel of the Lord last night while I slept. He gave me a word of knowledge that I hope You will allow me to recall today. I awoke at exactly 3:16am. I then heard You say to me...

Voice of God: ‘For I loved the world so much that I sent My only Son, that whoever believes in Him should not perish but have everlasting life.’

I was astonished at the clarity of God’s voice. It was loud and went into every part of my being. I cried as I laid there. I cry even as I write this.

Jesus: “Erin, come up.”

I was sitting by a peaceful river. I watched as the peaceful flow became heavier. The water began to flow rapidly and soon became a great torrent. The water then began to foam. The foam changed from being white to then being brown with yellow. The water flowing was now dirty and had a foul odor. It happened so quickly that I had to refocus my eyes. Just seconds before, the water had been calm and clean.

Me: “Father, all hope is gone. Please send fresh clean rain in due season to wash away the sins of the land before we are no more.”

I then felt a hand on my shoulder. When I turned to look, I first thought he was Uriel. He wasn’t. This angel looked like him, but not quite. Still, I thought I would ask.

Me: “Are you Uriel?”

Angel: “No. I am his brother. I too am a messenger of God.”

Me: “Where is Uriel?”

Angel: “He is in a battle in the heavens. I was not too far from here on an assignment from God’s Court. I came here after God had summoned me to.”

Me: “I have seen you before somewhere.”

Angel: Smiling and laughing. “My brothers tease me about this. What you say is common. However, I don’t believe I have been captured quite adequately.”

Me: “Wait! You are in paintings? You are! I have seen you. Raphael? You are Raphael!”

Raphael: Smiling. "Nice to meet you, Erin."

Me: Now crying. "Oh no! Are you taking me Home? I am not ready yet. Oh Father, please, no."

Raphael: "Wait, wait! No, Erin, no. I am not here for that. You are here for a purpose under God. Still, I see we have some issues which need to be addressed."

He bent down and put his hand in the dirty water. He swirled his hand in it for a couple of seconds. The water immediately became pure and clear. It was also calmer.

Raphael: "I think I will keep this river flowing for a while in order to flush out any remaining impurities. Now, is this not beautiful?"

Me: Now smiling. "So beautiful! Oh Raphael, you are so funny."

Raphael: "Well, my business from God is very serious. To ease tension and turn hearts to God, He has made me..."

Me: "Funny?"

Raphael: "Well, I lighten the dark mood. I am a messenger of Good News and of healing. While Uriel brings saints into the presence of God, I bring God's love into the presence of the saints. It is difficult to understand fully, but when someone is in great pain or nearing death, I am a messenger of light and the Good News of God to those who need to know God is with them... Emmanuel. I also bring healing from God in miraculous ways. We are all angels of His Presence. However, and just to clarify, we each have different assignments and directives from God."

Me: "I think I understand. There are no accidents under God. So, why are you here?"

Raphael: "God has sent me to make some words of knowledge you were given come to light."

Me: I immediately became sad. "Oh. I was hoping for..." I stopped myself.

Raphael: "Were you hoping for something else? Perhaps healing? Hmm." He shook his head as he smiled at me. "Oh Erin, do not worry, for your healing is imminent. However, I am here first to clear up muddy waters.

God has sent me to give you a message. Since God's Promised Land once again became a nation, the enemy of God, man and the angels knows his time is coming.

"Like the river changed so quickly from relative calm to tumultuous waters, so too has the times leading up to this time. The enemy hates God's chosen people and does not want them to realize that God is the God of Perfection and Truth. Since the beginning of the fall of mankind, the enemy has never stopped plotting. They have a plan in place, but it is a plan that fits a repeating pattern.

"While he may raise up new players, or new game pieces as in a board game, he still doesn't change his objectives or strategies. As such, he can be easily tracked if you know what to look for. The Lord has showed you this in advance. He has told you that there is nothing new under the sun. While God can do a new thing, the enemy cannot do a new thing.

"The enemy can only proclaim with lies that he is new and innovative. This is a lie though. When he fell from Heaven, he lost his abilities to create new things. For the last eight years (since December 2012), he has verbally attacked others and accuses them of the very thing he proclaims. When this happens, it allows those who see and hear the truth from God to understand the playbook of the enemy."

Me: "Do you ever get mad about this? After all, you were once all friends under God in Heaven. You served God together, but now..."

Raphael: "Yes, but we have come to grips with this. It has been thousands of years, yet still seems like yesterday." He smiled. "Think of it this way... I would rather be on the side of what is right than on the side of what is left."

Me: Laughing. "Oh, that is so clever!"

Raphael: "Now though, everything is different. The enemy believes that God's people are on his gameboard. He believes he will win by their destruction. Well, he will not! This is why Jesus was sent. To point out to the enemy that Jesus has been given the keys to life and death and that He has the power over all of salvation. In contrast, the enemy is only given that which God has allowed."

Me: "I am thankful for that."

Raphael: "Since the enemy is not God, he is therefore not omnipotent. As much as he acts like he is, he is not. Erin, I was there in the Holocaust, as were other angels from Heaven. We took the souls of God's people Home to the Promised Land before the sting of suffocation in those chambers. God is a God of compassion and mercy. He is and will always be 'The True Final Solution'."

Me: "What about COVID-19?"

Raphael: "This great plague was sent to cause fear and the death of the elderly and physically challenged...to steal their breath and cause great suffering. However, there is also another underlying reason... to remove the remnant of the remembrance of true history. The same spirit is now upon another leader. You are now seeing the rise of evil in a torrent of activity."

Me: "What the enemy is doing is so unsettling."

Raphael: "Yes. The enemy has now decided to be more subtle so as to confuse the masses. Through bribes, favors and threats, the enemy has systematically risen. God hates the killing...the shedding of innocent blood.

While the 'help centers' from the past were disguised to look like a place of mercy and fresh starts, they were instead a hidden form of population control, but really genocide of a race of people and others with deformities and handicaps."

Me: "Is this the rise of Nazism?"

Raphael: "It is deeper than this. While the rise of the enemy was occurring in the east across the water, the rise in the west was also occurring. This was designed first for the Jews and then for the remnant, what the enemy believed to be hidden Israelites disguised as gentiles. They were being set up for annihilation. Always remember that the enemy uses 'victimhood' to tug at hearts.

"The enemy loves using slogans such as 'we need to be taking care of those less fortunate.' Money, welfare and free care is then given in order to create dependence. Dependence then removes allegiance to God to become a dependence on man instead... the enemy... understand? Anytime a leader opposed what was happening because they could see the same pattern, they were killed."

Me: "The Kennedy's? Are you talking about the Kennedy's? Oh no... what will happen to the Trump's?"

Raphael: Smiling. "Don't panic, Erin. Remember that God is ALWAYS in control. I can hear the panic in your voice. I am giving you this information so that you have the playbook of the enemy. I am not doing this to panic you. You should also know that those who survived the Holocaust know exactly what is happening right now."

Me: "Oh Raphael, this is really scary!"

Raphael: "Well, this would be scary if not for God. The enemy has tried to destroy the land dedicated to God and profane His Holy Name. He has imposed punishing rules using different governors to oppose the leader that God has favored. He even teamed up with a global leader to hold the people prisoner in their own dwellings. However, he did not read the fine print.

This global leader also desires to be leader over all. As such, he too is willing to enter into agreements with his enemy in order to one day claim dominion over the nations.

"Now, let me give you a history lesson from the overlook..." He smiled. "...a God's eye view from Heaven. You have only to see the patterns from just decades ago. The world was at war. There were many wars and rumors of wars. There were so many distractions created by the enemy all over the world that many key matters were hidden from everyone but God.

"In the shadows of these distractions, many millions of people were murdered by the enemy. Amongst the murdered were six million Jews and five million sympathizers or disabled. There was great destruction, starvation and discouragement. Why? Because the enemy had to stop God's children (the Jews) from returning to the Promised Land (Israel).

"This all had a basis in 1918, a busy year for the enemy. He had work to do as the First World War had set up a case for Israel to reform as a nation. The enemy could see the times of the end taking shape. While there was still much for God to do, the enemy was not able to stop Him. He has since continued his quest to destroy the children of God.

"Erin, you have only to read from the Holocaust Memorial Library. You should read this before it is removed by the enemy. It describes how the enemy is now working the same pattern, putting the same things together for his good and the destruction of all that is good."

I then went to the source and found an article in the Holocaust Encyclopedia from the US Holocaust Museum titled 'Deceiving the Public'. After reading this, I went back to Raphael.

Me: "Wow, Raphael, I just read this. This is happening again and right now. This is happening now. What is next for us? This is very worrisome!"

Raphael: Smiling as he nudged me. "See, there you go panicking again.

Erin, you must always remember that God has all of this. The enemy doesn't win at any of this. In fact, God told you permission was granted to the enemy in December 2012. Yes, but for what, you ask? The hidden would become visible and the times of evil would increase again. The race wars would also begin... the 'Revolution'.

"The current President was then accused of being another Hitler." He laughed as he shook his head at the ridiculousness of the accusation. "Of course, it is because the enemy and his army knows to accuse you of the very same thing he is doing. This is genius." I knew he was being sarcastic about the 'genius' part as he yawned as he said it. "Well, Erin, we have seen it all before."

Me: Laughing. "Was that a real yawn? Do angels really yawn? That is funny."

Raphael: "You are right, Erin. This was only an expression. Think no more of this. Now, in 2012, the enemy and his army became very upbeat. It was their time to shine light on darkness and declare darkness good and light bad. It was the time deception was given permission by God. However, God had another plan and now the enemy is furious. The enemy's plan was to slowly turn up the heat, making a simmering pot to eventually boil. This was then to spill out over broad portions of the world...

- He first began to take over the channels of information to control content

- He declared that he would remove celebrations of Christians
- He shed doubt on truthful narratives about history in order to one day revise it, eventually to remove the Good News about salvation through Jesus
- He met with world leaders and became popular
- He set up his old familiar seat in Germany and had a new one built in his name
- He abstained from aiding peace with Israel, even giving money to support their enemies
- He appeared in his place in the east, travelling to Mecca
- He gave rise to things detestable to God in order to further blaspheme His Name
- He took God's land and broke it into halves, dividing it, as well as the people
- He became very skilled at charismatic speech, the perfect outlet for his empty promises
- He has declared that the Word of God is full of hate
- He even funded the laboratory that produced the plague
- He desires for no citizen to have arms except for those set on evil

"Well, I could go on, but you now understand where this leader is going with all of this."

Me: "I have seen the cities being destroyed. I have been there in my dreams and visions. It is frightening."

Raphael: "Yes, but this is the times of the end, the times after the enemy takes his seat. However, God removes His people and even the animals before this happens. This is why the enemy has come up with meat alternatives. He knows that his army will soon need to be strengthened on something other than meat. There is no meat shortage. This is a lie.

However, God will create the shortage when the animals are removed."

Me: "Well, Raphael, since you are giving us so much detail, I don't suppose you will tell us when all of this will happen?"

Raphael: "I have only given you the plans of the enemy and his familiar patterns. The Good News is that God rules! His Word is Truth and it is final. Do not fear. Name it and claim it does not apply when God's Truth will Trump the enemy's plans. Now, you will be like in Nehemiah (1:1). God will use you and those He has called to restore the land, fortify it and show that God is with His people.

"The enemy had plans to annihilate all those who supports God's plans. If they could kill 70 million people (Trump supporters), they can certainly revise truth, history and even the laws of the land. They have been at war and the world doesn't even realize that the enemy has been winning. When God flexed His muscles and raised up a leader to reveal the truth, the enemy attacked from all different areas."

Me: "I see this already. The media. Technology. Learning institutions. They are destroying history books and other books. Money institutions. Now food distribution."

Raphael: Smiling. "Wait! Erin, are you worrying again? Who is over this and in complete control? Well, Erin, it is God and His angels." He laughed as he pointed at himself and nodded his head. "Although you cannot see it, many more are with you than against you. God is in you. Greater is He than he who is in the world, understand?"

"We know this enemy. Do not be afraid. God has a great plan." He smiled. "I must go. I will see you again..." He nudged me. "...and much sooner than you think." He smiled. "There is a war. I am being called to assist my brothers in this war. God has appointed angels to surround you."

He showed me my house and property and waved his arm. I could see at least one hundred mighty angels surrounding our home. He waved his arm again and they were once again veiled.

Raphael: "There are also many angels surrounding your ministry, so do not worry. This too is veiled for only those whom God sends in this season."

Me: Pouting, but still smiling. "Well, it seems as if I am not being healed today."

Raphael: Smiling. "Oh Erin, God loves you, the angels speak of you and the saints petition for you in Heaven and on Earth. God has a great plan.

You will be in this number. Take courage. God is with you." He smiled. "He has a plan!" He then pointed behind me. "Oh, look at that." I turned to look and there was an amazing red Cardinal bird.

Me: "Oh wow, that is awesome!" I turned back to Raphael, but he was already gone.

Dream over.

Dream 449 – God has appointed Wise Judges to the Land

Received on Sunday, November 29, 2020

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day! Thank You for Your love. Thank You for the gift of my family and friends. They are all true treasures.

I have been struggling with a deep sadness lately. It is hard to have joy when people all around us are having such a difficult time. Many are being forced to sell their homes and find smaller places or renting. Some are selling precious items to pay bills, including art, heirlooms and other valuables. Couples we have been acquainted with have decided to divorce. Is this due to the strain of the plague?

In our area, we have gone back to a higher alert level. This shuts down our churches, even not allowing singing or worshipping. Well, Father, as You know, worship confounds the enemy. There is rumor that this new administration, if they gain power, will seize our guns. They want to disarm the USA. At the same time, they want to release a massive number of criminals from prison. This is a recipe for disaster!

This feels like the rise of a very wicked regime. So many elements remind me of the rise of the Nazis. This is not the Republican's doing, but the Demon-rats. They accuse us of what they themselves are actively doing. A well-known Hollywood actor is even calling for the mass removal of anyone who supported the GOP. This would mean 79 million people would be marked for death.

The truly scary thing is that no one is speaking against this man's hate speech. The mainstream media is giving this man a pass. It is frightening. Was the entire lockdown of our country really due to COVID-19? While this virus is serious and kills the vulnerable, how many will die from the isolation this has caused? Is the cure worth the cost of isolating so many? What about other medical issues being ignored?

The leader to the north was caught speaking to other world leaders about how the Corona Virus lockdowns have set the stage for a great reset of how we could be. He boasts that we have an opportunity to reimagine life as we know it. It just feels like a great globalist elite takeover of all of us by just a few. This is all wrong, Father! Churches closed? Bible burning coming soon? Guns confiscated?

What about those opposed being sent away to camps? There is no law enforcement in some areas. So much corruption has come forward. Please, Father, do not forget about all of us who love You. What about the election results? Can this be true? Thousands attended Trump rallies, but only tens attended Biden rallies. Has the election been stolen? Did a mass scale election fraud just happen?

Father, You love justice and You hate corruption. However, Father, the entire system is now corrupt. It appears only one party will govern now, a party that hates You and Your commandments. Father, we need a miracle. However, this can't be just a small miracle. We need Your Super-sized miracle! Father, Your people need Your miracles!

Jesus: "Erin, come up."

I was in a beautiful garden with many colorful flowers. The birds and the small animals were playing all around me. The peacefulness of the surroundings was so opposite of what we have on Earth right now. Still, even this did not sooth my feelings of sadness and trepidation.

Me: Crying. "Oh Lord, this all seems so daunting."

Jesus: Confidently. "Erin, I have this."

While I could hear His Voice in the air, He was not sitting with me. Even so, I still felt His overwhelming love wrap around me like a blanket, but supercharged!

Me: "Lord, You are being too quiet right now! Please rise up. Please force the counting of the real ballots, not just the fraudulent ones."

Jesus: "Erin, I love justice and hate inequity. This has been developing for a very long time."

Me: "Lord, please stop it. Please rise up and show Your might. Strike down this cruelty. It is disheartening. Without Your help, the world has no hope."

Jesus: "I Am the Light of the World."

Me: "Your people love You. Please don't strike me down for asking, but please don't let us suffer and fall. Please don't allow this. Please be a light that shines so bright that all the wicked is exposed. The wicked controls almost every branch of government now, all via their corruption. Please give the land one more chance. Please rise up in Your people. Please strengthen us. Please let truth prevail. I am scared, Lord. I am so sorry for feeling this way. With all of this bad news, it is difficult to see any good news."

Jesus: "Erin, why do you not trust Me?"

Me: "I do, Lord. I love You so much. However, I am Your Bride and I am in the dark with information. I am no longer hearing any promising or hopeful news. If we are all made to pay, how will there then be a Great Harvest?"

Will people on the other side then say 'look what has happened. God doesn't love them or doesn't even exist. They are on their own now.' Lord, without Your miracles, signs and wonders, there is no hope and no Great Harvest! Please, Lord, we are facing a massive 'Blue Sea' in front of us that we are unable to cross. Pharaoh is pursuing us! We need a miracle!"

Jesus: "I Am your Miracle. I Am with you. I will part the seas for you. I will send in miracles, signs and wonders. I Am here and I will do all that I have promised. The Pharaoh will not defeat you. When they try to follow you, they will be overtaken instead. I Am just and My Ways are fair. I measure a man according to his heart.

"Now, I have appointed wise judges to administer the law and they will continue to do so even under pressure and threat. I see the evil. I take into account their wicked schemes. I am well aware of the plans of the enemy against My people. I will come with thousands of My saints to punish all who profane My Name and desecrate My Laws. Erin, do not question My plans when you have incomplete knowledge of them.

"You only hear what is spoken over you from bad news. You only see what is shown to you. You are not standing on a level playing field. Look up to the hills instead. There are many, many more surrounding you from God's Army than that of the world. You already know what is about to happen. Look up! I am here over you, beside you, in front of you and behind you. I Am the Solid Rock upon which you stand."

Me: "Please don't be upset with me when I continue to worry. I love You!"

Jesus: "I am not upset with you. You speak the truth of your state of being as you are now. You are concerned as you see the rising of evil appearing to overcome the good. There is much more that you do not know. There is a war above you in the heavens you cannot see, a battle unlike any before in history. Do not worry though, Erin, as the enemy doesn't prevail.

"Now, I showed you in advance that angels had set out to weigh and measure the land for God's judgment. Well, Erin, this time has come. However, God's mercy and love will come first. Do you remember the day I offered up My life? All appearances revealed that I was overcome by My injuries at the Cross. Most fled the area because those who had hope suddenly lost all hope.

"When I offered up My life, it seemed like the enemy had his victory over My life. However, he did not. I did all that I said I would and more. Signs announced My victory..."

- A great earthquake struck
- The sun became dark for several hours
- Buildings toppled, including damage to the Temple
- Graves opened and the saints rose

“Erin, do you not recall that the saints rose? The enemy kept most reports quiet under threat. There was even more. Erin, there was so much more. I Am God, Erin. The enemy has not won. It is not over.”

Me: “I am so sorry, Lord. You are my Hero and my Best Friend. You are our Savior and our Light of the World. However, false news spreads like a wildfire. It moves swiftly and burns those who do not run from it. Father, so many people are already so discouraged by the Corona Virus...”

Jesus: “It is an interesting name. The enemy sent the virus before the Coronation. However, this was allowed. I even gave you signs in the sky. However, this matters not right now. I am about to do something in your days that you would not believe even if you were told.”

Me: “Lord, this has been the 19th year, the year of judgment over the land. It seems that this is one last time to cry out to You. It feels that this is one last time to beg You for mercy after 9/11/2001. Did we fail to pray hard enough? Did we fail to turn Your heart back to us in mercy? There are so many that are lost right now.

Jesus: “I have heard the prayers, Erin, and they are good. The enemy doesn’t win. Remember that it only seems like all hope is lost.”

Me: “This is so hard to do right now as the enemy is openly rejoicing. The one leader, the one against Christmas, has written ‘The Audacity of Hope’ and now ‘A Promised Land, Part 1’. This is so disheartening.”

Jesus: “I am well aware of this. However, always remember that True Hope rests in Me, not in him. He will have his ‘promised land’, but not as he had hoped for.”

Me: “You are speaking so clearly, Lord, but I cannot see You.”

Jesus: “I am here. I am with you. This is technology which cannot be copied fully on Earth. Though the enemy works hard to mimic this, he cannot. My Spirit is in you. Now take heart.”

Me: “All of this is helping me to understand the hopelessness Your close followers must have felt when You hanged on the Cross.”

Jesus: “While I was hanging on the Cross, the sun grew dark for three hours. People were terrified. Even brave Roman soldiers stood in awe and fear. My friends left Me. My accusers fled to their place of worship. Why did they do this? It was because they knew it was possible that they had just crucified the Light of the World. However, some still had their hope in Me.”

Me: Crying. "Lord, the thought of being at the foot of the Cross that day...as a mother or brother or the woman You saved... the despair... utter despair...would have been unbearable. Then the water flowed from Your side after You offered up Your Spirit. I love You so much that it hurts even to think of this."

Jesus: "To experience it brings many thoughts. However, Erin, I am here now. I am with you. I also go to My Father in Heaven. There is a great plan...a miracle and a fulfillment of prophecy. Erin, I have not yet presented My Great Miracles. Now, rejoice! Do not worry. I am God over all of this, understand?"

Time to read Matthew 27:32-61 again. Here are verses 45-54:

45 Now, from the sixth hour, there was darkness over all the land until the ninth hour. 46 And about the ninth hour, Jesus cried out with a loud voice, saying, "Eli, Eli, lema sabachthani?" that is, "My God, My God, why have You forsaken Me?" 47 And some of the bystanders, hearing it, said, "This man is calling Elijah." 48 And one of them at once ran and took a sponge, filled it with sour wine, and put it on a reed and gave it to Him to drink. 49 But the others said, "Wait, let us see whether Elijah will come to save Him." 50 And Jesus cried out again with a loud voice and yielded up His spirit. 51 And behold, the curtain of the Temple was torn in two, from top to bottom. And the Earth shook, and the rocks were split. 52 The tombs also were opened. And many bodies of the saints who had fallen asleep were raised, 53 and, coming out of the tombs after His Resurrection, they went into the Holy City and appeared to many. 54 When the Centurion and those who were with him, keeping watch over Jesus, saw the earthquake and what took place, they were filled with awe and said, "Truly this was the Son of God!"

Dream over.

Dream 450 – Rough waters make jagged rocks smooth

Received on Thursday, December 3, 2020

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day! Thank You for all that You do. Thank You for my husband, our children and friends. It means so much that You would continue to take care of us through all of these circumstances.

Father, I have a special favor to ask of You. Would You please heal my older son? He turned age 23 today. Things have been very tough for him.

The enemy has pounded all of my children down and only finds bragging rights in one. The measuring scale is skewed.

I also need Your help with many other things. I worry sometimes though. However, I then always come back to all that You have done and I stop myself. I then recognize how very blessed we are by Your love. When I then ask for more, I pray that You know that it is not because I am never satisfied. I believe Your promises and, because they are so wonderful, I can't help but keep asking You about them every chance I get.

Oh Father, the world continues to be in such turmoil. Please expose the wicked. Please let President Trump win a second term and vindicate all of us. I ask for this in Your Name, in Jesus' Mighty Name, Amen!!

Jesus: "Erin, come up."

While I was in a vision, it was as if it was real time in the yard of our house. It was a bright sunny day and about freezing. It was cold out, but still without snow. There were remnants of the record rain storm we had two days ago, mainly a carved channel in our gravel road. Our little creek was now a raging stream and very loud. I turned to go to the large rock where Jesus sits, but it was not there (which it also isn't 'in real life'). The bridge that crosses into Heaven was also not there.

Me: "Father, God, Jesus, Lord Almighty... it is my eldest son's birthday today. Despite the help of doctors, he has only made small improvements.

You are the Divine Healer and our Great Physician. Would You please consider healing him for me for his birthday? Could You please do this for me? I hate autism. Please, Father, will You not just remove it today... in Jesus' Name? What a glorious day this would be.

"Having one child with autism is difficult, but having two has been a challenge like no other. Still, this has been the greatest gift when it comes to developing patience, understanding triggers, following patterns and learning de-escalation techniques. It has been over 20 years of challenges. This includes trials while cooking their food or even when simply going to the grocery store with them.

"There is so much to this that is not fun at all, yet I still see it as a type of 'Great Gift'. One of the amazing attributes of their Asperger's is that they barely ever lie. When they do...and they have tried...it has not worked.

Their facial expressions instantly give them away. Since they have never received 'rewards' for lying, there is almost no deception in them. They are almost always honest... and sometime brutally so.

"They do not know how to use wording to keep their honesty from coming off as harsh. They are then confused when the person receiving the 'offending words' then become justifiably offended. Try as we might, their Asperger's makes learning to read facial expressions a great challenge for them... impossible, really.

"My eldest wants to be like his other friends, not one of which has Asperger's. He sees them going off to college and getting married, one even has a child, but he remains in a holding pattern. While I know this is You allowing this, Father, it is still hard to witness, especially when I see the disappointment on his face when he reports to us on his friends' many activities.

"In contrast, my youngest son absolutely refuses to see that he has Asperger's at all. We didn't test him when he was much younger because every teacher unanimously knew that he had it as it was even more severe than our eldest.

"Oh Lord, when will You heal us? If necessary, pass me by and heal our children now. I will never stop praying for this. I know You are able and I know You can..."

Just then, I felt a hand on my shoulder. I turned and there was Raphael. He had a huge smile on his face. He pointed to the raging stream. I noticed that it was murky.

Me: "Why didn't you clear and calm the stream like you did last time."

Raphael: "I think we should let this flow heavily for awhile as this last storm stirred up a lot of dirt and decay. That stuff tends to settle in on the bottom of the river. Storms cause an increase in flow so that all that sediment of dirt and debris moves on and clears out."

Me: "Does this not just simply move from one area to another?"

Raphael: "Well, yes... if God is not willing it. However, Living Water is strong and clears out all of this. All of this then has to resettle far from here. Watch!"

He reached down and placed his hand into the water. At the moment he did this, the water became perfectly calm and clear again.

Me: "Wow, that is amazing! Raphael, you just said 'Living Water'. Did you mean to say 'rushing water' instead?"

Raphael: "Angels from the presence of the Throne Room of God do not shake things up with idle words or false statements. We do not bluff or embellish. However, we do create balance on God's command and clear away dirt and debris."

Me: "So, is this stream like a parable?"

Raphael: "Erin, everything God created is a parable that leads to Heaven and God's love, especially in nature. This includes the animals, both big and small. This also includes the signs in the sky. God brings forth signs and wonders daily to His Creation. However, it is for those who look for these that God delights in granting these hidden gems to."

Raphael pointed to the stream again. I now saw that the stream bed was covered in large beautiful polished stones.

Me: "These stones are so beautiful!"

Raphael: "See, Erin... Living Water heals."

Me: "How did it heal?"

Raphael: "You still don't understand?"

He asked this in a kind manner and not at all sarcastic. However, I still felt bad for not finally understanding. While I sighed at first, I soon began to cry. He immediately comforted me.

Raphael: "Oh Erin, it is okay. You are okay. Now, what shape do you think these stones once were?"

Me: "I am not sure."

I became sad again for not knowing the answer. I just knew that the answer to his question would be obvious.

Raphael: "These stones were once jagged. However, because of the Living Water, there are now no more sharp edges. They are now round and polished. Erin, they are beautiful. Now, I have a message for you from God..."

God (through Raphael's voice): "I gave you a rocky road to travel. Your path was a difficult one. Because you have yielded to My Will, I was able to pour Living Water into you. You then poured out My Living Water over others. In turn, they have had healing and smoother paths in remembrance of Who I Am. You have made the paths of your children easier as you have taught them about My Miracles through adversity. They have witnessed these miracles through you and therefore believe.

"Now, there is bad news spreading across the land. The nations are in distress. There are earthquakes and storms. You have seen signs in the sky. However, 'greater is He Who is in you than he who is in the world'. I have sent angels to guard your steps and keep your household from harm. I will not stop. Do not become discouraged."

I began to cry. I soon broke down and put my head to my knees.

Me: Still crying. "Thank you for this message from God, Raphael. However, I have heard Him say similar things to me before, yet we are still waiting. I am just a small woman in a great landscape that I know He fully controls and I sometimes get scared when the days and weeks continue to come and go."

Raphael: "Erin, listen to this carefully... God is NOT idle and He is NOT an idol. God is NOT an imagination or an incantation. He is NOT housed like a genie in a bottle or sleeping in the Ark of the Covenant. No, far from it. He is the Alpha and the Omega, the Beginning and the End. He is the Author of History. Now, can you trust Him to finish a Great Plan?"

Me: I looked down and quietly responded. "Of course."

Raphael: "Are you sure? After all, a few million could be lost..." He shrugged his shoulders in a playful way as he smiled at me.

Me: Realizing I had been unenthusiastic in my response, I replied enthusiastically this time. "Oh yes, Raphael, of course! I am so sorry." I smiled back at him.

Raphael: "Do not be sorry. Erin, you are not alone with your concerns. God wants you to be at peace. You can be at peace as God is on your side.

The world has many problems and needs. However, God has prepared each one of His elects individually and even according to geographic areas.

He has done this so that no soul whom God has called will be lost. Even those who will go through the darkest of times will be kept from the enemy's schemes of destruction."

Me: "I am sorry, but I am still worried."

Raphael: "Yes, Erin. You are also afraid for your children and others. This is understandable based on what you now see with your eyes. However, God has a Great Plan. The enemy knows this and he therefore schemes against God's people. I am here to tell you that God will not allow you to continue to suffer. All that He has promised you will soon come to pass. He delights in you.

"Erin, there is an epic war in the heavenlies as the army of God's angels wars against the dark princes over many nations. However, God prevails! We win! Because you do not see things from God's vantage point, it is difficult for you to see the whole picture. For your protection, this is reserved for God." He smiled as he nudged me. "Last time I checked, you are Erin, not God..." He laughed. "...right?"

Me: "Yes, I am only Erin."

Raphael: "It is difficult to see from the river bed. Now, He will grant you the desires of your heart. He will heal you and your children and your friends and their children. He will also heal the animals under your care and prayers.

Remember that your children are God's children as well. While they are sleeping right now, they will awaken very soon." He smiled and then pointed behind me. "Hey, look over there...a red bird."

I turned quickly and could see a beautiful small red Grosbeak. However, when I turned back to confirm what I had just seen, he was already gone. I shook my head and laughed.

Dream over...

Dream 451 – Three Fun Sub-Dreams and Raphael

Received on Sunday, December 6, 2020

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day! Thank You for all that You have done for us. Thank You for my family and friends. Thank You for the amazing show of love You always give us. I had so many dreams last night and I pray that I can recall all of them.

Sub-dream 1 “Breakthrough with Breakthrough”

An angel of the Lord showed me two Olive Trees. However, instead of the branches crossing to meet as per usual, the branches ran parallel to a large river instead. Instead of the branches crossing the river, there was a dividing wall that seemed to be atmospheric.

The scene occurring in front of me was playing out at night time. There was absolutely no moon light to help illuminate what I was seeing. However, I was still able to see stars.

On the branches to the south of the river were birds of many kind. They were living on the branches, some huddled together sleeping. The trees also seemed to be in a stage of sleep. In contrast, the branches to the north of the river had lush leaves.

The trees were full of life and very much awake. There were many varieties of birds, all beautiful and even some transparent like glass. I addressed the angel on what I was seeing...

Me: “Are those waxwings? What are these birds? I can’t make them out.”

Instead of replying in words, the angel put his hand on my shoulder and spoke in a whistle. All of the birds on both sides woke up.

It was Breakthrough! He then whistled a song of praise and all the birds whistled with him in unison. He then moved his hand. He was holding a type of flame, like a lantern. I then saw the birds of the south fly to the north and the birds of the north fly to the south.

As the sun began to rise, the color of the sky moved from golden to deep blue. The birds then settled on all of the branches of both sides of the river. Breakthrough then began to whistle the most beautiful song... a new song. The birds sang with him in layers and in different octaves. It was a supernatural orchestra. Tears streamed down my cheeks. Breakthrough patted my shoulder. I reached over to hug him.

Me: "You helped me up the ladder through the wars and darkness. You helped me cast off the threatening dragon and breakthrough to Jesus."

He nodded his head with a 'no'. He smiled and pointed up to God as he nodded a 'yes'.

Me: "Oops. I am sorry. I know that it was God that has appointed you."

He smiled and hugged me again.

Me: "Breakthrough, why do you not speak?"

I could suddenly hear him, even though he spoke without words.

Breakthrough: "Sometimes actions show God's love more than words can.

Some have been hurt by words and even God's Words are used as weapons. I reach out to children in whistles. I speak to them in mysteries as I reassure them that God is with them. I keep them from the lies of the dragon. I also bring gifts of miracles from God to His children."

Me: "I am so thankful for your presence. I am so thankful..."

Before I could finish, he whistled to stop me and pointed up to God again.

Breakthrough: "I deliver you from one state to another, from grief to joy, from sickness to health, from stagnation to breakthrough. This is through prayers that God activates me. When a child is in distress, God sends me to administer peace. God has sent me many times to you."

Me: "Why are you showing me this? What has happened?"

Breakthrough: "God is about to answer all of your prayers."

He then smiled at me and whistled. His whistle woke me up suddenly. Sub-dream 1 over.

I sat up. I had been very tired the last few days. I have been short-winded and dizzy at times. I was dizzy when I stood up. I laid back down on the bed. I fell asleep again...

Sub-dream 2 "A Town's Finances are restored by God"

It was a sunny day. My husband and I were driving on the interstate. I recognized this as 84 in Oregon. In particular, it looked like a stretch of highway near Umatilla, OR. It looked like summer time. The area was flat and windy. There was a lot of sand and dirt. We were travelling east. We soon came up to a remnant of a town that doesn't exist 'in real life'.

The town consisted of only front facades. The streets were in a grid pattern. Some building fronts looked as if they were falling over. It was just storefronts. I could see two separate gas stations. They both had red signs with white lettering that said 'Petros Gas'. We decided to turn off the exit to see what had happened to the town. It seemed as if this town had been a city of 20,000 people at one time.

The one gas station appeared open. There were two buses full of tourists stopping there as well. This surprised us because there was nothing to do there. While my husband filled up our tank, I walked into the gas station. To my surprise, it expanded back to what looked like a banquet hall attached to this. In the banquet hall, there was a giant garage sale and a sign telling people to 'make us an offer'.

The banquet hall was quite busy as I walked around. I decided to ask the woman at the payment area what had happened to this town.

Woman: "We had a beautiful town. There was no trouble to anyone. An evil man then came to town and offered to purchase it. None of us wanted to sell our town. He then gave us an option. He told us we had to pay him $58,000 per business to keep it, knowing that none of us had money like this.

"He threatened us that, if only one business was short, he would destroy the entire town. He gave us three months. While we then called the authorities, no one came to help us. When day 88 came in the final week, we had come up with the almost $3 million dollars needed to keep our town as every business had raised the funds."

Me: "What happened next?"

Woman: "The business owner for Petros Gas paid his $58,000 thinking that is all the evil man required. However, the evil man actually required double this, $58,000 for each of his two locations. Because we were short, the evil man then sent in an army. He destroyed all of our town. He killed all those who tried to fight, even women and children. His army left only a few survivors, along with the facades to the buildings, in order to send a message to the other towns and cities."

Me: "What about the $3 million dollars?"

Woman: "He took it as payment as a 'sovereign citizen'."

The woman was now in tears. This really tugged at my heart strings. I went outside and told my husband all that she had said. We both became really upset. We decided to drive up a small hill that looked over the area. Once there, we cried out to God on behalf of this little town. We prayed for complete restoration.

As soon as we finished our prayer, we heard the sound of rumbling in the ground and a loud clap of thunder. The Heavens opened and we could see a large army of angels coming down over the area. They were restoring the area and making it even better than before. The streets were now made of exquisite cobblestone. The street lights were so picturesque.

Store facades were changed into full stores and were now fully stocked. There were plants and fountains all over the place. Stone churches formed, complete with beautiful bell towers. The town was as beautiful as Telluride, Colorado, if not even more so. We were so excited. We saw angels putting up an invisible fence that the enemy was unable to cross.

We then drove back down to the town. When we arrived, there was crying and joy. We told them that God had heard their cries. Thousands gave their hearts to God that day. The people then dedicated the town to God and for His purposes. God also restored their individual finances, even giving each one three times more than what they had lost.

My husband: "Hmm, now I would like to pay a visit to the mob boss."

Me: "Then let's go north. Spokane WA could use a good restoration."

We both laughed. We soon crossed over the Columbia River into Washington State.

Sub-dream 2 over.

I woke up and noticed that it was now 5:00am. This was still too early to wake up. I was still dizzy, so I laid my head back down. I heard some loud noises coming from outside due to the storm, but I soon fell back asleep in spite of this.

Sub-dream 3 "Let boys be girls"

I was young and in a distant city. We were meeting for a youth church event. However, we were no longer allowed to call it church. We instead called it the 'Prep School Event'. I recognized a few of the pastors. While they were young and hip, they had very little spiritual substance to their messages.

We were soon given sweaters to wear to distinguish ourselves from other attendees. They also served the purpose of giving a universal message to local officials that we were a 'Prep School' having activities rather than a 'church'. The sweater I was given was deep blue with yellow and gold accents.

The sweater was buttoned down and there was a tag on it labelling it as 'New'. However, upon looking closer at the sweater, it was definitely not new. It seemed deceptive as I had thought I had paid for a new sweater. When I confronted one of the pastors, he told me I wasn't being thankful enough and that he didn't take kindly to having his authority questioned.

While looking into his eyes, I could tell he was lying to me. The Holy Spirit told me to stand down for now, so I did. I then set off for a changing room / bathroom where I could put this sweater on. Across the street of this massive park was a hotel. I decided to use their washroom to change. However, I was not prepared for what was about to happen...

The bathroom was very busy. I waited for my turn. As I waited, I was in shock at the number of males exiting the bathroom as it was clearly labeled as the women's room. I decided to change quickly in a stall and exit as fast as I could. I was soon standing in the bathroom. It was covered from floor to ceiling in pink tile. There was no mistaking that this was a woman's restroom. I became disgusted by what I was witnessing, so I decided to exit. I walked over to the concierge desk and asked about the bathroom...

Me: "Is the men's bathroom closed? Why are there so many men in the women's bathroom?"

Concierge: "Well, women are still allowed to use the facilities, but the hotel no longer assumes responsibility for what occurs there."

Me: "Is there any place safe or private anymore?"

Concierge: "Where have you been? We are no longer able to question what we see or hear. Men are allowed to go wherever they declare it. They are free."

Me: "So, in other words, there is no safe place anymore."

Concierge: "No, not in the city."

Me: "This just doesn't seem right."

Concierge: "Come, look over here."

He proceeded to walk me over to a sports lounge in the hotel lobby. There were multiple televisions. The Summer Olympics, scheduled to start in Tokyo on Friday, July 23, 2021 and ending on Sunday, August 8, 2021, was on the television screen. I was watching an award ceremony in swimming. The banner said 'Woman's 50 Meter Freestyle 2021'. However, instead of women, it was men in women's one-piece swimsuits. Every person receiving metals were actually men.

Me: "What is the date?"

Concierge: "Are you okay? It is August 2nd."

Me: "Yes, I am fine. This just seems wrong."

Concierge: "Well, God is the only One Who can do something about this now."

Me: "I agree."

Concierge: "You can change in the janitor's room. It has a lock. You can only be in there for five minutes though."

Me: "I will be less than that."

I decided that I didn't want to stay for any of this. As I stepped into the closet, I instantly stepped into my home instead.

Sub-dream 3 over.

Note on the sub-dreams: What is shown in the sub-dreams may or may not be how things will translate in real life. Sometimes they can show what the enemy has planned for us, wherein our future appearance post-Transformation may change their course. One thing is for sure... when God calls His Army to march, nothing like it will have ever been seen before... not even a fraction.

I woke up and it was 10:30am. This is really late for me and not like me at all. After getting dressed, I decided to go out and see if the storm had done anything to our yard. It had. The storm had uplifted trees and other items in our yard. Thankfully, the two trees uprooted were down by the creek, now a loud rushing stream due to the rain. We are into December now and it has been warmer than normal so far.

Even so, Father, what about the situation in the world? The world has gone completely mad. It makes no sense anymore. Nothing seems normal at all. The enemy believes he is clever and his schemes will go unnoticed. However, You see everything. Please rise up and help us. Heal us, change us and strengthen us. Please do this for us, in Jesus' Mighty Name, Amen! I am scared. This is scary.

Yesterday marks three years since the sudden death of my earthly father in Naples, Florida. So much has changed since then. It has been so tumultuous. The world has changed. Father God, my Creator in Heaven, You are setting the stage for Revelation to begin. However, please do not forget about Your people. The media mocks people who love You.

Christians are mocked and hated. They are even tortured to death in many countries overseas. Churches are being shut down. People are being burned to death in their homes. The government is now calling for no family gatherings for Christmas. The highest rate of suicide is during Christmas. From what I see, the enemy is winning the war on Christmas... but, really, the war on Christians.

Jesus: "Erin, come up."

I was outside in our yard. The sound of the water rushing in our creek was very loud. Yesterday, the water was brown. Today, after the sudden storm and the quick melt, the water was running clear. I looked across the water where the bridge usually is. Instead, I could see the two trees that were uprooted last night. They fell safely away from our house and did no damage, so I was grateful.

Me: "Lord, please don't wait too much longer. Things have become sad and dark. While we should have great joy right now, things are instead becoming dark and foreboding. Father, the Book of Jude gives a great account of what is occurring right now. When, Father? When will You vindicate Your people?"

Tears were now running down my cheeks. I felt a hand on my shoulder. I looked up and it was Raphael. He smiled.

Raphael: "It appears that the water is clearing up. This is good. I have been called by God to answer some of your questions and deliver you peace."

Me: "Thank you." My voice cracked and became quiet.

Raphael: "Hmm, you seem to have lost your voice..." I then began to cry. "...but have now found your tears." He smiled.

Me: "I am very sad. My heart is grieving. You visited me in my dreams just a few days ago."

Raphael: "You mean God sent me..." He nudged me.

Me: "Oh yes, of course. You were instructing me. However, I can now barely remember it. I just remember learning various things. However, I then had no recollection of it upon waking."

Raphael: "God is the Lover of your soul because He created you. He loves what He created in you. He loves that you continuously seek Him in all things. You are then aware that you have an enemy of your soul, the polar opposite of your Savior, your Lord. I also know this entity. Since he no longer resides in Heaven and no longer has access to God's Courts, he is now here and seeks your life.

"He now understands that it is Jesus that holds the keys to life and death. As such, his main plan is to now steal your soul before your death. His plan is to convince God's children that he is the lover of their soul, not God. However, and as you have noticed, it has become increasingly difficult for him to hold his tongue, his arrogance and his self-edification in check for long.

"Those God has called, those who have prayed for wisdom, are seeing this enemy of man preparing his way... one way. I know this is discouraging to witness...the rise in evil as he builds up his various factions. However, this I will tell you... because most are veiled, they truly have no understanding. All of us are standing down until God calls us into action."

Me: "What do you mean?"

Raphael: "In the war above you, we are acting as a firewall in defense of the children of God. We are holding back the progress of evil until God calls us into battle."

Me: "But I thought you were already battling?"

Raphael: "There are different strategies and objectives in war. Right now, we are creating a line... a wall... that the enemy is unable to breach. When they do, we attack again. The enemy then loses ground and we set up a defense again."

Me: "What if you weren't there?"

Raphael: "There would be no good news. The time of the end would accelerate. The final harvest would be destroyed and very small. God's people would be prosecuted and sent away to be killed. While there is more, this is unnecessary to speculate about. Just because the enemy plans and plots does not mean this will come into being. God's plans are much greater. He loves His children. Some have been offered up to persecution and great is and has been their reward in Heaven.

"However, now is a great time, the times prophesied by Enoch, where thousands of God's elect will administer justice. God's Name has been profaned. His churches have been shuttered. Worship and prayers have been silenced. People with dreams have become disheartened and shattered. Corruption, lies and theft are now accepted. Justice is blind as she peaks through her blindfold. This is just the beginning of woes unless God intervened."

Me: "When will He intervene?"

Raphael: "I cannot tell you this as this will not be beneficial in advance... either to you or your loved ones. Erin, do not worry. A great gift, a great plan of God, will soon be set in place. Evil will flee." I began to cry and worry again. "Erin...you are worrying again." He smiled as he nudged me. "Do not worry as this will only make you sick.

"Now, two trees fell on your property last night. The angels guarding you kept the enemy from destroying your home. The trees fell in a safe way as a result and away from your house. Do not worry about these two fallen trees though as all will soon be restored."

Me: "Please continue to protect us, our home and our children, as well as our friends and their families."

Raphael: "Of course, Erin. We are holding the line as God has commanded us to do."

Me: "Thank you, Raphael."

Raphael: "Do not thank the angels as we are directed by God. We are God's Heavenly Army and hosts. Thank Him only. Now, if you want to know the difference between us and the fallen angels... well, they are lovers of themselves...they cause division...they work to deceive... they elevate their position with lying accusations against others. The legion of demons is vast. They enjoy their false narratives.

"In contrast, the angels of God are not boastful. We operate in the positive fruits of the Spirit. We are all under the seven-fold Spirits of Heaven... which is the Lord. We operate under the direction of the Throne of God. Now, be encouraged. God is with you. The Lord is in you via the Spirit and you will be kept from harm. Stay encouraged. Everything is about to change. Oh, look over there... a red bird."

He pointed behind me. This time I remained looking at him. I started to laugh.

Raphael: Smiling. "I have not been deceiving you, Erin. When I have said that there is a red bird behind you, there really has been."

Me: Laughing. "While I know this is true, I also feel you only had me look away to then see you were gone."

Raphael: Laughing. "This was meant to cause you and your friends to laugh. It worked, didn't it?"

He smiled at me again. Before I could answer, he was gone in an instant, right in front of my very eyes. When I looked down to where he had stood, there was Bruiser, the tiny red squirrel. This was a pleasant surprise for me as he is one of my favorites of the small animals and I had not seen him for a few days.

Dream over.

Dream 452 – Raphael yawns at the antics of the enemy

Received on Wednesday, December 9, 2020

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day! Thank You for my family and friends. Please bless all of them supernaturally. Protect each one of them, along with their households and children. Please also protect their homes, jobs and churches.

Father, our country is in an epic battle for liberty and justice for all. We are at war and have been for some time. However, this is not a physical battlefield. This has been a war on information and truth vs. fiction. Father, if You do not step in, churches will be permanently closed as 'institutions of hate' and our Bibles will be confiscated as 'hate propaganda'.

The truth is being revealed about the Land of the Dragon. They have been involved in a campaign of spies, bribery and corruption at the highest level of our government. Father, please rise up and hear the cries of Your people. Please send in Your army to help. It has been so heartbreaking to see the evil rising and changing our landscape. The ways of life, which were at least peaceful and safe, are now being lost.

The California that I grew up in as a child is no longer beautiful. There is still natural beauty, but now criminals are being emboldened. The new district attorney (DA) of the City of Los Angeles (LA) has now declared 'free criminal activity' as a free pass to the poor. We grew up poor in California because politicians began to divide the classes in the 70s. No one could afford homes anymore.

My grandpa purchased our 1000 sq ft home in the Bay Area across from the railroad tracks. He paid $8,000 for it in the early 70s and it was then sold for 10 times as much, over $80,000, in 1976. Today, this exact home has a value of just over $1 million. This evaluation calculates to $1,000 per sq ft. Who would pay this for a one-bathroom home in a not so safe area?

With these new laws, they are saying I can break into my neighbor's home, steal their valuables and nothing will happen to me. I can walk into Target and take what I want, as long as I keep it under $1,500. No one will do anything! So, how many times a day am I allowed to do this? Is it once a week or several times a day? It is awful, so awful. I would never own a small business in California as a result.

Oh Father, the world has gone mad. Please help us. In Jesus' Mighty Name, please help us! How many governments are now under the Land of the Dragon's rule? Your Word of Truth has been rewritten and reprinted there. This will soon be done to our Bibles here as well. Please help us before they have any more success. I had two vivid dreams last night...

Sub-dream 1 "A Salty Sea Captain fights Impossible Odds"

I was looking over a scene taking place in the Great Lakes Region of the USA. It was possibly Lake Erie. Ice at least two feet thick or more covered the rocks on the banks of this mighty lake. The ice was an unappealing tan color. A world-renowned Sea Captain was there who had sailed through every severe condition upon the seven seas.

He was about to attempt an impossible feat. The Sea Captain looked old fashioned. He had grey and white hair with a long beard and mustache. He had a curved pipe he would smoke in his mouth when he was not speaking. He wore a deep navy wool peacoat and had piercing green eyes.

I then saw a crane placing a multi-million-dollar yacht in the sea somewhere between Pennsylvania and Michigan. Again, I was not 100% sure. The Sea Captain was already on the yacht. The tumultuous conditions included gale force winds, choppy currents and swells as high as fifty feet. Despite an opposing current, the Sea Captain had to somehow keep the yacht from slamming against the ice-covered shore.

The crane extended out, but soon had to stop as the spray from the water was icing up the extension. Despite the yacht still being suspended over fifty feet above the water, the event sponsors gave the order to release the yacht into the water. It was horrifying to watch. The Sea Captain continued to wave even as the boat suddenly dropped down into the choppy sea.

This was an impossible feat. If the yacht was dashed on the rocks, the only chance the Sea Captain would have was to somehow climb the ice-covered cliffs. While he had been given permission to abandon the yacht, he was not allowed to until he waited long enough for the entire hull to be shattered. The people running the event gave so many impossible conditions that it seemed like the Sea Captain would more than likely die. All of this was being televised in front of a large audience.

The brave Sea Captain waved to everyone from the helm of the yacht. I was amazed to see that he was alone. He had no crew. He was given no life vest. He waved and puffed on his pipe as the wind tossed the yacht back and forth like a ride at an amusement park. While the temperature itself was already well below zero, who knows how cold it must have been with the wind gusts.

The yacht was being slammed so hard that the Sea Captain soon lost his footing. He was now holding onto the railing of the boat outside of the yacht. He still managed to hold on even as the waves slammed into him. While I could see the audience was crying in horror, the heads of the event and the commentators mocked the Sea Captain. They were laughing and shaking their heads at his terrible predicament.

The Sea Captain had now been holding on for ten minutes. I could tell he was losing strength and would soon be in the stormy seas. However, in a strange turn of events, the yacht hit into an underwater impediment. This catapulted the broken vessel upward. The yacht was now split into two.

However, the side he was clinging to tossed him high up into the sky. Instead of landing into the deadly seas, the Sea Captain was projected over the icy cliffs and rocks and onto a safe bridge. He landed safely on the bridge. It was an absolutely miraculous turn of events. He should have died.

Then, and in another strange turn of events, another miracle occurred. The remaining debris still in the sea were tossed up and out of the water, landing on the commentators' multiple vans. There were no survivors. They were all destroyed. In contrast, though salty from the water, the Sea Captain was very much still healthy and alive.

The Sea Captain never had to face the decision to go down with the ship! He never had to worry about whether he would sink after swimming with all of his might. A great miracle had just happened in front of all who were watching this. The audience, an audience that greatly loved the Sea Captain, cheered in both happiness and relief. There was a great celebration.

The event planners then approached the Sea Captain to trick him into doing the same feat, but in each of the other three Great Lakes. He knew what they were up to and politely declined. When asked why, he told them it was because he had just lost his lucky pipe.

Sub-dream 1 over.

Oh Father, this was a very scary dream, but with a great ending. What does it all mean? My next dream was quite frightening.

Sub-dream 2 "Superheroes going crazy"

I was at a massive intersection somewhere in California. It was nighttime. Several different vehicles were exiting a Hollywood award show. The awards show was based on the best superheroes and supervillains in film. I had never seen this particular award show before and do not believe it actually exists. This ceremony was bringing out mentally unstable people who were also well-known actors.

While I had not attended the ceremony, I was caught in the traffic jam caused by it. As I waited at the front of an intersection, a well-known superhero actor stood there wielding a long sharp white ax. He was taking advantage of people stuck in traffic to terrorize them. When he then went to the car next to mine, he looked up and saw me. The demon he had started to yell specifically at me. While he then swung his ax directly at me, I suddenly woke up before it could do anything to me.

Sub-dream 2 over.

Oh Father, this seemed so real. I couldn't fall back to sleep after this. Father, You are so mysterious. While I cannot see You, I know that You are constantly before me. I am so, so grateful for You!

Jesus: "Erin, come up."

I walked outside in our yard. I turned and walked to the stream on our property. The water was still rushing from the melting snow. I smiled when I noticed that the water was clear. I felt so much love for our Lord! I felt a hand on my shoulder. I turned and it was Raphael. He smiled at me.

Raphael: "This water is nice and clear. This is what it should be... cool clear water is good for you to drink."

Me: "Thank you for coming here, by God's orders, to keep our water clear." I then asked a question I don't remember ever asking before. "So, does God have anything to say today? I am sad and I was hoping..."

Raphael: Smiling. "Angels never come on their own accord. Always remember that we work for God in His Courts. If any angel comes to you claiming to be from Heaven, they might not be lying, but remember that many did fall, so they may be. The difference between them and us is that they govern themselves and love using the words 'me' and 'I'. Understand this so as to not be deceived. Those angels want you to call upon them and worship them instead.

"They are well aware of your past, but they only guess about your future. This is because God has not sent them. Many are deceived here. They follow false doctrines of angels that call upon their own powers. However, this would never be from God's angelic army as we always work for God and are always under His Governance. We are also not subject to man, only to God.

"Now, I do have a message from God for you. It takes the Glory of God to conceal a matter and the honor of kings to search it out (Proverbs 25:2). There is something important God would like you to reflect on. This is mentioned briefly in the Book of Jude. Many years ago, someone you admire greatly has scribed what is now upon you”.

Me: “Is this Enoch? Are you referring to the Book of Enoch?”

Raphael: Smiling. “It is good to see your worry retreat.” He nudged me. “Now, Enoch, a righteous man, whose eyes were opened by God, saw the vision of the Holy Ones in Heaven. However, he also understood that what he saw and heard were not for his current generation as he was only the seventh generation from Adam. He knew that this was for a generation in the future, one which was and is to come. Enoch then spoke of a story about them, similar to a parable. I will summarize this for you...

The Lord will tread upon the Earth from His place in Heaven. On Mount Sinai, He will appear from His camp. He will appear in great strength and might from the Heaven of Heavens. All will be in fear. The fallen will quake. Great fear and trembling shall seize to the end of the Earth. High mountains shall be shaken. High hills will be leveled and will melt. There will be judgment upon all men.

However, He will make peace with the Righteous. His mercy and protection will be upon His elect. These elect will belong to God. They will be blessed and prosper. He will help them all. And a light shall appear unto them... Erin, a sign in the sky.

He will make peace with them. In a moment... Behold, He Cometh with ten thousands of His Holy Ones to execute judgment upon all and to destroy the ungodly and to convict the flesh of their unholy crimes against God and His children and His elect.

The godless will be cursed. As the godless have cursed, they too shall be cursed. All the saints shall rejoice. There will be a great harvest of souls and the forgiveness of sins. There will be mercy, peace and forbearance issued by the Courts of God as Heaven will be visible on Earth. For there will be a great light and flame burning inside you. Your mantle will be peace, joy and healing.

“...now, rejoice, Erin, as God has not forgotten you. Great will be your reward!”

Me: “Oh Raphael, I do not fully understand all of this. Is this for now? I am so sorry that I am still confused.”

Raphael: “Well, I am pretty sure I heard correctly.” He smiled and nudged me as he said this. “Does it not seem like God to allow for a great shakeup?”

Does it not seem like God to allow for some intrigue and flexing? Would He not do His part to have them see this so that they will then turn and be healed?"

Me: Laughing. "Are you teasing me?"

Raphael: "Am I? Oh no...is this it? Hmm, perhaps sit here while I go back to clarify all of this."

Me: "Okay, now I know that you are teasing me!"

Raphael: "There are Scriptures as written that many fail to see because it is more exciting to them to instead believe that the Lord is coming to just take everyone Home (in the Rapture). However, what is written is that the times of miracles, healings and Good News must be proclaimed first. Please be encouraged. Though all seems dark and evil seems to be winning, this is only what you see on that great and terrible soapbox on the wall." He nudged me good naturedly as he laughed.

Me: "Do you mean a television?"

Raphael: "Well, yes, but it can also be from that table version."

Me: "Do you mean a computer?"

Raphael: "Well, yes, but it can also be from the handheld one."

Me: "Do you mean a tablet?"

Raphael: "Well, yes, but there is also that other one."

Me: "Do you mean a cellphone?" I was now laughing so hard.

Raphael: Smiling. "Just know that we are holding the firewall above you in 'the information heaven'."

Me: "Do you mean the world wide web?"

Raphael: "Well, yes, but there are some interesting princes of the enemy up there as well. Some have legs...some have teeth... some just have... well, just know this...there is an army over you battling these wars. God will occasionally allow Good News to slip through the enemy territory, but they then fight even more vigorously." He then yawned in an exaggerated fashion. "Oh Erin, from our position, it is 'a war of predictability'. However, it is still hard fought. It is God's battle and we are in war there. This is not for you to worry over. Wait... I see it on your face... Erin, is that worry?"

Me: "Well, I guess if you are yawning, I should not worry." We both laughed.

Raphael: "Erin, I was sent by God to reassure you and cheer you up. The times you have been waiting for are now upon you. It will be much better than you imagine." He smiled. "You will even drink from your stream of Living Water."

Me: "Wait! What! Really?"

I looked over at our stream. When I looked back at Raphael, he was already gone! Yes, he did this again! When will I learn...smiles?

Note: An extremely rare earthquake hit our area recently. It was quite small – a 3.0 magnitude earthquake. We did not feel it nor was there any damage to our property. Still, I feel like something this rare must surely be a sign of just how close we are to the Transformation. Smiles... I am praying this this is not just wishful thinking!

Dream over.

Dream 453 – Rafael remains just as optimistic

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day! Thank You for this mild December, but November too. We have not had to shovel so far this season. Thank You for my family and friends. Thanks to You, I am rich in my heart because of them. I am so, so blessed because of my family and friends. Thank You for sending signs in the sky to us. This reminds us all of Your great love.

While there were too many clouds to see it where we were, you sent us the Aurora Borealis. This occurred on the first night of Hanukkah and I just know it was another sign. We also have other upcoming signs, including the total solar eclipse on Monday, December 14, 2020. This will only be visible in the southern hemisphere.

We also have the upcoming Star of Bethlehem, the Christmas Star, the Great Conjunction of Saturn and Jupiter, on December 21, 2020. I am so excited as this will be the 'greatest' Great Conjunction in 800 years. For those who want to see the Great Conjunction, it is in the western sky just after sunset and visible in the night sky for almost two hours.

The Great Conjunction will appear low in the horizon the entire time and will look like a star to the naked eye. However, a powerful telescope will show the two biggest planets next to each other in the same lens. While you can see the planets near to each other on days leading up to it and after, the peak of closeness is on December 21, 2020, the Winter Solstice and therefore the shortest day of the year.

Whether we can see any of these signs or not just doesn't matter. By faith, we know they will have occurred because we trust You to send these events. In the same way we cannot visibly see You, we know 100% that You are always with us. So then, why do I find myself so often fearful? It makes no sense. However, it is because we are so small and God is so big. We are not Him, so we sometimes worry. It is human nature.

A big snowstorm is due to blow into our region tonight. Please keep this uneventful. The last storm brought down several trees. The month of Kislev is almost over. While this is the darkest of months, it is also the month of dreams and hope. So, Father, please renew our hope. I had several dreams last night that were difficult to understand. They were broken up. Please help me to understand them...

Sub-dream 1 "The Queen cuts ties with the USA"

The Queen of England had filed a lawsuit with the USA Supreme Court to break apart completely from a rogue regime. The document read that the Monarchy no longer considered itself part of the union or the marriage of consideration outside of their jurisdiction. The Monarchy of England therefore declared it is no longer tied to the lands or the peoples of the USA or Canada, declaring itself free and sovereign.

I saw this document being served, complete with official seals, by a red guard with a black bear fur hat. I saw the delivery guard walk up the steps to deliver the papers at the Supreme Court Building in Washington DC. Sub-dream 1.

My next dream had elements from a dream I had eight or more years ago...

Sub-dream 2 "A frail leader...should he succeed"

The United Kingdom was dismantling a festival. There were ten tents set up with ten princes inside. The princes were married to many wives. Where they laid their heads, there was human excrement on their sheets. The festival took place in a beautiful large mall surrounded by Christian churches. A type of formal English guard with gold and red smock and nickers then arrived. He had a golden horn that he then sounded.

The ten princes then staggered out of their tents as if drunken. The English guard then held up a scroll. The ten princes were ordered to disperse. They were given forty days to reach their destinations. Five princes dispersed south or southeast. The other five princes crossed the seas to the west or southwest. When the ten princes then laid in their beds, no one knew them as they were all in exile.

The festival grounds of the mall were being swept clean of their memories. All evidence of their presence was soon cleaned up and removed. Over time, I then saw the massive land of the UK being broken up by large waves. The UK was being broken and eroded by rough tides. The land shrunk. I then saw the USA. I heard an angel...

Angel: "And on the 15th day of the 8th month, the government divided against the people with a plot to destroy God's land and His commandments. While the wise counselors he had consulted had told him to care for the will of the people so that they will turn back to God, he instead determined himself progressive and sought fools in order to protect his popular status.

The fools confused him and pressured him to place heavy yokes on the people of the land that had defied him in order to punish them.”

A ruler was then declared and raised up against the will of the people. He was of increasingly frail body. I saw his forearms shrivel to the point that he would be unable to sign the many executive orders he had promised to sign should he be made ruler. The executive orders that would be waiting for him for the day he would step into his seat would then vindicate his party and declare the nation sovereign and separate from God.

Note: It appears that the 15th day of the 8th month in this sub-dream could be equal to Cheshvan 15, 5781, or November 2, 2020. It would be plausible that the false ballots, particularly in the critical swing states, would have been put into their respective hiding places on this date, the day before the Election Day of November 3, 2020.

Sub-dream 2 over.

When I woke up from this dream at 4:30am, my stomach was sick with bile. My stomach was turning in my sleep. I then realized that this dream was very similar to 1 Kings 12, including the inclusion of the date. It is so similar. Father, the USA is a great nation. The citizens have been lied to and manipulated. Our land and resources have been portioned out to the Land of the Dragon for money and power. This all happened while we were being kept in the dark.

How can we now recover? Yesterday (Friday, December 11, 2020), the USA Supreme Court went against its own Constitution in a case beginning with Texas. So, what will happen now? Father, what is the meaning of the ten princes and the UK? While just my speculation, could these perhaps represent the Ten Lost Tribes? However, this I know... if You, Father, do not soon intervene, the USA will be ripe for takeover by the Land of the Dragon. I also learned something else that is disturbing...

Canada's military has been showing the Land of the Dragon their winter warfare capabilities. Yes, that's right... our closest ally is training our greatest enemy. You can't make this up. Canada's corrupt young leader sold out the Canadian people and, in effect, exposed North America for takeover. Father, this matches my dream of an open front yard and door, complete with the enemy streaming in. Is this a foreshadowing of this? So, what's next, Father? Please help us! I then had my third dream...

Sub-dream 3 “The eagle, the grizzly bear and the foxes”

I saw a large grizzly bear with gray hair and loose teeth. When it roared, he made a painful sound, as if it hurt to even open its mouth to show its power. As it stood up, I saw a bunch of fat foxes. I couldn't tell how many though, but it looked like around 7 to 9 of them. The foxes were not afraid of the bear and were running around his legs. Because they were so fast, I was unable to count them accurately.

However, one fox slowed down enough to get a better description. The foxes were also grey, but with black stripes down the middle of their backs. Something then happened that confused me. A large eagle was hurled at the bear. The eagle was either asleep or knocked out. It had been battered and was missing feathers. It struck the bear and the bear fell forward. Rather than being crushed by the bear, the foxes were easily able to avoid him.

The bear got up again, but now appeared to be blind. It was smelling and trying to locate the eagle, but couldn't find it. Although the eagle was right in front of the grizzly, he couldn't find it because the foxes were creating constant movements that distracted the bear. A few of the foxes then broke off to attack the eagle. Their movement caused the eagle to arise from its state and attack the foxes. The foxes soon fled. As for the old blind bear, he sat back down on his rump and was useless.

Sub-dream 3 over.

I woke up at 8:30am. While I had several other dreams in a short period, I was not told to write them down. However, I was still to note that, in one of these dreams, I kept hearing the slogan 'Call to Arms'. I then saw the creation of a new flag and a new nation. What? Please help!

Jesus: "Erin, come up."

I was in my yard. Small animals and birds were preparing for the coming storm. I could see this in real time. I turned to walk to the stream. The waterfalls were still rushing, but not like they had been in recent dreams.

The water was clearer than it had been for years. I bent down to look closer at the stream. I then felt a hand on my shoulder. I turned and there was Rafael. He was smiling.

Rafael: "Doesn't the stream look clear now?"

Me: "Yes, thank you. Where have you been?"

Rafael: "There is a great war, Erin. Do you not see it?"

Me: "I see what is happening here, but not above. Will you help me understand my dreams? Why do some seem so clear and others seem so mysterious? Why do some not happen as shown?"

Rafael: "Erin, dreams are a measure of what has occurred, what is occurring and what will occur. This is all based on the direction, like the flow of this stream is one way and rushing based on the current. Get it..." He nudged me. "...current... as in current circumstances.

"Now, God has sent me to reassure you of His love for you in the midst of 'current' circumstances. I know... yes, I know... before you speak... because I just know you have so much to say." He was smiling as he knew that I actually had nothing to say. "Please, please... slow down... you are talking too fast."

Me: "Okay, now I know that you are joking around with me. Oh Rafael, I am waiting on God right now. After what has just happened, who am I to say anything. Did I write my dreams down wrong? Am I confused? Do my dreams deceive me? I need answers." I then prayed to God. "Please, Father God, send me answers so that I can be in peace again. This is the beginning of the dark winter, isn't it? Hope is fading now. What of my dreams?" I was now crying.

Rafael: Now more serious and empathetic, but still smiling. "Oh Erin, why do I act as I do... with smiles and lighthearted speech? Why does the Lord often do this too when you are with Him? Well, I could also speak of Uriel, but he is a bit more... well... task oriented. This is a good thing, right?"

Me: "Yes, Rafael. While Uriel is more serious, he is still always confident. As for Jesus, He is always 100% in control. As for you, you seem pretty relaxed most of the time."

Rafael: Laughing. "Hmm, you now have wisdom! If we are all like this... and, yes, even Breakthrough... and we are over you as God has sent His angel armies to surround you... why then are you so worried? If Heaven is not worried, why are you?"

Me: "While I am sorry for being worried, I feel I have a good reason. Oh Rafael, have you not seen the reports?"

Rafael: Laughing. "Ah yes... the dependable 'good news' that originates from the encampment of the enemy to send 'hope' to the captives that they are about to be punished. Hmm, this doesn't seem right. Again, Erin, be careful about the motives of those delivering the information. This is elemental warfare!

"Think of it like this... you are in His Great Army, and therefore a huge threat, to those who hate you. Just your very presence in the valley scares them. So, what do they do? They send in messengers with bad news. You then hear reports such as 'there is a massive caravan of fighters coming with huge weapons to destroy you.'

"Okay, here is an even better one... 'your villages are on fire and all hope is lost.' Erin, do you see where I am going with this? The people in His Great Army then begin to believe these messages from the weaker army.

The weaker army does this to dishearten them and cause infighting and division. Now, God still reigns and He will forever, understand? Erin, nothing has changed!"

Me: "But what about the judges? The judges do not seem to be God's! Who will stand for justice and the Constitution if they won't?"

Rafael: "Erin, they have been appointed by God. He removed three others in order to appoint these. Hmm, I believe that God already has this!"

Me: "But their decision yesterday was so unjust."

Rafael: Sighing in an exaggerated fashion. "Oh yes... you are right... it certainly appears so... oh no this is bad... I had better go tell God on His Mountain that He is no longer in control." He smiled as he nudged me. "Oh Erin, really? God is merely setting the stage for an even greater miracle. When God administers His might, power and justice, there will be many terrified troublemakers.

"Now, God wants you to know that He is God over all and that, the bad reports being sent and those containing the plans of the enemy, will all be turned against the foxes. They will flee. Aside from God... meaning 'without God'... there will be a massive divide. You have been shown this before. If the enemy can divide the nation, then conquering it will be easy. However, always remember that God's Plan is much greater!"

Me: "It is still hard though. Oh Rafael, my heart is breaking about the news."

Rafael: "Oh yes... that news... the bad news about God not using just one avenue... one route... that seemed the best." He smiled at me as he nodded.

"Yes, this is most unfortunate. It is time to zoom out your GPS... your God Positioning Device. Just because you like a certain route to a destination doesn't mean there aren't others... and even more scenic, I might add." He put his hand on his chin and looked up at Heaven like he was deep in thought. "But, hey... perhaps your view is much greater from where you are positioned?" He smiled as he nudged me again.

Me: "Absolutely not! I couldn't even see the Northern Lights in the sky even though they were there behind the clouds." I was now laughing.

Rafael: "Exactly! This is why God has sent me... to let you know 'Erin, I have a better view'... thus sayeth the Lord, understand? Remember also that God will sometimes give you a dream to warn you of a plan of the enemy concerning you or your household so you can reroute, redirect and pray. God can then remove the threat. So then, you must remember it is a warning of what might occur if you fail to act through self-examination and prayer, understand?"

Me: "Yes!"

Rafael: "He can also give you dreams of future events based on the evil schemes of man. This then causes a global call to prayer that then activates God's Army from the Throne Room. Now, there are many angry and in fear... even elected officials. Many have turned away to preserve their lives and the lives of their children. There are also some that turn away because of money or power. However, many more are defeated and in great distress.

"Well, Erin, God has heard their cries! God has heard the prayers of those in power with no power. While those in power with no power anguish because of the messengers of bad news, God has heard them. God has seen the anguish of those who lost loved ones, businesses and have no means. God has seen the rise in the wealthy. Do not worry though. Pray." He turned to the stream. "Look, the fish are jumping."

I turned to look and saw some Rainbow Trout. There were some large ones in our clear stream.

Me: "What? This is not possible!"

I then suddenly realized that this was probably Rafael having me turn away for another one of his classic 'great escapes'. However, when I turned back, and to my surprise... he was still standing there... and with a huge smile!

Rafael: "Gotcha!" He nudged me. "Look, Erin, I am still here! Now, be encouraged. God has a Great Plan, a better plan. He has you. He loves you. Just because it seems the road is dark and all hope is gone and all issues are dead, it is not over until God declares it so, understand?"

Me: "I think so."

Rafael: "Erin, the miracles are soon to come. This means healing. Rejoice, Erin, for a Great Light has come to the world." He smiled at me, but was then gone in an instant.

Dream over.

Dream 454 – Tomorrow Will Be a Pivotal Point

Received on Sunday, December 13, 2020

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day! Thank You for all that we have. Thank You for the miracle of You. What would we live for on Earth if not for You? There would really be no point to life without the promise of You. There is no other father like You, Father. You make me continuously desire to be the very best daughter ever. As You are so good, I too want to follow You.

Unfortunately, I often fall short and the world catches up to me. I often walk into its pit. I then cry out to You and repent. Each day drags on with the same worries and challenges. There truly is nothing new. However, with You, Father, all things are made new. My pain woke me up early this morning. I got up and decided to assess the damage of the large Nor'easter that was expected to bring us more than a foot of snow, along with ice.

However, when I walked outside, the air was warm and beautiful instead. There was perhaps two inches of slush on the ground. The epic storm we all were expecting and had planned for never came! Since we just got our car back from the auto repair shop, we had not been able to schedule for snow tires. Because of the Coronavirus, there were massive backlogs. We need just five more days of mild conditions until we are able to have our snow tires installed.

As a result, I am very thankful for the mild December thus far. When I walked over to the stream, I just had to laugh. Just like in my dreams, the water is now the clearest I have ever seen. I could see rocks of many shades as well. It was a very heavy flow. The water was moving quickly. I chuckled as I looked for the 'near impossible' presence of fish, but there were none. I scattered seed on top of the snow.

I could see doves in the trees. The blue jays were flying in to see what I was spreading out for breakfast. I then walked to the side of the house and froze when I saw a very rare (for this area) Red Cardinal. I somehow knew it was the same one I have seen before. It flew off immediately into the bushes at the bottom of our hill. I finished spreading seeds and went inside. I was able to photograph it in the distance.

I waited for it to fly back to the seed I had scattered so I could get a better shot. This seemed supernatural to me as there are few Red Cardinals this time of year as far north as we are. I am thankful for this wonderful sign from You, Father. You bless me with signs from the wilderness and I am grateful.

I went back inside and sat in my tiny devotional room. I am grateful for the blossoms on my Jasmine Tree. This plant has made a miraculous turn from parasites and death. As I looked around my room, my eyes suddenly stopped on a shelf with ceramic birds. I noticed a bird I did not remember ever owning. Perhaps this is a great sign of my age... smiles. Right there in front of me was a small Red Cardinal in perfect condition.

After inspecting this piece closer, I made a few observations. First off, it was from a maker that I don't really collect. Secondly, I do not remember ever buying this piece. I usually have quite the recollection for this type of thing. It made no sense as to why it was sitting here. Father, did You place this piece on my shelf? Hmm...

Sub-dream 1 "The Miracle on Ice"

I found myself suddenly sitting at a hockey game when I heard Breakthrough say to me without words: "A day of Great Change is coming!"

I instantly knew that this was no ordinary hockey game. Based on the crowd noise and the atmosphere, I knew that this was a great and important hockey game.

It looked bleak for the favored team. There were only 5 minutes left in the third and final period and they were down 4 to 0. Then something happened seconds later that was remarkable. The opposing team were given three penalties. They were being penalized for 'unethical behavior' against the favored team. The fans in the building were outraged and started shouting obscenities at the officials. They didn't bend.

With the opposing team now shorthanded, the atmosphere changed. You could see the excitement on the faces of the favored team. In a never seen before block of just a couple of minutes, the favored team scored 4 goals to tie the game. With less than a minute remaining, the opposing team finally had all of their players back on the ice. They were no longer shorthanded.

However, even this did not stop the momentum that the favored team now had. I saw several pivots, fakes and passes as the once losing team, which had been expected to keep their title going into the game, was inching closer and closer to the goalie. In a surprise move, two of the players pivoted back. Another player then seemed to come out of nowhere to take the shot down the middle.

Despite a great effort by the opposing team's goalie, the puck went into the net. In the last five minutes of a 60-minute game, the original favorite had just come back from 4 to 0 to win 5 to 4. It was awesome. The two announcers could barely be heard over the noise of the crowd. They were both in shock and shouting in excitement...

Announcer 1: "At the greatest point, when loss was imminent, the momentum changed. Can you believe this? Can you? I have never, never seen this before."

Announcer 2: "Yes, it is a pivotal change! A pivotal change! Pivotal!"
Sub-dream 1 over.

After having this dream, I got up from bed. My body ached as much as if I had just been at the game. I had become so tense as I watched the game. It was as if I had actually been there. Oh Father, what does 'pivotal' mean here? What will change?

Jesus: "Erin, come up."

I went out to the side yard to feed the birds. I then turned to the front yard by the stream. I spread seed by the stream. The stream was clear and beautiful. While the temperature was about 40 degrees Fahrenheit, I was not cold. It felt warmer than it was supposed to be. I soon felt a hand on my shoulder. I looked up and there was Rafael. He smiled at me. I was happy to see him again.

Rafael: "Look, Erin, the water is becoming clearer every day. Nice, right?"

Me: "Yes, thank you. You are back!"

Rafael: "Did you miss me?"

Me: "Of course! I have been very sad. God must have sent you again to cheer me up. Does He have another message for us today?"

Rafael: "Yes, but it is best if I show you."

The bridge instantly appeared. However, and unexpectedly, this time there was also a gate. This gate was not one I could open without supernatural assistance. He walked me over to the gate.

Rafael: "This gate is also like a door."

He took out a key and unlocked the gate. He then put his hands on the bars and showed me it could move.

Rafael: "See, I can push it open or pull it open. I can also line it up with the other door and lock it. However, all this is not possible without this..."

He drew my attention to two large hinges on the column wall to the gate.

Rafael: "This is a pivot point. While one is stationary, the other moves.

Me: I looked concerned. "But I..."

Rafael: "Yes, yes, yes... I know... you know all of this already. I get it. However, have you thought of this...because of this, you can move from where you are to God's Garden over here."

I watched as the landscape physically changed from the world to Heaven and from the natural to the supernatural.

Rafael: Continuing to good naturedly tease me. "I know, I know... you have also seen this before. However, all things... all abilities... to enter this gate was hinged on this pivotal point." He smiled and laughed. "Do you understand my play on words here?"

Me: Smiling. "You are so funny." I shook my head. "So, what happens now?"

Rafael: "Tomorrow, December 14th (December 14, 2020), is a pivotal point in the world."

Note: December 14, 2020 is Kislev 28. The day after Election Day was Cheshvan 17 (November 4, 2020), the day the rains began for 40 days back in the time of Noah's flood. If Cheshvan 17 is day 1 of the rains, Kislev 27 (today) would be day 40 of the rains. This means that tomorrow is the symbolic 'first day after the 40 days of rain'.

Me: "Wait! You are giving me a date? A real date? Whaaaat?"

Rafael: Smiling. "Now, hold on there, little sparrow of God. Calm down. Calm down. This is not what you have been waiting for just yet." I was thinking 'the Transformation' and he knew this. "Okay, now breathe. Erin, breathe. Okay, calm down now."

Even though he wasn't speaking of the Transformation, I just couldn't keep myself from jumping up and down in excitement. He was laughing as I did this. This must have looked quite amusing to him.

Me: "Okay, Rafael, but I am still excited."

I was so excited, I decided to take a short break to look up December 14th in history...

- 1799: George Washington died
- 1903: The Wright Brothers attempt to fly for the first time
- Multiple years: Popular date for nuclear tests all over the world
- 1967: DNA created in a test tube
- 1968: Bobby Orr scores a hatrick
- 2016: Scientists find the world's oldest water – supposedly 2 billion years old

- 2017: The lost paintings of Rafael were found (this is obviously NOT the angel Rafael, but a famous 'human' painter that died 500 years ago in 1520)

I was so excited that, when I went back to Rafael, I shared my list with him.

Rafael: Laughing. "Oh, so they finally found those paintings. Interesting. 2-billion-year-old water? Hmm, they should have called on God. He would have sent me to clean up that old H₂O. All very notable dates. Very interesting." He then became more serious, but still light-hearted. "However, all of this was in the past. Breakthrough spoke to you, while not through his mouth, and stated that a great change is coming. Well, I am here to confirm this from the Lord."

Me: "Is it Hanukkah? We are almost in the middle of the Festival of Lights. This is good, right?"

Rafael: "Well, yes. The Jewish people celebrate a great miracle. However, the greatest miracle came as the Light of Salvation. However, they do not remember this. These are all wonderful points, but not 'The Pivotal Point'... that which hinges on all of it. First, let us review who God is...

"He opens a door which no one can shut. He closes a door which no one can open. You can also say this another way... whatever God chooses to open, no man can shut and whatever God chooses to close, no man can open. Erin, God controls all of it. The entire door closing and opening 'apparatus' is all God's." He then nudged me. "Erin, this is whether post holding the hinge or hinge holding the door or lock on said door in which said key turns to right or left to lock or unlock, understand?"

Me: I was now laughing so hard as I knew he was kidding in his last sentence for exaggeration. "Wow, are you memorizing that from a 'Heavenly Angel Text Book'?"

Rafael: "Okay, so now who is being funny?"

Me: "Did you know that I wanted to be a comedian before God came into my life?"

Rafael: "Yes. I saw your dossier."

Me: "Dossier? What?"

Rafael: Laughing. "What is said about comedians is usually true (that is, they are usually quite depressed). Aren't you glad that God took you on a different path?"

Me: "Yes, definitely, as none of my issues were very funny."

Rafael: "Okay, so I am glad that we established all of this. But in all seriousness, Erin, God is in complete control all of the time. As a result, things are not always as they seem. In matters such as these... matters that effect so many people and countries... all issues must be under God's Will and His Timing. He sees all things.

"Erin, God is omnipotent, omnipresent and omniscient. He is all powerful. He is in all things... constantly and everywhere...and is all knowing, understand? He is detailed and precise. Even though I am very close to Him, I am not even close to His level... nor can I ever be... nor would I ever want to be."

Me: "God is so amazing." Tears started to stream as soon as I said this. "I just love Him so, so much. He somehow still loves me just as I am. He even knew I needed to feel at ease so He sent you to make me laugh."

Rafael: Smiling. "He does love you. In these times, His heart is close to the downtrodden, those who, despite current circumstances, run to chase His heart. There is no greater love you can give to God then to love Him through difficulties and despite troubles. Erin, tomorrow is a turning point. Now pray and rejoice. I must go. Keep your chin up."

He began to walk to the gate. I then heard something that made me laugh so hard. I heard the kind of beep you hear when you press a key fob.

Me: Still laughing. "You can't be serious!"

Rafael: Also laughing. "Well, look... being one of God's archangels comes with perks."

He smiled and waved. In an instant, he was gone, along with the bridge and the gate.

Dream over.

Dream 455 – God is Much Bigger than the Red Dragon

Received on Monday, December 14, 2020

Communion

Dear Father,

My dream last night was long and so disturbing. Please help me to write everything as You have shown me. I am groggy, so please reveal all elements perfectly. I do not want to miss anything. Above all things, Father, You are in control. You are with us. Thank You for dreams. Last night, my sleep was sound and unbroken. This in itself was supernatural. There were so many details in this epic sub-dream...

Sub-dream 1 "The Red Dragon spreads their network"

I saw the sun to my right and the full moon to my left. I stood on a type of observation platform looking over the North American continent. To my far left was China and areas surrounding China, including Australia and New Zealand. I could see Africa to my far right, as well as the ports of the Mediterranean and Europe. However, it was the United Kingdom (UK) that puzzled me. It stood out as a larger mass of land than what it is.

As I stood facing the nations, I saw a date... 1992. Although there were some issues, I saw a gathering of nations and a type of decree or document outlining world peace. I then looked at the sea to my left. I saw a type of 'water gate'. In 1992, the 'water gate' was moved by the nations of the world. It was extended at the request of China. I then saw something like a massive sandy beach.

There were thousands of large grains of sand on the coast of China. It was still 1992. I then saw something in the water. It was dark red. It was extremely large. It was swimming just under the surface of the Pacific Ocean. The rest of the world continued with their daily routines. Both large and small businesses were thriving. There was a great sense of safety throughout North America.

I then recognized the shape. It looked somewhat like a crocodile, yet also like a dragon that could swim. It was ominous as this dragon was swimming in the Pacific Ocean. Making it particularly frightening was his size. He was almost the size of the entire west coast of the USA. This creature continued to swim back and forth.

I then saw a proposal presented designed to allow for the protection of Chinese students studying in the USA. It was solidified and voted into law by the current day Speaker of the House. The original intent was to protect the Chinese students from persecution by China. Once the document was put into law in the USA, I saw the dragon surface.

I saw a massive tail with a sharp star at the end pound into the sandy beach. I then saw thousands of grains of sand shoot up and land on the back of the dragon. I then saw the dragon swim toward the shores of the USA and Canada. Once the dragon reached the USA and Canada, he used its tail to scatter the grains of sand all over these two countries. The dragon then swam back to its water gate.

The grains of sand soon scattered everywhere. They soon became larger and multiplied until the thousands became over a million. I then saw the sands shifting into major corporations. I then watched as these grains of sand grew something like tails (this was so unusual that I have a hard time explaining what I was seeing). When more information was consumed by these grains of sand, arms and feet began to sprout.

In a way, it was as if these grains of sand were actually more like the sperm of this giant Red Dragon. In essence, these grains were now the offspring or offshoot of the Red Dragon. These small entities continued growing and were soon so widespread that it was difficult to distinguish them on the map. There were now overlaps everywhere.

As the years went by, these 'mini-Red Dragons' became citizens, but now with many of them in positions of leadership. As they grew, so did the size of the dragon. I then saw foolish documents and treaties being signed by a wicked man. I saw the years 1993, 1997, 1999 and 2000 roll by. I could then see cracks in the land. They were like geographical cracks. These then became more like sinkholes.

I then saw that these grains of sand, these 'mini-dragons', do the same globally. Their reach was now in so many continents. I saw the cities in the Land of the Dragon rising and becoming wealthier. I saw businessmen from all parts of the globe fornicating with the Red Dragon, producing corrupt offshoots. Because of the promise of money, power and control, the coldness of many began to permeate like tentacles across the globe. Sub-dream 1 over.

I woke up and was so disturbed. I couldn't help but cry about how the deceptive leadership of the Land of the Dragon had effectively infiltrated so many countries. We had allowed them to come into our nation in the name of friendship, but mostly for the greed of a few, and they took advantage of us. All of this looks so bleak. Oh Father, only You can turn this around!

Jesus: "Erin, come up."

I immediately felt a hand on my shoulder. I turned around and there was Uriel.

Uriel: "I have a message for you from God, Erin. All of this was and is the great rise of the Red Dragon. Those who spoke out to alert the others have been silenced and discredited."

Me: "Why, Uriel? We were all living in peace. What happens now?"

Uriel: "Right now, the Red Dragon is working to control a vast network. Its goal is all seven of the continents."

Me: "What do you mean by 'network'?"

Uriel: "It is like a road or means to a city or country."

Me: "Oh, I see. This is like a stronghold in our daily freedoms, the things necessary for daily living."

Uriel: "Yes, but this is even more unique. The Red Dragon has not completed their quest yet, but have gained a network. There are other things happening behind the scenes as well. The current leader of the nation to the north met with the former leader of the USA. While the meeting was not secret, the contents of the meeting were kept a secret. Advice was given to the young leader in the form of a soft threat, a warning and a promise of great reward.

"Now, the 'old wise' former leader has been enjoying the rise of the Red Dragon. He sees it as a possible means to the end of several strong nations, along with an eventual rise of himself. Notice the use of I and me and various other descriptions. This is just as Raphael warned you to notice when determining when the fallen are influencing those evil in power. The other way is that they are unable to control their delight in their perceived soon rise to power.

"The former leader advised the young leader to the north to spend great amounts of money to update their communications. This resulted in a rise in salaries and other items that were basically a quid pro quo. In turn, government control over media content was demanded, wherein 'disinformation' was to be labeled as 'hate' and silenced. The only thing the public saw was that they were good friends and allies.

"The Red Dragon then also made a proposal to the young leader to the north. If they showed the Red Dragon their military training, particularly during winter conditions, the Red Dragon would promote the young leader to their global friends. They also secretly agreed that the Red Bull needed to be removed.

"The young leader then consulted the former leader of the USA again. The former leader then sent consultants to advise the young leader how to remove his ties with the Red Bull. Proposals and contracts were then made for several machines to be placed to facilitate voting during the Coronavirus. The Land of the Dragon was in on this and remotely infiltrated the network.

"The Red Dragon was able to do this much easier than normal as they were able to operate under the veil of the plague. The USA consulates of the Red Dragon also joined in to work against the people of the USA. This was all then facilitated by the evil media. It is easier to move around when false news reports draw attention away from what they were really doing. This is why the Lord told you not to rely on what you see and hear on the airwaves."

Me: "What else has happened in the country to the north?"

Uriel: "With the borders closed, the young leader was able to avoid scrutiny. The offshoots of the Red Dragon were also able to operate with increased freedom. It was and is the ultimate shell game. However, the young leader is foolish and does not see the plans of the wicked. He is naïve. The sights of the Red Dragon are set on complete control over his country.

"This includes resources, minerals, waterways and the largest border in the world. The young leader sold out his inheritance to an enemy. However, the 'wise old' former leader to the south has encouraged him and promised him great things in his future. At the same time, the Red Dragon is secretly plotting the young leader's country's destruction now that they are fully aware of their capabilities to fight against them."

Me: "Oh Uriel, this is really awful!"

Uriel: "Well, it is actually even much worse. Look over here. I will show you more."

I saw a horn over Africa. I then saw these foreign diplomats and businessmen from the Land of the Red Dragon. They were presenting large sums of money in return for the purchase of large pieces of land. I then saw many gifts, all 'red presents', given to their people, but also to their leadership. In gratitude, the Red Dragon was given even more land and power. Uriel then directed my attention to the Mediterranean Sea and the massive amounts of ports there.

Uriel: "These ports are also being purchased by the Red Dragon. In essence, the wealth has been taken away from the people of this land..." He pointed to the USA. "...and given to the Land of the Red Dragon."

Me: "All of this is very difficult to watch."

Uriel: "I know, Erin. Millions of people were unaware of the Red Dragon's rise. Many have been silenced. This is why you must be very careful about the news you hear as it is likely just more propaganda as controlled by the Red Dragon.”

Me: “Yes. It is all lies now, sprinkled with a little salt of truth.”

Uriel: “The ties of the offspring of the Red Dragon are deep. The ‘mini-dragons’ in the nations are controlled under their statutes #7 and #14. This is a great means of control. If the mini-dragons do not spy for the Red Dragon, those family members back in the Land of the Red Dragon are imprisoned or killed.” He then showed me just how bad.

Me: “The Red Dragon purposely splits up family units in order to have this control over them. They really have no choice! This is awful. What happens to their remaining family members should they disobey is just awful. This is so difficult to see.”

Uriel: “Erin, the plans of the enemy are numerous. It is not just the Red Dragon though. There are other evil entities coming against all that is good.

It is all part of the enemy’s master playbook. Now, picture this... in their excitement, many in upper loyalty to the Red Dragon are now viewing real estate through personal photos posted on social media. They are coveting and claiming for themselves in advance these properties in what they hope to gain in the near future, claiming ‘sovereign citizen’ status.

“Various companies, particularly banks and investment firms, own the notes on these homes. These are all surface companies for the Red Dragon.

The Red Dragon also has networks and spies in many other areas. They disguise this behind false facades. All of this is meant to incite wars of class and race. Remember that the control of the reporting is to control the narrative. Erin, the evil media is sewing a different story, a narrative based on lies. The nations are in the middle of WW3, but do not see it.”

Me: “But what about the rise of the ‘wise old’ former leader to the south?”

Uriel: “He is delighting in this. He is delighted as he knows that the Red Dragon has many similar goals as he does. He knows that the Red Dragon wants to destroy the weak, the resisters, the Christians and anyone else standing in their way. They are sending strikes in waves... wave after wave... through the Red Dragon’s network...”

- Communications: Internet, news, radio
- Warfare: Military strength, guns, ammunition
- Money: Banks, investment firms, loans
- Medicines: Vaccines, medical devices, medication
- Technologies: Anything with a computer chip
- Food: Agriculture, insecticides

“Understand this...”

- What good is a fighting instrument used to defend your property when it is your enemy that produces and controls your 'ammunition'?
- What good is medicine when your enemy controls the ingredients to produce it?
- What good is purchasing an item, car or home when your enemy owns the note?
- What good is pure bottled water when your enemy owns the source, produces the bottles and even produces the ice?
- What good is television or other forms of technology... as in your blood pressure monitor, your GPS, your phone, your music, your pacemaker... when all of the components are produced by your enemy for his purpose... where he then can spy on your location, your movements and even your vitals?
- What good is a 'smart refrigerator' when your enemy can lock it or control it? What about the locks on your doors and your hearing devices in your ears?

"Erin, the enemy knows areas of threat and promotes addictions to those who fell behind from lack of work or means. The enemy then provides 'escapes' to weaken your fighting armies. This includes legal drugs, pain medications, prostitution and pornography. All of this is meant to destroy your citizens from within.

"In turn, this increases suicides and overdoses. For them, it is not enough to destroy your commerce, finances and health. They also want to remove your morals. By doing so, you compromise your words and actions, along with what sites you visit. They can then use your 'potential humiliation' to extort and control you."

Me: "This is sad... oh so sad."

Uriel: "Erin, these are just a few examples. There are many, many more. A nation divided cannot stand. A nation divided will be in need of a rescue. Once this happens, the Red Dragon will continue to rise. Even so, he continues to rise every day."

Me: "Oh Uriel, we are in great need of a divine rescue. This is the only way..."

Uriel: "Erin, this is coming. Look..."

I saw the Red Dragon stretched out. I was then shown that he was relaxing and waiting 'during the 40 days' (I was to write this plainly). The Red Dragon was quite content 'just taking it easy' as he swam just off the West Coast during this time.

Note: As pointed out in the previous dream, the 40 days appears to be the stretch of days from Wednesday, November 4, 2020 to Sunday, December 13, 2020, inclusive. The day after the Election Day was Cheshvan 17, or Wednesday, November 4, 2020, the day the rains began for 40 days back in the time of Noah's flood. If Cheshvan 17 is day 1 of the rains, Kislev 27 would be day 40 and the last day of the rains. Kislev 27 in 2020 is Sunday, December 13, 2020, the last day of the 40 days of rain.

I could then see the thoughts of the Red Dragon. I could see his plans. He was dreaming about his plans for the destruction of Australia after first taking control of Canada and the USA. He had control over two of the vaccine companies. I saw the head of the Land of the Red Dragon dream of massive statues of himself in major cities all over the world. He also planned to achieve celebrity status for himself in Hollywood, even having a Walk of Fame Star fashioned in order to honor him.

However, I then saw something so evil that I almost vomited (in both the sub-dream and as I write). It was something I couldn't imagine ever happening again. The Red Dragon had evil plans for people of color. He was planning to use people of color as slaves to build up his empire. These slaves would be made up of people of color from South America, Mexico, the USA and Africa. They would all be used to form a massive slave army to assist in the buildup of the Red Dragon's empire.

Me: "Uriel, where is the other dragon, the Black Dragon?"

Uriel: "Make no mistake... he is taking notes and plotting his great rise. Still, you are always to remember that God is greater... much greater. Now, do not worry. Look..."

I saw a massive eagle flying over the nations. It was once again huge, healthy and free to fly. Nothing could touch it. It didn't flinch at the sight of the Red Dragon. It instead flew right over the Red Dragon and off to the Land of the Red Dragon. Irritated, the Red Dragon quickly shook itself out of its relaxing day dreaming of world domination.

It began to hurl things at the eagle. However, the eagle was now so strong that it was unaffected. The large eagle then gave birth to thousands of other eagles (the Transformation). These eagles then went out from a great mountain. Wherever these eagles flew, miracles and healing swept over the nations. I could see that the Red Dragon was then forced to retreat.

He was also being forced to gather his spies, his 'children', back to his bosom. Once back at the Land of the Red Dragon, their leadership wept and cursed in anguish. Still, they vowed amongst themselves that they would rise again. In the meantime, the eagles continued to fly, bringing great healing and freedom back to the nations.

All evil was forced out by their presence. This continued until the eagles (and many others) were eventually removed in the Rapture. Once removed, evil was once again given free reign. However, this evil was much worse than at any time in history (Hitler seemed like a boy scout in comparison).

While this evil continued to grow even more wicked every day, I was not shown that much. What I saw was so difficult to watch.

Me: "So..." I smiled as I gently nudged Uriel. "...when will these eagles be flying?"

Uriel: Smiling back at me. "Soon, Erin, very soon. Now, I must go. Write this plainly."

Dream over.

Received on Tuesday, December 15, 2020

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day! Thank You for rest. Thank You for a warm home when it is so cold outside. Thank You for my husband and children, as well as my friends from all over the world. I dreamt of this my whole life. Just ten years ago, during one of my darkest periods, I asked You 'if I died tomorrow, who would even come to my funeral?'

My children... if they were allowed to. Maybe a couple of co-workers. Maybe a friend here or there out of respect or duty. My mom. My brothers, but probably not their wives. It was awful to think about the loneliness I felt. The isolation in the desert was horrible. Father, I am thankful You removed us from the desert before the Coronavirus came.

Just look at the amazing miracles of what You have done for me and my children. You brought my sons back to me and secured me as their main caregiver. You brought me a helpmate and a husband. However, just before doing so, you moved us to a far away place to be with him. This was and is a place You appointed and built under the care of angels. Then there is the restoration of the justice portion You gave me.

However, and even more than this, You gave me dreams and visions. You gave a woman who hates to write the ability to do so under Your governance and miracles. While I obviously love to paint and draw more, I am physically unable to without consequences. Over time, I have learned to love to write as this means I get to spend some awesome quality time with You, Lord!

I discovered something recently that I didn't realize before. I had 8 years of hammering, October 2004 to September 2012, followed by 8 years of ministry, September 2012 to today. You then directed me to an interesting parallel to what is now happening with the USA. You allowed me to go through all of the same patterns personally as I see playing out now. The main theme has been injustice.

In my fight, I brought solid physical evidence, police reports and photos, as well as testimonies from witnesses. I even had a memory card. When the police had ordered a subpoena for my enemy's computer, he claimed that it had mysteriously caught on fire and was no longer available.

There were so many reports on my side, including interviews with my young children.

Despite all of this, and in a ridiculous turn of events, the judge didn't even bother to open these 'files of truth'. He wouldn't even accept it. He instead referred to our case as a 'he said, she said'. It was anything but this! I had evidence, photos, police records and my enemy's confirmed forgery of my signature on federal documents as confirmed by the FBI. How is it possible that none of this was accepted by the judge?

Well, easy. There were more loyalties to the judge and the attorneys than to justice. I came to later discover that one was a coach for his son's team. One purchased the home of another. Well, the list goes on and on. One thing which I remember is that an assistant didn't want to bother the opposing attorney's assistant because she had another case she needed a favor on. This harmed me and neither cared!

Here I was, night and day, on my knees praying. I couldn't sleep. I couldn't eat. My heart was broken. The pain in me was so horrible that there are no words to adequately measure the depth and width of my pain. I could only trust in God. I had nothing else to sell to pay for counsel. If I were to lose my attorney, I would have lost my children. It was really just that simple.

As a result, I needed cash often. To make ends meet, I worked as many side jobs as I could. This was in addition to having a fulltime career. Many then took advantage of my desperation. In the meantime, my name was being dragged through the mud. The rumor mill made people at our church question my sanity. They accused me of lying despite all of the evidence proving that I was in the right.

My enemy was so effective that he was able to turn lies into truth. He did this by repeating the same things over and over and over. I finally had a bright spark in September 2011. The Guardian-at-Litem was investigating our case. She interviewed my children, my accuser, our neighbors, friends and families. She then presented a rock-solid case that overwhelmingly vindicated me. It looked like I was finally going to have my victory!

My excitement was to be short-lived. Within days of the report coming available, but before presentation to the judge, the guardian was being questioned and discredited in another case. In a horrible twist, and even though she was proven not guilty, she resigned from all court activity. This was the straw that broke the camel's back. As a result, my enemy's attorney was able to place an injunction against the guardian's findings. The judge agreed with him and did not allow the report as evidence.

I literally vomited when I got the call from my lawyer explaining this terrible turn of events. The only bright side was that my lawyer was nicer to me as he believed the report and that it wasn't my fault. Soon after this, the trial was scheduled. It was scheduled for the first week of October 2011. My attorney told me that he needed almost $6,000 or he wouldn't go to trial for me.

I then somehow managed to get him to allow me to pay this back in two halves. Regardless, the balance had to be paid by the end of September. If I couldn't come up with this, he would withdraw from counsel and I would likely lose. Refusing to accept defeat, I went to my employer and asked for a two paycheck advance. How I would manage with losing two paychecks is something I just had to ignore.

I then asked for extra work from several builders. All said no. I worked on one kitchen design, but couldn't be paid until October, after my lawyer's end of September deadline. I knew that my paycheck advances would leave me without income for October, so I still agreed to the work. I couldn't lift my television to take it to the pawnshop, so that option was out. I also couldn't pawn my computer. This is because I needed it for my legal case as it was my only form of communication.

Clearly, I now needed a miracle that only God could provide. Within five days, I had a side job in Arizona. The client needed me right away and my employer agreed. I worked straight through the weekend. She had always given me $2,500. I worked really hard there, including working in 105-degree temperatures. I did so much that I just knew that God had strengthened me.

When she drove me to the airport at the end of the job, she handed me the envelope as she had in the past. I waited until I was on the plane to open it. When I did, I was in shock. It was only $1,500, $1,000 less than expected. The plane landed in Pasco. I drove the car home. As I drove by my mailbox, I wondered what bad news awaited me. I decided to stop to get my mail.

Over the years, I noticed a pattern in the mail I would receive, in particular legal papers and bad reports. To ruin my weekends, the opposing attorney would send or serve papers by late Thursday afternoon or Friday morning. I would then receive it late Friday afternoon or Saturday. To make this even more evil, they usually did this on weekends when I had the kids. As it was the weekend, I was then not able to respond. This left an entire weekend for worry and insomnia. A clever tactic by the enemy.

Well, on this day, I decided to pick up my mail. I saw a bill, so I gathered the pile and went to my apartment. Once I settled in at home, I reluctantly started to go through my mail. To my complete shock, I received a check for over $10,000. This was money that was owed to me by the government that I had no idea I was receiving. I was so overcome with the joy in that moment that I was speechless. I thanked God for the miracle.

I contacted my attorney the very next day. He had already tentatively begun the process of removing himself from my case. He even had a phone call scheduled with my enemy's attorney indicating that we would likely be unable to go to trial. Imagine his shock when I told him that I would be dropping off his check by noon during my lunchtime. When the opposing attorney received the news, just the final presence of knowing that my evidence would finally go before a judge made them change gears.

Everything turned on a dime – a pivotal point...smiles. The opposing side made a reasonable plea and I accepted. While my reputation was not repaired, I received my children back. You, God, then finished this case in 2012. You then granted me even more... these dreams and visions! You are the Father of all miracles. My period of troubles is just like what is happening to our nation right now.

In reality, You have prepared me for this. Father, You reminded me that You are in control 100% of the time. There is no judgment against anyone who believes in You. Judgment is based on this fact... Your Light through Jesus came into the world, but people loved the darkness more than the Light. Their actions were evil. Oh Father, what sorrow is there for those that say evil is good and good is evil. Jesus is truly the Light of the World. Jesus is also the One and Only Truth!

Something odd happened to me yesterday. I had an appointment for my pacemaker. They were performing my annual calibration. It was at a hospital. There was no wait. When I checked in, they gave me the number 420. I laughed as my husband and I had just discussed this number from the dreams that morning. I took a photo of the number and sent it to him.

When I went into the heart clinic, they placed a wand on my device. They then removed the wand and printed out a report. I was confused when they then told me they were almost finished...

Me: "But you haven't done the pacing yet."

Technician 1: "That was all done last night while you were asleep."

I was in shock. Without my permission, they remotely tested my heart monitoring. This includes racing my heartbeats. In essence, they were playing with my heart as I slept. I was speechless. They must have seen the shock in my eyes.

Technician 2: "Don't worry. We are doing this because of the virus. With the Coronavirus here, we do this so that it is safer for you."

Me: Literally still in shock. "Oh...okay."

I was finished in less than ten minutes, a record for the 12 years that I have been doing this. Still, it gave me much to think about. If they could do this to my pacer unit while I slept, what guarantees do I have that I would even wake up? Hmm! Again, Father, please continue to protect all of us...oh, and my heart too... and the hearts of my family and friends...in Jesus' Mighty Name, Amen! I had an interesting dream last night...

Sub-dream 1 "The Owners of a Good Deli and an Evil Deli"

I was in a large cafeteria that contained two delis (mini-cafes) on opposite walls. Everything inside of this building was mostly white, including the walls, ceilings and counters. The exception was the floor, which was concrete painted chalkboard black. During the summer time, both businesses thrived equally.

My personal favorite was the deli to the right of the front door. He was kinder, friendlier to his staff and had better food. The business to the left claimed to have better food and even sent out reviews as press releases to advertise it was better. However, in reality, their food was stale and not the quality of the business to the right.

It was not until the late fall near the holidays that I went back to the delis to eat. I was very sad because my favorite deli on the right looked as if it was closing. The owner, the Kind Right Owner, was alone with no employees. Although I looked, he had nothing to sell in his display case.

In the meanwhile, the deli to the left was buzzing. It was fully stocked and had small treats for purchase displayed beautifully. I chuckled when I noticed that the name of his business was everywhere in black and white tags saying 'Bittersweet Treats'. I walked up to the Kind Right Owner.

Me: "Have you closed?"

Kind Right Owner: "I have one last chance coming up for 'Capital'... THE Capital. I need the Capital in order to function. Without this, I have no business and no hope."

Note: This was clearly a play on the word capital. This word can mean two things: 1) The most important city or town of a country or region, usually its seat of government and administrative center. 2) Wealth in the form of money or other assets owned by a person or organization or available or contributed for a particular purpose such as starting a company or investing. He was now looking clearly defeated. I sighed. I turned to look at the other business, but the other owner, the Evil Left Owner, wouldn't look me in the eyes. He was quite smug. I looked at one of his displays and I recognized it as being the Kind Right Owner's treats. However, it was labelled as his. I went back to speak to the Kind Right Owner.

Me: "What is happening? These are yours!"

Kind Right Owner: "Yes, they are. I had to sell off some of my recipes to the other deli, my competitor. However, I should really say that he stole them under the cover of night."

Me: "How so?"

Kind Right Owner: "They stole my recipes, as well as my money. I have it on camera. It was him and his staff that pulled it off."

Me: "Did you call the authorities?"

Kind Right Owner: "I did. However, they believed him instead. The lie given was that I was simply being a sore loser. He has been trying to undermine me for a long time. He doesn't even like his customers."

Me: "What are you going to do next?"

Kind Right Owner: "After turning down his offers to buy me out, he has kept me poor, ruined my reputation and copied my recipes. No one believes me. They see his success and my failure and then they don't come back to purchase from me."

Me: "What do you have to eat? I will buy your food..."

Kind Right Owner: "My refrigerator was stopped in the middle of the night. All is ruined."

Me: "I don't care if it is ruined. I will purchase it anyway."

Kind Right Owner: "It has been thrown out. It is too late. I am waiting on 'The Capital'."

The Evil Left Owner came over to mock us.

Evil Left Owner: "Good luck with that. I have more 'In Capital' than you do. It is time to close your doors."

The Kind Right Owner didn't respond. I didn't either. I addressed the Kind Right Owner instead.

Me: "Do you believe in God and His miracles?"

Kind Right Owner: "I do! However, He has had plenty of time to change all of this..."

Evil Left Owner: "God doesn't care. He doesn't even know you. Look at me and how I am thriving. He obviously knows me more."

Me: "Yes, He does! He knows exactly who you are and what you are doing. He has seen it all. You will have a special day before God." He could tell I was not on his side.

Evil Left Owner: "Get out! I will call the police. You are evil and full of hate."

Me: "Well, you are partially right. I hate evil and I can't stand your hate. You are wicked. Bittersweet will be your reward."

Evil Left Owner: "Do you really believe that this God of yours will do something?"

I nodded yes. Just then, a bell sounded. The door opened and in walked a Delivery Man, all in white, wearing white gloves. He had a large white envelope for the Kind Right Owner. He signed for it. We were all silent as he opened it. The Kind Right Owner broke down in tears.

Kind Right Owner: "I believe! I believe! God is truly the God of Miracles! This letter shows that all has been turned around. This would be impossible without God." He looked at the other owner. "This shows all that you have done. You are finished!"

Just then, the clock overhead made a click. I looked up and it was the 11th hour and the 12 strikes were just coming in. This was a true miracle. Sub-dream 1 over.

I woke up at 9:30am, really late for me. While it was sunny out, strong winds were blowing around the little snow we have. I walked out to feed the animals. It was cold. As I went by the stream, I noticed the amazing clarity of the water.

Me: "Thank You, Father, for clear water and sending angels."

I then heard the Voice of God. I was literally outside and not in my devotional chair, so this took me by surprise. His Voice was so clear. After calming down, I listened intently.

Voice of God: "Erin, I am here. On the third day, in the 11th hour, all will change. Rejoice for a Great Miracle is upon you. For it is I Who is God over all things. For I Am the Alpha and the Omega, the Beginning and the End. Rejoice! Rejoice! I have heard your cries and I will deliver a Great Miracle." His voice then stopped and I went back into the house.

Dream over.

Dream 457 – Erin is Called to Pray a Blessing Over the Nest

Received on Wednesday, December 16, 2020

Communion

Dear Father,

First a note on my '5-day dream streak': I have had an amazing string of 5 dreams in five days, including today. This is highly unusual and more like when I very first started having these dreams. However, I thought I would let everyone know in advance that I do not anticipate there being another dream tomorrow. This is because I write almost all of my dreams in the morning and we have appointments and chores that will keep me away from my devotional chair from the early morning and for most of the day.

Thank You for another day... AND yet another dream (5th dream in 5 days)! Thank You for my family and friends. Thank You for warmth on a very cold bitter winter's day. Thank You for promise... hope... and the wonder of You.

As I drove our daughter to school this morning, I watched a tiny sliver of light begin to peak over the horizon. The sun then finally appeared in all of its warmth and glory. However, before it rose up over the hills, the landscape around us was grey and frozen. Because there was no sun yet, there was no sparkle to the frozen ground. After what seemed like forever in darkness and grey scape, the red line of dawn crowned and very quickly sent light out to illuminate all that we could see with a golden glow.

I haven't been feeling well the last several days. The flare up in my abdomen has become worse. My body is creating too much bile. I find eating anything other than soft food to be too difficult for me to digest. I have also had a horrible bitter taste in my mouth that doesn't want to go away. I think it is funny in a way as the general state of the world also seems bitter right now.

Last night, a woman with a demon came right at our car in the Walmart parking lot. I had to press on my horn for several seconds for her to snap out of it and stop. No matter where I went, she still behaved aggressively. It was the oddest thing. I have never had anything like this happen before. She was completely in the wrong. She came after us like we were playing bumper cars at an amusement park.

After I dropped my daughter off at school, I spent my time driving home reflecting on God's goodness and His miracles. It always seems as if His most amazing miracles come when we are at the end... the last drop of oil... the last loaf of bread... the last hope. I praised Him for all He has done. I then felt Him call me to pray a blessing over the Nest, our precious friends that reside with us here and have added immeasurably to our lives. I then prayed the following long blessing, the Hanukkah Blessing...

"Dear Heavenly Father, on this cold day, still during the month of fall here in the northern hemisphere, I recognize all that You have done from the Beginning to the End. I stand amazed at Your Good Works. You are the God of Miracles, our Great I AM. Your love for us is unconditional. You don't care about our race, class or status. You instead love us based on our hearts, our love for You on our walk of life and our journey of faith.

"It is You Who determines an event and declares it good. It is You that fashions a road, a journey, and grants us a special map. It is You that even creates a special hidden door that only those You call can walk through. While You call many, very few come... even with an invitation. When we stand before You one day in Heaven, You will show us all the different times You strengthened us, carried us, directed our feet and illuminated our path. There are too many to count.

"As the world grows colder, our journey becomes more and more difficult. There are friends and sparrows, Your children, facing foreclosures, evictions, loss of jobs, illness, depression and the deaths of loved ones. It has been a very difficult time for all of us whose hope is in You. We have had to remain confined to our homes while this plague has swept over the land. It has swept like the waves of the sea, retreating only to come back again.

"Instead of being joyful with hope in You, we still fear the unknown world we see. In just a span of nine months, the life we have come to know has changed. It has been difficult at times to know how to pray, so I pray for one more day in hopes that You will rise up in us. As the Jewish people celebrate Candle 7 this evening during the Festival of Lights (Hanukkah), we are reminded that You, Father, our God, is the One Who increases our oil to strengthen our faith. You are our Flame, the One Who lights the darkness.

"Father, You are the One Who can take a small untrained force, the Maccabees, perhaps an analogy to us, and make them able to defeat the most powerful army on Earth during those times. You used the miracle of increase through oil to let them know through the generations that You stand with us and that Your Flame is with us. You used the increase of oil to bless Your people, anointing and lighting their lamps, producing bread and paying our debts.

"You are the miracle of the supply of oil during Hanukkah. So, Father, I ask for You to bless and anoint each of us, our children, our households and our provisions. Please use this miracle with us again. Pour out so many blessings that we are unable to contain this. In turn, let us anoint others with healing, gifts of miracles and increase. Anoint us with the oil of joy. Grant us the oil, the miracle of the Maccabees, Elisha and Elijah. Father, Your Son, Jesus, by His own Words, penned Hebrews. Based on Hebrews 11:32-34, here is my request...

"Please raise up Your Army as in Hebrews. Anoint us for battle. Prepare us and train us with the hands of the angels of Heaven's Army. In the Lord's Words... 'And what more shall I say? I do not have time to tell you about Gideon, Barak, Samson and Jephthah, about David and Samuel and the Prophets, who, through faith, conquered kingdoms, administered justice and gained what was promised; who shut the mouths of lions, quenched the fury of flames and escaped the edge of the sword; whose weakness was turned to strength; and who became powerful in battle and routed foreign armies.'

"For You are the God Who is the God of miracles. We are Your children who love You. Your sun will never set. Your moon will not go down. Since You, Lord, are our Everlasting Light, our days of mourning, by Your promise, will come to an end (Isaiah 60:20). Father, bless Your Sparrows. Not one is with us on this journey that You have not called. Let not the world and evil profane Your Name.

"All good and perfect things, Your Gifts, come from Heaven. Please equip each of Your Children with what is good and perfect from Heaven. Heaven is where lies are not found and evil is not propagated. Heaven is where corruption has no platform and only Holiness reigns... Your good and perfect Holiness. I pray for all of this in Your Mighty Name, in Jesus' Mighty Name, Amen!"

This was one of the longest prayers / blessings I have ever made. The words just seemed to flow through my pen. My dream last night was beautiful...

Sub-dream 1 "Jesus, our Groom, on His White Horse"

I was in a massive field. I laid there just below the surface. I was surrounded by mounds of flowers. I was asleep. There was a smile on my face as I dreamed. I held a lily on my chest. I was in a beautiful white gown. I heard the Voice of Jesus...

Voice of Jesus: "Arise, My Love, My Bride...for I Am here!"

I was now awake and my eyes were wide open. There was a beautiful clear blue sky. I blinked and laughed as I saw thousands of starlings form a perfect heart in the sky. They had wings of silver shimmering with gold (Psalm 68). When I sat up, I suddenly realized just how beautiful my gown was. I moved around without pain. I then realized that my body was youthful again. I laughed again when I saw massive rocks surrounding the meadow. There were oil lanterns on top of the rocks. They were all lit. There were thousands and thousands of flames! I stood up and called out...

Me: In a loud voice. "Lord, where are You?"

No response. I looked around, but couldn't see Him at first. I then looked in the distance at the base of a massive mountain. I saw a Rider on a white horse. He was coming towards me. As He drew closer, I could see this was Jesus! I began to sprint towards Him. Tears of joy streamed down my cheeks. I could see a beautiful crown on His head, complete with 12 spires (or diadems). He was and is so handsome. He seemed to have Great Joy today. As He came close, He leaned over and brought me up onto His horse with Him. I hugged Him as I wept.

Jesus: "Erin, it is time to ride forth in truth. Remember, you will not be liked. Are you ready?"

Me: "I was born to ride!"

Sub-dream 1 over.

What a dream! This was so real that I expected to be changed and on His horse with Him when I woke up. I cried as I wrote this as I wanted this so bad. Father, surely this time is soon. Quite simply, I am now just too excited to contain my joy.

Jesus: "Erin, come up."

I was out in my yard, but this time in a dream. The ground was frozen. The air was too. It was sunny. I ran to the stream. There was no foam. The small waterfall was beginning to freeze. The current slows as this happens.

Me: "Oh Lord, was this awesome dream of You just my imagination?"

I felt a hand on my shoulder. When I turned, there was Rafael. He was smiling.

Rafael: "No, Erin. This is God's message for you. The world is growing colder. A storm to break records will approach from the south. Are you prepared?" He smiled.

Since we don't have any storms in our forecast, I assumed he was talking figuratively.

Me: "I don't know. How does one 'prepare for massive'? We have done all that we can do. It is up to God now." I sighed. "He has sent angels all around us. I hope we are okay. Oh Rafael, there is so much discouraging news now. So much. It will take a massive miracle for the president to prevail. The news is terrible."

Rafael: "Erin, it is time to gird the sword on your side on behalf of truth."

Me: "How can I do this if I am not strengthened first?"

Rafael: "By the Lord's Words... 'For I have come as a Light to shine in this dark world so that all who put their trust in Me will no longer remain in the dark (João 12:46).'"

Me: "Rafael, I saw a vision of an adorable little innocent toddler playing with yellow fuzzy chicks. He had the look of wonder and an innocent heart.

I have not been able to stop crying as this wonderful sight is so pure and beautiful. This is so much unlike the darkness of today's world. The promise of this kind of innocence is now gone."

Rafael: "God is not finished with His work or His promises. Erin, it seems that I am unable to cheer you up today as you are in great despair."

Me: "No, I am not. It is just that... well... I wake up after these dreams and I long for them. I long for something I have never known, but only dream of.

I long for the day that the Lord comes through with His Sword of Truth and cuts through the thicket of the lies of the world. Lies are an invasive weed, a species destined for the fire. I am ready now. My buckets are ready to be filled. The corruption and the evil of the world is simply beyond comprehension."

Rafael: "Erin, you must remember that you are not God over the world. You can't run this world on your own. God knows what He is doing. You must not take up the world and lose your joy." He held out his hand towards me. "Come on, Erin, release it. Go ahead. Erin, you can do this. You cannot run the world. If I can't run it, then you can't either." He smiled as he nudged me. I nodded in agreement.

"Erin, are there not thousands of cute toddlers in meadows petting baby animals that I have seen apart from what you have in Heaven? They are under the care of angels. They are in safety and have so much joy.

They are actually more fearless than you are because they trust God..." He laughed. "...and even the 'dangerous' baby animals."

Me: Laughing. "Okay, okay, I get it. However, I am alert to every plot or hidden danger. In my defense though, I was given that horribly graphic dream of the tigers and the babies. So..." I nudged him. "...in my defense..."

Rafael: "Okay, touché. However, that dream was symbolic of those oblivious to the dangers right in front of them and to why the nations are now in such trouble."

Me: "So, what can I do?"

Rafael: "Erin, God heard your prayer today and found it good. Now wait on Him."

Me: "But in yesterday's dream, God told me 'on the third day'. From what day?"

Rafael: Smiling. "The day is upon you. Now, this is all for today. The oil of gladness, the oil of joy, will be yours very soon. Now rejoice!" He smiled and then he was gone.

Dream over.

Dream 458 – The Light of the World is Here

Received on Saturday, December 19, 2020

Communion

Dear Father,

You are amazing! Thank You for another day. Thank You for my family and friends. Thank You again for warmth and lights when it is so cold and dark outside. I have been unable to come to You the last two days even though my dreams have continued. After my last dream on Wednesday, You gave me miraculous signs and wonders. These were confirmed during my prayers in our Wednesday evening Prayer Service at church.

However, earlier on that Wednesday morning, after I gave my journal for typing, the day was sunny before the arrival of the big nor'easter from the south. I drove into town to pick up my daughters with my oldest son. As we turned a bend in the road, we saw a very large bald eagle training a young eagle how to fly. Their dance was so close. The young eagle was taking some brutal hits from the older eagle for training purposes. Oh Father, we, Your Bride and body of Christ, are taking some brutal hits. Perhaps this is because we are being trained to fly and soar like eagles and we are almost there.

My next remarkable sign was in the sky. After I had picked up our girls and were on our way home, we saw a massive rainbow corona around the sun. While we could see it clearly with our eyes, our phone cameras were unable to capture it. I then heard Your Voice: "It has been 11 months. My promises will now be realized."

The last corona we witnessed around the sun was on January 18, 2020. This was incredible and easily captured on my camera. When I saw that one, I heard You say: "It has begun!" Well, the 11-month time counts to this new corona made me smile:

- To Wednesday, December 16, 2020: Almost 11 months. Saw the corona again.
- To Friday, December 18, 2020: 11-month anniversary. Last day of Hanukkah.
- To Monday, December 21, 2020: 11 months and 3 days. The Great Conjunction of Saturn and Jupiter, the Christmas Star, the Star of Bethlehem, a 1 in 800-year event.

We then neared our home. As we did, we spotted what looked like a wounded bird on the side of the road. We soon realized it was actually a very cute plump white crowned sparrow. It had yellow on its head. It was busy just singing and having fun, really paying no attention at all to us. It was actually far from injured and had no fear.

Then at prayer service later that Wednesday night, I felt a call to forgive. As I was in prayer, I felt wave after wave of visions of my enemies. I prayed for each of them and forgave them. As I worshiped the Lord, He then took me to a previous dream from a night before, but in a vision that was slightly different than this previous dream.

Sub-dream 1 "A recent sub-dream revisited, but slightly different"

I saw myself arising from a shallow grave. It was like a bed in the ground surrounded by a circular wall of boulders with thousands of lanterns burning. I was looking at the beautiful scene as an observer. I could see a lush landscape of beautiful grass and fragrant flowers. They were like a blanket all around me. I was holding a bunch of lilies. I then heard Jesus speak to me...

Jesus: "Arise, arise, My love."

I was smiling and my eyes opened as if waking from a wonderful dream. I sat up and stretched as I moved to standing. I could see myself as a young body with a beautiful linen gown. I then looked around and saw Jesus wearing a crown while riding on a white horse. He was riding quickly. As soon as I fully recognized Him, I threw down my lilies and ran towards Him.

Jesus: "I am coming! I am coming! I am coming!"

Sub-dream 1 over.

You then gave me another dream on early Thursday morning. You have not given me another one since as You wanted me to write this one down first...

Sub-dream 2 "The Rats are no Match for the Exterminator"

I walked into a very large high-end design showroom. It had many rooms with vignettes that showcased their inventory. It was on par with a showroom in San Francisco that I once took a client to. The showroom was dark, but for a purpose. The lighting was extremely high end, complete with low-voltage halogen lighting. They used a pinhole light in several places to accent certain areas or items.

A pinhole light is a type of trim kit placed over a ceiling recessed halogen light. The effect is incredible as it can illuminate an object in a way which only enhances the object itself. You often cannot tell where the source of light comes from, especially if it is glass or crystal being shined upon. It can even appear to the observer that the object is illuminating itself from within when the light is actually coming from above.

Note: I suddenly realized that this was a kind of analogy, not just of us His Bride, but also of the Christmas Star that climaxes on Monday, December 21, 2020. While this will appear as a 'star', it will actually be the conjunction or alignment of two separate planets, Saturn and Jupiter.

However, without the sun shining on these two planets, this conjunction would not even be visible from the Earth. It is only from the light of the sun that this 'star' becomes visible. This makes sense though as planets and moons do not generate any light on their own.

In this gallery, several expensive items were highlighted like this. This created different moods depending on the scenario in the vignette. It was beautiful. As I stood there admiring all of this, I was approached by a well-dressed man in a suit with a pocket scarf. He was perfectly manicured and fit in perfectly with these high-end items.

Manager: "You must be my 3:00pm appointment."

Me: "Yes, I am."

Manager: "I am the manager. Let me turn on a different set of lights."

He pressed a button on a remote control and the entire room went into bright daylight mode. The change was remarkable... like night vs day.

Me: "Oh wow, this is quite the change!"

Manager: "Which do you prefer?"

Me: "I love the mood lighting. The atmosphere looks so different."

Manager: "Well, it is the same lighting, just different settings. I will set this in between."

He pressed a different button on the remote control. The effect was simply stunning.

Me: "I cannot believe that I am saying this, but I love this setting just as much."

Manager: Smiling. "That is good, right? Now, I hear that you are looking for a complete remodel."

Me: "I am. However, I think that all of this will be way out of my budget."

Manager: Looking concerned. "Hmm, wait, you are Erin, right?"

Me: "Well, yes."

Manager: Now smiling again. "You are not to worry then. Everything is covered. All has already been paid for."

Me: "How is this even possible?"

Manager: "The call came from the top. Who are we to argue it?"

Me: "Hmm. Okay then!"

Manager: "Let's start with style."

He directed my attention to a beautiful vignette with a sofa and accompanying chairs. I sat on one of the chairs. The cushions were like clouds. The fabric was like silk velvet, only softer. I was in complete awe. Just then, the manager received a phone call.

Manager: "Excuse me, Erin, but I must take this. Please continue to look around."

In all of my years, I have never sat in a chair as comfortable as this one. I knew that this just had to be ridiculously expensive. I stood up and soon found the price tag. Something unusual then happened. The numbers and decimal points kept getting blurred and jumbled. I knew this was supernatural as I was unable to see the price as it was.

I then walked over to a very beautiful wingback chair. It was very modern with polished chrome tacks on the seams. There was a beautiful tapestry pillow with four tassels on the cushion. I then saw movement out of the corner of my left eye that shocked me.

I watched as a large male rat in fancy clothing crawled into a tiny bed with a female rat. After a short while, the male rat left. The female rat then immediately gave birth to another and the cycle continued. I could hear the footsteps of the manager behind me.

Manager: "Oh, don't worry about those rats. They are removed every night by The Exterminator. Their offspring are numerous though."

Me: "Won't they ruin the beautiful furniture?"

Manager: "No. They are trained to only go into lesser areas. They are not permitted to be here. Still, they keep showing up. They are fascinated with this area of our showroom because it is so incredibly beautiful. However, they are unable to defecate or spread their disease here. No matter how hard they try to invade us and multiply, they are unable to."

As the manager finished his sentence, a man in a hazmat suit with gloves came in. Even though the female rat, who was already prepared to give birth again, was hissing and biting, The Exterminator was unfazed. He casually put them into a carrier and pressed a button. When he opened it, all of the rats were completely gone.

Me: "Where did they all go?"

The Exterminator: Laughing. "Vaporized."

Manager: Smiling. "Go on, vile vermin, be free. You have no powers here." He shooed his hand in an exaggerated fashion.

Me: "Wow, there is no sign of them at all."

Manager: "Yes. This frustrates them greatly. They will attempt again at night after I close up." He shook his head in disgust. "Disgusting, vile invasive creatures. Smart too. But seriously, no matter how hard they try, they have no authority here."

Me: "Thank God! By the way, I just love this chair!"

Manager: "Perfect. It is yours."

Sub-dream 2 over.

Oh Father, it is so difficult to see the destruction of the USA. These rats were so disturbing.

Jesus: "Erin, come up."

I was out in the upper area of our yard by our stream. The ice was now covering the entire area. However, I could still see the current of water flowing underneath. It was beautiful. As in the past here, I should have been cold, but I was just cool. Just then, I felt a hand on my shoulder. It was Raphael! I was so excited.

Raphael: "So, what did you think of your dream of the rats. That one was a proper rat, complete with the clothing of an emperor. I think I know a few of these."

Me: Both of us were laughing. "What did all of that mean?"

Raphael: "Interpretation here is from the Throne of God. I know this is difficult to understand, but we are in the eleventh hour of a great move of God. You are discouraged. The nations have been at war, though it is hidden. While there has been an invasion, this is undiscovered. The ruler from the Land of the Dragon sent money ahead to open doors. By doing so, he was then able to freely access that which was once impenetrable. Their key was money.

"This key was then used often in the locks of greed. This was an easy door for them to open. Now look at where we are today. A great plague came that kept everyone indoors, shutting each into their own shelter. Once there, they were fed lies by the media and on the internet. Since there was little else for them to do, they looked and listened. The media was then used to scare and control. The internet was then used to infiltrate and spy. This is all to set the stage for a bigger invasion."

Me: "Oh Raphael, this is bad, really bad."

Raphael: "Yes, but only on the surface. The leaders of the Land of the Dragon are seeking to rule over the entire Earth. They have plans to send in another plague. They want people to then be confined to their houses again so as to remove them there. However, before doing this, they needed to remove the Bull. He was just too unpredictable, causing trouble after trouble by exposing corruption. Well, God is about to turn their moons and festivals into times of mourning.

"This leader has declared himself god over all things. However, do not worry as only God is God over all. He will not be profaned. He will not be reduced. He is and will remain God. Why? Because 'He Is' and this has never changed. God cannot be removed..." He shook his head in disgust. "...or be cancelled. Woe be to the man who tries to profane God's name while thinking himself still safe on Earth. While this man may have no fear of God right now, he will... and very soon."

Me: "Even though I already believe that the antichrist is someone else, I have a question to ask. Is the leader of the Land of the Dragons the antichrist?"

Raphael: "No, he is not. However, he acts like he is. However, there is an easy test to figure out if someone is a god or not. A mere man cannot keep himself from aging. The leader and the former leader that both view themselves as god are aging...and not well at all, I might add. If one were to be wise, they would know that they are not a god as soon as they became sick. If they were, they would heal themselves. Why be sick when you don't have to be sick? However, when it comes to God, our Lord..."

Me: I interrupted him. I was giggling as I spoke. "Oh yes! Jesus never ages. He is never sick. He is always so handsome."

Raphael: Smiling and nodding in agreement. "Yes, He never ages. He is never flawed. I could go on and on, but you get the idea of where I am going with this. Now, God showed you rats in clothing. Even though they are clothed, they are still rats. Rats spread disease and, no matter how a rat is dressed, they are still rats. There are many of them and they have multiplied.

"Erin, there is an even greater plot in place. Many world leaders are faced with either compliance and allegiance with benefits or total destruction. They are given many promises of money, power, freedom from disease and other things by the leaders of the Land of the Dragon."

Me: "This is horrible. In just eleven months, all has changed."

Raphael: "The plague in the world was different than the one in China. It was set up to destroy and weaken the nations, to make all of them vulnerable for take over. However, and this is good news, now is not their time. There are other events that need to take place first. God will not be erased. They can cancel their festivals, rewrite God's Word and declare themselves what they want, but God and God alone is still fully in control.

"Now, you, your household and your friends are to stay encouraged. God has you. While He is going to fulfill all of His promises, He is also going to do much, much more. You will even appear before world leaders. Wherever you go, there will be trembling."

Me: "But when will this be, Raphael?"

Raphael: "Sooner than you think."

Me: "I have heard this before and it still hasn't happened." I slumped my shoulders.

Raphael: "Well, Erin, the time of God's judgment has now come. As it is written, the Lord walked in the courts of the Temple during what is now the Festival of Lights (John 10:22-23). He declared Who He was and is in the Temple (during Hanukkah). He was handed the Book and He then declared His Station. This time is also now (Luke 4:16-19, Isaiah 61:1). During this time of great darkness, this is when your flame should burn the brightest... just like a candle lights up a room... a sudden Transformation from darkness into light."

Me: "But all of this can only happen if Jesus is in us in a great way. We do not have our own light. Any light that we do have is completely due to the reflection of the Light of the sun, The Son. Oh Raphael, when will all this be? Our lights are growing dimmer every day. There are some that can't take this waiting anymore."

Raphael: Smiling. "God is not cryptic. He is precise in all that He does. He is intentional. The signs that you receive are from God. In looking back at all He has done, you stand amazed. However, as you sit in the present, you still doubt. This is human nature. Do not worry though as He is about to fulfill His promises. Good News is coming, Erin. The Light of the World is here. Hope is upon you!"

Dream over.

Dream 459 – The Day before the Christmas Star

Received on Sunday, December 20, 2020

Communion

Dear Father,

Please help me! Please protect us today. However, I must first always give You thanks because any day could truly be my last day. If not mine, then someone close to me whom I love. I never want to forget that You, Father, know the numbers of our days here. Each day is a gift and I never want to miss a moment. Every second, minute, hour, day, week, month, season, year, decade, century and millennium are important to You. I don't want to waste a moment of it.

Even though I now say this, I have spent a lot of time missing lost time or times I wished I had savored more. However, I cannot go back. I look at a tiny photo of my middle son at age two and I remember him clinging to me. Though he didn't speak, he always wanted to be where I was. He just smiled and made signals.

Well, he is now more than 6' tall. He has grown so much and that time from 19 years ago is now gone. It is now only a memory etched onto my heart only to be brought to my forefront when I see something that resurfaces this history. This is the sting of the times, but also of the joy of what is left. Oh Lord, where does all this time go?

When I was little, divorce was rare. Even so, my parents divorced when my brother was just 2 and I was 4. It seems like the 1960s was a huge turning point in the world. Why do so many distant memories still feel like yesterday at times? Why does time move so quickly? How did I become so old physically when my heart and mind still feel so young? I remember my mom when she was young, but she is now gone.

My mom and my family from her generation and the generation before rarely cried. Tragedies occurred, but none of us were allowed the luxury of tears. It was so difficult. Emotions were shunned. I cried alone at bedtime. Fighting, worrying, drinking and partying were allowed in my household when I was a child. To them, we were only children, better seen only on occasion and best not heard from. Much has changed since then. I had a great dream last night...

Sub-dream 1 "Mighty ships easily navigate the rough seas"

I was on a very large wooden clipper ship. It was easily 400 years old. The ship was powerful and one of the largest ships I had ever seen in my life. It was even larger than a luxury cruise ship. There were 12,000 of us on this ship. We were all crew members working together. We worked together in an efficient and seamless manner.

I went over to the front of the ship. I laughed as there was a massive carved eagle head 'at the head'. This ship supernaturally easily ruled the seas. It was neither moved nor tossed as it cut through the great currents and waves. As I looked at the water below, I saw some small fish and minnows. However, when I really looked closer, I realized that they were really thousands of adult dolphins jumping and swimming along the side of the ship. This just goes to show you the massive size of this regal ship.

I stopped and smiled as I could now hear music playing over the sounds of the sea. While everyone kept working, they were also joyfully singing as we cut through the ocean. I then heard a call from up above. I looked up and there was a watchman on a perch or nest. I heard bells ringing from there in tune with the music. It was awesome.

I then saw a sight that left me breathless. There were about a dozen or so other massive ships to the left and right of us. Each of the ships looked pretty well identical to ours in size and staffing. The size of our masts and sails were simply not of this world.

One person yelled out: "Finally!"

A different person yelled out: "This is it! Here we come!"

I then heard bells from all of the ships ringing in unison. All of us then shouted together as one: "Land ho! Land ho!" I then remembered the lyrics from a song we all sang together right after this, again all of us in perfect unison:

"Keep your eyes fixed on the horizon, where the line meets blue on blue. There is a silver lining, where My love is with you!"

The horizon became clearer as we drew near!

Sub-dream 1 over.

Oh Father, what if tomorrow, the peaking of the Christmas Star, comes and goes without event instead of being our long awaited and prayed for Transformation? My heart will break. The world is running out of time. Please don't let me lose my mind. My heart is set on You. Please let Your Words reign true. You are no God of lies. I cling and cling to the promises of Your Prize. Please let my dreams come true now. Through all of this time with You, You have shown me a great, great love.

You have shown me a love so deep and wide, so unconditional, I never thought it was even possible. We matter to You, Father. Through all of these lost days and years of watching, days and years that have come and gone, please consider tomorrow (the Christmas Star of December 21, 2020) as being Your 'Best Day' and a 'Great One'! Please don't let our hearts be discouraged yet again by a passing date!

My children have witnessed Your Great Miracles time after time, but have not seen Your Great Promises being fulfilled. This Great Day is for here, not Heaven. When will You well up in us and fill our vessels, vessels that have been prepared by the Master Potter, by Your very hands, for this very time? While to You, a day is like 1000 days and 1000 days is like one, to us, a day is still 24 long hours. Many of us do not have many more left unless You come soon to strengthen us!

My heart sank at my next dream, also from last night. I know that this frightening dream was allowed by You as Raphael had pre-warned me something like this was coming. I am not sure why I knew this was coming, but I just did...

Sub-dream 2 "The Tempter Attempts to Tempt"

I was in our front yard by the frozen stream. I immediately knew that this was somehow different from other sub-dreams as I was not just cool, but cold. While the stream was frozen on top, I could still see the current moving quickly just underneath the clear ice. The other thing that was unusual was that there were no little animals or birds here to greet me this cold morning.

Something then happened that frightened me to my core. As I looked closer through the clear ice blanketing the stream, I could see little animals trapped just under the ice. It will take a while for me to remove the look of sheer terror on their faces from my memory. I immediately looked around the area in search for something to break the ice. Just then, I felt a hand on my left shoulder.

This was something I had never felt before. How can one describe pure evil? It sent a spark of cold, like a jolt, through my body, along with a wave of nausea. I instinctively jumped back as I turned quickly. There was an entity standing there. He was very tall and wrapped in layers of dark swaths of clothing. Even though he was wearing a hood, I could still see some of his face. His face shifted structure back and forth. This shifting is very hard to describe. I could see a storm in his eyes. While his stench was 'fragrant' at first, it soon smelt like sulfur / rotten eggs instead.

The evil entity: "Hold on. Do not be afraid. I will not harm you."

As his mouth opened while he spoke, I could see his forked tongue. While I could see 'honey' being produced, I knew it couldn't be as it was coming from wasps that were living inside of him. This was hard to look at. I was not sure if these wasps were only an illusion. Regardless, the feeling of sickness in my stomach continued to increase.

The evil entity: "Why do you not pursue me? Why do you not see my greatness? Do you not know that it is I who is your first love? I am your alpha and omega. I will give you the world if you will just follow me instead."

I then saw an illusion of a bridge across our stream. However, it was not even close to the kind of bridge I see when I am visiting Jesus. I looked around the yard and saw more that repulsed me. I could now see the carcasses of our little animals and birds strewn all across our yard. I knew that this vision was coming to me through his thoughts and desires. I was thankful that the Holy Spirit was protecting me.

The evil entity: "Come and follow me. I have the key to your life." As he pulled out a large key, a door appeared. "Erin, come with me into paradise."

Me: The Holy Spirit now welling up in me. "No! I believe in the One True God, the Father, and His One True Son, Jesus Christ! Be gone from me, in Jesus' Mighty Name, Amen!"

In an instant, two massive angels of God arrived. The evil entity fled immediately. They then struck the bridge and it was gone. The animals and birds were alive and healthy again. They were running and flying all over the place. It was beautiful again. The stream no longer had any animals trapped under the ice. I began to cry with joy. The sun was shining all over the area again and my body warmed up instantly. I cried, and even as I write, and didn't stop. I was so grateful that the Lord saved me yet again.

Sub-dream 2 over.

Oh Father, please protect us and help us. We are nothing without You. Have mercy on me. If I am mad, crazy and delusional, please have mercy on my foolishness. If I have tested You or complained to much, please forgive me. My best years of my life were in the midst of battles I could never win without You. However, I enjoy my life much more now, with a husband and all of my kids here, then these trying times of the past.

Still, I never did see justice. How do I explain to my children that You are the God of Justice if they never see it? They see illness caused by the wrongdoing of another, yet they never see recompense. They are left with their disabilities, their hardships. They face a world who mocks them and who mocks those who love You. They ask me where You are and I say You are here. They then ask 'does He not care or see?'

Oh Father, You do care. You care so very deeply. However, it is so hard to explain that we have been used by You as a measuring line for the wicked? What can we say to someone that is hurt by such cruelty when they are trying so hard to be considerate and helpful? Well, after many times telling them this, they are finally able to understand that many hardships were because they were being used as measuring lines.

While this brings comfort to them and to me, it is still so hard to live under these conditions. God has been using us to build His case against the world. We have been used as a calibrator, a scale and a tape line. My children still say 'But I don't like this anymore.' Well, Father, I agree with them. How much longer must we wait?

Jesus: "Erin, come up."

I felt a hand on my right shoulder. It was Raphael. The warmth from his touch was completely opposite of the coldness that came from the evil entity's touch.

Me: Crying. "Why did the Lord allow this visit from the evil entity?"

Raphael: "Don't worry, Erin, as we were all here with you for this. This was allowed to show you what God wanted you to see and what He protects you against. This one was once with us. However, he has fallen and he is tormented. He is angry. What you saw with your little animals and birds was what he desired for them.

"He hates all innocence. He hates anything that is loved by God. This was shown to you so you will not be surprised when you see those who are lost of the world who choose to follow this. It is because they are children of this father, not the children of your Creator and Heavenly Father."

Me: "He looked kind at first. His face was flawless. However, I then noticed that his neck was grotesquely shriveled. Thankfully, I could only see a few details."

Raphael: "Well, Erin, this is your true enemy, the enemy of God. There is much occurring all over the world right now as the great waves of deception have continued to pound the Earth. God knows you are discouraged. This is where many lose heart. They then relinquish all hope.

"However, Erin, you are not to lose hope. Your journey has been like that of one perched on a nest of a ship with great sails. You have been on a lengthy journey on tumultuous seas. From that nest, you see land one minute, yet realize it was just an illusion, a Fata Morgana, the next."

Me: "What is a 'Fata Morgana'?"

Raphael: "While its origins are of witchcraft and sorcery, it is used to describe illusions while at sea. Understand it like an analogy of a watchman on a wall or a bride in her chambers watching and waiting for her groom.

There is so much time waiting, so many days, weeks, months or even years, all without activity, that one looks for anything. Now, to be clear, you, your family and your friends are not doing this. If you were, you would not be talking to a servant of God. You would instead be talking to the servants of the fallen. I tell you this to reassure you.

"Now, your journey is like that of a ship at sea, a crew discovering a new land, one in which others have heard stories about, yet it waits somewhere undiscovered. This ship then sets sail with a strong and mighty crew. Although they know they will eventually reach this distant shore, they don't know how long they will be at sea. There are days where there are more questions than answers as the storms pound the ship.

"Things then happen while sailing. There are ripped sails. There are wet cabins. There is illness, worry and even loss of hope at times. Each day, the Watcher climbs to the nest in order to search for a horizon line, a strip of land, something to give the crew hope. They all look to the Watchman. He is the one who will likely see something first. At night, the crew discusses and studies their route. The Watcher then joins them to listen and pray with them.

"In history, certain events and milestones are logged. On a certain week, signs written about are visible to the Watchman. However, they then disappear. They then appear again. The crew becomes disheartened. They are then encouraged again by the signs of land. They see an increase in birds. Once this happens, all know that the ship is drawing closer to land. Still, it is the most difficult part of the journey as many are anxious about what they will find once there."

Me: "Well, I don't like it anymore. We are here right now! What about 'the third day'? The third day from what? It is meant by 'it is upon us'? How so?" I was serious, but was now laughing. "Oh Raphael, is there ever a time when the person watching from the nest jumps overboard or just never bothers to come back down?"

Raphael: Smiling. "Well, that would certainly be a twist that God would not have seen coming!" He then became quite serious. "Erin, God loves you. You are not delusional. None of this is a mirage. I am here to reassure you... when the horizon appears, your Groom comes. There will be no mistaking this as all will see it.

"Erin, it is easy to lose hope. God meets with His angel army as we too grow weary at times from the lengthy battle. He then speaks to us, strengthens us and encourages us. While God could immediately order His army to finish all battles, there is a great and important reason for Him to not order this. Do you know what this is?"

Me: "Our souls?"

Raphael: "Well, that is the 'micro-version'. No, it is the process of the endurance of love, a heart of the Father for His Children, the Heart of a Groom in love with His Bride."

Me: Crying. "But this is so painful. It is so hard. We have dreams of great things, things which are not caused by sugary snacks or bad television just before bedtime. We have dreams of things to come on Earth from Heaven. Many have had supernatural dreams and visions of what is soon to come.

They are as real as 'broad daylight'. Oh Raphael, when will this all be? Is God able to..."

Raphael: Interrupting me. "Yes, Erin, God is able to see all things and He does! He is God. He sent me. I am right here right now. There have been too many events, signs, wonders and miracles to count. Do not forget these."

Just then, a download of events started to stream through me. I was amazed. There were so many that I couldn't even count them.

Me: Weeping to God. "Oh Father, I repent. I am so sorry."

Raphael: "Erin, I am here to tell you that a Great Sign is upon you. God has not forgotten His promises to you. He loves you. You have shown endurance to love God through all of this. Even when days come and go, days that looked perfect and 'on the horizon', you still loved Him just as much. Erin, God sees Your love in Him, a love that even grows when disappointments come. Now, He knows your deep longings. These are soon to be rewarded. Notice I didn't say 'very soon'? I didn't say 'very soon' as it seems to be a tipping point for some on the Nest." He smiled as he nudged me.

Me: "But God said I had a little while before my mom would pass away and it was 21 days to the day?"

Raphael: "Do not worry, Erin, as this is not the same as what you are waiting for today. Even so, I will not apologize for the words that God has sent through me. Erin, has it ever occurred to you that the enemy and his children also know and are watching? Erin, their hate is great and they too are waiting."

Me: "Yes, but God is much greater and His love is higher than their hate."

Raphael: Smiling. "Ah, very good, very good. I will now bring forth a question to you as asked by God through me... If a day comes and goes with nothing, will you still believe in Me? Will My Son, Jesus, still be your First Love through all of this?"

Me: "Have I not proven this time and time again through all of these disappointments and tragedies? This list is so very long..."

- Both of my parents are gone and both within the last five years
- Both of my sons have special needs and this is so hard at times
- I have a long list of health problems, with a brain tumor being just one of them
- While I see Heaven and walk there in my dreams, I still wake up here
- My husband still searches for a new place of employment and this has been hard on both of us
- I have been called too many names to count, ones I won't dignify by repeating

"Oh Raphael, there is so, so much more, yet I still love God with all of my heart. I love God through all of this. I love Him! Even if He never comes to me here before I die, I will not stop. I will keep looking for my Groom. I will wait for my Groom. I will keep my hope in my Groom. My life is His and will always be His."

Raphael: Smiling. "Ah then... There is a very good day coming, one which will make you smile, laugh and even dance. This day has always been there.

This day will only be the very first day of a Great Adventure. This will not only be for Heaven though, but also there on Earth... on Earth as it is in Heaven."

Me: Crying. "My heart aches for something I don't understand. I long for Home. This is like the Narnia movies that made me cry."

Raphael: "Ah yes... CS Lewis. His story is a great one. He believed, then he became angry at God, then he believed again. He died on a day of your first call to the Mountain of God."

Me: "My first call to the Mountain of God was on November 22, 2004. CS Lewis died on November 22, 1963. This was the same day that President JFK was assassinated. As a result, no one really noticed the death of CS Lewis."

Raphael: "Yes, this was a very busy day. However, Lewis was not forgotten. He was important to God. He faced many critics. Christians shunned him. They still do. I could go on and on. He was a gifted writer.

When his stories began to hit too close to the enemy's patterns, his material was purchased and then squelched."

Me: "Do you mean the cancelation of the fourth movie?"

Raphael: "If you happen to notice, entertainment in the form of movies, games or books often mirror real events or events soon to come. Still, and again and again, God is and remains God over all of it. The Lord spoke to Lewis in those books and his writings reflected events.”

Me: “I have not read them.”

Raphael: “It matters not, Erin. What is about to happen is far greater. God is the Producer of an Epic Story. It has all of the great elements... warriors of God, angels, dragons, demons, good guys, bad guys, superheroes, a Bride, a Groom, a Great Wedding, the happiest of all endings... and even baby animals.” He laughed. “Oh yes... don’t forget the angels with ‘zero % body fat’.” He smiled as he knew that ‘zero % body fat’ was a term from an ongoing private joke between me and my husband.

“God loves you. He is the Author and the Finisher of your faith, your journey of faith. Now, let me tell you... when this production begins, every eye, everyone, will see it. Even Heaven will see it and all will be amazed. It is time to order your popcorn from the lobby. Oh wait, there is no need to do this as you are one of the heroines. You are in this one. Rejoice and relax. God has this. He has you! Oh, look at that light!”

I turned to look. There was a bright flash. I turned back and he was gone. I heard the song ‘This is Home’ (from “The Chronicles of Narnia: Prince Caspian” soundtrack) by Switchfoot. I felt led to include the lyrics to this excellent song...

I’ve got my memories, always inside of me, but I can’t go back, back to how it was. I believe you now, I’ve come too far, no I can’t go back, back to how it was, created for a place I’ve never known.

This is home, now I’m finally where I belong, where I Belong. Yeah, this is home, I’ve been searching for a place of my own. Now I’ve found it, maybe this is home, this is home.

Belief over misery, I’ve seen the enemy, and I won’t go back, back to how it was, and I got my heart set on what happens next. I got my eyes wide it’s not over yet, we are miracles and we’re not alone

And now after all my searching, after all my questions, I’m gonna call it home. I’ve got a brand-new mindset, I can finally see the sunset, I’m gonna call it home

Now I know, yeah, this is home, I’ve come too far, and I won’t go back. Yeah, this is home!

Yes, Father, we can hardly wait for Home. In the meantime, I pray we can have Heaven come to us on Earth. We are ready, Lord! We are so ready to serve You in any way that You ask us. May this be soon... VERY soon... smiles!

Dream over...

Dream 460 – Raphael Is Still Just as Confident

Received on Monday, December 28, 2020

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day here! I dedicate this day and all You bring to us. I dedicate every minute. I don't do this enough and I am sorry. I am also thankful for my family and friends and their families and friends. I know that those around us are just as very important to You as we are to You. Together, we are a great assembly of believers and are jointly hopeful in Your promises soon to come.

Father, everyday with You is supernatural. Everyday is a gift, which is why they call it 'The Present'. I am also thankful for the gift of all of these 'mountain top experiences' with You. I have had so many of these that I don't fixate my entire hope around just one day. While my husband can do this, he then has the supernaturally ability to bounce back almost instantaneously, quickly looking for another date to hope for.

Father, You have taught me to write these dreams down, but then continue living. In obedience, I then go out from my devotional chair and live each day as Your foot soldier in the daily war and ongoing battle for our hearts. At times, just my very presence seems to anger some and for no reason. I will sometimes go into a store and have someone react unreasonably to just my very existence.

When this happens, I know that demons are behind it. I have since learned that the best overall strategy straight from Jesus is to simply not to engage with fools. By even recognizing their presence or entertaining them with a conversation, you have begun the provocation.

While you would think trying to 'kill them with kindness' would work, it merely just fuels their illogical rage. Things are becoming even weirder now. All the rules seem to now be different. Now more than ever, the Holy Spirit is our Guide. Wisdom is in us when we chase God and obey His instructions.

These are jewels to be treasured.

I had a horrible sleep last night. No matter which way I turned, I just could not get comfortable. Our room was also bright due to the near full moon, which takes place tomorrow. I finally got up at around 2:30am to look outside. The sky was a bright blue. The moon was bright and Orion the Hunter was standing to the left of it. There was about an inch of fresh snow. I finally fell back to sleep and had a very odd dream...

Sub-dream 1 "The Former President Analyzes Some Gift Cards"

I was at a drugstore similar to a Walgreens. I was standing in line behind the former President. He was looking at purchasing gift cards for some people. This was definitely some last-minute shopping on his part. He analyzed each gift card out loud...

- Walmart Gift Card: He first picked up a Walmart Gift Card. As he looked at the card, he muttered 'you may think you own me, but I own you.' He laughed. The people in line laughed with him. He put the card back.
- Target Gift Card: He then picked up a Target Gift Card. As he looked at the card, he muttered 'you are close to me and my values. Okay, this is good.' He did not put this card back.
- Amazon Gift Card: He then picked up an Amazon Gift Card. As he looked at the card, he muttered 'wait until I build a dam and break you up. It will be over. This card won't be worth anything once I am done. However, I will keep the publishing division.' He put the card back.
- Barnes & Noble Gift Card: He then picked up a Barnes & Noble Gift Card. As he looked at the card, he muttered, but more loudly, 'I got you. We are good. These are smart people. Buy these.' He was addressing all of us in the line. While he was joking around, he was also not joking. He did not put this card back.
- Chick-fil-A Gift Card: He then picked up a Chick-fil-A Gift Card. As he looked at the card, he nodded his head as he muttered 'I got you. You are done. You are done.' He then looked back at us. "Don't buy these cards, okay?" He put the card back.

He then arrived at the checkout. After purchasing his carefully analyzed gift cards, he looked back and addressed all of us.

Former President: "I hope you all learned something today. This is because I am changing the landscape. I am back!"

Everyone in the lineup either cheered or felt forced to. I felt extremely uncomfortable being there as I was the only one who refused to cheer. No one seemed to notice.

Sub-dream 1 over.

I woke up at around 6:00am, but then soon fell back asleep for another dream...

Sub-dream 2 "Evidence of the Lost Tribes Completely Destroyed"

This same leader (the Former President) called me into his office. While it was like the White House, I am not sure if it was. He was standing at his desk and pointing to a large ancient book. He looked menacingly into my eyes.

Former President: "I have been expecting you. Please sit."

He looked agitated. If not protected by God, I knew that I would have no option but to sit. I felt the Lord tell me to go ahead and sit anyway.

Former President: "Look, I have done all of this work. I have even formed my new tea party. Is this the thanks I get? I have trimmed everything down. Just one leader. Just one party. Each state having one governor. This is all run by a small staff. We are now one voice. Everyone is happy. There are very few court cases anymore. This means no one has all of those legal fees.

"The people are given great freedoms. They are free to choose their own destinies. Even the meek can inherit a mansion in my world. The news is good news. Well, it was, except now you are here. Now I am having to have this meeting with you..." He paused. "...about this. You care to explain?"

He opened up the large ancient book and flipped over four separate pages. Each page had three windows on it. Each window had arches above it. Each window was labeled one of the 12 tribes, along with their attributes to identify them. There was some Latin writing, but I couldn't fully understand or remember it as his hand was partially covering the page. He looked more and more agitated as he flipped the pages back and forth.

Former President: Now raising his voice. "Well, do you care to explain this?"

Me: Speaking confidently. "Well, it looks like a record of the characteristics of the 12 sons of Jacob. Seems like a history book to me." I smiled at him as I spoke, which only seemed to agitate him even more.

Former President: "Okay, I see how this is going to be. Come here with me. Did you think I don't know what is happening here? Now come."

Thanks to the Lord being with me, I was not afraid of him. I walked with him as he took me to another room. There were complex maps all over the room.

Former President: "Based on DNA tests, they have narrowed down where they believe the Lost Tribes are."

Me: It looked compelling. "Okay, but how am I involved in this?"

Former President: "Don't act stupid. We tracked you here. We are now sending out cupbearers to eliminate any other threats."

Me: "What do you mean by 'cupbearers'?"

Former President: "Someone who delivers good food and drink for no charge."

Me: "You really mean poison, don't you?"

Former President: "Don't worry about this. It is painless."

As I looked at the wall, I realized that they had spent years carefully analyzing where the Lost Tribes had gone to. The maps had amazing details with clusters showing the number by location. I didn't like what I was seeing, so I prayed to the Lord to have all of this melt away. With all of this removed, they would be back to square one. Without this information, they would be looking for 'needles in the haystacks'. After praying, all of it instantly melted away. All information was removed, both online and in hard copy!

Former President: "Wait! What have you and your 'God' done now? Oh no, it can't be! This can't be!"

He was as angry as I have ever seen anyone in my entire life (and I have seen great anger before). He wanted to lunge at me, but God's angels were holding him back. His eyes were sinister and scary.
Sub-dream 2 over.

I woke up with him still attempting to lunge at me. I soon fell back asleep and had another dream...

Sub-dream 3 "Perishing in the Dark Pond" begins

I was looking over a dark pond. While it seemed to be in the Philippines or Thailand, I could not really tell. The pond was full of dark black water. There was steam coming from it. There were members of a massive army lining families up at the pond. In a language I do not know and neither did these families, they were given the choice to either live or die.

One family refused to answer and held hands in prayer instead. After a few moments, the entire family was pushed into the dark pond. What happened next astonished me. It was if they were being deep-fried in oil. They instantly perished. I knew that they had been taken to Heaven before feeling any pain. While this comforted me, it was still really hard to watch.
Sub-dream 3 over.

Oh Father, while my dreams have continued every night, some of them have been so dark. Please help the nations. We are in deep trouble.

Jesus: "Erin, come up."

I was in our yard again. After feeding the little birds and animals, I walked over to the area where the bridge appears. I sat down on the rock by the stream.

Me: Crying. "Lord, if You do nothing, horrible times are coming. Horrible things will be done to anyone who speaks in truth. Movies are being rewritten. History books are being edited and even destroyed. One leader has already rewritten the Bible. I am thankful for my hard copies of the Bible. Was this pandemic a weapon? Why did You allow this? Now the corruption! Why? Where is the justice?"

"I recently read more about bullfighting. The orange flag only means an extension of life to the bull. While the bull's life is spared, where is the justice? While those of us who are law abiding were indoors following the rules, we were invaded by lies, scare tactics and depressing news.

"There are now 2nd and 3rd waves being reported. They say these waves may even be worse than the 1st wave. How can this be? Oh Lord, I love You with all of my heart. However, I thought Your Will was always for good. While I know it is, it looks really bad from where I am looking. Another 'two weeks' of lockdowns could easily then lead to another year. Who will survive this?"

Just then, I felt a hand on my shoulder. It was Raphael. He was smiling at me.

Raphael: "Hey, your water is almost ready for you to step into it. All the murkiness has been completely removed. Is it not beautiful?"

Me: "Yes. However, how can I step into that icy water? Are you being serious?"

Raphael: Laughing, but in a comforting way. "Oh Erin, you are clearly upset. I am here on behalf of God to encourage you. You already know by now that it is always darkest before the dawn. God created the greatest parable around the darkness of night and the light of day. What about sunset and sunrise? What about the moon at night and the sun during the day? Have you noticed that the signs have increased quickly and have not stopped?"

"To kick off your 'Festival of Lights', God sent the Aurora Borealis and other signs during this. He sent you a shower of stars and a rainbow halo around the sun. He sent you a Great Sign in the Sky, a Great Star, that was really a convergence of two Great Planets. He sent you a crown made of clouds, complete with the moon as your spire. Why? The answer is simple.

He is God and He loves you. He sends you comfort when your heart is troubled."

Me: "Raphael, how can anyone be joyful right now when our nation was stolen?"

Raphael: "Erin, God has seen it, all of it. From our vantage point, we see it. The other angels over the cities are also fully aware. However, we have been instructed to stand down, so we do."

Me: Crying. "But why?"

Raphael: "Because the God Who spins things in orbit, Who calls the sun to rise and the moon to set, Who knows the tides of the oceans and the grains of sands, told us to and His Ways are much higher than ours. Erin, you are personally hurt because justice has never come for you and others. It is hard to watch. It is even more difficult for you to see hopes fading and candles burning out. However, you are to still remain hopeful as God has a plan so great that you will not even believe it."

Me: Sighing out loud. "Yes... I know... even if I were told." I let out another sigh.

Raphael: "Wow, Erin, you are sour! Hmm, let me give you the following warning... Many are lost at this moment. They turn away from God in anger and bitterness and don't find their way back."

Me: Now crying instead of sighing. "But, Raphael, I fear for my children. It is becoming more difficult for them to believe when they see our troubles mounting. I see them slipping and my heart is breaking."

Raphael: "Erin, I am sent to prepare you to transition from one point to another. While Breakthrough is as well, he actually has another name from God. Erin, we are specialists in our areas. God has trained us. I know that your heart is heavy and grieving for what is coming if God does not intervene. However, the Lord also faced this while in the Garden of Gethsemane.

"A choice is often given in gardens to trust in God in all things. However, you are not to be dissuaded by the world, but rather die to it instead. To live is to live in the Lord and in the things of Heaven. The low-lying fruit of this world is temporary. When your appetite is fed in this life, it is never satisfied. Erin, the reason that you are here is because you are no longer defined by the things of the world.

"The enemy wants you to satisfy your carnal appetites here continuously so that he can then garner control over you. This is why the enemy hates fasting. This is because fasting brings clarity of truth apart from the appetites of the world. Now, please don't mistake this as me suggesting that you are eating fruit in the garden. You are not.

"However, I have been told to give you another warning. The enemy is requesting to meet you on his battlefield in his garden. Today, gardens can be actual physical gardens or they can be a place that God has prepared for you, like your home or ministry. I am here to say 'do not conform to what others are saying...instead stay focused on the Will of God alone.'"

Me: "I thought I had been?"

Raphael: "Yes, you have... but just don't be tempted."

Me: "Okay. However, God will have to help me with this. Surely I haven't come this far only to be tricked at this late stage of the game."

Raphael: Chuckling. "I am not saying that you will do this. Okay, look at it like this instead... you are in love with your Groom. You are dressed and prepared for Him when He comes. He loves you completely. You have waited and kept oil in your lanterns. He has provided for you while you wait and has kept you safe.

"However, there is an enemy of the Groom, a rival, one who is angry and jealous and seeks to destroy you because of the love you have for the Groom and He for you. As a result, the enemy plots and sends in bad news to make you doubt... well, you get the idea! However, I am now here to tell you that you will make it and that it will be a great, great day!"

Me: "Are you talking about the Rapture?"

Raphael: Smiling. "Well, yes, but before this."

Me: "The Transformation?"

Raphael: "Yes, Erin. Those who remain unchanging, unrelenting and unmoved by the enemy will be set apart. This is you... a vessel refined in the fire of affliction. This warning is really for those who go up and down like the waves of the sea."

Me: "When will all of this be? It is becoming so heartbreaking. My tears have replaced my joy!"

Raphael: "I am sent here for now." He pulled a key fob out of his pocket and pressed it. I then heard the sound of an unlocking door. He smiled.

"Erin, I am right here. Every time you look and see just trees and squirrels, I am here. However, and much more importantly, the Lord is here with you. He has sent me to comfort His Bride... you. I am here to keep you focused on the Lord. He loves you with a love that cannot be described by words."

Just then, the bridge appeared with an open door.

Me: "May I please have your key fob?" I was laughing as I pointed to it.

Raphael: Laughing. "Not yet, but soon. I have now accomplished my mission from the Groom for today... His Bride has had laughter again!"

Me: "Yes, I have. Thank you so much for coming today!"

Raphael: "Well, thank God instead for sending help when needed. Oh yes..." As he walked across the bridge. "...when you have dreams like you are which seem dark, these are what the enemy desires against God's people. It doesn't mean these are what will happen. You have been given knowledge of the plans of the enemy. However, God trumps the enemy..." He smiled as he nudged me. "...understand?"

Me: "Yes, I think so."

Raphael: "Just remember that the mind of the enemy is not a happy place, especially when he sees the rise of the Power of God visibly upon the Earth." He laughed. "Yep, he becomes a very grumpy..." He paused. "...animal of sorts. Remember, Erin... we have this! Do not worry, okay?" He smiled.

Me: "Thank you."

I put my hand over my heart. He laughed and turned to walk through the door. Everything then disappeared. I then immediately heard the sound of the key fob locking the door. I laughed out loud.

Me: Looking up to Heaven. "Oh Lord, You are so good!"

Dream over.

Dream 461 – On Earth As It Is in Heaven

Received on Tuesday, December 29, 2020

Communion

Dear Father,

I love You! Thank You for another day. Thank You for Your love and affection. Thank You for all that we have. Thank You for my husband and our children. Sometimes I get myself into a time warp of self-pity. However, this really gets me nowhere. I wake up from a night of dreams and wonder about my life. Have I lived well? Did I miss just a few opportunities or many? Did I travel well on my course?

I complained a lot in the beginning. I cried a lot too. It was then that I started to realize that the path You had made for me was going to be brutally more difficult than I had originally imagined. You gave me a choice to stop along my journey many times. By a miracle and with Your help, I relented each time and stayed the course. This was the perfect rocky windy road which led me straight to You.

Father, I am no expert in all things You. In fact, I know very little. It is similar to how a child might need to know about their parents. A child's job is straightforward – live, grow, play nice with friends, obey their parents, laugh a lot, see wonders, discover new things, eat new foods and venture out. However, as a child of God, I tried hard to stay close to my Dad instead. I did not want to boldly go too far on my own.

It made me afraid. When I would venture out in the beginning apart from God, I ran into trouble. I would then have to cry out to my Father for a supernatural bailout. Well, after doing this for about the 100th time, I finally started to learn something. While I first thought God was on a mountaintop far from me, I started to finally realize that He was there next to me.

Things then became shockingly bad. Everything which could go wrong was now going wrong. I was a part of a booming housing industry when it all crashed. I was a single mom with three small children and I was scared. I soon discovered that I had a heart condition. The events in 2004 were just the start of my troubles. We soon were forced into selling all we had by auction. I downsized and used that money to fight.

In trying to keep my children, I battled with injustice at the highest level. My autistic diagnosis for both of my sons drew me to retreat. I quit venturing out. I relied on God to help, but He was quiet and we were getting destroyed. Due to financial difficulties, I couldn't even find a lawyer to take my case. My heart soon stopped. My sons were taken across state lines and my contact was blocked.

I soon felt deserted by God, as well as by my earthly parents. My so-called friends that said they would help actually came to steal. The system then turned on me. Without Heavenly Guidance, I made the crucial mistake of moving to the desert. It was a place I had never liked being in. It soon became my personal furnace. Horrible things were said of me. Lies were heaped up onto even more lies.

My main enemy knew what he was doing. He knew he could trap me if I moved into the desert. He even cleverly helped accommodate my move. Once the appropriate legal time of my being there elapsed, he had an unfair restraining order issued on me. Everything was closed and it took awhile for a judge to be around. Once a judge saw this, it was promptly thrown out.

Father, my heart still breaks at You breaking me. I was never vindicated. I was never believed. Life was never normal. I was never used. Never! In essence, You had sent me into 'never neverland'! You essentially cancelled me. Was I born so wicked that I deserved all of this? All I wanted was to be with my kids. My main enemy soon became an expert at destroying me. He delighted in it.

I have already written of all the things that then happened to me during my trial by fire in the desert. It never got easier. I was fighting with my hands tied behind my back and my main enemy was landing haymaker after haymaker. I couldn't take it. I still had faith, but it wasn't healthy. I was now having huge trust issues with my Father. I decided to give God three months.

Here was my thinking. I will give Him three months to either use me and be a Father to me or I would stop. I would still believe, but I would completely stop pursuing. I would stop bugging Him altogether. I was humiliated now. I had been destroyed for the last seven years. Justice alluded me. It never came. This was it. This was the end of my self completely. This was the death of me.

Any ambitions I had, any hopes or dreams, were all gone. I had no earthly husband to lean on. My job was way below my pay grade. I barely had the means to survive with my kids. Still, thank You, Father, for all of this. I still don't fully understand all of what happened and why it all needed to happen this way, but You did. You had a plan. You kept me alive in this furnace of affliction.

I will never fully understand everything here. However, I know it was for my good. It was for my kids as well. We are all together. Despite my injuries, we are together. I am so grateful to You for this. Even though the world is unfair, You ultimately grant us justice. You vindicate us. Your recompense to us is brought by You. You administer repayment for all that has been lost, even if only in Heaven if we don't see it here.

All I know is that things were hard and then became harder. The path became impossible on my own. It was filled with obstacles and scary beasts, giants so large that there is no way I could continue. Father, You are and will always be bigger than giants. You are greater than scary beasts. You are the Remover of obstacles. Sometimes it takes going on this journey to finally be able to write about it.

I had grand ideas about You coming on a white horse and rescuing us. However, that was not Your way for then. I imagined the heroine being saved at the last second. It never happened how I thought it would. However, it has all turned out even better than imagined in the end. It was not easier, but it was better. My valley of tears was Your Valley of Fountains. I had a dream last night...

Sub-dream 1 "A house fit for royalty" begins...

I was helping to build a house fit for royalty. I was gathering all the best textiles. I was searching everywhere for the finest pieces of stone and other luxurious finishes. I just knew that this place would be incredibly beautiful once finished. Royalty would live here. I overheard the other workers saying that the homeowners were very kind and generous, so it made working for them even better.

All was soon completed. I checked on everything. I arranged for the delivery of flowers. I made sure that all of the finishing touches were complete. I stood at the entrance of this beautiful estate and waited for the owner. I waited and waited. All the workers were now gone.

I looked to the side of the entry and noticed a large envelope. The envelope was addressed to me. Usually, bad news came to me in the form of large envelopes, but I opened it anyways. There were four separate items inside...

First, there was a short note (item 1):

Erin, I have never forgotten all you have endured in pursuit of the Kingdom of Heaven. I love you. Your treasure is with Me and My recompense I give to you... Jesus

With this was a large engraved key (item 2): There were seven birds inlaid with gold and silver. A small signature was etched into the key. It read 'Love, Mom'.

I then noticed a deed to a property (item 3).

A separate short note (item 4) was attached to the deed:

I was never able to give this to you when I was with you. I was not a good father. However, I had the honor to oversee this project with the Lord. Love you, honey... Dad

I broke down in tears. I turned back to the home I had just been working on to look at it with a different perspective. This was too wonderful for me! How could this be?

Sub-dream 1 over...

When I woke up, I was in tears in my sleep. My pillow was damp. I went to my chair and thanked God.

Jesus: "Erin, come up."

I ran out our front door. I was still in shock. I went to the place where the bridge appears. It was warm today. I felt a hand on my shoulder. I turned and it was Raphael.

Raphael: Smiling. "Well, you have been on quite a journey today."

Me: "Yes. I am speechless."

Raphael: "Hmm, this is rare for you." He smiled. "I have a message from God."

Me: "Wait. Wait! Please tell this to Him from me first." I looked up...

"Father, I am sorry. I am sorry for all of my testing of You. Who was I... who am I... to draw a line in the sand? I love You and I am sorry. Your Ways are higher. I am so thankful...so thankful!"

Raphael: "Yes, it is a beautiful home that He has built for you."

Me: "Well, yes, it is. However, that is not it that I am so thankful for. Even though my mom and my dad were not on the path to Jesus, they are still here in Heaven. Jesus met them before they took their last breaths. While I already knew about mom being here from previous dreams, I still wasn't clear about dad until this dream. My earthly dad was a developer.

"He had once promised to invest in a home for me and the kids. However, once we got the ball in motion, he disappeared and the deal fell through. After that, he never returned my calls. He even changed his number. It hurt... I mean it REALLY hurt. My children were really disappointed too. I sometimes wonder if he disappeared because he didn't like the way my boys acted with Asperger's."

Raphael: "God knew your heart when it came to your dad. Once you forgave him, it released God's Grace to meet your dad on his death bed. Jesus showed him all that he had done. Your dad then asked for His forgiveness and mercy. You will see him again one day. He is grateful and humble. He prays for you in God's Courts."

Me: "Oh, thank You, Father God ... what a wonderful gift this dream was! Thank You, Raphael, for being here to discuss this dream with me."

Raphael: "Did you like the place that has been built for you?"

Me: "Of course, Raphael! It is amazing. However, I am confused. This did not seem like Heaven. Where was this?"

Raphael: "Well, here is the message from God that I was talking about. Are you ready?"

Me: "Oh yes, Raphael, I am ready!"

Message from God as spoken through Raphael...

"Erin, God has been with you always. He is sorry for the brokenness and humiliation you felt. He knows that it was difficult to be alone in your suffering. However, you were never alone. God was with you. The Lord was next to you. The Holy Spirit is in you. The angels were guarding your steps to keep you from stumbling and to keep the enemy from hurting you or your children further.

"Even so, this was all allowed so that you could fully realize a greater plan of God. He is your Redeemer. He is your Advocate. He is your Healer. He is your Friend. He is your Creator. He is the Lover of your soul. He is never away from you. Now He sends gifts to His Bride in advance of His coming as is tradition. There will then be mighty shouts and instruments, as well as bells and horns, as He announces His coming. Rejoice, Erin, rejoice!"

Me: "Wow, Raphael, this message from God is amazing!"

Raphael: Cupping his hand to his ear as if he was listening intently for something in the distance. "Hmm, I think I hear something!"

Me: "Really, Raphael? Do you really?"

Raphael: "I had better doublecheck."

The bridge and the door appeared. As he approached it, he took out his key fob. I heard the characteristic beep of a door opening. I shook my head in laughter.

Raphael: Calling out through the open door. "Lord? Is that You?"

I was laughing so hard now. I realized yet again just how fun Raphael's humor is. He then walked through the door. My view of him was obstructed. I then heard the sound of a Mighty Horn.

Raphael: Peeking his head back towards me through the door. "Well, something is happening! I have to go, Little Sparrow!"

The door and the bridge were then no longer visible. The trees then reappeared, along with a couple of sparrows. I thought it was over, but something then happened that made me start laughing again. I heard the sound of the beep of the key fob being pressed again.

Dream over...

Dream 462 – The Day Before the New Year of 2021

Received on Thursday, December 31, 2020

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day! Thank You for the end of this horrible year in the world. While I am not sure if 2021 will start out great, I pray that Your Will be done and let it be on Earth as it is in Heaven in all things. It is beautiful out this morning. It was bitter cold yesterday and the stream was freezing over. There was a thin layer of powdery snow that came down last night.

However, it is so warm this morning that all of the ice and snow should be gone by the afternoon. You have taken mercy on us so far this season when it comes to our nice weather and we are so very thankful for this. When I woke up this morning, I wasn't sore. I felt fantastic. Thank You!

I had a wonderful surprise after feeding our little yard animals and birds. After I went to our side yard, I walked over to the creek and right to where the place where the bridge appears. There was a Red Cardinal foraging in the snow. It soon flew off to a nearby tree where it watched me through a thicket. To make it more comfortable, I pretended to ignore it and spread seeds.

The little chickadees and Blue Jays immediately flew in for first dibs. The red squirrels came next. Then a surprise... a fat Red Robin, a bird I usually don't see again until spring. After I finished what I was doing, I walked back inside. When I looked out of my window, the Cardinal was gone. I had a very intense dream last night...

Prelude: The steep road followed by the visit with Enoch and Elijah at the Tram Platform is a nearly identical situation of the vision scenario I had back on February 23, 2000. My first true supernatural vision / dream came on that day. It has now been almost 21 years since this all started! What a ride this has been!

Sub-dream 1 "Enoch & Elijah revisit me at the Tram Platform"

I was driving a small car at dusk through the small village of Multnomah in Portland OR. My speed was well within the limits. As I drove past the stores I recognized, I came to a familiar sight. It was a curve combined with a sudden steep decline in the road. My guard went way up when I saw a steep towering mountain that I know doesn't exist here. I instantly realized that this was once again from my vision back in 2000.

This realization came a bit too late...smiles! There, right in front of me, and with too little time to stop, was the same deer that I had run into a couple of months back that was also in the beginning of my dreams in 2012. Yes, I just couldn't stop. The deer looked at me as I hit her with my car. It happened with enough force that the deer flipped up and came through my windshield. I called out to Jesus.

Boom! I was now suddenly up on the Tram Platform on God's Mountain. There were jagged alpine rock formations everywhere. I snickered when I heard elevator music as the Tram pulled in. The lights inside the Tram were so bright that I couldn't make out who was inside. I heard the sound of something like air brakes as the Tram stopped in front of me. As the braking sound quieted, I could hear the elevator music again.

The Tram soon came to a complete stop. There was a few second wait, seemingly for dramatic effect, before the doors opened. The light in front of me, combined with the fog that poured out the door, made it impossible for me to see in. Yes, this was definitely for drama. The fog cleared and the light dimmed. There in front of me were Enoch and Elijah. Unlike the time in 2000, they were both standing and smiling at me!

Elijah: "I honestly did not think that this was even possible. I was wrong."

Enoch: "I knew it was possible. Erin, you made it!"

Me: "Am I dead or about to die? Did I have to go through all that I did just to make it to Heaven? I must be really bad."

Enoch and Elijah looked at each other. I could tell that they seemed somewhat bemused that I would say such a thing after being taught something opposite for a number of years now. Elijah looked disappointed as he shook his head.

Elijah: "Oh Erin, you should know better than this by now. God is not a 'God of works' to earn salvation. This is not that at all."

Enoch: With a kind look on his face. "What Elijah meant to say is that your journey of dying to yourself is complete. While it was a difficult one, you are finally here."

Enoch reached out for my hand. He then gently brought me up onto the Tram to be with both of them. I was excited about this as I had only seen the Tram from outside before. It was incredibly high-tech.

Elijah: Welcoming me with a hug. "I am truly glad that you are here, child!"

Enoch: "Yes, she is a 'child of God', but she is no 'child'... she is a Bride!"

Me: "Did I have to go through all of that to be a Bride?"

Enoch: "Again...no! This is not earned as it is an honor given by the Grace of God. This is about your request to be used by God for His purposes."

Elijah: "Such a request as this requires much of an individual. However, through it all, you still pursued your purpose under Heaven..."

Enoch: "...and you have continued to love the Lord with all of your heart, soul and strength. Erin, you have allowed the Lord to determine your path, not the reverse of it. This is rare. The world will say you are part of a cult of believers. However, you are to ignore this. You are now ready for service in God's Army!"

Elijah: "Yes, Erin, the world will label you as a cult follower... even Christians."

Enoch: "Especially Christians. However, take all of your directives completely by God on behalf of the Kingdom of Heaven. You are an Ambassador of the Good Things of God. Your Mantle will be peace and love."

Elijah: "While this will be your mantle, you must also know that, wherever you step, there will be a lot of chaos and hate beyond reason... especially at first. Fear has been the mantle of the enemy and his great yoke. This has set the stage for more fear. However, there is something that the enemy fears and this will cause great trouble."

Me: "Oh, wait! I just heard this. Hope! Hope is greater than fear. Hope causes a threat!"

Enoch: "Yes, hope, but, more specifically, the Hope of Heaven. The testimonials of the love of the Savior, our Lord, and the display of the miracles of God will bring this hope."

Elijah: "Yes, Erin, this will be Heaven visible on Earth, understand? God's army of believers will cause jealousy, rage and shock." He put his hand on his forehead and shook his head in emphasis. "Well, it will be like... oh, what is that expression... 'oy vey!' While you will be disqualified according to the world's view, you will not be disqualified according to God's view."

Enoch: "I am so proud of you." I started to cry when he said this. "I know it has been difficult. You continued to endure troubles. However, we knew the outcome in advance. Now look at what you are wearing."

I looked down and I was wearing an elegant white gown. It was the first time that I had looked at myself.

Elijah: "Yes, Erin, the designer sleeping clothes are now long gone. I am so happy about that." He laughed. Enoch did too.

Me: "When we first met, why did you speak with no words?"

Elijah: "You were unable to come into our presence because you were of the world. It was similar to what the priests would call 'ceremonially unclean'."

Enoch: "Many years after this, we were able to be in your presence. We met you many times during your journey before the Throne of God. We prayed for you. We poured oil on you. We blessed you and asked the Lord to keep hold of you on your journey."

Elijah: "There is a process of refinement. This was a process that you faced with a willing heart. While you still had many questions..." He smiled. "...you still had a yielding heart for the Will of God."

Me: "But I didn't see either of you for a long while."

Note: I first saw Enoch and Elijah in my vision on February 23, 2000. It would be almost 13 years until I saw them again. My next visitation with them was in Dream 40 as received on January 24, 2013. This was almost 8 years ago from today.

Enoch: "Well, there were others to prepare. An 'army' indicates 'many', right? You have been with others on this journey. They will have a specialty. Many have been isolated... set apart... and also being prepared. What seems like failures and shut doors are actually God's Will and His Directions in this process. While much of this has been painful, the rewards will be great."

Elijah: Smiling. "You have a 'fan base' in God's Courts. They make pleas day and night for justice and healing for you and those who are with you.

This is good. Now, you are not alone on this journey. Take courage. Do not be afraid."

Enoch: "Do not fear as God is with you in all things."

Me: "When will all of this be?"

They both looked at each other and smiled. As per usual, they carried on as if I had never asked this particular question.

Elijah: "Come, Erin... we have some things to take care of..."

They put their hands on my back and walked me down the aisle...
Sub-dream 1 over.

While I didn't want to wake up from this dream, I did anyway. I then fell back asleep and had another dream. There were three distinct scenarios or settings in this dream. One of the settings was over the water, another was in the wilderness and another was over a cityscape. They all blended in perfectly.

Sub-dream 2 "The Battle of the Two Young Eagles"

My husband was driving our whole family across a bridge in our car. We were travelling northbound. Without warning, two eagles in combat with locked talons face to face dropped out of the sky. These were young eagles and not fully grown. As such, they were still spotted brown and white. Just before they hit the roof of our car in free fall, they released and flew off into the city.

After we crossed a bridge in the form of a massive dam, we saw the same two young eagles again. They once again had their talons locked. They were face to face and free falling. They soon hit the water at the base of the dam. The force of the impact made them separate. One went under briefly, but then emerged. Both flew off and appeared to be rattled.

We drove into an area of trees and parked our car. The young eagles were once again in the same attack position and free falling. They came really close to crashing into us before they once again separated. There were feathers everywhere.

Sub-dream 2 over.

Jesus: "Erin, come up."

I was in the front yard. I ran over to the area where the Red Cardinal had been. It was no longer there. I could not find it.

Me: "Oh Lord, where are You? I miss You. Where have You been?"

Voice of Jesus: "I am here with you. Though you cannot see Me right now, I am still with you."

Just then, I felt a hand on my shoulder. I turned around and there was Raphael.

Raphael: Smiling. "Wow, Erin, you have been busy! God has sent me to tell you this... 'Rejoice! Take Courage! Do not be afraid! Your time is finished!'"

Me: Crying. "Wait! What? Am I about to die?"

Raphael: Laughing. "Have you come to this conclusion twice in one day?"

Erin, is this what you are getting from all of this? No, this is definitely NOT it. Here is what else God sent me to tell you... 'Speak kindly to her. Tell her that the time of her personal warfare is over and that her sin has been paid for. She has been pardoned.' Erin, God has removed your debts. He has set you free. However, He has done this in a new way. He is going to give you a double portion of blessings as His recompense is with Him."

Me: Crying, but with joy this time. "Thank you, but I already have my true blessing... that my children all know Jesus."

Raphael: He placed his index finger to his pursed lips. He spoke quietly, as if to keep someone from hearing what he was saying. "Pssst... Erin... you are best to stop speaking. You are going to want all that God has planned, okay? Trust me that God's blessings are greater than your 'noble minimalisms'."

Me: "Okay, Raphael. I am sorry."

Raphael: Speaking normally again. "Be truthful... do you not want the fullness of what God will give you and not just that which you think you deserve? Would you like a recap of your troubles from the beginning to the end?"

He nudged me good-naturedly and then placed his hand on his chin. His other hand was open. He did this to reflect that he was contemplating all of it. He was trying to make me laugh. It definitely worked.

Me: Laughing. "Oh no, Raphael... trust me, I am good when it comes to that. I definitely do not need to rehash any of it. This was the Will of God's Completeness in my life. Whatever His Will for me is... well... I already know it will be very good!"

Raphael: Smiling. "Good! I am glad that we established this."

Me: "Raphael, it did not seem as if there a particular event that defined an end to my time of affliction, my 'furnace time'. Am I missing something?"

Raphael: "Oh yes there was! You were finished and complete when you no longer wanted the things the world has to offer... homes, stuff and so on."

Me: "Really?"

Raphael: "Yes, Erin. You stopped. It no longer mattered to you anymore. The allure was gone. Some would say it this way ...'you lost that loving feeling.'" He laughed.

Me: "Had I been coveting this?"

Raphael: "No, that is not it. I will try to best explain it this way... you stopped imagining how God would bless you and instead left all of it behind to chase Him. Your luster for earthly things is now gone as a result."

Me: "But I still like nice things? Is it that Heaven has now spoiled me for the things on Earth?"

Raphael: "Yes, that is it exactly. Right there. That is it. Instead of Earth spoiling you for Heaven, Heaven has ruined you for the things on Earth." Now laughing. "Yes, indeed, Erin, that was the final item!"

Me: "Hmm, but I thought I had done this a while back?"

Raphael: "Yes, but something else changed in you that God found good. He found it complete. Erin, this is a very good thing. You are now ready!" He smiled. "Okay this is where I..."

He started looking around in his pockets in an exaggerated way. After a few seconds of doing this, he took out his key fob.

Raphael: "Yes, this is where I have my cue to put on my armor and battle gear. Well, Erin, I have got to run. We are in an..."

He paused and singled me to finish his sentence.

Me: "...an epic battle!"

He laughed as the bridge and door appeared. He pressed his key fob and I heard a beep.

Raphael: "I will see you again soon. Rejoice, Little Sparrow. Happy New Year!"

He smiled, but was then gone in an instant. I could then see the Red Cardinal hiding in the thicket. Just as I was about to get a really good look at this bird, another beep from the key fob rang out. The Cardinal flew off. I laughed!

Dream over.

Dream 463 – A Word from God on New Year’s Day

Received on Friday, January 1, 2021

Communion

Dear Father,

Here was no change today! I am sad. I feel helpless at times. When it comes to President Trump, it looks like all hope is now on January 6, 2021. In reality, it looks like all hope is lost. What do my dreams mean, Father? Is something big soon to happen? I have set all of my hopes in You, Father. I do this day by day, hour by hour and minute by minute. My dream last night was a difficult one to understand.

Sub-dream 1 “The Road Home is Temporarily Blocked”

My husband and I were traveling in our car along the highway near the river and the dam. We suddenly received reports of some disaster. Every route and every road home were blocked. This was happening at night. We were already near a neighborhood convenience store. From here, it looked like it was still clear. We then suddenly realized that there were massive trees laying on the road blocking our progress.

After that, we removed a service road that was actually a walking path. We drove all the way to where the road ends at a nearby highway to our house. We turned up the road when we found ourselves about to drive off into a quarry. Other people were trapped in the same spot as us. My husband carefully backed up over some huge rocks in order to get us free. It was a scary ordeal and we just wanted to get home.

Sub-dream 1 over.

While I am not sure what this dream meant, it was scary. Father, I am scared. My ailments have been increasing in intensity. I am fully trusting in You, Father. There is nothing else that I can do. Father, You have taken me my whole life on Your journey. You have taken care of me. You have protected me from my enemy’s advances and even prevented my death.

Like a Good Father, You keep us busy and focused on things of You. In the last eight years, we have been waiting for something really huge to happen. It has not come yet. The world has become worse. What can I do?

It is a lot of pressure. I sometimes stay up at night thinking about what I can do in my current condition. Father, please help us!

Jesus: "Erin, come up."

I was standing in front of the bridge in our yard that leads into Heaven. I ran across it. I believe this is the first time I have crossed this bridge completely on my own. I was suddenly on the path near God's Door. I could see the pond and the forestry board to my right. I bypassed the pond and ran straight to God's Door. I soon felt a hand on my shoulder. I turned and there was Uriel.

Uriel: Smiling. "God requests your presence."

Me: "Thank you. Yes, I would love to see Him."

Uriel placed salve in my eyes and brought me into God's Throne Room. I could hear the voices of God's angelic choir singing 'Holy, Holy, Holy!' I began to cry. I was feeling bad about all of my doubts and fears. While impossible to look at directly, I could see the corona of light around God's Throne in the distance. My legs then became very weak and I dropped to my knees. I hung my head in submission to the King.

Me: "Father, I am so sorry for being scared and impatient. You have blessed me and my house. I never want to hurt Your feelings or anger You. However, I have grown tired and sit in uncertainty. I can do nothing on my own. It is beginning to be..."

God: Interrupting. "Erin, I Am God. I know your heart. I know that this has been a difficult journey. You went through your afflictions and then endured even more. This was so that others could receive their fullness in My Plans. I have heard your cries. I promise you that I have a great plan for you, one to prosper you and give you hopes for a future. I did not bring you this far just to leave you. I do not bring a woman to labor, a long labor, to not deliver her from this.

"Erin, you speak of the 11th hour. Yes, I often deliver in these circumstances. When all hope is lost, hope is again found in Me. You are losing hope. It is causing your body to follow the thoughts of your mind. There are many discouraged people and saints praying at My altars, both on Earth and in Heaven, day and night. I see great pain and agony amongst my people, all from the hands of but a few. However, this is a time unlike any other time. My Bride is ready for her Groom. The venue is selected. The meal and wine are prepared. You then ask...

'When, Father? I am dressed in my gown and my heart is sick waiting for the sounds of my Groom and His Entourage to come.'

"Yes, Erin, many of the brides have become tired. Many have even now gone into town seeking distractions sent from the enemy. They even mock the Bride... you... who sits and waits with great anticipation for that wonderful day to come. The Good News is that I do not lie. I do not deceive.

I have not prepared you for your entire life only to let all of this dwindle, for you to become sick and for your heart of gold to signify absolutely nothing. If I were to do such a thing then I would not be a God worthy of following."

Me: Crying. "Father, I love You. I would still chase after You. You are not an idle God. You are my Father Who created me and loves me. I would never do that to my children. Since I know that You love them even more than I do, so I know and trust my life to Your plans. I am just weary. I am getting old as I travel. My health is not getting any better. I worry that others are excited, but then become greatly discouraged. I then feel responsible for their disappointment."

God: "Erin, your life is in service to Me, not to them. You do not determine their days nor do you walk their paths. You are not their cupbearer. Instead, you are like a shepherd that is becoming lonely on your watch. I am with you and you are never alone. I Am the True Shepherd and My Sheep need a Shepherd or they will be devoured by wolves. Now, I have a question for you..."

Me: "Yes, Father?"

God: "Do you trust Me?"

Me: "Yes. However, can I be honest from my heart?"

God: "Yes. Please."

Me: "Father, with my whole heart, I want You to rise up and show Your Might, Your Anger, to the world, but also Your Grace and Love. Please consider exposing the corruption. Please answer the prayers of those of us who know the USA election was stolen. President Trump has become a Christian while in office. A wealthy man has become a 'Child of God'. Father, please let Your Will be aligned with our prayers for justice, vindication and the lifting up of our nation. Please reveal Yourself in a Mighty Way to a mocking world. Please. I love You. Please!"

God: "I have heard your prayers and these are good. I am measuring hearts right now. I am weighing the just against the unjust. I am weighing the unjust who use crooked scales and false measures. I am weighing the unjust for the corruption they release and the chains they put on the righteous. Erin, I see all of it."

Me: "I know You do, Father, but please expose them. Please vindicate us whose hope is completely in You. Please, Father! Even raise up Your Bride and make Heaven visible on Earth. Shut the mouths of the liars and the snakes.”

God: “I hear your pleas. I accept your prayers and find them good. Your petitions are also good. Do you trust Me, Erin?”

Me: “Yes, Lord. Please forgive me for wanting to see certain things when I am not You and have no right to do so.”

God: “While it is okay to be upset when it seems the wicked are winning, just know that they are far from Me and are on a dark, dark road where only the wicked travel. Erin, it is okay. I have you. Do not worry. I delight in you. I will do all that I have told you I would. You are not delusional. I have not forgotten you. Please rejoice today. I have heard your cries and I love you, My Child!”

Me: “Thank You, Father.”

God: “Healing will soon come and breakthrough like the sun at dawn. Breathe, Erin, and do not worry.”

Me: “Can You help me with my worry?”

God: “Yes, I will assist. Now, this is enough for today. You are loved.”

Uriel brought me out of God’s Door.

Uriel: “God has a plan. I know that you are weary. It has been a long journey...a long battle. However, Erin, and by His own Words, great is your reward in Heaven and on Earth. All is about to change. Raphael has been preparing you. Now, do not worry. Be strong. The enemy knows the time you are in and the battles. However, God has a greater plan. I must go now.”

Uriel turned and was gone in an instant.

Dream over.

Dream 464 – Psalm 80 Prayer Begging for God to Rise Up

Received on Thursday, January 7, 2021

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day! Thank You for Your love. Thank You for all that we have. Thank You for our wonderful family and Nest friends. My Spirit has been troubled from Sunday to yesterday. My husband and children could tell I was not myself. I was searching for something, but couldn't find it. I was unable to sleep in peace. My peace was gone. All of the disturbances I felt in my Spirit was realized yesterday.

There has been a great war in the Heavens and here on Earth. We watched helplessly as our President went down in a blaze of shame. This was all part of the enemy's great plans. We watched in horror as people blamed our President for everything that happened. My husband and I couldn't take it and turned off the news.

We went to prayer service at church. Our prayer service has remained in person. However, I am sure that all will soon go to online services again. By all accounts, the enemy has prevailed. The enemy has won and his army is going to overtake us all. I am so sad. I had a dream last night...

Sub-dream 1 "A goat splattered in blood"

I was carrying a huge vessel on my shoulders. I was filling up the vessel with clean water. I was hoping to use the water to make a dirty area clean. This dirty area was a feeding place for the little animals. While I struggled to clean this, I eventually had some success removing the dirt. The clean water had somehow pooled up off to the side with the dirty water. The two had somehow remained separated.

The two created a line in the water as if one side carried oil with it. I went back to the small stream to fill my vessel again. As I turned the corner, I saw an odd-looking large goat. Blood was covering some of it. It was not moving. I brought some water up to it, but it wouldn't drink it. It turned and looked at me and walked up into the trees. As I watched it move away, it was ominous looking and alone. I could feel the spirit of oppression all around it. I sighed.

The goat stopped to look at me one more time and then it was gone. It was sad. I turned to fill up my vessel to finish my cleaning task. I then noticed a piece of blood-stained cloth where the goat once was. I picked it up with my hand. The cloth suddenly turned completely white. All the blood was gone. The composition of the cloth then completely changed as well. Sub-dream 1 over.

After having a dream like this, I knew God was calling me today. Even though I had an appointment at 9:00am, I decided to reschedule it. I went to my devotional chair. I was crying and mourning. I took communion and prayed for divine revelation. I briefly looked at the news and what I suspected would occur did occur. This was a brilliant move by the enemy. This was a great distraction to take away the pursuit of truth.

Father, in my dream last night, I believe You were showing me a scapegoat. The leader You raised up, President Trump, has now become the scapegoat for all of the enemy's schemes. Any hope of vindication or exposure of the corruption is now lost in a moment. All of those who are close to him and who have supported him have resigned. The wicked are even calling for the President to be arrested for insurrection.

Father, why does this always happen? The enemy amplifies an event to draw attention away from the true endgame. How do we even know that this wasn't antifa operatives in patriot clothing storming the Capital? All of this seemed so orchestrated. It all seemed like planned chaos to remove any last sympathizers and to take away all of our liberties in pursuit of fair justice.

I know what it is like to watch this as all of those closest to you leave you and won't take your calls. They then cancel playdates with their children and yours. When they run into you at the store, they look at you with pity, but quickly move on. They then lie and say 'Erin, I have been praying for you.' Seriously, what liars! When I really needed them to witness to me being a good mother, they were nowhere to be found.

I would later find out that my main enemy I was fighting had covertly coerced some of my friends not to help me. He is a great liar, so it is hard to blame them for believing his clever manipulations. He used his family's standing at the church to make it seem that he was the righteous one when he was anything but righteous.

So, there I was... abandoned, in shock, in disbelief... my chest feeling as if an elephant was sitting on it. My back was as tense as if I was in the jaws of a crocodile. My heart was racing. I was about to lose my children because no one would vouch for my character as a good human. What else could I do?

Well, I went, yet again, to my knees and recited my utter anguish and broken heart to God. I was in complete despair now. What were all of these so-called friendships based on? Were any of them real? While I would have moved mountains to help them, I was completely abandoned. This was all in addition to coming up with the money I needed to fight. This was truly impossible.

Well, I was wrong! This was not impossible as God stepped in to help me. You suddenly provided me with better and powerful witnesses, ones that I hadn't even considered. In less than 24 hours, I had multiple witnesses approach me to volunteer to my good character as a person and as a mother. In a divine twist, my witnesses then turned out to be greater and more powerful than my enemy's witnesses...

- Two officers from child protective services that saw me when they were off duty
- Two staff members from the children's school, the principal and the main school counselor
- Four other people that had prestigious careers and were excellent testimonials

You turned all of my heartache around in literally 21 days. What would have been a trial ended up with me being given back what the enemy had stolen. My children and I were even able to go on a small weekend trip. We stayed in a hotel with a pool in our old hometown of Bend in the state of Oregon. For me, this was absolute luxury. We had so much fun, all in peace and joy, after such horrible times.

While I was still subject to continuing retaliatory attacks the next year, with strikes against me by my main enemy, You, in turn, gave me dreams and visions. You turned my great sorrows and gave me joy. We are now here. Father, could You please consider doing the same for President Trump? You appointed him. You raised him up. He gives his monthly salary away to sow seeds into organizations that need help.

He is being destroyed simply for bringing back the USA from its hidden freefall. He was raising our nation up again. He protected the unborn. He fought for religious liberties and freedoms. He did so many things in recognition of Israel, including all of the unrecognized peace treaties. Now this has happened! Oh Father, I believe with all of my heart that You will do something amazing. Please, Father!

Jesus: "Erin, come up."

I walked outside into the front yard. While the tiny creek was crystal clear, it was also almost completely frozen over again.

Me: "Raphael, you definitely cleared up our little stream."

It was quite cold outside. I felt a hand on my shoulder. I turned and there was Raphael. He was smiling.

Raphael: "Come, Erin. God requests your presence."

As soon as he reached for my hand, the bridge appeared. He walked me across the bridge to the other side. Uriel then appeared on his horse. While Uriel nodded at me, he waved at Raphael. Raphael went over to Uriel to discuss something. They looked very serious. I couldn't hear what they were saying. Curiosity got the best of me.

Me: "Um, excuse me... what is happening?"

They ignored me. As soon as I finished saying this, a blossoming tree suddenly appeared next to them. I recognized the tree. It was an almond tree. There was a path to the right of the tree. I recognized this area as the path to God's Door. I began to walk down the path to see God! In a kidding fashion, I started skipping down the path by myself towards God's Door. Just then, Uriel and Raphael were walking next to me on both sides. I felt so safe with them. I had a huge smile on my face.

Uriel: "Well, Raphael, just so you know... Erin will wander off on her own from time to time."

Raphael: Laughing. "Yes, I have already noticed this."

Me: "Well, in my defense, you both deserted me for the tree that just appeared."

Uriel: All of us were now laughing. "Oh Erin, God requests your presence. There has been an epic battle. I must return soon."

Raphael: "Do not worry, Erin, as we will walk with you."

Just before reaching God's Door, it opened on its own. Uriel placed salve in my eyes. They both then walked me into God's Throne Room. I could hear the choir of God's angels singing. Tears streamed down my cheeks as we approached God's presence. As per usual, I could not look at God directly, but could see activity all around Him. In reality, my burden was greater than my need to understand what was around me.

I dropped to my knees to praise Him. My heart was broken. It was so hard to see the nation about to fall to the hands of the enemies of God's people. I found myself trembling and crying. I did this in my prayer last night during worship service and I was still doing so this morning as I prayed. I decided to pray out loud and plead a 'Turbo-boosted Sparrow Alternate XL Version' of Psalm 80 directly to God...

"Give ear, O Shepherd of Israel, You Who lead Joseph like a flock, You Who are enthroned upon the cherubim, shine forth. Before the Israelites, stir up Your Might and come to save us! Restore us, O God; let Your face shine that we may be saved! O Lord God, my Father, my Creator, how long will You be angry with Your people's prayers? You have fed them with the bread of tears and given them tears to drink in full measure of their afflictions.

"You make us the object of contention with our neighbors. Our enemies and the nations laugh among themselves. Their contempt is with them and they plan on paying back God's people in full measure according to their prayers. Restore us, O Father Who created us in Heaven, Who sent His Son, Jesus, to save us, Who died for us and raised Himself up after three days. In Your fury, You caused the sky to grow dark and the ground to shake. You brought down the stones of the Temple one upon another and the Stone the Builder had rejected became the Cap Stone.

"You then opened the graves and rose the dead, all because You are God. So, Father, how long until You restore us? Let Your face shine that we might be saved and that we might also shine, with Your glory upon us and that we would go out on behalf of the Kingdom of the Lord, You, Father of Hosts, and declare a victory. O Father, the nations are far from You and Your judgment hangs in the balance of fair weights and measures. But the world uses unjust measures against the good and the dragon and the tigers lie in wait for their prey.

"Turn again, one last time, and turn back to us. Look down from Heaven and see, have regard for this vine, the stock that Your Right Hand planted and for the Son Whom You made strong for Yourself. See, they have burned it with fire. They have cut it down. May they perish at the rebuke of Your Face. But let Your Hand, Father, be the Right Hand of the Son of Man, Who You have made strong for Yourself, the One Who cherishes His Bride."

I lifted my right hand up to God. I wanted to make sure He was okay with what I was praying. I knew I must have because I felt a warmth go through me. I also felt strengthened to continue...

"Then, Father, we shall not turn back from You. Give us life, O Father. Breathe into us, O Mighty Lord of Hosts. Pour into our Spirits. Make our dying bodies full of the water from Your Throne! O Father, fill our emptiness with things of Heaven. Restore us, O Father, and nourish our souls and redeem our branches. Restore us, O God of Hosts. Please let Your face shine that we may be saved. Please accept my cry, Father. You have my heart and my whole being.

"You gave me back my children, returning them to me. You gave me more than I asked for. You saw my affliction and answered me with good things. You said that You promised me Isaiah 40. You gave me Isaiah 61, Psalm 45, Psalm 46 and Psalm 91. Father, please grant us comfort. We are like Ezekiel 37, the old dry bones in the valley. O Father, breathe into us one last time. It has been 2000 years. Please consider us!"

My prayer was complete. I hoped that this was pleasing to the Father of all Creation.

God: "Erin, I have heard your pleas, cries and prayers. I Am the God Who sees. I know all things. I Am not idle. The nation and its leaders have given itself over to the plans of the enemy. It is difficult for you to see it on display. However, what you see is not the full truth. I Am the God of Truth. I cannot lie nor do I defile myself.

"I raise up leaders. Man does not control deposing them. I do. I offered up My Own Son as a living sacrifice to atone for the sins of man as a scapegoat. It was not man who took My Son's life, but His to offer up, understand? What you believe to be true and what is true are not the same. It is only I Who sees all things.

"Now, the enemy has offered up a leader, My appointed leader, as a scapegoat. They have placed blood on him. They have paraded him around. They have put the sins of the nation all on this one man. However, Erin, and as you now know, I will not let the nations make a mockery of the one I raised up, the one the prophets spoke of. I Am the God of Justice.

"Just as you have seen in your dream, pure water, sanctified by an angel of the Lord, does not mix with dirt and oil. Pure water instead remains separate and holy, kept from that which only claims to be holy. I will separate those who are law abiding from those who claim to be law abiding, but are visibly corrupt. I will harshly judge those who call evil good and good evil. I will expose the plots of the wicked. They will be unable to remove their blood-stained garments, understand?"

Me: "Yes, Father."

God: "Erin, I Am about to raise up My Remnant, My Branch of Government and My Covenant over My People. No weapon formed against My Remnant will prosper. I will be with you. The promise of spring is not always in the calendar season. However, it is the Staff of Aaron which now blossoms that is a promise and a sign. Erin, I have prepared My Vessels. The Vessels I have prepared are My Temple Vessels. They have been prepared for My Purposes."

Me: "It hurts, Father. My heart hurts. I grieve for the people. I don't understand..."

God: "Yes, but I understand. Erin, you must know that, as God, I see all things. I Am the God of Mercy. I Am the God Who also extends Grace. The wicked will not prosper. The land is Mine. The air is Mine. The waters are Mine. The birds of the air are Mine. The animals of the ground are Mine. The creatures in the sea are Mine.

"It is by My Breath that something is breathed into being. Erin, it is I Who determines the days of a man. It is I Who removes his breath unto death. However, it is also I Who meets him there and has mercy to extend his days. Now, I have heard you. I have heard your prayer. I have a Great Plan. I Am the God over times and seasons. Rejoice, Erin, for what you have prayed is good."

Me: "Father, is now a good time or season? Please!"

I felt two hands, one on my right shoulder and one on my left shoulder. They gently squeezed my shoulders. I was not sure if this was in jest, but I was pretty sure they were joking around and making a point that I should not be questioning God. What happened next confirmed this... He started laughing. As God laughed, the entire place rolled with the Movement of God.

God: "Do not rebuke her. It is okay. Erin, I know that you are tired and weary. I know that you are ready and waiting. Do you not see the signs of the times nearing even closer to your door? I love you. I will not tarry. I have a great gift to bring you. However, and more than this, My Vessels will run over and your Oil will pour out. By My Own Hand, I will conceal you from your enemies.

"My light will shine upon you and it will cause many to flee. The oil that you will pour out will be a blessing and cause a great increase. While you have been last amongst people and rejected for no cause, you will soon be first in the Kingdom of Heaven, visibly on Earth. Your cup will never be empty. Your debts will be removed. You cannot be purchased by man. Your mantle will be peace.

"Your desire for the pleasures of earthly things have been removed. I will therefore increase your Heavenly Storehouses. Yours is the Oil of Gladness. You are a jewel in the Crown of the King, Your Groom. Oh, how I have longed to dry up your tears and restore you. Oh, how I have longed to comfort you and tell you that your debts are paid for. Oh, how I have longed to give you the peace that surpasses all understanding. Well, I will soon give all of this to you. My recompense is with Me."

I then heard the choirs of angels singing 'Holy, Holy, Holy' in layers. Uriel and Raphael brought me to the door. I turned and waved as they brought me out the door.

Me: "I love You, Father."

God: "I love you, Erin. I Am the God Who is with you."

Uriel: "I must go now. Raphael will walk you home."

Uriel turned and was gone before I could say anything.

Raphael: "It is okay, Erin... Uriel knows that you are grateful. So, what did you 'unpack' from all of what God has told you?"

Me: "Well, I am not fully sure. I still don't know the time. He could send the nations through a year of troubles first." I shrugged my shoulders.

Raphael: "Is this what you garnered from God here? Erin, God has spent a great amount of time with you on this path. I do not recall that He has ever done anything quite like this before in this way. What stands out to you?"

Me: "Psalm 45?"

Raphael: "Ah, very good... 'the hands of a skillful writer'... when you don't even write. Yes, this is just like God. He doesn't necessarily call the educated, He educates the called. You have been schooled by the furnace.

While all of this has been difficult on you, God has always been with you. He has sent angels concerning you. From time to time and at different moments in your life, I have seen you... pivotal moments. So, can you say you are more qualified now than you once were?"

Me: "I am quieter. I am slower to speak. I suppose I have learned from the mistakes I have made. There have been many. I was in great shape at one point in my life, but this is certainly not the case anymore. There is nothing I can do now on my own aside from God's miracles. Oh Raphael, I need God's healing and soon."

Raphael: "He doesn't call the equipped..." He nudged me. "...from gymnasiums... He equips the called." He laughed.

Me: I now wanted to tease him back. "Hmm, you keep doing that... that... whatever that is... you know... that thing you do... equip the called."

Raphael: Smiling. "Well, I have been appointed to equip you for your calling."

Me: "Oh, so you are my trainer."

Raphael: Now laughing. "Well, yes, in a way. However, I am here to bring you from one state of being to another. You will then be trained. You will then be equipped by God."

Me: "When will this finally be here?"

Raphael: "Erin, do you not see?"

Me: I looked around in an exaggerated fashion. "Well, I saw the blooming tree. Almond, I believe. Oh no! Are you talking spring? Spring is like two to three months away. That seems way too long to wait now with all that is going on around here."

Raphael: "Okay, okay..." He shook his head as he laughed. "Look, you just need to relax. This will be on God's timing, not yours, little sparrow."

Me: "Oh Raphael, what will happen? Things are getting really bad in the USA."

Raphael: "Remember how the cities burned for many months. Even though there was horrible anarchy, the one side kept saying 'let it burn, let it be'.

Now this one thing happens on the other side and they state that this was enough to remove the sins and guilt of all the other events. Well, wisdom is proved right by her actions. However, there is no wisdom here. When there is no wisdom, God is removed.

"Erin, the event last night was a planned attack, but by the enemy. This was meant to remove all hope. When hope is gone, so too falls the nation. You know the enemy by his fruit...or lack thereof. All of this is because of low hanging fruit on a bad tree. Just as the fruit is rotten, so too are the deeds of those who eat of this. Still, even though it seems chaotic, you are not to worry.

"The enemy hopes to make God's appointed and elected leader go down in flames... even wearing an orange jumpsuit, if they can. Well, if they could, they would round up his entire bloodline and execute them via firing squad. Even though they are against firearms, they would be just fine with them in this particular case. Heaven sees all of this though. God's Courts are filled day and night with intercessors.

"Erin, do not worry even though it seems bad as everyone is turning away from him. Do not worry as God's 'got this'. Those appointed for this time 'have this'." He pointed to himself. He then pointed to me. "You will also be a part of this. Yes, I know...they will try to cancel all of us. They will hit the delete button, the reverse button, the empty the trash button and will then even block their screens.

"However, God is over all of this. Anyone who dares try to cancel God and His children..." He shook his head. "...well, it won't go well for them. I can assure you that they will be in much worse shape when God cancels them instead." He smiled and then pretended he was being called away.

"Oh look, here we are. Hey, I have a really busy day. The guys are calling me. I've got to run."

Me: Laughing. "Thanks for all of this."

Raphael: Pulling out an oversized remote. "I am rewinding that. What did you say again?"

Me: I realized I was to thank God, never the angels. "Oh yes... thanks to God for sending you to make me laugh."

Raphael: "Ah, better, much better. We serve God and delight to do His Will.

It is my pleasure to serve God on this." He smiled. "Now, I must fly. Do not worry. Be strong. I will see you very soon. There will be much to do."

In an instant, both Raphael and the bridge were gone. I then heard a horn making an announcement sound. I looked around, but I couldn't see where it came from.

Dream over.

Dream 465 – The Angels Are No Longer Simply Holding the Line

Received on Sunday, January 10, 2021

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for a beautiful sunny winter's day! I had a horrible sleep last night. I couldn't stop coughing and it was so annoying. While I still had a couple of memorable dreams, this was so irritating. I felt this was warfare at the core. Still, Father, You won. You always win. We thank You for being the Greatest Winner in history. You have never known defeat. Here is my first dream from last night...

Sub-dream 1 "Four Categories of Vaccines"

Several of us were marked as required to take a vaccine. Since I was older, my vaccine was slightly different. In order to receive the required shot regimen, I had to state who lived in our home and our social security information. Each of us were required to have a device, usually a smartphone, be set to a special Emergency Medical Services (EMS) Warning System. There was also a tracing app required to be downloaded.

I then found out that, if you refused to comply, you would be unable to enter a grocery store, get gas or have medical services. There was more to this and the restrictions would include the entire household. In other words, household compliance was mandated. Without this, employers could terminate your employment and refuse to hire you. You would also lose access to your banks and other financial institutions.

I prayed about this as I just knew that this was a precursor to the Mark of the Beast system. I still had many questions, so I made my way to a 'Vaccine Technician'...

Me: "How will you know if I have had the vaccine?"

Tech: "There is a chemical emission that occurs and is visible through sensors. If you do not have it, an alarm will sound before entry into, say, a grocery store, as just one example."

This made my stomach turn.

Me: "What vaccine is given to my children?"

Tech: "It is a good one and has 'transformative properties'. Now, you stated that your sons are 21 and 23."

Me: "Yes."

Tech: "When I pull up your information, I see that both of them are on the autism scale."

Me: "Yes."

Tech: "There is a property in the vaccine that will remove all of that."

I then heard a couple of the technicians snickering. I then heard one of them whisper to the other..." Yes, the vaccine will permanently remove all of it."

Me: Pretending not to have overheard this. "What did they just say?"

Tech: "Ignore them. Now, let's look at your younger son. I see that he works gainfully in essential employment. We will likely give him a different vaccine than your older son."

Me: "I don't understand. What are these? Are they not just to prevent COVID-19, the Coronavirus?"

Tech: "Yes, but there is also an environmental justice platform to enhance living for the greater good of all people. Studies have shown that this vaccine is not just a vaccine, but also has transformative genetic enhancements. It is wonderful. Now, from what I see here, you have not had your genetic screening. This is one of the things required to determine each of your classifications. There are four classifications..."

- The first category is for those determined as 'Visionaries'.
- The second category is for those determined to be 'Intelligence Support'.
- The third category is for 'Workers' aged 14 to 60.
- The fourth category is for those we call 'Groundbreakers'. Groundbreakers include those over 60, the handicapped and the mentally disabled.

"Each in your household would have varying categories..."

- Your vaccine would be in the fourth category. This includes a screen of a genetic map.
- Your older son would also be in the fourth category.
- Your younger son would be in the third category.
- Your stepdaughter would either be in the second category or the third category.
- Both your daughter and your stepson would be in the second category."

Me: "What happens to those of us in the fourth category?"

I then heard another comment by the once again snickering tech..."Tell her what it really means!"

Tech: Smiling and shaking her head. "Look, have you lived a good life? Have you done all that you had hoped?"

Me: "Well, I suppose, yes, more or less."

Tech: "Well then, you have therefore reached your 'Capabilities Capacity'."

Me: "Hmm, I really don't believe that."

Tech: "Allow me to summarize. You are on disability. You cost the government systems around $30K per year. That is a lot of money considering that you have already surpassed your 'maximum output'."

Me: "Okay, I am getting this now. When you say we have been categorized as 'Groundbreakers', what you really mean is that we are 'Gravediggers', but our own graves, right?"

Tech: "Oh no, we are not inhumane. We do the digging."

Me: "I will think about this first. My older son is brilliant. He should not be in the fourth category. At least move him up to the third category."

Tech: "You are not getting it. If you can't contribute more to society than what you take from it, you are a GB (Groundbreaker)."

Me: "Thank you, but we will wait."

Tech: "Okay, but you will starve."

Me: "Given that me and my oldest son have already been labelled for Groundbreaking, marked for death, why would we get the vaccine?"

Tech: "Well, it is up to you to wait. However, I will have no choice but to then mark your entire household in the fourth category. I hope you will reconsider. Go and discuss this with your family. This usually results in the natural breakup of the family unit. Being in the fourth category is usually an ending point for discussion. I suggest you rethink this. It would be a real shame to have your whole family classified in the fourth category."

Sub-dream 1 over.

I suddenly woke up. This dream felt so real. I then had another dream...

Sub-dream 2 "The Land is flushed and then Prospers"

Members from Congress and the Senate were in clothes from the early 1900s. Each one represented something from the following categories...

Cotton, wheat, corn, garments, steel, coal, oil, silver ore, potatoes, fish, gold, granite / marble, limestone, peanuts, peaches, apples, turquoise, cattle, pork, cheese, automobiles, ships, planes, music, show horses, wild horses, glass, pottery, entertainment, timber, building, shale and money.

Note: While there might have been other categories, I do not recall. The above list is what I could recall.

I then saw a massive map of the USA. It reminded me of a map I remembered when my grandpa took us to Sambos Restaurant in Reno NV. They gave us a placemat of the USA and each state had a symbol on it. All I remember is my grandpa raving about the 99 cent breakfasts. This massive map was in Washington DC.

Each representative had to bring an offering of what each state represented. When a rep would walk up, they put a label on the map, along with a status report. Along with this, the rep would include a large sack of the state's commodity 'under God'. When they were all finished, they stood in their respective states. I then saw Heaven split open. I heard the Voice of God and He did not sound happy...

Voice of God: "I gave you this land for 400 years. Much of your offerings I will not accept. I am not happy. I gave each one provisions so each state was important as the next and equal under Heaven. However, I now see uproars in the streets, burning in your cities, sacrificing children to Molech and selling off what I have given to you to the highest bidder.

"You then shutter My churches. You label that which is good evil and what is evil as good. You disrespect your parents, the old and the infirm. You neglect your children and even sell them. My judgment will therefore fall swiftly. I will clean all of this up and restore that which has been stolen from Me. I am angry with you!"

Just then, Heaven closed. Four angels then appeared with massive push brooms. Each of the angels started from the corners and brought all of the representatives into the center of the map. The angels then shoved the representatives and their empty offerings, unclean to God, into the Mississippi River. The water was then stirred up like a whirlpool. It swirled like a toilet and flushed all of them into the Gulf of Mexico.

I then saw the land prosper supernaturally in resources and commodities. The map turned from a flat 2D to a vibrant 3D with colors. It was now beautiful.

Sub-dream 2 over.

Father, both of these dreams were deeply disturbing. Please have mercy on the USA. For the first time, I am observing people I know that are close to each other fighting against each other in public forums. It has become really brutal. One post read something like this...

'A dog had his chain reduced one link at a time every few days. This continued until his chain was so short that he could barely move. He never resisted because he was conditioned to the slow loss of his freedom over time. This is what is happening to Americans right now!'

My husband and I are in shock right now at how quickly all things evil have progressed. When I was photographing the Corona phenomena around the sun on January 18, 2020, You told me... 'This is it, a great sign, all is about to change.' I then showed my friends what had just occurred and they exchanged some stories with me. Oh Father, we now need a miracle sent from you to keep us with hope and freedom.

Jesus: "Erin, come up."

I walked out to the front yard by the stream. The sun was so bright. The water was crystal clear. For the first time that I can remember, I could see the colors of the stones in the riverbed. I smiled. Just then, I felt a hand on my shoulder. It was Raphael. He was in full battle armor. Even though I knew that he was fully protected, I was still concerned for his safety.

Me: "Wow, Raphael, there really is an epic war right now!"

Raphael: "Yes, Erin. It is the final push by enemy forces."

Me: "I am honored that God would send you here in the middle of this battle considering angels aren't omnipresent!"

Raphael: Smiling. "You are correct. However, we can move quickly from one place to another, but only as God commands given that I am not Lord God.

However, I am on this side of the battle as part of 'Operation Heaven's Shield'. Other angels are up in the heavenlies. They are no longer simply holding the line. They are also now in the midst of the battle. This is why God's people are so restless right now. Their sleep is being disturbed. The atmosphere is heavy as the war is now active just above you all."

Me: "So, Uriel and others are there now?"

Raphael: "Yes, Erin. Our best fighters are there. However, they are also here with you." He smiled. "God has trained all of us to battle against the enemy's schemes. Since they are not inspired by God, their wisdom is never afresh with new innovations. They use old war patterns instead. They do this based on old battles. There is a predictability to this. God's army is much larger. God's innovation and creativity is amazing. After all, He did create creativity!" He smiled.

"Now, I have a message of comfort to bring you from God. First, greater is He Who is in you than he who is in the world. Second, He has positioned angels over you who are here with you. As you can see, I am close by. Territorially speaking, Gabriel is over the region, along with his regiment of Heaven's armies. This is good. His territory and mine extends from the northern regions down to the southern areas as far as Brazil."

Me: "Oh wow! Are you over Washington DC too?"

Raphael: "Well, yes, in a way. However, there is a massive army fighting a great Jezebel-type spirit there. As for here, there is something like a Lilith prince / princess."

Me: "Those are real entities?"

Raphael: "Yes. They have armies and ranks. Many of the lower ranks have entered into humans. These are humans that are bitter and angry. You are unable to see through the veil to the war unless God grants this. However, you know those possessed by evil spirits by their actions.

"These people have no filter, no self-control and no positive fruits. It is not difficult to differentiate them. There are times when we have been mostly over Europe and Israel. However, this was more than 400 years ago. Heaven's army has expanded with time passing."

Me: "Oh, I see... so you came from the European regions! That explains why you are in so many paintings. Wow!"

Raphael: Laughing. "Erin, while we are also still over Europe, we are not as much over the Middle East. This has been repositioned. My territory extends to 'the great divide'."

Me: "Are you referring to the Mississippi River?"

Raphael: "Yes. However, make no mistake...if I am needed for reinforcements, God will send me immediately. Our armies are strong and massive. One day, the veil will be lifted in the spirit realm. However, most humans will not survive the initial shock of the veil being removed. Once the Bride is gone, it will be a difficult time." He then nudged me and I knew he was now being playful. "But hey, we still have these times, right? This is good, right?"

Me: Laughing. "Very true, Raphael. So, when did God give you directives to fight instead of just holding the line?"

Raphael: "While I can't give you specifics, your gauge is God's Spirit in you. When were you deeply troubled?"

Me: "Well, it definitely began before January 4, 2021. It might have been on the first of the month (January 1, 2021). Oh, perhaps it was in December 2020. I am not able to pinpoint it. There was that date in December defined as a 'pivotal point'."

Raphael: "It matters not. Just know that the angels of Heaven are now in full battle, not just holding the line. Pray, Erin, for an even greater move of Heaven is soon to come and the enemy is furious.

"Now, about your first dream. This dream is about what the enemy is planning. This is a warning. God confirms this. While there is so much that the enemy has done, soon this will all be revealed.

"If something presents itself to you or if you feel disturbed in your Spirit, this is a sign. However, do not forget to also ask the Lord. He is right there to answer you immediately. You must not forget to tap into the Greatest Gift you have. This is what the Lord has given you.

"Erin, you have unlimited data, full coverage, no weekend or evening restrictions and all 24 hour 7 days a week access to God. The enemy can't monitor your calls or drop your service. God will soon increase this greatly. You will then directly receive His messages in real time."

Me: "But what about you? Will I not see you, Uriel or Breakthrough again?"

Raphael: Laughing. "You sure will. Think of us as being like your 'service technicians'. We help you with your new upgraded features. We help you navigate how to use what God has given you. We also grant you service protection. You will never be without help. You won't even need that archaic cellphone you use... or should I call it the enemy's version of God's Holy Spirit. How about 'unholy cellular service'? Now, do you remember how God showed you the massive web over the Earth, complete with the spider and the giant dragons?"

Me: "Yes."

Raphael: "Well, this has been an ongoing fight." He shook his head. "There is some very bad stuff that you are best not to see until you are strengthened. The angels of God have been working to cut down much of the operations. The enemy's platform is lies.

"While your cellphone is necessary right now, it can be a communicator of bad information. However, with God, His Service, the Spirit of God in you, is always of truth, Good News and things of Heaven. So... yes... try to remove yourself from the lies. Now, here is some more good news. Are you ready for this? Are you ready?"

Me: "Oh yes, please!"

Raphael: "Just as importantly... we win! God wins! He has won already. This means you have already won. Have you let this sink in yet? You haven't! I can see it in your eyes. God knows, Erin. It is difficult to understand what is happening or anything good when you are not feeling well. When you are in the middle of a battle, it feels more like that one popular movie series..."

Me: "Are you referring to the Hunger Games?"

Raphael: "Do not think the enemy is beyond a plan like this for one moment, understand? There are things the enemy has already done. When you are shown things after you are strengthened, you will have righteous anger. God will then use this anger for His Glory. A great day is coming when those who are the least, the forgotten, the elderly, the broken in spirit and the bankrupt will be redeemed by God.

"Erin, His remnant is about to rise. Oh, what a great and terrible day this will be. I will be with you... as one of your service technicians, of course." He laughed. "I will be helping you from one state as you are now to another." He smiled. "Oh wow, will you look at that?" I heard a trumpet sound. "Well, I have to run. The guys... yes, Gabriel included... are calling. I have got to go now." He smiled.

"Erin, there are saints in Heaven who wished they could be where you are now. There is no greater time and there is no greater honor, understand? Please relax, Erin. God has got your back."

Raphael smiled at me, but was then gone in an instant.

Dream over.

Dream 466 – The Red Tide has turned into the Red Wave

Received on Tuesday, January 12, 2021

Communion

Dear Father,

Note: The Red Tide and the Red Wave are NOT referring to the Republican Party (GOP) of the USA. No, this is small thinking. This is about God Himself sweeping the land, something all of us have been praying for with all of our might!!

Thank You for another day! Thank You for all You continue to do. It has been difficult to watch the horrifying events unfold as the USA is now splitting in half. There are those who stand for truth and justice, equality and freedom, all under You, Father. On the other side, there are those who are united in their great hate against any opposition to their agenda, but really against You, Father.

Father, You are allowing things to move so quickly now. This is going so fast that I can't even wrap my head around all of it. Not long ago, I complained that everything was moving along so slowly. I guess one should be careful for what they wish for. We are so unsettled by the speed of events that my husband and I started an emergency three day fast starting after dinner tonight. Our next meal will be dinner on Friday evening.

I should also point out that my daughter has been fasting since January 1st. She is going to go for 21 days... or at least that is what she is shooting for. Ever since her fast started, You have been speaking through her in vivid dreams. They are even coinciding in some ways to my dreams. This is like synergy. However, there is something that would stop our fast in its tracks. Our Transformation! We'll then be celebrating!

The alternate platform to the censorship on Twitter was an app called Parler. I visited Parler from time to time, but decided to check it out more closely to see if there really is an 'insurrection'. I didn't see it. In fact, it was quite civil. The only hateful posts were from liberals. They were saying such wicked things. While I don't like what they say, they deserve to be on there. Free speech is not about silencing the opposition.

Well, Parler is now gone... completely shutdown by the left. The app was destroyed. The server owned by Amazon dropped them. Everything is gone. In the meantime, Twitter, Facebook, Google, Amazon, Apple and even financial institutions are beginning to assault the creators and their sympathizers.

Things then accelerated even more. The word came out yesterday that all election fraud claims and 'stop the steal' were to be removed ahead of Biden's scheduled inauguration. All of this seems to be very much fear based. If they didn't steal the election, they shouldn't care if people discussed it. Their hands would be clean.

Well, Father, You have allowed all of this. It is so evil... like off the charts evil. I had a dream last night...

Sub-dream 1 "The Red Tide has turned into the Red Wave"

I was somewhere on the West Coast. The tides were very high. It was dark as it was now nighttime. The water kept rising. There was no end in sight for how high it seemed the water would go. Without warning, a massive wave then swept up the black seas into a powerful crest. Someone had their radio on...

Radio Reporter: Yelling. "Caution! The Red Tide has turned into the Red Wave. It is powerful. Take cover."

Sirens started to sound and people began to evacuate. Too little too late as this Red Wave was coming fast. Many went to the range of mountains and others over inland to evacuate the coast. No one was prepared.

Man: Screaming out. "The Red Wave has come on shore, but it has now turned white."

Everyone kept running. The crest of the Wave was now sweeping over the mountain range.

Sub-dream 1 over.

I woke up suddenly at 4:00am. I was tired and it was too early to wake up. I reached over for my phone to see if there was any late breaking news. There it was. The Crimson Tide had just swept the Buckeyes 52 to 24. The College Football Championship between Alabama and Ohio was last night. I didn't even know there was an important game on.

I next woke up at around 8:30am. I went down and woke up my older son. We had a telemedicine doctor's appointment at 9:00am. I kept reading headlines and even some twitter posts. I then saw one that was greatly alarming. The poster indicated that he was a black conservative software engineer at Amazon.

He went into his supervisor's office to resign after he posted that he could no longer work at a 'communist' organization. He identified his personal website as 'Red Wave' (Ali Fisher). I later tried to find him, but he was removed. After all of this commotion, I spent a lot of time in prayers. I just know something is coming as my Spirit is restless. Father, are You about to move?

Jesus: "Erin, come up."

I walked outside in our yard. There was a red feather in the snow. I wondered if it was from the Red Cardinal that has been visiting me. I have not seen him for a few days. I picked up the feather and walked over to the stream. There was no bridge. I felt a hand on my shoulder. It was Raphael.

Raphael: Smiling. "Erin, your King is over all things. God has sent me to tell you that what you feel in your Spirit is real. There is a great war in the heavenlies. The enemy knows that the times of great change is upon the land. Because of this, they are working overtime to change truth into fiction and fiction into truth.

"However, you are not to worry. When God moves, the enemy will too, but not in the way the enemy wants. After this, you will not see them as much. This is not because God has Raptured them, but because they run in fear at the sight of His Army. Be encouraged, Erin. Do not be afraid. God is greater than all that you see. One group stands for truth and the other group stands for lies."

Me: "I recently read where a former President had said 'To anger a conservative, lie to him. To anger a liberal, tell him the truth.' This is what is happening right now."

Raphael: "I know it is difficult to watch the rise of the wicked. However, do not worry as their fall will be quick. God will deliver you from this."

Me: "Our delivery? But I was hoping for our Transformation instead so that we can all work with Jesus in a closer and mighty way."

Raphael: "Oh Erin, delivery means bringing you from one state to another state. A baby is delivered from the womb to the world. Perhaps you are about to be delivered from the womb of the world to the glorified state of Heaven. Erin, God has a Great Plan. It is always darkest before the dawn. Do not worry."

I heard a twig snap to my right. I turned and looked and then back at Raphael, but he was already gone. I couldn't help but laugh.

Dream over.

Dream 467 – Back in the Arms of Jesus

Received on Wednesday, January 13, 2021

Communion

Dear Father,

Note: This was quite the surprise! I had not met with Jesus in person for a Nest dream since Dream 446 on Sunday, November 15, 2020. It was so awesome to be hugged by Him again after nearly two months. How blessed am I to experience such amazing things from Heaven? I am so thankful that I can share all of this with all of you.

Thank You for another day! Thank You for Your love and protection over us. Thank You for sending angels to protect us in all that we do. Father, I know You are in charge over all things. I listened to the prayer for the opening of President Trump's impeachment today. This woman prayed for the sword of truth to pierce the atmosphere and prevail. Yes, Father, may Your Mighty Will be done!

I had hoped for some great miracles this morning. Instead, the war of silencing truth and replacing it with lies has come. It is a massive wave of dark lies. An employee from PBS was caught on an interview calling for the removal of all children in any household that supported the Republicans. This person wants these children to then be placed into reeducation camps.

While PBS subsequently removed this employee and put out a statement denouncing extremist ideology, how many people on the left absolutely agree with this? Trump was removed from YouTube. What comes next? I remember years ago in history class not putting much creed into Orwellian theology as in the novel 1984. However, we are there now. What I did pay attention to though was the cruelty of the Nazis.

I was so horrified by the Nazi agenda. They did horrible things to anyone who disagreed with them. In my mind I thought that this would never happen again. I felt that the genocide of an entire group of people would never happen again. Well, what happened to the Jews is now happening to Christians all over the world. Sadly, I am now seeing the set up for this happening here, but for an even broader group of people.

The radical left is calling for the removal of anyone who voted for the Republicans. They want anyone who did so to have no income, no healthcare, no license to drive and no ability to fly on an airplane. They even want to set up a snitch line to identify all of them. There is a push to remove truth and cancel history. They want to cancel You, Father. This is all so horrible.

We are Your children. We come in many different colors, many different socio-economic backgrounds and many different countries. We are like grains of sand on a seashore. Father, please cover us with Your love and comfort. Please help us! We need You! In Jesus' Name, Amen!

Father, I am so distressed in my heart right now. I am in so much pain. I actually hurt from all that I am seeing. I love You. Millions of people claim to honor You. None of us have been perfect... not one. Not one of us is pure in heart. As much as we can be refined in the furnace of affliction, we are still flawed. I am angry, Father! I do not like what is happening.

Evil appears to be winning.

Oh Father, when will You deliver truth? When will You pull back the veil to expose the wicked? They lie both day and night. There is no comfort. Father, please be our Champion. Our flames are flickering right now. I can't even speak of how great You are and testify with all that You are when the darkness is closing in so quickly. Please don't forget about us. Please don't forget about Your promises.

We love You! Please fill us with lovely things. Please fill our hearts with such joy, peace, comfort and love that we overflow with lovely things of Heaven. Make us like little children wandering in Your Baby Animal Garden, discovering new things in safety and peace. I love the place in Heaven You have created for all of those who love You. Please don't forget us. Please have mercy on our foolishness!

Jesus: "Erin, come up."

I looked out to our yard. There was the Lord. I sprinted towards Him. He was smiling. I ran straight into His arms. I wept as He held me. I could not stop crying.

Jesus: "I am here, Erin. I am with you. I am here."

Me: "Lord, I have missed You so much."

Jesus: Smiling. "But I sent Raphael to keep you smiling. Should I speak to him?"

Me: "Oh no, Lord, he is wonderful."

Jesus: "It is okay, Erin, you can let go."

Me: "I never want to let go of You. When I don't hear from You, I worry that I am out of Your favor."

He pulled me away from Him so that He could look me in the eyes.

Jesus: "I am with you always. You only need to ask Me. I am with you. I answer you in My Voice. You don't talk to Me because you are distracted with many things."

Me: Crying. "I am sorry. I am so sorry."

Jesus: Smiling. "Erin, I see all that is happening. It is difficult to hear lies. These lies seem to multiply, even rebounding and expanding with such force that they gain even more momentum. However, I am not phased by any of this. While the demons have no fear of man, they do fear Me. They also fear God's Children, My Bride, the Remnant, along with anyone associated with them.

"The enemy knows what is coming so they are desperately trying to put laws into place to protect themselves and destroy anyone who stands for God. However, this you must understand... I do not bend truth. I do not compromise truth with a sprinkle of lies. I do not accept a false doctrine. I do not accept the dialog of demons placed into law. Erin, I will not do this.

"A law pressed into vote under threat of man is not a law God abides by, understand? I do not uphold a wicked discourse. So here it is... What you are witnessing is painful. While it does anger Me, it does not surprise Me.

This is the path of the wicked. It is even more difficult to witness lies as edited live action clips enhance certain movements and remove others.

"Once this creative editing occurs, all who see it then see it as truth when it is not necessarily true. Erin, understand that these people who present good as evil and evil as good will be exposed in full. The same goes for all of those who directed them to do so, as well as those who paid for this.

"You have only to understand the patterns of the enemy by what they are doing to those who are good. What they accuse you of doing is what they are doing. What they coerce others to do by threat is what their beliefs and patterns are. Erin, you know all too well what the pattern of an enemy attack is...

- They first surround you
- They then cutoff your ability to communicate with the outside world
- They create infighting based on fear
- They then cut off supplies, including money, food and the means to survive

"All of this is in the hopes of ultimately weakening you for takeover and death. Remember that much is learned in 'Valley Moments'. Giants often appear in these valleys. They come off their lofty hills and taunt those who are unable to fight back. This is just one of those 'Valley Moments'.

However, Who owns the cattle on a thousand hills surrounding this valley? Whose are the beautiful feet who carries Good News? Where does your help come from? Erin, look around..."

Me: "Thank You, Lord. I love You."

Jesus: "I love you too. Erin, the enemy knows that a Great Move of God is coming. This is why he is trying to destroy all good and gain control. He operates in the shadows. Many of his deals are made in the dark of night. However, I am the God Who sees. I separated darkness from light and established it. I also sent in light by day and by night as a reminder to look from where does your light come."

I pointed my finger upward. He then laughed as He reached for my hand and redirected my pointing finger towards Him. I felt silly for not pointing to Him in the first place.

Me: "Of course, Lord. You are our Light."

Jesus: "This is not a rebuke, just a friendly reminder. I would like you to go back to the promises I have given you. I am the Keeper of Promises. I am also your Protector. Erin, I will protect you. I will send angels concerning you to continue to guard you and your children in all that you do. Oh Erin, there is a River that makes glad the City of God. God is in the midst of her. She will not fall. I will help you at the break of day."

Me: Hugging Him tightly. I started to cry. "Thank You, Lord."

Jesus: "This means that I will also do the same for all of those who recognize that it is I Who stands against the giants in the valley. It is I Who own the hills and it is I Who have established all things on Heaven and on Earth. So then, be still and know that I Am God."

Me: "Lord, please help us soon. We are now in the Valley of Decision. Please!"

Jesus: "Erin, I am allowing this to continue in order to establish each person's position. My Father sits on the Seat of Judgment as we speak. His scales are based on good weights and measures. He never uses crooked scales or an unbalanced tongue. God is not easily provoked. This is because the enemy never determines the narrative."

Me: "Lord, perhaps we can provoke our immediate Transformation with love? Can my brokenness provoke You and move You to relent and bring Heaven to Earth? Can I provoke You to heal Your people? We are no one. We are called weak. However, Lord, You can make us strong. Please consider our request." I was now crying again.

"I love You and I love God. I love what You have done for us. There are so many, and even my own children, who wonder if You are seeing all of this. Please just turn, save and strengthen us. There are so many losing hope. Hope is all that we have right now to combat the fear. All of my hope is in You."

Jesus: "Your request is good. I have heard your petitions and I am moved by your heart. Your love provokes Me to move. However, you must let Me finish the Great Separation first, recording their declarations against God's appointed leader (President Trump). Remember your promises that I gave to you. These have not been removed nor have they been fulfilled. I am within you. You will not fall. I will help you at the break of day."

Me: I nodded okay. "Lord, how about right now? This seems like as good a time as any."

Jesus: Smiling. "The Great Separation continues right now, therefore I must go right now." He nudged me. "Just remember that I am always with you.

Rejoice, Erin, as Heaven will soon be visible on Earth... on Earth as it is in Heaven."

Just then, soft snowflakes came down. They fell straight down, gentle and soft. There was no wind. This was happening both in this dream and in reality. The timing was so perfect, just like our Amazing Savior. He reached over and kissed my forehead.

Jesus: "You are greatly loved! I Am the God Who hears. I Am the God Who created you and loves you. Now rejoice!" He smiled. "Soon!"

Dream over.

Dream 468 – A Grand Story is About to Unfold

Received on Friday, January 15, 2021

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for yet another day! However, I sit this morning in brokenness. My heart is broken. Hypocrisy is being proved right by their actions. Father, where is Truth? I have never seen such unbelievable hate spoken against others. Evil has risen quickly. The wicked continue on their course.

I never understood how the rise of communism could have happened so quickly. While it starts as a reasonable premise, it then quickly gives way to totalitarianism. I am having trouble wrapping my mind around such things. I was born in a society that aspired that all men, regardless of their stature, race, religion and so on, were created equal under God. All of us were established by decree to be equal under the law.

While my life was never easy growing up, we were at least able to speak freely and in an open format without fear of harm. While I may disagree with my neighbors or friends, I would like to think that we could still respect and pray for each other. In essence, our society is a desired one to move to for several reasons...

- Freedom: The freedom to carve out a life, not as a captive or a slave, but free. Not owned by anyone but God Himself.
- Liberty: The liberty to be able to pursue your own interests under a lawful governance.
- Justice: The justice to be able to bring forth your grievances before a judge when harmed, attacked or wrongly accused.

These qualities are necessary to enjoy our pursuits of freedom and liberty. I was also taught as a child, both in school and at my grandmother's church, that freedom, liberty and justice for all was under the covering of God. He established it. As a result, I had confidence that God, my Father in Heaven, established dominion and power over our walks in life.

The Left wants us to live in fear, thus giving them more and more power to 'protect' our safety and security. However, they never stop taking. If those in charge over you do not protect you, you cannot enjoy freedom.

Fear of the unknown equates to slavery or captivity by unseen or seen forces.

In 1933, Hitler obtained absolute authority over Germany. This was given to him because the people around him were scared of him. He believed that the Jews were rats and that rats carried diseases and needed to be exterminated completely. Well, the same things spoken back then are now being spoken today. America in 2021 is looking a lot like Germany of 1933. Bone chilling.

There is so much disinformation coming at us. We are overwhelmed by the news. Father, in just a few weeks, our country has been stolen. This was a result of a plan that was set in motion years ago. This was done because President Trump threatened the plans of the enemy by shedding light on his activity.

But, Father, this is Your land and Your country. You established it and laid the foundations of it. You gave rise to this government and You can depose it. Nothing is hidden from You. Father, remember Your people. Remember the promise of the Great Harvest. Rise up, Father. Give the Earth a sign that will shake them. Instead of an earthquake, how about a televised Divine Appearance!

You could stop the sun. You could darken the Earth. You could make a Total Solar Eclipse appear over Washington DC. If so, perhaps this Eclipse could last a couple of hours. Father, my Spirit is in great distress. My dreams are troubling. We are seeing the rise of a Totalitarian State. Our freedoms will be removed. There are threats of reeducation camps for all of those who voted for President Trump.

Father, the same people who fought against building a wall are now placing walls around the Capitol. The same people who wanted to defund the police are now stationing 20,000 troops in the Capitol. These same people who cry out others racism are actually racists themselves. Parents are being turned against their children and children against their parents, neighbors against neighbors.

Only 20 to 50 people are now allowed in church services. Some churches are forbidden from praise and worship songs. We are then forced to wear masks over our mouths. Well, Father, the enemy is doing this as he knows that it thwarts the assignments of the demons against Your children.

How clever it was to release a plague to isolate us and keep us from worshipping. No wonder the enemy has gained steam.

Father, please expose the enemy. Please strip them of their masks. By their own tongues, let them attest to their wicked deeds against Your people and Your country. Please stop their lies. They are flooding the airwaves with such lies day and night that many are growing weary. 9/11/2020 marked 19 years of time You gave to return the country and the hearts of the people back to You.

Instead of this, we were punished instead, all while the wicked celebrates. Many of us did not know the full extent of their evil deeds over all of these years. While we see some now, I just know that this is but a fraction of it. Still, You are our Father. We love You. You saved the Ninevites by calling Jonah. You sent us Jesus to save us from death. However, here we are now, 2000 years later, and hope is still here.

Oh Father, we are Your Bride. Please, Father, equip our hands for battle. Strengthen us. I studied Isaiah 58 this morning. Please strengthen us. Please lead us on the path of righteousness. Please grant us a victory.

Jesus: "Erin, come up."

I walked out the front door to the stream. I took a deep breath. I have been crying a lot lately. Lord, I am scared. I don't have as much courage as I thought. I felt a hand on my shoulder. I turned and it was Raphael. He smiled.

Raphael: "Yes, yes, I know that I am not the Lord. However, I do carry a message from God... 'Erin, keep your flame burning. I am with you. Do not be afraid.'"

Me: "Yes, I know."

Raphael: "I know you are downcast. However, you must eat first. Come back after you have eaten."

Note: My husband and I had been fasting since Tuesday evening. Today was the third and last day of the fast. However, I was struggling. My heart was racing and I was clearly running low on electrolytes. After eating, I felt much better. I asked Jesus if He would still honor my fast and He replied 'Erin, I always search the heart. Your heart springs true and makes Me glad.' With this knowledge, I went back to Raphael.

Jesus: "Erin, come up."

I went back outside and there was Raphael. He was waiting for me.

Me: "Were you out here the whole time?"

Raphael: Laughing. "No. I saw your car pull up."

Me: "Raphael, I have been watching horrible things in the news and it is not getting any better."

Raphael: "Erin, the Israelites came under judgment in the desert. Even though God was with them and had brought them out from under captivity, they still chose to rebel 21 times. Also look at the rebellion of Korah against Moses. God sent fire from Heaven and consumed all 249 coconspirators, as well as Korah.

"God did not stop there though. When Dathan and Abiram complained, God opened up the Earth and swallowed them, along with their wives and children. God told Moses to leave the grumblers. He then sent a plague as punishment. 14,700 men were then struck down. Always remember that God sees all things."

Me: "Raphael, are you speaking of those who stormed the Capitol?"

Raphael: "No, Erin. This was not the Great Rebellion. This was a staged event. I am speaking of the election God's appointed leader (Trump) was harassed continuously for four years. For doing this, their punishment will last a double portion and even longer. Erin, the times of the Prophet Joel as foretold has come.

"God will well up in His elect and pour out supernatural wisdom, knowledge, self-discipline, courage and boldness to speak God's Will into being. The old will appear young and strong. Healings will increase across the nations. This is the time of New Beginnings under the Cover of God over you... the Huppah."

Me: "I noticed that we are in the Hebrew year of 5781..."

- The number 5, represented by the letter Hey, looks like a man with raised hands and represents God's creative power
- The number 7, represented by the letter Zayin, represents a plow and means weapon, sword and nourishment
- The number 8, represented by the letter Chet, represents a wall and means separation
- The number 1, represented by the letter Aleph, represents an ox and looks like a bull and means strength and leader

"These symbols in Hebrew letters seem like a Godly 'order of things'!"

Raphael: "I think you are beginning to understand the majesty and power of the Creator of all things. Now, you are seeing an increase in evil like nothing before. The enemy has sent the rain to wear down his opponents.

Do not be disheartened when you hear bad reports because you must understand the source. Do you truly believe your enemies want the best for you? Of course not.

"However, unfortunately, this is historically how events go. One side is open, vulnerable and in shock, just wanting everything to return to normal.

They then compromise their principles and positions in order to negotiate. What you have seen is a band of kidnappers who have just taken the country by storm. If they had their way, the ransom would be your lives or forcing you to denounce your beliefs.

"As you now clearly understand, this is the Motus Operandum of the final days. However, the demons have not followed God's schedule. They have become excited at the power they revel in. They are unable to display any self-control. There is a saying for this. Oh yes... they jumped the gun. Well, God is about to change the rules and call them back to the starting line.

"We have all enjoyed watching this in the past as it has happened before. As you know, there is nothing new under Heaven. That being said, God can still create a new thing... which is actually an old creation... because He planned this a long time ago." He laughed and nudged me.

Me: "Wow, that is amazing."

Raphael: "Yes. What is about to happen is new to the enemy as it has not been previously mapped out in sequence or in script. This is because God has saved some of His best work for the final hour."

Me: "The 11th hour?"

Raphael: "Well, yes. What you are witnessing is like Haman constructing the gallows in which he planned to hang Mordecai. He couldn't contain his glee. He built this nice and high so that all in the city could see it."

Me: "How high?"

Raphael: "50 cubits or about 75 feet. He even hired an architect. Well, God does not enjoy fools. This is a good story and fits in nicely with what you are seeing right now. Do not sympathize with those who plot to annihilate a group of people. This does not please God. Remember that God studies a man and knows the core of his heart. He waits for the proper time to administer judgment. Do not worry. This will also be a great story. You are watching God. His Army is setting the stage as we speak."

Me: "Oh Raphael, all of this is so difficult to watch."

Raphael: "This is because you are seeing events happening which are void of God. You are witnessing evil rejoice. None of us enjoy this. Still, we are to trust in God. He has never forgotten, nor will He ever forget, the deeds of the wicked.

Well, it is time for us to grab some popcorn so we can enjoy God's great story. Hmm, well maybe not the angels... we are a bit busy. Hmm... maybe not the Lord's Bride... she will also be busy. Wait a minute! Yes! I know... the downtrodden, the forgotten and the ones in need of a miracle. Yes, they will be eating the popcorn once God moves."

He was smiling and so calm. The angels are so close to God that they know victory is already here. They have seen that He has never failed, so they know He never will.

Me: "Thank you for this, Raphael."

Raphael: "You're welcome. However, I must go now." He smiled and nudged me. "I am getting a call."

Me: "You are? Where is your phone?"

Raphael: "You will never see an angel from God's Army holding a phone. The enemy would love to tap into God's technology to gain access to His plans. It won't happen. There are other things as well and you will understand all of this one day."

I heard a bell ring behind me. I turned around to look. When I turned back, Raphael was gone.

Dream over.

Dream 469 – God is Not Pleased with the Enemy’s Schemes

Received on Saturday, January 16, 2021

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day! Thank You for all we have. Thank You for building a home for us. This is a place where we can raise our children together. Thank You for taking care of us. You are amazing. On top of all of this, You have granted me these dreams, wonderful seed to give to others. I pray that You will soon fill our vessels to pour out healing waters over broken hearts and fractured nations.

Father, if the people could see just how good You are, perhaps they would turn away from their wickedness and humbly, sincerely repent. I just know that You would accept their prayers and heal them. Then again, given Your infinite nature, what could I possibly know about Your heart? I am a small woman with no scholarship giving me credibility from a worldly sense. All I know is from what I have personally experienced...

- I was unchurched, but You still called me
- Though I ran from You, I was never far from You
- While I cursed You in my youth because of my anger, You sent love and other signs to let me know that You were present and real
- I was afraid of You because Your Goodness reminded me of my imperfections
- I pushed You out and refused You, but You embraced me and accepted me
- I built fortresses to guard myself, but You called me and tumbled my walls
- I grieved and grieved over my failures, yet You celebrated my coming victories
- I sat in darkness and You brought me light
- I lived in fear, but You said that You would one day make me fearless
- I embraced the world, but You braced me for the things of Heaven
- I was ignorant, but You gave me wisdom
- I was humiliated, but, through this, You gave me humility
- I was broke and impoverished, but You have given me treasures on Earth and in Heaven
- I was lost and You found me

- I wandered and You pursued me
- I fell and You caught me
- I was a child of the world, but You now say I am a child of the Most High God

Father, Your heart is large. It is full. It is of the purist content. However, Your heart is not of metal because this would mean that You Yourself went through the fire of affliction or needed refinement. This is obviously not the case. All I can say then about Your Heart is that it is perfect and truly beyond man's comprehension. Still, man will one day sit in silence in front of Your Awesomeness.

I would rather be in captivity under Heaven than a slave of this world. Father, You are so many things! You are...

- Powerful, merciful, glorious, mighty, marvelous
- Righteous, compassionate, loving, Holy, Awesome
- Peaceful, strong, consistent, truthful, current
- Healing, knowledgeable, omnipotent, omniscient, omnipresent
- You are the God Who protects and Who judges
- You are the Alpha and Omega, the Beginning and the End

Who is like You? I am so grateful for You, Father. My heart is grateful. Father, You are so gracious that You spared the sons of Korah even after Korah led the revolt against You. In turn, they then served You. The sons You saved then served you in songs. They went on to write some of my favorite Psalms of the Bible. These amazing songs are recorded in Psalm 42, 44-49, 84 and so on.

Father, thank You especially for Psalm 45. I feel as if every young woman desires to be a Princess and the Bride of the handsome King. It has all the elements of a great story. Father, please let our lives stand for something huge... God-sized even. The world dismisses us as too old, misfits, poor or unattractive. By the world's standards, we have long been disqualified.

Oh Father, I just thought You would like to know how I feel about You and how much I love You. So many will soon be in shock. Please consider the next few days as being the start of Your 'True Miracles', including our long awaited and eagerly anticipated Transformation. Heaven has not been visible here on Earth, especially lately. Please, Father, pour out Your Spirit upon us... in Jesus' Mighty Name, Amen!

Jesus: "Erin, come up."

The Voice of the Father was immediately all around me. While His Voice is powerful beyond description, so is the Love and Mercy I could feel emanating from Him.

God: "Erin, I Am here. I have heard your cries. You have presented your case and I find it good. I have appointed the ruler who prays, not the one who preys on the innocent. My favor is not on the one who has taken by force that which is not his, the one who wants to be the one 'who was and is and is to come'.

"The land is Mine. The Church is Mine. So are the fish of the sea and the birds of the air. So are the animals who roam the land and my children who dwell there. It is I Who established the land and it is I Who can remove it."

Me: "Father, please do not remove the land. There are many righteous men and women who love and serve You in the land. We live amongst the evil here. Please do not let our land be taken over by corruption."

God: "My plan is much greater than the people who serve the world. The corrupt leaders plan is a doctrine of demons. They call all good evil and all evil good. They plan to remove millions for the greater good of sustainability. While this is part of an evil plot, it is cloaked as good for all.

"However, I am about to do something in your days you would not believe, especially if I would have told you just a year ago. What the enemy plans for evil, I will turn upon them. Now, Erin, rejoice! I have found your petitions good. All that I have promised you will come to pass."

Dream over.

Dream 470 – I will not bring this child to crown and not grant birth

Received on Sunday, January 17, 2021

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day! Thank You for Your cover over us. The massive storm that was slated to hit us with more than a foot of snow never came. By a miracle, the temperature kept above freezing, keeping it as rain. This was a miracle, so thank You! Sometimes the hype of a big storm creates more worry than the actual storm. Sometimes big storms come without warning.

We base our planning on weather forecasters. They, in turn, rely on probability, history, statistical data and other various factors to warn us when a big storm could be coming. I once heard someone say that this is the only job where you can be wrong consistently and not be fired. Could you imagine a doctor performing at 50% accuracy? How about a financial investor? How about a teacher?

So, here we are now, Father. We are all anticipating a Great Storm, a Great Move of God. Father, what is happening to our country matters to You. This is a big deal. There are plots and villains, good guys and victories. So far, the victories have been few. The world has watched in horror as the events have played out. All of it has made the USA unrecognizable from just a few years ago.

Leaders have broken us up and tossed half of us aside. They have cancelled anyone who speaks up. They have said horrible things of all of those who love You. They have shut our businesses, our churches and our schools. They have channeled the plague to our most vulnerable, leaving them alone without hope or family. They have left them to die. The only thing to view on television is all of the bad news.

The Left decided that there would be no hope, no help and no future until one man (Trump) was finally removed. They then tightened the noose on all of us. They found a narrative based on an unfortunate loss of life and expanded it. This instantly created anger and hate. They then made suggestions that things needed to be burned down, that police should be killed and so many other demonic things.

This was the Left's answer. We then watched cities burn. We watched mobs pillage stores and destroy whole towns. Fear gripped our nation as newscasters told only one side. They said that the oppressed should own all of it and burn that which they can't take. They found opposing leaders and harassed them and their families. They threatened them so that they would submit to the Left's demands.

We then watched as the other side took the election. They are now calling for the removal of the President and charging him with high crimes of treason. They are also now going to go after anyone who stood for him. They want them to then go to prison. However, not just them, but all the millions of people who voted for him.

Father, if You don't rise up and help us, our country will fall. If they do as they have promised to do, both in secret and in public, we are in serious trouble. I had a graphic dream last night...

Sub-dream 1 "Just as the baby's head was crowning"

I saw a woman about to give birth. However, instead of seeing her as flesh and blood, I instead was looking at her on an x-ray machine. I saw her belly as she pushed. Her womb resembled a large vessel. The water in the vessel was Living Water. I could see the baby in her womb tossing and turning. It tumbled around in her womb. The vessel of her womb then opened and the Living Water poured out. I then saw the woman pushing. The baby was now moving through the vessel. I woke up just as the baby's head was crowning.

Sub-dream 1 over.

Father, we love You! Your people are crying out for a great miracle. Do not forget us.

Jesus: "Erin, come up."

Just like the last dream, the Voice of the Father was immediately all around me.

God: "Erin, I gave birth to a nation in a day. If I created you and knit you in your mother's womb, then too have I done the same with others. So too can I take down a nation far from me. So too can I make a man wish he had never been born. Erin, it is I Who establish a house. I pour a foundation, frame it and cover it. It is I Who declare its walls good and its stones worthy.

"It is I Who blesses it and prospers it. It is I Who has built the house and established it. However, the nation I created for the delight of my children is now a den of thieves. I have been removed from the land as the land no longer stands on My Word or under My Cover. In rebellion, my children turned from Me. They did this in wickedness and declared Me dead.

“They destroyed My Commandments, My Laws and even My Declarations. They shut My churches, defiled My pews and desecrated the memory of those who stood on My principles, fought for an end to slavery and died for freedom. Because of their sacrifices and the prayers of My saints, I will not be silent. The Words for this time were given to Isaiah (I felt led to note that Isaiah 43 should be read before continuing).

Me: “Father, when will all this be? We can do nothing as we are. We are in great despair. There is no hope without You. However, with You, we can climb the heights and even scale a wall. Please help us. I am having trouble sleeping. I toss and turn at times. I am old and my womb is barren. I can do nothing on my own. Why then do I act like a woman in labor soon to give birth? You have also placed Psalm 18 on my heart. I declare this to You. Please don’t forget us.”

God: “I will not. Erin, My Promises are true. I will not bring this child to crown and not grant birth. Your Vessel is ready. I have filled your cup with Living Water. Never will your Vessel, your cup, run dry. Now, Erin, rejoice. I have answered your prayers. I have heard the cries of My people. I will not delay.”

Me: “Thank You, Father!”

God: “I Am with you. Do not worry. Be strong and take courage. I will not delay in my judgment of the wicked for all to see. I will not delay in taking back what is rightfully Mine.”

Note: Psalm 18 was a Psalm of David. David was addressing the words of this song to the Lord on the day when the Lord delivered him from the hand of all his enemies and from the hand of Saul. This is what I was praying to the Lord to soon do for us.

Dream over.

Dream 471 – Give God the Glory for His Victory

Received on Monday, January 18, 2021

Communion

Dear Father,

We love You! While I can't speak for everyone, there are those who look to You and continue to press forward in love and truth. There are those who still cherish You. Thank You for another day here. It has become more difficult lately. Each day brings new surprises. Each day, I am more aware of my aging body.

I am unable to travel for my brain tumor appointment. This is because I am unable to self-isolate for 14 days upon arrival and then for another 14 days when I come back. Hospitals are still canceling surgeries deemed non-essential. Well, at some point, these non-essential surgeries become essential. Still, I am not sure that I would welcome surgery right now even though I am on standby for one.

I had three dreams last night. The first was, by far, my favorite of the three...

Sub-dream 1 "The book of my life"

I was being given a chance to look at my life at the point of death. It was to be an inventory of things that were notable to God. I was not yet sure as to what was going to be in this. I went out to the yard where the stream was and noticed a small bench by our stream with a book on it. I sat down and opened the book. It was the book of my life. However, the content of the book was different than what you would think.

Yes, there were records of the births of my children and other major milestones, but this was minimal. It was instead a record of things that God found worthy or endearing. There were so many things I had long forgotten about. There were things I did for others that I received no earthly thanks for. There were things I did anonymously. There were gifts given out of love, not expecting anything in return.

To my surprise, there was a whole section on the care I had given to God's Creation in nature. While I forgot this, this was actually things I started to do when I was a little girl. I had prayed and worried about little animals, birds and flowers. There were things I never thought would mean anything to anyone, but they did... both to them and to God. I smiled when I saw that there were various sections and how they were labeled...

- Sunshine section = Joyful moments
- Dew section = Moments I caused joy
- Raindrops section = Moments of blessings
- Teardrops section = Moments of grief
- Clouds section = Moments of difficulty
- Storms section = Moments of crisis and pain
- Dawn section = What I learned (really, this speaks for itself)

As I looked through the first few chapters, I realized it was all 'God-centered', not self-centered. The events were not about what meant a lot to me, but what meant a lot to God. I want to reiterate that these were really not things you would expect. There were quite a few things done in secret with only God as a witness. While some events were quite far-reaching, most were seemingly tiny in impact.

I cried and cried when I reached the end. I was so sad that I had only filled one book. I then felt a nudge on my left arm. When I turned, there was a stack of books. I laughed. I was so thankful. While I had remembered my accomplishments 'according to man', I had never really given that much thought about my 'ripples under God.'

Sub-dream 1 over.

Note: I wanted to leave the last paragraph above out as I felt it perhaps sounded somewhat lofty or conceited. My husband, however, wanted to leave it in in order to give hope to all those out there that do so much for God with very little recognition. You can see that he 'won' on this one as this last paragraph is still there... smiles.

When I woke up from this dream, the wind was really blowing out. However, I still eventually fell back asleep...

Sub-dream 2 "An unexpected group of thieves"

I was going to an amusement park. In particular, we were going for one specific ride. It was a type of roller coaster combined with a water ride... or vice versa? This ride is hard to describe as it has no earthly equivalent.

When we approached the gate, my friends went ahead into one of the cars. I stayed behind to wait for the next car. While standing there, I was approached by five tall young men who had just exited the ride. I recognized three of them as being from my church.

As they were talking to me, one had gone behind me. He was trying to pull out my wallet from my purse that was hanging on my left shoulder. I yelled 'Hey Stop!' The group then proceeded to run away with my wallet.

They were all laughing. While I knew that they were not going to steal anything since I knew three of them, I was still upset. I knew how to find them. Even though I still wanted to go on this unusual ride, I was now preoccupied with what had just happened.

Sub-dream 2 over.

Sub-dream 3 "Someone trying to claim my space as hers"

My bedroom was in an open and public space. The bed where I sleep was on full display as if it were in a showroom. Since I was busy remodeling my room, I was out shopping for various items. When I came back from the store, I noticed someone familiar to me, someone completely unqualified, was already doing my remodeling. However, she was now trying to claim this space as hers. However, I stood my ground against her and was able to reclaim my space.

Sub-dream 3 over.

Both of these last two sub-dreams disarmed me a bit. The first sub-dream was great though. Father, please help.

Jesus: "Erin, come up."

I was in our side yard feeding the small animals and birds. I put my feeding tray on the ground and ran to the stream in our front yard. There was snow everywhere. The stream was mostly frozen. I was hoping for the bridge, a bench and a book or two... smiles. I felt a nudge on my arm. I was expecting an angel as I turned. It was a deer instead.

Me: "Oh... hi there!"

The deer just stood there staring at me. The deer then nudged me for a second time. I looked around and didn't see anything. The deer then nudged me for a third time.

Me: "I am not sure what you want?"

I petted the side of the deer's neck. The deer was then startled and darted back up into the trees. I sighed. Just then, I felt another nudge. This time it was Raphael!

Raphael: "I have been sent with a message for you from God."

Me: "What was all that about with the deer?"

Raphael: "Deer? I don't see any deer."

He was smiling. I could tell he was joking and trying to make me laugh. He succeeded.

Me: Laughing. "You are so funny. Are you part of the 'comic relief team'?"

Raphael: "Erin, I am no 'comic'. How about if we change that to 'he who brings a smile', okay?"

Me: "Absolutely! So, Raphael, what were these three dreams about?"

Raphael: "The first dream is how God sees you and many others. He wants you all to know just how much He loves each of you. However, the second and third dream represents what the enemy wants for you. Erin, the thief comes to steal, kill and destroy. The enemy is working, and has been for some time, behind the scenes to rob you of your purpose under God. He is trying to stop you and all who God has called in this moment."

Me: "Are you warning me that I am about to lose all that we have?"

Raphael: "No... well, unless there was a memo I did not receive. No, I have seen them all. Therefore, this would be a no. Erin, do not listen to the enemy's messages of fear and doubt. God knows that you often see yourself from the obscured lens of the world instead of the clear lens of God. God's lens is the only one which is not foggy or 'dim-sighted'. God's vision is always crystal clear.

"Erin, this stream of yours is also becoming clear. Now, remember your purpose. God keeps His promises. He has kept you and your household secure. He will do the same for the others under His Cover. He has kept you far from the enemy's schemes. Although you see yourself as old and forgotten, God has never seen you through your own eyes. They are too..." He nudged me to complete his sentence.

Me: "Foggy and 'dim-sighted'? Yes, Raphael, you are right."

Raphael: "The events you see are being staged by the enemy. They are all in full view. Do not forget that they have a star-studded lineup of performers, all for their big show. However, none of this is of God. The event will display dark vs light. This is an event to mock God, His angels and His Bride. However, make no mistake... God knows and sees all.

"Now, you are worried about many things. You are worried about your health, your sons' health, your daughters' health and your husband's health. You are concerned about your future. You are concerned about the future of your family and friends, including those that reside with you on the Nest.

You are concerned about your church, the country and many other things. Well, Erin, these are all beyond your abilities to control. Are you God?"

Me: Crying. "No, of course not. I am sorry."

Raphael: "Because events in and around you have not occurred as you expected, you are unsure of your status or place in this war. Yes, Erin, as you know... this is a war. However, you have not been left forgotten in the Valley of Decision. Though you are sometimes uncertain whether God will use you based on something you did years ago or a 'certain hand gesture to someone', this has not disqualified you, understand?"

"Instead, God has placed you in the Valley of Victory, soon to be delivered from giants. However, that is not all... He will take you to the Valley of Beracah, the Valley of Blessings, where you will be healed and strengthened as you were in your youth, but better... like the sons of Jacob, but even better. While God is the same yesterday, today and tomorrow, He can still do a new thing and remain God.

"Now, please, Erin, I know that you are worried. I know that you grieve. However, if this continues, this freshwater stream will turn into saltwater." He jokingly nudged me.

Me: "Yes, but I know that you would make it fresh again."

Raphael: Laughing. "Well, Erin, salt is good. However, this stream is meant for freshwater and for drinking."

Me: "May I drink from this now?"

Raphael: "Soon. Erin, you are worthy. God has declared it. Those He has called are worthy, understand? They have already been vetted. They have already been refined in the fire of affliction and found good. Do not allow the enemy any personal victories. Give all of your concerns, worries and fears to God. He will carry your burdens as only He can. What is impossible for man is possible for God. Rejoice, Erin, and give God the Glory for His Victory... Operation Heaven's Shield."

Just then, I felt a nudge in my side opposite from Raphael. I turned and there was the deer again. I was now looking at the deer as I patted her neck.

Me: "Oh Raphael, what will God do?"

When I turned back to look at Raphael, he was already gone. I smiled and shook my head. Thank You, Lord, for Raphael... he always brings a smile to my face no matter the circumstances.

Dream over.

Dream 472 – God’s Answer to the Mocking

Received on Wednesday, January 20, 2021

Communion

Dear Father,

Note: This dream was finished in the middle of the 11th hour (11:35am EST). The typing of this dream started at 11:55am EST, just 5 minutes before the 12 strikes of noon, the transition time of the presidency, Inauguration Day. This was such a bittersweet time of waiting.

Thank You for another day! Thank You for Your love, care and protection for my family and friends... all those whose hearts are on You. I prayed and prayed. I petitioned. I fasted. I knelt. I cried. I prayed loudly in the Holy Spirit, a cry to battle. I prayed to activate angelic armies. I begged You, Father. Oh yes, did I mention that I prayed. I then mourned.

During times in my life when personal events left me with terror or grief, especially as a little girl, I would imagine that God would see me and rescue me. I would imagine that God would do something really amazing and all would be okay. Though God saved me, even when I didn’t know it at the time, it was usually filled with shock and drama... not exactly the miraculous story book ending I had asked God for.

Even though the attacks have not had any real success lately, there are still attacks taking place. I am not sure why they continue, but obviously God knows. I was then reminded of the ongoing war in the heavens that we cannot see, things which hit all of us behind the scenes. There is not much I can do either. Well, Father, I give all of this to You. No matter what, I still believe!

I have had three incidents now that revolved around the Lincoln Memorial Reflecting Pool. I had first seen glimpses of the sub-dream below in a dream three days ago. However, it was not yet clear enough to post.

Then yesterday evening, I watched, in reality, the silhouette of the newly ‘elected’ President and VP, with their spouses, having a moment of silence over the 400,000 COVID-19 deaths in America. I then saw this sub-dream again last night, but this time clearly.

Sub-dream 1 "The Lincoln Memorial Reflecting Pool"

I heard the clear Voice of God: "I Am the God Who sees. I Am the Alpha and Omega. I Am the Beginning and the End. I Am the God Who sees."

I then saw the Lincoln Memorial Reflecting Pool reflecting the black sky. As in the newscast from last night (that is, as in reality), the sides of the Pool were lined with lanterns. These lanterns were meant to represent those who had died due to the Coronavirus. I then saw the lanterns form into something like ghosts. However, they were the saints of those who have died.

All of the saints then turned to look at the four people, the newly 'elected' President, the VP and their spouses. They were silent and in shock. I then heard a rumble as if something was coming in the distance. The sound became louder and louder. The saints were now illuminated as lights, but in human form. The saints raised their hands to God in Heaven. As the four of them stood trembling, there was a mighty shout.

As the mighty shout rang out, the sky was peeled open. This was magnified as it was mirrored in the Reflecting Pool. I then saw four massive white horses. They were easily 70 feet high. Each had an angelic warrior riding him. They came down quickly and rode swiftly on the top of the water. I then heard the saints sing...

"My Deliverer is coming. My Deliverer is standing by. My Deliverer is coming. My Deliverer is standing by. He will never break His promise. Though I doubt my heart, I doubt my eyes, my Deliverer is coming. My Deliverer is standing by."

The horses then stood at the base of the Lincoln Memorial. They were lined up side by side. As they stood waiting for God's command, their swords drawn, I saw people screaming and scattering. I then saw a large Vessel. It tipped downward toward the Reflecting Pool. The 400 saints who were represented by the lanterns for the 360 days of punishment of the land then became 144,000 saints.

Evil scattered at the sight of the 144,000. All those who had harmed the saints were particularly terrified. The four massive horsemen then went to the four corners of the area and faced outward as if to guard the area. The 144,000 then knelt before God by the Reflecting Pool. An angel more powerful than any other then came. He was a ruler of God's Army! He was the angel Michael!

In a loud shout, Michael called the 144,000 to step into the healing waters to be strengthened. I then saw the saints transformed as they touched the Living Water of Heaven. The saints changed from one state to another and were refreshed and strengthened.

I then heard a song, a new song, as all of the saints and angels on Earth, as in Heaven, sang a Holy Song unto the Lord. The song was so powerful and the power of God's Cover so awesome that no man near the area could stand on his own strength. There was no one there who could witness this, only the 144,000, all with the angels and all of those watching in Heaven. The Voice of God then rang out...

Voice of God: "My servants will receive a double portion of the sons of Jacob and a double portion from Heaven. Nothing, no man and no weapon, formed against you will succeed."

I then heard the crowd of saints cheer: "Holy are You, Lord! Great and Mighty is Your Name! Who was and is and is to come! Amen!"

The cheers continued and rose and rose. It was resonating and unlike anything I had ever heard.

Sub-dream 1 over.

Father, please help us. We will need to be strengthened soon... but so much more.

Dream over.

Dream 473 – Rejoice in the Promises of a Budding Tree

Received on Wednesday, January 27, 2021

Communion

Dear Father,

I am scared. I am sorry for feeling scared. I know it is impossible to please You without faith. I am sorry that I am not certain.

Jesus: “Erin, come up.”

Jesus visited me where I sat. I could hear His Voice as clear as day. This was unusual, but becoming more and more frequent. It felt like the start of a new phase, but, of course, I am never sure as only God knows.

Jesus: “Erin, I am here. I know it is difficult to see evil rise and silence the voices of truth with lies.”

Me: “Lord, it feels like the rise of the Nazis against the Jewish people.”

Jesus: “I know. When evil sets a course, it often builds a highway, a one-direction path, in which there are no exits. However, understand this... I am the God Who sees, but I am also the Great I Am. I am the Author and Finisher of your race. I am the Judge. While I will move mountains quickly, please understand that there is a process from the seat of judgment.

“A man first convicts himself by his tongue. He then convicts himself by his actions. All is weighed on the scales of justice. Those who are just and those who are found wanting are then divided and separated. Since I am God over all men, it is then I Who vindicates those who are just and brings low those who are liars and reprobates. I will not negotiate with the wicked nor will I entertain fools.”

Me: “Lord, when will this be? The corruption is now widespread. I had to reset my passwords and shore up my firewalls on my technology.”

Jesus: “This is a world war, but a kind unlike any other. This is evil and a similar pattern to what was used 80 years ago. First begins the false reporting. Fear and suspicion then give rise. The government is then infiltrated, bribes given to those in power to turn a blind eye to truth.

“The enemy then can gain a foothold by false information. In this instance today, alliances have been made with leaders without land, leaders who control all information. By working together, they then elevate one group to strike against another. They then can broadcast any story they choose. Erin, today is a historic day.”

Me: "Yes. The Nazi death camps were liberated in 1945."

Jesus: "When the liberators arrived, they were in shock. They had no idea of the horror they would encounter. Now, you must understand that a group of many who are corrupt and have no fear of Me have struck out against those whose names are on lists. Because of their power, your disability was stopped in retaliation. However, there are more violations against My people.

"A plan is in place to attack in retaliation against all My people, as well as those who are related or associated with My people. I have allowed you to experience some of this so that you would understand that your concerns are valid and real. One can then ignore this or they can instead strengthen their household."

Me: "Lord, You sent angels to guard us. If it is impossible to please You without faith, should I then act in fear or faith?"

Jesus: "Well, both... fear of God only and faith that what I say is true. I have sent angels to guard you in all you do. However, to test Me is to doubt My Words and dismiss them. When compromised, one should take immediate action. This is wisdom. To do nothing is foolish."

Me: "I am sad, Lord. Will You not have mercy and heal the land?"

Jesus: "Oh Erin, do you not understand what is happening here? What the enemy accuses you of is what they are doing themselves. They are weakening the foundation of the land and replacing My Words with blasphemies against My Name, My Church, My Bride and even the angels, all as Heaven witnesses.

"However, this was foretold by the prophets of old. This should be Good News that the times you have been waiting for have come. You are in shock because you are witnessing the fulfillment of My Words. This should bring you great comfort."

Me: "Lord, how can comfort come from shock? I am in great grief and shock, Lord. My son and daughter may have something serious wrong with them. While nothing is conclusive at this point, how can this be? All of this in the same week even? I am grieving because Your miracles have not come. I am afraid.

"Lord, You are here with me, right? You instruct me, but I am still learning how to act. I am learning how to remove my own thoughts and allow You to work freely. Please forgive me, Lord, as You are doing a new thing and I don't yet fully understand it. What about my dream?"

Jesus: "I sent you 12 dozen yellow budded roses in a bowl in one of your dreams. They were fully alive and about to bloom. I have not forgotten you. Remember that it is darkest before the dawn, not after it. I have every intention of doing something in your days you would not believe even if you were told. Please be encouraged. Remember that all of these troubles are soon to pass. I do not endorse the wicked.

"As soon as evil rises, I will cut it down. I am God over all things. I am not passive. I am not cruel. I will not be slandered. I will not be mocked. I am the Beginning and the End. I will shut the mouths of the perverse. I will not prosper thieves. I have not removed my favor from My Elect and Bride.

"Do not worry when it seems the wicked are advancing. Watch and see that the Lord is good." I was now crying. "Oh Erin, how I long for the day when My children are gathered into My arms. I will heal them and comfort them. They will no longer have a heart of fear of the wolves who seek to devour. I am here. I am God. I love you, Erin."

Me: "Lord, the trees outside are waking up too early. Please protect them."

Jesus: "Do not worry, Erin. Take comfort in your mild winter. Rejoice in the promises of a budding tree as this is a sign of Good Fruit soon to come.

Rejoice, Erin, as this fruit is good to eat. Do not worry. The wealth transfer that the enemy has planned is an illusion. They understand the signs of a Great Change coming. They are looking to bribe those who are poor with promises they will not keep. They promise many things and will offer up the spoils of those they know are Mine. Do not worry though as I am with you. I will provide for you and your children.

Me: "Thank You, Lord."

Jesus: "Gather up your cases. Bring them together and pray. I will give a Great Miracle. I love you!"

Me: "I love You! We love You!"

Dream over.

Dream 474 – A Reminder of Heavenly Places

Received on Sunday, January 31, 2021

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day! Thank You for this mild winter... so far. Thank You for all that we have. Thank You for our children and our Nest. I feel very blessed. Father, as You know, I have been struggling with so many things completely beyond my control. It has been overwhelming. I fear the unknown. On Tuesday, two of our children are scheduled for tests with a doctor.

My oldest son will then likely need a specialist... endocrinologist and specialty care. As for my daughter, I believe all will be okay. Two weeks back, as we were talking at the dining table, my son raised his arm. I then noticed that he had some unusual red lines on his arm. He then told me that he had them in a few other places. After taking photos and sending them to the doctor, he set out to work on it immediately.

This is difficult to watch as my son is so innocent and kind. My son's heart is big. To see him deal with something like this is just heartbreaking. There is nothing I can do on my own strength to help him. I have got to give this all to You, God. Father, please heal my son. Please heal my husband as he has a procedure on the 8th. Please heal me as I have a procedure on the 11th. Please, Father, grant a miracle for all of us. I had a disturbing dream two nights ago...

Sub-dream 1 "Car full of crazy people" begins...

My husband and I were driving on the I-95 in Maine. It was either late spring or early summer. We were both younger... transformed, but off duty (not 100% sure though)? A car with young adults suddenly pulled up alongside of us and started to taunt us. Their window was down and they were yelling and swerving. We were driving in a really neat and fast vehicle, so my husband put it in race mode and we zoomed off.

We were incredibly fast and the vehicle with the crazy people soon disappeared from our sight. We prayed for protection from them. We then took an exit and went into a large store. It looked similar to a Target store, but with quite a few windows. My husband decided to stay in the car while I ran in. I was quick. I had just checked out and was looking out the window.

I saw my husband running towards me. He was trying to get my attention. I then saw one of the women from the 'crazy car' just behind him. She then stabbed him in the back. She pulled out a knife about 18 inches long. She had black crazy hair, black and red lipstick and black makeup around her eyes. There was no blood on the knife.

Note: I felt it was important for me to emphasize that there was no blood on the knife. While this means that no true and lasting harm was done, it also means to be particularly aware of the enemy's schemes. This was a good reminder.

Sub-dream 1 over.

I woke up suddenly from this dream. It felt so real. I then had another dream last night...

Sub-dream 2 "A glass tank with figurines" begins...

I had a large glass fish tank with no lid. In the tank were five living figurines, each about 2.5 inches tall. There was a grandmother, a mother, a father and two others. In addition to the five figurines, there was a larger and seemingly alive baby. I was extremely busy, so much so that I forgot these little miniature people were alive. My daughter later came up to me...

Daughter: "Hey, mom, you should check on the tank. Their tank might need to be cleaned."

When I went to look, I realized that I had failed them. I had forgotten that they were real and living. I panicked as I had not given them water, food or comfortable living conditions. On one of the little beds, the grandmother laid stiff and appeared as a tiny plastic doll. The tank was filthy and the other people were barely hanging on. My daughter helped me clean everything up.

I picked up the tiny baby and fed it. When I did this, all of the other stiff plastic figurines came back alive. They began to breathe. They had so much joy. I gave them all water and food. I fixed up their place so that they were much more comfortable. Still, in my heart, I felt such horror and guilt that I could ever be so negligent to these living figurines and baby.

Sub-dream 2 over.

Father, this dream was so real. So was the other one. Please protect us. I am grieving as if my heart has been broken. We are under attack on many fronts. I thought our tests were over. I thought our final trials were finished. Well, here I am again. This road is so long. Did I take a wrong turn somewhere?

Jesus: "Erin, come up."

I was out on the side yard of our home feeding the birds. I set my tray down and ran to the upper yard by our stream. As I stood there, I could hear the birds singing all around me. I was standing in the snow. I turned to look at the frozen stream. As I looked, the snow began to recede. Within seconds, there was dry ground. I then could see green grass.

I chuckled at this as I remembered that we are actually to start getting fresh snow starting tomorrow evening. I then felt a hand on my shoulder. I turned and there was Jesus. He was completely bathed in the Light of the Son. His fragrance was beautiful and unlike anything I have ever smelled. I went into His arms and hugged Him tightly. As I cried with quivering lips, He put His arms around me.

Jesus: "I am here. Erin, I am here. I have not forgotten you, not once. I am with you always."

Me: "Lord, You sometimes seem far away."

Jesus: "I am not. I am always with you. I have something to tell you. When you were young, you were brave and fearless. You had no worry of things. You would not allow your own children to do the very things you did long ago. You were carefree and reckless back then. While you did not know Me at that time, I knew you. You had been cursed by others from an early age.

"This cursing happened mainly by your parents. They feared that their children would rise up and expose them. They also feared that you would grow up smarter and more skilled than they were. Out of this fear, they would then speak curses over you. They would say such things as 'too bad you are so short', 'too bad you will never be a great artist' and on and on."

Me: "Yes, I remember this. I guess I didn't recognize these as curses at the time. I incorrectly viewed these as reality checks meant to keep me from disappointment and failure."

Jesus: "Ah yes... and were any of these pillars of great success themselves?"

Me: "Hmm, well, some accomplished amazing things."

Jesus: "Perhaps. However, each time they spoke these painful words to you, they cast stones. The enemy then capitalized on this and built a stonewall around you. Each stone cast was like a brick built in a stonewall around your hopes and dreams. The enemy did this not just to you, but to all those that I have called.

"If the enemy could make you feel walled in or held captive by large walls of cursed stones, he then felt as if he had succeeded. Remember that the enemy's goal is to remove God's 'Called' from their ability to operate in the natural here. It is difficult to see a lampstand or candle through a stonewall. You have been held back your entire life by what the enemy built around you.”

Me: “Yes, Lord. However, was this not part of Your ‘furnace of affliction’ for me? Was my pain not also my gain through these afflictions? Still, every dream or ambition I ever had and worked to attain was taken from me because of my failures. It was my fault. I allowed the stones. I allowed liars to have a platform. I even allowed this to form a roof over me, a false and unstable cover.

“So, Lord, here I am now. I must admit that, with the times becoming so disheartening, I turn to the possibilities, the ‘what-ifs’, in fear and in the realization of who I am today. Well, I am now defined based on my circumstances. Without You doing something miraculous, well, what do I have? Lord, what can I even do?”

Jesus: “Erin, I am with you in all things. I know that you are dependent on institutions for help. I know that you can do nothing on your own. However, I will soon remove you, so do not worry. I will tear down these stonewalls built by the enemy’s lies. I will topple them into a heap of rubble. My truth will prevail in all things.

“I know that you are tired and weary. I know that this path has been difficult and your journey long. I know the isolation and pain you have felt. I know the unjust things done against you. I have never forgotten. Erin, I keep My promises. My promises are true. Now, come... I have something which will make you smile.”

He reached for my hand. Once His hand touched mine, the bridge crossing into Heaven appeared.

Jesus: Laughing. “Hmm, where is Raphael with that special lock?”

He said this as we crossed the bridge together. When I looked behind us, we were now completely in Heaven.

Me: Laughing. “Where are we? Lord, are we now in Heaven? I do not recall being on this path before.”

Jesus: “There are so many things that I have prepared for My people. There are so many special places. Not one of you will ever grow tired or bored here... not even once. You will never have fear here. It will be a place of great joy and laughter. Now, I have a place that I have prepared just for you.”

He brought me to a small dock on a beautiful river. There was a boat perfectly made of the finest wood. There was a beautiful mast with a white sail. He stepped into the boat first and then gently brought me into it. He sat me down on the most comfortable cushion I have ever felt. There was no leaking water as all of the joints were seamless. He sat behind me to steer the boat.

Just then, a slight breeze filled the sails. The boat began to travel down the river. The area was beautiful and lush. This was perfectly groomed by the Master Landscaper. We passed flowering trees that looked like weeping willows over the water. The fragrance of the flowers and grass was amazing. Tears streamed down my cheeks.

Me: "Lord, I have never seen such beauty. This is stunning."

He smiled back at me with such love. The river meandered. We sometimes travelled upstream and sometimes downstream. The water was crystal clear. The stones were made of fine gems and made beautiful designs in the water as if they were set in mortar and preset by master masons. There were colorful fish swimming alongside the boat. They were hopping out of the water to be nearer to Jesus.

There were flowerbeds like water lilies floating on the water. There were animals on shore walking to the water's edge to watch Jesus. The animals were perfect. I saw deer, rabbits, ducks, swans, squirrels, sheep and even a beaver. There were other animals and birds too. Their sounds were simply amazing.

Jesus: "We are almost there."

Me: "This is all so beautiful. Oh Lord, please take Your time."

Jesus: "Hmm, did you just ask Me to take My time? I don't believe that I have ever heard such a thing said by you!" He smiled and laughed.

Me: "Yes, but especially lately. Just to confirm though, please don't take Your time on Earth. Well, Lord, You already know how I feel."

Jesus: "I take the perfect time. Do not worry. Everything will soon make sense. Now, one more turn here."

The wind picked up and we came around a bend on the great river. My breath was taken away. I began to cry. Right there in front of us was a beautiful structure, a structure unlike anything on Earth. Nothing even close. There were peacocks running to greet us. We went over to some stairs that led from the river to the landing. Jesus stepped up onto the platform. When He did, the peacocks lined the steps of the area. He reached out for my hand. I was in complete awe!

Me: "Lord, is this 'Garden Folly', but in Heaven?"

Jesus: Laughing. "I can assure you that there is no need for 'Folly' here in Heaven. Now, where do you think the idea of it came from?"

Me: "Heaven!"

Jesus: "Yes. Now, look over there."

I was now looking at an octagonal shaped building with open archways. The entire architecture seemed to focus on the number 8. There were 8 entries on each side. There were 8 columns, each ending in the beautiful round dome top. The height of the structure was 32 feet (4 x 8). The diameter was also 32 feet.

On the very top of the dome was a balcony to walk around. The top of the dome was hammered metal of some kind. This was laid over the stone. On the outside and all around the structure were 8 fountains pouring over into channels into the river. As I continued to look everywhere, I became more and more in awe.

Me: "Lord, there are no grout lines. Is this all carved from one single massive stone? How is this even possible? This is beautiful beyond description!"

Jesus: Smiling. "Come, I will show you the inside."

He reached for my hand and walked me up the stairs. We then walked through the archway of stone. The inside was just as stunning. It was beautiful. The floors were colorful mosaics and beautiful carpets. The carpets were thick and lush, hand loomed of silk and lamb's wool.

There were beautiful things to see everywhere. I could see paintings from master painters. I could see curtains with woven fabrics unlike anything on Earth. The ceiling was a mosaic of beautiful birds in the blue sky. Tears were now streaming down my cheeks.

Jesus: "I had something made for you."

There were four chairs. Each had cushions like clouds. The fabric was of the softest velvet, but even more luxurious... again, nothing on Earth can compare. The fabric was the glorified version of a fabric that I could never personally afford on Earth. However, I was familiar with it as I had used it in one of the 'Street of Dreams' homes.

Me: "Lord, what is this place?"

Jesus: "I built it for you to come here with friends. All of this is yours."

Me: "Mine? But this is built for a king or queen. It is certainly too wonderful for me."

Jesus: "Oh Erin, have you not learned by now? Can a Groom not gift His Bride? Will she then refuse what He built for her?"

Me: Now in tears. "Of course not. It is just so beautiful, Lord. You are incredible. You do things for me here that I didn't even know I would love. I never want to leave."

Jesus: "I am glad you like it, Erin. There are many gardens here and I have built something special for each of you. Erin, do I see concern on your face?"

Me: "Yes, Lord. Forgive me. Are You showing me this because my time is up? Oh Lord, it is not my time yet, is it?"

Jesus: Smiling. "No, Erin, you still have time. That is, unless you have changed your mind?"

Me: "No, Lord. I want to spread the Good News of Your Great Love. Too many people still do not know You."

Jesus: "Well, they will very soon. I know you have been discouraged.

However, when you are, I am with you. Just ask and I will answer. Your burdens are heavy. You feel weighed down by the world. Soon... yes, very soon... all will change. Yes, I know it is difficult for you to hear Me say 'soon'. When I do, I see your face welling up with questions. You want to know My definition of soon. Am I correct, Little Sparrow?"

Me: Nodding in agreement. "Yes, Lord, please!"

Jesus: "I brought you here today to remind you that I think of you. I love you. I consider and remember things which are important to you. I am not 'the god who forgets'. I Am the God of Great Matters and Fine Details. No stone is left unturned. All evidence is presented. I Am the God of Truth and My Word will prevail. Now, make sure you pray while you wait."

Me: "I have been and I will continue to do so. Thank You, Lord!"

Jesus: "This is good. I will answer your prayers."

He smiled as He reached over to hug me.

Dream over.

Dream 475 – The wicked and their plans will be exposed

Received on Sunday, February 7, 2021

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day! Thank You for my family. Thank You for all that we have. Thank You for our Nest. Thank You for Your Great Love! I had a dream recently. While I have had several dreams recently, none were quite as vivid as this one.

Sub-dream 1 "A Very Long Scroll pleading our Case" begins...

I was in a small room. The windows were higher than in a normal home. I stood on a little wooden stool in order for me to see out the window. The surroundings seemed like older construction. The walls were lathe and plaster. The windowsills were all plaster and very deep. The window itself could be unlatched and opened by hand. The window opened out.

I was in a white long sleeping gown and my feet were bare. I had awoken during my sleep by a dream, but it was a dream within a dream. I watched myself wake from this dream. I seemed very determined. I was young and healthy. My room was bright from the light of the moon. There was a small writing desk with a small candle on it. After I lit the candle, I saw that there was a long scroll beside it.

I sat down and wrote several items down on the long trailing paper of this long scroll. I began to state our case on the scroll. The scroll was soon filled with hundreds of line items pleading our case to the Lord to move in miracles now. I then stood on the stool and unlatched the window. I then started reading this scroll in loud shouts out of the window. After each plea, I kept declaring...' The Time is Now Lord! The Time is Now!'

Sub-dream 1 over.

Even though there has been no physical war, so many shocking developments have occurred in just a few short weeks. There is so much bad news right now that my husband and I have been unable to watch. It is hard to listen to so many bad reports. It appears that our nation is now gone. The Constitution under You, Father, under God, is gone. There has been an invasion from an invisible enemy.

Whatever the enemy accuses you of is exactly what they have done against you. From what we are seeing now, is there any doubt that our nation is now being ruled by evil entities? However, there is one thing that is certain... without You, Father, we will be in a lot of trouble. For eight years, You have prepared me for this time we are in – the time of ‘the invasion of the Coronavirus’.

However, I must ask for forgiveness from You. In a dream You gave me years ago, You held up a round disc. It was red with three white stripes. You had it in Your hand. You then began to place the disc over a type of 3D map of the world. I could see You focusing on the area over the Ring of Fire. I was frightened, so I reached out to stop You. I was not ready for what I thought was the end to the world.

When I did this, You smiled and removed the disc. I did not see the disc again. However, since then, and in my heart, I had been looking at earthquakes as a sign. If I had let You be God and speak until the end, perhaps I would have been looking for the Coronavirus instead. After all, the disc looks like a crown... also a corona. If I have ever done this with other things that You have shown me, please forgive me. My dream last night was like many others.

Sub-dream 2 “An Outdoor Market of Depression” begins...

I was in a town with an outdoor market. The market was not festive at all. It instead consisted of people trading goods, wares and services for food and other necessities. This seemed like a time in the aftermath of a collapse of government systems. It was scary to look at. It seemed like there was barely any electricity or vehicles.

Sub-dream 2 over.

Father, this is not the first time I have had a dream of a depressing marketplace. These are hard to look at. Please don’t allow this to happen to the world. I am not sure if these are some type of camp cities or what they are. Please don’t allow this to happen to Your Bride. All of us are holding out for Your miracles, not great persecution.

Jesus: “Erin, come up.”

I was in the side yard feeding the birds when I heard the sounds of a bell choir. I ran over to the area of our stream and the bells were so loud. I saw Jesus speaking to two figures. While I am not sure who they were, they might have been Enoch and Elijah. I was then no longer able to see them... only Jesus. Just then, the bridge appeared. Jesus turned towards me and smiled.

Jesus was wearing a beautiful robe of purple. He was holding a large scroll. It looked similar to the scroll I screamed out in Sub-dream 1 above.

He smiled and waved for me to come to Him. I didn't have to be asked twice. I ran over to Him and He greeted me with open arms. I held Him for a long time. I was crying softly.

He pulled me away so that He could look at me. He was stunning. His eyes were blue green. His skin was a dark golden tan. His hair was dark. His teeth were as white as snow. His features were chiseled and strong. His love and compassion were all encompassing. His wisdom and knowledge appeared upon Him.

While I can't describe this fully, I could tell that He was absolutely all-powerful. He exuded a confidence as if nothing could successfully attack Him. I have only seen this confidence in one man, but it is a foolish thing as he is not at all like the Lord. In fact, this arrogant world leader is completely the opposite of Jesus in every way.

Jesus: "Erin, are you studying Me?"

Me: "Yes, Lord. I don't want to miss even one detail. Lord, there is no man as handsome, as strong or as smart as You. You are also the greatest among men because You have no arrogance, no pride and you do not boast.

This makes sense because You are so obviously God over all. You do all things from Your position as our Creator. This means that You can then delight in Your Creation and speak to us. Sigh... it is even more complicated than this. I am not doing this justice."

Jesus: Laughing. "Erin, it is difficult to put Who I Am into Words.

However, if anyone can do this, you certainly can." He gently nudged me and smiled. "Erin, always remember that I Am Who I say I Am."

Me: "Yes, Lord. You are 'God with us'... Emmanuel. However, You are even more."

Jesus: "I am the God Who loves you. I care about and know when even one sparrow falls."

Me: I started to cry. "Oh Lord, so many people need You now. They need to see Your miracles. Many have followed You out of Egypt and now face the Red Sea. This sea is deep and the currents are swift. The Israelites had no place to go. The Pharaoh and his chariots were coming for them. It is scary like this for us right now, Lord."

Jesus: "Yes. However, My promises are true, Erin. Now, a prophecy was read to you back in 2008. During this time in your life, you were in an impossible situation. Your enemy was pursuing you. He had taken your two sons and was not releasing them after a visit. The law was not protecting you and you could do nothing."

Me: "Yes. I had done everything possible to make things right. However, nothing seemed to work. I had no power. I had no means. I only had my daughter. I had no resources. There was no one to defend me. It was then that my Christian counselor received a Word from You for me. However, I only heard the bad stuff. I heard no good thing. This Word centered around Isaiah 30. I left feeling alone and abandoned.

"Shortly after this, the enemy gave me a crafty proposal. I unwittingly took it and then went through five years of hell on Earth. All that I had come to expect or realize was not to be. I fought. It was my desert furnace. I had died in May 2008. I thought You would protect me. I am so sorry to say this, Lord, but I thought You would be with me."

Jesus: "Oh Erin, I was, I Am and I will always be."

Me: "I guess I didn't realize that I was still so rebellious, Lord. I am so sorry. I even avoided reading the Scripture (Isaiah 30) again. I felt so horrible."

Jesus: He became firm and serious. "Read this again. Erin, oh Erin, take hold of My promises for you. These were given to you. However, this was not for the reasons in which your counselor had thought. I gave her this, not to focus on in part, but in whole. This is the problem... My Word is not always read in whole.

"Now, hear this... I read your pleas in your scroll. These are very good. You have stated the global position based on sources I have sent to you. You have looked at historic accounts of when I have moved in the past. Erin, you are pleading a good case, one that I will not ignore."

Me: "Oh Lord, please do not wait any longer. I am not sure of all that was written in the long scroll in my dream."

Jesus: "Ah yes... a mystery. Now, in your spirit, the Holy Spirit, there is unrest. You are not able to sleep restfully as it has been difficult to see all that is going on around you. You ask why. However, it is not because you lack faith. It is because you recognize truth from untruth. It is difficult for you to hear lies after lies. Erin, you are witnessing a time like no other in history.

"A war is being fought by the tongue, pen and written words, all seeking to kill. Lies and the words of a man's tongue have the ability to destroy nations. You are witnessing a nation's leadership void of truth. The tongue is the most powerful weapon. The power of life and death are in the tongue. Through false testimonies, false declarations and harsh words, anyone can become a target.

"Once labeled, lies then spread through fast moving flames. Since no one stands for truth, these flames engulf all things in its path. Your truth, My truth in you, is written on the tablets of the hearts of My Remnant.

Therefore, the flames will not burn you. While they may threaten, they will not burn and will be far from you. Your Vessels contain Living Water from the Wellspring of Life. My Living Water will squelch lies and their fast-moving flames."

Me: "When, Lord? When will this be?"

Jesus: "The case that you made against the wicked is actually much greater than what you wrote. I added close to a million other points." He smiled as He nudged me. "This is why the scroll is now larger, thicker and wider than before." He pointed out the scroll that was now sitting behind us. "I also added some Good News, along with a review of your promises from Me. Oh yes... Isaiah 30 is also contained in there." He smiled.

Me: "Wow, Lord, You are so amazing."

Jesus: "Come, let us go to your new pavilion in the garden."

He took my hand. We walked across the bridge together. We were immediately at the steps of this beautiful place.

Me: Smiling. "What? No sailboat today?"

Jesus: Laughing. "Well, if you prefer, I can still take you back on the sailboat."

He pointed behind me and there was the cute little boat.

Me: Clapping my hands. "Yes! Please!"

He laughed as He took my hand to walk up into the building. We could hear the delightful sound of the eight fountains that surrounded it. It was so beautiful.

Jesus: "Today, let's sit on the stairs and enjoy the beautiful garden."

Me: Tears started to stream down my cheeks. "Lord, this is stunning."

I saw ducks on the water with their ducklings. They were so colorful. The peacocks then came up to us. The water was clear over a mosaic bed of jewels. The grass was lush and the landscape perfectly groomed. Nothing was out of order or overgrown. Nothing was brown or dry. All was well watered.

Me: "Lord, why are You dressed in purple?"

Jesus: Smiling. "What? Do you not like purple?"

Me: Laughing. "It looks amazing on You. Well, really, everything does." I then started to cry. "Oh Lord, the world is mocking You right now. It is so hard to watch and hear."

Jesus: "It is not the world that is doing this. It is the enemy. However, there is one thing you will not hear from them. They will not ask 'where is your God now?' This is because the enemy fully knows that I am in all places all of the time. He knows that I am aware of his every deed.

"Now, about the plague. This plague was the perfect avenue to stop My Church, to stop prayers and to stop praises of worship and singing. This is because the enemy also knows that, when two or more gather, I then appear as an answer to prayers. The enemy now fornicates in full view, calling for the renewal of sacrifices of children on the altars of evil.

"Their next plan is to remove ten times more than were killed in the death camps from eighty years ago. They have even made their plans public. Sadly, the people who follow the enemy do not understand that it was them who did the very evil they accuse others of."

Me: "This is terrible! Lord, please help us! Please deliver us! Call us! Heal us! Call up Your Army! We are ready!"

Jesus: "Erin, when do I move?"

Me: "You move when there is no place for man to move on his own strength. But, Lord, this is happening right now! There is no justice. There is no truth. There is no liberty. There is no freedom. There is no hope. There is no love. There is no faith. Oh Lord, please do not wait much longer. Without faith, it is impossible to please You."

Jesus: "Erin, this is all happening now."

Me: "Well, we are also at the Jordan. Please part the Jordan."

Jesus: "Well, Erin, which one is it... the Red Sea or the Jordan?"

Me: "While the Red Sea signifies deliverance and freedom from captivity, the Jordan signifies Your Promises fulfilled. After wandering in the desert for 40 years, the gift of the Promised Land was presented. Okay... I know... how about both? Maybe You could allow us to walk over the raging waters instead of parting them? How about then delivering to us every miracle rolled into that massive scroll of miracles?"

Jesus: Laughing. "Well, Erin, consider this... what do you think it will take for every head to turn to God?"

Me: "I know this one. Heaven coming to Earth. You being made visible through us. Through You, we could then rebuild cities, transfer wealth, heal the sick, raise the dead and perform miracles... all while being televised 24/7. Allow us to take over the satellites, airways and technology. Wipe out the liars. Administer justice. Expose the wicked. I could go on and on. Perhaps You could consider this as a Bridal Gift?"

Jesus: Smiling. "Hmm... do you mean a gift to My Bride? Is this what you would like?"

Me: "Oh yes, Lord, yes!" I was in tears as I hugged Him. "Please remove the plague. Please restore the nations. Please expose the wicked."

Jesus: Smiling. "It appears that My gift of this little pavilion pales in comparison to this."

Me: "Oh Lord, please do not get me wrong on this... I absolutely love all of this that You have put up here for us. It is beautiful and perfect. However, nothing compares to the moment lost souls see the glory of Your face and the place You prepared for them. Nothing compares to You and letting those see You for the first time. Father, You humble the proud. You are the God of mercy, grace and love. I would give up a million pavilions just to see one person turn to You and be saved here."

Jesus: "Well then, Erin... this is good. Okay, it is well then."

Me: "Is it a yes? A yes? When? When?"

Jesus: "Let Me make the arrangements with My Father in Heaven. What you ask is good. In the meantime, do not worry. Be strong and courageous."

Me: "I love You. Thank You, Lord."

Jesus: "I love you, Erin."

Dream over.

Dream 476 – Personal Dreams wrapped around my surgery

Finished on Monday, February 15, 2021

Background: While I was not expecting a Nest dream to be posted, I did have a number of personal dreams in this last week. However, I now realize, as per Jesus' instructions from earlier today, that these were actually now meant to be shared as Nest dreams. This is unusual as He did not prewarn me that this would be happening. As you know (from Dream 475), I had surgery on Thursday (February 11th, 2021).

However, what you didn't know was exactly what this surgery was. I had a rare condition that required surgery. I had an "Intercostal Abdominal Hernia between two ribs in my back". I would later find out that it was my liver that was doing the pushing. In the meantime, I am in need of prayers as I have little or no feeling in the surrounding areas of where the surgery took place.

Received on Wednesday, February 10, 2021 (the day before my surgery)

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day! Thank You for being my Father. Thank You for being my Best Friend. Thank You for always being with us, both through thick and thin. You are always with me no matter what. You supernaturally bless us. I can never give You back even one ounce of the love and grace You have given me. All things are possible because only You can grant it.

We have been under extreme attacks this week. There are some downtrodden people in our house. However, we have no real reason to worry. We have done nothing on our own strength or by our own means. If You take care of the improbable, then surely You will also take care of the Impossible. You are the God of the Impossible. When my husband and I then prayed on this, I felt something I hadn't felt in a very long time...

My soul was well. I was at peace. You have never once failed me. You have never once failed us. You are God. You are my Father, my Friend and the Lover of our souls. Thank You, Father! I love You so much. So, now I face tomorrow. It is an uncertain situation. I will be going to my first surgery in 12 years in which I will be completely under.

This one is a bad one. This surgery was canceled twice on me because of COVID-19. The time has now finally arrived. The surgeon has never performed this type of surgery as my condition is extremely unusual. It has been referred to as an "Intercostal Abdominal Hernia through my ribs". They are not sure if it is a problem with my liver, stomach, intestines or lungs.

They won't know what is causing this until they go in. This is because they were not able to attain an MRI due to my pacemaker. I am scared. It is not that I am afraid of the surgery, it is that I am not a fan of being under anesthesia. I asked if they could keep me awake, but they said no. I later read some beautiful Scripture notes by a Nest Sparrow from Pennsylvania. These reminded me that God's promises are true...

- Revelation 21:4-5
- Psalm 42:1-2
- Psalm 8:1
- Isaiah 60:1-2

Father, I cling to the lifeboat of Your Words, even in rough seas. Today has been filled with tears of thanksgiving, as well as memories. Oh, how fast time has flown by. The years are truly gone like minutes. My children have grown so quickly. I miss my children when they were still little and full of joy and wonder. They had so many simple discoveries...

- The velvet ears of my yellow Labrador
- A ladybug on their hands
- Jumping up and down simply for the joy of jumping
- Rolling in the grass
- The smell of flowers
- Running through the pumpkin patch
- Watching the otters swim at the aquarium
- Eating ice cream in the sunshine in a playground

Now that they are 23, 21 and 19, it is hard to believe that all of these years have gone by. For most of their childhoods, my children have never known me when being in full health. It has been that long. However, You used all my mishaps for Your glory, not mine. I was not on a good path. Though my journey has been a painful journey, it has been an epic one... one like no other! I am not sure what tomorrow's surgery will bring. I only know that I pray I am given Your grace to stay in this fight. I have yet to see the promises You have here for me. I long for Your glory to be revealed throughout the Earth.

Jesus: "Erin, come up."

I ran from my side yard to my front yard by the stream. There was Jesus with a huge smile. He was wearing His robe of purple, along with a beautiful crown with spires. His majesty took my breath away. I fell to my knees. I had no more strength as I wept just a few yards before Him. He came over to me right away and reached down to pick me up into His arms. I wept... and even as I write.

Jesus: "I have you, Erin. I am always with you. Through your pain, your heartbreaks, your trials and your worries, I was with you. I was even with you in that empty seat next to you on Saturday and Sunday services. I held your hand when you had great fear and trembling. I stood there and comforted you during your losses. As the winds grew stronger and wave after wave crashed over you, I was there to keep your head above the water.

"When you didn't have money to fight, I was there to provide for you. I was there with you to stand for your children. I kept injustice from overwhelming you. I was with your father and mother to greet them because of your prayers and petitions. I comforted them as you prayed I would. I delight in you, Erin. My love for you will never fail. My promises are true. I am not finished with you yet. You are not done here. Do not give up. There is more to do."

Me: "Thank You, Lord. I want to be stronger. I want to be able to do all that You said I would one day do. My life is Your life. My life is in Your hands. My body is in Your arms. I trust you, Lord. Do with me what Your Will is. I am overwhelmed by Your love. You care for me in such detail every day. Even though You have a world to run, You still turn and notice me.

"You carry me. However, You don't just carry me. You also carry my husband, my children and my friends. You carry all of Your beloved Bride throughout the world. You care about each of us." I began to cry. "Hurry, Lord. For our sake, please hurry. We are growing so weary now."

Jesus: "I am carrying you. Allow Me to carry you. Allow Me to fill you with Living Water. Allow My breath to fill your lungs with the pure air of Heaven, air that also gives life. I am with you." He smiled. "However, for now, allow Me to carry you."

I closed my eyes. I then felt Him removing my burdens and heaviness.

Received on Saturday, February 13, 2021 (two days after my surgery)

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day! Thank You for Your love and grace. Thank You for Your provision. Thank You for the sun and warmth on a cold winter's day. I woke up today not breathing well. My lungs feel heavy. While my surgery went well, I am feeling that I need to move around. My body is agitated and I am restless. My area around my left ribcage down to my hip is numb. It feels similar to going to the dentist and the Novocain hasn't worn off yet. It also reminds me of the stitch area that was caused by my C-Section for my daughter's birth.

Received on Sunday night, February 14, 2021 (three days after my surgery)

Communion

Dear Father,

I am scared! I am not feeling well. I now wish that I had never gone through with this surgery. I still have no feeling around the wound area on my left side. My lungs still hurt too. Oh Father, I love You! Please have mercy on me. Please don't allow this. I trust fully in Your promises for me. However, when everything hurts, so does my heart. Oh Lord, it hurts my feelings that You don't turn and heal me.

The medicine they gave me for this makes me ill. I can't go back to the hospital during the pandemic. I could make everyone sick just because I am uncomfortable. I want to make our home safe. I don't want anyone to get sick because of me. Father, I am afraid. The hospital didn't feel safe. Please consider healing me. I know You have a greater plan here. As I am 'just small', please don't forget me.

Jesus: "Erin, come up."

I heard a knock on my front door. I hobbled there. I was in my current condition. I couldn't tell who was at the front door at first as he was turned away. After I opened the door, the figure turned towards me. His head was covered with a hood. When he put his hood back, there was Jesus! He smiled at me. I began to cry. I went into His arms and He held me.

Me: "Lord..." I couldn't speak as I was crying so hard. I soon gained my composure. "I feel like I have made many mistakes here. Perhaps I shouldn't have gotten the surgery. Perhaps I should've trusted in Your promises of healing. Perhaps I should have held back on the surgery. Well, here I am and I now have made my body worse. Lord, You could have stopped me."

Jesus: "Erin, I am here. I am with you. I was with you during your operation. You will be fine. While I know you don't feel well, I am here."

Me: "Oh Lord, please turn and heal me. However, even if You don't, I will still love You. I know that everything You have allowed in my life has been for my greater good and for Your glory. Sometimes when I write, I feel as if my interpretation is off, I misinterpreted one of Your direction? While You said that You will make this not matter, I still didn't..."

Jesus: "Sh sh sh..." He looked at me with such kindness. "Oh Erin, I am sorry for the troubles you have had. I know that trauma makes time stand still and never cease. You have suffered in all ways the enemy has been allowed. Although it doesn't seem like you've had a reprieve from attacks, you are about to have this."

Me: "Lord, can I invite You in?" We were still standing outside at the front landing of my earthly home. "Can I offer You some water, tea or apple juice? Even though nothing I have is truly fit for the King of kings, please come in."

Jesus: "I would love to come in. Thank you." He stepped over the threshold and into our home. "It looks wonderful, Erin. Do you like what was built for you?"

Me: "Oh yes, Lord. It is beautiful. There are a few things I would like to fix up and something one day I would like to do, but You already know this. In my business, it goes on and on. I am happy here. I am thankful, Lord. We live like royalty. We are truly blessed by You." I was quiet for a moment. "Oh Lord, I am so sorry."

Jesus: "Erin, please don't apologize for seeing the possibilities. A place like this has many possibilities to expand, especially when considering the land surrounding you."

Me: "Yes, but this is owned by others."

Jesus: "I have promised you all of this. I haven't forgotten this, not once. This was and is My land I give to you. I haven't changed."

Me: "Lord, please come and sit down."

He walked into my kitchen. As He walked by, I saw my plants heal and turn to follow Him. I laughed.

Me: "It is very odd that Zoey and Snigglet are not barking."

Jesus: Smiling. "Do not worry, Erin, they are napping."

I offered Him my husband's usual seat at the table. This was amusing to me as, in 'real life', my husband was sitting there right now. He took His rightful place at the head of the table. I was so excited to see Him here.

Me: "May I offer You anything?"

Jesus: "Yes. Bring over those two glasses and the bottle of water. I brought them over, along with some bread."

I laughed as I had just walked by the counter where these were and there was nothing there just seconds before. He pointed for me to sit next to Him.

Me: "I am so glad You are here, Lord."

Jesus: "While this is true, you still feel uncomfortable about both your personal appearance and the appearance of your home."

Me: "Yes, Lord, I am. While You gave me both, neither are in top shape right now."

Jesus: "Erin, I dwell in your body. We partake in communion together..."

He picked up the plastic bottle of water and it instantly turned into a handblown glass bottle with red wine.

Jesus: "Now, this bread we partake in represents My broken body and yours. When you take My bread, you also take My body as a symbol. I serve you by offering up My body to you. You accept this and partake in My covenant with you. It does not mean when you eat this that everything becomes easy. Now, please break off some bread as your brokenness to offer to Me."

Me: I tore off a piece of bread, but instantly felt guilty. "Oh Lord, how can I do this when I have not been broken the same way as You? Oh Lord, I never suffered like You did."

Jesus: "Yes, but your heart broke like Mine did, but in a natural sense. I was betrayed. I was alone. I was cursed and slandered. My clothing had been divided up and sold to the highest bidder. There was so much more that we have in common."

I began to cry as I started to remember my things being taken and sold. I saw my living room being emptied. I saw other rooms being emptied. I then saw my bedroom closet... my clothing... being emptied out. This happened during the auction.

Jesus: "Erin, your head hanged low. You saw no end to your suffering. In many ways, you still feel this way. However, I see an end to your suffering. Now come, let us eat this bread and remember that they hated Me first. In this same way, they will also hate you. Now, let us drink this wine."

Me: The bread tasted incredible. "Lord, this bread is clearly not from here. It is wonderful."

Jesus: "This is bread prepared by the angels. Your cup has wine made from the finest vineyards in Heaven. However, this doesn't represent a blood covenant. It instead represents a union of the Bride to her Groom."

I shook my head as I looked down at my current state. I looked old and large and had such pain in my side.

Jesus: "Oh Erin, take heart for what is almost here. I know what you are thinking. Erin, drink this new covenant wine with Me. This is a Wedding Wine."

Me: Taking a sip. "Lord, I am speechless. Given my current state, I am clearly not ready to be a part of the Bride. There has been no wedding yet!"

Jesus: "We are taking communion as a covenant together. Erin, the enemy asked for your life. The enemy asked for your destruction. However, he was not able to touch you. Be encouraged, Erin, as I will soon fulfill all of My promises to you. You will get your gifts that I promised you. All will be well here. Do not worry."

I looked outside our window and saw hundreds of animals and birds of every kind. They were all gathering to get a glimpse of Jesus. I had such a smile in my heart.

Me: "I have never seen anything like this." I laughed. "Lord, they are beautiful!"

Jesus reached out to take my hands into His. He looked me in the eyes.

Jesus: "I love you, Erin. It is I Who makes a way where there seems no way. Now, you are about to get some wonderful news. Like a sheep gate opening, all will then follow. There is good news coming and gifts to lift your head greatly. Now, I know, as I study you, that you wonder why I allow some things when they do not seem to make sense in the natural. However, they do. They make much more sense than you would ever expect.

"Your injuries are significant to My miracles for you. No one will then be able to say 'Jesus only heals the well'. With you, no one will then be able to say 'Jesus only heals the strong... or the rich... or the scholars... or the privileged'. They will instead say nothing as they will be left speechless and ashamed. Now, are you able to hold on a bit longer?" He held up two fingers like a pinch with a tiny space.

Me: Laughing. "Oh Lord, that is a signal for hitchhikers that you are only going a really short distance. Is this a signal that we are almost there?"

Jesus: Smiling. "Well then, perhaps this is a good analogy!"

Me: I held up two fingers and kept them just a tiny bit apart. "Okay, Lord, okay. However, please hurry, okay? When You pass me by for healing and I know You can... I have read and have even seen Your miracles... well, it hurts. I am like a hitchhiker waiting all day with no one to stop for me. So, when You, my Best Friend, Healer, Deliver and Lover of my soul, drives right past me and gives me that sign, well..."

Jesus: "Yes, I know. However, there is a big difference here. I am with you. I didn't drive by."

Me: "Okay." Just then, my heart dropped suddenly in the natural. "Like that, Lord! What is this?"

Jesus: "We just had covenant communion together. Do not worry. I am with you. I will not leave you. Tell your husband that I love him too. He is Mine. I will never leave him." He then pulled me away and looked me in the eyes. "As for your daughter, I am pleased. However, she must remain encouraged. She too will be so happy with what I am about to do with her and for her. All will stand amazed.

"However, I will also heal your house, your sons, your daughters, as well as your animals. Do not worry. I have you. Breathe, Erin. Do not be afraid. I delight in you." He put His hand over mine as a cap. My hands were so small compared to His. "I am your cover. It is now time for you to rise up."

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day! I am not feeling well. I did not come out of this procedure well. Please heal me. I am scared, Father. My husband and I drove past some protestors yesterday. I was surprised at who was there. They were older people, both male and female. These were people in their 60s and 70s. Their signs read as follows:

- End the tyranny
- Liberty
- Freedom
- Freedom is essential
- Fight for freedom
- Set us free

Two weeks of cautionary lockdowns have now equaled almost an entire year of war. This was not a battle to save the lives of those most vulnerable. It was instead meant to punish us and prepare us for 'The Great Reset', 'The Great Global Agenda'.

My stomach is puffed out right now. The feeling on the top of my abdomen feels like when I was about to give birth. All I am missing is the contractions. My left side of my ribcage to my left hip is numb. Something is wrong. I pray I get back feeling. In hindsight, I now wish I had just backed out. Still, I need to stop looking back. I instead need to worry about getting my strength back and pray for divine healing.

On Friday morning, I had gone downstairs. I thought I would try to feed the birds with some seed. I then came back in and sat down at the dining table. The birds hadn't been fed in a few days. There in front of me were many varieties of birds, all on one small eight-foot tree. There was a cardinal, a blue jay, a chickadee, a red breasted nuthatch and what looked like a pregnant robin. I then saw a sparrow. On a different tree, there was my black crow named 'scout' looking over all of this.

I then heard the Lord say in a very clear voice...

Voice of the Lord: "The same is true from the beginning of your dreams!"

I instantly recalled the dreams about my path. In getting to the ladder, there were odd looking birds. Well, I thought this to be odd, but that was because this was before I was a bird watcher and feeder. Now these are here and now. I then recalled the massive war raging all around me. Still, God illuminated my path. Angels from Heaven lined the path. They held swords over me to form a roof or cover. Swords signify truth.

There was also snow on this path. There is snow now also. Then there were the dragons, both black and red. They wrote many lies on massive books. Lies are like a wildfire in dry grass, kicked up by tumultuous winds. This caused a firestorm which cannot be easily put out. The path of a firestorm is unpredictable. This was all to prevent me from going to God for the great ceremony.

I didn't understand everything before, but now it was making more sense. As it was in the beginning, so it shall be in the end. Things which occurred then are taking shape now. It is remarkable. However, something has changed. People are now horribly discouraged. We were hoping to get to our mailbox after many weeks, but my surgery and storms coming will likely delay our travels again. This is so depressing.

Father, please turn and heal the land. Please don't allow the liars to prosper. Please rise up in us and turn to heal all of us who love You. When I think of truly wicked stories, You remind me that there is a reason You will come and do something in our days that we would not believe even if we were told. Surely the world is now much worse than Sodom and Gomorrah and even 'as in the days of Noah'.

Thank You for sheltering so much evil from us as I would have had difficulty living a daily routine knowing how much evil is truly happening against children, the elderly, the meek, the unaware and those with simple and trusting hearts. It makes me cry when I hear of organ harvesting and genetic altering. There is also the slaughtering of Christians all over the world. Well, this list truly goes on and on. Father, You see all of this. Please don't delay, in Jesus' Name, Amen! Matthew 13 & 24 came to mind.

Dream 477 – You mean so much more to Me than a Sparrow

Received on Sunday, February 21, 2021

Thank You for this beautiful day! Even when conditions are miserable outside and around us, You keep us close. Thank You for answering prayers concerning our children. To see hope, promise and joy in them is like a wave of comfort and thanksgiving. Thank You for answering our prayers.

With my physical decline the last few months and a delay in receiving this surgery due to the pandemic, I finally received what I had hoped would make me feel better... surgery. Unfortunately, when one goes into a scenario like this, it makes me once again realize that I am no 'spring chicken'. While my grandma used to say this, I never understood why until now.

My husband and I looked up the meaning of this saying. This is brought to you by the internet. The origin of the phrase actually comes from its literal meaning. In the early 1700s, farmers found that chickens born in the spring brought better prices than the 'older chickens'. Well, I have now been through 58 winters, so going into just a mild surgery can become problematic, especially when the doctor had not performed one like this before.

There are so many 'unknowns'. I am so sorry that I am worried. I am experiencing what those unknowns are now. I have been so sad. I am the worst physically I have ever been. Father, I am so sorry. I took for granted all of the physical abilities I once had. It is a gift to be free of restrictions and limitations when being mobile. It is a gift I didn't treasure enough when I was young.

My body was my best friend when growing up. When I had no control over the events around me, I could at least control my body. This included my intake of food. I also developed my skills, strength and appearance. In the end though, it was my thoughts and word curses spoken over myself which were the root cause of my fall physically.

My worst fear was to be rendered helpless or dependent on others. Why? Because those closest to me had once betrayed me the most. This is why trusting my body to others, including doctors and surgeons, is difficult for me. So, here lies many of the issues really... I have come through all these hurdles, tests, trials, losses, shame, brokenness, illnesses and injustices.

However, the trials continue in some capacity. If my troubles from the enemy are over, then this must be that remaining troubles are coming from You for Your purposes. It is not just me though. Many of our friends are encountering physical and medical issues right now. Why do this right before Your 'Great Kickoff'? Leading up to my surgery, I was spending a whole lot of time worrying about my future, my husband, my children and our household income.

We also have had automotive problems again recently. The financial end of this made me worry, so I debated on how I could create income within my disabilities. I went through many scenarios, but realized that this would be fruitless in my current condition. I was then reminded of a short dream I had back near my birthday (January 23, 2021).

Sub-dream 1 "Trusting the Lord for the income and the outcome" begins...

I was a young girl again, about 8 years old. I took out a hard-shelled blonde colored small suitcase from my closet. It was the same as the suitcase I used to visit my grandma's home in Nevada as a child. I packed it with essentials, including my Raggedy Ann doll, underwear, some small keepsakes and some clothing. After shoving a pillow in there, I had to sit on the suitcase to shut the clasps.

I dragged the suitcase to the door and went to the kitchen for snacks. There was barely anything in the fridge. I took out a brick of government-issue Velveeta-like cheese. I cut some slices and tossed them into a brown lunch bag, along with some plain crackers and a small orange. Even though I wanted to run away, I had no money for even the fair on BART (public transit).

Still, I decided to drag the suitcase down the front stairs to the sidewalk. I needed to evaluate my options more clearly. I turned in three directions. There was still no clear answer as to what I should do. I decided that running away was just not feasible. I turned around and decided to go back inside and eat lunch instead. When I woke up from this scenario, I was still in a dream. Jesus came to meet me.

Jesus: "Erin, I have provided for you and your house. If you trust Me for all of your income... and you do... then why do you continue to worry?"

Me: "It is because our car has broken down again and other troubles have come. I just want to make sure that I am doing all that I can."

Jesus: "Which is what?"

Me: I was very quiet. "Nothing. I can do nothing. It is impossible."

Jesus: "Okay, so, if you trust Me for your income, your 'input', and since we are speaking, you must then trust Me with what I have to say."

Me: "Yes, Lord."

Jesus: "So, do you only trust Me for income, but not for the outcome? If you are 100% at My mercy for all things coming in and going out, then what is your responsibility? Is it to get in the midst of Me to block My flow or is it to stand aside to allow Me to work?"

Me: "You are right, Lord. I am sorry!"

Sub-dream 1 over.

Wow, God is brilliant. Even though I went through my surgery, I am alive and still here. I have no feeling in my side and it has been ten days. Two nurses told me that, for now, this is a mixed blessing given that I am unable to keep pain medication down. I am once again in the hands of God. I am fully at His Mercy. In contrast, I am no spring chicken, I have no plan and I am certainly not dragging a suitcase to the BART train.

Father, this surgery has humbled me severely. My left hip feels as if a hot poker is being shoved into my body whenever I sneeze, cough, laugh or move incorrectly. I am clearly realizing that I am like the 8-year-old girl in the dream... I am going nowhere without You. I truly give my life to You. With great tears, I repent. I am so sorry, Father. I love You. Please forgive me.

Jesus: "Erin, come up."

I heard a knock on my front door. There was Jesus and He was smiling. He was holding a scroll with one hand. He was using the scroll to tap His other hand. I was so excited to see Him. I opened the door.

Me: "Lord, You can just come in. After all, You already reside here. This is the house that You have made. All of this is all Yours."

Jesus: Laughing. "All good points, Erin. However, I must show you something today. Come."

He reached out to take my hand. He walked me through the snow to our side yard. We stood there and saw an astonishing variety of animals and birds.

Jesus: "Which one of these is starving?"

All of the animals looked very healthy. I could see a group of deer up on the hill across from our house. I saw fat grey squirrels, about twenty red squirrels, Scout the lead black crow, a large pleated woodpecker and numerous other bird varieties. This did not include our nightshift animals and owls. I started to laugh as all were healthy.

Me: "You are right, Lord, just as You always are. Not one is starving."

Jesus: "Who feeds them?"

Me: "I do. Am I doing too much?"

Jesus: "Erin, it is not you who feeds them. Think of it in another way. Who provides you with income for the seed, along with the outcome for distribution?"

Me: "I am so sorry, Lord. You do!"

Jesus: "I also brought them to you. I equip you fully to provide. You are just a small portion of all that I do for them. I send angels in seasons to prepare them, to nest, to forage, to find water and to prepare for storms.

Have you noticed that they all but disappear right before the storms come? Is this from you? Do you call out to them in a voice that each one understands?"

I was laughing. Jesus was smiling as He spoke.

Me: "Of course not."

Jesus: "When a mother has her young close by, it is I Who provides near her home. I do this so she does not lose sight of her little ones. I also provide for the hawks, owls and foxes who have young. The animals are prepared in due season for what comes as I am their Provider. I even know when one sparrow falls."

When I looked over at the feeders, I could see several crown sparrows.

Jesus: "I am the God who knows, who understands, who provides, who gives and even who takes away. I even lay down one life in sacrifice for another, right?"

Me: I was now crying. "Yes, Lord. Blessed be Your Name!"

Jesus: "Even though I require nothing from these animals or birds, they are still obedient to My Voice and fully subject to Me. They are not trained domestic animals that are subject to their owners. Instead, they are free and angels from Heaven govern over them. Just look at how much I care for them. Look how beautiful these are."

I could now see even more evening grosbeaks, blue jays, finches, woodpeckers and cardinals. He lifted His left arm and many came to see Him. He fed them from His right hand. I was in awe. Tears streamed down my cheeks.

Jesus: "What is wrong? You should be happy. Look how beautiful. Look how detailed each feather is. They don't look worried, right? They fly with confidence."

Me: "Sometimes we have a knock on our front door and it is a grey squirrel."

Jesus: "Yes, I know. I send them."

Me: "You do?"

Jesus: "When they are hungry, they knock... hoping to receive. This is a good thing. They come with confidence that your home will provide. They look to see if you are home." He was smiling. "What? You didn't think they could be this smart? Do the squirrels not know exactly where they bury each of their nuts? This ability came from God. The knocking squirrels are then rewarded with even more nuts than they asked for. Is this also not just like God?"

Me: "Oh yes, Lord, absolutely!"

Jesus: "Even the crow studies the activities of these squirrels. When they are not looking, the crow then unburies a nut. The crow is an opportunist that also strives to fill his stomach."

Me: Laughing. "Wow, Lord, You are giving me the live version of reaping and sowing."

Jesus: "How about I am giving you the 'Jesus I Am Version Live' to back up My Words on paper. You then wonder 'why do I allow this or that?' You then ask 'why does everything take so much time?' You wonder what I mean by 'for a season' and when I will do this or that based on the signs. You worry if I am mad at you when troubles come. How about this instead..."

"I love you even more than these... and I love them very much..." He pointed to all the wildlife around us. "If you just consider this one thing when you watch them... that I do all of this for them... yet I love you in an even greater way... then perhaps you could understand much more. You have been readied as a Bride, a perfect match to her Groom. This means you must understand fully what your Groom has endured for the sake of His love for His Bride."

Me: Crying... yet again. "I am so sorry, Lord. I have endured nothing compared to You. I am so very sorry!"

Jesus: "Do not worry as you are not in competition with Me." He nudged me. "Instead, you are a compliment to Me. As these adorn My arm..." He pointed to the beautiful birds there, all of different varieties. "...you then, in your beauty, I will wear as a Jewel in My Crown."

Me: "Oh Lord, please change us. I so want to be beautiful for you."

Jesus: "Erin, you are already beautiful to Me. I know you. I know every portion of you. I love you. I will adorn you fully. As the world knows you as you are now, they will soon be left speechless."

Me: "Really, Lord? I am excited! Thank You!"

Jesus: "What? Are you not going to ask Me when?"

Me: "I have always been that knocking squirrel. You tell me the same thing every time. You showed me 'just a pinch of time is left' the last time we met."

This is a small time. While I do not know Your timing, I do know this... I am no spring chicken. I am instead a woman who acts chicken. The season is winter. However, You make all things new. You can make me new at any time. I am so sorry that I tried to go ahead of You."

Jesus: "I am with you always." He was laughing. "You make Me smile. Erin, I am preparing you in your dreams."

Me: "Yes, Lord. I had an interesting dream just last night..."

Sub-dream 2 "Tattoos of very scary men instantly removed" begins...

I was in the center of a large prison cell of gang members. I appeared just as they had started curing You. You strengthened me and worked through me. All of these strong men soon became weak and fell to their knees. Those who still wanted to curse at me were unable. This place was completely void of You, except for three men. These three had not yet fully transformed into the darkness.

You spoke through me and called them by name. You removed all of their tattoos and piercings and brought them to their feet. All of the others began to cry. All in the room were then healed and set free. They all went out and testified of Your Great Work. Some were tattooed all over their faces, yet You removed it all and restored them. I was in absolute awe as I watched You perform miracle after miracle.

Sub-dream 2 over...

Jesus: "Yes, Erin, and this is just the beginning. Erin, please rest now. Trust in Me to restore you and heal you. Trust others around you to help. Let go and trust Me. Oh yes, here..." He handed me the scroll with His promises. "This is a copy of your promises from Me. I have others if this becomes lost." He smiled. "Although you rarely lose anything."

We laughed together as He was referring to the fact that I usually carefully store important records. While not always logically filed, they are usually there when I need them.

Me: "Nothing is ever lost with You, Jesus. With You, all things are found. With You, You know where everything is."

Jesus: "Well, this has been a good lesson today on trust... both for your income and your outcome."

Me: "I love You, Lord." I reached over and hugged Him.

Jesus: "I love you too, Erin. Allow Me to carry you."

Me: "Yes, Lord."

Dream over.

Dream 478 – The Lord will take care of EVERYTHING

Received on Saturday, February 27, 2021

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day! Thank You for my family and my friends on our Nest. There is no earthly value I can place on love. I have been struggling physically and emotionally. Well, okay, spiritually too. You would think that, after all of these years of various trials and troubles, I would have a thicker skin. However, I don't... or do I?

I have been watching very little news now. I have learned from You of the long-term plans of the enemy, Father. Watching the eroding of Godly foundations of this nation is so painful to watch. Horrible things are being said of half of the country. My husband and I watch very little television. When we do, we try to make it light and fun. However, even this is becoming more difficult. Even light shows now have political messages.

Oh Father, what is happening? I have watched and read horrible things said of prophets who declared Trump would serve another term. Even death threats have gone out. Help me to understand! While You gave me dreams similar to these, You also then told me to be patient and wait. You told me to wait even when everything seems contrary to what we believe.

Well, Father, wait I will... and we are still waiting. The agendas of the enemy are extremely wicked. Our religious freedoms, liberties and equality under the law are all on the verge of being eliminated. In the meantime, some radical Christians are calling for the death of anyone who prophecies or has dreams and visions at all.

When these dreams first started, I too had horrible things said of me many times. I then questioned if I was hearing from You. I then placed fleeces on You just like Gideon did in ancient times. Since these fleeces were answered each time, I then continued with these dreams. Still, a Bride waiting in her chamber for her Groom gets discouraged after the years go by. Others leave too, but hope remains.

When horrible things are said of me, it makes me want to retreat and stop. It did at the beginning and it still does. You then ask me a simple question. Who do I serve...You or the world? Well, each time, I answer that I serve You, Father. I then hear You sooth my Spirit by reassuring me too not be afraid.

Father, I pray for these Christians. I pray because they falsely claim that You stopped Your miracles, signs and wonders 2000 years ago. However, this makes no sense. Why would so many words, dreams and visions be pointing to us to repent and follow Jesus? Why would Satan do this? Well, he wouldn't. It would be contrary to his plans and a house divided cannot stand. Even the enemy knows this.

What we are watching is not chaos. Instead, it is the highly organized takedown of one of the greatest nations in history, all executed with evil genius. In the meantime, so many Christians are pointing to each other instead of looking at what is coming or already here. Someone has even named themselves 'The Chief Rebuker'. Wow, where is that in Scripture? It isn't.

Well, Father, for the last two weeks, when I forget I have my surgical wound, I am quickly reminded of 'having troubles'. This quickly reminds me to be gentler with myself and to let the area heal. I then argue with the Lord that, if my Vessel is ready...

- Why not just heal my wounds?
- Why not just allow me to wait in peace?
- Why allow one of our closest friends to have a heart attack in this late hour?
- Why allow a little newborn to have heart valve issues?
- Why allow another to break bones?
- Why allow our recent car troubles?
- Why allow some of our plumbing to need replacing?

Then there is this monumental, but mystifying, event that recently came about. Our neighbors are getting a divorce. The one man is fighting greatly with the other man and we are getting reports from one of them. I am now even friends with this one man. Well, it looks like their property will soon be coming on the market. This seems to be quite the sign from You. Something You told us would happen four years ago is happening right now and just as You said it would.

This reminds me that we all need to be careful of making judgments of others. For example, why did God allow for me to have a rare condition that required painful surgery? If we are really so close now, why did He let me have this procedure when I haven't had any others since back in May 2008? Well, when looking back, I learned that troubles come when one of the following occur:

- They come when our thinking about You and the world are off
- They come when our path or direction is not in sync with Your plans

- They come when we are about to move in our lives and You need us to get out of Your way and let You work
- You do this as a measure of hearts... the hearts that surround the people that are undergoing troubles
- God also uses our time of troubles and pain to gain our attention and dependence on Him

Yes, You are not a Father Who loves to see us have troubles. This is NOT in Your nature at all. However, these come as Your plans and ways are greater than ours and You want to make sure we receive all that You have to offer us. With all this in mind, I now want to praise all that You are to us...

Oh Lord, how dearly I love You! You are everything to me and, aside from You, I am nothing. Your Spirit, the Holy Spirit, is in me and is my Best Friend. You lift me up when I am down. You lift my chin when I am in great sorrow. You send an eagle to lift my gaze to the sky when I am in need of a sign from You. You care about me and have answered so many of my prayers for our children. There is something for each of them...

- My husband's son will likely receive an offer in the forestry industry for an internship
- My older son doesn't have Cushing Disease, a major relief
- My younger son loves his job at the sandwich shop
- My daughter has been accepted into a Graphic Design Program
- My husband's daughter is doing well in school

Yes, things are beginning to look up again. Hope is rising here! However, please consider opening a door for my husband soon too. As for me, I am thankful. Never once did You say that my life would be trouble free. Instead, You said You would be with me in times of trouble... and You have... always!

Father, although I do not consider myself to be a prophet, my dreams and words from You are prophetic in nature. Please keep me close. You have been speaking mysteries with words of knowledge about events about to unfold. Please guide us in all we do. Please let everything be pleasing to You and for Your Glory. Let us diminish so You will be exalted by everything we do. I pray this in Jesus' Mighty Name, Amen!

Sub-dream 1 "A Storm interrupts a Broadway Musical" begins...

I was in a major city. While not sure, it seemed to be either Chicago or New York. I had a ticket for the final show of a long running Broadway Musical. There were many people I recognized there. There were also famous names, many in the ministry. All were dressed elegantly. There was a lot of pomp, circumstance and pretense. Anyone who was anyone was there.

As many were now being mean to each other, I then found myself not wanting to go. While I was excited to attend at first, I was no longer interested when I saw the mood and size of the crowd. I looked around at some people in the Grand Lobby and asked them if they would like a free ticket. Since everyone declined, I ripped up my ticket. As I was about to leave, a worker came up to me.

Worker: "It is the final act of the final performance. They are all unaware of the storm coming."

Me: "What storm?"

Worker: "Do you not pay attention to the reports? An epic storm is coming. It will arrive before the performance is over."

Me: "Should we not be taking cover?"

Worker: "God's got me. He has you too. You will be fine. It is them." He pointed to the crowded theater. "They are going to need help."

Just then, an announcement came via the Emergency Broadcasting System. It was a dire warning. People began to run out of the theater, through the lobby and into the streets. The worker and I stayed safely behind a counter and watched. We were out of harm's way and just observing. I then heard "look up, look up!"

Sub-dream 1 over.

I then had a second dream. However, I decided to wait to discuss it. I felt that there would be a perfect time to disclose this awesome dream.

Jesus: "Erin, come up."

I heard a knock on our front door. It was Jesus! I ran over and opened the door. He was smiling. I noticed that the scroll was still in His hand. I looked a bit confused. He hugged me. I held Him for quite a while and wept.

Me: "I am sorry, Lord. Please come in."

Jesus: "I am always with you, Erin. You have invited Me in, so there I will stay. As for today though, I would like to share something with you. Come." He reached for my hand. He walked me through the snow to the bridge over our tiny stream. He walked across the bridge to a place I recognized. There was the boat that the Lord used to take me to the Garden Folly He had built for me. It was a beautiful area of Heaven.

Jesus: "We are traveling the shorter route today."

Immediately after saying this, we were instantly on the steps of this beautiful stone structure. While not sure, it appeared to be on an island of sorts. I hadn't noticed this before.

Me: "It is so beautiful, Lord."

Jesus: Smiling. "Yes, it is. It is fit for a princess." He nudged me. "Now, using terms you use for building and design on Earth, try and describe all that you are seeing."

Me: Smiling as I rolled up my sleeves. "First off, this would be owned by an off-the-charts wealthy person. No one else could afford this much opulence. The river is crystal clear and made of the purist water. This river is not deep enough to allow a ship to carry the massive stones we see here. While there is no visible road, I can see small walking paths. Again, nothing in terms of the infrastructure necessary for all of this.

"It could also not be done by air helicopter as the surrounding trees are just too huge. It would be impossible. The surrounding area would make this impossible for man to build. Well, I suppose it could have happened if they built this before anything grew. This seems very unlikely to me though."

Jesus: He was smiling at me as He held the scroll. "Very good. Continue."

Me: "This Garden Folly would be impossible to reproduce on Earth. It has no rock joints. This Folly was entirely cut from just one massive rock. It must have been a gargantuan stone. It must have then been sculpted with the precision of a water laser jet cutter. Again, impossible on Earth."

I then noticed something amazing that I had never noticed last time I was here. The stones were inlaid with gems that formed intricate leaf, flower and vine patterns.

Me: Excitedly. "Oh Lord, these are all precious stones. There are emeralds, sapphires, jasper, rubies, topaz and diamonds." Tears were now streaming down my cheeks. "These are beautiful. This is impossible from an earthly standpoint."

Jesus: "Oh Erin, I am glad that you like this place. However, you should know that structures like this are quite common here in Heaven. There is no need to cry as you are gauging this from an earthly perspective."

Me: "Yes, Lord, I am. I have seen this before, but not with precious stones. Just one square foot of this would be priceless on Earth."

Jesus: Smiling. "Okay, now, continue. What else?"

Me: "There is intricate lighting everywhere, yet I have never seen even one cord. There is no wiring going to the Folly. There are elaborate fountains, yet I have never seen even one pump or waterline. On Earth, there would be transformers, wires and pumphouses."

Jesus: "Continue."

Me: "There are incredibly detailed doors, yet I have never seen even one with a lock. They seem more like a decorative feature here. It seems clear that these doors are not here to keep out thieves or unwanted visitors."

Jesus: Smiling. "True. We do not have any thieves or unwanted visitors in Heaven."

Me: "Then there are the furnishings! The furnishings are like nothing here on Earth. The fabrics! The paintings! The rugs! The pillows! All of these combined would cost millions on Earth. Oh, I almost forgot to mention the music. The music is delightful and surrounds you, yet I have never seen a single speaker or speaker wire. It is amazing. It would be impossible to build this on Earth, even with great cost."

Jesus: "So then, what do you think it will look like when Heaven becomes visible on Earth?"

Me: "Hmm, I do not fully know."

Jesus: "Erin, you and your household have been dependent on Me for your provision for the last three years. During this time, you have had outcome, including basic expenses, taxes and repairs. I have provided for it all. So then, why have I allowed these recent additional troubles?"

Me: "Hmm, I again do not fully know."

Jesus: "Wisdom would teach you that I would then provide an uptick also in greater provision. This is to prepare you to be dependent on Me completely when I call you to no longer be subject to the world. When this happens, you will then only be dependent on the things of Heaven.

"Yes, Erin, there will be a time very soon when Heaven will be visible in you and around you. You will then no longer be subject to institutions, commerce or man for anything. This will be because I will be your True Source. So, now would be a good time to talk about your second dream. Do you remember it?"

Me: "I sure do! I loved this dream!"

Sub-dream 2 "The Lord will take care of EVERYTHING!!" begins...

The Lord was now our complete source of power, food, water, vehicles, traveling and communication. Our home was powered by God alone. Our food was 'just there'. We had no need for bank accounts or purses. With the Lord being the source for all of this, the television now supplied information about Heaven and the plans of the enemy.

The enemy no longer had access to us as they had no worldly ability to cutoff our food supply, communication, provisions, bank accounts, gas or electric. The Lord took care of absolutely everything! It was amazing.

Our home was also WAY better than our current home. This 'divine renovation' was pretty well instantaneous. Natural disasters no longer came at us. No one could spy on us or monitor our activities. While we were feared by many, we were also like heroes to others. We felt absolutely secure in the Lord's care!

Sub-dream 2 over...

Jesus: "Given that all that you saw in this dream will soon happen, why am I allowing some troubles to fall upon your house right now?"

Me: "So that I rely completely on You and fall to my knees?"

Jesus: "Well, yes and no. While there is more, this is good for now. You understand My point. Now, you will be under My care. You will not be subject to this world. There will be a light upon you that is visible to others. This will set you apart. This is important. In turn, none of you will be interested in the things of this world other than the souls in which I send to you for healing.

"You are My Chosen People, a Royal Priesthood. Heaven will be visible in you and around you. Now, here." He gave the scroll to me. "Review your promises in light of Heaven. Erin, the dreams I have given you are from Me, even those in which you have come against the enemy but have had difficulty speaking. These have all trained you for this time to come.

"Erin, you have learned to not step ahead of Me. You have learned to let Me carry you, even when you are not used to being carried. You have had attacks against you for your beliefs, but you have learned to trust Me and yield to My commands. Now, I am about to do something in your days you would not believe even if you were told. Erin, you are ready!" He smiled as He reached over to hug me.

Dream over.

Dream 479 – Heaven will be visible on Earth

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day! Thank You for Your love and care. Thank You for my family and our home. You have blessed us and I am so thankful. Father, what has been happening in the world has left a hole in my heart. Never in history has there been times like these of the end. The great decline of morality, freedom and justice is dropping so quickly that it is staggering.

From just one morning to the next morning, so many changes occur. Any gains that the USA was beginning to see under the previous administration has all but been removed in only six weeks. It is so shocking. Anyone who loves Jesus is being thrown under the bus, losing jobs and being removed. Persecution is rising all over the world. What we are seeing is a massive rise in demonic activity, all with no end in sight.

Father, please help us soon. Last night, I was awoken by my husband having an odd dream. He dreamt of a massive demon with a vice grip over its head. He told me that this demon was coming for the children. It then took awhile for me to fall back asleep. After finally falling back to sleep, I had an interesting dream.

Sub-dream 1 “High time for a redesign”

I was in an area that looked a lot like Black Butte Ranch in Oregon. I was youthful again. I was a co-designer of a $3 million home. The person co-designing this with me was loud and boisterous, but not a very good designer. When we met friends of the clients, they were snobby and mean to me, treating me as if I was a secretary. I then began to state my resume. Their jaws dropped.

In this dream, I had done $20 million homes and many $5 million homes and up. This $3 million home was an easier project for me. The client's friends then asked the co-designer about his background. He was suddenly at a loss for words. I could tell that he was completely intimidated by me. He was now acting nervous as he knew that he had treated me horribly. After a short while, one of the snobby women talked...

Snobby woman: "While you sure seem to know a lot about design, I bet you probably don't know anything about furnishings and antiques."

I looked around the room and began reciting exactly what each item was, their period historically and their current market value, including the tea set we were drinking from. The woman was both humbled and offended by my abilities. During this, my co-design partner had snuck out of the room. The couple there began to quiz me on building codes, weight loads and products. I sat there taking it until I finally replied...

Me: "I have never been grilled so harshly on a job. Perhaps I should leave this job and pursue jobs where I am welcome."

Snobby man: "No, no, no, no! You are welcome here."

Snobby woman: "Well, I suppose if you have something better..."

The man kicked her under the table. She quickly stopped talking.

Me: "Well, actually, I do. I am sure your friends will be in capable hands." As I turned to point to my co-designer, I realized he still wasn't there.

Snobby woman: "You're bluffing. You need this job."

Me: "Actually, I don't. I have no need for a job where I am treated like garbage. I question your loyalty to your friends and if they know you are like this with those coming to help. It doesn't matter anymore though. In reality, I have more pressing commitments."

Snobby man: "No, don't leave! Please!"

Snobby woman: "No, let her go. We can find a replacement. I will make calls."

She knew that I had value, but her pride would not let her apologize. After waiting a short while, I walked out of the building. I walked straight into a beautiful horse meadow. To my right was a giant snowcapped peak. It appeared more like the Rockies now than Black Butte. There were elements of both though.

Sub-dream 1 over.

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day! You are amazing in all Your ways. Father, You bless us and keep my household safe. While I could question my poor surgery and the pain I have, I know that You have allowed it for good reason. Since You have allowed this, I know that You will then also give me the ability to endure it. This pain is not new to me though. I am familiar with other pains that are similar in magnitude and severity.

I am unable to stop the pain through pills because I am unable to ingest them. Even if I wanted to take them, my body rejects them and it is very painful as well. It is better to take nothing and endure it than to endure the results of taking what my body hates. My spirits are low because of all of this. I was told by my doctor to rest and limit travels and activities until I am seen again.

This is all so depressing and difficult. I have no feeling in one region of my body and pain all around it. Lord, You must require rest right now of me because You would have made a way for me. My husband, daughter and I attended prayer at church on Wednesday night. We took communion, but the bread seemed to be of low quality. When I went to a Christian store, I noticed that they too had low quality items.

Nothing is the same anymore. However, I believe that the things of the Lord should be made to honor Him in our daily lives. I often chuckle when I hear 'old timers' say 'they don't make it like that anymore.' Well, they would be correct. In life now, there are many factors. First is the cost. Second is religious items don't sell. Third is people are now afraid to display them at home. These are all such sad reasons.

So, why did God command specific items in His place of worship, the Temple, all to be consecrated and a specific purpose, design and material if He didn't care? He is God and He is worthy of our best, the best we have. God is about the heart. When you come to worship God in His Temple, His place of holiness, then the atmosphere should be special.

He is special. He is worthy. Even though our faces are covered due to COVID, we still need to worship with our full hearts. It is so awful that our worship songs from our lips are muffled and filtered. I pray that our power of prayers and worship never diminishes in scope or magnitude. Lord, You see it all. I am thankful that there will be wonderful bread and sweet wine in Heaven.

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day! Thank You for all You do. Thank You for the great blessings upon my children. Thank You for dreams. I have sat helplessly as I watch my sons navigate life. As they grow, my husband and I instruct them in the ways they should go. However, how can we truly do this when autism related challenges rise to the surface during their everyday life?

My eldest son is working with a special needs organization that helps with employment placement. He began as a volunteer to gain work experience. He has never worked before. His first day was physically very difficult on him. It was difficult to drop him off. I saw panic in his eyes as he stepped into the unknown. He then spent three days working beside a young man with autism, not 'just' Asperger's.

The two never spoke much, but, on his last day, in the last 30 minutes, they discovered how much they had in common. Later on, once I picked him up, he had tears in his eyes. He was quietly weeping, this from a son that barely ever cries. To my surprise, it was not because he hated working there. It was actually because he had quickly developed various bonds and friendships with the people there.

Oh Father, my son is humble and kind, but also very naïve about the world. Please keep his heart protected as the world around him is full of troubles. As for my other son, also with Asperger's, he still works at the sandwich shop. There has been some suspicious behavior he has seen late at night by rough looking customers when he is by himself. Lord, please protect him from any shenanigans or violence.

While my younger son is more streetwise than my older son, I still wouldn't want to test him on this. As for my husband's son, he is leaving for a work study program in a remote area of the Northwest. He will be working with resource management. He will likely be unreachable for large blocks of time as a result. Oh Father, please also protect him, in Jesus' Name.

As for me, I have been physically struggling. I am not well. I wish I could reverse time and opt out of the procedure I had exactly thirty days ago. This has come with challenges and side effects greater than my original condition. I am supposed to rest, but it has been very difficult. Even driving in the passenger seat of our car is difficult. Each bump sends a pain into my side.

However, and more than anything, I am tired of complaining to You. Father, it hurts to sit and write in my chair. Why allow all of this? It hurts to drive in a car on bumpy roads. On top of all of this, I am dizzy and unstable at times, particularly when standing. I am sad, Father. I am tired of the way I am. I am so discouraged. I want to live and be free. I feel as if I am just wasting away. Will You not consider (I stopped myself)...

Oh Lord, how I love You! So much! It has been a week with many tears. There have been so many disappointments as I see the enemy working to chip away at my faith in Your presence. While You have been calling me for something wonderful, this daily grind makes it difficult. While we have not experienced any new tests, I can also see that You are still 'polishing my finish'.

We have seen troubles after troubles come and go like waves on the sea. It has been difficult to see lies replace truth. We see freedoms being removed to where we no longer have liberty to move about. Breathing is difficult for me anyway, so wearing a mask makes breathing extremely difficult for me. When in church, these masks muffle our worship. It is not pleasant.

We then have to deal with rising prices. A loaf of bread is $5. A carton of eggs is $7. I bought oranges and they were about a $1 each. Butter is $5. What? Yes, the cost of living has seriously jumped recently.

We are now told to get the vaccination so we will have a card to show proof we had it. This will be required to move about. Well, I thought we had the right to make choices about our bodies?

Yes, I am talking about prochoice advocates. They claim that it is our bodies, so we can kill our unborn children, but somehow being forced to take this vaccine is different? Our body, our choice... or so goes the argument.

But this is where it gets really odd. Even after getting a shot, they say we will still need to wear masks. Father, this doesn't add up. Surely, we must be very close. Please make a way for us.

Jesus: "Erin, come up."

I heard a knock on my front door. There was Jesus. He was holding a scroll. He held a cloth with His other hand. I looked down and noticed I was still in my current 'old age' condition. I started weeping as I was so ready for 'The Big Change'. Jesus reached out to hug me as I continued to cry.

Me: "I am so sorry, Lord, so sorry."

Jesus: "Erin, for what?"

Me: "So many things."

Jesus: "Hmm, you have wounds. Wounds need time to heal."

Me: "But You are here, Lord. You are my Healer and Best Friend. Time takes too much time!" I then realized I hadn't invited Him in yet. "Oh Lord, please come in!"

Jesus: Smiling as He took my hand. "Come with Me instead. Now, Erin, I will heal you. I promised that I would and this has not changed. I know you are discouraged as you struggle to even write. When a person is in pain, you learn about their resolve, character, endurance and stamina. While I am sorry about your discomfort, have you been resting?"

Me: "Lord, I have no choice but to rest."

Jesus: "Okay. So, is rest not enjoyable?"

Me: "Well, I love rest... but how about a pain-free rest instead?" He looked at me with such empathy as He nodded in agreement. "Lord, what You ask is impossible. How can one have true rest without comfort or peace? The world has been locked down. Is forced rest really rest?"

Jesus: "Hmm, you make valid points. Did it ever occur to you that all of this is a teachable moment for you?"

Me: "I have. I find that, if my sleep, rest and writing are all disturbed, there must be something You require of me other than what I am doing. So, what do You need from me? I am not spending time on technology as it is hard to get comfortable or type. My husband often has to type and text for me as I speak with him." I began to cry again. "Oh Lord, have You now stopped Your favor in my life?"

Jesus: "No, Erin, not at all. There are times coming when you will be unable to rest except for one day a week. You will look back at this time and wished you had embraced this more. Now, come."

He walked me over to a tiny bird in the snow. It was dead.

Me: "Lord, this is the Brown Creeper from yesterday."

Jesus: "Yes. He is sleeping." He put the cloth in His hand over the bird and picked him up. He handed me the cloth with the bird inside. Tears streamed down my cheeks.

Me: "He is dead, Lord. I have no abilities to heal this bird."

Jesus: "The bird is sleeping. Now, breathe into the bird."

Me: Laughing. "What? Do You mean, like, mouth to beak?"

Jesus: Laughing. "No, even though it would be funny to watch. Now, just speak life over the little bird."

While I then did, absolutely nothing was happening. This went on for about a minute.

Me: "Clearly I am unable to do anything without You. I am at Your mercy, Lord. I cannot even raise up a dead bird. Look at me. I am not even changed. I am still old. I am still in pain."

I handed the bird back to the Lord. I knew that I was incapable. Just as I did this, the little bird sat up. The bird looked at me and then turned to Jesus in order to sit on His shoulder.

Jesus: "Okay, so what just happened?"

Me: "I gave the bird back to You."

Jesus: "Erin, when you are faced with unsurmountable circumstances, things out of your control and battles you cannot deal with, these are then My battles... that is, if you give these to Me. Now, is there anything really within your control?"

Me: "No, not right now."

Jesus: "See, you are fighting an unwinnable battle on your own. As such, you must give all of this to Me. I allow these troubles for a grand plan, a plan greater than what you see around you. Now, there will come a day very soon where you will say to this little one 'rise up and fly'. You will say to this mountain 'move'. You will say to the ground 'split'. However, until this day comes, you must be able to endure what comes at you daily as My battle. Give your burdens to Me as You cannot carry these things."

Me: "You are right, Lord. I have been acting like 'God-zilla!'"

Jesus: Laughing. "I understand. There is a lot happening. However, allow Me to work right now. I have not forgotten about My promises to you. You will have all that I have promised. I have you. I will take care of you because, without Me, you have nothing. However, with Me and through Me, you will have the wealth of nations. You are watching the wicked destroy the righteous. However, do not be dismayed as God My Father is judging the land. Once this is complete, the gates of Heaven will be visible."

Me: "Wow, the actual gates of Heaven will be visible on Earth?"

Jesus: "In a way. Heaven will be visible through those I have called. Your Vessels are a gateway to the things of Heaven. Through My Vessels will come healing, miracles and great joy. However, through My Vessels will also come great dread and judgment to those who are liars.

"Now, be encouraged. I love you, Erin. I have you. My favor is still with you even though it is hard for you to see blessings through your difficulties." He smiled and hugged me. "Erin, you will quickly see that I AM answering all of your prayers. I love you!"

Me: "I love You too!"

Dream over.

Dream 480 – Today is the New Year for Kings and Festivals

Received on Sunday, March 14, 2021

Communion

Dear Father,

I am so thankful for You! This life is difficult. People are suffering all over the world. It is the 'Great Turning Away' from You. My spirit is unsettled. While my sleep is sound, I am struggling to find joy while resting. I have so much to be thankful and joyful for. There is no earthly reason why my spirit is anxious. There has been such an uptick in evil all around us.

While there are still small gestures of kindness, these gestures are few and far between. My husband knows there have been a few very small things that have brought rivers of grief. In my devotional room, I keep a few items that direct me to hold a memory of someone always before me in prayers. This usually consists of an encounter with someone whom You have kept ever before me.

Many of the items are from acquaintances who are now in Heaven. However, others remain here. One item in particular often brings me to tears. I was at a flea market. This was a place where the truly poor go to sell their belongings. It is a place which shutdown six months before COVID-19. My younger son and I would go there because he had a good friend who sold items there.

He would contact my son to let him know and we would make the journey to the market. I saw so much despair in people's faces. So much of what was there was really in bad shape. Things were chipped, cracked, water damaged or pillaged from abandoned structures. Despite this, I still felt called to go. I had great conversations with so many people there. Their personal stories were heartbreaking.

I felt I may have been the only example of kindness shown to them. The place was small... maybe 30 tiny tables. We didn't have much to spend. So much was truly junk. I typically had more questions than answers over a variety of objects for sale. It broke my heart as I prayed that You would one day grant me the ability to heal them and set them free.

While some there were 'dark characters', almost all were kind, humble and seemingly redeemable. I was even able to share my story with a few. I continued to go until the market finally closed permanently. I enjoyed their kind faces and wonderful stories of hope in the midst of extreme difficulties. There is one day in particular that I will never forget...

The little market was open from 12:00pm noon until 4:00pm on Sunday afternoons. I was always there at later hours. This was because I usually had a dream to write. I would go after handing the dream off for typing and posting. However, on this particular day, I almost did not go. In fact, there was so much holding me back in the natural, it was ridiculous. There was enemy attack after enemy attack.

I then recall saying to You 'Father, should I even bother today?' You then replied 'yes, I have something there for you. It is special to Me.' With that, I then proceeded to drive there. I arrived at 3:30pm. Some vendors were already packing up as it had been a slow day. I prayed for all of them. I could tell that so many there were downcast because their sales were low.

I had quite a few call out to me to look at various items. One vendor even called out 'I have something for you for 50 cents.' I knew if someone was calling to me for 50 cents, they must have had a really bad day. I turned and looked at the item. It was an old compass that was easily worth $75. I didn't have that much cash on me, but I felt the Lord tell me to give them $20 instead of 50 cents.

Me: "This is worth more than 50 cents. I can't, in good conscience, give you that. Here, please take this instead." I handed him a $20 bill.

Man: Looking panicked. "Oh no. I have no change for a $20 bill."

Me: "No. You are to keep this."

Man: Looking as if he had just won the lottery. "Bless you! Bless you! May God bless you. Are you sure?"

Me: "God is good. Thank you. I will see you again. Perhaps next week."

I then turned down a row and saw something on a table. It was a hand carved unfinished large goose decoy. I went straight to it. In my spirit, I knew that this item was what the Lord spoke of in my spirit. When I looked for the salesman, my heart sank. There before me was a boy who looked sickly. He was very thin. He had pale white skin and I could see blue veins at the surface.

He had beautiful kind eyes. He was uncomfortable smiling, but did his best. His clothes were in poor condition. His dad was next to him and seemed very kind as well. They both straightened up and became hopeful when I arrived at their table. I then heard Your Voice speak clearly to me, but where only I could hear it...

Voice of God: "Give them all the money in your wallet. Buy up all they have. They do not want handouts."

Me: "Hi there. I really love this. How much for it?"

The father nudged the boy. I could tell that the father was instructing the boy on how to present himself. He could barely speak when he finally replied.

Boy: "Would $10 be too much?"

Me: "Hmm. It is a fine piece. Someone took a lot of time with it."

The boy nodded. He seemed very ill, but I couldn't tell for sure. I wanted to reach out and hug him to let him know that everything was going to be okay. However, how could I when only God knows the future. I felt a check from the Lord to not hug him. I then looked at some other items on the table. I looked in my wallet and saw that I still had my grocery money of $100. I felt I was to use it all.

Me: "How much if I were to buy everything on this table?"

Boy: Looking at his dad in shock. "Dad?"

Father: "Well, this is a pleasant surprise. We are grocery shopping after this, so it would be nice to not have to pack up all of this. How does $60 sound?"

Voice of God: "Offer what you have and no less."

Me: "Well, that decoy is really special. It took someone many hours carving it, but never finished it. It seems like life does that to us. This vase over here is special as well. I don't feel comfortable giving you less than what I have."

Man: Thinking I meant the opposite. "Well, I can take $40 for this if this is better for you."

Me: "Here, how does $100 sound?" I handed the father the cash.

Father: Mouth wide open in shock. "That is too much. We can't possibly..."

Me: "You don't understand. I love this decoy. It is special. Your items are in great condition. I feel like I am being called upon to give you all of this.

There is a reason that God sent me here today." I smiled at the boy and he had the biggest grin. "I have the perfect spot for these items."

Father: "You have no idea what this means to us."

Me: "Perhaps not, but God sure does. It is all His anyway."

I smiled as the father nodded his head. I wasn't sure if he was agreeing with 'The God Part' though. The look upon the boy's face was a priceless gift, a true treasure I will never forget. While I sensed the boy was around 11 years old, his illness instead made him look around 8 years old. My throat cracked as I said goodbye...

Me: "I hope to see you again another day."

Father: "Someday."

After that, I went out to my car and cried. Well, that same wooden goose is staring at me right now. It has been two or three years since my encounter with the boy and his dad. I went back several times after this, but never saw them again. I just know that, if this boy had died, he would be in Your arms.

While tomorrow is the Ides of March (March 15, 2021), today (March 14, 2021) is Nisan 1 on the Hebrew calendar. Father, You commanded it as the first day of the New Year every year. However, the importance of this day was forgotten somewhere along the way. Bless this day, Father. Let this month of Nisan be a month of miracles, healing and redemption. Nisan means redemption. It is a good month.

As for last month, the month of Adar, this was a month of great grief. We encountered many troubles and attacks. However, You brought us through them all. Last week marked the 46th Anniversary of my stepdad's suicide by hanging. He was only 28 years old. I recently found a calendar I had kept when I was 12 years old. I retrieved it at my mom's memorial.

He died on the evening of March 11th and we found him on the morning of March 12th. This was just a few days after his birthday on March 8th. Just before dying, he gave me a bunch of gifts and keepsakes. I realize now that he was doing this as he had already planned his soon death. I remember how brutal the sting of this loss was for our family every year.

Father, You are mysterious. I have had a lot of bad news during the month of Adar. However, even with everything that happened, You still bring us hope. We once again listened to Jonathan Cahn's Aaronic Blessing last night. It was wonderful and never grows old. Father, please let the Year of Your Favor begin soon, if not today! In Jesus Mighty Name, Amen!

Jesus: "Erin, come up."

I heard a knock on the front door. It was a figure with his back turned. He looked familiar. He turned and there was Raphael. He was smiling.

Me: "Hi Raphael! May I invite you in?"

Raphael: "You are welcome to. However, I have somewhere to take you."

Me: Smiling. "This house can wait. Let's go." I followed him into our yard. "So, where are we going?"

Raphael: "To a vast place. Come."

I held his arm and we were instantly just below a mountain top. We were standing in a cave overlooking a vast landscape of mountains. The sun was in the west.

Raphael: "God has told you that the ending has a pattern like the beginning. As you have been witnessing certain events, what do you see?"

Me: "Well, in the beginning, God created the world and man. The enemy is now destroying men and women and corrupting them. He is even changing their DNA and experimenting on them. The distinction between male and female is being removed. God's Creation is no longer held as being worthy. The corruption of all good is bad and all bad is good. It is like a tidal wave of lies. Man has fallen fast.

"There is the destruction of man and woman. There is the destruction of the church. All things holy have been defiled and desecrated. Even calling your mom 'mom' or your dad 'dad' is now barely permissible. The flood of evil is destroying everything. He is trying to destroy all of God's Creation. There is barely anyone still good in leadership. Everyone else lives in fear of speaking out."

Raphael: "Look here, Erin. As far as your eyes can see, God has created this all. From the beginning was the Word and the Word was with God and the Word was God. God is alive and therefore so is His Word. He is the God of Truth and His Word is incorruptible. It is holy and His truth reigns.

"He carries a scroll with Him and He shows You His promises are written and signed by Him. He has declared it so and it is therefore true. The enemy now spends his time tearing down truth and causing discouragement. When you see things not happen as you believe they should, the enemy attacks you by twisting the Word of God. The enemy then says things like...

- Perhaps you sinned
- Perhaps you are not worthy enough
- Perhaps you would be better off putting your hopes in what you see and conform to the world
- Don't renew your mind toward things not seen, but focus on what you see, your new reality
- This type of love is now the new normal

"Erin, these are all lies. God has never changed. He is the same yesterday, today and tomorrow. He is unchanging. This is the Year of His Remnant, those Redeemed of God, those He has raised up for such a time. This New Year is comprised of four beginnings:

- First is the New Year for Kings and Festivals (Nisan 1, today Sunday, March 14, 2021; the last day of this year is Adar II 29, which is April 1, 2022)
- Second is the New Year for Cattle, tithes or gifts (Elul 1, next up Monday, August 9, 2021)
- Third is the New Year for Years, Release of Captives and Jubilee (Tishrei 1, next up Tuesday, September 7, 2021)
- Fourth is the New Year for Trees (Shevat 15, next up Monday, January 17, 2022)

Me: "What does it mean?"

Raphael: "It takes the Glory of God to conceal a matter and the Honor of Kings to search it out. God will soon reveal this to you as this is upon you. Erin, this is the Great Time of the Redeemed. This is the Great Time of the Miracles of God. This will also be a time in which the enemy is scattered and dispersed as the light of God's Kingdom illuminates their darkness.

"Many will flee in great fear of judgment, but others will instead turn and be saved. God has brought me to you to encourage you this day after much bad news and great discouragement. Erin, cling to the rock of your salvation. Many of the foolish virgins have gone in search of oil and are unprepared. In town, they were further sidetracked by false words which were lustful.

"Now, the Lord has kept your lamp burning. Your heart is ready. Listen for the trumpet. He comes for you and soon He will collect His Bride, His Remnant of His choicest vineyard. There you will harvest with Him and rejoice."

Me: "I don't understand everything."

Raphael: Smiling. "Do not worry. Soon you will. Your Redeemer is near." He bent his ear toward Heaven. "Erin, do you hear it?"

Me: "Hear what?"

I immediately found myself at the front door of my house. Raphael was gone.

Dream over.

Dream 481 – Can you feel the Winds of Change?

Received on Sunday, March 21, 2021

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for the beautiful spring day! The snow is melting and the little animals and birds are chasing each other. This is a sure sign of spring. I had a dream two nights ago. I then had a similar dream just last night. I don't fully understand the dream...

Sub-dream 1 "Taking Pictures of the Cardinal"

I was photographing a particular cardinal. The cardinal waited until I approached and then posed for a camera shot. It then flew to a new location and waited patiently for me to set up. It then posed again for a camera shot. This continued a few times until I finally woke up. Each picture taken was in a different spot in the landscape.

Sub-dream 1 over.

Father, I am thankful for every little thing You do. You are not only in the small details, You are also in the large ones. This last week has been a difficult one for me and my older son. My son has been struggling with his training at various jobs. Just last week, he was asked not to come back right after they had originally expressed a desire to hire him. He was confused as they had told him he was doing a great job.

However, the head of the placement program heard a different thing. He was told that the place was fast paced and that my son didn't perform up to their standards. My son was in shock because they didn't mean what they said when they told him 'Go at your own pace', 'Great job' and on and on. Our follow up conversation was sad...

Son: "Mom, they lied."

Me: "Well, people often don't say what they mean to avoid conflict. They will say one thing, but then do another."

Son: "So, lie?"

Me: "Well, yes, I guess so."

I knew he was right. Sigh...it has been a difficult journey. Father, today is the 13th anniversary of my second NDE while at work in Bend OR (March 21, 2008, both Good Friday and Purim). I was sad because much of these years have been spent in great struggles. The promises that You had given me have not seemed to come or, when they have, it was not in a definitive way.

This makes me then question if it was fulfilled. On that note, my husband is an epic date speculator. He has settled down over time though in obedience to Your directive that he keeps these guesses contained. Still, all of this waiting and waiting makes me reflect on the baby of Abraham and Sarah. The Lord came to Abraham when he was 75 with good news.

However, time then dragged on. Finally thinking for God, Abraham thought perhaps God was unclear and that he should perhaps have children through his servant Hagar instead. This was first brought up by the suggestion of Sarah. For 13 years after Hagar had given birth, Sarah had to watch God's favor being poured out upon her maid servant Hagar as she watched Ishmael being raised.

Finally, in Abraham's 99th year, angels visited Abraham and declared that, when they return next year, Sarah would have a son (Isaac) at age 90. It was then so. I was struggling last week and the Lord reminded me that His promises for me and our household are true. Still, I am struggling with time...

Father, it has been 13 years since my second NDE. Please let the Year of Your Favor start now. I am so in love with You, Lord. My thumb is cut on my right hand and I am struggling today to write. I need a great miracle. Please heal my sons, our children and family. Please heal my mid-section. Please heal my back. I am in pain.

Jesus: "Erin, come up."

I heard a knock on my door. I couldn't see anyone standing there. I went to the door and peered out. There was the Red Cardinal looking back at me.

Me: "Hello. You didn't knock. Did you hit the window?"

I looked outside. The bird flew off toward the creek. I turned to put on my boots so that I could try to find the source of the knocking. I move slower now than I once did, so it took a few moments. When I turned again towards the door, there was Raphael. He was smiling and laughing.

Raphael: "You missed me, didn't you?"

Me: "Yes, I did! You are my much needed 'comic relief'."

Raphael: Smiling. "Well, the Lord did call me for much more, but... creating a smile in His Name on behalf of Heaven is good. The Lord called for a smile." I began to cry. "Hey, He called for a smile, not tears."

Me: Now half smiling, half crying. "I am so sorry..."

Raphael: "This is the time of new beginnings. You worry more now than you laugh."

Me: "I am tired. However, I also don't want to miss anything."

Raphael: "God has sent me to encourage you. While your battles have been long in years, God has never forgotten. Erin, even though your heart breaks, it still beats. God has called angels concerning you to guard you in all you do. He has called us to keep you safe while He prepares for the coming times. There is much you do not know. However, understand this...the enemy has raised an army into the hearts of men. This is why you see some people behaving in a 'confused state'."

Me: "While I know you are right on this, I still don't understand fully."

Raphael: "We (the angels) have a specific word for it (those behaving in confusion), but I will explain this in terms you will understand instead. The enemy has placed a successful veil over most of the nations. The veil is a thick cover under which evil operates unbeknownst to those inflicted. Under this veil, the subject is confused and has no ability to discern rational thought processes from irrational ones.

"They then believe they are justified in their actions over others. While they have issues with firearms, they also feel it is okay for someone to rob a bank with a firearm. They also are not okay if anyone has an issue with this. However, if a man takes up a firearm to hunt for food, these same people call them inhumane. They are now calling for the removal of firearms.

"This is not really because they feel sorry for the animals hunted. The truth is they want to make sure that no one has a threat of a firearm over them. You are seeing skewed justice. What is right and fair has now been deemed wrong and unfair."

Me: "Isn't this 'woke'?"

Raphael: "Well, clearly they went to sleep one night and 'woke' under the power of the enemy. What are the terms you use about the hamster and his wheel, the French fry or tools in the shed?"

Me: Laughing. "'The wheel is spinning, but the hamster is dead.' 'One French fry short of a Happy Meal.' 'Not the sharpest tool in the shed.'" I was now laughing.

Raphael: Looking up to Heaven. "Well, God, my mission is accomplished. The 'Little Sparrow' is laughing."

Me: "Hey, that's not fair." I was still laughing.

Raphael: "All is fair in the 'Joy War!'"

Me: "Joy War?"

Raphael: "Well, you did hear your daughter speak on 'the Joy of the Lord' vs. 'happiness', right?"

Me: "Yes, I did. It was amazing."

Raphael: "Well, you need some happiness while the enemy tries to steal joy from the world."

Me: "Okay, so, what do I do?"

Raphael: "Don't engage the enemy. Evil is rising quickly to flood the world with hopelessness. There is a war occurring against each individual. Anger is increasing. Those possessed by demons are becoming less yielding so visible manifestations are unfolding."

Me: "Won't God stop this?"

Raphael: "There has been no time like this in history. I will give you an assignment from the Lord. Write down all the ways in which the Earth has changed and who seems to be controlling various things..."

- One nation is purchasing resources.
- Others are buying up food supplies and massive quantities of farmland.
- Another is lining up water passageways to control this.
- Yet another thinks themselves the clean water czar for the world.
- Others are experimenting with genetics.
- Another seeks to remove travel so that every man is subject to their devices at home for travelling.
- Others want to harness the power of the sun.

"The list continues and on and on. It is not by the people under God, it is by the people under the fallen."

Me: "All of this is so confusing."

Raphael: "The enemy's allies today are the enemy's enemies tomorrow. There are race wars that amplified nine months ago. This is worldwide. It was meant to cause a great distraction away from good things. It was meant to create division and fear. Seeing this as a useful tool, these people became a plumbline for the land... 'Follow us or you will suffer.' However, the plan for the long-term will be to exterminate this group altogether."

Me: "This is horrible. Please do something."

Raphael: "Do not worry, Erin, as there will be vindication. A house divided cannot stand. Neither can a nation. This is about control and long-term management. God will put a stop to evil. Now, Erin, please be patient. Remember that after 13 comes 14. Within this, God will move."

Me: "Abraham's promises took 24 years or was the baby born when he was 100?"

Raphael: "Well then, you have waited long enough. Something very special is coming. Erin, for many, many years, it has continued to elude you. However, very soon, it will be here and your joy will be complete. Do you smell that?"

Me: "Smell what?"

Raphael: "The fragrance of healing and miracles. Do you feel that?"

Me: "I smell roses." The wind picked up. "I also feel the wind blowing."

Raphael: "Ah yes... God's victory..." The wind picked up even more. "...and the winds of change... a Great Sign. Erin, God is here!"

Me: "Wait! What? Where?" I looked all around.

Raphael: "Erin, God's favor is upon you. Do not worry. Oh look... another sign."

I turned and there was the Red Cardinal in the snow. It was only feet from me.

Me: "Hey, that is amazing."

I turned back to Raphael, but he was already gone.

Dream over.

Dream 482 – Caught up in a 3D Vision with Jesus

Received on Tuesday, March 23, 2021

Note: I am sitting here writing today due to an unusual event that occurred just this morning. While I was listening to praise music, the perfect song came on. As I was listening, I was brought into a 3D Vision with Jesus. When I came out of the vision, I was now sitting in my devotional chair with my journal at the ready. This has never happened to me before. Time to write!

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for dreams and visions! Thank You for this beautiful spring morning. My morning was quite the rush. I was seeing my oldest son off to work and he was running late. This is part of his 'Asperger's traits'. It is horrible. While it seemed he wouldn't get out of the house in time, by a miracle he did. After he left, I quietly played some worship music. After the 'rush', I needed to reset my emotions.

Unfortunately, this didn't work well at first. It was all my fault of course as I started yet again retracing all the terrible things going on in the world right now. The New World Order is mostly already here now and no one seems to notice. A song then started by Hillsong Worship called 'No one but you'. As I listened to the words, tears streamed down my cheeks. I was suddenly caught up in an active 3D Vision...

Jesus: "Erin, come up."

The sun was to the upper right in the sky and was beautiful. The scene was lush with fragrant flowers, green flowering vines and beautiful fruit bearing trees. As I looked over this scene, I saw a tiny hand on powdery dirt crawling out of a hole. As the toddler emerged, I could see that she was about two years old. From my vantage point, I could only see the back of the toddler. She was wearing something like a burlap dress.

She had bare feet. She had dark brown hair to her shoulders. It was fine and slightly curly at the ends. I could see this toddler struggle to stand as if she just had recently learned to stand on her own. Just then, I could see the feet of Jesus on a rock in the distance. He was wearing beautiful sandals. The toddler then lifted her hands up to Jesus to signal to Him to pick her up.

Toddler: "Hayah. Hayah. Hayah up. Hayah up!"

Jesus was now next to the toddler. His feet came into better focus. He was smiling and laughing as He stretched out His arms for the toddler to walk to Him. His laugh was contagious and I smiled as I watched this lovely scene.

Jesus: "You can do this! Come, Erin! Go ahead. One foot in front of the other. Come. I am here."

I realized that the little toddler was me. As I struggled to run into His arms, along with the uncertainty of my legs, I could see a determination to get there.

Me: "Hayah! Hayah up!"

Suddenly, I was no longer looking at this scene from a distance. I was now the toddler and saw things from the toddler's vantage point. Jesus picked me up. When He did, my burlap sack cloth was instantly replaced with a white linen smock. The fabric was the softest I had ever felt in my entire life.

Jesus: "Erin, you have done very well. I am proud of you, Erin."

As I heard these words, I had tears of joy. He was looking deeply in my eyes. His eyes are so kind and beautiful. I placed my right hand on His cheek. I could see my reflection in His eyes. He smiled.

Jesus: "I see you, Erin. Don't cry. Rest on My shoulder. I am here. Nothing will harm you."

I laid my left cheek on His left shoulder. With my small right hand, I patted His hair. I could smell Him. His hair had a distinct smell. While this won't make sense, I will do my best to describe this in an earthly sense. However, imagine these things to be heavenly instead. Okay, here I go...

Take a Bounce dryer sheet and the inside of a Nike plastic bag and add Sandalwood and Cinnamon.

Of course, this still doesn't do His smell any justice at all. His clothing and hair have a smell of fresh and clean far beyond anything here on Earth. I continued to play with His hair. I breathed in and was loving His divine smell.

Jesus: "Rest, Erin. I am here. You are safe in My arms."

The sun was warm on my face. I could hear songbirds. I felt His heartbeat. I became sleepy. I fell asleep. I am not sure how long in real time, seconds really, but it was years in my vision. I was awakened by Jesus' Voice.

Jesus: "Arise, Erin. Arise from your slumber. I am here."

I opened my eyes. I was laying on a thick, soft bed of grass and moss with small fragrant flowers. Jesus took my hand and brought me up to sitting. I was now in my twenties. I was wearing a beautiful white gown. I stretched as I let out a deep yawn. I was so relaxed. Jesus smiled and laughed.

Me: "How long was I asleep for? I was a toddler before. Did I just sleep 23 years, give or take?"

Jesus: Laughing. "It matters not, Erin. It is now time to arise. There is much to do."

I could see myself reflected in His eyes. I was young again. I now looked as the person He saw me as. Tears started to stream down my cheeks. I was speechless.

Me: Crying. "Lord... Lord..."

Jesus: Smiling. "Your life reflects in My eyes. I am reflected in yours. Let nothing ever separate us from each other. Erin, I am with you now and in you in all matters."

Me: "I will follow You wherever You lead me, Lord. You have my heart."

Jesus: "This is good news as I have much to teach you. Now, come, we have some plans to execute."

Me: "What plans?"

Jesus: "Good plans. Good News. Beautiful are the feet who bring Good News."

He whistled. Two horses then approached. I was excited because I recognized them.

Me: "Okay, Hayah, I am ready! Let's go!"

Jesus: Laughing. "Yes, come with Me!"

The song by Hillsong had started over again. The vision immediately closed. The edges became blurry and then it folded up like a scroll. I felt such joy in my Spirit.

I then decided to revisit this song by Hillson. I had heard the song before, but it finally sunk in. Thank You, Lord. Here are the lyrics to 'No one but you'...

Who can melt the hardest heart and speak life into my soul? Who can spin the world around and hold me ever close? Who can search the depths of me and love me to the core? Who controls the world I see and walks me through it all? No one but You. No one but You. Who has made the righteous bright? Who has paved my way with grace, loved me through my darkest hours, a thousand different ways? No one but You. No one but You. I'll sing of You love. I can't get enough. I just want You, the Lord of my soul, the King of my heart. Jesus, it's You. Hear the oceans roar, see the skies light up. Every heart now, sing to the Lord. Hear the rocks cry out. See the mountains bow. Every heart comes to worship the Lord.

I needed this today. My body is battered. My heart is broken. I am tired and weary. I am ending... smiles. Please, Father, breathe life in us today. Refresh our souls and revive our spirits. Our vessels are ready, but they have been dormant. Awaken us. Pour out Your Spirit of Living Water into us. Ready us. Find us here where we are. Find us ready and with willing hearts. We love You, Father. Speak life into our souls. We pray for all of this in Jesus' Mighty Name, Amen!

Dream over.

Dream 483 – The Great Conductor and His Perfect Symphony

Received on Saturday, March 27, 2021

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day! Thank You for my family and friends. Thank You for Your great love and protection in all things. Thank You for fresh snow. It is beautiful. Father, my heart grieves as someone accused me of hearing from a familiar spirit. Everything in the world is so heartbreaking right now.

Brother is turning away from brother. Children against parents and parents against children. Friends are being encouraged to turn against each other. All you need to do is speak against abortion or pro-Trump and it is game over for too many. I had a dream last night...

Sub-dream 1 “The Changing Waves” begins...

I was standing on a beach on the Pacific Coast of the USA. I looked across the vast ocean. It was sunny and clear. I could see freight carrier ships in the far-off distance. As I stood, I could see the waters rise and the ships disappear in the distance. While the tides were low, the sea was rising. As I stood there, I noticed that the waves were foaming. The water came up to my toes. The water was clear. However, when the next wave came, the foam had turned brown and yellow.

When the water reached me, it was murky. I didn't allow the water to touch my toes this time. The third wave then came. The wave was very large. It was a sneaker wave. The foam was brown. I turned and ran to higher ground. I had just witnessed the clear water turn to black and brown. The water was opaque, as if oil had spilled. The foam in the waves then disappeared. The water then became poisonous. The sky had also turned dark.

Sub-dream 1 over.

This dream was prophetic. Lord, please don't allow us to be here when things get this bad. The world has already grown so cold and disgusting. The demonic realm is bold now. To someone not sure about You, will non-Christians and even some Christians ask 'Where is God?' There are evangelical leaders out there that have been arrested and are set for execution. Lord, please intervene soon.

If the world only knew You, they would know how wonderful You are. Lord, please do not delay in doing good. Another friend of my older son has taken his life. He is in the military. The military is falling before our eyes. The suicide rates are astronomical. Lord, we don't know all that You are doing worldwide. We only get bits and pieces of Your Great Picture. So many of Your signs and wonders are not reported on by the news. This is because the enemy wants this all hidden.

Jesus: "Erin, come up."

I heard a knock on the door. It was Jesus!

Me: "Lord, please come in!"

He opened the door and stepped in. I gave Him a hug.

Me: "I am so glad You are here."

Jesus: "I came when I received your distress call."

Me: "What?"

Jesus: "Your heart sunk and you became severely grieved. Since you needed Me, I am now here for you. Come, take My hand, Erin."

I took Jesus' hand and He led me out to the area of our stream. It is a raging brook right now because of the spring runoff. It was loud. Jesus pointed to the stream.

Jesus: "You now have an angel who clears and calms your water."

Me: "Yes. Raphael."

Jesus: "By whose direction does Raphael do this?"

Me: "Your direction, Lord."

Jesus: "Correct. I send angels from the Army of God. These angels work under the authority of Heaven. They protect, direct, heal, carry and remove.

In general, they also bring Good News from Me. I also have authority over animals and birds, both large and small. They too are an order of Heavenly beings. You see animals in Heaven because they are there. Now, were there more animals with Noah than there were people?"

Me: "Yes, Lord."

Jesus: "They are important to Me. There are those who claim to be great authorities and scholars on My Word, My Law and My Creation. However, they are then given only so much because they have lost the love and content behind what is declared in My Words. I created all living creatures, large and small, prey and predator. I do not regret making animals, fish or birds. Though men are rebellious, I still gave these animals for man to care for."

Me: "This always seemed somewhat harsh to me until I then saw the magnitude of evil operating in the world today."

Jesus: "Erin, think of this as a classical symphony. There are many different instruments. During the score, there are great moments of buildup followed by some confusing arrangements. There are also seemingly disturbing parts. It might even seem that there are off notes and strange groaning sounds. You then see that it is being put together by the Conductor.

"The Conductor uses his baton and makes gestures. Some gestures are light and some are commanding. Even so, the Conductor is always very much in control over the concert. He has orchestrated all parts to work together in unison. After the disturbing parts or building up parts, there is a great buildup to the crowning moment. This is when those hearing or observing this experience a great sensation, a relief to the suspense, because they are now observing the crowning moment.

"This is the crowning moment of beauty and is expected because those in attendance know that the Conductor is building this up for a Great Purpose. They know that the Conductor will not disappoint them. Indeed, the Conductor then gives them moments of such rapture that their hearts are momentarily caught up in this Divine Symphony."

Me: "I will never look at the works of Beethoven the same way again."

Jesus: Smiling. "Inspiration is Divine. It does not come from a man on his own. Erin, this comes from the Holy Spirit and is a gift. However, this is a topic for another time. Now, what you see, hear and feel right now is difficult. The demonic has been loosened upon the nations. It is the disturbing part of the symphonic score. You might even ask 'did someone miss a note or is an instrument out of tune?' The answer is 'no'.

"Now, you have just experienced a person who thinks themselves an authority sent by Me to rebuke you and stop you for the greater good of mankind." He smiled and shook His head. "Well, what do you see in the world today? Is there any Good News? So, if I send various saints dreams and visions and even some will prophesy to the Good News and to reassure all those who are discouraged that I am soon to do something in their days they would not believe even if they were told, then this is straight from My Word.

"Erin, a demon will not manifest and proclaim the Word of God. A demon will also not direct attention to Heaven or encourage the reader to focus on Me. As it is written... if a house be divided against itself, that house cannot stand. Every kingdom divided against itself is brought to desolation. Every city or house divided against itself will not stand. If Satan casts out Satan, he is divided against himself. How then will his kingdom stand?

“Remember, if I cast out demons by Beelzebub, by whom do your sons cast them out? Well, they shall therefore be your judges. However, since I instead cast out demons by the Spirit of God, surely the Kingdom of God has come upon you. Erin, I am with you. The demonic realm works together in the full operation of the opposites of the fruits of the spirit. You are now seeing this in full view. These are the fruits and the signs of the sons of Beelzebub...

- Hate
- Indifference
- Despair
- Anxiety
- Impatience
- Cruelty
- Evil
- Wavering
- Unreliable
- Sharp tongue and harsh words
- Undisciplined in all they do
- Jealous
- Lack of direction

“As for those who claim to serve Me, they are pompous in their pulpits. Even though they do not truly believe My Words, they declare they do. While they call themselves authorities sent by Me, they are not. Erin, do not engage in their evil theatrics. A place is reserved for them who do not recognize what they have done to My Bride.

“Now, it is a good time to study the Parable of the Landowner (Matthew 21:33-46). Erin, though you have felt unworthy your entire life, you are worthy to Me. This parable is even more important today than it once was. This is for now. Erin, do not entertain fools. The Words from My lips do not return void. You tend to My Vineyard. You produce Good Fruit. You walk with your whole heart because you love Me.

“You work for Me in hope that others will see that I am good and My Word is true. To those who believe themselves more righteous, more qualified and more sin-free, I say to them that the Kingdom of God will be taken away from them and given to those producing Fruit from My Vineyard. Remember that, what they accuse you of, they themselves are doing under darkness.”

Me: I cried as I reached over and hugged Him. “I love You, Jesus. There is no one like You. However, what I see happening right now by the cancel culture is so discouraging. Please rise up soon. Please fill our vessels and activate Your Army."

Jesus: Smiling. "What you request is good! Erin, reach down and taste this water."

I looked at the water and it was dirty. I knew He had a lesson planned from this.

Me: "Okay, Lord, I will, but it won't be good."

I reached down and cupped just a small amount in my hand. I tasted just a bit of it, but quickly spit it out. It was bitter and grainy from the dirt.

Jesus: Still smiling. "Now, why would I ask you to do something like this?"

Me: "I am not sure."

He bent down and placed His hand in the water. The water instantly calmed and became clear.

Jesus: "This stream produces runoff beginning at the top of the hill above you. Rain, snow, dirt and dead organisms all then come rushing down the hill. At some point, this eventually becomes clean. This goes from bad, murky and bitter to calm, clear and sweet tasting. Now try this water from the same spot."

I bent down and took a taste from the same spot. This time the water was amazing... clear and sweet. I smiled at Him. The taste of the previous water no longer lingered.

Jesus: "Erin, all that you see right now is a parable to direct your focus off of the world and back onto Me. I cannot be cancelled and the enemy knows this. He then does what he sees as the second-best thing. He tries to cancel all hope. He tries to cancel all things directing the downtrodden to Heaven.

They are more active than ever as they know that their time is almost up. They also know that God is about to move.

"Now, stay encouraged. I am with you. I have called you. I have called others as well. I will not let you fail. Stay encouraged. I love you." He hugged me.

Dream over.

Dream 484 – The Hope of God in the Darkness

Finished on Sunday, April 4, 2021

Received on Friday, April 2, 2021 (Good Friday)

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You! There are a million things around us everyday to be thankful for. Really, there is an infinite amount. How can we ever repay You for all You have done for us? The flashflood that hit our area yesterday was a reminder of how much we have to be thankful for. There is so much. You washed out the road just below our driveway. The carved gully is four feet deep in places. The road is impassible.

Road crews will likely be coming today to repair the area. The warm temperatures, along with the downpours, caused the snow to melt rapidly. The storm culverts failed and the waters, not surprisingly, carved a new path. When the flow and volume increased, the water poured out over the hill in our backyard. The waterfall in our yard was about twelve feet wide.

Our fear was that, if even more water had come, it would have hit our home. It was scary. My husband and I walked to all the parts of our property and prayed for mercy to holdback the waters and stop the rain. He answered by granting us our request. As the wind kicked up last night, I prayed that our two very tall trees would not topple onto our home. It is still windy today, so, Father, please let these trees stand and not fall.

It has been a very difficult week. I learned from my general physician that, if the feeling in my side, hip and abdomen has not improved by now, that I must accept that it likely never will. He only gave me a 5% to 10% chance of regaining feeling back. We also had other disappointing news, but we still remain hopeful, Father, for Your miracles. In Your eyes, I have a 100% chance of regaining all health issues back to perfection.

Sub-dream 1 “The rise of the cities” begins...

I was in the air observing the landscape over the USA and Canada. I was deeply disturbed. All roads were cutoff from the cities. All rural farms, homes and little towns were closed. They were like abandoned ghost towns. All rural crossroads were impassible with a vehicle. However, there were really no vehicles around anyway. Whole estates were abandoned and there were no people anywhere.

There was still some wildlife though. There were deer and animals wandering around abandoned properties. There were burned out vehicles. They had been purposely set on fire. No one lived here anymore. While I had to search, I noticed that there were also a few active farms remaining. However, they were all large and commercial operations. There were massive fences around these farms and the crops were protected from theft by high security.

In terms of the roads, I could see that only one was being actively maintained. I observed labor workers being transported in buses to work in the fields. The workers were a mix of white, black, Hispanic and Asian. All looked very sad as they were clearly being enslaved. I then followed a harvest produce truck to a distant city. What I saw was overwhelming.

There was a large fenced-in city that looked like Boston MA. However, the number of high rises had increased dramatically. All residents were now living in these buildings. It seemed that only the elite now owned any 'normal homes with normal yards'. I also could not see any elderly people. All of the people ranged in age from 18 to 50. People were required to stay in their apartments when not working. All looked depressed.

Electricity was cutoff at 9:00pm and did not come back on until 9:00am. Water and food were tightly regulated. The people now looked weak and androgenous. There was such an overwhelming feeling of depression and oppression. When certain people 'became a problem', someone else would replace them, taking over their apartment and belongings. There were no banks, only dispensaries.

Sub-dream 1 over.

My alarm woke me from this obviously disturbing dream. Yes, this is all so depressing. Father, without You, this is going to be the reality in the world and very soon! In order to control the population, they are going to funnel all of the people into cities. This pandemic was their test model for their plan to control us. However, who 'they' are remains a great mystery... but not to You!

Father, please help all of us. The USA has fallen into enemy hands, as has Canada. The stage is being set for the end of the Constitution, our democracy and our freedoms. Only the extremely wealthy and those who support the current evil regimes will be free from harm.

Just before a former leader left office just over four years ago, he had spent time traveling from country to country. He did this discreetly... 'under the radar'. He paid visits to several countries, one being Canada. He encouraged Trudeau to spend money on communications and work with media outlets upgrading their systems. This was done in such secret that articles I used to find on this subject have now been scrubbed.

This former leader was called 'the next President of the USA and the future President of the world' by a prominent elite. Good luck in finding this on the internet though. This too has been scrubbed. Then he met with Trudeau and it is called 'the bro-mance of the century'. He then spent time with Prince Harry. It was also June of 2016 when the rainbow colors desecrated the Whitehouse. There are no accidents here.

So, if one or two leaders work together for what is called 'The Great Reset' of the order of things, then was the pandemic truly as horrific as they say? While we know COVID-19 is a real and dangerous virus, so were the systematic lockdowns, isolation, destruction of businesses and economies, loss of lives due to untreated illnesses, addictions and suicides and the closing of health and wellbeing organizations. So, who are these 'Great Resetters'?

- People who are powerful, wealthy and connected
- Some are leaders with no land
- They hate the USA's democracy and the Constitution as this protects freedom
- They hate the vast majority of people
- They desire one race, one religion, one currency, one government, one thought, one menu and one education
- They believe they are far superior to 99.9% of the Global Population
- While China is now their respected foe, they will one day be a great enemy
- They hate God, Jesus and Christians, defining all of us as 'hate'
- They believe that only select people should be allowed to have children
- They believe anyone over age 55 is a drain on resources
- They believe in abortion and euthanasia, looking at people as rats that need to be exterminated for the greater good of humanity
- They believe there should be no country living and that cities provide the greatest opportunity to lessen humanity's imprint on nature
- They believe in opening up prisons, releasing criminals upon the people in a natural selection process meant to generate fear and isolation
- They believe people should have their hope in them, not in God
- They believe in guns being removed so that they can control the population easier. However, elites will be protected and able to enjoy their freedom
- They believe in plant based only 'meat products'

- They believe in government-controlled farms only
- They believe in one learning curriculum
- They believe that the majority of commerce should be from large corporations such as Costco and Walmart
- They believe in government-controlled clothing and furnishings
- Whole races will be denied food, medical, electric and other means so they will die out completely. This will be done for 'equity and balance'

Many will be forced from cities to camps for work. Most will die there. In the cities, there will be a balance of the population. All will eat what they are given. All will obey the rules. No one will be allowed outside, or not much of it, to not hurt the air and ozone levels. Crime will be on the outskirts of the cities or beyond the walls, but not in the central areas.

There will be no vehicles owned individually. There will be a pool of cars some will be able to use if needed for work. There will be no driving for recreational purposes. Work and occupation will be selected based on IQ and an overall 'Human Value Rating'. This is your worth to the New World Order. You will receive a voucher in lieu of wages. It is the time of the end and the goal has been set as 10 years for this to be achieved.

Dear Father,

Thank You for rising! Thank You for the empty tomb. Thank You for Your sacrifice to atone for our sins. Thank You for sending Jesus. Thank You for Your Voice and the Holy Spirit in us. This is a blessing, but really THE blessing. This is the gift of You in us always. I had a couple of disturbing dreams last night.

Sub-dream 2 "The rise of the cities continues" begins...

I was looking out over a landscape. There was a massive cascading waterfall that was just formed from a massive dam breaking. There was nothing we could do to stop the water. This massive waterfall eventually carved out a place in the landscape. Without direction from God, the flow would likely have never stopped. People came from all over to view the massive change in landscape.

Not only were they not overjoyed, they were instead looking upon what had happened with awe and foreboding powerlessness. They knew that this was symbolic of what was soon to come. The broken water gate had flooded the land and destroyed all things in its path. As the people dispersed to their homes, an emergency broadcast report came via radio, television and phones.

The message was that resources would be distributed to city areas. They stated that resources would most likely be cut off from rural areas. I then saw invading forces occupying whole areas outside of cities. They were taking over estates, farmlands and small towns. Those people left outside were either killed or forced into encampment areas in the city.

I could see thousands of camera drones deployed at night. They had high-tech infrared equipment to detect hiding people. I then saw thousands of armed drones later going out to destroy these same people. This was systematic and well organized. The forces were under local leadership and against the people. Leaders were working with the invading sources. An order was soon placed on walls that all people would be required to register for services. Children were separated from their families. Elderly and disabled people were also separated.

Person 1: "The great equalizer has come, but where is God? Where is He?"

Person 2: "This is the despair before the Divine Rescue."

Sub-dream 2 over.

I woke up suddenly to a loud knock. After investigating, I knew that it was only in my dream. I then went back to sleep. The next dream deeply disturbed me.

Sub-dream 3 "The evil leader rises again" begins...

I saw a massive temple being constructed. However, this was not in Jerusalem. An evil leader with an equally strong wife stood to give a speech. They erected a great backdrop to edify his position. Thousands were in attendance while he was declared the one true savior of the world. I watched from the area behind the backdrop as he spoke. He declared that every nation represented had to go through troubles.

Evil leader: "History is not a straight line. Bloodshed is part of the cleansing process. We who remain must unite against those who oppose moral decency and common thought. If there once was a 'god', then 'he' certainly deserted us all and left us to rise and fall from the dust. We must remain united. We are stronger together. Many of you are grieved over the losses of mothers, fathers, sisters, brothers, neighbors, co-workers and friends.

"However, do not be grieved. They sacrificed themselves willingly so you could all live and be free. So, let us honor their memory today and let go of the past, that very thing we cannot change. However, we can be ignited by it so we become flames which will never burn out. Now, join me today as we have one last sacrifice at the altar."

Several strong men brought out an iron bull. This bull was hollow. A fire began to rise up at the altar.

Evil leader: "We must first destroy the symbols of hate."

He drew everyone's attention to thousands of empty vessels lining the massive gate and down the streets. A goat's horn was sounded and several large men came to crush the beautiful vessels.

Evil leader: "See, everyone, they hold no water. There is nothing 'magical' about these. They are symbols of hate. We will destroy our memory of them together."

The evil leader sat down on a type of throne and looked up. A louder horn then sounded. The four horses above his head suddenly came to life and an army appeared. An angel with scales of judgment then appeared before the crowd.

Angel: "The blood of the martyrs is still wet on the altar."

The angel then went over to the iron bull and struck it. The iron bull was now full of this blood. Once struck, the bull burst and the blood flooded towards the now screaming crowd. There were tons more blood than what would normally be possible.

Crowd: "The time of the Great Judgment of God has come."

The four horses then started to move. One horse was like an albino. The color of it was that of opaque skin. It was really creepy. The other horses were red, black and white. I then heard screaming and voices.

Crowd: "Run! Run!"

Sub-dream 3 over.

Father, this has not exactly been the most uplifting Easter message so far. My heart is sick. It has been a difficult week with troubles. It just never ends. While it seems like evil is winning, I know that, ultimately, You will be fully victorious. It is just becoming more difficult. Good Friday church service seemed more like a concert production with very little emphasis on what You did for us, as if the message was boring.

Father, the world is running out of time here. People need to look at their behaviors, their daily walks, shady practices and lies of convenience and repent now. There are now so many grey areas that many of Your people are operating in. I felt a strong urgency for Your people to rise from their slumber. My sadness for the lost and what is coming sometimes overwhelms me.

Forgive me, Father, for it is difficult to focus on the good when all hope is fading. I remember my beautiful dreams of Heaven. It is difficult to imagine how far the world has fallen now. Father, there are so many people who love You. Please don't forget us. Don't forget Your Bride, Lord.

Jesus: "Erin, come up."

I heard a knock on our front door. I opened it and there was Raphael.

Me: "Hi! I am so glad you came."

Raphael: "Erin, come with me."

I was a little taken back as Raphael was quite serious this time. I am not used to this. As I was still a bit overwhelmed by all the things I had been shown, I was crying. He walked me over to our stream.

Raphael: "Erin, the Lord just calmed the waters and blessed your property right here. He is not calling this mountainside down. He has you. He is with you. Be still. Be still."

I sat on the ground and put my head down. I was now in 'full weeping mode'.

Me: "I am sorry, Raphael, but I am scared. Time keeps going. It keeps going. The world is changing rapidly right now and not for the better."

Raphael: "The Lord is with you. Be at peace. God has given you a message from strategic places. Do you understand?"

Me: "No, not fully."

Raphael: "Erin, there is a battle in the heavenlies over you and over the nations. When wars break out over you, there is fallout, darkness and confusion. While you are protected, you still feel the effects of this war. All that you see, hear and read is all part of a very large picture. An evil group of people from over many nations are experimenting on the population to test theories.

"They begin small and then slowly grow this under the darkness of night. Success then feeds an increase in their bold ambitions. Even though their plans are self-serving, they are presented as innocent and beneficial. These plans benefit only the planners. When their theories come to life, people die. This is the New World Order. However, it is all based in hate. God sees all of it.

"You will quickly see the difference between one vs the other. While the general population is trusting and kind, they are also now growing angry. You have only to go back into the history books to see the rise of evil. You can then tell by their patterns and behaviors if they are for or against God. The continued rise of the evil world leader is a big sign from the Word of God.

"There is also the unearthing of the evil altar 144 years ago. This is also evidence and a sign. It also has ties to Berlin. Look at the evil which arose there after this happened. Upon the reassembly of this worship of evil on an unholy altar, a certain evil was then birthed as an edict from the fallen for the annihilation of the Jewish people. They placed them in furnaces and made them like ashes and dust.

"Many people refused to see and report to the world of the great atrocities occurring in their midst. This was mainly due to great fear. For those who did speak out, they ended up in camps, marked for death. Well, the same holds true today. The world has given rise to the enemy again. You have only to see who the threat is to know their next target."

Me: "Is it Christians?"

Raphael: "Yes, but it is even broader than this. We know the enemy and his tactics as there is nothing new under Heaven. His plans are to isolate and subdue."

Me: "But there has been no revival yet? What about souls?"

Raphael: "In order to know your enemy, you study what he says. There is always a foreshadowing to his movements. They are working very quickly as corruption is sweeping the nations. This enemy of Heaven is clever. However, he is also angry and is testing his plans on a grand scale. Many are loyal to his throne. However, you must understand that there is an order under Heaven and God reigns over all matters. God has you. He has your friends, your family and your animals. Always put your hopes and prayers in Jesus. God has a plan in place."

Me: "It seems like the enemy wants to kill off millions, if not billions, of people."

Raphael: "He does. He creates fear. He controls the news. He controls churches. He controls politicians. He controls food supply, medical care and freshwater. He controls banks, entertainment and travel. However, the enemy doesn't truly control this... only God does. You know the enemy by his words of division. He uses other countries to test out his capabilities. However, you are not to worry."

Me: "Well, I am sorry to say that I still am. This isn't good news at all so far. Where is the happy 'He has risen' message I have been looking for?" I nudged him as I was half joking, but still half serious. "So far, this has all been about the rise of the enemy."

Raphael: "We know the enemy. We know the evil leader. Focus on the Lord and His Kingdom as His Kingdom will soon be visible in you. Do not worry as no weapon formed against you shall prosper."

Me: "What of the dreams?"

Raphael: "There is a key strategy in the plans of the enemy. They want to remove the sickly and infirm whether young or old. The enemy is sending so many changes in the hopes that no one reads the fine print. However, we read this and God sees all. They will soon flee.”

Me: “Hurry! Oh please, help us!”

Raphael: “Erin, there is Good News. God is in control. He loves you. He cares about that which you care about and He is with you. The Lord can be in many different places at the same time. He is not constrained by time. The enemy is though. Because of this, he is angry. Erin, be of good cheer.”

Me: “Raphael, what of April 19th? It was in my dream.”

Raphael: “What does the Word say? Oh yes... it takes the glory of God to conceal a matter and the honor of kings to search it out. The dreams you have had are about the enemy’s comings and goings. While the April 19th date might have come from the enemy, God still works all things together for His good.” He then smiled and pointed towards our flooding stream. “Hey, I just love your new water feature!”

Me: “Why did this happen? Why the flood?”

Raphael: “The water washed away the debris and cleansed it. Count it as good. I must go.”

I was waiting for a big ‘Raphael departure moment’. He didn’t disappoint me. He parted the flooded stream and stepped into the divide. After a few steps, he was gone.

Dream over.

Dream 485 – Kairos, the Time of Great Separation

Received on Sunday, April 11, 2021

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day here! Thank You for Spring. It seems like it is finally here for us up north. There are new birds that have migrated from the south here now. Their songs are beautiful. Mourning doves are courting their potential mates with songs outside my window. It seems like a small slice of the promise of Heaven. We still have debris in our yard from the breach in a culvert up the road.

Although this reminds me about how much work it will take to restore our yard, including cutting down the fallen trees, I am so thankful that You spared our home. The world has changed around us. It is so very sad. The acceleration of evil seems to overshadow all good news. Good news is hard to find. Our freedoms have been slowly removed bit by bit.

The New World Order is rising. Their platform is not democracy and freedom. It is the opposite. Coronavirus was unleashed because all of the methodical plans of the enemy were being reversed by President Trump. The people were beginning to feel hopeful again. The world was following suit in optimism and hope. A different leader proclaimed 'the Audacity of Hope', which, of course, has a double meaning.

Another leader in history (Lenin) stated 'There are decades where nothing happens and there are weeks where decades happen.' So far in 2021, we have seen decades of work completely destroyed. Our equality, freedom and liberty are being systematically shattered. I remembered something taught in a sociology class I was required to take in university.

While I do not recall the historical context or the author, I recalled this... When crisis strikes or a rise of a hostile power, the citizens of the occupied state are often in shock and disbelief. They believe that things will be okay once this regime or crisis passes. They cannot comprehend that these 'temporary changes' are actually pre-planned 'forever changes'.

They become victims because they did not stand up to change meant for evil. When evil knocked at the door, they surrendered. Media sends mixed messages. All of this causes confusion. Confusion creates fear. Fear creates silence. Silence creates surrender. The 'Great Reset' is for various leaders to rise up and control the crisis. These leaders then get greater powers and they find they enjoy it more than they should or thought.

They then continue to put in place greater powers and the cycle continues. Once powerful enough, the evil leaders can punish anyone who opposes his or her platform. The government is now being shaped for the good of those who hate the people and their country. These leaders enjoy being elevated above others. We are seeing every evil playing out in live format on the media.

Those in power want the majority of the population to agree with 'The New Way' or pay. There is no in between. While we saw hints of this rising, very few saw it rising with purpose and power like it is now. While we were stuck indoors in the dark, the enemy operated, spreading false news, committing injustices, corrupting elections and reshaping the land that God gave us.

Right now though, God did not intend this beautiful land to be so corrupted. God's anger against the nation is rising. His church has been corrupted. Those who are not conforming to the world are being shuttered permanently. Authorities are hunting down those who dare meet to worship God together. Wherever two or more are gathered in God's Name, God is then there (Matthew 18:20).

The enemy therefore wants that stopped. He hates these gatherings of believers. For those allowed to have services, some are not allowed to sing. That's right... no praise songs to God allowed. Father, You created us for worship. It sure seems like the New World Order is here. I am sure that war will break out worldwide as the people begin to rise up over the tyranny. Father, please well up in us. Please make Your spring in us. Please let the wellspring of life be filled in our vessels. Please make it so that we are able to pour out miracles, signs and wonders on behalf of Your Kingdom. Have us serve under Your Rule and Your Majesty. Please do not forget about all of us who love You.

Jesus: "Erin, come up."

There was a knock on our front door. I could see Raphael standing at the door.

Me: "Please come in. It is so wonderful to see you again."

Raphael: "Erin, the Lord has a message for you. He does not want you to worry. He has your friend. He is God over all things. Come."

I followed Raphael out to the yard where all the debris is.

Raphael: "This will not come to you again. Do not worry. Perhaps this unearthed a buried treasure." He smiled and laughed.

Me: "Well, there is a lot of sand, gravel and rocks. I guess I could go rummage through it." I laughed.

Raphael: "The meaning of what was said was to direct your attention to the things of God. Rising quickly to power is Belial. As quickly as he rises, he will fall."

Me: "But he has been at work for thousands of years."

Raphael: "Yes, but his army was granted the testing of the land only a few years ago. They test for evil gain and God tests for hearts. Still, be clear... This time is Kairos. During this time of years which has passed, what is now and is to come, hearts are being given for good and those who turn from God are given up for evil. This is a preparation time for God. It is a call for recognition, action, conversion and, ultimately, Great Transformation!"

Me: "I am not fully understanding."

Raphael: "First, God sent alarms... warnings from prophets of old, as well as new. This is a 'Clarion Call'. This prepared people for changes from the status quo. Individuals were then called through dreams and visions to clarify the current frame of events. In recognition of the prophetic nature of these dreams and visions, they thereby also became prophets of God.

"Those who hear and recognize that it is God Who is calling them in the wilderness will then recognize their own state of being, their lifestyle, in comparison to what the Word of God says. There is a great wrestling between a child of the world vs one called by God for His purposes. Being called by God is an honor and one in which you want God to win.

"So then, a child of the world then sees their state of being as opposed to God and then turns away from this state to one of God's Will as His child. It is a difficult path, Erin, as you know. As You have heard the saying, God needed only 11 days to remove the Israelites to the Promised Land. However, their hearts instead required 40 years to remove the land of Pharaoh from them. An entire generation was unable to enter because of their stubborn hearts."

Me: "But what is happening now? The Lord has now prepared us. He has said so."

Raphael: "Yes, Erin, this is true. He has shaped His Temple Vessels. He is the Potter. The Vessels are ready. The land and its people are dry. They are in need of refreshment. Here, Erin, look... on the 1st of the month (April 1, 2021), the water overflowed its banks. Onlookers stood amazed. However, they could only stand and watch that which they could not control. Now look... all that remains is a dry riverbed.

"The Lord showed You that His Vessels are complete. However, Erin, He is now preparing the land. This preparing of the land is the time period prior to the Great Harvest...Kairos. You see the hands of the enemy operating to discourage the people. You then wonder 'where is God in all of this?' While some may say that God has been quiet while the evil has increased, He is not!

"Remember what you have been told. A farmer spends great time looking over his fields. He is like a vineyard owner examining the soil and checking the vines for signs of trouble. He even checks for signs of miracles. This is called 'tending'. It is a time of checking, caring, managing and carrying out a plan based on varying factors or conditions that can rapidly change.

"Erin, this period you are in right now is a period of time when God's people are in a purposeful holding period. This purposeful waiting period has been factored in to allow a period for the rest of the world's population to decide to lean towards either good or evil."

Me: "Oh wow, Raphael... this is like a scale of weights and measures."

Raphael: "Well, this has already happened for the most part. It is more like a time of grace given by God for adjustments to be made or changes to be had."

Me: "Hmm, is this like fine tuning an instrument prior to the concert beginning?"

Raphael: Smiling. "Yes, this is God's Fine Tuning. This period is where God is contemplating who He will call for this or that during 'The Great Time of Miracles'."

Me: "Is this the calm before the storm?"

Raphael: Shaking his head in disagreement. "Well, let's review... are you feeling calm right now? How about your friends? Is anyone?" He laughed.

Me: "No. You are right. No one is feeling calm right now."

Raphael: "Yes, Erin. As you can see, this is more like a storm than a calm. However, this storm has been a very long drawn out storm."

Me: "Yes, Raphael. The enemy never stops. This is definitely not a time of calm."

Raphael: "There is one other item. Remain diligent 'tending' to God's business and call upon your life. Do not slack or fall asleep in your field. The enemy encircles your encampments, waiting for an opportunity of vulnerability. Remember this... he can breach your camp when you see someone promoted and you have envy, when you see someone given gifts and you have jealousy... the list goes on and on.

"Instead, be glad when God does a good thing and rewards a virtuous man or credits a valiant one. Have mercy on a man who has little. Give compassion to a man who is weak. By going good in the Name of God in your heart, you fortify your camp and are shielded from the times of trouble by the Hand of God Himself.”

Me: “Oh no! Have I done these things?”

Raphael: “Calm down. Be still. Erin, you have not. I tell you this so that you can make known what God requires from those who call themselves children of the Most High. This is the time to make adjustments and finetune your households under Heaven. This means relationships with spouses, children and others. Separation causes division. The great divider operates on a pedestal of double mindedness.

“Duality is a term. He says one thing, but then does the complete opposite of this. This is meant to confuse God’s children, those who are all together on one path of righteousness. There is only ONE WAY to salvation! Yes, one way only. Salvation is NOT a double lane going in different directions. God does things differently from the world.

“Remember this. Picture a farmer deciding midway through the season that he is going to change crops right before the harvest of the current crop. Well, he would not do this. This would be foolish for a farmer of the world. However, for God, only He is able to do the impossible. Now, this is meant to encourage you. God has you. He is with you. He has a Great Plan. Do not worry. God will help you at the break of day.”

Me: “Yes, Raphael, but...” I smiled and nudged him. “...exactly when is that day?”

Raphael: Smiling. “This is for God to know. Just relax. Since you see the times of the prophets coming into fruition, you then know that the age is now here.”

Me: “Yes, but I am aging. I am ready.”

Raphael: Laughing. “This is to reassure you that the harvest is coming. I must go now. Erin, others need to hear the Good News.”

I heard a loud noise behind me. I looked and then turned back. Raphael was gone.

Dream 486 – The Enemy Knows That All is About to Change

Received on Sunday, April 25, 2021

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for the beautiful sunny Spring day! Thank You for Your love. Thank You for sending dreams. Thank You for all of my friends and family. I had a couple of dreams last night that I really didn't like. They were disturbing. The first dream included being in the marketplace again. This is not a fun marketplace though, but scary...

Sub-dream 1 "To the city... or else!" begins...

I was in a marketplace again. The marketplace was necessary to go to for supplies. However, going in and coming out was very dangerous. This was not a place just anyone could go to. An event had occurred where 'they' were controlling the people. I was not sure exactly who 'they' were. They were now removing electricity in areas outside of the outskirts of a very large city.

By controlling the electricity this way, they forced people to either seek 'sanctioned' shelter or go without. If going without, they would remain without power, refrigeration, heat or air conditioning. They were also unable by law to have fires or use propane for cooking. This created a dichotomy. People either succumbed and went into the cities or tried going off grid by fleeing to the hills and forests.

While there were still certain large estates and farms in the country that had electricity, no one else did. Darkness had now fallen over the nations. In these certain farms, there were foreigners working the fields. They looked like slaves or prisoners, but I could not tell which.

Sub-dream 1 over.

Sub-dream 2 "The Vaccine from Hell" begins...

I went to my doctor for my vaccine. I did not want this vaccine. While I had already had a vaccine, this one seemed different. My doctor seemed very somber. He was no longer jovial with me.

Doctor: "Erin, you are disabled and on disability. You have been marked because you are receiving a disability retirement pension. You can choose to stop your pension today if you want and continue to live your life without."

Me: "How can I work when I am truly disabled? What would I do?"

He wrote something on a piece of paper and passed this to me. I am not sure why he did this. Perhaps we were being listened to.

Doctor's Note: "You can say 'stop my disability' and I will change the outcome."

I still did not fully understand what my doctor was getting at. I then heard the Lord instruct me...

Voice of the Lord: "Proceed, Erin. I am with you."

Me (to the doctor): "Let's proceed. God has me. I will be okay."

After telling my doctor this, I looked over on the counter. There were seven syringes...

- Three syringes were marked with a red band. One was labeled Erin, one had my older son's name and one had my younger son's name.
- Two syringes were marked with a blue band. One had my daughter's name and one had my husband's daughter's name. They were both marked as 'Blood Draw Required'.
- One syringe was marked with a green band. This had my husband's son's name.
- The last syringe was also marked with a green band, but with a '+ +' marked on it. This had my husband's name.

Me: "Why are these syringes marked differently depending on who we are?"

Doctor: "I am not at liberty to provide this information. Are you certain I can't change your mind about claiming your pension? If you stop your pension, I can redo your vaccination in the 'Green + +' category."

Me: "But I am female. Should I not have a blue band like my two daughters?"

Doctor: "You have had a hysterectomy, right?"

Me: "Yes."

Doctor: "You are not eligible for this category. As for your daughters, a blood DNA will need to be taken to determine if they will move to a new category."

Me: I finally understood! "Whoa, wait, wait, wait! If I say I will keep my pension, I will be up for elimination, along with my two sons who are on the spectrum, right? As for my daughters, they are being tested to see if they meet predetermined pro-creation reproductive gene category requirements.

If they meet the requirements, they will receive a shot to enhance their DNA charts. If they don't meet the requirements, they will receive a shot to make them unable to conceive. The green colored bands must mean that my husband and his son will be spared."

The doctor handed me another note.

Doctor's Note: "Your husband is the 'correct IQ' for instructing youths. He will be able to stay around until he is deemed no longer eligible. As for his son, he is the correct age."

Me: Shaking my head as I read his note. Well, it doesn't matter. God is in control."

Doctor: "Really? Where is God? Look around you! I have administered shots to entire families today." I could see horrible pain in his eyes.

Me: "I will be okay. Go ahead and administer the red shot. I can take it."

Doctor: "Please sign this document. After I administer this to you, you will become very sleepy. In two hours, you will be completely at rest."

Me: "Okay, but what if I say no to all of this?"

Doctor: "In that case, the authorities will administer this and your entire family will be given the red band shot. However, they will remove the sleep agent, resulting in a painful experience. Erin, this will not be a good experience. Do not do this. Even your God won't save you."

Me: "God can save me from anything."

My doctor nodded his head in disbelief as he administered the shot into my left arm. I felt something like fire shoot through my veins. I began to recite Psalm 23 out loud. Just before the 'fire' could reach my heart, it reversed out of my veins. It spurting out of my arm and on to the floor.

Doctor: Seemingly not to notice. "Are you okay? You will become sleepy in about ten seconds."

We watched the clock. After the ten seconds, nothing happened. He stepped out of the office to discuss this unusual situation with the nurse. He soon came back in.

Doctor: "We will try another dose. It should be working."

I allowed his second attempt and presented my left arm again. He jabbed the needle at my arm, but the needle could not penetrate my skin. He then tried several other locations, but nothing. He told me to wait in the waiting room. He called in one of my sons to try the needle on him. The same thing happened. It did not work. The doctor was unable to give any of us the shots.

Doctor: "Hmm, I would like you all to please leave. I will mark that you all had received the shots."

We agreed with him. All of us then left the medical clinic together. God had saved me and my sons.

Sub-dream 2 over.

Note on possible Mark of the Beast Discussions on the Nest Forum: We request that the subject of the current vaccination being the Mark of the Beast be discussed on websites other than our Nest Forum. While the current vaccination for COVID-19 is no doubt a training drill for the upcoming Mark of the Beast, it cannot yet be the Mark. To believe this vaccine is already the Mark would mean many millions of innocent people took something without knowing this would send them to hell without any future hope of reconciliation with God. The angel Raphael will confirm this later on in this dream. In summary, please leave these painful and hurtful discussions off of our Nest Forum. Thank you in advance for obeying our directive on this.

Father, please do something quickly. The night before, I had a different dream...

Sub-dream 3 "Planets and Constellations" begins...

An angel showed me Venus, Jupiter, Capricorn and Libra. This was then followed by Scorpio.

Angel: "These are planets and constellations in the sky. In the year AD 28, look for signs in the moon and stars."

The angel then went on to instruct me on many things.

Sub-dream 3 over.

When I woke up from this dream, I instantly forgot the angel's instructions. While we may not be able to figure out the significance of this, I thought I would post it in the hopes someone great in astronomy (NOT astrology) can figure it out... smiles. Better yet, please, Father, show me what all of this means.

Jesus: "Erin, come up."

I heard a knock on my door. It was Raphael. He smiled at me as I opened the door.

Raphael: "Erin, I have a Word from God for you. Come."

He took my hand and led me to the bridge at the portion of the creek in our yard.

Raphael: "This place is to be named Beulah and dedicated to the Lord who has loved you."

Me: "Oh no, does He no longer love me?"

Raphael: "Okay, let me try a different approach. This place, to be called Beulah, is to be dedicated to the God over all things who loves you. Better?" He smiled.

Me: "Yes. Forgive my concern. I am like a Bride who wonders with a sick heart if my Groom will come for me or if He will reject me as His Bride."

Raphael: "You must reject this notion. God has already chosen the Bride for His Son. You are chosen. The wait has been long and you are seeing the rise of Azazel and his army throughout the land. The sin which was put upon Azazel for his evil has now been unleashed.”

Me: “Wait! Do you mean the scapegoat? Was it not Jesus who took our sins in atonement as a Sacrificial Lamb on the Cross? He removed our sins.”

Raphael: “No, Erin, He atoned for them. He set you free from the death of sin. However, you must accept that He died for you as the Perfect Lamb of God. He was offered up in your place. His Bride understands who the Lord is. However, before God came to the Earth in flesh, there was the scapegoat. You have been shown this before. However, you are now witnessing the sins of Azazel being poured out over the lands, visible for all to see.

“Well, not all is seen. However, Azazel is building up the land on a foundation of lies in order to make himself seem as the savior. He will even claim that he wants to rebuild the Temple. He would do this just so he can sit in the Holy of Holies and curse God. You have also seen this. See, the spirit of the goat has been wandering in the wilderness for a few thousand years. He is angry.

“As he wants revenge, he vows to slaughter all who call on the Name of God. He is dismantling all that was once dedicated to God. Azazel has then labelled His Holy Ones as symbols of hate. He is moving quickly right now because he also knows that God is about to move. This is Good News. Do not worry about this vaccine if you are called to take it. Just know that the Lord God will cover you and the enemy will not prevail in doing harm.

“Do not fear as this is the man of lawlessness using all of his armies and strongholds to assault God’s people. Remember that the goat is unruly and needs no shepherd. He does his own thing. Still, there is nothing new here. He uses the same methods all throughout history. He is angry now because he no longer has access to God’s Courts. He is now confined here on Earth. Do not worry, Erin, as God is fully in control.

“Although it seems like evil is winning, they are not. Look at history for patterns if you want to measure it against what is occurring right before you now. From this, and apart from a move of God, then you understand where this train will lead. However, God is God over all things. He is about to move upon the Earth. Heaven will then be visible to those with no hope and those who have prayed for miracles.

“There will be a time and times like those spoken of by the prophets of old. A great time of turning away from evil towards a focus on God and the things of Heaven is to soon come. Erin, the time and times you have been waiting for have almost arrived.”

Me: “Oh Raphael, I pray that this is truly soon. So many great dates have now come and gone. So many are growing desperate and are in depression.”

Raphael: "I know that this time of preparation has been difficult. However, do not be afraid as a large wave is about to flood the land. The evil will flee like rats to their holes. Some will even turn and be healed. A testimony of miracles will flood the airwaves and be visible for all to see. There will be tears of joy and thankfulness as witness after witness comes before the Throne of God.

"Now, you remain in God and He will remain in you. He is about to pour out a double portion of healing waters upon you. In turn, you will pour out upon others. A great wave of healing and revival will come. Springs of Living Water will be visible. Where there was once barren dry land, there will now be lush vegetation. Cities once in ruins will be restored. The poor will be made whole.

"They will be without a need for what the evil had offered. The captives will be set free from their afflictions. The land will be in harmony, joy and peace. God's love will be poured out equally. His love will not be poured out based on the color of a person's skin. His love will instead be poured out based on the willingness and yielding of a person's heart."

Me: "I am so happy! Give God thanks for me. I love Him."

Raphael: "He loves you, Erin. He has you. What He is about to do, the world has never seen. Many will mourn and flee at the sight of Heaven. However, many, many more will come, return and be healed. However, I must go now. You are loved. Remember Beulah."

He turned and was gone in a flash. The bridge was gone as well.

Note: After finishing writing this dream down, the Lord prompted me to post excerpts (but not the entirety) of the Personal Dream I had yesterday. Here are those excerpts...

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day! Thank You for this beautiful Spring day and all that You provide for us. Thank You for rainbows and all things of beauty around us. Thank You for friends and miracles. I am trying to find joy today. I am trying to let go. All things are in Your hands, Father. Forgive me for not being thankful enough for everything. You are real. You always have been, You always are and You always will be!

Jesus: "Erin, come up."

I heard a knock at the front door. It was the Lord. He was smiling. I asked Him to come in and He stepped in. I hugged Him. I started to cry.

Jesus: "Come with Me." He took me to our creek. "Erin, remember that you will call this place Beulah as this is the place where Heaven is open to you. This will not be by your death or the death of your children. I know that your heart is broken. Erin, I am sending you help and healing. Now, you worry about your children."

Me: "Yes, Lord. I feel like a horrible parent at times."

Jesus: "No, Erin. You raised them up in the way they should go. They will NOT depart from this. Be encouraged. I am with you and My favor is upon you. Now, look at you and your husband... you both are working together in union. I have provided for all of your needs and I will not stop. Erin, with you and your husband, I am very well pleased. I have your children. My plans are to prosper them and give them hope and a future.

"It is not to have them fail. Erin, parents sacrifice themselves for their children. This is because you see your children as a gift from Me. You love them in spite of their shortcomings and sometimes even because of them. This is a Divine Love. This is unconditional. Still, it is only a fraction of how much I love you... and them."

Me: "I love You too, Lord... but I fail."

Jesus: "Well, Erin... to fail is a part of the refinement process. It is through your greatest failures that you can see Me working to fix yourself on the 'what if I had instead done this or that?' You try to relive the moments prior to your biggest errors and pray for a reversal of time. Well, this is the enemy directing your attention to your failures instead of directing your attention to Me. Well, Erin, I am here.

"All of your roads, albeit some portions were more difficult than others, led to Me. Erin, all of your roads led to Me. You are now here with Me. This means every failure led you Home here and, one day, you will be with Me in your Eternal Home that I built for you. So, Erin, I love you unconditionally. I love your husband unconditionally. I love your children unconditionally.

"You must understand that it is I who placed this veil over your children. It is I who allowed them limited capacity and limited understanding. They are My Vessels also and a measure, a Great Measure, for the wicked. Do not battle or concern yourself with the task of instruction and expecting, after all of these years, to see results. The results are there, but gradually, so small and immeasurable, that you cannot see progress.

"Still, progress is there though. The small animals in your backyard are a good analogy to this. You feed them a couple of times a day. Even so, they scatter every time they see you come out. Those that don't scatter make noises at you. Despite this, you still feed them. Even though they wait for you and your food, they still treat you like someone coming to steal from them.

"This is also like a new believer. They see all the benefits of following Me. They then form a picture of how this will look. Most think that no troubles will come or money will never be an issue. They think that neither illnesses or death will come. Well, the moment this model of what their expectations are changes, they then go through the stages of grief. Some then do not remain in Me.

"Yes, they then come to miss their sins and freedoms. They don't understand that true freedom is apart from sin. Sin equals captivity to the world in slavery. True freedom is when you are in My 'captivity'. This is your surrender to Me. Erin, your children have surrendered to Me. While they are called into the world, they remain in Me. I promised I would not harm them. I promised I would give them the 'Full Savior Experience' without giving you heart troubles."

Me: "Thank You, Lord. I repent. I repent for my anger and frustration. I should know better by now."

Jesus: "Wait. Setting up rules for your house is wisdom. Erin, things are soon to become much worse in the world. Your sons would have been victims and your daughters too. This is only if it was apart from Me. I have a Great Plan instead. Please be encouraged. I am with you. You are obedient to Me and you trust Me. I therefore delight in you. Now, I am about to expand your house and grant you the desires of your heart."

Me: "Lord, please help me with my kids."

Jesus: "I will. I have them. I love them more than even you do. Now relax. Find joy today. Erin, smile more. Dream, Sparrow! I have you!" He hugged me.

Dream over.

Dream 487 – God is ALWAYS in COMPLETE control over ALL things

Received on Wednesday, May 5, 2021

Communion

Dear Father,

First off, thank You so much for yet another day! Each one has its own rewards and challenges these days. While I try to have joy, I am still distraught in my Spirit, Father. My dreams last night disturbed me. One thing is very clear...

God's people, His chosen ones, must remain holy and set apart. Any direct rebellion against God's Word, His Laws or any continued sinful acts must be stopped now. Anyone called of God must turn from their wickedness and repent or lose all that God has planned for those who love Him.

This means do not partake in New Age Practices. Yoga is not acceptable and is an open door for many Hindu rites and demons. Even if offered at church under a different label, do not practice this.

Do not do acupuncture or other remedies of the I-Ching or energy enhancements. These are walls to the Holy Spirit and gateways for the demonic. God will not allow His Temple Vessels to be defiled or used in an unholy ritual without consequence.

If we are to be God's vessels used for the indwelling of the Holy Spirit, then the space cannot be occupied by evil. The Temple Vessel should not be made unclean by the occupation of a foreign entity. As this foreign entity is unholy and unclean, the Vessel is no longer of use to God (similar to Daniel 5:2).

We also must be careful to avoid accidentally ingesting evil as best we can. This can even mean accidentally taking in what is given to us by the world, either that which we see or hear, and place it on our hearts as the gospel of truth or revelation, that which God has not declared. This can also mean doctrines of the demonic set out to cause hate and division. We need to stay alert now and at all times. The enemy is crafty.

We must also remember that God has not separated us by class or by skin color. This would be unfair as we cannot control these. God has instead separated us by the contents of our hearts. Our hearts are clay for His purposes and should be for His purposes alone. If we practice unholy doctrines based on a platform of hate, division and rebellion, we are then not yielding to the Words of God, but of man.

Any doctrine which demands we renounce our vessels as Holy and formed by God's own hands and in His image must be rejected as a doctrine of evil. Now, and more than ever, we must also be careful to not ingest unclean food or impure water as best as we are able in this fallen world.

To clarify, Jesus did not come to abolish God's Laws. He instead confirmed that we should not fall under the yoke of oppression surrounding these laws as hammered out at us by religious leaders, even if with good intent.

If we are invited by friends to eat food which is foreign and of a foreign culture, we are permitted to eat it and no harm shall come to us as long as it was not sacrificed to foreign gods. However, if we knowingly and arrogantly eat things we know are not beneficial to our bodies, God's Holy Temples, then we are subject to the food, depending on whether it is clean or unclean.

This is one of the reasons we should dedicate all of our meals to God, our Father. If we are in the midst of unclean things to ingest, we should then pray to God to make them clean or, if possible, even abstain from ingesting this. Wisdom is in us via the Holy Spirit. If a man lacks wisdom and asks, God will give it generously without finding fault. Wisdom will be given to you when you ask (James 1:5).

Again, we are to remember that, above all things, God looks at the hearts of the holders of the Vessels. Many of us have been in God's refining fire much of our lives. This is so we lack no good thing. In Jewish tradition (in the Mishnah), unfired vessels were considered unclean for use. With no glaze from firing, these were just unfinished clay, an unglazed vessel still not useful.

To put this in another way, do not think yourself of no use to God because you have already gone through the fiery furnace of affliction (or are still there). God is not only with you in the fire, but He is there for you after as well. He selected you from the beginning. As for me, I always thought of myself as unclean to God. I realized that I could not make myself clean as I was unable. All I could do was go to God and say...

'I am sorry, Father. I love You and I want to serve You. However, the enemy continuously reminds me of my mistakes and I feel I am disqualified, not only by my past path, but also by Christians who enjoy judging and condemning me. They want me looking backwards. If I do so, I can't see forward to how You will do all of this. However, this is the vision You have given to me. In this, I am serving You and helping others with my whole heart. I have worth because You declared me worthy. I have value because You call me valuable to the Kingdom of Heaven.'

So, Father, I give all of myself to You this day. I don't want to miss one moment of all You have planned. Use me for Your purposes. The world wants us in our dwellings and caves in fear. However, Father, the spirit of fear is not from You. You have given me an urgent call to say to as many of my friends who will listen to make certain our Vessels are washed clean by the Blood of the Lamb and His Sacrifice.

However, we are also not to provoke You to anger and jealousy because we have gone our own way to serve ourselves. We cannot turn away from all that is good and Holy. We cannot build altars to other gods and doctrines of demons. The hour is late! The land has been taken from the people and given to rulers who practice Baal worship.

These evil rulers remove all things dedicated to You. They have allowed all types of evil to enter the gates and a plague has spread. If the enemy has his way, all those who speak against their evil doctrines and laws will be removed by force, their voices never to be heard from again.

Oh Father, all of your children will be marked for death unless You step in soon. The Capital of the USA is walled up like Jericho. Father, please help us. Please let Your Kingdom come, let Your Will be done, on Earth as it is in Heaven. We pray this in Jesus Mighty Name, Amen!

I had two very disturbing dreams last night...

Sub-dream 1 "A Sweeping Wave" begins...

There was a city with a hill in the center. Thousands of people had finished attending church services in the city and they were beginning to drive home in their cars. There were people I know and recognize when suddenly a massive emergency warning alarm went out all over so all could hear. Not one person missed the widespread warning. An emergency declaration was made.

Some of us were standing on this central hill. We were gathered together, praying with our families. We then saw water rising in the city, sweeping away all the people from church in their cars. Other than the several hundreds of us who were on the hill, all were swept away.

While we could hear screams, we were unable to save anyone. The currents were just too strong. While darkness then fell everywhere, the hill we were on remained in the light. The water did not recede right away. It took at least three days. Everything needed rebuilding.

Sub-dream 1 over.

Sub-dream 2 "Over the dark cliff" begins...

I watched helplessly as a group of evil people tricked the unsuspecting trusting people to step off a cliff. It was so dark that they could not see the frightening drop off. I watched as an observer as row after row fell to their death. While there was more to this that was not uplifting, this was all that I was to share.

Sub-dream 2 over.

Father, I am struggling with all of this!

Jesus: "Erin, come up."

I heard knocking on our front door. No one appeared to be there. I opened the door and walked outside. There was Raphael standing by our creek. I ran over to him.

Me: "Were you the one who knocked on our door?"

Raphael: "I did. However, I knew you would search for the source." He smiled. "Yes, it was me. I wanted to take a look at your water after the storm. It looks clean."

I looked down and the stream's water was no longer muddy.

Me: "Wow, the water is beautiful! Thank you!"

Raphael: "You are welcome. Now, I am here to give you a message from God. What you have prayed is good. The hour is late. God has handed the land over for a short period of time to evil. What you are witnessing is the acceleration of the desecration of the land by invading armies. These invading armies are claiming to be peacemakers, social influencers and advocates for positive change. However, make no mistake; they are anything but. What they declare is evil and meant to divide. God allowed a veil to fall over the lawmakers who once stood against this evil. This veil instead confused their thoughts so that they would remain passive."

Me: "Oh Raphael, what are God's people to do? We are watching this play out before our eyes on television. We are unable to fight against any of this. We all pray that it will stop, but it never does."

Raphael: "Well, Erin, there is Good News. God is in control. It is time for God's people to ready their houses."

Me: "How do we do this?"

Raphael: "Remember the divinely inspired saying... 'God does not necessarily call the equipped; He instead equips the called.' Those who are pilots of their own planes, even if they already allow God to be the co-pilot, must now give up the pilot seat and give it fully to God. It is time. Yes, Erin, it is time!

"At this late time, no one called by God should run out to get some piercings, a tattoo sleeve or take yoga classes in their church gym, understand? Instead, now is the time to repent for participating in such things as a Christian. All things should be by and for the Glory of God, in His Image and for His Purposes.

"Although you have not seen this yet where you are, the enemy has begun to dismantle churches and even God's Word. Information has been removed from internet platforms. Many places once reliable for the Word of God are being dismantled. Words are being omitted and truth is being convoluted. They are, as you say it, 'muddying the waters'.

"Now is a good time to have a copy of God's Word, the Bible, on hand to 'check your sources'. The removing of information and even inspirational stories and testimonies of miracles is already happening now. These will soon be unavailable by searches. Libraries, record rooms and bookstores will be carrying less and less as history is being destroyed.

"When questions are raised, they will simply state that materials are now archived and available to view online. However, they are now edited or completely gone. Erin, this same spirit is alive today throughout the land. The patterns are the same. However, it is an even larger movement."

Me: "Do you mean a larger movement than Nazism in its prime? I find that this all is so reminiscent of Nazi Germany and their so-called 'Third Reich'. Raphael, is this now the rise of the 'Fourth Reich'?"

Raphael: "Well, the enemy desires an even broader range of extermination. However, before I give you more on their plans, you must have understanding."

Me: "What are you saying?"

Raphael: "Memorize this! Burn it into your heart! Recite it day and night! Repeat this as often as necessary until it comes to you without effort..."

God is God over ALL things. God is in COMPLETE control. While the enemy believes that he is in control, he is NOT. God does not sit back and say 'Oh no, I didn't see this coming' or 'I had better get with the times and change' or 'I need to Go Woke'. God has never changed and He never will.

Me: I was now laughing. "Oh Raphael, I will definitely burn this into my heart! Thank you for this great encouragement!"

Raphael: "Remember that God does not judge a man by his outward appearance or skin color. This is because God created man, understand?"

However, He will judge a man who claims to be holy and of God who mars his outward appearance to please man. Now, if you believe this has been said by God and you agree that He is in full control, I will tell you more of the enemy's plans."

Me: "Oh yes, Raphael... I believe and I agree! Please tell me what the enemy is planning to do next."

Raphael: "I will tell you their plans for evil. There is a former leader who is angry and bitter against God and His people. He travels the world and receives celebrity status. While he is at home in his spirit in the land of Pharaoh, he resides in this land. From this platform, he deposes and raises kings, or so he believes. He is loved and feared by many. God is now slowly lifting the veil. His plans are to remove the current leader, change laws, times and seasons and bring himself to power.

"Anything of God remaining will be removed and defiled. He will expect unity, but his idea of unity will be no opposing thoughts... ONE MIND. He plans to make one group his army. For being one with him, this group will receive monthly money from others as 'loyalty payments'. They will also be a police force with freedom to be judge and witness... even executioner."

Me: "This also happened during Hitler's Germany. There was the SS and the Gestapo. They shot whoever they pleased whenever they pleased. This was such a terrible time. Is it this leader's desire to have this atrocity come back? How evil!"

Raphael: "Again, Erin... same spirit, same pattern. While this is nothing new to history, it is still shocking to those witnessing this. The first order of business was to remove all law enforcement and weaken the existing military. They also want to remove guns and ammunition from those who are law abiding and give them to prisoners. They are setting prisoners free to weed out the opposers, thereby removing 'blood guilt'. They are now on their way to indoctrinate and reprogram children, teenagers and those with little understanding. They want them to turn away and rebel against their parents and grandparents."

Me: "The mass indoctrination of the children reminds me yet again of Nazi Germany. They had a massive organization called Hitler's Youth. The primary purpose of this organization was to brainwash the youth in Nazi doctrine. These children would then even turn in their own parents if they saw any opposition spoken of Hitler, even minor things. All of these things seem to be happening again right now!"

Raphael: "Yes, but remember... God is ALWAYS in COMPLETE control over ALL things! This is not a surprise to Him."

Me: "So, what is soon to happen next?"

Raphael: "Watch the anger of that former leader increase as he remains active."

Me: "You are not talking about President Trump here, right?"

Raphael: "No. Trump is being silenced. This is good as the enemy soon cannot blame all things on one man. Do not worry though as there will soon be vindication. In the meantime, remain in prayer. Get your houses in order. Check your Vessels. The day is soon to come when everything changes."

I then looked toward our creek. I watched as a beautiful rock slowly rose up in the center of the stream. A fountain then sprung out from this rock. It was incredible. I walked over to take a sip. The water was cool and refreshing. I turned to Raphael.

Me: "Wow, Raphael, thank you for my new water feature."

Raphael: Smiling. "No, Erin, thank God."

He took a step forward, but was gone in an instant just before his foot landed.

Note: We are not to live in fear of the enemy's plans. These will not truly take root until after our Rapture (sometime after our 1080 days of service), though they will no doubt continue to try. In the meantime, God is in complete control and will have us, His soon to be Transformed Army, to make His Will happen on Earth as it is in Heaven. Despite the darkness, His Will already is happening. We should believe this in our hearts and stay of good cheer! This is God's orders...smiles! Remember to memorize and take to heart what Raphael directed us to. Well, since it is worth repeating, why not do so...

Dream over.

Dream 488 – Endure and receive the Crown of Life

Received on Sunday, May 9, 2021

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for this beautiful Mother's Day! Another day I woke up from bed and I am thankful to You for one more daily chance. Thank You! Thank You for another day here. Thank You for my family and our friends. Thank You for Your Great Love and Divine Inspiration through even the darkest of times. My dream two nights ago was very vivid.

Sub-dream 1 "The Blossoming Tree on a Hill" begins...

I was dwelling on a hill above a city in a valley. The hill was covered by wheat and brown grass. Even though it was in the season of a drought, I still had plenty on the hill. While I was now confined to this hill for some reason, God sent friends to bring me essentials and visit with me.

One day, I was sitting on some large rock by a tree. Even though this tree should have been languishing in the arid climate, it was blossoming instead. This was a miracle. As I was staring at the tree in wonder, the sun behind the branches created a magnificent silhouette. However, it supernaturally did not hurt my eyes to stare at the brightness.

I then saw a sparrow land on a branch of the silhouette and start singing. I got up off of the rock and stood to look closer. The sparrow was white. I had never seen a white sparrow before. A few more white sparrows then came. Their combined song was so beautiful. I somehow knew that this was my sign to climb to the top of the hill to meet with the Lord.

I soon found the path. This path was made of dirt and cut into the hill. The path meandered back and forth. There were even times that the path was narrow and filled with boulders. Some boulders were big enough that I had to climb over them. When I arrived at the top, I could see all around the area. I rejoiced and called out to the Lord...

Me: "There are many hills, but only One God! Father, where are You?"

Sub-dream 1 over...

When I was growing up, my artwork reflected my subject matter and my mood. It has been seven years since my accident and I thought that, at this point in my life, I would be painting the subject of Heaven with immense colors. Unfortunately for me, art and drawing, my love of illustration, my hopes and dreams of this, have faded away, along with so many other personal ambitions.

God has instead provided me with the art of allowing Him to flow through my pen as a scribe. Oddly, I can't write on any other level using my small motor skills unless the Lord is leading me. I struggle to type, text or do anything using my fingers. Despite this, God still creates 'written art' through me. He also gives me daily beautiful signs and wonders.

In my simplistic quiet life, He brings events to us. He allows daily struggles so that we strengthen our abilities to endure while we wait. God is my muse in all things. However, on a personal note, Jesus told me I was His muse a few years back. I had laughed so hard when He said this. After all, to think I could, in any way, inspire God seemed so out of bounds... or should I say 'out of the boundaries' I placed God in.

Jesus then needed to clarify this as I was still confused. The answer was not obvious. Our mistakes in our lives, when yielding the outcome back to our Divine Creator, the Potter, gives Him the inspiration to do something greater in us that is far beyond what we could ever conceive. We give God 'Infinite Creativity' when we allow Him to work through us.

Still, how could I, as small and insignificant as I am, give my Creator God inspiration to do infinitely more than I ever thought possible? As a human, I am limited apart from God. I thereby then limit God because I cannot see beyond my circumstances and my place in the world. Again, so how can it be that I could be a muse to my Father and Lord to do the impossible?

Well, I am still not sure... smiles. However, He said it, so it must be true, even if I still don't fully understand! God is good. He is so far above all things. Nothing compares to God. Earlier in my life, I had big dreams of being a great illustrator if my golf career failed. I didn't even have to work that hard at this as God gave me a talent from an early age to draw photorealism.

I was the only artist in my family at the time. I day-dreamed a lot. I observed. I was moody. None of this went over well in a family where emotions were not allowed, only jokes and sarcasm. When I was in my teens, I drew and painted in greys, blacks and whites. I preferred the harshness of dark contrast and shadows with one light source.

In hindsight, most of it was gloomy, dark and sad. My art reflected my mood. This started to change once I entered college. I then began to experiment with color and enjoyed it. I studied under a professor who studied under N.C. Wyeth. His son, Andrew Wyeth, was one of my heroes in art.

I completed my transition once I became a Christian. I now used complete color from an all-over light source. I no longer painted with harsh contrasts anymore. Something later happened to me though and I casted aside all of my skills to focus on architectural design. This is how I made a living wage. I did this despite my family pleading with me to continue with my painting.

My mother grieved when I fully stopped painting in 1995. Just five years later, my mom took some drawing classes and studied under a master engraver. She would soon become an award-winning artist. She achieved much more in a short time as an artist than I did as a formally trained artist over a lifetime.

The same can now be said about my daughter. Out of nowhere (as she virtually never expressed interest in art), she just graduated from the visual arts program with honors. The cycle is complete (smiles) as both my daughter and my mom turned out to be better artists than me. Still, this makes me so happy. It makes my heart glad as both said I had inspired them.

So, here I am, surrounded by art not my own and with dreams not yet realized. However, You have a better plan for me than I could imagine, so I hold onto this. Even my hopes for my dreams are such a gift from You. Now I am a writer. Well, I had always despised writing. My mom was a writer, but I never enjoyed it. However, when I now write these dreams, You take away my pain.

Father, I do not have any pain when I write down Your Inspired Dreams. When I am doing this, my handwriting is clear and my fingers have feeling. This is a miracle and a source of great joy for my heart. When I am in Your Will, Father, my lost dreams are far, far away and replaced with new found miracles. Thank You for this, Father.

As soon as I wrote this last sentence down, the house shook. However, only I noticed it and there were no earthquakes in our area. Hmm, perhaps this was You shaking me into realizing just how dire the times are and how much ALL of us still need You. I had another dream last night. I was particularly happy with this dream as we were performing many healings. It was nice to have such a positive dream again.

Sub-dream 2 "Healing the sick and old" begins...

My family and I were driving to various locations and healing people. We were driving to distant cities and to small farm areas that were now abandoned. We soon pulled up to a three-story hospital. It was so packed that there should have been many workers. However, there were only a handful. Lining the hallways were elderly patients on gurneys. They were of every nationality and skin color.

As we walked down the dark corridors, the stench of neglect rose all around us. These people were left to die alone with no help. Some of the elderly reached out their hands to us. There were also many hospital rooms, but not one had a door attached. There were many, many beds crammed into each room. Other than a lone television in the common area playing CNN, it was eerily quiet.

My group stood together and joined hands. We prayed for God to heal them and lift them up. As we prayed, we saw something like lanterns in the dark swaying back and forth over the bodies of the forgotten. The lights then came on and each one sat up in their beds and gurneys. They then leaped onto the floor and began to dance around. We laughed and thanked God for the countless number of miracles that just happened.

Note: These patients were not made young again as will be the case for us when our long-awaited Transformation finally arrives. They instead were healed to have strong muscles and greatly increased energy. Compared to their frail conditions beforehand, they greatly celebrated this.

Elderly man: Bounding up to us in glee. "Excuse me, but could you pray for the other floors and for the city. This city has been abandoned. Other than televisions on the other two floors, there is no electricity except for this one floor in the hospital."

We agreed to his request and our group joined hands again in prayer. Even though we were far from the coast, we soon heard and felt something like waves of the sea crashing. We realized it was God's healing waters sweeping over the area. We then heard celebrations, shouting, music and praises to God. We walked out the backdoor to our car and drove to the next town.

Sub-dream 2 over.

Sub-dream 3 "Sifting for Hearts" begins...

I was driving on a six-lane highway with my daughter. As we drove, a massive group of angels were leveling the ground in front of us. In addition to this, one of the angels was taking debris from a field and putting it through a giant two-acre sift. It then shook the sift in order to preserve anything of value. There were people being sifted as well. It reminded me that God was panning for gold... well, really hearts.

Sub-dream 3 over.

Father, the world is changing and becoming so difficult. No one should die alone. If there be anyone alone, please be with them in all things. Nothing we see will matter anymore very soon. The Great Measuring and the weighing of good vs evil have almost finished. Please strengthen Your people. Please let Your Kingdom come and let Your Will be done, on Earth as it is in Heaven.

I have been so sad recently. A group of watchdogs are claiming that I am going to be sent straight to hell because of my 'false teachings'. Father, please stop this. I know it will become worse as we near even worse times. If I have written anything falsely or said deceptive things about You in this late hour, please correct me. I am imperfect, but desire to do Your Perfect Will in all things.

Please do not remove any of Your favor from us Sparrows. Our hearts are on Your love as we wait for You in all things. I love You, Father. I love You with my whole heart. I love Jesus just as much. I give all things to You. I pray that I am on a righteous path to Heavenly Places. I pray that many of us are already together as one under the Kingdom of Heaven. I thank You for our Nest Family every day!

Please let us forgive those who trespass against us. Without forgiveness, we are unable to walk fully in Your Presence. These dreams have been hidden jewels on my path. This is all for us to experience more of You. They are a banner in the pursuit of the Kingdom of Heaven and Your love. Please forgive me. I repent for anything I may have done to cause a person to stumble away from You. Please keep me from evil and focused fully on You. I ask for this in Jesus' Mighty Name, Amen.

Jesus: "Erin, come up."

I heard a knock on the door. The door opened and there was Jesus. I ran over to Him. He met me with open arms.

Me: "I am so sorry, Lord. Please show me where I have gone wrong so that I can make things right in Your sight. Oh please!" I was now crying.

Jesus: "Oh Erin, I am here. I am with you. Do all things in obedience to Me. Do not be subject to the world or those who claim they are of Me, but are far from Me. Did you not think after the last word you had that you would be free from attacks? Have they not increased instead? Still, Erin, this is good. Continue to persevere in the face of troubles. There are many kinds of troubles. No matter what kind, I am with you. Now, what have I said about this topic?"

He was smiling as I was now receiving a divine quiz on memorizing the Lord's Word.

Me: "Let us not grow weary of doing good for, in due season, we will reap; that is, if we do not give up."

Jesus: "As for you, My Sparrow Bride..." He smiled. "...do not grow weary in doing good. Erin, you are in need of endurance so when you have done My Will, you will receive what I have promised you. The one who endures and keeps My Will receives the Crown of Life. Erin, you will lack no good thing."

Me: "Lord, if we do not do Your Will, will we not receive Your Promises?"

Jesus: Smiling. "Wisdom is proved right by her actions. The hour is late. Do not be like the foolish virgins who decide at this late hour to go to town to seek their oil for their lamps. Instead, continue on your path and count it good that people say all kinds of things about you that are false. You are then the Perfect Bride for the Groom. This is because the Groom had also received this same unfair treatment.

"Remember to not be afraid as this brings no comfort. It is difficult when those closest to you decide to abandon you as you watch. I know that you are also concerned about your children. Well, Erin, your Vessels are ready. I have not abandoned you. I have read the hateful words of those who claim to know Me, but are far from Me. They acknowledge Me with their lips from their high podiums, but their heart is not with Me.

"They gossip and malign others. They cheat their workers and steal from the innocent. They then still claim to speak to Me. Erin, I do NOT know them. Their hearts are far from Me. When I called you, I did not call you in perfection." He smiled. "I called you because you are perfectly imperfect for My Plans. Through your battles, others see themselves as I see them... IN LOVE!

"I did not call a Biblical Scholar as many of them read the Words, but are uninspired by My Breath, the Breath of the Living God upon them. Without Me breathing life into the words upon these pages, the words are then like closed doors. There is nothing behind them to uncover. To those I call, I give them keys to unlock doors. There are then even more mysteries in those pages of My Word, understand? Erin, I don't expect perfection. I instead long for you to desire to know Me with your whole heart. This is love."

Me: "I love You, Lord. You are my Greatest Gift and my Greatest Reward. Nothing is impossible through You."

Jesus: Smiling. "Then you must pull out that contract I signed with My promises. The enemy hates you for this. However, you are to remember that he hated Me first. Now come with Me." He reached for my hand and we were instantly by the brook where Raphael cleans the water. "Erin, this spot is to be named Beulah. This is important." Just then, the bridge appeared. "This is where Heaven meets Earth."

Me: "Oh Lord, our place is so small. How will this facilitate all those searching for this? I didn't know that we could accommodate millions on our property."

Jesus: Both of us were now laughing. "Oh Erin, there are other places too! You will understand more very soon. However, this will be hidden to those with evil intent or little understanding. Do not worry as the masses will not come to this place. I will inform you of more later. Review your contract right now. I am with you. I am for you. I am NOT with those who are against you. Keep your focus on Me as I am with you. Look, Erin..."

He pointed to a tree as He reached over to hug me. I looked over at the tree branch and spotted a group of white sparrows. I quickly turned back to Jesus. I was afraid to miss Him.

Me: Laughing. "I was worried that You would 'pull a Raphael'."

Jesus: "How about I pull out a hug and a blessing instead. I should talk to Raphael. He likes those catchy exits." He laughed. "He also doesn't like goodbyes."

Me: "Hmm, I didn't think of that."

Jesus: "He is a guardian. He remains close by. He has many others who work with him. This is what we call an 'Angel Army'." He smiled.

Me: "Of course! This makes sense."

Jesus: "Since I am always with you, there is never a goodbye. I must go for now..." He nudged me. "...as you see Me. Just remember that I am always with you."

He hugged me and then walked across the bridge. In an instant, both the bridge and Jesus were gone.

Dream over.

Dream 489 – Three Sub-Dreams

Received on Tuesday, May 18, 2021

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day here! Thank You for such a mild winter and now a beautiful blossoming spring. My allergies came back suddenly last week. I haven't experienced allergy symptoms like these since we lived in Portland OR in the year 2001. I was pregnant with Amber and it was a difficult spring. My symptoms of asthma were the worst. It has been 20 years now and I have never experienced this kind of misery.

I am lethargic and my eyes hurt from scratching. I normally forget to pray for self-healing, but this has been so bad that I have been repenting and asking the Lord for divine deliverance from the effects of all the pollen in the air. I had a difficult sleep a few days ago. I awoke early and was unable to focus. Our carbon monoxide alarm kept sputtering. I think it needs a battery change.

To make matters worse, my thumb on my right hand had a long cut that made writing extremely painful. I shook my head and prayed to the Lord: 'I love You, Father. Clearly, I am in trouble here. I am so tired, but my symptoms keep me awake.' I then took a big sigh. As I did this, I heard an amazing song bird outside my window on our massive tree. While I could hear the bird, I could not see it.

I looked up at this beautiful tree. The new leaves were a vibrant green against the clear deep blue sky. I could see thousands of tiny pollen seeds dropping from the branches. This was clearly one of the main culprits for my allergies. I rested my head down on a pillow and looked at the tree. I soon drifted off to sleep and napped for four hours straight. This was so unusual for me. I had a dream during this time.

Sub-dream 1 "Taking the Stage at a Drive-in Theater"

I arrived early at what was once a drive-in theater. The ground was brown dirt and there was a platform stage with a massive screen behind it. Where there were once speaker poles for the cars, there were now gaping 5-to-6-inch holes. There were bird feeder poles next to each of these holes. There were at least 75 to a 100 of these bird feeder poles. Each bird feeder pole held two bird feeders. Each feeder had eight holes. This means each pole could accommodate sixteen birds.

I then heard voices coming from distant loud speakers. I tried to see where the voices were coming from, but my eyesight was unclear. No matter how hard I tried to focus my eyes, I could not see clearly. My vision was so unusually cloudy that I knew my vision was being supernaturally clouded. I decided to find my way up to the stage. Once I arrived, I sat to wait. I was clearly early. I prayed to God to bring my eyes into focus. Just as I began to have clarity on all that I was trying to see, I woke up.
Sub-dream 1 over.

When I woke up from this dream, my neck was in a horrible position. I was sore for the rest of the day because of this. Our entire household has been under attack for the last seven days. However, I am only just seeing this now, but in hindsight. I didn't realize the magnitude of these attacks until summarizing them earlier today. Nonetheless, I still had another prophetic dream. It was very interesting.

Sub-dream 2 "Redeemed of the dead"

I was in an area that consisted of mountains, caves and meadows. At one area, I was standing looking toward the opening of a very large cave. The ground was all brown dirt. I then heard the voice of the Lord.

Lord: "Erin, say to this dirt, 'Redeemed of the dead rise first.'"

Me: "But, Lord, I see nothing."

Lord: "Erin, speak to the area of the caves with authority. Speak with authority."

Me: I said the following words loudly, slowly and with clarity. "Redeemed of the dead... rise up!"

I then saw the dirt roll up in an unusual way... impossible to describe. As I was standing quite faraway, I could not see anything in detail. I then saw cloth figures rising from the dirt. Their cloths were covered in dirt. The entire area then shook and the dirt fell off the cloths. I was in amazement as I stood there.

Lord: "Now command the dead to wake up."

Me: With a loud and commanding voice. "Wake up, you who sleep. It is time to wake up."

While there were many who had risen, I was now directed to focus on just one of them. I saw what looked like a skeleton wrapped up in a cloth like a mummy. It then began to have skin and color. It was like blood was now running through his skin. I then saw the cloth wraps fall away. The man now had on his burial clothes. All of his clothes then became brand new and a brilliant white. His skin was tanned and his eyes were blue.

He quickly got up, but then looked as if he had become dizzy. He stumbled over to the cave wall and tried to support himself. He then slowly collapsed and was now resting his head in his hands. He was trying to orientate himself. After a short while, he looked at me.

Man: In a groggy voice. "Who are you?"

Me: "You speak so I can understand you. What period of time are you from?"

Man: "1710. Yes, 1710."

Me: "Is this when you were born?"

Man: "No. This is when I died. I was born in 1644."

Me: "Does this mean that you are 66 years old right now?"

Man: Still dazed. "What? Oh, I don't know. Where am I? Who are you?"

Me: "I am a friend. The year is 2021."

Man: "I came here to hide and die. God spoke to me to go to sleep, so I fell asleep."

Me: "Did the Lord send angels to wrap you in cloth?"

Man: "No. My enemies found me here. I was killed."

Me: "Hmm, you are awake now."

Man: Yawning. "What comes next?"

Me: "I do not know. However, what I do know is that we will wait on the Lord."

Man: "There are more of us. Look!"

I looked around. There were many caves. Many others were waking. I was in shock. I addressed the Lord again.

Me: "Lord, what do we do with all of these people?"

Lord: "Do not worry. I have them."

Sub-dream 2 over.

I then had another dream. I didn't like this one.

Sub-dream 3 "Check stops can't stop the Lord"

While this felt post-Rapture, I wasn't 100% sure. I was definitely Transformed though. I saw food suppliers from major distributors being stopped at various check stops:

- Check stop 1: Seized all beef products
- Check stop 2: Seized all chicken products
- Check stop 3: Allowed pork products, but increased the price by tagging on tariffs

- Check stop 4: Not only seized half of the cheese, milk and eggs, but tripled the price by tagging on tariffs
- Check stop 5: Using tariffs, butter went from $4 to $16, oil went from $4 to $20 and wine for cooking went from $4 to $30
- Check stop 6: Using tariffs, a bag of flour went from $5 to $30, a loaf of bread went from $4 to $70 and a box of cereal went from $4 to $40

After the truck had gone through these six check stops, I followed it to the grocery store (a well-known national chain). They were lines of people waiting for the truck to arrive. As the truck approached, there were fights and so much unrest. The doors of the grocery store were soon opened and the people rushed in. After only a few short minutes, people were walking out in silence. Most either had no groceries or very little groceries. I walked up to a woman. She had a single bag full of groceries.

Me: "Were you able to find food?"

Woman: "Yes, but no meat. There is nothing good for us. I basically purchased hotdogs and buns, some candy and some 'suspect' potatoes and it cost me over $65. I don't know how, but I will need to squeeze three or four meals out of this. I have a husband and one child. If it gets much worse, we will starve."

I nodded with empathy for her situation. I then prayed to the Lord for her. I immediately felt Him answer and knew He had done something great for this woman.

Me: "Well, look in your bag now."

She was in absolute amazement as she looked in her bag. Instead of hotdogs, candy and rotten potatoes, there were beef, chicken, eggs, cheese, milk and cereal.

Woman: Her legs were buckling. "Who are you? You prayed for less than 30 seconds and now we have enough for a week or more. This is a miracle. Thank you!"

Me: "Don't thank me, thank Jesus! I will now walk you to your car. Act like nothing happened."

She started her car. I prayed for a full gas tank for her. It was immediately full of gas. She noticed this and shook her head in amazement.

Woman: "Thank Jesus for me!"

Me: "Thank Him yourself." She did.

While we smiled at each other as she drove off, I became really angry about the check stops once she was gone. They were purposely taking the food and causing shortages. An elderly man soon came out with nothing but an empty bag. He looked distraught and for good reason.

Me: "What? No food?"

Elderly man: "I can afford nothing. I am old. My life is not worth much. Oh, to just have some bread and butter, a little piece of meat or an egg, some strawberries and cream..."

Me: "The Lord will provide for you the desires of your heart."

Just then, his empty grocery bag became full of all the food he had asked for. There was enough to last him at least a week.

Elderly man: "Hallelujah! Who are you?"

Me: "I am a friend sent by the Lord."

After thanking the Lord, he turned and walked away. He now had a skip in his step. I then noticed that a bad man was watching. He wanted to steal this elderly man's groceries. I was not happy. I decided to address the bad man before he could do anything to rob the elderly man.

Me: "Hey you, come here."

The bad man came over. I realized that he was actually quite young, in his early 20s.

Young man: "What the f is your problem? Why don't you mind your..."

Before he could finish his second curse, I prayed to have his lips sealed and they instantly were. I then heard the Lord tell me what to say next.

Me: "You are going to help this elderly gentleman arrive safely to his car."

Without control of his own body, he helped the elderly man safely to his car. The elderly man gave the young man some of his bread. The young man was in shock.

Elderly man: "This is from God."

The young man was humbled and wolfed down the bread. He was starving too. He then went to his friend, who was also young. I went up to the two young men.

Me: "Do you want more bread?" They both nodded. "How about some meat? Or even milk and honey?" They both nodded again. "Then look at your grocery bags."

Both of them instantly had full bags of groceries.

Young man: "But why? We are not good men."

Me: "Well, can you be?"

Young man: "Yes. However, I have stolen from the poor to give to the wealthy so that my children receive food."

I instantly became angry that the wealthy were doing this to him and his family.

Me: "Okay, we are going to give them a bag of bad food. They will not do this to you again. Do not eat from the bag meant for them. Even though it looks good, it is dangerous. As for you both and your families, I will bring groceries for a few weeks to your families.”

Both young men became excited. They instantly had two full bags of the most expensive of items. However, this was full of the dangerous food now destined for the bullying rich people. I followed them to a fancy home.

A mean man opened the door, grabbed the grocery bags and slammed the door in their faces.

Me: “Don’t worry, they won’t be bothering you again. Here is a gift for both of you and for both of your families.”

More grocery bags appeared. Inside there were meats, cheeses, bread, flour, fruits and oil. There were other items too. They almost had more than they could carry.

Me: “This is from the Lord to you. He is the God of Miracles.”

They nodded in agreement. They were thankful.

Sub-dream 3 over.

These dreams raised more questions than there were answers. There was so much detail that I don’t believe I captured all of it.

Father, my body and spirit are not at peace. My two sons are also now experiencing allergies. This seems to be all the results of a mild winter and a warmer spring. Everything is blooming. Please heal our house. Not being able to breathe or even see well with my swollen eyes is awful. Forgive me for not remembering how thankful I am for the delivery from these symptoms 20 years ago. I forgot what a blessing and miracle You granted us years ago.

My husband and I have recently experienced unexpected attacks from people we trusted (this did not involve any Nest members). I am never sure why this happens to me. People have great experiences with someone, but then they are awful when they do work for me. All I am asking for is equal treatment. We must have a hidden sign that says ‘kick us’ and ‘take advantage of us’. It just never ceases to amaze us. We are just shaking our heads over the events of these last few weeks.

Thankfully, we have now given all things to God as we can clearly do nothing on our own. When I later had some free time, I went into a thrift store. I picked up a framed poem that had no way of saying who wrote it. I looked on the internet, but could find no identifier. This poem, whether by someone famous or not, really touched me...

What shall it be?

Out of this life I shall never take, things of silver and gold I make. All that I cherish and hoard away, after I leave on this Earth must stay. Though

I have toiled for a painting rare, I hang it on the wall and must leave it there. Though I call it mine and boast its worth, I must give it up when I leave this Earth. All that I gather and all that I keep, I must leave behind when I fall asleep.

I often wonder what I shall own, in that other life when I pass alone. What shall they find and what shall they see, in the soul that answers the call for me? Shall the great Judge learn when my task is through, that my Spirit has gathered some riches too. Or shall at last it be mine to find, that all I'd worked for I'd left behind.

Shortly after writing this out, God gave me some great advice straight from His Word. Matthew 6:19-21:

"Do not lay up for yourselves treasures on Earth, where moth and rust destroy, or where thieves break in and steal. But lay up for yourselves treasures in Heaven, where neither moth nor rust destroys and where thieves do not break in and steal. For where your treasure is, there your heart will be also."

Dream over.

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day! Thank You for spring and the promise of summer. Thank You for the fresh rain and the sound of songbirds outside of my window. Thank You for life. Father, the world has been turned upside down. Nothing is normal anymore. I had a series of dreams the last few nights and I realize now more than ever that You are so intricate, so orderly and so intentional. Nothing planned, not one single thing, either for evil by evil or good by good, is beyond Your reach.

Sub-dream 1 "The Pilgrims arrive in 1621" begins...

The number 1620 kept appearing in my dreams. I was then led to investigate the year 1620. 1620 is the year of the pilgrims arriving in Massachusetts. They were fleeing religious persecution in the UK and fled on September 6, 1620. It took them 66 days to finally arrive on November 11, 1620. On December 21, 1620, they dedicated the land fully to God. This was on the Feast of Dedication, the Festival of Lights.

Many of them were fleeing the Church of England. They had called the church out for not staying with Biblical principles. The pilgrims were then labelled as separatists and persecuted. They fled on a pilgrimage across the ocean to what was supposed to be Jamestown VA, established in 1607. However, due to poor navigation (but really God's Divine Will), they instead ended up near Provincetown / Cape Cod.

When I was 12 years old, I toured the museum at Plymouth with my family. All the written letters and evidence were consistent. Now there are so many alternative stories. This is just ridiculous and a blatant departure from the truth. There was a Jew on board, so perhaps he had taught them some of the Jewish traditions. Perhaps this person did this divinely under Your power and guidance.

All I know is that You are a wonderful Father to create such a beautiful Promised Land for Your people. While separate from Your Promised Land of Israel, both the USA and Israel are dedicated to You. Last year commemorated 400 years since the pilgrims landed. The year 2021 will be the 400th Thanksgiving as the first Thanksgiving was in either October or November 1621. This year was a difficult one as many had died.

A treaty of peace was signed earlier in the spring between the natives and the pilgrims. The year of 1621 marked the first year of harvest in the New World. A three-day celebration followed on what some Jewish scholars believe was Sukkot.

Sub-dream 1 over.

Father, I don't know much about history in general. However, I know some as my mom often spoke of historic events. Of course, I also know some from the Bible. I just know that You are the God of Great Details. That being said, I believe the land of the USA was established either in 1620 or 1621. Whatever the actual year, thanks were given to You in all things. This led to my other dream...

Sub-dream 2 "Forced Rest changed to a Huge Celebration" begins...

I saw that each person or family unit was now alone. No work was happening. There was no great harvest in the field. I saw vines overtaking the vineyards. Orchards were hanging with fruit in all stages of growth. People were forced to rest supernaturally in the USA starting around March 19, 2020.

On March 22, 1621, the pilgrims made a peace treaty with the Indians. They then lived peacefully together. The prospect of death and war was thereby changed into planting and harvesting. It seems interesting that it has been eight cycles of 50-year jubilees since the land was dedicated to You. Father, You then allowed us a painful forced rest during the jubilee.

Things then suddenly changed for the better! I saw a huge celebration. There was a ticker tape parade and unspeakable joy.

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day here! Thank You that You are the Great I Am. You are the King Who rules over all things. You are our Creator, our Comforter, our Rescuer and our Friend. Father, who is like You? There is no one like You. You are the Beginning and the End, the Alpha and the Omega. You are aware of all things.

There is no thing, nothing, beyond Your sight. All is in Your full view, both good and evil. You know us. You are all things good and holy. Things lovely and pure are Your delight. You put into practice in us who are obedient to do Your Will. This not only makes our hearts glad in service to You, but it also brings You joy to see this in us.

Father, I have not been feeling good toward the things of this world right now. No matter how hard I try to escape it or flee, bad news finds us.

As time is now clearly running out, I will stand. I will stand in the fullness of Your Resurrection Power. I am Your child. As Your child, I get scared when I see evil ramp up and darkness enveloping the Earth.

Your lights in this world are not shining as bright. Many of us right now are only visible to You. Please give us peace and strengthen us. We love You. We look with hope to the coming Great Wave and movement of revival to sweep the nations. Father, it has been four months since this evil regime has been actively taking out the voices of truth.

Jews are being persecuted in the streets of our cities. Young children are being executed daily in the cities and no one does anything. Their lives seem to matter to no one. The world is out of sync. What is coming for all of us is mass persecution. Only You, Father, can step in to save us. Please do this soon! We love You.

I was driving home alone from the grocery store yesterday. I used this time to turn up my worship music. It was about 5:00pm in the afternoon. I was praying out loud in my Holy Spirit language. I then saw something hard to describe. I tried to take photos, but I could not capture what I saw. I pulled over too late.

It appeared that Hebrew letters were scrolled on the sky. I saw a Cheit, a Beit, a Reush, an Alef and other Cheit (although it could be a Yod). I should note that I am not at all sure about the spelling of these letters here. Still, I felt this had to be a message, but what? Later on, the clouds were again rolling in. We were told to expect thunder, but no rain or lightning. I was confused by this. I thought you couldn't have thunder without lightning.

As I looked up, I saw what looked like I was gazing into a room in the sky as a vision. I pulled over and continued to look into the vision. When I have visions, it starts as if there is a cloud frame around the vision. The vision then expands and takes up your entire optic field. It then becomes like you are peering into a room or movie scene. You then somehow become part of it as if stepping in.

Sub-Dream / Vision 3 "Water running down the stairs" begins...

The room I saw was amazing. I saw a series of steps formed of marble. However, the clouds continued to move across them. I then saw a golden light at the top of the stairs inside this cloud room. I could then see something like water running down the stairs and pouring out of the room. Sub-Dream / Vision 3 over.

When the vision was over, I went back onto the road. A massive eagle then flew right over me and across the now normal looking cloud room. The song by Natalie Grant, "Your Great Name", then came on. All of this made me know that this was definitely from God. I proceeded to worship God. It was amazing.

I then slept very deeply last night. While I normally wake up once or twice, I slept right through until morning. When I awoke, the atmosphere had a thickness to it. I can't really explain exactly what I mean by this. In my dream from last night, I saw an old scene from many years ago...

Sub-dream 4 "The Valley of Red Cliffs" begins...

I was in a valley with steep cliffs of red. There was a trench-like canal at the base of these cliffs. This trench was about 8 feet deep and 12 feet wide. At the far end of the area, there was a dam built between the cliffs. In the center of the canal area was level ground and a massive marketplace. People of all ethnicities were present. They were wearing colorful clothing.

The area was bright and sunny and all were in good moods. I then heard one trumpet, then another and then another. I looked up and from the cliffs were large faces of angelic beings sounding trumpets. I heard screaming and bustling in the market. Just then, the dam exploded and water burst out. The water went into the channels first, but it soon overflowed. Some seemed terrified, while others celebrated.

All then went dark. I blanked out. When I woke up again, I was now lying on a type of bed made of slab rock. I knew that I had been asleep, but I was not sure for how long. I woke up in a room of red dirt walls and floor. I was very young and arose in a beautiful well-lit room. It was the morning. I could hear a songbird singing.

I looked and the bird was on a ledge speaking to me in song. I slowly rose to my feet and walked over to it. It then flew down a small hallway into another room with a bright light. I followed it as it continued to sing to me in bird language. It then rounded a corner and flew outside to a ledge. I was barefoot walking on a red dirt floor. I walked out and around a wall.

I watched the bird as it then flew to the east, although I am not at all sure how I knew the direction. I walked out to the ledge and looked toward the east. There was a valley floor and I could see many caves in the walls surrounding the valley. I could see others dressed in white clothes.

I looked to the valley and there were smoldering remains of some structure that was massive. Only the columns remained. There were massive round spherical boulders embedded in the valley floor. It was morning and dawn was breaking. I then heard a rumble and great cheering.

Sub-dream 4 over.

I then had another dream...

Sub-dream 5 "The Impossible Dinner Reservation" begins...

Our family wanted to eat at a particular restaurant. This would be amazing as getting reservations at this restaurant was impossible. The restaurant had nothing but rave reviews. We even had to see a broker or special agent to even get a reservation. We did so and then requested a specific table in a specific room.

Agent: "This is an unlikely reservation that you are asking for. We are pre-booked for months."

My husband: "We would like this for this evening though. More specifically, we want the Lazarus table in the upper room."

Agent: Laughing. "This is impossible. You can't have that. Let me look at the reservation book." His eyes widened and he started to stutter. "What? This is truly impossible. It is available, but it is only a table for eight. How many do you have in your party?"

My husband: "Seven."

Agent: "Well then, it is yours. While dinner is at 4:00pm, you can only stay until 7:00pm."

My husband: "Perfect! We will take it!"

In the meantime, I had a small fish tank with two rare fish in it. I needed a friend to watch them. I had instructed her on their care. They kept jumping out of the water. They were 'hummingbird fish', fish that turned into hummingbirds. She didn't believe me. That is, until she saw it. The fish jumped out and turned into hummingbirds. They then turned back into fish and went back into the tank. They were having fun.

Dream 491 – Waiting for God’s Perfect Timing

Communion

Dear Father,

I took a moment to really think about God and all that He has done for us! I delight in You with tears of gratitude. I am thankful for all You have done to grow me as Your child. It has not been easy. I have complained a lot. The older I become, the more set in my ways I become. I am slower to catch up to changes. It has been difficult to see the magnitude of changes in the social landscape. All has changed while we were held up during Covid.

Right after the 19th anniversary is a great year of judgment in Jewish tradition. This is when one last shaking occurs to turn God’s people away from evil. The kickoff point was September 11, 2001, commonly called 9/11. Nations are now suffering all over the world, as is the USA. The world watches in laughter and horror over the current state of the USA.

When I was reflecting on Ezekiel 38 and Matthew 24, I asked the Lord if we were now in a physical World War Three (WW3). If so, this seems an unconventional war. It is using biological warfare weapons of mass destruction. These do not hurt the land or structures, but can still take down a nation or nations through death, finances and fear.

Our greatest threat, the Land of the Dragon, continues to manufacture our medicines and food. Their leadership is able to compromise this without our knowledge. They have been paying officials, media and tech to disguise their position. Anyone speaking out against their offensive is ruined, their lives, reputations and finances destroyed.

The enemy is amplifying efforts to isolate us and our children in hopes to discourage us to the point of severe despair and even some to suicide, often using lethal doses of fentanyl. In other words, the enemy is taking us out from within. Race wars have now become a means to further silence anyone opposed to indoctrination. The resulting rise in racism is far worse than I have ever seen.

This racism and the claims of racism is being used to cloak the laws meant to empower the few under the guise of protecting marginalized groups against discrimination. For the last twenty years, racism was not tolerated and equality, freedom and liberty were all under God indivisible. No one was supposed to discriminate based on skin color, religion or political affiliation.

Everything has now changed. The country has been taken over by Marxists. While racism and racists literally hurt my heart, You reminded me that I need to give all of this to You. Well, Father, I am. Please help the world, Father. I thought the content and character of a man, no matter his color, mattered.

Equality is fair. It is fair and there should be fairness. Hatred against Jews and Asians are rising. It is horrible. What is soon to happen, Father? Whatever is coming will be worse than the slavery in the 1700s to 1800s and the Holocaust combined. Two groups are rising with the goal of extermination of many other groups. The science experiment began with Covid.

One foreign country's ruling party desires world takeover and the USA is their greatest frontier. Homes and cities built are ready for enemy occupancy. They seek the elimination of the resistance. The resistance is any group that will not support their uprising. In turn, this 'Master Group' do not like people of color, the elderly, those overweight or those with special needs.

The second group, the current ruling party of the USA, is blind to the first group, the ruling class of the Land of the Dragon. This second group does not realize they have played right into the first group's hands and weakened the USA. The second group is one party, one agenda, one currency, one religion and one government group, which is the same as the first group. However, the second group does not see that the first group is already set to take over.

The second group is based inside the borders of the USA. This group wants to bring back slavery. The slaves would be based on anyone that opposes them. The only way to ensure safety WITHOUT GOD would be to switch now and speak against your own convictions. You would need to never denounce anything they support and affirm your support of every radical agenda item.

Jesus: "Erin, come up."

I heard a knock at the front door. It was Jesus. I ran to open the door and jumped into His welcoming arms. He hugged me and laughed.

Me: "I am so glad to see You, Lord! So glad!"

Jesus: "I love you, Erin. I am here with you. I know you have been struggling. The crop of the fig tree is almost ready. You will then know that summer is near."

Me: "Oh Lord, I know that You know that we have no figs here."

Jesus: "Israel is your gauge, Erin."

Me: "So, end of June or September?"

Jesus: Smiling. "September is the second fruit." I began to cry as He walked me over to our stream. "Oh Erin, do not cry. I know it is painful observing the rise in lawlessness sweeping the land."

Me: "Lord, there is a quiver full here waiting for You. However, You do not come."

Jesus: "I know your wait has been a difficult one. Erin, is it better for the harvest when the fruit of the vine is ripened and perfected for the harvester or is it better that a harvester gathers only ripened fruit way too early in the season? Does he leave what would have been ripe if picked later and only select certain ones?"

"What brings a greater yield for the harvester or, more importantly, the vineyard owner? If just left on the vines alone, they would rot or be eaten by predators and parasites. This seems wasteful. In the Kingdom of Heaven, nothing is wasted, rotten or subject to parasites and predators."

Me: "Even though I can see where You are coming from..." I smiled as I nudged Him. "...I still can't wait."

Jesus: Laughing. "I know, Erin, I know. However, are you able to wait until the perfect time..." He smiled as He nudged me. "...for Me?"

Me: Hugging Him. "Yes, Lord. I love you. All we have is yours. On our own, we can do nothing."

Jesus: "You are heavy with burdens right now. I can see it. Let Me take this yoke off of you."

He smiled at me as He took something invisible off my shoulders. I suddenly felt lighter.

Me: "What was that?"

Jesus: Smiling. "Well, you had some extra worry on your shoulders. I removed this to show you how much lighter your load is when you remove it."

Me: "Lord, the world is at war right now, is it not?"

Jesus: "Yes, Erin. It is not a normal battlefield, but yes. There are casualties. Heaven has received a large number of them. This is good. God has prepared for this in advance. I have met many here. As you know, the inability to breathe in air is humbling."

Me: "It is a great time for You, Lord, our Savior, to carry them Home!"

Jesus: "And I have. Now, there are several evil leaders right now. They are removing things sacred to My Father in Heaven. They are serving other gods now. There has been an uptick in death by killing and even genetic alteration."

Me: "Lord, please do something quickly."

Jesus: "I will. The plans of the enemy will backfire as news will be made public."

Me: "Oh, I see... instead of Wiki-leaks, we will experience Godly-leaks."

Jesus: Laughing. "Yes. Both regimes will be exposed. They will need to retreat for awhile as the population will call for transparency. Do not worry. In the meantime, I will do something..."

Me: "...in our days? We would not believe it even if we were told?"

Jesus: "Well, yes to both. Erin, the land is soon to be measured fairly. Justice will prevail and evil will go into hiding. Breathe! No harm will come to you. Vaccine or no vaccine, you are Mine... you, your husband and your children. No one can alter God's DNA, understand? They can try all they want to, but they won't succeed. They are fools. Contrary to what some preach, this is not the mark. This is just the beginning of something far more evil in the future.

"When men built towers to reach Heaven, God changed languages and scattered the peoples. There is a reason for this great separation between Heaven and Earth. Heaven is incorruptible and Earth invites corruption. It is a land of sin and unclean. You fought this battle of life here in a world of injustice so that you would one day have the promise of Paradise..." He smiled as He pointed to His chest. "...with Me."

Me: Hugging Him. "I love You, Lord. Thank You for preparing Paradise for us in Heaven."

Jesus: "Erin, you have only seen a small, small fraction. You will always have joy, laughter and peace there."

My lower lip began to quiver as tears streamed down my cheeks.

Jesus: "People battle for a moment of wealth and fame at the expense of others. However, time goes by quickly and all that they have achieved is lost forever. This is a chasing. If a man takes the life of an innocent child or causes an elderly man to fall, God is watching. If a man steals the purity of a child or demoralizes a man based on his appearance, God is watching. Nothing in the dark is truly hidden from God. A time is coming and all wrongs will be made right, understand? I am not blind."

Me: Sighing. "Yes, Lord."

Jesus: "Erin, this also means anyone who visits a child in a learning situation and teaches hate and are told, if they do not agree, they will be hurt. I see this. God sees. It will not go well for the teacher, understand?"

This is being allowed. It is painful to see the weighing and measuring process. Erin, you can see that the scales are not proper."

Me: "Lord, this reminds me of the Statue of Justice You prompted me to purchase several years ago from an antique shop. I always think about it when I see it. The statue is missing scales altogether. She is blind though..."

Jesus: Smiling. "Yes, and deaf and dumb also. The land has been given over, but this is soon to end. This end will happen before all come to accept this new order of no order and lawlessness. Do not worry, Erin, as both Israel and the USA are God's possessions. Do not worry. You are seeing separatists dividing the land."

Me: "Okay, Lord. We have no choice but to wait on You. We love You. We are Your Bride. I like being Your Bride. Well, love it."

Jesus: Hugging me. "I have you, Erin. Do not fear what you see or even what you don't see. If I am with you, and I am, then who can be against you?" He reached over and hugged me again. "I have you. Do not worry."

Dream 492 – Our Times for the Measuring of the Wicked Are Ending

Received on Wednesday, June 2, 2021

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for keeping our household safe. Crimes are rising. My daughter has not been able to connect that well with friends here. While she is involved in local ministry, she has become disconnected as the church has become less about Jesus and more about the world and performances. My older son is going through some depression. I have no idea what to do as the majority of their issues are situational. Many people do not want to hire anyone with special needs.

I had a good cry about all of this last night. I thought things would be different by now. However, they are not. Father, the world has changed and I am scared. I am sickened by stories from friends and families and their experiences. Father, racism is on the rise. Anti-Semitism is also on the rise. So is racism against Asians and the elderly. It is difficult to watch these videos of horrific attacks.

Father, it has been almost 9 years since I received these dreams from You. This is the 9th year and we are now nearing summer. Father, we know Your promises are true as You have supernaturally taken care of us through lean times. You have kept us safe during attacks. You have used all of us as measures. I feel in my heart that the things of this world are quickly coming to a close. All things have lost their luster. We are feeling the effects of war, yet we do not see the physical affects... or do we?

My health has never improved. I have become worse. I wished I had done things differently and clung to You more. Now here I am. My children want to go out into this cold world and they are Yours, not mine. However, Father, I pray we have given them the tools they need to navigate the world. I would much rather they go out and begin a new life still in love with You and well equipped than to remain here and stagnate, disillusioned about their faith because of the actions and non-actions of other Christians.

In the end, I just have to give all of our children to You. They are young adults now. Please help me, Father. I have saved up a fountain of tears in the last 12 hours as I have been quite weepy. Please bless our Nest and our friends all over the world. Please protect them and their families from the enemy's advances. Please give my entire family hope and a future where there seems to be none, especially from their vantage point.

Jesus: "Erin, come up."

I heard a knock on my door. I could see it was Jesus. He was smiling at me. I opened the door. I was in tears. He stepped in and hugged me. I wept even as I write.

Jesus: "I am here. I know, I know. Erin, I never said any of this would be easy, I just said I will be with you through it all. You are an Arrow in My Quiver. You are an unconventional Arrow used for My purposes. I know that it is difficult for you to understand your worth to Me. I know it is difficult to explain this to your children.

"With your daughter, I am with her. She has done nothing wrong. She has stood for Me against the enemy and even as a public proclamation. However, the enemy of My people never forgets and he never relents. The technique he uses is a constant chipping away, carving and carving more and more, hoping that, eventually, there will be only a broken life remaining. However, his plan did not work. I have instead made a masterpiece for My purposes and for the Glory of My Father in Heaven.

"The world is not kind to those who are marked by Me. The enemy has coordinates on every single one of My people. Some I carry Home, giving their lives in sacrifice to My Words and promises. They now pray day and night at the Altar of God, at His Throne, as they know the wicked still remain. However, the wickedness is much worse than what you see. Erin, it is much, much worse."

Me: "Oh Lord, please vindicate Your people. Please rise up in us and strengthen us. We love You. Our house stands for the Kingdom of Heaven and Your Throne. You are in our hearts. No matter what we do, we are under attack. Please administer Your divine justice."

Jesus: "Erin, a day unlike any other day is coming. I have not forgotten My promises. They are true. While I know you are downcast, restless and weary, I have plans for all of you... great plans. I have plans for your children. I have plans for your friends and their children. I have plans for your husband. There will be good news soon for all.

"I have not forgotten your daughter. She must remain in Me and I will remain with her in all things. However, her past should now be in her rearview mirror and behind her as something ten times greater is coming. Her wait will be over very soon. She will be lifted up and vindicated. A gift is coming. My reward is with Me and, despite the world, she must keep her eyes on Me.

"Your sons are not forgotten. Their times as a measure for the wicked are ending. They will be healed. The veils will be lifted and they will be changed. I have them. Your prayers for them have been granted some times ago. Now rejoice for answered prayers. I do not forget.

"You are soon to be changed. Yes, changed, with healing, and you will be like your youth, but better. It is coming. I am with you, Erin. I will provide for all of your needs. I will bless those who bless you. I will continue My call. Your life to Me is a piece of art. In you and upon your face, the world will see and experience the Finger of God and the Hands of the Potter."

Me: I began to cry. "Lord, I want to help so many."

Jesus: "You will. You will. I will do this through you and in all things big and small. When you are downcast and unsure though, turn to Me. I will answer immediately. I am here to stay with you." He smiled. "I love You. You are Mine."

Me: "I love You." I reached over and hugged Him. "I need You, Lord!"

Jesus: "That is good!" He smiled and laughed. "I love you too! I love all of you!"

Immediately after this, I was taken back to a dream I had last night...

Sub-dream 1 "The Alarm sounds during a Renovation" begins...

We were completely renovating and remodeling a house. This house was once a great house, but there were now many issues with it. The exterior was old and outdated and the interior of every room had issues and needed repairs. While the contractor was working, the smoke alarms continued to be triggered even though there was no smoke. The alarm was louder on the outside of the home to the neighbors and quieter on the inside to the workers. One day, an evil man walked up to me and Jeff...

Evil man: "Your alarm has ruined my life and my business. If you don't stop this, I will physically stop you."

This man seemed unhinged and looked at us with a great and murderous hate. Just as he left, the alarm sounded again. This time there was actually smoke. A fire was blazing in a small screened porch area. We quickly extinguished it. We then both noticed that the fire had started at the precise moment we allowed the evil man inside.

Me: "Hmm, we will need to be more careful next time."

My husband: "Next time?" He laughed. "There will be no next time. He can never come into our house again."

Me: We were both now laughing together. "Yes, I agree."

As the big change was finishing, we were finally ready for the great reveal. Some of our deceased relatives had come to celebrate with us. The list included my grandma, grandpa and mom, my husband's dad and his cousin, along with others that I recognized. Although they had passed away, this house was on Earth. We had now finished preparing for the party and the big reveal.

Important note on this dream and other past dreams – "Speaking with the dead":

I have been accused in the past of 'consorting with the dead' in some of these dreams. These accusations have always been by fellow Christians, but not once by Nest members. They have accused me even though I have never conjured the dead nor will I ever. This practice is witchcraft and of the devil. Anytime I have conversed with someone that is deceased, it has ALWAYS been in a dream. Just think about it... almost everyone has experienced a dream with someone deceased in it at some point in their life.

I believe this happens and is allowed as part of a reconciliation process that God uses in His great discretion. To say that this is a "huge sin" and that the person should be condemned because of it would be so unjust. After all, who can control what or who appears in their dreams? No one! As for me, and for the specific purposes of these dreams, I asked for and have been assured by the Lord that only He controls my dreams.

Therefore, instead of judging me or others harshly on this, how about appreciating that God's ways are WAYYY above our ways and He will do things as He feels fit. Well, I thank God for that... and so should you!

Dream 493 – Jesus and Victory in the 1967 Six-Day War

Finished on Friday, June 11, 2021

Note: The timing of this dream was from Saturday, June 5, 2021 to Friday, June 11, 2021. This is parallel to the Six-Day War of 1967 when the Jewish people in Israel, against all odds, were victorious against the attackers from three surrounding countries' larger militaries. The war lasted for six days, June 5th to June 10th, with the seventh day, June 11th, the UN brokered ceasefire. This was a miraculous victory of Biblical proportions and well worth studying to see how God gave Jerusalem back to the Jews.

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day! Thank You for Your love and mercy. They are new every morning. Great and mighty is Your faithfulness. I thank You for my husband, my children, my family and my friends. When the world has been so greatly divided and many miles apart, You continue to unite us in unique ways.

I have been so downcast lately. Though I am so discouraged with the world, I continue to hope for Your promised day. So much evil has washed over the land that it makes me sad. However, the one thing we can always count on is that You ALWAYS keep Your Word. Your promises are true. I also know that You are the God of Miracles in this, the final stretch, the final hour.

You are in control of all things. I just pray that restoration and healing over the land is soon to come. I pray for Your miracle revival of all the broken cities and those You call. I pray for Your glory to fall all over the world and out into the nations. Where there is death, poverty and no hope, I pray that You would rise up and breathe new life, abundance and joy into Your people. Father, please don't forget us.

I was recently grieved by a video I saw of a five-year-old child abandoned at the U.S. border with nothing but his stuffed bear. He was taken there by smugglers. There he was left all alone in the dark. He cried out when he realized he was now left all alone. There are so many other similar stories right now. Thank You, Father, that You watch over us in all things, even when it is hard to watch. Thank You for Your love.

These children have been on my heart. They are lonely and afraid. The feeling of abandonment and helplessness must be terrifying. No child should ever feel this way. How many more must be left behind before our 'leaders' see there is a problem? Father, I am so thankful to You for the many times You rescued me as a child and even as an adult. The snares of death envelope me. However, Father, You had different plans. Thank You, Father, that You never abandon us.

I am reminded of the tough times I experienced when I was the head of public relations for a Christian medical relief organization. It was my job to report to the various stakeholders what was happening in the field, along with other things. Some of these stories overwhelmed me with grief. Others outraged me from the stories of corruption, cruelty and complete indifference. I was only there from 1993 to 1994.

One of these stories had been what was happening in Rwanda. Teams there had to continuously give away their medical equipment at checkpoints in order to have access to help those who needed it. By the time they reached the people who had been butchered, the doctors had very little to work with. They were able to reach us using satellite phones that they kept hidden. It was heartbreaking for these doctors.

We also sent teams to Romania. This was just as bad as it involved abandoned babies. They were left alone and starving. Calls for adoption were made from all over the world. Since it shed a poor light on their government, the Romanians blocked the help and squelched the coverage.

During the very same point of time, we had teams in Mexico helping families in the cities who were literally living in garbage dumps. However, when they heard of the Romanian babies, they even wanted to adopt them, saying 'it is better to live in garbage and have love and care than to live in garbage with no love and care'.

Father, there are millions of children and even adults who have been abandoned by circumstances. Their hearts are broken. They have been shattered. You are close to the broken hearted. Please, Father, do not forget them. Rise up and send miracles to those who have no hope. Please send miracles to those who are lonely and helpless.

Today is an interesting day in history. It is the anniversary of the beginning of the Six-Day War in Israel on June 5, 1967 on the Gregorian calendar. The Jewish people were victorious despite an overwhelming opposition. The victory required miracle after miracle from God. While these miracles were recorded, they are now hard to find. Israel is now made to seem the aggressor. There is such corruption in the media.

Later on, I discovered something that put a smile on my face. It was an incredible Cecropia Moth with a wingspan of about seven inches. This is from the incredible category of moths known as silk moths. I was encouraged as these types of moths represent a message of transformation and changes coming. After showing my husband, and as we watched, this beautiful moth flew off.

Dear Father,

I got up early this morning and went outside to see if there were any more silk moths. When I rounded a corner, I could not believe what I saw. I went back inside to find my camera. I had just found an incredible Luna Moth 'hanging out' with about 50 smaller Rosy Maple Moths, all of them silk moths. What a beautiful and fascinating site. I would later find out that the Rosy Maple Moths are the smallest of the silk moths.

I had never seen anything like this before. While I have never been a real fan of some of the moths, I definitely make an exception for silk moths. I have always favored butterflies, their day-time compatriots. However, these silk moths are definitely rivals in beauty to their 'famous cousins'. Think of it a different way. Even though moths are night creatures, they still seek light in the darkness.

I have a huge smile on my face as I REALLY think of the wonder of God. How such beauty can come from one small creature is amazing. However, the lifespan and the stages of their journeys are extremely difficult. At each stage of their lives, the danger is great and the odds of survival are limited. They have many predators. Sadly, once these large moths emerge from their cocoon, they only have a week or two to mate.

Father, my dreams lately have been unusual, but I know that they mean something greater than what is on the surface. You know the future, so I also believe that many things that make little sense now will make a ton of sense later. Case in point, I just had two separate dreams about three brown wrapped packages...

Sub-dream 1 "Two 12 x 12 AND one 6 x 24" begins...

I received a delivery of three brown wrapped packages on my doorstep via UPS. Two of the packages were exactly 12" x 12" and the other was a 6" x 24" rectangle. No sender was listed. I signed for them and set them down.

Sub-dream 1 over.

Sub-dream 2 "Putin, the Three Packages and an Angel" begins...

I saw a world leader, Putin. He had a confident grin. I saw him wrapping the exact same sized packages as the above sub-dream. He was in the middle of a town square made of stone pavers and surrounded by old buildings. After he was finished wrapping, a courier came to pick them up. Shortly after the pickup, he turned to walk out of the town square. Suddenly, an angel of God appeared to him. He looked terrified.

Sub-dream 2 over.

I then had a terrifying dream...

Sub-dream 3 "A Tormented Woman / Demon" begins...

I saw a tormented woman who hated God's people and desired their destruction. She wandered the land in northern territories. She wandered mostly at night. She was frightening. Her skin was very white and her hair was a dark red. She summoned other demons to prey on innocent souls. While I won't go into details so as to give the fear of her any strength, I did see a demon command others to go out to kill. They were to kill mainly babies and young children in order to anger God and cause fear.

Sub-dream 3 over.

Father, this looked like a type of 'Lilith Demon'. It was quite scary. This reminded me of a dream I had several weeks ago that I had not written down until now...

Sub-dream 4 "The Ground War Begins" begins...

I heard a demonic army coming down a massive highway. I then heard an intercom announcing "The Ground War Begins!"

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day! Thank You for Your grace and mercy. Thank You that You love us so much that You use troubles to guide us gently back to the heart of who You are and Your great purpose for us.

I have been struggling the last few weeks. Historically, it seems that May and June have been months of dross. This is the metalsmith's process of skimming the impure materials from the rest of the batch of molten metals. The dross is what comes to the surface. There is also another good term for where I have been personally. That is the term 'in the dregs'.

Well, I have recently watched the most useless parts of me resurface, parts I thought were long buried. This is coming from the dregs. The dregs are the stuff that remains heaviest and settles at the bottom. Dross is top impurities and dreg is bottom impurities. Well, it is humbling to realize my refining furnace of affliction needed to be turned up a notch on me. All I can say, Father, is that I am sorry!

It all started when I was around a neighbor. He had approached me and began to brag and boast. Some of our siding on our house was being repaired and he seemed judgmental that it was in the state it was. Well, here is where it started. 1 Corinthians 15:33: "Do not be misled. Bad company corrupts good character." I just knew that he was looking upon our place with a haughty eye.

I then proceeded to speak about my past projects, the value of the homes I had done, the vast prestige of traveling for these clients and my length of time as a licensed contractor, as well as my education. It was totally and completely arrogant and unnecessary on my part. While he seemed impressed, he then said something that made me mad again.

Man: "Hmm, you must be so busy that you can't get to your own projects. Well, you are feeding the squirrels. I guess to each their own."

Me: "I am retired now."

While he had nodded his head in agreement when I had spoken of my accomplishments and other 'bragging' things, his demeanor showed me that he was still skeptical and didn't quite believe me. Just then, a large truck rounded the corner. It was towing a trailer with a massive pontoon boat.

Man: "Well, there it is...my boat. I just bought it. Because I paid cash, I got a great deal."

Me: I decided that I had enough. "Well, we will see you around then."

Sadly, this then opened the door to future 'running of the mouth'. Other opportunities presented themselves with different people, but in similar ways, and I kept up the bragging and exaggerations. I even caught myself doing it. I hadn't done this in years. I was feeling a need to defend the appearance of our troubled situation. I also stated and declared things I had no intentions of doing nor could I do.

After doing this a few times, I finally talked to my husband about it. I was mad at myself. With my husband's company, I prayed for forgiveness and asked for grace and mercy. This was on Wednesday night, the night before I hurt my foot on Thursday morning. Later on, I recognized signs that we were now under heavy spiritual attack. One of my biggest signs was a 2-inch fish spider that I killed, but only after a few attempts. I then realized how far down my sin had taken me...

- Anxiety: I was not feeling peace. I was no longer fully trusting God for the outcome.
- Boastfulness: I did not feel I was measuring up to others. I was using boasting to elevate me to what I perceived as the other's level.
- Envy: Coveting someone else's life or goods. Not being satisfied with what God has provided for us.
- Exaggerating: I was exaggerating and embellishing my lot in life to elevate myself above where I actually was. I still can't believe I went back to this...sigh.

With my husband by my side, I confessed to all of it to God. I repented. We prayed together for me to be forgiven. We went to bed and I had a good sleep. The next morning, I woke up about an hour after dawn. I gathered seeds and nuts and proceeded outside. My number one goal was to get my chores finished so I could go to God for another dream.

Well, God and / or the enemy... again, a mystery to me as to exactly how this works... had other plans. My foot clipped an area on our steps that was highlighted to me by the Holy Spirit just a while back that needed repair. This was not a huge repair, just putting some rubber pieces back into place, something we have done several times.

I then tripped and fell forward, seeds flying. My left foot buckled under my body. My chest met the gravel. Ouch!!! I could not move at first. I grabbed a birch stick that was next to me and used this to get back up on my feet. My left foot wasn't right. I could not move my toes. I used my heel to walk. Two red squirrels just looked at me as if they were wondering if I was okay.

I called for my husband and we immediately made the decision to go to the Emergency Room. I had to be there alone as you are not allowed to have anyone with you due to Covid restrictions. I was feeling very sorry for myself as my wait seemed to be so long. Just then, a man walked in. He was using crutches and was missing an entire leg.

Me: Silently in prayer. "Okay, Father, I get it. I am sorry. I will rely on You. I will not be afraid. I will be thankful for my legs and feet."

Immediately after praying this, a physician's assistant came for me and took me to X-Ray. Later on, a different specialist came to talk to me about what they had found. While it still needs to be seen by a radiologist, he said that it seemed pretty good, but there were a couple of trouble spots. I was then told that, if there were any fractures, I would be called next week.

Well, I was now in an incredible amount of pain. Since I am allergic to most pain killers, my options were limited. I decided to forgo medication and rely on God. Thank You God, the pain has been lessening every day. I was then given a boot to wear. This is also a God send as it has a neat air pump option that relieves pain. I also bought a cane. Father, I am sorry! I need to trust You more and in all things.

Jesus: "Erin, come up."

I heard a knock at the front door. It was the Lord. He was smiling. I hobbled over to see Him. He hugged me. I was instantly healed and changed.

Me: "Thank You, Lord! I am sorry for everything. What is wrong with me?"

Jesus: "Trust. You are lacking trust in My promises. You worry about many things. You worry about provision, food, problems with your lighting, water leakages, bug invasions, clutter and dust. You worry about your children's futures. You worry about Zoey's health. You worry about whether your children will get back home safely. You worry if your husband will find work. Should I continue?"

Me: "No, Lord. When You say all of this out loud, I become even less of a fan of my recent poor behavior."

Jesus: He laughed as He reached over to hug me. "Come, Erin, follow Me."

He reached for my hand and led me to our yard area with all of the birds. I could see a male and female yellow finch playing in our birdbath.

Jesus: "Look how beautiful they are. Then look at these."

He lifted His hand and two hummingbirds came to rest on His hand.

Jesus: "Have you ever looked carefully at their feathers. They are iridescent like jewels. All these colors too. Then look at these."

Two Downy Woodpeckers came over to His right hand.

Jesus: "Look at them. How is this possible?" He laughed as He gently nudged me. "While I can tell you, you must be ready to receive this. These birds are stunning. Look at their feathers. They are beautiful. So, do you think they are worrying? After all, how do they even know where to find food?"

Me: Laughing. "No, Lord, they are not worrying. Yes, Lord, they always find food."

Jesus: "Okay, so what is happening then?"

Me: "I am worried even though I know I shouldn't be. Lord, I am sorry. You answer me and tell me that You have this. Then why do I continue to worry? Well, with my foot injured, at least I will have more time to be in Your Word to reflect."

Jesus: "Oh Erin, do you really think I am here with you today to punish you for your sin? Erin, you repented and I forgave you. This is Good News!" He smiled. "Beautiful are the feet who bring Good News."

Me: "Even when I am hobbling?"

Jesus: Laughing. "Yes, Erin. However, when I send you signs that spiritual warfare is all around you, please heed this warning. You are in dangerous times and the enemy is prowling all around you. If the enemy had his way, millions would be put to death. He wants the murder of every person who resists his plans."

Me: "This is why I am so anxious. I see what is happening. All of this is so troubling."

Jesus: "Yes, Erin, it is troubling. However, I see it all. God sees it all. Nothing is hidden from My sight."

Me: "Lord, please don't allow the USA to surrender to this hostile regime."

Jesus: "While the crown was stolen from My elected ruler, this was allowed. You must understand the seriousness of the hour. There is a very angry leader that continues to rule from a distance. This leader spreads hatred. He works to divide the land. Instead of doing this geographically or by class, it is done by skin color. He is angry and longs to rise back to power.

"This leader operates in all of the negative of the fruits of the spirit. While these are on full display to the discerning, they are not visible to those who are veiled by their own sins. No one noticed that this leader made several key moves to line up his future support just before he stepped down. He travelled to the southern countries for diplomatic matters. Once there, he worked behind the scenes. He even sent money for increased influence. There is a rise to power from the southeast against My people."

Me: "Who is this, Lord?"

Jesus: "Just look to where the storm clouds gather. The red dragon and the black dragon have both purchased land surrounding the areas. The plan is to send military up from the south and through the northwest. The land is being divided because of its corruption and great sins. As the USA's enemies now see the USA as an easy target for takeover, they are building up in areas surrounding it."

Me: "Lord, please stop this and heal the land instead. Please! What about the Great Revival? The people are already so defeated. Is there anything Your people can do? Perhaps an Esther fast? Please help us, Lord."

Jesus: "Do you trust Me?"

Me: "Yes, Lord."

Jesus: "Then let Me be God over all things. Great judgments have come across the land. You can map the course of the enemy by his movements. This also means new decrees."

Me: "Do you mean decrees like the one declared by the leader that his people can now have three children per family instead of only one?"

Jesus: "Yes, that is a good example. Erin, why would this leader allow an increase in their population if he didn't know there would be new lands for them to live in? However, you must remember that God sees the plots of the wicked against the people of God and will not allow this to work. This is important."

Me: "But, Lord, in history, when a nation, the nation of Israel, turned away from Your Laws, You allowed the invading armies to divide the land in half."

Jesus: "This is happening now, Erin. The enemy is in the midst of the land. He is trying to destabilize the land so that he can rise up as ruler again just in time to become the hero. Unfortunately for him..." He nudged me as He smiled. "...I am still God over all and My Father still sits on the Throne. Erin, do not be discouraged by these events that you have seen unfold."

"Remember that, just as the fig tree begins to bare fruit, you know that summer is near. The Son of Man is also near, understand? Erin, there are enemies... ten to be exact... working together to overthrow the USA and Israel. Both are Promised Lands. One is to the Jews and the other to the Gentiles and the Jews."

Me: "Is Israel the 'New Judah'? Is the USA the 'New Israel'? Is this analogous to the ancient dual kingdoms of ancient Judah and Israel? Are the 'Gentiles and the Jews' You are referring to 'the Israelites'?"

Jesus: Smiling. "For now, these questions will remain mysteries. Now, you must also look to what God would find an abomination. See what you find here. As you are already quite aware from the time of your childhood, I bring signs and confirmations in due season. Much of what has occurred has been allowed by God. Erin, 'Babylon is falling' and many have no understanding of what this is."

Me: "Well, Lord, I also do not know for sure."

Jesus: "Agreed. However, you will soon have great understanding as your wisdom will be increased. My people perish for lack of knowledge. However, soon... very soon... My healing will come across the land in wave after wave. Only the wicked will wear masks. As they flee to the hills, they will stumble and fall because of a lack of oxygen. They will run like fools in bad clothing, men as women and women as men. They will carry their offenses with them as they will be fully exposed. Do not worry, Erin, as My promises are true. I see everything. My scales of justice are always with Me."

Me: "Thank You, Lord. It is hard to see such evil and know that good people are without words other than Your Words, the Bible, and prayers to You."

Jesus: "Good, Erin. This is all that is needed. In the meantime, I am in the midst of you. I have not forgotten you." He smiled. "Erin, as I care for all of these little ones around you, so too shall I care for you. How much more do you mean to Me than one of these, yet I know when just one falls? Please take comfort in this. I will help you from My Sanctuary. I will. Erin, I care for you, your husband and your children, as well as for your family and friends. My recompense is with Me. You are greatly loved." He smiled. "Beautiful are your feet as they bring Good News."

Me: Laughing. "I think You mean my 'foot'?"

Jesus: "No. Feet. Both feet. Now rejoice and celebrate the Great Victory I am soon to bring! I love you." He reached over and hugged me.

Dream 494 – The Seven Things that God delights in

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You! Thank You for another day. Thank You for Your love and great mercy. Thank You for not sending great calamity to destroy the world just yet. My dream...

Sub-dream 1 "The Lofty Bride & the Lowly Bride" begins...

I saw a lofty room and a lowly room. They were both chambers.

In the lofty chamber, there was a wealthy and privileged bride...

The lofty room had originally been dedicated to God for His Glory. She had beautiful things. Her chamber was stunning. The windows surrounded the room 360 degrees so that she could be visible from sea to sea. The windows allowed all to view her in her splendor. She even set up cameras in order that her chamber had a wider audience with a farther reach.

She had extensive lists and her family and friends ordered all of the best things for her. This was all for her great wedding day. She ordered special flowering vines that trailed up to her lofty chamber. She had the best caterers bringing her the very best of foods. She sent in designers from Europe to create a special gown for the ceremony, as well as creating gowns for the parties.

She flew in the best wine makers to produce her wine, wine from the finest of grapes of France and California. Her luxuries extended to the far reaches. There was a great call for silk to adorn her walls. There was a great call for the finest of carpets to cushion her feet. All who looked upon her loved and admired her. There was no bride more lovely than she.

Because all who gazed upon her loved her, she sent gifts and money to them. As a result, there was no end to their praise for the lofty bride. However, the more gifts she sent out, the more she lost. Overtime, she became bored. Those who were viewing her were also becoming bored.

As a result of this boredom, she decided to change things up a bit while she waited.

She built a backdoor in her chambers where lovers could come and go undetected, even by those who were watchful. She even paid for others to take advantage of her. She was now prostituting herself, but paying her 'lovers'. She then decided to put her actions on full display. She then brought in various lovers who worshipped other Gods from many different religions.

She brought in both male and females, as well as goats, and fornicated with them in full display. Because her gown was now soiled from her many escapades, she cut the back and front open 'to provide a better view'. The bride was now losing a vast amount of her fortune. She was becoming angry and needed to find other solutions as she was now pregnant with many children.

Because she hated all of her children, she hired an expert to help her get rid of them. She then made a declaration of freedom and choice so she could wash her hands of guilt. Whenever she gave birth, she threw the children to their deaths. She ordered the same to be allowed for anyone else in the land that hated their children. As time went by, the lands who viewed her actions followed suit as they loved the harlot bride.

While the harlot enjoyed her freedom, her proclivities became unsightly to many. As a result, she ordered some of the windows to be covered. These covered windows would then only be available to those who kept her lewd secrets. In the meantime, she said horrible things about her Bridegroom. She did this because her Groom now refused to marry her. She spewed foul things out of her mouth. She raised her fists towards God. She shook her fists in fury against her Groom.

In the lowly chamber, there was a patient Bride...

She had come through great difficulties for the privilege of having the label of Bride. While she was not a blemish-free Bride according to the world, she was 100% devoted to her coming Groom. Her bridal chamber had four windows, one to the north, one to the east, one to the west and one to the south. These were small modest windows as the Bride only desired them in order to look out and find her approaching Groom.

At times during her wait, she wondered if she was worthy. Realizing she was not, she would pray. Her Groom would then send notes of encouragement, gifts and signs so that she would be confident that His love for her was true and that her long wait would soon produce a wonderful marriage with the lover of her heart, the Groom.

While she waited, she heard rumors about the lofty bride and wondered if the Groom might find her more pleasing or if He would give His hand to another. The Bride would then sometimes weep as horrible lies were being said of her and her Groom. Despite this, she still waited. She kept her lamps burning with fresh oil and her garments of praise and joy for the Groom continued to adorn her.

However, time was now her enemy as she was losing her youth. She wondered if her Groom would even find her desirable anymore. She then received couriered packages explaining that her Groom also grew older and was aging with her. He also explained that He still loves her unconditionally and He would soon come to collect her. She then took comfort in His love and remained faithful to His promises for her.

This Bride had nothing that the world would desire. She was too boring. The world reminded her of her unworthiness and history. They told her the Groom would never want her. The Bride's garments and chamber were just too simple. Her sheets were not soiled and no foreigner had soiled her threshold. She kept her chamber clean instead. She was not idle while waiting. Her heart was His and His heart was hers.

Sub-dream 1 over...

Father, this was a very clear and detailed dream. There are things that I saw that I cannot write about as it literally makes me physically ill. You are my Father, the God of signs and wonders. Please, Father, send help soon. I believe that there is no accident that a man was swallowed by a whale on Friday, June 11, 2021. This happened at the very spot the pilgrims arrived, Provincetown in Massachusetts.

June 11, 2021 is exactly 400 years and 7 months from the pilgrim's date of November 11, 1620. The pilgrims signed the New Land Pact. The pilgrims dedicated all of the land to God for His purposes. To have this happen on such an exact date lapse and in such a perfect location, I cannot help but feel that this may be 'the sign of Jonah' mysteriously talked about by Jesus in Matthew 12...

Matthew 12:38-40a: 38 Then some of the scribes and Pharisees answered Him, saying, "Teacher, we wish to see a sign from You." 39 But He answered them, "An evil and adulterous generation seeks for a sign, but no sign will be given to it except the sign of the prophet Jonah. 40 For just as Jonah was three days and three nights in the belly of the great fish..."

Well, this man was swallowed and then spit out mostly unharmed on the morning of June 11th. Three days after this is the morning of June 14th.

Father, what is happening? If something does happen tomorrow, could it be something really awesome, perhaps even as a type of birthday present for President Trump's 75th birthday (he was born on June 14, 1946)? Surely there are even more signs? Father, please help us!!

Jesus: "Erin, come up."

I heard a knock on my front door. It was Raphael. He looked so much like Uriel that I had almost mistaken him. He was smiling. I opened the door.

Raphael: "Erin, please come with me."

I walked out to where he was. He walked with me to the stream. The bridge appeared.

Raphael: "Wait here."

He walked across the bridge. I looked carefully and saw that he was talking with Uriel. He walked back to the middle of the bridge and motioned for me to follow him. As I walked with him, we stepped through a clear membrane wall-like water. I could still see my rickety yard when I then looked back, but we were now across. Uriel was smiling too, but he had a much more serious look on his face than Raphael.

Uriel: "Hi, Erin. It is good to see you. God requests your presence."

Raphael: "Don't worry, Erin, Uriel won't bite." They both laughed. "I will be here when you come back." He smiled.

Uriel: "You are acting like..." He stopped himself and shook his head.

Raphael: "Yes, brother?"

He smiled and crossed his arms. They were clearly joking with each other.

Uriel: "Come, Erin, you will be safe with me."

Raphael: Laughing. "Touché, that was good!"

Uriel: Smiling at me. "Raphael is our comic relief."

He reached down and took my hand. We were instantly at God's door. Tears were now running down my cheeks.

Uriel: “Erin, you look worried, but don’t be. You are not coming to the Judgment Throne.” He smiled. “Do not be afraid as God delights in you. Rest in this.”

He reached over and gently put salve in my eyes.

Me: “Uriel, why can’t I just wear sunglasses?”

Uriel: “Nothing invented by man can match God’s glory or shield your eyes from blindness... yes, even in a dream or vision. This is how powerful God’s glory is. This is why you are unable to physically draw closer to Him. Even though it feels as if you are close, you are still very far away. For now, let’s go with God’s version of a heavenly sunshield, a glory veil.”

Me: “I really enjoyed your interaction with Raphael.”

Uriel: Smiling. “Yes, and I smile too. I am not going to let my brother out humor me.”

Me: “You are funny too.”

Uriel: “Before the great fall, all of us were so close. We had such great joy and laughter amongst us. For those who remain, we all serve God and do all things to His glory, not to our own benefit.”

Me: “You are good, Uriel. Thank you for serving God and protecting His people.”

Uriel: “Go to God with thanks that He has called angels concerning you to guard you in all you do. Never go to angels to thank them, only to God. If you ever encounter one of the fallen, they will gladly accept your praise and continuously enjoy your worship, never giving the glory to God. Remember that, when God calls you into His full service, this is a good test to remember.

“You must remember that those who fell and those with them have some knowledge of the things of Heaven. This is because they once were here. With this knowledge, they will work to deceive by disguising themselves as being sent by God as messengers. Many false religions began like this. Now, God requests your presence.”

He finished putting a salve in my eyes and took me into God’s Throne Room.

Choir of angels: “Holy, Holy, Holy is the Lord God Almighty, Who was and is to come. You are worthy, our Lord and God, to receive glory and honor and power, for You created all things and, by Your Will, they were created and have their being.”

Something unusual then happened. Not only did I see the choir of angels, but also what looked to be a massive crowd of saints at His Altar singing. I have no words and I could not see who they were or what they were doing other than I had never seen them before. While this song was as beautiful as ever, something was different here...

The song had sorrow attached to it, along with a sense of urgency. This really should not make sense as God does all things in His time, but it just did. Again, Heaven is never anxious or full of sorrow, but is joyful, but yet this still fits in here perfectly. While I would like to describe more on how this ‘square peg was able to fit in a round hole’, it just did! While not normally associated with Heaven, this was meant to fit.

As we neared the Throne, although still extremely far away, my legs began to buckle. Uriel helped to bring me where I was supposed to kneel. I bowed my head before God and prayed. I apologized for not being patient. I apologized for allowing the world in at times. I diminished in His great presence. My entire body fully surrendered. Tears began to flow and I could no longer stop them from doing so.

God: “Erin, I AM! Please speak.”

Me: “Father, I have...” I began to stutter. After a few seconds, He strengthened me. “I love You! Let Your Will be done on Earth as it is in Heaven. My Father, here in Heaven, great and mighty is Your Name. Please let Your Kingdom come, let Your Will be done, on Earth as it is in Heaven. Please continue to grant our daily bread and please forgive us our trespasses as we forgive those who trespass against us. Please lead us not to be tempted by evil, but deliver us from the evil one. For thine is Your power and glory, forever and ever and ever.”

God: “I accept your prayers. I have not forgotten you nor have I left you in the land of the harlot. As this is My land, it is now defiled before Me. All perversions and wickedness are an abomination to Me. I see all things and I am God over all things.”

Me: “Father, please have mercy on Your people. There are people out here who still love You. However, the evil is now making their hearts’ sick. Please send help and strengthen us soon.”

God: "I will do this at the appointed time. I do not delight in calamity nor do I participate in destruction. Now, you must understand that the harlot of America will be broken. Out of compassion, I will hear her cries and send help. However, she will not like the manner in which I will send help as it will cause her to recognize the stains on her garments. She will want to run and hide.

"Still, I will send healing across the land. I will pour out fresh oil and cool rain. I will restore the lands, but only for a short series of seasons. In mercy, those who recognize who I send as Mine and that the Hand of God, My Hand, is upon them, will turn from their ways and be healed. There will be great joy... on Earth as in Heaven."

Me: "Thank You, Father."

God: "Dedicate this land as Beulah. This will be a covenant between Me and those redeemed of the land. It will be the promise of good things to come here with Me. The things of the Earth will soon fade away. However, My love and mercy will never fade as it is new every day."

Me: "Oh God, how Great is Your Faithfulness!!"

God laughed. His laughter shook the Throne Room and the Courts of Heaven. While this should be frightening as it is so booming, it is actually unexplainably comforting.

God: "I delight in you. Although you do not see your worth, your heart is ever before Me. You will therefore always be remembered. Remain as you are. Now, here are the seven things I delight in..."

- 1st, a pure heart: I do not demand a perfect heart, but one that is growing with the seed of the fear of God and righteousness.
- 2nd, peace: Erin, your name means peace. This means that strife is far from your intentions.
- 3rd, forbearance and kindness: You are gentle and remove yourself from quarrels with others. You understand, through wisdom, the troubles of your brother and are kind to him.
- 4th, mercy and forgiveness: With your mantle as peace, you are able to act in the full measure of mercy and forgiveness towards others.
- 5th, allowing divine correction: You have a willingness to allow for divine correction. You recognize your faults and work to change them. You are always yielding to My Words of truth. Wisdom is proved right by her actions.
- 6th, unchanging in My truth: You remain unchanging when operating in My truth and promises. You recognize and pray on My promises. Being unmovable on My principles means you will be strong, unmovable and not double minded.

- 7th, opposite of the harlot: You will be the opposite of the harlot in all things.

Me: "Father, I am sorry for my lack."

God: "Stand up, Erin."

I stood up on my feet. I knew that this was only possible because God was making this possible. My legs were still shaky though.

Me: "Yes, Father?"

God: "I delight in you. I do not delight in harlots. Your heart is therefore good and you will bear good fruits in My Name. I have never forgotten the promises I have made to you. The saints before Me now plead and petition before My Throne day and night with steadfast resolve. They will continue to do so until the day I vindicate them.

"Now, rejoice, Erin, as your mantle is peace. Your heart is of pure gold. You go forth in victory, meekness and righteousness. I have made your arrows sharp. You hate wickedness and love God. I will therefore pour out the oil of gladness over you. Your joy will then be complete within your chamber as you are taken to the palaces of kings."

Me: "Father, You are my King."

God: "Yes. Very good. Pray for wisdom as you will have more understanding of what I have spoken."

Uriel reached for my arm in order to guide me towards God's door.

Me: Looking back. "I love You, Father."

God: "And I love you, Erin, My daughter of peace."

Uriel brought me out of the Throne Room.

Uriel: "I will take you to the bridge."

We were instantly back at the bridge. Raphael was there to greet us.

Me: "I hope I remember everything."

Uriel: "You will. Do you have any questions?"

Me: "Many. Always. Was He describing His Bride?"

Uriel: Looking at Raphael and then back at me. "Yes, He is describing the Bride of the Groom. While you are to remember that God is the Father, you are also to remember that your Groom is also God."

Me: Smiling. "The Father, the Son and the Holy Spirit!"

Raphael: "The Bride is a woman of noble character. As for the Great Separation, this is happening right now. Erin, right now is the Great Separation."

Me: "I just had a dream of a bride in a lofty chamber and a Bride in a lowly chamber. What are we to make of this dream?"

Uriel: "This was a dream of what is currently happening in the land. The land is being judged. God has now sent out judgment."

Raphael: "There is turmoil. There is no peace. He is soon to send out peace, hope and healing. Heaven will soon be visible on Earth."

Uriel: "God has called His angel army to protect those He has called and to let the evil be exposed."

Raphael: "In other words, we are in a holding pattern while the field becomes ripe."

Me: "I think I understand."

Uriel: "Erin, all whom God has called now have an idea of who they are. However, all are remaining steadfast and silent. There is doubt because all of this seems like fantasy. Still, their spirits, via the Holy Spirit from God's Throne, tells them that this is actually the truth."

Raphael: "Yes, Erin, do not worry or be afraid. Remain steadfast and look to the hills. This is where your help comes from."

Uriel: "This is an expression." He smiled at me. "Look to God, not to men, understand?"

Me: Smiling. "Of course!"

Uriel: "I must go." He then whispered something inaudible to Raphael. They both then looked back at me. They were both smiling.

Raphael: “Yes, we must both go. Erin, God delights in you. He has clothed you in garments and jewels. The Lord God will cause righteousness and praise to sprout up before all of the nations. The land will have peace before them. The wicked will retreat and Heaven will rejoice. We must go. Be strong, courageous and joyful.”

They both smiled at me as I waved goodbye to them. In an instant, they were gone and I was back inside our home.

Dream over.

Dream 495 – Rejoice as the drought is now over

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day! Thank You for Your love and grace. Thank You for Your gentle rebuke whenever I veer off Your path for me. It is a sweet discipline from You. On that note, my foot is still quite sore. The atmospheric weather changes have kicked my pain up several notches. You have allowed this because I wasn't slowing down. I was traveling beyond the parameters You had set out for me.

Sub-dream 1 "My very first open vision I ever had" begins...

I was on a high-speed motorcycle weaving in and out of traffic. I was travelling over 80 miles per hour in a 25 miles per hour zone. It was in the quiet small suburban Portland town of Multnomah. While driving the wrong way on a one-way street, I finally took a sharp turn and exited off. I was traveling way to fast and went off the side. Unfortunately, the edge of the road was gravel, sure trouble for a motorcycle.

I turned quickly to avoid the edge and clipped a tree branch enroute to an impossibly steep decline in the road. I was driving out of control and I knew that I had a high chance of crashing. I looked up and saw the Mountain of God. It was a strong and mighty mountain. My thoughts now turned to preparing myself for meeting Jesus. I was still going at a breakneck speed.

Suddenly, my motorcycle flipped up from behind me as if it was the hand of God grabbing my back tire and flinging it upward. Next thing I know my face was about to meet the pavement. Just before I hit, I was taken up to the Mountain of God. When I looked down at myself, I saw that I was in designer pajamas. The dream continued, but this is all I will write here as I have written this already elsewhere.

Sub-dream 1 over...

I have a fear of displeasing God. I fear idleness while I wait. God has allowed my disabilities and injuries so I could find my rest and comfort in Him, not the things of this world. Father, You care for me and love me so much that You decide what is best for me. Almost all of the things of this world are now things I no longer want to do. While I could name them, the list would be too long. It is a sad commentary.

This is the reason that I do not participate in social media platforms. I no longer require praise from man. I occasionally visit Facebook, but I always regret it instantly. While I know that most of the posts there are overly optimistic and exaggerated, it still hurts. In comparison, I feel like I am not really succeeding at much right now. I am hitting barrier after barrier. I am dieting, but not seeing any real breakthrough.

Father, it is getting harder and harder and harder (and harder and harder for us to patiently wait for Your Great Move! It takes effort not to fall into sins like gluttony, self-loathing, pride and idleness (Ezekiel 16:46-49). These things then lead us into even worse sins. A lot of temptation and sin can come from the seat of a chair or the pillow from a bed. I now know that we are not to stop living while waiting for You, God.

Father, we must do all things for Your Glory. We must take care of all that we are given. If You can trust us in the small things, You will give us more. If we are unable to take care of the small things, You keep us where we are. Even if we plan and toil and toil and plan, all of this is in vain without Your blessings.

Father, one of the most heartbreaking stories in the Bible is the beginning of David's relationship with Bathsheba. It happened late one afternoon when David arose from his couch. He was walking on the roof of the house when he saw a beautiful woman bathing. The start of it all revolved around three sins...

- Idleness: David decided to lay on his couch instead of going to battle.
- Boredom: David decided to go to his roof to look over his kingdom.
- Lust: David saw Bathsheba and decided to take her for himself

God then sent Nathan to rebuke David. David then was told he would lose the baby that was now growing within Bathsheba. Despite David's lurid adultery and the later murder of Uriah, God still allowed him to have another son, a son named Solomon. As God also promised though, David's house was never far removed from the sword.

However, let us back up to see where it all started. It was idleness that was the gateway to trouble for David. Think about what Covid 19 has caused. It has basically caused idleness to consume the world. This idleness is not good for the country nor its people. There is a long list of things being caused by this idleness: Depression, crimes, death, injury, rape, theft, arson, racism... well, the list goes on and on.

In the meantime, fear keeps Your people silent. Churches have been greatly affected by the lack of attendance, mostly due to having to keep up with strict Covid-19 limitations just for them. While corrupt politicians think nothing of releasing hardened criminals back onto the streets, people are required to be meticulously documented if they come and go from a church. There is so much more to this and it is so depressing.

Father, I am sorry. Please protect our home. Please do not let our hands be idle. Please don't let our vessels become rusty or filled with dregs. I repent. My whole household repents. We have decided to serve You, Father. As for me and my house, we will serve the Lord. I had a dream two nights ago...

Sub-dream 2 "The three evil airline agents rob me" begins...

I was standing at a ticket counter in an airport. There were three agents standing there in front of me. They were all professional and friendly. They gave me a luggage tag for my bag. I then turned to put the tag onto my luggage. I took at most ten seconds to do this. When I turned back, my purse with my passport and ticket on top were gone.

I immediately knew that the three agents had stolen everything I needed to travel. I panicked. I asked them to return my items. I began to cry. One of the agents reached down behind the counter and gave me back my ticket, but nothing else.

Me: "Why did you take it?"

Agent 1: "We didn't take anything."

Me: "But that is my ticket you just gave me back."

While I then tried to go around to the other side of the counter to get my purse and passport back, one of the agents blocked me from doing this.

Agent 2: "We will call the authorities. You will go to jail."

Me: "Go ahead and call the police. You stole my purse, passport and ticket."

Agent 3: “No, you have your ticket. Besides, the limit is $1,500 for this to be a crime. Your purse and passport are worth less than $1,500.”

Me: “No, it is worth far more than $1,500. It will definitely be a felony for all three of you.” For a moment, I saw concern in their eyes.

Agent 2: “Well, you go ahead and find the authorities. We will wait for you here.”

It finally hit me that there was no way I was getting my purse back.

Sub-dream 2 over...

Sub-dream 3: Short and sweet dream last night... Quite simply, I was shopping for a tree for our yard.

Jesus: “Erin, come up.”

I heard a knock at our door. It was Raphael. He was smiling. I opened the door.

Raphael: “Hmm, someone’s been dreaming. Come, let’s check the water.”

It was cloudy and rainy today. We walked over to the stream. Even though the water was clear, it was still stagnant. Raphael reached down and swirled the water. After just a short while of doing this, the water was no longer stagnant.

Me: “Wow, that is amazing. You are God’s plumber.”

Raphael: Smiling. “Well, not exactly. God has called me to keep this water clean, so that is what I do. Now, you have questions concerning the dream of your stolen purse, passport and ticket, where the ticket was later returned. God has sent me to help clarify this dream for you...”

“You are free to come and go as God has given you a ticket to fly your course. This comes with an itinerary of places to go and things to do on behalf of the Kingdom of God and His Righteousness. While your freedom to physically move freely was taken away from you momentarily, God immediately gave this back to you.

“The three agents in front of you were all great enemies. They waited until you were tagging your bags to then try to remove your purpose under God. They distracted you with the common task of putting identification on your bags. You were tagging your garments so that they would follow you to your destination.

"They could not steal what you were wearing. This represents your garment of salvation. They were not allowed to steal your ticket. This represents your mark by God designating you to be in His service. Your enemies instead tried to steal your provision from God. They also tried to steal your documents. They wanted to give these to others that didn't deserve them."

Me: "Oh no, Raphael, what should I do?"

Raphael: "Do not worry, Erin, as all that you have is God's. He has given this to you. He sends dreams as warnings so that you can pray against these attacks." He smiled as he gently nudged me. "I am here today to hand this back to you." He handed me a much larger purse than what was in my dream. "In this purse are your promises from God, as well as His provision for you. Now, do not worry."

Me: "How did this purse even get here?"

Raphael: "No need to question. Just know that God has you. No hand of man will succeed against God or those He has sent concerning you to guard you in all that you do. As for the three evil agents, they each represented things the enemy seeks to strip from you..."

- 1st, authority: The enemy wants to strip you of your authority as a child of God.
- 2nd, faith: The enemy wants to strip you of your faith by planting seeds of doubt in your calling and ministry, as well as God's promises for you and your house.
- 3rd, blessings: The enemy works in the background through others behind the scenes to keep provisions and blessings from reaching you.

"Erin, put on your full armor. God is not finished with you yet. He is the God of justice, strength and mercy. You are His child and friend. Your heart is ever before Him. His recompense is ever before you. While you worry at your losses, understand that God gave you that to lose. He will also give you that to gain back and restore. Rend your heart fully to Him. He longs to bring all of you good things.

"In contrast, the enemy proposes and works to negotiate with you when you are tired and in pain. Rebuke this demon in the Lord's Name and it will flee and not return. Your fall occurred right where I met you. However, and more importantly, this is also where God knocks at your door. While this was a planned attack against you by the enemy, it was allowed by God to direct your attention back to Him.

“Erin, God loves you. Pity the man whom God does not rebuke and correct as perhaps he has no ticket, garment or calling. Now rejoice in the knowledge that this was actually a very good dream.”

Me: “What about my short dream of tree shopping?”

Raphael: “Good question. What tree did you settle on?”

Me: “Well, it was a massive topiary with a strong upright trunk. The trunk was white. The tree was lush and thick and housed nests and singing birds inside of it. There were absolutely no pests at all.”

Raphael: “Erin, you can never have enough trees. This dream means you see yourself as unworthy. However, God sees you as a thriving, strong, upright child. While you long for integrity and righteousness, you already have this. Just look around you. This is a sign that you are worried that God does not see you as a good child. He does. This is a sign that you are worried that you are not God’s. You are. Erin, do not be afraid. Do not allow the enemy to steal from your ticket counter.

“Now, here is a Word from God for you: You will be blessed for trusting in the Lord. You will be blessed for resting your confidence in the Lord. You will be like a tree planted by the waters, a tree that sends out its roots toward the stream. You will not fear when the heat comes. Your leaves will always be green. You will not worry in a year of drought. You will not cease producing fruit.”

Me: “Are you referring to Jeremiah 17? Oh Raphael, I really am not worthy of this!”

Raphael: “Erin, try to remember that God sees you differently than how you see yourself. The Words of the Lord are upright. You will be like a tree planted by streams of water, yielding its fruits in season. Your leaves will not wither. You will prosper in all that you do.”

Me: Now in tears, I looked up to the sky. “Praise You, Lord! Thank You, Father!”

Raphael: “Now, Erin, great is God, from Whom all blessings flow. Your fear has come because your prayers have yet to be answered. Rejoice as the drought is now over. I must go now. Good news is soon to follow. Do not worry.” He smiled. “I will keep this water clear for your roots...”

He then added in a joking manner. "...as long as God continues to call me here." He then looked behind me. "Wow, what a bird!"

I turned my head and saw that it was an incredibly beautiful hummingbird. When I turned to look back at Raphael, he was already gone.

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day! Thank You for Your love. Thank You for cool breezes during a warm day. Thank You for a safe place to rest and dream. Thank You for my family and friends. I am blessed to have love from those closest to me in a world of such great hate. Thank You. I had an odd dream last night...

Sub-dream 1 "An expansive basement and a cute baby bear" begins...

While it was my home in the dream, it really wasn't as I kept discovering spaces that made it much larger than its current size. I then heard some workers in our garage. I decided to investigate. One of the workers addressed me...

Worker: "Do you want to go through this closet first?"

I was confused as he was pointing to a wall with a massive cabinet I had never even known was there. I opened the cabinet and the shelves were filled with papers in clear plastic boxes. Some papers were shredded. I promptly closed the closet door. I was still in shock that I didn't know this even existed. The bins of papers were particularly frustrating as I hate papers.

Worker: "While I know you wanted a storage closet here in this room, we uncovered a door you might want to walk through before we frame and sheetrock this over."

Once again, I was confused. I walked over to this new storage area that I also didn't know we had. There was a door that opened out. There were then some steps that led down to a landing. There were even more steps to the right. To my amazement, I was in a massive daylight walkout basement. While I am not usually a fan of basements as they are dingy, this one was particularly bright.

I was then promptly met with a wall of windows right there in front of me. There was a now decommissioned large brick furnace to the left of these. As I looked at it, a metal lid raised up. I was puzzled when a baby black bear crawled out and started to look around the basement for food. I knew that a mama bear couldn't fit into any openings into the basement, so I wasn't worried about that.

Since the baby bear wasn't bothering me, I decided to ignore him. I continued exploring. I then found out that this large room led to four other very large rooms. Three of the rooms had windows. The fourth didn't have any windows, but had a sliding glass door instead. Due to years of neglect, the windows had a fog to them that made seeing outside particularly difficult. All I could recognize was that it was still daytime.

It then started to hit me that this was not going to be cheap. This would all need to start with a major remodeling. What about the cost to heat? It needed paint at the least as one of the rooms was a horrible chalky dark pink. Another was an unpleasant blue. Another was an industrial green. All had either horrible carpets or brown and orange linoleum flooring.

It then suddenly hit me that all I was doing was focusing on how much work and money this would be. I was not being grateful at all for God's great expansion of our house. I then had a shift in my thinking and started to imagine the greatness of it. A racoon then appeared from where the baby bear had come out. When the racoon saw me, it went into the brick stove.

When I went over to the brick stove and opened the door, I was shocked to find out that it was an entryway from the outdoors. Nothing was keeping animals like the racoon or the baby bear from getting in. I then went to the glass sliding door and opened it. I didn't recognize the place I was looking at. It was forested with a mowed yard and a harbor of the sea right in front. I closed the door and walked back to the garage.

As I was walking, I noticed a door and stairs to my right. I walked through this and recognized it as the back courtyard area of Albany High School in Albany, California. It was surreal and I felt sick as I wasn't at all fond of this location. The thought occurred to me that this courtyard area should be boarded off. Just then, the baby bear cub was coming towards the entrance to Albany. He wanted to explore.

Me: "Oh no, oh no, please don't go there. This will not be a place you will like."

The bear looked at me as if he understood, turned around and walked back in. I closed the sliding door and was glad that there were no other windows facing this particular courtyard. I took a deep breath and exhaled. I then proceeded back to the garage. When I arrived at the garage, I didn't recognize it. It had changed.

Worker: "Hey, while you were downstairs, we finished your project."

I looked around in stone silence. I was in awe. I looked out the windows and recognized our yard as where I met Jesus and Raphael.

Worker: "We finished your basement too. Great space. Well, it is not really a basement anymore."

Me: "But how did you do this? And so fast?"

Worker: "Your vision changed it!"

I ran back downstairs and was in shock at how beautiful everything was now. I laughed when I saw the bear cub curled up in his own comfy chair. The windows were now all clear again. We were somehow now looking over a safe peaceful harbor.

Sub-dream 1 over.

Sub-dream 2 "Shopping for Boulders" begins...

We were shopping for large decorative boulders for our yard. One of the large boulders was to be used as a fountain. Since we couldn't find quite the right boulders, we decided to make our own boulders.

Sub-dream 2 over.

Shopping for trees and making our own boulders? What? While I am not sure what this dream meant, it was very clear. However, we need some help with interpretation as we don't understand what they all meant. Please help us.

Jesus: "Erin, come up."

I heard a knock on the door. There was Jesus and He was smiling at me.

Jesus: He reached out and hugged me. "So, someone prayed for help?"

Me: "Lord, would You like to come in?"

Jesus: "I was just in there with you. Now, please come with Me." He walked me up to one of the corners of our yard. "Do you believe My promises are true?"

Me: "Yes, but..." I stopped myself and He knew it.

Jesus: "Yes? Go on. Erin, please explain."

Me: "In Your Word, Lord, God blessed David, Solomon and others. For some of His promises, there were conditions. They usually had a format like 'if you do this and this and do not follow after other gods, I will...insert blank' or 'if you obey My statutes and commandments, I will never fail to bless you'. These conditional promises seem to be mainly found in the Old Testament."

Jesus: "Yes, this is true."

Me: "Well, Lord, what about my promises from You? What if they were conditional? I know that I have failed You time and time again."

Jesus: "Oh Erin, with you, when have I made any of My promises conditional? Hmm, I believe I have not."

Me: "I have stumbled and fallen into sin so often. I am not perfect. I have failed many times and I still fail."

Jesus: "Yes, but what happens next?"

Me: "The Holy Spirit corrects me and I make changes."

Jesus: "In the Word of God, I knew in advance what would occur. I knew in advance that Saul would fail. I knew in advance that David would stumble. It was the same with Peter. While I warned him that he would deny Me three times, I also mentioned upcoming failures to Saul and David. However, as for you specifically, have I ever warned you of some upcoming failure that will rob you of your blessings?"

Me: "No, Lord. But these are in Your Word as examples to do what is right in Your eyes. I don't always do what is right."

Jesus: "Doing right 'by Me by you' is not a concern of Mine. You instead have a different problem. You have difficulty believing Me."

Me: "Oh Lord, I do believe You. It is just that I don't believe in myself or in my worth to You. After all, I am now an old woman that still makes many mistakes."

Jesus: "Hmm, do you doubt My judgment to choose? If you doubt My judgment in choosing you, you must also doubt that I am God."

Me: "Oh no, Lord. I am so sorry. I know that You are God. I didn't think about it this way. The passing of time makes me wonder if I am delusional in all of this or if it is true that You are standing here with me today. I also worry that You will give Your love to another and remove Your favor from me. When I worry like this, I then become fearful and my heart breaks.

"I am a gentile. I am old. I have a history, a long history. The enemy bends my ear and I then grieve. I am so sorry that I did this, Lord." I dropped to my knees and bowed my head. "Oh Lord, please don't remove Your favor. Even though I can do nothing to deserve Your favor, I just couldn't live anymore without it. I am scared."

Jesus: Reaching down to help me back to my feet. "Rise, Erin. I made a promise to you unconditionally that I would bless you, build a house for you, bless your children and expand your ministry. I have not, nor do I plan on, revoking this. I did not call you in 'your perfection'. I called you when you were at your lowest point.

"While I know that there are times when you are greatly discouraged and doubt your place, it is there that I found you. Erin, I find you worthy of all that I have promised you. When My appointed 'time and times' arrives, you will be overjoyed. When this arrives, your doubts will be far removed from you."

Me: "Oh Lord, I will stand by the window and watch for You. I will never stop waiting and watching for You. To be Your Bride would be the greatest of honors."

Jesus: Laughing. "You are My beloved! Erin, I love you."

Me: "I love you too!"

Dream 497 – Isaiah 30 and the Fowler’s Snare

Received on Friday, June 18, 2021

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day here. Thank You for Your love and care. Father, please guide my pen as I scribe. Please help my writing be clear and concise. I love You. I woke up to an angel’s voice at the tail end of my dream. The dream I had was deeply disturbing. I am not sure if these are actual events or events in the works from the side of the enemy. I woke up to a voice saying...

"This comes from the Son of Perdition and is the same as the Sons of Korah."

This disturbed me greatly. It was at 6:45am and I decided to get up. It was a beautiful day. I decided to go out to the yard early and put out fresh seed and water. As I hobbled around the corner of the house, there was a Northern Goshawk staring right at me from our garage roof. It flapped its large wings and glided quickly into the forest. I then heard the Voice of the Lord saying...

"Do not worry. I will protect you from the Fowler’s Snare."

I was grateful to the Lord for sending this bird away. I guessed that this must have been the reason for the recent decrease in both baby mammals and baby birds. I looked around for the hawk, but could not see where it flew to. They are very clever birds, patient and calculating. I fear that continuing to feed them may just bring more prey. I have so enjoyed these little creatures. Lord, please direct me in what I should do.

Sub-dream 1 "The Divided States of America" begins...

I saw leaders gathering. Four of the leaders were from remote areas. I saw two signs that they were using as banners. I was not a big fan of what either said...

- Sign 1: "The Divided States of America"
- Sign 2: "One Nation under gods, divisible, with no liberty and no justice for whites"

There were proposals up for discussion revolving around the following topic...

"What to do with the problem? What is the best and final solution for the future of the nation and the house divided?"

There were two main proposals:

- Proposal 1: Divide the land into geographical regions. Allow them to have their own government, laws and healthcare. Basically, have a group of states in the middle of the country surrounded by the opposition states on the coasts. This division would thereby not allow the freedom of transport of goods and services. Any uprising would be strictly controlled. This would be done by regulations, as well as strict control of medical supplies, food and electricity.
- Proposal 2: Do not divide the land into geographical regions. Remove those over age 50, as well as anyone in certain disability categories. Partially attain this goal by refusing medical care and supplies. Only grant them medications that would weaken them. Deny services, means and access to opportunities in the name of 'equity'.

When put to a vote, the leaders unanimously agreed on Proposal 2. I then saw massive angels being held back to the four corners until the document was signed and placed into law. I immediately saw medical care being withheld based on the color of a person's skin. After seeing this, I was then taken to a three-story high brick hospital in the deep south. I did not know exactly what location this hospital was in.

When I walked into the hospital, the stench was overwhelming. I saw a woman at the front door. She appeared to be a nurse. She was in tears as she gathered her things.

Me: "Are you okay?"

Woman: "You had better leave. Anyone defying the order to leave will be arrested. We were given evacuation orders to leave by 3:00pm."

Me: Noticing it was now 2:40pm. "I am here because God has called me here."

Woman: Shaking her head. "God has left. Do you smell that? Not even God Himself could raise these up. I better be leaving now. Good luck."

I walked down the first hall. The halls were lined with bodies on gurneys. While the patients were not dead, they were left in their feces, urine and blood. I watched as a few weak hands were lifted to try and get my attention. It was so sad.

Me: "Oh Father, please heal and raise these people up, in the Name of Jesus."

I lifted my hands and eyes to Heaven. It was as if the roof had been removed off of the entire building. The light streamed in through the dark hallways. This would have been the first light some would have seen for days as the power had appeared to be cut off. I then watched as angels from God's Army came to minister to these people. While some were carried Home to Heaven, the majority were healed instead.

They immediately cheered in happiness and got up. Their soiled garments were replaced by God with 'new garments of praise and worship'. The people did just that. They danced around and praised God with such great joy. One of the dancing women soon came up to me.

Woman: "My husband is on the second floor. Can I take you there?"

Me: "Of course."

She reached for my hand and we walked up the stairs. When we got to the second floor, I realized that it was even worse than the first floor. I prayed for God to restore the power on this floor as well and He did. I immediately noticed that there were still some staff that were refusing to obey the order to leave. As they were so weary from doing their best with so little, God had mercy and instantly healed and strengthened them.

The way this healing happened was so amazing that it is worthy of further description. It was like a wave of lightning instantly lit up the area for just an instant. It was like a defibrillator was applied at the same time to the entire area. In an instant, the dying and ill were made new. There was great cheering. A doctor soon came over to me.

Doctor: "They cut off our electricity, supplies and communication. They then told us it was in the interests of 'an equitable solution'."

Me: "In other words, they were left to die alone and without family."

Doctor: "Our phones don't operate here. No reports can be made of these atrocities. They have given us until 3:00pm. They will be here at any moment. There is a plan in place to destroy this building by fire. They want to burn any evidence. They were hoping to blame the fire on a hurricane, but the hurricane never reached here."

Me: "God is the New Storm and He is bringing healing. Could you please take me up to the third floor?"

Well, I can't even talk about what I saw on this floor. It was so sad. It was the children's ward. There were babies of all races here. I didn't have long to be sad though as angels descended to assist. Healing came everywhere and there was joy and great celebrations. I picked up one of the little guys and an angel came up to me.

Angel: "God would like me to carry him up to the baby animal garden."

The baby giggled as I handed him over to the angel. He had such glee. He was used to being neglected and this was a wonderful change for him. I then saw a few more children being taken Home by the angels. I could see above me into Heaven and witnessed the greatest of reunions. There were such celebrations. I then went back to the main floor and asked to use the newly functioning intercom.

Me: "You are all to gather outside immediately. God is about to destroy this area."

Everyone immediately complied since they were all now able to walk and leave on their own. Everyone was very excited. God then gave each of them instructions and they left one by one according to their instructions. I was soon left standing alone in front of this empty building of death and decay. While I was there physically, I was no longer visible in the physical realm.

At approximately 4:00pm, the military arrived at the hospital. The soldiers were then addressed by the one in charge.

Leader: "Gather any records. Do not leave any records behind. Find out how many are here and how many are still helping them."

About ten minutes passed before a subordinate came to report to the leader.

Subordinate: "All of the records are gone. While we thought there would be hundreds of rebels here, there are none."

Leader: "This is impossible. We had a ground recon patrol out just this morning for a count. There were supposed to be around 800 patients. There were also supposed to be around 80 staff who refused to leave."

Subordinate: "Sorry, but there is no one there."

Leader: "They are there. They must be hiding. We will then torch the place."

The leader then sent in 100 soldiers, all heavily armed. As soon as they finished going in, the revolving door was sealed. I then became visible, along with a few of the angels. We stood in front of the revolving door. The leader and about 10 soldiers that remained outside immediately pointed their weapons at us. The leader looked furious.

Leader: Yelling. "Ma'am, you are aiding and abetting the disobedience of an order."

Me: "An order to kill innocent people? Well, this is in the Name of God, the same God Who healed and released the prisoners. Here is your 'Equity'!"

Just then, the angels blew on the building. It was like a great strong wind of hurricane force. The entire building collapsed. The leader panicked and ordered for their withdrawal. God opened the ground just enough for the wheels of their vehicles to spin helplessly. After a few seconds of this, the ground opened up and swallowed them whole, vehicles and all. Not one person survived.

Sub-dream 1 over.

Sub-dream 2 "A billionaire sees hell" begins...

A man who was famous and once backed the side of evil had now changed. God had disturbed his dreams. While I would love to say who this was, I could not as God did not allow me to remember. All I remembered was that he was either a social media giant or a tech giant. I also remembered that he was a billionaire. His evil plans changed when God showed him what he would be experiencing in hell. He was also shown that family and friends would also be in hell if he didn't do something.

Since he was the head of the company, he was able to do some crafty maneuvering. He first sent all of his staff responsible for censorship to a remote resort vacation spot for a seminar. He ensured that there was no way of communicating online. He was able to cut them off of their ability to use their technology. He then removed all filtering mechanisms so all could read the truth. There was no one to stop him. He did all of this according to God's instructions as he was now in great fear of the Lord.

With each direction of God's Voice the man carried out, he could start seeing clearer through the veil. He began contacting certain people who were once his enemies to alert them of the enemy's plans for North America and the world. After a while, the enemy started to notice that posts previously removed were now staying on. While they then tried to reach the man, he made sure they could not.

Prior to his turnaround, he had a hospital plane built. This flying hospital had multiple stories of care and was unlike any plane currently in existence (at least that we know of). God called the man to fly the hospital plane to wherever it was needed most. Surprisingly, the most common destination was within the USA. The last place I noticed the plane land was near the Mississippi River.

Sub-dream 2 over...

Sub-dream 3 "Goslings at dawn" begins...

I was walking on a path at dawn when I saw a massive flock of Canadian Geese at the edge of a dark pond. As I approached, feathers were ruffled and there was movement. I must have caught them sleeping. As I moved closer, the geese separated on the left and the right of the lake bank. Right in front of me as bright as the sun at dawn were hundreds of yellow and white goslings swimming towards me. They were beautiful.

Sub-dream 3 over...

Oh Father, please help. My first two dreams were quite disconcerting.

Jesus: "Erin, come up."

I heard a knock at the door. It was Raphael. He was smiling. I opened the door.

Raphael: "God has called me to give you a message. Come."

I followed him to the back of our yard. He stretched his arm out and a beautiful large hawk came and landed on his arm. He addressed the hawk.

Raphael: "Now, listen here. It seems you have been up to some shenanigans here."

The hawk stared right at him and then turned its beak downwards. He then comically separated its talons and ruffled its feathers as if to agree with him with a touch of shame.

Raphael: "I am requesting... well, commanding... that you resume your practices over there instead."

I looked into the distance and saw a far-off clump of trees. While the hawk tilted its head 'in obedience', I could tell he didn't like the decision. Regardless, the hawk took off and headed straight to the directed trees.

Raphael: Brushing his hands together. "Done!"

Me: Laughing. "Wait? Did you just say 'shenanigans'? This is too funny!"

Raphael: "Hey, it is a real word and packed with meaning. You have been around Uriel too much." He was now laughing.

Me: "What is it with you two anyways?"

Raphael: "We are close brothers. We have been through much together. We serve God together and all is good. If God required it, I would give my life in exchange for his life and he would do the same for me. In fact, all of us are on the same page."

Me: "Do you mean all of the archangels and the Army of Heaven?"

Raphael: "Yes. We are one under God and indivisible. There are more of us than there are of them, so be encouraged. Now, come, I would like to check the water."

We walked to the stream. The silt and debris were gone. The stones at the bottom were easily visible.

Me: "This is beautiful. Thanks to God for sending us a water purifier."

Raphael: "Now, let us talk about a message from God. Erin, God is allowing this separation right now. While you question it, I must remind you that the enemy is a repackager of old patterns. The demonic realm was granted permission to carry out plans.

"Those who were bitter, idle, cursed God, envied and coveted or practiced hate and jealousy in their hearts were able to receive what the enemy offered. In exchange for allegiance to the cause of the wicked, they were promised that no harm would come to them for their loyalty. This began small, but then was amplified.

"They then started the practice of striking out against those things they are unable to change. This began a campaign against something only they themselves were doing. Many have gone this way for the financial gains and benefits. This is a time like no other time. Those who are unable to see and recognize the evil for what it is will not see the Kingdom of Heaven.”

Me: “It sounds like there is nothing we can do but wait on God. There were two women working at the grocery store we recently went to and they treated us like they hated us. I thought it was just me, but my husband said ‘was it just me or did those two girls really hate us?’ I agreed and was relieved it wasn’t just me seeing this.”

Raphael: “You are correct. Remember that there are two sets of enemies, each having similar goals. Their first goal is to remove the children of God no matter their skin color. Their second goal is to destroy any opposition to their plans. Just as what happened with the Jewish people in the times of Hitler, so too is the great dream of the enemy today for so many of you...

- 1st, demoralize the nation, weakening the foundations that God has had in place.
- 2nd, lie and falsely accuse based on history. Then remove and erase history completely, along with anyone opposing them. Anyone opposing them are then labelled as racists.
- 3rd, control all flow of information from media, history books and new books. Control all communication and entertainment. Reward all those who follow their plans with money and fame. Force them to spread lies. Cut off truth by closing churches.
- 4th, control commodities and supplies, such as oil, wood products, diapers and food. Control anything necessary for life. Control people with supply deficits and rising prices. Cause fear wherever and whenever possible.
- 5th, control medical attention and healthcare. Only allow certain groups to receive help. Eliminate by any means possible anyone who is a financial drain to the government. Only care for those of a certain age, health or skin color. Create a great demand for insulin, antibiotics and other life saving care. Abandon the most vulnerable. Sacrifice babies to the furnace, now commonly referred to as abortion.
- 6th, release weapons to criminals to eliminate opposition and create fear. Call for a relinquishment of weapons held by those who cause no harm to those who cause harm. Keep people scared and feeling like they are in prison with no means to defend themselves.

“Erin, the list continues. The goal is to eliminate opposition for the new government takeover. While dressed up in other names, this is really to be a dictatorship. Their lofty goal is to control the entire world. However, they know that, in order to gain the world, you must eliminate the heart of the strongest country."

Me: "Oh Raphael, this is terrible. God will not allow this, right?"

Raphael: "The USA is in the Fowler's Snare. The great 'trophy bird' is the American Eagle. The fowler desires the USA to be taken down and stuffed on a Thanksgiving platter by Thanksgiving. While they would prefer sooner, Thanksgiving (2021) is their 'end goal date'."

Me: "This reminds me of my dream of the stuffed eagle dressed like a turkey."

Raphael: "Yes. Their plan is to release more weapons upon the land and to plunder all of their wealth. They also plan to kill children with white skin to create great fear. When the group they are using to do this finally finds a moral compass, they call in sick vs going to fight. Those newly opposed then keep their voice quiet. They are kept idle because the checks keep coming in."

Me: "So, is this the end?"

Raphael: "No, Erin. What I have outlined is the plans of the enemy, NOT of God. The enemy is no longer satisfied with 7 million Jews. They have decided on a loftier number of 70 million, mostly based on their 'voting patterns'. The enemy has already begun his campaign of hate."

Me: "But I don't care about how someone votes or the color of their skin. What about equality? What about justice?"

Raphael: "You will be labeled a racist. Say nothing and pray until God's 'Big Show' begins. You will be a part of this." He smiled. "Erin, you are seeing corruption spreading like a cancer. However, God will very soon bind up the broken and heal the sick. He will not let the evil prevail for long as the angels of judgment are concluding their findings to God."

"They have been measuring the breadth and depth of the sins of the land against God. Heaven is preparing for a great increase. His miracles will be visible throughout the land. His Vessels..." He pointed to me. "...are ready to receive Living Water. This is Good News, Erin. The people are far from God. They despise the Word of God and instead take comfort in oppression and lies."

"Calamity will come upon them quickly. The Lord God has sent His prophets to call for them to return to Him in repentance and rest. In the last year of quarantining, God told the land 'turn to Me in the quietness."

Rest in Me and you will be saved.’ However, instead of enjoying the quiet stillness of the Lord, they would have none of it.

“They instead wanted to get help from those in power. They instead wanted to get help from those who sent the disease in the first place. They wanted to honor their enemy by sharing the cure. Unfortunately, the only swiftness of a horse they will receive will be that of their enemies chasing them.

“Still, God has a different plan. God will instead send His redeemed of the Earth and strengthen those whose hope is in Him. This will be those who did not fall into sin and bitterness. This will be those who cried out in righteous anger for the Courts of Heaven to administer judgment upon the wicked. After God does His Great Move, just five will chase a thousand wicked and make them all flee.”

Me: “Wait. Are you speaking from Isaiah 30?”

Raphael: “Erin, the Word of the Lord is like refreshing rains on a parched tongue. Continue on with this Word from God. To be clear, read after the 17th verse.”

Me: “Do you mean Isaiah 30:18-33 in particular?”

Raphael: “Yes. There is much there. Include this part in your writings.”

Isaiah 30:18-33: 18 Therefore the Lord waits to be gracious to you, and therefore he exalts himself to show mercy to you. For the Lord is a God of justice; blessed are all those who wait for him. 19 For a people shall dwell in Zion, in Jerusalem; you shall weep no more. He will surely be gracious to you at the sound of your cry. As soon as he hears it, he answers you. 20 And though the Lord give you the bread of adversity and the water of affliction, yet your Teacher will not hide himself anymore, but your eyes shall see your Teacher. 21 And your ears shall hear a word behind you, saying, “This is the way, walk in it,” when you turn to the right or when you turn to the left. 22 Then you will defile your carved idols overlaid with silver and your gold-plated metal images. You will scatter them as unclean things. You will say to them, “Be gone!” 23 And he will give rain for the seed with which you sow the ground, and bread, the produce of the ground, which will be rich and plenteous. In that day your livestock will graze in large pastures, 24 and the oxen and the donkeys that work the ground will eat seasoned fodder, which has been winnowed with shovel and fork. 25 And on every lofty mountain and every high hill there will be brooks running with water, in the day of the great slaughter, when the towers fall. 26 Moreover, the light of the moon will be as the light of the sun, and the light of the sun will be sevenfold, as the light of seven days, in the day when the Lord binds up the brokenness of his people, and heals the wounds inflicted by his blow.

27 Behold, the name of the Lord comes from afar, burning with his anger, and in thick rising smoke; his lips are full of fury, and his tongue is like a devouring fire; 28 his breath is like an overflowing stream that reaches up to the neck; to sift the nations with the sieve of destruction, and to place on the jaws of the peoples a bridle that leads astray. 29 You shall have a song as in the night when a holy feast is kept, and gladness of heart, as when one sets out to the sound of the flute to go to the mountain of the Lord, to the Rock of Israel. 30 And the Lord will cause his majestic voice to be heard and the descending blow of his arm to be seen, in furious anger and a flame of devouring fire, with a cloudburst and storm and hailstones. 31 The Assyrians will be terror-stricken at the voice of the Lord, when he strikes with his rod. 32 And every stroke of the appointed staff that the Lord lays on them will be to the sound of tambourines and lyres. Battling with brandished arm, he will fight with them. 33 For a burning place has long been prepared; indeed, for the king it is made ready, its pyre made deep and wide, with fire and wood in abundance; the breath of the Lord, like a stream of sulfur, kindles it.

Raphael: "There is much in there. Erin, God created His children in many different skin tones. Even the angels have skin shading. Regardless, all He has called shine forth like the sun or the Son of God. It does not matter to God. God is not a divider. God is not partial to one of His children over another. However, He is partial to the heart of the love of a child to His Father, understand?"

Me: "Yes. Still, He did split up the people by scattering them with different languages."

Raphael: "Yes, but He still loved them. He chose the Hebrews, the Israelites, as His special possession. While you know the story, there is also a backstory. This backstory is also written, but in part. One day, you will have a great puzzle finally all put together. This is when God grants knowledge to all He has called Home. Now, rejoice, for the hawk is gone. Oh, look over there... a beautiful songbird."

I turned and saw the most beautiful songbird. When I turned back, Raphael was gone. I laughed.

Dream over.

Communion

Dear Father,

Happy Father's Day! Summer officially begins at around midnight Eastern time tonight. Father, I am so thankful for You. My earthly dad had abandoned me. He has now passed away for around three and a half years. My dad and I never made peace here. All of his children and grandchildren were cast away from him. In December 2017, I received the phone call from my brother.

My dad had a very difficult death. It was a painful death. It was also a long time in coming as they tried valiantly to save him. This merely prolonged the inevitable. He was in so much pain that they eventually decided to put him into a coma. He died shortly thereafter, alone and abandoned, just as he had done to his family.

It didn't have to be this way. This was of his choosing, not his family. I often wonder if he had any regrets while he was hemorrhaging. While I would like to think he thought of his children, perhaps he didn't. On the other hand, this no longer matters to me. I have moved on. These are no longer answers that I seek.

While he was a multi-millionaire at times in his life, he died penniless. His fortune came and went like this as he was a gambler when it came to investing. In the end, the gambler lost his final hand at the table. There was no one there to claim his body or make preparations. His widow was quick to exit the scene.

My brother told me that he would not be claiming him. He was hurt severely, along with his daughter, and he was not feeling that forgiveness was owed. However, of all of the children, he had hurt me the most. I was the eldest. He was repulsed by my special needs sons and wanted nothing to do with us. I was a bad asset not worthy of his investment. At one time, I thought I was, but he once again failed my household.

This was in 2008. He had come to me with a change of heart and an apology. He told me that I had a budget of $500,000 to purchase a home. However, it could not be just any home. It had to meet certain criteria. It had to be a single-family residence on the river with at least 4 bedrooms and 3 baths on the river. Since we are talking about Bend OR here, this would need to be a miracle as homes on the river sold for a million.

Even though he had given me impossible parameters, I was elated and the kids were excited. I rolled up my sleeves and went searching. My dad was going to do something really special for us. My heart was filled with such joy and gratitude. It was a healing moment of time. I soon found an agent I could trust. She spoke to my dad and made the arrangements.

I then received the miracle call from my agent in the middle of February. It was a house that met all of the requirements. It had not been listed yet and we needed to move fast. My kids and I went to the house to check it out and were instantly in love with it. This was truly a miracle because, without my dad, I was completely financially unqualified. I was ecstatic as I felt that this was finally a time for the stripping locusts to be ousted.

I told the agent to proceed. After about a day, I then received another call from my agent. Apparently, my dad was not returning her calls. He then didn't return any of my calls. After about a week of this heartbreak, time had run out and the house had to be put on the market. It was sold to another buyer within 48 hours.

I was grieving. My children were sad. My heart was shattered. My dad did this horrible thing. This was even worse than when he left my belongings on the doorstep of his home on Marco Island, Florida. Who does this to an eighteen-year-old? I hadn't done anything wrong – no drugs, no drinking, no parties – nothing! He kicked me out on what seemed to be a whim.

Despite this, I would still have one last communication with him. This was on May 28, 2008 when I had used call display blocking to call him. When he actually picked up the phone, we were both clearly in shock to hear each other's voices. He was pensive and sounded evasive.

Dad: "Oh, hi honey. Hey, I am just docking our boat at the marina. Can I shoot you a ring back once we are done?"

Me: "No dad. I am just calling to let you know that I am going for heart surgery tomorrow. Just thought you might like to know. That's all. No need to call back."

Dad: "Oh no. What hospital? I will call you to make sure you came through okay. We will keep you in our thoughts. I love you, honey. Hey, we have to run. I'll call you."

Me: "I love you too, dad. Bye."

It was now the day of the surgery. Nothing. No call from him. After a couple of days, still nothing. While I should have expected this, I was still surprised. Hard to describe. I tried to call him again. His number was now disconnected completely. I never spoke to him again. Now fast forward in time. The funeral home told me that no one was claiming his body. After prayer, I made the call and took care of the arrangements.

His widow then contacted me to thank me, but really to ask me for money. I found this strange as she is actually quite a few years younger than me. I asked her what assets she had and coached her on how to liquify them. She did this and later let me know she had done quite well. I later found out that she found a new boyfriend that had 'good financial prospects'. I don't think it was that hard for her to get over my dad.

My prayer to our Father: "While my earthly dad abandoned his children, you have never abandoned us. While my earthly dad would profess lies, You are my Father of Truth. While my earthly dad's promises were empty, Your promises came to pass. Father, all that You have promised us has come to pass."

God then responded to my prayer: "I will build a house for you near My Altar, a safe place for you and your children. I will provide for you all of the days of your life. I will also guard you from your enemies. I have sheltered you in the trees. I have sharpened My pinions in you. I do this so that, when I call you out, you will be strengthened and ready. I will give you back the years the enemy has stolen from you as recompense for your troubles. I have never forgotten you. I have been with you in all that you do.

"Whoever shows you and your family kindness, I will be kind to them. Whoever curses you and your family, I will curse them. Whoever blesses you and your family, I will bless them. I have not forgotten your tears. Each tear has been recorded. Your tears will spring forth like fountains in the desert. Your oil of gladness will be poured out upon your enemies. Many will flee at the threat of just one of you. This is because they know and recognize that I am with you."

My reply prayer: "Father, I don't have anything of worth to give You other than my heart. As such, my entire heart is Yours. I love You. I am so grateful for You. There is no father like You, Father. You are our Creator. You are the Father of all fathers. While I can't see or hug you, I know that You are always with me. Thank You!"

In my dream last night, I woke up in Heaven...

Sub-dream 1 "A Heavenly Home complete with a Golf Course" begins...

I was walking along a beautiful path. I could smell eucalyptus trees. I could feel the warmth of the sun on my skin. As I walked along the path, I could see lovely things that I was delighted in, things that God had created just for me. It was a 'Memory Garden' filled with all of the best things. Nothing here had bad memories attached to it. I remembered walking with my mom in the eucalyptus trees in California.

I soon arrived at a lake that reminded me of Sand Harbor in Lake Tahoe. As I smelled the pine trees, I remembered how fun it was there. As I kept walking, I soon came upon a replica of the San Francisco Japanese Tea Garden. There were lush grass, flowers and trees. I then came upon a little trout stream. This reminded me of the stream where I had learned to fish. This reminded me of my favorite campground in the Sierra Mountains.

I walked a bit further and came upon a grass field. There were flowers, fruit trees and a lawn sprinkler. I could see easter eggs 'hidden' all over the yard. I now realized that this was a replica of my grandparent's yard from when I was about eight years old. Tears streamed down my cheeks as I had such joy back then. I then turned and saw something I never expected!

It was, by far, the most beautiful golf course I had ever seen. There were fountains and flowers everywhere. While I didn't recognize it at first, I suddenly realized that it was actually a golf course tailor made for me. It was designed by taking the very best holes and moments from my time in golfing. God had taken every great memory of a golf hole and seared it into one seamless perfect golf course.

However, God was not finished surprising me yet. As I traveled further, I could see a beautiful house nestled in the trees on a meandering path. The path was lined with my favorite trees, plants and flowers. While I then saw pets that I once had playing in the distance, they were unable to see me. I then looked around, both outside and inside, this extraordinary Home. I realized that God had custom built this for me.

It was made up of an amplified version of all of the best homes I had ever had the privilege to work on. It had features I had designed for others as if I had been designing them for myself. God had taken excellent notes... smiles. It was all right there in front of me. This place was fit for a princess... or even a king. The features were so magnificent that I felt they were too wonderful for me.

I then looked up to my left. Lining the path and up to the house were a series of extremely tall lily pads made of bronze and something like copper. This was shaped into an intricate water fountain. The water flowed over these pads and made amazing notes and sounds. As I looked, I could see beautiful varieties of birds landing and singing on this fountain.

Sub-dream 1 over...

Thank You, Father! Who am I that You should love me? I am very blessed and thankful to You. Today is my Father in Heaven's 'Great Day'. I gave You my heart and You gave me a thousand-fold more in return. I truly have no words.

God then spoke to me as clearly as if He was sitting right there next to me at my devotional chair...

"Erin, I am with you! I love you. I delight in what you delight in. I have prepared a place for you next to Me at My Altar. Rejoice, Erin, rejoice, for your wait is soon over. I love you!"

Dream 499 - God is Turning up the Heat

Received on Saturday, June 26, 2021

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day! Thank You for all we have. Thank You for my husband, children and friends. Thank You.

The sting of life is taking its toll on me. I am struggling. You have placed upon my husband and me an impossible task to move ahead on with no ability on our own strength to complete it. It is disarming. We don't know a way and we have exhausted all of our options. However, You see the possible when all we can see from our vantage point is the impossible.

On top of this, we learned on Thursday that my older son's liver is on the verge of failing. We need to make drastic changes now. Then another thing. My daughter just revealed that she plans to visit family out west and that it was possible she may not come back other than to visit. While I am very sad about this, I understand as this area does not have a lot of opportunities for her.

Father, I am praying for a miracle for both of these kids. Father, why have circumstances not blessed our children? As for my daughter, she has done so many things right. Despite this, she has had good friends move away and those far away from You stay. Along with the lack of opportunities, this has been difficult on her.

These are Your children, Father. I did my best. I tried to do everything within my means to care for them and keep them safe. I want my children to have amazing lives and exciting adventures with You. My husband's children seem distant from You right now, even though we see real sparks in them from time to time. It is just not consistent. So much hinges on You, Lord. My dreams last night were troubling...

Sub-dream 1 "The keys to looking after young children" begins...

Even though I was given the keys to a house that I did not build or design, I was named as the designer. Even though I kept getting credit for great design work, I did not design it. No matter what I said, I was still receiving credit for something that was not my work. I was to take tours around the house to photograph while the owners were away.

When I walked up to the third floor, I went into a bedroom and discovered that the owners had left their three young daughters with me. When I discovered them, they already knew my name. They were laughing and playing around the bed. Since the bed was on wheels, it was unstable. Before I could stop them from bouncing, one of them fell off.

While I didn't see it, I heard a distinct sound that is any mother's worst nightmare. One of the little girls had hit the back of her head on the hard tile floor. I rushed over to the little girl to help her. While I knew she was hurt, she was trying to laugh it off..

Little girl: "I am okay. Big hurt, big booboos."

I became alarmed as I could now see the crown of her skull was broken just underneath the skin. I could see bleeding. In order to not panic her, I spoke calmly to her...

Me: "I am going to call for help just to check, okay?"

I phoned 911. She was now holding her head. I was in great fear that she had a brain bleed.

Little girl: "My baby brother needs food."

Me: "Brother? Where is your brother?"

The girls simultaneously pointed to a room across the hall. When I went into this other bedroom, there was a glass box that contained a very tiny and fragile baby. He had been born premature. He was so small, he could fit into the palm of my hand. I quickly realized that the baby had not been cared for at all. I proceeded to provide him with oxygen and food.

Me: "How could these people trust me with their children without first telling me they were even there? I never received any instructions."

The little baby boy was now looking at me with such great love. I just knew that I had to take care of him as well. Still, I wondered how I was even going to be able to do all of this. I would definitely be needing some Divine Assistance.

Sub-dream 1 over.

Father, I love You. However, unless You strengthen me, all of this is just too much for me. The signs of spring are now gone and summer is here. It has been 3,192 mornings since I have woken up to dreams from You. This is 8 years, 8 months and 28 days. Oh Father, am I to be just a dreamer and a scribe? I so long want to be serving You in a much greater capacity. Oh Father, I am becoming old now.

My body is working against me. Time has not been my friend. 3,192 dawns I have stayed with You. All have been in wonder and excitement of the great things You are about to do. Father, please help us. Help my children find what they are seeking, but closer to home... smiles. While I want them to have all of the good things in life, I also want to be a part of their lives.

I have missed out on so much. Life went by quickly while I was forced into fighting battles after battles. I missed the normal stuff... or I didn't get to appreciate them due to the stress. Still, time went by quickly. What is normal? I had another dream last night...

Sub-dream 2 "Drenching rains soothe the drought" begins...

As far as my eyes could see, I saw a dry landscape that was parched from the heat. There was no rain in the forecast. Water basins, rivers, lakes and streams were becoming dry. The heat was unbearable. I saw emaciated cattle. Their bellies were swollen and they looked sick and weak. I could see thousands of people at the beach. However, the water was also hot, so it provided very little or no relief.

I looked across the valleys and the fruits were shriveled from the heat. All of the berries, orchards, hops and barley were bad. People were trying to get relief by going outside of their homes, but this was of little help. I then saw three angels of God strike the hills and prairies with rods. After they struck the ground, there was a brief pause. This pause was then broken by a sudden spark.

The areas began to burn. A small area was smoldering at first, but raging fires soon started to spread out quickly. It happened so fast that many could not escape. While people were fleeing, they had nowhere to run. I then heard a voice call out...

Voice of a person: "Where is help? Where is God to save us?"

I then heard a massive trumpet and the voice of God...

Voice of God: "I have heard your cries and I will have compassion upon you. In mercy, I will send cooling rains."

When the rains then came, the land was overcome by the outpouring of God. The drenching rains gave great relief. However, many forgot about God and went back to their evil practices. I heard the voice of God again...

Voice of God: "The time has now come."

Sub-dream 2 over...

Father, please help me to understand what is about to happen.

Jesus: "Erin, come up."

I heard a knock on my door. It was Raphael. He was smiling. I opened the door.

Raphael: "Erin, God has heard your cries and He knows your sorrow. Come." He walked me over to the bridge over our stream (the bridge that doesn't actually exist... yet?). "Do you understand the importance of this place?"

Me: "Yes, I think so."

Raphael: "This tells me that you don't. I was sent by God to explain. This here is an area of Passover... going from one state of being of this world to the other state of being in Heaven.

As you see across this..." He pointed to the Heaven side. "...over there, there is no time continuum. This is God's time. Heaven's time is different than your time in the world.

"The time in the world has various time zones based on the sun, moon and the Earth's rotation. It is a complex thing only possible because God spins planets in orbit. While it is God who spins this, science calls it 'gravitational force'. While God doing this is, of course, a great explanation, this is not the explanation that scientists use. This is important because God is the Creator of all things.

"God determines all of this and He controls this all. There are also many dimensions to this... some you can visibly see and some you cannot. Your reality is your life on the surface, a reality that is relegated to time. Time never stops. While God can turn back a sundial by changing the direction of the sun, doing this would affect so much more. God instead allows time to continue.

"With time comes seasons and years, births and deaths. It goes quickly. While time seems slower when you are young, this is because you are counting the days until goals are reached. Time then seems faster when you are old because you grasp onto memories as they fade. Hopes and dreams are replaced by pain and isolation. Limits come with age. Life is bittersweet.

"Now, God knows you have kept your heart upon Him during each battle. He knows that you wake up with great hope every day as you wait for Him. However, your heart is now breaking. Still, He knows the desires of your heart and has promised you great things. He has never revoked these promises as these are His gift to you."

Me: Crying even as I write. "Raphael, I feel like a woman in labor and I cannot give birth. I had a difficult time when I was pregnant with my older son. The cord was wrapped around his neck. He had to be revived. I worked so hard to take care of him. I sacrificed my own care after my accident so that he would not be harmed. Even though I did all this, trouble still came."

Raphael: "Well, last I checked, you are unable to spin things in orbit. God did not appoint you as His 'daughter-God'. While you are a child of God, you are not a 'demi-God'. Erin, it is God Who determines a man's days, not a man determining God's days, understand?"

Me: Still crying. "Yes, of course. I just... well, I just need God to heal and strengthen me. While I know that I am no Elijah, I could still use some help here."

Raphael: "So, is that what you were looking for?" I turned and there was bread and water. I was finally smiling. "Erin, God will provide food and water for you for your journey. He has promised you good things in advance of bad news. He has you. He is about to expand your tent pegs."

Me: "Raphael, what was the meaning of the dream with the babies?"

Raphael: "First off, they were placed in your care without your knowledge. Instead of walking away, you helped those who needed help. You were given this dream because God is about to grant you an increase. With this will come great responsibility. You will care for those abandoned by the world, those in need of a miracle. You will do all things to God's Glory and not on your own strength. Consider it a promotion.

"In your dream, you quickly diagnosed the problem as abandonment, head injury and neglect. While this is the state of the orphans of the world, it is also the same for some of the children of God. You were not a stranger to them. They had prayed for help and God sent His worker to nurture and care for the neglected. You will be an answer to prayers.

"Now, God knows your journey has been a difficult one, filled with adversity and affliction. You have prayed 'Biggly'..." He smiled as he nudged me. "...to a generous Father. Since you have asked big, you will receive big. Remember the story of Caleb's daughter, Aksah? This is like you, Erin. She was Caleb's only daughter. While many dark things have been said of her, she was not greedy or demanding.

"There were many who were jealous of her beauty. It is really the story of a princess. Although Caleb was not an earthly king, he was a leader. However, let's still call him a king for this purpose. Now, several men wanted his daughter's hand in marriage. The king had a reply... 'I will give my daughter, Aksah, in marriage to the one who beats Kirjath-Sepher (which is the city of Debir of the Canaanites).'

"There was a young man who loved the princess deeply. He loved her so much that he fought the enemy and defeated them, thereby receiving her hand in marriage. Later on, Aksah requested a wedding gift from her father that was in addition to the land of Negev. She approached him on a donkey and asked that she also receive the wells of water.

"Well, the king was not upset by her request. Indeed, the king was delighted. Not only did he give her what she had requested, but he gave her even more. He gave her both the springs in the highland and in the valley. He gave her the upper and lower springs."

Me: "But, Raphael, I have already asked God for so much. How could I ask for even more from Him?"

Raphael: "Oh Erin, just remember that He is a God that spins massive things in orbit without effort. Yes, Erin, He really is that big." He was now laughing. "Remember that nothing is impossible for God."

Me: "Could you please take my request to Him as He has not called me." Just then, I saw a white donkey on the other side of the bridge.

Raphael: "Your chariot awaits, princess."

I ran over the bridge to the donkey. Uriel was waiting for me there.

Uriel: "Well, I see that my brother has set you up with a ride." He raised his eyebrows and they both laughed. "Erin, God is requesting your presence."

We were instantly at God's door. Uriel placed salve in my eyes. He brought me into the Throne Room of God. The choir of angels and saints sang 'Holy, Holy, Holy'. My body became weak and I fell to my knees. I began to weep before God.

God: "Erin, speak."

Me: "Father, I am so sorry if I ever thought You to be small in any way. I know You are big and I am small. Father, I need help. You have given me the hills of Negev, but I am also asking for the wells of spring water too. But I am not stopping there..." God laughed and it was thunderous. "I am also asking for all of the miracles You have promised us. We need miracles.

"As for my family, there is so much we need You for. I am becoming worse. My oldest son is sick. My daughter is without hope and our other children are drifting. Time is not a friend to any of us. My husband needs work, Father. You have kept us in a remote place and sheltered us under Your Wings. Please, Father, have mercy on Your daughter, Your daughter who loves You so much. Please don't forget me!"

God: "I have never forgotten you. Your name is written on the palm of My hand and so too are your children. I have heard your cries. While I will now grant you all that I have promised, I will grant even more. I will expand your house and grant you even more because you love Me. I will not only heal and strengthen you, but I will also send you gifts of miracles. My fountain will be within you and you will pour out the oil of gladness upon the lands.

"Erin, My hand will be upon you as you go forth. The power of darkness will flee from your presence and your mantle will be of peace. You will reunite mothers to their children and fathers to their sons and daughters. Great will be your treasure as My recompense is with Me. I have not forgotten you. I know you have grown tired and weary. Do not worry, Erin, for this will be a time of great joy for you."

Me: "Thank You, Father! I love You so much!"

God: "The dream of trouble is accurate. I am angry as this land is far from Me."

Me: "Father, please don't burn up the beautiful lands. Please spare those who love You. Do not send calamity on the land."

God: "Erin, I have caused temperatures to rise as hearts are in need of refining fire. While it is a beautiful land, it is being defiled."

Me: "Father, could You please hold back and relent until You send Your Army of the Redeemed? Please?"

God: "Then pray for the land that I will have mercy on it. While My favor is upon my children, My favor is not upon the sons of perdition."

Uriel came to take my arm. He walked me to the door.

Me: Turning around with a huge smile on my face. "I love You, Father!" I then waved.

As He laughed, the floor rolled.

God: "I love you more, child."

Uriel: Taking me outside.

"Believe what God has promised you as you have already received it in Heaven. His promises have been ordered and are in the process of distribution.

Do not worry as this will not take long. Rejoice and pray for the lost." He smiled at me.

Dream over.

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for one more day here! Thank You for my husband, my children and my dear friends. Thank You for our home and a safe environment to raise our children. Thank You for Your constant provision. Without this, we certainly would be in a horrible situation. I had a difficult dream four nights ago...

Sub-dream 1 "A Foreign Entity Invades the Lands" begins...

There were emergency alerts to shelter inside our homes and wait for further instructions. People all over the world did so because all assumed it was a new virus strain. However, this time it was not.

There was a new governing body sweeping the nations and taking control. It looked like there were two nations stealing the lands and dividing them in two. At this point in time, both entities needed each other to carry out their plans.

With people sheltered indoors, they had no access to communications from the outside other than what was filtered in. Television programs, but especially news, were made to look normal. It was a great deception involving many parties. Any outside recordings were quickly scrubbed from view.

In the meantime, a broad government militia gathered at all major artery travel points. After the third day, an announcement came over all media platforms. In this announcement, someone standing on behalf of the United Nations claimed that a foreign invader, possibly with alien ties, had removed many people. The statement was made to create fear. It was not the rapture event.

People were ordered to stay in their homes. They were told that food distribution would begin door-to-door based on the census information. All those who had registered weapons would need to relinquish these 'voluntarily' or face the reality that food distribution would bypass their households. This was done under the guise of keeping government workers and neighbors safe.

However, the relinquishment of firearms left many with questions. Why would the government want to disarm the people if there were foreign invaders? This statement caused many to believe that this was a government takeover and arm's sweep. People were told to remain home and safe.

As for us, we lived off of the beaten path. One neighbor told us that there were no closures to the northern artery. We drove down this route to see if any grocery stores were open. We quickly discovered that the grocery stores were emptied completely. Bed, Bath & Beyond was empty. Walgreens was completely stripped, even of the shelves themselves.

We then noticed an extremely long line at a local credit union. A few cars went through, but then all turned away. A sign was put up reading 'No Cash Available!'. The gas stations were also closed, their pumps all locked. While there was no military in this area, there really was nothing at all. We noticed that we had enough gas to last us for a while.

When we finally arrived home, the neighbors informed us that our area was not going to have any food distribution. When night fell on the fourth day, our power was shut down at 7:00pm. We went outside and there was darkness everywhere. We went to our cars to listen to the radio, but the only cars that worked were really old ones. The radios had nothing but static. Everyone's fear level was rapidly rising.

We decided to form a watch party using walkie-talkies. That night was very quiet. We were then woken up at 7:00am to the power coming back on. We turned on the television to an announcement. A new government was now in place. We were told to wait for further instructions. We decided to walk over to a neighbor's house that we knew had a HAM radio. He was an ex-military officer.

He told us there was a hostile takeover. Those now in power had taken over all broadcasting, satellites, communication, power, fuel, medical supplies and food. This was all done by force. Many who resisted were killed. In contrast, the unsuspecting continued to shelter in place, many watching Netflix. They then removed all monuments and invaded all government institutions.

Many of the invaders had been in sleeper cells inside the institutions. They were living normal lives alongside us until they were activated. Now comes the difficult part for them. They needed to remove the resistance, disarming and killing them as necessary. They were to turn neighbors against neighbors in return for favors and food.

He then turned on a computer monitor that was hooked up to a satellite network that hadn't been taken yet. Hackers had cut into security cameras. On the screen, we could see grainy videos of an invading army. While I could not tell the nationality, they were slaughtering 'people of color' in Washington DC and New York City. Any resistance was met with death.

There were no police. At this point, people, including children and the elderly, were all shot on sight. It was difficult to watch. The pandemic had been the practice run. All homeless and gangs on the streets were shot on sight. Their bodies were dragged into trucks and driven away. The rest of the people stayed indoors. After this, we decided to walk home.

Our family was now all together. We brought everything to the Lord in prayer. An angel came to our front door and walked us to the bridge.

There was a massive amount of provision. We knew we would make it with God on our side.

Sub-dream 1 over.

Ever since this dream, the last three days have crushed me. This was not just a little bit of crushing, but so heartbreaking that I can't even describe it. On Tuesday, my daughter told me she is leaving in only 22 days to the West Coast permanently. Just a few minutes before we were given the news, we found out that my husband did not get the job even after once again being the top candidate.

I was still struggling with my eldest son having liver issues. The news of my daughter leaving for good hit me in a way that I did not expect. Still, I am happy for her and don't blame her for wanting to go to greener pastures. She has tried to find close friends and carve out a career here. She had been accepted into a good school here and I thought I had more time with her. She is leaving and my heart is so broken.

Father, it is one thing to miss our home back West, but to now have to say goodbye to my bright spark, my longtime friend / daughter, well, this is so hard. My inability to travel makes this worse. I will miss out on milestones. I struggle with technology. I am barely on my technology.

Oh Father, what is here for me now? If I don't have my family near while the world is heading into the great abyss, how will I make it? We have been waiting, Father. Our quiver, Your Quiver, is here. Our children have to have a life, Father. This was only to be temporary. Please do not allow me now to miss out.

I have lost my career. I lost years battling a great adversary. I lost whole chunks of time that was robbed from me as a mom, having barely enough income to upbringing my children. I was the parent who offered only stay-cations. I was the parent who had to fight for them. I lost great jobs because of court dates and commitments to show I was a good mom.

Still, I am thankful. I have now had seven years of safety and healing here. This has been a time of bonding and growing with our children into God fearing young adults as I had prayed they would be. In this respect, my husband and I have been successful. The pandemic gave us one last time with all of them. Even during lockdown, I was able to see some great hope in all of these children.

However, something has happened to me. I was growing more and more troubled. How is all of this going to work out long-term? We have prepared our home for something huge from You. With my daughter leaving, none of this seems to matter anymore to me. There is no promise here if all of our children go back West. They all want to be back there. All of them were born in the West.

We just can't financially afford a whole sale move to the West. It is just not in the cards without You, Father. Father, You are a 'BIG FATHER'! You are the Lover of our hearts. You continuously remind me to have hope in You and to not worry. Still, my Spirit is so grieved. I can only think of three times in my life that come close to the despair I felt when my daughter first told me about her impending move...

- May 2007 – Bend OR: My oldest son was placed with his father
- June 2010 – Tri-Cities WA: Bogus restraining order was served on me
- May 2012 – Tri-Cities WA: At my oldest son's graduation, his step mom was honored as his mom

These times in my life were so brutal that I had no tears left to cry. By the summer of 2012, I was at the end of myself, the complete end. However, I wasn't alone – my daughter still remained with me. When it came to me keeping her, no court of law, no lies of the enemy and no fabrication prevailed. I did everything humanly possible to make our apartments and rentals just like home for us.

Oh God, have You forgotten about me? You promised that we would be together and that my job would be complete, both here and in Heaven. How can I cope with this? How can I walk down an open door and no longer hear my precious daughter say 'Hi mom'? Yes, I know that this is a natural progression in life, but it doesn't really make this any easier as this is a humungous move involving thousands of miles.

Jesus: "Erin, come up."

I heard a knock at the door. It was Jesus. I was crying. I stumbled. He came in and lifted me up. I was suddenly taken back to when I was a little toddler crying on the shoulder of my Lord. He had just saved me from a bad fall while I was still learning how to walk. I remember resting on His shoulder as the sunlight warmed my cheeks. His hair was silky and I felt at great peace. Well, I am now old and injured and He still has to catch me. Oh, how I love my Lord!

Me: "Oh Lord, if I didn't have You, my life would be nothing."

Jesus: "Well, that is good because wherever you are, there I am too."

Even though He was smiling, I broke down sobbing. I dropped to my knees and wept at His feet.

Me: "Oh Lord, the stinging sharp pain of grief has come upon me. This is an even greater grief than when my parents passed on here. This is greater even than my son's graduation ceremony in 2012. I cannot control any of this. Oh Lord, please, please. I am boldly coming before You with my request. You prepared this place for us and our children. You call it Beulah, the place where we are married to You.

"You also called us Your Quiver of sharp arrows. We had such promise. However, things have been difficult here... as You know. Time has been our enemy while we wait. We are not changed yet. I am scared because I will once again be facing my greatest adversary. With us being near, the enemy will not prevail in his schemes against our children.

Please let our Exodus be in August! Please help us. Lord, if my daughter or us moving is not in Your Will, please slam shut every door."

Jesus: "It is not My Will for your heart to be broken. This here is always your Home." He pointed to Himself. "I know your children's struggles. It has not been easy for them, but especially for your daughter. The enemy enjoys menacing her using others. However, I will open doors for you."

Me: "Lord, this is really scary. The thought of this is scary. You have sheltered us this entire time. You have sustained us."

Jesus: "I have also nurtured your husband during this time. His heart is healed and his wings are ready to fly."

Me: "Why now, Lord?"

Jesus: "Erin, a pregnancy is 40 weeks. Your husband has been in a rebirthing cycle. However, this time it took 40 months. He needed to be supported by those closest to him. All of you have supported him."

Me: "You have had my husband and I work on a complex project. Why have we done all of this?"

Jesus: "So that you both together see that, if I am with you, whatever I call you to do, or wherever I take you, then nothing shall be impossible to Me. Nothing. You also made some important changes. While you are letting go, you are not finished yet. Even though you have great tasks ahead, I will supernaturally strengthen you as you prepare your house for the change of season."

Me: "I am not sure how all of this will happen. This is impossible for me to..."

Jesus: "Yes, but you are not finished yet. Do not worry, Erin. With your daughter, she is also My Vessel. Did I not just use her to get you and your husband to step out of your comfort zone? If you believe all of your life have been miraculous as I have taken you through all of your troubles, parted the seas for you and delivered you to a place of rest far, far away from your enemies until the day I call you out."

I felt distressed here and must have shown it on my face.

Jesus: "Wait. I can see it on your face right now. How? How did I deliver your husband from an impossible situation and bring him to retrieve you to the place I built for you? How did I remove your children to join you on the very day I said I would deliver you? How did I confuse your clever enemy into releasing you? Who closed the doors on your daughter? Who allowed your older son to shelter in place to keep him from the enemy's plots? Who prepared a safe place for you?"

"Erin, this is about you, your husband, your children and your friends. All of this has been life lived in great faith, great hope and great love, all because I am with you. Now, Erin, I am about to do even greater things than this. I have prepared your hearts. I have readied your hands for battle. Now see what I will do for those I call Mine, for those whose hope is in Me. It is I who kept you all separated from wicked people.

"While you are comfortable in the house I built for you and the property I have given you, you have never felt connected to the peoples around you. None of them are part of your lives. They are in your lives only in a small way, like a passerby. Again, I allowed this. Had I made it too comfortable for you, you would have been influenced by those who do not believe I am the God of all miracles."

Me: "This is You, Lord, right?"

Jesus: Laughing. "Is this you, Erin?"

Me: Now laughing. "Yes, Lord."

Jesus: "Do not inform the enemy of your plans. Your daughter must remain quiet. So too shall your children. Think of this differently as I see your worried expression. While you are overwhelmed at the thought of all of this, don't be."

Me: "Lord, I look awful. I am not well. How can I do this? Please strengthen me."

Jesus: "I will. Now, do not look back. Look to Me. I have a place here. I will place several items on your husband's heart. I will heal him and strengthen him. He will have a great skip in his step as you make plans together. He will see My... what does he call this... genius."

Me: "He also says 'do you see what the Lord is doing here? He is brilliant... incomprehensible!'"

Jesus: "Oh, go on!" He laughed. "Now, remember to ask big of Me and I will do even more."

Me: "At times, it seems that we do ask, but You then seem quiet. At times, we do what You ask, but You then also seem quiet."

Jesus: "Hmm, this is not truth. Erin, perhaps I was in preparation. Quiet, I am not. I can be certain that I have never revoked a promise. I will not start now. I understand. This will be difficult, but only for a short time. All will then change. Now rejoice, Erin. I have prepared a place for you."

Me: "Will we know?"

Jesus: Smiling. "Yes, you will. You will know. Remember that I am with you in all things, both great and small. Now, take courage, Erin."

I was quiet. I was trying to figure out how this can happen.

Jesus: "I will provide for you. You will know." He smiled. "I love you, Erin!" He hugged me.

Dream over.

Dream 501 – Eaglets Being Pushed out of the Eagle’s Nest

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day! Thank You for all that we have. Thank You for my husband, my children and my friends. These can never be replaced in my heart. They are forever etched in my being. They are gifts from You. They are greater than any prize or banner. No thing, nothing, compares to Your love.

Still, I have not stopped crying everyday since Tuesday. It is not a continuous cry, but sporadic and unexpected at times. I am grieving in my Spirit. Changes are coming. My husband and I did some things as You had called us to. This has mainly been in the past year and some of it did not make sense in the natural based on our circumstances. In the end, we did all that You required of us to Your glory.

Father, You brought us from strength to strength on a very difficult series of tasks. Although we have questions about the mystery of why, we never question the greatness and power of You over all things. I had a dream or vision recently...

Sub-dream 1 “Outside of my comfort zone” begins...

I believe I was lucid. You showed me little things that You were doing to push me out of my comfort zone. I saw signs and wonders that matched this. While I knew You were behind all of it, I was having a hard time accepting fully what was happening.

Sub-dream 1 over.

Prior to the one-year lockdown from the pandemic, in January of 2020, You gave my husband and I the sign of the corona. I have photos. It was incredible. We somehow knew at the time that this sign somehow signified the beginning of troubles across the land. During this time, You showed me my routine based on my physical limitations. We were free to move about and breathe.

After talking to some of my friends in Houlton ME, they too had seen signs that something big was about to happen. While we kept these thoughts in mind, we then watched as the rumors began to move from a passing thought to actual live scenarios. We were enjoying our regular routine of our drives to Houlton. We would stop in and visit some of our favorite places.

I purchased some painter's masks and some disinfectant in the first week of February 2020 'just in case'. I then began to keep more provisions for emergencies. Others must have been feeling the same push as by the third week in February we were beginning to see shortages.

In the middle of February 2020, my husband and I became really sick. It was flu-like. We had never had such a horrible flu as this one. We then recovered from this, but didn't think anything of it because the virus was not yet widespread in the USA and Canada (as far as we had been told).

Shortly after this, we had the opportunity to drive the family to a Christian concert with Jeremy Camp and MercyMe. We were partly able to go to this because my daughter was working at a radio station at the time. While we were supposed to meet the band beforehand, this was mysteriously cancelled without notice. This was just two weeks prior to the lockdowns. The tour was called 'Almost Home' and 'I still believe'.

This would turn out to be the last trip as a family that we took together. It was a very long day trip, but it was fun and so worth it. The Lord then reminded me of the things we used to enjoy regularly with freedom and no fear. We attended our regular church services and prayer nights. My daughter was preparing to graduate from high school. My husband's son was accepted into a program that is difficult to get into.

While life was normal, all started to change, especially recently. In essence, so many of my great joys to look forward to have been moved or taken away. However, I now realize that this was You, Father. You give and take away. Blessed are You. Even when it is hard for us to understand or grasp, blessed is Your Name.

You are transitioning me away from so many things. As just one example, I have slowly noticed the animals and birds I am feeding are not bonding with me like they had. I have also lost my luster for certain hobbies I once had. These just don't seem to matter anymore. This all came to a head on Tuesday when my daughter announced she wanted to go out West for school.

Adding to this was the disappointment of my husband not getting a job he had really wanted. It would have been ideal, allowing him to work from home. We then found out that the job had been filled by someone less qualified as a matter of 'equity and inclusion'. Being an older white male is just not the ideal demographic for job searches right now... smiles.

Oh Father, I just know that it is You telling me that big changes are coming soon. For us doing this alone... well, this would be impossible. I keep hearing Your Voice saying to me 'Prepare your house, Erin... winterize!' Well, summer has just begun, why winterize? The thoughts of winter are far from me. Still, You are wise, Father, so I will do as You ask. Perhaps we are preparing for foul weather vs winter weather?

Father, You have been isolating us as well. Each one of our kids have had good friends at some point, but, as of right now, every single one of them have moved on to other places. I have a few good friends, but they also have moved or are too busy to get together. I am no better. One friend I have has many of the same connections as me in Oregon. We have now cancelled on each other about 15 times now.

You recently allowed the injury to my foot. You did this so that You would have my undivided attention and focus on You. Well, it worked. If You had not allowed this, I would be more distracted due to having more mobility than I have right now. Well, Father, with my daughter about to leave, You now have my full and undivided attention!

I will miss my daughter. She worships You fearlessly and is unafraid. I have her on film worshipping You without her knowing I was filming her. The love she has for You is reflected in her actions. The joy is on her face and heart. She is a warrior. She is like I want to be. I know I have done four things right – all three of my kids love You and I married my husband. This was all by Your Divine Direction.

I remember a certain saying I used to whisper to my daughter when she was little. She was my sweet pea... 'We have lots to do, me and you. We have lots to see, baby pea.' While things are hoped for, things don't always happen as we expected. Dreams are altered and changed. Dreams are dropped and replaced. New dreams are formed. This all reminds me of one of my favorite stories that I used to read to my children... 'Three Trees by Max Lucado'.

Once upon a mountain top, three little trees stood and dreamed of what they wanted to become when they grew up.

The first little tree looked at the stars and said: "I want to hold treasure. I want to be covered with gold and filled with precious stones. I will be the most beautiful treasure chest in the world!"

The second little tree looked out at the small stream trickling by on its way to the ocean. "I want to be traveling mighty waters and carrying powerful kings. I'll be the strongest ship in the world!"

The third little tree looked down into the valley below where busy men and women worked in a busy town. "I don't want to leave the mountain top at all. I want to grow so tall that when people look at me, they'll raise their eyes to heaven and think of God. I will be the tallest tree in the world."

Years passed. The rains came, the sun shone and the three little trees grew tall. One day, three woodcutters climbed the mountain. The first woodcutter looked at the first tree and said, "This tree is beautiful. It is perfect for me." With a swoop of his shining axe, the first tree fell. "Now I shall be made into a beautiful chest, I shall hold wonderful treasure!", the first tree said. The second woodcutter looked at the second tree and said

"This tree is strong. It is perfect for me." With a swoop of his shining axe the second tree fell. "Now I shall sail mighty waters" thought the second tree "I shall be a strong ship for mighty kings!"

The third tree felt her heart sink when the last woodcutter looked her way. She stood straight and tall and pointed bravely to Heaven. But the woodcutter never even looked up. "Any kind of tree will do for me," he uttered. With a swoop of his shining axe the third tree fell.

The first tree rejoiced when the woodcutter brought her to a carpenter's shop, but the carpenter fashioned her into a feed box for animals. The once beautiful tree was not covered with gold nor with treasure. She was coated in sawdust and filled with hay for hungry farm animals.

The second tree smiled when the woodcutter took her to a shipyard, but no mighty sailing ship was made that day. Instead, the once strong tree was hammered and sawed into a simple fishing boat. She was too small and too weak to sail to an ocean, or even a river, instead she was taken to a little lake.

The third tree was confused when the woodcutter cut her into strong beams and left her in a lumberyard. "What happened?" the once tall tree wondered. "All I ever wanted was to stay on the mountain top and point to God."

Many, many days and nights passed. The three trees nearly forgot their dreams. But one night a golden starlight poured over the first tree as a woman placed her newborn baby in the feed box. "I wish I could make a cradle for him," her husband whispered. The mother squeezed his hand and smiled as the starlight shone on the smooth and sturdy wood. "This manger is beautiful" she said. And suddenly the first tree knew that he was holding the greatest treasure in the world...

One evening a tired traveler and his friends crowded into the old fishing boat. The traveler fell asleep as the second tree sailed quietly out into the lake. Soon a thundering and thrashing storm arose. The little tree shuddered, she knew she didn't have the strength to carry so many passengers safely through the wind and the rain. The tired man awakened. He stood up, stretched out his hand and said "Peace". The storm stopped as quickly as it had begun. And suddenly the second tree knew that she was carrying the King of heaven and earth.

One (Wednesday) morning, the third tree was startled when her beams were yanked from the forgotten woodpile. She flinched as she was carried through an angry jeering crowd. She shuddered when soldiers nailed a man's hands to her. She felt ugly harsh and cruel. But, on Sunday morning, when the sun rose and the earth trembled with joy beneath her, the third tree knew that God's love had changed everything. It had made the third tree strong. And every time people thought of the third tree, they would think of God. That was better than being the tallest tree in the world.

Wow, what a great story! My kids just loved this story. What a gift from the great story writer, Max Lucado! Oh Lord, thank You for inspiring him to write this classic! Oh Father, please help us. Please grant us hope and a future. Please grant us hope!

Jesus: "Erin, come up."

I heard a knock at the front door. It was Jesus. He was smiling. I was crying so hard that I could barely breathe. He opened the door, came in and lifted me up. He then carried me outside to the area of our yard where the bridge to Heaven is. He set me down on a rock.

Jesus: "I had to bring you out here to the stream so that your tears would have a place to go and your home would not flood." He smiled, but I still had tears coming down my cheeks. "Erin, you are standing on solid rock, a firm foundation. You are here at the place where you are married to Me. This is the place where Heaven meets Earth. All of your children will return here. This is now their home. Do you understand?"

Me: Still crying. "I think so. I just... well, I just will look at everything in terms of my daughter until she comes back home. She is as beautiful to me as a flower or the stars in the sky. She is like a sunset or a rainbow in the sky to me. This is just so hard. It is so difficult because she is going to the frontline of a great conflict out there. How can I protect her from here? I can't!"

Jesus: "Erin, your daughter is Mine. Give her to Me. I loved her first. I spoke her into being. My favor is upon you. You must trust Me with her. I love you. I don't like seeing you grieve like this."

Me: "Lord, please heal me. Lord, please heal my broken heart. Please do all that You promised. If You tarry, I will surely die of sorrow and loss. I want to see all of Your promises come. I had prepared, Lord. I have prepared for what I thought everything would look like. However, I am now not sure. We prepared the house for summer. While You say 'great job', you then say 'winterize'. Well, summer is here and spring has left. Fall is before winter. Fall isn't even here yet. Please help!"

Jesus: "Erin, Erin, Erin... why do you grieve so? I am taking you to the land you love, the place you often grieve over. Will I now take your dreams and your daughter's too and not let you enjoy peace and comfort? No. I closed doors and used your daughter to draw you out. If I had not used her, name one other from your home that could get you to step out of the boat?"

Me: "You are right, Lord. I am sorry."

Jesus: "Now, I have instructions for various tasks that need to be completed to prepare your house here. I will then send you out right after your daughter. You will spend time in the areas I send you. I will then make clear the plans I have for you. I know you are worried as you know of the various giants in the land. However, the land is Mine. So too are the mountains, the valleys, the lakes and the streams.

“I have prepared a place for you near My Altar. Here where you stand now is the place you have been married to Me, both you and your husband too. It is the home I built for you. Erin, I know that you have sacrificed your life in pursuit of Me. Now give Me the chance to carry you once again. Allow Me to carry you. I will carry your husband, all of your children and your friends too.”

Me: I reached over and hugged Him. “Thank You, Lord.”

Jesus: “Now, prepare your house. Finish your projects. Complete your task of removing forgotten things and storehouses of clutter. These are burdensome, not joyful. Removing this will make your heart glad. Fortify your property and give Me all that you have, holding nothing from Me. Then watch as I do immeasurably more.

“I have you, Erin. I will not let you fall. I am with you. I am in you, beside you and I take up your guard. I go before you where your feet walk. I am also your Chuppah (meaning that He is her cover).” He smiled. “As you move forward by faith, I will strengthen you more and more every day.

Your journey is about to begin, Erin. Your wait is now over. Rejoice, rejoice.”

Dream over.

Communion

Dear Father,

Happy 4th of July!!!!

Thank You for another day! Thank You for my husband, children and family of friends. Father, please bless them supernaturally in all things. It is cloudy and cool with a heavy mist in the air this morning. I went to feed the animals today, but none came to greet me. They are now indifferent. While they still want the food I have to offer, they no longer care about me. It will make the transition when I stop much easier.

For the third time this week, I was awakened by a woodpecker. This was a new variety, a ladderback who insists that the side of our home right by my nightstand is a good place for nuts and grub. Even though it is so loud it rattles items inside the house, my husband sleeps right through it. However, that is not what woke me up from my slumber this morning. It was instead how God would make all of what He spoke of in the last dream possible. To me, it is all impossible.

My injury makes traveling extremely uncomfortable. I am not nimble. I hate traveling as it always comes with significant pain. This neck of mine is fractured in two areas. It hurts. In my prayers this morning, I found myself complaining about how physically difficult this new call from God is in my life. This also feels like a physical split, a split between two very different places.

First off, there is the place where we are now, our home here in the trees. Secondly, there is the place where my heart truly is, our non-existent home in the West. Even going there to investigate will be a huge undertaking. I really feel that my questions are valid based on our current great limitations. For example, how will my husband walk into a company, hand them a resume and get hired? This is impossible for someone in his particular field. I know that I can't work, so how will this be?

More than all of this is the sorrow of the way we have come to work together as a family unit. There has been peace for all of these years. With my Asperger's sons, this is truly a miracle! While things crop up as they do in any family, we come together and resolve the issues. With my daughter leaving, this just doesn't feel the same. It is really getting the best of me and I am crying sporadically because of this.

I have been talking to God about the events He has shown me out West. How will anyone survive the stuff that is coming? My daughter, along with any other of God's children there, will need Divine Strength and Intervention. As I spoke to Him on this while being in great despair, I heard His Voice...

The Voice of God: "Erin, Erin, Erin... I give you the Oil of Gilead and the Healing Springs of Negev."

Me: "Father, will these come to me or will I go to them? Will these heal me or will they heal the land? Where is Gilead? Where is Negev?"

The Voice of God: "You will know, Erin, you will know."

This was then interrupted by the pecking of the Ladderback Woodpecker. This bird visitor reminded me of the months leading up to my departure from the desert to here. I would receive visits from a purple finch. One famous birder once called the purple finch 'a sparrow dipped in raspberry juice.' Well, this purple finch would peck at the glass window of my office in the final months leading to my departure from the desert.

The desert to the trees transition had been marked with miracle after miracle. It had to be as I could not see a clear path aside from God on my own. Still, I have tried to be careful about how I boast of God's miracles in our lives. I feel that I am to mostly keep to myself the unique ways in which God carried out the miracles of our release until He tells me I am allowed to share more.

My fear is that boasting of His ways would make it look like we are higher than others... more holy or more worthy. Well, we are not! I pressed into God for years looking for answers, saying 'why are You silent?' At the time, all I mainly got was punishment after punishment. I would then ask 'what did I do to deserve such treatment?' No answer! I would then consult ministry leaders and pastors.

I went to tent revivals. I went to deliverance ministry sessions. I repented. I prayed. I fasted and prayed. Still nothing. God was particularly silent during my hammering years of 2003 to 2008. Still nothing. I received nothing but humiliation after humiliation. Anyone I consulted would then explain it was because of my 'hidden sins'. Well, what were they? I searched for it and repented often, but did it remain hidden?

I pressed in even more. It was then that my heart stopped for the second time. Well, God certainly now had my undivided attention. I was alone in my decision making and prayers. People I consulted avoided me because I had an experience with Heaven. I was then placed into the 'crazy category' by so many. There was then a call for me to have a mental evaluation.

To keep my children, I needed proof that I was stable. In the meantime, my civil liberties were being stripped. I fought back as I wanted to keep my children. While my older son was already living with my enemy, they were now trying to take my other two. In the end, they were unsuccessful because of my daughter. She had great grades, consistent attendance and was loved by her peers and teachers.

Since she was always raised by me, this showed that I was a stable parental figure. They then came to the conclusion that any problems with my sons were because of issues related to their Asperger's and their exposure to their father's abuse. As has been a pattern before and since, the Lord then used my physical injuries to move me where my sons were in the desert.

This was the greatest heat of my journey. This was my furnace of affliction. My agony was in the desert. It was scary as I knew I was now trapped there. In order to have consistent access to my older son, I decided to give in and bloom in the desert. Well, after three years of hammering, the dreams came. They came in like a flood from Heaven in 2012. This would then lead to so many changes, including where I live now.

If God would have told me in 2012 that I would be married and have all of my children with me in a place far away within three years, I would have thought myself crazy. Well, 3300 miles later and deliverance on the exact day He said He would, I am anything but crazy! There were miracles after miracles. We did everything exactly as He had instructed us and everything went smoothly as a result.

God even showed me what the house would look like where we were to go. This house wasn't on the market yet, so there was no way to know it existed in advance. Well, this house then pops up for sale one day. In a strange turn of events, the people who built it came into trouble after trouble with the project. They even endured a hurricane, knocking out their power that solidified their decision to leave.

While we wouldn't find out until later, we were then able to purchase this house at an incredibly great price. For the same price as in the Tri-Cities, we would get a mobile home on a small piece of land. My husband made a reasonable offer and all was signed within a couple of days. The sellers decided not to entertain any other offers. While other offers came in, God solidified the miracle and granted us the house He built for us.

I certainly had my doubts and fears during all of this. It was a huge thing. I was scared. I started to run from God as a result. It made no sense. I was spending more time at work and at the gym with my kids than with the Lord. This all changed when I had to drive from my much-loved Bend OR for some projects to the Tri-Cities WA. The very next morning when I arrived at the office, I needed to unload my car.

It was May 8, 2014 and everything was about to change. I only had about twenty minutes to unload my car in time for my 9:00am meeting. The showroom was torn apart for the remodel. I was navigating different floor levels. My last load I was carrying consisted of a box load of tile mosaics. My foot got caught under the edge of the carpet and I went into a devastating fall.

After hitting a tile display, I landed on the edge of the table with my head. My face ended up into the mosaics and trims. All of this came crashing to the floor and broke into pieces. I yelled for help, but no one heard me. I knew I was in trouble as I could feel the pain resonate immediately. I was struggling as I tried to pick up the broken pieces. Just then, my client came in. She told me to go to the hospital now. I did.

Well, the rest is history. Father, You used this injury to close doors in the desert. You forced me to leave using this injury. Father, please don't allow troubles to fall upon us. We are doing as You ask. Please forgive me for questioning You in anything. As our Most High God and the Creator of both Heaven and Earth, we ask You to please make a way for us and to make it obvious.

Jesus: "Erin, come up."

There was knocking at the door. I hobbled to the door and there was Jesus. He opened the door. When He took my hand, I was completely healed. Oh, how I long for this to happen fully in real life. I cried as I hugged Him. I could not stop crying.

Me: "Lord, I need You. I need Your strength and love. Please protect us. My children have come against unreasonable attacks recently. I am exhausted. Are my prayers even getting through to You?"

Jesus: "Hmm, are My answers to your prayers not being returned? Are your children not safe? Has My cover not come?"

Me: "Of course it has. Lord, You asked for me to pray BIG, so I will. Lord, please do the impossible for us, but even greater. My daughter is leaving in 18 days (July 22, 2021), which means I really only have 17 more full days with her. It isn't becoming easier. I know You are using her to draw us out, but don't allow my heart to be destroyed by losing her completely. Please keep her safe. Please keep Your covering, Your Chuppah, over her.

"I wake up and I am old and in great pain. I need something extremely supernatural from You. Today is the 4th of July. While this is supposed to be our nation's Independence Day, the enemy has instead turned the nation into a country I don't recognize, one without justice, one with a wound which does not stop bleeding. There is no cure. While the nation's people were being sheltered at home, a cloud of darkness swept across the lands.

"They removed our freedom and brought in foreigners to pillage our earnings. There are even groups who claim sovereignty and seek to take homes, property and even highways. Law enforcement is scarce and the cities are now unsafe to walk in. Segregation is becoming worse as the land once dedicated to You is now a land of slavery. Everything the enemy accuses us of are the very things they are doing. They will soon make us denounce You, Lord."

Jesus: "Just because the enemy appears to be advancing in the hearts of men, the enemy is an enemy and those witnessing this know it is evil. The enemy will be stopped. Those who turn to Me to be saved will be helped. The others will need to run and hide. However, no matter where they go, they will be found. I will send a New Wave of Peace on the Wings of an Eagle.

"An order of peace will be sent throughout the land. Praises of joy, the cymbals and the tambourines, will go out in front of My Army, a New Revolution. While the music will make many hearts glad, the enemy will tremble in fear as they will know that I have sent peace and truth. The mouths of the wicked and corrupt will confess in public spaces. It is written that I will cause your enemies who rise against you to be defeated before you

"They will come against you in one direction, but will flee from you in seven directions. They will be unsuccessful. As they run to the hills, their mouths will be unable to speak curses. Their mouths will instead condemn themselves. Now, don't rejoice at the punishment of the wicked. You must instead focus on that which was poured out over you... the Oil of Gladness, the Healing Balm of Gilead. The Springs of Living Water have been poured over you and soon from the Healing Reservoirs of Heaven."

Me: "Negev?"

Jesus: "Well, like Negev, but much better. Now, you are not delusional. It has been Me that has given you dreams and visions of what is coming to the lands. I also understand that you fear that you will be where the troubles are. Just know that, when the days of trouble come, you will be removed to a safe place."

Me: "But, Lord, I have seen myself there."

Jesus: "Yes, but you won't be of the world. You will go on My behalf and I will send out many more. This is so you can witness to the stubborn late grapes who cling to the vines. I will then call My Elect to the valley. There you will be hidden in mountain clefts awaiting the end of the rise of the enemy and to usher Me into 'The City'."

Me: "Lord, will I be there like in my dreams?"

Jesus: Laughing. "Yes, but you did not understand this until now. Now, if I have already told you your outcome and I have told you your children are Mine and I have them, then too can you trust Me to carry you to the place I have planned for you?"

Me: Crying. "Yes, Lord. Do You mean the cave?"

Jesus: Shaking His head good-naturedly. "Oh Erin, much has to occur before you arise from the cleft of the mountain. I am speaking of today and each day forward."

Me: Still crying. "Yes, Lord. Without You carrying me, I won't make it on my own. It is impossible. I know Your heart is so good. I know Your love for us is true. You are always faithful even when I must frustrate You. You are always quick to turn with love and compassion. When we wait on You, we have success. When we move on our own, we fail.

"Though You allowed adversity to feed me and suffering was the quencher of my thirst, You were still there with me to teach me. I have seen You, Lord. I hear You. With my arm, I reach to You and there You take hold of my right hand. With tears streaming down my cheeks, You wipe them away, each one. It was Your Voice on my rock path who said 'this is the way you should go... I am here... Walk with Me.'

"You even met me at a river with me and my children and carried us one-by-one across swift currents which should have consumed us. You took us on a journey with You from the home we loved (Bend OR) to the desert (Tri-Cities WA) and then to the land of the trees. There You spoke to us in the meadow. There we raised our children and healed their hearts and afflictions.

"It is here that we learned to let go of the things of the world, distractions of idols, and put these away behind us forever. Here we grew closer as a family, a special seven years. While this has not always been easy, I was able to experience what it was like to be a full-time mother to my children.

"Here we were away from the enemy and focused on healing and growing them into Your Kingdom Warriors. It is also here where we are near Heaven, the place where we are married to You, Beulah. We have done all You have asked of us. Our quiver has been prepared for the day You call us into Your service, into Your presence." Yes, I was still crying... smiles.

Jesus: He reached over and hugged me. "Oh Erin, I will soon bless you with plenty. It is written that when your enemies are removed and the towers fall, there will be streams of water flowing down every mountain and hill. It is written that the moon will be as bright as the sun and the sun will be seven times brighter, like all of the light of seven days into one day.

"So, it will be like this when I heal My people and cure their wounds I have given them. Erin, do you understand what I am saying? If My Spirit is upon you and I am in you, then nothing shall be impossible for you. I have made your feet like that of a deer." He smiled. "Though you call yourself unloved, you are loved. Erin, you are greatly loved by Me. I pulled you from the mire and set your feet upon solid rock.

"This place here is Beulah and you are Mine, understand? No scheme of the enemy or that of man can keep you from Me. This is also for your husband, your children and those close to you." He hugged me. "Now rejoice, Erin. Do not be afraid. I am with you and I delight in you."

Me: "Even with my tears of sadness?"

Jesus: "Especially with your tears of sorrow. Am I not a Big God that I should shy away from the tears of those who are broken? Now, allow Me to carry you. Again, do not be afraid. Nothing will come against you all of your days. I love you. My plans are to bless you. You will never stop singing songs of joy."

Me: "Lord, You are such a blessing to me. I am honored that You would love me and choose me for times such as this. Please grant me strength, wisdom and knowledge from You so that I never bring disgrace upon Your Name. Please bring only great healing and joy to those who mourn. Allow me to carry with me the Good News of Your Great Love and Promises."

Jesus: Hugging me. "Your request is given and honored. Now sing praises. You are loved by the King." He smiled.

Dream over.

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day here! Thank You for my children, my husband and our friends. Thank You for this beautiful place You have built for us. Please bless all we have, Father, as we give all things to You. There is nothing in our own power we have done that glorifies You. If anything, all we have ever done apart from You is completely useless. I look around me and I am in awe of You, Father.

I want to especially thank You for my daughter, my special gift from You. We went through 19 years of difficulties together, often against all odds. We drew even closer during the lockdowns as we saw her final milestones of high school graduation and her first year of college. Even though I had concerns at times that she would drift away from You, she never did. Quite the opposite! Sigh... She only has 11 days left here.

Even though I have experienced troubles of every kind, I know that Your promises are true. You give, take and restore. You reconcile our hearts. I am so sorry that I am struggling so much with my sorrows. You are calling us out of the wilderness. We have grown accustomed to our lives here, waiting on Your promises and callings in our lives. While we have prepared for this day, we now need Your help more than ever.

You know our needs before we ask it. Had we just continued with our existence here, our children would surely have left us one-by-one. Well, it happened sooner than I had expected. You have now used my daughter to call us out. While everyone in our house has peace about her decision, I am still not at peace. While I trust You, I still have questions. I was hoping that You would have mercy on me by now via miracles.

While I had lost everything, including my health, You then spared my life and even returned my sons. While you moved us many times, this has been the only place we have been truly set apart from my enemies. When I have obeyed Your calls, I have absolutely succeeded. When I have run away from Your calls, I have been swallowed by whales. Even so, You then have mercy on me and bring me back on track. You are so awesome and worthy of all of our praises!

Jesus: "Erin, come up."

Jesus was knocking at the door of our home. I opened the door and He was smiling.

Me: "Please come in!"

Jesus: "You called, Erin?"

Me: Reaching over to hug Him. "Lord, all that matters is my family and our friends. All of this means nothing if I were to lose my husband, children or friends. I couldn't imagine it. I am attached to nothing. Things hold memories like markers or measures of time. They are reminders of great hopes and dreams. Lord, You are calling us to go into the land of the giants. These giants scare me and I need You to go before me.

"I have been tricked before because I never thought my enemy was as evil as he proved to be. I was taken advantage of in Bend OR. It was there that the enemy picked off my supposed strengths one after another. We were made vulnerable. We were like sitting ducks on a calm pond that never saw the hunters in the tall grass. Things compounded from there. Clients turned on me.

"Clients came after me for the very things they had done to me. They did this out of the fear that they would need to pay me what they truly owed me. My employer, who was also my good friend (or so I thought), took advantage of my situation and purchased my very best items at a fraction of their value. My heart literally hurt. Not wanting to claim victimization and personal defeat, I was drawn out of my cave.

"Lord, my heart hurts thinking of all of this. It was horrible and it became even worse. I have some of my fondest memories in Bend OR, but also some of my worst."

Jesus: Hugging me. "I know, Erin. It is difficult when people falsely accuse you of wrongdoing. I understand all of this as I was with you. I was also falsely accused of many things, even by those very same people who had witnessed My miracles. They then labeled My miracles as witchcraft. You were not with Me when I withered the fig tree or toppled the Temple. Contrary to what the enemy would say, I am not a weak, passive or frail God."

Me: Laughing. "Absolutely NOT! You are actually quite muscular!"

Jesus: Laughing. "Good! We have then established this. While I do become angry, here is the difference... I am in control over it. I am not subject to anger. Emotions like anger are subject to Me, understand? This is the difference between you and Me. You struggle to control emotions even though you were taught that emotions are a sign of loss of control. Erin, what I have taught you in your journey here is to remain truthful.

“Stand on a firm foundation. My Word is a lamp unto your feet on a dark and, at times, crooked path, with many peaks and valleys. What I am saying is this... a fool allows emotions to control them and lies to cover up. Wisdom is embracing truth. When you come to Me in tears, these are real and true. This is a sign of joy, relief, love, worry, pain, brokenness and on and on. I know your pain, Erin.

“I know it has been a difficult road for you. At times, you have allowed Me to carry you. At times, you tried to do it on your own. When you did, it did not go well for you. Regardless, I was always there to help you. Erin, I have never deserted you. You searched for Me and here I can be found by you. You are tired and afraid right now. Your sense of loss is equal to losing someone to the grave. However, do not think of these things.”

Me: “But, Lord... My daughter's fish, named Heaven, is dying no matter what we do. It feels like a sign. My jasmine tree is also now dying and for no good reason. Not only that, but the animals and birds do not seem connected to me. Zoey is not moving around very well either. Lord, You called us Your Arrows. These should be strong and sharp, but the years have made the tips dull and our pinions dormant.

“Still, I know that You are here with me. You have done so much for me. You have been kind to me even when others weren't. You sat in the vacant chair next to me in church. Lord, please remain with me now. Please don't leave me even for a moment. Without You, I am nothing. Without the laughter of our children, these rooms will echo with silence. Please hear my petitions...

“Lord, give me all You have promised so that my children can see all they have hoped for. Lord, am I going back there (Bend OR) as I am now just to see giants and realize how small I am? Lord, would You consider healing us before we leave? The landscape has changed. Your people cry out day and night. Will You not consider performing a great miracle for us?”

Jesus: Reaching over to hug me. “I have you, Erin. You are with Me. All will soon be reconciled. I have shown you Heaven and the Home I built for you there. Heaven is without pain and without illness. Heaven is without poverty and pestilence. Heaven is free from fear of the unknown, the hidden enemy.

Erin, it is I Who establishes a man's days. It is I Who calls a child Home in My arms. This is because their life has been giving to Me for My purposes. Erin, all are born and all must die. However, there is still something else...”

Me: “Yes, Lord... Enoch and Elijah did not suffer death!”

Jesus: “Yes, Erin. I am the God of the dead and the living. While death seems final, it is not final for those who call upon My Name.”

Me: Now crying. "Lord, why are we speaking of death?"

Jesus: "Because you fear this... not for yourself, but for your loved ones. Erin, I didn't call you to plan funerals here. You are allowing emotions to govern you. You are to remember that My promises are true instead. The floodgates of your worries are breaking through the dam of your faith in Me."

Me: "I am sorry, Lord. It's just that I am at my worst physically. I am ill-equipped to handle what comes aside from You. I love You. I just thought all of this would look different than it has turned out to be. Time keeps going."

Jesus: "Then give all of this to Me. You worry about many things. The storm from the south never harmed you here. Come!"

He reached for my hand and walked me to our stream. It was now raging from the rain from the storm. Jesus pointed to the little crude bridge my husband had built. The raging water had broken the little bridge into two pieces.

Me: "It was not properly anchored on the sides and it was too low to handle the rush of water."

Jesus: "Who built it?"

Me: I laughed as I knew that He already knew. "Well, it was me pointing and my husband placing. It was makeshift from leftover wood."

Jesus: "Remember that I am your bridge. Remember this in all that you do. Large or small, remember to dedicate all of this to Me. I will be with you in these things. Remember... winds come, rains fall, threats rage... but, Erin, I am with you. I calm the wind, stop the flood and cure the crisis. It is I who says 'Erin, this is the way... walk in it.' I have you, your daughters, your sons, your husband and your friends. Nothing will be impossible for you. We are just beginning. I have a great plan in place. Now, do not fear. Be strong and take courage. I am with you, understand?"

Me: He looked me in the eyes as I wept. "Yes, Lord."

Jesus: Smiling. "Remember that all your eyes see is Mine. It is I who gave it to you. No power of hell nor scheme of man could ever take you from My hands, understand? Now, I need you to believe Me. Believe in My promises. Look what I have done so far. Was this on your own strength? Do you write? Do you determine dreams in your sleeping hours or visions as you sit with eyes wide open? No, this is impossible.

"I have given you these dreams and visions. I have kept you from the Fowler's Snare. Death's grip was unable to overcome you. My Bride will be strengthened like Enoch and Elijah, but also in meekness and stature like Esther. Since I will be with you, fear will grip your enemies. They will also know that I am in you. Now rejoice, My Arrow..." He smiled. "...I love you."

Me: "I love You, Lord."

Jesus: "Now, continue to pray and do not worry. Rebuild your bridge. Spend these days in prayer with your daughter. You have a few tasks left here."

Me: "What does this mean?"

Jesus: "You are securing your house and preparing to leave."

Me: "When, Lord? For how long?"

Jesus: "You will go out to survey the land that I have called you to. You will then come back and prepare for what I have next. Do not worry. I am not calling you or your children to sleep. I am instead calling for you to... oh, what is that term..." He smiled and nudged me. "...oh yes... winterize."

Me: "What should winterize mean to us?"

Jesus: "Pray and I will instruct you. Trust in Me. I will provide all things, understand?"

Me: "Yes, Lord."

Jesus: Reaching over to hug me. "Good!"

Dear Father,

I am struggling and I mean really struggling! I am thankful that I am alive. I am thankful for my husband, our children and our home. I am thankful for our Nest family. It has meant so much to us, especially with my husband not having work over these last 40 months. It has given him the opportunity to serve you and follow his own spiritual journey of chasing You.

Father, I have only six full days left with my daughter. It is so difficult to watch her pack up and be so excited to go. Still, I am happy for her to begin a new chapter, her own journey. I just pray it will lead her near where I am one day. I pray she will be kept safe in Your arms. Oh Father, may not one hair on her head be harmed.

I pray she meets a special helpmate where she is going, someone who will be a mighty man of God. I pray that You will be with her wherever she goes. When I was born from my mother's womb, my daughter's egg was already in me. You were already knitting her in my mother's womb as You were already knitting me.

For the last few days, I have been packing away memory souvenirs that have served as markers of time. My devotional room is filled with past hopes and future dream relics. There are so many things that make me smile. Some are inspirational treasures. As I looked around, something hit me. This was advanced because of my daughter's soon departure.

It is time to let go of what will never be here. It is time to move ahead from dreams to living out my purpose. If I had just stayed in this room the way it was, my heart would be filled with such emptiness. My hopes and dreams never came true in the way I had envisioned that they would.

I held onto my golf clubs that my mom had bought me. They are Titleist DT irons that were perfectly designed for me. I could even spin my ball backwards on the green. Sigh... my accident removed my ability to play again. However, it never stole my dreams that You would restore this ability someday.

On my shelves near my devotional chair, I have some small antique porcelain ballerinas. They are all flawed. There are chips and broken ballet skirts. They are just like how I was as a dancer and they make me laugh. They still symbolize a promise You made to me. Father, You promised that, one day soon, I would dance here as I do in Heaven. I am holding tightly to this great promise.

I also have a collection of porcelain birds. There are many varieties, all symbolizing the birds in our yard or nearby. I have some old vessels also. Some were gifts. Hmm, actually, almost everything around me are gifts from all over the world and from different periods of time.

Father, I pray that my journey delights You. I have spent all of these years in a body that is broken. On days like today when the atmosphere is so heavy, every joint in my body hurts. I spent most of my children's lives being injured. I had hoped that I could be an active mom. Well, now my daughter will be with her relatives who are active. It will be better for her. I am happy for her.

To further crush my spirit, the threat to close my medical case has begun again. The independent medical doctors, who are actually not independent at all, have decided that all of my injuries were caused prior to my fall. They are now arguing that they have no responsibility to continue my care. If this is the case, this means I will then lose our income. It was the first time in seven years where my lawyer sounded worried.

Oh Father, they ignore all of the major evidence. I want to be free of this wicked institution and I have wanted this for a very long time. However, I still want a victory for what is right and true. They make it seem as if there is deception, but I am truly injured. I hurt every day, some days more than others, but every day nonetheless.

How do I navigate this part of my journey when my heart feels so empty? I am afraid. I have been praying. I feel like I have sinned because

I am not resting on Your promises. I fight You sometimes. I have been watching helplessly as You are allowing me to be stripped of the things that brought me comfort and joy. Father, have mercy on me. Please have mercy on my foolishness. I had a dream two nights ago...

Sub-dream 1 "Dead soldiers floating in the water" begins...

I was walking on a boardwalk through a swamp. It was evening and I could hear sounds of tropical birds and night creatures. I stopped quickly as the boardwalk abruptly ended. It looked as if it had been destroyed. I could see moonlight on the water. The water appeared to be black. To my horror, I was looking across a coastal inlet only to see thousands of dead soldiers floating in the water. I awoke suddenly.

Sub-dream 1 over...

I then had a dream that made me snicker...

Sub-dream 2 "Putin invites me to his hunting lodge" begins...

Russian leader Vladimir Putin had invited me to his hunting lodge as a guest. He had many servants. After a few days, he called me into his study room to meet with me and ask me questions about God and Heaven. He was on the phone when I arrived. It gave me a chance to check out the ceiling. I was in awe at the detailed craftsmanship. When he finished his phone call, he had me sit across from him at a desk. Even though he asked me questions in Russian, I was able to fully understand.

Putin: "I would like to first apologize for meeting you in a secret location." Then in a joking tone. "I had to do it this way or we would both be cancelled if the media knew I was meeting you about God." He then became more serious. "So, Erin, what does God think of me?" He then looked at me with an intense stare.

Me: "Let me first ask you why God's opinion matters to you."

Sub-dream 2 over...

Jesus: "Erin, come up."

Jesus was knocking at my front door.

Me: "Please come in, Lord." I was struggling to walk today. I was crying.

Jesus: "Erin, I am here." He smiled. I reached my arms out to Him. He hugged me. "Allow Me to carry you, Erin. I have you. I am with you. Although you call yourself unworthy, I find you beautiful. Now, come!"

He took my hand and saw that I was walking with great difficulty. In an instant, I was able to walk without pain. While I leapt with joy, I was soon crying again.

Me: "Oh Lord, I am healed in my dreams and visions, but You don't heal me in the natural. Please help me. Please let me run, dance, leap and not be like this anymore. Make it so that I am here on Earth as I am in Heaven. Please turn and answer my prayers. Please consider using me for the miraculous. Please use me as an ambassador to the Kingdom of Heaven and to Your Heart, Jesus!"

"Please don't forget me. When I have a child say 'no one knows when God will fulfill His promises' or 'what if nothing is like what we thought', what can I say in return? You are a Great Mystery. You are Awesome. Everything about You is amazing. However, we are limited in our ability to understand Your ways apart from You. My Vessel is empty until You fill it. I pour out in my journal until I am empty and then You fill me again.

"The cycle then continues. Since all of Your promises are true, will You not consider opening some doors where it seems so many are closed? In my current condition, I can't imagine doing anything on my own. I am able to do all things through You because I believe. However, Lord, I need You to heal and strengthen me. I just cannot do any of this on my own strength."

He took me to the stream. Our bridge was still in two pieces because the waters were still too swift to retrieve the pieces.

Jesus: "This is the place where Heaven meets Earth... Beulah. This is the place where you are married to Me, but not just you, all of you. Still, this doesn't look like what you imagined right now as even your bridge is broken. Just know that I am with you in all things. It is I who is the repairer of broken bridges and dreams. Not one of the Words I have given you, along with My Promises, have ever returned void.

"You yourself have even been to My Potter's Studio. Who is the Potter? I am creative and not just in pottery." He laughed. "Your life has been My Masterpiece." He smiled. "While I am sure the current culture would not allow My Words, they do not control God. My sheep are My children, NOT My slaves." He looked at me. "Even though you have had many troubles in this life, you still look at Me as your Savior.

"You know that My Recompense is with Me. You know that I have overcome them all. So then, Erin, why are you then surprised when evil men do wicked things against you? It is because I am with you. These are the same people who came against Me. Still, you can rest in My promises for you. However, not just you, but your children, your husband and his children and your friends who I have also called and their children.

"Now, are all deserving? No! According to the world, not one. However, I am who I say I am. I am God, Erin. My Father, God, is in Heaven and sees all things. He has given Me the authority over all things. He has done this so you need not be afraid. While the enemy can threaten, it is I who determines a man's way."

Me: Crying. "Lord, I am not sure that I fully savored each moment of my children's lives. All my photos of our adventures together are all that I have. I have prayed for each of them. What if my daughter never comes home?"

Jesus: "You worry about many things. Erin, it is I who is the Conductor of the Orchestra. I am the Potter. Now let Me work. Trust Me."

Me: "Lord, I am sorry. I know so much loss that it is hard to let go."

Jesus: "Well, to be of use to Me, you must. I will help you do this. I know that your personal dreams have never been realized. Do you remember when you prayed for Me to give you just one child after the doctors said you would never conceive? Well, did I not end up giving you three children? I then increased this to five children when you married your husband.

"You then prayed that all of your children would have a relationship with Me. Well, they do. Although you do not always see it, I am there engraved on their hearts. Their names are written on My hands. Even though this is rare, Erin, there is so much more. You did not ask for a husband, but I sent one to you. You did not ask for a ministry in a way such as this, but I gave you this.

“I delight in you and your Nest. The Nest is a place near My Altar. The Nest is a place where you are fed by My hand. Now, I have not forgotten you. Continue to pray. Continue to prepare your house. I have a great plan. This plan is an impossible plan as far as you can see it. However, it is not impossible for Me. Nothing ever is!”

Me: “Oh Lord, since You can speak all things into being, then nothing is impossible for You. I am sorry that I am so worried despite Your assurances. I wish I was better.”

Jesus: “I am made perfect in your weakness. In a little while, all will change, but for your good, understand? Erin, continue to pray for those I call you to pray for. I am the Potter. I am the Good Shepherd.” He smiled as He hugged me. “I love you.” He then kissed me on the top of my head.

Me: “I love You, Lord!”

Dream over.

Dream 505 – I Will Turn Your Mourning Into Dancing

Received on Sunday, July 18, 2021

Today is the 9th of Av, the saddest day in the Jewish calendar. This day is referred to as Tisha B'Av. In just 6 days, it will be the 15th of Av, the happiest day in the Jewish calendar (along with Yom Kippur). This day is referred to as Tu B'Av and is celebrated by the Jewish people as an excellent day for weddings, a sort of Valentine's Day. However, there is much more to both of these dates that is worth researching.

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day here! Thank You for four more days with my daughter. Thank You for all that You have done from the beginning to the end. I love You, Father. Following You has made our journey in this world difficult. There is never a dull moment even in the waiting. Through all of our troubles, afflictions and failures, You are there. You pick us up and set our feet on solid Rock, our Firm Foundation.

I haven't been well for some time. My body doesn't recover quickly anymore. It seems that I just don't heal anymore. I am weak. I am still upset about having to soon say goodbye to my daughter. I will no longer have her here near me to encourage me daily that You are always with us. In some ways, she has been my reason to keep going, a measure of joy and laughter, a welcomed constant source of optimism.

When she leaves, so too will be this daily spark from her. This is always a joyful spark. Since she was born, she has always kept me on my path. In contrast, my two sons with autism do not behave toward me with a great heart connection. They try at times, but it is difficult for them. While I know that my daughter and I can still communicate in different ways thanks to technology, it is never the same as being nearby. The warmth of her embrace is simply irreplaceable.

We have spent the last several days preparing our house for what is coming. I have packed away souvenirs of my journey in the desert and here in the trees. We are doing all that You have asked of us, Father. My daughter is applying to a Christian university out west and is waiting to hear back from them. She is hopeful that she will hear from them before she leaves on Thursday.

She is preparing for a long time away. I am struggling to see her room emptying out. When packing my own items, some destined for charity, I see so many things I thought I was saving for my daughter. Some were drafting and art materials that I could never use after my injury. As for her current college, this will likely be cancelled once her next plan is finalized.

I am not sure that it is wise to get rid of everything as there is still a chance or hope that she might return one day. In contrast to when I was age 18, there was no longer a place for me to return to. My things were removed and any memories of me was gone. My mom quickly moved on with her new life. All in all, my mom was a detached parent. In so many ways, this reflected her own impersonal upbringing.

Father, You are preparing me for a difficult portion of my journey... letting go of my little sparrow, the one who has always been with me. This is the little girl You used so many times to keep me fighting for my sons and our future. Still, I don't blame her. Her life here in the land of the trees has been both heartbreaking and confounding. Selfishly, I was hoping her time here would have been better so that she would stay.

On top of all of this, I now fully realize that You are using my daughter to move us. This is an impossible task without You. It is particularly difficult now as I have allowed myself to take root here. I thought we would have moved because of my husband's job situation, but the move never came. He has had no success despite sending out a few hundred resumes. Only four of these came to anything and he finished second twice.

Well, Father, my husband and I are following not long after my daughter leaves. We are going back west to see whatever it is that You want us to see. While nothing is possible for us alone, nothing is impossible for us with You. Still, there are giants in the land and I am scared. I am scared even though I fully know that You are bigger than any giant. Because of our trust in You, we are going straight into the heart of it all.

Despite this, I still have a request. I am in great pain. My body is visibly bruised. My foot is not healing. I am not well. Lord, would You be willing to heal me and strengthen me for this journey? Even the spies sent into the Promised Land were strong men. As of today, all of this is beyond what I am capable of. Perhaps the greatest giant I face is myself. Please prepare my body. My heart is willing, but my flesh is weak.

Sub-dream 1 "A repeating vision of His safety net" begins...

For everyday of the last week, I have been receiving a pop-up reel, a vision, as in a movie. I am climbing the ladder and the evil dragons are on both sides of me. There is utter darkness as they spew lies about me. I finally reached the top and went through a porthole. Once I crawled up over the top, I was now a toddler and barely able to walk. I then saw Jesus. I clumsily walked over to Him and He reached His arms around me.

I was then lifted safely into His arms. I then rested my head on Jesus' shoulder. The warmth of the sun made my cheeks glow. I was now safe in my Father's arms. Even though He continued to conduct His business, He kept hold of me. I could feel the beating of His heart. I knew that nothing could touch me as long as I rested in Him. He was glad to see me... well, He always is. He is the Joy of my heart!

Sub-dream 1 over...

Oh Father, I will trust in Your plans, even when I don't see it unfolding how I had hoped it would. Please help me continue my tasks, especially now that You are calling us out. Please forgive my doubts. I should have expected this really as I know that following You often comes with radical changes. You are an awesome God, worthy of all of our praises and worship. Father, I will continue to follow You and You alone.

Jesus: "Erin, come up."

Note: In the following, you will notice reference to a fish my daughter owns. This is a Beta fish that is named 'Heaven'. Please keep this in mind when they discuss Heaven below. Sometimes it is the literal Heaven and sometimes it is the fish named Heaven.

I heard a knock at my door. Due to my foot, I was slow to answer. When I turned the corner, no one was there. I went to the door and there was a package on the step. I laughed when I saw that it was addressed to the angel Raphael. I laughed harder when I saw that it was from the 'Acme Water Company'.

Me: "Acme Water Company? This is too funny."

I walked over to the stream while carrying the package. I then saw Raphael in the distance. He was bending down and observing the water. When I got closer, he addressed me without turning around towards me.

Raphael: "Hmm, did the water test kit arrive?"

Me: "Yes. However, why would an angel of God's Army need a water test kit?"

Raphael: "Well, as you know, there was an epic storm. Water feeds in here from many sources. It sometimes takes only one bad source to ruin the quality of the water."

Me: "Yes, but you can easily clear it by using God's directive."

Raphael: "Yes, of course, of course. God is God. Still, why do you think He has angels with plumbines, test strips and measuring scales?"

Me: "Hmm, that is a great question. I really don't know the answer. After all, God already knows the state of any stream or lake. He knows when the tiniest sparrow falls. He has numbered the hairs on our head. Okay, why would God worry about the PH in this stream or any other water source for that matter?"

He stood up, turned towards me and took the package from my hand.

Raphael: "Oh Erin, you are not in Heaven yet. There will come a time on Earth where all water will be undrinkable."

Me: "Oh no, is this Wormwood?"

Raphael: After taking a deep breath. "Angels weigh and measure for the purposes of God's records. This is not because God requires it, but because man does. This evidence then demands a verdict. When the scales are tipped, the balance of weight is in favor of one side. When using a plumbline, it measures the land for level conditions.

“Some land is not even viable for God to build upon. Then there is the testing of healing waters. In God’s healing waters, not only is there enough oxygen to sustain life, it is also a true and pure Living Water. As for here, something came in after the last storm. While God has sent me to clear it, I must first measure it.”

Raphael then pulled out a type of rainbow-colored test tube. However, describing this as ‘rainbow-colored’ doesn’t do it justice. I should say that it contained colors from the entire spectrum. I then watched as he placed a single drop of water into the solution in the test tube. It instantly turned black.

Raphael: “Just as I suspected! Something muddied the water during this last storm. As if it wasn’t enough that your bridge is still in two pieces.”

Me: Panicking. “Oh Raphael, since the enemy knew that you were keeping our stream water clean, did he poison it?”

Raphael: “Well, Erin, it really doesn’t matter what he does. I am called to gather the evidence as I oversee this area. This is special to God. The enemy will not prevail.”

Raphael reached down and put his hand in the water. The water instantly calmed and cleared. He then took a drop of this renewed water and put it in the test tube. The black color instantly changed and the colors of the rainbow spectrum came back.

Me: “Wow, Raphael, what type of test is that? It is not at all like the PH test kits we find here on Earth.”

Raphael: “Yes, Erin, this test kit is far superior to anything on Earth. There are 14 on the scale and 7 is the perfect balance. While this is similar to an earthly measure, this gives much greater information. Well, I have now gathered all that I needed here. This is good.”

Me: “Raphael, could you please heal my daughter’s Beta fish ‘Heaven’?”

Raphael: "Erin, the Lord has shown you the fish you have had over the years swimming in the channels of God's House."

Me: "Do you mean the pearl fish with the vibrant blue ink?"

Raphael: "Yes. God cares about what you care about, both you and your children. It is not God's desire for creatures who are beloved on Earth to die. He sends angels to gather them when they die and bring them to Heaven where they wait."

Me: Now crying again. "Oh Raphael, I am just so sad. I don't like death. Can you just come to heal Heaven?"

Raphael: Smiling. "Heaven is healed, Erin. His home will be where you are. Do not worry. God loves you. He loves your family. He loves your daughter."

Me: "If it will end his suffering, please take Heaven home. He used to get excited whenever I came to speak to him. He used to swim towards me. Now he just lies there. He doesn't even care about eating food."

Raphael: "The animals you keep here are for your enjoyment and are gifts from God. Some are like measures and are meant to test the hearts of those who dwell in the house. Some are sent to encourage, to console and to be like Jesus. They are patient, faithful and unconditional in their love."

Me: "Just like 1 Corinthians 13?"

Raphael: "Well, yes. You can insert the names of your creature companions in this 'Fruits of the Spirit' test and the majority will pass this."

Note: This test is discussed further at the end of this dream.

Me: "Are pets an order of angelic beings?"

Raphael: "God's Words are true. In the beginning, it is written, the Book of Genesis. A wise man..." He smiled and nudged me. "...or sparrow..." He laughed. "...prays for deeper meaning when reading the Words of God. However, it is not just in the Words, but it is also in the measure of the Words. This includes the depth, breadth and order of the Words, understand?"

Me: "I think so."

Raphael: "Erin, I would go to God, the Creator of all things, for these answers to your questions. Do not be afraid. God knew the end from the beginning. He has created all things here. He has also not cancelled that which is good. He never said 'Oh, I wish I had never created creatures!'"

Me: "While He never said that, He did say that He wished He had not created man."

Raphael: "Yes, but, in His Mercy, He loved them and continued. He has had a great plan from the beginning for man and will keep to His timing and His plan. He even sent His only begotten Son, God in flesh, to be born amongst the animals of the manger in a lowly place. This is because He is also the Good Shepherd. He is the One Who carries little lambs. It is God Who has built a Nest near His Altar, a place where sparrows raise their young. God delights in His Creation as He does also His created animals."

Me: "I thank God for pets. However, I find that their lives are too short here."

Raphael: "This too is by God's design for here on Earth. However, Heaven is different. Heaven is free. Heaven is never boring. Nothing in Heaven dies. Everything and everyone in Heaven is happy."

Me: Crying. "Thank you for being used as God's Voice to me."

Raphael: "I do as God instructs. Now, you fear many things because your heart is grieving to be apart from your daughter. I have a great message from God. He is bringing you out to your promised land. This will be for a brief time and for your daughter also. However, here is where you will finish your journey in a very unexpected way."

Me: "Will it not continue?" I was now panicking and it showed.

Raphael: "Yes. Do not panic. Erin, this is good news. God instructed you to winterize and so you are. You are removing the former things. You will no longer suffer. Now, I have a message from God for you..."

Message from God through Raphael: "I am with you. I have not forgotten you. I am with your daughter. One day she will come home to where you are and your joy will be complete. I have declared you My Pillar. You are a pillar in My House because I have found you worthy. While you do not understand this right now, you will one day."

"You have done all that I have asked you. You were not capable of any of these things on your own strength. However, I am your God, the God of Abraham, Isaac and Jacob. It is I Who establishes a nation, then scatters it, only to gather those in exile home again to My bosom. As you have grieved your losses, I will gather you up to Me."

"I will restore all of your brokenness and heal your heart. My recompense is with Me and I bring this to you. My promises are true and I have never forgotten you. Though you were discouraged, angry and in great pain at times, you never stopped chasing Me. Now, as much as you love your daughter, I love you, My daughter, but in a much greater capacity."

"I delight in what you delight in. I show kindness to those who are kind to you just as you do for your children. As for those who are cruel to you or your children, I will not relent in the pursuit of the wicked for your sake. I am with you. I have a great plan for you. I love you."

Me: Crying. "Thank You, Father." I dropped to my knees. I put my face in my hands and wept. "Oh Lord, please heal my grief. Please heal my heart. Please have mercy on me."

I then felt a hand on my shoulder. I looked up and there, kneeling down to meet me where I was, was Jesus. He brought me up and held me as I wept. It was as if years of tears flooded again in wave after wave until I had no more.

Jesus: "I have you, Erin. I am with you. Allow Me to carry you. It is not the end, only the beginning. I will turn your mourning into dancing." He smiled. "I promise you! I will make everything brand new. Rejoice. Do not worry or be afraid. I have never stopped caring for you. I will not stop. I have your lambs in My arms too.” He kissed the top of my head.

Dream over.

THE GREAT LOVE TEST

As mentioned by Raphael above and as outlined by my husband below...

The ‘Fruits of the Spirit’ test Raphael referred to is also known as ‘The Great Love Test’. This is one of the most humbling exercises I have ever completed. Start by inserting your name in place of the word ‘love’ in 1 Corinthians 13:4-7 as follows:

“ _____ is patient and kind. _____ does not envy or boast. _____ is not arrogant or rude. _____ does not insist on his / her own way. _____ is not irritable or resentful. _____ does not rejoice at wrongdoings, but rejoices with the truth. _____ bears all things, believes all things, hopes all things, endures all things.”

I would highly recommend that each of you also do this exercise, but not just mentally. Do this by physically writing out every word with your name inserted in the blanks. I personally found this to be much more impactful when I physically saw my name written there. When I did this, I was absolutely shocked (and horrified) at just how many shortfalls I had (and still have) to work on. In reality, I was in turmoil for a few days after I first did this exercise.

Dream 506 – Travel to Oregon Put on a Temporary Hold

This day is referred to as Tu B'Av and is celebrated by the Jewish people as an excellent day for weddings, a sort of Valentine's Day. The last dream, Dream 505, was posted on the saddest day in the Jewish calendar, Tisha B'Av, the 9th of Av.

Communion

Dear Father,

Something is wrong with me. I have a hollow emptiness that can't be explained. It is a feeling of vacancy. My self is gone. I look around and nothing fills the void. As for yesterday, I purposely stayed so busy that I never had any time to reflect on my state of being. I have grieved for many things over the years. My life has been filled with tragedy and loss.

Those I have loved were there and then they were not. Even though their presence was gone, the essence and impression of them was stamped into my heart. I was reflecting over the course of my motherhood and pray that I was a good example. God, You gently led me to raise my children. My children still have great faith in you. This is my gauge for doing something right.

In the last few days, I have watched many doors shut for us. Our timing for the Bend OR trip was put on hold as I work through some medical issues. I am confined to our home for a while as I wait on some results. My foot also has not healed. I also have a few open tiny lesions which bleed sporadically.

Still, nothing matches how much I miss my daughter. When I walked into our family room this morning, I expected to see her sitting in her chair writing in her journal and reading her Bible. I felt a deep guttural punch when I remembered she is gone now. Zoey (our dog) has been searching for her too. Both of our dogs have been moping around and can sense the disappearance.

Father, please fill my emptiness with Your joy. My body is broken and I am searching for joy. I am so thankful to have those who remain. My husband's son is also soon to return. While I am so thankful for friends, especially my good friends who reside on our Nest, something in me is dying and void without my daughter. While I know that even this too shall pass, I also know that this is a grieving process You are allowing.

While I feel incomplete, I know that only You can complete me. We learned two days ago that a friend of ours, Mike, had only been given 12 months to live. Still, this was 16 months ago and he is doing fine. You just never know God's perfect timing. Anyway, he is single and alone, but he has You. Please keep him close. Father, please heal him, in the Name of Jesus, Amen! Each day we have our loved ones still here on Earth is a special gift. These are jewels in the treasure chest of our hearts.

Oh Father, please heal us. While I have asked for this hundreds and hundreds of times before, each time I hope for a yes with my full heart. While I don't deserve healing, You have promised this and I stand on Your promises being true, each and every one of them. I am so sorry that I am struggling with so much right now. I know that You have me, but it is still hard. We are only human.

I have another loss. When I feed my outside birds and animals, they now act like I am a stranger. While they still eat what I provide, they wait until I am inside and no longer a perceived threat. All of this feels like a gaping wound, a wound that cannot be healed with Your intervention. Father, please, please, please help me... but also all of us! So many are hurting right now and it is so hard.

Jesus: "Erin, come up."

I heard a knock at my front door. I was slow to the door today. It was the Lord.

Me: "Come in, Lord. The door is always open to you."

He came in and walked over to me. He kissed the top of my head as He reached for my hand.

Jesus: "I am glad you came to Me today." His eyes were studying me even though He knew my every thought. My lips began to quiver. "Erin, I am NOT your imagination." I am here, Erin. Even if I were in your head, then is this not good? If I were made up, then this too would be a miracle as this keeps Me ever before you in all of your thoughts."

Me: Crying. "Lord, You are a great mystery to me. My daughter's fish is still alive, but barely. Could You please heal her fish for me? I know You can, but will You? I feel like that fish right now. In illness, I dwell at the bottom of the tank. I barely come up for air now. I am this fish, a fish that has lost her luster."

Jesus: "Hmm, what can I say to you when you are in such a state? Do you believe I love you?"

Me: "Yes."

Jesus: "Do you believe I love your fish named 'Heaven'?"

Me: "Yes."

Jesus: "Now, why did I put a (temporary) stop to your (travel) plans?"

Me: "Lord, only You know."

Jesus: "This is because the days were not the correct ones. If you go a day earlier than I had planned, then this is not good. Every day early is too early. If you had gone a day late, then you would have been late every day."

Me: "So, when is good, Lord? We have just a small window of time."

Jesus: "Erin, I have allowed your illness to grip you where you are. I am gifting you 12 days of preparation. You are to take care of all I will direct you to do."

Me: "Is this winterizing?"

Jesus: "Well, yes. You are to prepare for a time away from your daily routine. This does not mean a spiritual winter. You have had this season already and it was difficult on you. You will be with Me in all things as I am with you. However, here is the issue... you are not the creators of your own destiny as, apart from Me, your plans will fail. Do not move on your own strength."

Me: "I didn't realize that we had. I am so sorry!"

Jesus: "You were ready to be on the move days after your daughter. However, your calendar was not in sync with Mine."

Me: "Okay, Lord, please help me with clarity. Please line up all things according to Your plan. Without You, there is a greater cost. I just hoped for healing first."

Jesus: "I love you and I am with you. I will provide for your every need. I am creating a way where there seems none. I used your daughter to turn your heart back to the land I promised to you years ago. Now, will I allow you a lengthy labor and now not deliver you?" He smiled. "No, I will not. However, you are to allow Me to deliver you as it is a more difficult delivery when you are on your own."

Me: "Forgive me, Lord."

Jesus: "You are forgiven. Now, I have some doors to open and your heart will be very glad. Now, complete the tasks I have placed on your heart. This is so you will be free from burdens when I send you, understand?"

Me: "Okay, but then when is our 'spy trip' to be?"

Jesus: "I have some doors about to open and provision along with them. This is so you will know I am God. I am who I say I am and I am with you. Now, as you complete your tasks, your illness will be gone. Rest when I call you to do so. Work when I call you to do so."

Me: "Lord, I feel I have been in a spiritual winter. I feel like a dormant winter tree."

Jesus: "Not quite, Erin. You are instead like a tree planted by these streams of water, a tree that yields fruit in your season. Your leaves do not wither. You will prosper in all that you do. This is because it is I who is with you in all things. Think of the emptiness you are experiencing as being like a vessel used for water. When it is emptied at times, there is residue which remains at the bottom. This is the residue, like a residue of sand, that was picked up along the way. So too wash this out.

"Erin, you are to allow Me to fill you with My pure Living Water. Your joy will then be complete as you are able to pour more blessings out on others. Do you understand? You are alive, Erin. I am in you and with you. I would know." He smiled as He gently nudged me. "Now, rejoice, as I am with you and great is My reward to you." He reached over and hugged me. "Erin, I have you."

Dream 507 – The Desires of the Three Evil Kings

Received on Sunday, July 25, 2021

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day! Thank You for the protection You send our way. Thank You for my husband and our children. We are so blessed. I have been going through a deep spiritual event. I don't fully understand this. Perhaps it is because it is supernatural. On the other hand, maybe I am not supposed to understand fully.

As I look around me, I probably have at least five full days of work ahead of me. This is to complete all of the various tasks You have placed on my heart. It won't be easy, but it will set me free personally from burdens I have placed on myself. Please strengthen me, Father, so that I am able to complete good works. I have had many disturbing dreams lately...

Sub-dream 1 "The Desires of the Three Evil Kings" begins...

I saw three very evil men...

First King – The dragon king of 'complete control': This king of the Far East is easily offended and desires to control all of the resources in the world. For those resources that he cannot purchase, he sends diplomats to propose mutually beneficial partnerships. In reality, these deals are meant to garner a foothold of control over an area. These are designed to only be short-term solutions.

This evil king has a massive initiative map. In this map, he shows the things that are coming that are part of his plans. If necessary, he will even strike with terrible force. Those nations that are nearest to his borders must be absorbed. While any opposing leaders will be forced to submit, they will advertise it as a 'voluntary partnership'. Once this 'partnership' is formed, all of the 'secretly conquered' nation's people will be subject to this evil king.

For those nations he despises, the people will be subject to great illness, of which there will be no cure. His anger is burning at two competitive nations who will not relent in ignoring his nation's perceived sovereignty. For those who don't relinquish, a great plague will be unleashed on them to weaken them further. By doing this, this plague will quickly spread in waves to other nations.

Since this evil king's nation has the cure, they do not care what the results are. They will get away with this by bribing all media to keep from alerting the public to the truth. Anyone who speaks out will be accused of being provocateurs. The desired outcome of this leader is one country rule. This king will not stop. As he will not compete with God, he will require that all people will one day worship him alone.

Second King – The frog king of 'sorrows': This king is truly evil and very old, yet does not die. He takes the form of a frog / night creature afflicted with leprosy. He is very wealthy. He uses all of his money to destroy all who worship God. He has funded open borders, organized crime, corruption and media control. He destroys anyone who dares speak against him or his evil agenda.

Third King – The panther king of 'abominations': This king is like a panther. He patiently waits, yet also doesn't patiently wait. He is looking for the perfect opportunity. He works with the frog king. He wants all nations to be governed by him, but where each nation remains their own nation. In comparison, the dragon king of the Far East wants each nation to become one with his nation, taking total control as a result.

I was then somehow able to see their evil plans and schemes. I saw the frog king finance a leader who is weak to convince a leader to the Northeast of Israel to strike against Israel. While the leader to the Northeast of Israel had no issues with Israel, this changed via the diplomatic favor of a pipeline deal. This formerly neutral leader then became opposed to Israel. As part of the deal, they are working to infiltrate the Iron Dome in order to destroy Israel. This was made easier by the removal of Israel's former long-time leader.

I then saw a group working with the frog king to remove all nations who were strong in God, family and nationalism. They sent out organizers to mobilize criminals. This was designed to be like a milder version of the movie 'The Purge'. Their plan is to destroy the citizen's sense of security. This meant people would need to be terrorized by the stealing, looting and pillaging. This was to be done on such a great scale that the authorities were rendered helpless. In essence, there were five major steps...

1. Dishearten people by shutting them in using COVID-19
2. Systematically weaken the justice system in all areas
3. Fund the mass looting and pillaging of major cities

4. Capture this all on the news in order to terrify the people into silence
5. Flood the borders with immigrants to further weaken the country's systems

The Lord then showed me various types of locusts stripping away crops. No one could stop these events as they came in wave after wave. The news media covered only that which created the fear and their desired outcomes. Anyone opposed or standing against this was silenced, removed from being able to express concerns, arrested or even worse. Anyone opposed to the open society and new order was labeled a racist. They were labeled racists no matter their ethnicity. It was absurd.

I then saw an unusual sight. It was a tornado, but with no top cloud to it. It was just the tornado itself. I then saw all of these events falling into the top of this massive funnel cloud. I saw fire at the base of the funnel cloud. This is very difficult to describe adequately as I know I am not conveying just how scary this funnel cloud was.

Sub-dream 1 over.

Oh Father, it now seems that all of my dreams are now occurring in 'live time'. Some countries are allowing the burning and looting of churches. One pipeline is shutdown locally, yet another is allowed elsewhere to sell out Israel. How is this allowed? These crushing blows are very hard to witness. Lord, please do not allow all of this to continue. I then had another dream...

Sub-dream 2 "The Brittle Bronze Statue" begins...

I saw a giant statue that looked ancient in origin. It was a tall warrior about 300 feet high. It was made of burnished bronze by skilled craftsmen. The feet of the statue stood out in contrast to the bronze. The feet looked like they were made of a sedimentary rock like sandstone or lime.

I then saw this statue over the course of time in a sort of time lapse. Each generation of artisans added features to the bronze that depended on the ruler of that time. The last generation added fangs of steel to the warrior. The generation before it made a wheel under the shield so that the shield appeared to rotate automatically

However, what was always in common was the ignoring of the feet. Each generation ignored the repairs required to the feet. The feet were finally no longer able to sustain the great weight of the full armor of bronze and steel. As a result, the statue began to lean. Thousands rushed over to view the statue before it fell. Despite knowing there were problems with the feet, they were still ignored.

A great earthquake then came and the weak structure stumbled and fell. As the statue was now broken into pieces, it was only then that I noticed that the bronze was really just a veneer over sandstone. The bronze was not solid, just a veneer. Even the stone itself was hollow and extremely brittle. I then watched the crowd cry with great sorrow over the destruction of this once great statue.

Sub-dream 2 over...

What did the statue represent? Was it the USA, China, the economy, God's church or Israel? I just don't know. I prayed, fell asleep and had another dream...

Sub-dream 3 "Visiting Jesus as a Toddler" begins...

I was a toddler again. I was crawling up out of the portal with the ladder. I could not wait to see Jesus. I climbed out onto the dirt / sand. I stood unsteadily, trying to keep my balance. I saw Jesus sitting on His rock. The greenery surrounding us was lush and very vivid. The landscape was filled with flowing vines, trees with fruit, grassy areas and butterflies. I rushed as fast as my little legs could take me toward Jesus. I put my arms up and opened my hands to be received by the Lord.

Me: "Hayah up! Hayah up!"

The Lord laughed in delight at my efforts to get to Him. It was comical as I had lost my balance, forcing me to rush towards Him. The fact that I didn't stumble could have only been divinely orchestrated. Jesus lifted me up and spun me around as I giggled. He then set me on the ground right next to Him.

Jesus: "Come and walk with Me today."

Me: "Up! Up! Hayah up!"

Jesus: "Well, I could carry you, but how about walking with Me for a while first. You can pick some grapes."

The sun was warm. This place in Heaven was clear. There was absolutely no atmospheric film over the landscape. It was vivid and colorful. He walked slowly and was extremely patient with me. We rounded the corner of a beautiful path. There on the hillside was a vineyard. The soil was rich and black. It sparkled like diamonds. I let go of the Lord's hand and bent my knees. With my hands, I reached for the soil. It was soft. I picked up two handfuls.

Jesus: Laughing. "This is clean dirt. This is good."

As He reached for my hand, there was now no dirt on me. My hands were completely clean, the opposite of what happens on Earth when playing in dirt.

Jesus: "This will take us a while today. Come."

As I was small, I couldn't see over the rows. We walked down an aisle of vines. There were bunches of grapes sparkling like jewels. The sun illuminated each one. The colors were incredible. There were vibrant golds, greens, bluish pinks, roses, violets and blues.

Jesus: "Here, Erin, try a gold one."

I nodded in delightful agreement. He fed me a grape. The grape juice was sweet and unlike anything I have ever had.

Jesus: "Well, it seems as if the next batch of grapes is ready for the harvest. Now, let us go and check the pools."

I was excited. He took my hand and led me to some tiered pools. The water was beautiful and clear, with a color like tropical blue green water. At the bottom of each pool were precious gems, polished and beautiful. The pools were shallow. I sat down in my white linen dress / tunic and proceeded to take my sandals off.

Me: Pointing to the water. "In! Hayah in!"

Jesus: Laughing. "Yes. I will hold your hand."

The pool was only about ten inches deep. I reached down and splashed in the water. I was laughing as a little child full of wonder. I had no fear and so much joy. The sun shined with warm light across the ripples of water. I saw a small rock like bench just under the water. I went to sit down.

This heavenly pool was far greater in luxury than even the most expensive earthly swimming pool. This water was like healing water. There was no smell of chemicals, just the smells of paradise. I closed my eyes for a moment and took in the warmth of the sun on my cheeks.

Jesus: Smiling. "Are you enjoying your special day, Erin?"

Me: "Hayah up!"

I lifted my hands. He picked me up out of the pool and I hugged His neck. My hair was dark brown and curly. I kissed His cheek. I was like a child and loved my Jesus with absolutely zero reservations. This was special. I have never felt this safe on Earth. As I rested my head on His shoulders, tears of joy flowed down my cheeks.

Sub-dream 3 over.

I laid in bed and I cried. I wanted this to be real this time. Father, being a child in Your arms is the greatest gift... the Greatest! I could hear the sound of a distant lawn mower as I remained in bed. I remembered as a child watching my grandfather mowing. I loved the incredible smell of fresh cut grass.

It took me back to my grandparent's yard and garden. This was filled with fruit trees, including plum, apple and pear. They also had snapdragon flowers, asters, roses, sweet peas, irises and gladiolas. Even though this was in 1970, I remembered it as if it was just yesterday. I was just seven years old. Life was so simple back then. Since we were very poor, the things that mattered the most to us were free.

They could be found around the house and the yard. My grandparents had a vegetable garden too. Since they had come out of the depression of the 1930s, they had a different relationship with their living surroundings than we do now. Very little was boxed. Almost everything was homemade. When we were at my grandparents, we were not afraid. We knew what to expect.

My grandmother hung wash on the clothesline outside. Her sheets and clothing always smelled wonderful. My memories of my grandparents were wonderful. So here I am, Lord. I love You. I am sorry for my grief. I am sorry for not appreciating the simple things more often. My time with You is more priceless than diamonds or rubies.

Jesus: "Erin, come up."

I heard a knock at the door. It was Jesus. He was smiling. This time I hobbled. I began to cry about my poor condition.

Me: "Come in, Lord. The door is always open to You."

Jesus: Opening the door. His eyes had great sympathy. "It is good to see you again."

Me: "I need those healing pools."

Jesus: Smiling. "Good. I carry those with Me wherever I go."

Me: "I wish I was little again. Things were simpler."

Jesus: "Yes, some things were simpler, but you do not want to go back to these times, do you?"

Me: Giving me a flash of various things that happened to me as a child. "No, Lord. You are right. I guess I just missed the beauty and the simplicity of life before the darkness became worse. I loved being as a little child in Heaven."

Jesus: "You have many worries here, Erin. We have walked a very long journey together. You are concerned."

Me: "Yes, Lord. I have had great faith all of these years. During my darkest of times, I refused to believe that my Lord, my Savior, Creator and Best Friend would ever allow me and my children to not realize our prayers together. I kept their focus on things of Heaven and all of the good things in life. Well, here I am. You have done remarkable things. Still, it just seems I have never been healed or restored. I suppose all of this will have to wait for Heaven now." I was clearly feeling sorry for myself now.

Jesus: Smiling. "Wait! Do you not pray 'on Earth as it is in Heaven'? And did I not say it. Erin, My Words are true. Do not allow time to change your faith in My promises. I believe I have already done great things and even more than you expected. Erin, the grapes are ripe for harvest. They are early, but right at the appointed time. Evil has accelerated throughout the Earth. I am sheltering you from harm. You are not to live in fear. I just need you to remember this..."

- Yes means yes
- No means no
- Maybe means wait for instructions
- No answer means wait for answers

"Now, I have told you to go out West. Though you do not want to, your husband and your children are ready."

Me: "Lord, I wanted to go, but the timing was off. We then realized that this was really the case. You have good reasons in all things."

Jesus: "Yes, this was a difficult lesson. I understand this. However, it is only because I am opening doors for you. Remember a day early is too early and a day later is too late. My date for you is right on time."

Me: "Yes, Lord, another mystery... at least for now. So, why did You give me the dream of the horrible rulers if You knew that I would not be at peace because of it?"

Jesus: "While I speak through dreams and visions, I am also in you. The things I show you have just happened, are in the process of happening or are about to happen. You can take comfort that these are the times written of by the prophets.”

Me: “Yes, but also by You too, Lord!”

Jesus: Smiling. “Yes, this is true. Just remember that I give you these mysteries so you are not unaware. Think of it as being a soldier readying your heart for the battle and your mind for the signs I give you. Keep your focus on Me to deliver you in all things. I will grant you greater knowledge and wisdom to understand the strategies of the enemy. My people are like a sleeping giant.

“Now, continue to keep your faith, Erin, as I am with you in all you do. Continue on your course. I will bless you in all you do as you continue to prepare as I have called you. Now rejoice, Erin, as I am about to do something in your days you would not believe even if you were told. I know you are distraught, but I am preparing you through this. It is because I love you and all My promises are true, understand? You will dance as you did in your youth.” He smiled and hugged me.

Dream 508 – The Importance of the Shmitah and the Jubilee

Received on Tuesday, July 27, 2021

Communion

Dear Father,

In the course of five full journal pages, I outlined all the reasons for needing the Lord's help in so many areas. This was too personal to share and has been removed. This dream was actually a personal dream with some of the really personal stuff removed. However, there was still a lot of excellent material I felt should be shared.

I should also note that I felt the feeling of fall in the air yesterday. While this doesn't mean we won't still have a long summer (I just don't know), I still thought it is worth mentioning this. Happily, late summer / early fall is my favorite time of year.

Jesus: "Erin, come up."

I was crying. I sat by my door and heard a knock. It was Jesus. He came in to see me as I was crying. He hugged me.

Me: "I am so sorry, Lord. I have been alone in the physical most of my life. Instead of having someone to talk to, I was alone, so I busied myself. I needed something, so I wasn't idle. It made me feel industrious and normal. However, You stripped me of all my hobbies and physical skills.

"Now I am bare and with no capability. Then there is my art. I never healed from all that happened. I wasn't good enough at golf. I wasn't good enough at dance. I have failed so many times. I have been here before You so many times. As I go through my items, I see 'not good enough'. It seems as if am not good enough for so many things here now."

Jesus: "This is incorrect, Erin, as your place is now always with Me. I am close to the brokenhearted. I am not close to those who are not in need of a cure. You need a cure. Your gaping wound does not heal."

Me: "Lord, I wasn't good enough for my own parents. I was a disappointment to them both. My children were not whole. They were unworthy of bragging rights. They weren't good enough by the world's standards. My earthly father wanted to hurt me and he did. He also hurt my children."

Jesus: "Erin, I am sorry. I know this pain you have carried has weighed you down. You are doing some deep cleaning and it is difficult. You know the time is coming when I will wipe away every tear. I will restore broken walls and broken dreams. Your time there has not been an easy one. Only I know all of your thoughts and the things you do not say.

"I have known all that has been done unto you. I know every thought. One day, those responsible will confess. As painful as this is, you needed to get all of your tasks completed right now. This is so you can enjoy a time without distractions. This is so you can enjoy a time away from your sorrows."

Me: "I won't die, right, Lord? Please let me live and enjoy healing. Please have mercy on me. Please have mercy on my children, my husband and his children."

Jesus: "No, you will not sleep. You will be very much awake. Your joy will be complete. I will provide for all of your needs. Erin, My recompense that I give you comes from Me. I will deliver you from your enemies and your battles. I will restore you to your land, the land I promised to give you years ago. However, you will also keep this land where you and your husband are married to Me, the place you crossover here called 'Beulah'.

"Now, I have heard your cries and I know your sorrows. I have set you apart to complete what I have called you to. I have not forgotten your daughter. I have a special gift for her. However, you must trust Me for the outcome and not become discouraged. Remember that I love you and chose you before you were in your mother's womb.

"There I knit you and also your daughter. I also made your sons there. While you do not see it, I am well pleased with you. You have come a long way on your journey. While you have gone through much suffering, you have grown and grown with each year. You are the daughter of the King. I have called you for your entire life. This is your 28th year of surrendering your heart to Me (starting in 1993 at the age of 30).

"However, it wasn't until the year of your friend's funeral (in September 2000) that you truly cried out to Me. Now, this is a big year for you. It is the time I repay you for what the enemy has stolen. I am releasing you from your debtors. In turn, you will release others and heal them in My Name."

Me: "When will this be, Lord? From September 2000 to now, it is not quite 21 years. It has been close to 7 years since my husband and I were officially married. We still haven't rebooked our trip out West that we had cancelled as we are still waiting on Your go ahead. Oh Lord, what does it all mean?"

Jesus: "Erin, it would be good to understand what the Shmitah and the Jubilee are and when these occur for both you and your husband personally. While events do not revolve around your dates, your dates revolve around events. There is a difference, understand? Now, much is about to converge. It is a good time for you. While I will explain more later to you, finish your tasks in the meantime. Know that I am with you through them.

"Have grace upon yourself as you were and are meant for so much more. None of this will matter very soon. In all of this, give this to Me. Erin, I have you. When you see what all I will do for you, then none of this will have significance. Now complete your good works. Finish your tasks and then rejoice. I will have further instructions." He hugged me and smiled.

Dream 509 – A Lesson on the Lord’s Skin Color

Received on Sunday, August 1, 2021

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day here. It is another beautiful, mild summer day. You have kept the climate cool for us so that we can open windows and allow the fresh air in. This is highly unusual here as it becomes so hot, we need to rely on our portable AC units. Thank You, Father, as this year has been glorious.

I have spent a lot of time conversing with You as I have worked on project after project in preparation for our time away or of rest. Either way, I have never had such a block of complete rest like this. It has been such a blessing. Thank You also for my family who, in turn, has begun their own cleaning. We have donated so much that it has been quite a joyful time.

Seven years goes by so quickly. Our two eldest sons were both only 16 when we moved here. My daughter was just 12 and now she is almost 20 years old. Time has flown by and it is hard to believe she was 10 when the dreams began. What a journey this has been, Father.

As I worked on my many projects, I kept hearing Jesus say ‘I am pleased because you are listening and doing. I will bless you for this.’ (Deuteronomy 7:12-13). I have had wave after wave of tears as I go through memories. While there were many hopes realized, there were many more hopes not realized.

Yes, I exchanged my ‘maybe one day’ for ‘I promise to bless you on My terms according to your ability to release all to Me and to trust Me to deliver you fully.’ In other words (and in hindsight), my plans to deliver myself were a ridiculous ambition. A hope has no merit if it is removed from our Savior. My Scripture today of John 14:1-31 served as a reminder of this. It summarizes all things Jesus.

I was reminded of my heart monitor pages from November of 2004. On this page, my heart beats normally. However, it then doesn’t rise and fall on the graph as fast as it should. After a few weaker beats, it flatlines. It then sputters back and beats again. Who determines this heartbeat? Do we? No, not at all! Man can try to control their heartbeat, but ultimately the decision is all God’s.

Yes, God allows the beating of our heart. He determines our days. In reality, He determines our entire course. Yes, I realize there is much debate amongst Christians about free will, but this is not my point. With that in mind, here is my take on this, but ONLY according to my personal experiences. I will not be debating this.

Let's start off by saying that, if we fully obey God in all things and we do not turn to the right or to the left, we will experience the fullness of God's Will in our lives. While this will still mean tough times, maybe really tough times, our reward will be great, either here, in eternity or a combination. However, this reward may not look like what we want. Very rarely is the reward fame or fortune, but can be in God's way.

Well, Father, You allowed my disability so I could be a house mom / wife. This was something I had always wanted. I have now had seven plus years of more time with my children than I ever thought possible. In fact, I didn't even pray for this as I have been a single working parent for the majority of my kids' lives. Yes, a miracle happened and God turned my tragedy into a blessing.

This all makes more sense when you fully realize that the Lord knows me better than anyone, including myself. He knit me in my mother's womb. He knows my way, my thinking and my ambitions. He knows all of it. I now take amusement when I look back at my personal goals for 'world domination'. There is so much to this that it added up to 24 hours. Possible? Of course not, but here it goes...

We start with 5 hours a day for golf. I then wanted to spend 2 hours a day in the gym. I wanted to work on the biggest design projects and that would take 10 hours a day. I liked food, so I wanted to cook for 2 hours a day. Spending time with friends and with my kids' sports and events would be another 4 hours a day. This then left a solid hour for God each day. The perfect plan, right?

Well, no, of course it wasn't. Where is sleep? Where is rest? Where is God? Should I not give Him much more than 1/24th of my time? God then intervened with His plans for me. Saying no to golf brought back 5 hours. No to the gym another 2 hours. Working on smaller projects another 2 hours out of the 10 originally budgeted. 2 hours for a no to the kids' sports.

Yes, Jesus reduced me. My 'self' simply had to go. My 'self' was so arrogant and, well, selfish. I literally didn't carve out any time for rest or sleep. Still, even though I now had time to sleep, I didn't sleep well. This was because of my battles that took place prior to 2012. I was about to lose everything. I had to put it all aside in order to fight my main enemy. I was alone and broke.

God's plan was brilliant. In order for me to be where He wanted me, I needed to surrender myself to be crushed. I had to trust my Father God for the outcome even when it looked horrific. It reminded me of my recent foot injury. I realize now that it was because He was trying to get my attention... "Erin, I need you to slow down from your daily routine and do as I am asking you to do."

Well, this healing has been painful. I believe I had a setback because it now looks like I may have some hairline fractures. However, this still wasn't enough. You then told me to concentrate my efforts for a two-week period. You were very serious about this. Well, I have basically four days left not counting today (as it is my day of rest).

While my disability requires that I take about three times longer than I would normally, this extra diligence means that I am being careful in anything I keep. Basically, the less the better. Thanks to God's help in this, the whole house has begun to clear out clutter and winterize. While my earlier estimates were a bit optimistic, I should finish this week. In terms of our kids, so much is happening right now...

- My husband's son arrives home from his summer internship and will have a couple of weeks to rest before starting school again
- My older son begins a work skills program in a few weeks
- My younger son has now worked at his job for one year and is up for a promotion
- My daughter has been accepted to two Christian universities out west, but uncertainty over the level of tuition keeps us guessing on how this will all work

Yes, so much has now been placed in Your mighty hands, Father. There are so many doors that we are hoping that You will soon open. We are all hoping that You will soon open the door for us to go back to the West we all love. Through this all, my dreams have remained steadfast...

Sub-dream 1 "The Confusing Cloverleaf of the Lost Tribes" begins...

I saw a search party of Jewish scholars searching for the Lost Tribes. However, they had been searching in the wrong areas. God then led me to an overpass of a highway out west. It was a great intersection near a big city. There were highways over highways. While this sounds absurd, there were even cloverleaves intersecting bypasses. Since this was confusing, it is also hard to describe.

I then saw a group of scholars / holy men approaching a synagogue. Since their synagogue was soon seized, the rabbis were forced to hold their services under this overpass at the area where all these crossroads met. Traffic patterns were soon disturbed as drivers slowed down to purposely harass the Jewish people there. The scholars soon came there to see if any were part of the Lost Tribes.

When the scholars arrived, they were holding a ceremony and calling it the third temple sacrifice. The congregation was mostly made up of Hassidic Jews. I then found myself with a group of a few friends as we walked up to them on the bend of the cloverleaf. God then used us in our prayer language to prophesy. In this ancient Hebrew, the Lord spoke...

Voice of the Lord through us: "Your efforts are in vain apart from God. This is not the way."

They were soon very angry at us. We then looked as an evil man was driving his truck towards all of us. Instead of hitting the brakes, he was accelerating. The Lord removed us just before the truck hit into the crowd. Sub-dream 1 over.

Sub-dream 2 "The Third Beast, the 'third king'" begins...

I saw the rapid rise of the third king, the king of abominations. Please note that I do NOT know if this will occur or if it is only the plan of the third king that God will thwart. If it will occur, I am not sure when it will occur, but, if it is to occur, I felt it would be mostly post-Rapture. Since the third king is the architect of evil, I would then like to believe that this is only the blueprint.

I then saw a Scripture unfold. It was from Ecclesiastes 1:9: There is nothing new under the sun. Whatever has been will be again. History repeats itself. Put another way... evil repeats itself.

I then saw a calendar page open. The date was July 31, 1941. I saw the architects of evil putting into place a plan to kill millions of Jews. It was labelled 'The Final Solution'.

I then saw a large chart. It looked like the chart used in the NCAA basketball tournament. I suddenly realized that the chart I was looking at was in the third king's estate along the East Coast. I then saw two brackets for double elimination.

I then saw a replay or rewind of events from 2004. This is the year the third king truly started to rise in power. I saw bitterness and arrogance lend way to a rise of strength. I saw this king cross off opponents in order to take them down to the elimination bracket.

I then saw a calendar page open again. It was the month of December 2012. It was the time that God granted permission to the evil one. I then saw a massive door slam shut. I then saw many demons slowly waking up from their slumber. While the rise of evil was slow at first, it soon started to gain momentum and hasn't stopped.

To any who had bitterness, anger, hate, victimhood, laziness and/or arrogance, demons would rise in them. To those who were God's, these demons were exposed and dealt with. To those who were not God's, one bad fruit would lead to another bad fruit. This continued to compound in them. While this rise in evil was visible to God's children, it remained veiled to all others. Corruption ensued and evil rose even more rapidly.

The architect (the third king) then used the first king (the dragon) and the second king (the frog man) to write a playbook. He then started achieving some of the objectives. While he remains somewhat patient, he wants to continue on his evil quests. The following is a summary of his playbook...

1. Gain control over the governments that were God's dedicated nations, specifically the USA and Israel
 1. Cultivate hate against the majority based on race and religion
 2. Remove and/or denounce the police
 3. Purchase media outlets and run confusing narratives accusing the opposition of the very things they are doing
 4. Silence all opposition
 5. Steal the elections
 6. Remove freedom
 7. Obstruct justice
 8. Create fear
 9. Punish with unfair justice guidelines
2. Bring in foreigners from other nations
 1. Open borders of red states and allow harm

2. Close borders of blue states and destroy business
 3. Change demographics
 4. Raise crime and bring in drugs
 5. Release foreigners into the populace with the virus
3. Create anger, increase crime and turn justice against the victims
 4. Remove guns and disarm those opposed
 5. Remove churches, Bibles, websites, satellite churches and sermons against the evil
 1. Burn down white churches
 2. Destroy faith in God
 6. Destroy all those opposed to rules

I then saw the entire winner's bracket consist of the current Vice President and the Secretary of Defense. However, the architect put himself as the winner, as in 'the winner takes all'. His agenda is to control all major organizations. These major organizations include the CIA, the FBI, the DHS, the United Nations, the World Health Organization and NATO.

I then watched him as he studied the original 'Final Solution'. He reviewed the mistakes of the German leader and vowed not to repeat them.

I then saw him meeting millions of people. He was dressed in white. He was standing at a mimic of the bridge to eternity, his version of the promised land. However, the opposite came true. I saw millions fall into the abyss. I saw line after line of women, men and children fall where he was taking them.

Sub-dream 2 over.

Father, this is horrific. Please do not let this happen. There is so much to do yet.

Jesus: "Erin, come up."

I heard a knock at the front door. There was Rafael and he was smiling. I opened the door. I made a gesture for him to come in. He smiled and shook his head.

Rafael: "Hi Erin. Come with me to God's Bridge instead."

I followed him to the creek in our yard. There was a 7' board about 12" wide.

Me: "Oh no! This is the bridge we made. It really isn't a bridge. It was made with scrap wood in a matter of minutes. It was just meant to be fun."

Rafael: Laughing. "True, Erin. You can barely walk a single person over that one."

Me: Shaking my head and smiling. "That is very true."

Rafael: Smiling. "Erin, God has a message for you."

Just then, Rafael waved his arm upwards. It was as if a curtain rolled up like a scroll. A beautiful bridge was then presented. It was sturdy and well made.

Rafael: "This is just one of God's Bridges. There is a Bridge at each of His Gates. Right now, with the way the world is, the world would be the 'Dung Gate'."

Me: "Yes, Rafael, it is becoming really bad out there. Will God not do something soon? So many horrible things are happening at once now."

Rafael: "Yes, He will. Now, let me ask you a question so you understand a great deception. When you have been with the Lord, what color is His skin?"

Me: "Hmm, He has such beautiful skin. I would say a tan or olive color."

Rafael: "So, when you hear talk about the Lord being a certain skin color which is not that which you have seen, what do you think?"

Me: "I think it is sweet because we all want our Savior to look like us. After all, we are made in His image, right?"

Rafael: "Okay, I will ask you a question that you would understand as you are an artist. If you were to pull out colored pencils and you blended all of the skin colors you have seen, what would you get? As an artist, objectively name the most common colors of skin in the world."

Me: "Well, you have black, brown, olive, tan, yellowish, reddish or ruddy, white and albino."

Rafael: "Now, if you were to blend all of these colors in proportion to their populations in the world, what would all of these colors blended make?"

Me: "Oh course! How brilliant! It would be Jesus' skin color!"

Rafael: "Yes, Erin, that is correct. So, if you hear that Jesus is any other color than He is, the chances are the enemy is afoot striking heels like a snake."

Me: I was surprised as Rafael had suddenly become stern looking. "You are being serious. Why is this lesson on Jesus' skin color so important?"

Rafael: "Erin, there is an evil plot to remove an entire population of people based on skin color. However, I am here to let you know that the same snake is after the Bride, no matter the color of their skin. He is after the Lost Tribes scattered and veiled by God so they cannot be found. This great plague was designed to gather DNA information to seek out those chosen of God. However, he will be unsuccessful.

"Now, understand this... though there are great fears sweeping across the lands, remember that God is in full control. He always is. No scheme of man nor plan of the enemy will remove you from the plans of God. What you are witnessing is a rise in demonic activity. This is because man has been given over to their lusts and sinful desires.

"Erin, you are a witness to uncharacteristic evils where the enemy appears to be winning. Well, this is certainly NOT the case. There is a reason God has had you prepare your house. This is because you will need to be set free from distractions. Now, September is a Most Holy Beginning and you will need to trust fully in God for what He is about to do."

Me: "Oh Rafael, it is a Shmitah year and Jubilee on Rosh Hashanah."

Note: According to HebCal.com, this year's Rosh Hashanah starts at sunset on Monday, September 6, 2021 and lasts two days until sunset on Wednesday, September 8, 2021. Rosh Hashanah is also commonly called the Feast of Trumpets.

Rafael: "Yes, a very important beginning for His Bride. Though the enemy will try to stop God's plans, he will be unsuccessful."

Me: "Should we travel then?"

Rafael: "The Lord will give you further instructions. However, this is one of your favorite seasons, right?"

Me: "It is my most favorite season! I love September and I love the Fall."

Rafael: "Erin, God loves you. He has always shown great love and favor for you and your little ones during this month. Well, so too will He again!

Now, do not be afraid as God will provide all things. He has not forgotten you. He rewarded your good works and delights in that which you delight in. A Great Move of God is about to sweep across the landscape. When this occurs, there will be great celebrating and much moaning. This will be followed by even more miracles and the fleeing of evil."

Me: "This will all be September?"

Rafael: "Now calm down, little sparrow bride. Wait on God. He is the One God with the nod, understand? Just remain steady in your tasks. You do not need to physically spy on the lands. You are able to do this now. Plan your course as God leads, then go out."

Me: "Oh! I see... So... Hmm..."

I must have look confused as Rafael was looking at me in amusement.

Rafael: Smiling. "You are looking now and this is good. At the end of the week then make your plans as God calls. Rejoice, Erin! I must go."

He turned towards the bridge. As soon as he stepped on the bridge, both him and the bridge were gone.

Dream over.

Dream 510 – A Lesson in Trust and Faith

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day! Thank You for my husband and children. Thank You for our Nest family of Sparrows. We are so blessed. My heart is filled with gratitude and wonder at all You have done for me. I have had a very good life. While it hasn't been an easy road, it has been rich in experiences. While I am spiritually wealthy in my heart, I am poor on paper according to the world. It is a better way...

- As a child, I said 'look at me', but no one really cared
- As a youth, I said 'help me' as I was lost
- As a young adult, I said 'only me' as I was alone
- As a new Christian, I said 'why not me' as I believed You would do a miracle in me
- As a wounded Christian, I said 'why me?' as I was going through the furnace of affliction
- As a grieving Christian adult, I said 'don't forget me' as I felt alone in my sorrows
- As a mom and single Christian adult, I said 'show me' as I had only known trouble and did not know what to do
- As a mom with an injury, I said 'carry me' as I had no abilities
- As a mom and believer of God as my Miracle Maker, I said 'guide me' as I am scared
- As an older mom and wife, I said 'find me' as I have been grieving lost years
- As a dreamer who sees storms ahead, I said 'shelter me' as I am helpless without You
- As a child of God who loves her Father, I said 'bless me, strengthen me and heal me' as I am going on a great journey

Oh Father, I love You so much. Please never stop loving me. While I have almost finished my winterizing, I choose to rest in You today. You have been helping me put to use things I had forgotten about. Things which have no use are given to those who could use them. As I have begun to let go of more and more, You are blessing me in return. My husband is helping me remove things that are burdensome to us.

We have been cleaning and preparing for something God is requiring of us. However, we are still unsure of what and when this will be. Our spy trip to the West will be in the first half of September. In the meantime, we will continue to complete our tasks and let go of more and more. I am now going over tasks already completed and trying to do an even better job removing more and more. When I remove more, I can see more.

I spent a lot of years as an interior designer storing up items for resale. I know one popular designer from Texas that has a storage warehouse filled with architectural items for use for their clients. These are one of a kind salvage items. I understand this. When I moved here 7 years ago, I needed to let go of these items. Storage of such items requires three things...

- You need to be actively in business
- Profit margins have to be greater than storage costs
- You are able to let go of items with ease

After my injury, I kept thinking that I would be back in the business. However, after 7 years, I am still not back. I now view items in categories such as 'donation', 'sell' and 'has a place of which would be more costly to replace'. The Lord guided me on this by telling me... "Things which cause you stress or regret are a burden. Remove them. You will not miss them. I will replace any required item with something even better."

Well, I am following His advice. I am doing what the Lord has told me. As I release my burdens, He is strengthening me. As I let go of my old dreams, He is filling my heart with more of Him. I have always told my clients that less is more and this rings true today. I have even lost weight during this process, an added and much wanted bonus. God wants us to have communion with Him free of clutter. He wants our attention in joy, not in heaviness.

After my daughter left, I couldn't go into her room without crying. A chapter and huge part of my existence was void. This happened so quickly. I had no time to prepare for the void. It is exactly 40 days today since she told me she was leaving on Tuesday, June 29, 2021. Nothing can fill this void except You, Father. No distraction can remove my grief, though I have tried.

I had hoped to have our home filled with young adults from the church. However, this was not Your plan, Father, at least not in the way in which I had pictured it. Sometimes our best laid plans are really dead dreams. I am letting go of lost hopes and dead dreams. These are all 'old bridge stuff'. The results of me letting go have been good though. This simplicity is lending itself to enhanced quietness.

When I was a child, we were poor. We had very little. I had no idea how little we had until I went over to my friends' houses. We were the poorest on the street by far. Whatever we did have of value was stolen in the many break ins. I learned very early in life not to get attached to any of our stuff. However, when I had children, things changed. I held onto more because it was harder to let go.

Well, I am broken right now. I need You to put me together again. I need healing. I need You to carry me. I need Your assurance that I am on the right track. Most of all, I need Your love. I am scared for this new adventure. When I think of going, I feel pain, not joy. While I know that I should have joy, I am apprehensive about so many things right now. Father, please show me what more I need to do so I am set free.

About two weeks ago, my Kingbird disappeared. I recall sitting outside and it came near me. It was studying me. Then it flew away. I went to the other side of our house and it followed me everywhere I went. However, on this particular day, he was very interactive with me. I went to his nest and saw that his babies had already left. After that day, I did not see him again.

I have looked for him every day since then. He was gone. He left on almost the same day as the day that my daughter left on Thursday, July 22, 2021. I later found out that late July is when Kingbirds migrate to South America for the winter. I pray that he returns to us in March 2022. His nest is here waiting for him. I now realize that the day he was interactive with me was the day he said goodbye to me in the only way he knew how.

It is so hard to say goodbye. A bird takes nothing for their journey except perhaps a full belly. God, You are amazing how You can take that little bird from our house all the way south and back again. Please protect its journey and bring it home again to us next year. I just know that things in our care and out of our care are all really always in Your care. Blessed are You, Awesome Father!

I woke up yesterday from a dream I was having about a former President of the USA. The only thing that really stood out from this particular dream was the word 'hubris'. When we looked up the definition in the dictionary, my husband and I had a great laugh on how applicable this word was for this particular man.

Father, the world is changing rapidly. Christians are being persecuted at an alarming rate. The globalists are moving people freely throughout the land. The enemy appears to be reversing some of Your past actions, all in direct defiance of You...

- Reversing the Tower of Babel and the scattering of peoples
- Allowing for the reversal of all of Your laws and commandments
- Allowing for our unique DNA to be harvested and cloned
- Allowing for unnatural atrocities to become natural according to the world
- Making it so anyone who speaks out on any of this is destroyed

Oh Father, this is a perfect time for You to rise us up. Please do not forget about us. What is coming, according to the world, is all Anti-God, Anti-Jesus and Anti-Christ. We are seeing the birth pangs now. Oh Lord, it is so obvious that we are in labor now. Please deliver us as only You can deliver us. We are all ready and excited about Your soon plans for all of us who You have called!

Jesus: "Erin, come up."

I heard a knock at my door. It was Jesus. He was smiling. I ran to the door and opened it. I began to cry as He hugged me.

Me: "Lord, while I thought life would become easier with age, it hasn't."

Jesus: "You have great faith in My abilities. Without faith, it is impossible to please God. Even so, you lack a key component... trust. Now, let's look at your experience with the Kingbird."

He took my hand and we walked around to the back of our home where the Kingbird's nest is.

Jesus: "See, Erin, his nest is now vacant. However, it remains ready for his return in spring. His journey is a long one, filled with much uncertainty and great danger in both directions. Now look..."

Jesus waved His arm and I was now able to look into a portal. It was like a 3D movie, but more intricate. There I saw the Kingbird making the journey with many other Kingbirds. He was not alone in his epic journey to South America.

Jesus: "Erin, I don't just care for this one bird, I care for all of these birds. This bird's home is here." He pointed back to the nest. "He was raised as a youth here and this is his home. He is also married here. Now, if I care for this bird who communicates with you, even to say goodbye for a few months, then how much more do I care for you?"

Me: Crying. "Even more, Lord. What do I lack? Well, wait... I lack a lot of things, Lord."

Jesus: Smiling. "Oh Erin, are you now having your own conversations? Again, you have faith, but you lack in one area... trust. The Kingbird trusts Me. While you trust Me to carry out miracles and you trust My character as God, you still aren't trusting Me that My outcome is best for you."

Me: "I trust that You are capable and I trust that Your Will will be done."

Jesus: "Yes, but you don't trust Me to deliver a result which is good concerning you."

Me: Crying. "Oh Lord, You are right. I fear that I will need more furnace work. Oh, how I want so much to be..."

Jesus: "Wait, I walked with you through the furnace."

Me: "Yes, but You also let me go through it so many times."

I started laughing at myself because I realized I was arguing with God Himself.

Jesus: With a huge smile. "Look over there, Erin. There is a place we can wrestle all of this out. How about it?"

Me: Still laughing. "I will pass. Since You are God, I will lose every single time. Hmm, I would probably also end up with an even worse injury."

Jesus: "Stop! Erin, stop. Stop acting as if you are uncertain if I will come through. I always have, Erin. Always! However, it is always for your good and for My glory, NOT for your comfort."

Me: I began to cry. "I know, Lord, I know. I just want my will to be in line with Your Will. I am mad at myself. I wanted my daughter to stay. I wanted her to find a helpmate, a husband, and build a life where I could be nearby. I wanted my sons to be healed. I wanted my husband to be hired by one of these employers. I wanted our Beta fish Heaven to be healed. I can't call my mom to talk to her. I never painted or drew again.

"I can't do anything to earn a living or to even make myself healthier, like walking. There is nothing I can do except that which You ask of me. That is to let go of all of this... all of the memory remnant of these hopes... all the preconceived notions... all the big ideas that faded long ago.

"I am so sorry, Lord. I love You. Without You, I have nothing. I have faith in You completely. Still, I do not trust as I should. I then find myself questioning my ability to hear from You. I have been in a cave..."

Jesus: "Well then, step out of your cave. I am here with you. Hear Me, Erin. While I have already granted you your requests, I just have a better way. This is not an easier way, just a better way. Remember that Gideon could have fought with his 32,000 fighting warriors. However, I instead pared him down to an impossibly low number of just 300 men. Why would I do such a thing?"

Me: "So that Gideon could not claim the victory personally aside from you?"

Jesus: "Smart! My Sparrow has wisdom. Remember that an unconventional Creator calls for unconventional methods. Should you then be surprised when I do things in an unexpected way?"

Me: "Well, I really shouldn't be, but I often am."

Jesus: "Erin, I am doing the impossible with you. I have already granted you your requests. Go through your list again and see if there is anything too great for Me."

Me: "There isn't, Lord. You can do all things."

Jesus: "This we can agree on." He nudged me. "Now, let Me therefore then do even more."

Me: "Oh Lord, I am so sorry for my lack."

Jesus: "You believed for the outcome without knowing exactly how I would go about this. Then when My plans unfolded, you began to panic as it didn't look good." He smiled. "Now relax and breathe. You are doing a good work. Continue on your course as I am right here with you."

Me: "Lord..." I stopped myself.

Jesus: "I know what you want to ask Me. What is My timing? When will I do this? Well, Erin, I am opening doors right as you ask. The same is true for your daughter. The enemy will claim no victory as all of his plots will backfire. Do not worry as I have your daughter, as well as your sons. They are Mine. Continue with the plan I have placed on your heart. Let Me open doors as these are presented.

"Allow Me room to operate on your behalf... that is, if you trust Me to fulfill the outcome I have already promised you." He smiled as He reached over to hug me. "I love you, Erin. I have you. Trust Me with your lives. I am about to do something in your days you would not believe even if I told you." He smiled again. "My plans are good ones... very good ones." He nodded. "Right, Sparrow?"

Me: Smiling. "Yes, Lord."

Jesus: "Well, we could instead spend our time together reviewing what everything would look like without Me. Hmm..." He smiled.

Me: "Oh no no no no! Please no!"

Jesus: Laughing. "Very good, very good. I have you. I have a Great Plan. You will love it. It is not even something you can conceive. Rejoice as I have already promised it."

He smiled at me with such an enormous love that my heart soared in delight.

Dream over.

Dream 512 – Jesus Will Instruct Us In Our Daily Routine

Received on Friday, August 20, 2021

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day! As You know, Father, I have been struggling. At some point, I had a block. I then received a message from one of our treasured Nest Sparrows. She suggested that we watch Troy Brewer's appearance on Sid Roth's It's Supernatural. The topic was on time travel. Now, I want to stress this is not us time traveling, but that the Lord is not at all constrained by time. He is a Time Traveler!

It then hit me like a brick from You, Father. Even though I had gone through and closed the gates on the bridges of my life, I still felt heaviness from memories I could never let go of. These are events that I have carried with me that do not produce good fruit. Quite simply, I was somewhat stuck on how to leave all of this behind me. I then realized that there have been things in my past that hint at Your ability to time travel.

In the beginning of these dreams, I saw intricate engraved items on my path journey in Heaven. I could tell that much of the work I was seeing there looked as if it could have been done by my mom. She was and is known for her engraving of florals and birds and this is what I was seeing in Heaven. I started seeing her engravings in Heaven around three years prior to her death on September 23, 2015.

How is this even possible? Easy, Father. Your timing is not ours. However, the instance of engraving in Heaven is just one example. Years ago, I had a dream of a beautiful library and records room in the City of God. This is God's City, a New Jerusalem in Heaven, where God's Robe fills the Temple. His seat is there. It is a beautiful city with chiseled stone gold pavers on the streets.

As I was looking over this beautiful library, a woman in her mid-20s appeared. While she was young in appearance, she was a hundred years old in wisdom. She had a smile and wavy hair just like my mom. She wore a simple gown and had such kind eyes. This woman could hardly wait to show me the library and records room that God had assigned to her care.

The joy in her entire body was that of being given something incredible, but still being in a type of disbelief that God would even bless her with this. While this woman was humble in Heaven, my mom was not humble on Earth. It has since dawned on me that this was my mom, but around seven years prior to her death. However, she was a million times more alive than anytime that she had on Earth. This was amazing.

This suddenly made me realize that I needed to invite God into all of the areas of my life from the beginning, both before I accepted Him as my Savior and after. Well, it didn't take long for me to start flowing in my writings. I was not done until around 8 hours later. I wrote an incredible 32 journal pages in that time, a page every 15 minutes. I felt in my Spirit that this was what God wanted me to do. I then heard His clear voice...

Voice of Jesus: "Erin, I was always with you just as I am with you and will always be with you."

Even though I knew this, I asked for Him to fill these moments with His glory and turn all things dark into the light of His presence. I then asked Him to go before me, my husband, my children, my friends and all of these troubles and change the dynamic. I asked Him to change the outcome, but only for His Glory, for God's Glory!

A while after this, my husband and I went to various stores in a distant city that used to be so enjoyable. We both noticed that the stuff there was just stuff. It no longer had the lure that we had seen so many times before. I knew what You were doing here, Father. You showed us that our Vessels no longer have room for any desires other than what You would have us desire. This was very freeing. You then told me some hidden things about the enemy...

- What appears on the surface as chaos is actually the opposite
- All things are targeted and planned attacks on God's people
- There is nothing new under the heavens that is here
- We are to recognize who is an agent of the enemy by their rotten fruits
- These rotten fruits are allowed so we see the wicked
- The enemy desires bondage, chains, poverty and despair
- The enemy is removing freedom completely from what appears on the surface as all people, yet this is a means to an end and a lie
- These are meant as direct strikes against God

- The enemy wants to destroy all remnants of God by destroying His people
- There is nothing 'free' and there is always a price to pay when taking what evil offers
- In Jesus, we are free of bondage, but the enemy is all about destroying these freedoms

I then looked up all that is now being labelled as 'humanitarian aid'. This sounds safe, but it is not. It is instead a calculated act of war to destroy God's children. The worst possible acts are planned. Churches are to be burned down and destroyed. Bibles are to be completely rewritten to allow things detestable to God. Worship music on our media platforms will disappear and be disguised as a 'glitch'.

This is just the beginning though. Neighbors will be commanded to offer up neighbors. Children will inform the government about their parents and vice versa. This will be in exchange for freedoms, but freedom for the enemy is never free. After receiving this, I felt the Lord tell me that it was time to get up and proceed with our day.

Instructions from the Lord: "Erin, I am with you. As you go about your day, I reveal items wherever you go. You will realize that the war has been here for some time. I have kept you aside for My purposes. It is Me within you working to instruct you. Now go about your day. I will show you."

After receiving this instruction, my husband and I drove into town. We then walked around and made observations. I knew that much of this was important, even though we didn't see it. I knew that the Lord would point out that which we were not truly noticing. I then went to Him to discuss what we had experienced.

Jesus: "Erin, come up."

I heard the Lord's Voice...

Jesus: "Erin, I am instructing you in greater service. All that you have been given has been as a scribe. You are now being given instructions from Me in the ways you should go. This is so you understand trust. When you pray, I will answer immediately. When you ask, I will speak immediately.

"Even more though... I will say 'pray this way' and it will be done unto you. Erin, I will place the need before you to ask and I will then bless you. While you did not have understanding before, I am now creating all things before you. You once would say 'a deer jumped out in front of my car. Why?' or 'I fell down the stairs and hurt my foot. God, heal my foot.'

"Now you say 'Lord, I give this day to You for Your Will be done on Earth as it is in Heaven.' Erin, with you being a citizen of Heaven and as a worker for God, you will no longer be subject to evil here. This is because I am in you and I am with you. Will you now allow Me to take you wherever you need to go?"

Me: "I am sorry, Lord, but I had thought I had already been doing this."

Jesus: "Before this, you went about your daily lives and I went along with you. However, I now create your days in advance and you follow Me."

Me: "But, Lord, since You are King over all things anyway, I thought the days were already Yours?"

Jesus: Smiling. "Let's be truthful. You would awaken and make your plans and then expect God to show up for them. This is now different. If you allow Me, I will now create your days and you will then be the subject of My plans and schedule, no matter the outcome. However, this I promise you... nothing I do... or you as My Vessel going forth... will return void. Now, can you trust Me to plan your course?"

Me: "Of course! However, apart from my earthly responsibilities and chores, I am still unsure how to navigate all of this."

Jesus: "Erin, you are missing My point. I know of your responsibilities and have not said stop your earthly routines. I am instead saying that you are to give Me all of your reins and controls. Give Me even the wheels of your car for My glory. Can you do this?"

Me: "Yes, Lord."

Jesus: "This is not an easy thing to do. While it seems simple on the surface, it is difficult. This is because those who follow Me must still serve two masters. This is because you reside in a fallen world. I am now asking of you the ability to allow Me to work through you. Do this and all things in Heaven and Earth will be given to you for My glory. There is nothing aside from Me. There is no job, no home, no food, no income and no abilities apart from Me to those in the Army of God.

"Erin, do you understand what I am saying? For the last three years, I have been taking care of your every need and even some extra gifts. This has been far beyond what the world would pay you. To the prince of perdition, you have no worth. I have kept you close to Me and I have saved your children. I have blessed your house and your Nest so that others would come to understand My love for them.

"While it has been difficult to fully trust Me, it is I who created this for you. What I offer you, the world cannot. I will protect you there as well. Even if the plague comes near you, it will not overcome you. You are not to live in fear of anything except for the fear of the Lord and doing good all the days your feet walk here. I am with you in all things.

"Now, I took you to the area downtown yesterday. I showed you the very heart of downtown... a once thriving mall. You felt Me prompt you to go there. While enroute, you stopped to see one of those you will one day bring back to Me. While there, you found a gift in advance for your service. This gift was to mark this event. This event is the beginning of your journey.

"When purchasing this, I gave you just enough cash so as to not leave a footprint for the enemy to attack this woman. You will visit her again and then too bring cash so your steps are not traced. From there, you passed by the stores you both once frequented. While they brought joy before, they have now lost their luster. One day soon, you will be handed gifts from these stores in gratitude because of Me.

"You next arrived at the location I specifically directed you to go. Most of the little shops are out of business and there are many vacancies. This mall was once the central heart of commerce in this town. Now this heart is given over to the god of this world. No longer am I there except when I am there with you. This is because I first led you to go there, understand?"

Me: "Lord, are You no longer in our town?"

Jesus: "Give Me your observations, starting from the point I gave you in a vision. Travel above and around where you went. By doing this, see if the God of all created beings, the Great I Am, would be there."

Me: "Okay, so we noticed the comfortable shoe store was now gone. The other shop that handmade beautiful shoes was also now gone. A clothing store had left. The government offices above are still there, one of which my husband knows of well. While a different clothing store is still there, I believe that they are hurting and will probably close soon. However, the yoga clothing store is thriving and expanding.

"Stores that are still there include a pharmacy, a bra and lingerie shop and a dollar store. There is also a dirty looking Chinese restaurant. There is an optical shop that sells high end glasses. There is also a bank and a Starbucks. Around it is the abortion clinic. There is also a historical church, but this is now used for homeless and LGBTQ congregants. There are also some small shops and coffee places."

Jesus: "Very good observations. Across from the Court House are various tattoo places and other sinful establishments. However, most places are unable to succeed. This is because the heart of the town is dedicated to serving the god of this world. Because they do not invite Me here, removing Me, this city's downtown was given over to their sins. Erin, the only businesses that still thrive here are those that serve the citizens of the world. However, even these businesses are dying. You have only to look at their fruits to see the health of the tree and the river that nourishes its roots."

Me: "Should we no longer go there, Lord?"

Jesus: "I will lead you in the ways you should go. Do not worry. When you, your husband and your children are there, so too am I. There are many there who will be one day in great celebration because of Me and will recognize that I am with you. While they knew your daughter was Mine, she has now been removed by Me for My purposes.

"Your daughter was supernaturally there and she went against the flow of their river. One day, many will say 'how did we not recognize her?' However, this was because it was not the correct time. The same is true for you, your husband and your sons. They will say of you 'I knew there was something, but I didn't know what.'

"See, Erin, I bless those who bless you and those who curse you are cursed. You are here in this area because the lost live here. These truly do not know Me. Those who claim to know Me do not know Me. I do not know many of them. I am not welcome in their self-contained lives. They do not look for Me.

"Now, I have never blessed the places who came against your husband. I did not bless those who gossiped, speculated with lies and verbalized these untruths. I removed many of them. Many never advanced again and wave after wave ensued. While all of them know the beginning of their troubles, pride keeps them from speaking truth. Do not worry about these things as this is of no consequence to your futures."

Me: "I am amazed at so much coming from a short visit of one hour downtown."

Jesus: "It was more than this. It was showing you why I have not blessed this city with My Prosperity of Joy in the heart of it. When the city grows, the floods come. When the youths grow, I call those who are Mine away. This leaves those who are wicked or lost. Some are then destroyed. To prosper here is to serve Molech. You and your family live outside of their reach. From there, you can pray. Now, I did all of this so you will see the heart of the matter. The heart is filled with vacancies.”

Me: “Lord, thank You for all of this.”

Jesus: “There are no accidents from here. There is something in a name. I am here and all around you. Now, I am sending a great sign to anger the ruler of world. It is marked in a name. This will enrage him to strike out against My people. Do not be afraid when you see this. Watch and see that I am God over all things.”

Note: While I am not sure, I believe Jesus could have been referring to the active Hurricane Henri. As it stands today, this storm is scheduled to hit New England in the next few days. More specifically, current storm trackers show that ‘the former leader that still is’ could have his house directly affected by this storm in some manner. The name Henri means ‘home ruler’.

Me: “Is there anything else we should do today, Lord?”

Jesus: “Give Me your day. I will lead you. I love you, Erin!”

Dream over.

Dream 513 – God’s Big Plans Are Bigger Than The Enemy’s

Received on Sunday, August 22, 2021

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day! Thank You for my husband, my children and our Nest Sparrows. Thank You for signs and wonders. Thank You! Father, please be patient with me and bless me as I go forth daily under Your wing. You are gently... and sometimes not so gently... teaching me in the ways I should go. I am in awe of You. There are so many things about You I truly did not know until now.

The main thing is how You are now talking to me directly even as I go about my daily chores. You are even in the most mundane of tasks. Here are just a few examples from just yesterday alone...

Example 1: I had no idea that our portable air conditioner unit had three separate filters. I had just finished cleaning the one I knew about as per my routine, when I heard Your clear voice...

Voice of the Lord (Jesus): “Erin, there are two more filters.”

Sure enough, I found two more filters. They were now clogged from about two years of filtering. After cleaning them, the unit pumped out much more cool air! Thank You!

Example 2: I was shifting a shelving unit when I again heard Your clear voice...

Voice of the Lord: “Erin, be careful not to shift this shelf too far.”

Well, I foolishly didn’t listen this time and sure enough something overhead crashed down on me. I wasn’t hurt, so I just knew that this was to teach me, and therefore us, a lesson in listening and obedience.

Voice of the Lord: “It is okay, Erin. This will not hurt you. However, when I give you wisdom via a warning, then stop what you are doing immediately and take stock of your surroundings. You can then make modifications as necessary or redirect the process you are following.”

Example 3: I then went out to purchase a new pillow to sleep on. I wanted to do this prior to my day of rest, which is today. Each time I went to various stores, the Lord was silent. This changed once I placed an item for my devotional chair in my cart. I picked out this item simply because I was tired and on a self-imposed timeline.

Voice of the Lord: "Stop. Why are you compromising on quality when bringing this to My Altar."

Me: Quickly placing the item back on the shelf. "I am so sorry, Lord."

Voice of the Lord: "You are clearing out clutter. Today's purchase is tomorrow's clutter and not worthy of a Bride. I will direct you in the way you should go. Thereby pray for My glory to fall around you and that I send the perfect item. Erin, I will provide this. The things you have at home are better than these. However, I still want you to purchase this. I want you to do this to prove to you a better way and to provide a lesson."

When I later went home, I looked around to see if there was something better than what I had just purchased. There was not... or so I thought. Something highly unusual then happened... we heard knocking on one of our windows. We went to investigate, but there was nothing there. This repeated five separate times. When I went to investigate this for the fifth time, there was a basket I had not noticed with the same item I had just purchased, but with far higher quality.

Not only did I find this, but when picking it up, a bracelet I had been missing fell out. This is a lovely bracelet that I am fond of. This knocking was heard not just by me, but also my husband and his daughter. We all investigated each time, but found nothing. Given we were not able to find anything in the natural, we realized it had to be supernatural. Well, I have now learned another lesson. I now have to return this item to the store as I have something far superior. This is time spent that I could have avoided.

While the other knocks happened yesterday between 9:00pm and 10:00 pm, the knocks were not finished. While no one heard this particular set of three knocks, this awoke me at 2:57am this morning. I went to our door and no one was there. I then looked outside the window and saw the moon. It was a full moon and there was a bright star to the right of the moon I had never noticed before. I went back to sleep and then had a dream at around 8:00 this morning...

Sub-dream 1 "Brace for Impact"

I was looking over a large map of the east coast of the USA. I then heard the booming voice of a large angel shout 'BRACE FOR IMPACT'. I then saw an object.

Sub-dream 1 over.

I woke up from this dream remembering very few details. However, while the object could be Hurricane Henri, I felt strongly it could be something else. I just wasn't sure. While the Lord usually responds to my questions with an immediate answer now, something that only started recently, mysteries such as this object are not. I laughed about this as there were other questions I wanted to ask that I just somehow knew were probably 'out of bounds'. Still worth asking though, right? Smiles!

I then remember some articles I had read to my husband via reports from the Christian Post. Christians in Muslim countries, but especially in Afghanistan, are now being killed for having a Bible App on their phones. In Afghanistan, the Taliban have informed residents that they have to mark their door with an X if there are any girls in the home under 12. These girls are then given to the Taliban men as prizes.

If it is discovered that the door is not marked, most likely to avoid a young girl from being taken, then the whole family is immediately executed. Christians are fleeing to the hills. Oh Father, what is happening in Afghanistan is so terrible. Please won't You activate us so that we can help these oppressed and terrorized people?

Jesus: "Erin, come up."

I heard the Lord's Voice...

Jesus: "The events currently in the news are only surface reports. These tell only a surface level by sight story. Your source outlines the true events taking place there. However, there is much more to this."

Me: "Lord, what is happening in Afghanistan is coming here, right?"

Jesus: "While these are the plans of the enemy, you are not to worry. Things are not as they seem though. The enemy did not open the border to the south to bring in cheap labor from southern countries as is often speculated. No! Look carefully instead at who is being allowed in. These are terrorists and those responsible for the slaughter of hundreds of Christians, as well as other crimes. This is the build up of the black dragon's army of fighting men. These are the punishers."

Me: "The news is telling us that only a small number of criminals are coming in."

Jesus: "Unfortunately, this is not true. The reports are not telling the whole story. Remember that there is always rabble that comes with an exodus. Now there will also be a mass exodus from a foreign land. Those coming are not who you think. These will be the sergeants and generals coming here to fight on western soil. This was planned and appointed. The enemy always comes in the midst of a humanitarian crisis. It is his clarion-type call as he uses this as a cover for what is really happening.”

Me: “What about those coming from Cuba?”

Jesus: “These include those who have been set free from prison there. They are coming to finish what was started twenty years ago against America. The landscape has now changed all over the areas of Europe, Canada and even Mexico. So many are now descending on the USA.. or are already there. While you fear the worst, the plans of the enemy are even worse than you think.

“This man has not come into full power yet. It is not yet his time. You need to realize that you are being told this now so that when you see these things, you understand what is coming. Before I tell you more, understand fully that I am God over all things. Understand that I have an even greater plan than the enemy’s. So, when I give you this knowledge, you are not to be in fear of the enemy’s schemes.

“Be in peace instead knowing that I am with you and My plans are greater and more powerful than theirs. This is why there is such speed to their actions. All is happening so quickly that no one is able to do anything against this. As I have shown you, it is like a small ball of clay at the top of a hill. By the time it reaches the bottom, it has picked up great speed and along with it increased 100 time more in volume.

“However, I can level the hill. Erin, I can send a great wind and even fire to change the momentum. However, and even better, I will do something in your days you would not believe even if you were told. While I can go back several thousand years, or even a few hundred years, let us go back 21 years ago instead. 21 years ago, I sent out prophecies, signs and wonders to My elect. Like you were, most were dismissed as crazy for claiming they had an encounter from God. Well, you certainly remember your ‘Y2K’, don’t you?”

Me: Laughing. “Yes, Lord... vividly!”

Jesus: “I called many who were sleepy. I summoned My messengers to come in advance. I also sent dreams and visions. I then kept a remnant of those who had not been defiled by the false doctrines of the world. I instead instructed them on the way they should go. While you then went through the furnace of affliction, this was for your benefit. Still, it took you a few years to allow Me to work.

“The same is true for some others who now understand I am doing something in them. However, none of you fully understand. Without removing the world, your 'self' and selfish ambitions, I was unable to work fully in you. Now I can. I called My army in advance of 9/11 (September 11, 2001), the time when the towers fell. This was the beginning of several harbingers from Me that the land, My land, must return to Me.

"I gave them 19 years to repent. The land was instead ruled by the very one who vowed to destroy My Name and raise himself up in My place. Amongst his army, he is called M a h a d i, their 'savior' and 'the chosen one'. Since their 'savior' was birthed from chaos, so then chaos is their friend. However, a plan was set into place first to become culturally significant and popular amongst all people.

"The media and others say very little about his problems. They instead focus on his 'great self-made accomplishments' put into place for them to achieve more. He then superficially had the main terrorist (Osama bin Laden) executed and a memorial erected at the area of the fall of the towers. He then asked America to close the book on the past and move forward.

"This was to lessen the impact of what had happened that day. It has now come to pass that anyone speaking out about these events will become their target. As time continued, he began to increase the populations dependence on the government. You have only to go back in history 80 years to see patterns of the same spirit (Nazism).

"He (Hitler) began to associate with those who hate My people and began to joke about removing them publicly. He planted seeds that are the opposite of the Kingdom of Heaven, including hate, discord, suspicion, poverty, prejudice, envy and other seeds. Well, the enemy now includes Christians as the problem because they speak out against the killing of babies. He then mobilized the media to side with him.

"He also lined up the various law enforcement agencies (CIA, FBI, etc.) and had them look the other way. These organizations then even incited targets to criminalized behavior, even supplying the guns to match the agenda narrative. He then continued to do all things detestable to God. He used great symbolism and even Scripture to further mock Me. If you look at the roots, you will find him behind the Syrian migration.

"He tested this by using their migration to Europe first. Those who are now here have been instructed to remain lawful until they are called to not be. As time continued, his leadership had to be ceremonially handed over. This was ceremonially only as he is still in charge. He became very angry at the Bull's rise to power and his popularity with the people. In response, he put several obstacles in place to thwart his power and abilities. He used the full measure of his government to remove him.

"However, he still was not able to control him. Erin, I allowed the rise of the Bull. The former leader then became enraged at the people for now liking the Bull's successes in so many areas. At one point, the Bull was even up for a Noble Peace Prize. The former leader knew that I was behind all of the Bull's successes. The plague, the Corona, then came.

"Masks were then mandated and people were shut inside. Many then died. During this time, the race riots began. These were fueled by false information and lies. This man and his wife then began to speak against law enforcement, anyone with a gun and those who voted for the Bull. They then attacked churches... well, you know the rest."

Me: "So, they are building up their army now?"

Jesus: "This is only the second layer of what is happening that you do not see. Erin, there is much more. Now, the rise in popularity of genetic origin tests did not work as they had hoped. These started at a high price and then had the price lowered. However, people still were not behind this. The plan then changed to use the plague test as a DNA test with markers."

Me: "Are they looking for certain things?"

Jesus: "Yes, the Lost Tribes. However, they will not find them. Now, I could have you write for hours and fill a book on the plans of the enemy. You already have this in history books though. Again, this is the same evil (Nazism) that tried to remove the Jewish people. This has now been expanded. They want anyone with the wrong skin color or religion to be destroyed. This is a strikeout against Me. They will do anything to attack God. However, you are not to fear as their souls are God's alone. I have the key to death and Hades. He does not. I therefore have the final say."

Me: "When, Lord? When will you rise up in us and allow Your miracles?"

Jesus: "Erin, do not worry. I want you to understand that I am in complete control here. When the enemy loses control, he becomes angry. He is angry at Me because he anticipates that My Army, the Army of God, will soon be deployed. He has sent out waves of fear in various forms.

"However, I am the God he fears. My power is greater and so too will be My Army. I told you all of this so you do not get too wrapped up on surface level events in the news. It is fine for timing, but really not truthful or helpful other than to create fear and the desire for a savior. Most are not looking to Me. They instead look to this former leader and other politicians.

"Now, the weapons that were lost overseas are set to come here to activate a government army made up of terrorists when this former king takes up his seat again. What is happening overseas is the same army coming here. However, they must first remove the power to fight back, including guns, food, supplies and other things. The enemy wants Christians and Jews, but really the whole Lost Tribe, gone, including all remnants. Bibles will also be removed."

Me: "Lord, please give us Good News!"

Jesus: Smiling. "The Good News is that I am just getting started!"

Me: "Okay, but can You please hurry, Lord? It is becoming really discouraging down here."

Jesus: "I understand that it looks this way. However, you are not to worry as I am here and My plans are greater. The harvest is near. Remember that it is darkest before the dawn, not brightest before the dawn. I am in you and I am with you now.

Before I came in love, but I now come still in love, but now also in truth. I will have the final say and My truth will reign. You have no cause to fear because I am in you.

"I have prepared My Temple Vessels and you will pour out Living Water. While this happens, My angels will pour out wrath upon the lands. For a while, I withheld shaking the ground and the number of storms. However, I will now add quaking mountains and rivers with overflowing banks. To those who call out to Me, I will save. To those who curse me, they will then be consumed by their own words in return.

"Now do not worry. Continue on your course. I love you!"

Dream over.

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You! Thank You! I love You with my whole heart. You are my Best Friend. It’s been humbling. My heart is still grieving. It is difficult to be excited for something when my body doesn’t have the abilities. While I dream of great things, I am unable. Atmospheric shifts can often make my joints achy. My foot then flares up.

I have to ask You for forgiveness because I am still not fully tapping into the new way You are communicating with me. I am also sorry as I actually began to hear You clearly way back in January 2020. At first, I thought this was my imagination or a ‘volume turned up’ Holy Spirit. Neither was true. This is You.

The minute my heart is heavy, You now answer. I think back to so many instances where it would have been so helpful to hear You like this. How many mistakes could have been avoided? For example, I was deeply mourning for a father who lost hold of his twins during a flood. The minute I did this, You showed me a vision of You holding the twins’ hands and walking them to the Baby Animal Garden in Heaven.

I drove my older son to his training program today. My heart was broken as he looked so nervous. He held his lunch pail close to his chest. He asked me to pray for him. He was worried that people might not like him. I told him he is the kindest person I know. I then told him to become stronger and more confident every day so that the Lord would shine through him.

I watched him walk up the ramp and I felt broken. He will be 24 years old soon and he is unable to take care of himself. He does what he is told, no more and no less. He is honest. Oh Father, I need to see a miracle soon. He has a small crush on a girl and his hope is that You, Father, will make him desirable, strong and worthy of one day being a husband. This just wouldn’t work today as things currently stand.

After dropping him off, I drove to Walmart. I needed something to suction food at the bottom of Heaven's fish tank. He has stopped eating again. I prayed for Heaven in my Holy Spirit language, which can also be a song as it was in this case. The Lord told me the words of this song as I had never known what I was singing...

Me singing in Holy Spirit prayer language: "Praises go to my Father on the Throne, Who was and is and is to come. He is the One Who sharpens our arrows and swords for battle. He is the One Who causes His enemies to be confounded and fall at just one breath. He is the One Who, just by speaking it, can bring a thing into existence or extinguish it. He is the One Who, by His tongue, the Sword of Truth, causes evil men to confess and drop to their knees. He is the One Whose touch can heal a blind man or cause the lame to walk. He is the One Whose embrace can heal even the most broken of hearts. His Gown fills the Temple and covers His Altar in His Glory."

After singing this, I started bargaining with God. Who is greater than God? Father, please let Your Kingdom, Your Glory and Your Power drop over us. Let Your Will be done on Earth as it is in Heaven, Amen.

Jesus: "Erin, come up."

Even though I was in the same spot, I could hear Jesus speaking to me loudly and clearly. I was sad today.

Me: "Lord, why am I still not healed? Forget me though. What about my sons or even my fish? Please, Lord."

Jesus: "How much do you think I did regarding miracles before my Father called me to service?"

Me: "I do not know, Lord."

Jesus: "I had wisdom, knowledge and My Father was with Me. However, it was not until I was baptized that Heaven opened over Me and My Father's Spirit was in Me. He then said, 'this is the way, walk in this.' To understand fully the magnitude of where My earthly physical body had converged with My Heavenly Spirit and the Great Love and Power of My Father, I went to the desert for forty days.

"Once there, I could learn to hear His Voice with great clarity and become One with My Father. As a test, Satan came with things common to man. He offered things which appeal to carnal man, including power, satisfaction, pride and satisfaction of hunger and thirst. He came to offer what the world had in fullness. However, because I was now walking in My fullness of being on Earth as in Heaven, I was then unable to bend to temptation as there is nothing the world has to compare to what I offer.”

Me: “So, the forty days was Your time of fusing Heaven with Earth in You as Your Father led You? So, this is like a mini-version of the forty years when You were with the Israelites?”

Jesus: “It took forty years to remove Egypt from them. Egypt represents the world. Egypt was modern back then. The Israelites, even though they were oppressed, enjoyed the finer things as slaves there.”

Me: “I thought they were poor?”

Jesus: “Hmm, even though you are making minimum wage, you can still be very upset when your TV and microwave is traded for a forty year long camping trip. There is much groaning.”

Me: “Oh yes. I would complain. I know that I would.”

Jesus: “Yes. I have heard you complain.”

Me: “...and whine.”

Jesus: “Well, forty signifies a testing period. After My time alone with My Father and the angels, I was now ready for the next forty months. This is embedded in history.”

Me: “I am seeing a pattern. Forty days of testing, forty months of ministry and miracles and forty days of ascension before going Home to Heaven.”

Jesus: “Very good. Erin, this same pattern will soon hold true again. Now, your fish... why don’t I heal it or give you anything visibly miraculous right now other than My provision?”

Me: “I do not know.”

Jesus: “It is not time.”

Me: “But I thought this was the time?”

Jesus: “Okay. Hmm. Erin, I am in you. You are learning to allow Me to work in you. It is new. The enemy knows something is about to occur. In response, he is preparing preemptive strike plans. However, I have held him off. Now, if you were to begin to visibly have a miracle ministry in advance of My offensive, this would cause major problems. Picture the Army of God surrounding the enemy encampment. Is it not better to attack the enemy when he is unaware rather than when he knows he is surrounded and is ready?”

Me: "Yes, a surprise attack is always better."

Jesus: "Let them all say I am quiet. Let them say all of you are weak. Let them tempt you out of your position. They will not succeed because I have a great plan. The enemy will be unable to draw you out into the open."

Me: "Perhaps You can just heal our little fish? We promise to keep it a secret."

Jesus: "You make a good case!"

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for this beautiful day! Bless this day and fill it with Your presence. Move in me, Father. Go before me in all that I do. Also go before my children in all that they do. Please bless them. It has been horribly hot and humid these last several days. The temperature has dropped today. I went out to feed the birds and animals today. I could smell fall in the air. It was around a month ago that I smelled a hint of fall, but the full smell is here today.

While we were eating at the dining table the night before, we had quite an experience. The day was hot and the west coast fires have been so extreme that the sky has been hazy for most of August. It was around sunset, about 8:00pm or so, when an extremely large bird landed on a tree in our yard. I quickly shot a few photos. Sadly, my camera then automatically went to flash and startled the bird. It was a large crane!

We were in shock at the size of this crane and had no idea they were able to land in trees. It was remarkable and definitely a sign. This was Wednesday, August 25, 2021. Fast forward to yesterday morning. I watched as my older son once again clutched his lunch pail close to his chest. After I dropped him off, I cried as I drove to another appointment I had. Out of nowhere, a man in a pickup truck started to road rage me.

I finally turned down a different road because I didn't feel like engaging. As I was coming out of the area I had turned, right overhead was another crane flying. It was another 'crane sign'... smiles. After my appointment, I drove home. To my surprise, my husband was sick. This is unusual as he rarely gets sick and it usually lasts but a day. He was exhausted, dizzy and weak.

I think he was in denial though as he insisted to come into town with me. However, I once again knew something was wrong when he asked me to drive... smiles. He usually drives when we go places together. Well, we had finished going to all of my appointments and it was now time to pick up some food from a fast-food restaurant. I placed an order for the kids and offered them a tip in advance for a perfect order.

We then waited for 15 minutes and they finally came to our car. I thanked them and went to place the bags in the trunk. When ordering fast-food for Asperger's children, it is very stressful. Just one little trace of lettuce can cause a major outrage. This then ruins the meal experience for everyone else. Well, from what I saw, we were missing an item. When I told the manager, he insisted on looking inside the bag.

To my horror, he found this item under the fries in a different bag than the other four identical items. I just assumed they would all be in the same bag and only looked quickly in the fry bag, a bag with nothing but fries. I insisted on paying and he said 'no, we will pay for it out of the tip.' I didn't think this was fair and the people working in the back looked visibly sad for being reduced for a mistake that never happened.

I then did something similar just a few minutes later. This time involving, of all things, pickles. I was picking up this sandwich for myself and I really enjoy the pickles they put on it. Well, at least we didn't make a big deal of it. We just drove around and got a little container of pickles. To my surprise, I then noticed the pickles, but they were not in the place they normally were. Gosh, how do I do these things? Lord, please help me.

When we got home, my husband went straight to bed. He didn't even have supper last night. Now I was really starting to worry. During the night, my husband's sleep was broken up. When trying to talk to him, his speech was delirious. His temperature had now spiked to almost 103.

Jesus: "Erin, come up."

Again, even though I was in the same spot, I could hear Jesus speaking to me loudly and clearly. I was concerned about everyone's safety.

Jesus: "Erin, I am with you. I am with your daughters, your sons and your husband. Your husband will recover and will not be harmed by this. It will not overcome your house. Right now is a good time to remove any last residue in your vessels prior to the days leading up to your departure out west. It is time for you to complete your tasks and tie up loose ends. This is good. All will be settled before you go.”

Me: “Lord, I am so sorry for my mouth. I accidentally let accusations spew out. I know that this was ‘only fast-food’, I still feel so silly. I did wrong!”

Jesus: “Erin, you have been forgiven. Now, what upsets you the most as clearly you continue to hold yourself in contempt?”

Me: “I am mad that I didn’t keep my mouth quiet. All types of troubles come from my tongue. It draws out my weaknesses and the enemy easily lead me as a blind horse to a stream. Yesterday was a bad day for me. I am ashamed of myself, Lord.”

Jesus: “Then stop. These are lessons meant to instruct you. After lessons comes the tests. Perhaps you would call these a ‘pop quiz’. These make sure you are finetuning the skills you have learned. So, from what I can tell, you learned a lesson on what exactly?”

Me: “I was quick to accuse because of laziness.”

Jesus: “Well, I was testing you on something else. Any other thoughts?”

Me: “Yes. You just downloaded several things. Material temptations did not work. Things I once looked for are no longer there. This means I need not search for them unless You call me too. I was anxious about many things yesterday. I had no peace. When I have anxiety, I become sloppy. I scanned the food bags and did not trust what they were telling me. I searched. However, if I had been more thorough, none of this would have happened. Sometimes I become impatient and I speak fire out of my mouth. It is better for me to say very little then to say the wrong thing.”

Jesus: “So, yesterday was a good day as you learned lessons and were then tested. What I showed you is the enemy presenting several temptations. You passed the lust of your eye’s temptation, but the others you missed. I showed you a sign right from the start so you knew the enemy was seeking to engage you in a dual. You did not engage the road rage incident nor did you fall for the ‘half off of half off’ sale.

“The enemy then hurled more at you at the fast-food place. Since you were distracted by your husband’s illness, which I will soon remove, you missed these and became, as you call it, accusatory. You are used to being taken advantage of, so this is an understandable reaction.

“However, what I did expose to you is a wicked manager who thinks his workers are his slaves. Had you not visibly made your actions known, they would have received no gift. The manager has a heart issue. He did not trust you and even went to your food bags and handled them. This is against all rules and extremely unclean.”

Me: “I will pray for him.”

Jesus: “Well, he is going a different way and enjoys his power too much. This is not of Me. You exposed him as you do not think for a moment those workers were given their recompense. Now, when you first spot an enemy attack at the start of the day, do you remember all of the signs?”

Me: “Oh wow, yes, Lord. There were the knocks. There was the woodpecker during the storm. There was the fire alarm going off in the morning. There was the knock on the door that woke me up one morning.”

Jesus: “Okay, so I first got your attention and then the enemy made his presence known. So, then what should you do?”

Me: “Pray!”

Jesus: “Yes, but it is better also to be still and know I am God as you pray. Then allow Me to work. All of this could have been avoided. When you hear My Voice, listen and obey. Wait on Me. Lead not into your own understanding. In all of your ways, follow Me and I will make your path known. Overall, yesterday was a difficult day for you.”

Me: “I will work on this, Lord.”

Jesus: “I know and I am with you. Oh yes... the crane was a great sign! Begin to observe closely things around you. Be fully present where you are. This means do not travel ahead of Me three steps to your final destination. If you do, then you will not allow Me to lead. You will miss important things along the way. Stay with Me. Allow Me to carry your Vessel to the river. There I will fill you with Living Water. You will overflow with goodness. Does a vessel walk or roll itself to the river and then fill itself without sinking to the bottom?”

Me: Laughing. “No, Lord.”

Jesus: “I am here. Let Me carry you. Allow Me.”

Me: “Take all that I am, Lord. I love You. Please fill my empty vessel with Living Water to pour out to those who thirst. This lesson was good.”

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day! Thank You for every blessing. Even the unexpected event, once unveiled, becomes an even greater blessing. Thank You for my husband, our children, our home and our Nest family. What a wonderful miracle all of this is. More importantly, thank You, Lord, for this new way You have made in me. While I am not fully used to this, I am learning. Please forgive me as I stumble through.

Through miracles and answered prayers, my husband's temperature of 103 finally left. For three days, I battled to help him fight this illness. It came on suddenly to our home and now appears to be gone completely. Thank You, Father, as I have never seen him as sick as this. I was just one more sign away of things degrading more to having an ambulance take him in. Before doing this, You then spoke to me in a clear voice...

Jesus: "Stop, Erin. This will not overcome your household. Ask Me to go before you to remove the foreign adversary from his system. It is not the fever which needs removal. Fever is a sign of an internal war against the body. You fluctuated back and forth because this adversary, this illness, was still present. You used remedies to bring down temperatures. While this is good, what is causing this.

"It is not the root, but only a sign of something greater. Removing a sign is only prolonging the fight. You should instead ask Me to go before you to remove that which causes harm. It is an unwelcome house guest or tent dweller. The fever is a symptom of your body's reaction to unwanted change. Once it enters or arrives, the body fights to remove it. The battle then becomes 'heated', hence the rise in temperature."

After this, I changed my strategy. I used fluids and asked the Lord to pour in my husband's beaten body all of Your glory. Father, please turn these fluids into Living Water from Heaven, Your River of Life. Well, within just a few short minutes, his temperature dropped to 98 from 103! This was a miracle. I kept checking through the night, but it never came back. My husband's son also was feeling better. Thank You, Father, for miracles.

Yesterday was a tough day as well. It was my daughter's first day in her dorm room. She felt alone for the first time and wondered if she would make friends. I told her not to worry as God will send friends. My heart was heavy as I just love being in Oregon at this time of year. Well, we will be soon. When speaking on the phone, she told me that she forgot how wonderful fall felt in Oregon.

Later on, I looked outside and saw a sparrowhawk. I reached for my camera and took a few shots. After it flew away, I saw something very odd. There was a small racoon in our yard and he was behaving in distress. I watched for a while and realized that this racoon appeared to be showing signs of rabies. This means this poor animal was suffering greatly as they are not able to swallow.

Well, today was my mom's 80th birthday and I wrote a note on her memorial wall. She also died because she was not able to swallow. Obviously, it wasn't rabies and this is a simplification, but it is still similar. I know that the Lord loves my mom and she is well taken care of. Thank You, Father, for my mom. I miss her, but I also know I will see her again. I am so glad she breathes easy and can swallow without difficulty.

I immediately phoned fish and game and they were out in about an hour or so. Using a rifle, the officer shot the racoon out of the tree. It took two shots and it was hard to hear the sounds this poor animal made. Thankfully, the officer did not take long to put him out of his misery. My older son and I watched all of this take place and we were both choking back the tears. I then sat to visit with You this morning...

Jesus: "Erin, come up."

Again, even though I was in the same spot, I could hear Jesus speaking to me loudly and clearly. I was happy as my husband and his son were much better today.

Jesus: "Man takes care of himself. The world neglects their own children and cares even less about an unborn baby. Instead of taking care of this baby as a gift of God, they curse them with a painful death. They are lovers of self and seekers of vanity. They kill for the sake of convenience. So, you ask, why does no one care for these little injured animals?"

"Erin, it is because the world has grown cold. They claim to love animals so much that they advocate for the removal of meat and dairy. They enjoy their pets because they are able to parade them on social media. They are hypocrites and lovers of themselves.

"Their dogs eat better than most humans. Their dog's clothing is better and their dog's bed is softer than most humans. Who is capable of mending a broken wing or repairing a broken leg if there is no opportunity for self-edification? Would they help for the sake of the victim if they didn't think they would get a positive review from the person bringing the animal in?"

Me: I was quiet. "I am sorry, Lord. I photograph these little ones."

Jesus: "Yes, but you also bless them. In turn, they have become a blessing to you. I know it is difficult to understand the event of this little one and his painful death. However, I have him and great is his joy and peace. His life mattered to Me and to you. Now his life is written down in words and remembered if even for a short little life. Erin, life matters to Me. My Creation matters to Me.

"Sometimes there is a miracle of great healing and, at other times, there is the passing of life. You ask why. It is because sometimes the loss is of great benefit to the living, to those who grieve them. This can mean eternal life. I died a brutal death only to be raised again. I passed over from one state to another. The little one has passed. He is no longer abandoned, sick and scared. He is free. Erin, do not worry."

Me: Crying. "Lord, I am thankful that You have kept us safe here."

Jesus: "You are welcome. Remember to come to Me and I will answer you. Now, I have sent a great storm to a familiar place. This is a sign. The name comes from a child of God who mourned and grieved for the loss of her husband. While she was blessed, she was concerned for all of those women who were broken-hearted, the widows, those pregnant, orphans, the sick and the poor. She would pray and provide for the broken each day. While she had lost much, she dedicated her life to Me.

"The storm is named for her and she resided in Erin. What this means is that she was with Me in peace. The storm comes as a reminder that I do not forget the little ones who were sacrificed for the sake of convenience. These were sacrificed on the altars of Baal to the evil Molech and I will have no mercy. Is there no god in the land who can rise up and save them during the storm? Where there is no justice, there is no peace."

Me: "Oh no, You are speaking about Hurricane Ida about to hit New Orleans!"

I was suddenly shown a vision. This was based on the son of perdition. The Great Lakes represented ovaries. Chicago represented the seed, or seat, of evil. This is where he first rose in power. The Mississippi represented the birth canal. The City of New Orleans represented the crowning head of the baby about to be birthed. Hurricane Ida is hitting New Orleans on the 16th anniversary to the day of Hurricane Katrina.

Note: While current path projections do not show the hurricane going up the Mississippi, they do show it roughly going towards Martha's Vineyard / New York / etc. This vision did not show me where Hurricane Ida's path was going to go.

Jesus: "I showed you this time many years ago. Erin, My anger burns against the wicked and the corrupt. I will do something in their days that they would not believe even if they were told. However, this will not be for their good. While they say 'there is no God', their own 'father', the king of perdition, knows that this is untrue. He knows that God is King over Heaven and Earth. This is why he strikes out against My children in advance.

"This way the evil can say, 'Where is their 'god' and who will save them?' Well, I will now raise up My springs of Living Water to pour out both My breath and healing across the flooded and burning land. They will then say 'these are not of God's Kingdom! These are aliens from a distant star. It can't be God's children as God is weak and His children are weaker still. These are from another place.'

"Well, Erin, they are not. The enemy will know and his army will know that God has come as Heaven will once again be visible and will walk on Earth. Rejoice, Erin, as there is a great ticker-tape like celebration in Heaven now as the saints are ushered in, the heroes of this time. These are those who placed the Kingdom of God first and won a Great Victory. Now rejoice, rejoice, as the Kingdom of Heaven is here."

Me: "Praise You, Lord, in all things."

Jesus: "Finish your tasks! Tie up loose ends! Then wait on Me. I have you. I will provide for you. When you call out, I will immediately answer. I am with you. You are loved by the King above all kings!"

Dream over.

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for this beautiful fall-like summer day! The leaves are beginning to turn on the trees. Thank You for my family and friends. To be loved in life is a gift. To love and be loved by You, Father, is the Greatest Gift of all. We travel out west on Tuesday, September 7, 2021, Rosh Hashanah, the Feast of Trumpets. Other than to visit my daughter, we have no significant 'personal ambitions'. In other words, even our itinerary is subject to change. However, this is exactly as You wanted us to have it.

We are to follow Your leading each day, with each day anew. Yes, this trip is all according to Your Will and leading. This is the first time I have travelled anywhere without a firm purpose. You have told us to go to the place of my heart (Bend OR) and wait for further instructions there. Well, and on faith, we are now going to do just that. I am both excited and scared. It has been 7 years since I have been in Portland OR or Bend OR. It is my favorite time of the year there, so I pray it will be beautiful.

I am resting completely today. I had an 'emergency' last Sunday and ran to the store. Well, this was 'in violation' of my set Sabbath day as I have defined it for myself. I then fought a fever on Monday and Tuesday. If I had only rested for the entire Sunday, I would not have subsequently lost two days. I was weak and tired and lost quite a few days of finishing my tasks. Father, I am just so very sorry for my foolishness. The Sabbath day of resting in the Lord is a gift for us.

It took me many years to finally understand the benefits. Thank You for an appointed day of rest. Illness fell upon our home last week. My husband's temperature peaked at 103, but myself and our children were on and off at 100. Thank You for our now complete recovery! Thank You for this gift. All illness aside, I became behind on my tasks to complete. I was far ahead, but now only have Monday to complete what I have left. I pray for supernatural strength to do so.

My dream last night was disturbing. It was unlike any other dream I have ever had...

Sub-dream 1 "The Giants walk the land" begins...

I was in a city being built in the 1800s. There were no modern conveniences. The ground was dirt and the sidewalks were made up of wood planks. I was operating a concrete swimming pool for a living. Yes, I know this does not fit in the time period. My sign said 'Bathhouse'. The pool was shallow and was fed through a type of tube from mountain springs. The water was warm and pure.

The pool looked completely modern and was a light blue / green. While I am not sure how, I had a way to keep the water pure. I began to open operations for the day. I unlocked a door that looked similar to an outhouse door. I put out a sandwich board that read 'Refreshing Healing Bath – Cost 50 cents – includes towel'. I placed some potted flowers near the entrance to make it look nice.

The flowers looked like California poppies. I sat on a rocking chair on the porch and waited for my first customer of the day. As I looked down the street, I noticed a lot of activity. My mouth then dropped in amazement when I saw six giant men walking with the crowd. These giants were 28 feet tall each. The ordinary folks next to them looked like toddlers in comparison.

When I saw one of the giants eyeing my bathhouse, I panicked and wanted to remove the sign. It was too late for this though. I feared the damage he could do and it really scared me to only charge him the standard 50 cents. He was wearing a long black coat and a type of top hat. When he came to speak with me, I was terrified.

Giant: "Can I take a healing bath?"

Me: "Yes, of course. I just hope you can get through the door."

Giant: "I think I can."

I prayed to God for help and a miracle. The giant gave me 50 cents.

Giant: "If the bath is great, I will give you more."

My pool was about 25 feet long and 10 feet wide. It had stairs and was somehow illuminated. I heard him laughing. He seemed really happy.

Giant: "I will be here awhile. This is not of this world." Just then, I heard a noise and a flash of light. I heard a scream from the giant. "How is this possible? What will I wear? Help? Help!"

Me: "Are you okay, sir?" I was behind the door.

Giant: "What kind of bath is this? Please get me some ordinary sized clothes and find my brothers for me!"

I went to the mercantile and asked for a pair of britches, shorts, socks, shoes, button shirt, under shirt and a suit. I didn't see his brothers though. I went back to him.

Me: "Here is your clothing. However, I was unable to find your brothers."

After a few minutes, he came back outside. He was no longer a giant. In fact, he looked completely normal. I was in shock. He then went to look for his 5 brothers. I decided to check on my pool. To my surprise, everything was pristine. After about ten minutes or so, the man returned with his 5 brothers. Since they were now extremely angry, they were even more terrifying than usual.

Me: "Are you here for a healing bath?"

While two of the brothers said yes, the other three remained angry and did not want to participate.

Me: Forcing a nervous smile. "One at a time though."

The second brother went into the bathhouse. We heard screams of joy and laughter almost immediately. The third brother then went into the bathhouse with the same results. Three of the brothers now had normal sized bodies. However, three of them remained giants and were even more furious. Since I must have been protected by God, the three giants turned away from me and began to lumber down the street. They were effortlessly ripping people apart in their rage.

Me: Praying. "Lord, this is horrifying. Could you please destroy these giants immediately?"

In an instant, all three angry giants dropped dead from heart attacks. The people cheered at their deaths. The three former giants then came up to me.

Brother 1: "What witchcraft did you use to heal us and to kill them?"

Me: "This is God, not witchcraft. You were healed of your afflictions. Now you can have compassion on others."

Brother 2: "I can marry! I also won't be so hungry now!"

While happy for them, I was still struggling with the horror of the butchering of the people by the three angry giants before they dropped dead like a stone.

Me: In a serious tone. "If you turn completely from your wickedness and look to God, you will be blessed. However, if you return to your former practices, a curse will fall upon you and you will die just as your three brothers did."

As I said this, the third brother became distracted by a beautiful woman. This woman was grieving at the side of her now deceased husband, torn apart by the now dead giants. He looked upon her with an unholy lust. His thoughts were still just as wicked.

Brother 3: "Now I can take this woman and she will not fight me. I can now do as I choose and not suffer any consequences."

Since the Lord saw that his heart was still intent on evil, his heart stopped immediately and he suddenly died. The two brothers that still were alive looked at me in shock.

Me: "God was not happy with your brother's evil intentions. This was a heart issue. Even though the top of his head was still wet from the healing pool, he was already back to plotting evil."

Brother 1: "What do we need to do to make things right and atone for our sins and the sins of our brothers?"

Me: "Who are your parents?"

Brother 1: "Our father is from generations of evil men. My brothers are all from different mothers. All the mothers have died. It is hard to be married to a giant."

Me: "Where are you from?"

Brother 2: "We come from far away."

Me: "Like another planet?"

Brother 1: "No, from a gateway, a place of hiding."

Me: "Like a cave?"

Brother 2: "Yes, you can say that."

Me: "Do you have money?"

Brother 1: "We are very wealthy. We employ giants for many things."

Brother 2: Handing me some gold. "Here, this is for my healing bath."

Me: "You must also reimburse the families."

Brother 1: "Yes, of course."

The two brothers then set out to atone for the deaths of those who the giants had killed.

Sub-dream 1 over...

Lord, this was one of the strangest dreams I have ever had. It was so frightening when the giants went on a rampage. I don't understand it. Why the 1800s? Perhaps this dream was given to me because I am subconsciously worried about facing my giants in Oregon. However, these were much taller than any of my current enemies... smiles.

I pray, Lord, that we remain fully focused on You in all that we do. Things have changed for me. The moment I ask, You answer. You remove wicked schemes of the enemy. You then turn schemes back upon the schemer. I pray that I have reconciled all things to You. Please go before me in all I do. Please let Your Glory go before me.

Jesus: "Erin, come up."

I heard the Lord's Voice...

Jesus: "I am here, Erin. You are anxious. Be anxious for nothing. I am with you."

Me: "Lord, why this nightmare?"

Jesus: "Think of it more as an analogy or parable of the wicked."

Me: "I have so many questions about all of this."

Jesus: "Well, instead of asking why did you have this, how about you ask Me what My message is through this. So, here it is..."

"The lands once contained many physical giants. These were offspring of fallen angels who saw that women were desirable. The giants were their offspring. God created angels separately to be servants and messengers. He made them differently in stature. They are of Heavenly Origins. They know of Heavenly Ways. They are physically larger, stronger and have abilities that man does not have.

"They were therefore forbidden to procreate with human women, the daughters of Eve. The results of this perverse union produced unclean offspring, half human and half angel. These had no leading and were given over to rebellion. Because of this great sin before God, these offspring had no ability to process between what is right and what is wrong. They were void of spiritual connections to Heaven. They lived to satisfy themselves by any means possible.

"When they struggled to lay with women, they turned to all living creatures. The Earth was then filled with abominations. It was much worse than what I showed you in your dream, understand? My Father on the Throne then sent the Great Flood to remove them from the Earth. When the waters receded, what remained were the remnants of their tributes to their fathers and physical remains."

Me: "Are some still here?"

Jesus: "The remnant in graves. There are also a few underground. If they had been left to remain, the world would have needed much more than a Savior. All would have been devoured."

Me: "You are mysterious, Lord. Why the dream?"

Jesus: "To remind you that the Me in you is greater than any giant. People will come before you that you do not personally like. While you have seen them destroy others, I will still call you to heal some of them."

Me: "Yes. I think that the world is filled with giants. So much I see makes my stomach sick. Please help me, Lord!"

Jesus: "Then pray and I will heal your illness. This is not about you, Erin. This is about who they are at the moment of healing. The heart. Some are healed and go backwards. Some are healed and are extremely grateful. You must understand that those who need a bath will come to be cleansed.

"Many will not understand fully what this means. This is the difference between spiritual death and eternal life. Not everyone who is healed is changed. The way of great change is too much for them. However, these will not understand fully the consequences.

"Remember the thieves on the cross. One was saved and came with Me to Paradise and the other was lost. I will strengthen you so you are able to stand. Do not worry. I love you. When you look at yourself, I hear you ask how you can be beautiful to Me when you are so old. Well, Erin, how do I then answer you when you ask this?"

Me: "You say 'I am older than you are, Erin!' This makes me laugh every time!"

Jesus: "You are precious in My sight, Erin. You have honored Me with your obedience to My call. You are completing your tasks. I will bless you for these. I am with you!"

Me: "So, Lord, there were 6 giants and only 2 were truly healed. Is there any significance to the 1/3rd being healed?"

Jesus: "Hmm, it is interesting you picked up on that. I am a Harvester of Hearts, not a harvester of likes on social media, understand? You will see many run to the hills and flee. These are the names in the book of death. Some will be so grateful, repent and turn to be healed and these will be made anew. These will be written in the book of life. Then there are those in between. Do you understand?"

Me: "Yes, Lord, I do understand."

Jesus: "Your job is not as a savior, only as a worker.. with Me showing you the way you should go. Now do not worry or be anxious. Allow Me to work through you in this season. I will carry you. I will shelter you. I will now be in you. You will receive instructions from Me. Doors are about to open."

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank you for another day, another chance at living for You! Thank You, Father. You are the best Father in the Universe and our only God and Creator. Lord, today is the last day of preparation for our trip out west. I am now understanding why You pushed me to finish my tasks. It was so I didn't feel planted here. Although this is our home, I had settled in here and, with shut doors, I had been determined to remain here.

The rest of the world does not call me out anymore. I had lost my joy in Your promises and placed these on a shelf, packing them away. I have never had a sense of security here on Earth. What I mean by this is a sense of 'this is my home and it is permanent'. I have moved so many times in my life that it has become second nature for me. Our home here is the home the Lord built for us. It is in a beautiful setting.

Other than a few fixups of botched construction and failing pipes, it has been the perfect home for our family. It is safe, at least for now, and the place where You have made a bridge to Heaven. Lord, thank You for this. Finishing these tasks have uncovered forgotten memories during this month of Elul. I have spent time forgiving those who have wronged us. I have prayed for miracles in family relationships.

I have also prayed with my daughter as she has already gone out west to carve out a life for herself. I peek into her room every now and then and stop myself from the realization she is not there. I am thankful though. I was watching the best of her die here. The enemy was eroding her faith by using her Christian friends that were not as they appeared to be on the surface.

My daughter talks the talk and walks the walk. This alienated her friends and they started to limit the events they invited her to. My husband and I looked at this from both sides and as unbiasedly as possible and agreed that she was experiencing unreasonably harsh attacks. After looking over many texts and other communications, we concluded that the enemy had weaponized these 'kristians' against her.

Lord, I am relieved that You preserved her faith. Lord, I am thankful and grateful too. I am grateful that all of these years of pummeling by various enemies have actually given my children a perspective of good vs evil. They have witnessed the attacks. They have heard my late-night tears when I thought they were sleeping. They have been with me and continue to join me in pressing into You. They did better when they were with me...

- They slept better at my apartment than at their extended family's home.
- Peace was with me because You were with me. Even though our situation wasn't peaceful, the kids still felt at peace.
- Safety was and is here because You govern our home. Our rentals were even safe even though someone else held a key. You were with us and my kids felt safe and secure as a result.
- In comparison, there was fighting at my enemy's home.

Lord, I now know that You are here with all of us. Everything we have is Yours. Fill my cup, Lord. Fill me, my husband our children, our house, our family and our Nest with Your Glory. Fill it with Your Robe. My Home is where my Father is in Heaven. As for here on Earth, my home is whatever You make it to be. Please be here and where my daughter is. Please be with us wherever You take us. Lord, You are the God of Miracles, our Father in Heaven and on Earth!

Jesus: "Erin, come up."

I heard the Lord's Voice...

Jesus: "Erin, I am with you. My glory is upon you. Though you worry, please worry about nothing. Finish your tasks today and prepare for your departure. I am with you in all things. When you arrive at your destination, I will give you further instructions. It will be an exciting time. Do not worry about your home here. Trust your children for their good works and they will surprise you with their care. This is good! There will be peace while you are gone, so do not worry.

"I will move your daughter sooner than later to a better room (away from her current roommate). I have a purpose in all of this and she will understand this one day. I am not with the wicked nor do I take up residence with evil. I will not dwell there. Do not worry as she (your daughter's roommate) will not harm your daughter or her things.

"Now, you are to finish loose ends today. Do not overdo yourself though. If you do, your first day will be spent in painful recovery. So, take it slowly, but bring all things before Me and I will make your path known. When you go to the familiar land, the land you are from, there will be changes. In Portland OR, there is now a heaviness of spiritual darkness over the city.

"This darkness is not where your daughter is though (she is attending school in a town just outside of Portland OR). This city (Portland OR) is not blessed by Me. However, no matter where you travel, I will be with you, so do not worry. The land of your heart transformation (Bend OR) is still a place of great hope. However, invaders have begun to take over and the place no longer has as much of a 'hometown atmosphere' as it once had.

"The very wealthy have descended on this area to escape the decaying cities. While it will be financially daunting to you while you are there, remember that the God in you, the God before you and the God over you is Me and I own all of this. I own the cattle on a thousand hills. While this is worth quite a lot, I own even more. Erin, you are not to be afraid as I am and will be with you in all things.

"You are going on full faith to the place you love (Bend OR). You have no agenda except to do My Will. You are spies going into the land I promised for you many years ago. There is a great reason why I have sent you now. You will soon understand. Do not worry as I will provide for you. I love you.

I am about to do something in your days you would not believe even if you were told. Rejoice, Erin, rejoice!”

Dream over.

Dream 516 – Spy Report: The Great Giants are about to fall

Finished on Saturday, September 18, 2021

Background on Dream 516: Based on the Lord’s instructions, my husband and I went on a journey to Oregon starting on Rosh Hashanah, the Feast of Trumpets (Tuesday, September 7, 2021) and finishing on Yom Kippur, the Day of Atonement (Thursday, September 16, 2021). We spent three days of these ‘Ten Days of Awe’ in Portland OR and seven days in Bend OR. For me (personally), Bend OR is my ‘Promised Land’ and we arrived there in the early afternoon of Friday, September 10, 2021. The below consists of 5 separate visits with Jesus encompassing a whopping 55 journal pages. We now proudly present our ‘Spy Report’...

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day! Thank You for Your love. Thank You for this journey. My husband and I spent the last few days spying the land. I wasn’t sure what to expect. I didn’t know if our journey here to the place of my heart was a journey of dismissal or a journey of embrace.

The landscape has changed. Very little is owned by people who live here. Most of the homeowners are from California. We went to an open house yesterday. I knew immediately by the material selection and the floor layout that this was done by a builder I had worked with for five years. I even recognized my designs for tile layouts.

The amount they were asking was ridiculous, primarily because I know how little it actually cost to build. They were giving themselves a profit based on prices they could get based on a California market. It didn’t matter either way as I had no desire to live in a house like this even if we were in a position to buy it.

I was very happy because we ran into people I knew (in Bend OR) and not one recognized me (note that this would continue for our entire time in Bend OR). I knew it was at least partially due to the wearing of masks. Oddly enough, when we were in Portland OR, there were several people who recognized me. It was uncomfortable.

Our experience in Portland was not the best. There was a darkness over the city that wasn’t there before and it made me so sad. While I used to feel so safe in this city, I now have no interest in living there. It has been given over to the spirit of Portlandia. The spirit of Antifa was prevalent.

The hotel we stayed at for three nights in Portland OR used to be fancier. There were now no amenities at all. Zero! We then realized why our cost to stay there was reasonable compared to other hotels in the area. They told us there was basically no room service for a short stay and to take care of ourselves. The restaurant had closed and the hotel was in disrepair.

The clerk told us they had to let go of 80 employees and were now running on a very small crew of five. I became leery when I noticed a strange young man with crazy hair walking around. We later found out he was maintenance. When he moved his arm, I saw a tattoo of an A inside a circle. This is the symbol for Anarchy.

The entire crew were in their twenties. We acted cordial and clueless. When we got up to our room, I could tell that it hadn't been cleaned properly. The sheets were piled and there were fresh pop rings on the nightstand. We were very careful not to leave anything of value in our car.

On the last day, we mentioned the problems after we asked for a copy of the bill. The woman, aged around 25, seemed internally furious with our request. She claimed she could do nothing about it now. We then asked her why we had been charged $40 a night for valet parking when we did our own parking in an unsecured lot. To her credit, though not happy about it, she then removed these charges.

I told her that I wasn't asking her for a discount. I said that the whole place was now run down and not even close to the way it was before. While she then blamed it on Covid, I didn't believe her. She then said it was just purchased by a big chain and was in transition. She was clearly being unfriendly with my husband. Out of nowhere, her drink suddenly spilled all over her working area. She pretended it didn't happen.

Well, I would never stay there again unless God led us there again. He always has a purpose for everything. Still, I didn't like these people. They were all so angry, godless and entitled. It was disgusting, really. While the suburbs of the area surrounding Portland OR still seemed nice, they too had changed. I warned my daughter not to venture out alone anywhere near the downtown of Portland OR.

I spent our first full day in Portland OR taking photos of all the places which had meaning to me there. These were all of the milestones in my Christian walk. The next full day was spent helping my daughter move from one dorm room to the next. Her original roommate fulfilled a dream I had six weeks ago as a warning. Removing her from her previous roommate was therefore very important.

We then attended the Prayer Service at my old church in Portland OR on Wednesday night. I was recognized by quite a few people there. Attendance was now so small compared to the crowds they used to get. One woman who recognized me looked extremely agitated at me being there. While I talked to some of the women from my past that night, this one completely avoided me.

On Friday morning (September 10, 2021), it was time to switch over to Bend. We traveled there via 22, Santiam Pass, the Southern Route. This was a bit disappointing as most of the area had been burned by a large forest fire. The once beautiful route was now just charred remains in many sections. I was speechless and so sad. The fire was wide spread. Even the Suttle Lake area was blackened.

Well, Father, we are now here in Bend OR. Everyone we have met here has been friendly and welcoming. We have had a fun time exploring the area. We were even upgraded at no charge to a beautiful room overlooking the mountains. Since we didn't request this from the hotel, we both thought it was You upgrading us after having the mediocre place in Portland OR. Thank You, Father!

Last night, we went to a Christian movie titled 'Show me the Father'. While we were surprised at first that it was more of a documentary, the amazing stories more than made up for it. We left the movie better than when we came in. We highly recommend this movie to all, especially for those who may have not had a strong father figure in their lives.

After the movie, we went to Chick-fil-A for the very first time. We really enjoyed it. The food was delicious and the staff friendly and funny. After this, we went back to our hotel. As it was close to the 20th Anniversary of 9/11, we watched some documentaries on this horrific event (Isaiah 30:25b: "...in the day of the great slaughter, when the towers fall"). I went to bed with these disturbing stories on my mind.

Lord, the world has completely changed. The powers that be have tried their best to downplay the seriousness of the towers falling. They have also tried their best to downplay the seriousness of the events since these tragic events. So much has happened to try and take away our Constitutional Rights. They are being stripped right in front of our eyes. I then had a vivid dream last night...

Sub-dream 1 "An Indian Boy decides to believe" begins...

I was sitting at a picnic table with an American Indian boy who was about nine years old. He was sobbing. A woman was sitting next to the boy and she was taking notes. The boy looked over at me and began to share his personal story...

Boy: "My mother was killed suddenly by some very bad men. They had wanted things from my mom that she could not give. Why would God take my mom and leave me all alone in this world?"

Me: "Your mother is now a warrior in God's Kingdom." The boy perked up when I said this. The woman taking notes started to sniffle in reaction. I continued... "God has appointed your mom for a time such as this. She knew you would also be a warrior as your heart is good and strong."

Boy: "But I don't want to be alone."

Me: "You are never alone. God is with you."

Boy: "But I am Indian. No one likes us."

Me: Smiling to comfort him. "Well, no one likes God either. They would rather divide God up into many gods so they are not accountable to just the One True God."

Several other Indians in the area heard me say this and looked insulted.

Boy: "So, we are no longer to look to the eagle, the bear or the adder?"

Me: "No. You are to look to the one and only true God, the God Who created them all. I am Osage and Ottowan, as well as white. I am half Indian and half white. God made me perfectly for His purposes under the heavens and Heaven too. So too did He create you, your mother and your family. However, the enemy has sought to separate you and destroy you bit by bit. This is done by ways that are not of God."

Boy: "I want to be where my mother has gone."

Me: "It is a beautiful place, a place of tall trees like giants and waters that heal. It is a place of peace and abundance, a place of joy and laughter. It is a place where there is no stealing, drunkenness, poverty or sorrow. It is a place of youth everlasting, a place prepared for the children of God.

"It is void of evil men. You will not see them in Heaven as they were birthed of evil and will return to their rightful place in the depths of the Earth. This is a place of no Living Water to quench the hot flames. This is a place in the Belly of the Deep."

Boy: "I don't want to go there."

Me: "You won't. God has come to save you. He will carry you."

The boy reached over and hugged me. When I looked up, there was an eagle soaring right above us.

Boy: "My Ama says you are telling me the truth. Because of this, and based on all you have told me, I will follow my mother's God."

Me: "Then this is a great day for God's Kingdom and His warriors here."

The woman taking notes then turned towards me and smiled.

Woman: "I am the mother of Ama. I too will follow the same God as my daughter and my grandson."

Many others that were sitting there also gave their hearts to Jesus. Many of them were healed. A man soon approached me.

Man: "My ancestors spoke of a prophecy of two reeds broken and burned by fire. Then 13 gone would mark the great times of healing and harvest."

Me: "While I am not sure about the '13 gone', the two reeds remind me of the twin towers destroyed on 9/11. Isaiah 30 speaks of the towers falling and the sun being seven-fold hotter. Thank you for sharing this with me."

Man: "You're welcome. I just thought you should know."

After the man left, the boy came back up to me and hugged me.

Sub-dream 1 over.

After I woke up from this dream, I felt compelled by the Lord to revisit Isaiah 30. Father, this is a difficult Scripture to read.

Jesus: "Erin, come up."

I heard the Lord's Voice...

Jesus: "Erin, it is simple when at face value and this is for this generation. The land is now in the hands of the rebellious. While they carry out their plans, these plans are not Mine. They make alliances apart from Me. There is no God in them. In fact, the only voice calling them in the wilderness is from the Negev Desert. They then decide to embrace those who hate them. They then decide to load up their donkeys and camels with riches.

"They then say 'we will take riches with us and seek shelter with those who hate us.' The rebellious then say 'we will invest in the desert land and build up their cities and armies even though there are no profits there. We will even send our best fighting men and women and sacrifice them there to those who hate them.' Because the rebellious nation is not under My protection, but that of Pharaoh's, then shame and disgrace will be their mantle.

"Now their shame and disgrace are before the entire world for all to witness. The elders of wisdom say 'do they no longer remember the great slaughter when the towers fell?' They do not! These are rebellious people, lying children, children unwilling to hear the instructions of the Lord. They do not care to bend an ear to My Voice or even a glance at My Words.

"They then make alliances with those who hate Me, those who say to seers 'do not see' and to the prophets 'do not prophesy to us what is right.' They then say 'we listen to only smooth words and things which embrace our sinful desires. We trust in illusions, so let us no longer hear about the Holy One of Israel.'

"So, here then is My promise to those who are against My children, those who disregard wise instruction, those who say 'this is not a good path for my tender feet'. My promise to them is that I will not listen. These are the children of perdition. They now despise My Word and trust instead in oppression and perverseness. Because they rely on these, their high positions will come crashing down suddenly and in an instant.

"It will be as a breaking of a potter's vessel not of My making, smashed so ruthlessly that, amongst its many fragments, not one shard is found which is to be useful for fire or for water to drink. In returning and rest, they will be saved. In quietness and in trust, this will be their strength. However, they were unwilling.

"They instead say 'no, we will flee upon horses and we will ride upon swift steeds.' Therefore, they shall flee away. However, their pursuers shall be swift. A thousand shall flee at the threat of one... at the threat of five, they shall flee... until they are left like a flagstaff on the top of a mountain, like a signal beacon on a hill."

Me: "Lord, this is horrible. So many of Your people pray. What about the saints and martyrs who plead day and night? Please don't forget those who love You. There are so many. Please don't be silent, Lord."

Jesus: "Then, Erin, you understand the times you are in. I am the God of Justice. You have waited for Me and therefore you shall weep no more, understand? Erin, as soon as you speak, I hear this and I answer you. And as it is written, though I gave you the bread of adversity and the water of affliction, I will no longer hide Myself from you. You shall see Me. You will hear My Voice saying 'this is the way, walk in it.' When you turn to the right or the left, you will remove and destroy the idols. You will say to them 'begone!'

Me: "Lord, what idols do You speak of?"

Jesus: "Things My followers once thought important will no longer be. The gold overlay images will have tarnish and no luster."

Me: "This has been especially occurring this last year. I am not the same."

Jesus: "I placed this upon My people while they were shut in their homes. Those with wisdom have seen the things of this world lose their appeal. This is good. Erin, the times of great blessings, healing and rest is here. I am about to make great changes to the landscape.

"There will be great fear and trembling, but also a great new song of healing will be sung. My outpouring of love, mercy and grace will be upon the lands. Now do not worry about how I will do this or what will happen. I am with you. I will call you to where I desire you to go and miracles will follow."

Me: "When, Lord?"

Jesus: "Because you have continued to wait on My instruction, I will bless you. Now rejoice and let Me work through you. Erin, embrace today. Enjoy what is around you. I will send great gifts in many forms. Rejoice for I love you. Have fun and worry for nothing. I am with you!"

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day! Thank You for Your love. Thank You for my husband, our children and our Nest. We are blessed beyond measure! My dreams last night...

Sub-dream 2 "A void needing to be filled" begins...

I was traveling in a distant city. I was missing something. No matter how hard I tried, I could not capture my true love. There was something missing in my heart. I finally told my mother I was going to have to leave. She strongly disagreed. However, there was a void in my heart and I just had to leave.

Sub-dream 2 over...

Sub-dream 3 "Defending my new baby" begins...

I had a brand-new baby. This baby was now a part of me. Since the times had now changed, I couldn't leave the baby with anyone. I couldn't even push it in a stroller as thieves were now so aggressive that they would steal the stroller even with a baby in it. Some thieves would do this because of the baby in it. As such, I kept my baby close to my chest. I knew that as long as I did this, my baby would not be harmed.

Sub-dream 3 over

Father, please help me with these dreams. These seem to represent something obvious. We are nearing our last few days here. The Promised Land in front of us is beautiful. We love it here. Father, there are obvious giants here, but You are bigger than all of these giants. I woke up to the song 'Bigger' this morning and to the song 'Hall of Fame' yesterday morning. Since these are not songs I normally listen to, waking up to them is surely a sign.

When I lived here in Bend OR from 2003 to 2009, it was a place of enslavement. While this is the place my heart loved, the enemy worked overtime to destroy me here. I was a renter until I could no longer afford rent. I struggled to meet the demands of a broken system. My heart was broken beyond repair here. My heart stopped on record twice.

I went financially bankrupt here. We lost everything here and the enemy hatched a plot here. Sigh... had I just stayed put, we might of... well, it doesn't matter as I didn't stay put. I fled. My Christian counselor gave me Isaiah 30 in 2009. She had awoken from a dream of warning for me. However, I had very little to no understanding back then.

Now that I am back, I notice a few things. I sleep better here. I breathe better here. I have more energy here. Barring a miracle, Father, and only a miracle, we must return home soon. However, we will have a wonderful Spy Report to report! Regardless, we give absolutely everything to You and You alone.

I have continued to see people here that I know, but not one has recognized me. This must be supernatural as I really haven't changed that much. Well, today is Tuesday, meaning that we leave in two days from today. It has been such a wonderful trip.

A song keeps coming to me... 'Who is this King of Glory Who holds the world in His hand. He's there, He's there for me. The King of Glory... He's there.' Thank You for this! Lord, I am Your child and I love You. Show me what You would have for us. I am disabled and my husband is out of work. No doors have opened for him. I am not cured. I feel even worse physically today. The foot I injured is aching.

Jesus: "Erin, come up."

I heard the Lord's Voice...

Jesus: "Erin, I am here with you. I didn't bring you here to trick you or make you feel less than worthy. So, what have you learned here?"

Me: "Well, the craftsmanship is better in the older homes. However, no one seems to be interested in the older homes. While the new ones are beautiful on the surface, this is superficial and based on appearances. So many are second homes and are often vacant. I have no desire to go back to interior design here. The population has likely increased by 40%. It is a place of great recreation, great food and very low crime.

"In my heart, there is a sense of loss. These people have fled areas of dying conditions (many parts of California) to be in a place of great beauty (Oregon). This means that many of 'the dead' are now here. There is less of You here and more of them. However, when Your revival comes, Lord... wow, will this be incredible! Your mountains are beautiful and the landscapes are lush. It is incredible. My husband loves it here. I love it here. I just know that my children will love it here.

"Well, I have now established this place's beauty, so, now what? Well, we are faced with a problem. We do not want to waste a realtor's time showing us homes when we are still unable to purchase here. It would be like the spies entering the Promised Land and saying to the giant's representatives 'Hey, show us more places so we can pick out a particular parcel of land owned by the giants' when they clearly had no ability to purchase the land or fight for it at that moment. We would feel deceptive doing this."

Jesus: "Hmm, you make a good argument. Erin, years ago and in your dreams, I reminded you that your heart broke when you left the place of your heart (Bend OR). You cried and cried while the enemy was chipping away at you. You then still asked Me for a home there, but you were so broken, alone and discouraged, you only saw a vision of Me clearing off the landscape with My arm.

"I was establishing to you that I owned it all and I could remove it in seconds. I was also requiring patience from you and for you to trust in Me to provide good things. Instead, I watched as you accidentally allowed the enemy to pigeon-hole you, cornering you, then taking all that was left. I watched your brokenness before Me. I then saw other Christians avoid you completely because they liked the comfort of their surroundings.

"While some pitied you, even these removed any more thoughts of you. The church you once loved (in Bend OR) then went through changes and this new generation is not welcoming Me as the last did. It is one thing to preach from the pulpit and enjoy the comforts this brings from open wallets, preserving your position and shielding it from the world... but it is another thing to believe for the impossible and stand on My promises.

“Erin, I took you through the fiery furnace. I am your Potter. I did all of this so that you would lack no good thing. Let Me just say that, if I were to even give you no home here, you have more substance to you as I am in you, and better craftsmanship, than those Christian preachers who now mostly perform for their wages.

“While you were once a dead man walking, I brought you back. Erin, I love you. You now walk in My light. Very few if any here would believe it unless you served multiple gods or believed in many pathways. While I had you go to church last week (on Wednesday night, September 8, 2021 in Portland OR), I did not have you go to church this week (in Bend OR) because it is on life-support. Well, in reality, most churches are now on life-support.

“Erin, you now trust in Me for all things. I am the God, Your Father, Who owns the cattle on a thousand hills. There is nothing impossible for Me... nothing! Now dedicate this day to Me. It has been seven years since I took you from the desert (Tri-Cities WA) to a foreign land where you could raise your children and grow deeper in faith with them. It has been 12 years since you left this place (Bend OR).”

Me: I looked this up on a Date Calculator site. “Yes, it has been just over 4400 days. Lord, it has taken all this time to even think about returning. I will now stop asking how You will do this and will instead sit and wait at the base of the beautiful tree in Heaven. On Earth, the Tree of Life is the Cross. I will wait for You there. Lord, I give this day to You in all things. I love You!”

Jesus: “I love you, Erin. My promises are true. I am about to do something in your days that you would not believe even if you were told. Now, you and your husband... write down a list of areas you like here. What would a home look like here that you would like?”

Me: “Oh Lord, only You truly know what You have planned for us here. Your ideas are better than all of our ideas combined. Lord, how about You create the way and we will follow. Since we are already here by Your leading, please show us where You would have us. My husband and I both now see the great wisdom of all that You have done for us since we have been together in the Land of the Trees.”

Jesus: “Very well said. Then release Me to make a way.”

Me: “Well, in reality, we really have no ability to make our own way in any way at all. Only You, Lord... only You!”

Jesus: “Well then, give Me your day. Continue to spy out the land. Rejoice as all of it is all Mine!”

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for this great day with my husband! Thank You for memories spent with my partner in life. Thank You for the High Desert Museum. My husband and I were really impressed. Thank You for good memories. I had such great times with my children here. This place is a place of peace. It is a place of great love and so much promise. It was a place in which I felt so close to Heaven.

You are such a Good Father. You are the best Father a daughter could ever hope for. My heart broke into a million tiny pieces here. My hopes and dreams were shattered here. I faced death here. People I loved and trusted abandoned me here. They had become tired of me. I kept believing in Your miracles. While I knew You wanted the best for me, there was a problem. I wasn't ready.

I wasn't ready for the magnitude of this Great Gift. I was thinking WAYYY too small. I was in stunned shock that my now ex-husband was really my enemy. I had trusted him to be the father of my children. When everything he did was revealed, I was angry and somehow also relieved at the same time. I kept questioning why this had fallen on me and my children.

I felt so humiliated. I kept asking 'how could my Father allow my great humiliation?' I was so humiliated. I wasn't believed. Our story sounded sensational and my Christian friends didn't believe me. My family didn't believe me. At times and after a while, even those that were the closest to me would doubt me.

The smells in the air today brought me back. My children are now grown. Father, we never got back here. I remember the homes we would tour. I remember how the children would call out certain bedrooms as their own. I spoke of You and Heaven to them often during this time. We looked for signs and wonders. We still had dreams.

Well, Father, we have now taken this trip to survey the land as spies. We did this at Your instruction. We are happy to report that the land is good. It is wonderful, peaceful and beautiful. So, what do I do now, Father? Many of the Nest Sparrows are waiting on good news to happen here. To be honest, so are my husband and I. Help me, Father, as Your daughter and son have come to say this Promised Land is beautiful.

Tomorrow is our last full day here. We then drive to see my daughter again before flying out. While here, we didn't rent a place. We didn't purchase a place. My daughter will now be out here alone. I don't want her alone. Father, my husband and I are getting old. Are You planning a last-minute turnaround as You did for us way back on Saturday, August 23, 2014, the day my ex unexpectedly signed a paper allowing all of the children to go with us to the Land of the Trees?

That being said, You have never failed me, not once. It has only been me who has failed. Father, nothing is impossible when it comes to You. If nothing happens tomorrow, that is okay. We will be sad, but You know what You are doing and we trust You. Still, please help us. I am trusting You to carry my husband and me. Carry our children, our Nest and even our animals too. I can't carry anything without Your help.

Jesus: "Erin, come up."

I heard the Lord's Voice...

Jesus: "Erin, I am with you. I have not forgotten you. I am proud of you. You have stepped out in great faith so I could bring you here again. I am sorry you were hurt here. I am sorry you were abandoned here. I am sorry you lost all here. However, in order for you to experience even more of My plans for you, I had to allow this affliction. You and your children were also a great measure for others.

"Their treatment of you was a plumblin for their own calamity. I fought against your enemies here. I didn't stop. Not one succeeded against you. However, your error in 2006 to 2007 did cost you. Your enemy then struck. While I sent wise counsel in advance, you did not hear it. While your losses were great, I still remained with you. Your daughter always remained with you."

Me: "Oh Lord, my heart is broken."

Jesus: "I know, Erin, I know."

Me: "Will You not activate us now? Please, Lord. Our reports of the land are good. I don't even see the giants as I know You are so much bigger than them. I believe. My husband believes. We are ready when You are or at least we feel this way."

Jesus: "Do not worry, Erin, for I am not your earthly father who promised you a home and then turned his back on you. I am not the father of your children, a man who continuously devises wicked schemes. Instead, I am the Father who loves you. Your refining fire has been completed. No longer will you be in the furnace. I have you. I have your husband. I have your children. I have the Nest. I even have your animals.

"Erin, I am with you. Your vessel is ready. It is ready for My Living Water to fill you. You are not an imposter. You are not. While I understand that all of this appears to be unorthodox, it is actually 100% orthodox because I have created all of this. Some now ask 'where are the dreamers of dreams and visions and where are the healers?' Well, I know. Even though they search, few see them. However, even this is by My design.

"You are tucked away under My wing. Here you are safe. Your gift of these dreams to the world is hidden until the day it is not. You continue to scribe. Well, it is now time to study spies in My Word. You will then understand more about your role. More than this, you will understand the great impact you will soon have.

"This great impact will happen because I will work through you on this. I am about to bless you beyond your imagination with gifts from Heaven. Now rest tonight, My dove (It was now over an hour past midnight). Rest in Me. You will soon soar. Rejoice, Erin, for I am with you. With you, I am well pleased. Do not worry. When it is time, all will unfold before your very eyes. Remember that I am always with you."

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for this beautiful day! Thank You for being my Father. Today is Yom Kippur, Your most holy day of the year. Since we are traveling on this Sabbath, we are unable to observe this properly. I pray You will forgive us for this. Even more, please also bless our travels today. We came in as spies and we exited with a wonderful report.

It has been a difficult journey as traveling with a disability is challenging. My sleep last night was broken. I woke up every two hours. My Spirit was unsettled. My dreams involved a different me, a woman I didn't recognize. I then woke up to the song 'We are Golden'. I quickly acknowledged that we are not golden without You shining in us. You own it all, including all of the gold in the universe.

Sadly, we will need some of that gold if we wish to purchase here (in Bend OR). Right now, purchasing is primarily done by wealthy Californians. A person must expect a bidding war and then have the cash for the purchase price. This is something most normal people cannot afford, including us without You. The rents have also more than doubled and are so ridiculously high.

Still, this is such a beautiful place. While there are giants here, I have no fear as I know You are so much bigger.. immeasurably so. Lord, please consider this my formal report to You that we love this land and trust in You to deliver us here in Your timing.

We traveled back to Portland OR today to fly back to the Land of the Trees. We will also have about six hours there to spend with my daughter before saying goodbye. Father, I can't tell You how much I don't want to leave her. I just want to be near her. I love my children, Lord. I have sacrificed many personal dreams so that they would know You. I would do this again at any cost. Well, they now do and I am so thankful.

Our children are at home. They are managing well together and I believe that this too is supernatural. Thank You, Lord. As for today, it is the most bittersweet of all the days. I don't want to leave here. My allergies don't affect me here. I breathe easier. My sleep is better. I have more energy. I have less physical pain here.

In reality though, this was the place of my furnace. I had many extremely humiliating experiences here. I went from being in the forefront and visible to avoiding all attention. It was a place where I went from being 'one of them' to then being their slave. I was forced to work for others. I built their dreams and all credit was given to them. I then became a nobody here.

I was abused and reduced to oblivion. I lost all that I had built up. The dreams I had were eroding here day by day and I no longer worried about myself. I went from a self-focused lifestyle to a God focused lifestyle. I let go here. However, I was also isolated and easy prey for the enemy. We exhausted all hopes of home ownership here and had to let go of our dreams for this.

My heart also had medical issues. The medical bills were more than I could handle. I barely hung on to what we had. Since I had to switch rentals on occasion, my enemy then tried to portray me as an unstable parent. Still, I met You here, Father. This is the place where I experienced Heaven and Your miracles.

We leave to start our journey back to the Land of the Trees today. However, my heart remains here. This place is so special to me. I have no words to describe it, just that You were here with me in the furnace of affliction. I am thankful, Lord. The smells and beauty here is so special. Barring a miracle from You, a place like You have shown me here would be absolutely unreachable.

This is the place of my change from being a rebellious, sinful child to one who was broken in spirit. You spoke to me here, saying 'though your sins are like scarlet, they shall be white as snow' (Isaiah 1:18). My guilt and shame were magnified before You here. While I said that I could not hear Your Voice here, it was really because I failed to recognize Your still small voice here.

Father, I learned to love You here. I am sorry for all that I didn't do. I am so sorry. As the wolves closed in, You sent me to the desert. You then turned up the heat in the furnace there. You then spoke to me in the desert. You then removed all of us to a foreign wilderness. There, I went from hearing You to also seeing You. Miracles were common there.

Despite all that You have done for me, here I am... breaking Your most Holy Day... Yom Kippur (the Day of Atonement). Please forgive me and my husband. All of our children either must work today or have to go to school. Please forgive us. Please forgive all of those who love You that might have done what we just did.

Jesus: "Erin, come up."

I heard the Lord's Voice...

Jesus: "You are forgiven. Erin, I am here. I have heard your cries. I know the pain of your heart here. I was there when you and your children had big dreams. While you loved Me in your heart, you were disappointed in Me."

Me: Thinking for a moment. "You are right, Lord. I thought You had rejected me and my children. Wolves surrounded us and took my sons. However, it didn't stop there. I gave You my heart and it was Your Will to crush it. Others then said to me... 'You are cursed of God'... 'You can't preach about the Good News when clearly God's favor is not upon you'... 'Why doesn't God do something to help you?'"

"Scriptures were thrown at me without any of them knowing my full story. Yes, I made bad decisions, but I did so with good intentions. I was hit with a series of tidal waves. I could not escape. I could barely tread water. I felt abandoned by You, Lord. I am so sorry. Looking back, I now know that all of this was good and a matter of the heart. I love You, Lord. You are a Good Father. Thank You for not giving up on me. I am sorry that I was so angry at You."

Jesus: "It was not easy watching all of this. Many, many times, your prayers and tears tugged at My heart to change the course of your walk. Instead, I knew the plans I had for you and they were better. You experienced the injustice of a broken system. However, in order for others to relate to your walk, I needed to take you down these roads. Remember that I am the Good Shepherd.

"I am also the stranger in the fire. I am the One calling in the desert. I am the Just Judge and the Prince of Peace. Erin, I know that you are unable to fully observe My Holy Day today. However, you are to take comfort because, if I had demanded this of you, I would have then redirected everything for you travels. Erin, I did not. You are under My care."

Me: "Help me to understand, Lord."

Jesus: "I am now in you and very soon I will be visible to others outside of you. Now, what is better... to follow ceremonies and hope I bless those who follow or to actually be blessed by Me now?"

Me: "That's easy. To be blessed now! To be blessed today!"

Jesus: "I am pleased with the outward significance of My laws. However, just because someone wears white linen doesn't mean their inward appearance is pure and their heart contrite, understand? A white gown does not signify that the bride is a virgin. When the goat was sent out into the desert, it had cloth that was stained crimson. Every time the goat returned, the red was gone and the cloth was white as snow. I then came as the Holy One of Israel, a living sacrifice to atone for sin. Still, who was there then that truly recognized Me?"

Me: "Your disciples?"

Jesus: "Yes. However, no one truly understood until I had risen and all that remained in the tomb was My white linen burial clothes. Do you understand? Who was I?"

Me: "The atonement for sins? Our Savior?"

Jesus: "There is more also. Now, you are a royal priesthood, a chosen people, My special possession. You are a testimony of goodness as I have called you from a place of darkness and affliction into the light of My presence. When I died on the tree, tell Me what occurred after I offered up My Spirit to Heaven."

Me: "Darkness came over all of the land from noon to 3:00pm (Matthew 27:25). When You breathed Your last breath, the entrance veil to the Holy of Holies was torn in two (Matthew 27:51). According to historical records, this veil was 50 to 60 feet high and 4 inches thick. This was torn in two pieces, impossible for man to do. There was a great earthquake at the moment You died (Matthew 27:51). The graves then opened and the dead rose and appeared to many (Matthew 27:52-53). After witnessing this, many who didn't believe did believe... at least at that moment. Overall, people were terrified."

Jesus: "So, Erin, what will happen next?"

Me: "I truly have no idea except that You will do amazing things."

Jesus: "So, when will I return?"

Me: "I was hoping for now."

Jesus: "I am here with you now, but when will I appear?"

Me: "Lord, there are so many predictions. Well, I guess we could look at the last time the Azazel goat came back with a white cloth tied to it. According to Jewish historical records, this was 30 AD. Perhaps this is the year You became the atonement for our sins? This would mean 1991 years to now. This is a bit over 700,000 days."

Jesus: "Well, this seems significant and a clear marker. Now, how will you then know?"

Me: "I guess if the same signs occur."

Jesus: "Yes, true... but you still do not know how I will do this."

Me: "You are a perfect mystery!"

Jesus: "What stands out for you?"

Me: "Well, the Temple's veil splitting in two was huge. This means our relationship with You is now intimate and direct. There is no Ark and no Holy of Holies. The dead were raised and new life was breathed into them. The great earthquake and eclipse were significant. Hmm, I really can't name just one."

Jesus: "Very good. I sent multiple signs. Erin, five stones were used."

Me: "Like David's stones? Yet he only needed one stone to take down the giant."

Jesus: "Perhaps a mystery for now. No one is expecting what I am about to do, not even you, Erin."

Me: "Lord, You are mysterious. Speaking of mysteries, why did You have me return with my husband to the place I long for (Bend OR)?"

Jesus: "To show you that My promises are true. Erin, I promised to return you to the place of your heart."

Me: "While I love this place, it is You who is now the place of my heart. I am now a foreigner here. My home is with you."

Jesus: "Yes, you speak truthfully. However, I have a great plan for you here. This is good. Now enjoy this great day. I am in you. Your report is good. Do not mourn as I am about to do a great thing here. Now rejoice!"

Me: "We still have to leave here (Bend OR) later this morning, right?"

Jesus: "Do as you planned. Erin, I have you and I am with you."

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for the beautiful fall day here. I am glad to be safely home. All is safe and as we left it. Our kids were very glad to have us home again. Our dogs were too. However, I also have some sad news. Our little joyful fish, Heaven, died on Yom Kippur. This followed a long battle. While we knew this was coming, we were still saddened.

We buried him by the bridge in my dreams in the exact spot where Jesus has met me at the rock which is not there. Five stones mark his little grave. Four small stones and a large stone. The large stone has an inscription that reads 'After Difficulties Miracles Grow'. Sigh... it is never easy to say goodbye... yes, even to a beloved fish.

Thank You, Father. Thank You for Your love and continued care over our house. We are grateful. I personally had a wonderful time visiting the place of my heart. I could sleep easier and my breathing was wonderful. The atmosphere was beautiful. The scenery was lovely. The people were very kind. This was a harsh difference from the reality of where we currently live. It is colder here in almost all ways. Father, I had some disturbing dreams...

Sub-dream 4 "All of the goods are gone" begins

While I wanted to shop, all of the shelves were emptied. The date was now close to Thanksgiving (late November), but I couldn't tell which year. The produce was all very old and expensive. There was no meat. When I went to another store (like a Walmart), practical clothing was gone. All that remained were summer clothes. They had no shoes other than $8 a pair flipflops.

There were virtually no cleaning supplies. Toys were gone. When I walked down the aisle of toys, there was a grouping of Star Wars figurines. They were all of one character, a character that isn't even popular. They were now $2 each, regularly $35 each. It was the only thing on the shelf. There was only one clerk on duty.

Me: "Where is everything? Are you going out of business?"

Clerk: "Where have you been? There is nothing to sell. Nothing has come. No shipments have arrived. The people have stopped coming due to the shortages. When we do get a shipment, it is gone in seconds. However, many of the shipments are robbed prior to delivery."

Me: "Stolen?"

Clerk: "Yes. The trucks are stolen and the goods redistributed to others. Not us. Things are still available via the black market though." He seemed so sad.

Me: "I am so sorry."

Clerk: "I hate disappointing people 100% of the time. Not one person is nice to me."

Me: "Listen, it is not your fault at all. What can you possibly do?"

Clerk: Smiling for the first time. "Hey, wait... you are being nice to me!"

Me: "While I am sad about everything, I know that you can't possibly do anything."

Clerk: "Because you are kind, I have something for you. Please follow me." I followed him to the back of the store. "Were you coming for groceries?"

Me: "Yes, but also dog treats."

Clerk: "Awesome! Are you paying by cash or credit?"

Me: "Cash."

Clerk: "This is good. Cash is better overall right now. Wait here. I will be back."

He came back after about five minutes with a cardboard box.

Clerk: "Do you have $40?"

Me: "Yes."

I handed him two $20 bills. He opened the box and there were fruits, veggies, meat and bread. There were also some dog bones and dog food. He quickly closed the box.

Clerk: "So, what do you think?"

Me: "I am happy. Thank you."

Clerk: "You are now to leave using the front door. However, you can't be seen with anything. You are to instead drive to the back of the store."

I did as he instructed and drove to the back. When I pulled up, I popped the trunk and he put the box in. I then surprised him by handing him a $10 tip.

Clerk: "What is this for? You have given me $50 for something I was only charging you $40 for. Are you mistaken?"

Me: "No, I am not mistaken. This is a tip for you as you have been so kind."

The man was overwhelmed. I saw tears in his eyes.

Clerk: "Go quickly and don't stop."

Me: Nodding yes. "Thank you."

He then went inside and locked the door. As I drove out, there were some scary looking people staring at me.

Sub-dream 4 over.

Sub-dream 5 "Wildlife dropping dead" begins...

Animals, birds and fish were dropping dead for no apparent reason. Carcasses littered the ground everywhere.

Sub-dream 5 over.

Father, these dreams were so disturbing. The world is in trouble. Father, please do something.

Jesus: "Erin, come up."

I heard the Lord's Voice...

Jesus: "Erin, I am here. I am pleased with your report. You remain hopeful in impossible circumstances. I have prepared a place for you."

Me: "Lord, something is wrong. In my heart, I just know that something is really wrong. Is my daughter still okay? What is it?"

Jesus: "Yes, Erin, she is okay. She is learning about the world. She longs for good, but not all is good. Now, you worry about many things because you understand the magnitude of what is occurring. Do not worry, Erin, as I am with you. A dark covering has blown across the land. The spirit of confusion has gripped many. You are experiencing the peace and quiet prior to the storm.

"My people are on alert because the Spirit of the Living God is in them sounding the alarm. Erin, it is time to take shelter under My wings. My wings are mighty, broad and strong. Nothing can remove them. Nothing can harm what I shelter. Take comfort in this. The place of your heart is about to experience some trauma. Many will be in need of a Savior as they are far from Me. The mountains will be leveled."

Me: "By an earthquake? By an eruption? What, Lord? What?"

Jesus: "Yes to both, but not in the way you are thinking. Now relax as the Great Giants are about to fall. My people will enter into the places I will call them. Remember that fear and confusion cry out for answers in the form of more fear and more confusion.”

Me: “Seems like history repeating itself.”

Jesus: “Erin, I realize that it is difficult for you to understand. I know you grow tired and weary of doing good when it is not reciprocated. However, what were you expecting? The world has been given over to its lusts. Very few will see My miracles until they desire them and look for them. So, is anyone looking now?”

Me: “I am.”

I was suddenly distracted by the memory of an article I had read earlier in the morning.

Jesus: “Tell Me what is bothering you.”

Me: “I read this morning that around 300 or more songbirds crashed into the World Trade Center during the Ten Days of Awe. Only 77 were treatable. Of these, only 30 actually survived. Only 10% made it. Lord, is this symbolic of a crash soon to come? The economy? The stock markets? Were any of the songbirds that died ones that would visit us here at our house?”

Jesus: “Well, even if some of them were, count this as a blessing as they are now here with Me in heavenly forests and fields. They now have no fear and no need to ever migrate again.”

Me: “So, some were, Lord?”

Jesus: “Oh Erin, let Me be God. While only 10% of the birds survived, perhaps only 10% of the people in this world truly believe in Me. If this is the case, I am okay with it as I am never shocked, unaware or uninformed of anything, understand? Erin, please let your heart be untroubled by what you see. Instead, be joyful that I am who I say I am and that I am over all things. My churches are closing. My blessings are now given to only those who earnestly seek Me.”

Me: “Lord, please help us!”

Jesus: “Do not worry, Erin, as all is about to change. Today is a marker for you... a very good, good day. Now rejoice. Rejoice for I am with you. Rejoice for I have you. I love you. Your ‘Spy Report’ is very good!”

Dream over.

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day! Thank You for my family and friends. Thank You for this beautiful place around us. It is a blessing. One thing upon return that both my husband and I noticed was that the leaves changing colors had seemingly been halted while we were gone. By a miracle, Father, the trees were placed on pause. This made me happy since, as most know by now, fall is my favorite season.

Besides our fish Heaven dying, I observed that many of the birds and animals have left. Only an occasional chickadee, mourning dove, crow or squirrel appears. My sparrows, woodpeckers and nuthatches are gone. So too are the hummingbirds. I had already cutback drastically on feeding all of them so that God would takeover their care. As for our groundhogs, one of our neighbors said he trapped six of them. I miss them too.

When I drove to the store yesterday, I spoke with my daughter on the phone. She shared several things about her activities at her school. I was so excited for her as she seems so happy. Thank You, Father, for Your hand in her life. While she was not doing well here, she seems to be so joyful out west.

After stopping at the store, I then went to the gas station. When I buckled my seatbelt and began to drive, I noticed a very large grey-sacked spider crawling on my grey pants on my right thigh. Without hesitation, I grabbed my cellphone and obliterated it on my pants. It caused a stain. Yuck! Must be a sign of some sort of warfare coming. Hopefully, it was just me killing a spider... smiles.

As I continued to drive home, I was astonished by a rare sight around here. There were hundreds of seagulls flying right over the car. This continued for about a three-mile stretch. It was strange because we are inland and not really in seagull territory.

I am still suffering from jetlag. It is unusual for me to sleep past 8:00am. The last two days, I have been waking up at around 10:45am. Just shocking! Both days have been riddled with dreams. I had a couple of troubling dreams last night...

Sub-dream 1 "God moves His children into caves" begins...

There was a man with an enormous amount of money conducting an experiment on the children of God. He had constructed some concrete boxes in a massive field surrounded by tall trees. There were 12 boxes, all rectangular in shape. Their size was 8 feet by 12 feet with an 8 feet high ceiling. The boxes were arranged where five faced five in a line with two capping both ends.

The front of the concrete box was all glass with a door integrated into the glass. The box walls were about 12 inches thick, all of concrete. There were no windows and no backdoors. The Christians were summoned to these 12 houses and were given some furnishings for familiarity and comfort. These were Christians from all over the world. Those selected for this were all unique in their DNA component.

The people were all linked by their faith in God and the miracles that God had given to them. While the people were not allowed to communicate with each other, God worked around this. Because of their great faith in God and despite language barriers, they were able to communicate to each other through prayer.

After about a week, the man disappeared and so too did the food. Each box was locked so the group prayed together. After they prayed, the doors were all unlocked. After a day of gathering food and praying together, an angel of the Lord appeared and gathered all of the community together. The angel took them to a safe place in some clefts of the rocks near a valley.

The next day, a massive army descended on the now empty boxes in order to destroy the children of God. The general ordered the entire area be destroyed. Missiles rained down on the boxes and they were obliterated. In the meantime, they were already in their safe caves. The caves were all of white clay and stone. Even though the caves were illuminated by the power of God, the enemy was still unable to find them.

Sub-dream 1 over...

Sub-dream 2 "Even the bankers worry about a financial collapse" begins...

I decided to go to my local bowling alley. I drove with my daughters on a Saturday afternoon to a bowling alley in Portland OR. Since the lanes were packed, we had to wait until one was free. Twice we were robbed by others who went ahead of us. Someone finally pointed to an open lane on the far right of the building.

When we went there, we noticed that the usual bowling pins had been replaced by a green bush. I then saw a normal lane open and wanted to get to it. However, a group of ten bankers were ahead of us walking to that lane. I stopped them...

Me: "My daughters and I have waited for over an hour for a lane. Would you mind if we take this one?"

Banker 1: "Please do! We will wait for the next one."

Within about ten minutes, a lane opened right next to us. The bankers talked loudly amongst themselves and we could hear every word. As we bowled, I could hear their deep discussions. I then looked carefully at each of the ten bankers. Each one was wearing a tag. Each one represented a different major bank, ten major banks in total. They were discussing strategies for the upcoming financial storm.

The bankers were all wearing light grey suits. Their skin was yellow and they looked sickly. Each had faces that were sunken in. It was then that I noticed that they had pigeon droppings all over them. I could now hear them with clarity...

Banker 1: "So, shall it be the 6th day or the 7th day? Shall it be the 10th month or the 11th month?"

Banker 2: "They are talking about seizing assets and accounts of millions and millions of people. There will be great rage and anger. The wars will be here. The world will surely plunge into darkness like nothing we have ever seen."

Banker 3: "I am pulling my money out."

Banker 4: "I still haven't paid off my mortgage. Will my house be seized?"

Banker 5: "Yes, the homes will be taken."

Banker 6: "No one can move assets without them knowing. We can't even help ourselves, never mind anyone else."

Banker 7: "We are all screwed. The people will kill us first."

Banker 8: "Stop your worry. The banks will be safe."

Banker 9: "Don't be an idiot. The banks will not be safe. Their plan is to consolidate to one bank, one currency and one power. It will no longer be the power of 10, it will be the power of one."

Banker 10: "I like my life now. My customers like their lives. Why are they doing this? It is unnecessary. There are other ways to get power."

Banker 9: "It is their way and this is non-negotiable. I say we just continue to bowl for the next few weeks prior to the storm."

Something odd then happened. Their bowling lanes changed, even though ours did not. They were now bowling on very narrow two-foot-wide lanes with joint gutters. It was impossible for them to bowl straight. Their bowling balls jumped lanes and hit each other's pins. Rather than complain or move to a normal lane, they adjusted their rules and decided to make a game of it. My daughters and I shook our heads at the sight.

Sub-dream 2 over...

Father, these were disturbing dreams. It seemed like pigeons were a common thread. Please help me to understand what these signify. Is the coming financial storm about to hit the world? Why the bowling alley?

Jesus: "Erin, come up."

I heard the Lord's Voice...

Jesus: "Erin, I am here. The bowling alley represents your training lane of learning in the prophetic. You were with your daughters. This is because they too look for signs and wonders. You then noticed that others came and took your lanes while you were patiently waiting for a lane yourself. This happened even though it was your turn for a lane. Despite this, you remained calm."

Me: "That is a great summary."

Jesus: "It is incomplete. When having dreams, notice details such as colors, numbers and measures. These are all significant. Better yet, I am here. So, are you now asking Me or the dream for interpretation?"

Me: Laughing. "You, of course, Lord!"

Jesus: "You lived several years in Portland OR. In Portland OR, you removed your other gods and destroyed your idols. You put on new garments there. You gave Me your heart there. This was in the year 1993. However, it took until the year 2000 for you to give Me your journey fully. This was good."

Me: "I had good times and bad times in the Portland OR area. It felt odd to visit there again, but I was so happy to see my daughter."

Jesus: "When you visited the land of your heart, there were pigeons nesting on the roof where you slept, as well as the areas at the entrances. Pigeons and doves were a sacrifice and offering allowed by the poor before the Altar of God. This was to atone for sin and was also a gift to God.

"You went to a land that you love and is in your heart, yet you cannot afford to live there apart from Me. There are many who have fled evil to settle there (Bend OR) for a better life for their families. However, almost all are far apart from Me. Many are about to lose everything as the spirit of poverty hovers over the area.”

Me: “How will this be, Lord? From what we saw, there were some very wealthy people.”

Jesus: “Upon appearances. However, their investments are soon to disappear. It will turn into a place of despair for many. As for Portland OR, I have given the city over to the worship of a god they have created (the Portlandia statue). While they claim it as female, it appears as a male. It is therefore neither a male or a female. They worship this. As for their leaders, they are weak. The city is given to rebellion even though there is no cause or root other than just rebellion for rebellion’s sake.

“For this reason, there is no remedy that will satisfy. Their god crouches on a portico adjacent to the governing palace. However, it means nothing as the inside of this structure is weak. It means so little to the birds that pigeons relieve themselves on this statue at all times of the day. It means that this once great city, port and all its beauty is now dedicated to the spirit of destruction and poverty. What you saw of the city in your dream will one day be.”

Me: “Oh Lord, Portland OR was once so beautiful. Can You not stop this? Please throw down the statue and bring back the good!”

Jesus: “What good? They chase away any reference to Me. They are worshipping the gods of their own choosing. Their fountains are soon to be great urinals for those who need to relieve themselves. Who will stop them? Who cares?”

Me: “Lord, this is so sad!”

Jesus: “Erin, this doesn’t mean I won’t bless those areas removed from the city. The area where your daughter is, along with other surrounding areas, are good. Do not worry as I have all of this under My control.”

Me: “What of the bankers?”

Jesus: “This is of note and reveals a great plan of the wicked. The plague was released upon the world at first as an initial experiment. It was met with confusion because those who released it and those who paid for the research of it as a weapon did not expect the magnitude of the variants. It was supposed to be released in moderation.

“The Red Dragon used the virus to strike against certain areas to weaken them. They especially struck those areas that told them they were not interested in cooperating with them. At the same time, the Black Dragon used this time of great fear to rise up in power and corruption. The great plan of the Black Dragon is to remove the governing powers. These powers were governing for the people and by the people.

"The Black Dragon instead seeks to remove the power from the people into the power of the Black Dragon. This is done by punishing and shaming the people. They are forcing people to do their will out of fear. Examples are made of anyone who dares defy them publicly. Right now, the Black Dragon is positioning an army all over the world. They are using various lies and money to corrupt leaders into allowing policies the people have not allowed. They are arming criminals and disarming the innocent.

"As for the bankers in your dream, they were wearing suits of ashen grey. They are neutral parties about to be overthrown by these dragons. In order for a great wealth transfer to occur, the assets of millions of people must be seized. They will do this in order to gain more authority."

Me: "Oh Lord, should we close our bank accounts?"

Jesus: "No. I am and always will be God over all things. I am telling you these things so that, when they occur, you are not surprised. These evil governing bodies are trying out various methods of control to see how far they are able to go to change the order of things."

Me: "But I thought the great wealth transfer was to be a miraculous move of God for the good of those who love You?"

Jesus: "Oh Erin, I am merely showing you the plans of the enemy. They are anticipating My moves and are first blazing a course for evil so quickly that most people do not notice it until it is too late. Have you ever known a time like this where every aspect of your life can be taken over by the evil governing body? Where they can track your every move by a keystroke on your phone.

"Now, I have remained silent even as angel armies battle over you constantly as the enemy tries to strike down God's people. However, I have a plan far greater than anything devised by the enemy. The enemy has a plot to kill God's children and create their own version of savior. They hate the Jewish people, the Christians and anyone opposed to their evil.

"Their plan of equity is to bring all people to poverty and shame. As for equity in Heaven, this is one where those who are lowly are given the ability to be as one under the Throne of God. Here in Heaven, we bring those who are low in spirit and lift them up. We let them rejoice together with the Kingdom of Heaven. Now this is Holy Equity!

“Then there is the issue of global warming. Well, yes, the heat has been turned up, but instead of each land embracing what God has given them and blessing the land back in Holy Sacrifice to God, they instead punish the people of the land with rules that are evil. This is done not for the people, but instead for the rich. This is so the people are subject to poverty and slavery while their goals are being met.

“Their other plan is to remove all elderly people over 60 as they have deemed them a drain on society. They want to take their money, remove history and recreate a better way. The desire is to also reengineer a superior race that is free from illness and is stronger and more intelligent. It will be of mixed race, yet still one race, one government and one way. Another mystery.

“Now, do not worry. There is no confusion unless I allow it. As for the enemy, I send confusion into their camps so that they are unable to form their plans. Now, I have promised miracles, signs, wonders and healing. I have promised something the world has never seen before. It is now God’s turn to put on displays that can never be replicated by man no matter how hard the enemy tries.

“Erin, this will be a time like no other. However, you are not to worry about anything. Your ‘Spy Report’ was good and true. Continue to pray. Corrupt governments are working overtime to keep their positions. Soon all of it will be exposed and toppled by truth. I love you, Erin. Do not worry or take on a mantle of fear of what you see versus the fear of God.”

Me: “Lord, please help. There are fewer and fewer true Christians. Those who love You are like lights growing dim. Please! Those with strong faith in you are now bright lights that are wondering whether they should dim their lights or face persecution. Lord, please don’t wait. The attacks are becoming worse.”

Jesus: “I love you. I have a great plan in all things. Have faith. I won’t be long now. I am here with you, even at your door. Fortify your faith in Me as I will do all that I have promised. Rejoice, I am here. Oh yes... Heaven (our deceased pet fish) is here with Me. He lives.”

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day! Thank You for Your love. Thank You for my family and friends. We are blessed. Father, as I drove into town this morning, our kids had questions for me that I wasn’t fully certain how to handle. One of the questions was whether Christian schools will be closed soon due to their belief system. While my youngest daughter didn’t think it would happen here, I told her it could happen anywhere as things are changing so fast. This would be so sad.

We are experiencing a rise in a new reimagined government run by the elites. I just read this morning that women aged 18 to 24 can now be drafted into the armed services. It seems so contrary to America’s past practices. My older daughter is about to turn 20, meaning this could already affect her. I sat at my devotional chair and asked the Lord about this disturbing possibility.

Me: “Lord, why enlist young women via the draft? Could my older daughter be going to war soon?”

Jesus: “Erin, come up.”

I heard the Lord’s Voice...

Jesus: “You must look at the root. You must look beyond the surface of what you see. A root is below ground, a place you cannot see. As for a sprout, a shoot or a sapling coming from the root, this you can see. Evil intentions have taken root and these are deep and wide, producing many new shoots.

“Let us look at one scenario, but remembering that these are from the same evil root and have multiple evil outcomes. The idea is to plant so many roots they cannot remove them fast enough. Once one sprout is removed, another three spring up. It is designed to confuse and overwhelm. It is effective. As for the question you ask of why would they enlist women, I will give you a three-pronged answer..

- This will cut back on child birth numbers and traditional family culture
- This will increase the size of the military

- Most importantly, this will allow them to remove and replace fighting men opposed to the current leadership

Me: "Why now?"

Jesus: "The governing body is evil and not just a little evil. Even those who are making these decisions do not fully understand what the future holds for these evil plans. This is about reshaping government, removing anyone opposed and solidifying a different future, a future that will exclude millions of people. The people in control were allowed to take control. This is not what the majority of people desired. What is happening has happened before. Here are the main objectives of the enemy..."

- Remove God as the Savior, along with any reference to forgiveness, redemption and eternity. Remove any reference to Me and My Power. Remove hope.
- Remove God as the Creator of all things under Heaven and give this over to science and the antichrist.
- Hurt and destroy God's children by graphic persecution and death.
- Erase God's Word, Church and any gospel of peace. Remove worship music and prayer.

"These are the main objectives of the enemy to destroy mankind. However, several things need to take place in order for them to achieve their goals..."

- Remove and denounce the church as hateful. Force churches to close. Burn some of them down. Close Christian bookstores. Do not allow the publishing of any 'controversial' Christian content. Strike out against Christian homeschooling.
- Remove guns from the innocent and give them to the criminals. Allow the criminals to use the guns to kill without any consequences. Anyone who dares try to defend their own home will be put into prison.
- Vilify law enforcement officers. Take their badges and guns away. Put them to shame. Removing law enforcement gives criminals more control of the streets.

"Some of this has already taken place. These things are noticeable, but not to those that do not have My discernment..."

- A plague was sent out over the land. The leaders enjoyed the control this gave them. They used the fear of death to keep people shuttered inside their homes. They closed schools, businesses and overwhelmed medical facilities. The main reason for doing this was to destroy the economic gains and growing popularity of the last leader.

- Also because of their fear of the last leader, they used a false narrative to start a war to divide the population according to color.
- In order for them to do all of this, they paid all the right people and made big promises. They gained control over big business in areas such as technology, oil & gas, social media and most all other media.
- They then paid judges, attorneys and courts to fend off lawsuits of opposition and remove justice in favor of means to a mutual end.
- They also paid off actors and popular figure heads in return for public endorsements. When a celebrity lost favor or exhausted their usefulness, they were removed.
- The silent takeover of places of learning started many years ago. This slowly changed what is taught at an early age. They bullied anyone with opposing ideas even if they had solid historical references. They taught with less and less facts of truth with evidence and substituted this with opinions and imaginations of an evil future landscape.

Me: "This sounds dystopian!"

Jesus: "Yes. This is the world 'reimagined'. So, what do you think their reimagined world would look like?"

Me: "Well, I have a list of things, but I don't know how accurate it is..."

- Everyone would be ages 20 to 35
- All would be dressed in white clothing
- Homes would be clean and white and made of glass and concrete
- There would be no emissions from exhaust
- Everyone would be 'happy', but not too happy
- They would all eat the same food and have the same income
- No one would get sick
- Everyone would believe that their leader is 'god'
- Anyone questioning authority would quietly disappear

Jesus: "Hmm, you understand the end goal here. The antichrist is setting up his own version of Heaven on Earth. However, you are not to worry as he will not get there while you all are still there (that is, he will not get there before the Rapture). His methods are evil. A lot of cleansing has to occur for his army to achieve this."

Me: "Is there anything we can do to stop this?"

Jesus: "Understand that God gave the nation 20 years to repent (since 9/11, September 11, 2001). The plague was allowed in the 19th year (where early 2020 is within the 19th year of September 11, 2019 to September 11, 2020) so that the nation would be in repentance. However, they did not turn from their wickedness and repent before Me. If only they had. If they had, I would have bound up their brokenness. In mercy, I would have given them back that which was stolen. However, they did not."

Me: "But what of Your people who have prayed and interceded for Your miracles, signs and wonders and revival? There are at least a few million of us, right? Do we account for nothing? Please help us!"

Jesus: "Erin, I know that this seems harsh. However, you must place all of this into an eternal perspective. In order for God to shed His greatest glory, He will shine His light on the darkest of circumstances."

Me: "As it looks now, we are heading right into the Tribulation. Lord, people are being killed in foreign nations for simply having a Bible app on their device. Since we are now so technology driven, the evil government can have full access remotely to any device. They probably already do right now. They are probably monitoring our accounts. What is next... taking over our homes?"

Jesus: "Erin, this is a good time to trust in God. I will not fail you. All of what you see and even that you cannot see is Mine. You can participate with providing less information. I have spoken to you about your digital footprint. The enemy has used incentives, discounts and gifts in exchange for information many times. Since all of this seems innocent, many share information with complete strangers they normally wouldn't. This can be stopped."

Me: "Should I drop my discount cards and customer loyalty incentives?"

Jesus: "It is a method of judgment and power by the wicked. However, you are not to be afraid. I have you. I tell you all of this so you are unafraid. I also tell you all of this so you understand what wisdom can do to prevent troubles. I am in you. I am with you. Hear My Voice and do as I instruct you and you will have no trouble."

Me: "Thank You, Lord."

Jesus: "The enemy of the land is raising up an army of youths. These youths obey the enemy's commands because they have been taught to hate the morality of their parents. Many of these youths live at home, silently watching what their parents are doing, and then secretly despising them. The enemy has fueled their hate through technology and schools."

"They have also been taught that anyone that follows the One True God are evil. They will soon be incentivized to report activities for the greater good of the new order of things. You can tell these youth by the looks on their faces. Their faces will look blank and emotionless."

Me: "Oh Lord, I have seen this many times out here."

Jesus: "This is because they have been taught to hate the parents and grandparents that love them. They are taught that they are better off on drugs or other addictions. They are shown the path of rebelliousness. They are taught to love what is bad and to detest and resist what is good. They have been taught to 'hate all things God'."

Me: "Is this what You meant when You said that the world will grow cold?"

Jesus: "Yes. They are anxious, depressed, angry, hateful, impatient and haters of good things. These people have a spirit of bitterness. It is a chip on their shoulders."

Me: "Hmm, a chip?"

Jesus: "Yes. Those who have a chip on their shoulders are constantly offended and want what others have. They have already received an extra demon for every opposite trait of the fruits of the spirit. They also come with a lying tongue and feet that run quickly into evil."

Me: "Oh Lord, this is so awful."

Jesus: "Yes. The enemy has taken principled men of courage and destroyed them, shamed them and disheartened them."

Me: "They have made many believe that males should be females and females should be males. They also believe some should be neither. There are other stereotypes the enemy is trying to widely disseminate..."

- All white Christians are evil
- All black men should be feared
- All moms are not valid as moms
- Dads are absent
- Families should be dissolved
- Children are now taught it is better to be alone and to find self-worth through 'others' like them

"These are all blatant lies!"

Jesus: "Yes, they are."

Me: "And what about the Seven Tenets of Satanism widely distributed to the military just yesterday? It was on Fox News and sent out to all military as a call for the mandatory vaccine."

Jesus: "Erin, the enemy is visibly at work lining up his arguments and protecting his strongholds. This was done to expose the Christians in the military and remove them. All opposed must leave."

Me: "I would oppose it."

Jesus: "Many go along. Now you understand that the time is now here... the times written about by the prophets. Now rejoice as I am with you. Do not be afraid."

Me: "Lord, help us! Please hurry!"

Jesus: "I am with you. Do not worry. Do not be surprised when you see these events take place. These are necessary for My Great Plan. Rejoice, Erin, as all is about to change."

Dream 519 – It is called The Verge, The Precipice

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day! Thank You for our children and home. Thank You for our Nest friends! Father, I am extremely sad over the state of the world, but especially the USA. We can do nothing without You. Everywhere we look, there is horrible news. Churches are shutting down. While some churches are allowed to stay open, they can only do so if they do not have worship music.

This world is sunk. If You do nothing to show that You are wonderful, kind, smart and in control, how will anyone know anymore? Please, Father! If we were talking one or two cities, I would understand. However, we are talking entire nations. Governments are starting to monitor their citizens in unhealthy ways. It is getting worse. Father, please have mercy on us. Please do all that You have promised. I am scared.

Jesus: "Erin, come up."

I heard the Lord's Voice...

Jesus: "I know, Erin, I know. You are restless in your sleep again. No matter what you do, you are uncomfortable... your feet when you walk... your food when you eat... your head when you lay down to sleep... your place of devotions in your chair."

Me: "While I went to find shoes, there is really none. While I went to find a new pillow, it doesn't work the best. While I try to eat better and with less, I remain the same. While I have tried new coverings and pillows on my devotional chair, nothing works. Even my technology is striking out against me."

Jesus: "It is called 'The Verge'. It is called 'The Precipice'. You are restless. Your spirit and body are as one and have no relief. You are in sync."

Note: I was not overly familiar with the words 'verge' or 'precipice', so I looked up their definition. Definition of 'verge': To approach something closely. Definition of 'precipice': A very steep rock face or cliff.

Me: "I don't like it."

Jesus: "This is a sign and marker. Erin, I am with you. Let Me tell you this... when an army is about to go to war, and even though they have been guaranteed a victory, uncertainty still looms. Will there be casualties? Will I become injured? What will be the cost? Either way, the battle, the great event, is about to shake history and change the dynamic.

“Erin, this is what great changes bring. A shift in the regular order of things. People become downcast. Right now is a prime example because the news delivered is all bad. It causes people to look back and wish for what was once good. They now look to the future with horror. They see no hope.

“Very few even know they are in the ‘Fall Feast Season’. I AM THE SHELTER! I protect those who run to Me in the midst of troubles. I am their Iron Dome. I will protect My children as I have promised. So too are you protected. Wherever My children are, I am the God over all things.”

Me: “Oh Lord, please rise up and show Your glory. Two young children just died here recently. One was being raised by a single mom. She is heartbroken. Raise them up from the grave. Will You not raise these little ones? My heart literally hurts. Oh, how these parents must be in shock!”

Jesus: “Yes, Erin, I know. Those little ones are with Me and, as you know by now, they are delighted here.”

Me: “While I do know this, I just want it to be ‘on Earth as it is in Heaven’. Please! As it looks right now, it is ‘on Earth as it is in Hell’. The enemy appears to be winning. It hurts.”

Jesus: “Well then, it is a good time for My miracles!”

Me: “Yes, Lord, but please don’t delay.”

Jesus: “Erin, in My Words, I have promised you that I will raise the dead, release the prisoners, heal the sick and pay your debts. My promises are true. However, and even more, there will be a display of splendor. The splendor of My Glory will be like a flag upon the hill for all to see. It will be more prominent than a pillar of fire or a cloud. Erin, you are to be like a banner for all to see.

“Evil will be terrified because I am in you. Your body is My Vessel, like a tabernacle or ark. However, not just you... an army of those whose lives reflect My glory even in the midst of adversity. You will all display awesome deeds, deeds impossible for man, but possible for God... Me in you...

- You will understand many languages and speak them.
- You will know the thoughts of a wicked man and declare them as they run away from you in fear.
- You will raise the dead and they will testify of Heaven.
- Those who mourn will rejoice with dancing and singing.
- You will restore what the enemy has stolen.

- You will return what is lost.
- You will restore joy to those in grief.
- Evil will run and hide. However, you will still locate them and call the evil out.
- Obstacles in your way will immediately be removed.
- Wicked mouths will be unable to murmur a sound, let alone a curse.
- Since I am in you, your presence will cause the wicked to confess openly day and night to their evil deeds.
- People will be transformed by truth.
- Cities burned to the ground will be raised up and rebuilt in a day better than before.
- Forests and other places of beauty will be restored to their former state.
- Music will be heard in the streets as neighbors will celebrate with each other.
- Peoples of all color will celebrate to gather the great restorative love of God Who has healed the broken places and released their debts.
- Those with addictions will be set free and restored.
- There will be peace and joy.

Me: Crying. "Lord, thank You. Will we be here to see it?"

Jesus: "I am in you. I declared you will participate as I am looking forward to seeing you celebrate. I am looking forward to seeing you set free."

Me: Still crying, but now happy tears. "Thank You, Lord. I love You so much."

Jesus: "Then trust Me to carry you. I am with you. I have never forgotten you. This is the greatest love story, Erin, and you are in this story... My story."

Me: "History! His... story!"

Jesus: "Yes. Now rejoice. Have a great day. Take Me with you today. I will go before you. A gift for you is waiting as you go out in faith. Now rejoice! I love you!"

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day! Thank You for my husband. Thank You for our children. Thank You for our friends on the Nest! Each day brings a new challenge and a new surprise. Thank You for our home. This is a safe and comfortable place. This is a blessing and a gift from You. While we were on our trip, I took photos of all of the dwelling places I lived from 1991 to 2009. 2009 was when the kids and I left Oregon.

There was only one place in which I did not take a photo. All in all, there were ten different homes / apartments and three businesses. It was brutal. All I wanted the whole time was to just make one of these a home for us. I just wanted one that we could call our own. During our time in Oregon, I designed well over a hundred homes. Of those, at least 20 were over the million-dollar mark or more.

In Washington state, I designed over 150 homes in just five years. I worked in so many homes and with so many different people. One day, I stopped envying the buyers because I knew that God would one day do something amazing for me and my children. It finally happened here. We bought a home that was new and built by a young couple. They just wanted out. He was transferred out west so there was urgency.

My husband and I discovered the home online. It was a miracle. My husband contacted the agent and went the next weekend. In a matter of a few days, he became qualified to purchase it, also a miracle. Just as quickly as we saw it, we owned it. We took possession in July 2014. My three kids and I then moved in at the end of August 2014. This was clearly the place You built for us.

This was a great lesson in trusting You for a great promise and fully embracing it. Please, Father, show us how to use what we have been given and multiply this for Your glory, not ours. Father, it has been almost nine years since the dreams began from You on September 30, 2012. These have been a great blessing and a true miracle.

Would You consider soon transforming us as You have shown us? Could You multiply these dreams so that those who doubt Your miracles or believe only in New Age will turn and seek Your face because of them? My husband and I have many enemies. Will You please vindicate us and bless us?

Please provide a way for us to purchase a home out west that no man can touch or harm in anyway. Let it be as a great banner on a hill for my enemies to see that we are Yours. I have quit pursuing material things and pursue You instead. Please continue to pursue me! Thank You, Lord, for all You do for us. My dream last night was very clear and detailed...

Sub-dream 1 "Driving Around in Bend OR" begins...

My husband and I traveled out west. The virus / plague was now gone. We stopped at a golf course that had a restaurant and a driving range. We decided to hit some balls. The golf shop and restaurant were separated from the range and golf course by a busy highway. We crossed the highway with a few buckets of balls. The driving range was really strange. We were to hit into a forest of trees.

We then noticed that a group of women in long skirts and tan sweaters were collecting all of these balls in the forest. It was odd as no driving range I know of directs golfers to hit into the trees. I then told my husband to wait for me while I went back to get another bucket of golf balls. I had a sense in our dream that our kids were also there.

I went into the golf shop and noticed a pair of golf pants. It was a designer brand called 'Tribeca'. My husband's size was hanging from the ceiling in an odd display. Two other gentlemen were also interested in the garment. Just as I asked the clerk for the pants, my husband came in and said, 'I love them. I'll take them.' The two men turned in anger, but then became afraid of him as he was now Transformed.

After this, we drove into town. We drove down two streets in Bend OR that I did not recognize. I saw all kinds of homes I liked. We had the ability to see through the homes. We arrived at one place that had a tennis court. We pulled into the driveway. We then discovered about 50 college students on lounge chairs completely naked. They began to yell at my husband and call him a pervert, but we decided not to engage.

We then drove to a business place I used to know. A man was there who sold pottery, including confit pots. The building was white stucco on the side of a steep cliff. The pottery was hideous and in gross white, black and red colors. While the owner was glad to see me, he was visibly disappointed in seeing me with my husband. He looked like a famous actor from the 70s (William Hurt). You could tell he was proud of his stuff, but we were not overly impressed by it.

Man: "I am now a potter and these are my creations."

I told him what we were looking for. He then pointed to some items he had on the other side of the store. He then made a very strange request.

Man: "Before you are allowed to go over there, you have to answer the question of the day."

He then pointed to a sign that was labeled 'question of the day'. It read...

"What is significant about the Jubilee Year and how it relates to the Shmitah from September 7, 2021 - 2022?"

My husband: "This is really two questions, not one question."

Man: Clearly irritated and jealous of my husband. "Look, just answer the question."

My husband: "It is a time of release and rest."

Man: "Wrong answer."

After this, the man became disinterested in us. My husband and I then decided to leave. We did not feel welcome there.

Sub-dream 1 over...

Father, please help me with the meaning of all of this.

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "I am here, Erin. This is a great time to be in My care. How great a thing to be under the covering of My cloud. How do you believe you received your nickname (SparrowCloud9)?"

Me: "Well, I lived in Cloud9 Estates.

Jesus: "Yes, but there is much more to this. You are a sparrow in which I care, but you are also under My covering of blessing wherever you go and wherever you dwell. However, I am now here with you always. I will work through you the things that would be impossible for men. The display of My power will be made visible through you. Nothing will be impossible for you because of My presence and My glory.

“Now, throughout the lands, people who are drunk with evil are reigning terror over those whose hope is still in Me. I will not let them become discouraged or downtrodden. I will answer their prayers and I will turn and heal them. Though it seems as if the enemy is in control, they are not. As for the border invasion, I have a Great Plan.

“Erin, the great nations are ill and have removed God. Still, many are in prayer and these prayers have reached the Courts of Heaven. My mercy is now about to be poured out as My wrath is about to be removed from the lands.”

Me: “Lord, I am scared. Please do all that You have said. I would hate to be out of Your favor.”

Jesus: “Well then, this is good news. Erin, you have trusted Me in many things. You gave to Me your knowledge as you knew very little about the many topics you wrote about over the years. With your dreams, you allowed Me to lead. I instructed you in the way you should go and you followed. While you sometimes hoped that I would take you to a certain place or that I would declare a certain date, I usually did not.

“I instead took you to a place that was uncomfortable for you. There is then the greatest miracle happened... when I spoke mysteries through you without you having knowledge. If you had been a scholar, you would have stopped the free flowing of My Spirit through you. You would have instead argued and fact checked Me.”

Me: “Well, I still did on some things. I checked on some of the Scriptures, but especially on Hebrew words. I just wanted to make sure I didn’t write something down incorrectly, especially those things I had no familiarity with.”

Jesus: “That is okay, Erin, as this is wisdom. Now rejoice, Erin. As the rain has come in due season, so too have My blessings. I will open Heavens unto you because you believe. By faith, I will then bless you abundantly more than you thought possible. I love you! Now rest today and rejoice tomorrow!”

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day! Thank You for Your love and care. Thank You for keeping us under the cover of Your wings. I have not been feeling well. I wish I had more energy and freedom to move about more consistently. We are an injured / special need / challenged household. We are in the middle of the wilderness awaiting Your miracles. Still, I thank You for our current state of being. Father, You know what is best for us.

Lord, I have seen a Great Revival in my dreams. I have seen a last wave of the miraculous here 'on Earth as it is in Heaven'. Please don't delay. We watched a news program last night that showed the blatant move of the spirit of evil permeating every single part of the land. It is happening now. There is so much confusion and evil that it just has to be clearly planned. This is an 'orchestrated chaos'.

Father, we have peace and comfort through You. For my whole life until now, I have been unable to own a home. I would often wakeup in fear that I would be evicted and my lease terminated, thereby leaving us homeless. In Bend OR during the 2000s, a builder would build a new home, rent it out for a year or two to avoid taxes, and then sell it. I didn't know about this tax break until after our first year's lease was up on a little 1500 square foot home we were renting for $1,075 per month.

At the time, this home would have sold for around $150,000. Not long after, it would sell for $250,000. This home today would be bring in around $650,000. This is a pretty incredible return on investment. The home maybe cost $100,000 including the land. The developer built in great scale, so he would get great deals on everything.

Father, many of these developers were Christians. You gave them the idea and wisdom to put this entire project together. You bless them and, in turn, they were a blessing to many. It was hard for us during that time because of these tax loopholes. As a result, we moved from home to home and we could never afford to buy them.

However, I have learned to never judge Christians on how You decide to bless them. This is between You and them alone. I am so grateful that You are good and You reward according to a man's heart. I have learned over the years not to judge on appearances because these don't always tell an accurate story. By appearances alone, we would look rich to some, but poor to others.

Our home was built by You, Lord. While we didn't find out until much later, the people who sold this house to us considered it a 'fire sale'. While our home is not worth that much here, it would fetch a pretty penny in other places. This matches the common saying used by real estate agents... the three most important factors in real estate is location, location, location.

Oh Lord, we are so extremely grateful to You. You have given us the ability to maintain the payments on our home. We are so thankful. You have given us the ability to afford when emergencies come. These are miracles and such a blessing. Thank You for our special place in the trees. It has been both a struggle and a blessing.

Father, please bless Your people. Please heal the land. Please have mercy and turn Your face toward us. Revive us, Lord, and show us what is good. I am scared. The freedoms we once enjoyed have been stolen. Our nation has been hijacked by an evil government who hates their people. They have deceived millions of us.

They have closed our churches. They have opened our borders to invaders. They have taught evil to our children. They are forcing us to take a vaccine we know very little about. They have closed the small businesses in favor of large businesses. They have forced us to wear masks. They have told us to shut our mouths and accept it.

Father, when will You come to help us? I had really hoped for today! I plead to You the Scriptures of Great Revival... Joel 2, Psalm 85 and Habakkuk 3:2.

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "I know, Erin, I know. I am here. You are witnessing evil on full display. Those who are still allowed to speak now call this evil good. Erin, you are correct not to judge a man based on appearances at first glance. Many Christians are quick to judge and accuse and slow to apologize and make amends for wrong judgments. Blessings are a heart matter. The world would like to see My people destitute. The only thing that would satisfy the masses would be if they were all in poor quality clothes."

Me: "I have cotton clothing. While a lot of this is now dated, the quality has remained good. I have been told that I dress well. Well, Lord, this is because You have always blessed me with incredible bargains. This has worked against me though. A while back, I had bought a very expensive coat from goodwill and only paid $10 for it. This was literally pennies on the dollar and I was so grateful for the fit and comfort. When I wore it to church one time, I was later confronted by one of the ministry staff. Here is how I recall the conversation that ensued..."

Woman: "You should not be spending money on costly clothing. You should instead save your money. Look at the coat you are wearing as an example."

Me: "Yes, but I purchased my coat at goodwill for $10."

Woman: "Well, it isn't just the coat, it is the other nice things that you own."

Me: "I also get most of my other clothes, including my children's clothes, from thrift stores. I also once owned a high-end woman's clothing boutique. When I sold the store, I kept what wasn't wanted or what wouldn't sell. These garments may be old, but they don't wear down due to their great quality. It would actually cost me a lot more money to look destitute. I would need to replace my clothes. Would this be better?"

Woman: "Well, you look privileged. It is hard to want to help you based on your appearance."

"While I could tell that this woman knew I had a valid point, she refused to acknowledge this. My feelings were very hurt. After this, I retreated from church. It was impossible not to look a certain way even though it cost us virtually nothing. It was exhausting. Based on these experiences, I try not to judge. Some of my wealthy looking clients ended up with nothing and some of my poor looking clients had unbelievable wealth."

Jesus: "I remember all of it. Erin, all you see around you is Mine. All you have been given is because I have given this to you. Things that make you smile and delight you are from Me. Things that burden you are from the enemy and not from Me. There are many hypocrites everywhere. There is not one perfect person. Keep your focus on Me and all that I am about to do."

“Keep the lost before you in your prayers. There will be a time when there will be destitute people living in mansions. However, they will barely have enough to keep warm. They will then burn their belongings just to stay alive. Those who once took advantage of the poor will then know what it is like to be a victim.”

Me: “Lord, please come in miracles and revive the land. Please breathe new life into us. We have let go of the former things. I just let go of my high-end sweaters after 20 years of owning some of them. I now own acrylic sweaters instead.”

Jesus: “Although it was time, letting go of former things after 20 years is difficult. There are very few things that retain value or increase in value.”

Me: “Well, I know what has... my walk and my dreams. You have blessed me, Lord.”

Jesus: “I will continue. You are experiencing a tidal wave of evil. The wicked wave has swept across the lands. However, do not worry as their rejoicing is about to turn into mourning as those who delight in evil will receive more evil turned back upon them for all they have done. Do not worry as all of this had to come before it became ‘My Turn’. When My Great Wave of Miracles come, many will hide in fear.

“They will hide in fear because of things that were said against Me, My Kingdom and the children of God. As there is no fear of God right now, evil is free to move about. However, I will soon flip tables upon them and terror will be their punishing rod. They will be unable to sleep or find rest as dreams and visions of their deeds will be ever before them. They will find no relief no matter where they try to run and hide.

“Now rejoice, Erin, rejoice! Tell your friends on My Nest to rejoice. I love you! I love all of you! I am with your family. I am with your friends. Enjoy this day. Do not worry as your treasures are stored up in Heaven as well as on Earth.”

Dream over.

Dream 521 – This Marks a Beginning With No End

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day! Thank You for everything. Thank You for the great blessing of You. I am so thankful for You, Father. Tomorrow is the 9th year anniversary of the start of these dreams on Sunday, September 30, 2012. On Saturday, September 29, 2012, I was losing all hope that You loved me. It was a painful day. I had very little hope. My friends had abandoned me and the creditors were at my door.

I was also saddled with a medical bill by my ex for an injury my daughter sustained on their property. When adding up all of the medical bills for me plus this one plus all of the legal fees that put me into this position in the first place, I declared bankruptcy in October 2012. This was my second bankruptcy in six years. It took 4 long years of repayment to the US bankruptcy court of $500 per month to remove this burden.

This was a very difficult payment to make as I still had all of my regular bills and really not that great a salary. The bankruptcy essentially meant any hopes of purchasing a home in the future would have to be a miracle of God. Even though the medical bills and legal bills were all necessary expenditures, the banks viewed this as a character issue. I have not owned a credit card ever since.

I am now 'off-grid'... or am I? I do not know. It feels better this way though. My stomach was always sick. Owing people money causes sleepless nights and great worry. Thank You, Father, for delivering me from these evil collection agencies. Some people were friendly, but others were threatening and yelling. If we now go back a few months from this bankruptcy, you have my plea to God for help.

I had declared an ultimatum to You in mid-2012, not long before the dreams began, that I would soon be finished chasing You. I said I would still love You, but I just would not believe that You cared at all about me. I just felt that perhaps my sins were so horrible somewhere that I was irredeemable. Needless to say, these were dark days in my history. This was one of many dark days during the lead up to the start of the dreams.

I woke up this morning so exhausted and heavy. I had trouble walking up the stairs. My sleep was very deep. Upon waking, I was confused as to where I was for a moment. I was very tired yesterday afternoon and last night as well. I took a nap yesterday that lasted from 4:00pm to 5:30pm. A phone call woke me up. This is not like me to take a nap.

I drove Chance to his work training program this morning. In the sky over us was a dark grey cross shaped cloud below a larger white cloud. While I wanted to take a photo, the shape changed and I was unable. About five minutes after this, a dark Hebrew letter 'Chet' formed, also below a larger white cloud.

Both of these shapes were too perfectly shaped not to be supernatural. Chet basically means bridge, a joining of two sides. It is the eighth letter of the Hebrew alphabet. Eight means 'new beginnings' in Scripture. I had a really great dream last night...

Sub-dream 1 "A Female Angel Publisher Arrives" begins...

An angel suddenly appeared very close to me. I was surprised at first as this angel was female. An encounter with a female angel is extremely rare for me. While I had an encounter with a female angel in my shop back in 1996 in front of witnesses, I have not experienced this since (at least from what I can recall). While I am not sure, this female angel looked quite similar to the female angel that I had met back in 1996.

This angel was so beautiful, but in a way nearly impossible to describe. She clearly was not of this world. This beautiful angel approached me and took a manuscript from my hands. I had only been slightly aware that I had been holding this manuscript. The manuscript was very thick. As soon as she took the manuscript, it immediately glowed. She then addressed me in a beautiful voice...

Beautiful angel: "With the Lord's assistance, I will publish this. God has commanded me to do all of this quickly. I will also take your (older) son's manuscript. This too will be published as God instructs."

She smiled an incredible smile and then she was gone.

Sub-dream 1 over.

Note: As further background to this sub-dream, my older son is currently busy writing a screenplay for a hopefully future television show that is loosely based on these dreams. This would be a very unique way to reach the younger people that these dreams probably would have a harder time reaching. Hmm, all according to God's Will...

Me: "Oh Lord, what was this? Was this beautiful angel from You?"

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "I am here with you, Erin. There is still much that you do not know about the Kingdom of God, both in Heaven and on Earth. As you prayed this morning, you started singing to me about revival. You sang, 'You can light it up, You can light it up, You're the God of Miracles!' Yes, Erin, I am the God of Miracles. I am the God who sees. I am the God who releases the prisoners and breaks the chains.

"I am the God who heals. I am the God who carries those who cannot walk. I am the God who speaks for those who cannot. I am the God who pays the debt. However, not just this... I also own the debtors and all that you see. I am the God who lights up the darkness. Erin, I am the same God who has been with you. I have had mercy on you."

Me: Crying. "Thank You, Lord. I now hear You. You go before me. I will do as You direct me. I love You. Thank You for these 9 years of dreams. These miracles are such an incredible gift. I am grateful."

Jesus: "Erin, this does not mark an ending. This marks a beginning with no end. Rejoice, rejoice, rejoice!"

Dream over.

522 – Listen to the Lord speaking to you

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day! Thank You for all that we have been given. Please bless and multiply all things back into Your Kingdom. Please protect my family. Please protect my friends and their families. I had an awesome dream last night...

Sub-dream 1 "Those who never worshipped were now worshipping" begins...

I was witnessing a massive worship service. People who once would never praise You were now praising You with arms lifted high. I saw miracles sweep over the people in wave after wave. It was a sea of hope. This was something I never imagined I would ever witness in my lifetime here. It was void of fear of God as clearly You were given Your rightful position as our Father and our God, the only God and our Creator. It was so beautiful. I couldn't stop watching with the biggest smile on my face.

Sub-dream 1 over...

Father, You are speaking about divine mysteries. All the intentions of the enemy globally as the New World Order is beginning to take its position over all of the people. Please forgive me when You reveal certain events and I am unable to accept that I could witness such things. I want to run and hide instead. You have told me to keep hard copies of certain records apart from their digital footprint.

I have an incredible number of photos. These pictures consist of photos of homes I've worked on, my family, events, animals and birds in our yard and seasons changing. However, I noticed something odd. Of all the photos to be somehow deleted, this consists of pictures of my Ottowan grandmother and my Osage grandmother. Quite simply, my technology is starting to behave very strangely.

My technology will automatically shut down for no apparent reason. They will then turn back on for no apparent reason. While I keep no trackers on my device, what if one was put there in secret? How would I know? When I get weather alerts, it reflects where I am. How do they know where I am? Still, this should not be a surprise. We have also been surprised at the speed of the takeover by governments globally.

Well, You continue to tell me not to worry. You instead want me to remain focused on Your Word. You also want me to practice more in tapping into You as You are in me. We have also found that my husband and I are not as hungry as we have been in the past. We have little desire for any packaged junk food. Our enjoyment of other items is gone too. The things of this world are now failing to satisfy. An epic failure, really.

Oh Father, please help the world. All we hear now are lies. Lies are now commonly accepted and Your Truth is considered to be hate. The dividing of the sheep vs the goats is happening now. However, we only see the activities of the enemy. It is horrifying what is happening. The government is criminalizing the law abiding and elevating the criminals that break the law.

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "Erin, Erin, Erin, I am with you. The enemy will not prevail. If there is some place you are not to go, I have sent a signal to your left foot that this is not the way. I have not healed your foot fully because this is beneficial."

Me: "Lord, You have sent a sharp pain when You want me to change course and avoid going one place or another. Wow, Lord, thank You."

Jesus: "There is more. When your stomach seems off or your digestive track is suddenly not right, do not partake in the food offered. This means drinks, even water, medicine or foods. This even means 'free samples', but especially these. When I give you an uneasy feeling of danger, your heart will race. You will then be on heightened alert and your temperature will rise. This is Me alerting you or bringing your attention to a matter you must take care of."

Me: "I have been feeling this way about our home lately. I just discovered 60 pills of my medication were stolen in our first hotel in Portland OR, the evil hotel. They were very clever in how they did it."

Jesus: "This is because there is profit in reselling these. Now, when you were staying at this hotel, you could not get comfortable. You were uneasy. You were also the subject of cursing by the small staff. They were loyal to each other and they were watching you. I protected you there."

Me: "Lord, You prompted us to get extra insurance for our car rental. I am glad we did as the windshield ended up cracked. The side of the car was also dented by what seemed to be a kick during our stay at the evil hotel. My stomach was sick there."

Jesus: "The place was just purchased and all of these employees are about to quit. As a result, they are all working together in evil for their own gains. Do not worry as they did not fully succeed in their plans. Now, when I suddenly give you a heightened sense of trouble, act on it. Do not dismiss it, even if you need to override your partner in doing so. Since I am in you, therefore listen and trust My Voice."

Me: "Forgive me, Lord. I thought some of this was my paranoia at times."

Jesus: "Erin, I am here with you. I have shown you what is occurring. There is no paranoia in you. Now, there is more. I will send signs immediately when evil is present. There will also be a difference between those striking against you and those striking against others."

Me: "I noticed that You were doing this during our trip to Bend OR. This trip helped me to realize that I sometimes hesitate when hearing from You directly while I am out and about. I need to be much better at this."

Jesus: "I am instructing you using your current vessel. Why? So, you will come to trust Me fully that My instructions are always for your good. If you are not listening to My instructions, I will make you temporarily uncomfortable. This will last only for a moment unless you continue to refuse My instructions. However, as quickly as I send the discomfort, I will remove it."

Me: Laughing. "This feels more like You are training a dog or even a toddler."

Jesus: "Well, what is better? What if I was instructing you and you were only obeying 50% of what I was instructing? With the current state of the world, do you want to listen to God's instructions 50% of the time or 100% of the time?"

Me: "Oh, 100% of the time! You are wise, Lord. However, I really don't enjoy the pain of all of this."

Jesus: "I understand. Now, you experienced complete exhaustion during this last week. You were unsettled and almost stumbled. You had no energy. Why did I allow this to happen?"

Me: "I was sick?"

Jesus: "No. It was because you did not fully rest on the Sabbath. You worked for three hours on chores and did not fully rest for 24 hours. You rested 21 hours. As a lesson, I allowed your exhaustion for one day for each hour. This was three days in total, but I threw in a fourth day for good measure. Now, it is wisdom to prepare in advance of your day of rest. You work and toil for six days, but you must fully rest on the seventh day. When you do this, I will grant you supernatural strength, wisdom and knowledge."

Me: "Okay, so I was tired from Monday to Thursday. I did notice that I finally felt better yesterday (Friday). I really thought I had been sick."

Jesus: "Well, technically, you were sick as you were unable to do much."

Me: "I am sorry, Lord. Since You are in me, I made You work too."

Jesus: "No, you did not. I had no problem resting. Now, I need you to understand the seriousness of My commands. When you are tired and exhausted, you do not make sound decisions. My Voice was quieter. Your batteries were low. While I still protected you and this is good, rest must be obeyed."

Me: "Yes, Lord, but what if..."

He stopped me before I could finish my question. He already knew my thoughts.

Jesus: "While this is fine in the case of an emergency, this was not an emergency. Now, this rebuke is a good lesson. I gave your body a deep rest. This brought healing properties and peace to you. Now, you experienced one more issue..."

Me: "Yes. My left hand. It has been freezing up. I cannot grip things properly."

Jesus: "What thing mainly?"

Me: "My phone. I am struggling with texts. Also, with my tablet. I am struggling with typing. My technology seems to be striking out against me."

Jesus: "Again, Erin, if I am calling your attention elsewhere, then get away from these 'vessels of trouble'. If I am calling for you to look up or be more aware of your surroundings, do not look down. Engage in what is around you instead. Now, you worry about responding to family and friends quickly. Erin, they do not demand this from you. Only you demand this of yourself. Give this to Me as well."

Me: "I am sorry, Lord. I repent for my stubbornness."

Jesus: "This is instruction. It is good. The idea is to become used to Me in you. Once you trust Me fully, we will work as one. As you keep a ready vessel for My purposes, I will do miracles through you."

Me: "Lord, please hurry. I grant you full access to my reins. I am sorry I fought You. I didn't know I was. I have caused a delay."

Jesus: "No, this is not true. There is no delay. What do you feel in you about My timing?"

Me: "You are a mystery, Lord. While I have some thoughts, I have tried to avoid timeframes. I am so sad about the state of the world that my heart hurts. It actually hurts and I cry."

Jesus: "This too is a sign of My love and compassion in you for the lost. However, you must take comfort that the Light of the world still shines in the darkness."

Me: "Lord, please hurry. There is so much evil. All good voices are being silenced. Fear has gripped the world. People are being forced to take this vaccine. The government is going to demand more and more from their citizens. Healthcare is being denied. Assets will soon be seized from those who do not comply."

"Years ago, I had a dream of a Thanksgiving table with no food. It seems that the New World Order's plan is to essentially take over by Thanksgiving. Lord, could You instead divide the USA into two lands and let those who love America do so in peace? Please, Lord, do this soon."

Jesus: "I am already dividing up the land. It is here. My borderline is truth vs lies. I have a Great Plan. You must understand that the evil government, but really the underlying 'Order', has planned a much broader attack against those who opposed them than anything ever seen before in history."

"Though patterns repeat, this is different. It is already here. I showed you a few years ago that men planning evil used good and noble purposes as a shelter for a wicked plot to locate certain people and their genealogy."

Me: "Are You referring to the various DNA companies?"

Jesus: "There is a greater experiment in place to destroy a billion people. What happened to the Jewish people in the death chambers was only a foreshadowing of a greater plan today. Permission was granted almost seven years ago. While signs occurred visibly, most were behind the scenes, hidden in darkness. I showed you a pot slowly coming to boil. This is the world."

"God's Courts in Heaven were then closed to the accuser. Those who had bitterness, anger or envy were then given a double portion. They were infused with great anger and the determination to harm. To see the blueprints of their evil, go back to the history books... that is, if you can find a truthful one. Most have been destroyed. You will see how the enemy rose to power, destroying anyone who stood in their way.

"You are currently experiencing the precursor to the Mark of the Beast (the Covid19 Vaccines). However, it is only a precursor. Remember that, when the Mark actually arrives, I will first send angels to command all who will listen not to take the Mark. Not one person will take the Mark unwittingly or unknowingly. Erin, you will find this is in Scripture (Revelation 14:9-11).

"I know that this is difficult to witness. It appears to you as being 'total chaos'. However, it is not chaos at all. The chaos is an untruth, like a veil covering a very planned and orchestrated attack."

Me: "But, Lord, You have so many people who love You praying to You. Please don't forget all of us. Please stop all of this for our sake. Please rise up, Lord. Please have mercy on us!"

Jesus: "I have allowed it to go forward because My churches have begun to fall away from Me. They have gone into town for oil for their lamps. Well, they will soon find out that they have fornicated as prostitutes with those who lead them here or there for a handsome sum of money.

"They have forgotten their first love, their Savior, for money. As such, I have forgotten them. My love is now for My Bride, a Bride with a willing heart, a Bride with watchful eyes to see and listening ears to hear, whose feet run from evil, whose lamp never stops burning for Me."

Me: "But, Lord, our lamps are now running low. Our hearts are discouraged. Our hopes are in You. Lord, we are all looking for You. Please help us. So many are growing tired. Please act on our behalf. Please use us now."

Jesus: "I know, Erin, I know. I am here with you. I dwell in you. Your heart is My Tabernacle. Rejoice, Erin. I am preparing My Army, an Army the likes the world has never seen. My Army is about to shake the nations. My anger burns against those who have used unjust measures. My anger burns against those who have mistreated widows and orphans.

"My anger burns for those whose false witness have convicted the innocent. My anger burns for those involved in the children sacrificed to Baal. My anger burns. In the same way that evil has increased, so too does God's measure of wrath build. Just as evil becomes more visible, so too will I. Do you understand?"

Me: "Yes, Lord. Please hurry though as hope is fading away for so many of us."

Jesus: "I come at the appointed time. My wrath will be poured out upon the wicked. However, first will come a Great Wave of My goodness. This will be a church unlike any church ever before. This will be a church who never closes its door by night nor worries about business dealings by day. This will be a church who does not have a scheduled liturgy script, but instead leads fully by My Spirit.

"This will be a church who does not shutdown the move of God because of timeframes. This will be a church who worships Me day and night, standing on My Word of Truth. This church will be like a candle at My Altar who never burns out day or night. There will be no curtain separating Me from My Bride. No weapon formed against this church shall prosper.

"Now, Erin, please understand the times that you are in. Allow Me to work freely in you day and night. Do not stop Me or shut Me down because of busy schedules. Listen to Me say, 'This is the way... walk in this!' Now, rejoice today and rest tomorrow. I love you. I am with you. Evil will not prevail. Though they seem unstoppable, they are not. Use your new tools today. I love you."

Dream over.

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day! Thank You for this beautiful Fall Day. The leaves are barely turning color. Normally by now, the fall colors are over because You send strong winds to remove any leaves that remain for the benefit of the tree during its long winter's sleep. As a result of this delay, these trees here out east are still beautiful. Fall is and always has been my favorite time of the year.

The atmosphere is crystal clear and the air seems so pure. My allergies are gone and I can finally breathe easily. Fall is a blessing. Harvest Festivals are everywhere, as well as Harvest Markets. Unlike last year, the virus has not stopped these gatherings this year. Last night, I had so many dreams, it was a 'Dream Harvest'. Thank You for dreams, Father. I have had a few of them that revolved around acorns.

Sub-dream 1 "Acorns, acorns everywhere"

We moved our bed out from the wall. Underneath our bed were hundreds or even thousands of darker colored acorns. These acorns had already been shelled and the seeds had already been planted.

Sub-dream 1 over.

Sub-dream 2 "My mom loves our Oak Tree"

We had a beautiful oak tree in our yard. Our yard was not like it is right now though. Our yard was now a combination of my childhood homes and Bend OR. It was a combination of Nevada, California, Idaho and Oregon. All of these were combined into one neighborhood in Oregon. This oak tree was about 14 feet in height and had a canopy about 14 feet wide. However, the canopy height was low at about 7 feet. The trunk was in proportion to its canopy.

We had not lived long in this home. Our surroundings, including the oak tree, were all new to us. My mother had come to see our new place. She appeared much younger. I was so excited to see her again.

Mom: "Can we go outside and see your new place? In particular, I want to check out your amazing oak tree."

I agreed and we walked outside. We were soon in awe at the size of the acorns this tree had produced. They were remarkable acorns. Some of these acorns were almost three inches high and perfectly shaped. They were so perfectly shaped that I knew they were all supernatural.

Me: "Look, mom, there is something odd here. Besides the acorns, there were two other seeds growing from this tree. It looks like buckeye and almond."

Just after I pointed this out to my mom, she walked over to a large growth on the other side of the trunk of the tree. It appeared to have movement.

Me: "Mom, wait. Stop! It is a beehive."

She turned and we proceeded to walk away carefully. Without really speaking at all, she conveyed to me that she liked our home. I then started to wonder how I could live with the beehive. Should I retrieve honey from it or have it removed? Would I always worry about being stung? Soon after thinking these things, I then became totally focused on the oak tree itself. I no longer cared about the bees.

Me: "I just love this beautiful oak tree. I can't believe we own it."

Mom: Smiling. "Yes, it is quite the tree!"

Sub-dream 2 over.

Sub-dream 3 "A deer breathing her last breaths"

Our home was cut into the side of a hill. Our home was separated from our neighbor's yard by a four-foot-tall retainer wall of stacked stone. On top of that was a grassy tiered strip with plants and flowers. On this strip was a four-foot-tall wooden fence.

On this one particular day, I was in the backyard and heard a sound behind me. There was a smaller doe who was panting heavily. I watched her as she climbed and jumped our rock retaining wall. However, she was unable to jump the fence. She then laid down exhausted on our grassy tiered strip near some flowers. She was clearly thirsty and in distress.

I went to find my garden hose to give her water to cool her down. When I brought her the water, she was completely disinterested in it. While I wanted to comfort her, I could tell that she wanted nothing to do with me.

She was clearly ill. Her stomach was puffed up. In contrast, her other features were sunken.

Upon even closer examination, her jaw area was bleeding and looked broken. While I now knew that she was dying, I was helpless to do anything for her. I went inside to phone a vet. After explaining all of the above to the vet, her reply was not comforting...

Vet: "The deer will likely soon die. You need to prepare for this as I doubt she will recover. I suggest you call a wildlife manager now in order to retrieve the body. He will need to examine the body for parasites and other issues. As for you, do not touch the body. It could be contaminated. You don't want to risk becoming sick."

After first phoning a wildlife manager to come out, I went to again check on her. Her breaths were now extremely faint. She was almost gone.

Sub-dream 3 over.

Father, this last dream was a sad dream. What did this deer represent?

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "The deer represents the spiritual growth of some who once believed in Me, those who once loved Me and became thirsty, but later refused My Word. They thought I would never allow any suffering or struggles. When these then came, instead of relying on Me and allowing Me to give them the strength to go on the heights, they leaned on their own understanding. They did not trust Me to carry them.

"They even refused fresh Living Water presented to them by those I sent to minister to them. They refused those I sent to show kindness to them. They then left their families and those who cared for them to pursue lofty adventures. Even when they later realized they were sick, they still never turned to Me. They then died halfway up the heights, never reaching beyond this.

"Pray for these for they are jealous and carry hate in their hearts. When I pour out My Glory upon My Bride, they will be bitter and jealous in the darkness. They will accuse you of conversing with demons. They will accuse you of receiving the demons' powers from the abyss even though your powers will be coming from Me. Erin, there will be a day soon to come like the days of Noah and even in the Garden when shock and dismay will replace arrogance, rebellion and shame."

Me: "Oh Lord, this day will be a day of astonishment to those who are unsuspecting. This would consist of the vast majority of the world's population. Few have even heard of the Transformation. I only heard of the Transformation just a few years ago, but only because You taught us about this first in these dreams. While the coming Transformation is written about clearly in Scripture, with Joel 2 and Isaiah 61 to name just two, it is also still somehow veiled unless specifically searched for."

Jesus: "Yes, Erin, this is true. When this day soon comes, they should have then turned to Me in full repentance. They should have then brought their grievances to Me and laid them at My Altar. If they would do this, I would then do a good work and accept their apology. I would then take their shame and rebellion and turn to heal them.

"Many will instead want none of this. They instead will be angry and indignant. Many Christians amongst the many will then site Scripture verses at those who are fruitful, calling to have them struck down in My Name. However, they will really be doing the work of demons. They will have chosen spiritual death. Their own pride will be a mantle of death versus a mantle of life and healing.

"As for those who do repent and then follow Me, My Word will breathe life abundantly and it will never end. Erin, truth is like a refreshing spring planted in a desert of lies. It quenches the thirst of those who seek truth. Those who seek Me will be like springs in desert places. Through Me, the words on a page are brought to life. They are living.

"A Bible or a Tanakh without My breathing life into it through the vessels of those who seek Me with their whole heart who read them would be like a dead man reading a fictitious chronicle story. It means nothing if those who read are not open to the Wisdom of God, understand?"

Me: "Thank You, Lord."

Jesus: "I speak to those who seek Me in those pages in My Word. I then breathe life into their vessels. To those who desire to be like a healthy doe and look for Me upon the heights of My Word for even more, they are then given the ability to climb the heights to find Me there. This will be a 'mountain top' experience for them.

"However, very few believe there is more in My Word. For these, they are not given more. Their unbelief greets them at the base of the mountain instead. In jealousy, they then mock those who chose to seek My face as they descend with knowledge from on high to share their miracles and testify to My goodness.

“Very soon, My Oaks of Righteousness will be visible to all as I am soon to fulfill the Words of the Prophets. You will soon see the Year of the Lord’s Favor come to life. Erin, when this comes, you will be both revered and despised. You must instead be like an acorn and put on your armor. I will strengthen you for your journey up My Mountain. There I will reveal great mysteries. There you will be like you were in your youth, but even better.

“Your mouth will then pour out truth like honey. To some, this will be the sweetest of honeys. To others, they will be stung instead. There will be a new song on your heart. Your joy will be complete. You will minister and comfort those who grieve and mourn their former things. You will display awesome deeds. Nothing... no weapon... formed against you will prosper or succeed in removing you.

“To evil, you will be like a punishing stone. A strongman before you will become weak and unable to stand. A liar before you will be forced to confess. A murderer before you will be forced to weep. Great horror will strike those who are evil as you bring the dead to life. Once risen, they will then witness to the deeds of the wicked men.

“Erin, My judgment will be visible wherever you go. However, gifts, healings and miracles will also be visible. There will then be great joy and celebration and a wave of healing the likes the world has never seen. This will be the greatest harvest the world has ever known.”

Me: “Lord, this would make for an awesome Shmitah year! Please let all You have declared come quickly. Many of us are growing weary. Your Words are a lamp to my feet and a light to my path.”

Jesus: “Good then. We are on the same page. Erin, allow Me to carry you. It is time.”

Me: “Carry me, Lord. I am too weak. However, with You, I can climb a mountain or scale a wall. Thank You, Lord, for saving my life and allowing me to live years ago. I will be forever grateful.”

Jesus: “Whoever seeks to preserve his life will lose it, but whoever loses his life for My sake and allows Me to breathe new life into them will keep it and keep it abundantly. This is why it is important to die to yourself. This means all of your personal ambitions. Your ‘self’ works against My Spirit. The two cannot dwell together for good. Unfortunately for many, it means refinement by the furnace of affliction.

“As for you, Erin, you are now as a Temple Vessel used for the purposes of purification during worship. I pour into you fully and then you pour out Living Water on those who come seeking answers and miracles, those who I have called to Me... the lost.

“There are also many Temple Vessels with you and all of them are useful for My purposes under Heaven. I have hidden My Temple Vessels all this time. However, I will now bring them out of hiding. All those who see will be shocked and amazed.”

Me: “So, all the Vessels You have been shaping, preparing and filling with Living Water are Temple Vessels? Wow!”

Jesus: “There is much more to this. Rejoice, Erin. Enjoy this day that I have made. You are loved. Oh yes... this will be a record ‘Mast Year’ for trees.”

Dream over.

524 – The Flood of My Spirit Comes Next

Dear Father,

Thank You for another beautiful fall day! Let me start today with a note of great love for my Father. I love You so much, Lord. My dream last night was wonderful...

Sub-dream 1 "Reconciling with a friend from my past" begins...

I was experiencing a wonderful reconciliation with a friend from my past. While I don't recall much of the details, there was a feeling of loss from years ago as if something was missing to them, the feeling of seeing them again and them being as glad to see me as I was glad to see them. After this, everything, including our relationship, was healed.

Sub-dream 1 over...

This was a wonderful dream. It was like a puzzle that could never be finished because there were missing pieces. In a large view of the puzzle, you can grasp what it looks like. You can see it. However, instead of focusing on the bigger picture that is almost complete, there still remain holes where the missing pieces belong. Finding missing pieces brings everything together. It is so satisfying, often bringing laughter and joy, to finally uncover where the lost pieces were all along.

Oh Father, You speak to me on Great Mysteries and daily revelations. I am so thankful for You. You are my Treasure, a Diamond of the greatest value. Your knowledge is priceless. One day very soon, You will reveal Yourself to Your people and we will be forever grateful. Perhaps You will then say something similar to the following...

"Yes, that day I sent this... it was Me. The day I concealed the puzzle pieces in a place for many years... that was Me. These were found by you at the perfect time. The day when the Great Day once concealed is finally revealed... that is Me!"

What a glorious day of confirmation this will be, Lord. Whether we are here to sound the trumpets or are here to pray or are here for an even greater purpose, we simply do not yet know all of these things. We are only small puzzle pieces of Your Greater Picture and it is all fitting into place. Thank You, Father.

I am now also asking You to help me understand this new way of learning from You. Each day is becoming more intense in revelation. This is something new to me, so please help me. I am still unsure how to fully use my new found 'God-Technology'. It is truly state of the art and the batteries never runs out.

Sub-dream 2 "The Tender Shoot and the Aphids" begins...

I am excited, yet in shock, of what You are now revealing. I pray that I write all things down for Your Glory. In one instance last week, You showed me a small shoot coming out of a tree branch. It was inspiring based on the condition of the tree itself. You then prompted me to examine this more carefully. Once I did, I saw that this promising tender shoot was being overrun by aphids. The aphids were the exact same color as the leaf. I then asked You, "Father, is there no good left in the world?"

Sub-dream 2 over...

When recently watching the news, my husband and I became excited about a whistleblower coming forward against Facebook. I then felt a confirmation in my Spirit upon closer inspection that this person was actually a set up. Their purpose was to set up an even eviler agenda, solidifying laws that would remove the freedom of speech for anyone subjectively deemed to be part of a 'hate group'.

Me: "Oh Lord, this is yet another illusion set up by the New World Order. How can we ever be free from their terrible deception and lies?"

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "Erin, first of all, My Voice is in you. Just ask Me. I will speak to you and send confirmation. You must learn to trust My Voice in you. This way, any of you who hears someone say 'no, the Christ is here, come out and greet Him' or 'no, this is the way, walk in this', surely these will not then lead you into destruction. My Spirit is soon to be spread throughout the lands. My Voice will be as the One crying out in the wilderness.

"However, My cry will not just be there. I will also be the refreshing springs of healing in the desert and the fountains of Living Water in the 'Dead Sea'. All with eyes to see will soon know who has My Spirit, My Glory, upon them. I will also then send out dreams and visions in even greater numbers than I am now.

“As for the enemy, he hurries his riders on the swiftest of chariots, riders who put their trust in their chariots and horses. They trust in their chariots and horses because this is something they can understand and they believe in what they can see. The enemy then uses bribes and schemes to further build up his armies. He then operates them in the shadows. He conceals his evil in the darkness of the night. He then declares the following evil, all in secret...

- This is my land. I will take for myself this land and I will declare it to be Mine.
- I will make my army from Assyria. I will build up their arsenals, arsenals paid for from the wages of God’s people. By having God’s people pay for this, they will then feel guilty of the crimes later to be performed against the people of Israel by the use of these arsenals.
- I will then take a census of the people. The reason for this census will not be easily understood by the people as this will not be done like those of the old way. People will then not understand exactly what it is that they are registering for.
- I will create fear and division. I will cause rivalry and hate. I will then put the law abiding under new laws and remove justice. This will create great fear.
- I will create a vast army of many ranks. I will bring forth punishers to inflict harm. I will use fear as my greatest weapon of change, ‘change you can count on’.
- I will shut the Churches of God and proclaim them to be spreaders of disease. If this does not fully close the Churches, I will proclaim them as centers of hate. By being labeled this way, they will be unable to speak.
- Using the weapons of lies and accusations, I will then remove any and all opposition to my advance.
- While anyone for me will be a part of my ‘kingdom’, anyone against me will be destroyed and made as an example.
- I will control all police, all courts, all prosecutors, all judges, all juries, all jailers and all the tax collectors.
- I will take all that I am entitled to, which is whatever I say it is, and there will be not one who can stop me.

- I will control all food, all drugs, all hospitals, all water supplies and all dwellings. If you have real estate, you better be on my side advancing my 'kingdom' or I will remove you and take your assets.
- I will amplify 'cancel culture'. All you have built, earned or retired on will be mine. Anything left not edifying me will be destroyed.
- Once I have my way in all things, I will then triumphantly announce that... EQUITY IS FINALLY HERE!

Me: "Oh Lord, this is awful."

Jesus: "Erin, the land you were born in is no longer the same land. There is a ruler in charge and he is clever. You must examine his history closely in order to understand more about him. As he gained power, more and more information about him and his past was removed. However, he is unable to hide anything from Me.

"Even though he controls many governments and armies, it would be hard for most to understand that this is now a different type of war being fought by a new type of army. This is not as you would expect. Their main goal is to wipe both Israel and America off of the map. In the meantime, anyone who has ever mocked this man in the past has now been removed or will soon be removed. Well, that is, if I didn't have the final say."

Me: "Lord, can I be so bold as to ask you to stop this man. Please stop the black dragon right now!"

Jesus: "I will. Erin, you are not to worry. I am showing you this to confirm your suspicions of this man's current activities in the background."

Me: "Lord, even though You are the God over all things, it still seems to us that the enemy is sometimes in control, especially at certain times."

Jesus: "Well, Erin, they are not. As for this man, I know where his residence is now and I also know where his residence will be for all of eternity. Erin, he has now activated the sons of anarchy to do his will. He is in the process of imposing punishing rules and mandates to see how far and how quickly he is able to gain power over the compliant people. Quite simply, he cannot control his overwhelming desire to reign over all right now. He is impatient and will continue to be impatient.

"As for those who came on the airplanes from Afghanistan, these are men with evil intent. Others are also coming from the south. He then distracts from this by using the news to spark a fire somewhere else. He then quickly moves his army closer. While all are distracted by this spark, they then fail to notice the fast-moving fire coming from the west, the east and the south.

"Erin, all of this is 'sleight of hand'. Have people focus on a shooting over there and then use this to then remove all guns over here. Keep mandating mask use so that women will feel covering themselves to be natural. This will then later fit into the black dragon's culture. Criminals now use these same masks to conceal their faces, emboldening them to commit brazen crimes. In reality, this is all for the advancement of hate and division and for the rise of a 'new way'."

Me: "While I don't like masks, burkas would be even more restricting. This would be horrible. Please don't allow this while we are still here on Earth."

Jesus: "Do not worry as this is not My way. However, it is the way intended by the enemy. You need only to look at his plans by his own words. The majority who gave him rise are the very skin color he hates. The children of God who pointed out that he did not change his name even though he declares himself Christian are the very same group he hates even more.

"His plans are to remove anyone who speaks out against him. He will also attack Israel by removing the historical truth that it is God's land given to them. He will hide that they are the rightful citizens of the land. He will then attack them at every opportunity. These attacks will continue to escalate."

Me: "So, Lord, what is next?"

Jesus: "My Glory is to now be revealed in all of you. My Spirit will now come in great waves of revival, a revival like the world has never known. With Noah came the flood of water. When My flood comes again, it will not be by water, but by My Spirit... and then one day by My fire."

Me: "Thank You, Lord. This gives me so much hope!"

Jesus: "Erin, the flood of My Spirit comes next. Now rejoice, Erin. My Spirit is rising and My Glory will fall like rain. There will not be a dry eye among you. Rejoice, Erin, for I am with you and in you. My Spirit Is upon you. You, your family and your friends are in My care and will be forever."

Right after He said this, I looked outside of my window. There was a cardinal in our yard. This cardinal appeared for the first time in many months. Seeing this cardinal right after this amazing dream made me so very happy!

525 – Enemy to be Exposed and Removed in a Single Day

Finished on Tuesday, October 12, 2021

Received on Sunday, October 10, 2021

Communion,

Dear Father,

I have been anxious and unsettled about what has occurred, is occurring and what is to occur. I pour myself into routines so that I have a certain order to my day. Why? Because everything is about to change and I am scared. I am also excited at the same time. However, I am also afraid of being disobedient to Your call. I sometimes forget that You are now with me and I fail to ask You for direction on things that seemed small and insignificant. I now realize that even these are very important to You.

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "Erin, I love you. My laws are in place to add to your days, not restrict them. In the past, you operated apart from Me at times. However, you then quickly recognized your error and repented. You were then fully forgiven. Still, I allow all of this for a reason. Do you know why?"

Me: "To learn to hear You better?"

Jesus: "Yes. However, it is now more about you asking Me. When I then answer, act on the answer. This is new for you. With the Messenger, the Holy Spirit, you do by unction and promptings, as well as confirmations. These are deep heart 'knowings'. These are direct communications of a Heavenly Nature. These are Spiritual Murmurings. It is similar to a thread from Heaven.

"The thread is the way you are knit into My Spirit. The indwelling of the Holy Spirit is also like a seed planted in your heart. There it blossoms. However, if you reject or ignore the Holy Spirit, it fails to bloom as brightly. You are familiar with the Holy Spirit where you went by prayers and the Spirit of God's promptings. This is good. This was also to prepare you for an even greater move of My Spirit, Me in you.

"The free flowing of Living Water will now be poured into your Vessel. Your Vessel will be Me welling up in you. When your Vessel is full, you will pour out over others. The 'Me in you' means I am with you in your comings and goings, both the good and the bad. The bad can be overcome when you come to Me immediately. You then need to allow Me to work.

"I will then go before you. There will be much less of you and much more of Me. Once I heal you, and as long as you continue to fully trust in Me, you will make no more foolish decisions. You will be incapable to do this unless acting apart from Me. While I am the quiet voice now, this will no longer be the case after you are healed. I will speak clearly to all of you. You would have to ignore Me and still act rashly to make such mistakes."

Me: "I am so thankful for this, Lord. I can hardly wait! Everyone on the Nest is so excited over what You will be doing next. In reality, how can we not be?"

Jesus: "Well, Erin, this is good, right? However, you are also to remember that the enemy is working overtime to hurt you. He does this mostly by doubt and discouragement. He knows that, if he can distract you, you will then be vulnerable. Don't purchase what the enemy is selling. Purchase what I have to offer instead as this is good and it brings life.

"Now, the enemy will have trouble as I will conceal you. He will complain and say such things as 'she doesn't always keep the Sabbath properly', 'she is from a sketchy pedigree' and 'she is unworthy'. He will go on and on like this. However, he should know by now that I do not go by what the world expects. I go by what I know. For now, I will keep you in hiding.

"Now, if the enemy had his way, he would have you all wearing neon orange so you would be visible in all terrains. He would then have Me outline all of the capabilities of My fighting army. He would have Me divulge each person's wages, as well as their addresses, financial states and relatives. Just imagine if I did this instead of keeping you in hiding. You would already be constant targets.

"Do not worry about the enemy as I have you. Look to Me for all things. The time has now come. Erin, this is the time I have prepared you for all of your life. I know you are scared. I am in you and I feel it. You are under the protection of My Wings. No weapons formed against you shall prosper. I will place a veil over all you have. Now, do you fully understand why I have kept you all hidden?"

Me: "I think I am finally fully getting this. If You didn't do this, our position would be easy to spot and shoot in battle. However, it would also be especially dangerous for us if done before the battle officially begins. They would eliminate our income and bank accounts. They would attack us where we lived. We would be sitting ducks.”

Jesus: “So, Erin, who is the enemy expecting right now?”

Me: “I don’t believe that the enemy would expect me, my husband, my children or our Nest friends. We are not famous. We are ordinary people completely in love with You. They would instead look for people in the spotlight. This would probably include pastors, preachers, vocal prophets, kings, queens, influencers, rabbis, sages and anyone Christian with a large following.”

Jesus: “So, what is better.. to strike with a visible army or an invisible army?”

Me: “First with an invisible army and then with a visible army. However, You would first prepare ‘the least of these’, not the expected. This is what You are doing right now! This reminds me of Herod and the Jewish people expecting the King of the Jews to come as a King with power, wealth and dominion to save them. They were certainly not expecting a poor Jewish baby born in a stable with animals.”

Jesus: “This is a good reminder. Now, My Voice is now in you. You are to embrace Me and put into practice the principle of letting Me lead you. Life will become clearer on your journey here.”

Me: “My journey is not my own, Lord, it is Yours.”

Jesus: “Then dedicate each day to Me in all you do. Now rejoice. I am the God of promises and I will do all that I have promised.”

Communion,

Dear Father,

Thank You for a beautiful day! This long colorful fall has been the best I can remember. Thank You for this. I had a couple of dreams last night...

Sub-dream 1 "A Dangerous Road to a House on a Summit" begins...

We were shopping for a new home in a distant city. We found a property on the summit of a very steep hill. The road was so steep when driving up it that, at times, we could not see the road in front of us, only sky. When we finally arrived at the top, there was a gate. As we looked over the gate, we could see a beautiful horse running around freely. As the gate was closed, we had to remain outside of the yard.

However, since it was such a beautiful property, we decided to make some calls to make an offer. Before purchasing this property, I became concerned about the road in and how dangerous this could be, especially in the winter. I then realized there most likely had to be another safer way in. We decided to search for that new way.

Sub-dream 1 over...

Sub-dream 2 "False revivals in dying churches" begins...

My husband and I were traveling to places we had heard there were revivals. While several different churches claimed revival, each church we arrived at were a disappointment. One had no people, just a collection plate with a sign behind it saying 'Pay for a Miracle'. These were false revivals in dying churches.

We were very sad as we witnessed many people flocking to these churches in anticipation of God's great miracles. This is not what they were finding though. At a different church and for a donation, they were giving out the world leader's book, 'The Audacity of Hope'.

Sub-dream 2 over...

Father, please send revival upon the land. Please let this be soon. Also, I see a doctor tomorrow. It appears that the cancer is back on my leg. It has been eight years. Father, please heal me, in Jesus' Mighty Name! The location has no fatty tissue. This means they will be removing muscle and bone for a biopsy. Revival and Your outpouring would be such an encouraging event. Please send the healing rains!

Update on my leg: I met with my family doctor the next day. Upon examining the area, he was concerned at what he saw. However, he did not feel comfortable removing anything as it was in a sensitive area. He now wants me to see a specialist instead. He indicated that it would probably be a few weeks before they could get me in. I knew this was all to be on God's timing... as are all things!

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "Beautiful are the feet that bring Good News. Since the world has grown very cold, the time has come for the sending of the Spirit of God. There is a world wide web of lies and deception that has spun itself throughout the globe. The army of heavenly hosts are at war with the army of the prince of perdition. However, please rest in the fact that there are many more of those who stand for God in My Army than those who are with them. As a result of these battles, you are now seeing an increase in earthquakes, storms, fires and other phenomena.”

Me: “Hmm, I have definitely noticed a spike in earthquakes, especially stronger ones.”

Jesus: “This is because events are heating up. The evil has increased seven-fold more because the enemy now fully understands the times and seasons he is in. His goal is to remove Israel, as well as all Christians. The enemy works tirelessly doing evil in the hopes that they will destroy all hope.”

Me: “Lord, I never thought this would happen in our lifetime.”

Jesus: “While I know that this is difficult to witness, I am now in you. I called you. I prepared your Vessel. As it stands today, you would not be able to endure the storms you will soon see and hear. Because of this, I will strengthen you with the ability to endure. This strengthening will not just be physically, but also mentally. However, your Spirit will be just fine.”

Me: “Thank You, Lord. I struggle even with the news. It is so painful.”

Jesus: “Do not worry. You will be fully equipped. I have you. I am in you. I delight in you. I will soon send refreshing waves of healing.”

Communion,

Dear Father,

Thank You for another beautiful day here! Thank You for Your love and protection. Thank You for my family and friends. Father, I must admit to You that I get anxious about what is happening in the world. I find myself now praying for those You call me to. I remember a time from my childhood when I didn't know You. Still, You were there with me and helped me escape a terrible fate. Here is the story...

Story from my childhood begins...

When I was a child, I was hyper-aware of my surroundings. My mom taught me this. I learned to trust my instincts. These 'gut feelings' then served to save my life when I was age 14. This was in my hometown of Wisconsin. Of course, You were the real Savior here, but I didn't know You yet. You were not spoken of in my household.

I was walking back from a swimming hole back to my home. My stepsister had run ahead of me as I had taken longer to collect my items. I proceeded to take my time strolling home. As I walked, I noticed that a truck had driven across a tiny bridge over Bear Creek and parked behind some trees. I didn't notice anything else as I was focused on getting home.

I was cutting across a small vacant lot when this old pickup truck approached me. When he got close enough, he asked me for directions. I was about to go to him to give him some directions when I heard Your Loud Voice inside of me...

God's Voice (although I didn't know it at the time): "Run!"

I did just that. I turned away from the stranger and ran as fast as I could. I was quick back then and knew that he could not come down this trail with his truck. I could soon hear the truck peeling out in the background as I continued to run. I was relieved when I knew he would not be able to figure out where I lived.

This day was a marker in my life. This man would go on to sexually assault a different child just a little while later. This would have been me instead. This man was pure evil. Chills went through my entire body as I relayed what had happened to my mom. Although it has been 44 years since the incident, it still seems like yesterday. Father, thank You for rescuing me from a horrible event!

Story ends...

My dreams are difficult right now as You are showing me what the evil world leader is planning for an unsuspecting society. While You reassure me that the rise of Your Army will delay this until we are taken off the Earth, this is still hard to see. You gave me a few dreams recently that outline so many of his evil plots. This is all about the new order of things worldwide... the New World Order. This is frightening...

Sub-dream 3 "The enemy's great plans" begins...

You showed me what the enemy, the evil world leader, desires to do to us, all for maximum control...

- Bring down those who have worked hard, saved or retired well.
- Make it so their children do not have the same opportunities as they did.
- Crush the dreams of all those who believe in You so that they have no hope and even mock You while doing it.
- Shutter their means of hopeful gatherings, including all church events.
- Take away their children's inheritance.

- Portray their dreams of hope as being entitlements they no longer deserve.
- For those who work hard, discourage them by overtaxing them.
- Offer debt at high interest rates in order to enslave, calling it equity.
- Transfer wealth to the poor and immigrants in exchange for voting loyalty.
- Using the Chinese model, move the people into the cities and call it 'environmental justice'.
- Confine people to small parks with high crime to break any remaining hope.
- Cancel all travel under the guise of pollution management.
- Allow only the wealthy that are loyal to the party to live in the country.
- Have farms be run by the government using slaves of all skin colors.
- Pay these slaves a 'barely living wage' and bind them using threats.
- Close all places of recreation and hope.
- Remove all personal vehicles in favor of public transport.
- Any travel plans allowed would need to be approved by the government and supervised using a tracker.
- When people turned sick or grew too old, they would just disappear.
- When people fought or disagreed, they would also just disappear.
- Remove and/or heavily control all communications.
- Tightly control power, food and medicine.
- Control all consumption using centralized markets and storehouses.
- There were other things, all horrible, that have been the subject of other dreams.

Sub-dream 3 over...

Oh Father, thank You for protecting us from their terrible plans. At the rate they are now going, the above, once seemingly impossible, is probably only a year or so away at the most. This would mean the end of the USA as we know it. Please strengthen us to step in. It is difficult to wake up and see that we are running out of time. Please intervene as we would like our last few years (Post-Transformation / Pre-Rapture) to have things to enjoy and fun places to travel. There is no good aside from You. We need You more now than ever.

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: Referring to my story at the age of 14 as outlined above. "If I saved you from great evil when you were but a youth with no knowledge of Me, then how much more will I do now that I have poured My Spirit into you so I can work through you? I can tell you this... that man would have been frozen in fear as his truck would fail to move, his tires would be flattened and his tongue would be rendered useless. He would then be no more. Erin, take comfort in this."

Me: "Thank You for saving me all of those years ago. I didn't believe in You yet. Now, I simply can't get enough of You. Everyone on the Nest feels the same as I do."

Jesus: "Do not worry, Erin, as I know the plans of the enemy. I share this with those who will listen. Most have no idea what this enemy is doing. For those who ask questions, they then go home with even more questions. As the plans of the enemy become more visible, so too does their power to silence those who protest. Those who question things are silenced. The enemy does this under a 'proclamation of truth'.

"By design, truth is no longer popular. The enemy has made it that lies are now more palatable than the truth. However, I will soon prevail over this ramped up evil. While I have already won, it is hard for you to see this. This means that you too are already victorious. Remember that this has occurred before. There is nothing new concerning evil. As there is a familiar pattern, this should not come as a surprise.

"Now, I am about to do something in your days you would not believe even if you were told. Be of great joy, Erin, as I am with you. Where I am, hope is also there. Where I work, faith also labors there. Where I show grace, mercy and compassion, My love is also there. Erin, there will not be a dry eye when My gifts of miracles and healings come.

"However, there will also be great anger from the enemy. There will also be great fear from those who run to hide from truth. Do not worry, Erin, as I have you. I am with you. There is still time for God even in the midst of their evil plots. They will be exposed and removed in a single day. Do not fear as I am in control. I have you. Rejoice and be at peace."

Dream 526 – The Wicked Will Now Be Forced to Confess

Received on Thursday, October 14, 2021

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day! Thank You for all we have. We are forever grateful for Your provision. Thank You for continuing to keep us under the shadow of Your wings. My drive this morning to take our kids into town was so beautiful. I love this time of year. It is overcast today. While this would normally be sad, the beautiful colors in the trees are just enhanced in this setting of gray clouds.

The beauty of Your Creation is spectacular. I never grow tired of it. My photo files have 28,000 pictures of landscapes, animals, birds and Your sky. Oh, I forgot to mention Your flowers! I just love flowers. When I am in pain, I will look at these pictures. These pictures will then serve as yet another reminder that You are here with me. You are my God of miracles, signs and wonders.

As I write with my window open behind me, I can hear the sounds of leaves falling off the big tree just feet away from the back of my chair. This wonderful warm fall with spectacular colors will soon be gone. After You send the winds to remove these leaves from the tree branches, the trees can then begin their winter 'slumber party'. This year, there are seeds everywhere and less critters than normal to eat them.

There is something here that also saddens me at times. I see evidence of animals and birds feeding that which lurks in the unseen. With prey comes predators and I sometimes see evidence of a struggle. More often than not, the predators wait until the prey runs back to their nest or den before they strike. I sometimes even chase off a sparrowhawk or a kestrel. The speed with which they swoop in is amazing.

Well, all of this has now made me a fan of the crows. I can't believe how much I used to dislike them. Not anymore though. When there is danger, the crows will let out a certain shrill caw that warns all of the wildlife that danger is in the air. When they spot a hawk or an eagle, the crows will often act in unison to chase it away. The crows then sometimes dive bombs them to get them 'off their game'. It is just amazing to watch.

Thank You, Father, for the continuous ways You make parables concerning the animals and birds, both prey and predators. While I watch, You speak to me. It is usually gentle instructions, but, at other times, it is direct and unmistakable. Thank You for Your Voice in me. You are truly my Greatest Treasure. You are my Priceless Pearl hidden in my heart. I had an incredibly epic dream last night, one of my favorites...

Sub-dream 1 "The Wicked will now be forced to Confess" begins...

I was witnessing a group of sports fishermen visiting a campground next to a pond. Next to this pond was a small fishing store / shack. The fishermen were purchasing some very expensive equipment from the owner of this store. It appeared that these fishermen were wealthy. After purchasing their equipment, they addressed the owner..

Fisherman: "Where can we purchase some bait?"

Owner: Pointing to a type of electric cooler with wood framing. "We have free bait for you to use over there."

I then recognized these coolers as being old convenience store ice cream coolers. The fishermen were excited and took the bait they needed to fish. Several of them then launched out in a boat, while others instead cast out lines from the shore. After a while, I noticed that there were no fish biting. I turned to the shop owner..

Me: "Hmm, there are no fish at all in this lake. Am I correct?"

Owner: "Shh. Keep it down. What is the harm? They are having fun, right?"

Me: "This is evil. No water feeds into this pond. This is just a mosquito hole."

As we spoke, a group of little children came to fish. After buying a couple of items, I saw that the owner did not discriminate in doing evil.

Owner: Smiling as he addressed the kids. "Make sure to catch the 'big one'!" He then turned back to me. "See, they are excited. Look at how happy they are."

Me: "They would be happier to know there are fish to catch."

Owner: "This would be pretty well impossible. Listen, I have worked hard bringing all of these people here. Let them enjoy the hope of a fish on their line."

Me: "You are not a dream maker, you are a dream crusher. Now, watch as God fills this pond with fish."

Owner: "This would be impossible as there is no water source to feed fish into it."

Me: "Nothing is impossible with God. Now watch the miracles of God!"

Just then, the trees across the shore started parting. A river then started to flow through the gap in the trees into the pond. Large fish immediately started jumping. There were large and healthy fish. There was joy, laughter and a great celebration. Some of the fish that were then caught broke various records. I couldn't stop smiling at God's power to make the impossible possible. I looked over at the owner and his mouth was now wide open in complete shock. He dropped to his knees and began to weep.

Me: "Even though God has reversed this, you must still make right your evil against these people. You are then to turn from your wickedness and humbly submit to God all that you have. When you do this... even now... even today... God will accept your apology for your evil acts and will turn and forgive you. All you have will then be increased back to you a hundred-fold more. However, you are not to wait as the days are numbered, understand?"

Owner: Standing back on his feet, but now with a huge smile. "But... but... there have never been fish here... not one. This morning, there were none. However, suddenly, this afternoon, there are too many fish to count... and so many big fish. The fact that God would be willing to grant me mercy after I am so evil..." He became choked up.

Me: "If He can bring fish to a mosquito pond, then He can grant mercy."

Owner: "How do I correct my wrongs? I had always prayed for fish. I had hoped..."

Me: Stopping him. "Don't tell this to me, tell this to God."

I then taught him about 'R2B2'... Repent, Renounce, Break and Bless. As God gave me the perfect words, I was able to teach this to him in record time. The owner also seemed to be grasping this with supernatural speed.

Me: "If you do this with sincerity and with your heart desiring what is good, He will accept this. However, God will not endorse evil... especially now."

The owner immediately dropped to his knees again and started to confess his sins. He vowed to God that he would turn from his wicked ways and follow Him. He then stood up, ran inside his shop and started speaking on the loud speaker to the crowd of fishermen.

Owner: "Come back to the store. All of the equipment is now free. I will also refund any purchases you made from earlier today."

The owner then refunded all of the money he made in deceiving the hopeful fishermen. They now were also able to keep the equipment 'for free'. They were now all very joyful, including the owner. Music was then played on the loud speaker and more and more people came. From that day forward, the owner was blessed.

From there, God sent me to a television studio. There was a newsroom. While I had no identification to indicate I belonged there, they still moved me through security. I knew this had to be supernatural. I then watched a cameraman talk to a female newscaster. As they somehow did not notice me, they talked freely to each other. The woman looked like she was comforting the man. They were about to go on-air.

Woman: "Look, you know this isn't what really happened. However, it is a paying job and you do as they tell you... period."

Man: "While I already know this, this is just too stupid. The truth is literally on social media right now. We are going to air this before they have a chance to take it down. Once this happens, everyone will know that we are full of 'it'."

Woman: "They will still believe us, so we sell it. Sell it! That is what we do. We sell the story even if some are not buying it. We do this everyday until they finally purchase what we sell. They will have no choice. Not only that, but we need the work."

The 'on-air countdown' then began...

- 10... God had me take three steps forward.
- 9... God then had me raise my hands as if I was a conductor of an orchestra.
- 8... The news anchors became angry. While security rushed towards me, they were unable to come near me.
- 7... God welled up inside me.
- 6...
- 5...
- 4... I made a zip motion with my hands and no one was able to speak.
- 3...
- 2...
- 1..... The on-air sign flashed on.

As soon as the on-air sign flashed on, I saw something like horse bits drop from the air. I then saw their tongues protrude from their lips. These bits then wrapped around their tongues. While I could see this and they could feel this, all in the supernatural, no one else but me could see the bits in the natural. God was now going to control their story. Their tongues were no longer their own.

The entire crew, including the newscasters, had panicked looks in their eyes. They were now doing exactly as God was directing through me. I was His conductor. The newscasters took turns confessing on air for the evening news. The confessions were deep and the great depth and breadth of the streams of lies were revealed. While the production crew then frantically tried to cut the on-air feed, they were supernaturally prevented from doing so.

Tears from the extreme stress they were under were now streaming down their cheeks. Their eyes also showed sheer terror as secrets were being revealed for all to hear. The camera crew were forced to continue to air this on national television. The owner himself then came to get the anchors away from their positions. However, once in front of the cameras, he froze and also began to confess openly on all of their secrets and lies. He even tried to strangle himself to stop it.

All of the top news stations were now being forced at the same time to air these confessions. Politicians, business moguls, movie stars and others were then forced to confess. Emboldened by what they had seen, witnesses to their evil then started to come forward. Thousands of people came out of their shelters... their homes and apartments... and swarmed these evil liars.

After a period of three days of this, God finally relented. He then forced the evil to flee from the people. While it was comforting to hear the truth finally come out over the lies, it was still a difficult struggle to watch. Well, wait a second here, who am I kidding... this was great and such a long time coming! Thank You, Lord!

Sub-dream 1 over...

Note: When my husband and I were later discussing this Sub-dream, he wondered how the water flowing into the pond would disperse without flooding the area. While I was just about to tell him that this was inconsequential to the main points made in this Sub-dream, the Lord put the words 'Medicine Lake' on my husband's heart. We looked it up and here is what we found...

"This large lake in Jasper National Park, Alberta Canada, is known for its beautiful water that disappears as the summer goes on. This wonderful phenomenon is caused by the largest inaccessible underground system in the world. This 'incredible disappearing act' caused this lake to be called 'Medicine Lake'."

Conclusion: The pond in this Sub-dream now had an underground system taking the inflow away, thereby keeping the pond the perfect depth.

Me: "Father, in my dreams, I have been at various places without having to travel. I have also appeared in places that I am 'out of place'. Could You please help me to understand? Could You also please reveal to us when all of this is to start?"

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "Erin, you are My Vessels. I am the Potter. You are no longer the clay that I must shape. You have been on the Potter's Wheel. You have been formed. You have been glazed, covered in My unique design for you. At first, the colors seemed dull and the glaze was of no prominence. You were of little use as you sat on the shelf. You then went into the furnace or kiln at very high heat. To make it so you would not crack under extreme circumstances, I held you in My arms there.

"You were there awhile. At times, you struggled to let Me carry you. However, the flame of increase would then bring you back to Me until your Vessel was ready. The furnace was then finished and the flames were cooled. There before Me was and is a beautiful Vessel in you. All the extreme conditions and factors were of no trouble as you were ready. There you found Me at the River of Life filling by My own hands the very Vessels I will use to pour out My glory. What a joyful day!

"Now, your times of worry, doubt and fear will now fall upon your enemy as you will be confident in Me fully for that which is good, that which sustains and that which endures. There has never been a time such as this under Heaven, yet this time was foretold. How can this be? This is because I have planned this from the beginning.

"In the beginning, there was life and life abundantly. It was beautiful in My Garden. All things lived and were Holy except for two things...

- The fruit of the forbidden tree; and
- The snake that dwelleth there.

"In the beginning, this Garden held great beauty and promise. However, this all changed on the dark day when sin entered Eve and Adam and the Garden began to die. Man's days then shortened and evil increased. You have seen evil increasing again as the land is once again being defiled with great speed. The voices of the saints now cry out at the Altar of God.

This happens in His Courts both day and night. The saints are asking the same question as you so often ask.”

Me: “I know this question too well. When will this all begin? Speaking on behalf of not just me and my family, but also the entire Nest, please make this all start right now, as in immediately. Please, Lord!”

Jesus: “Yes, Erin, that is the very same question they ask. The saints cry out day and night asking ‘when will there be the Vengeance of the Lord for those who have been slain?’ Erin, all of Heaven has been crying out for the lost.”

Me: “Oh Lord, please answer their cries. Please bind up our brokenness. Please turn and heal us. Please strike down the wicked as they clearly have no fear of the Lord. Please don’t let my Vessel sit. Please don’t let the thousands upon thousands of Vessels sit. Please fill us with Living Water so that we may be useful to You. Please open up Heaven so all can see the place You have prepared for those who love You.”

Jesus: “When Heaven becomes visible on Earth, the enemy will be terrified. In order to cover his evil tracks, he will then proclaim that God could have done these great things a long time ago and that He has been withholding good things from those who suffer. In anger, many will believe this.”

Me: “Then these would not be Yours, Lord. I would rather look to see Heaven than believe the accuser. Hey, I know how to make all of this okay. How about just call on Your thousands of Vessels to stop these lies ‘right now’. Once this begins, and though some will try, not one can argue against truth, Lord. Please fill us up with Good Things, Lord. We love You. All of us on the Nest are praying in unison that You make Your Great Move with us now... as in right now.”

Jesus: “Oh Erin, I love you and your friends. Now, rejoice. Rejoice as I am in you. I am carrying your Vessel. I am carrying all of your Vessels.”

Communion

Dear Father,

I went to take Communion this morning and Your Voice was clear.. "I am in you and we are in Communion fully at all watches of the day and night. We break bread together. We partake in refreshing water. I comfort you in your worries, of which there are many. We are now as one."

Oh Lord, my breathing in is also You exhaling. Lord, please keep my breathing clear. As a scribe, please take my pen and write clearly for all who You send to read. Lord, You are a Divine Mystery and the Joy of my soul. You speak mysteries to me in the hidden room. You confirm them in my being as I cry out for the Living God. There You answer. You are here.

Forgive me when I say 'Lord, is this You?' as I truly know it is. Here is my prayer today after receiving some very clear dreams and signs from You...

"Our Father, Who is in Heaven, and my Lord Who dwells in me, please let Your Kingdom come, let Your Will be done, on Earth and in me, as it is in Heaven and according to the sons of Jacob. We do this for my Father God and my Lord and Savior, the Great I Am, Elohim and my Hayah forever more. Let the Earth know and understand this late hour. Let them see the events unfolding as a script from the tablets of evil. Protect us from he who is still evil and will one day be subject to Your eternal judgment.

"Please, Father God, see these edicts of evil and mandates of the wicked for what they are, edicts against Your people. Because we are harbingers to Your truth, they plan to send us as lambs to slaughter. As it is written from the Prophet Isaiah that we are healed by His stripes, Your Son, Jesus, was beaten. Since our bodies are still weak, diseased and dying, breathe into us and raise us from the dead. Do this, not by opening graves, but by Your Great Healing Resurrection Power. Do this as Your Spirit is already within us.

"Lord, well up and raise Your people. Let the seven angels pronounce Your Great Glory in Your people. Sweep across the lands and the many nations and even on the waters. Speak in many languages to the people of the nations. In every language, let each person know and understand that

You are our Divine Healer. You are full of Mercy and Great Love for Your people. Even more, let Your Glory fall upon both the saved and the unsaved, those considered clean and those unclean. Make all things brand new. My God, my Father in Heaven, open up our eyes so that all You have done for us is visible for all to see.

"Let the skies open like a scroll, displaying the beauty of the place You have prepared. Show the people that You are greater than these wicked rulers. Please show Yourself to the many that have lost hope. Please forgive us for our trespasses against You as we forgive those who trespass against us. Please breathe new life into us and let us not fall into the enemy's temptations. Instead, deliver us from each wicked plot and scheme. Lord, You love justice and hate inequity. You are fair and just in all things.

"Please save us from the wicked. Please save us from the skewed weights and measures used against Your people. Please protect the weak, the helpless with no means and those with no ability to argue. You are my Father God in Heaven, my Hayah, the Great I Am, my Lord and Savior and my Best Friend. You have taught this unloved daughter what the love of a real father is. I did not know True Love until You showed me. Your Love is Eternal and never fades. Your love never ends.

"As for prophecies, they will pass away. As for tongues, they will cease. As for knowledge, this will pass away. While we prophecy only in part, the partial will fall away when all comes to pass. Lord, it is better to come to You with the heart of a child. Children are full of innocent faith, hope and love. A heart of a child is filled with love, joy, hope, laughter, wonder and great promise.

"Father, please forgive me for not always coming to You as a child. When I do this, I become an adult full of skepticism and worry. Father, fill me with good things. Fill me with Living Water. Fill me so full that my Vessel runs over. Spill Your Glory out wherever Your Will carries me. Since I am now Your Vessel that You fill, I am no longer the woman at the well. I am Your cup and Your portion runs forever. I pray for all of this in Jesus' Mighty Name, Amen!"

My dream last night was haunting and mysterious...

Sub-dream 1 "The USA is measured and called Yetzer Hara" begins...

Note: In Judaism, Yetzer Hara is the congenital inclination to do evil by violating the Will of God. The term is drawn from the phrase 'the imagination of the heart of man is evil'. This term occurs twice at the beginning of the Torah.

It seemed as if the darkness was now everywhere I looked. I then saw two angels. They were measuring the City of Philadelphia. They surveyed the city and determined that justice and mercy were now gone. The angel called out to the other angel with a shout...

Angel: "This city is now called Yetzer Hara. It is in violation of the Will of God. This city is no longer 'of brotherly love', but instead 'of evil'."

The other angel then took out a sword and cut off the bottom of the bell so that it could no longer sound. The two angels then dispersed to Boston and repeated their measuring. The angel again called out to the other angel with a shout...

Angel: "This city is also now called Yetzer Hara."

The other angel then struck the old north church with a flame. The angel once again called out to the other angel with a shout...

Angel: "One if by land, two if by sea and three if by Heaven."

The flame of this church then lit three lanterns. The bell in the tower then supernaturally started ringing even though it was cut in two and would not stop ringing. With the three lanterns burning and the bell ringing, the angels then went south and also to the eastern states. These were also labeled 'Yetzer Hara'. The angels then went to New York. The angels then shouted out many things about New York...

Angel: "Broad and wide are her many evils. Where there was once liberty, now there is none. Where there was once justice, now there is none. Where there was once freedom, now there is none. Where there was once industry, now there is none. Where there was once a Covenant with God, now there is none."

"Now, who will come to help? Where are the nations who became wealthy from her trade? Her streets are now a haunt for jackals. Her waterways are now sewers, a place where rats now swim in peace. Where is the cure for her whoredom?"

I then saw the other angel sound the Opening Bell.

Angel: "Who will work a day's wage for this loaf of bread?"

As soon as the angel finished saying this, the sound of howling winds started whistling through the streets. They cut down the Freedom Tower. After this, they cut down the Statue of Liberty at Ellis Island. I then watched as the angel tore a contract into two pieces. I was unable to see what this document said.

Angel: "The Covenant has been broken."

The angels then went to Atlanta, Chicago, New Orleans, Denver, Houston, Salt Lake City, Minneapolis, Portland OR, Seattle, San Francisco, Los Angeles and Las Vegas. They repeated their measuring and their surveying of the land. They then labelled each of these cities Yetzer Hara as all were operating against God's Will.

The angels then moved to Washington DC. Once there, these two angels were met with two more angels. The four angels then moved to all four corners of the area as in compass points. While the four angels then made declarations, I was unable to make out anything they said. I felt this was on purpose as God did not want me to write it down. Once finished their declarations, each of the four angels held up their swords.

Sub-dream 1 over...

This dream was frightening to me. I was then led to an article in Forbes Magazine from February 5, 2013 as written by Jim Powell titled 'How Dictators come to power in a Democracy'. This is happening right now in the USA, Canada, Australia and many other nations today. The case study in the article is the rise of Nazism in Germany. The following is a general overview of this article, intermixed with my opinions on how things are today..

The way Germany was just before Nazism actually mirrors the USA as it is today (as in 2021, not 2013 when this article was written). Germany had one of the best educational systems in the world. Great research and scientific universities led to great innovations. Germany was different and more caring of its people compared to nearby Russia. In comparison, Russia was dedicated to hate and the teachings of Karl Marx.

So then, how did the German people fall for Hitler? The start of it all came from bad policies that led to economic, military and political crisis. World War 1 was to the German people like Afghanistan is to America today. Both lost. Germany was discredited by allies and now too has America. Hitler was great at speeches and so too are our politicians, but especially the former President, the emerging world leader.

Under great humiliation, the allies forced Germany to pay reparations. They did so without any consideration as to how Germany would actually be able to afford it. This became disabling as there were also trade and manufacturing restrictions. This led to Germany defaulting on their notes. The USA is heading there now as we are printing far more money than we have.

Compounding this problem, our leaders have now threatened its people with reparations for slavery that our ancestors had legalized. This doesn't consider all of those who fought and died in the Civil War specifically to stand against slavery. These large reparations, if enacted, would mirror the reparations forced on Germany by the allies.

Germany had become a welfare state. We can almost substitute Germany for the USA when listing the programs for its population. 90% of German government spending went to bureaucracy, social programs, money losing nationalized business and other subsidies. The German government subsidized municipalities just like the individual states of the USA have been begging for bailouts.

Germany also had a troubled government run pension system similar to our Social Security. The German government provided healthcare for millions of people, just like 'Obamacare'. This was affordable to some, but unsustainable for most. In response, the German Central Bank began printing money to pay for all of it. At the peak of the inflation in late 1923, only 1.3% of German government spending was covered by tax revenue. The results were terrifying. In less than five years, prices soared 100-billion-fold. Yes, that is 100,000,000,000 times more!

I believe our former President, the emerging world leader, has studied this and has learned from Germany's mistakes. This could be the reason that the government wants the banks to report on all accounts over $600, which is really the whole country. They are calling for the IRS to go after the people to tax them even more.

Germany then did something unusual. The government enacted rent controls that limited the ability of landlords to recover costs. This discouraged builders from building more rental units. This has been alluded to as an upcoming law by the governing party here in the USA. While the ruling class continued to receive pay that would cover their expenses, the rest of the people struggled to live. So many similarities.

Enter Hitler! Hitler rose up and spoke against this. It appears that the former President is also rising because the country is in turmoil. He already has control over the media, big business, universities and schools. Soon, any political opponent or oppositional voice will have their lives destroyed... or worse. This emerging world leader is doing this under a banner of anti-racism and anti-hate. It appears that this chaos is actually secretly manufactured and orderly, all to facilitate the rise of this emerging world leader.

Me: "Oh Lord, I could go on all day long. The New World Order is already here. Please, Father, do not allow the world-wide extermination of Your people."

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "Erin, I see the plans of the wicked."

Me: "Lord, what of my dream? I have a sick feeling in my stomach. Please don't allow what is very soon to come if You don't intervene. With churches not operating in full capacity and praises now restricted, people are forced to pray alone. When two or more are gathered, You then show up. The enemy knows this."

Jesus: "Erin, when one or more are gathered, I will then show up. Do you not think that I would not allow for this? One could be you and then one could be your daughter thousands of miles away. Though separated, two are still gathered in My Name. However, there are many, many more. Erin, this is Good News. Satan cannot trick Me as I am God. While he can try to quickly outmaneuver Me, all of his attempts will fail."

Me: "But, Lord, he has succeeded in the past. What about the Holocaust?"

Jesus: "While it seems so on the surface, always remember that, ultimately, I have all power over life and death. Now, this was allowed so that prophecy would be fulfilled and Israel would once again become a nation. However, you are correct in that the enemy has made known his position. Based on his patterns, you can know where his train is going."

Note: When Jesus talked about the enemy's train, I had a bone chilling image flash of a train going into the Nazi death camps. The use of trains was crucial in the Nazi's 'efficient' extermination program. The death camps were considered by Hitler and his henchman as a vital part of 'The Final Solution to the Jewish Question', a Nazi plan for the genocide of all Jews during World War II.

Jesus: "However, Erin, this is not My plan. I Am Who I say I Am. I am the Alpha and the Omega, the Beginning and the End. While the enemy is now revealing his position on the battlefield, very few are sounding the alarm. Fear is beginning to grip the nations as the people now understand that their governments have become comfortable with greater power.

"All controlling government regimes that are not there because of physical invasion begin with a unifying crisis, a common problem. When the crisis later begins to subside, the government then comes up with new ones to continue on their course. When people protest something the government wants protested, the government will allow this without ramifications.

“However, when people protest those things the government wants hidden, these people are persecuted. By noticing their reactions, their real agenda is revealed. This is based on their reaction towards various uprisings. In the case of the USA, a house divided cannot stand. This all began prior to the day the Towers fell. However, I will now give rise to the sons (and daughters) of Israel. Those I have called, I will equip.

“Now, I have revealed and established new lands for My people from out of the sea. Where I declare the land good, that it is good. I spread out My people and planted them in foreign lands. No matter where they were planted, I prospered them there. All who were scattered still longed for the greatness of Jerusalem. Because of this, foreigners besieged her and took My land given to My people. They built up a great temple to defile the place where My Holy Temple once stood. I am not a God who forgets. Those who divide My land will be divided themselves.

“Now, I have built up a great nation (USA) apart from My land (Israel). This was a place of refuge. This was to be a sanctuary for My people who worshipped Me with their whole hearts and stood on behalf of truth. This was established as a nation of many peoples and of different tongues. All of this was together under Heaven, under God, indivisible with liberty and justice for all. This has now changed because this great nation now practices evil in My sight. As a result, I have removed My favor.”

Me: “But, Lord, please bring back Your favor in the form of a Great Revival. So many of us are still in shock at the recent rise in evil. Who can dispute this?”

Jesus: “Erin, the winds of change are coming.”

Me: “Lord, I am scared. You are being so direct.”

Jesus: “I haven’t forgotten you. I heard your cries and sent you signs in 2000. However, I even did more than this. I set you apart during your trials, both you and your children. Erin, I sent Enoch and Elijah to you. They instructed you in the ways you should go so you would be ready for this very time 21 years later. You will be despised, but I will strengthen you.”

Me: “Oh Lord, You will definitely need to strengthen me.”

Jesus: “I will send you to places that no person could normally go. You will converse with angels and strongmen will be terrified. I am with you. You are never alone.”

Me: "Okay, Lord. I give You my life fully, whatever Your Will is. I can give you a thousand reasons why I can do nothing. However, if You are with me, then I can do all things through You."

Jesus: "I have chosen you. So too will I protect you and your children. I have sent you your husband. Though you see your physical appearance as unqualified, I do not. You will be changed and strengthened. You will no longer be of this world. However, you will remain here until I remove you (in the Rapture). Now, you are filled with questions... when, what, how and so on. Well, I am sending you a Great Gift in which many more will come. Even though you won't, try to relax. Be still, Erin, as I am with you. I love you."

Me: "I love You, Lord."

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day! Thank You for all we have. Thank You for my husband, our children and our Nest friends. The blessings of this fellowship are beyond what I ever imagined. I had three quite vivid dreams last night...

Sub-dream 1 "The Giant Chess Game" begins...

While I could not see the players in great detail, I was viewing a real-life chess game. The white pieces represented the Church and the black pieces represented the world. In this game, the chess pieces represented the following...

- The Pawn: As the pawn's movements are extremely limited, these pieces had the least amount of power.
- The Bishop: Has the power to move in an X-Pattern.
- The Knight: Has more freedom as it can jump pieces in an L-Pattern.
- The Rook: Has the power to move in a +-Pattern.
- The Queen: Has the power to move in either an X-Pattern or a +-Pattern. A powerful piece, the Queen is used to protect the King.
- The King: The King is the most important piece on the board. It cannot be captured or the game is over.

The Church side was united under the core belief of 'one God, one way'. There were stronger pieces and weaker pieces. The world side was after the Church side, but especially the Queen. The Church side was represented as follows...

- The White Queen: Represents the Bride of Christ.
- The White Rooks: Represents the Prophets of God.
- The White Knights: Represents the swift speed in which the Good News could be spread.
- The White Pawns and the White Bishops: These pieces were easy targets for the world side to 'pick off'.

The Church side wanted to take over the entire board, but truly for the good of all. While the game began fairly, I then saw the evil world side begin to add players and change the rules against the opposition. They would then gloat and celebrate their victories. As I watched, the pieces moved themselves. After a while, the white pieces were finally lined up against the black side.

However, the world side now had three times the pieces as the Church side. This is because the white side had continuously obeyed the rules. I then saw a stick similar to a craps table stick remove all of the white pieces but the White Queen and the White King from the board. The White Queen was now almost down, barely hanging off of the edge. There was great cheering from the world side as they celebrated.

Without warning, the Hand of God came down and crushed the black pieces into powder. After this, the world side was no longer celebrating. Their celebrations had completely ceased and was replaced with sheer terror. The Hand of God then propped up the White Queen, the Bride, near her White King.

The White King was then elevated. Thousands upon thousands of white pieces of many shapes then appeared for the ensuing celebration. There were no longer any black pieces remaining. All of the black pieces were gone.

Sub-dream 1 over.

Sub-dream 2 "The Beloved Evil Queen" begins...

I saw a queen. She was wearing a beautiful long tapestry robe. The trim on her robe was made of white mink. She held something like a eucharist crossed over with a staff. Her crown was purple velvet overlaid in gold and jewels. On top of her crown was a cross. I watched as she stepped up onto her throne. All came to bow before her at her throne. I then noticed something upon closer observation.

She was neither male nor female. She wielded great power. Men were so enthralled by her beauty that they paid her great wealth to come to her tent. Women also gave all they had to lay with her. All was permissible under her. People even brought their children to her. They did not see her evil. They did not smell the stench of all the foul smells coming from her tent. People did not care as they loved her.

Sub-dream 2 over...

We drove right by a red fox yesterday. The colors of the fallen maple leaves blended with its coat. It stared at us. Its eyes were yellow and orange, the same color as its coat. Amazingly beautiful, yet ominous at the same time. This was not something I will quickly forget.

Last night, I went outside after dinner to look at a project my husband had just completed. Right across from our driveway was a porcupine staring at me. I didn't want it to destroy any more of our trees, so I ran it off into the dark woods. One of our beautiful maple trees may not live because a porcupine had stripped its bark. With thousands of trees in the forest to choose from, they choose our most visible ones.

Father, these are direct signs from You. We even had an eagle circle overhead while I was driving this morning. On my way home, I prayed and worshipped the greatness of You. So many people have such great needs. There is evidence everywhere of Your Good Name being removed.

We still remain hopeful in a world full of liars and thieves. We believe that You will soon fulfill Your promises. We believe that You will soon restore us. We believe that You will soon bring truth back into this fallen world. We believe that You will soon reconcile back to us what the enemy has stolen. I pray for this in Your Mighty Name, the Name of Jesus, Amen!

I had another dream last night. This dream was quite an epic one at that...

Sub-dream 3 "A Poor Family's Misfortune is Reversed in an instant" begins...

I had organized a youth event in a very poor town. The town was mostly abandoned. We sent messengers door to door in very poor conditions in order to search for children who might want to come to this event. We had food and food boxes, as well as gifts. We were also sent to heal. However, when it came time to begin, only three children came. I approached the three children.

Me: "Where are the rest of your friends?"

A girl looked over at me to answer. While she was very thin and only looked about seven years old, I later found out that she was twelve years old.

Girl: "The children are hiding from you. A man came around telling us that you were coming to hurt them. We were the few that didn't believe him."

Me: "Well, we are here to help you, not hurt you. Could you bring me to your friends? I promise you that it will be great."

The girl held my hand and had us start at the farthest location away from town. We then went up to a house and she called out a boy's name that I could not hear properly. I then heard a baby start to cry.

Girl: "His folks aren't around much. His dad is a miner. His mom is not around."

I went up to the door. As I did, the Lord gave me the boy's name. It was Tommy. Since the door had no handle, I was able to simply walk in. I called out to him...

Me: "Tommy, your friends are here with me to help you."

When we stepped in, I saw the baby that was crying. The baby was a toddler. He held his arms up for me to pick him up. He was covered in filth and had no diaper. There was no floor in the house, only packed clay. When I picked up the baby, he was instantly healed. He now had new clean clothes and a fresh bottle.

Me: "Your little baby brother is now healed. Do you want to come out and see?"

Girl: Calling out to me. "He is in this room." She pointed to his room. "He is here."

I went over to his room and opened the door. He was crouched under soiled bedding and cardboard. The smell was horrible.

Me: "Tommy, Jesus sent me to fix up your place, give you food and bring you out to have some fun."

He was afraid to look up at me. Even though he was young, I could tell that he was embarrassed by the conditions. I prayed to the Father with great might and there immediately was a great flash of light. In an instant, everything changed and the house became unrecognizable in the very best of ways...

- The house now had a solid foundation, complete with deluxe flooring.
- Each bedroom now had a comfortable and clean bed.
- There was now running water and electricity.
- The kitchen was renovated, complete with new appliances.
- The bathroom was completely updated.
- They now had both living and dining areas.
- Every inch of the house was made beautiful, bright and clean.
- The house now had an amazing 'new house smell'.

- The new living room had a fireplace and comfortable furniture.
- There were even some chocolate chip cookies warm and ready in the oven.

Just then, the timer for the cookies went off...

Me: "Oh look, the chocolate chip cookies are ready. Tommy, can you help me with these cookies please?"

Tommy was in shock and couldn't yet comprehend all of the great changes that had just happened to his surroundings.

Me: Smiling. "Look around. Once you are done, we can pull the cookies out together."

No sooner had I turned my back to Tommy than he screamed with joy. He was now laughing and smiling. Tears of joy were coming down. He came up to me and hugged me. He was now crying uncontrollably. I could see he was about 10 or 11 years old.

Tommy: He pointed up to the sky to God. "My prayers... my prayers..."

I could tell that he had a speech impediment. I hugged him and could feel how very thin he was. He cried on my shoulder. I then prayed to the Lord on Tommy's behalf.

Me: "Jesus, please heal Tommy!"

There was a flash. In an instant, Tommy was a healthy weight. He was no longer so thin. He could now speak clearly. He had been fully healed. He went over and hugged his little baby brother.

Tommy: "I am sorry. I am so sorry."

Me: "Tommy, it is not your fault. Jesus has you now. You won't be alone again."

After eating some fresh cookies, the kids became excited to help me find even more of their friends. They led me outside. The kids then looked back at Tommy's home and celebrated with some more screams of joy. It was a beautiful home with a manicured lawn and garden. I carried the toddler as we went to more homes and found more of their friends. As we did, I prayed to the Lord...

Me: "Oh Lord, would You please reconstruct this town? Will You add businesses and parks to restore everything to being better than before?"

Well, His answer must have been yes. Not only did He restore the town, but He replaced it with a new city, complete with peaceful beautiful homes and lots of recreational facilities and parks. He then created a large church with amazing architecture for all to come and celebrate and worship. This all happened in a day. Thousands of people in this town were then healed.

More importantly, they also had their faith restored. Families were reunited and healed. No one was abandoned. All in all, a few hundred homes were completely refurbished to match the dreams and prayers of the people living there, but especially the prayers of the children. As for me and those who were with me, I can't tell you how it deepened our love for God even more.

Sub-dream 3 over...

There is nothing like seeing the hopelessness of a poor child be changed to such great joy. As a child, it was what I had always imagined. I didn't want a mansion. I just wanted a clean and orderly house with peace and love. I wanted a white picket fence. I wanted a puppy that wouldn't die or get lost. I wanted cookies instead of fighting and worries. I wanted simple truth and peace.

We were poor. I didn't know Jesus. However, I still somehow knew there was 'a God'. I felt it. Since I somehow 'just knew', I also somehow knew to pray to 'this God'. How many more are like I was, Lord? How many out there are poor with no hope and no promise for more?

Me: "Oh Lord, please heal us and send us to those who need to hear the Good News of You. Jesus, You are here! Jesus, You hear their cries. You and You alone are the God of Miracles."

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "I will do all that I have promised. I am about to do a new thing. Who can perceive it? Who can imagine the unimaginable?"

Me: "Lord, my dream was so real. I was there. I could smell. I could feel. Was I really there? All of this is such a mystery to me."

Jesus: "Erin, there are millions of hopeless children. I am with all of them. I carry them as lambs close to My heart. There is no one closer to Me than those I carry, understand? So, when I tell you to allow Me to carry you, you allowing Me to lift you up is the surrender of yourself to Me. When you allow this, you are closer to My heart. When you allow Me to carry you like a child trusting their fate into the hands of a good father, I will then fully take you to places you would never be able to go on your own."

Me: Crying. "Lord, I didn't know this act of trust means so much to You."

Jesus: "Well, sometimes you still walk on your own. Since you now know the difference, which one is better?"

Me: "Oh, by far, in Your arms. When I am in Your arms, I am close to Your heart."

Jesus: "While this is true, you are also close to Me because I am now in you. Your heart has now been expanded from just taking down the wicked to also being a part of the healing and revival to soon come. This will be My new Church under Heaven, but still here on Earth. Any of you who go out with Me working in you will heal and show signs and wonders.

"Erin, you will not just hear about these stories. You will instead be a Vessel in these to deliver the miracles and the Good News. I am the God of the Impossible. With Me, I am the Beginning and the End. I am now going to build back much better than it has ever been. Rejoice, Erin, for what you have prayed for, I have answered. My Spirit is upon you to preach the Good News!"

Dream over.

529 – A Brief Lesson from Jesus on following Him

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day here! Thank You for Your love and protection. I find myself spending a lot of time with You 'in the quiet'. I communicate less than I am used to with others because I don't want to miss any teachable moments from You. Our children have noticed that my prayers are more authoritative and less flowery now.

I find myself not wasting words. I am becoming more and more comfortable meeting with You in my devotional chair, but now really wherever I am. I recently read some Scriptures that left me with some questions for You. Here is the overview of the two scenarios I had some questions on...

The First Man from Mark 10:21: A wealthy man comes to Jesus and asks how he should follow Him. Jesus' response was that he needed to sell everything and follow Him.

The Second Man from Luke 9:61-62: A man comes to Jesus and wants to follow Him, but first wants to say goodbye to his family. Jesus then replies 'No one who puts his hand to the plow and looks back is fit for the Kingdom of God.'

Me: "Oh Lord, how many people would be like the First Man and not want to give up their wealth? Should they not be able to still provide for their family? What about the Second Man? In 1 Kings 19:20, was Elisha not able to first say goodbye to his family? Why was Elisha able to do this but not the Second Man?"

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "Erin, it is about the heart of the follower. You have only to recognize this by My line of questioning. The First Man, the wealthy man, enthusiastically and with an upright desire of his heart, sought to follow Me. I then replied by asking him to make a declaration. However, did I not already know his answer before he responded? Of course I did.

"Now, this wealthy man followed the Commandments and obeyed the Laws. By doing so, he qualified himself as 'a man of works'. I already knew that he loved his material possessions more than Me. This man had a divided heart. As you can understand from the account, it wasn't all about the desire to follow Me. Instead, it is about forsaking that which competes for Me and removing it so that you are then free to follow Me.

"This doesn't mean I am calling on all to sell everything so you can follow Me. It means that you are not to put your trust in things that will one day be no more. You are instead to invest your time and resources in that which has eternal consequences. You are to store up your treasures in Heaven, not here. It is about the heart.

"Now, when your heart stopped beating and I met you there and you returned, what then happened?"

Me: "Something was very different. I was no longer afraid of death. Things that once mattered to me now paled in comparison to what You offer. My family also mattered more. Material items now diminished in importance to me.

"Now, what about the Second Man? Why allow Elisha to say goodbye to his family, yet demand the Second Man to not look back?"

Jesus: "Again, look at the heart. Elisha did not desire to go back and put his hands to the plow. He was instead excited and asked to kiss his parents. He first left his oxen. He didn't go back to kiss his oxen or finish his work. He had twelve oxen. He sacrificed all twelve and fed the people. He then arose and pursued Elijah. As for the Second Man, there is more to this.

"The Second Man was a slave to work. While the First Man loved his material possessions, the Second Man loved his work and felt obligated to his parents. I knew that the Second Man would go back to his parents to explain his plan. I also knew that the parents of the Second Man would protest and he would change his mind. In comparison, Elisha burned up his plow to cook the meat to feed the people.

"Erin, there are differences. Again, it is a heart issue. I search the heart. It is easy for many to think the worst about Me. It is easy for many to think that I am 'The Punisher'. I know every man and woman and their heart conditions. The true intent of a man is in his heart. From his heart comes actions. This birthed the common phrase 'I do not want words, I want actions.'

"Well, this can be wrong thinking. Many foolish actions follow foolish words. Now let's look at an example of a man with a heart of gold. This man desires to do so much for so many, but he is unable to due to confinement or disability. He also may be unable due to lack of abilities or resources. However, the intention in his heart is still good. I read this man's heart and I know what he would be capable of.

"Now, do not take Me wrong here. A man should follow through on a contract, promise or declaration with good intent. This is upright and good. His actions that follow his words will therefore be good. However, this is again because it comes from the heart with good intentions."

Me: "Lord, there are times when my heart's desire is to do good, but I then fail to follow through. This happens more times than I would want to. I then become tired. Lord, why do I do this?"

Jesus: "The key is that you are to rest when you become tired. Take each new day as it comes. Be careful not to bind yourself with promises you may not be able to keep. Only God can guarantee His promises. Remember that people can be placed in chains by an unbridled tongue. It is better to remain quiet than to declare a foolish thing. It is wise to avoid making a promise for tomorrow when you are still coping with today."

Me: "Lord, thank You for this wisdom!"

Jesus: "I love you."

Me: "I love you too."

530 – The Guests have Now Arrived for the Great Celebration

Received on Friday, October 22, 2021

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day! Thank You for my family and friends. Thank You for so many different things. I could go on for days in giving thanks to You. I had a vivid dream last night...

Sub-dream 1 "Taking a found little girl to a party" begins...

We were attending a party by invitation only. It was at a place out west that I have been before in my dreams, but one which doesn't really exist. The party was being held by the wife of a family member. The woman holding the party always thought herself greater than me. We felt obligated to attend this event. It was not a source of joy.

While on the way to this event, we came upon a car accident that had just occurred. We then noticed a young Hispanic man around age 20 with broken English running around with a young girl age 6 or 7. He appeared to be in great fear. When he saw our car, he ran over and threw the girl in our back seat. He then turned and ran away.

As the scene was now becoming more chaotic and there were several very scary people descending onto the area, we decided to drive this girl to the authorities. When we arrived at the police station, there were only two officers on duty. We approached one of the officers...

Me: "A man delivered this young girl to us. We don't know her. We don't know what to do in this situation."

Officer: "Unfortunately, there is no longer a division to help this child. We are unable to take her."

Me: "Well, that is unsettling. Are there at least some officers dispatched to the scene?"

Officer: "We have no manpower. The area is now run by vigilante groups that fight the gangs. Many of the vigilantes are ex-officers. Anyway, keep the child for now and check back with us in a few days to see if there is a missing child report."

We went back to the car and continued our journey to the party. I smiled at the little girl now in our backseat. She smiled back.

Little girl: "My parents have been killed and I have no other family. I was on my way to be sold. If I am quiet and don't cause any problems, could I live with you?"

Me: "Yes. If we can't find a good home for you, you will stay with us."

We soon arrived at the party. My nemesis was upset when she saw the little girl.

Nemesis: "I wasn't expecting an extra guest. We hadn't planned for this."

Me: "Well, it was a surprise to us as well. Listen, how about we skip your event or just sit outside instead. If this is a problem, we will just leave."

Nemesis: "Fine. You can stay. Just try to keep out of our way."

While we were there, I saw many familiar items from when I was a young girl. I inspected some of the objects and then put them down. Despite being careful, my nemesis would have none of it.

Nemesis: "While I was nice enough to let you stay, the least you can do is not touch my things."

While I wanted to react, the Lord told me otherwise...

Voice of the Lord (that only I could hear): "Remain silent. Wait until I direct you to do otherwise."

My nemesis then used this opportunity to deliver strike after strike meant to harm me. The Lord protected my heart and somehow nothing she said affected me. This was divine protection as this would have definitely affected me at one time.

Voice of the Lord: "Okay, now!"

I was instantly changed. This happened before them and they were horrified. They soon became very upset at our presence. My husband and I then left with the little girl.

Sub-dream 1 over...

While this dream started off being unsettling, it once again had a satisfying ending. Thank You, Lord, for these dreams that give us hope. As I was praying over all of this, I felt You tell me to share a Scripture with the Nest. This Scripture is Zephaniah 3:17-20 and seems to be about the time we are all waiting for.. the time of Transformation...

Zephaniah 3:17-20: 17 The Lord your God is in your midst, a Mighty One Who will save; He will rejoice over you with gladness; He will quiet you by His love; He will exult over you with loud singing. 18 I will gather those of you who mourn for the festival, so that you will no longer suffer reproach. 19 Behold, at that time I will deal with all your oppressors. And I will save the lame and gather the outcast, and I will change their shame into praise and renown in all the Earth. 20 At that time I will bring you in, at the time when I gather you together; for I will make you renowned and praised among all the peoples of the Earth, when I restore your fortunes before your eyes, says the Lord.

Me: "I have been anxious about many things this morning. Actually, I have been anxious all week. Thank You, Lord, for being so patient with me."

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "Erin, you worry about many things. You worry about hearing or reading the wrong thing or stepping outside of My Will for you. Please do not diminish Me to the role of a punisher. When you do this, your thinking is wrong. A house divided cannot stand. Think of this. Remember that I am the Good Potter. You are no longer the clay. You are now a usable Vessel to Me. There was a process..."

- I had to first consider you as being someone who could be shaped.
- I then had to shape you. This was not an easy or short process considering the condition of the clay at times.
- After you were formed, I applied glaze.
- After you were glazed, you were then fired in the furnace."

Me: "What exactly do You mean by glazing?"

Jesus: "Glazing is the coating that makes the Vessel able to hold water. It is a strengthening agent. However, and even more that this, it is the unique character created by Me to identify you as Mine, the Good Potter's Vessel. In your instance, you were glazed and fired in the furnace of affliction many times. I added luster to you each time. Even though you do not see it yet, you will soon understand.

"However, I am not just the Potter. I am also the Living Water in you. This means that I am pleased with you. While you still doubt your purposes in full, this is because I have not yet made these known to you in full. Your dreams have been like puzzle pieces in a larger puzzle. This is a mystery.

“Since I am in you, I lead you in the way you should go. I lead you to good places. I do not lead you to destruction. I do not trick you. I do not deceive you. This is not Me. This you should know.”

Me: “Of course, Lord. I know Your ways are perfect. It is just hard to imagine and not be excited. Lord, please remember that I am also an excited Bride waiting on her Groom. As we can now hear You coming, I am secure that You will now come to receive us. However, I still worry. I pray that You are pleased with us. I pray that You find us worthy of all You have planned for us. I pray that You don’t decide to change Your mind.”

Jesus: “I will not change My mind on this. While I do not waiver, I can relent. While I am the same, I can do a new thing. All matters are based on the heart at the root and the prayers of the saints. Erin, I am not the God of confusion. I am the God of Creation, Your Creator, and I love My Good Work. I love you and I am with you. I will not abandon you. If I did, then all of this would matter not.

“When I decide to consider a field, I look and I see what I would like to plant there. It is My choice based on factors of My choosing. I do not rely on outside sources telling me, ‘oh, that field is too rocky’ or ‘that field is all sand and not good for planting’. I do not need someone to make a proclamation to consider dumping one field to consider another, understand?”

“Since I am the Creator of all of this, I only need to consult Myself as the Creator. It is then I who prepares the soil for planting. It is then I who chooses the seeds to place in the soil. Even more, I then line up the sun and even send the rains to grow them. No man determines My business or My field as he has no understanding of Me and My Father’s business.

“He should not interfere or even speak with foolish lips about the business of Heaven as I am not with him. This is an arrogant man who leans fully on his own understanding of his own small field. He is a farmer that only sees by his own knowledge. Such a farmer would not see you as a good field for planting. However, I do not need to hear anything that he has to say.”

Me: “Why are You giving this Word to me now?”

Jesus: “It is because I am doing a new thing here, Erin. Years ago, when you were a child, you attended a wedding. You were the flower girl and the niece of the groom. You were given a necklace that carried a mustard seed. You wondered how you could take out that tiny seed and plant it. You told your mom that one day you would. Your faith was great and you were given many signs as I was with you. Now, 50 years later, you are still as a child worried about how I will do all things.”

Me: “I am sorry, Lord. However, I am now just so excited. I am now just really hoping You will hurry... as in now... as in right now.”

Jesus: “Yes, Erin, I know, I know. Erin, I am here. I am with you. You are with Me. We are one. The guests have arrived and the Great Celebration is about to commence. There are those who are heckling outside of the wedding venue to discourage you. However, I am with you. I will not run off, understand? While you see yourself in terms of your age and physical appearance, remember that I am still much older than you are.”

Me: “Yes, You are older than me. I have not thought of it this way before. Thank You.”

Jesus: “You then wonder if there will be no Great Move of God and if you will instead be going right into the Great Tribulation. Well, Erin, do not worry as I am infinitely greater than the finite events you are witnessing. I Am. I Am and I have a Great Plan. It is in My Word for anyone who chooses to look.

“Now, the enemy expects big. This is why he has struck down the largest of My churches. This why many have fallen into moral decline or have been accused to be. The enemy is certainly not expecting you, your husband and children, your friends or My other hidden chosen. You see, I began small, like your mustard seed.

“However, this is not just any seed. The smallest of seeds grow to be the largest of trees. I spoke in parables so those whom I gave understanding would know. I presented seven just in one Word Verse (Matthew 13). The Kingdom of Heaven. Well, how do you pray, Erin?”

Me: “On Earth as it is in Heaven?”

Jesus: “Very good. By My own Words, I spoke about how to pray. I gave you the Words. However, it isn’t just by reciting the Words, it is praying with heart... a good heart. My Kingdom, the Kingdom of Heaven, is hidden. It is hidden until it is no longer hidden. Now wait for this...” He paused for dramatic effect. “...I appoint a small flock.

“Now, fear not, My little flock, for it is Your Father’s good pleasure to give you the Kingdom. Well done, as you have been faithful with what little I have given you. Now you will be given even more. Now enters your joy. Your joy is made complete! (Luke 12, Luke 19 and Matthew 25).

"Now, some will argue 'no, by Jesus' own Words, He returns in the same manner as He left'. While this is true, this is for a different time soon to come. Before this 'different time' comes, we have many fields to consider."

Me: "Lord, You have already considered them, prepared them and planted the seeds."

Jesus: "Yes, Erin, and this is good. Now let us see how these tender shoots are doing when I send out My Workers."

Me: "This can't happen soon enough. Oh Lord, there is so much discouraging news."

Jesus: "As the enemy sees Me as passive right now, he is moving quickly to advance his kingdom of evil. He is building his army into factions. He is amassing great power from an invisible place to many. However, I know exactly what his plans are. For the last few years, the advancement of his kingdom army has been moving across the Earth. These are mostly as invaders and are even welcomed at first.

"By force and corruption, they then plant into strategic areas. The leaders of these nations have agreed through the urging of the one leader. Through general apathy of the younger people, he has had very little resistance. His army is rooted by a deceptive movement that has been killing by great bloodshed.

"They rule by fear and establish their own governments by forced policies. They have moved from the east to the west, from the north to the south and have even crossed oceans. They are emboldened by weak leaders. As their own countries are in shambles, so too are places they plant their seeds of discord."

Me: "I recently read that their religion means 'submission' and that Sharia means 'path'."

Jesus: "Yes. Their goal is to have all nations submit to their path. They claim 'our path leads to life when you submit to our god.' However, I Am God. Their path instead leads to Sheol and many will find this. As for the son of perdition, he is busy in raising up his armies. He is becoming more and more visible. He has many 'qualities'. While these 'qualities' stand out to you, they are veiled from the majority...

- While he stands on hate, he claims his basis is love.
- While he stands on fear and division, he claims he desires peace and togetherness.
- While he rules by control, he claims to stand on freedom.

- While the path he requires is strict, he claims his ways are accepting.
- While he says one thing with his lips, he then does another.

“He has persuaded many against the majority. He has created a great divide. He hates Israel. You have only to recognize him and his ways by the great hate he has for the people. I have been lifting the veil. You are now seeing this in greater ways.”

Me: “Oh Lord, this is so painful.”

Jesus: “I know it is. However, this leader is not expecting what is coming. It is time to rejoice, Erin. You are not to worry as I have a Great Plan. Relax and enjoy your day. As I reside in you, so too does joy!”

Dream over.

According to the Hebrew calendar, today is Cheshvan 17, the 1st day of the Flood

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day. Thank You for all we have. Thank You for my husband, our children and our Nest friends. Father, I need Your help. The evil government has taken over and it is horrifying to watch. When Sodom and Gomorrah were destroyed, they were horribly evil. It seems that all of the nations have fallen now. Today marks the day on the Hebrew calendar in which Noah was sealed in the Ark.

I am making a plea to You, Father. Let us say there are one million righteous lovers of You left. For the sake of them, please do not destroy the nation. When we look back at Abraham's pleading, You would have spared the wicked cities for far less than one million. Could this apply for now? Yes, I believe it could. This is why You are sending the Transformed to sweep through in one last Great Harvest leading up to the Rapture. You are doing this because Your mercy is immeasurable.

In the last nine months, the news has grown so bad with poor reports. There is corruption in every level of government now. The news is supposed to tell us when something needs to be fought for, but they are now fully bought and paid for. As we speak, the emerging world leader is secretly bringing in his secret army.

This is being done 'in the middle of the night'. Anyone speaking against this is labelled a racist. If this emerging world leader has his way, he will have won his 'war against Christmas' by Thanksgiving. Please, Father, intervene and stop this madness for us who still love You with all of our hearts. I had a couple of vivid dreams last night..

Sub-dream 1 "Museum of the Spoils is Shaken" begins...

I was looking around in a massive museum that reminded me of the Smithsonian in Washington DC. It consisted of artifacts of those who were plundered. This was representative of the wealth that was stolen. There were also replicas of toppled statues and even the parks they were in. As all of the birds were now gone, there were now exhibits of these.

The museum was preparing for their grand opening. However, they were having continuing problems with both the Grand Teton exhibit and the Badlands exhibit. I noticed that the plunder of wealth exhibits was quite mediocre. I then came across an exhibit I didn't understand. It seemed like everyday items that did not warrant a display. I asked a worker about this.

Me: "What is this exhibit supposed to be about?"

Worker: Looking at me like I was crazy. "This is the middle-class exhibit."

Me: "Middle-class? Why do you have an exhibit for the middle-class?"

Worker: "Where have you been? The middle-class is now extinct."

Me: "Museums are usually filled with attendees from the middle-class. If the middle-class is extinct, who is going to come to this museum?"

Worker: "Those who enjoy the spoils. Those who count themselves as victors. This is really a trophy museum."

Me: "There is no glass on these cases. Are you not worried about theft?"

Worker: "If there is anything more you want, you can just reach into the case and take it. However, there is nothing anyone coming here will want to touch. The wealthy that remain are the ones that will come here. They are well connected and can already have anything they want. They don't need or want any of this stuff."

I suddenly heard a crash. The worker shook his head in disgust and headed to the massive room holding the national park exhibits. The arch from one of the parks had just collapsed.

Worker: "While we try to hold up replicas from the different national parks, they keep crashing down. First it was the Grand Teton exhibit and then it was the Zion exhibit. This was followed by Yellowstone exhibit and now the arches. No matter how hard we try to hold these exhibits up, they crash down. These exhibits will have to stay closed as there is no way we can finish repairing this before the opening date."

As I looked around, I noticed that about half of the exhibits were still up. The other half had crashed down. This soon changed when a great shaking came upon the museum. Though it affected the museum, I was somehow immune from the shaking. In a matter of a minute or so, all of the park exhibits collapsed upon themselves. As the Lord had told me that all of the people working here were evil, I walked away with a smile on my face. I didn't feel reprimanded for feeling this odd satisfaction. God is so much fun!

Sub-dream 1 over.

Sub-dream 2 "Massive Ocean Surge" begins...

A massive surge from the ocean backed up all of the waterways. For miles and miles inland, the fresh water was turned into salt water. I saw the lower roads turn into channels of water. The roads soon washed away from our house down. However, the roads were just fine from our house up. We were still free to come and go. However, all of the houses below us were now all wiped out from the waves.

Sub-dream 2 over.

Me: "Oh Lord, what does this all mean? I had hoped this would be a great day of change. So many things seemed to line up. We are expecting 'The Flood of Your Living Water' to come now!"

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "Erin, I see the wickedness spreading. I will not be silent for much longer. I understand your concerns and I hear your prayers. While the governments have become corrupt, many do not see it. There is an illness that has come upon the land. Had they allowed it to run its course, this illness would have been gone.

"They have instead brought a great wave of evil. This was then used as a way to divide in great order with unjust measures. These come with punishment and shame. This allows the leaders to rule over the people with an iron fist. Many can do nothing about it for fear of losing the ability to work and provide. However, all of this is a planned part of the New Governing System.

"While many leaders now know this, most of them purposely choose to not recognize they are participating in great cruelty. I see the evil, Erin. It cannot hide from Me. You ask Me about these issues as they arise and I then immediately answer to confirm they really are happening. You then become discouraged because it is not yet 'The Time' for Me, through you and My Army, to confront the evil on their wicked plans."

Me: "It is hard for me to witness this as it seems that you are not saying no to anything that is evil these days. You instead just confirm that what I see as lies spoken as truth and great deception really are those things. I want You to rise up now... as in immediately. So many are anxiously waiting for our 'Marching Orders' from You."

Jesus: "I know that this is not easy on you or your friends. Erin, continue to pray. The saints who have been slain, those who now reside at the Altar of God in His Courts, now intercede day and night. In addition to the martyrs, those who have seen the evil done unto all of you also intercede. I hear them all. Erin, when I finally move upon the evil, it will be like nothing ever seen before.

“It will be done with such strength that all will know it could only be from God Himself. The enemy will then shout day and night from his evil pulpit that My ‘Audacity to provide Hope’ (vs the enemy’s ‘Audacity of Hope’) is both cruel and unusual. This, of course, will not be true as My strength and justice is always perfect and fair. His words will then be drowned out by truth as I will announce truth.

“The wicked will be in horror as I will expose lies and will broadcast this both day and night for all to see. Though the evil will try to flee, they will be unable to hide. They will be forced to retreat for a while. During this time, I will heal the broken and restore their homes. As for those who invaded the land, they will immediately be returned to their homelands. The enemy’s plans will have been placed on pause until I am finished displaying My righteousness before the world.

“My goodness, truth, healing and miracles will be on full display. Heaven will also be on display. Those who mourn will see graves opened. Loved ones lost with no goodbyes and no proper burials because of the evil will appear and speak. They will testify to the goodness of God and to the beauty of Heaven. There will be great restoration as their recompense will be with Me.

“As for the wicked who complain about the land I had given them, they will be returned to the land of their ancestors, the land of their youths. Once there, they will curse Me and mourn their great loss. They will then live in great fear and anger until I remove those they think are responsible. Many are the sons of perdition. They will be subdued and in hiding while My favor is poured out on those who turn to Me.

“Many will leave their wicked ways. They will then turn to Me and be healed. However, anger in the shadows will continue to build. Plots once displayed publicly will now be hidden and removed from sight. Statues they erected will be removed as there will be no idols to worship. There will be a ‘war on Christmas’, not a ‘war against Christmas’.

“Now rejoice, Erin, as I am the God of restoration, justice and healing. I am also the God of mercy and grace. I have not forgotten My people. Though the world forgets Me and grows cold, I will not forget those who are broken in spirit. The wrong shall fail and the right shall prevail.

"Erin, when you awake and do not see change, come to Me. I am here. I know you know things only in part, but very soon you will know things in full. While each day seems like the perfect day, it then ends. Then there is a new day and then it goes too. The news is worse with each new day.

"However, I tell you the truth... a day is very soon to come, 'The Perfect Day'. Do not worry. Do not be discouraged. I haven't forgotten you. I am with you now in all things. Come to Me all who are weary and I will give you rest. Rejoice, Erin. Take comfort in Me. My Voice is in you. Enjoy this day for it is good."

Communion

Dear Father,

I looked up where the former president, the emerging world leader, is going to be soon. He will be traveling to Glasgow, Scotland for meetings starting on Halloween, October 31, 2021, to attend the COP26 climate summit. Once there, he will meet with youth activists and address the threat of climate change. Will there be a false flag event there? Will he become a hero? Will he embolden the youth to even greater anger?

Oh Father, thank You for another day! Thank You for Your guidance. Thank You for Your love. Thank You for dreams. I had a vivid dream last night. While I don't remember everything from start to finish, what I do remember is so clear..

Sub-dream 3 "The Three Granite Memorials" begins...

I saw a memorial made of granite. The granite was 'absolutely black'. The stone was six inches thick. The faces were polished and the sides were still jagged. There were three memorials side by side. There was a middle stone and a stone on each of its side (three separate stones). The middle stone was six feet high and four feet wide. The two side stones were shorter, about four feet high, and also four feet wide.

Above each of the stones rested a large bowl. Each bowl was about three feet in diameter and about twelve inches deep. Water was pouring from a spout in the front into a channel of water coming from each large bowl. The bowls were made from light grey granite. Each bowl also had a flame coming out from the top. However, the flame of fire in the middle stone was higher, wider and brighter than the flames of the two side stones.

While I could not read the middle stone fully, I did read a part that said 'The Lord is my Light'. I then noticed another part of the writing. It was very odd as one words kept being replaced by another word and back and forth. These two exchanging words were 'Oxford' and 'Cambridge'. Underneath the both of them and not changing were the words 'Rest in Peace'.

Sub-dream 3 over.

Me: "Father, this deeply disturbed me. It was a very clear dream with elements I do not understand. There were thousands of names chiseled onto these stone memorials. I wish I could have read more of what was written there."

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "The enemy continues to plot. He does not care if there are casualties. While hard to understand, I have reasons for what is allowed and it is for the good of all those I call. The enemy continues to recruit his army of angry emboldened youth. As the majority of the world is disconnected from their agenda right now, what better way to unify the masses than by fear and public display.

"Now, there is a Great Awakening coming. Woke is not awake. Woke is bitter, weak and entitled. Awake is waking up from 'Woke Illness' and discovering a better way. If My people would only turn to Me to be healed then their lands also would be healed. However, they do not turn to Me."

Me: "But, Lord, many of us do turn to you."

Jesus: "Yes, and I know them. I know you as I am in you. Now, disasters can unify or they can cause even greater destruction. For those people being led down the path leading to destruction, pray for them that they might be saved prior to their end."

Me: "With  (the emerging world leader) traveling to the UK for the climate summit this weekend, I pray for You to have mercy there."

Jesus: "Yes, the enemy is in their land (Glasgow Scotland UK) during a great time of darkness. Now, you worry about many things. Tell your Sparrow friends to pray."

Me: "Lord, please save the people."

Jesus: "I will save those I call."

Dream over.

Important Notes on the "Dark" Sub-Dreams (from Erin's husband):

While we are reading these dreams in real time, they will also be read in the future by entirely different audiences, both Post-Transformation AND Post-Rapture. While many of the sub-dreams written can be really dark, these are not to be feared... at least not yet (but not by us).

What I mean by this is that many of these sub-dreams won't 'commence' until AFTER the Rapture. While these sub-dreams would have most likely come into fruition in the very near future without God's intervention, our soon Transformation will change everything.

During our Post-Transformation time, the enemy's plans will take a back seat to God's plans. While the enemy wants evil to rule all things, God will instead be sending us out to deliver His never-ending love and compassion. As the enemy may also see these sub-dreams as written at some point in the future, imagine how infuriating it will be for him to see that his evil secret plots have already been outlined for the world to read.

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day! Thank You for this beautiful land. Thank You for the last remnants of freedom that we are enjoying right now. So many of us are sick right now. There are flareups of illnesses, breathing issues, cancer, heart issues and other problems.

These illnesses don't seem to be healing even with fervent prayers and great faith. No matter what though, we will stay the course and believe in You, Father. You are our Creator and the Lover of our souls. You are a good, good Father. Your mercies never end. I had an unusual dream last night...

Sub-dream 1 "A Frightening New World System is Planned" begins...

A plot is in place that is so horrible and so unbelievable that, without You, Father, doing a Great Work, the majority of America will fall very shortly. Out of great fear, the other countries will then fall soon after. There will only be three countries that will not submit to the one born of the sea, risen up from an island in the sea. The details in this dream are horrible. These details, if widely known, would cause great fear. In this dream, this plan is to be completed by Christmas this year (Saturday, December 25, 2021).

A great overthrow is planned. Foreign operatives have already been distributed throughout the nation. The leaders in Canada were told to keep their borders shuttered for two years and then all can be opened. These operatives are also in other nations.

There is such great hate by this emerging world leader that he has put into place a great plan to punish and persecute several groups of people. He has already mocked God with his books. The 'Audacity of Hope' mocks God's hope... His Son, Jesus. The 'Promised Land', the USA, is now his and all will submit to him in 'Part 2' of his book. His plan is diabolical, as is all of his plans. Here is a brief outline...

- Remove the 'Majority': This leader has an all-consuming hate for white people. He wants to remove them as soon as possible, preferably with deadly force.
- Remove his Political Opposition: Dilute the voting rights of the opposing party. Destroy opponents, both current and from the past. Detain constitutionalists, loyalists and colonists. Silence all opposition platforms using media, news outlets and banks.
- Remove Christians and Jews: Remove Christians and Jews regardless of skin color. As with political opponents, make them 'disappear' as soon as possible. Camps for these people are already being built right now.
- Create Great Fear: Label all of this as something that it is not. Then cause great fear across the world through lies. Create great fear through public humiliation, loss and fear. All peoples, regardless of race or color, will be subject to great punishment this leader deems desirable.
- Remove 'Drains on Society': All Medicare programs will cease. There will no longer be care for the elderly or special needs. Families will be directed through fear to agree to the termination of care and benefits. Signatures will be made outlining parents against their children and children against their parents.
- Control of the Youth: One of the first things the Nazis did was start the brainwashing of their youth at a young age. Children will need to submit to instruction by great pressure. They will be told to report about their home life, including their parent's activities. They will be required to report this back to the schools. Children of all ages will be taught that their parents are evil.
- Remove Almost All of History: Original historical documents, archives, evidence and detailed witnessed statements are to be removed.

This is already happening. They are not being replaced, just marked as 'missing'.

- Still Preserve Some History: Any documents supporting historical evidence of oppression are being moved forward and preserved. These will be used as evidence against all those with lineage to DNA to the founding fathers, any other leaders or military family members. They will then go to trial and be told publicly to relinquish all possessions in payment.
- Create a Terrifying Prison System: The remaining prisoners will be released from prisons. However, the very worst of the worst will remain in the prison. They will then be given freedom to inflict the 'new types of prisoners'.
- Populate the Prison System with the opposition: With the room now available in the prisons, all who the government deems as opposed, outspoken or 'undesirable' will be sent to prison. Once there, live stream videos of their torture will be on display via 'pay per view'. They will also be able to witness beatings, rapes, sodomy and great deprivation. While underground, this will somehow still be acceptable to society (again, this is their plan, NOT God's plan).
- Murder of LGBTQs: All LGBTQs peoples will be murdered. The whole purpose of today's 'acceptance' is to draw them out into the open for later 'removal'. This is counter-intuitive to the LGBTQs mindset of acceptance and will be a true shock to them when it is swiftly enacted.

Outline of a New Proposal called The New Sovereignty Citizen Act (or something similarly named):

Immigrants coming through the border are to be redistributed to towns and cities all over America. They are to await further instructions and timings of such instructions. Once enacted, an illegal immigrant will be able to choose a piece of the 'Promised Land' for himself. He will have the right to do this.

Once he sees a desirable parcel of land, dwelling or other properties under the law, he is allowed to occupy said property and declare it sovereign and his. To add insult to injury, those whose properties were on the papers must then pay either a transfer tax or a special tax to appeal to gain access.

Even then, they must still prove by DNA or by historical documentation that the property is theirs before the beginning of the nation (that is, being a 'native'). If not, they are not entitled to the property. However, they can remain on the property to serve the 'sovereign citizen' and his needs (in other words, become a 'slave'). Finding historical documentation will be almost impossible as all titles, records, deeds and transfers will soon be destroyed under the guise of 'reparations'.

While many property owners will pretend to agree to the transfer, they will then 'rebel' against the system by killing the occupiers to regain their property. This will be considered a crime (murder), with the offenders put into the frightening prisons and camps. In other words, those designated to be eventually completely destroyed by the government will be in a no-win situation.

Sub-dream 1 over...

Sub-dream 2 "Foreigners take over Disney World" begins...

I was in Disney World in Florida. Many families had paid for vacations to the resort in advance. There were many children there for the very first time and were excited. A new rule then came into effect making for two distinct lines to each ride...

- First Line for Paying Customers: Even though the families had paid a high price for tickets, their lines never moved. The children then became understandably frustrated and cried and acted out. It was becoming a miserable experience for all there.
- Second Line for Foreigners: The second line was for foreigners. They and their families were moved quickly through. They were moved through as soon as they flashed their special badges.

The paying customers were never able to really participate. Due to the park closing for the night, they then went back to their resorts feeling defeated. When they reached their rooms, they found out that their keys did not work. Not only that, all their belongings were taken by the 'new vacationers', the foreigners from the second line.

When the families went to management, they were told their names were not on the reservations or they were listed as non-pay. This was the case for even those who paid in full in advance, which were the majority of them. Meanwhile, the occupiers were now even wearing their clothing, using their accounts and enjoying the full amenities, all without paying a dime. The paying customers then were forced to leave.

I could easily tell that the imposters didn't feel bad at all. They mocked the families and paraded their stolen personal items in full display. While a few fights broke out, most guests simply left without incident out of fear. The pool was crowded with rowdy unruly invaders. It was a very difficult thing to witness.

Sub-dream 2 over...

Me: "Father, please help us. Please help America. Please don't allow this evil former leader so much power. They are destroying the nation by spreading lies and hate. They are attacking us on all sides. Please rise up!"

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "I know that it is painful to witness these things. However, there is nothing new concerning the plans of the enemy. While this has happened in the past, his (the Black Dragon's) schemes for this time now are even more evil and far reaching. Heaven is watching and millions are interceding in God's Courts.

"As for the Red Dragon, he has receded away from the spotlight. He also has plots in place from his position and these are also far-reaching plots. However, neither the Black Dragon nor the Red Dragon will succeed against Me. Do not worry. Many are the schemes of the wicked. Erin, who can even count all of their evil schemes?"

"Now, he (the Black Dragon) has lined up militants in every nation. Upon his call, all of these will rise. Their first goal will be to overthrow the powerful nation (the USA). The others will then fall shortly after. Israel will be attacked. The princes in the Middle East with great wealth will be thrown down. The princes will be killed and a new government will take its place. All will be visible.

"Now, these are the plots of the enemy. He will rise up and take control. While he will look like a savior, he is actually behind it all. However, just because this is his plan does NOT mean it is Mine, understand? He works quickly to remove My memory in the mind and hearts of My people. Many then say, 'Where is your God?'

"Well, Erin, I am here in you. Heaven intercedes day and night. God is angry. The angel army from Heaven is over you and among you. I have called them. As the enemy plots and schemes, all wait for My call, the sound of a Great Shout and the Shaking of the Earth, an advance so powerful that the enemy will run and hide.

"Each of the wicked will then know that I am in control. They will recoil in fear. As for the invaders here in the land with the intention of harm, they will be removed back to their homelands in an instant. I am in complete control. I am always in complete control. Do not worry, Erin, as I have this."

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day! Thank You for Your continued guidance.

Sub-dream 3 "Preparing for the Perfect Storm" begins...

I was observing a technological center like NASA. There were large screens everywhere. Instead of outer space, there was a large calendar, along with a linear timeline. The people there were an odd mixture of analysts, mathematicians and historians. All were working together to measure how much time they had left before the Perfect Storm. These people were pure evil.

While I was there observing, I was not visible to the people there. These people were basing their findings on actual signs and wonders. They were trying to determine the timeline prior to 'God's Awakening' and the ensuing 'Great War'. Their timelines were, in turn, based on three types of timelines...

- Biblical Timelines: There were copious amounts of notes taken on Christian and Jewish watchers. These groups were using Biblical signs as their platforms. Depending on who made the timeline, they were identified by being from well-known evangelists or rabbis, along with their predictions.
- Natural Timelines: I saw a timeline of natural signs and wonders. They were each marked by their locations, names, longitudes and latitudes.
- Historical Event Timelines: I saw events that happened recently, but also events from a thousand years back and everything in between.

There were at least fifty people working fulltime on this. They were using algorithms and patterns based on various historical dates to predict the future. I then walked over to a meeting room where people were gathered around a telephone speaker. Just before he picked up the phone, he addressed the others in the room.

Man in the room: "Shush! The top brass is on the line. I am about to pick up."

Man on the speaker: "Listen, we need you to narrow down some dates quickly so we can put together an operation to remove all glaring problems prior to God's moves. We need more 'Point / Counterpoint' data for the timeline of 'Operation Beast'."

I then looked over at one of their charts. It had several data points listed...

- The Perfect Storm that happened in the Atlantic from October 28, 1991 to November 2, 1991, inclusive. This was labeled a counterpoint.
- The Towers falling on September 11, 2001. This was labeled a point.
- Permission for greater evil being allowed was granted in late December 2012. This was labeled a point.

- The beginning of Trump's presidency on January 20, 2017. This was labeled a counterpoint.
- The beginning of the effects of Covid starting on January 18, 2020. This was labeled a point.
- The ending of Trump's presidency on January 20, 2021. This was labeled a point.
- There were also migration trends listed on the timeline, as well as the Tetrad of lunar eclipses. These were not labeled as points or counterpoints.
- They seemed to be predicting some sort of events happening on Monday, November 1, 2021 and Thursday, November 25, 2021 (Thanksgiving). These were not labeled as points or counterpoints.

I then saw a different chart outlining all of their dates that have come and gone. They had a lot of dates listed (but then again, so do we... smiles). These listed dates did not go as predicted. Even though the group was highly skilled, they didn't realize that God's ways are higher and therefore unpredictable (although we can still have fun guessing). As for these evil workers, I could tell that they were scared and really needed one of their dates to soon be correct.

Sub-dream 3 over...

Me: "While I am not a 'date speculator' type person, my husband loves it. As for me, I get too wrapped up and have trouble with the disappointment. My husband is sad for an hour or so, but then is back at his spreadsheets, all smiles and optimistic again. God's Clock and Calendar is a mystery and more complicated than any man can comprehend (with the exception of perhaps Enoch?). Oh Lord, please help us soon."

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "Erin, take comfort in knowing that I am actually 'The Point Man'. The enemy doesn't control events. I control them. He makes his moves according to several factors. You have seen this in your dream. He is trying to create the Perfect Storm. However, he is unable to control it. I control it, just like I controlled the Perfect Storm thirty years ago today.

"Now, the enemy is better at predictions. This is because he is once of Heavenly origins. However, he still reacts to things based on old timelines. This is good. Even though there is nothing new under Heaven, I can and will do a new thing. This will be a thing that the enemy cannot prepare for or predict.

"However, with My guidance, you will look back over it and see that this date was in plain sight the entire time. For now and today, take comfort in this. I am with you. I am in you. My Voice is in you." Just then, a woodpecker knocked on my window three times and flew away. "Yes, I even send a woodpecker to make you smile."

Me: "Oh Lord, I need Your help. I am anxious."

Jesus: "Do not be. What would create more anxiety... if the enemy was in control or if God is in control?"

Me: "The enemy being in control would create infinitely more anxiety."

Jesus: "Although he appears to be, he is not. He knows this. Someone doing the wrong thing... stealing, lying, cheating and all manners of evil... does so in darkness and in secret. He acts with speed so that he is not discovered. However, there are no secrets under Heaven. I see all things. I know where the enemy is at all times. Although he is clever and does all things with intention, I am greater.

"For instance, he was not given the power of omnipresence or omniscience. This limits his abilities to operate. While he is unable to be in multiple locations at the same time, he then uses technology to advance his abilities. Through this manner, he can be in each household through various means. He can track your movements, your habits and your vitals. He tracks the state of your health.

"He also uses advanced algorithms to predict your behaviors. He uses these algorithms to also try to predict your sins. This is why the Army of God is fighting a war in the heavens over all of this. Although he was not given omnipotence over the Earth, he was given the ability to work within God's perimeters."

Me: "That's evil and very scary!"

Jesus: "Yes. Apart from God, his plans for the world would have ended existence of man thousands of years ago. However, he does not control this. He also tried to wipe Israel out several times. He wanted to annihilate the Jewish people. His goal now is to wipe out all of Israel, as well as an entire race of people. This is an endeavor of evil proportions. He has begun this from several different sides and methods.

"Do not worry though, as the enemy will not succeed. In all things, be anxious for nothing, as I am with you. Greater is He Who is in you than he who is in the world. Rejoice, Erin, for I am with you. I am with your Nest friends."

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day here! Thank You for Your incredible grace and mercy. What You have done for us is truly a miracle. We are so very blessed by You. You answered my cries and granted us help. At times, my tears were daily. Father, I never want to take for granted anything You have done. I do not want to be a fool or ever act in arrogance or self-righteousness.

Please forgive me if, in the past, I ever acted this way. The enemy wants us to live in fear. Please release the grip of fear that has fallen upon Your people. Please deliver us. Please let Your Kingdom come, let Your Will be done, on Earth as it is in Heaven. Make Heaven visible through us.

Jesus: “Erin, come up!”

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: “I am here with you, Erin. This is different than the Holy Spirit. The Holy Spirit is like an unction, a Heavenly Two-Way Paging Device. Now I am with you. Wherever you go, I am with you. You only have to ask and I will answer. I will speak. Now, your concerns are valid. There are cases of the persecution of My people on grand scales. You have heard many bad reports, those that are told and are able to be reported on.

“However, so much of this is now canceled or filtered, never seeing the light of day. As you would say... truth is being suppressed. However, you must understand this... the New World Order is an evil government made of liars, injustice, racists and haters of God. This government now calls for silence and even the death of anyone who dares to speak the truth. The truth is now called lies and the lies are now called ‘the new truth’.

“All that you are accused of is exactly what they are doing. They are evil because this is the new order of evil on full display. Erin, the enemy was not given permission to be omnipresent. Being omnipresent is solely relegated to God in Heaven and the Son of God, the One who is in you. The enemy has devised a counterfeit whereby he can access anything he chooses, an artificial 'omnipresence'.

"This artificial 'omnipresence' is in the form of data and information. He is using this against My people now. He is planning a great wealth transfer from what little you have to those who have not earned it. Theft is next. This can come in many forms and can even be written into law. This includes taxes becoming increasingly unfair. They are trying to 'tax all hope'.

"They want to facilitate the taking of property for unjust reasons at any time and call it 'investigating an ongoing open case.' This then stalls the dissemination of information to the offended party. This then leads into a new plan... 'see it, want it, take it and then even have the original owners pay for it'."

Me: "Lord, this makes me sick. Oh Lord, please don't allow this. Please!"

Jesus: "Erin, North America was the last order of business and the first order of business. America sold out to foreigners decades ago. Many were then paid handsomely to ignore the sellout. There were warnings. There were clarion calls. While evil continuously progressed, much was hidden. In the year 2000, I gave you a great vision that came with instructions.

"Later on, on September 11, 2001, the Towers fell and the judgment clock started. No one stood at the 3rd, 4th and 5th watches of the night. I sent judgment. Whoever turns from their wickedness to Me will be saved. I then gave 19 years. In great compassion and in the last year, I then sent a punishing rod to the nations. This was one last warning to turn from wickedness and follow Me. Very few took up the challenge.

"The plague I sent kept people locked in their homes in isolation. While in isolation, the enemy gained more control. Some leaders verbally slipped the intentions of the New World Order. However, the news ignored it. Their plans of darkness are very evil. All are ordered to declare that there is NO New World Order until there is one and then there will be none left strong enough to fight it.

"They are erasing history. You only have to purchase history books at a used bookstore or dust off encyclopedias to see that much has already been erased. These sources will soon be the closest to the truth going forward. While your generation was taught how to read and write, your children only use their devices. These are then graded in school. However, who is it that controls the information found on these devices? Who spreads lies and filters truth? While this is the enemy, it was foretold and allowed.

“Erin, I can see that you are now worried. Why? Erin, I have carried you all this way and I am still carrying you. I know you are ill. I know you are worried. I know it feels like you are under attack from all sides. However, I am in you, your family and all those I have called. They are hidden and will remain concealed until I unveil you.

“There is still much to do. I will not let you fall. The enemy will not proclaim victory of any kind over you. I love you. Your heart is ever before Me. You have achieved what I have asked of you. As you are now... a great Arrow in My Quiver... why would I even consider crushing you now?”

Me: “You will if it is in Your Will, Lord?”

Jesus: “Oh Erin, this is not in My Will. I am the Archer. Is it of My benefit to fracture the Arrows in My Quiver? As a General over My Army, is it smart to dishearten and injure My best fighting warriors? Just as a Quiver of Arrows are concealed, so too are the fighting warriors hidden until I use them to remove the enemy. They can try to call, taunt, threaten and even cajole. However, what I conceal, no scheme of man will uncover, understand? Now, I know you question My plans at times.”

Me: “Lord, I don’t question Your plans. I instead question my abilities... or capabilities... to understand them. I try to look to Your promises. I then wonder if this is all for Heaven and not for here on Earth.”

Jesus: “Then ask Me! I am here in all watches of the day and night. I am here in your comings and your goings. You are beginning to breakaway from the world. This is happening slowly, but surely. The enemy, along with those envious it is not them, will later study your past habits and say...

“What? This makes no sense! A child of God with such great abilities should not need to replace a worn-out appliance. She should not need to purchase medicine. Why do they not attend a church on a regular basis? Why does she buy goods from discount places and thrift stores? Why would God choose an old sickly bride, one who comes from such poor DNA? She is of mixed race! This woman has gone bankrupt. God would surely not choose someone such as her.

“Well, Erin, I tell you the truth... I have chosen you. You are My Bride. I am with you. Do not worry. Give all that you have to Me. I am about to change everything.”

Me: “I know You will... but when? When, Lord? Please hurry!

Jesus: “Erin, remember My promises. I have not taken you this far to remove My favor. I dwell in you now. You are a daughter of the King. Erin, I gave you all you have and I will give you even more. I am about to do something so great that you cannot even imagine it.”

Me: “Yes, Lord.”

Jesus: “I have you, Erin. Do not worry. I love you. Enjoy the day. Rejoice!”

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for allowing me another dawn to wake up to. Father, I love You and I am thankful for You granting me breath in my lungs and joy in my heart. Although my body is ill, I can rejoice in gratitude that You take care of all things. Though this life has brought me great pain, I am so very blessed to have come to know You. I love You, Father, and You love me. I am blessed to have become Your friend.

Father, when doctors give bad reports, it makes me look back to the promises You gave me to see if these align with what You wrote and signed. They do not. Either Your time of Great Changes are any day now or I might have to endure troubles and treatments prior to Your Grand Miracles.

Today is my Sabbath rest day. To keep myself busy off and on for the last 12 days, I decorated for Christmas. In a Personal Word, You had told me to go ahead and start decorating early this year. I know there are a lot of Christians opposed to Christmas. However, I don't worship Christmas decorations or things that are commercial in nature. Father, I worship You and You alone. You are the Maker of this season.

You are also the Creator of Hanukkah, the Festival of Lights. In each home, it is the celebration of joy and family. If it is not a celebration due to circumstances, it is still the promise of a future celebration. Regardless, I just love the lights. I have always enjoyed the lights and so have my children. However, all of my fond distant memories of Christmas tended to occur at our relative's homes.

As for my childhood home, we never set up a tree. This lack of tree was a 'tradition' in both my elementary and middle school years. Either way, our home was not associated with any real Christmas memories. After we moved to Idaho and I was attending high school, we then made some Christmas memories. However, my most unusual memories centers around our Christmas in 1975 when I was almost 13 years old.

For Christmas 1975, we traveled throughout the USA. My mom purchased a brand-new Ford Econoline Van. It was green in color in honor of my late stepdad's favorite color. We took three months off from school and traveled to historical sites across the USA. When Christmas arrived, my mom purchased a small live potted pine tree. We decorated it with special items we had found during our trip. The actual day of Christmas in 1975 was spent in a campground near Washington DC... a real adventure.

I don't know if I have ever topped that adventure for my own children. However, without even realizing it and when I look back, I actually did create fairly stable Christmas traditions and memories. Each one of our children looks forward to this. Thank You, Father. We invite You into our home everyday and pray You never leave us.

Me: "Oh Father, please provide an Open Heaven over us! Please pour down healing rains. Please heal us. Please display so much goodness through us that we are overwhelmed by all of You. I am joyful, excited and scared all at the same time."

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "I am here, Erin. I have not forgotten you."

Me: "Sometimes I feel forgotten. The doctors' reports are not good. Please let me live. I want to be here to see all that You have promised. I want to live, Lord. I want to make it back to Bend OR someday. I want to see my children into adulthood. I want to remain here. Please do not keep us hidden for much longer, Lord."

Jesus: "I have heard your cries. I promise that you will live in My Fullness of Glory. I promise I will shine upon your face with the luster of My Light. I am not finished with you, Erin. I am in you and My Glory will come upon you in full measure. As the enemy has his regiments and various branches of soldiers, so too do I. However, Mine are more varied and more powerful.

"I know that you hear of miracles in one area and an outbreak of revival in a distant land. These are but small contractions as My larger birth of the Manifestation of Heaven is about to be revealed. I know you are discouraged and grow tired of hearing Me say 'wait for it!'; However, I promise to deliver on My Words.

"Now, there is not one person apart from those I have sent who would say 'one of the Hidden is in Erin's household!' You display nothing to point the adversary your way at all. You are rarely on technology. Your physical disabilities and other illnesses make you least likely to be one of My Hidden.

When I hide My people... well, I truly hide them. There is a reason I have kept you without successes as well.

"Now, relax and know that I am God. The world is not expecting you, your family or your friends. The world is expecting large public proclamations and displays. The world is expecting television appearances and other 'airway technologies' displaying massive congregations and key note preachers.

"While these are good and have had their times, there will soon be an even greater outpouring and display. This outpouring and display will not be focused on one man. This outpouring and display will be focused on God and His Kingdom and only on God and His Kingdom.

"Erin, no 'one man' will be a savior. This will be how you will know the difference between My Glory and that of the world. The times of self-edification have inactivated many who claimed to be called by Me. While I did call many of these, they then rose by their own power and I then became less as they then became more.

"Now, do not confuse this with publicly shouting that the Kingdom of Heaven is near. There are those I have called as clarions of this time. However, beware that there will also be counterfeit displays to My miracles. This will be through sorcery and illusion. This happened back in the times of Moses and Aaron in front of the Pharaoh and will be repeated in these times.

"That same spirit is alive today and stands ready to stand against the Kingdom of Righteousness. However, not one of them is prepared... no scheme of man, no savior for evil... will anticipate what has never been done before by Me. While you believe that you understand what is coming based on your dreams that I have sent in advance to prepare you, you cannot fully comprehend what comes until it is actually upon you! As of right now...

- The enemy sees Me as weak and silent.
- This man (the emerging world leader) works overtime to call Me out.
- This man mocks and rivals My Truth and spins a web of great deceit.
- Ordinary men are no match for this man who claims to be everywhere, yet, to Me, is nowhere.
- This man changes small things only to then segue them into much grander punishments and restrictions.
- This man enjoys taking away that which is good and adding that which is bad.
- This man enjoys sorrow and despises laughter.

- This man pants after wailing prayers like course nails against steel vs sweet uplifting prayers and sweet melodies of healing praises.
- This man prefers fighting and invasions to peace and abundant living in the lands of the free.
- This man feels safer when criminals are free and feels threatened when safety and freedom from fear is practiced.
- This man is the 'man of chaos'.
- This man sends bad news, lies and upheaval so that people will run after him to save them.
- This man seeks to remove rules and government so that he can again rise to power unopposed.
- This man has leaders who chase after him.

"Even though these are his plans, his plans will not prevail. I am God and I will not be mocked. The man with 'cloven feet' will not remain during the times of My Army. I am God over him. Beautiful are the feet who send Good News. Cloven are the feet of those who spread lies and blasphemies. I know where this man resides. While I know this man's comings and goings, he does not know Mine.

"Erin, I have not forgotten My people. I will protect those whom remain under My Wings. Allow Me to carry you. Your freedom is with Me. The life-giving words of My Spirit is in you. Do not worry."

Me: "Oh Lord, Your people are worn down and tired now. The enemy is aggressive and his aggressiveness now increases without ceasing. All we hear about now is more and more bad news. All we hear about now is doom and gloom."

Jesus: "I know that you are disheartened, as are many others on the Nest. There are many good reasons for feeling this way. Still, I know you are weary. I know you ask yourself 'am I going mad?' However, you are not. Erin, if I had told you 21 years ago that I have something special planned for you, but it will mean...

- That you will be obscure and, at times, fighting the world.
- That you would often be alone with no one to help you.
- That you would remain ill, not being able to do much other than write in journals.

"While still at the top of your career, would you have taken up that cross? Would you have done this knowing it would mean..."

- That you would be a slave to others.
- That others would take all the credit for your work.
- That others not as trained would be elevated and would mock you.
- That your sons and daughter would struggle greatly.

“Would you have done all these things for this special call of God? Erin, would you?”

Me: “When You put it this way, would anyone? Still, Lord, I am glad I did. My husband and I run after You. His children and my children run after You. Our Nest runs after You. I have seen the place You have prepared for all those who love You. It is beautiful beyond words. Heaven is a place filled with good things... the best fruit and bread... but, really, all food in general. All that is there is pure and perfect.

“The water there lives and gives life. The air there is pure and exhilarating. Everything lives there because Your breath has breathed life into all of it. There is nothing dead there. Things we were told that would never be in Heaven, like animals and furry companions, are there. The lions lay down and rest with the lambs in green pastures.

“There is nothing annoying or disturbing. There is no fear or anxiety. There are no locks. There are no trespassers. There are so many discoveries waiting for us in Heaven that there is no way to even describe all that You have planned for all those who love You.

“Without my heart stopping in 2004 and 2008, I am not sure I would have been able to endure this long suffering. Well, if I really put this into perspective... what is waiting just a little longer when so many souls are now at stake.”

Jesus: “Very good. You are correct. Without great notoriety, public acclaim and public visibility, very few would agree to this.”

Me: “Okay, Lord, so what is next? Watching everything going into destruction is hard.”

Jesus: “Yes. The gates of hell are now on display on the Earth. Well then, what will it be like when Heaven is put on display on the Earth instead. This will be quite the contrast, will it not?”

Me: “Oh yes, absolutely! Please, Lord, do this soon... as in now... as in immediately!”

Jesus: “I have you, Erin. Now, the leader currently in power was given his injection. This injection then amplified his condition. His condition is now on full display. Very soon, he will become hard to control. While this is by the enemy's design, it has been allowed by Me."

Me: "So, this vaccine enhances our illnesses? Exactly what kind of vaccine is this?"

Jesus: "Unfortunately, it wakes up that which is asleep and unveils the hidden enemy within. You are not to worry though, Erin, as those forced to take this will not be harmed. There are even more sinister plots in the works behind the scenes. However, all will now be brought to the forefront.

"Now, do not worry. Greater is He Who is in you than the 'little he' who is in the world. Rejoice, Erin, for the Kingdom of Heaven is now here."

Dream over.

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day here! Thank You for Your love and affection. Thank You for Your signs and wonders. I have been in great distress. This last week, You have allowed so much bad news that I can barely believe all of it. In my dreams, I have been inundated with so many spiritual signs, I can barely remember every detail. Yesterday, and for the first time in a while, I spent time praising You and really crying.

I have not had a free flow of tears like this for at least a few weeks. It must have been time. While I should deal with difficulties by handing things over to God, my habit is to panic instead. I then map a course, 'my course'. I then finally realize all is futile... yet again... and turn back to God for His Guidance and Love.

I must admit that I was mad at the Lord this week. I am facing an illness I thought was gone by God's Grace years ago... eight years ago to be exact. I have been moved up to the front of the line for treatment. Father, do I take it? Has it gone too far since I am exhibiting stage 3 of symptoms? I have beautiful curly hair. Will I lose it?

Then, on top of this, my disability case is now to be determined by one bitter case manager. There will likely be an even longer battle ahead. As for all three of my children, they have unique battles at their places of work. Two of them just left their jobs this week after just a few shifts. As for my youngest son, he stays. However, he is being taken advantage of by being given all of the late-night closing shifts.

On top of all of this, the symptoms I was told by my neurosurgeon to look for are also here. I find myself ignoring this though as I do not see how they line up with God's promises. The letters on the page sometime appear to be doubled. My headaches are becoming worse.

It now takes a really long time to read or reply to an email or a text. When I type my words, they are no longer clear. Still, when I start to panic, I then hear You say 'I am here, Erin. Do not worry. I am with you.' Here is the miraculous part though... when I write down words in my journal, they are clear. My eyesight remains clear. This makes it 'clear' to Me that He is right here with me.

I met a friend from Oregon who now lives out here. I met her for coffee and we went thrift store shopping. I had been pouting because nothing has happened as I had been praying. I also felt the Lord has been mad at me since I have been mad at Him. While I obviously still love Him, I was just downcast, asking the Nest for prayers. I had also been struggling to find comfortable shoes for my injured foot.

Well, both feet have now been in pain. It is rare that I ever find a pair of shoes at a thrift store. In fact, I donate good shoes. However, I find most people only donate old smelly shoes. I learned a long time ago though from God that one should never donate things that are not in good enough shape for someone else to wear.

Anyway, while in this thrift store, I turned down an aisle and saw a wonderful brand-new pair of sneakers with a cluster of crystal flowered buckles. I laughed and thought 'wow, these are fun!' They had a European size and a name of a French designer I had never heard of. I tried them on and they fit perfectly. They were so comfortable.

Not thinking anymore of it, I proceeded to purchase the shoes for $44. While expensive for a thrift store if in used condition, these were reasonably priced for new shoes. When I got home, I showed my husband and asked for his opinion. I loved his reply. He said 'Wow, they are so cute. Beautiful are the feet who brings Good News!' We then laughed as they were such unusual shoes, truly one of a kind and so pretty.

After dinner, I went to rest. I was now exhausted and weak. For fun, I decided to look up the maker of the shoes. They were so comfortable, I was wondering if they had other styles and if they were reasonably priced. Well, let me tell you... I was in complete shock! The shoes were a very current style and selling at very high-end stores, some for almost $2,000. Nordstrom was 'the cheapest' at 'only' $1,295!

Now I truly knew this had to be from God. Why would anyone give away a new pair of sneakers worth that much money? While I am not a shoe person, I have rarely ever spent over $100 for even a pair of winter boots. At this price, I have to admit that I am even afraid to wear them. Still, they only cost me $44. While these were clearly a gift from God, should I try to sell them instead? Hmm, they just fit so perfectly!

When I later spoke about my 'amazing bargain find' with my husband and kids, all of them said I should wear them and that God wanted me to have them. Well, I will take their advice and wear them on the next good weather day. Perhaps this might only be for a few days before winter comes in and then I will wait again until spring. Thank You, Father, for the most comfortable shoes imaginable 'this side of Heaven'.

Sub-dream 1 "The Spider in the Dimly Lit Room" begins...

I was in a dimly lit apartment with white walls and no furniture. There seemed to be no power. There were two or three black extension cords draped across the carpet. I could see they were unplugged and led to lamps. However, I could not see clearly enough to find an outlet. I picked up one of the cords. Right next to my hand was a massive black spider.

I took the heavy extension cord and slammed it down on the spider. I must have killed it as it remained motionless. Suddenly, one of its severed legs came at me. The setting was so dark, but not too dark. It was just light enough that I could see this thing coming at me, but not clearly. The Lord then quickly reminded me of Matthew 25:7 and that He is always looking after me.

Sub-dream 1 over...

Oh Lord, my light is being consumed by my circumstances. Even though You are with me and all I have to do is ask You, I instead stumble around in a dimly-lit apartment. I am looking for the socket to plug the cord to my lamp in. Is this like looking for oil for a lamp? I recognize when the enemy lurks there in the darkness and I work quickly to destroy it. However, the enemy still pursues me even with just one leg.

Sub-dream 2 "Time to Usher in a New Era" begins...

I witnessed a van driving out to all the farmlands. They were measuring their worth. Some families were removed from their farms because they were unable to purchase equipment that met their standards to operate. They either had to comply or pay penalties. Unable to do either, families were then forced to hand over their properties to the men in the white vans.

Man in the white van addressing the families: "It is time to usher in a new era!"

The families were quiet and in tears. I then saw an open flatbed truck pick up each family, along with their keepsakes, clothing and wares, and drive them to a type of tent city. The conditions there were incredibly poor. They had an open-air trade market with dirt walkways. There were no restrooms, just portable waste units. The smell was terrible. The facility was surrounded by a barbed wire fence.

Sub-dream 2 over...

This sub-dream seamlessly morphed into a real-life situation later in the day when I saw a white van driving down the road with the letters U S H R on the side. The white van had a slide bar roof rack with cameras and satellite equipment. It looked like the Google Map Car with the multiple cameras. There was also a sentence on the van saying 'Surveying made easy' (or something to that effect).

I was in shock as God was obviously showing me something. Why USHR? Well, I then found out that USHR in Islam is a form of agricultural tax. Are they preparing to implement a forced tithe / tax on non-Muslims? This seems diabolical. I never thought that I would ever see this where we live!

Sub-dream 3 "Closing Sale in Japan" begins...

I was in Japan visiting. I was looking for a particular church. No matter where I went, I could not find this church. Before I was able to find this church, I was contacted by my friends. They wanted to meet with me at a restaurant that served 'continental food'. Even though I was not sure what 'continental food' meant, I decided to still meet them. As I was entering the restaurant, I saw a sign for an antiquities dealer called 'Shojis'.

I glanced inside the store through a window and I saw that there were beautiful displays in various rooms with screens. A sign over the door said 'Our Door is Always Open!' However, another sign said 'Store Closing – All Must Go!' I noticed that no one was entering the store. Just then, the hostess from the restaurant came to take me to the table with my friends. When I arrived, I was still curious about the neighboring store.

Me: "What is the story on Shojis, the store next door?"

Friend 1: "What? Have you not heard?"

Friend 2: "This is why you are here. Japan has fallen to China. All antiquities and historical evidence of Japan's existence are now being removed. It is now illegal to own anything Japanese. All the people are subject to the new way. The owner of the store is just trying to sell it all or even give it away before they come for him."

Friend 1: "Unfortunately, he will be killed. His family is royalty and they are marked for slaughter. He is trying to preserve their history, the history of the Japanese people."

Me: "Given that there is a war coming and they know it, why are there so many people here still functioning as normal, especially given the coming invasion?"

Friend 2: "Honor before surrender."

Me: "Hmm, I got it. No churches will be allowed either, right?"

Friend 1: "No. They do not know about Jesus as this was not taught to them here."

Me: "Well, I hope you don't mind, but I am going to go into Shojis now."

I went over and knocked on the door to Shojis. What I saw contained within the store was quite beautiful. The man came over to me and spoke to me in broken English.

Man: "Please come in and look around."

Me: "How much for everything?"

Man: In shock. "What would you do with it?"

Me: "Relocate it."

Man: Laughing. "Impossible. They are coming."

Me: "The God of Heaven has sent me. He is greater than they are."

Man: "No, that is impossible."

Me: "God has not forgotten the Japanese people. He has a great plan. Now, how much for all of it?"

Man: "You can have all of it for $100,000."

I heard the Lord tell me that this was worth a few million and to make the deal.

Me: Smiling. "Okay, deal!"

Just then, there was a knock on the door. It was an angel of the Lord. He had arrived with a briefcase. He stepped in and opened the briefcase. It was full of cash. The man turned as white as a ghost. The angel then spoke in Japanese to the man. The man dropped down before the angel. When the man looked back up, the angel was gone, but the briefcase remained. The man took the money. As soon as he did, all of his inventory was gone to the naked eye. The man trembled.

Me: "The army is coming for you. However, do not fear. All of you will now be removed to a distant land where you will talk to the Lord."

Man: "Thank you. Yes, please help us."

In an instant, the man was gone. Just then, I could hear the distinct sound of artillery starting up. I was then also removed in an instant.

Sub-dream 3 over...

Me: "Oh Lord, that was such an intense dream. Is China about to invade Japan?"

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "Oh Erin, be at peace. You worry about many things. Is any of this something you can control? Hmm, Little Sparrow?"

Me: "No, Lord, there is nothing. All I can control is my reaction."

Jesus: "Share with Me about your name. What did you find?"

Me: "I found out that the Hebrew meaning of my name is Shulamite."

Jesus: "Shulamite. Erin, do you not see who you are yet?"

Me: "Like a Bride?"

Jesus: "Yes, but what are you like? Pick any woman in My Word. Who are you most like?"

Me: "I had hoped Esther, but perhaps not?"

Jesus: "Erin, read Song of Solomon, the Song of Songs. This is a grand love story. You are just like the Shulamite. You worry. You go out to see if I am there. You think yourself not worthy. You chase after Me and I you. While you were once apart from Me, you then became My Bride, My Love. In turn, you love Me. (Song of Solomon 1:11 and 3:1-5)"

Me: "But, Lord, the woman does not open the door when her love knocks. Then when she discovers her mistake, she runs after him only to find him gone. (Song of Solomon 5:2-8)"

Jesus: "Well, there is a favorable difference when it comes to 'our Story'! When I knocked, you ran and opened the door. You opened the door every time I knocked to let Me in. The Song of Solomon is a cautionary tale. By opening the door each time I knocked, you avoided the outcome in the Song of Solomon. Erin, I am now in you. However, at times, you are still functioning as if I will reject you for no good cause.

"Take comfort, Erin, for I have made closed-ended promises to you, not open-ended. When have I said 'if only you would do such an such, you will be healed'? No, Erin, I have instead said 'you will be healed 'period', understand? While to have a love and fear of God is good, to live in fear of the One Who loves you defies logic. Now, what have I done to show you that I don't love you in return?"

Me: "Nothing. If anything, You pour out even more love. I am so grateful."

Jesus: "I chose you because you still think like a young Bride to be preparing to meet her Groom. You worry that I will not find you pleasing. You worry that I will find you unworthy. Erin, I do not and will not reject you. I lift up your head instead."

Me: "Lord, when I face troubles, I wonder if it is because I am out of Your favor."

Jesus: "How can you be out of My favor when we are now in an even closer communion than ever? When you go a wrong way, I stop it. When you speak your own tongue, I am quiet. You are quick to correct a wrong and I am quick to bless you because of it. You know that, aside from Me, there is no thing that is good. We are together now. You are now experiencing 'The Great Auto-Correct of God!'"

Me: Laughing. "Oh Lord, that is exactly what it is like now."

Jesus: "Now though, trust when I place something on your heart more than once that this is the Holy Spirit confirming a direction. Then ask Me for instructions. I am here."

Me: "Lord, did You send me those shoes?"

Jesus: "All good things come from Me. I am God and I am allowed to bless you. You are a daughter of the King."

Me: "So, You want me to actually wear them? Should I not sell them instead?"

Jesus: "Okay, so, God has given you a gift, but you now determine that the gift is too wonderful for you. You then sell it to the highest bidder? Hmm..."

Me: "Forgive me, Lord. I was raised that I did not deserve fancy things. I felt guilty with things too wonderful for me."

Jesus: "Are you planning to display the shoes and worship them instead of wearing them? No. This would be foolishness. Wear them and think of Me. When I give you a treasure, do not brag of the item, but instead brag about the God, your God, who loves you. You are not flashy. You do not own those designer pajamas you once did.

"If people judge you without knowing you, I will then judge them by the same hypocritical measure. Pray for them. According to God, you have more than paid the price. Now, God knows you are struggling. The angels are helping Me to lineup 'The Gift'. Now rejoice!"

Me: "Around these parts, barely anyone would even know about this brand of shoe. Who here could even afford such a shoe?"

Jesus: "Hmm, then no one will really pay attention."

Me: "I will sparkle!"

Jesus: "To Me, you have always sparkled."

Me: "I love You, Lord."

Jesus: "I love you, Erin, Princess of Peace. Now, you are dealing with a hidden enemy who operates in dim conditions. Remember that I am your Light. Darkness is sweeping across the nations. There are great signs of war soon to come. Great provocateurs have begun to gather their armies. However, greater is the Army of God than any of these.

"If I can send you a pair of high dollar shoes out in the middle of nowhere at the price of a package of meat, I can then do anything. Remember that I also had to call you there at the very moment the shoes were placed on the floor. Not only that, but the shoes had to fit you perfectly... which they do. You needed Me to lift your head and I chose to do it this way.

"Now, about the Japanese people... they are far from Me right now. They have remained behind shut doors and Shoji screens. However, I will soon call out to them. I will not desert them. Though they are far from Me, I will still pursue them. A Great Revival will then reach them and their enemies will be kept at bay.

"Erin, do not worry as I have reign over all things. While the enemy seems to be gaining ground, they are not. I have revealed their plans to My people and many will rise up against their evil schemes. However, a Great Wave of Heaven will come first. Erin, this Great Wave is coming! Rejoice, Erin, rejoice, as the enemy will not prevail."

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day! Thank You for Your love and affection. Your friendship and grace have been lovely. I can never give You enough or honor You enough. Thank You for pursuing me. Thank You for Your boundless love and Your mercy for this once lost Shulamite girl.

Thank You again for my amazing 'Wedding Shoes' (see Dream 534 for details). While I received these shoes from You on Tuesday, November 9, 2021 from a Thrift Store, I finally wore them for the first time yesterday. They are one of my most comfy shoes ever! As for my daughter, she is 3000 miles away from home. She is truly in Your hands now, Father. Please send her to a safe place and protect her.

This last week, we were under attack from so many different angles. The unbelievable thing is You gave me the warnings so I was on high alert. However, I did not know which direction the attacks were to come. After last night's dream, I now understand the plans of the enemy. However, I am here now asking You for help. Lord, I need Your grace and mercy. Without You, we are going to fall victim to a fate comparable to the Jewish people in Nazi Germany circa WWII.

When things go down, the public eye will no longer be on Israel. What would possibly cause this? First of all, a complete lack of media coverage. Any coverage there is will be biased against Israel. Without a strong partner in the USA, which President Biden is not, Israel is essentially helpless against her vast surrounding enemies (unless, of course, You intervene with Your Unlimited Power).

As for other parts of the world, charges will soon be brought against almost every Christian. Anyone who has verbally or electronically spoken against the beast's end-time system will be arrested with all of their property seized. While they will be told of a coming trial, it will remain pending even as the years go by. Again, this is the enemy's plan, not God's plan. God trumps the enemy.

Yes, there will be no more investigations, no more defense and no more evidence submitted. The predictable verdict will then come and all you have will be seized. If you were ever a freedom defender, you will be a primary target. All duplicity will be removed. The enemy is looking to implement 'One Order, One Way, One Government'. I had a dream last night...

Sub-dream 1 "The Fire Spreads from Kenosha" begins...

A fire began in Kenosha and spread from there. City after city fell and great fear gripped the land. Christmas was cancelled. Families were unable to reunite or travel as all roads were too dangerous to travel. Marauding groups of criminals were seizing vehicles. They were robbing and murdering occupants. Even the backroads were dangerous. Anarchy was spreading rapidly.

Sub-dream 1 over.

Again, this dream represents the enemy's plans, not God's plans. Only He knows the great plans He has for His Great Plan. The enemy is attacking our finances right now. Without any proof, the Social Security department said we owe back $13,000 for my older son. How is this even possible given that we didn't even receive any benefits for him?

Then there is a different $13,000 related to student loans. I was originally told by the government that these were written off due to my disability. They were never to be reinstated. A day after the first $13,000, I received a notice for this second $13,000.

My L&I benefit is also being decided right now. While I can fight this, and I probably will by using my L&I lawyer, the government always has the advantage. Not only that, but this is an attack on my privacy. For a full rebuttal, they are expecting me to show all of my bank account records. My lawyer doesn't believe we have to, but I am sticking with that, at least for now. Well, there you have it. I had another dream last night...

Sub-dream 2 "Hungry? Poisoned Cake anyone?" begins...

I saw the enemy striking out against the people in waves. All notes were called in. Very few had the money to pay all of their debts. Many had to then surrender their properties. Many burned down their properties rather than surrender them...

- All accounts were given to the government.
- All food and electricity were controlled by the government.
- Cars were abandoned due to the removal of gas and propane.

- Electronic devices were left off so as to not alert the authorities.
- The government left the sick and elderly to die in their homes and hospitals.
- While criminals enjoyed pillaging at first, there were soon too few victims left.
- All gold, silver and precious items were taken to the government's storehouses.
- Medications were controlled by the government.
- The mentally unstable were killed off.
- Those fit for work were issued food instead of pay.

I then saw an apartment with no electricity. There were five people living in this two-bedroom apartment. It was two separate families forced to live together. There was a knock on the door for the daily food rations. They then received bread, water and some supplements that acted as a substitute for vegetables and meat.

One day, the families put their money together to celebrate a birthday. They had each worked extra hours in exchange for placing a plaque on the door requesting the delivery of a celebratory cake. When the cake box arrived, the cake pieces were not as expected. This was supposed to be real birthday cake slices. It was instead five triangular popovers in filo dough with a sugar glaze.

When they then flipped the popovers over, they noticed that each of the five pastries had one of their names on it. They also noticed that two of them had pink frosting and three of them had purple frosting. This immediately brought up some suspicions.

Occupant 1: "Did any of you have a bad day today or do something wrong?"

Occupant 2: "Yes. I was accused of being slow even though I kept up."

Occupant 3: "Yes. I was accused right after by the same person."

Occupant 4: "It was business as usual for me."

Occupant 5: "Me too."

They then noticed that the two misfits (occupants 2 and 3) were the ones with the pink frosting. Again, this brought up suspicions.

Occupant 1: "Well, it looks like the pink frosting is actually poison. Two of us have been marked for death. However, I say let's divide all the cakes equally and everyone have some of each colored frosting. If we die, we at least won't be hungry anymore."

After this, they cut up the pastries and evenly distributed them. They ate the pink frosting ones first and then the purple frosting ones after. To their surprise, nothing happened.

Occupant 3: "Hmm, either this wasn't poisoned or God protected us."

Occupant 4: "I am pretty sure it was God."

They then heard a knock on the door about an hour later. They opened the door and it was the authorities. The officers looked confused.

One Officer: "You are all fine? Is no one sick?"

Occupant 1: "We are all fine."

The officers then left scratching their heads. Unbeknownst to any of them, Jeff Bezos was across the street watching all of this with his binoculars. He was wearing a navy-colored pea coat and a knit beanie. When he saw the officers leave without a body, he put sunglasses on and turned with a smile. He then made his exit.

Sub-dream 2 over.

Me: "Lord, that was such an odd dream. Why Jeff Bezos? Oh Lord, I am scared. No, make that really scared. So many things are coming against us right now."

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "Erin, I am in you now. I do not appear in your dreams or visions now. I am with you. You are under attack because the enemy of this world knows you are Mine. I will direct you in the ways you should go. Just ask Me. However, you must also understand that the enemy has taken over swiftly across the nations. They have not only burned certain cities, they have dismantled justice in secret. Nothing is protected.

"Even those who believe they are hidden are of even more interest to them. Erin, I know you are worried about many things. However, you are not to worry. I have you. The enemy likes the courts of public opinion. He also likes public exposure without trial. The enemy desires to tax every gift of God and humiliate you, turning you over to angry mobs. However, this is only his plan. I am bigger than the enemy and I have a much greater plan for you."

Me: "Lord, all of this just feels like relentless attacks. My stomach is sick and I can't get comfortable. While I haven't done anything wrong, I am still being treated like I have. They want to punish me for simply existing. I am anxious and struggling with all of the horrible news. I fear that, if You don't do something soon, I won't make it. I am growing tired from these battles. I am already so weary."

Jesus: "Erin, I am in control. Even though you have done nothing wrong, the enemy enjoys robbing you of all hope. Now, I know you are worried about so many things. However, what, if anything, can you do to defend yourself? What can you do to heal yourself? How can you fight as you currently are?"

Me: "Oh Lord, I can't do anything on my own. Only You can. Only You!"

Jesus: "Then you are in a good place. Erin, what differently could be done to stop all that has happened?"

Me: "Nothing."

Jesus: "Then let Me be God, Erin. I will provide for you. I will not forsake you. I have a Great Plan, but you must let Me work in and through all things. The enemy is currently enjoying victories against My people, My Church, the Justice Systems, the banks and the institutions of learning. They have sent an evil rain across the nations. However, all of it is Mine. I am God and I do not give favor to evil. I will raise up an army the likes which have never been seen. Be patient, Erin."

Me: "Oh Lord, no! For how much longer?"

Jesus: "Do not worry, Erin, as this will be much sooner than you think. Now, give all your troubles to Me. I have you. I have your Nest, your husband, your children and your friends. I am now with you. Greater is He Who is in you than he who is in the world. The world is changing, but do not worry. My plan is coming into the light and all darkness will soon flee.

"The enemy's wicked plots will soon be exposed. Liars will confess as they flee. Now rejoice, Erin, and do not worry. Erin, if you could see all that I have done for you from the beginning until the end, you would be amazed. However, I will not stop. My favor is upon you. Any plans set in motion against you will not prosper. I will not allow it. I delight in you. I love you."

Dream over.

536 – The Lord sends His Angels Ahead of the Battle

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day! Thank You for all You do. The last two weeks have been the most discouraging to date. All areas in our lives are under attack...

- Spiritual
- Physical / Health
- Financial / Provisional
- Relational
- Emotional

After three months of relative peace, the enemy has been hammering away at us the last little while. I have cried at random times. I had to go back over old files and documents once again. This stirred up memories of long-ago agonizing battles. It was only through the miracles of You that we endured. I certainly never did anything aside from You that was beneficial.

When combing through documents, I saw times when I had become disheartened. I lost so many of my battles. It was so difficult because it was as if no one read the evidence given to them on my behalf. I was instead judged based on my circumstances and not by the acts of the one who caused all of this. The bottom line seemed to be that I was stupid and somehow deserving of what was happening to me. I guess they figured my children deserved it too.

I found the photos from the police in a file of my youngest son when he was only five. Time had somehow lessened my memory of how bad the beating was from his father, the one man who should have been protecting him instead. So much flooded my memories within seconds of looking over this evidence against this 'man'. After this flood of memories, I began to wrestle with You.

I mourned for anyone who has gone through this with a child. I am just so thankful my son is still alive. With my personal ambitions removed, I made my children my priority. I spent day after day on my knees to You without knowing if You had heard me. I thought I could be like the 'persistent widow' in Luke 18:1-8. I thought that You would then get tired of hearing from me day and night and would finally turn Your face towards me and help.

Well, You ended up doing so much more than this. You returned all of my children to me. Even though I have still not been vindicated, people still sought me out to work on their home designs. It made no sense. If I was such a horrible person, why would they want to still do business with me. I feel I now know why. I believe these people knew in their hearts that what was said of me were complete lies.

As I continued to go through documents, I dialogued with You. Father, I still have so many questions about all that has occurred. My personal battles were long and unfair. They never seemed to really end. The effects of harm done by evil against the innocent has long-lasting effects. In just a short period of time, something horrible and tragic can destroy the goodness of a joyful life.

Father, I wrestled with You. At times, I am still mad at all that I had to endure. I went through the five stages of grief. I am accepting that I cannot change anything here. This is clearly Your show and always has been. As I sat there gathering my necessary documents, my sight grew dim. The many lamps in my devotional room were no longer helping me to see. Since I could no longer make out the pages, I stopped.

Oh Lord, my candle is now burning so low. Each one of our children is struggling with unfair situations. There can be no other reason for this than us having to be closer than ever to Your coming Great Move! Father, I am now looking for the incredible. As I shared my thoughts with you, a chickadee landed on my window screen. He was only inches from my head and actively talking to me. I smiled as I wrote down my dream...

Sub-dream 1 "Questions from Strangers" begins...

Lately, my dreams have involved neighbors and other people I don't really know approaching me with questions about You. At least three of them involved people approaching me who weren't Christians. These non-Christians then treated me as if I were a psychic. Each one had separate questions...

- One had questions about the death of a loved one. Where did they go?
- Another was a young man who wanted to know if he should take a fellowship in a distant city.
- Another asked me about the forgiveness of God.

In these dreams, You had given me supernatural knowledge about each of them. Even though the answers from You could be brutal, they continued to pursue the truth. It was then that I understood how someone bent on evil could easily manipulate vulnerable people like those in my dreams that are looking for answers. I prayed to the Lord for their protection and to lead them to trustworthy sources instead.

Sub-dream 1 over...

Sub-dream 2 "Teaching on How to Properly React" begins...

I was meeting other people that were 'unlikable'. The Lord then had me hold off reacting. He then showed me that there were layers to the evil behind a situation that were far greater than I realized. While He then had me help some, He also had me skillfully avoid others. He taught me to stay silent when being falsely accused. He also taught me to answer truth with truth.

Sub-dream 2 over...

After experiencing my 'dimly lit room', I knew that God was showing me a more deceptive plot in place of which no light could be shed if I continued to try and prove my case. What He then directed me to do was incredibly brilliant. It was so brilliant that I knew it had to come from Him. When I told my husband, he wholeheartedly agreed that such brilliant advice could only come from God.

I had an interesting visit with my friend from Portland OR on the morning of Friday, November 19, 2021, just a few hours after the longest partial blood moon lunar eclipse in a span of over 1000 years. While I didn't have much time to meet with her, we had fun visiting a couple of our favorite thrift stores. Things felt ominous though, not only because of the blood moon, but also because we were waiting for the verdict on Kyle Rittenhouse. While not sure, I really felt that this was a significant day to You.

We then went into the first thrift store. When I entered the store, I was immediately drawn to a doll about 14 inches high on a doll stand. While I do not collect dolls nor do I ever even really look at them, this one seemed quite different to me. I picked it up knowing it was very valuable as it was in perfect condition.

All of her clothes looked handmade. She wore a blue wool jacket, a blue plaid linen dress, white linen undergarments and blue leather shoes. She also wore a hat that matched her jacket. She had blue eyes and long curly golden hair. Unlike so many dolls, her face was not scary at all.

The price for this beautiful doll was only $8, so I picked it up. I then looked for some identifier. However, no matter how hard I looked, I could not find a signature, a tag or a mark of any kind. I walked around the store with it. I was still trying to decide if I should keep this doll. My friend looked at what was in my cart with complete shock.

Friend: "Why do you have that?"

Me: "I am not really sure. There is something about it. My husband will surely think I have lost my marbles as he knows that I don't collect dolls."

Friend: "Hmm, she looks a lot like your daughter."

Me: "Well, yes, I guess she does."

Friend: Looking at me like I was crazy. "Well, I guess you did find that one really high-end bear that one time. You know what you are doing."

Me: "For the price of a latte, it is worth the risk. Someone spent many hours on this. I have never seen anything quite like her before."

Friend: Shrugging her shoulders. "The resale doll market is horrible."

Me: "I would keep this. If I eventually don't want it, I will just donate it."

I was done shopping and headed to the cash register with my doll. The woman at the register looked surprised at my find.

Clerk: "I have not seen this doll before. Where did you find it?"

Me: Pointing to the window where I had found her. "I picked her up over there."

Clerk: Looking shocked. "Wow, that is impossible. I was just dusting there when the store first opened. The doll wasn't there. This doll is in incredibly good shape."

When I brought the doll back home, I suddenly realized that the face of the doll looked familiar. However, no matter how hard I tried, I could not place her. I knew it was not the looks of my daughter, so who then? This doll would come into play in my dream later that night...

Sub-dream 3 "My Doll looks like My Long-Ago Angel" begins...

I had a dream of the angel with beautiful shoes who literally came into my store in 1996 right in front of witnesses. While I can remember so many things about her, I could never recall the look of her face with any clarity. The three witnesses in my shop said she sounded like an elderly woman singing to me. However, they were then shocked when they looked to see that she actually looked young and was in very high-end clothing. One of the witnesses said that she didn't look like she was from around here.

When the angel spoke to me, her voice had a similar supernatural quality to that of Jesus and the other angels. What I mean by this is that there are no voices like this here on Earth. Her voice was perfect and had no 'irritating' voice identifiers. All of the angels are unique and perfected, including even their laughter. All humans, especially once you have been around someone in particular for a while, have voice flaws that become apparent over time.

Note: Enoch and Elijah are special cases as they are in Heaven yet never died on Earth. While they still have young faces, their wisdom in their speaking voices, as well as their mannerisms, clearly mark them as more 'Heavenly' and older in age. While they sound 'almost' like angels, they don't fully do so. This is hard to describe.

It then finally hit me. The face of this angel looked similar to the face of my new doll. I suddenly realized that this is why I was drawn to the doll. She looked like the angel I remembered. When I later wanted to post a picture of this doll's face on the Nest, I then felt a check in my Spirit that this was not to be distributed. With sadness, I am therefore keeping this to myself (well, other than sharing this with my husband).

As this dream was about to end, I heard the bells on my shop door (The Paisley Plum, Ltd.) ring. The door opened and there was a bright light. The light was so bright that I could not make out the form, only the shoes. I then heard an angelic voice. While I could not make out who the angel was, the words spoken were clear..

Angel: "Erin, I have a message for you from God."

I then woke from this dream so suddenly that I knew I was to specifically note this.

Sub-dream 3 over.

Me: "Oh Lord, You are here with me, right? What are You trying to tell me?"

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "Finally, she stops guessing as to what I am doing and turns to ask Me. A miracle has indeed occurred today!"

Me: Laughing. "Oh Lord, I am so sorry. I have been so distraught. I have been so scared for the world, our children, our Nest friends and my health."

Jesus: "Oh Erin, there are so many things that you have no control over. Indeed, you have no control over any of these items. So then, I must ask... why are you taking all of this on?"

Me: "As You know, Lord, I have had to gather proof to fight against their mistake. I know that I am 'in the right' on this one."

Jesus: "Perhaps you are, but at what cost? Erin, what they are requiring of you is designed to disclose information that will harm your life. It is meant by the enemy to ensnare you. It is a trap by which they have a greater goal. Now, remove their ability by doing nothing except waiting for their 'evidence'. The burden of proof is on them. They will trip themselves up. Do not worry and do not entertain fools.

"Allow Me to carry you. Give them no power. Send only what is asked and no more. They are expecting a fight. Give this all to Me. I have and always will take care of you. Now, why have I allowed so many troubles right now? This is so the enemy exposes his true hatred against My people. Remember, what seems like confusion that garners great attention is actually a distraction away from a hidden agenda.

"The enemy seeks to overcome My people by wearing them down. The enemy does this by every means necessary to achieve a common goal. The enemy wants to extinguish your light so his evil can flourish in the darkness. Light exposes the activity of evil. This is why it is rare that they operate in the light of day.

"Evil now seems to have no boundaries. Evil now seems to have destroyed law and order. Erin, this is lawlessness in action. Though this lawlessness has been foretold in My Word, always remember that God is in complete control."

Me: "Oh Lord, You are so wise. I am sorry for being upset at You. I am so sorry."

Jesus: "I have forgiven you. Now, you have one goal here today.. love the Lord God with all your heart, all your soul and all your mind. As we are now one, we cannot be divided. I am the light in you. Beautiful are your feet which bring Good News. Every time you worry or react to the world, you are taking on the world aside from Me. You then take on burdens of the world that are too heavy for you to bear.

"Erin, you are to talk to Me instead. I am here. You hear My Voice. The second you ask, I answer. Sometimes you avoid asking because you fear My answer. Do not worry and do not fear as I do all things for your good.

When you walk on your own instead of with Me, you become sleepless, your headaches increase and you have no peace. Erin, shall I continue?"

Me: "No, Lord. I am sorry."

Jesus: "Stop. This is wise counsel and instruction for you, not condemnation. You do not understand. You have a new Tool... God in you. This is different than the Counselor sent. I have given you a new Weapon. Your habit of independence gives no room for Me to work. When this happens, I am quiet. I am then more like a guest in your home instead of your Voice and Creator."

Me: "Oh Lord, You must be rolling Your eyes, tapping Your fingers and shaking Your head."

Jesus: "Enoch and Elijah met you in a vision over 21 years ago. They spoke to each other and communicated with no words. They then spoke to you with their lips so you could understand. Erin, I am here. You and I are as one. We communicate with hidden words. I do not need to speak to you in parables anymore. As this is all still new to you, you are still struggling to understand this. When you struggle, I send signs and wonders to get your attention."

Me: Pulling out an old document. "What should I make of this?"

Jesus: "Erin, you pulled out this document during your search for evidence. What is it?"

Me: "It is a legal document from the Multnomah Defenders, Inc, the State of Oregon, Plaintiff & Victim vs. Defendant Ray Young. It was a Civil Compromise Agreement from an incident that occurred at 6:00pm, December 20, 1991, in the Pearl District of Portland OR. I was working as a junior designer at Office Interiors, Inc.

"A man who was naked and on drugs took a newspaper stand and smashed it across my car right in front of me. The man was crazy. It was cold outside too. His mouth was drooling. The police came to arrest him within seconds. They were parked a block away and had witnessed it. The policemen were very nice.

"While insurance covered the damages, I was still shaken. I decided to look for another place to work as this area seemed unsafe to me now. A few months later, I received a letter from Ray Young from the Multnomah County Jail. In this letter, he apologized to me for everything and promised to change his life. I was in shock that he would write to me. In my mind, this was already over. I had even forgotten about this."

Jesus: "This was a turning point for the young man. You not pressing charges or pursuing a case against him saved his life. You had mercy on him."

Me: "I guess I hadn't thought much about it."

Jesus: "Well, he did. He was in jail waiting and he thought about all his actions every day. He lived in fear of you."

Me: "I had no idea or I would have done more to help him stop living in fear."

Jesus: "No, Erin, this was not to be as this went My way instead. I showed you this document to let you know that he was set free by your signature. He changed. This was good. Some things which seem small actually have a great impact. This is like a small stone thrown into still water. Now, when you come to Me, I will give you peace. However, I will give you even more...

- I will give you sound instructions.
- I will give you clear directions.
- I will remind you that, less of you, means more of Me.

"Truly, I say this to you... nothing will come against you with any success. Rejoice, Erin, as all good things that are lovely, make you laugh and bring you joy are gifts that I have sent. This means ALL good things come from Me. Even those things which seem bad are turned to good, all for My Glory."

Me: "Thank You, Lord."

Jesus: "You are welcome. Very soon, I will rise up in My people. Pray, Erin, as there will be a Great Upheaval. This is good!"

Dream over.

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day! Thank You for all that we have. Thank You for a mild season of weather, especially with our recent troubles. Father, I have to be honest with You as I obviously cannot hide from You. The world is growing so dark so quickly. It is hard for my brain to catchup. A man plowed into a Christmas Parade in Wisconsin. Several people were killed. It was horrible. Father, the country is sleeping. They do not see what is happening. I had a dream last night.

Sub-dream 1 "The Promised Land to the Black Dragon is the USA" begins...

I saw the nation of the Black Dragon rise out of Chicago. I saw a man giving orders remotely from a distant location. To hasten the planting, I saw three large crows. Each crow had a branch in their beaks. One flew East, one flew West and one flew right over the Mississippi River. All three waited quietly for their commands.

I then saw several transport ships coming from the other parts of the Middle East and Africa. However, I was surprised to see that some were also coming from the Caribbean Islands. The transport ships came up to the Gulf of Mexico and docked at several locations. Once there, large buses transported thousands of men to the border of the USA.

Once there, they received instructions. They were then ordered to crossover and intermingle with others seeking asylum. Guides were then sent to take them to several airports. Each one was given an assignment, necessary papers and money. They then disbursed to various small communities in several states. Their goal was 'Continental USA Disbursement'.

Woman and children were provided with payments. In turn, they were to appear like they were families. After a while, this directive stopped. I then saw every tributary, river and stream rise. They soon flowed over their banks. This occurred for many days. The water was thick and black like crude oil. I then saw the three crows in the air circling with their branches over the area now covered in black water.

When the black water receded, I was able to see their evil plans in full view. The crows landed and planted their branches into the ground in the East, the West and the South. There was now a new controlling militia sent by the leader in Chicago to every small town and community. They had been terrorizing each town, killing, pillaging and raping their citizens. This was the plans of the new order of fear.

From a large pulpit in Chicago, the leader declared that the land's leadership had now stepped aside for them. He declared that 'god' had found favor in 'his people' to confuse and confound the inhabitants. They thanked all orders of brotherhoods who sought for the advancement of the Black Dragon.

They then promoted the Great Migration of the people to their 'Promised Land' (the USA). From a remote location, the leader said it was time to cleanse the land of all abominations, idols and anything deemed unclean. The burning of small towns then began on a great scale. There was no one left that were able to stop them.

Sub-dream 1 over...

Me: "Lord, this was a very disturbing dream. I always remind myself that this is their plans, not Your plans. I also felt like there was a before and after component. There was also an event in between that changed the landscape. However, this event was clearly an act of God."

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "Erin, the plans of the wicked are in the works now. It started first as a humanitarian effort by many nations to help. However, the problem with human migrations is the rabble. This is what comes alongside. This is why I gave each man to their own home and each to their own tongue. This is so they bloom where they are planted. While the nations were established this way, the enemy hated this.

"The 'god of this world' then began to rise in power. God granted permission as these events were required to be fulfilled as per My Prophecies. The New Order of the world has five visible pillars. However, they have a sixth pillar, a hidden one. This hidden pillar is the method the enemy uses to deceive the nations and their people. This hidden pillar is used to advance their kingdom of lies and deception.

“They then shift, move and spread out. This then causes great troubles in each nation. They follow only one law, their own law, and not the laws of the nations they have migrated to. Once they disperse and invade, they dismantle and destroy all good. They consider good to be bad and bad to be good. They consider it this way to advance their kingdom of evil.

“There is a reason that I have said you are to have the same law for the foreigner and the native born (Leviticus 24:22). I am the Lord, Your God. For you were once foreigners in this land I gave you. This means a foreigner should respect the laws and customs of the land and not impose their own laws.

“However, this ‘nation of evil’ does not respect the land’s laws. They instead commit crimes in the name of their laws. They do so to their own people, but also to the natives in the land. They have imposed their idol worship and the building of their temple. This is subsidized by the governments. The governments are now too afraid to fight back. The Black Dragon has now spread great fear.”

Me: “Are You saying that those who came to North America are guilty?”

Jesus: “While I know this is hard to understand, I sent them to the land. This is to fulfill prophecy. Many of the people coming here are evil, but this was as allowed by God. However, God sees all things and they will still be held account for the crimes they commit. The new government over the nations has been completing a quiet invasion. Very few can see it is happening.

“Erin, I sent several to sound the alarm a few years ago, but very few can even recall this now. The Towers falling in the Great City was a response to the towers falling in Beirut after Israel attacked. The children that survived the strike grew up to be men and remembered these attacks. Their anger and bitterness make their recruitment easy.”

Me: “Was this a battle of Towers falling?”

Jesus: “Well, yes, but this was a useful tool to exact change. Hatred spread and the time to invade under a new strategy began. Corrupt leaders provided the gateway for the rise of the deceiver using the sixth pillar of his kingdom. Even though he calls himself a Christian, he did not change his name. To anyone with knowledge, understand with wisdom what is right before them...

“Once in power, anyone coming against the deceiver is labeled a liar in return. With a popular agenda, he can quickly put laws in place that will change the course of a nation. Even though this nation was under God, they are now removing all truth in every form. They are labeling truth as lies and lies as truth. He is now more active behind the scenes than ever. His power in the world is now greater than ever."

Me: "Oh Lord, it is too late for America, isn't it?"

Jesus: "I am God over all things. This means I still control events for My Glory, not his 'convenience'. He is growing frustrated so he is now moving forward with great speed. There is so much advancing against the people that not one person could possibly keep up with his deceptive ways."

Me: "What will happen next?"

Jesus: "Ah, now is the time for the Good News. I have a greater plan, a plan that is soon to happen."

Me: "But what has occurred is so awful. I hate it so much, Lord. It is so discouraging to see them succeed."

Jesus: "Their plans are even worse than you can conceive. However, you are not to worry. Continue to pray instead."

Me: "They stole power. They are stealing from the citizens who love America. They hate us. They hate all Christians. They hate women. They hate LGBTQ communities. All of this is so utterly shocking."

Jesus: "Erin, he put laws in place to draw them out for persecution. Churches are closing. Hopes are fading. He is weaponizing all media. The entire story is now meant for his glory. However, he is also angry because more are not calling for his leader status to be invoked and he be reinstated.

"He also expects to rule over all entertainment. He calls for the banning of all who are opposed to him. He is the one who is gathering an army by using others by proxy. Because he knows I am about to rise up in My people, he is trying to rise up in his people first. He wants to become the 'savior'."

Me: "What will happen to people's homes and goods?"

Jesus: "While the new order religion does not believe in debt for their followers, it is encouraged for all others. He knows that if he controls the banks, he controls the people. He wants to then transfer the wealth to those he has empowered. They want to enslave all who are against them. Large homes will be overtaken. The owners will then be forced to be gardeners and housekeepers. Heirlooms deemed idols or symbols of oppression will be destroyed. He will eventually want all in power to be of his race."

Me: "Lord, this is happening now!"

Jesus: "It is the same pattern as before (Nazism). However, I have heard the cries of My people. I will not delay, Erin. Do not worry. To begin, the enemy seeks to divide, separate and destroy. You know this as isolation and division. Using this, he can then sew the seeds of hate. His platform is that of hate, not love.

"Once his plans are complete, there will be no opposition left. However, I must now say this yet again... you are to remember that this is his plans, NOT My plans. I am here. Do not worry. I will rise up in My people. Nothing will come against you."

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day! Yesterday was a troubling day. I was physically exhausted. I felt me heart speed up and slow down so many times. None of this was because of physical activity. I found out at the hospital not too long ago that they have the ability to make my heart race or plummet remotely. They can communicate with my pacemaker from thousands of miles away. It seemed as if the test started at around 3:00pm and ended at 4:00pm yesterday.

Oh Father, You brought me back to life twice on record before this pacemaker was installed. You allowed this so I must believe You will continue to protect me. It is humbling to know that someone has the power of life and death in human form by just switching a dial to kill my heart. I am just thankful that You hold the keys to everything. My husband and I prayed last night that I would have a great dream. It worked...

Sub-dream 2 "The Banks call in their Notes" begins...

I was in a mountainous area. There were low hills and high peaks. The peaks had snow on them. The hills consisted of brown grass. There were also some muddy forested backroads. I was confused as this area seemed reminiscent of something. I then remembered that it was similar to an area in a past dream where I witnessed the bombing of a major USA city from a mountainous landscape.

I was young again. I somehow looked the same age as my children. Very odd. Works for me though. In this dream, who I was with varied from my youngest son to both my youngest son and my oldest son. My youngest son and I had pulled up to home where I was to help a client with the design of his home. One thing became immediately clear... all construction appeared to have ground to an abrupt halt.

Expensive furnishings were being left outside to rot in the elements. There were high-end appliances rusting. There were pallets of indoor hardwood exposed to rain. The entire town was like a ghost town. We then came upon a finished home. It stood out as being unusual as the other homes were not finished. We got out of our car and proceeded up to the front door of the home. Upon approach, the door opened.

Man: "Are you a designer?"

Me: Confused for a second that he would think of asking this of me. "Uh... yes."

Man: "Good. My house is finished with the exception of one room."

He motioned us to come in. It was clear that his home had been completed long before all the troubles came. He even had power and gas.

Me: "What happened to the neighborhood?"

Man: "I paid cash in advance of all the troubles. Nothing was borrowed."

Me: "I am confused as to what happened to all of the rest of these homes."

Man: "You don't know? Once the banks were taken over, all notes of debt were called in. With everyone's assets frozen because of the 'audits', no one had access to funds to finish their homes. Even those who had paid off their house, but subsequently borrowed against it, were caught up in the trouble.

"The wood flooring you saw had been paid in full with cash, as were the appliances. Even if you are well off, if someone takes all you have... well, you are left with nothing. No one can afford the labor. No one can find the cash necessary to finish these homes or even keep them as they are."

Me: "Oh, that is awful."

As we walked into the house, something seemed terribly wrong. I looked over at my youngest son and could tell by the way he looked back at me that he did too.

Son: Whispering to me. "I looked at a family photo and the man in it doesn't look at all like this man. There was also a dog in the photo, yet there is no evidence that one is here. Are you thinking what I am thinking?"

Me: Whispering back. "Yes. This man is a squatter. He took over this home."

Man: Oblivious to our discussion. "Hey, here is the room I need help with. As you can see, I have boxes and boxes of high-end designer purses. I need better lighting to help me photograph these items better for sale. My wife collects handbags and we thought we should sell them while the market is in demand for them. As you can see, this one bag alone is priced at $98,000.”

Me: “When will your wife be back? I usually like feedback from both of you. Now, I need you to take us to your garage.”

I could now see his demons manifesting. He had many demons. He started acting extremely nervous.

Man: “How dare you! You don’t tell me what to do, I tell you what to do.”

Me: “These purses are not yours. They have been stolen. There are no certificates attached to them. They all have price tags on them. This means that they have never been used. This house is not yours either. Where is the family? We are going to the garage now to have a closer look.”

Man: Shouting. “But this was supposed to be my home, my lot and my project.”

We walked to the garage door. I could tell he wanted to stop me, but was being supernaturally held back. I opened the door without the need of a key even though the door was securely locked.

Man: “You can’t do that.”

Me: “Well, I just did.”

When we walked in, we could not believe what we saw. There was a cage with a man, a woman and a dog in it. All three of their mouths were taped up. The amount of tape used was extreme and wrapped several times around each of their heads. While their noses were uncovered for breathing, there was no way they could eat or drink. It was sadistic. They looked scared, emaciated and dehydrated.

Me: In a loud voice. “Jesus, please help!”

The cage was instantly gone, as were the restraints and the tape around their mouths. They were then strengthened and completely healed. The man turned around and ran away from us as fast as he could. My youngest son, now with my oldest son, quickly caught up to him and tied him to a pallet. A box van then pulled up and two men placed the man in the van. I could tell that where he was being taken would not be pleasant.

Homeowner: “Thank you. You saved our lives.”

Me: “No, the Lord God saved you.”

We then turned and left. We soon came to a town nearby that had very high-end stores. Many were boarded up. While some stores were still open, they had signs stating that visiting was still being offered, but by appointment only. As we continued to walk towards the edge of town, we realized we were being followed.

We got out of our car and ran up a slippery slope with ease. The men following behind us were unable to climb the slope and kept falling backwards. I was not sure if we were in late fall or early spring, but the road was as icy as is typical for either of these seasons.

We then noticed that we were now being hunted by both mountain lions and a pack of wolves. At the rate they were traveling, they would reach us in minutes. I joined hands with my two sons and we were instantly taken to our next destination in a far away city. This would have taken many hours in an airplane, but instead it took just seconds (if that). We laughed and thanked the Lord Jesus for our supernatural travel.

Sub-dream 2 over...

Me: "Thank You, Father, for Good News. Please bring healing and change over the nations. Please help us. Please heal us."

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "Erin, I delight in you. I am with you. You worry about many things. However, I will deliver you from them all. The Courts in Heaven are fair and just. The Altars of God are filled with the pleading of those slain for their faith and their testimonies of goodness. They press on and call out for God's judgments against the wicked day and night. I see their deeds against the children of God and I will not stop My pursuit of justice. The plans of the wicked are many.

"Who can keep up with their schemes against the righteous other than God? There is nothing that you or your friends can do to stop this. However, be joyful... for what is impossible for man is possible for God. With each bad report, I hear you say 'Surely, Lord, this can't be okay with you!' or 'Oh Lord, are you witnessing this?' However, for now, this is the way it is to be. It has been written about in My Word. Erin, how many times is it written that, in the last days, evil will be called good and good will be called evil?"

Me: "At least three times. Perhaps more?"

Jesus: "Peter said when life becomes difficult with many tests, do not be bewildered as if something odd has occurred. You are to instead rejoice that you have now endured the same measure of suffering as the Anointed One, Me. This then entitles you to be My declaration in the revelation of My Glory.

You will then celebrate with even greater joy. If you are insulted because you bare My Name, you are then greatly blessed because the Spirit of God rests upon you and in you. Do you understand? Take a moment to take this in and receive it."

Me: "Lord, I am glad that my troubles have kept me as I am. I just long for the day when You call me off the bench. I am on the sideline right now and want to be called into the Game. I want so much to be used by You. I become weaker each day. Without a miracle from You, I won't make it here. It is the first time I have truly felt like this. I have obviously thought about this before, but I know something is now wrong."

Jesus: "Erin, even this is good. While I resist you when you are proud, I multiply grace and My favor upon you when you are humble. Many, many years have come and gone since the testimonies of My friends were written. Even then, they did not understand that they would be writing words from Me that would be for this generation of saints.

"Now, who is closest to Me? It is those of long suffering who know troubles, tests and trials of many kinds. It is those who surrender all of this as they understand and begin to know that they are set apart from their neighbor. They do this even though they witness that their neighbor has great sin, yet never seems to endure troubles.

"Once you then understand you were being called for a supernatural life of God as His child, then your sails are put up and you set sail for the peaceful comfort of knowing your life is now God's. He also owns your sail, your rudder, your hull and your anchor. At times, this means you will endure storms on difficult seas. However, even the oceans are Gods, as too are the waves, currents and gales.

"Well, here you are now in very tumultuous times. By My love and grace, I will restore you personally. You will then have great powers. You will be made stronger than ever before. Do not be discouraged by what you see around you. Just as one season quickly flows into the next, so too does the temperatures grow colder. Remember that one of the signs of the times of the end are that hearts will grow colder.

"You are encountering this now. Anyone who held bitterness were then given an even greater increase of bitterness. This then led to envy, jealousy, hatred, theft and murder. Those who were habitual liars are now increasing their lies. To these liars, they no longer believe these are lies. They instead believe them to now be the truth. These lies have then led to false testimony and the wickedness of slander and blasphemy.

“Those who strike out against the weak in secret now strike out in the open in plain view. How great is their evil? However, there is more. The enemy makes his plan known. Whatever they accuse the law abiding of doing, the righteous and the Christian amongst you, it is they who are actually guilty of the accusations.

“Many years ago, I showed you the burning cauldron of water. There is a frog in the water. The frog is swimming without a care, oblivious to the fires below. The fires are then stoked and the water slowly becomes warmer. While the temperature rises slowly at first, it then quickly simmers then boils. The frog is then caught unaware, perishing in what he thought was a safe swimming area.

“Well, Erin, the water is boiling and many of God’s people are unaware. They will soon be caught up in the schemes of the wicked before taking a leap of faith and choosing not to be supper. The world has increased in evil because Satan has been removed from God’s Courts. What you are witnessing and experiencing now is just a sample of the increase in demons.”

Me: “What do we do, Lord? This is bad.”

Jesus: “Do not worry. If the enemy was in control, you and your house would have been dead a long time ago. You would have no Nest. There would be no victories in Court. The Bull would be dead, along with anyone who supported him. Erin, I think you should look at the magnitude of My power around you. Look at My Grace and Mercy and refuse to listen to the enemy. They are loud now as they are stoking fear out of their own fear... the fear of My soon coming Army.

“Yes, Erin, this is because they fear what God will now soon do. They know that a reckoning from Heaven is coming. While they move faster now, with speed comes sloppiness. The demons possessing humans are struggling to maintain 100% power. This is why the demonized people are now so easy to spot.

“My people must understand that they should not be afraid. They are not to worry about the enemy’s wicked schemes. Their schemes are too numerous to count and designed to bend you to their will and away from the Will of God. Remember that I am with you and I am with My people. My glory is upon you. Nothing will prevail against you. Now rejoice and do not be afraid.”

Communion

Dear Father,

You are amazing! I am so thankful for You in all things. You are a blessing. The world is becoming worse and worse every day. The coldness in the hearts of people is as I never could have imagined.

My husband and I had quite an adventure yesterday. We went and had our winter tires installed. This was good timing as our summer tires were now in poor condition. They were unsalvageable. As for our winter tires, we ordered these six weeks ago in another city. This is the best we could do because of supply and service shortages.

This was the latest we have had winter tires installed since I have been here. We knew that the snow was coming in the forecast, so we prayed You would hold off any snowfall until we had them safely installed. We drove a few hours yesterday to get to our appointment. There were some other things that needed fixing. This was unexpected and unplanned, but they were willing to fix them, so we said yes.

We now knew that we would be around five hours or so until the repairs and installation were finished. We went to the downtown area and found a skywalk with indoor shops and a museum. It had just begun to rain, so we were happy to be inside. While we had wanted to first check out the museum, we were disappointed to find out that it was closed. We then walked by the food court.

While there were many food outlets, there were only two still open. Since the food court area was so crowded, we decided to go to the shopping area. Even though there were three floors of retail space, only a few stores remained open. All the rest were vacant. It was so depressing. The following stores remained open...

- A used furniture / antique store.
- A lottery kiosk.
- A Thai restaurant.
- A small snack vendor.
- A tiny farmer's market display.

- A travel item shop.

We went over to the farmer's market display. The display had four oranges, a head of cabbage and a cooler containing milk products and other beverages. The clerk had a look of desperation in his eyes. He stayed alert in case we wanted what he was selling. I then noticed that he also had a small folding table with random items. I could tell they were his personal items. I felt bad for him.

We then went over to the travel items shop. They had small handbags, raincoats, boots and umbrellas. When we asked the owner of the shop what happened to all of the other stores, her answer made us realize that she was in denial. She then named the few remaining stores open and made it seem like the place was full of open stores. She seemed stuck on ignoring the over 30 stores that were now abandoned. I was sad. When we were about to leave this store, the owner completely ignored us.

Oh Father, I cannot believe how this once thriving port city is now so depressed. When we finally received the call that our car was ready at 3:30pm, we were relieved to exit this city. I feel that one more wave of lockdowns will be enough to finish off this town. It was shocking really. The abandoned stores are straight from my dreams. I then remembered back to the 1990s when a well-known preacher predicted the following...

"Even though the little stores and shops are thriving now, this will not last that long. A day will come when these now emerging massive stores will devour the little ones. The little shops will disappear as the larger ones grow ever bigger and wealthier. The only little stores that will exist will then be tattoo parlors, sex shops, pubs, pharmacies, beauty spas and fitness gyms. The rest will sit empty. Malls will no longer be filled with shops. They will sit mostly vacant. All that will remain in the malls will be medical clinics, government offices and consignment shops."

While I tried to find out who spoke this in the 1990s, I have been unsuccessful. I really wanted to name my references. This was fascinating at the time as the small shops were doing so well back then. Oh Father, we are seeing this now. Quaint seems to be gone. Any shops that still exist in any remaining quaint areas are almost treated like museums. People often take photos of what is available, but then buy it on Amazon. The list of once great stores that no longer exist here are numerous. Here are some...

- JCPenney, Sears and Macy's
- Sprouse-Reitz, Rexall and Albertsons.
- Thom McAn, Marshall-Fields and Tower Records.

- Mervyns, The Limited and Circuit City.
- Filene's, B. Dalton Books and Blockbuster.
- Montgomery Ward, Radio Shack and Woolworth's.
- Fotomat, Weinstocks and I. Magnin.

I remember how beautiful the displays were. I remember the smells of perfume. The women waiting on my mom were very elegant. I remembered her being treated like royalty. This was such a contrast from our 500 square foot home that we were living in. We lived very poorly, so watching her being treated like a princess was a fantastic memory. I smile as I remembered it.

I also remember my grandparents taking me and my brothers to pick out Easter outfits and other clothing. One day, I asked her if we could walk through Weinstocks. Well, things had changed. While the staff were still friendly, I could tell they were judging us as people who could not afford anything.

While they then followed us under the guise of being there to help us, I just knew that they were doing this because they thought we would be stealing from them. This made me feel uncomfortable. I was quiet. I went from great excitement to severe sadness and disappointment.

Me: "Grandma?"

Grandma: "Yes, Erin."

Me: "I never want to go back there. It is pretty and smells nice, but they don't like us there."

Me: "They sized us up and decided we were dreamers."

Me: "I like being a dreamer."

Me: "Well, don't dream too much, especially those daydreams. They are nonsense."

My grandma was stoic. The years had been very hard on her. They had lost a great deal in the depression. My grandma was weathered from her storms. There were so many of them for her. I realized that day that I was part of a unique caste system and that there were certain places I was unwelcome to go.

Still, my grandma and grandpa had great accomplishments. However, no one really knew it. They didn't brag nor did they wear flashy things. She would have been aghast at my Wedding Shoes that I purchased used at $40. This would be too much to her for second hand things, even knowing it was worth $1500. As for my mom, she was a minimalist for a time and would have never worn something with a glitzy decorative buckle. Well, I smile now whenever I look at these shoes as I know they're from God.

Well, things are different in our landscape now. Very different. There are some very obvious elites running the government. It seems possible that a revolt may eventually come into being. After eating a bit of lunch with my husband, I came back to my journal. I read an old book on the Coming King written by James Edson White in 1907. I was reading about the pestilences and plagues when I drifted off to sleep into a daydream...

Sub-dream 1 "The Voice of God in My Daydream" begins...

In front of me was a very bright light. There was the Voice of God in the light. As He spoke, the light moved as if the Voice of God was the light itself. This is impossible to describe as it was awe-inspiring and comforting at the same time.

God: "Erin, I am with you. While you worry about many things, do not. I am the Light of the world and I will shine through you. I have not forgotten you. You are about to endure great changes. Erin, I am greater than all of your troubles. I am with you and I will provide for you in all you do. Rejoice, Erin, as a change... a Great Change... is soon to come."

Just then, the light became very bright. Inside of the light was a beautiful color of blue. As the blue slowly turned into purple, I awoke suddenly.

Sub-dream 1 over...

Me: With tears now streaming down my cheeks. "Lord, thank You. I am so thankful for all the ways You speak to me. You are My Light and My Salvation. With You on my side, whom shall I fear?"

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "Another wave of evil is sweeping across the nations. The evil is not in the illness, it is in the fear that will grip man. All manner of deception and evil will rise quickly. Christians will turn against Christians, Jews against Jews and races against their own race, all jockeying for control and righteousness. Many will be forced to do things that they do not want to do, things they know are wrong. Erin, do not be afraid as I will shelter you under My Wings. You have taken refuge under My Wings, so do not worry.

"Now, the enemy has more evil to send. Anyone who participates in this evil against the righteous will live to regret their decision. Each man should stay where I have planted them. You are witnessing a new type of caste system. This has already been put into place. Some call it by another term, but it is the same. While just a few have done this, they have weaponized the flow of information to make all who listen believe that this evil army is bigger than it is. However, this is a lie.

"Now, this is not a house evenly divided. It is not half and half. The house is divided 30% evil and 70% ethical. Those with little knowledge are being deceived. Those with little knowledge are being led into the army of Satan and into the pit. Be very careful as to what you hear as much lies are now sprinkled with some truths. The man who currently leads does not have his faculties. The decisions are now being made for him by his wife and former leaders.

"Now, what is coming after he is gone will be much worse than what is here now. Both the Red Dragon and the Black Dragon are weakening the foundation of all the nations. Many leaders are now working for at least one dragon. Some do not even know they are doing this. This new wave comes to further lockdown countries and dishearten the people. This will lead into further corruption even as the people begin to stand up against it.

"Erin, the dragons continue to battle for position right now. While they continue to do this, I will rise up My Army. My Army will come from where they were concealed. People will be in shock and awe. The plots of the enemy will then be exposed. Men will then be forced to correct all of their wrongs.

"Now, ready your house. Get all things in order. Plan for everything, acting as if you expect nothing. Continue to winterize and ready your house as I call you. This is wisdom. Continue on your course. Look forward to being in My Army. This will come quickly. Do not stop in your excitement for what is soon to come."

Dream over.

539 – God will thwart the Great Deception

Received on Tuesday, November 30, 2021

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day! Thank You for Your love and protection. Thank You for caring for our children. Thank You for Your provision during these uncertain times. I had some dreams last night that I need help with. It seems that much of my sleeping dreams have whole areas that are dimly lit and other smaller areas that are well lit for emphasis. My last dream was quite odd...

Sub-dream 1 "Fogged up Mirror" begins...

Me: Speaking to God. "Who are the harvesters?"

I then saw a supernaturally fogged up large mirror. I used a white bath towel to wipe the mirror. I was struggling to see what was being revealed in the mirror. As quickly as it became clear, the fog returned, giving me no clear answers.

Voice of God: "Erin, I will make clear the vision soon. Trust Me to reveal great mysteries at the appointed time. There is nothing you can understand without My revelation. Be patient."

Sub-dream 1 over...

I got up and spent 45 minutes on my regular routine in quiet. Doubts crept in. I am small, so why me? I am really a no one. Am I delusional? I then hear Jesus' Voice as clear as day tell me 'No, Erin, I am here.'

I tend to start everyday with big plans, but they are my plans. God then quickly changes my plans to match His plans for me. I have learned to accept this as I want God to be the Ruler of my days. There are days in which I hear Him say 'Today, you rest, stop as you are tired.' When I don't then listen, I tend to be extremely inefficient. On the bright side, when He tells me to do something and I do, it is extremely efficient.

Me: "Lord, please grant me wisdom about all of this. Please help. I know very little about the prophecies in the Bible. I am not a Biblical scholar. While I have read the Bible a couple of times from start to finish, I tend to focus on my favorite parts. While I have spent a lot of time in Isaiah, Psalms and the Gospels, I need to spend more in other parts. I have seen things in my dreams that are far above my understanding. While I know You have done this on purpose, please help me write with discernment.”

Jesus: “Erin, come up!”

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: “Erin, I give you dreams and visions. These are Mine. The enemy has wielded the weapons of fear and deceit over My people. He has sent these to you. You fear many things. It is good to be wise with the discernment of God. It is foolish to use ‘the discernment’ of the deceiver.

“The great deception has come and has spread throughout the nations. They break the seals of their own scrolls and sound their own trumpets, all based on fear and great destruction. Well, Erin, the Great Tool is now with you. Truth is here as I am in you. Speak to Me. Talk to Me. The moment you turn to Me, I will answer. Now, there are two leaders seeking different objectives, the Red Dragon and the Black Dragon.

“The emerging world leader on the side of the Black Dragon seeks the destruction of all things. He promotes chaos in all things. This leader is already more powerful than any leader before him. He gains power through the unification of one world power. In order to achieve his goals, he has allied with ten dominions and their heads. However, not all of these dominions are physical kingdoms.

“He has been at war with the world from the beginning. He hates God’s Chosen People. His ultimate goal is to have as many go to destruction as possible. This is why he is called the Antichrist. He lies. Since the beginning, he has established his position. He led the great rebellion in Heaven against God.

“While I know this seems difficult to understand, he has been a deceiver of many and even angels, but not of God, not of Me. I sent those with discernment to understand always to look to God for salvation, not to the deceiver, the fallen, the dead or any of the wicked. Do no covenants or contracts with them. Do not worship their gods or eat the fruits of their tree. This will surely lead to death.

“Now, the dominions he has allied with should be obvious as these are being used against the people right now. Out of fear, other nations are following in line. You understand this now as they are calling evil good and good evil. This is so prophecy is fulfilled by their own actions.

“What this deceiver has done and plans to do is worse than any time before in history. I have explained this again because this spirit entity has originated from Heaven. When he fell, so too did his followers. His followers were also deceivers and were also wicked. When they fell, they used their knowledge of a supernatural order from Heaven to execute war against the children of God.

“They then taught things that were not to be given to man. However, since they were stripped of all divine gifts and illuminations from God upon arrival, there is nothing new under the heavens for them. This makes their patterns followable by those who seek Me. They are cleverer than man. They also have more knowledge about the things of God, His ways and His character.

“As for this man, he believes he is more powerful than Me. However, since his patterns do not change, he is easy to detect. Even though he has now removed himself to a remote location, he still leads from there.”

Me: “So, is Satan now in this leader?”

Jesus: “Well, yes. However, he is unaware that he was raised up in this manner to fulfill the course set out by God. He instead believes that he blazes his own course. This will ultimately end very badly for him. Now, in a dream you recently had, you saw what I call ‘the little horn’, correct?”

Me: “Yes, Lord. This little horn had shifty eyes. However, the shiftiness of his eyes was enhanced by the fact his mouth was covered with a mask. In this dream, he would tell us to do something and everyone would then do what he says.”

Jesus: “Well, Erin, you already know who this man is. The world also knows who this is. Make no mistake, this man is wicked. However, he is also a fool and is soon to be exposed. Now, why were you afraid of your dreams?”

Me: “Lord, I don’t like my dreams that much these days. In my dreams, there is no money. Everything is traded. All things which once had value now had none. People worked so hard for next to nothing. There was no longer any purpose for their toiling.”

Jesus: “This is why all of you must store up your treasures in Heaven. All that you see around you will one day be destroyed by fire. It has no value, understand? All the toil for material things has led to nothing. Now, I have prepared a place for you here in Heaven that will delight you. All lovely and good things are here, things that bring joy and laughter.

“However, this is not just for Heaven when it comes to My Bride. I will provide you with Heaven on Earth. While this won’t affect you, the dollar will be of no value. This is because it is not of substance. Other items, such as gold or silver, will still have value, but who will own it? Yes, trade will be practiced. However, this will be uneven trade and people will be greatly deceived.”

Me: “Bread, meat, butter, flour, rice and sugar are all now priced so high. We can’t afford to eat meat every day. We eat meat about four times a week. It is not that much. It is sad and depressing here now.”

Jesus: “This was created by the evil at war with the good. Do not worry, Erin, as I will provide for you. Do not be afraid. The wave that is now coming, complete with the trumpet sounding, is false. This is meant to spread great fear amongst the nations. However, I am about to change the playing field. This will upset the playbook of the wicked.

“Now, the deceiver is using his religion too punish the nations. They believe I am a prophet, yet their prophet will arise and is here, now out of the west. This religion will merge with many into one punishing religion. This religion will be based in deception. Still, Erin, you are to now rejoice. I am with you. It is I, the Great I AM. My Voice is now in you.”

Me: “Oh Lord, I was looking for a ‘prophet’ to be physically over a church or religion. I guess what I am trying to say is that I wasn’t expecting this person.”

Jesus: “The minute someone is using something to insert a substance into someone’s body without knowing what is in it under the promise of threat or fear, there is a problem. Erin, this has happened before and millions eventually died. These are experimental. Now, there is an entire army whose religion is against the substances used in the vaccines and they are free from using it.”

Me: “Are you referring to the religion of the Black Dragon?”

Jesus: “Yes. This is one of the largest. Their plan is to exempt the false religion and its followers and force Christians and Jews to take the vaccine. In the beginning, the injections will be false and just for show to display public compliance.”

Me: “This is so evil. What can we do?”

Jesus: “Do not worry. Help is on the way. Erin, if some have no options but to take it, they will not be harmed. While this new wave has come, it is not as fearful as what they claim it is. The enemy is using this fear to shudder people back into their homes. This will allow more time for riots, looting and crime to be on public display.

“Through the use of fear and a call for safety, a mandate will be called to seize citizens’ guns and weapons. Any resistance will be taken to reeducation camps. However, these camps will really be prisons controlled by very wicked officials. Many will die there, or at least this is what they hope for.”

Me: “Oh Lord, I pray that this is not going to happen.”

Jesus: “These are the plans of the enemy, not of God. They are moving quickly so that no one will fight them. Still, you are not to worry.”

Me: “Lord, please help us. They are testing you. They are acting like god.”

Jesus: “While I know they are mocking Me, they will not succeed. I see them. They are training secret military members now. These people hate beyond reason and operate aside from God. I am the God who sees. I see who turns the other direction at evil. I see what they do with aborted fetuses. I see what they do to young children as a means of trading for evil that which is innocent.

“An entire war has been waged over those who suspect nothing. While they will eventually awaken from their slumber in anger, it will be too late. They will have been overcome, their car stolen, their items auctioned, their bank accounts seized and their families separated. All that they had worked for is to be given to those who did not earn it. The evil in their plans have no limit.”

Me: “What can we do, Lord? We have to stop this before they takeover.”

Jesus: “The enemy is planning a grand revolution for ‘the greater good’ of the world. He wants to exterminate several races, several religions, the young, the old, men who lay with men and women who lay with women, along with their pets. Men are being fueled by great hatred and fed great lies. However, this could not happen if there hadn’t already been the seed of the open door to demonic possession. Erin, you are witnessing the precursor to men and women being given over to demons.”

Me: “Please stop this, Lord. None of us will make it. What about revival?”

Jesus: “I have a Great Plan that will circumvent the plans of the evil one. Large men who are strongmen will curl up and weep at the sight of just one of you. Why? Because they will know I am in you. You will have the strength of ten of them. Many will then turn back to God with great repentance. Others will turn and run for the hills.

“Now, there is more... when I place something on your heart several times, do not dismiss this. You should instead say ‘Lord, this is You, right?’ I will then answer. Erin, I am about to do something in your days you would not believe even if you were told. Rejoice, Erin... rejoice and pray."

After completing this dream, we received some horrible news...

Dear Nest,

Please keep us in your prayers. I received more devastating news via a phone call this evening. My long battle against my final enemy seems to have been a loss. Effective yesterday, I will no longer receive disability. It was supernatural as our attorney has never seen such a clear-cut case end in this way. It is brutal and an appeal will take more than a year to battle. This after, I was hit with bad news just two weeks ago.

So now we are 100% reliant on God for all things. While I am scared, I am free from my last great oppressor! Could you please believe for a supernatural God-sized miracle for us? God said, "I have You!! Do Not be Afraid!" Yesterday, He told me this...

Voice of God: "Erin, when you worry and have doubts, you allow these to become larger than God... My voice in you. Instead, wield the weapon of faith as I who am in You is greater than the he who casts the weapon of fear against you."

We love all of you and we are thankful for your continued prayers of faith! We are thankful for such a wonderful family of Nest Sparrows!

Much love and many blessings, Erin

Thanks yet again to our faithful Nest members! We appreciate each of you!

Communion

Dear Father,

Tonight is the eighth night of Hanukkah. Thank You, Father, for divine miracles, signs and wonders. Thank You for family and friends. We celebrated my oldest son’s birthday last night. Despite such great difficulties living with Asperger’s, he is working hard to learn elements that are foreign to him. He is learning patience, compassion and understanding. He is navigating things using comparisons to others as a guide.

This is so hard on him. He communicates with his friends and listens to their stories. Many of his childhood friends are in the military and very lonely. He has become a safe friend to talk to for them about the struggles they endure. He is encouraging to them, speaking about God. He has many unlikely friends and they have banded together. It is truly a miracle. He gives them hope where they would usually have no hope.

Sub-dream 1 “The Earth’s Rotation is Reversed” begins...

As I entered this dream, I seemed to recognize it as a review of a dream I had years ago. I was looking at the Earth as it rotated on its axis. As it turned, it was completely in darkness. There was no light of day on one half as is usually the case. It was instead completely enveloped in darkness. The only way I could tell this was the Earth was from lights periodically flashing over the land.

These bursts of light were either from storms with lightning or from wars with explosions. I then heard a rush of wind. This wind caused the Earth’s rotation to reverse, almost as if it was a backdraft of sorts. Momentarily, and for about three seconds, I could see lights across the land. While these lights were all over the globe, they did not center around cities.

They instead were scattered like flames that could not be extinguished by man. Since these lights were dim (unlike the bright lights of the Transformers), I wondered if these lights represented the Tribulation Saints. This was sad to me because, when I saw something similar to this years ago, there were more lights.

Sub-dream 1 over.

When I was not a Christian, I worked very hard at being independent. When I didn't know how to do something, I would work hard to learn how to do it. I would then become invaluable as a result. While this ensured job security, it didn't always mean that I was then well compensated. It was a strange and toxic mixture at times. While I was trustworthy, I often then became a target for their personal issues.

This is why I had to learn personal boundaries. To be vulnerable means there are areas within us that we are unable to control. While the world sees these as weaknesses, God views these as a door presented enroute to Him. In my youth, I spent a great deal of time around people void of the light. This then gave me a unique observation on these people who are bound by the light of materialism.

Each person consists of three layers of being. While most only function in the two outer layers, all somehow know that there is a third layer, or core being, inside of us that very few venture into. Children are closest to God because they operate in all three... that is, until the world 'helps' them close the doors to this.

The outer layer is how the world sees us and / or how we desire to be seen. This is like a reflection in the mirror. It is what we want the world to measure us by. This can be physical appearances, material wealth or a successful career as an athlete. The physical attributes of an individual then becomes somewhat like a resume for the world to view and judge.

The second layer is under the surface. All of life's experiences live here. This could be hidden secrets of painful memories. It could be hidden sins. All of this second layer is made up of things that control what the first layer looks like. It is often the driving force behind the motivation of appearances in the first layer. Here are a few examples...

- Let's say you were called ugly as a child. This could have then led to you making it your life's mission to be 'attractive'. The pain of the name calling would have therefore driven your desire to be beautiful.
- Let's say you are in finance and fear becoming poor. This desire for wealth could end up compromising your morality. Perhaps you are then willing to steal from others to achieve wealth.
- Let's say you are a pastor of a church and love the power of control over others. You then act as God, pointing out their sins. You seem perfect on the outside. You appear as a pillar of righteousness in the community. However, and behind the scenes, you have a hidden sin which is beginning to manifest into the outer layers.

The fine line between the first layer and the second layer is the refusal to believe what is happening just under the surface of the first layer. Often times, hidden sin and unresolved issues manifest physically here. You then become hyper aware and avoid anything that could get you caught. You then do whatever is necessary to keep the threat away from your first layer. This is one of the reasons worldliness can sneak in.

As I said before, most of the world today operates in these two realms of the physical. However, the third layer is the biggest and most important layer and represents our spiritual layer. This is where the Light of God waits for us. This layer is our core and our 'soul-being'. This is the place that is the scariest for us to go to. It is the most difficult layer because you have to start dying to the first two layers.

This is because we have to make the difficult leap from self-reliance to now surrendering all control to God. This can be a very dark place, at least at first. It is the rock bottom in each of us. We could be given a death sentence of cancer. We could be publicly humiliated. We could suddenly be physically marred in an accident. This is anything that suddenly removes the manmade foundations we have built around us.

So, why is this such a scary place? It is because it is a place void of lies! It is the place of truth in us where all layers are stripped away. This is where God is the only option. Blessed is the man who comes to this place. I have been experiencing this third layer for a very long time now. Since going back to living just in the first two layers means spiritual death, I choose to remain here in the third layer.

This is where the light to my candle is maintained by the Almighty God. This is the Light of Jesus that the world sees in me. Using visualization as a way to underscore what I mean by this, I will use the physical attributes of the Earth...

- The first layer would be all of the landforms we see on the surface of His Creation. This would be the land and sea.
- The second layer would be caves, crevices, volcanic activity, tectonic plates and springs that regulate the conditions on the surface.
- The third layer is the core of the Earth, the center of gravity by which all things are magnetically attracted to.

At the core of us IS God in us! It is His Light at the core of us! Our troubles in the superficial (Layer 1) and the hidden and physical (Layer 2) form the keys to opening the door to God. Once we have exhausted our options on our own and we have been deserted by those we put our trust in, the only 'True Layer' left is the 'God Layer'.

Our sins do not remove our troubles, they only amplify them. We then continue on this cycle until either God calls us to face it or we are forced by man or institutions to deal with it. God then presents that door to our core. This can either be a core of darkness or we can flood it with His Light. Once we have His Light, His Light permeates all of our layers. We then become His Candle burning in the darkness.

Speaking of 'Candles', tonight is the eighth night / candle of Hanukkah and tomorrow is the eighth and final day of Hanukkah. I received a note from a Jewish site earlier today that wrote about the eighth candle of the Menorah and the significance of this. The following is a summary from this article...

* * * * *

When the Israelites were constructing the portable Tabernacle / Mishkan in the desert, even with all the talented builders and artists, they all required that the last step be from God and He put this together. The last step had to come from God because the final seal of transformation is always a compassionate miracle. This is the moment we realize we can't make it on our own. On this eighth night of Hanukkah, God reaches out to help us. He brings down to the world a perfect pure light from another world.

Towards the end of the article...

God gives us the eighth day of Hanukkah as an opportunity to find that place inside of us where the light doesn't go out, where the parts come together and where we feel safe and connected. While it is just one last night, it is so much more than that. It is a chance to transform all the lights of the Menorah.

* * * * *

What they still don't realize is that Jesus has already come as their (and, of course, all of our) 'Perfect Light'. He is also now in each of us who accepts Him. He is the Lover of our souls and the Igniter of our flames. Oh Lord, be our Perfect Light! Heavenly Father, please strengthen and transform us! I had another dream last night...

Sub-dream 2 "The Squirrel's Hidden Nuts and Seeds" begins...

A white squirrel kept bringing nuts and seeds into our home for safekeeping. He kept sneaking in. I finally let him freely come and go. Even though I looked, I had no idea where he was storing the nuts and seeds inside our home. Even though I could not see the nuts and seeds, I knew they were somewhere.

Sub-dream 2 over.

Me: "Father, I am scared. I have doctors' appointments coming up and we are now at Your mercy in all things. In every manner, You are our sole source of strength and provision."

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "Erin, this is a good place for you to be. You are free from the strongholds that controlled your days. The control of governments' provision always comes at a price. By their own contracts, they recognize your condition and promised to provide for you as you became injured under their contractual covenant. You even paid money as insurance. They have gone back on their contract based on lying reports in which they paid for the specific lies.

"I am aware of their corruption fully and I will judge all those responsible for the falsehoods. Do not forget that evil and deeds of evil have increased and multiplied against the good. What you have experienced is this increase of evil wielded as a weapon forged in the flames of lies. However, you are to remember that the greatest weapon is Truth. I am Truth and this evil will not prevail against you.

"The wicked are enjoying their power over the righteous right now. When one who is already evil then has his power increased, he becomes even more emboldened to do evil. He then openly harms those who are innocent. A war is occurring. Although the war strategies remain the same as in the past, you cannot see it as it is not fought on the battlegrounds of history.

"A manmade plague has been sent out with great success. The evil leaders have enjoyed their control and its usefulness to their common goal. They then sent out another and it too caused death. Great fear gripped the nations and demands have been made for vaccine serums. These serums are weapons meant to fight the plague, but also to compromise the natural ability for the system in you to fight against it. This is to further weaken the nations' fighting capabilities."

Me: "Is this a form of removing our right to bear arms against the government? Are they doing this secretly by removing even our fighting capabilities?"

Jesus: "They are doing their best to remove the right and ability to fight against invaders. However, and as you wrote, I am your Core. I am free to work in all layers. Surrender all to Me. I am with you. No power of hell nor schemes of man will ever take you from My hands. Remember that it is I who has the power over life and death."

Me: "Lord, my daughter is being taught in theology at school that there is no hell and that You will accept all people."

Jesus: "Hmm, by My own Words, enter through the narrow gate, for wide is the gate and broad is the road that leads to destruction and many enter through it. But small is the gate and narrow the road that leads to life and only a few find it (Matthew 7:13-14). Then read what I say about false prophets and their fruit (Matthew 7:15-20).

"This man is false and is leading many a lamb to slaughter by his words. Your daughter has heard this. You know a false prophet by his direct contradiction to My Words. They are opposite and leads to death. They are emboldened now and teach with no regards to truth.

"Who will speak against them with success unless I call them to? Your daughter must take note and pray. However, interrupt the enemy in the course of evil only when I call and at no other time right now or your position will be made known before the proper time. Do not worry as the proper time is approaching with great speed. Erin, look..."

I was instantly taken into a vision, the clearest vision I can remember...

Sub-dream / vision 3 "Events are flying off of God's Clock" begins...

I suddenly saw the Clock and Calendar of God in His Courtyard. It was being guarded by angels. There was a huge wheel. Within this wheel were wheels. Within each wheel were wheels. I did not recognize the inscriptions nor did I understand what I was seeing. However, I did see events disappearing off of the large wheel. It looked like hundreds of events per day were disappearing.

It was happening with a much greater speed than when I had seen this before. I then saw an angel standing before the wheels with scales. I saw with each passing event the side of the scale which was labeled judgments becoming so heavy that the scales were tipping. There was only a little more room before the scales could tip no more. I then saw the ground open in the Courtyard.

I was now looking over some desert lands (perhaps the Middle East?). I saw sand dunes. I then saw some starting gates, each with riders on horses. I saw an angel with a horn. I saw another angel with a large bronze platter. The bronze platter had handles on it. On top of the platter were some scrolls. Instead of a starting gate with horses released at the same time, it was instead done at the count and sound of the horn.

From my view, the horses were restless. I was unable to count them because of the covered starting gate. I heard shouting from the inside gate. A sound opened a cover over the first horse in the lane. I looked down and saw a white horse with a rider with a black robe over his head. On top of his head was a crown with many spires and jewels. He was demanding to be let out. However, he had to wait for the angels to 'stop stopping' him. In turn, these angels waited for God's commands for all things.

Sub-dream / vision 3 over.

Me: "Lord, this is frightening. These horses and riders are quite frightening."

Jesus: "I showed you all of this so you could see the lateness of the hour. However, Erin, you are not to worry. Not one of these riders will exit their gates aside from God. Though the horses can try to jump over the gate, they will be forced back until God is ready. Now, and more than ever, you are to place your trust in Me in all things. I am with you. Do not worry. Rejoice as I will not remain silent for much longer.

"Stay on your course. I know it is narrow and dark at times and the gate small, but I am with you here. I am at this quiet place. I love you. Now, children are the closest to Me at the core. They are not confined by the world. They easily define the good from the wicked unless tricked by those they love. I am also close to the brokenhearted, those who have been through tests and trials.

"I am close to those who are lowly, who are not bitter... but instead are out of options. I am also close to those who have lost all those around them due to age or illness and surrender their lives to Me. I am close to those who are poor. Still, even these can become bitter in their circumstances and fail to see My miracles surrounding them. So many then choose other roads and paths."

Me: "Well, Lord, I am then asking You to hold a Massive World-Wide Revival! Stir up hearts. Heal the broken. Show Your great love, Lord. You are the Light! Raise up Your Army! On the first of Tevet (today, Tevet 1), Esther became Queen."

Jesus: "Oh yes... a great day. An orphan girl from the Jews becomes a Queen with great beauty. This was a Great Transformation and many were saved from death because of this."

Me: "Lord, it has been almost 2500 years... how about raising up Your people as Kings, Queens, Princes and Princesses throughout the lands. Please raise us up to be even more powerful than the sons of Jacob."

Jesus: "You make a good case. Now, how about you let Me work? I have an even greater plan than this."

Dream 541 – God will do all that He has Promised

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for fresh snow! This morning is the first day I have been alone in our home for a few years. I cranked up the praise music to give thanks for all You have done. My playlist included 'No one but you' by Hillsong and 'Revelation Song' by Phillips, Craig & Dean. Today is my pacemaker appointment. I pray all goes well. Please continue to keep the plague away from our home.

The kids' grandfather died yesterday while I was on the phone with my daughter. She saw him at Thanksgiving and told us that he had already gone home mentally as he was unable to speak clearly. He lost all functions on Friday and was not expected to last through the night. He never woke up and died yesterday.

He gave his heart to Jesus last summer after a long battle with brain cancer. I believe he was used as a measure for those around him. Still, I am not sure as only You, Father, would know this. I am thankful that he is in a better place... actually, the best place for eternity.

A great burden has been lifted from me. I am no longer bound by the evil institution that constantly dictated my every move. They intimidated my doctors. They lied in every statement they gave. They discredited anyone who spoke against them. They refused to pay for any of my medical care. They used Covid as a way to attack the credibility of all the people caring for me.

They hired the same IMEs to look at my case and they somehow determined I could work. An IME is not independent if they rely on an entity over them to continually feed them. Their loyalty is always to the one who feeds them. They are paid to write the reports needed to stop their financial obligations.

Me: "Oh Father, I am finally free now. While You didn't deliver me in the way I expected, You removed me from their evil work. I therefore must also believe that You will make a way. I must trust You now in all things."

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "Erin, I am here. Do not worry. This is for your benefit that I removed this stronghold over you. They will be forced to make right all wrongs. However, for now, have nothing more to do with them as they are corrupted. An evil has swept over all nations. Without being reported on, there have been evil coups all over the world.

"The people vote one way and the corrupt opponent then changes the ballots with those favoring corruption against the people. All the while, the people are in their dwellings for fear of the plague. However, I see it, Erin. God sees. Evil cannot hide. Some leaders are thrown in jail. Other leaders are marked for killing in their cells, especially if the reach of their influence is too great.

"Now, the January 6th Event was 11 months ago to the day. This was designed to distract from the stolen election. Certain leaders were called there. However, some saw the trick and did not enter into evil. The goal was ultimately to jail and silence all opposed to this coup. This was staged using scenes with actors from their own side. Even though it was a weak attempt, they were able to create enough fear that even the judges became afraid to stand against this.

"For now, the evil are enjoying their control. However, they also know that the people are now angry and likely to remove them next year. As a result, they plan to send more fear to change the next election's results. The world leader to take his seat is waiting for the nations to be prepared to receive him. He is raising up his army now. A great number of loyalists have come from the border to the south.

"These people have been promised great wealth and the plunder of people with the wrong skin color. With little education, they believe and seek to serve those leaders who most benefits them. Little do they know that their covenant will lead to their death for all eternity as they will be fighting against God and the innocent. Judgment has come against the nations because they prefer to serve men who hate.

"They prefer the gods given to them by the world... the enemy, his powers, princes and principalities. They will even offer up their children for money. This you have seen. Now, the Great Measure for My Move is when evil is called good and good is called evil. This is now happening. This ball is now rolling quickly... or should I say sacrifices to Baal. Now, this is what I require of you right now...

- Do good.
- Repent of any wrongs.
- Turn from anything wicked.
- Turn to Me with your whole heart.
- Do not be corrupted by the evil world.
- Do not be deceived.
- If something is wrong and not of Me, pray and ask for a sign of confirmation. I will send it immediately. You will know that it is Me as these signs will be personal.

“You must also know this... the enemy and accuser have been removed from the Courts of Heaven. He no longer petitions and accuses God’s children. He is here instead to inflict harm, but not in the way you think. It is by your children, your young adults and those who know very little about Biblical truth or even history in general.

“The enemy is muddying the water to confuse the young. Anyone who bends an ear will doubt truth more and more in favor of the bigger lie. The enemy is aware that I will send a Great Revival, one last great move of miracle. I will do this prior to the darkest of days and the removal of My Bride.

“The enemy knows that the Great Revival is almost here. This is why he is orchestrating these great waves of evil. He is behind the evil uprising you are seeing right now. He plans for a mass extermination of people. He will start with the elderly, then the young, then all believers in God and then all of one race.

“However, I will well up against him and raise an army unlike any he has ever seen or imagined, an army greater than the sons of Jacob. My army will be even stronger, faster and smarter. My army will be skilled in many areas, understanding all languages and forms of communication, as well as secret knowledge.

“Why? How? Because I am God. Because I am omnipresent. Because I can be in multiple places at the same time and will be working through those I have called. Those they least expect will change. 10,000 will fall at just the sight of one of you. My justice will be given quickly as each lying tongue will confess. There will be no need for a trial yet as they will be restrained until judgment is rendered when the Bride is removed.

“They will then be loosed. What they do from this time onward will then be the determiner of their fate. Many will wish for death, but death will elude them. Now be glad, Erin, for I have freed you from the evil which bound you. You are free now. My plans are to grant you hope and a future."

Me: "But, Lord, there doesn't seem to be much of a future left here on Earth."

Jesus: "Not true, My Bride. I have something which will bring you great joy. My promises are true. You work for Me. Your life has been a series of tests and trials. While you have made many mistakes, great has been your reward for this. You have testified of My Goodness. You have proclaimed by faith that My promises are true. You have said that there is no greater love than Mine.

"I am God over all things and your heart is Mine. As you have generously given, I will multiply even more back to you. Now, I know you have a certain hope. I will grant you the desires of your heart. I will do all I have promised you. I will not hold back in doing good."

Dream 542 – A Psalm 107 Ocean Waves Dream

Received on Tuesday, December 7, 2021

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for all You have done for us! I had a scary dream last night about being on a boat by myself in the middle of the ocean. On a side note, I am not a fan of the ocean. I grew up going to the beach every weekend with my surfing parents on the west coast of California. It didn't matter what the weather was like. Whether it was rain, cold or other, they were still wave riders. They loved the ocean. As kids, we had no choice in the matter.

Let's just say that I had some frightening experiences with waves and dark water. These personal experiences with waves and riptides have led me to prefer the stability of land. As a child, I enjoyed the relative safety of solid ground. However, I realized, especially lately, that my solid ground has become like waves on the ocean during a storm. My dream last night was God granting me the live virtual Psalm 107 in His brilliance...

Sub-dream 1 "A Psalm 107 Ocean Waves Dream" begins...

My dream last night was scary. I was in a tiny wooden sailboat. I had set sail in a peaceful ocean with great hope and courage. I had stood on God's promises for safety and felt it was something I had been called to do. The winds then kicked up and the waves of the ocean covered the horizon line. At first, they grew so high that I could not see anything but the waves that were about to consume me.

My tiny boat was no match for these conditions. The storm lifted me up high upon the waves and then pummeled me down below the depths. I felt my stomach turn as if I had been on a rollercoaster ride. I had started out my day in confidence as I had set sail on a relatively calm sea only to now be in the midst of a great storm with only God to deliver me. It was humbling.

I cried out to God for help in my dream and immediately the storm stopped and the sea calmed completely. The dark clouds parted and the sun came out. My boat was not hurt at all. My sails were in great shape and even better than before the storm. While this was impossible, it was not impossible for God!

Sub-dream 1 over.

After my dream, which was very realistic, I was thankful to have had it only be a dream. I went to the Lord in thanksgiving and He led me to Psalm 107...

"Give thanks to the Lord, for He is Good, His Love endures forever!"

This was my prayer...

"Father, I feel like a ship on rough seas and never more so than now. However, You have promised to be my Rudder, my Sail and my Anchor. You are also the strength of my bow and my hull. For I have learned of Your works and Your great deeds in the depth of my storms. For You spoke and stirred up the Tempest that lifted high the threatening waves. These reached to the heights of the heavens and then plummeted me to the depths.

"My courage melted away and I was at my wits end. I cried out to You, Jesus, in my troubles and You brought me out of my distress. You will still my storm to a whisper. You will hush the great threatening waves of the sea. With great joy, the relief of calm came as You safely reassured us of Your unfailing love and kindness. Your love never fails! You promise good things to those whose eyes are upon you in steadfast love. Oh Father, I am thankful to You. I love You."

Jesus: "Erin, I am with you. You will not fall. I will help you at the break of Day!"

Dream 543 – An Epic Post-Transformation Dream

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for Your promises! Thank You for Your love. Thank You for Your amazing patience with Your daughter. Thank You above all else for sending Jesus! His face is engraved in my heart. His eyes pierce my soul. His strength and love go to my core and removes my doubts. As my body sleeps, You reveal great mysteries around me, along with miracles soon to be on Earth as it is in Heaven.

Today marks seven days since my bad news (of L&I benefits being cutoff). However, what is in Your Will is not bad news. Oh, how I am loving to be free. I feel as if I have been in prison under punishing guards. However, I now feel as if the prison doors have swung open and I am free to go. Father, You released me from this enemy. While they have been terrible to me, I rest in the fact that You are the God of Judgment over them.

I talked with my L&I lawyer last night and he told me some things about my enemy L&I case manager (Mr. Jackson) that made me dislike him even more. My lawyer noticed a pattern... Mr. Jackson would usually stop benefit payments on Christmas Eve. He did this so that the family would then have a horrible Christmas Day. He would stop these benefit payments even in clear cut cases where someone lost a limb. What a terrible real-life scrooge this Mr. Jackson is. I will now leave him in God's capable hands!

When my husband and I went to sleep last night, we prayed together that the Lord would grant me another fun dream of what post-Transformation will look like. Well, guess what? He granted our petition. The following dream from last night was one of the most epic post-Transformation dreams I have ever had!

Sub-dream 1 "An Epic Post-Transformation Dream" begins...

This started off rather oddly. I was watching myself asleep in my bed from above. I was tossing and turning and unable to get comfortable. I then flipped onto my back. There was a small light in the room up and to the left of me. The light grew brighter and brighter. A flash of light then illuminated everything. The light hovered there in an impossible manner.

For lack of a better description, the light seemed to be in a liquid form... like water, but light. The light then moved into my body. As soon as this happened, Jesus appeared. He was standing beside the bed with a vessel pouring out over me as I slept. I was in a deep, deep sleep. There was another flash of light. This flash woke me up suddenly. I was then no longer hovering above myself, but was back in my now awake body.

My now wide-open eyes marveled at what I saw! I was young again! My skin was beautiful. While I was stunned, I was also incredibly excited. My breathing was no longer labored. My aches and pains throughout my body were gone. I had no excess fat. I had instantly become a hundred times better than when I was at my physical peak at age 25.

Since the room was now supernaturally illuminated, I jumped out of bed. As I walked around the various areas of my home, things happened that left me speechless. Things that were in need of repair were repaired. Broken or chipped items were restored to as good as new. Cracks in the ceiling were no longer there. Portions of our walls that needed fresh paint were all taken care of. Everything was changed and made brand new. I was still in shock.

I was now in a simple gown of white when I decided to go outside. Since I was barefoot and it was winter out, I knew that I was not dressed properly. As soon as I thought this, my clothing instantly changed to adjust for the wintry conditions. I was now wearing a beautiful white sweater with a long white woolen skirt. My shoes were made of white soft leather. I had a tunic of soft wool and a scarf like cashmere.

I could see my hair and it was as white as snow. My skin was a dark tan. My fingernails glimmered like pearls. When I looked around my yard, the winter landscape suddenly blossomed and became like spring. The trees instantly woke up and were blossoming again. The landscape was beautiful and different than the landscape surrounding our property. The surrounding properties were still locked in winter.

I then looked over at my Chrysler Pacifica, now 15 years old. A tear dropped down my cheek when I remembered how tortuous the payments were. Still, the car has my name on the title, the only thing with my name on it, so I am happy about this. As a smile returned to my face, the car suddenly turned into one of my 'dream vehicles'... a pearl color 1952 Chevy Truck, but modified by the angels of God.

The vehicle was slightly jacked up. It had wide white wall tires with chrome hubcaps. It had a beautiful wooden railed back bed. When I stepped into the truck, I noticed that it was ultramodern. There was even an odd feature where you could choose the noise from the motor to be either loud, normal or completely quiet. The dashboard was fully computerized. While it could do everything I could ever want a vehicle to do, it was still easy to understand the controls.

I decided I wanted to take my 'new old' truck for a drive. As soon as I thought this, it instantly started. It drove like a dream. Depending on the road conditions, the truck changed its suspension and rose up and down, modifying itself from a street vehicle to an off-road vehicle as necessary. I was in absolute awe. I kept thanking God and apologizing for my lack of patience in waiting for this glorious Transformation.

As I was driving my Chevy to town, I noticed that a dark vehicle was now trailing me. He was uncomfortably close, so close that I knew he was road raging me. I touched a button on the dash and my vehicle disappeared. My vehicle then reappeared behind the dark vehicle and he almost crashed from the shock. He then became even more aggressive and used his vehicle to block my Chevy.

The angry driver then got out of his vehicle. He was holding a rifle. He aimed it at my truck and pulled the trigger. Nothing happened. He tried again. Nothing. He took out the cartridge and we both could see there were plenty of bullets in it. He fired into the sky and it worked fine. He then aimed it back at the car again and pulled the trigger. Nothing. I was now out of my truck and couldn't help but laugh at how perfect God is.

Well, this really angered him. He pulled out a second gun, a revolver, and pointed it at me from point blank range. I felt the Lord tell me not to worry. Same thing happened. He pointed it to the sky and bang. He then pointed it back at me. Nothing. He was furious now and rushed towards me to hit me over the head with the butt of his gun. Without lifting an arm to block him, the man was suddenly suspended in air. He no longer had any control of his arms or legs.

I looked to the left of me and saw that there was a nearby cemetery with an empty grave. I smiled as I felt the Lord give me instructions of what to do next. I liked His instructions! I pointed to his suspended body and made a motion towards the grave. The man's eyes widened as he moved towards the grave. I then made a downward motion and he was now laying at the bottom of the grave. I went over to speak to him.

Me: "Despite your paralysis, you still don't seem remorseful at all. I will check on you in a few days to see if you have had a change of heart."

As soon as I finished my sentence, he began to swear at me and curse God. I looked over at his vehicle. With a wave of my arm, his vehicle floated over and covered the grave. I then snapped my fingers and an oil leak started to drip onto his helpless body. He still couldn't move his limbs nor was the Lord going to allow him too anytime soon.

Me: "Perhaps some fresh oil will change your mind?"

He was furious and was now cursing God at the top of his lungs. I knew that the man was so full of hate and demons that he had no fear of God. I walked away and got back into my 'old new' Chevy truck. I drove down the road and pulled into a grocery store's parking lot. There was a spot waiting for me right in front across from two empty handicap parking spots. As I pulled in, two separate cars pulled into the empty handicap spots.

I went over to one of the two cars and saw that it was being driven by an elderly man. After healing him with God's power, he started dancing and jumping up and down praising God. He looked so grateful for his healing. He was such a joyful person that I couldn't help but smile with joy myself.

I then went over to the other of the two cars and saw that it was driven by an elderly woman. After healing her with God's power, both his handicap parking spot and her handicap parking spot turned into ordinary parking spots.

Rather than being grateful like the man, she started cursing me and God. This woman was not happy about her healing because she liked her 'handicap privileges' even more than her healing. With a snap of my finger, her healing was reversed and the parking spot turned back into a handicap parking spot, but now with her name on it.

Elderly woman: Screaming. "No, no, no... please heal me. I am sorry."

Me: "At least for now, the Lord's answer is no to your healing. You should not have cursed God. Repent to Him and perhaps He will have mercy."

I then walked into the grocery store. As soon as I walked in, people stopped to stare at me. Some fell to the ground and slithered away like snakes, screaming curses as they fled. I shook my head in awe of God's power as I walked over to the produce section. It was all overpriced and poor-quality bruised fruit. At His direction, I prayed out loud...

Me: "Lord, I would like to have all of this free from chemicals. I want this produce to look and taste like the produce in Heaven."

In an instant, all the produce changed. The produce was now perfect and blemish free. I laughed and was so excited. Someone watching had an amusing reaction...

Woman: Shouting as she pointed towards me. "Follow her! God is with her. See what she will do next in the meat department or the bakery."

Suddenly, there were almost a hundred people following me. They cheered as I 'healed' the bakery and then 'healed' the meat department. I finished shopping and went out to load my stuff into my Chevy truck.

All of the evil people that had slithered out of the store when I first arrived in the store were now outside harassing innocent people. They were also planning to vandalize my Chevy, but they were being held back. I waved my hand and the evil men were instantly laid flat on the ground. They were helpless. When I got back in my truck, I was instantly back in my driveway.

Me: Laughing. "I have to find my husband and kids. They will love hearing all that just happened on my truck drive."

Sub-dream 1 over...

Me: "Oh Father, what a wonderful dream. Sadly, I was still as I am now when I woke up. Personally, I needed this dream, so thank You. Thank You so much. I praise You for the promise of all You will soon do for us."

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "I delight in you, Erin. You cannot possibly conceive what all I have planned for those who love Me, for those who suffered, those who were robbed and those whose hopes and dreams were dashed. As children, they had great and wonderful dreams. Well, I will fulfill these. However, there will be anger amongst those who once loved Me who have now sold out their faith for their own glory and interests.

"Now, who is it that leads this generation away from Me with lies? They believe I am the weak God with no voice, a God who allows all manner of uncleanness into My Church. They believe that My Words, Laws and Commandments are theories and suggestions rather than the lifeline that will save them from the fire.

"However, I am a compassionate God. I see the evil deeds of the wicked against the just. Erin, I see. I have therefore selected My remnant, My special harvest, made of My afflicted from the least of these, those that the world has cast aside, those I have kept for My purposes.

"Erin, I heard you during all of your sleepless nights... your pleas to Me, your tears and even when you acted in your own defense using My written Words to plead your case. Erin, I heard you. Your case was good, is good and will always be good. You also stood on behalf of your children and your husband. You even stood on behalf of those who deserted you in your most difficult times.

"You then asked for mercy and wisdom. I have never forgotten your pain, not one single second of it. I know this was difficult and you felt deserted at times. However, you were never alone, not once. I was there with you... at church, at the grocery store, at work and at court. I saw what was said of you and done to you.

"Erin, I allowed you to go through this furnace of affliction. I was there as your heart pounded and your knees buckled. As you began to lose strength, I reached down, picked you up and carried you through the flames of affliction. In turn, you never stopped loving Me, even though I was quiet at times. You still declared your love for Me and never abandoned Me. In turn, I have never abandoned you.

"I was with you from the beginning and forever I am with you. I promise to keep you always... you, your children, your household and your Nest friends. I will reward all those whose hope is on Me with an outpouring from My Mercy Seat in Heaven. Treasures with no measure will rain down on the Earth. You will have priceless gifts never seen before.

"However, not all is what you think as you will have no need for the material as these thoughts will be far from you. You will instead see miracles of change, restoration, healing and My recompense of blessings over the nations. Those who have believed and prayed for this will see it. Because of their faith, they will receive a double portion of outpouring. They will testify of My Goodness in all things.

"The enemy... your enemies... will be far from you. Your enemies will be unable to be near you as I am in you and Heaven is upon you in all you do. Now rejoice, Erin, for I am about to shake the nations. Rejoice and be glad for I am God. I am good. I reward good with more good. I reward evil with more evil. What a man sows he too then shall reap. Erin, the harvesters are now ready."

Me: "I love You, Lord. Let this be now... in Your Name, Jesus!"

Jesus: "I love you too."

Dream over.

Dream 544 – My Lights Are About to Destroy the Darkness

Received on Monday, December 13, 2021

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day here! Thank You for a roof over our head and heat in our home. Thank You for lights in the darkness and food to eat. Thank You also for a comfortable mattress for my tired body and a pillow to rest my head while I sleep and dream. I had a restless painful night of trying to sleep the night before last. The wind outside was howling and I felt shaken awake with each mighty gust.

When I went outside this morning, I saw a collection of leaves and feathers from the mourning doves. I realized that some must have huddled together and taken shelter from the storm under our cover here. Still, no matter what just came our way, it is nothing compared to what happened in a six-state region overnight from Friday to Saturday. Many received warnings, but, for some, it was too late.

All I know is that You will do everything possible to prepare Your people prior to the Great and Terrible Day of the Lord. In reading history, You have allowed tragedies to soften hearts so that they may turn to You. You have been talking to me about my personal storms. You have also talked to me about glowing like candles to the lost. I believe You will take these horrific events and do the miraculous with it.

From Friday night into Saturday early morning, 30 tornadoes struck the corners of four states; Illinois, Arkansas, Kentucky and Tennessee. Two other states also experienced troubles. Over 80 are dead or presumed to be dead. The storms were so intense that debris was thrown 30,000 feet into the air. This is higher than Mount Everest. The live nativity was canceled as the manger was destroyed.

Many lives were lost in a candle factory that was destroyed. In Mayfield, a law office was hit and only one wall remained. It was interesting that this one wall was lined with shelves of law books and case studies. This all seems to be a sign from You, Father, that even the heart of the country of the USA is in trouble.

For sports fans, something interesting happened in the world of football. In the game with the Chargers vs the Giants, the Chargers quarterback Herbert went 15/ 21 for 144 yards, 1 TD and 0 interceptions.

With only 25 seconds to go in the first half, he threw an amazing pass 63.8 yards for an amazing touchdown. People on social media claimed this was too fantastic not to be a throw helped by the supernatural.

Me: "Well, Father, it is obvious that You are preparing for something supernatural. Please be with us in all things, Lord, for You are the God that saves."

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "I am with you, Erin. I prepare My people in advance to receive My outpouring. Just as I sent the wisemen to follow the sign in the sky to Bethlehem, so too have I sent great signs and wonders now. Many I send out can only speculate on what I might do based on My words, as well as former events. As the time draws near, the once foggy glass becomes clearer as certain blurry figures become more defined. Erin, you are beginning to see the signs more vividly now. While some signs are remarkable to some, others see nothing at all."

Me: "Lord, why hit areas with great storms that contain Your people in them? Why not allow areas with greater..."

Jesus: Stopping me in mid-sentence. "Erin, are you asking Me to allow selective calamities? While I know this is difficult to understand, many more are now here with Me. They cried out to Me in the storm and I delivered them. Many others lived to tell about this. Now, you see the devastation and you ask Me why. Erin, are you accusing Me of being unjust? If I created each one and knitted them in their mother's womb, was I then caught by surprise at the time of their homecoming to Me here?"

Me: Stammering. "No, Lord, of course not... not at all... nothing surprises You."

Jesus: "Then you must let Me be God. I am not cruel, Erin. The angels have collected animals and livestock as well and even these are here. What is better... eternity with Me or thousands elsewhere?"

Me: "I am so sorry, Lord. I don't mean to question You. It is just hard to see the pictures and hear the stories of those who are here."

Jesus: "Struggles, calamities, storms, tests and trials can shake a man to his core so that he makes changes immediately. He goes to his knees as he realizes he is not in control. It then dawns on him that there is a merciful and all-loving God. He then humbles himself to Me and is saved."

"Now, let us back up 24 hours. This same man is an arrogant sinner and a servant of the world. He doesn't know that he is about to be broken in just a matter of a few hours. While it is not My Will for anyone to suffer, you of all people understand the eternal value of your troubles. Why then are you questioning My business?"

Me: "As Your Bride, as Your child who loves You, I want to know my Lord's business as I long for the Will of the Father to be met. Lord, You made me with a tongue of inquiry. While You are clearly infinitely wiser than the wisest man on Earth, You have still made me complex enough to want to see You at work in all things. You are a complex Father. As You work, I say 'why are You doing this or that?' I do this so that I can understand.

"You then say 'let the little children come to Me!' They then come and ask you questions, all of them filled with great wonder. They, like us, have both simple questions and complex questions. When You answer, there are somethings that we simply cannot understand... not yet anyways. Lord, I am now as a child coming to You and asking these questions."

Jesus: "You make a great case, one that I agree with. However, the answers are long and complicated and will not satisfy you until you are Home in Heaven. All will then be satisfied, all made right and your understanding will increase. As for here on Earth, there are no easy answers for why I would allow such things other than to understand that your home is not here.

"You are a citizen of Heaven with Me. Here, you are a soldier in the war. Your suffering has humbled your self-ambitions. You have been wounded. In My Army, your rank is higher because you have surrendered all personal promotions in this life for My purposes. Now, Erin, as a soldier of rank, should you then question the moves of your General?"

Me: "No. I trust that He does not want any of His men harmed, high ranking or not. However, I am also a Bride longing to be with her Groom. I want to learn all I can from the One I wait for and love, the One I am betrothed to. I don't want to hear things about my Groom secondhand... I want to hear it from You directly... always!"

Jesus: "Oh Erin, it is best to not listen to rumors. It is best to not engage against liars whose goal is to dishearten and destroy. These people are full of hate and are soon to be with no voice. You are to instead focus on Me and My promises for My Bride. Just as I kept the world in the dark more than 2000 years ago, many are in the dark now. Only My Bride sees through the darkness to truly see where I am. Erin, only My Bride."

Me: Crying. "Oh Lord, please forgive me. The nations are so downcast. The world is in great need of You. Please send comfort to all those who lost everything. Better yet, send in that Great Miracle of Transformation and Restoration to the areas destroyed. Raise the dead, Lord. Count backwards from 80 as each is raised back up... in Jesus' Name, in Your Great Name... Amen."

Jesus: "Erin, your dreams do not even begin to describe all the great wonders I have planned. Heaven will be visible on Earth. While the Great Separation will occur, it will not be as you think. It will be even better. As this all unfolds, you will praise God even more."

Me: "Oh Lord, I am so excited. However, I now need Your help on a dream I had last night that You just illuminated in my mind..."

Sub-dream 1 "Two Tickets for Driving the Wrong Way" begins...

I received two tickets for driving the wrong way. One ticket was not justified as the road signs were 'clearly unclear'. I still received a ticket for $148. Later on in the same day, I went the wrong way without even thinking about it. My ticket this time was $208. While I felt the first ticket was unjustified, I felt clearly in the wrong for the second ticket.

Sub-dream 1 over...

"Lord, what did this dream mean?"

Jesus: "Well, on the surface, to obey traffic signs and remain alert. From a supernatural perspective, obey My Word and keep My Statutes so that I will make your ways straight. You are to stay alert as you do not know when I will do this new thing, understand? I am in you. Call upon Me and I will give you perfect peace as you remain diligent."

Me: "I then had another dream..."

Sub-dream 2 "Us on one side, Pharisees on the other" begins...

I saw a river with no current. It had dark muddy banks. There was a massive tree canopy over the entire area. The water from the river opened into a larger body of water. On one side was our home, family and friends. All were celebrating and happy. On the other side of this river were the Pharisees. They were at a Jewish Synagogue that had no walls.

The Pharisees were busy preparing for a big event. They had maps and different artifacts to measure this event. They did not see us at all. We tried to get their attention. We even blew a shofar. My older son then did something he would never do, all to get their attention. He took a running leap into the water, yelling 'Cannon Ball... Incoming!' at the top of his lungs as he did so.

While the water splashed all over the Pharisees, they still ignored us. Not only did they still ignore us, they then drew a curtain so that we could no longer see their activities. They were clearly staying away from anything we had to show or tell them.

Sub-dream 2 over...

"Lord, what was this dream about?"

Jesus: "The river between the two banks was with no current and the banks were muddy and unattractive. The Pharisees were looking for the evidence of the coming Messiah. Even though there was plenty of evidence for them to see that I was already with you on the other side of the river, they still did not see Me. They finally pulled their curtain so they would no longer see or be disturbed by you... or Me.

"They will still not recognize Me even in the midst of great miracles. They have thick curtains over their eyes. However, you are not to be concerned here. They will eventually recognize Me, so do not worry. There will be a great blowing of the shofar. I am impressed that you can blow the shofar. You are the only one in your household that can blow the shofar. I can feel your passion whenever you do this."

Me: Laughing. "You are so funny!"

Jesus: "Now, the conditions are ripe for change. The governments are oppressive. The people are downhearted. Many are sick and in great need. There will be a great taxation as these decrees have begun. Good is called bad and bad good. The leaders are corrupt. The lawmakers only care about their own lifestyles and bank accounts. Criminals have been set free and the law abiding have been locked away.

"The scales of justice are now skewed. There are wars and rumors of wars. There are false religions who force others to comply or die. There are others who are keeping My people in the dark. While My Candles will soon burn in all of you, their candles will remain completely without My Flame. They will then become very angry and will want you offered up in the courts. They will do this from a platform of jealousy.

"They will see great miracles performed in My name. These miracles will be even greater than those I did 2000 years ago. They will call these miracles blasphemous and of demons. They will do this even though I declared this is happening because of Me and My Words.

"Erin, I am in you now. I am Immanuel, God with you... and in you. Rejoice, Erin, for I am God. I am about to do something in your days you would not believe even if I told you. My Lights are about to destroy the darkness."

Dream over.

Dream 545 – A Great Surprise is Soon to Come

Received on Tuesday, December 14, 2021

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day! Thank You for family and friends. Not only do we have a quiver full of sons and daughters, we also have a massive flock of Nest Sparrow Friends! We are blessed. Father, if You had told me where I would be now back in 2012, I would not have believed it. I probably would have laughed like Sarah when she was told that she would be pregnant with a son within a year. Truly remarkable.

Still, my life is really like so many others. While I was born with great individual potential, I did not have much in the way of opportunity or support at home. As such, I struck out on my own way. In doing so, I had to ignore the curses, all of the 'you will never..', 'you have no clue about..' and 'you are dreaming if..'. In some ways, they were partially right. I had no clue that God would use me as a dreamer and a scribe. Again, truly remarkable.

When I spend time doing God's work, I am no longer constrained by limitations. When I work on my own or for others, I experience problems. This makes sense as I have a ridiculous list of disabilities. Still, I don't feel sorry for myself. However, I do get discouraged at being accused of things I have not done. Washington L&I concocted such a toxic brew of lies that they stopped my time loss. They are the epitome of evil.

Sometimes I become so upset. The Lord then says 'Erin, I have you... you are better in My care than theirs'. He is right... as per usual. So many people are hurting all over the world right now and facing impossible situations.

Me: "Oh Lord, this Covid stuff never seems to end. It is horrible. The restrictions seem to be getting worse. Help! Lord, please help us!"

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "Oh Erin, is My Word not being fulfilled now. Do not worry. I have taken care of you your whole life and I have no intention of stopping now. I have blessed those who bless you and cursed those who curse you. Now, you are not to worry. Instead of going out in fear, go out in bold joy. Great is a joyful heart against such oppression.

"I will instruct you in the ways you should go. Remember to prepare for events as you would normally, yet expect the unexpected from Me at the same time. Delight yourself in preparations for the possibility of normal traditional gatherings, yet understand that the enemy has longed for war against Christmas."

Me: "Should we celebrate Christmas? Is this not pagan, Lord?"

Jesus: "Do you give thanks, find joy, gather with loved ones and celebrate the birth of your Savior during this time?"

Me: "Yes."

Jesus: "Then this is good. You always know when God's favor is upon a practice when the enemy fights to destroy it. Why else would the enemy declare war on Christmas?"

Me: "It is like removing the word Christ from the word Christmas and using X instead (Xmas). They are always pushing Santa and other distractions from the true Christmas message... all things You."

Jesus: "Yes, the big cancelling X. Same enemy, different battlefield. He never changes. I don't either. Still, I can do a new thing. Now, why does God allow Christmas? Well, it is because you see the heart of a man at its best and also at its worst during this time. Christmas is a good measure of someone's heart."

Me: "I am afraid about having my daughter travel during Christmas."

Jesus: "I understand as these are dangerous times. However, you serve the God over all things, even time and space. Your daughter also serves Me. Her faith is great. I promise to protect her in all she does. There are many parents and grandparents in fear for their children right now. This is because a wave of fear has swept over the nations.

"Remember that news outlets only report on the bad news. When people watch something bad happening to a youth, many then assume that hundreds of millions of youths, including their youths, will all befall the same trouble. However, these fears are based on faulty statistics. Now, if you saw a young person or child in distress that was not your own, would you help?"

Me: "Of course I would help. I wouldn't even think twice."

Jesus: "Since I am in you, so I will also aid in the situation. You are to again understand that you have raised children with My Spirit in them. With this, along with your prayers and petitions, who can then come against them? Please do not worry as this does not add to your days.

"I realize it is difficult to wait on My Great Plan, My Great Move. It is made even more difficult with worry. Yesterday, you were distressed about the storms. Today, you have taken up the mantle of other worries. How can I help you?"

Me: "Well, I will start off by giving You my mantle. I surrender my worry to You. I will keep myself busy with joyful tasks."

Jesus: "Yes, but the tasks you are looking at bring you heaviness and a measure of avoidance."

Me: "You are right, Lord. They are overwhelming. They are like the Red Sea."

Jesus: "You are funny! Then part it down the middle. When you crossover, do as I instruct. Your joy will then be complete as there will be no further burdens for you. It is possible for you to find joy. While your faith in Me is great, you do not always trust your abilities."

Me: "Oh Lord..." I let out a deep sigh. "...I need healing. I need to know that everything will be okay again and my children safe."

Jesus: "Ah ha! Erin, you must trust Me. I have not brought you this far only to now destroy your hope in Me... your dreams."

Me: "I love You, Lord. I know that You will get us through everything. I just don't want anymore trials. I want to be healed, changed and in service. I love You. You are the God over all things. You are worthy of all of our love and praise. You are so good. I just need a miracle. All of us here on the Nest need Your miracles, Lord!"

Jesus: "I love you too, Erin. I hear you. I see you. I know your heart is good. I know you are tired and weary. I will do as I promised."

Me: "I repent, Lord. I am sorry. It is just that the world is so horrible now. If all this can happen to one, it can also happen to many. Lord, strengthen my faith. Lord, strengthen me. I love You. Please bless my husband, my children, my Nest friends and their families. We all love You so much!"

Jesus: "Oh Erin, I am with you. I will never leave you. Many arrows can come at you, but all will fall short of you. No attacks from the enemy will prevail. I am in you. Now rejoice today. I will strengthen your faith. I have a great surprise for you that is soon to come. Your prayers have been answered."

Dream over.

Dream 546 – Filling Valleys and Leveling Mountains

Received on Wednesday, December 15, 2021

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day here! Thank You for my husband, our children and the Nest Sparrows from all over the world who pray for us daily. Yesterday, just as I was closing my journal, I had a short discussion with You...

Jesus: "Tomorrow, we will discuss filling valleys and leveling mountains."

I sat back down to open my journal. I did not want to stop the Lord if He wanted to spend more time with me on yesterday's dream.

Jesus: "No, Erin, not today... tomorrow."

Well, tomorrow is now today, so this will now follow. For some reason, this reminded me of something that happened back in 2003 when the Lord used me as a vessel for the very first time. I had accompanied one of my friends to the Emergency Room. As we sat waiting, we heard an ambulance pull up. A man on a stretcher was being rushed in. In the lobby, his family gathered, including children and grandchildren.

My friend and I were both graduate seminary students at the time, so we felt called to ask them if we could pray for them. Just then, my friend was called back to her room. There I stood... alone. I was the one who had recently proclaimed to other Christians that my gifting was not prayer. This family was now asking me to pray for them. The man's daughter came over to speak with me...

Daughter: "I prayed for help and you were sent. Come."

I was immediately swept up in a life changing event for my faith. She took me to her father and he reached out his hand to me. It was clear that this man didn't have long to live even though I still don't know why he was there. I now realize it doesn't matter. The daughter was just so excited to have me there. The daughter addressed her dad...

Daughter: "Dad, Jesus answered our prayers. Look, He sent help!"

I looked over and saw the look on his wife's face. She looked completely skeptical. As for me, I had no idea what I was supposed to say.

Here I was in my first year of graduate seminary and I had no fresh water to draw from my dry well of scriptural knowledge. My inner voice spoke to the Holy Spirit...

Me: "Please, Father, I need Your help on this. Please take me over. Please let Your Will be done."

In an instant, my racing heart slowed and my breathing became steady. I was calm. While I don't remember all my lips spoke, I remember I felt a safe warm wave fill my body. It was the opposite of a dangerous ocean wave. His wave rushed through me and was uncontrollable. My lips moved and I could tell that God was using me.

The Lord then used John 14 about how He was preparing a place for him and that the angels were completing the final touches. I then actually saw into the Spirit to describe what I saw. The man had such joy. He must have specifically asked the Lord for this. The Lord commanded angels to complete his home. I knew by the Lord's words to the man that he was going to be taken this day.

I could see the man's wife's jaw open. She wasn't skeptical anymore. The Lord then spoke about the great race of love that the man had run. Without having any knowledge, direct history or personal memories, the next words I quoted came from Luke and Isaiah. He smiled as I spoke the following words...

Me: "...and every valley will be filled and the hills and the mountains brought down. He makes crooked roads straight and rough roads smooth."

I was later told that I had just quoted the man's favorite Scriptures in the Bible. The man was overcome and his wife then began to cry...

Wife: Looking at her husband. "While the Lord has all things prepared for you, what about me and your children?"

Daughter: "Mom, it will be okay. Dad, do not worry. God will do all He has promised."

The nurse then came into the room and rebuked me for being there. The man squeezed my hand and smiled at me...

Man: "Bless you!"

He knew it was not me, but the Lord welling up in me. The daughter then brought me to the lobby where the son and the balance of his family was. The son was not a believer and I was still not sure if the wife was either. The daughter told everyone what was spoken through me by the Lord over their father. I then saw the son break down. This big burly young man who was just angry suddenly broke.

The daughter asked me to pray again. I did as she requested, but I don't remember everything I said, just that the Lord led him to salvation. They turned to thank me and asked for my name. I gave them only my first name and no other information. I told them that all glory is to God. They then hugged me and went back to their dying father. As I continued to wait for my friend, the Lord spoke to me...

Jesus: "You are not finished. Now go and testify to My goodness at the prayer meeting."

He was talking about that night's Wednesday Prayer Service at our church. This had been something I didn't want to go to. I went anyway and it was really uncomfortable. I testified to all that the Lord had done earlier that day. This then caused a divide. The elderly people embraced me and were happy to hear it. However, the younger people were jealous and mocked me indirectly. It was terrible. My mother-in-law was nasty...

Ex-mother-in-law: "Why would God use you to do this? He could use so many others that were better qualified than you."

Well, of course she was right. It still hurts though. Yes, why me, Lord? Why me? Still, I thank You for this experience. It was really amazing. After this, I operated and believed in the miracles of God. He moved mountains for me and I have never been the same. However, people weaponized Scripture, using it as judgment to decide who is allowed this or that by God. It is heartbreaking. I shake my head sometimes.

One of my friends at the time was a Biblical scholar. In this person's case, I viewed her as the Christian version of a Pharisee. She constantly was there to remind me of the Scriptures I was using as being out of context and that I should not use His Words unless I understand what they mean. She was then able to effectively silence me using fear. To this day, I am not sure she even realized she had done it. It was awful.

I thought the world of this woman. She had published books and wrote for several publications. After I told her of my encounter, she did everything she could to discount and downplay the miracle God had clearly used me for. It was not that long after that the Lord relocated us to Central Oregon. He moved mountains for us in 2003.

I would soon run into someone that shamed me for acknowledging the enemy and that we have to fight against their attacks. This person frowned at me when I asked him, if there is no enemy, why do we need the armor of God? He had no answer. I had clearly stumped him. This would certainly not be the last time God had me run into the paths of people like these. I had a dream last night...

Sub-dream 1 “Valleys Rising, Mountains Falling” begins...

I was in a mountainous area not far from the sea. At times, the area looked like the Hawaiian Islands. At other times, the area looked like the Cascades of the Olympic Mountain Range. There was a cute resort type city near the ocean. It was touristy and had hotels. We were there to meet with a builder who built small modern shed-style homes. These were to be rugged for many conditions.

We had visited his work facility at the base of a massive mountain range. The highest peak was an inactive volcano. We were very impressed with his craftsmanship, style and affordability. He invited us to see some of his homes halfway up the mountain. We agreed and he told us to meet him the next day. He handed us a map. We were traveling in a modern mobile home.

Our trip the next day began under sunny and warm conditions. This then degraded into poor visibility and heavy rain. This became worse as we gained elevation. As we came to the higher parts of the mountain, we noticed an unusual amount of logging trucks driving recklessly down the mountain. We decided it would be prudent for us to pull over to the side of the road until the rain stopped.

We were then instantly removed to a large boat off the shores of the area. We then noticed that the land beside us was shaking violently. Before our eyes, the entire mountain area was shaken downward. It was as if it were a mound of flour being sifted for lumps. Everything we had seen just a few minutes before had been completely leveled. The debris from the mountains went into the sea so far that it formed a dock that met up with our boat (of course this had to be supernaturally directed).

We started to walk inland, but the harsh debris and rocks was making our travel impossible. However, something then happened in an instant. God made a smooth way, a beautiful road, to the shore and inland. The landscape was suddenly reshaped. The village resort was rebuilt brand new. It looked luxurious and wonderful.

The Lord then took me to a very snowy area in a mountainous region. It looked like the area where logging trucks had been coming down too fast prior to the earthquake.

Lord: "The wicked will be no more. I will level the steep slopes they put in place for the righteous knowing they would perish. I will instead carve the slopes to become too slippery for the wicked. I will then shake the mountains and open the storehouses of snow. The wicked will bury themselves in their own doing."

I then saw the mountains shaking. The snow and ice on the peaks were falling off like peeling paint. I then saw these avalanches come over entire areas and bury them. When they filled up the valley, the water rose quickly. Many then cried out to God and were saved. However, many cursed God and they were swept into swift currents leading to the sea.

Sub-dream 1 over...

Me: "Lord, this was a frightening dream. An earthquake strikes all of these mountains in all of these different regions. People were caught unaware."

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "This dream was different than you think, Erin. Yes, calamity can come to humble the hearts of man. However, calamity for the wicked can come when God overcomes the wicked with the good. It doesn't just mean physical landforms are to change. It can also mean a term you use... to 'level the playing field'.

"Right now, the scales are tipped in favor of the wicked. The wicked use unfair weights and measures. Their playing field is meant to ruin the opposing side. It is unfair. Now, let us use an example... when you were young, you loved to follow your favorite baseball team."

Me: "Yes, the Oakland A's, 1972 to 1974. They had the greatest players, including Reggie Jackson, Sal Bando, Campy Campanero, Catfish Hunter and Rollie Fingers. Despite winning, the owner of the team broke them up, completely tearing it apart. Before this happened, I loved baseball. It was so fun to collect the cards and trade them. I was 9 to 12 when I followed baseball with such joy."

Jesus: "Yes, there was great weeping over this. Money was greater than the love of the sport. Now, let us say the best little league baseball team in the world cannot win the championship unless they beat the 1973 A's. What would happen?"

Me: "Oh, that would be awful. The little leaguers would be destroyed. Those seasoned players would run circles around the 11- and 12-year-old players. How awful!"

Jesus: "Well, this is the time you are in now. Men dress as women and beat the women in sports. They do so often and usually by huge margins."

Me: "Yes, Lord, and it is not right. If a male pro golfer competed against our women's golf team, we would have been crushed. The men play from the blue tees and the women play from the white tees. Many on the men's team would be able to drive onto the greens of a par 4 from the white tees. This would be so unfair."

Jesus: "Well, it seems as if nothing is fair right now. Now, let Me ask you this... is anyone looking for a Savior right now?"

Me: "Well, those who love You are. Those who see the wicked are. However, all those who love You are being silenced. Our Nest was alerted to ICann (a website watchdog) that our domain had to report who I was and where I lived. It felt like a census. I know they are removing whole sites and seizing domain names. Lord, should we worry about the Nest?"

Jesus: "Do not worry about this, Erin. They are busy worrying about others right now."

Me: "Lord, please don't punish Your people because of the corrupt government. None of these people will show mercy and change. It will become worse and it is. Can you please level the playing field and return fairness? How does anyone know how to pray to You if none of the information coming from the media can be trusted?"

Jesus: "I am about to fulfill the words of the prophets. I will shake the nations. I will fill in the valleys and make level the hills and mountains. I will make the roads smooth. Do not worry. Be still and know that I am God. Be still. I am your refuge and strength. I am your ever-present help in trouble as I am with you. Therefore, do not fear.

"Though the Earth give way and the mountains fall into the heart of the sea. Though the waters roar and foam and the mountains quake. There is a river whose streams make glad the City of God, the Holy Place where the Most High dwells.

"I am in you. You will not fall. I will help you at the break of day. Erin, this is your favorite Scripture. Why? Because I placed this upon your heart when you did not know Me or My Words. Now, what is impossible for Me?"

Me: "Nothing, Lord."

Jesus: "Then take these words to heart... not in part, but in whole. This is My Word, My Promise, not the enemy's. I am with you! Rejoice!"

Dream over.

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day! Thank You for a warm house and fresh snow. I have been struggling the last few days. I have been crying a lot and just weepy in general. I never want to take for granted what You have done for each of us. I am in awe of all of it. You are our wonderful Father.

I am sorry I have been upset. Unless a miracle happens, my daughter will not be home for Christmas this year. Official matters interfering with our previous plans means I will not physically see her until next summer. Somehow, I am not overly surprised. I had a weird feeling something like this would happen as I prepared her room for her return. I have been weepy ever since.

Nothing seems to stop it. There is no relief. I miss my daughter and the pain actually hurts my heart. She makes me laugh and smile. She encourages me. When she hugs me, I always laugh because of her thick curly hair in my face. I peered into her room earlier today and I could smell her smell. However, it is fading. So sad!

At least we can still facetime. While I am usually untrusting of technology (for good reason), this breakthrough technology is a true miracle. Just to be able to see her face is so huge for me. Thank You, Lord, for allowing this to happen. I had a dream last night. This dream was really odd as it was mixed in with my actual past physical conditions. While I never want to dishonor my parents, the stories during my impoverished upbringing are factual...

Sub-dream 1 "Head Start Program" begins...

I felt so empty. I was living at our home at 949 Bell Street in Reno Nevada. It was 1966, 1967 or 1968 and I was little again (pre-Kindergarten). My mom wouldn't ask my grandparents or family for help. My dad had left us with a gambling debt. We had been in a nicer house, but we were now in this much smaller house. Mom went to school during the day and worked at the roulette table at Harrold's Club Casino at night.

With her away so often, we were often looked after by babysitters or her boyfriend. Even though we were so young, me around 5 and my brother only 3, we were sent outside often. I guess they felt claustrophobic in our 550 square foot house. It had two bedrooms, 1 bath and a very scary basement. The basement was basically a small room with a scary sounding oil heater that smelled funny.

I spent a lot of time with neighbor kids. I spent a lot of time at Whitaker Park. I was hungry all of the time. While I didn't know we were poor as I had no perspective, I now know we were really, really poor. I decided that I didn't want to go back to my home anymore. I spoke of my plans with a neighborhood friend...

Me: "I have to get out of here. If I leave, I am not sure if my mom would even notice for a few days if I didn't come home. I really don't feel welcome at home."

I then decided to try out being on my own by sleeping the night in the brick restroom in Whitaker Park (which I don't think still exists). I slept there on the floor in the dark. I woke up the next morning and boarded my little yellow school bus to my summer Head Start Program in Mrs. Wolf's class at Orvis Ring Elementary School.

They would serve breakfast there. As I was so hungry, their cinnamon toast, eggs and orange juice tasted 'Heavenly'. The children around me were similarly dressed. The children around me didn't know how to do things like table manners. I didn't either. They taught us this. Mrs. Wolf taught us how to be kind to each other. We learned how to patiently listen during story time. We had a mirror to see our appearances.

My favorite thing was naptime. We had to lay down for a half hour every day. A fun tradition was that a child was given a fairy wand to tap each child to wake up. I had my turn, as did the other children. While some children were in a sound sleep, others like me were always awake. I was on the mat with my eyes closed. My breathing was steady and I was calm. I then heard the voice of an angel...

Voice of an angel: "Erin, it is time to wake up!"

I then felt a tap on my shoulder. My whole body filled up with warmth. I opened my eyes to look for the angel, but I woke up first...

Sub-dream 1 over...

I woke up only to find that I was still like I am now. The dream seemed as if I was actually there. It was painful to relive this. When I was that age, I was hungry, and I mean truly hungry, all of the time. I then fell asleep again and had another dream...

Sub-dream 2 "A Replica of Jesus' Heavenly Gazebo" begins...

I was walking through a shop that had been converted from an old home. Even though the shop had extremely high-end clothing pieces there, nothing interested me. I went into the main area and there was a rectangular clothing rack near the front counter. This was silly as a four-sided clothing rack would make no sense. On the top of this rack was display area with religious artifacts.

The artifacts were being illuminated by an unknown light source. One artifact caught my attention and I knew that I would purchase it no matter the price. It was an exact replica of the gazebo inside the Courtyard of Jesus' Home. Inside of this was Jesus with a Crown. I could see the hand of God blessing Him. He had an amazing robe on. I picked up the artifact to take it to the cashier. I heard a loud Heavenly Voice ring out...

Heavenly Voice: "It is time!"

Sub-dream 2 over...

I keep having dreams of when I was very young. They are awful. It is like reliving my nightmarish childhood. I was so lonely and alone. I was really neglected. Whenever I would confront my mom on this, she would always say some type of derivation of 'I just somehow knew you would be okay.' Well, why is that? This just seems like a lame excuse. While I had regular lunches in Kindergarten, I was always hungry during the Head Start program (which was pre-Kindergarten).

Me: "Oh Lord, please help me. I have so many questions. Why all the dreams of me being young? Why all the dreams of me being in thrift stores during darker times? What do these dreams represent?"

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "I am here, Erin. Now, why do you think I chose you?"

Me: "I am so grateful You did, but, forgive me, Lord, as I really have no clue."

Jesus: "Yes, you do. It is because your life experiences make you relatable. Your imperfections make you the perfect choice."

Me: "My mom said that I exaggerated as a child."

Jesus: "Ah yes... this is what the guilty party says when reality is too painful to address. You have a term for this..."

Me: "Yes, we call this 'Gaslighting'."

Jesus: "This was extremely harmful and you can never forget the visions of what happened to you. It was cruel and there were many who were witnesses to this when you were a child. The classic example is to tell you an event never happened even though they were not there to witness the event. Do not worry, Erin, as the enemy always accuses you of the very things they are guilty of.

"Now, you were old enough to witness many things. You heard even more. Do not worry as this will soon be made right. Now, as far as My calling to you... I know you sometimes wonder why. You know your beginnings and all that has happened and you see nothing in you worthy of My call. Well, Erin, I chose you from the beginning.

"If I were your attorney in a Court of Law, your parents would not fair well. Their stories would not add up. Your stories are damning to theirs and do not fit the narrative they had created. It is easier for them to call you crazy and a liar. Could they really say you were not neglected when evidence you were is clear?

"If your mother was rattling off her great accomplishments as a single mom working long hours and attending classes, then she would have to be omnipresent to be with you. Only God can be omnipresent, meaning she was not present with you. As your husband would say... 'this is a mathematical certainty'. This means your mother was an absent parent. However, this is made worse by her denials."

Me: "Thank You, Lord."

Jesus: "She did this to try and make herself feel better about her neglect."

Me: "At least she sewed my clothing for school."

Jesus: "Yes, but this was a bit later when she needed to present a good front."

Me: "Do You mean after the foster home?"

Jesus: "This was a short stay as family stepped in. The clothing came because she was skilled, fast and creative."

Me: "It made me feel good."

Jesus: "I know it did. However, it did not erase what had occurred. Erin, I was there. She entrusted your care to young people unfit to do so. Even though you often wandered off, you were always in My care and in the care of angels. Your experiences have led you to ask questions that were downplayed with excuses made up of lies. You then grew quiet and watched them. They noticed this and they became afraid of you.”

Me: “I will never forget naptime in Mrs. Wolf’s Head Start Program. I felt they really cared about us. It was so wonderful to be tapped by the wand. The wand was one of the most beautiful and ornate things I had ever seen up to that point in my young life. It was a crystal star with ribbons. All the children felt special even when we really were not treated special in our home lives.”

Jesus: “The adults looking after you in the Head Start Program really did care for you and the other children. I know all of those children. All of them were the least... a good place to be. Your parents have since gone and now you are here. You hear My voice. It is My voice. I would tell you if you spoke untruths. You do not. Take comfort then as I carry the little lambs close to Me in My arms. They are never far from Me. They are never out of My sight, understand? Erin, you are still that lamb I carried. I still carry you at times, right?”

Me: Crying. “Yes, Lord.”

Jesus: “I will close this question with another question... why would your aunt approach your mother to take you to be raised up by her if you were well taken care of? Also, why did your mother then take time to consider it? Not only that, but why did your mother tell your aunt that she had not really wanted a girl?”

Me: “Oh yes, I had forgotten that last one.”

Jesus: “Well then, if she had done all things right concerning you and she was the great truth teller and you were the liar, why then, just three months prior to her passing, would she privately tell you she was sorry for everything?”

Me: “You are right. She would have never done that. Still, she has never said this in front of my brothers or her husband. As a result, their perception of me was never corrected. My mom still left all of this unreconciled, at least when it comes to me.”

Jesus: “Do not worry as I have detailed accounts of your family’s history. Remember that I do not choose whom the world chooses. Now, why the dreams of old goods being sold? It will be because production of the new has ceased in your dreams.”

Me: “There are amazing items for sale all over.”

Jesus: "This is because there is a demand for only what is needed, what is comfortable and of good quality."

Me: "This is why I hold on to old things, Lord. Everything is now made so poorly."

Jesus: "While this is true right now, you will soon have no need for much of what you wear. It is okay to let go of it."

Me: "Lord, this makes me sad."

Jesus: "All will change, Erin. All things. You will help those in great need. Whatever you need, I will provide for you and much better than your expectations. You will need less because what you have is sufficient and nothing compares to it. It will be as if seamstresses and tailors crafted your clothing from Heavenly origins. This is good news also as your garments will always stay clean. Erin, any soil will come right off."

Me: "When will this be?"

Jesus: "Ah yes... the question of time! It will be the perfect time. Do you not see the times taking shape right before your eyes?"

Me: "Well, yes... but it is so dark. Lord, people who once were so hopeful and had great joy have changed. They are suffering now. Many of us are. Please don't forget us, Lord. My heart is breaking."

Jesus: "A great war on Christmas has come. You see this as the enemy advances. Countries are shutting down from fear. Instead of turning to God, they follow a false prophet in his quest for power. This false prophet works with the beast. Do not worry, Erin, as I am about to shake the nations from their great slumber. They will awaken to truth. When truth is made known, these people who have been asleep will rise.

"However, and even more so, My miracles will also rise. Erin, there were 12 sons of Jacob, all with great abilities. There were 12 walking with me in strength, power and knowledge. However, there will now be 12 times what was before, plus some zeros added on. The evil will confess and be removed. The evil will be removed and taken far away. They will then be forced to watch the miracles of God through those I have called as I will be in them and their gifts will be multiplied.

"The confessions of the wicked will be made public. Some will repent and confess prior to being forced to and they will then experience the Great Move of God. However, for those who cling to their mantle of lies, they will be bound by it. Erin, you will no longer have to contend with those who continue to accuse you of things you are not guilty of."

Me: "Where will the evil people all go?"

Jesus: "A remote place where they can witness all that is good. They will remain preserved until the times of great darkness. Once these times of great darkness arrive, they will wish for death. Even though they will wish for death, death will allude them.

"Now rejoice, Erin, as I am in you and I am with you. Nothing shall be impossible for you. Nothing! Find joy today. I have your daughter. She is with Me. I will care for her and your sons as I care for you. Rejoice! Rejoice! Look up!"

Dream 548 – Your Savior Has Come Bearing Gifts

Received on Friday, December 24, 2021

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day! Thank You for all You have done for us. I miss having my daughter here for Christmas. However, I know that it is safer for her to remain where she is than to travel. While I miss her, I thank You, Father, that she is safe and well cared for. Please forgive me for thinking worried thoughts when in times of fear. I have learned to keep my words few when these thoughts come, giving them to You instead.

Your Voice in Me: "Erin, your time has not yet come. Stay silent. Keep your tongue bridled. Say nothing. Observe everything. Watch the wicked in their schemes. Take notes. Your time will soon come. Be patient."

This knowledge You have given me is a gift to be treasured. Wisdom is a beautiful faceted jewel. Please let me wear it as You call me to. Never let me squander even one gift You have given me. All of the gifts You grant me have come because of my times in the furnace of affliction. I have not done anything great to earn these gifts. My only true accomplishment is allowing less of me in order to allow more of You.

My pride was abased, leaving me in the 'abase-ment'. This is the lowest part of me and my least favorite part of a home. Oh Father, please keep my worst parts in the basement. Keep it there, Father. I never want to miss the wonderful gift of Your Voice in me. I love You!

Father, for the last couple of weeks, You have been reconciling me in the good parts of my upbringing. I had some small special endearing moments when I was a child. I cherish the rare kindness of strangers back in a time where there seemed to be very little charity. Why? I think it was because of so many memories surrounding the Great Depression of the 1930s.

This Depression, and the World War right after it, seemed to make people stoic and cold. My grandparents were a good example of this. On my mom's side (my mom was adopted), my grandfather was a superintendent of schools in Illinois. He was 6'5" and he looked intimidating. Every now and then though, he would crack a smile. However, his childhood was filled with great loss and poverty.

My grandfather was proud and he worked really hard through very difficult times. He told me that he washed dishes in Chicago for 10 cents a day and would then hitch rides to get home. He had experienced many troubles on his journey and it made him very thick skinned. He was also frugal to the point of being ridiculous. Why? Because he had worked so hard to earn so little.

As for my grandmother, she would work her fingers to the bones. She was constantly cooking and cleaning. She taught me everything about personal hygiene, manners and cooking. She rarely smiled and looked so worn. She didn't look happy even in old photos. She had a very hard life. When I look back, I don't recall even one display of affection from my grandmother to my grandfather or vice versa.

In this atmosphere, my mom was raised to also be frugal. They also expected a lot from her in all aspects of life. My mom then rebelled against them. She grew in selfishness because she was raised to fight for self-ambitions. This made me realize that not all we come out to be is decided as a matter of DNA. There is a process. Growing up is a process. God's refinement is a process.

Well, flash forward to the 1960s and my mom now being in her 20s. If she was wanting the opposite for her life than her upbringing, this was her time to shine. Unfortunately, having two children really didn't fit in that well with her goals. She didn't adjust to having children. Instead, we were forced into her journey. Our only job was to now self-navigate. We had to navigate on what little we were taught by our parents.

To make matters worse, money was scarce. Provision was not there. My dad had a gambling debt. He fled, leaving us with his debts. Before leaving, he took anything of value. My mom was now a single mom in the 1960s. She was young and proceeded to make a series of bad choices. I heard things that no four-year-old should hear. Anything that became familiar to me would soon vanish. I got used to it.

Being raised in the 1960s was not easy on any person that was a child at this time. This decade was one of rebellion and children were simply left to fend for themselves. Father, it is truly a miracle that I am with You today. I am so thankful for You. I love You so much. You are my Greatest Treasure!

When looking back, I now realize that I was looking for a Savior from when I was very little. I wanted someone to choose me. I wanted someone to rescue me. A broken nose at age 7 removed my ability to ever be a Disney princess or the homecoming queen. I was the most unlikely to be picked for anything. Still, I believed that it was all for a reason. Why?

I felt this way because I couldn't believe that my life story, with all the trials and tribulations, wouldn't be of some value or use. Otherwise, it would make no sense. I soon started to put things in a journal / diary. Not surprisingly, they would soon disappear. I realize now that the adults in my life didn't want their mistakes documented. As for me being transparent to my children, I am an open book.

Without God, how would any of us know if any of this would ever matter? After years of being a victim of gaslighting, I have sought truth. I have been on many fact-finding missions. While this makes you unpopular with family, it allows an open door for healing for the searcher. Thank You, Father, for all of these amazing people that You have brought into our lives.

Some of these people were family, others were friends. Some were with us for a lifetime, others for only a season. Some came quickly and were gone just as fast, but their effects can last forever. We tend to not truly appreciate someone's presence until they are no longer around. We then search for their memories in our hearts.

Father, You granted me this story. My story is now really all Yours. Please make something great for Your Glory from my path. I have searched for You for my whole life. I gathered evidence to see Your hands at work in my life. You have then said to me 'Erin, you are Mine. I have always been with you!'

Me: "Lord, I have the evidence that You have always been here. You shaped me. You are the Potter, the Good Potter. I pray You continue to use me, as, without You, I am nothing."

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "Erin, I have formed you in your mother's womb. I have kept you and preserved you for such a time as this. All My promises are true. I will not abandon you to the grave. As sure as the sun rises in the East and sets in the West, I will do all of what I have spoken. Erin, all that I have spoken shall surely come to pass.

"You then ask Me 'what does appointed time mean?' and 'what is due season?' Well, Erin, these are very good questions. Appointed time means that this is the period given to a block of events as ordained by God. You have seen God's Clock and Calendar. It is not a simple sundial. It is complex. The appointed time is declared and framed by God from the very beginning.

"As these appointed times are ordained by God from the very beginning, this means they are not a time appointed by man, but only by God, understand? Man is not the determiner of God's time. God and God alone is the Keeper of the times and seasons. While man tries to manipulate God's appointed times by using confusion, this still does not mean that man controls it. They do not.

"You then hear Me use the term 'in Due Season' and you become disappointed, especially now that winter has come. Well, you have no need to be disappointed as God does things differently than expected. Instead of viewing things in terms of 'Growing Seasons', look instead to 'the Season of the Spirit of God'."

Me: "Then this is a good season where an act of God is due."

Jesus: "The Good News is that you are now in Due Season. However, when you look closer at the term you just used... the term 'good'... I say 'yes' and 'no' to this. 'No' in that it is cold and dark, exactly as it is written as it should be during these times. 'Yes' in that you now feel in your Spirit that a Great Move of God is coming. You can sense this. This is a time of Great Preparation. Since the Great Separation has now finished, then I say 'yes' to this being the 'Due Season'.

"Erin, your life's journey and troubles are not void. You did not suffer trials of many kinds for no purpose under Heaven. Instead, your journey has been preparing you for what is coming. This will be a time and times like no other. It was foretold that a virgin would conceive a child via the Holy Spirit and that this child would be the Messiah, God with us. This would be God walking with us.

"However, the times you are currently in will be different. Instead of God with us, it will be God in us. The Holy Spirit will no longer be a messenger to you as in a communication source. This will instead be My Voice in you. The moment you ask a question, I will answer. This is because we will be as one. While this has already occurred for you, this will soon occur for the others I have called for this time."

Me: "While I do not fully understand all of this, I am just so excited to be used of You, Lord. You are my Best Friend. I love You with all of my heart."

Jesus: "Good then. We are as one. Now, you have been trying to navigate history. It is difficult to do this when the records are few. Instead, trust Me with all of this as I am the Keeper of Records. Evidence is now being unearthed daily in My history in support of My Word. Still, there are very few who gather together all of the pieces. As such, I will remain a mystery until I am not. Do not worry, Erin, as I have a Great Plan. Now, the enemy is demanding many things right now...

- The closing of My churches.
- The silencing of My choirs.
- The covering of the noses and mouths of My people.
- The declaring that fresh air is poison and that poison is fresh air.
- The sending of fear of illnesses in the desire to destroy families, cause division and shatter hopes.
- The coercion that many will now say 'I wish it were evening' in the morning and 'I wish it were morning' in the evening.
- The causing of dread in your hearts, the enemy taking great delight when a confident man then trembles in fear.
- The creating of a 'liquid savior' (the vaccine) to 'keep you safe'.

"The enemy forever calls out for more and more. The enemy demands more and more of you to wear you down from within. However, you are to remember that no power of hell nor scheme of man can ever take you away from Me."

Me: "So, the enemy can never pluck me from Your hands?"

Jesus: "No, never. Now, stand back and watch them make mistakes. They will make mistakes in desperation as they start to see and understand the term God would use of being 'In Due Season'. They will then tremble and declare that the great time of death and darkness has arrived. Doom and gloom will become their 'message of hope'. Their mantle will be of fear.

"As for those who turn to Me, My mantle is of hope. My Spirit is in you. We are at the appointed moment in time. Yes, Erin, we are in 'This Due Season'. I will raise up an army unlike any that the world has ever seen. My glory shall be upon you fully. You will perform awesome deeds. There will be no weapon that will succeed against you. No power of hell will prevail against you.

"The time is soon to come when the enemy will retreat and hide. Erin, they will be no more until your time and times are complete. While I have been quiet, I will now well up in My people. To those I have instructed while they slept and given visions while they were awake, they will now know they were not 'mad' or 'crazy'. They will no longer ask 'Lord, is that You?' They will be in My army and will understand all of this is true.

“As for you, for this past year, I have readied your house for My Great Reveal. This will be a revival of Global Proportions of My long-awaited Glory. Find this of Great Measure, Erin. A Great Gift will once again come to the world, but in a different form. This different form will be My Bride, now more powerful than even the sons of Jacob.

“Rejoice, Erin, rejoice! I have prepared you your entire life for what is now the Appointed Time. You are in Due Season! Your Savior has come bearing Gifts! Rejoice!”

Dream 549 – Our Greatest Christmas Gift to Jesus

Received on Saturday, December 25, 2021

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for such a glorious day! Thank You for my husband, our children, our family, our Nest friends and their families. These are gifts too wonderful for me to comprehend. I am so thankful.

Last night, I had one of the worst sleeps I have ever had. I was restless and could not fall asleep even though I was exhausted. I would fall asleep and then suddenly wake up. My body did not feel right at all. My Spirit, You in me, must not have slept during my personal storms. I can't remember ever having a Christmas Eve quite like last night. I cried a lot too and, at times, uncontrollably.

I kept thinking... Lord, is this travailing? Lord, is my body changing? I must have finally fallen asleep at around 6:00am. I then received a text from my daughter at 9:15am wishing me a wonderful Christmas. I asked if she had a good sleep and she said no, she could not sleep as she was restless. I told her I was the same and that I loved her. I think she then finally fell asleep because it was so early where she is.

I laid in bed awhile and began to dialogue with Jesus...

Lord, thank You for this day of all days. I know this day is a great celebration of Your birth. Even though the calendars have been confused over the years, there are still many of us who love You and are forever thankful for God sending You. What an incredible thing You have done, Lord! You had longed to be with Your people. What love is like this? Only a Father's love could do all You have done for us.

Your love transcends space, time and matter. It cannot be measured. You dwelt in the Garden. You spoke to the prophets. You stayed with Your people during their time in the desert. You performed incredible miracles... too many to list. I just know that You do these miracles on a daily basis. Then, years later, when the land had become cold once again, You sent Your Son, Jesus.

Jesus was conceived in a virgin in order to be man walking amongst Your people in flesh... God in flesh. The prophecies had foretold this and these came to pass in You. However, You did not stop there. You had relationships with Your people. You raised a church. You raised the dead. You were given the keys to life and death. You were given power over all things, which then manifested in Your Resurrection.

Nothing man could do could ever match Your powers. No scheme of hell nor man could ever overcome You, Lord. You then ascended to Heaven in glory. You had gone before us to prepare the place You have for us in Heaven. This is our Promised Land. You then left us with the Holy Spirit because You knew that fear consumes man when void of God. This is our navigation method that always points to our True North, Jesus.

Well, flash forward 2000 years and the world has once again grown cold. Evil has increased so quickly that prophecies seem to be fulfilled on a daily basis. There are also so many things happening that we don't even hear about. Oh Lord, Your people are waiting for You again. However, the Jewish people still wait for their Messiah because so many of them refuse to believe You were Him.

Oh Lord, when? When, Lord? My first official Word from You came on September 30, 2012. It has been nine years and almost three months. Today's prophets are proclaiming the Great Move of God is about to begin and that we must prepare for our King. Well, Lord, I had hoped that this would have begun today. However, and just like so many other great watch days, today's 'dawn' just seemed to come and go.

Still, we cannot help ourselves from continuing to wait for Your Appointed Time. You are worth the wait and Your timing will be just like You... absolutely perfect. I hear Your Voice loudly in me now. Things are different. I am preparing for something. However, I cannot know it until Your Will is done. So, on this day, what can I give You, my Lord? I am so unlikely to be chosen for anything.

I was born of this world and I had lived so much of my life serving the god of this world... that is, until the day I gave my heart to You. Once I was baptized in water and Spirit, the world hated me as it did You. I have been at war ever since and for 28 years and 3 months against powers, princes and principalities of the world. This is because they can see You in me.

Me: "Oh Father, the game has changed. I am being removed from my daily routines. The plague is still with us, disrupting our daily lives. Thankfully, I am still mostly concealed by You. In thanks to You for all You do for us, what can I give You, Lord? What can I give You which would honor You?"

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "Your heart, Erin!"

Me: "But it is already Yours."

Jesus: "Then I have all I need."

Me: "Is there anything more?"

Jesus: "Yes. That your faith not waver."

Me: "It cannot, Lord, because You encourage me. Am I at risk?"

Jesus: "I made a promise to you that did not come with a condition. This is unconditional. This is an unconditional covenant promise. Now, some sages or pastors would say 'no, God would not do this. There is always a condition like He gave David or Saul.' However, I am in you now. While your body is tired, your mind is sharp.

"This is a time like no other time under Heaven. My churches are closing. Now, did you think God would cast Satan down to cause troubles without an army of Heaven following his moves? The evil has increased because the permissions were granted. The enemy then says 'Yes, but what is the catch?' Well, God does not converse with him nor does He reveal My position.

"The enemy then believes he has won the war, declaring that God has grown tired of man. He then proceeds with precision because he has a pattern which cannot be disputed. It happened in the Garden and he can easily be measured today. However, he now has more resources to use to mimic God's power. He then uses this technology to be ever present in your homes.

"While this is still not like God, it does give him the ability to copy omnipresence and grants him dominion over people. Now, God gave the enemy a head start. Why would He do this? This is because things had to become worse before hearts would turn to God."

Me: "But, Lord, the enemy appears to be winning."

Jesus: "Well, he is not winning. I sent clarion calls from My prophets. Call it My personal 'Head Start Program' to sound the alarm. Do you remember when it started for you?"

Me: "Yes. It was before late December 2012, the time when permissions were granted to the enemy. My dreams officially started at the end of September 2012. However, I had a dream You just reminded me of that occurred before this... back in mid-summer 2012. The following is the dream as posted back in 2012...

Sub-dream 1 "Angels blowing Horns before a Mighty Flood (from 2012)" begins...

In a dream I had recently (back in mid-summer 2012), I watched a massive city in a valley with cliffs surrounding it. People were celebrating when suddenly these large angels began to blow Shofars, or ram's horns. The music got louder and a large dam at the edge of the city broke with golden water flooding the city. As frightening as it was, there was a great celebration.

I should also mention that there were seven cliffs and the angels each had a separate cliff. In the city, people were trading, buying and selling. It was sunny and warm and it occurred around right before noon or late morning from the position of the sun. The sound of screams and water breaking was deafening.

Post Dream Commentary (also from back in mid-summer 2012): It was so real that, when I woke up, I was disoriented and barely recognized my surroundings in my room. Ever since this dream happened, it awakened something exciting. The Holy Spirit was filling me with joy. I must admit that my children and I have been under attack and the attacks have increased, but I am at peace. Two of my children, ages 10 and 12, have both had dreams about Heaven recently and I have had a series of 'wedding shop' dreams where I am being fitted for a gown.

I realize now that this is all growing anticipation for Jesus returning. Has anyone else stopped being as excited about worldly material things, such as over indulging, etc.? I have lost all interest... strange. Also, I interact with many Mormons on a daily basis and, in the last three weeks, almost all of these relationships have broken down, but not because of something that I had done. Would love to hear of anyone else feeling all of these incredible birthing pains, visions, dreams, etc.

Sub-dream 1 over..

"I then remembered a song by a secular group called 'Live'. The song is titled 'Overcome' and is about 9/11. The lyrics still seem profound to me...

"Even now, the world is bleeding, but feeling just fine, all numb in our castle, where we're always free to choose, never free enough to find. I wish something would break because we're running out of time. And I am overcome, I am overcome, Holy Water in my lungs, I am overcome. These women in the street pulling out their hair, my master's in the yard giving light to the unaware, this plastic little place is just a step amongst the stairs. And I am overcome, I am overcome, baby, Holy Water in my lungs, I am overcome. So, drive me out, out to that open field, turn the ignition off and spin around, your help is here, but I'm parked in this open space blocking the gates of love. I am overcome, I am overcome, Holy Water in my lungs, I am overcome. Beautiful drowning, this beautiful drowning, this Holy Water, this Holy Water is in my lungs. And I am overcome, I am overcome, I am overcome, I am overcome."

Jesus: "People are still celebrating God today. Now, what have you learned about the enemy in your lifetime?"

Me: "So many things, Lord. It is so easy to be fooled by him. In the past, the enemy was more subtle. However, it now seems he doesn't need to be subtle. Even Christians are bending. The times he has attacked me is because I have allowed a breach. This breach is often sin and is the entry point. Operating in just one of the negatives of the fruits of the spirit then allows even more sins and then breaches.

"Finally, something would happen and I would repent and remove his control over me in Your Name. I then put on the full armor of God daily until it became a habit. Then though I would begin a furnace period where I was punished relentlessly by my enemies. Even though I would then repent of everything I could think of, I was still relentlessly attacked.

"The enemy used war tactics that were hard to detect, at least at first. The enemy surrounded me and my children. He isolated us from all support. He then cut off our supply chains. He cut off communication with friends and family. He cut off even those in the outer reaches. He then caused other problems, even in our house. I then became physically sick. My means of taking care of my kids were then at risk.

"During these attacks, I had to auction our things to keep the kids and to continue battling for them. For nine years, roughly half of my child-rearing parental time, I was under constant attack. The churches I belonged to said there had to be great sin in order for all of this to be allowed. I prayed, fasted, prayed some more and then fasted again. I did work going back generations to break curses and close doors.

"I did everything I could think of, but nothing helped. Any pride issues were now long gone. I was completely abased. I then gave You a cry beyond all cries for help. I was at the end of myself. My heart had been broken and I even died twice. I was tired... so incredibly tired. I surrendered to You realizing that there was nothing more I could do."

Jesus: "Erin, you have had many experiences in the battlefield. As for the times you see coming, I will fully equip you, understand? Although the enemy remains hidden in plain sight, you see him on full display. He is at war with the world. So, God has come, Erin."

Me: "But I thought You never left?"

Jesus: "While this is true, this is different... a new thing. You have spoken the truth. You asked years ago to be used by God. You cast away your sins and became a new creation. You surrendered all you had to Me. You surrendered yourself unconditionally with the exception of one condition... you asked for your children to be unharmed and given to Me. Erin, I agreed to your terms."

Me: "Yes, but I didn't know that You would use Asperger's to comply with my terms. Still, I am thankful for this because, without this, I do not know where my son's heart would be. Sigh... I pretty well lost everything else."

Jesus: "Well, Erin, what you lost were all things contrary to My plan for you. Now look at where you are."

Me: Thinking for a moment. "Lord, You are incredible. Who is like You? What God is like You? What idol can be inside us? Lord, I give You the Vessel of my body even though it is worn and sore. I give every cell of me to the glory of Your plan. You somehow saw something in me and You continued to bless and pursue me. I will surrender myself to You again and again and again. I give all for Your Will. Let all You have said and declared be done as Your Will in us. My gift to You is my complete surrender."

Jesus: "Congratulations, Erin, as surrender is faith. I will accept your Christmas gift again and again and again. You have blessed Me today unconditionally with your presence even though you once had great ambitions. I will therefore bless this day and all the days to come. I will not remove My love, favor or promises upon the ones I delight in and dwell in. I promise you good things the likes the world has never seen. I will now grant those who love Me 'Emmanuel 1000-fold!'"

Dream 550 – All Aboard! Train 222 Now Ready for Departure!

Received on Sunday, December 26, 2021

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day! Thank You for all we have. Thank You for Your presence. Your love is a multifaceted Jewel. It is perfect and will outlast anything tangible on Earth. I had a wonderful dream last night...

Sub-dream 1 “All Aboard! Train 222 Now Ready for Departure!” begins...

I was standing with many other people at a high-tech station waiting for some type of transportation to arrive. Judging from the tracks, I surmised it was either a train or a tram. People were becoming restless as there were many (what they perceived to be) delays. There would be a periodic announcement made to try to raise our Spirits...

Manager of the Station: “The train is coming!”

The updates were vague. Daytime turned to night and night to daytime over and over. The people’s restlessness was now being mixed in with increasing discouragement. It was now winter and many had grown tired. Various arguments periodically broke out within the crowd.

I then noticed that I knew two people in the crowd that were arguing. They were my two sons. Their eagerness for the arrival of the train had waned and they were growing quite discouraged. They were short with each other and spewed sarcastic comments. The Manager of the Station noticed the increased unruliness of the crowd and came out in His full uniform...

Manager of the Station: “Please stay calm! The train is coming!”

While the few that were restless made it seem like so many more were, the majority there simply said nothing and remained patient. While it was apparent to the Manager of the Station that the train was still on the proper schedule, no one other than Him knew the actual time the train would arrive. I looked up at the video monitors. Two messages were flashing back and forth on a continuous loop...

Message 1: “Train 222 On Time”

Message 2: “Train 222 Arriving Soon”

While some remained wide awake as the night moved on, others were beginning to doze off. As for me, I was stirred in my Spirit and was on high alert. The group that was there with me (my family and the Nest) had been waiting for this train for quite a long time. My two sons were part of the group that had dozed off. I was happy about this though as this made it so that they were no longer loudly arguing.

For the people waiting here, I was not worried at all for those who had dozed off. I knew in my Spirit that the incoming train would instantly wake them all up. While many people were here, I just knew that it was very few compared to all who should have been here.

At 4:00am, an old-fashioned track clearing machine, with two men pumping the device, rolled into the Station. One of the men on the clearing machine made a loud announcement that stirred the now optimistic and fully awake crowd...

Man on the track clearing machine: "Prepare the way for Train 222. Train 222 is not far behind us."

I decided to look around at my surroundings. The ground was covered with snow. The distant city lights in the valley below us were bright. Several birds then arrived that I had not seen before. I walked over to a tree where the birds were gathering. Since it was now near dawn, it made sense that the birds were now gathering. Out of nowhere, a bird landed on my shoulder.

While the bird then started talking to me, I didn't understand what it was saying. I then decided to stretch out my arms and many more birds landed on me. These birds were glorified. They were luminescent like precious stones or glass. They were translucent and had great depth. Their magnificent appearance could be best compared to Vaseline Glass Sculptures.

While the bird who landed on my shoulder seemed to have a tail like a swallow, I was not sure if it was a swallow. While many tried to take photos of these birds, for some reason they were unable to do so. I was amazed as even more birds were coming. I then heard bells and a train horn in the distance. My heart was now racing with excitement. The Manager of the Station came back out. He was dressed so regally...

Manager of the Station: "All awaken! Train 222 is now pulling into the Station."

Our train had finally arrived. It pulled into the Station and soon came to a stop.

Manager of the Station: "Train 222 is now at the Station. All aboard. Train 222 is now ready for departure. All those with tickets can now board. Prepare for the greatest adventure of your lives, folks!"

Many were now jumping up and down in excitement. There was a great celebration as all those waiting with me were also ticketholders. All were joyful and giddy. I would best describe this as 'child-like excitement'. Many were hugging each other. A band started playing the most beautiful and uplifting music. The music was both the perfect volume and the perfect accompaniment.

The music and the cheering must have woken up those slumbering in the valley below. They did not have tickets and they were really upset about this. While they were supernaturally kept from coming into the perimeter of the train station, I could still hear their complaints. The Manager of the Station went out and talked to those without tickets. I could see that a particularly loud person was a pastor..

Pastor: "Hey, wait! I spent all this time in prayer with my church while all these people who did nothing all have tickets. I want you to take their tickets and give them to us instead."

Manager of the Station: "I will not do such a thing. Those here waited and watched for the train to arrive both day and night."

Pastor: "While this may be true, many of these people are sinners. They shouldn't hold tickets. Many of them don't even go to church!"

Manager of the Station: "They are credentialled ticket holders. Their tickets cost them everything. They paid for them and they cannot be traded."

The irate crowd then decided to stand on the tracks outside of the station in order to block the train from leaving. The Manager of the Station ignored their antics and continued to load the ticket holders onto the train. When the train was fully loaded with the last of the ticket holders, the sound of trumpets blowing filled the air. The Manager of the Station came back on to make an announcement..

Manager of the Station: "Train 222 is now leaving the Station!"

There were now thousands of angry people surrounding the train to try to keep it from leaving. The clearing machine started to supernaturally glow. It was no longer 'manned' by men, but by the Spirit alone. In an instant, the mob disappeared. The track was now completely clear for departure.

Using supernaturally supplied hearing for the occasion, I then heard the sound of the mob going after their preachers in the valley below. They were very upset at all of the false doctrines they had been taught by them.

Sub-dream 1 over..

When I had fasted with no water or food for three days in the year 2000, I needed God to show me what to do next. I spent these three days completely denying myself and was getting upset that He wasn't answering me. This all changed at 4:00am on February 23, 2000 when I went into a 3D Vision right there in my living room...

Sub-dream 2 "Enoch & Elijah Vision from February 23, 2000 Revisited" begins...

I was dressed in very expensive black leather riding gear. I was on a black racing motorcycle and was driving recklessly in the tiny village of Multnomah. I was driving against traffic, weaving in and out, doing my best to avoid a head on collision.

While the speed limit was 25mph, I was going at least three times that fast. As I was driving out of the village and heading into a curve on my right, I accidentally clipped a low hanging branch of a Japanese Maple.

I was now losing control as I went down the steep decline in the road. I was struggling to take back control. I then looked up and saw a massive alpine-like snow-capped mountain. This mountain doesn't actually exist and took the place of the West Hills of Portland OR. I looked at the mountain and temporarily forgot my predicament...

Me: "Oh, Jesus is there!"

I then careened down the hill. My stomach dropped as the bike began to flip forward. My face was now about to hit the pavement.

Me: "I'm going to see Jesus now."

I then died (in my dream) and was then up at a train station in the alpine mountains I had just seen. Everything was high-tech. I was wearing some high-end designer Anachini pajamas that I had purchased in High Point NC in 1996. I loved them. A high-tech train then appeared with a swoosh. There was elevator-like music as the doors opened. Inside the train were two men.

The two men were wearing luxury linens so out of this world that they made my Anachini pajamas look like Dollar Tree bargain-bin pajamas. I was speechless. One of the men seemed somewhat annoyed by me. Even though he spoke to the other man without using their lips, I could somehow hear them. They had white hair like silk. While I knew they were really old, their faces were young and beautiful.

The more patient man (Enoch) spoke to me. While I don't remember the precise words he used, it was something like the following...

Enoch: "You must die to yourself in order to realize all He has planned here."

Sub-dream 2 over..

Well, die to myself I would eventually do. This was essentially done by surrendering completely to God's Will. Seven months later, I surrendered my heart to God in the Portland OR Rose Garden. When all of this happened, I can almost imagine the conversation between the Lord and Satan in the Courts of God in Heaven. By obviously borrowing a lot from the Book of Job, this is how this conversation might have sounded...

* * * * *

God: Addressing Satan. "Where have you come from?"

Satan: "From roaming throughout the Earth, going back and forth on it."

God: "Have you considered My servant, Erin? There is no one quite like her. I have a plan for her. She once knew you, but now fears and follows Me. She shuns evil and hates iniquity."

Satan: Laughing. "Yes, I know her. You have kept her safe for her entire life. However, remove her abilities, her precious reputation and leave her with nothing and she will easily curse You and welcome me back."

God: "Very well then. Everything she has is in your power. However, as for her life and the lives of her children, you will not destroy them."

Satan then went out from the presence of God with a triumphant skip in his step.

* * * * *

Well, something like this then transpired. Over the course of the next 21 years plus 'some change', my abilities were crushed, all my things lost and sold, my health diminished. My sons were found to have Asperger's, which is an autism spectrum disorder. Things were stolen from us. All my family turned against me. All my friends left me. Unable to support my household otherwise, I had to work for people that treated me poorly.

I then made many foolish mistakes. Yes, I even gave my designer Anachini pajamas to goodwill. Wave after wave after wave of troubles came. However, I still remained in love with my Lord. With Jesus' help, I shunned all of the enemy's temptations to go back to the former things. I knew that I never wanted to return to those dark times.

In time, the Lord, in His great mercy, gave me back peace. I finally had my children here with me with no fear of the enemy removing them from me. Still, I lost so many years with them that I can never get back. I spent many a sleepless night in tears and on my knees in prayer. I was abased to nothing. So many from my church accused me of horrible sins, telling me that is the only reason God is allowing all of this.

My heart broke. My heart then began to slow down and then to even stop beating. Instead of running tests, one doctor told me to get grief counseling. Since I actually had a faulty heart, this didn't help. I later had a pacemaker installed. This helped substantially, but my heart still hurt. However, my blessings then came in two forms and changed everything for the better. The blessings of these dreams with You and then the blessings of my husband and his kids.

This all leads us to this month. December 2021 is the month of final surrender. My final enemies were removed. While I had hoped they would be removed because of our Transformation, it was stopped instead based on the false reports from a sham doctor. While seven doctors have vouched for me, only one was willing to sign against me. It seems that this one doctor was enough. Talking about an unbalanced scaled!

Me: "With my disability benefits now stopped, I am free for the first time. I am completely surrendered to Your Will as my husband still cannot find work and I am unable to work. We really have no other choice but to now have our full faith in You, Father, and for absolutely all things. I pray that I am right where I should be. I pray that I am where You have placed me."

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: In a good-natured tone. "Well, it took only 21 years."

Me: "Oh Lord, please forgive me."

Jesus: "I have been with you always, Erin. You have gone through the tests and trials. You have completed your course."

Me: "Did I get a good grade?"

Jesus: "Yes. Yes, you did. I am now in you. I am now always with you."

Me: "Did Satan petition for me?"

Jesus: "Yes, of course. However, it is a good thing when he does. This means you are on the right track. If he wasn't interested in you at all then it would be because he has you. He runs his course of destruction. His goal is to deconstruct the works of God. He wants to destroy all that is good. He is the spreader of fear. Remember that fear is the opposite of faith in Me.

"Many have surrendered to his course, his path, of destruction. Through fear, the godless operate in the negative of the fruits. They can be seen as lawless, lovers of self, thieves, bigots, liars and murderers. They are piling up their rewards fully on Earth. They steal from both the wealthy and the poor to give to themselves and then publicly justify it. They call wicked good and good wicked.

"They beat up the elderly in public and then celebrate it. They sacrifice their babies to Baal. They throw bricks at toddlers. They are the young offshoots of the son of perdition. Their home is Sheol as bitterness is their cross. They are the same spirit that has been here before. However, this time, they will understand what the fear of God is. There will be no escape for them.

"Now, this evil has increased so quickly that the news cannot cover it all. However, I see all of it. Erin, I know all of it. The main difference between the Kingdom of God and that of this world is equal to peace vs chaos. The doctrine of control first begins with upheaval and the increase of lawlessness. This then creates an artificial desire to be controlled. In turn, this gives rise to the one world leader. He has promised to make the evil and the lawless as punishers and judges over God's people."

Me: "Since the Great Revival has not happened yet, this will be held back, right?"

Jesus: "You are correct. Right now, all that is visible is a rise in evil."

Me: "Lord, there is a great rise in communism, antisemitism and antichristian. All that is good is now being removed."

Jesus: "Erin, the New World Order is all about giving centralized control to the very few and to 'the one'. Their desired form of global government, while separate from the Red Dragon, will be similar to their system of one man being in supreme power. The enemy has always enjoyed this because it is all about control.

"You must understand that the current government is just a superficial front for a shadow government gaining complete power, one the people did not elect. What you see is a lie. What you see is all an illusion to try and cover something very evil from your sight. Still, you can know the enemy is there by his fruits.

"The enemy is a liar. He is a lover of self. He enjoys praise. He commands it. He believes he is God and wants God-like power over justice, law and order, life and death and money. He has spoken My Words as if they were his, all in order to edify himself (one example is Psalm 46... "know that I am God"). He loves slaves and enslavement. Because he is condemned to eternal captivity in the lake of fire, he hates anybody else having their freedom."

Me: "Lord, if You do nothing, so many people will be destroyed. Hearts are already breaking in record numbers."

Jesus: "While I can work with a broken heart, a cold one of stone is more difficult. Now, the core of faith is surrender. It is the heart surrendered to Me that will be of great use to Me and most valuable to God. You spent all of these years in great faith asking Me in prayer how to have faith. You did this because My Word says that it is impossible to please Me without it.

"What is it that a man does when offering up his life in sacrifice to Me? He surrenders his heart, his circumstances and his whole life to the One who will bless him abundantly, will care for him and will be with him. As you know, it doesn't mean your life is then set free from troubles, trials and tests of many kinds. Far from it. It instead means that, through these all and when you give these all to Me, I will be with you through it all.

"Erin, I will carry them as they are Mine from the beginning. It means that I will be with you through it all. I will carry you. However, I am now in you. The enemy will not prevail against you. I am about to do something in your days you would not believe even if you were told.

"I have you. Your recompense is with Me. Do not fight against God, the Creator of all things. Instead, surrender to Me willingly and in full faith that the Lover of your Soul will care for you. I will care for you as My lamb. The ruler of this world hates you because he first hated Me. Since You are Mine, he has declared war against you to attack Me.

"However, here is the Good News... I WIN! I am God over all things. I love you. I have prepared a beautiful place for you for eternity near My Altar. This here is all temporary. Since I am with you and in you, nothing shall come against you. Rejoice! Rejoice! You are loved by the King.

"All was restored to Job and more. All was restored to Esther and the king granted all her requests. If I did all of this for them, what more shall I do for you whom I carried... My Bride? Rejoice, Erin, for I am the God of Restoration. I am the Rebuilder of Walls. I am the Reviver of Hearts. I am the Creator of all you see and all you don't see. I am God over all of this. Do not worry! Rejoice!"

Dream 551 – We will Rescue the Victimized

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day! Thank You! There are so many things to be thankful for in the midst of troubles of all kinds. Your Words never fail, Lord. In Lamentations 3:23: “The steadfast love of the Lord never ceases; His mercies never come to an end. They are new every morning. Great is Your Faithfulness!” How can it be that Your Word is made new each day?

Over the years, I have taken thousands of photos. These are records of the passing seasons around us. This records different animals and birds, as well as sunsets and sunrises. Each day brings a new thing. Something new begins each morning. I remember a prayer from when I was a child: “Lord, if I die before I wake, I pray my soul is Yours to take.”

When I would then awake, I was thankful for a new day. I had dreams back then, but now I have dreams from You. The Lord instructs me as I sleep. I have no control over these dreams. Each night brings a movie script that I can then write in my journal. Even a photo cannot capture what God does in a single day. While we write on paper or on a tablet, God writes on the tablets of our hearts.

God often grants me signs through nature. Usually, it is at a moment when I am unsure about everything around us. We then use these as little confidence boosters to remind us that the Lord is taking care of us. We then realize that when we self-determine our path, we fail pretty well every time. When I finally let go and let God, a peace envelopes me that is completely supernatural. It is then that I finally trust that God has this. Just recently when I did this, Jesus spoke to me...

Voice of the Lord: “Erin, I am your strength. I will make your feet like that of a deer. You will be able to tread upon high places with great speed. Nothing will pursue you except for Me.”

Yes, He takes care of us and allows us to do things supernaturally that we wouldn't usually be able to do on our own. When an eagle flew over our car while we were driving, my husband and I agreed on something... that God is in control and we can do nothing on our own. I had a very intense dream two nights ago...

Sub-dream 1 “Rescuing the Victimized” begins...

I saw a property on the ocean. It was on a peninsula with a road between the property and the cliffs overlooking the ocean. The area looked like the Pebble Beach / Carmel area in California. The property had a large house on it. It was in the style of a Mediterranean house. The grounds were well kept. I was with my husband when we received instructions from the Lord...

Voice of the Lord: “You are to let yourself into this house.”

My husband and I walked over to the front door. The front door was slightly ajar. The house appeared to have been abandoned for quite some time. I yelled into the house...

Me: Loudly. “Hello? Is there anyone here? Hello?”

We opened the door to peek inside. We were immediately greeted by a lamb with a cowbell on their collar. The lamb was so cute as she ran up to greet us. Not far behind the lamb were two little boys. The older of the two boys looked scared...

Me: “What is your name and how old are you?”

Johnny: “My name is Johnny and I am eight-years-old.”

Me: “How about your brother?”

Johnny: “My brother’s name is Jared and he is five-years-old. My parents will be coming home soon. Please don’t hurt us.”

Me: “We won’t hurt you. Do not worry. We are here to help.”

The Lord then told us that the parents were forced to leave their house, belongings, pets and children behind. It was very clear that their children had been there alone for at least a month. The house also had no electricity.

My husband: Praying to God with a smile in a way that the kids could see and hear. “Say, Jesus, we sure could use some light about now.”

Just then, the electricity came on, along with the lights.

Johnny: “How did you make the lights come on? It has been cold at night and scary too. We have been crying a lot. Someone comes at night to stay with us. They would play beautiful music until we fell asleep. When we woke up in the mornings, we noticed that they had left breakfast for us to eat. Even though the power has been off, our refrigerator has kept everything nice and cold. The milk still tastes fresh and the carton is always full.”

Me: Smiling. "That is because God has been taking care of you. He sent us to take you to our home in order for you both to be extra safe. There are some big storms approaching here and the Lord wants you to be safe."

Johnny: Starting to cry. "But when my parents come back, we won't be here. They won't be able to find us."

Me: "Do not worry. When your parents return, God will send someone to let them know He has taken you to a safe place. We will take you, Jared and all of your pet animals to our home. You will both have as much food as you will need and comfy beds to sleep in."

Johnny went up to me and Jared went over to my husband. They wanted us to hug them. My husband picked up little Jared and the little boy wrapped his arms around my husband's neck. I picked up Johnny and he did the same.

Johnny: "Can I show you around? There might be things we can use."

I could tell that Johnny was worried about their things. He took us to their rooms. It was obvious that they had been alone for a very long time as everything was in disarray.

Johnny: "See, I make our beds every day."

This little boy trying to still keep a routine tugged at my 'heartstrings'. The smell of the beds was awful as they were both soiled.

Me: "We sure could use some help with these rooms."

In an instant, the house was clean and organized. It now smelled wonderful.

Johnny: "How did you do that?"

Jared: "Angels? Was it angels who cleaned our house?"

Me: "It was Jesus."

Johnny: "Wow, I like Jesus!"

Me: "We are going to take you to our home soon. Let's look around and you can pick out what you want to come with you."

Since the property was in a gated community, I felt that the boys had not been in danger from thieves. Still, they were completely abandoned. I just knew that something must have happened as who would leave these adorable children? We could tell their parents had left suddenly.

We then found some tax collection notices and some foreclosure notices. We then found a document showing that the parents had owned the home free and clear. When we looked at the notices again, we gathered that they were tripped up by an unfair tax load. Still, we were not sure, so we asked Jesus what happened.

Voice of the Lord: "The parents could not pay their debt. An unfair deadline was responsible for this. The government then took the mother into custody, claiming that she resisted arrest. While they tried to make it look accidental, the father was murdered. Government representatives knew that these children were by themselves and had no issue with leaving them to die."

Me: "So, the parents never left the children voluntarily. It was the government that had left them to die."

Voice of the Lord: "Yes. Now, take them to your home and I will then send you to their mother. You will also bring her to your home until I provide a new home for her and her children. She has been praying non-stop, even refusing to eat any food."

Me: "Oh Lord, this is difficult. I am so upset."

Voice of the Lord: "You must go to where I call you. I will then give you instructions. Sometimes it is better to not know all the details until I reveal them. These children were never abandoned by their parents. Now, gather them up into your arms and take them away from here."

We did exactly as God had just instructed us. We laughed when we arrived home as God had already placed an addition on our home for the mother, her boys and their cute animal friends. They even had their own small fenced yard and a beautiful little barn for their animals to stay. There was a little fountain and plenty of food.

The boys were now able to go and visit their animal friends through their own patio door to their own animal yard. The boys had a shared room with comfortable beds and a bathroom. There was a separate room ready for when their mother arrived. They had some belongings from their home to make it feel like their own. Our children played with the two boys and they had so much joy and laughter.

God then called my husband and me back to the boys' home to learn more. He didn't want to do this with us while the children were around. When we walked through the home, we saw that all of the valuable items had been plundered. There was an open safe and various small boxes. All of the jewelry and coins within the boxes were long gone. What we saw next really infuriated us.

We saw two small loaded guns. One was tagged Jared and the other one was tagged Johnny. We knew that this was set up by the government to trick them into killing themselves. Once we had seen enough, we asked the Lord to take us to their mom. We were instantly in a solitary confinement cell. There was a very thin woman sitting in squalor. We prayed for the Lord to strengthen her and bathe her. Jesus addressed us.

Voice of the Lord: "Her name is Julia. Take her hand and tell her that I have heard her prayers. Tell her that Jared and Johnny are safe and well. Tell her that her boys have been in My Father's hands. Tell her that I will now take her to where her children are."

I reached over and took the woman's frail boney hand. She had no energy. She looked up at me. I could tell that she didn't even have the energy to crack a smile.

Me: "Julia?"

Julia: "Yes."

Me: "Jesus has heard your prayers. Both Jared and Johnny are safe and well. Your boys have been looked after by God the Father Himself. It is time to see your children."

In a flash of light, God instantly took the three of us back to our home. During our 'one-second-journey', God had already healed and strengthened Julia. We took her to her sons and they all cried as they embraced. Julia then looked over at us.

Julia: "Who are you? Thank you. Thank you!"

Me: "We are servants of the Lord. He called us to rescue your sons. Jesus heard your prayers and sent us to gather them. He sent us to set you free."

Julia: "Could we speak in private? I don't want my boys to hear this."

Me: "Of course."

My husband and I led her to a private room. Julia immediately started to cry.

Julia: "You won't even believe all that they did to us. They seized all of our money before we could pay a new tax that had come out of nowhere. The tax didn't make any sense at all. They purposely made it so that we could not pay this tax. Even though we had the means to pay our debts, they took it all instead. They then killed my husband."

Me: "Do not worry about your husband as he is waiting for you in Heaven. The Lord met him as he was dying and you will see him again."

Julia: "They left my children. They abandoned them. There are many more families than just us that they have done this to. They have done this to many others."

My husband: "Well then, the Lord will expand our land to accommodate more. As He leads, so shall we follow."

Julia: "Please help them. Some of our neighbors had newborns."

My husband: "Don't worry. God will not let them suffer. He was there with your children and so too will He be with the others. By the way, how many are we talking?"

Julia: "They seized the assets of the wealthy. They froze our accounts. They cut off our power. They then came for us. It was all about money and power. Even Silicone Valley was a target. If you weren't considered individually useful, they would then..."

My husband: "You need to rest now. Do not worry. God is the Great Restorer. They will not succeed. Now, Erin and I must go."

Julia: Nodding in agreement. "Yes, thank you."

Me: "Thank Jesus as He did all of this."

The Lord continued to instruct us. We gathered up more children and their animals. We let out a few parents from solitary confinement. Many had been killed. The stories were all similar to Julia's story. The Lord then gave us another solemn task. We then went to the evil people responsible for all of this.

They had gathered in a building and were conferencing with others remotely. While they were celebrating their victories, the Lord made the ground shake. The building then collapsed upon the evil men. An angel of the Lord then appeared to all those who were in the remote locations. The angel then gave each of them a solemn message...

Angel: "God has placed you on notice."

Note: The men working remotely then disappeared. It seems they had not been killed as the other men had been because they had some type of future role for after the Rapture had occurred. I could tell that these men were both upset and scared.

Sub-dream 1 over..

I then had another dream last night...

Sub-dream 2 "A Loaf of Bread for a Rembrandt" begins...

I was attending an auction. The items up for auction would have been priceless under normal conditions. As it was now, these priceless items had little value. The auction house had no electricity. This meant they could not take any external bids. Flashlights were used to highlight the items. I went up to one of the proctors...

Me: "Who do these items belong to?"

Proctor: "The dead. We can't keep up either. There are more goods than buyers because we can't take payments electronically."

Me: "Who has cash?"

Proctor: "Someone who decided to forego that loaf of bread for a Renoir or a Degas."

Me: "What? A loaf of bread? Those are priceless paintings!"

Proctor: "Yes, but demand is low for paintings. They seized everyone's homes and called in the full notes. No one has a home. Now, do you have cash?"

Me: "Yes."

Proctor: "How much?"

Me: "Enough. I don't eat much."

Proctor: "Then you can bid. Good luck." She handed me a flashlight. "I will need this back upon exit."

Me: "Will do."

Sub-dream 2 over..

Me: "Lord, there seems to be a common theme of no power. These dreams can be so depressing. I liked my dream of Train 222 from a couple of days ago much better."

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "You are dreaming about the plans of the wicked. However, My plans are greater. The enemy uses the same playbook because he is void of divine inspiration. Societies who need to steal secrets in advancements of this age are because they are void of My blessings. They give no credit to Me, so I give no blessing to them. In order to achieve their goals, they steal. However, they still struggle."

“Remember that the same order of the enemy is now at work. He dehumanizes his enemies. He demoralizes them by disheartening them. He brings them low. He divides them. He cuts off their supplies and provisions. He closes the churches unless he is given greater honor than God. He is a liar. He is a thief. He edifies himself. He weaponizes all things against his opponents.

“Now, electricity will be cut off, but later. Right now, the stage is being set for My Glory to light up this dark place. There is a reason I tell you to store yourselves treasures in Heaven. This is because all things there on Earth are without value when looked upon with an eternal perspective. Material goods will mean nothing.”

Me: “Can You give me more exciting and hopeful dreams? These are brutal.”

Jesus: “Erin, when do people look for a Savior to save them? Do they look when they are having a great time and great joy or when they are in troubles of many kinds?”

Me: “Troubles, of course.”

Jesus: “Well, Erin, just be glad that I will be sending help. I am about to send an army of revivalists. You will heal the sick, set free the captives and cause tongues to confess. You will restore broken dreams and even broken cities. So many will then give their hearts to Me. This will happen until I remove those I love, those whose hearts are Mine (in the Rapture). Now take heart and do not worry. I have you and I have called you for a time such as this. Rejoice as you are loved.”

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day! Thank You for Your Grace and Mercy. Your unconditional love is beyond even that for my own children. I am so thankful. I have even become thankful for my sons being kept by You in the form of Asperger's (which is on the Autism spectrum). I know being thankful for this makes no sense as I fully realize that I have been praying for their healing for many years now.

Still, what makes this syndrome 'special' is that it preserves their innocence in a harsh world. I see Your brilliance in what You have done here. In addition to my sons, You have also kept a whole army of warriors hidden in plain sight. It is an unconventional, but brilliant, model. As for my sons, there are several traits they both share that actually bring me a surprising amount of joy as their mother..

1. They keep a schedule.
2. They change course only for good reason.
3. They stay on task and do not stop.
4. They are loyal and focus on following the lead of those they respect.
5. They shun evil and abusive people and will dig in against them.
6. They are consistent, meaning there are very few, if any, surprises.
7. They are steadfast in their belief that God's promises for them are true.
8. Even if they try, they just cannot lie.
9. They do not steal. Their items are important to them. They also monitor other people's items to make sure no one hurts them.
10. They are easy to take advantage of by their bosses. This is because they do as they are told no matter what.
11. They never miss a day.
12. One always says goodnight to us before bedtime.

13. They watch outside at night to see what the wild animals are up to.
14. They are quick to sound the alarm.
15. They are unchangeable and stubborn.
16. They become agitated when transitioning from one scenario to another.
17. When people are cruel to them, they remember, but are quick to believe a good reason for their behavior. This means they can be easily manipulated by evil people until You open their eyes.
18. They can be very giving without even a second thought.
19. They have taught me patience as I have come to realize that they don't need to change, I do. My husband has learned this as well.

Well, I could go on and on. God has kept my sons until the day He calls them for His service. I am so thankful for this. I slept in this morning until 10:00am. This is well beyond my normal wakeup time. Between this morning and last night, I had a series of dreams, dreams that had a common theme of good vs evil...

Sub-dream 1 "A Youthful Rebel becomes a Youthful Preacher" begins...

I was living in a four-story house. We were at the end of a cul-de-sac in a major city with high crime. Almost the entire base floor of this house was a massive Olympic-sized swimming pool. The swimming pool was entirely indoors and was surrounded by walls covered in glass. There was no privacy. This was my worst nightmare as the swimming pool was very visible to anyone passing by.

One night, a group of rebellious youths from around this crime ridden area came to our house. They were demanding to be let into our pool as they wanted a pool party. They were angry at us as we would not let them come in. They then decided to let themselves in by breaking one of the glass walls surrounding the pool. No matter how hard they tried, they could not break in. They were even injuring themselves.

They even tried to drive a vehicle through the glass, but the glass stayed intact and the car broke into pieces and then disappeared. The crowd was discouraged, but was still not giving up. I watched as the crowd began to gather in order to plot what to do next. I decided to go outside wearing dark sweats and a hooded black coat. By being disguised, I was able to get close enough to hear what they were plotting.

I did this because I knew both the glass and I were being supernaturally protected by Jesus. I sat on a snow berm and listened to them plot. One of the plotters looked over at me and decided to come over and sit down. He looked exhausted as he was tired from throwing so many objects at our glass. His eyes widened when he suddenly realized I was the owner of the house.

Young man: "We are never going to get into that pool are we?"

Me: "Well, not like this. That pool isn't for partying or even swimming."

Young man: "Then why have it?"

Me: "It is a healing pool."

Young man: Clearly high on drugs. "Yep, I want to party in that pool and get me some healing. Will I still be healed if I force my way in?"

Me: "You will never find out with that attitude. God will just keep keeping you out."

Another youth came up to him and offered him a pill. The drugs looked just like a colorful licorice candy. Just then, a paramedic came to give the young man a blood pressure reading. While doing so, yet another youth gave the young man a pill.

Young man: Addressing the other youth. "Thanks, man." Addressing the paramedic as he pointed at me. "It is her fault that I probably broke some bones."

Paramedic: "Stop taking those pills. They are affecting my readings."

The paramedic looked frustrated. He must have given up as he walked away.

Me: "God can use me to heal you if it is His Will and you want to be healed."

Young man: "Yeah, right. How would that even be possible? Okay, sure, heal me."

God told me it was His Will for me to touch his arm. In an instant, he was healed.

Young man: "What? What? Seriously, what? Thank you! Thank God!"

His eyes were opened. He was suddenly aware of all of the evil that was happening around him. He then became a type of preacher. I saw him standing on the snow berm for days calling for all of his friends to repent. They must have gotten sick of him as one of his 'friends' went over and shot him. I walked outside while he was dying. The Lord had me hold my hand over his gaping wound. He was instantly healed good as new.

He stood up on the now blood-stained snow berm and continued preaching, barely missing a beat. His friends left the area out of fear for what they just saw. Once they left, God opened a door to the pool and said it was time. The young man started calling out loud to all that would hear to come for healing. My family then baptized at least 10,000 people, all giving their lives to Jesus. All those baptized were then also healed.

Sub-dream 1 over..

Sub-dream 2 "Mass Manipulation using Falsified Covid Tests" begins...

The false prophet, the USA's 'doctor to the world', was standing at a podium. He was declaring that the people will only have to isolate themselves if they test positive on a Covid test. If you test positive, people are to isolate until they receive a negative test. This isolation could last up to thirty days.

As for those who test negative on a Covid test, they were able to continue working, go shopping and were able to attend various venues. However, there was a scary catch. For anyone, vaccinated or not, that comes into contact with someone testing positive, they must isolate until they are tested. It was scary because there was now a severe shortage of tests and the waits could be lengthy.

There was a hidden agenda to all of this. Tests were given out to selected people. This meant they were then at the mercy of the people running the tests. I saw a well-known opponent of the 'world's doctor' taking this test, along with his family.

While their test results showed that they didn't have Covid, they falsified the results to make it seem like they tested positive. They kept them from testing again and locked them down for 30 days. This was just the tip of the iceberg.

I then saw the same happening for certain sports teams against certain other teams. Star players were given false positive tests. They did this to make the stars unable to play. The motivation was that the resulting sports betting were fixed to those in the know. A bet made before the information became public was quite valuable.

I then saw whole churches shutdown in the same manner. All congregants were then forced to isolate and wait for tests that never came. This felt so current, almost as if this was ready to be put into place right now. I then overheard two people that worked for the doctor..

Woman: "Well, no one speaks against him now. He stands for all science."

Man: "So, I get it now. Those opposed will be unable to vote. People don't even see how brilliant and flawless all of this is."

Woman: "Shut up. You can't say this out loud. This is the game changer. This is the final nail in the coffin. Game over!"

Sub-dream 2 over..

Me: "Oh Father, please let Your Kingdom come, Your will be done, on Earth as it is in Heaven. Please, Father. This is truly evil. They do it with smiles on their faces. They are calm and in control. This is so frustrating."

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "Erin, I am here. There are many plots in place. The people are becoming less and less compliant. They amplified the severity of this other plague as they get mileage from fear and control. They silenced the doctors who first sounded the alarm by giving them no platform to spread the good news that this variant is not as bad.

"Evil stands to gain more by controlling a continued narrative of fear. With people becoming angry and questioning these narratives, they are now moving toward weapons of diagnosing those they seek to destroy. However, I see all of it. I see the wicked and their schemes. They seek greater control as they hold on tighter to the lies.

"They seek to solidify the ballots to forever give them power. This would solidify their power forever and cause a great uprising. Do not worry about these things as I have continued to keep you on your course. Now, you had one more dream. Why did you not write this one down?"

Me: "Oh Lord, this dream just left me so sad..."

Note: This is highly unusual. The Lord speaks with me back and forth as I speak about Sub-dream 3 under His Guidance. As this is all about Sub-dream 3, I am going to put all of the resulting dialogue between Jesus and me into Sub-dream 3.

Sub-dream 3 "An Empty Chair... A Job Well Done..." begins...

Me: "I was looking at my devotional chair where I write these dreams in my journal. I had obviously been away for awhile as my chair and ottoman had now been overgrown with jasmine vines. While the vines had plenty of sun, they would have had no water. I then went to grab the nearest vessel to fill it with water.

"Before I finished fully watering the vines, my canvas vessel had a tear in the bottom. I was discouraged because a great deal of water had just spilled out. Still, despite my long absence, the vines were still blooming even with the lack of water."

Jesus: "And this is bad news? When you interpret your dreams, you often look for My rebuke or you fear that you will fall out of favor. Now, pretend that this is not your chair and ottoman which was overgrown. Try to interpret this dream as if it was for another person. Erin, what would your observations be?"

Me: "Well, this person spent a lot of time there conversing with the Lord and writing down what she was told in her journals. She struggled with this jasmine tree in the room and brought it back to life several times, often also trimming its long shoots. The person who sat there often cried and was in pain.

"For some reason, she was called away for a few years. She was gone long enough for the vines to take over her chair and ottoman. When she returned, she discovered that the vines had overcome her chair. She knew that the jasmine tree needed water.

"She grabbed a round canvas bag that was wax coated inside and strong enough to hold water. She discovered she had lost some water because of a tear in the canvas. Upon closer examination of the vines, she saw that they were blossoming 100 times more than ever. God had taken care of the jasmine tree during her absence."

Jesus: "So then, what would you give for an interpretation?"

Me: "This area was, and is, important to her and holds a special place in her heart. However, she must now venture out for a while and leave this former way. She must first be healed to do this though. She does not die during her absence or she wouldn't be able to return. Her time of writing has stopped and she will one day return."

Jesus: "Yes, Erin, this is true. While your writings through Me have been a job well done, I am not finished with you. The time and times of excitement are still to begin."

Sub-dream 3 over..

Jesus: "However, do not be afraid. Do not be sad as you will be busy with Me. In turn, I will watch over your house during your absence."

Me: "Lord, these dreams, Your Words, in these journals, have become part of me. You are not mad at me, right?"

Jesus: "Oh Erin, no, I am not mad at you. I am with you. It is the time of Great Miracles, the time and times you have waited for, dreamed about and prayed for. Erin, there will now be a shift from one state of understanding to a new and greater change. You didn't expect to just sit here in your chair forever, right? Do not all of your dreams and visions show you away from this chair?"

Me: Crying... well, really sobbing and weeping. "Yes, Lord. However, I will miss this so much. My time with You has been so special here. I had avoided writing about this dream because I didn't want to write this dream down at all."

Jesus: "I know, Erin, I know. I have readied your heart for all of these years. You have gone through great adventures with Me. However, I am now in you. We will go out and do a new thing together. Do not be afraid even though I know that you are. Oh Erin, do you not see what I have done here from the beginning to the end with you? I am preparing you for something the world has never seen. Now rejoice, Erin, and do not be afraid. I am with you. I love you."

Note: The Lord never told me that the dreams have ended. However, I felt that their time will soon come to a close. What does this mean to God though? Are there no more dreams left... ten more dreams left... something in between... even more? I certainly hope these will soon come to a close as that will surely mean it is now our time to fly! Praying that His definition of 'soon' will now match our definition of 'Right Now!!!!'

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day! Thank You for all You do. I have had two straight nights of 'lonely' dreams. You are with me, but I am alone. In both dreams, I am old, but young in appearance. No one recognizes me where I am...

Sub-dream 1 “A Visit to Farm Country” begins...

I was somewhere in a farm country in the USA. It seemed like Iowa or Nebraska. I was in a community where all of the homes were painted white. The sun was bright with a white light unlike anything normal on Earth. I was barefoot and wearing a sundress. While I was preparing for something, I had to wait a little longer.

The home I was in was not mine. I was a guest. The owner was someone I felt comfortable with. The home was a farmhouse. It was white with a dark green roof and dark green window trim. The inside of the home had no insulation, just button boards all painted white. The floor was made of white planks.

While I waited, I painted lemon-yellow butterflies by folding paper to make a mirrored image. This made me laugh as it gave me flashbacks to kindergarten art class. A bird then landed on the eaves of a sunroom near where I was working. The bird was feverishly trying to get my attention. I smiled as I addressed the bird...

Me: “I am so sorry, but you will have to wait, just like me. Almost there though!”

Sub-dream 1 over..

Sub-dream 2 “You Must Believe” begins...

I was in a worship service in a small church. Everyone was wearing white dress tunics. In the background, I could see some beds. I realized that they were there night and day waiting for something. They wanted to stay close to the altar. The only journey being made by the congregation was the short one from their beds to the altar and back.

Well, that 'something' they were waiting for then happened. The time had come for a Great Celebration. Everyone had their arm up in the air. They were praising God and worshipping. The Lord then called me to a distant city. While not sure, it looked similar to Portland OR or Seattle WA. I had no transportation. Jesus then instructed me...

Voice of the Lord: "Walk from one end to another. While I know it is now nighttime, I will keep you from being harmed. I will then want you to tell Me all that you see."

I was dressed in dark street clothes with a hooded coat with pockets. I had a backpack purse that I wore on my front in order to deter any purse snatchers. There was a great celebration of some kind. I knew that I had to walk several miles before I finally arrived at the northwest side of town. As I began walking, I was wondering why I needed to walk. I knew I could get where I was going instantly via 'Supernatural Air'.

Voice of the Lord: "If you only go here or there without a physical journey, you will fail to see all that is truly happening. So, are your feet growing tired?"

Me: "No, Lord. Are You supernaturally keeping my feet 'fresh'?"

Voice of the Lord: "Yes. Now, are you willing to surrender to where I am taking you even if you don't fully understand it?"

Me: "Yes, Lord, of course."

The journey then led me into a downtown district. It looked similar to the Pearl area in Portland OR. However, it was now way more dangerous than it used to be, especially at night. As I walked, the landscape morphed into something unexpected. I was now walking by a nightclub. There was a long line for entering. As I walked, I heard the sound of a gunshot coming from the area I was walking toward. This worried me.

Voice of the Lord: "Keep your focus. Continue to walk as I am guiding you."

I was puzzled as I was now walking into an even more dangerous area. This is an area I would never purposely walk in. Suddenly, a small hatchback pulled up to me. The two guys in the front seat rolled down their window. They were in their early 20s and were laughing. I didn't feel in danger. I knew God was arranging everything.

Man 1: "Hey, you shouldn't be walking out here alone. You'll be killed or worse."

Me: "What is worse than being killed."

Man 2: "Seriously, you just need to believe us. Hop in and we will give you a ride."

Voice of the Lord: "It's okay. Go ahead and get in."

Me: "Okay. I am going northwest. Are you able to give me a ride? I will pay you."

Man 1: "We have money. This is no problem."

I got in the car. Just as we drove off, I could see that a gang had been waiting to attack me. Getting this ride ruined their plans right in the nick of time. While they had now wanted to attack the vehicle I was in, God supernaturally kept them away. These two men then took me all through the city. We finally got out, but it was not easy. This seemed to be on purpose.

Me: "What happened to all of the highways?"

Man 2: "Those were torn down. They decided to make things difficult to get to the city and visit. You really need to know where you are going and where you shouldn't go. Everything has changed. It is dangerous almost everywhere now."

An odd thing then happened. I saw a downtown billboard with an Adidas ad featuring my older son as a toddler. The billboard said 'Be Transformed!' My thoughts were interrupted by one of the men.

Man 2: "Say, do you have a boyfriend?"

Voice of the Lord: "Ignore his question. Take off your hood and call them by name."

I did as He told me. In shock, the driver almost crashed.

Me: "You must believe!"

As soon as I said this, I was immediately removed from the backseat of their car.

Sub-dream 2 over.

Lord, these dreams left me sad. They weren't happy, yet they were. At a certain point, killer whales were swimming next to me in what appeared to be the Willamette River going towards the Columbia. I am struggling. I am scared. I am about to travel on a journey. While I will be with You, I will not be as I am now. You are preparing my Spirit. In my heart, I am trying to cling to what I have come to know, that which I am used to.

Me: "Lord, I am scared. Where I am going, my husband doesn't seem to be there. My children are not there either. Have I sinned, Lord? Have I fallen out of favor? While I don't want to miss anything, I also don't want to be lonely."

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "Oh Erin, you are never alone as I am always with you. These dreams I gave you are to instruct you. So many are in need of a savior. However, many of them do not know this yet. I chose you because you are not comfortable with being ready to cut down your enemies and being put on full display.

"You are instead in fear at all I can do through you. You are in awe that I would even consider you. This is what makes you perfect for this journey. You are not wise in your own eyes. You will set foot where I call you even if it does not make sense to you in the natural. You obey me without hesitation, even though you may later question Me on it.

"Now, the first dream (Sub-dream 1)... you came back to the beginning, near the place you were born. This is now holy ground. There is no need for insulation. There is nothing inside the walls. All is exposed. You were and are youthful and innocent. A harvest field of wheat was all around you.

"My Glory shined upon you and the only task you had was to wait for a certain moment. In the meantime, you painted a lemon-yellow butterfly with accents of black and white. You then made the wings a mirror image by folding the paper in half. You did this when you were a little girl. You thought to paint as you waited on God. This was then something that brought you great joy.

"You chose a subject on Earth closest to the very event you have waited on. You have been prepared your entire life as a butterfly. More than any other creature created by God is transformation best described in that of the life of a butterfly. It starts off as the lowliest of crawling creatures. It then Transforms into a beautiful butterfly. The butterfly is then attracted to the sun and all the lovely flowers created by God.

"Erin, your journey has been the same. According to the world, your life has been lowly and nothing remarkable. You have blended in much of the time with your only goal being that of survival. You then cocooned while God changes you. The Great Unfolding, the Great Reveal, then occurs just before the harvest is ready.”

Me: “But, Lord, the wheat was not being harvested yet in my dream. It was still green. It wasn’t quite time for the fields to be harvested, so I kept busy.”

Jesus: “Yes, but you were still ready, willing and able at a moment’s notice.”

Me: “What about the bird in my dream, Lord?”

Jesus: “Your friend wanted to be inside where you were, the place it was most comfortable. This is good. Now, the second dream (Sub-dream 2)... this showed you that, at times, conditions will be difficult and you might have questions. However, you are to trust Me to take care of everything wherever I may take you. I am in you and I will equip you.”

Me: “Lord, exactly when is the Great Change? My ankles and wrists ached horribly last night and I couldn’t fall asleep for a long time.”

Jesus: “While you will have a memory of great pain, soon this great pain will be no more. All will change. However, look at it this way... when I came to the world, My Father sending His Son in flesh, many were alerted to the signs of My coming. However, they did not expect a baby. While some did know this as it was foretold, most were looking for an adult king instead.

“Well, the times of the prophets’ revelations are coming to pass right before your very eyes. What are they looking for? What is expected? Are they looking for another big event that is like God in flesh? If not, then what? Well, relatively speaking, no one is suspecting what is almost here. So, what is meant by ‘almost here’?

- Could it be that God selected thousands and they are now ready to be called?
- Could it be that these thousands are being brought in from all over the Earth?
- Could these thousands be from different cultures and from lowly positions?
- Could God be raising them up for a time such as this?

“Well, Erin, what time is like this? Here are just some of the signs...

- Is Sodom and Gomorrah now on full display?
- Do men now declare themselves as women to gain access to do evil?
- Is anyone standing against men pretending to be women now being labeled as a ‘sin worthy of ruin’?

- Are My churches being shuttered?
- Is praise music from choirs now being forbidden?
- Are there not wars and rumors of wars?
- Have there been signs and wonders in the heavens?
- Has the moon turned blood red and the stars fallen from the sky?
- Have millions of babies been sacrificed to Baal and called good?
- Is the Name of God's Son now being commonly used as a swear word?

"Erin, there has been no other time like this under Heaven. No, not one. This is why My Father is now finishing His Army's 'time of cocooning'! It will then be reasonable for some to be in awe and fear when the Holy Spirit's unction is replaced by My actual audible voice. This is reasonable as this has never been done in this way before. My voice will go from in you to through you in greater form and measure. I will be in you and My Spirit visibly upon you. You will terrify those who once knew you."

Me: "Hmm, no wonder I am having dreams of being alone a lot."

Jesus: "Yes. However, you now understand why I had to do everything the way I did. You were kept lowly. You did not succeed in your trade or your personal ambitions. You only had short periods of great success. You were blessed, but not according to the world's standards. This is perfect for My plans. You have knowledge of many things so that you could relate to the lost. This is good. Now, are you prepared? Erin, are you prepared for the times you have been waiting for?"

Me: "Yes, Lord. Please let everything You have promised come to pass as You have declared it."

Jesus: "Before I left to go to My Father in Heaven, I left the Holy Spirit so that whoever believeth in Me shall know Me, knowing in their hearts to do what is right. The Holy Spirit was the Spirit of God replacing the heart of stone with that of a heart of clay pliable in the hands of God. This was so that man would do right in love with the Father once they accepted the Son in Spirit and in truth.

"I ascended into Heaven and the Holy Spirit fell upon those who believed. They then continued to do as I had done to spread the Good News. They (the disciples) displayed miracles, signs and wonders. Upon ascending up to Heaven, I told them they would do even greater than I had done. When they wrote this down, they were expecting this for their own ministries to come."

Me: "I have always wondered about this because not one of them did greater things than You did. So, who did, Lord? Ever?"

Jesus: "Rejoice, Erin, for this is a mystery reserved for this current age. It was also a matter of interpretation as many things were spoken about as the time of the end. When they wrote this, they thought they were close to the end, but they were actually far from it, understand? I then gave them the parable of the lamps and the oil because you do not know the time your Master comes.

"Now, I had ascended to be with My Father in Heaven, yet I was still active here and have always been from the beginning. The signs of a Great Move of God have been coming since My body left. As you have been shown, events of the end of the age are now coming closer and closer. Yes, My Father is about to do a new thing. While the prophets have already foretold this, until these events come to pass, they will remain mysteries, understand?"

Me: "I think so. To many back in the day, it was a mystery that you came as a baby and not as a full physical king."

Jesus: "Exactly. You now understand. Take comfort in this. There is a reason you have always been drawn close to the words of the Prophet Isaiah. This is good. Now, I will have more to come very soon."

Me: "Lord, my Spirit is grieving. No matter how lovely I make things around me, nothing has loveliness anymore. All has lost its luster. I am now both scared and excited. Please help me. Please encourage me. Please send a lovely sign straight from You!"

Jesus: "Okay, I promise I will. I love you. Do not grieve. Remember all of the beautiful Vessels I shaped, formed, glazed and fired. Were these not taken by My Own hands and filled with the water only I could fill them with? Once they were filled with living water, I summoned angels to gather them on the banks of the River of God. There is a reason for this. Thousands upon thousands, a multitude, were filled.

"Now, rejoice, as you are not alone. You have never been alone. I am always with you. I love you, Erin. I formed you. It is I who shaped you, marked you and placed you in the furnace of affliction. There amongst the flames I was with you so nothing consumed you. Once you were finished, I wiped away the residue of your tears and I filled you with living water. You were created for My purposes. Rejoice, Erin! Rejoice for I am in you."

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day! Each morning, I wake up and I am so thankful to still be here. I am thankful for a comfortable bed to sleep and dream. I am in a safe place out in the middle of nowhere. This is a perfect place for these dreams as there are very few distractions.

Knowing that Your Clock and Calendar are moving along in Your perfect timing helps me to understand that this block of history has been planned from the beginning by You. You are not the Father of an 'improvisational calendar' and I am so thankful it has all been planned in advance by You. This means that nothing we do will change Your plans and Your desired outcome.

This means that thousands of us were handpicked and selected by You for this very time. This means You raised up the unlikely, chosen from the beginning. Many of us, me included, have too many failures to count. We are the lowly. I would often hear my mom say something to me that really hurt...

Mom: "I always thought that, of all my children, you would be the most successful."

I was the least in my family. Flashforward to my time at Penn State. My Dean of Architecture handed out diplomas in alphabetical order. Because of my maiden name, I was the first to receive a diploma. This professor was the most brutal of my professors. In order to avoid his control, I dumped my Art Education Degree to focus on graduating with my Design & Illustration Degree. When I accepted my diploma, he said something to me that left me in complete shock...

Professor: "I thought you were the most talented of the students. I was hard on you because I took you for a fighter. I am hard on the good ones."

I was in complete shock. This is the guy who blamed his heart condition on me. He waited until now to say this. This came way too late. I could barely respond...

Me: "But I thought you hated me."

Now it was his turn to look completely shocked. The look on his face told me that he somehow didn't remember all of the verbally abusive things he had said to me. I now see clearly that this happened because God was closing a door to take me down a different path. I was grateful as the programs I would have taught with my Art Education Degree mostly closed down in the following years.

In the end, I am so glad that I always had sports. It was my life, as well as my brother's. Sports granted me a segue into college. My sports scholarship was the only reason I was able to afford to go. So much of my life has been a disappointment to those who thought I could have done better. However, looking back, it wasn't really me choosing my path at all. Father, I now see that it has always been You choosing my path.

I never conformed to the status quo. I was always judged by others harshly. I was passed over for promotions. People would rip me off and then spread false rumors that I was a thief to them. I then noticed a pattern. Within a few months or a year or two, those who did this to me received some sort of retribution that could have only come from God. In one of these cases, I was ripped off $20,000 and then the ones who did this were sued for $380,000 and lost.

There have been so many years of this pounding. I worked for many builders, designing hundreds of homes in the northwest. However, I never really got credit for any of my work. Those in the trade knew my work, but I was kept apart from winning the awards. I selected all of the materials, cabinets, stones, flooring, hardware, lighting and other things, yet not one thanked me for my work at award shows.

After a while, I realized this had to be supernatural. Oh Father, You are truly a genius. I am sure that I would not have been Your choice had I thought I was greater than others. I have been humiliated for so many years. I never amounted to anything other than who I am in You... and You in me. Well, Father, the world has fallen. The world is in steep decline with no apparent cure without You.

Please do not let this be the end of our stories here. Many of us have been called the least of these. We have been 'passed over' again and again. We have been the 'not good enoughs' and the 'failures'. Right now, we are the brown sparrows that blend in with the landscape. We are the ones that the world forgets about. Still, our hopes are in You, Father. You made a Nest for us to flock together and offer mutual support.

Oh Lord, I am so grateful for each of the Nest members. I simply can't wait to sing Psalm 84 with my Fellow Sparrows. Thank You, Father, for each one of them. Please bless them in great abundance! My dreams last night were quite detailed. I had prayed for another dream where I would actually get to see You and it was granted (Sub-dream 1). I was in a delightfully deep sleep during each of the below three Sub-dreams...

Sub-dream 1 "A Sparrow for Ten Pieces of Silver" begins...

I was sitting at a table across from Jesus. I was so excited to see His handsome face again! I asked Him questions about my childhood. I asked Him questions about my failures. Even though the memory of many of His answers are now blurred, He answered every one of my questions. He comforted me and dried my tears.

He then showed me things to come. While I could see the events clearly during the dream (they were spectacular), my memory of these have now been blurred. I can no longer make out all of the actual events. I watched myself in the future and I could see that I had such great joy. When He was finished showing me, I dropped to my knees...

Me: "Oh Lord, I apologize for ever doubting Your selection of me. I am so sorry for harshly judging myself. I am sorry for questioning God's choices in selecting me. I never saw in me what You have seen. It is impossible for me to see myself as You do. Your love for me is always undeservedly unconditional even when my love for myself is usually questionable."

Jesus: "Then you are in a good place. Now you know why you should not question My choices. As you have seen, I see the heart. I do not see you as man sees you. Now, what did you see that proved to you that you are a threat to the enemy?"

Me: "You showed me that the enemy has never stopped campaigning against me. He has never let up, not even for a moment."

Jesus: "He would then dishearten you until you cried out to Me. We then sharpened your irons together. Did you notice that the enemy then handed Me ten pieces of silver?"

Me: "Yes. What were these silver pieces for?"

Jesus: "The enemy presented this to God in exchange for you. He then told the enemy that you were not for sale and that you had been purchased from the beginning. He told him that his money was no good. Erin, I will now give these coins back to you, but greatly multiplied."

Me: Joking around. "Hmm, I would have thought I was worth at least one gold coin to the enemy."

Jesus: Laughing. "The enemy is always looking for a bargain." He then became more serious. "Now, the enemy put a worthiness amount on your head and he did this with thousands more. He thought he was being clever by paying a premium. However, he knew you were of much greater value to God than this. God then told him that you were priceless and not for sale. Ever since and for many years, he has been trying to detract from your value."

Me: "So, this is why he made my life so hard? This seems ridiculous to me!"

Jesus: "Yes, but this is because you still do not fully understand. The enemy presented this and then used My Words against Me in My Father's Courts. Here is the conversation he had with My Father..."

Satan: "Are not two sparrows sold for a farthing, two sparrows for a penny, five sparrows for two pennies?"

God: "Erin is priceless to Me. However, I will match and multiply your offer as recompense back to her as payment for the affliction you send her once her time of punishment is over."

"My Father then placed the bags of silver in the room with the thousands more for times soon to come as recompense for Your troubles. In the eyes of evil, the enemy offered a high price for you based on his valuation over the years since the Temple Sacrifices when sparrows were purchased by the poor. His goal was to do what they once did when eating sparrows... put them on skewers over a fire."

Me: "Hmm, shish-kabobbed sparrows. That's awful."

Jesus: Laughing. "Even though you have always been Mine, I am sure you felt skewered and over a fire many times."

Me: Smiling. "Yes, and roasted too!"

Jesus: "Well, here you are now."

He said this as He pushed the bag that originally had the ten silver pieces towards me. It was labeled 'Ten Silver Pieces as Multiplied by the Father'. It was now a beautiful bag vs the previous plain sack cloth. Without knowing how I knew, I knew that this bag was now very heavy with His treasures. I wanted to open it as I was curious, but as soon as I reached for it...

Sub-dream 1 over...

Sub-dream 2 "The Gift of Enhanced Eye Sight" begins...

I was in my childhood home in the East Bay Area of California. The house had expanded and was now quite fancy. There were many stray cats there trying to get me to pet them. My mom then arrived. She handed me a small white business card 2" x 3" made of handmade paper. It was embossed with a child's handprint and had details etched in Sepia Tones. In the center of the child's hand was an embossed and engraved heart. This did not look new age. It was beautiful.

Mom: "Erin, there is an engraved name on this. I thought, since your eyes are better, you can see."

I moved the card closer to my eyes. My eyes changed and I could now see microscopically. I saw pencil that had been erased many years ago. The pencil had microscopically broken paper fibers and I could make out the name. It was in the cursive handwriting of a nine-year-old. I was able to make out this person's name.

Me: "Mom, who is this man?"

Mom: "You will need to ask the Lord this. This is personal and meant just for you."

My mom now looked very young. She was changed and working on something at our former home. I took several items with me.

Me: "I will see you soon."

She smiled as I went out the backdoor. It was unusual that I would leave out the backdoor, but I was sure there was a reason for this. Once in the backyard, I noticed that there was a tree that was not from Earth. It was beautiful. The tree had a white trunk and green branches with leaves like feathers. The fruit of the tree was white. I stared up at it for some time. It was amazing!

Sub-dream 2 over...

Sub-dream 3 "Having Mercy on the Stray Cats" begins...

I was once again in my childhood home in the East Bay Area of California, but this time lying in bed. Over my head was a glass ball. In it was a glass horse running inside the clear ball. I was distracted for a second and, when I looked back, the glass horse had been replaced by a light grey mouse. It was trying to get away from something.

I then looked toward the ground and saw stray cats. I didn't like these cats that much. My window was only three feet off the ground. I opened my window and gently removed the cats. When I turned to free the mouse, he had somehow disappeared. I then saw a new born kitten on the ground. It spoke to me...

Kitten: "Please don't send me away. I went through a lot to come here to be with you. I promise to be good." The kitten was adorable.

Me: "Okay, you will come with me in my pocket."

With the kitten now securely in my front pocket, off I went to the old ball fields (which no longer exist today). I decided to use the restroom there. When I opened the door, it was disgusting. There were also many unclean stray cats everywhere.

Me: "Lord, what is it with all of these cats?"

I then saw my old cat, Bailey, who died many years ago. It was all so very odd.

Sub-dream 3 over..

Me: "Lord, please help me with these dreams."

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "Well, the first dream (Sub-dream 1) will remain a bit of a mystery... at least for right now.

"In the second dream (Sub-dream 2), I show you that you will have new eyes to see. You were brought back to this home as this home was the home of your greatest pains. You had cats, but they had tragic deaths. As a child, you struggled there. You wrestled with tragedy in that room. You learned as a young child to deal with many undesirables as strangers came and went there at that house.

"I then used this to instruct you on how to read people. You learned by asking questions. You learned by taking interest in their stories. You then left in an unconventional way by using the backdoor. You used the backdoor because your stepfather took his own life there. You were then relocated north. Once there, you developed the fruits of the Spirit.

"In the last dream (Sub-dream 3), you had mercy on these cats."

Me: "Yes. I am not as much a fan of cats as I used to be as they kill our little birds and animals in our yard. Still, they are cats and they do what cats do. They are Your Creation and that is how You made them."

Jesus: "This was meant to be an analogy of the places that you will soon go that you will not like. You will minister to the ones who desire to be near to Me. They are the undesirables, the stray cats of the world, deserted and left on their own, lonely. You will then heal them there and give them the Good News of the Kingdom of Heaven."

Me: "Yes, Lord. However, I must admit that I was really hoping for children's wards in hospitals and elderly shut-ins."

Jesus: "Well, Erin, there will be some of these too. However, no one wants to go to the latrines of the world. Can I count on you to do this as I ask?"

Me: "Yes, Lord, of course."

Jesus: "You will see and encounter many who will be like lepers to the world. I now ask you one more time to make sure that you are sure. Erin, can I count on you to do this as I ask?"

Me: "Lord, if You are with me and I am strengthened, I will go wherever You take me."

Jesus: "I am pleased with your answer."

Me: "I love You, Lord."

Jesus: "I love you too. Many intercede for you daily in Heaven, including your mom."

Dream 555 – Our Vessels as a Measure for Others

Received on Wednesday, January 5, 2022

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day! Thank You for my heartbeat. Thank You for fresh air to breathe. Thank You for fresh well water. I am thankful for You. Father, I had two very vivid dreams last night. The second one was a strong warning about something I have already suspected.

Sub-dream 1 "A Dress for My Mom's Wedding" begins...

I was purchasing furnishings for a client and shipping them via a large box van from a supplier in High Point NC to their church further west. As I was budgeting and making selections, I received a phone call from my client to design their church as well. While they were very specific in what look they were trying to achieve, I felt they were moving in the wrong direction. I decided to speak up...

Me: "What you are looking for is scarce and very impractical for the use. While it would look good at first, it would not hold up under use."

Instead of replying, they gave me a glare that told me they didn't care about what I just said. I could now tell that this was going to be one of those jobs where the clients will forget that I told them opposing advice to their plan. As I looked over the items that matched their criteria, I realized I was in a no-win situation no matter what I did. Well, I made the only practical choice I could.

I decided to turn completely away from the job. I just knew that they would later make me the scapegoat if I stayed on. Freed from this job, I remembered that I had an exciting task I had to do. I received a call reminding me that I needed a dress for my mother's wedding. I was so excited for her. I went to Nordstrom, a well-known department store in the USA, and asked about formal dresses.

Me: "I need a dress for my mother's wedding. Do you have any recommendations?"

Clerk: "Unfortunately, we have very few to select from. This is because no one dresses like this anymore."

Me: "Show me what you have and I will see if anything works."

I was taking this seriously as this was important for my mom. Not only was she getting married, but she was also graduating from some prestigious program. I was so happy for her. The clerk returned and laid out seven dresses. I eliminated three immediately because they looked like prom dresses. A prom dress would draw attention away from my mom's big day and I didn't want this.

As for the other four dresses, they were mediocre. I wasn't really finding what I was hoping for. The clerk then came out with an eighth dress. It was a grey woven satin dress. While the dress was beautiful, it came with some strange accessories. Besides strange gloves, it also came with a strange hat. This hat also worked as a mask.

Me: "I love the dress and will take it, but I don't want the accessories."

Clerk: "The accessories are perfect for the look. You really should love them."

Me: "I don't need a mask where I am going. It looks ridiculous. Why even go to a venue in a formal gown if you could catch a disease? This is dumb."

Clerk: Now visibly upset. "Listen, the accessories are non-negotiable. They come with the dress. You must purchase them if you say yes to the dress."

Me: "Fine. I will purchase them."

As the clerk reached for the accessories, they suddenly disappeared. She was in shock. She called some co-workers over and they looked everywhere. They could not be found. I was as 'not disappointed' as the clerk was disappointed. I bought the dress without the accessories and was on my way.

Sub-dream 2 "A Terminal Cancer is Discovered" begins...

My husband and I were living in an area with small cottage homes on a golf course somewhere. I had an appointment with a specialist in the afternoon. I had to straighten up some things at home first before my appointment.

As I walked around, I suddenly noticed a tumor on my body that was very prominent. It had come out of nowhere. While I walked to my appointment, the tumor was uncomfortable as I did. When I arrived at my appointment, I was greeted by a female doctor that was a specialist...

Specialist: "The cancer you have is quite aggressive. There is nothing that can be done to cure it. It is terminal."

Me: "How long do I have to live?"

Specialist: "I don't know. Perhaps it is best to just live and enjoy the time you have."

Sub-dream 2 over...

This dream was very clear. In exactly one week, in the afternoon of Wednesday, January 12, 2022, I have a real appointment with a specialist. So, Father, what does this dream mean? There have been some unusual signs from You this week. During the week between Christmas and New Year's, we noticed trouble with our internal well mate (not to be confused with the external well pump we replaced a few years back).

The pressure gauge was really high and it was filling a five-gallon bucket at around two inches per day. Because it was a holiday week, we could not have a technician come out until Monday, January 3, 2022. He came and replaced our pressure valve and checked our well mate. Since we are living on borrowed time with the existing well mate, we put it on order. If it broke without a new one, we would have no water for around six weeks. We didn't want to risk this.

We are also having a problem with a very pesky porcupine that is living under our deck. He has been eating our beautiful tall maple tree under the cover of night. As a result, our tree is dying and turning black. We believe that this porcupine is what caused our beloved cute groundhogs to leave.

We then are having a problem with a neighbor who lets their dog run into our yard. This dog then chases away the little animals and birds. This dog killed a baby groundhog two summers ago. While I have asked them nicely to leash their dog, they refuse.

Me: "Lord, why are these things happening? Am I in sin? Are You allowing this to teach me to have more patience? I need help. The enemy seems to be winning these wars. This is so irritating."

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "First off, you are not sinless. No one is. If you were sinless, this would make you free from spot or stain and perfect."

Me: "I am certainly far from perfect and definitely not sinless. I repent for even implying this, Lord. Please forgive me."

Jesus: "Now, let's look at your frustration with these situations. While frustration is not a sin, what you do as a result of frustration can be. This is where someone who is careful to obey my commandments and laws can make an error. You understand that, for now, these situations are not easy. These are frustrating because you feel unable to control them."

Me: "Lord, I need Your help to rid our property of this porcupine. I also need Your help with the dog. If only the dog and the porcupine would meet."

Jesus: In a disapproving tone. "Erin..."

Me: "Sigh... I am sorry, Lord. I repent. I am concerned that one of us will startle the porcupine and end up in the hospital."

Jesus: "Well then, you need a Savior. I am here. I am in you. These situations are not a result of sin. I am still here and I am not silent. Now, give Me this porcupine and dog. I will open doors here and these will no longer be a burden."

"Now, the well mate in question... this was a blessing as you did not ignore the warnings. You addressed them head on. At times, My people are inconvenienced by things and they think it is a result of unanswered prayers by Me. Well, they often are not. They then ask Me why they have troubles with broken things."

Me: "I sometimes wonder why we have to struggle with these things."

Jesus: "Did it ever occur to you that it is not always about your faith, your convenience or even your patience being tested. Perhaps it is about the worker fixing it instead. There are many out there with heart issues."

I am not here for those who are well. A physician does no good treating those who are not sick. A physician is there for those who need a cure. I am the Good Physician. I come to heal the sick."

Me: "Are You saying that our broken vehicles and household problems are a Vessel for You to work miracles to the lost?"

Jesus: "Well, yes. Right now, you are being called to pray for the lost. Speak as I call you, but, for now, be patient as I work through you for My purposes. Now, I know often these are not people you wish to dine or socialize with, but there is a reason I have called them, understand? While some are wicked, some are good. While you sometimes know them by their words, you can usually know them by their actions."

Me: "Yes, Lord, this is true. Lately, we have enjoyed the more down-to-earth salty technicians who tell us stories about our area when they were boys. It is fun and they are kind. They do not curse us. The scary ones are the ones who tell you one thing and then charge you based on your lack of knowledge. While they are nice to your face, they secretly hate you."

Jesus: "Well, they are vocal at times."

Me: "Yes, we had one last year (Rob). He was very self-serving and cruel."

Jesus: "He was measured and has a bad heart condition. I removed him from your house."

Me: "Thank You for removing him, Lord."

Jesus: "I know it is difficult right now because you feel more like a measuring device for the Kingdom of Heaven vs a Vessel of Living Water for healing the lost and disheartened. However, all of this will change and, yes Erin, in your lifetime. Now, you have a matter that is weighing heavily upon your heart."

Me: "Yes, Lord. My dream of terminal cancer (Sub-dream 2). Is this a dream warning me about spiritual death or was it warning me about actual cancer? This is a great fear of mine. I am afraid I have done something that deserves me being passed over from all You have in store for Your Mighty Army."

Jesus: "Oh Erin, this is a thought straight from the enemy. For you to have a spiritual death, you would no longer hear from Me and you would have rejected all that is good in you. You would be void of Me. Well, Erin, here I am. I am right here. Let's eliminate this common dream interpretation altogether.

"Dreams like this are good for those who are not fully walking on the path I have chosen for them. These are often used as warnings for them to make a change. This is not the case for you. I have told you that I have made a way for you. You are on the path I have chosen for you. You are Mine. If you were not, you would be void of My Voice. So then, what is the answer?"

Me: "Is it that I am really sick and this is my seven-day warning?"

Jesus: "Wow, that is very dark and so final. Look, I am in you. I am with you. You had warning signs about your well mate. In the olden days, this would be like the bucket, the crank and the rope to bring up fresh water.

This means the conduit is in need of a fix so you can remain bringing water into your home. You did not brush off these signs. These signs were a very obvious sign of pending on-going troubles ahead.

"As for the porcupine, this is a bad vessel of destruction coming in the dark of night to strip life away. Then there is the dog. It is not the dog that is the problem. It is the wicked owners. They are deceivers.

"Now, you know you are ill. You have the signs and I have told you this. A specialist will see you and give you information based on her understanding. You have something she will need to research as she is not fully familiar with this. Her sleep will be disturbed and she will contact you shortly after with what will be next.

"Remember that the enemy desires your death. He enjoys the fear and delays you are going through here. There are delays for the millions of those who need other treatments now aside from the plague.

"Do not be afraid, Erin. I am with you. Your life is about to change. I have not abandoned you. Whatever I allow and wherever I take you, even greater will be your reward. Do not be afraid as I will not leave you. I am with you. I am the Good Physician."

Me: "Lord, is the specialist I am about to see in need of You like the technicians we have been around lately?"

Jesus: "Yes. However, it is like this now wherever I send you. You are treated unreasonably by many as hearts have become like stone. You are seeing a rise in wicked activities all around you. There are less and less kind people because they are silent in fear. Now, the physician you will meet needs a miracle. You are the Vessel I will use."

Me: "Okay, Lord. As I have always trusted You with my most precious family, friends, animals, birds and things, then I must also fully trust You with my Vessel. You created me to fill with good things. I love You, Lord, and I trust You with my life."

Jesus: "Surrendering your life to Me is the heart of faith. Your heart is the center of this. Your heart is the Wellspring of Living Water. The Living Water refreshes those who are thirsty. Rejoice, Erin. I love you. You are not broken. This is not terminal. I am with you. My love for you is eternal and has no end. The only terminal you will experience is the train terminal station. Now, rejoice. This is good. This is the beginning of your journey, not the end."

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day! Thank You for my family and friends. Thank You for a warm home and space to move around. I thank You for a quiet peaceful setting to come to You daily. When I think back on where I came from, I realize I had grown up in tight spaces with no peace. However, I didn't know it was a problem until I experienced a place with more space and more peace.

There was a familiarity with my circumstances even though they were not the best. I never knew how bad things were until I heard it said about me at school. I also saw a difference in the overall peace in the house when I saw the peace while playing at a friend's house. It is hard not to realize your state of being or condition until you see what another has. I also learned over the years that too much is not good either.

In my later years, I then experienced the loneliness of very wealthy clients. It was often about making their large spaces warm and inviting by filling them with stuff. However, stuff is not a replacement of the true warmth that only God can bring into a house. Without Jesus, they will never be truly satisfied. Nothing from this world can satisfy us like the love of our Father.

However, there is no doubt in my mind that our surroundings can bend us and condition us. As a child, it was better to have doors and windows so that I would not go outside without parental supervision. I didn't envy my clients because I soon became aware of their struggles. It truly didn't matter if they had great wealth and resources. They then just experienced more grand and expansive amounts of troubles.

While my worries were different than theirs, the wealthy still have worries. One of my clients revealed that she had commitments that tied up over $100,000 per month. When I heard this, I became relieved that my level of commitments had been just a small fraction of this. Thank You, Lord.

This is why You tell us not to covet or be envious. We simply do not know what that other person may be going through.

With God, there are no accidents. My husband had fallen asleep early last night when I accidentally changed the channel. I hit a button and I was now on the Animal Planet channel. I became immediately riveted by the show that was on. It was a real-life animal rescue operation. They were going into a compound to seize eleven captive bears, two tigers, exotic birds and other creatures.

The bears were being held captive in cages so tiny they could even turn around. They barely had any water. Their claws had grown extremely long. These had all been circus animals that had since retired or were sold. It was awful. They had spent around 8 to 9 years in these stifling conditions with nothing to do. One of the bears there were almost 31-years-old.

Well, they rescued every one of these birds and animals. Some went to the Houston Zoo and others went to animal havens. All of them would now be in more open environments. The thing that brought me to tears was seeing these big bears splashing and playing in the water with such joy. It was the greatest thing to see. They went from looking so depressed and defeated to rolling around and splashing with such hope.

After this fantastic show was over, I fell asleep and had a dream. This dream reminded me of some of the things they did to me back when I was young. One of my most disturbing of memories was being locked in a 'time out closet' at the daycare. This really gave me a sense of fear of closed-in spaces. When I woke up from the dream, I was perturbed and began to pray to the Lord with all of my heart...

Me: "Lord, I pray that You release the captives. Please set them free. How does this happen? How are these animals doing now? I know You love them. For those in similar captivity, please free them and bring them to wide open spaces in Heaven. Oh Father, so many people are bound by the enemy here. All of us are restricted. The world has changed and we are being closed in. Please rescue us and set us free."

Voice of the Lord: "I am here, Erin. I will do again what I have done before. I will heal the brokenhearted. It is time to declare this to be 'The Year of the Lord's Favor'... My favor. I will come with good news to the poor. I will release those who have been held captive. I will give sight to the blind. I will set free those who are oppressed. I will set free those who are downtrodden, bruised and crushed by tragedy. Erin, this is The Year of My Favor!"

Sub-dream 1 "One Man shall Chase a Thousand" begins...

I was wearing layered clothing for cold. Every piece of clothing was colored a shade of grey. It was very high-tech. My hair was long and white. As I passed by a mirror, I took a glance. I was in shock. My skin was bright and tanned. My eyes were bright green. While I did not dwell that long on my appearance, I dwelled long enough to know that I really liked what the Lord had done to me.

I proceeded out the front door. While there was snow, it instantly cleared wherever I walked. I then went to various places where I must have known the people inside. When someone let me in, the people inside were soon-to-be healed. They then danced and screamed with joy. What made me particularly happy was that no one was concentrating their thanks on me... only Jesus.

One of the women: "Joshua 23:10! God also told me the Covenant of Shechem."

While I looked at her and smiled and nodded, I was unsure of what she meant. As I walked away, the Lord brought some clarity to me.

Voice of the Lord (Jesus): "For it is written... one man of you shall chase a thousand, for the Lord, your God, is He who fights for you as He promised you."

Me: "I know this, Lord. I never want to go back to the other way."

Jesus: "You are here now and I am in you. This is meant for the captives. They are no longer to remain in the world and captivated by it. They are to cling to the promises I have given them, the things of Heaven. I do not share My Glory with idols, understand? While many will be healed by My miracles, some will still go back to their old ways."

Me: "I am sorry, Lord. You have done so much for Your children. If they only knew!"

Jesus: "My children will all come to know Me. Do not worry. I am with you. I have given you the keys to the Kingdom of Heaven. By My authority, whatever you bind on Earth will be bound in Heaven and whatever you loose on Earth will be loosed in Heaven."

Sub-dream 1 over...

I heard a knock and woke up suddenly. Since it took me quite awhile to get out of bed, I knew that I had not been Transformed yet. I walked to my devotional chair.

Me: "Oh Lord, what did all of it mean? When will this be?"

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "Before when I came, I first delivered the people from a punishing king to their Promised Land. Then I came to release those bound spiritually from death and sin. Now I will come to not only deliver My people from their oppressors, but I will deliver them from all that holds them captive."

Me: "Wow, that is like, well, everything! This is incredible!"

Jesus: "You picked up your Blue Journal today. The old one. What is the theme?"

Me: "The Blue Journal was just before the Red Journal. It was 2010 and I was in uncertain territory. While I had been tricked, I did not yet know it. While I was struggling, I was still joyful. All of this changed on Friday, June 25, 2010, the day I received my restraining order from my worst enemy. My journal entries then went from daily prayers and praise to total sleeplessness, mourning, tears and great fear. I pleaded with You all day for help from my enemy."

Jesus: "You discovered you were bound and unable to do anything until you were free."

Me: "It was horrific. My life wasn't great, but I was together with my children. I then discovered that I had been deceived and I had no help. I only had You. Since I could do nothing, You went before me. My sons were returned to me in the fall of 2011, first by paper and then physically. We celebrated by driving home to Bend OR. It was so much fun. We even took Zoey. Your promises were fulfilled!"

Jesus: "Your enemy only cared about money. He had disdain for your children. His sons are a stain to him as they are walking evidence of his curses. Now, I set you and your children free by decree there. However, I did even more. The following year at the same time (September 30, 2012), I gave you what you had always prayed for. You had prayed for your life to mean something.

"Even if you amounted to nothing according to the world, I gave you dreams and visions. I then delivered you away from your greatest enemy. I also delivered your children. Do you not see what I did from the beginning to the end? I have taken you from strength to strength. I have taken you through battles in the furnace of affliction. During this, you appeared before Me in Heaven.

"It is not you who chose Me, but I who chose you. While you are not perfect, I do not require perfection. I did require surrender to Me in order for My plan to be perfected through you. Now, delight yourself in Me as you will soon be fishers of men and different than before. Like those thirsty bears and tigers, they became like children again when able to enjoy fresh water.

"These animals now have so much fresh water, they can even swim in it. Erin, it is time for you to be submersed in My Living Water. Those who bound you, their tongues shall be loosed on Earth as they will be before My Father's Throne of Judgment. They will confess their deeds day and night and night and day. While they will run to try and hide, there will be no place to do so.

"While a child of God presents himself contrite in Spirit before entering the presence of God, evil operates in the shadows. The Children of Perdition operate remotely in darkness and prey on the weak, the elderly and the infirm. Even so, I see all of it. The light will be shed and no evil deed will go unpunished. Blessed is the man who repents on Earth for he will see the Kingdom of Heaven. Erin, he will be free, understand?

"He will see that I have sent help as an answer to prayers. He will not stop doing good all the days of their life. In contrast, the wicked have set an evil course. Who can even measure this? They will soon... very soon... be no more.

"You will call to them through a door, but they will not be there. You will say to the rock 'move, I know you are under there' and they will have slithered out. You will say 'come down from the hills' and the hills will fall. Still, you will not see the wicked. My Glory will shine throughout Heaven and Earth and all will know that I am God.

'Oh yes... those bears, tigers and other birds and animals... Erin, they cried out and I answered. They know My Name. They know Me as God. They know I send help. If I do this for them and hold the wicked in account, then how much more will I do for you?

"Now, rejoice, Erin, for I am about to do something in your days you would not believe even if you were told. Just as I opened the storehouses of snow, I just as quickly bring the sun."

Me: "Thank You, Lord! I love You!"

Jesus: "I love you too!"

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day! Thank You. I do not always understand everything I face. As I get old, I realize that I have to live in the moment as I am now, but that I also have to live like tomorrow is going to be different. Quite simply, I use the hope of our soon Transformation to power me through some of my tougher days. Of course, Your Voice is even more inspirational. Your Spirit drives my every step.

Lord, there are days when I feel as if I fail You. Several times today, I found myself beginning to do chores without thinking, violating my Sabbath day. Please forgive me for going my own way at times. I am really trying, but I can definitely improve on this. When I can do nothing, I praise You. Lord, thank You for all You have done for me, my family and my Nest friends. You put Psalm 29 deeply in my heart today...

"Ascribe to the LORD, O Heavenly Beings, ascribe to the LORD glory and strength. Ascribe to the LORD the glory due His Name; worship the LORD in the splendor of holiness. The voice of the LORD is over the waters; the God of glory thunders, the LORD, over many waters. The voice of the LORD is powerful; the voice of the LORD is full of majesty. The voice of the LORD breaks the cedars; the LORD breaks the cedars of Lebanon.

"He makes Lebanon to skip like a calf, and Sirion like a young wild ox. The voice of the LORD flashes forth flames of fire. The voice of the LORD shakes the wilderness; the LORD shakes the wilderness of Kadesh. The voice of the LORD makes the deer give birth and strips the forests bare, and in His temple all cry, "Glory!" The LORD sits enthroned over the flood; the LORD sits enthroned as King forever. May the LORD give strength to His people! May the LORD bless His people with peace!"

The Lord is our only King and Savior. The nations will declare there is no other God. For thus says the Lord; who created the Heavens, who is God, who formed Earth and made it, who has established it, who did not create it in vain, who formed it to be inhabited. You are the Lord and there is no other!

Me: "Oh Lord, You are just so incredibly incredible! There is truly no one like You... not even close. You are infinitely above all of us. Thank You for being our Perfect Sacrificial Lamb! You paid our debts, debts you never owed."

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "Erin, rest today. I am not mad at you when you don't feel up to receiving a dream. When this happens, you are to rest and, when you do that which you search, the unsearchable will be found by you."

"Now, there is something in your journal. This is about a promise I had told you. I told you I would build a house for you, a place to raise your young, a place near My Altar. Search when your home permits began or even when the land was purchased. When I declared I would do this, your home plans were permitted.

"Though you did not build it, I made it perfect for you to minister from your land in the trees to throughout the nations. I removed you from the snares of the wicked to the place I prepared for you in your brokenness. You have your children with you and this is their home. What I promise in the supernatural manifests in the natural.

"It doesn't matter what man tries to explain or excuse for this miracle. The home was built by a man with a wife and a child. While they intended to stay longer, they had to leave unexpectedly, soon after the home was completed. Who does this? The only ones who do this on purpose are those who do this for a trade. This man was not in this trade. Erin, I moved mountains to bring you to this particular house.

"Now, let us talk about a dream I gave you back in 2010 (May 31, 2010). This dream was about My wrath on the city with the Golden Gate from when you were a child. In this dream, you were shown the Golden Gate Bridge 220 feet about water. Many men died in the process of constructing this. Those who survived it called this the path halfway to hell. In this dream, I showed you two roads leading from the bridge. Erin, only one path leads to Me."

Me: "There were also two men who were lazily sacrificing cattle to sharks in the bay. While there were two horses with saddles, neither had riders. The water was stagnant, like sewage water. I then saw hundreds of people jumping off the bridge. It was horrifying. I had a dream a few years after this of stagnant water in New York City. There were cattle here too. They were thirsty, but they could not find fresh water.”

Jesus: “You saw something else in your Bridge dream... something deeply disturbing.”

Me: “Yes. I saw parents selling their children as prostitutes. These children had no clothing and were dancing provocatively. Both boys and girls were being sold to the highest bidder. The stench was horrible. It was an awful dream.”

Jesus: “Yes. However, this has come to pass and so did the other. While I even sent fires and earthquakes, they still did not turn from their wickedness and back to Me. I have now marked the city and surrounding area for judgment.”

Me: “But, Lord, I still have friends in that area.”

Jesus: “Erin, do not worry. Judgment will come in a way you think not. Now, I am in you as one. I am your friend and an ever-present help in trouble. I did not remove My favor from you nor am I angry at you. This would mean a house divided amongst itself. I told you that I would not remove My favor. Rest is also for you and it is important. Be at peace and do not worry as I am always with you.”

558 – Our Cups will Always be Full of Living Water

Dear Father,

Thank You for this day! You are so wonderful, Father. I love You so. You are a great God. You are the Greatest in all the Earth. While I have things around me, none of them satisfies me. Only You do.

In just three years, the world has completely changed. Elderly people are ridding themselves of their keepsakes. This must be similar to the Great Depression. This plague has created financial hardships all over the world. Businesses have shutdown. Restaurants with great food have closed. Malls are ghost towns. Many of my favorite products are no more.

Yes, the world has definitely changed. The stopping of school events and activities has caused 'Great Depression' in children. The ability to meet face-to-face is mostly gone now. Friends meet online. This seems so impersonal to me. Anxiety, depression and despair are everywhere. Many churches around here closed and never reopened.

Since people are void of God, it is hard to find happy people. Our masks cover our smiles. Some people act like they hate you for no reason. Demons are becoming more prevalent in various people that we come in contact with. Good quality clothing is now hard to come by, even in thrift shops. Other things are cheap. For example, I saw an expensive fur coat being sold for less than the cost of a sweater.

The only thing that seems to matter now is technology, especially smartphones. Other things just don't seem to demand a good price. I am excluding food here though as prices for food, especially staples, are skyrocketing. The following is a conversation I recently had with a thrift store manager...

Me: "Excuse me, but I want to know if this is correctly priced. This porcelain bird is selling for only $3. While an unmarked one would sell for this, this is clearly marked as Beswick England Porcelain. This should be going for $150 or more. Since this thrift store is a charity, I didn't want to rip you off by paying so little."

Manager: "Yes, we realize it is a Beswick bird. However, no one cares about this anymore. No one will pay a half or even a third of what it is worth. We don't want it to sit, so we price it low."

Me: "Well, how about this Chanel scarf. This is an expensive scarf. They only have $5 marked as the price on it."

Manager: "No one cares. It has been sitting there for quite some time."

Me: "I'll take the bird and this scarf."

Manager: "What are you going to do with the scarf? Are you really going to wear it?"

Me: "I don't wear flashy brand-name advertising items, so no."

Manager: "Then why are you buying it?"

Me: "I have a friend who sells items online and she needs the income. I will give it to her. Maybe she will sell it for a profit."

I then left with my two items. For $8, I just walked out with around $500 of value. It felt decadent even though I paid so little. It is so sad that I don't enjoy these items as much as before. This is because I am spoiled for God's plans and can rarely think of anything else but Him and what He has in store for us.

Me: "Father, You are about to do something really big and I am so excited. I love You and I am so thankful You are my Father. I love how You are slowly fulfilling all Your promises in our lives. My husband has been having more interest from companies. We are seeing blessings come through You. While we should be destitute, You have instead miraculously provided for us."

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "I love you, Erin. It is time for you to finalize your preparations. I am about to move you from one state of being to another. Much of this right now is deadweight and unimportant. Things have very little value. You have seen this with your own eyes. They will not even matter to thieves. This tells you there is no demand for most of what meant something to the generations before you.

"What matters now to those in the world are things like communication devices. The ruler of this world is downsizing all things and even people. He is removing all things contrary to his evil plans. He is controlling the world by limiting access to anything you once enjoyed. He is removing anything related to freedom of you as a child of God.

"You know that the enemy is behind this because he has increased the freedom to sin with no consequence at the same time. Anything that results in man's spiritual or physical death is encouraged. The enemy's platform is small constricted spaces. The enemy is shutting down home and property ownership in favor of rent and landlords.

"The enemy is trying to get rid of vehicles so you won't have freedom to go to the park or the lake. He will make it too expensive to travel. People in close quarters are easier to control and manipulate. Putting someone in a small apartment limits the resources they will need. Any media information will be contained. If sickness comes, they can lock you down easier."

Me: "This is awful, Lord, and so, so sad."

Jesus: "This is the enemy's plan as he moves quickly to implement this. However, the enemy has made a great mistake. He forgot to recognize who is really in control. The army that comes against My Army are people who have only been taught one way. They are void of God and have been taught that I am the evil Savior. This is ridiculous. There is only One who saves and it is not those who were rejected in their fall from Heaven.

"Now, he and his workers will perform impressive feats according to man. However, these will pale in comparison to the miracles of My Chosen Saints. This will be My Army and the angels. Right now, there are shortages. However, this is driven by a need to control the people. The enemy wants to punish and demoralize them into submission by great fear.

"Only a few are doing this, but their methods of controlling the truth by spreading lies is like fighting a war and a great invasion with the shedding of blood by common wars. Now, because of their tactics, fighting men are taking their own lives. So too are young children. There is now so much bad news that it is difficult to see any good."

Me: "Lord, please do something. Please!"

Jesus: "Erin, there will be no more delays. That which was not manifesting is very soon to be visible. Heaven is opening and an outpouring of the latter rains is coming. The former rains and the latter rains will soon be visible.

See now, Erin, I am in you. I allow you to take notes of what you see around you in your current state. Why? Have I not said to you 'Erin, this one will be healed. You will be back here again. Look over there. They are crushed in Spirit and left with no hope.'

"Well, Erin, this is where you will be. I have given you dreams and you have seen this in them. The last remaining residue in you has been removed. You call out for something which is no longer there. Your desire for earthly things is gone. Now you desire the things I have placed upon your heart, that which brings Me glory. Your heart desires to heal the sick, the lame and the downtrodden.

"Your heart desires to sound the Good News of Heaven. Now, you will be hated by some because of me. I have now taught you to expect this. However, with Me in you, demons will cry out and the wicked will flee. The time is here. As evil has accelerated in wickedness, so too now will the Kingdom of Righteousness bring a great wave of miracles. Are you ready?"

Me: "I am so ready, Lord. Do You find me ready? I am sure willing!"

Jesus: "Then surrender all that you are to Me. Allow Me to fill your empty Vessel with Living Water. You allowed Me to carry you during your darkest time. Now allow Me to pour and immerse you in My Spirit."

Me: "You carried me. You gave me Living Water when I was thirsty. My cup will never run empty again."

Jesus: "It will be overflowing. Rejoice, Erin, as your delay is over. I am here. All is in place. Rest. Complete loose ends. I have you, Erin. I love you. You will thirst no more. You will be healed and changed."

Dream over.

559 – Salt and the Porcupine

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day here! Father, thank You for the simple things. Thank You for keeping my children safe. Thank You for sending help when I cry out. Thank You for making it so that we are not worried about so many things we normally would be worried about.

Me: "Father, why have You still not delivered us from the porcupine? It is still destroying one of our favorite trees."

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "Why do you think the porcupine continues to be a constant source of trouble?"

Me: "I don't know for sure. However, I know You don't allow something like this in the natural without sound instruction. I have prayed to be delivered from it. We even plotted a greater fate involving bloodshed. I am sad that I feel this way."

Jesus: "Hmm, porcupines do porcupine activities. It is the winter. It is hungry and unable to be satisfied. Since it is near-sighted, it is unable to see the big picture. Its focus is narrow. It rests where it feels safe (under our back porch). Since it is cold outside, it stays close to its den. It craves salt and desires it more than food in this season. The porcupine is a sign for you. Now, what is salt?"

Me: "Forgive me that I have missed a major sign from You. I just looked at it as an animal who is cute from a distance, like way far away. Then when I began to see it more and more, I tried to chase it away. This didn't work. It kept coming back frequently. Then it began to strip our most beautiful tree in the yard. It operates at night and it is very hard to track its movements. It sits on the porch at night and is unafraid. I have been cursing it, Lord. The other animals avoid it too."

Jesus: "So, why did I allow this? What is salt?"

Me: "The porcupine does porcupine things. It doesn't change. If it is the same and has always been, then we are the issue. Something I am doing needs to change. I had a dream recently that made me realize that I have been consistently cursing all those opposed to God. I should have been praying for them instead. I have been so bothered and angry.

"I have hated the random crimes and those who have continued to allow it. I have cursed liars. I have been really upset about my daughter's Christian university, as well as the Christian school our youngest attends. They have bent to wokeness. I realize I need to repent because I was not praying from a Heavenly perspective. I was praying from an earthly viewpoint instead. I need to correct this.

"Now, what is salt? Since You instructed me to seek what You are pointing out to me, I then need to look at the Biblical perspective too. Salt is a preservative and keeps food lasting longer. I believe this is why salt is used in Scripture when referring to a lasting covenant. In Leviticus 2:13, salt is offered with all grain offerings to God as a lasting covenant.

"When the Israelites offered up their grain on the Altar, they were thanking the Lord for His miracles and for supplying their needs. Grain made into cakes could be given to God. This was daily food dedicated to the Creator. They also included the labor involved in the planting and harvesting of the grain. All was dedicated to God as an offering. The grain was to be pure. The grain was to be without leaven or honey.

"Leaven or honey accelerates decay and represents sin. Oil and Frankincense could be offered with the grain as this represented celebration and gladness (1 Samuel 16:13, Song Songs 3:6-11). When the grain offering was given, only a small portion was sacrificed. The majority went to the Priest to supply for their needs and their families. Oh Lord, I just crave salt. I love it. I try not to overuse it, but I still do at times."

Jesus: "You must understand why I am using this analogy with you right now. The porcupine craves salt and will do anything to find it in the winter."

Me: "Okay, so I need to repent for cursing the very people who need Living Water. I need to be the salt of the Earth. Because of who I am, it will be You who is glorified through me. The salt enhances the flavor. This is like Your Words in action!"

Jesus: "Yes, but more. My Word, My Covenant, is lasting. It does not end. Salt is not burned in the fire. It remains. When you salt meat for the fire to eat, does the meat lose its saltiness? No. It remains. This is the same with My Covenant of love with My people. I have prepared a place for you. Those who are lost that I will save will be preserved for eternity. Even through the fire of affliction will they be preserved."

Me: "Oh wow, I finally understand about salt! Oh Lord, I am so sorry that this has taken so long to be imbedded into my thoughts."

Jesus: "You were once like this porcupine... unloved and unwanted. Your sons are sometimes like porcupines. They are difficult in their consistently stubborn actions. However, they are unable to change. Still, they are Mine. They consistently love Me and are careful not to curse others. This is good. However, like porcupines, they are often set apart and avoided.

"However, this is not why I sent the porcupine. You are marked by Me. You are required to allow Me to work through you to be salt in a hopelessly cold climate. You will endure porcupines... well, many porcupines. Erin, you will need to get used to where I will send you and what you will be required to endure, understand?"

Me: "Yes, Lord."

Jesus: "Now, while I can't promise you that all will be fun, this is what I can promise you... all that I will do through you and all the places I will take you will be impacted by Me for My Glory."

Me: "I am sorry, Lord, but I still find it hard to have compassion for this porcupine, especially after what it did to one of my favorite trees on our property."

Jesus: "Erin, when I came, I was a porcupine, understand? I was despised and rejected. I frustrated the plans of the wicked. Erin, I understand porcupines. The difference is I am the Light and this is where I chose to operate. Now, you will need to trust Me. I gave you these lessons with signs so you can't later say to me 'Oh Lord, You didn't prepare me for dealing with these people!' I also did this so you would not try to hold back and pull a Jonah when asked to go to places you don't like."

Me: Smiling. "Oh Lord, I surrender all to You. Clearly, I have watched too much media and seen too many bad reports. I have become angry, especially when it comes to the abuse of children. I have delivered judgments with my harsh tongue. I see now that to do so is to use my tongue as a gavel of a fool."

Jesus: "Wait, Erin. I did not say you would not terrify the wicked and stop their evil deeds. Not everyone is called by Me nor is everyone a child of God. Some are vipers. This is different. Think of it like this. Satan has enjoyed a time of evil on display. He has spread his seed of evil and his brand of salt to enhance this evil. In the enemy's case, the salt he uses is in the form of fear. His methods are not new. Generations before you could testify to much of the same.

"However, the time of evil has now accelerated. This is because My Great Harvest of souls is in due season and the enemy knows this. Angry about this, the enemy uses an increase in sin as his great offering to the world. He calls this freedom. He calls his lies truth. He enjoys sprinkling his offering with the salt of fear. If he can preserve his lies with fear, he believes he can overtake the plans of God. He hopes to destroy man before God's plans take fruition."

Me: "Well, Satan is certainly no porcupine. At least porcupines are cute. Lord, I keep having dreams where the enemy is observing me. Wherever I go, he is across from me and watching me. I don't like it."

Jesus: "Yes, but are you afraid?"

Me: "No, not at all. Sometimes he looks directly at me and other times he does not see me at all."

Jesus: "You will come to understand more about this later. In all things, I am in you. My Voice, My strength, My wisdom and My knowledge are all in you. However, I am not visible there because there is an appointed time under God for His purposes. As a result and for now, I am feeding you slowly with an increase."

Me: "This makes sense. I definitely still lack in many, many areas."

Jesus: "From My perspective, you lack no good thing. All that you are experiencing right now is good food. You are the salt of the Earth. You will understand this soon. Now, give Me the porcupines."

Me: "Lord, I understand what You are saying. These are Yours. However, this one is really tearing up our property at night. It is really bothering me."

Jesus: "Then surrender it to Me and I will show you the course to take. Do not worry as I am God. I love you."

Dream over.

560 – The Twelve Tribes of the 144,000

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for another day! Thank You for Your love. Thank You for keeping our power on during this latest storm. Many are now in the dark due to power outages. Because of the extreme number of cases of the illness, many in our area have begun to stay home. Our schools are now online. People are being asked to stay home unless you are out for essentials. It is basically a lockdown.

My husband worked hard securing chicken wire around our once beautiful maple tree. Despite his efforts, the porcupine still managed to get up the tree. The tree is now dying. We feel helpless to do anything to stop this menace. I am discouraged. We will need miracles.

I am in amazement these days on what is happening to the local antique market. At one time, antiques fetched a decent price and one could profit from this. However, from what I see lately and from conversations with antique dealers, this is no longer the case. Things that once commanded hundreds of dollars are now being sold for mere cents on the dollar. I never thought I would see this. I recently came across an antique script that was beautifully written. Here is what it said...

What shall it be (author unknown)

Out of this I shall never take, things of silver and gold I make. After that I cherish and hoard away, after I leave on this Earth must stay. Though I have toiled for a painting rare, to hang on the wall, I must leave it there. Though I call it mine and boast of its worth, I must give it up when I leave this Earth. All that I gather and all that I keep, I must leave behind when I fall asleep.

And I often wonder what I shall own, in that other life when I pass alone. What shall they find and what shall they see, in the soul that answers the call for me? Shall the Great Judge learn, when my task is through, that my Spirit has gathered some riches too? Or shall at last it be mine to find, that all I've worked for I'd left behind.

I had another epic dream last night...

Sub-dream 1 "The Post-Rapture Newscast Continues!" begins...

There was a well-known newscaster broadcasting on the television. I could tell he was reading from a teleprompter.

Newscaster: "Many of you are speculating and murmuring about the great disappearance of light, as well as people. Several eyewitnesses told of a massive cloud of darkness that came over the sun. With that warning signal, millions of people were suddenly removed from the globe. President _____ (name withheld on purpose, a former president of the USA, but not Trump) is claiming responsibility over the event and asking those who remain to look to him for help with any needs as this will be necessary in order to move forward."

Once this finished, the screen went blank and made a loud buzzing sound. The satellites were then taken over. The screen now said 'Urgent Report to come'. The leader of the Land of the Dragons then appeared and began to speak. There was a translator in the bottom right corner interpreting his words into English...

Hostile leader: "A plague swept over the land overnight and removed those sent for evil. I, by order of the sovereign citizens, have eliminated the threats to the world (referring to Christians), as well as their evil leader (referring to Jesus). As you can see from these photos, it was a plague that killed them, not their God saving them. We are now burying these people in massive graves as we speak."

The television screen changed to being 'on-location'. I then saw thousands of people being bulldozed into massive pits. However, upon further observation, you could see that it was really about 100 people cut and pasted 10 times to add depth. You could also see that it wasn't multiple bulldozers, but the same one also cut and pasted for multiple times. The leader then came back onto the screen...

Hostile leader: "A registry will now be conducted of all those who remain. This census will be mandatory."

The television then became staticky again. Former president _____ then came back onto the screen...

Former President _____: "I am the way forward. Follow me and no one else."

A blackout then hit us and the television went blank. Even though it was the middle of the day, it was as black as night. I could hear screaming. I was unafraid as I was different... completely changed. The Lord then took me to a medical facility. People were acting crazy. It was quite difficult to watch. While I had seen glimmers of this before the Rapture, it was now as if the darkness had consumed all of the light. All things were now dark because God had removed His Light from the world.

Sub-dream 1 over..

I woke up suddenly with a sick feeling in my stomach. This dream had such great darkness. This was because God removed His people. His Light was gone. As I thought about this, I wondered if the Lord would follow a different pattern, yet still do a new thing. I thought about the pattern of His Crucifixion. As I pondered this, the Lord told me to summarize the events while He was on the Cross...

- Jesus was hung on the cross at 9:00am.
- The light remained normal for the first three hours from 9:00am to noon.
- At noon, the light disappeared.
- The darkness then remained for the next three hours from noon to 3:00pm.
- Jesus then died at 3:00pm. Upon His death...
- There was a Great Earthquake (Matthew 27:51).
- The curtain separating man from the presence of God was torn in two.
- The tombs opened and the dead were raised (Matthew 27:52).

Me: "Oh Lord, how will all of this be? I know You will do all You have promised. I have witnessed the great void that will result when You take us in the Rapture. What happens to those who remain here is both terrifying and horrifying. In my dreams from You, You have shown me helping people left here. All of them are in great despair."

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "I know, Erin. This is the path that leads to destruction and many will choose to take this path. Sin is like a veil over all that is good. The veil of sin hides those who operate in darkness and clothes them with unrighteous garments. Their veil of evil is stained with sin. When I collect My Bride, I will lift her veil and take her to the place I have prepared for her, a place of great joy. This is a beautiful place, a place where she will be free."

Me: "Lord, You are amazing. I am so thankful for this. Please pick me too."

Jesus: "Do not worry, Erin, as I give you these dreams to testify to what will come. However, these are also given so that those who will bring the Good News in the midst of darkness will also have Good News for themselves."

Me: "Lord, I have a question about something that has puzzled me for some time. How can I be of service to the extent You have shown me when I am not Jewish, not male and not a virgin?"

Jesus: "Hmm, Erin, this is false. The person who proclaims that the 144,000 are all Jewish are contradicting Scripture. The Kingdom of Judah from which the Jews came consist of only 3.5 Tribes of the Twelve Tribes. My Word plainly writes that the 144,000 will come from all Twelve Tribes, 12,000 from each of the Twelve Tribes. Hmm, should I tell My Father to now change the Scriptures to match their faulty understanding?"

"No, I will leave it as it is plainly written right now. It is interesting to Me when men make bold declarations apart from God. This is dangerous and leads to folly. As for the other aspects of these false interpretations, who is it that scribed the interpretation in your language. Is it that 'the devil is in the details' or is it that I perhaps allowed this to further veil the wisdom of fools?"

Me: "Oh Lord, this is beyond my scope of understanding. I have learned through the years that I make myself out to be a fool anytime I assume something about what I know very little about. I only know that which You reveal through Your Words and my dreams from You. I sometimes feel sad that I didn't learn more 'formally'."

Jesus: "I call from every walk of life. Had I chosen someone with more formal education than you, they would continuously argue with Me. For these people, I give them very little. I give them one or two words to research and expand upon in order to keep them busy. As for you, I have a relationship with you. Since we dialog together, we are friends and close."

Me: "Yes, but I still wish I knew more. However, I also see where You are coming from on this. I would never want to keep You from unveiling truth in its proper time. I just like being Your Vessel and being used for Your purposes alone."

Jesus: "One day soon, you will know more. This way, you won't have to dig around to fact check Me."

Me: "Oh Lord, I never fact check You. I fact check myself as I have very limited memory and retention. I am still in shock You would choose someone as faulty as me."

Jesus: "Well, Erin, this is good. Now, it is I who has brought your attention to past events. Pray in all things. Many of the leaders over the land are working very hard to use fear as an instrument to distract from what is actually occurring. Information is power. Prayer and worship to God casts out fear. Music, praising and singing breaks strongholds the enemy has placed and opens up to miracles.

"Relationship with others creates purpose. Remember that, when two or more are gathered, I show up. The enemy knows all of this. Therefore, he has been busy and he sends wave after wave of sickness amplified by lies and fear. Meanwhile, while all are busy, he is forming his new government."

Me: "Lord, please step in soon. Your people are oppressed and depressed. However, we are also excited about all You have planned for us. It is just so difficult and frustrating to witness this destruction of such a beautiful country. They are destroying the enjoyment of living safely. They are destroying us 'getting old peacefully'."

Jesus: "This brings Me to your maple tree. This is an analogy. This is a parable about the world. That maple tree will be burned in the fire one day, as well as all you see around you. It will be no more. However, what will remain? My Word will remain, as well as My Redeemed. Now, rejoice, Erin, as you are Mine."

Me: "So, the porcupine and the maple tree are a parable by You. Is this why we have been unsuccessful in removing it? It is so hard to watch this tree being stripped bare while the tree sleeps and is in wick over the winter. Why this? It is not a fig tree."

Jesus: "I know it is not a fruit bearing tree. It is there for your enjoyment and it is Mine. I do not want you to be upset about this. You will see a miracle and you will rejoice. You are downcast these days."

Me: "I am, Lord. People are so downcast. Many use Your Name to swear. So many I have come to know over the years are angry at You. They have never recovered after great losses and their hopes are dashed. Many of us have lost both parents and have no one to check in with. Our children are often leading their own lives.

"Lord, please don't wait long. All of us have been having dreams of estranged friends who we no longer speak to or who will not speak to us. I still have dreams of people who were very mean to me at church. They scoffed at me when I prayed. Please help them, Lord, as they have no understanding of what they do."

Jesus: "I know, Erin. I also know that there is a reason for all things. Just as the enemy is working on his new one government order and schemes, God also has a great plan from the beginning of Creation. My plan is greater and firmly established from the beginning. I have separated the sheep from the goats.

"Chances are good that those who prophesied something in My Name and then brags about it later as their own accomplishment, not Mine, are part of the goats. If they do not repent, chances are good that they will be passed over for consideration in My order of miracles. This is because they put themselves before Me and forget that it is I who declares a thing.

"Erin, they will be like modern-day Pharisees. They will view themselves as declarers of all things of Heaven and Earth as if they are the keepers of the Law. Well, by their own words, let them be bound by their own dictates. Do not worry yourself here. Do not consider them. Instead, pray for them as they are the ones who have been misled.

"I began giving true knowledge of these coming events 22 years ago. They did not know fully what this was in preparation for. Many acted on their own knowledge and received praise from those who felt at peace with them. However, as the few who then listened changed their message to what has always been My unchangeable plan (the first Transformation), they were cast aside, mocked and defamed.

"Well, these will now be vindicated. Erin, you will be vindicated. You are not crazy. As of now, you are considered hidden in plain sight and useless. Well, it is up to Me to choose whom I choose as I am God and they are not.

"Now, the end will be like the beginning, but different. You can look for patterns. Signs in the moon and sky, wars and rumors of wars and earthquakes... yes, these will come... perhaps some have already. Well, what then remains?"

Me: "The veil between Heaven and Earth? The mystery of this being visible here?"

Jesus: "Hmm, I like this. This is interesting and will cause even more controversy. Well, I do not shy away from shaking the ground."

Me: "Oh Lord, when will this all happen? Actually, scrap that. I just know it will be in Your Perfect Timing and I have grown to be satisfied with that."

Jesus: "Well then, count this as good. You are right where I have called you to be. You are in the right place at the right time. I have raised you up for such a time as this. While you might not matter to man now, you matter to Me. Erin, you matter to God. I will therefore anoint you with the oil of joy and gladness. Now, understand who you are to Me... My Word is clear.. I am My beloved and My beloved is Mine.

"Psalm 45 is also good. My love for you is an everlasting covenant. While Heaven and Earth as you know it will pass, My Words will never pass away. My love is an everlasting covenant and is eternal. If you faded away and were no more, then why would I say 'for eternity'? Erin, My love for those who truly love Me is a love without end. I love you and My promises are true."

Me: "I love You, Lord!"

Communion

Dear Father,

Thank You for a warm house and a comfortable bed! It is such a blessing to have this. Thank You. I was up at 2:22am exactly this morning. As I write this, it is now 3:30am. I simply can't sleep. This is a great time to visit You, Lord.

A song came into my head recently. The song instantly transported me back to a time around August 11, 1979. The song was Driver's Seat by Sniff 'n' the Tears. I was living in Sandpoint ID in a beautiful rental home on Lake Pendorielle. We lived right next to the long bridge. I remember that my mom was happy. Actually, she was the happiest I had seen her in many years.

My high school years were difficult for me. I attended a reunion in 2011 and not much had changed. The mean girls seemed frozen in time and were still mean girls. After this, I decided I would not attend another reunion. Back in 1979, we didn't have much, but what we had, my mom had worked hard at with two jobs. We were happy for all the blessings we did have.

So, Father, why am I up? Why can't I sleep? I cried when I remembered back to that time. I was close to my brothers too. When mom passed away, so too did my relationship with my brothers. It is hard to reconcile my carefree times in 1979 to what is happening in the world right now.

Me: "Lord, I have let a lot of tears fall tonight. I am not sure why this is happening. Help me, Father. Help me to understand."

Jesus: "Erin, come up!"

He once again spoke to me while I sat in my devotional chair. His Voice was very clear.

Jesus: "I am here with you. It is not often anymore that you have a restless sleep."

Me: "Father, I had so little and had very few cares. I was so healthy. I am in great pain tonight. Back then, I can't remember ever being in pain. My only concern was how much time I could spend in the sun at Sandpoint Beach ID. My mom was active and young, so we spent a great deal of time together. After that, I only visited from time to time. Mom had moved on and my things were now in a few cardboard boxes.

"The summers of 1979 and 1980 were fun summers for us. We both worked at a high-end restaurant called Henry Villard's. I also worked at Savory's. I remember the sights, the smells and all the wonderful things to do there. I miss my mom from this block of time. It was the only time I felt truly close to her instead of 'just acquaintances'.

"Since I was not close to her new husband, I mostly stayed away. It was painful to see my mom change so much of who she was for a man. Well, Lord, here I am. Why am I having this happen? What is this all about? Lord, time is no longer my friend."

Jesus: "Time waits on no man and no man can easily wait on time. The two have been at odds since the fall of Adam and Eve in the Garden. The days of a man's life began to shorten with each new generation. Saying goodbye to a moment in time is difficult. Struggling to try to capture even a small memory is difficult."

Me: "I couldn't afford a camera back then, so I tried to sear a memory into my mind by taking a 'mental snapshot'. As for recently, it feels like You are taking me back to do an inventory of memories. For the last month or so, you have been sending me 'memory pictures'. These trigger past emotions, as well as past dreams. Something must be going on as I can't seem to stop crying."

Jesus: "Erin, allow Me to work all of this together for your good. Do not run from this. Give it to Me. I am in the Driver's Seat. Now, go back to bed and rest. See me again in a few hours."

I went back to bed. I fell asleep quickly and slept in until 10:30am. I looked out at our once beautiful sugar maple tree. I was relieved that the porcupine took up another cause last night. It looked like our tree had sustained no further damage. The Driver's Seat song was still going through my head. The Lord gave me a wonderful dream last night...

Sub-dream 1 "Jesus, the Porcupine and the Raccoon" begins...

I looked around and knew immediately I was walking down a beautiful Heavenly path near God's door. Parallel to my path and to my right was the beautiful River of Life. The area was filled with beautiful trees with blossoms. It appeared to be morning. The sun was shining through the trees. The light of the sun made the beautiful crystal-clear water sparkle. The fragrance in the air was incredible.

While I was not sure where I was going, I was excited to be on this path. I knew it was leading me to even more beauty. I could hear birds everywhere. They were singing praises in unison to God, our Creator of Heaven and Earth. I then noticed something extraordinary. The flowering branches of the trees and beautiful plants were flowing back and forth in praises to God.

I stopped to watch as the sun traversed the soil as hundreds of tulips, crocuses and other flowers sprouted and blossomed at the speed of a super-fast timelapse. I looked at the sparkling soil and it was rich with life. Everything here was completely alive and rooted in God and fed from the River of Life. I then continued my walk. When I entered a clearing, I saw a tree with a canopy unlike anything I have seen on Earth.

It was a deciduous tree and the branches were blossoming with life. The birds of all varieties were nesting on her branches. I began to cry when I noticed all the animals surrounding the area were resting under this broad canopy. On the ground was a soft carpet of something like grass and moss combined. Other than the eyes of Jesus, I have never seen such a beautiful spectacle.

I walked off the path and went underneath the tree. I went over to inspect the trunk. There was no brown bark. Instead, the bark was white like a birch or aspen, complete with colorful accents. Nothing comes even close to this on Earth. I then walked over to the river. It was crystal clear. The bottom of the river was filled with sparkling sand and polished stones of every color.

The water was the color of glaciated water, but also like the color of Jesus' eyes. I reached down to test the water. It was cool and refreshing. I could see my reflection. I laughed as the beautiful tree canopy gave a white and pink halo effect to my reflection. I was clearly young here.

As I looked at myself in the reflection, a beautiful school of fish came up to my hand in the water. They were iridescent. With the light of the sun on them, they appeared like opals in the water. They flowed with rhythm and praise as even the River of Life was alive and in worship to God.

Me: "Thank You, Lord, for bringing me Home here. I needed this. I am tired and I longed for Home."

I felt a hand on my shoulder. I turned and there was Jesus. He sat down beside me and hugged me. I began to cry.

Jesus: "I know, Erin, I know. It is not easy. However, I prepared all of this for those I love when I call them Home."

Me: "Lord, there is always something new here. There always is. It is beautiful. This is incredibly stunning. Thank You."

Jesus: "Erin, I want to show you something. Come."

He took my hand and brought me over to a meadow clearing with flowers. I looked out and saw an animal in the distance that I had never seen before. It was bushy with hair which was silver. It looked as cute as a teddy bear. I then saw another animal tackle it in a playful manner. The two rolled around together. They must have then sensed the presence of Jesus as they both stopped and ran over to Him. He bent down as they both rolled over onto their backs. They seemed to laugh as Jesus pet their bellies.

Jesus: "Do you recognize them?"

Me: "No. One looks like a small racoon, only glorified, and the other looks like... Wait! No way! Seriously, a porcupine? A porcupine in a Heavenly body?" They both came up to me. However, I was cautious with the porcupine. "Lord, where are the quills?"

Jesus: "Why would any living creature need quills for eternity here? Erin, this is the porcupine on your property. He is here."

Me: "He is saved? Then who is the racoon?"

Jesus: "This is the little one who became sick. This is the one the conservation officer put to sleep. I brought him Home. Well, the angels who care for the animals brought him Home."

I looked in the distance and saw a pack of adorable groundhogs running towards me.

Me: "Lord, is this Flower and all of her babies. Wow, she produced quite a few. You do realize that all of these creatures in Heaven will be controversial, right? We were taught that there would be no animals in Heaven because they have no souls."

Jesus: "Well then, we are still weeding out those goats from the sheep. If God is delighted with His animal creations on Earth, why would He not be delighted to then have them in Heaven?"

Me: "Oh, there is a lot of pressure here. Well, what I have learned from You is that man makes determinations in order to elevate himself above all else. Your Words have been used as weapons by the wicked. The wicked reshape and rebrand Your Words to use against the downtrodden and undesirables of the world. These are the same people that interpret Your Word a certain way and curse anyone who disagrees.

“The enemy loves to use Christians to declare things that can be used as weapons. As for man, animals and birds, You saved all of them by loading them onto Noah’s Ark. You use these amazing creatures as teaching tools, parables to how our lives can be. It is brilliant what You created. However, there are certain creatures I don’t see here and I am thankful. As one example, I have never seen a scorpion here. I am glad.”

Jesus: “What you say is good. Is there anything else?”

Me: “Hmm, yes. I believe that some animals are actually an order of angelic beings from Your Army. However, I don’t know this for certain.”

Jesus: “Ah yes, a mystery. What I will tell you is that they are used as vessels by Me for various tasks. Some are measures. Some are harbingers and signs. As for this racoon and porcupine, I used these two to show you something. This little racoon came to your property at around the same time as your porcupine came to your property.

“While both the racoon and porcupine were outcasts, they were not outcasts for the same reason. As painful as it seemed, the family kept this little racoon apart because it carried a disease that had no cure. The family did not want anyone else to be infected by this little one. It was then isolated. All the animals avoided it. Do you remember?”

Me: “Yes. The little racoon was unafraid of me. He was hurting. All I could do was pray for his healing. He was a baby. The conservation officer took him for analysis, but never contacted me with the outcome. I just remember how scared the racoon was. The officer was quite certain that he had rabies.”

Jesus: “Well, he is here now.”

The little guy was so cute. He put his arms up to me and I picked him up. He put his arms around my neck. He was so cute that I almost started to cry.

Me: Whispering to the little racoon. “I am sorry you were scared. I am so sorry.”

Jesus: “Oh Erin, do not be sorry. He was used in My service as an analogy that you missed. He was different from the others. He was despised and rejected. He lived alone and he was only a few months old. You provided a food source where he could safely eat even in broad daylight as this one stayed hidden against predators at night.

“He is normally very social, so this was a very difficult time for him. Think of him as a parable for what the world thinks of lost youth, those kept apart with no contact, in isolation, shunned by all, even their own. Their hopes are dead. They long for contact, but there is none.

“The same is true for this one.” He pointed to the porcupine and then picked him up. “All creatures stay away from him. He is despised and rejected. He is born to be apart. So, Erin, what are these parables all about?”

Me: “Well, they are both frustrating, but cute in their own way. Both of them are very destructive. It is a representation of either how the world views us as Christians or they represent those we are called to heal and rescue in Your Name.”

Jesus: “Okay, very good. A mystery. It is a parable with dual meanings. I like this.” The porcupine was looking at me. “Here, he would like to visit.”

Jesus handed me this fluffball of an animal.

Me: “I am sorry that I wanted your death. I had no idea there was more to you.” He stared right at me. His eyes were glossy. He then licked my cheek and nestled into my neck. “I am so sorry, little one. I didn’t know.”

Jesus: “Erin, look around you. Do you not see I prepared this place for you?”

I then realized there were beautiful trees and all these birds and animals. He turned me around to the blossoming tree. It had become even more incredible!

Me: “That one, Lord? Really! My goodness, how beautiful. Where is all this in Heaven? You keep expanding my property.” I laughed in delight.

Jesus: “Do you like it. Erin, you have been storing up your treasures in Heaven. As such, I have given you more fields near My Garden. You will never lack for anything here.”

Me: “Oh Lord, I am so very thankful. Thank You. You are my Greatest Gift. You are the Best Prize. You are Priceless, Lord. Nothing compares to You.” I placed the animals on the grass and hugged Jesus as I cried. “I love You, Lord.”

Jesus: “I love you, Erin. You are welcome. Now, do you have any further questions about anything?”

Me: “Yes, Lord. There are two trees in my yard that I really enjoy. They are not doing well. Could You please heal them?”

Jesus: “I will as this is My Will. Now, tell Me your dream of a large tree.”

Me: "I had a nightmare of a massive beautiful tree. It was very fragrant. It was tall and everyone admired it. All the nations spoke about it. All of the birds of the air landed on it. Then one day disease came and I saw men cutting down its branches that were rotten. The nations then began to despise it. The birds no longer came to the beautiful tree. The once proud tree that everyone admired was gone."

Jesus: "As I have told you in My Words... whatever has been will be again. This was a prophesy given about Pharaoh."

Me: "Yes. Ezekiel 31:1-18. In the eleventh year in the third month in the first day of the month You gave this to Ezekiel say to Pharaoh king of Egypt and to his multitude, whom are You like in Your greatness? And it was a parable of a beautiful tree."

Jesus: "But read this more carefully. The parable is about the adversary, the angel who had fallen. There is another layer here. Now, why did I show you this?"

Me: "I am not sure."

Jesus: "This same adversary has fallen upon the Earth and makes a home for himself near the sea. This tree is doomed to Sheol and multitudes will follow him there."

Me: "Lord, hold off the adversary. Cut his branches. Prune him back. Well up in Your people. Lord, please don't forget us."

Jesus: "You will be like a porcupine to his branches. Now, Erin, rejoice. To everything there is a season and a time for every purpose under Heaven. This is good. I make everything beautiful in its time. Beautiful are the feet who bring Good News. Erin, beautiful are your feet."

I looked down at my feet and they were beautiful, especially compared to my feet's current condition here on Earth. My toenails glistened like the color of pearls. This color could not be replicated here on Earth.

Me: "Oh Lord, on Earth as they are in Heaven. Oh please, Lord!"

Jesus: "You will be too busy to pay attention to what your feet look like." He laughed and smiled. "You understand what I am saying? Erin, the season is upon you."

Me: "Yes, Lord."

Jesus: "Good then." He smiled. "We have established this. We are in agreement. This is Good News." He laughed. "Now, are you ready?"

He reached over and hugged me.

Sub-dream 1 over..

I thought my day was over when I retired to my devotional chair in the afternoon. Jesus had a different plan. He spoke to me again and I wrote it down in my journal.

Jesus: "In the days of Noah, I separated that which I called good from that which was evil. I gathered them and kept them until the day the rains stopped. I then directed Noah to use birds to direct him on when it was safe to unload the Ark. There was a perfect order to this. This is the same perfect order as I am using now. This is a Great Separation. This is the sign of life in the due season.

"Erin, Heaven will be visible there. I will bring you new life, hope, healing and peace. Then in the blinking of an eye, the trumpet shall sound and I will gather My Bride. My Sheep will be removed to Heaven. Her veil will go with her and all will be visible. All evil will then be seen. Heaven will not be seen. Just as what happened in Noah's days, the mockers will then be in great anguish and mourning.

"Evil was continuing daily. God then opened the Heavens and the rains began to fall. Panic could be heard as the Ark door shut. Soon things were no more. They could no longer be heard. Their mocking lips were silenced. So too will it be this way again. They will be enjoying their sins away from view of Heaven as they were separated from My Sheep. Erin, goats will do goat things.
